Resigning Engineer Assails Highway Commission

ABLE MEN WERE FIRED WITHOUT REASON, CLAIM

Says Work Was Disorganized by Removal Of Aides

FLAYS CONTRACT PLAN

Deals Let Over His Head, He Explains In Statement

WACO, Oct. 20.—After an ex-commissioner of Bosque county, who had been "out of politics for some time," had been appointed as road maintenance superintendent for this district, over the division engineer's head; after the contract for maintenance of McLennan roads will be let, over the engineer's head, to a company formed to take over this contract by a Bosque county ginner; after a Hill county engineer with no prior experience in road construction had been appointed road foreman for this district; and after his right hand man, an experienced engineer, had been dismissed, effective November 1, without cause—after this, H. C. Porter, highway engineer for Central Texas, told the highway commission he was "through" and today announced that they had accepted his resignation.

In a written statement he gave as his reason that the highway department by removal of competent and efficient men, had disorganized the highway work.

Mr. Porter particularly protested the removal of W. S. Wood, maintenance engineer, of which he was notified October 15, to become effective November 1. Mr. Porter makes his own resignation effective the same date.

LYRICS OF LIFE.

By Douglas Malloch.

The Things That Come.

Things have come to our house
I think must come to all:
Children came to our house
With many a merry call;
Joy has come to our house
That only children bring—
Aye, and care to our house,
The price of ev'rything.

Dark has come to our house.
Its shadow on the floor.
Sorrow come to our house
It never knew before;
Grief has come to our house.
One unforgotten day,
Death has come to our house
And taken one away.

Things have come to our house
That happen now and then.
Faith has come to our house
And brought us peace again.
Christ has come to our house
And whispered as He passed
We all shall come to His house
And find our loved at last.

TEXAN ON TRIAL IN MURDER CASE TAKES WITNESS STAND WITH AUTOMATIC IN POCKET

Red Hamilton Tells San Antonio Jury That Tom Cooper Had Been Abusing Him and Shot Was Fired to Defend His Own Life

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 20.—(AP)—W. R. (Red) Hamilton, on trial here on charge of murder of Tom Cooper last spring, testified in his own behalf this afternoon with an automatic pistol in his pocket. He was disarmed after leaving the stand by Chief Deputy Sheriff A. Newton Jr.

Newton was standing behind the witness while Hamilton testified. The chief deputy said he saw the gun as Hamilton arose to his feet excitedly to reply to a question. The officer waited until the witness was excused and called him from the court room. The pistol was taken from Hamilton and he was allowed to return to court. Hamilton made no remark when disarmed, Newton said

The gist of Hamilton's story was that he and Cooper had been drinking and that Cooper had been abusing him for some time. Finally Cooper made a motion to draw a pistol, Hamilton said, and as Ed Knight went between them, he dodged behind Knight, drew Knight's gun from the scabbard and fired three times. Hamilton said he and Knight then left the place.

Hamilton was carried through a grilling cross examination by the district attorney but did not change his story materially. He admitted that all in the party were drinking and that Cooper was drunk.

GRIFFIN DIES; FUNERAL TO BE THURSDAY AT 2

GRIFFITH IN JAIL

Bond for Slayer to be Opposed by District Attorney's Office

He battled hard for life, but Lige Griffith's bullet had gone too true and Herbert Griffin, his vitals torn and bleeding, had to give up the fight.

The wealthy Archer county rancher died at 6:15 Tuesday morning, 15 hours after he was stricken low by a shot from a 30-30 rifle. The best that skilled medical treatment could do was prolong his life throughout the night. An operation and blood transfusions were resorted to, but surgeons and physicians who worked over him knew that it was only a matter of time until the end. The ball that flew from Griffith's gun as Griffin sat in an automobile in front of the First State bank at Dundee Monday afternoon, found its mark at a spot where death was sure. The wounded man, who retained consciousness over the long ride from Dundee to the general hospital here, lapsed into unconsciousness late in the night and died without regaining his faculties.

Murder Charge Filed.

With Griffin's death, the state's machinery began to grind again around Lige Griffith. This Dundee tenant farmer who had twice served as an important gear in the legal machinery, set in motion when Griffin was tried for the death of Hugh Reilly in May, 1924, found himself Tuesday as the hub of another legal wheel the state will spin toward the goal it but recently rolled against Griffin—the electric chair or the penitentiary. A formal murder charge has been filed already.

In the meantime, though, preparations have been made for funeral ser-

Cal Deplores Low Regard Of Social Laws

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—(AP)—More law observance and more religion are needed in this country, President Coolidge told the annual council of Congregational Churches in an address tonight.

"Lawlessness is altogether too prevalent," he said, "and a lack of respect for government and the conventions of enlightened society is altogether too apparent.

"If there are any general failures in the enforcement of the law, it is because there have first been general failures in the disposition to observe the law. I can conceive of no adequate remedy for the vils which beset society except through the incluences of religion."

The president said there was no form of education, government or reward, "which will not fail," that "redemption must come through sacrifice, and sacrifice is the essence of religion." He bespoke untold benefit through a broader comprehension of this principal by the public and continued preaching of it by the clergy.

Civilization Threatened.

"It is only through these avenues," he declared, "by a constant renewal and extension of our faith, that we can expect to enlarge and improve the moral and spiritual life of the nation, without that faith all that we have of an enlightened civilization cannot endure."

"If society resists wrong doing by punishment, as it must do unless it is willing to approve it through failure to resist it, for there is no middle ground, it may protect itself as it is justified in doing by restraining a criminal, but that in and of itself does not reform him. It is only a treatment of a symptom. It does not eradicate the disease. It does not make the community virtuous.

"Enlightened Conscience."

"No amount of restraint, no amount of law can do that. If our political and social standards are the results of an enlightened conscience, then their perfection depends upon securing a more enlightened conscience.

"If we are to preserve what we already have and provide for further reformation, . . . as the clergy tell us, we must become partakers of the spirit of the Great Master. This way is outside the government. It is the realm of religion."

The government can and is aiding in solution of some of the present day problems, Mr. Coolidge said, believing that the law undoubtedly acts to deter wrong doing and to repress crime.

MORE BRIDES IN OCTOBER

Fall Month a Busy One For Weddings

Next to June, October seems to be the favorite month for weddings. Last week several punctuated the social calendar, and yesterday, one of unusual interest took place when Dillard Anderson and Helen Hammersmith of Dallas were wed. And if Dame Rumor is to be trusted, there are others yet to follow.

Weddings always brings to mind the showers and other parties which inevitably precede the ceremony. All the bride's friends want to entertain her and there seems to be no happier, more mutually agreeable way than the shower.

Last week Guy P. Pool, another popular Wichita Fall's boy chose his bride from Dallas' fair daughters and on Thursday evening was married to Gladys Hayes. Between the two brides-elect, the social set in that city have been pretty busy, especially so to with the state fair also going on.

Shower Given.

A shower for Mrs. P'Pool which preceded her wedding was given by Miss Nina Ruth Hayes, her sister, the affair being given for the bridal party in the form of a supper following the prerehearsal of the wedding. At this event both the guests and the bride-elect received pretty gifts.

And for the second bride, Helen Hammersmith, Mrs. William Lang entertained at luncheon last Thursday when the hostess presented the honoree with a lovely gift, and this affair was followed with a dinner Saturday night in the Dallas country club given by Miss Josephine Biggers when Mr. Anderson and the entire bridal party which was partly made up from Wichita Fall's friends of both bride and groom, were included as honor guests.

Mrs. Gaius Gannon entertained at bridge complimenting Miss Hammersmith and the girls of the bridal party, and there were numerous other affairs for both popular young women.

And now since Dallas is through entertaining for a while for these two, there will, of course, be a brief lull while they are on their honeymoon trip then will be the arrival in Wichita Falls where the homes of both couples will be established. And in these instances, what has been Dallas' loss will be Wichita Falls' gain, for two more attractive girls will be added to the younger matrons' list here.

Social Courtesies.

There will be social courtesies for both beginning probably the last of the month and it might be that new suggestions will be welcome to prospective hostesses.

For instance the commoner kinds of showers, linen, kitchenware, handkerchiefs and miscellaneous, have all been used so many times that someone might try a recipe shower which is not only appreciated by the bride, but by the young husband as well. With the invitations, send two or three blank filing cards on which each guest is to inscribe her favorite recipes. The hostess provides the box, all indexed for holding the cards.

A basket shower, too, is a very happy idea now, because basket containers for all kinds of things are so popular. The hostess can provide as her gift, a clothes basket to hold the other presents. There are market baskets and waste baskets, baskets for sewing materials, sandwiches, fruit, candy, flowers and any number of other things.

DOROTHY DIX ADVICE

If It Comes to a Showdown Between the Two, a Woman's Duty to Her Children Is Greater Than to Her Husband—But It Is Not Part of "Duty" to Sacrifice Her Husband or Neglect Him

A correspondent asks:
"Is a woman's duty greater to her husband or to her children?"

I think that a woman's duty is incomparably greater to her children than it is to her husband. Her husband is the man with whom she entered into the matrimonial partnership, and her duties to him are specific and well defined, and dependent, more or less, on his conduct and how he fulfills his part of the bargain with her.

Under certain conditions, it seems to me that her moral obligations are wiped out. It is certainly no part of a wife's duty to love and honor an unfaithful husband, or to work and make a comfortable home for a drunkard who defiles her roof with his debauches. If a woman still continues to give affection to the man who has been disloyal to her and to cherish the one she has to fish out of the gutter, it is of her grace, and not because he has any right to expect or demand it of her.

In a word, when a husband fails in his duty to his wife, by that same token he cancels her obligation to him; but no matter what a woman's children do, her duty to them never ends because her responsibility never ceases.

She brought them without their volition into the world. She not only thrust life upon them, but she shaped their lives. She gave them their heredity because she picked out their father for them as well as sending her own blood through their veins. She made their environment. It was her influence that was predominant in their formative years. Therefore a mother's first duty is to care for these hostages she has given to fortune. It outranks all other obligations, and when the good of the children demand it she should not only sacrifice her husband to them, but herself.

I see no reason why a childless woman should endure the martyrdom of a marriage that is hell on earth, nor why it is her duty to put up with insult and abuse from a brutal husband who misuses her. But if a woman has children and has no way to provide for them, I think that it is her duty to endure any misery that may be her portion in marriage in order to secure for her children the food, the clothes, the education, the start in the world that their father can give them.

I think, however, that most women overdo their duty to their children, and underdo their duty to their husbands. They sacrifice their husbands needlessly and causelessly to their children, which is one of the main reasons why, in the end, so many husbands default on their marriage obligations.

It generally begins with the first baby, when a young woman is so anxious to be a good mother, that she forgets that she has any obligations to be a good wife. Before the arrival of the little stranger who is to be her husband's fatal rival she has spent her time catering to husband. She has dolled herself up so that she may look good to him. She has spent her evening amusing and entertaining him, and going about with him. She has been lover and comrade.

But with the advent of the baby only too often all this is changed. She lets herself get slouchy and sloppy because baby pulls at her clothes and musses her hair. She has no interest in anything but the baby, no conversation about anything but baby. Wild horses couldn't drag her away from the cradle, and she is frankly relieved when husband goes out by himself of an evening and leaves her to perform her rites of infant worship in peace.

Now, these cases, and they are plentiful, of the sacrifice of the father to the child are unnecessary. It does a child no good for a mother to sit and watch it sleep, while her whole happiness and the ultimate welfare of the child depends upon her watching her husband and seeing that he does not stray away from his own fireside in search of the society of his wife is too much absorbed to give him.

Many a wife forgets that, while she can hire a reliable woman to take care of her children, there is no woman she can trust to take care of her husband, and while she is in the nursery holding little Johnny's hands some vamp is generally holding hands with her husband.

Furthermore, this process of making father a goat for the children does not end with the cradle. It

SOCIETY

Members of the American Legion Woman's Auxiliary enjoyed a delightful luncheon at the Wichita Club Tuesday which was followed by a business meeting in which it was planned to give a benefit bridge party in the near future.

Mrs. Carrigan talked interestingly of a government hospital she visited while in Colorado this summer, and the party which the auxiliary plan to give will be for the benefit of the disabled ex-service men. In this way, money will be raised with which to send Christmas boxes to these hospitals.

Plates were laid for Mesdames A. H. Carrigan, L. F. Lucy, Carter McGregor, J. B. Hatchitt, H. J. Weldon, John Davenport, O. W. Wilson, B. A. Moore, Mollie McElroy and O. T. Ailes.

PEN WOMEN PROGRAM LED BY MRS. McMORDIE

Mrs. F. V. McMordie of Decatur was leader of the program for the Pen Women at the meeting held Monday at the library, sending in her work from her home at Decatur.

The subject of the study was an analysis of some piece of recent fiction and Mrs. McMordie chose for her analysis a short story, "The Mummy," by John Galesworthy.

Mrs. W. A. Sandford and Miss Lucile Sherrod read their chapters to the composite novel the club members are writing.

Those present were Mesdames E. A. Skalinder, J. S. Pitman, Hindman, Johnson, Wayne, Somerville and Miss Lucile Sherrod.

PLANS MADE FOR NOVEMBER LUNCHEON

Plans were completed for a luncheon to be given at an all-day meeting November 2, when Circle Five of the First Methodist church met Monday at the home of Mrs. Guy Raley, when she was assisted by Mrs. Elbert Hanks and Mrs. B. T. Williams as joint hostesses.

The devotional was led by Mrs. G. L. Shapard. Mrs. V. L. Ashford reviewed chapters three and four of the mission study book, "Of One Blood." Miss Jessie Lucile Raley entertained with two readings, "Rising in the World," and "Main Street."

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting to Mesdames J. H. Johnson, J. C. Hanks, K. B. Dodge, Claude Miller, A. B. Lipscomb, B. T. Williams, H. S. Calhoun, T. A. Hicks, W. F. Smith, H. P. Hodge, E. S. Dougan, G. L. Shapard, O. G. Scott, W. F. Gant, C. G. Ashford, J. A. Sepherd, Guy Raley, Elbert Hanks.

BUSINESS-PROFESSIONAL GIRLS TO STAGE PLAY

Members of the Business and Professional Women's club will give their annual production this year on November 9-10, according to an announcement made Tuesday.

The show which will be a delightful musical comedy, will be staged at the Majestic theatre and Mrs. Lois Parker, assisted by Miss Margaret Fisher will have charge of selecting the talent.

Those who attended former productions presented by this club, especially "Springtime" and "Marchita" will need no urging to see this one which will be given in two acts and 22 scenes. It is patterned after most modern revues such as the "Follies" and "The Passing Show," and opens with a cleverly depicted box office seat sale.

MRS. DEAN HOSTESS TO CIRCLE FOUR

Mrs. R. S. Dean entertained circle four of the First Baptist church Woman's auxiliary at her home Monday afternoon when contests and other entertainment were included in the program. Mrs. Mooney won a booklet as a prize in a contest for repeating the best childhood verses. Mrs. Joe Kelley won in a magazine contest.

Delightful readings were given by Mrs. Lloyd Jones and Miss Lucile Ballard.

Tea was poured by Mrs. T. M. Smyre for the following guests: Mesdames J. B. Craig, Cone, C. M. Morgan, R. H. Hall, George Lawler, Ray Black, Joe Kelley, Walker, Kinsey, W. K. Guinn, C. W. Horry, A. F. Betlefs, A. F. Kimmell, Jack Spiegel Dean, Lloyd Rutledge, Hire, F. C. Barron Joe Erwin, Mooney, Ben King and Misses Alma Lee Joiner, and Lucile Ballard and Mesdames W. C. Myers, J. M. continues. Women justify themselves in shutting up their houses and going away for two or three months at a time in the summer and leaving their husbands alone in the city by saying that they do it for the children. The children must have country air and coolness and room to play in, and so the mothers, calmly hugging this alibi to their breasts, go forth to summer hotels with their offspring and then feel themselves grievously ill-used because their husbands finally rebel at being sacrificed to the children and console themselves after the fashion of summer widowers.

And there are other mothers who enslave their husbands for their children and who literally work their husbands to death to give their children fine clothes, fine cars and a thousand frills that they cannot afford. We all know households in which the husband is the shabbiest member of the family; a person pushed about from place to place, his happiness and pleasure never considered; nothing but a bill payer.

It it come tp a shodown between the two, a woman's duty to her children is greater than it is to her husband, but it is not her duty to sacrifice her husband needlessly to her children. Generally speaking, the better she does her duty to her husband the better she does it to her children. For in that way she keeps her home together, as she does not do when she is so absorbed in her children that she forgets she has a husband at all and leaves him either to grouch over being neglected, or to be stolen by some other woman.

Cold Weather Here Brings Call For Aid From Poor

Cold weather has brought with it numerous calls for aid, and within the past two weeks, the Salvation Army has had seventy calls for wraps by cotton pickers and outdoor workers, according to Captain Wilkes of the local post.

Many of the cotton pickers came to this section during the warm weather and did not bring heavy clothing with them, and the cold days have made them shiver.

An appeal is made by the Salvation Army for a supply of overcoats, wraps, winter underwear and garments to supply the demand of the needy.

TEXAS RUM RUNNERS BLAMED.

Texas rum runners are blamed by Dr. Lester H. Howard, state director of animal industry for Massachusetts, for the situation in Texas which resulted from an order from his office Thursday forbidding the importation of cattle from the Lone Star state.

This Massachusetts ban was imposed to prevent the spread of the foot and mouth disease to Massachusetts. According to Dr. Howard, in April last, there was an outbreak of the disease in a section of Texas frequented by men running liquor from South America where the disease is common.

He says the Texas cattle contracted the disease by eating hay and straw in which the liquor from South America was packed. There are old timers down in the coast country who insist that the foot and mouth disease is caused by the cattle standing in foul water in the marshes and contracting the swamp itch.

Sores appear on the hoofs and ankles and legs of the cattle, the animals lick the sores with their tongues, and then comes the malady which is the scourge of the cattle kingdom.

These old timers in the swamp country may not be scientists, but they do say the way to destroy the foot and mouth disease is to remove the source of the disease or rather to destroy it. They would do this by draining the swamp, cleansing the pastures of the polluted water, which is a foul poison and thus destroying the itch which rots the hoofs and legs of the cattle first and then destroys the animal completely by contact of the tongue with the hoof in the licking process which follows.

There may be rum runners in Texas who obtain their liquor supply from South America, but the Massachusetts scientist will never be able to convince these old timers down in the coast country that rum running is responsible for the hoof and mouth disease.

A human animal who invades these marshes, if he is barefooted or barelegged, contracts the disease known as the itch. There are remedies which will remove all traces of the malady; but the human animal does not use his tongue on his shanks of his feet to effect a cure. He applies the remedies which were in vogue fifty years ago in what is known as the tall grass swamp country where cow owners graze their herds regardless of polluted water which is said to be as poisonous as the bite of an adder.

THEY GAVE HIM THE AIR.

President Coolidge addressed the great convention of American Legion men. He denounced militarism and they cheered him to the echo. General William Mitchell could not attend. His military superiors would not grant him leave of absence.

Many of the Texans who attended the Omaha convention announced that they were going to make a popular idol of General Mitchell. They were going to adopt resolutions that would make the army and navy flesh sizzle. They were going to apply the branding irons red hot.

After the president had delivered his message, the idolators of the general forgot the applause and the resolutions and they gave the daring flyer the air proper. General Mitchell invited a court martial. He is going to get it and he will take his medicine.

He grabbed the center of the stage and he made the dry bones rattle in the closets of many army and navy fossils. He was the sensation of the day, and now the American reading world is looking for another sensation.

REED ON THE ROAD AGAIN.

Senator James A. Reed of Missouri is on the road again, denouncing federal usurpation of power, meddlesome laws, the world court and finally what he calls France's gestures toward a settlement to its debt to America. Decrying the multitude of laws, before the Missouri Bar association, Senator Reed digressed long enough to ridicule Vice President Dawes for asserting that congress talks too much, characterizing Dawes as a blatherskite who ought to know that it would be far better to let congress keep on talking so as to give the country a legislative rest. And then he denounced the multitude of federal bureaus, attempts to regulate personal habits and even to regulate the care of babies. This vitrolic senator from Missouri did not overlook Cailleaux and his visit. This is what he said: "When France borrowed its money from us, they came with outstretched hands and cried, 'for God's sake give us money to save our nation and people.' And what has been our experience with France. They came over here with a pretended plan of settlement which, stripped of its verbiage, was nothing but a modified plan of repudiation."

Well, the American government gave the wizard of France five years grace on his debt funding plan. This will cost the American taxpayer $145,000,000 a year. France owes the United States government $4,000,000,000. For five years to come the American and not the French taxpayer will pay the interest money. This is not the act of a Shylock. Americans are generous and the American government has been generous in its preliminary dealings with France and the taxpayers of France.

But Reed of Missouri always runs true to form. He began his public career as a prosecuting attorney in the county of Jackson, Kansas City, and for eight years was a terror to criminals and all persons charged with crime. Men said that it was a tragedy for a person accused of crime when Reed was the prosecutor.

The late Vice President Thomas Riley Marshall must have been right when he said that it is unfortunate for a statesman to begin his public career as a prosecutor of criminals and still more unfortunate for a man who has been a public prosecutor to be elevated to the office of a criminal court judge.

Reed as a senator, is ever for the prosecution; he never appears on the side of the defense. And yet, he is said to be the ablest debator in the American congress, and as a master of invective, he is alone in his class.

TEXAS TALKING POINTS.

Geo. Macquaid, says Texas produces about one-third of all the cotton grown in the United States, or about 4,000,000 bales a year.

That since petroleum was discovered in Texas there ras been produced in this state $1,350,000,000 worth of it, and a billion of this sum was produced in the past six years.

That the output of electricity in Texas is about 110,000,000 kilowat hours a month and three-fourth of the electric generating facilities of Texas is interconnected.

That 50,000,000 thousand cubic feet of natural gas is in Texas each year.

That the sulphur mines of Texas if pushed to capacity produced could supply the world its sulphur needs.

That there are beds of phosphate in three counties in Texas that are said to represent untold millions of wealth.

MITCHELL MUST FACE TRIAL.

Colonel William Mitchell must face a court martial. He has been ordered to be ready for the excruciating event. He knew he would be court martialed when he hurled his bolt. He grabbed the center of the stage, he made a target of Secretary Wilbur and army and navy chieftians.

Now he will be ordered to walk the gang plank. In other words, he will be dismissed or placed upon the retired list. Colonel Mitchell is as courageous as Richard of the Lion Heart. He knew that he would be martyrized or crucified by the powers that be when he let lose his vials of wrath.

He has one staunch defender. Arthur Brisbane of New York. He has millions of admirers. Now after he has been thrown out of the service he will go on a big game hunt to the wilds of Africa. He is a man of wealth. He loves adventure. He has a beautiful wife who backs him to the last words and into the last ditch. Don't waste any sympathetic tears on or for the colonel. He knew what he was doing and is glad of it.

WHAT TODAY MEANS TO YOU

By MARY BLAKE

Libra—October 21.

Today's planetary aspects are quite complex as, although they do not reveal any favorable influences, they are on the other hand, far from adverse. During the evening they assume a definite character and become exceedingly propitious. When uncertainity prevails, it would be foolish to tempt the fates by attempting something the outcome of which would in your mind be in doubt. Far better is it under such circumstances to do the appointed daily task and be satisfied. The influences toward the end of the day will be quite emotional and all that is good and true in you will be aroused and the best thing to do is to allow such impulses full sway. "Troth plighting" will be faciliated today and those who do "plight their troth" will never have occasion to regret it.

Children born today will go through infancy with little or no trouble. In their teens, however, they will be liable to experience at least one serious illness which will evoke anxiety and demand watchful care. In disposition they will be quick tempered and have very little control over their emotions. Impulsive and hasty, they will at all times need a guiding and restraining hand. Affection will accomplish more for these children than reproof and punishment. They will be truthful, animated by high ideals of honor and courage, and always willing to sacrifice themselves for those they love.

If today is your birthday, you possess much executive ability, a magnetic personality and are a born leader. You have great persuasive powers and can generally make others see as you see, and think as you think.

In your social life you plan most of the affairs that your circle enjoys and others are willing that you should do this, as you have the knack of making people feel at ease, and you always appear to great advantage.

In business you are just as successful and can usually induce others to do pleasantly that which under another would be irksome and annoying.

It is almost superfluous to say that your circle of friends is a large one. You are loyal to them one and all.

Successful people born on this date are:

Paul A. Chadborne, educator.
John E. Sweet, inventor.
Horace W. Robbins, artist.
Will Carleton, poet and lecturer.
Margaret Mather, actress.

HOW IT STARTED

The Dollar Sign.

The almighty dollar! Though the Alpha of Omego of so many lives, its potency for happiness and misery, for good and for evil, fully recognized, how few of us have stopped to think of the reason for the enigmatical sign that represents it?

We are prone to consider the expression "almighty dollar" and the sentiment which it indicates distinctly a modernism. But away back in the timeof buccaneers in Spain it was symbolized by nothing less than the Pillars of Hercules!

"Pieces of eight! Pieces of eight!" no story of real pirates is complete without.

The "piece of eight" was the standard silver currency of the time in Spain. Because of the two vertical strokes appearing on the head of the coin (Pillars of Hercules), it is often called the pillar dollar. Over the pillars is stamped the "S" sign, a partial representation of the figure 8, which significal eight reals, the value of the coin.

Though neither reals nor the figure 8 play any part in our system of currency, the Pillars of Hercules and the sign o fthe "piece of eight" have remained for our American dollar.

Seek U. S. Aid In Solving Murders

PIKEVILLE, Ky., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Federal aid will be sought by Pike county, Kentucky, officials to help solve the McCarr, Ky., mine murder and swindle case in which five persons are under indictment, officials indicated today, adding that it probably would assume international scope in bringing about the arrest of Joe Jack, Jr., believed to be in Hungary.

Jack was said by William H. Turner, once thought killed in a premature McCarr mine blast nine months ago, but now under arrest charged with murder and the central figure in the story, to have obtained a passport for him to enter Hungury. Besides believing Jack has knowledge of the explosion which caused the death of two men officials want him arrested for alleged passport irregularities and "bootlegging" of aliens into America. Nine months after he was supposed to have been killed Turner arrived in New York from Europe last week and was arrested as he left the steamship Resolute. Following his "death" his wife and relatives realized $85,000 from his insurance policies. Of this amount, Turner's sister, Mrs. F. F. Farley, Tampa, Fla., gave him $10,000 which Turner said he gave his son, Theodore, to take to his wife.

SYNOPSIS

By midnight Connemara Moore was to announce her engagement to one of two suitors or be disinherited by Aunt Celimena. Instead she is now speeding through Greenwich, miles from home, at the side of young David Lacy of New York, whom she didn't know but whom she hailed as he was passing auntie's. And now a traffic cop has halted them and threatened to arrest them for speeding. And Connie, garbed as a nun, is pleading for mercy. At Aunt Celimena's home, miles back in Connecticut, excitement runs high.

In the reflected glow the face of the policeman altered its expression slowly. It ran from anger, through surprise to bewilderment. Still Lacy could not see her face, yet from the effect upon the policeman he understood that it was no ordinary face. An ordinary face couldn't possibly have had such an effect.

"It's not a mask I'm wearing." Again she was interrupted, this time by a sneeze so violent and so realistic that Lacy was tempted to slap her regardless of her dignified robes, well in the middle of the back. "It's not a mask I'm wearing," and again a sneeze. "It's a thing—a sort of thing to keep out the dust. I suffer so from hay fever."

The cop yielded, but he was cynical. "Well, it sounds fishy to me, but I guess it's all right. But look out for Hogan at the Portchester line. He won't let you off so easy."

Lacy started the motor, and when he turned again, the face of his companion was once more hidden by the mask. She was sneezing, delicately this time, with just the proper effect. The car moved off, leaving behind it in the shadow the policeman whose face made so good and yet so tantalizing a mirror.

"Where is this sick aunt?" growled Lacy.

There was a faint laugh. "Why, she's the one I'm running away from."

"We can't go on like this," he continued in the same gruff voice, "being stopped at every cross road. One of these cops will arrest me for abduction." At that moment they passed the tower of Pickwick Inn, and Lacy, noticing the clock, said, "It's ten minutes to eleven. We can just make the last ferry. We'll turn off here and go over to Long Island. I've a house not far from Glen Cove. You can change into some other clothes."

Before his companion was able to protest, the big car swung around the corner, turned into the main street, and swept with a catlike, insinuating purr beneath the railway bridge.

In the little harbor the tide was low, and the muggy, miasmic smell of the bare mud hung over everything. Somehow it was an ominous smell, hinting of stranded ships, of pirates, of wild adventure . . . the smell of salt marshes at low tide, of rotting ships. Through the gathering mists the tall masts of the fishing boats stood against the dull gray blue of the sky like black pencils.

The car drove down, down, down along the cobblestone streets, until at length it turned into the ferry way. At the end stood the waiting boat, its gateway yawning black as the mouth of a sea monster. When at last Lacy turned to regard his companion, he found that she had gathered about her the blanket that lay in the back of the car. She was hidden now all save the beautiful shapely head with the hair so tightly concealed, and the eyes so bright now with a sense of mystery and adventure. She still wore the mask.

Lacy regarded her and thought to himself, "No, there has never been anything like this. And to happen in Connecticut of all places!"

To the grizzled gatekeeper Lacy muttered, "How long before you start?"

"Five minutes," the fellow replied.

Somehow Lacy felt nearer suddenly to this strange woman beside him. Perhaps it was the sense of their being bound together by the same peril, the same adventure.

From the depths of the ferry house he heard the grizzled gatekeeper spit suddenly and exclaim, "It's a great night for bootleggers. I reckon this fog'll thicken up steadily till morning." And then the same voice lifted to shout to the pilot high up on the ferry deck, "Don't be running any of 'em down tonight, Sam. Can't afford to waste good liquor on fishes."

Sister Connemara laughed softly. "If you knew from what you had saved me——"

It is impossible to know what sort of picture Lacy had of the world from which she had escaped. It must have been a strange one, and certainly it was different from the picture in the mind of his companion. She saw a ballroom filled with excited people, two lovers hunting desperately among the syringas and perennial borders, and through it all Aunt Celimena moving about, angry and composed, in a black ball gown trimmed in 1880 jet.

"I say," said her companion presently in a puzzled voice, "haven't we met somewhere—before you entered a nunnery?"

CHAPTER IV

By Elsie Janis

In the two hours following that brief, altogether unsatisfactory talk with her niece, Miss Celimena was guilty of forgetting several times the rigid code of hospitality in which she had been trained and staring openly and anxiously at the painted face of the big grandfather clock in the hall.

If she could have done it without being seen, it is not at all certain she would not also have gone so far as to push the hands forward, to lessen the sheer nervous torture of those dragging minutes until midnight.

This latest escapade of Connemara's was not only utter foolishness, but it made the girl and Miss Celimena herself seem undignified. It was unthinkable that a Moore of Moorelands should resort to such cheap buffoonery for the announcing of her engagement — which ought, properly, to be a serious, not to say ceremonious occasion. Thus, over and over, back and forth in the same track, like frightened and feebly indignant mice, ran the thoughts of Miss Celimena.

And even oftener than she studied the clock, this much-harassed lady studied the faces of the two other people most concerned in Connemara's outrageous behavior.

It was easy to see that Saltonstall Adams had little liking for the sudden blaze of limelight in which he found himself. Salt, like Miss Celimena, had been brought up to see dignity weigh much more heavily in the scales than romance. Or perhaps his definition of what constituted romance differed from spoiled young Connemara's. At any rate, as any and everyone could see, he looked very stiff and disapproving indeed as he danced, correctly and dutifully, with one after another of Connemara's guests, gallantly trying to live up to what was expected of him, but—as only the discerning noticed—with a faintly wistful bewilderment underlying the disapproval, as if his rather slow brain had not entirely caught up with the meaning of what was happening to him.

Bingham Carrington, on the contrary, was carrying the awkward situation off with a high hand. Inwardly he resented it, if possible, even more bitterly than his rival, for Bing was an emotional youngster and very genuinely in love. But he held his handsome blond head well back, with his chin lifted a half inch or so more than usual, and had a drawled come-back for every innuendo of the over-curious.

Doubt Still Hangs Over Biddle Death

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Doubt today still clouded the sudden death here Saturday of Mrs. Craig Biddle, wealthy Philadelphia society woman, but police and district attorney's inestigators admitted small evidence remain on which to build any theory involving foul play.

After a postmortem examination yesterday Dr. A. F. Wagner, county autopsy surgeon, said death appeared to have been due to alcoholism. There were no anatonomical indications of poison having been administered or taken in fatal dosage, he added, though a chemical analysis of stomach and vital organs might reveal important data on that subjec .

Such a chemical analysis has been ordered and until the results are known, probably not for several days, the investigation of Mrs. Biddle's death will remain open.

KNOCK OUT WAGE LAW

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The Arizona minimum wage law for women was held to be unconstitutional today by the supreme court.

Sardell, owner of two stores at Nogales, who employed four women clerks and contended that if compelled to pay them each a minimum of $16 a week as required by the state statutes his business would be ruined.

More Truth Than Poetry

SPEAKING OF BLUE CARNATIONS

We are delighted with our lot,
Much joy in life we find,
But pity us, for we have not
The scientific mind.
We see the moon above us ride,
We gaze upon the star—
And we are dully satisfied
To leave them as they are.

Whate'er the scientist beholds,
Straightway he seeks to change—
And, if he can arrange it, molds
To something new and strange.
A primrose by the river's brim,
Though lovely is its hue—
Is nothing very much to him,
He wants to make it blue.

In roses, yellow, pink or red
Much loveliness we see,
The man of science shakes his head,
"They should be green," says he.
A flush upon a cheek we view—
But do not analyze;
The scientist observes it too,
"How girls do paint!" he cries.

We gasp when sunsets gild the scene
On sea or sky or plain
The scientist remarks: "This means
That it is going to rain!"
But little learning we have had,
Much wisdom we have missed,
But, notwithstanding we are glad
We're not a scientist!

ONCE UPON A TIME — JACK AND THE BEAN STALK. VII — by W. J. ENRIGHT.

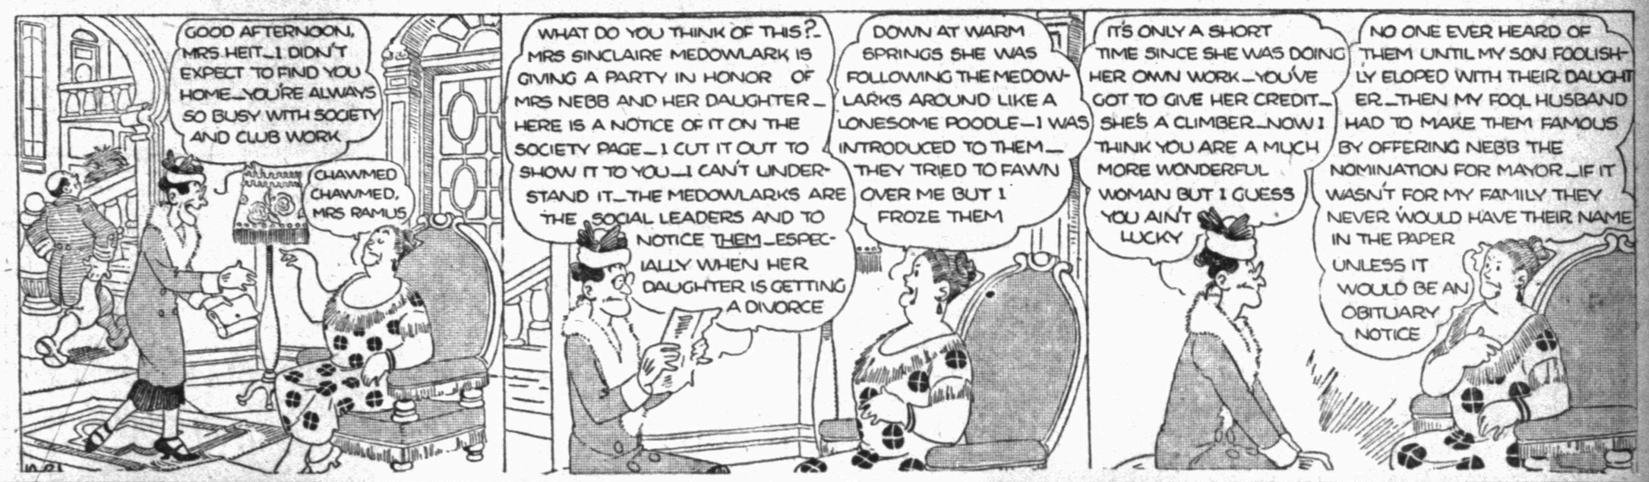

JACK THOUGHT OF A SECOND JOURNEY AGAIN AND AGAIN BUT DID NOT LIKE TO WORRY HIS MOTHER. ONE DAY, HOWEVER, HE CAME OUT BOLDLY AND TOLD HER WHAT HE INTENDED DOING. SHE BEGGED HIM NOT TO BUT NOTHING WOULD CHANGE HIS DETERMINATION.

SO HE HAD CLOTHES MADE THAT WOULD DISGUISE HIM AND, RISING VERY EARLY ONE MORNING, HE SLIPPED INTO HIS DISGUISE AND WAS UP THE BEAN STALK WITHOUT ANYONE SEEING HIM.

HE REACHED THE GIANT'S HOME LATE IN THE EVENING AND AT THE DOOR STOOD THE GIANT'S WIFE. HE HAD GREAT DIFFICULTY PERSUADING HER TO LET HIM IN BUT FINALLY CONSENTING SHE TOOK HIM AS BEFORE INTO THE KITCHEN AND HID HIM IN THE KETTLE.

THE GIANT RETURNING AT THE USUAL HOUR AND SEATING HIMSELF BY THE FIRE THUNDERED, I SMELL FRESH MEAT! THE WIFE EXPLAINED THAT THE CROWS HAD DROPPED A PIECE OF CARION ON THE ROOF, WHICH SEEMED TO SATISFY THE MONSTER.

ELMER VS. TOMMY

The return of both Tommy White the clever little Texas City mucn masseur and Elmer McMullen, slugging Dodge City, Kan., welter, will be welcomed by Wichita Falls fistic fandom. For doubtless no two boxers who have ever appeared in Wichita Falls enjoy more popularity with the dyed-in-the-wool ring worms.

* * *

Tommy and Elmer are to clash in the legion main event of next Monday night's free frescoing program. Ringside sentiment will be divided. However, it is possible the majority will favor White.

* * *

There are three boxers in all who hold the top in Wichita Falls ring estimation Clyde Hull, St. Paul youth, is the other.

* * *

A match between Hull and White would pack the Majestic theatre, in which the bouts are to be staged this winter, row on row. But a tiff between the winner of the White-McMullen fest should draw just as well if not better should Elmer turn back the wily Thomas.

* * *

SMILING MAC

Fans will remember McMullen as a pudgy, happy-go-lucky battler who bores in ferociously all the way and never loses a sort of childish smile he carries under any conditions no matter how much the worse for wear and rapid connection with glove leather said smile may happen to be.

* * *

KANSAN WEIGHS 147

That Elmer will outweigh White there is little doubt. Tommy has never made better than 142 unless in recent weeks he's picked up quite a bit. However, McMullen who used to tip the Fairbanks at 152 when milling here four or five months back writes in to declare he's making 147 right along and can go still lower were it really necessary for him to do so to be a legitimate welter. The welter range runs from 138 through 147.

* * *

That there will be action a plenty is assured. Some have often wondered what would happen should White and McMullen ever meet. A few believe Elmer too strong and too much of the boring type for White.

* * *

TOM SHOULD WIN

If Mac can get over with some of his body punches in close succession, he no doubt will slow White up enough to beat him. However, it's our opinion Elmer can't lay a glove on Tommy. That's to be seen. Mac's an entirely different type of fighter from those boys Tommy made stand on thei rheads in an effort to hit him here last summer.

A TOAST TO THE PIRATES

Not many can cheerfully crush tender memories, brush aside sentiments dear to the heart, for the sake of encouraging others to victory. Just before the world's series Fred Clarke arose at a banquet to the present Pirates, and to all appearances made the sacrifice. He declared that McKechnie's Corsairs were the greatest team with which he had ever been associated, says Ed Hughes.

* * *

Fred Clarke managed the famous Pirates that won the National league pennant in the years of 1901, 1902 and 1903. It was a most formidable aggregation, not the least of which was Clarke himself, a corking outfielder and a mighty hitter. Bransfield, the immortal Hans Wagner, Ritchey and Leach composed a brilliant, hard-hitting infield.

* * *

Clarke's grand batting average for 21 years of service was .315. Clarence Beaumont, one of Clarke's doughty outfield colleagues, walloped .316 for his 12 years of playing. The Pirate pitching staff of Clarke's day wasn't one to gladden the hearts of opposing mace swingers. Happy Jack Chesbro, Ed Doheny, Jesse Tannehill, Sammy Lever and Deacon Phillippe composed a most finished crew of boxmen.

THE PSYCHOLOGY

Fred Clarke's job with the present Pirates didn't call for boastful reminiscence. But many an enthusiastic old-timer, placed in Fred's shoes, wouldn't have realized it. And if he had, would have published his cherished memories, anyhow. Clarke was willing to forego the possible privilege and the normal pleasure of such remarks. Clarke is as great a coach as he was a player. He understood the psychology of the test which confronted his new teammates. Maybe his generous attitude really made McKechnie's men believe they were the best outfit that ever represented Pittsburgh. All of which is a superior brand of coaching even though it doesn't square with facts and fancy, avers Ed.

* * *

And referring to team leaders brings to mind again that vacant Spudder helm. Who's going to take up the managerial duties? George Cutshaw said he was thinking seriously of doing so. Rumors have it Steve O'Neil is eligible and a possible choice. He isn't. Others aver Art Phelan's the man All of which was exploded yesterday by Secretary J. Will Gray, who declared none of the three mentioned has been approached, "and for that matter there isn't a single item or wise crack out yet on the subject. Prexy Harvey, incidentally, was away Tuesday on business.

Junior College Plays Quanah At Spudder Park Saturday

Coyotes Play at Grandfield—Squad Not In Good Shape—Electra Works Behind Closed Gates

The Quanah-Wichita Falls football situation is thrashed out temporarily. The game billed between Barnett's youngsters and Coach Bud McCallum's eleven Saturday has been postponed to next month. The teams are to clash on either November 6 or 7, it was agreed last night by McCallum and Superintendent Davis of Quanah. The scene of the affray will be decided when the exact date is selected, it was announced.

Meantime, the Coyotes will continue with their preparations for a game at Grandfield, Okla., Saturday, while Quanah's Indians are drilling for a set-to with Coach Bud Mosley's Junior college Indians here the same date as a substitute for Quanah Indian-Coyote tilt.

Arrangement for the Quanah game here was made after the high school officials decided to postpone the Coyote tiff. The contest is to be held in Spudder park, starting at 3 o'clock, said Mosley.

Coyotes and Indians Scrimmage

Bud McCallum and "Buds" Mosley sent their Coyotes and Indians into a hard scrimmage through practically all Tuesday afternoon. The session brought out many strong and weak points in both squads, and also added to the pack hospital list.

Fritz Taylor and Captain Curtin both took hard licks. Taylor was booted in the stomach while attempting to block a place kick. The boot landed on his bad ribs and laid him out the rest of the practice but he seemed to revive fast and announced he was as good as ever after dressing.

Captain Curtin stepped an Indian boot with his shins, and for a few minutes lost the use of his limbs. After the practice all that showed up on Rowdy was a knot on his leg.

Fred Datson, midget halfback of the Indians, played a great game on both defense and the offense. Datson was the star of several spectacular tackles, and made nice gains through the Coyote line.

Clarence Adams was the luminary of the Coyote play. Adams was the only man who could cross the Indian goal line. He was about the most consistant ground gainer.

Hunky Ray, Coyote linesman, played a great defensive game. He made several tackles behind the Indian line of scrimmage.

Swede Wainscott also waged a good game in the line for the Coyotes.

James Gonce, Indian end, played the full scrimmage and showed up nicely throughout the play. Barker Chunn, looked good with the Indians in the line. Chunn is powerful in the line, both on the offense and the defense.

Tigers Don't Fear Vernon Lions

The Tigers are bearing down at a mighty clip this week in preparation for their second conference tilt of the season at Electra Saturday with the Vernon Lions.

Coaches Jim Reese and J. N. Coke are sending their charges through their daily frolics behind closed gates. The squad has dwindled from 40 to a spare 25 now. No changes have been made in the first string lineup with exception of center and guard. Roy Coolidge has been working at the midway position while Willis Carnahan, starting center of the season, is getting around on crutches because of a badly wrenched knee, injury received in the Wichita Falls game the past week-end. Buzz Smith has been given a shot at Toots Gilger's guard. Gilger failed to report for practice Monday. Brewer Smith, husky guard who sprained an ankle in the Coyote contest is limping around but no doubt will be all set by Saturday.

The Tigers will take the field against the Lions with far more confidence than was observed prior to the Coyote game, for they made a great showing in holding the Wichita Falls club to a scoreless tie and now have no fears of Vernon. The coaches are giving the men a series of new plays for the Vernon affair.

Juniors Drill for Game Friday

The Pups are showing lots of fight and are working hard to get in form. Pete Powell, working at guard for the first string squad, was working nice in the scrimmage.

"Shoestring" Dulaney was working at end on a mixed squad and showing up nicely with carrying out the opposing ends.

Captain "Hunky" Farris and Roy Brackett worked good in the backfield. These two are about the best line plungers Montgomery has on the list.

Dale Carter is continuing to stay with the club. The fast little halfback has been making a great showing for sometime and is rated now as a regular.

Ross Holstead and Leroy Herndon were out of uniform Tuesday, but were on the sidelines. Stevens, end, and Tandy, guard, were also out of the practice having to spend overtime at the school.

GREEN ILLINI LINE MUST HOLD MICHIGAN, PENN AND CHICAGO

URBANA, Ill., Oct. 20.—All Coach Bob Zuppke at Illinois has to do is to pound a green team into shape to meet Michigan, Pennsylvania, and Chicago on successive Saturdays. Bob has made a great record taking on just such burdens, but this year it looks as if he has the hardest task of his career. Michigan will be tackled here October 24.

Of course there is "Red" Grange, who may or may not be going to run hog wild like he did the last two years. In all football history no such a cruel test was applied to any star as to the Illinois flash. There was just two games in which Grange has failed to secure touchdowns, against Nebraska last year and this. Some people think he is lower, others point to his 70-yard sprint through the whole Butler team as evidence to the contrary. Zuppke has been playing checkers with a bunch of green linemen, practically all without varsity squad experience. Some of them were uncovered in spring practice. To develop and teach them, the coach must proceed carefully and there has been no thought of putting them on edge. Some of the best line bets to date are Muerge and Reitsch, centers; Kidd, Kuenzli, Wickhorst and Coolidge, guards; Reeder, Grable, Knapp and Marriner, tackles; D'Ambrosio, "Mush" Smith, Drake, Squires and Cotie, ends; Earl Britton, fullback for two years, is probably a fixture at guard and will punt and placekick. Shively, 210-pound sub-guard last year, is a prospect for tackle, if his injuries soon heal.

The present backfield is Gallivan and Hall, quarters (both will play); Green and Leonard, right half, and Daugherity, fullback. Kassel and Muhl, veteran ends, will help out. Kassel is bearing out his sophomore promise. The second set of backs is Greathouse, fullback. Dancey and Stewart, halfbacks. Greathouse was the best freshman back last year. Dancey was out last season with injuries. He is a fast little fellow who will understudy Grange.

The pickings don't look so good as the Illini survey the ominous schedule—but they bank a lot on Robert Zuppke, Harold Grange and Illinois fight.

Green and Gold will open up with everything necessary to mark up a victory for the Bears are determined to mark up a victory and savage the stigma of the defeat handed them by Trinity.

Bears Tangle With After Jacket Game

WACO, Oct. 20.—For the first time since 1922 the Baylor Bears will meet the stinging Howard Payne Yellow Jackets of Brownwood, the game to be played on the Cotton Palace gridiron here next Saturday afternoon. It will be the feature of the opening day of the exposition.

Howard Payne has a dazzling fast eleven and one that is not only adept in the aerial game but also is well groomed in the shift play offense, the type which is coming back as the chief attack this season.

The game will be the Bears' last encounter before they enter the all-important game with the Texas Aggies on the following Saturday. The Jackets will be battling with their full strength to force the Bruins out from under cover and the Green and Gold will be forced to uncork their best offensive and defensive stuff to win.

Rickard Has Picked A Swede for Champ

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Harry Persson, heavyweight champion pugilist of Sweden, known as the "slugging stone cutter," announced here today he would go to the United States early in 1926 to fight under the tutelage of Tex Rickard.

Persson has met some of the best heavyweights in Europe, has never been knocked out and is considered a good defensive boxer. He is about six feet tall and weighs 190 pounds.

WRESTLER HURT; IS IN HOSPITAL

Jim Brown, Chicago grappler who has been giving Matty Matsuda considerable wrestling argument of late, was in the general hospital last night, slightly injured as a result of a precipitous exit from a ring at the Majestic theatre earlier in the evening. He was hurled bodily from the arena by the Japanese wrestler, fell heavily just outside the ropes and then fell into the orchestra pit in front of the stage. He was extricated and carried back to the ring. An ambulance was summoned and he was hurried to the hospital and given medical attention. He rallied and at a late hour was said to be resting easily with no serious complications expected.

The fall came after 15 minutes of wrestling in the second period. Brown won the first fall in 46 minutes with the deadly headlock that he has used effectively against Matty heretofore. They went at it a second time with neither man having much of an advantage until the Jap caught Brown with a flying mare, lifted him over his head and hurled him beyond the ropes. Brown was out from the minute he hit and it was necessary to carry him bodily back to the stage. There was a big knot on the back of his neck and, while not unconscious, he was in a semi-rational condition.

Until Brown's injury the match, staged at catch weights, was one of the fastest seen here in some time. Matsuda was awarded the match when Brown was unable to continue.

In the preliminary meeting, Soldier Williams, 135 pounds, of the army made short work of Silvio Checco, 135, of the navy. Williams took the first fall in one and one-half minutes with an arm strangle and took the second in eight minutes and ten seconds with an arm hold.

Baldwin Sure Of Terminal Berth In Owl-Steer Contest

AUSTIN, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Anticipating a bewildering aerial attack when they take on the Rice Owls here Saturday, the Texas Longhorns worked hard today on a defense against the overhead style of attack.

Last season, the Longhorns favored to win over the Owls were snowed under by the overhead offensive of Coach Heisman's general and Coach Stewart and his aides are fearful lest history repeat itself.

With exception of Matt Newell, who suffered an injury to his hand that will keep him out of play for three weeks, the Longhorns came out of Saturday's game against Auburn in good condition. The coaches gave a number of men a strenuous workout a tend today, seeking to discover a capable substitute for Newell. Olle and Terrell are among those being considered to start at one end against Rice. Leo Baldwin, who showed good form against Auburn, is certain to start at the other wing post.

Meagher Flush With Halfbacks

AUSTIN, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Three sets of halfbacks will be available for service against Daniel Baker at San Antonio Saturday, Coach Jack Meagher of St. Edward's university said today. The six halfbacks have been showing to equal advantage in scrimmage, and the Saint coach is undecided whether to start O'Shaughnessy and Swanson, Doran and Dyer, or Erspamer and Malone.

Childress Coach And Player Hurt

CHILDRESS, Nov. 20.—Walter J. Knox, Childress high school football coach, and Herbert Hill, captain of the Childress high football team were seriously injured when their car turned over about eight miles west of Childress late last night as they were returning from a game at Memphis. Coach Knox had his head, face and shoulders badly cut and a collar bone broken, while Hill has a large muscle in his back torn. Hill's condition is described as serious. Gordon Rodgers, who was also in the car was unhurt and walked more than a mile for help.

The car was traveling at a high rate of speed and turned over when it struck a pile of freshly laid gravel.

GRIFFIN DIES

vices for Griffin. These it was decided Tuesday by his grief-stricken wife, will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, probably in the First Presbyterian church here with Rev. N. F. Grafton officiating. The place and minister were not fixed definitely last night, but friends of the family believed this church and pastor would be selected. Burial will follow in Riverside cemetery. The body will rest in the Carrigan mausoleum.

While these plans were being made yesterday, Griffith was a prisoner in the county jail at Archer City where, if the wishes of District Attorney Ben Allred are heeded, he will remain until a jury of his peers can decide what penalty he shall pay, if any, for Griffin's murder. Bond in any amount will be opposed by the district attorney if Griffith should offer to make it. So far as could be learned yesterday no steps had been taken to secure Griffith's release on bail. Unless bond is offered and perfected, he will be held in jail until a grand jury of Archer county can meet to investigate the case. If he is indicted, and it is presumed he will be, he would then be still further confined until his trial can be had. Should he gain his release, it will probably be only through a habeas corpus bearing.

Griffith Silent.

Griffith had nothing to say Tuesday concerning his motives for shooting Griffin. He was questioned far into the night Monday by the district attorney and other investigators who now have a lengthy written statement from him. Its contents are being withheld from the public by the officials, but it is known Griffith recited a long list of allezed wrongs he had suffered at Griffin's hands. He is known to have stated for instance, that cattle owned by Griffin had caused serious damage to his farm and that he had been unable to obtain a satisfactory settlement because of this. "He run over me enough, I stood all I could," was the only statement he could be quoted on and this, eye witnesses of the shooting said, was muttered as he lowered his smoking rifle after firing the one fatal shot. What else he may have said has not been made public.

With Griffith maintaining silence, friends of Griffin said yesterday he had "buried the hatchet" and was at peace with the world.

L. J. Bryan, one of Griffin's close friends in this city and at whose home Mrs. Griffin and her son, Ephriam, was cared for yesterday, declared Tuesday that Griffin had told him only recently that he harbored no ill-will against any one and wanted to forget the ardous chain of circumstances started when he shot Hugh Reilly near the diversion dam over a year ago.

Had Met Since Trial.

Contrary to prevailing opinion, Monday's grim meeting between he and Griffith was not the first since Griffin was acquitted by a jury in Graham less than a month ago. The two men had seen each other at least once and possibly twice since the trial, it was said, these meetings taking place somewhere near their property close to Dundee.

To friends gathered around his death bed in the hospital Monday night Griffin said, before he lapsed into unconsciousness, that he had seen Griffith and either "spoken or waved to him." The stricken man knew, he said, bad blood existed between he and Griffith.

Was State Witness.

At Griffin's last trial in Graham he was acquitted of Reilly's death after once being convicted and sentenced to 25 years penal servitude. In that case the defense was merciless in its attack on Griffith's testimony or the state concerning what he had seen at the spot where Reilly met hot shot from Griffin's rifle. He testified that he had been at work in a field about half a mile distant on the afternoon of May 16, 1924; that he heard one gun shot and saw Griffin run a moment later to his automobile, run back and stoop as though placing something on the ground. Later, at the spot where Reilly was found, a high-powered rifle rested. A shot gun stood in a fence corner not far away and the state contended these weapons had been placed there by Griffin after he had shot Reilly.

Defense attorneys unleashed a bitter assault on this testimony of Griffith's. It maintained the distance was too great to permit of such vision as he claimed to have had, and in doing so Griffin's attorneys spoke plainly and in terms tinged with vitriol.

Herbert Griffin was born in Itasca, Hill county, Texas, December 27, 1894. He would have been 31 years of age the last of this year. The first 12 years of his life were spent in that community and then he moved to Abilene. His mother died while he was a baby, and his father, after remarrying, died shortly after.

Schooled In Abilene.

At Abilene Griffin attended the Cooper training school and later Simmons college, leaving there to take a place as cowhand on the George Ansley ranch in Wilbarger county.

Extensive Land Holder.

In later years when a 25,000-acre ranch in Archer county owned by his father, was partitioned between Griffin and his three brothers, he went there to live and increased his holdings by extensive purchases to some 10,000 acres. He settled near Dundee and became an extensive cattle raiser. Large herds of prize Herefords were on his ranch and he also devoted considerable time to farming. He was a staunch advocate of irrigation and played a part in the development of the Wichita irrigated valley.

Part of his land lies in the very heart of the territory and the fence line over which he and Reilly quarrelled and on which Reilly was shot, runs almost to the very brink of the diversion lake. His entire estate, friends have estimated, was worth close to $400,000. This they say, is very conservative.

On Sept. 10, 1914, Griffin and Miss Johnnie Powelson, daughter of a wealthy ranchman and wheat grower of Wichita, Kan., were united in marriage. They have one son, Ephriam, aged 7, who with his mother, saw his father shot down Monday afternoon. Mrs. Griffin and her boy were with Griffin in Dundee when Griffith appeared.

The Survivors.

In addition to the widow and son, Griffin is survived by three brothers, Ned of Los Angeles, Phil of Itasca and James of Colorado City. He also leaves an uncle, Jack Griffin of Arlington; an aunt, Mrs. Robert Hooks of Hollis, Okla.; and three cousins, Bruce Albright of Frederick, Okla., and Bob and Will Hooks, both of Itasca.

The body is being held at the Merkle undertaking parlors.

MARVIN GOODWIN, FORMER STAR BUFF MOUNDMAN AND CLUB LEADER, NEAR DEATH

Houston Twirler, Like Bob Osborn, Thorn In Side of Champion Fort Worth Team

HOUSTON, Oct. 20.—The life of Lieutenant Marvin Goodwin, 36th division air officer, and former manager of the Houston Buffaloes, was hanging by a thread late Tuesday afternoon, attending physicians at the Baptist hospital declared. Small hope was held for the recovery of the popular Texas league pitcher, sold at the conclusion of the season to the Cincinnati club of the National league who was injured Sunday at Ellington field when the airplane he was piloting fell in a tailspin 200 feet, landing on a wing.

Lieutenant Goodwin sustained compound fractures of both legs, but was not believed to have been dangerously injured. He spent a restful night Sunday and Monday and was believed on the road to recovery. His condition became critical early Tuesday morning, attendants stated.

Staff Sergeant W. S. McNath, who was a passenger in the plane piloted by Lieutenant Goodwin, was only slightly injured in the fall. Brother pilots declared that Lieutenant Goodwin's skillful manipulation of the falling plane was all that saved immediate death to both men. The cause of the crash as yet has not been determined by officials.

Goodwin, although one of the leading pitchers in the Texas league the past season, winning 21 games and losing nine, too the hill in Wichita but three times. He scored a victory and a lose against the Spudders. The other game he worked in also was a victory, credited to a relief pitcher. In other words, Marvin took himself, being the Buff manager, out of the game and gave way to another hurler with results that Houston beat the Spudders.

Goodwin defeated the champion Fort Worth Cats four times out of five starts.

The former Houston pitcher-manager's earned run average was 3.51 per game. He participated in 37 contests.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 20.—T. C. U. Frogs, forced to battle strenuously at times to overcome the Simmons Cowboys, came through the game Saturday without a single injury.

Coaches Bell and Kubale, with two important games in the next three weeks, will give their men plenty of work this week.

The purple and white meets Oklahoma A. and M. in Stillwater next Saturday, the following Saturday T. C. U. meets a TIAA team, the Abilene college Wildcats and then on November 7 will play their biggest remaining game of the year—Texas A. and M. here.

Iowa Park Cage Squad Turns Out

Meantime, the Hawk gridders are training for the game at Iowa Park this week-end with Bellevue. The squad is in but fair shape. Several of the athletes are down with injuries.

Wolverines Expect To Defeat Grange

Still chafing under that 39 to 14 defeat of 1924 at the hands of the University of Illinois and Red Grange the University of Michigan gridders are hopeful of avenging it when the teams meet at Urbana, Ill., Saturday.

Frederick Keyed Up Over Contest With Sayre Club

FREDERICK, Oct. 20.—Everything is tense in Frederick, as business men, football fans and students of Frederick high anxiously await the coming of Friday when Coach Clifford Keen's Frederick high school Bearcats will make their second conference start of the season, engaging the speedy Sayer eleven on the local gridiron.

Frederick won its first conference start when it defeated the highly touted Carnegie eleven, who were slated to stop the onrush of Frederick's aggregation if any southwestern Oklahoma team were able to do it. The Bearcats took Poolaw's Carnegie men in the tune of 27-3.

Frederick is as yet this season unscored upon with the exception of the one field kick in Friday's struggle with Carnegie and their conference percentage is 1,000. All men are in the best of condition and it is predicted that the locals will be able to win their second conference start.

Football critics are beginning to point to Frederick as one of the strongest teams in the state, after their defeat of four of the best this section has to offer. Several men are beginning to loom for all-state selection.

If Boxer Falls Out Of Ring You Can't Help Him Back

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—(AP)—William W. Muldoon, commissioner of the New York state athletic commission at a conference today of all boxing referees in the commission's jurisdiction instructed the referees that hereafter when any boxer falls out of the ring and is assisted back by any one he shall loose the decision. His action recalled an incident, during the Dempsey-Firpo fight in 1923.

Commissioner Muldoon also warned the referees they must also enforce the rule requiring that after a knock down the man on his feet must retire to a neutral corner before the referee begins counting.

Landis Would Close Ball Season Early

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Kenesaw Mountain Landis, baseball commissioner, favors concluding the 1926 campaigns of the major leagues a week earlier than heretofore to avoid conflicting with the opening of the football season and also disagreeable weather for the world's series. He believes the last Sunday in September is the proper time for the teams to finish the season, starting the world's series two or three days later.

"This question will be among the chief subjects for discussion at the joint session of the American and National leagues next December," Commissioner Landis said tonight.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 20.—(AP)—The cotton market today was extremely narrow, the lack of disposition to trade being the result of the approach of the next government report to be issued Monday. There was a disposition to consider the killing frost experienced in the northern portions of the belt as of small consequence owing to the forwardness of the crop and the fact that the cold snap is being followed by warmer weather. After an opening practically unchanged the market gradually eased off until all active months were 13 points lower compared with yesterday's close. Following the early dip the market scarcely moved all the rest of the session the extreme fluctuations being five to eight points. The close was a shade above the lows, showing net losses for the day of seven to nine points.

Liverpool was some better than due, and the market here opened unchanged to three points down. Although there was a rally of a few points right after the opening call, prices promptly started to ease off slowly and by the middle of the morning prices were 13 points below yesterday's close on all positions. The market then relapsed into extreme quiet although prices improved a few points during the afternoon and closed slightly above the lows.

Two private crop estimates were published during the day, one claiming a crop of 14,800,000 bales and the other a crop of 14,537,000 bales. One of the authorities estimated the total ginnings to October 18 at 9,684,000 bales. Exports for the day totalled 64,638 bales.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—(AP)—The cotton was quiet today, prices fluctuating within a range of 15 or 20 points. After selling at 21.72, December declined to 21.56 and closed at 21.64 compared with 21.68 at the close of the previous day. The general market closed steady at a net advance of eight points on October, but generally four to 13 points net lower.

The opening was steady at an advance of 14 points on October, under further covering, but generally unchanged to two points lower despite relatively steady Liverpool cables and reports of further killing frosts in the south. Some trade buying and covering developed, but the initial demand appeared to be readily supplied, and the mid-day market weakened under local and southern selling promoted by prospects for better weather and expectations that it soon would be followed by increased hedging. October sold off from 21.93 to 21.75 or four points net lower, while January declined from 20.99 to 20.83, a net loss of 14 points. Offerings tapered off at these figures and the afternoon market was steadier on the detailed weather reports, emphasizing the low temperature in northwestern sections of the belt, further covering and trade buying.

It was rumored that a prominent southern authority estimated the crop at 14,900,000 bales, and the ginnings to October 18, at 9,680,000. A local firm estimated the crop at 14,537,000 bales.

Exports for the day were 67,061 bales, making 1,908,025 so far this season.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.(AP)—With December delivery the leader wheat scored a sharp advance in price today, but reacted before the finish. Talk of something akin to a corner in December wheat here was current and there were reports which were denied later that snow and rain were again impending threshers in Canada. The wheat market closed nervous at prices ranging from ¼c net decline to ⅝c advance, December $1.46 to $1.46; and May $1.42⅝ to $1.42⅝ with corn ¼ to ⅝c off, oats unchanged to a shade lower, and provisions varying from five cents drop to a rise of 12 cents.

Corn was depressed by somewhat enlarged offerings of old corn to arrive and also by weather adapted for curing and husking the new crop. Oats meanwhile were steadied by knowledge that for the first time the stock of oats in sight is less than at the corresponding period of 1924.

Provisions averaged higher, owing to good buying of October lard.

DEVELOPS NEW WHEAT.

Canadian Species Said to Be Resistant to Black Stem Rust Damage.

WINNEPEG, Oct. 20.—(AP)—A new wheat which is said to give promise of being resistant to black stem rust, the result of selecting and hybridizing seven times, has been developed by Samuel Larcombe, widely known agricultural expert of Bertie, Manitoba.

The new wheat has been named "Animister." It yields 30 per cent more than "Marquis" and is said to be equal in milling value to "Red Fife" and "Marquis."

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Constructive forces were at work in today's stock market which moved to higher ground as strong buying support developed for the rail, oil, equipment and other high grade industrial shares. Motors whose violent fluctuations had been the spectacular feature of the tumultuous trading of the three previous sessions, also displayed a distinctly better tone on the apparent subsidence of selling pressure. Trading, while large in volume, did not approach that of Friday and Monday, the day's sales aggregating about 1,700,000 shares making it the sixth consecutive "two million share session."

Speculators to the advance resumed operations on a broad scale. They were aided by another lowering of the call money rates, the announcement of American credits to Belgium, publication of the details of Secretary Mellon's proposals for reduced taxes, the virtual consumation of the Ray-Nevada Consolidated copper merger and reports of improvement in the oil industry, which were reflected in the resumption of dividends on Skelly Oil and the unusually favorable earnings statement for the first nine months of the year by the Mariand Oil company.

The railroad "averages" established another record top. Southern railway assumed the leadership of that group by moving up three points to a new peak price for all time at 112. New York Central and Nashville, Baltimore and Ohio, and Perre Marquette broke through to a new high level for the year, or longer. Substantial gains also were recorded by a number of the carriers, including Atlantic Coast Line, Southern Pacific, Chicago and Northwestern, Jersey Central and Colorad and Southern, all up two to five points.

Oils bounded upward under the leadership of Mariand, which recorded an extreme gain of three points at 53⅜, new 1925 high. Houston and Standard Oil of California were outstanding strong spots in that group.

General railway signal, which soared 37½ points to a new record high at 377½ was the spectacular performer in that equipment group. Baldwin, American and Lima Locomotive each closed about a point higher.

U. S. Steel common sold fractionally higher at 125⅝ on relatively light turnover, but a strong demand developed for some of the independents. United Alloy was run up nearly three points to above 30 on reports of a substantial increase in orders. Crucible, Gulf States and Republic all advanced about a point. Unusually heavy activity also developed in Pennsylvania Seaboard, which touched a new high on the current movement.

General Motors fluctuated within a range of two points, closing ⅛ higher at 124⅝. Chrysler, Mack Trucks, Hayes Wheel and Pierce Arrow preferred advanced a point or so. White and Hudson were heavy.

American developed a sudden outburst of strength and crossed 25¢ to a record high. Foundation company responded to reports of an unusually large increase in unfilled orders by moving up to a new top at 158. American Safety Razor, United Drug, Howe Sound, and Cerro de Pasco also bettered their previous 1925 peak prices. Armouh "A" and "B" were in brisk demand at the close.

Call money opened at 4½ per cent, and then declined to 4. Time money rates hardened, 60 to 90 day funds being quoted at 4⅝ to 5, instead of 4½ to 4⅝. Commercial paper rates were held steady with 4¾ per cent the ruling rate for prime names.

Foreign exchanges displayed a firm undertone. Demand sterling advanced three-sixteenth of a cent to $4.83 15-16, despite the announcement of additional gold shipments from England to the United States. French and Italian exchanges also received better support, each advancing about three points to around 4.44 and 4.01 cents, respectively.

Livestock

LIVESTOCK.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 20.—Salesmen expressed no dissatisfaction with the Tuesday cattle market. Buyers were making their selections on the early rounds, and offers were in line with Monday's levels. Trading progressed with rapidity. Calves cleared on a strong to 25c higher basis, the movement scaleward being very brisk. The estimate was for 3,000 head of cattle and 1,000 calves.

Purchases of slaughter steers were at steady rates, most of the receipts finding an outlet on the early rounds. No high priced cattle were available, the best here moving at a range of $6.00 to $6.50, with bulk sales around $4.00 to $5.00.

Cows were in good request, all kinds being bid in at values that indicated a good, steady trend. Carloads sold up to $4.75. Cutters brought $2.50 to $3.25 and canners made $2.25 to $2.50.

No good to choice heifers or yearlings arrived, small lots excepted. Trading was active. The bulk of the trade sold at $6.00 to $7.00. A fair singles went at $8.00 to $8.50.

A range of $4.00 to $4.25 applied to the best individual bulls on sale. The medium to good kinds brought $3.25 to $3.75.

Strength was an outstanding factor in the calf trade. Although some sales were 25c higher, the general market did not show quite that much bloom. Light calves reached $8.00 in carlots, but they were not at all toppy. Heavies reached $7.60, a new high level for the week on calves of a weighty type.

Demand for stockers and feeders was up to the usual standard, and the day's receipts sold readily. All kinds are wanted.

Despite the fact that hog prices at most livestock centers were lower the Fort Worth market held to a near steady level competition again being spirited. One sale was at $12.50 but the big packer top was $12.30. Most of the run went at $12.00 @12.30; receipts were limited to 500 head.

Sheep receipts amounted to only 300 head, and the supply was far short of trade requirements. Two decks of choice wethers brought $8.00. Nothing else of importance was available.

Embargo Lifted On Holiday Poultry Trade From Texas

FORT WORTH, Oct. 20.—Poultry producers of Texas will be saved millions of dollars through the activities of the Texas Butter, Poultry and Egg association in overcoming obstacles in the eastern markets which arose because of the outbreak of the hoof and mouth disease in southeast Texas, J. P. White of Abilene, secretary of the association, told the executive committee at its semi-annual meeting Tuesday.

As a result of these activities, embargoes against the shipment of dressed poultry from Texas have been lifted and the Thanksgiving and Christmas movement of turkeys crop of the state would have been barred from the principal markets of the country, running into the millions of dollars suffered by the producers.

Market Gossip

R. E. Flowerree and Co., brokers, basement Staley building, today received the following market comment from Fenner and Beane of New York, New Orleans and Chicago.

GRAINS.

Wheat: Liverpool wheat prices are firm because there is very little pressure of actual wheat and because Argentine weather is too cold and Australian too dry.

The market was characterized by a lack of offerings, therefore, responsive to scattered buying, only one car of cash wheat received and that was not of milling quality. The principal Canadian market was influenced by further rains over the west, preventing threshing and restricting movement. Minneapolis December against showed individual strength and now selling at a premium over May.

It is doubted if the marke twill experience any important advance so long as export trade continued as dull as at present. On the other hand the strong premiums for cash wheat at all domestic markets, together with the comparatively limited movement from first hands, will give an undercurrent of firmness at all times.

Coarse Grains: Weather over corn belt is highly favorable for husking and the country was reported as offering old corn more freely. Sentiment favors lower prices on belief that there will be sufficient movement of new crop to overcome the premiums now existing from current receipts. The market is not weak though it plainly lacks any active motive for higher prices.

COTTON.

Cotton values slipped a little today owing to failure of cold weather and frost news to stimulate outside buying. Freezing temperatures with killing frost were reported at many stations in the northern districts and light frost as low down as Vicksburg and Montgomery.

The general accepted view was that the damage was not sufficient to materially affect the crop outlook if the government estimate is anywhere near correct and prospect of warmer and good weather offset the effect of the cold.

There was a good deal of hedging at the start and some near the close. Trading, as a rule, however, was light, and price changes small.

Another gainings forecast was issued predicting 9,684,000 or 2,472,000 for the period vs. 2,088,000 last year.

Sentiment averages bearish but was not aggressive owing to possibility of more frost damage during the night. A return of good weather seems likely to encourage selling.

STOCKS.

There was more moderation in the trading today. This may be construed in favor of the market's stability. The money market was easier and there was another element in favor of stability. But the most favorable point of all was turn of public and traders interest from m[illegible]s to a more diversified list, including some of the former industrial favorites, some of the rails, oils and equipments.

The oils, because of the neglect during many months, occupies a position of decided advantage.

Equipment business has been very poor this year and in all liklihood the earnings statements for the year will reflect this, but the stock market is concerned more with the future than the past and the future for the equipment companies has certainly been brightened by the tremendous and continuous traffic on railroads.

General markets conditions, are they have been for long time, poor, due to over-speculation, this will be corrected by severe breaks from time to time and the certainty of this should prompt the individual to keep commitments within bounds.

TEXAS TAXES CLUB URGES TAX REPEAL

Kell and Others Appear Before Committee In Washington

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—(AP)—With the administration's tax reduction proposal as a starting point, the house ways and means committee today listened to the advice of various organizations of citizens on many disputed features of the tax legislation that is to be presented at the next session of congress.

The National Asscation of Manufacturers, the Retailers' National council, the Texas Tax clubs, the New York board of trade and the real estate boards of New York all were allotted time to present their views at today's committee session.

Passing over for the moment Secretary Mellon's suggestion for a reduction of income taxes all along the line, the committeemen first heard representatives of the Texas Tax clubs indorse the secretary's proposal for repeal of the federal inheritance or estate tax.

Satterwhite Speaks.

Speaking for a delegation of 18, Lee Satterwhite of Amarillo, Texas, speaker of the Texas house, said the State of Texas felt it should have sole jurisdiction over inheritance taxes within its borders. Texas not only needs that source of revenue, he said, but the present federal inheritance levy is proving almost confiscatory.

After several other members of the delegations had made similar statements, Representative Garner of Texas, ranking democrat on the committee, said he never had heard of the Texas tax clubs until the delegation came to Washington and asked several questions as to its purposes.

Frank Kell, one of the Texans present, said he had contributed $200 to the club "in the interest of good business."

Sale of Blood By Athletes Barred By Coach at Rice

HOUSTON, Oct. 20.—Sale of blood by Rise athletes for transfusion purposes has been barred by John Heismann, director of athletics. Heismann discovered several of his star performers were selling their blood in large quantities to local physicians. The youths said "they needed the money."

Heismann announced that in the future he would see if it was not possible for them to obtin "jobs" that were a little less strength-taking than acting as "angels."

Driller Killed As Pipe Bursts

A bursting steam pipe on a drilling rig at work on a lease two miles south of the Sunshine State pool in Archer county proved fatal at 10 o'clock Monday morning for S. S. Monday, a driller employed by the Consolidated Oil company on its Netherton lease.

A short length of piping was hurled with great force and struck the man squarely in the head. He was killed instantly and was dead when other workmen reached him.

An ambulance from the Hines parlors was summoned from this city and the remains were brought here where they are being held pending funeral arrangements. The man has relatives in Randlett, Okla.

75 Per Cent of Autos in Texas Are Equipped Properly, Is Claim.

AUSTIN, Oct. 20.—(AP).—Seventy-five per cent of the automobiles in Texas are equipped with head lamps adjusted in accordance with the law, Reed Granberry, Texas headlight engineer, said today. This information was gathered by sending out questionnaires to every county in the state. "After the first of the year, Texas roads should be practically free from glaring headlights, since no car can be registered unless it has its head lamps properly adjusted," Granberry said.

JAIL BREAK FRUSTRATED BY SHERIFF

Murphysboro Prisoners Make Unsuccessful Bid For Freedom

MURPHYSBORO, Ill., Oct. 20.—(AP).—An attempted wholesale jail delivery led by Jim Overstreet, Oklahoma bank robber, was frustrated here late yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Dave Holder, it became known today.

Overstreet, who is serving a 25-year sentence in the Oklahoma state penitentiary and was brought here as a state witness in the Dowell, Ill. bank robbery case, met Holder at the jail door, pointed a pistol at him and ordered him to leave the door open. Instead, Holder slammed the barrier and jumped behind a steel jacketed cell.

In the front rank of prisoners in the delivery plot were Wollard and Barris, Herwin, Ill., youths, recently convicted of holdup, and Thomas Reese of Duquoin, convicted murderer.

Wollard and Barris, removed to the penitentiary today, told Sheriff C. E. White they had agreed to lead a rush of prisoners over "the bridge of sighs" and through the circuit court room to the street below. It has not been determined how Overstreet's gun was slipped into the jail.

City to Insist On Sewer Tax Payment

With some $12,000 represented by delinquencies, the city council has instituted a campaign to collect sewer taxes in arrears and has promised that sewer service will be cut off from all buildings on which the taxes have not been settled.

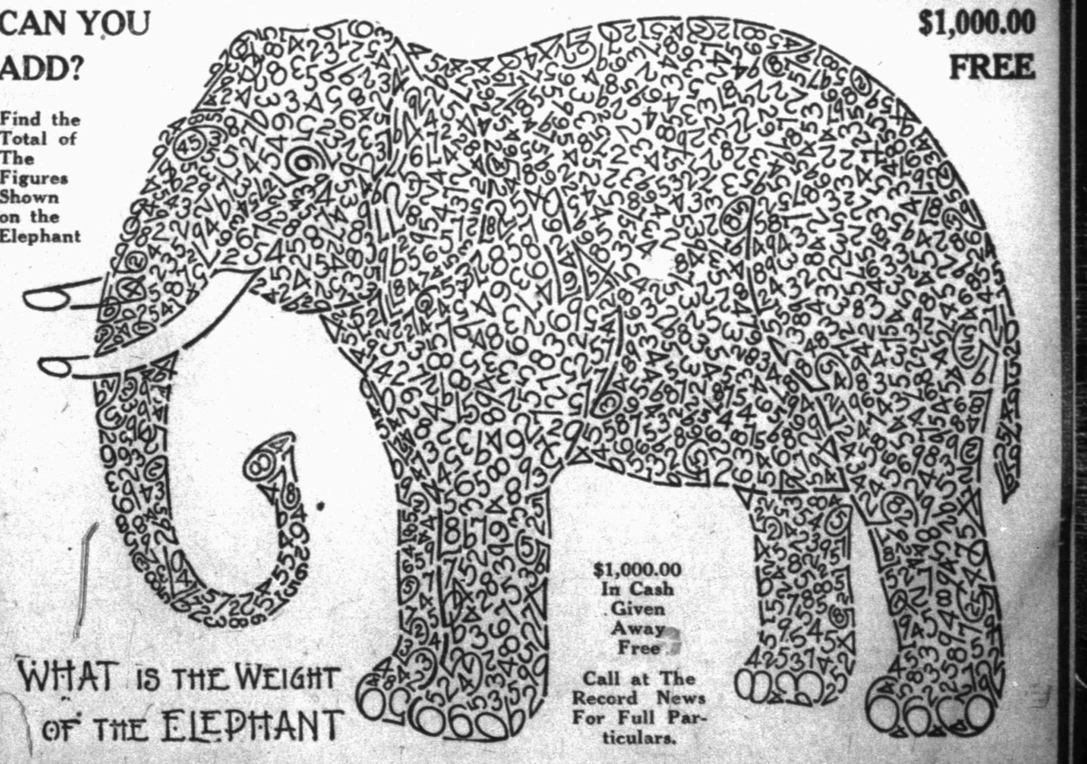

This action has already been authorized by the commissioners and it will become effective as soon as W. R. Hyer, tax assessor and collector, can assemble the necessary data.

The money is badly needed by the city and a concerted effort will be made to make the collections as soon as possible.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

FAIR WARNING

The general public is hereby notified that all well located lots in Scotland Addition will be raised in value $200. each on March 1st, 1926.

The lots we have left on the market at this time are by far the cheapest and best lots in the city for the money. While they last you have picking choice of inside lots for $400.00, corners $500.00 on terms of one-third cash or 5% discount for all cash.

Owing to the fact that Scotland Addition has all the modern conveniences, you absolutely know that when you own one of these lots clear, that you can get a modern home built on same on terms that you can meet. When you buy lots out in the country or in any district where there is no water, gas, electric lights, sewerage, etc., you may have to wait for years before you get them. It costs money and lots of money to put these conveniences in any addition. For instance, it cost over $300,000 to put the conveniences in Scotland Addition, including the street railway and paved highway. This is more than $400 per lot for every lot in the entire addition. You can readily see that you are getting your money's worth when you acquire one of our lots.

These modern conveniences are what makes lots come so high in restricted additions. We have all these conveniences except paved streets an din this addition you can't be located far from street car line and paved highway. We will soon have a modern brick school. It has taken years of hard work as well as lots of money to acquire all these necessities and you can readily see that we are justified in raising our values.

If you purchase one of these cheap lots now you do so with the assurance that your lot will be worth $200 more on the first day of March. This is a 50 per cent advance in four months; what better could you ask. Should you not have the money to buy one of these lots you should go borrow it, for there will never be another close in industrial addition with all these conveniences placed on the market.

Scotland Addition is in the city limits. If you are proud of our city you will want to live in the city limits where you can assert your American right to vote and take part in its development by paying taxes rather than trying to shirk them.

First Come, first served and remember our best lots will soon be sold. I mean every word of this advertisement.

GEORGE DEFENDS PROHI

Noted Britain Says it Proves Success In America.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Former Prime Minister David Lloyd George, prior to his visit to the United States some time ago, had heard the suggestion that prohibition in that country had been put through by cranks, but he found this entirely untrue, for he never met a man who would vote for the re-establishment of the saloon.

Mr. Lloyd George was speaking at City Temple on "The Responsibilities of the Free Churchmen." He declared that prohibition was an experiment Great Britain should investigate. Last year England spent 316,000,000 pounds sterling on alcoholic liquor.

CANTWELL IN PLEA BEFORE COLLEGE PTA

School Superintendent Gives Address at First Meeting

"The public school is the greatest institution on the earth today for all the people," declared Dr. J. W. Cantwell, superintendent of city schools, in an address to the Parent-Teachers association of the Junior high school in their first meeting of the fall season.

"Classes are split into groups: so it is in the social and political order: yet they are in the schools and co-operate with each other for good.

"America is awake, and her attitude toward the school housing problem is indeed encouraging. This is known as a new building era, and never before has there been an age in America when so much is being done for her children," he said.

Advantages for Pupils.

Dr. Cantwell spoke on the educational advantages offered to children at this time. "Let's hurry the time when the girls and boys may have opportunities for a high type of high school education. Our new Junior college building and its equipment should be a challenger to every boy and girl in this city for higher education," he declared.

"The barrier between the teachers and parents comes through the lack of personal contact," Mrs. R. E. Suther, teacher of history in the Junior high school, said in a talk to the assembly, when she spoke on to topic, "Know Your School."

"Know your children's teachers, and let them know you," she urged the mothers and parents in her address. "If you visit often enough, the children will come to the point where they will not be excited when you visit the schools.

"Many of you parents send your children to school six and eight hours per day for nine months of the year, without knowing their teachers. No where else would you allow those children two hours a day without making personal visits or an investigation.

Pay Your Taxes.

"Once a year you pay your taxes and ask the school board to select teachers for your children and you never see them."

Mrs. John C. Kaye, president of the club, presided. She announced that the association was making plans to purchase a library for the Junior high school in the near future.

Speaking of the growth of Parent-Teacher associations in Texas, Mrs. Kaye said that there are now in the state 50,000 members representing more than 1,000 clubs. One thousand and six homes are represented in the Junior high school, and 36 teachers take care of the children in the building.

Mrs. B. F. Vincent talked on the "Value of a Teacher's visit in the home."

W. E. Davenport spoke on plans to get the parents interested in the "Come to School" week or "Visitor's Week," which is to be held in November.

Entertainment was furnished at the meeting by Miss Anita Martin, harpist, who delighted the assembly with a number of solos. She played the accompaniment for eight violins, the students being directed by Mrs. Hermione Stewart Vaughn. The devotional was led by Mrs. Milo Atkinson, followed by a prayer by Mrs. Ira L. Cain.

Principal H. A. Glass announced a school carnival to be held Friday, October 30.

Eighty-eight mothers and teachers were present for the opening meeting of the year. Those attending included: Mesdames D. T. Williams, C. A. Norwood, H. G. Helgerson, Milo Atkinson, Hardy Naylor, Joe Hancock, Sidney Covington, W. H. Costley, H. L. Wilson, E. Chandler, Sarah Smith, J. A. Morrison, J. E. Childers, W. L. Dalton Stanley, Marsh, W. A. KIDNEYS NEED LOT OF WATER

Drink Freely and Often, Also Take Salts if Your Back Hurts

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating foods which create acids, says a well-known authority. An excess of such acids overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the system, so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

WICHITA WCTU BRANCH JOINS NEW FACTION

Will Aid Forming New Branch of Workers Following Split

DALLAS, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Formation of a new branch of the W. C. T. U. is to be undertaken at a meeting in Dallas October 24, called by leaders of the fashion which left the organization last year as a protest against the election of Mrs. Claude DeVan Watts of Austin, president.

A call for the meeting has been sent out by officers of the fourth district of which Mrs. J. E. Massey of Greenville, is president. Mrs. Massey said officers of the thirteenth district, which has headquarters at Wichita Falls, and of the fourteenth district at San Antonio, have joined in the movement.

Recall Old Quarrel.

The state convention of the W. C. T. U. is to be held at Waxahachie, October 28-30, four days after the meeting of the protesting faction here.

At last year's meeting in Houston Mrs. Van Watts was opposed on the ground that she had participated officially in partisan politics. A number of delegates left the hall when her name was announced.

Mrs. Emma L. Goff of Wichita Falls, president of the thirteenth district, and Mrs. Claude J. Carter, president of the fourteenth district, have stated they would be present with delegations at the Dallas meeting, Mrs. Massey said.

The split in the ranks of the anti-liquor organization has been growing for a year, members state. The call for the Dallas meeting states:

No Politics.

"We want the people to know we stand for the true principles of the Woman's Christian Temperance union. We believe in voting for honest men and women. We support men and women who advocate honest measures for the benefit of all the people. We are not a political machine and hate the injustice and unchristian procedure of such."

Answering the suggestion that the split was caused by the ku klux klan issue, the call said: "Every woman who walked out voted for Dr. Butte and he was not a klansman." The call is signed by Mrs. J. M. Massey, Mrs. T. T. Herndon, Mrs. F. A. Short, Mrs. R. L. Dodd, Mrs. J. B. Lee, Mrs. Ada Kennedy, Mrs. J. R. Moore, all of Greenville, and Mrs. J. B. Arrington of Point Isabel.

RACES WITH DEATH

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(AP).—A race against death by airplane, ocean liner and railroad train neared its end for Nathaniel Bacon of Peacedale, R. I., today when he was transferred from the steamship Ohio down the bay, rushed to the Battery by tug boat, and took a train for his home where his wife was reported dying.

Hearing of his wife's illness while in the Balkans, Mr. Bacon flew by airplane to Cherbourg, France, where he boarded the Ohio.

FRENCH SUCCESSFUL

DAMASCUS, Syria, Oct. 20.—(AP)—An insurrection which broke out here last night with infiltrating groups of Druse tribesmen, assisted by local elements, has been put down by the French forces.

Bands of tribesmen filtered into the southern section of the city were joined by local inhabitants and at 9 o'clock last night suddenly attacked the French occupants.

The troops managed to remain in possession of the public utilities buildings and the military establishments against which the insurgents directed a continuous rifle fire.

Why have BOILS?

Boils and pure, rich, red blood never go together. They simply won't mix, any more than oil and water. Healthy blood dries these pests right up! That's the reason S. S. S. drives agonizing boils completely out of the system. There's not a chance for a boil, or any other breaking out on the skin, when pure blood, full of red cells is rushing through your system.

And that's what S. S. S. does. Builds up the red blood. Puts red-blood-cells by the millions back in the system. S. S. S. makes the blood so strong in healthy, red-blood-cells that painful, torturous boils—disfiguring pimples, blackheads and blotches—itching, burning eczema and rashes and other embarrassing skin eruptions simply get out.

It's a fact. S. S. S. has been doing this very thing for 100 years. You can get S. S. S. from any druggist. So, why have boils? Get the larger bottle. It's more economical.
