SEARS CATALOG SALES MERCHANT STORE OPENS

A new business will be opened in Rockport next week when the newest Sears Authorized Catalog Merchant Store will have its grand opening July 15 at 213 S. Church.

The opening has been set at 9 a.m. Mrs. Beverly Nugent, the owner-manager of the store, said, "Rockport's new store is the result of a combined effort between Sears and myself to offer better and more complete service to our catalog customers in the area. We invite the people of Rockport to come by and visit."

Besides souvenirs for all attending the grand opening, visitors may register for a major Sears appliance to be given away. (No purchase necessary). They will find on display many of the more than 100,000 items available through the Sears catalogs. These items include appliances, tires and batteries plus many shopping aids.

Additional particulars concerning the grand opening may be found in an advertisement appearing in next week's issue of The Rockport Pilot.

Mrs. Nugent said orders for any merchandise listed in the current Sears catalogs may be placed in person or by phone from home. The orders are then relayed to the catalog order plant in Dallas for filling and the merchandise sent to the store here or to the customer if desired. Orders will be received in consolidated shipments, thereby saving the customer part of the shipping charges.

The steady growth of Rockport and surrounding area prompted Mrs. Nugent in opening the new store which will be a locally owned and operated business.

HURRICANE MEETING CALLED FOR JULY 19

The public is invited to attend the meeting.

FULTON FIRE DEPT. NEEDS HELP

Due to the number of fires this year the county budget for the Fulton Volunteer Fire Department has run out.

Three of the four trucks are out of service now and need major repairs.

The department will appreciate any, and all donations to help repair the trucks so they can run the rest of this year.

Their mailing address is: Fulton Fire Dept., P.O. Box 503, Fulton, Texas 78358.

A clean up, paint up and spruce up campaign which has been in progress in Rockport for several months reached its climax last Saturday at the annual July 4 Art Festival in Navigation Park when prizes were awarded three local merchants and special mention given four others.

Titled "Storefront '76," the project was a joint effort of Rockport Art Association and Rockport Chamber of Commerce as a contribution to the local Bicentennial celebration and to encourage improvement of the physical appearance of the local business area.

First prize winner was Tradewinds Shell Shop on Austin St. which is owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Blair. The entire building was redecorated in patriotic colors and plantings made on three sides of the building.

The Blairs were awarded a seascape by Mrs. Estelle Stair who is a widely known local artist and manager of the art association's gallery on Austin Street.

Second prize, an original landscape in oils by Steve Russell, went to Encina Plaza Shopping Center owned by Mrs. Juanita Wagley and located on Farm Road 881, an extension of Market Street. In this instance an entire shopping area containing a number of stores was beautified and

Hospital Volunteers, Inc. Move to Encina Plaza

The workshop committee of Aransas County Hospital Volunteers, Inc., which is working to obtain emergency medical service for this area, was scheduled to move its work headquarters this week from the former Prophet office building on State Route 35 to Encina Plaza Shopping Center on Market Street.

A thousand square feet of air conditioned space is being provided without charge by Juanita Wagley, owner, as a con-

Heart Booth Busy During Art Festival

Volunteers working for the Heart Association were kept busy during most of the hours of the Art Festival. At times there were long lines of individuals passing through the "Heart Booth" to have their blood pressures taken. The Art Festival serves the community in many ways and not the least of these is the opportunity offered citizens and visitors to avail themselves of a free blood pressure report. The Heart Association thanks the Art Association. In addition to local adults and some youngsters who sought the test, many came from out-of-town; Dallas, Austin, San Antonio, Laredo, the Valley and Corpus Christi were registered.

The "second Tuesday" meeting of the Heart Association will be held at 7:30 p.m. on July 13, at the Courthouse. (Please note change of time and meeting place). Present will be the regional director from Corpus Christi and the executive director from San Antonio. A work shop will be held for all board members and committee chairmen and, in this, interested members or prospective members are cordially invited to join.

The Association is grateful to Judge Wendell for his consent to its use of a room in the Courthouse for regular meetings.

tribution to the community effort to raise money for the medical project. Use of the Prophet building also has been provided without charge since last fall by the Prophets.

Mrs. Bertie Cone, Mrs. Nancy Cooke and Mrs. Clyda Milks, co-chairmen of the workshop committee, were outspoken in their appreciation of the generosity of the owners in making these buildings available.

The committee, which is composed of scores of volunteers, has been meeting for months to produce hundreds of attractive items which are sold at various benefit affairs to raise money for ambulances and a stabilization clinic. Their efforts have resulted in accumulating more than $25,000 since last October. In addition the King Foundation has pledged $35,000 toward the ambulance project.

Among the money-raising projects so far have been a benefit tennis tournament, sale of an oil lease, supper theatre gala, sale of donated works of art, Red Camp Jazz Concert, Valentine Ball, Christmas bazaar and a booth at last fall's SeaFair.

This year the committee will have two booths at the SeaFair to sell a variety of handcrafted items with emphasis on marine-related objects. Another project underway is a cookbook of favorite recipes. Mrs. Johnnie Vermillion is chairman of this project.

The Workshop Committee originally was known as the Women's Committee of the Chamber of Commerce. It was organized in May, 1975 and put on its first benefit in October of last year.

Local observers claim this committee's money raising feats are little short of unbelievable, with more than $60,000 having been accumulated in less than a year.

BICENTENNIAL DANCE COMING UP

The senior citizens will celebrate Thursday night, July 8, with a Bicentennial dance at the recreation building. Fun starts at 7 p.m.

The decorations used at the card party will still be up and everyone is asked to wear the red, white and blue and come out for a big time. Fifty cents each and all the refreshments you want. Come out and watch for awhile if you do not dance and be sure to view the flags decorating the hall.

Art Festival Draws Thousands Here Over The Fourth of July

The Rockport-Fulton-Lamar area was crowded as never before the Fourth of July weekend. Estimates of over 10,000 persons were drawn here by the Rockport Art Festival Saturday and Sunday at the Ski Basin, when over 125 artists, some local, and from other cities in Texas and surrounding states placed their work on exhibition.

Artists' booths were placed in a circle which afforded a maximum of shade for the spectators who milled around from booth to booth viewing art in practically every medium.

The concession stand in the center of the area furnished an ideal spot for refreshments, where one could rest and meet friends.

A kite contest was held at 4 p.m. Saturday. Prizes were awarded to the highest flying, the longest tail and the most appropriate Bicentennial theme.

The Pet Rock Beauty Pageant was held Sunday at 4 p.m. Entries were judged on poise, personality and grooming. Talent was ruled out.

On Sunday, the Fourth of July, the Rockport Lions Club held its annual barbecue at their pit in the Navigation District Park and, as usual this was an outstanding success.

The Rockport Art Association is to be commended for the hours of work spent in putting together such an outstanding event for visitors and local residents as well. The persons in charge deserve much credit, because without leadership and cooperation of co-workers such an event could not be accomplished.

Packing Plant Site Formally Dedicated

Visions of the Rockport-Fulton scene a century ago were evoked by formal dedication of a Texas historical marker at the site of Marion Packing Co. plant at Chaparral Street and Fulton Beach Road June 30.

The packing plant, with only the concrete foundation of its storage vats surviving, was typical of perhaps a dozen such plants which operated in this area in the 1860's and 1870's. Here vast herds of semi-wild cattle were slaughtered and processed for tallow, bones and hides. Some of the meat also was dried, salted or pickled for shipment to northern markets. However, vast quantities of eatable beef were wasted or given away to all who asked for it. All of this ended and the industry died about 1880 when cattle drives to northern markets became profitable.

An 18 by 28-inch cast aluminum marker has been erected on the site of the Marion Packing Co., with approval of the Texas State Historical Commission. Its location will be listed in the next edition of the "Guide to Official Texas Historical Markers". The marker recites a brief resume of the local packing industry.

Mayor Walter S. Falk of Rockport spoke briefly at the dedication, pointing out that this area is rich in sites of historical interest, some of which should be marked, including an old school building. He also said that a cattle trail crossing that is now Little Bay to the island on Key Allegro is located can still be seen from an airplane flying overhead. Commissioner Raymond Owens represented Aransas County at the ceremony.

Mrs. Mary B. Burke, representing the Woman's Club of Aransas County, responded to the mayor's remarks.

The historical marker project was initiated by the Woman's Club as one of its Bicentennial efforts. Working with Mrs. Burke in developing research material for the project was Mrs. Dona Mae Schocke. It was pointed out that extensive supporting material was necessary before the state historical commission could act favorably on the club's application for a marker.

Other Woman's Club members participating in the dedication ceremony last week were Mrs. Geneva Taylor, 1976 club president, and Mrs. H.C. Bristow, 1975 club president under whose administration the project was initiated.

Also participating was Mrs. Gladys Gibson, chairman of Aransas County Historical Survey committee who provided guidance in research activities and handled contacts with the state commission.

TWILIGHT GOLF

There will be a 9-hole Twilight Couples golf tournament at Live Oak Country Club on Thursday, July 8.

Entry deadline is 4:30 p.m. with tee off at 5:30 p.m. Full handicaps will be used and the entry fee is $1.50 per person. Bring your own hamburger for cookout after the tournament.

THE ARANSAS COUNTY Cancer Society's "Art For Cancer" drive climaxed Sunday with the drawing by Bridget Ramey (foreground) as Joe Hugenberg and JoAnn West check the winning ticket. The winner of the floral oil painting, donated by Macyrea Caradine, was Mrs. Corinne Homburg of Rockport. A total of 1001 tickets were purchased by local residents and Arts Festival visitors JoAnn West, chairman of the project, said.

The County Unit of the Cancer Society will hold their monthly meeting Friday, July 9, at noon in the Stateman's Club of United Savings Assn.

Estelle Stair Speaks to Rotary Club

A review of the origin and progress of the annual July 4 Rockport art festival was given by Estelle Stair, manager of the Rockport Art Association's gallery, at a luncheon meeting of Rotary Club June 30 at Sandollar Restaurant on the eve of the association's seventh annual show.

Mrs. Stair recalled that the first festival was staged in June 1970 in conjunction with the Aransas County-Rockport Centennial celebration. There were 50 exhibitors at the first show and no booths were provided. In the past two years it has been necessary to limit exhibitors to 140, and applications of scores more have been rejected because of lack of space, she said.

So far the festival has not been a money making proposition for the association which receives no commission from sales and must depend on booth rentals to meet expenses. She added that no charge is made for hanging art in the association's downtown gallery, but that most of the artists who make sales at the gallery make contributions to the association.

While the annual art festival is the biggest event in the association's program, it is by no means the only civic activity in which the association and its members participate, Mrs. Stair said.

A continuing effort to encourage improvement of the downtown area stands high on the list of the group's objectives. For example, it cosponsored with Rockport Chamber of Commerce the storefront improvement contest just concluded, and three of the association's members contributed paintings which were awarded as prizes.

For several years the association has put on a series of vacation art classes for aspiring junior artists. Also, classes for adult artists are frequently held in the association's gallery.

The association has been raising money with which to build a modern gallery, but progress has not been as rapid as members would like. However, plans have been drawn for the new building and a site obtained in Navigation Park. Mrs. Stair said she couldn't predict when actual work on the building would start.

She reported the association has a total of 175 members, many of them not artists but public spirited people who want to help further work of the association and to help sustain Rockport's position as one of the nation's top art centers.

Mrs. Stair reported that the Rockport July 4 art festival is considered one of the best in the United States and it has been described in a number of magazines of national circulation.

She said most exhibitors are enthusiastic about the practical aspects of the festival, many declaring that they sell more of their works here than at any place else. One exhibitor reported he sold $15,000 worth at the two-day 1975 festival.

It was announced at the June 30 meeting that Rotary's annual Ladies Night will be Wednesday, July 14, at Sea Gun Restaurant. There will be no noon meeting of the club that day.

improved. Many stone planter boxes were improved and rearranged with foliage and flower plantings to which ground cover was added to provide extensive landscaping.

Third award went to Roaten's Drug Store owned by Richard Beck. Brick planters have been constructed across the front of the store and all of them planted with red, white and blue petunias. The prize was a still life acrylic painting contributed by Nancy Stair of San Antonio.

In addition to the three top winners, special mention was awarded Potpourri Shop located on the grounds of Sandollar Motel and owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fickett. They have decorated the front of the shop with silhouettes of live oak trees and draped fish nets.

The "Storefront '76" contest was for the "most improved" storefronts so a number of the most attractive storefronts which have been a credit to downtown Rockport for a year or more could not be considered by the judges as candidates for a prize. However, the judge decided to give public recognition to three of the most impressive.

Named in this category was Johnson's Drug Store owned by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Eschberger whose storefront has been a local showplace for years.

Another in this category, the judges decided, was the Trading Post on Austin St. opposite the drug store. Within the past year its front has been remodeled and improved to reflect the marine-oriented nature of its business. Also, the Trading Post recently opened Rockport's first sidewalk cafe where cool drinks and coffee are served.

The third place of business singled out for special attention was Sipe Real Estate owned by Mrs. Wagley. For years grounds around this establishment have been kept in attractive condition with flower planters, trees, shrubbery and a flowing fountain, all calculated to make a favorable impression on visitors to Rockport entering on State Route 35.

Judges for "Storefront '76" were Mrs. Loyce Landrum, Rev. Paul Bohot and David H. Crooks.

Yard of the Month

The Yard of the Month award for July was presented to Lt. Colonel and Mrs. Douglas Vanderpool. They live in Fulton on Fulton Avenue between Fifth and Sixth Street.

Lt. Colonel and Mrs. Vanderpool are from the Dallas-Ft. Worth area and have lived here for a year. They do all their own yard work.

This large yard welcomes guests with a cool peaceful effect. The outer perimeter is planted with pampas grass, oleanders and pyracantha. The exceptionally large live oak is surrounded by wandering Jew and fern.

Around the patio are grapefruit, orange and Mexican lime trees. There are also geranium, Chinese honeysuckle, Hawaiian fern, hibiscus and a papaya tree.

In neat flower beds surrounding the house and guest house there are kalanchoe, Jerusalem cherries, caladiums, pencil cactus, sago palms, bottle brush, bougainvillea, natal plum and a tallow tree.

The vegetable garden contains corn, green beans, Chinese cabbage, okra, California bell pepper, purple onions, leaf lettuce, sweet peas and black-eyed peas.

The Yard of the Month is sponsored by the Rockport Home and Garden Club. Anyone is eligible for this award. Nominations may be submitted to Mrs. Tom Rogers, 729-6515, or Mrs. Donald Meek, 729-6178.

LOCAL PLAYERS WIN TROPHIES IN TENNIS AT VICTORIA

Continuing their impressive performance this summer in regional tournaments, Rockport tennis players collected additional titles and trophies in the Armadillo Open at Victoria last weekend.

Shawn Bateman beat Donnie Davis of Victoria 2-6, 7-5 and 6-0 to take the title in the boys singles 12 years and under. Erin Falk won the girls singles title in the 16-18 group by beating Linda Gomez of Corpus Christi, 6-7, 7-5 and 7-6. Later Erin and Linda teamed up to beat Dana Dismuke and Malissa Guthrie, 6-2, and 6-0 in the finals of doubles play in the same age group. Erin and Joey Flores of Aransas Pass were runners-up in the mixed doubles open.

Scott Meyer and Shawn Bateman were runners-up in the boys 12 and 14 age group. Shawn's father, Leon, and A.C. Plunt, Jr., Rockport-Fulton High School tennis coach, were runner-up in open mens doubles.

Shrimp Landings for May 17 Percent Above 1975 Volume

Landings of headless shrimp in Texas amounted to 2.7 million pounds, valued at $7.5 million. This was 17 percent above the volume and 74 percent above the value of landings in May, 1975.

Landings of headless shrimp for the Aransas Pass-Fulton area in May 1976, 746,100 pounds; January-May 1976, 2,272,500 pounds. Total for all areas for May 1976 was 2,713,200 pounds, January-May 1976, 8,827,800 pounds.

ing white shrimp made fair to poor catches adjacent to major passes.

The 1976 brown shrimp crop looks good based on nursery area samples and juvenile shrimp catches. For the first time since detailed shrimp records have been kept, bait dealers had an adequate supply of live brown shrimp on May 1st. Bay systems along the entire coast except parts of Galveston Bay and Sabine Lake contained a heavy crop of young-of-the-year brown. Heavy local fresh water run-off into the upper Galveston system inflicted a yet undetermined reduction on the population size. Sabine Lake, with over 28,000 surface acres is almost totally sterilized for marine fish and shellfish each year until late summer. The heavy intrusion of fresh water from reservoirs on the Sabine River has drastically reduced or totally inhibited the use of this system as a brown shrimp nursery area. Juvenile browns were leaving producing nursery areas about May 20th, prompting the Texas Parks and Wildlife to close inshore Gulf waters a few days earlier than the June 1st closure of the preceding year.

The value of shrimp at all levels reached a record high in May, but dropped slightly at the close of the month. The market price of shrimp is not expected to fall appreciably as the cost of production is very high and increasing. Tourist restaurant trade at a record level, employment high and increasing, rising demand by other countries, and certain fishery restraints anticipated as a result of the extended jurisdiction.

Blue crab landings of 520 thousand pounds were down 15 percent compared with May, 1975. Most of the decline is attributed to the beginning of the shrimp season and weather conditions. Fishermen received 15-17 cents per pound for pot caught crabs. One new large vessel entered the shrimp fishery in Texas during the month. One was lost at sea.

Fuel supplies were adequate at 31-36 cents per gallon.

When preparing window or porch boxes, be sure that you provide a drainage layer in the bottom and drill holes for water runoff.

As soon as the foliage of daffodils and similar plants turns brown and falls down, you can cut off the foliage without damaging the bulb.

Make your own cheese croutons for soups and salads by rolling bread cubes in melted butter, then grated cheese and broiling under low heat.

A word of caution to those who mow the lawns. Keep small children and pets away from the area while mowing.

Dawson-Wilke Unite

Miss Deborah Lynn Wilke became the bride of Carey Austin Dawson in a double ring ceremony on May 15 in Robinson's Christian Center on the San Marcos Baptist Academy Campus with Dr. Jerry Dawson officiating, assisted by Rev. Robert Schmeltke.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benno R. Wilke of Rockport. The groom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Jerry F. Dawson of San Marcos.

An arch of greenery intermingled with white bows served as the background setting for the ceremony. Two large candelabra were positioned on either side of the arch. One three-tiered candelabra was set at the side. The bride and groom lit the middle candle together. The organ and piano were accented with votive lighting. A kneeling bench was also used.

Miss Melody Lewis, organist, cousin of the bride, provided the traditional nuptial music.

David Patterson sang the "Lord's Prayer" and Mrs. Denine Patterson sang the "Wedding Song."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of white silk organdy and embroidery. The open neck featured a soft V of the fabric in ruffles. The bodice was outlined at the bust line with two tulip motifs. Long fitted sleeves were also decorated with the tulip motif. Falling from the empire waistline, the full skirt fell to court length with tulips centered and a bias fabric ruffle softening the edge. A chapel length train received the ruffled flounce. A fingertip veil of imported illusion was caught at a band of Venice lace for her headpiece.

Miss Darlene Wilke, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Jamie Dawson, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. They wore pink voile dresses with burgundy flowers. The dresses had fitted waistlines with tie belts and circle skirts. The bodice was sleeveless and featured a scooped neckline and sheer cape overlay.

Jimmy Beal served the groom as best man. Scott Williamson was groomsman. Ushers were Gary Blythe, fone. Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Dawson home.

Scott Emerson and Brian Buf-

The bride's table was covered with a white net cloth decorated with pink and burgundy trim. The three-tiered wedding cake was separated by a column effect. Bird baths with doves in them accented the cake. The colors of pink and burgundy were featured on the cake. The bride's bouquet and the bridesmaids' bouquets formed the centerpiece for the table.

A burgundy cloth covered the groom's table that was centered with a candelabra. The groom's cake was made of German chocolate.

Serving in the houseparty were Terry Daniels, Lynnette Andricks, Julie Hagen, Eva Dorsey, Mrs. Elsie Clements and Mrs. Carroll Lewis, aunts of the groom.

For travel the bride chose a cream colored soft knit dress accented with dainty burgundy flowers. The dress had a fitted waist with a circle skirt and a vscooped neck. The bride attended Southwest Texas State University. She is currently attending South Plains College in Lubbock where she is majoring in respiratory therapy. The groom attended Southwest Texas State. He is currently attending Texas Tech in Lubbock and is employed at Fields and Co.

After a wedding trip to Pagosa, Colorado, the couple will reside in Lubbock.

Most outboard pleasure boats in use today will perform reasonably well, but very few will reach the maximum performance they should. Selection of the propeller is the key. The sole function of the propeller of your boat is to turn power of the engine in to push for the boat. With the right engine on your boat and the right prop on the engine your rig will be a joy to operate—agile, fast, responsive and operating at top efficiency. Any other prop is a step in the wrong direction.

Most boats today are operating with props that are nearly right but not quite.

When you buy a motor you have to choose a prop on the basis of the manufacturer's recommendations. You look at a chart that is based on horsepower, boat length and type, gross load, and intended use. These charts are designed to prevent you from buying a prop that would be a really bad error. Any of the props recommended will give reasonably good performance.

When you buy a new motor the only sure way to select the absolutely right prop is try them all out on your rig. Unfortunately this is not feasible, because very few dealers are going to loan you a dozen or so props to try out on your motor. The thing to do is make the best selection you can, using the charts, but don't buy a spare prop at this time. Take your rig out and test it first. The tests are relatively simple.

All you need is a stop watch, a quarter mile or so of uncluttered water and, most important, a tachometer. The tach is the key to the whole test. Any outboard motor has a relatively narrow RPM range within which it delivers full rated horsepower. If it runs slower it won't deliver the goods and if it runs faster it will quickly wear out.

Your prop should allow the engine to turn its full rated RPM's with the throttle wide open when you're carrying a normal load. If you want the prop for skiing make the tests pulling a skier.

Make some test runs with different tilt pin settings until you find the best then check top RPM's and total elapsed time over the course at that setting. Then make some short-run tests to find out how fast the boat reaches planning attitude. Take all these figures back to the engine dealer. He can figure out exactly what prop will give you maximum performance. Buy that prop for your regular prop, and save your first one for a spare. It'll bring you home, but your most efficient prop will normally be operating.

Just a little bit of change may give you lots more pleasure from your boat.

RICE SURPLUS

NEW YORK--There is a surplus of rice around the world this summer and the United States has its largest surplus in 20 years.

Centennial Acres Baptist Church of Littleton, Colorado was the setting for the June 26 wedding of Susan Beth Freeman and Stephen Craig LeBlanc. The Rev. Bob Bodie performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with wrought iron candelabra and baskets of white gladioli, blue carnations, fuchsia statice and baby's breath.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Alva Freeman, formerly of Rockport, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald LeBlanc, all of Littleton. Susan's grandmother is Mrs. Austin Smith of Rockport.

Traditional wedding music was played by Miss Mary Lee Arbogast, organist, and Robert Marshall of Denver sang, "The Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white maricaine. The empire bodice with mandarin collar and candlestick sleeves was trimmed with Swiss guipure lace. The A-line skirt tapered to form a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion fell from a headpiece of lace and was trimmed with matching guipure lace. The bride wore her maternal grandmother's lavalere, which was lost in Rockport in the 1919 hurricane, and then later found along the railroad track. She carried a bouquet of white roses, feathered blue carnations and baby's breath.

Miss Linda Freeman of Fort Collins, Colorado, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Toby Erosky of Denver was the bridesmaid. They wore identical dresses of white knit with pastel flowers, and carried nosegays of mixed spring flowers.

The groom and groomsmen wore matching blue tuxedo jackets with black trousers and black velvet labels and vests. Phil Sweetman of Littleton was best man, and Bill Meie of Ovid, Colorado was groomsman. David and Gary Freeman, brothers of the bride, were the ushers.

The bride's mother wore a floor length dress of yellow knit with a corsage of white carnations and yellow roses. The groom's mother wore a long turquoise dress with sheer multi-colored flower over-jacket, and wore a corsage of white carnations and yellow roses.

A reception following the ceremony was held in the church fellowship room. The bride's table was skirted with white net with an overcloth of white lace. An arrangement of white roses, gladioli, blue carnations and baby's breath centered the table, flanked by crystal candleholders with blue tapers. The wedding cake was four tiered, decorated with blue flowers and topped with lace wedding bells.

After a wedding trip to California, the couple will be at home in Littleton. Mrs. LeBlanc graduated from Littleton High and Arapahoe Community College, and is employed by the college. Mr. LeBlanc graduated from Bear Creek High and attended Colorado State University at Fort Collins, and Arapahoe Community College. He is employed by Columbine Knolls Recreation District.

Other members of the wedding party were Misses Nancy Freeman, Cheryl and Terri LeBlanc, Jeri Durham and Mesdames F.A. Durham, Richard Fowler and James Cashion.

"76 FACTS ABOUT TEXAS OIL AND GAS"

Dallas — Cheap energy is gone, according to "76 Facts About Texas Oil and Gas," latest in the annual series published for free public distribution by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Ass'n.

The leaflet features facts and figures on Texas oil and gas and the industry's economic impact on Texas.

In summarizing energy production costs, "76 Facts" points out that total expenditures for exploration, development, and production of oil and natural gas in the U.S. jumped more than 100% between 1970-1974, reflecting the upward spiral of wages, drilling costs, taxes and other factors.

"While federal price controls slow the search for domestic oil and gas, American energy consumers are paying world market prices to foreign nations (mostly to the OPEC cartel) for 40% of the oil used in the U.S. — a supply subject to cutoff," the summary states.

When compared to figures for previous years, the latest annual figures in "76 Facts" show a decline in Texas oil and gas production and a continuing slump in the state's reserves. The ratio of wildcat wells drilled and discovered in 1975 fell below the previous year.

although total drilling was up. Other highlights include: —Gasoline demand by Texans reached a new high in 1975.

—The Texas economy benefited from wellhead value of oil and gas, which totaled $15.2 billion last year. This output also generated additional tax dollars for the Texas treasury, since production taxes are based on value.

—Payments to Texas land and royalty owners moved upward.

—Employment in the Texas petroleum industry increased in 1975, along with wage rates and payroll outlays.

"76 Facts About Texas Oil and Gas" may be obtained free on request to the Association, 1341 W. Mockingbird Lane, Suite 1111-E, Dallas 75247.

Should wives wait for the barometer to rise before asking their husbands for that special favor?

There is a valid reason why this system, admitted folklore, is often a good one. It depends on the husband involved, to some degree, but it is a generally safe rule to follow.

Rising barometer makes us all feel better. For the husband with arthritis, old wounds or creaky bones, a low barometer affects his comfort and nerves. A drop of barometric pressure affects one's mentally, and also one's nerves, by causing dehydration of the tissues of the body.

Thus, a high barometer means he will probably be feeling his best—other things being equal—and that's the time, girls, to break down his resistance!

DOLPHINS STAY UNDEFEATED - "11-0"

The Senior Little League finished its regular season of play June 22 with a contest between the D.Q. Jets and the Dolphins. The Dolphins won the game 10 to 9 to stay undefeated and pushed their season record to 11 wins against no losses.

As a team, the Dolphins scored an incredible 139 runs and had a .426 batting average.

The top five hitters on the club were as follows: Neil Maxwell .636; Kevin Morgan .600; Charles McLead .522; Pee Wee Solis .417 and Jim Eston .400.

Benny Flores was the winningest pitcher at 6-0, he also batted .375. Maxwell and McLead had records of 3-0 and 2-0 respectfully.

Richard Dominguez was the only other player that hit above .300 and he did most of the catching getting excellent relief from Bubba Scott.

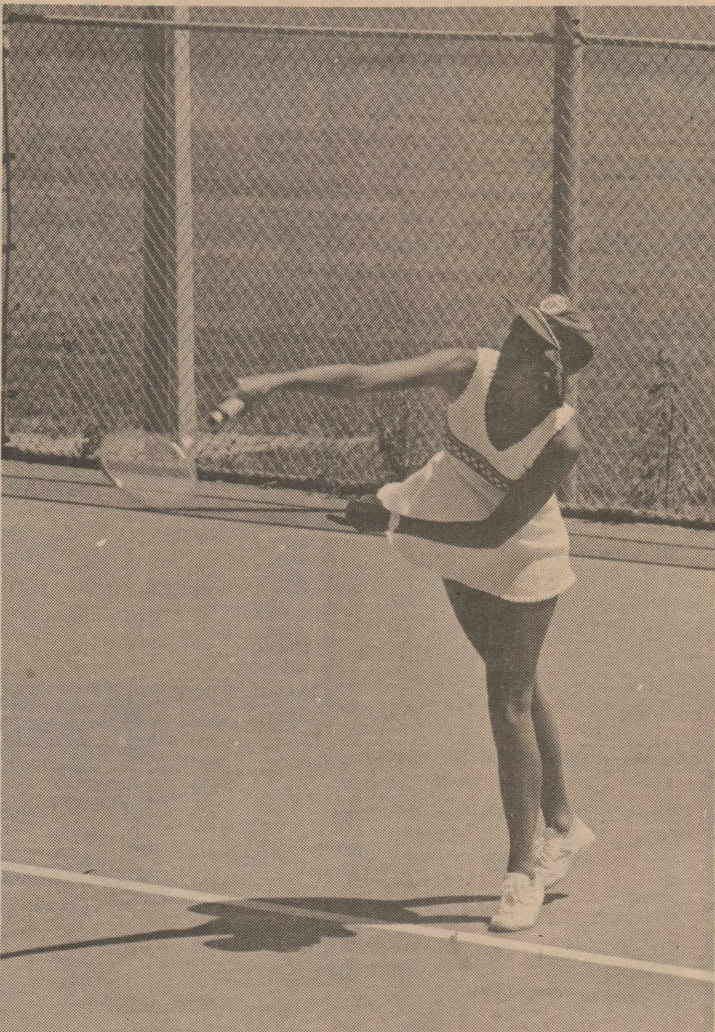

Mark Setterbo and Leo Olson were the other two starters. The two combined, drew 33 base on balls at bat.

But without a good bench, it is hard to win any type of contest. Rounding out the Dolphins team are Speedy Johnston, Jay Longino, Ronald Dominguez and Lawrence Johnson.

The Dolphins were coached by Louis Hillyard and assistant coach was Jesse Scott, Jr.

The team was sponsored by H.D. Heasley, Ruey Langly, Travis Johnston and Jimmy Kautz.

There will be an All-Star game at Memorial Park on July 19, with Sinton All-Star vs Rockport-Fulton All-Stars. Please come out and give your support to the Little League.

vices were led by Rev. Al Bankert. Also Sunday morning the junior department of the Gregory, Texas Baptist Church along with their sponsors, Mrs. Glenda Deal, came over with favors of red, white and blue cups filled with candy and a United States miniature flag in each one of them. These they had made for all of our residents and had put diabetic candy in the favors for our diabetics. Girls, this was a very patriotic and unselfish thing you have done to make our people happy and may God bless, as I love and admire you very much. This was a very fruitful week after all.

May I get a few thank yous in, such as: to Mrs. M.D. Nickey of Ingleside, for the nice tomatoes, and to the nice people who sent tomatoes to us by Mr. Phillip Howard, our administrator, the Irwin Boeers for the clothes, Penny Baldwin for clothing, and to all of our staff who work so very diligently to be both efficient as well as cheerful in fulfilling their tasks of caring for all of my "little people". See you next week.

USE CARE IN CANNING LOW-ACID TOMATOES

College Station--Tomatoes generally have a high acid content and therefore are a natural for canning.

However, certain factors can lower the acidity of these vegetables, and this calls for an additional step in canning.

"Over-maturity is one of the key factors that reduces the acid content of tomatoes," points out Al Wagner, food technologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "This loss of acidity occurs both on and off the vine. Soft, water-soaked tomatoes should not be canned since the end product will be unsatisfactory and the risk of food poisoning is high."

Excessive rainfall combined with high temperatures can steam tomatoes, causing them to become water-soaked and to lose their acidity, explains the Texas A&M University System specialist.

"Certain varieties of tomatoes are less acid although information is still lacking on this factor," notes Wagner. "The Golden varieties have a tendency to be lower in acidity than most other varieties, but there is no real proof that they fall into the low-acid class. The varieties Patio and Beefsteak have also been considered by some to be lower in acidity."

If the housewife happens to have a supply of low-acid tomatoes to can, what steps should be taken to do this safely?

"The best precaution in canning low-acid tomatoes is to add 1/4 teaspoon of citric acid per pint," advises Wagner. "Although this lowers the acidity of the tomatoes to protect them from food poisoning bacteria, it will not improve the quality of the tomatoes. Therefore, it's important that only fresh-picked, firm tomatoes be canned."

The main thing about canning tomatoes is to maintain the acid level below a pH of 4.6

to keep the spores of Clostridium botulinum, the most potent of all food poisoning bacteria, from germinating. A simple boiling water bath which is sufficient for processing high-acid tomatoes is not safe when canning low-acid types, cautions Wagner.

Where the political lightning will strike is unknown but not many politicians are without hope.

Indian Village, Texas-Sunset at the Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation no longer brings with it the familiar sounds of crickets and other night creatures. It is now replaced by booming cannons of the Texas Volunteer Army and the spectacle of assimilated lightning streaking through the natural background scenery of towering pine trees. It is all a part of Beyond The Sundown, the historical outdoor drama of the East Texas Indians presented nightly except Sundays now through August 21. The Reservation is located between Livingston and Woodville 85 miles north of Houston. Very little had been written about the history of the Tribes although they were settlers or the Big Thicket while still under the flag of Spain. How events led to the removal of other Indian Tribes in Texas but not the Alabama-Coushattas is the story skillfully presented in the form of modern choreography, sound effects and an original musical score on the permanent stage of the 1,545-seat Sundown amphitheatre.

The outdoor drama is part of a tourist development program begun in 1965 by the Tribes to foster the economic growth of the some 500 tribal members living on the Reservation. The tourist program now attracts over 250,000 visitors annually. Managed by the Tribal Council, activities include a daily program by colorfully feathered Indian dancers, a tour through the Living Indian Village, a Big Thicket Reptile Garden Tour and other interesting tours. Campers will delight in the modern campgrounds with complete hookups. A curio shop with handmade Indian artifacts and Restaurant opens daily at 9:00 A.M. with tours beginning at 9:30 A.M.

L.S.C. Schedule Tough in 1976

Kingsville -- Lone Star Conference football teams will meet opponents from eight different states this fall, and Texas A&I, defending conference and national division champion, will play the league's most diversified slate.

The Javelinas will meet teams from four different states. They take on Slippery Rock State of Pennsylvania, the University of Hawaii, Western New Mexico University and eight opponents from Texas.

In the opener, the Javelinas will meet Texas Southern University in Houston's Astrodome.

LSC teams also meet opponents from Oklahoma, Alabama, Colorado, Mississippi and Louisiana in non-league contests.

Three of the conference teams will be playing Sept. 4. A&I and Texas Southern will be meeting on that date and Abilene Christian hosts Northwestern Oklahoma and Angelo State will be at Troy State in Alabama.

East Texas opens the following Friday night against Prairie View in Dallas and the remaining teams open Sept. 11.

A&I is playing Hawaii for the second consecutive season, and the Javelinas are the only squad from the LSC to ever play the Rainbow Warriors.

The Javelina's game with Slippery Rock will mark the first time a conference squad has played an opponent from Pennsylvania.

About Wolves

Wilderness management was recently discussed at length in the traditional Fontana Conservation Roundup (N.C.) near Great Smokey Mountains National Park.

The park is America's most visited wilderness and the major wilderness in the east. A prime topic this year was whether such animals as wolves should be reintroduced into wilderness areas where they have become extinct.

Proponents of restocking programs (wolves seldom bother humans) say they want wilderness areas to resemble as nearly as possible conditions which prevailed in this country before the white man took over.

Bears also could probably be restocked in some areas, though more dangerous than wolves. The American people undoubtedly favor conservation and sensible restocking in this environmental age, though precautions are necessary as is sensible behavior by those who visit wilderness areas.

SPIDER MITES DAMAGE GARDENS

Spider mites can cause severe damage to many vegetable gardens in San Patricio and Aransas Counties unless proper control measures are taken.

County Extension Agent D.P. Pawlik says that although tomatoes and green beans are the plants most frequently attacked, spider mites will also feed on and damage most other garden crops.

Spider mites are red in color and extremely small in size. They are usually found on the underside of leaves. The tiny insect pests cause damage by sucking juices from the plant. Large populations of mites can build up quite rapidly, and a severe infestation can cause leaves and flower buds to fall from the infected plant.

Although control of spider mites is often difficult, Pawlik offers these suggestions for home gardeners:

1. Select pesticide that is registered for use against spider mites.
2. Do not allow infestations to build up to large numbers before applying a pesticide.
3. After initial applications of pesticide, inspect plant to determine if live mites are present. Make additional applications only when live mites are found. Generally two-four applications are needed to control an infestation of spider mites.

Compounds registered for use on spider mites are Diazinon, Kelthane, Sulphur and Ethion. As with any pesticide, be sure to read the label and follow all directions, cautions Pawlik.

ADVANCED REALTY PROGRAM ATTENDED

College Station -- Jim McCord, a developer with Canoe Lake Corporation in Rockport, returned recently from two weeks in one of the most advanced real estate programs in the nation.

Known as the Studies of Advanced Real Estate Subjects (SOARS), the highly acclaimed curriculum is presented by the Texas Real Estate Research Center (TEREC) at Texas A&M University. To complete the program, students must attend a two-week session for each of three years.

A university-level program in a university environment. SOARS is a formal educational experience which goes beyond the short-term, single occurrence institutes offered across the nation.

The SOARS program is organized around three basic fields of study: the real estate investment decision, managing the practice of real estate and government/industry interface.

Officials of the SOARS program say completion of the course gives students an 8-10-year jump on their contemporaries.

Students are exposed to a wide range of topics and experts. The current money market, environmental economics, communications, creative financial packaging, interest rates, inflation and many other subjects are taught.

The second and third years concentrate on applying the new concepts and techniques the students have acquired. For example, during the intermediate year, SOARS students participate in an exercise where they become part of a management team in a simulated real estate firm. With the aid of computers, the management simulation compresses decisions and results of several months into just a few days.

The quality of the SOARS faculty is seen by many as one of the true strengths of the overall program. Teachers include university scholars and educators from across the country. In addition, subjects are presented by prominent, successful businessmen who are specialists in real estate practice.

The 1976 session of SOARS included students from Texas, Florida, Louisiana, California, Nevada, Illinois and Arkansas.

Bicentennial Card Party

The Recreation room on Airport Road was a very colorful sight decorated with the many flags used in the United States in its past history and the red, white and blue outfits of those present. Of course the refreshments table reflected the same and had small American flags, too, on a colorful tablecloth with all the symbols of the Bicentennial. There also was a table in front of the room decorated with an old-fashioned kerosene lamp, a modern table lamp and other things depicting the old and the new.

Hostesses for the party were Mary Harle and Earline Ballou. In introducing the guests Pat Works told that Esther Decker had put in eight nine-hour days in making the flags for decorations and putting them up. Esther was introduced and said a few words, telling that the British Jack was the first flag used in the Continental Army, and showed the others in order, not commenting on them all but asking everyone to come by and look at them.

John Leslie, president of the local A.A.R.P. organization, was present and said a few words closing with a funny "letter." Neva Sorenson played the Bicentennial Birthday Song, Margie Jackson helped to lead the singing. Mr. Maxwell of the Toast of the Coast was present to take pictures of the occasion. Delicious refreshments, star and bell-shaped cookies, and a "flag cake" baked by Pat Works were enjoyed during the afternoon.

Dorothy Leslie took first prize in the canasta games with Maizie Dunn getting second prize. In women's bridge, Rose Smith was winner and Irene Hopper, runner-up. Stan Heath took the men's prize in bridge and Doug Duncan was second. Bingo prize was a tie between Earline Ballou and Ruth Duncan.

Next party the same time and place next Thursday. Everyone welcome.

The new specialist holds three degrees from Texas A&M in range science. He is a member of the American Society of Mammalogists, Society for Range Management and Southwestern Association of Naturalists.

Show-Biz Gas

One of the great wastes of time and money is the current vogue of the film makers to make films about themselves. We see film after film about actors or actresses—acting. One could care less! It adds up to nothing.

Now we are beginning to see television shows about television commentators. And we are told by carried-away producers that programs about them making a certain film (usually nothing of importance) have great significance or social value. Nonsense, usually.

Dramatic, emotional scenes, especially by women, over nothing, feature most films about film-making. Who cares?

TRIBUTE TO AN OUTSTANDING CITIZEN

A journalist by profession, public relations executive consultant, photographer and tennis buff is serving our township and willingly contributing services. His fee -- good will! This is how Rockport is blessed

(and we have others also). We in our town would like to show our appreciation with this tribute in Chamber Corner.

Yes, it is only a "tribute" and can in no way show how much these individual talents mean to each of us in our daily endeavors. These talents and ability come to us wrapped in one package by one individual. Of course many other community minded citizens contribute to Rockport with needed efforts. We are aware and do appreciate all of you!

To give of yourself and your time is to be commended. This particular quality is one thing which makes this citizen outstanding; not giving one time but day after day, year after year. A challenge is his motivation. This may be true with all of us but will we feel the same when we have lived nearly three-quarters of a century? Will we continue to be so helpful - not expecting or even requesting credit for our interest, time and knowledge?

The Chamber of Commerce has reaped many benefits from this individual through his knowledge and experience in many fields. His profession of journalism has been a continuing asset to our promotion of sports in this area, especially tennis. The Chamber staff appreciates the individual consultant help extended to them and hope this column will in some way reveal the helpful advice our journalist has always been willing to give.

Within the framework of community service and the example of "a perfect gentleman" we appreciate, respect and hold Mr. David Crooks in high regard.
