Middle East Crisis Erupts In Battle

Shooting On Two Fronts

JERUSALEM (AP)—For the third time in 20 years, war broke out today in the Middle East and gunfire sounded in Israel and in three of its Arab neighbors — Egypt, Jordan and Syria.

The Arabs, sworn to destroy Israel, were battling the Jewish state's forces on two fronts, at Egypt's Sinai frontier and on the Syria and Jordan borders.

Each side accused the other of lighting the fuse for the explosion which, as in 1956, threatened to involve the major powers.

The main fighting today appeared to be in the Sinai Desert, across the frontier that United Nations forces guarded until Egypt's Gamal Abdel Nasser ordered them out 18 days ago.

Artillery fire was heard in Jerusalem, the holy city divided between Jordan and Israel. Israel's port of Haifa was bombed. Israeli planes attacked the airports of three Arab capitals, Cairo, Amman and Damascus. Amman radio, the voice of King Hussein, reported heavy fighting along Jordan's 350-mile frontier with Israel.

Cairo said Israeli planes attacked Sharm El Sheikh, the point overlooking the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba — the area Nasser has blockaded to Israeli ships in the central controversy that brought on the fighting.

The Egyptian high command admitted that Israeli forces had penetrated into the Sinai desert on the southern front and into Khan Younes, in the middle of the Gaza Strip to the north.

"The enemy has struck our positions in these locations and has been repulsed," a military spokesman in Cairo said.

The attack in Sinai was on the road from the desert frontier to Ismailia, which lies about midway on the Suez Canal, the announcement said.

British Foreign Secretary George Brown announced in London that the fighting is spreading all around Israel, that Jerusalem is "engulfed in war," and that four British diplomatic missions were under attack by mobs in the Middle East.

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant told an emergency session of the Security Council in New York that Jordanian forces had taken over headquarters of the U.N. Truce Supervision Organization in Jerusalem. He sent an appeal to King Hussein of Jordan to order his troops withdrawn.

Thant told the council three Indian soldiers of the U.N. Emergency force were killed in the strafing of a convoy by Israeli planes. The War ministry in Brasilia reported a Brazilian corporal assigned to the force was killed by a bullet in the head as the fighting erupted.

Thant Makes Appeal For Cease-Fire

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General U Thant reported today Jordanian forces had taken over headquarters of the U.N. truce supervision organization in Jerusalem and that he had sent an urgent appeal to King Hussein to order their withdrawal.

Thant addressed an emergency session of the U.N. Security Council summoned to consider a call for an immediate cease-fire in the conflict between Israel and the Arab countries.

The secretary general also reported that Israeli planes had strafed a motor convoy of Indian troops assigned to the U.N. Emergency Force and three Indian soldiers had been killed.

He said headquarters of the U.N. observer organization, located in Government House, Jerusalem, had lost contact with the UNEF forces that were in the process of being withdrawn from Gaza and parts of Egypt.

Thant said Lt. Gen. Odd Bull, chief of the truce organization, had demanded withdrawal of the Jordanian troops but they had refused. Meanwhile, he added, fighting had broken out between the Jordanians and Israeli forces on the grounds of Government House.

Wild Winds Return To South Plains

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fierce winds and near cloudbursts battered the Panhandle-Plains of West Texas anew Sunday night, venting the worst of their fury on the Plainview vicinity.

Tornadoes spun down from the stormy sky in a sector 175 miles long, hail riddled crops and rains measuring more than 6 inches deluged some areas.

Weather Bureau observers looked for still another round of severe turbulence in the same general section by this evening.

Winds gusting at 60 miles per hour whipped the rain in blinding sheets as sirens sounded warnings of possible tornadoes and many Plainview residents scurried to storm shelters.

The alert was given after sheriff's deputies from Plainview watched three twisters writhe on the ground within six miles southwest of town, and the Lubbock Weather Bureau's radar tracked a tornado close to the Plainview airport.

Roofs went sailing off two Plainview homes, and the wind tore out both ends of the Hale County agricultural barn. An airport hangar lost its doors and a plane inside suffered an estimated $500 damage.

An empty grain storage bin capable of holding 1,000 bushels sailed 70 yards in the air at the Bennett Grain Co. in Plainview before coming down on top a combine.

In the southwest part of Plainview some residents swore a twister struck close by.

Telephone service to and from Plainview was knocked out temporarily. Sheriff's officers reported heavy damage to utility lines where the tornadoes appeared southwest of the city.

Water overflowing U.S. 87 and FM 400 from Plainview south toward Lubbock also halted travel for a time.

As Sam Heads and his family huddled under beds for protection, a kitchen wall was torn off their home south of Plainview and a living room wall caved in. A rain gauge outside overflowed after measuring 5 inches.

Solons To Study Valley Trouble

DALLAS (AP) — State Sen. Oscar Mauzy of Dallas said today he and two other senators would be in the Lower Rio Grande Valley by nightfall to "get the facts" on the bitter farm labor controversy that has involved the Texas Rangers.

Mauzy said he and Sens. Don Kennard of Fort Worth and A. R. Schwatz of Galveston would make the investigative trip.

"We'll stay down there as long as we need to to find out what's happening," Mauzy said today before leaving Dallas.

"We're going to talk to both sides—Rangers, the district attorney, the sheriff, the growers, the pickets, the laborers—everyone involved," he said.

Rangers have arrested more than 50 people in the Valley in recent weeks for such alleged violations as massed picketing and creating a disturbance.

Some of those arrested have claimed brutality on the part of the Rangers.

Sen. Joe Bernal of San Antonio called last week for the removal of the Rangers from the region, after a fact-finding mission of his own.

Meanwhile, members of the striking organization, the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, AFL-CIO, said they possibly would test today a temporary injunction against picketing the La Casita Farms, the largest in Starr County.

A state district judge handed down the injunction over the weekend, at the behest of the growers.

The strike, just barely more than a year old, is designed to secure a minimum wage for farm workers.

Homer Garrison, director of the Department of Public Safety, said Friday that Rangers in the Valley have exercised no brutality. He said they are only enforcing the law.

Mauzy said the whole situation was giving Texas a "black eye."

"Everyone in the state of Texas is being harmed by this thing" Mauzy said. "We cannot condone law-breaking by either side. I have an open mind, and am only interested in the facts."

Leathernecks Smash Reds

By GEORGE McARTHUR

SAIGON (AP)—U.S. Marines smashed a Communist regiment 25 miles southwest of Da Nang and reported that 570 of the enemy were killed. Leatherneck casualties were 73 dead and 139 wounded.

The U.S. Command said the Marines rolled up their lopsided victory below the big Marine base at Da Nang against a crack Red regiment after two days of intense fighting. The Communist regiment, estimated about 3,000 men before the battle, slipped away to the north Saturday under intense air and artillery hammering.

Two U.S. planes were downed over North Vietnam during the weekend, bringing the number of U.S. combat planes reported lost over the North to 571.

An F105 Thunderchief was brought down by Communist ground fire Sunday but its pilot was rescued. A twin-engine B57 Canberra bomber went down Saturday night in a raid on the southern end of North Vietnam. Its two-man crew was missing.

Air Force pilots reported they completely enveloped a convoy of 20 trucks near Dong Hoi with heavy bombing Sunday. Another Air Force sweep destroyed seven of eleven trucks in a convoy near Vinh.

The total number of Communist MIGs claimed shot down by U.S. fliers rose to 74 Saturday with the downing of two MIG17s by Air Force pilots who were attacking a rail line running from Hanoi to China.

A flight of MIGs tried to intercept the raiding F105 Thunderchiefs. But U.S. pilots shot two of the swept-wing Red fighters out of the skies with missile and cannon fire within 90 seconds.

Damage Heavy In Boston Rioting

BOSTON (AP)—Three nights of rock throwing, looting, arson and scattered sniper fire in the predominantly Negro Roxbury section have left more than 70 persons injured, 100 arrested, and property damage estimated in the millions.

Three state representatives from Boston Negro sections asked Republican Gov. John A. Volpe today to declare the riot-torn sector a disaster area to make loans and federal aid available to businessmen there.

'The people in this community are appalled at the violence, wanton waste, deliberate destruction of property, the loss of jobs held by people in the community and the unnecessary escalation of the problems in financing insurance and achieving economic resurgence of these areas,' a letter said.

It was signed by democratic Reps. Royal Bolling, Michael E. Haynes and Franklin W. Holgate, Negro leaders who have been credited with helping to keep peace in the city's sprawling Negro districts in past years.

The focal point of violence Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights was Blue Hill Avenue, a major street leading from the city's shopping and business sections to the southeast residential areas and suburbs.

Fire fighter responding to a call at an intersection about 10 p.m. Sunday were pelted with rocks thrown from rooftops.

Later at another intersection a sniper opened fire on police from a third-floor apartment. Police returned the fire and searched the building but failed to find the sniper. No one was hit.

Another incident at an intersection led to the arrest of a man who was charged with unlawful discharge of a firearm and unlawful possession of a firearm.

Eleven persons, including seven policemen and two children, were treated at city hospital for minor injuries and released. That brought to more than 70 the number of those injured.

No accurate estimate of damage has been made, although community leaders place the loss in millions of dollars. Most of the damage was in smashed store and car windows and from fires and looting.

Police said Sunday's outbreak was the mildest of the three nights. "It was only sporadic," said Deputy Police Supt. William A. Bradley, "most of it rock throwing."

Blackout Hits East Coast

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—A giant power failure hit sections of the East Coast today, cutting off electricity from New Jersey to Delaware.

The blackout hit Newark and Philadelphia and other cities in a populous area that was not affected by the great Northeastern blackout of November, 1965.

New York City and other areas hit by the 1965 blackout were not affected this time.

The Public Service Co. of New Jersey said the failure occurred in an interconnecting line tying together the power systems of New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Maryland.

County Has Light Agenda

County Commissioners this morning approved some minor change orders for the coliseum construction project and approved use of the pool in Winston Park for teaching swimming to Head Start youngsters.

William J. Schiebel, Community Action Program coordinator here, said it was hoped that all younsters in the Head Start program would learn to swim. They will be taught in two daily sessions, from 11 a.m. to noon and from 1 p.m. to 2 p.m.

Changes in coliseum construction approved included flooring for public rest rooms and some drainage facilities outside the building. The flooring change will require some $215 in additional expenditures.

Also at this morning's session which dealt with a light agenda, commissioners voted to employ the firm of Deffebach, Yorkson and Bishop for the annual county audit.

Britain Reviews Air Safety Rules

By RODNEY PINDER

LONDON (AP)—Britain's air safety rules came under close scrutiny today following the death of 160 Britons in the crash of two chartered holiday airliners.

On Saturday night a Douglas DC4 bound for Perpignan, France, smashed into the foothills of the Pyrenees, killing all 88 aboard.

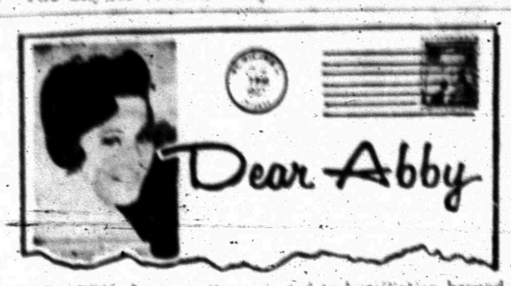

Sunday, a four-engine Argonaut coming home from Majorca plummeted into the center of the northern city of Stockport, killing 72 of the passengers and injuring 12. The plane crashed in the only clear area for miles around, and nobody on the ground was hurt.

Both planes were owned by private British airlines. Both were propeller-driven veterans around 20 years old. Both had been retired from service by bigger airlines as they bought newer aircraft. And both crashes came during the landing approach.

The prototype for both planes was designed in 1939. The Argonaut is a Canadian model of the Douglas DC4 with British instead of American engines. BOAC, the state-owned British Overseas Airways Corp., retired the Argonauts in 1959 after 107 million air miles and two accidents.

Two other DC4s have crashed this year, killing 57 persons.

Chartered flight companies in Britain must conform to the same safety rules as BOAC and its sister line, British European Airways. But BOAC and BEA have rules of their own more strict than the minimum required by law. The state lines, for example, do not permit pilots to land passengers at an airport which he has not visited on a familiarization flight. Private operators are not required to follow his rule.

DEAR ABBY: Last month my husband, Bob, took me to a popular night spot for dinner. As our dinner was served a "Dr. X," as I shall call him, was introduced as the evening's entertainment.

Dr. X was billed as "the only hypnotist with a "Ph. D." He asked for volunteers, promising that no one would be embarrassed, and they would all awaken from the hypnosis feeling "refreshed."

My husband volunteered, resulting in one of the most shattering and exhausting experiences of his life. And I was subjected to humiliation beyond description as I witnessed my husband and nine other subjects make fools of themselves for over an hour.

For example: All the subjects were told they were naked. One young girl tried desperately to "hide" herself behind another subject; an older married man was completely unnerved. At the same time, my husband tried to "cover" himself as best he could with a hankerchief, looking very miserable indeed.

Finally, the male subjects were told to return to their tables and kiss their wives more passionately than ever before. My husband and I are newlyweds, so you can imagine the results. My husband proceeded to embrace me in a most personal manner, and I was powerless to stop him.

This may be too long to print, but perhaps if you printed part of it, the public might be made aware of this menace and some legal measures can be taken to stop it.

INFURIATED IN SAN DIEGO

DEAR INFURIATED: Hypnosis is now recognized as a therapeutic technique when practiced by trained, responsible professionals, and if there isn't a law against it as "entertainment," there should be. Perhaps if enough citizens "suggested" it — by letter — to their legislators, there will be.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am going to a church luncheon today, but before I leave I will fix myself a cup of tea first, which brings me to the point of this letter:

I am an ardent tea drinker and I do not drink coffee. My cup of tea means as much to me as coffee means to those who just HAVE to have a cup of coffee. However, almost everywhere I go, only coffee is served. If you don't drink coffee, you can just drink water.

Many of the luncheons I attend are church or club luncheons and I pay just as much for my lunch as the coffee drinkers do. I wonder how many people would pay for their lunches if coffee was not served?

AN OLD TEA BAG

DEAR BAG: Since the absence of tea is a source of annoyance to you, you could either phone ahead and request tea, or tote your own tea bags. Your complaint is a valid one, and I'm with you all the way.

DEAR ABBY: "May Bride," who wanted her brother to be best man instead of her fiance's brother because HER brother was tall and handsome, and her fiance's brother was a "homely little sawed-off runt":

All I can say is I feel sorry for the man who married her. And since the height of a child is hereditary, what will she do if she gives birth to a son and he is a "homely sawed-off little runt" like his uncle? Kidnap the best looking baby in the nursery?

New Borden Road Project Is Approved

The Texas Highway Commission has approved development of 4.8 miles of Farm to Market Roads in Borden County as part of the 1967 Texas Farm to Market Program.

District Engineer J. C. Roberts of the Texas Highway Department said estimated cost of the work is $95,000.

The work will be under the supervision of Joe H. Smoot, Resident Engineer, Big Spring.

The work authorized in Borden County is part of 949.3 miles of Texas Farm and Ranch to Market Roads earmarked for development in the new program.

The program lists 228 projects in 166 counties. Estimated cost is $24.6 million.

New mileage included in the program totals 623 miles. Other mileage was previously designated or is being constructed in stages.

The additional mileage brings designated Farm and Ranch to Market Roads in Texas to 38.7 thousand miles. This is greater than the entire State-maintained highway mileage of many other States.

Oconee River Floods Athens

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — More than 10 inches of rain has sent rivers pouring over their banks to wash away houses, dams and bridges in what officials say was Athens worst flood.

More rain and flash flooding was predicted.

The Oconee River, which runs through Athens, and northeast Georgia, is already 20 feet above its normal level and is expected to reach 22 to 25 feet above normal before subsiding.

Several persons were injured in flood-related traffic accidents Sunday but no deaths were reported. Dozens of motorists were stranded at one point when a bridge over a creek washed away; and residents of an Athens trailer park chained their trailers to trees to keep them from floating away.

Dry May Is Reflected In Water Uses

Except for the July peaks, the Colorado River Municipal Water District delivered more water in May than for any other month on record.

The 1,346,335,512 gallons produced was exceeded only by the past four Julys, which have averaged right at a billion and a half gallons. The month's total was 300 million gallons more than May 1966, and virtually all of it was additional water taken by member cities.

The total of the three towns was 972,996,900 gallons, or 45 per cent more than the 672,371,300 for May last year. Odessa used 549,910,000 gallons, up 52.30 per cent over May 1966. Big Spring took 334,494,000, up 37.79 per cent. Snyder used 88,592,900, up 29.26 per cent.

Oil companies required 373,338,612 gallons, which is eight million, or 2.36 per cent, more than for May a year ago.

The percentage gain for May, counting both member cities and the oil companies, was 29.71.

For the first five months of the year, CRMWD production has aggregated 5,162,073,268 gallons, which is 757,000,000 gallons more than the same period in 1966. This represents an increase of 17.18 per cent for the year.

In the face of this increased demand, an increase of 12,000 acre feet, or nearly four billion gallons, in the Lake Thomas level was welcomed last week.

Clearwater Riot Area Now Calm

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — The predominantly Negro North Greenwood section was quiet through the night after a predawn fistfight Sunday mushroomed into a two-hour clash between police and about 200 Negroes.

The rioters roamed the area of bars, pool halls and a low cost housing project, hurling bottles and other objects at police and a special Pinellas County riot squad until 10 arrests squelched the outburst.

Police used clubs and at least one officer was hit with a thrown bottle but no serious injuries were reported.

A police cruiser was wrecked by the mob. Police Capt. William Permru said the angry crowd caved in the top of the car, smashed all the windows, yanked out the steering wheel, shredded the upholstery and ripped out the radio. He estimated damage at $1,500.

Police Chief Willis Booth said the violent outburst was "a spontaneous situation and could happen anywhere."

He told a news conference, "There are just some people up there who don't want the law enforced," and added he did not think "racial overtones were involved."

Graham Ends Winnipeg Crusade

WINNIPEG, Man. (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham ended his Winnipeg Crusade Sunday before a crowd of 25,000, largest of his eight-day stay.

The throng filled the stand at Winnipeg Stadium on a sunny but blustery afternoon and overflowed into the adjoining baseball bleachers and onto the football field.

Among them were some bearded, guitar-carrying hippies. Graham told his audience he had mingled for a time with teen-agers during a youth demonstration in downtown Winnipeg Friday night.

"I started asking them questions," he said. "When I asked them what they were demonstrating about, some said to get their rights, some said to be able to make love on the lawn and some said to protest police brutality. But most didn't really know what they wanted.

"They want to be loved. They feel alienated. . . They want a cause, a flag to follow and they want an experience."

This, he said, is where the church has failed. It had not been able to provide individuals with a personal experience with God, Graham added.

"We all want someone to pour out our souls to."

About 125,000 persons from Manitoba and neighboring provinces and states attended the crusade and close to 4,000 answered his call to dedicate their lives to Christ.

Richard Speck Sentencing Due

By F. RICHARD CICCONE

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—If Richard Speck, convicted killer of eight young nurses, is sentenced to the electric chair, the outlook is for a series of drawndout appeals.

A jury of seven men and five women convicted Speck April 15 of eight murders in a townhouse dormitory last July 14. The jury recommended that Speck be executed. Sentencing was set for today.

An appeal to a higher court is automatic in cases involving capital punishment and the procedures for making such appeals nearly always take a great deal of time.

For example, there are eight condemned men in the Cook County jail. Through various avenues of appeal they have managed to avoid execution for two to 13 years.

Speck's lawyer, Gerald W. Getty, said he would fight a death sentence "through all the courts in the land."

But the Circuit Court judge could impose a lesser sentence if he saw fit, and Getty has made it clear he would settle for a sentence of life imprisonment.

Speck was found guilty of rounding up nine young nurses in their dormitory at night and slaying eight of them, either stabbing or strangling.

The ninth nurse, Corazon Amurao, 23, a Philippine exchange student, escaped by hiding under a bed.

She was the state's principal witness at Speck's trial and pointed him out as the killer.

Speck, a 25-year-old drifter, was transported from the Cook County Jail to the Peoria County jail Sunday under heavy guard. Speck was tried in Peoria after Getty contended he could not get a fair trial in Chicago.

In the latest of a series of moves in Speck's behelf, Getty brought a psychiatrist to a hearing Friday. The psychiatrist testified that Speck had a serious mental disease and could not control his behavior at times of high tension.

But the prosecution pointed out that five psychiatrists and a general doctor had agreed last fall that Speck was mentally competent.

Two Men Hurt As Truck Overturns

Two San Antonio men were hospitalized following a truck mishap Friday night on U. S. Highway 84 about 4.5 miles north of Snyder.

Highway patrolmen who investigated, said a 1962 International truck and semi-trailer overturned. Stamps In The News

By SYD KRONISH

FOR THE FIRST time in its postal history, the United States will issue a new stamp with first-day cancellation in another country.

The occasion is the issuance of the 5-cent "Canada Centennial Commemorative" which goes on first-day sale May 25 at the U. S. Pavilion of Expo 67 in Montreal, Canada. The date has been designated United States National Day at the exposition.

First-day cover requests will be sent to Rouses Point, N. Y., and then transported to the U. S. Pavilion for cancellation.

The new U. S. stamp commemorating the 1th anniversary of Canada's achievement of federation was designed by Ivan Chermayeff, president of the American Institute of Graphic Arts.

The design is a symbolic depiction of the scenic grandeurs of Canada. Again a lightblue sky is a range of snow-covered mountains, beneath which is a green plain, bisected by blue water. Upper left is the wording "Canada 1867-1967."

Collectors desiring first - day cancellations may send addressed envelopes, together with remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed, to the Postmaster, Rouses Point, N. Y. 12979. The envelope to the postmaster should be endorsed "First-Day Covers 5 cents Canada Centennial Stamp." Requests must be postmarked no later than May 25.

Remember, do NOT send directly to Montreal for the stamps or covers.

U. S. Publishing Slow On Latin Fiction

By RICHARD DAW,
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK — Latin American writing, long a neglected field in the United States, may be on the threshold of better things.

Publishers are mounting quiet campaigns to translate and make available more of the burgeoning output of Latin American writers, and one publisher is planning an event counted by many as the coming of age of Latin American fiction in the United States.

That event is the planned simultaneous publication in the United States and Latin America of a novel by a Latin American author, a radical departure from the usual procedure of translating a book into English and publishing it in the United States years after it has appeared in the country of its origin.

The book to be used in this venture is "A Change of Skin" by Mexican Carlos Fuentes, one of the Latin American writers better known to United States readers.

Farrar, Straus and Giroux is planning to bring out the book here in the fall, and Fuentes' Mexican publisher, M. Ortiz, is scheduling publication in Mexico to coincide with Farrar's.

This is a far cry from the casual way in which United States publishers, with a few exceptions, have operated in the past.

One of the most highly praised novels of recent years, "Hopscotch," by Argentina's Julio Cortazar, found its way into an English language edition almost by accident.

Paul Blackburn, a United States poet and translator of Spanish language works, came across a collection of Cortazar's short stories at the home of a friend in Europe.

Blackburn later met and married his wife, Sarah, an editor at a New York publishing firm, Pantheon Books. He told her of Cortazar, but Pantheon wasn't interested — collections of short stories are very difficult to sell.

Cortazar turned out a novel, which Pantheon published with no great success and then finished "Hopscotch," which Panteon got because of its previous connection.

Thus a book which the New York Times called "one of the most original and ambitious novels published anywhere in our time," might never have appeared in English except for chance. Or, at best, it might have taken Cortazar much longer than it did to come to the attention of United States readers.

Incidentally, the translator of "Hopscotch," Gregory Rabassa, won a $1,000 prize at the National Book Awards in March for the best translation in 1966 of a contemporary work.

Publishers do not leave so much in the hands of chance where the literature of Europe is concerned. Why the difference in the case of Latin America?

Persons in the publishing field cite several reasons for the situation, and most say it is changing rapidly.

A chief reason cited is the lack of organization of the publishing industry in Latin America. Finding who has the rights to a book and establishing channels for negotiations for a United States edition hasn't always been as easy as it could be.

Partly because of that, few United States publishers have found it worthwhile to develop staff members who can read and judge a book in its original Spanish or Portuguese and decide whether an English edition should be published.

And once these obstacles have been overcome, and a decision to publish has been made, finding a capable translator was—and still is, to some extent — a problem because of the comparatively little demand for translation of fiction from Latin American languages.

Not everyone in the business agrees with each of these points, but few discount them all.

Many feel that a key point is that in recent years Latin American writers have become more contemporary, getting away from national and provincial topics which limited the appeal of their books.

A common complaint of publishers is that book reviewers tend to discriminate against Latin American authors. Says one publishing company official:

"Most of the time newspapers and magazines will turn over a novel by a Latin American author to a so-called 'expert' on Latin America, a professor or something, rather than having it reviewed by the kinds of people who review other novels — good book critics.

"This doesn't happen to French novels, or German, or Italian, or those from anywhere else. Why should it happen to Latin American novels? Why can't they be reviewed for what they are, novels, instead of as if they are historical treatises?"

Florida Ponders Gangland Events

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—Four gangland murders brought Gov. Claude Kirk to Miami today to discuss "the gangland situation."

Three victims were dumped into water, one apparently while still alive. The other two bodies fished from watery graves were cut up, one in at least half a dozen parts.

The latest murder was discovered Saturday when boaters found pieces of a man's torso floating in Biscayne Bay.

The victim was the second which police have not been able to identify.

The other unidentified victim was found handless in an Everglades canal west of Fort Lauderdale on May 30. The victim had been shot five times with two weapons.

Kirk campaigned heavily on the "crime in Miami" issue during his upset victory over Miami Mayor Robert King High in November.

The frst victim of the killings was John Biene, 60, identified in 1963 Senate hearings as a member of the Mafia. Kirk said Biele was shot to death after talking with Kirk's "War on Crime" detectives. Biele's body was found March 18.

The next victim was Nate Ehrenberg, whom police said was a key figure in South Florida's bolita racket. His body was found May 14 in a lake. It was tied in a black canvas sack wrapped from neck to ankles with yellow waterski rope and weighted by cement blocks.

Since September 1965 gamblers who had operated with apparent near-immunity in South Florida have been put on the run by a series of crime-busting grand juries.

The Mason - Dixon Line was drawn in 1767 to end a bitter colonial land dispute. It extends from east to west between Pennsylvania and Maryland, with a shorter branch reaching southward then east between Maryland and Delaware. All three states were on the Union side during the Civil War.

Tower Sees Tight Money

BOSTON, Mass. (AP) — Another tight money period leading to extension of controls over undue increase in interest and charges was predicted Sunday by Sen. John Tower, R-Tex.

Tower, in a commencement address at Bentley College, said the economy will show more inflationary trends as long as the United States is at war in Vietnam, and the demands on money, because of the war, are bound to be great.

"This money-demand situation is certain to drive interest rates up on domestic needs," Tower said, "but fortunately the Congress is equipped with the powers nesessary to prevent unreasonableness in the money market."

The Texas senator said he believes the Banking and Currency Committee on which he serves will extend the authority permanently as favored by some federal regulatory agencies.

"It is, of course, my general view that our committee might well observe caution as far as additional regulatory legislation is concerned," he said.

Panel Would Use Computer In Battle Against Crime

WASHINGTON (AP)—A presidential crime commission report says use of computers could limit a fundamental weakness in crime control—lack of quick information.

The report said the computer could provide immediate information from a central data bank to any police officer on wanted persons or stolen property.

It also could help place officers quickly at trouble spots which erupt quickly, correlate facts about past crimes to help solve new ones and help prescribe treatment for offenders.

The report was released Sunday by the task force on science and technology of the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration and Justice. It is the fifth of nine reports released after a detailed study of crime in America.

Nicholas Katzenbach, undersecretary of state, former attorney general and the commission chairman, said he hopes the report will result in a major program of applying science and technology to crime control.

"Heretofore, science has limited itself mainly to solving individual crimes," he said. "Now—through the use of computers, integrated communications systems, better command and control systems and systems analysis science can begin to seek solutions to the over-all problem of controlling crime."

Two other study groups made other crime - related recomendations Sunday night.

The American Bar Association's advisory committee on sentencing and review suggested all states and the federal government give criminal defendants the right to challenge sentences imposed by trial judges.

Thirteen states now allow sentence review appeals and eight others permit it to some degree. Federal sentence never is rare—except for military courts.

RFK ENDORSEMENT

President Gets Political Windfall

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson got a big political windfall in New York over the weekend—a surprisingly warm and unqualified endorsement from Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

After months of talk of feuding and ill will, Kennedy followed Johnson to the rostrum at a Democratic fund-raising dinner Saturday night and, addressing his fellow New Yorkers, gave his all-out blessing for 1968 to Johnson and Vice President Hurbert H. Humphrey.

Kennedy, in effect, overshadowed the President's own speech.

"Webster defines greatness as largeness of size, much above the average in magnitude, intensity and importance," Kennedy said, adding that the definition could have been written for Johnson.

"The height of his aim, the breadth of his achievements, the record of his past and the promises of his future—all these speak the largeness of size, that magnitude of effort, that intensity of devotion and that importance of accomplishment," said Kennedy.

Kennedy has previously endorsed Johnson and Humphrey for 1968 but not in such lengthy or effusive terms. And his embrace came only a few days after the latest of moves by Kennedy supporters—whom he has disavowed—to place his name on some presidential primary election ballots.

Looking ahead to next year's presidential election, New York's junior senator said of Johnson: "In 1964 he won the biggest popular victory in modern times and with our help he will do so again in 1968. And with our help, he will have by his side the best vice president since his predecessor. Humphrey's predecessor was, of course, Johnson, who served as John F. Kennedy's vice president.

From this dinner, a $100-a-plate affair sponsored by the state Democratic organization, Johnson rode with Kennedy in the presidential limousine to another Manhattan hotel and two other party fund-raising events.

As the two men emerged from the limousine, they posed together for photographers—their beaming faces and hearty handclasp seeming to belie any thought of bad blood between them.

That Johnson was elated with Kennedy's unrestrained endorsement was evident. Some wondered if he wouldn't in the future look to Kennedy with greater warmth—and vice versa.

Kennedy said Johnson "came to lead this nation at a time of uncertainty and danger, pouring out his own strength to renew the strength and purpose of all the people of this nation and of the nation itself."

Kennedy went on: "He has sought consensus but he has never shrunk from controversy. He has gained huge popularity but he has never failed to spend it in the pursuit of his beliefs or in the interest of his country."

The senator had been scheduled to introduce Johnson. But the plane that brought him to New York from England, where he had attended the funeral of a family friend, fell behind schedule and so he was tardy.

Crisis Slows Tourists To Jerusalem

By ALEX EFTY

JERUSALEM, Jordan (AP) — Tourist traffic through this Biblical city, one of the greatest attractions in the world, has dried up as a result of the Middle East crisis.

The loss of revenue is a blow for the Jordanian government and thousands of Jordanians directly dependent on tourism for a living.

According to official figures, more than 2,000 tourists pass through the gates of the old walled city of Jerusalem on every normal day. Their contribution to the Jordanian economy is estimated at $33 million a year, equal to the country's total annual exports.

The other part of Jerusalem, in Israeli-held territory, also is a tourist attraction but its economy is more widespread.

Until a few days ago, the narrow cobbled alleyways of the Old City, which impress visitors as having changed but little since the days of Christ, were constantly filled with a polygot throng of visitors from many lands.

The hundreds of small shops selling souvenirs of the Holy Land did a roaring trade. The scores of professional guides, silversmiths, hotel employes, the carvers of olive wood and mother of pearl crucifixes, and other mementos, the Oriental jewelers and the weavers of Arabian carpets and brocades, were kept happily busy.

Now the hotels are empty. The shopkeeper, with no customers to serve, sit disconsolately in small groups in the alleys, listening to news on transistor radios.

Tourist guides are nowhere to be seen. The carvers, the weavers and the jewelrs have stopped working. They spend all their time going from shop to shop in an effort to place their wares, but they are turned away as the shopkeepers are unwilling to increase their already idle stocks.

Life goes on in Jerusalem even without the tourists. The food bazaars are still as full of jostling crowds as ever.

Another type of businessman reported a sudden increase in trade. He operates a packing and forwarding office. The sidewalk outside his shop was stacked high with wooden crates and metal trunks bearing American and other foreign addresses.

They all contained the household effects of foreign families that had hurriedly left Jerusalem on the advice of their embassies as the war clouds over the Middle East darkened.

Eagle Gives Moss, McLeod Open Title

Pecos' Bill Moss and the Houston Oiler's Bob McLeod won the open division championship of the annual Snyder Open Tournament on the first hole of a "sudden death" playoff with Bunky Johnson of Odessa and Ed Kerley of Abilene.

Both teams fired a 133-total in 36 holes of regular play. Bunky sank about a 30-foot putt on the 18th hole of the second round to send the tourney into a playoff.

Then, on No. 1 hole, Moss, who is the brother-in-law of Fluvanna Coach Geral Greene, reached the green in two and dropped in a long putt for an eagle that produced victory.

Johnson also birdied the first hole in the playoff, and the other two men posted par 5's.

In Friday's practice round, Moss came up with a hole in one. His teammate, Bob McLeod, is the brother of Snyder Coach Jerry McLeod and the son of Sam McLeod, who operates a local restaurant.

McLeod and Moss turned in a blistering 65 Sunday to go with their opening round 68. Johnson and Kerley, who took the lead Saturday with a 65, registered a 68 Sunday for their 133.

Johson, a lithe young golfer, also was low pro of the tournament with a 65-69-134. The open and amateur divisions were partnership affairs with the low ball counting in the official card.

Travis Horton of Stamford and Roland Adams of Big Spring were runnersup in the pro division with a 66 - 69 - 135. The best showing by a football player in the open group was made by Charley Johnson of Big Spring. The St. Louis quarterback teamed up with Binky Mitchella of Abilene to fire a 70-66-36.

Lance Alworth of the San Diego Chargers and Hal McCommas of Dallas were one - stroke back with a 66-71-137.

The Dallas Cowboys' Don Meredith and Perry Cloud posted a phenomenal 59 in the first round of the amateur division Saturday, then faltered to a 65 Sunday for a 124 total. It won them runnerup honors in this division.

Winners of the amateur division were Larry Anderson of Snyder and Steve Roger of Lubbock with a 64-59-123.

During presentation ceremonies following the conclusion of the tournament, J. T. King, head football coach at Texas Tech, and Donnie Anderson, former Tech All-American, announced that they would "give back" their gift certificates if the best guard, tackle and quarterback on the next Snyder High School football team would attend Texas Tech rather than TCU.

Charley Johnson also refused to take a gift certificate, stating it was the first time he had ever won anything in Snyder. He recalled his high school days when he was quarterback of the Big Spring Steers.

"The best we could do then," he said, "was get beat 27-0."

A fair - sized gallery was present both days, and most of the spectators followed the "big name" athletes and coaches, such as Sammy Baugh and Charlie McClendon.

Officials expressed satisfaction with the tournament.

Eight Teams Ready For State Tourney

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eight schoolboy baseball teams go to Austin Thursday for the state tournament, with South San Antonio expected to defend its championship in Class AAA but the Class AAAA wide open.

South San Antonio, seeking its seventh state title in 10 years and boasting a 37-0 record for the season, will be a heavy favorite indeed.

Houston Lee, 29-6-1, and with two top pitchers, may be the choice in Class AAAA, although its first foe in the tournament—Corpus Christi King — has the best record of the four teams competing for the title.

The ace Lee moundsmen are Dave Davis, who has a 12-2 record, including a no-hitter, and Rick Rickard, 9-3.

King has won 30, lost 3 and tied 1 and has one of the best pitchers in the state in Bert Hooton, a star of the playoffs.

Abilene Cooper and Tyler are the other Class AAAA teams. Cooper, with an 18-9 record, has an outstanding pitcher in Dave Johnson, who has won 14 games, lost only two and hit four home runs. He averages almost two strikeouts per inning.

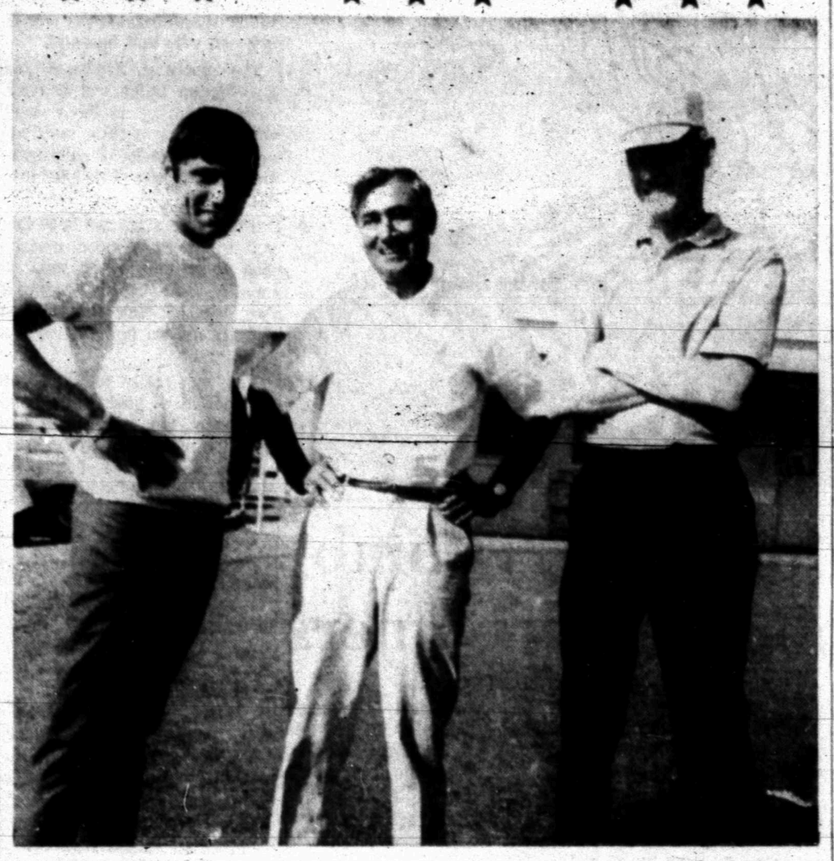

Tyler is 17-4 and also has a sensational pitcher in Danny Shields, who has worked 16 of 21 games, winning 13 and losing two.

Cooper and Tyler meet in the second game Thursday night.

Odessa Ector, La Vega and Beaumont Forest Park are South San Antonio's worries in the Class AAA division and Forest Park is eyed as the most likely upsetter if one should come.

Forest Park is 23-4 for the season and is well fortified in pitching. Ector is 21-7 with its star pitcher, Richard Ramirez, boasting an 18-0 record. La Vega is 16-8, winning 14 of its last 15 games.

The tournament runs through Friday.

Dave Hill Is Winner

By BOB GILBERT

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — His lead in the Memphis Open Golf Tournament dwindling, Dave Hill remembered four years ago at the Hot Springs Open when he overheard someone in the galery remark: "Hill's folding up."

He didn't fold then, and he mustered enough courage and shook off the butterflies Sunday to win the $100,000 Memphis Open and the biggest check of his 10-year career—$20,000.

Through the first three rounds here, Hill steadily increased his lead to five strokes but began to skid Sunday when Johnny Pott made a dramatic surge on the last 10 holes.

Pott, playing one group in front of Hill, narrowed the gap to three strokes by the time he reached the 18th tee.

Hill knew Pott was gaining, so he buckled down on 17 after suffering four bogeys and a double bogey. He drove the 17th green in one and got his par-3.

On the last hole, he put his second shot into a sand trap, blasted out and two putts gave him a par and the championship

There will be three or four meets during the summer — at Abilene, Midland, Odessa and here.

Giants Tip Cubs With Hit Attack

The Little League Giants unloaded 12 hits and scored eight runs in an 8-4 victory over the Cubs Saturday.

The Giants tallied five runs in the second inning. The rally was sparked by Richard Gorman, Randy Dryden and Tommy Gardner. Both Gorman and Gardner socked home runs while Dryden followed with a double.

A two run homer in the third inning by Joe Bullard sparked the Cubs, but after that frame the Cubs could manage only single runs in the fourth and sixth innings.

The Giants hit safely in every frame except the first when they failed to score. Every man in the Giant lineup hit safely except Larry Thompson and pinch hitter Joe Acock, but both of them reached base safely.

Clay Is Innocent To Stars

CLEVELAND (AP) — A group of well known Negro athletes wanted the straight-from-the source lowdown on Cassius Clay's stand against Army induction and they got it Sunday.

"After 2½ hours of friendly discussion we decided he is sincere in his religious belief," said Jim Brown, former Cleveland Browns' fullback and head of the Negro Industrial and Economic Union (NIEU), which invited Clay to the meeting.

While a crowd blocked the sidewalk outside the NIEU office, Clay explained to the professional athletes and Lew Alcindor of UCLA that he refused to be drafted because of religious beliefs, that he is a Muslim minister.

Clay, who prefers his Muslim name of Muhammad Ali, was stripped of his heavyweight title by boxing organizations after he refused to be drafted in Houston April 28.

He faces a trial in U.S. District Court there June 19 on a charge of evading the military draft.

Snyder Net Duo Second

John Phillips and Max Falls took second place in the boys 16 Doubles at the Abilene Open Tennis Tournament over the weekend.

In first round play they defeated Mike Moreland and Billy Hayes of Abilene, 6-2, 6-2. In the second round they decisioned Lynn Ingram and Doug Bridges of Abilene, 6-2, 6-3.

Falls and Phillips were beaten in the finals by Sean Terry and Steve Buck of Midland, 6-3, 6-1.

Falls also reached the semi-finals in the boys 14 Singles before losing to Tom Pendleton, ranked 5th in the state, 4-6, 6-3, 8-6.

Phillips reached the second round in boys 18 Singles before losing to No. 1 seed Ronnie Barney of Amarillo, 6-3, 6-2. Phillips also reached the quarterfinals in boys 16 Singles before losing to Ingram, 4-6, 7-5, 6-3.

Damascus Headed For Delaware Park

NEW YORK (AP)—Damascus, with an easy victory in the $138,700 Belmont Stakes added to his 3-year-old championship credentials, probably will make his next start in the $35,00-added Leonard Richards Stakes at Delaware Park June 17 with no meeting with his arch-rival, Dr. Fager, in line for the immediate future.

"I want first to talk with the owners," said trainer Frank Whiteley Jr. from his Laurel, Md., home after seeing that Damascus was safely back in his quarters at Delaware Park.

"I would like to start in the 1⅛ miles of the Leonard Richards and then take dead aim on some of those rich Chicago stakes, particularly the American Derby in August."

With Damascus pointing for the Leonard Richards and Dr. Fager aiming for either the $50,-000-added Saranac at Aqueduct July 1 or the $100,000-added Classic at Arlington Park June 24, it is very doubtful when the twain will meet to determine the 3-year-old title.

Dr. Fager didn't race in either of the Triple Crown events but he finished first by 6½ lengths in the Jersey Derby only to be disqualified and edged Damascus in the one mile of the Gotham at Aqueduct on April 15 in their lone head-on meeting.

Running the 1½ miles of the Belmont Stakes in 2:28 4-5 for jockey Bill Shoemaker's fourth victorious ride in the classic, Damascus earned $104,950 to run his 1967 bankroll to $365,410 on five victories, one second and one third in seven races.

Damascus was the strong Belmont favorite, paying $3.60 for $2. But favorites were not so fortunate in the other gold-laden feature of last Saturday — the $119,200 Californian at Hollywood Park.

Bristol's Hair Gray After 1-Run Games

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cincinnati Reds are going fishing today but Manager Dave Bristol may have to make another trip to his corner barbershop.

If he does, you can bet he won't ask for a close shave.

The National League-leading Reds ran up a 5-0 lead against Atlanta Sunday, then held off the Braves 5-4 for their fourth straight victory. It was the 14th one-run game for the Reds in their last 15.

"I had a haircut the other day and had all the gray hairs cut out," the 33-year-old Cincinnati pilot cracked after giving all the Reds a day off today.

Cincinnati's third one-run verdict over Atlanta in three days protected the Reds three-game lead over second place St. Louis, which nipped the Chicago Cubs 4-3. Third place San Francisco swept a doubleheader from the fading New York Mets 7-0 and 5-0, Pittsburgh trimmed Los Angeles 4-1 and Philadelphia overcame Houston 6-1 in other games.

Kansas City divided an American League doubleheader with the Chicago White Sox, winning the nightcap 5-4 after bowing 2-0, while Detroit slammed New York 11-7 in 13 innings after the Yankees took the doubleheader opener 5-0, Cleveland blanked Boston 3-0, Minnesota shaded California 8-7 in 10 innings and Baltimore outlasted Washington 7-9 in 19 innings.

The Reds' string of squeakers — interrupted only by a 6-1 victory at Pittsburgh two weeks ago — began on May 21 with a 2-1 loss to Philadelphia in 18 innings. They have broken even in the 14 one-run games, which include four overtime struggles.

Reliever Bob Lee, newly acquired from Los Angeles, stopped the Braves' comeback Sunday, preserving Jim Maloney's fifth victory in seven decisions. Lee came on in the eighth after Hank Aaron's 15th homer closed the gap to one run against Maloney in the seventh.

The Reds scored twice in the third inning and Leo Cardenas capped a three-run burst in the fourth with a two-run homeer.

Lou Brock smacked his third homer in three games leading off the first inning, then broke a 3- 3tie with a run-scoring single in the eighth as the Cards topped Chicago behind the three-hit pitching of rookie Dick Hughes.

Orlando Cepeda's sacrifice fly pulled St. Louis even in the sixth after the Cubs took a 3-2 lead in the fifth with the help of center fielder Curt Flood's first error in 227 games.

Joe Gibbon, making his first start for the Giants this year, shackled the Mets on four hits in the opener while Tito Fuentes and Willie McCovey cblasted three-run homers.

Mike McCormick completed the shutout sweep by scattering eight hits in the second game. The veteran left-hander was backed by four double plays and Ollie Brown's three-run homer.

Roberto Clemente wrecked the Dodgers with two homers — good for all the Pittsburgh runs — as southpaw Bob Veale gained his seventh victory against one loss. Veale needed ninth inning help from Roy Face in prevailing over the Dodgers' Don Drysdale.

The Phillies extended their winning streak to six games by rallying for six runs in the ninth after being blanked on three hits by rookie Don Wilson over the first eight innings.

Johnny Callison's leadoff double ignited the rally and Johnny Briggs' three-run homer off reliever Carroll Sembera finished the Astros.

Small Nations Feel N Bomb Has Immobilized Its Owners

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nuclear bomb didn't end war but it does make the big powers a little more thoughtful and a little less overbearing, which is a good excuse for the smaller ones to take advantage of them.

And, in taking advantage of them, the small ones can dare the big ones and even tangle with them, feeling rather safe when they do since, in a sense, the nuclear bomb has immobilized is owners.

A couple of good examples are Vietnam and the Middle East.

If Ho Chi Minh and his North Vietnamese feared they would be wiped off the map with a nuclear blast if they took on the United States no doubt there would be no war in Vietnam today.

The North Vietnamese have proved themselves tremendously brave but they are neither lunatics nor suicide-bent and they would have been both if they had felt, when they got into this war, the United States would use the bomb.

But they had several reasons to know the United States would be reluctant to go that far: the inhumanity of it, the scorchingly bad world reaction, and the possibility the Soviets might get in with their nuclear bombs.

On the other hand, the Soviets themselves have avoided getting directly involved. Vietnam is a long way from Soviet territory and it is within the sphere of Chinese influence, not Soviet.

So the Soviets have been reluctant to butt in, knowing that in a world where one thing leads to another they might, before they knew it, be in a nuclear war with the United States, a war in which Vietnam would be only a minor episode.

The Soviets haven't even exerted themselves overmuch in giving other kinds of help to Ho Chi Minh. But, if the United States used nuclear weapons, the Soviets, much as they dreaded it, might feel compelled out of self-consciousness before the Communist world to use nuclear bombs on the United States.

Perhaps Moscow wouldn't have done anything of the kind. But there was always the chance it might. So the United States has limited itself to the so-called traditional bombs in North Vietnam.

And the North Vietnamese, knowing the odds against total destruction for them, took their chance, and while they are not winning they are not losing.

Egyptian President Gamall Abdel Nasser has played the same kind of game, and no doubt for the same kind of reasons, in bringing the Mideast to the edge of war, closing the Gulf of Aqaba to Israeli shipping, while increasing his prestige in the Arab world to a new high.

The one missing link in this one, which may make it different from Vietnam, is the Soviet Union because no one at this point seems to know whether the Soviets, to smash Western influence in the area while increasing their own, connived with Nasser to do what he did.

The Soviets know the United States know that if it takes military action to break Nasser's back so close to the Soviet homeland, the Soviets may come to his aid and, with one shot leading to another, wind up in an American-Soviet nuclear war.

No wonder the Johnson administration has been working in silence and behind the scenes, without threats. Threats might bring responding threats from Moscow and that in itself might force a showdown.

Like the Soviets with Vietnam, President Johnson with the Middle East has to ask himself: Is the Mideast important enough to the United States and its Western allies to risk a nuclear war to save Israel?

The nuclear bomb has even given the big powers a new perspective, for what may seem dreadfully important today may seem inconsequential tomorrow if, after butting heads, all that is left are a few remnants of life.

Things Boyle Learns By Reading Mail

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The Chinese have an ingenious way of collecting bad debts. The creditor and his family simply move into the debtor's home. Rather than live with his uninvited guests, the debtor usually pays up.

Having children won't necessarily save a foundering marriage. Psychologists say that, in some cases, children increase rather than diminish the tension between wife and husband.

The postwar Japanese are growing up taller and heavier. Better farming methods have enabled them to raise their average daily intake of calories in the past 10 years from 2,162 to 2,353.

The chances are one in 80 that you will need a blood transfusion sometime in the next 12 months. American hospitals now use between five million and six million pints of blood a year.

Yep, you really require sleep to function at your best. Tests show that the more sleep you miss the more errors you make, and people deprived of sleep too long become hallucinated and terror-stricken.

How they started: Folksinger Theodore Bikel sought to be a lawyer. Buddy Hackett, the comedian, studied to be dramatic actor. James Cagney, famed for his tough gangster portrayals, danced in the chorus of musical comedies.

Quotable notables: "We have been god-like in our planned breeding of our domesticated plants and animals, but we have been rabbit-like in our unplanned breeding of ourselves." — historian Arnold Toynbee.

Alcohol is one of man's oldest problems. An Egyptian writer 3,000 years ago wrote this warning against drinking a big jug of beer: "Thou speakest and an unintelligible utterance issueth from thy mouth. If you fallest down and thy limbs break, there is none to hold out a hand to thee. Thy companions in drink stand up and say: 'Away with this sot.' And thou are like a little child."

Cleopatra never used a bar of soap in her life. Slaves anointed her body with oil, then hand-rubbed the dirt off.

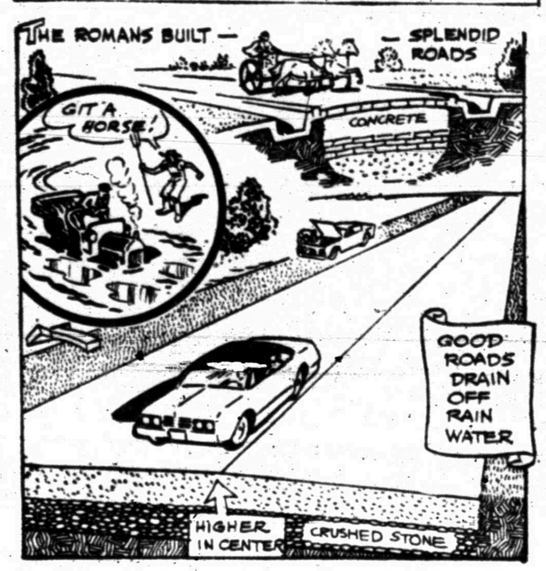

Folklore: If you put a louse on a baby's head before he is nine days old and then carry him up to the attic, he will have lofty thoughts later in life. An itching left eye is a sign of woe to come. Handing an open penknife to a friend will result in a quarrel. If you iron the tail of your husband's shirt, lady, it will make him harsh.

No one really knows what Jesus Christ looked like, whether he was short or tall, handsome or homely, fair or dark. Historians feel sure he was bearded, however, for all Jewish men wore beards at the time he lived.

It was Charles Spurgeon who observed, "It is not how much we have, but how much we enjoy, that makes happiness."

Geologists regard ice as a mineral. An oxide of hydrogen, it serves an important rock-forming function in glaciers and ice-caps.

Junior Editors Quiz on ROADS

QUESTION: How did the early roads lead to our modern ones?

* * *

ANSWER: Rivers were once largely used for transportation. But with the discovery of the wheel and the taming of horses and oxen, roads began to be built in the ancient kingdoms. A wheeled chariot has been found, dating from 3200 B.C. indicating there were some stone-paved roads by this time. But it was the Romans who turned road building into an art, for they needed good roads to link their huge empire together. In our cross-section of a Roman road, notice that it is higher in the center. This is the key to good road building, since rainwater drains off on both sides. The Romans often built ditches to carry the runoff away. There was less road building in the Middle Ages, but with the development of industry, good road systems began to be constructed. Only 50 years ago, many American rural roads, in rainy weather, looked something like the picture in the black circle. But the great use of cars brought modern roads rapidly into being. Our cross section shows how, like a Roman road, a good modern road is higher in the center and is built over a solid foundation.

Egyptians Cheer News Of War

By GARVEN HUDGINS

CAIRO (AP) — Crowds of Egyptians cheered, danced in the streets and jammed around cars with radios for news after broadcasts and bursts of antiaircraft fire told them their nation had gone to war with Israel.

Despite antiaircraft firing heard and radio reports that Israeli planes were attacking Cairo, there was no sign of panic.

A few nervous women entered a shelter under the downtown El Misr bank, while an elderly woman lottery vendor, draped in black, squatted by a wall of sandbags in front of the bank and shouted: "Israel will perish! Israel will perish"

The usual visible reaction was "helas," meaning roughly "Good, let's get it over with."

Moslem leaders have been urging the Arabs to wage a holy war on the Jewish nation of Israel, formed out of Palestinian land by a war in 1948.

One shop manager who had not heard of the outbreak asked a reporter: "Fighting has begun you say. That's good to hear. I am happy. Sooner or later we had to finish off Israel anyway."

White flak bursts were seen over the northern section of Cairo but no planes were seen from the center of the city.

Egyptian MIG fighters were reported sweeping low over Heliopolis, the fashionable suburb where President Gamal Abdel Nasser lives.

Egyptian Air Force MIG19 fighters swooped over Cairo during the morning while an air raid alert was in force and all traffic halted.

Black puffs of antiaircraft shell explosions dotted the sky west of Cairo over Heliopolis. There was an unconfirmed report that one Israeli plane was shot down over a casino in the suburb.

American television cameramen who attempted to film Cairo street scenes were attacked by a mob and NBC correspondent Tom Streithorst suffered a concussion when he was struck on the head. His companions got him to safety.

Between news reports, the radio blared out martial music, militant poetry calling for destruction of Israel, and military announcements. One song said: "I will fight until I have shed my last drop of blood."

The announcer declared: "Our armies have only one cry: 'To Tel Aviv.' "

Can't Pay Fines With Small Coins

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Ada County officials found out too late recently that pennies and nickels are not legal tender for paying fines of more than 25 cents.

Workers had spent more than an hour counting $60 worth of the coins paid by two Boise women as fines for disturbing the peace.

County attorneys said the U.S. Code Annotated does not consider pennies or nickels to be legal tender.

The fewer and smaller the holes in Swiss cheese, the better the cheese. According to cheese experts, small holes show that fermentation has been carefully controlled.

Sweden Plans Switch From Left To Right-Hand Driving

By EDWIN SHANKE

STOCKHOLM (AP) — In a single night, Sweden will switch its entire road system from left to right-hand driving, thus changing traffic and pedestrian habits dating to the 18th century.

H-Day—H for "hoeger," meaning right in Swedish—is Sept. 3, culminating four years of planning and preparation by a special government commission at a cost of $120 million.

The Swedes are the last people on the land mass of Europe to conform to the prevailing right-hand driving practice. Only the European island countries of Great Britain, Ireland and Iceland will continue to drive left, and Iceland expects to switch next year. In the rest of the world, Japan, India, Ceylon, Australia and parts of Africa still drive on the left.

Warrior King Charles XII started moving Swedes to the left by royal decree in 1734, although he ordered his armies to march to the right.

Why did the Swedish government decide on the costly, complicated change after all these years and in the face of public disapproval?

Officials predict that 15 million to 20 million vehicles will be crossing Sweden's borders annually by the early 1970s. The accident toll involving foreign drivers already is high and undoubtedly would accelerate if Sweden continued out-of-step.

Another factor is that steering wheels on most Swedish cars already are on the left. To pass the Swedish driver noses into the oncoming traffic lane to see whether the way is clear. This has led to accidents.

H-Day is being planned with all the care and detail of a general staff headquarters about to go to war.

At 1 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 2, a general ban on driving goes into effect in Stockholm proper, lasting 29 hours until 3 p.m. Sunday.

At 1 a.m. Sept. 3 practically a complete motor curfew will fall over all Sweden for five hours. The only exceptions will be taxis, buses, cars leaving the country, road maintenance trucks and specially licensed vehicles. They, too, will come to halt at 4:50 a.m. for 10 minutes and then start driving on the right at 5 a.m.

At 6 a.m. traffic generally will start moving on the right.

Speed will be limited to 24 miles per hour in built-up areas for four weeks, possibly longer. Rural speed limits will be 36 m.p.h. at first, then 42, although superhighways will have 54 m.p.h.

"Those who run the greatest risk are the pedestrians, especially the old, with their look-to-the-right reflexes," says Olov Nellborn, director of Sweden's road and waterway bureau.

Sunday traditionally is the biggest day of the week for outdoor sports events, but all matches have been banned Sept. 3. Swedes are being encouraged to stay home and watch a soccer match on television between Sweden and Norway in Oslo.

Swede after Swede, with fears of chaos, is saying "I think I'll stay off the streets for a few days."

A $10 million publicity campaign to educate the public is under way, but its punch is being withheld until August for maximum effect. Schools will start Aug. 24, a week earlier than usual, so pupils can be trained to look the other way in crossing streets.

Idabel Mishap Fatal

IDABEL, Okla. (AP) — Hugh Ramsey Taylor, 42, of Boston, Tex., was killed Sunday when his car failed to make a curve on Oklahoma State Highway 3 about 10 miles east of Idabel. A passenger in the car was injured.

Draft Reject Percentage Still High

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Despite lowered mental standards, more than 176,000 American youths were rejected for the draft last year because they were unable to meet even those requirements.

Another 23,555 were turned down on both mental and medical grounds at preinduction examinations in 1966.

The lower standards, however, resulted in only about 12 per cent of potential draftees flunking mental requirements in 1966 compared with nearly 21 per cent in 1965.

These statistics appear in a report by the Army surgeon general dealing with results of examinations of youths for military service last year.

"The most significant factor that affected these results was the increased demand for military manpower caused by the intensified Vietnam conflict," the surgeon general's report said.

It brought about "decisive modifications in the standards of military acceptability-specifically, by lowering the mental standards."

The report said the mental evaluation of a potential inductee is based on tests designed to measure his general mental ability to absorb military training within reasonable time and his potential general usefulness to the service.

The 176,027 who failed to meet mental requirements last year represented a drop of 51,782 from 1965, a year of tougher standards.

The 23,555 who were both mentally and physically disqualified were some 5,000 below the previous year.

The report showed 108,259 white youths flunked mental qualification in 1966 compared with 137,225 in 1965—a drop of about 21 per cent.

Among Negro youths, 67,774 failed to meet mental standards compared with 90,584 in 1965—a decline of about 25 per cent.

The number of youths examined for the draft vaulted sharply in 1966, under the impetus of the Vietnam buildup. The 1966 total of those examined came to 1.61 million compared with 1.23 million in 1965.

Four Die In Crash

GAINESVILLE, Tex. (AP)—A car which leaped a ditch and rolled into a field carried four young people to death early Sunday.

The accident happened four miles southwest of here on FM 51 as they were returning to their Gainesville homes from a dance.

It killed Sammy Dean Pollard, 22, the driver; a cousin, Larry Garrett, 18; Donna Mae Southerland, 18, and Cynthia Dianne Culp, 16.

Garrett, a schoolboy football star who had an athletic scholarship at Tyler Junior College, and Miss Southerland were graduated Friday night from Gainesville High School.

Trying To Buy Wig For Pony

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Dudley Tadlock is trying to find a wig for his Shetland pony.

Vandals entered his barn in Wyandotte County and cut off the pony's tail.

Without the tail, Tadlock can't enter the pony in horse shows.

Barney Wins Fifth Emmy

By GENE HANDSAKER

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Don Knotts won his fifth Emmy as a jittery deputy sheriff and a weeping Lucille Ball got her first Emmy in 12 years at the Television Academys 19th annual awards.

In a season blasted by many critics as generally poor, the award for outstanding comedy series went Sunday night to "The Monkees," the weekly antics of four Beatle-like musicians. NBC claims their "mod clothes and long hairdos reflect the 'now' attitude of today's teen-age generation."

At televised ceremonies in Los Angeles and New York hotels, the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences chose also among winners for 1966-67:

Variety series: The Andy Williams Show.

Dramatic series: "Mission: Impossible."

Single dramatic program: "Death of a Salesman"

Musical program: "Brigadoon." This show won the most awards—five—collecting also for technical and lighting direction, electronic cameraman and variety direction.

BUSINESS and INDUSTRIAL NEWS

Ezell-Key Offers Purina Products

Ezell-Key Grain Company's feed and seed store at 1615 Twenty - sixth Street has a complete line of Purina products, such as range cattle spray, liquid wormer for hogs, horse and livestock spray, cattle and sheep wormer and dog chow.

For Purina sanitation products; fertilizers, feeds and seeds, Ezell-Key is the place where you will find anything you need.

The firm also carries a complete line of yard and garden supplies which are especially popular at this time of year.

One quick application of the correct formula can control weeds, Bermuda mites and grub worms. Ezell-Key also has the materials to keep lawns green with the right kind of fertilizer to make it grow.

Ezell-Key sprays provide the proper protection for your animals as well as the growth on your land. Their feed provides the proper nutrition for cows or horses, pigs or sheep, chickens or turkeys.

City folks as well as farmers and ranchers also have discovered there are several good buys in food at Ezell - Key. At the present, fresh country sausage is available at reasonable prices.

Money Returned To Patriotic 7th Grader

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A patriotic seventh-grader thought her school should have American flags in the rooms, so she saved up $15 to buy some.

Mary Jane Edwards, 12, took the money to Mayor J. Bracken Lee, who then contacted a Veterans of Foreign Wars post—which provided 36 flags for the school and returned Mary Jane's money.

This Lady Leaves Little To Clean

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP) — When a woman with a Kansas City, Mo., address checked out of a motel in East St. Louis, Ill., the maids found they didn't have much to clean up.

Gone were a portable television set with its stand and remote control unit, two double-size bed spreads, four sheets, four pillow cases, two mattress pads, two linen blankets and a bathroom light fixture.

New Drug Fails To Cure Frankie

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A hospital official said Sunday that 9-year-old Frankie Hayes, who just two months ago was believed cured of leukemia, is in "very poor" condition after suffering a recurrence of the disease.

Texarkana industrialist J. K. Wadley announced April 1 that the Wadley Research Institute in Dallas had achieved a remission of Frankie's disease, using a drug called L-asparaginase.

But on April 21 the institute reported that a few leukemia cells once again had been found in the boy's bloodstream.

J. R. Self, administrator at Bristol Hospital here, said Sunday that Frankie was admitted about two weeks ago and his condition is "very poor."

Dr. Joseph Hill, director of the Wadley Institute and a developer of the drug, had no comment Sunday on the change in Frankie's condition. He has been the boy's doctor throughout.

Dr. Hill was reprimanded by the Dallas County Medical Society for what the society considered a "premature" announcement of the cure.

Frankie, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hayes of Dallas, was the third human patient to receive the drug. One of the patients died and the other was said to be in partial remission.

Mixed Emotions Stirred By Probe Of Stock Market

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Officials of the American Stock Exchange view the present probe into unusual trading on their floor with mixed feelings, for they provided some of the information now tarnishing their image.

This, of course, was their responsibility, for the nation's stock exchanges are self-regulating to a great degree. They must ride herd on themselves in the public interest. They must police themselves.

A federal investigation that lead to a grand jury indictment of six defendants for allegedly inflating the prices of shares in Pentron Electronics Corp. appears to predate the exchange's own discoveries.

But it is known that the Amex discovered some facts on its own and volunteered this information to the U.S. district attorney and the Securities and Exchange Commission beginning in March 1966.

This may or may not exonerate the Amex. Still to be answered are questions such as whether or not the unusual trading activity was discovered quickly enough, and whether Amex officials performed their duties adequately.

The machinery for quick action and reporting exists at the Amex as a "stock watch" program, a constant surveillance that calls for investigation of any stock that departs from a price or volume pattern. Pentron did.

Early in March 1966 the specialist reportedly noticed that volume had soared to more than a million shares from just 298,000 shares four months earlier. In about the same time the price doubled to $3.75.

Knowing from a previous inquiry that the district attorney was interested, the specialist reported the activity the D.A. and to the exchange. The exchange reported it to the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Amex officials, as is customary under stock watch, set out to find a reason for the activity. They took a close look at Pentron management but apparently failed to receive information to explain the activity.

Standard procedure under stock watch is to then determine which member firms were dealing in the active stock. In turn, member firms would be expected to reveal their customers and the names of the specific brokers.

Stock watch begins routinely each day with 29 men stationed at various floor posts. All are officers of the exchange, and all can poke their noses into any unusual actions.

Sudden price or volume increases are their red flags. They report the stock to the Securities Division, where an employe checks what information is available within the exchange to explain the activity. A recent bullish earnings report? A glowing news story? A bullish market letter? All such matters are kept on file.

The next step is an inquiry to the company. If this reveals a cause—such as a planned but unannounced merger—the company may be told "the market knows the news so you should announce it to all immediately."

There is a way of enforcing this suggestion. The exchange can flash a "trading halted pending announcement" statement on the ticker tape. Trading resumes only after the news is forced out. It generally comes quickly.

If no explanation is provided, however, the Securities Division men attempt to create a trading profile. Who is trading? Is trading concentrated or widespread? Were orders solicited or did they come uninvited?

From the specialist the name of the brokerage houses involved can be obtained. The brokerage houses then reveal their specific customers. They also can say, specifically, which registered representatives took the orders.

Highland Park Cleaners Has Excellent Summer Storage

One of the most popular of the many services offered by Highland Park Cleaners, 3803 Big Spring Highway, is cold vault storage.

The large storage vault is an ideal place to stow your winter furs and woolen clothing for it has humidity and temperature control. With controlled atmosphere inside the vault, you can be sure that your clothing will be as fresh when you pick them up as when you put them in storage.

The vault is sufficiently large for the storage of thousands of items of clothing. Furs and woolens are fully protected against heat, moths, fire and theft. The vault is safe, odorless and pest - free.

Shelby Coker, manager of Highland Park Cleaners, will be glad to answer any inquiry about storing your winter clothing.

Not only will summer storage keep your winter apparel in top shape, but it also will give you more closet space for the fluff and frill of hot weather wear.

Moreover, you can stow away clothing now and pay for it later when you take them out.

For pickup and delivery for your items to stow or just for the week's cleaning, call Highland Park Cleaners at HI-3-7261.

Of course, Highland Park Cleaners offers many other services, such as quality cleaning and pressing, hand cleaning of finer or special garments, re - sizing and re - shaping of clothing, moth - proofing of clothing and blankets, use of plastic bags for protection of clothing, and a drive - in window and a night deposit box.

SUMMER STORAGE — Summer storage of winter woolens and furs is a main feature of Highland Park Cleaners on the Big Spring Highway this time of year. Here, Shelby Coker, manager of the firm, holds a fur coat for storage in their large atmosphere-controlled vault. All garments with the exception of knits are hung. The knits are folded carefully so they will not pull out of shape from long hanging.
