

THE REAL REASON FOR THE FOURTH

This represents the real reason for the celebration of July Fourth—the independence of the United States. Tony Hurst, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Cal Hurst, was on hand when the flag at the Wellington Post Office was hauled down one evening recently. Tony will be a fifth grade student in the Wellington schools next year.

Spotted Rain, Hail Damage Over County

Spotted rain and hail in a small area Saturday night, June 24, damaged crops in several communities, gave other areas a good cotton shower, and left still other parts of the county without moisture.

Several farmers from one to three miles west of Wellington lost older cotton in a brief hail storm which fell during a heavy downpour of rain. Most of these had replanted this week, leaving as much of the crop as they thought would come out.

Mrs. Wilson Dies Here Early Tuesday

Mrs. Callie Wilson, 80, died in St. Joseph's Hospital at 10 a.m. Tuesday, June 27. She became seriously ill several weeks ago, but her condition had improved for a time.

Mrs. Wilson had lived here five years, coming from Petrolia.

Funeral services were conducted at 4 p.m. Wednesday at First Christian Church with Gilbert Forrest, minister, officiating. Following the service here, her body was taken overland to Vashti, where burial services will be held at the cemetery at 10 a.m. Thursday.

Pall bearers were Emil Kersten, Zook Thomas, Sandy Parsons Jr., John Carson, Joe Bartlett and Jack Sanford. Kelso Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Wilson was born in Clay county Dec. 22, 1880, the daughter of David and Martha Gerard Baker. She was married to Tom J. Wilson on Nov. 18, 1903. He preceded her in death in 1942.

Mrs. Wilson lived at Petrolia before coming here. She was an active member of the First Christian Church and had been a member since childhood.

Surviving are two sisters: Mrs. M. C. Cleveland of Wellington, and Mrs. W. D. Cleveland of Hollis. Two nieces also survive.

Label Memorials at Cemeteries

The wind and not vandals is responsible for the loss of permanent bouquets placed on graves in the Wellington cemeteries, Zook Thomas, president of the Cemetery Association, said.

"We have had several complaints from families who placed flowers on their lots then found they had disappeared a few days later," Thomas said. "What is happening is that these permanent type bouquets are blowing off the lots on which they were placed; they are not tagged, and when the caretaker finds them, he has no way of knowing where they belong."

Thomas suggested that each person who leaves flowers label them with the lot on which they should go. Then if they are blown off, they can be replaced.

New Election Called for July 15 on Thirty Cent Tax Levy

For the second time in two months, Collingsworth county voters will ballot on a 30¢ ad valorem tax to help finance county government.

The commissioners court has called the election for Saturday, July 15, and the proposition to be voted on is identical to that of the May 27 election: whether a farm-to-market road tax of not exceeding thirty cents (30¢) on the one hundred dollars valuation for the years 1961, 1962, 1963 and 1964 shall be issued. This measure was defeated May 27 by a vote of 471 to 343.

If the issue passes, it will be a continuation of the 30¢ ad valorem tax that has been collected for the past four years.

The election was called by the commissioners in a recent session that saw the presentation of several petitions requesting it, Judge C. C. Bishop said.

"When we saw that we would have the petitions, the commissioners court just called the election on its own," the judge said. "If we had used the petitions, all of them would have had to be checked to see if the signers were qualified voters, and that would have delayed the election."

Checking the names is a routine procedure on all petitions presented the commissioners court.

J. C. Emmert, commissioner from Precinct 3 introduced the order calling for the election and made the motion that it be called. Woodrow Wood, commissioner from Precinct 1 seconded the motion and the vote was unanimous.

If the measure is approved by a vote of the people, it will authorize the levy of a 30¢ tax against all property except the first $3,000 valuation on homesteads.

The petitions that were brought before the court said that the signers, appreciating good government and recognizing that the county must keep its present tax rate, asked the court to call the election to vote on the continuance of the present 30¢ tax for farm to market roads and flood control purposes for four more years.

The flood control item is not contained in the election order, since the uses of this tax are prescribed by law.

As the petitions were not used in calling the election, only one was filed with the county clerk and Judge Bishop said he did not know the number of names contained.

The 30¢ tax expired with 1960, however the commissioners court included revenue from it in working up the 1961 budget. It was then learned in an opinion from the attorney general's office that the tax could not be continued indefinitely, due to what was thought to be a technicality, and the May election was called to determine if the people of the county want it.

Boat Owners Reminded

Officer Urges Driving Care Over July Fourth

Police Chief Troy Marsh has warned Wellington drivers to use all caution possible over the July 4 holiday.

"I would say that the traffic on the highways in the immediate Wellington area will be at least doubled," he declared.

Care was urged in driving within the time, in view of the large number of minor accidents that have taken place on the city streets recently.

For many people this will be a long week end, as workers in some industries will get Monday as a holiday also. This, Marsh pointed out, is going to bring a larger than usual number of visitors home to visit families.

Marsh also had a word to boat owners who will be on the highway.

"Just remember, you have a lot more weight and it's going to take more time and more distance to stop your car in case of an emergency. You need greater clearance to pass another vehicle. We have been fortunate that no Wellington driver towing a boat has been involved in a highway accident so far. Let's try to keep it that way."

A Sales Tax; but What Kind?

A sales tax of some kind seems certain to come out of the special session of the Legislature which will convene on July 10. What kind of a sales tax is the important question.

One is the patchwork affair recommended by Governor Price Daniel which would tax practically everything but which by a bunch of gobbledook might escape the name of a sales tax. The other is a general sales tax as introduced in the regular session, which is a forthright tax and could be understood by all of us as we vote for more and more expenditures for the good things we want.

In his zeal to keep anything that sounds like a sales tax from passing, it seems to this newspaper that the Governor has refused to face realities at a time when the state faces the worst financial crises in history. His explanation of some of the tax bills he has advocated sounds like double talk to us.

We believe in taxing corporations, oil, gas and sulphur as much as the traffic will bear; but we also believe that a principle of equity and equality should be maintained in the assessment and collection of all taxes. And we believe that a general sales tax is as equitable as any although it, like every other tax, is distasteful.

Land owners in the northern part of Collingsworth County might well take note of one provision of one of the taxes suggested by the Governor. These royalty owners already pay a 7 percent tax on the gas taken from their land, and 7 percent would seem high if we had to pay it on clothing, food, hardware, or anything else. But under the Governor's bill these small royalty owners would have to pay up to 75 percent of any increase in the gas tax.

That is about how fair a lot of the provisions of the bill advocated by the Governor happen to be. It is time to write Rep. McIlhenny and Senator Rogers.

Safety, Sanity and the Fourth

It wasn't too many years ago when fireworks were a real problem in this country. Kids were losing fingers, hands and eyes during the supposedly happy days of their summer vacations.

Rallying under the battle cry, "Have a safe and sane Fourth of July," parents, educators, civic leaders and elective officials finally curbed the fireworks problem.

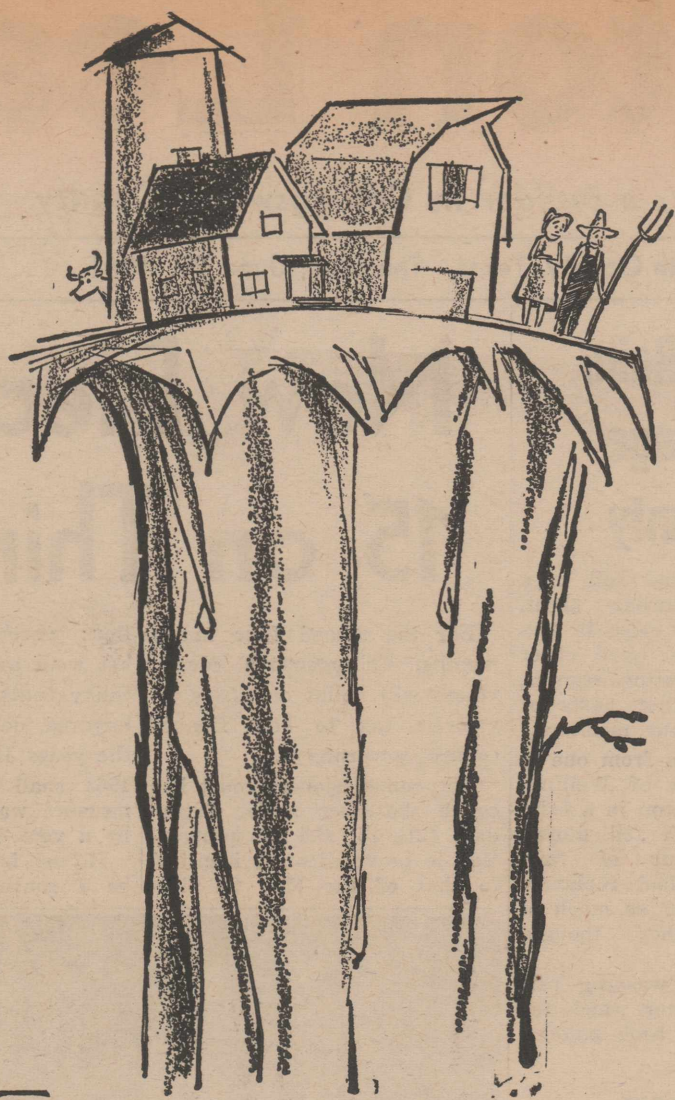

But the need for a safe and sane Fourth has not diminished. Motorists are literally driving themselves to death over the long Fourth of July weekends, and drownings have surpassed traffic deaths in some states as the leading cause of death over the holiday period.

The National Safety Council, pinpointing these two holiday accident problems, makes two suggestions which we think make a lot of sense.

One is pretty simple. Learn to swim. That means everybody learn to swim. Can you think of a better way to avoid drowning?

The second suggestion is to install and use seat belts. Seat belts may not prevent an auto accident, but they can be worth your life if you should have a collision.

Seat belts and swimming lessons — two very sane keys to Fourth of July safety.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

My labor-ducking neighbor says he figured the Machine Age had just about got mankind emancipated when it gave us the riding type lawn mower.

But says he guesses he won't ever be satisfied, and now he is looking for a model with air conditioned cab and power steering.

Says he is also waiting for the electronic brain makers to build one for the auto, so it will have as much sense as a horse, which drunk or cocky drivers hardly ever could manage to run head-on into another horse.

I note the Freedom Rider program is suffering some setbacks, as lots of places don't even show them the courtesy of getting up a mob.

Other inhospitable communities won't accommodate the Riders in their jails, and welcoming committees just stand there doing nothing.

My pity-taking neighbor says the humane society ought to take out after all cruel-natured folks who just sit and stare at the efforts of non-violent Freedom Riders and non-funny after-dinner speakers.

Citizen wishing to reform the government before the government gets people reformed bare, wants all U.S. congressmen paid by the States which elect them.

My franquil neighbor says he reckons maybe the theory here is that if our Washington mouthpieces got their wages direct from home, they might not have to polish so many Federal apples.

But says this plan wouldn't work, on account of a State paycheck just does not work as well as the Federal paycheck to anoint leaders with overbearing wisdom.

It says in a newspaper notice that the Federal Trade the officers who are infected with old 19th century prejudice against enemies.

It has just come to public notice, or at least I never heard of it before, that music is necessary to national defense on account of it is "a potent force in the area of technological competition."

This word comes from a former education commissioner who spent some National Defense Education money on students working to close the music gap between us and Russia.

My untuned neighbor says music probably does help protected his kids can't get their math homework without a record-player going full blast.

They also visited with their brothers, John Wolf, Henry Wolf and Bill Wolf and their families. Mrs. Wolf's other daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hall, of Pecos, will be here in July.

Barnes, the only one of the sons-in-law who has lived here, is now with the Department of Public Safety in Lubbock and gives the lie detector tests for that unit.

What's the Difference? They Look Alike

WHETHER it's girls or cigars, you can't be sure about their quality by appearance alone. Some that look very much alike may turn out altogether different in performance. Fortunately, at least insofar as cigars and most other items of an inanimate nature are concerned... we can determine quality in most cases before we buy.

By reliance on advertised and jealously guarded Brand Names, we can buy with confidence. A particular brand of shirt, for example, bought in the city is identical with the same brand and model of shirt we buy at home.

There is, however, one significant difference in a particular brand of shirt bought from a merchant neighbor, and the same shirt bought in some other city... a difference which lies in the fact that here the transaction is much more than a simple exchange of money for goods; it is also part of the system that supports our own individual social and economic interests.

Because, every single dollar we spend at home makes a little more secure our own jobs or businesses; and every dollar we spend elsewhere makes these a little less secure.

NEWS LETTER from Congressman WALTER ROGERS

SIR WALTER ROGERS—DESALINATION OF WATER

On June 21 the President of the United States pressed a button in Washington, D.C., that started the flow at Freeport, Texas, of fresh water produced from the sea. It heralded the completion of the first saline water conversion plant in a long-range government program designed to produce the answer to one of man's oldest problems. It is the hope of all of us that effective answers to this problem can be found at an early date.

However, we must recognize that the proper attack must be on a long-range basis. If we can find the solutions early, the research and development program can be terminated.

On the other hand, if the answers are not forthcoming quickly, we must not run the risk of wasting money on any short range, ineffective programs. Man lives by the theory of elimination. He moves step by step as he probes into the future. He can only discover by repeated attempts to gain the desired result. In other words, "if you don't succeed the first time, try, try again." It was this philosophy that the first flight of the Wright brothers blossomed into the jet airliners of today.

We know that the vast waters in the sea, as well as the brackish waters underlying the earth in many places, can be changed into life-giving fluid that can be utilized not only for human consumption, but for all other domestic and industrial needs of man. The question is, as to how this can be done so that it will be economically feasible.

Whether or not this can be done by perfecting present known methods or whether it will be done by new and unknown methods, is our responsibility. It must be accomplished and it can only be done by proper research and development.

It must be done, because this accomplishment during our generation would go down in history as the greatest single step ever taken by mankind to bring about universal peace.

I was honored to be present at the Freeport ceremonies, as the legislation making possible the research and development in this field was handled by a subcommittee of which I am chairman. It was indeed gratifying to see the physical results of what can be produced by a free nation with the government and private enterprise working hand in hand for the betterment of mankind.

The ceremonies were most impressive and were attended by the Vice President of the United States, Lyndon B. Johnson, whose long record in support of this program was written in the Senate; the Honorable Stewart L. Udall, secretary of the interior; several United States Senators and several members of the House of Representatives; Lieut. Gov. Ben Ramsey; and other state officials. Private enterprise was represented by leaders in the industrial and commercial fields of this country.

Let us hope that this occasion which took place in the State of Texas will constitute the beginning of man's conquest of one of his most dread enemies, "drought."

The Berlin Issue
The Berlin issue could turn out to be the number one issue in this decade. There is no doubt but that Khrushchev so considers it. Some feel that he would rather have the issue than a settlement. This, however, appears to be wishful thinking. The Berlin question has already been pushed by Khrushchev to the point that some settlement is expected by the other countries of the world.

Undoubtedly Khrushchev realizes this, because he has as much, or more, at stake than does this country. He also realizes that war is not and cannot be the answer to this dilemma.

It can probably be concluded also that he realizes the futility of war as a solution of problems, as compared to the additional problems created.

Our position must be firm and he must understand that we will not vacillate. Unless this position is maintained, our position in the eyes of the world and each area could be seriously jeopardized.

In passing, I would make the following observation: although the Germans have been our enemies twice in this century, it is difficult to visualize people of the German stock remaining complacent under a Russian boot heel.

Driving Care Over July 4

Gov. Price Daniel said today that "every Texas driver owes it to himself, his family, his passengers and his state to make certain that he is not involved in a traffic crash at any time, but more especially during the traffic-crowded 4th of July period."

The Texas Department of Public Safety said the official "Operation Deathwatch" during which all victims of violent or accidental death will be counted, will be observed from 12:01 a.m. to 11:59 p.m. Tuesday, July 4, making it a one-day holiday.

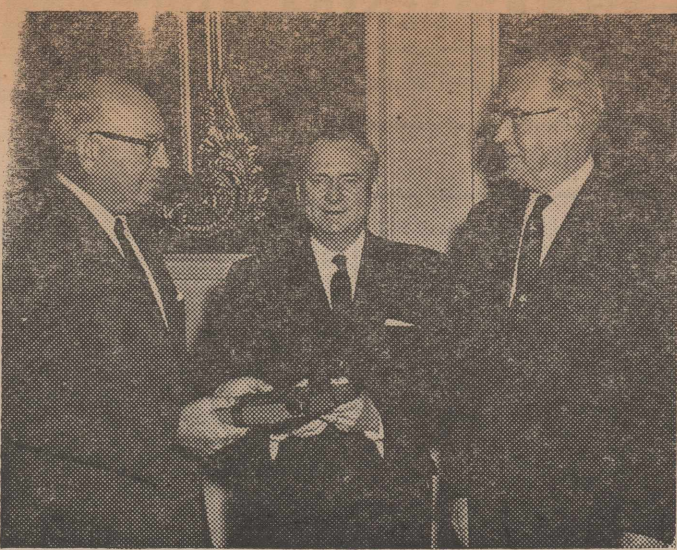

"But I feel fairly certain," the Governor added, "that the highways of Texas will carry an unusual amount of traffic also on July 1, 2 and 3, immediately preceding the national Independence Day observances. So again we appeal to all drivers to exercise unusual caution and to drive carefully and legally."

The governor said the average daily traffic toll in Texas was nearly seven a day in 1959 and just over six a day in 1960. In the light of records for the one-day Fourth of July holidays in 1956, when 12 were killed, and in 1957 when 15 were traffic victims, Governor Daniel added, "it is quite possible that the normal average could be doubled on the Fourth, and this we want to prevent."

The governor has asked all State and local law enforcement officials to "maintain a steady pressure, particularly on persons involved in speed too great for conditions, and driving while drinking, and against all drivers who either cannot or will not drive safely and legally."

In 1956, when the DPS predicted 11 traffic deaths, 12 persons died. In 1957, with a prediction of 10, deaths totaled 15. In the past nine years Fourth of July traffic deaths have been fewer than predicted only three times. Two of those better years, 1958 and 1960, followed strenuous statewide campaigns staged under the governor's sponsorship, in cooperation with State and local law enforcement agencies and civic groups.

Ralph Coburn took his son, Ralph Jr., to Austin last week where he enrolled for the summer semester at the University of Texas.

BOOSTING TRAVEL IN TEXAS

Governor Price Daniel accepts the first of a series of highway safety films from Ray H. Horton, left, vice president of Humble Oil & Refining Company. Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., right, appears briefly in each of the thirteen films, which were filmed on location throughout Texas. Called "Here's Texas!" the series deals with the pleasures of auto travel in the state and includes pointers on safe driving techniques. "Here's Texas!" will be circulated to television stations by officers of Colonel Garrison's department.

$50,000 Spent on Greenbelt Work to Date

The cities, state and federal governments have spent approximately $50,000 in the development of the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority to date, it was announced at a meeting of the directors recently at city hall in Childress.

The money has been spent over the past five and a half years and went for mapping, core drilling and water sampling.

Largest amount was for the mapping, which ran around $30,000 and was paid by state and federal governments.

Core drilling cost over $8,000 and sampling over $10,000.

Core drilling was paid by the federal government and sampling paid by cities.

"Sampling over the past five and a half years has proven that we will receive good water," Dr. S. H. Townsend, president of the Authority, said.

A preliminary feasibility report from the engineers indicates that the most recent site which has been core drilled will be suitable for a dam. Eight core tests were made. "Although the five and a half years we have been working on the Greenbelt project seems a long time, we have been told by the engineers that we have been progressing much more rapidly than is usual in such cases," Dr. Townsend told the group.

Dream of an adequate water supply from the area has been promoted many, many years by residents of Clarendon but no actual action was taken by other cities in the area until the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority came into being about five and a half years ago. It was voted into existence in August of 1957, less than four years ago.

loved by everyone who knew him.

Several ex-students of the Shamrock school enjoyed meeting old friends at the reunion this past week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Brown of Samnorwood and Mrs. W. M. Laycock visited in the Ed Brown home Sunday.

A full house saw the film on "Alaska" and heard John Coleman tell of his trip to Alaska when the film was made. Noreds Return from Alaska

Donald Nored, who formerly lived here, was in Wellington a short time Monday on business and to visit with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Nored, with their children, Cherry, Don, Tina and Len, returned about two weeks ago from North Pole, Alaska, and will live at their ranch at Seguin. Nored was a civilian electrical engineer with the Air Force at Fairbanks two years, and will do similar work at Randolph AFB in San Antonio in addition to his ranching.

When the family arrived at the ranch, they learned that his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Nored, who also live there, had built and completely furnished a new five-bedroom house for the Donald Nored family.

"They hadn't said a word about it and I was never so shocked," Donald Nored remarked.

Close Watch on Insect Buildup Urged

Insect infestation in the county is spotty, but farmers should keep a close watch on cotton beginning to fruit up, County Agent Bob Lynch reported Monday, June 26.

Some fields in all communities show infestation, other fields do not.

There is a definite build up in the flea hopper population and some growers are already spraying, Lynch said.

A. V. Lowrie of Dodson reported a few boll weevils that wintered over in the county, and a similar report came in from Oral Bishop, two miles north of Wellington.

"We have seen a few boll worm eggs, and if you find them in your cotton, keep close watch. If boll worms ever go to work, they are hard to control," the county agent warned.

Rev. O. C. Evans, Retired Minister, Dies at Shamrock

The Rev. O. C. Evans, retired Methodist minister who taught at Dodson before he entered the ministry, died at his home in Shamrock Saturday, June 17. He was 72 years old, and his death was due to a heart attack.

The Rev. Mr. Evans for several years was pastor of the Shamrock Methodist Circuit, which included the Glen Davis Memorial Church at Dozier. He retired only a year ago. He was a brother-in-law of Farris Cornelius.

Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, June 20, in the First Methodist Church in Shamrock with the Rev. C. B. Melton, pastor, officiating, assisted by Dr. E. D. Landreth, pastor of the First Methodist Church at Lamesa, and Dr. H. H. Bratcher, pastor of First Methodist Church in Pampa. Burial was at Shamrock.

Oliver Clifton Evans was born August 13, 1888, near Elaja, Wilmer county, Ga. On April 10, 1913 at the home of the bride's parents, he was married to Miss Earl Jane Cornelius.

They moved to Dodsonville from Hall county in 1916 and he taught school in Collingsworth and Wheeler counties until 1946. During most of that time he also served as lay minister. He joined the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference 20 years ago.

The Rev. Mr. Evans had made his home in Shamrock for the past five years.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Earl Jane Evans, of the home; two sons, Eldred W. Evans of Dallas, and Gene C. Evans of Phillips; four daughters, Mrs. Pauline Hefley and Mrs. LaVerne Fillingim, both of Briscoe; Mrs. Valoise Wilhelm and Mrs. Mary Putnam, both of Dallas; 11 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren; four sisters, and two brothers.

The Rev. Mr. Evans had been a member of the Methodist Church since young manhood and was a minister of that faith most of his adult life.

This is the first time this award has been presented and was given to WTU for its assistance and outstanding service to 4-H clubs in the service area during the past few years.

Vinson Goes Dry July 1

Vinson will be bone dry after July 1, and if thirsty citizens want liquid refreshment, they'll have to journey to Hollis or Mangum.

The beer and liquor drouth loomed when Ersie Francis withdrew application for beer license renewal, and N. H. Hobbs did likewise on renewal of his package store license.

The move came after a prolonged hearing before Judge C. H. Madden Tuesday when 25 Vinson residents testified in the day-long session. Vinson people protested renewal of the licenses on grounds that the establishments were public nuisances. The Vinson superintendent of schools, postmaster, and others testified as to noise and misuse of the premises, in regard to the Francis cafe and beer tavern.

The action ends a long-time effort on the part of Vinson citizens to remove what they termed nuisances. Located on a Texas-Oklahoma highway, the tavern has attracted out-of-state customers and the town is without police protection. It does, however, have services of law enforcement officers if complaints are filed.—From the Hollis Weekly News.

Four-H Club Camp Set for August 7, 8

The Collingsworth county 4-H Club council has set the dates of the annual summer camp for Monday and Tuesday, August 7 and 8, Miss Kathryn Potter, home demonstration agent, announced.

A group of educational speakers will be featured at this year's camp, but there will be periods of recreation and outdoor games also, along with work on 4-H Club highway signs.

Named as the committees to complete plans for the camp were Dean Johnson, Neal Lowry, Don Amerson, Gary Killian, Joyce Alexander, Nancy Alexander, Sherry Kindrick, Diane Moseley and Alcie Holliman.

The Council also voted to set up two booths at the State Line Free Fair in Shamrock, one on civil defense and the other on safety.

The group also voted to collect old newspapers outside of Wellington as a fund raising project, and those with papers to give are asked to contact a 4-H member. The group will not collect in Wellington, Miss Potter said, as this is covered by another group.

Udall Gives Status of Mangum Dam

The following letter from Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall to Congressman Victor Wickersham gives the current status of studies on the proposed dam across the Salt Fork near Mangum, sought by Oklahoma interests. Wickersham had requested information on the dam from President Kennedy.

Dear Vic:
The President asked me to reply to your May 25 letter in which you pointed out your interest in the Mangum Project of the Bureau of Reclamation.

Detailed feasibility studies are now under way on the engineering, hydrologic and economic aspects of a plan of development for the project. The Regional Director's report on the project is scheduled for completion during the latter part of the fiscal year 1963. Subsequent review and processing of the report, as required by law and inter-agency agreement, will require additional time before it can be transmitted to the Congress for consideration.

In addition, the Congress has granted consent to the States of Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas to negotiate and enter into an interstate compact for distribution of the waters of the Red River. It is our understanding that these negotiations are under way but that criteria for apportioning the water have not been devised. Until such compact is negotiated, the amount of water available for use on the Mangum Project cannot be determined.

Until the interstate compact apportioning the waters of the Red River is negotiated by the States and approved by the Congress, and the Department's report on a plan of development is completed, we are unable to recommend favorable action with respect to authorization of construction of the Mangum Project.

We will continue to keep you informed on the progress of this potential project.
Stewart L. Udall,
Secretary of the Interior.

Mr. Portman, who with his partner, Don Jenkins, also well known here, had vast investments in Texas, Oklahoma, Florida, Wisconsin and Arkansas. Their oil and gas interests in the area date back to 1941, and they had two wells in the process of being drilled here at the time of Mr. Portman's death.

—By Deskins Wells

Notice anything different about your paper this week? Answer at bottom of this column.

Not all farm organizations are opposed to the omnibus farm bill of Sec'y Freeman as are the Farm Bureau, the Poultry Raisers Association, The Cattlemen's Association, etc. Commissioner of Agriculture John C. White has turned over to Freeman proxies from the Farmers Union, the Texas Grange, Sesame Growers, etc. Even though the Farm Bureau has more members than all of these put together you can depend on it that Freeman will make the most of the proxies handed to him. Better start writing to Congressmen Walter Rogers direct. A few letters in pen or pencil by actual farmers will have more weight than any editorial.

Fred Bourland: "What I think of the omnibus farm bill is not fit to put in print."

I did not vote for John C. White the last time he had an opponent although I knew nothing of the man who was running against him. I was like the man who was arrested for stealing. The judge asked him if he had an attorney and he said no. The judge informed him that was all right since there were two attorneys in the courthouse and he would appoint one to defend him. "There is one of them sitting over there by the wall, and the other is out in the hall. You can have either one." The defendant looked long and earnestly at the lawyer sitting by the wall and finally turned and said: "Your Honor, I believe I will take the one out in the hall."

Election year is not far off. Maybe we will get another whack at Mr. White. He will be hard to beat. He is pretty well entrenched with union labor leaders and other left wingers even if his duty is to represent the farmers and stockmen, who in the main are conservative.

The Saturday rain was fine for farmers who had gathered their bumper wheat crop and for others who had cotton and maize up to a good size. But it brought disaster to many who had very young crops. The area from Crossroads to Quail was wiped out. George Henry says that Greenbelt had the worst electrical storm hit their lines in the Clarendon area they have ever experienced.

L. F. Henry, a relative from Carthage, Miss., was here visiting this week. He is a cattle, poultry and pine tree raiser. He has not raised cotton in years, which he says is a good thing for us out here on the plains. He made some mention of shipping broilers to California, and I wanted to know how they could haul that far and still compete with the thousands and thousands of broiler plants on the coast. He said that after the Californians had hauled maize from the Panhandle or corn from Iowa it cost them 23¢ a pound to produce broilers. Due to our favorable climate we raise broilers for 15¢ a pound. It costs 20¢ a pound to produce them in Missouri where it is colder, and 25¢ a pound to grow them in Maine.

This has been the coolest June on record. On the afternoon of June 15 it was 60 degrees and the day was dark and damp. On this same day it was 111 degrees in Bakersfield, Calif., and my daughter tells me that it went to 113 one day that week. Donald Nored, who recently returned from Alaska, has figures to show that it was warmer in Fairbanks that week than it was in Wellington. This is hard to believe but from June 7 through June 21 our low night time temperatures were in the 60's with the highest being 69 and the lowest 60.

More average temperature for June would be over 100 degrees with a hot wind blowing from the southwest. Along about 1914 or 15 we had a fine crop of corn coming along and it was somewhere between waist and shoulder high. A tremendous rain fell. Two days later water was still standing in the furrows in spots when the hot southwest winds started. The corn began to wilt the first afternoon and by the third day it was dead. The field was plowed up and planted in crooked neck maize which made a good yield.

The size of the paper has been increased one inch in length. We have been experimenting with various formats for the past year. Now we believe we have decided on the size that will be most attractive to the eye of the reader.

Quail Little Leaguers Win Two Games

Quail's Little Leaguers picked up two victories over the week end at the expense of Wellington teams. They defeated Leeper's team on Saturday, June 24 by a score of 15 to 3.

Douglas Cole was the winning pitcher and John Albert Barjenbruch was the losing pitcher. Jones relieved Barjenbruch in the bottom of the third, while Cole had relieved Earl Lynn Feemster, starting pitcher for Quail, in the top of the third.

Paul Gollighugh and Mickey Finley scored home runs for Quail.

Quail made 15 runs on 15 hits, and got 10 bases on balls. There were three errors. Wellington made three runs on four hits and got four bases on balls. There were eight errors.

Billie Merle Wilson coaches the Quail team and the Rev.

Verrell Leeper coaches the Wellington boys.

On Sunday Quail defeated Dick Pendleton's team 39 to 5. Earl Lynn Feemster was the winning pitcher and Franklin was the losing pitcher.

Quail got 39 runs on 34 hits and 16 bases on balls, while Wellington made 5 runs on 6 hits and 4 bases on balls. Quail picked up two errors and Wellington eight.

Don Morris made the only home run without errors.

Quail players were John Blevins, Garland Boyce, Paul Gollighugh, Don Morris, Stanley Gossnell, Guy Bell, Carey Don Neeley, Mickel Finley, Earl Lynn Feemster, Robert Blevins, Walter McGill and Jerry Haralson.

In the installation here, Robert Baumgardner was the installing officer and Forrest Baumgardner was the installing marshal.

Rain

The same night was reported in the Quail area. Rain in that section varied from one to two inches, with 1.7 inches measured at Quail. There will be quite a bit of replanting young feed and cotton.

The rain gauge at the Highway Department in Wellington measured .66 inch for Friday night and Saturday night, with .56 falling on the latter. Rain was heavier at the west side of town, however, with some unofficial rain gauges showing as much as 1.10 inches.

Dodson received 1.1 inches with no hail. Neither was there any damage from washing rain.

Rain was lighter north of Salt Fork River. Samnorwood reported one-half inch in several showers during the week end. Neither community received crop damage.

Funeral Here Wednesday for Former Resident

Mrs. E. M. Clement of Crandall, a former Wellington resident, died at Terrell Monday morning, June 26. She was 76 years of age.

Mrs. Clement came here with her family in 1917, and made this her home until a few years ago.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 p.m. Wednesday at First Baptist Church, with the Rev. Glenn Hickey, pastor, and the Rev. E. W. North of Lela officiating. Burial was in the family plot in West Wellington Cemetery, under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Mrs. Clement was born at Windom on August 1, 1884 and grew up there. She and Mr. Clement were married on February 8, 1909 at Windom. He preceded her in death on July 5, 1958.

A member of the Baptist Church since she was 9 years old, Mrs. Clement took an active part in its work for many years.

Surviving Mrs. Clement are four daughters and two sons. Mrs. A. R. Fowler of Crane; Mrs. Ray Phyl of Borger; Mrs. Dick Spiegel of Fort Worth; Mrs. Paul Newman of Crandall; Milton Clement of Dallas, and Carl Clement of Jal, N.M. There are 15 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Telephone Co. Office Moved to Memphis

Effective July 1, Wellington and Dodson telephone accounts are being transferred to the Memphis business office and the Wellington business office located at 1001 West Ave. will be closed. R. L. Brewer, district manager for General Telephone Company of the Southwest, announced that the change was necessary due to the rising cost of operations.

Brewer stated that, in an effort to economize, a number of larger companies are finding it necessary to centralize collections of accounts. For customers' convenience, in making payments by mail a business reply envelope that requires no postage, will be enclosed with the telephone bill each month. Brewer stated that as an added convenience arrangements have been made for the Wellington State Bank to accept payment for telephone bills.

Wellington customers desiring information concerning their bills or for ordering additional services, should dial "Operator" and ask for "Enterprise 372." Dodson customers should continue to follow instructions in the current directory for Dodson and inquiries will be directed to the Memphis business office.

Brewer also announced that Mrs. Gertrude Stall, local business office employee, is transferring to the Memphis business office and will continue to handle Wellington and Dodson accounts. Two offices are being closed in this move, Wellington and Clarendon. Company officials estimated that approximately $3,500 will be saved each year for both offices by centralizing collections on a district-wide basis. The saving for the Wellington office alone was not available.

In the past, telephone customers in Wheeler, Miami, Moebette and Dodson have mailed their monthly payments to the Wellington office. In the future, these will go to Memphis. The plant personnel here will remain, including T. H. Franklin, combination man, and Billy Ray Ford, installer-repairman. Mrs. Gordon Peters, who has headed the office personnel here for several years, is terminating her service with the company and will devote her time to her family.

These lightning rods may not be as fancy as those of grandpa's day, but they serve the same purpose of property protection and fire prevention. Their installation could save you a great deal of money by preventing lightning damage, Allen concludes.

Get Fishing License for Out of County Sport

Vacation season is at hand. Many persons will be going fishing. A $2.15 license is required of all persons between 17 and 65, fishing outside their home counties, in salt or fresh waters.

Mrs. William K. Payne, Nancy Kay and Michael of Vienna, Va., are visiting here this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Wilkins. Mr. Payne is on a business trip to California and Mrs. Payne will pick him up in Amarillo Thursday and they will go to Dalhart to visit his parents before returning to Virginia.

VEHICLE SAFETY CHECK—National voluntary safety check programs are under way in 32 states where there is no compulsory inspection. First through check lane and setting example in Minnesota was Gov. Elmer L. Anderson, right. Harry A. Sieben, former State Safety Director and new U.S. Marshal, is seen testing governor's windshield wiper arms for adequate pressure, one of 10 vital points to be checked in May and June. 18 states require periodic inspection and most others have legislation pending for it.

Precautions Save Life, Property During Storm

Violent windstorms each year cause untold damage and loss of life which often can be avoided if a few precautions are taken. Here is how to protect yourself, your family and your property.

Buy insurance and pray. Tornadoes, most destructive of all storms, may appear with little warning. Fast action is necessary to escape their fury.

Safest place to be during a tornado is underground in a storm cellar. Next best is in a reinforced concrete or steel framed building, near an outside wall away from all windows.

At home, if no storm cellar is near, a corner of the basement nearest the approaching tornado is safest, particularly in wood frame houses. If in a basementless house, seek shelter elsewhere—even an open ditch offers some protection.

Avoid auditoriums, gymnasiums, other buildings having large area roofs relatively lightly anchored. They may collapse.

In open country move at right angles to the tornado's path. Most tornadoes travel at 25 to 40 miles an hour. A person in an automobile can be usually outrun one. If there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest ditch, ravine, or other depression. Don't stay in the automobile which may be rolled over and crushed.

Lighting Rods Still Essential

College Station.—A metal-covered building without adequate grounding is not protected against lightning. W. S. Allen, extension agricultural engineer, says that proper grounding of such buildings, especially metal roofed structures, will prevent many fires. Lightning protection is very inexpensive and easy to provide, Allen continues. All buildings with metal roofs or sides can be protected by grounding the roof at all four corners. This can be done by flattening the end of a piece of ½ or ¾ inch galvanized iron or steel pipe and bending it so that it may be attached by bolts to the drip edge of the roof. For support, galvanized steel screw hooks should be placed on the side of the building and bent shut over the pipe.

After the pipe has been firmly attached to the roof, it may then be attached by galvanized wire rope clamps to a ½ or ¾ inch pipe driven 8 to 10 feet into the ground. This ground pipe should be placed as close as possible to the building's foundation, Allen explains.

These lightning rods may not be as fancy as those of grandpa's day, but they serve the same purpose of property protection and fire prevention. Their installation could save you a great deal of money by preventing lightning damage, Allen concludes.

In 1960 there were only 13 days with 15 or more motorcades in Texas, as compared with 23 such days in 1959.

Dr. and Mrs. Horsman came Friday and returned Beth and Barbara home.

McBride Improved from Surgery

W. E. McBride, who has been under treatment in Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo for the past several weeks underwent surgery June 15 and is some improved but is not yet able to be up, Mrs. McBride said here Monday. Gene McBride, who is educational director of the First Baptist Church at Edmond, Okla.; met his mother here Monday and returned to Amarillo with her for a visit with his father.

Texas Worst Crash of 1960 Kills 9

The worst fatal crash of 1960 in Texas occurred July 28 in Ector county when nine persons were killed in an angle collision between a truck and a passenger car. All nine motorcades were in the passenger car and the only survivor, other than the truck driver, was an 18-months-old child.
