Tom Hunter Declares Allegiance To Nominee When Told Of 'Write-In' Move

SUPREME COURT HEARS BRIEFS IN 'MA'S' SUIT

State Executive Committee Will Discuss Disputed Nomination

G. O. P. IS HOPEFUL

'Write-In' Movement May Result Favorably To Republicans

WACO, Texas, Sept. 30. (UP)—A general election "write-in" campaign on behalf of Tom F. Hunter for governor loomed here tonight as a possibility in event names of neither Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson or Gov. Ross Sterling appear on the ballots.

A state-wide meeting has been called for Monday night at Brownwood to perfect a permanent organization for such a Hunter write-in campaign. The movement originated at Stephenville when supporters of the Wichita Falls man from 15 counties decided on such a course.

Hunter, who ran third in the primary campaign for nomination, was informed of the movement when he came here tonight to address a rally of Central Texas Democrats on behalf of the national ticket. He expressed surprise and enjoyment.

Holds to Pledge

"I am only human, so I naturally enjoy any manifestation of friendship toward me," Hunter said. "The only comment I can make now is that I participated in the primary and if there is a nominee I shall carry out my pledge.

"I shall support the nominee whoever he or she may be if there is a name on the Democratic ticket. I have never scratched the ticket and this is rather late to start."

Hunter told the rally that if the Roosevelt-Garner presidential ticket offered nothing other than the saving of millions for the plain people by control of utilities it would warrant the support of the great majority of the people.

Vote Ticket Straight

"Let all of our kind vote the Democratic ticket from president to constable," he exhorted. "Let's drive the money changes from the temple."

The rally was nonpartisan so far as state politics was concerned. It was called by nearly a hundred Democrats, including Hilton Howell, Sterling manager; Turner Hubby, Ferguson manager, and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Von Struve, Hunter supporters.

MOVES TODAY MAY CLEAR SITUATION

AUSTIN, Sept. 30. (AP)—Faced with the possibility that there might not be a Democratic nominee for governor on the ballot in the general election, Texas Democrats were looking to moves tomorrow to bring some semblance of order out of the chaotic political situation.

The state supreme court has set 2 p. m. tomorrow to hear arguments on a motion filed by Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, for leave to file a petition of mandamus to compel Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of state, to certify her name as the Democratic nominee.

Mrs. Ferguson was nominated for governor by the Democratic convention after a canvass of the Aug. 27 primary election gave her a lead of approximately 4,000 votes over Gov. R. S. Sterling.

Secretary Enjoined

Mrs. McCallum, however, has been enjoined from certifying Mrs. Ferguson to the county clerks as the nominee. The injunction was granted by District Judge W. F.

PLAINVIEW, Texas, Sept. 30. (AP)—Assault with intent to murder was charged today against L. P. Shaw, superintendent of schools at Abernathy, for the wounding of Joe Ramsay, Abernathy plumber, in an altercation yesterday.

Students in Havana Clash With Police

HAVANA, Sept. 30. (AP)—Rioting students assembled in front of the home of Senator Wilfredo Fernandez, had a brush with police today and a number of shots were fired before the disturbance was ended.

Storekeeper Dies Without Telling Full Story Of Shooting; Woman Freed

Prosecutors of the district attorney's office and city police continued a process of elimination Friday night in close questioning of two score people in an attempt to solve the fatal shooting of M. H. Freeland, 72, Tuesday night at his grocery store home, 1413 Sibley.

Mr. Freeland lapsed into unconsciousness Thursday night after telling a nephew he was ready to describe the attack. He died Friday morning.

Freeland died at 10:15 o'clock Friday morning from a bullet wound in his abdomen. The body was taken in charge of the Maskie Undertaking company and was held Friday night pending word from a daughter, Mrs. J. H. Leggett of Waynesburg, Pa. The widow and daughter survive. The body will probably be shipped to Mannington, W. Va., for burial, relatives said. Mr. Freeland had resided here five years.

When taken to a local hospital after the attack, Freeland told officers a young man had entered the store with the statement, "I've got you; I'm going to kill you." He told officers he knocked down the pistol as it was fired. Later investigation at the scene of the attack revealed a bullet hole in the ceiling in a position that indicated it was fired with the pistol pointing almost directly up.

TEXAS FARMER CREDIT GROUP IS COMPLETED

Committee to Pass Finally On Loan Applications Ready for Duty

STAMFORDITE NAMED

Small and Large Cattle Raisers Invited To Take Benefits

FORT WORTH, Sept. 30. (AP)—A loan committee to pass upon applications of the 10th district agricultural credit corporation for funds for livestock feeding and agricultural purposes was named as directors met here today for formal organization of the body.

The committee is composed of T. B. Yarbrough, regional president; A. E. Thomas, John T. Jones, and Raymond Gee of Fort Worth and F. F. Florence and Frank P. Holland of Dallas.

Final Decision

Approval of loan applications by the committee will be final with no action by the board of directors of the Reconstruction Finance corporation at Washington required. When applications are approved, checks for the funds will be issued upon the treasury of the United States.

The directors elected J. R. Pratt Jr., cashier of the Stamford State bank, as secretary-treasurer of the regional corporation. An assistant manager and an assistant treasurer are to be named later.

The corporation is ready to receive applications for loans and will be prepared to issue funds in response to them as soon as offices are installed next week, Thomas, manager, said. The loan committee will meet as often as required.

Meeting Date Set

The last Friday of each month was set as the date for regular meetings of the board of directors.

Legal counsel for the corporation it was announced, will be appointed at Washington.

First relief efforts of the corporation, the directors announced, will be directed at supplying funds for livestock feeding to provide means for disposal of the fall feed crop without sale on the open market. Other agricultural loans will be taken up as soon as the corporation is in a position to do so.

Aid Small Feeders

The directors emphasized that it is the intention to assist the small livestock feeder, as well as those engaged in feeding enterprises on a large scale, by making money available for finishing small herds of livestock for the market.

The directors attending the meeting were Yarbrough, Thomas, Jones, Gee, Florence, Holland, Clifford Jones of Spur; Duwain Hughes of San Angelo; J. C. Thompson of Greenville; William Straus and W. S. Cochran of Houston and Ben S. Smith of Mexia.

R. F. C. TO RELIEVE MORTGAGED FARMS

CHICAGO, Sept. 30. (AP)—Henry Robinson, Los Angeles, chairman of the farm mortgage conference convened at the urging of President Hoover, announced as the session closed late today "the whole power of the Reconstruction Finance corporation is to be thrown back of the agencies which lend money and receive farm mortgages."

"The policy of these united groups will be to help the farmer keep his farm," Robinson added.

There will be no moratorium on farm mortgages, a formal statement that he issued revealed, but the net results of the plan, it was explained, will be to ease credit restrictions on farmers.

Socialist Candidate Attacks Other Nominees

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 30. (AP)—The agricultural program of the Socialist party was outlined and attacks were made on Gov. F. D. Roosevelt and President Hoover in a series of addresses in Minneapolis and St. Paul by Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for president.

Thomas urged a moratorium on farm foreclosures and abolition of farm tenantry. He favored socialization of farm machinery manufacturing, packing houses, grain elevators and dairy companies.

Increased pay for workers, Thomas believes, would result in better farm products through increased power to buy.

Sterling Won't Remove Rangers From Gladewater

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 30. (UP)—Gov. Ross Sterling declined today to grant the request of Mayor A. J. Wood of Gladewater that Texas rangers be withdrawn from the East Texas town.

Sterling declared information he was receiving from Gladewater "every day" does not bear out the mayor's claim the town is free from vice and crime.

Great Chicago Outpouring Gives Franklin Roosevelt A 'New Deal'

CHICAGO, Sept. 30. (US)—It was a Chicago political convention which nominated Franklin D. Roosevelt in June for the presidency of the United States.

It was a Chicago popular outpouring which acclaimed him tonight as the "next president of the United States."

Almost at the end of his transcontinental tour, Governor Roosevelt was accorded a new welcome to Chicago such as few men have received.

Riding at the head of a torchlight parade, the Democratic nominee was permitted no reminders that this scene of the national political conventions in June had not been favorable to him to lead the fight against the re-election of Herbert Hoover.

The same populace which booed William G. McAdoo on the fateful night when California and Texas swung from Speaker John N. Garner and precipitated the nomination of Roosevelt acclaimed him from the sidewalks.

The Chicago which was for Alfred E. Smith or Albert C. Ritchie followed the leadership of its popular mayor, Anton J. Cermak, in receiving Roosevelt in terms of a foregone conclusion that he is headed for the White House.

His reception exceeded greatly that extended him in June when he flew from Albany to make his acceptance speech and proclaim from the Chicago stadium the "new deal"

AUDIENCE FOR HOOVER PICKED

Party Rolls Scanned to Assure Loyal Crowd

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30. (US)—President Hoover will speak before a carefully selected audience when he delivers his important campaign address at Des Moines, Iowa, Oct. 4, it was learned today at the White House.

The state Republican organization in charge of the arrangements will issue cards of admission to the hall. A list is now being prepared from the party roll. There is some uncertainty as to where the address will be delivered. Two places are under consideration. One is the coliseum, seating 10,000, and the other the Shrine temple, with a comparatively small capacity. In any event, those admitted will be hand picked, it was said.

Avoid Demonstration

The idea is to prevent any hostile demonstrations and to assure a good radio reception.

In the meantime, plans for the trip have been materially changed. Instead of arriving at Des Moines only a few minutes before time for the speech and departing immediately afterwards, the president will remain in Des Moines several hours. He will attend a banquet in his honor and is expected to make a brief talk there. After the principal address he will go to the executive mansion with Gov. Dan W. Turner for a reception.

To Head Parade

Upon arrival in Des Moines, the president will head a procession down the principal streets. The line will be roped off and spectators restricted to the sidewalk. In view of the comparatively small number of police the local national guard will assist.

Elaborate arrangements are being made for the broadcast over the two great national radio systems. As it is to be one of the few addresses he will make during the campaign every effort will be made to reach the largest audience possible.

Mrs. Hoover will accompany the president, and it is expected several cabinet members and their wives will be in the party.

Hall County Bank Bandit Sentenced

MEMPHIS, Texas, Sept. 30. (AP)—A district court jury here today convicted Clarence Stinson on charges of participation in the robbery last May of the First National bank at Lakeview, Hall county. Stinson was assessed a 25-year term in the penitentiary.

Two bank officials identified Stinson as one of the two bandits who held up the bank and escaped with loot of approximately $1,600.

Stinson was arrested Sept. 2 in a gun fight with a posse near Quitaque. Wounds received in the fight necessitated the amputation of a leg. Two others escaped in a hail of bullets.

Shamrock Robbery Suspect Arrested

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 30. (AP)—H. D. Al Smith 'Names No Names' But Says Nation's Hope Lies In Demo Success

Editor of Outlook Magazine Sees Serious Lack of Harmony And Declares 'Purging' Needed

NEW YORK, Sept. 30. (UP)—Alfred E. Smith, making an impressive bow as a successor to the late Theodore Roosevelt in the editor's chair of the New Outlook, will say tomorrow in that magazine's leading article that "the hope of the country lies in Democratic success" in the coming election.

But nowhere in the 5,000 words of political philosophy, discussion of economics, prohibition, public works, prosperity and the election, will the reader find mentioned the names of Franklin D. Roosevelt and John N. Garner.

Instead, towards the end of the new editor's column, there is this significant paragraph:

"The first issue to be decided is what elements will control the Democratic party, because it must be admitted that the party is not united and that it is composed of a number of conflicting elements and interests. This was clearly indicated at the recent Chicago convention.

"With some of the elements and forces in the party, I am completely out of sympathy, not for personal reasons, but because I believe that they are inimical to the best interests of the country. In my opinion the Democratic party must purge itself of these influences, if it is to serve the nation in this crisis."

Two Women Shot As Bank Bandits Flee

WAHPETON, N. D., Sept. 30. (AP)—Four bandits who raided the Citizens National bank of $5,800 today slugged the cashier and took two women 25 miles into the country before leaving them at an abandoned farm.

The women, Miss Ruth Whipps, bookkeeper, and Miss Doris Stack, customer, were suffering from gunshot wounds and brought to a hospital here. Officers expressed the opinion they were caught in gunfire exchanged between the raiders and pursuers, who took up the trail immediately.

Nearly two hours after the holdup, the bandits, who had sub-machine guns, were fleeing south of Breckenridge, Minn., across the Red river from here.

The women were taken along as shields by the raiders in the hope they would prevent fire by pursuers.

Oil Men to Surrender On Charges of Fraud

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 30. (AP)—Five Oklahoma City oil men, charged with fraud in connection with operation of a company here, have agreed to surrender "in a day or two" to San Antonio and Fort Worth, Texas authorities, F. L. Clampitt, postoffice inspector, said today.

The men are L. A. Duvall, R. F. Blankenship, Joe E. Martin, Leon J. Kane and Wilson Harding, former officials of the Duvall Oil and Gas company. They were indicted by a grand jury which alleged use of mails to defraud by issuance of promotion literature.

U. S. Asks Consideration Of Hoover Arms Plan

GENEVA, Switzerland, Sept. 30. (AP)—Hugh Wilson, United States minister to Switzerland and American representative at the disarmament conference today asked that President Hoover's disarmament proposals be considered immediately by the subcommittee on effectives.

He submitted the American plan in detail, but Joseph Paulboncour of France demurred at immediate consideration, insisting first it would be necessary to define "effectives." The matter was put over until tomorrow.

TAMMANY PICKS ITS FAVORITES

Roosevelt, Lehman And Walker Supported

NEW YORK, Sept. 30. (AP)—Despite a tangled political situation, Tammany hall and its allies were said tonight by a leader high in organization politics to have agreed to support Franklin D. Roosevelt for president, Herbert H. Lehman for governor and James J. Walker for mayor.

The statement was made after the Democratic city organization had denied renominations to two of Roosevelt's appointees to the supreme court, and in the place of one of them nominated a Republican.

Lehman is Roosevelt's own choice for the gubernatorial nomination at next week's Democratic state convention.

Walker, when he resigned at the height of ouster proceedings before Governor Roosevelt, said he was leaving has case "in the hands of the voters."

Since then the appelate division of the supreme court has ruled a mayoralty election must be held Nov. 8 and a city-wide Democratic convention has been called for next Thursday, the day Walker expected to return from a European cruise.

In the face of a situation which brought widespread speculation, James A. Farley, Democratic national chairman, and also head of the party's state committee, declared:

"Nothing has happened to change my opinion that Governor Roosevelt will carry New York state by more than 725,000."

Federal Highway Aid Available to Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 30. (AP)—Federal aid highway funds again were available to Oklahoma today.

The state highway commission yielded late yesterday to demand of the federal bureau of roads for a north route between Duke and Hollis in Harmon county, breaking a deadlock which had tied up the state's federal aid for several months.

Awarding of a contract for 12 miles of grading and drainage between the Harmon county towns ended the controversy.

The highway commission, backed by Governor Murray, had held out for improvement of a south route, by way of Gould, but the federal bureau insisted on the north route because of fewer railroad crossings.

Murray May Prosecute Offerers of Oil Bribes

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 30. (AP)—Governor Murray indicated today he may seek prosecution of unnamed representatives of oil companies whom he accused, in his weekly newspaper, of offering bribes to Col. Cicero I. Murray, in charge of military proration enforcement in the Oklahoma City oil field, and Lieut. Massena Murray, the governor's son.

"We'll probably present the evidence later on," he told newspaper men.

Hoover Placed U. S. In Position To Begin New Prosperity, Curtis Says

PONCA CITY, Okla., Sept. 30. (AP)—Vice President Charles Curtis said tonight that measures undertaken by the Hoover administration have placed America in a position whence the nation would be able to start on a new and lasting period of prosperity.

"After every great war and after periods of wild speculation hard times have followed," the vice president said in an address. "We have gone through many such periods, but our people always have come out and gone forward.

"And each time the nation has become stronger and more powerful until today it is the leading nation of the world."

In the latest instance of depression, Curtis said, President Hoover at the outset took every step within governmental scope of power. He spoke of the president's conference of industrial leaders and of public work programs to provide employment.

"Upon the president's recommendation," Curtis said, "the congress enacted a number of measures intended to bring relief, among which was the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

"There is quite a wrong impression in regard to the loans made by that organization. While it is true that it helped some of the larger banks, yet of the 3,600 banks and trust companies assisted by it, 70 per cent of the relief has gone to banks and trust companies in cities of less than 5,000 population."

Prisoner Held After Police Learn He Used Auto Of A. B. C. Official

FORT WORTH, Sept. 30. (UP)—Fear that A. J. McGuerty, 40, of Elmhurst, Ill., missing auditor for the Audit Bureau of Circulation, had been murdered and his body thrown from his automobile was expressed here tonight after examination of the machine revealed bloodstains.

The hunt for McGuerty, who disappeared Sunday night became known late today when police arrested Ryals William Ray, alias T. O. Mathews, 22, of Galveston, said to be wanted in that city and in Houston for burglary.

Returned in Auto

Ray was taken into custody here after officers learned he returned in McGuerty's automobile Tuesday afternoon from Tulsa, Okla., and that he sought personal property of the Illinois man from his landlady. He left the automobile with the woman, who stored it in her garage.

Officials of the Audit Bureau of Circulation told Fort Worth police they received a telegram Tuesday from Dallas which stated McGuerty was resigning "with regrets." The sender of the message asked that his mail be forwarded to the Dallas postoffice and investigation by police revealed that instructions had later been given to send McGuerty's mail from Dallas to the Houston postoffice.

Two employes of the Chicago concern, A. X. Morton and C. L. E. Klaas are here and aiding police in the investigation. They said McGuerty's records were in good shape. McGuerty came here two weeks ago and began checking circulation records of the Fort Worth Press.

His wife and family live in Elmhurst.

Court Order Restrains Proration Enforcement

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 30. (AP)—A restraining order prohibiting Atty. Gen. James V. Allred and the Texas Railroad commission from enforcing the new oil proration common purchaser act, which would force the Humble Oil and Refining company to purchase crude oil from wells on its pipe lines in the same proportion it handles from its own wells, was extended until Oct. 31 by Federal Judges Duval West and R. J. McMillan, sitting together here today.

The hearing was on motion of the attorney general to dismiss an application for an injunction, which if granted would have dissolved the restraining order that expired today. The court overruled the motion and continued the case until Oct. 31, at the same time extending the restraining order.

F. D. WELCOMED BY WISCONSIN

Candidate Addresses Big Milwaukee Crowd

he has emphasized with such effect on western audiences in the past three weeks.

Tonight, Chicago gave Roosevelt a new deal.

Chicago had been rated one of those cities where loyalty to Smith would militate against Roosevelt. Chicago was described as wanting Smith or Ritchie or nobody.

There was nothing in this greeting to the nominee to recall those stirring scenes in the Democratic convention.

The "Bronx cheers" were turned to Roosevelt cheers.

It may have been true on that tumultuous night in the Democratic convention that Mayor Cermak was powerless to check those great roars of protest against Roosevelt's nomination. The mayor went to the platform, at the insistence of Senator Walsh of Montana, the convention chairman.

It was true tonight that those same Chicagoans roared all the louder at the uplifted hand of "Tony" Cermak but this time in obedience to gesture of welcome and support for Roosevelt.

Mayor Cermak had been true to his word, given when he mounted the convention platform to announce the votes of the Illinois and Indiana delegations for Roosevelt on the fateful fourth ballot.

He had thrown his full support to the nominee of the convention. He had turned in and worked. He had placed party interests and Democratic success above any personal desires that some one else might carry the party banner against the Hoover administration.

Governor Roosevelt was received in Chicago not as a candidate for the presidency, but as a president-elect, with Nov. 8 a mere formality.

Chicago gave greeting such as only a city of its great size and its consummate way of doing things could plan and carry out.

NOMINEE SPEAKS AT MILWAUKEE

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 30. (AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt came through an open-handed Wisconsin welcome today to crowded Eagles hall to pay liberal praise to the way the state has demonstrated "the practical utility of liberal principles."

Thousands of Wisconsin citizens had caught a glimpse of the Democratic presidential candidate on his passage from Beloit thorugh fertile dairy lands to the Milwaukee station, and on an hour's automobile drive through the city that brought him to Eagles hall.

So dense was the crowd in front of the hall when his procession arrived there that Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Dall, his daughter, and Mrs. James Roosevelt, the wife of his son, gave up their efforts to get into the hall and returned to their hotel before he began speaking.

Governor Roosevelt, escorted by James Roosevelt, and a group of policemen, passed through and up a long ramp to the stage while a continuous wave of applause came from the several thousand packed into the hall and the gallery.

Governor Roosevelt said "Out here in Wisconsin you do not merely protest against the teachings of the present order, you set out to correct them. You set up standards to which liberals in all states have found it profitable and inspiring to repair. It is in this spirit that I speak to you today. I have been thinking about what these liberal principles of yours mean, in terms of actual legislative enactment and I have tried to find what seemed to me the essential principles behind them.

"These essential principles, as I see them may in details differ from the interpretation which others place upon them, but to me they suffice as an inspiring record of high ordered, intelligent political movement.

"In the first place, there is the principle of old party allegiance. The choice this fall is one which involves a purpose and a principle deeper than any party. It is one which I hope and believe is the fulfillment of the hopes that many persons have held and I have said repeatedly with most remarkable response that the Republican who believes in liberal principles, faced by the situation that now exists, cannot fail to see—that he has nothing in common with the blind reactionary spirit that characterizes the present administration in Washington.

He praised the work of the state in regulating railroads and power and added:

"Government not only must protect the rights of the individual by maintaining an interest in economic life, but it must extend the hand of aid and comfort whenever human values are at stake."

He spoke of the liberal principles of education he said had been maintained in the University of Wisconsin and concluded:

"These principles of liberal thought I hold to be of inestimable human importance. You have done much here in this state to give them human application. I respect you for having believed in them and worked toward them. They deserve universal application—universal respect."

He was introduced by F. Ryan Duffy, the Democratic candidate for senator, in a short talk in which Duffy said the Democrats of Wisconsin were united behind the New York governor.

His speech at the Eagles hall preceded a public reception and informal dinner at the Schroeder hotel before his party entrained again for the journey to Chicago.

Governor Roosevelt after his return to the hotel from the Eagles hall did his first extensive handshaking on this trip.

A public reception had been arranged in the lounge of the Hotel Schroeder, and the lobby and lounge were jammed when the governor and his party arrived.

After a series of conferences in his suite on the 19th floor, the governor, accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt, went down to the lounge and stood for nearly an hour on a small, low platform while the crowd filed past.

At first they came in single file, and Governor and Mrs. Roosevelt spoke a few words to each. It soon became apparent, however, that the performance would have to be speeded up if the governor was to leave for Chicago at the scheduled time.

At the end the crowd was moving four abreast, and a nod, a smile, and a wave of the hand had replaced the hand shaking.

Chicago Cubs, Home For Third Game Of Series, Welcomed By 5,000 Fans

CHICAGO, Sept. 30. (UP)—The drab, disappointing world series of 1932 was moved to Chicago today and will be resumed with the third game at Wrigley field tomorrow.

The utter collapse of the Chicago Cubs before the awe-inspiring sluggers of the New York Yankees in the first two games has robbed the struggle—if it can still be termed such—for baseball's highest prize of its customary thrills and suspense.

Although the Yankees have the Cubs on the run and are gunning for four straight, Chicago fans have not deserted the National league champions. A crowd of 5,000, more than twice the number which saw the Cubs off for New York, greeted the vanquished warriors on their return from the big city today.

The Yankees arrived an hour after the Cubs, and more than 1,000 persons remained to see the American league champions in mufti. Most of the crowd, which yelled for a glimpse of Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, missed both of the Yankee sluggers, who left by the rear end of the train shed to avoid the display.

A pair of 33-year-old veterans who have been through world series warfare before will pitch the third game. George Pipgras, who developed his powerful throwing arm on an Iowa farm, will pitch for the Yankees, and Charlie Root, another small town boy from Middletown, Ohio, will perform for the Cubs.

Pipgras has never lost a world series game, beating the Pirates in 1927 and the Cardinals in 1928. He allowed only 11 hits in the two games. Root faced the Athletics twice in 1929, but failed to stop them in either game.

TEXAS BALLOT MUDDLE GROWS

Actions Today May Clear Tangled Situation

Robertson, in whose court is pending a suit filed by Governor Sterling contesting legality of the election and Mrs. Ferguson's nomination by the convention.

Mrs. Ferguson also sought to enjoin Mrs. McCallum from making a partial certification of the nominees, which would completely tie up the election machinery and prevent her from certifying even the presidential electors.

Certification of all nominees has been withheld pending the supreme court's action.

Committee Meets

A special meeting of the party's state executive committee had been called for tomorrow. While no statement had been made by Maury Hughes, chairman, concerning the purpose of the meeting, it was conceded the committee would devote considerable attention to the controversy over the nomination. It was rumored the executive committee might seek to make direct certification of Mrs. Ferguson to the county clerks. The committee is pro-Ferguson almost without exception.

Much depended on the decision of the supreme court in the proposed mandamus action, since Mrs. McCallum has been restrained from certifying Mrs. Ferguson until the election contest was decided and since it appeared doubtful if the trial could be completed before election day.

Should the court refuse Mrs. Ferguson's petition, it would mean that no nominee could be certified for governor until after trial of the suit, unless Judge Robertson modified his restraining order, or unless some other action was taken.

Republicans Hopeful

Republicans were watching the fight over the Democratic nomination with interest. Should the Democrats not have a nominee on the ballot it would greatly enhance the chances of the Republicans to elect Orville Bullington, G. O. P. nominee, as governor. Absence of the name of a Democratic nominee would lead to a "write in" campaign between Mrs. Ferguson and Governor Sterling, with some observers of the opinion that Bullington might emerge the victor.

It was recalled that when Mrs. Ferguson was on the ballot as the Democratic nominee in 1924 she defeated Dr. Geo. C. Butte, Republican, only by approximately 121,000 votes.

Luther Nickels, one of Mrs. Ferguson's attorneys, said he believed the election contest suit would be moot before it could be tried. Nickels asserted it would require two years to try only two of the charges of illegal voting alleged by Governor Sterling, that of residence and citizenship. The case scarcely would be under way before Nov. 8, the date of the election and it would be futile to try it then, he said.

Counsel Confer

The statement was made by Nickels at a conference of opposing counsel called by Judge Robertson to outline a procedure for the trial.

Nickels stated that under the procedure outlined by C. S. Bradley, Governor Sterling's attorney, it would be impossible for Mrs. Ferguson and her husband, ex-Governor James E. Ferguson, to defend the suit because it would involve the expenditure of between $25,000 and $75,000. It had been suggested that the court appoint as many special commissioners as necessary to check the ballots and take testimony in counties where illegalities were alleged by the governor.

He said the Fergusons did not have a "war chest," with which to make their defense or to employ lawyers to follow "these perambulating satraps" through the state to take the testimony. Approximately 100 counties were involved in the illegal voting charges.

Sterling's Chance Slim

Governor Sterling's chance to be declared the nominee depended on the trial being concluded before the genral election, since filing of the suit has made it incumbent of the trial judge to certify the nominee only after final adjudication.

No action was taken on the proposed procedure by Judge Robertson, who stated the decision of the supreme court in the mandamus action might "settle the matter as far as this court is concerned." Judge Robertson said if the supreme court ordered Mrs. Ferguson's name printed on the ballot it probably would obviate necessity for the trial. He anticipated a decision of the supreme court Monday and postponed consideration of procedure in the contest trial until then.

Serum Theft Contributes To Death of Patient

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 30. (AP)—Physicians said today a delay in treatment caused by the theft of serum brought here from Rochester, Minn., undoubtedly had some effect upon Richard Spahr, 25 years old, who died of an intestinal ailment today.

"Of course the theft of the serum delayed the treatment and no doubt had its effect," one of the physicians said. "However, Spahr was a very sick man and the result might have been the same, the physician said.

Spahr had been critically ill for several weeks. Three days ago Rochester doctors were called here and brought serum with them but it was stolen a short time after they arrived. A new supply was rushed by plane and arrived here late Wednesday night.

Jack Bence of Roswell was arrested last night for investigation in connection with the theft of the serum which was taken from a car parked in front of a hospital here.

Code Note Gives Police Clue in Lindergh Case

WALTHAM, Mass., Sept. 30. (AP)—The words "kidnap Lindbergh" and the name of a slain North Carolina sheriff found in a code note in the possession of John D. Grainger, 25, led to his being held in heavy bail today upon his arraignment in court on two charges.

Grainger, who said he had no home but who police said was from Laconia, N. H., was arrested in Weston last night charged with having a pistol and a narcotic in his possession.

GORE SPEAKS AT MANGUM

Blind Statesman Assails Administration

Special to The Record News.

MANGUM, Okla., Sept. 30.—United States Senator Thomas Pryor Gore, gifted orator, addressed a large assemblage of Greer county citizens tonight at the courthouse.

The blind statesman from Oklahoma has always been a favorite with voters in this section. He discussed the issues of the campaign in his inimitable way, presenting an abundance of information for the guidance of the voters.

The speaker was introduced by W. T. Jeter, local attorney. His good humor was contagious throughout his speech. He said the American people were divided into two classes, those satisfied who will vote for Hoover and those dissatisfied who will vote for Roosevelt but the satisfied group must be gluttons for hard times.

He cited the incident of the farmer of this district who "broke his back trying to lift 50 cents worth of oats." He referred to the present administration as a "4-H club," composed of Hoover, hunger, hard times and hell.

Referring to Governor Roosevelt's physical infirmities he said the country needs more head work and less heel work. He said he would rather have Roosevelt with no feet at all than Hoover with a thousand legs. When asked whether Hoover is a wet or dry his reply was "he certainly is."

Representative J. J. McSwain, Democrat of South Carolina, chairman of the house military affairs committee, also spoke briefly. Later the two left by air for San Antonio.

Borah Favors Slash In Army and Navy Funds

BOISE, Idaho, Sept. 30. (AP)—Senator William E. Borah, declared today the national organization to reduce public expenditures had "studiously, religiously omitted" any reference to the army and navy in its plan to trim at least $75,000,000 from the governmental expenditures.

Replying to a questionnaire submitted to him by R. E. Shepherd of Jerome, president of the Idaho State Chamber of Commerce, on behalf of the national organization, he said he was "thoroughly in accord" with the desire of the organization to bring about the suggested reduction in expenditures.

MURRAY'S FOES DROP PROTEST

Court Dismisses Complaint Against Tax Bill

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 30. (UP)—Attorneys for the Citizens' league this afternoon dismissed their protest against Gov. W. H. Murray's initiative income tax bill and announced they were ready to "go to bat," on the merits of the bill at the Nov. 8 general election.

The supreme court dismissed the protest over vigorous objections of C. W. King, attorney for the Oklahoma tax commission, representing the governor.

King insisted on the case being tried in the supreme court, and asked a referee be appointed to hear testimony. He charged that a dismissal of the protest would pave the way for the Citizens' league, through other persons, to file a new protest within five days, "and keep this measure from going on the November ballot."

Charges "Log Rolling"

King accused the protestants of "political log rolling to delay the vote."

Justices of the court took sharp issue with King's statement about the new protest.

Chief Justice E. F. Lester said he knew of no provision under which the court could deny the request of Thomas H. Owen, league attorney, to dismiss the action.

Owen declared he would offer to let the matter stand as it is "until it is too late for anybody else to file a protest and then let the court dismiss it."

King refused to withdraw his objection. Owen asked dismissal after the court refused to pass immediately on the question of whether the proposed tax bill requires 128,000 valid signatures or only 44,000 as would be required for a new bill.

Too Much Expense

Owen said he did not feel justified in incurring the expense of a lengthy trial if it should be decided later that only 44,000 signatures were necessary.

He said it would be impossible to invalidate enough to knock out the petition if that decision was made.

The league attorneys contended the bill was a resubmission of the "firebells" tax measures defeated a year ago, and therefore would require signatures of 25 per cent of the voters at the 1928 election. Owen declared he could disqualify more than 65,000 of the 181,000 signatures.

Three Minute Relief From Periodical Pains

It is so unnecessary to suffer month after month from inorganic pains, because "B. C." will bring soothing relief in three minutes. "B. C." is prepared by a registered pharmacist, compounded on a different principle from most relief-giving agencies in that it contains several ingredients, used by many physicians, so blended and proportioned as to accomplish in a few minutes what we believe no one drug formula can do in so short a time. "B. C." should also be used for the relief of common colds, headaches and neuralgia, muscular aches and pains, reducing fever and for quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs. A Washington Bystander

By KIRKE SIMPSON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Compilers of returns next election night are going to have a problem to contend with wholly new to them.

JOUETT SHOUSE

There will be a demand difficult to satisfy, for prompt information not only as to who was elected president and which party is to control congress, but for data regarding what the election results portend as to a complex issue in the campaign—prohibition.

Long ago the free silver question was the predominating issue in a presidential campaign. Coming down to 1920, the question of American membership in the League of Nations was more or less involved.

In both those instances, however, the effect of the election was pictured in the winning party's numerical superiority in house and senate. There was no need to recapitulate the individual views of every man or woman elected to congress in order to determine what the verdict of the voters had been. Party alignment was enough.

Not So Simple Now

Party alignment cannot give the same answer this year as to prohibition. The question is presented in such form that it will take several classifications to cover all the shadings of opinion among the candidates for house and senate.

That is true not only as to the constitutional prohibition angle, the major question, but equally true of the associated proposal—for modification of the Volstead act.

About the first thing Jouett Shouse, former chairman of the executive committee of the Democratic national committee, encountered when he took over as field marshal of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment was the fact that the organization had very incomplete data as to the views of the men then being nominated for house and senate.

Unless they were old timers whose attitude had been clarified by votes or self-declared in answering questionnaires, how was anybody to know?

The association staff at once set out to rectify that. It began circulating questionnaires. Other organizations, wet and dry, also began checking up in order that they might know what has happened when the lists of representatives and senators-elect begin to come in election night.

And all of them, including newspapers and press associations intent upon gleaning the same information but without having any propaganda purpose to serve, promptly ran into the same difficulty.

Like a Labyrinth

There seems to be so many possible classifications that it will be very difficult to make any reasonably accurate analysis until long after election day, regardless of which party wins out.

By way of illustration, Mr. Shouse's organization is interested only in the repeal aspect. It set out to seek data as to views of house and senate candidates on that only. That will provide no light whatever as to the modification of the Volstead act.

Oil Field Truckman Slain Near Henderson

HENDERSON, Texas, Sept. 30. (AP)—Daymond Martin, 21, oil field truck driver, was shot to death last night as he sat in a cafe at Carlisle, nine miles west of Henderson. His assailant escaped in an automobile. Officers were told that a quarrel between Martin and his assailant preceded the shooting.

KILLED IN CRASH

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 30 (UP)—Ralph Axtell, 35, Guthrie printing firm employe, was killed and his companion, Arthur Sleeper, 35, Guthrie, was seriously injured today when Axtell's automobile crashed into a concrete railing northeast of Edmond.

The Part Of The Chamber Of Commerce

IT IS not for the purpose of singling out any one organization for praise in connection with the success of Wichita Falls' golden jubilee celebration that we here mention especially the chamber of commerce—there are so many individuals and organizations deserving of praise that to attempt to name them would make a longer list than the columns of this newspaper would hold.

We mention the chamber of commerce, because during all the months that organization and its staff worked so steadily and efficiently that its contribution to the success of the celebration may have escaped the notice of those not directly connected with the jubilee.

When suggestions were asked from citizens of Wichita Falls last fall for the 1932 program of work for the chamber of commerce such a celebration was suggested by more people than any other thing on the program that was adopted.

Early in the year the directors of the chamber of commerce appointed Walter D. Cline, general chairman of the anniversary committee, instructed him to appoint his own committees and told him to go ahead with plans for the celebration and that all the facilities of the chamber of commerce were at his command.

The headquarters of the chamber of commerce were made the offices of the anniversary association which was created as a separate organization, and incorporated; the services of the entire staff of the chamber of commerce were placed at the disposal of the association; there was hardly a day that some committee did not meet in the chamber of commerce rooms in connection with plans for the celebration. John Boswell, manager of the chamber of commerce, and members of his staff carried out many of the details that had been planned by the committees. For several weeks preceding the celebration they were at work almost day and night.

We are certain that all those actively connected with the anniversary association will agree that without the enthusiastic, active, intelligent and uncomplaining cooperation and assistance of the chamber of commerce staff the celebration could not have been the success it was.

Pew As A Pessimist

J. HOWARD PEW is well known to all Texans and to all who are connected directly or indirectly with the petroleum industry. He is the chief executive of the Sun Oil company. He visited the capitol. This is what he predicted: "Eventual control of the American oil industry by gangsters and racketeers is inevitable unless existing high taxes levied on the petroleum industry are lowered." Why should gangsters and racketeers be permitted to rule any industry, and community or any commonwealth? Is it possible that a gangster is more powerful than the government? High taxes are in evidence everywhere, which is a reminder that the people of all the states and all the counties and all the cities are largely responsible for the burdens they bear. When times were flush, when money was easy, when a gambling riot covered the world, bond issues were piled to the sky; billion dollar utility companies were organized; bureaus and commissions of government were created, and the millions or hundreds of millions who could obtain credit proceeded to go the limit. Then the so-called civilization framework broke down and now those who were responsible for the heavy load of debts are facing pay day and they groan from the overload. Really, the world is going back to solid foundations, sane thinking, sane living, sane investment, sane laws and sanity of judgment on the part of all who read and think.

France Strains at the Spigot

AN AMERICAN business man who recently returned from a trip to France reports that French wholesale wine prices have advanced by at least 15 per cent because the French, confident that the coming election will mean the end of prohibition, are preparing for a big export trade to the United States. Preparations are even being made, he said, for whole shiploads of wine to be sent to the United States immediately after election day.

If he reports things correctly, it is plain that the French wine sellers are in for a sharp disappointment. For, regardless of the outcome of the fall election, the 18th amendment will remain on the books for quite a time yet. Even if a unanimously wet congress and administration should be named, the dry law couldn't be repealed overnight. These wine exporters seem to be counting their chickens a long time ahead of the hatching season.

A War Cloud Passes

A MONTH or so ago the world was bothered by rumors that Japan and Soviet Russia were about to go to war. Japan's operations in Manchuria were unquestionably irritating to Russia, and large bodies of Russian troops were being massed along the border. The situation looked pretty bad.

Now, however, comes news that Japan and Russia have signed a great trade agreement, providing for the export by Russia to Japan of more than 200,000 tons of refined oil. It is commonly reported that official Russian recognition of Manchukuo will follow shortly.

Evidently a war between Russia and Japan is not as near as we had feared. Nations that are preparing to go to war with one another do not, ordinarily, preface their operations in the field by tightening the commercial bonds that hold them together.

BABES ON BROADWAY

By JANE DIXON

(Copyright, 1932, Jane Dixon)

SYNOPSIS

Antoinette Brooks, 18 years old, Tony to family and friends, was orphaned when her father and mother were killed in an automobile accident at a grade crossing in Centerville, her home town. She had been graduated from high school, but she learned that for the last six months her father had fought off bankruptcy. As a child Tony had taken painting lessons and, at 16 she turned her love of line and color to dress designing. When her father's estate was settled, Tony had slightly less than $200. Art school was out of the question just then; she must earn her living and try to save enough for evening classes. Tony's capital was down to $12 when she got a job as helper in Madame Simone's dress shop in New York. A month later the saleswoman she assisted quit suddenly and Tony was promoted. She was so frank in advising women what she should not wear that she lost important sales and was dismissed. The same day Leslie "Lee" Moran, a model, was discharged. She had no money, and Tony shared her third floor back room at Mrs. Higgins' with her. Lee became discouraged at their failure to get jobs and said she was going out to look for some fun. While Lee was out, Tom Stewart, a young engineer who was in love with her, called at Mrs. Higgins'. Tony had no place to receive him there and suggested that he walk with her to the delicatessen store.

INSTALLMENT III

Tony wanted to tell Tom Stewart, this nice young man with the deep voice and the laugh in his boots, that if he wanted to keep his Lee safe he should take her with him where flowers grew in fields, not in miasmic indoor jungles behind curtained glass. He had no money, Lee had said. Was only beginning his career as a civil engineer and the pay was small. Yet—if they cared enough—they could manage. Later, well—later it might be too late.

Should she suggest to Tom Stewart that Lee was in a mind to mutiny, that she had threatened to run up a black flag against the existing order? That would be the honest, the truthful thing to do. Suppose Lee didn't mean her chatter of the morning seriously. Suppose she had just been talking it out. She might very well resent idle nonsense being repeated, and to Tom of all persons. She might conclude Tony wanted to get rid of her.

But Tony did not want Lee to go, unless she really loved Tom and would be happy with him. Lee was a good companion, and understanding one. Being alone in the city was the kind of solitude that bred morbidity, despair. Beside, truth, especially unwelcome truth, was more likely to incur resentment than to inspire gratitude. It had lost Tony her place at Mme. Simone's. This time she would hold her tongue.

"Here we are, the busy housewife's delight." They were at the delicatessen store's window. Tony turned in at the door. She ordered the rolls and stood there, her back to the shop, examining the contents of counter, and shelf without seeing them. She had not yet looked into Tom Stewart's face. She had no concrete idea what it was like. Only surmise. Why was she so hesitant to embody this man's voice, his laugh, behind a definite picture of him? It was as though she stood at an open gate, knowing if she passed through, change, portent, lay on the other side.

"Your rolls, miss." Tony took the package. Now she would have to turn, to allow the imprint of his picture to be hung in the gallery of consciousness. Pshaw. She was being ridiculous. A stranger.

It was unlikely they would ever meet again. Maybe malnutrition was setting in. A bit flighty.

"I should be a delicatessen man's daughter," she said and smiled into Tom Stewart's eyes. "Their displays always fascinate me." She must wrench her eyes away from those crystal—cool depths with the hint of blue at the bottom. Her senses swam in them, drowned, struggled to drown again. She fought free, a little breathlessly. His eyes called her back, imperiously. His face—lean and long, like his fingers. Rugged symmetry. Persons who lived in the open had that brown wind-blown look. He had not moved.

"Wait till you get the rest of it. Macaroons glace, mustard pickles, figs in syrup, pate de foie gras with truffles, caviar in these cute brown jars."

"Was there something—" She did not dare plunge into those depths again.

"I—I beg your pardon." He reached for the package of rolls. His arms implored her. For one reckless second she thought she was going to melt into them. Madness! She must be light-headed from the long day's hunt for work, from lack of strengthening food. If she could hold on until she got back to Higgins'!

He asked quietly: "Do you mind walking a few blocks further down? We can cross over and come back by another street."

"No, I like—walking." His fingers at Tony's elbow, clasping it firmly, guiding her through traffic, drawing her closer, imperceptibly, but closer to his tallness.

"I don't care for the city—for living in it," he said. "I'm always glad to pull out."

"Neither do I," Tony agreed. "I come from the country, a small town. I'd go back to it except there is nothing there to do that interests me, in the work I like."

"Lee tells me you want to study art."

"I do. I want to be a designer. That's why I came to the city. I hope to study at the Art League, but so far I haven't earned enough money to pay for the classes."

"Pretty rough going in the city for a girl, alone." His voice was husky when he was serious.

"I was prepared to find it rough," Tony admitted, "but not quite so . . . so . . . rocky as it is."

"It gets smoother as you go along, that is if you're a game traveler." His fingers pressed her arm encouragingly.

"I don't know how game I am," Tony laughed, "but I mean to travel."

They were in front of the chipped stone steps. So soon.

"Good night, Miss Brookes. Tell Lee I couldn't wait. I'll be back in two weeks."

It was Tony Brookes, Tom Stewart told he would be back in two weeks. Back to her. Not to Lee. Every nerve in Tony's body, every instinct of her womanhood, every song in her heart, clamored that it was to her he was coming back. And she had not denied him the coming. How was she going to face Lee?

Tony awakened from a troubled sleep to a blaze of light in her eyes; a lilting voice was calling her name and admonishing her to "wake up and hear the birdies sing."

"Is it time to turn out already?" Tony asked drowsily. It seemed she had no sooner succeeded in cudgeling her racing mind into the sweet oblivion of sleep than it must begin to whirr again, torturing and accusing her. Her last conscious effort had been directed toward driving the vivid, breath-taking image of Tom Stewart from her thoughts. She had not succeeded. He had remained, was here now, his fingers at her elbow, his eyes capturing and holding her in a kind of exquisite thralldom. Where had Lee been so early? Taking off her hat now, she tossed it at Tony with a cry of, "Hurrah for our side! Look darling, I've brought you a swell present. Sit up and take nourishment."

Lee drew a turkey leg, temptingly browned, from a paper bag and waved it at Tony.

"Where on earth—why it's only 2 o'clock!" Tony lifted the clock and held it close to her ear to convince herself that it was ticking.

"Two A. M., and lookit, the harvest!" Lee waved a grandiloquent hand toward her bed. Bags and bundles were piled in its center. "Surround that drumstick, darling, and here's a two-story bread and butter sandwich gobbed with cranberry jelly to keep it company." Lee extracted an oiled paper package from one of the bags.

Tony took the turkey leg, sunk her teeth into its brown crispness. She was ravenous. She was so hungry she must restrain herself or she would be tearing at the meat. Turkey, and done to a turn.

"Yummy, what?" Lee nibbled scallops from a cookie—another bag had divulged.

"Wait 'till you get the rest of it. Macaroons glace, mustard pickles, figs in syrup, pate de foie gras with

Q.—What is the quotation about plucking a thistle and planting a rose which is attributed to Lincoln?—M. W.

A.—In the spring of 1865, a number of men who had resisted the draft in western Pennsylvania were pardoned in a batch by President Lincoln. His friend, Mr. I. H. Speed, who had heard the touching pleas of two women petitioners in the case, observed that he wondered how the president stood the anguish of such pleadings when he was, at heart, so sensitive. "I have, in that order," said Lincoln, "made people happy and alleviated the distress of many a poor soul whom I never expect to see. Speed, die when I may, I want it said of me by those who know me best, that I always plucked a thistle and planted a flower when I thought a flower would grow."

Q.—How much are coffee pickers paid in Brazil?—L. C.

A.—In 1929, the coffee picker was paid 6 milreis per day including meals. At this time, the milreis was worth 12 cents in our money. Therefore, he was paid 72 cents per day. In 1931, he was paid 3½ milreis with meals—7 cents in our money, which amounts to 24½ cents per day.

Q.—How tall is Helen Wills Moody and what is her weight?—I. B.

A.—She is 5 feet 7½ inches tall and weighs about 136 pounds.

Q.—How is telephonic accommunication accomplished between Washington and Honolulu?—W. H.

A.—It is by means of wires between Washington and San Francisco, some 3,000 miles, and by short wave radio channel from San Francisco to Honolulu, about 2,500 miles. Despite this change, conversation is as direct as though the participants were in the same city.

Q.—How can an atom be split? Can the process be observed?—A. T.

A.—The bureau of standards says that atoms are split by using other atoms as projectiles. The actual process cannot be observed, only the results of the splitting process are observable. The usual method of splitting atoms is to direct a stream of alpha particles (high speed helium nuclei) at the substance, the atoms of which are to be disrupted.

Q.—How much must the receipts of a postoffice be in order that it be ranked as a first class postoffice?—A. S. J.

A.—All postoffices having receipts of $40,000 or more are first class offices; from $8,000 to $40,000, second class offices; $8,000 to $1,500, third class offices; and less than $1,500, fourth class offices.

Q.—Was the author of the book of Luke a Jew?—G. A.

A.—Luke, considered the most literary among the writers of the New Testament, was not a Jew. His name and his profession of physician suggest that he was the son of a Greek freedman of some Roman family.

Q.—When were horse shoes first made by machinery?—C. B.

A.—In 1835, by Henry Burden, at Troy, N. Y.

Q.—What is the function of the American Engineering council?—B. M. B.

A.—It was formed in December, 1920, as the Federated American Engineering societies. The name was changed March 11, 1924, to the present title. Its object is to further the public welfare wherever technical and engineering knowledge and experience are involved, and to consider and act upon matters of common concern to the engineering and allied technical professions. Each year the council conducts one major research in the realm of engineering, industry, or in the semi-economic field.

Q.—Why are Locarno and Lausanne used as forums of international conferences instead of having all such gatherings in Geneva?—R. B.

A.—Probably because it is thought best to avoid the appearance of any pact or coordination between two separate efforts.

Q.—In the 1930 census, what proportions of the men and of the women in the United States had jobs?—F. V. C.

A.—According to the census of 1930 gainful workers, 10 years old and over, totaled 48,829,920. Of this number 38,077,804 were males and 10,752,116 were females. Thus 78 per cent of the male population were gainful workers and 20 per cent of the female population.

PACK DEFEATS ARDMORE, 20 TO 0, IN THRILLING OPENER

2,000 CHEER COYOTE GANG

Brilliant Running, Passing Attack Floors Visitors

By FRED THOMPSON
Record News Sports Editor

A brilliant passing and running attack that furnished sensations enough to more than offset ragged playing in spots gave the Coyotes a 20 to 0 victory over the Ardmore, Okla., eleven in the first game of the season yesterday afternoon at the new Coyote stadium. Acclaimed by a crowd of about 2,000 students and grown-ups, Coach Ted Jefferies, new Coyote mentor, and his fiery-clad Pack were given a rousing send-off in the 1932 district No. 5 race, which officially opens next Friday night when the local scrappers meet the Electra Tigers in the first conference game of the season.

McBride Takes It Over

The Coyote mentor wasted little time in seeing that every possible member of his squad of 34 players took part in the game, a galaxy of substitutes running in towards the close of the first quarter after his regulars had pushed over a touchdown in the first five minutes of play when Jasper McBride, speedy halfback, ripped through a broken field for a 33-yard run that carried him over the goal stripe.

The teams that later saw action had little difficulty registering a touchdown in each of the second and third quarters. The Sooner visitors never offered a threat of any kind, gaining only 70 yards from scrimmage, and a belated rally, featured by the completion of a 15-yard pass, came in the last few minutes of play.

Visitors Crippled

The Ardmore team, undoubtedly would have made a better showing had it not been for the injury of five of the team's star players in an automobile accident at Ardmore Thursday night. Kenneth Parker, the team's outstanding end and best passer and punter, sustained a serious head injury and was unable to make the trip to Wichita Falls. Four others, Wayne Gist, halfback, Jim Bramelett, quarterback, Max Cook, guard, and J. B. Posey, halfback, took the field yesterday swathed in bandages and could not put out their best efforts.

Under the circumstances, the Ardmore team put up as good a battle as could be expected, and hustled through the game from start to finish.

Aerial Drive Spectacular

But the patched-up lineup could not stop the charge of Jefferies' backfielders as they weaved through and around the Ardmore line on reverses, cutbacks and spinners, and unleashed a spectacular aerial drive.

One of the sensations of the game was the touchdown the Coyotes scored from midfield on the last play of the first half. F. Byrd, Ardmore's left halfback, had made a feeble punt to his own 40-yard line. Jimmie Hill, Coyote halfback, shot a five-yard pass to Charlie Hurd, Coyote wingman, but the Pack drew a five-yard penalty for crawling. Referee Earl Dayvault stepped up to the Ardmore captain to ask him if he would accept or decline the penalty, when the field umpire shot the whistle supposedly ending the half. Referee Dayvault, however, had not officially declared the half over, and the Pack was allowed one more play over the violent protest of Coach Dyrily of Ardmore. There was much beefing over the matter. Finally the teams lined up and blond-headed Jimmy Hill shot a perfect 20-yard pass to young Cleve Pierson, who snared the leather on Ardmore's 25-yard line and then raced through a wad of Ardmore tacklers, side-stepping this way and that, until he had crossed the stripe. Hill failed to make his try for extra point good, and the score at the half was 13 to 0, Bob Decker having booted through the uprights for the extra point after the first touchdown in the previous quarter.

The Final Tally

The Pack scored again early in the third quarter with fleet-footed Burns McKinney taking the leading role in passing and running. McKinney received an Ardmore punt on his 40-yard line to open the session, and ran it back three yards. Then he reeled off a pass which Hurd snagged for a gain of 18 yards and a first down on Ardmore's 41-yard line. McKinney passed again on the next play to Jasper McBride for a gain of 14 yards. On the next play, Burns faked as if to pass, but instead crashed through the center of the Ardmore barricade for a 24-yard jaunt that took the leather to Ardmore's 3-yard line. On the next charge McKinney picked up only a yard through the line, but the third touchdown of the game came when Cleo Creecy sideswiped through the right side of the enemy barrier on a fake play. Decker, the old reliable, sailed the ball through the posts for the extra point, and that ended the scoring.

That First Counter

The Coyotes gave the howling gallery a great thrill by opening the game with a touchdown in short order. After Gist of Ardmore had kicked off, the teams tested out each other's lines and exchanged punts, Cleo Creecy making a great 15-yard return of the Ardmore boot. Little Cleo followed it up by bucking through the center for 10 more yards and Dub Hawthorne duplicated the feat, placing the Coyotes on Ardmore's 33-yard line. It was then that Jasper McBride took the ball on the long journey home, sweeping around right end for the first touchdown of the year for the local eleven.

The Coyote attack offers many opportunities for individual players to crash the limelight, and the Jefferies boys didn't pass up many chances yesterday. One of the outstanding luminaries was Charlie Hurd, who made some fine catches of forward passes. Young Charlie made one of his best plays in the third quarter when he received an 18-yard pass from McKinney while flat on the ground. A blocker had floored him, but he saw the pass coming and with upraised arms gathered in the toss in splendid fashion.

Creecy Gains 79 Yards

Cleo Creecy was the Pack's outstanding ground gainer. Time and again he swept around the enemy ends for good gains. Creecy piled up a total of 79 yards from scrimmage to lead the field. He was followed by Jasper McBride, with 48, and McKinney, with 42. So many of the squadmen were used it would be impossible to give a summary of each one's play.

The Coyotes ran up a total of 200 yards gained from scrimmage, compared to 70 for the visitors. The locals were far ahead in first downs, the count being 14 to 6.

Jefferies did not "open up" in the game as it was only a practice affair. The Pack is expected to use more of their stock in trade in the Electra opener next Friday night.

Quanah Gets Flying Start In Grid Race With 50-0 Win Over Eldorado

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, Sept. 30.—The Quanah Indians opened the 1932 football season today, winning over the Eldorado, Okla., Panthers, 50-0 in a game played at Athletic park. Heavy rain prior to the game and a slow drizzle all during the game failed to prevent enthusiastic fans from attending in considerable numbers and aiding to start the district champions of 1931 off to flying start toward the coveted title of district champions for this year.

Although slowed by a muddy field the Tribe displayed power as well as deception and at no time were threatened by the opposition. Most of Stallworth's proteges, although new and inexperienced, gave promise of becoming gridiron stars in the near future.

The first two plays tallied six points for the Braves, Jones scoring a touchdown. Coach Stallworth alternated two complete backfields during the game, both clicking with the same precision. Inclement weather prevented any long runs or unusual plays. Jones, fullback, Page, half, and Wheat, quarter, were outstanding for the Indians while Harris, quarter, and Cain, right half, took leading roles for the Panthers.

While the seven letter men back for 1932 season were in the starting lineup, Coach Stallworth used two complete teams, shifting positions and men so that Barnett, Richardson, Blue, Bolton, Hall, Page, and Jones were on the side lines part of the time.

DUNCAN BEATS WAURIKA, 7-6

Golden's Extra Point Wins Close Battle

Special to The Record News.

DUNCAN, Okla., Sept. 30.—Duncan High's football team proved one point too much for the Waurika eleven here tonight as the locals won another practice tilt, 7 to 6.

Waurika's main attack was by the air. Duncan scored in the second period when Weakley plunged across after he and Griffin had moved the ball down the field into shooting position. Golden's kick was good for the extra point.

Roach, Waurika back, supplied the chill for the spectators when he received the ball and flitted around the end and through 60 yards of broken field for his team's six points. The try for extra point failed.

Waurika uncorked the contest with a deadly threat at the Duncan goal. However, the Duncan defense bolstered and the visitors failed to score.

As the final gun fired Waurika had the ball resting on the home eight-yard line. Again the Duncan line stiffened to hold off the touchdown.

Abilene's State Grid Champs of 1931 Handed 20 to 0 Defeat by Sweetwater

ABILENE, Sept. 30. (AP)—Abilene High school's dedication of its new stadium this afternoon was a success only for the Sweetwater Mustangs, who routed the 1931 state champions by a score of 20 to 0.

Although Sweetwater returned only four letter men this year, its rookies performed like veterans, as a supporting cast for Ney Sheridan, who scored two touchdowns and hurled a pass half the length of the field for the third. The Mustangs tallied in the second, third and fourth periods, Speegle Wood place kicking for the points after the last two touchdowns.

Frederick, Altus Play 0-0 Draw

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Sept. 30.—The Frederick and Altus football teams battled to a 0-0 tie here tonight in both elevens' first conference game.

A slightly sticky field with a sprinkle during the game slackened the speed of the contestants.

Frederick's aggregation showed up slightly better than its opposition, although neither team could muster punch enough to score. Frederick penetrated the Altus 10-yard line once, but at this point lost the ball on downs. Twice the locals reached the Altus 20-yard line.

At no time did the visitors threaten the Frederick goal. However, Temple, Altus half, was a consistent ground gainer with center and off-tackle plays.

Rowe, Frederick safety, made 30-yard runs on two occasions. Hubbard and Kennedy, tackles, and Smith and Langham, ends, played exceptionally good defensive games for Frederick.

Nocona Lashes Newcastle, 19-0

Special to The Record News.

NOCONA, Texas, Sept. 30.—With Zachary pacing a fast and aggressive eleven, the Nocona Indians launched their 1932 gridiron campaign here Friday afternoon with a 19 to 0 win over Newcastle High school before a large assembly of rooters.

Zachary provided most of the punch to give the Indians a decided advantage early in the struggle, and chalked up two touchdowns during the afternoon. He was ably assisted by Tribble in the backfield, that newcomer in the Indians' lineup scoring the third touchdown for the victors. The lone extra point scored was accomplished by Garrison with a well-placed kick after touchdown. Weiss also turned in a stellar game for the victors.

Today's game was the first of the current season for both teams.

Co-Captain Ramsey, quarterback for the Eagles scored the four touchdowns for his team, chalking up a counter in each quarter.

The Bobcats took the first break in the game and scored shortly after the kickoff to Chillicothe when Simmons returned the ball to the Eagles' 30-yard line. A fumble on the first play gave the Bobcats the ball on the Chillicothe 40-yard line and Vernon Johnson scored from that position.

The Eagles marked up nine first down to one for the Bobcats, recorded in the last quarter.

Ramsey was ably assisted in battering the Bobcat forward wall by Cook and Hutchens and R. C. Ivey proved Johnson's chief support for the Bobcats. Bowie Eleven Whips Bellevue Eagles, 12-0

Special to The Record News.

BELLEVUE, Texas, Sept. 30.—Staging a courageous battle against superior weight and experience, the Bellevue High school Eagles suffered a 12-0 defeat at the hands of the Bowie Jackrabbits here Friday afternoon in the opening conference game of the 1932 schedule for both elevens.

A team made up almost entirely of new men won the approbation of Coach Bill Miller and a large assembly of fans by waging a stubborn battle against the invaders. The game was clean and hard-fought.

Bowie scored first in the third quarter when Knightstep, right end, intercepted an Eagle pass and raced 19 yards for a touchdown. In the fourth quarter, the Jackrabbits attacked the Eagle line to score the second touchdown. Oliver, fullback, toted the ball nine yards to go over. Electra And Matador Play Scoreless Tie In Tigers' First Night Contest

ELECTRA, Texas, Sept. 30.—Held at bay throughout a stubborn battle by the powerful punting toe of Wedeman, Matador High school back, the Electra Tigers were forced to accept a 0-0 draw with the visitors Friday night in the season's first game, played under the arcs before a banner crowd of about 1,500 persons.

Wet turf and a slippery ball, due to a drizzling rain which fell during parts of the battle, worked not a little damage upon the attack of both elevens. Forward passes proved uncertain and dangerous, each side attempting few and completing but one. By dint of line play and end sweeps, however, the Tigers maneuvered themselves into scoring positions on several occasions. On such occasions, however, the Matador line stiffened to regain possession of the ball on downs. Then the redoubtable Wedeman toe functioned, pushing the aggressive Tiger back again into his own territory.

The Electra team was noticeably weakened by the absence of Lambdin, end, and Boutwell, fullback. Both players are expected to be ready for the Wichita Falls Coyotes next Friday night, however. Hogle, Ellis, Smith and Curfman were outstanding performers in the Tiger camp, while Renfro, Cuykendall, and H. Burnham shone for the visitors. Matador is coached by Harvey Stanford, Tiger mentor for the past five years.

HENRIETTA HI BEATS ALVORD

Passing Attack Nets 27-0 Victory

Special to The Record News.

HENRIETTA, Texas, Sept. 30.—Henrietta's High school eleven, led by Kerbow, West and Jackson, administered a 27 to 0 walloping here this afternoon to the visiting and less experienced Alvord team.

Kerbow's masterful passing, with West and Jackson receiving, led to the downfall of the Alvord outfit. Contributing to the defeat and fending off Alvord's attack was highly commendable blocking and tackling by the Henriettans.

Visitors Start Right

The visitors, with eight men who were playing their first game, held the local gridsters scoreless in the first quarter. Consistent battering, however, enabled West to cross the goal line in the second period. Kerbow's boot was good for the extra point. Again West delivered the ball across the Alvord goal in the third quarter, but Kerbow's kick was bad.

In the final period Jackson, who had accounted for good gains throughout the entire fracas, took charge of the scoring and tacked 12 more points on to the Henrietta total. Jackson's first dash back of the goal line was after he snatched a long pass from Kerbow and reeled off 20 yards. A 30-yard sprint near the close of the game netted Jackson's final touchdown. Both trys for extra point were successful.

Meet Bowie Next

Henrietta's eleven is playing five inexperienced men this year. The local gridsters will engage in their second melee next Friday at Bowie. A week later they will play under lights at Electra.

Today's lineup follows:

Jacksboro Noses Out Decatur, 6-0

Special to The Record News.

JACKSBORO, Texas, Sept. 30.—Using the speed and driving power of Black, quarterback, in the pinches, Jacksboro High school opened its 1932 conference schedule here Friday afternoon with a 6 to 0 victory over a smoothly working team from Decatur High school.

With his line functioning splendidly, Black turned off a 30-yard sprint on a spin through tackle late in the first period to place the ball on the visitors' eight-yard line. With the opening the second quarter, Black ziggaged through the line for a counter, but missed on his placekick try for extra point.

Despite stiff opposition, Jacksboro maintained the advantage throughout the game. In the closing period, Decatur opened up with a passing game which carried the ball deep into the locals' territory. L. Lowrey, Jacksboro halfback, snared an enemy pass to halt the advance. Workman, tackle, and MacDonald, quarterback turned in brilliant performances for Decatur.

The game was fairly fast, despite both teams being new, but was marred by numerous fumbles.

The lineups:

Stamford Upsets Munday Hi, 18-7

Special to The Record News.

STAMFORD, Texas, Sept. 30.—Upsetting the preseason dope, a green Stamford High school eleven containing but four letter men turned back the Munday Moguls here Friday afternoon in the non-conference opener by a score of 18 to 7.

The locals scored in the first five minutes of play to gain an advantage which they maintained throughout the game. Receiving the kickoff, Stamford assigned Cole, fullback, to do most of the ball-toting in a drive straight down the field for a touchdown. Cole accounted for another touchdown in the third quarter, climaxing a series of advances with a 12-yard dash through tackle for the marker. Terry, Stamford left half, annexed the locals' third touchdown in the closing period.

Munday employed a brilliant forward pass attack to score its touchdown in the fourth period. Aycock heaved a fast shot over the end to C. Hobart, who sprinted 40 yards to cross the goal line. Stamford registered 16 first downs to the visitors' four. Both teams will be district contenders, but today's game was not on the conference schedule. The lineup:

Grandfield Beats Temple Team, 7-6

Special to The Record News.

GRANDFIELD, Okla., Sept. 30.—Slipping over an extra point after touchdown on a cleverly executed forward pass, the Grandfield Bearcats squeezed out a 7-6 victory over Temple High school here Friday afternoon on a rain-soaked field.

The contest was the first conference engagement for each team. Handicapped by a muddy field, both elevens limited their attacks largely to line play.

Temple scored early in the second quarter when a fumbled punt was recovered deep in the locals' territory. After a series of line plunges had advanced the ball to the Grandfield 18-yard line, Sanders flung a pass into the hands of Bowen for a touchdown. Sanders' effort to kick goal went wild.

Working the ball to within striking distance on line plays in the third quarter, the Bearcats also employed the air attack to score. Creighton's flip over the goal line was gathered in by Due for the counter. The same duo re-enacted the same maneuver to register the winning point.

Sanders and Bowen won individual honors for the visitors, while Creighton, Due, Jones and Beavers turned in brilliant games for the victors.

Burk And Walters Play 0-0 Draw

Special to The Record News.

WALTERS, Okla., Sept. 30.—Playing the Walters Blue Devils even in every phase of the game, the Burkburnett High school Bulldogs fought the local eleven to a 0-0 tie here Friday afternoon.

With neither team able to muster sufficient punch to threaten the opponent's goal line, the match soon resolved itself into a punting duel in which honors were even. Both teams played clean football, but ordinary ability in attack was smothered under the strong defense presented by both squads.

The final 20 minutes of the game was played in mud, due to a sudden downpour of rain. The Burkburnett starting lineup was as follows: Ends, Dickerson and Shafer; tackles, Bryarly and Goodlet; guards, Hill and Matthews; center, Smith; quarterback, Norvell; halves Bailey and Walling; fullback, Young.

Archer City Swamps Jermyn Eleven, 31-0

Special to The Record News.

ARCHER CITY, Texas, Sept. 30.—Introducing his 1932 Archer City Wildcats to a large gathering of local fans, Coach Jot Hodges opened the season's schedule here Friday afternoon with a 31-0 victory over the eleven representing Jermyn, rural consolidated school in Jack county.

Overcoming with smartness and speed the superior weight of the visitors, the local team kept possession of the ball during most of the afternoon. Brewer and Fish, the sole holdovers from the 1931 team, performed brilliantly for the Wildcat cause.

The team which opened for Archer City today will engage the Megargel Bluebirds at Megargel on Oct. 7 in the first conference struggle for both elevens. Coach Hodges has Floyd Shawver, former North Texas Teachers' college star, as his assistant.

Mangum and Mountain View Play 0-0 Draw

Special to The Record News.

MANGUM, Okla., Sept. 30.—Battling on even terms throughout, the Mangum and Mountain View elevens battled to a scoreless tie here tonight. Mangum resorted to passes mostly while Mountain View concentrated on short end runs.

In another conference game today Sayre and Hobart also played a scoreless tie at Hobart.

NICKLAS MAKES ONLY COUNTER

Star Races Length of Grid With Kickoff

Special to The Record News.

OLNEY, Texas, Sept. 30.—Quarterback Nicklas of the Graham Steers took the kick-off for the second half of the football game with the Olney Cubs here Friday afternoon and raced the length of the field for a 6 to 0 victory. The Steers did not kick goal.

Captain Nicklas marshaled his Steer eleven through every threat of the Cubs and his long spirals removed numerous threats to mar the lone touchdown lead. Over 3,000 fans attended the contest in the face of heavy clouds.

Steers Take to Air

Early in the game the Steers took to the air with Nicklas passing to Bingham at right end for a combination that proved difficult for the Cubs to handle. The Steers accounted for two of their five first downs by the aerial route. The remaining first downs were made on great runs by Nicklas and plunges by D. Parsley, followed by a 25-yard run by Wheeler.

The Cub offense failed to click for any length of time during the encounter, although Coach Acker's eleven maintained a steady offensive fight. The defensive work of Nicklas, Jarnigan and Colwell was a large factor in disrupting the Olney plan of attack.

The individual kicking battle between Nicklas and Captain Graves of the Cubs was a feature of the contest. Graves booted a 55-yard spiral in the second quarter from behind his own goal line to escape a Steer threat.

Spar for Weakness

The first quarter was rather tame with both teams sparring for a weakness. The Steers pounded the center of the Olney line for two quick first downs and it looked like a bad day for the new Cub forward wall. Soon the locals had the situation in hand and stopped the attack and took the ball. Olney found the Steers just as determined but managed to push over two first downs before the period ended.

The second period found the Steers opening up a bit and successful passes and several penalties kept the Cubs on the defense most of the time. During this period the visitors rushed the ball 30 yards and gained 26 more on two passes. During this time the locals kept the ball very little of the time and gained 15 yards from scrimmage and 16 on a pass. Captain Nicklas featured for Graham with his passing, running and kicking. He received valuable assistance from D. Parsley and a fast charging line. Neither goal line was threatened in this period and the half ended 0 to 0.

Nicklas Makes Dash

The opening kick-off to start the second half saw the brilliant Nicklas tuck the oval under his arm and race across all the white marks for the only score of the game. Not a Cub put a hand on him and Captain Gilmore's error in kicking to him put the ball game in the bag for the Steers. It seemed that the red-shirted boys from north Young county were all on leave during this play and as the black-haired quarterback from the county seat of Young sped on to victory for his team Captain Graves of the locals made a final desperate but fruitless lunge at his flying heels.

For a moment it looked like Acker's boys were not going to settle down. They did after a few plays and from then on had the Steers fighting desperately to keep them from the goal line. The visitors made only one first down in the last half to seven for Olney but they didn't need to make them as errors of omission and commission put the Cubs in the red. A great pass defense by the visiting ends and backs turned the tide in this last half onslaught of Acker's men. Repeated passes to covered men lost the ball at critical moments.

During this time the Cubs were ripping the Steer line to shreds but Jarnigan, Colwell et al and Cub blunders sent the homeling cause up the creek often enough to keep safe the six-point margin for the visitors.

After several exchanges of kicks in which the Cubs got the advantage because of Elmore's returns, several of which were for 15 and 20 yards and one for 55 yards, Wheeler of the visitors slipped around the local left end for 35 yards and with that run went the ball game as a beautiful kick by Nicklas went out on the Cub three-yard marker and the 25-yard line was as far back up the field as the locals could get the ball before the final whistle cut off the struggle. Sloan and Crawford played a flashy game in the Cub line but the consistent play of W. Pyeatt and Hammond at the guard posts cheered local fans and gave lots of encouragement for future games.

truffles, caviar in these cute brown jars." She was extracting articles from bags and depositing them on the bed as she named them. "And just to show you that little Lee keeps her head even when she's meeting Santa Claus, here's butter and fresh eggs and boxes of sliced bacon, not to mention very exclusive tea, coffee, sugar and triple cream. Do we eat, darling? We do not. We feast. Have a fruited cake with nut filling." She extended one of the bags to Tony.

"Lee!" Tony sat up in bed, her body suddenly tense, her eyes searching the other's face. "Where did you get all this food? Caviar and things like that? You told me you were broke—that you'd spent all your money."

Lee laughed. The quality of the laugh, its lightness, the apparent mischief of its motivation, reassured Tony.

Lee said: "It was too easy, darling. After you left this morning, no, now it's yesterday, I decided to visit a few playgrounds around town and see what was being had in the line of fun. Nothing happened until about 10 o'clock last night, when I took up taxi dancing in a big way."

"Taxi dancing! You didn't! A dance hall, you mean, where men pay you so much a dance? Oh Lee, how—awful!"

"Awful, my eye, unless you mean awful nice." Lee munched another cookie." Honest Tony, it was a whirl. I was passing this dance palace—its really quite respectable and done in the grand manner—when I found my feet turning me in at the entrance. I'd been there before, with boys I knew, but never by my lonely. A man inside the door asked me if I wanted to see the manager. I didn't, up to then, but it was an idea."

"Lee you didn't—"

"Hold it. I was shown into an office where a man with bushes over his eyes and a parrot nose asked me if I'd had any experience taxi-ing. I told him I'd had plenty. I didn't bother to explain it wasn't the kind of taxi experience he was looking for. He asked me for references and I handed him a few names that sounded good but meant nothing. He said okeh and sent me to try out with one of the he-taxis. The floor was slick, the music divine, the he-taxi knew his ankling—and little Lee got the job. Seems they were taking on a few extras at El Tango—that's the name of the place where your roommate is now employed. And fun? Say, darling, turn off that alarm. It's liable to explode and wake me up?"

Tony polished off the turkey bone, devoured the last bite of her sandwich. After all, it was only a lark. Lee's going to that dance hall, and it did sound exciting. Profitable too, judging from the "harvest" on the bed.

"You must have danced your feet off—to buy all this," Tony said, indicating the packages.

"My dear," Lee was laughing, making trips back and forth from bed to screen stowing the supplies on shelves and in the cupboard. "Don't be dull. It's not humanly possible to dance into such plunder. I got me a nice uncle who agreed good little girls must eat. He wanted to play Santa Claus and who am I to crush a noble thought like that? I just let Uncle go on and enjoy himself. There'd have been lots more, only we couldn't carry it."

"Lee," accusingly, "you allowed a perfectly strange man to buy your food, to bring you home, to—to—"

"To be a boy scout and do his daily good deed?" laughed Lee.

Young Republicans Organizing League

CHICAGO, Sept. 30. (AP)—Leaders of the Young Republicans league said today they were approaching their goal—ten million young men and women between the ages of 21 and 36 taking an active interest in politics.

Organization of the younger voters has been started in 17 states, it was announced at the league's offices in Republican national campaign headquarters, and several states have been organized on a county basis.

"We intend to form a permanent organization into which a first voter can enter at the age of 21 and remain for 15 years," George R. Olmstead, chairman of the league, said in a statement. Olmstead, a former head of the U. S. Junior Association of Commerce, has left to do organization work in the New England states.

"There are 28,000,000 voters under the age of 36, and until now they never have had a permanent organization to direct their political energies. Our members will be the young and energetic 'shock troops' of republicanism, and many of them we expect to develop into outstanding political leaders."

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 30. (AP)—(U.S.D.A.)—Supplies of beef steers and yearlings were limited in the day's trade and steady prices prevailed with a few sales on fed kinds in a spread of $4.50@6.65 together with a limited number of western steers around $5.50@6.50.

Selling in a spread of $4.50@5.50 with a few at $5.75, lambs carried a generally steady trend after a series of weak to lower markets on earlier days this week. A few feeding lambs brought $4.25@4.50.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Sept. 30. (AP)—Yesterday's declines were almost entirely recovered in the cotton market today on increased trade buying and covering which sent the price of December contracts up to 7.36 in the late trading or 38 points net higher.

That delivery closed at 7.32, with the general market closing strong at net advances of 27 to 40 points.

The opening was 5 to 15 points higher on relatively firm Liverpool cables and prospects for renewed rains in the Southwest.

Prices sagged back to about or within a couple of points of yesterday's closing quotations then rebounded sharply on covering and trade buying with March selling up to 7.41 in the late trading. Closing quotations were slightly off from the best under realizing.

Liverpool cables said that hedging and liquidation had been absorbed by trade calling in that market and reported a fair demand for cotton cloth from India and South America with British home trade improving.

Exports today 44,794 making 1,108,267 [illegible]

Fluctuation Of Prices Erratic In Narrow Range As Trading Falls Off

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Sept. 30. (US)—Trading volume in stocks today slumped closer to the million-share total. Price fluctuations during the day were extremely erratic, though within a relatively narrow range. Speculators were completely at a loss how to capitalize the confusing trends which shifted so rapidly on such light volume as to preclude great significance either way. At the close prices were hardly changed from the preceding day, with a modest upward tendency prevailing in the late trading.

Zero-hour for the Nickel Plate railroad maturity, with its threat of receivership or other complications, naturally was a retarding influence. The market seemed inclined not to pay much attention to anything except its own technical position.

Short-selling was reported proportionately greater than in preceding sessions; this might hold hope for creation of a good technical condition upon which a rally could be predicated. Under prevailing trading dullness, it would not require much of a short account to create a temporarily over-sold condition.

Other markets were likewise inclined to dullness. Bonds held firm, but the grain market were exceedingly disappointing, with corn slumping to a record low and wheat at Winnipeg also dropping to a record low.

Every bull speculator in stocks still hand his eyes glued on the wheat market for the promised "bull play" which was to inaugurate the "October of surprises from administration quarters."

To date all that has resulted in the wheat market has been the building-up of a very sizable speculative bull commitment, including long lines for speculators who ordinarily restrict their speculation to stocks.

Universally it is conceded that the stock market requires new leadership of a type which would startle it out of its dullness. There is a growing irritation or impatience at the absence of this long-promised new stimulus, and a few of the more conservative type of investor or speculator have been disposing of a portion of their holdings. The market has not been particularly affected by this dribbling liquidation to date.

There were many of the usual type of bull stories during the day, but the price trend was little affected. Many stocks, during one of the early price setbacks, broke under the so-called "resistance" points, which made the chartists and other mechanical players of the market distinctly cautious.

Their forebodings, however, were not fulfilled during the session at least, as prices about-faced and recovered their early declines, many closing net higher for the day.

Forecasts were mainly bullish, including those from sources with more than an average record of success. However, it was very evident that there still existed no peg upon which to hang the bullish guesses.

There may be some stimulus to confidence tomorrow in the weekly railroad freight statistics, which are expected to show better-than-seasonal gain.

Railroad shares, however, closed about unchanged on the average, except for Northern Pacific, which was a feature of strength throughout the day, presumably in response to its executives' greater optimism.

United Aircraft, still the most active issue, closed unchanged. The farm implement and the merchandising shares were able to show fractional gains, utilities closed off modestly on the average. Motors were firm.

Decision by the Reconstruction Finance corporation management to delay publication of its borrowers was not particularly cheering, since it suggested desire for concealment. After the first report was issued, its calm reception by the country was widely hailed, especially by Washington, as evidence that the fears over publication had been exaggerated.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 30. (AP)—Shattering of the all-time low price record for Canadian wheat jolted the entire grain list downward in Chicago today.

Reports that selling pressure of Canadian wheat abroad at cheaper prices had been augmented did much to offset assertions the peak of the rural marketing movement in Canada was past. Leading unofficial authorities estimated 140,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat has been marketed in the prairie provinces since Aug. 1, compared with 55,000,000 a year ago.

Wheat closed unsettled, ¼@⅜c under yesterday's finish, corn unchanged to ⅛c lower, oats unchanged to ⅛@¼c off, and provisions varying from 7c decline to 5c advance.

Lowest prices of the day in the Chicago wheat pit came quickly when the Winnipeg market tumbled to 49 cents a bushel for October contracts, outdoing new record bottom figures not yet 24 hours old. At this stage, however, good buying developed in Chicago at around 53c for December and 58c for May. A steadying influence in later trading was announcement that a reduction of Canadian crop estimates appeared likely because of disappointing threshing returns.

A good deal of notice was taken, too, of assertions that regardless of how much wheat was in sight, prices were abnormally low, and that United States primary receipts since July 1 had been but little more than half of the total in the same period last year.

All deliveries of corn and deferred deliveries of oats sold at new low price records for the season. September corn the lowest since 1896.

PARCEL POST RATES ADVANCE

New Schedule in Effect Saturday

Wichitans will join with the rest of the nation Saturday in meeting schedules for new parcel post rates designed to equalize the cost of the service to the eight zones. The new rates were effective at 12:01 a. m. Saturday morning. The service has been conducted at a loss for the first three zones, leading to the revision of rates in 1930, although the Interstate Commerce commission moved the time for the schedule to go into use up to Oct. 1.

A review of the new schedule by Postmaster O. P. Maricle Friday revealed that there is no change in the rates on parcels for local delivery. The new rates on the whole are higher than former rates. However, on parcels going beyond the third zone the increase does not exceed two cents and applies only to parcels weighing less than five pounds. On parcels weighing more than five pounds, the rates in most instances are reduced.

The increase per parcel on those weighing from one to 10 pounds mailed to the first three zones does not exceed two cents and one cent for zone three. On parcels weighing from 11 to 20 pounds, the increase for zones one and two does not exceed three cents and for zone three it is only one cent.

The rates are:

First and second zones, eight cents fo rthe first pound or fraction, and 1.1 cents for each additional pound with fractions counting as whole numbers; third zone, nine cents and two cents; fourth zone, 10 cents and 3.5 cents; fifth zone, 11 cents and 5.3 cents; sixth zone, 12 cents and 7 cents; seventh zone, 14 cents and 9 cents; eighth zone, 15 cents and 11 cents. The local rate is 7 cents with additional charges over one pound of 1 cent for each two pounds.

On parcels collected on rural routes the postage is two cents less per parcel than for local delivery and three cents less per parcel when for other than local delivery.

The parcel post or fourth-class mail zones are: First, up to 50 miles; second, 50 to 150 miles; third, 150 to 300 miles; fourth, 300 to 600 miles; fifth, 600 to 1,000 miles; sixth, 1,000 to 1,400 miles; seventh, 1,400 to 1,800, and eighth, over 1,800 miles.

Star Aerialist In Big Circus

Heading the groups of girl aerialists with the great Hagenbeck-Wallace circus, coming to Wichita Falls Monday, is Sally Siegrist, member of the famous Siegrist troupe of flyers, one of the outstanding aerial acts in circusdom.

If a vote for the most popular girl with the big show was taken among the 1,100 people, Sally would come awfully close to getting 1,100 votes. She is of the old circus aristocracy, the fifth generation of flyers, and the crowds acclaim her daily as the greatest aerial gymnast of all time.

Other featured aerial displays include the Clarkonians, the Wingard trio, and the Cronin sisters.

C-C GROUPS TO RESUME WORK

Chairmen Requested to Call October Meetings

Chairmen of all Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce committees are requested to call meetings of their various groups during the first week in October to resume the organization's schedule on completion of the 1932 program of work, President Albert E. Kelly said Friday.

All work of the organization was placed secondary to the golden jubilee arrangements during August and September and the three-day party completed the second major item in the 1932 program of work. The other completed project was the governmental economy program in aiding county officers in lowering tax schedules.

The first business council luncheon has been called for Friday, Oct. 14, by Chairman Leon Deaton. The junior chamber has already resumed luncheons of the membership.

Highway Program

Although splendid progress has been made on the highway program of which J. S. Bridwell is chairman, much remains in securing early completion of the plans for hard surfacing No. 66 south of Jacksboro, on No. 5 to Gainesville, and U. S. 277 to Lawton, Mr. Kelly said.

Active planning for the Wichita county fair at Iowa Park this month is scheduled by the agricultural committee under Chairman J. N. Sherill, as well as planning for the annual winter poultry show and working with 4-H club boys in feeder projects.

The retail merchants division, in charge of Jack Barnard, is planning activity to increase the drawing power of local stores throughout the Wichita area, while members of C. H. Thompson's manufacturers and jobbers division contemplate an intensive follow-up campaign for development of the area-wide cooperation of the jubilee period.

Fire Prevention Week

A major item in the hands of the civic committee in charge of J. L. Jackson Jr., will be working with the Junior chamber on the approaching observance of fire prevention week.

C. E. McCutchen and members of his aviation committee will continue the program to develop greater use of established air facilities here and the opening of a direct mail line to Oklahoma City.

Although no immediate plans for entertaining conventions have been made, Chairman Harry Hines' convention committee is completing basic work for making 1933 a convention year in Wichita Falls.

Cooperation with the high school Coyote team is under way as a major item in the sports and recreation committee's plans in charge of Dr. O. T. Kimbrough.

LUNCH HONORS COUNTY HEADS

Appreciation Expressed For 'Economy Budget'

Members of the county commissioners court, together with County Judge John P. Marrs, were guests of the joint tax and budget committee of the senior and junior chambers of commerce at the Wichita club Friday noon at a luncheon attended by about 60 persons.

The event was devoted to commendation of the commissioners for their work in reducing the county's 1932 tax levy to 35 cents after having formerly voted a 10 per-cent reduction in taxable valuations.

Edgar Mann, chairman of the tax committee, acted as spokesman, and eulogized Commissioners M. A. Bundy, L. L. Kuntz, F. R. Knauth and Henry Haynes for their work toward economy in the county government. J. M. Bland also congratulated the commissioners, and declared that he believed the city-manager form of government had blazed the way for tax reduction and economy.

Judge Marrs and each of the commissioners present expressed appreciation of the cooperation given in providing Wichita county with an "economy budget" for the coming year.

A resolution was proposed by Jerry Vinson, and adopted by the meeting, that a subcommittee be appointed to see that the tax reduction moves of this county be given widespread publicity.

County Auditor Paul Barnett, Mayor Walter Nelson Jr. and City Manager V. R. Smitham also were guests. Other short speeches were made by Burton Stayton, J. L. Jackson Jr., Charles King, John C. Murphree, Gerald Coffey, Mayor Nelson, Albert E. Kelly, and J. J. Perkins.

For the next several Sundays, Mrs. Pearl Calhoun Davis will feature the choir at the evening service in the singing of an old hymn. "Lead Kindly Light" with Mrs. C. Y. Tully as soloist will be presented Sunday. Any one desiring to hear a favorite hymn featured in these services is invited to call the church office.

A man was fined $1 and costs on a charge of using narcotics.
