IRISH LADS DEFEATED BY WICHITA TEAM BY CLOSE SCORE YESTERDAY

The Wichita Falls team defeated the "Irish Lads" in a well-played game yesterday afternoon by the score of 3 to 2. Ash pitched for the locals and held the Lake Wiegans down with but few hits.

This is the fourth game between these teams and in not one of them has the winning team won by a margin of more than one score. The same teams play again today.

SEE BALL OF FIRE

Spectacular Phenomenon May Be Witnessed Tonight

Fort Worth, Tex., May 17.—A ball of fire shedding light like the aurora borealis is likely to be seen in the eastern skies tonight, preceding the appearance of the comet tomorrow, according to instructions today given the local weather bureau, which was directed to report the observations of the phenomenon to Washington.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE TRADES EXCURSION ARE PRACTICALLY COMPLETE

General Freight and Passenger Agent, C. L. Fontaine of the Wichita Falls and Northwestern, says all arrangements have been completed for the excursion train which is scheduled to leave Wichita Falls on Thursday at 7 a. m.

Fully one hundred business men of the city are expected to go on the excursion over the Northwestern to Elk City and stops will be made going at all towns between Wichita Falls and Elk City, stopping over night at Mangum, and continuing on to Elk City on the morning of the 20th. It is expected that all towns along the north route will have representatives on this excursion.

The Wichita Concert band will furnish music for the excursionists along the route, and Mr. Fontaine says that everything the road can do towards making the trip a pleasant one for the excursionists will be done.

The Northwestern traverses as fine an agricultural and stock raising country as can be found anywhere in the United States, and aside from the pleasure to be gained from a trip of this kind, it will afford the business men of Wichita Falls an opportunity to get in closer touch with their neighbors in Oklahoma.

BAILEY'S SUPPORT GOES TO COLQUITT

SENATOR WRITES LETTER TO PLAINVIEW FRIEND DECLARING FOR HIM.

FRIENDLY TO POINDEXTER

Letter's Platform, However, Does Not Please Him As Well As Does Colquitt's.

The below letter from Senator Bailey to S. L. Russell of Plainview, announcing himself in favor of Colquitt, was published in the Dallas News of this morning:

"United States Senate, Washington, D. C., May 17, 1910.—Mr. S. L. Russell, Plainview, Texas: My Dear Sir:—I am in receipt of your letter in which you ask me the direct question as to whether, in view of recent developments in the contest for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Texas and the conflicting claims of some of my friends concerning my real feeling toward two of the candidates engaged in that contest, I shall take any part, active or otherwise, in behalf of Judge Poindexter or Mr. Colquitt, and if so which of the two it will be.

"As one of my constituents, you have the right to ask me this question and you are likewise entitled to have a frank answer from me. While I have, owing to pressing duties in the Senate, thus far refrained from entering into that contest, I have at this time no hesitancy in answering your question. No living man can truthfully assert that I have ever failed to announce my position upon any matter affecting the welfare of the people of Texas.

"It is doubtful if I shall feel called upon to take any active part in the campaign now in progress. The fact is well known that I have heretofore declared my personal friendship for Judge Poindexter, and I would now and at all times prefer to aid his election, but should the progress of the campaign develop such conditions as would endanger the election of Judge Poindexter to such an extent as to render his defeat morally certain, I would feel it my duty and the duty of my friends in Texas to give undivided support to Mr. Colquitt. Of course, my attitude toward the other candidates for the nomination is too well known to the citizens of Texas to make a statement with respect to them in the least necessary.

"Candor compels me, however, to say that while gratitude and personal considerations strongly incline me to support Judge Poindexter, Mr. Colquitt's platform in so far as it relates to the leading issue involved in the contest, more nearly coincides with my view than does that of Judge Poindexter. I am yours truly,

"J. W. BAILEY."

RAIN IN WEST TEXAS.

Panhandle and Plains Country Gets Wet Weather.

Fort Worth, May 17.—The Texas News Service received reports this morning that yesterday's rain continued last night and today over a wide territory, practically guaranteeing the best wheat crop the Panhandle and plains country has had in years. Indications are for more rain today. The rain was accompanied by hail in Parker county, badly damaging the cotton crop in the southern part of the county. The residence of J. M. Heath at Buckner was wrecked, but none were injured.

PACKING HOUSE BONUS NOW ENTIRELY RAISED

Total of Fifty-Three Thousand Dollars Subscribed to Secure Enterprise. Mass Meeting Tonight.

A total of $52,687.50, over two thousand dollars more than was necessary had been subscribed up to noon today on the packing house bonus, and if there ever was the slightest doubt in the minds of anyone that the total amount would not be forthcoming, that doubt can now be dispelled.

A telegram has been sent to President Emerson of the United States Packing Company that the entire bonus had been raised.

There are still several large property holders who have not subscribed and it is believed that additional subscriptions will come in sufficient to raise the total to the fifty-five thousand mark. Should all of the subscriptions be collected, the amount over will be remitted to the subscribers in proportion to the amounts subscribed by them. At least, that is the plan of the committee.

A mass meeting of citizens has been called for tonight to hear the report of the committee. It is probable that the promoters will be formally notified that the bonus has been raised. The subscriptions are not payable until the plant is ready for operation, which will hardly be before December 1st of this year.

We, the undersigned agree to subscribe and pay the sum set opposite our name for the purpose of securing a packing house plant at Wichita Falls. Said Packing House Company will have a paid up capital of three hundred thousand dollars

MOTION FOR REHEARING IN HYDE MURDER CASE PROBABLY OVERRULED

By Associated Press. Kansas City, May 17.—That the motion for a re-hearing in the case of Dr. B. C. Hyde, who was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment yesterday on the charge of murdering Col. Thos. W. Swope, will be overruled by Judge Latah was strongly indicated today by the preparations made by the state and defense for the fight before the State Supreme Court. The motion for re-hearing will be presented Thursday and if overruled, an appeal will be taken, but the Supreme Court will not hear the case until January. It is announced that Hyde will be sent to the penitentiary pending the appeal. His wife today declared to your correspondent that the state prevented her telling all she knew and that if she had, her husband would have been acquitted. She declared she had abiding faith that her husband would be proven innocent finally.

The Elks will not hold their weekly meeting tonight on account of the mass meeting at the court house.

ALABAMA DEMOCRATS IN FAVOR OF LOCAL OPTION BY NEW STATE PLATFORM

By Associated Press. Montgomery, Ala., May 17.—The state democratic convention was called to order here at noon today by Chairman of the state committee Nesbit. The platform declared for local option, a liberal attitude toward capital, the repeal of any drastic prohibition laws by the present legislature that invade rights of trial by jury and more effective and protective mining laws.

SCIENTISTS NOT WORRIED.

Anticipate Little Danger From Advent of Comet.

By Associated Press. Chicago, Ill., May 17.—Local scientists are not excited over the advent of the comet tomorrow night. Prof. Barnard, of Yerkes Observatory, said today: "I don't expect we will know that we are in it."

By Associated Press. New York, May 17.—Prof. Mitchell of Columbia College, thinks the earth will pass through the comet's tail fourteen million miles from the head.

CURB LINES FIXED AT FIFTEEN FEET

THAT IS TO BE STANDARD WIDTH IN ALL PARTS OF RESIDENCE SECTION.

AUTO ORDINANCE PASSED

Twelve Miles is Maximum Speed in City—Side Walk Question is Acted Upon.

The curb lines in the residence section of the city are to be made the uniform distance of fifteen feet from the property line, by the terms of an order passed by the city council last night. The distance is already fifteen feet in many parts of the residence section and last night's action makes fifteen feet the standard width for the city. This will permit much prettier sidewalks and will enable those who wish to do so to arrange for parking and other attractive features.

The council also enacted an ordinance fixing the speed limit of automobiles at ten miles per hour in the business section of the city and twelve miles in the residence part of town. It is believed that the enforcement of this ordinance will result in much less danger from auto speeding.

Action was taken on the sidewalk petition and an order was passed requiring all those property owners who have not laid the walks in front of their lots to do so at once. The question of extending 7th street was brought up by C. W. Bean and referred to the street committee.

Hereafter, the meetings of the city council will be held on the first and third Tuesday mornings of each month, instead of the first and third Monday evenings. A paying contractor appeared before the aldermen and spoke briefly in favor of the adoption of his system, when the council was ready to act upon the question.

Several other matters of lesser importance were also given attention.

MOUZON IS ELECTED.

Texas Minister Added to Bishops—the Morrison Charges Upheld.

By Associated Press. Asheville, N. C., May 17.—Rev. Lambuth of Tennessee, Rev. Mouzon of Texas and Rev. Waterhouse of Georgia, were elected bishops on the fourth ballot of the general conference of the Methodist Church, according to an announcement made early today. Rev. James R. McCoy of Birmingham, was elected this morning and the list was made complete.

The address of Rev. Lewis, fraternal delegate from the Methodist Protestant Church, urging the union of the great Methodist bodies was received with the greatest enthusiasm, the large audience waving handkerchiefs and cheering wildly.

After much discussion, the conference voted to accept the report of the committee on Episcopacy, which sustained the complaints against Bishop Morrison and recommended that the College of Bishops give him light work.

FEDERATION TO ELECT.

Mrs. Philip Moore Will Probably Be Re-Elected President.

Cincinnati, O., May 17.—The delegates to the General Federation of Women's Clubs engaged in election of officers today. The nominating committee named Mrs. Philip Moore of St. Louis, for re-election as president. Most of the old officers are slated for a second term.

LEWIS PARKER ON COTTON SITUATION

INTERESTING FACTS SUBMITTED IN ADDRESS BY HIM AT CHARLOTTE TODAY.

HIGH LEVEL TO REMAIN

Public Must Get Accustomed to More Expensive Cotton Goods, He Says.

By Associated Press. Charlotte, N. C., May 17.—Owing to a new price level in cotton, buyers and customers must be awakened to a realization of the necessity of higher cost of cotton goods. This was the declaration made today by Lewis W. Parker, president of the American Cotton Manufacturers Association, in his address to the organization which began its annual convention here today. Mr. Parker asserted that "gambling on a cotton exchange is just as bad, in every particular, as gambling in any other form, and should be prohibited by law."

He recommended the passage of the resolution approving the policy of the bill now pending in Congress, known as the Scott anti-option bill.

In speaking of the increase in the price of cotton, Mr. Parker said "it must be admitted on our part, that a portion at least of the unfortunate results of the past year is due to ourselves. Throughout last summer and the early fall manufacturers as a whole resisted the advance of the raw material which was consequent on the shortage of supply. We apparently were slow to appreciate how short indeed was the supply and were much behind in this appreciation of the speculative element which forecast conditions much better than we did."

Speaking of the advanced price of cotton, Mr. Parker declared that "cotton must be expected to be upon a higher level of price than it has been in times past and even the relatively high price prevailing during the last fall and winter and now prevailing is not out of proportion to other agricultural products and to the great mass of manufactured articles, many of these having risen in value, as compared with conditions of thirty years ago, one hundred per cent; whereas cotton today is not above fifty per cent (Continued on Page 4.)

MANY WEDDINGS FOLLOW RECENT EARTHQUAKE IN COSTA RICA--200 TODAY

By Associated Press. Cartago, Costa Rica, May 17.—Two hundred surviving couples, living in a haphazard manner following the earthquake, were married today, when former sanction was given by a proclamation ratifying the marriages issued by the national magistrate. The disaster caused peculiar condition, making women seek marriage as protection. Some of those who married were widows and widowers of only a few hours.

SUNSET MEN MEET.

Are Discussing Affairs Pertaining to the System.

By Associated Press. Houston, May 17.—One hundred officials and employees of the Sunset Central lines' freight and passenger departments are here today in conference on affairs pertaining to the system. The deliberations are secret. Tomorrow they will take a trip on the channel steamer to Galveston.

THIRTY THREE CONVICTS BURNED TO DEATH WHEN STOCKADE CATCHES FIRE

By Associated Press. Birmingham, May 17.—Noon reports place the number of convicts who met death in the burning stockade at Lucile Monday at thirty-three. Several are so badly burned that they may die. It now appears that of the three men who caused the disaster, one was shot to death, another burned, and the third so badly burned that death is probable.

To The Public:

In response to an article published in Sunday morning's paper as it alluded to me as manager of the Live Oak Market and operating three markets here at the present time and that we are trying to monopolize the meat business in Wichita Falls I will say that such an impression on the part of the public is false. When coming to Wichita Falls and taking charge of the Filgo Market I found conditions so bad as far as the profitable end of the business was concerned that something had to be done or I would return to the place from whence I came. All the markets I have, have lost considerable money during the winter on account of exorbitant expense they incurred in carrying on their business. Since taking these markets I have not advanced the price on anything. In fact I have lowered my prices on some articles. My object in taking these markets was to curtail the expense so that possibly I could make something out of them. I have no horses and wagons, where my predecessors combined had 6 horses and wagons, besides drivers which in itself is a fair salary per month for any ordinary man. Furthermore I don't need quite so much help in any of these markets. I do no credit business because I have found bills exceedingly hard to collect. In fact I will give to any one for the asking. I don't deliver any amount of meat less than 25c worth because if you know anything about the meat business you will agree that on all such orders I would lose money. Furthermore in taking care of these petty larceny orders we neglect prompt service of good trade.

It is a matter of business to us. We are going to make a special effort to conduct first class markets, courteous treatment and the very lowest prices we can make consistent with a small profit. We don't want all the business. We invite more competition as long as it is fair in its methods.

We could have had all the markets in town if we wanted them, but we didn't. We left the best market in town alone. Because we felt as though our competitor was doing his best to get his business on a paying basis.

Now a word to the business men who as the paper stated were behind this move. Gentlemen: Don't you know you don't have to put in another market in order to break up this great trust? You can buy any market in town and then you would not have to lose that $1000 you speak of to put us out of business. Furthermore, you need not buy a market, you can, I am sure rent any of the markets I believe which I now control, the same as I did as the owners will gladly rent them to you so that they can at least get an investment on their fixtures. They rented them to me and were tickled to death when I got them.

Now gentlemen, if you wish to embark upon this great ship of retail meat industry you can without any trouble, the voyage will be a calm one as I am here to state that I will not be in the fight. You can't harm me, as all I have to do is to carry out my rent, sell my goods and go back to a place where they all give you the glad hand of success. I did not come to Wichita Falls to accommodate the public without any compensation. Neither did I come here for friendship alone. I believe in the old toast, "May we have more and more friends, and need them less and less." I came here to become a citizen, to locate here permanently and succeed a little during my stay. If you begrudge me this, rent these markets that I have and I will leave you in peace. I don't propose to lose any money if I can help it, and therefore don't think that when you start that market you speak of, you will have any fight, because as I have said when you begin that you will see me step down and out.

In conclusion I will say that if you were business men who prompted that article come forth and make yourself known to the community. I am sure that every Wichitan would be glad to see such noble characters, and patriotic men would readily surrender all, even their lives for the public welfare.

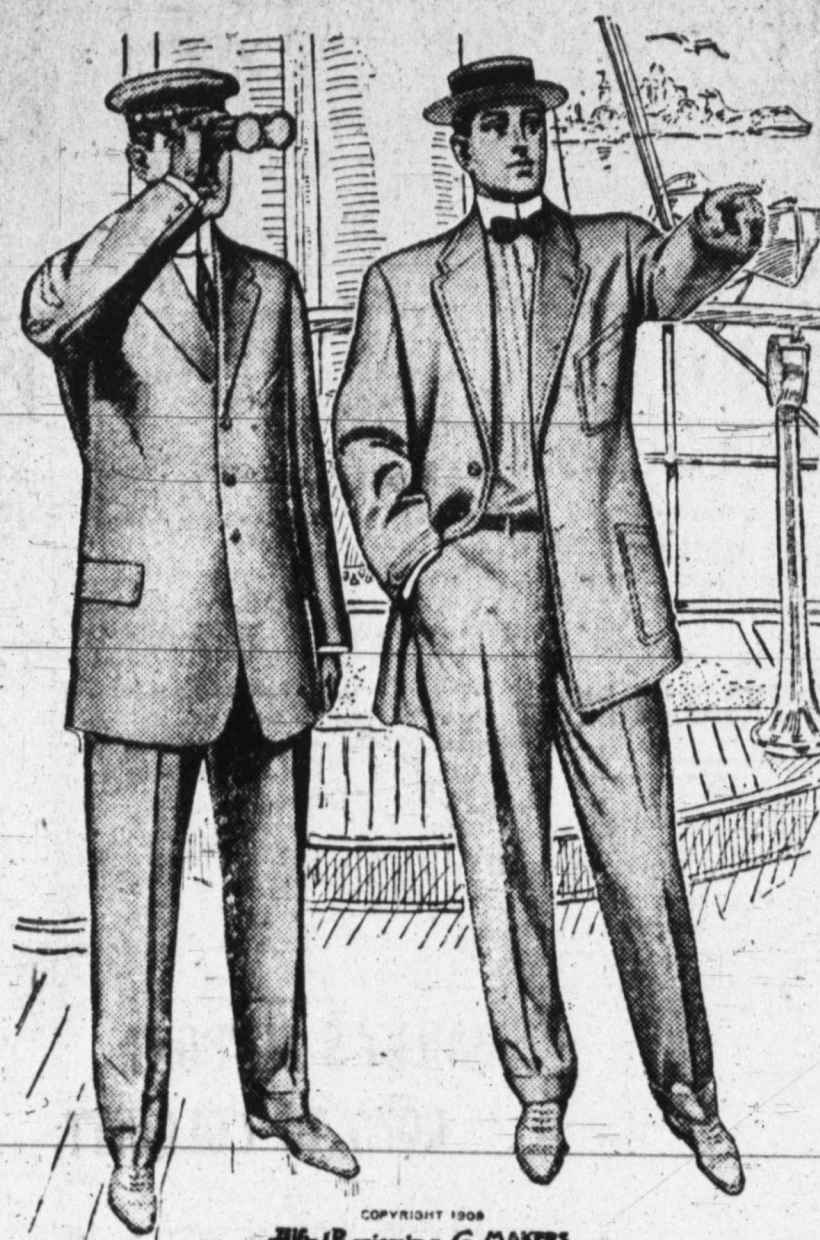

Sincerely yours,
In the Meat Business,
LEO B. FOCKE.

TRUE TO TRADITION OF HER SEX

Woman Lawyer Wanted Mirror Before Taking Oath of Supreme Court.

"It was an interesting experience, but I must own to being a little shaky about the knees when the critical moment arrived," said Mrs. Irene Buell, in discussing her recent visit in Washington, where, on April 26, she was admitted to practice in the Supreme Court of the United States.

"Of course," she continued, "the whole affair is much more awe-inspiring than the State Supreme Court, because the judges come in dressed in their imposing silk gowns, having been cried out by an impressive bailiff, who closes his remarks with a 'God Save the United States.'"

Mrs. Buell spoke of the extreme formality observed and said she was asked to remove her hat before proceeding to the council table to take the oath.

"The first thing I said when they asked me to do that was, 'But I don't see any mirror here.' It seemed the natural observation to make until I heard Senator Clapp, who was my sponsor, chuckle and murmur, 'The eternal feminine!' Then, after a formal address had been made to me, I took the oath on the same Bible that Clay and Calhoun swore upon, that I would defend the Constitution and conduct myself in every way as befitting my office."—St. Paul Dispatch.

Wichita Falls, Texas, May 17th, 1910.

There never was any doubt, from the first moment the packery proposition was submitted until the bonus was completed that Wichita Falls would do her part. This discussion of the offer never included the question "Will we get it?" "We've got to get it" was the sentiment and when old Wichita peels her coat, shucks her galls and rolls up her sleeves, it isn't going to be very long before the chips begin to fly.

Fifty thousand dollars is an average of five dollars for every man, woman and child in Wichita Falls. Some of us were pretty badly bent, too, but when the last brick is laid next December, the fifty thousand will be on hand, ready for the men who are putting their money into the plant.

Natural advantages, and advantageous location, railroad facilities, good crops—all these a town may have; but when everything is said and the books are balanced and the real show-down comes—the town that tops the list will be the one whose chief asset is the determination and public spirit and all-round boostability of her citizens. Nothing can beat that. It's been tried more than once and the answer is always the same.

You could take this Wichita Falls bunch up in a balloon and drop 'em in the middle of a desert, or on top of a mountain, or into the brush, and in a few years they'd have a city there.

Judge Poindexter doubtless feels now like it is about time for him to withdraw from the gubernatorial race, since his friend, Senator Bailey, says that "cnador compels me, however, to say that while gratitude and personal considerations strongly incline me to support Judge Poindexter, Mr. Colquitt's platform, in so far as it relates to the leading issue involved in the contest, more nearly coincides with my views than does that of Judge Poindexter. Should the progress of the campaign develop such conditions as would endanger the election of Judge Poindexter to such an extent as to render his defeat morally certain I would feel it my duty and the duty of my friends in Texas to give undivided support to Mr. Colquitt."

Now that the packing plant is assured—what next?

LEWIS PARKER ON

COTTON SITUATION

cent higher than what may be termed its normal price in times past.

"There must therefore be recognition on our part," the speaker continued, "that a new price level in cotton is both proper and necessary and we must bend our energies, not in the effort to reduce this price level, but to convince buyers of its necessity and propriety, and of the necessity therefore of a consequent rise in the price of manufactured products. In place of lending our energies towards the depression of prices of the raw material, the thoughts of all of us, as manufacturers, say, should be and must be directed towards acquainting buyers and customers with the conditions affecting us, awakening in them a realization of the necessity of a higher cost of cotton goods."

Mr. Parker declared that "it is folly for any manufacturer to claim that he is not interested in the manipulations of the cotton market or that he is not interested in the effect on raw material of cotton exchanges whose rules and methods tend toward the manipulation of the price of raw materials. There is no relation between the price of contracts on the exchanges and the actual price of spot cotton, owing to the great extent of these operations on the exchanges. Our experience in the past has been that with a very few exceptions we are not able by any means to purchase our raw material at the price indicated by the exchange."

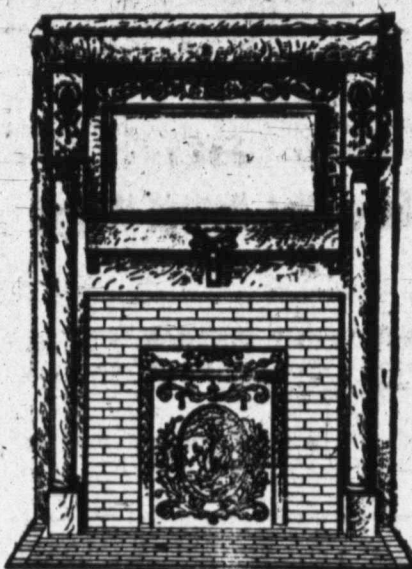

"The very lives and fortunes of too many of our fellowmen," said Mr. Parker, "are affected by the manipulations of prices of an agricultural product upon the exchange for our government to sit idly by and see such manipulation in prices without raising its voice against it, and seeking to prevent it. To my mind it seems that there must be action by the government to protect interested parties if the exchanges will not themselves regulate their contract so as to be fair to both buyer and seller, and if there will not so regulate other contracts to take much less, if not indeed, to prohibit altogether that manipulation of prices which we so constantly see. It is an absurdity when prices vary, as they do on the exchanges, without reference at all to the natural conditions of supply and demand and without reference to the prevailing prices for the actual commodity."

The Greatest Price-Cutting Event in the History of the Entire Country A Sale Without an Equal KUM! KUM! KUM!

At this sale everything will go rapidly. This is the first sale of the kind ever held in the state and may never occur again. We will prove to you that a tremendous sacrifice must be made. An idea in mind that there are 10,000 different articles which we cannot mention in the space allotted to use here. Every purchase guaranteed and strictly one price to all. All goods marked in plain figures and don't you forget it. In order that there may be no mistake, no exaggerations, no overdrawn statements, we ask you to bring this advertisement with you when you come to the sale, and look over every article. You will convince yourself with your own eyes that everything is sold precisely as advertised. We ask no one to take our word for a single line printed in these columns. We ask only a personal inspection of our sale, and an investigation of our prices. Truth, when crushed to the earth, will rise again, but falsehood unguarded will be exposed in all its villainy. A merchant who will charge two prices or make intentional false promises, is not a fit person to aspire to the higher claims of public confidence. These are bare facts beyond the reach of state argument. We ask patronage, strictly upon merit. We run our business on the principle that a nimble sixpence is of more value than a slow shilling.

Sale Positively Begins Wednesday, May 18, 9:00 a. m. For Ten Days

Forced to raise a large amount of cash in ten days to meet the demands of my creditors who are clamoring for their money, I must sacrifice my stock to save my good name. I am in debt, but am honest, the creditors must have their money, and this appeal is made to every man, woman and child. No such sale of such gigantic proportions has ever been held in Wichita Falls before, and it will positively open Wednesday, May 18, and must be sold in ten days to raise the necessary amount of cash to reimburse the creditors. You cannot miss this sale, you dare not miss it. A tremendous slaughter of modern merchandise, such as this city has never seen. No fake, no subterfuge, but a bona fide sale, to save the name of Kirsch. This stock of merchandise will actually be slaughtered at 803 Indiana avenue beginning Wednesday, May 18, at 9 a. m., and positively closes in ten days.

BRYN MAWR'S MAY FROLICS.

Pelle's "Old Wives' Tales" Will be One of New Features This Year.

Bryn Mawr ceased being a college of staid simplicity on the afternoon of Saturday May 7, and whisked back to the stirring days of good Queen Bess, with the proper accompaniment of rustic dances around the time-honored May pole.

Gay smokes and queer, quaint frocks and all the player-folk of that ancient day were seen when the pageant of costumed students burst through Pembroke Arch and proclaimed that the May Day games and revels had begun.

It is the third time that the college green has been the background for such gayeties as these, and this performance represented the contribution of the Bryn Mawr students toward the academic endowment fund of $1,000,000, which the college is endeavoring to raise by June 2.

There was a wholesale transformation of dainty girls into the rustics of ye olden days, with the donning of bright, old-fashioned dress or a bumpkin's smock; there were the lively dances which the simple-hearted folk hooted merrily on the greensward to the piping tunes of other days; there were plays that our great-grandmothers laughed and cried over, and even Robin Hood has emerged from the green depths of the Sherwood forest in order to crown the lady of the May.

There were two features which are distinctly new this year. One is the original Morris dance that has lately been revived in England and was danced to the tinkling of many small bells on the dresses of the participants and the fantastic flourishing of short, thick styles.

Then, among the plays, was one of George Peele's—the "Old Wives' Tale"—which has never been given in this country before, and the auditors could hark back in fancy to the crude stage equipment of 1595 as they listened to the curious lines.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

MONARCHY OR REPUBLIC?

American Republic Works Fairly Well Under Constitution.

A dispatch from London the day after King Edward's death spoke of the "automatic action" of the constitution by which succession to the crown passed immediately and without the slightest friction to George V. The phrase automatic action was felicitous and the proceeding was typical of the stolidity and permanence of the British government. But a republican government may operate automatically as well as a monarchy, if the people are fit for self-government. The recent change of knights took place in a time of profound peace, and without any tragic or exciting circumstances.

In this country there have been three instances where a change of presidents was made necessary by assassination of the incumbent of the office, and in one case the country was just emerging from the civil war. Large armies of trained soldiers were still in the field, and the passions of the war were at fever heat. Yet in each case the action of the constitution was automatic, and the vice president became president without the delay of an hour or a ripple of excitement, except what was due to the tragic circumstances. The same rule of constitutional automatic action applies in a presidential election, and this crisis occurs with us much more frequently than a change of sovereigns does in England. Since the establishment of the government we have changed rulers twenty-seven times, counting two inaugurations to most of the presidents, while the British people have changed only five times. As far, therefore as peaceful and automatic succession of rulers is concerned, a monarchy does not seem to have any advantage over a republic.—Indianapolis News.

If You Have It, Read This Letter.

"I was taken last August with a severe stomach trouble. The doctor said it was nervous dyspepsia. I took his treatment four weeks, but did not feel any better. I took everything I heard of. The first day of December, 1908 I got a box of M-I-O-N-A. I took them that afternoon and the next day and haven't had one bit of pain in my stomach since the 2nd day of December. I took five boxes. Feel well now, and sleep good—Mrs. M. E. Maxfield, R. F. D. 2, Avoca, N. Y.

M-I-O-N-A is surely the best prescription for indigestion ever written. It relieves after dinner distress, belching of gas, heartburn, etc., in five minutes.

It is guaranteed to permanently cure indigestion, acute or chronic, or any disease of the stomach or money back.

M-I-O-N-A stomach tablets are sold by Week's Drug Co. and leading druggists everywhere at 50 cents a large box.

Remains Now Lie in State.

London, May 17.—The imposing ceremonies to be associated with the funeral of King Edward began today with the removal of the coffin from Buckingham Palace to Westminster Hall, where the remains are to lie in state until the day of the funeral. Immense crowds of people with bared heads lined the streets through which the body of the late monarch was borne to Westminster. Those who were privileged to witness the starting of the procession from inside the palace grounds arrived early and silently took up the positions allotted to them. There was an entire absence of bustle, and decorum prevailed everywhere. Inside the palace the royal mourners were joining in a last sacred service, and this completed, the casket was prepared for removal to the gun carriage in waiting outside. One of the last acts of the Queen mother was to place in the coffin a little emblem of love in the shape of a bunch of lilies of the valley.

Westminster Hall, where the late king's remains will lie in state during the next two days, is the only section remaining of the great Westminster Palace, which was destroyed by fire in 1834, and is now used as a vestibule to the house of parliament. The hall was begun by William Rufus in 1097 and was destroyed by fire in 1291. In its present form it is the work of Richard II, who had the walls buttressed and the wooden roof added in 1398. The ceiling is one of the most remarkable specimens of timber architecture in existence, both as regards beauty and constructive skill. The hall has been the scene of many stirring events, and no other hall in all England is so rich in historical associations. Here it was that Oliver Cromwell took the oath as lord protector of England, and here, too, was held the great coronation dinner, celebrating the coronation of George IV. The hall was, for many years, the center of the English law courts, and it was also used for great festivals, the lord mayors being sworn into office there, for the last time in 1882.

All Watch for the Comet.

Washington, D. C., May 17.—The passing, tomorrow, of Halley's comet between the sun and the earth is an event awaited with unusual interest, not alone by astronomers in all parts of the world, but by the lay folk, as well. While the behind the telescopes look forward to the transit of the comet merely with the intense interest evoked by any rare and scientific phenomenon in the sphere of astronomy, the interest of the "unscientific" masses is not altogether free from more or less fear of the possible consequences of the coming event. The authoritative statement that on May 18th the earth will pass through the tail of the comet, together with the fact that the divergent theories of the astronomers concerning the nature of the comet's tail confused the masses and led them to lend a certain amount of credence to the most absurd and alarming vagaries of ignorant and superstitious sensationalists, is responsible for the dread with which some persons anticipate tomorrow's phenomenon.

Halley's comet, the transit of which will be observed tomorrow, moves in an eccentric and elliptical orbit around the sun. At the tremendous speed with which the comet travels it requires about seventy-five years to complete its course. This is not the first time that Halley's comet has been visible to the inhabitants of the earth, but what makes its visit this year of special interest to astronomical science is the fact that tomorrow the erratic wanderer of the skies will present itself under conditions which have never been observed before. The comet will pass between the sun and the earth and it will be possible to make observations that may give a clue to the composition of the comet. The orbit of the comet apparently intersects that of the earth at two points. The first point of intersection was passed by the comet some time ago, the second will be reached in a few days. Having passed its perihelion the comet is now approaching the earth's orbit at a speed of about 1,000 miles a minute. Tomorrow it will reach not only the point of greatest proximity to the earth, but also a position which will bring it in direct line with the earth and the sun. As the comet's tail, whatever may be its composition, is pointing away from the sun, it is quite probable that the earth will pass through the rarified portions of it. Astronomers and physicians have advanced many divergent theories as to the effect of passing through the comet's tail may have upon the earth, but there is absolutely no reason to expect more than perhaps some slight modification of the atmospheric conditions, as a result of which the sun, at the time of the comet's transit, may appear veiled in a mist of haze of a reddish or yellowish tinge. Twice before this, in comparatively recent times, the earth passed through the tails of comets and the only phenomenon which indicated that fact was a similar haze, through which the sun appeared of a reddish tinge.

Halley's comet was discovered by Edmund Halley, an English astronomer (born 1656 and died 1742), in 1705. Halley was the son of a soap manufacturer in London and received his education at Oxford. He developed a great love for astronomy and devoted himself to his favorite science. After leaving college he spent two years on the island of St. Helena, preparing a catalogue of the stars. In 1703 he became professor of geometry in Oxford and, while holding that position, he discovered the comet named after him. He made careful computations upon the basis of which he maintained that his comet was identical with the comet observed by Apian in 1534 and by Kepler and Longomontanus in 1607. He calculated the time which the comet consumed in completing its orbit at about seventy-five years and predicted that the comet would again be visible in 1758, which proved to be correct. In recognition of his valuable work in the field of astronomy Halley was appointed Astronomer Royal in 1721, which position he held until his death. His comet has been observed repeatedly since then, but never under more favorable conditions.

Alfonso XIII, of Spain.
King Alfonso XIII, of Spain, who has announced his intention to attend the funeral of the late King Edward VII, of whom he was a warm friend and admirer, was born in Madrid, May 17, 1886, nearly six months after the death of his father, Alfonso XXI. He attained his majority when he was sixteen years old, according to the Spanish law, and at the same time was crowned king. Prior to that time his mother, Maria Christina, who was an Austrian princess, resigned as Regent. Four years ago Alfonso was married to the English princess, Victoria-Ena of Battenberg. The royal couple have two sons, Alfonso, Prince of the Asturias, heir to the Spanish throne, born May 10, 1907, and Prince Jaime, born July 22, 1908, and one daughter, Princess Beatrice, born July 21, 1909. Since he took up the reins of government Alfonso has proved himself a ruler of wise and liberal tendencies and has devoted much attention to the promotion of education in his realm and to the movement which has for its object the rehabilitation of Spain as a commercial nation.

Cotton Men in Session.
Charlotte, N. C., May 17.—Warehousing Cotton in the South and "The Development of the Cutting-Up Trade in the South" were the chief topics of discussion at the fourteenth annual meeting of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association here today.

Leading cotton manufacturers of Alabama, Virginia, Texas, Tennessee, North and South Carolina were on hand when the gathering was opened this morning with an address by the president, Lewis W. Parker of Greenville.

Primary Election in Ohio.
Columbus, O., May 17.—The Bronson primary election law, enacted by the legislature a year ago, is being tried out for the first time in Ohio today. A state-wide primary is being held by both parties for the selection of candidates for congress, county offices, members of the legislature and delegates and alternates to the state conventions. Interest centers chiefly in the congressional nominations, there being hard contests on in nearly every district of the state.

CHILDREN AND CLOTHES.

Properly Clad Youngsters Will Have Fewer Colds.

The juggernaut of fashion never seems so cruel as when it it oissees so cruel as when it is the helpless children who are thrown beneath the wheels. If adults choose to make this disposition of themselves, well and good; their sacrifice is at least voluntary and open-eyed—but let the children be protected until the day of personal choice has dawned.

If the personal choice of babies and children could be consulted on the subject of clothing, they would be found unanimously, sure in their demand for comfortable fit, adequate warmth and suitability to the pursuits of extreme youth; and if given the ballot, they would move to the polls as one united body and vote down the mothers who sacrificed to "style" or to "cuteness," or to the hardening process, or to any other bothersome theory.

Among the many fallacies on the subject of proper clothing to which small children are victimized, perhaps the worst, as well as the hardest to understand, is that which says that if only the chest is well protected, the rest of the body may be ruthlessly exposed to the elements. This theory it is which accounts for the small, thick-barreled bodies one meets in winter, from which emerge a pair of bare, blue-mottled legs. The upper part of the body is clad apparently in-fold after fold of clothing, with over all perhaps either a heavy sweater or fur coat. The legs are bare with the exception of a short thin sock.

It is only fair to admit that the mothers who send their children out in winter dressed in this manner are a rapidly lessening number, but those who still cling to the fashions are surely not aware that since children have a larger skin surface in proportion to their body weight than have adults, they are more susceptible to chills,
and not less.

They also make the curious mistake of reasoning that because bronchitis attacks the chest, it only invades the system through the chest, and hence they only protect that one spot, and leave all other avenues open to attack.
By this course they prove their ignorance of the fact that a chill to any part of the body may give rise to bronchitis, and also of the other very important fact that in children a chill may have many bad consequences besides a so-called "cold" or respiratory trouble.

The sudden digestive disturbances of children should properly be often traced back to a chilling of the surface of the body, rather than to an error in diet. Properly clad children will digest better, as well as have fewer colds, than the unfortunate barelegged ones.—Youth's Companion.

LOCAL NEWS BREVITIES

The members of the carpenters' union of this city raised fifty dollars for the packery bonus last night and of all the liberal donations made, there were none more appreciated by the committee. The fact that this plant will give employment to almost every class of workmen in the city makes donations such as these worth while to the union men.

The waitresses of the St. James Hotel entertained with a dance at the Lake Wichita pavilion last evening and the occasion proved an enjoyable one for all who attended. The use of the pavilion was obtained through the kindness of Palmer Clark and the young ladies entertained their friends very pleasantly.

The subscription of L. Guggenheim of St. Louis to the packery bonus was reported in yesterday's Times as $250. Mr. Guggenheim's donation was $300, yesterday's figures being in error.

Two fistbouts took place last night, one near the corner of 11th and Ohio and another on 7th street. The participants were fined in the police court this morning.

Marriage licenses have been issued to Frank Saner and Miss Mary Hilgenfeld and to Joe Kavanaugh and Mrs. E. A. Frees.

Max Pezell has returned from Ruston, La., where he was called to attend the bedside of his brother, who died while he was in that city.

Mr. Weaver Preston of Geraldine, was in Allendale Sunday.

BROWN WANTED A "PARTNER."

Feared a Wife According to "Specifications" Couldn't Be Found.

Here's the whole thing in a nutshell, said Brown to me. I am now 28 years old, have my own business, have brought it to such a state that I have decided to take a partner.

Take one, answered I?

There's the rub, he gave back. My partner must be such an all-round knowing one that I'm afraid I'll have hard work to fill the position.

My partner must be able to make laws and to enforce them, must be able to carry out complicated chemical work, must be a skilled mechanic, must know something of economics, must be able to buy wares of all kinds with due consideration of my finances, must be able to do tailoring, of a kind, if necessary.

Hold on, Brown, said I. Are you dippy, as the vulgarians say?

No replied he. I want a wife. Look around among your friends and see if any one man among them could do all that a good housewife should be able to do. She must make just laws for the family—and enforce them. She must understand the complicated processes of cooking. Making, mending, washing, ironing and otherwise caring for the clothing of a family requires mechanical skill. Bringing up a child properly requires far more knowledge and wisdom than selling dry goods of standard makes and prices year after year. Where is more science and skill required than in the sick room? and if the wife does not know how to do all of these things, how can she direct the work of her paid help, especially if the help knows less than she does.

My dear boy, said I, do the way 90 per cent of us do—marry and trust to luck.—American Magazine for May.

CATARRH GOES

So Does Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Croup and Asthma.

You can easily tell by reading the symptoms below, whether you have catarrh or not:

Offensive breath, frequent sneezing, discharge from the nose, stoppage of the nose, huskiness of the voice, tickling in throat, droppings in throat, a cough, pain in chest, loss of strength, variable appetite, spasms of coughing, low spirited at times, raising of mucus, difficulty in breathing, loss of vital force.

The Weeks Drug Co. has a sensible remedy (money back if it fails) for catarrh, called Hymel (pronounced High-o-mee) which is a vaporized air, so antiseptic that when it is breathed over the inflamed and germ-infested membrane, it kills all germ life, gives relief in two minutes and cures catarrh.

The price, including hard rubber inhaler, is only $1.00. The hard rubber pocket inhaler will last a lifetime, so that should you need a second bottle of Hymel, you can get it for 50 cents.

World's Y. W. C. A. Conference.

The business sessions of the convention will begin tomorrow and continue for ten days. More than twenty countries are represented, and America has sent a large delegation, which is headed by Miss Harriet Taylor, of the national board of New York, and Miss Susie Little, of the national board of Canada.

INDIANA TENOR BACK HOME.

Orville Harrold, Heard Here With Tetraxini, Sings for Old Friends.

Returning to the auditorium where he took the first step in his career toward the grand opera stage, Orville Harrold, the Muncietenor, who was one of only four American singers Oscar Hammerstein chose for the cast of the Manhattan Opera Company, was greeted at the German House Friday night with a response that was ovational. When Alexander Ernestinoff, director of the Musikverein, announced, following a rehearsal, that Mr. Harrold was in Indianapolis and had consented to sing several songs, members of the organization with whom Mr. Harrold was associated in the earliest days of his career vied with one another in bidding him welcome. The tenor entered the auditorium amid a storm of applause. Hands were extended to greet him, shouts arose and continued until the singer went to the platform.

Mr. Harrold exhibited a remarkable voice—clear, powerful and of a wonderful tone quality. He chose to sing three songs from his operatic repertoire, and to the unusual power of his voice was added an especially pleasing and effective interpretation.

Mr. Harrold is to be saved from the debris of the ill-fated Manhattan. He received a telegram from the management asking him to come to New York immediately, but he does not know yet whether next season will mean further study or singing to him. Hewas assured by Mr. Hammerstein that, although he had been retained, and he knows Hammerstein is still not without considerable power in the operatic field.—Indianapolis Star.

AN ACTRESS BEST REWARD

Mrs. Modjeska's Own Summary of Her Long Theatrical Career.

Very often during my long theatrical career I asked myself if I had done right in devoting my life to the stage and could not find a satisfactory solution of the question. I certainly did not become an actress to make a fortune. In our country actors never get rich, and, besides, I never attached much value to money. When I was young I yearned for fame, but later all other considerations paled against the enthusiasm of the work itself. I fell in love with my art. I was often misjudged and oftener yet appreciated beyond my merits, and yet none of the comments made me deviate from my aim, which was always the grasping for my ideal, so far as it could be attained.

Of course, the road I traveled was not an easy one, the obstacles were numerous and difficult, the work was hard, indeed, and many pangs did my career cost me, but I was amply rewarded. My life became richer by the experience I gained and through the associations it was my good fortune to form, but the best reward of all was the artistic satisfaction, the joy that I found in the work itself and the hope that my achievements may have been of some use, and in any case that they did not exert an unwholesome influence upon my audiences.

For the keynote of my conceptions was always human sympathy, and I persistently tried to find a redeeming side to the weaknesses and errors of my heroines, while, on the other hand, I endeavored in the execution never to lose sight of the esthetic objects of art. Another advantage I reaped, which I value most highly, was the privilege I shared with several illustrious countrymen of mine, to help in proving to the outside world that our unfortunate and most maligned nation, Poland, cannot be relegated to oblivion, as its civilization and are undeniable tokens of its vitality. Memoirs of Helena Modjeska in the May Century.

World's Sunday School Convention.
Washington, D. C., May 18.—Arrangements for the sixth World's Sunday School Convention, which is to begin its sessions here tomorrow, are practically completed. More than one thousand delegates are already in the city, and many more are expected. America and western Europe will be well represented at the convention and there will also be delegates from Turkey, Syria, China, Japan, Korea, India, Africa and Australia.

Among the prominent speakers at the convention will be President Taft, Drs. Meyer, Gibson, Bonner and Belsey of England; John Wanamaker, Robert E. Spear, Drs. Cadman of Brooklyn and Tompkins of Philadelphia; Drs. Johnson of India, Jones of Korea, McNair of Japan, Zweimer of Arabia, Butler of Mexico, McNaughton of Turkey, Majek of Bohemia and a number of native missionaries, besides the officers of the International Sunday School Association.

For Governor of South Carolina.
Columbia, S. C., May 18.—Although the successor of Governor Ansel is not to be nominated until the primaries in August, the gubernatorial campaign was begun in earnest today with the assembling of the democratic state convention in this city. A good field of candidates is promised for the gubernatorial race, among the leading entries being C. C. Featherstone of Laurens, Colonel E. L. Blease of Newberry and J. G. Richards, Jr., of Kershaw. Among other things to be considered and acted upon by the convention is the proposal that the question of state-wide prohibition be submitted to the voters at the coming primary for final settlement.

Miss Wadlington to Give Recital.
An attraction of unusual merit will be the recital at the Wichita Theatre Wednesday, May 25th, given by Miss Della Bacon Wadlington for the benefit of the ladies of the Methodist Church. Miss Wadlington is a charming young lady of unusual talent, coming direct from Boston, Mass., to Wichita Falls, where she has just completed a post-graduate course at the Emerson School of Oratory, having graduated with honors. She has been the recipient of many flattering criticisms from the eastern press and critics, and there is no doubt but what a large crowd will be charmed with her appearance in this city.

A novel contest has been inaugurated among the little girls of this city. Each girl will receive ten per cent on the total amount of tickets sold by her, in addition to a capital prize of two dollars to the one selling the greatest number of tickets. Mrs. J. O. McDowell, 606 Travis street, has charge of this, to whom all desiring to enter this contest may obtain tickets. By mistake the tickets were dated May 20th, and several were sold before this error was discovered. Parties holding same will please note the change of date from the 20th, to Wednesday, May 25th.

To Try Alleged "Faro Sharp."
Boston, Mass., May 18.—The case of William J. Keilher, the alleged "faro gang" leader, who has been indicted on the charge of aiding and abetting George W. Coleman in the misapplication of funds of the National City Bank of Cambridge, was called for trial today in the United States Circuit Court. Developments of a sensational character are looked for when the actual trial begins, probably with the next day or so. Coleman is the nine-dollar-a-week bookkeeper who is charged with having appropriated nearly $200,000 of the bank's funds for his own use and the result of which was that the bank was forced to close its doors. Following the indictment, Coleman is said to have accused Keilher and others with having swindled him out of the most of the stolen funds by means of fake faro games. For several years complaints have been made in Boston and New York of the operations of a gang of alleged faro sharps who have frequented the best hotels and the trans-Atlantic steamships, and swindled their victims out of thousands of dollars. According to the police, "Big Bill" Keilher, as he is known, is suspected of being one of the leaders of the gang.
