BOY VICTIM OF BRUTAL ATTACK HERE DIES

NEGRO SUSPECT SPIRITED OFF TO FORT WORTH

Partial Identification Of Black Is Made By Store Man

THEORIES ARE VARIED

Lack of Co-operation Among Officers Marks Day

Wesley Ashmore is dead.

After staging a losing fight with death for 30 hours young Ashmore died Wednesday afternoon at 7:15 o'clock in the local hospital. From the time that the boy was found in the store on Ninth street with his head battered to a pulp there was no chance for his recovery but with a vitality that was astonishing to attending physicians the 13-year-old boy clung grimly to life.

Never Regained Senses.

At no time did he gain consciousness and a word never passed his lips giving any clue to the murderer that committed the crim. There was some hope at first that a word or phrase would drop from the lips of the dying boy that would give the officials some clew to work upon, but he died with the secret.

Co-Operation Lacking.

At the end of a day of feverish activity, nothing definite could be announced last night tending to show that progress had been made on the case. As a matter of fact, the various departments involved were so widely at variance with each other that it was difficult to know what to think, and it was a noticeable fact that there was a regretable lack of co-operation among the departmental officers most active in the prosecution of the case.

What seemed to be the most promising angie yet established was furnished yesterday by the sheriff's department which effected the arrest and partial identification of a negro youth who is now said to be in jail at Fort Worth. The negro was positively identified by C. G. Johnson as the one who had appeared in his store about 12:30 Tuesday afternoon, carrying a sawed-off billiard cue and in search of some thread.

Identification Dramatic.

The identification was made under dramatic circumstances in the county jail where the negro was placed following his arrest at midnight by Deputy Sheriffs George Hawkins and W. P. Belcher and State Ranger W. W. Belcher. Mr. Johnson, who had maintained from the first that he could identify the black who entered his store and against whom suspicion has been directed, was stationed alone in the jail and one after another, half a dozen negro men were led before him.

As the negro in question came in Johnson's fists clenched and tears swelled in his eyes.

"That's him," he declared.

The quaking negro was immediately hurried away while Mr. Johnson, still visibly affected, left the jail.

Pushed to Fort Worth.

He was so positive in his belief that little doubt was left in the minds of officials that the negro had at least been in the store where young Ashmore later met death. Accordingly, he was taken to Fort Worth a short time later, Deputy Sheriff George Hawkins, State Ranger W. W. Belcher and Special Officer Charlie Bebout driving down with him in a car.

No questions were asked him here and no reports had been received last night that he had made any statements at all regarding his complicity.

The negro tallied exactly with pre-

CHEERS FOR AL AS HE APPEARS

N. Y. Also-Ran Stops Noise And Tells of His Noble State

By The Associated Press.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, July 9.—Amid a great demonstration and while thousands sang "East Side, West Side," Alfred E. Smith appeared tonight before the democratic national convention in Madison Square Garden. The thousands who idolize the New York governor all but burst their throats and almost lifted the roof of the great garden when he appeared on the speakers' platform.

The great crowd cheered the governor so loud and so long that Chairman Walsh almost despaired of getting the audience quiet enough to hear him, but when the governor himself held up his hands for silence, the crowd quickly quietd down to hear him.

"Not being familiar with the rules of the convention," he began, "I am afraid that the applause will be taken out of my time and I request that you refrain until I finish. I feel that it would be useless for me to extend any word of welcome to the delegates and their friends because the great city of New York made as complete a job as could be made of it."

"If you have been annoyed by the zeal of those who have tried to explain that I am the greatest man in the world please overlook it."

"I our conception of modern government, and ideals of the relationship that the state should bear to the people, the state of New York leads the country."

SENATOR WEARS NO MAN'S COLLAR, SAYS

DETROIT, July 9.—Senator James Couzens of Michigan, announcing his candidacy for nomination at the September primaries to succeed himself, in a formal statement today refused to pledge his full support to President Coolidge or either state or national republican platform. He challenged the right of party "bosses" to dictate his courses of action and made his bid for the vote of Michigan electors on his past record for which, he said, he had no apologies to make.

INDEPENDENTS MAKE BOTH NOMINATIONS

INDIANAPOLIS, July 9.—John Zahnd of Indianapolis, was nominated for president of the United States on the national independent ticket here tonight, while Roy H. Harrop of Omaha, Neb., was chosen as the vice presidential nominee.

Will History Repeat Itself?

An Editorial

THE democratic party selected its greatest mind to represent it in the three-cornered presidential race to be decided in November.

It seems incredible that out of the mistakes of the past two weeks at New York, such a selection as that of John W. Davis could have been made.

Even the enemies of Davis and of the clients he represents have admitted that Davis is the best equipped man for the presidency in all these United States.

* * * *

THE single objection that prevented him from being the choice of the party in the opening ballots was the fact that as a lawyer he has represented the so-called Morgan interests.

What of it? It would be an insult to the intelligence of the Morgan banking firm to suppose that it would hire any other than the best legal talent. A single mistake by the chief attorney of such interests often means the loss of millions of dollars. Thus the Morgan connection is in itself a guarantee of the legal and mental ability of the democratic candidate.

* * * *

THERE is also a most definite guarantee that Davis is an American citizen, first, last and all the time. For Davis, both in West Virginia and New York, has represented organized labor as its attorney. He worked so well for organized labor that Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was reported repeatedly during the long convention as in favor of the nomination of Davis.

A third sure guarantee of the quality of Davis, the man, is shown in the fact that the tens of thousands of attorneys represented in the American Bar association have honored Davis by making him its president.

Thus Davis, the youngest of the candidates before the convention, was ultimately selected as its nominee because the delegates decided after all that their job was to place before the American people the party's best equipped person for the business of being president. Such a man is Davis who has achieved at the age of 50 the headship of his profession and who has served with equal honor and ability the organized workers of America and organized wealth of America.

The fact that Davis within little more than a quarter of a century of manhood could have reached such a position from a comparative obscure origin in the politically unimportant state of West Virginia is in itself an inspiration and proof that brains in America still may reach the top along strictly honorable lines.

* * * *

Davis was nominated after a most bitter religious controversy. He took no part in it. Davis was nominated following a most vicious attack by W. J. Bryan who labeled him the candidate of Wall street. Davis did not reply. Davis was nominated in the race of a wet and dry fight within the party. He ignored it. Thus the democratic party out of the turmoil has selected a candidate who can heal all wounds of the party except the wound of disappointment of certain candidates who wanted the job.

* * * *

The quadrennial battle is now on Davis, Coolidge and La Follette.

Can there be any doubt but that the story of "1912" is about to be repeated?

Coolidge is in the position of Taft, La Follette a somewhat lesser Roosevelt breaking into the vitals of the republican west, and Davis inherits the same political situation which resulted in the Wilson victory of "1912."

MEREDITH AND WALSH DECLINE

Both Say They Will Not Have Second Demo Honor

By The Associated Press.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, July 9.—Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana tonight "finally and decisively" declined the nomination for vice-president. J. Bruce Kremer of Montana tonight announced in the convention hall that he was authorized to voice the senator's declaration.

MEREDITH DECLINES.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, July 9.—E. T. Meredith, former secretary of agriculture, tonight authorized the Associated Press to say that under no circumstances would he accept the democratic vice-presidential nomination.

"I hope that my name will not be presented," Mr. Meredith said, "if it is presented and no one in the Iowa delegation will get up and withdraw it, I will. It is not in the cards for me to make this race."

Mr. Meredith made the statement shortly before the convention convened as he stood in the entrance to the hall. He said that he was looking for some of the leaders to tell them that he would not run.

Demo Committees Go in Hole This Time For Fair

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 9.—The long deadlock in the democratic national convention has proved a severe drain on official as well as private funds.

The New York convention committee, which practically financed the big show for the first two weeks, turned this task over to the democratic national committee this week after expending about $800,000, not including the $500 daily cost of the band and other amusement features.

The national committee, with funds limited to about $100,000, promptly began to reduce the costs, eliminating, among other things, 41 of the 45 ushers, on the theory that after a score of sessions ticket holders needed no guidance to find their seats. Despite the retrenchments, however, it was said today that th national committee already had overdrawn its fund by $25,000.

DAVIS GIVEN NOMINATION ON RECORD BALLOT

Nominating of West Virginian Comes on 103rd Ballot

ENDS BITTER FIGHT

Convention Makes History In Making Choice for Coming Campaign

By The Associated Press.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, July 9.—John W. Davis of West Virginia is the democratic party's standard bearer in the coming presidential campaign. He received the mandate of his party today on the 103rd ballot after the most lengthy and bitterly contested fight in the history of American convention politics.

Davis is pleased to accept the nomination. He said so himself when informed of the action of the convention, and he takes up the party standard as a champion of progressive thought and politics, he declared.

Davis' nomination came after McAdoo and Smith had liberated their delegates from pledges, and after an exciting race of four ballots during which time Oscar W. Underwood advanced to second place.

Beginning with this morning's balloting the movement to Davis gathered a momentum which could not be retarded and gradually but surely through the succeeding ballots the votes flopped over into the John W. Davis column as state after state either increased its offering to him or turned over its whole quota.

Bryan's opposition to Davis was swept away in the rain of Davis votes which swept over the convention. The attempt of the McAdoo forces to make E. T. Meredith of Iowa the heir to the McAdoo strength commanded a following but he made only a bad third and when the Davis flood was rising so fast that all other candidates were being swept before it, Iowa, Meredith's home state, withdrew him from the contest and voted for Davis.

Then scenes of disorder swept the convention as everybody clamored for a chance to join the winning forces. When the air was at its height, Thomas Taggart of Indiana, mounted a chair and moved the nomination of Mr. Davis by acclamation. The motion was carried with a roar and Chairman Walsh shouted into the din before him:

"The chair declares the Honorable John W. Davis the nominee of this convention."

The official roll call of the 103rd ballot for president in the democratic national convention stood as it stood at the point when the nomination of John W. Davis of West Virginia was made by acclamation, showing these totals:

Davis 838 1-2, Underwood 108, Robinson 20, McAdoo 11 1-2, Smith 7 1-2, Walsh 58, Meredith 15 1-2, Glass 23, Daniels 1, Hull 1, Gerard 8. Total votnig 1002. Absent or not voting 6. Necessary to a choice 728.

Immediately the tired, worn and weary convention which had been struggling in the throes of a seemingly interminable dead-lock for two weeks, with the threat of going into a third, broke loose in a demonstration of joy and relief.

Immediately all the state standards which had previously been parading for other candidates, some of them in the midst of hard-fought battles of partisan dispute, were carried into the aisles of the convention hall while a

Thomas Love In Slam At Davis, And Then Praise

Texas Banner Takes Place With New York In Big Procession

By Bascom N. Timmons
Record News Staff.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, July 9.—Blue bordered around its field of white they raised the flag of the mountainous state of West Virginia to the speaker's rostrum at Madison Square Garden this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Between the pictures of Woodrow Wilson and Grover Cleveland, hanging on either side of the great hall they elevated the picture of John W. Davis.

Ends Bitter Fight.

Thus came the climax of America's longest and most bitterly fought convention. The nomination came on the 103rd ballot. But there were only four real ballots, beginning with the 100th. The other 99 were for elimination.

Around and around the great hall came the state standards. Here was the great moment that came twice every four years, once in the republican and once in the democratic party, when the two great constitutional parties name their man.

New York and Texas Join.

Here came New York dancing her standard wildly. Right behind her was Texas, her standard carrier doing a cake walk. And who 24 hours ago would have imagined Texas and New York forgetting their differences so quickly?

It is too early to predict the alignments that may come in this campaign. It is too early to predict what the voters will do in November, yet there was nothing but smiles in Madison Square Garden this afternoon.

To James M. Cox, 1920 standard bearer, is due the credit for bringing about the nomination of Davis. Cox came here Monday and at once decreed that Davis should be the nominee.

Texans Join Stampede.

The Texas delegation, after switching from McAdoo to Meredith, were driven into the Davis camp by the strategy employed by the Davis men. It was decreed that Underwood was to have a complimentary run along with Davis while the West Virginian climbed to his majority. It was never thought by the men who were giving Underwood his votes that the Alabamian had a chance to win. They were merely caring for his feelings by allowing him to rise to a respectable vote.

But the Texans thought Underwood was "well meant" by his backers and they went tumbling into Davis' camp, although Thomas B. Love, national committeeman, was bitterly opposed to Davis.

Love Slams Davis.

Love, just before the Davis band wagon started, gave out a slam in which he declared that the liquor interests and Wall street had defeated McAdoo.

John Davis, Dallas, whose foghorn voice has been the talk of the convention, cast the Texas votes for John W. Davis.

Texas Leaders Pleased.

Col. Thomas H. Ball, Houston, whose preference was Davis instead of Meredith, as soon as Meredith withdrew, said he believed Davis' choice meant victory in the border states.

Cato Sells, Fort Worth, called Davis "the best type of Woodrow Wilson democrat in public life."

Cullen F. Thomas, Dallas, just got here in time to see what other Texans have been waiting for for weeks. Thomas, who is to sail with the American Bar association party this week, arrived at Madison Square Garden 30 minutes before Davis was nominated.

Then Praises Him.

Thomas B. Love, Texas national committeeman, tonight authorized the following statement:

"The convention was ultimately forced to a choice between John W. Davis and Senator Underwood and very wisely it nominated Davis. He is a man of the highest character, splendidly equipped for the duties of the presidency and a sound democrat who is a progressive at heart. He is one of the great lawyers of the world and I predict that as president of the United States he will serve the people with the same skill, zeal and effectiveness he serves his private clients and that those who may hope or expect any other course from him will be disappointed."

Landslide On Initial Ballot Brings Speedy Decision

DAVIS TAKES CHARGE

Presidential Nominee Dictates naming of Running Mate

By The Associated Press.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, July 10.—Charles W. Bryan, governor of Nebraska, early today was nominated for vice-president on the democratic ticket after a conference in which John W. Davis, nominee for president, took part.

States taking part on the first ballot quickly changed their votes for Bryan, among them Texas, which had started out with 40 for its native son, Alvin M. Owsley.

Following the nomination of Bryan, the convention adjourned sine die.

Texas Changes Vote.

One of the states that changed to Bryan was Texas, which at the same time withdrew the name of Alvin Owsley. The action was taken, the delegation chairman said, "on behalf of Colonel Owsley."

The flood of changes to Bryan indicated his nomination as soon as the votes could be counted.

Missouri also changed to give the bulk of her votes to Bryan. A dozen other delegation chairmen were on their feet attempting to gain recognition to change their votes. Governor Bryan already had close to a majority.

A California delegation moved to suspend the rules and nominate Mr. Bryan by acclamation but there were loud cries of "No" from the states that were voting for George L. Berry of Tennessee who demanded that a nomination be made in the usual way. The motion was withdrawn.

Davis Assumes Power

John W. Davis assumeed tonight the active leadership of the party.

After appearing before the convention and sounding the rallying cry of a fighting campaign, he went into conference with party managers regarding the nomination for the vice presidency. The stage of actual balloting for second place on the ticket had been reached but just before the first roll call began a recess of an hour was taken to permit of discussions that would enable selection of a nominee on which all elements could unite.

Bryan Nominated

It was past 1 o'clock when the convention reassembled after the conference of the leaders to begin balloting for the vice presidential nomination. Harry B. Flaherty of Omaha took the platform to present the name of Charles W. Bryan.

"We bring to you a servant of democracy for the past 25 years," he said, "and urge his nomination."

There was a flutter of handclapping when the speaker recounted that Governor Bryan was in touch with the agricultural questions of the west, and with the liberal sentiment of the nation.

The chairman of the Massachusetts delegation withdrew the name of William A. Gaston which he said had been presented "without the authority of the delegation."

DAVIS URGES PARTY HARMONY

Nominee Addresses National Convention By Invitation

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, July 9.—John W. Davis acknowledged his nomination for the presidency by the democratic convention by appearing before the convention by invitation tonight and giving a pledge of his devotion to the cause of the party.

Express Gratitude.

The nominee began by an expression of gratitude and appreciation of the honor that had come to him.

"But grateful as I am of this great honor, I think even more of the duties you have given me to perform. But I take comfort when I look at the banners displayed throughout this hall and reflect that they are not the standards of a phantom army but that they represent an army of millions of democrats ready as they always have been to battle for liberty and righteousness.

"We are a national party, and it must be, I believe, because we profess a national creed. The great principles of the democratic party—honesty in government, that public office is a public trust, equal rights to all men and special privilege to none, fair and equal taxation, an open door to opportunity to the humblest citizen in all the land, liberty at home and courage and honor and helpfulness abroad these principles are as dear to the east as to the west and revered by the north and by the south.

Ready to Do Battle.

"And this great army is ready to do battle against any who challenge any part of it. On this platform, all progressives can stand, to this banner all liberals can rally and for this cause all democrats can and I know will stand united.

"I know this convention has had its differences, but all the things were but the thunderstorm that cleared the clouds away and left shining on us the sun of coming victories and success.

"When I am duly advised of the nomination it will be my duty to speak further on these and kindred themes. I shall, therefore, do no more at the moment than to express my appreciation and to express my confidence that I shall lead in this campaign a united, a militant and a victorious party."

COOLIDGE SON BURIAL TODAY

Funeral Services Observed At Washington Wednesday

WASHINGTON, July 9.—President and Mrs. Coolidge tonight took their boy, Calvin, back to Vermont to be buried in the family plot of the little cemetery at Plymouth.

A simple but impressive funeral was held in the East Room of the White House late this afternoon, attended by government officials, ranking military officers, members of the diplomatic corps and intimate friends of the family.

On the White House lawn several thousand people stood with bowed heads during the ceremony, having come to give visible expression of their sympathy.

Bear Up Well.

Typical of their New England reserve, President and Mrs. Coolidge repressed outward manifestation of their grief. The family, broken for the first time, drew comfort from the service and Mrs. Coolidge listened attentively to the consoling words of the scripture. The president, on her left, sat with head slightly bowed. The son, John, on his mother's right, sat erect and listened earnestly to the pastor.

A little later in the evening the casket was closed for the last time in the presence of the family, and soon thereafter, almost to the hour when three weeks ago, bubbling with joy, he returned home from school, the boy was carried to the funeral train.

Northampton Today.

Tomorrow a brief stop will be made at Northampton, Mass., where Calvin was born and where services will be held for him. From there the party, including members of the president's cabinet and others close to him in personal and official life, will proceed to Plymouth.

Burial will be there late in the afternoon in the lot where the president's mother and sister lie, and tomorrow night those who made the journey will return to the capital.

The Alaska railroad is the only line in the world operating a 24-hour service without signal lights, say officials.

LUTHERAN STATE SYNOD MEETS

College In Texas Is One Of Chief Topics Discussed

By The Associated Press.

MARLIN, Tex., July 9.—The annual Lutheran Missouri Synod state convention opened near here this afternoon with representatives from practically all congregations in the synod in the state present. The sessions, held in the Trinity Lutheran church at Perry, will continue until July 13.

Among the subjects expected to come up for consideration and in which there is much preliminary interest is the establishment of a Lutheran college in Texas. The location of the proposed school has not yet been chosen, but a committee to make the choice probably will be appointed, also a board of directors and an electoral college.

School Aid.

The educational board, of which the Rev. K. G. Manse of Austin is chairman, has prepared a report showing how many Lutheran congregations are maintaining Christian day schools. The synod is giving aid to 30 students who are in college preparing themselves for church work.

The superannuated ministers' fund is now about $3,000,000 and detailed report will be made concerning it. The report of the board of finance will show that communicant members of the church in Texas contributed an average of $19.96 each during the past year.

Color Cut-Outs

The Bold Bandit.

A few minutes passed, while the boys and girls at the Color Cut-outs' Wild West show waited for the next act. Then Jack came out again, this time disguised as a Mexican bandit. He crouched down behind some dry goods boxes painted up to represent rocks.

"Here I wait until stage coach pass," declared the bandit in a loud whisper. "Then I get money from trunk. I hear it is full of gold—much gold."

Then the stage coach trotted out. The Mexican pointed his gun and cried out, "Bang! Bang!" Away ran the stage coach, and the trunk on the back dropped off. The Mexican ran to open it, but just then other shots were heard, somewhere in the distance.

LIVED ON RICE AND CRACKERS FOR A YEAR

In such terrible condition from indigestion that he had to live on a diet of rice and crackers for over a year, John H. Zachary, 2817 Bookout St., Dallas, Texas, states that M. Andre's famous new medicine Karnak has fixed him up so that he can now eat anything he wants.

"I had reached the point where my stomach simply felt raw," says Mr. Zachary. "I bloated with gas until I couldn't draw a deep breath, and sharp pains around my heart caused me agony. I was so miserable I couldn't rest nights, and during the day I felt lifeless on my feet.

"I started taking Karnak when I read about the medicine, and it has put me in the pink of condition. I eat, sleep and work like my old self, and feel as fine as a fiddle in every way. I will gladly verify my statement to anyone who calls on me."

Karnak is sold in Wichita Falls by Ben F. Smith Drug Co. and in Burkburnett by the Burkburnett Pharmacy —Adv.

Lemon Juice Whitens Skin

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchid White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.—Adv.

This New Treatment Never Fails to End Piles

Many sufferers from Piles or Hemorrhoids have become despondent because they have been led to believe that their case was hopeless and that there was nothing in the world to help them.

To these people we say, "Go to your druggist and get an original box of MOAVA SUPPOSITORIES." One of these inserted into the rectum according to directions will be found to give immediate relief. They reach the source of the trouble and by their soothing, healing, antiseptic action first allay the pain and soreness and then by direct contact with the ulcers and piles cause them to heal up and disappear forever.

It's simply wonderful how speedily they act. Blessed relief often comes in two days. Even in cases that have steadily resisted all known treatments, marvelous results have been obtained.

Central Drug Store, and Smith's Drug Stores, No. 1 720 Ohio Ave., No. 2 Kemp Hotel Bldg., No. 3 812 Eighth St., dispense MOAVA SUPPOSITORIES in the original box or can get it for you on short notice. Mail orders accepted.—Adv.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

JULY 10, 1924.

HOW GOD LOVES:—For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life.—John 3:16.

PRAYER:—Gracious God, we rejoice in Thy love and thank Thee that we can love Thee in return.

CONVENTIONS.

George L. Rickard, known to the sporting world as Tex Rickard, is a former Texan. He began his very exciting career as a cowboy in Cloy county, Tex. He is now the manager of Madison Square Garden and he is going to build a five million dollar auditorium on Manhattan Island for sporting events, including pugilistic battles and political conventions.

Governor William E. Sweet of Colorado won national fame on the third day of the democratic convention when one of his fellow delegates smashed his jaw and knocked him down in a contest over the possession of the standard of the Colorado delegation.

Governor Sweet came back. He refused to take the count. He smashed his fellow delegate and then he made a smashing speech in seconding the nomination of William Gibbs McAdoo. Democrats are just naturally fighters. They can not keep the peace, at least in the early days of a convention when they are full of pep and punch and their pocket books are fat and their pugnacity on exhibition.

Republican conventions are different. Take the Cleveland convention. Abassador Charles W. Warren came all the way from Mexico City via Washington to the Cleveland convention with the republican platform in his pocket. There was no row over it; the committee on platform accepted it and the convention gave it the stamp of approval. This last act was merely a prefunctory performance.

Republican delegates obey orders. Democratic delegates decline to take orders until their hotel bills reach the high peak, their enthusiasm has spent itself and they are ready to go home to mother. Then the leaders name the ticket and the followers of Jefferson and Jackson and Cleveland and Woodrow Wilson are ready to put on their war paint and demand that the "republican rascals" shall be turned out.

Cleveland turned them out. Woodrow Wilson turned them out. That is Cleveland and Wilson turned out fat republicans and gave the jobs to lean democrats. Now who is going to cut the mellon this year? Will it be the democratic David or the republican Goliah?

Republicans are longing for four more years in the Clover Patch. Democrats are lean and hungry and hope to be able with the aid of Senator LaFollette to break down the barriers and run the fat rascals out of the patch.

WOMEN AND WALL STREET.

Virginia to the bat. Dr. Kate Waller Barrett of Virginia attended the Madison Square Garden convention and made the first defense of Wall Street ever heard in a national democratic convention. This is what she said to her fellow delegates and the visitors:

"I have heard you men abusing Wall street and I want to say I don't like it. Wall street is just as much a part of the United States as Main street. I glory in Main street. I live in Main street. But Main street is made safe by Wall street and don't you forget it."

That woman is of a practical turn of mind. She believes in business, and why shouldn't she if business is legitimate? Main street has its sharks as well as Wall street. The Virginia follower of Jefferson keeps her eyes open as well as her ears.

BUT HE LOST.

New York newspapers say that Newton D. Baker made the most wonderful speech of his career in favor of the league of nations. He did and then the convention defeated his plan by a vote of three to one. Has oratory lost its punch?

Senator Pat Harrison in his keynote speech declared that the democrats in congress marched to victroy under the leadership of Senator Simmons and Congressman John N. Garner. If so, why was Garner overlooked by the Texas delegation?

"THE END OF THE TRAIL"

DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL CONVENTION
WITH APOLOGIES TO JAMES E. FRASER

"OLIVER OCTOBER"

"Where is Jane, Uncle Herbert?" broke in Oliver, twiddling his hat. He was struck by the dazed, beatific, and yet harassed expression in the minister's eyes.

"Jane? Oh, yes, Jane. Why, Jane is upstairs with her rear mother—helping her with her hair, I think. I am sure she will not be down for some time, Oliver. After the hair I think she rubs her back or something of that sort. Do you mind strolling around the yard with me, Oliver? I was on the point of taking Henry the Eighth out for a little exercise."

"Henry the what?" inquired Oliver, still gripping the pastor's hand.

"The Eighth," said Mr. Sage, looking about the porch and shifting the position of his feet in some trepidation. "Bless my soul, what can have become of him? I hope I haven't been standing on him. I should have squashed him—Ah, I remember! The hatrack!"

He dashed into the hall, followed by Oliver, and there was Henry the Eighth suspended from the hatrack by his leach in such a precaucious fashion that only by standing on his hind legs was he able to avoid strangulation.

"I am so absent-minded," murmured Mr. Sage, rather plaintively. "Poor doggie! Was he being hanged like a horrid old murderer? Was he—"

"I say, Uncle Herbert, don't you think Jane may have finished—er—rubbing Mrs. Sage's back by this time?" interrupted the impatient Oliver.

"Possibly," said the other. "Come along, doggie—let's romp a bit."

Meanwhile, Jane, having brushed her mother's hair, was now employed in the more laborious task of rubbing the lady's back.

"You have a great deal of magnetism in your hands, my rear," droned Mrs. Sage, luxuriously. "As I say, my maid always did it for me in London, but she never had the touch that you have. The right shoulder, now, please."

"I think Oliver is downstairs with father," began Jane wistfully.

"She was my dresser, too," went on Mrs. Sage drowsily. "Really, I wonder now that I endured her as long as I did. And I shouldn't if she hadn't been so kind to Henry the Eighth. I do hope your father is giving him a nice hilttle romp in the front—"

"Shall I run down and see, mother?" broke in Jane eagerly.

"Presently, my dear, presently. I shall be taking my tub in a few—you say we have a bathroom now? Dear me, how the house has grown. How many servants have we?"

"One," said Jane succinctly.

"One?" gasped Josephine. "I never heard of such a thing."

"One is all we need, and besides one is all we can afford. I am afraid you will have a lot to put up with, mother dear."

Josephine was silent for a long time. Suddenly she lifted her head and looked up into her daughter's face.

"My dear," she said, with a wry little twist at the corner of her generous mouth, "I've come home to stay. I daresay you will find me capable of taking things as they are. I did it once before, and I can do it again."

The express wagon with Mrs. Sage's trunks arrived as Oliver, in despair, was preparing to depart as he had come, on Marmaduke Smith's bicycle. He took fresh hope. Here was a chance to see Jane after all.

"Where do you want the trunks, Jane?" he shouted from the bottom of the stairs. There was no answer. "Where shall we put them, Uncle Herbert?" he asked, his hands jammed deep in his pockets.

"Bless my soul, I—I haven't an idea," groaned Mr. Sage, passing his hand over his brow. "Unless you put them in my study," he suggested brightly.

Fifteen minutes later, the trunks being piled high in the pastor's little study, Oliver mopped his brow and expressed himself feelingly to Mr. Sage from the bottom of the porch steps.

"Uncle Herbert, I think Jane might have been allowed a minute or two to say hello to a fellow. Good Lord, sir, is—is this to be Jane's job from now on?"

"Sh! The windows are open, Oliver."

"Is she to be nothing but a lady's maid to Aunt Josephine?"

"We are so happy to have her with us, my dear boy, that—er—nothing—er—"

"I understand, Uncle Herbert," broke in Oliver contritely, nothing the pastor's distress. "I'm sorry I spoke as I did. Tell Jane I'll call her up this evening. And please tell Aunt Josephine I am awfully keen to see her. I used to love her better than anything going, you know."

Then he pedalled slowly away on Marmaduke's wheel, looking over his shoulder until the windows of the parsonage were no longer visible.

CHAPTER XVI

Oliver Is Worried

Three days later, the sheriff of the county served papers on Oliver October. The prosecuting attorney had refused to lay the matter before the grand jury, as requested by Horace Gooch, but had grudgingly acceded to his demand that an official investigation be instituted and carried to a definite conclusion by the authorities.

"I want you to understand, Oliver," explained the sheriff, "that this is none of my doing. Gooch has obtained an order from the court, calling for a search of the swamp and your premises, basing his affidavit on the suspicion that his brother-in-law came to his death by foul means and —er—so on. He agrees to pay all the costs arising from this investigation in case nothing comes of it. On the other hand, if your father's body is found, and there is any evidence of foul play, the county naturally is to assume all the costs. The old man has hired two detectives to come down here and take active charge of the work. I hope you won't have any hard feelings toward me, Baxter. I am only doing my duty as ordered by the court."

"Not the slightest feeling in the world, sheriff," said Oliver warmly. "I wish you would do me a favor, however. The next time you see my uncle, please remind him that my offer to give $5,000 if he finds my poor father—dead or alive—still holds. You can start digging whenever you are ready, sheriff. If any damage is done to the property, however, I shall be obliged to compel my uncle to pay for it. Don't forget to tell him that, will you?"

The sheriff grinned. "I wonder if this old bird knows how many votes he's going to lose by this sort of thing." Oliver frowned. "His scheme is to throw suspicion on me, sheriff. That's what he is after. It is possible that a good many people will hesitate about voting for a man who is suspected to killing his own father."

"Don't you worry, Oliver," cried the sheriff, slapping the young man on the back. "Things are coming out all right for you!"

Fully a week passed before a move was made by the authorities. The newspapers devoted considerable first page space to the new angle in the unsolved Baxter mystery, but not one of them took the matter up editorially.

Notwithstanding the retience of the press, the news spread like wildfire that Horace Gooch was actually charging his nephew with the murder of his father. The town of Rumley went wild with anger and indignation. A few hotheads talked of tar and feathers for old man Gooch.

And yet deep down in the soul of every one who cried out against Horace Gooch's malevolence lurked a strange uneasiness that could not be shaken off.

The excitement over the return of Mrs. Sage was shortlived on account of the new and startling turn in the Baxter mystery. Acute interest in the pastor's wife dwindled into a mild, almost innocuous form of curiosity.

Ladies of the congregation, after a dignified season of hesitation, called on her—that is to say, after 48 hours—and were told by the servant that Miss Judge was not at home. She would be at home only on Thursday from 3 to 6. Some little confusion was caused by the name, but this was satisfactorily straightened out by the servant, who explained that Miss Judge and Mrs. Sage were only the same person, and that she was married all right and proper except, as you might say, in name. Mrs. Serepta Grimes, being an old friend, was one of the first to call. And this is what she said to Oliver October that same evening:

"You ask me, did I see her? I did. I told the hired girl to say who it was, and in a minute or two she came back and told me the barefacedest lie I ever heard. She said Mrs. Sage wasn't at home. Well, do you know what I did, Oliver? I just said 'Pooh' and walked right up the stairs and into her room. She got right up and kissed me five or six times and—well, that's about all, except I stayed so long I was afraid I'd be late for supper."

"Did you see Jane?" broke in Oliver.

"Certainly. Do you want to hear what Josephine said about you?"

"No, I can't say that I do. By the way, Aunt Serepta, there is something I've been wanting to ask you for quite a while. Do you think Jane is pretty?"

Mrs. Grimes pondered. "Well," she said judically, "it depends on what you mean by pretty. Do you mean, is she beautiful?"

"I suppose that's what I mean."

"What do you want to know for?"

"Eh?"

"I mean what's the sense of asking me that question? You wouldn't believe me if I said she wasn't pretty, would you?"

"Well, I'd just like to know whether you agree with me or not."

So Goes It

By BURNS HEGLER

Delegates who went to the democratic national convention with the intention of making it a sort of a vacation, have found that it turned out as many vacations do.

Probably Ralston and Cox objected to being fourth or fifth choice.

You probably have noted that occasionally the report on the balloting reads: Absent—2. Those are the delegates that were remaining in bed while they had their clothes pressed.

Enthusiasm is the thing the delegates went to New York with and will come home without.

Anyhow no one can say that the man who sat through the sessions in New York didn't make sacrifices for his party.

Some of the humorists who went to New York to write funny things about the convention are said to have become cynics, although all of them seem to have found a good many laughs there.

The ones who agreed to write both conventions at so much per convention, doubtless will insist on so much per day and an eight-hour day in the future.

Anyhow, it does give something to write about, and as that is the way they make their living they shouldn't complain. So much for the convention.

One of the oldest jokes is about the bull that breaks up a picnic. But it never disturbs a political convention.

There's no need of being lonely in a strange city when you can call a young M. D. for an hour's chat at a cost of $3.00.

If Muscle Shoals is retained by the people, of course you will maintain an eager interest in its development. Eh? Well, so many are like that.

Correct this sentence: "Stand near and tell me how to swim," said the flapper, "but don't touch me."

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

A SONG OF THE NIGHT

When, in the watches of the night,
We drowsily switch off the light,
And softly doze
Toward the repose
We feel is gently coming.
Somewhere amid the Stygian gloom
That hides all objects in the room,
Our startled ear
Chirks up to hear
A lone mosquito humming.

We thereupon sit up in bed,
And slap our hands and slap our head,
And groping round
While drones the sound,
We wildly swat the covers.
And then at last, when wide awake,
We find the darkness is opaque,
And light the light,
But out of sight
The demon insect hovers.

Mosquitoes are extremely small,
They seem to have no brains at all;
A man, you'd say,
By night or day,
Might easily defy them.
But if, when seeking to efface
A single skeet, you'd quit the chase
In sheer despair,
You'd know that their
Appearances belie them!

IT WOULD HAVE KEPT HIM OTHERWISE OCCUPIED

Now Henry Ford is going to make another ten million flivvers. Congress should have given him Muscle Shoals.

The Clamor To Do

I get tired of people who are forever clamoring to do, do, do!

And this overactivity seems to be not so pernicious in bad actions as in good.

Burglaries are carefully planned and usually quite successful, but the world is full of philanthropies that went off half cocked and did little but wound innocent bystanders.

If the baby is sick, if our international relations are tangled, if taxes are too high, if the roast is underdone, if the unemployed are too numerous, if boys and girls are too frisky, up jumps the average man and demands why we do not do something.

Even the godsakers appear and want to know for God's sake why we don't do something.

The reason, of course, is pitiably simple. We don't know what to do.

Of course one can wait too long, and there is a criminal indecision, but on the whole the lashers out and jumpers in do more damage than good.

As a matter of fact, keeping still has settled more disputes than all eloquence, and letting alone has cured more invalids than all medicines.

Business may be crippled, times hard and finances in a bad way. But if a kindly providence would carry out into the ocean and drown all legislators who pass laws and make regulations to improve things, affairs would quickly right themselves.

Women's skirts will get to about the right length if meddlers will quit trying to stretch or shorten them.

Movies will grow decent if legislatures will let them alone.

There is a strong, balancing, righting force in the universe. Action is equal to reaction. Drunkards die off. The money octopus at last is devoured by the law of diminishing returns.

Your boy will come through somehow if you will not regulate him too much, your husband will improve if you quit nagging; things come around at last about where they ought to be.

And it will never get well if you pick it.

Irrigation

SOILS AND SOIL PHYSICS.

Observation of the Results of Reclaiming Land Through Drainage.

In yesterday's article we told of how, after several years' effort, crops were grown on water logged land that had been reclaimed through drainage.

As this drainage project was at that time the largest one that had ever been built in the west the work from the first had been followed with interest by the various government and state experts interested in irrigation and drainage.

The trouble in getting crops started; the growth of weeds; the methods of handling, and the final success in growing wheat, rye, barley, sweet clover and alfalfa was carefully observed and noted by these men. Their assistance and advice proved valuable in many instances.

It was a mystery why crops failed to grow on this drained soil when chemical analysis showed that there was nothing in the soil to prevent growth and that all the necessary chemical elements were present.

It was suspected of course that the reason for this condition was that all bacterial life had been extinguished through the concentration of alkali and the further fact that the land had long been saturated with water.

A series of experiments carred on after crops were finally grown seemed to prove beyond a question that it was the lack of soil bacteria that caused the first crops planted to fail.

BOOZE ARREST ON HENRIETTA ROAD

One man and a woman were arrested and a half a gallon of corn liquor seized early Tuesday night when Deputy Sheriffs Hawkins and Belchor stopped an automobile a short distance out on the Henrietta road. The whiskey was found in the bottom of the machine. Both occupants denied any knowledge of it.

The man was locked up for the night and will be given a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Lantz today.

CAR BLAZES NEAR NINTH AND LAMAR

The fire department had a short run at 3:15 Wednesday afternoon to the vicinity of Ninth and Lamar, the risque corner, when a smoldering blaze threatened to destroy a Ford coupe owned by T. B. Jetter. A few shots from the chemical cart did the trick, and slight damage resulted.

During installation of a battery, a cross was made in the connections, it was stated. The car was hastily shoved out into the street in front of the Reid-Allen garage, where the blaze was extinguished.

WHAT TODAY MEANS TO YOU

By MARY BLAKE

CANCER

Today's aspects are decidedly good, and especially favor research work, study and any undertaking of a literary or an artistic nature. They are by no means adverse to business, or to anything that requires decision, quick thought and energetic action. If you have been disappointed heretofore in unraveling a problem, or putting through a proposition, today presents a propitious opportunity for attacking the difficulty anew. The vibrations counsel progressive, but not radiant methods.

If you have brought a new life into the world today, you will be justified in watching it, during the first few months of its existence, with great care, giving special attention to nutrition and regularity of habits. This period once passed it will cause you very little worry about health and physical development. Its disposition will be sunny and bright; very quick to learn; more imitative than original. Give it, therefore, something good to imitate; its character will depend, in a very marked degree, on the influences that surround it during childhood, the lessons it receives then will never be forgotten or go unheeded.

Is today your birthday? Why, if so, do you nullify your many endearing characteristics and your natural charm by an extremeness that shocks your friends and keeps you yourself in constant hot water?

You cannot, of course, be indifferent to wrong, or wrong doing. If you feel warmly, you speak warmly, out of the fullness of your heart. You should, however, be on your guard against impatient scorn. The very temper which makes you earnest makes you also at times intolerant. Of all mental gifts, the rarest is intellectual patience, and the last lesson of culture is to believe in difficulties which are invisible to ourselves.

The best corrective of intolerance in disposition is increase of wisdom and enlarged experience of life. Cultivated good sense will usually save men from the entanglements in which normal impatience is apt to involve them. Large generous natures, in proportion to their practical wisdom, are disposed to make allowance for the defects and disadvantages of others. Goether once said, "I see no fault committed, which I also might not have committed."

Alvan G. Clarke, politician and astronomer.

John W. Griggs, jurist and governor, once attorney general.

Today's Poem

ONLY OF THEE AND ME.

Only of thee and me the night wind sings,
Only of us the sailors speak at sea,
The earth is filled with wondered whisperings
Only of thee and me.

Only of thee and me the breakers chant,
Only of us the stir in bush and tree;
The rain and sunshine tell the eager plant
Only of thee and me.

Only of thee and me, till all shall fade;
Only of us the whole world's thoughts can be—
For we are Love, and God Himself is made
Only of thee and me.

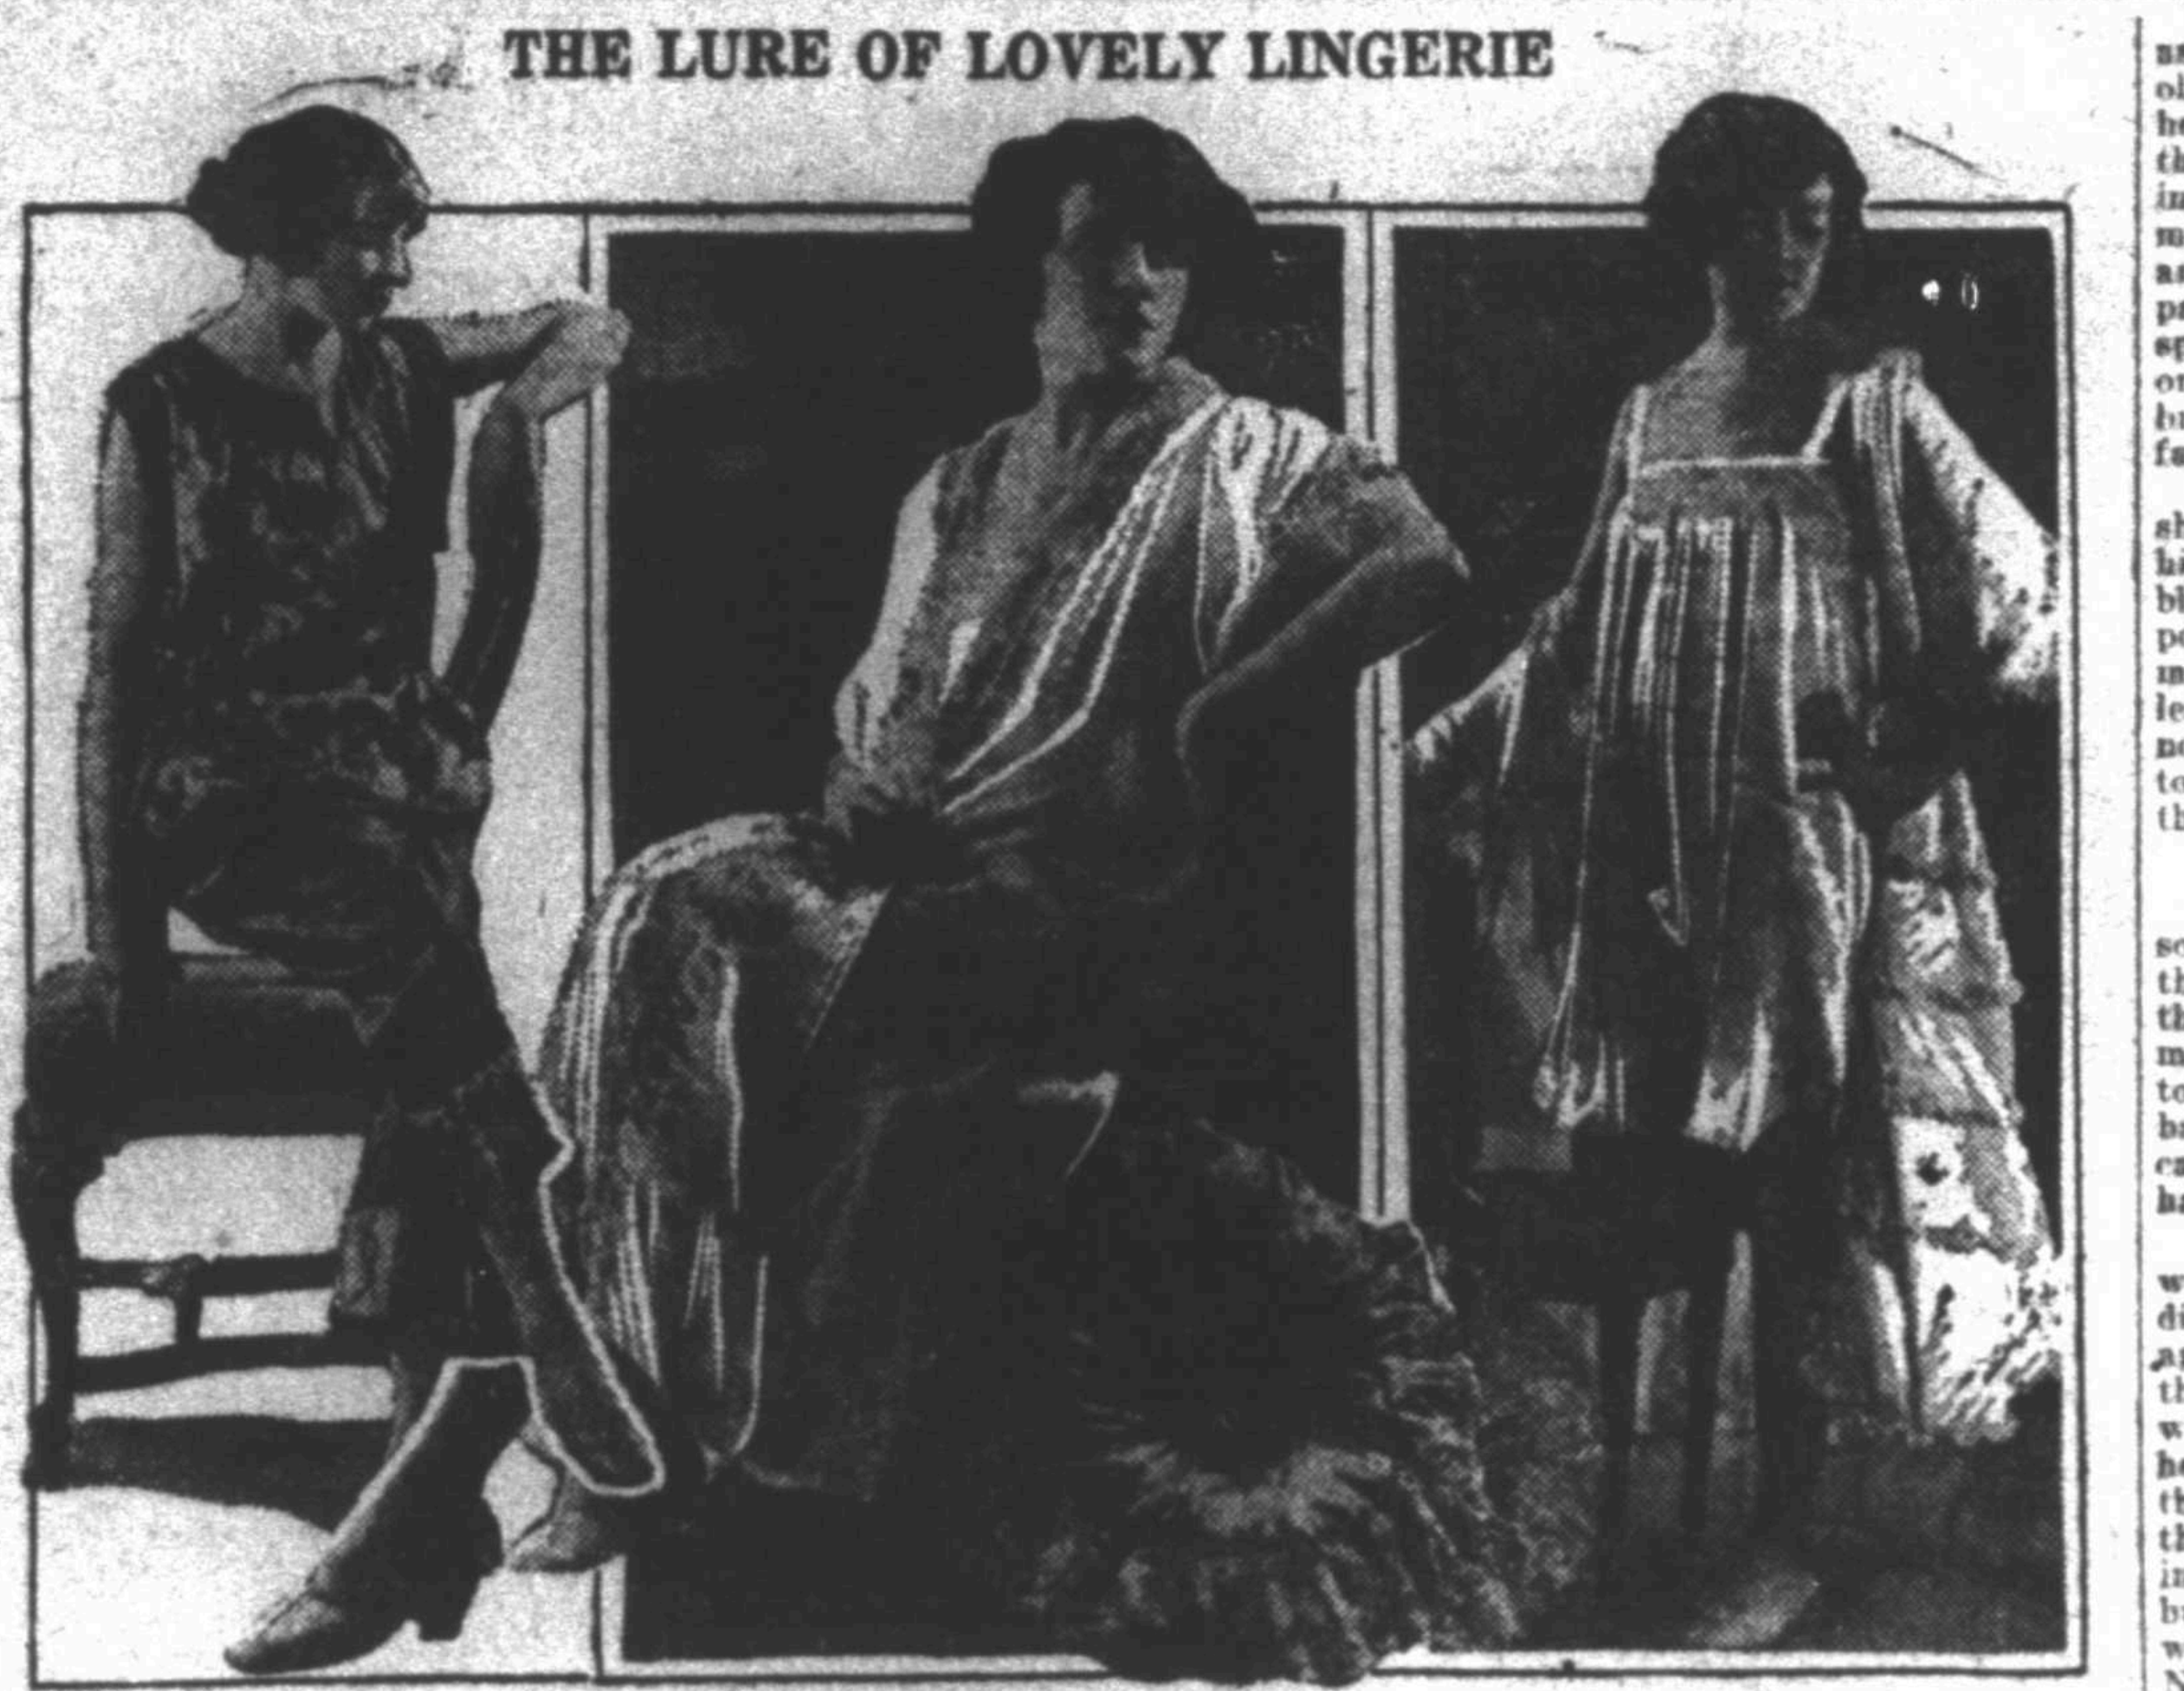
THE LURE OF LOVELY LINGERIE



By MME. LISBETH.

Few indeed are the women who can resist the lure of the lovely lingerie found in the shops. Underthings and negligees of all the delicate colors of the summer flowers and almost as fairylike in texture are shown. And one of the most desirable of garments which is also one of the most necessary, is the negligee or lounging robe. It may be made of cotton crepe, but it must be pretty and colorful, and when one slips it on after a hard day at home or the office one feels some of the luxury and comfort of the petted daughters of wealth.

Indeed it is hard not to feel luxurious in a negligee. The mere possession suggests leisure, and when one is the happy possessor of a robe or pajama suit of silk or satin it is easy to forget that one is a tired business or home woman.

I believe the pajama suit started out to be a strictly masculine affair, taking the place of the old fashioned night shirt and for the majority of mankind it proved to be a much more becoming and convenient garment than the aforementioned one. Women, however, were not slow to see its possibilities and have adopted more becoming and convenient garment but for a daytime suit to be worn in the privacy of the boudoir. The one shown on the left is of satin—a plain black being combined with one of Persian design.

A ciel blue chiffon makes a most charming robe (center). It is trimmed with ecru Alencon allover lace. A taffeta robe is worn by the model on the right over a peach satin step-in. It is trimmed with tiny ruchings of self material. The step-in is trimmed with tiny ruchings of self material. The step-in is trimmed with Irish lace.

Dorothy Dix

Should Older Brothers and Sisters Take Care of Younger Ones? Why There Are More Divorces Than There Used to Be — Husband Who Gives Beefsteak Instead of Ambrosia.

Dear Dorothy Dix—What duty do the grown-up brothers and sisters owe to their younger sisters and brothers, who are of school age and under? Is it their duty to help support them if the father is unable to do so?

B. AND O.

Answer—I think it is the duty of the older brothers and sisters to help the younger ones get an education and a start in life, but this done, the youngsters should be made to stand upon their own feet. There is certainly no reason why the older brothers and sisters should be made the perpetual family goats, as they so often are.

For this reason I think it is a good thing if the older ones make the younger ones understand that they must pay back, when they get to earning money, all that the older ones have spent on their education. Younger brothers and sisters are very apt to depend too much upon their older brothers and sisters, and think that because John and Mary educated them that John and Mary should take care of them the balance of their lives.

I know many cases in which the eldest son or daughter of a family has sacrificed his or her entire life taking care of younger brothers and sisters, and often enough they have gotten scant pay in appreciation or gratitude.

I recall one case in particular in which a pretty young girl refused to marry the man she loved in order to educate a brilliant young brother. For many years she toiled like a slave, all of her earnings going to put him through college and law school, and maintain him until he got a start in his profession, and later on, when he was a distinguished judge, and she was poor and old and sick, he paid his debt to her by boarding her in the poorest, cheapest place in a miserable little town and refusing to pay her doctor's bills.

Nevertheless, there is such a thing as duty to one's family, and there is an obligation of honor for the strong to help the weak. Sometimes it happens that one member of a family seems to inherit all of the strength of body and mind, and get all of the intelligence and backbone and initiative that the parents had to bequeath to their offspring, and in such cases the gifted one should surely look out for his brothers and sisters who have no faculty for getting along themselves.

The man with executive ability should make places in his business for his brothers and sisters who are too blind to even see the open door of opportunity for themselves. The rich man should give of his plenty to those less well off, but he should be careful not to let the spineless lean on him too heavily, nor make parasites of those to whom he is generous.

DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Dorothy Dix—Why are there so many more divorces nowadays than there used to be? Do you think that the way women dress now, and the modern style of dancing has anything to do with it? Do you think that bachelors are afraid to marry now because they see so many examples of unhappy marriages?

J. A. F.

Answer—I don't think that the way women dress has any bearing on the divorce question. A man's grievance against his wife has to be greater than the length of her skirt to make him willing to pay alimony to get rid of her. Husbands have always criticized their wives' clothes and declared that the fashion, no matter what it was in any age, was the limit of asininity, but they went on living with the women whose costumes they derided. Nor do I believe that jazz is responsible for marital infelicity.

The reason that there are more divorces than there used to be is because people are demanding more of life than they used to. We demand better houses, better food, better clothes, more amusement, more luxuries, more happiness, than our parents and grandparents did.

In former times when people got married they expected to settle down to a life of hard work and self-denial, and to putting up with whatever sort of a disposition their husband or wife had.

Now when a young couple get married they expect to continue to amuse themselves pretty much as they did before marriage, and to find a super-agreeable companion and playmate in the man or woman they marry.

And when they don't, they don't suffer in silence. They romp to the divorce court and try it over again.

Undoubtedly, also, the emancipation of women swells the number of divorces, for far more women divorce their husbands than men divorce their wives. Probably men are just as good husbands now as they ever were, but grandmother had to stand grandpa, no matter how unfaithful he was to her, no matter how he abused her or how stingy and cantankerous he was, for grandpa was grandma's meal ticket and her card of admission to good society.

A divorced woman was a disgraced woman no matter how righteous she was, nor how justified she was in ridding herself of a fiend, so she had to endure a miserable marriage, with what patience she could. But now we view the matter differently. We see that no good purpose is achieved by keeping two people together who have come to hate each other, and who bring out the worst that is in each other and that no one should be made to pay with a lifetime of misery for a mistake that was made in all innocence and good faith.

And, when every woman can support herself, she does not have to stay tied to a man she loathes for the sake of a livelihood.

I do not believe that bachelors are kept from marrying by the spectacle of unhappy marriages. We never learn from the mistakes of others because we all feel that we could have succeeded where they failed. The high cost of living and selfishness are the real reasons why bachelors stay bachelors.

A "BROKEN OUT" FACE HOLDS YOU BACK

Many men and women of middle age feel that they have never had a chance to make anything out of themselves. But the main reason for it usually is that they let such things as pimples, rash, "breaking out," eczema, tetter, etc., on their face, neck, hands or arms, make them feel that they are not wanted around and they keep to themselves too much.

You can get just as much out of life as anyone. All you need is confidence in yourself, which you get naturally when you rid yourself of those skin troubles, if you just use Black and White Ointment and Soap. They are economically priced in generous packages. All dealers have them both. The 50c size of the Ointment contains three times as much as the 25c size.—Adv.

Child-birth

WHEN the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says:

"With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used 'Mother's Friend' and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes." Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradfield Regulator Co., BA-75, Atlanta, Ga., for a free illustrated book containing information every expectant mother should have. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all drug stores.

Nervous and Irritable. By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Became Entirely Normal

Clinton, Wisconsin.—"My daughter was in a very run-down condition, and was irritable, and would cry at every little thing she was so weak and nervous. As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had helped me when I was a girl I gave it to her to build her up, and the results were all that we could wish for. I wish that every mother with growing girls would try it for these troubles girls often have. I had taken it myself before my girl was born, and she was one of the nicest babies any one could wish to have. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to women and girls and cannot praise it too highly."—Mrs. I. A. HOLFORD, Box 48, Clinton, Wisconsin.

Mothers can depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve their daughters of those troubles they so often have. They know from experience the value of the Vegetable Compound in the treatment of these complaints and many, like Mrs. Holford, give it to their daughters.

THREE SECONDS TO NOMINATION

Bill Lee of Orange Says Underwood Principles Vindicated.

By Bascom N. Timmons
Record News Staff.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, July 9.—Col. Alvin Owsley Dallas was placed in nomination for vice president by Col. Thomas H. Ball, Houston. Col. Ball detailed Owsley's war record and called him the choice of former service men for vice-president.

The nominatoin was seconded by Walter Myers, Indiana; Walter McKenzie, Michigan, and Mrs. Mary E. Herbert, Pennsylvania. The name of Owsley was cheered from many quarters of the delegate stands, indicating support for him from many states.

Col. Owsley was in the hall just after the nomination was made and listened to the speech of John W. Davis, the presidential nominee.

Pat O'Keefe, Dallas, stood near the stand as Davis spoke and yelled his familiar, "go to it."

Capt. W. E. Lea, Orange, Texas, campaign manager, tonight issued a statement that although Oscar W. Underwood was not nominated, the principles for which he stood were vindicated.

"We got a great nominee, anyway," Lea said. Lea sails tomorrow for London and will return in a month.

When New Jersey was reached the name of Governor Silzer was withdrawn and the vote of the state was cast "out of compliment" for Mayor Hylan of New York.

Bryan got 10 of the 90 New York votes and Mayor Hylan was given 40. The rest were scattered.

Among those named most prominently and seconded frequently were Alvin M. Owsley of Denton, Texas, former national commander of the American Legion; George M. Berry, president of the international pressman's union; Governor Silzer of New Jersey, E. T. Meredith of Iowa, and others.

These nominations were made after it had been stated from the platform that Chairman Thomas J. Walsh of Montana and E. T. Meredith of Iowa would decline to serve if the nomination were tendered to either of them.

Having chosen John W. Davis of West Virginia, for the presidential nomination after 103 ballots the democratic convention turned to the selection of vice presidential candidates with the prospect that Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, permanent chairman of the convention would decline the honor.

Chairman Walsh had the nomination in his hands at the close of the afternoon session of the convention when practically every delegate on the floor was on his feet demanding his nomination by acclamation before the convention recessed. But he even ruled out of order the delegate who proposed it, declaring that the convention should have time for reflection to bring the discordant elements into harmony.

Thomas B. Love of Texas, one of the principal McAdoo partisans was at the convention tonight warmly endorsing the selection of Mr. Davis. Chairman Walsh did not come to the night session and left Representative Barkley of Kentucky, in the chair. Meanwhile Mr. Meredith authorized the Associated Press to say that under no circumstances would he accept the vice presidential nomination. That pointed the indicator back to Walsh despite his refusals. It was known that renewed pressure was being brought on him to reconsider his decision.

Alton B. Parker, the democratic standard-bearer of 1904 was on the platform waiting for the chairman and to urge him not to decline the second place on the ticket.

There was the usual last night crush on the convention hall. Tickets meant nothing. Hundreds of people who had them either could not get in or could not get a seat when they did get in and found persons in their seats who had no business there. The police said they had "no orders about tickets." Money to pay the ushers had given out and they were scarce.

A tired young chap with the words "chief usher" inscribed on his cap, yawned at all inquirers and allowed there was nothing he could do about it. The effect of it was that a person with a ticket was lucky to get into the hall and a wonder if he got a seat.

Convention In New Mood

The convention was in quite a different mood than has been its daily habit since the battle began. The die-hards on all sides were absent but most of the delegates were shaking hands, laughing and chatting. Smiling features had replaced protruding jaws, and happy greetings took the place of fighting words.

There was a plan afoot to bring McAdoo and Smith to the convention hall and have them address the delegates so that the convention might adjourn in a burst of harmony.

New Gavel Presented

There was one outstanding development of the proceedings which delighted everybody within range of Chairman Walsh's chair. The celebrated gavel with the flying head which during the proceedings had "beaned" one innocent bystander and narrowly missed many others, was replaced with an instrument of more gigantic but substantial proportions. A 10-pound affair with a two-foot handle made from a cross section of a six-inch cedar tree was laid on the chairman's desk with the compliments of the Bay Shore fire department. It had been made by the firemen there. Everybody within range of the desk with memories of the past and fears of the future chorused one question. It was: "Is the head of that thing on solid?"

Obviously more work for the undertaker was ahead were it not.

As usual there was an epidemic of statements on the outcome. Everybody issued one. Only a few were worth reporting. Among the latter was one by Wayne B. Wheeler. He said:

"The wets can get no comfort in the nomination of John W. Davis. His record is for law enforcement."

After the singing of the Star Spangled Banner, former Governor McCorkle of West Virginia moved that James M. Cox be invited to address the convention.

Mr. Cox told the convention he had the satisfaction of knowing that the convention had acted wisely in selecting Mr. Davis whom he described as "one of the most resplendent statesmen of the last century" and a man of spotless record who was "a platform in himself."

"In 1920 the banner was placed with me," he said.

"It came from falling if not sacred hands. I hope that my children in the years to come can have it said of this occasion when with a heart full of gratitude I hand you back the banner of democracy; I hope it can be said that upon this standard there is not now the blood of cowardice; that it is not marked with the stain of any concessions of principle."

Routine Resumed

Then before proceeding to the nomination of a vice president the convention transacted some routine business that goes with the winding up of every convention. The first was a resolution by Governor Hawley of Idaho, extending the thanks of the convention to New York City convention committee.

Then when the chair recognized Governor Brandon of Alabama, to offer a resolution, the convention with happy recollections of the hours gone by chorused:

"Twenty-four votes for O-s-c-a-r U-n-d-e-r-w-o-o-d."

Governor Brandon rose in his place and answered him in the stentorian tone which made him a distinguished figure in the proceedings.

"One thousand ninety-eight votes for John W. Davis." Governor Ritchie of Maryland taking the platform asked for the appointment of a committee to escort Mr. Davis to the hall during the evening at a time when he was going to be in the neighborhood. The chairman appointed Governor Ritchie, Governor Bryan of Nebraska and Senator Owen of Oklahoma.

Davis Arrives.

Meanwhile Mr. Davis arrived near the convention the crowd outside could be heard cheering.

While waiting for Mr. Davis to visit the garden the convention went on to the consideration of vice-presidential nominations. First, Chairman Parkley read a letter from Senator Walsh declining the vice presidential nomination. The roll call for vice presidential nominating speeches was called and Alabama yielded to W. L. Barnum of Arizona. He nominated John (Jack) Greenway of Bisbee, Arizona.

When Mr. Barnum finished the convention suspended the rules for the first time and decided to limit further nominating speeches to five minutes.

Owsley Nominated.

California yielded to Texas and Thomas H. Ball of Houston was recognized to nominate Alvin C. Owsley, former commander of the American Legion.

Colorado yielded to Tennessee and Charles M. Bryan of Tennessee nominated George L. Berry, head of the pressman's union.

Connecticut yielded to New Jersey, John A. Matthews of New Ark, N. J., nominated Governor Silzer. He previously had nominated Governor Silzer for the presidency.

Florida yielded to South Carolina and T. G. McLeod of Columbia, S. C., nominated Mrs. LeRoy Springs of Lancaster for the vice presidency. Mrs. Springs is the first woman ever placed in nomination for the office.

Then Louis P. Marquardt of Georgia seconded the nomination of Berry.

Second Owsley's Nomination.

Mrs. Ann L. Smith, a delegate-at-large from Illinois, also seconded the nomination of Berry. Walter Myers of Indianapolis seconded the nomination of Alvin Owsley. A third seconding speech for Berry was made by Dan F. Steck of Iowa.

Kansas yielded to Iowa and J. Ray Files of Fort Dodge placed in nomination Governor Jonathan M. Davis of Kansas.

Clark's Son Named.

Louisiana yielded to Ohio and Garret S. Claypool of Chillicothe placed before the convention the name of Bennett Clark, son of the late speaker, Champ Clark of Missouri.

The name of William A. Gaston of Massachusetts was presented by Whitfield L. Tuck of Winchester, Mass.

Mayor John F. Hylan of New York city was nominated by Robert Dinsmore of Massachusetts.

Michigan was called and Walter I. McKenzie of Detroit seconded the nomination of Alvin Owsley.

When Minnesota was called C. C. McCarthy of Grand Rapids seconded the nomination of John G. Greenway.

New Hampshide yielded to Maine and Fulton J. Redmon of Ellsworth placed in nomination Edwin T. Meredits of Iowa, secretary of agriculture in the Wilson administration.

Mr. Meredith was sitting with the Iowa delegation and vigorously shook his head. He had previously stated that he would not accept the nomination.

J. R. Johnston of Brooklyn then seconded the nomination of Governor Silzer. Then Governor Morrison of North Carolina seconded the nomination of Mrs. Springs of South Carolina.

The nomination of Governor Silzer was seconded by Charles B. Lenahan of Wilkesbarre, Pennsylvania, and the nomination of Owsley was seconded by Mary E. Herbert of Allentown, Pa.

Governor William S. Flynn of Rhode Island was placed in nomination by Isabelle Ahern O'Neal, a member of the Rhode Island legislature.

W. W. Bowes, national committeeman of South Dakota, nominated James W. Gerard of New York, former ambassador to Germany.

The nomination of Governor Siler was seconded by J. P. Leamy of Vermont.

Claude Porter of Des Moines, Iowa, took the platform and again announced that E. T. Meredith was not a candidate.

"He has requested me," he said "that he feels more deeply than he can express the many manifestations of regard for him, and while he will do all in his power for the success of the ticket nominated, he cannot accept a nomination if tendered him. He, therefore, authories me to withdraw his name from before the convention."

AMERICAN BANDITS IN MEXICO SOUGHT

By The Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, July 9.—The American embassy has asked the cooperation of the Mexican police for the capture of three American bandits who last night attacked the residence of Mrs. Johnson, a wealthy American woman at Mixcoaco, near here. The bandits, who had been posing as rich oil men, demanded large sums from Mrs. Johnson whose refusal was followed by the attack.

STATES MAY GO INTO OIL FIGHT

Stone Offers Information Gathered By Dep't. Of Justice

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Possibility of seperate legal action by half a dozen states as supplement to the federal move against the gasoline and oil companies appeared today as a result of a conference between Attorney General Stone and a committee representing the National Association of States Attorneys General.

The conference, arranged at the request of Attorney General Spillman of Nebraska, chairman of the association's committee, was understood to have developed discussion along the line of individual state action when Mr. Stone assured the committee that the states attorneys general were welcome to all information gathered by the department of justice in its year and a half study of the gasoline problem.

Mr. Stone's offer to turn over all of the federal government data, means, officials said, that state prosecuting officials hereafter will have to dig into local situations.

There was no indication that immediate moves were contemplated by any particular states but Mr. Stone was informed of a belief among the states attorneys that possibilities for aiding in the move he has started lay in the laws of the several states.

Hints were given that the recent reports of the federal trade commission which now is in the hands of Attorney General Stone contained some references to means of activities by the states.

CONVENTION

swirling, perspiring, but happy crowd of delegates followed in a procession of joy and jubilation.

The Montana standard was the last one out, but only because there was a dispute there as to who should have the honor of carrying it in the procession.

The band swung into "Dixie," "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," "Maryland" and other familiar aires which had been dinned into the ears of the convention in a ceaseless fusilade of music for the last two weeks.

Governor Leads Parade.

Governor Ritchie himself led the Maryland delegation in the procession and for a convention as prolonged and hard fought as the present one had been, the demonstration for Davis was a demonstration of unity and good feeling and relief.

The Davis people, jubilant after a fight through two conventions to nominate their man, sent the leaders of their delegation headed by Mrs. Izetta Jewel Brown to the platform to review the procession. They had worked hard to nominate him in San Francisco four years ago and had failed. They had worked hard here in New York and suffered the discouragement of seeing his chances drop to almost nothing before they turned and rose on the debris of the deadlock between Smith and McAdoo.

Crowd Is Happy.

The crowd was happy at the prospect of having a nomination and going home and the delegates and alternates pranced happily along with as much vigor as if they had not been at it for countless days and nights and as if they actually were not shy several aggregate nights of sleep.

William Jennings Bryan was asked for some comment on the nomination of Mr. Davis. He replied he had none.

"Will you make one later?" he was asked.

"I don't know," said the veteran and war horse who had taken the platform in a futile effort to stop Davis and had precipitated thereby the most spectacular row ever seen in recent years in an American political convention.

Convention Hears Thanks.

The jubilant delegates were only half through their demonstration when Chairman Walsh called them back to order to hear former Governor McCorkle of West Virginia formally thank the convention for its action. He assured the convention it had a worthy standard bearer. He predicted that the animosities of the convention soon would be forgotten and that the democratic hosts would be united under the leadership of Mr. Davis.

Then Josephus Daniels, former secretary of the navy, was recognized. He proposed a recess before the nominations for vice-president were taken up.

He urged the recess so that "wisdom might follow wisdom" and every delegate have an opportunity to consider what candidate he would choose.

Cheers For Walsh.

Immediately the convention responded with roars of "Walsh! Walsh! Walsh!"

The blushing chairman busily rapped for order and despite his efforts M. F. Igoe of the Illinois delegation, whom he declared out of order, placed him in nomination.

When quiet was restored, Chairman Walsh told the convention he was deeply sensible of the honor the convention had done him but he begged them to adjourn so that nothing might be decided in haste or without careful consideration.

He urged the convention to adjourn and come back at 8:30 tonight to consider the vice-presidential nomination.

But the only answer he got was cries of "Walsh, Walsh." It seemed as if every delegate in the convention was intent on nominating the senator for vice-president on the spot. But the chairman was determined not to be nominated right then, at any rate, and although a chorus of noes swept the hall on the adjournment resolution, he banged down the gavel and declared the convention in adjournment and thus after two weeks of presiding at the desk he steam-rollered himself out of the nomination for the present at least.

On the 103rd ballot, Georgia, state of McAdoo's birth, which stood by him steadfastly and then went to Meredith when he released his delegates, went to John W. Davis. Idaho, another McAdoo sticker also flopped into the Davis column. Illinois ran up her proportion of Davis votes and Kentucky, another McAdoo battalion, gave Davis 22 1-2.

Michigan gave 29 1-2 to Davis, reserving only a half vote for Senator Walsh of Montana. Nevada gave Davis her six. New York cut Underwood's vote to 44 and divided the remainder among the field.

When Utah had been called the Davis total was up to 493.

Vermont added to the Davis column carried it over the 500 mark.

Twelve more came in from Virginia. Washington came into Davis' camp with its 14, but it was challenged and passed.

West Virginia's 16, however, carried it close to 530.

On the 102nd ballot the leaders stood:

John W. Davis 415 3-4.
Underwood 307.
Meredith 66 1-3.
Walsh, Montana 123.

This was a gain of 99 2-3 for Davis; a gain of 117.5 for Underwood; a gain of 25 for Walsh and a loss of 63 2-3 for Meredith.

On this ballot McAdoo had 21 votes still sticking to him and Smith had 44. They came from the last ditchers on both camps.

Clarksburg Celebrates Big Honor Given to Her Own Native Son

By The Associated Press.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., July 9.—Clarksburgh tonight celebrated the nomination of its native son by the democratic national convention with a spontaneous demonstration which began a few minutes after the telegraph wires clicked off the news that John W. Davis had been selected as the standard bearer of the democratic party in the presidential campaign.

Bands appeared seemingly from nowhere and the march around the town began.

While the first parade was in progress leaders of the Davis movement here were making hasty preparations for a more formal demonstration. Members of the American Legion, veterans of foreign wars, and other organizations were quickly mobilized and at dusk paraded through the city singing and shouting their enthusiasm.

The parade ended in front of the court house where Mr. Davis was acclaimed as the next president by various speakers.

Long into the night the crowds surged the streets. Stocks of red fire and cannon crackers, remaining from the Fourth of July celebrations, were exhausted as the throngs elbowed through the downtown streets.

FREDERICK SAFETY DRIVE LAUNCHED

FREDERICK, Okla., July 9.—Urging the city council and peace officers to rigidly enforce the traffic and parking ordinances of Frederick, the directors of the chamber of commerce at their meeting Monday afternoon adopted a set of resolutions setting forth that present conditions were dangerous, calling on the council to enforce existing ordinances, and assuring that body of their hearty support in so doing.

GERMAN PILOT VISITS TURKEY

E. Zimmerman Carries First German Mail Via Budapest

By The Associated Press.

ANGORA, Turkey, July 9.—E. Zimmerman, veteran German airman, has made a successful flight here from Berlin, piloting the first German postal mail plane to Angora by way of Budapest and Constantinople. Zimmerman reached here Sunday afternoon after having set out from the German capital at 4:30 a. m., Saturday. His actual flying time of 27 hours set a new record, which is especially notable from the fact that the machine in which he made the flight was a hydroplane. The trip to Constantinople was completed in 15 hours.

Zimmerman, it is stated, is the pilot who in October, 1921, carried the late Emperor Charles from Switzreland to Hungary when the deposed monarch made his effort to regain the throne of Hungary.

Hull Tells Of Time When Demo Met With Demo

By The Associated Press.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, July 9.—So many questions were asked of Chairman Hull of the democratic national committee today respecting yesterday's meeting between William G. McAdoo and Governor Smith that today the chairman issued this statement:

"The meeting between Mr. McAdoo and Governor Smith was entirely pleasant. The party welfare was the topic discussed. Each of the gentlemen participating, while speaking in my presence, exhibited the same wholehearted interest in the problem of breaking the deadlock and bringing about a nomination."

"It requires big men thus to meet and, in a spirit of mutual concession, strive jointly and earnestly to serve their party in time of emergency. Governor Smith and Mr. McAdoo, in meeting and conferring fully and freely on yesterday, undoubtedly set a fine example of harmony to the rank and file of the party."

HOPE CHAPTER IN REGULAR MEETING

Hope chapter, order of the DeMolay, held its regular semi-monthly meeting last night at 7:30 o'clock at the Masonic temple. Charles Jenkins, junior councilior, Ted Brown, senior councillor, and Harold Naylor, master councillor, all of whom were elected three weeks ago were installed by the advisory council.

A side degree was conferred upon the candidates who were initiated several weeks ago. An interesting musical program was rendered.

Aged Grandfather of Calvin, Jr., Couldn't Believe Radio Tidings

By The Associated Press.

PLYMOTH, Vt., July 9.—In the little cemetery on the side of a hill, where Calvin Coolidge paused last August on his way to Washington that he might say a prayer at his mother's grave before he entered actively on the duties of president, his younger son and namesake will be buried Thursday. A sad-eyed grandfather bearing up under the grief that added noticeably to the marks of his 79 years, spent the day making preparations for the interment of the lad who was beloved by the country-side.

John C. Coolidge, the president's father, learned of the death of his grandson last night by radio. It was not until today that the word was confirmed by message from the White House, with advice from the president that young Calvin would be buried in the family lot Thursday after funeral services at Northampton, Mass.

Alone in the room that a nation now knows as that in which Calvin Coolidge took the oath of office as president on the early morning of August 3, last, the grandfather at first was bowed down by the word of his loss. But, hopeful that it might not be true, he went the country road in the dark to the general store and awakened the proprietor so that he might telephone round about to learn whether others with radio sets had heard the news in the same way. The sad tidings were confirmed. He accepted the expressions of regret, went back to his home with his sorrow, and sat up all night.

BOMB FOUND IN POLISH ARSENAL

Put Out of Commission In Nick of Time By Workman

By The Associated Press.

WARSAW, July 9.—An attempt was made yesterday to blow up the Lemberg arsenal. An infernal machine planted by a workman was discovered by another employe, who put it out of action in the nick of time and seized the man, turning him over to the police.

According to the authorities their inquiries show that the prisoner recently arrived in Lemberg from Russia and that he had dealings with several bolshevik agents.

Had the infernal machine exploded, it is declared, a catastrophe far greater than the recent one at Bucharest would probably have resulted, as the arsenal contains 200 carloads of gun ammunition besides quantities of other explosives.

The fourth fort of the Warsaw citadel, in which explosives were stored, was blown up on October 13, last. In the subsequent investigation it was stated that evidence pointed to a "conspiracy hatched in a foreign country."

NEGRO SUSPECT

vious descriptions given by Mr. Johnson. He is comparatively well known around town, it is said, and has appeared in several boxing bouts at the American Legion arena. Those fight fans who saw the legion bouts at Fair Park on July 4 will remember him as the slim, aggressive negro youth who whipped four other negroes, all larger than himself, in the battle royal featured on the card.

He was arrested in the flats just before midnight when the officers rounded up half a dozen suspects. His home is said to be in the 1800 block Ninth street, not far from the scene of, the murder.

Robbery Was Planned.

A second clue that may lead to something was unearthed yesterday afternoon by the constable's department in the arrest of three negro men who, it was claimed, had confessed that they knew of the intended robbery of the Johnson stand. Constable Frank Morgan and his deputies who were still working on the trio late last night were uncommunicative, but asserted that what they had "looked pretty good."

It was understood that a search was being made for two more negroes alleged to be implicated. Reports were to the effect that a band of negroes had planned the robbery of the stand for several days and that scouts were sent out in advance Tuesday afternoon to look things over. This, it is presumed, is supposed to explain the presence of the negro youth in the store at the time Mr. Johnson was attending to the trade. Then, it was learned, a negro who had never before approached the place, went in and did the actual robbing when young Ashmore was by himself.

Deputy constables said that what amounted to admissions of these facts had been made by the negroes in custody.

Should these be correct Mr. Johnson's identification and story would amount to nothing, since the negro now in Fort Worth and the three now in custody here, are declared to have had nothing to do with each other.

Many Tips Run Down.

A score or more tips, none of which resulted in anything, were run down yesterday and last night. One which excited some interest bobbed up late in the afternoon when a Wichita Falls Traction company motorman appeared at the court house and told of having carried a negro passenger on his car Tuesday noon. The youth, he said, carried a stick of some kind under his arm and left the car at Ninth and Holliday streets at seven minutes after 12. The motorman identified one of the negroes arrested by the constable's department as the one in question and he was grilled for over an hour Wednesday evening by District Attorney Allred and Assistant County Attorney Somerville.

He was almost stone deaf, it developed, and failed to tell anything of importance during his session with the officials. the officials. The latter were not entirely convinced that he was telling all that he knew, however, especially when it was learned that he and the negro now in Fort Worth had been together Tuesday morning and were together again late Tuesday afternoon in the flats. Both have been employed at a local hotel shine parlor until recently, it is said.

Thirty-five or 40. negroes were brought before the grand jury Wednesday afternoon to tell what they knew of the affair, but it was stated last night by District Attorney Allred that nothing tangible had been found through this source. It was declared, however, that more witnesses would be examined this morning. Mr. Allred dropped practically all of his other work Wednesday and plunged deep into the Ashmore case.

While county officials were still driving away on the negro theory, city police were looking around for possible other parties. It was suggested that perhaps small boys might have been responsible but this was not given serious consideration. The city officers turned over their information to the sheriff and constables department and were not actively engaged in the search yesterday. They were ready to lend co-operation at all times, however.

As a result of the charges and county charges, it was admitted last night that Ashmore's death still as complete a mystery as it was an hour after his unconscious form was found.

The body of the victim was removed to the Merkle Undertaking parlors immediately after his death. No funeral arrangements have as yet been made.

Mrs. Davis Quite Satisfied With Nomination of Her Husband

NOMINEE ALSO WELL PLEASED

Listens By Radio To Get First News of His Great Honor

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 9.—John W. Davis received the news of his nomination at the home of Frank L. Polk, where he has been much of the time during the convention. He had been listening to proceedings by radio. His first comment was:

"Apparently I'm nominated so that's all there is to it."

His wife was with him when he received the radio announcement that he had been chosen as the democratic presidential candidate.

Mrs. Davis Pleased.

Mrs. Davis appeared highly elated at the honor conferred on her husband.

"Quite pleased, Mrs. Davis?" quered a reporter.

"I would be hard to please if I were not quite satisfied," she responded.

John William Davis came into national prominence during President Wilson's administration as solicitor general of the United States and as the American ambassador to Great Britain. Appointed to the chief diplomatic post upon the resignation of the war-time ambassador, Walter Hines Page, two months before the armistice, Mr. Davis represented the United States at the Court of St. James for three years.

Sketch of Nominee.

Born and reared in Clarksburg, W. Va., he was graduated from Washington and Lee university at the age of 19, receiving his law degree three years later. He was admitted to the bar of his state the same year, 1895, but returned to the university to become professor of law in 1896. He occupied that post two years, then began the practice of law in Clarksburg.

Mr. Davis was elected to the West Virginia house of delegates, the lower house of the state legislature, in 1899. He served as a delegate to the national democratic convention of 1904, in St. Louis. In 1906 he was president of the West Virginia Bar association. In 1911 he was elected to the house of representatives at Washington, but resigned in 1913 to accept the appointment by President Wilson to the office of solicitor general.

When chosen to succeed Mr. Page at the American embassy in London, Mr. Davis was in Berne, Switzerland, as a member of the American delegation assigned to negotiate with Germany regarding the exchange and treatment of prisoners of war. He went back to Washington for a conference with the president before taking up his work in London, in November 1918, Just as the war came to an end.

Since his retirement as ambassador in 1921 he has practised law in New York city.

The object is to give the members and their families, especially, an evening's outing. An entertainment committee, headed by Hardy Totten, chief entertainer for the Lions club, has arranged a musical and varied program for this feature of the outing.

Party Line Stuff Now Old Thing Around Waurika

Special to The Record News.

WAURIKA, July 9.—No more "cranking" of telephones. Waurika has advanced into the class of the new "common battery' and now its residents calmly lift the receiver and give the number wanted when central says "Operator." The change was made Saturday night and was without the confusion one would fancy such a change would induce.

The change involved in the installation of this modern system together with the telephone company's previous investment here will bring the total investment in the Waurika exchange to approximately $54,000. In addition to this nearly $16,000 worth of toll equipment has been installed.

The Business Men's club recently approved the increase in rates as asked by the telephone company and formal application has been made to the state corporation commission.

BUNYAN-NALL WEDDING SURPRISE.

A wedding announcement that was a surprise to the community was that of Mrs. Frances J. Nall of this city and E. W. Bunyan of Ardmore, which was made public Monday morning.

The wedding which was the culmination of several months acquaintance, took place at Marietta June 21, the vows being read by Rev. Dunsworth, pastor of the First Baptist church of that city, in the church parlors. Immediately following the ceremony the couple went to Ardmore and spent a two weeks honeymoon, coming to Waurika last Saturday night, with the firm intention of not making the wedding public until Christmas. Under the suspicion of their many friends it was deemed wise to make public the fact that the wedding was a matter of history instead of something scheduled to take place in the near future as their friends were surmising.

Mrs. Bunyan has lived in Waurika for the past several years, and has many friend in the business world as well as in the social circles of Waurika. She has managed her business affairs and reared her family, combining the elements of a business woman, home-maker and mother.

Mr. Bunyan is not so well known to Waurikans. He was here at one time as superintendent of paving for the Cone Paving company.

BRYAN TO VOTE DEMO TICKET

Commoner Asserts He Will Support Davis For President

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 9.—William Jennings Bryan who openly and vigorously opposed the nomination of John W. Davis as the democratic presidential candidate, announced today after Mr. Davis had been nominated that "he would support the ticket."

Mr. Bryan confined his comment on the convention's action to these five words: "I shall support the ticket."

Cox Is Jubilant.

James M. Cox of Ohio, the democratic standard bearer of 1920 and until the nomination of Mr. Davis, the titular leader of the party, was loud in his praise of the party's candidate.

"It is an instance of the party nominating one of the conspicuously able men of his generation, and it is an evidence of the fact that notwithstanding the spirit of contest over controverted questions, the democratic party in the last analysis had its feet on the ground," said Mr. Cox in a formal statement. "The country has always found the democratic party safe in an emergency. This merely a matter of history repeating itself, again.

Will Make Deep Impression.

"Mr. Davis will make a profound impression on the country at the very outset of the campaign. None of the elements which make him an able man are more conspicuous than his intelligence, courage and honesty."

Ponds Defeat K. of P., 8 to 6

In a seesaw game, Pond Laundry baseball team defeated Knights of Pythias, 8 to 6, Wednesday afternoon on the Twilight league diamond. The Knights took the lead in the third inning, bunching two hits, one hit batsman and a base on balls, for two runs.

Ponds stepped out front in the fourth by knocking over four runs. A quartet of consecutive safeties, a walk and an error accounted for the markers.

Knights jumped ahead again in the fifth by pushing over three more counters. Ponds came back in the same inning, scoring two.

Knights scored one in the sixth, and Ponds counted two, winning the game.

The feature of the tilt was the hitting of Windham and Faichney. Windham connected with a double and triple, while Faichney got a pair of two-baggers.

American Stars Again Sweep to Victory In Olympiad

SCHOLZ VICTOR IN 200 METRES

Accounts Squared With Britain, While Finns Slide

OLYMPIC STADIUM, COLOMBES, France, July 9. America with her mighty track and field forces is steadily piling up a formidable margin over her gallant rival, Finland, and also squared accounts today with Great Britain in the spectacular duel of the two nations for the Olympic speed laurels, when the veteran American whirlwind, Jackson V. Scholz, New York A. C., swept to triumph in the 200 metres dash. The Stars and Stripes went up on the victory pole with the greatest thrill that has yet marked the historic athletics fray.

Paddock Second.

Finishing the last ten metres like a catapult, Scholz won a sensational race by inches from his countryman, Charles W. Paddock, who, after leading to within a few strides of the tape, threw what seemed to be certain victory for him to the winds by slightly turning his head to see his closest rival. That fleeting instant of waywardness cost the Californian the glory of an Olympic crown, but did not change the final triumph of the United States.

Saving in this way the second of her most prized track crowns, America accomplished almost the complete downfall of the British fliers, for Harold Abrahams, the Cambridge boy who had given a stunning setback to the United States Monday when he captured the 100 meters event, finished a poor last, while his countryman, E. H. Liddell, only succeeded in taking third place with the slighest of margins over George Hill, University of Pennsylvania and Bayes Norton of Yale.

America made it two out of three in the day's finals when Dan Kinsey, University of Illinois won another brilliant duel with Atkinson, of South Africa for the laurels in the 110 meter hurdle race.

Ritola Again Wins.

Willie Ritola, Finland's "iron man" has gained the greatest individual glory of any of the athletes thus far. Today he won the gruelling 3,000 meters steeple chase, for his second victory of the games and in doing so he broke the world's record, covering the distance in nine minutes, 33 3-5 seconds, as compared with the previous record of ten minutes 2 2-5 seconds, set by P. Hodge of England, in 1920.

This was the second world's record for Ritola. He ran away with the 10,000 meter championship on Sunday in 30 minutes, 23 1-5 seconds, bettering his own world's mark by 12 1-5 seconds.

Methodists Lose To Presbyterians

Grace Methodists nosed out Floral Heights Presbyterians Wednesday in Sunday school league play, 13 to 12.

Top O' Morn

BLONDY

Pretty tough, that double killing enacted by the Bovines Wednesday in Dallas at the expense of Colonel Harvey, Buddy Tanner, J. Will Gray and company. But those Spudders gave the Steers a mighty hard struggle in that first game, probably scaring Ike Sablosky clear out of his Palm Beach suit.

One more frolic with the Dallas entry this afternoon, then home again. Beaumont and Spuds out on the lot tomorrow for the first of three.

Dropping five games out of the first seven in the new season doesn't augur much for what is to come. However, Spud staff stands in a fair way to come out of the kinks soon, especially when Morgan gets back into harness, and some of the overworked gentry are given a chance to recuperate a bit. Also, the Spudders moguls are always trying to strengthen, and most any moment may find some new Spuds in uniform.

Speedy Sparks, Gotham middleweight who appears on the Legion card tonight, isn't the only one who declares he's dangerous. Oklahoma promoters wanted Don Wofford to obtain a good boy for Archie Cooper to square off with at the Legion convention the latter part of this month in Ada. These promoting gents were very earnest in their request that Wofford be sure and obtain a battler good enough for Cooper. Wofford wired back immediately that he would send Sparks, but Cooper himself had something to say here. "Nothing doing," yelped Archie in hurt surprise.

Since Trammel knocked out Dago Ryan, twice conqueror of the Fort Worth boxer, in Dallas little more than a week ago, local promoters are wondering whether or not Wichita Falls fans want the former favorite to show here again.

Trammel should bowl over a couple of more good fighters before returning, but the question is open to all. If local fans will express their opinion either to The Record News or to Promoter Don Wofford, boxing on this point here will be aided much. Wofford seeks to bring the boys fans desire to see in action, and at one time Trammel was a wonderful fistic attraction as far as Wichita Falls is concerned.

Griffin Defeats Brown in Five Claycourt sets

ST. LOUIS, July 9.—Clarence J. "Peck" Griffin of San Francisco, former singles title holder, defeated Wray D. Brown of St. Louis, the Missouri valley champion, in the first five-set match of the national clay court championship at the Triple A club here today.

The score was 3-6, 6-3, 6-2, 7-9, 6-3.

The players battled for two hours and 30 minutes before the Californian emerged victorious. Fifty-one games were played in the five sets. A drizzling rain delayed part of the match.

The fourth set was a battle from start to finish. After the score reached seven all in games, Brown Finally won two games and a set. Griffin took an early lead in the deciding set but the Missouri valley star brought the score to 3 all. The Californian then by steady playing won the three straight games and the match.

Other favorites to reach the fifth round of the singles matches were B. I. C. Norton, St. Louis, W. T. Tilden II, Philadelphia; Howard Kinsey, San Francisco, and Harvey Snodgrass, Los Angeles. Walter Westbrook, Pasadena and Robert Kinsey, San Francisco, had previously gained this round as the result of victories Tuesday.

Legion Weekly Open Air Fisticuffs Set For Tonight

SPARKS BELIEVES HE WILL POUR IT ALL OVER FRED WHITTINGTON

Red Lewis Battles Joe Burnam Over Ten-Round Route—Rattlesnake, Negro Favorite, Returns

Fred Whittington of Oklahoma City will meet the toughest opponent of his career when he clashes with Speedy Sparks of New York in the Legion 12-round main event tonight at the open air arena, Tenth and Ohio, is the opinion of many ringsiders who have witnessed the Gotham middleweight in action recently.

And the enthusiastic Sparks himself agrees wholeheartedly with these views. Avers Sparks, "I'll take 'em all, good or bad, and give 'em the run of their lives."

Sparks' opinion of himself was candidly expressed recently when he declared he would be willing to take either Harmon Rich of Wichita Falls or Joe Denton of Amarillo, both sterling boxers who have fought here a number of times, on for a bout, and name the round in which he would knock either out. If he failed to live up to his expectations, according to Don Wofford, Sparks would be willing to forego his share of the gate receipts.

Gobs of Confidence.

If confidence will make a good fight then, with all other things being equal, local fans should see Sparks and Whittington jerk of the hardest scrap of the year.

Promoter Wofford has been having trouble keeping the rest of his card in shipshape order. Earlier in the week, Jack Atkins, billed with Joe Burman, Los Angeles heavy, for a ten-rounder, sprained an ankle and eliminated himself. Rearing Red Lewis has been substituted.

Levine Versus Monte.

Wofford received a wire from Johnny Rivers Wednesday declaring that he would probably be unable to fight Tabby Levine. Rivers injured an arm during training, according to the telegram, which Wofford showed to The Record News sports editor. Either Wildcat Monte of Amarillo or Kid Snyder of Burkburnett will be put on with Levine. In all probability it will be Monte. Monte and Levine staged a clever bout here recently, the judges calling the scrap a draw. A return engagement may be still a better fight.

Rattlesnake and Norfolk.

The four-round negro bout matched yesterday between Kid Norfolk and Rattlesnake, both local warriors should prove quite a drawing card, it is said. Rattlesnake has been very much of a favorite with Wichita Falls fandom, and his return to the ring game locally should be rather interesting. This darktown busky has never failed to put on a good show.

There will also be a four-round curtain raiser, said Wofford.

Muny Just Must Have More Entries For Coming Big Tennis Tournament

Some people are superstitious; others are not. But ramrods of the Municipal club men's tennis tournament scheduled for July 15, belong in the former class. Just exactly 13 entries have been lined up for the tennis war which is to come, and that number 13 has the tournament committee balked. Give us some more tennis players, chirp the promoters, we can't run the meet with this jinx hanging over our heads like the sword of Damocles, so to speak.

Let's Get Going, Gents

So there you are, tennis gentlemen. It's up to you, or rather some of you, to undress the old racquet, purchase a new set of balls, and begin practicing for the muny meet. Entries will be received any time up to the night of Monday, July 14. On this night, the drawings will be attended to in the office of C. F. Greene, chairman of the muny net committee. Greene or M. A. Ellis will take all entries.

Here's Lineup

Those lined up for the tourney, and it's said, similar to the recent marathon democratic convention, that there are a number of dark horses included as follows: E. E. Fisher, H. W. Tutum, E. A. Bebb, M. A. Ellis, H. D. DeLee, Morris Works, Bill Bailey, C. F. Greene, R. R. Fisk, P. M. Ferguson, H. E. Rose, T. B. Matthews and Buddy Severs.

Vernon Hi Plans Football Camp

VERNON, July 9.—Plans are being formulated here to establish a football training camp for the local high school team. The camp is practically assured but the time and place has not been announced. The camp must be held before the opening of the school this fall and will necessarily be held in August. By the training received at the school, the local team will have at least two weeks' start over other teams and with the showing made by them last year, they expect to enter the finals.

Refinery And Baptists Win

The Baptists were forced to go to extra innings to defeat Nobles 12 to 9 in the Burkburnett Twilight league Tuesday. Humble Refinery nine ran over Tidal Western, 21 to 5.

Gormer was knocked from the box by the Baptists in the fifth inning and gave way to Underwood. Underwood, although hit freely, squeezed through until in the eighth the Nobles counted two more runners. A. Thomas went the limit for the losing aggregation.

Hard hitting by Pulliam and Griffin featured the game.

Heavy hitting on the part of both teams made the Humble-Tidal contest a race track. A high wind also wrought havoc with clean fielding.

Three Different Price Schedules Now In Use In Texas Oil Fields

TEXAS CO. HAS HIGHEST RATES

Magnolia Petroleum Co. Has Lowest With Humble Betwixt

At the close of business yesterday afternoon there were three prevailing price schedules in Texas oil fields, the Magnolia Petroleum company having the lowest and the Texas company having the highest, the Humble Oil and Refining company, by virtue of their action in cutting midcontinent and gulf coast 25c Tuesday morning, occupying a middle ground.

$2.25 Highest Price

The highest of these schedules, that of the Texas company, names a price of $2.25 for the highest grade of crude, 39 degrees gravity and above, and a price of $1.25 for low grade crude, 30 degrees gravity, and below. The lowest of the schedules, that of the Magnolia Petroleum company has a maximum price of $1.50 for crude oil and a minimum of 90c. The Humble Oil and Refining company, occupying the middle ground has a high price of $2, and a low price of $1.00.

The cut of the Humble Oil and Refining company Tuesday morning, at first believed to take in only Ranger, Powell, Mexia, and Gulf Coast crude, is now understood to include all oil taken by that company in the midcontinent field. At the close of business yesterday afternoon no other company had followed the action of the Humble in cutting with the exception of the Gulf Refining company, which also announced a 25c reduction at Powell, Mexia, and Currie only.

Luling Now $1.00

These cuts in midcontinent crude follow two cuts in the last few days by companies purchasnig Pennsylvania crude, and by companies purchasing Ohio crude. There has been only one crude price raise noted in a long time in the whole country with the exception of the Humble Oil and Refining company's retraction of a former cut about a month ago. This one raise took effect on July 1, and affected the Luling field, where the Magnolia Petroleum company had been paying 75c a barrel for crude oil. The price was raised to $1.00 on that date.

When the pro-ration announcements were put out last week, the Humble company did not follow the suit of the Prairie, Sinclair and other companies which had already led the way in curtailing runs. It was pointed out at the time that the pro-ration idea was intended to stall off price cuts for a while if possible. The action of the Humble in cutting as they did can only be taken as their idea of the proper method to combat the overproduction ow existing.

Three Different Rates

Whether the other major companies in the district will follow the cut is problematical and not to be guessed at until such new prices are actually posted. It is held here to be entirely probable that these companies which have adopted pro-ration policies may consider the steps already taken drastic enough for the present and so hold off for a while until the situation either improves or grows worse. It is worth noticing, however, that there are three different price schedules maintained in Texas oil fields now and that such a condition is hardly likely to persist long.

ONLY 33 LARGER OIL COMPANIES FORMED IN U. S. DURING JUNE

A new low level for incorporation of new petroleum companies was attained in June. Only 33 companies were formed in the whole country during that month, whose capital was larger than $50,000. The total capital of the 33 was $20,574,000. In May there were 44 incorporations with an aggregate capitalization of $94,124,000.

One firm this month, the Consolidated Oil corporation of Delaware, had a ciptalization of $10,000,000.

PRO-RATION GETS BIG TANK STEEL ORDERS FROM MID-CONTINENT

According to reports from the steel and iron centers mid-continent oil companies have placed orders already for from between 30,000 to 35,000 tons of steel plates and shapes for storage tanks and facilities. Additional large orders are seen in prospect according to these reports.

Proration of crude oil runs in the mid-continent fields is understood to be responsible for the steel purchases.

BAILING CONTINUED TILL TODAY ON TESTS EAST OF ARCHER CITY

Dee brothers were unable to finish bailing yesterday on their test east of Archer City, and Holmes and Haskell had a little trouble and were never able to start. It is probable that a test will be forthcoming on both wells today.

OLD QUANAH TEST WILL DRILL DEEPER

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, July 9.—W. Findley has purchased a large amount of the acreage in the vicinity of Nee-No-She well about eight miles northeast of here, and is making preparations to take over the old Nee-No-She well abandoned because of water trouble at 2700 feet several months ago. Mr. Findley is pumping water from the well and expects to start drilling on down soon.

Greenwood et al Shut Down; Starts Up Today

T. B. Greenwood et al have been shut down for the past few days at about 1,250 feet on their test on the A. Allbright land, section 4, Hooper and Wade survey, account of broken part to their rotary. This part has been secured and it is hoped to start up again today.

San Antonio—Proposed international fair, to be held here, promises to build up immense tracts of undeveloped land in this vicinity, according to agriculture department of chamber of commerce.

Texas peach crop estimated this year at 4,000,000 bushels.

Campbell Et Al Have 500 Feet Oil in Wildcat

Campbell et al had about 500 feet of oil in the hole on their test on the W. H. Chilson land, block 5, Denton county school lands, Wichita county, last night following a penetration of the sand to a depth of one and a half feet, making the bottom of the hole at nearly 1830 feet. Immediately following the further entering of the sand the oil rose in the hole and in about two hours reached a height of 500 feet.

It was undecided yesterday whether the sand would be drilled into any deeper or whether immediate preparations would be made to put the well on the pump, it being considered as it is between a 25-35 barrel well.

There is only a small showing of water in the well.

Knight-Hines Well Guages 50 Bbls. on Pump

Knight and Hines Ragle well has been placed on the pump and has settled down to a 50-barrel daily production. The output the first day of pumping was 80 barrels by guage and has stood a bit above 50 barrels every day since that time.

The oil is being run to storage at present pending a decision as to what will be done with it, whether it will be taken over by the Olney Refining company or piped through a prospective two-inch line from the field to a loading rack and shipped to Wichita Falls.

The oil from the well tests 41 degrees gravity.

MURCHISON-FAIN EQUIPPING TWO FOR PUMP; SPUDDING ONE

Murchison and Fain are equipping their No. 1, White on section 40, ATNCL, for the pump, the hole standing full of fluid now, indications pointing to 50 barrel well from the sand around 1403 feet. This a south offset to the Carter-Pace small producer from the sand at 1396 feet, and an offset to the Tex-O-Kan No. 1, White, also being equipped to pump with some fluid in the hole.

Murchison and Fain are also putting their No. 4. J. H. White, lot 13, section 41, ATNCL on the pump, depth being 1698 feet, and have skidded the derrick here a location to the south for the No. 1 on section 42.

This test has been spudded and is drilling.

SOUTH VERNON OIL CO. WILL ERECT 2-1,000 BBL. TANKS ON LEASE

The South Vernon Oil company have purchased two 1,000-barrel tanks and will begin their erection at once on their lease south of Vernon, completion being expected within ten days. With completion of these tanks the South Vernon company will store its oil instead of selling to an Electra refinery as heretofore.

The tanks were purchased from the Black, Sivalls, and Bryson Tank company of Fort Worth.

OIL ADVERTISING PROPOUNDED AT NEW YORK MEETINGS

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 9.—Representatives of various associations in the petroleum industry have been meeting this week in New York for the purpose of finding ways and means to rectify, if possible, some of the ills now prevalent among the producers. One suggestion pointed to the possibility of an advertising campaign of rather large propostions.

A banking group is offering for public subscription 1,348,500 shares of capital stock of the Pierce Petroleum corporation at $7 a share. The corporation was recently formed to acquire the assets and business of the Pierce Oil corporation.

WELLS-GUILBERSON GET THIRD OIL SHOWING

Wells and Guiberson have passed up an oil and gas showing at 1506-09 feet in their test south of Vernon, and are going on down. This makes the third gas and oil sand found in this test, one coming at about 900 feet, one at 1300 feet, and one at 1506-09 feet. A good gas pressure at around 1311 feet has been cased off and bradenheaded.

CLAY CO. POOL GETS PIPELINE

Magnolia Making Preliminary Survey for New Connection

The Magnolia company is making a preliminary survey for a two-inch pipeline from their main Clay county line to the Knox Finley pool in Clay county, and will probably complete and begin to take the oil from that group within two or three weeks. Daily production from this group of wells approximates 20 barrels now.

A derrick has been skidded from the No. 4 to a new location to the north of the original well and new test here will be spudded immediately. This new test is located in the southwest corner of the Howell 181 1-2 acre tract here, Wylie Wyatt subdivision.

It is very likely that the Magnolia will extend their line on to the west to the D'Yarmett well if an accurate test shows oil to justify such construction. D'Yarmett and Sullivan drilling their No. 1, on the Scott land to the east of their discovery well.

This will be the second new line connection to be made in Clay county within the last few weeks, the Texas company having construction of such a line for their main to the Cumley-Stump-Callendar well on the Stine Brothers land under way, and almost ready for connection.

COTTON CLIMBS TO NEW LEVEL

Stronger Liverpool Cables Are Cause of Upward Trend

NEW ORLEANS, July 8.—The cotton market developed an upward trend today almost from the start although prices opened unchanged from the previous in spite of a strong Liverpool market was considerably better than due. July comparatively was neglected here, but the advance of 100 points in New York, carried here from an early low of 26.52 to 26.90, or 38 points up. October, which opened unchanged from yesterday's finish at 23.36, advanced to 23.81, or 45 points up, while December rallied from 23.25, to 23.68 or 43 points up. The close was near the top, showing net gains for the day of 30 points on July and 38 to 42 points on new crop months. The strength of July in New York, due to the pressure of the spot situation and the decreasing certified stock in that market was a sustaining factor here. The main cause of today's advance was the fact that the weekly weather and crop summary showed the crop had suffered more or less from the unseasonable cold spell and from too much rain in the Atlantic coast states.

Exports for the day were large, totaling 19,545 bales, including 18,045 bales to Russia from this port.

CORN JUMPS ABOVE DOLLAR

Wheat Finishes Up Slightly But Is Unsettled

CHICAGO, July 9.—Corn jumped over the dollar mark today for July delivery, the first time since 1920. Both September and May corn reached the topmost price yet this season. Unfavorable weather together with current belief that the government report this afternoon would show the corn crop condition to be the lowest ever known was chiefly responsible. Corn quotations closed strong, 1 1-8 to 2 1-8 net higher, July 1.00 3-4 and September 96 7-8 to 97. Wheat finished unsettled, 1-2@1 5-8 to 7-8c up, September 1.14 3-4 to 1.14 1-2 and December 1.17 1-4 to 1-2, with oats at 1 to 1 7-8c advance and provisions showing 10@15c gain.

Wheat showed its strength to unfavorable crop comment from the Canadian northwest and to reports that the domestic crop was in danger from black rust.

TOTAL WHEAT CROP LARGER

Indications Point Toward Smaller Yield For Corn This Year

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Indications of a corn crop of 531,000,000 bushels smaller than last year's and between prospects than a month ago for the wheat crop were the outstanding features of today's crop report of the department of agriculture based on July 1 conditions.

Corn production this year was announced at about 2,515,000,000 bushels. Last year 3,046,000,000 bushels were harvested.

Winter wheat production is forecast at 543,000,000 bushels, and spring wheat 197,000,000 bushels, making the total wheat crop 740,000,000 bushels. Forecasts a month ago indicated 509,000,000 bushels of winter wheat, 184,000,000 of spring wheat and a total crop of 693,000,000 bushels against 786,000,000 harvested last year.

Forecasts of production of other crops follow:

Oats 1,356,000,000 bushels.
Barley 170,000,000 bushels.
Rye 64,900,000 bushels.
White potatoes 373,000,000 bushels.
Sweet potatoes 91,200,000 bushels.
Tobacco 1,294,000,000 pounds.
Flax seed 25,900,000 bushels.
Rice 35,800,000 bushels.
Hay (tame) 90,100,000 tons.
Apples 196,000,00 bushels.
Peaches 53,700,000 bushels.

The condition of the crops on July 1, on which the forecasts are based, was:

Winter wheat 77.9 per cent of normal.
Spring wheat 81.9. All wheat 78.0.
Corn 72.0.
Oats 86.9.
Barley 80.2.
Rye 86.9.

Sweet potatoes 81.3.
Tobacco 78.8.
Flax seed 86.8.
Rice 91.1.
Hay 83.4.
Apples 66.5.
Peaches 80.2.

Acreage this year of the principal crops, not previously announced, follows:

Corn, 105,604,000 acres, or 101.4 per cent of last year's acreage; white potatoes, 3,753,000 acres, or 98.3 per cent; sweet potatoes, 990,000 acres, or 99.9; tobacco, 1,702,000 acres, or 92.4; flax seed, 3,375,000 or 163.6; rice 899,000 acres or 100.8; hay 61,020,000 acres, or 101.4 per cent.

Public Utilities Set New High Level For Season

Total stock sales 972,100 shares.

NEW YORK, July 9.—Strength and activity of the public utility issues, more than a dozen of which established new peak prices for the year, was the outstanding development in today's active stock market. Elsewhere considerable irregularity developed as a result of heavy professional selling, based on the belief that technical reaction was warranted after nearly five weeks of almost steadily rising prices. The reaction, however, did not get very far, net losses in the pivotal issues being limited to fractions.

American Water Works common was again the individual feature, jumping 8 1-2 points to a record price for all time at 111 1-2 or more than double its price on May 31.

Independent strength also was shown by a number of the chemical and low priced railroad shares. New 1924 high records in these groups were established by the Frisco, St. Louis-Southwestern and Seaboard Air Line common and preferred issues, Erie second preferred, Southern Railway, Nickel Plate, the commercial solvent issues, Allied Chemical preferred and Texas Gulf Sulphur. Davidson Chemical closed nearly 4 points higher at 52 1-2.

United States Steel common, Baldwin and American Can all closed fractionally lower. Studebaker closed unchanged at 38 after having established a new 1924 top at 38 7-8.

American Smelting established a new high price at 66 7-8. Call money held 2 per cent all day. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged in quiet trading.

A Practical Success

THE United States is enjoying the best rail transportation service in history. Railroad capacity is being enlarged constantly; service is improving steadily; railroad rates tend regularly toward lower levels.

The Transportation Act, under which the railroads are conducted, became completely operative September 1, 1920. Railroad expenses and rates had then reached the highest levels in history. There was car shortage, congestion and delay to transportation everywhere.

Since September 1, 1920, there has been uniform progress in reducing operating expenses, lowering rates, enlarging transportation capacity and improving service. The railroads handled the largest volume of traffic in their history in 1923. There was freedom from car shortage, congestion and delay throughout the year.

Under the Transportation Act, rate reductions have cut the country's transportation charges approximately $683,000,000 a year. One-half the rate increases granted to meet increased operating expenses have already been wiped out.

Railroad profits as a whole are not as large as in 1916, but financial results have been sufficient to encourage railroad investment. Four thousand new locomotives and 200,000 new freight cars were purchased. Many millions of dollars were expended for enlarging terminals and other facilities which, combined with increased operating efficiency, made it possible to handle the record-breaking traffic of 1923 with freedom from car shortage and congestion.

With the rail highways open to all users on equal terms, freedom from discrimination in service or rates; increasing efficiency and improving service, progress toward reduced expenses and lower rates, the purposes of government regulation of railroads are being steadily advanced. Maintenance of the essential principles of the laws under which these results are being secured is essential to public welfare.

More and Better Service

THE Katy, the pioneer railroad in its territory, and the only line serving all the more important centers in Oklahoma and Texas from both Kansas City and St. Louis, is steadily improving its service and its capacity to serve the Southwest. A consistent improvement policy has equipped the Katy to handle, without congestion or strain, a much larger traffic than it has ever enjoyed.

In the ten-year period ending with 1923, the Katy has expended approximately $15,000 of new capital for each mile of its line in enlarging and improving Katy facilities, making possible better service, increased efficiency and operating economy. During this period, the Katy increased the average number of tons handled per freight train more than 95 per cent, thus making possible higher wages to employees without proportionate increase in rates.

Transportation rates on the Katy, as on other American railroads, are decreasing steadily. On the basis of 1923 traffic, reductions in rates since 1921 have reduced the transportation bill of Katy patrons at the rate of $4,400,000 a year. The average revenue received by the Katy for handling a ton of freight one mile in 1923 was 12.49 per cent less than it was in 1921.

The highest service standards are being maintained. In May, 99 per cent of all Katy passenger trains made scheduled running time. In the first four months of 1923, 92 per cent of all the Katy's regularly scheduled merchandise cars arrived at destination on time.

Continued cooperation on the part of the public the Katy serves is essential to maintenance of the high standards of service the Katy management has established. Constant improvement of its service and equipment is the railroad's contribution to Southwestern growth. As a distinctively Southwestern institution, the Katy solicits opportunity to be increasingly useful to the territory it is designed to serve.

Wichita Theater Under Reconstruction For Keith's Vaudeville

SEASON OPENS LAST OF AUGUST

Business Men Enthusiastic Over City's New Entertainment

Wichita Falls is to have B. F. Keith's International vaudeville this next season, according to arrangements made and perfected with the owners of the Wichita theater, O. L. Rahl and J. W. Farabee of this city. The Wichita theater is being remodeled and redecorated to add every attractive feature possible to the shows next fall and winter, the new fixtures, according to Mr. Rahl, to cost in the neighborhood of $15,000.

This point will be the make-up point for Texas, according to present arrangements, the bills as they will be given in this state being assembled here, Wichita Falls thus getting the same bills as will be given in Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, and San Antonio, but getting them first, before any of these places. They will be given here the last two days of every week beginning August 28. Other days of the week will be filled in with road shows and high type picture shows and musical entertainments, according to Mr. Rahl.

Local Manager.

The remodeled theater will be under the direction of F. W. Day, for the last two years manager of the Strand theater. Mr. Day will retain his position with the Strand but will handle the Wichita theater in addition to his other duties.

A scheme of French blue will be followed throughout in the redecoration of the theater. The ceiling will give the appearance of moving clouds lit up by a new indirect lighting system. Boxes will be renovated and pig iron mission railings placed around them. New seats will be placed in the theater and its capacity enlarged.

Business Men Respond.

Business men in Wichita Falls are greeting the announcement of the new engagement with a great deal of enthusiasm, considering such as being of inestimable aid in bringing people to the city, and in making Wichita Falls the entertaining center for the surrounding territory. A plan whereby season tickets with a special reserved seat for every bill will be sold has been perfected by the management, and about 100 of these tickets sold already, according to Mr. Day. About half of these that have been sold have gone to people in Electra, Vernon, Iowa Park, and Burkburnett, he says. Business men point on this additional fact to show the value of the new entertainment to Wichita Falls.

Wichita Girl Is Injured When Tire Blows Out

Miss Willie Mae Gillespie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Gillespie, 1202 Kemp boulevard, was painfully injured Tuesday when a spare tire on the rear of the car blew out, throwing dust and sand into her eyes, and blistering her face and forehead.

Miss Gillespie with her mother, sister and brother-in-law was on the way to Henrietta when one of the tires blew out. Miss Gillespie, who was driving, had begun to remove the spare tire when the accident occurred. She was brought back to Wichita Falls for medical attention, and it was thought for a time that she might be blinded as a result of the accident, but she was reported Wednesday to be able to see and was resting comfortably.

Agent Places 10 Cotton Choppers

Ten negro cotton choppers were supplied a farmer in the Cashion district Wednesday by Federal Labor Agent James. A call for the hands came in the morning, and before noon the negroes wanted had been supplied.

It was reported yesterday by Mr. James that 10 more cotton choppers were wanted by a farmer near Chillicothe who had offered to transport them up to the farm. An effort is being made to supply this demand also.

Mr. James asks that anyone able to offer employment communicate with him at his office in the city hall.

WICHITA CO. BOYS GOING TO VERNON

Notices of the boys' club camp to be held at the Vernon fair grounds next week were being sent out Wednesday by County Farm Agent Guy R. Jones to 100 Wichita county boys eligible to attend the affair.

The camp will start July 16 and last through the 18. Approximately 400 boys from Wichita, Wilbarger, Baylor, Knox and Foard counties will be in attendance.

Various addresses by agricultural experts on subjects with which the boys clubs of the counties have been concerned, judging of farm animals, athletic contests and concerts will be included in the program.

Defendant's Plea Fares With Jury

A 30-day sentence in the county jail was imposed Wednesday on A. T. Eason when he was found guilty in the county court at law on charges of stealing automobile casings. He was arrested several days ago and has been held in jail since.

Eason entered a plea of not guilty to the charges and defended himself during the trial. He declared that the casings had been given to him by three strangers.

The jury, however, after a short deliberation, returned a verdict of guilty.

Old Home Town Stuff

J. M. Isbell, county engineer; left Wednesday for a short visit with his mother in central Texas.

Miss Lolita Lansford of Childress arrived Wednesday for a visit with her sisters, Miss Georgia and Edith, 2108 Ninth street.

No marriage licenses were issued by the county clerk Wednesday, the first day this month that the bureau book has been totally barren.

Sheriff W. W. Murphy is expected home in a few days from Colorado where he has been for his health for the past ten days. Word received here yesterday stated that he could be expected shortly.

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed Wednesday before U. S. Commissioner Lantz by William E. Martin, a mail carrier, who listed his liabilities at $2,067.04 and his assets, all of which are claimed exempt, at $3,370.

Ten new cases, most of which were traffic violations and the others vags and drunks, were taken up Wednesday morning at the municipal police court session. No large fines were inflicted in any of the cases.

Rev. Leslie Miller accompanied by C. O. Simmons and Mrs. Smith, all members of Grace Methodist church, have gone to Anadarko, Oklahoma, to attend the Methodist district camp meeting which is being held there this week. Others from the church expect to be there for the week-end services.

Magnolias Blank Texhomas, 6 to 0

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, July 9.—Texhoma, the new Twilight league team here, was shut out today, 6 to 0, in their first game of the season when Earl Anderson, pitcher for Magnolia, allowed them only two hits and his supporters prevented any runs to home.

Reid, initial sacker for Texhoma, sustained a broken right ankle when he slid into second base on a steal in the second inning.

Score by innings:		R	H	E
Magnolia	........140 1x—6	6	3
Texhoma	........020 00—0	2	3

Batteries: Magnolia, Anderson and Williamson; Texhoma, Jarrett and Williams.

Anderson retired five of his opponents at the bat and passed none. Jarrett issued two passes, hit one Batter, and struck out one.

GILLIS RELEASED ON LIQUOR BOND

Will Gillis, arrested Tuesday night by Deputy Sheriffs Hawkins and Belcher, was released on bond of $500 Wednesday when his hearing was held before U. S. Commissioner Lantz. He was charged with possession of intoxicating liquor.

Gillis was taken in custody as he sat in a car parked on the Henrietta road a short distance east of the city. A half-gallon of alleged liquor was found in the machine, officers reported.

ADJUTANT SWANSON RECOVERS SLOWLY

Officials of the Salvation army headquarters are worried over the condition of Adjutant David G. Swanson. Adjutant Swanson recently had his tonsils removed and is improving slowly. He has been in por health for some time due to his experiences in Japan during the big earthquake in that country where he worked night and day doing relief work.

MURDERER, SUICIDE, CHOSE OWN WEAPONS

By The Associated Press.

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., July 9.—Senile dementia is believed by the authorities to have caused Charles N. Wilcoxen, 68, former president of the Chicago, Lake Shore and South Bend Railway company, operating between Chicago and South Bend, Indiana, to kill his wife, 70, with an axe, a razor and a potato masher, and then hang himself at their Long Beach, Indiana, home Monday night.

The bodies, fully clothed, were found last night by officers who broke into the Wilcoxen home.

FULL HOUSE AT MUNY FESTIVAL

Family Night Program by City Officials Draws Record Crowd.

The Municipal club family night program and dinner held Wednesday evening at the club house with city officials acting in the capacity of hosts, was probably the most enjoyable of these weekly gatherings staged this summer. The largest company of the season was present. There were 76 dinner reservations, and it was treated to enticing program, incorporating musical selections both vocal and instrumental, with a number of pleasing after-dinner speeches by club members.

The entertainment was started with the singing of several duets by Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Huckabee. The Huckabees then led the company in a number of novel stunt singsongs and concert singing which was responded to enthusiastically by the gathering.

Mrs. Lewis Hyer gave a pleasing rendition of James Whitcomb Riley's "An Old Sweetheart of Mine." She graciously responded to an encore with a humorous reading. Mrs. Hyer was accompanied on the piano by Miss Carmen Yeargin.

Miss Yeargin followed with an enthralling piano solo, responding to the enthusiastic applause with several jazz selections.

W. E. George kept the company in an uproar with an address on things in geenral, and by breaking out with jokes and witticisms about several of the club members. Mr. George introduced Luther Hoffman, who gave a snappy after-dinner talk, and then presented Mayor Frank Collier with the Nafziger golf cup, won by the mayor in the recent handicap golf tournament held on the Muny course. The trophy must be won three times by the same golfer before permanent possession is allowed. J. T. Yeargin was victor in the tournament of 1923.

ONE OF ELECTRA'S NEW FLAGS STOLEN

ELECTRA, July 9.—Out of the 125 flags displayed here on the Fourth of July, one was reported stolen. The flag was displayed in front of the Love Produce house on Waggoner street, and it was left there all night, or rather, until someone decided they wished it and made the confiscation. The Legion has a list of all purchasers of the flags here, and it will not be likely to turn up, as it will be recognized if it is used.

OPTIMISTS SEND FLOWERS TO BOY

Claude Miller Praises Young Ashmore and Speaks Regrets

At the regular weekly luncheon held by the Optimist club Wednesday at the Kemp hotel, the members of the club voted to send flowers to young Wesley Ashmore, who is dying at the General hospital as the result of the brutal attack Tuesday afternoon.

In making the motion Claude Miller said that "the lad was loved by all who knew him. He was the friend of my son and there is not a better boy in Wichita Falls today than young Ashmore. It is hard to imagine how a person can stoop so low that he will murder an innocent 13-year-old boy. I move that the newspapers of Wichita Falls write stinging articles branding the culprit for the assault on the innocent boy."

The members of the club by an unanimous decision, voted to send the flowers to the dying boy and Ira Brown was instructed to buy the flowers and send them.

Grady Gaston, field director of the Optimist International, read the constitution of the Wichita Falls club and it was adopted by a unanimous vote.

"King and Queen" Sam Cole, newsies selling papers around the world, spoke for a few minutes to the club and told them some of their experiences in their travels.

Arrangements were completed for the big banquet and formal organization of the Wichita Falls Optimist International Friday evening, it was announced at the luncheon.

Man-Made Creeds Are Denounced

Denouncing man-made creeds as a substitute for Bible doctrines and human tradition as a make-shift for God's word, Evangelist R. L. Benton last night at the tabernacle on Denver street, said: "The call of this hour in the solemn days of the judgment, is for men and women to return to the teachings of the Bible and find true joy and peace and light."

Speaking of the specifications of the prophecy and their fulfillment, Mr. Benton said, "This beast was to do identically the same things as the little horn that came up from among the ten horns of the fourth beast in Daniel seven, and later uprooted three of the horns and became a world power. It is to reign for the same period of time and is the identical power that would attempt to change the law of God. This has been fulfilled and the one who fulfilled it admits its part in the attempt to change the law of Heaven."

"Christ, who was in the beginning with the Father, who helped in the creation of this world, would not attempt to change His Father's law, yet man-made religion will do so in order to make it fit their creeds."

Thursday night Evangelist Benton will speak on "The Part Our Country Will Play in the Closing Drama."

Mother Fights for Six Children Kept Alive on Milk-Ice Fund

Six weeping children grouped around their mother Wednesday afternoon with the knowledge in their minds that they were to be taken from her by officials next Monday. The father of the children deserted them five weeks ago while the mother had a two-month's-old baby on her hands and five young children, the oldest not being over 10 years of age. The woman has been notified that the children will be taken away Monday and she is in a crazed condition.

"I am still weak and am just getting in condition to work but I will work night and day before they take my children from me. I have not been able to support them because of my young baby but I will wash day and night before I see my babies taken from me and placed in an orphanage and then given away and me lose sight of them."

The children have largely been kept alive by the milk supplied through The Record News milk and ice fund which the Salvation Army handles. Others have been helping and officials are doing what they see to be the best thing for the woman—but she is a mother fighting for her babies and it is hard to think of them being torn from her side. The house in which the woman lives is kept clean and the children are six of the most beautiful children that the writer has ever seen. The woman said Wednesday that if she had money enough to buy a little wood to do her washing with she was able to take in washing and that her mother had promised to send a few dollars every week.

Contributions to The Record News milk and ice fund is turned over to the Salvation Army and used in cases just as needy as the one seen by the writer Wednesday.

Northwest Part Of County Now Threshing Grain

After having been held up nearly a week by rain, farmers in the extreme northwest portion of the county resumed threshing again Wednesday with hopes that they could complete the work within the next few days. Threshing elsewhere was finished several days ago. Around Electra, however, and near the Wilbarger line, considerable grain remains to be threshed.

Reports from farms over the county continue to bring word of excellent cotton crops. Except in a few places where grasshoppers caused some damage, the cotton stand is said to be exceedingly good.

Miss Monterey Lewis, violin soloist, and little Miss Jane Rahl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Rahl, furnished the entertainment program for the Lions at their weekly luncheon at the Kemp hotel yesterday. Miss Lewis's violin solo was enthusiastically received and the dancing of little Miss Rahl proved a diversion that was highly appreciated.

Following the regular program, presiding chairman, Joe Hatchitt made a short political talk in behalf of Al G. Smith, at that time candidate for the democratic presidential nomination.

Bulletins from the convention were read and many cheers accorded the announcement that John W. Davis of West Virginia was in the lead on the 102d ballot.

Thrift Means Making Money Go Farther

Thrift, in its broad sense, is handling money wisely.
It is getting the most out of every dollar of the income.
It is the power of making dollars earn more dollars.
It is spending with an eye to the future as well as the present.
It is using your money as a means to character-building.
True thrift does not curtail buying power. It increases it.
It does not make misers. It teaches how to spend as well as how to save.

Wichita Theater Under Reconstruction For Keith's Vaudeville

SEASON OPENS LAST OF AUGUST

Business Men Enthusiastic Over City's New Entertainment

Wichita Falls is to have B. F. Keith's International vaudeville this next season, according to arrangements made and perfected with the owners of the Wichita theater, O. L. Rahl and J. W. Farabee of this city. The Wichita theater is being remodeled and redecorated to add every attractive feature possible to the shows next fall and winter, the new fixtures, according to Mr. Rahl, to cost in the neighborhood of $15,000.

This point will be the make-up point for Texas, according to present arrangements, the bills as they will be given in this state being assembled here, Wichita Falls thus getting the same bills as will be given in Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, and San Antonio, but getting them first, before any of these places. They will be given here the last two days of every week beginning August 28. Other days of the week will be filled in with road shows and high type picture shows and musical entertainments, according to Mr. Rahl.

Local Manager.

The remodeled theater will be under the direction of F. W. Day, for the last two years manager of the Strand theater. Mr. Day will retain his position with the Strand but will handle the Wichita theater in addition to his other duties.

A scheme of French blue will be followed throughout in the redecoration of the theater. The ceiling will give the appearance of moving clouds lit up by a new indirect lighting system. Boxes will be renovated and pig iron mission railings placed around them. New seats will be placed in the theater and its capacity enlarged.

Business Men Respond.

Business men in Wichita Falls are greeting the announcement of the new engagement with a great deal of enthusiasm, considering such as being of inestimable aid in bringing people to the city, and in making Wichita Falls the entertaining center for the surrounding territory. A plan whereby season tickets with a special reserved seat for every bill will be sold has been perfected by the management, and about 100 of these tickets sold already, according to Mr. Day. About half of these that have been sold have gone to people in Electra, Vernon, Iowa Park, and Burkburnett, he says. Business men point on this additional fact to show the value of the new entertainment to Wichita Falls.

Wichita Girl Is Injured When Tire Blows Out

Miss Willie Mae Gillespie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Gillespie, 1202 Kemp boulevard, was painfully injured Tuesday when a spare tire on the rear of the car blew out, throwing dust and sand into her eyes, and blistering her face and forehead.

Miss Gillespie with her mother, sister and brother-in-law was on the way to Henrietta when one of the tires blew out. Miss Gillespie, who was driving, had begun to remove the spare tire when the accident occurred. She was brought back to Wichita Falls for medical attention, and it was thought for a time that she might be blinded as a result of the accident, but she was reported Wednesday to be able to see and was resting comfortably.

Agent Places 10 Cotton Choppers

Ten negro cotton choppers were supplied a farmer in the Cashion district Wednesday by Federal Labor Agent James. A call for the hands came in the morning, and before noon the negroes wanted had been supplied.

It was reported yesterday by Mr. James that 10 more cotton choppers were wanted by a farmer near Chillicothe who had offered to transport them up to the farm. An effort is being made to supply this demand also.

Mr. James asks that anyone able to offer employment communicate with him at his office in the city hall.

WICHITA CO. BOYS GOING TO VERNON

Notices of the boys' club camp to be held at the Vernon fair grounds next week were being sent out Wednesday by County Farm Agent Guy R. Jones to 100 Wichita county boys eligible to attend the affair.

The camp will start July 16 and last through the 18. Approximately 400 boys from Wichita, Wilbarger, Baylor, Knox and Foard counties will be in attendance.

Various addresses by agricultural experts on subjects with which the boys clubs of the counties have been concerned, judging of farm animals, athletic contests and concerts will be included in the program.

Defendant's Plea Fares With Jury

A 30-day sentence in the county jail was imposed Wednesday on A. T. Eason when he was found guilty in the county court at law on charges of stealing automobile casings. He was arrested several days ago and has been held in jail since.

Eason entered a plea of not guilty to the charges and defended himself during the trial. He declared that the casings had been given to him by three strangers.

The jury, however, after a short deliberation, returned a verdict of guilty.

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, July 9.—Texhoma, the new Twilight league team here, was shut out today, 6 to 0, in their first game of the season when Earl Anderson, pitcher for Magnolia, allowed them only two hits and his supporters prevented any runs to home.

FULL HOUSE AT MUNY FESTIVAL

Family Night Program by City Officials Draws Record Crowd.

The Municipal club family night program and dinner held Wednesday evening at the club house with city officials acting in the capacity of hosts, was probably the most enjoyable of these weekly gatherings staged this summer. The largest company of the season was present. There were 76 dinner reservations, and it was treated to enticing program, incorporating musical selections both vocal and instrumental, with a number of pleasing after-dinner speeches by club members.

The entertainment was started with the singing of several duets by Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Huckabee. The Huckabees then led the company in a number of novel stunt singsongs and concert singing which was responded to enthusiastically by the gathering.

Mrs. Lewis Hyer gave a pleasing rendition of James Whitcomb Riley's "An Old Sweetheart of Mine." She graciously responded to an encore with a humorous reading. Mrs. Hyer was accompanied on the piano by Miss Carmen Yeargin.

Miss Yeargin followed with an enthralling piano solo, responding to the enthusiastic applause with several jazz selections.

W. E. George kept the company in an uproar with an address on things in geenral, and by breaking out with jokes and witticisms about several of the club members. Mr. George introduced Luther Hoffman, who gave a snappy after-dinner talk, and then presented Mayor Frank Collier with the Nafziger golf cup, won by the mayor in the recent handicap golf tournament held on the Muny course. The trophy must be won three times by the same golfer before permanent possession is allowed. J. T. Yeargin was victor in the tournament of 1923.

OPTIMISTS SEND FLOWERS TO BOY

Claude Miller Praises Young Ashmore and Speaks Regrets

At the regular weekly luncheon held by the Optimist club Wednesday at the Kemp hotel, the members of the club voted to send flowers to young Wesley Ashmore, who is dying at the General hospital as the result of the brutal attack Tuesday afternoon.

In making the motion Claude Miller said that "the lad was loved by all who knew him. He was the friend of my son and there is not a better boy in Wichita Falls today than young Ashmore. It is hard to imagine how a person can stoop so low that he will murder an innocent 13-year-old boy. I move that the newspapers of Wichita Falls write stinging articles branding the culprit for the assault on the innocent boy."

The members of the club by an unanimous decision, voted to send the flowers to the dying boy and Ira Brown was instructed to buy the flowers and send them.

Grady Gaston, field director of the Optimist International, read the constitution of the Wichita Falls club and it was adopted by a unanimous vote.

"King and Queen" Sam Cole, newsies selling papers around the world, spoke for a few minutes to the club and told them some of their experiences in their travels.

Arrangements were completed for the big banquet and formal organization of the Wichita Falls Optimist International Friday evening, it was announced at the luncheon.

Man-Made Creeds Are Denounced

Denouncing man-made creeds as a substitute for Bible doctrines and human tradition as a make-shift for God's word, Evangelist R. L. Benton last night at the tabernacle on Denver street, said: "The call of this hour in the solemn days of the judgment, is for men and women to return to the teachings of the Bible and find true joy and peace and light."

Speaking of the specifications of the prophecy and their fulfillment, Mr. Benton said, "This beast was to do identically the same things as the little horn that came up from among the ten horns of the fourth beast in Daniel seven, and later uprooted three of the horns and became a world power. It is to reign for the same period of time and is the identical power that would attempt to change the law of God. This has been fulfilled and the one who fulfilled it admits its part in the attempt to change the law of Heaven."

"Christ, who was in the beginning with the Father, who helped in the creation of this world, would not attempt to change His Father's law, yet man-made religion will do so in order to make it fit their creeds."

Thursday night Evangelist Benton will speak on "The Part Our Country Will Play in the Closing Drama."

Mother Fights for Six Children Kept Alive on Milk-Ice Fund

Six weeping children grouped around their mother Wednesday afternoon with the knowledge in their minds that they were to be taken from her by officials next Monday. The father of the children destered them five weeks ago while the mother had a two-month's-old baby on her hands and five young children, the oldest not being over 10 years of age. The woman has been notified that the children will be taken away Monday and she is in a crazed condition.

"I am still weak and am just getting in condition to work but I will work night and day before they take my children from me. I have not been able to support them because of my young baby but I will wash day and night before I see my babies taken from me and placed in an orphanage and then given away and me lose sight of them."

The children have largely been kept alive by the milk supplied through The Record News milk and ice fund which the Salvation Army handles. Others have been helping and officials are doing what they see to be the best thing for the woman—but she is a mother fighting for her babies and it is hard to think of them being torn from her side. The house in which the woman lives is kept clean and the children are six of the most beautiful children that the writer has ever seen. The woman said Wednesday that if she had money enough to buy a little wood to do her washing with she was able to take in washing and that her mother had promised to send a few dollars every week.

Contributions to The Record News milk and ice fund is turned over to the Salvation Army and used in cases just as needy as the one seen by the writer Wednesday.
