5977 TROUT CAUGHT LAST WEEK

The following reports show that 5,977 trout were caught here last week. This does not include the fish caught that were not reported.

Some of the sportscasters in Corpus Christi and San Antonio should do a double take and get hep to what's going on, for they still persist in trumpeting the news of a shrimp shortage around Rockport. The truth of the matter is that local dealers have been out of shrimp only once this year, and even now, when bait dealers from other areas are coming in to buy shrimp from those around Rockport harbor, have had no difficulty in furnishing their customers with all the bait they need.

Earle Thomas reports:

Thursday: Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Kerr, San Antonio and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Botts, Bartlesville, Okla., caught 113 trout.

Ann Schoonover, a last spring's graduate of the Aransas County High School, has been hired by the City Council as water clerk to replace Mrs. Louis Tuer, who will, in the near future, become city secretary.

The council in other action adopted a budget for the coming year, and voted to install needed drains and culverts at the Ann Street railroad crossing.

Laborers for the city were raised ten cents an hour by the Council, which also raised J. C. Gurley, assistant water superintendent.

Fatal Flight Takes Lives Of Two Navy Fliers Mon.

Monday morning, about 9:00 a. m., Naval Aviation Cadet William Logan Nelson, 23, son of Mrs. E. Pearl Nelson, of Napa, California, met his death in a crash about a quarter of a mile from the Aransas County Airport, when the AD 1 Skyraider in which he was practicing touch and go landings crashed and burned.

Excited onlookers said that they heard the plane's engine skipping as it banked and began a turn at the northern end of the approach to the field, then, as the engine caught again with a roar, the plane flipped over and nosed into the ground. Almost immediately catching fire.

The scene of the crash was about 400 yards north of the end of the runway, on which Nelson was preparing to land, on what reported as one of his last flights before being transferred to a formation flying squadron for additional training, and about 25 yards inside the boundary fence of the 813th AC & W station property, beween three small knolls.

The plane evidently plowed into a dense clump of sweet bay and liveoak, and so great was the heat of the fire that more than an acre of land was scorched, with trees and bushes burned or badly charred.

Navy rescue crews reached the scene of the crash almost immediately, as the crash squad stationed at the airport plowed through the rugged terrain with fire-fighting and salvage equipment. Another member of the same flight, Ensign Arthur Rudolph Bluemke, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Bluemke, of West Hempstead, New York, crashed only about fifteen minutes later, as his flight approached Cabaniss Field, home base for both the pilots who were killed.

Although the navy has been withholding the details of the accident, it is believed that the four remaining planes in the flight of which Nelson had been a part had been ordered to return to Cabaniss Field. Nearing there, Bluemke's craft sputtered on its landing approach, then plummeted nose first into the ground only about a quarter of a mile short of the Cabaniss Field runway.

United Fund Allots $300 To Library

At a special meeting held Friday afternoon, the Aransas County United Fund allotted $300 to the local Library board, composed of Mrs. Everal West, Mrs. Ellis L. Clark, Mrs. A. C. Glass, Emory M. Spencer and J. L. Baughman, to be used to defray expenses during the rest of 1957, and for the purchase of new books.

In addition, the United Fund directors, being much interested in the operation and maintenance of the library as as badly-needed facility for the area, indicated, in a letter signed by Mrs. Seth H. Steele, secretary, that they would welcome the library as a participating agency in the United Fund.

Commissioners Void Resolution On Rural Library Participation

The Commissioners Court of Aransas County, at a special meeting, voided their previous action, taken some months ago, and voted to rescind their resolution made at that time to participate in the Rural Library plan being promulgated by the State with funds recently made available by the Federal government.

At the time the resolution was originally passed, there was no indication that the county would be called upon to foot any of the bill. Later, proponents of the plan explained that while the first year's service would be free, from then on the county would be called upon to contributed a substantial amount to keep the service going.

The commissioners, once this was made plain, decided not to participate in the plan.

In other action, the commissioners voted to enter into an agreement with the State Highway Department and to purchase right-of-way from State Highway No. 35 between the Refugio-Aransas County line and the north end of Copano causeway, Aransas County agreeing to pay for one half the right of way and cost of fencing.

Local Girls Attend Preliminary Session Of Bathing Beauties

Six local girls were among twenty-one area beauties from Aransas Pass, Rockport and Ingleside, who met this week with Mrs. Margaret Poling, president of the Aransas Pass Jaycee-ettes, to discuss the upcoming four-way beauty contests to be staged there as part of the annual Aransas Pass Shrimp-O-Ree, which begins on Friday evening, August 30, and runs through Labor Day.

"Our deadline for registrations is August 27th," Mrs. Poling said, "and we do hope that girls that want to compete will remember that. Entry blanks can be obtained by contacting Mrs. Mary Martin, at the Aransas Pass Junior Chamber of Commerce office, either in person or by mail.

"The contest is open to girls from other towns as well," Mrs. Poling said, "and if they don't have a sponsor maybe we can help them find one. Just write the local Jaycees and we'll see that you get an entry blank.

"We have changed the schedule this year, and the senior contest, for the title of Miss-Shrimp-O-Ree, will be held on Friday night, as part of the coronation ceremonies when King Shrimp-O-Ree is crowned."

Sub-teens (13 to 14 years), juniors (7 to 12), and tiny tots (3 to 6) will be judged Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Poling said, and she pointed out that one important change in the rules for the competition had been made this year.

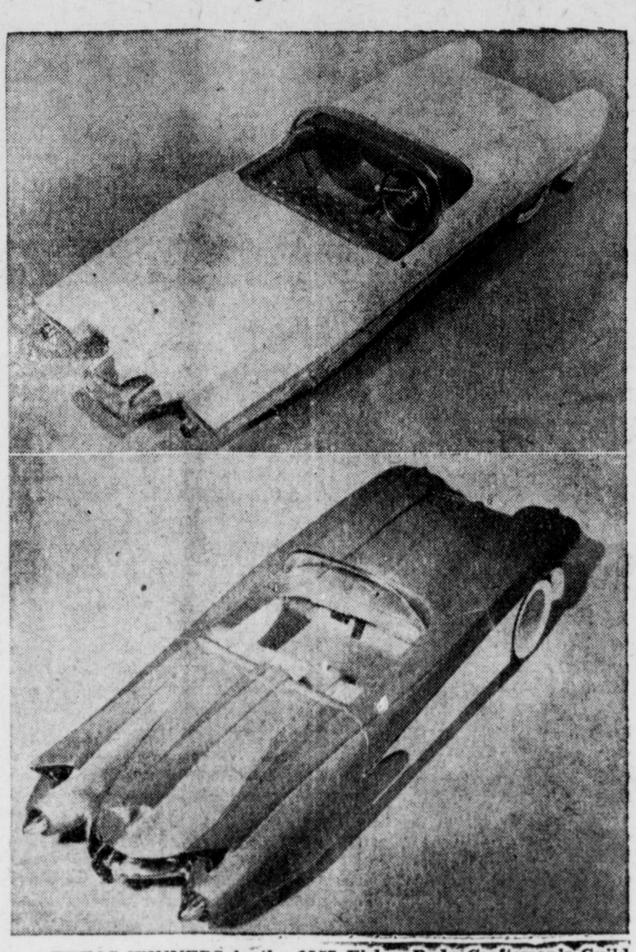

Any girl who wants to may compete in age groups older than she is. Thus a sub-teenager, 13-14, may, if she desires, compete in the senior divisions, which is fifteen and up."

Attending the session from Rockport were Mary Lucille Jackson, Charia Hare, Clara Rodriguez, Robbie Bocquet, Gloria Rodriguez, Betty Mae Armstrong, and Mrs. S. F. Jackson.

Sherman Mundine Arrests Ingleside Youth Who Shot Brother Monday During Course of Family Squabble

Douglas Brooks, 14, who shot and wounded his older brother Monday during the course of a family squabble, was picked up in the Del Mar Grill about 7:00 a. m. Tuesday by Deputy Sheriff Sherman Mundine, of the Aransas County sheriff's department, and turned over to Jack Johnson, San Patricio County Constable, and Felix Tournbough, Aransas Pass Chief of Police.

The youth told the Aransas Pass officers at the time of his arrest that he was "still mad" at his family and that, if he was free he "would probably do it again."

Brooks told police he had spent the night in a culvert.

The brother, John Allen Brooks, meanwhile, was reported in "satisfactory" condition at Aransas Pass Hospital, where he was taken by his mother immediately after the shooting at their Ingleside home. The boys are sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Brooks.

The bullet from a .22 caliber revolver hit John Allen in the mouth, knocking out two front teeth and cutting through his tongue. The boy swallowed both teeth and the bullet.

Douglas was questioned by Aransas Pass police Tuesday morning.

Tuesday morning Arthur D. Villane, an Aransas Pass construction worker, saw young Brooks walking on the highway.

Having read a news story of the shooting in the Caller, Villane said he believed it was the Brooks boy from the description the newspapers had given. He took him to a cafe in Rockport and called Deputy Sheriff Mundine, who called Constable Jack Johnson of Aransas Pass.

Eddie Barrow of Sinton, San Patricio County juvenile consultant, also was called in on the questioning of the boy.

Brooks was described by his mother as a "straight A student," whose IQ tests showed a "mental capacity of a college freshman instead of a high school freshman."

Mrs. Brooks said she had an argument with Douglas a few minutes before the shooting, insisting that he remove the plates from the heels of his shoes because they scuffed the floor.

She believed he got the gun from a drawer intending to scare her. She heard John Allen tell him to put the gun away, then the elder brother stumbled into the bedroom, choking.

"I know he did not mean to shoot at John or me," the mother said.

"He probably wanted to scare us. He has been very nervous since last October, when his appendix ruptured and he was critically ill for four days."

An older brother is in the Navy, she said, and Douglas planned to make the Navy his career.

Highway Department Seeks Permit For Causeway Construction

The Texas State Highway Department has applied to the Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army, for permission to construct a causeway through Redfish & Corpus Christi bays, on Texas Highway 361 from Aransas Pass to Harbor Island, in Nueces County.

The Highway Department, in its application, proposes to replace an existing causeway with a causeway of hydraulic earth fill and concrete brdges. The center line of the present roadway. The causeway would have a total length of 34,116 feet. The roadway would have a top elevation of 6.5 feet above mean low water, except on bridge approaches. The causeway would include a fixed bridge to be constructed across the authorized relocated route of the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway by the U. S. Government, which would have a total length of 2,096 feet and would provide a vertical clearance of 50 feet at mean low tide, Corps of Engineers datum, and a horizontal clearance of 125 feet beween fenders. A fixed bridge 420 feet long consisting of fourteen 30-foot spans and providing a vertical clearance of 10 feet would be built across Morris and Cummings Cut. A fixed bridge 2,010 feet long consisting of sixty-seven 30-foot spans and providing a vertical clearance of 10 feet would be built 1,380 feet southeastward from the bridge across Morris and Cummings Cut. Material for the embankment would be obtained by dredging a channel about 12 feet deep and at least 50 feet wide parallel to and 310 feet southwestward from the center of roadway or from the Channel to Aransas Pass.

New Phone Books Are Nearly Ready

Directories Containing New Seven-Pull Phone Numbers Are To Be Mailed On July 26th, And These Numbers Will Go Into Effect On August 4

New telephone directories will be received by mail in Rockport commencing in a day or two — in ample time for Rockport telephone users to start dialing their new two-letter and five-numeral telephone numbers beginning Sunday morning, August 4.

A 1:01 a. m. Sunday, August 4, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company technicians will switch 1300 telephone lines here from the old to the new numbering scheme.

According to Stan Bell, district manager for the company, all is in readiness for the change.

The new telephone books are to be mailed July 26, telephone number designations have been placed at business locations, and telephone dial discs, pre-printed with the new "2-5" numbers, will be mailed to all residential subscribers.

What's left to be done is the modification of dial switching units in the telephone central office buildng so that they will accommodate the new seven-pull telephone numbers.

This is no simple task to be completed in a minute or two, Bell said. "Telephone men will be on duty Saturday afternoon and early Sunday morning. While the actual change in numbering will take place Sunday at 1:01 a. m., the work will be done in three stages.

"During Saturday afternoon and early evening, the telephone men will be working on the dial switches in the central office, getting them ready for the change. Step two will be the actual conversion to the numbering scheme early Sunday morning. Step three will involve final equipment adjustments and rearrangement of trunk lines in the central office."

Bell pointed out the telephone using public will hardly be aware of the activity taking place in the telephone central office during the Saturday-Sunday interval.

"Our customers' lines will not be affected by the work on the dial apparatus," said the district manager. "Everyone can continue to use his telephone — dialing the existing numbers — until 1:01 a. m. Sunday. After that time, all that's necessary is to dial the new two-letter, five-numeral numbers as shown in the new telephone directory. It's as simple as that."

So, for anyone who cares to wait up until early Sunday on August 4 to see if the telephone company is on the ball, the switchover will seem instantaneous.

Several months of careful planning by telephone people have gone into making the changeover as smooth as possible, with little inconvenience to the telephone users.

The new Rockport telephone directory contains all the new telephone numbers and has a boxed warning on the cover: amberalsvoo?e

Bell urges all Rockport telephone users to be sure of the new telephone numbers by looking in the directory. While some numbers will only acquire the new "SO-4" prefix, about 800 will be changed completely, he said.

IT'S THE LAW ★ in Texas ★

A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

Agency Law Explained

Suppose that you hire your neighbor's teen age son, Jimmy, to cut your grass, and he runs your new mower into another neighbor's hedge. The hedge is ruined. Are you responsible for the damages? Quite likely you are.

Or let us suppose that you find you need a loaf of bread for the evening meal. You ask a friend to take your car and run to the store for it. On the way, he runs down old Mr. Peabody, seriously injuring him. Can you be held responsible? It is possible that you can.

In both instances, an "agent" was acting for you. His acts while performing those duties are, in the eyes of the law, your acts. In legal terms, your are the "principal".

You may be liable despite the fact that you may have cautioned him to be extremely careful.

The average individual expects to answer for his own actions. He does not usually consider that he may be responsible for the actions of other persons. That, however, is frequently the case.

Suppose you ask another person to do something for you, that is, to act as your agent. You may pay him, or he may be doing it without compensation.

You may ask him to buy or sell property for you. Or, his responsibility may be to negotiate an agreement for you with a third person.

If representations or warranties are made by your agent in performing the task which you assigned to him, you are responsible.

In a like manner, you are responsible for the contract made by him while he was acting for you.

You may be held responsible for the acts of a person who customarily represents you even though he entered into a contract for you without your consent or approval.

For example, you may have a partner in a business, and you and he have agreed that certain contracts shall be made only upon the signature of both of you.

Unknown to you and without your consent, your partner signs such a contract with a third person involving partnership business. If the person with whom this contract is made as no knowledge of the terms of your partnership agreement, you are responsible for the contract which your partner has made.

You may have agreed between you that neither of you would buy, without the other's consent, any items or merchandise costing more than $50. You did not give this information to salesmen who called on you. In your absence on a Thursday afternoon, your partner ordered merchandise for your store costing more than the $50 limit.

When the merchandise is delivered, you can not refuse to accept it because you can be bound by the contract of your partner. This is true in many situations, and the salesman is not bound by your partnership agreement because you did not advise him of $50 limitation.

As the actions of your agent are considered to be your actions, you assume the responsibility of his doing them correctly.

(This colmn, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

California Subdivision Named After Texas Town

Years ago, when William Kent, Jr., visited here, he took note of the little town of Seadrift, and was so intrigued by the name that he named a subdivision in his own home town of Stinson Beach, Marin County, California, after the Texas community.

Kent's father, U. S. Senator William Kent, Sr., and Charles R. Crane, founder of the Crane Plumbing Company, became interested in Live Oak Peninsula land many years ago. Their names along with that of Emory M. Spencer, local attorney and oil man, is perpetuated in the signs on the Spencer-Kent-Crane oil leases in the northern part of the peninsula.

Interesting Book On Gulf Authored By Florida Writer

An interesting book on the Gulf, or rather on the shore of the Gulf, has recently been issued by Harper's written by Leonard Ormerod, a misplaced Texan, now living in Miami Beach.

"The Curving Shore", as he has named it, deals with that whole wonderful and colorful crescent reaching from Brownsville to Key West, and some idea of its flavor can be gained from the chapter headings.

He starts off with the Magic Valley of the Rio Grande, and gives a pretty good cross section of the region within the limits of the space he has, along with its history from the Mexican War to the present day.

Some forgotten items of interest appear in this resume — like the 1906 Brownsville riots; the fact that a young army doctor, William C. Gorgas, then a lieutenant, first began his great work of eliminating yellow fever from much of the world while stationed in Brownsville.

The chapter on the King Ranch discloses no new or particularly startling information, nor will any book written about the place, which has been highly publicized over a period of years.

Corpus Christi and its growth rate some fifteen or twenty pages, in which Ormerfod tries to pack in everything from the pelicans along the shore to the industries and doesn't do too bad a job.

Between Corpus Christi and Houston the author merely drops names, mentioning the various aluminum plants, Dow Chemical, Sid Richardson, Clint Murchison, Indianola and other natural phenomena, but he gives Houston and Galveston the treatment, a chapter apiece.

In fact, he gives Galveston more, for he devotes half of another chapter to the Galveston flood, splitting it with the Texas City explosion.

Ormerod then travels eastward via Beaumont and Port Arthur, telling the story of Dick Dowling, hero of the Texan revolution, en route, and throwing in some miscellaneous information on oil, Spindletop, rice farming, and the high bridge at Orange, spanning the Sabine River.

He doesn't miss a lick as he goes, either. Sugar cane and Evangeline come in for their share of attention; the old, old stories of New Orleans are trotted out for inspection; and the story of Lafitte is told again, as it has been told so many times before, although Ormerod does come up with some new and interesting material on the pirate. And so the story goes, on down the way, to end at Key West.

It is a good volume, if not exactly inspired. Ormerod has had a difficult task — to write a travelogue without making it sound like one — and he did a good job at it.

Here are new sidelights on many of the happenings along the Gulf, and as the only single volume of its kind, the author has brought together a wealth of interesting information about a tremendously interesting area.

Whether you have never made the trip, or whether you've made it a dozen times or more, there's still something in Ormerod's book for you, to heighten your enjoyment of a fascinating region.

This book, by the way, has recently been purchased for the Aransas County Library, open Tuesday and Friday afternoon, and may be had for the borrowing.

KANKAKEE FLASH WRITES FRIENDS

Bill Savoie, the Kankakee Flash, who has been spending his winters in Rockport for the last eight or ten years, writes friends here that he is doing fine, and that all's well with hm. However, no one seems quite sure whether he wrote before or after the flash floods in that area and around Chicago occurred. Kankakee was partially under water, also, and while Savoie is supposed to be a pretty good fisherman, no one around here is sure that he can swim like one.

Wendell-Turbeville Wedding Solemnized Sun.

The marriage of Miss Janice Ann Turbeville and Jerry Wendell was solemnized Sunday afternoon at four thirty, July twenty-third at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Lockhart. The formal double ring ceremony was read by Father Floyd Bielamowicz, pastor of the church.

The bride, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Littlefield, is a graduate of the University of Texas where she was a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority. While at the University, she was a finalist for Blue Bonnet Belle, a member of Newman Club and South Central Texas Club. She was chosen "Miss Wool" in 1955-56 and also was a Vanity Fair Beauty at Texas A. & M. The past year she taught school in Lockhart Public Schools.

The bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Will Warren Wendell of Fulton, Texas. He attended the University of Texas and received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Trinitiy University where he was co-captain of the football team.

Baskets of white mums, palms and ferns decorated the Communion rail. Mrs. David French, the organist, played selections before the wedding and accompanied the Lockhart High School Sextette, who sang Franck's "Panis Angelious". The soloist, Louine Noble, sang Schubert's "Ave Maria" accompanied by Mrs. French.

The bride entered with Dr. Littlefield, who gave her in marriage. She was gowned in snowy white imported rose point lace and chiffon tulle, fashioned with a molded, elongated bodice of lace over tulle and taffeta which joined the bouffant lace skirt in deep points. Her long fitted sleeves of lace ended in petal points. The decolletege of the neckline was framed by a set in yoke of criss-cross bands of tulle. A very full skirt was of lace over many layers of tulle over taffeta and edged all around the hemline with a wide, scalloped border of the pattern of the lace re-appliqued on. It was worn over hoops and crinolines and swept into a court train. Tiers of French illusion cascaded from her dainty handmade queen's crown of tulle encrusted with iridescent sequins and tiny seed pearls. Her First Holy Communion Prayer Book was topped by a white orchid and stephanotis.

Miss Marlene Polka of Yoakum, Texas, was her maid of honor and Mrs. Bill Bowers of Lockhart was bridesmaid. They were gowned identically in ballet length dresses of petal pink chiffon over net and taffeta. The softly shirred, elongated bodices set on to gathered full skirts of chiffon over net and taffeta. Wide, crushed drapes of chiffon swept around the upper part of the bodices in front to form a cowl effect and then fell in floating panels to the back almost to the hemlines. They wore matching pink horse hair half crowns with short, circular veils of maline and carried cascading bouquets of Better Times roses.

Miss Linda DeForest of Fulton, Texas, cousin of the bridegroom, was flower girl and wore a bouffant white net floor length dress over taffeta. Tiny double ruffles circled the skirt and framed the neck. Her tiny half hat was covered with double ruffles of net and she carried a basket of rose petals.

Serving as best man was Delo H. Caspary of Rockport and Harold Picton of Rockport was groomsman. Ushers were Bill Bowers of Lockhart, Jack Schultz of Brownsville, Lloyd Parker of San Antonio, James Cox of Rockport, and Monroe DeForest of Fulton.

Mrs. C. W. Littlefield, the bride's mother wore a soft pink silk chiffon dress in an afternoon length. Her hat was in matching pink tones in a profile silhouette encrusted with sequins, pearls, and bugle beads. She also chose a lavender orchid to complete her ensemble.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at St. Mary's Parish Hall for about three hundred guests. In the receiving line were the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Littlefeld, the grooms sister, Mrs. Ernest Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Wendell and members of the bridal party.

Baskets of mum, fern tree, and palms were between the two serving tables. The brides table was laid with white net over pink and was surrounded by garlands of fern. The double ring cake was centered with delicate pink roses. Serving the cake were Mrs. Jack Towns of Luling, and Mrs. Lee Littlefield of Shiner. Presiding at the punch bowls were Mrs. Edward Graham Powell of Austin, and Mrs. R. E. Brown, Jr. of Lockhart. The bride's book was attended by Miss Jo Denton of Dallas, and Mrs. Jack Williams of Kingsville. Other members of the house party were Mrs. W. C. Polka of Yoakum and Mrs. D. K. Parr of Lockhart.

Disabled Persons Eligible For Assistance

Complete and permanent invalids or persons in the community so mentally deranged that they require continuous oversight to keep from harming themselves or others may soon be able to receive small monthly checks from their State Department of Public Welfare through the new state-federal program of Aid to the Permanently and Totally Disabled. The Constitutional Amendment, which was adopted by the voters in November, 1956, limiting the amount of money that can be appropriated for this program to 1.5 million dollars per year, makes aid possible only to those who are helpless and have no relatives able to support them.

Mrs. Eula L. Burton, Welfare Supervisor for this area, pointed out this is the only welfare program which requires consideration of the ability of relatives to support. This law defines "responsible relatives" as children, parents, step-children, step-parents, brothers and sisters. Mrs. Burton said that for the first time in nearly 20 years the Department's Field Worker will be requiried by law to determine the resources of relatives of persons who apply for aid.

The "permanency" and "totality" of the disability will be determined by a State Reviewng Physician after study of a complete physical or mental examination by the person's own private physician. Complete helplessness from a medical standpoint, rather than inabilitiy to work, is the criteria. The state wll pay the private physician for his examination.

Funds for assistance payments will not be available until September 1, 1957, but applications will be taken after July 15. While the helpless individual will not be able to leave home, the persons responsible for his care may come to the local welfare office and acquaint the Department with his situation. A Field Worker will then call, as soon as possible, at the home to take the application.

Offices in this area are located at: Refugio County Courthouse, Refugio, Texas; San Patricio County Courthouse, Sinton, Texas; and Bee County Courthouse, Beeville, Texas; Aransas County Courthouse, Rockport, Texas. Applications for this program in the Rockport Office are taken each 2nd and fourth Tuesdays of the month.

Mrs. C. A. Turner and son, Charles, and her brother, J. W. Brundrett and her father, Mr. Joe Brundrett, all of Normana, Texas, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Olmstead. Mrs. Turner is Mrs. Olmstead's sister-in-law.

MANY LOCAL PEOPLE RECEIVE SOCIAL SECURITY INSURANCE

In Aransas county, 270 residents received $12,062 in retirement and family insurance payments under the Social Security Act in January of this year. A comprehensive report from District Manager H. M. Cleveland of the Social Security Administration in Corpus Christi shows that monthly payments in this county are equivalent to a payroll of more than $144,744.00 a year at this time.

The right to the insurance payments is earned by workers who are engaged in work that is covered by social security. Almost every occupation is now covered by the law. The payments are made as a matter of right to older persons, to disabled workers, and to the widows and children of deceased workers. Family payments range from $24 to $200 a month. In each case, the amount which can be paid on a worker's account depends upon his total earnings and the ages and relationship of the members of his family.

Persons who believe they may be eligible to receive the social security insurance should address an inquiry to the Social Security Administration, 530 South Water Stree, Corpus Christi, Texas.

The number of beneficiaries will increase more rapidly than usual this year, for the following reasons:

(1) Last November, the retirement age for women was reduced from 65 to 62.

(2) Payments to disabled children over age 18 were made for January of this year for the first time.

(3) July of this year is the first month for which insurance can be paid to qualified disabled workers over age 50.

(4) Farm and ranch operators and ministers were first covered by the law in 1955; now that they have two years for coverage, the older ones are applying for their retirement insurance.

(5) In 1956, attorneys, veterinarians, chiropractors, optometrists, and those engaged in a few other occupations first came under the law; the older ones can become entitled to the benefits after coverage in both 1956 and 1957.

"These social security payments are intended to help enable the families of retired, disabled or deceased workers to continue to live in comfort after a worker's earnings have been reduced or cut off in older years or death," Cleveland said.

"As family life is protected with this continuing income after working days are over, so also is society strengthened," he continued. "The regular flow of purchasing power into the community tends to sustain business to the advantage of all of us."

Audrey Leaves Mark On Coast

Austin, Texas — Hurricane Audrey left her mark on the Texas coast, but without too much damage to fishing resources, according to the Executive Secretary of the Texas Game and Fish Commission.

"For a while it looked like nature had done a wonderful job of opening some of our passes," he said. "However, these passes have been refilled with sand. They did permit the flow of water from the Gulf into some of the bays and this was beneficial."

Howard Lee, iDrector of the Marine Laboratory at Rockport, reported that Cedar Bayou, North Pass, Packer Pass and Corpus Christi Pass were temporarily opened.

Rollover Pass was not affected. The bridge remained intact, but there was a washout of the road at one end of the bridge. This has been repaired.

Wardens in the coastal area reported some fish were trapped after they had been washed into the marshes by the high winds. The number was small, however.

Fishing was badly hit along the coast last week, with many boats staying inside the harbor. The Gulf waters remained choppy this week, but conditions looked much more favorable in the bay areas. There has been an ample amount of live bait, although shrimp are now attaining size and smaller shrimp for bait will be harder to get.

LOCKHART STATE PARK on State Highway 964 has a rehabilitated golf course as this season's major improvement. Both greens and fairways have been aerated and cultivated. Last year's improvement of the bath house and swimming pool has made the park more popular then ever with residents of nearby Lockhart and the personnel of Gary Air Force Base.—Photo by Gordon Lupton.

Park of the Week Lockhart State Park

Lockhart State Park has a natural setting along Clarefoot Creek in Caldwell County. The site is so attractive that it was accepted for Civilian Conservation Corps construction though it was about half the 500-acre minimum then set as a standard.

The park's swimming pool and its varied nine-hole golf course are attractions that draw large crowds from nearby Lockhart and from Camp Gary.

Good views of the surrounding country are obtainable from the recreation building on the ridge top. A broad terrace on this hill top installation is especially enjoyable for evening dancing or dining.

CCC works cleared the site of the park golf course. The Lockhart Business Men's Club co-operating with the Works Prograess Administration, completed it. The first tee, originally, was on the hill top and was said to have the greatest drop of any golf course. Its novelty was offset by the difficulty to climb, and the present course is all on lower ground. Extensive work has been done in the last year improving both fairways and greens. Modest green fees pay for its up-keep.

The park swimming pool also has undergone recent improvement. The old bathhouse has been refloored. The water supply for the pool now comes from the artesian wells that supply the City of Lockhart. Formerly the flow of Clarefoot Creek was diverted into the pool. Pool play equipment has been installed. The sloping lawn from the pool to the bathhouse is a popular place for sunning.

Park visitors, by making a short drive, can see the site of one of the famous fights between Indans and white settlers. This was the battle of Plum Creek which took place August 12, 1840

A war party of Comanches was halted there on their return from the sacking of Linnville in a bloody raid through the Guadalupe Valley. An aroused band of Texans who were determined to put an end to the Indian raids, soundly whipped the Redskins. Among the Texas leaders were General Edward Burleson, Matthew Caldwell, Jack Hays, Ben McCulloch and Felix Huston.

Road directions near the south limits of the City of Lockhart on U. S. Highway 183 show the way to the park.

Problem of Moving Materials Serious One In These Days

The job of moving goods from place to place in this growing country is a big task and one that is always changing. Among recent new developments is the construction of a pipeline for transporting coal in Ohio.

The pipeline is 108 miles long. It is expected to carry over 1 million tons a year. The coal will be pulverized, mixed with water and pumped as a slurry through the long line. It will then be dried and fed into boilers to make steam for electric power.

Meanwhile, there were other new developments in transportation.

A gleaming white cargo ship arrived at a dock near New York City a few weeks ago, with its stainless steel tanks carrying 650,000 gallons of fresh Florida orange juice. Ultimately the vessel will carry nearly 1.5 million gallons a trip.

At the same time, a conveyor belt more than 1,000 feet long and 60 inches wide was on its way from Akron, Ohio, to Puerto Ordaz, Venezuela, where it will be used to transport iron ore destined for the United States.

In Minnesota, a system of 25 shuttle belt conveyors was being built to load taconite pellets into Great Lakes ore vessels. Each conveyor was designed to load 1500 gross tons of taconite an hour. Up to ten alternate hatches will be filled simultaneously.

Railroad piggybacking is another form of freight transportation undergoing rapid expansion, especially in the past three years.

Piggybacking involves placing loaded truck trailers on railroad flatcars to be carried to their destination. The trailers are then picked up by truck tractors for actual customer delivery. The service is fast and cuts freight damage to a minimum.

Today, 47 railroads, including bridge and terminal lines, operate piggybacks with service throughout the country. Predictions are that within 10 years, piggyback revenue will run as high as $1 billion a year.

South Texas Has Great Highway Building Scheduled For Next 2 Years, Some In Rockport and Aransas County

South Texas within the next two years— is going to see a tremendous amount of new road construction, if nothing goes awry with State Highway Department plans.

In Nueces County, the major project will be a $3.5 million causeway across Nueces Bay, on Highway 181. This causeway will parallel the present one, ten feet to the eastward, and, upon completion, will be one-way north, while the older one, built seven years ago, will handle southbound traffic.

Next in importance, or perhaps even more so, are the Highway 44 expressways on which both city and highway officials have submitted plans to the Highway Commission, and the widening to four lanes of Lexington Boulevard, from the Chapman Ranch Road to Four Bluff, in the outskirts of Corpus Christi.

In San Patricio County perhaps the biggest engineering work scheduled is the Aransas Pass-Port Aransas Causeway, on which Highway Department District Engineer T. O. Foster, of Corpus Christi, says his office is about ready to request a work permit from the Corps of Engineers.

While the causewhy will be built by the Highway Department, the Corps of Engineers recently unveiled plans for a highlevel bridge across the Intracoastal Canal Cut-off, which will be an integral part of the causeway.

Elsewhere in San Patricio there is enough roadwork that the commissioners' court recently asked for a half-million-dollar bond issue to defray right-of-way costs. Highway 181 is to be widened to four lanes between Sinton and Gregory, the fisherman's road to Bayside is being refurbished, and the program also embraces lesser county and farm-to-market roads.

Aransas County work on Highway 35, between Copano Causeway and the Refugio County line is already underway, and there is a move on foot to enlarge the business route through Rockport and to install curbs and gutters over this section of the road.

The old concrete roadway on Highway 35 in Refugio County — 14 miles of very poor highway at the present —is in for a complete face - lifting and, near Refugio itself, a long-overdue bridge is to be built. Four lanes wide when finished, it will replace the narrow, two-lane iron structure over the Mission River, just south of town.

To the west, almost complete rebuilding is slated for Highway 239 from Kenedy to the Goliad County line, for Highway 281 from the Live Oak County line to Alice, and Highway 181 from the Bee County line to Pettus.

Curbs and gutters are also slated for installation on the business route through Kenedy.

In Calhoun County, the largest project scheduled is a $7 million causeway over Lavaca Bay, to replace the bottleneck caused by the present, rickety, two-lane wooden structure.

However, W. A. King, resident engineer for the State Highway Department at Victoria says that the new bridge could begin within twelve months if the Corps of Engineers issues the requested permit for work, and the necessary funds are granted by the State Highway Commission.

Plans are for a fixed structure to replace the existing bascule bridge, and this bridge would consist of a 98-foot navigation span over the channel to Red Bluff, with a vertical clearance of 45 feet at mean low tide. Total length of bridge and approaches would be 10,400 feet.

Another bridge, a two lane structure, is planned for Falls City, over in Karnes County, where Highway 181 is crossed by the San Antonio River, and in Matagorda County, where voters recently voted over $400,000 for right-of-way acquisition, extensive construction is also planned.

Foster, commenting on the Orange-Houston-Brownsville highway, said that it would probably take five to ten years to complete.

"I think we will have to do it piecemeal," he said, "working on the most heavily traveled section first."

Plans for the highway within his district have been submitted to the Austin office, Foster said, where they are being correlated with plans from other districts.

A delegation of about 200 persons from all along the route appeared before the State Highway Commission in Austin last year, when construction of the superhighway was first discussed, and as a result of this, all districts were asked to draw up these plans, Foster said.

The district engineer says that most of the road will probably utilize present routes of highways 59 and 77, but that some new road will probably be constructed to by-pass the larger towns on the route.

"Right-of-way costs in Kingsville, Robstown, Bishop perhaps, Sinton and several others would be too much to allow us to build through. In other case the road will be improved and probably widened to four lanes when traffic warrants it."

Some of the highway may eventually be increased to a width of six lanes if tentative original plans are followed.

Fire Ants, New Pest, Getting Closer and Closer

Fire ants, a new Texas pest, are getting closer and closer to Rockport. Previously reported only from near Mobile, Alabama, where they were supposed to have been transplanted by boats from foreign lands, they are believed to have shown up in the northern part of Colorado, according to County Agent Doyle Moore, of Columbus.

He said the positive identification of the trouble makers has not been made, but that specimens seen in the northern part of the county look like fire ants.

He says that fire ants have painful stings that cause boil-like sores on human beings, and sometimes the ants attack young, unprotected animals such as newborn calves and newly-hatched poultry.

"The imported fire ants distinguish themselves by the mounds they build," Mr. Moore points out. "The mound of a new colony may be only a few inches high but as the colony grows, so does the mound. The average mound is 10 to 12 inches high."

Mr. Moore recommends an insecticide that contains 10 per cent chlordane, five per cent dieldrin or aldrin or five per cent heptachlor as a dust to control fire ants.

"Back Home" Revolt!

The most important news thus far in this session of Congress is continuance of the "back home" revolt against the $71.8 billion budget.

If the revolt loses steam, Congress may falter in its economy efforts — if the "back home" demands for economy keep up, there's a good chance for real accomplishment.

The fight to cut the budget will continue until June 30 — usual Congressional deadline for completion of action on appropriation bills.

Congressional savings thus far — chiefly in the House — are placed at $1,141,000,000. Economy bloc leaders hope to cut the budget by at least $3-billion.

An avalanche of letters to Senators and Representatives protesting against huge expenditures — demanding relief from onerous taxes, protesting radical New-Fair Deal measures — also has acted as a brake on some other legislation.

The revolt against reckless expenditures has astonished members of Congress, given conservatives new heart, restrained the "welfare state" advocates and the political big spenders.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Childs and daughters of LaPorte visited with Mr. and Mrs. L. V. McLester this past week.

all telephone numbers will change in Rockport on C-Day

The Metropolitan Number System will be placed in effect here at 1:01 a.m. on Sunday, August 4. That date will be C-Day (Change Day) for all telephone numbers in Rockport.

The new numbering plan will introduce the central office name "SOuthfield 4" for this city. About 800 telephone numbers will be changed completely, but for some telephones here there will be no change in the last four numerals of the telephone number. Only the new central office prefix "SOuthfield 4" will be added.

You will call a new way. But the change is simple, and it paves the way for telephone progress.

Just as easy... only different

Starting C-Day, you'll dial the first two letters of the central office name, then the five numerals. For example, to call SOuthfield 4-6299, you dial S-O-4-6-2-9-9.

When you give a telephone number to the operator, or repeat it to a friend, the easy way to say it is to break it up like this:

"SOuthfield four—six-two—nine-nine."

This is the best way to say it—to understand it—to remember it.

SOuthfield 4-6299

HERE'S THE NEW LOOK IN TELEPHONE NUMBERS

New system means telephone progress

The change on August 4 will provide a telephone numbering plan for this city in keeping with those already in effect in such large cities as New York, Chicago, Houston, and others. It is part of a nationwide plan to extend the operator long distance dialing network, and the new numbering scheme paves the way for the connection of this city to the network. It also will permit further telephone expansion here with numbers that are easier to remember.

Mrs. Alberta Nugent, veteran assistant chief operator for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, has just been honored for service spanning 40 years.

At a party attended by friends and co-workers, Mrs. Nugent was given a necklace with a diamond-encrusted Bell emblem marking her long service.

Mrs. Nugent's telephone career began at Rockport where she was hired as a long distance operator in 1915. When a tidal wave in the great storm of 1919 desroyed the Rockport telephone building, she moved to Houston where she also served as an operator.

Other jobs she has held in Houston include that of service assistant, chief instructor and central office instructor.

SHERIFF SHIVERS ATTENDING PEACE OFFICERS' MEETING

Sheriff A. C. Shivers, of Aransas County, left Sunday for Houston, accompanied by Mrs. Shivers to attend the sheriffs' convention there July 22-24.

With them went Mary Martha, their daughter, and Mary Lucille Jackson, who will visit friends.

In one of the opening sessions, the assembled sheriffs heard R. E. Crowder, former chief of the Texas Rangers, who said that law enforcement is a product that must be sold, and every officer is a salesman.

Crowder, who now heads one of the new Department of Public Safety districts set up last week, said the public must be "sold" on law enforcement and must be convinced that officers need their help.

He urged all officers to accept invitations to speak to all civic groups and clubs.

As for the Rangers, Crowder said: "We believe in co-operation — it has never been our policy to take over your duties and we will not invade your jurisdiction without invitation."

He explained the Rangers offer the best technical facilities "this side of Washington."

In the past year, Crowder said, Rangers assisted in 215 of the 1003 murder cases in the state; in 58 of the 1385 criminal assault investigations; in 278 of the 2445 armed robbery investigatons; helped solve 1602 of the 31,900 burglaries; and assisted in 1511 of the 63,000 theft investigations.

Summer Homes Become More and More Functional As Seaside Colony Expands

Over the years, a lot of people have left the country and worked like dogs so they could afford to move back to the country once more.

Whether that applies to everyone is a moot question, and whether you could call Rockport and Fulton country is another one, but the fact remains that there are quite a number of persons from Corpus Christi, San Antonio and Victoria that like to spend the summer in these two towns, and have built homes here to use during the hot months.

Relaxation at the seaside being the reason for most of these homes, their design frequently carries out that motif, even though in recent years they have grown from simple cottages to complete establishments, with all the facilities needed for entertaining large numbers of city friends. Most of them are sturdy — to withstand the continual Gulf breeze that has bent the live oaks low — and a lot of them are nautical, with a more or less authentic touch of the sea, or what their occupants consider local color.

C. C. Simpson, San Antonio architect, designed his own cabin at Rockport with casual living in mind. Exposed ceiling beams and Philippine mahogany panelling are functional, as is the practical asphalt tile floor. A sliding door divides the living room when an extra bedroom is needed (and that's often).

While the cabin's equipped with a freezer, central heating and a garbage disposal unit, the Simmons' still "rough it." Dinner may be provided through a mornings' labor down at the pier, catching a bucketful of crabs for gumbo.

Here the couples' daughter, Mrs. M. M. Lacy, of Austin, and her family are frequent visitors, and the family, who call Rockport fishing wonderful, spend every other weekend on the coast, winter and summer.

When the weather is good they take their 18-foot outboard cruiser, the Leah L. (named after their granddaughter) and fish for redfish and trout. They prefer the winter fishing for reds.

Mr. and Mrs. Buster Shely, 1213 Maryland, Corpus Christi, have found that helping children learn to draw is their greatest fun in the summertime. The screened-in-front porch of "La Casita" at Rockport is often full of neighbor children busily painting sea shells with fanciful designs — or putting last loving touches on water-colors.

The couple, who entertain a constant stream of visitors, are adding onto their house to accommodate the crowd. Right now, they can bunk 14.

Their neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Wally Saunders of San Antonio, will have a beach home when he retires from his traveling job. Right now, Mrs. Saunders and Mrs. Lil Newman, co-owner of the home, enjoy slowpaced resort living while Mr. Saunders travels to the Valley on business once a month.

"We didn't wet a line the whole time," Mrs. Saunders recalled sadly.

Further on down the street, the Joe Talls of 122 Sea View, Corpus Christi, have just repainted their compact living room in gray, accenting it with gay red cottage curtains and black and white studio couches.

Neighbors, who have made their summer homes livable as any town house, are Dr. T. A. Pressly and Dr. A. R. Meadow, both from San Antonio.

Mrs. Pressly's silver-haired petiteness is complemented by delicately tinted rooms, Provincial curtains and touches of aqua lighten the "living porch," done in a sandalwood tone.

Tropical furniture graces the cocoa and pink living room with its hemp rug; and dusty pink is repeated in one bedroom, with a sea shell print on the spreads repeating the color.

Next door, Mrs. Meadow said, "When I bought furnishings, I considered how they would take the salt water and rough wear. It's so easy to entertain here, for guests don't expect fancy linen and china. They want to act like beachcombers."

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Everett and children returned to Galveston last Wednesday, after visiting relatives here.
