LBJ Sees Choice Of War, Peace

By FRANK CORMIER

SUMMERSVILLE, W. Va. (AP) — President Johnson, ranging far afield from the November elections, told West Virginians today the world soon will face a choice between war or ample stocks of pure water.

The occasion was the dedication here of a $46-million flood control dam — the largest earth-and-rock structure of its kind east of the Mississippi.

In a speech prepared for the occasion, Johnson said the world's need for pure water is growing so fast that we are in a race with disaster."

If people fail to meet the challenge, he said, I can assure you that not even America's unprecedented military might will be able to preserve the peace for long."

It was another campaign season weekend for Johnson. He scheduled stops today in Pennsylvania and West Virginia and, on Monday, will be moving through Michigan and Ohio — all the while searching for Democratic votes in the November election.

From West Virginia, Johnson was bound for Dallastown, Pa., to help celebrate the community's 100th birthday. Many of the local menfolk have grown beards for the occasion.

Discussing global water problems at Summersville, Johnson said the United States will sponsor an international conference on water for peace in Washington next May 23-31. The Soviet Union and a number of other Communist nations will be invited to send representatives to the assembly. Johnson had announced last year that such a conference would be held, but its timing had not been disclosed before.

The President's big argument for pure water on an earth-circling scale was based on the assumption that people denied it will fight for it.

Even today, he said, nearly half a billion persons live in poor countries that draw their water from unclean sources.

Noting that water needs are great today — and he cited the continuing drought in the northeastern United States — Johnson wondered aloud what the situation might be at the end of the century when experts predict the present global population of 3 billion will have doubled.

The battle for pure water must be won, he said, adding: "A genuine peace cannot be founded in a desert, or among crowded nations starved for this elemental —yes, this divine — gift."

US Ousts Red Envoy

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Russian Embassy aide has been ordered to leave the United States after allegedly trying to buy secret data, especially about the U.S. moon probe.

In a terse announcement Friday, the State Department said it had demanded the expulsion of Valentin A. Revin, a science officer at the Russian Embassy here.

It said only that Revin tried to obtain classified information from an American citizen in return for large sums of money, but that the FBI thwarted these attempts.

Revin was given three working days to pack his bags and leave.

From other sources it was learned that the American with whom he made contact was a Washington area scientist who kept the FBI fully informed from the beginning and acted with FBI approval.

The official announcement did not specify the amount of money involved. But it was learned that Revin paid the American more than $5,000, which was turned over to the FBI.

Revin sought particularly to obtain data on the U.S. space program, with special emphasis on the man-on-the-moon project, it was learned.

Under FBI surveillance, the American dropped material for Revin in secluded spots around Washington. Marks were placed on certain pages of telephone directories at specified phone booths to let Revin known of a pickup.

Revin had been under FBI surveillance for a year.

Planes Downed Over Red Infiltration Routes

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. military headquarters said today two more American planes were shot down over North Viet Nam during raids on the main supply and infiltration routes to the south.

Rainstorms again curtailed U.S. air blows against the north and an elusive enemy in the south reduced allied ground action once more to small skirmishes.

High-altitude B52 bombers, flying above the foul weather, dropped tons of explosives at noon today on a Viet Cong base camp and training area close to the Cambodian border. The bombers hit at much-battered War Zone C 70 miles northwest of Saigon in Tay Ninh Province.

The losses of the latest two planes raised to 357 the number of American warplanes to go down in action over North Viet Nam.

One plane was a Navy A1 Skyraider from the aircraft carrier Intrepid which was shot down 40 miles northwest of Dong Hoi Friday. The other was an Air Force F105 Thunderchief which went down 40 miles north of the same coastal city.

The pilots of both planes were rescued.

In air raids over North Viet Nam Friday, American pilots flew 96 missions, all concentrated in the southern panhandle as thunderstorms prevented strikes in the Hanoi-Haiphong areas and the Red River Valley.

Air Force planes attacked main supply Route 101 and a U.S. spokesman said they cut the road in 11 places within a 20-mile section.

In other air action Friday three flights of 52 jet bombers pounded suspected enemy trenches, bunkers and foxholes 35 miles southeast of Saigon in support of the 1st Brigade of the U.S. 173rd Airborne.

On the ground, South Vietnamese reported killing 57 of the enemy, when more than 1,000 government troops fought a quick, savage battle in a mangrove swamp in the Mekong Delta about 120 miles southwest of Saigon.

The troops reported seizing a large supply of ammunition and weapons and destroying enemy communications materiel, other equipment and a small medical station. Government casualties were unreported.

South Viet Nam's chief of state said Friday that a large-scale allied landing in North Viet Nam may well be necessary to eliminate the Communist threat to his country and halt infiltration from the north.

Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, chairman of the 20-man military and civilian directory of the central government and chief of state, said such a landing would be a strategic blocking move rather than an invasion. Premier Nguyen Cao Ky has also mentioned a land attack against the north.

On the political scene, Thieu announced he had no plans to run for president next year.

Schools Off To Smooth Start Here

A new school term was launched smoothly here, administrators reported after the first two days of class work by the pupils.

The Labor Day holiday will be observed Monday.

Enrollment in the Snyder system had reached 3,510 by Friday, just about the number expected during the pre-Labor Day session. Several of the schools expect more pupils to enroll after the holiday.

Snyder Senior High School had enrolled 684 pupils as of Friday, while Lamar Junior High had 506 and Travis Junior High had 458. Travis expects several more to enroll next week.

Enrollment figures at the elementary schools showed 377 at Central, 345 at West, 312 at East, 272 at Stanfield, 259 at North and 255 at Northeast. There were 42 pupils enrolled in special education.

Lake Level Higher Than Year Ago

Although the "big one" never did materialize, Lake J. B. Thomas gained nearly three feet in elevation as a result of rains during the past week.

In fact, the lake's elevation early Saturday was more than a foot above its mark of exactly one year earlier.

Saturday morning's reading was 2245.28, compared to an elevation of 2244.08 following rains on Sept. 2, 1965. The elevation increased from 2242.46 to the 2245.28 from Sunday, Aug. 28, to Saturday, Sept. 3.

The flow into the lake from the Colorado River and from Bull Creek had virtually ceased Saturday morning.

The big Colorado River Municipal Water District reservoir is now slightly less than 13 feet below spillway level.

Prison Escape Route Leads To Nowhere

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Deputies discovered an 18-inch hole in the steel plate floor of an exercise room of the Spokane County Jail here this week.

They marched 11 inmates from an adjoining cellblock but found no hidden cutting tools.

Sheriff William J. Reilly said the would-be escapees would have gotten a lot more exercise in the exercise room. Under the steel plate is another floor — of reinforced concrete.

Heath Resigns To Take New Post

Jim Heath, manager of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce for the past 14 months, submitted his resignation Friday afternoon at a called meeting of the chamber's board of directors.

The board accepted the resignation, effective Sept. 30, with regret.

Heath said he had agreed to accept a position with the Texas Industrial Commission at Austin.

"It was a tough decision to make," said Heath, "But I felt that I could not turn it down."

Bill Seale, Chamber President, said the organization "hates to see Jim leave us, but at the same time we are happy that he has been honored with the offer of this promotion."

Heath came here from Wichita Falls, where he had served on the professional staff of the Chamber of Commerce. He also had been manager of the Chamber of Commerce at Iowa Park. Reared in San Antonio, he is a graduate of Baylor University.

He began his duties with the Snyder Chamber of Commerce on July 1, 1965. He is married to the former Linda McCormick.

Heath said he would continue working for the local chamber "right up to the end of the month." He is scheduled to begin his duties with the Texas Industrial Commission on Oct. 1.

Seale indicated that the chamber board would begin seeking a successor to Heath as soon as possible.

Many Seek Rare Toheroa

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) — August and September are "the months of the broken fingernails" in New Zealand. Thousands of normally staid New Zealanders drive sometimes hundreds of miles to wintry, windswept beaches in search of a tasty shellfish, the Toheroa.

Toheroas, which feed on plankton, are found on only a few west coast beaches.

The limit is 20 per person per trip, but not more than 100 per car no matter how many passengers it has, and only in August and September. The bivalves must be at least three inches long.

Once Toheroas could be dug with spades, but they were so easily damaged and became so scarce that only pieces of board three inches wide were allowed. But the Toheroa numbers still fell and the order went out: use only bare hands.

Is the Toheroa worth all that trouble? The sight of 5,000 cars bringing 25,000 gatherers to Muriwai Beach on a Sunday seems answer enough.

Liftoff Mishap Scrubs Balloon Flight

PALESTINE, Tex. (AP)—Scientists ordered a balloon flight back to earth Friday after a telescope intended for a close look at an exploded star scraped the ground at liftoff.

The mishap broke an antenna and scientists at the National Center for Atmospheric Research here received no data from the gamma ray telescope as it swung from its 55-story-tall balloon.

The flight, fourth in a series to study the Crab Nebula, was brought down near Waco. It had been delayed two weeks by bad weather. Date of the next flight was not immediately set.

Surveyor Launch Set

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration ha set Sept. 19 to launch Surveyor 2 and said the spacecraft would be aimed for a soft landing almost dead center on the moon.

Oil Companies Sued For Contract Breach

EDNA, Tex. (AP) — A suit seeking $25 million for alleged breach of contract has been filed in district court here by Hugh J. Fitzgerald against two oil companies.

The petition names as defendants the Coastal States Gas Producing Co. and the Texas Oil and Gas Corp.

The plaintiff in his petition alleges that he has failed to receive revenues due him under a 1956 contract for development of properties in Jackson and Calhoun counties.

Experts Forecast Tragic Weekend

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's developing Labor Day weekend toll of traffic deaths reached 65 today.

As millions of motorists took to the roads for summer's last holiday, the National Safety Council estimated that between 530 and 630 persons could lose their lives in the three-day period—actually 78 hours, starting at 6 p.m., Friday when many weekend travelers already were abroad, to midnight Monday.

Two weeks ago, during a non-holiday weekend period of the same length, between 6 p.m. Friday, Aug. 19 and midnight Monday, Aug. 22, there were 505 highway deaths counted in an Associated Press tabulation.

The record Labor Day weekend traffic toll is 563, set last year.

With the highway mortality trend pressing upward steadily in recent years, President Johnson noted Friday that 1.5-million Americans have been killed in traffic accidents since the automobile was invented, and declared that "this slaughter must stop."

Johnson urged holiday motorists to drive responsibily. He is expected to sign this weekend a new traffic safety act.

July this year brought 5,130 traffic deaths, an all-time high for any single month and 8 per cent more than in July 1965.

This year's earlier holidays have all set deadly records. The New Year's traffic death toll was 564, that for Memorial Day weekend 542, and for Independence Day 576. All were three-day periods.

CRMWD To Prepare For Sale Of Bonds

Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District will meet in Big Spring at 10 a.m. Thursday to take final action on issuance of $30,000,0000 in revenue bonds.

The decision to sell the bonds now was reached at a meeting a week ago, but Thursday's session will shape up the final and formal details. Standard & Poore, investment rating service, has upped the CRMWD rating to A, but Moody's left the rating at BAA.

Colorado City Battered By High Winds

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sticking to an almost nightly habit of raiding some parts of the state, gusty thunderstorms turned loose heavy rains in several West Central Texas counties Friday night.

Briefly violent weather whipped through Colorado City a bit earlier, whipping part of the roof off and shattering numerous windows at a grade school. There was similar damage to several houses and business places.

Across the state in Southeast Texas, sheriff's officers spotted a big tornado funnel writhing across the sky southwest from Orange. They watched for 20 minutes until it disappeared with a thunderstorm headed toward the northwest.

Wind-whipped rains ranged across West Central Texas, measuring up to 4.20 inches at Fort Griffin, 4 at Rockwood, 3.50 at Rotan and 3 at Old Glory. Water covered a farm road near Rotan.

Skies cleared over most of the state by daylight. A light shower fell at Wichita Falls and several others moved eastward along a line from northwest of Fort Worth to Ardmore, Okla.

Forecasts called for little change in the weather during the weekend.

FOR PROTEST MARCH

Cicero Assured Guardsmen Due

CICERO, Ill. (AP) — Officials of this tense all-white suburb of Chicago have received assurance from Gov. Otto Kerner that 2,000 National Guardsmen will be on hand Sunday when civil rights marchers stage a protest march.

Kerner, acting Friday on a rerequest from Cicero and Cook County officials, activated the guardsmen, who are to be joined by local, county and state police.

Robert Lucas, chairman of the Chicago chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality and a leader of the march, said he expects 400 to 600 persons to take part.

Fifteen years ago, three days of rioting resulted when a Negro family tried to move into an apartment in Cicero.

William H. Morris, head of the Illinois state police, said that 375 state police will guard the border between Chicago and Cicero while Cicero police line the parade route.

Police from neighboring Berwyn will take over the ordinary duties of the 90-man Cicero police.

In activating the Guard, Kerner said:

"I express my deep disappointment that the march leadership has ignored appeals to cancel or postpone their demonstration. I sincerely hope that continuing appeals based on concern for the safety for their fellow citizens moves the leadership at this, the 11th hour."

Christy Berkos, Cicero town attorney, said he issued a permit for the march because he knew the marchers would proceed without it and he wanted to avoid violence.

A spokesman for the Midwest division of the American Nazi party said party members will be in Cicero Sunday. The spokesman did not say for what purpose or how many would be here.

Market At The Crossroad-- Will Investors Buy Or Sell?

By ED MORSE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Wall Street this weekend stood at the Labor Day crossroads after the stock market had rallied following a seven-month collapse which erased about $81 billion from the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

Traditionally a turning point both for business and the stock market, the Labor Day weekend marked a point of decision for the estimated 20 million investors throughout the nation. Will it be buy or sell next week?

The estimated loss of $81 billion from the market's historic peak Feb. 9 to its recent bottom Aug. 29 is based on the exchange's own figures combined with an estimate based on The Associated Press average. For security markets in general, some experts have put the loss at well over $100 billion.

The loss this year was blamed on a number of factors. First, the market had reached 995 in the Dow Jones industrial average by Feb. 9 — almost to the "magic 1,000" level — and profit taking was in order.

Second, worries began to accumulate: about Viet Nam, increasingly tight money and high interest rates and fear of a recession later this year.

The stock market decline came to some kind of climax — temporary or otherwise — last Monday when prices took one of their worst tumbles of the year and the ticker tape fell 10 minutes behind in reporting transactions. Congressional criticism of the administration because of high interest rates were combined with a warning from former President Harry S. Truman that high interest rates could lead to a "serious depression" to form a backdrop for the decline.

In a hectic, up-and-down session on Tuesday, however, the market made a great recovery. The rebound was even greater and more assured on Wednesday. It ran through Thursday with less trading.

Rockford Riots End

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Police and deputy sheriffs ended an outbreak of violence in a predominantly Negro section of Rockford early today.

The trouble broke out near a restaurant in the western part of the city. Bricks, stones and bottles were hurled through automobile windshields. Several motorists were taken to hospitals for treatment of injuries.

The police and sheriff's deputies, some working beyond their normal shifts, broke up a mob of about 300 Negroes, most of them youths.

On Rockford's North Side, police arrested at least 10 white teen-agers outside two drive-in restaurants, and confiscated knives, guns and chains. They were charged with disorderly conduct.

NEW TEACHER — Mary Williams, 5th grade teacher, is the only new teacher at West Elementary. She was welcomed to the school by Bob Womack, principal.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I wish you would say something in your column about the short skirts girls and women are wearing these days. I ride the bus to work and I see women with their skirts hiked up so high you can see the tops of their nylons, their girdles, and even their underpanties. It's disgusting. And they act like they don't even care.

If girls MUST wear these short skirts to be in style, why can't they at least keep their knees tightly pressed together when they sit on a bus? I am not an odl fuddy-duddy. I am a 23-year-old married working girl.

SHOCKED IN DETROIT

DEAR SHOCKED: I can't dictate fashion, but I can recommend that women who wear short skirts carry sweaters, jackets or coats to throw across their knees when they sit down.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Will you please tell us waitresses why a man will come into a dining room where there is just ONE table messed up, and he will sit there everytime?

A WAITRESS

DEAR WAITRESS: Maybe he's just a slob who feels more "at home" at a messed up table.

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend (I'll call him Pinky) is in the navy and we correspond back and forth. Last week I got a letter from a navy buddy of Pinky's. His name is Irving. Well, Irving said Pinky showed him a picture of me and he just felt like writing to me. He sent me a snap of himself and, Abby, he is a doll. Maybe I shouldn't say this, but Irving is a lot cuter than Pinky and to be perfectly honest, I'd like to write to him.

He said I should write in care of his sister in Dover, N. J., and she'd send my letter in her envelope, that way Pinky wouldn't find out. I am tempted, but I don't know if I should, because if Pinky found out it might kill him. What should I do?

GLADDY

DEAR GLADDY: If Pinky found out it might not only kill HIM, it might also kill Irving. Wait until the boys are civilians, and if you are still interested in meeting Irving, let him present himself in person. The whole thing could be a booby trap.

CONFIDENTIAL TO H. G. B. IN HUNTSVILLE, ALA.: Yes, I have a booklet on HOW TO HAVE A LOVELY WEDDING, but the best advice I can offer a bride is, "See your doctor (and perferably a gynecologist) for a physical checkup and authoritative answers to all your questions before marriage."

If birth control is desired, it should be planned BEFORE the wedding. This includes Catholic girls, too, as the rhythm method should be clearly understood to be successfully practiced. (Too many young wives, who had planned on working a few years while their husbands finished college, discover to their horror that they got pregnant on their honeymoon.)

Many couples experience shock and grief on learning that they are unable to consummate the marriage due to some slight physical abnormality which could have been easily corrected by minor surgery.

Motherly advice from Aunt Nellie or "tips" from one of the girls is fine, but before a bride keeps her date with the preacher, she should keep one with her doctor.

Course Is Planned By Fluvanna YF

FLUVANNA — Dr. [illegible] Hubbard of Lubbock will be the instructor for a two-day study of reproduction and pregnancy in beef cattle to be sponsored by Fluvanna Young Farmers.

The short course will begin Tuesday and continue through Wednesday.

Dr. Hubbard presented a program at one of the regular meetings of Fluvanna Young Farmers last spring and the organization was so impressed that plans were launched to provide the two-day course.

Approximately 30 persons are expected to enroll.

Dr. Hubbard is a graduate of Oklahoma State University. He received his masters degree at Purdue and his doctorate at Colorado State University. He is now area Livestock specialist for the Extension Service, with offices in Lubbock.

Gail Due New Post Office

GAIL—Hubert Walker, Rte. 1, O'Donnell, has been awarded a contract to build a new post office at Gail, according to an announcement by Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien.

The new building will be leased to the Post Office Dept. for 10 years with options to renew the lease for an additional 20 years at an annual rental of $1,425 for the basic lease term. The new building is due to be completed between April 1 and May 16, 1967.

The Post Office Dept. investment will be limited mostly to postal equipment. The building will remain under private ownership, with the owner paying local real estate taxes. It will provide additional space and more modern equipment, which in the long run, will offset the extra cost involved. O'Brien said.

Two-Car Mishap Is Logged In City

City Police probed a two-car mishap at Twenty-sixth Street and Avenue V at 4:09 p.m. Friday.

Damage of $50 or less occurred to each car. The drivers were Sallie Hogue Bailey, 3603 Fortieth Street, and Mac Lewis Newton, 3008 Forty - second Street. Bailey was driving a 1964 Model Dodge, and Newton was operating a 1960 Model Volkswagen.

To Dedicate 1000th Dam

United States Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman will dedicate the 1000th flood prevention dam built in Texas. Dedication ceremonies will begin at 10 a.m., Sept. 8, at the dam site 12 miles northeast of McKinney just off Texas State Highway No. 121.

A large delegation of United States' Congressmen, Department of Agriculture officials and conservation leaders from all parts of Texas are expected to attend. The public is invited.

The Collin County Soil and Water Conservation District is sponsoring the dedication. They also sponsor the Sister Grove project, which drains into the Trinity River. These projects are designed to prevent flood damage to crops, bottomlands, roads, bridges, and cities. Other major benefits include outdoor recreation and protection of downstream municiapl and industrial water suplies.

Local watershed sponsors secure easements and rights-of-way and maintain completed structures at no cost to the Federal government. The Soil Conservation Service administers construction funds and provides engineering services for design, layout and construction.

The Collin County SWCD counts more than 110 such structures within its boundaries; more than 10 percent of all such dams built in Texas.

Other agencies assisting the Collin County SWCD in the Sister Grove project include the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and the Farmers Home Administration.

Gas Wells Discovered

AUSTIN (AP) — Twelve gas discoveries in District 4 paced wildcat activity last week, the Railroad Commission reported Saturday. A total of 31 gas and 7 oil discoveries were made.

Seven gas discoveries were in District 3, 5 in District 2, two each in Districts 7B, 7C and 8, and one in District 1. Two oil wildcats each were in Districts 3 and 9, and one each in Districts. 4 and 7B and 7C.

The commission said 165 oil and 93 gas wells were completed, bringing the year totals to 5,108 oil and 1,529 gas wells, compared with 4,718 oil and 1,833 gas wells completions a year ago.

A total of 225 wells were plugged, including 119 dry holes.

Elks Study New Lodge

A group of Elks and others interested in the organization held their first session Thursday evening to discuss the possibility of organizing an Elks Lodge in Snyder.

Meeting at the Americana Dining Room, E. M. Schlieter of Kerrville, chairman of the Texas Elks New Lodge Committee, and W. C. Ragsdale of Big Spring, co-chairman, were in charge of the session here.

Exalted Ruler Jack Kimble of the Big Spring Lodge headed a delegation from that city attending the meeting. Another group came from Midland, including Rollin Phipps, Texas Elks Vice President.

W. G. Barr was elected chairman of a local organizational committee, and the local group voted to continue organizational meetings on Thursday evenings at 8 o'clock at the Americana. Anyone interested is invited to attend the meetings.

Buses Air-Cooled As Fall Begins

DALLAS (AP)—Just as fall began—but with days still hot—the Dallas Transit Authority reported that all its buses were air-conditioned for the first time.

Arrival of new vehicles permitted the system to withdraw all non-air-conditioned buses from service.

Demand For Water High Despite Rain

Despite an unusual abundance of rain in August, the Colorado River Municipal Water District delivered almost as much water during the month as a year ago.

Production records released Saturday by Paschall Odom, assistant to the general manager, showed 1,157,943,542 gallons metered to customers. Although this was 400 million gallons down from the all-time peak in July, it compared with 1,158,496,034 gallons delivered in August, 1965. This was less than half a percentage point down.

The rain was reflected in municipal consumption, for member cities drew 780,841,800 gallons, a decline of 7.18 per cent from August a year ago. On the other hand, oil companies used 377,101,742 gallons in their repressuring, and this was a gain of 18.88 per cent.

Through the first eight months of this year, CRMWD has delivered 8,317,181,686 gallons, an increase of 5.27 per cent over the same time last year. This virtually assured that 1966 will show a substantial increase over 1965.

Spec. 4 Hunter In Da Nang Hospital

Word has been received here that Spec. 4 Jimmy M. Hunter has been confined to the 3rd Division Hospital in Da Nang, Viet Nam, for the past two weeks.

He is receiving treatment for hepatitis and is due to be hospitalized for two or three more weeks. However, he has advised that his address is unchanged and that mail will reach him promptly at the hospital.

Construction Contracts Climb In Texas

DALLAS (AP)— Construction contract awards in Texas for the first eight months of 1966 outstripped similar periods of previous years, the Texas Contractor reports.

Through Aug. 31, contracts totaled $977,771,993, an increase of 15 per cent over the previous eight-month record set in 1956, the magazine says.

A year ago at the same time, contracts totaled $789,643,584.

Engineering awards for the year to date total $364,412,261 and non-residential awards $613,359,732. The totals do not include residential construction.

Rifle Is Stolen From Pickup Truck

Someone took a Model 600 Remington rifle from the pickup truck of Leonard Brumley about 1:15 p.m. Friday while the vehile was parked on the east side of the Rainbow Market on Twenty-fifth Street.

The gun was in a brown and white case. Anyone who has any information concerning the theft is asked to contact Sheriff's Authorities.

Two complexes of shops, restaurants, cafes, and theaters line busy arcades under Montreal's Place Victoria and Place Ville Marie. The shopping centers eventually will be linked in a two-mile network of underground streets.

Ambulance Service Problem Defies An Ideal Solution

Ambulance service is a widespread problem these days and if anyone has come up with even a fairly good solution it has escaped our attention.

Traditionally, funeral homes have operated ambulances in most cities and towns in Texas. The operators of many of the mortuaries for some time have been plagued with ambulance service deficits, but in most cases they felt that they could not escape some public service responsibility in this field. Within the past year, the Federal Government has given them exactly what they needed to bow out gracefully and with good-will toward and from all.

They were told that by virtue of their ambulance service on public and interstate highways they were in interstate commerce and therefore subject to Federal minimum wages.

The confusion was sufficient when dozens of funeral homes announced plans to abandon ambulance service that one group reportedly got another opinion from Uncle Sam. This one said that unless an employe spent 20 per cent or more of his time actually performing ambulance service, the earlier ruling did not apply. As a result of the latter ruling, some funeral homes, mostly in smaller cities, decided to continue their ambulance service.

In the larger towns — generally those with more than one funeral home — the latter opinion has had little effect. The funeral homes are anxious to get out of the ambulance business because it has been a millstone around their necks for a long time.

In some cities where several funeral homes operated ambulances, only one will do so in the future. In others, franchised private operators are having a go at it, and in at least one, a single funeral home is serving a major city, backed up by supplementary facilities being provided by the city government.

In most cases that have come to our attention, franchised independent operators receive some sort of subsidy from various sources. Even then, some of them have failed financially.

It is a problem that so far apparently has defied any ideal solution. Our portion of the problem must be reckoned with within the next month. A committee of city and county officials has it under study. They merit our sympathy.

TB Assn. Plans Program Here

The West Texas Tuberculosis Association held an organizational meeting Tuesday in the Humble - Smith Building with Mrs. Ella Herriage of Lubbock. She is a Registered Nurse and assistant program director of the association. Mrs. Herriage explained to the group that Snyder is blocked with 23 Texas counties for the purpose of carrying out a program of X-ray and skin tests in an effort to locate those who are affected with the disease. Of course cases that are diagnosed as positive will be further tested and placed under medical care.

Mrs. Herriage is a volunteer worker. This group assists the State Health Department in carrying out the testing program and laws enacted by Senate Bill 130.

Snyder school personnel have complied with this law by having their first annual health examination as required by the Board of Education. This test consisted in part of a chest X-ray for all personnel.

The local group is to organize and begin gathering information and inaugurating a program of education so that all may understand the purpose and benefits of the program, as well as prepare to cooperate with the testers.

Tentative dates were set for both skin tests for school children and X-ray for those above 12 years of age. The entire county is to be involved.

The volunteer workers who own and operate the mobile X-ray unit are financed by funds derived from the sale of Christman seals. Mrs. Herriage told of needed funds and the local group "passed the hat" and raised $45 which will be used for equipment.

Information will be made public as plans materialize.

Those attending were Darrell Rains; Mrs. Eula Williams, Mrs. Leah Johnson, Mrs. Nell Spence, School Nurses; Jim Erwin, Elementary School Counselor; Carol Simpson, County School Nurse; Frank Miller, Principal of North Elementary; Buford Browning, County School Superintendent; J. M. Kayser, Coordinating Teacher; and PTA representatives Mrs. R. H. Stewart, Lamar; Mrs. Noble, Northeast; Mrs. Pat Whittenburg, Central; David Parkhill, West.

Darrell Rains, who is a member of the district TB board served as chairman for the local group. David Parkhill was appointed supervisor of the volunteer workers and Mrs. O. L. Ferrell of Snyder was asked to supervise the sale of this year's Christmas seals. J. M. Kayser, the Snyder School's Coordinating Teacher, was made responsible for publicity.

Harlem Ends Operation Pushcart

By HOLLIE T. WEST

NEW YORK (AP) — Not all of Harlem's children could get to antipoverty recreation facilities this summer. So youth workers organized Operation Pushcart, and took the toys and games to the kids in the street.

The program wound up today, with the children headed back to school and the workers wishing they could keep it going even in the winter months. They figure it served more than 1,000 underprivileged youngsters aged 6 to 12 in its six weeks.

The children emerged from their crowded tenement homes each day before 9 a.m. to await project workers pushing black and yellow wheel barrows stuffed with monopoly sets, water color and finger paint sets, balls and basketweaving outfits.

After group activities were set up in roped-off blocks, the day's schedule of games usually continued until 4 p.m. Sometimes the groups went to a nearby swimming pool or a park to study nature.

All the workers in the program are Harlem residents. Joseph Greatheart, program coodinator, said, "We thought the children would respond more if they were supervised by people from their own neighborhoods."

Greatheart said, "The program has been a bigger success than we imagined. We only had a short time to set up the project."

Federal antipoverty funds were allocated late, and 'we had to hire quickly because we were late," he said. Harlem Youth Unlimited, the community youth program of HARYOU-ACT, Harlem's antipoverty agency, ran Operation Pushcart.

Greatheart said he hopes federal antipoverty officials continue the program through the winter. 'It's something these kids have come to depend on," he said. "You can't just let them down now after giving them something to hope for."

He said Pushcart was given $40,000 for a 10-week program, but had only operated six weeks.

"We have money to turn back," he said.

City Firemen Douse Blaze

City Firemen answered a call to Wolfe's Studio at the corner of Avenue R and Twenty-sixth Street about 8 o'clock Saturday morning when fire of undetermined origin broke out under the floor of a back room.

Damage was confined to a small area under the floor. Firemen cut a small hole in the floor and doused the flames with water.

Malven Stevenson, who operates a real estate agency next door to the west of the studio, smelled smoke and called the fire department.

Rogers Inc. Story Is One Of Growth For 50 Years

The story of Rogers' Inc. is a story of growth, in fact 50 years of continuous growth just as the city it serves.

Rogers clothing store had its humble beginning in Aug. 1916, when H. F. (Abe) Rogers moved to Snyder and bought half interest in Buckhorn Tailor and Clothiers which was located where the Wolfe Studio now stands.

It was a time when a business house could be rented for $15 a month and good suit of clothes could be bought for as little as $17.50. The streets of Snyder during this time were not paved, and the horses would splash mud on the showwindows. Most of the stores had high false plank fronts, and only a few adobe brick buildings were present.

In 1918 Rogers moved with the Buckhorn store to the building that is now occupied by Wayne Boren Insurance Co., and remained there for two years.

Rogers then formed a partnership with George Bargemann, and moved to the north side of the square where M&M Electronics now is. By 1921 Bargemann & Rogers featured the best in general gents furnishing, and the progress continued to increase.

Bargemann sold his interest in the store to O. M. Bentau, and Rogers was with him for four years. Rogers then formed a partnership with Joe Graham who now owns Joe Graham Cleaners. The business was moved one door north of the old Snyder National Bank.

This partnership thrived for four years before Rogers sold out to Graham in 1937. Rogers then formed a partnership with B. H. Moffett on the east side of the square.

The true success of the Snyder firm didn't begin, however, until 1941. This was when Abe formed a working agreement with his son, T. Jay Rogers, and shortly after World War II expanded the business from clothing and fatloring into a complete men's store.

Later they moved the business to its present location on the west side of the square. Rogers' was forced to move out of the present building to a grocery store on twenty-fifth Street in 1958 when a fire caused extensive damage to the building.

The firm was incorporated soon after the fire, and when the fire-wrecked building was repaired the business was again expanded by adding a complete line of ladies ready to wear.

Abe Rogers, since that time, has served as president of the corporation, and his son, Jay has served as secretary-treasurer and general manager.

Rogers Inc. now serves Snyder with the latest in clothing wear, and celebrates this month its 50th anniversary of serving Snyder with the best in men's and ladies wearing apparel.

Abe Rogers notes, however, that no business endeavor is fast and sweet. Like all business firms in the depression, he said that he too witnessed hard times.

"It was not unusual at all to close the store for one or two days without hesitation to go fishing. We had lots of time during the depression for recreation because there was no business.

"It might seem to some people, since we moved around so much, that moving was cheaper than paying rent, but this was not the case because rent was very cheap in the earlier days of Snyder."

Rogers, in speaking about the oil boom, said it gave a lift to the business in Snyder, but he attributes the success of Rogers Inc. to making the store's small savings continually work for improvement.

So we have the story of a business; half a century of progress. This type of progress was once called the American way.

Bengals Hold Edge In Scrimmage At Midland

MIDLAND—The Snyder High School football team put on a great rally here Friday night in a scrimmage with the Class AAAA Midland Bulldogs and clearly demonstrated they have the tenacity and extra effort to become contender for the 3-AAA championship.

The hosts held the upper hand in the first part of the scrimmage, scoring first following a long pass that set up a first and goal situation from the three. They had quite a struggle pushing the ball across the goal, however, as the Tigers made a magnificent stand. Two passes failed to click, and the remaining two downs were required to cover the distance through the middle.

Midland has a big, rugged team. They were extremely difficult to run against up the middle, and they put considerable pressure on Snyder quarterback Murry Bowden when he faded back to pass. But the better conditioning of the Bengals began to pay off in the second half of the tussle as Snyder crossed the goal twice and kept the Bulldogs in their end of the field after the rest period.

Each team held the ball for several possessions during the first part of the scrimmage while the second part was conducted under game-like conditions. Snyder ripped off 24 plays during the second part while allowing Midland only nine downs.

Curtis Clay took a pitchout from Bowden around left end and scooted 59 yards down the east sidelines for the first Tiger tally. He cut inside, one of his teammates cut down the defensive right halfback, then Clay turned back outside and simply outran the pursuers.

The second tally came on the last play of the practice session. Bowden lofted a long pass from midfield to the south goal line. Bobby Clardy and a defender both leaped for the ball and the Snyder end took it away from the defender for a score.

Clay was effective on pitchouts and off-tackle slants as he netted 215 yards on 27 carries. The toughness of the Bulldog center line is evident from the yardage netted by the other backs, mostly attempting to slash through the middle. Mario Tavarez gained 10 yards in 5 tries while Billy Wilson and Rick Hall gained only 7 paces in 3 efforts between them.

Bowden had a net gain of 22 yards on 7 carries, but he was dumped behind the line a couple of times. He was very effective running on third down situations when 5 to 10 yards were needed for a first.

The quarterback also hit Rick Hall with two passes for 20 yards and two to Frankie Grimmett for 46. The long one to Clardy covered 49 yards. Hall and Grimmett both looked good taking passes surrounded by defensive men.

Snyder almost connected on several long ones. A little more time for the pass or another step by the receiver or a little more height on the throw could have resulted in some more goal crossings for the Bengals.

The defense of the Tigers was outstanding. Midland came out passing on virtually every down, and before the first part of the session was over the Snyder lads were "getting to" the Bulldog passer. He took several hard jumps, especially during the second part and appeared eager to get the pass away.

All of the defensive men hit better in this scrimmage and they took much of the fight out of Midland's fine linebackers and big middlemen despite a considerable difference in weight.

Bowden, Danny Garner, Joe Breeden, Jerry Rains, David Fulks, Lonnie Gilstrap and Bobby Clardy fought Midland both on the ground and nail all the way along with several other boys who looked good. Larry Wadzeck and Frankie Grimmett did a creditable job as did David Wilson and more.

Rob Golden and others. Craig Bell was slightly injured early in the contest and some limited action Tavarez and Clay both took several hard tackles, but they came back for more.

Detroit Gains More Ground On Orioles

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Al Kaline began his vacation by working overtime, but Willie Horton and Mickey Stanley split the difference on Detroit's first payday of the month.

Kaline, the Tigers' slumping slugger, was benched in the opener of Friday night's doubleheader at Cleveland but played 10 innings in the second game while Horton and Stanley paved the way to a profitable 4-2, 7-5 sweep over the Indians.

The twin victories moved the Tigers within 9½ games of American League-leading Baltimore — their deepest penetration since July 19.

Horton walloped a three-run homer in the first game, backing the four-hit pitching of Denny McLain. Stanley rapped three hits, including his first homer of the year, in the night cap and scored the tie-breaking run in the 10th.

The Tigers picked up 1½ games on the Orioles, who bowed to Chicago 9-8 in 11 innings for their sixth loss in the last seven games.

Elsewhere, Minnesota outscored New York 8-5, California edged Washington 6-5 and Kansas City trimmed Boston 5-1.

Pittsburgh whipped Chicago 7-3, St. Louis downed San Francisco 6-5 in 12 innings, Los Angeles topped Cincinnati 6-1, Philadelphia blanked New York 6-0 and Atlanta swept Houston 6-5 and 2-1 in National League action.

The Indians jumped on Joe Sparma for five runs in the first inning of the nightcap but Detroit fought back, finally tying it 5-5 on a pinch homer by Brown in the sixth.

Stanley singled in the 10th, raced to third on Dic McAuliffe's single and scored the ahead run on Jim Northrup's force-out grounder. Don Wert then singled home the wrap-up run.

Stu Miller, Baltimore's usually brilliant relief specialist, hit Al Weis and Tommie Agee with pitches in the 11th inning, forcing across the winning run. Tom McCraw opened the 11th with a double and Don Buford drew an intentional walk before Miller's control disappeared.

Agee drove in four earlier runs with a single and bases-loaded triple.

The Orioles tied the game 8-8 on Boog Powell's two-out run-scoring single in the ninth.

Earl Battey's three-run double in the first inning and pitcher Jim Grant's tie-breaking single in the fourth sparked the Twins to their fourth straight victory.

Joe Adcock smacked a two run pinch hit homer in the eighth, lifting the Angels past Washington. Bobby Knoop delivered three California runs with a pair of triples and a homer.

The A's climbed past Boston into ninth place behind the six-hit pitching of Lew Krausse. Danny Cater knocked in two runs with a single and sacrifice fly, and Phil Roof hit a bases-empty homer.

Devlin Wins Carling Golf Classic

SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — Bruce Devlin of Australia, lurking among the leaders but never out in front during the first three rounds, won the $35,000 first prize in the Carling Golf Classic today by shooting a final round of 69.

That put his 72-hole total at 286 for four trips over the 7,037 yards of the Royal Birkdale course where par is 35-38—73.

Bill Casper, the U.S. Open champion and the 4-1 favorite in the $200,000 tournament, slumped to second when he posted a 71 and a total of 287.

Casper tried to chip into the hole on the final green for a tie and barely missed.

The final round was viewed by a comparatively small crowd of 6,000 in a normally golf crazy area which produces galleries of upwards of 15,000.

Jimmy Raye, a 170-pounder from Fayetteville, N.C., is in line to be Michigan State's No. 1 quarterback next fall. He's a sophomore.

ODUS MITCHELL RESIGNS —After a coaching career of 42 years Odus Mitchell of North Texas State University will call it quits. Mitchell will coach through the 1966 season. During his career, as a high school and college coach he amassed a record of 433 wins. Mitchell, 67, said he plans to stay on as a physical education instructor for a year or two. (AP Wirephoto)

Just Forget About Score, Says Walker

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Roberto Clemente won't play "homer" and Harry Walker refuses to play "scoreboard," but both games may bear significance for the Pittsburgh Pirates in the weeks to come.

Clemente, who has matched his career high for home runs and exceeded it for RBIs this year, says he isn't swinging for the homers.

Walker says something he learned from Joe McCarthy taught him not to watch the scores of other pennant contenders while his contending team was playing a game.

Friday night at Forbes Field, Clemente smashed his 23rd homer of the year for his 2000th major league hit, leading the Pirates to a 7-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs and into a one-game lead in the National League race.

Clemente says he has always been a good long ball hitter, but the statistics don't bear him out. Aside from 1961, when he had 23, this is the only year he has been over 20. And though Walker can't do anything about it while the Bucs are playing, the results of other contenders are of obvious importance to Pittsburgh.

"If we don't win it doesn't make much difference what the others do," Walker says "because we can't go anywhere. It's something like the weather. You can't do anything about it, so why worry about it?"

Walker said the lesson from McCarthy the great Hall of Fame manager, came early in his career.

"It's like two guys involved in a hit-and-run play," he said. "The hitter didn't swing because he thought the runner wasn't goint to run. You've got to do your job and let the other guy worry about doing his. You can't control things until you do your part first."

The Pirates did their part, and then the St. Louis Cardinals did theirs too, beating San Francisco 6-5 in 12 innings after blowing a 4-1 lead. That put the Pirates a game ahead of the Giants.

Clemente's homer, off Ferguson Jankins, gave him 101 runs batted in, the first time in his career he exceeded 100.

It also made him the ninth active player with 2,000 hits. The others are Willie Mays, Hank Aaron, Mickey Mantle, Eddie Mathews, Harvey Kuenn, Dick Groat, Ernie Banks and Al Kaline.

"I was trying to pull the ball, waiting for an inside pitch," Clemente said. "But the ball was outside, I knew it was a homer right away." The blast sailed over the rightfield screen, fair by a few feet, and turned a 1-0 game into a 4-0 game.

That shot put Jenkins in the record book alongside Johnny Podres and Curt Simmons. Podres was the pitcher when Clemente beat out a hit to shortstop Pee Wee Reese for his first major league hit in 1955 against the Dodgers at Forbes Field. He got No. 1,000 against St. Louis at Forbes Field in 1961, a single to right off Simmons.

There's just no way to pitch to him," Walker said. "He can hit everything. I don't know why he's hitting more homers this year, through. He's just going into the ball and meeting it."

Misguided Aim Contributes To Downfall Of Dolphins

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was just like old times for Dick Wood and the Oakland Raiders. He threw and they caught.

Only one problem of plays was for the new Miami Dolphins.

So Wood's misguided accuracy cost the Dolphins a shocking upset in their first regular season game as they lost to the Raiders 23-14 in the American Football League opener.

The Chicago Bears nipped the St. Louis Cardinals 22-20 on five field goals by Roger LeClerc and Bob Hayes scored on two long pass plays to pace Dallas over Minnesota 28-24 as the National Football League began its final weekend of exhibition contests.

The AFL resumes its regular season tonight when Denver plays at Houston and Sunday when Buffalo and San Diego, last year's championship game opponents, meet in San Diego, Calif.

In the NFL exhibitions tonight, Cleveland plays Pittsburgh at Birmingham, Ala.; New York takes on Green Bay at Milwaukee, Wis., Philadelphia plays at Washington, and San Francisco is at Los Angeles.

Wood, the former Oakland quarterback who went to the Dolphins in the draft, completed three passes in 12 attempts and had four intercepted. Those four — two each by Howie Williams and Dave Grayson — led to 10 points for Oakland and cut off two Miami scoring threats.

"Except for the alertness of Williams and Grayson, we would have been in real trouble," said Raider Coach John Rauch.

Joe Auer, formerly of the Los Angeles Rams, gave the Raiders a jolt by racing 95 yards for a touchdown with the opening kickoff.

But then interceptions put the Raiders twice on the Dolphin 16 in the second period and Oakland turned them into a two-yard touchdown run by Hewritt Dixon and a 16-yard field goal by Mike Mercer.

The other two thefts occurred deep in Oakland territory.

Hayes teamed first with Don Meredith and then Craig Morton on scoring plays of 48 and 44 yards in the last half as the Cowboys overcame a 10-7 halftime deficit for a 5-0 exhibition record.

Fran Tarkenton threw 15 yards to Paul Flatley for a score to pull the Vikings within four points and hit Flatley again in the final minutes for the last score.

LeClerc kicked from 43, 22, 38, 33 and 33 yards out, the final coming in the opening minutes of the last period.

St. Louis had built a 20-12 lead on Charley Johnson's 1-yard and LeClerc connected.

aerial to Jackie Smith, a one-yard plunge by Willis Crenshaw and two field goals by Jim Bakken.

But Rudy Bukich hit Jimmy Jones for a 14-yard touchdown

Former school teacher Rives McBee of Midland, Tex., formerly caddied for Billy Maxwell, Don January and Joe Conrad. McBee shot a 64 in the second round of the 1966 U.S. Open to tie the tournament record for one round.

Hermleigh's Cardinals Have A Powerful Single Wing

HERMLEIGH—If some untested linemen come through for Hermleigh this year, the Cardinals could have the top eleven in District 4-B. If Coach W. C. Hodges' team is hit with very many injuries, then Hermleigh will have a struggle maintaining the level it reached in 1965 when a 5-4-1 record put the Cards in a tie with Robert Lee for second place.

Regardless of what happens, you can be sure the Cardinals will have one of the most colorful teams in the area. Coach Hodges, in his 4th year at the Hermleigh helm, is an advocate of power football, and his team is one of the few remaining in the state that employs the single wing attack along with the slot T. Assistant coach is Ronnie Kahl, in his second year with the Redbirds. He is a McMurry graduate.

If Hermleigh unseats Bronte from the 4-B throne, then much of the credit will have to go to one of the most experienced backfields in the district. With three starters returning at runningback positions and a talented signal caller, the Cardinals could sing many a victory tune.

Tom Chorn, 165-pound Sophomore, returns at the quarterback spot. He saw plenty of action until he was sidelined at midseason with injuries. A fractured arm kept Billy Joe Odstrcil, 146-pound Junior halfback, on the bench after the first four games. Both are ready to go full speed this time around.

Two Peterson brothers—Mike, a 164-pound Senior halfback, and Danny, 146-pound Junior halfback—add plenty of punch to the potent offense. Both started in 1965, and Danny went both ways. Danny is perhaps the top passer on the squad, and his speed may be utilized at one of the linebacker spots.

Utility man Doug Coonrod, who lettered at halfback, could be called upon again, but Coach Hodges probably will use him at guard or end where help is more urgently needed. Although the Cards' main strength is experience in the backfield, their main weakness is lack of depth, especially in the line, and lack of good overall team speed.

Only three lettermen return in the line. And to look at them you'd think they were handpicked by Hodges, a Howard Payne product. Two of the lettermen up front made All-District on both offense and defense in '65. They are center Ray Ethredge, 166, Junior, and David Creswell, 239, Senior tackle.

Bernie Finch, 180, Junior, also returns to the fold. He saw a lot of action at center and can plug a hole real well. There are only 21 boys in the Redbird nest and most of the prospects for the forward wall are on the thin side. None of the squadmen weighs over 170.

Coach Hodges is counting a lot on the desire and aggressiveness of squadmen Robert Peterson (144, Soph), Burton Sandefue (158, Soph), David Groves (168, Soph.) Travis Beinhauer (146, Senior), Russell Mraz (146, Soph), Kris Huber (138, Junior), Ronnie Helm (138, Soph.) and Byron Campbell, (140, Junior).

Campbell and Mraz have no experience, although they are upperclassmen. Peterson, Huber, and Sandefur could develop into capable ends, and Groves and Beinhauer may hold down tackle slots. Helm is a backfield man.

Joining Danny Peterson at linebacker will be Ethredge, the topnotch pivotman. With two experienced linebackers, maybe the inexperience in the line won't be so noticeable.

New freshmen on the squad are tackles Jim Averitt (180) and Royce Bollinger (137), guards Ralph Stirl (139) and Jimmy McMillian (173) and end Marvin Collier (160).

With good power runners operating behind singlewing blocking, Hermleigh will be hard to beat. Whether they reach the top rung depends on how well the inexperienced linemen develop.

Robert Lee will be the favorite since it lost only 1 of 33 lettermen. Bronte could repeat with 7 starters returning from the championship club.

But if either slip, Hermleigh has the desire to move up. Jayton could be a contender, but Forsan, Roby, Trent and Loraine all appear about equal in the lower division.

Hermleigh held the upper hand in two scrimmages with the Snyder "B" team.

Tigers Meet Mustangs As Season Begins This Week

The fighting Snyder Tigers, with two impressive scrimmages under their belts, open the 1966 football season at home Friday night against always rugged Andrews of District 2-AAA in an 8 o'clock test. Andrews is favored to win their district this year, so the first outing could be a stiff test for the Tigers of Coach Keith Miles.

Again, there are 10 games on the varsity schedule with five home games. The junior varsity and the Junior High School teams also open their schedules this week. Travis' 9th grade visits Lamesa Thursday for a 7:30 p.m. tussle while the 8th grade team hosts Sweetwater the following Thursday in a 6 p.m. clash. Lamar's 9th grade team goes into action against Goliad at 7:30 p.m. Saturday following a 6 p.m. collision between the 8th grade teams of both schools. The B" team will go to Sweetwater for a 7:30 p.m. match Saturday.

Tiger Stadium will be the neutral site for a battle between Denver City and Stamford at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 1.

The Snyder High School varsity again will compete in District 3-AAA with Sweetwater, Lake View of San Angelo, Lamesa, Brownfield, Levelland and Littlefield providing the opposition. Kickoff in all district games is set for 7:30 p.m. while the non-district battles begin at 8 p.m. Foes in the non-district clashes are Andrews, Stamford, Big Spring and Kermit.

Clay's Opponent Claims He Will Be The Fastest

By KEITH WOOLHOUSE

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Karl Mildenberger claims he will be the fastest opponent Cassius Clay ever has met when he tries to win the champion's world heavyweight crown here Saturday.

But if Mildenberger is placing all his hope on speed, the title will remain in the Clay camp. That is the unanimous opinion of boxing fans and reporters who have watched the training sessions in the respective camps.

The two men concerned are a little more cautious. Mildenberger, who has registered 32 of his 49 victories by decisions, shrugs his shoulders and says, "We shall have to see what style Clay adopts and adjust accordingly. I am prepared for anything."

Mildenberger's trainer, Herbert Kleinwaechter, is bolder. "I shall not be surprised if the fight goes the distance," he said.

Clay, meanwhile, has steadfastly refused to be drawn into giving any prefight predictions. "My championship is on the line. We can all expect a real tough, rough fight," is his only comment.

But for how long? Sources in the Clay camp don't expect the fight to go past the fifth round.

"If this Mildenberger is still there for the sixth, he's a better boxer than we think," said one Clay spokesman.

Clay makes Mildenberger, fast as he may be, look cumbersome. The German challenger, who is the European champion, is banking heavily on his unorthodox southpaw stance.

Fans who have watched both training camps figure a Mildenberger victory would be a bigger upset than when Clay took the title from Sonny Liston.

Clay insists on fighting in a 20x20-foot ring which is slightly larger than the standard European ring. To meet the champion's requirements, the German promoters have imported from England the ring used in his fight with Henry Cooper last May.

Mildenberger will have to get used to the extra area, a spokesman said. General feeling is he should be glad for all the room he can get.

Clay says he fights better when the weather is cool and dry. It's that right now, and there's no prospect of a heat wave.

Even the estimated 65,000-70,000 crowd in Frankfurt's biggest open air stadium appeals to the actor in Clay. "The most I had before was 40,000 in London for the Cooper fight. It will be an honor and a privilege to fight before so many people," he said.

The stadium holds about 80,000 spectators and although no sellout is expected, promoters report a brisk advance sale. The fight is the first for a German world heavyweight challenger since 1938 when Max Schmeling was beaten by Joe Louis. It is the first world heavyweight match ever held in Germany.

Tickets are priced from $75 ringside to $6.25 for the bleachers. American soldiers stationed in Germany are given a special discount, and interest is reported high.

Speed Of Hayes Aids Dallas Win

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The already - fabulous pass receiving of speed demon Bob Hayes brought Dallas a 28-24 revenge victory over the Minnesota Vikings Friday night as the Cowboys wound up the National Football League exhibition season undefeated.

It was the first time for Dallas to accomplish this during its seven years in the NFL and the Cowboys were the second team to do it this year. Baltimore was the other. Each won five games.

So the Cowboys, already picked to win the Eastern Division of the NFL, await Sept. 18, the opening of the league season here against the New York Giants.

The triumph was revenuge for a 57-17 licking the Vikings poured on the Cowboys in 1965.

A crowd of 58,316 turned out in the Cotton Bowl for the Nationally televised game.

Fans saw Dallas take a 7-0 lead in the first period with an 80-yard touchdown march climaxed by Don Perkins' four-yard shash.

The Vikings came back in the second period to cover the same distance on Fran Tarkenton's passing, with Bill Brown crashing over from the one. Then a short punt by Danny Villanueva set up a 24-yard field goal by Fred Cox and Minnesota led 10-7 at the half.

In the third period Meredith ran a yard for a touchdown to put Dallas ahead and passed 48 yards to Hayes to make the score 21-10.

Tarkenton passed 15 yards to Paul Flatley to pull Minnesota within four points. Then Craig Morton flipped 44 yards to Hayes and Dallas had iced the victory, although a Tarkenton pass to Flatley brought a Minnesota touchdown with only three minutes left in the game.

It was Minnesota's first loss in 16 exhibition games, dating to the 1963 season.

The Cowboys rolled up 421 yards total offense compared to 343 for the Vikings.

Places Determined In Texas League

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

All places have been determined in the Texas League race except second and last. Those will come within the next three nights, since the regular campaign ends Monday.

Arkansas clinched the pennant Friday night, despite a 6-0 loss to Austin. Amarillo, the second place club, lost the last half of a doubleheader to Dallas-Fort Worth and that left Arkansas holding a 4½- game lead with only three to play. Amarillo has four left.

Second place still is up for decision between Amarillo and Albuquerque. Amarillo leads by two games. Albuquerque also has four to play.

El Paso, in fifth place, is two games ahead of cellar-dwelling Dallas-Fort Worth. Each has four games to go.

Grady Peninger, Michigan State's wrestling coach, has never had a losing season in 17 years of high school and college coaching.

Fifty-seven major league home runs were hit in Houston's Astrodome last season.

Pirates Are Back In Lead

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Roberto Clemente says he's a better home-run hitter than people think, but the Chicago Cubs would rather not think about it.

The Pittsburgh outfielder's three-run homer against the Cubs Friday was thought provoking in more ways than one.

In the first place, it was Clemente's 2,000th major-league hit. It was also his 23rd homer, tying his best season-long effort in that department. And it gave Roberto 101 runs batted in, marking the first time in his 12-year career he's topped 100.

But most important, says Roberto, the fifth-inning shot boosted the Pirates to a 7-3 victory and sole tenancy of first place in the National League. San Francisco, tied with the Bucs when the day's action began, lost to St. Louis 6-5 in 12 innings.

Elsewhere in the league, Los Angeles beat Cincinnati 6-1, Philadelphia shut out New York 6-0 and Atlanta won a doubleheader from Houston 6-5 and 2-1.

In the American League, Detroit won a pair from Cleveland 4-2 and 7-5, the second game in 10 innings, Chicago beat Baltimore 9-8 in 11 innings, Minneapolis took New York 85, Kansas City knocked off Boston 51 and California edged Washington 6-5.

Orlando Cepeda popped up to haunt his Giant ex-teammates, doubling in the 12th inning and coming home on Mike Shannon's single for the winning run. The Giants had taken a one-run lead with four runs in the seventh, but an error by Tito Fuentes sent the game into extra innings.

Claude Osteen and Bob Miller combined for a three-hitter and Ron Fairly drove in three runs, two with a homer, as the Dodgers stayed two games back of the Pirates.

Jim Bunning pinned the Mets back on six hits and Rich Allen clubbed a pair of homers for the Phillies fourth victory in their last five games. Allen now has 35 home runs.

Ed Mathews hit two homers in Atlanta's opening victory and Pat Jarvis stopped Houston on four hits in the finale. It was Atlanta's first doubleheader victory of the season.

This May Be Last Year For Emerson

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — This, very likely, could be the last appearance at the U.S. tennis championships for Australia's Roy Emerson, winner in 1961 and 1964.

But of deeper impact to the international tennis scene, the year could very easily mark the end of his contribution, since 1959, to Australia's Davis Cup fortunes.

The 29 - year - old Emerson spoke easily about his prospects and about his current game which was as rusty as an old hinge Friday as he swung inconsistently and had trouble beating unheralded Ismael el Shafei, an 18-year-old Egyptian, 6-3, 9-7, 9-7.

The verdict put Emerson in the second round where he will rest until a foe is decided between Chuck Darley of Rochester, Minn., and Bitsy Harrison of Richmond, Va.

He was joined by Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif.; Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio; and Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Tex., U.S. Davis Cuppers and all seeded below Emerson who is No. 2 on the list to defender Manuel Santana of Spain.

Today's schedule had Ralston, seeded third, playing another Australian, Martin Mulligan; Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., seeded fifth, against Ron Holmberg of Highland Falls, N.Y.; Richey, seeded eighth, vs. Australian Owen Davidson, and Tony Roche of Australia, seeded fourth, facing Sherwood Stewart of Baytown, Tex.

While Ralston was beating India's Jasjit Singh, 6-1, 6-3, 7-5; Graebner was defeating Francisco Guzman of Ecuador, 6-1, 7-5, 6-2, and Richey was walloping Keith ennings of New Canaan, Conn., 6-3, 6-2, 6-3 to complete the four seeded players' advance for the day.

Ten of the last 11 Florida Derby winners have run in the Kentucky Derby. Eight have finished in the money.

Beman Seeks 3rd Amateur Golf Crown

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

ARDMORE, Pa. (AP)—Deane Beman, seeking to become the first man since Bobby Jones to win three U.S. national amateur golf titles, and Downing Gray were tied for the lead going into today's final round.

Gray fired a third round two under par 68 Friday over the windswept Merion Golf Club course to make up eight strokes on the front running Beman.

Beman slipped to a six-over-par 76, which included a triple bogey seven on the 15th hole. Each had 214 for 54 holes, four over par for the 6,509-yard course.

Only a stroke behind were Mike Morley, Minot, N.D., and Ron Cerrudo, San Rafael, Calif. Each shot par 70 Friday for 215s.

Bracketed at 216 were Dick Siderowf, Westport, Conn.; Don Allen, Rochester, N.Y., and Roger McManus, Hartville, Ohio. Siderowf shot 72, Allen 73, and McManus 74 in the third round.

Jack Lewis Jr., Florence, S.C., who tied for the lead at the end of 45 holes, took a 75 for 217.

A Walker Cup team member from Pensacola, Fla., Gray holed birdie putts of eight, six and 15 feet for a two under par 34 going out, and matched par 34 on Merion's bunker dotted course through the back nine.

Gray doesn't lack for confidence. A runner-up for this title in 1962 when it was match play, he finished his third round and calmly predicted:

DEFIANCE — It is obvious to Maj. Lawton, portrayed by Jack Hawkins ,that Aaron, played by Peter Finch, and Judith, portrayed by Sophia Loren, are lying to him when he asks for details of Judith's previous home, but is almost sad when she defiantly sticks her arm out to show him her Dauchau camp number. "Judith" is coming to the Ritz Theater here Wednesday, Sept. 14.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — Any resemblance between Modern Mexico and the figure of an Indian in a big hat sleeping in the shade is not even a coincidence.

It is a picturesque manner of promoting tourism. But it in no way reflects the country which is growing at a rapid pace and where sophistication keeps in step.

The tourist with his camera looks for the sleeping figure. They make these figures in bookends and put them on posters.

But Mexico is hard at work these golden days. Building industry and stepping up agriculture. Most of the cities and big towns have even knocked off that glorious old institution, the siesta.

City workers dodge out for a quick lunch and get back to work. In the small towns and villages, you still hit the afternoon nap. Close shop at two and open at 4 p.m. Stoney silence in between.

Mexico's gross national product last year topped the $19 billion (U.S.) mark. A $3 billion slice over the previous year. This calls for plenty of hustle and no napping.

Sales are soaring. Bank deposits are up. Industry is expanding. More land is going into cultivation. The whole country is booming.

And the experts lay all this to the rapidly growing middle class which finally is coming into its own.

Greater facilities have been filling the demand for more education at higher levels in an effort to keep pace with other advanced nations. This has increased earning power and purchasing power. And has put more money into circulation than ever before in the country's history.

Should we bring a gun to Mexico for a driving trip?

No. You don't need one and to get a weapon into the country you must fill out forms and get a permit from the defense department on crossing the border. Nobody is going to bother you. And even if there should be a stickup (a rare, rare thing) and you shoot, you are in a dismal situation with the authorities. Let the law handle any problems in that department you might have. I have traveled through Mexico from the main highways to the backwoods trails and have never had the need of a gun.

• • •

Would you suggest a waterproof cover over the baggage atop the car while traveling in August?

Yes. You will be there during the rainy season and may hit some heavy afternoon thunder storms. You won't have any problems on the highways because they are paved and in reasonably good condition. But don't get caught with your baggage down.

• • •

Taking our cruiser down Mexico's west coast this summer; can we find fuel along the way?

Yes, just about every port you will hit has boats and they keep a good supply of fuel on hand. Plan on hitting the largest ports shown on the map and you won't have any trouble with fuel or moorings.

City Asks Federal Aid In Drought

By JOHN L. TAYLOR

YORK, Pa. (AP) — It's costing $18,000 a day to truck water into this southern Pennsylvania city where a prolonged drought has virtually dried up its main source of supply.

"This is the worst," said Mayor John L. Snyder Friday, after declaring an emergency and asking for help from both the federal and state governments.

Snyder said a flood by Codorus Creek that caused millions in damage 33 years ago was not as bad.

"It was in August of 1933 when we had four days of heavy rains. The creek overflowed cutting the city in half. Damage was in the millions, Snyder said.

"But this is the worst. You can cope with a flood. You can evade the water by going to higher ground. What do you do when you're on dry ground?"

The York Water Co. said the Codorus Reservoir was dwindling at the rate of eight million gallons per day. Officials estimated that the current supply would last about a month.

In Harrisburg, the state capital, the Public Utility Commission said the company has been spending $18,000 a day hauling water from the Susquehanna River, 16 miles to the west. As the situation grew more critic ', however, that amount was expected to reach $25,000 a day.

The 50,000 residents of this 225-year-old city are going through the long, hot summer under rigid restrictions on water use. No washing of cars, no sprinkling of lawns, no water served in restuarants, unless requested.

Broadway Offers Top Fem Display

EDITOR'S NOTE — Here comes a bright new Broadway season, including seven musicals, nine comedies and a raft of suspense plays, dramas and revivals. It's loaded with big-name stars, producers and writers, but most of all with hope. And never forget the odds — one in five makes the grade.

By WILLIAM GLOVER
Associated Press Drama Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Noted feminine stars dominate Broadway's new theatrical season.

In the spotlight of premieres between now and New Year's are such recent absentees as Helen Hayes, Mary Martin, Judith Anderson, Maureen Stapleton, June Havoc, Getrude Berg, Jessica Tandy and Jennifer Jones.

Others in the female display include Lotte Lenya, Ruth Gordon, Shelley Winters and Arlene Francis among veterans; Barbara Harris, Sandy Dennis and Shirley Knight of the youth corps. The movies are sending along Jill Haworth, heroine of "Exodus," and TV supplies another stage debutante, Mary Tyler Moore of the Dick Van Dyke series.

The male list is shorter — Walter Pidgeon, Hume Cronyn, Daren McGavin, Alfred Drake, Robert Preston, Anthony Perkins, Sidney Blackmer, Franchot Tone, Rip Torn and John Raitt.

Jackie Coogan is set for his debut in "Fatty," a play about Fatty Arbuckle, due Christmas week or soon thereafter.

In the order of arrival, subject to change, here is a digest of the first-nighter calendar between now and year's end:

"Annie Get Your Gun," with Ethel Merman at the Broadway, Sept. 21, for 10-week stand.

"A Delicate Balance," Edward Albee's drama about human responsibility, starring Miss Tandy, Cronyn and Rosemary Murphy, at the Beck, Sept. 22. It is his fifth Broadway script.

"Dinner at Eight," revival of the Kaufman-Ferber hit of 1932 with Mindy Carson, Ruth Ford, Blanche Yurka, the Misses Francis and Havoc; Jeffrey Lynn, Pidgeon and McGavin; at the Alvin, Sept. 27.

"The Country Girl," revival of Clifford Odets' play with Jennifer Jones, Tone and Torn at City Center, Sept. 29 beginning a series to include "the Rose Tattoo," by Tennessee Williams, with Miss Stapleton, Oct. 20; and "Elizabeth the Queen," by Maxwell Anderson, with Miss Anderson, Nov. 1.

"The Loves of Cass McGuire," with Miss Gordon as a barmaid who returns to Ireland. The comedy by Brian ("Philadelphia, Here I Come!") Friel reaches the Hayes, Oct. 6.

Trio of short plays by Saul Bellow, starring Miss Winters and Jack Warden; theater to be announced, Oct. 11.

"A Joyful Noise" displays Raitt as a folk-singer, with music by Oscar Brand and Paul Nassau; Hellinger, Oct. 16.

"The Apple Tree," a musical by Sheldon Harnick and Jerry Bock of 'Fiddler on the Roof' fame, based upon short stories by Mark Twain, Frank R. Stockton and Jules Feiffer, with Mike Nichols directing Miss Harris and Larry Blyden, at the Shubert, Oct. 18.

"We Have Always Lived in the Castle," Shirley Jackson's suspense novel, adapted by Hugh Wheeler, starring Miss Knight with Blackmer and directed by Garson Kanin; Barrymore, Oct. 19.

"I Do, I Do," stars Mary Martin in a musical version of "The Fourposter," with score by Harvey Schmidt and Tom Jones who sired "The Fantasticks." The 46th St. Theater, Nov. 15.

"The Playgirls," in which Gertrude Berg impersonates a theater party agent; Cort, Nov. 17.

'Cabaret," musical based on Christopher Isherwood's 'Berlin Stories," score by John Kander and Fred Ebb, starring the Misses Lenya and Haworth with Jack Gilford; Broadhurst, Nov. 20.

"He to Hecuba," a comedy with Drake as a 16th century strolling player; ANTA, Nov. 24.

'Breakfast at Tiffany's," musical distilled from Truman Capote novel by Abe Burrows with Bob Merrill score and Miss Moore as Holly Golightly; Majestic, Nov. 26.

"Walking Happy," another musical, based on the play "Hobson's Choice," with songs by Sammy Cahn and Jimmy Van Heusen, starring Norman Wisdom from England, George Rose and Louise Troy; Lunt-Fontanne, Nov. 26 also.

"Daphne in Cottage D" presents Miss Dennis as the young widow of a movie star involved with a doctor; Music Box, Nov. 30.

"The Star-Spangled Girl," Neil Simon comedy with Perkins as a magazine publisher flustered by a girl swimming champion; Plymouth, Dec. 14.

"Agatha Sue, I Love You," comedy with Ray Walston and Corbett Monica about a pair of horseplaying bachelors, directed by George Abbott as his 108th Broadway venture; at a theater to be announced, week of Dec. 12.

"At the Drop of Another Hat," a second topical revue for Michael Flanders and Donald Swann; Miller's, Dec. 26.

Tentatively marked in for Dec. 27 is the Coogan-starring "Fatty." Other maybe prospects before New Year's include a drama, "Possibilities Ann's Life)," starring Inga Swenson; and three comedies — 'The Coffee Lover," "Come Live With Me" and "Love in E Flat."

Those are the hopefuls. The abiding theatrical odds are that one out of five shows succeeds with critics and public. Which will be the lucky ones?

British, US Pupils Under Comparison

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — A group of American and British educators will meet at Indiana University Monday to plan a comparative study of 20,000 U.S. and British high school pupils.

The study will investigate pupil ability in math, reading, English usage and science.

NARROW ESCAPE — Jimmy Stewart races to the rescue of Maureen O'Hara and Juliet Mills after their wagon is overturned during a wild stampede of Longhorn steers in Universal's western drama, "The Rare Breed." It is coming to the Tiger Drive In here Saturday, Sept. 10.

Greenville Prepares For Carr Rally

GREENVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Sponsors say they expect 10,000 persons here next Saturday night for a Northeast Texas rally for state Att'y Gen. Waggoner Carr.

Carr is running for U. S. Senate on the Democratic ticket against Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., from Wichita Falls.

The 7 p.m. rally, sponsored by Hunt County Democrats, will officially launch the East Texas drive for Carr's campaign for the U. S. Senate. Preceding the rally, at 6:30 p.m., political parade is set for downtown Greenville.

The candidate will make the principal address from a platform on the south side of Court House Square. Carr is a native of Fairlie in Hunt County.

Carr will be introduced by Rep. Ray Roberts, D-Tex., of McKinney, State Senator Ralph Hall, of Rockwall, will be master of ceremonies. Also on the program will be Judge Grover Sellers of Sulphur Springs, State Senator Jack Strong of Longview, State Senator A. M. Aiken of Paris, and others.

The largest number of Kentucky Derby starters was 22 in 1928.

Schools To Be Sprayed

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — All public schools will be sprayed with insecticide this weekend in an effort to eliminate the culex mosquito carrier of encephalitis that has caused two deaths and brought the disease to 48 people.

Dr. W. R. Metzger, Corpus Christi city health director, said the number of probable cases in Corpus Christi had arisen to this number and that 22 other cases were being studied "pending classification."

Dr. Metzger said two fogging machines would be used to spray the schools. He also said an eradication program against the salt marsh mosquitoes is under way. The salt marsh is not a carrier of encephalitis but inflicts a painful bite.

A total of 11 persons have died from the disease in Texas. Seven were in Dallas and there was one each at Amarillo and Tulia.

Carbonated Water Mystery Solved

SEEKONK, Mass. (AP) — Town officials have found the answer to why carbonated water was coming from the faucets of several homes.

The trouble was traced to a leaky soda water machine in a restaurant.

Diehards Still Fan Ashes Of Dominican Revolution

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Diehards are still fanning the ashes of revolution in this Dominican capital.

They are trying to breathe life into it with verbal stimulants and an occasional jolt of violence. They've tuned up the old Castroite litany: "Out gringos," and, "Death to Yankee imperialism," and its counterpoint, the strident anti-Communist chant of a clique Dominican leftists call "Juan Birchismo" (John Birchism).

Rumor thrives in this atmosphere and this is perhaps why Santo Domingo — the interior, as usual, is prospering quietly — is alive with talk of imminent plots to overthrow the new government.

Students of Dominican politics discount any immediate threat. They do foresee violence, especially after the Inter-American Peace Force leaves this month.

There is some apprehension the disappearance of restraints imposed by the foreign troops will unleash a wave of political reprisals among those involved in the bloody April 24, 1965, fratricide.

Part of Santo Domingo is known to be heavily armed, even with high explosives. In the past month one top political figure was slain, another seriously wounded. Others, including prominent names in the April uprising, reportedly are marked for death.

The Inter-American Peace Force, mostly U.S. troops, is credited with preserving peace and helping restore democratic rule to the Dominican Republic. Its evacuation began in July and the men still here are due to leave by Sept. 20.

There is speculation that leftist factions, fearing serious problems with extremist elements in the armed forces, are stirring up fresh agitation in the hope President Joaquin Balaguer will request the foreign forces to remain longer. The Dominican armed forces either were unable or unwilling to stop right-wing extremist terrorism against the provisional government early this year.

The present military leadership seems loyal to Balaguer. But it's no secret that one group of right-wing dissidents, mostly at San Isidro airbase, remains faithful to ex-Gen. Elias Wessin y Wessin, the anti-Communist militant booted out by ex-President Hector Garcia-Godoy a year ago.

There is no indication Balaguer intends to request the Hemisphere force to remain in Santo Domingo. It's understood the Organization of American States resolution under which the troops are being withdrawn made no allowances for their stay in the event of trouble. A new resolution would be required in an emergency.

Balaguer is the lawyer-reformer who won the presidency June 1 over ex-President Juan Bosch, deposed in a September 1963 civilian-military coup. Bosch inspired the April 1965 uprising against the Donald Reid Cabral government but failed in an electoral comeback. He plans to leave shortly to lecture in England, it is said. Persons in a position to know say Balaguer, who has been guarded home because of threats to his life, doesn't want to be around after the Inter-American troops leave.

Balaguer, 59, is reported to have ordered 24-hour surveillance of persons known to have been involved, directly and indirectly, in past plots.

Determined to clean up corruptive government practices that lofted the public debt from zero to more than $400 million in less than 10 years, he has incarcerated some influential people. Important political, military and business figures — many involved in a fatsacking of public funds and property between 1961 and 1965.

Balaguer's austerity program — even an order for pencils gets his approval — is not popular with patronage-minded members of his Reformist party. He pledged during his campaign that he would govern with the best qualified persons regardless of party affiliation.

Red Guards Stop Fleeing Refugee

BERLIN (AP) — An escaping refugee was stopped today only a few yards short of the Communist wall by the gunfire of East German border guards, police said.

The police said the man, about 25, halted near a tangle of barbed wire when four bursts were fired from a nearby bunker. He was fed away with his hands held over his head.

3 Survive Freak Mishap

DALLAS (AP) — James G. Wharton, 40, was killed but three other persons survived by a seeming miracle Friday night when his car somersaulted off a freeway onto a second auto.

Police reconstructed the accident this way:

Wharton's vehicle skidded against a center guard rail and bounced to the far right side of the divided freeway, hurling him out. He suffered a crushed skull and his left arm was torn off.

The unoccupied car then plunged 60 feet in the air and crashed upside down atop an automobile driven by Mrs. Florene Cobb, 25, in a service road.

Although the roof and doors of Mrs. Cobb's car were flattened to dashboard height, officers said she was only shaken and bruised. Her sons, Kenny, 7, and Ricky, 4, escaped injury. All three were pinned inside until passing motorists pried on one of the crumpled doors.

Sewer Phantom A Problem For Memphis

By DON McLEOD

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A 14-year-old boy who periodically roamed city sewers during the past two years posed a perplexing problem for Juvenile Court officials today.

"There's simply no place for a kid like this to go," said probation officer Frank McCroskey. "This boy has roamed the sewers for as much as a month at a time."

The youngster, nicknamed the "Phantom of the Sewers" by police, has been in and out of Juvenile Court since 1960. After his last brush with authorities last week, he was sent for a psychiatric check.

McCroskey said the youth has no place to go once he is released.

"Nobody wants this boy," he said.

Consequently, the officer said, the boy turned to sewers for refuge.

In his subterranean hideout, explained Claude Pepper, the probation officer, "the boy felt psychologically as well as physically secure."

Described as "mentally disturbed," the unidentified boy lives with an elderly grandmother. Officers said his parents, now divorced, apparently were unable to care for him.

McCroskey said the boy provided for his meagre existence by petty thefts.

"His operation was small but frequent — stealing a transistor radio, then selling it for a quarter," McCroskey said.

"Police couldn't catch him. The sewers are mapped in his head. He would stash the day's catch in a sewer, then eat, sleep, play games down there. The neighborhood was in an uproar. He had watching posts to spot squad cars. Other kids would tip him off and bring him food.

"At times the police were able to ambush him when he came out," McCroskey said. "Then, about every agency in the city would get the kid. Eventually he would get back to us. What can we do — send him to reform school? He's mentally sick — not bad."

THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS

VOL. 17, NO. 109 SNYDER, TEXAS (79549) SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1966 SECTION B

Shoeshines, scrubbed faces, and the looking forward to receiving their first official books, and getting acquainted with their surroundings and teachers, were the scenes at the six elementary schools in Snyder Wednesday. The pictures on this page show some of the children who entered school for the first time. Most of the school entertained mothers with a coffee in the school cafeterias while children were making acquaintances.

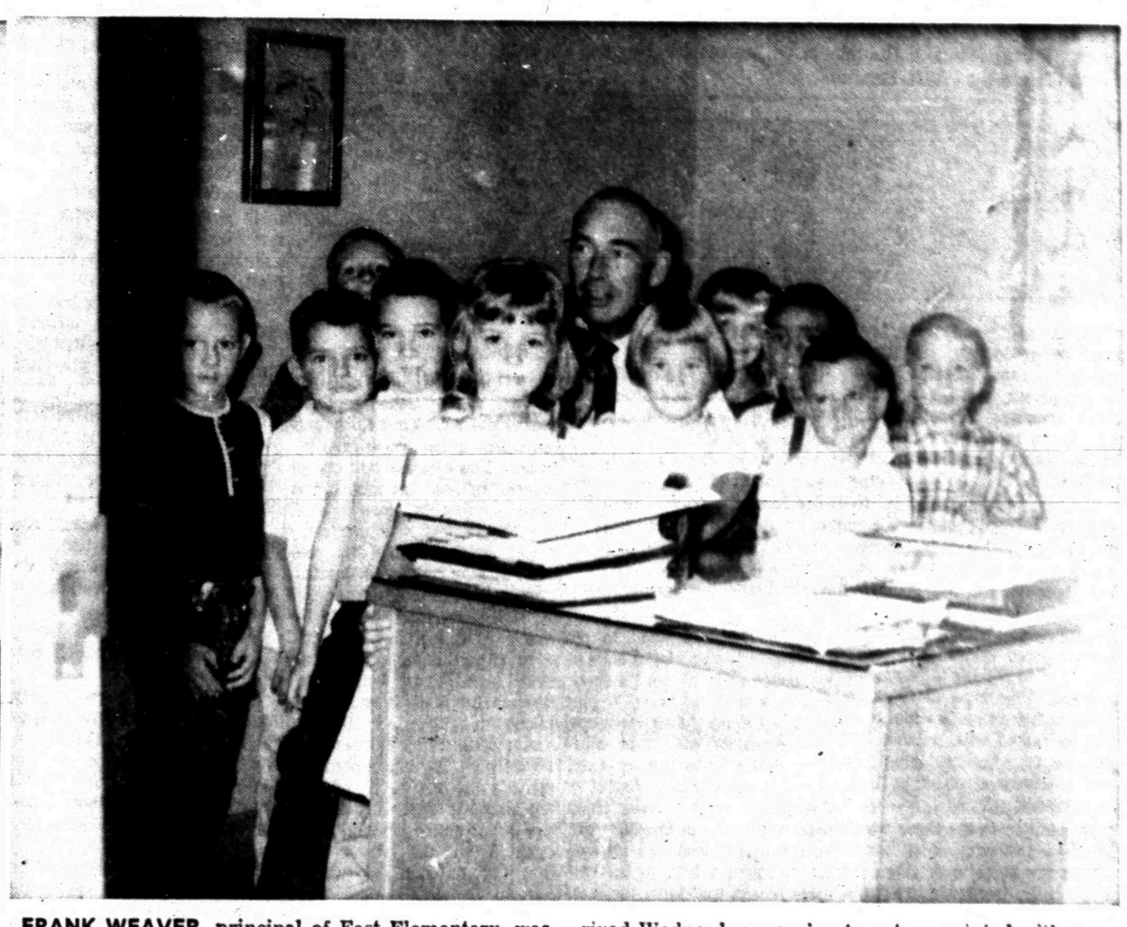

JERALD PYLANT stays pretty close to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Pylant, as Mr. Bob Womack, West Elementary principal, introduces the new student to his room.

THE STANFIELD cafeteria was a busy place Wednesday morning as members of the P-TA encouraged mothers of first grade students to join in fellowship and a good cup of coffee while the kiddos got off to their various classrooms.

SOME FIRST GRADE students to attend Northeast Elementary this year are pictured above. They were making the rounds of the school facilities early Wednesday morning.

FRANK WEAVER, principal of East Elementary, was the center of attraction when first grade students arrived Wednesday morning to get acquainted with personnel and school surroundings for the new year.

MR. FRANK MILLER, principal, and Mrs. Jean Tyrone, secretary at North Elementary welcome some of the newcomers to the school. The little tykes were rather shy at their first day at school.

MR. HERMAN TRIGG, principal at Central Elementary takes great pride in getting acquainted with each student. He is pictured above with some of the pupils who will enter his school for the first time.

Pickles, Bacon Duet For Hors d'Oeuvres

Here's a neat hors d'oeuvres trick. Cut sweet pickles into 1 inch lengths. Roll the pickle in small strips of bacon and broil until bacon is crisp. Serve hot.

Or roll whole water chestnuts and ripe, stuffed olives in the bacon and broil.

For anyone who has ever tried to define a 7 or 8 year old girl, we present this attempt, printed in a North Dakota newspaper:

WHAT IS A BROWNIE?

A Brownie is a Girl Scout, only it's littler. It's a face, any color, with eyes of brown or blue, teeth that have not found their proper places, hair that lies smoothly under a Brownie cap, or bumps up here and there under a cap that struggles to stay upright on a mass of ringlets and curls. A nose that hasn't decided which side of the family to take after.

All of this is enhanced by that famous Brownie smile, unless someone forgot to take it out of her pocket. A brownie has willing feet and hands that are anxious to be of service. She is a helper who often makes work a pleasure.

Even though a Brownie has to be seven before she can be "investigated", she can be one for the rest of her life, even when she is a grandmother.

Signed: I am a Brownie.

Blueberry Streusel Pie

1 quart fresh blueberries
½ cup granulated sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons flour
Unbaked 9-inch pie shell with high upstanding rim
Streusel Topping

In a mixing bowl toss together the blueberries, granulated sugar, salt and flour; turn into pie shell. Sprinkle the Streusel Topping over the berries. Bake on a low shelf of a hot (425 degrees) oven for about 40 minutes. Cool.

Streusel Topping: In a small bowl stir together ½ cup firmly packed light brown sugar and ½ cup unsifted regular flour; with a pastry blender, cut in ¼ cup butter or margarine until particles are fine.

To Wed In September

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cajanek of Hermleigh are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Linda to David Klepper III.

The wedding will be September 16 in First Baptist Church of Snyder. They are both employed at Snyder National Bank.

Leftovers With Flair

Slices of roast beef or lamb may be served as an encore if heated in the oven (350 degrees F.) with seasoned sour cream. Add celery or garlic salt, Worchestershire sauce or crumbled blue cheese to the cream and spread over the meat. Serve in just this way when reheated (from 20 to 30 minutes), or serve on toast, English muffins, a bed of rice or noodles; garnish with watercress, parsley, celery tops and spiced crabapples or spiced prunes.

ON THE HOUSE

The term "wood filler" is used rather loosely, sometimes meaning a material such as putty or plastic wood for filling holes or other openings, and sometimes meaning a paste or liquid which is applied to wood surfaces to close the large pores.

The latter definition is the original and true one as far as the wood craftsman is concerned. A wood filler, to him, has the specific use of removing the textured appearance of mahogany, oak, walnut and other open - pored woods and preparing to receive ultra-smooth finishes. This type of filler usually comes in paste - like form and is mixed with naptha, turpentine or whatever liquid the manufacturer specifies to make it workable.

In addition to the three woods mentioned above, other woods which are sometimes given the wood - filler treatment are chestnut, ash, elm, butternut, rosewood, satinwood, locust and hickory. Note that "sometimes given" phrase. That's because some persons prefer the woodsy, rough appearance of most of these woods and therefore deliberately avoid applying any wood filler. Your first decision, therefore, is whether you want a smooth or textured finish on the wood.

Wood filler is applied with a brush, putting it on generously in the direction of the grain. A second and immediate application follows, this time against the grain and with light brush strokes. Within a few minutes, the filler turns from shiny to dull. That is the signal to begin rubbing. Use a piece of burlap and wipe in a kind of circular motion, bearing down as the cloth moves across the grain. Next, using a clean rag, wipe lightly in the direction of the grain.

Throughout all this operation, be sure that there is plenty of light in the room. This is imperative: first, so you will note instantly when the filler has lost its shiny appearance for the start of the rubbing; and secondly, so that when you have completed the job, you can tell whether the wood filler has effectively closed the pores of the wood. If it has not, repeat the entire procedure, this time using a lighter mixture.

Once you are satisfied that the wood has been filled properly, let it alone for a day. An application of sealer is then necessary to prevent the final finishing material from lifting the filler from the pores. Wood filling is not the easiest part of finishing, so try it out first on some scrap wood before you tackle a good piece of furniture.

QUESTION : I want to put an outside faucet at the front of the house so it is more convenient to water the lawn. A pipe already extends to the right spot on the inside wall and all I have to do is to run an extra piece of pipe and a faucet to the outside. But I have never done any work on masonry and gather that it won't be an easy job to make a hole in the concrete blocks that form the foundation. Have you any advice that might help me?

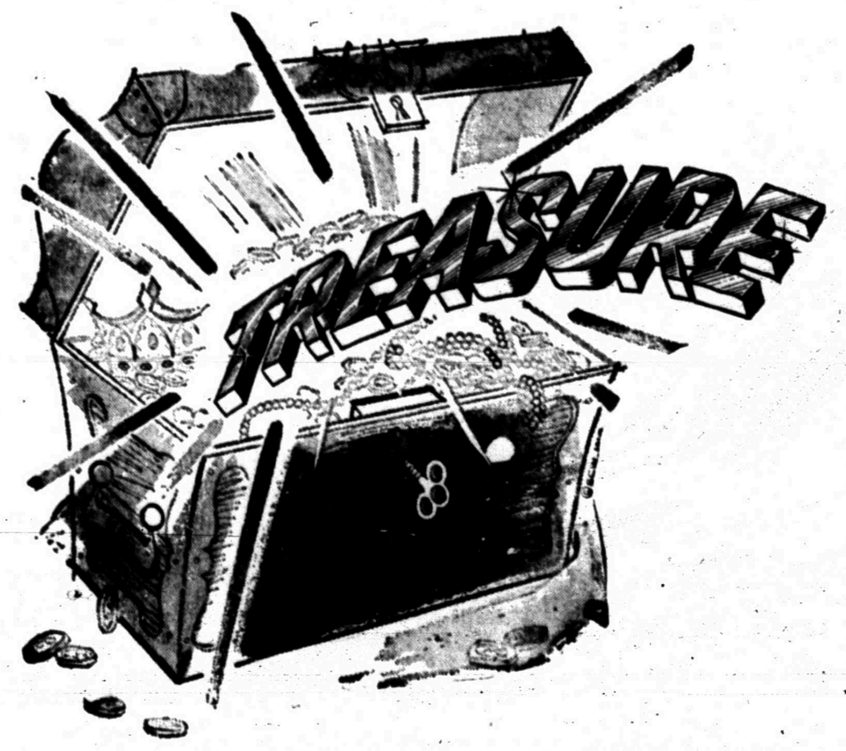

ANSWER: It won't be quite as tough a job as it would be if the foundation were poured concrete. Don't make the opening through one of the concrete bocks. Make it through the mortar which holds the blocks together. You can use any one of several methods for this. If you have a portable electric drill, use the largest size carbide - tipped drill that will fit your drill. It may be that a quarter-inch drill will not do the job or, if it does, may damage the machine. Use a half-inch drill even if you have to rent one. Once a hole has been made through the wall, it can be expanded to the proper size with a star drill, which is inserted in the opening, hit with a hammer, turned, and so on. If you can not obtain a half-inch drill, you can do the entire job with a star drill. It will be harder work that way, but that's the way it had to be done before there were such things as portable electric drills and even before there was electricity.

Mr. And Mrs. Bronniman To Reside In Abilene

Following a wedding trip to Red River and Ruidoso, New Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bronniman will be at home at the trailer park on Abilene Christian College farm.

Both students at Abilene Christian College, the couple was married Friday evening August 26th, in the Lloyd Mountain Church of Christ. Sanford Thompson, uncle of the bride officiated.

The former Reta Ann Fambro, the bride, is the daughter of G. K. Fambro of Snyder. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bronniman Sr. of Adrian.

Bridesmaid was Miss Cheryl Ann Girton of Abilene. Her dress was an A-line royal blue floor - length, made of peau de soie, and she carried a long stem white carnation.

Fay Sullenger of Snyder was flower girl and wore a dress identical to the bridesmaid. They both wore headpieces of royal blue veiling attached to cabbage roses.

Best man was Speck Cox of Camp Wood, Tex. Scotty Scott of Abilene was ring bearer.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length A-line gown with chapel length train and sleeves ending in petal points. Her bouquet was of white carnations and Frenched mums. A queen's crown of pearls held her finger-tip illusion veil.

Ushers were Wayne Bronniman of Adrain and Hubert Bronniman of Abilene.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Sanford Thompson. Mrs. Densil Fambro served cake and Miss Kay Sullenger presided at the punch service.

Cranberries Make This Meat Ring Sweet, Saucy

A ruby-topped meat ring is an invitation to dining that's hard to resist. When it's as good looking as this, most folks will figure it's good to eat, too!

Certainly, it's ture, also, that Sweet Saucy Meat Ring is good to eat with its unusual combination of ground beef and ham topped with whole cranberry sauce, says Reba Staggs, meat authority. Serve a buttered green vegetable in the center and surround the base of the platter with oven-browned or baked potatoes.

Sweet Saucy Meat Ring

1½ pounds ground beef
½ pound ground smoked ham
¾ cup dry bread crumbs
¾ cup milk
2 eggs, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons minced onion
1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup brown sugar
1 cup drained, whole cranberry sauce

Combine beef and ham. Mix bread crumbs, milk, eggs, onions, salt and pepper and add to meat. Mix thoroughly. Pack firmly into a 2-quart greased ring mold. Combine brown sugar and cranberry sauce. Pour half of mixture over meat loaf. Bake in a slow over (325 degrees F.) 1 hour. Heat remaining cranberry mixture slowly until hot throughout. Spoon over loaf. 6 to 8 servings.

For accent on your lawn, we recommend a birch tree. The accent is in the bark, the color of which may range from chalk white through orange to black. One of our favorite lawn trees when we lived in Maine was a coppery birch. We saw it every time we looked through the picture window, the snow or sunshine, toward the bay.

There are 10 native species of the beautiful birch, including a variety that may be used effectively in almost any landscape plant.

Most popular, it seems, are the birches with the lighter bark. The canoe, or paper birch, has chalky white bark and dark green leaves.

The European white birch has drooping branches and white bark that peels easily. The yellow birch has a frayed bark, silver on the outside and in orange shades when it peels.

The birch may be used as a background for flowers and shrubs. You may get a birch with a single trunk or several planted as a group to appear as one with several trunks.

Plant a birch that will not blend into obscurity in the background of your yard.

The leaf miner is a major pest of the birch. The larval (worm) stage of this insect lives inside the leaf where it feeds. It tunnels inside the leaf, causing blotches and blisters to appear on the outside. Infested leaves turn brown in late spring or early summer and will drop off.

Recommended for control are lindane spray applied when punctures and small mines become visible. For best results repeat spray twice at 10 - day intervals. This spray also will control gray aphids.

There are prepared sprays, such as Spectracide, for the control of leaf miner, applied at 10-day intervals.

Sprays will control the adult sawflies as they emerge from the leaf and prevent them from laying eggs for another hatch.

If you use push-button, pressurized cans of insecticides in your garden or indoors, keep the can 18 inches from the foliage to prevent the foliage from injuring the leaves.

New Book

The American Horticultural Society has published "The Ponies," a book dealing with peony culture, descriptions, propagation, check lists of varieties, lists of growers, pests and diseases, botanical classifications, history, breeding and bibliography.

The 200-page book has over 60 photographs and line drawings. The editors are John C. Wister, director of the Arthur Hoyt Scott Horticultural Foundation, Swarthmore College, and Gertrude S. Wister.

Th book deals with both tree and the more familiar herbaceous peonies.

"The American public this year is being offered the safest power lawn mowers yet produced," Ernest V. Heyn, associate publisher and editor-in-chief of Popular Science Monthly says.

Heyn made the statement in presenting the seventh Popular Science Award to the Outdoor Power Equipment Institute recently at the OPEI annual convention at Pocono Manor, Penn.

MRS. JACK McDONALD

Wright, McDonald Wedding Held In Crandall Church

The wedding of Miss Sandra Wright and Jack McDonald took place on August 20 in the Central Baptist Church in Crandall with Rev. Michael Barnard officiating

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Wright of Crandall. She is a graduate of Texas Technological College, Lubbock.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal length gown, silhouette fashioned of sheer organza over bridal taffeta. Dramatic scrolls of reembroidered alencon lace framed a center panel from waist to hemline, sprinkled with clusters of tiny pearl and crystal beading. The lace motif was repeated at the wide scalloped neckline, abbreviated kebuki sleeves and edging the detachable chapel train. She carried a white orchid surrounded with feathered mums.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gayle McDonald of Snyder, Texas. He attended Texas A&M University and a graduate of Texas Technological College, Lubbock.

Attending the bride were two bridesmaids: Mrs. Ronald Powell, Commerce, and Miss. Joyce Adams, Crandall. Junior bridesmaid was Cydney McDonald of Snyder, the grooms sister. The matron of honor was Mrs. Don Colquitt of Crandall.

Joe McDonald of Snyder was his brother's best man. The groomsmen were Jimmy Spradlin of Denton, and Bill Andrews of Snyder. The ushers were John Curry of Snyder and Weldon Ware of Odessa.

Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Wayne English of Irving, Mrs. Donald Dickerson of Mesquite, and Miss. Dianne Garmon of Detroit.

Organ music was presented by Mrs. Charles Howard, Crandall. Mrs. Truman Welch, Terrell sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer".

After a reception at the home of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. McDonald left on a wedding trip to Colorado. They will live at 813 North Nelson, Pampa, Texas.

Among out of town guests was the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Sidney Sullivan of El Paso, Texas.

1½ cups soft - cooked regular rice
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 small or 2 medium ripe bananas
Sweetened whipped cream

Make up pudding according to package directions for pudding; mix in rice and vanilla. Turn into 6 custard cups; cover and chill. At serving time top with sliced bananas and whipped cream. Makes 6 servings.

Epicurean Roast Duck

5-pound ready-to-cook duckling
1 onion and 1 rib celery
Salt
¼ cup orange - flavored liqueur (80 proof)

Thaw duck if frozen; dry. Sprinkle body cavity with salt and place onion and celery in it. Roast breast - side down on a rack in a shallow roasting pan in a slow (325 degrees) oven, turning midway, until fat is rendered; skin is brown and crisp and meat is tender — about 2½ hours. Remove duck to silver (or other metal platter); heat liqueur but do not boil, put a match to liqueur to light and as you do so, pour over duck before guests at the darkened dining place. Makes 4 servings.

MRS. TROY FERRELL MORRIS

Reid, Morris Marriage Vows Exchanged In Lubbock

Dr. J. Ralph Grant performed the doublering ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Ruth Elizabeth Reid and Troy Ferrell Morris at 2 p.m. Sept. 3, in Ford Memorial Chapel of First Baptist Church of Lubbock.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Reid, 5436 Ninth Street, Lubbock, and Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Morris, Route 3, Snyder.

Guests were seated by Carrol Cagle of Tatum, N.M., and Ronnie Schroeder of Houston.

Mrs. Gerald Harris of Lubbock served as organist and Miss Betty Williams of Andrews was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a formal length sheath gown of lace and peau de soie fashioned with a Sabrina neckline, bracelet length sleeves and an empire bodice of re-embroidered Alencon lace. A bias fold encircled the bodice ending in a bow at the back waist. A column skirt of peau had a detachable chapel length train.

A caplette of peau petals accented with pearls held a tiered veil of imported silk illusion.

She carried a cluster of gardenias surrounded by Margarete daisies over a white Bible.

Mrs. Dean Mathis of Fort Worth was matron of honor and Mr. Willie Don Rogers of Snyder served as best man. Mrs. Mathis wore a street - length A-line dress of turquoise embossed silk. It was designed with cap sleeves and a scooped neckline. She carried a nosegay of Margarete daisies.

A reception was held in the church parlor.

After a wedding trip to points in Texas the couple will make their home at 2316 Eighteenth Street, Lubbock.

The bride is a 1963 graduate of Lubbock High School, attended Wayland Baptist College, and is a senior Home Economics Education major at Texas Tech.

The groom, a 1961 graduate of Snyder High School is a junior at Texas Tech and is employed by Shop-Rite Foods, Inc. of Lubbock.

Reader Becomes Dropout

GILES GOATBOY. By John Barth.

The general reader need only know that this 710-page volume is an experimental novel, so bizarrely intricate and prolix that it becomes very difficult reading.

In fact, it is the sort of involved stiple-talk that appears to professors of English, or at least to those professors who can find time to unravel such massive obscurities.

It seems to be a narrative in an unreal world. Human life is called a University, and is described in terms of other academic jargon and academic titles.

There is a West Campus that might be western civilization, and Siegfrieders and Nikolayans who could be Germans and Russians; and maybe New Tammany College is meant to be the United States. References to the Founder presumably mean God, and Commencement appears to be the transition from life to death.

There is a narrator called George, who starts out to be a goat but decides to be a man (in mythology, a goat-man is a satyr). George is not sure how he originated, but a computer may have had something to do with it. He seems to be struggling through the University of life in an effort to become a Grand Tutor.

This reader, quite frankly, bogged down without finishing the book. It was just too tedious.

An important flower tip: as soon as you receive cut flowers, immediately re-cut the stems diagonally and place them in very warm, deep water. They'll stay fresher much longer this way.

LIBRARY NOTES

Additional leisure time means more happy hours to the thousands of regular users of the Scurry County Library. They look forward to following exciting hobbies, rounding out their education, and reading for fun, pleasure and profit. Your library card is your passport to the wonderful world of books.

New books of interest are: "Thinking About Thinking" by Joan Wynn Reeves. This book will help to correct an unduly narrow approach to thinking as being merely problem - solving or merely a skill. Dr. Reeves has performed a valuable service in integrating, in lucid and highly readable fashion, historical, philosophical and literary contributions with the efforts of academic psychologists. She has shown, too, that psychology has a close kinship with the humanities as well as with natural science.

"Bed and Board" by Robert Farrar Capon. The author is an Episcopal priest, player of music, teacher of Greek, husband, father of six. With gusto and bite he snatches the subject of marriage away from the adjustment engineers and the whole army of today's statistical de-splendorizers.

"Nicolas Poussin" by Walter Friedlaender. Here is Poussin, the most profoundly French of French painters, although his life was spent in Italy: Poussin, whose paintings show the most severe classical style, but nonetheless burn with color and vitality; Poussin, the delectable storyteller and the moral philosopher. In these pages is no mere "appreciation", but a great scholar's vivid, immediate study of the variety to be seen in the work of a great painter. This book cannot fail to deepen our understanding, while our eyes rejoice in its beauties.

Others are: "Collected scientific papers of Paul A. Samuelson" which is in two volumes; "Wild Apples and North Wind" by Lorna Rees; "Biography of an Idea" by Edward L. Bernays and Birkenhead's "Life of Lord Halifax."

New fiction: "Last Gentleman by Walker Percy; "Landscape in Concrete" by Jakov Lind and "Last Poor Man" by Edward Hyams.

Fall library hours will be as follows: Bookmobile will go to Ira on Tuesday afternoon arriving approximately at 1:30 p.m.; Hermleigh on Wednesday morning arriving approximately 9:30 a.m. and Fluvanna on Thursday morning arriving approximately 9:45 a.m. Branch hours will be Monday, Tuesday and Thursday, 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. Scurry County Library hours will be 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday. On Tuesday and Thursday the hours will be 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Sunday hours will be 2 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Nearly 1,500,000 people in the United States, or one out of every fifty, work in hospitals. This makes hospitals the fourth largest employer in the country.

Fall Appetites Call For Hearty Foods

Whether it's corn husking time or not, boneless beef cubes in a hearty type of dinner will find a welcome place in fall and winter menus. With the arrival of brisk weather, appetites step up!

Cornhusker Dinner uses the same kind of beef that goes in stew. Potatoes, onions, carrots and celery stalks lend their flavors as well as the vegetables to round out this hearty main dish.

It's a good idea to measure the water for this recipe, points out meat authority, Reba Staggs, so the beef cubes are just covered with it. The gravy will be appealingly flavored.

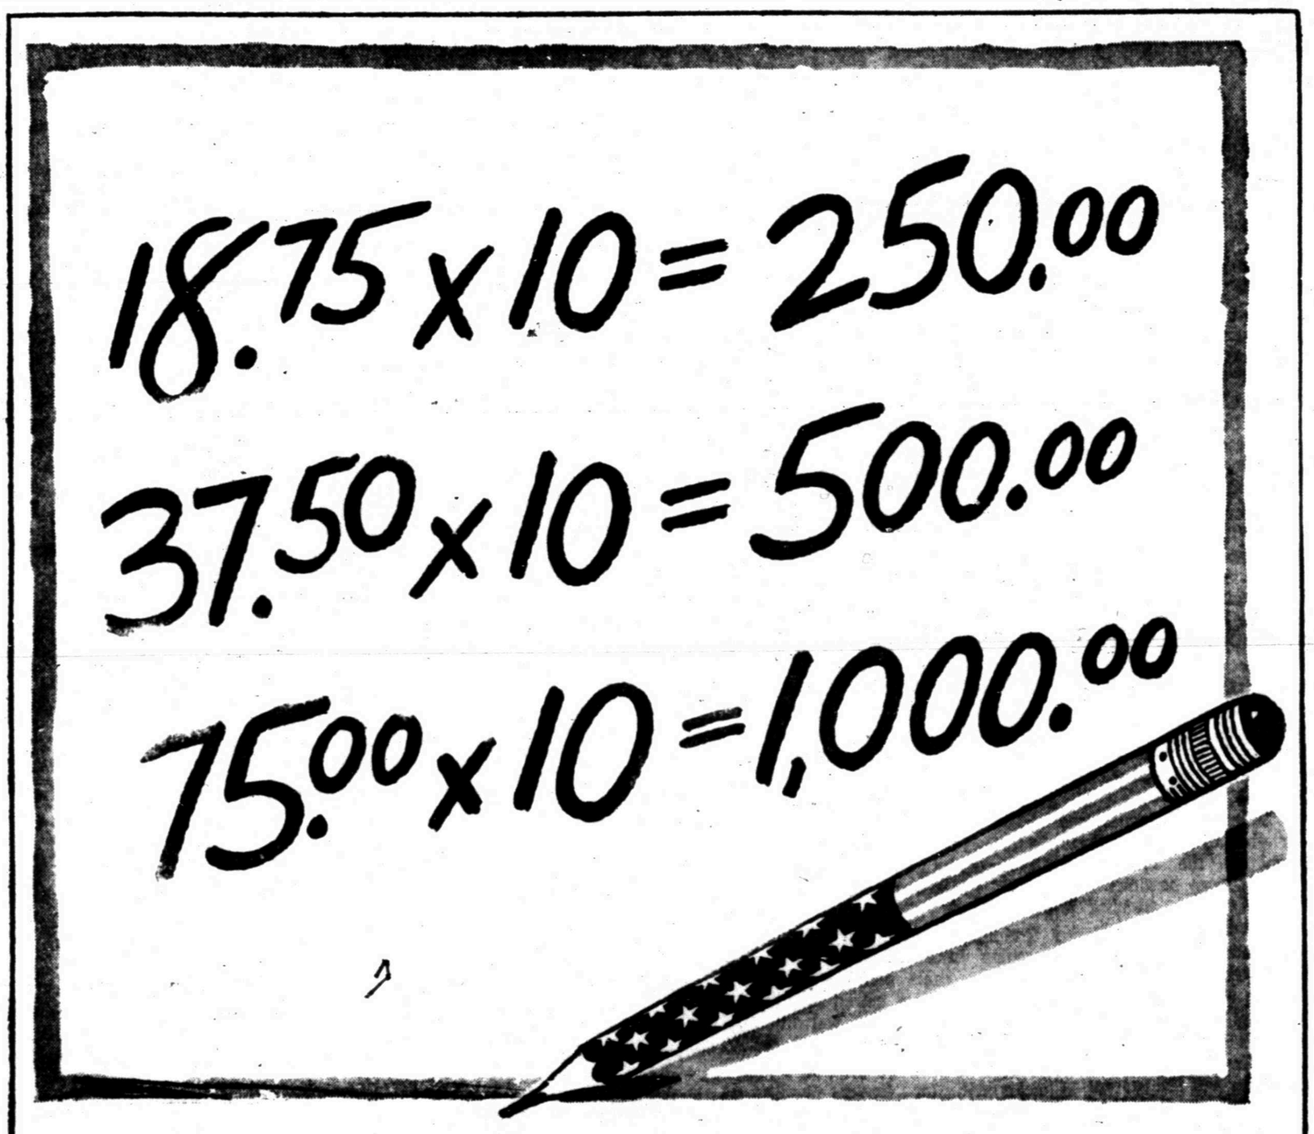

Cornhusker Dinner

2 pounds boneless beef for stew, cut in 1½-inch cubes
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 tablespoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 cups water
1 clove garlic
6 potatoes
3 onions
4 carrots, cut in strips
4 celery stalks, cut in strips
Flour for gravy, if desired.

Brown meat in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Season meat. Add water and garlic. Cover tightly and cook slowly 2 hours. Prepare vegetables. About 45 minutes before meat is tender, add potatoes, onions, carrots and celery. Cook until meat is tender and vegetables are done. Remove to heated platter. Thicken cooking liquid for gravy, if desired. 4 to 6 servings.

Modern math—Savings Bond Style

If you bought ten $25 U.S. Savings Bonds, you'd pay $187.50 . . . and get back $250 at maturity.

Whether you buy just one Bond—or a Bond every month on the Payroll Savings Plan—that $4 for $3 return is guaranteed by the U.S. Government.

And now, with the new 4.15% interest rate, E Bonds mature faster — in just 7 years! Your old Bonds will earn more, too. And they'll continue to grow for you, at the new interest rate, as long as you hold them. So now Savings Bonds are better to buy, and hold, than ever.

And buying Savings Bonds helps build your security another way, too—by helping build your country's security. Knowing you're doing your part to support our men in Vietnam is a star-spangled good feeling you can't measure with numbers.

Discover that feeling for yourself, today . . . while starting a solid financial foundation for your future. Ask about the convenient Payroll Savings Plan where you work—or buy Bonds regularly at your bank.

NOW—
Savings Bonds Pay 4.15%!

Interest on new E and H Bonds you purchase has been raised to 4.15% when held to maturity. E Bonds mature faster —now in just 7 years. Your old Bonds will earn more, too. Savings Bonds are better to buy, and hold, than ever.

Seagoville's Prison Tries Work Release Experiment

By J.W. DAVIS

SEAGOVILLE, Texas (AP) — Here is a federal prison where each inmate has his own room, and a key to it. Nobody calls it a cell.

If an inmate seems ready for it, he can work by day at a job in town, and spend his nights back in his room.

This is the Seagoville Federal Correction Institution, with a 20-year record of experimenting in how to change convicts into good citizens.

One of the latest experiments being tried here and at other federal prisons is the work-by-day and prison-by-night scheme.

It is paying off, penal authorities say. Most inmates with any chance at all to be chosen for it try hard to qualify.

The project, called Work Release, dates back to a message President Johnson sent Congress in March 1965.

The President declared: "We cannot tolerate an endless, self-defeating cycle of imprisonment, release and re-imprisonment, which fails to alter undesirable attitudes and behavior.

"We must find ways to help the first offender avoid a continuing career of crime."

Johnson's appeal was in line with the thinking of many federal and state prison officials: the old-fashioned prison, where men were penned behind bars for punishment, has been a failure. What is needed, these officials contend, is a system that rehabilitates and prepares prisoners for a change into worthwhile citizens.

Myri E. Alexander, director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons, sees enormous significance in the growing efforts to provide prisoners with programs of education, vocational training, counseling and guidance.

Alexander, looking ahead, said:

"It can be predicted that large, multipurpose prisons and reformatories will give way to smaller, special-purpose institutions where inmates who can be expected to benefit from the investment will participate in relatively short-term intensive programs of correction before moving out to the community, still under institutional control, and then to parole and release.

"The process will eliminate for many offenders the old dichotomy of being behind bars today and free in the community tomorrow."

Following President Johnson's 1965 message, Congress passed the Prisoner Rehabilitation Act.

It set up (1) the machinery for Work Release; (2) an arrangement to grant unescorted furloughs for prisoners under emergency circumstances such as a death in the family; and (3) authority to commit prisoners to community treatment centers that would try to prepare them for the problems they'll face after they finish their terms.

The Work Release program has attracted most interest. It is not truly new, having been tried long ago in Sweden, and to some extent in this country since 1913 when a Wisconsin law authorized sheriffs to permit jail prisoners to work on the outside.

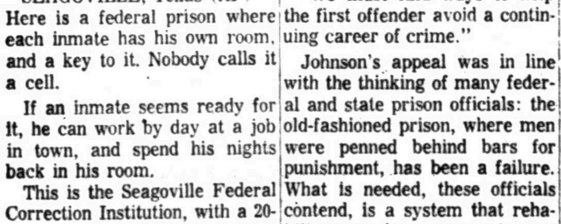

But its federal application is new, and it has now come under close study to see if it can be expanded. Right now, out of 21,000 federal prisoners, about 550 are on Work Release.

Here at Seagoville, out of about 450 inmates, 40 to 50 are on Work Release. The numbers vary as men finish their terms, or are paroled.

Warden Henry J. Davis explains that Seagoville has been an important testing area, because the nearby Dallas-Fort Worth area has been booming and all sorts of jobs are open. It is national policy not to place Work Release prisoners in areas of unemployment.

Work Release men come in all ages, and some have families. They work for the going wage and they can send money home, if needed, or save it for the day they'll go free. They pay their transportation expenses between prison and the job. They wear stree' clothes on the job.

Junior Editors Quiz on CATSUP

QUESTION: How did they ever get the name catsup?

• • •

ANSWER: Our picture shows something familiar riding in toward us on a magic carpet which is coming from the mysterious East. It's a bottle of catsup. Does this mean that bottles of catsup are made up in the East and shipped to the U.S.A.? Not at all. The picture symbolizes the fact that the idea of catsup—which is a blending of the pulp of tomatoes with mustard, vinegar, sugar, salt and spices from the East—originally came to us from the Orient. Now that this is clear, we can answer the question. The name comes from an Oriental word for the mixture, which sounds like "Kaychup". From this came our different ways of spelling and pronouncing the word. It may be catchup, or catsup, or katchup, or ketchup. Whichever word is used, it has nothing to do with cats supping, or some one catching up with someone else. You may wonder which of these words we consider the correct one. We can't answer that, it's a matter of taste—~~wish~~all four words tasting the same.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Choose your favorite of the four words. Then compare with the word as printed on an actual bottle of catsup (or ketchup). 9-3

Moscow Girl Of Today Is Trimmer

By FRED COLEMAN

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet idea of a beautiful girl once appeared to be much the same as the Soviet idea of a beautiful building — big and solid. But the Moscow girl of today is becoming slimmer and trimmer.

One man partly responsible for the change is a mild-looking, bespectacled scientist who despite his 49 years does handstands on an office chair.

He is Alexei A. Pokrovsky, an expert on diet and director of the institute of nourishment of the Soviet Academy of Medical Science.

On radio, in books, and through lectures to factory, school and other groups, Pokrovsky preaches proper diet and daily exercise. He says this is the way to better work, stronger health, longer life, and, for women, better beauty care.

He concedes that the Soviet people have an overweight problem — but he argues that the American people have a bigger one.

At the same time he is prepared to borrow American ideas to put his reducing program across — mass advertising and a Sovietized all-purpose wonder food for dieters called "Belip."

He is a man of strong opinions when it comes to health.

Among them:

"Sweets are the most dangerous, perfidious enemy of women.

"The air of our cities is terrible, the car is the most dangerous invention of our time. We do not exercise and we breathe lots of toxic substances.

"Diet is the urgent problem of our day. We have gotten used to too much food, especially high caloric food."

Pokrovsky speaks frankly about Soviet weight problems: "We have some very fat ladies and gentlemen. We like bread very much in our country."

But, he argues, "we have better conditions for the realization of good nutrition in our country than they do in the United States.

"Conditions are difficult in the United States because all companies advertise. It is very good advertising. All food products are new and different."

There is no advertising as such on Soviet radio and television, but Pokrovsky said it could work.

"Once on a radio program about diets I said, 'Drink tomato juice.' What happened? All the tomato juice in Moscow stores was sold out."

Pupils Philosophical About Nun's Flying

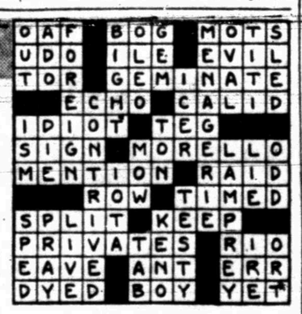

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Sister Rose Eileen, principal of St. Matthew's grade school, says her pupils are philosophical about her new status as a licensed airplane pilot.

"One little girl said, 'Well, I'd rather fly with Sister than drive with her,'" the nun said.

Double Ring Vows Unite Miss Cole Mr. Woodard In Marriage Here Tuesday

Miss Marjorie Ann Cole of Abilene became the bride of Mr. Rupert Wayne Woodard of Hawley in double ring ceremonies read in the Northside Baptist Church of Snyder on August 27th at 7:30 p.m. Dr. W. Harris, Bible professor at Hardin-Simmons University presided.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ray T. Cole, 303 Thirty - fourth Street, Snyder, and Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Woodard, Box 105, Hawley, Tex.

David Carter of Merkel lighted candles.

Rev. John Duke rendered traditional organ music and accompanied Milton Allred who sang "Wither Thou Goest", and "The Lord's Prayer".

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a floor length gown of brocade satin with long pointed sleeves accented with the traditional small satin buttons. The skirt fell in soft flowing pleats. The train was featured with the same soft pleats and was attached at the shoulders by simple crush bows of the same material. Her tiered illusion veil was attached to a pill box hat of the same material as the dress.

For something old she wore a quarter minted in the year of her bridegroom's birth, a six pence in the year of her birth and an old penny. Something new was her bridal costume, something borrowed, a small white pearl and the traditional blue garter.

Mary Jane Allred of Abilene was matron of honor, Belinda and Brenda Gaston of Midland, cousins of the bride, were flower girls. Bridesmaids were Carolyn Cole, sister of the bride and Charleen Day of Compton, Calif. They wore matching blue rayon crepe dresses with white lace yokes in sheath fashion, and carried long stemmed white carnations. Their shoes and gloves were of white with blue matching headpieces in bow design.

Ray Alan Cole, brother of the bride, served as ring bearer.

Lloyd Esters of Lubbock served as best man. Ushers and groomsmen were Eldon Woodard, brother of the groom and Bud Ryan, both of Hawley.

Pew bows of white, overlaid with silver ribbon marked the family pews. Two colonial style columns stood on either side of a brass candelabra with green ferns setting atop them. Soft lighting accented the marital scene. A satin kneeling pillow lay in front of the brass candelabras before the minister.

A reception was held in fellowship hall. The table laid with a white lace cloth over blue held a colonial style punch bowl and white cake decorated with blue roses, and topped with a miniature bridal couple.

Margarite Chapman registered guests.

Serving at the reception were Mrs. Maxie McNew of Snyder, Mrs. Beulah Chapman and daughter, Marguerite of Blackwell, and Mrs. Venita Gaston of Midland.

For her wedding trip to Six Flags, the bride chose a white lace dress over a mint green sheath, white gloves and shoes, and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will make their home at 1134 Mulberry, Abilene.

The bride is a 1963 graduate of Snyder High School, has attended Hardin - Simmons University for three years where she is majoring in medical technology. The groom is a 1961 graduate of Hawley High School, has attended HSU for three years majoring in math, business and secondary education. He is presently employed by U.S. Time, Inc.

Out of town guests were from Midland and Odessa.

Lemon Slices Add Tart Note To Veal Chops

Lemon slices baked on top of veal chops add a pleasantly piquant note to this delicate meat. At the same time, they give a "built-in" garnish!

This recipe calling for four veal chops is ideal for that small intimate luncheon you may be having for the committee on which you're active or for a group of friends returning from vacation.

Four chops will weigh one to one and one-half pounds. Those selected may be either loin or rib chops, advises meat expert, Reba Staggs.

Braised Veal Chops with Lemon

4 veal loin or rib chops, cut ¾-to 1-inch thick.
1 clove garlic (onion may be substituted)
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
2 tablespoons flour
⅛ teaspoon thyme, if desired
⅛ teaspoon cayenne pepper
4 lemon slices
1 bay leaf
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ cup water

Rub frying-pan with cut clove of garlic before melting lard or adding drippings in pan. Season flour with thyme and cayenne pepper. Dredge chops in seasoned flour and brown. Place a slice of lemon on each chop. Add bay leaf, Worchestershire sauce and ½ cup water. Cover tightly and cook slowly 1 hour or until done. 4 servings.

Fellowship Awards Are Made To 52 Women

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Fifty-two American women who hold a Ph.D. degree or who will [illegible] dissertation, and 52 women scholars from 31 other countries will undertake advanced research and study this fall under fellowships granted them by the Educational Foundation of the American Association of University Women.

The 104 American and International Fellowships awarded by the AAUW Foundation will amount to nearly $325,000 during 1966-67. The women scholars will use their stipends to work in colleges, universities, medical schools, laboratories, and libraries in this country and in Africa, Europe, India, and Mexico.

Three $5,000 International Fellowships in the natural sciences have been awarded to an American physical chemist, a Dutch biologist, and an Italian biochemist. Mrs. C. G. Malmberg of Brookville, Md., will continue research on molecular spectroscopy at the University of Maryland Chemistry Department, where she is currently a Fellow and expecting to receive her Ph. D.. Her husband is a physical chemist with the National Bureau of Standards and they have four children.

Dr. Marialuisa Melli of Milan, who has a medical degree, has been doing post-doctoral research on metabolic regulation of protein and nucleic acid synthesis at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory in Tennessee. She will use the AAUW $5000 fellowship to continue research in molecular biology at the University of Edinburgh. Dr. Marijke E. Holtrup of Leiden, Netherlands, a specialist in cell biology, will use the AAUW fellowship for research on the differentiation process in cells in endochondral bone formation at the Harvard Medical School.

Six Africans are among the International Fellowship recipients who will be studying in this country. One, a senior assistant producer with the Ghana TV Corporation, will begin studies in dramatic art at the University of North Carolina. A Nigerian received a full - year extension from the AAUW Foundation to enter her third year of medical training at the Northwestern Medical School in Chicago. The others will be earning advanced degrees in social work, applied anthropology, and education (teaching of English as a foreign language).

Competition for the AAUW fellowships was keen, according to Mrs. Neville T. Massa, Walnut Creek, Calif., Chairman of the AAUW Fellowships Program Committee. She supported her comment by pointing out that 317 American women applied for the American Fellowships, while 316 women from 55 other countries applied for the International Fellowships.

Women of the United States who receive AAUW fellowships must either have their Ph.D. degree or must have completed all requirements for it except the dissertation. International Fellowships are open to women of any country who have a bachelor's or higher degree and who intend to return to their own country upon completion of their study and research.

Funds for the awards are contributed yearly by AAUW branch members throughout the United States and are supplemented by income for the Fellowships Endowment Fund of nearly four million dollars.

The Texas Division of AAUW is proud of the following members who are studying abroad under this awards program.

Marna (Mrs. Frederick S.) Carney, Dallas, Texas, Doctoral candidate, Southern Methodist University; Economics, Oxford University, England.

Alessandra Comini, Dallas Texas, Doctoral candidate and Preceptor, Dept. of Art History and Archaeology, Columbia University; History of Art. Albertina Museum, Vienna, Austria.

Melodrama In Eastern Congo

PROMISE MORNING. By Charles Mercer.

The scene of this melodramatic novel is the eastern Congo. Its narrative tension is built around the bloody chaos of Congolese independence and a handful of whites seeking refuge from native torture.

The element of contrast lies between the twin sons of a Mabudu headman. Mato, feeling unjustly abused by a Belgian planter, turns renegade native. Kiba, choosing the white man's education and religion, becomes a friend and guide to the fleeing whites.

When primitive revolutionary terror strikes the white outposts, a small group waits too long for safe escape, and then flees eastward toward Uganda. There are the Belgian planter Jean, and Esther, widow of an American medical missionary — that makes the romantic element—Sister Rita, head of a convent station that had been overrun, a craven Portugese trader and his nearly black consort.

Mato is an accomplished villian. When he begins to torture this little group of whites, a rival band of Simbas takes over and makes all of them prisoners. But then Mato pulls a double cross and soon is leading a few Simbas on a chase after the escaping whites.

There is drama in the final flight, full of atmosphere, nervous fortitude and a climactic, man-to-man duel. But unfortunately the ending is rather contrived, and while the novel has a good story line, the characterizations aren't convincing enough to make it ring true.

Major producers of cacao beans (for chocolate) are Ghana, Nigeria, Brazil, Ivory Coast and Cameroon.

Stamps In The News

Rhodesia's Ministry of Posts announced the issuance of two new commemorative series. One marks the 28th Annual Congress of the Philatelic Society of Southern Africa held in Bulwayo. The second series honors the 20th anniversary of that country's national airline.

It is interesting to note that this is the first time that a special postage stamp has been issued in Rhodesia to mark a philatelic congress. The "Rhopex" stamps come in four values and designs. The 3 pence depicts the Zeederberg Coach which carried early mail in that area. The 9 pence shows a likeness of Sir Rowland Hill originator of the postal service system. The 1 shilling 6 pence illustrates the "Penny Black" first official postage stamp in the world. The 2 shillings 6 pence features British South Africa Company's 5 pound stamp, the first stamp in use there.

The air line aniversary stamps also come in a set of four. Depicted are various planes which have served the region — De - Havilland Dragon Rapide, Douglas DC 3, Vickers Viscount, present-day jets.

A Bonny Sequel

COME BACK, GEORDIE. By David Walker.

This engaging novel is a sequel to a stirring, popular novel of 1950, "Geordie," which concerned itself with a wee, puny lad in the Scottish Highlands, who with the inspiration of a girl named Jean built himself into the world's greatest shotputter.

Of course "Geordie" was far more than just a plot about a boy who made himself an athlete; it was a tale of touching human relations. And so is the sequel.

Now Geordie MacTaggart is in his 40's and is gamekeeper for his old mentor and friend, the Laird of Drumfechan. Geordie and his wife Jean have a teenage son, Charlie.

Here's the rub. Geordie is a model of rectitude and straightlaced rules, a strict parent if there ever was one. Charlie has a wayward streak and manages to get into a bit of trouble, from which the Laird extricates him. Meanwhile Charlie's rebellions attitude shakes up the bewildered father Geordie, who falls off the straight and narrow path.

There is a girl of Charlie's age, a very fat girl named Maggie Oliphant; and a feud arises when Charlie calls her Maggie Elephant.

But the Laird has some daft notions on how to bring about a change in the situation between father and son, and between Charlie and Maggie. One of his notions is to maneuver Charlie into running a race he isn't interested in. So will Charlie follow his father's pattern?

If you haven't read the earlier book, it doesn't matter. This story is complete in itself.

Walker always is a marvelous story - teller, and he's at his best in catching the spirit of the hardy individualists of the Highlands. A bonny story, this. And it's a pleasure to know that Walker, like his Geordie, is still with us.

Crispy Corn Toast

To put folks in a shining mood in the morning, nothing beats CRISPY CORN TOAST. The fixings for 6 servings of this crunchy toast can be readied so that each can cook his own; if breakfast in your house is run on a one-at-a-time basis. Here is how: The evening before, combine 1 cup corn meal or fine dry bread crumbs with ½ teaspoon salt and a pinch of ground cloves in a shallow dish. Cover and set aside. Into another shallow dish break 3 eggs and beat these together with a cup of evaporated milk. Cover and refrigerate. In the morning dip 12 enriched bread slices as you go—2 to each serving—then into the corn meal, coating both sides. Brown both sides on a hot greased griddle. Serve hot with maple syrup or honey.

Whenever you are in need of any drugs, health aids or sickroom supplies, always make it a point to turn to your pharmacist. Only here are you assured the friendly counsel that may be so essential in these selections.

The determining point in your mind should be just this: if the item belongs in your medicine cabinet, then be certain to buy it from a DRUG store.

And, of course, when you have prescriptions to be compounded you should bring them to this professional pharmacy, where prompt and precise attention is a specialty.
