MRS. GAGE TO LEAD KINNEY COUNTY M.H.S. DRIVE

Mrs. Beverly Gage of Brackettville was named Mental Health Bellringer chairperson for the May '77 campaign, announced Shirley K. Camfield, President of the Mental Health Association in Texas.

"The Mental Health Association is the largest citizens' voluntary advocacy organization in the United States fighting mental illness and promoting mental health," said Camfield.

Since the organization is non-governmental, its entire support must come from contributions, such as those collected in May.

The original and continuing purposes of the association are to:

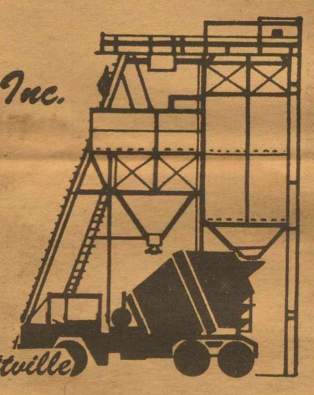

*improve attitudes toward mental illness and the mentally ill;

*improve services for the mentally ill; and *work for the prevention of mental and emotional illness and promotion of mental health.

Through social action the association sees that governmental agencies are accountable. One example is seen in the results of an impoundment suit brought by the Mental Health Association which forced the release of over $1,600,000 federal funds in Texas for research, alcoholism and manpower.

BRACKETTVILLE TEXAS

BETWEEN US

BY: JOE TOWNSEND

Brackettville has lost one of her most distinctive personalities. No one who ever met Della Watson soon forgot her. She was the epitome of the American spirit of rugged individualism. The fierce independence that marked early forbears of our great nation was root and fiber of this notable woman. One of her outstanding traits was her racial pride. Never did she feel like the world owed her something because she was not Anglo. Anytime anyone demands any special concessions for themselves or their race on a racial basis, it is a demonstration of lack of pride and an admission they or their race are incapable of accomplishment. Della always felt she and hers could do anything they needed to do. No one ever worked harder for a cause than did Della for the Seminole Indian Scout Cemetery. Unless someone steps forth with more dynamic leadership than has been shown aside from this one, this most worthy project is doomed to falter. It's inconceivable that such a historic site as this has not long ago become a show place worthy of the efforts of some who lie buried there. For herself, Della asked no concessions, expected no quarter. She was however never shy about asking others to help in a cause to which she was dedicated. Outspoken, energetic, aggressive, a friend to many friendless, an enthusiastic supporter of her friends, she was a tremendous asset to Brackettville.

Brackettville lost a distinctive personality - I lost a friend.

Misconceptions about the Bar

AUSTIN--Most people call it the "Texas Bar Association" and expect it to be little more than a lobby group.

Here's a look at some of the more common misconceptions about the State Bar of Texas:

1. THE STATE BAR IS A BAR ASSOCIATION.

False. There was a Texas Bar Association from 1882 to 1939, when it was replaced by the State Bar of Texas created by the legislature with a requirement that all lawyers who practice must be members in good standing.

2. THE STATE BAR IS RUN BY BIG-CITY LAWYERS FROM GIANT FIRMS.

False. Only two of the 42 officers, directors and executive committee members are from the major Houston firms; eight are in firms of 15 to 50 members; and the remaining 32 are in firms of 14 or less, including five who practice alone. The 1975-76 president is in a five-member firm in Bryan, the 1976-77 president is in a 220-member Houston firm, and the 1977-78 president is in a three-member Lubbock firm.

3. THE STATE BAR IS PRIMARILY A LICENSING AGENCY.

False. Bar exams are administered by the State Board of Law Examiners; licenses are issued by the Supreme Court. The State Bar, as the Supreme Court's administrative agency, collects license fees and oversees disciplinary, educational and public service projects.

4. STATE BAR DUES INCOME IS CONSIDERED STATE FUNDS.

False. State Bar dues are considered separate from other state licensing fee income because the State Bar is given authority by law to "contract with relation to its own affairs" and otherwise maintain an independent status.

Brackett FFA Report
By Marcelino Valdez, Jr.
District Reporter

The Brackettville FFA Chapter was represented at the 28th Annual San Antonio Livestock Show and Exposition in the lamb division. The Competition was tough and many lambs were shown by young people from various FFA Chapters from through out the state, as well as 4-H Clubs. About 15 lambs from the local Chapter were taken to the San Antonio Show. Brackett FFA members Joe Brown, Buddy Swafford, Richard Herndon, Steven Schafer, and Robert Lopez were the exhibitors from the Brackett Chapter. Mr. Charles Foust advised the exhibitors on some points of showing and trimming of animals before the show. The anxious group left Wednesday, February 9 and returned Sunday, February 13. The lambs were shown on Saturday, February 12. Overall the trip was a worthwhile experience. All members put in a lot of time and hard work! Mr. Charles Foust also put in a lot of very hard work and time to help his students gain new and rewarding experiences!

SWTJC

UVALDE--Beginning piano students at Southwest Texas Junior College may look more like airplane pilots communicating with the control tower than budding young musicians toiling over Bach and Beethoven.

"Can you hear me, Station Three?" quizzes the man at the controls.

And then a light flicks on in Station Three and with the magic of the electronic age the keyboard comes alive with sound as a young man wearing headphones joins nine other students practicing the piano at the same time in the same room.

But there is no sound. Fingers are moving and people are playing, but there is no sound.

"This is a new teaching technique that allows a student to progress at his own rate of speed and competency," explains SWTJC music instructor Joe Silva. "With the use of ten electronic pianos and a master control unit in front of the classroom a student can wear a set of headphones and hear every note he plays but not be disturbed by others practicing in the same room."

Seated at the master controls, Silva monitors each electronic piano and offers advice and instruction through the headphones while observing the posture and keyboard movements of each player.

Students do, of course, meet with Silva for private instruction when necessary, but the new teaching method enables the music department to provide instruction to more people than would be possible with 30-minute individual lessons.

The most inportant benefit of the electronic piano is the opportunity for each student to progress to more difficult compositions without being held back by slower students in the class.

As a recent innovation to the college music department, the new piano teaching system is only one example of Silva's efforts to upgrade the quality of the music program and provide more courses for area residents.

Silva came to the Uvalde junior college with 16 years of teaching experience as a band director in Asherton, Uvalde, Del Rio and Eagle Pass. Today he is teaching some of the same students he taught in the seventh grade as he developed band programs in both Del Rio and Eagle Pass.

"It's a real feeling of accomplishment for me to be able to watch these students develop musically," said Silva, who came to SWTJC four years ago.

With some of his former high school students now playing in the college stage band, Silva feels that the band is the best he's had since coming to Uvalde.

Building a 40 to 50-piece stage band at the college has been a frustrating task for Silva, who is often hindered by the highly competitive nature of high school band classes.

"Many of the kids are burned out by the time they get to college," he said. "They've had so much marching and been under the strain of so much competition that they don't want any more music."

For that reason Silva stresses musical enjoyment and sight reading in his classes. The music student at Southwest Texas Junior College is under no marching obligations and has more time to devote to popular tastes in music as well as to classical selections.

Last year the SWTJC band instructor took his group to Monterrey where they played for an audience of 10,000 in one concert as a guest of the Lion's Club.

Silva also stresses community participation in his program as he encourages local residents to join the band on Monday nights from 8 to 8:30 p.m. in Room 1 of the Tate Fine Arts Building.

"Why lay down the horn?" asks Silva, who is interested in having any area residents with prior band experience join his group. "If they can't come on Monday nights or from 2 to 3 p.m. each Monday, Wednesday and Friday, we can still make some kind of practice arrangements."

In addition to courses in piano and stage band, the SWTJC music program also offers guitar lessons and a basic musicianship course required for all elementary education majors. Music Appreciation 135 is a new addition to the curriculum and surveys musical styles and compositions from early church music to modern music.

If nothing else, a course in Piano lll may at least satisfy the current student fascination with electronics and CB radios.

"Station Three, can you hear me? This is The Band Man. Let's hear a few bars of Brahms' Lullaby."

"Band Man, this is Station Three. You call it and I play it. Over and out."

TIPS FOR GREEN THUMBS

by: JOE TOWNSEND

Don't let all the warm Texas like days fool you. It's almost 4:00 in the morning, Wednesday, February 16th. By this time last year humming birds were in--not this year. The thermometer back of the shop show a cool 32 degrees and likely will drop another 2 or 3 degrees around daylight. This would kill most young plants. It is unlikely that this will be the last such morning. At any rate whether the young plants are killed or not they will do little growing with nights as cold as they are. In another two or three weeks it should be profitable to plant flower seed and most garden seed. In the meantime there's time---and it is time--to get the ground ready.

BEAUTY CONTEST SLATED

Brackettville Chamber of Commerce announced that a young County Miss has the opportunity to win a SCHOLARSHIP and become eligible to enter the MISS TEXAS COMPETITION. Two of the requirements are you be between the age of 16 and 26, and MUST BE SINGLE.

For further information and official entry blanks contact your Chamber of Commerce office or stop by the Kinney County Land Company.

ALL ENTRIES MUST BE IN BY APRIL 15, 1977.

CB BREAK

BY THE SKY PILOT

There was a good example the other night of how cooperative CB can work. As I drove into town on the Camp Wood road I overheard discussion of a fire. It was reported to be near the Maverick County Line. This is a long ways for a CB radio to work effectively without boots or a kicker. "Medicine Man" and "Cat Killer" were below Spofford seeking information. It was suggested by "Batman" that someone go to Spofford and "10-5" messages to and from the "Medicine Man", "Sky King" took off for Spofford and soon messages were relayed back and forth with clarity.

Because of confusing and conflicting information the Brackettville Volunteer Fire Department didn't know what to do. The Eagle Pass Fire Department was reported to be on the scene. Finally through operators on the Fire Truck and "Alcohol" decisions could be intelligently made and actions followed. There can be no doubt about the effective usability of CB radios when people work together. Have yourself a good one----we'll be 10-10 and 10-8. This is the Sky Polit out of this Brackettville Town and we'll be clear on this channel for now.

This independence was provided to protect the disciplinary program from outside interference, and to give the State Bar flexibility to meet changing demands.

False. Less than 1 per cent of the State Bar budget is used to finance the preparation and coordination of legislative proposals. Most of the budget is used for such services to lawyers and the public as disciplinary and continuing education programs.
