Revised Labor Legislation To Be Sought

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 — Labor Secretary Tobin declared today that President Truman will demand an "entirely new labor law" legalizing the closed shop and providing a 75-cent minimum hourly wage.

Tobin, regarded as the administration spokesman on the subject, said Mr. Truman will spell out the kind of labor law he wants in his message to the new Congress when it meets Jan. 3.

The secretary told a news conference that "outright repeal" of the Taft-Hartley law will be the first step demanded. Then a new law will be offered containing these provisions:

Injunctions May Be Banned

1. Restoration of the legality of the closed shop—"any labor bill that is enacted will have this feature."

2. Elimination of the Taft-Hartley injunctive process that "puts the federal government into practically every labor dispute in the country."

3. A new method of handling strikes which create a national emergency.

4. Posible retention of the requirement for non-Communist affidavits from union leaders, but "only if employers are required to sign the same affidavits."

Seek Higher Wage Floor

5. Elimination of the requirement for union shop elections as "unnecessary and cumbersome."

6. Elimination of other Taft-Hartley provisions which are "unfair and slanted against American workers."

7. Enactment of a 75-cents-an-hour minimum wage provision. Tobin said this would raise the pay of two million American workers.

The American Federation of Labor meanwhile announced that it expects to take action at its Nov. 15 convention in Cincinnati to demand re-enactment of the original Wagner act.

The federation also will ask for an anti-inflation program, effec-

HST's Power In Congress Hiked

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8. (INS)—Rep. Martin (R-Mass), House speaker in the 80th Congress, predicted today that President Truman will have sufficient power in the new Democratic Congress to get whatever legislation he wants.

Martin, whose tenure as speaker expires when the 81st Congress convenes Jan. 3, explained at a news conference that Democrats would shoulder full responsibility for legislation. He pointed out that they would have a majority of more than 90 in the House and 12 in the Senate.

Asked for his interpretation of the "mandate" President Truman received from the people in last Tuesday's elections, Martin said:

More Taxes Predicted

"The responsibility for legislation rests with the Democrats. They interpret their own mandate.

"But I can't believe that Mr. Truman won't be able to get anything he wishes if he wishes hard enough—if he really wants it."

Questioned as to whether this included repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor act, passed by the 80th Congress over Mr. Truman's veto, he replied:

"Well, at least with modifications."

Martin predicted that "there will be more rather than less taxes, as the Republicans had promised in their party platform." He said:

"You can't spend without taxing."

May Hit Higher Incomes

The GOP leader said the outlook for reduction of excise taxes "does not look as promising as it did." Excise taxes are still at their wartime peak. The tax reduction bill which the 80th Congress passed over the President's

ALLIED LEADER AGAIN RAISES CURTAIN ON WORLD CONFLICT

'Crusade In Europe'--Eisenhower's Story!

(This is a condensed serialization of Dwight D. Eisenhower's "Crusade in Europe." It contains highlights of the book to be published November 22, 1948, by Doubleday & Company. Copyrighted by Doubleday & Company, Inc.)

I

IN the Allied headquarters at Reims, Field Marshal Jodl signed the instrument of German surrender on May 7, 1945. At midnight of the next day there ended, in Europe, a conflict that had been raging since Sept. 1, 1939.

Between these two dates millions of Europeans had been killed. All Europe west of the Rhine had, with minor exceptions, lived for more than four years under the domination of an occupying army. Free institutions and free speech had disappeared. Economies were broken and industry prostrated.

In Germany itself, after years of seeming invincibility, a carpet of destruction and desolation had spread over the land. Her bridges were down, her cities in ruins and her great industrial capacity practically paralyzed. Great Britain had exhausted herself economically and financially to carry on her part of the war; the nation was almost entirely mobilized, with everybody of useful age, men and women, alike, either in the armed forces or engaged in some type of production for war. Russian industry west of the Volga had been almost obliterated.

U. S. Not Spared

America had not been spared: by V-J Day in the Pacific, 322,188 of her youth had been lost in battle or had died in the service and approximately 700,000 more had been wounded. The nation had poured forth resources in unstinted measure not only to support her own armies and navies and air forces but also to give her allies equipment and weapons with which to operate effectively against the common enemy.

Each of the Allies had, according to its means, contributed to the common cause but America had stood pre-eminent as the arsenal of democracy. We were the nation which, from the war's beginning to its end, had achieved the greatest transformation from almost complete military weakness to astounding strength and effectiveness.

EUROPE had been at war for a full year before America became alarmed over its pitifully inadequate defenses. When the nation began, in 1939, first steps toward strengthening its military establishment, it started from a position as close to zero as a great nation could conceivably have allowed itself to sink.

Thereafter, in the space of three and a half years, the United States produced the fighting machine that played an indispensable role in beating Germany to its knees, even while our country, almost single-handed, was conducting a decisive war against the Japanese Empire.

The revolutionary transformation of America was not achieved overnight; the fact that it was ever achieved at all was due to the existence of staunch allies and our own distance from the scene of combat. At the outset none of us could foresee the end of the struggle; few of us saw eye to eye on what was demanded of us as individuals and as a nation; but each began, step by step, to learn and to perform his allotted task.

America's transformation, in three years, from a situation of appalling danger to unparalleled might in battle was one of the two miracles that brought Jodl to our headquarters to surrender on May 7, 1945. The other was the development, over the same period, of near perfection in allied conduct of war operations.

HISTORY testifies to the ineptitude of coalitions in waging war. Allied failures have been so numerous and their inexcusable blunders so common that professional soldiers had long discounted the possibility of effective allied action unless available resources were so great as to assure victory by inundation. Even Napoleon's reputation as a brilliant military leader suffered when students in staff colleges came to realize that he always fought against coalitions—and therefore against divided counsels and diverse political, economic, and military interests.

There was no precedent to follow, no chart by which to steer. Where nations previously had been successful in concert against a common foe, one member of the coalition had usually been so strong as to be the dominating partner. Now it was necessary to produce effective unity out of concessions voluntarily made.

A Story Of Unity

The true history of the war, and more especially the history of the operations Torch and Overlord, in the Mediterranean and northwest Europe, is the story of a unity produced on the basis of this voluntary co-operation. Differences there were, differences among strong men representing strong and proud peoples, but these paled into insignificance alongside the miracle of achievement represented in the shoulder-to-shoulder march of the Allies to complete victory in the West.

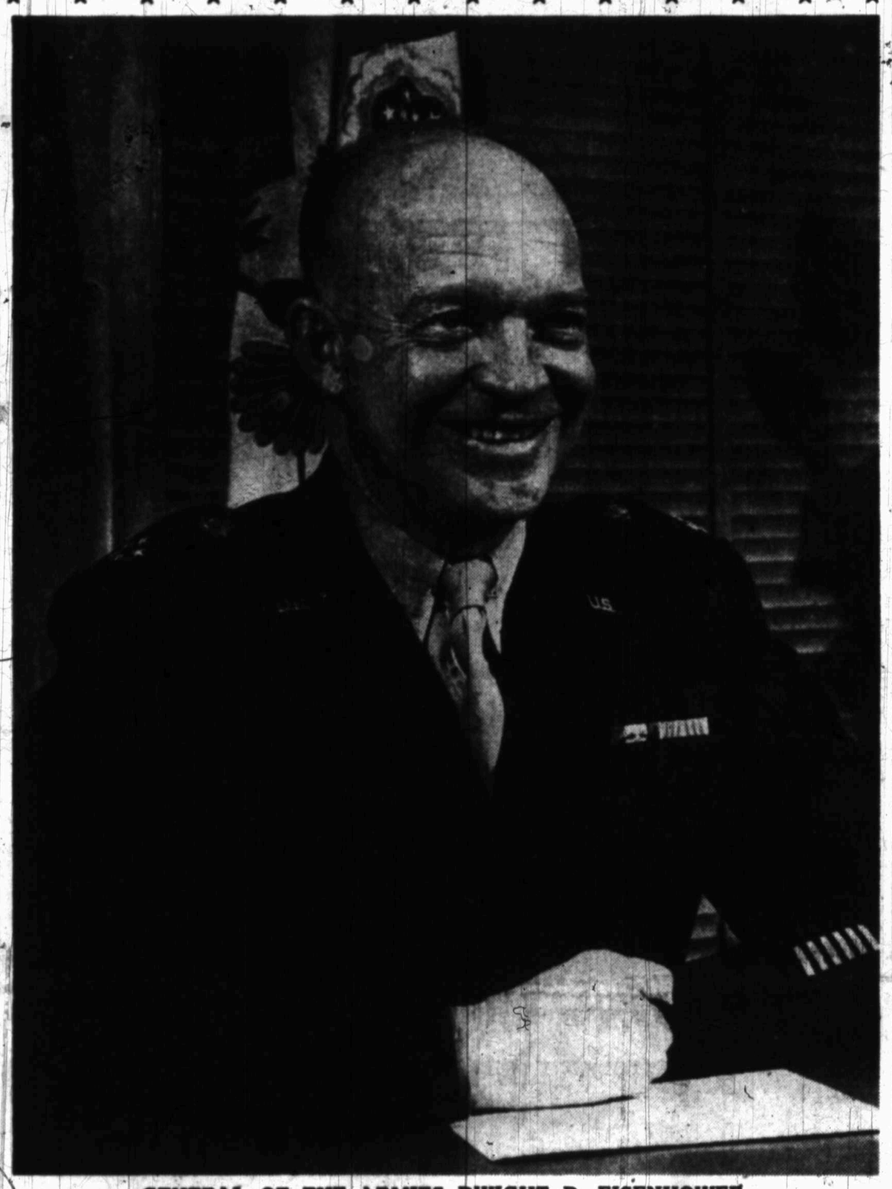

On the day the war began, in 1939, I was in the Philippines, nearing completion of four years' duty as senior military assistant to General Douglas MacArthur, who had been charged with building and training an independent Filipino military establishment.

When my wife, my son John, and I left Manila in December, General MacArthur saw us off at the pier. It was the last time I was to see him until my postwar visit as Chief of Staff, to his Tokyo headquarters. We talked of the gloominess of world prospects, but our forebodings turned toward Europe — not Asia.

IN June, 1941, I was assigned to Lieutenant General Walter Krueger's Third Army as his chief of staff at San Antonio headquarters. His Third Army was directed to concentrate in Louisiana for a great maneuver, with Lieutenant General Ben Lear's Second Army as its opponent. Mercury May Skid To 20 Degrees Tonight

South Plains Residents Are Warned To Take Precautions Against Freeze

By BILL HAMS
Avalanche Staff Writer

FLURRIES of snow, the first real sign that winter is here, swept across most of the Panhandle-South Plains Monday night as the season's first major cold wave moved over the Panhandle and drove deep into Texas.

The second cold wave within a week is expected to plunge the mercury to a low of 25 degrees this morning despite a blanket of clouds overhead. The temperature, according to Weather Bureau predictions, is expected to climb to 45 or 50 degrees during the day, and as the clouds break plummet to a low of 20 degrees early Wednesday morning.

Occasional snow flurries are expected to continue this morning until the clouds begin to break up, the weatherman reported. Home owners were warned to protect exposed water pipes and shrubbery, and motorists also were warned to protect auto radiators from freezing.

Heavy In Littlefield Area

The cold wave, which struck at 2:03 a. m. Monday dropped the mercury to 35 degrees between 5 and 6 a. m. The temperature climbed to 49 degrees at 1 p. m. and then began a downward trend. At 9 p. m. it had reached the earlier minimum of 35 degrees. At 1 a. m. today it had fallen to 27 degrees.

Snow, which had been reported at Amarillo, began falling in Lubbock at 9 p. m. when a secondary cold front moved into the South Plains. Littlefield reported heavy snow began falling there there at 7 p. m., and at one time Texas Highway patrol officers considered warning motorists of hazardous driving conditions. However, it was reported at 9:30 p. m. that while snow was still falling, it's intensity had slackened.

Sleet Hits Plainview

Plainview reported snow flurries struck there at 7:30 p. m. A sleet storm preceded the fall. The snowfall extended to Lockney and Floydada, and at Ralls the first snow began falling at 10:45 p. m. Matador and Spur, both below the Caprock, said no snow had been observed there. Spur, however, reported strong winds blowing and the temperature dropping rapidly near midnight.

Rep. Thomas Is Indicted

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8—A federal grand jury today indicted Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) for alleged conspiracy to pad his congressional office payrolls by setting up a list of "fictitious" employes.

The 53-year-old New Jersey legislator, who was re-elected in last Tuesday's election, is the retiring chairman of the House committee on un-American Activities.

Court officials said that if convicted on all charges, Thomas would face a possible maximum sentence of 32 years in prison, $40,000 in fines or both.

Former Secretary Indicted

Congressional authorities agreed however, that his status as a member of the House would be left entirely to the decision of that body. The House is the judge of the qualification of its own members.

The jury also indicted Thomas' former secretary, Miss Helen Campbell on charges that she joined with the lawmaker in the alleged conspiracy, involving accusations of salary "kickbacks." The plot, the jury said, was "to defraud the United States of its money and property" over a five-year period from Jan. 1, 1940 to Jan. 30, 1945.

34 Acts Cited

The indictment cited 34 "overt acts" in the joint conspiracy complaint against Thomas and Miss Campbell. In addition, Thomas alone was accused on three other counts of filing alleged false claims against the government.

U. S. District Attorney George Morris Fay told newsmen that the trial, under normal procedure, would not begin before January. He said Thomas is scheduled to appear Nov. 16 for arraignment.

At his home in Allendale, N. J., Thomas told a reporter he had

Plans for a 7:30 p. m. Democratic "Victory" dinner next Monday night in Hilton hotel were expedited by appointment of several committees in a meeting yesterday afternoon of party members on the mezzanine floor of the hotel.

Democratic County Executive Committee Chairman L. C. Ellis presided. He and George Berry, who acted as secretary of the meeting, reiterated that plans have a dual purpose: To observe the smashing Democratic victory in the general election polls, at the same time raise funds to help retire a party deficit brought on by the recent campaign; and to honor Cong. George Mahon of the 19th congressional district, who will commence in 1949 his eighth term in Washington.

Area To Take Part

Two hundred fifty places, at $10 each, may be reserved for the dinner. Because there will be attendance from throughout the 25-county congressional district, not all the tickets that will be printed today will be sold locally.

Chairman Ellis will mail letters today to the district committeeman, committeewoman and the party chairmen of the 25 counties, inviting them. The county chairmen will be asked to invite party members and their wives, then to inform Ellis as soon as possible how many persons will be here from each county.

"The Democrats of Lubbock county, believing that we should commemorate our recent national victory at the polls and being desirous of honoring our own congressman, George Mahon," also plan that "proceeds derived will be given to our national Demo-

Soviet Plot Is Claimed Planned

BERLIN, Nov. 8. (INS)—U. S. Berlin commandant Col. Frank Howley said tonight that American troops in Berlin are strong enough to put down any attempted Communist coup.

Howley's statement coincided with an article in the British-licensed press which said that the Russians plan to use Korea—scene of recent bloody Communist fighting—as the model for a German insurrection.

The conservative newspaper Montag's Echo said that Soviet-trained "fugitives" are quietly infiltrating western Germany to spearhead a Communist revolt in the event that the U. S., Britain and France reduce or withdraw their garrisons.

Korea Seen As Pattern

Howley confirmed information to the effect that the Russians are arming large numbers of Soviet-sector and Soviet-zone police with rifles and automatic weapons.

Montag's Echo said that the Russians will whip up anti-western sentiment by demanding an evacuation of all occupation forces, just as they have done in

Three Nations Are Condemned For Aiding Greek Guerrillas

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Nov. 8 — The political committee of the United Nations Assembly formally condemned Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia tonight for aiding Greek guerrillas and violating the UN charter.

The comdemnation was backed by 47 of the 58 committee members. It was the strongest action taken so far by any UN body against the three Soviet satellites. Russia and other members of the Soviet bloc refused to vote.

The committee action was on one crucial paragraph of a resolution put up by the United States, France, Britain and China. The entire resolution still must be voted on tomorrow but its passage was forecast by tonight's ballot.

Yugoslav Delegate Scored

Bitter words flew in the noisy committee meeting where the chairman, Premier Paul Henri Spaak of Belgium, angrily accused the Soviet bloc of "systematically sabotaging" the Balkans debate.

Spaak lost his patience as the repeated moves of Yugoslav delegate Ales Bebler, Polish delegate Julius Katz-Suchy and other Slav representatives to fight the four-power resolution at every step.

He charged Bebler was abusing his privileges in the committee and frequently appealed to the Yugoslav to be considerate.

Bebler and Katz-Suchy lost two attempts to get a vote of censure against the UN Special Committee on the Balkans (UNSCOB). They were voted down 49 to 6 and 50 to 6, with the Soviet bloc voting alone both times.

Meeting On Palestine Set

After the first vote Bebler arose at the committee table and cried "shame." Spaak called the meeting to order immediately.

Elsewhere in the UN:

1. The Security Council was called to meet tomorrow on Palestine. Dr. Ralph Bunche, acting UN mediator, said in a statement neither he nor his chief of staff, Brig. Gen. William F. Riley, had told four Arab countries their position in Palestine was hopeless. Bunche was commenting on weekend press reports which quoted American delegation sources.

2. John Foster Dulles, Republican member of the U. S. delegation, said President Truman had encouraged him to remain as a delegate despite the defeat of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

3. The Assembly's social committee voted 17 to 16 in favor of equal rights for men and women at the dissolution of marriage as well as during marriage. Russia sponsored the proposal to make the equality apply at the termination of marriage.

The main fight in the political committee was on a paragraph which said the assembly "considers that the continued aid given by Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia to the Greek guerrillas endangess peace in the Balkans and is inconsistent with the purposes and principles of the charter of the United Nations." This was adopted 47 to 0.

The Soviet bloc also fought vig-

Grain Prices Rise On Chicago Market

CHICAGO, Nov. 8. (AP)—Grains added a bit more to their post-election advance today and in some cases it was enough to make new seasonal highs.

The market got off to a shaky start. Corn was weak and wheat barely steady. But after 15 minutes of trading, the market's trend was reversed. Thereafter, prices never slipped below the previous close and at the final gong they were still rising.

New seasonal highs were made by July and September wheat, September corn, September oats and May soybeans. December wheat and oats brought the best prices since last July, while December corn was at its peak for the last month.

Wheat closed 1 to 2 3/8 higher, corn was 1¼-2¼ higher, oats 3¾-1¼ higher, rye was 1¾ to 2 cents higher, soybeans were 3¾-5¾ higher and lard was 25 to 32 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Court To Review Labor Law Case

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8. (INS)—The Supreme court agreed today to review the Taft-Hartley law's anti-Communist provision and the conviction of Communist Gerhart Eisler.

The T-H law's clause requiring non-Communist affidavits from union leaders will get its first constitutionality test in a case brought by the CIO American Communications association.

The pudgy, German-born Eisler, called No. 1 Soviet agent in the U. S., will get a full review of his one-year prison sentence and $1,000 fine for defying the House un-American Activities committee in February, 1947.

But the court refused to review the conviction of screen writer John Howard Lawson, also fined $1,000 and sentenced to a year for contempt of Congress in his defiance of the Un-American Activities committee.

No action was taken on the petition of Dr. Edward K. Barsky, head of the joint anti-Fascist Refugee committee of New York, who refused to turn over records to the House committee.

Corsicanan Nabbed For Bank Robbery

DALLAS, Nov. 8 (AP)—The FBI announced tonight that a Corsicana used car dealer was arrested there today on charges of robbing a bank at Rice Aug. 11.

H. L. McConnell, agent in charge of the Dallas office, said the suspect is Ollie Otto Prince, 44, Corsicana.

The First State bank at Rice was robbed of more than $4,000 by a man who fled in an automobile.

Rice is 11 miles north of Corsicana in Navarro county. Less than two months later—Oct. 5—the state bank at Malone was robbed by a lone bandit who escaped with an estimated $17,000. Malone is 30 miles west of Corsicana in Hill county.

Forest Fires Drive 1,500 From Homes In California Mountains

By GARBER DAVIDSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

SANTA ANA, Calif., Nov. 8. — Forest fires whipped by gales drive nearly 1,500 persons from their homes in the Santa Ana mountain communities of Silverado and Modjeska canyons today.

Once removed from danger, the residents later were forbidden by firefighting officials to re-enter Silverado canyon to get personal belongings, lest they be trapped. Silverado and Modjeska are box canyons in which roads deadend in the mountains, creating true firetraps.

Early tonight the flames had not actually entered these two canyons but were burning all around them in side canyons and threatening to whip over into the residence areas.

The fire danger also threatened range land, cattle and the watershed. Much of the area is brush land.

Flames licked to within about one-half mile of nearby El Toro Marine base but it had considerable protection from open bean fields between it and the fire. Marines were protecting buildings

Truman Delays Quick Decisions On Major Changes In Capital

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
Associated Press Staff Writer

KEY WEST, Fla., Nov. 8.—Grinning broadly, President Truman strolled unexpectedly into the pressroom at his vacation spot here today and asked three pool-playing photographers:

"Who's behind the 8-ball?"

Clad in a fishing cap, tan slacks, an open sports shirt and carrying an American Legion cane, the President obviously was enjoying his respite campaigning and his executive burden. He said he had dropped by to see if all were comfortable.

"If not," he said with a wink, "I'll give them the devil."

Some one suggested:

"Give them hell."

This reminder of his "give 'em hell" campaign that won him a term in the White House in a stunning upset victory brought a smile from the President.

"I'm through giving them hell," the President said, turning solemn for the first time. "Now, we'll all work together."

The President walked to the door.

He saw a young mother and her three children across the street.

Government Reshuffle Seen In France After DeGaullists Gain

By JOHN E. LEE
INS Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Nov. 8 — A French government reshuffle was widely predicted tonight as an aftermath to Charles De Gaulle's sweeping victory in Sunday's elections to the French council of the republic.

The De Gaullists, who by official count won 99 of the 269 seats at stake in the balloting, are expected to use their victory as a springboard for a renewed drive to dissolve the National Assembly.

The De Gaullists hope to win control of the government should a general election follow dissolution of the assembly.

Cabinet To Meet Today

The French cabinet will meet tomorrow to take stock of the new political development.

The Paris press summed up the situation by saying the parliamentary set up now "is more precarious than ever."

The newspapers said the government, as now constituted, could no longer find the strength to cope with the "cold war the Cominform is waging against the economic recovery of France under the Marshall plan."

Former Premier Paul Reynaud called the De Gaullist victory a "triumph against Communism." The Communists won only 16 seats compared with the 91 controlled or held by Communists in the old council.

Communist Also Lose

The remainder of the 269 seats were divided among the Radical Socialists, Independents, Popular Republicans (MRP)—who, like the Communists, also lost heavily—and a handful of smaller parties.

Another 51 seats in the 320-member council will be filled in December.

The council is only an advisory body without real power, but is in a position to delay passage of legislation approved by the Assembly.

This is expected to bolster De Gaulle's demands for dissolution of the Assembly in a bid for control of the government.

The De Gaullists apparently made a stronger showing in the indirect elections to the council than they did in the municipal elections of a year ago when they obtained 40 per cent of the vote.

Truman Supporter Gets Free 11-Mile Ride In Wheelbarrow

PRINCETON, W. Va., Nov. 8. (AP)—That GOP elephant sort of fell on Isaac J. Sweeney, and Sweeney's aching back felt like it today.

He had wagered on Republican Thomas E. Dewey in the recent presidential election.

Yesterday he paid off by pushing Henry Brewster 11 long miles in a rubber-tired wheelbarrow. The trip over a hilly highway from Princeton to Bluefield took nearly six hours.

Sweeney, husky and in his thirties, wore a big Dewey sign, while Brewster, 64, reclined against cushions and brandished a President Truman poster.

"One good thing," groaned Sweeney, "Henry only weighs 130 pounds." Both men work as machinists in the Virginia railway shops here.

Texas Soldier Credited With Saving Lives Of U.S. Airmen

FRANKFURT, Germany, Nov. 8. (U.P.)—Corp. Jerry Daniels of Frost, Tex., was credited by the U. S. Air Force with saving the lives of the pilot and co-pilot of a C-54 transport plane which crashed yesterday while returning from blockaded Berlin.

Daniels received cuts and bruises when the plane in which he was riding plowed into a field one mile short of the runway of Fassberg air base in the British zone. He dragged the unconscious pilot and co-pilot to safety before the ship burst into flames and was destroyed, the Air Force said.

Names of the injured were withheld pending notification of kin. Both were flown to Frankfurt where hospital attendants said the full nature of their serious injuries had not been determined.

Officials at Fassberg said the plane was attempting to land when visibility was only one-half mile. It had delivered Ruhr coal to Berlin.

Sufficient Fuel Oil, Gasoline To Meet Nation's Need Seen

CHICAGO, Nov. 8. (AP)—There'll be enough fuel oil to heat your home and enough gasoline to run your car this winter.

That's the prediction of President Robert R. Boyd, jr., of the American Petroleum institute, New York.

Boyd told a news conference today he is "extremely confident" the oil industry will be able to meet all demands for its products this winter. He is here for the institute's 28th annual meeting. About 5,000 oil men are attending the sessions which will continue through Thursday.

Oil Shortage Not Over

Boyd said it is not correct to say that the oil shortage is over. He declared, however, the industry is "confident" of being able to supply the demands.

Home owners installing oil burners will get the fuel they need if installations continue at the present rate, Boyd said.

He had no comment on future prices of gasoline or fuel oil.

Boyd released [illegible] and estimate 1948 petroleum production. He said despite the strike of California refinery workers, the nation's oil production has been increasing weekly and now is above the pre-strike total.

The nation's crude oil production is estimated to average 5,500,000 barrels daily this year—about 415,000 barrels a day more than was turned out in 1947.

Demand Jumps

Inventories also are up. The estimated inventory of all oils this year is 582,000,000 barrels while last year it was 514,241,000, Boyd said.

However, the demand also has jumped. On all oils, the demand has climbed 5.8 per cent in a year's time and 42.8 per cent over that of 1941.

The industry's import business has increased accordingly. Last year the United States imported 159,595,000 barrels of oil—an average of 437,200 barrels a day. This year, Boyd said, the import for the first six months totaled 86,573,000 barrels for an average of 475,700 barrels daily. The daily average on imports has increased since July.

Exports are off, slightly, Boyd's figures showed. Last year's total export was 164,427,000 barrels—an average of 450,500 barrels a day. In the first six months of 1948, the total export was 65,298,000 barrels — an average of 358,800 a day. The daily export average has increased somewhat since July, the figures showed.

Farm Demonstration Is Set Near Tahoka

TAHOKA, Nov. 8. (Special)—A demonstration of new and practical methods of irrigation, sponsored jointly by the Lynn County Soil Conservation district and the city [illegible], is to be given at 2 [illegible] Saturday afternoon on the City farm, one mile [illegible] here.

The announcement, made by W. B. Griffin, county farm agent, who is co-operating in the project, listed as among irrigation practices to be demonstrated, the following:

Bench leveling on sloping land; concrete drop inlets in operation; flood irrigation used in border system; actual building of structures; permanent irrigation ditch system; methods of water application to listed land, land seeded to small grains, and to bordered land; and reservoir outlets in operation.

In addition to Griffin, others who will assist in the demonstrations include Pat Hines, superintendent of the Tahoka water and sewerage department; Archie Ware and N. E. Woods, soil conservation service engineers assigned to the Lynn county soil conservation district.

An invitation to attend the demonstrations was extended to anyone interested in any phase of irrigation.

Three Persons Killed In Two Bexar County Mishaps

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 8. (AP) — Bexar county traffic fatalities climbed to 26 for the year today as a result of two auto crashes on highway 181 south of here yesterday, in which three persons were killed.

Casimir Campa, 23, San Antonio, and Juan Munos Martinez, 64, of Von Ormy were killed almost instantly when a car driven by Martin Sunica Pena, 37, of San Antonio crashed into three guard posts at the approach to the Leon creek bridge.

In another crash John Edward Jones of Baytown died last night at a local hospital from injuries suffered in a three-car accident near the Salado creek bridge.

Woman Claims She Embezzled Money To Help Entertain

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8. (AP)—A blonde $40-a-week novelty shop worker accused of embezzling $34,479 from her employer over the past two years told police she took the money because she liked to entertain.

"I like this way of living, and I couldn't do it on $40 a week," detectives yesterday quoted 31-year-old Mrs. Helen Morganstein as saying when she was arrested in her well furnished apartment.

Killings Alarm Louisiana Town

WINNSBORO, La., Nov. 8. (U.P.) —Winnsboro got through its one-week anniversary night safely, but jittery residents were still fearful today that "phantom" killer would strike again.

The little northeast Louisiana town of 4,000 slept fitfully in lighted rooms behind double-locked doors, with loaded weapons close at hand.

Fear More Killings

"Nearly everybody in town's afraid there'll be some more killing," said Mack Boyle, night half of the two-man police force. "We've got to get him soon so Winnsboro can settle down."

The phantom killer had struck only once—a double kill—but all Winnsboro feared that the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Paola before dawn last Monday night might be the first of a series. They compared the killings to those in Texarkana in the spring of 1946.

The cotton-country county seat went on the alert as soon as the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Paola were found, each with two bullet holes drilled through the head. Four .22 caliber shells were found on the floor of their bedroom, Boyle said.

Five Questioned

Sheriff Hiram Waller said the death gun was of the same calibre as that used in the five Texarkana killings, but he did not definitely link the cases.

A 17-year-old University of Arkansas freshman, H. B. Tennison, last week took poison and left notes saying he killed three of the "phantom's" victims. Authorities, however, have not yet completed study of the confession and the youth's activities.

The Paolas, who operated a small radio repair shop, lived about three blocks from the business district. Police have been unable to find anything in their background which might lead to their being murdered.

Five persons have been questioned in connection with their deaths, but all were freed without being charged.

Shallow Oil Production Is Reported Near Lake Kickapoo

WICHITA FALLS, Nov. 8 (AP) —Shallow oil production 400 feet downstream from the dam of Lake Kickapoo municipal reservoir on land owned by the city of Wichita Falls appeared probable today.

Casing will be set to 144 feet in the Timberlake and Kelleher test core from 1448-57 feet, H. M. Kelleher, one of the owners of the test, informed city manager George D. Fairtrace.

The shallow test, a wildcat, is on acreage leased last month by the city to the oil operators. The city owns 59.6 acres below the dam.

The acreage under lease around the wildcat also includes 80 acres owned by the Luke Wilson estate. The test is about eight miles southeast of Mankins in Archer county.

BORDERLINE ANEMIA*
Can Make You Look Pale and "Played-Out"!

You can't hope to be attractive if your face is pale and drawn—if your energy seems on the edge of exhaustion. So remember—these signs can come from blood cells that are faded and shrunken. They may indicate a Borderline Anemia, due to a ferro-nutritional blood deficiency.

Medical studies show that up to 68% of women—many men and children—are the victims of this tiring Borderline Anemia.

If you have this Borderline Anemia, you need Ironized Yeast Tablets! They are specially formulated to help build up faded, puny red blood cells to healthy redness and size, and thus permit your color and energy to come surging back. Of course, continuing tiredness and pallor may come from other causes—see your doctor regularly. But in this Borderline Anemia, take Ironized Yeast Tablets. Take them to reclaim your vitality, your healthy color, your enjoyment of life!

*Due to a ferro-nutritional blood deficiency, a condition for which Ironized Yeast is specially formulated.

NON-SCHOLASTICS

SUPT. R. W. Matthews gave interesting statistics on Lubbock's future scholastic enrollment Monday at a luncheon meeting of the Lubbock County Social Welfare association. Based on the national birth rate record, in six years there will be twenty-five per cent more children enrolled as first graders than are attending school at present. You might bear that in mind when you consider whether or not you want the school board to call a school bond election.

Of more interest to us, however, were figures showing there are between 1,000 and 1,300 children between six and 18 who should be attending school, but who, for one reason or another, are staying out. Last year's census showed there are 11,235 children eligible to attend the city public schools and the present enrollment is 9,807. Of course, there likely are more than 1,300 children in Lubbock who are not in school because those figures are hard to obtain, and many families have moved here since the census was taken, but if there were one hundred children not in school that would be too many.

We think that is something to think about during National Education week and during every other week.

BACK TO SPORTS

COLLIER Parris has returned to the job for which he fitted himself and which he thoroughly enjoys in joining the sports staff of the Abilene Reporter-News. We feel sure that the many West Texas readers who enjoyed his coverage of athletic events during the twelve years he was sports editor of the Avalanche-Journal will wish him well.

Collier is a clever and accurate writer and will resume his column, The Sportomoter, which was so widely read during his tenure here.

First assignment for Parris was to come to Lubbock Sunday to cover the meeting of the West Texas-New Mexico Baseball league—a circuit which he followed for many years.

MINCE MEAT RECIPE

MRS. O. W. Beason, 107 Ave. V, mailed a recipe for mince meat, in response to the request from the Abernathy reader. The only puzzle to us about it is how large should the bowls be the method calls for, but here it is:

Three bowls meat, five bowls apples, one bowl molasses, one bowl vinegar, one bowl peach pickles, one bowl suet, one bowl raisins, five bowls sugar, one tablespoon salt, two tablespoons nutmeg, two tablespoons cinnamon, two tablespoons cloves. Mix all but cooked meat and spices. Boil until raisins are tender. Pour over meat and spices and seal while hot.

Cranberry Cookery
by Carol Reed

Everyone raved over some cranberry boutonnieres I made for guests at a luncheon the other day. You can make them, too. It's very easy. Here's how . . .

Cut 3 lengths of picture wire about 5 inches long for each boutonniere. Thread 5 cranberries on each wire. Put together with bits of evergreen or wild huckleberry, wrap colored tape around the stems to hold them together, and tie with a bit of red ribbon. Place a boutonniere beside each place card. . . One pound of Ocean Spray Fresh Cranberries will make about 34 boutonnieres.

If you don't need that many, use the rest of cranberries in this luscious No Cooking Relish. . . .

Cranberry-Orange Relish

4 cups Ocean Spray Fresh Cranberries
2 oranges
2 cups of sugar

Put cranberries and oranges (which have been quartered and seeds removed) through food chopper. Add sugar. Mix well, and store in refrigerator several hours before serving for flavors to blend.

I have lots more favorite cranberry dishes. Want them? They're yours for the asking . . . free! Just write to . . . Carol Reed, The Cranberry Kitchen, Hanson, Massachusetts.

Changes In Some State Posts Seen

AUSTIN, Nov. 8. (AP) — Gov. Beauford H. Jester announced today he would re-appoint Dwight Horton of Blanco to the Texas Employment commission when his present term expires Nov. 21.

Jester meanwhile had no comment on reports that he plans some major changes in key personnel for posts that will become vacant after Jan. 1.

There has been widespread speculation in recent weeks that Secretary of State Paul H. Brown would be given another post—after Jan. 1—possibly one with six-year tenure — and that Fred Knetsch of Seguin would be replaced on the Highway commission by another South Texan.

Reports from the Rio Grande valley were that A. T. Potts of Harlingen and Bill Woodroof of Edinburg have been urged for the highway post. Knetsch's term expires Feb. 15, 1949.

One report was that Brown—who was Jester's campaign manager in his original race for governor—would succeed Marvin Hall as state fire insurance commissioner.

Both Brown and Hall professed to know nothing about the appointment speculation.

If Brown should be given another appointive job, some sources believed that State Senator Ben Ramsey would be a likely candidate to succeed him. Others did not think Ramsey—who did not run for re-election—was interested in the post. It carries a two-year term.

Many other appointive positions will open up early in 1949, including three on the University of Texas Board of Regents. No shake-up was anticipated there.

Emergency Aid Before Marshall Plan Helped Save West Europe

By EARL MARCKRES
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—President Truman indicated today that U. S. interim aid before the Marshall Plan got underway probably saved Italy, France and Austria from "economic bondage" to Russia.

The chief executive made his assertions in his third report on the 577 million dollar interim foreign aid program for the period ending June 30. The report was made public by the White House while the President vacationed in Florida.

France Gets Most Aid

Mr. Truman did not mention Russia by name, but did point out that American help came at a time when the Communists were attempting to take over all three nations.

In a breakdown of the aid supplied, the President said France received most of the money, approximately 323 million dollars; Italy 183 millions, and Austria about 70 millions.

It was recalled that the help arrived in Italy just prior to the elections in which it was feared the Communists might win control of the government.

The aid arrived in France at a time when France's economic life was almost wrecked by a general strike.

Italian Help Needed

Regarding Italy, the President reported that the program assured a regular flow of essential supplies "during one of the most crucial periods in Italian history." He added:

"The most significant contribution of the U. S. cereal supplies was that they probably saved Italy from a form of economic bondage.

"Late in 1947 concern over cereal was gradually forcing Italy to accept any offers of cereal products, including some from sources which would have impaired Italy's economic freedom."

It was recalled that Russia and some of her satellites offered to contribute grains to Western Europe at one time in a move aimed at thwarting the Marshall Plan.

French Hopes Bolstered

Regarding France, the President reported:

"Interim aid bolstered the resolution of French leaders in their plans for setting France's economic and financial house in order and made it possible for them to obtain public support for their stabilization measures.

"The supplies increased French resources, helped balance the excess demand, and so helped narrow the inflationary gap."

Mr. Truman said that 74 per cent of all flour consumed in Austria from July, 1947 through June, 1948 was supplied by the United States.

Additionally, the President pointed out, the U. S. supplied Austria with nearly two million tons of coal. He said this enabled Austria's transport system to boost operations 50 per cent.

Marshall Family Returns To City After Visit To Valley

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Marshall, of 2505 Thirteenth street, and their son, Sammy, returned to Lubbock Monday afternoon from a one-week visit in the Rio Grande valley, during which time they visited with Mrs. Marshall's uncle, Mr. Tom Sammons, in Mission.

Mr. Sammons is a brother of Mr. P. H. Sammons, of 2207 Thirteenth, Lubbock. Mrs. Marshall also spoke to a meeting of the eighth district convention of the Texas Federation of Music clubs, held Nov. 4, 5 and 6, in Edinburg.

Church Preferences Of Tech Students Taken In Survey

A recent comparative analysis of church preference among students at Texas Technological college revealed that 25 religious denominations are represented on the campus, and that 381 students gave no church preference.

The Baptist church, represented by 2,106 students, is the most popular, followed by Methodists, of which there are 1,850, and 518 list as their choice the Church of Christ. The other denominations and the number of students who expressed a preference for them, are Presbyterian, 399; Christian, 325; Catholic, 184; Episcopal, 123; Lutheran, 108; Christian Science, 32; Assembly of God, 19; Jewish, 10; Congregational and Nazarene, 9 each; Greek Orthodox and Apostolic, 5 each; Church of God, 4; Buddhist, Evangelical, Grace Chapel, Latter Day Saints, Pentecostal, and Seventh Day Adventist, 2 each; Moravian, United Brethern, Unitarian and Reformed Church, 1 each.

Mansfield Takes Two Second Places At National Rodeo

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8. (AP)—Toots Mansfield of Big Spring took two second places in the week-long grand national livestock show and rodeo which ended here last night.

He was second in steer roping and second in calf roping.

Gene Rambo of Shandon, Calif., won the title of all-around champion cowboy of the International Rodeo association for 1948. The roundup here was designated by the association as the finals for a long string of arena shows throughout the west.

Many Children Not Enrolled In Schools

In presenting a brief, overall picture of attendance in Lubbock Public schools at a luncheon meeting of the Lubbock County Social Welfare council Monday afternoon at the Hilton hotel, Supt. R. W. Matthews estimated there are between 1,000 and 1,300 school age children in Lubbock who are not enrolled in the city schools. He was introduced by Robert J. Allen, program chairman.

Reasons for the non-attendance were listed by Mrs. E. B. Speck, visiting teachers, as: Transient families living here for only a short time; economic difficulties, wherein the children are forced to go to work or to help take care of smaller children; appeal of a well paying job; broken homes and truancy.

The program was given in observance of National Education week.

Officers were elected as follows: Mrs. L. E. Settle, president; Rev. Claude E. Canterbury, vice president; Elliott Adams, secretary; Esten E. Day, treasurer. They will be installed in January.

John Wilson, retiring president, presided.

178 Local, District Directors Named At West Texas C-C Meet

ABILENE, Nov. 8 (AP) — Delegates attending the West Texas Chamber of Commerce meeting here named 168 local and ten district directors today.

The district directors are Ray S. Bourland of Pampa; Henry Teubel, Tulia; A. B. Taff, Childress; J. R. Fleming, Weatherford; Frank S. Roberts, Breckenridge; Charnell Jobe, Lamesa; J. L. Pinckerton, Monahans; R. M. Hawkins, Alpine; E. L. Buelow, San Angelo and John C. Grammer, Coleman.

The meeting was attended by 175 delegates from 136 towns.

Ed Nunnally of San Angelo, secretary of the WTCC Latin-American commission, said two points of the commission's eight-point program had been realized: 1. Establishment of a Mexican consulate at San Angelo about Jan. 1 and the establishment of a toll-free international bridge at Del Rio, probably by spring.

Earlier, Homer A. Hunter, engineering head of the water resources commission, told the delegates an insufficient water supply is the only bar to industrialization of West Texas.

Hunter said West Texas has capital and material, but that dams must be built to increase the area's water supply.

Man Is Found Hanged In Jail

John Willis Hill, 43, of 214 Hub Homes, was found dead in his cell in City jail at 8:20 p. m. Sunday. A noose had been fashioned with a belt, the other end of which was tied to the top of the cell.

C. E. Lynn, justice of peace, returned an inquest verdict of suicide Monday afternoon after talking with several other witnesses.

Funeral services will be conducted at 3 p. m. today in Tabernacle Baptist church with Rev. Ben D. Johnson officiating. Burial will follow in Lubbock Memorial cemetery, with Plains Funeral home in charge.

It was not the victim's initial attempt at self destruction, officials said.

Police informed Lynn that they had "cut down" Hill's body May 3 when it was found hanging in the jail. They said they rushed him to West Texas hospital after Capt. Gilbert Newton had given artificial respiration, then sent him to his home when a physician said the victim needed to "go to bed for a week."

Police alertness at that time was accredited with saving his life.

Hill was arrested at 11:30 a. m. Sunday after being found lying on the grass at the courthouse, official reports showed.

Moreover, police produced arrest cards showing the victim had been handled by that department approximately nine times since 1939, almost always on charges of drunkenness.

It was Sgt. J. T. Alley who cut the man down Sunday night. He also was the one who rescued him on the earlier occasion.

Had Made Inspection

Officials said an inspection—they are conducted regularly in the jail—was made at 7:50 p. m.

The body was found at the next inspection period, 30 minutes later.

The so-called drunk cells have four bunks, a water toilet and a sink and water tap.

One other man was in the cell at the time, but he had been arrested for drunkenness. He paid a fine Monday morning.

It was not known definitely where the belt came from. Police said they had statements from other prisoners, testifying that Hill had sought to borrow their belts after being placed in the jail Sunday morning. They said Hill's belt had been removed from him when he was jailed.

Survivors include the wife, five sons, J. W., jr., Richard, Raymond, David, and Terry, all of Lubbock; four daughters, Mrs. Fred Walker, Billye, Shirley, and Carol, all of Lubbock; his father, W. E. Hill of Surphur Springs; a brother, Sam Hill of Lubbock; three half-brothers, Cecil Hill and Bascom Hill of Dallas, and Belvin Hill of Surphur Springs; five sisters, Mrs. Emmy Albertson of Sundown, Mrs. Minnie Gilbert of Oklahoma City, Mrs. Lessie Gaither of Shamrock, Mrs. Ellie Euddie of Leonard, and Mrs. Exie McKinney of Oklahoma City; four half-sisters, Mrs. Emma Bryant, Miss Fannie Hill, and Miss Maisie Hill, all of Dallas, and Miss Carrie Hill of Sulphur Springs; and two grandchildren.

Democrats Could Make 'Fatal' Blunders

Republican Party Hopes For Comeback Now Appear Black

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8. — The Republicans are in a sick spot for a party that wants to make a come-back.

But it isn't a one-sided picture. The Democrats could boot away the advantage they have now. They could do it in the next four years.

Take a look at the Democrats' problems first, then at the Republicans'.

The Democrats—

Now the President has a Democratic Congress, which is what he asked for, to help him carry out his campaign promises.

If those promises are not kept, because his Democrats split up or otherwise block him, the fed-up voters may call back the Republicans to take over Congress in 1950 or the presidency and Congress in 1952.

Or President Truman, no matter how well he and Congress keep promises, might blunder in other fields so important the voters might turn to the Republicans in 1950 or 1952.

The Republicans—

What are they going to do about helping Mr. Truman—or blocking him—in carrying out the promises on which he was elected?

If they block him, the voters may be so furious in 1950 or 1952 that they'll swamp the Republicans, if not destroy them altogether.

Yet, suppose the Republicans go along with Mr. Truman. In the eyes of the voters would that make them simply a "me, too" party, one with no claim to leadership?

But how can they take the lead in Congress where the Democrats are in the majority—if the Democrats stick together—and Mr. Truman's program is waiting to be carried out.

The voters have shown in every election since 1932, except in 1946 when they elected a Republican congress, that they prefer Democratic leadership.

Governor Dewey himself was quoted a few weeks before election as having said that the people in this country have been educated to vote Democratic.

That education began with the election of President Roosevelt in 1932. Yesterday the New York Times said there is a "Roosevelt generation of 45,000,000 out of 95,000,000 voters.

Those people grew up on, and approved, the tradition of the New Deal which meant the government's taking responsibility in wide fields of social welfare for the people.

But the New Deal really died as long ago as 1938. No New Deal legislation was passed after that date. That's been 10 years. Still the voters clung to the Democrats.

Mr. Truman's program actually picks up the New Deal where it left off in 1938. If it's carried out, it may win fresh recruits to the Democratic side. And where will that leave the Republicans?

Gonzales Deputy County Clerk Dies After Falling From Auto

GONZALES, Nov. 8. (AP)—Selba Steubing, 48, deputy county clerk here since 1934, died in a San Antonio hospital today of injuries suffered here Oct. 29 when he fell from atop an automobile while watching a football game.

Steubing was standing on an automobile, watching the Gonzales-New Braunfels high school football game, when he fell, fracturing his skull and dislocating a vertebra in his neck.

Man Convicted Here Is Given Clemency By Governor Jester

Homer A. Furgerson, 29, who was sentenced Oct. 20, 1947, from the 99th district court of Lubbock county to serve two and a half years for assault with intent to murder, was allowed a conditional pardon by Gov. Beauford H. Jester Monday, the Associated Press announced from Austin.

Furgerson's home was Slaton, where he was arrested Sept. 6, 1947, after an assault upon Cooksey Burleson, court officials said. He was transferred to Huntsville prison Nov. 4, 1947.

Seems like selling your birthright for a mess of pottage!

MAN can't live by bread alone. The planning, saving, toiling of every responsible citizen is, of course, for the daily necessities of life . . . but the incentive behind all our effort is the fulfillment of ambitions for ourselves and our children. This concerns more than material things. It embraces the plans of life; the molding of character in young minds, the satisfaction of seeing our influence take hold as others assume responsibilities and, in turn, establish their own division in family and community living.

So these are real life goals, and the glory of our children's achievements is good compensation for all our worries and work. Out of such experience comes the understanding for the ownership of a family memorial; something permanent that covers time for many life spans. A symbol of family unity, of establishment, so that the family name shall never "go down to the tongueless silence of the dreamless dust."

Thoughtful people should choose their family cemetery lot so that regulations do not rob them of their birthright. Be sure that when your labors cease, your resting place may be identified, not alone by a small regimented tablet in every respect, except for name, like all around it—but rather, by an upright family monument that shall be an indication to generations yet unborn, that your family, in your generation, lead responsible lives of significant worth.

Be Sure Your Child's Eyes Are Ready For

School or Play

At their studies or at their games—when young eyes need glasses, they need the very best available. And today there are none finer than Tillyers. For Tillyer lenses give children that accurate split-second vision so necessary for their success and well being.

With youngsters also "the race goes to the swift" and no child can be swift at school or at play when he is bogged down by lenses that have "blurry" edges or distort his vision. If your youngster needs glasses, you owe him the best lenses possible.

Consult your eye physician about the care of your children's eyes, as well as your own, at least once a year.

Traditional Clashes Feature Area Grid Schedule This Week

Lockney Leads 3-A Grid Teams

The District 3-A conference football title was all but wrapped up and put away last Friday night when the Lockney Longhorns rolled to an impressive 39-0 victory over Matador. It was the Steers' sixth win without a loss in conference play.

The victory meant that Lockney can get no worse than a tie for first place out of the season with one game remaining. They play Paducah Thursday and there is little question but what they will win.

Crosbyton and Floydada were idle last week and remained in a tie for third place, definitely out of the title picture, but Spur crushed Abernathy 64-12 to remain in the challenger's spot. Paducah licked Ralls 33-6 to move up to fifth place ahead of Abernathy.

Play Armistice Day

All teams in the loop play Armistice Day games, with the center of attraction at Lockney, where Homecoming will run second to the clinching of a conference title. Spur goes to Ralls, Floydada plays at Crosbyton in a crucial game and Matador goes to Abernathy.

The Lockney line, superior all year, made possible again another Longhorn victory. They blocked beautifully to open gaping holes in the line and they blocked downfield to shake the backs loose. Ewell Dee Kelley at tackle, Calvin Pyle at end and Donald Bybee at center were particularly impressive.

Spur kept up its slender hopes for a tie with Lockney by rolling over outclassed Abernathy. The Antelopes scored all their points in the first half, but it wasn't enough to keep up with a host of Bulldog backs, who pulverized the lighter Antelope line. Halfbacks Doyle Slack and Clarence Blair teamed with Fullback Tommy Aldredge to spark the Bulldog offensive.

Sandlin Is Standout

Joe Ed Sandlin, brilliant Paducah quarterback, personally took charge of the Dragon victory over Ralls' Jackrabbits. He dashed 95-yards with the opening kickoff, ran 19 yards for another touchdown and passed for a third. In addition, he kicked three extra points.

Top LSC Leaders Are Idle This Weekend

(By The Associated Press)

None of the leaders will clash this week in the Lone Star Conference and Southwest Texas State will use Sam Houston State as a means of clinching a tie for the championship.

The unbeaten Bobcats meet winless Sam Houston at Huntsville Saturday night and by taking this game could insure at least half the title because they then could lose their remaining game and still close out in a deadlock for first place with North Texas State.

One homecoming game is scheduled in the conference this week. It will be played Saturday afternoon in San Antonio before Trinity exes, between the Trinity Tigers and the East Texas Lions. Both of these teams lost last week. The Tigers fell before the North Texas Eagles, 27 to 12, and the Lions lost to Southwest Texas 6 to 0.

The Tigers have a better record for the season and rate the edge in this game in spite of the recent improvement of the Lions.

Officials Say SW Coaches Well Trained

Col. Saffarrans Is QB Club Speaker

Col. W. C. "Bill" Saffarrans, former Georgetown university football star, regular Army officer and a coach and official for 13 years, was the main speaker at the Quarterback club meeting last night.

The usual weekly meeting was held in the main ballroom of the Hilton Hotel, with DeWitt "Judge" Landis in charge. Landis took over after an introduction by Tom Duggan, Jr., president.

Saffarrans opened the program, which also had C. R. "Pat" Pattison, Lubbock High School coach, Texas Tech Coach Dell Morgan and Dunbar High school Coach Damon Hill as speakers.

The former coach and official, speaking on officials, said that those in the Southwest were the best trained outside of the New York City area. He said that when they called plays, they did so with soundness, honesty and sincerity.

Officials Try To Do Best

"If an official makes a mistake, he is the first one to know it" Saffarrans declared. "Don't condem and don't boo the official who obviously is trying and doing his best. It doesn't add to his judgement. Officials takes a lot of abuse, from players, from coaches."

Top 3-B Elevens To Meet Friday

This is the week of the big explosion on the South Plains, when undefeated Dimmitt plays host to undefeated Hale Center for the championship of District 3-B conference.

Neither team has tasted defeat yet and both kept their records clean last week with victories. Dimmitt's Bobcats rolled over Friona's Chiefs 34-0 and the Owls licked Whitharral 33-0. The twin victories left the clubs locked for the lead.

Other games did not affect the standings at all, with Springlake getting vengeance at the expense of Petersburg 48-13, Olton handing Anton a 19-0 pasting and Amherst taking a 25-0 beating from Farwell outside the loop.

Cats Have Easy Time

The Bobcats had an easy time in taking their sixth win of the loop campaign from Friona, with Quarterback Lonnie Rice again leading the drive. But it was Harold Brannan who scored twice that personally wrapped up the game. Other touchdowns came to Carl Joel, Rice and Jim Joel.

Springlake, nosed out 20-19 by Hale Center the week before, loosed its vengeance on a Petersburg eleven that is better than the score of 48-13 indicates. The Golden Buffaloes never made a game of it, with the Wolverines pouring it on.

Olton's Mustangs kept pace with Springlake and could take over third place if the Wolverines faltered. The Mustangs had trouble with Anton's Bulldogs, but scored first and often enough to build up their lead, then fought off a desperate Anton attack.

Don Ford Too Much

Farwell had too much Don Ford for Amherst, the brilliant receiver setting up most of the Farwell scores on his pass receptions. Warlick Thomas' steady running and line plunging also helped send the Bulldogs down to defeat.

This week's games, all on Friday, will send Hale Center to Dimmitt, Olton to Friona, Springlake to Amherst and Petersburg to Whitharral. Anton draws an open date.

Raider Eleven Given Holiday

After almost ten weeks of football, the Texas Tech varsity squad was given a vacation from the gridiron Monday, a vacation that will continue through today.

Coach Dell Morgan, highly pleased with the performance of the Red Raiders against Texas Mines on Saturday, decided that there was no need to overwork his club. As a result, he gave them two days of rest and told them to forget football until they returned Wednesday.

The Raiders' next opponent will be New Mexico university at Jones Stadium on Nov. 20. The Loboes, with a record of two victories and five defeats, stand next to the bottom in the Border Conference.

Frosh To Play NMMI

But Morgan has plenty of respect for Coach Berl Huffman and Walker Nichols. He knows that they will have the Lobos steamed up to play over their heads here and comparative scores don't mean much. Morgan also wants his team rested and ready for the game, not overtrained, as two weeks without competition might do.

Not all the football will be played in Lubbock and the South Plains this week and even though the Raiders don't play, their younger contemporaries do.

The Tech first year men are going through drills getting ready for their game Armistice Day against the New Mexico Military Institute eleven at Roswell, N. M. Coach Maxey McKnight, assisted by the assistant coaches, is trying to develop a stronger offensive, more like what the Raider frosh showed in their second game agafnst the West Texas State Teachers college freshmen.

The first year men again will be led by a group of talented players numbering Jerrell Price of Brownfield at one tackle, Don Anthony of Amarillo at a guard, Bobby Close of Shamrock in the backfield and others. Judson Brawner, all-stater from Alabama, still is out of action with a wrecked knee.

Littlefield To Test Levelland

Traditional grid clashes between old rivals will hold the spotlight in Districts 4-A and 5-A this week, as teams in both north and south 4-A brackets close their regular schedules.

One of the feature Class A tussles in West Texas will be unreeled Friday night at Levelland, when the Littlefield Wildcats and the Levelland Lobos renew their long grid warfare. Levelland is undefeated and untied in north 4-A competition and is a heavy favorite to cop the north half title, but Littlefield's gridders could move into a tie for the lead with an upset victory over the defending regional champions.

Sundown, impressive winner over Morton last week, 64-0, is still in the running, with a record of three wins and a single defeat. The Roughnecks have shown steady improvement since their early season loss to Levelland and are ranked as a top power.

Sundown Meets Sudan

In other north 4-A battles Sundown will invade Sudan and Muleshoe will go to Morton.

Post's speedy Antelopes, far out in front in the south 4-A title chase, took it easy last week while handing the Lubbock Cowhands a 19-0 defeat. Post has virtually clinched the bracket crown, with only Slaton's light Tigers barring the path to the playoffs.

The meeting of the Antelopes and Tigers will be staged at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at Slaton, with a crowd of more than 3,000 persons expected to watch the traditional encounter. Post has held a decided edge over Slaton in previous battles, but the Tigers will be ready to give the Antelopes one of their toughest games of the year.

Other south 4-A Thursday afternoon games include O'Donnell at Tahoka and Farwell at Seagraves.

Monahans' Lobos, who clinched the District 5-A championship last week by drubbing Seminole, 49-13, have an open date this weekend, but several interesting loop tussles will be unreeled. Andrews goes to McCamey for a Friday tilt, while Denver City journeys to Seminole and Kermit goes to Wink. Fort Stockton travels to Pecos to close out the slate.

Independent Quintet Managers Requested To Meet Tonight

All managers of independent basketball teams in Lubbock and the vicinity are requested to meet tonight at 7:30 in Room 106 of the City Hall.

Curtis Barrett, City Recreation Department official, will be in charge of the meeting, which will be for the purpose of organizing. Barrett has announced that under Recreation Department leadership, use of city school gyms for the independent games had been secured.

OUTSTANDING RAIDER GUARD—Dan Pursel of Gladewater picked up this year where he left off in 1947 and has been doing yeoman duty in the Texas Tech forward wall. The husky Raider guard has yielded little ground to his bigger opponents and has played a fine brand of offensive ball. Pursel has made a lot of difference on the forward wall and he is one sophomore who consistently turns in a fine performance. He will be seen in Lubbock for the last time this year on Nov. 20, when New Mexico visits Tech.

OPPORTUNITY TO REPEAT 1942 WIN

Westerners Will Seek Revenge In Plainview Tussle Saturday

Lubbock's improving Westerners will be seeking revenge for five straight defeats by the Plainview Bulldogs when the two South Plains rivals clash in a traditional tilt here Saturday afternoon at Jones stadium.

The Hub City schoolboys have had a rough season, chalking up two wins, a tie and five losses in a murderous schedule, but the Westerners have the opportunity to do something that no Lubbock High team since 1942 has been able to do—beat Plainview.

The last Westerner eleven to defeat the Bulldogs was the powerful Lubbock team of 1942, which, most fans will remember, included a half-dozen great schoolboy performers. In the backfield that Thanksgiving afternoon six years ago, when the Lubbock boys pounded out a 28-0 win, were battering Bob Brewer, "Curly" Allison and Doug "Little Primo" McCurry. In the line were a group of youngsters who were later to gain wide recognition as college gridders—End Hubert Bechtol and Guard Tom Pirtle.

Enjoy Win Streak

But since that time the Plainview representatives have enjoyed an unbroken win streak over the Westerners. In 1943 Plainview drubbed Lubbock, 26-0, and in 1944 Plainview took a 7-6 triumph over a good Lubbock team. The Bulldogs chalked up a 13-7 victory in 1945, then took an 8-6 win over their "cousins" in Lubbock in 1946.

Last year the Plainview gridders notched a 13-7 triumph over the Westerners on the Bulldog gridiron. Only Amarillo's Golden Sandies hold a longer victory streak over Lubbock High.

Westerner Mentor Pat Pattison gave the Westerners a brief holiday from grid warfare Monday afternoon, with a "chalk session" the only item on the practice slate. Pattison told the Lubbock schoolboys that he was well pleased with their performance against the highly-rated Pampa Harvesters last week, despite several mistakes in the second half that may have cost the Westerners a victory.

Coach Praises Team

Pattison praised the youngsters for the spirit and determination that they exhibited against the Pampans, but urged the squad to go after wins in their final two games with just as much fight and hustle.

The Lubbock squad came through the tilt with the Harvesters in good shape, although 140-pound Guard Merle Burchett was battered in the setto and will have to be held out of contact work this week. He probably will be able to see action against Plainview Saturday, however.

Other members of the "hospital list" came through the encounter in good shape, and the gridders—Fullback Malcolm Young, Blocking Back Norman Bantz and Tackle Billy Brazell—should be in top condition for the annual clash.

Idalou Gridders Cop 4-B Crown

While the rest of the District 4-B conference football teams play out their schedule, the newly-crowned champion Idalou Wildcats have the pleasure of sitting on the sidelines and watching.

Idalou turned in a 31-0 victory over Whiteface to bring their conference schedule and regular schedule to a close with six victories and no defeats. Only a 13-13 tie with Kress is on the record and the Kangaroos are one of the stronger teams in their district.

The Wildcats wound up their season with a total of seven victories and one tie. They opened by defeating Cooper 46-0, tied Kress 13-13 and then won six straight. They beat the Lubbock Pioneers 32-0, New Deal 7-0, Frenship 28-7, Meadow 33-0, Ropesville 33-6 and Whiteface 31-0.

New Deal's Lions, idle last week, retained the runner-up spot, but Meadow slipped into third place and dropped Whiteface into fourth. The Bronchos turned back Ropes 19-7 while the Antelopes were taking their beating at Idalou. Cooper won its second straight victory from Tahoka B 32-0 to round out the schedule. Frenship forfeited its game to New Deal.

In games this week, New Deal goes outside the loop for a game with Eunice, N. M., there. Meadow plays host to Frenship, Whiteface entertains Cooper and the Lubbock Pioneers go to Ropes.

Austin Moves Up In Schoolboy Grid Poll

DALLAS, Nov. 8 (AP) — Austin's Maroons cracked the big ten of Texas schoolboy football today and Arlington Heights of Fort Worth squeezed back in the rating.

Sportswriters participating in the Dallas News' weekly poll ranked Austin eighth and Arlington Heights tenth.

Port Arthur, Amarillo, Waco and Baytown held on to the first, second, third and fourth positions.

Odessa, which walloped undefeated, untied Sweetwater last week, jumped into fifth place. Henderson, Texarkana, Wichita Falls and Arlington Heights followed the Broncs.

Alamo Heights of San Antonio tied for ninth with Odessa last week dropped among the also-rans. The Mules lost to Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) last week, 15-20.

Dayton Tops List Of Schools Considered For Sun Bowl Tussle

DAYTON, O., Nov. 8. (U.P.)—The Dayton Herald said today that C. D. Belding, chairman of the Sun Bowl committee, had confirmed reports that the University of Dayton football team heads the list of schools being considered for an invitation to the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., New Year's Day.

"We are watching six midwestern teams," The Herald quoted Belding. "We were much impressed by Dayton's 7-0 defeat of Miami university Saturday. Up until that time we had hopes of Miami returning to the Sun Bowl, but your Dayton team squashed that idea."

Belding told the Dayton newspaper by telephone that no "feelers" had been sent to any team but said he planned to contact University of Dayton officials later this week.

"We have scouted some 10 teams and we have Dayton on top of the list right now," he added.

Father John Collins, dean of men at the University of Dayton, said the Flyers would accept a Bowl bid if one were offered.

DUCKS DIE BY THOUSANDS

MONTREAL, Nov. 8. (AP) — Thousands of dead ducks floated down the St. Lawrence river today. About 20,000 birds died through starvation, exposure and pneumonia after they were rendered helpless by oil-poluted waters of Lake St. Peter, government game officials said.

SMU Favored To Win SWC Crown

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

Champions seldom repeat in the Southwest conference, but Southern Methodist university is a heavy favorite to win again.

Doak Walker spurred the Mustangs past Texas A. and M. last week, 20-14, and into sole possession of first place.

Texas' 13-10 victory over Baylor dropped the Bears out of the unbeaten class and out of a share of the lead.

Rice upset Arkansas, 25-6, to dampen A and M's hopes for its first victory of the year. The Aggies, beaten by Arkansas, 28-6, meet Rice this week.

Southern Methodist, only team unbeaten in conference competition, is a prime target for its remaining foes—Arkansas, Baylor and Texas Christian.

Arkansas gets first whack at the Mustangs. It plays host to them this week at Fayetteville, Ark.

Texas and Texas Christian tangle at Fort Worth in their annual grudge match and Baylor meets Tulane at New Orleans, La., in other games.

It took a terrific performance by Walker to trip the inspired Aggies. He passed for the first touchdown, scored the second on a 40-yard run, then sparked a 95-yard drive that broke a 14-14 deadlock. He picked up 58 yards returning an Aggie kickoff, passed and ran the ball to the twelve then carried over the goal on an end sweep.

The All-America tripple threat halfback also kicked two extra points. The 14 points he made against the Aggies ran his total for the year to 84, 48 more than Clyde Scott of Arkansas, who has 36.

Texas was a slight favorite over Baylor, but the Bears came within five minutes of retaining an unbroken, once-tied slate. A pass from Paul Campbell to George McCall brought Texas victory.

Player Classification Rule Is Alterer

Changes In Rules Made During Meeting Here Of WT-NM Loop

Changes were made in the rules of the West Texas-New Mexico Baseball League Sunday in the annual fall meeting held in the Hilton Hotel.

Most important change was in the player classification rule. The members voted to increase the number of veterans from five to six and to lower the minimum number of rookies required from four to two.

Officials of the loop will remain the same, with Milton E. Price of Dallas unanimously re-elected president and H. G. Fausett of Albuquerque and R. L. Edmondson of Pampa unanimously re-elected as vice presidents.

Might Open April 20

The 1949 season is tentatively scheduled to open April 20 and tentatively scheduled to end with a doubleheader on Sept. 5. This is exactly the same as last year, opening on Wednesday and closing on Monday.

Selection of the site of the all-star game was changed yesterday, with members voting to award the contest to the team in first place at the mathematical half-way point in the race. In case of a tie, the game will be played in the city of the team that first has undisputed possession of first place after that date.

In addition to being allowed to carry 19 players for the first 15 days of the season without penalty, the league yesterday voted to allow any team to hire not more than two rookies for the final 15 days of the season. This would bring the player list to 18 players during the final 15 days.

Salary Limit Rule

The league voted that the salary limit would not apply to players carried above 16 during the first and last 15 days of the season.

The Wilson baseball was accepted for two years as the official league ball, providing it meets specifications of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues. It also was voted that the home team should supply the visiting team with a dozen batting practice balls for each scheduled day of the year.

Tentative opening season pairings were made, with two schedules under consideration. One would pair Lubbock at Amarillo, Albuquerque at Borger, Clovis at Pampa and Abilene at Lamesa. The other opening season schedule, on a two-game home and home basis, would pair Lubbock and Amarillo, Lamesa and Abilene, Pampa and Borger and Albuquerque and Clovis.

No Franchise Changes

There were no franchise changes in the league, but several new ownership changes were announced. Most startling was revelation that H. V. Young, Abilene, and three associates will buy the Abilene Baseball club—providing they can secure contract release of Hayden "Stubby" Greer. Greer, a brilliant infielder for the Blue Sox two years ago, last year was with Mobile of the Southern Association and has had his contract assigned to Newport News, Va., of the Piedmont League.

Edmondson announced publicly, for the first time, that his son, R. L. Edmondson, Jr., was a partner in the Oiler management.

H. A. Duke has been elected president of the Lamesa Baseball club, with Dr. Sam Fraser as vice president and Travis Tartar as secretary-treasurer. Dan Y. Davis, former owner, has sold to this group and moved to Seminole.

El Pasoan Buys Clovis

W. T. Tuley of El Paso has bought the Clovis, N. M., franchise and will serve as business manager of the Pioneers. The Clovis Sports Association retains controlling interest in the club and has specified that the franchise cannot be moved.

Dr. Marshall Dikes is the new president of the Borger Baseball club, with D. M. Specter as vice president,

And Bob Seeds of the Amarillo Baseball club announced that Buck Fausett, manager of the Gold Sox last year, had bought 48 percent of the stock.

Conditions of the eight franchises were discussed, with each management indicating that they were making extensive improvements to diamonds and physical properties in the parks.

Carlsbad, N. M., indicated that they would like to be considered first in line should a vacant franchise ever appear in the WT-NM loop.

Price announced that the league, financially, was in good shape, although drawing to about 8,000 to 9,000 less fans this year than in 1947. He said that 600,011 fans saw regular season games, 59,844 fans attended playoff games and an additional 8,289 fans saw three Little Dixie series games. Thus, a grand total of 668,144 paying fans saw the WT-NM loop in action in 1948.

Present for the meeting were the following: Abilene, Howard Green, Young, Greer, Collier Parris; Albuquerque, H. G. Fausett; Amarillo, Seeds, Fausett, Harry Gilstrap; Borger, Eddie Carnett, Larry Gilchrist, Dr. Dikes, Miss Lee Specter, Specter; Clovis, J. Harvey Wilson, Tuley, Jim Rollas; Lamesa, Duke, Dr. R. F. Nix, Lawrence Spencer, Walter Buckel, Stan Grzywacz, Tarter, Dutch Luenberger; Lubbock, Mrs. Sam Rosenthal, George Schepps, Jackie Sullivan, Royce Mills, Bob Clodfelter, Sylvan Skibell, Ray McNally, John Smith, C. W. Ratliff, Judge W. D. Girand; and Pampa, Edmondson, Edmondson, Jr. Also present was Lefty Craig, umpire supervisor for the league.

marks with several amusing personal incidents and then warned that abuse of officials was a good way to end careers of good ones. He stated that most officials, even though paid, officiated only because they loved the game, that the act of officiating was a hobby.

The Hoya grid star also deplored the fans' attitude of booing a boy when officials stepped off a penalty against him for rough play. "There isn't a boy in the country who deliberately tries to injure another one. Most of the time he is only following the instructions given him and is only playing hard."

Nation Looks To SWC

Saffarrans also declared that the rest of the nation looked to the Southwest Conference for leadership in new ideas and he expressed his hopes that Tech would gain membership, wishing the Raider eleven all the luck in the world. In addition, he stated that he had seen the Rice-Texas game the week before Tech played Rice. "I can say truthfully that if the Rice line had played against Texas the way it played against Tech, the Owls would have beaten Texas easily."

Coach Hill announced that the Panthers would play Frederick, Okla., at Olney this week and Coach Pattison said that he had no alibis for his team. They made mistakes, he admitted, but the boys were trying harder each game. "If we keep on trying, maybe we'll stack up those blue chips one of these days," he concluded.

Coach Morgan made a plea for decent treatment of the officials, that rough, thoughtless treatment only tended to weed out the good men and bring in inferior officials. He discussed some of the plays in the Texas Mines game briefly.

Pictures of the Rice-Tech game ended the meeting.

Border Crown Is Almost Clinched

The Border Conference crown wasn't decided Saturday when Texas Tech beat Texas Mines 46-6, but it came close to being the essential victory needed.

The Red Raiders now are the only undefeated eleven in the loop and face two stumbling blocks to their second consecutive title, New Mexico and Hardin-Simmons. No other team in the conference has less than an outside change of evening the race.

The Tech team came into its own Saturday with a brilliant, dazzling offensive display that bowled over the Miners. Tech saw their quick touchdown equalled as both teams punched over in the first five minutes. But after that the race was on and the Raiders punched over six more scores to walk away with the game.

Arizona Closest Rival

Their closest competitor for Border loop honors now is Arizona university, which turned back New Mexico university at Albuquerque Saturday 14-6. The Wildcats have been defeated only by Tech and have victories over Arizona State of Tempe and Hardin-Simmons.

Tempe climbed to third in the conference race with a 52-7 route of New Mexico A. and M., a helplessly outclassed eleven. Tempe claims two victories in the regular season, the same as Mines, but Mines, which dropped to fourth, has one tie on the record.

West Texas State Teachers college was idle over the weekend, but Hardin-Simmons upheld conference honors with a 34-21 victory over Oklahoma City university and no score was available on the Arizona State of Flagstaff-LaVerne, Calif., game.

Sports Study

By Earl Sandday

We received quite a number of letters from Spur fans Monday as a result of Spur's 64-12 victory over Abernathy last week. It was our misfortune to predict, in our regular Thursday morning grid forecast, that Abernathy would win "in a close game." All we can say is, "Move over, Mr. Gallup and Mr. Pearson." Seriously, though, we know Spur has a fine ball club and we also know that Spur has compiled a good record this year. Several coaches have told us that Spur has some of the best backs on the South Plains, including a former Lubbock boy—Melvin Lindsey. Then why did we pick Abernathy to win? That's something we'll never know.

Just to set the record straight, and to halt some of the wild rumors drifting around town, we'd like to report that there was no "trouble" at the Pampa-Lubbock football game Saturday afternoon at Pampa. Coach Pat Pattison talked with an official once, but there were no harsh words exchanged and the event certainly had no importance. In fact, one of the officials of the game is a close personal friend of Pattison, and another of the men in the striped shirts has worked many games for the Westerner mentor. And to continue the "debunking" process, Coach Pattison was not even approached by any Pampa fan or fans.

After the game there was some talk that the referee had been struck by an irate fan, but the official in question came up to the Westerner dressing room about 20 minutes after the game and obviously had not been bothered. The official, who has known Coach Pattison for several years, had an entirely friendly discussion with the Westerner coaches, players and some of the fans. He left with everyone concerned in good spirits.

Imagine the surprise of the Westerner coaches and players to learn, when they arrived in Lubbock, that many persons believed there had been trouble on the field, that the Lubbock team had been "robbed" of a victory by the officials and that Pampa fans had intervened in a discussion between the Lubbock coaches and the game officials. As we have shown, there was not a grain of truth in the rumors concerning the players or coaches. And as for being "robbed," there's not a player or coach on the Westerner team that will agree to that statement. The Westerners were hurt by some penalties, including one that nullified Wayne Stroud's kickoff return for a touchdown, but that was not the chief reason for the loss. For instance, even if Stroud's touchdown had not been called back, and if the Westerners had made the extra point, Pampa would still have won the district game as a result of an 18-12 edge in first downs.

The defeat was a heart-breaker for the Lubbock players and fans, and especially discouraging since the Westerners played probably their best game of the season. But the players are taking the attitude that "the breaks can't go against us every week," and are just determined to close out the season with victories in their final two games. Lubbock fans could well follow their example.

Eisenhower Called To Forefront

'Ike' Given Post In Top Councils

the maneuvers would prove the worth of ideas, men, weapons, and equipment. More than 270,000 men — the largest army ever gathered in the United States for a single tactical operation — were assembled by General Krueger that September. Moving out of Second Army camps at the same time were another 130,000.

During this time I had my first important introduction to the press camera, which, since the days of Brady, has been a prominent feature of the American military scene. In the fall of 1941, however, flash bulbs were a fairly novel element in my daily life and I was only an unknown face to the men who used them. During the critique at Camp Polk a group shot was made of General Krueger, Major E. M. Bolden, a British military observer, and me; in the caption my two companions were correctly identified, but I appeared as "Lt. Col. D. D. Ersenbeing" — at least the initials were right.

Gets First Star

At the end of the maneuvers I was promoted to the temporary grade of brigadier general.

Although the Washington negotiations with the Japanese ambassadors were nearing their dramatic climax at the beginning of December, a relaxation of tenseness among the civilian population was reflected within the Army. It seemed that the Japanese bluff had been called and war, at least temporarily, averted in the Pacific.

On the Russian front the Germans had been stopped before Leningrad, Moscow and Sevastopol. My daily paper, on December 4, editorialized that it was now evident the Japanese had no desire for war with the United States. A columnist a few days later reported that in Washington there was a strong feeling that the crisis in the Pacific had been postponed, although a week earlier betting odds in Washington circles had been 10 to 1 on immediate war.

ON the afternoon of December 7 at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, tired out from the long and exhausting staff work of the maneuvers and their aftermath, I went to bed with orders that under no circumstances was I to be disturbed. My dreams were of a two week's leave I was going to take, during which my wife and I were going to West Point to spend Christmas with our plebe son, John. But even dreams like this—and my strict orders—could be shattered with impunity by the aide who brought the news that we were at war.

Within an hour of the Pearl Harbor attack orders began pouring into Third Army headquarters from the War department. There were orders for the immediate transfer of anti-aircraft units to the West Coast, where the terrified citizens hourly detected phantom bombers in the sky; orders for the establishment of anti-sabotage measures; orders for careful guarding of industrial plants; orders for reconnaissance along our Southern border to prevent the entrance of spies; and orders to insure the safety of ports heavy bodies of troops to the West in anticipation of any attacks the Japanese might contemplate. In turn General Krueger's headquarters had to send out instructions to a hundred stations as rapidly as they could be prepared and along the Gulf Coast.

Troops Rushed Out

There were orders for rushing checked. It was a period of intense activity.

Immediacy of movement was the keynote. The normal channels of administration were abandoned; the chain of command was compressed at meetings where all echelons got their instructions in a single briefing; the slow and methodical process of drawing up detailed movement orders that specified to the last jot of equipment what should be taken with the troops, how it should be crated and marked was ignored. A single telephone call would start an infantry unit across the continent; troops and equipment entrained with nothing in writing to show by what authority they moved. Guns were loaded on flatcars, if flatcars were available; on gondolas if they could be had; in freight cars if nothing else was at hand. The men traveled in de luxe Pullmans, in troop sleepers, in modern coaches, and in day cars that had been obsolete and sidetracked in the yards for a generation and were now drafted for emergency troop movements.

I HAD five days of this. Early in the morning of December 12 the telephone connecting us directly to the War department in Washington began to jangle. I answered and someone inquired, "Is that you, Ike?"

"Yes."

"The Chief says for you to hop a plane and get up here right away. Tell your boss that formal orders will come through later." The "Chief" was General Marshall, and the man at the other end of the line was Colonel Walter Bedell Smith, who was later to become my close friend and chief of staff throughout the European operations.

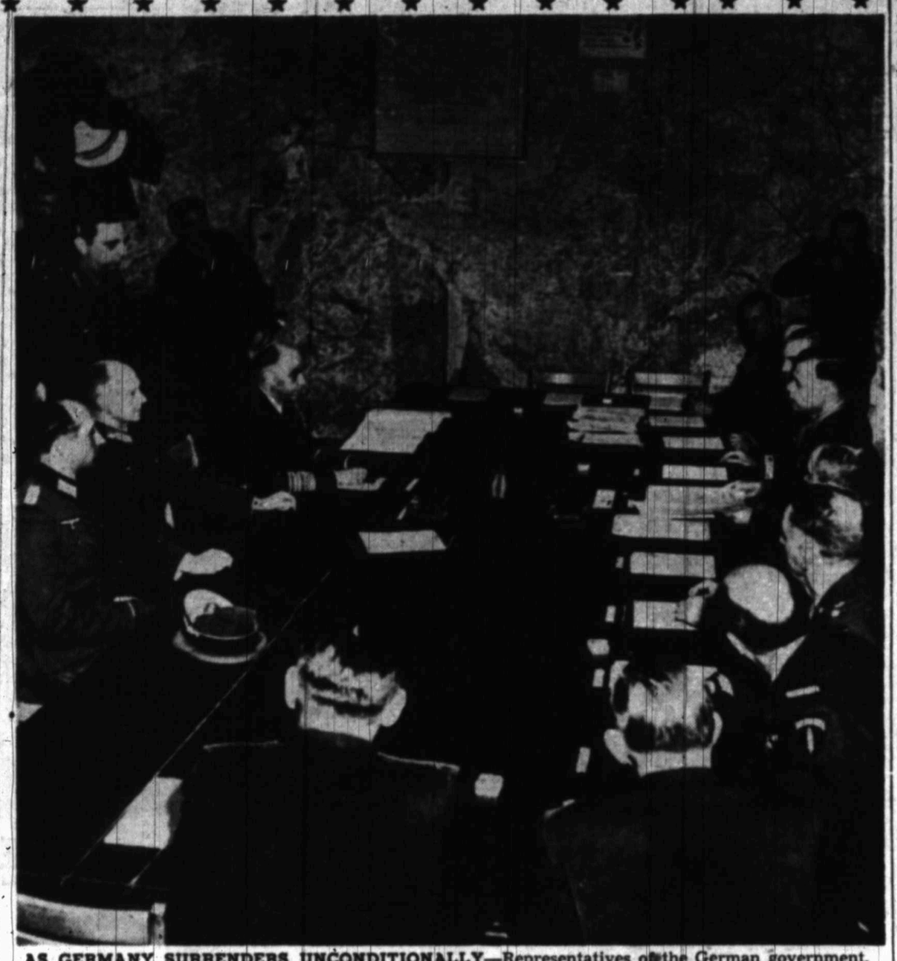

A Hard Blow

This message was a hard blow. During the first World War every one of my frantic efforts to get to the scene of action had been defeated—for reasons which had no validity to me except that they all boiled down to "War department orders." I hoped in any new war to stay with troops. Being ordered to a city where I had already served a total of eight years would mean, I thought, a virtual repetition of my experience in World War I. Heavyhearted, I telephoned my wife to pack a bag, and within the hour I was headed for the War department.

(Almost at the day of Pearl Harbor, General Eisenhower was plunged into the confusion of wartime Washington and the reorganization of the War department. This was global war, and the United States had little to fight it with except deficits in men, machines and munitions.

(The war in the Pacific took first priority at that time. General Eisenhower's first assignment from the Chief of Staff was to work out a plan to salvage as much as he could in the western Pacific. This is described in the next installment of "Crusade in Europe," which will be published in this newspaper tomorrow.)

AS GERMANY SURRENDERS UNCONDITIONALLY—Representatives of the German government, left side of the table, and of the Allied Governments, right, as they meet in the War Room of Supreme Allied Headquarters in the now-famous Rheims industrial school May 7, 1945, to sign the document in which Germany surrendered unconditionally to the Allies. Seated fourth from rear, right side of table, is Lieut. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, Chief of Staff to Gen. Eisenhower, who signed for the United States. In the center on left side, is Col. Gen. Gustav Jodl, Chief of Staff, of the German Army, who signed for the Germans. On his left is Gen. Adm. Hans Georg Friedeberg, on his right, Maj. Wilhelm Oxenius, his aide.

New Labor Law

tive housing legislation, broadened social security, federal aid to education, a civil rights program, higher pay for government employes, and a strong foreign policy coupled with "broad" defense measures.

Speakers at the Cincinnati convention will include vice President-elect Barkley, Senator-elect Humphrey of Minnesota, ECA administrator Hoffman and Secretary Tobin.

Tobin's flat statement followed widespread speculation as to whether the Taft-Hartley law would be repealed or modified, and whether the Wagner labor act would be restored.

Election Called Mandate

In calling for what he described as "an entirely new, just law," the secretary indicated that some provisions of both acts would be retained under a new title.

Since President Truman will base his message on recommendations from the Labor department, Tobin may be the chief architect of the new legislation to be requested.

Tobin said the election results were "a positive mandate" for repeal of the Taft-Hartley act. He predicted that the "mandate" will be carried out despite opposition in Congress.

orously against another paragraph which proposed that the assembly call upon the Soviet satellites to "cease forthwith rendering any assistance" to the Greek guerillas. The committee approved this 48 to 0, with the Russian group again refusing to vote. Burma, Costa Rica, Guatemala and Siam were absent.

Another section of the resolution, to be voted on tomorrow, proposes that the UN call on Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia to cooperate with Greece in settling their disputes by peaceful means, and to cooperate with UNSCOB.

The resolution also proposed that the life of UNSCOB be extended.

COTTON ESTIMATE GIVEN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—The Agriculture department, in its semi-final report of the year, today estimated this year's cotton crop at 15,166,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight. This estimate is 87,000 bales more than the 15,079,000 forcast a month ago. It compares with last year's crop of 11,857,000 and with the 1937-46 average of 12,014,000.

Youth Injured When Two Trucks Collide

Emilio Perez, 16-year-old Latin-American, was admitted to Lubbock Memorial hospital Monday afternoon for treatment of injuries suffered in a two-truck collision one mile east of Idalou about 3:50 p. m.

He had a laceration of the head and x-rays of his right leg and both collar bones had been taken to determine possible other injuries, hospital sources said last night.

Perez and his younger brother, Antonio, 14, were riding in a 1936 pickup truck driven by Ferer Garza, 14, of Lubbock, going south on farm road 400. They failed to stop at the intersection of highway 62 and were struck on the right side by a Chevrolet truck driven by Glen W. Mimms, 30, of route 1 Ralls, investigating Highway patrolmen said.

Both vehicles turned over after the collision, the pickup coming to rest on its left side and the larger truck on its right side, it was reported. Other than minor cuts and bruises, the other persons in the accident were believed to be unhurt. The three Latin-American youths were said to be employed as cotton pickers near Idalou.

Thomas Indicted

"nothing to say at this moment" about the charges, but might have a statement later. Thomas had refused to testify before the grand jury, after first demanding the right.

Ten Checks Cited

The indictment specifically cited 10 checks totalling $1,698.37 paid by the government for services which it said were never performed.

The government said the "plan and purpose of said conspiracy" was to make it appear that Miss Campbell's niece, Myra Midkiff, and Miss Campbell's household maid, Arnette Minor, were "bona fide" employes in Thomas' office on Capitol Hill.

Actually, the indictment said, both Thomas and Miss Campbell "well knew" during the entire period of the alleged kickback scheme that Myra Midkiff and Arnette Minor "would not be bona fide employes" and would "not perform any work or services" entitling them to government salaries.

In carrying out the alleged scheme, the indictment said Thomas and Miss Campbell "conspired . . . with divers other persons to the grand jury unknown."

Former Air Officer's Conviction Upheld

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—Bennett E. Meyers, former Army Air Forces general, today lost his appeal from the conviction that sent him to jail.

The United States circuit court of appeals upheld the conviction by a 2 to 1 decision. Since last March, Meyers has been in the District of Columbia jail serving a sentence of from 20 months to 5 years.

The specific charge against him was subordnation of perjury—inducing another person to lie. It broke in a sensational hearing by the Senate War Investigating committee last year, which looked into the affairs of a war contracting firm, the Aviation Electric company, of Dayton, Ohio.

Meyers was accused of being the owner of the firm, while setting up young Bleriot La Marre as the dummy president, and getting La Marre to lie about this to the Senate committee.

Snow Falls In Area

reported intermittent snow flurries during the early part of the night. Clovis said no snow had fallen there and that skies were clearing, and apparently that area would receive none of the fall reported elsewhere. The weather station reported that Roswell, N. M., had reported snow late Monday afternoon.

Slaton, Post, Tahoka, Lamesa, Brownfield, and Seagraves also had escaped the snowfall up to late Monday night but heavy clouds were hanging overhead and the temperature was reported falling in each town.

The snow, while heavy in several areas, was melting as soon as it touched the ground. Weather observers said the earth had not chilled sufficiently and that several days of freezing weather would be necessary before a mantle of snow could cover the Plains to any depth. Some of the snow did cast a light blanket over lawns and stick to cars in the city. It melted on sidewalks and streets however.

Other Snows Recalled

Don L. Jones, superintendent of the experiment station east of Lubbock, said that the cold weather probably would do no harm to crops on the South Plains unless it continued for some time, in which case the cotton now open in the fields might be reduced in grade. Most vegetation was killed by a biting frost Saturday morning.

Jones said that while snow seldom came so close behind a killing frost this early in November, he could recall several snows coming on Armistice Day, Nov. 11. Lubbock football fans recall that Texas Tech played Arizona on a snowy football field here on Armistice Day in 1935 after a "near blizzard" whipped across the Plains. A two-inch snowsleet was measured following the storm.

Lubbock service stations and auto supply stores were doing a brisk business Monday in anti-freeze. While "permanent" type anti-freeze was reported scarce, almost all auto supply stores had ample quantities of non-permanent types. Name brands of permanent anti-freeze were available at some places at gray-market prices ranging from two to three dollars above the "marked" price.

Cold Wave Spreads Out

The weather station reported the cold wave had spread out over most of the midwest, extending into the Great Lakes region on the east, across the northern U. S. to the Sierras and south to the Gulf of California and eastward through El Paso to Tyler, and to the Mississippi river. The cold air also had swept down the Mississippi valley. The cold front ha dnot penetrated into Southeast Texas and South Texas late Monday night.

Amarillo reported the first snowfall of the season fell there last night. Clayton and Tucumcari, N. M. also reported snowfall. The Texas Highway patrol said that heavy snow had fallen near Hereford and Stratford.

As temperatures began to drop as far south at Dallas and Fort Worth, the weather bureau forecast the coldest weather so far this fall for most of the state, The Associated Press reported.

The mercury slipped from a high of 75 at Dallas to 56 at 8:30 p.m. last night, a drop of 19 degrees.

Brisk winds that prevailed during the day kept temperatures in the Panhandle low, but in other parts of the state the mercury was up.

It was 81 at Houston, in the path of the front, and 80 at Laredo, Galveston and Victoria. It was 78 at Austin and 74 at Brownsville.

Welfare Program Is Studied By Teachers

Approximately 200 members of the Lubbock Classroom Teachers association attended a meeting of that organization Monday night in the auditorium of O. L. Slaton Junior High school.

Welfare matters were discussed, and it was voted to enlarge the organization's welfare committee.

A. B. Reese, president of the association, reported on the convention of the National Education association, held in Cleveland, O., last July 2-11.

It was decided that four meetings of the association would be held this year in place of the usual two, and the group voted to revise the constitution of the association, naming a committee to study revisions. Included were W. C. Watts, chairman, J. W. Reed, Mary Lou Robertson, Norman Heath, and Reese.

The Lubbock association has a total of 294 members, which gives it almost 100 per cent membership of local classroom teachers.

cratic Executive committee for purpose of paying debts incurred in the last campaign," Ellis' letter said.

"We felt that these festivities should not be confined to this county alone, but that our friends of the entire 19th Congressional district should be invited to the capacity of our facilities."

Cong. Mahon To Speak

Cong. Mahon will speak, Ellis said. Ellis asked that, because of local interest in the dinner and a resultant brisk demand for tickets, "your reply by wire or mail, so as to be received in Lubbock not later than Saturday, advising how many from your county expect to be present, will be greatly appreciated." The answers should be addressed to him at the Lubbock National bank.

Ellis and Berry said it is hoped that 80 per cent of the ticket costs would "be net for the (party) national debt."

The idea—believed the only one of its kind that has been broached since the election—was incubated the latter part of last week when Chairman Ellis, Walter Posey, Arch Underwood, A. C. Jackson, Berry and C. W. Ratliff met informally. They agreed that, as Berry put it, the dinner was to be on a "shirtsleeve level" and districtwide in scope.

The master of ceremonies for the dinner will be designated later this week.

It was announced that tickets may be bought from Ellis at the bank, or from members of the ticket committee. Those committeemen and members of other committees will meet again Wednesday afternoon.

Committees, chairmen and members follow:

Invitations: Walter Posey, chairman, Arch Underwood, J. H. Brewer of Slaton, A. C. Jackson, George Berry.

Ticket sales: Howard Davison, chairman, J. W. Jackson, Owen McWhorter, Mrs. R. Copeland, Hub Jones, Mayor W. H. Rodgers, J. O. Jones, Robert Howard, L. A. Howard, G. H. Nelson, W. W. Campbell, J. A. Raley, jr., Waggoner Carr, Burton S. Burks, Royal Furgeson, James Denton, Glenn Hess, Hop Halsey, Chester Hubbard, Homer L. Pharr, Dr. J. William Davis, Judge G. V. Pardue, Charles Cobb, L. Program committee, Clarence Whiteside, chairman. Remaining members of the committee will be appointed by County Chairman Ellis.

Montgomery Confers With Allies On European Defense Problems

HERFORD, Germany, Nov. 8 (BIS)—Viscount Montgomery conferred secretly with the American, British and French military governors of Germany today, presumably on problems related to the defenses of western Europe.

Establishment of a police force in western Germany is believed to be one of the subjects that will be taken up by Montgomery, military chief of the western union, with the conferees in the next few days.

Bonds Set For Lubbock Suspect

Bond of $1,000 was set Monday in each of three burglary counts here against Henry Neal McKay, 30-year-old Lubbock man, who was returned here from Lynn county where he was sentenced to three years for a similar offense.

McKay is charged here with the Oct. 12 burglaries of Tony Gilson service station, McIlhaney dairy and Olen Lee used car company. The bonds were set by Justice of the Peace D. W. Robertson.

Uless, alias Blackie, Adams, identified as a negro of 1818 Ave. B, was charged with assault with intent to murder his wife Lillie Bertha Adams.

Bond of $1,000 was set by Lynn.

The woman said Adams came in with this statement:

"I got murder in my heart—and I wanna kill someone."

Whipped Out Knife

She told assistant District Attorney A. W. Salyars that her husband whipped out a knife and "cut at me, but I dodged." Jewel B. Harris, 13, the woman's nephew, leaped between the two principals. The knife thrust narrowly missed the woman, then Adams cut the boy, Salyars was told.

Six Prisoners Removed

Six men who had been convicted of felony offenses in the district courts here were removed from county jail Monday by a state prison transfer agent, T. O. Ross.

They were:

Roberto Bustillos, 29, sentenced to life for murder; William Johnson, 20, a negro, eight years in two burglary cases; Charlie Lee Smith, 38, three years for theft; D. L. Spriggs, 27, a negro, 10 years for burglary, as well as additional time from Lynn and Potter counties for burglary; Daniel D. Floyd, 30, of Lumberton, N. C., four years for theft by bailee; and Jim A. Hampton, 32, 10 years for burglary.

Six other prisoners, from several West Texas counties, were lodged in jail overnight by the transfer agent. They were removed with the other six.

Also removed from county jail were 28 Mexicans who had entered the state illegally from the Republic of Mexico. They will be returned to their native country.

Peace Bond Posted

Dewitt Bailey, 21, a Lubbock negro, posted a $200 peace bond set in the court of D. W. Robertson, justice of peace. Robertson also fined nine persons $270 plus costs of court when they were charged with gambling.

There were several theft reports:

A 1939 black Ford convertible, license BR 5959, reported stolen from Ignacio Oguin; 6,000, possibly 7,000 pounds, of red Martinmaize from the field of V. Snodgrass north of Idalou; a suitcase and clothing from Patsy McCarty of 1638 Ave. P; $70 worth of clothing from J. W. Hobgood of Texas Tech dormitory 3.

The other person, A. C. Hudspeth, 17, pleaded guilty to a county court charge of driving a motor vehicle without the consent of the owner, and was fined $10 and costs.

Pie Filler Taken

Lubbock Pastry shop, at 2126 Nineteenth, was broken and entered sometime Saturday, the sheriff's department was informed Monday. A window was broken and intruders took a gallon of pumpkin pie filler, ransacked a peanut vending machine and "scattered stuff all over the place."

D. T. Heath of 2709 Twenty-eighth street informed police that $80 worth of clothing had been stolen from his car parked in 2200 block Nineteenth. Named missing were a house dress, a ladies white wool battle jacket, a black satin slip and a plaid sport shirt.

A pair of men's trousers was stolen from 1215 Ninth street, Jane Hough of that address told officers.

Two chrome disk hub caps, two aluminium fender skirts and a side view mirror were taken from a 1947 Ford parked at a local night club, J. C. Hornsby of 2118 Seventh street reported.

The Texas Highway patrol said that a 1940 Ford coach, license AM 3754, had been stolen at Littlefield, and a 4-wheel Farris and Wilkins trailer taken at Anton.

A New License plate, number 8L8845, was stolen from Johnnie Lawrence of 2628 East Ave. F, the highway patrol said.

Truman's Power

veto was confined to income levies.

A short time before the election Republican leaders indicated that any tax cut would be put off for a year to permit time to affect possible economies in government expenditures.

Rep. Eberharter (D-Pa), old-time Roosevelt supporter and a member of the tax-writing Ways and Means committee, predicted that the President would urge higher taxes on upper incomes and an excess profits tax on corporations.

Eberharter forecast a Truman recommendation for revision of the tax cut enacted this year so as to pass more of the benefits on to low income groups. This would mean taking tax relief away from upper incomes.

Martin left the impression that he would accept the post of minority leader in the new House. Rep. Rayburn (D-Tex), House minority leader in the 80th Congress, is expected to succeed Martin as speaker.

New Fines Assessed In Liquor Violations

County Attorney John Steele said that two persons who had been fined for liquor law violation last week were fined on similar offenses Monday morning.

Steele said County Judge Walter Davies fined L. D. Wall, 42, $200 and costs Monday, and explained that, last Wednesday, Wall had been fined $150 on an inhanced penalty liquor law violation complaint that set up a prior conviction.

Steele said he recommended a fine of $1,000 this morning, after drawing another enhanced penalty case that set up the Nov. 3 conviction.

Thomas Hubert Wilson, 32, of Midland was fined $250 and costs this morning, two days after he had been fined $200 and costs for liquor law violation, officials said. Arresting police said he had 12 pints of whisky in his car. The Saturday charge named the man as Hubert Thomas, officials said, adding that "the two are one and the same."

Other county court business:

Bond of $500 each returnable instanter on drunk driving charges was posted by Earnest E. Poyner, 38; Earl Wager Tucker, 37, and Wilburn E. Gray, 22, all of Lubbock.

Gonzalo Martinez, 26, of Houston and W. J. Bullington each pleaded guilty of drunk driving. Each was fined $50 and costs and his driver's license revoked six months.

The sheriff's department said Marjorie Sims was fined $100 and costs on a charge of liquor law violation.

Jimmie Hawkins, 35-year-old negro, of Slaton, and Winnie Wynne entered pleas of guilty to liquor law violation and were fined $100 and county court costs each. Both had pleaded innocent to the charges on Oct. 6 and bonds of $1,000 had been set for them.

Walter Ezell, 50-year-old Lubbock negro, and Lulla Rice, 40-year-old negro woman of near Monroe, were each assessed fines of $100 and costs on like charges of violation of liquor law.

(Marjorie Ann Sims, 18, of 1921-A Sixteenth, is not the Marjorie Sims who was fined $100 and court costs on a liquor law violation charge Monday, relatives said last night. The sheriff's department said no records furnishing further description of the Marjorie Sims who was fined were available last night.)

Reds Plan Revolt

Korea. Then, when the time is ripe, according to this report, well-armed and trained members of the pro-Communist Socialist Unity party (SED) will start the uprisings.

The newspaper said that most of the Germans whom the Soviets are sending back to west Germany are former Wehrmacht soldiers, accompanied by ostensible Soviet army "deserters" who reportedly will aid the underground.

Dismantling Protested

It also was reported by Montag's Echo that German Communist leaders have become increasingly apprehensive over Soviet dismantling of factories to meet reparations.

The newspaper said that Communist leader Otto Grotewohl, on a recent visit to Moscow, warned that a continuation of plant dismantling would be "catastrophic."

Grotewohl reportedly told Soviet officials that the Russian "revolutionary appeal" was failing with the Germans, and a better approach would be a revival of German nationalism.

Howley told a meeting of west Berlin local officials that U. S. troops will guarantee that the forthcoming municipal elections will be free of coercion.

Meanwhile in Los Angeles county there was a new flareup from a fire area swept last week, as was this Orange county area.

Winds generally topped 50 miles an hour and in San Bernardino a gust of 60 miles toppled a frame house, slightly injuring its owner, David Deem. The house burned after collapsing.

About 200 homes in Silverado and more than 75 in Modjecka canyon were threatened.

earth," he said, speaking of the family scene. "That's all that matters."

Demos To Confer

Mr. Truman put off a decision on major changes in his administration to loaf at this White House resort with some of his favorite cronies. His 2 p. m. (CST) visit to press headquarters was an unheralded part of his informal routine.

Word as to what heads will fall for campaign apathy probably will come as a result of conferences later in the week with Democratic big-wigs.

Senator J. Howard McGrath, the party chairman; Senator Alben W. Barkley, the vice-president-elect and Leslie L. Biffle, secretary of the Senate Democratic policy committee, are coming in tomorrow or Wednesday.

Another expected visitor is Gov. Mon Wallgren of Washington state. Wallgren lost his bid for re-election and a place likely will be found for him in the government.

Lovett Slated To Go

Some of the Democratic leadership is gunning for Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer.

It is known that Secretary of defense James V. Forrestal will not be urged to remain in that post.

Secretary of State Marshall, for whom the President has warm affection, likely will remain in his job as long as he has any hope of reaching an agreement with the Russians.

But, Robert A. Lovett, undersecretary of state, is to go, voluntarily or otherwise.

One of President Truman's big problems is to find a man to replace Lovett.

Members of his staff are giving a lot of thought to that one.

In the meantime, the President is concentrating on enjoying himself in the Florida sunshine.

Three South Plains Youths To Take Part In Marine Program

Three South Plains youths, Pfc. Alvin C. Garner, USMC, son of Mrs. Opal T. Garner of Ralls, Cpl. Raymond L. Mann, USN, son of Thomas F. Mann, 2326 Nineteenth, and S-Sgt. Guy R. Gilson, jr., USMC, son of Guy R. Gilson, 2116 Ave. L, who are serving with the Seventh Marines at Camp Pendleton, Oceanside, Calif., will celebrate the 173rd birthday of the Marine Corps Nov. 10 by "snapping in" for cold weather mock war maneuvers in the mountain ranges of Camp Pendleton.

Marine Corps tradition demands suitable celebration Nov. 10 of each year no matter where Marines are stationed. There will be no party for the Seventh Marines this year, however, as they exchange their dress blues for Arctic parkas.

East Broadway School Cafeteria Is Slated To Open Wednesday

The East Broadway school cafeteria will open Wednesday, Mrs. Dora Nell Carroll, cafeteria director, announced Monday.

Mrs. Carroll said applications to fill a few vacancies on the cafeteria staff are being taken at the school business office, 1007 Texas.

The cafeteria will be the eleventh opened in the local public school system within the last year. Three more cafeterias are expected to open before the end of this year, school officials said.

Building Permits In City Jump To $12,099,204

November building permits totaling $90,325 have pushed the Lubbock building permit total to $12,099,204, nearly a million dollars over the 1947 total, figures at the office of Lloyd Ross, city building inspector, revealed Monday.

The 1947 building permit total was $11,233,630.

At least one major project is virtually certain to push the 1948 building total above $13,000,000 before the first of December. It is the new First Baptist church building, the permit for which is expected to be issued this month.

A-Bomb Output May Use Up U. S. Uranium Reserves In 30 Years

CHICAGO, Nov. 8. (INS)—One of the nation's top industrial chemists said today that the present rate of atom bomb production threatens to use up known U. S. uranium reserves within 30 years.

He is Eugene Ayers, chief chemist of the Gulf Research and Development company of Pittsburgh.

Ayers, in Chicago for the 28th annual meeting of the American Petroleum institute, declared that the limited supply of fissionable material means that atomic energy as now understood cannot be regarded as the predominant energy source of the future.

Deserts To Be Used

Ayers added:

"If uranium were used to produce as much energy as petroleum it would become a very rapidly vanishing resource."

He pointed out that the world supply of recoverable uranium is believed to be about 10 times as great as that in the United States.

He predicted that heat and light from the sun, captured and stored in the deserts, would be the great source of energy in the future.

In another session of the institute F. R. McLean, Detroit safety expert, pointed out that about 10,000 persons lose their lives each year because of fire.

McLean, divisional safety director for the Socony-Vacuum Oil company of Detroit, said that 1,100 of the deaths are due to fires involving gasoline, kerosene or other petroleum products.

Many Involve Fuels

He added:

"Most of those fatal fires involving petroleum products occur on the farms and in the homes."

McLean said that more than 500 lives are lost annually in farm fires "caused by careless use (or misuse) of gasoline, kerosene, etc."

He added that home dry cleaning claims more than 200 lives annually.

J. W. Sinclair, of the Union Oil company of California, Los Angeles, said the petroleum industry was doing everything possible to make products safe to handle.

He said the industry has taken every precaution to "avoid contamination of its products, but added that "complete protection cannot be provided against the consequences of human frailties."

LUBBOCK MORNING AVALANCHE

Lubbock, Texas, Tuesday, November 9, 1948

PARLAYS CIGARETS INTO SMALL FORTUNE—Master Sergeant Wiley C. Walters, right, and his wife, Marian, 42, above, were questioned by Colorado Springs, Colo., police about jewels and antiques Police Chief I. B. Bruce said were found at their home. Bruce said Walters told him he traded 1,500 cartons of cigarets for some $20,000 worth of goods during a two-year hitch in Austria. No charges were filed. Bruce said he and the Air Force were trying to find out if the goods were brought into this country legally. (AP Wirephoto).

OFFICERS PROBE STRANGE STORY

Sergeant Claims He Parlayed Cigarettes Into Tidy Fortune

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Nov. 8. (INS)—Investigators from three federal agencies converged on Colorado Springs today to help unravel the fantastic story of an Army sergeant who says he parlayed American cigarettes into a fortune in European jewelry, paintings and antiques.

Under arrest were Master Sgt. Wiley Clyde Walters, 40, and his wife, Marian, 42, who returned to this country from the American zone of Austria last August.

Jeweler Gets Suspicious

Colorado Springs Police Chief I. B. (Dad) Bruce, who described Walters as a "typical regular Army topkick," said agents of the office of strategic investigation, the U. S. customs service and the Army are assisting in the probe.

Bruce said the couple was arrested Saturday on a tip from George C. Grote, a Colorado Springs jeweler and himself a veteran of the recent war.

Grote became suspicious, Bruce said, when Mrs. Walters tried to sell him two valuable rings, a diamond pin and an expensive wrist watch.

"She told me several stories about how she happened to have the stuff," Grote related, "so I decided I ought to inform Chief Bruce."

Officers began a search of the Walters' home and found what one described as "an atmosphere of Arabian nights."

Rooms were crammed with luxurious new and antique furniture, art objects, silverware, perfumes from Paris and household furnishings ranging from clocks and statues to a grand piano made in Vienna.

Poodles Found In Kitchen

One pocket of a pair of GI pants contained a small fortune in jewels. Elaborate chests and cabinets lined the walls and rugs, in some cases two deep, covered the floors.

Officers speculated on the contents of other boxes and parcels still unpacked which filled the basement of the modest home.

Six purebred French poodles were discovered in the kitchen and taken to a veterinarian.

Chief Bruce said the Walters contended they obtained all the articles by selling and trading 1,500 cartons of cigarettes, which they obtained from a U. S. firm through the mail.

The sergeant said he arrived in

261,192 Bales Are Ginned In Area

By A. B. SLAGLE
Avalanche Staff Writer

Approximately 47 per cent of the South Plains 1948 cotton crop has been ginned, on the basis of weekend reports on progress of harvest by the Texas Employment commission, and the total indicated crop has dropped by about 25,000 bales, compared with estimates by the state agency two weeks earlier.

Unofficial ginnings figures accumulated by the TEC, part of them from official reports and the others obtained from gin records, showed a total of 261,192 bales ginned in 14 counties, where practically all of the area's cotton is produced.

Lamb County Total Hit

Estimates on production in the 14 counties dropped 25,000 bales to a total indicated production of 588,000 bales. Much of this was in Lamb county, where 15,000 bales was lopped from an original indicated production of 100,000. Hockley and Cochran counties, shown together in TEC reports, dropped 5,000 bales from an earlier indication of 140,000.

The crop was an average of 84.5 per cent open and ready for harvest over the area, ranging from 70 per cent open in Hockley and Cochran counties, to 95 per cent in Bailey and Lamb.

Percentage of the crop harvested, averaging 47 per cent over the area, ranged from 30 per cent in Bailey county to 72 per cent in Lynn and Garza. Lubbock county led in total number of bales ginned by counties, with 52,230 ginned out of an indicated 95,000 bales total production, a completion percentage of 55.

Crosby county, where indicated production is 30,000 bales, was not included in the weekend figures.

Demand For Workers Drops

The demand for harvest hands dropped sharply, being almost halved at the weekend, compared with two weeks ago, and only about one-third of those reported needed at mid-October. A total of 5,288 hands were reported needed in the 14 counties, compared with 9,255 two weeks earlier.

There was no indication of future labor needs in the TEC summary, but other circles believed that this would drop sharply again as result of the killing frost at the weekend that would render much of the cotton subject to mechanical harvesting due to defoliation.

Hockley and Cochran, where only a small percentage of the crop was under irrigation and per-acre yields would be proportionately less, led the area in re-

Zola Mae Elliott Killed Near New Orleans

Lubbock Girl Killed In Auto Accident

Miss Zola Mae Elliott, 21, of 1714 Ave. N, June graduate of Texas Technological college, was killed Sunday and four of her companions were injured in a highway collision near New Orleans, the United Press and Associated Press reported from New Orleans.

Miss Elliott was a student at the New Orleans Baptist Theological seminary, where she was receiving training to be a missionary.

She was the daughter of Mrs. Callie Elliott of 1714 Ave. N. Other survivors include a brother, Sgt. C. H. Elliott, jr., who is stationed at Walker Air Force base at Roswell, N. M., and a sister, Mrs. Alton Clemmer of Hobbs, N. M.

Lubbock High Graduate

Miss Elliott was born and reared in Lubbock, and was graduated from Lubbock Senior High school. Last year, during her senior year at Texas Tech, she was social vice president in the Baptist Student Union council. She was a member of Calvary Baptist church here, where services will be conducted, probably at 2 p. m. Wednesday. Final arrangements are pending arrival of the body here about 11 o'clock tonight, Bryan McDonald Funeral home reported Monday night.

Burial will follow in Tech Memorial Park cemetery, under direction of McDonald Funeral home.

Information from New Orleans quoted state police as saying the accident occurred when a tire blew out on an approaching automobile, which then swerved into the path of the station wagon occupied by the students. The seminary students were en route to nearby Sorrento, La., to conduct religious services.

The injured were listed as Albert H. Hodge, 27, of Kenly, N. C., driver of the station wagon in which the party was riding; Mrs. Jewel Hodge, 20, his wife; Miss Billie McCloskey, 20, of Tampa, Fla., and Fred Chestnut, 30, of Mobile, Ala., all students in the seminary.

The driver of the car, Henry George Maurin, 25, escaped with only minor injuries.

Full Bi-Partisan Co-Operation In New Congress Pledged By Demo, GOP Foreign Policy Leaders

By H. K. REYNOLDS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Full bi-partisan co-operation in the 81st Congress was promised today by Democratic and Republican foreign policy leaders.

Their attitudes gave assurances to President Truman that the united congressional front on questions of foreign affairs will continue into 1949.

An invitation to Republicans, including Sen. Vandenberg (R) Mich., to join in the maintenance of the bi-partisan policy came from Rep. Sol Bloom (D) N. Y., who will head the House Foreign Affairs committee in the next Congress. Bloom declared:

"At this critical juncture in world affairs and in the history of the United States, the bi-partisan foreign policy is even more essential than at any time since it was inaugurated three years ago."

Vandenberg, slated by the election to lose the chairmanship of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, has made no post-election statement, but has told friends and government officials that there has been no change in his position on vital policy questions.

As in the Republican-controlled 80th Congress, Vandenberg will reserve the right to criticize administration proposals about which he has not been consulted, and to give his guidance in the formulation of Senate decisions.

Connally Pledges Backing

Sen. Connally (D) Tex., who is scheduled to resume chairmanship of the foreign relations committee, pledged his support during the campaign for the bi-partisan foreign policy which he helped develop.

He is expected to welcome from Vandenberg the same backing which he gave to the Republican chairman during the past two years of Republican leadership. Connally is still at his Texas home.

Rep. Eaton (R) N. J., chairman of the House Foreign Affairs committee, who will relinquish his post to Rep. Bloom in January, is at his Plainfield, N. J., home.

No Changes Seen

Although Eaton, like Vandenberg, has made no political statement, he expressed the hope to Washington associates that House Republicans would support administration foreign policy in the next Congress as they have during the past two years.

Vandenberg, among the first of the top Republican leaders of Congress to return to Washington since the election, said that he was "here for the duration." He will preside at the final session of the Senate of the 80th Congress on Dec. 31.

Rep. Bloom rejected suggestions in some political quarters that the Democrats, with full control of Congress, would not need Republican support on foreign policy questions. Bloom said:

"We need bi-partisan co-operation now more than ever before, and it is my purpose to do everything possible to give Republicans a full share in the working out of congressional policies in the foreign field."

Bloom pointed out that the same four men, Vandenberg, Connally, Eaton and himself, were the "four horsemen" of the original bi-partisan foreign policy in Congress, and that all would be in the 81st Congress to carry on the job.

Seven Railway Cars Destroyed By Fire

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 8. (U.P.)—A spectacular fire raged for three hours at Dodson, Mo., at the south city limits of Kansas City today, following the derailment of seven cars of an 85-car Missouri Pacific freight train on the way to Kansas City from Osawatomie, Kan.

No one was injured.

Six cars were destroyed and three others were damaged by the fire, according to W. V. Jones, chief dispatcher at Osawatomie. Jones said the damage to the cars was $15,675. Officials did not estimate the damage to the contents.

The derailment was caused by a brake beam catching in a switch, Jones said. It sent a car loaded with oil toppling on its side. A gasoline filled car also turned over and immediately burst into flames.

Five cars on adjacent tracks were ignited, sending up billows of smoke and flames 100 feet into the air, witnesses said. Of the cars destroyed, one was filled with oil; one with gasoline; two contained salvaged shingles, another was loaded with railroad ties and a sixth carried "small merchandise" that was not further described.

The derailment occurred at 6:30 a. m. (CST) and it was 9:30 a. m. when fire-fighting equipment, rushed to the scene from Kansas City, finally extinguished the blaze.

Believed to be between 500 and 800 years old, an anchor has been caught in nets by fishermen near Nieuport, Belgium.

Russian Armed Forces Warned To Be In Readiness For Any Move

By HENRY SHAPIRO
United Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Nov. 8 — Russia's celebration of the 31st anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution set Soviet policy today on a course of full combat readiness for protection against alleged Anglo-American efforts to unleash a new war.

The policy set forth by Premier Josef Stalin in his recent Pravda interview was emphasized and expanded somewhat in the speeches of Soviet leaders at the anniversary celebrations.

Statement Forthright

The most forthright pronouncement was by Marshal Semyon Timoshenko famous commander in the second world war and in the civil war. Standing atop Lenin's tomb in Red Square, he said in the presence of the elite of Communism and massed civilians:

"The Soviet army must be in full combat readiness and must strive constantly to perfect itself in order to protect the Soviet Union."

He already had sounded the warning voiced previously by Stalin in his interview and by Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov at the outset of the anniversary celebration that American and British warmongers were trying to foment a new war.

He contrasted what he called the peacable, constructive labor of the Soviet Union with what he labeled the aggressiveness of the British and Americans.

Soviets Are Willing

The Soviets, he said, are willing to "work for peace and international collaboration on a basis of equality of powers and mutual respect."

He addressed his words to the massed officers and troops of the Soviet army, drawn up for a great parade through the square.

The army marched under a fleet of hundreds of, four-motored bombers, fighters, assault bombers and jet propelled planes. They roared low under overcast skies, the jets hardly visible.

The parade ended with a display of light and heavy siege artillery, rocket guns, and heavy tanks. After the military show was over, an estimated 2,000,000 civilians representing factories, schools and offices, marched singing and cheering through the square.

Ziucbotov, in his capacity as acting prime minister, reviewed the parade. Stalin was believed to be on vacation.

Banner Between Portraits

Opposite Lenin's tomb, sandwiched between giant portraits of Lenin and Stalin, was a huge banner with the legend "under the banner of Lenin, under the leadership of Stalin, forward toward the triumph of Communism."

The American military, naval and air attaches—Maj. General John O'Daniel, Rear Admiral Leslie Stevens and Brig. Gen. Russell Crandall—were invited to the show. Last year the Americans were not invited, presumably in retaliation for the failure to admit observers to U. S. army maneuvers.

Former Levelland High School Students To Attend Program

Several hundred ex-students of Levelland High school are expected to attend a banquet and dance held in their honor Friday when the Levelland football squad meets Littlefield in one of the crucial tilts of the season.

Registration of the exes will begin at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, and continue until 6 o'clock, at which time a banquet has been planned in the Levelland gymnasium. A dance has been scheduled for 9 o'clock, but no definite place for it has been arranged according to Lois Vestal, reporter for the Levelland Ex-Students association.

Pecos River Compact Commission Seeks Agreement On Pact

AUSTIN, Nov. 8. (AP)—The Pecos river compact commission today awaited committee study of an engineering report on division of Pecos waters between Texas and New Mexico.

The commission met in a morning session and recessed to give its engineering advisory committee time to look into data presented by John R. Erickson of Santa Fe, New Mexico engineering advisor. The commission meeting will resume tomorrow morning to hear the committee report.

The commission's work today gave no indication whether the 24-year-old water dispute between the two states would be solved this time.

R. J. Tipton of Denver, Colo., engineering advisor to the federal member of the commission, said he believed there was sufficient information before the commission to provide "an adequate basis for a compact."

Both Tipton and Gov. Beauford H. Jester urged the commission to reach a fair and equitable solution of the problem of dividing the Pecos waters before it is too late.

"If something is not done, there will be two patients dead — the Carlsbad irrigation district and part of the area below Red Bluff reservoir," Tipton said.

Gov. Jester warned the commission, "the longer it takes to reach an agreement, the more problems you will have."

After the commission adopted a supplementary report of its engineering advisory committee, Erickson presented his additional studies which the commission asked the committee to consider.

Texas seeks enough Pecos water crossing the state line to give Red Bluff reservoir 198,700 acre feet of usable water. New Mexico has previously offered enough to give the reservoir 165,000 acre feet.

Two of three proposed compacts in the past 24 years have been turned down by New Mexico. The third was rejected by Texas. The last Texas legislature appropriated $30,000 for the attorney general's use should he feel it necessary to file suit for a court judgment for Pecos waters.

San Angelo, Houston Tech Ex-Students Name Officers

Officers for the year were recently elected by the San Angelo and Houston chapters of Texas Technological college Ex-Students associations according to reports received Monday by the Ex-Students office at Tech.

At San Angelo, George Blumentritt, of the class of 1932, was elected president; Jerry Stoltz, class of 1948, vice president; and Raymond Williams, class of 1942, secretary-treasurer.

Former Polish Leader Charges Stalin Seeks To Conquer World

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, former Polish premier who escaped death by a dramatic flight from his country, said today Stalin "intends to cosquer the world."

The Polish democratic leader's estimate of Soviet Russia's chief of state is contained in his book, "The Rape Of Poland," published over the weekend by Whittlesey House.

Portions of the work—including a prediction that the Red armies could seize most of Western Europe in a matter of days—were released early this year by King Features syndicate under the title "The Coming Russian Terror."

FDR Churchill Scored

Mikolajczyk, now in Paris, traces step by step the fall of Poland in 1939 to Hitler and Stalin, the wiping out of Polish nationalists by both, the rise of the Polish underground army, the Red armies counter-attack and Poland's futile efforts to obtain a free government after the war.

He places much of the blame for Poland's suppression behind the "Iron Curtain" on the "appeasement of Stalin by Franklin D. Roosevelt and Winston Churchill."

The former Polish prime minister offers little comfort to those who believe that Communism, like Nazism, will spread itself thin and eventually snap.

"The answer," he writes in the book, "appears to be an emphatic no.

Rule From Moscow

"Hitler attempted to rule and administer with Germans; Stalin rules with key Russians in control position and administers with traitorous corrupt or weak nationals of the countries to be ruled.

"In Russia today men and women of every nation are now being trained and schooled for the day when they will return to their native land, which they know so intimately and to rule under direct command from Moscow.

"Stalin trains Frenchmen to rule France, Italians to rule Italy, Englishmen to rule England, Latins to rule Latin countries, Japanese to rule Japan, Chinese to rule China, Indians to rule India, and Americans to rule America."

Mikolajczyk quotes Russian sources to disprove the USSR disclaimer for the murder of 10,000 Polish officers. He tells also of the radio appeal, sent by Moscow to the Polish underground which prompted the Warsaw patriots to rise against the Germans on Aug. 1, 1944.

The Polish forces, under Gen. Bor-Komorowski fought 63 days to total annihilation, while the Red army remained in the Praga suburb of the city and obstructed efforts by the British and Americans to supply Warsaw by air.

In great detail he lists his frequent meetings with Churchill and his occasional but historically important correspondence with Roosevelt.

He outlined sometimes indignantly what he considered the complete capitulation of the western leaders to Stalin on the Polish question. He says Roosevelt adamantly refused to remind Stalin of the provisions of the Atlantic charter.

Mikolajczyk says in the Polish election voters were marched to balloting places by machine-gun bearing secret police to vote in favor of the Communist government bloc.

SO FAR, SO GOOD

Lubbock's Elections

THE NEED for revamping Lubbock county voting precincts as authorized by the County Commissioners' court so as to provide more polling places serving smaller and less populous areas is hardly debatable after the experiences in the November 2 general election. Tabulations in some of the larger boxes were not finished until nearly three days after the polls closed.

The delay does not imply criticism of the election officials. The heavy vote, the unwieldy ballot, the high ratio of "split ticket" voting and the eight constitutional amendments combined into probably the most difficult counting job in election history here.

Perhaps the creation of seven additional voting precincts will help solve the problem of a faster and reliably accurate count in future elections. Probably elections will be few in the future when the tabulating will be as difficult. Only actual experience can establish whether the revamping of precincts is as extensive as might be desired.

But other improvements demand consideration along with that which has been authorized. The county officials should make sure that polling places are adequately staffed, not only as to the number of personnel, but also from the standpoint of efficiency. If county officials prefer not to replace some of the very elderly among those who have been conducting elections year after year, then they should make provision for more help of the type possessing the physical ruggedness and mental alertness to perform under conditions like those of the November 2 election.

The cry, "It will cost more money," is not an excuse for failing to do whatever is needed to insure speed and efficiency in the polling places, since the larger population and increased taxable valuations makes a larger amount of money available for the job. Penny-pinching is false economy when it produces delays and inefficiency in conducting elections.

Don't Cheer Yet

THE ANNOUNCEMENT that lower budgets than last year will be proposed for 16 federal departments and agencies does not encourage hope that the reductions will be sufficient to be of real benefit to taxpayers.

Skepticism as to the beneficial results of the so-called "hard boiled" policy announced by Budget Director James E. Webb is unavoidable for several reasons.

Among others, one reason is that Webb refused to name the agencies affected, or the amounts of the reductions proposed. He stressed also that they did not include the most expensive functions of government—including defense and foreign relief. The proposed budgets for both of these are known to be much larger than for last year. Likewise, there is no question as to the total budget for the government being substantially larger.

Economies in other departments naturally are desirable, even if they help no more than a little. But, to avert disappointment, some emphasis may be desirable upon the fact that the economies indicated by Mr. Webb promise very, very little economy indeed.

A rotten quarrel has spoiled many a ripe friendship.

HILARY had been pondering the matter of self-exorcism and arriving nowhere. At last he consulted the dictionary without much hope.

"Exorcise: to clear (a person or place) of evil spirits; to purify or set free from malignant influences," he read.

Oll this rather hurt his feelings and got him no further. Evil he was not, nor malignant. Obviously "exorcise" was the wrong term.

But the idea was growing on him, that Sabrina, since she was making herself ill and unhappy, must be encouraged to get clear of the whole thing, including himself, if she could, at least for a time. He had decided not to attempt to interfere with her departure, nor influence her to continue her futile fight to be near him. This meant loneliness and readjustment of his days at Nuns Farthing, but he felt it would be best for her.

Conceivably, she would find her own way back to him some day. By then, the house would have a bad name—he would see to that—and they would be allowed to have it to themselves. A long, long wait for him, perhaps; years of unmeasured time in endless solitude. Presumably he would grow no older. And she? Sabrina—old?

Suddenly he was more afraid for Sabrina than he had ever been for himself in a perilous lifetime. What was ahead for her? Where would she turn in her loneliness and and confusion? They would encourage her to marry some fool like George or like her father. She would be frightened—she would not understand—she would not know that he was waiting—she would make mistakes and be miserable. . . .

THE same sort of panic he had known that night at the club, when he heard his own death announced by Denby, welled up in him again, so that he beat frantically against the invisible barriers of his own helplessness. Anything could happen to Sabrina now, and he was powerless even to catch her tears on his lips. It set him pacing the floor, at grips once more with immensities no man should have to face. Sabrina, setting out alone into the world again, lost, betrayed, and bewildered. And he had to let her go. There was no way to keep her here, and he had no right to try. Oh, God, keep her safe—you meant her to be safe. . .

He heard her feet on the stairs.

An early morning reconnaissance had shown him that departure was imminent, but he was not quite prepared for her stricken look and feverish eyes, now that she stood leaning against the closed door and though she had no strength left to stand alone.

"But you haven't lost me, you know," he told her reasonably, like a man who puts aside his own anxieties to soothe a sick child. "I've been reading luggage labels, I know exactly where you'll be in London. I'll keep track of things, always. We won't end like this. I don't know yet what happens, but this isn't the end, you can be sure of that—"

White-faced, silent, gallant in her tearlessness, she came on into the room and, starting at the mantelpiece, began to tend it for the last time; picked a fallen rose petal from beneath the vase on the mantelshelf—with her handkerchief wiped an imaginary speck of dust from a silver candlestick—straightened the silk cushion in the chair where the book about ghosts had lain—adjusted a fold in the curtain beside the sunny window seat where Muffin loved to lie—cast a critical eye over the immaculate polished surface of the desk, setting the blotter true by the fraction of an inch—touched lightly with a caress one of the sphinx bookends he had thought highly of—moved on into the bedroom end and paused at the tall chest of drawers to straighten Alice's picture. And as she turned away towards the bedside table her eyes fell on the collar box beside the silver frame.

THE collar box. Her mind flew back to the day of the treasure hunt, when the loose catch had first tempted her exploring fingers—winged collars for evening wear—and in the center space something small and black and cold, like a snake. . . .

"Sabrina," said Hilary apprehensively, watching from across the room.

She stretched out both hands to the collar box, drew it forward to the edge, and opened the lid. A shiver ran through her as she saw again the little black gun in its nest. To think she had almost forgotten it, when perhaps it was the answer to everything. Perhaps that was why it was here. Surely if she died now, here in the room, Hilary's arms would close around her at last. And then she needn't leave him—ever. . . .

"Sabrina, don't touch it—it's loaded—it will go off—"

She laid hold of the handle firmly—cold, like a snake—and lifted the gun out of the box.

"Sabrina, you've got to hear me! Put it back! You've got to go on living—even if you seem to lose touch with me—"

Inevitably her finger found the safety catch and released it with a small click.

"But they're right, Sabrina, I'm not good for you! You'll grow up, you'll live your life, and then, when it's time, we'll be together again. Sabrina—don't—!"

She did not hear him. She had never heard him. She stood looking down at the gun in her hand, fearlessly now, with a sort of curiosity. Slowly the muzzle was turning in towards her body.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

A FRIEND of mine just dropped in.

"How in the world do you manage to think up 300 different subjects for your column every year?" he asked me.

BRANDEIS

And, not waiting for an answer, he continued:

"You've been writing this 'Looking at Life' thing for five years now, you tell me. That means you have written about fifteen hundred of them. And you are not supposed to repeat yourself—at least not too often. I wish you'd tell me how you do it."

"Come upstairs and I'll show you," I said.

Upstairs we went.

I didn't have the slightest idea what I was going to write today—just as I usually haven't the slightest idea what I am going to write any day when I sit down at my typewriter.

This was particularly annoying today.

You know how you like to write a letter when somebody is looking over your shoulder.

Here was this friend of mine, sitting right alongside me, waiting to see how I do it.

But—after all, did he know what he was going to talk about when he came in to see me?

He came in for a friendly chat.

Just as your friends come in for a friendly chat and just as you go to see your friends for a friendly chat.

You don't figure out beforehand what you are going to say, do you?

Still—are you ever short of conversation when you are with friends?

Doesn't the time pass quickly and isn't there more to say than you have time to say in the few short hours you have with your friends?

Well, that's just the way it is with writing my column.

I think of all you people who read me as friends.

I don't care whether you are in California or Maine or Alabama or Kentucky or Michigan or Ohio or Florida.

We all have our few years on earth. We all eat our three meals a day, sleep our eight hours a night, have our little joys and our little troubles, get sick, get well again—and eventually we die, are mourned for a while and forgotten.

TAKE today, for instance.

My wife went into New York this morning to have her hair fixed and buy a new set of dishes.

That was three hours ago—and would you believe it?—this home isn't a bit like home without her, and I was lonesome as the dickens.

Now it's lunch time and she told me about a cold steak and some cauliflower salad in the refrigerator that wouldn't be any trouble to fix for my lunch. I hope there will be enough for two. My friend is going to stay.

It's funny how you take a wife for granted when she's around and how you miss her the minute she is out of sight.

Well, I'll be darned. Here is that column all written and I don't know yet what I was going to write about.

IN NATION'S CAPITAL

Soviets Are Aloof

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The "cold war" which congeals western diplomats in their Paris-Moscow-Berlin negotiations with Russia has its icy counterpart at the nation's Capital.

Stalin's steadily contracting family in the polotial Russian Embassy on Sixteenth Street, only a dozen blocks from the White House, has deliberately withdrawn from normal association with outsiders, who reciprocate only too gladly.

TUCKER

Ambassador Panyshkin's isolation would be pitiful, if it were not that he seeks it himself. Although he and his aides, diplomatic, military, naval and commercial, attend formal fetes, they usually retire to a corner of the room and chat in the Muscovite language among themselves, or with representatives of other "iron curtain" countries.

LIST: This withdrawing act became even more marked during the presidential campaign, when the candidates of at least four parties—Democratic, Republican, Socialist and States Rights—vied with one another in denouncing the Kremlin's policy of expansion, aggression and terrorization.

The Embassy's social list grows smaller constantly. When an American official or a foreign diplomat voices public criticism of the Soviet, he o. she is dropped from the official invitation book.

When a newspaperman writes adversely to Red interests, as the writer knows from experience, his name is elided. If one wants to eat caviar and sturgeon at their amazingly elaborate parties, or drink vodka, he must first stomach Stalin's indigestible utterances and activities.

BEAR: The Russians have "holed in" like a hibernating bear in other respects.

Their supposed public relations representative will not answer even the most innocuous questions. He will not estimate the number of Communist diplomats, Army-Navy attaches, commercial experts or private business men accredited to or living in the United States or any other country.

Ambassador Panyshkin's first act on his arrival here several months ago was to stop sending ordinary press releases, the USSR Bulle . copies of official speeches and all other information to Washington newspaper correspondents. Although these were usually lavish eulogies of Russia's reindustrialization and modernization, they did present some sort of picture of postwar Russia.

VICTIMS: Ironically, the principal victims of this self-imposed boycott are the Russians themselves.

Until it became obvious that Moscow did not intend to keep her wartime pledges or to cooperate in world restoration, the Russian diplomatic family was treated like human beings. Before they withdrew diplomatic children from public and private schools, they were invited into private homes as a result of these school contacts.

They obtained a fairly complete picture of American politics, society, industry and thought from these associations. Sometimes an overzealous host may have enlightened them on what President Truman calls "the facts of life" too well rather than wisely.

INTERCHANGE: Government officials furnished them statistics, trade, agriculture etc. Army-Navy representatives became good friends of their opposites, and the latter were frequently given access to "non-classified" data. In short, there was a mutually helpful interchange of information.

Now all these avenues are barricaded. The Muscovites are on the outside looking in.

Moreover, they are under strict surveillance. Because of their Canadian spy activities, as well as revelations that their agents once used their influence at Washington to obtain our atomic secrets, every Russian diplomat, industrialist and business man visiting the U.S.A. is regarded as a persona non grata. This may be news to Ambassador Panyushkin.

BILLS: When and if they borrow books from the Congressional Library or any similar institution, the appropriate officials here are informed, and the particular volumes are carefully scanned for the light they may throw on Communist curiosity.

When they subscribe to trade papers or industrial house organs, the fact is relayed immediately to a certain intelligence unit.

Although he may not know it, Ambassador Panyushkin and his diplomatic colony have about as much privacy as the occupants of a goldfish bowl in a ground-floor window on Broadway or Washington's F Street.

If you want to drive a wedge between the high-living members of Stalin's officially favored and his hungry subjects, radio to Russia and the satellite peoples the Red Embassy's monthly or yearly bill for groceries, meat and liquor at the Capital's most exclusive and high-priced store on Connecticut Avenue.

An old-timer is the one who can recall when a barber didn't walk around the barbershop dressed like a surgeon.

Small coins are something that find their way into the church collection plates and juke boxes.

An old-timer is the one who can recall when the only ism ever mentioned was Americanism.

The honeymoon is over when she finds out that even-tempered nature can also be ruffled.

Some men don't hold a grudge. They let it go full force.

No wonder this is a tough old world. It has been facing chaos ever since it was created.

We wonder why it is that a fellow with onion-breath is the one who always gets close to you when he is talking.

Maybe another reason the world was created in such a short period was that the job was done without a congressional appropriation.

Death and taxes are certain, but death has its limitations.

Another good way to have fewer ups and downs is to remain on the level.

There are two kinds of hosts. One throws a party and the other permits the party to throw him.

There are times when one admires a stubborn man. It's when he is in agreement with your side of the argument.

Cussing is good for your health, says a medico. Well, provided you don't cuss out a man who is larger than you are.

VOTERS BACK UP HST'S DEMANDS

Truman Helps Defeat GOP Solons

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON— What a very fine job President Truman did in his election campaign aganist the 80th Republican Congress is apparent in an analysis of final returns.

At his prompting, the voters weeded out symbols of the drive by big interests in the 80th Congress to weaken long-established reforms and again try to fasten their hands on government.

He told the people the story familiar to observers of that last Congress — how the private utilities tried to "modify" in their own selfish interest statutes to protect the public; how the real estate lobby prevented passage of the long-range housing bill by influence with a handful of key Republican leaders; how health and education bills similarly were bottled up and not permitted to go to a vote in the House.

STOKES

Labor Aided In Drive

It was realized how hard this story is to put over because it is involved with complications of legislative procedure and sleight-of-hand. But the President patiently explained it, day after day. He got valuable help, too, from groups interested in these matters, especially from labor, which got these complex issues to the public as never before and then got out the vote on election day.

There were, for example, the bills by Rep. William J. Miller (R., Conn.) to restrict the authority of the Federal Power commission in necessary investigations into utility records so that it could fix fair rates.

Rep. Miller was defeated.

There was the so-called Rizley-Moore bill to hamstring the Federal Power commission in its regulation of natural gas rates that would have cost consumers millions of dollars annually. While it finally was killed by the Senate Interstate Commerce committee by a close vote after it had passed the House, plans were afoot to revive it in the next Congress.

Luckily for the public, the promoters of that measure, both from Oklahoma, both Republicans, will be missing from the new Congress. Senator Ed H. Moore retired voluntarily and did not seek re-election. Rep. Ross Rizley, who sought his seat, was defeated by former Governor Robert S. Kerr, Democrat.

Defeated also was Rep. Robert F. Rockwell (R., Colo.), sponsor of legislation not finally enacted in the last Congress which would have jacked up rates on water users on giant reclamation projects in a way to cripple the usefulness of such projects.

President Truman's constant revelation of the devious and sneaky methods used by big interests, working through their agents in Congress, to curtail reclamation and power expansion, undoubtedly was responsible for his own sweep in the Mountain and Pacific Coast states, as well as for election to Congress of men who would back his program, Where he was specific and clear about the issues involved, recognizing he was talking to informed people, Governor Dewey was general and vague.

Tax Backer Defeated

During his campaign President Truman spoke often of the "rich man's tax bill" that finally got through Congress over his third veto. The sponsor of that measure, Rep. Harold Knutson (R., Minn.), chairman of the powerful House Ways and Means committee, fell victim to the Truman sweep in Minnesota.

Rep. Knutson also put through the House a bill that virtually wrecked the reciprocal trade program which, however, was salvaged somewhat by the Senate. His copartner in that attempted sabotage, Rep. Bertrand W. Gearhart (R., Calif.), also was defeated. It was Mr. Gearhart whom President Truman called "the worst member of the House."

Such blunt and forthright language, which he used often in the campaign about men and issues, was jeered at. But he knew what he was doing. He was ridiculed for calling the Communism-in-government scare raised by Republicans "a Red herring," and yet two members of the House Un-American activities committee were shelved by the voters—Representatives John McDowell (R., Pa.) and Richard B. Vail (R., Ill.).

So it was as the voters took the Truman cue. About half of the members of Congress up for re-election who had voted against the European recovery program were defeated to indicate a great mandate for our international cooperation policy. Many who had fought adequate housing legislation lost out from the uprising of enraged veterans and labor. Quite a number who had voted for the Taft-Hartley labor law were mowed down in the vigorous campaign conducted by labor.

CABINET REORGANIZATION URGED

South Korea Assembly Blames President For Bloody Revolt

By FRANK EMERY
INS Staff Correspondent

SEOUL, Nov. 8.—A substantial majority in American-occupied South Korea's national assembly demanded today that President Syngman Rhee's cabinet take "full responsibility" for last month's bloody rebellion.

The assembly (parliament) passed a resolution 86 to 24 demanding the president take the blame for the rebellion and reorganize his cabinet. Thirty-five members abstained from the voting.

The assembly itself cannot reorganize the cabinet except through constitutional amendment.

Rhee Denies Blame

Earlier Rhee denied any government responsibility for the revolt which began two weeks ago in the southwestern seaport of Yosu and quickly spread to three other cities. The fighting is still continuing at scattered points.

Rhee reiterated his belief that the insurrection—started by rebellious members of a constabulary battalion in Yosu—was Communist-inspired.

The president of the infant republic expressed doubt that the subcommittee action which initiated the resolution represented the feelings of a majority of the assembly.

He said he suspected that the resolution was the work of "politicians influenced by the Communists."

New Fighting Reported

There were new reports of insurgent fighting in the wake of the rebellion. Home minister T. Y. Yuh disclosed in Seoul that 44 Communists were killed and four others wounded in a skirmish with loyal government troops on Chejudo island in the village of Sogwi Po.

The home minister said loyal forces in the village had seized a large number of weapons—said to be stolen from American occupation troops—from the rebels.

Two policemen were killed and seven others were wounded in the fighting.

Yun said that in other fighting in the Posong area in southwestern Korea loyalist forces had captured 100 rebels. Five policemen were listed as killed and 13 others were reported missing in the outbreaks which included attacks against eight police stations.

These developments followed reports in Seoul of a major uprising in Soviet occupied North Korea where 150,000 persons were said to have participated in an insurrection that has spread to eight cities.

Yun said "good sources" reported the uprising had been crushed. Other quarters, however, insisted that the revolt against the Soviet-sponsored North Korean regime was still in progress.

Car Lost On King Ranch Is Found After 12 Years

CORPUS CHRISTI, Nov. 8 (AP) — They found that slick little convertible coupe Palfrey Richter lost in the vastness of the King ranch 12 years ago.

Still in the same old spot—air still in its tires and the chromium shining but the top and the upholstry rotted away with time and the wheels half burried in the sandy ground.

Now Richter can't decide what to do with it.

Years ago the insurance company wrote the car off as "stolen" and paid Richter off.

"They told me I could have it now," Richter said, "and I'm going to get it. Those old parts are still good."

It was a sunny summer day in 1936 when Richter and a friend knocked off from work in Corpus Christi and went fishing on the King ranch. But when they started for their car—

"We just couldn't remember where we left it," Richter chuckled, recalling that day 12 years ago. They searched in vain and finally gave it up.

Twelve years went by while the cowhands worked the place twice a year and the live oak brush grew until it was 10 feet tall.

And last Thursday along came a crew clearing brush with a bulldozer and nosed into that particular thicket. There stood the once-slick little job.

Richter went down and confirmed it was his car last weekend but today he hadn't decided what to do with it.

Dallas Man Given 25 Years For Slaying Of Salesman

MERIDIAN, Nov. 8 (AP)—Jim Harvey Corbett, 33, Dallas, was sentenced to 25 years in prison today on conviction of murder in the death of a Dallas salesman last July.

Two others charged with accessory to the murder were sentenced to two years each. They were Frederick E. Miller, 24, and Stanley A. Tousant, 22, both of Watertown, N. Y.

The body of the victim, Jack Rose, 29, of Dallas, was found in a cornfield near Camden, Tenn., in September. Corbett led officers to the crude grave at that time.

Corbett, Miller and Tousant were arrested in Jacksonville, Fla., about two weeks before the body was found.

Testimony at the trial here today established that Rose was shot to death the night of July 29, 1948, two miles southeast of Clinton, not far from here. Rose was last seen at his home in Dallas July 28 when he left to go on a hunting trip with one of the men.

Their sentences were given in Judge R. B. Cross' 52nd district court here.

Marines, Wearing Special Arctic Assault Gear, 'Attack' Grim Newfoundland Beaches

By WILLIAM F. McMENAMIN
United Press Staff Writer

ARGENTIA, Nfld., Nov. 8.—Units of the Second Marine brigade, wearing special Arctic assault gear, hit the grim and rocky coastline of Newfoundland today in an all-out simulated amphibious attack climaxing the biggest north Atlantic fleet maneuvers since World War II.

The Marines, under Col. R. M. Victory, swarmed ashore on the north beaches of Argentia from landing craft at 9 a. m. CST under a cover of planes from carriers steaming in lower Placentia bay.

A raw northern wind created choppy seas which gave the landing boats considerable trouble.

Battleship With Force

Rear Admiral J. E. Welcher, commanding amphibious group four of the Atlantic fleet, gave the signal that started waves of Marines ashore from an armada that included fast attack transports, attack cargo ships, and repair ships.

As the Marines assaulted "blue beach" at the north end of Argentia station, Navy ships, including the battleship Missouri and cruisers and destroyers, kept up a heavy simulated gunfire.

The attack forces, known as the "blues," seek the capture of Argentia, which is supposed to be a heavily-defended air base of a major world power. The defending "blacks" have a large preponderance of submarines and land-based air power.

In the first phase of the landing operation, the Marines captured the air field on the peninsula and in the second phase the reserves were advancing inland and capturing remaining enemy groups. In the third phase they will consolidate their gains. Then, men and equipment will be reloaded onto ships for liberty in Canadian ports before returning to New York and Little Creek, Va.

Meanwhile, submarines and remaining units of the fleet of 100 ships will steam northward into the entrance of Davis strait between Greenland and Labrador, going as far north as 58 degrees. The striking force will maneuver from Nov. 10 through Nov. 13 under strong submarine "attack."

It was announced that eight snorkel-equipped submarines theoretically have sunk or crippled the entire invasion fleet already.

Missouri Professor Shows Signs Of Recovering From Amnesia

Believed to have suffered amnesia, Dr. Westover, head of the psychology department at Westminister college here, was returned home late Saturday night.

Mrs. Westover said today he showed some signs of recognizing her and their two and a half year old daughter, Susie. She said his physical condition was good.

Can a man still become His Own Boss?

To this Vermont apple grower, the answer was a courageous "Yes"

AMERICAN FAMILY CLOSE-UP
As they go, so goes the nation!

J. Brower Hall searches for signs of damaging apple rust at his 175-acre orchard on Grand Isle, Vermont.

FROM the time they married in 1926, Brower and Helen Hall dreamed of having their own farm. Like many another American, Brower Hall wanted to be his own boss. But at 19, with $25 in the bank, and a job on a summer estate, it looked like a long row to hoe! For 20 years, the Halls regularly saved all they could, while he learned by managing orchards and dairy farms for other people.

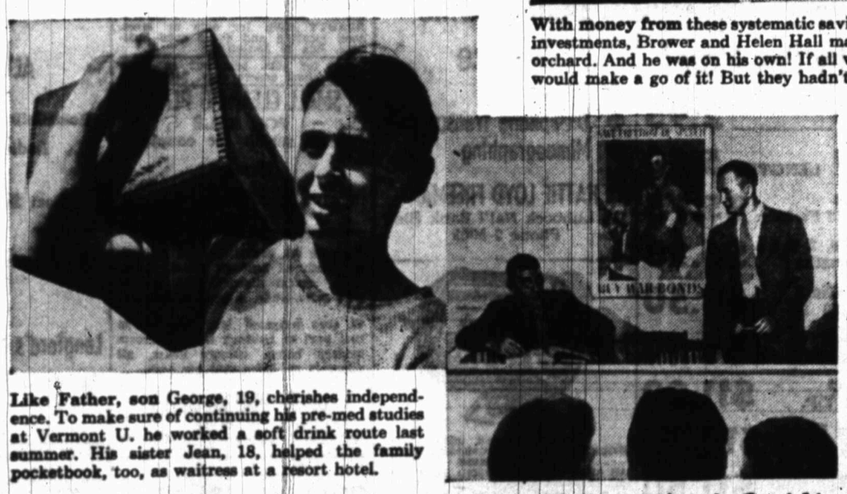

Then last year Hall had the chance to buy the place he wanted . . . an orchard of 8,000 apple trees, a modern cold-storage plant. But was the goal of a lifetime really within reach?

With money from these systematic savings and some small investments, Brower and Helen Hall managed to buy their orchard. And he was on his own! If all went well, the Halls would make a go of it! But they hadn't figured on fire . . .

Last spring the packing plant burned! But with only two helpers, the Halls rebuilt in time for fall harvest. So now they can smile again! Independence is wonderful, they say.

Like Father, son George, 19, cherishes independence. To make sure of continuing his pre-med studies at Vermont U. he worked a soft drink route last summer. His sister Jean, 18, helped the family pocketbook, too, as waitress at a resort hotel.

Moderator of town meetings for Grand Isle, his island town on Lake Champlain, Brower Hall has been active in civic affairs for 14 years. For three years he served in the Vermont Senate—won removal of bridge tolls to Grand Isle.

The Halls look forward to the fun of developing the lake shore into summer camps. Dad hopes, too, for more time for politics, his hobby. George's is hunting with his dog.

For Baby Jared, life looks grand! His father is determined to improve his own farm as best he can regardless of the difficulties we all face today. Earning about $5,000 a year now, Hall is steadily building up an estate through life insurance. He bought his first policy soon after marriage, now has $13,000 of protection, which he budgets at a fixed monthly cost of $35.21. "We're managing to feed and clothe the family and have our share of inexpensive fun on about $50 a week," Mr. Hall explains. "Working together we'll keep the independence we've all helped win!"

THE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES AND THEIR AGENTS

BRING YOU THIS STORY BECAUSE... families like the Halls show us one way that happiness is earned! You, yourself, probably know a family, right in your own town, that is getting ahead in the same typically American way. Such families prove to all of us that we can solve our own problems by our own efforts....Their example shows too why it is so important for us to hold to our rights to think for ourselves, to work at what we like, to live as we choose. For what this country amounts to depends upon what happens to its homes!

Wall Street

STOCKS IN SMALL RALLY

NEW YORK, Nov. 8. (AP)—Recovery was the keynote in the stock market today but the leaders had a difficult time making the grade.

Some of them didn't do it after a final burst of profit taking cut down the small gains they had labored to put on throughout the session.

The net result was mixed with the rails making the best showing in the major groups. Leading steels were active and higher. Motors were also active but prices were mixed. In the oils, the most heavily traded issues ended the day on the plus side while a number of comparatively inactive ones stayed down.

Of the 15 most actively traded stocks, ten were higher, only three were lower, and two were unchanged.

The over-all showing was considered favorable in Wall Street after a week of sharply declining prices following the election. It was the worst week in more than eight years, and today was looked upon as a breather in that downward movement.

The volume of trading was 1,130,000 shares, the lowest in more than a week. Volume Friday was 2,530,000 when the market fell sharply.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined only .1 of a point to 63.9. The industrial component of the average was off .4 of a point, while the rails advanced .3 and utilities .1 of a point. Of 1,033 individual issues traded, 479 advanced and 316 declined.

After the market closed general motors declared a $2 common dividend bringing 1948 declarations to $4.50 as against $3 in 1947. They previously paid $1 in September and 75 cents quarterly previously.

Among the leaders going higher today were Santa Fe at 104¾, Central Railroad of New Jersey 35, Nickel Plate 20, U. S. Steel 76¾, National Steel 101, General Motors 60¾, Anaconda 35, General Electric 36¾, American Woolen 43¼ and Sinclair 23¾.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP) — Cotton futures were firm in early dealings today, but lost part of the advance when the government issued a higher November forecast of the 1948 cotton crop compared with October. The cotton trade had looked for a small decline in crop report.

Early gains extended to $1.86 a bale, with the new crop months leading the advance on sentiment that the next Congress will strengthen the farm support program.

Old crop months were supported by mill buying and short covering.

The government estimated the 1948 cotton crop at 15,166,000 bales, up 87,000 from its October 1 forecast. The trade had looked for a figure of 15,000,000 bales.

Cotton closed very steady.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 8 (AP) — The grain market's price advance, touched off by the surprise election result last Tuesday, had just as much momentum today as any day last week. All cereals pushed higher in a brisk trade, with several contracts making new seasonal highs.

Corn was strengthened by export business, both private and domestic. Export houses bought the December contract. In addition, trade sources said the government had raised its buying price 1 cent to 14 cents above the December futures quotation.

Strength in wheat was centered more in the deferred contracts than in December, as the latter delivery is now well above the government loan level here. July and September wheat hit new seasonal highs. Also at seasonal peaks were September oats and May soybeans. Wheat closed 1 to 2¾ higher, December $2.31⅞-2.32, corn was 1¼-1½ higher, December $1.42¾-¾, oats were ¾-1¼ higher, December 80⅛.

Vienna for duty in Oct. 1946, and found that 19 of the 21 cases of furniture they had shipped to Austria had been smashed en route.

Imported Cigarettes

"So we started importing cigarettes and buying things," Walters said, "everyone was doing the same thing."

He added, "when we came home we sent boxes of our stuff back just like we brought 21 boxes over. And we paid excess baggage rates on some 6,000 additional pounds."

The soldier claimed he also owned a Fiat car in Vienna but did not attempt to bring it back with him.

Chief Bruce said Walters and his wife are being held on an open charge pending a complete investigation of their story. He said he did not know whether the sergeant's "business activities" in Austria were in violation of any rules, either of the Army or of the military government.

Bruce said it "is possible" the Walters may be charged with failure to pay import duties.

Cotton Harvest

ported need for harvest hands. The two counties reported 1,800 needed, with Dawson-Gaines, and Lynn-Garza each needing 1,000. Lubbock county was close behind, with calls for 950 hands, and others were more or less nominal.

As the cotton began to thin out for the second or later picking, prices for hand labor trended upward, with $2 a hundred pounds, plus 25-cent weigh and haul fee generally paid over the area.

Some counties, particularly in unirrigated areas, were paying 25 cents more, and one or two others were holding to the $1.75 a hundred, plus weigh and haul fee of 25 cents.

The TEC summary reported that some Mexican hands were returning to their homes in South Texas, or back across the border, while others were moving to this area from points off the plains to the east.

The Memphis office reported that 12 crews of 20 workers each plan to return home at mid-November due to lateness of the season, while Vernon reported that three crews totaling 60 left for the South Plains during the week, and ten crews of 150 workers returned home.
