Yanks On Guinea Battling Way Toward Wewak, Where Beaten Japs Concentrating

Americans Move South From Captured Aitape To Clean Out Entrapped Nips

By ASAHEL BUSH
Associated Press Staff Writer

ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, Thursday, May 18.—American forces moving out of invaded Aitape back toward bypassed Wewak on the northeast New Guinea coast encountered a Japanese force five days ago and the resultant battle still may be in progress, a headquarters spokesman said today.

The engagement presently is a series of patrol clashes but in the 200 miles between Aitape and Australian forces in the Madang area there are estimated to be several thousand Japanese, believed concentrated at Wewak.

34 Miles Below Aitape

Today's communique reported that the Japanese were encountered 34 miles to the southeast of Aitape. That is roughly midway between Aitape village and the But airdrome, westernmost of the chain of airdromes at Wewak.

The shoreline in that area is hardly more than a narrow coastal corridor sharply confined between the sea and a mountain range rising abruptly to 4,500 feet.

After the enemy patrols were engaged, Allied attack and fighter planes attacked enemy positions and small coastal shipping in the Aitape vicinity, possibly in support of the land action.

Wadke Rounded Again

Wakde, the next New Guinea step beyond Hollandia on the way to the Philippines underwent its fourth straight day of stiff aerial blasting Tuesday and the continuous series of raids on the Schoutens, 250 miles northwest of Hollandia, were carried into their 13th straight day.

At Noemfoor island, three Japanese planes were shot down.

Headquarters also disclosed that on Bougainville island in the northern Solomons 250 dead Japanese were found abandoned in a hospital in the Empress Augusta bay area.

Japs Are Cut Off

The abandoned hospital was discovered at Torokina northeast of the American perimeter at Empress Augusta, on Bougainville's west central coast. Japanese garrisons on Bougainville, although occupying the bulk of the island, are cut off from a reliable supply route to Rabaul by Allied forces on the Green islands to the north.

Japs In Burma In Tough Spot

But Nips Develop Trap For Chinese

By RAY CRONIN
Associated Press Pacific War Editor

With American-trained Chinese forces driving forward on three North Burma fronts yesterday, the Japanese armies in that war theater found themselves in a spot that was getting tougher every minute.

On the eve of the monsoon rains the Nippons were being pushed back by hard fighting Chinese who were heavily supported by American air forces.

Picture In China Dark

The picture on the other extremity of the Asiatic war zone was anything but bright from the Allied viewpoint. In the bloody Honan sector of China, Japanese vanguards appeared to be developing an entrapment loop for the Chinese forces battling fuirously at Loyang. However, the Chinese strengthened their hold on a section of the north-south Peiping-Hankow railway to the rear of the sector where the invaders appeared to be forming their trap.

Optimism prevailed at Allied Southeast Asia headquarters where a spokesman declared approach of the monsoon found the Japanese on the defensive generally in the Indo-Burma region.

Two of Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's Chinese columns continued their smashes toward the enemy base at Kamaing. One was nine miles to the northeast; another 15 miles northwest. The Chinese cut a main road leading to Kamaing as the Japanese battled "stubbornly."

Offensive Pressed

The Chinese offensive from the Salween river area of Yunnan province, coordinated with the Stilwell drives, was pressed through mountainous terrain. At one point the Japanese were reported to be resisting fiercely but the Chinese command said they were being encircled. Chungking announced capture of several additional towns.

The drive from the Salween, undertaken by 20,000 Chinese accompanied by American tactical advisers, was designed to give China a land life-line from India. The Chinese were about 75 miles from the Burma border and an equal distance from Stilwell's armies.

Air Force Supreme

The American air force held supremacy as it pounded the Japanese in northern Burma and in the Salween zone.

A dispatch from the front by Thoburn Wiant, reviewing the fighting, said Allied prospects "for reoccupation of northern Burma seem brighter than ever."

In the Imphal-Kohima sector on the Indian border the situation was relatively quiet as Allied troops mopped up.

The Chinese command reported the sweeping Japanese advance in the Honan area. The loop-trap the invaders apparently were fashioning was 125 miles west of the Peiping-Hankow railway and 40 miles south of the Lunghai railway. Bitter fighting continued in and near Loyang with the Chinese holding the city.

A Chinese government spokesman, reviewing developments in the north, said "the battle of Honan is not lost."

Probe Of Campaign Expenditures Asked

WASHINGTON, May 17. (AP)—A congressional investigation of campaign expenditures in current elections was proposed today in the House by Rep. Howard Smith (D-Va), who said the action was aimed at activities of the CIO political action committee.

Smith, a frequent critic of CIO activities, suggested Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) name a five man investigating committee to report, among other things, on "the amounts, if any, contributed by any corporation or labor organization . . . and the amounts received by any political committee from any corporation or labor union."

Baptists Elect Neff President

Catholics Charged With Interference

ATLANTA, May 17. (AP)—The Southern Baptist convention today unanimously re-elected as president for a third term Pat M. Neff, president of Baylor university and former governor of Texas.

Dt. Louie D. Newton, pastor of Atlanta's Druid Hills Baptist church who had been mentioned as Neff's possible successor, was unanimously elected first vice president.

Dr. W. H. Williams, pastor of Pritchard Memorial Baptist church, Charlotte, N. C., was unanimously named second vice president, Dr. Hight C. Moore of Ridgecrest, N. C., senior secretary for his 30th year, and J. Henry Burnett, Hendersonville, N. C., assistant secretary for his 26th year.

Catholics Criticized

During the second day of the meeting, the 3,000 messengers representing 5,500,000 Baptists, criticized the American branch of the Roman Catholic church in a unanimously adopted resolution stating Catholic officials had sought to interfere with Protestant missionary activity in South America.

They also voted to set up a Southern Baptist foundation, legally empowered to handle, under Tennessee state laws, endowment and other funds for Baptist enterprises. It will be operated by a committee separate from the convention's executive committee and will not affect funds held or received by state or local bodies. The foundation already has $200,000.

Postwar Fund Defeated

The convention voted down a suggestion that the executive committee build up a large postwar fund, estimated as high as $4,000,000, to prevent the now debt-free convention from again becoming financially burdened.

The resolution criticizing American Catholic officials was presented by Everett Gill, jr., of Richmond, Va., secretary of the foreign mission board for Latin America, stating "We view with deepest regret and growing alarm the persistent campaign of the official circles of the Roman Catholic church in the United States to rid Latin America of Protestant missionaries."

The convention reported it had sent kits valued at nearly half million dollars to Russia.

FDR Signs Bill For Lend-Lease

WASHINGTON, May 17. (AP)—President Roosevelt today signed the third extension of the lend-lease act and hailed the program as the symbol of Allied unity which will hasten the day of victory.

"Through lend-lease and reverse lend-lease," the President said in a statement accompanying his approval, "the material resources and supplies of the United Nations have been pooled for their most effective use against our common enemies. . . ."

The legislation signed into law extends the life of the vast program until June 30, 1945.

The lend-lease administration said in its last report the actual total of lend-lease operations was $21,000,000,000 (billions) through Jan. 31.

Vast Increase Shown

"In April, 1941, the first full month of the lend-lease program, we furnished aid valued at $28,000,000. In the month of March, 1944, the lend-lease aid supplied amounted to $1,629,554,000 — almost as much as the aid rendered during the entire first year of lend-lease operation.

The new act prohibits the President from using lend-lease authority to obligate the United States in any post-war military or economic way without first obtaining consent of Congress.

The idea of this provision, according to its sponsors, is to prevent a situation whereby the executive branch could accept a base, or give away one, in connection with lend-lease settlements, which might lead to international complications.

Body Of Wealthy Student Is Found

YONKERS, N. Y., May 17. (AP)—The body of Miss Valsa Matthai, of Bombay, India, wealthy Columbia university student missing since March 20, was recovered here tonight from the Hudson river.

Acting Police Capt. John J. Cronin of the New York City police missing persons bureau said identification was established through a serial number on a wrist watch found on the body.

A mole on the face and the clothing also corresponded with that of Miss Matthai, he said.

An official report on the cause of the 22-year-old girl's death awaited the arrival of a medical examiner. The body was found by Lawrence Bierstow, an employe of the Ludlow marine basin, while he was piloting a small boat near the middle of the river.

He and Frank Hennessey, a coast guardsman, towed the body into the basin. It was removed to a Yonkers funeral home.

British Premiers Map Plan For Postwar Organization

LONDON, May 17. (AP) — Prime ministers of the British commonwealth of nations called today for a postwar world organization —possibly similar to the league of nations—but armed this time with power "to prevent aggression and violence."

"It is our aim," said a joint statement which followed by one day the end of two weeks of formal conferences, "that when the storms and passions of war have passed away all countries now overrun by the enemy shall be free to decide for themselves their future form of democratic government."

The government also released the final speeches of the five ministers, including this declaration by Prime Minister Churchill:

"We do not know how far we have to go; we do not know how long victory will be denied or what tribulations we shall have to ask our people to endure, but we are absolutely sure that they will not be found unequal to the tests and trials, however long, however heavy, and that after these are over we shall . . . take at least as large a part in leading mankind out of their miseries into which they have fallen as we took in bearing the brunt of the struggle which broke upon us some five years ago."

The form of the "world organization" was not disclosed, but it is understood the British government laid before the premiers a tentative plan embodying many

Nazis' West Wall Minutely Mapped For Allied Blow

Area Found To Be Buried Fortress Sunk In Concrete, Wire And Mine Screened

By JAMES M. LONG
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, May 17.—The German west wall has been mapped for invasion, gun-by-gun and mile-by-mile, and has been found to be a buried fortress sunk in concrete and screened by minefields and barbed wire, it was disclosed tonight.

The secret map, made up of jigsaw-fitting Allied reconnaisance photographs, provides Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and his command with details on the potential battlefields where, the Paris radio commentator Paquis suggested today, the decision probably will be reached this summer.

Allies Said Massed

Paquis said General Eisenhower had massed 50 divisions and 80,000 parachute troops in southern England, that invasion craft filled the harbors and asserted "all evidence points to the fact the invasion will be launched sooner than some people may expect."

The map shows a pattern of farmland broken by installations of defense in camouflaged concrete clusters. These are the gun positions, the cores of the Nazi first line stand.

Some show above ground as groups of small houses, hiding the long barrels of big sunken batteries. Others are rocket gun emplacements set aslant into the ground, and open toward the channel coast.

These have been high priority targets of weeks of night and day short-range bombing attack.

Rely On Camouflage

The Germans still are relying heavily upon camouflage, virtually their last hope of secrecy since the Allies have won air supremacy over the west wall.

Reports through Sweden said that the 69-year-old Prussian, Marshal Karl von Rundstedt, was the supreme commander of anti-invasion defenses. Marshal Erwin Rommel, whom the Allies chased in defeat halfway across the top of Africa, and the tank expert, Col. Gen. Blaskowitz, were said in these reports to be in charge of Army groups under the Junkers aristocrat.

The German radio sought to reassure the home front with such statements as these of war reporter Schmalfuss from "German headquarters in western Europe":

Preparations Watched

"Anglo-Saxon preparations for invasion are watched in Marshal von Rundstedt's headquarters with quiet confidence in the success of German arms. The marshal himself, who is a soldier tried in many battles, is aware that the clash between the masses of German troops and the enemy's forces is bound to bring hard fighting involving losses and sacrifices."

This was Norwegian independence day and exiled King Haakon broadcast to the homeland:

"Norway at this moment is facing the final battle between oppression and freedom."

Prime Minister Nygaardsvolt sounded a final warning to Quislings:

"They will be remembered on the day of reckoning — and for that day we shall not now have long to wait."

Sect Members Sue School Board Here

Suit for injunction to prohibit the Lubbock Independent school district board of trustees from requiring pupils to salue the American flag, and asking that the salute order be declared unconstitutional, was filed Wednesday in federal court in Dallas, the Associated Press reported last night.

Hearing in the case has been set in Lubbock June 5 in Judge T. Whitfield Davidson's federal court.

Plaintiffs Listed

Plaintiffs are M. R. Free, Myrtle Free, Doyle Free, George Dodge, Linnie Dodge, Lillie Worthington, L. G. Worthington, Lubbock members of a religious sect. The plaintiffs stated that they were parents of children of compulsory school age.

Besides the school board, defendants named are J. T. Hutchinson, president; R. W. Matthews, superintendent of schools, and R. F. Bayless, board secretary. Members of the board, in addition to Dr. Hutchinson and Bayless, are W. G. Alderson, E. J. Parsons, H. L. Allen and Chas. A. Guy.

Members of a religious sect commonly known as Jehovah's Witnesses, according to A. C. Jackson, schools business manager, appeared before the board late last year and presented a petition asking that the board not require the oath of allegiance of students in the local schools. Jackson said the request was denied.

Four Or Five Involved

"Four or five students," mostly of elementary school age, are involved, Jackson stated. Matthews said it was his understanding that several children were withdrawn from school by sect members after the board action.

Opposition to the requirement has been expressed to the board 'several times" since the start of the war, it was said.

SECT MEMBER'S DRAFT CASE SET HERE JUNE 5

A federal court hearing has been set in Lubbock June 5 on application of Pvt. George M. Mayborn, member of a religious sect, for a writ of habeas corpus to gain freedom from alleged illegal detention by the Army at Camp Barkeley, the Associated Press reported Wednesday night. The soldier alleges that his Douglas county, Ore., draft board illegally refused to classify him as a minister and placed him in 1-A. Despite refusal thereafter to take the oath of induction he was taken into the Army, being "restrained illegally in guard house at Camp Barkeley."

Mexican Loses Racial Discrimination Suit

AUSTIN, May 17. (AP)—The court of criminal appeals today affirmed a 40-year sentence assessed Serapio Sanchez in Hudspeth county, rejecting his contention racial discrimination was involved in his indictment and trial.

Sanchez was convicted in the knife slaying of George A. (Brownie) Cox March 28, 1943.

Sanchez alleged on appeal that Hudspeth county has since 1922 discriminated against Americans of Mexican or Spanish descent in the selection of grand jurors.

He also raised the question of prejudice in objecting to the trial court's refusal to grant him a change of venue.

Rules Relaxed For Ministerial Students

WASHINGTON, May 17. (AP) — Selective Service tonight authorized the deferment of students preparing for the ministry regardless of whether they are attending theological or divinity schools.

The revised regulation stipulates, however, that students in other institutions must be under the direction of the specialized schools and 'pursuing a specific full time course on an accelerated basis."

Heretofore students in pre-theological seminaries were eligible for deferment, but students taking their early training in secular colleges or universities were not.

H. E. EXUM

H. E. Exum Dies At Garden City

Amarilloan Taken By Heart Attack

GARDEN CITY, Kans., May 17 (AP)—H. E. Exum, 62, state chairman of the Republican party in Texas and a Kansas utility operator, died in a hospital here this afternoon after suffering a heart attack.

Exum was stricken in the offices of the Tri-County Gas company of Holcomb, of which he was president and founder.

He lived in Garden City half of the year and the other six months at Amarillo. Survivors include his widow, a son and three daughters.

DECLINED NOMINATION FOR GOVERNOR IN 1938

AMARILLO, May 17 (AP)—Hugh Exum, prominent West Texas cattleman and Republican candidate for lieutenant governor in 1932, who died today in Garden City, Kansas, declined the GOP nomination for governor in 1938. He had been state chairman of the Republican party in Texas the last eight years.

He was president and general manager of the Tri-County Gas company and the Pin-Ker Oil and Gas Production company, both of which office in Holcomb, Kans. He had extensive ranch holdings in West Texas and New Mexico.

Exum is survived by his wife and three daughters and one son, Mrs. Hollis Russell and Mrs. William H. Blodgett, both of Amarillo, and Mrs. David M. Price, Tyler, and Edgar Exum, of Amarillo. He was a brother of Mrs. R. B. Masterson, sr., and Mrs. I. C. Thurmond, sr., both of Amarillo.

Funeral arrangements are pending.

HOUSTON WOMAN NAMED TO STATE PARTY POST

DALLAS, May 17 (AP)—Hugh E. Exum of Amarillo, who died today at Garden City, Kans., will be succeeded as chairman of the Republican State Executive committee by Mrs. Carl G. Stearns of Houston, the vice chairman, John W. Philp of Dallas, committee secretary, said today.

Mrs. Stearns will serve until a new chairman is elected at the state GOP convention in Houston Monday, Philp said in an interview with the Dallas News.

Philp said that Exum was "extremely well liked" among Texas Republicans. He had been state committeeman for a number of years before becoming chairman after the death of T. P. Lee of Houston. Lee and Exum were partners in a natural gas company serving Kansas communities.

Weights High For Scarce Commodity

PORT ARTHUR, May 17. (AP)—An applicant for canning sugar failed to give the number of pounds sought for each member of the family.

The ration board returned the application, requesting that she speeify weights.

Today the housewife wrote back saying she weighed 143 pounds, her husband 185 and her mother-in-law 153.

Simple Funeral For George Ade Planned

BROOK, Ind., May 17. (AP)—A simple funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Friday for George Are, 78-year-old Hoosier author who died last night. The service will be held at Hazelden, the humorist's farm home near here.

BLEAK WEATHER

LONDON, May 17. (AP)—Dark rain clouds blanketed Dover Strait tonight and a cold northeasterly breeze blew the sea into a moderate top swell.

Ration Clerk Held In Coupon Thefts

CLEVELAND, May 17. (AP)—The chief clerk of Cuyahoga county's largest ration board today pleaded innocent to charges of stealing 5,000 T gasoline ration coupons and a ration bank certificate representing 538,000 gallons of gasoline. Robert A. Dissauer, arraigned before U. S. Commissioner D. B. Nicola, was released under $2,000 bond pending a hearing May 31.

Allies Smash Into Historic Liri Valley, Plunge On In Attack To Isolate Cassino

Area Strewn With Nazi Equipment; Balance Of Gustav Line Shattered

By ROLAND NORGAARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, May 17.—British and Indian troops have smashed through the German stronghold of Pignataro at the mouth of the historic Liri valley four miles southwest of Cassino and tonight were moving across the valley against furious enemy resistance in an effort to sever Cassino's road and rail communications with Rome.

From the battlefield, strewn with abandoned German equipment, Lynn Heinzerling of the Associated Press reported that the crack Nazi parachute troops who for months defied all Allied efforts to storm Cassino frontally "faced the possible danger of winding up their careers in the dusty environs of that forsaken town."

Gustav Line Shattered

Southward from the Liri valley along a twisting 15-mile front to the Gulf of Gaeta, American and French native troops drove a disorganized enemy from the last defenses of the shattered Gustav line and fought through the outposts of the powerful Adolf Hitler line, the enemy's last known fixed belt of fortifications before Rome.

American forces driving up the coast captured the heavily-fortified town of Castellonorato, four miles from Formia, and pushed on up the coastal road under stiff fire from enemy artillery and snipers.

Castellonorato, whose fortifications were said to compare with those of the Hitler line, was reduced to ruins and littered with German dead.

French Near Esperia

The French, whose spectacular advance between the Americans and British has sparked the six-day-old Allied offensive, approched the fortress town of Esperia, four miles southwest of San Giorgio and two miles south of the Liri river. They began fighting up 2,800-foot Monte D'Oro, believed to be one of the strongest forward positions of the Hitler line.

In addition to wiping out the

TROOPS OUTRUN NEWS

NEW YORK, May 17 (AP)—Allied troops in Italy have far outrun the latest communique, Eric Sevareid, CBC correspondent, said tonight in a broadcast from Naples.

Sevareid, who reached Naples after being at the front lines in Italy, said: "It would be a pleasure to tell you how far we have progressed up to this moment but the authorities here are content to issue but one communique a day, which is not only hours but miles behind events; and, if previous campaigns are any criterion, behind the enemy radio announcements as well."

Senate Passes Farm Fund Bill

WASHINGTON, May 17. (AP)—The Senate passed a $524,806,718 Agriculture department appropriation bill today after first knocking out a House amendment barring any political or lobbying activity by department employes.

Senators Danagher (R-Conn) and Wherry (R-Neb) led a Republican fight to retain the amendment, and to broaden it to include thousands of farmers on agricultural adjustment agency committees. They contended some department field employes and some AAA committeemen had engaged in political campaigning.

Whole Amendment Killed

A 42 to 24 roll call that closely followed party lines defeated an amendment by Danaher that would have applied the ban to part time as well as full-time agriculture department workers. Then the Senate struck the entire House amendment from the bill on a voice vote. Senators Nye and Langer of North Dakota cast the only two Republican votes against the amendment.

The agriculture bill as passed by the Senate calls for $10,487,474 less than the amount approved by the House where the measure must now go for action on Senate revisions.

Put into the bill by the Senate were two controversial items of $50,000,000 to continue federal aid school lunch programs and $124,710,000 to continue the Farm Security administration for another year beyond July 1. Both had been rejected in the House.

Rejected by the Senate on a voice vote was an amendment by Senator Chavez (D-NM) proposing that $5,500,000 be provided for a study of postwar reforestation and land reclamation projects.

Soviet Heavies Pound Naziland

Nazi Insist Big Land Blow Near

LONDON, Thursday, May 18. (AP)—Russian long-range bombers heavily damaged Nazi transportation centers in White Russia and old Poland again Tuesday night, the Soviet communique reported last night as the German high command warned that "new and large-scale battles are to be expected" soon to break the lull on the eastern front.

Rail facilities and Nazi military trains at Minsk, Baranowiczke and Chelm were bombed Tuesday night, said the communique broadcast from Moscow. Three of the raiders failed to return from the flaming junctions.

29 Planes Destroyed

Aerial combat continued on a moderate scale over most sectors of the land front. The war bulletin said 29 enemy planes were destroyed Tuesday.

The Russian communique said there were "no important changes on the front" during the day, but a Berlin broadcast declared "at least two Soviet infantry divisions in the area of Grigoripol on the lower Dnestr have been cut off from rear communications by German offensive operations and face annihilation."

Predicting the resumption of heavy fighting on the eastern front, the German high command said in a broadcast communique that the Russians were bringing up reinforcements on the southern end of the long battle line and in the central sector.

Supplement to the communique issued early today said 500 Germans were killed and 150 captured in fighting yesterday southeast of Stanislawow, when Soviet troops attacked and then beat off two swift German counter-assaults.

The Russians also reported that three German trawlers and two patrol launches were sunk by planes from the Red Banner Baltic fleet during an attack on a Nazi convoy in the Gulf of Finland. The supplement said 16 German escort planes were destroyed.

Jail Break Attempt Turned Into 'Joke'

I. E. "Ike" Madden, Lubbock county night jailer, is a little guy but he can act big and make it stick when the occasion demands.

Wednesday morning, about 1:30 o'clock, 61-year-old Madden, weight approximately 140 pounds, heard the buzzer go off. This meant a summons from someone in the kitchen section on th jail's second floor. Trusties have free run of the section.

A 20-yeor-old inmate, doing a two-year stretch for forgery, slipped up behind Madden, pressed a sharp object to his back. "Give me them keys," the prisoner ordered.

The jailer spun around, noticed the man, a 180-pounder, held an open pocket knife.

"Why, you yellow——, put that knife away!" Madden told him, reaching for his own knife.

The prisoner faltered, said: "I was just kiddin', Mr. Madden." The jailer took the knif from him.

Sheriff Tom Able said the inmate was no longer a trusty.

Yanks On Beachhead Start Town Of "Shellhole City"

By KENNETH L. DIXON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH THE AEF IN ITALY, May 9. (Delayed)—There's a little town up on Anzio beachhead that neither Baedecker nor the geography books will show because it's only been there a month or so.

It's "Shellhole City," home of a battery of artillery men and it is marked by flower beds, ornamental paths, decorated fences and all the fancy roadside signs that go with any real estate development.

They say Pvt. Leonard Brook of Baltimore started the sign craze by identifying his foxhole home as "Stagger Inn." So the rest of the boys took over from there. Now they even have posted a time table of the "Anzio Express," the shells from the big German railroad guns which whoosh past back and forth, overhead.

They've also elected a constable of Shellhole City, one Cpl. Lewis Marlow of Savannah, Okla., and a city council whose chief job was to control the potential vice of Shellhole City by smelling out all bootleggers in the area and confiscating their stock of vino.

After which the aldermen went into secret session.

Texas Demo Factions Lash Each Other On FDR Issue

AUSTIN, May 17. (AP)—Two elements of Texas Democrats, maneuvering for a pre-state convention advantage, challenged each other's motives today in this fashion:

Everett L. Looney of Austin, a leader in pro-Roosevelt forces, asserted forces favoring an uninstructed delegation for the national convention want to name presidential electors at the state convention here May 23 who actually will vote for Thomas E. Dewey in an attempt to defeat Roosevelt in November.

Attempted Bolt Charged

George A. Butler of Houston, chairman of the State Democratic Executive committee, and Mrs. H. H. Weinert of Seguin, vice-chairman, declared persons opposed to principles of party government in Texas are attempting to bolt the party program.

The co-leaders of the committee said a majority of their group favored an uninstructed delegation to permit the party to express itself on restoration of the two-thirds rule, (for nomination of president and vice president candidates) and to determine qualifications for membership in the party and that the proposal had no significance as to the renomination of the President because his success is assured on the first convention ballot.

Charge On Big Cities

Looney asserted that groups in Dallas, Houston, San Antonio and Fort Worth favoring uninstructed delegates had excluded Roosevelt supporters from county conventions, declared their action repudiated the President, fraternized with Republicans and their objective is "simply to defeat Roosevelt in November and elect Dewey."

The Butler-Weinert statement said the committee felt Texas could best express its views on the two-thirds rule and party membership by sending an uninstructed delegation to the Chicago national convention.

It added that a survey of resent precinct and county conventions disclosed that:

The move to upset the party's state program is designed to insure renomination of Henry A. Wallace as vice-president and certain influences in the party nationally feel an uninstructed delegation would be an obstacle.

Two-Thirds Rule

Certain national party leaders are concerned over the strength developing in the South for restoration of the two-thirds rule, knowing this would restore the South to a position of power in the party's council.

Certain national leaders also appear to be resentful that the party in Texas has not accepted the edict of the Supreme court that the party cannot determine who may vote in party primaries.

The same national leaders do not want southern states to be in a position to successfully resist efforts to force into the national platform a plank to abolish the poll tax.

News Briefs

All former residents of Brown county living on the South Plains have been invited to attend the fourth annual reunion of former residents of that county which will be held at the Tahoka city park on Sunday, May 21, according to Mrs. Ida Petty Smith, secretary.

Guest speaker at the luncheon of the Lubbock Rotary club Wednesday noon in the Hilton hotel was Mrs. George Harrison Pittman, state executive secretary of the National Association for Infantile Paralysis, Inc., who assisted in the organization of a chapter of the association here this week. She was introduced by Neil Wright. Program chairman was C. I. Wall, while A. T. Cocanougher presided.

Don Jones, superintendent of Lubbock Experminet station, will speak to farmers of this territory on irrigation Thursday evening at 9 o'clock in the Idalou clubhouse. Problems concerning irrigation will be discussed.

Ensign and Mrs. Bob Weddle are visiting friends here en route to the West coast where Ensign Weddle is to await assignment aboard one of Uncle Sam's fighting sea craft. A former student of Texas Technological college and a staff member of the Avalanche-Journal, Ensign Weddle graduated recently from Navy midshipmen's school at Northwestern university. Mrs. Weddle is to return to her home in Kansas when her husband goes to sea.

Forrestal Becomes Secretary Of Navy

WASHINGTON, May 17. (AP)—James V. Forrestal, former New York financier who directed the most tremendius fleet expansion program in history, became secretary of the Navy today when the Senate confirmed his nomination.

Forrestal succeeds the late Frank Knox, whom he served as undersecretary. His nomination was approved unanimously Monday by the Senate naval committee, which paid him the tribute of declining to question him on his qualifications for the cabinet office.

Now 52 years old, Forrestal was a seaman second class in the first World war. In this one he has been in charge of a construction program which has produced the world's mightiest fleet, yet he has found time to get out in dungarees and see how that fleet goes about wrecking enemy strongholds in the Pacific.

Forrestal is the fourth man to hold the naval portfolio in the Roosevelt administration. His predecessors, in addition to Knox, were Claude Swanson, who died in office, and Charles Edison, who resigned to run for governor of New Jersey.

Rio Grande Ceases To Flow Into Gulf

McALLEN, Texas, May 17. (AP)—The Rio Grande stopped flowing into the Gulf of Mexico today for the first time in several years, according to engineer J. L. Lytel, San Benito, of the international boundary commission.

Two irrigation districts in Cameron county, Texas, suspended pumping due to the water shortage. Upstream, at Laredo, Texas, there was little more than a foot of water in the river.

Water district managers planned to meet here Friday to apportion the available water.

Last week an allocation system was undertaken, only to be dropped when rains brought temporary relief.

Knox Estate Estimated At Two Million Dollars

CHICAGO, May 17. (AP)—The filing of his will for probate revealed today that the late Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox left his interest in the Chicago Daily News to Mrs. Knox and gave executors discretion to dispose of his interest in the newspaper.

Executors estimated the estate at $2,000,000. Under the will filed for probate before Judge John F. O'Connell, the entire estate went to the widow.

Court Says Sun, Not Congress, Sets Time

AUSTIN, May 17. (AP)—The court of criminal appeals said in effect today the sun, not Congress, fixes time in Texas.

It reversed a case from Dallas in which an employe was fined $25 for working an 11-year-old boy past 10 p. m.

The court said that 10 p. m. central war time, actually is 9:10 p. m. sun or solar time and that solar time is applicable in enforcing the child labor law involved.

It noted that in prosecuting the case the state relied on central war time which Congress substituted for central standard time.

State law prohibits permitting a child of less than 15 years of age to work after 10 p. m. In the trial both sides agreed that Marvin Thomas, a youth employed by Hap Morse, was permitted to work until 10:30 p. m. cwt, which would be 9:30 p. m. central standard time, and 9:10 p. m. solar time.

FLOWS 204 BARRELS

SAN ANGELO, May 17. (AP)—The Texas company's No. 1 Hobbs, opener of an oil field in southeastern Crane county, flowed 204 barrels of oil in 24 hours this week.

NAVAL HOSPITAL OK'D

HOUSTON, May 17. (AP)—Admiral Ross T. McIntire of the bureau of medicine and surgery of the United States Navy, today notified Congressman Albert Thomas that President Roosevelt had approved construction of a 1,000-bed naval hospital in Houston, the Chronicle said today.

Twenty-five per cent of the workers in Australia's war factories are women.

"NO MORE TROUBLE WITH CONSTIPATION!"

Says Long-Time Sufferer Who Tried Laxative Cereal!

If you, too, are disappointed with pills and purgatives, be sure to read this unsolicited letter!

"For several years I was afflicted with common constipation. I tried various remedies, but got only temporary relief. Several months ago, I started eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN each morning, drinking water freely through the day. I have since never had the slightest trouble with constipation. My gratitude to KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN."—Mr. H. M. Riley, 11 N. Division Street, Chicago, Ill.

Scientists say KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN can really "get at" a common cause of constipation—lack of sufficient "cellulosic" elements in the diet — because it is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elements! They work by helping the friendly colonic flora fluff up and prepare the colonic wastes for easy, natural elimination. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative. Doesn't "sweep you out"! It's a gentle-acting, "regulating" food.

If you have constipation of this type, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN or several ALL-BRAN muffins regularly. Drink plenty of water. See if you, too, don't cheer its welcome relief! Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

To Our Friends and Customers

A growing city is almost invariably a city with a friendly and hospitable spirit. Sometimes a city achieves a sudden growth as a result of an oil boom or the discovery of other wealth hidden beneath it's soil. But these instances are only rare. Most cities are man made.

Small cities become great cities through the vision and energy of it's citizens. Such a city constantly seeks new capital investment in its development, new enterprises, new industries, new payrolls and new citizens.

This program of city building, featuring the welcoming hand of friendship to new citizens and new enterprises and accompanied by the fullest possible support of the industries it already has, brings rich rewards. The great cities of the Southwest were built and are being further built in just such manner.

The Southwestern Public Service Company is an independent company operating wholly under local management, since it has no holding company over it whatsoever. Thus it's officers and managers are in position to conduct the operations of the Company under a policy of cooperation with the people of the cities and communities it serves.

This policy means the finest possible service to the public at the lowest possible rates consistent with such service. It also means the fullest cooperation with the citizens in all matters leading to the development and upbuilding of the cities and communities served by the Company.

Man In Italy Sends Nazi Leaflets To Father Here

A. H. Karcher of the Hotel Storage garage, Tenth street and Texas avenue, has received a letter from his son, Capt. Albert H. Karcher, jr., in which he enclosed two German propoganda leaflets which were shot into the American lines at Anzio beachhead in artillery shells.

One of the leaflets depicts the "grim reaper" with his scythe poised to cut down marching American troops. The "reaper" is quoting the following statement made by the president of the United States:

"I assure you again and again that no American boys will be sacrificed on foreign battlefields." The words "I assure you . . ." appear seven times on the back of the leaflet with question marks in each of the two top corners.

"Death's Head" Leaflet

The second leaflet shows a map of the Italian coast in the vicinity of Anzio. In large letters across the top is the word "beachhead." Directly underneath is a skull denoting death, while under the skull are these words: "Death's Head!"

On the back of this leaflet the following is printed:

"The beachhead is going to be the big blow against the Germans. Wasn't that the slogan when the Allied troops landed at Nettuno on January 21st? Today, exactly three months of hard fighting have passed and you can now celebrate this event. But it is still merely a beachhead, paved with the skulls of thousands of British and American soldiers! The beachhead has become a 'Death's Head!' It is welcoming YOU with a grin, and also those who are coming after you across the sea for an appointment with death. Do they know what they are in for? Yes, they feel that they are landing on a DEATH'S HEAD!"

Soldiers Only Laugh

Capt. Karcher said leaflets such as these are fired into the Allied lines every day, but added that the soldiers only laugh at them.

Capt. Karcher's brother, Capt. William O. Karcher of the Marines, was wounded recently in the Southwest Pacific area. In a letter recently received from him by his father, he said he "didn't duck deep enough" and as a result "got his hair parted by a Jap bullet." He wasn't badly hurt, however. His father said that he had been led to believe his son was wounded in the attack on Tarawa.

A veteran of the North African campaign Capt. Albert Karcher has been in that theater for the past two years.

A third brother, Eugene, is in the hospital corps of the Navy and at present is in training in Idaho.

Clue Found In Case Of Headless Bodies

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., May 17. (AP)—Highway patrolmen today pursued their first tangible clue to the butcher slayings of two women whose headless, scantily-clothed bodies were washed ashore in the Lake of the Ozarks a month ago.

Mrs. Julia Duff of Sedalia yesterday tentatively identified one of the bodies as that of Mrs. Pearl Fairfax, 60, of La Monte, Mo., and said the second was "about the same size" as Mrs. Molly Mattie Holland, 36, Mrs. Fairfax' daughter.

Officers questioned Edgar Holland, husband of the younger woman, about the disappearance of his wife and mother-in-law, who were reported Sunday as missing from their Pettis county farm since early April—before discovery of the bodies on April 16 and 17 near Camdenton.

Mexico Farmers Told To Plant—Or Else

MEXICO CITY, May 17. (AP)—Small farmers were warned today by the federal district farm office that if they don't plant their crops their land will be taken from them for a year.

The office pointed to a recent presidential decree stipulating such seizure of tracts granted under Mexico's agrarian program, in an effort to stimulate production.

Farmers are required to plant part of their land in corn in order to help alleviate a shortage of that cereal, the principal ingredient of tortillas, bread of the masses.

Distribution of machinery and extension of credit to farmers are other steps taken to spur production.

FDR Appears Before News Photographers

WASHINGTON, May 17. (AP)—White House news photographers today had their first opportunity to take pictures of President Roosevelt since his southern vacation to shake off effects of the flu.

The occasion was the presentation by six-year-old Phyllis Fay Firebaugh of Eaton Rapids, Mich., of the first buddy poppy of 1944.

The last previous news picture of Mr. Roosevelt was taken St. Patrick's day, March 17.

LILY PONS ON TOUR

NEW YORK, May 17 (AP)—Lily Pons, Metropolitan Opera star, and her husband, Andre Kostelanetz, orchestra conductor, arrived yesterday in the Persian Gulf command for a six to eight week entertainment tour among American servicemen, the USO Camp Shows office announced today.

Henderson Newsman Given WLB Position

DALLAS, May 17. (AP)—Garland R. Farmer, Henderson, Texas, newspaper publisher, has been made acting chairman of the 8th regional War Labor board, embracing Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma.

Floyd McGown resigned as chairman, effective May 15, and no successor has been named.

The WLB regional public relations office, confirming Farmer's appointment as acting chairman, said he had served as public panel member and as vice chairman.

Texan Awarded For Helping Save Ship

NEW YORK, May 17. (AP)—In recognition of his aid in rescuing a French destroyer in the midst of an Indian ocean cyclone last December, Capt. Morgan A. Maxey, 27-year-old master of the tanker Cedar Mills, today was awarded the Merchant marine Distinguished Service medal.

The recipient, a native of Rusk, Tex., is the second-youngest master in the Merchant marine, officials declared.

If there are signs of rust on refrigerator shelves wash them with a mild scouring powder and hot water, dry well with a soft, clean cloth, and apply a thin coating of hot melted paraffin.

Have a "Coke" = You're back among friends

...or a way to put soldiers at ease

In its atmosphere of kindliness, home is hospitality headquarters with Welcome so often summed up in three words, Have a "Coke". To a service man it expresses a bond of understanding and friendliness. He hears it quite often at camp—over there as over here. It's one of his ways of saying You're my pal. Around the globe, Coca-Cola is spreading the custom of the pause that refreshes,—has become a symbol of the friendly in many lands. Coca-Cola is the friendly drink to have and serve at home.

Coca-Cola — the global high-sign

"Coke" = Coca-Cola
It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called "Coke".

HOUSEKEEPING HINTS: When washing windows try crumbled newspaper as a final polisher.

Remove those lamp cords from under rugs and carpets. Not only do they cause an unsightly bulge, but if cords are walked on, or if furniture is moved over them, the tiny wires inside may be broken and can cause a short circuit.

CENTURY PLANT

A CENTURY plant in front of the home of Mrs. A. M. Belsher, 1518 Avenue F, will be blooming within a short time. It has been growing from six to eight inches a night for about a week and at present stands eight feet high. (Or at least it did Wednesday afternoon as these lines are written.)

Mrs. Belsher set the plant out about five years ago. She and her neighbors and friends are interested in watching the rapid growth of the Mexican plant. It flowers only once and dies.

IN THE MAIL

DEAR MISS TURNER:

Recently you wrote wondering about the cause of baldness. Had you ever wondered it baldheadedness is a sign of intellect?

Although many brilliant men of history and modern times were bald there is no connection. I think it's because many brilliant men lead sedentary lives, eat incorrectly, neglect the care of their hair or suffer from illness or glandular disturbances which cause baldness.

Sincerely,
A Reader.

• • •

DEAR READER: Thanks for your letter. We think we might add that by the time men get their reputations for great intellect they are apt to be elderly and therefore quite bald.

We suppose when young men become bald it's just their hard luck and no sign of a master mind.

• • •

WOMAN'S ANGLE:

I noticed in your column on Wednesday, May 10, a gramatical error. Speaking of that blanket of fog and smoke that "lays" heavily on Chicago's ceiling in winter. Lay is a transitive verb, meaning "to place," lie, meaning "to rest." It should have been 'that lies heavily.'

A Reader.

• • •

Dear Reader: Thanks for calling our attention to the error. We know now that "to lie" is used of inanimate things: "to be or remain in a flat or horizontal position upon any broad support."

AIR CONDITIONERS

AN air conditioner is greatly needed at the Red Cross rooms, 1605 Avenue J. Three of the rooms are air conditioned but two are not and the chairmen are anxious to get the quarters comfortable for the summer working days.

If you do not have a unit to contribute, how about a floor fan or two?

The women who are planning to spend hours and hours this summer in surgical dressing rooms will fold bandages quicker if they work in comfort. If you can help will you telephone 9791 please?

Students In City's Schools Preparing For Term's Closing

Examinations, checking in of books, picnics and final preparations for graduation exercises are keeping Lubbock school teachers and students busy this week as the last day of school approaches.

Regular attendance of elementary, junior high school and senior high school will end Friday and students will not have to report back to their respective places until Tuesday when report cards will be picked up, school authorities said yesterday.

Examinations Begun

Junior and Senior High school examinations began today and will be concluded Friday when books will be checked in. Examintions for 8 and 9 a. m. and 1:30 and 2:30 p. m. classes of senior high school will take place today and all 10 and 11 a. m. classes are slated for examintions Friday. At 1 o'clock Friday afternoon all high school students will begin checking in books.

Teachers will spend Monday recording grades and the senior high school faculty will have a meeting at 11 a. m. All elementary grades will report to their respective schools at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday to get their cards, but junior and senior high school students will follow a different schedule. All students who live in town are asked to get their report cards at 9 a. m. Tuesday and those students riding buses will report at 1 p. m. Tuesday. The latter schedule is for junior and senior high schools only.

If any changes are necessary in next year's schedules they should be made Tuesday.

Juniors an sophomores will take eighteen weeks' examinations Saturday following this schedule: 8 a. m., commercial subjects; 9 a. m., English; 10 a. m., history; 11 a. m., mathematics; 1 p. m., science; 2 p. m., languages; 3 p. m., other subjects. All seniors checked out of school Tuesday except those who were required to take eighteen weeks' examinations Wednesday.

Picnics This Week

Grade schools of the city are having class picnics this week during the noon hour and after school. Central Ward school is featuring a recognition program of outstanding students Friday morning.

There will be a final practice of commencement program participants at 10 a. m. Monday in the senior high school auditorium, Mrs. Dick Cozby, head sponsor, said. Other events of this week included the senior picnic at Buffalo lake today and presentation of public safety certificates to approximately 250 children who took part in school patrols this year. The certificates were awarded Wednesday afternoon at the Senior high school auditorium.

Summer School Scheduled

Commencement sermon will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the school auditorium and commencement exercises are set for Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Charles A. Guy, Lubbock school board member, will present diplomas to the seniors Monday night instead of Dr. J. T. Hutchinson as first announced. Dr. Hutchinson will be out of town the night of commencement.

Floyd Honey, principal of summer school, announces that summer school will open Wednesday and the short session will last until July 8. The longer session will consist of 80 school days and will continue until Aug. 24. Faculty members and the summer schedule will be announced Sunday.

50 Per Cent Postwar Tax Cut Is GOP Goal

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—A 50 per cent overall tax reduction when the war ends was set today as the goals of the Republican postwar tax study committee.

After a committee meeting, Chairman Reed (R-NY) issued a statement which said:

"The government now is exacting approximately $46,000,000,000 a year from American taxpayers. Our prospective postwar budget is estimated variously at from $18,000,000,000 to $22,000,000,000.

"A reduction in present taxes should be evolved to bring down the burden of taxation to approximately post-war budget requirements. On the basis of present estimates, that would mean a tax reduction of approximately 50 per cent. This prospect may change but for the moment it is our goal."

Nazis Admit Shooting Down Swedish Plane

STOCKHOLM, May 17 (U.P.) — German military authorities have admitted shooting down one of two Swedish planes which disappeared mysteriously off the southwest coast of Sweden Sunday, it was learned today.

The first plane left Gotland island, flying in a southerly direction, and the Germans reported that it was shot down "over German-controlled territory." Three of its four crew members were picked up by a Nazi ship.

There was no explanation for the disappearance of the second Swedish plane, which failed to return from a search for the first plane.

Swedish sources indicated the second aircraft also was shot down by the Germans and the government was expected to ask for a further explanation from Berlin.

Ace Beckham Being Held By Krautheads

DEFNIAK SPRINGS, Fla., May 17 (AP)—Major Walter Carl Beckham, 27, one of the leading American aces of the European theater at the time he was shot down over enemy territory in March, is alive and a prisoner of war in Germany, the international Red Cross has informed his mother, Mrs. Susie Wilkes Beckham.

The young army flier had 18 enemy planes to his credit when he was reported missing.

News Briefs

Mrs. F. D. Landree, wife of Flight Officer F. D. Landree of South Plains Army Air field, left Lubbock Wednesday by plane for Chicago from where she is to go to her home in Malwaukee, Wis. She was flown to Chicago by Emmett Morris in a Lubbock Aero service plane.

Mrs. R. L. Stone, 1711 Eighteenth street, has received word from the International Red Cross that her husband, Capt. R. L. Stone, is now a prisoner of war of the Romanian government. Capt. Stone, pilot of a B-24 Liberator bomber, had been previously reported by the War department to have been missing in action on a raid April 5. Capt. Stone is a former instructor at Lubbock Army Air field.

Past commander's night will be observed in a meeting tonight of Lubbock Commandery, No. 60; Jas. D. Shaw, commander, has announced. Dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock in the lodge hall, third floor of the Citizens National Bank building, to be followed by the conferring of the Order of the Temple on two candidates, with past commanders in charge of the opening and closing of the ceremonies.

A 72nd district court jury will present itself at 10 o'clock this morning to Judge Dan Blair for hearing evidence in the $25,000 damages action of H. W. Whitaker against J. R. McCook.

A 27-year-old man who had worked at one of the air bases here was in county jail late Wednesday awaiting arrival of Roswell, N. M., authorities armed with a warrant charging check law violation, a felony there. He waived extradition, it was announced here. Deputies Sheriff Cap Moore and Raymond Land made the arrest.

Army, Navy To Need 7,000 More Nurses

WASHINGTON, May 17. (U.P.)—The Army and Navy must recruit 7,000 more nurses in 1944 to fill the nursing needs of their 11,000,000 fighting men, the Office of War Information reported today.

The Army will need an additional 5,000 nurses in the first six months of 1945, OWI said. Navy requirements will be 600 a month until the strength of its nursing corps climbs from the present 8,000 to 10,000.

Meanwhile, the rigors of life in a combat theater have failed to push romance out of the lives of American army nurses in the southwest Pacific, it was disclosed. Nurses in this area are marrying at the rate of about four a day, according to Lt. Col. Martha J. Clemen, director of nurses in the southwest Pacific.

"If girls at home don't have somebody, I'm afraid they'll be out of luck," she said yesterday, "for the soldiers like the army nurses, and you can't take the woman out of a nurse."

Deferrable Jobs For Men 18-25 Increased

WASHINGTON, May 17. (U.P.)—Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey today authorized state directors to expand the list of activities for which irreplaceable men 18 through 25 years of age may be deferred.

On request of appropriate federal agencies, deferments may be made for men in crude rubber production in Liberia; chemists in explosives production; riggers and toppers in logging operations in California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana; cruiser construction workers; technicians on special lubricants for the armed forces; and air transport and ferry personnel of co-belligerents.

These additions will not add substantially to the number of men under 26 who will be industrially deferred, Selective Service officials said.

Deferements in all categories for men in this age group are not expected to exceed 125,000, and over half of these will be for Merchant marine personnel.

PLANT EXPANSION PLANNED

HOUSTON, May 17. (AP)—Additions will be made to Humble Oil and Refining company's gasoline plant at Tomball at an estimated cost of $400,000, the news service of the Houston chapter, Associated General Contractors of America, Inc., revealed today.

The capacity of the plant will be increased to handle an additional 8,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day, Humble officials said.

The Volga is the longest river in Europe.

Definite Plans For Future Of Oil Industry Is Urged

DALLAS, May 17. (AP) — J. C. Hunter of Abilene, president of the Mid-Continent Oil & Gas association, today called for constructive action to plan the immediate and long-range future of oil.

Speaking at the 16th annual convention of the Texas Bankers association, Hunter declared that such action on the part of the petroleum industry, the states, the federal government and the public is necessary, if the United Nations are to win the war and if America is to maintain and improve her standards of living.

Requirements Of Industry

Hunter said the industry must:

1. Explore for and discover new fields and develop them in an orderly fashion so that the public can be assured of an ample supply at reasonable prices;

2. Produce oil efficiently and without preventable waste;

3. Improve technology to secure more valuable and better products from crude oil and to manufacture low-cost synthetic substitutes when the need for them arises.

He suggested that the federal government should establish a firm policy that the government will not enter into the oil business competitively, directly or indirectly at home or abroad, relax wartime restrictions as promptly as possible, support and encourage conservation, provide for an adequate price of petroleum during the war emergency and maintain a sound, fair program of taxation.

W. Randolph Burgess of New York, vice president of the American Bankers association, another convention speaker, said there must be a return to negative government — or governing agencies must become smarter — if this nation is to progress in the direction which the war has opened for it.

Burgess asserted:

"The most optimistic note in our economic life is the usual production record that our industries have made. With one hand we are fighting the biggest war in the world's history and with the other we are giving our citizens more than they have ever had before. Our national income has jumped from $75,000,000,000 to $150,000,000,000—surprising even the most optimistic."

Against the new national income he shadowed the national debt, which he said would likely exceed $250,000,000,000 before the war is over, adding: "This debt is the dominant feature of the economic landscape."

In daytime, Liberators dropped 50 tons of bombs, targets including supply dumps east of Mokmer airdrome.

Airdrome Pounded

Liberators and Mitchells pounded both Wakde island, 110 miles northwest of Hollandia, and the Maffin airdrome on the mainland.

American planes based in the Solomons dive bombed the Kavieng, New Ierland, airdrome, and fighters went after the barges which are helping the Japanese to hang on at Rabaul, New Britain.

WFA Worried About 'Well-Fed' Feeling

WASHINGTON, May 17. (AP)—The job of getting a pretty well-fed public to worry about where its next year's meals are coming from was tackled today by the War Food administration.

This task—sort of like telling a man just through dinner that there might not be much for breakfast—is important, officials say, because of what they describe as a nationwide feeling that the food production battle has been won.

They attribute this feeling to recent relaxation of rationing and say it is having an adverse effect on this year's production for future use, particularly in the case of home gardening and on some farms where workers have heretofore put in extra long hours to help meet government appeals for more and more food.

In its anti-optimism efforts, the WFA is sending top-ranking officials out to make speeches warning that new shortages may be in store.

Collective Bargaining On Farm Prices Urged

AMARILLO, May 17 (AP)—Several hundred grainmen closed a two-day convention here today after hearing M. W. Thatcher, St. Paul, recommend collective bargaining on prices of farm products.

Thatcher, speaking before the stockholders meeting of the Producers Grain corporation, urged legislation to provide, in addition to cash markets at home and abroad, a "humane" market to feed and clothe the indigent and an "ever-normal granary" to store surplus crops for lean years.

Ellsworth Speaks To Big Lake Graduates

Dr. J. O. Ellsworth, head of the division of commerce at Texas Technological college, was speaker at the commencement exercises of the Reagan County High school graduating class at Big Lake, Tuesday night. His subject was "Fitting For Post War Business." The senior class was composed of 22 graduates.

E. G. Cauble, vocational agriculture at Big Lake for the past nine years and a former student of Texas Tech college, introduced the speaker.

Advances In Italy

Gustav line, which the Nazis had boasted was impregnable, the Allied push already was forcing the Germans to throw their reserves into the battle.

(Wednesday's German high command communique said a great battle of attrition was raging comparable to those of the first World war and acknowledged that Nazi troops were withdrawing before the onslaught.)

Terrific Bombardment

As powerful British armor beat across the gun-studded floor of the Liri valley in an effort to cut the Via Casilina and isolate the Cassino garrison, hundreds of British guns opened a terrific bombardment of the gutted town and Monastery hill from the Rapido valley on the east. The barrage appeared designed to obstruct any general enemy withdrawal from the stronghold to avoid the snapping British trap.

"Dusty roads west of the Rapido gave striking evidence that the Germans had been struck a blow harder than they expected," wrote Heinzerling from the battlefield.

"There was no suggestion the Germans had been put to disorganized rout, but after slow slugging for the first five days the picture appeared much brighter today. German shelling was much less intense. The flow of Allied stretcher cases to the rear was on a reduced scale."

The American drive along the Gulf of Gaeta brought Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's troops within six airline miles across water from the town of Gaeta, from which dozens of long-range enemy guns have been shelling the lower Garigliano valley.

Although heavy Allied bombers were grounded for the second straight day by weather, medium and light bombers and fighters plunged into the fight with 1,800 sorties on gun positions, troops, roads, bridges and motor transport in the battle area.

CLASS DISBANDED

Mrs. W. H. Trice's Bible class has been disbanded for the summer. Lessons will be resumed next fall.

News Briefs

Three couples of men and women were arrested by police about 11:30 o'clock Wednesday night as they attempted to carry a 15-gallon keg into the rear of an eating place on Avenue Q. About two gallons of choc beer were found in the keg, police said. Liquor board officials were questioning members of the party preparatory to filing of charges.

Jasper County Gets Fourth Big Producer

JACKSON, Miss., May 17. (U.P.)—The fourth big producer in the Jasper county "Heidelberg oil field' was near completion today as the T. D. Lewis No. 1 was being drilled out for perforation.

Drilling on the well had reached a depth of 5,050 feet and casing had been set. The well was sited near the Lewis-Morrison No. 1—the 1,000-barrel-a-day producer which oil men said was the biggest producer east of the Mississippi river.

The discovery well in the area was the Helen Morrison No. 1. The third Heidelberg well came in last Friday, the M. G. Gravis No. 1, which is in the center of the town of Heidelberg.

Sunshine Said Factor In Teeth Condition

BOSTON, May 17 (AP)—Major Abraham E. Nizel, U. S. Army Dental corps, today told the Massachusetts Dental society that sunshine has a direct bearing on the condition of human teeth and that relatively-cloudy New England has the worst regional record of tooth-decay in the nation.

Reporting on a study of 22,117 soldiers from all 48 states made by him at Camp Edwards, the Army dentist found all New England, with its 2,210 to 2,400 annual hours of sunshine in the upper decay bracket. The South-Central states (Texas, Arkansas and New Mexico) with 2,800 hours of sunshine showed the least dental decay.

Foremen's Strike Halts In Face Of Charge By Arnold

By JOSEPH A. LOFTUS
Associated Press Labor Writer

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Leaders of striking foremen called off their two-and-a half week walkout in 13 Detroit war plants today after General Henry H. Arnold warned them it was endangering lives of American airmen and "may even affect our invasion operations."

Bristling and indignant, the chief of the Army Air forces made a five minute appearance at a War Labor board hearing to declare "this is one of the most serious setbacks that the Army Air force program has had since its inception; and to show you that I am not exaggerating, this strike so far has cost the U. S. Army Air force 250 P-51 airplanes, which is not a small number."

52,000 Workers Idle

The strike of some 3,300 foremen has left about 52,000 war workers idle and has caused shutdown of the Packard plant which is the sole source of engines for the long range fighter.

Earlier in the hearing, called by the WLB to decide whether to employ the penalties of the war labor disputes act to get the foremen back on the job, Chairman William H. Davis warned the foremen:

"You know very well you have a tough enough fight on your hands with the employers, but if you take on the U. S. government in time of war, you are licked."

Decide Strike To End

President Robert H. Keyes and the ten-man executive board of the Foremen's Association of America left the hearing for a conference. An hour and a half later they delivered their decision to Davis and instructed local leaders in Detroit to hold meetings immediately to end the strike.

The foremen are fighting for collective bargaining recognition. The National Labor Relations board has denied them the assistance of the Wagner act which is extended to unions generally. The WLB cannot compel the employers to bargain with the foremen, but Chairman Davis did give the foremen assurance that the merits of their dispute would be heard and the board would order the terms and conditions of employment.

Amarillo Flier Comes Back From Russia To Get His Pilot Wings

FREDERICK ARMY AIR FIELD, Okla., May 17. (AP)—Captain Frank J. Storm, 26, of Amarillo, Tex., came all the way from Moscow to get his wings.

The captain, a student officer in the AAF Training Command here, resigned his position as a military adviser with the American Supply mission in Russia to return to the United States last October and enter the AAF bomber pilot training program.

A graduate of Kemper military school, Boonville, Mo., and a three-year student at Massachusetts Institute of Technologicy, Storm left school in 1941 to accept a commission in the office of the chief of Army ordnance. Late in 1942 he was selected as a member of the American Supply mission to the U.S.S.R.

"I always wanted to fly, and this looked like my big chance," Capt. Storm explained.

When he gets his wings and commission as a bomber pilot he would not be adverse to returning to Russia.

More than 3,000,000 books have been sent to U. S. soldiers overseas.

Reds Win Crucial Opener On Walter's Pinch Double

CINCINNATI, May 17. (AP) — Bucky Walters, who frequently has won his own games by timely stickwork, delivered with a pinch-hit double in the eighth inning today to give Cincinnati's Reds a 6-5 victory over Philadelphia in a see-saw game called a moment later on account of a heavy rain.

A single and two doubles, with a walk sandwiched between off Tommy de la Cruz, got the Blue-jays away to a 3-0 lead in the second. The Reds picked up one in the third off Bill Lee but the Phils added another in the fourth on two singles and a walk.

Back came the Reds in the fifth, batting around to tie the score at 4-all. They tallied again in the seventh only to see things even once more when, with the bases loaded, relief hurler Bob Malloy walked Mullen to force in first baseman Lupien.

The Reds won handily in the eighth, however, when, with Johnny Donahue on the mound, Eddie Miller singled only to be forced by Chuck Aleno. Dain Clay ran for Aleno, Ray Mueller singled him to third, and Walters, pinchhitting for Tony Criscola, even before the latter had batted for Malloy, laced a double along the third base line.

Tech Stars Pay Visit To Campus

Two old familiar faces have been roaming the campus of Texas Tech for the past few days as Ensign Roy Williams and Pfc. Garland Head visit with friends around the Tech gym.

The two were stars on the Red Raiders football and basketball teams of 1942-43. Both were juniors in school and have another year of eligibility left with the Red Raiders.

Plan To Return

Questioned on their plans for the future, both men expressed a desire to return to Texas Tech and finish their education and athletic careers. Unless the war lasts too long, they both expressed a wish to return along with J. R. Calahan for another year of athletics.

Head, a product of Clovis, New Mexico, played service team ball last season around Cincinnati, and is now stationed at Camp Campbell, Ky. At Texas Tech, Head was a center in football and a forward in basketball.

Big Navy Year

Williams, a product of Abernathy, played end in football here and a forward in basketball. Last season Williams was with a number of other West Texas college boys that made up the undefeated Pittsburgh, Kas., Teachers eleven, a service team that was one of the outstanding in the nation.

Williams shifted into the backfield and played fullback. He then shifted to Norfolk, Va., where he played with one of the two great Navy cage teams that were rated one-two in the National picture for the cage sport. Williams has just completed a course at Northwestern university.

About 300 Expected For Amarillo Open

AMARILLO, May 17 (AP) — About 300 entrants are expected here for the second annual $2,000 War Bond Open golf tournament Friday through Sunday.

Eighteen holes will be played on each of the three days.

The host, pro Gene Root, is the defending open champion. Jimmy Moore, former Amarillo city champion and University of Texas star, is defending amateur champion. Moore, in the service, will not be here.

Pvt. Jimmy Gauntt is the favorite to win the open. J. R. Brown, city champion, is favored as the amateur.

Other pros here include Lefty Stackhouse, Seguin; Jimmy Gamewell and Shorty Hornbuckle, Odessa; Pvt. Ramon Tucker, Hobbs Army Air Base; George Aulbach, Walter Sikes, Jack Bush and W. C. Allen, Amarillo; Jack Lee, Bryan; Charley Akey, Lubbock and Morgan Hampton, Abilene.

Luke Appling, now in the Navy, batted .312 during his 14 years with the Chicago White Sox.

Lubbock Fans Assure Burl Gene Moore Way To Dallas

Press, radio and Lubbock fans came to the aid of Burl Gene Moore, the Blonde Comet, Wednesday afternoon, and as the results of a few minutes work, Burl Gene Moore will run the 440 yard dash at the AAU meet in Dallas May 26.

Moore, who boasts of the fastest time in the nation for the 440 yard dash, was uncertain about entering the AAU meet to run for the chance to go to the AAU finals in New York in June. Transportation was the greatest worry.

All Chip In

Efforts through the pages of the Avalanche-Journal were made to find him a ride to Dallas along with Coach Marlin R. "Shorty" Hayhurst. This brought forth the effort to two Lubbock fans, F. J. Johnson and Joe Nislar, who in turn contacted Wes Youngblood at Radio Station KFYO.

The two fans started off the expense fund, and the local radio station added to the fund, and voiced an appeal over the airways. In short order the expense fund to send Moore to the AAU meet reached $62.50.

Offer To Fly

The Lubbock Areo Service came to the front and Bob Walker promised to "take care of" transportation and plans to fly Moore and Hayhurst to Dallas on the day of the meet. Walker will see Moore run his race that night at Dal-Hi stadium and fly them back to Lubbock Saturday morning.

AAU officials revealed earlier in the week that a research of the nation's track meets had revealed the 49.5 seconds in which Moore stepped off the 440 yards at Austin was the best time in the nation for college, university or high school.

At the Dallas meet, Moore will be featured alongside of San Antonio's great Charley Parker, the dash man that has been the toast of the state during the past two track seasons.

Petersburg Host To Schoolboy Fighters

PETERSBURG, May 17.—After the Petersburg boys whipped boxing teams from Amarillo, Lockney and Tahoka, they will now feed them, and boxers from these three schools will be guests of honor Friday night at a mutton barbeque here. The festivities will start at 7 o'clock.

Boxing at Petersburg this past season has reached a new peak and has been one of the major sports events on the program of this area. Both local matches and Golden Glove events found Petersburg with a strong ring team, and local fans have been proud of the local boys and the barbeque is in way of showing the boys they appreciate the local fight shows.

APPOINTED WARDEN

TERRELL, May 17 (AP)—Hubert Brooks, appointed state game warden, will leave Sunday to assume his duties at Waco. He has served as deputy warden here.

Frnka Well Pleased With Job At Tulsa

TULSA, May 17. (AP) — Henry Frnka said today he was well satisfied with his University of Tulsa football coaching job and understood that Nebraska "is not even interested in hiring a coach for a couple of years."

Frnka's comment was in response to reports from Lincoln that he would be interviewed by Nebraska officials tomorrow as a prospect for the post-war coaching job with the Cornhuskers.

His purpose in going to Lincoln, Frnka said, is to make new acquaintances in the Big Six at the conference meeting there tomorrow and try to schedule some games with Big Six members.

Howell Steen Tries For Title At Waco

WACO, May 17 (AP) — Howell Steen, former Golden Glove fighter from Lubbock, and now of Houston and Dallas, will meet Chuck Hirst of the Waco Army Air Field in a 15-round boxing match at Katy Park tomorrow night advertised as a match for the middleweight championshp of the state.

Hirst, a Detroit product, has been at WAAF for more than a year and before going into the service was considered by many critics as one of the most promising of the welterweights, defeating among others, Fritzie Zivic.

Steen has been a consistent winner of fights around Houston where he has been working in a defense plant for some time.

AA Coaches Must Be Full Time Employe

AUSTIN, May 17 (AP) — By a vote of 50 to 33, administrators of Texas high schools in Class AA football and basketball competition have decreed that coaches must be full-time employees of their respective school systems.

Roy Bedichek, director of the Texas Interscholastic League, announced results of the mail poll today. Results had not been tabulated at a recent meeting of league delegates here when Class A and B schools voted to permit part-time coaching as a war-time manpower concession.

Unfinished Game Is Reason For Debates

NEW YORK, May 17. (AP)—The National League's rule regarding games called after the start of the fifth inning, roundly criticized last year its first year of existence, came up for more berating today.

The Philadelphia Phillies and the St. Louis Cardinals agreed to call last night's game after the seventh inning in order for the Phillies to catch a train to Cincinnati. The rule, however, stipulates that such a game is not a game at all and won't become one until the next meeting of the two clubs at St. Louis, June 29. It goes o ntile books as a suspended game.

The Phillies were leading the Cards, 6-4, when the game was called and thus, must wait more than a month to complete the game. In the American or any other circuit, the game would have been recorded as a victory.

Charley Schanz, promising right handed rookie, who went the seven innings, won't know what his won and lost record is and Max Lanier, who was knocked out of the box in the fourth frame, will have to wait to learn whether his perfect record will be preserved or if the loss will be charged to him. Both teams must put as nearly as possible the same lineup on the field when they pick up the loose end.

Talk Of Counter-Invasion

RUMORS in London recently that the Nazis might attempt an invasion of the British Isles may have seemed fantastic at first thought—but only at first thought. If considered with many events of the past, they assume a logical possibility not to be ignored.

One fact which requires that a degree of credence be placed in the rumors has been the repeated, and frequently highly effective, use of the element of surprise by the Nazi leadership.

Another is the fact that Germany, despite enormous losses, still has huge manpower readily available for any use to which it might be put. They doubtless will have more men than the Allies at the actual scene of battle on any front except Russia. So far as sheer numbers are concerned, the Nazis have the men to spare fo ran attack without weakening their defenses greatly. Whether they have the transportation facilities—air, sea and land—to attempt a channel crossing is another question. It is conceded, however, that their air and submarine fleets still are powerful.

There also may be the logical supposition in Berlin that defenses of the British isles will be weakened when the Allies attempt their all-out invasion of the continent. The Nazi high command may theorize that the Allies will use everything they have when they launch their attack. It will be an obvious part of German strategy to do everything possible to cause the Allies to keep great strength on the Isles to repel any Nazi attack that may be attempted. The greater the strength the Allies are forced to keep in Britain, the less they will have to hurl against the shorelines of Europe.

A further consideration not to be ignored is the effect that a Nazi attaek upon the British isles might have on German morale. Even if such an attack represented no more than a hit-and-run raid, it would provide material of which Nazi propogandists would make fullest use.

True, even with all various considerations, the chances seem to be very much against an attack upon the isles. But, beyond question, it is one of those things which could happen, and which should cause no great surprise if it does happen.

Handwriting On The Wall

THE fact that spokesmen for the Japanese warlords have taken occasion increasingly of late to try to deny, alibi and shift responsibility for their brutalities and atrocities offers convincing proof of the realization in Tokyo that the Mikado's men are fighting a losing war.

One of the most recent instances of Japanese denial followed Red Cross charges that 1,500 tons of food, medicines and clothing consigned to American prisoners of war has been lying for months in Vlodivostok warehouses, because Japan has refused to accept and distribute the supplies.

Officials of the Red Cross have revealed they have exhausted every possible recourse in their attempt to get to the prisoners the supplies that unquestionably mean the difference between life and death to many of them. All efforts have been unsuccessful.

Until very recently, Red Cross appeals were ignored completely in Tokyo. Only lately have the Japs paid any attention to them at all. Now they say that it is the fault of the Red Cross, and not of Japan, that the supplies have not reached the prisoners. The Japs are as vague as usual in their attempts to make out a case against the Red Cross, but that is not important.

The important consideration is the fact that the arrogant warlords are trying to justify their brutalities. During the earlier stages of the war, they didn't go to the trouble of denying the atrocities with which they were charged. They were convinced then that they would sweep to quick and complete victory. They had no idea that Japanese "supermen" might have to answer for their crimes. They were going to be the masters, and the rest of the world was to be enslaved. There was nothing to place restraint upon their bestial excesses.

Now, as in the case of the Red Cross, the Japs have begun to plead not guilty when charges are brought against them. When denials of brutalities become impossible, they try to justify them. When justification is impossible, they try to shift the blame to other shoulders.

In short, their whole demeanor has become that of the murdering criminal who has been forced to recognize, at last, that grim justice is staring him in the face and who begins to whine for mercy.

A Meadville, Pa., baby born recently had two teeth at birth and cut four more within a week. He is probably a keen disappointment to his parents who doubtless expected to profit through use of his ration book.

PLOT
XVIII

THE old innkeeper brought some cakes which looked like small discs of very good leather. He left them and went away again.

Courtright brewed tea. The water was hot now. She poured the steaming amber liquid into the tall little individual pots. The pots were delicately ornamented, with tiny spouts and little birds, birds saucy and blue, on top of each pot.

The teacups were not much larger than thimbles and had no handles. Courtright poured tea into them. Each time she poured and held the pot upright again, the saucy blue bird gave a cheery whistle.

"Your brother, Norma," Link said. "Where is he?"

Norma Greer put down her teacup quickly. Pain charged her voice. "Link, I don't know."

Link touched he hand. "Sorry."

"But if I only knew where he was!"

"He's probably alright," Link said. It was an empty thing to say. But it was the best he could think of.

Woodenly, Norma looked at the table. "He was in Singapore," she said. "The House of Greer, in Singapore. A banking and investment company, which we owned. My brother stayed with the concern, hoping to get its transferable assets out of the hands of the Japanese. I don't know whether he escaped"

"A lot of people got out of Singapore in time," Link pointed out

She squeezed Link's hand gratefully. "I hope Kip did. He was going to the United States and join the Army Air Corps. He was a good flyer. He was an American citizen. I hope he got through."

Link reached for his teacup. But he didn't pick it up . . . He had the strangest of feelings.

"Norma," he asked, what was your brother's name?"

"Kip, Kipman John Greer."

"And he was going to join the U. S. Army Air Corps?"

"Yes."

God, thought Link, and he sat there feeling as if there was nothing, nothing whatever, underneath him.

• • •

OH GOD, he thought. How can I tell her that her brother is dead, that he was the pilot of my plane, and that he died in my arms. Kipman John Greer died in my arms, here in Japan three months ago. Kip, her brother.

Link looked down at his hands, conscious of the heavy lunging of his heart. The death of Kip Greer had been gentle, the way Link had though death could not be gentle. Kip's courage, and the clarity of his mind to the last, Kip's concern only about others and not himself, had given Link something precious in memory.

Now he knew something. Now he knew that it was no accident that the Japs had gotten him acquainted with Norma Greer. There was a plot.

Now he was afraid, so afraid that it was a bitter taste in his mouth, for Norma and Courtright and himself.

I've got to hide my alarm, Link thought. I've got to. I've got to get my mental feet back on the ground and say something in character, something rose-colored and not too profound.

The unreality of his surroundings, the ghastly curlicues that were the decorative motif of the little Japanese inn in the mountains, did not help him get stable again.

There was a plot. Of course there was a plot. And devilishly ingenious it must be, because he could not see what it was.

I've got to get up, walk around, and kick something, Link thought.

"Excuse me," he said.

That was enough to get him away from the veranda. But he didn't even look for a men's room in the inn; he went outdoors instead.

• • •

CAPTAIN AZARASKI was nowhere in sight.

"Where did stinky go to?" Link asked the Japanese non-commissioned officer who was part of the army guard that had accompanied them from Yokohama.

The Jap non-com answered nothing, and did it insolently. You can't blame him for thinking he's a slicker, Link refleced.

"Moshi . . . San!" said Link, trying to remember something from the Japanese lessons they had made the war prisoners take. "San ni o me ni—oh hell, let it go, you flat-faced little thug!"

He wheeled back, and walked around the outside of the inn. The guards were well-placed, he saw, and there was not much chance of making a successful break, and nothing but many square miles of Japan around them if they did get away.

Link had stolen some of Azaraski's American cigaretes, palming them back at Niji Prison before they started out on this mysterious ride. He lighted one. The cigaret smoke was utterly delicious. It was strange to remember that lighting an American cigaret had once been a casual commonplace thing one hardly noticed.

He saw Tilda Courtright coming toward him. He was glad to see her.

"You got it," Courtright said, with her characteristic directness. "You've got an answer to this. It came to you, didn't it?"

Link looked at the homely, capable old lady and he was undecided if he should tell her, undecided what to do.

CLOVIS POSTMASTER

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—President Roosevelt sent to the Senate today for confirmation the name of Edward L. Manson for postmaster at Clovis, N. Mex.

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

LAST night I went to bed with an awful sore throat, a miserable headache and that general worn-out washrag feeling for which the doctors can't do a thing except to tell you to go to bed, take some aspirin, gargle with salt-water and spray your throat.

So, at 8 o'clock I took my newspapers and four or five magazines upstairs and prepared for an evening of rest and self-pity.

First of all, however, I went to the medicine-chest, got the thermometer and stuck it in my mouth.

Ninety-nine-two, it said; ye gods and little fishes!

Ninety-nine-two; certainly looked like pneumonia to me.

(If you have or are a husband, you probably know that all men see pneumonia in the slightest cold; cancer in almost any pain; tuberculosis in every cough. That is, if they have it. If you, the wife, have a pain or cough or have a cold, then it's just nothing at all and don't coddle yourself so much.)

At any rate, when I saw the 99.2 on the thermometer, I called the wife, who had been through these things with me before. She promptly gave me my medicine, some orange juice, inquired whether I wanted an alcohol rub, tucked me into the blankets, turned off the light—and in five minutes I was fast asleep.

• • •

This morning I felt much better although still weak. Temperature was normal, the throat still a bit raw, but I had no trouble eating a half grapefruit, a bowl of farina, two fried eggs, four slices of toast and two cups of coffee.

For luncheon my wife wisely gave me just a bowl of soup. But when she went downtown to do the marketing, I sneaked a bologna sandwich and three slices of pound cake down the hatch.

When the wife came back, she gave me some more medicine, sympathized with my run-down condition, made up the bed for me, and, I'd like to bet you, called me a gosh-darn faker under her breath.

• • •

BUT we men really aren't fakers at heart. We like to do everything well.

And when we're sick, we like to be good and sick!

By the way, the doctor just came. My wife called him without telling me anything about it, just in case.

"Little cold," he said after examining me.

"You think it's safe to go to the office tomorrow?" I asked him.

"Certainly," he said, "perfectly safe."

I think I'll change doctors.

The National Whirligig

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE Anglo-American High Command has blueprinted the European invasion program with the resolve that the Allies shall not duplicate the mistakes which have robbed the Axis powers of whatever chance they had of winning the war.

Although its summary of German-Japanese blunders is highly confidential, there seems to be no reasoon why its general content shoould not be revealed to American readers.

The Roosevelt-Churchill insistence on our being ready for any emergency on the beachheads accounts for the delay in starting the grand assault, except in Italy. But it may insure eventual victory with a minimum of losses.

Officers of the American General Staff, in collaboration with their British opposites, have made an inventory of German and Japanese blunders since the Nazis' attack on Poland in September of 1939.

Their main conclusion is that the lethargic Teutons and the imitative Orientals lacked military imagination, such as Eisenhower, MacArthur and Halsey have exhibited in abundance, and did not envisage or prepare for unexpected happenings.

Moreover, it is now apparent that Berlin and Tokyo did not have sufficient power to exert at the proper times and places, when the application of a little extra pressure might have proved fatal to the United Nations. Dunkirk and Pearl Harbor are the two outstanding examples of the foe's failure in this respect.

Had Hitler and Hirohito been in a posttion to capitalize on those disasters—in fact, had they foreseen them—the Allies might not now be making plans to follow up the Mediterranean battle with a mortal blow against Festung Europa.

• • •

FOOTHOLD: The enemy, in the opinion of our strategists, committed at least five major mistakes in less than five years. Were it not for these great strategic and tactical errors, Washington and London would not be preparing today to deliver a knockout blow to Herr Hitler.

Number One "bull," in their opinion, was Der Fuehrer's failure to launch an all-out attack against Britain after the French debacle and the Dunkirk evacuation. Britain was virtually defenseless on land and in the air. Churchill has said privately that 500,000 well-equipped storm troopers might have forced capitulation by the British cabinet.

The explanation is that Hitler did not anticipate such a speedy fall in France, Belgium and Holland. He expected at least six months of fighting before he reached the Channel ports. Therefore, he was not prepared to exploit that tragedy. He did not have the ships, the planes, the weapons or the men.

We will be ready to deepen any beachheads we establish, whether it takes two weeks or two months to obtain a foothold on the coast of France, Belgium, Holland or Norway.

• • •

HONOLULU: "Big Boy" Benito stage-managed the greatest "boner" of all, in the opinion of Chief of Staff George Marshall and his aides. Humorously speaking, they suggest that the erstwhile strong man of Italy deserves a statue in Lafayette Square or on Buckingham Palace grounds.

Seeking to emulate Hitler, the Italian dictator attacked little Albania in the winter of 1941. His war machine against the brave mountaineers of the Balkans stalled and Der Fuehrer had to rescue him from defeat and humiliation.

Had it not been for this diversion, and the stubborn resistance of the British, New Zealanders and Australians on the Peninsula, the Nazis would have moved against Russia in April instead of in June of 1941.

Those extra three months might have enabled them to knock the unready Soviet forces out of the war before the snows fell that Autumn.

The other important blunder was the Japs' failure to follow up their December Seventh bombing of Pearl Harbor. The little brown men could have captured this Pacific fortress had they been prepared to land an army at Honolulu. And had they done so, Australia might have fallen within a few months.

• • •

SUPREMACY: It may be of interest to sincere advocates and opponents of the issue of white political supremacy in the South that not more than 20 senators were present in the chamber during the debate on this question.

• • •

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

WHAT does the revived clash of arms in Italy portentee.

Much more than appears in the immediate headlines. In addition to the current bitterly fought drive and the thunderbolts that are about to fall on the western and eastern fronts, there is the prospect that the Axis may be on the verge of annihilation in the Balkans.

A brief analysis of the entire situation should make clear the tremendous possibilities of this latest battle. Having a two to one superiority in manpower, the United Nations' problem now is to utilize it by hammering the circumference of "Fortress Europe" in many places at the same time so that the Nazis cannot rush reinforcements to plug any break in their far-flung line.

Keep that fact always in mind during the coming weeks; it is the grand strategy of the war.

• • •

STRIKE: If the present struggle against tremendous odds of geography fulfills expectations it should (a) pin down the Reichswehr in lower Italy so it cannot transfer men from this sector to confront our Armies in England, (b) suck in Axis reserves and destroy them, (c) burst the barriers eventually and permit an advance up the boot.

This last objective would gain for us urgently needed ports. We are now limited to distant Brindisi and Bari and to Naples. If General Alexandria's forces keep up their momentum, they may capture Leghorn on the west and Ancona on the Adriatic, in which harbors we could land oil to fuel planes hitting at central Europe and the Balkans.

Apart from scattered manufacturing cities like Berlin, Germany draws her sinews of war from three major industrial areas whose loss would mean disaster. They are: The Ruhr, already almost bombed out of commission; the Rumanian petroleum fields, under frequent aerial strafing; the vast factory belt stretching from eastern Austria through Bohemia to Upper Silesia. This last almost unscathed empire contains the Skoda and other great munitions works.

As the result of our moving infantry up the calf of Italy, our planes may soon be able to strike effectively at this final haven of industry.

TURKEY: But equally important, as we divert the Wehrmacht to fight it out on the Gustav Line or as we creep up the coast of the Adriatic, the way is opened for air or amphibious assault upon the flat Istria Peninsula (between Italy and Yugoslavia), the gateway to Austria and the plains of Hungary.

If we can invade here, the whole Axis fabric in the Balkans will be in more deadly peril than at any time since the start of the conflict.

Berlin has long recognized the vulnerability of Trieste and other cities of the Istrian theater. As early as July, 1943, Madrid reported that the Germans had ousted the Italians from this critical spot and had replaced Mussolini's garrisons with their own tough troops and Todt engineers who ringed the country with pill boxes.

Military experts have always considered that the pivot of Axis defense in the Balkans was Bulgaria and Hungary, whose even meadows provide ample runways for the Luftwaffe. The passageway to Budapest—a city frequently bombed by our planes lately—runs from Trieste to Zagreb.

Trieste is the terminal of the Budapest and Belgrade trunk lines that bring to the Reichswehr the Hungarian foodstuffs and the Rumanian oil. Some of these imports are even shipped from this port in barges that hug the Dalmatian coast, and they supply German divisions as far south as Crete. The city contains great dock and installations that refine the petroleum transported from the Ploesti wells.

If we gain this key position, we shall be on the threshold of the Balkans at a time when the Russian battering ram will be crashing through the Rumanian gate.

Ohio Governor Is Offered Bullet Which Killed Kin

By WILLIAM E. KEYS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, May 17.—If Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio is looking for a bullet which, fired during the Texas War of Independence, killed one of Bricker's kinsmen he probably can have it.

This is the advice of L. W. Kemp of Houston, president of the Texas State Historical association, who says he can direct Governor Bricker to the bullet which is in Houston.

Here's part of the story:

When Gen. Sam Houston ordered his army to retreat from Gonzales some of his men refused. They were then assigned to guard the town and its approaches.

In the fight that followed one of Gen. Santa Aana's soldiers discharged his gun and the bullet hit a sycamore tree, richocheted and struck a young soldier named Bricker in the temple, killing him.

The bullet was extracted and put away in his personal effects.

Kemp says the same bullet has been displayed in Houston and if Bricker will contact him the Ohio governor probably can obtain it.

The Guy's A Jinx

Neth L. Leachman of Dallas is a University of Texas graduate. He is also a member of the board of directors of Texas A. & M. college. But since he's been on the A. & M. board the Aggies have not beaten Texas University at football.

Leachman also is a member of the A. & M. board's athletic committee.

"Maybe he's been talking to D. X.," commented Aggie Coach Homer Norton, meaning, of course, D. X. Bible, head football coach at the University of Texas.

Norton's comment, made while he was a witness before a senate committee, brought a big laugh from everyone present, including Leachman.

THE narrow, twisting stairs leading from the fourth floor (where elevator service ceases) to the top of the capitol dome have had their annual drubbing. It comes during each Interscholastic league meet. This year 473 high school boys and girls, in one day, mounted the dizzy heights which frighten off most adults.

Governor Likes Siestas

While it will not impair good neighbor relations, Gov. Coke R. Stevenson deplores President Avila Camacho's decree barring siestas.

"I like a 20-minute one myself," Stevenson confides.

Another of the governor's predilections is dancing, strickly the old fashioned kind. He holds no truck for modern steps. The square dance, the polka, schottische and similar unhurried, measured steps are favored.

SO you're out of the Army? As a veteran you are entitled to many privileges provided by the government but you've probably never heard of most of them.

The best medium through which to learn of your status now that you hold an honorable discharge is the American Red Cross which is daily answering hundreds of questions asked by returning servicemen.

Your city or town has a local chapted.

When you are discharged from a hospital, camp or base the Red Cross officer on duty obtains information regarding you and forwards a letter to your home town chapter.

The home town chapter in turn contacts you and offers its services in any way possible.

• • •

Many Problems Bob Up

There are numerous problems to be solved by the veteran.

First is the matter of your discharge certificate. Did you know that it will be the only original certificate you will ever receive? The best thing to do is immediately to file it for public record in the county clerk's office. Should you lose the original, you then can easily obtain a duplicate.

Then you must register with your local draft board. If you were discharged because of physical disability, you are placed in 1-C classification.

Next, register for your mustering out pay. Two forms must be filled in and mailed with your original honorable discharge certificate to the regional finance officer.

The Red Cross has the application forms and will prepare and mail them.

• • •

THE government grants a man who has been on foreign combat duty $300 mustering out pay. One who has not left the continental United States receives $200 and one who has been in uniform less than 60 days $100. Payments are made in $100 sums, 30 days apart.

The Red Cross handles claims for veterans, too, and assumes power of attorney to represent returned servicemen with their consent in appealing their claims, if necessary.

If you have a disability discharge, you may file a claim. This does not mean that you will collect, for your claim must be surveyed by an adjudication board of the Veterans Administration which will decide whether you merit compensation.

Compensation and pension often are confused by returning servicemen. Compensation is paid for disability incurred in service. For instance, if you have lost an arm or suffered other disability from military service you are entitled to compensation.

STANDARD FACTS

SEA POWER...
Unites the United Nations, makes them strong
Look at your world map. Without the power to move freely over the face of the seas, what could the United Nations accomplish? They would be isolated—and destroyed one by one—because they could not help one another.

SEA POWER
STRENGTHENS FEEDS, TOO!
Consider feeds for poultry and livestock. Grains alone, without the help of quality minerals, VITAMINS and FOOD MINERALS, are not "strong," meaning simply that rations of grain alone will not produce the maximum amounts of meat, milk and eggs per pound of feed. You waste time and money when you feed weak feeds. The sea is our richest potential source of the very proteins, vitamins and food minerals needed to balance up the grains and mill feeds produced on land, to help them give best feeding results.

STANTON'S FEEDS CONTAIN MANAMAR
The ManAmar contained in Stanton's Feeds is produced by Philip R. Park, Inc., San Pedro, Calif. This research organization specializes in "sea farming" . . . gathering, concentrating and blending always-healthy ocean fish (and their by-products) and "Sea Alfalfa" or Kelp. The fish are rich in proteins and also in health- and growth-promoting vitamins. Kelp supplies food minerals which may be lacking in land feeds.

Try Stanton's feeds, enriched with ManAmar, and increase your production schedule and profit. Get all the facts, today.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, May 17 (AP) — Rye prices broke more than 2 cents at times today, reaching new lows for the year, as selling came into the pit from commission houses. The weakness in rye influenced oats, grains and December contracts of both wheat and oats were down about a cent. December barley was off around 2 cents.

May wheat, oats and barley held at ceilings. Active wheat futures closed ⅝-1⅛ lower, July $1.65½, active oats ⅝-1⅛; July 77¾, active barley ⅞-1½ lower. Oats, corn and barley at northern shipping point ceiling prices, plus freight.

STOCKS PUSH UPWARD

NEW YORK, May 17 (AP)—The stock market threw off its invasion inhibitions today as buying expanded under brisk demand for rubbers, rails, sugars and specialties.

Market Street Railway preferred climbed more than 3 after the disclosure that San Francisco voters had approved the proposed municipal purchase of the property. Standard Oil edged up fractionally in response to President H. F. Sinclair's statement at the annual meeting that he would recommend an increase in the dividend. Latest payment was 15 cents.

Up a point or more were Goodrich, U. S. Rubber, Hercules Powder, Montgomery Ward, Northern Pacific, Phillip Morris, American Sugar and South Porto Rico Sugar. Smaller advances were registered by Goodyear, U. S. Steel, General Motors, United Aircraft, Boeing, International Telephone, DuPont, Texas Co., Standard Oil, (NJ), Santa Fe, Southern Pacific and Southern Railway.

Massed Guns Serve Notice That Crisis Is Near In Italy

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

Massed guns supporting the right flank of the Allied drive in Italy have served notice on Nazi defenders that the battle crisis is at hand. The guns obviously were paving the way for a tank-led lunge up the Liri valley through the dismembered Gustav defenses to come to grips with the Adolf Hitler line itself.

SIMPSON

That is the 12-mile span of long-prepared Nazi second-line defenses across the Liri valley from Piedmonte on the mountain slopes northwest of Cassino to the region of Esperio in the hills south of the river. It is linked by a secondary highway which crosses the Liri at Pontecorvo, probable next main Eighth Army objective.

Valley 10 Miles-Wide

At the point where the British have broken through from their Rapido bridgehead beyond the Cassino-Formia road, the Liri valley is some 10 miles wide. Its flat floor, lying between the mountains to the north and the lesser but formidable hill clusters near the coast, extends northwestward a full 15 miles, widening out up stream. Various Liri tributaries may impede Allied progress, but there is no formidable natural obstacle short of the upper Liri itself.

It is presumed that along this critical sector of the route to Rome the Nazi genius for contriving artificial tank blocks, cross-fire gun emplacements, meshed wire entanglements and booby traps has run its full course. Hitler line defenders cannot count here as they did ineffectually on the Gustav line on flanking fire from high-posted guns on either side of the valley to break up a determined Allied forward push.

New Barrage Loosed

In preparation for that push, Allied guns loosed a new barrage on Monastery mountain above Cassino. There were indications that the German garrison of the town below might be only a sacrificial rear gard detachment, covering Nazi withdrawal from both Cassino and the battered, Monastery hill above.

As the pattern of the new Italian campaign has thus far developed, the Eighth Army armored drive up the Liri appears to be its main operations.

The week-long battle in Italy would represent nly a minor phase of the whole Russian-Allied strategic design if it fell short of breaking the Hitler line as well as shattering its Gustav outpost system. It cannot well halt now short of contact with the inner Nazi defenses guarding the approaches to Rome.

Farmer Near Here Displays Odd Eggs

Some oddities in hen eggs were brought into the Avalanche editorial rooms Wednesday by Will Stacy who operates a farm five miles west of the courthouse.

Layed by an English White, one of the eggs had a V for victory outlined on the shell and another egg had a pattern resembling the country of Italy. Two other soft shell eggs were connected by a tube-like growth.

B. W. Thompson Rites Are Held Wednesday

Last rites for B. W. Thompson, 49, 1711 Avenue F, who died at midnight Tuesday at the Lubbock General hospital, were held Wednesday at 3:30 p. m. in the chapel of Sanders Funeral home. Burial was in the Lubbock cemetery.

HEALTH QUIZ

	YES	NO
Do you have poor digestion?	☐	☐
Do you feel headachy after eating?	☐	☐
Do you get sour or upset easily?	☐	☐
Do you feel tired—listless?	☐	☐

Now everyone knows that to get the good out of the food you eat—you must digest it properly. But what most people don't know is that Nature must produce about two pints of the digestive juice—liver bile—each day to help digest your food. If Nature fails, your food may remain undigested, lie sour and heavy within you.

Thus, it is simple to see that one way to aid digestion is to increase the flow of liver bile. Now, Carter's Little Liver Pills start to increase this flow quickly for thousands—often in as little as thirty minutes. When bile flow increases, your digestion may improve. And, soon you're on the road to feeling better—which is what you're after.

Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's, taken as directed, aid digestion after Nature's own order. Get Carter's Little Liver Pills today—only 25¢. You'll be glad you did.

WHY telephones are hard to get

The telephone business is deep in the war and getting deeper all the time.

The farther American forces advance, the more they need switchboards, wire, and telephones—the more they need the other electrical weapons being made now in telephone factories.

Yet folks at home want more, too. Since the National Defense program started in 1940, we have supplied not only the needs of army, navy, and war producers but have given service to hundreds of thousands of others as well. In all, the Bell System has increased the number of telephones in service by over 4½ million.

The equipment to do this came from reserves that are about used up. No more can be made for civilian use. That's why we can't fill orders as fast as we'd like.

But—helped by the patience and understanding of telephone users—we're doing all we can to serve as many as possible as soon as possible by:

Reconditioning and using every bit of telephone wire and central office equipment that will give good service.

Recovering such equipment quickly when someone discontinues service.

Operating central offices beyond their normal capacity.

Taking extra-good care of switchboards, relays, cable, and all equipment that can't be replaced.

And, with the co-operation of telephone customers, converting one-party lines to serve two or more families.

If you are one of those who are waiting, we'd like you to know we shall take care of your needs as soon as we possibly can.
