

DENVER WILL MAKE GREAT IMPROVEMENT

WORK ON PROPOSED CHANGES EXPECTED TO BEGIN WITHIN SHORT TIME.

WILL MOVE BUILDINGS

Freight Handling Facilities Will Be Most Complete in Entire Country.

Work on the Fort Worth and Denver's new freight office and freight warehouse and extensive changes and improvements in the freight yards is expected to start within the next fifteen or twenty days and possibly sooner.

Chief Engineer Gowdy and Consulting Engineer Cowan of the Fort Worth and Denver, accompanied by Vice-President Keeler, Assistant Vice-President Colston, General Superintendent Gansewitz and General Freight Agent Sterley are in the city today and are going over the ground for the purpose of finally deciding details in the plans and specifications.

The plans for the improvements involve the removal of the Jones Grain Co.'s building, the present freight house, the Wichita Cafe and the Lowry building, now owned by the railroad company, the moving of the present passenger station about 30 feet westward and the addition of a second story and the erection of a huge brick fireproof freight warehouse 175 feet long and 30 feet in width to extend north from the freight office. This office will front on Seventh Street. The freight house, it is understood, is to have steel shutters and is to be as modern and convenient as can be made.

The loading and unloading wharves will extend the length of the freight warehouse and the court between the freight office and the Westland Hotel is to be paved.

Spot tracks with a capacity of about 20 cars will be laid adjoining the building on the east and north.

Work on these improvements, it is announced, will be begun as soon as the union passenger station is completed.

RAIN AND SNOW IN THE PANHANDLE

Snow and rain are possibilities for Wichita Falls tonight with a promise of warmer weather tomorrow.

The weather man's forecast for tonight is unsettled weather and the Fort Worth and Denver reports show rain from Kilkland to Clearendo this afternoon with a light snow falling at Amarillo and on the upper Panhandle.

The rain is reported to be coming southward and the mercury is going down with indications that the rain will turn to sleet or snow.

Caught on Pilot of Engine Girls Ride to Safety

Wichita, Okla., Feb. 10.—A wagon carrying twelve school children was hit by a train southeast of this city late yesterday. Harley Hartenbower, aged 15 years, and Grover Hartenbower, aged nineteen years, were injured internally and probably will die. Three daughters of Mrs. Ellen Allen were caught on the engine pilot and carried a half mile but were only slightly injured.

ROBBERY AT PAULS VALLEY

POSTOFFICE ENTERED BY DARING BANDITS WHO STEAL MAIL SACKS.

TRAVELED IN AN AUTO

Thought to Be Same Gang That Attempted to Rob the Bank at Hollister.

Pauls Valley, Okla., Feb. 10.—Robbers thought to be the same ones who looted the bank at Hollister near Frederick, Tuesday night, broke into the postoffice at this place Wednesday night and carried off several mail sacks containing registered letters amounting to large sums of money.

The identity of the men is almost certain. They were traveling in a big automobile. It is said that they are of the same gang that has been robbing many banks in the northern and western part of the state in the last year and have been making their getaway to adjoining states where it is said they are protected by the officers.

With a daring and a boldness that has not been equaled by robbers since territorial days they went into the bank at Hollister and blew the safe into a thousand pieces with eight charges of nitroglycerine. Two of the men stood guard at the door standing off the entire population of the town while the third man did the work.

The work of robbing the postoffice here took but a few minutes and the big automobile was on its way again. It is thought they went east from here. Officers followed them as far as Walker and gave up the chase. All that was left to show that the postoffice had been robbed was a large hole in the panel of the door and the missing mail sacks.

Roomers across the street from the postoffice saw the big automobile standing in front of the postoffice about three o'clock this morning, but thought nothing of it until told the postoffice had been robbed.

The autoists sped many miles before daylight and there is little hope of their capture.

At a conference between W. M. Gannex, agent of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in Northwest Texas and J. W. Campbell, in charge of the farmers co-operative and demonstration work in this section with the agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce this morning it was decided to offer the $200 recently appropriated by the Chamber of Commerce in prizes to members of Boys Corn Clubs in Wichita county and the retail territory around Wichita Falls.

SENATE RESCINDS CHARTER ACTION

REPASS TEXARKANA BILL WITH RECALL NOTWITHSTANDING THE GOV.

The Measure Providing Fund for Attorney General is Reported Unfavorably.

Cofor Signs Measure.

Austin, Tex., Feb. 10.—"I dedicate this pen to the women and children of Texas," said Senator R. E. Cofor of Cooke County today upon signing the Statewide constitutional amendment, President Pro Tem Hudspeth having yielded Senator Cofor the privilege of signing the measure.

Question of Adjournment.

Austin, Texas, Feb. 10.—The action of seventy members of the house in signing a sine die adjournment resolution for March 11 moved the senate to activity yesterday and an effort was made by the pros to pledge a majority of that body to adjourn not earlier than April.

Those who had the matter in charge, especially Senator Vaughan, admitted that they did not believe they would be successful in this, however.

Fourteen of the pros signed the April 12 agreement. Senator Bryan had not signed the resolution but will probably favor the proposition. Senator Perkins favors a sixty-day adjournment and Senator Carter is still on the fence, with the prohibition contingent believing he will vote for early adjournment. He holds the balance of power in the matter.

The anti-senators have prepared a resolution calling for a sine die adjournment March 18, a week later than the house resolution calls for. Senator Hudspeth is the only anti who has not signed this resolution, which was to be introduced today.

Lieutenant Governor Davidson expects the legislature to adjourn at the end of sixty days, while Speaker Rayburn expresses the opinion that it will not adjourn until the state has been re-districted in so far as senatorial and representative districts are concerned at least. No steps are being taken in this direction in the senate but he says the house re-districting committees are at work.

Fort Worth Banker Killed Accidentally

Fort Worth, Texas, Feb. 10.—Guy L. Cash, cashier of the Exchange National Bank of this city, accidentally shot and killed himself while in the act of unloading an automatic shot-gun at this home here. He had just returned from duck shooting, and was preparing to put the gun away. His wife was in an adjoining room at the time of the sad accident.

Spanish Republicans Active.

Madrid, Feb. 10.—A notable revival of Republican activity in Spain is promised as a result of a gathering of leaders of the party who assembled here today from all parts of the kingdom for an important conference. A new leader is to be chosen and steps taken for a thorough reorganization of the party.

ANALYSIS OF POLL TAX VOTE

SHOWS INCREASE WAS WHOLLY WITHIN THE CITY OF WICHITA FALLS.

CITY MAJORITY OF 204

Total of 1325 Inside Corporate Limits Compared With 1121 Outside.

The figures of poll tax payments for 1910 are quite interesting and show a marked advance in the city, though not near what it would have been had any local elections been in sight, such as stir up the mass of voters.

For 1909, the payments before February 1st, 1910 were $203 as 102 of the 2405 paid last year did not pay until after February 1st and hence could not vote.

Last year the Wichita Falls boxes show 1420, this year 1595, an increase of 165. The outside boxes then showed 873; this year only 851; an apparent decrease of 22. In reality, however, they about held their own as a vote in precinct lines put about 23 voters formerly at Friberg with the Bridge Box in North Wichita Falls.

However, it is evident that the net increase of 143 in the county all belonged to Wichita Falls and suburbs. This becomes more apparent by the city poll taxes which show 1325 as against 1190 last year, an increase of 135 in the city proper.

Last year the county payments for the city boxes over ran the city payments 240, while this year they over-ran 270.

Commissioners Precinct No. 1, which includes Alledale, has 1631 voters, while Precincts 2, 3, and 4 combined have only 815, lacking one vote of being half the number in Precinct 1.

There are 1325 voters inside the corporate limits of the city of Wichita Falls and 1121 outside showing a clean majority of 204 voters in the city over all those outside, even when those near town who really vote in the city are included.

Table with 2 columns: Precinct, Voters. Includes precincts No. 1, 2, 3, 4, Electra, and a Total of 2446.

Of course, these figures do not include persons exempt from payment of poll taxes, but the proportion of these is about the same all over the county.

HUNDRED DOGS KILLED AT GOLIAD

Goliad, Tex., Feb. 10.—Over one hundred dogs have been killed here on account of a mad dog scare. Several dogs were known to have been bitten, while the extent of the real danger was unknown and no chances are to be taken.

Manitoba Legislature Meets.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 9.—The Manitoba legislature assembled today. The occasion was marked with the usual ceremonial. The session promises to be one of considerable importance. The question of reciprocity probably will receive attention, as well as measures dealing with the initiative and referendum, government ownership, the extension of the boundaries of the Province and other matters of public interest.

CONGRESS WILL BE INCREASED

HOUSE PASSES BILL INCREASING NUMBER OF THAT BODY TO 433

TEXAS GAINS TWO AND OKLAHOMA THREE CONGRESSMEN AS A RESULT.

Washington, Feb. 10.—The Democrats of the house, aided by a few Republicans who declined to be bound by the party caucus, won their fight for an increased representation in the lower branch of congress, under the census of 1910. They voted down the Republican caucus bill to maintain the house membership as at present constituted and then passed the original Crumpacker bill, fixing the membership at 433 on and after March 3, 1913.

Under the new reapportionment plan no state loses a member. The following states gain the number indicated:

Finally, the physicians decided the case was incurable but not contagious, and the patient might go back to work on the railroad without endangering the health of his fellow workmen.

"I'll stay just a while," he said, "I like this place."

BOARD MEETING LAST EVENING DEVELOPED A HEALTHY CONDITION.

SUPERINTENDENT REPORT

Enrollment Shown Together With Comparison with Previous Years.

The regular meeting of the school board was held at the High School building last night, which was the first meeting of the board in that building. Those present were, President Hullock, T. J. Taylor, L. C. Hinkley, J. L. Downing and M. J. Gardner.

The report of Superintendent Toland was read and approved which report showed that the total enrollment at the end of the first half of the 1910-11 session was 1804, divided as follows: High School 308; Austin School; 701; Alamo School, 117; San Jacinto School, 335; Travis School, 160; Washington (negro) School, 123. The percent of attendance was 9.06.

The number of teachers employed is 34, including the two teachers at the negro school, there being 3 at the High School, 12 at the Austin School, 4 at the Alamo School, 7 at the San Jacinto School, 3 at the Travis School and 2 at the Washington or negro school.

The enrollment for 1910-11 as compared to that of 1909-10, and 1908-09 shows a gain over the latter of 672, and over the former or last session of 250.

The board granted Superintendent Toland leave of absence to attend the meeting of the Department of Superintendence of the National Educational Association which meets at Mobile, Ala., Feb. 23.

The finances of the school were found to be in splendid shape. All buildings and equipment being paid for and money enough in the treasury to run the school for the full nine months term.

TAFT WELCOMED TO HOME STATE

President is Making a Tour of Ohio and Illinois for Few Days.

Columbus, O., Feb. 10.—A large section of President Taft's home state had the first opportunity today to welcome him since he became president. From the time his special train crossed the Ohio river this morning until its arrival in the capital early this afternoon, the president was given a continuous ovation. Crowds gathered at every station to cheer the distinguished traveler and every train furnished its little knot of men, women and children, who waved hats and handkerchiefs as the president's special train sped along.

had gathered, a special reception committee of one hundred leading citizens made a passageway to Broad street, where motor cars were idling. Governor Harmon, Mayor Marshall and the officials of the National Corn Exposition were on hand to greet the distinguished visitor. The president expressed himself delighted with being in Ohio.

TEST IS PLANNED FOR NEW HOPE

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 9.—If some enterprising Oklahoma promoter sees fit to put up a nice, fat purse for the match Al Kaufman will be prepared within a few weeks to go to Oklahoma and meet Carl Morris, the big fellow of that section, who has been the real sensation of the fighting game during the last six months.

Kaufman does not exactly say what amount he would want for his services in attempting to show Morris up before his friends, but evidently the stakes of the big gate receipts that Morris has been drawing out in his own country have reached the ear of the alert young giant from the Pacific Coast. He might be willing to take a chance on the percentage basis if he was assured that the right prize would be one of the most attractive that could be arranged at the present time and would create international interest.

To Address University Students.

Decatur, Ill., Feb. 10.—Decatur is anticipating with a lively interest the visit of President Taft here tomorrow. GIANTS START SOUTH FOR TEXAS SATURDAY

By Associated Press.
New York, Feb. 9.—The exodus of southward bound ball players will begin this week in New York with the departure of the first squad of the New York Nationals for Marlin, Texas. They will go by boat to New Orleans and thence to their destination by rail. They will be the first of the big leaguers to start training, arriving at Marlin Springs on February 19.

Three other squads of New Yorkers will complete the personnel of the Giants' training company later in the month, so that there will be more than fifty men on hand by the end of February.

The first of the preliminary games has been arranged for March 4. Exhibition contests are scheduled for nearly every day thereafter until the season opens. The first opportunity which the local fans will have to see the Giants in action will be at the Polo Grounds April 8, when Yale will be played.

IN TWO MINUTES. Easy and Quickest Way to Break up a Cold.

If you want instant relief from cold in head or chest, or from acute catarrh, try this:

Into a bowl of boiling hot water pour a teaspoonful of HYOMEL (pronounced High-O-mel) hold your head over the bowl and cover head and lower with towel. Then breathe the pleasant, penetrating antiseptic vapor deep into the lungs, over the sore, raw, tender membrane, and most gratifying relief will come in a few minutes.

Druggists everywhere will sell a bottle of HYOMEL for 50 cents. Ask for extra bottle Hyomel Inhalant.

Don't be stubborn. Don't be prejudiced. There is not a particle of morphine, cocaine, or any injurious or habit forming drug in HYOMEL.

Give it a trial at the Marchman Drug Store's risk, they guarantee it. It is made of eucalyptus and other grand antiseptics. It will chase away the misery of catarrh or any affliction of the nose and throat in a few minutes.

You can get a trial sample free by writing Booth's Hyomel Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Lord Beresford is 65.

London, Feb. 10.—Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, one of the most popular officers who ever wore a British naval uniform, received a veritable flood of congratulations today on the occasion of his sixty-fifth birthday anniversary. Both the King and Queen were among those to send messages of greeting to the gallant old sea fighter, Lord Charles, or "Charlie," as he is lovingly called by Englishmen everywhere, is the second son of the late Marquis of Waterford and a cousin of Lord Deedes, who recently married Miss Vivian Gould. Lord Charles entered the navy as a cadet when he was fifteen, and, although promotion came to him rapidly it was not until 1852 that the bombardment of Alexandria made him world-famous as a naval officer.

Yes the Soup Was Good But Not as Good as "Yours Truly"

A young couple after returning to their home from dinner which they had been invited to one evening were commenting on the menu and the guests present, and the lady remarked to her husband that the soup which was served was very good, but not as good as "Yours Truly." This remark expressed in their own home expressed to them the fact which is self evident, for they were users of "Yours Truly" soup which has become the standard in a great many homes. "Yours Truly" comes in 10c cans in the following varieties: Vegetable, Tomato, Chicken and each one is a perfect masterpiece of its kind. You cannot afford to make your own soup when you can buy "Yours Truly" at this low price. I can contain enough for 3 liberal portions. Let us send you a can of each making a total of 90c and give them a fair trial and if they are not what we claim them to be or not what you think they should be, bring them back to us and we will refund your money. We are satisfied that these soups are first quality and worthy of a place on your table and we want you to try them at our risk.

To Heat a Square Mile

Heat a square mile of outdoors during a frost. Sounds fanciful, doesn't it? Yet that is what W. H. Underwood, owner of the Underwood orchards near Hutchinson, Kan., proposes to do. He is in the city directing the manufacture of 19,500 oil stoves of his own invention, which he proposes to use this spring.

"For four years the apple crop in Reno county and Central Kansas has been practically a failure on account of frosts in full bloom time," Mr. Underwood said yesterday. "I tried smudges and then tried the different makes of oil stoves. They were not practical. I was getting desperate. So I invented my own oil stove. Now I believe I am assured of a crop equal to the crops of seasons with no late frosts."

What An April Freeze Did.

Mr. Underwood owns a 600-acre apple orchard. Its west edge is four and one-half miles east of Hutchinson. Four hundred acres are bearing. Last year, in the heated area, 29,000 bushels of apples were grown. Outside of the heated area there was practically no yield. In a normal season, Mr. Underwood believes he would have had a yield of 100,000 bushels.

Four years ago the apple crop in Kansas was a failure. Warm weather in March, followed by freezing weather in April, froze bud and blossom. It was a new experience in Kansas and showed a climatic change. It set the large apple growers to thinking. Mr. Underwood studied the methods of "smudging" or raising a smoke in the orchard that would keep the air in motion, thereby preventing frost.

The "smudge cure" was tried three years ago. Several hundred loads of straw, manure and sand, mixed with tar and oil, were placed on the ground. A reception was planned for Jack Frost and he came. Fires were lighted when the temperature got dangerously low one night. A fine smoke was raised and the crop was saved for the night. But all of the material had been burned. Frost came the next two nights and the crop was destroyed again.

Smudging Was Too Expensive.

Two years ago it was estimated that it would cost so much to haul the refuse and get enough to burn two or three nights, that it was decided to abandon the idea of doing anything to protect the apple crop in the spring. As a consequence frost came and had "easy pickings." Again there was little yield.

Last year the proposition of heating an orchard was attempted. Several hundred of practically all of the different makes of oil heater were bought. Some were too small. The only heating pots at all practical had to be relighted several times during the night. That required about sixty men to work all night. They could not be hired. So Mr. Underwood devised an original idea.

"A 'freeze-out freeze' party was given. Everyone in Hutchinson was interested in the experimenting. So Mr. Underwood invited a large number of business men to spend the night in his orchard. The affair was somewhat of a social event. At least, it started out that way. Men and their wives were taken to the orchard in motor cars. Several hours later these men found themselves hauling pots of oil to keep the fires going. But they realized the necessity and offered their services again when needed.

A Stove That Feeds Itself.

Last summer Mr. Underwood decided that he would have to invent a practical stove or go out of the fruit business. So a stove that could be filled at 10 o'clock at night and would burn until 8 the next morning with even temperature was invented.

The new stove is built on the principle of a poultry watering trough. A reservoir contains ten gallons of oil. This oil is fed to a small pan in which the oil is burned. A vacuum is formed in the reservoir and the proper amount of oil is fed into the pan automatically.

"The first expense of the heater, which will last several years, and the cost of oil and storage tanks for the oil, will be about $12,500," Mr. Underwood said. "I believe I can count safely on having as good a crop as acre as last year which was nearly four hundred bushels to the acre."

"We expect to keep the temperature of three hundred acres above the point of safety, which is about 30 degrees. Sixty heaters will be used to the acre. That will protect the buds in an outside temperature of 18, which is the lowest in the last four years in April."

In this country more than one hundred workmen are killed every day. The number of killed and maimed is 536,000 annually, and the annual number of accidents of all kinds to workmen is two million.

Out of some three hundred and fifty-eight trades recorded in the United States there are only five or six left in which women are not employed; for instance, linemen, sailors, excavators and a few similar occupations.

The law of England requires the employer of every workman injured

The provision of the Rhode Island factory inspection law, which prohibits children under sixteen years of age working in factories, manufacturing or business establishments, unless they can read at sight, and write legibly simple sentences in English went into effect January 1.

The present session of the Massachusetts legislature in all probability will pass a law providing for compensating workmen for injuries received in the course of their employment. A special commission created to investigate the subject, has prepared a tentative draft of a bill.

The order of Railroad Telegraphers will celebrate its twenty-fifth anniversary in June, 1911, and has adopted as a battle cry, "complete and thorough organization." Cash prizes to the amount of more than $2000 will be given away during the year to those who assist in bringing in new members.

The shortest hours of any union workmen in New York City are those of the cisson workers who have just signed an agreement with the employers' association for the year 1911. Three hours a day, with thirty minutes off for luncheon and wages of $5 a day is the stipulation for the men who work under an air pressure of three atmospheres.

OPPOSITION TO PARCEL POST

CONVENTION OF MERCHANTS WILL BE HELD SOON AT NASHVILLE, TENN.

FIGHT IS FOR PROTECTION

The Convention Will Also Discuss Conditions Existing in Express Business.

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 10.—It's a fight for self preservation, the retail dealer in the country, the small town and the city, against the catalogue mail order houses in the large cities of the North and East, this movement which is to culminate in the Convention of Southern Merchants in Nashville, February 28, March 1, 2 and 3, and the merchants all over the South, whether from large city or cross roads, thoroughly understand it as such. The unanimity and enthusiasm with which they have gotten behind the movement is astonishing.

"We think the parcels post bill is a measure gotten up in the interest of the big department stores and will work detriment not only to the smaller merchants of the country, but to the consumer as well." That is the way one of the largest retail houses in Birmingham writes. At Arlington, Ky., a small town, all of the merchants join in a letter in which they say, "All of our merchants will do all they can to protect their interests against parcels post." These are fairly typical expressions from hundreds that have been received by President R. L. Burch and the executive committee within the past week. The Boards of Trade, Chambers of Commerce and the like take exactly the same position. The Secretary of the Jackson, Tenn. Merchants' Association writes: "It is our belief that all our merchants are heartily in accord with the movement on foot," and similar expressions have been received from a number of other trade organizations.

With the exceptional enthusiasm already manifested, it appears certain that the attendance will be larger than was at first anticipated, and it will be probably the most representative gathering of merchants ever held in the South. Aside from devising means to protect their interests on the matter of parcels post and gaining information on a number of subjects of vital interest to merchants everywhere, the meeting will be one of pleasure to the merchants who attend. The business men of Nashville will entertain the visitors lavishly. Nashville and the country immediately surrounding are unique in places of historic and scenic interest, and opportunity will be afforded for visits to these places.

And, while the parcels post question is paramount, it is certain that other matters of great importance will be considered. The convention will no doubt take some active steps to remedy conditions existing in the express business. The fact that the express companies oppose a general parcels post bill and that the Convention of Southern Merchants will take the form of opposition to the same measure does not mean at all that there is any kind of co-operation between the convention and the express companies. In matter of fact, they are not working together at all. The express companies favor a limit-

Is Entrant for the Annual Indoor Track and Field Games.

Boston, Feb. 10.—Kermit Roosevelt, son of the former President, is among the entrants for the annual indoor track and field games of the Boston Athletic Association to be held in Mechanics Building tomorrow night. Young Roosevelt, who is attending Harvard, will compete in the mile run.

The games will attract to this city nearly 1,000 athletes representing all the prominent colleges and most of the leading athletic clubs of the east. Interesting competitions in the various events are assured. The colleges are unusually well represented in the entries for the team races, which are a feature of each year's meet. Harvard, Yale, Cornell, Princeton, Dartmouth, Worcester, Polytechnic, Pennsylvania, Brown, Columbia and a number of other colleges take part. The program provides for two special events in addition to the team races. The special contests, both of which will be scratched events, will consist of the usual forty-yard dash, and the other extreme will be a three-mile run.

LARGER BONDS ARE SUGGESTED

GRAND JURY IN FINAL REPORT SO RECOMMENDS TO THE COURT.

EIGHTEEN BILLS RETURNED

Nine Were for Felonies and Eight Were for Misdemeanors.

The requirement of larger bonds by the justices' court in holding persons charged with felonies to the action of the grand jury was recommended in a report submitted by that body to District Judge Martin this afternoon. The grand jury declared that the bonds in many cases had been set too low and in some instances the bonds had been forfeited.

The grand jury which had been in a called session since Monday made its final report in oral form this afternoon and was discharged for the term. This week nine bills charging felony were returned and 8 charging misdemeanors.

Among the felony indictments were charges of burglary against Harvey Strong, Alvin Delaney, R. Hopkins and Jim Hopkins, in connection with the robbery of a restaurant at Burk Burnett and a farm house on Red River. In making their report the grand jury recommended leniency in these cases.

Wallace Cayet sentenced a few weeks ago to 2 years in the state prison for the theft of a horse and now on trial at Cleburne for assault with intent to murder is charged with forgery in another indictment returned today.

OROZCO REPORTED TO HAVE RETREATED

El Paso, Texas, Feb. 10.—Members of the revolutionary junta state last night that General Orozco, who was reinforced this afternoon by 250 men under General Cassilla, will start south to contest the road to Juarez with the federal general, Navarro who is reported about eighty miles away. This, if it proves true, ends for the time being at least the threats against Juarez. It was Cassilla and not Alariza who spent Tuesday night twelve miles east of here across the river from Yalala, at a village known as Saragoza. It took him until yesterday afternoon to make the junction. He had a brush with the federal Wednesday night but eluded them.

A more serious fight occurred between unidentified forces opposite Fort Hancock, fifty miles east, Wednesday night. Sixty participants were wounded. The reports of the fight came to Fort Bliss from American soldiers guarding the border. Some of the wounded reached the Texas side and were cared for by the Americans.

Plans of the insurgents were a sixes and sevens during the forenoon. The junta was divided as to whether Orozco should remain in this vicinity, nursing a forlorn hope that Blanco would come to his aid, or abandon the campaign and retreat. A member in favor of the rebels stated that Orozco's forces had been purposely announced as larger than was really the case. All told, he said, the insurrecto force has not numbered more than 350 men. This was the real reason that Juarez was not attacked.

Orozco eventually determined to retreat. He was unable to get word for the American side, and despite his long wait, reinforcements had not joined him. Leaving a rear guard of fifty men across the smelter he began to march south.

Crossing the Boundary.

El Paso, Texas, Feb. 10.—Cavalrymen by a special train were rushed from this place to a point twenty-five miles west, where it was reported that a body of armed men were crossing the International boundary.

Federals Were Repulsed.

Mulato, Mexico, Feb. 10.—The insurgents repulsed the federals under General Luque yesterday, when the latter attacked this town, and the Federals lost heavily. The American soldiers, on the opposite side of the river from the fighting were under the fire for five hours, stray bullets and four shells falling in their vicinity. A Mexican boy was wounded while standing beside Captain Williams. Several times the Mexican soldiers deliberately fired volleys at women and children refugees on the Texas side of the river.

At Marfa, Texas, opposite this place, F. S. McComb, an American Scotchman, led the last successful charge of the insurrectos. The federals had three hundred and the rebels two hun-

ATTRACTIONS THIS DATE.

Wichita Theatre—House Dark. The Colonial—The Moredock Sisters, new pictures and illustrated songs. The Ruby—Kershaw and Ivins, new pictures and illustrated songs. The Gem—Change in picture program and new illustrated song.

The Colonial Theatre.

The Moredock Sisters pleased a large audience at the Colonial last evening with their clever dancing act, which is the best attraction of the kind that has been presented to a Wichita Falls audience for some time. The work of Little Miss Elizabeth Moredock as the dancing doll is especially well received and worthy so, as it is remarkably clever for one of her age. The sisters will be the attraction again tonight in an entirely new program.

The pictures last night were good and Mr. Taylor sang his usual good form, "I Am a Married Man."

The Ruby Theatre.

Kershaw and Ivins in the comical Scotch Kids, is one of the best attractions yet offered by Manager Smith and will attract a large crowd tonight, as they did on last evening. The act is entirely different from the usual vaudeville attraction and has proven a prominent feature wherever presented. They will appear tonight in a new program.

An illustrated song by Mr. McKane was also well received last night and the two pictures were especially good.

Program at the Gem.

The picture program at the Gem last night was far above the average and one of the best seen in the city for some time. It consisted of three reels, one of which will be reproduced today and tonight, with two new pictures.

Mr. Gilman sang, "I'm Awfully Strong for You" in that pleasing manner that always characterizes his work, and today and tonight his selection will be "Gee, But I'm Glad I'm Single."

The Gem Theatre expects to present "Uncle Tom's Cabin" as special feature for Monday. This picture play consists of three reels and can only be secured by special release and at much extra expense, however, no advance charge will be made in the admission price.

A Good Test.

Perhaps the best test of merit of any amusement enterprise is the success it has achieved. Perce R. Benton's comedians are now in their tenth season and are playing to packed houses everywhere and pleasing the most critical. Mr. Benton has a capable company; good plays all well mounted; good vaudeville between acts so it would seem there is nothing left undone to give a good evening's performance. This company will be at the Ruby Theatre all next week, starting Monday, Feb. 13.

Beverly Coming.

Clean and wholesome, brimming over with love, laughter and excitement, is the dramatization of George Barr McCutcheon's famous novel "Beverly," which will appear at the Wichita Theatre on Monday, Feb. 13, for one night only.

Contrary to the usual method, Robt. H. Baker, the playwright, in adapting this popular novel for the stage, has followed the lines of the book very closely and every dramatic situation in the book is taken advantage of in the play.

"Beverly" was staged for the first time last spring, when it ran for eight weeks at the Studebaker Theatre, Chicago, playing to capacity houses during the entire engagement. For the benefit of those who have not read the story of "Beverly," it is enough to say that it is that of a natural, clean-cut American girl, Beverly Calhoun of Washington, D. C., who meets with a series of remarkable adventures while on a visit to a mythical principality located in the eastern part of Europe—one of the Balkan states. She is accompanied only by her servant, Aunt Fanny, a typical old Southern mammy; is deserted in the mountains by her escort and mistaken for a band of mountaineers for the ruling Princess of the principality of Graustark; falls in love with the leader of the band, who later turns out to be the exiled Prince Dantam of an adjoining principality; and after many exciting adventures is wooed and won by the Prince.

Mr. and Mrs. Kerr left Bowie immediately for Fort Worth and were entertained there by former Oklahoma newspaper men now on the staff of the Record. They will return to Oklahoma City the latter part of the week and on Monday night, Governor Bruce and his office force will entertain the newlyweds with a dinner party at the Lee-Huckins, which will be followed by a box party at the Overholser.

DECLARE TOO MANY DIE NEEDLESSLY

Birth Rate is Increasing But Life Waste is Very Enormous. From an Exchange.

A timely and telling compilation has been prepared by E. H. Rittenhouse of New York, devoted to "American Life Waste," showing how and where it is increasing. In the United States, it is estimated that there are more than six hundred thousand deaths a year that are due to preventable causes. On the whole, it is to be noted that in this country there is in progress a satisfactory decline in the general death rate, which now averages, for the registration area, about fifteen per thousand inhabitants. This is a decline of nearly one-quarter since 1850, but should not be overrated in its importance.

The statistics available show that the decline in the death rate has occurred chiefly in diseases of children and early adult life, and comes largely from decreases in tuberculosis, diphtheria and other diseases of the communicable class and the ailments of children. This, argues Mr. Rittenhouse, whose interest in the matter comes in that he is president of the Provident Savings Life Assurance Company and desirous of making the chances of living better, is due to the fact that the advances in the knowledge of disease and the education of the public have been largely in the contagious diseases. But among the diseases of adults against which no warfare has been waged, it is not only very high, but in most instances is on the increase. For some of these increases the modern strenuous life is responsible, the greater segregation of people in crowded cities and the unwholesome conditions that attend this congested life.

Some of the tables that are presented by Mr. Rittenhouse are of educational value. The general death rate in the registration area of the United States since 1850 has decreased 18 per cent in the age period below 20 years, 12 per cent in the period between 20 and 30 and 23 per cent between 30 and 40, while in later life there has been an increase in all of the periods, that from 50 to 60 showing 29 per cent and above 60, 24 per cent. It is not quite true that what has been saved in infant mortality has been lost in the adults, for there has been on the whole a gain; but the statement makes it evident that having well under way a campaign to save the babies, the adults should now give thought to saving themselves. In answer to the question, "What is being done to check this loss of National vitality?" Mr. Rittenhouse sets forth the indifference of Congress, the slight consideration paid to man as an asset as compared with the hog, and the attention paid to remote dangers like Asiatic cholera and yellow fever, and indifference toward the vital home questions.

J. M. Barrie has written a new play for Maude Adams, called "Youth," in which she will probably appear in London.

Edward Sheldon's play, "The Boss," with Hollbrook Blinn in the stellar role, was produced in Detroit for the first time.

Montrose J. Moses, a young historian of the American stage, who has done useful work, was recently married to Miss Lucille Hearn, an actress.

Frank McIntyre, the genial hero of "The Traveling Salesman," is to appear later in the season in "The Snobs," by George Bronson Howard.

Julius Steger will shortly leave vaudeville and begin rehearsals in a new work in which he will soon start under the management of Klaw & Erlanger.

Mrs. Pauline Duffield, who plays Mrs. Graham in "The Commuters," was a member of the cast in the original production of "Michael Strogoff."

William Mizner, one of the authors of "The Deep Purple," will play entitled "Gordon Laycock, Killer," in which Emmett Corrigan will star.

Preston Gibson has been at work for a year on a new drama founded on the life of Lola Montez. It is expected that the play will be produced in the fall.

Margaret Mayo and her husband, Edgar Selwyn, are to go to London to supervise the production in the English capital of the former's play, "Baby Mine."

There is a persistent report that George C. Tyler, who is the moving spirit of the Liebler Co., is to be placed in executive charge of the New Theatre, New York.

Stuart Robson, Jr., will have a prominent part in the cast of "Maggie Pepper," when Miss Rose Stahl goes on tour with the new play from the pen of Charles Klein.

It is said that the New Theatre will soon confer another gold medal, the prospective recipient being Miss Ada Rehan. Thus far only Dr. Furness and Miss Terry have been honored.

Mme. Fritzi Scheff has begun rehearsals of "Rossini," a new opera for which Victor Herbert has written the music and Miss Katherine Stewart and Joseph Herbert the libretto. The scenes are laid in Paris.

In the spring Mr. Beverham will appear in London, where he began his career years ago, but where he has not acted since he was a lad. He will appear there in "The Pawn," in which

ALBANY DEADLOCK NOT EVEN DENTED

The Democratic Conference in New York Contest Avails Nothing.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 9.—The conference of Democrats today failed to put even a dent in the deadlock over the election of a United States senator. Regulars and insurgents for more than two hours in secret session dissected the problem from their respective viewpoints offering all sorts of opinions and suggestions, and then went into the assembly and voted just as they have done for weeks.

With hopes of an immediate break in the deadlock, talk of a compromise candidate was resumed tonight with Alton B. Parker's name looming prominently in the foreground. Report had it that Governor Dix was favorably disposed toward Judge Parker's candidacy. Judge Parker was in Albany today, but pleaded lack of knowledge of the situation.

The insurgents heard reports to the effect that Leader Murphy is considering Judge Gerard and Daniel F. Cohalan of New York as compromise candidates.

The nineteenth joint ballot resulted as follows: Democrats—Sheehan 86, Shepard 10, Kerns 9, Lynn 3, Littleton 3, O'Brien 3, Parker, Sulzer and Taylor one each.

Republicans—Lepew 30. Total vote cast, 136. Necessary to choose 99.

During the conference several insurgents declared in speeches that the only possibility of agreement was the withdrawal of William F. Sheehan. The organization speakers, including Senator Thomas F. Grady and Dr. Bush, the latter the nominator of Mr. Sheehan in the caucus, took the position that the majority must rule and declared that the withdrawal of Mr. Sheehan could not be considered.

STRONGER FRAMES FOR AEROPLANES

Such is the Problem That Presents Itself to the Navy Department.

Washington, Feb. 9.—A new problem in the advancement of the utility of the aeroplane as an adjunct to the navy in warfare has revealed itself to naval officers who studied the circumstances of Aviator McCurdy's attempted flight from Key West to Havana.

When the aviator was obliged to descend and alighted on the water, his aeroplane being sustained on the surface by pontoons, it was a simple matter for the boats from the torpedo destroyer to pick him up. But, when attempt was made to raise the machinery from the water to the deck, difficulties were encountered which resulted in badly battering the machine. It followed that the machine was rendered useless, and it was impossible for the aviator to resume his flight from the deck. Had the machine been brought aboard uninjured, this would have been quite feasible, as a platform had been constructed on the deck of the Paulding for this very purpose.

Navy officers consider that unless aeroplanes can be raised from water to deck without damages, their usefulness will be cut in half. Consequently, attention is now being given to the devising of some means to accomplish this end.

The experience with McCurdy's machine, which has a bamboo frame, is taken as an argument for the construction of aeroplanes with all-metal framework. As part of the frame, it is also believed there should be a mast or post, extending vertically through the center of the machine, with a ring into which lifting tackle could be hooked. Then, there would be no danger of the machine breaking of its own weight.

WEATHERFORD MAN DROWNS IN HARBOR

Puerto Cortez, Honduras, Feb. 8, via New Orleans.—Two Americans were drowned this morning when a gasoline explosion aboard the forty-foot launch Dixie, formerly the flagship of General Lee Christmas, revolutionary elader, destroyed the vessel two miles off Puerto Cortez point.

The victims were C. M. Sisk of Weatherford, Texas, and H. Kriedler, address unknown. The engineer and a deck hand, both Hondurans, were badly burned, but swam ashore. Kriedler was a poor swimmer, sinking near the Dixie, insisting that the others leave him alone and exclaiming, as he sank: "I lived like a man and I die like a man."

The Dixie was the property of Ira Reynolds, a wealthy American dentist living at Ceiba. The vessel had been confiscated by General Christmas at the beginning of hostilities against the Davis government and pressed into service along the coast. The owner had sent a crew after the vessel and the men were on the way back to Ceiba when the explosion took place. Sisk was drowned only a short distance from the beach, being exhausted by his two-mile battle against the waves.

To Texas Prohibitionists.

It is highly important that county organizations be perfected on Saturday, February 25, in accordance with the call of our State Committee. At these county mass meetings, count and precinct chairmen should be chosen and their names sent me at once. Every county should have a list of officials, as through them State Headquarters will work directly in the matter of organization, distribution of literature, sending out speakers and getting out a full prohibitive vote in July. Let prohibitionists in every county and precinct actively interest themselves.

Precincts should either hold meetings before the 25th of February or be sure to have representatives at the county meetings on that date to aid in organization.

We will win our fight and drive the saloons from Texas in July next if prohibitionists do their duty individually and collectively. The forces which stand for the open saloon, no matter upon what grounds they base their action, are thoroughly organized. To win we must have our forces organized and marshalled to meet them.

CONSIDER THE ANTI-PASS LAW

NUMEROUS AMENDMENTS WERE OFFERED TO BILL IN THE HOUSE.

NOW GOES TO THE SENATE

Measure Will Probably Be Pruned Considerably in That Body.

Austin, Tex., Feb. 10.—As soon as the Martin bill, seeking to force newspapers to publish lists of their stockholders had been cleared out of the house, yesterday attended to a few resolutions and then took up the amendments to the anti-pass law. Almost before the bill had been read, a dozen members were on their feet with amendments. To an innocent bystander it appears that a majority of the members of the house would be in favor of the repeal of the entire bill were it not that they fear the political results which might follow. In the absence of such action, they contented themselves with amending the law so as to exempt a large number of people to accept favors of the railroads. If all the amendments written had been adopted, the law would have been applicable to few people besides supreme judges and members of the legislature.

As it is, by the time the bill went to engrossment, it had provided exemptions from the anti-pass provisions to the following:

Any peace officer drawing a regular salary who has served for at least one month.

The state dairy and food commissioner and two deputies.

United States marshals and two deputies of each.

Representatives of industrial fairs, county health officers.

Members of the state militia in uniform and when called into service.

Delegates to farmers' unions and farmers' congresses.

Furloughed, pensioned and superannuated employees of roads.

POWER IS WITH COUNTY JUDGE

IN THAT OFFICE ALONE RESTS JURISDICTION IN SALOON CASES.

DECISION IS SWEEPING

Will Appeals Court Says There is No Appeal When License is Revoked.

San Antonio, Feb. 10.—All power to grant or revoke liquor licenses lodges in the hands of the county judge, and there is no remedy by appeal from his decision, according to an opinion handed down by the Fourth Court of Civil Appeals which, for the first time in Texas, construes the Robertson liquor law and thus establishes a precedent for the State of Texas. It is the first authoritative decision bearing on the subject which has been handed down by a higher court.

The opinion, which is by Justice H. Nell, comes in the case of the State of Texas vs. Blas Hernandez, of this county. The higher court not only declines to take jurisdiction and dismiss the appeal, but also specifically declares that the court of civil appeals has no authority in the matter, asserting that the statute itself places the power in the hands of the county judge. A decision of such sweeping character regarding the liquor traffic has possibly never before been handed down by a court of review.

Hernandez, who conducted a saloon at 302 South Santa Rosa avenue, was accused of having sold liquor on March 14, 1910. On April 2, after hearing the evidence, County Judge Bill Shook cancelled the license, and under that provision of the liquor statute granting him the power. The defendant, represented by City Attorney Joseph Ryan and Harry E. Verner, moved to appeal. Carlos Be...

representing the Retail Liquor Dealers' Association, filed a brief with the appellate court, asking the dismissal of the appeal on the ground that the higher court was without jurisdiction.

The view of the appellate court was that it had no jurisdiction.

After quoting section 8 of the law passed by the Thirty-First Legislature, the opinion continues:

"The county court has exclusive jurisdiction in all civil cases where the matter in controversy shall exceed the sum of $200 and not exceed $500. It cannot be said that the license revoked by the order appealed from was of such value as would form the basis of a civil case within the jurisdiction of the county court. A license to sell intoxicating liquors is neither a contract nor a property right, but a mere permit to do what otherwise would be unlawful. It has none of the elements of property and confers none with the contemplation of the constitution; provisions that 'no person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law,' there being no vested right in a license which the state may take away when the interest of the public may demand it."

A dozen or more decisions bearing on this phase are quoted, and their substance is as follows:

"Besides, we are of the opinion that the proceedings in which the order cancelling the license was made were not judicial, but administrative in their nature, the intention of the legislature being to vest the administration of the law regarding forfeiture of a liquor dealer's license in the county judge himself rather than in the county court; and that such authority was specially conferred on him without giving any court authority to review his action in the matter. It would be a gross usurpation of authority for this court to undertake to call in question any step taken by him in the proceedings culminating in the order from which Mr. Hernandez has attempted an appeal."

The opinion concludes that if a liquor dealer be illegally deprived of his license, his remedy, if he has one, is not by appeal. There is, however, a remedy, covering what the reviewer is.

LENT WILL BEGIN ON MARCH 1ST

Ash Wednesday, Marks The Opening of Fasting Season for Catholics.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 10.—Lent begins on March 1 this year. Many of the priests in charge of Roman Catholic dioceses in the city are asking their parishioners to observe the rules of the church for Lent.

How Ash Wednesday and the Lenten season are reckoned seems to be a mystery to many people, the Rev. James D. Fowler, pastor of the Holy Name Church, Benton Boulevard and Twenty-Second Street, said last night.

Lent always is reckoned from Easter Sunday but to many people this is equally mysterious.

Easter Sunday always is the first Sunday after the first full moon after the spring equinox, March 21. If the full moon is on Sunday, Easter is the Sunday following. Easter comes April 16 this year.

Lent always is forty days before Easter. There usually are six Sundays intervening, but they are not counted in the forty days. This makes Lent always begin on Ash Wednesday. It always is preceded by Shrove Tuesday, which is the last day before Lent.

The Rev. Michael P. Dowling, pastor of the St. Aloysius Church, Prospect Avenue and Eleventh Street, told that the Catholic Church required of its members as the proper observance of Lent.

Lent is the Christian season of observing the forty days fast of our savior in the wilderness, and consequently, the church expects its members at least in a small way to follow the example of the Christ, he said.

All dances and other forms of amusement are forbidden. On Wednesdays and Fridays the members eat no flesh of animals and on all other days in Lent flesh is eaten only once a day.

Eggs and fish can be eaten at any time and to any extent. Some aged or infirm persons are exempt.

The Episcopal Church observes Lent but does not dictate any certain method, the Rev. Dr. Julius A. Schaad, pastor of Grace Church, 415 West Thirteenth Street, said. "We have had rather to the mood and temperament of the person. The rules say: The church orders such a measure of abstinence as is more especially adapted to the extraordinary acts and exercises of devotion. That means that there are to be no formal parties, but the church places no ban on the more innocent amusements. It is left, in fact, to the dictates of the person."

LITTLE STORIES

The Meanest Woman,
A dressmaker entered the free legal aid bureau, and walking to the desk of Edward Fleming, the attorney in charge, held up to his astonished gaze a waist.

"How much is it worth to make a waist like that," she asked, tearfully.
"Well—ah—well, that's a little out of my line," Mr. Fleming replied.
"I'm sure I don't know. Why—?"

"You see it's this way," the dressmaker explained. "I was to make this waist for $4; then Mrs. B.
well she said she wanted another one, a simple one, and I said I would make them both for $5. She gave me the money to buy the goods, I had to visit three stores before I found what I wanted, and I had to eat my lunch down town, too. I wasted fifteen minutes going to and from the stores, and then worked nearly three days making the waists.

"Then when I got it nearly done
she said she only wanted one waist and would pay me only $2.50 for making this one. I've worked, oh, so hard. Don't you think I ought to get the $4? Won't you make her pay me that much?"

Mr. Fleming didn't know, because he didn't know dress making. If the woman of Kansas City can convince him that $4 is a fair price for such work, he—well, the legal aid bureau is going to take up the case and obtain payment for the waistmaker.—

Usage.
An indignant Briton lifts his voice in protest against the substitution—in England, we assume—of the words "smoke room" for smoking room. We do not, he argues analogically, speak of a "dine room" or a "read room," why, then, "smoke room" such linguistic conundrums are hard to answer, and can be multiplied indefinitely. Why, for instance, do we have our "photographs" taken, but send "telegrams"? As was said long ago in France, when the dictionary of the Academy was started.

C'est Monsieur l'Usage.
Qui fait de langage.
—New York Tribune.

Natural Trend of Thought.
Voice Over the Telephone. What have you got on for this afternoon, Emeline?
Emeline: Why, my blue foulard, with the passementerie waist and my black beaver with the ostrich plume.

Voice Over the Telephone: Oh I don't mean clothes—I mean what are you going to do?
Emeline: Oh, nothing!—Judge.

Accident Rehearsal.
Passengers boarding the 8:40 Lackawanna train from Hoboken to Montclair were startled to see in one coach a score of young women bandaging and unbandaging arms and fingers.

THE FRIBERG HUNT.
(Written by Cedric Hamlin, 11 Years.)
Hitch up the horse and away we go.
Out for a nice little hunt.
We will have lots of fun and joy,
And I can hear father say, "Have your gun ready, my boy."
Now all is ready and away we go,
Just as if we were off to a show.
Now we are there and for the hunt we are ready.

When you shoot a gun you must hold it steady.
Always be ready to shoot a bird,
But never shoot into a cattle herd.
The morning is over and to dinner we go.
Oh, such a dinner Mrs. Friberg did show.

Dinner is over and we must travel,
Over dirt, sand, stones and gravel.
We hunt a little more and at last come to the river shore.
Coming home was the most fun of all Compared with the other men I was very small.

When we reached home mother was overwhelmed with joy
And glad to see back the father and boy.

ALL THE WRITING ALWAYS IN SIGHT

(The biggest order ever placed by any firm or corporation for typewriters for their own use) because their own mechanical experts, sitting as a jury, said it was unquestionably the best.

They examined all competing makes, tested them under every condition of stress and strain, and voted unanimously in favor of the L. C. Smith & Bros. The DuPonts
thus rendered you an invaluable service. Lacking mechanical experts of your own you can safely rely upon the decision of these firm engineers at the height of their calling, who were willing to stake their professional reputation on the L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter.
Many large concerns have already been guided by this expert opinion and have standardized, as the DuPonts did, with the typewriter that stood the test. There could be no test more thorough, or more unbiased decisions.

The commuters supposed the train

BIG COTTON DEAL

MADE AT SEYMOUR

Seymour, Texas, Feb. 10.—C. F. Lakey has bought for King Cotton Company, 1915 bales of cotton from Peter Loran of Rhine and. Total consideration about $140,000. So far as we know this is the largest cotton deal ever transacted in Western Texas. Mr. Loran is putting in 6,000 acres of new land at Rhineland for J. C. Teague of Galveston. Of this 1100 acres is now in wheat and the balance will be in cotton and Mr. Loran hopes to make bigger deals this year. He is running four steam plows breaking the land.

Mr. Lakey has recently returned from Dallas. His firm is so well pleased with his work here that they have sent him back with an increase in salary. He has been very successful as a buyer and is a distinct advantage to Seymour. He has been here for several years and has built up a trade that has made him well known over this whole section of the state. The above deal is not the only large one made in Seymour the past season. Mr. Lakey made one previously that called for a draft of $73,000. R. O. Harvey for Blocker-Miller Company made one that netted about $80,000, and W. J. Scudder sold at one time for the Farmers Union Supply Company $60,000 worth. Whatever else this section of the country may be it is a cotton country all right and we just as well make the most of it. Cotton is still king.

The universe is chasing itself away into the distant hence, according to Mount Wilson astronomers, but we are assured there is little danger that it will bump into the walls of space—for which let us be thankful.—Los Angeles Express.

PRIZES FOR BOY CORN GROWERS

In cash but may be articles such as would please a boy on the farm.

The age limits in the contest are ten and twenty years.

In addition to these prizes those who enter the contest will also be eligible to compete for the $10,000 offered by the Texas Industrial Congress. These prizes are as follows:

For the best yields from 10 acres of corn and 10 acres of cotton grown in 1911, without irrigation, on one farm and under one management: first prize, $2,500; second prize, $1,500; third prize, $750; fourth prize, $500; fifth prize, $250; ten prizes of $100 each for the ten next best results.

For boys and girls not over twenty years of age on January 1, 1911, for best yields of 2 acres of corn and 2 acres of cotton, a first prize of $1,000, a second prize of $750, a third prize of $500, a fourth prize of $250, and ten prizes of $100 each for the ten next best results.

Each contestant must raise both corn and cotton, no contestant can enter after April 1, 1911; full and regular reports must be made to the Congress on the 1st of each month; each contestant must so describe the location of his land that an inspector can easily find it; a careful record must be kept of how the crop is raised, how it is cultivated and how often, what fertilizers, if any, are used, etc.; boys and girls not over 20 years of age on January 1, 1911, may try for the prizes offered for 20 acres of corn and 2 acres of cotton, or for 4 acres, or for both; men and women may compete for the 20 acre prizes only; the corn must be grown on a single plot of ground containing either two or ten acres, as the case may be, and the cotton must also be grown on a single plot containing either two or ten acres, but the two crops may be grown on separate tracts, each containing two or ten acres, or they may be grown on one tract containing either four or twenty acres; both must be on the same farm, however, and under the management or control of the same person; every contestant must agree not to appeal from the decision of the Committee on Awards, but to accept its judgment in every case as final.

EXPERIENCE

We've had it in hunks in the drug store all the way from falling through the plate glass front while puffing the Chamois there to burning the frisky signatures of the firm into orders for prepaid shipments of stuff that to give a dollar package with a ten cent purchase would have been considered a joke by the customer, we have bought enough gold bricks to build the Galveston sea wall and one time could pull more commercial badgers in a given time than any amateur in the State. We stand between the doctor and the undertaker eighteen hours a day. Get your mind on us.
