Connie White named school band director

Connie White began the 1987-88 school year — less than a month ago — as assistant director of the Floydada school bands, her first assignment following graduation from Angelo State University, and Stephen Henry was working toward a master's degree at Angelo State.

A rapid and drastic change occurred when Eddie Pace, who was to have served as new director of the local bands, resigned less than a week into the school year for "health reasons."

Ms. White, who reportedly is extremely popular with the school's bandmen, has been promoted to director.

Henry was chosen as assistant director, effective Monday, Sept. 14.

According to one parent, the band members have an "excellent outlook" and are "excited" about the program.

Supt. Jerry Cannon says, "We thank the band members and their parents for hanging in with Ms. White during difficult times. We appreciate the enthusiasm and leadership of Ms. White and are very pleased with the band's progress."

"We anticipate an outstanding year under Ms. White's leadership and a continuation of a strong band program in the years ahead."

PERFORM AT TECH

The Whirlwind Band was among high school bands performing during the halftime show at the Texas Tech University-Lamar University football game on Saturday night at Jones Stadium.

'Sparky's Safety Color Contest' winners named

Lezlie Warren, Will Warren and Todd Anderson are first place winners in the three age divisions of the "Sparky's Safety Coloring Contest," sponsored by Southwestern Public Service Co. Each of the trio of first place winners receives a $50 gift certificate redeemable at either Kirk and Sons or Perry Brothers.

The contest had three categories: six years and under, seven and eight years and nine years through fifth grade.

Lewis McDaniel, local SPS manager, says an independent judge has chosen the following youngsters' entries for prizes:

Older division — 1. Lezlie Warren, fifth grade; 2. Leroy Martinez, fifth grade; and 3. J.R. Quilantan, fifth grade.

Middle division — 1. Will Warren, age 8; 2. Robin Padgett, age 7; and 3. Jeannie Ochoa, age seven.

Younger division — 1. Todd Anderson, age 5; 2. Logan Schaffner, age 4; and 3. Tasha Lemmons, age 4.

Second place winners earn a $25 gift certificate, redeemable at the two abovementioned stores, and $10 gift certificates go to third place winners.

Winning entries are on display at the Southwestern Public Service Co. office, 220 West California.

Grand jury hands down indictments

Floyd County Grand Jury handed down eight indictments, Sept. 17, on seven individuals, including Jesus Ortiz Gonzales.

Gonzales, 31, of Plainview, was indicted on the charge of possession of a firearm by a felon and burglary of a habitation with intent to commit sexual assault.

Gonzales allegedly entered a Lockney residence on July 23, abducted a woman at knife point and took her to Lubbock, where she was raped. An unidentified woman accompanied Gonzales during the abduction.

Also, property belonging to the victim and her family reportedly was stolen from the house.

In other action by the grand jury, Billy Ray Burks, 27, of Floydada, was true billed on four counts of forgery by passing a check.

John Lee Davis, 22, of Woodville, Mississippi, was indicted on the charge of possession of a controlled substance (methamphetamine). Davis, a trucker, was arrested August 28 by Motley County DPS troopers. Controlled substances and paraphernalia reportedly were found in the truck at the time of his arrest.

Ysidro Alaniz Jr. was indicted on a charge of subsequent offense of DWI

(his third offense). Alaniz of Plainview is 33 years old.

Viola Marie Eleby, 22, of Abilene was true billed on the charge of theft over $750.00. She had rented VCR's from Allsups in Lockney and from Shop Rite and Pay-n-Save in Floydada. Eleby failed to return the VCR's.

Also indicted was Charles D. Wilson of Floydada on forgery by passing a check. He is 26 years old.

Robert Jesus Soliz, 26, of Floydada, was indicted on a burglary of a habitation charge occurring on Aug. 3 in Floydada.

Address marks constitution anniversary

"Heated arguments" developed among architects of the U.S. Constitution, Lubbock attorney Alton R. Griffin told a group of Floyd County residents gathered to celebrate the 200th anniversary of the constitution.

Too, the Declaration of Independence was not wholeheartedly accepted, Griffin informed about 40 persons gathered Thursday evening in the Masonic Lodge hall. This country had a number of British sympathizers.

Of the 55 men chosen to draft the Constitution, only 39 actually signed the document. However, "This was the first time people came together to organize the kind of government people needed."

Some of the men "came and went" while others were in Philadelphia the entire 3½ months. "They started in May," Griffin said.

Griffin pointed out that "Those men who met in 1787 did not have to worry about devoting time to the task" because they were affluent people.

"Those were men of vision who said 'I am my brother's keeper,'" the Lubbock attorney related. The 55 men "laid down and proposed a form of government never tried before."

"Regardless of our station in life, we can give a helping hand to our fellow man," just as these men did, Griffin related.

"Just about every man" who assisted in drafting the Constitution "was a member of the Christian faith and most were protestant," Griffin added.

George Washington, recognized as the father of this country and hero of the war for the U.S.'s independence, was offered a position which would have been comparable to king. "Let's have a head of state," early leaders believed.

But Washington, who was serving as the first president, declined to accept such a role. This led to the resulting style of government.

County football title on line

Whirlwinds and Longhorns clash Friday in Lockney

Whirlwind gridders have a single thought this week: to return the county football championship to Floydada High School.

A 7-7 tie last fall left the title in limbo after Lockney had claimed the honor the previous two years.

Any keen — or even casual — observer of high school football in this county realizes that historically the Green and White of Floydada High and Red and White of Lockney High pull out all the stops to win the Floyd gridiron battle. The same situation is anticipated when the two longtime rivals renew their series at 8 p.m. Friday on the Lockney turf.

"I expect both teams to play with a lot of enthusiasm," predicts Whirlwind mentor Earl Overton. "I've been here long enough to get vibrations that this is a BIG game," adds Coach Overton, who is serving his first year as athletic director-head football coach of the Fighting Whirlwinds.

Like his Floydada counterpart, Jim Clark is in his initial year as athletic director-head football coach at the north Floyd County school.

"Lockney is playing with a lot of enthusiasm," Coach Overton says of the Longhorns. The Red and White operate from a wishbone offense and a "29" defense. "They give you a lot of multiple looks on both offense and defense," Coach Overton adds.

"On film, it looks like they have good team quickness," the Floydada coach says of his team's Friday night opponent.

GOOD EXECUTION

In reviewing last Friday's game at Olton, Coach Overton says "I thought we executed on offense real well. We played well, I thought, and we played with a lot of intensity."

He adds that the contest "allowed us to let some people gain game experience who had not played much in the previous two games. That should allow us to gain a little depth. Kids on special teams did a good job against Olton."

The Whirlwinds emerged from their third encounter with no new injuries.

The status of halfback Ty Stovall, who sustained an elbow injury in the Cooper scrimmage and has not been able to participate in the first three contests was "unknown" early this week for the Lockney match.

"In half of our kids," Coach Overton says, "we

"In behalf of our kids," Coach Overton says, "we appreciate the fan support of our team. That means a lot to our kids."

UNBLEMISHED MARK

The Whirlwinds enter the county championship match with an unblemished 3-0 mark, their best start in recent seasons. They outlasted Crosbyton 14-6 and Roosevelt 6-0 before the 47-6 win over Olton.

The Longhorns of Lockney opened their season with a 14-6 verdict over Rails and dropped a 13-9 decision to state-ranked Class A Petersburg. They fell to Seagraves 25-7 in a road contest last week.

Barring changes due to injury or sickness, Coach Overton anticipates the Whirlwind lineup will be "about the same" for the Friday night outing.

Probable lineup includes:

Hispanic youngsters comprise 58 percent of school enrollment

Hispanics maintain a higher percentage of the school enrollment this year, while both anglos and blacks are down, according to a study prepared by Supt. Jerry Cannon and his staff. Sept. 15 enrollment reflects in the study.

Seven hundred and 78 Hispanics were in classes on that date. These students comprise 58 percent of the student body.

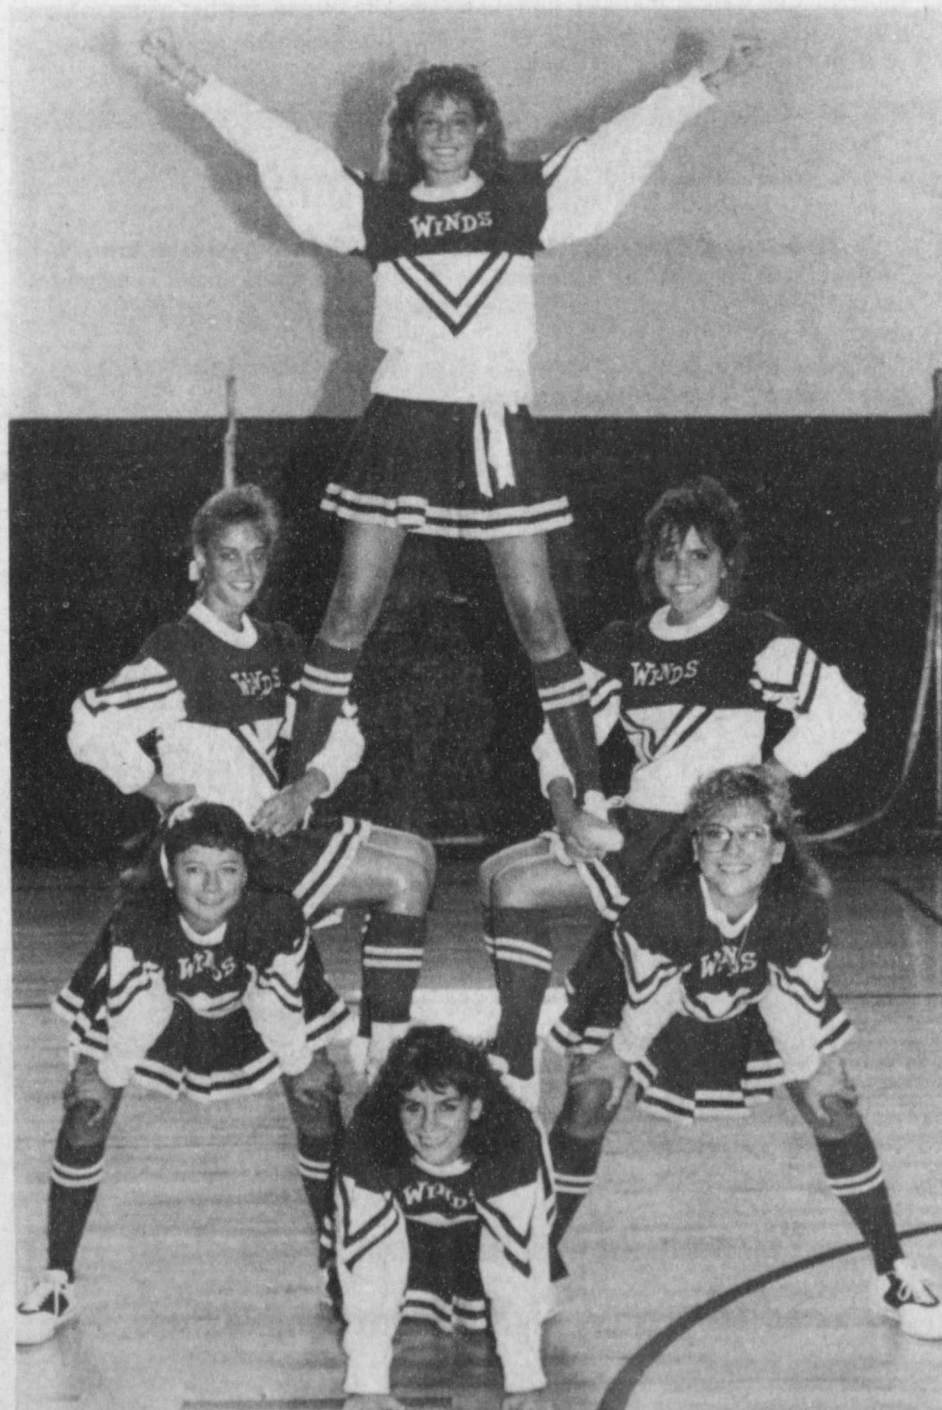

Anglos enrolled on Sept. 15 number 488, or 36 percent of the entire body. Fifty-eight black students comprised four percent of the student body.

Two American Indians and one Korean are the only three youngsters of races other than Hispanic, anglo and black.

Following are ethnic breakdowns for the 1986-87 school year (race, enrollment, percentage): Hispanic 649, 50.69 percent; anglo 548, 42.75 percent; black 80, 6.24 percent; Asian or Pacific Islander 5, .39 percent.

According to Supt. Cannon's study, the student number by race in each of the school's classes include:

Class	Anglo	Hispanic	Black	Amer. Indian	Korean
Early childhood	3	9	2
Pre-kindergarten (four year old)	0	23	1
Kindergarten	33	75	5
First grade	37	69	5

The Lamplighter

By Ken Towery

It has been a while. We've been down around the V.A. hospital at Temple, discussing matters of small import with their doctors. In the process we missed some events here that we very much wanted to take part in, like the highly successful gathering up near Quitaque. Reading about it in this paper was the next best thing to being there however, as the paper's staff did themselves proud in their coverage of the event. As did the local citizens who put it all together and pulled it off in such outstanding fashion.

So let's tip our hat to Bill Gray, who began with an idea and pushed it through, along with active encouragement and help from Marisue Potts, representing the Daughters of the Republic of Texas, and Nancy Marble and the Floyd County Historical Commission.

Nancy, we are told, was responsible for locating a number of descendants of those involved in the Sante Fe venture, as well as bringing the Fourth Cavalry Memorial Regiment on board for the event.

And then there was the help extended by O.R. Stark, over at the First National Bank in Quitaque, and John E. "Jack" Kelly, Grand Master of Texas Masons. There were others as well, many others, who helped bring it off. We appreciate all of them.

The Hesperian is fast approaching its 100th birthday. When that happens, and when we put out a "special edition" to mark the occasion, there is little doubt that the event marking Camp Resolution will be one of those events brought back to life. And when people pore over our files in the future, perhaps they will pause and reflect on the efforts put forth by today's citizens in taking note of the past, and bringing the community together for the future.

So again, our thanks for those who did the work as well as our thanks to the community for supporting the effort in such fine fashion.

A good bit of confusion reigns over the state political scene. One might even say confusion "rains" over the state political scene, since some early prognosis by a lot of political pundits is now all wet. First there was the Bill Hobby matter. He had been an early favorite to be a lead horse for the Constitution birthday celebration highlighted by Alton Griffin talk

The constitution provided for "three separate and distinct entities."

The Constitution was drafted by the Federal Constitutional Convention at Philadelphia and signed it Sept. 17, 1787. It was ratified by the required number of states (nine) by June 21, 1788.

The document superseded the original charter of the U.S., which had been in force since 1781 and established the system of federal government which began to function in 1789.

Article one of the Constitution set up the U.S. Congress in two divisions, Senate and House of Representatives.

An executive branch of government was created by Article two. The president, an elected position, was to head the executive branch, along with the vice president, for a four-year term. Article three provided for a judiciary (Supreme Court) and defined treason. The Supreme Court was empowered to design federal courts at a lesser level.

Griffin opened his address by saying he planned to "share a few thoughts on the birthday of the Constitution, which is the cornerstone of our country." He indicated that he would not attempt to "give a history lesson."

"We should be celebrating" the Constitution's birthday and appreciate the good things that have happened to us, he noted. "It is well to stop and look back."

Contrary to the ideas of some individuals, the Bill of Rights was not drafted by the first Congress until two years after the Constitution was adopted.

"We (U.S.) have survived some things that other countries have not survived," Griffin pointed out.

"The 1930s tried men's souls as much as any period," due to the worldwide depression, Griffin explained. "Some countries survived; others didn't. Germany turned to a dictator" during this era, "...and we all know what that led to. Germany turned to the dictator and said 'take us out of this depression; we give up our rights.'"

Despite numerous difficulties, "we survived" the depression.

The country also went through a "traumatic period" in the 1970s when President Nixon resigned rather than face almost certain impeachment.

Again, the country survived. Although the United States has "different problems and solutions now" than it had 200 years ago, the Constitution continues to provide a stable form of government.

"Every man must have his own way of life," said Griffin, a Lubbock attorney who formerly served as criminal district attorney in Lubbock County. The Constitution provides for those individual rights and freedoms.

If we could look into the future 200 years, Griffin forecast, the United States "will still be going strong 200 years from now."

HONORARY CITIZEN

Councilman Wayne Russell, acting in behalf of the City Council, presented Griffin with a certification designating him as an honorary citizen of Floydada.

Griffin responded that as a result of his sister, Mrs. Garland Foster, and late brother-in-law residing here, plus being active in Lions International (a past governor of District 2-T2) and the Masonic Lodge, "I've come to know and respect the people of Floydada. I have appreciated the way Floydada people have treated members of my family."

District Attorney Randy Hollums introduced Griffin.

The Constitution bicentennial celebration was sponsored by Floydada Lions Club, Floydada Rotary Club, Floydada American Legion Post 118, Buffalo Grass Chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution and Floydada Lodge No. 712 AF&AM. Representatives of each organization were in attendance.

J.M. (Jimmy) Willson opened the meeting and called on the Rev. Hal Farnsworth, pastor of First Baptist Church, to offer the invocation. Bill Gray, who was instrumental in organizing the event, led in the Pledge of Allegiance before Bill Smith led the group in singing "The Star Spangled Banner." Dell Gray accompanied at the piano. Gray also led in the pledge to the Texas flag.

Following Griffin's address, Smith led in the singing of "God Bless America." The benediction was voiced by County Judge Bill Hardin.

A reception followed.

Where's the fire...

Four men and one truck responded to a fire call at Dr. McCulley's dental office at 428 W. California at 2:10 p.m. Monday.

Firemen found faulty dental equipment causing the office to fill with smoke.

Thirteen firemen participated in a ladder class, taught Monday night by Dinks Eckert at the fire hall. The session covered care and maintenance of ladders, different types of ladders and different uses of ladders. It will continue next Monday with hands-on training outdoors.

During the Monday night session, a fire call was received from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hale, 813 W. Virginia. It was actually a "smoke scare," stemming from a problem with a dryer, which sent smoke throughout the house. There was no actual fire.

Firemen responded to a fire call Saturday, Sept. 19, at 908 S. Leonard. Eleven firemen and four units responded to the fire in an outside basement at the Ernestine Gilly home. A bed and a mattress were damaged in the blaze.

Eight Floydada firemen attended Canyon Fire School last Wednesday and Thursday nights. Various firefighting techniques were practiced.

Firemen received distinctive gold and black fire department jackets during a regular business meeting on Monday, Sept. 14. Application was made and accepted for the newest firefighter, Frank Jasso. This brings to 19 the number of firefighters. There are 25 positions available. Anyone interested in joining should contact any fireman.

Volunteer firemen express "thanks" to all business people who helped with the agro-rescue school in August.

Courtroom

In county court on Sept. 18, Armando Garza pled guilty to the charge of possession of a switchblade knife. He was fined $100.00 plus court costs of $88.50.

Tina Garcia, alias Ernestina Arebalo, pled guilty to contributing to delinquency of a child. She pled guilty on Sept. 22 and was assessed a jail term of 10 days. She was also fined $150.00 plus court costs.

Louis Garcia, was also charged on Sept. 21 with contributing to delinquency of a child. There was no disposition.

Roger Hernandez pled guilty Sept. 22 to assault by bodily injury. He was assessed a jail term of one year - to serve 14 days in jail and was probated for the remainder. Hernandez was also fined $300.00 plus court costs of $88.50.

In J.P. court for the week of 9-15 through 9-22 there were 75 misdemeanor cases filed.

Democrats. But his own favorite on the national scene, Gary Hart, had to withdraw for reasons that cannot be discussed in a family newspaper. Then the Legislative session was not kind to him, so he bowed out. Now Bob Bullock has tossed his own hat in the ring for Hobby's job, thereby upsetting plans by any number of people. Ann Richards had been making noises like she wanted to be lieutenant governor. Now she's talking about being governor, since she doesn't figure she would have much change against Bullock. Jim Mattox, a past master of the political "search and destroy" technique, has been taking pot shots at just about everybody he thinks might be in the race for governor, a position he has been campaigning for since day one. Then there's Gary Mauro and Jim Hightower. Both would like to move up, but both are likely to be left in the cold. Neither could cope with Mattox, in our view, when it comes to the political in-fighting that is likely to determine who gets the Democratic nomination.

The situation is no more clear on the Republican side, at least at the statewide level. Clements won't be in the picture, which pleases some Republicans and upsets others. He still has a way to go in this term, but unless he becomes a little wiser in the ways of politics he won't be much of an influence one way or the other. In the meantime he is likely to serve primarily as a lightning rod.

While all the jockeying is going on for top spots in the state's political hierarchy the real battle royal is shaping up at a somewhat lower level, for state legislative races. It is here that the all-important battle will take place to determine some critical issues. It is also where the battle will be fought to either reward or punish those State Senators and Legislators who voted to saddle Texas taxpayers with the largest tax increase in history.

For the first time in a long time Foster Whaley will not be part of that battle. He has let it be known that enough is enough, and he will now try to get some respite. Others may think otherwise, but for our money Foster made us a good hand down in Austin. He stood his ground against the tax increase, going against the leadership of his own party in the process. Indeed the word got out, and was reported in print, that the party leadership, being exceedingly liberal in nature, had Foster marked for defeat in the Democratic primary if they could find the horse. They may now think they are mistaken. He had told some of us some time ago that this was his last session. We suspect he could have stayed in office had he wanted. There is a good bit of speculation over who might have the inside track to take Foster's seat, but as far as we know there's nothing to report at this moment. We'll try to keep you posted.

Kinder Farris, our benevolent banker, is down in his back. In fact, he is so far down in his back that he is down in bed at Caprock Hospital, or he was until today, when he was scheduled to go over to Lubbock for a visit with orthopedic surgeons. That ought to be a lesson for those who insist on mowing the lawn.

Assault charges filed following Friday fight

A Dougherty man, Roger Hernandez, has been charged with "assault involving injury" as the result of a Friday morning fight. The charges were filed Tuesday.

Paulo Mendoza of Floydada was the man allegedly injured.

The "fight" reportedly occurred 16 miles east and one mile north of Floydada.

Sandra Carr, Jeff Matsler dorm officers

Sandra Carr and Jeff Matsler of Floydada have been elected as dormitory officers at McMurry College in Abilene for the 1987-88 school year.

Miss Carr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carr, has been chosen co-president of President Dormitory.

Matsler has been named president of Hunt Dormitory. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gary Matsler.

McMurry is a four-year liberal arts institution located in Abilene.

Dudley's Market opening in former Kirtley's store

Darrell and Cindy Dudley are owners of Dudley's Market, which anticipates opening today (Thursday, Sept. 24). The location is the former Kirtley's Market building, 316 North Second.

Darrell Dudley will manage Dudley's Market. He is to be assisted by his sister, Janet Hall.

"We welcome all customers to come in and trade with us," says Mrs. Dudley. "We hope the former customers of Kirtley's Market will patronize our store."

The store is to be open from 7:30 until 7 p.m. Monday through Saturday. It will be closed on Sunday.

The Dudleys anticipate holding a grand opening in October.

Social security numbers for children required next year

This year, for the first time ever, American taxpayers will need Social Security numbers for all dependents over five years of age. The numbers will be required for each dependent listed on a 1987 tax return. "Lots of people don't realize that this new law went into effect for the 1987 tax year," says Kathy Green. "When tax time rolls around, they may be lacking those all-important Social Security numbers for their children."

H&R Block is urging taxpayers to go now to their local Social Security offices and fill out the form needed to obtain a Social Security number for each child. By doing it now, rather than waiting until they file their return next year, taxpayers will enjoy faster service and less stress. "Get those numbers in advance of tax filing time. Keep them in a safe place, with the rest of your tax records," says Mrs. Green. "That just makes good sense and it will simplify your life, as well."

Taxpayers with questions may stop by or call their nearest H&R Block office. "Because of the confusion arising over the new laws," says Mrs. Green, "we are prepared to answer many questions. We don't want taxpayers to have any unpleasant surprises when they come in to file their 1987 tax returns."

For more information about the Social Security numbers for children five and over, contact your nearby H&R Block office at 106 W. Missouri, Floydada.

His injuries were not serious.

Whirlwind junior tackle-linebacker was expected to be released Wednesday afternoon or Thursday morning from St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock.

Injured in a Tuesday afternoon workout, Caballero was taken to Caprock Hospital and, as a precautionary measure, was transported to St. Mary's Hospital by helicopter ambulance.

He was feeling well Wednesday morning and was moved to a private room. His injuries were not serious.

Have a good week!

The Children THANK YOU!!

The directors of Floyd Co. Day Care would like to thank the town of Floydada and surrounding communities for their support of the spaghetti supper. It was a huge success. We have bought educational items with the proceeds.

Remember the Day Care when you clean out your closets and toy chest. Any donations would be appreciated.

Sincerely,
Susan Kirk, president

Sammy Hale earns first place check

Upsets dominate Hesperian weekly football contest

Upsets were more the rule than the exception in football games at all levels — high school, college and pro — appearing in The Hesperian's football contest last week-end.

Sammy Hale claimed first place and a $10 check by correctly predicting the outcome in 13 of 22 games. He had nine misses.

John Campbell was all alone in second place — a $6 check — with an entry bearing 10 incorrect winners.

No fewer than 14 contestants had 11 misses. Tim Ruff was one of these 11, and his tie-breaker score of 49 (the Whirlwinds and Olton put 53 points on the scoreboard in the tie-breaker) earned him the $4 third place award.

Receiving honorable mention were the other 13 players with 11 misses. These individuals and their guess in the tie-breaker were: Leah Lackey, 43; Mike Reeves, 41; Franklin Harris, 35; Pam Fulton, 34; Gene Lowrance, Wes Campbell, Laura Hale and Gloria Vargas, 24 each; Carl Lewis, Jean Hale and Sherry Hale, 21 each; Barbara Cocanougher, 20; and Dale W. Jahay, 17.

CONTEST TIGHTENS

Dr. Andy Hale continues to lead the race for the season winner, although his lead dwindled after last week's contest. He has 45 points.

Deneen Marricle and Franklin Harris, each with 43 points, closed in on the leader.

Another trio — Sherry Hale, Sammy Hale and Jean Hale — have 42 points. Having 40 points are Dolan Hanna, Anthony Caballero, Paige Cannon and Wes Campbell.

Persons received one point for each winner selected. The individual with the greatest number of points at the conclusion of the season earns two tickets to the Dallas Cowboys-Miami Dolphins game on Nov. 22 in Texas Stadium.

Two burglaries investigated by city police department

Two cases of burglary of a habitation are being investigated by Floydada Police Department.

Chief James Hale arrested Armando Garza last week on charges of carrying a prohibitive weapon. The chief witnessed the suspect entering a brown '74 Chevrolet auto in the 600 block of North Massie, made the arrest and transported Garza to Floyd County Jail.

Chief Hale was aware that a warrant for the suspect existed for revocation of probation out of Floyd County and an outstanding warrant also existed for his arrest out of city court.

A brass butterfly knife was found on the subject.

Harry Steve Juarez reported last week to the police department that he and his wife returned from Lubbock to find the northwest window and a door of their residence, located in Evans Trailer Park, had been opened. He found that an overcoat, a grey jacket and a 357 pellet pistol were missing.

No charges have been filed yet, but the investigation continues.

Brad Saens has reported that the residence of his mother, Darlene Torres, at 307 East Kentucky had been burglarized. Reported stolen were a six or seven year old Whirlpool refrigerator, a dishwasher (which was not in working condition) and a GE built-in stove, with a total estimated value of $220.

Saens told officers that he and his girl friend were in the house a week earlier and that the items were in the kitchen area. When he returned, the appliances were missing, he said, and the north window and north door were open.

Floydada and Ralls police departments are working together on the case.

Frank Morales of 309 East Kentucky reported to police that a chain link fence on his property had been damaged.

Tommy Lee Collins told officers that his car struck the fence and that he would pay for damages.

W-4 filing deadline October 1

Taxpayers need to have a W-4 or W-4A withholding form on file with their employers by October 1. By filling out a new form to adjust withholding taxes, taxpayers will be sure of having the correct amount of taxes withheld from their paychecks for the remainder of 1987. This may help them avoid owing a penalty for underpayment of taxes in the last quarter of the year.

Taxpayers whose situations have changed must be sure that employers are withholding the correct amount of tax. Changes that may affect withholding amounts include marriage, divorce, death of a spouse or dependent, birth of a child, winning a lottery or changing jobs.

Anyone unsure of how to compute the correct withholding should contact an H&R Block office for assistance. "The effects of The Tax Reform Act of 1986 will start making themselves felt on returns filed during the 1988 tax season," says Kathy Green. "We foresee an increase in the amount of confusion next spring. That's why Block offers its expertise to help taxpayers deal with the W-4 forms. We want everyone to feel confident that they have taken advantage of every possible benefit available to them."

"Right now," Green emphasized, "the important thing is to meet that October 1 deadline for filing a new W-4 or W-4A."

Sept. 24:

More rain fell Thursday and Friday. About 1/4 to an inch varied over the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Alldredge were hosts Saturday for all of their children and families. The gathering was in honor of Steve's birthday. Those present included Steve and Pat Alldredge, Stacy and new five day old son, David Robert, from Brownfield. Karen and Tommy Klein and children, Jonathon, Jeremy and Kinsey were here from Sweetwater. Mark Alldredge was here from Lubbock as was Roger home from Texas Tech. Mrs. George Wiede, mother of Pat Alldredge, was also a guest. The Bob Alldredges are keeping little Stacy a few days to let Pat get used to the new baby.

Leonard Alexander is doing fine now after eye surgery and has not been back to Dallas for two or three weeks.

Mrs. Margarita Barbosa, who used to live in our community, was here from Post on Monday with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Terry Barbosa and little son. Floydada football games sideline entertainment includes the twirling talent of both the Dean Watson daughters, Miss Deanna and Miss Amanda, in high school and junior high.

Mrs. Rex Harrison surprised her neighbor, Mrs. Roland Adams, with a decorated cake on her birthday last week. The Harrisons visited the Adams on the occasion.

Mrs. Dee Pena of Crosbyton, sister-in-law to the late Mike Pena Sr., who used to live in our community, was among the Crosbyton Spanish Church of Christ members who visited the Floydada City Park Spanish Church of Christ for a meeting Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Pena said Mrs. Sally Pena has remarried and lives in Ralls.

Mrs. Jean Appling was director of the Crosby County Fair last week at Lorenzo. The fair rotates between the three towns in the county. Mrs. Pat Brown was in charge of the antiques department. Mrs. Nettie Ruth Whittle and Mrs. Joyce Williams helped judge the needlework and home canned foods.

Austin and Ashleigh Williams and their grandmother visited the West Texas Museum at Texas Tech Saturday morning and saw the new Explorium display. Later on they joined their parents, and Mr. and Mrs. Monte Williams, Tara and Amanda, and Col. and Mrs. Elton Brian at the Ranching Heritage Center for fajitas cooked at the Pitchfork Ranch chuck wagon. They toured the outdoor exhibits of early day crafts and ranch work.

Phyllis and Charles Farley and children, Kelly and Kevin of Garland visited recently with her parents, Mr. and Mrs.

Wayne Appling.

Verlon Wright took two grandchildren, Jennifer and Justin Burk, to the Reese Air Base show on Saturday. The children's parents are Mike and Carol Burk of Lubbock.

Hunter Smith was home for the week-end from Clarendon College. He and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Choise Smith and Dean were in Lubbock Saturday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Flukie Smith. Choise's sister, Mrs. Scarlett Jackson was also there from Spearman.

Bill Norris has been in a Lubbock hospital for treatment for injuries received from a wild cow a few weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Appling joined a group of 15 cousins and their spouses for a reunion at Jemeniz Springs, New Mexico recently. The cousins were related on Wayne's mother's side, the Archers. Relatives from this area included Joe and Jeanne Appling, Mt. Blanco; Alice Gains Temple of Lubbock; Roy and Catherine Miller of Tulsa, and Leman and Jane Norman of Lubbock. The party visited at a cousins cabin and at other nearby cabins loaned for their use. They toured the Atomic Laboratories at Los Alamos, Old Town and other points of interest in the area. The group meets every two years and is scheduled to meet in Floydada in 1989.

The Floyd County Historical Museum Board of Directors meeting Monday evening was attended by Mrs. June Sherman of Lockney and Mrs. Joyce Williams. They reviewed the year's work of the museum board. This included the tour of historic sites, such as the railroad tunnel; the newsletter; the quilt show at Old Settlers where a goal of 30 quilts was set and 80 beautiful historic quilts were brought in for display; the collection of pictures and equipment from the Dougherty school house; the new windows in the museum; and the dedication of the historic site marker at Camp Resolution and reception following. President Olin Watson conducted the meeting.

RAISE/LOWER WITH "HITCH COMMAND"

Case IH added a touch of genius to 3-point hitch operation with electronic "Hitch Command" in new MAGNUM tractors. Just touch a switch to raise the hitch. Touch again and it lowers. Always to the exact limits you pre-program... and at precisely the speed that optimum operating conditions require.

Only new Case IH MAGNUM tractors give you electro-hydraulic hitch actuation that saves time and effort at the headlands and with all soil types, implements and field conditions.

Isn't it time you switched to electro-hydraulic hitch control? It's standard on the all-new Case IH MAGNUM tractors, 130 to 195 PTO hp. See us for details.

MAGNUM means more.

'Three Little Pigs' due Oct. 1st presentation

For the third consecutive year, the Floyd County Arts Association is sponsoring a professional stage play, produced by Penguin Productions. The one-hour musical will be presented at Floydada High School on Thursday, Oct. 1, at 1:30 p.m.

This year's play will be "The Three Little Pigs."

"The Floyd County Arts Association is happy to be able to bring professional theatre to every elementary age child in Floyd County with the cooperation of the schools' administration and faculty," according to a spokesperson.

Penguin Productions is "a touring theatre company whose staff is dedicated to bringing wholesome, quality entertainment to children." Since 1979, the company has produced 21 tours, performing for hundreds of thousands of school children across Texas and in surrounding states.

"Three Little Pigs" is a three-week tour, with 21 shows on the schedule.

Actors who are chosen to tour with Penguin Productions go through an extensive audition and interview session, conducted before each production.

The actors must not only be qualified as actors, singers and dancers, but also as technical personnel. They share the responsibility of setting up the show at each new location and help build the scenery and props during rehearsals.

One other important criteria is "They must like children!"

Husband and wife, Bryan Lake and Rena Newton are the production team of Penguin Productions, putting 10 years of children's theatre experience into every aspect of the show. Their love of children and of children's theatre is evident in this "warm, sensitive yet lively version of 'Three Little Pigs.'"

"With enough action and spectacle to keep everyone intrigued, 'Three Little Pigs' is an event that will long be remembered. The old familiar tale will feature added characters, music, dance numbers and original dialogue."

THREE LITTLE PIGS—"The Three Little Pigs," sponsored by the Floyd County Arts Association, will be presented Oct. 1 at 1:30 at Floydada High School.

Whirlwind Sams host 1987 Area X Mini Rally at Cone

By Betty Gilbreath

Floydada Whirlwind Sams hosted the 1987 Area X Mini Rally at Cone, September 18-20 at the Primitive Baptist Foundation building.

Claude and Frances Weathersbee were the coordinators sponsoring this campout. They were assisted by the entire club.

We had approximately 36 early bird trailer rigs that arrived on Thursday night the 17th. We had a short program, a filmstrip entitled "Texas Lives the Legend." The film was courtesy of Donnell Gowens, with the Floydada Highway Department. Refreshments of punch and cookies were served by Roberta Russell, chairperson, and her committee.

On Thursday night we had rain. Friday was cloudy and cool all day. Friday night was the presentation of our own cast of the Whirlwind men in the "Womanless Wedding" with Marge McElyea as director.

Everyone in our chapter was involved in this endeavor, all the ladies got their husbands all dressed up. You would be surprised at all the lovely gowns and hair pieces we were able to locate for the occasion.

This was followed by "Man With The Harmonica," Harvey Allen, and "Woman of The Key Board," Dell Gray with Bill Gray on the drums.

Saturday was a beautiful warm day with a shining sun. The day was spent with the "Blind Auction" and playing games of horseshoes, washers and bean bag games outside. Paul Westbrook was in charge of the games and committees.

Inside there were games of 84, Skip Bo and other games with Lorene Newberry and her committee in charge of these games.

Our Saturday evening meal was catered by Danny's Hens and Fins from Lubbock. There were 166 who enjoyed the food.

At 7:00 p.m. everyone met in the Assembly room for announcements and drawing for door prizes and the afghan.

Our evening program was presented by the "Whirlwinds Own Band." Music Makers. The band includes: Bill and Dell Gray with Mac and Marge McElyea, Roberta Russell, Addie Assiter, Barbara Willis and Frances Weathersbee assisting. We were not aware of all this talent.

Sunday morning concluded our festivities with our devotional service. Paul and Dartha Westbrook were in charge of the music. Rev. Pat Ford brought the message entitled, "Touching Lives and Changing People." This was enjoyed by all present. Our campout concluded by singing our chapter song "Happy Trails" and wishing our guest chapter a safe and happy trip home and to their places of responsibilities.

We were pleased to host these chapters from area towns including: Amarillo, Palo Duro, Childress, Panhandle, Lubbock, Wolforth, Plainview, Odessa, and Floydada. We also had the Assistant State Director of Area IX, Claude and Ethel Cleere from Odessa; Roger and Marcie Evans, assistant state director from Lubbock, to visit with us on this campout.

Also we were all pleased to have two RV businesses bring some of their new rigs for us.

Jim and Phyllis Spratlin from Davis RV showed three trailers and Clifford Barchers from Pharr Trailer Sales showed a motor home.

We all enjoyed this and appreciate these people for taking time to come over. We have so many people ask "What in the world do you do at Cone" now you have some idea the fun you can have anywhere.

Residents celebrate birthdays

By Lorilla Bradley

A pleasant month, September... When summers on the wane... And with some happy birthdays... Let's celebrate again!

Our Mrs. Addie Lindley... Her years are 95... Is a very lovely lady... And too, she's rather wise!

A very hearty greeting... To our Mr. Calloway... And may this birthday party... Serve just to "make his day."

We welcome Mrs. Russell... She is so very nice... So get acquainted with her... You'll visit more than thrice!

Let's serenade these people... With the good old birthday song... So get your "vocals" ready... And sing out good and strong!

Thursday, September 17 was birthday party time at the Rest Home with ladies of the City Park Church of Christ hosting the occasion.

The Hesperian photographer came for the "picture taking" after which everyone was ushered into the dining room with the honorees being seated at the "honor" table. Their places were marked with special cards. The table was laid with a white cloth and centered with a floral arrangement in autumn colors.

The ladies wore fresh corsages and Mr. Calloway a boutonniere compliments of Williams Flower and Card Shop. The poem was read and all joined in singing the Happy Birthday song.

A delicious refreshment plate consisting of chocolate cake, angel food cake and a delightful mixed fruit punch was served to the honorees, guests, home residents and the employees. Special guests were Letha and Travis Lightfoot, Opal Kratzer, Edna Patton and Delsey Bradford. Mrs. Lightfoot brought a special angel food cake for her mother, Mrs. Lindley, which was shared with everyone.

We do appreciate all of our guests, their thoughtfulness and the joy they bring to those who are being honored. You are invited to be with us at any time you have an opportunity.

The next party will be Thursday, October 15th, 2:30 p.m.

'Defensive Driving' lesson heard

The regular meeting of the Harmony community center was called for Thursday, Sept. 17, as the regular meeting had to be called off because of rain.

The president, Ruth Scott called the meeting to order by reading a cute poem of Mary, Mary's Garden with all the weeds and bugs we battle in our gardens.

Roll call was answered by "Something naughty I remember I did in school."

Anna Maude Hopper read minutes of the last meeting.

Arvie Schulz gave a report on the county picnic held at Caprock State Park in July.

It was decided to tour the winery in Lubbock and possibly the museum. Each member is supposed to bring an article to auction the first meeting in October. The articles should be nice and the proceeds will go to the Floydada Rest Home for the use of the residents.

"Show and Tell" will be October 26 and a Thanksgiving luncheon for members will be November 23.

Mary True, extension agent, gave the program on "Defensive Driving." "Be aware of people approaching stop lights and stop signs as well as parking areas."

"The Right of Way is always something given, not taken" stated Mrs. True. She then conducted a test on recognizing highway signs and also a quiz on "Safety Belts and Child Restraints."

There are two courses available for a 10% reduction in your insurance rates "Defensive Driving" and the other is "Coaching a Mature Adult."

Hostess Arvie Schulz served refreshments to Lucille Miller, Mary True, Blanche Williams, Juanita Pool, Ruth Scott, Vivian Curtis, Anna Maude Hopper, Maye Williams and Coy.

Floydada O.E.S. hosts area chapters, Masons, wives

Food, fun and fellowship was the thought for the evening of entertainment on Saturday night, September 12, when Floydada Chapter #31, Order of Eastern Star had as their guests O.E.S. chapters of this area and also Masons and their wives.

The Friendship night and Mason's Honor night began at 6:00 p.m. with a chicken, spaghetti and covered dish supper being served to the 80 guests.

After the bountiful meal, the guests were directed to the meeting hall where the Worthy Matron and Worthy Patron, Flora and M.J. McNeill, presided and directed the program for the evening. Chapters were represented by those introduced from Dimmitt, Lubbock, Happy, Olton, Sweetwater, Lockney and Plainview. In the absence of the Master of Floydada Lodge # 712 A.F.&A.M., the Masons and their wives were recognized and given a voice of appreciation for their attendance.

The program committee were introduced with Dell and Bill Gray and Bobby Rainer presenting several well known toe-tapping numbers which were enjoyed by the entire group. The Worthy Matron also recognized the foods committee, telephone committee and those who decorated the dining hall in the "Back-to-School" motif. She thanked each for their assistance in their involvement for the affair.

Dr. R.O. Fuqua, Past Grand Patron, Grand Chapter of Texas, Order of Eastern Star, was introduced and invited to speak. Dr. Fuqua is a retired dentist now residing in Lubbock, formally practicing in Sweetwater for over 40 years. He also taught school as a young man at the Roseland community near Lockney.

The meeting closed in a happy note with an invitation to assemble in the dining room for coffee and pie. The next regular meeting of the O.E.S. chapter will be on October 8 when 25-35-40-45 and 50 year members will be honored. Serving as hosts for this meeting will be Dell and Bill Gray, Mary Ann and Jimmy Kelly and Jo Davis. All members are invited and urged to attend for this special recognition.

Nursing Home Happenings

By Jo Bryant

Another week has gone by once again and the cool mornings and warm evenings are great. We have had enough rain for awhile. The residents are enjoying the morning coffee and juice breaks. Bro. Neeley came Tuesday for the weekly devotion. The songs sang were "Old Rugged Cross," "Ester," and "Victory in Jesus." He shared from Matt. 10-27. Thanks for the bananas. We hope Mrs. Richardson gets better each day. We miss her.

At 2:00 p.m. Ruth McIntosh came as the Friend from the Library and shared the book review about, "One Saint and Seven Sinners." They enjoyed hearing about the "Good old days" on the farm, washing in a wash pot, ironing with the flat irons, etc.

Wednesday, Bro. Earl Blair from First Methodist Church gave the devotion. He shared the "Joy of the Lord," and Phil. 4-4 "Rejoice in the Lord Always Rejoice." We may not always be happy, but we can have that inner joy. At 2 p.m. we played Bingo. Angelina Reynolds couldn't be with us, as her grandson had surgery at a Lubbock hospital. We wish for him a speedy recovery. Those playing were: Maude Galloway, Myra Hall, Della Halencak, Opal Morrison, Thelma Hoffman, Brooks Callaway, Oda Birchfield, Brooks Callaway, Charles Breeding, Ruth Benson, Ruth Smitherman and Iva Wells.

Thursday, Tim Owens gave the devotion. We shared from James 4-1-12. "Draw near to God, and He will draw near to you." He said we struggle with war and peace within ourselves. Submit to God, and follow Him. Pray, thank Him, humble yourselves, and tell Him how much you love Him.

In the evening we had our monthly birthday party. Those being honored were Addie Lindley, 95; Willie Russell, 87, and Brooks Callaway, 83. Happy Birthday and many more to you. The ladies of the Church of Christ served delicious chocolate cake, angel food and punch and coffee. The table was decorated with a pretty full arrangement of orange flowers.

Friday the ladies from the First Baptist Church gave the devotion. Letha Mulder opened with a prayer. Evelyn Latta came and played the piano and Mrs. Lillian Ross read Proverb 37, all the virtues for a woman.

We didn't get to go on the bus ride due to the cloudy weather, so we did art. Several did some tissue butterflies and hung them in their rooms, or put them in the windows.

This week's visitors were: Dolores Callaway, Lorena Dunavant, Rebecca Redding, Carolyn Sue, Glenna Sue, May Sue, Hazel Bradley, Bessie Wilson, Edna Patton, Delzie Bradford, Buck Galloway, Candy Emert, Linda Emert, Harry and Frankie Berry, Amarillo; Mel and Marjorie Holcomb, Lockney; Myria Dade, Jettie Moss, Lee Wilkerson, Ethel Warren, Viola Wise, Mattie Wester, Laura Turner, Opal Kratzer and Artie Webb.

Senior Citizens News

By Thelma Jones

We have some new officers in our Senior Citizens: Elizabeth Armstrong, president, and R.B. Hatley, vice-president.

Nettie Adams spent Sunday in Memphis, Texas.

Senior Citizens offer their sympathy to Alma Smith on the loss of her brother, Clifford Curry of Olton. Those who attended the funeral were Marie Tardy, Thelma Jones and Clara Martin, Hale Center, and Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Fulton, Floydada.

Mr. and Mrs. Burl Holt returned home last week after a visit of three months with their son and family in New York.

Mrs. Lois Parker had as her guest last Saturday her sisters, Mrs. Lucille Armstrong and Inez Stevens from Roby, Texas.

Everyone is enjoying the new paint job on the inside and outside and other repairs on our center.

Valerie Turner and Loretta Burns spent Monday in Lubbock on business and to see Valerie's great-grandson, who was hurt in an accident.

Ethel Warren spent several days last week visiting Johnny Warren and family at Lubbock.

Mable Price visited her granddaughter, Shannon Price, a student at Tech last Friday.

Rusty Holladay of Deberry, Texas visited his grandmother, Ruby Davis last week.

Bill and Corene Holladay and Grady and Ester Freeman visited in Quitaque Monday.

Viola Brown is home from the hospital and hope she is soon up and about.

Alma Smith, Marie Tardy, Thelma Jones and Clara Martin of Hale Center attended the golden wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon in Lubbock for their nephew.

and Atha Sue was welcomed as a guest.

Area convention plans discussed

By Brenda Heflin

The 226th meeting of Texas Alpha Mu Delta was held Tuesday, Sept. 15 at Lighthouse Electric.

The meeting was called to order by President Dara Ware. Plans were discussed to attend the area convention to be held in Plainview Oct. 17 and 18.

The taco supper was a success and we would like to thank everyone who supported it. New yearbooks were passed out to all members and we had five guests in attendance. They were Melanie Beedy, Gale Noland, Dora Ross, Sidney Jackson, and Kenda Crump.

Members attending were Tonia Kitchens, Jeanine Helms, Debra Graham, Brenda Heflin, Holly Hendrix, Kelli Reddy, Dara Ware, and Kelli Whitten.

Club holds yearbook meeting

By Judy Schacht

1956 Study Club held their yearbook meeting for September at the Floyd County Museum. Velma Johnson gave a walking tour of the museum, giving special emphasis to pioneer crafts and accessories. Refreshments for the evening were served by hostesses Rozanne Bishop and Trena Simpson.

The business meeting was presided over by president Janet Lloyd. New yearbooks were distributed by chairman Kathy Becker. Gifts were exchanged as members revealed Secret Pals and new Secret Pals were drawn. Jeanie Ford was welcomed back as a new member

Complacency must be avoided by cotton industry

The U.S. cotton industry must not be lulled into complacency because of the dramatic turnaround last year in domestic consumption and exports, National Cotton Council president Aven Whittington told that organization's board of directors in Memphis, Tenn.

The Greenwood, Miss., producer pointed to the late 1970's as a classic example of how quickly the cycle can change.

"We exported more than nine million bales in that time period and had reasonably good domestic consumption," said Whittington. "You know what happened — China, the strong dollar, global recession, among other factors. I don't mean to throw cold water on our enthusiasm, but we need to be aware that nothing is so constant as change."

The Council president said much unfinished business remains for the industry to deal with in the coming year — the threat of lower payment limits, textile trade legislation, research and promotion amendments, and the 1988 cotton program.

Council economist Dean Ethridge, reinforcing Whittington's remarks, said the U.S. must be aggressive and continue to improve production and marketing techniques if it hopes to enjoy sustained growth into the next century. Ethridge said the U.S. must continue to push for growth in both the domestic and export sectors.

The Council economist said exports of cotton reached 6.7 million bales and domestic consumption hit 7.4 million bales in 1986/87, resulting in a total of 14.1 million bales — second highest in 20 years. He said demand for the current season remains strong with prospects for an offtake exceeding 14 million bales. If so, carryover stocks will be reduced to 3.5 million bales.

"We can't expect to expand either the size of the total market or U.S. cotton's share without consistently supplying enough cotton to support an expansion," Ethridge commented.

"We must be leaders in quality, service, and promotion, and we must fortify these objectives with policies that foster stability and market access for U.S. cotton."

Robert Laidlaw, president of the American Textile Manufacturers Institute, said House passage of the textile trade bill indicated a lack of confidence in the Administration's conduct of international trade. He said the bill needs a strong vote in the Senate to send a message to the President that there is enough support in Congress to override a veto.

Sam Reeves, president of Cotton Council International, said the Council's overseas arm will continue to actively promote U.S. cotton exports. Reeves said those efforts have resulted in immediate additional sales for U.S. cotton because of the success of several consumer promotion campaigns.

Dr. Andrew Jordan, technical services director, reported on developments in boll weevil eradication efforts in the Southeast, bale packaging, and pesticide regulation. Jordan said the expanded boll weevil eradication in the Southeast began in July with the help of an additional $8 million in supplemental appropriations from USDA. The expanded area includes Georgia, Florida, and southern Alabama.

In bale packaging, Jordan said all old style bagging now has been replaced by laminated polypropylene, and improvements in bale conditions should be evident at mills this year.

Jordan said EPA also has proposed to prohibit use of designated pesticides in areas where endangered species exist. He said the Council will work with other commodity groups to develop a unified effort to prevent endangered species provisions from wrecking the cotton industry's ability to fight pests.

Dr. Phil Wakelyn, the Council's manager of environmental health and safety, gave an update on developments in hazard communications, cotton dust, fugitive dust, toxic substances, and flammability.

Sykes Martin, president of The Cotton Foundation, said the budget for on-going research and education programs now totals $200,000 for 19 projects, and the support for 26 special projects totals more than $1 million. The research and educational projects are funded by cotton supplier firms in addition to their Foundation membership contributions.

Other reports were given by staff directors and representatives for Washington Operations, the Information Network, and Communication Services.

A New York Democrat and a Massachusetts Republican have joined forces to effect a tightening of payment limitations so severe as to threaten destruction of the most successful cotton program the industry has ever seen.

So say officials of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. who last week urged the administration and congress to stand firm against changing current limitation rules.

U.S. Representatives Silvio Conte of Massachusetts and Charles Schumer of New York are pushing a bill aimed at closing "major loopholes" in the eligibility requirements for farm program payments. Boiled down, the bill would allow one $50,000 payment to one taxpayer identification number. And that only if the number represents a person or entity "actively engaged" in farming, i.e. providing personal labor or active management, plus contributing cash, equipment or land to the operation. The bill's sponsors say such a law for the final three years of the 1985 Farm Act, 1988 through 1990, could save the government in excess of $2 billion.

But that calculation, PCG argues, fails to look beyond the bare projection of the difference between direct payment costs as the limitation is currently administered and direct cost under the Schumer-Conte proposal.

What we see for cotton in the wake of such legislation, says PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson, is a complete breakdown of the program's production control mechanisms. "Medium and large-scale farmers would be forced outside the program, there'd be a big increase in production and a rebuilding of surplus stocks, followed by much higher government storage costs, dirt cheap market prices, per-pound deficiency payments back at maximum rates and a resumption of big export subsidies."

The House Agriculture Committee in last year's debate on agricultural appropriations was instructed to tighten up on payment limitations. The House of Cotton Subcommittee, led by Chairman Jerry Huckaby (D-LA), has responded with a legislative proposal somewhat less restrictive than the Conte-Schumer measure. A person would be allowed one $50,000 payment on his individual operation and, through participation in no more than two other entities, could collect up to another $50,000. It carries a similar definition of "actively engaged in farming," but would retain payment eligibility for all landlords receiving crop share rent.

Reportedly Schumer and Conte were invited to join subcommittee members backing Huckaby's bill but elected to write their own measure. They have announced their intention to get around opposition in the agriculture committee by attaching the bill to the budget reconciliation measure.

"Industry observers," Johnson says, "are less than optimistic about chances to defeat Conte and Schumer in the House."

If the bill gets through the House, he continues, the remaining hope is that the Senate will refuse to allow a limitation rider on its budget bill and refuse to agree with the House bill rider in conference committee.

CRP: Control of volunteer dead litter control

Recent rains have given CRP dead litter crops a good opportunity to supply a sufficient amount of cover that will provide wind protection to next year's spring seeded grasses. But, along with the growth many of the dead litter crops are beginning to head out. It is very important to prevent volunteer sorghum competition with the grass next year.

The less volunteer dead litter and weed competition present in a field, producers' chances of getting a first-try stand of grass are increased considerably.

This is evident by this year's plantings.

Rains have hindered tractors from entering fields to mow, shred, or spray. Those fields that have a volunteer threat now need to consider an aerial application of Roundup. There are several fields around the county that have had good results using a 12 oz./ac. application of this product.

Prevention of volunteer competition is mandatory. It is set up as a separate item number in your contract and cost-share is available when this practice is completed.

"Mention of trademark of a proprietary product does not constitute a guarantee of warranty of the product by the Soil Conservation Service and does not imply its approval to the exclusion of other products that may also be suitable."

Battle continues against tobacco budworm resistance

The tobacco budworm, a serious pest of cotton, has been gaining ground in recent years in developing resistance to pyrethroid insecticides, the newest and best insecticides available. So the Texas Agricultural Extension Service is working hard to devise a battle plan to combat the pest.

"No effective replacements for pyrethroid insecticides are now available or can be expected in the next 10 years," points out Dr. Charles Allen, an Extension Service entomologist located at Fort Stockton. "Therefore, farmers, entomologists and chemical company representatives have put together a plan aimed at slowing the development and spread of resistant insects and helping farmers to successfully and economically manage these pests."

Entomologists with the Extension Service working with Texas Agricultural Experiment Station scientists have provided growers with a plan aimed at delaying the development and spread of resistant populations of the tobacco budworm.

Extension recommendations on planting date, variety selection, soil fertilization, irrigation and crop harvest all focus on speeding up crop maturation to avoid the most damaging and most resistant tobacco budworm populations — those that occur in late summer and early fall.

Extension entomologists are also working with producers on insecticide use, notes Allen. "Checking fields regularly and using insecticides only when damaging insect populations are known to be present has long been a recommended practice," he points out. "Choosing insecticides that are right for the job is becoming increasingly important." Predatory insects and spiders often can be preserved to help suppress damaging pest populations, adds the entomologist. Judicious use of insecticides when spraying is needed will inflict minimum damage to these beneficial insects and allow for economical crop production and minimal environmental disruption.

"Use of pyrethroids is not recommended for a 45-day period in mid-season," says Allen. "This strategy avoids exposing multiple generations of tobacco budworms to these chemicals, thereby avoiding increased levels of resistance present in their populations. When resistant populations of tobacco budworms are suspected, tank mixes of insecticides from various chemical classes provide the best control and effectively slow resistance development."

A method of monitoring adult moths of the tobacco budworm to determine levels of population resistance has been developed so as to warn farmers when resistant pests are present. "This test for tobacco budworm resistance is being used across the state not only for early warning of insecticide resistance, but also to learn more about how resistance develops in these populations."

Faster-growing cotton produced by new seed

A new hybrid cottonseed developed by a Davis, Calif., company could be a long-awaited breakthrough in providing a plant that grows faster and costs less to grow than ordinary cotton plants.

"Abundancia," "Shortcut," "White Lightning" and "Dawn" are the second-generation offspring of the hybrid Acala cotton.

The plants mature as early as four months, compared with six to nine months for traditional cotton plants. This makes it possible for farmers to harvest cotton in areas such as Kansas and Northern California, where the summer is too short for ordinary cotton.

The new cottonseeds cost about $3 a pound. While seed currently in use cost only about 60 cents a pound, the hybrid's higher price is somewhat offset by savings on pesticides and irrigation.

COTTON PESTS

As cotton bolls continue to mature, the chances of economic damage by bollworms continue to decline. The fields which have cut out, and have fewer than 5 squares per row foot will not support developing populations of bollworms. On the other hand, we have fields in our area which have developed second growth. Worms present in these fields will likely spend a good deal of time feeding on squares and blooms, which do not stand a realistic chance of making cotton. These worms may also damage a few of those upper bolls which will be harvestable. However, due to the recent weather, harvestable boll size, and reduced damage capabilities of the bollworms themselves, it would be difficult at this time to justify a bollworm application.

In the fields I have looked at, aphids are at low enough numbers so as to pose no more threat to developing lint and opening bolls. You should keep a watch on your cotton; however, as the bolls are beginning to open to be sure that there will be no problems with sticky lint. From my observations, the aphids no longer pose any threat to us.

WHEAT

Some newly emerging wheat stands in our area did require a fall insecticide application for greenbug control. The most probable reason for this is that greenbugs were unexplainably late this year in colonizing grain sorghum fields. Consequently, the movement of winged greenbug forms were probably later than normal, and these greenbugs may have been attracted to emerging wheat.

It appears that greenbug movement from sorghum is now complete. The wheat and triticales I have checked in the Crosbyton, Ralls and Sandhill areas have been void of greenbug damage. Also, the recent rains may possibly have helped reduce remaining greenbug numbers.

RE-ENTRY OF SCREWORMS IN U.S. REPORTED

Two confirmed screwworm cases have been reported in the United States this year. The first case was identified in April in Denver, Colo., and this was the first confirmed case since 1982. The second re-entry case was identified in New Orleans, La.

Both cases involved dogs which had been taken out of the country. The Denver case involved a hunting dog which has been transported back from Venezuela, through New Mexico and Colorado. The New Orleans case involved a dog that accompanied an army officer on a trip to Honduras.

The screwworm eradication plant is still in operation at Mission, Texas. Immediate treatment of both areas was ordered upon confirmation of each case, and sterile screwworm flies were released in these areas.

There is no cause for alarm, and no other cases have been reported. However, Crosby-Floyd livestock producers, as well as pet owners should be on the lookout, since re-entry cases such as these two are possible despite all precautions. Household pets being returned to the US after visits to Central and South American countries are prime suspects. Veterinarians who serve at international airports are vital in maintaining vigilance at US borders. Any animal wound found to be maggot-infested should be reported at once to a veterinarian or your local county Extension office so that proper identification procedures may be followed.

'Rural Revitalization' conference theme

Rural revitalization of Texas will be the major thrust for discussions at the 42nd Annual Town and Country Church Conference at Texas A&M University, Oct. 5-6.

Clergy and church lay leaders from across Texas will participate in the educational conference conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. Also assisting will be Texas A&M's departments of agricultural economics and rural sociology.

Dr. Dave Ruesink, Extension sociologist and conference chairman, says the conference will focus on helping communities that have been experiencing economic difficulties.

"Many Texas communities have been hard hit by the downturn in the oil and agricultural industries, and often the church can play a key role in helping such communities through difficult times," Ruesink says.

The conference, Ruesink says, is designed to provide information to help clergy and church lay leaders be more effective in dealing with community concerns.

"Revitalization of rural communities is one of 12 key issues that were identified by a broad sector of Texas Citizens last year, and those issues are currently being addressed by the Extension Service," notes Ruesink.

AFTERNOON

EARL N. BLAIR is pastor of the First United Methodist Church. He is married, has two children and one grandchild. The Rev. Blair received his B.S. degree from North Texas State University and Master of Theology from Perkins School of Theology, SMU. He has served churches in Dallas, Silverton and Amarillo.

Snuffy Smith, The Parson and Gambling

Earl Blair

In an old Snuffy Smith cartoon, Snuffy was lying up against an old tree stump when the Parson came by and said, "How about a game of checkers, Snuffy?" Snuffy answered, "I got me this rule, Parson - I never play for funnies!"

The Parson said, "Forget Funnies!! Let's play for high stakes," and now Snuffy is excited: "MAW!! Fetch my checkerboard - QUICK!!"

The board is ready and they set up the checkers. Snuffy says, "Parson - What are we playin' for?" The Parson says, "If I win - you come to church Sunday."

Snuffy asks (with pride) "What if I win?" and the Parson answers, "Then I promise not to point my finger at you while I'm preachin'."

Snuffy ponders that for a moment then cries, "PARSON - YOU GOT YOURSELF A BET!!"

The Parson says, to himself and to us, "I missed my callin'."

Gambling is like that: the game is rigged from the beginning. It depends on two things: (A) that you lose. (B) that you think you've won.

I've heard the statement "Everybody wants state sponsored gambling." Is this true? Seemingly not! Voters in Galveston County had an opportunity to vote casino gambling into their county. One citizen was quoted as saying, "Listen, this town doesn't want casino gambling whether you're talking about hard economic times, hurricanes, or anything else." The vote against gambling carried by a 60-40 margin!

Let us realize that many of those advancing the legislation of gambling have a vested interest and are speaking for themselves and not for the good of the general public. Not everyone in Texas wants state sponsored gambling. Galveston County proved that by a 60-40 margin!

Scripture, Church tradition, human reason and personal experience all teach that gambling is not good for society. It is my hope and prayer that on November 3rd Texans will vote NO on pari-mutual gambling on dog and horse racing in this state.

OBITUARIES

Elsewhere

JOE BROWNING

Joe Browning, a former longtime Floydada resident, was claimed by death Thursday, Sept. 17, in his Mountain View, Calif., home. He was 77.

No services were conducted.

Mr. Browning, a Runnels County native, came to this county with his family about 1912 and moved away in the 1940s. He was a brother of the late Reba Henry of Floydada.

He was retired from Pacific Power and Light.

Survivors include two sons, Robert Browning of California and Bill Browning of Corpus Christi, along with nieces and nephews.

The family suggests that memorials be to the Alzheimer's Foundation. His late wife was a victim of alzheimer's.

SAM BYRD

Funeral rites for Sam G. Byrd, 83, of Post, were at 2 p.m. Wednesday in Post Church of Christ. Burial was in Terrace Cemetery.

Mr. Byrd was the father of Ed Byrd, who is employed at the Floydada Post Office.

He was claimed by death at 9:19 a.m. Monday in Lubbock's Methodist Hospital after an illness.

A Post resident since 1952, Mr. Byrd worked in the Postex Cotton Mill until his retirement in 1966. He was a Church of Christ minister for 44 years, serving several area churches.

Survivors include his wife, Anna Lucille; six daughters; four sons; a brother; four sisters; 31 grandchildren; and 16 great-grandchildren.

CLIFFORD CURRY

Masonic graveside services for Clifford Claude Curry, 81, of Tuleta were at 2 p.m. Saturday in Olton Cemetery. The Rev. Glendell Smith, pastor of First Baptist Church in Olton, officiated.

Mr. Curry was a brother of Alma Smith of Floydada.

He died Thursday afternoon in Hillcrest Baptist Medical Center in Waco after a lengthy illness.

The Denton County native moved to Olton in 1939. He married Addie Aaron on July 7, 1921, in Denton County. She preceded him in death in 1982.

Mr. Curry was a farmer prior to his retirement in 1963.

Survivors include two sons, Archie F. of Waco and Clifford L. of Bowling; three daughters, Marcella Wagner of Waco, Joanna Hall of Bedford and Alma Claudine Mayes of Canyon Lake; two sisters, Alma Smith of Floydada and Billie Monte of Hurst; 13 grandchildren; and 17 great-grandchildren.

Lake Report

Brent Lavender of Tuleta caught a 7½ pound channel catfish on Sunday at Lake Mackenzie, according to a spokesperson for Cactus Cove at the lake. Lavender used perch bait on a trotline for the catch. The trotline was in the cove on the north side of the lake.

Water temperature early this week was 73 degrees and water depth at the dam was 112 feet.

Three teams win Thursday games

Whirlwind JV takes on the Hale Center JV about 6:30 tonight (Thursday), after the freshmen squad has lined up against the Lockney JV in a 5 o'clock game on the Wester Field turf.

Meanwhile, the Breezers seventh grade squads are to travel to Lockney for a pair of games. Kickoff in the seventh grade match is scheduled for 5 p.m.

JV VICTORY

Jesse Suarez scored three touchdowns and Shane Orman had a line-man's dream come through by scoring another TD as the Whirlwind JV rolled to a 32-0 decision over Olton JV last Thursday at Wester Field.

Suarez returned the opening kickoff about 85 yards to send the Winds to a quick 6-0 lead.

He added two more TDs and Tim Julian took a pass off the arm of Grant Stovall for another touchdown to stake the Green and White to a 26-0 halftime edge. Adrian Pleasant ran in for two bonus points following Suarez's second TD.

Defensive tackle Orman covered a fumble in the end zone for the final six points.

This was the Whirlwind JV's initial victory of the '87 season.

DEFENSIVE BATTLE

Plainview Reds scored a touchdown and conversion in the first quarter against the Whirlwind freshmen team Thursday night for the only scoring of the game in an 8-0 win. The visitors made a long drive for the TD.

"Our kids held them the rest of the game," says Coach Mike Cocanougher, who noted that "They (Floydada) improved a lot from last week. We still need a lot of work, but our confidence is improving."

A highlight for the Winds was Nufu Morales' interception at the Floydada 10. He returned the interception about 60 yards.

Quarterback Brian Teeple suffered a broken thumb and will be unable to play for about four weeks.

Plainview Reds have 48 players in uniform.

EIGHTH GRADE BREEZERS DEFEAT OLTON 16 TO 12

The eighth grade Breezers traveled to Olton on Thursday, Sept. 17, and faced a tough Olton team. Floydada's lads returned home with a 16-12 win.

The Breezers opened the game by kicking to the Olton Ponies. Olton took the ball on their first possession and drove it down the field for a score. Their try for two came up short, leaving the score 6-0 with four minutes to play in the first quarter.

On the Breezers' first possession, they also drove it down the field for a touchdown. The TD came on a 12 yard run around the right side by Ruben Chavarria. Quarterback Billy Joe Villarreal hit David Johnston for the two-point conversion.

In the second quarter, the Ponies added another touchdown to their total. But their try for two came up short.

Floydada moved the ball down to the 2 yard line during the second quarter but came up short for the goalline on a fourth down play. The half ended with Olton leading 12-8.

Breezers took the kickoff opening the second half and drove the length of the field for the winning touchdown. The TD came on a 7 yard run around left end by Michael Cooper. Cooper also went around left end for the extra point.

Neither team was able to put any points on the board during the fourth quarter. Game ended with the Breezers on top 16 to 12.

"The defense came out the second half and shut down the Olton running game that had moved the ball on them the first half," according to Coach Tim James. "I was pleased with this and also our offense moved the ball well all night."

SEVENTH GRADE DEFEATS OLTON

Floydada's seventh grade played Olton on Sept. 17, winning the contest by a score of 28-6. The Breezer team executed its offense and defense well in the winning effort, according to Coach Rex Holcombe.

Breezers received the opening kickoff and drove the ball only to lose possession by a fumble. Olton turned the ball over on downs and the Breezers took advantage by scoring the first touchdown. The score was made by Michael Henderson and the extra pointed failed to cross the line.

The next score came in the second quarter on a broken play. Josh Thayer pitched the ball to Henderson, who fumbled, picked up the ball and ran about 12 yards for the score, making it 12-0 at halftime.

The Olton team returned the second half kickoff to post its only score of the contest. During the middle of the third quarter Jamie Davis made a 35 yard run for the score and the extra point was run in by Scott Chapman.

The final touchdown of the game was by Henderson on a 45 yard run from scrimmage.

Defensive standouts during the game, according to Coach Holcombe, were Tate Harris, Jeremy Foster, and Michael Gilliland. Offensive standouts were Josh Thayer and Wayne Wells.

Breezers play at Lockney Thursday (today) at 5 p.m.

"We appreciate the parents' support in our junior high football programs," Coach Holcombe says.

Lubbock policemen to offer programs

The Lubbock Police Department wants the area south plains communities to know that the police department is available for lectures in all areas of crime prevention.

In cooperation with the South Plains Association of Governments the officers will lecture for free to any of the 15 counties in the SPAG area. Schools, local clubs, businesses and groups are welcome to call the Lubbock Police Department Crime Prevention Unit for assistance, at 762-6411, ext. 2971.
