The Fat Gold Fish—
Rich Optimists—
Why Marriage—

By H. N. F.

ROSCOE ARBUCKLE WAS ACquitted by a jury of his peers, including four women. This was his third trial. He was not only acquitted but the jury in a statement issued to the public exonerated him when they gave him a clean bill of health. There was no direct evidence against Arbuckle. There was no chain of circumstances that would have justified a conviction of the murder of the movie actress. Arbuckle is a huge mountain of flesh. He measures heavy below the chin. His mentality is of a low grade and his ideals are those of the street. He made a good picture. He was kicked from the alley into the public gallery. Fortune came to him and his highest ambition was to use the money in having what he called "a good time." He is a splendid type of the fat boy in one of Dickens' immortal stories. His idea of a good time was to display himself in flashy garments, to give drinking bouts and to provide wine and wassal for his boon companions of both sexes. Had he remained poor in pocket perhaps he would have remained harmless. He did not invite the women to his San Francisco hotel party. They came without invitation. They knew that the buffet would be covered with bottles and glasses and they forced their society upon the poor fat boob who was best known to the people as "The Life of the Party," the title of one of his own pictures. He had a fortune. The lawyers and others who conducted his defense have trimmed him to the bone. He isn't the life of the party now. Will he come back? Why shouldn't he come back? His wife returned to him after a separation of five long years. She believed in him and fought for him. He says he is going with her all the way. He says he is through with intoxicants forever. A jury of men and women not only acquitted but vindicated him. If he behaves himself why shouldn't he come back? Isn't there a chance for repentance at the eleventh hour and there are thousands of Americans who are of the opinion that Arbuckle was more sinned against than sinning, that the parasites who flocked about him and on whom he wasted his substance were a sorry lot at best. It is a mistake to say that nobody loves a fat man. When Arbuckle had vast wealth the gold diggers of both sexes were at his beck and call. They sandpapered the fat gold fish of his scales and now he will have to dig to make the scales grow again. He has been given his lesson. Only a fool makes the same mistake the second time.

AND NOW ALL THE PRESS associations are carrying a story that John D. Rockefeller Sr., is an optimist. Why shouldn't he be? He is worth a billion two hundred million dollars; all his friends permit him to beat them on the links; he has given away four hundred million dollars; his appetite is hearty and his digestive apparatus works like a corliss engine. All the financiers of the world cowtow to him; a vast majority of the holy men of the world pronounce him a saint. Now why shouldn't John D. be optimistic?

SELECTION OF WICHITA NOW UP TO VETERANS

Big Appropriation Bill Passed by Senate Vote

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The bill authorizing an additional appropriation of $17,000,000 for hospital facilities for disabled former service men was passed unanimously today by the senate and now goes to President Harding for final approval.

SENATE ACTION GUARANTEES HOSPITALS.

The appropriation which is now assured, as the building of the hospitals was recommended by President Harding in an early message to congress following his election, brings the expectation that one of the hospitals will be located here, closer to realization.

Wichita's Offer.

Wichita's bid for the hospital is based on its railroad facilities and the fact that construction of the institution here would centrally locate it for the southwest. Climatic conditions and an offer of 200 acres of land as the site also are expected to have a great deal to do with final decision of the veterans bureau as to the location.

A number of hospitals are provided under the appropriation. Should Wichita Falls be selected for the site, disabled veterans from the entire southwest would be drawn to the institution.

Additional support to the belief that Wichita Falls will be selected by the veterans bureau was forthcoming upon the return of Hubert Harrison, general manager of the chamber of commerce, from Washington Friday. He said that despite the death of the late Congressman Lucien Parrish, the city's chances have not been dimmed. Other congressmen gave Mr. Harrison assurance that nothing would be left undone to push the selection of Wichita Falls and that they would take up the campaign where Congressman Parrish left it.

Jim Chee's View Of Catsup Bottle Bawls Up Court

"Plink, he slay slow lup hands."

That was the clearest testimony which City Attorney Mann could elicit yesterday in police court from Jim Chee, Chinaman, who figured in the battle of soup bowls, salt cellars and catsup bottles in a fight staged at the Majestic cafe on Ohio avenue Thursday night.

Officers who arrived on the scene shortly after the fight had subsided placed both the Chinaman and A. P. ("Pink") Rhodes, jitneur, under arrest in connection with the difficulty. However, both were released, the court being unable to find from either side who had provoked the argument, or who was implicated in the miniature war.

The Chinaman, testifying in an excited manner, attempted to describe how the salt cellars and catsup bottles had sailed through the air, resulting in no casualties other than a broken window, but the court gave up in the end and dismissed the case.

MAN LOSES LIFE IN BIG OIL TANK FIRE

By Associated Press.

WHITING, Ind., April 14.—One man was killed, three others injured and a battery of ten oil stills of the Standard Oil company burned when an explosion in a single still started a fire early today which for several hours was beyond control. 'YOU'RE HANGING INNOCENT MAN,' SAYS HORNSBY

He Pays Extreme Penalty in Bell Co. Jail

By Associated Press.

BELTON, Texas, April 14.—George F. Hornsby, 28, paid the extreme penalty on the scaffold here at 2:12 o'clock this afternoon for the murder of J. N. Weatherby, prominent automobile dealer, at Brownwood last year.

Hornsby made a speech on the scaffold in which he reiterated his innocence and said he had made peace with his maker, and advised if any were present who had not done so, to do it at once. His body was taken to Temple for burial. Hornsby thanked the officers and people of Bell county for their kindness to him.

The Hornsby case was transferred to Bell county and created much interest when called for trial in the district court here.

Counsel Appointed

Hornsby was without money with which to employ counsel for his defense. Attorney Sam D. Snodgrass of Temple was appointed by the court to defend him.

The jury found him guilty and assessed his penalty at death. Appeal from this verdict was taken, but the higher court found no error and the case was affirmed.

Petitions bearing over 7,000 names, asking the governor to commute the death sentence to life imprisonment were presented to the executive.

Neff Takes Hand

While these were under consideration by the governor, Willie Carter, 16-year-old boy, who turned states evidence against Hornsby, made a sworn statement that his testimony at the trial was false and exonerated Hornsby, implicating himself and another man with the murder. Following this Carter was arrested and taken to Brownwood, where, under the charge of murder, he repudiated the statement made at Temple, and said his testimony as given at the trial was true. Later Carter was taken to Austin, where he was interviewed personally by Governor Neff and after reviewing the case, the governor refused to interfere with the verdict.

Few Present

Only a few persons were here in hope of witnessing the hanging, which took place privately in the county jail. A number of deputy sheriffs had been sworn in and several state rangers were here to keep order, but their aid was unnecessary as everything was quiet and orderly.

Mrs. Bennett Smith of Temple, who had taken a leading part in efforts to have Hornsby's sentence commuted to life, recently told Hornsby she would stand on the scaffold if he desired. He simply replied "thank you." Mrs. Smith was not on the scaffold.

Hornsby is the first white man to be hanged legally in Bell county in nearly 50 years.

Sheriff Weeps.

Just before he went to the gallows, Hornsby wrote two letters, sealed them, and handed them to a deputy sheriff, requesting that they not be opened until he was pronounced dead.

One, addressed to Deputy Sheriff Vanney, read: "I am an innocent man, so help me God to tell the truth."

The other was addressed to Mrs. H. B. Lee of Austin, Tex., and read: "In answer to your request, I am innocent man, so help me God."

Sheriff Albert Bonds who sprang the trap, sending the doomed man into eternity, left the scaffold with tears streaming down his cheeks.

The petition also asks that the fee allowed the attorney representing Mrs. Perona be set aside.

KU KLUX TOLD TO DISORGANIZE BY GRAND JURY

'Secret Organization' Declared Dangerous to Community

By Associated Press.

HOUSTON, Texas, April 14.—Asserting its belief that the Ku Klux Klan and any similar organization in this country should disband 'in the public interest," the Harris county grand jury Friday afternoon at 1:30 p. m. filed with Judge W. C. Robinson, in criminal district criminal court a report dealing with the so-called "white capping" letter sent to a Harris county man ten days ago.

Declared Dangerous.

The letter alluded to was printed in a local newspaper. The report discussed the origin of the Ku Klux Klan and another "secret organization" in this county, diseases "dangerous" from such organizations, makes the plea for disbanding and declares that a thorough investigation has been started.

Judge Robinson received the report without comment and ordered the clerk to file.

It was indicated by the language used in the report that the grand jury will continue its investigations.

The letter makes the predictions: "And if they do not, and continue their activities, even without direct action, the time is not far distant when our citizens power will be confronted with a series of deplorable tragedies."

The report of the investigating body was made following a special charge given to the grand jury to investigate the sending of a letter, apparently on stationery of the Ku Klux Klan to a young Harris county man.

Montgomery Makes Charges Against Officials

Harry Mason, mayor of Vernon, and all members of the city council of that city are made defendants in a suit filed in federal court here Friday by R. E. Montgomery owner of property there but a resident of Canada.

Mr. Montgomery, as the general manager of the Panhadle Townsite Co., established most of the towns along the Fort Worth & Denver railroad in Northwest Texas—both Wichita Falls and Vernon being among them. He laid out and opened up Wichita Falls in 1882, and Vernon soon after, when the rails reached that point. He retains property to this day in several of the towns, including Wichita Falls.

PITCHER CLANCY RELEASED TO WICHITA FALLS BY INDIANAPOLIS CLUB, AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 14.—The Indianapolis American association announced tonight the release of James Clancy, pitcher, to the Wichita Falls club of the Texas league. Clancy was picked up by the New York Nationals when he was at Swarthmore college and was turned over to Indianapolis.

Spudder bosses have been angling after the services of young Clancy, whose work with the Indianapolis club this spring has attracted remark, for several weeks. Feeling that this classy young southpaw would add a lot of strength to the Spudder twirling staff, negotiations were first opened with Jack Hendricks, who wanted Babe Ruth, of the local staff, for a cash transaction. It then developed that the youngster belonged to McGraw. Negotiations were opened with McGraw at once, but came to nothing. A day or two ago the matter was reopened by the New York management, but the locals could not see the price demanded. Final terms were wired by R. O. Harvey, president of the local club, Thursday, but no answer was received and the Spudders began to look elsewhere until press dispatches Friday night brought the news that Clancy was coming to Wichita Falls.

ARMY AND NAVY FIGHT CONTINUES

Much Opposition to Cuts Develop

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—President Harding in his first public utterance on the 1923 naval bill, declared in a letter presented today to the House that while the decision must lie with congress he would be greatly disappointed, as he believed the country would be, if the enlisted force was cut below 86,000.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The question of military preparedness arose in the senate appropriation committee during its consideration today, of the army appropriation bill. Discussion of the subject was brief, but senators said the question of a national policy had grown out of the fight over the House reduction in the size of the army.

Major General J. G. Harbord, deputy chief of staff, and Brigadier General Lassiter, in charge of military operations, and training, appeared before the committee to present the war department's views on the subject of the house cut, the former insisting that the organization was strained to the breaking point now under the forced reduction of a year ago, and the latter describing the plan adopted by the department for "building up at low expense," the forces required in a national emergency.

"If provision is not made for 150,000 men" said Harbord, "then we who are charged with operation and maintenance of the work must ask congress to re-state for us the mission of the army."

AGENCIES ALERT TO COPE WITH ANY EMERGENCY

Officials Confident Levees Will Not Give Way

By Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, April 14.—With the crest of the Mississippi within a few inches of the top of the levee here and a forecast by the weather bureau indicating that an additional rise of 1.3 feet is probable before the end of the month every flood protective agency in the city was reported on the alert tonight to cope with any emergency.

Government engineers in charge of the levees, official of the dock board and rivermen declared there was nothing threatening in the lower reaches of the river. Especially was this true, they said, with regard to New Orleans where the levees gradually slope back for hundreds of feet.

Today's forecast that a stage of 22.6 feet, six-tenths of a foot higher than the previous high record established in 1916 would be reached here, caused no apprehension among levee officials, who insisted the levees could stand even a greater strain. Reports from Plaquemine, La., where a newly construction section of levee had showed signs of weakening, were to the effect that the engineers had won their fight there and no further trouble was expected.

The lower sections of Arkansas City, Ark., were reported flooded today to a depth of several feet. The business section of the city however, was above the back water.

ST. LOUIS WATER FRONT ENDANGERED.

NEW YORK, April 14.—There is really a ghost in Antigonish, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle declared today.

Then he elaborated on the report made by a psychic research expert after investigation queer doing at the home of Alex McDonald, in Caledonia Mills, Antigonish county, Nova Scotia.

The phychic research expert, Dr. Prince, reported that the disturbances in McDonald's home were cauted by Mary Ellen, his adopted daughter "During altered states of consciousness."

Mary Ellen was not the ghost, but the medium of the ghost which probably was that, Sir Arthur believes, of some naughty boy whom not even death could cure of his mischievousness.

CRACKSMEN USE 'STENO' AS TOOL

Member of Gang Confesses

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 14.—A story of a gang of safe blowers, working with the aid of a girl stenographer used as a scout, today was obtained by detectives investigating last night's raid on the Royal Insurance company building at 84 William street, in which nearly $75,000 worth of cash and securities were taken from a number of offices.

The police claimed to have obtained the story from George Breckenridge, who was bound and gagged. According to detectives, Brekenridge confessed to being a party to the robberies, although he professed not to know the names of any of the robbers.

The police asserted that Brekenridge unfolded a plot for systematic robbing of large office buildings in which the girl, a sweetheart of one of the band, played an important role.

By Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—The defense of Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle, in three manslaughter trials, in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, cost more than $110,000 including attorney's fees, it was learned today. No fees have been received by defense attorneys as yet, it was explained by Gavin McNab, chief counsel for Arbuckle. It was arranged that no financial matters were to be considered "until Arbuckle had been cleared," McNab said.

"I don't care to capitalize my good fortune so soon after achieving it." Arbuckle said. 'There is a sentimentalism attached to the experience of acquittal that must come before any commercialism. I will return to my profession when I consider it proper to do so."

Are you conducting your business on the "one lunger" principle by doing just a little advertising, or none at all; or are you going after it in modern style—just like you knew business is to be had—and it is—and that you want your share?

REFINERIES NOT SUBJECT TO TAX

Decision Reverses Previous One

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, April 14.—The attorney general's department held in an opinion today that oil refineries are not subject to the 2 per cent assessed against wholesale dealers in petroleum products. This opinion, given to Comptroller Lon Smith, reversed a former one on the same subject.

The first opinion is erroneous and is withdrawn, the comptroller was advised.

In defining a wholesale dealer it was said that such individual company, firm, corpiration or association is one who buys coal oil, naphtha, benzine or any other mineral oils refined from petroleums, either in his own name or in the name of others, to be sold again.

"Therefore a refinery that produces from crude petroleum, crude oil, naphtha, or benzine would not be subject to the tax imposed on wholesale dealers under Article 7377," it was held. However, this does not apply in event refineries engage in buying the refined petroleum products and sell them to be sold again.

LONG SKIRT CANDIDATE WINS SCHOOL BOARD PLACE BY BIG MARGIN

By Associated Press.

VINELAND, Kan., April 14.—A sweeping victory for long skirts was scored here yesterday when voters re-elected Perry Stevens to the rural high school board, giving him 118 votes to 20 for Seth Fenton, short skirt candidate. Stevens achieved notoriety when the school board of which he was head decreed that the skirts of girl pupils must extend three inches below their knees. Maude Buchanan and Alice Hanson were expelled because of alleged brevity of skirts and on appeal to the district court of Douglass county were readmitted to school without skirt revision. The court later dissolved its temporary order on the subject and the case was appealed to the Kansas supreme court.

SUIT FILED—

sult his property, worth $25,000, is assessed at $40,000 for taxation.

The plaintiff alleges that the expected oil development failed to materialize but that regardless of that fact the city government has seen fit to keep renditions high so that they secure taxation money to pay the expenses of the city government. The petition specifically alleges that the total tax rendition of the city for last year was $6,564,366 and that it is 25 per cent too high.

Cities Charter.

The petition cites the city charter of Vernon in several instances alleging that the present city council has violated its requirements. It alleges that the order for election to vote the bond issues was passed as an emergency and that it failed to receive the unanimous approval of the city council as required. The petition alleges that the situation was not an emergency, citing the fact that the city already had electric service.

According to the petition, there was a vacancy in the council but the remaining members failed to order a special election as required by the charter.

Claims Tax Would Be Too High.

According to the petition, the council has now made a contract to sell the $100,000 bond issue for lights and $25,000 for streets below their par value contrary to another provision of the city charter. The petition alleges that if the bonds are sold, the city will have to raise $24,146 a year for interest and sinking funds and that will require a tax rate in excess of $1.50 per $100 property valuation the maximum limit provided by the charter.

Finally the petition alleges that the city officials are going to erect an ice plant with part of the bond money voted for the electric light plant. The petition alleges that according to the city charter, bond money can only be used for the purpose for which it was voted. The petition asks that the city be permanently enjoined from selling the bonds.

HIGH WINS IN DISTRICT MEET

Strong Competition at Iowa Park

Making a clean sweep of the literary events and all the tennis games except the girls' singles, the Wichita Falls high school representatives made their presence felt at the opening of the 13th district interscholastic meet held at Iowa Park yesterday and today. There were a few of the entrants that lost to Wichita that offered strong competition, but in a majority, the Red and Black students showed the effects of better competing or better coaching.

All the entrants of the various counties were not present and some of the events were contested so long before there was a winnr that some of the finals will be finished up today along with the athletic branch.

The events that were disposed of yesterday were:

Tennis

Preliminaries in Girls Singles: Jacksboro defeated Bellevue, Ray Golden of Iowa Park defeated Majorie Bright of Wichita Falls, Throckmorton forfeited to Nocona, as did Archer City to Benjamin.

Semi-Finals: Benjamin will play Nocona and Iowa Park will play Jacksboro.

Girls' Doubles, Preliminaries: Marie Johnson and Jewel Williams of Wichita Falls won from the Nocona girls; Jacksboro defeated Bellevue; Burkburnett beat Benjamin.

Semi-Finals: Jacksboro won from Burkburnett and will play the Wichita girls today for the district championship.

Preliminaries in Boys' Singles: Paul Hines of Wichita defeated the entrant from Henrietta; Benjamin won from Iowa Park; Nocona eliminated Bryson.

Semi-Finals: Wichita Falls eliminated Benjamin and will play Nocona today for district honors.

Preliminaries in Boys' Doubles: Bellevue and Burkburnett have not played; Haynes and Powers defeated the Bryson couple in two straight love sets; Olney forfeited to Benjamin and Throckmorton to Ringgold.

Girls' Debate

Preliminaries: Stella Winters and Francis Jones of Wichita Falls won from Knox City; Iowa Park defeated Jermyn.

Semi-Finals: Wichita Falls eliminated the Archer City girls and are to contest with Iowa Park for the finals.

Boys' Debate

Semi-Finals: The Wichita boys eliminated Archer City and won the right to debate with Jacksboro for district winner.

Declamation

Louis Scott of Wichita Falls won in the first stages and goes to the finals, while Ray Bland of Wichita won over all opponents in Senior boys declamatory contests and also went to the finals.

Electra High will be Wichita's strongest opponent, unless some "dark horse" comes in, as they have never before in the district meets, and puts her faith in the ability of her track team, hoping to clean up that end of the meet.

The Red and Black trackers, some 20 strong with coaches, Hall and Adams, left this morning for the meet; and the roaches remarked that their tuteleges will offer plenty of competition to any other aggregation in these parts.

Iowa Park will be strongly represented by all contenders of this district, provided that no northers arrive, as was the sad case last year at Olney.

JOHNSON TO SPEAK NEXT

"Conventions" Will Be His Subject

"How not to go after a convention" will be the subject of B. Frank Johnson at the next meeting of the business council, chamber of commerce, Mr. Johnson informed members of the body at the Friday meeting.

Although he would give no further details of his subject, it is thought that Mr. Johnson's trip to the recent lumberman's convention in an effort to bring the 1923 convention —a trip made without the way being paved with any prior publicity, without prior campaign work among the members of the lumberman's association, and without an organization committee either to work at the convention or to assure the convention and its 1200 members being properly arranged for should it be brought to Wichita Falls. Johnson believes that his suggestions will be of value to the body in carrying out its plan of going after several big conventions for next year.

At the Friday meeting George Keith, vice chairman, was, over his protest, elected chairman of the business council, in place of Burton Stayton who resigned following election as a member of the city council. R. E. Penick was named vice chairman.

Resumption of the publication of the monthly publication by the chamber of commerce as an aid in the trade-at-home campaign was recommended to the board of directors on motion of N. H. Martin.

J. E. Lewis, state boys work secretary for the Y. M. C. A. explained the purposes of the Older Boys Conference to be held here later this month.

W. B. Hamilton followed Mr. Lewis with a brief but forceful talk on the importance of endeavoring to better selves through trying to do something for others, and of the importance of business men keeping morals and religion in mind both in individual and community efforts.

Hubert Harrison, in making his report on his Washington trip, declared that business was showing signs of revival in the east.

LEGION DISCUSSES CIRCUS PLAN TONIGHT

Every former service man in Wichita Falls is urged to be present at a special meeting of the Pat Carrigan Post of the American Legion called for tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Among other business matters to be considered it is said arrangements for the aviation meet which will be held here April 29 and 30 will be discussed.

NEGRESS FIRES; 1 DEAD; 1 DOWN

Angry Spouse Jailed After Rampage

Louise Barrett, 55, negro, is dead. John Hickey, 55, negro, is lying in a local hospital with two gunshot wounds through his body, while Cletter Hickey, 22, wife of Hickey, is confined in the county prison charged with murder in connection with the shooting of the negro and negress.

"He wouldn't come home with me, and he cut me deep on the arm," Cletter calmly declared through the bars of the juvenile and women's prison as she narrated the shooting yesterday afternoon, "so I shot him."

Four shots, fired from a 38 calibre Iver Johnson pistol which the Hickey negress declared she had procured from a downtown pawn shop, all took effect in their intended victims, the Barrett negress dying instantly, while Hickey was in an unconscious condition last night, probably fatally wounded.

The shooting, which occurred yesterday morning at 8:20 o'clock in the 400 block on Mills street, was followed shortly by the arrest of the Hickey woman, W. P. Belcher, city detective, taking her in charge and later turning her over to county officials.

According to statements made by the Hickey woman, her husband, Hickey, "took his clothes and left" her Tuesday. Yesterday morning while Cletter was on her way to town she discovered an automobile in the yard of the slain negress which Hickey used.

Knocking at the door of the Barrett negress, her own husband responded, according to her statements, and an argument as to his right to be in the house ensued, during which, it is alleged, Hickey used a knife on Cletter.

Cletter said she departed, procured the pistol and the shooting which ended fatally followed.

Hickey was removed from a local hospital Friday evening by negro friends. Physicians who dressed his wounds Friday morning, expressed the opinion that they would not prove fatal.

Service Car Man Fights for License

Because he alleges he was refused a license without cause, J. T. Reynolds, local service driver, brought a writ of mandamus against the city in the 78th district court late Friday afternoon, naming Mayor Frank Collier and other members of the city council in his petition. Judge E. W. Napier set Monday for hearing on the petition.

Reynolds alleges in his petition that he made application for a city license to operate Buick and Winton service cars. According to his petition he complied with all requirements including an approved surety bond.

ALBERT O'HARA HELD

Charged with swindling here Albert O'Hara, formerly employed as a bookkeeper at the Model laundry is under arrest at Greenville, according to information received by the sheriff's department Friday afternoon. Deputy Sheriff Bob Hembree left Friday afternoon for Greenville to return O'Hara here.

The complaint against O'Hara was filed several days ago following an investigation by the county attorney's office. According to the county officials, O'Hara is alleged to have appropriated to his own use funds belonging to the laundry company by whom he was employed. He is alleged to have obtained about $400.

CANDIDATES TO FILL NAMES WITH JONES

Application for a place on the official ballot for the election of May 13 must be filed with County Judge J. P. Jones, according to a ruling recently received by the magistrate from the attorney general's department.

The ruling, it was learned from Judge Jones, applies to all the counties of the Thirteenth congressional district, candidates for office placing their applications with the county judges of each county.

NEGRO BROUGHT IN

Deputy Sheriff Berry Friday afternoon returned from Breckenridge with Joe Campbell, negro, wanted here on a charge of swindling. A complaint against Campbell was filed several days ago at the instigation of Charles Greenberg, local business man. It is alleged that Campbell gave a check for $25 with no funds in the bank.

KELLEY FINED WHEN HE ACCUSES WOMEN

Charging that one of the trio of women who testifned against him was dressed in scanty attire, and that they were the "ones who used the abusive" language, O. B. Kelley, recent candidate for mayor, suggested to Judge Ogle that he "should go free," when Kelley was arraigned before the latter yesterday morning in police court, charged with disturbing the peace and using abusive language to women.

The judge thought otherwise and the defendant was assessed a fine of $15 and costs.

The trouble, in the nature of a neighborhood row, was said to have been the outgrowth of the uprooting of a small tree which separated the property of the principals.

FARM STATION PROSPECT GOOD

Harrison Thinks Way Paved at Capitol

Real progress toward the securing of an irrigation agricultural experiment station for Wichita county was made during the recent stay of Wichitans in Washington, Hubert Harrison, general manager of the chamber of commerce, declared on his return here Friday.

"Of course the matter will be some in working out, and the final work will fall to the new congressman from this district," declared Mr. Harrison, "but I think that we, through the friends of the district in Washington, have carried the matter to a point where it can be successfully concluded in the near future."

The need of an agricultural experiment station here for the benefit of the irrigation farmers was recently brought out in a meeting of the business council, chamber of commerce.

Third Negro Sent To Pen on Charge Of Assault to Rob

The third negro to be sentenced to the penitentiary in connection with the same offense, H. J. Seymour, was given four years by a jury in the 89th district court Friday morning. Seymour with Ben Little and Ed Byers was convicted of assault with intent to rob. The trio are alleged to have attempted the robbery of a servant house at 1702 Fillmore street.

Little was given two years and nine months in the state penitentiary by a jury in the 78th district court several weeks ago and Byers was given a sentence of two years Thursday following his plea of guilty.

CHARGES FILED AFTER ANIMAL CARCASSES ARE FOUND AT LAKE

Carcasses of dead animals found lying on the shores of Lake Wichita led to the filing of complaint against two farmers yesterday by Dr. A. H. Dougless, city health officer.

Polution of the lake water will not be permitted, according to Dr. Douglass, and campers who have frequently thrown waste and rubbish into the lake will be punished.

Investigations are now being made of several other reported instances of flagrant violations of this kind and it is likely that charges will be placed against other parties.

BODY OF MAN FOUND IN HOUSE

Eskridge Dies From Heart Failure

Believed to have been dead several days the body of E. Eskridge, local railroad employee, about 65 years of age, was found Friday afternoon in a two-room house located at the rear of 506 Lee street. The body was found by neighbors who had noticed that Mr. Eskridge had not been seen around the house for several days.

It is believed that death was due to heart failure. Eskridge lived alone in the house and had not been seen by neighbors since Sunday. He has been employed as a switchman by the Fort Worth & Denver railroad for the last two years, coming here from Sapulpa, Oklahoma. The body is being held by a local undertaking company pending word from relatives.

FOLKS BUSY WIPING SAND OUT OF EYES

Strong winds blew sand and dust into every nook and corner of Wichita Falls Friday, while deeper in the Panhandle, around Amarillo, snow was chasing the thermometer to a low degree.

While no rainfall or snow accompanied the cooler winds which encompassed this vicinity Friday and late into the night, there was a perceptible change in the weather in comparison with that of Thursday, when Old Sol performed as in the dead of summer.

Temperatures in other localities were reported as falling, Texline reporting a drop to 30 degrees.

SEPARATE HEARING OF GRAND JURY CASES

Separate records in the cases of Dr. Wallace Martin, Jim Jennings and H. D. Miller, Wichita county men held in contempt of court for failure to answer grand jury questions in connection with the Ku Klux Klan, have been ordered by the court of criminal appeals. This will permit a separate holding in any case.

The hearings before the court of criminal appeals, began Wednesday, continued Thursday morning with the court hearing oral argument by the attorney for the relators and by special counsel for the state.

ROAD FIGHT COSTLY

Total fines aggregating $15.30 were imposed on J. M. Kiefmore, G. H. Turner and T. S. Turner in Justice of the Peace R. V. Gwinn's court Friday morning as the result of an alleged affray over usage of the highway. The defendants pleaded guilty.

It was alleged during the proceedure that the fisticuff between the defendants came about when one of the party refused to allow the others to pass, the principals all being in automobiles.

BRYAN MAKES DENIAL

Denial that he testified in the trial of Ralph Pardy, employe of an Indiana avenue cafe, who was given a year's prison term for selling whiskey during the past week, that he purchased the whiskey to secure evidence, has been made by Charles Bryan, insurance man, who was the state's chief witness.

"Unfortunately I was brought into this case as a witness, but, being under oath, I told the truth regarding the entire transaction," Bryan says in a letter of denial to the Record News.

OUT OF THE MOUTHS OF BABES

Two little tots were watching the clouds near the horizon one evening when one exclaimed: "Oh, see the sheet lightning!"

Shortly after there was a smaller flash from the same cloud, and the other cried out: "Oh, there is some pillowcase lightning."

"Mamma," said little Lester one evening, "may I go out on the street with the other boys and look at the comet?"

"No, dear," replied his mother, "I am afraid that you might get hurt."

"No, I won't mamma," he answered "I won't go any ways near it."

WHY NOT TEXAS?

Of the eleven states whose legislatures convened this year four have enacted a gasoline tax. They are Maryland, Louisiana, South Carolina and Mississippi. In all four the gasoline tax has been enacted in addition to the customary motor vehicle registry and general licenses fees and the gasoline tax in these four states is one cent a gallon. Maryland lawmakers estimate that to December 31 about $1,180,000 will be raised from gasoline sales and half of the sum will be devoted to removing a deficiency in the maintenance and reconstruction fund of the state road commission. The other half will be used for the construction of state roads through incorporated towns and cities to connect the state's arterial system of roads. Texas is face to face with a good road proposition that cannot be dodged. Either a new constitution must be made or a constitutional amendment must be adopted in order to obtain the federal allotment which is all important. It is a match dollar proposition. That is for every dollar that the people of Texas invest in modern highways they will receive a dollar from the federal appropriation. A bond proposition of forty millions would mean eighty million dollars for road purposes in Texas, the bonds to be spread over a long period of time. There is to be a new legislature elected this year and the voters of the state should know the attitude of each senator and representative to be elected. This question should be discussed before the July primary. All candidates for legislative honors should be asked to place themselves on record. A road maintenance fund is just as necessary in Texas as it is in Maryland.

TWO MILLION NEW CARS.

According to a high authority in the motor world the average life of a motor car is from five to six years. He says there should have disappeared from service in 1921 about 1,500,000 cars. Only about 200,000 disappeared. There are more than a hundred manufacturers of passenger motor cars of which ten companies produce approximately 90 per cent of the total output. If to the 1,500,000 motor cars which have to be replaced annually is added 500,000 cars to cover additional requirements of both old and new users he says it would give a total of 2,000,000 cars of the annual production which will be required in the industry. Moreover, he predicts that 2,000,000 new cars will be placed on the market this year and taken by the buyers of the country. This is a sledge hammer blow in the teeth for the pessimist who thinks that the business world is standing still.

PUNISH THE LIAR.

Representative L. T. McFadden of Pennsylvania, chairman of the house committee on banking and currency, has introduced a bill which proposes penalties for circulating false reports derogatory of banks or trust companies. This covers those who shall counsel, aid or procure or circulate any false statement, rumor or suggestion. Upon conviction said person shall be punished by a fine of not more than $5,000 or imprisonment for a term not more than 5 years or both. Many of the states have similar laws. A liar or a slanderer is an object of contempt and this applies to all liars or slanderers either of high or low degree. Many banks and trust companies have been ruined in recent years by persons who were either wilful or malicious or idiotic. There is no defense for a man who will slander his neighbor or the business institutions of a community or commonwealth.

UNITED STATES LEADS.

All Texans are interested in cotton. For almost a century it has been the gold crop of the state and for almost a century cotton swung the balance of foreign trade to the United States. It may interest Texans to be told that for the six months ending January 31, 1922, American mills rapidly approached their pre-war operating activity during that period. Total consumption of cotton by American mills was nearly two million bales greater than that of the previous six months and about 1,600,000 bales larger than the corresponding period a year ago. Figures on the world consumption of cotton are very interesting and tell their own story: For the year ending August 31, 1913, 20,299,500 bales; for the year ending July 3, 1920, 17,236,900 bales; for the half year ending July 31, 1921, 7,357,200 bales and for the half year ending January 31, 1922, 9,314,000 bales. It is gratifying to know that the United States remained in the latest period under review, the world's largest cotton consumer, taking considerably more than twice the consumption of the British mills, while Japan was a close third, surrendering its second place of the previous six months to the United Kingdom. According to the figures Germany, France, Italy and Belgium are making noticeable gains while India and China continue to be factors of increasing importance. Texas produces a third of the cotton crop of America and a sixth of the cotton crop of the world. There are reasons why Texans should keep in close touch with cotton conditions the world over. It pays to be informed.

ANOTHER MENACE.

There are 3 million Jews in America counting the very aged and the infants in the cradle. They started out to raise $14,000,000 to feed and clothe and shelter their people in the famine stricken and diseased lands of Europe. David I. Brown of Detroit, is their national chairman. They collected $15,757,500 from their own people or more than $5 per capita for the 3 million Jews under the protecting folds of Old Glory. There is nothing to equal this achievement in the history of money collecting for any purpose in this or any other country. It must be true that these people are a menace. They respond too readily and too generously to the call for charity, the wail of poverty, the tearful cry of distress. They shame the people of other creeds and other nationalities. Cold facts speak for themselves. The writer is a stickler for cold facts. Judge men by their deeds; praise them for the good that they do and then let others do likewise.

OIL AND POLITICS.

All the larger American companies operating in Mexico have pooled their interests for the purpose of carrying on in a more systematic way the development of the petroleum resources of the Aztec Republic. This agreement is said to include the Doheny interests, the Standard Oil interests, the Texas Company interests, the Sinclair interests and other important organizations. It is estimated that the territory embraces more than 10 million acres of land that may become oil producing in the region extending from the Rio Grande on the north to the Cazones River on the south, about 425 miles and from the Gulf of Mexico west, a distance of 150 miles. Within its confines are all of the big producing fields of Mexico. Our purpose of the pool is to prevent an over production of oil in Mexico in the future. Now it should be easy for the man who reads between the lines to understand just why Mexican crude is kept on the free list by a Republican administration. It was placed on the free list by a free trade administration; it is kept on the free list by a protective tariff administration. Edward L. Doheney, the big chief of the Mexican oil interests, is a California Democrat and the underwriter of the five million dollars bond issue offered for sale in this country two years ago by the De Valera provisional government of the Irish Republic. Most of his associates are high in the councils of the Republican party.

Emperor Karl willed Austria his heart and Hungary his body. This last scion of the Hapsburgs had no brains to will to any country. Accident of birth made him an emperor; the march of progress decreed that he should die an exile without crown or mourner.

MAINLY ABOUT PEOPLE

ist and is supplying the English speaking world with certain heretofore unknown details of life in the spirit world. He says it is a summer land; all is happiness there and there are marriages but no children. Then why marriage?

PRESIDENT HARDING APpointed Alason B. Houghton as ambassador to Germany. This created a vacancy in the Thirty-seventh Congressional district of New York. In the year 1920 Alanson Houghton was elected by a majority of more than 30,000. This district is a Gibraltar of New York Republicanism. Democrats nominated Hon. Frank Irvine, a Cornell professor and one of the ablest jurists of the country. Republicans named Louis Henry, a native of the district, the son of a famous preacher and the son-in-law of one of the leading families of New York. Prohibitionists held a convention and made the Republican candidate their candidate. Judge Irvine declared for a revision of the Volstead act and this too in a dry district and for light wines and beer. All the women politicians supported Henry. Now here is where the surprise came in. Henry was elected by only 3300 majority in a district that gave Houghton more than 30,000 majority less than two years ago. What is the answer?

FORMER NATIONAL CHAIRman Homer S. Cummings of Connecticut in a recent interview declared the Republicans had killed prosperity to defeat Woodrow Wilson; that under the Republicans we have returned to normalcy; that we have granted to Great Britain the freedom of the Atlantic and the control of Europe; to Japan the freedom of the Pacific and the control of Asia; that we enjoy the freedom of the seas from Chicago to Albuquerque with the right of establishing a coaling station in Topeka. Homer S. Cummings is nothing if not epigrammatic. He championed the Wilson League of Nations; he is willing to accept the four power pact but he is level headed when he says there is no way in which peace can be made secure save through the agreement of the civilized forces of the world. And the League of Nations is on the way.

LET THE SKY HELP

By H. ADDINGTON BRUCE.

Are you, I wonder, among the unfortunate many who take the marvelous, beautiful sky as a matter of course—the many give the sky no more than a casual glance, even when it presents the most glorious of colors, the most impressive cloud effects?

If so, let me tell you that you are missing a great deal. And you are missing not merely many an opportunity to develop your aesthetic sense—itself a matter of considerable importance. You are missing much that would be of practical help to you in your every-day affairs.

Often, no doubt, in the course of your daily work, fatigue of body and mind assails you. Even your eyes feel strained and tired. Perhaps, indeed, eye-strain is the principal cause of the general weariness that from time to time afflicts you.

This may well be the case, in view of the fact that, according to good authorities, the human eye is better adapted for distant than for near vision. Hence a severe tax is put upon it by the demands of the modern working life, involving, as this usually does, near vision rather than distant.

Accordingly, eye specialists recommend, both as a measure conserving the eyesight and as a preventative of fatigue, frequent gazing away from one's work and into the distance. Some specifically suggest frequent looking up at the sky—though, of course, not at that quarter of it wherein the sun is shining.

Frequent gazing skyward, moreover, has a restful effect on the mind no less than on the eyes—and an enlarging effect.

"Lift your eyes occasionally from your immediate work," exhorts a modern moralist, "and take a long-range view of God's beautiful and inspiring creation. Look away into the depths of the distant sky and let your spirit find in the infinite.

"Give your mind freedom to wander where it may in the universe of space surrounding you. This excursion will bring you spiritual refreshment and many healthful ideas, so that you will return to your regular duties with exaltation and new courage."

Do not smile at this as the language of poetic exaggeration. Experiment on your own account in occasional sky-gazing and you will soon find that your working power actually has noticeably increased.

Especially will you find this resulting if, when away from work, in your periods of leisure, you at times devote, not a few moments merely, but some minutes, to meditative contemplation of the sky. Strength-giving suggestions will come to you from it—suggestions aiding you to meet more manfully and with clearer vision the perplexities and problems that from day to day arise.

Your whole philosophy of life, if it is now narrow and petty, will little by little be improved. You will become less and less self-centered, to your great gain. And as you grow in insight you will grow, too, in power to make your dreams and your ambitions come true.

So no longer go your way having no heed to the sky. Let it help you—as most certainly it can.

The People's Parlor

By DR. FRANK CRANE

(Copyright, 1922, by Frank Crane.)

In France and to some extent in other countries of Continental Europe the Cafe is the people's parlor.

It is not a mere drinking place, as were the saloons in the United States and as are the unclean "pubs" in England.

It does not depend for its attraction entirely upon the fact that it sells intoxicating liquors.

In fact, most of the beverages that are consumed in these cafes are of the mildest character and many of them contain no alcohol at all.

People will sit down at a cafe table and spend an hour in chat, sipping the while perhaps a glass of thin wine which scarcely contains two per cent. of alcohol, or quite as often a cup of coffee or of tea, or of water sweetened with syrup.

The European cafe is not usually, as was the case with the American saloon, a place where people go to get drunk. They go there to drink. And there is a difference.

Of course a certain amount of brandy and other strong liquors are consumed. But they are not the rule, and the crowd that gathers in a Paris cafe in the evening is not ordinarily tipsy or boisterous.

This cafe life in Continental Europe is one of the things that are most striking to an American traveler. Quite often he misunderstands the whole matter and thinks that he is among a people who are universally given to intoxication. But the American who makes this mistake and proceeds to load up on brandy until he has become boisterous soon finds himself to be a man who is marked and shunned.

The cafe is the people's sitting room. It is light and warm and there is company. Consequently not only men sit about in these cafes, but women and often children. Whole families congregate in the German beer gardens and in the French, Italian and Spanish cafes.

The influence of these respectable women is felt. To the European there is nothing disgraceful in spending an hour in the cafe and he cannot understand the disreputability of the Anglo-Saxon drinking place.

Recently some of the cafes in Paris have invited artists to send in pictures and have exhibited them upon the walls free of charge. It is understood that these pictures can be bought. Space, of course, is limited and the lighting is almost always bad. But the public are pleased with the idea and some sales are made.

In other parts of Paris at the hour of the "aperitif" or, as we say, at tea time, from four to seven in the afternoon, the dressmakers have taken to exhibiting their latest models and the fashionable public, while they linger over their tea and cakes, can inspect the mannequins who are displaying the most recent creations in fashion.

Somehow there is a brightness to this life and an element of sociability in it and of gentle humanity that makes it attractive. And we might wish that the customs of the English-speaking world were such that it were able to adopt this manner without soiling it with excessive drinking of alcoholic beverages and the consequent vulgarity.

M'CORMACK'LL NOT SING FOR MONTHS

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 14.—John McCormack, famous Irish tenor, who has been dangerously ill with an affliction of the throat, will have to undergo another operation to clear his throat of puss formation.

His physician, Dr. A. C. DuPont, stated today that by Monday the singer's throat, which was still badly swollen, would be ready for another lancing.

"Mr. McCormack has passed the crisis," said Dr. DuPont. "His Septic throat is somewhat better. He can swallow with less pain, but he will not be able to sing for many months."

Mr. McCormack will leave for Ireland next month if his health will permit.

Since last Saturday it said, Mr. McCormack has fallen in weight from 220 pounds to 200 or less and his friends believe that it will be months before he is again well. He will be 38 years old on June 14.

NATURE'S GIFTS

Nature took some soil and granite, and a tube of liquid glue, and she fashioned this, our planet, back a million years or two. And she made some lakes of water, strung them round with wondrous skill, so the thirsty gent might totter to the shore and drink his fill. Well she knew the human being would be thisty every day (for Dame Nature is all-seeing) as he baled his share of hay. So she filled the lakes with water and the rivers with the same, and the little streams that potter through the fields unknown to fame, and the sparkling rills that babie, and the ponds where lilies grow, where the ducklings quack and gabble while cavorting to and fro. Nature knew that human critters must be mositened well within, but she filled no lakes with bitters, and she made no streams of gin. And the rain that helps the cotter raise a bumper crop this year—it is always made of water, it is never made of beer. And the dew that shines so brightly in the morning, on the lawn, cooling off the tired world nightly, never knew a demijohn. When we're thirsty there are rivers, meres and brooks from which to choose, but Dame Nature ne'er delivers anything labeled booze.

THE DAILY STORY

THE NEW HAT

Miss Sally Weaver was in a predicament. One minute she laughed hysterically, the next, unaccustomed briny tears dimmed her bright eyes. For never had an Easter Sunday dawned, whether flooded with warm spring sunshine, whether pouring rain, or even though bitterly cold with flying snowflakes, but that Sally Weaver had set upon her flirty yellow head at precisely the right angle a new spring hat which looked twice as pretty on her head as it did off.

This year she had been a whit more previous, and far more particular in her selection. She had passed by the local milliner—round-shouldered, dim-eyed Mme. Durant, who, in spite of her own passe appearance, did have an undeniable sunning with hats—and had gone to the city for her purchase. She called it a dream, although it was really a hat, handmade, of green braid, with a soft, droopy crown and a bunch of silk fruits, verging from deep green to light and thence to a flush of pink. It needed just Miss Sally's golden curls, laughing blue eyes and apple blossom cheeks beneath it to display it to advantage.

The reason Sally was even more discriminating than usual in the selection of her new headgear was a man. A mere man was nothing in Sally Weaver's life, for she had had all of the eligible ones in Brettesville in love with her, through no especial encouragement on her part, for Sally was not a flirt. But she was quite as particular about men as about hats. None of those she had met pleased her any more than did the ninety-nine hats she passed by to select the only one that met her favor. Then one Sunday she looked into the earnest eyes of the new young minister and knew instantly that this was the one hundredth man—her man. Rodney Holden was soon calling frequently at her uncle's home, where Sally lived, and in various ways showed a decided interest. Yet, after two years he had in no way committed himself definitely enough for the girl to be sure he actually desired her for a wife. She felt, however, that it was time matters came to a climax. He either loved her, or he loved her not, and surely by this time was aware of the state of his feelings. She was twenty-five and had no more intention of being an old maid than she had of being left without a new spring hat.

She had set this particular Sunday as the day when the affair would be settled. It was an appropriate time for him to ask her to begin a new life with him. However, Sally would take no chances, and she desired to be beautiful as she had never been before. Hence the journey to the city and her return, carrying in its flowered bandbox the only hat. She tried it on a dozen times that afternoon before Easter, and bowed and smiled at the lovely reflection the glass gave back to her. The doorbell rang and she hastily thrust the allurement on the open French window behind the curtain, so that if any one entered the room the hat would would not be seen. It was sacred until to-morrow.

But it was only near-sighted, gray-haired old Miss Miller with a subscription list for a pound party for the minister. Sally smiled at the lack of tact shown in coming to her with such a subscription, but made her promise and gave tired Miss Miller a cup of hot tea and an encouraging word. When she had taken her slow departure, Sally pirouetted to her room to look at her hat. Instead of a thing of beauty in the window, she saw the head of Billy, the goat that belonged to little lame George next door, and tangled in his dirty white whiskers were soome scraps of green braid, while a green peach, blushing to pink, dangled from one disreputable horn.

"You thief! You old gourmand! You—you!" cried Sally angrily. "Shoo! Go home!" Go on home or I'll kill you!"

Then she crumpled up on the bed and cried, but, in spite of her chargin and anger, she laughed too at the thought of the old goat with the ripening peach dangling from his horn. She made no complaint to her neighbors, for she felt that Billy was poor enough compensation for little George's withered arm and leg. But the old goat had done far more than demolish her bewitching hat—he had deprived her of the assurance that tomorrow Rodney would ask her to marry him.

The next morning she decided that her new suit, the color of poppy leaves, would be out of question with her last year's hat, so she wore her henna-colored serge with which the whole town was familiar, and a blue and henna-colored hat that Rodney had seen on her head five days of the preceding year. She sat devoutly through the service in an unwonted attitude of humility, for who was she in last year's clothes to dominate? The beauty of the service did finally steal comfortingly into her sore little heart and she vaguely wondered whether she would have been a better girl had she always worn old cloths to church.

After the service she stole quickly out of the church down to an out-of-the-way street. She wished to get out of the bright crowd in their new clothes, which seemed to be shouting their triumph at her. Out of the corner of her eye she saw Rodney walking home with Millicent Doolittle. She knew that Millicent had found favor in Rodney's sigh from the beginning, and this morning the dark-eyed olive-skinned girl looked lovely in a brown and orange cream combination of hat and suit which she was wearing. Brunettes were really prettier than blondes, anyway, Sally confessed, Rodney, with his brown hair and gray eyes, would probably prefer dark coloring in a wife. Well, she'd let him have Millicent. If it would truly make him happier she'd rather he did marry Millicent. She admitted this to the glass as she took off the old henna and blue hat. But no, no! She didn't want him to marry Millicent—she wanted him herself, and maybe she might have had him if that old goat hadn't eaten up her dream of a hat!

Her reflections were interrupted by the ring of the doorbell. She answered it herself, hoping against hope. But there stood Rodney! "Sally, I had to come at once," he said as soon as she had taken him into the parlor. "Dear girl, I think how you have stood the test! It shows how closely our minds and spirits work in harmony. You see, dear, I had heard a great deal about your love of clothes—how it dominated your whole life—and I had heard repeatedly about your parade of an Easter hat—at any rate, that was the word one person used in mentioning it—parade."

"Who?" interrupted Sally, indignantly.

"Oh, what does it matter who? Much as I cared for you, I felt that if your heart was all in clothes you could not be a minister's wife—would not care to be, in fact. And I decided to make this day the test. If you did come out in a hat and other raiment that would draw the thoughts of the congregation away from their worship, then I would not ask you to marry me. And then, dearest, you appeared in that little hat and suit with which I and every one else are so familiar. You could not have made anybody think they were new. What is it, dear?"

For Sally choked indignantly. They weren't really quite so bad as that!

"And you look so lovely in them!" went on Rodney. "Then, too, your frame of mind was evidently such a truly Easter one—so humble, so devout. There is nothing left, darling, but for me to tell you how I want you for my wife."

"That was the goat——" began Sally. She was an honest soul and had no intention of winning a husband on false premises. But at that minute there was a blat just beyond the French window and Rodney misunderstood.

"Yes, I hear him just outside the window," he said. "But, beloved, at such a time let's forget the goat and think only of our happiness."

Then suddenly Sally's lovely face was hidden in her handkerchief and her shoulders shook convulsively. Rodney's arms were comfortingly around her. Well, she had done her best and perhaps everything need not be told. She loved him and she'd make him a good wife. As for Easter hats, after she became a minister's wife she'd probably never have the money to buy another one, anyway!

Sister Leaves Texas To Aid Leper Colony

Special to the Record News

DALLAS, Texas, April 14.—Unswerving devotion to the sisterhood is seen in Sister Carmelita Achonda, who left a wealthy and aristocratic family in the State of Chihuahua to don the robes of a sister of charity and after years of work in hospitals in New Orleans and Dallas departed Sunday for Carrville, La., where she will enter the Leper Colony hospital to continue her work.

In five years spent in Dallas, Sister Carmelita was known to both the Protestant and Catholic denominations. She has been an outstanding character in the Louise Marillac clinic and has conducted the Mexican clinic at St. Paul santarium.

In speaking of her attitude after receiving the telegram, it was said at the sanitarium that Sister Carmelita calmly laid the message aside and went about packing her trunks for the trip. In four hours after she received the notification she was ready for the journey.

The parting was simple, but very impressive. As she bade the sisters farewell,—many of them have known her for years and were in school with her—she smiled bravely through the adieus and went away on her new mission with a light heart.

READ ABOUT BABE'S BATH

Plans Better Than Smoke Screen

Mary Elizabeth was alone with her baby. The house echoed hollowly. The nurse had gone. The cook was in the kitchen and it was time for the baby's bath.

Miserably, Mary Elizabeth looked at the clock, and back at the baby who slept so peacefully in his little white bed.

Then she looked around the nursery.

"I think I have everything," she mused, as she inspected the array of clean baby clothes, towels, powders, and mouth-wash solution. Then she filled the little portable tub, placed the thermometer in it, switched on the electricity in the small nursery with glowing light and warmth.

It is a very great responsibility to be left alone with one's first baby! And although Mary Elizabeth had given her baby two baths, very successfully, in the presence of the nurse, she was conscious of the fact that the nurse was gone, that she was alone, and that she was suffering acutely from—something not unlike stage fright. Her knees were wobbly and her heart was pounding as she gently raised the sleeping baby and sat down beside the bath.

Mary Elizabeth Forgetful

The nurse had said that even if the baby was asleep it was better to rouse him for his morning bath, because his mid-morning feeding was due after his bath and he would be roused for that anyway. And having had his bath and his morning bottle he would sleep so much more comfortably.

So the bath began.

First, Mary Elizabeth discovered that she had forgotten the soap. This meant that she had to get up, wrap the baby in a blanket, go into the bathroom, get the soap and come back.

She had reached the second stage of putting the baby's clothes on after his bath when she discovered that she had forgotten a needle to sew his little flannel binder on.

This meant another interruption. The third time it was the brush for his smooth little golden head that she had forgotten.

And then it was that Mary Elizabet decided to make a bath screen for her baby.

She had read about one some place, had decided that it was rather a foolish idea, and half forgotten about it.

Bath Screen Solves Problem.

The bath screen solved the problem of interrupted baths, because a well equipped bath screen means that everything necessary for the baby's bath is at hand, there is no fitter of untidiness in the nursery, and should any one open the nursery door during the bath, the baby is protected by the screen from possible draughts.

A small three-paneled screen was made by the carpenter and its wooden frame enamelled white. It was covered with white linen of the coarsest variety on one side, and with white rubber sheeting on the other. Both coverings were stretched tightly and applied with brass tacks

On the sheet rubber side of the screen, little pockets and big pockets were sewn, and above them an artist friend painted daintily words such as "Powder," "Safety Pins," and "Boric Acid Solution." Bottles and soap boxes were slipped into their various pockets. Clean clothes occupied wider pockets and were put there carefully each day after the bath, that the screen might be "stocked up" for the next bath.

And so the bath proceeded each day without an interruption, because if the pockets of the bath screen were inspected daily everything necessary for the bath was within reach.

FASHIONS

Here's a Suggestion for a Two-Fabric Frock for Summer.

The frock shown in the sketch is a two-fabric combination idea that may be worked out in various fabrics and colors with very good effect. The model from which the sketch was made combined a white silk crepe with blue and white foulard. As will be seen, the entire waist with the exception of the panel vest is made of the colored fabric, and the two materials are blended in the sash belt.

Plain color and white linen might be combined in a frock of this type, or plain chambray and checked gingham would be smart and dainty for warm weather wear.

In the line-up of fabrics that are frequently and effectively combined, plain organdy and dotted swiss may be mentioned for real summer wear, and both of these fabrics are offered this season in such wide color range and in so many interesting embroidered effects that their vogue seems destined to be greater than usual. Dotted swiss with overplaid or stripe in contrasting color are extremely pretty, and it is possible to match either the overplaid or the major color in the fabric in a plain organdy, when it is desired to make a frock combining the two materials.

Fabrics that contrast in color as well as weave are combined in the making of charming frocks, but in selecting a blouse to accompany a suit the average well-dressed woman either chooses a white or else looks for material that matches or blends in with the color of the suit. The vogue for wraps that match either suit or dress continues unabated.

As to hats, when one to accompany a special dress or suit is under consideration the wisest plan seems to be to select one that matches or blends with the costume or else go to the other extreme and select one in as vividly contrasting color as possible.

A Wife or a Profession?

BY CAROLYN BEECHER

Chapter LI.

"I can't get that poor beggar out of my mind," Howard said later as they sipped their coffee before the blazing log fire in the library.

Annette silenced him with a kiss.

"He is nothing, less than nothing. No one but you is anything to me."

"But we might have killed him."

"But we didn't." She wound her arms about her husband's neck. She was very beautiful, very tender in her love. He took her in his arms. He forgot the man their car had knocked down.

It was as she had intended!

"I possess happiness—you," he whispered. "What more can a man ask?"

The next day Claire Gordon came to spend the afternoon with Annette. Claire possessed not only beauty, but she was witty and clever. Her life so far had been one of pleasure and homage. She had been loved often, and often had loved, but never had that fire lasted long enough to forge the chains which bind for life.

Kent Moore also dropped in for tea. Annette was in her element. Claire's presence gave zest to the talk and already she built a romance about the two who chatted so merrily together. But after Kent left and Annette spoke teasingly, Claire replied:

"I have seen only one man I wished to marry, and he already has a wife."

Annette repeated Claire's remark to Howard at dinner.

"Who do you suppose it can be?" she asked. Had she been looking at Howard instead of at her plate she would have seen him flush, then pale. He might have felt ill.

"Remember it is my dinner party tonight, "she reminded as he rose from the breakfast table. "Come early so that you can dress, then help me if I need you."

"But I asked you not to have that dinner this week—I have a case at the hospital that needs close watching."

"You have a wife at home who insists you do as she says," and although she kissed him and had spoken lightly, Howard knew she meant exactly what she said.

Annette heard his heavy sigh as he left the room, but pretended not to. But if she had watched him as he strode down the street, his shoulders slumped, a look almost of despair on his face, she might have thought of what Claire had said some time before:

"You are making a different man of him, and not a better one."

As he walked along Howard Blake muttered to himself:

"No man can serve two masters. He either cleaves to the one and neglects the other, or he neglects them both. I must be firm with Annette before it is too late, before all strength, all ambition had gone out of me—before I lose my manhood."

A vision of the effete Dr. Percy Baker came to him. Why should he despise Percy Baker when he was fast traveling the same road himself? When everything that was big and noble in him was being squeezed out of him? When to please Annette he had already become almost her puppet to make her laugh or cry as she willed?

"I won't go to that dinner?" he declared fiercely. He laughed so stridently that a passer-by stopped and looked after him, muttering "nuts;"

"You are a good boy to come in so early. Now hurry and get dressed, dear, and then we'll arrange the drawing room for dancing. And Howard, you just wait until you see my gown. It's a dream, and so becoming!" She pressed warm kisses on his lips. "You'll just adore your little wifey in it."

"I adore her always," he replied. "She is charming in her negligee."

"Of course you do, and you better had, as they say in the south. If you didn't I'd quickly find some one who would."

"Is that a threat or a promise, Annette?"

"Both—now hurry, darling! Every one is coming and we will have such a nice time. Isn't the table lovely?" She stopped in the door of the dining room.

"It surely is. You are an artist at that sort of thing."

"I couldn't be if we didn't have lots of money, neither could I have my darling husband with me all the time—or most of the time. We are very fortunate, even if we have only each other while so many people have families."

Howard sighed, but lightly. Annette must not hear, she was so gay, so happy. He must do nothing to change her mood. But as he dressed his thoughts were all with the patient at the hospital and with the look Dr. Campbell gave him when he said he would not look in again as he had expected to. Annette's call interrupted his musings.

"Hurry, Howard! It is almost seven and I am all dressed."

"Here I come. How lovely you are, Annette! I am dazzled!"

"Isn't this gown a dear? There, that will do! You'll muss my hair if you are so affectionate. But I love it, Howard! And I love you!"

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

(Copyright by J. G. Lloyd.)

FARMER BROWN'S BOY AND BUSTER MEET

If you should meet with Buster Bear While walking through the wood, What would you do? Now tell me true. I'd run the best I could.

That is what Farmer Brown's boy did when he met Buster Bear, and a lot of the little people of the Green Forest and some from the Green Meadows saw him. You see, it was this way. When Farmer Brown's boy came hurrying home from the Laughing Brook without any fish one day and told about the great footprints he had seen in a muddy place on the bank deep in the Green Forest and had said he was sure that it was the footprint of a Bear, he had been laughed at. Farmer Brown had laughed and laughed.

"Why," said he, "there hasn't been a bear in the Green Forest for years and years, not since my own grandfather was a little boy, and that, you know, was a long, long, long time ago. If you want to find Mr. Bear you will have to go to the Great Woods. I don't know who made that footprint, but it certainly couldn't have been a bear. I think you must have imagined it."

Then he had laughed some more, all of which goes to show how easy it is to be mistaken and how foolish it is to laugh at things you really don't know about. Buster Bear had come to live in the Green Forest, and Farmer Brown's boy had seen his footprints. But Farmer Brown laughed so much and made fun of him so much that at last his boy began to think that he must have been mistaken after all. So when he heard Blacky the Crow and Sammy Jay making a great fuss near the edge of the Green Forest he never once thought of Buster Bear as he started to see what was going on.

When Blacky and Sammy saw him coming they moved a little farther into the Green Forest still screaming in the most exciting way. They felt sure that Farmer Brown's boy would follow them, and so they meant to lead him to where Sammy had seen Buster Bear that morning. Then they would find out for sure if what Joe Otter had said was true—that Farmer Brown's boy really was afraid of Buster Bear.

Now, all around, behind trees and stumps and under thick branches and even in tree tops, were other little people watching with round, wide-open eyes to see what would happen. It was very exciting, the most exciting thing they could remember. You see, they had come to believe that Farmer Brown's boy wasn't afraid of anything or anybody, and as most of them were very much afraid of him, they had hard work to believe that he would really be afraid of even such a great, big, strong fellow as Buster Bear. Every one was so busy watching Farmer Brown's boy that no one saw Buster coming from the other direction.

You see, Buster had heard the racket Blacky the Crow and Sammy Jay were making. He had stood it just as long as he could and then he had started to see what it was all about. That was because he has a lot of that same curiosity that gets Peter Rabbit into trouble so often. He walked very softly. Big as he is, he can walk without making the teeniest, weeniest sound. And that is how it happens that no one saw him or heard him until just as Farmer Brown's boy stepped out from behind one side of a thick little hemlock tree Buster Bear stepped out from behind the other side of that same little tree, and there they were, face to face. Then everybody held their breath, even Blacky the Crow and lshrdlu shrdlu shrdlu hm hm hmm Sammy Jay. For just a little minute it was so still there in the Green Forest that not the least sound could be heard. What was going to happen?

Abe Bowman Teases Giants in Sensational One-Hit Win

SPUD MACHINE SHUTS-OUT DALLAS

Sorey's Hurry-Up Spear Draws Glad Hand

By SPIKE COOPER.

Abe Bowman had a wonderful day on the hill yesterday and the manner in which he held the Giants in complete check, allowing them but one hit, a short single to left in the eighth by Shangling, denied them a chance to register at the home station. The Spuds won 2 to 0.

Only 27 hitters faced the Spudder moundsman according to the official record. Of the five Giants who became baserunners, two were forced at second and three died on the paths as Bowman disposed of succeeding batsmen.

Summary: Pitchers' statistics: 1 hit and 1 runs off Bowman in 9 innings; 8 hits and 2 runs off Hill in 8 innings; sacrifice hits, Beck, O'Brien; stolen base, Spencer; struck out, by Hill 1, by Bowman 1; base on balls, off Hill 2; off Bowman 4; double play, Sorey to Beck; time 1 hour 35 minutes; umpires O'Hearn and Brashear.

Lex Sorey Looked Good.

Lex Sorey rambled all around the middle sack and a goodly portion of right field and secured one putout with his five assists, all of which were handled cleanly. He raced far back of first to take Spencer's fly on a hit and run play which looked like bingles. Taking the ball with his fingertips, he doubled Shangling off first. It was a beautiful play and he was accorded a big hand as he came to the bench.

Fans Like Adams.

Adams, the very short, short-fielder is rapidly gaining the approval of the fans. Twice today he brought them to their feet with spectacular stops and throws, rifle like and with the precision of a marksman. He slapped the ball hard, and the strong wind into which the hitters were driving held two of his drives up until Spencer could get under them. He is fast, both in his fielding and on bases and looks 'em over at the plate.

Hill was touched for eight hits, but kept them well scattered. Two singles in the first inning with some genuine base running by Summa and McDonald netted the first marker. The other run was counted in the fifth on two hits, the only other frame in which the Spudders were able to collect more than one knock.

Big Day for O'Brien

O'Brien started his collection of fly balls and stored six of them away. Summa and Miller got two killings each.

The "knot-hole" gang was out in force, band and all. Their stand was filled and the rumpus they raised vied with that of the capacity crowd present yesterday.

Spencer, the first hitter, was out, McDonald to Beck. Allen drew a base on balls but was forced at second by Galloway after Donohue had lined one out to Jake Miller.

Spuds Get First Run

Adams flew out to right, but Summa came through with a single between first and second. He went to third on McDonald's bingle to right, and scored when Shangling threw Tex out at second as he attempted to pilfer that cushion. The Giant catcher took Miller's pop fly in front of the plate.

O'Brien gathered in Segrist's long fly, Sorey threw Falk out at first and Adams dead-eyed Stow at the same corner.

Beck flew out to Donohue. O'Brien took a stroll on four wide ones. Sorey popped up to Skipper Galloway and then "Old Folks" Frank Kitchens spanked one of Hill's slants to left for a knock, advancing Ray one notch, but the redoubtable Abe swung on a high one for the final out.

Shandling hoisted one to Jake Miller for the first out in the third. Bowman threw out Hill, the man of a thousand deliveries. Spencer and Allen received passes to Beck's corner, but Donohue came to their rescue when he permitted O'Hearn to count him out as he inspected the assortment of curves presented by the "Old Reliable."

Everybody Grabbed 'Em

Adams stepped into one which headed for the left field fence, but the high wind permitted Spencer to get under it. Somma went out, Falk to Galloway, and Hill speared McDonald's thumb lick.

Tex McDonald got into action and gathered in two pop fouls by Galloway and Segrist and Falk was out.

Miller opened the last half of the stanza with a drive between Segrist and Stow. Beck laid one down in front of the plate, which advanced him to second. O'Brien topped his drive and Shandling headed him off at first. Miller taking third on the play, but Sorey was out, Hill to Galloway.

Bowman grabbed for Stow's grounder and almost mussed it up, but a nice stop by Adams saved him an error. Shandling flew to center and Hill popped out to Sorey.

Bowman Registers

Kitchens opened the Spudder's half of the fifth with a walk, but Hill forced him at second on Bowman's grounder to the box. Adams sent his second drive of the afternoon to left and Spencer made a nice catch of it. Summa singled to right center and McDonald scored Bowman when he beat out an infield hit. Galloway returned the throw to Shandling in time to catch Summa at the plate.

Spencer flew out to Summa, Allen popped up to McDonald and the Sorey to Beck combination disposed of Donohue, for the sixth round.

Falk threw out Miller at first, but could not reach the fast drive which Beck shot past him. O'Brien laid down a nice sacrifice for the first baseman and Sorey passed up his second golden opportunity when his high foul socked into Shandling's mit.

Galloway busted one on the nose which sent Ray O'Brien far back toward the fence, but he got under it for the first out of the inning. Cal Segrist took four wide ones and advanced on Falk's infield out, Sorey to Beck. McDonald threw out Stow.

Kitchen's high foul found a place in Shangling's mit and Bowman sent a high fly to right. Adams went out in the same manner as Kitchens.

Shandling Ruined Things

Then Shangling tore up the playhouse for he sneaked one over behind third which Tex and Adams both tried hard to reach, but it fell safe and ruined Abe's chances for the Hall of Fame. Hill flew to the energetic O'Brien. It remained for Sorey to finish his activities with a beautiful catch of Spencer's short fly to right on which he doubled the Giant runner off first when he failed to try to return, seeing his chance was gone.

Summa was out Adams to Beck on a fast play by the short fielder. Shandling went out into the dimmond and took McDonald's high fly. Miller got his second hit of the game but was out stealing.

Bowman covered first in fine form when Beck went after Allen's slow grounder and the Giant gardner was out. Donohue was out Bowman to Beck and Galloway finished the game with a long fly to left center which O'Brien added to his collection.

"OLD TIMERS" BUT THEY'RE STILL LIVELY

These stars of yesterday turned out to play the Pirates in an exhibition game at Hot Springs during the Pirates' stay there. George Gibson, boss of the Pirates: Umpire Hank O'Day and Hugh Duffy, pilot of the Red Sox, showed that they can still step lively about the infield despite the fact they rank with the old boys. Fred Clarke, for years manager of the Smoky City team, got one of the many "big hands." Babe Adams linked the past and the present together, playing both as a star of thirteen years ago and of today, all of that time with the Pirates.

HALE FAILS TO MAKE BIG SHOW

Giants Ship Him and Other Recruits

Special to the Record News.

NEW YORK, April 14.—The New York Nationals today announced the release of the following young players:

Pitcher Larry Benton to the Memphis club of the Southern Association; Infielder Hale to the San Antonio club of the Texas league; Catcher Roy Gillenwater, and Outfielder Jack White to the Danville, Illinois, club. The latter club is managed by Joe McGinnity, former Giant pitching star and the players were sent to him by McGraw, of New York, when he made a request for some needed strength.

Frank Risch, New York's injured infield star, visited the club house, and said his physician said he might play again in about a week. He has been kept out of the line up with an infected foot.

Hale is the athletic star from Mississippi college who was heralded as one of the greatest backfield men in Southern football last year.

His release to San Antonio comes following his inability to hit big league pitching. He fields well on the infield and has an excellent arm, but like the majority of young college players, lacks experience.

DAYLIGHT ROBBERY

Lex Sorey took the mind and eyes of the crowd off Bowman in the eighth when he ran away over into right field and speared a drive off Spencer's bat. 'Twas daylight robbery and nothing else. This play was the climax to a day of fielding by Lex that bordered on the sensational throughout. The boy judged the hops perfectly and covered a world of territory.

ADAMS LOOKS GOOD

Bobby Stow, touted as a shortstop that can turn loose of them as quick as any short-fielder in the minors, didn't have a thing on Spudder Adams yesterday. "Shorty" wasn't bothered by the hops as he was the previous day and as for his throws, all he needed was for a Giant runner to be a coupla steps from the first cushion when he snapped 'em to Beck.

TEX SPEEDS UP

Tex McDonald shook a twinkling pair of twin-twelves in the fifth when he beat out a roller to Segrist, Bowman and Summa who were on the paths at that time started running when Segrist threw to first. Abe scored, but Summa was called out at the plate. It was a daring bit of base running, but Bob Bescher, who directed the base running from the third base coaching lines, is constitutionally opposed to having grass grow up in the paths.

400 BOYS ON KNOT HOLERS

Band and Everything Out for Game

Four hundred "skinnies," "fatties" and other high powered boys comprising the Knot Hole gang of the Rotary club Friday afternoon taxed the capacity of the gang's new grandstand at the ball park and with their constant yelling aided the Spudders in winning their first game of the season. It was the first game of the year for the gang which showed their appreciation in boy fashion throughout the afternoon.

The boys brought along their scout band which proved to be a feature enjoyed by all before the start of the game.

Joined by some three or four hundred boys after the game, the gang was the guest of Manager Ford of the Majestic theater. After the theater the boys gathered at the American Legion hall where they received instructions regarding membership and were organized for the year.

Joe Hatchitt was elected president of the gang; Douglass Von Allmen, vice president; Robert Mulhall, lieutenant; W. Ross Finger, cheer leader. Horace Robbins and John Gould president and secretary of the Rotary club, spoke briefly to the boys. Led by Douglas Pipes, who had charge of the gang throughout the afternoon and night, was brought to a close with a banana party at the First M. E. Church, South, where they were the guests of Dr. H. D. Knickerbocker, president.

BIG YEAR FOR KIDS

D'ja see the Rotary Knot Hole game yesterday?

New stand was full up with peppery youngsters.

Then they had a meeting last night and reported 800 members who are going to help the Spudders win lots of ball games this year.

With a band and membership like theirs, Wichita Falls surely has something to tal kabout.

And any Rotary club and baseball management that will come through like ours did certainly need talking about.

Looks like a big year for the kids.

BURKBURNETT WINS FROM JUNIOR HIGH

Junior High ball tossers were very much off form yesterday and the Burkburnett nine revenged them for a defeat that the Juniors administered them a few weeks ago to the tune of 12 to 10. The Juniors ran in three twirlers to try to stop the heavy hitting that the Burkers were indulging but to no avail, the Burk boys were out for a killing while the Juniors were in their fair city.

Both teams pounded the pitchers to the three fields of the lot, but the Burk team bunched more of theirs and with the errors of the Juniors stacked up a winning lead in the latter innings of the game.

WICHITA HIGH TAKES GAME AT IOWA

Graham Team Loses 17 to 11 on Poor Diamond

By "HANK" HAYES

The Red and Black nine won the long end of a slugfest from the Graham high school nine at Iowa Park yesterday. Hitting and erros were frequently indulged in by both teams to a large extent, but the Wichita boys played more steady and handed the Grahamites their second defeat of the season. Both nines were crippled by the loss of some of their first string men, who were taking part in the literary activities. The score was 17 to 11.

Graham started their scoring early on the hits of their men and errors of the Wichita players, but the second inning told who would be the victor of the tussle; the Red and Black lads filled the sacks on hits and free passes then Haney got up and slammed a three-bagger into left center for his first hit of the year and cleared the bases and when the inning was over Wichita had seven runs to their credit.

The Iowa Park diamond was not much of a baseball field, being covered with rocks and a sloping affair, with several barns and other hindrances over the outfield, so that several hits were counted for each that would not have been on a good diamond. The outfielders of Wichita Hi had a big day. Baldwin hit four times, a circuit, triple, and two doubles. Haney lambusted three safeties, while Clark walloped a pretty single. Kennedy, Dixon and Stewart did most of the slugging for the losers.

Neither pitcher was in very good form and all the fielders had many chances to stab a few drives, and several of them made sensational catches and likewise errors that couldn't be helped.

PERFECT GIRL

Miss Elizabeth Smith in diving pose

"The most perfect girl" has been found working in the state department at Washington. Very likely, Charles E. Hughes and doubtless a dozen or more other dignitaries have never suspected that the unassuming Miss Elizabeth B. Smith they have in the Russian bureau is one and the same with "Peggy" Smith, champion swimmer and diver.

YEA BO! BOYS DUST LIDS TO ABEY

Brisk Breeze Breaks Thru No-Hit Possibility

Move over, you baseball celebrities, past and present, and make room in the hall of fame for Abraham Lincoln Bowman. Big Abe won for himself a niche in the sunlit corner by holding Galloway's hopefuls to a single bingle during the nine frames yesterday.

Yea, Ezra, it was quite a hurling feat, all the more remarkable because the weather was anything but conducive to brilliant mound work. With the old wind whistling across the diamond like the Sunshine Special through Podunk, Abe tamed those Giants.

Hard Luck

For seven stanzas not a Dallas man got his name in the hit column. With the crowds all set to go home and tell the rest of the family how Abe Bowman started his 1922 Texas league season with a no-hit, no-run game, "Dutch" Shandling hung crepe on their aspirations. The bulky catcher, first man up in the inning, stuck his bat in front of a twister and the ball skidded over in shallow left field. 'Twas hard luck, but one hit ain't so worse.

Had the air not been quite so restless, Shandling's smack would have undoubtedly gone out far enough for Jakie Miller to lay a gloved hand on it.

Stick to It, Boy

But, on the other hand, Jakie and his fellow gardeners would probably never have been able to pick a few of them out of the air had not the zephyrs carried them back toward the grandstand.

Stay in there, Abe, and pitch. More power to your right arm. S'tew bad about that slant-stopper nicking you for a blow, but we'll overlook that and give you another chance.

VARDON NOT TO COME

The anticipated visit of Henry Vardon and Ted Ray, great English golfers, to these shores this summer looks doubtful as far as Harry's end is concerned. The veteran golfer who has been open champion of Great Britain six times, fears that he and possibly Ray will be unable to make the journey. This will be a disappointment to U. S. golfers. Vardon and Ray are two of the most popular and expert devotees of the Scotch game in Europe.

DRILLING'LL FOLLOW SHUT OFF OF GAS IN AMARILLO GULF WELL

Special to the Record News.

AMARILLO, Texas, April 14.—Straight reaming of the Gulf No. 1 began following the pulling of the casing, and an effort will be made to reset the casing in such a manner that the tremendous gas pressure encountered a few days ago, may be shut off. With the shutting off of the gas, it is expected that drilling operations will proceed without further interruption.

A small showing of gas was encountered in the W. W. Silk well, north of the Gulf Company's tests. The wel is now 2,375 feet and the gas showing is the first to be had there. Gulf-Dial No. 1 located on the Dial ranch is fishing for a string of tools at 2,900 feet.

The Greater Amarillo Company's well north of the Canadian River is drilling at 2,000 feet.

HERE'S A BATTLE

There'll be no title at stake when Danny Frush and Tony Caponi meet in New York May 5, but, boy, that ought to be a pretty battle. This Caponi is the sweetest fighter in the game today. Takes to fighting as a bad man does to gun-powder. Is a clever boxer and has a style that wins the fans the minute he starts working. Frush is a clever lad, hard to get by.

Landis Shocked by News of Pioneer Star's Passing

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 14.—Adrian C. Anson, old time baseball player, known to millions of fans as "Pop" Anson, died today at 2:30 p. m.

Mr. Anson was stricken while out walking last Sunday and was rushed to a hospital where he was operated on for glandular trouble. For a day or two his condition was critical but then he rallied and it was believed that he was out of danger. Today, however, he suffered a relapse, weakening rapidly.

"Not 'Pop' Anson? You can't mean my old pal 'Pop,' is dead?" he exclaimed when the news was given to him.

When assured that it was "Pop" Anson who was dead, the baseball commissioner said:

"Oh, I just can't say anything. He was such a wonderful fellow. And to think that he's dead——"

CHANGE DATE OF BAYLOR'S FAIR

Dirt Broken for New Farm Building

Special to the Record News.

SEYMOUR, Texas, April 14.—Dates for the Baylor County Fair and Fall Rodeo have been changed to September 19 to 23 inclusive. The original dates set at a meeting last November were for the week earlier, but the association found that in order to secure some of the best attractions for the fair it necessitated the change in dates.

Plans are steadily going forward for a big show this fall. Contract has been made for the John T. Wortham shows, a twenty car attraction for the full week of the fair and arrangements are being made for securing about 10 blanket Indians to be in attendance.

Dirt will be broken this week for the new agricultural building at the fair grounds which is to be 70x100 feet. Through this building will be the main entrance to the grounds, the front of which is to be ornamental and massive, with turnstile in center and ticket offices on sides. Architect Pate of Wichita Falls is the designer.

A pure food and textile show under the direction of the Chamber of Commerce will be held during the last weeks of May. The new building is to be completed in time for this event and definite dates will be set at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce next week. It is thought a three day program will be had and a committee is arranging the details. More than forty booths have been sold to Seymour merchants and jobbers serving this territory. The enthusiasm which is being met with has determined the Chamber of Commerce to make the pure food and textile show an annual spring attraction.

GAS-MAKERS TO MEET IN TULSA ON 27TH

Holding their first annual convention, the Association of Natural Gasoline Manufacturers will convene in Tulsa, Okla., April 27 for a two-day conference. It is announced by A. V. Bourque, secretary of the organization, that the gasoline men's meeting will deviate from the usual routine of such conventions in that a program of complete reports from the committee of the association will be carried out rather than a proceedure of a "lot of papers."

The convention will be held in the Tulsa Chamber of Commerce.

NINE MONTH PULLET LAYS 2 EGGS IN ONE BIGGEST 8 INCHES

Special to the Record News.

CLARENDON, Texas, April 14.—Last week the News carried a short story of a large egg brought to this office by W. H. Bryant, the circumference of which egg was five and five-eighths inches one way and seven and seven-eighths inches the other. Since that time T. W. Welch has had on exhibit a freak egg that is larger than the egg displayed by Mr. Bryant.

It is seven inches around the egg one way and eight inches the other. Inside of the larger egg is a smaller fully developed shelled egg. The freak was laid by a nine-month-old pullet owned by Mr. Welch. Judging from the freaks, 1922 is an unusual year.

JUDGMENT FOR DEBT

Judgment of $307.50 for the plaintiff in the case of the Burkburnett Gas company vs the Penn-Burkburnett Oil company, a suit for debt, was rendered in the county court-at-law Friday by Judge Rogers.

The American National bank was granted a judgment of $231 in a similar case against R. J. Goodale.

RUBE COWBOY BOOKED HERE

Red Sublett'll Make 'Em Chuckle at Him

Red Sublett, famous cowboy Round-Up Rube, who pulled so many daring, thrilling and comic stunts for the amusement and thrills of Round-Up spectators last year, has again been engaged to pull his arena antics at the Round-Up, which will take place at the ball park May 3, 4 and 5. Sublett is practically the only performer who will be seen in the arena who is paid a regular salary. The regular contestants all work in an effort to win the lion's share of the $6,000 in cash prizes hung up for the winners of the various events. Red will not be entered in any particular event, but following the custom of clowns, will mix a little in most everything. His daring recklessness and seeming abandonment of interest of his own personal safety, together with his riding ability, makes him one of the highest priced performers in the country. He is one of the only cowboys in the country who has mastered the art of riding a wild steer backward and may be seen riding backward on a bucking steer, carrying an umbrella, a grip, or perhaps dusting the animal's back with a feather duster.

Red does not always escape uninjured and carries many scars as a result of his recklessness, but none of his injuries have ever taken a mite of his courage away.

The judges who will judge the various contestants work and award the prizes to the winners have been selected; they are Floyd Randolph of Burbank, Oklahoma; Verne Elliott of Johnstown, Colorado and Capt. Tom L. Hickman, Captain of Company B, State Rangers. They are said to be a trio of as competent judges as ever judged a cowboy contest anywhere, and it is the opinion of many well versed in the game that the selection of so capable and fair judges will have a tendency to attract more expert contestants.

SUIT FOR PAYMENT OF NOTE NEARING END

The suit of Johnson Brothers against the Supreme Oil company involving the payment of notes totaling $5,000 alleged to be due opened Friday afternoon in the 89th district court before Judge P. A. Martin. The taking of evidence will be completed today. In the suit the plaintiff is also asking for a foreclosure of a mortgage on two drilling rigs.

SLUMP NOT DUE TO LABOR WAR

Blames Weather for Poor Trade

(Authentic Statement by Roger W. Babson to be quoted only by Wichita Falls Record News)

WELLESLEY HILLS, 82, Mass., April 15.—"Are coal strikes textile strikes, men's clothing strikes, responsible for the falling off in business during the last few weeks?"

Answering this question and the general question of whether recent industrial unrest will postpone prosperity by a full year Roger W. Babson, statistician, outlines the situation as follows:

Business men should not get faint hearted because of these strikes. Strikes are not always an economic loss. If the country were today using coal as fast as it could be mined and the coal strike resulted in shutting down factories, such a strike would be an economic loss.

Strikes, however, which occur during periods of depression are usually not economic losses. It is not an economic loss to have this coal strike continue until the great surplus stocks of coal are used up. It is not an economic loss to have the textile strike continue so long as the supply of manufactured goods exceeds the demand. We are simply using our surplus stock and the unemployment is coming all at once in bunches instead of being distributed over a long period.

Weather Hurts

A factor that has retarded business this spring is the condition of the weather. Reports from all sections of the country show that the weather the last few weeks has been very unusual. Probably no one thing would aid so much today in settling the textile strike in New England as about two weeks of good warm weather.

Another factor bearing upon this same situation is the lateness of Easter this year. Easter comes the 16th of April, which is very late. Easter or the week before Easter, is the opening of a number of lines of industry and this lateness of Easter has delayed such business. Hence, the cotton industry is quiet, the sales of raw wool have fallen off. Leather, household furnishings, jewelry and a number of those industries which are closely connected with the person and the home are exceptionally quiet this spring and more so than around the first of January.

Yet, there is more activity today in steel, iron, copper, and the metals as a class than there has been for some months. The lumber market is in a stronger position than it was a year ago, especially the better grades of lumber. Hardware and other building materials are in greater demand. It appears that the railroads are coming in again into the market. The railroads are the greatest purchasers in the country in normal times and to have the railroads come into the market would distinctly help business.

Crop reports are just beginning to come in so that we can judge something regarding the 1922 crop situation. From apparent figures so far the winter wheat yield for 1922 will be about the same as 1921. The last estimate is for 573,000,000 bushels for 1922 as compared with 587,000,000 bushels for 1921. Kansas, which looked very bad a few weeks ago, now looks much better. While the average for the state is only 65 per cent some parts show an average of 90 per cent.

The exports of wheat and corn have been very satisfactory the past few weeks and the farmers have been greatly encouraged by the better prices of cereals; also by the loosening up of money and the decline in the interest rates. The farmers are also delighted with the new tariff bill. The Senate is likely to recommend a duty of 30c a bushel on wheat, 15c a bushel on rye, and 15c a bushel on corn and oats. Whether or not these duties, if put into effort will do the farmer any good in the end is debatable, but at the present time, they are putting courage into him and the entire Central West feels much better than it did around the first of the year.

Business 14 Per Cent

Hence, as I review the situation I feel at heart very much better regarding the busines outlook because of the present willingness of men to put their money into bricks, new roads, the developing of water powers, and the strengthening of the railroads, all of which lays the foundation for a future period of prosperity.

General business meantime as reflected in the index of the Babson chart has slowed up a bit and is running at 14 per cent normal as compared with 12 per cent a week ago.

RETAIL TRADE SHOWS HEALTH

General Outlook Is Called "Spotted"

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 14.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

The general impulse is in the direction of improvement and retail trade and industry generally are better despite rains, bad country roads and strikes. The situation is necessarily so irregular, however, that the characterization of "spotted" perhaps best expresses the general outlook. As to the weather outlook conditions it might be said the rains in the west, while delaying crop work, holding down spring retail distribution, and flooding the country's streams and lowlands, however, is tending to greatly improve future crop and soil conditions. The strikes however especially that of the coal miners involving idleness of more than 600,000 miners, is a tax on industry as a whole, just as the business failures, constitute a menace to all trade and industry at a time when nearly all other prospects are pleasing.

NEGRO PAYS FINE FOR BATTLING WITH SPADE

Isaac Bradford, negro, was fined $25 and costs when he plead guilty Friday afternoon before Judge Rogers in the county court-at-law to charges of assault upon Bettie Taylor, negress. Bradford admitted that he had skillfully used a large spade in a difficulty with the Taylor negress.

A pistol which figured in the case against Bradford was in the possession of county authorities Friday and it was said that disposition of a case of pistol carrying will be made later. The argument occurred at 1416 Travis.

CUT ASSURED IN RATES BETWEEN U. S. AND MEXICO

Reduction Greatly Aids American Shippers

By Associated Press.

HOUSTON, April 14.—Material reductions in freight rates on International shipments between United States and Mexico are assured in a tentative agreement reached here today between officials of five American railways serving the Mexican border and executives of the National Railways of Mexico. Savings to shippers to be effected by through freight rates, will range from 25 per cent to 50 per cent, it was stated officially at the close of the two-day conference.

Approval Expected.

The agreement between the railroad represented at the meeting will meet with the approval of the American Railway association, the conferees believe. Sanction by the Mexican railroad commission is certain, the Mexican delegates announced.

The freight reductions will be effected through proportionate reductions which will be met by the American railroads and the Mexican lines, it was explained. Two tariffs, an American and a Mexican rate schedule, soon will be published on which through freight rates be quoted, according to the tentative plans of the conference. The American tariff will cover freight charges from American shipping points to the International border, while the Mexico proportional rate will givern the charges from the border to points in the Mexican interior, it was explained.

The proposed reductions will entail material shrinkage in rates on both the American and Mexican railways.

Advantages of Plan.

The outstanding accomplishments of the conference plan as viewed by one of the American railroad officials who attended the meeting are:

1.—The proposed freight reductions will facilitate the movement of freight between the two countries and enable American shippers to compete with Germany and other foreign exporters who are said to be making great inroad on Mexican trade by taking advantage of the present high rail rates between points in the United States and Mexico.

2.—The Mexican railways will overcome the loss in freight reductions by increased tonnage. The Mexican lines are said to have been completely rehabilitated and now in need of tonnage to keep the lines in operation.

Summer tourist rates to Mexican points already have been put into effect by the Mexican lines, it was announced at the conference.

ANTI TREATY FORCES SEIZE DUBLIN HOTEL AND COURT BUILDING

By Associated Press.

DUBLIN, April 14.—Early today the biggest coup yet effected by the Anti-Treaty party was carried out. Some 300 armed men marching in two forces seized the Four Courts building, formerly the seat of the National court of Justice, and the Four Courts hotel nearby. No opposition was encountered. Two or three constables on duty were arrested but were liberated later.

Guests at the hotel were ejected and the two buildings were fortified, pessersby being pressed into service filling sand bags and piling up stacks of books and barricades.

The seizure was reminiscent of Easter week, 1916, when the same buildings were besieged and simiiarly barricaded.

GREEKS AND TURKS RENEW HOSTILITIES

By Associated Press.

ATHENS, April 14.—Resumption of hostilities between the Greeks and Turkish Nationalists in Asia Minor on a larger scale than hitherto reached this spring, was reported in a communication today from General Papoulas, commander of the Greek forces. The communication told of an all day engagement on the Afiun-Karahissar front, when one thousand Turks, using artillery, attacked the Greeks without success.

"On the Afiun-Karahissar front," the dispatch says, dated April 12, "An enemy force of 1,000 men armed with artillery attacked our lines in the southern sector this morning. The fighting lasted until evening. The enemy was not able to occupy a single objective and was forced to retire in the evening, having suffered very heavy losses. Our losses were insignificant."

CURLEE, JOHNSON AND CRANE MOVE OFFICES

Offices of Curlee, Johnson & Crane were being moved Friday to the suite on the second floor of the Bob Waggoner building recently vacated by Drs. Walker & Fletcher, the real estate and insurance departments of the concern being consolidated for the first time since the acquisition of the insurance agency.

Vacating of the ground floor offices of Curlee & Johnson will permit the remodeling of the Howell store quarters, and the throwing of the entire space together, giving the store a much more desirable arrangement. The west entrance to the building will be through a part of the store.

The store will also utilize a part of the lobby. Plans for this arrangement were drawn by E. Stanley Field, architect, who designed the building, on a recent business trip here.

PROMINENT ARIZONAN KILLED IN ACCIDENT

By Associated Press.

TUSCON, Ariz., April 14.—Pinned beneath the wreckage of a heavy touring car when the automobile turned over while rounding a curve five miles from San Carlos and held under the machine for over six hours before aid arrived, C. Z. Prina, retired Safford capitalist and financial officer of the Graham County Highway commission, was killed late yesterday afternoon.

WOMEN CARE LITTLE FOR NEW FASHIONS —IN ODESSA, RUSSIA

ODESSA, April 14.—Spring fashions do not bother the women of Odessa. They have no new fashion journals nor cloth with which to make new dresses. Women sometimes have a hat and a few yards of rough cloth to clothe themselves.

Underclothing is an unknown quantity. So are stockings for the unlucky. Women who have cloaks or furs wear them in day time, but at night leave them home. If they did not they would be robbed in the darkened streets.

People who go to the theater travel homewards in groups for protection.

RUSSIANS GIVEN TO TODAY TO ACCEPT ALLIES' PROPOSALS

LONDON, April 14.—A Rueter's dispatch from Paris tonight says a semi-official statement, issued at the close of today's meeting of the "Big Four" of the Genoa economic conference, quoted Prime Minister Lloyd-George as having declared that unless the Russian delegation had given a favorable reply by 11 o'clock tomorrow to the proposals presented this week the Genoa conference, so far as the Russian question was concerned, would be ended.

NORWEGIA WAGES RUM RUNNING WAR

By Associated Press.

LUBECK, Germany, April 14.—Rum running from Germany to Scandanavian countries, especially Norway has assumed such proportions that a Norwegian naval patrol, including light cruisers, has been detailed to deal with the illicit traffic. During the last week there have been almost daily armed collisions with smuggling ships.

FAMOUS POODLE DOG RESTAURANT CLOSES

By Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—The old Poodle Dog restaurant, a San Francisco institution since the gold days of 1839, has succumbed to the change wrought by prohibition and will be closed soon. It is the fourth well-known restaurant in San Francisco to close since the Volstead act went into effect.

OLD PILOT BEACHED

By Associated Press.

KEY WEST, Fla., April 14.—The schooner Magic, which on Aug. 8, 1870, in lower New York bay successfully defended the America's cup against the British yacht Cambria, probably will have a final resting place on the beach or a sand-bar in the harbor here. Old, weather worn and dismasted, the vessel which once represented in all her glory the marine architecture and seamanship of the Yankee against those of the Britisher, has been condemned by her owners as useless after ending her active days afloat as a pilot boat on the Key West bar.

SOLONS READY TO HELP 13TH

People Requested to Call on Them

Needs of the Thirteenth congressional district, left without a representative through the death of Lucian W. Parrish, are receiving the closest consideration from other members of the Texas delegation in congress, all of whom were warm friends of the late congressman, according to Hubert Harrison, general manager of the Chamber of Commerce, who returned Friday from a mission to Washington.

Especially is this true, he says, of Congressman Marvin Jones of Amarillo and Hatton W. Sumners of Dallas, and Sam Hayburn of Bonham, who have all expressed themselves as willing that the members of the district call upon them as their congressmen, except of course, in the event where there might be a conflict in interest with their own districts.

WORK ON OFFICE BUILDING PUSHED

With a large force of workmen on the job the last half of the week, construction of the four-story business and office building of Wiley Wyatt on the corner of Seventh and Ohio is being rapidly pushed. The roof will be finished in ten days more, it is believed, and the building will be turned over to workmen to finish the interior. The building remained uncompleted during a term of several months when Mr. Wyatt was incapacitated as a result of a fall sustained while superintending construction.

PERIL SHOWN SERMON-DODGER

Connecting Idea of Service Broken

The practice of young folks who attend Sunday schools in "cutting" the pastor's sermon is pointed to as a moral peril in a communication from Dr. W. A. Betts, pastor of the North Side Methodist church. Dr. Betts' view of the situation follows:

"Beyond a peradventure there exists a peril to a fearsome degree in the fact that a large number of children and young folk who are pupils in the city Sunday school convening at ten o'clock fail to remain in attendance on the preaching services conducted by the pastor after a brief intermission.

"For promting piety and scriptural knowledge the pulpit service is of age-long recognition and importance as an indispensible means of grace, upon which must attend the organized congregation consisting of 'the men, the women, and the children, and the stranger that is within thy gates.' (Deuteronomy 31:12.)

"Therefore, the church member who countenances or practices the unseemly and hurtful habit of "cutting" the pastor's sermon and the exercises of public worship accompanying, has made a serious break in the connectional system of religious privilege and instruction that finds no justification at all and gives rise to a spirit of disloyalty which can but prove a real menace to the church as an institution of divine appointment.

"It cannot truthfully be alleged that the preaching service is not adapted to the comprehension of the young mind and sufficiently interesting to prevent undue weariness. The public school teacher manages to hold the undivided attention of pupils for a much longer period and profitably. The authority of legal requirement and parental encouragement assist materially the teacher. Some such constraint should popularize the pastor in his praiseworthy task.

"Evangelist Rayburn in a recent meeting at Roswell, N. M., said that the alarming neglect by young people of attendance on the public worship exercises of the church should have faithful attention of parents and church workers. He claims that it is a distressing fact that our people have been training the young to despise the preaching service of the church."

W. A. BETTS

Roads Damaged By Rains Repaired

The repair of bridges and roads in Precinct No. 1 damaged by the recent rains, was completed Friday, according to information from Commissioner J. P. Jackson. One small bridge in the precinct was washed away and three other bridges were damaged so as to necessitate some repair.

Although roads were washed out in some places the highways generally are in better shape than before the rains, Mr. Jackson said. Previous to the rains the roads had become rough and due to the long drought it was impossible to drag them. The roads have now been dragged.

Mr. Jackson said that he would soon resume the graveling of the Charlie road authorized by the commissioners' court several months ago. There has been no work done on the road for several weeks due to the dry conditions, which made it impossible to roll the gravel surface.

SUIT FILED AGAINST DISSOLVED AGENCY

The Wichita Great Underwriters a local insurance association, now dissolved, was made defendant in two suits filed in the 30th district court Friday by R. B. Thomas and G. E. Shangh. In his petition the former alleges that the association owes him $940 for fees, expenses and salary while he was in their employ as their representative in Oklahoma.

Mr. Shangh, who also claims to have been an Oklahoma representative of the association, seeks to obtain $2,200 which he alleges is due him in commissions.

HEADACHE FROM HURRIED MEALS

Busy Kentucky Public Official Says Thedford's Black-Draught Helps Him Keep Physically Fit; "Never Without It."

CLAY CITY, Ky.—"I have been in business here for 21 years; am also coroner, riding the Kentucky hills and hollows in all kinds of weather and under all kinds of conditions," says Mr. Sam T. Carr, of this place. "To be able to do so, I must keep physically fit, and Thedford's Black-Draught is my stand-by.

"These trips used to give me headaches, and that, I found, came from hurried meals or from constipation. "I was convinced that Black-Draught was good, so now I use it, and it gives perfect satisfaction. It acts on the liver, relieves indigestion, and certainly is splendid. I am never without it."

When you have a feeling of discomfort after meals, causing a bloating sensation, headache, bad breath, and similar common symptoms, try taking a pinch of Black-Draught after meals—a pinch of the dry powder, washed down with a swallow of water. This has been found to assist the stomach and liver to carry on their normal work, and helps prevent, or relieve, constipation.

Your druggist can supply you with this well-known, purely vegetable liver medicine. Insist upon Thedford's, the original and only genuine Black-Draught powdered liver medicine.—Adv.
