

Oklahoma Woman Admits Slaying Of Restaurant Partner

HENRYETTA, OKLA.—(AP)—Police said Saturday a 50-year-old divorcee told them she fired the bullet which killed her restaurant partner, D. C. Callcutt.

Sheriff Jim Kirby said Mrs. Ann Willard telephoned him and told him the story.

She shot Callcutt after he appeared before her only partially dressed Friday afternoon.

The woman, divorced about a year, said the 50-year-old victim told her he would kill her unless she married him.

Then she grabbed his gun, wresting it away. She fired at him twice. A slug struck Callcutt in the left temple and came out behind the right ear.

The woman said she stuffed the body in a closet and went to work. Mrs. Willard is being held for the Omelette County grand jury, now in session.

She is the mother of three grown sons.

April Withdraws With Few Threats Of Boom Or Bust

WASHINGTON—(AP)—April, supposedly the signpost month for 1949 business, made an orderly withdrawal Saturday with no dire threat of another inflationary whirl or an impending bust.

A top Washington economist sized it up this way:

"Maybe, after all, we can decelerate the postwar boom without falling on our face. It should be a pretty good year."

Approximately such a picture, it was understood, will be presented this week when the President's Council of Economic Advisors takes its monthly report.

The government's action added up in April to a concerted effort to fight deflation and bolster public buying power in one of the few ways available—loosening up on credit.

Except for a steady in farm and food products, the price drift was gently down. Industrial production probably dipped a little further after four previous consecutive months of decline.

Crack New Shanghai Police Ready for Action

Three members of Shanghai's crack police constabulary hold up their tommy guns for inspection. Outfitted with the best equipment and arms, the policemen were organized about a year ago and are prepared to deal with any emergency. With Communist armies advancing on the city, they may be pressed into action for defense or prevent the widespread looting and anarchy that befell Nanking.

ballot," he told Proctor. "On the second ballot seven men wanted a 99-year sentence and the others wanted sentences ranging anywhere from five to 99 years. But we got together on the third vote."

And another jurymen, L. R. Walker, said: "We arrived at 50 years because we figured he would have to serve at least 20 years for it. For more than an hour, some of us favored a 99-year sentence."

Sordid Sex Theme

This ended a sensational trial colored with a sordid theme of homosexuality.

The personable 18-year-old defendant, a product of slum raising and orphanages, had testified Lord was a sex pervert. But the jury heard no corroboration of this testimony.

Hester was arrested in Los Angeles March 12, two days after Lord's battered, blood-stained body was found in a bedroom of his farm home.

The state alleged Dr. Lord had sent Hester away from the farm and had told him to stay away. It accused him of returning from Port Worth the morning of March 8 with the aim of ambushing and robbing his guardian.

Hester said he struck Lord with a metal rod in hot anger because the elderly dean refused him the use of his car. But the state pictured Hester, hiding in the bedroom closet, waiting for Lord to return and attacking his benefactor from behind. And it accused him of robbing his victim of his car, wedding ring and money.

Death Penalty Asked

Prosecution urged the death penalty.

Special Prosecutor Fred Erisman of Longview, a former student assistant of Lord's, said in his arguments:

"The facts clearly warrant the death penalty in this case. The defense has asked you to turn this defendant loose. Turn him loose for what, gentlemen? To murder? To steal? To rob?"

The trial began Monday and attracted a packed courtroom all the way.

The crowd's sympathies seemed to be with Hester.

Minutes before the trial resumed Saturday, photographers took a picture of District Attorney James, and the audience hooted and booed. When the cameras were trained on Defense Attorney Al Clyde of Port Worth, spectators applauded, whistled and cheered.

The state said nine crushing blows of a metal rod killed the educator.

District Attorney James stood before the jury Saturday, swinging the rod for emphasis as he shouted:

"Every blow was calculated to rain death. Nine blows rained death."

Prosecutor Erisman said:

"I knew Dr. Lord so very well. Dr. Lord performed the ceremony that united me and my wife in marriage. He preached the funeral service for my mother."

"The defense is definitely mistaken about Dr. Lord being a homosexual. If I believed it, I would be the first man to recommend a suspended sentence in this case."

But in his arguments, Defense Attorney Clyde thundered: "The state doesn't want to bare the sordid facts in this case."

The courtroom remained jammed when the jury filed out to deliberate. Spectators who had brought their lunches ate. In another part of the courthouse, the jurymen dined as they deliberated.

And Hester waited in jail.

Aside from the single scream and the sob of women, there was no demonstration in the court.

Michigan State's 1948 football team ranked fourth in the nation in total offense with an average of 402.7 yards per game.

see what has been done since it acted. The assembly also appealed to Bulgaria and Hungary to cooperate in reaching a settlement. Bulgaria and Hungary refused to accept an invitation to speak to themselves here.

Evatt's statement was the first public utterance he has made in this phase of the Berlin case.

Evatt has been informed of each step in the secret talks here between Dr. Philip C. Jessup, United States ambassador, and Jakob Malik, Soviet deputy foreign minister. All signs indicate the Russians and the West are reaching agreement on lifting the 10-month blockade.

Malik, Evatt Friendly

In the assembly Saturday, the Russian bloc and the West fought as usual over the trials of churchmen behind the Iron Curtain while at the same time there were good indications they are reaching elsewhere an accord on the Berlin blockade.

When the assembly adjourned, Evatt went to the Russian delegation and talked briefly with Malik, who was present for the afternoon session. Malik and Evatt smiled and shook hands as they parted. The assembly held its first extraordinary Saturday session of this Spring meeting.

storm path at Norman. They were at the North Base to compete in the teen-age driver training contest.

About 930 students were participating but many had left for Norman proper, about a mile and a half away.

Dale, a small town northwest of Shawnee, was touched by a twister with several houses damaged.

Two tornadoes slashed across Western Kansas. One struck north of Garden City; the other hit the small town of Oakley, 80 miles north of Garden City. Damage was not extensive and no one was injured.

Dead at Meeker was Anita True, seven-year-old daughter of Mrs. Jess True of Tulsa. The pair and Mrs. True's sister, Katherine Amis, were driving from Tulsa to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Amis, one-half mile west of Meeker.

Carries Car Half-Mile

The tornado struck their car as they were driving on U. S. Highway 62. The twister carried the car nearly half a mile. True and Miss Amis were in a Shawnee hospital suffering serious injuries. The car was demolished.

Earl Nosalek, veterans training instructor at Meeker schools, said Crescent School three miles east of Meeker was blown by the twister. Other houses and barns were blown down in the vicinity. An oil well derrick 1 1/2 miles south of Meeker owned by Floyd Melburn was blown down.

In the Shawnee City Lake area 11 miles southwest of Shawnee, four houses were destroyed. Mrs. Una Pain, 55, and her daughter, Hettie, 11, were in critical condition after their house was wrecked. Her husband escaped. Shawnee in East Central Oklahoma is 40 miles southeast of Oklahoma City.

In southwestern Oklahoma, near Lawton, another tornado struck Sunday night. Several houses were destroyed. Several farmhouses were demolished but persons in the vicinity had enough warning to take to storm cellars.

Two large semi-trailer trucks on the highway were smashed as if toys. They were carrying farm tractors, which were smashed. The drivers of the trucks escaped injury.

The tornado was reported moving in a crescent path to the northeast toward Marlow, Okla.

A one-room frame school house was smashed but it was empty.

Three Hurt At Agawam

At least three persons were injured in a tornado which struck the Agawam area 15 miles south of Chickasha.

Trooper Bert Banner of the highway patrol said the twister crossed U. S. Highway 81, sending a pickup truck pulling a car spinning 200 feet. Injured were Roy Grooms, 34, and Ansel Ludwig, 32, both of Norman, who were in the machines. They are suffering from shock and cuts.

A farmer living one mile south of Akawam, R. J. Williams, was injured and taken to a hospital. Trees in a half-mile area were blown down but there were no buildings in the area.

Minor damage was reported at Blanchard, 20 miles southwest of Norman. No one was hurt.

Chickasha reported almost half an inch of rain and some wind.

A heavy wind was reported at Stillwater and Ardmore.

tary policemen seized Friday during a raid on a British-occupied farm.

The two incidents first had Western authorities puzzled because, while Soviet representatives were discussing with Americans the lifting of this city's 10-month blockade, Russian officials on the Berlin level appeared to be acting in an unfriendly manner.

Russian Press Silent

So far the Russian press has kept strict silence concerning the meetings in New York on lifting the blockade. There was a possibility the Russians were saving the news for a big May Day pronouncement with Communist propaganda overtones.

Divided Berlin was not too confident of peace, however. It looked forward with some apprehension to May Day demonstrations which might give rise to disorder.

Communists organized a big rally in East Berlin Labor unions in West Berlin planned their own parades. German police alerted its reserves.

TEXAS OIL ROUNDUP— Decline In Fuel Oil Demand Brings Cuts In Heavy Crude

MAX B. SKELTON
—P— An economic began with declines in demand has reached the pro-well.

Purchase prices for heavy in various fields in Texas, and Mississippi have been about 25 cents a barrel by several companies.

The oil industry has been blanketed with a fear of tumbling crude prices since January 1, when domestic production began to fall. No one of alarm, however, have accused the adjustments in heavy crude prices which began several weeks ago in Pennsylvania and California.

Winter demand for heavy fuel oil was surprisingly low, leaving stocks at an unprecedented high level. The decline in fuel prices is believed to indicate a normal economic trend and was not unexpected.
Reduction of posted crude prices completes the cycle of events which began with the market decline.

Competition With Gas
The only indication of serious concern this week came from the natural gas industry.

Gardiner Symonds, president of Tennessee Gas Transmission Company, says the reductions in fuel oil prices tend to put the product in direct competition with natural gas in Eastern markets.

Such competition, Symonds believes, must be kept in mind when perpetrate natural gas pipelines undertake expansion programs.

Sound expansion, he says, tends to stabilize the field price of gas and provide a steady influence on the industry in general.

He warns, however, that any expansion based on low grade uses for gas and temporary high prices for petroleum is unsound and doomed when faced with changing economics and the ever present law of supply and demand.

Meanwhile, Oklahoma and Kansas officials offer further evidence domestic crude production is leveling-off after a four-month decline.
Oklahoma's May allowable has been set at 387,290 barrels daily, unchanged from April. Kansas May production will be 275,000 barrels daily, the same as the April rate.

A 16,663 barrel daily increase has been ordered for Louisiana, where wells next month will operate at a rate of 534,130 barrels daily.

Cutbacks Reach Bottom
A Texas oil conservation order this week had good news for the state Legislature, currently wrestling to balance the state's income and expenditures despite sharp drops in oil taxes.

Ernest O. Thompson, senior member of the State Railroad Commission, says he believes Texas has "reached the bottom in the crude production cutback trend."

Thompson now believes there may be an increase in production during the peak of Summer travel and tourism demand.

The state's allowable has been cut some 800,000 barrels daily since December, including a 54,000 barrel daily cutback for May.

Domestic production for the week ended April 23 averaged 4,915,980 barrels daily, an increase of 4,350 barrels daily from the previous week.
A year earlier production totaled 5,

MIDLANDS
Secretary of the Interior Julius Krug says the government is not interested in talk of a compromise settlement of the tidelands controversy.

Krug told the National Petroleum Council this week in Washington there is little chance of Congress approving legislation recognizing federal ownership. He is "confident" President Truman will veto any bill approving state ownership.

He asked the oil industry to suggest plans whereby the deadlock can be broken. The solution, however, would have to be based on federal control of the tidelands, he said.

Benedum Pool Engineering Committee Formed With Midlanders As Officers
It has been announced that a Benedum field engineering committee has been formed and officers have been elected.

Its membership will consist of representatives of several operators in the Permian Basin, and its purpose will be to "obtain, coordinate and report factual data pertinent to Benedum field oil and gas reserves."

Officers of the committee are Gilbert C. Tompson, with the Slick-Urschel Oil Company, chairman;
Malcolm Abel, with Plymouth Oil Company, vice-chairman; and Joe Graybill, with Humble Oil and Refining Company, secretary-treasurer. All of the officers are located in Midland.

New Method Of Log Duplication Created By Color Research

A new application in the technique of color photography resulting in a fast, economical method for duplicating well logs in full color and complete detail has been developed at Color Research, headquarters at 2407 West Indiana in Midland.

The process, only one of its kind in the world, represents more than a year of experimentation. It not only involves chemical processes but also the construction of a special camera and other laboratory equipment.

This photographic method of duplication now makes it possible to have a direct copy from the original in true color and detail. It eliminates the necessity of checking for errors which may arise in hand copying.

The problem of duplicating well logs in color was given to the color research organization by a research geologist of a major oil company who found the hand-drawn method confusing and costly. Adaptation of ordinary photographic methods proved difficult owing to the peculiar shape of well logs, which may be 15 feet long or more.

With the new method, there is no limit to the length of the original log which may be duplicated. Strips up to 50 feet long easily can be handled.

Recruiting Setup In Area Consolidated

Army and Air Force recruiting stations in West Texas will be consolidated, Capt. Harold Sandford announced.

Big Spring will be sub-district headquarters operating from district headquarters at El Paso.

The Big Spring station will maintain sub-stations at Midland, Odessa, Pecos, Lamesa, Snyder, Sweetwater, San Angelo, Del Rio and Marfa.

This district (Big Spring) includes 48 counties in West Texas, extending from Lubbock to Eagle Pass and from Van Horn to Abilene.
This is an area of approximately 70,000 square miles with an estimated population of 350,000.

Starting Monday, all applicants will be given complete mental and physical examinations at Big Spring, whereas in the past they had been forwarded to Lubbock.

The recruiting office at Big Spring is in the Post Office Building. The Midland station is in the cathouse, third floor.

The 19-year-old West Texan was

Big Show Of Year For High Schoolers
To Start Thursday
AUSTIN.—P—The big show of the year for Texas high schoolers
—the State Interscholastic League meet—begins its three-day run here Thursday.

Some 1,400 high school students will compete for state titles in a variety of contests.

One-act play, ready writers, journalism, tennis, track and field, declamation, extemporaneous speech, typewriting, debate, shorthand, slide and number sense are the divisions in which students will challenge one another.

Special events will include a special program for journalism, conference delegates and sponsors.
Outcome of the voting on proposed athletic rule changes and next year's debate topic will be announced during the meeting.

The league's annual breakfast meeting when new proposals are discussed will be held at 7:30 a. m.
Saturday.

Superintendents and principals of member schools have voted on these questions: Spring training, membership in the national federation, limiting Fall training to the home campus, telecasting rights in football finals, and amending the amateur rule.

Midland Insurance Association To Meet
The first regular meeting of the newly-organized Midland Association of Insurance Agents will be held at 5 p. m. Monday in Hotel Scharbauer, according to Clinton Myrick, president.

The association now has approximately 20 members.

Texas Legislature Puts In Busy Week At Lawmaking But Still Has Long Way To Go

By DAVE CHEAVENS
AUSTIN.—P—The Legislature took several strides toward final adjournment last week, but it would need seven-league boots to get there on time May 10.

Top accomplishment of the week was final House passage of the Glimmer-Aikin school bills. The Senate must concur in House amendments and that could take weeks.

The finance issue still was in mid-air. A House amendment to the foundation school fund bill gives priority to money demands for rural roads over the schools, and one of the big unanswered questions was how much the GA program will cost.

The major appropriations bills and many one-purpose money measures still are tied up in the Senate Finance Committee. The House Appropriations Committee sent the 50 million dollar departmental bill to the calendar for action, but the college fund bill remained in committee.

Optimists look to May 24 Economy forces still were trying to figure out some way to finance state services during the next two years without a new tax bill. The House Revenue and Taxation Committee did not get around to a pending omnibus tax measure, but scheduled a hearing on it Monday night.

The most optimistic guesses on when the 51st session would finish its work and go home put the date around May 24—two weeks after expiration of the constitutionally-suggested 120 days for a general session. Gloomier forecasts had it around June 15.

On May 11 lawmakers' pay drops from $10 to $5 a day. That plus hot weather often needles legislators into calling it a job.

Major developments last week in essence:
Governor Jester signed the basic science and chiropractor bills, the citrus commission bill, and another prison reform measure making it a crime to escape from the penitentiary.

Furious Action In House Both branches finished work on a constitutional amendment. It would provide for annual sessions of the Legislature and annual pay for lawmakers if adopted by the people in an election September 24.

Bills changing the names of state elementary institutions to state hospitals went to the governor's desk.

Passed and sent to the Senate
a bill creating a youth development council, overhauling the handling of juvenile delinquents.

Passed and sent to the Senate
a bill putting the state hospitals under direction of a separate board.
Instead of the Board of Control.

Adopted a proposed constitutional amendment abolishing the poll tax as a voting requirement. The measure now is in a conference committee to adjust differences between House and Senate versions.

Sent the Senate a secret ballot bill. The Senate also has one pending.

Amended a Senate proposition for a commission to rewrite the surface water laws, returning it to the upper house for concurrence or rejection.

Sent the Senate a proposal for a 15-member commission to remodel the state's code of criminal laws.
Water District Bill

Approved and sent the Senate a bill providing for creation of underground water districts.

Passed a measure requiring loyalty affidavits in colleges. It goes to the Senate.

Okayed an appropriation of $6-000,000 for two new state office buildings.

Here's what the Senate did:
Approved 83 local and uncontested bills.

Passed and sent the House the oil utilization bill.

Failed by two votes to set up a 200 million dollar fund for development of state water resources.

Sent to the House bills setting up a State Budget Board and providing for a between-sessions council to study legislative problems.

Invites Public To Hear Organ Music

Citizens are invited to visit the Ellis Chapel, 104 West Ohio Street,
Sunday to hear the playing of a Hammond Organ, the type the firm has purchased to go in its new chapel building to be erected soon.

The organ will be played by Gene James, representative of The Shield Company of Fort Worth.

During the two hours of organ music, the public is invited to come and go at will.

Labor Government Takes Over Britain's Vast Gas Industry

LONDON.—P—Britain's billion dollar gas industry passes into the hands of the government Sunday, socialism's international May Day holiday.

It is the seventh major industry nationalized by the Labor Party since it came to power in 1945. The others were coal, electricity, inland transport, cable and wireless, airways and the Bank of England.

When dusk falls Sunday, lamplighters as usual will pedal furiously down British streets on their bicycles, lighting the gas lamps.
However, they will draw their pay henceforth from the state instead of from a gas company.

The government will add 130,000 employees to its payroll. It will take over 1,046 enterprises owned by 771 private companies and 275 municipalities and valued at $1,060,000,- 000.

The industry produces 484,500,- 000,000 cubic feet of gas annually by carbonizing coal.

The treasury announced that gas stockholders will get government stock of a value equal to their holdings in the companies.

Midlanders Invited To Odessa Meeting
Midland residents are invited to attend a course and demonstration in insect control to be held Wednesday at Odessa.

The invitation by the Odessa
Chamber of Commerce was received Saturday by Delbert Downing, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting will be of special interest to sanitation officers, grocers, food handlers, druggists and all handlers of insecticides.

The school, a two-hour event featuring movies and lectures by experts in the insect control field, will be held at 10 a. m. in the high school auditorium. The demonstration will be at 2 p. m. in the Ector County Park.

WTGS Slates Dinner-Meet Saturday At Country Club

A dinner meeting of the West Texas Geological Society will be held at 7:00 p. m. Saturday at the Midland Country Club.

Dr. C. W. Tomlinson will be the honored guest and will speak on the subject of "Odd Geologic Structures in Southern Oklahoma."

Dr. Tomlinson attended the University of Wisconsin, the University of Minnesota and obtained his doctors degree from the University of Chicago in 1916. From 1916 until 1936, he taught geology and worked with several oil companies. From 1936 to the present, Tomlinson has been a consultant and oil producer. His home is in Ardmore, Okla.

Attendance at the meeting will be by invitation only and those who have not received invitations should contact W. T. Schneider, Honolulu Oil Company, Ralph Chambers, Continental Oil Company, J. A. Rogers, The Texas Company, or J. V. Norman, Forest Development Corporation as soon as possible.

Geologists are encouraged to bring their wives. The WTGS is to be guest of geologists who are Country Club members.

Big Spring Will Keep Rent Control
BIG SPRING.—Big Spring city commissioners declined to adopt a resolution to decontrol rents after a public hearing here Friday night.
More than 250 people attended the hearing, and about a dozen witnesses testified. However, the commissioners decided they could not conclude from the findings that a shortage of rental units no longer exists in Big Spring.

The hearing had been called in response to a petition submitted by the Owners and Renters Association of Big Spring, an organization composed of more than 50 landlords.

Benedum Test Blows Gas, Distillate To Indicate Strike

Gas and distillate blew out heavily on a drillstem test at Slick-Urschel Oil Company and Plymouth Oil Company No. 2 Alford, east outpost to the Benedum multi-pay field of East-Central Upton County, to indicate a new discovery in the area.

The test was in the Fusselman section of the Silurian at 10,788-924 feet, using a 900-foot water blanket. In eight minutes after the tool was opened, the water blanket flowed at the surface. It was followed immediately by gas and distillate.

The flow was through a one-half-inch choke. Some observers say gas volume was at the rate of between eight and 10 million cubic feet per day. Due to the strong blow, operator shut in the well after 30 minutes of flowing.

On last report, drillpipe was being pulled. Information on the recovery was not yet available at the time this report was prepared. This prospect, 1,980 feet from west and 660 feet from south lines of lot 2, section 50 1/2, P. B. Scott survey, is about two and one-half miles southeast of the nearest Fusselman production. Republic Natural Gas Company, No. 1-B Barnett, completed a discovery from that formation.

The only other Fusselman well in the Benedum area is Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1-B Barnett, which is approximately four miles northwest of the No. 2 Alford.

Permian Discovery Prospects Made In Benedum Pool Area

Prospects of a middle Permian and discovery in the Benedum area of East-Central Upton County were shown on drillstem test at Warren Wright No. 1 C. W. Chancellor, southwest offset to Ellenburger production in the field.

The examination was for one and one-half hours at 6,350-6,550 feet, with a fair blow of air throughout. Recovery was 100 feet of heavily oil and gas out drilling plus 29 feet of clean oil.

Informed observers say the well should be capable of producing 150 barrels of oil daily from this horizon. It was drilling ahead. Operator was planning a test approximately every 100 feet.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of the south half of the east half of section 5, A. W. Daugherty survey.

Cain Slates Cochran 5,000-Foot Wildcat

Location was made for a 5,000-foot wildcat three miles north of the Levelland field of Southeast Cochran County by H. L. Cain of Midland as his No. 1 Saint Clair.

The drillsite is 440 feet from south and 823 feet from east lines of labor 14, league 130, Carson CSL survey. Elevation is 3,813 feet.

Nearest producer is one and one-half miles to the east at E. Constantine No. 1 St. Clair, small pumping discovery from the Permian.

Drilling will be with combination rotary-cable tools, starting immediately.

North Snyder Pool Gets New Project

Standard Oil Company of Texas is beginning by May 4 in another exploration in the North Snyder field of North-Central Scurry County, 10 miles north of Snyder.

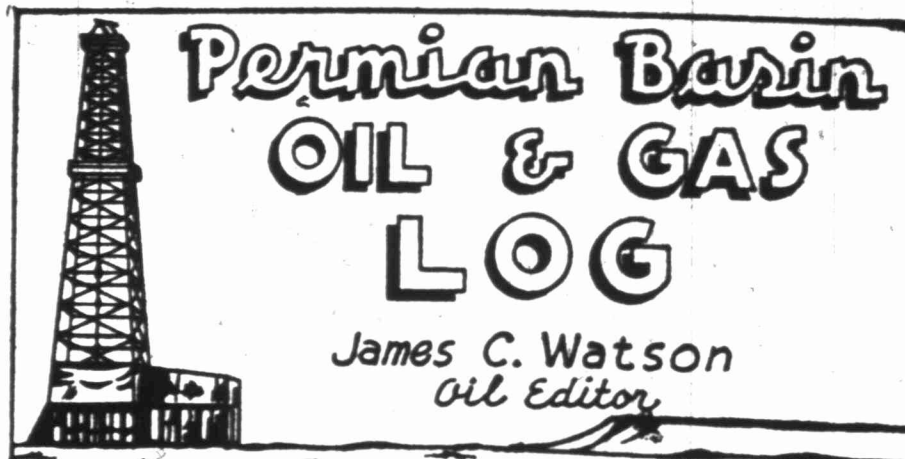

It will be the concern's No. 3-6 Mrs. Jessie Brown, staked 1,980 feet from east and 467 feet from south lines of section 440, block 97, H&C survey.

With rotary tools, it is scheduled to make 7,000 feet of hole to test into the Canyon line of the Pennsylvanian.

Lamb Venture To Reduce Hole; Test

Pacific Western Oil Corporation was preparing to plug back its No. 1-B Brown, Southwest Lamb County, for testing in an upper formation as yet unidentified.

The venture drilled to a total depth of 8,135 feet in lime and encountered no oil or gas, possibly ties on that bottom. Electric log surveys were run. There have not been reports of promising shows at this exploration. Observers believe surveys detected prospects up the hole which would warrant testing.

Lone Star Tests Higher In Scurry

After developing water in a deep lime formation thought to be Ellenburger, Lone Star Producing Company has reduced hole at its No. 1 Maule, Northwest Scurry County wildcat, and made a test which also resulted in water.

Bottomed on 8,297 feet in lime, the project spotted a 30-pack cement plug at 7,300-7,130 feet and drillstem tested with packer at 6,742 feet.

The tool was open one hour and 15 minutes. Recovery was 220 feet of drilling mud with the bottom 90 feet heavily cut with salt water.

Next procedure of the operator has not been reported. The wildcat probably will be plugged and abandoned.

It is three miles east of the town of Dermott and 660 feet from south and east lines of section 451, block 97, H&C survey.

Magnolia Runs Pipe Into Abell-Silurian

Magnolia Petroleum Company has set an oil string at its No. 3 Lutz for further testing prior to completion as an extension into the Abell-Silurian field of North Pecos County.

The venture was on a total depth of 4,964 feet, waiting for cement to cure on seven-inch casing cemented on bottom with 600 sacks. It is due to drill plug and test shortly.

It has shown for likely production from the Fusselman on drillstem tests to total depth.

Location is 330 feet from south and east lines of lot 11, section 28, block 9, H&G survey.

Howard Test Shoots Higher Perforations

Higher perforations have been made in the Mississippian at Magnolia No. 1-A Gartner, wildcat prospect in that horizon in the Vincent area of extreme Northeast Howard County.

A bridging plug was set at 8,250 feet, shutting off perforations at 8,428-44 and 8,450-64 feet which made considerable water. New perforations were shot in the section of pipe at 8,190-8,215 feet with four shots per foot.

Preparations were being made to swab and test that zone of the Mississippian. Plug-back depth is 8,490 feet. Total depth is 8,542 feet in barren Ellenburger.

This venture is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 67, block 20, Lavaca Navigation district survey.

Gaines Deep Wildcats Continue Making Hole

More hole was being made at Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware No. 1 Doss, deep wildcat in Southeast Gaines County, 10 miles south of the Cedar Lake field, and 4,820 feet from east and 660 feet from south lines of league 292, Lynn CSL survey.

It was under 12,606 feet in lime. Stanolind Oil & Gas Company was drilling ahead with its No. 15 American Warehouse, venturing deep in the Cedar Lake area of Northeast Gaines County.

This prospect, 1,650 feet from south and east lines of section 5, block H, D&W survey, was past 12,836 feet, drilling time.

Pacific Western Oil Corporation No. 1 Oil Development, wildcat between the Seminole and Russell fields of Northwest Gaines County, was under 11,775 feet, penetrating lime.

It is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 315, block G, C&S&RGNG survey.

Murphy To Abandon Prospector In Gaines

C. H. Murphy & Son were preparing to plug and abandon No. 1 E. T. O'Daniel, wildcat failure in the San Andres-Permian of Central Gaines County, two miles southeast of Seminole and 660 feet from east, 1,980 feet from south lines of section 18, block C-44, psi survey.

Total depth is 5,450 feet. Extensive tests have been made of the perforations along with acid treatments. The well made mostly water with no appreciable amounts of oil.

Flanagan Outposts Are Drilling Ahead

Three outposts to the Flanagan field in South-Central Gaines County were making more hole at last report.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Flanagan, 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 9, block A-23, psi survey, was drilling below 9,394 feet in lime and chert.

George P. Livermore No. 1 Head, 631 feet from north and 610 feet from west lines of section 12, block A-23, psi survey, was below 9,488 feet, drilling in lime.

Shell Oil Company No. 1 Andrews, 660 feet from south and west lines of section 2, block A-23, psi survey, was making hole below 9,916 feet in a hydrite.

Magnolia Sets Pipe In Midland Permian

In the East part of Midland County, 12 miles southeast of Midland, Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Mary Turner set seven-inch casing at 7,850 feet and was preparing to drill plug and test in the middle Permian. It drilled to a depth of 8,222 feet and then plugged back to 8,015 feet.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 46, block 37, T-2-S, Leonard Leech survey.

Magnolia No. 2-30 Roy Glass, in South-Central Midland County, offsetting the same Company's Ellenburger discovery to open the Pegasus field of North-Central Upton County, was below 7,756 feet in lime and sandy shale.

It is 1,980 feet from west and east lines of section 30, block 40, T-3-S, T&P survey.

Sinclair Makes Hole With Two Ventures

Sinclair Prairie Oil Company was drilling ahead with two deep wildcats on the south edge of the South Plains.

In Northwest Borden County, 11 miles northwest of Gall, the concern's No. 1 Sterling Williams was below 9,128 feet, penetrating lime and shale.

It is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 45, block 22, T-6-N, EL&RR survey.

Sinclair No. 1 Lindly, South-Central Lynn County prospect, one mile north of O'Donnell and 660 feet from south and east lines of southwest quarter of section 47, block 8, GL&RR survey, had reached 8,493 feet and was boring ahead in lime and shale.

Andrews Prospector Nearing Destination

Amerada Petroleum Corporation was nearing destination with its No. 1-A Andrews-University, Southeast Andrews County wildcat projected to 5,000 feet for an investigation of the San Andres-Permian.

Last report had it making hole from 4,820 feet in lime. Location is 2,032 feet from south and 656 feet from east lines of section 15, block I, University survey, eight miles southeast of the town of Andrews.

Seaboard Continues Vealmoor Projects

Two flankers to the Vealmoor field in Howard County were making hole toward 8,000 feet for tests of the Canyon-Pennsylvanian, regular pay of the pool. The other two outposts were shut down.

Washington Oil—Federal Control Over Crude Prices Suggested In Attack On Industry

By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER
WASHINGTON—The need for government regulation of prices for crude oil and products as a permanent, peace-time measure is suggested in a sweeping attack against the oil industry prepared by the Interior Department's program division.

The heart of this new, secret analysis is an accusation that the industry cannot be trusted to set prices that are fair to the public. As a result, says the all-out attack, the government should be suspicious of the prices and profits of the industry in past years.

At another point, the broadside attack finds fault with what it calls lack of consumer protection against unregulated prices for oil and oil products.

It is critical of "growing concentration" and "monopolistic tendencies," pipeline ownership by major companies, and exclusive dealing at service stations.

Asks Proportion Survey
It says that complaints of independent oil men should receive more and sympathetic attention in Washington.

The document blurs that state proportion laws leave something to be desired, and suggests a check-up of how they are operating. The drafters recall that proportion has been called a price-fixing device.

It suggests end use control in natural gas.

The document was drafted as a proposed commentary by Interior Secretary J. A. Krug on the national oil policy report of the National Petroleum Council.

The new document calls the policy statement an effort to preserve the status quo, says it stresses policies of interest to the major companies, and gives only token attention to blocking monopoly within the industry.

CGD Head Is Angry
While the report has been kept secret, it has touched off a sharp dispute within the Interior Department.

Thus, Robert Friedman, acting director of the Oil and Gas Division, knew nothing about the paper until it was completed. He felt he should have been in on it from the beginning, and angrily protested to Krug.

The weight given the report by Krug in his first statement about the industry's National Oil Policy report of three months ago seems to reject the price control idea at this time.

Krug Favors Free Prices
Speaking April 28 at the Eastern Division meeting of the American Petroleum Institute, Pittsburgh, he gave this statement:

"The Interior Department is in agreement with the council on such points as the operation of price in a free market, the desirability and necessity for tax provisions designed to fit the peculiarities of oil exploration and production, the maintenance of favorable conditions for capital formation and the participation of United States nationals in development of world oil resources."

"It disagrees with the council on the proper agency to foster and control exploration and development of the petroleum resources in the submerged lands, on the need for developing synthetic liquid fuels and on several other points."

He commended the council's stand on secondary recovery, unit operation and optimum-rate production. Cutbacks Go Too Far

At another point, the secretary warned against too-severe cutbacks, which might lead to a shortage and high prices for oil and gas.

In conformance with this policy of assuring ample supplies at reasonable prices to consumers, it is the hope of the federal government that both the industry and the state regulatory commissions will avoid not only wasteful production practices but also over-restrictive steps that unduly restrict normal supply.

"Over-correction, by reducing allowable production far below the maximum efficient rate, raises the danger that artificial shortages could develop. While the public and our industries and the government cooperated wholeheartedly in meeting the oil shortage due to the excess of demand over supply, they would bitterly resent any shortage which was due to an artificial reduction of supply below demand, whether intended or unintended. The policy statement indicates opposition of the industry to such a development."

The supply of steel for the oil industry has improved so "greatly" the National Petroleum Council has just disbanded its steel requirements committee. Russell B. Brown, of the Independent Petroleum Association of America's Washington office, has been chairman.

The fight over amendment of the Natural Gas Act is coming off as expected. In testimony before the House Commerce Committee, Chairman Nelson Smith and Harrington Wimberly of the Federal Power Commission favored the amendments, but a majority of Leland Olds, Thomas Buchanan, and Claude Dwyer opposed them. Their charges: the price of gas would increase by $130,000,000 to $500,000,000 a year if government regulations were substantially weakened. The committee will report a bill favorably anyway. It would ease federal controls over production and gathering of natural gas by independents.

The Oil and Gas Division has started a study of the proposed $200,000,000 loan to Mexico for oil development. This means some of the facts may be brought into the open.

Action came at the request of E. P. Fyles of the Jergins Oil Company, Long Beach, Calif., member of the National Petroleum Council. He believes:

"In my opinion, this is a matter of grave concern to this country's oil industry. The propriety of making such a loan at any time is questionable, but in view of the oversupply of crude oil and its products which we now have in this country, the making of such a loan at this time would be most unwise."

Ikkes Talks Tidelands
To Harold L. Ikkes, the tidelands dispute is nothing but "a phony. The former Secretary of the Interior, who touched off the trouble by starting action for federal title, believes:

"This is a phony. Krug and Clark don't want to operate the offshore areas. If they did, they'd get busy and do something."

He spoke a few hours after Krug, now Interior Secretary, asked members of the National Petroleum Council for ideas on breaking the "impasse" or "deadlock" on tidelands ownership.

Following the California decision of the U. S. Supreme Court, Ikkes went on, "these two Cabinet members threw away the only weapon they had."

"Now they are lamenting the fact they have no weapon to deal with the situation."

They decided that the Federal Mineral Leasing Act did not apply to the tidelands areas, he said.

"They threw out 200 applications for permission to drill in the offshore areas, and said we need a new law from Congress before we can handle these."

"That was wrong, Ikkes believes. They could have operated under that law, at least until the courts decided against them."

Cities Service Names Two New Executives

Tucker has been manager of the company's geophysical section since June of last year. He has been employed by Cities Service since graduating from the University of Colorado in 1930.

Wilhelm has been Bartlesville division chief geologist for four years. He is a graduate of Penn State.

Phillips Slates Tests Of Glorieta With Lea Deep Wildcat Failure

HOBBS, N. M.—Testing of the Glorieta-Permian is scheduled for Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1 Shipp, deep wildcat three miles west of the northwest side of the Hobbs field in East-Central Lea County.

The prospecter drilled to granite and encountered no oil prospects below the Glorieta, where a drillstem test recovered slight oil and gas shows.

Top of the granite was called on 12,586 feet and drillstem tested for 20 minutes with packer at 12,584 feet. A 4,095-foot water blanket was used. Recovery was the water blanket plus 35 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil, gas or water.

This venture entered the Ellenburger on 12,520 feet. That formation yielded 100 feet of drilling mud with no shows on a two-hour test to 12,584 feet.

Hole is to be reduced to around 6,640 feet and pipe set at 9,635 feet in the Glorieta. The open hole zone is to be acidized and tested. Location is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 20-18-37e.

Defines Pay Zone
Bottom of the Devonian pay section has been found at Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Hamilton, discovery from that horizon in East-Central Lea County, 10 miles east of the Lovington field and 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 38-18-38e.

After drilling ahead beneath pipe set at 12,518 feet and logging additional pay, the venture drillstem tested at 12,628-655 feet, with the tool open three hours and eight minutes.

Recovery was a 2,806-foot water blanket followed by 9,100 feet of sulphur water.

On last report, operator was waiting on plastic to set a plug to shut out the water and make production tests of the section yielding oil.

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company was testing prior to taking potential on it's No. 1 South Mattox unit, flowing discovery from the Southeast Lea County Ellenburger.

From the open hole zone at 9,486-9,570 feet, the well flowed 21 barrels of oil on a recent 17-hour gauge. Gas-oil ratio was 1,050-1. Testing was continuing.

This strike is 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 15-24-37e. Searches Formation Change Drilling was continuing at Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1-BTA State, flowing strike from a deep dolomite formation in North-west Lea County, 15 miles west and three miles north of the town of Tatum and 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 2-12-35e.

Last report had it below 11,037 feet, penetrating lime. The oil producing horizon is thought to be Devonian or Ellenburger.

The venture may continue to granite or to a change of formation, which would aid in establishing the identity of the strata.

J. C. Glover has completed an effort to his recent discovery in Central Lea County, about two miles west of the West Eunice field.

The new well is his No. 2 State, 1,980 feet from south and 990 feet from east lines of section 16-12-35e.

On a potential test, the project swabbed 50 barrels of oil per day through open two-inch tubing. Gravity of the petroleum was 32 degrees.

No water was reported on the test. Total depth was 3,945 feet. Plug-back depth was 3,924 feet. Top of pay was picked at 3,928 feet.

No Shows Result
No shows resulted from a drillstem test at Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1-X State, North-Central Lea County wildcat, 17 miles southwest of the Crossroads field and 660 feet from north, 1,980 feet from east lines of section 31-11-35e.

The tool was open 30 minutes at 9,468-9,514 feet, using a 1,440-foot water blanket. Recovery was no oil, water blanket and 10 feet of drilling mud.

The prospecter was drilling ahead beneath 9,658 feet in lime.

The Devonian was expected to come in shortly for Stanolind No. 1 Leonard-Federal, wildcat in extreme Southeast Lea County, 990 feet from south and east lines of section 11-26-37e.

Last report had the venture below 9,257 feet, drilling Mississippian lime. Observers predict the top of the Devonian within the next 100 feet.

Make More Hole
Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1-CA State, 660 feet from south and east lines of section 9-18-36e, and three miles south of the Crossroads field, was drilling below 11,680 feet in lime and chert.

Amerada No. 1-BTB State, in North-Central Lea County, 660 feet from north and west lines of section 26-18-33e, had reached 5,998 feet in lime and was continuing.

Magnolia No. 1 Cox-Federal, 660 feet from south and west lines of section 1-9a-36e, and four and one-half miles north and one-half mile east of the initial prospect, the Devonian in the Crossroads field, was making hole below 12,447 feet in lime.

Magnolia No. 1-B Santa Fe, 660 feet from east and 1,980 feet from south lines of section 28-9a-36e, one-half mile west of Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Desse, Sawyer, a flowing producer from the Devonian, had penetrated 5,710 feet in lime and was drilling ahead.

Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation No. 1-D U. D. Sawyer, on the northeast side of the Crossroads area, and 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 27-9a-36e, was drilling below 8,485 feet in lime.

API Pittsburgh Meet To Feature Method Of Treating Water

BRADFORD, PA.—Treatment of oil field flood water by a newly developed chemical method designed to combat bacterial action and acidic corrosion will be described in joint papers at the American Petroleum Institute meeting in Hotel William Penn, in Pittsburgh, this week.

The treatment is the result of more than two years of cooperative research and will be presented by J. N. Breston, of the Pennsylvania Grade Crude Oil Association, and E. T. Heck, Quaker State Oil Refining Corporation. These men participated in the research and are the authors of the papers.

A single chemical is used in the treatment to fight bacterial action and acidic corrosion in water injected underground to push oil to the producing wells. Cost of the treatment is described as very low.

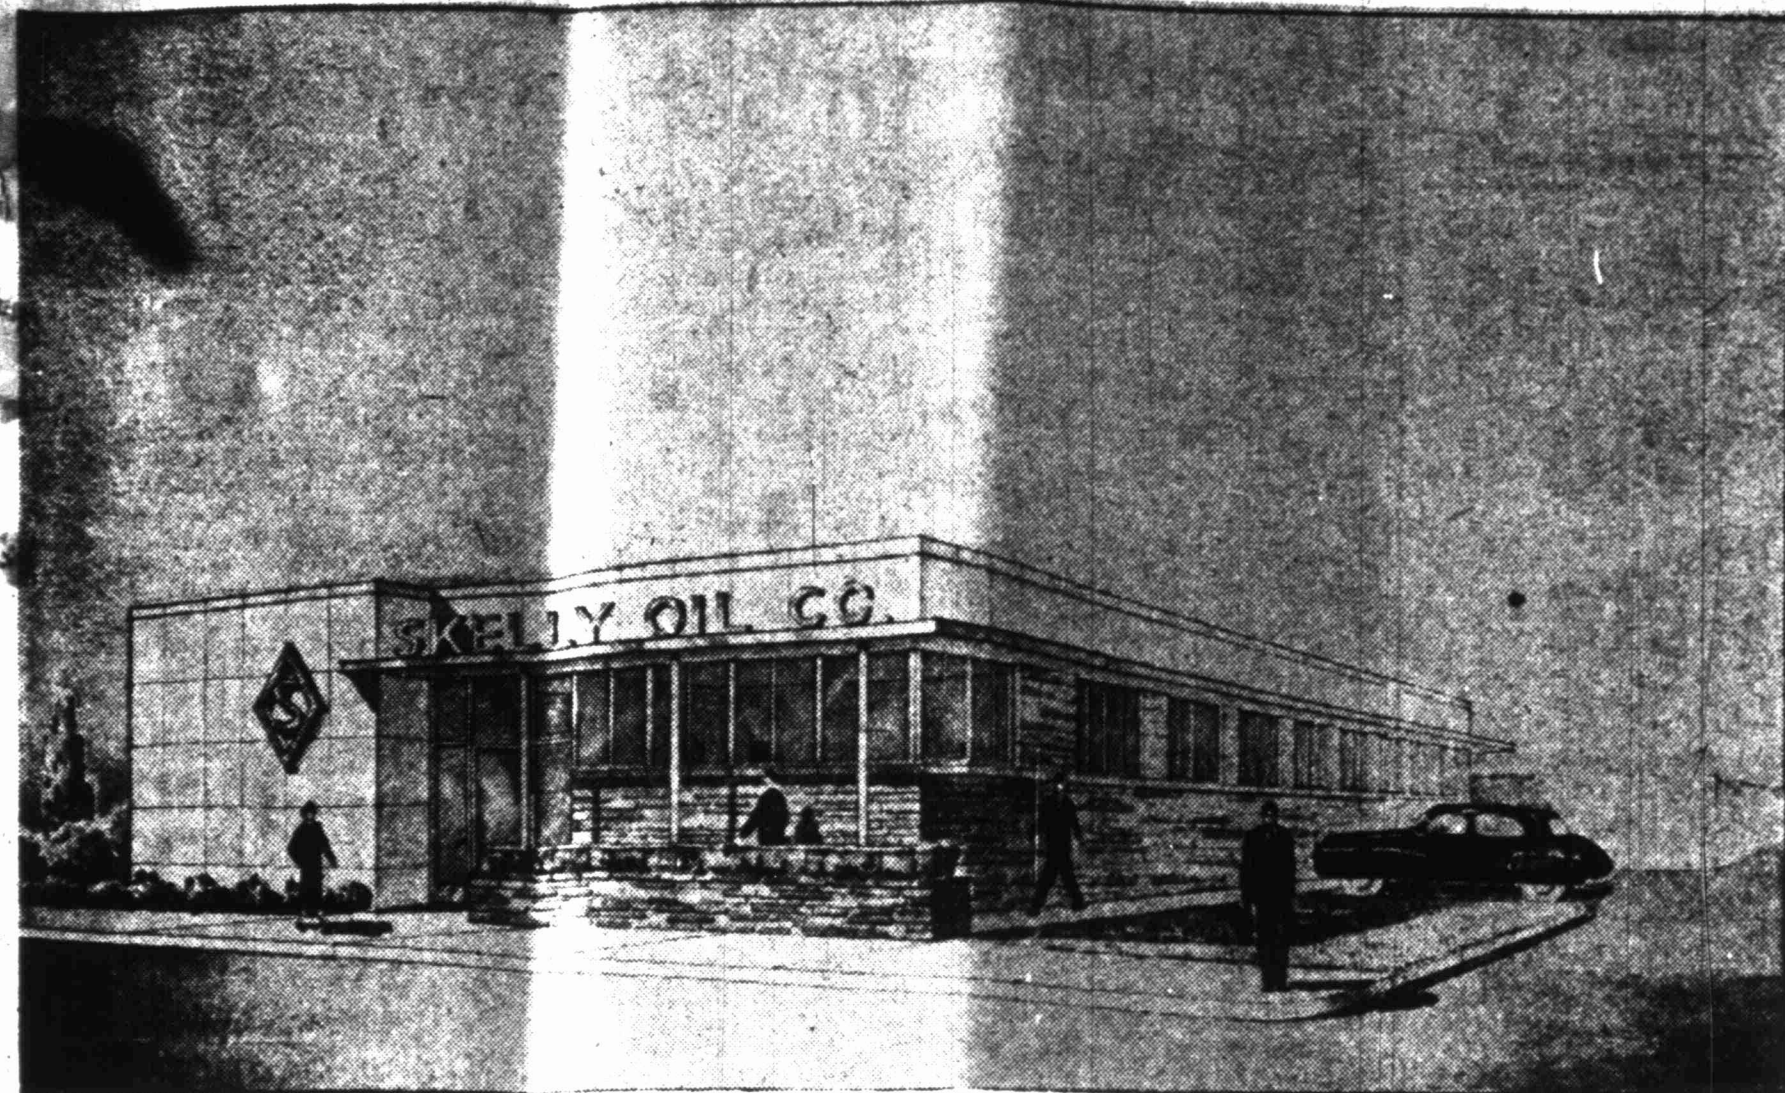

Investigators feel that the chemical may find use also in supplementing the treatment in existing installations where oil field water is being stabilized by standard methods.

Wildcat Flows Oil On Second Test In Lea Pennsylvanian

Oil flowed in commercial amounts on the second Pennsylvania drillstem test at Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1 Betenbaugh, wildcat five miles northwest of the Crossroads field in Northeast Lea County.

The examination was for five hours and 16 minutes at 9,600-50 feet, the interval which flowed oil on a shorter test run previously.

On the last test, gas reached the surface in 24 minutes and oil in 50 minutes, cleaning to pits for 26 minutes. The flow was turned to tanks and gauged for 139 barrels of oil in four hours.

Gas-oil ratio was 1,181-1. Gravity of the petroleum was 46.5 degrees. There was no water. The flow was through a 5/8-inch top choke and a one-inch bottom hole choke.

On last report, a Schlumberger survey was run. The project probably will set pipe for further testing of the Pennsylvania.

It is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 12-9s-35e.

Crude Imports Opposition To Rate First Attention At IPAA Meet In New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, LA. — Action which will strengthen its position opposing excessive crude oil imports will get first attention of the Independent Petroleum Association of America which opens its mid-year meeting here Monday.

Texas, IPAA president, declared here Saturday that the organization's meeting "comes at a time of critical importance to independent producers of crude oil, and in fact to the entire domestic oil industry."

The United States, through the national government, must soon choose the course to be followed with respect to petroleum," Shield said. "The question simply is: Shall we continue to find and develop reserves of petroleum in Following two drillstem tests recovering water, the venture cored from 9,727 feet to 9,737 feet. There was no recovery. More hole was made to 9,790 feet.

The examination was to be made with packer at 9,744 feet.

Bronte Oil Operator One-Man Oil Boom

BRONTE, TEXAS —(P)—"Susie and I," said the big grinning man, "have bought and sold about $500,000 worth of leases and royalties since last August."

The man is Taylor Emerson, washbuckling Bronte oil operator. And "Susie" is his battered telephone. Of the telephone, Emerson says affectionately:

"Many a man has held Susie, but she's my gal. In fact, she's my bank account."

Emerson is sort of a one-man oil boom. At various times before that he was a horse trader, bank cashier-general manager and auto finance company proprietor.

The oil boom is the one now blossoming at Bronte, Coke County, as the result of the discovery of the Bronte pool last August. Emerson buys and sells oil leases. Business has been good.

Big Field He believes the Bronte field will develop into "one of the biggest in West Texas." He expects a big building boom for Bronte, with "plenty of places for people to live in."

Emerson admits he was something of a hell raiser at Van Alstyne, his birthplace. When he was 25 he moved to San Angelo to buy horses and mules. He bought them for $75 to $200 a head and shipped them to East Texas where they brought $100 to $300 a head. He sums up that part of his life briefly: "I made enough."

But life didn't get exciting until May of 1923 when the discovery well was brought in at Big Lake.

Emerson says he "learned to smell oil 20 miles away, upwind."

In 1934 he moved to Big Spring and launched an auto finance business. The sign in front of his establishment read, "Taylor Emerson Company, five-minute auto loans."

But he had a "premonition" there would be oil development near Bronte. He sold his Big Spring business and moved here.

His premonition was right. Came the Bronte discovery well, and Emerson and "Susie" went to work. He's been hard at it ever since and now expects oil to be found maybe right under his Main Street real estate office.

O'Dowdy Top Man In Grapple Show

Professor Pat O'Dowdy, the old master of West Texas wrestling rings, takes a cut at capable Jack Pappenheim in the main event of what looks like the best grapple card in months at the VFW Hall seven miles west of Midland Monday night. It will be O'Dowdy's first appearance here and he has promised the fans a real show.

Pappenheim has wrestled in semi-final matches at the VFW Hall several times and is classed as one of the better stragglers in this area. He is young enough still and appears to be in good physical condition.

The tricks O'Dowdy hasn't pulled in the hundreds of bouts he has wrestled just haven't been thought up yet. He has years of experience and a full vocabulary of holds.

If the opposition seems a little reluctant to mix it up, O'Dowdy has a special bag of tricks from which he usually selects an inducement.

Professor Pat has been known to use ringside chairs in subduing an extra rowdy opponent. He often uses the age-old trick of twisting his colleague's neck in the ropes, also.

The methods O'Dowdy use in any particular match depend on the actions of his opponent. Tough guys like Red Fenton, Alex Kasebaski and Hi Sharnon look like cream-puffs alongside Pat when he is in good form.

Vic Weber, the class of the strangers who have appeared here, is scheduled against the Mexican bombshell, Arturo Ruiz, in the semi-windup. Ruiz is a hot-tempered individual subject to frequent outbursts of wrestling with no holds barred.

Weber, a veteran of International wrestling shows, has one of the largest assortments of stuff seen in years. He delights in turning the tables on so-called villains of the wrestling game.

Steve Nenoff should do alright against his opponent in the 20-minute opener if he can keep his handiebar mustache out of the way. He is matched with Danno MacDonald, a newcomer to this area.

Entries are pouring in from all parts of West Texas for the annual Women's Invitation Golf Tournament to be held at the Midland Country Club May 16 through 21. The event is sponsored by the Ladies Golf Association.

Mrs. Gloria Strom Ezell, the defending champion, now is a resident of Midland and has indicated she will defend the title.

Mrs. Essie Stafford, 1948 club champion, will play and Mrs. Francis Flournoy, 1947 champion, also will enter.

Mrs. Cecil O'Neal of Odessa, a noted golfer who has won the West Texas Tournament several times, is expected to enter.

Women golfers from Dallas, Fort Worth, Abilene, Lubbock, Hobbs, N. M., Big Spring and many other cities are expected here for the meet.

Practice rounds are scheduled May 16 and medal play will start the morning of May 17.

A barbecue and Calcutta event will be held opening day.

Mrs. A. Knickerbocker is in charge of reservations. Mrs. Frank Ashby, Fred Hogan and Van Ligon are on the tournament committee.

H. L. Winkler will be the official starter.

Sain Hurls Braves To 4-0 Shutout Of New York Giants

BOSTON — (P) — Righthander Johnny Sain came up with his best performance of the season Saturday as he pitched the Boston Braves to a four-hit, 4-0 triumph over the New York Giants.

Sain, who won 24 games last year, had no trouble in hanging up his first victory of the season. His mates gave him a three-run working margin in the first inning.

Larry Jansen started for the Giants and wildness plus an error by Sid Gordon helped the Braves to score three runs in the opening frame. It was the second straight defeat for the ace New York pitcher, who hasn't won yet this year.

The score: R.H.E. New York: 000 000 000 0 4 1 Boston: 300 001 00x 4 6 1 Jansen, Behrman and Cooper; Sain and Salkeld.

Tom Jordan Helps Rockets To Win In Opener Here

The Roswell Rockets, with the help of the umpires, plenty of luck, and a good ball club, turned back the Midland Indians 7 to 3 in the home opener of the 1949 Longhorn League campaign here Friday night. From the time Mayor W. B. Neely heaved the first ball at Chamber of Commerce President Bob Scruggs until Julian Pressley fled out to left-field in the ninth inning, it was a hard-fought contest.

The big bat of veteran Tom Jordan put Roswell out in front in the first inning when he blasted a home run to the leftfield fence with Nuendorf on base.

Midland picked up a single run in the first when Stanley Hughes got on by an error. Bobby Rose singled him around and he scored when Warren Sitter hit into a double play.

Ernie Nelson, Midland's starting hurler, was stingy and scattering with hits and kept the Rockets in the first inning when he yanked for a pinch-hitter in the seventh.

Strategy Works Manager Harold Webb's strategy paid off with two runs. He inserted Rookie Emil Ogden in the lineup to hit for Nelson after Kenry Jones led off with a single through the box. Ogden drove a double into left and Jones moved to third.

Stanley Hughes lofted a long fly to right, scoring Jones and Ogden scored on Rose's fly to center. Warren Sitter singled and went to second on an error but the rally was cut short when Pressley grounded third to first on a ball that Nuendorf was lucky to get.

Roswell got three runs in the seventh on a single by Nuendorf, an error by Rose, a double by Tom Jordan and a single by Jerry Jordan.

Sam Van Hoorer shut the Rockets out in the eighth.

Forrest Martin pitched to four batters in the ninth and gave up one hit and two walks. Webb rushed in his ace fireman, Clyde May, who gave up one hit which drove in two runs.

Tom Jordan was the one-man show of the Roswell team. He clubbed a single, double, triple and homer in five trips to the plate.

Ernie Nelson worked on Manager Bob Crues, but good, setting him down with nothing for three at the plate.

Umpires Brown and Quigg didn't doubt on anything. Fans howled their disapproval.

Henrich Blasts Out Ninth-Frame Homer As Yanks Edge Sox

NEW YORK — (P) — Tommy Henrich, the "old pro" of the New York Yankees, came through again Saturday, socking a two-run, ninth-inning homer to give the Bombers a 4-3 triumph over the Boston Red Sox.

Gene Wundling singled to start the ninth. Henrich then shot a Tex Huggins pitch into the lower right field stands to break it up. The blow was Henrich's third-bagger of the season and the second one he has hit in the ninth to win a game.

Frank Shea, who pitched the ninth, received credit for the victory. It was Shea's first appearance of the season.

The score: R.H.E. Boston: 000 000 210 3 6 0 New York: 000 020 002 4 6 2 Dobson, Huggins and Tebbetts; Byrne, Page, Shea and Berra.

Skiing's New Look

An unusually large snow pack still exists in the Donner Summit, Calif. ski area, and spring skiing is being enjoyed. Halters, shorts and sun-tan oil having replaced woollens, Margaret Ann is dressed in what is now the typical uniform for the sport.

New Champs Loom In Schoolboy Meet

More than 500 athletes will swarm into Austin next weekend for the thirty-ninth annual Texas Interscholastic League track and field meet. New champions in all three divisions appear certain.

One overall state record is likely while nine divisional marks are in grave danger.

Corpus Christi is an overwhelming favorite to win the Class AA championship. Falfurrias appears the best bet for the Class A title, while White Oak should take the Class B crown.

The overall discus throw record of 155 feet, 8 1/2 inches, set last year by Byron Townsend of Odessa, is likely to tumble before the flip of Lawrence Strickland of Tyler, who turned in 164 feet, 3 inches in the regional meet this year.

Four records in danger Four records in Class AA are endangered. The 440-yard dash mark of 50 flat, set by John Trevisan of Corpus Christi, may take a beating from Billy Ed Daniels of Kerrville, who did the event in that time in the regional. The 220-yard dash mark of 21.5 made by Carl Mayes of Pampa also may fall before Daniels, who has turned in 21.7 and Bobby Dean of Corpus Christi, who had 20.5 with a strong wind at his back. The broad jump record of 21 feet, 6 inches made by Jimmie Mash of Corsicana could tumble before John Cavlier of Austin, who has gone 21 feet, 11 3/4 inches. Strickland is due to erase the discus record held by Townsend.

In Class A there is bound to be a new record in the 440-yard dash because last year—the first time this division had its own meet—the winner was disqualified and no time was allowed. In the pole vault Melvin Barfield of Athens, who tied for first last year at 11 feet, 13 3/4 inches this year.

Irish Team in Threat In Class B Irwin could wipe out the 440-yard relay record of 45.4 set last year by Richland Springs. Irwin has done 45.85 this year. However three members of the Richland Springs team are back and just how fast this team is this year is not known.

The mark that appears destined to fall if any do is the 880-yard run in Class B. Vernon Dutton of Junction set the record of 2:04.0 last year. This year Dale Gosnell of Spring Hill already has turned in 1:58.7.

Bob Sagesar of Harper might top the pole vault record in Class B. It is 11 feet, 3 inches, set by G. W. Walker of Junction.

Preliminaries in all divisions are scheduled Friday with finals Saturday.

Midland Colts To Play Grandfalls

The Latin American Midland Colts will play the Grandfalls All-Stars in a baseball game scheduled at 3 p.m. Sunday in Grandfalls. The Colts have a one and one record for the season.

The Slaton Tigers will come to Midland for a game with the Colts next Sunday.

The Aggies paraded four pitchers and the Frogs clubbed them for eight safeties in addition to drawing nine walks.

Durocher Suspended

(News Syndicate Copyright from NEA Telephoto)
Fred Boysen, 24, has been admitted to a New York city hospital, for abdominal bruises which he said he suffered in a fight with New York Giants Manager Leo Durocher. Here, Durocher (No. 2) is escorted from the field after the alleged fight with Boysen by Johnny Rigney (No. 18) and Freddy Fitzsimmons (No. 6). To the right of Fitzsimmons is Coach Frankie Frisch, who apparently is yelling at Boysen to get out of the park and points to the exit. Other players in photograph are: Walker Cooper (7), Johnny Mize (15), Willard Marshall (27) and Sid Gordon (30). Note Boysen's hat on ground directly behind Durocher, where the scuffle apparently took place.

Bulldogs Drop 5-3 Battle To Lamesa

LAMESA — The league-leading Lamesa Tornados outlasted the Midland Bulldogs in a 5-3 baseball game here Friday afternoon. Midland drew first blood with one run in the first inning and two in the second but couldn't hold.

Ray Williams, a left-hander, started for the Bulldogs but was knocked out of the box in the third just after Midland had disposed of Lamesa's starter, Roy King, in the second.

Frank Roberson relieved for Midland and Bill Hart came on for Lamesa. They both pitched shutout ball after the third.

Midland Scoring: Marion Tredaway scored the Purple's first run. He walked to open the inning and scored on Larry Buckingham's single after Jimmy Conline had sacrificed.

Walks by Roberson, Williams, and Conline and a single by Dee Bivens produced two runs in the second.

Lamesa scored all five of its runs in the third when Williams lost his stuff.

The Bulldogs will play in Abilene Monday afternoon.

The score: R H E

Storybook Script Goes Haywire

SEATTLE — It was one of those storybook scripts: The bases full, one out in the last of the ninth, the score tied 3-all, and the count three and two on high school pitcher Bob Stephenson.

Then the script went haywire. It was raining hard, so Umpire Leo Taylor called the game.

Membership Drive Is Scheduled For New Country Club

The board of directors of the Ranchland Hills Country Club Saturday announced the organization will open a membership drive soon in an effort to increase the number of members to 500. The club previously had planned to have only 150 members.

Work on the first nine holes of the golf course is nearing completion. Ralph Plummer, Fort Worth golf course architect, has been engaged to construct the greens and plan the general layout.

Plans for enlarging the clubhouse are being worked out. Club members and visitors have been invited to inspect the course Sunday. The entrance is two miles north of the rodeo grounds.

Ponies Beat Owls On Walker's Long Fly

HOUSTON — A long fly by Doak Walker in the ninth inning scored the winning run Saturday as Southern Methodist defeated Rice Institute 5 to 4 in a Southwest Conference baseball tilt.

Walker's fly to left field scored Reid Williams, who had started the winning rally with a single, moved to second on a sacrifice and to third on a single by Billy Bliss.

'I Did It, Not Leo,' Says New York Fan

NEW YORK — (AP) — A Giant fan said Saturday it was he and not Leo Durocher who "accidentally kicked and tripped over" Fred Boysen at the Polo Grounds Thursday afternoon.

George Cronk, 33-year-old railroad fireman, said he had submitted a signed affidavit of the incident to the New York Giants. Earlier Saturday the Giants said they had received 100 statements supporting Durocher from persons at the game.

Boysen, a Brooklyn fan, said Durocher punched and kicked him after striking him from behind on the playing field after the game.

Durocher denied it. He was suspended from baseball Friday by Commissioner A. B. Chandler pending an investigation.

Cronk said the following was the substance of his statement to the Giants: "I watched the game from behind the Dodgers' dugout. Durocher was in front, coaching at third base. After the game I went out on the field, following Durocher, the other players and the fans toward the exit."

Lost Balance Fell
"Just after I passed second base, Boysen made a lunge toward Durocher. He apparently must have touched Lippy, because I saw the manager swing his left elbow around and touch the man. But Lippy did not look back. Boysen lost his balance and fell."

"I was so close behind him, I couldn't help myself. I tripped over him. I suppose I kicked him in the leg or some other place in so doing and then stepped over him."

"I apologized. I said 'Sorry' and then walked out of the park. I did not give the thing a second thought. At no time did Durocher see Boysen and at no time was Durocher behind Boysen. I was behind Boysen."

Voluntary Statement
"I remember hearing Boysen heckling Lippy while the crowd was walking across the field. His words weren't distinct, but they sounded as if he was saying to Lippy, 'You are still the bum you were in Brooklyn' or something to that effect."

"When I saw Boysen's picture in the papers I realized he was the man I tripped over. I assure you, Durocher didn't strike him at all."

Cronk said he submitted the statement to the Giants voluntarily.

Seventh Inning Rally Gives Tribe Win Over Rockets

Sam Van Hoozer Puts Out Fire To Take 12-7 Victory

The Midland Indians, minus their Manager Harold Webb from the sixth inning to the end, just wouldn't be beaten by the big bats of the Roswell Rockets Saturday night at Indian Park here. The Tribe broke loose for seven runs in the seventh inning to cop a 12-7 decision. It evened the series at one game for each team here and two each for the season.

The umpiring was just as bad as ever and Webb let Philo Ump Quigg know about it, too strongly. When he kicked dirt in a show of disgust, the boy in blue thumbed him from the park. That was all the Indians needed to arouse their fight and spunk. Clay Stars

Lefty Levi Clay started for Midland and lasted five innings. He allowed the Rockets two runs in the fourth on a single by Mel Neuenendorff and a double by Tom Jordan plus two wild pitches. Clay walked Neuenendorff to open the sixth, served Jordan another double ball and Bob Crues lost one over the centerfield fence to drive them in. Exit Mr. Clay and enter Sam Van Hoozer. Van Hoozer topped the first two men in order but Catcher Kenny Dilldine singled and Pitcher Vic Michalec homered over the right-field fence to give the Rockets five big ones in this inning. Van Hoozer closed the door from there while his mates, aided by himself, worked over three Roswell choppers.

The Indians scored one in the second on two walks. Julian Pressley crossed the plate on Martin Filigamo's infield out. They picked up another in the third when Hughes got life on a fielder's choice after Clay had walked. Sitter singled him around. A double by Sitter and a single by Pena produced another one in the fifth. In the sixth, Filigamo singled, Kenny Jones, pinch-hitting for Boatman, doubled and Rose singled to give Midland a pair of runs. The roof fell in on Michalec in the seventh. Pena singled, Carrie Nipp pinch-hitting for Ogden, doubled, Filigamo singled, Jones drew life on a fielder's choice, forcing Filigamo. Slugger Sam Van Hoozer then aided his own cause with a single. Michalec headed for the showers. Mier came in to put out the fire.

PHILADELPHIA—(P)—A pair of home runs, each coming with a man on base, accounted for all Washington's tallies in a 4-3 victory over Philadelphia Saturday. Washington 002 000 200 4 11 1 Philadelphia 010 000 002 3 8 1 Calvert and Evans, Coleman, Harris and Astroth.

Boudreau's Book Is Devoted Partly To Bill Stewart's Calls

By FRANK ECK

AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor NEW YORK—Lou Boudreau's new book "Player-Manager" makes interesting reading, especially those pages he devotes to Umpire Bill Stewart's decisions on crucial close plays in last October's World Series.

Boudreau, Cleveland's shortstop-manager, still insists the National League umpire made two bad calls against the American champions in their series with the Boston Braves. On one of the decisions, Louie is writing through his hat. The particular item with which I find fault concerns a play in the fourth game before a Saturday crowd of 31,877 in Cleveland. In the last half of the first inning, Dale Mitchell led off with a single through the box and advanced to second as Larry Doby grounded out. Boudreau then lined a hit along the right field foul line, scoring Mitchell. Well here are Lou's exact words in the book:

"Unfortunately, I tried to stretch my hit to a triple and Umpire Bill Stewart called me out on a close play at third. I thought I had slid under the tag (Bob Elliott made the tag) and exchanged a few hot words with Stewart, but as always, the umpire has the last word. I was still out."

The last time I talked to Boudreau while he was wearing his baseball uniform was in his dressing room in Cleveland. He had this to say:

"As I ran towards second base I looked up and saw the ball hitting the right field fence and that Tommy Holmes was after it. After passing second I looked back (Bill McKee, third base coach) and he had his hands up. This was a signal to hold up (second base). But it was too late to do anything about it."

This, if anything, was an admission by Louie that he was out. His quotes got a good play and it's surprising that Lou failed to mention them in his book. And they weren't uttered while he was cooling off.

Boudreau also goes into detail on the widely-discussed pick-off play and refuses to give an inch. It happened in the first game in Boston in the eighth inning while Bob Feller of the Indians and Johnny Sain of the Braves were pitching their hearts out in a scoreless tie.

"There wasn't then, and there cannot be now, any question but that pick-off attempt on Masi (Phil Masi, Boston catcher, who was on second) was the key play of the game," Louie Boudreau said. "All of us on the Cleveland club who were in a position to see the play felt that a mistake was made. Many persons who saw the game agree with us and so, of course, do millions of people who have studied the still photos of the play. I would point out, however, that photographs are notoriously unreliable in judging close baseball plays. The angle from which the photographer works can have a tremendous effect on the picture. I would also like to point out that I am not belittling Umpire Stewart's judgment. He was in position to call the play and he called it quickly and with forcefulness. This much I do think. I tagged Masi on the arm instead of on the leg because he dove back to the base instead of sliding, and I regard it as most likely that Stewart's head was down, looking for the tag at the base, while I was busy tagging Masi on the arm. That is the only explanation I can think of to account for the wide difference of opinion between Bill Stewart and me. I didn't even think the play was close; Bill ruled exactly the opposite."

The book, in which Boudreau is assisted by Ed Fitzgerald, covers a lot of territory—Louie, Anna Wolf, Walter Putnam and James Gaddy, Jr.

Jerry Hennessey, huge end on the Santa Clara football team, served in both the Army and the Navy in World War II.

Daily Baseball Sheet, Similar To Racing Form, Now Being Published In Big Cities

By HARRY GRAYSON

NEW YORK—(P)—With all the talk relative to off-track betting, you'd suspect some mean persons were trying to run the poor bookmakers out of business. But the way baseball is taking over in a wagering way, the books probably can't handle all the play anyway.

Something new this Spring is the Daily Baseball Form, covering the major leagues, and strikingly like the one pored over by horse players.

The Giants' poor pitching is no top secret, but a quick look at the chart reveals: Hartung, September 3, at Brooklyn, Poor—KO in 4th.

A line is given on all the likely pitchers of the day. Poor—Hard hit. Bad—Hit hard—No Control.

Janet Hightower Wins Cowgirl Title At Collegiate Rodeo

ABILENE—(P)—Leon Jones, rough and ready cowboy from Texas Tech, won the championship all around cowboy award Saturday night in the Third Annual Hardin Simmons University Intercollegiate Rodeo.

He took home a hand-tooled saddle.

Jones built up his points by winning the calf roping, one go-round of the bulldogging and the wild cow milking.

Janet Hightower, also of Texas Tech, was named all-around cowgirl champion. She won the title over Wanda Jo Windham of TCU.

Harley May of Sul Ross, cowboy champion of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo two weeks ago, was runnerup to Jones.

Eligibility Of Pampa Athlete Challenged

AMARILLO—(P)—Principal J. C. Knowles of Borger High School said Saturday he was protesting the eligibility of Derral Davis, Pampa's all-around athlete.

Knowles said he would question the eligibility of Davis as a baseball player on grounds the boy accepted meals at various colleges visited, thus violating the Texas Interscholastic League amateur rule.

How ya gonna keep track of those things or maybe we have a middle sheet inserted in the handy four-page leaflet.

Then with Floppy Hartung rated poorly, he beats the Dodgers with four hits, striking out seven. Pee Wee Reese, Duke Snider and Cal Abrams looking at third strikes.

But, then, the Daily Racing Form doesn't guarantee winners either.

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —

If the farmers and ranchers last week were grinning, they are laughing now. It has been a long time since they have had cause to be so jubilant and so optimistic. The rains have continued through another week, putting this territory in the best shape in eight or nine years.

Few if any ranchers or farmers in this section of West Texas have failed to get some rain, and practically everyone agrees the country is getting back into good condition.

And the popular question among stockmen and farmers around the hotel lobbies, "How much did you get?" continues with the wet weather. Some of the boys, of course, maintain they haven't received much moisture, but the smiles on their faces and their expressions in general reveal they are pretty well pleased with range conditions.

One rancher said Friday this country now is in just as good shape as any.

The wild flowers, grass and weeds are coming out everywhere and the few cattle left in this area will eat well this spring. The last big wild flower crop, as we recall, was in 1941. This spring may be even better.

Texas as a whole has received moisture during the last three or four weeks. Some sections have had too much rain, and damage has been extensive in some areas. Most of the country to the South is well dampened, and farmers are wishing for sunshine and warm weather for a while.

The Associated Press reports the Rio Grande Valley may produce a record cotton crop this year. If the yield is as good as 1948, the crop may total about 420,000 bales. J. A. Aldridge of the State Department of Agriculture says that would be almost 100,000 more than last year's record 322,458 bales.

That Pampa expects to have a million-bushel grain elevator ready for the 1949 wheat harvest also is reported by The Associated Press. It will be one of the largest grain elevators in the hand.

Texas cotton consumption totaled 12,769 running bales in March, six per cent above February but 13 per cent below a year earlier, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research says in a recent report.

Two new courses, dairy cattle breeding and marketing of eggs, have been added to the animal husbandry curriculum at Texas Technological College for next year. The first course, dairy cattle breeding, will instruct in the techniques or artificial breeding to build up individual dairy herds. Marketing of eggs will include all phases of handling and testing eggs; the best storage and transportation and final market responsibility. Both courses are for advanced and graduate credit.

Manufacture of Texas dairy products in March amounted to 43,429,000 pounds, milk equivalent—a 26-per cent increase over February and a 10-per cent gain over March of last year, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

Do you need any farm building or equipment plans? Are you looking for ideas on how to build a cattle feeder or a barbecue furnace? If so, check with the county agent or home demonstration agent, advises the Texas A&M College Extension Service.

The agents have a 1949 model catalogue was compiled by W. S. Allen, extension agriculture building engineer of Texas A&M College. It also contains a listing of many supporting publications on any subject dealing with or about the farm.

First thing in the catalogue is a list of plans for houses of two to nine rooms. Next are plans for barns—general purpose, beef cattle, horse and mule or dairy barns. No fewer than 19 different five-room house plans are listed. Also there are 10 different plans for six-room houses. Twenty-one different general-purpose barns and seven horse and mule barns are among those plans in the list. Plans for other facilities also are listed.

We predict overflow crowds for each performance of the 1949 Midland Rodeo. The last show will set a new attendance record. Wait and see.

Thirty Brahman roping calves have been purchased from Earl Henson of San Angelo by the Crane Roping Club. The calves weighed 160 pounds and brought $65 a head.

Henry Butler of Midland bought the Crane club's first bunch of calves at $60 a head. They were getting too big for roping purposes.

Plans for handling the 1949 cotton classing and market news services available to farmers without cost under the Smith-Doxey Act have been announced by H. J. Matejovsky, in charge of the Abilene office of the cotton brand and Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"Farmers should apply for these services just as they did last year," Matejovsky said.

To be eligible for the free cotton classing and market news services, he pointed out farmers must meet these requirements:

1. Belong to a group of farmers organized to promote the improvement of cotton.

2. Plant part of his acreage in the variety of cotton adopted by the group.

3. File an application as soon as the cotton is planted.

funds to aid in sending the Odessa High School Band to New York this Summer. The band has been named the official band to represent Texas at the Lions International convention there.

Purses totaling $3,000 will be offered to professional rodeo performers who are expected from all parts of the nation. The rodeo producer is Harold Brown of Dublin, Texas.

Scientists of the Mexico-United States Commission for the Eradication of Foot and Mouth Disease, it is reported, are becoming concerned over the wide-spread feeling of over-optimism prevalent in Mexico and the United States regarding the progress made to date in the fight against the disease. Although 65 per cent of the infected area already has been vaccinated once, it is too early to make predictions of any sort, they claim.

It is believed that the vaccine being produced in Mexico in large quantities is as effective as the best European vaccines, but so little is known about Africa that none will say that vaccination is the solution of the problem. It may be said, however, that, combined with quarantine, extermination, inspection, and disinfection, it has produced favorable results thus far.

Marion Wilkerson, Johnny J. Phillips and Frank Powell are among Glasscock County 4-H Club boys who already have calves on feed. H. M. Fitzhugh is the Glasscock County agent.

Administration Hopes For 'Trial Run' In Hog Market On New Agricultural Plan

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Truman Administration hopes to give its new farm program a "trial run" in the hog market this year. By this it hopes to win congressional approval for the entire plan.

Its leaders believe both consumers and farmers will go for the program in a big way, once they have seen it in action.

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan requested he be allowed to apply the program's principle to the hog market soon.

There are indications Congress may agree.

In its broad outline, the new plan is in some ways similar to the present program.

The major difference is in their method of assuring farmers prices designed to keep them fairly prosperous.

The present program takes a part of the farm output off the market when prices fall below predetermined levels.

The new plan would use a different method. The Administration says, in effect, removal of supplies for the market is bad. Why? Because it takes away food consumers need. Also because it makes the public pay through taxes to finance the program.

It should be explained that the present method of supporting prices of storable crops—such as cotton, tobacco, wheat, corn, rice, other grains, peanuts, flaxseed, soybeans, dry beans and peas, and wool.

Likewise, it would keep provisions of the present program designed to keep government purchases and reserve stocks from becoming excessively costly and large. Those provisions include planting allotments and marketing quotas, devices used to limit production to a desired level.

But on perishables—pork, beef, lamb, milk, dairy products, eggs, poultry, and major fruits and vegetables—a big change in price-support method is proposed.

In some cases—dumplings. Under the existing program, the government must step into the market and buy a sufficient quantity of the perishables to keep producer prices from falling below a guaranteed level. Of course, there is no buying as long as prices remain above this level.

Foods bought by the government seldom ever get back into the market. As far as the public is concerned, they just were not produced.

The government sends them overseas or diverts them into less desirable by-products. In some cases, it has been necessary to dump them.

The Administration plan would allow the whole production of perishables to move into the market. It would not interfere with prices. If they fell below the level which the government said the farmer should get, nothing would be done about it.

The Administration says, however, the farmer would not suffer financially. It says he would get as much—and perhaps more—under the new plan as under the present one. If the free-moving price dropped below the return the farmer should receive for his particular product or products, the government would make up the difference in the form of a payment.

Consumer Also Benefits That is, he would get the difference between the average market price for a marketing season and the guaranteed return—not the difference between the prices he actually got and the promised return. This provision for paying him on the basis of the average price is designed to encourage him to make the best possible deal. If he got more than the average market price, he would be just that much ahead.

The consumer also benefits the way the Administration figures it. In the first place, the whole supply moves to market. None is drained out of the supply into less desirable uses or stored to hold up prices. If the supply is too large to hold prices up, the government guaranteed return level, the consumer gets lower prices.

Critics charge—and the Administration denies—that the plan would "regiment" farmers with a far-reaching new control system, and its cost would be too high.

President-Elect

Mrs. A. R. Aytes will be installed president of the Beta Delta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, as officers for the 1949-50 term assume their duties Tuesday night. The installation will be conducted in the home of the retiring president, Mrs. J. W. Thomas, Jr. Beta Delta is the oldest of the three Midland Beta Sigma Phi chapters.

Beta Sigma Phi History Shows Rapid Growth

Growth from ten charter members in 1937 to a present enrollment of more than a hundred is the record of the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority in Midland, which reviewed its own history in celebrating national Founders Day with a banquet Saturday.

The Beta Delta Chapter was the original group here. Norene Kirby, who later left Midland to live in New Mexico, was the first president.

Charter members who are still in the organization here are Lucille McMullan Johnson, Margarette B. Fine (now Mrs. J. H. Fine), Juanita Cox Sherrod, Mrs. Tom Potter, Willette Duncan (now Mrs. Riley Parr), and Madeleine Roberts. Area Council Formed

Other charter members were Ruth Pratt (now Mrs. Roy Johnson) Continued On Page Seven

The organization, a national honorary society for women teachers, is celebrating its twentieth anniversary of its founding. It was started in Austin by the late Dr. Annie Webb Blanton and 11 women educators of Texas, and now has spread over the nation with 35,000 members.

The Beta Kappa Chapter includes members from Midland, Big Spring, Odessa, Garden City and Sterling City. Miss Phyllis Ellis of Fort Worth is state president. Convention speakers included Mrs. J. W. Walker of Plainview, Mrs. V. K. Hejehala of Dallas and Mrs. Eunah Holden, former president of Florida Delta Kappa Gamma.

Seven scholarships are awarded to members at the convention for summer study at the seven state teachers colleges of Texas, and one $700 scholarship to be used at the University of Texas during 1949-50.

Banquet Celebrates BSP Founders Day

Yellow roses and the black and gold colors of Beta Sigma Phi reminded members of the three Midland Chapters at their Founders Day banquet Saturday night that they are part of an international organization of some 70,000 young women, all of whom celebrated the eighteenth anniversary of the founding Saturday.

Tables in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer were lighted with gold-colored candles set at intervals down center strips of black. Sprays of ivy were laid between the candles. Yellow roses, the sorority flowers, centered the speakers' table and were pictured on the place cards. Program covers were marked with the Beta Sigma Phi crest.

Mrs. Jack K. Doran acted as toastmaster for the formal banquet, which was attended by members of the Xi Theta, Beta Delta and Iota Beta Chapters. Preceding the dinner, three rituals were conducted marking the progress of members in the local chapters.

Four members who have completed in the Beta Delta Chapter the requirements for the highest rank, exemplar membership, were initiated to the exemplar chapter, Xi Theta. They are Jane Marie Johnson, Mrs. Noel Cason, Mrs. Charles Reader and Mrs. Howard Atwater. The second ceremony, the Ritual of Jewels, which signifies the transition of pledges to full membership, was conducted for Ann Baird, Verdie Barlett, Barbara Brannen, Betty Cooke, Joyce Hendrick, Mrs. Herald Hensley, Mrs. W. S. Kotch, Jr., Mrs. John Myer, Jackie Pounds, Mrs. Randy Rubin, Mrs. W. O. Stallings, Mrs. Duffy Stanley, Mrs. Robert Vutech and Billie Walker of the Beta Delta Chapter; Mrs. Walter Jasper, Mrs. Clyde Pederson and Dorothy Routh of the Iota Beta Chapter.

The remaining ritual, the initiation of pledges, was for Mrs. Joe Mims, Lily Marie Gilbert, Mrs. George Hatt, Betty McWhorter, Mrs. Jim Godfrey, Catherine Herndon, Mrs. Charles Patterson and Dorothy Routh of the Iota Beta Chapter.

History is Reviewed After the opening ritual and the invocation by Nellie Clark, the dinner program started with a welcome to the new members by Mrs. A. R. Aytes, president-elect of Beta Delta Chapter. Members who had taken part in the Ritual of Jewels responded with two songs, "Beta Sigma Phi Sweetheart" and "Song of Friendship," accompanied by Leta Harrison, pianist.

Mrs. J. H. Fine, a charter member of the sorority in Midland, sketched a history of the organization. Myra McReynolds, president-elect of Iota Beta Chapter, welcomed the new members.

pledges. Mrs. Lucille Johnson, another charter member, read a message from the national founder, Walter W. Ross of Kansas City.

"The Friendly Road," song which won the 1949 Beta Sigma Phi song contest, was presented by Lou Lemley. Mrs. Lloyd Zellner, Xi Theta president-elect, welcomed the new exemplars before Mrs. Doran toasted retiring officers and welcomed the new, and led the closing ritual.

Francine Falkon To Appear For Civic Music Association

When Midland Civic Music Association members hear Francine Falkon, contralto, in the last concert of their series for the year Thursday night, they also may enjoy the appearance of the singer, who is rated as a leading American beauty of the concert stage.

Tall and blonde Miss Falkon is a native of Minneapolis, of Swedish and Norwegian descent. She has appeared in a motion picture, "Here Come the Cossacks," and for three years was a featured singer on the "Howdy Doody" radio series.

Her concert in the Midland High School Auditorium will mark the close of the Civic Music Association's first season, and will continue the season's emphasis on young musicians. The Vienna Boys Choir opened the program series, followed by Devy Erlih, French violinist, and Gold and Fisdale, piano duo.

Miss Falkon does not depend upon youth and beauty for her appeal to audiences; her three-octave contralto voice has been termed "organ-like." "Thrillingly beautiful" and "profoundly moving" by music critics who heard her Town Hall debut in New York.

Judges' Viewpoint May Aid Spectators At Art Festival To See Artist's Aims

Judges in the Art Festival which will open here Saturday, the first such event for Midland, are to be from the Art Department faculties of three Texas colleges. The complete list of judges was announced recently by the Palette Club and American Association of University Women, festival sponsors.

Kenneth Loomis, head of the Art Department of the Texas State College for Women, Denton, Mrs. Troy A. Lockard of Texas Technological College, and Mrs. Maurice H. Martin of Hardin-Simmons University have accepted invitations to judge the entries.

Viewpoints Presented
To assist festival visitors in understanding the functions and viewpoints of judges in such a contest, Mrs. Leonard Swords, member of the committee which selected the judges, was asked to comment on the judges' position. Her article follows:

As we approach the time for the Art Festival we wonder what sort of pictures the judges will like. Decisions are never predictable, but it is a safe bet that whatever the judges select as the winning entries will be criticized by someone. There never was an art contest in which the selections of the judges found universal approval—for that matter, no group can agree about personal preferences, whether in paintings, music, food, or literature.

To put it negatively, we expect disagreement. We recognize and accept differences of taste and opinion in most fields, certainly in politics and religion, yet when we come to art, we seem to feel that our taste generally should be accepted.

Master Of Taste
How dull and uninteresting the world would become if everyone liked the same things! Art is so much a matter of personal taste that to set a standard of our own and to wonder why the rest of the world (including judges in art contests) does not accept it, is tantamount to asking all the world to prefer Limburger to Roquefort.

But whatever our own preferences, we realize that most art—certainly great art—reflects the artist who created it. There have been many attempts to define art just as there have been countless efforts to define beauty. But in spite of their diversity, most definitions take into account the personality of the artist.

It is this element which makes one man's paintings appeal to us when another's may "leave us cold."

This is why we may like the paintings of Rembrandt and dislike those of Rubens or Picasso. But at the same time we do not mean to imply that all artists should paint like Rembrandt or that all of the followers of Rubens should be suppressed.

The artist may at times be influenced by the demands of society or of a patron as were the monks who worked for the medieval church, or the moderns who engage to portray the products of a manufacturer, but the closer the artist is directed, the less "art" there is likely to be in his output. The more personal the artist's expression, the greater must be his freedom of selection and presentation.

Aims Are Varied
Since the invention of the camera the artist has come to be less concerned with copying what he sees before him. He wishes to achieve something which the camera cannot attain; perhaps it is a paint quality, a feeling for brush-work and pigments, or the artist may be interested in capturing the sense of loneliness of a deserted house on a hill-top.

Or he may wish merely to emphasize a rhythm which he sees in a landscape or a sequence of forms which he finds in the objects on his studio table. Just as the poet finds suggestions for a poem on God or love from the rain against the window, or the composer gets his inspiration from the rustle of wind in the crisp Autumn leaves, so the painter may take a clump of very commonplace objects as his point of departure for a "Symphony in Blue and Gold."

Family Party Will Observe HD Week

McCAMEY—National Home Demonstration Week will be observed by the Upton County Home Demonstration Council with a community party in the American Legion Hall at 10:30 p. m. Monday.

Exhibits of work done in the clubs will be on display, and entertainment will include 42 and other games. The public is invited.

For the spectator will discover new relationships, find new and stimulating experiences. These will be lost upon the observer who unhesitatingly exclaims, "Oh, I don't like that," simply because he assumes the artist should paint as he would if he were the artist.

The critical judge, therefore, may become a kind of interviewer for us, one who discovers new and exciting ways of seeing or presenting nature, and he passes on his discoveries—with his endorsement—to us. And we are grateful to him.

Pencil Improves Make-Up Skill

Point on this new eye make-up crayon is always sharp, thanks to mechanical sharpener concealed in case.

By ALICIA HART

NEA Staff Writer

The woman who wants to improve her skill as a make-up artist will welcome a new tool aimed at perfecting her craftsmanship. That tool is a self-sharpening eyebrow pencil which will always give the artist a firm, fine point.

Designed to be used for more skillful outlining of brows and more subtle markings at the corners of lids, the new pencil fulfills these functions admirably. To keep the point of the crayon whittled to a fine point, the plastic pencil in which it is encased conceals a sharpener which is mechanically simple to operate.

Supplied with the pencil are two crayons—one for refill purposes—which are available in a choice of colors, including blue.

Subotash was originated by the American Indians.

Veiling Can Soften Too-Clinging Caps

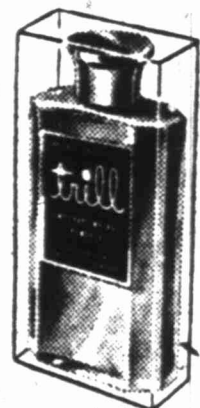

By ALICIA HART

NEA Staff Writer

If your little crocheted calot or other cap-like hat is a disappointment* because it clings too close to your head, there is an easy way out of this dilemma.

Soften and lift the entire face-line of the beanie by stuffing under its edge (far enough for concealment) a generous fold of veiling in matching color. Veiling is nice to use for building out needed contour around the edge of a too closely clinging cap or cap-like hat for three reasons. Veiling is puffy enough to "lift" the outline of the beanie without burdening your head. Veiling can be pinned for security to your hair. When you have to yank off your cap, you won't be embarrassed at any disclosure of your undercover aid, if veiling is used as a "stuffer."

The older woman who would like to tie a scarf around her head to keep her hair neat but does not like the severity of the effect, can relieve all of that by using a "stuffing" of veiling.

No Legends— State Government Seeks Proof On Oil Lake Yarn

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Staff

AUSTIN —(P)—Once upon a time—did a lake of oil float serenely on the slate blue waters of the Gulf just off Sabine Pass?

The attorney general's department wants to know. No legends, no tales, no story about what my grandpappy said. They want proof. And why they want to know isn't official. But it's a fact that they're leaving no drop of oil untapped to build up Texas' case for ownership of the tidelands.

This lake of oil—it last came to the surface in the Southwest Historical Quarterly of July, 1946. In that issue, Boyce House, newspaper columnist and a Texas historian, quoted a statement he said was signed in 1901 by six shipmasters and the harbor master of Sabine Pass.

These men said the oil pool was about a mile and half in width and four miles in length and had existed "from time immemorial."

The pool vanished in 1902, House wrote. Now, if it was there in the first place, what made it vanish in the second place, the attorney general's department asks. And why in 1902?

The Spindletop oil field, just a whoop and a holler away on the land side of the Sabine Pass, was brought in in 1901. "Is there any connection?" Assistant Attorney General C. C. McMillan asked. No answer.

Four centuries and six years ago Hernando De Soto and his wandering crew were wandering along in the Gulf of Mexico. On July 18, 1543, historians say, he left the Louisiana coast and ran into stormy weather. The winds and the waves grew worse and he beached his ship and proceeded to repair its hull with a tarry substance found on the beach. Historians say that was about three and one-half miles west of Sabine Pass.

That's the first mention of oil in Texas.

Then there's the account of the pioneer woman whose husband and children had been killed by the Indians. When the Redskins came back after her, she threw a bucket of heated oil at the first one. They all yelled and ran.

There are other early day reports of oil. But this lake of oil—the state government is interested in more information.

★ TEEN TALK ★

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP newscaster

Mother's Day should be an everyday holiday instead of a once-a-year proposition.

Some kids make a big thing out of that one day a year, lots of trimmings and presents, but then Mother is treated like an old shoe the rest of the year. Mother's advice goes down the drainpipe and she is tagged as an old fogey. If she had the slightest inkling that her advice was heeded, occasionally, hers would be happiness all year round. There is lots of satisfaction in a job well done.

Too Young For Dates
Here is a letter from a girl which shows that some kids do not stop to think about what mother's chief role is—to put her flock on the right path and blow the whistle when necessary.

"I am 18 years old and I want you to help me. All the other girls in my class at school have dates with boys in our class, but my mother and father say that I'm too young to."

"We are all together in classes and see each other after school, but my mother and father won't let me go out with boys in the evening. The other girls do and their parents don't seem to mind. I can't make my parents see it any other way. They say I'm soon enough."

"Now we're going to have a class dance, and all my friends have been invited to go with certain of the boys. No one has asked me, because they know the way my parents are. Should I go to the dance all by myself? Or should I stay home?"

"Don't you think, Vivian, that some parents are so old-fashioned that they are just ruining their children's lives? I'd like to run away from it all." (signed) Marjorie.

There doesn't seem to be any reason why you shouldn't be able to discuss this problem with your mother, Marjorie. Why don't you ask mother if you can invite boys to your home? Perhaps if your parents had a chance to know the boys in your class, things would be different.

The first thing to do then is to try to get permission to bring the boy back home. If he is the right sort, mother will be attracted to him. If he is not the right type for you, mother can tell immediately, and perhaps discourage you, which will be to your best interests.

After all most parents want to see their children happy. It is not merely to be spiteful that they try to discourage the attentions of people they feel unworthy of their children's companionship.

There are many instances, of course, where parents do not want to lose their children, so they will try to influence them to give up any and all other outside attachments. This does not happen usually when the girl is sixteen, however, but much later in her life.

A girl whose mother tells her that she is free to have dates when she becomes eighteen is not plotting to keep her daughter in hand forever. She just wants to make sure that daughter is capable of making a few decisions before she starts to date seriously. It is Mom's obligation to keep a watchful eye on her young. But if she does give permission to you for an evening out, she should trust you to be home at the appointed hour, and not sit at the window or on the porch waiting for you. This would, of course, make you and your date feel stupid.

Bridge Games Follow Luncheon Of Ladies Golf Association

Winners in the golf games on ladies day, Wednesday, were announced at the luncheon. Mrs. P. Howard received the award for low gross; Mrs. Harkins, blind bogey; and Mrs. R. K. White, high gross. A center arrangement of sweet williams decorated the luncheon table.

Guest List
Guests of the association included Mrs. E. Hood of Los Angeles, Mrs. E. B. Smith of Sapulpa, Okla., Mrs. H. C. Hood, Mrs. Charles Davis, Mrs. H. L. Beckmann, Mrs. Ray Siefert, Mrs. E. J. Lodges Slate Next Meeting In Odessa

CRANE—Odd Fellow and Rebekah Lodges of Odessa will be hosts for the next district association meeting, to be held in October, it was announced at the Spring meeting in Crane recently.

In the exemplification of degree work, the George Knauft Lodge of Odessa won by a narrow margin over the Crane team, winner of the cup at the last meeting. The cup must be won three times to become the property of a lodge. In competitive work, seven of the 18 first places were won by Crane members.

M. M. Madison of Sweetwater, past grand master of Texas Odd Fellows, and Mrs. Madison, a member of the state Advisory Board, were honor guests. An offering was taken for a chapel building to be erected at the State Home for Odd Fellows and Rebekahs at Ennis.

MOVING TO AUSTIN

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Churchill, 1204 West Kentucky Street, will leave Tuesday for Austin, where he will open a business for washing cars by a new process. Their daughter, Betty, will join them after her graduation from Texas Technological College, Lubbock, at the close of this term. She is completing pre-medical study, and will continue to work toward a master's degree at the University of Texas in Austin.

Youthful Chic For Mother's Day

By EPSIE KINARD
NEA Fashion Editor

NEW YORK—Moms hesitating to break the piggy bank for their Mother's Day finery can avert this crisis, thanks to smart dresses designed to fit fuller figures and slimmer budgets.

Designed to eliminate those fitting-room "extras" which so often

New Officers For Crane PTA Chosen

CRANE—Officers for next year, elected recently in the Crane Parent-Teacher Association, are Mrs. S. S. Pangman, president; Mrs. G. H. Wilmoth, vice president; Mrs. W. R. Marlowe, secretary; Mrs. Howard Evans, treasurer; Mrs. N. B. Clancy, historian; and Mrs. J. H. Davis, parliamentarian.

The projects committee will be headed by Mrs. J. E. Clark, with Mrs. K. P. Looney, Mrs. J. H. Davis, Mrs. V. N. Keyes and Mrs. Brady Nix as members.

Members voted to give two life memberships to persons selected by the executive committee. Virgil N. Keyes was the speaker on "Better Homes With the Help of Schools." Students presented dances under direction of Mrs. Inez K. Elmore.

rob a dress of its budget-price attractions are fashions in half sizes for women who are less than five feet, five inches tall. Nation-wide surveys show that 72 per cent of all American women can be classified as these "petites" with waistline and shoulder width not generally suspected. Therefore, half-size dresses are designed to accommodate this vast majority. The half-size dress obliges with a shorter hemline, a shorter and fuller waist, more room for shoulders.

There is nothing about the half-size dress, however, that robs it of its style distinction or youthful appeal. The half-size, even takes smart "sun back" styling which is usually confined to misses' sizes. Here's an example of the kind of styling which dresses Mom in as snappy a country-city convertible as her daughter. A sun-back top of brown and white polka-dotted crepe is combined with a fitted brown rayon shantung which makes the skirt and the cover-up jacket. When the jacket buttons up, all that is disclosed of the sun-back top's dual nature is a neckline bow of the brown and white polka dots.

Spring's popular redingote style is treated to the season's most youthful-looking print; navy and white polka-dotted sheer. Piped over a navy blue taffeta sheath, softened at the neckline with a large taffeta bow, the skirt of the redingote flares with finely pleated insets.

Texas Still Has Public Land For Sale In This Area

AUSTIN—State Land Commissioner Bascom Giles states there is still public land for sale in Texas.

However, not much of it, as Texans measure land. Less than one per cent of the once colossal public domain is available to high bidders as the unsold acreage has dwindled to a total of 1,025,875.70 acres. The total acreage of the state is 172,687,000.

This includes 172,355 acres in Midland County, 98 acres in Martin, 330.50 acres in Reagan, and 1,401.30 acres in Crane.

Not all of the one million acres can be purchased, Commissioner Giles explains. The land belongs to the Permanent School Fund and is administered by the School Land Board, of which Giles is chairman.

Oil Rights
"No school lands within five miles of oil or gas production can be sold," Giles points out.

When there is sufficient demand, the School Land Board authorizes the sale of specified tracts. A public sale is announced and information about the tracts supplied by the General Land Office upon request. Sale is by sealed bid; the high bidder, if conforming with all regulations, is the new owner.

The terms are 20 per cent down payment and 40 years to retire the balance at five per cent interest. The Permanent School Fund retains one-sixteenth free royalty on all oil production and one-eighth free royalty in sulphur production.

Church Women Will Attend Conference

CRANE—The Woman's Society of the Methodist Church will meet on Monday instead of Tuesday this week so that several members may attend a quarterly conference in Artesia, N. M., Tuesday. Plans have been completed for the group to serve the High School Junior-Senior banquet Friday.

Mrs. John E. Clark and Mrs. J. N. Whetstone, who attended the annual conference in Roswell, N. M. early this month, made their reports at a meeting in the church Tuesday.

Members present were Mrs. S. G. Barnard, Mrs. Cecil West, Mrs. C. A. Shaffer, Mrs. J. H. Davis, Mrs. Nolan Vickers and Mrs. R. O. Warren.

PATIENT DISMISSED

Mrs. Mahotah Muldrow, who was a medical patient at the Western Clinic-Hospital, was dismissed Saturday.

Texans In Washington—

Maryland University Teacher Plans To Settle In West Texas

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON—(AP)—An attractive, dark-haired Texas woman is one of the top faculty members at nearby University of Maryland. She is Miss Rosalie Leslie, for seven years dean of women on the College Park, Md., campus.

Although Miss Leslie calls Eastland home, she plans to settle in Fort Stockton in the distant date when she retires. She taught in public schools there for several years and thinks there is no place like that part of Texas.

She was born in Colorado City and attended school there. At one time she was girls counselor at Highland Park Junior High School, Dallas.

Her father was the late Judge W. P. Leslie, chief justice of the Court of Civil Appeals in Eastland until his death in 1945. Her mother has spent the winter in Austin, with a son who graduates from the University of Texas Law School in June. He is Charles Robert Leslie.

The University of Maryland has girl students from all parts of the nation. There are two principal reasons for this.

The first reason, Miss Leslie explains, is the fact that many are daughters of men who hold government jobs in Washington.

The other principal reason bringing out-of-state girls to MU is a romantic one. Some co-eds are there because they have boy friends among the midshipmen in the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. The two schools are close enough to make weekend dates convenient. A veteran Agriculture Department employee who graduated from Texas A&M College in 1908 has been awarded a certificate of commendation by Secretary Charles Brannan.

He is Charles A. Burnmaster, a native of McMullen County. An agricultural economist, he joined the department 37 years ago. He plans to retire next year. His commendation was announced at the annual "muster" of ex-Texas Aggies here April 21.

A Texas woman made one of the most forceful statements before the House Ways and Means Committee during its hearing on legislation to expand the Social Security Act.

Mrs. B. B. Sapp of Austin, director of the Teacher Retirement System of Texas, said she spoke for 88,000 members of the system, who oppose broadening of the act to cover public school teachers.

Beta Sigma—

In March, 1939, the first Area Council meeting of the sorority was held, with the Midland unit as hostess.

Members who had completed the required study courses necessary for exemplar membership formed the exemplar chapter, Xi Theta, in the Fall of 1948. By the following year the Midland chapters had started the annual social program which is traditional in the organization, with a Valentine Dance, a Founders Day banquet and a Mother's Day tea as highlights.

Growing membership called for organization of a new chapter, Iota Beta, in May of last year. Lafara Harblison has served as its president through the first year.

The three chapters assisted last Fall in the organization of a Nu Phi Mu Sorority group, composed of younger girls. The Nu Phi Mu is the "little sister" organization to Beta Sigma Phi nationally.

Founders Day marks the anniversary of establishment of the first Beta Sigma Phi chapter, in Abilene, Kan. The organization was formed April 30, 1921, by Walter W. Ross, still head of the national sorority with headquarters in Kansas City.

Beta Sigma Phi grew out of a group of literary clubs formed in Texas and Oklahoma in 1930, known as the National What-to-Read Clubs. Its aim always has been the cultural and social development of its members, and charitable and welfare projects have been added.

A standard program series is followed by members. The program outlines are titled "Conduct, Expression, Purpose," "Beauty, Paths to Loveliness" and "Happiness." A member who has completed this series is eligible for membership in an exemplar chapter, where further study courses are followed.

Annual Style Show

The organization became international in scope with formation of Canadian chapters in 1936, and there now are chapters in Europe and Japan. Travel has been added to the program with organized "Ramblings" conducted for members each year.

After the end of war work which occupied the Midland members several years, an annual Fall Style show was adopted as a project in 1947, with proceeds going to charity. The chapters here also participated in a state project, the purchase of a mobile x-ray unit for the Texas Tuberculosis Association at a cost of $23,000. The unit was presented at the state convention last November, and chapters decided to continue anti-tuberculosis work as a state project.

To coordinate activities of the three chapters, here, a City Beta Sigma Phi Council was organized in the Summer of 1943 with Jane Marie Johnson as the president.

Mrs. R. H. Frizzell, Jr., is president now of the Xi Theta Chapter, and Mrs. J. W. Thomas, Jr., of the Beta Delta Chapter. Mrs. W. I. Pratt is the Beta Delta sponsor.

Mrs. W. H. Sloan the sponsor and Mrs. DeLo Douglas director of the Iota Beta Chapter.

Cottons Revive Victorian Charm

Summer evening gowns spread their Victorian charms with bright, printed cottons. The bustle-back gown modeled by the dancer (left) is of floral printed cotton pique. Strapless decollete is banded with black velvet. Sue Howell, the "Maid of Cotton," (right) wears a hoop-skirted dress of plaid gingham which has matching ruffled-edge stole.

By EPSIE KINARD
NEA Fashion Editor
NEW YORK—The Victorian hoop and bustle will sway to 1949 five tunes on this Summer's dance floors. Designed to "wow" the stag line are printed cottons, dresses which might have belted out of a family album.

The bustle which stamps many such fashions as Victorian-inspired is usually a ruffled cascade or bow set at the waistline of a snug-bodied, full-skirted dress. Printed plaques which interpret this style make the most of splashy florals. The poppy makes a colorful motif for one pique print with a background of white. To pinpoint the Victorian flavor of this bustle-back, bare-topped dress, designer Fred Perlberg accents the full strapless decollete with banding and bows of black velvet ribbon.

The hoop helps another Victorian-inspired cotton formal to spread its charms. This multi-color plaid gingham dress which is a wardrobe choice of Sue Howell, this year's "Maid of Cotton," was designed by Emma Domb of San Francisco. Enhancing the Victorian charm of this hoop-skirted dress which features a full, knee-ruffled skirt and a waist-hugging bodice is a double-ruffled stole of matching gingham.

Home Demonstration History In Midland County Dates To 1928

Home demonstration work had its inception in Midland County in 1928 when Mrs. D. A. Ray, Mrs. J. B. Bartlett, Mrs. J. E. Wallace and Mrs. Pat Barber circulated a petition to obtain the services of a county agent.

More than 250 signatures appeared on the petition when it was presented to the Commissioner's Court. The court hired Miss Genevieve Derryberry as the first county home 1932, the county employed, with four other counties of this area, Miss Myrtle Miller on a part-time basis. Miss Miller, who was active in promoting a program for making foundation dress patterns, hook rugs, dairy projects and cheese making, served until 1935.

Miss Lura Hollingsworth was the next agent. During her stay in the county the clubs stressed making candlewick bedspreads and wool comforters.

In 1938 she was replaced by Miss Betty Jo Weiger, who served as agent for six months. Miss Alpha Lynn was employed from 1938 until 1944. She worked with the club women in making cotton mattresses, feather and cotton comforters and preparing cheese.

Mrs. Dalton Hall became the agent for the year 1944. She stressed making yeast breads and planning recreation projects. In April 1945, Mrs. Nettie B. Messick, present agent, began her duties. She is developing work on marketing, wardrobe planning and the Midland County Fair.

Mrs. Messick has introduced the leadership training program to Midland County. It is through this program that club women and 4-H Club girls learn skills and the method of teaching them to others, so that the trainees may take to their own clubs or other groups the information learned in a single meeting with the agent. This program has been used on subjects as varied as bread-making and community recreation.

Valley View HD Club Was County's First

Organized in September 1928, the Valley View Home Demonstration Club is the oldest HD club in Midland County.

It was due partly to a petition circulated by Mrs. J. D. Bartlett and Mrs. D. A. Ray, charter members, that Midland County got its first home demonstration agent.

Mrs. Bartlett is an active member in the club today and Mrs. Ray was until 1948.

This group is credited with being the only HD club in the county which has continued home demonstration activities when an agent was not working in the county. The members have been instrumental in obtaining salary increases for the agents, and in getting an agent when one was needed.

Mrs. D. M. Bizzell

First Officers
The original president of the Valley View club was Mrs. R. L. Porter. Mrs. A. W. Booth was secretary. The charter list also included Mrs. G. G. Jones, Mrs. Mary Tisdale, Mrs. G. C. Brunson, Mrs. J. J. Robinson and Mrs. W. G. Hudson.

Other past presidents are Mrs. Bartlett, Mrs. Brunson, Mrs. Ray, Mrs. Earl Fain, Mrs. B. L. Mason, Mrs. I. J. Howard and Mrs. Jim W. Baker. Mrs. D. M. Bizzell is the present president.

The club's current project is re-pairing the parsonage and former community school, which is now a recreation building. The members also have "adopted" a Belgian child.

Midland Girl Is OBU Recording Secretary
SHAWNEE, OKLA.—Faye Shelburne, junior student from Midland, Texas, was elected recording secretary of the Oklahoma Baptist University student council for 1949-50 in the regular spring elections Tuesday.

Another Texan, George Wilson, Sweetwater, was elected president. Other officers are Truman Kerr, Oklahoma City, vice president; Ber Deakins, Ponca City, activities secretary; James Yarbrough, Shawnee, representative-at-large; Thelma Rice, Shawnee, treasurer; Bill Neppure, Lawton, parliamentarian; Johnny Parker, Los Angeles, Calif., chorister; Reba Dickson, Oklahoma City, organist; Joyce Phelps, Yale major; and Forrest Jackson, Bako, athletic director.

OUT OF HOSPITAL

Pate Collins has been dismissed from the Western Clinic-Hospital, where he was a medical patient.

State HD Agent Stresses National Theme, 'Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World'

The theme of National Home Demonstration Week, which the clubs of Midland County will join in observing May 1-7, is "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World."

In Texas, the 40,000 members of nearly 2,000 clubs will give recognition to leaders and achievements in their own communities.

Women of the six clubs in Midland County, with a total membership of approximately 200, have planned a full week of activity under leadership of the County Home Demonstration Council.

Through special events, news stories and radio programs the club women of this county, as well as those over the nation, will tell their friends and neighbors of the objectives and accomplishments of home demonstration club work.

Maurine Hearn, state home demonstration and vice director for women for the Texas A&M College Extension Service, has announced that the Texas Home Demonstration Association and the Extension Service staff is joining in the observance of the week.

Special Message

In a special message to home demonstration club women, she says, "In observing this week in various ways as each community demands, I hope that you, as well as others who are not members of home demonstration clubs may realize the scope and flexibility of your organization. You are probably the largest organization of rural women in America."

"Besides mastering the many phases of home living that are available to you, you work as an organized group for many things that are beneficial to your communities, such as scholarship funds, libraries, health, safety, 'exchange programs' with other countries. Your responsibility to your communities, to your nation, and to other nations, is to help those who are not acquainted with the demonstration club work to benefit personally through it, and that you may benefit by the growth of your organization."

Other members are Mrs. E. S. North and Mrs. G. Z. Branch.

Classic Comedy To Be Presented By TCU Choral Club

A classic comedy-with-music, Gilbert and Sullivan's "H. M. S. Pinafore," will be presented in the Midland High School Auditorium at 8:15 p. m. Friday by the Texas Christian University Choral Club. The performance will be sponsored by the TCU Ex-Students Association of Midland.

Perhaps the best known of the Gilbert and Sullivan operettas, "H. M. S. Pinafore," has songs which frequently are heard on radio and other programs. It was presented by the TCU group on the college campus, and will be presented this week in Amarillo, Lubbock, Colorado City and Plainview as well as Midland.

Directed by Professor William J. Marsh, the cast of 42 persons includes an orchestra. Soloists are Floyd Lisle of Fort Worth as the R. Hon. Sir Joseph Porter, James Paschal, Amarillo, as the commander of the "Pinafore," Lou Marcella, New York, and James Morris, Greensboro, N. C., as able seamen; Walter Holmes, Pine Bluff, Ark., as the boatswain; Don Cobb of Longview, Wash., as the carpenter's mate; Betty O'Keefe, Pine Bluff, as the captain's daughter; Sherry Drennen, Stuttgart, Ark., as Sir Joseph's first cousin; and Georgia Mixon of Plainview as Little Buttercup.

Play For Posture

Ten-year-old boy checks his posture in the mirror at Penn State posture clinic after a bean bag has been placed on his head. To counteract weight of bag and to keep it from slipping as he walks around room, he stands up to good posture.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

If your Johnny or Susie is not as posture-wise as you would like, there are better ways than nagging to straighten out a slump.

Encourage your child to swing from horizontal bars and to climb trees. Also guide him through a simple exercise which is fun to take—with a bean bag, for example. These methods are better than nagging, if you need to train a youthful body into better posture, habit.

So says Dr. Ellen D. Kelly, posture expert at Pennsylvania State College.

Climbing and swinging from bars or ropes placed high enough so that a child must reach to grip them help to counteract the natural downward pull of gravity on posture, according to this expert.

So does a simple exercise which Dr. Kelly uses at her posture clinic and which can be adopted for the use of your child at home. For this exercise, have your youngster wear a bean bag on his head and keep it on as he walks around the room. By pushing upward against the weight of the bag as he walks, he will push his body into better alignment.

Another tip from Dr. Kelly is to have your offspring size up his profile view in a mirror while he has a bean bag on his head. His image will reflect the flattering change in his posture.

Footproof test of posture, claims Dr. Kelly, is to suspend a weighted string from the ceiling to within an inch of the floor and have Junior stand next to this plumb line. If he is standing erect, the string will pass his ear lobe, shoulder tip, middle of the hip and side of the knee.

New Method Announced For City Fire Alarms

A complete new method of handling fire alarms in the Midland Fire Department was announced Saturday by Fire Chief Jim Walker. The new alarm plan becomes effective Sunday.

Walker said no public alarm will be given on the first call in the future. The crew on duty will answer the call with two trucks, leaving one man at the station.

If it becomes apparent the blaze is too large for the regular crew, then a call will be sent to the station and the alarm will be sounded to summon the volunteer firemen. An alarm also will be sounded if a second call is received at the station, while the regular crew is out on a run. In that case, the fireman at the station will sound the alarm and will proceed to the blaze with one piece of fire fighting equipment.

Department Expanded
Four men were added to the Fire Department's regular staff last week, increasing to six the number of men on each shift. The department also has 10 volunteer firemen.

The increase in personnel was brought about due to the rapid growth of Midland. It has become more evident in recent months that the city needs a more adequate Fire Department.

The coming of the new system marks the first step in the eventual replacement of the Volunteer Fire Department. Luther Tidwell, pioneer Midland resident, was chief of the Volunteer Fire Department for more than 30 years. The first full crews of paid firemen were employed here during the recent war.

Members of the Volunteer unit who will continue to serve include Bill Greenwald, Lee Thomas, O. E. Reed, N. B. Beauchamp, Ben Biggs, G. D. Fuller, C. W. Blacklock, J. T. Baker, Athel Cole and Johnny Pliska.

Other than Fire Chief Jim Walker and Fire Marshal Bill Klatt, the regular force includes Captains Marvin Beauchamp and E. D. Fitzgerald and firemen J. L. Brooks, John Burke, Corbie Friday, Earl Baker, Hoyt Burris, Leon Griffith, O. A. Goodman, Jr., Walter Wesson, Odell Ponder and Grady Brown. The Department maintains substations at Midland Air Terminal where Melvin Little is chief and at Midland Airport.

Unit Commander

Col. H. W. Mathews, Midland unit commander, is the commanding officer of Midland's Army Reserve unit, the 4807th Logistical Training Division (Organic), which has been recognized officially by the Department of the Army. Orders recently were issued by Fourth Army Headquarters at Fort Sam Houston officially organizing the unit as an integral part of the Army Reserve training program.

Much Work Underway In Highway District Area

PECOS—Much work is underway in District 6, State Highway Department, according to information from district headquarters at Pecos.

Work has just been completed on a railroad crossing signal at Barstow, and two similar projects are planned by the department in the near future. At Barstow, the highway department installed signal lights at the intersection of Farm Highway 518 with the T&P Railroad at a cost of about $7,000 to the state.

A similar installation is planned at Pyote, at the intersection of Highway 115 with the T&P. In Monahans, a more elaborate system, to include cross arms and to cost approximately $11,000 will be installed in the near future. At the latter the signal will be at the intersection of Highway 82 with the T&P.

When the Pyote and Monahans signal projects are completed every state highway-railroad intersection along the T&P in District 6 will be protected by safety signal lights and bells.

Within the next 12 months, it was estimated, all of Highway 285 between Pecos and Sanderson will be paved. The unpaved section of the highway, all south of Fort Stockton, is divided into four projects.

The section from the Terrell county line (12 miles north of Sanderson) for a distance of 17 miles to the north is being shot with asphalt at this time and that work should be completed this week with H. B. Zachary as the contractor.

Projects Listed
T. C. Cagle has a contract for the next 17 miles north on 285 and that project includes grading, structures, base and asphalt surface.

Work has been authorized on still another 17-mile project, located just south of Fort Stockton, and plans are being made by engineers at this time.

Also work has been authorized on the 12-mile stretch between Sanderson and the Terrell County line. Plans are also being made on that particular sector of Highway 285.

The highway department has several farm-to-market roads in this area on the drawing boards. There are two in Loving County, two more out of Barstow (one for 5.8 miles extending northwest to serve farmers and another a distance of 2.4 miles to the irrigation southeast of Barstow), two more near Grandfalls irrigation district. All are to be black-topped and all

Rainy weather is indicated by a ring around the moon.

Famed Clown Will Perform Here

Ed Raymond, nationally famous clown, will be seen at Midland's Memorial Stadium May 13 and 14 when the Polack Brothers Circus plays a two-day engagement under the auspices of the Midland Shrine Club. The circus is complete with tigers, elephants, seals, dogs and ponies. Trapeze artists, acrobats and an army of clowns also will be featured.

Polack Brothers Will Bring Top Circus Acts To Midland

Featuring the best acts in circuses, Polack Brothers Circus will play Midland Friday and Saturday, May 13 and 14, under the sponsorship of the Midland Shrine Club. Proceeds from the circus will be used by the Shrine in their charity and activity fund, J. M. McDonald, club president, said.

Two shows will be presented each day, the Friday shows at 3:45 and 8:15 p.m., and Saturday at 2:15 and 8:15 p.m. Reserved seats for all performances will go on sale May 10 at the Midland Hardware and Furniture Company.

Among the internationally famous acts with the circus are: Mabel Stark and her group of trained Bengal Sumatran tigers; Hubert Castle, somersaulting king of the tightwire; Melita and Wilsons, recent arrivals from Sweden in their amazing perch pole equilibristic routine; and Adolph Delbosq's musical horse, Serenado II.

In addition Polack Brothers will present Roland Tiebor's educated sea lions. One of these mammals does the unusual feat of balancing on the tip of one flipper while balancing a ball on his nose.

The big thrill of the program will be staged by Miss Malkov, top-ranking feminine high-wire artist, performing blindfolded and without net below, and by Adriana and Charley, aerial tumbling stars.

Other featured acts in the huge two and one half hour performance are: The Strokas, iron jaw marvels; Four Flying Wards, on the swinging trapeze; Borza Kids, juvenile acrobats; Charlton Duo, sway-pole artists; amazing Billy Barton on the giant cloud swing; the Lopes Trio, horizontal bar wizards; and Dwight Moore's mongrel revue.

Charter Election Study Is Underway

AUSTIN — Why do municipal charter elections succeed or fail? The University of Texas Bureau of Municipal Research will attempt to answer that question through an analysis now in preparation by Research Associate W. Terrell Blodgett, of charter elections held in the state during the last three years.

In a field trip to 29 Texas cities, Blodgett is collecting information for the analysis and discussing salary and wage scales of city employees relative to another bureau project—a comparative study of compensation paid for 50 key municipal jobs in Texas cities.

Included in the booklet is a city map which shows the locations of some 31 public buildings, utilities, churches and depots. Every phase of civic life is covered in the 32-page, mimeographed book.

The information is complete and is arranged in an attractive manner. Practically any information that the newcomer might want about this city can be obtained from this new edition of "Facts."

92-Year-Old Has Yen For Motor Scooter

BROWNSVILLE —(P)—Samuel Souther, 92-year-old Brownsville night watchman, is ambitious to own a motor scooter.

Souther, who has been night watching for 33 years and who once fought against Pancho Villa, said: "I'd like me a scooter to patrol my beat. Never been able to afford one yet."

"The trouble with people nowadays is they give up too early in life," Souther philosophizes. "I aim to stay on this job as long as I can stand on my two feet. I feel good and I got a long way to go yet."

Born in Melrose, Mass., in 1857, Souther came to the border country from Oklahoma in 1910. He was a sign painter by trade and recalls that he worked at the profession "one place and another around the country" and that as a young man, he hired out as a laborer on farms in the Middle West quite a bit.

He began patrolling his present watchman's district in Brownsville in 1916.

Seven or eight years ago a man who tried to take advantage of Sam got shot for his trouble. According to Souther, this fellow was drinking heavily and was disturbing the peace in the neighborhood. "He was full of dope too and a tough one to handle," Souther recounts. "After we wrestled and bounced around for a while, he broke loose and tried to hightail it over a fence. I was forced to shoot him."

A few years after arriving in the Rio Grande Valley, Souther found himself in the middle of a war. "Since I was handy with a gun," he says, "I joined up with Gen. Emiliano P. Navearre in 1915 and helped keep Pancho Villa from capturing Matamoros."

In 1898 at the age of 41, Souther tried to join the American forces for the Spanish-American War, but he was turned down because the service required a man to be at least five feet four inches tall.

"At the start of World War I,

I was too old at 60 and still hadn't grown past five feet two inches," Souther laughs, "and by golly, I'm two inches too short to this very day."

On the job each night at 6 p.m. "Senior" Souther makes his rounds until first light hints the arrival of a new day at 6 a.m. "But I'm used to working while everybody else is sleeping taking my rest in the daytime," he maintains. "A body ought to be used to it after this long."

Two cases of diphtheria have been reported in Crane. Rev. J. J. Kendrick, formerly of Iran, will assume active charge of the First Christian Church in Crane on May 8. His family will move here after the close of the present school term. Plans for the building of a new church are going forward.

Mrs. C. G. Smith and children and Mrs. Clarence Key have returned from a two weeks visit with Mrs. Smith's relatives in East Texas.

L. L. Martin, superintendent of Crane Schools, has gone to Brookshire, Texas, where he was called by the death of Mrs. Will Gra. mother of Mrs. Martin. Mrs. Gra died Monday night. Mrs. Martin already was at her mother's bedside.

best time turned in to date at any rodeo since the organization of the Crane Roping Club. The club participated in a rodeo at the Roswell Arena recently and carried off nearly all honors.

In the matched roping the Crane club, represented by Henry Young, Merle Kelton, Johnny Rogers, Lowe, Bill Teague, Tiny Earp and Harry Cowden turned in time of 375.8 to the Pennwell boys' 567.2. In the first jackpot Leslie Poole of Pennwell had low time with 14.9 and in the second jackpot Merle Kelton stopped the clock at 11.4.

Billy Tom Cowden rode the Brahman bull to win first time, but that event was marred when Carl Estes of Monahans was seriously injured.

The fourth-grade students of Virginia Sharp's class room were taken on their annual picnic by the room mothers recently. The children were married to the Caliche Loop where games and stunts were played and a picnic supper served.

Miss Sharpe was assisted by Mrs. Troy Laxton, Mrs. W. C. Preslar, Mrs. Glad Lewis, Mrs. H. B. Baker and Mrs. Phillips.

Mrs. W. W. Allman has returned home following major surgery in Fort Worth.

Mrs. Bill Havin and granddaughter Darlene have been visiting the Eddy Suites in Longview. They returned Friday and Mrs. Havin was to begin employment with the Crane Memorial Hospital May 1.

Carrie Stephens of Fort Worth is visiting Evelyn Gilbert. She also will be a guest at the wedding of Miss Gilbert and Oddy Dunlap May 15 in Little Rock, Ark.

Midland Reservists To Take Special Course

AUSTIN—Lt. Col. Franklin B. Whitaker, Jr., of Midland is one of 13 Organized Reserve Corps officers of Texas who have been authorized to attend the orientation course for logistical divisions at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., beginning May 2, Col. Oscar B. Abbott, executive for the Texas Military District, announced.

A logistical division is a new type of Army unit designed to be a flexible organization for the support of combat units. It will take charge of the supply and administration in the zone of communications of a theater of war or in the zone of interior. It is made up of the combined services and is organized, trained and equipped as a basic nucleus around which a balanced service force may be built quickly by expansion.

Commissioned

The first case in a zone command in Austria in which an enlisted man was promoted to duty as a commissioned officer without previous duty as an officer, was that of Delvin C. Glenn, shown. He was commissioned a second lieutenant from the grade of sergeant. Glenn's sisters are Mrs. R. J. Eason and Nadine Anderson of Midland. His home is Alpine.

PECOS—An addition to his supply store is being constructed by Cecil Cottrun. It will serve as a warehouse.

"Be not only good—but be good for something," William L. Kerr, Midland attorney, told the 1949 graduates of Pecos High School at a recent event. Kerr is a graduate of Pecos High himself.

Mrs. Georgia Taff, Reeves-Loving Counties home demonstration agent, has a full schedule of future events including: judging a dress review at Fort Stockton; demonstration at the Circle H Ranch; demonstration at the Sunshine Center HD Club; barbecue of the Victory HD Club; 4-H Club girls picnic at Balmorhea; style show at the Madera Valley HD Club; and other events.

YES, THERE IS A CATHOLIC ATTITUDE

...on Big Business...on the Worker...on Fascism...on Race and Color.

"But," you may ask, "what do you mean by a Catholic Attitude?" After all, what has religion got to do with Industry and Labor, Wages and Profits?"

Just this much, friend. Religion is more than a Sunday morning affair—it affects every moment of your daily life. Life is made up of actions, one right after the other—and these actions are either good or bad. Religion gives us the moral standards to judge whether these actions are right or wrong!

It is a question of right or wrong—it concerns religion—if an employer deprives his laborers of their just wages...if a selfish group "corners" the market and works hardships on others...if a union calls a strike that will cripple the whole country's economy.

This is where the Catholic Attitude comes in. The Catholic Church would be failing its duty if it did not apply the law of God to the many problems that beset today's world.

When Christ lived among men, they learned from Him the Christian attitude toward the social questions with which they were faced. He refused to meddle in mere politics, but He was careful to tell rulers not to exceed their authority. He warned Pilate that he had no right to commit injustice for the sake of expediency. He rebuked hypocrites who took advantage of widows and orphans. He pointed out the right use of money and the moral obligations of the wealthy.

Of course, Christ said nothing about Communism, Trade Unions, or Capitalism. These questions did not then exist. But certainly to us they are every bit as important as those on which He spoke to the men of His day. And His voice is needed now to speak with the same authority for the solution of our difficulties.

Christ established His Church to teach all men to observe all that He had commanded—to direct them in the religion of every-day life.

It is for this reason we find the Apostles criticizing the intolerance of their fellow-countrymen and proclaiming the equality of the Gentile converts. We see St. Paul writing in great detail of the obligations of masters and servants, of husbands and wives. From St. Peter we learn about taxpaying and the obedience we owe to civil authorities. The Catholic Church continues this tradition today by expressing its attitude on the basically moral problems of modern society.

You will find it well worth your while to investigate the Catholic Attitude on matters that vitally concern us all: on Industry and Labor...Race and Color...Liberalism, Democracy and Communism.

Write today for a free pamphlet explaining the Catholic Attitude on these and similar questions. Ask for Pamphlet No. 10—KC.

WILL THE HOSPITAL BE COMPLETED?

If you want the facts, here they are: There is not enough money on hand to complete the Midland Memorial Hospital.

It's true, enough money was pledged and the project has progressed very well. Now, however, the money is running out. There is danger. There is great danger that the project will have to be stopped.

WHAT HAPPENED?

In 1948 a large group of progressively minded Midland citizens banded together to raise money for a much needed hospital in Midland.

The need was obvious.

The project was over-subscribed.

The majority have paid their pledges and the project has progressed as planned.

BUT... Many who made pledges months ago have since moved from Midland. They have forgotten or neglected to pay. Others who made pledges have postponed paying their pledges.

In short, the money has run out.

Hence this appeal is made now... before the project is stopped.

Money is needed. Please do your part. If you have pledged a monthly amount, please resume payments. If you haven't made a pledge, please do so. The cause certainly is most worthwhile.

More words?

No. Read more.

Polio could strike your home this very Sunday morning. Your Cutest-Little-Kid-in-the-world could be stricken.

What to do?

Hospital facilities in Midland are meager. Surrounding hospital facilities are over-crowded and much too understaffed.

Polio could strike your home today!

Friend, this is your problem. Realize that! It is much more of a problem than your rent, than your car payments or other bills. It's your job... It's your future.

It's the biggest single problem you have. You and your wife should discuss it in detail... and right now!

So... before you turn this page. Stop. Right now. Put down the paper, discuss this matter with your wife and write a check. Get up to date on your pledge... and keep up to date. If you have not as yet pledged money, please do so. For your own safety, for your own protection and peace of mind.

You have given and given and given to many a worthy cause. But you never have, we repeat never given to a more worthy cause, to a cause in which you, your wife and kids have more at stake. It's for your own protection and safety. It's like writing yourself a check. So, now... before you turn this page... won't you?

Farm Utility Room Provides Space For Diverse Activities

"Elbow room" for working as well as living is a must in the farm family's home, for so many farm tasks are done in the house.

In planning a new farm home it's a good idea to include a first-floor work or utility room for such diverse activities as separating milk, cutting up meat after butchering, storing canned or deep-frozen foods and washing clothes. This room might well contain a washbowl and a shower for the use of the men folk, points out a Title Council of America report on farm home design.

Suggestions given in the report include:

1. Check over the activities likely to be carried on in the utility room and if possible pre-test various proposed layouts for it. Expert advice can be obtained through the extension agent.
2. Select durable and stainproof materials for the floor, since it must take hard wear and abuse. One of the most satisfactory is quarry tile, for it is colorfast and never needs refinishing.
3. Plan plenty of storage space in the utility room. Work clothes, for instance, are one of the many items you probably will want to store there.
4. Use a waterproof and easily cleaned material such as clay tile on wall surfaces back of the washing machine and the washbowl. These are the places most often in need of a quick cleaning job.
5. Hire good workmen. False economies on workmanship mean disappointments and poor working conditions later.
6. Get good equipment for the utility room. A little extra outlay often means years of greater satisfaction and comfort in the use of equipment.

Poor Man's Philosopher Erupts Again

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—The poor man's philosopher says:

An adult has a sense of money. But a child has to grow up to it. Money isn't as funny to a child as it sometimes can be to a grown-up with a sense of perspective. Before he went to bed each morning a friend of mine had a habit of putting the change in his pocket on the bureau top. Then he would joke:

"That's what they paid daddy today."

One day his daughter said to him: "Don't we ever make more than five bucks a day?"

It was only then he learned his daughter had joined a social class above his own.

Another friend of mine has a timid son whom he is trying to make into a rugged citizen. When he complained he had been beaten up by his schoolmates, his father said:

"The next time you throw the first fist."

A few days later the boy, who was in the third grade, came home and told his father he had thrown the first fist when attacked. "What happened?"

"Well," his son replied, "She said mean things about me."

A woman with a mirror is never without a critic—or an admirer.

The hardest thing for an honest man to do is to admire himself. But he never quits trying.

Down Bob's Boulevard

With BOB SHORT

It has been said, from time to time, that the members of the modern generation doubt four-fifths of everything they learn.

Whether they disagree with Professor Einstein or contend that teachers never could be human, they always seem to be contradicting something. Some even go so far as to say that Santa Claus really doesn't use reindeer any more, but his own souped-up hot rod.

So when making a mad dash down Bob's Boulevard this week, your inquiring reporter set out to ask: "Is there something accepted as a fact, that you doubt?"

"Bet Snider—"The moon is made of green cheese." "The strongest substance is the diamond." "Wayne Richardson—"That the sun is an atomic explosion." "Gloria Crowe—"That it is necessary to take geometry."

"Myra Lumpkin—"That English is essential."

"Dois Thompson—"That farming is fun."

"Nick Harrison—"That I'm too young to do the things I want to cause when I'm in trouble, I'm grown."

"Dow Scott—"The theory of evolution."

"Sammy Koen—"That men gossip more than women."

"Peggy Miner—"That women talk more than men."

"Jereen Jewell—"That men can drive better than women."

"Betty Parker—"There's nothing I doubt."

"Wanda Wise—"Beauty is only skin deep."

"Loweta Wreyford—"That some people can't fall in love."

"Joe Winkler—"I doubt if a car will ever be made to run on jet propulsion."

"Tina Williams—"The fact that everyone I know had to walk at least three miles to school every day."

"Frank Merritt—"That women are the weaker sex."

"Tommy Strider—"Man is the most intelligent of all animals."

"Joe Dorsey—"That the red light on a street light means 'stop'."

"John Ratcliff—"About anything Bob Short says."

"John Lesli Hunter—"Money is the root of all evil. I think women are."

"Archie Row—"School days are the latest days of your life."

"Nancy Gray—"That black cats are bad luck."

"Carl Harding—"Absence makes the heart grow fonder."

"Louis Griffith—"That my car can run perfect."

"Lavern Stephens—"I've always doubted that Ripley's 'Believe It Or Not' is true."

"Wanda Mashburn—"Superstitions."

"Janell Bolin—"The way to a man's heart is through his stomach."

"Pet Emmons—"The fact that some people say that you have a wreck, your father will turn right around and let you have the car again just to prove you can drive."

"LaWanda Huckaby—"It is better to have loved once than to have never loved at all."

"Chris King—"They tell me that my car will run."

"Harland Allen—"A quitter never wins."

Fred Harvey presided as master of ceremonies over the banquet which was held in the Crystal Ballroom of the Scharbauer Hotel.

C. F. Mathews gave the invocation followed by a welcome from Frank Lane, Jr., and C. W. Chancellor, who represented the employers, gave the response.

'SENSE AND SENSIBILITY'—

Seniors Give Annual Play

By SHIRLEY BUNT

Many Midlanders were attracted to the performances of "Sense and Sensibility," Senior Play of 1949, staged Thursday and Friday nights. Presented in the high school auditorium, the play was under the direction of Miss Verna Harris.

Patricia Bray portrayed the leading feminine role of Marianne Dashwood, romantic daughter of Mrs.

Dashwood, Elinor Dashwood, sensible daughter, was played by Peggy Lou Whitson. Mrs. Dashwood was played by Sarah Lew Link. Lois Black portrayed the role of Margaret Dashwood the implish daughter. Sir John Middleton, Lady Middleton and Annamaria, their daughter were played by Bob Short, Mary Lynn Manning and Sara Kreischer, respectively. Dorothy Wolfe, Frank Blackwell and Jim McGraw portrayed the role of Mrs. Ferrars and her sons, Edward and Robert. Lucy Steele, a flatterer, was played by Carolyn Schaeffer. Her sister, Anne Steele, was played by Nova Rogers. Colonel Brandon was played by Jerry McDonald and Ken Nichols portrayed the role of John Willoughby. The maid Gibson, was played by Shirley Bunt.

The play was a story about Mrs. Dashwood and the complications of the love affairs of her daughters. The Dashwood household is one similar to many in that day. The main object is to get their girls married. Marianne meets the man of her dreams, John Willoughby, as a dream come true. Elinor, in her quiet way, has problems of her own as Edward, her lover is bound by a promise of his college days. Lucy being a flatterer, has tricked Edward into this engagement but Mrs. Ferrars seems to have different plans for him. Marianne finds her real hero to be a quiet, unselfish suitor. The play ends with joyous couples celebrating their dual engagements.

Eddie Jo Bryan was student director and Don Downing was stage manager. Assistants were Harry Lookamp, Duane Fritz, Dick Monroe, James Barber, Jack Mashburn and Li class members.

Joy Guyton, Nell Cole, Neal Adams and Patricia Pryor were in charge of make-up. Some of the costumes were from Dallas Costume Shoppe and some of the girls made their own. Mrs. Dashwood's costumes are from Amarillo Little Theater.

The furniture was from the Midland Hardware and Furniture Company. Ushers were Darlene Livingston, Dorothy Roderick, Glenda Shoemaker, Patsy Manville, Pauline Norwood, Joanne Montgomery, Kay Matthews, Wanda Vest, Nell Cole, Dixie Mears, Melba Clarke, Joy Mashburn, Freddie Stultz.

Reactions stated: Reaction from the play brought such comments as: "Max Allen—"The play was good and it was much better than the script sounded to me." "Mr. and Mrs. A. Boring—"We enjoyed it very much and the accent was very good."

Miss Josephine Weaver—"The setting was beautiful and the remarkable thing about the play was that some of the girls made their own costumes. The acting was very good and I was highly entertained."

Miss LaVera Harris—"For a costume play I think that they did a remarkable job. The costumes and setting were perfect and the accent was interesting."

Miss Helen Penn—"I thought the play was very well cast and entertaining."

Velda Pigg—"I enjoyed it very much."

Don't Take That—

(An Editorial)

This year the number of articles stolen at school has been amazingly high. Even though you haven't taken anything, it's up to you to keep up with your things because when a person sees a fountain pen lying around it is a great temptation to pick it up. If you do see a pen that looks lost, take it to office where it may be reclaimed. Let's watch and not have any more stolen articles reported.

First Division Choir

Stage Receives Long Needed Face-Lifting

Although the Senior Class Play went over big, all the credit isn't due just the class.

Don Downing, stage manager, hovered over the pre-play activities which were built around giving the old stage a face lifting.

It was a "fight to the finish" race to "Hoot" Harris, Leland Howard, "Christmas" Barber, Howard Ischer, and Frank Robertson to see who could spill the most green paint. But luckily enough, the boys put forth enough effort to make the walls above the paneling look spic, and span, and new.

Not to be satisfied with this achievement, however, the boys painted the floor and set them up to resemble a room.

That's why you probably didn't recognize the old stage. It got a face lifting!

Paint Vet's House—In Two and a Half Minutes

The slap-slap of brushes sounded like machine-gun fire when these 96 workers painted a crippled war veteran's five-room house in a record-breaking two minutes and 32 seconds. The $20,000 home belongs to Bob Hoelzie, 23, crippled by Jap gunfire on Okinawa when he was 19. It was given the former Marine by fellow citizens of New Brunswick, N. J. In recognition of his war record, Hoelzie, seated at left in wheelchair, beside his fiancée, Frances Elaine Noll, watches the sweeping second hand of the big clock set up to time the painters. All volunteers, they were members of Local 834 (AFL) Painters and Decorators Union. House won't be completely finished until just before Hoelzie's marriage to Miss Noll, June 12.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1949, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Waltham Watch Company lobbies through RFC; Republican Senator Baldwin realizes lifelong ambition; federal aid to education should roll through Congress.

WASHINGTON—(P)—One of the worst Washington lobbying rackets is to get a job with the government, then use it as a springboard to obtain a lush-paying job in private industry. Sometimes a government official almost seems to be working for the private company with which he wants a job even before he gets the job. Recently the Waltham Watch Company received a $500,000 loan from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. At the very same time it received the loan, Waltham hired one of the chief RFC officials who helped arrange the loan—John Hagerty, head of the RFC's Boston office. Hagerty knows nothing about the intricate problem of watch-making or selling; is a political protégé of ex-Senator Dave Walsh. But he handled the preliminary work for the Waltham loan, recommending it to the RFC in Washington. He was then getting a government salary of $10,000. But the minute Waltham got the loan, Hagerty left the RFC and went to work for Waltham at a salary of $30,000.

Query: Did Waltham offer the lush salary to Hagerty because he deserved it as a reward for helping swing the RFC loan?

Another RFC Loan

Again, the RFC has given a $3,000,000 loan to the Plywood Plastics Corp., of Hampton, S. C. One of the RFC officials who helped arrange it was Sterling Foster. And now Foster has notified the RFC that he intends to go to work soon for the Plywood Plastics, the same company which borrowed $3,000,000. Foster will just about double his salary, getting $18,000 the first year, and $22,000 by the third year.

Again query: Was this a reward for help in arranging the loan? The Treasury's Internal Revenue Bureau long ago got around this problem by refusing to let any of its retired personnel practice before the bureau until two years after resigning. But other government departments are lax, especially the Army and Navy.

One of the worst scandals in Washington is the number of high-ranking Army and Navy officers now working for private industry in order to handle procurement contracts with the Army and Navy. Many of them still draw pensions from the U. S. Government, plus income-tax, curtailments, in addition to their lush private industry salaries.

New Judge Baldwin
Senator Ray Baldwin's acceptance of a Supreme Court judgeship in Connecticut illustrates a point which many people don't realize—the wear and tear to which we subject our public servants.

Senator Baldwin has been active in Connecticut politics for 29 years—a long time in any man's life. During that period he was subjected to the expense and the physical drain of running for state-wide office in five elections in ten years. In other words, he ran for governor or senator an average of every two years.

During his 29 years in public office, a quirk of fate made it such that no Republican governor was ever in office at the right time to appoint him to the State Supreme Court—long Baldwin's chief ambition. Either Baldwin was governor and couldn't appoint himself, or a Democrat was governor and wouldn't appoint him. So, the other day, Gov. Chester Bowles, hearing of Baldwin's life-long ambition, offered him appointment to the Supreme Court, and the senator naturally accepted. He will not take office until December by which time major legislative matters will have been decided.

Note—Several years ago, Herbert Hoover, stung by Republican presidential timber, described Baldwin as the ablest governor in Republican ranks. As a senator he has also lived up to this appraisal.

Aid To Education
Federal aid to education, which was blocked in the 80th Congress, is now pretty well set to roll through Congress—the Catholic Church gives its blessing.

In the past, the Catholics have put up a fight because religious schools are not included in the program. But Senate Labor Chairman Elbert Thomas of Utah has taken quiet steps to obtain Catholic cooperation and thus assure smooth sailing for the bill. Thomas's first move was to invite two Catholics—Senators Howard McGrath of Rhode Island and James Murray of Montana—to join in sponsoring the bill. They were asked, however, that if the Catholic hierarchy took a stand against the bill, they would have to reverse themselves.

Although Thomas did not include parochial schools in the bill because of the constitutional divorce of church and state, he tried to woo Catholic support by proposing that parochial schools be included in a federal health program for school children.

Senators Brian McMahon of Connecticut and Ed Johnson of Colorado promptly offered an amendment which would make health benefits available to parochial schools as part of the aid-to-education bill. But Thomas, wary of linking church schools with the education bill in any way, proposed a separate bill instead. This would authorize $35,000,000 for health benefits for both public and parochial schools.

Thomas now hopes to push both bills through Congress at the same time, appealing the Catholics with the health bill and those against federal aid to parochial schools with the other bill.

Merry-Go-Round
New York's Loyalty Day parade today, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, should do more than certain witch-hunts to stimulate thinking about the good old U. S. A. . . . Look magazine takes a certain look at city across the river this week. . . . South Dakota Democrats have found a candidate they believe can beat Senator Chan Gurney in 1950—Huron's new mayor, Dr. John S. Tschetter. The doctor has been chief of staff at the Catholic hospital in Huron—though he, himself, is a Lutheran. . . . President Truman has asked his Council of Economic Advisers for an up-to-date memorandum of the U. S. economic condition no later than May 15. Truman may use this memorandum as the basis for a new legislative request to Congress on economic control. . . . The Ford Motor Company will reject all demands by the auto workers union for wage increases at this time. Ford already is paying top wages.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And The Black Crow

Greedy Grunt, you may remember, was a little pig who was very greedy. He always wanted the most of everything to eat, and he would do almost anything to get it.

He met Daddy Ringtail on the Elephant Path, there in the Great Forest, one day, when the monkey daddy was carrying some bananas home to the monkey house.

"Oh Daddy Ringtail," Greedy Grunt said. "I am so very hungry. May I have just one banana?"

Daddy Ringtail sat down on the ground and looked at Greedy Grunt. The little pig didn't look ones. Surely the next crow that comes along will be white."

But it wasn't. It was black, too, because all crows are black. I am told, and if you ever see a white one, you can be sure that it is another kind of bird and never a crow at all. But Daddy Ringtail gave Greedy Grunt a banana anyway, and Monday I'll tell you about Daddy Ringtail and the Bed-time Story.

Mexico Urges Ships Take 'Overland Route'

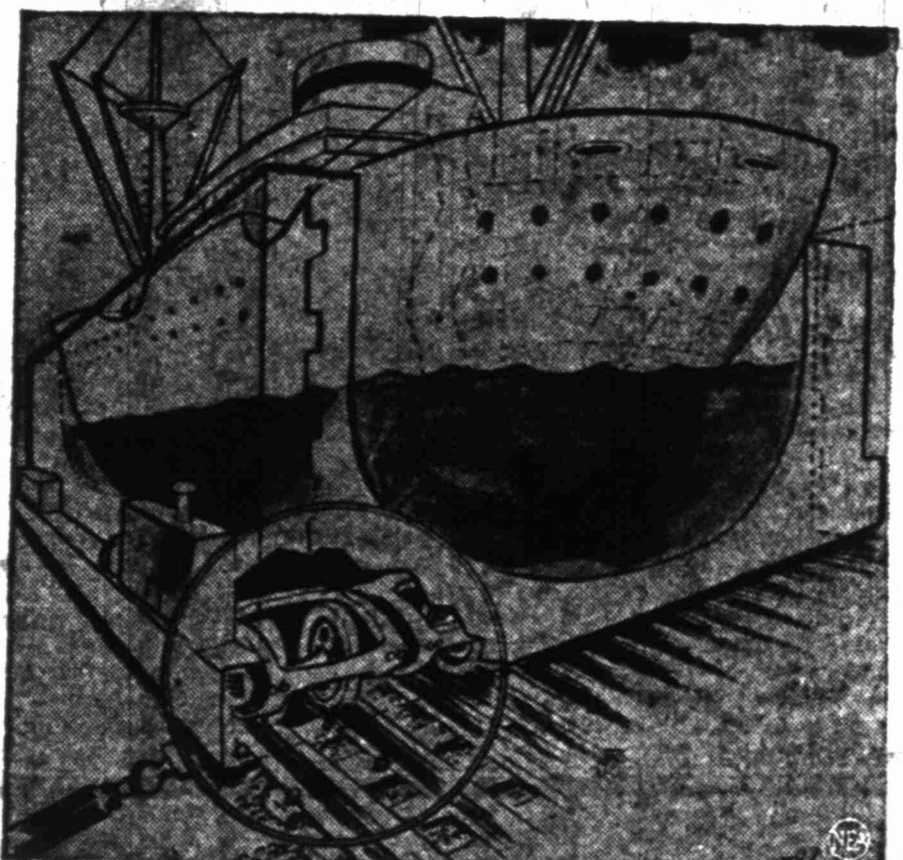

Mexico wants to build a gigantic multi-track railroad on which ocean steamers would ride from the Gulf of Mexico to the Pacific Ocean and vice versa. This, say proponents of the plan, would save 1,400 miles now required for the Panama Canal route. At the terminal points of Puerto Mexico and Salina Cruz, ships would steam into amphibious drydocks equipped with as many as 1,200 railroad wheels. These huge cradles, with ships locked inside, would travel 162 miles across the Isthmus of Tehuantepec on some 24 rails. Electric motors would push the docks along at 18 miles per hour. Estimated cost would be $306,000,000, which sponsors contrast with the $5,000,000,000 cost of a canal. Dr. Modesto C. Rolland, director of Mexico's Free Ports, is in Los Angeles to describe the plan and seek American financing. Artist's conception, shows how "ship railroad" would work.

Summer Employment Offered Reservists

Students who are members of the Enlisted Reserve Corps have an opportunity for Summer time employment. They can apply for a tour of active duty for 90 days with the Organized Reserve Corps Instructor in Midland, officials said.

Those without dependents will be accepted in their present grade and those with dependents will be accepted in the first three grades. Reserve Corps officers stated this is an excellent opportunity also for Enlisted Reservists who are presently undecided about their immediate plans for employment or schooling. A further important consideration is that each day of active duty will count one point toward Reserve-Retirement.
