Group of Interested Residents Start Fund Drive for Civic Center

Several years ago Harland, Bartholomew and Associates, nationally known planners and engineers, made an extensive study of this area and then presented the City of Rockport with a comprehensive plan for the next 20 years, including numerous recommendations for orderly growth and development.

One of the major recommendations made by the planning firm was that a combination civic, convention and community center be built, just south of the Ski Basin, to serve this area in many ways.

Among the obvious ways that such a building could be used would be for some conventions, as a recreation center for tourists, and for certain community activities.

Up until now, nothing has been done to plan or seek funds for such a structure.

But now a group of community-minded residents are in the process of exploring ways to raise the necessary funds for such a project.

Loyce Landrum, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce; Louise Zeisler; Bill Janacek; Carl Duckworth, president of the Rockport Art Association; Ed Harper, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Penny Baldwin, president of the B&PW Club; and Peggy Holmgren.

Hiller was appointed chairman of the group and was asked to investigate the feasibility of a community center.

Harper was assigned to check into any restrictions of locating such a building on Navigation District property.

In this connection, Landrum reported that he and other Navigation District commissioners would look favorably on the possibility of locating such a structure on Navigation District property just south of the Ski Basin.

The next meeting of the group will be at Corky's Restaurant on Sept. 6.

Junior High School Information

Classes will begin August 28 for students that will attend Rockport-Fulton Junior High School this year. The school day will begin at 8:10 and end at 3:30. The cafeteria will be open and buses will make both the morning and afternoon run.

Beginning August 21, students will be able to come to the Junior High School to find out which room to report to the opening day of school. This information will be on a bulletin board that is located at the south entrance to the Main building.

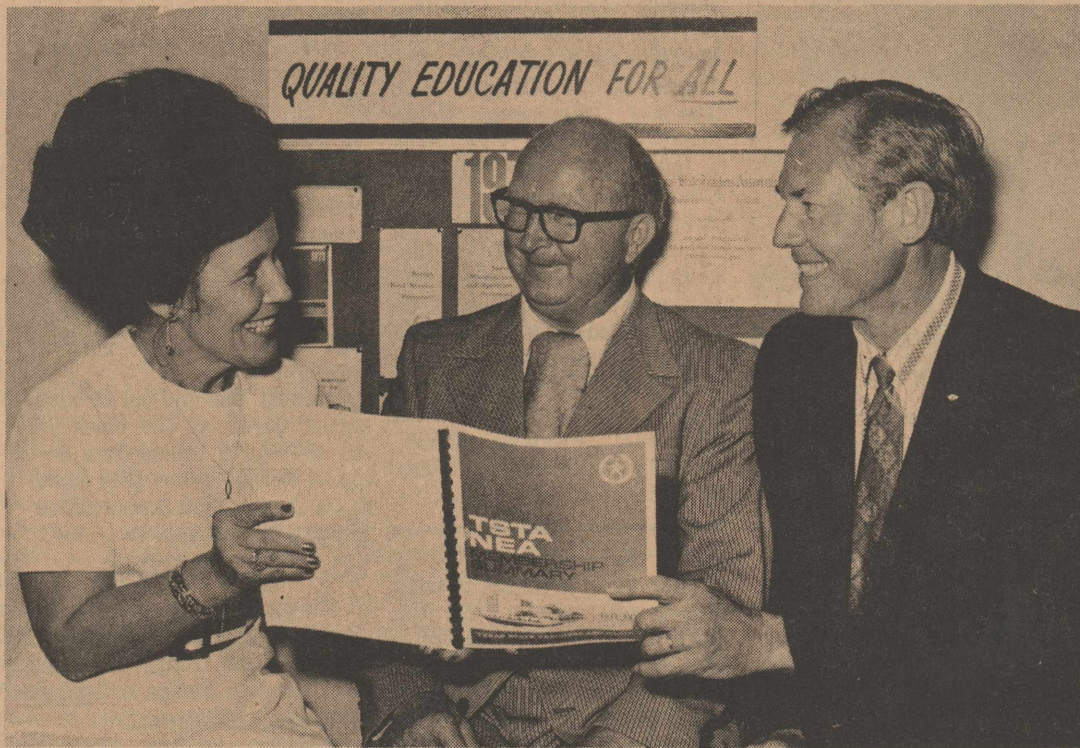

On the opening day of school each student will report to a homeroom where the homeroom teacher will give the student his daily schedule of classes. The homeroom teacher will also give each student two items, a census card and a noon permission slip, that must be taken home, signed by the parent, and then returned to the student's homeroom teacher as soon as possible.

During the remainder of the first week the homeroom teachers will go over the student handbook with students. This book contains school policies concerning student activity at school. Students will be able to bring these books home at the end of the first week. Parents are encouraged to read this book in order that they too will be familiar with school policies concerning student activity.

Methodists Plan Combined Event

The First United Methodist Church is sponsoring an evening of recreation, a picnic, and a Vesper Service at the Bishop Elliott Retreat Center on Sunday, August 20th, beginning at 5:00 p.m.

Everyone is invited to bring the whole family and a sack lunch and join in the fun. Drinks will be provided. For more information call 729-6303 or 729-6671.

TEACHERS PLAN AHEAD — Three members of the Texas State Teachers Association got together at a recent leaders conference in Austin to plan their statewide program for the 1972-73 school year. They are (from left) Mrs. Patsy Duncan of Canyon, state president of TSTA; Carl Stracener of Rockport, District III NEA membership chairman; and Alvin W. Cummings of Placedo, District III TSTA membership chairman. On the wall behind them is TSTA's theme for 1972-73: "Quality Education for All."

Public Hearing In Oct. on Hwy. 35 Relocation

The Rockport Pilot published two stories about both the Chamber of Commerce and the City Council expressing concern regarding the planned revision of the relocation of Highway 35.

The articles pointed out that the concern was over the plan to have the highway go west of Aransas County Airport instead of east, as originally planned.

Both the Chamber of Commerce and the City Council voiced concern that putting the new Highway 35 west of the airport would limit extension of runways in a northwesterly direction.

Since publication of these articles, Travis A. Long, District Engineer, Texas Highway Department, Corpus Christi, has received letters of concern from the C of C, City of Rockport and many local residents.

As a result, he sent the following letter to The Rockport Pilot:

"Because of the many rumors I hear in the Rockport area about the relocation of SH 35, I would like to get you to put a short article in your next issue of the Rockport Pilot to help ease the tension in that area about whether or not there will be another public hearing on this highway.

"There will be another public hearing held for the purpose of showing what is now proposed and this public hearing will be held just as soon as all requirements have been met on comments from the various agencies on the environmental statement. Our best estimate at this time is that the hearing will be held in late October.

"I would appreciate your putting this in your next issue if at all possible."

What's a Good Name For the New Park?

The City Council would like for local residents to make suggestions for a name for the new 25-acre city park located northwest of Rockport on FM 2165.

At the Council meeting Monday night a representative of the Veterans of Foreign Wars suggested "Memorial Park" as the name, pointing out that this name would pay tribute to those who lost their lives in war.

The aldermen took this name under consideration and also decided to give all local citizens and organizations the opportunity to suggest names for the park.

Just send your suggested name for the park, along with your own name, to Mayor Walter S. Falk, Jr., City Hall, Rockport. A prize will be awarded to the person or organization submitting the name finally accepted, according to Falk.

Navigation District Continues Discussion of Channel Deepening

Aransas County Navigation District Commissioners and consulting engineers held a special meeting Aug. 8 to continue discussion and planning for a major channel deepening project.

Present at the meeting were Navigation District commissioners Dick Fox, Bobby Landrum, W. M. Brown, Jr., and

Monte Rouquette; H. L. DeFord and Mike Wilson of Lockwood, Andrews & Newnam, consulting engineers; and the following interested spectators:

L. E. and Leslie (Bubba) Casterline of Casterline Fish Company, John P. Mitchell, Jr., and Sam Simpson of Rockport Yacht and Supply Company, and N. F. Jackson of Jackson Seafood Company.

Plans for the harbor and channel improvement project are based on the expectation of getting a federal grant of approximately $500,000, and raising a similar amount of money locally by means of a bond issue, making it a $1 million project.

At the conclusion of the special meeting, it was agreed that the project will include the following: 1) deepen Cove Harbor, 2) relocate and deepen Rockport Channel, 3) relocate and deepen Fulton Channel, 4) expand Fulton Harbor, 5) build groin at the end of the mile-long beach, 6) relocate spoil placement site, 7) extend Rockport seawall, 8) extend Fulton seawall.

As has been pointed out in previous Pilot articles, this major project would greatly benefit the local economy by providing improved harbor and channel facilities to help expand the commercial fishing and boat building industries.

Reserved Tickets Are On Sale

Reserved season tickets are on sale in the high school principal's office for all of the home football games.

There are approximately 200 tickets remaining out of the original four hundred tickets available for sale. Reserve seat admission will be $1.50 for each game or $7.50 for the five home games.

General admission tickets will be sold at the gate for $1.25. Student admission tickets are to be sold for $.50.

City Ordinances to Raise Water and Sewer Rates

The City of Rockport is getting ready to increase water and sewer rates.

Final details regarding the new rate schedule have not been completed, but at a City Council meeting Monday Aldermen Charlie Garrett, N.F. Jackson, Joe "Pepe" Zambrano and Murray McMullan and Mayor Walter S. Falk, Jr., reviewed the first draft of ordinances that will incorporate the rate hikes.

Regarding the need to increase water rates, one city official said, "During the past year the city lost money on its water service. We took in about $13,000 less than we paid the Aransas County Conservation and Reclamation District for treated Lake Mathis water which we supply to our customers."

"We are going to be forced to raise water rates to break even," he said.

In connection with sewer rates, it was indicated that the minimum rate will be increased from $1.50 to $2 for city customers to help meet rising costs.

Final details regarding water and sewer rate increases will be spelled out in ordinances to be adopted by the City Council, probably at its next meeting.

Any water rate increases proposed by the city must be approved by the Aransas County Conservation and Reclamation District. No difficulty in obtaining this approval is expected.

In other actions, the City Council:

--Expressed willingness to cooperate with Aransas County in providing the funds to purchase and install an electronic alert network warning system for the Aransas County Emergency Corps to serve this area.

--Reviewed a proposed ordinance amending the present subdivision ordinance. The amendment pertains to maintenance problems and will establish responsibilities of subdivision developers regarding installation and maintenance of streets, curbs, gutters and other improvements.

Library Story

There will not be a Story Hour on Friday, August 18. The next Story Hour will be Friday, August 25. Mrs. Sue Randow will read the stories to the children from 10:30 a.m. until 11:00 a.m. at the Aransas County Public Library.

Mrs. Seth Steele conducted the Story Hour, Friday August 11, which the children thoroughly enjoyed. Mrs. Steele brought a tape recorder and let the children record their voices to hear how they sounded. This was much fun for them.

There will be a Winter Story Hour to be held on Wednesday mornings from 10:30 a.m. until 11:00 a.m. at the Aransas County Public Library. This program will begin in September, the first date to be announced later.

Several excellent readers have volunteered their time to conduct these Story Hours. This is a wonderful community service and is deeply appreciated.

NOTICE

All members of Explorers Post 49 please attend a very important meeting on Monday, Aug. 21, 7 p.m. at VFW Hall.

dividual, with planning toward A) Preparation for enrollment in a public school special education program, if possible, B) Development of the necessary pre-vocational skills needed to qualify them for enrollment in a sheltered workshop program, or C) Preparation for eventual placement in a residential facility such as the Corpus Christi State School, should it become necessary. Programming varies, determined by the ability of the individual child, but basically consists of language, physical, and social development. Attempts are made to develop all self-help skills and basic homemaking skills in order to help the students become contributing and participating members of their families. Additional music and creative activities such as art provide them with the opportunity for self-expression.

With the addition of Senate Bill 230 monies, which are received through the various independent school districts having children in Outreach classes, the staff has increased to include certified special education teachers.

County Agrees to Share In Cost Of $10,000 Electronic Alert System

Aransas County Commissioners this week agreed to have the county participate with the City of Rockport in the purchase of a $10,000 countywide electronic alert warning network system that will be used in case of fires, hurricanes or any type of disaster.

Total cost of the system was estimated to be about $10,000, but County Judge John D. Wendell said he thought there was a good chance that a $5,000 grant from the federal government may be obtained.

If the grant is forthcoming, the plan would be for the county to pay $2,500 and the city $2,500.

Appearing before County Commissioners Court to recommend the system were Eddie Ratliff and Dick Fox, members of both the Aransas County Emergency Corps and the Rockport Volunteer Fire Department.

The new warning system

Some Boys Still Want Long Hair

A group of male high school students was present at the school board meeting Aug. 14 to register their complaint against the recently adopted dress code of the Aransas County Independent School District, this code to become effective with the opening of the fall school term.

The primary complaint was that part of the code which regulated hair. Each student present was given an opportunity to present his views. Considerable time was consumed in order that all students present had the opportunity to express their views, which as stated were in opposition to the recently adopted dress code.

After all complaints were heard, the school board, led by the President, explained at length the reasons for a new code and urged the students to

Kindergarten Program Plans Announced

The Aransas County School system will operate a public kindergarten for students who meet the guidelines as outlined by the Texas Education Agency and the local School Board.

To be eligible for kindergarten, a child must be five years old prior to the first day of September.

Students who qualify for kindergarten must meet one of the following requirements:

1. Educationally deprived: An educationally deprived child is one who cannot speak and/or comprehend the English language to the extent that he is not familiar with the common English language words that are necessary for normal progress in the first grade. This will be determined by standardized test and/or a personal interview.

2. Economically handicapped: A student is economically handicapped whose parent income was less than $3,000.00 last year.

All students will be tested by the kindergarten teachers starting on Wednesday, August 23rd and continuing through the week. Parents will be called for an appointment by the teachers.

The classes will be held at the Rockport Elementary School and students will receive a mid-morning snack.

Any student who has not done so should register at the Rockport Elementary office as soon as possible.

T. Noah Smith, Jr., 'Appalled' At Request for Further Environmental Studies at Aransas County Airport

T. Noah Smith, Jr., president of Rockport Yacht & Supply Company, has given the Rockport Pilot a copy of a letter he sent Aug. 7 to Arthur W. Busch of the Environmental Protection Agency at Dallas.

The letter, which is self-explanatory, follows:

Environmental Protection Agency
1600 Patterson
Dallas, Texas
Attention: Mr. Arthur W. Busch
Dear Mr. Busch:

When I received my August 3 copy of the "Rockport Pilot" and read the article written by the Corpus Christi Caller-Times concerning your request "for additional environmental studies" to the Federal Administration Agency at Houston, I was quite appalled. First, let me qualify myself as a commercially-rated pilot who has been flying since 1940 and who has been using the facilities at Rockport since they were taken over by the County.

The questions raised by you, according to the article, are so insignificant that they are hardly worth the time and paper spent making the request. The lengthening of the runway in question is an absolute necessity to the area since more corporate jet aircraft will be using these facilities in the future and most are jets that require more than the now 4500' runway. Reynolds Aluminum Company, duPont Corporation, National Steel, LeTourneau Corporation and Brown and Root have plans for tremendous facilities in the immediate area and each corporation owns large corporate jets or turboprop aircraft that need the longer, safer runway. It faces the prevailing wind and is approached in either direction over water. The oil well that you spoke of, and by the way I am in the drilling and producing business myself, is an old well drilled many years ago in an oil field that has been completely "drilled up"; therefore, there is very, very little likelihood that any future drilling in this area is contemplated.

Probably the most hazardous items, which you failed to mention, are the trees and electric light wires at each end of the runway, at present. They constitute much more of a hazard than the oil well that you spoke of which does not extend more than 12 feet above the surface of Copano Bay and is quite a distance offshore to the end of the runway. High pressure gas lines constitute no danger whatsoever, since, with very little money, a conduit can be placed around them and vented on each end in the very same manner as high pressure gas lines across practically every highway in the State of Texas. As far as the landfill that is required, this will be taken from a very high area of the peninsula and will not in any way effect an erosion problem. Most of it at this time is being used for the local garbage dump.

Since Rockport never will be a major overhaul station for jet or turboprop aircraft, there would be absolutely no necessity for washing any detrimental oils or other materials from the aircraft. It would probably be a good idea if they would use some oil on the existing white sand as it would probably do a good job of killing out the grass burrs that abound in the area. I am sure some environmentalist will find some reason for not distributing the grass burrs.

In conclusion, please let me say that I think any further waste of the taxpayers money for the immense cost, and delay, of doing another study of a very simple question is not worth the expense unless it is an absolute necessity to further the necessity of keeping the environmental protection agency going as just another bureau to leech more Federal funds which will be paid for by the taxpayers such as myself. It seems to me that we have enough expense from the many, many overlapping bureaus, all trying to show cause why they are absolutely necessary to the good of the nation.

I hope that you will take this letter seriously and forget the request and let's get on with lengthening this runway with the least amount of red tape and additional expense.

Very truly yours,
T. Noah Smith, Jr.

Congressman John Young
Mr. John P. Mitchell, Jr.

Following is the news article to which Smith referred:

The Environmental Protection Agency has indicated further environmental studies should be made before the Federal Aviation Administration approves proposed improvements at Aransas County Airport.

The informal request came from regional EPA administrator Arthur W. Busch in Dallas after he received a preliminary draft of an environmental impact survey from the district FAA office in Houston. The FAA is studying an application by Aransas County to accommodate up to three times its present light jet and turboprop traffic.

Busch noted in a letter to

Athletic Director Speaks At Rotary

Cautious optimism about the 1972 football season at Rockport-Fulton High School was expressed by Bob Flanagan, new head coach and athletic director for the local school, speaking at the weekly luncheon meeting of Rotary Club at Corky's Restaurant August 9.

He pointed out that it was difficult to evaluate the season in advance, particularly because the school has been moved from District 2A classification to 3A and will face teams from larger schools. Also he said with only 10 lettermen returning, the high school team lacked experience and depth in several positions, especially quarterback.

However, he said the team has a lot of physical strength. He predicted the team would do well in defense, but he was not sure about its ability to move the ball.

Coach Flanagan emphasized his interest in all types of sports, pointing out that not every boy is interested in or qualified for football or basketball. He promised a program of athletics with something for every interested boy.

This year's coaching staff includes three more than last year's, with the hold-over coaches providing essential experience and knowledge of the local situation, according to Flanagan.

Flanagan said he and his family have been quite pleased with the warm welcome extended them since they moved here about a month ago.

The FAA office that only about 60 executive jets and turboprop aircraft land monthly at the airport now. "It appears that air pollution and noise emissions may not be a problem," he said. But he suggested the FAA should determine whether the increased traffic will hurt the environment.

He also advised that precautionary measures should be taken to prevent erosion, referring to a proposal to extend the northwest-southeast runway by using landfill from the opposite side of the airport. The airport is located on a peninsula between Copano and Aransas Bays.

The FAA's rough-draft report said the runway should not be extended beyond 900 feet because of underground high-pressure gas lines. Busch took note of that statement, saying he wonders "whether the vibration caused by winding up of jet engines for takeoff at that end of the runway will have any possible effect on those gas lines." He said a gas leak could "cause serious adverse impacts" on the peninsula and in Copano Bay.

He also said "maps of the area indicate there is at least one (offshore oil) well in the proposed clear zone for the northwest approach to the runway," suggesting that the possibility of future "very high" wells in the area be studied to prevent air crashes and oil spills.

Finally, he said the present system of disposing of wash-down and oil-change wastes should be examined "to determine whether the present system is capable of properly handling a tripled load."

comply in order that the process of education could go on in an orderly manner and that no suspensions would be made necessary.

No change was made in the dress code and the code as published in the Rockport Pilot recently, remains the same. Each student in high school will be provided a separate copy of the dress code before the opening of school and in addition, the dress code will be included as a part of the students' handbook.

All students are urged to read this code carefully so that they will be able to enter school on the opening day of classes which is Monday, August 28. The school board also took the following actions:

--Resignation of one teacher was accepted.

--Richard A. Marksberry, Assistant High School Principal, was appointed as Textbook Custodian.

--The Board passed an order setting the teachers' salaries at $800.00 per year above state minimum.

--A new substitute teachers' pay schedule was approved as follows: Teachers holding degrees, twenty dollars ($20.00) per day until they have taught five consecutive days in the same assignment; beginning with the sixth day in the same assignment through the thirty-fifth day of consecutive daily teaching in the same assignment, the pay increases to twenty-five ($25.00) dollars per day. Beginning with the thirty-sixth day of consecutive daily teaching in the same assignment, the pay increases to thirty dollars ($30.00) per day. For non-degree teachers, the pay steps will be eighteen dollars ($18.00) per day, twenty-two dollars ($22.00) per day and twenty-six dollars ($26.00) per day following the same plan of duty assignment as outlined for substitute teachers holding degrees. In order to qualify for the escalated salary schedule, the substitute teacher must serve in the same assignment of the teacher who is absent or in an assignment made by the principal wherein the teacher would be placed in an area in which he or she is better qualified academically in the event of an extended absence in that particular teaching area.

--Awarded a contract to Sturdy Steel Company, a division of Central Texas Iron Works at Waco, Texas, for the purchase and erection of a new set of football bleachers at a bid of $27,250.00. This contract was awarded after being duly advertised for bids in the Rockport Pilot. Construction of the bleachers cannot begin until after the coming football season, but they will be completed in time for the 1973 season.

--Approved plans for repairing the roof of the old main building at the Rockport Elementary School.

--Approved a transportation arrangement whereby children from a family residing near Bayside but within the Aransas County Independent School Dis-

"Defensive Driving" To Earn 10% Saving, Instructors Sought

AUSTIN--As a direct result of a suggestion made by the Texas Association of Insurance Agents, Texas automobile owners may, beginning September 1st, save 10% on the cost of their auto insurance. All that is required, according to Josh R. Morris, Jr., the association president, is to successfully complete the new Defensive Driving Course that will soon be offered statewide.

The announcement follows a recent ruling by the State Board of Insurance that Texas automobile owners could receive a 10% reduction in bodily injury, property damage and collision coverage by completing the "defensive driving course" (DDC) as outlined by the National Safety Council.

"Savings from this credit could amount to as much as $43 million a year in Texas," Morris continued. "While this is a substantial financial benefit, the savings in life and injury that can result from DDC is expected to be even more significant. The National Safety Council tells us that, properly taught, the DDC will reduce traffic accidents significantly."

The Texas Association of Insurance Agents is working in cooperation with the Texas Safety Association in implementing the new program.

"At the moment, our biggest headache in getting the program off the ground is a lack of trained instructors," Morris points out. "We are working with our 83 local associations and 2,300 independent member agencies throughout the state in an effort to recruit enough qualified instructors to meet the anticipated demand for the program come September 1st. We are also interested in hearing from any individuals who would like to become accredited DDC instructors. Interested persons should contact the Texas Safety Association, 1623 South Lamar Boulevard, Austin, Texas 78704 for further information."

The Texas Safety Association will conduct the actual training of instructors. Says Association General Manager, Lloyd Palmer, "Our association will conduct courses for DDC in all sections of the state. We are going to do all in our power to help make the DDC available to everyone in the state."

"The course should cost $10 or less per person and the resulting credit will be good for three years. This means, Morris says, "a motorist can spend $10 and save $45 or more on his auto insurance over a three year period."

After the three year period, the DDC must be repeated by an individual in order for him to again qualify for the 10% premium credit.

In a family with two or more cars the principal drivers of each car will have to take the DDC in order to qualify for credit on both cars. Otherwise the credit will apply only to the vehicle principally operated by the person who has completed the course.

Oriental Holiday

Miss Barbara and Mrs. Ruby Rasco recently returned from a trip to the Orient. They left from Dallas with 78 Texans and 172 other N.E.A. members from various states.

The trip went by way of Anchorage, Alaska, then to Osaka, Japan where Expo 70 was held, then to Kyoto where Japanese history first began. They then went on to Tokyo, Japan by the famous "Bullet Train" which travels 125 miles an hour.

On the way there they saw the famous "Mt. Fuji." Tokyo has 11,000,000 people and 3,000,000 commute to work each day. While in Tokyo they visited with Mrs. John Preston and daughter while Lt. Commander John Preston was out with the Seventh Fleet.

The most impressive event in Tokyo was that Barbara and Mrs. Rasco were asked to participate in the filming of some teaching machines which were invented in New York and were taken to Japan to be perfected and manufactured. Afterward the filming company vice-president took them to his mother's home and explained all of their customs. Mrs. Rasco will be teaching about Japan this year, so these experiences will come in handy.

Next, they went to Hong Kong and got to go into the new Red Chinese Territory. The island of Macao which is Portuguese by Hydrofoil, then to Bangkok Thailand. They were supposed to return by way of Philippines but could not because of a typhoon there. Then they went to Hawaii and back to Dallas for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. James A. Rasco and daughters, Dianna and Donna.

This was Barbara's first overseas trip so she was spellbound. People everywhere were very hospitable and friendly.

4H Bridge

Mrs. L.G. Wood was hostess to the 4H Bridge Club at her home last Friday. Members playing were Mrs. W.E. Blackshare, Mrs. W.M. Denny, Miss Lillian Fahr, Mrs. Ed Hall, Mrs. R.E. House, Mrs. J.D. Houston and Mrs. Fred Hunt. The hostess won high score, Mrs. Houston second high and Mrs. Hunt third high.

"Dodlesack" is a colloquial name for bagpipes.

The TOPS Club will have a tea party on August 21. Long dresses or pant suits may be worn. Queen of the week was Mrs. Romaine Ammons and runner-up was Betty Kelly.

Miss Laura Crabb left August 10 for Charlotte, South Carolina, from where she will go to Frankfurt, Germany. She will teach in the elementary school at Hahn Air Force Base.

Recent memorial and honor gifts were made to the American Cancer Society by the following: Mrs. Volney Cavitt, J.R. Weekley, Mrs. Harry Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Arlo Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Bocquet, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Davis, Pearl Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Sharpe, Mr. and Mrs. H.A. Brundrett, Jr., Mrs. Alice Haney, Veronica Klaeser and Mrs. Rufus Casterline.

Pirate Football Practice Begins

By BOB CRAWFORD

Football practice for the Rockport-Fulton Pirates began Monday morning, and although there are a number of faces from last year's program missing, things are progressing right along. If there is any one particular problem that appears at the present time, it would be a lack of depth at some positions.

Recently Dave Campbell's magazine TEXAS FOOTBALL reached the newsstand, and although its predictions are fairly stable, Rockport-Fulton people would like to think that someone slipped up in regards to where the Pirates are picked in district 15-AAA. The Pirates are listed next to the bottom of the district, but Coach Bobby Flanagan pointed out, "It's better to be picked there and fool the experts, than to be at the top and fool them."

Here is the way that District 15-AAA is picked to finish by TEXAS FOOTBALL: Gregory-Portland; Sinton; Flour Bluff; West Oso; Taft; Aransas Pass; Calallen; Bishop; Rockport-

Fulton; and Tulosos-Midway.

The Rockport-Fulton Pirates will open season's play on September 15 against non-district opponent Mathis in Mathis. The Mathis team will provide stiff competition for the Pirates with a team that returns twenty-three seniors.

After the Mathis game, the Pirates begin district play for the following nine weeks in this order: Tulosos-Midway (home); Gregory-Portland

Miss Emily Green,

Jimmy Cessac

Exchange Vows

Miss Emily Fay Green and Jimmy Ray Cessac were married Friday, Aug. 11, in Calvary Baptist Church. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Johnny (away); Calallen(home); Flour Bluff (home); Sinton (away); Taft (home); Aransas Pass (away); West Oso (home); and Bishop (away).

Ray Green and Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Cessac of Rockport.

The bride wore a gown with empire bodice and long full sleeves. Jeweled alencon lace accented the bodice and long sleeves. The neck was low and round. Bridal buttons fastened the bodice back. A large lace motif was appliqued on the center front, just above the hem. From the bodice back fell the cathedral train trimmed with lace appliques. Her veil of illusion fell from a white Juliet cap of white satin and pink roses.

A rainbow theme was carried throughout the afternoon with white carnations and gladiolas as the flowers.

A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church following the ceremony.

Jimmy and Emily are now

Walls Family Reunion Held

The C. H. Walls family attended a reunion Saturday of Mrs. Walls family at the home of Rev. and Mrs. D.A. Jones in Shreveport, La.

Those present included her mother, Mrs. Lue Ealy, four of Mrs. Ealy's five children: Mrs. D.A. Jones, Mrs. Uby Steward of Florin, La., Cliffton Richards of Houston, and Mrs. Walls of Rockport.

Seventeen of the twenty-two grandchildren were present: James, Charles and Isaac Walls of Rockport, Mrs. Calvin Grimes of Portland, Mrs. Philip Ware of New Orleans, Miss Margie Jones of San Francisco, Miss Ora Lee Jones, Miss Doris Faye Jones, Mrs. Ted Barrett, George and David Jones all of Shreveport, Mrs. Roy Cushingberry, Miss Jean Richards, Miss Linda Richards, Joseph Richards and Mrs. Annie Jean Henderson of Houston.

Also present were twenty-seven of her thirty-six grandchildren. All of these along with husbands and wives made quite an affair of eating, playing, horseback riding and just plain gabbing.

cation teachers. The Corpus Christi State School Outreach programs are operated in close cooperation with the local independent school districts.

The cost of Outreach services are high as compared with the cost for regular educational services. However, the cost for residential care of the same child would run three to five times as high per year in a Texas State School for the Mentally Retarded. Outreach programs offer many advantages to the child, to his family, to his community and to the tax payers in general.

We are looking forward to a most successful year working in your community, and we express gratitude for the cooperation we have received from the school, church, and community members who have made this program possible.

LOCAL PARKS DESCRIBED

Mrs. Carolyn Hooper and Fred A. Bracht of the Park Board gave talks on local parks at the Rotary Club luncheon meeting. Mrs. Hooper said Rockport now has three parks. One is the triangle of land south of the A. L. Bruhl home which at one time had a pergola, electric lights and running water.

The second is the Mathis and Doughty Park in the south part of town which at present has 32 trees, two palms and some lily plants.

The third is the Taylor Oak Park where the oak has a burned out trunk.

Mrs. Hooper said Mr. Mathis, Mr. Doughty and Mr. Traylor (Harry Traylor's father) left two more park sites for present and future residents "just because they loved people."

Fred A. Bracht, chairman of the Park Board, told how the Dickson softball park was built. He said that in 1905 he played baseball on this field which was then fenced and had a grandstand, both of which fell down later.

A few years ago some boys and girls asked the Park Board to help fix the field for a softball park. They helped with the work and Emory M. Spencer got donations from several companies to help with this project. The park is now in excellent condition and paid for.

The Park Board now wants to build a new park in the city where they can have a tennis court, shuffleboard courts and other facilities, with adequate lighting so people can enjoy the recreation facilities at night as well as in the daytime.

It was stated that the Woman's Club will help select the location for the new park and then the Park Board will follow through.

Local Lady Hears From Governor Smith

A local lady recently received the following letter from Governor Preston Smith:

Thank you for the interest you expressed in your recent letter concerning our State Board of Insurance and the methods of regulating the insurance industry.

We are waiting to see how the Texas public feels and where its sentiments lie. If there is enough interest shown, we will consider calling another Special Session of the Legislature to accomplish revision of our current laws and to bring those laws into line with the needs and wishes of the public.

During the next few months while we finish our term as Governor, we do hope you will contact us if the facilities of this office might be helpful.

Sincerely,
Preston Smith
Governor of Texas

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa,
We have a small business together—my husband and I. We started it and have both worked in it and have made it a success. There is only one thing that worries me and it is that I have never drawn a salary so all of our assets are in my husband's name. He refuses to make a will but says everything he has is mine and that everybody knows it and there is no reason to pay someone to draw up a will. What will happen if he should die? We have four children, two of them live in this town and two in another state. They are usually in need of money and we have helped all of them since they were married.

Worried—Ga.

Answer:
I do not know the laws of inheritance in Georgia but in some states where there is no will, the wife gets one third of the estate and the children get two thirds.

Your husband is either being very unfair to you or careless for, in case he should die, the children could probably force you to sell your business, your house and other assets in order to get their two thirds in cash.

A woman who has helped her husband build up a business is a partner and should be treated as such. In the case where one marries a widower, the husband should certainly take care of his children by his first wife but it is just as necessary for him to make a will in that situation—as in your case. Money to a lawyer to draw up a will, will be well spent.

Louisa.

Address your letter to Louisa, P.O. Box 532 Orangeburg, S.C. 29115

The Kinsey Report

Should a person retire as soon as he has enough money to live comfortably?

Or should you keep on working if you like your work and it isn't too hard or time consuming?

I don't happen to have enough invested money to qualify for the first category, but since I'm 63 the thought of retirement in the not-too-distant future does come to mind quite a bit.

I look around and see some retired guys who appear to be very happy, very busy doing things they seem to enjoy, taking trips, fishing, playing golf, etc.

On the other hand, some retired fellows are obviously bored and can't seem to find anything interesting to do.

It occurred to me that if I wrote some little thing about retirement, semi-retirement and fulltime employment after age 65, that maybe some local men would write to me, expressing their thoughts on this important subject and then I could share some of their ideas with our readers.

So, you guys 65 or older, retired, semi-retired or still working fulltime, please let me hear from you.

All it takes to feather your nest these days is a little down.

—Observer, Norfolk.

CAPT. RODRIGUEZ RECEIVES AWARD

COLUMBUS, Miss. -- U. S. Air Force Captain Luis M. Rodriguez is a member of the Mississippi-based 37th Flying Training Squadron which recently received the Air Training Command (ATC) Unit Safety Award for flying safety during 1971.

Captain Rodriguez, son of Mrs. Ambrose H. Nugent of 14 Flamingo Road, Key Allegro Island, Rockport, Texas, is assigned at Columbus Air Force Base as an instructor pilot teaching undergraduate trainees how to fly the T-37 jet trainer aircraft.

The squadron was cited for completing 12 consecutive months of flying without an accident. The 1971 achievement brought the squadron's total consecutive, accident-free months to 33.

The safety-conscious members of the 37th also were honored recently for safe driving when the squadron's parent organization--ATC's 14th Flying Training Wing--cited the unit for achievement in ground traffic safety.

Analysis of Proposed Amendment No. Three

Continuing its analysis of the proposed amendments which will be voted on Nov. 7, the Pilot offers the following information regarding Amendment No. 3:

The proposed amendment to Article XVI, Section 61, requires that all justices of the peace in all counties of Texas be compensated by the commissioners courts on a salary rather than a fee basis. Effective date for the new type of compensation would be January 1, 1973.

Section 61 was added to Article XVI of the Texas Constitution in August 1935 for the purpose of abolishing the fee method of compensating all district officers in the state and all county officers in counties having a population of 20,000 or more and providing that such district and county officers be paid on a salary basis. It also provided that county officers in counties with populations under 20,000 and all precinct officers in all counties may be compensated on a fee basis or a salary basis. As a precinct officer, a justice of the peace comes within the purview of this provision.

Law enforcement was never intended as a revenue-raising measure, and in November 1948, the Texas electorate approved an amendment to Section 61 of Article XVI, which required that all sheriffs, deputy sheriffs, and county law enforcement officers, and all constables, deputy constables, and precinct law enforcement officers be compensated on a salary basis in all counties of the state.

The proposed Amendment No. 3 would revise Article XVI, Section 61, to require the commissioners court in all counties of the state to compensate all justices of the peace on a salary basis.

Arguments for: 1) The proposed amendment would promote integrity and better justice by removing the possibility of conflict of interest which could exist in a court in which the compensation of the justice of the peace is dependent on the fees he collects. Several state agencies and associations of law enforcement officers support the adoption of this proposed amendment in the belief that it will help abolish the speed-trap image now associated with some justice courts and that it will tend to increase the dignity and professional conduct of justices of the peace.

2) The proposed amendment would provide uniformity in compensation of justices of the peace, thus remedying the situation of neighboring justices who are paid on a salary basis.

3) Under the present system, many cases set before justices compensated on a fee basis are routinely appealed and tried in county court. Thus adoption of the proposed revision could expedite the administration of justice by bringing about a reduction in the number of cases appealed and a greater respect for the jurisdiction of justice courts.

Arguments against: 1) The fee system of compensation which is now in use in many of the justice courts of Texas has a tendency to encourage greater diligence among the justices of the peace in these courts inasmuch as pay is dependent upon the performance of official duties.

2) When compensated on a salary basis, a justice of the peace may lose some of his independence by becoming subservient to the commissioners court which provides his salary.

3) A change from the fee basis to a salary basis of compensation for justices of the peace could result in the loss of excellent justices from the bench, inasmuch as an aggressive justice of the peace could receive a much larger income from fees than that provided by the commissioners court as mandatory salary.
