EVERY PART OF TERRITORY TO RECEIVE VISIT

FIRST JAUNT WILL BE ON SEPTEMBER 14, OTHERS LATER

Four good will booster trips throughout Lubbock's trade territory, the immediate purpose of which will be to advertise the Panhandle South Plains fair of the week of October 1, will be requested of the city by directors of the fair.

A resolution to this effect was passed at a meeting of the fair directors in the Chamber of Commerce offices. Tentative dates of the trips were set for September 14, 18, 21 and 25, making a complete coverage of all of the territory. It was pointed out at the meeting that in addition to advertising the fair the trips would give local merchants a chance to become acquainted throughout the trade territory.

Reports made to the directors yesterday by the fair managers showed that plans and preparations for the exposition were progressing nicely. It was reported that construction had begun on the new livestock building, and that all of the space in the industrial building had been taken with additional space needed.

Merchants here as well as throughout the whole South Plains are co-operating with the fair better this year than ever before, according to fair officials.

Discussion of the entertainment program of the fair was held by the directors of the fair yesterday although no definite action was taken.

BIG INCREASE IN MAIL HERE

POSTAL RECEIPTS SHOW SUMMER FAR FROM DULL SEASON

Considered a fair barometer of a city's business, postal receipts for August of the postoffice here show an increase of approximately $1,000 over the receipts for that month last year.

Usually the lightest months from the standpoint of business, the months this year have shown an unusual activity. August's total suffered a considerable decrease from that of July, but remained well above the average.

Postmaster John L. Vaughan predicted that the receipts for the year would total more than $100,000. Total of receipts last year was about $90,000.

Up to the present time the postal receipts here are about $60,000. Receipts for the first two quarters totalled approximately $45,000 and the months of this quarter total slightly less than $13,000.

Dallasite Slain By Man He Didn't Know

DALLAS, Sept. 6 (AP)—Murder charges were filed against James Leonard, painter, here today in connection with the death last night of Philo Eads, 51, cashier 110 city tax collector's office, who died four hours after being struck down on the street by a man he never saw before. Witnesses said Eads was walking along the sidewalk when he was accosted by a man who staggered. After a few words, they said, the stranger struck Eads in the left side of the face, knocking him down. One witness said that when Eads' head struck the pavement it sounded like a pistol shot. He never regained consciousness.

COWBOY CHOSEN

New Mexico Demos Select Robert Dow Nominee

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 6 (AP)—New Mexico's cow puncher attorney general, Robert C. Dow, who has slept many a night on the range with his saddle for a pillow, is the democratic nominee for governor of his home state.

In the face of a last minute attempted stampede for Col. D. K. D. Sellers, after earlier he had been conceded victory, Dow won the nomination last night with a majority of 94 votes at the party assembly.

Being attorney general of New Mexico has been the vocation of Dow, whose home is at Carlsbad, for the last two years and dogging steers in rodeos throughout the United States is his avocation. The "cowboy attorney general" is known wherever rodeos are held. A month or so ago he was in the Chicago rodeo and more recently at El Paso, riding a borrowed horse. He roped a steer and tied him in 23 seconds.

MAIL LINE WILL FOLLOW PLANE ROUTE, BELIEF

VAUGHAN SEES POSTAL SERVICE FOR CITY AS POSSIBILITY

Attempt to establish an air mail line through Lubbock probably will be made if the proposed air line out of Dallas which swings through Wichita Falls, Amarillo and Lubbock is established, it was said this morning by Postmaster John L. Vaughan.

He stated that this would be the logical next step in the air development of this section should such a line be established. "Reduction of the price of air mail stamps has no effect on that service here," Mr. Vaughan said, "Lubbock is far away from any air mail line for that type of service to be of any special interest here. Fort Worth and a point in Wyoming are the nearest air mail points from here."

Reduction of the price of air mail service became effective August 1. The price was decreased from ten cents for one-half ounce to five cents for one ounce, with a charge of ten cents for each additional ounce regardless of distance.

Wayward 'Bossie' Echoed In Court

KIWANIS CLUB MOVES TO AID BOYS OF CITY

JUVENILE COURT PLAN GIVEN IMPETUS BY DUPREE'S TALK

Plans for a juvenile court in Lubbock took added impetus at noon today when, at the conclusion of the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club, President Fred W. Standefer appointed District Judge Clark M. Mullican and Kennedy N. Clapp as members of the organization's committee to work toward the court plan. The appointment of the committee came as the climax to an address concerning the delinquent boy problem by George Dupree, Rotarian and lawyer.

A committee from the Rotary club and one from the Chamber of Commerce will likely be appointed in the near future to work on the juvenile court plan and from the three committees it is probable that a central committee will be formed. Judge Mullican and Messrs. Clapp and Dupree, the men behind the proposition, believe that a juvenile court will aid in ridding the community of organized gangs of young pillagers and at the same time will be a vital force in making good citizens out of wayward youths.

Urges Personal Work Mr. Dupree's address was similar to the one he delivered before the Kiwanis club last week and called upon the Kiwanians to give their personal attention to boys work. He urged that the committee be organized as soon as possible.

Many game fish jump out of the water and nab the insects as they fly near the surface.

PROPOSE WIDE EXTENSION IN OIL CURB PLAN

OKLAHOMA LIMITATION TO PRODUCTION MAY EMBRACE STATE

(By Associated Press) TULSA, Okla., Sept. 6.—The Oklahoma Corporation Commission was faced, at a meeting scheduled for today, with a proposal to extend to the entire state oil conservation policies already applied to the Seminole Pool.

The meeting was called to act on a petition filed late in August by the conservation committee of the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association and the advisory and operator's daily oil production.

The plan would not greatly affect the Little River area, restrictive program already in effect there. However, Ray M. Collins, umpire of the Seminole Pool, was reported to have agreed, after a conference with the Seminole advisory committee and officers of the Reiter Foster corporation, to seek minor changes in the Little River regulations.

The Reiter Foster company sought and was denied a permanent injunction, in the United States district court at Oklahoma City, against enforcement of an order of the corporation commission curbing production in this area.

FOUR HELD IN CORPUS DEATH

MAN WAS KILLED AS HE LAY ON BED AT HOSPITAL

CORPUS CHRISTI, Sept. 6.—Four persons were in Nueces County jail today charged with murder in the death of E. C. Young, Beeville filling station proprietor, who was shot to death last night as he lay helpless in bed at Epohn sanitarium here recovering from an appendicitis operation.

Those charged were Robert Lothinger and R. G. Whittington, Beeville barbers, and Mrs. Amale Lothinger and Mrs. Hortense Whittington, wives of the two men. None of the quartet would make a statement.

Bond for the four was refused by the sheriff's department. No date yet has been set for examining trials.

MACKS HOPE TO REACH TOP IN SERIES ON YANKEE HOME GROUND YANKS DIVIDE BUT MAINTAIN TWO TLT LEAD

JONES, GOTHAM CAST-OFF, TURNS BACK FORMER MATES BY WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN (Associated Press Sports Writer) The Athletics stand in need of big games, even though the Yanks did what they could to help by dividing a pair with the Senators at Ruppert Stadium yesterday. If the champions win two of their remaining three with Washington, the Mackmen can not bring the stadium on Sunday in first place even by sweeping five at Boston. Such a turn would send the contenders into the big series in a virtual tie, with the Yankees holding a percentage advantage.

And A Pack Of Gum

Eddie Mack, a Boston promoter, made boxing pay this summer by selling general admission tickets at the rate of a penny a round—30 rounds, 50 cents. Of course the ring-side seats cost more, but the 50 cent fellows kicked in enough to make the season a success. As a whole, the season every place was flop. The Maloney-De Mave match drew 18,000 paid admissions; the Schiff-Hays match, 20,000; the Maloney-Lemay match, 21,000, and the Maloney-Puesche match, 21,000.

SCHEDULES OF MANY SQUADS ARE ARRANGED

FIFTEEN COUNTIES OF DISTRICT PLAN FOR COMING SEASON C. R. Owens, Crosbyton, was made chairman of the district 2, class B, executive committee of the Athletic association which met in connection with the South Plains institute yesterday at the Tech to arrange schedules for the coming football season. Other members of the committee are V. Z. Rogers, Lamesa; C. E. Jackson, Paducah; B. M. Harrison, Littlefield; and W. E. Peaty, Floydada. C. L. Stone of Slaton is the retiring chairman, who has served for the past two years in this capacity.

Representatives from 15 counties included in the district held a lengthy discussion of the scholastic rules under which the teams are to play this year. Strict adherence to the rules as laid down by the Inter-scholastic league was voted by a majority count. A number of resolutions were brought forward by various coaches of several class B representatives. It was impossible to complete the schedules. The majority of the coaches, however, have most of their playing dates filled. Other schools present were: Troy H. Jones, Floydada; L. F. Swinney, Idaho; C. M. Hopper, Paducah; Finis Vaughn, Crosbyton; Marlin Hayhurst, Brownfield; J. R. Dennison, O'Donnell; Alma Pace, Slaton; R. M. Clark and J. C. Williams, Spur; J. T. Carter, Otton; E. M. HURLERS PLAY DECIDING PART IN TEXAS LOOP

STEERS DEFEAT SPUDS AND BUFFS TROUCE SPORTS, 6 TO 4 (By Associated Press) A scoreless, heated suddenly, beat one Texas League team yesterday while another—an ordinary left arm presumably in fair trim—let down the team behind it to defeat Young Victor Frazier, whose valuable member had been in bad condition, 'got well' and passed out to the first place Wichita Falls Spudgers only five hits, Dallas winning, 3 to 1. It was the second time in two days that the Steers had braked the rushing Spud offense.

Fettie, one of the Beaumont, left-handed men, was extremely erratic, erring four times and making two wild pitches. The errors and the poorly aimed throws, having been counted up, the Houston Buffs thereupon decided to take six runs, to the Exporters' four. For an unfortunate slip of sweating fingers gripping a battered ball, Shreveport paid the price of a game Fort Worth winning, 4 to 3, when Sport Tivy Owens, three wild to first and let in three runs. Waco and San Antonio sat in the shade, not having had schedules.

among GRID LEADERS

BY NEA Service NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 6.—Coaching the Vanderbilt football squad for his twenty-fifth season this fall, Dan McGugin, finds himself the choice of many experts to have the outstanding football eleven of the year in Dixieland.

Armistead McGugin is a product of Michigan and Fielding H. Yost, his brother-in-law. He played on teams with Willie Heston, Nell Snow and other Ann Arbor immortals. He is a lawyer now in Nashville. The Vanderbilt coach is recognized as one of the most inspirational coaches in the country. They say a team must be at least 25 per cent stronger than Vandy to beat McGugin's team when he is on the sidelines. McGugin led the first team out of the south in 1906 to hold Yale to a scoreless tie. In all, his teams have played 47 intercollegiate games and have won 25 of them.

Bald-headed Jimmy Armistead will captain the Commodores this fall. He is 24 years old and a product of Hume-Fogg prep school. Armistead invaded touchdown territory last fall more than any other football player in the country, scoring 138 points during the season. He totaled 11 touchdowns against conference opponents. He is one of the best punting backs in the south and a very snappy grabber of forward passes. He's very fast. Both Coach McGugin and Captain Armistead look for a great season, despite the loss of Spears and Sharpe, stars of 1927.

MAJOR POLITICAL PARTIES ASSAILED BY LABOR PARTY

(By Associated Press) NEW YORK, Sept. 5 (AP)—Norman Thomas, socialist candidate for president, charged tonight before a conference of trade union officers and leaders of labor, through a non-partisan political program, had 'sold its birthright'. 'So sure are Smith and Hoover that labor will not function effectively they do not even take the trouble to make a real clean-cut appeal on injunctions, the five day week, social insurance or any fundamental issue,' he said. 'They content themselves with pleasant generalities.' Turning to Smith, Thomas said the democratic nominee's 'first act was to make Radish, the open shopper, his national chairman and to seek the support of Wall street.' In closing, he said, 'Smith labor votes will cancel Hoover labor votes and big business which owns both old parties will win.' China has four times as many people as the United States.

NEW YORK TRADING

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (AP)—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 5 to 12 points on moderately active demand promoted by unfavorable weather reports and relatively steady Liverpool cables. October sold up to 18.13 and March to 18.86, but these prices attracted a little more hedge selling from the South as well as realizing, and most of the advance was lost. Another private crop report placed the condition at 60.5 and gave figures on the indicated yield ranging from 14,500,000 to 15,400,000 bales, but without much effect on the market. Prospects for more settled weather in the Eastern Belt prompted realizing and prices worked off about to yesterday's closing quotations, with December selling down to 18.73. Selling was not active, however, and prices recovered part of their losses. The midday market was quiet and steady at net advances of about 2 to 5 points.

NEW ORLEANS TRADING

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 6 (AP)—The cotton market opened irregular, October showing a loss of three points and later months an advance of 6 points above yesterday's close. After the start, the market rallied a little on a higher opening in New York, and October rose to 18.39 and December to 18.48, 9 to 11 points above yesterday's close. Later the market was somewhat nervous owing to fear of what the government crop report will show Saturday and prices eased off 5 to 8 points from the early highs near the end of the first hour.

ANNUAL BATTLEFIELD OF NOMINEE SHAPES UP FOR BIG FIGHT

By BYRON PRICE (Associated Press Staff Writer)
SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 6 (AP)—In all of his battles for the political mastery of his own state, Governor Smith has met his greatest opposition outside the boundaries of his native New York city, in the hundreds and more counties known collectively to politics as "up-state New York." It is so in 1928. Throughout this northern country the republicans are organizing once against with an impressive determination to overthrow by up-state strength the heavy majorities Smith always has commanded in the down-state metropolises. A great deal of water has yet to go under the bridge in this campaign, and it is safe only to predict that neither side will leave undone anything it can find to do toward capture of the empire state prize of 45 electoral votes—more than one-sixth of the total number needed to elect a president. In its early stages the campaign is turning on old familiar ground. The drys are active. Talk of possible hard times for business under a democratic regime at Washington goes about among the Hoover men as they seek to alienate from Smith, the presidential candidate, as many as possible of those who have supported Smith, the candidate for governor. There also is the old complaint of domination of the state's political machinery by down-state leaders in the confidence of Tammany hall. On the basis of past returns, any prediction would be impossible. Not since the Cleveland era has New York voted for a democrat for president, save only when Taft and Roosevelt disagreed in 1912. Most of the recent republican majorities have been overwhelming. So far as up-state New York alone is concerned, the question is not whether the supporters of Hoover have a normal advantage, but whether they can so use that advantage as to outbalance Smith's strength in his great stronghold down-state. Almost all of the up-state counties are normally republican, both in state and national politics. A great majority of them are normally dry. In all of the country sections and among up-state city populations as well as the republican tariff and anti-Tammany pleas have been used effectively at times in previous campaigns. These are some of the things by which the republicans hope to profit this year. A New York newspaper prints the headline, "Divorce Suit Shakes Oida Gray's Past." Oida has a shaky past at that.

Continuing the gradual downward trend that has characterized the market recently, wheat started unchanged to 3-8c below yesterday's finish. Oats and provisions were steady.

Burglars Can't Even Sleep In Peace

CHICAGO, Sept. 6 (AP)—The theme song to be played, strummed or yodelled as musical setting for the accompaniment in news item is: "Please go 'way and let me sleep." Three men had set about the burglary of the Electric Manufacturing company. They carried out box after box of heavy merchandise to their car. It was hard work. Soon they began complaining in loud tones. It got so bad that the neighbors couldn't sleep. Police were called. They found the three in their automobile slumbering. Only the snap of handcuffs about their wrists awakened Jesse Hale, George Davis and Will Gaines.

Thought For Today

Be ye angry, and sin not; let not the sun go down upon your wrath.—Eph. 4:26.

Anger is the most impotent passion that accompanies the mind of man; it effects nothing, it goes about, and hurts the man who is possessed by it more than any other against whom it is directed.—Clarenden.

Tribute To Caesar

Julius Caesar has been dead and gone for 1900 years, but the world still pays tribute to him, according to the National Committee on Calendar Simplification.

The committee, composed of many prominent men in different walks of life, and headed by George Eastman, the Rochester camera manufacturer, points out that while Caesar was a good general and politician he was a terrible calendar maker.

Julius Caesar, in B. C., constructed the calendar we're using now.

Caesar took the Egyptian calendar, composed of 12 months of 30 days each, with five festival holidays at the end of the year, and mixed those five extra days into the months so they would run odd and even in length, because it was "lucky" to have odd numbers.

He had one of these lucky months, month, July, his birth month, named after him.

In B. C., the committee finds, Augustus Caesar named his birth month after himself, and in order to have the lucky 21 days in it, stole a day from February and tacked it onto his month, August.

Subsequently, to satisfy landlords who complained that this made too many days in the third quarter of the year, he switched September 31 to October 31 and to keep the odd and even sequence changed Nov. 31 to Dec. 31.

The committee asserts that the complex economic structure that modern progress has raised, in which accounting, statistics and complicated contracts are vital, is a 2000-year-old unworkable mess.

It is proposed to change the calendar to have 12 months of 30 days each, with the 365th day separated as a holiday and known as "Year Day" and observed as an extra Sabbath.

"Year Day" would be transferred to June 29 and also be observed as a holiday. The months then, it is pointed out, would be steady and dependable.

The committee will embody its conclusions in a report to the secretary of state in connection with an international conference it is proposed to call to decide the calendar question. The inquiry seems to have many good points.

Forests

An outstanding example of the value of conservation is shown today in the national forests of the United States. And but for the act of 1891, granting the president the right to set aside such forests, the threatened exhaustion of our lumber supply would be almost at hand.

There are now more than 300,000 square miles of national forests providing watershed protection, timber and game. The various states have added to their own forest holdings until today more than 10,000,000 acres are so administered.

In addition to protecting the trees from fire and depredation, the United States Forest Service now supervises grazing and lumbering privileges, conducts experiments, plants and re-operations in protective methods and eliminates of wasteful methods and eliminates of wasteful methods.

The forests have taught us a wonderful lesson in conservation.

America is a country where little children are in great danger of growing up in the belief that Justice has that benches around her eyes because she's about to choose her favorite brand of cigars.

Millions used to be able to see only the ends, and hands and feet. No wonder they're being gotten so lousy this year.

THE PLAINSMAN

Says:

OLTON, Sept. 6.—Frankly, The Plainsman expects to beat this dissertation home but you can't never tell what will happen in this modern age of ours. For the benefit of those who have noted the deterioration in the Avalanche and Journal since this writer has been out of the city will say, never fear, The Plainsman is coming back—in fact will probably be already back by the time this gets to the expectant reader. Information about coming back is really for the benefit of bill collectors.

Had a card from the vacationing Girl on Broadway yesterday. She reports a terrible calamity. It seems that she put on her new bathing suit and while posing for a picture on the diving board, fell into the water. She fears that she has broken all precedents set by other feminine bathing beauties by actually getting wet. That man on Avenue Q is with her but don't tell his wife. He says the fishing is good but he can't say so much for the catchin'.

But to get back to this particular section, The Plainsman can't help but remember a news story he saw just before leaving Lubbock. Somebody suggests that prison farms should be on the Plains, because, then, if a prisoner did escape, you could see him for miles.

The author of that statement must certainly have gotten his inspiration from the particular part of the Plains, one low bank of sand hills excluded. Folks there ain't nothing between here and Los Angeles but ozone and the naked eye is a flat failure when it comes to seeing to the horizon.

And that's a fine thing. Stop to consider what it means. It means that this section, level as a pool table, is remarkably adapted to farming and with the possible exception of Hockley county, doesn't have to bow to anyone when it comes to farm land. The soil up here is somewhat tighter than that of the lower plains region and the folks here say that sand storms mean no more to them than that such an event were unheard of in West Texas. Once in a while the dirt blows, just like it does in Illinois and other seaport places, but a sand storm in the Olton territory carries a little threat as far as the house wives are concerned. (East Texas newspapers please copy.)

By the way, Texas Tech could do some good missionary work here. There will be three or four students from here attending Tech this year but the majority of the youngsters from this section go to West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon.

Of course, The Plainsman would hate to be placed in the position of trying to entice any student to come to Lubbock but it appears that something should be done to make the youngsters and their parents in this section realize that the curriculum at Texas Tech is not only as strong as that of West Texas State Teachers college but, in reality, is more encompassing.

It may be that there are other sections of the Plains country where Tech is not getting as many students as it should. If such is the case, The Plainsman is in favor of wising the folks up. Doctor Horn can always use more customers at his institution and we're really not doing right by our town and our neighbors if we don't tell the world what Texas Tech offers.

Lamb county is always represented with an exhibit in the Panhandle-South Plains fair and judging from crop conditions the people here will have plenty to show when the exposition opens its gates. This year has been a little bad for watermelons and cantaloupes, due to excessive moisture, but the corn, cotton and feed is something to feast the eye upon. The fellow who says corn won't do in this country doesn't know his onions and from the looks of the row crops Old Man Pessimism is going to have a tough time getting an audience around here this fall and winter. Al Smith and Herbert Hoover could close up the microphone on farm relief if the whole country was like this up here. They could fight their battles on prohibition and world peace and forget all about the man with the tractor because he'd be in clover. They tell tales up here about the rapidly in which men paid for their farms that are good for the Smithsonian institute and the best part about it is they seem to be true.

There is no bank here yet but the citizens are ready for one. Most of the money is kept in Plainview, which is fine for Plainview but not so fine for Olton. Amberst has a bank. Littlefield has one and used to have two, so there is little doubt that a good bank would pay here. The Plainsman doesn't know anything about banking, aside from the fact that there is such a thing as an overdraft, but even so it doesn't take an engineer to discern a railroad track.

This is a great country up here—

New Helium Field At Amarillo Shifts Scene Of Federal Operations Along This Line, Rodney Dutcher Discovers

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—The American helium center remains in Texas, but it has been removed from Fort Worth to Amarillo.

The government's new helium production plant is now being constructed just outside Amarillo and will soon be completed. The plant site covers more than 100 acres.

Here the helium will be separated from the natural helium-bearing gas piped down from the Amarillo company in a pipe line now being constructed, to be used in the lighter than air ships of the Army and Navy all of which are now lifted by helium.

Helium, it may be well to recall, is one of those rare inert gases which do not burn. It has no affinity with anything else and though some chemists believe they have made it combine with other things—such as platinum and bismuth—government scientists will not be convinced until after further investigation.

Helium has only 22 per cent of the lifting power of hydrogen, but the government long ago decided that this sacrifice in lifting power was a general rush to see the picture. In other words, the public doesn't appear so anxious to have the bad picture banned as it does to have them branded—so that no time may be wasted in finding them, one would judge.

Will Rogers made a strong bid for the Durant prize the other day—the prize was offered, you remember, for the best suggestion on the subject of prohibition enforcement. Rogers offered as his suggestion this: Pass a law compelling every American to take a drink every day. Then, because they were made to drink, they would refuse point-blank to do so. And the enforcement problem would be solved.

Psychologically it isn't a bad suggestion. We are all more or less like the small boy who is told that he must not play with matches or put beans in his ears; he makes a superhuman endeavor to play with matches and put beans in his ears. Why, no one knows. Merely because he has been told that he must not, perhaps.

Tell a large group of people that a picture isn't fit to be seen, and they will make any sacrifice to see it. Sometimes it becomes evident that the best way to make a bad picture popular is to keep it off the screen. "Thou must not" constitutes a standing invitation to most people.—Corpus Christi Caller.

It would seem from reading the above that the Caller has concluded that people are prone to try to do the things that they are forbidden not to do. We hardly think this is true to such an extent, but it would seem that curiosity goes a long way with some folks, and the mere fact that there is something to a proposition that some say the other fellow possibly should not know, there is a desire to see that thing.

Curiosity is said to have caused the death of the cat, and it will also be damning of many people's souls. They will do a great many things that they should not do and would not do only through curiosity.

We do not see why it is, but we have noticed that hundreds of people will sit all day in a stuffy court house to hear a case where there is a lot of murder and scandal in it, who would not listen to a real lecture, or a sermon or a civil suit 15 minutes.

In New York By Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—In a single morning's session, the conflicting customs of the world march past a judge who holds the bench of an east side court.

It is not a simple task. It is not even a task to which one can apply such wisdom as was presumed to be Solomon's. It is a liberal education in the other fellow's point-of-view. And it involves the necessity of trying to adjust this acquired attitude of mind to the American sinner. What may have been a tradition in Odesa becomes a crime on First Avenue and what may have been a time-honored code of south Italy becomes a penitentiary offense when practiced on East Tenth Street. Here is a great study in the laws of good and evil, a master's degree in sociology's social patterns and a sermon on why mankind needs to be tolerant.

The problems of the Jewish quarter are not the problems of the Irish, the Russian, the Italian or the Bohemian sections.

If you're interested, come with me for a moment to such a courtroom: Here stands an embittered daughter of Israel, her full red lips quivering, her great black eyes flashing despair, her wealth of black hair half tumbling as she hides her face in sensitive hands. She is flanked one side by a stout and indignant mother and on the other by half a dozen male relatives.

Tired looking old men who wear their skull caps into court and sit twisting their ringleted whiskers. It seems that somehow, she had saved a thousand dollars. Or someone had died and left her this amount. It seems she had reached the age when, according to the oldest tribal customs, girls of her age and race should be married. It seems that she had absorbed the lessons as a wage earner in the cloak-and-suit business. It seems that the family went to a "schadachen," or marriage broker—oh, yes, they still have marriage fixers, for the daughters of the east side. It seems that the "schadachen" told of a "good marriage," produced a man, was given assurance that the girl could produce a fat dowry of $1000—oh yes, there are still spots in America where the man demands a dowry of his bride-to-be. It seems that the girl's money was turned over by way of dowry, that she refused to marry the man and the man, being a bit Americanized, jumped out with the money.

Tragedy crashed upon the house. The money gone, the daughter turned against her kin, and still unmarried. Across the room sat the squat, sleek, greasy man to whom her hand had been given. He had been arrested for stealing her money. But the great problem was not the money or the marriage but the daughter produced the melting pot. What of her? That was the judge's problem. How to bring an understanding between children and old-world parents?

In another seat was a girl of 16—a Sicilian. Here was an old story of the crowded tenements. Scores of families to a few rooms. Daughters and sons, fathers and mothers, wives and husbands mingling in the sardine-like proximity of the herded houses.

And in this scramble and chaos of lives the girl had been "wronged." She was to have a child. The man could not be forced into a marriage since he already was married. And so she told the story of her Sicilian code—either her father or she herself must kill the man. So she had waited for him one night and shot. She had escaped, gone home and now she had surrendered.

And what was the judge to do? She had acted merely in accordance with her social code? GILBERT SWAN. (Copyright, 1928, NEA Service, Inc.)

NORTH DAKOTA DIVIDED OVER HOOVER STAND

'REGULARS' ENDORSE NOMINEE BUT OTHER GROUP MAY BOLT

(By Associated Press) BISMARCK, N. D., Sept. 6.—North Dakota republicans today had split over the question of supporting Herbert Hoover for president.

The non-partisan league faction of the party was on record as refusing to endorse Hoover's candidacy, while the independent republicans are backing him.

The action came yesterday at a meeting, called to organize the republican state central committee. The independents offered a resolution endorsing Mr. Hoover and his stand on agriculture. This was defeated by a vote of 19 to 9.

The independents of "regular republicans" organized separately and decided to carry on a vigorous campaign for the national ticket.

Called "Tool of Business" The non-partisans in their resolutions criticized Mr. Hoover as a "tool of big business" and asserted that the republican party had strayed from its original course. The resolutions made it clear that the action was intended to show a lack of faith in the republican party and its candidates rather than an endorsement of Gov. Alfred E. Smith. Among the non-partisans who backed the original Hoover resolution, were Fred F. Graham, republican national committeeman, and Stephen Terhorst, who is manager of the Hoover-Curtis clubs in North Dakota.

Both Graham and Terhorst urged that the party should remain "regular" in this campaign and back Hoover. They later joined the independents' meeting.

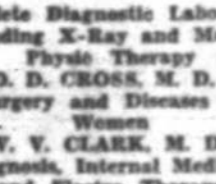

The independents' committee also disregarded the stand taken by United States Senators Lynn J. Frazier and Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota, who have issued statements announcing support for Mr. Hoover. Both Mr. Nye and Mr. Frazier were elected with non-partisan league endorsements.

HOOVER PLANS FOR ONE TALK IN TENNESSEE

IS MUCH INTERESTED IN POSSIBILITY OF SPLIT IN SOLID SOUTH

BY JAMES L. WEST (Associated Press Staff Writer) WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Herbert Hoover's New York address on October 17 will be the fourth and last he will make in the East and South. Soon afterward he will begin his final campaign drive with a swing across the continent that will take him to his California home to vote on November 6.

His invasion of the democratic south will be made early in October, with a speech at Elizabethtown, Tennessee, on the sixth of that month at an industrial celebration. Either immediately before or after this trip he will go to Boston to speak in the state where the republicans are centering a great deal of effort.

While the republican presidential nominee has decided upon the theme of only his Newark, N. J., talk on September 17, it is expected that in none of the four will he discuss prohibition, a subject which some had anticipated he would elaborate upon in the southland.

Interested in "Solid South" Hoover is represented as feeling that his own position in favor of the eighteenth amendment and enforcement of the dry laws is well known; that the issue was definitely drawn with announcement of his democratic opponent for amendment of the prohibition section of the constitution and that the people would prefer an elucidation of his views on other issues of the campaign.

Improved Business Methods Farm Need

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Sept. 6.—Improved business methods applied by the farmers themselves are needed by the agricultural industry, William M. Jardine, secretary of agriculture, believes.

"There is no farm problem in the generally accepted sense and there is no farm revolt on now," the secretary said in an interview last night. "The whole thing sums up to a need of better business methods in marketing agricultural products."

Reviewing the history of the school and picturing its accomplishments, Dr. Brooks made an appeal for support of those attending the meeting of the Lubbock Baptist association here.

Dr. Brooks outlined the plan for permanently endorsing Baylor. He was introduced by the Rev. Mr. Fisher.

'BUTCHER BOY' TRYST IS TOLD

SIGNED STATEMENT OF ACCUSED MAN READ BEFORE COURT

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 5.—The signed statement of Leo P. Kelley, detailing events of his all-day tryst with Mrs. Myrtle Mellus, his society matron sweetheart, on the day of her death, was entered in his trial for her murder as one of final maneuvers with which the state closed its case today. The statement, in which the accused butcher boy admitted: "I did things I don't remember, and raised Cain when I got drunk," was one made to a deputy district attorney soon after Kelley's arrest August 5. Eagon read to the jury most of the 78 page statement, in which Kelley quoted as saying he and Mrs. Mellus had about nine drinks apiece, on the tragic August Sunday. In it Kelley confessed he "must have hit her lip but denied remembering anything about inflicting the more than 100 bruises found on her body. The state dealt at large with his illicit relations with the slain wife of Frank Mellus, wealthy sportsman, but left unanswered many questions as to the explanation of much of his clothing being found in the same room as the woman's body and of bruises and scratches on himself. Defense counsel announced today it would place Frank Mellus upon the stand as its first witness to show that his wife was an "habitual drunkard." Besides the wealthy sportsman, the defense said it would call Mrs. Mae Switzer, close friend of Mrs. Mellus, to testify that sincere love existed between the butcher boy and wealthy matron.

SPEAKING PLAN OF SMITH STILL IS INDEFINITE

NOMINEE RELIES MORE ON TELEPHONE AND CORRESPONDENCE

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER (Associated Press Staff Writer) ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 6.—As the time draws near for public announcement of his speaking intentions in the presidential campaign, Governor Smith continues to maintain an almost complete silence as to national party affairs while he goes about minding New York state's business at the capitol. He is not even holding any important conferences such as usually mark the pre-stumping periods of presidential candidates, and to all outward appearances, from a national standpoint he is just watchfully waiting the hour of his departure for the first real speech-making trip of his campaign. Now and then the democratic nominee receives a caller who has a report on prospects on democratic success in such and such a state or district, but he is depending almost exclusively on mails and the telephone for confidential information on the progress of the party organization. Visitors continue to flock daily in and out of the reception room at the capitol next to the governor's private offices, but almost without exception, they are sightseers. Telephone is Malmsky That the telephone is one of the chief dependencies of the nominee at this time as a purveyor of political reports was evidenced during a press conference. A score of newspapermen had barely seated themselves and taken standing positions along the walls of the executive office when the telephone buzzed. Seizing the nature of the call, the nominee shouted to his secretary, George B. Graves, in the next room: "Have it put in the booth, George" and he was gone for several minutes. Another step looking toward the completion of pending state business and the clearing up of affairs for his successor in the governor's chair was taken by the nominee today when he called a meeting of the state buildings and sites commission. This commission is charged with the duty of drawing up plans and obtaining ground for office structures over the state.
