New Polish Regime Formally Approved

U. S., Britain And China Recognize Warsaw Poles, Name Ambassadors

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 5—The United States and Britain jointly recognized the reconstructed Warsaw government of Poland tonight, cutting adrift the London exile regime with which they have dealt throughout the war.

The foreign office at Chungking also announced China's recognition of the Polish government at Warsaw and said Dr. Fa Ping-Sheung, Chinese ambassador to Moscow, had notified the Polish ambassador there of China's action.

Called Only One "Step"

In London and Washington, however, it was emphasized in the announcements that the setting up of the expanded Warsaw administration constituted only a "step" in fulfillment of the Yalta Big Three agreements.

President Truman, announcing American acceptance of the Warsaw government, said it had "recognized" the Yalta agreement in full and thereby confirmed the Crimean plan for free elections.

The President said Arthur Bliss Lane has been named ambassador and "will proceed to Warsaw as soon as possible." The British announcement laid stress on "full agreement with the United States government" in recognizing the "Polish provisional government of national unity." It said an ambassador will be dispatched from London shortly.

Named Last September

Lane was appointed last September as ambassador to the London Polish government, but never went to London, apparently in expectation of such a shift as came today. He is in Washington. Previously he was ambassador to Colombia.

The Crimea agreement by President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin called for broadening the base of the Moscow-sponsored Warsaw group, to take in other democratic Polish elements, and for free elections to be held later. Diplomatic comment both here and in the British capital has laid emphasis on the elections, and the circumstances under which they are held, as the finally important step in letting the Poles work out their own democratic course.

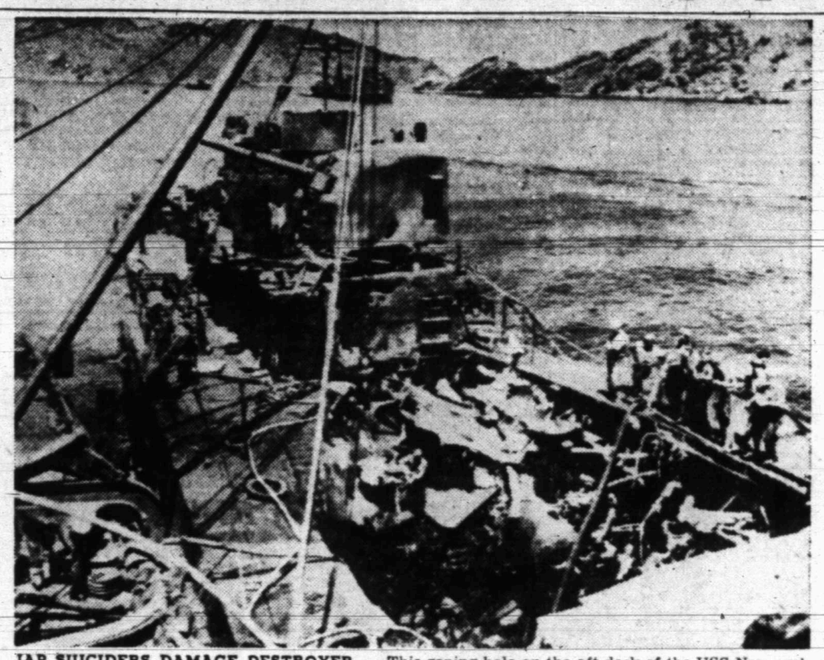

Stanlislaus Mikolajczyk, one-time leader of the London Polish government, has been included in the new Warsaw set-up as vice-premier.

"The establishment of this government is an important and positive step in fulfilling the decisions regarding Poland reached at Yalta and signed on February 11, 1945," said a statement by the President which was issued at the White House.

"The new Polish provisional government of national unity has informed me in a written communication that it has recognized in their entirety the decisions of the Crimea conference on the Polish question," the President's statement continued.

"The new government has thereby confirmed its intention to carry out the provisions of the Cri-

Mustangs From Iwo Batter Tokyo Area

Nip 'Defenders' Again Fail To Show Up Despite Daring Yank Challenge

By LIEF ERICKSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

GUAM, Friday, July 6—Nearly 100 Iwo-based Mustangs of the U. S. Seventh Army Air force raided airfields in the Tokyo area yesterday for the second straight day and ripped dock and warehouse targets in Tokyo bay.

The Seventh Fighter command reported the raid at the same time that fleet headquarters announced Navy Privateers on July 4 made their first sweep over southwestern Korea, disrupting a main railroad line.

The Japanese Air force defending Tokyo again failed to show up against the Mustangs which the day before had broadcast a challenge to the foe.

Far East Force Joins In

Sustaining a daily attack on Japan and empire waters which now has been joined by planes of the Far Eastern Air force, the Mustangs strafed Shimodate and Yatabe airfields northeast of the capital city.

Five enemy planes were destroyed or damaged in two days.

The raiders fired rockets into hangars and maintenance shops, sank a small boat and damaged 12 others.

Southwest Korea Lashed

Hitting southwest Korea in air strength, Navy Privateers Wednesday knocked out several tunnels of the main railroad line running north to Manchukuo, destroyed two railway bridges and two locomotives and damaged several others.

The Fourth of July strike by the big bombers tightened the already severe blockade which is impeding Japanese communications and supply for Nipponese forces in China and Manchukuo.

The railroad attacks were centered on the north-south rail lines in the vicinity of Kanggyong, one of southwest Korea's largest cities.

Three railway bridges were damaged in addition to the two totally wrecked.

First Attack In Force

Similar bombing sweeps previously have been made against railroads in southeastern Korea by Rear Adm. John D. R. Price's Fleet Air Wing One fliers but this was the first attack in force against the rail lines on the western side of the Korean peninsula.

Six Japanese vessels were sunk by Fleet Air Wing One Privateers and Mariners in attacks of southern Korea, off the China coast and in the East China sea July 4 and 5.

Okinawa-based Army Thunderbolt fighters swept Kyushu airfields July 4 while Marine Corsairs and Avengers hit Okinoyerabu and Kikai islands in the Amami group of the Ryukyu islands north of Okinawa.

MacArthur's Forces Turn To 'Japland'

By SPENCER DAVIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

MANILA, Friday, July 6—Gen. Douglas MacArthur has flung his air forces against the Japanese homeland for the first time, operating from Okinawa, he disclosed today.

Thirty-six hours after they landed on Okinawa, fighters and bombers roared off on an unchallenged sweep over the southern Japanese island of Kyushu.

"This is just the start," declared Gen. George C. Kenney, commander of the Far East Air forces. "We will continue to hammer Japan until she accepts unconditional surrender."

First Raids July 3

The raids were staged July 3. The first blows landed on the cities of Tojimbara, Byu, Izumi, Chiran and Omura.

Speedy Mustangs darted down, strafing against moderate to heavy antiaircraft fire as the raiders swept the skies for two hours. They found only three enemy float planes and sank them all in Fukuoka harbor.

It was the first blow struck by MacArthur against the Japanese homeland in more than three and a half years of war.

Forty-eight Mustangs of the Fifth Air force's 38th fighter group hit Fukuoka harbor, which is a major west coast shipping point from the empire to the Asiatic mainland.

The Mustang raid was led by Col. Edwin A. Doff, Eureka, Mo.

Join B-29 Blows

The veterans of the air campaign that strangled the enemy's communications in the south seas thus joined the rising movement against the enemy's home islands — already rocked by giant Superfortress raids and incessantly pounded by tactical planes from new-won bases.

The announcement that Gen. George C. Kenney's Fifth and 13th Air forces had gone into action against Japan came soon after the War department in Washington disclosed that Gen. Carl A. Spaatz, whose forces smashed Germany from the air, was moving into the Pacific as head of the new U. S. Army Strategic Air force in the Pacific.

Aussies Capture Manggar Drome

MANILA, Friday, July 6—The Australian Seventh division has captured Manggar airfield with its two 4,000-foot runways and won control of all the big oil port and refinery town of Balikpapan in southeast Borneo, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today.

Capture of the airfield, second taken in the Balikpapan area since the invasion of July 1, was accomplished on the afternoon of July 4, against light opposition.

Push Beyond Airfield

It is 10 miles by air and 13 by road northeast of Balikpapan.

An Australian column, pushing on beyond the airfield along the bomb-cratered paved road, could see raging fires at Koeala Sambodja, once-great refinery and pumping station.

The Japanese apparently were methodically destroying all of the oil installations in Borneo's richest petroleum belt. Their fighting resistance to the Australian advance was spotty, with a profusion of land mines and booby traps as the principal hazards to the hard-slugging Digger troops.

The main Japanese force in all southeast Borneo was retreating up the coast under Australian tank and artillery pressure and constantly harassed by Allied tactical planes.

One U. S. Plane Lost

Both carrier-based and land-based planes participated, and one failed to return. They shot down two Japanese reconnaissance planes and also neutralized air fields across Makassar straits in the Celebes and in the Halmaheras. Twenty-five Liberators hit the Oelin and Tabanio oil areas southwest near Bandjermasin.

The Japanese apparently had abandoned to its fate a small force in the Pandansari refinery district directly northeast of Balikpapan. The Australians penetrated the defenses there, MacArthur said, and enemy fire slackened as the Aussies hammered away with their potent 25-pounders.

Powerful guns of the U. S. Seventh Fleet added their weight of destruction to the offensive against this pocket of the enemy.

Chinese Menace Former Bases

CHUNGKING, July 5 (AP) — Chinese troops have closed within five to 115 miles of three more former U. S. air bases which were abandoned to the Japanese in 1944, and in the southern tip of China have recaptured Fahsien, highway hub on the approach to enemy-held Hainan island, the Chinese high command announced today.

The new thrusts threatened the enemy grip on former 14th Air force mases at Shaoyang, 235 miles northeast of Liuchow, at Tanchuk, 100 miles southeast of Liuchow, and at Kanhsien, in Kiangsi province 210 miles northeast of Canton, the Chinese said.

Liuchow, site of one of Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault's lost bomber bases, already has been retaken.

Triple-Pronged Attack

A triple-pronged Chinese attack had carried by last Sunday to points five miles west, six northwest, and 9½ southwest of Shaoyang (Paoking), and fighting continues with the Chinese gaining, a Chinese communique declared.

Southeast of Liuchow, Chinese forces on June 23 recaptured Pingham on the west river, the high command said, and fought less than 15 miles from Tanchuk, where a U. S. air base was given up last Sept. 21.

Chinese troops pushing northeast of Liuchow toward Kweilin — site of still another major base from which U. S. planes once harried the Japanese—reached the vicinity of Lojung, about one-fifth of the way between Liuchow and Kweilin, the communique continued.

FEPC Fight Cuts Agencies' Funds

WASHINGTON, July 5. (AP) — Ten home front war agencies were stripped of their 1946 fiscal year funds — including money to meet soon-due payrolls — in a House fight today over the Fair Employment Practices committee.

Blocked by southerners in efforts to obtain funds for FEPC, backers of that agency decided to "force a showdown" by eliminating the money for the other ten agencies. They did this under parliamentary rules which permitted a single member to eliminate any item for which there had not been previous statutory authorization.

Slashed Measure Passed

The result was that the war agencies appropriation bill was slashed from a total of $752,000,000 to $134,000,000. The House then passed the measure by a voice vote and sent it to the Senate.

There was brief but angry debate as all funds for the following agencies were removed:

War Labor board, $13,100,000; Office of Defense Transportation, $7,000,000; Office of Economic Stablization, $196,250; Office of Scientific Research and Development, $70,000,000; Office of Inter-American Affairs, $14,000,000; Office of War Information, $18,000,000; War Production board, $35,000,000; War Shipping administration, $437,000,000; Office of Strategic Services, $20,000,000; Petroleum Administration for War, $3,968,200.

The Senate undoubtedly will restore all or most of the eliminated money, thereby putting the measure back on the legislative merry-go-round on which it has been whirling since June 1.

President Signs New Tariff Bill

WASHINGTON, July 5. (AP) — President Truman took over today the tariff bargaining power which Congress granted on his plea that it was necessary to the "success" of his administration.

He signed into law a three-year extension of the reciprocal trade act, which carries authority to cut tariff 50 per cent below the rates in effect Jan. 1, 1945, in return for concessions from other nations.

Party-Line Fight

Republicans made a party-line fight against the new duty-cutting authorization, though there was little opposition to the actual extension of the trade agreements program itself. The measure went through the House 239 to 153 and the Senate approved 54 to 21.

The old law carried power to cut import taxes as much as 50 per cent below the levels of the Republican Hawley-Smoot tariff act of 1930. Thus, on items on which the original authorization has been fully used, new rates may be 75 per cent below those in the Hawley-Smoot measure.

Return To Wilson Levels

State department officials say that on an average basis the new law will permit a return to the tariff levels of the Underwood act of the Wilson administration. On specific items there may be broad variation from that average.

President Roosevelt recommended the additional tariff cutting power shortly before his death, and during the battle in Congress President Truman advised the legislators it was needed for the success of his administration.

Texas Demo Bigwigs Call On President

WASHINGTON, July 5. (AP) — Two Texas Democratic party officials visited President Truman today.

Big Farben Plants In Germany Seized

HOESCHT, Germany, July 5. (AP)—In a sudden move today the American Army seized complete control of the management, assets and plants of the vast I. G. Farbenindustrie in the United States zone of occupied Germany and set in motion machinery intended to wipe out for all time the German ability to wage war.

Acting under general order No. 2, issued by Lt. Gen. Lucius Clay as deputy military governor, armed American troops marched simultaneously into 24 Farben plants at 6 p.m. and assumed control of properties which had played a great part in building up and maintaining the German war machine.

Morgenthau Quits Treasury Post And Roberts Resigns From Court

By TOM REEDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 5—Henry Morgenthau, jr., secretary of the treasury, and Justice Owen J. Roberts of the Supreme court resigned today.

They told President Truman that they wanted to quit public life and go home. The President accepted the resignations with regret.

Morgenthau, in his letter, said: "When President Franklin D. Roosevelt came to Washington, he asked me to come with him, stating that when he was through, we would go back to Duchess county (N. Y.) together."

Wait On Big Three Meet

Morgenthou said he would leave after Mr. Truman returns from his forthcoming Big Three meeting with Marshal Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill in Berlin.

The President told of the resignations at his news conference, said he had a successor in mind for the Treasury post but wasn't saying anything about it now.

Names mentioned in speculation included Fred M. Vinson, war mobilization director; John W. Snyder, federal loan administrator; Senator George (D-Ga), chairman of the Senate Finance committee; and Walter J. Cummings of Chicago, chairman of the board of the Continental-Illinois National Bank and Trust company.

The President said he hadn't thought of a successor to Justice Roberts, a court "dissenter" and a Republican.

Thurman Arnold Quits

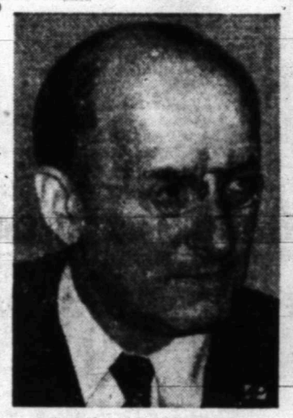

Before the news conference, the President announced another major resignation, that of Judge Thurman Arnold from the United States Court of Appeals, District of Columbia. Arnold, former Justice department "trust-buster," said he wanted to enter private law practice and work for a "truly competitive" economy after the war.

Mr. Truman opened the news conference with a wave of Reichsmarshal Goering's ivory baton, encrusted with gold and diamonds. It was presented to the President by Lieut. Gen. Alexander Patch, commander of the 7th Army, who took Goering into custody.

He quickly jumped into a series of announcements, starting with the appointments of Edward C. Moran, jr., of Maine, as assistant secretary of labor, and Jesse M. Donaldson, a long-term career man in the postmaster general's department; as first assistant to PMG Robert Hannegan.

The jurist's resignation is effective July 31. Roberts served 15

Britons Choose New Government But Results Delayed Three Weeks

LONDON, July 5 (AP) — Great Britain chose a new government today to finish the war with Japan and to lay the foundations for the peace to come, but the result will not be known for three weeks.

The election was orderly and quiet, in sharp contrast to the rancor of one of the bitterest campaigns in decades.

Voters decided whether their immediate future would be shaped by the free enterprise system advocated by Prime Minister Churchill and the Conservatives, or by the Labor party with its announced goal of a "Socialist Commonwealth of Great Britain."

Wait On Service Vote

The ballots will not be counted until July 26, after the service vote is returned from all the battlefronts. The results are expected to be announced about noon that day.

The world watched the election for an indication of whether Europe's postwar political pendulum would swing to the left or the right.

In one of the last speeches of the stormy campaign, Churchill asserted that defeat of his Conservative "caretaker" government would cast many European countries into Communism.

Labor party leader Clement Attlee and other Laborites have demanded the nationalization of coal mining, power, inland transport and the iron and steel industries of Britain.

Churchill Unable To Vote

Churchill himself, like thousands of others, was unable to vote because his name was left off the register. The mixup and confusion resulted from enemy bombing and the shifting of wartime populations.

Mrs. Churchill, however, cast her ballot, and the waiting crowd outside shouted "good luck Winnie" when she appeared.

The British Press association said between 70 and 80 per cent of the registered electors were estimated to have cast ballots. On the basis of 30,000,000 eligible voters this would mean a total vote of between 21 and 24 million.

State Warns Anew Over Polio Increase

AUSTIN, July 5. (AP)—Fifty-four additional cases of infantile paralysis in Texas in the week ended June 30 increased the total for the year to 291, the state health department announced today.

In all of 1944 there were 238 cases in Texas.

In the epidemic year of 1943 a total of 1,274 cases was reported.

Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, pointed out the necessity for statewide precaution because the unclean community can threaten the sanitary one.

These practices, he emphasized, should extend also to summer camps and similar communities. He said none of those patronized by children have been quarantined or closed and that no closings were contemplated unless they become necessary.

"If we find a camp that is unsanitary we will advise it to clean up or close up," he said, "because under state law we cannot compel it to close.

"We have asked none to close and hope that we shall not have to."

Submarine Trigger Announced As Lost

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP) — The submarine Trigger, holder of the presidential unit citation for an "exceptionally notable record of severe damage inflicted on hostile shipping," is overdue and presumed lost.

Holiday Deaths In Nation Reach 159

(By The Associated Press)

A tabulation of violent deaths over the Fourth of July, showed yesterday that 159 persons died in the one-day holiday that saw most workers celebrating by remaining at their machines. The survey by the Associated Press indicated it was one of the safest since 1929, a Thursday, when 159 lost their lives.

Of the 1945 total, 59 died in traffic accidents, 54 by drowning, 46 by miscelloneous causes, but none by firewords. These figures compared to a 1944 holiday toll of 439 for the three-day weekend and 298 for a one day period in 1943.

In 1934, the last time the holiday came on a Wednesday, the toll was 177.

This year Ohio led the country, reporting 16 deaths.

Scattered Localities On Plains Get Rain

Heavy rains hit scattered localities of the South Plains Thursday night, while in Lubbock nothing more than a sprinkle had fallen at midnight.

A report said that Levelland received two inches at the rate of an inch an hour. Littlefield reported a severe sandstorm and a light rain. Big rains fell in Morton. A light rain fell at Plainview. "No rain" was reported from Brownfield.

The temperature in Lubbock took a 10-degree drop from 76 degrees at 11 o'clock to 66 at midnight.

The forecast today called for scattered thundershowers.

Last-Minute Appeal Made In Bond Drive

HAVE you bought your extra bond in the Seventh War Loan drive?

That was the question the Lubbock County War Finance committee requested Thursday to be propounded to the public at large in Lubbock county.

The committee issued a last-minute appeal for more purchases of E bonds Thursday after a check-up of sales showed the county still more than 15 per cent short of its $1,700,000 E bond quota for the drive which officially ends Saturday.

E. K. Hufstedler, jr., city drive chairman, and Clarence A. Bestwick, chairman of the drive's executive committee, coincided in their appeals for more E bond purchases.

"We've got to make our quota," they said, "it would never do for Lubbock county to fall behind in the drive now that we've come so near to reaching the top."

They made their joint appeal after Chas. M. Smith, Plainview banker and regional chairman of the Texas War Finance committee, had telephoned an appeal for the purchase of more E bonds here.

'I feel that the two major counties in our region, Potter and Lubbock, should lead the way in purchases of E bonds," Smith said.

An example of quota-making was cited by Bestwick and Hufstedler in the report from Lubbock Army Air field, where the military and personnel there had exceeded their $180,000 E bond quota in the drive, registering $267,000 in sales through July 4.

The county's over-all quota has already been exceeded as has been the case all over the state and nation, but E bonds are still lagging here as in the Texas drive.

Gen. Spaatz To Boss Air War In Pacific

WASHINGTON, July 5. (AP) — The man who directed the smashing of Germany from the air today was assigned to do the same thing to Japan.

The War department announced an expansion of the air command set-up in the Pacific, placing Gen. Carl A. Spaatz in charge of the B-29c now levelling Nippon's cities and softening the enemy home islands for invasion.

The red-haired Spaatz, now in Washington for conferences, will be commander of the U. S. Army Strategic Air force in the Pacific.

It is the same type of job he had in the Mediterranean theater, in Great Britain and in Europe.

Spaatz' headquarters for the stepped-up bombing of Japan was not designated. His set-up will be this:

He will be in charge of the 20th and the 8th Air forces, equipped with B-29s, with of course their own fighter cover.

Under Spaatz as deputy will be Lieut. Gen. Barney Giles.

The 20th will be under Maj. Gen. Curtis E. Lemay.

The 8th will be under Lieut. Gen. James A. Doolittle, whose medium bombers electrified America when they hit Tokyo early in the war.

Over the whole show will be General of the Army H. H. Arnold, as commander in chief of the entire U. S. Army Air corps. Arnold, who up to now has personally commanded the 20th, will be the executive liaison with the joint Army-Navy chiefs of staff.

The 20th is the original Superfortress air force, set up specially for the job when the B-29 was put into operation. Headquarters, now in Washington, will be moved to the Pacific theater.

Redeploying Vets Protest 'Filthy And Vermin-Ridden' Train Coaches

By LLOYD LAPHAM
United Press Staff Writer

CAMP BEALE, Cal., July 5.—Eight hundred veterans of the European and North African campaigns today prepared for pre-Pacific furloughs after trips across the continent in two commuter-type trains they said were filthy and infested with vermin.

Meanwhile, Army officials here and in Washington began an investigation of the trips and of reports that eastbound German war prisoners had passed one of the trains in Pullmans.

Described By DePaolo

Conditions on an eight-car train which brought 500 soldiers here from Ft. Miles Standish, Mass., were described yesterday by Lt. Col. Peter DePaolo, former auto racing driver.

A second train reached Camp Beale from Charleston, S. C., a few hours later with 300 officers and men of the 15th Air force aboard. DePaolo's description of the assertedly grimy, vermin-ridden rail equipment "sounds exactly like our train," members of the 15th Air force contingent declared.

"Soot a half inch thick" covered the men after near-sleepless nights in the overcrowded day coaches, Lt. Ray K. Delahunt, a P-38 pilot from Los Angeles said.

Two Jump Train

Delahunt and another Lightning pilot, Lt. Thomas K. Follis, Glendale, Cal., got so fed up with the uncomfortable trip they "jumped" the train in Kansas City, they said.

"When we left Charleston in day coaches," Delahunt said, "we were promised Pullman accommodations at the first division point. We never got them.

"We were crowded three men to a seat so that at night one of the three had to sleep in the aisle while the other two tried to stretch out on the seats."

DePaolo, who was senior officer aboard the first train, said the size of his group called for 17 Pullman sleepers. Instead, they got eight commuter coaches in which insect life scurried in and out of cracks in the seats, he declared.

The train's plumbing was so clogged, DePaolo said, he feared an outbreak of disease.

At Omaha the men saw strings of empty Pullmans deadheading east, DePaola asserted, and wondered why the sleepers weren't assigned to them.

Rumors swept the train that German prisoners of war had been seen riding Pullmans. But Brig. Gen. Oscar Abbott, Camp Beale commander, said he had interviewed 200 men from the train and that none had actually seen any German war prisoners.

Institution For Negro Delinquents Located

AUSTIN, July 5. (U.P.)—Agreement has been reached on location of a new state institution for delinquent negro girls as authorized by an act of the last legislature, Chairman Weaver Baker of the state board of control said today.

Baker declined to say specifically where the institution would be until all legal transactions have been completed. He hoped that construction of buildings could begin shortly after Sept. 1 when the $150,000 appropriation made by the legislature will be available.

In addition the legislature appropriated $60,000 to operate the institution for two years in housing about 125 negro girls.

Maj. C. A. Slingerland Is Reported As Dead

Maj. Chester A. Slingerland, 28, P-47 Thunderbolt pilot with the Ninth air force, was killed March 23, when he was shot down over Germany, according to a War department message received in Stamford this week by his wife, the former Halcyon Stagner, who was a Lubbock resident at the time of their marriage in Stamford in 1942.

The officer was a graduate of Class 42-E at Lubbock Army Air field and was stationed there as a flight commander and instrument training supervisor from May 1942 until March 1944. He had been overseas 10 months and wore the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with seven Oak Leaf clusters. Soon after he was promoted to captain in France, the officer was named squadron commander of a P-38 Lightning fighter group. He was credited with destroying three Nazi JU 52s on the ground while taking part in a sweep over Dijon, France. The four ships he had piloted all were named "Hurrying Home to Halcyon."

Harry Hopkins Takes Garment Field Post

NEW YORK, July 5. (AP)—David Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' union, said today that Harry L. Hopkins, former special presidential adviser, had accepted the post of impartial chairman of the New York Women's Coat and Suit industry.

Dubinsky said Hopkins was expected to assume the post after a rest of several weeks.

Hopkins succeeds former New York Mayor James J. Walker, who was named to the post in 1940 and occupied it until June 30, 1945. It was reported at union offices that Hopkins' salary would be "in the neighborhood" of $25,000 a year.

Dubinsky said in a statement that as impartial chairman, Hopkins would preside over collective agreements covering 50,000 employes and 1,300 employers with an annual production output valued at $500,000,000. Dubinsky said the production comprised 80 per cent of the coat and suit output for the nation.

Atlantic Routes Are Given To Air Lines

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics board today authorized three United States air carriers to operate air transportation routes across the North Atlantic.

They are Pan-American Airways, Inc., American Export Air Lines, Inc., and Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc.

Simultaneously the board issued a decision approving the acquisition of American export air lines by American Air Lines, Inc.

Pan American airways is the only United States air carrier which has heretofore had permanent authorization from the CAB for flying service across the North Atlantic.

Rites Set For Shock Victim

Funeral services for Travis H. Hazelwood, 47, lineman for Southwestern Public Service company who died Thursday of electrical shock, probably will be held at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at Asbury Methodist church, Rix Funeral home announced.

Friends said Hazelwood was to have been installed last night as president of the Brotherhood of Electrical workers.

Pallbearers, all company employes, will be Mason Smith, Everett Patterson, Jack Wadley, W. S. Pool, J. C. Brown and Earl Bloodworth.

Hazelwood, a resident of Lubbock four years, succumbed at 12:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon in West Texas hospital, two hours after he came in contact with 2300 volts of electricity. The accident occurred on the Thirty-eighth street power line a block east of Tahoka highway.

He lived at 1912 Twentieth.

He is survived by his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Othan White, Dallas, Mrs. Jack Day, Washington, D. C.; four brothers, including D. W. Hazelwood of Lubbock; four sisters and one grandchild.

A longtime friend, Rev. Hoyt Boles of Dallas, will officiate at his funeral, assisted by Dr. C. A. Bickley, Asbury pastor.

Hubert L. Allen, district manager of the company, said this was what apparently happened:

The towering frame of a utility truck inadvertently backed against the power line when workmen prepared to set a large pole in a deep hole. Hazelwood was holding the cable mounted on a pulley in the top of the frame. The current coursed through his body when contact was made.

Youth Tells Of Mishap

A witness was 11-year-old Joe Cox, son of Mr. and Mrs O. R. Cox, who live near the accident scene. He related that Hazelwood, holding the cable, suddenly sobbed out "Oh" a couple of times and that a man jumped out of the truck, put on rubber gloves and pulled Hazelwood away from the cable. The man in the truck was Jim Brown, who applied artificial respiration.

Brown was joined by other company employes in giving artificial respiration in relays until firemen could arrive with an inhalator.

Evidently none of Hazelwood's co-workers saw the mishap.

The accident probably happened about 10:20 o'clock. A Rix ambulance left with Hazelwood for the hospital at 11 o'clock.

He had been an employe of the company the last 19 years and was manager of the company's ice plant at Tulia before coming to Lubbock.

Jap Suiciders Swarm In, But Crew Of Gallant Destroyer Saves Ship

WASHINGTON, July 5. (AP) — The Navy told today how the Destroyer Newcomb survived hits by four Japanese suicide planes which "literally disemboweled" the ship and caused 91 casualties.

"Superhuman firefighting" was credited with saving the vessel, and the report said high tribute to Newcomb gunners who shot down three other kamikazes.

The seventh suicider made a double strike, skidding across the Newcomb into the stern of the Destroyer Leutze which had come to the stricken ship's aid. The Leutze counted 84 casualties—a toal of 175 for the two warships.

Long, Tough Fight

The 2,100-ton Newcomb, veteran of Pacific campaigning, fought the kamikaze pilots for two terrific hours April 6 near Ie Shima in the Ryukyus off southern Japan and "is afloat today because her heroic crew, many with hair aflame and clothes burned off, refused to give her up even when all power and communication was lost and more than half of the ship was enveloped in flames," the Navy said.

The Newcomb, which had outfought suicide pilots at Mindoro, Lingayen gulf and Okinawa, was supporting heavy units of the fleet when at 4 p.m. a very large formation of enemy planes was reported. American fighters intercepted the flight but some slipped through.

The gunnery officer, Lt. (j.g.) H. B. M. Harris-Warren, Coronado, Calif., counted 40 enemy planes at one time, in the water.

First One Downed

At 4:25 p.m., the first enemy dived at the Newcomb whose gunners sent it crashing 20 feet away without damage to the ship.

Almost immediately the second suicider started his run. As the ship's guns scored hits, the commanding officer, Comdr. Ira E. McMillian, Fort Worth, Tex., gave orders at the last minute for a sharp turn. The plane crashed in the Newcomb's wake.

The third Japanese tried a low level attack and landed. Flying through a curtain of steel, he caromed off a gun mount into the afterstack. Gasoline, steam from a boiler, metal from the superstructure and the plane mingled with the resulting fire to make the amidship section an inferno.

Fourth Downed

Then came suicider No. 4, anxious for an easy kill. The Newcomb was ready and one of the first salvos sent him splashing.

Kamikazers Nos. 5 and 6 started simultaneously. With a partial loss of power, McMillian tried to change course fast. One plane struck another body blow, amidships. A terrific explosion indicated the plane's bombload had let go.

Ships in the vicinity watched in amazement as from the scene of destruction gunners hurled steel with accuracy at the sixth suicider.

In spite of heavy seas and the danger of a blast from the Newcomb's magazines, Lt. Leon Grabowsky, Paterson, N. J., commanding officer of the Leutze, maneuvered the Leutze into rescue positions.

The head forced about 100 men on the Newcomb's fantail to hit the water. Forward, firefighters and recuers thought the stern of the ship was gone because of the flaming curtain between.

Then Comes No. 7

This was the scene as kamikazer No. 7 essayed to crash dive both ships. Both destroyers met him with steel, the Leutze firing across the Newcomb which was forced to fire and train manually.

"With Lt. Harris-Warren shouting ranges and bearings, and with Theodore H. Agidius, gunner's mate 1/c, The Dalles, Ore., and Paul H. Edwardson, jr., boatswain's mate 1/c, Allston, Mass., gun captains of the forward five-inch guns, loading and directing their crews, the Newcomb again pulled the near-impossible," the Navy said.

The suicider, hit in the wing, skidded across the Newcomb's deck and rammed the stern of the Leutze. The hardhit rescue ship began to drift away as her crew fought her own fires and aided wounded. Lines were cast off and another destroyer quickly came alongside the Newcomb.

Fires Soon Are Out

Within 30 minutes the Newcomb's fires were out and soon she was in tow for a repair base.

The Leutze was having a struggle. Lt. (j.g.) John G. Grelis, Philadelphia, was credited by Grabowsky with saving the ship. Grelis took charge of repair and damage control parties after he recovered from being blown across the fantail into lifelines. He descended into four and a half feet of oil and water; directing pumping and shoring of the holes punched in the ship. The Leutze also reached a base for repairs.

The Newcomb lost 17 enlisted men killed, 20 missing in action, seven officers and 47 enlisted men wounded. The Leutze lost two enlisted men killed, 14 missing, one officer and 67 enlisted men wounded.

Individual Heroism

The Navy told many stories of individual heroism aboard the Newcomb in the engagement. Here is part of its account:

Jesse C. Fitzgerald, signalman, 1/c, route 3, box 48, Mesquite, Texas, risked his life to go to the aid of Clarence A. Overholtzer, fireman 1/c, and ship's photographer, of Stevensville, Mont., who was seriously wounded and lying on a searchlight platform. Despite raging fires and another plane crash, Fitzgerald dragged Overholtzer to safety. The photographer would have been killed by a later plane.

Francis Bernhart, chief gunner's mate, Long Beach, Calif., saved Charles R. Keely, chief machinist's mate, Pittsburgh, Pa., who was badly burned and helpless in the water. Bernhart, who had been blown over the side, was assisted by Lawrence A. Di Emidio, shipfitter, 3/c, Chester, Pa.

Another man who had been commended for outstanding leadership and resourcefulness under fire is Lt. (j.g.) R. H. Steele, Seattle, Wash.

June Discharges Are Ahead Of Schedule

WASHINGTON, July 5. (U.P.)—Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson declared today that redeployment is "on schedule in all respects and in some we are ahead of schedule."

He added, however, that it is "important to emphasize" that it will take until June 1, 1946, to complete the process of returning to this country and discharging all the men and women who can be spared from the Army.

In the six weeks from May 20 through June 30 a total of 340,000 soldiers arrived in the United States from Europe and Atlantic bases—258,000 by ship and 82,000 by plane.

Patterson said that 155,000 troops were discharged in June, 100,000 under the point system. There were about 20,000 discharges for age. Most of the others were for medical reasons. By comparison, the original schedule called for only 70,000 discharges.

Since the point system went into effect, 200,000 officers, soldiers and WACs have been released from the Army.

MacArthur Speeds To Curtin Funeral

CANBERRA, July 5. (U.P.)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur was hurrying here today for the special state funeral to be held tomorrow for Australian Premier John Curtin.

Curtin died from heart disease at 4 a. m. yesterday at Canberra lodge, his official residence. He died in his sleep.

MacArthur immediately sent the Duke of Gloucester word he would speed here by plane from the South Pacific battle areas. The duke, in a message to Curtin's wife, called his death 'a shattering blow to Australia."

After the service here, Curtin's body will be flown 2,000 miles across Australia to be buried at the little Karrakatta cemetery, at Claremont, in west Australia, from where he first went to Parliament in 1928. He was 60 years old when he died.

Acting Prime Minister Francis M. Forde will continue to run the government until the Labor party elects a new leader.

He said the bomb, which included six shotgun shells and a quantity of powder, was delivered Monday but failed to explode when it was opened in the presence of two persons at the home of the addressee.

U. S. Casualties Reach 1,036,937

WASHINGTON, July 5 (U.P.) — Announced U. S. combat casualties in this war reached 1,036,937 today, an increase of 6,258 in the past week.

The total includes 239,533 killed. The Army listed 911,397 of the overall figure, with Navy, Marine corps and Coast Guard casualties totalling 125,540.

Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson, announcing the Army figures to a press conference, also revealed that Japanese casualties in Okinawa and other Ryukyus islands to June 28 were estimated at 118,000. He said they included 107,046 killed and 10,578 prisoners. American ground casualties in the same islands to June 27 totalled 8,252 killed, 34,165 wounded and 1,781 missing.

"A significant indication of mopping up operations in an area far behind the present theater of war," Patterson added, "comes in a report that 318 Japanese have been captured during the first six months of this year and 1,500 natives evacuated from the Marshall islands.

"During June, 54 Japanese were killed and 145 were captured on Saipan."

Sgt. Andy B. Davis Of Morton Has One Of Army's Most Unusual Occupations—Farmer

U. S. ARMY 178TH GENERAL HOSPITAL, France—Sgt. Andy B. Davis of Morton, Tex., holds one of the Army's most unusual occupations—that of farmer.

The sergeant, assigned to the 178th General hospital in Reims, France, as a surgical technician, is serving at present as foreman of a 23-acre farm operated by the hospital to grow fresh vegetables for convalescent soldiers.

Operated Farm In Texas

Sgt. Davis, who operated a 320-acre farm in Texas before entering the Army in March, 1941, takes charge of all details of planting and harvesting for the hospital farm and supervises the work of 30 German prisoners of war.

The farm is one of many in the Army's Oise Intermediate section in France to help provide American soldiers with vegetables not otherwise available and to reduce purchases from the French who are faced with a food shortage.

Has Five Brothers In Service

The Morton soldier arrived overseas last fall for duty in the hospital surgery room until last March when he was put on special duty on the farm project.

Sgt. Davis has five brothers in the armed forces: Pfc. Orville W. Davis, now in France with the signal corps after serving in Africa and Italy; Sgt. Richard L. Davis, with a signal battalion in France; Capt. G. A. Davis, jr., on duty in the Philippines with a fighter squadron; ARM 3/3 James E. Davis, with the Navy in the Pacific; and S 1/c Calvin W. Davis, also in the Pacific.

The sergeant's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Davis, sr., live at Star Route, Morton, and his wife, Mrs. Mearl Davis, lives at 505 Ave. R, Lubbock.

Railroads Suffering Shortage Of Workers

AUSTIN, July 5. (U.P.)—Vital transportation of troops and supplies for the battle against Japan is endangered by the most acute shortage of railroad workers since beginning of the war, C. E. Belk, state War Manpower commission director, said today.

Belk said the WMC, Railroad Retirement board and Office of Defense Transportation, are cooperating in a joint recruitment campaign. Texas, Louisiana and New Mexico have a recruitment quota of 5,727 railroad workers, including about 1,500 skilled workers.

Initial recruitment activity in Texas will begin in those places in which both WMC and the Railroad Retirement board maintain offices, Belk said.

There are 70,000 dentists in the U. S. A., of whom 22,000 are in the armed services.

Telephone Waiting List Remains 1,500

The waiting list for telephones still numbers 1,500 at the Southwestern Bell Telephone company, but indications now point toward relief of the situation by the latter part of this year, C. M. Cale, manager, said Thursday.

Release of materials recently allowed the company to fill orders for approximately 30 telephones which were applied for in February of 1944. These applications were filled for persons who can't qualify under priority regulations for the instruments.

Cale said the company expected an increased allotment of phones for Lubbock within the next few months so that back-orders could be filled.

Controls Eased On Furniture And Cars

WASHINGTON, July 5. (AP) — The War Production board today liberalized controls on furniture manufacture and eliminated those on production and distribution of auto maintenance equipment.

The action on furniture removes restrictions on use of all metals except steel, but retains controls on wood.

CLEVER HEADLINE

LIKELY you noticed the stories this week that Tokyo radio is saying three American aircraft piloted by women have been shot down over Kweilin, China, adding that "a shortage of American air crews is so acute women are now being employed on operational duties."

The copy editor on the Amarillo Globe made the most of the story by headlining it this way: "Don't Shoot, Little Brown Brother, The Pilot May Be Somebody's Mother."

• • •

IN THE MAIL

Will someone who has put up gherkin cucumber pickles please tell me how to put up sweet gherkins, sweet pickles and cucumber pickles?

SAVING SUGAR

HOUSEWIVES may have to get along with less sugar for canning this fall, due to shortage of sugar crop, lack of shipping space for imports and the havoc played by the war with some of the principal sugar producing areas.

However, our mothers can tell us of times when fruit was canned without sugar; later in the winter being converted to jellies, preserves or served with sugar. In other words, it is possible to can fruit without the use of sugar if it is use that method or none at all.

One woman in Idaho wrote to her congressman, Representative White of Idaho, this week, proposing that "ration stamps be good for sugar or beer." She was under the impression that a great deal of rationed sugar is used in the production of beer and thought she had found a way to make what is available go a great deal further.

POSTWAR HOMES

MANY a housewife, scrubbing out corners with soap that won't measure up to its claim, dreams of postwar days when round features will save space and labor. Crevice-cleaning also will be eliminated because floors at the walls will be curved slightly.

The average size room, 35 feet in diameter, will have 50 per cent more floor space than that of the ordinary $4,000 house. Certain walls will be movable so that rooms can be enlarged when necessary.

Closets, cupboards, bureaus and bookcases will be built into wall panels and outside painting never will be necessary as aluminum walls and roof will be premanently colored when rolled at the factory. Mass production will lower the price so that the average wage-earner will be able to afford one.

Reconquest Of Philippines Paves Way For Earlier Defeat Of Japs

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press News Analyst

General MacArthur's Fourth of July declaration that the whole Philippine archipelago has been freed of the Japanese except for a few thousand scattered guerrillas in remote mountain sectors if anything understates the strategic results flowing from that victory for American and Filipino arms.

It was more than "the greatest disaster" in war Japan has ever suffered as the MacArthur review of the campaign said. It has paved the way for earlier total defeat of Japan more than possibly could have been foreseen when the critical decision to strike into the Philippines with the limited forces then available was reached at the Pearl Harbor conference between President Roosevelt and American Army-Navy high commanders in the Pacific.

Single-Handed Fight

There has been much to indicate that at that meeting MacArthur almost single-handed fought hard for his own strategic conception against opposing views of some of the high ranking Navy personnel present. What the alternative may have been is not so clear but the achievement of the major objectives of the campaign to regain the Philippines as MacArthur cited has utterly changed the face of the war since then.

That battle has cost the foe a minimum of half a million known casualties, and a probable maximum of twice that figure. It has cost him, too, the bulk of his once powerful Navy plus staggering air losses that have laid Japan itself open to virtually unopposed American strategic bombing and ultimate invasion.

Burglars, Prowlers Keep Police Busy

One burglary and an attempted burglary were reported to police Thursday.

A prowler removed a panel from the rear door of R and R Parks and Supply Co., 706 Main, entered and took $8 to $9 in change from the cash register. The intruder replaced the panel before leaving.

Someone attempted to break into Kligman's second hand store at 1215 Ave. H, police were told.

Two instances of car prowling were reported. Howard Wheelock, of 1912 Fifteenth, said a rifle, personal papers and a half carton of cigarettes were taken from his automobile parked at the home address. A prowler got a carton of cigarets, sunglasses and a deck of cards from the automobile of Floyd King, 1714 Ave. K.

years on the high court, an appointee of Herbert Hoover. He retires on full pay of $20,000 since he recently passed the age of 70.

His resignation leaves chief Justice Harlan F. Stone as the only judge on the Supreme court whose service pre-dates the administration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The rapid fire question period developed that:

Mr. Truman has given his permission to Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia of New York to visit France but not as an agent of the government. He will not be in uniform.

It is the President's understanding that the Bretton Woods world banking plan will be passed by the Senate before the San Francisco charter is taken up.

The Big Three meeting will be in about three weeks.

There is nothing to be said about a report that Morgenthau will be appointed to a major post in the Bretton Woods world bank organization.

The President is not expecting to accept the resignation of Interior Secretary Harold L. Ickes, a question asked so often it has become routine.

Compensation Claims Increase During June

AUSTIN, July 5. (AP)—Claims for unemployment compensation benefits in Texas jumped suddenly in June, reflecting accelerated cutbacks in war industries, the Uiemployment Compensation commission announced today.

The number of claims in June totaled 2,223 compared with 889 in May, mostly from Northwest Texas. This reflected cutbacks in aircraft production, TUCC officials said. From Gulf Coast industrial areas, there was relatively no change because of the continued heavy employment in shipbuilding.

The average number of claims during the first five months of this year has been 850 per month.

Children Killed In Nazi Station

By A. I. GOLDBERG
Associated Press Staff Writer

MUNICH, July 5 — A Nazi "scientific starvation" station, whose grisly experiments on children and adults were claiming victims until only a few days ago, has been uncovered in Bavaria by two public health officials of the American military government.

AMG authorities announced last night that four German doctors and three hospital attendants had been arrested at the station in the Kaufbeuren area, 45 miles southeast of Munich. One woman nurse confessed killing 211 children, for which she drew an extra bonus, the statement said.

Dead Cremated

The station, masked under the title of a public sanatorium, was one of a series of systematic starvation and drug experiment laboratories scattered throughout Bavaria and Austria, the authorities said. Those who died were cremated.

Maj. Marvin Linick of New York city and Capt. Loyal Murphy of Memphis, Tenn., who found the Kaufbeuren station, reported that it housed 1,578 men, women and children on June 30, and a branch at nearby Irsee had another 468—all in various stages of malnutrition. Among the children found alive were a 10-year-old boy weighing less than 23 pounds.

The AMG's statement said the nurse confessed to having poisoned or killed by intramuscular injection at least 211 minors for which she drew a monthly bonus of 35 reichsmarks, about eight dollars at the old U. S. exchange rate, or $3.50 at the present U. S. military exchange.

Linick and Murphy said they found in an uncooled morgue the bodies of men and women who had died from 12 hours to three days earlier as a result of the "experiments." Each body weighed only 58 to 66 pounds.

The men said the extermination program included injection of chemicals to produce direct starvation, intended to kill either within three months or to take six months or longer.

German POW Said Not In Pullman Coaches

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson said today the story that German prisoners of war rode pullmans while returned American veterans were jammed into day coaches is only half true.

Patterson confirmed that 500 veterans had poor accommodations for a trip from Boston to San Francisco but their complaint that they saw German prisoners in pullman coaches "is not true," Patterson told a news conference.

"The War department has foreseen and has called to the attention of the railroads and the Office of Defense Transportation their insistance that on long trips suitable accommodations be provided. They have promised relief but it has not yet been forthcoming."

Amarillo Man Dies In Jap Prison Camp

Before entering service, Capt. Lumpkin practiced medicine in Amarillo. His wife, Mrs. Jean Lumpkin, lives in Dallas.

Ross was questioned after the woman's body was found near a railroad boxcar near the waterfront today. He first said four Navy sailors had overpowered him and attacked his wife.

FARMERS TO BENEFIT from new telephone developments

The telephone company is preparing a wide-range program to extend and improve farm telephone service. The goal is to bring telephone service to the greatest possible number of farm families.

Before the war, new devices and methods to serve rural areas were being tested and developed. Among them are stronger wire that takes fewer poles, a new type of wire to bury underground, a way to send telephone conversations over electric power lines, and possibly a radiotelephone system to reach outlying regions.

Just as soon as the war permits, we'll be hard at work on the farm job. It's not a new job—nearly 400,000 farm families have had telephones put in since 1940. But there's room for many more, and room for improvement. We're exploring every means of making farm telephone service better and easier to get.

Navy Seizes Goodyear Plant And Strikers Due Back On Jobs Today

AKRON, O., July 5 (AP) — The 20-day strike at Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. ended today with Navy seizure of five sprawling plants under presidential edict and an ultimatum to 16,700 CIO-United Rubber Workers to be back on the production lines tomorrow.

Capt. H. K. Clark, USNR, assumed control of the strike-bound concern shortly after noon, pickets cheering as he and his staff walked through the main gate to the office of Goodyear President Edward J. Thomas, where the Truman order was read.

Thomas, shaking hands with Captain Clark, assured him:

"We will cooperate 100 per cent."

And a few minutes later, after seizure had been placed at all placards announcing government gates, C. V. Wheeler, local president of the Goodyear union, sent this message to the strikers:

"Under the circumstances, and because of the necessity of continued war production, we are happy to work under government supervision pending settlement of disputes with the company. The officers of your local union hereby advise you to return to work immediately."

During the stoppage, which Goodyear officials said cost the war effort some 320,000 plane and truck tires, the strikers had seven times spurned back-to-work orders issued by the WLB, had asked President Truman not to seize the plant, and had demanded a Senate committee investigation of the merits of the strike.

But President Truman, finding the war effort would "be unduly impeded or delayed" by production interruptions, ordered the seizure.

At the neighboring Firestone Tire and Rubber plant, where 16,500 CIO-United Rubber Workers have been on strike since Sunday, local President Isaac H. (Ike) Watson of the union said:

"We are not going back to work on the conditions under which we went out."

Company officials estimated the Firestone strike has caused loss of 15,000 tires and tubes daily, and Army-Navy spokesmen said complete Corsair and Avenger planes are unable to leave for the Pacific because of lack of tires, brake materials and self-sealing gas tanks, and next week completed Helldivers will be tied up for the same reason.

The Goodyear strike started June 16 when the company and union failed to get together on 32 disputed wage, hour and working condition points. The Firestone strike also resulted from contract negotiation failure.

Educators To Visit Texas Army Camps

DALLAS, July 5. (U.P.)—Educators of Texas will visit three Army camps in July so that they may help their students who are to join the services soon, it was learned today from the Eighth Service command.

Through these visits at Fort Bliss, July 11-12, Camp Fannin July 18-19 and Fort Sam Houston July 25-26 it is hoped that the group will become better acquainted with the Army and its functions. Then they may pass on their knowledge to the pupils before they are inducted.

New Mexico educators also will attend the Fort Bliss meetings.

The visits are sponsored by the Texas state department of public instruction.

15 Million Busy In Cotton Industry

DALLAS, July 5. (U.P.)—The job of providing cotton goods to Allied armies and to U. S. civilians during the last year has taken the full or part-time services of 15,000,000 Americans, the National Cotton council said today.

Nearly two-thirds of the total were engaged in the production of raw material on farms, and about 70 per cent of their combined output of fabric and seed products was issued under priorities for military or essential war uses, the council said.

The largest group of cotton dependents not employed directly by the industry were the 3,000,000 individuals involved in the wholesale and retail distribution of cotton goods.

The council said 9,243,000 persons are engaged in cotton farming.

Iron ore deposits have been discovered recently in Laborador and northern Quebec.

Concert Series To End Tonight

College concert and intermediate bands, composed of students of the summer band school at Texas Tech, will present the final in a series of concerts at 8:30 o'clock tonight on the lawn east of the textile engineering building.

Prof. D. O. Wiley, director of the Tech band and head of the band school, will direct the concert band, assisted by R. A. Dhossche, director of the San Antonio High school band, concert band guest conductor.

Five intermediate students, Jimmie Aldredge, Lamesa; Corky Harris, Crane; Bryan Duff, Cleburne; Dona Miller, Crane; and Edgar Newman, Odessa, will direct numbers to be played by the intermediate band. They are "March — Easterner" (Richards); "Overture — Sandra" (Holmes); "Russian Dance" (Tchaikowsky); "Selection — Victory" (Yoder); and "March—Ivercargill" (Lithgow).

The college concert band will play "March of the Steel Men" (Belsterling); "Overture — Transcendence" (Frangkiser); "Concert Waltz—The Beautiful Blue Danube" (Strauss); "Overture—Orpheus" (Offenbach); "March—The Spirit of Texas Tech" (V. A. Hartman—arranged by Herbert Lindsey); "The Prima Donna" (Morton Gould); 'Mexican Hat Dance Fantasy"; "March — Adoration" (H. J. Woods).

A trombone quartet composed of Don Vaughn, Odessa; V. A. Hartman, Post; Ruthelle Duke, Lamesa; and Paul Elliott, Vernon, will play 'Two Pair of Slippers" (Putnam).

Prof. Wiley said this had been the most successful band school conducted since 1941, with large crowds attending all public concerts. More than 2,000 persons were present for the July 4th concert presented at Mackenzie state park.

Serve Sweet Ring At Party, Bridge Or To Your Family

SATISFY your family's sweet tooth with "dressed up" biscuit dough—decked out in its richest form to add special satisfaction to a fine meal.

Without sugar you can make a biscuit sweet ring that's not only perfect for party luncheons but also just right for teas, bridge refreshments and to accompany or follow up your company dinner. A sweet ring can be filled with any of your favorite thick marmalades or preserves or with mixtures or dried fruits, such as dates or apricots, cooked with a little corn syrup and water to form a thick mixture. This way you'll have a biscuit sweet without a bit of wear and tear on your sugar supply!

Here are directions for a Sweet Ring and Cherry Cobbler:

SWEET RING
2 cups flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1-2 teaspoon salt
6 tablespoons shortening
2/3 cup milk
2 cups chopped dates
1/2 cup chopped pecans or other nuts
1/4 cup corn syrup
1/4 cup water

Sift flour once, measure, then sift with baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening with knives or pastry blender until coarse, crumbly mixture resembling cornmeal is formed. Add milk, stirring gently and quickly to moisten dough to sticky consistency and until it leaves sides of bowl. Place on lightly floured pastry cloth or bread board. Knead gently 1/2 minute. Roll out to 1/4 inch tickness. Spread with melted butter or margarine and chilled mixture of the chopped dates, karo, water and nuts cooked until thick paste is former (10-15 minutes). Roll up like jelly roll. Lift entire roll onto ungreased baking sheet and moisten edges with milk so they will stick together, forming a ring. Using sharp knife, lightly floured, cut the dough at 1 inch intervals around the ring. Lift each slice slightly onto the side with a spatula. Bake in 425° F. oven until browned and cooked through—about 15 minutes.

Another delicious filling: 1-1/2 cups thick apricote preserves mixed with 1/2 cup chopped nuts.

To make Pinwheels: Roll the spread dough up like jelly roll. Cut 1-1/2 inch pieces and bake cut side down in greased muffin tins.

CHERRY COBBLER

Filling:
1-1/2 cups canned cherries and juice
1/3 cup sugar
1-1/2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine

Crust:
2 cups flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup sugar
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
4 tablespoons shortening
1/2 cup milk

Mix sugar with cornstarch and add to cold fruit juice. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until thickened. Add lemon juice, melted fat and fruit. Pour into baking dish and top with crust made as follows: Sift flour once, measure, then sift with baking powder, sugar and salt. Cut in the two fats until crumbly mixture is formed. Add milk, stirring quickly. Spread over fruit. Bake in 425° F. oven 12-15 minutes or until browned. Serve plain or with fresh cream or milk. 5-6 servings.

America's hospital fleet consisted of only two ships, the Relief and the Solace, at the time of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

Buses are overburdened as never before. A crisis is near. With more men, tires and gas going to war, present service can barely be maintained. Each day brings greater loads. When you must travel locally, let this be your creed:

1. Do Not Ride in Rush Hours, except to and from your job.
2. Have Exact Fare Ready, saves time and fuss.
3. Move Back When Driver Asks, speeds your ride.

This simple creed will work wonders.

Yanks Start Rehabilitation Of Okinawans On War-Ravaged Island

By AL DOPKING
Associated Press Staff Writer

OKINAWA.—The rehabilitation of 250,000 Okinawans is starting from "Potato Square" in one war-wrecked village and from dozens of similar community pooling places throughout the island.

Okinawans themselves gave the name "Potato Square" to the open lot in the town of Ishikawa. That is where the food and practically everything else is brought for distribution.

Personal Property Gone

The war wiped out, at least for the time being, all personal property except the clothes the natives had on their backs.

All food stuff gathered from the adjacent fields is brought to the square and distributed in equal shares. The same is true of such material as lumber for new homes, which are to be built under U. S. military government supervision at the rate of 20 a day until 750 are erected.

Of the 400 tile-roofed shacks in the town when the Americans invaded the island April 1, only 239 remained for 22,000 people, mostly women and children.

The estimated population of Okinawa before the invasion was 400,000. Some of the missing 150,000 were killed in battle, as the Japanese conscripted able-bodied males for fighting or work. Most, however, are believed to have been taken off the island by the Japanese before the invasion.

Other Areas Far Behind

Ishikawa is farther along towards rehabilitation than most towns, because virtually all of the inhabitants came into the American lines early. Only a few here now made their way from southern Okinawa, where the natives were held behind the Japanese lines until the last few days of fighting.

Yaga Jiro, contractor of labor before the war, said most of the Okinawans want to go back to their small farms but are reconciled to temporary concentration in towns and camps.

They do not seem to understand that much of the farm land will be taken over for U. S. military installations, putting it out of agricultural use for a long time. The military government has an agricultural experiment program underway ot help solve the situation.

Families Separated

Yaga Jiro said the biggest problem and the one disturbing the Okinawans more than their wrecked homes is the separation of families. Many became separated during the fighting, while hiding in caves. When they finally poured through the American lines they wandered into different camps.

They are being held at those camps pending rehabilitation and to protect them from the Japanese still lurking in hideouts. The military government has established a missing persons department in its effort to reunite families.

Truman Autographs $1 Bill For Barber

KANSAS CITY, July 5. (AP)—It cost President Truman $1 to get his hair cut while in Kansas City. Frank Spina, the President's barber, today proudly showed customers the crisp one dollar bill that the President autographed for him.

That isn't Spina's only autograph of the President's. During the last World war when Mr. Truman was Spina's commanding officer, the President signed his name on a pass which the barber still has in his possession.

GIs Discover Utopia At Bargain Rates In English Resort City

By HENRY B. JAMESON
Associated Press Staff Writer.

BOURNEMOUTH, Eng.—Here is a soldier's Utopia where GIs live in $10 a day luxury hotels for 20 cents a night.

They play and swim on seven miles of sandy English channel beach, stay out all night if they wish and sleep as late as they like. Waffle breakfasts are served until 11 a. m. Military police are scarce and the only rules are: "Remember, you are a visitor—and a gentleman."

Since V-E day this famous English Riviera resort city of 116,000 on the southeast coast has become a playground for American troops waiting for transportation back to the United States and a leave center for those still on duty in England, France and Germany.

Many of the guests are liberated prisoners of war who are regaining weight and are getting a chance to play on army time before returning home.

Like Civilian Life

With the cooperation and backing of the Army, the American Red Cross has taken over 12 of the largest, most luxurious hotels on the high, picturesque cliffs overlooking the sea. They are run as private clubs for all ranks but the only thing military about the place is the uniforms.

It is the closest thing to civilian life that it is possible to find in the Army. That is what the soldiers like about it, says Pvt. James Gilmour, Philadelphia, Pa., airborne infantryman who landed in Normandy on D-day.

Bournemouth is supposed to have more beautiful women per capita than any other city in England. There are no non-fraternization rules but there is a lot of competition between the American and Canadian soldiers as Bournemouth has long been a big Royal Canadian air force base.

Among the freed-prisoners relaxing here last week were Lt. John C. (Red) Morgan, Amarillo, Tex., first Eighth Air force bomber pilot to win the Congressional Medal of Honor. Morgan was shot down over Berlin.

BYRNES NAMES AIDES

WASHINGTON, July 5. (AP)—Secretary of State James F. Byrnes today announced the appointments of Benjamin V. Cohen, Donald S. Russell and Walter Brown to temporary assignment as assistants to the secretary of state.

PLANE CRASH FATAL

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 5. (AP)—Ens. Lollas Ray Harmon, 22, USNR, of Sulphur Springs, Tex., was killed Monday in a plane crash near the Jacksonville air station.

Universal Training Endorsed By Group

WASHINGTON, July 5 (U.P.)—The House postwar military policy committee today recommended the "broad principle" of universal military training be adopted in the postwar national defense program.

A report endorsing universal training was approved by 16 of the 22 committee members.

"Additional views" may be written by some members who failed to sign the report but there will be no minority report, committee members said.

Recommending a training program along the "broad principle" of universal service, the committee reported the United States must be strong militarily to protect its interests after the present war and to help maintain world security.

"Timely adoption of the principle will provide assurance to the United Nations that this nation expects to retain the necessary military strength to stand behind and make work the idealism which has inspired the Dumbarton Oaks and World Security conferences," the report said.

The report asked for a program that would be strictly "training" with no actual military service except in event of a national emergency.

GIs Share Food With LaGuardia's Sister

BERLIN, July 5. (AP)—American GI's chipped in today from their own rations to provide a banquet for Mrs. Gemma La Guardia Gluck, sister of New York City's mayor, and her homeless family.

Mrs. Gluck, whose presence here was disclosed last night, said she had been imprisoned for 11 months by the Gestapo because of the anti-Facist reputation of her brother.

Partial Substantiation Found To Suicide Reports Of Adolf And Eva

By JACK FLEISCHER
United Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, July 5—Two weeks ago Hitler's chauffeur, Erich Kempka, told me how the fuehrer and Eva Braun had committed suicide in a bunker behind the Reichs chancellory.

Kempka described the sofa where Eva sat, the hole in the ground where the bodies were burned, and other details such as the five jerricans used to pour gasoline on the bodies.

Today, in that bunker, I found everything just as Kempka had described it—even to the five jerricans with bullet holes in them.

The evidence was circumstantial, but overwhelming, that the suicide story was true.

Other Called Bad Double

(BBC correspondent Richard Dimbley, in a Berlin broadcast, said that doctors now called the body originally thought to be Hitler's that of a bad double of Hitler's.)

The most sensational piece of evidence was the unmistakeable blood stains on the sofa where Kempka said Eva sat when she put a bullet into her heart. The stains were on the tapestried seat and back and on the wooden top piece of the right-hand sofa arm.

No stains were visible in the center or left hand portion of the sofa, where Kempka said Hitler sat when he put a shot into his head. The floor in front of the sofa, where the blood probably dripped, was covered with more than an inch of water so I could find no stains.

In the blasted garden outside, I saw a shallow, trenchlike hole about eight yards from the bunker entrance. This was the hole where Kempka said Hitler's and Eva's bodies were burned in mid-afternoon of April 30 after being saturated with five jerricans full of gasoline. To top it off, five bullet-ridden jerricans lay to one side of the bunker entrance.

No evidence of the charred remains of the bodies could be seen in the hole. However, during the nine weeks which have gone by since the burning, innumerable Russians and others have tramped through the chancellory grounds. The ground also was torn up by shells and bombs.

Two German workmen from the chancellory today confirmed that Kempka was among the last persons there at the end of April, and one said, "he should know the true story."

Place Was a Shambles

Hitler's two-story underground bunker was a shambles inside, but its reinforced concrete walls and roof were intact. Going downstairs by candlelight, I found Hitler's suite with the help of a diagram Kempka had given me.

The fuehrer's sitting room was about 12 feet long and eight feet wide. Two small armchairs were piled on the suicide sofa. Opposite was a work desk, also covered with chairs and other odds and ends.

A door off to the right led to Hitler's cubby-hole bedroom. There was a fire-blackened big steel safe, which apparently the Russians had cracked open.

To the left from the sitting room was a bathroom, which led to Eva's bedroom. Like all the other rooms everythnig was a horrible mess. But the furniture obviously was the kind which belongs in a woman's boudoir. The dresser was littered with feminine articles, including a bottle of perfume.

Off the reception room of the apartment was the small conference room, where Hitler and his staff held daily meetings. The room was partly burned out, but a bench remained around two sides of the wall. I found typed copies of a stenographic report of one of the last conferences, but the sheet was torn into such small bits it would take days to fit together. There also were a few typewritten sheets of Allied radio news reports.

The other rooms—kitchen, medical office, and so on—all were topsy-turvy with furnishings all over. Hitler's bunker, like his life, was a mess.

Jobless Claims Show Big Increase

AUSTIN, July 5. (U.P.)—Reduction of workers in Texas aircraft manufacturing and related industries was the major cause of unemployment compensation benefit claims soaring from 889 in May to 2,223 in June, the Texas Unemployment Compensation commission announced today.

Majority of the cutback was in airplane and related industries in northwest Texas, the commission said, adding that little reduction was made in the number of workers in the gulf coast industrial region. Benefit claims for the first five months of 1945 averaged 850 a month.

The number of workers covered by Texas law has increased nearly 1,500,000. This means, the commission explained, that about 450,000 workers have been added to payroll since Pearl Harbor.

"This number represents the potential claim load which, unless reconversion efforts result in their absorption, will present a staggering problem," the commission said.

The unemployment compensation trust fund now amounts to $148,031,673. It is to be used only for payment of unemployment benefits to persons involuntarily unemployed.

Kiwanis Nine Edges Rotary 2-1 On Galey's One-Hitter

Banging out an honest double and stealing third base in the last of the eighth, Charles Galey scored on Weber's grounder to Bo English with the tally that gave the Kiwanis nine a 2-1 victory over the Rotary club.

Breaking all records at the Boys' club Thursday night, the two teams played a contest termed by both managers to be the best thus far in the season. While it was the only game to go into extra innings, the seventh frame was finished in record time. The 2-1 score made the contest the closest and lowest.

Charles Galey pitched one-hit ball for the Kiwanis nine, while Jack McCabe gave up only two safe knocks for the losers. Errors came comparatively few and far between. Snappy fielding by the Rotary bunch allowed only two errors during the eight innings. Kiwanis members made four miscues.

Kiwanis Scores First

After both teams went out scoreless in the first and first half of the second innings, the Kiwanis nine pushed a run across the plate in their part of the second. Lefty Jack McCabe began the inning by walking Kiwanis third baseman Bud Weber. Two consecutive errors put two additional batsmen on base, and advanced Weber to third. McCabe then proceeded to strike out the next two batters, but lost the third with the count at three-two, forcing a run across the platter. The third out followed immediately.

The contest went on rapidly, and in almost mechanical three-up-three-down fashion. Both teams were unable to score through the sixth inning.

To begin the first of the seventh, the Kiwanis, leading 1-0, rapidly put out the first two Rotary hitters. Manager "Stoney" Wall shoved Wells in the line-up to hit for Johnson. Catcher Reed missed the third strike and allowed Wells to gain second base on his overthrow to first. Starting a steal on the windup, Wells came home when Fowler failed to field Cotman's grounder. Cotman was caught in an attempt to steal second on the next play, finishing the inning.

Extra Inning Played

The first three Kiwanis batters in the last of the seventh were rapidly put away by McCabe's bunch, throwing the contest into extra innings.

Rotary was unable to do damage in their half of the eighth. The last of the inning, however, was short and sweet. Charles Galey, right field hitter, surreptitiously clouted a double in to left field and placed himself in easy scoring position after stealing third on the next pitch. Bud Weber rolled a slow grounder down to Bo English at second, scoring Galey before the ball was fielded.

Dickinson Defeats Purina Millers 6-4

Old father time looked kindly at the Dickinson Motor nine in their tilt with the Purina Millers Thursday afternoon, giving the Dickinson group a 6-4 win after Purina had forged into the lead on a fifth inning rally.

Although the Millers were leading by one run in the fifth, the game was called on account of darkness, and the 6-4 score at the end of the fourth frame was recognized by the officials.

Battery for Purina was Denny Davidson and Jones, with Fulsom and Irwin leading the Dickinson nine.

Thursday's victory left Dickinson with five wins and no defeats in national league play, Purina remaining in the second spot.

Local Golfer Makes Queer Hole-In-One

Joining the ranks of golfers who have made a "hole-in-one" is L. O. Neill, local electrician, who accomplished the feat Wednesday afternoon on the No. 2 hole at Meadowbrook course. In fact, Neill made the ace without even touching the green.

Neill, who resides at 2432 Twenty-third, was playing with D. C. Casey, 2517 Twenty-third and W. C. Neill, his brother, 1619 Seventeenth, when he scored the ace on the 95-yard hole. Using a No. 8 iron he arched the ball high and it came down in the cup, lodging between the pin and the edge of the cup, without ever touching the green.

Neill, owner of the Neill Electric company, has been playing golf 21 years. He scored a 42 on the front nine and a 47 on the back nine in yesterday's game.

Dodgers Bow To Cincinnati 6-4

BROOKLYN, July 5. (AP)—With Joe Bowman winning his sixth game since he joined the Reds a month ago, Cincinnati defeated Brooklyn 6-4 today to cut the Dodgers first place margin to two and a half games over the triumphant Chicago Cubs and St. Louis Cards.

A four-run outburst in the fifth inning against veteran Curt Davis sewed up the game for the Reds and gave them a three to one edge in the series.

Major Leagues Set Attendance Record On Fourth Of July

NEW YORK, July 5. (AP)—Major league baseball set a 1945 attendance record yesterday, but horseshide on the horse still outdrew horseshide on a ball, with 238,428 Americans at seven major racetracks to 210,047 at the big league ball games.

Largest crowd of the eight at big league doubleheaders was at Detroit where 45,376 jammed Briggs stadium to see Dave Ferriss of the Boston Red Sox give up a home run to Hank Greenberg.

Largest crowd at the major tracks was the estimated 63,000 who flocked to Santa Anita to try to win some money on Busher in the Santa Margarita Handicap.

New Betting Records

Several new betting records were set. Aqueduct, moving to Belmont for one day, handled $3,804,362 through the mutuels, a new mark for a seven-race card at an American track. Mutuel handles of $1,697,855 at Suffolk Downs and $1,499,740 at Delaware Park were new records for those tracks.

It was estimated that a total of $15,000,000 was bet at all tracks yesterday.

The baseball attendance broke a mark set just 10 days previously, when 205,106 attended Sunday twin bills on June 26, and was nearly 35,000 better than last Fourth-of-July, when 176,623 fans were in the stands for the bargain bills.

In that eleventh inning McQuinn doubled and Vernon Stephens beat out a bunt, McQuinn going to third. Gene Moore was then passed, filling the bases.

The Athletics registered 13 hits off three Browns' hurlers. The Browns made seven hits, including a home run by Mike Kreevich, his second circuit blow of the season.

Former Tech Grid Star Visiting Here

Truett (Juicy) Owens, one of Texas Tech's gridiron greats during the early '30s, who recently received his discharge from the Marine corps, is visiting here this week with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bacon of 1632 Broadway.

Owens, who coached at Sherman until he joined the Marines, has been named to coach at Arlington Heights High school in Fort Worth, and will take up his new duties there this fall.

While playing at tackle and guard for Tech on the 1931, '32 and '34 squads, Owens was nominated for the mythical All-American team.

Nine U. S. Divisions Are Definitely Earmarked For Duty In Pacific

By ROBERT EUNSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, July 5—Five of the nine American divisions definitely earmarked for transfer from the European theater of operations to the Pacific via the United States either are partially on the high seas or have reached home, ETO reports showed today.

Troops already in America or on their way are from the 13th armored and the 86th, 95th, 97th and 104th infantry divisions. Those ready or about ready to sail are from the Second, Fifth, 44th and 87th infantry divisions.

The Fourth division is reaching America now and the Eighth is on the high seas, but neither is slated definitely for the Pacific.

Divisions to be redeployed or placed on inactive status are assigned to the charge of the European theater of operations, USA. Those not yet withdrawn from Germany and awaiting decision as to their future are assigned to supreme headquarters, pending transfer to ETOUSA if not put on permanent occupation detail.

(The 30th, 69th, 76th and 102nd infantry divisions and the Fifth, Sixth and Seventh armored divisions were mentioned in previous dispatches as scheduled to take part in withdrawals from Thuringia and parts of Halle-Merseburg and Saxony provinces to be included in the Russian occupation zone).

Gallup Finds U. S. Victory Gardens 18 Million Strong

PRINCETON, N. J.—In spite of the fact that the war in Europe is over, there has been little let-down in the victory garden efforts of families throughout the country this summer.

GALLUP

In fact, a survey of the nation finds that there will probably be close to as many gardens this year as last year.

As of the first part of June, slightly fewer gardens had been planted than at a comparable time last year. On the basis of the survey about 17,000,000 families said they already have gardens in, but enough more families said they hoped to plant gardens to bring the figure up to last year's total, estimated by the Department of Agriculture to have been 18,400,000.

Last year the Institute estimated that 17,500,000 gardens were planted, as of early May, and that about two and a half million additional families said they hoped to plant a garden.

Apparently not all of these families carried through on their intention, as a special intensive survey by the Department of Agriculture in the fall of last year found that 18,400,000 victory garden actually had been planted.

Applications Taken In Lamb County For Tenant Purchases

LITTLEFIELD, July 5.—Announcement was made this week by Stilwell H. Russell, Lamb county FSA supervisor, that applications are now being accepted by the Farm Security administration for the purchase and improvement of farms in Lamb county under the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant act.

According to Russell, applicants generally are considered eligible who possess the following qualifications:

1. Must be a citizen of the United States of America.
2. Must be, or have been, recently engaged in farming as a means of providing the major portion of his family income. Exceptions to this rule will be made to veterans. A veteran to be eligible should have had practical farming experience, but need not have been farming just prior to his induction into the armed services. Special consideration will also be given veterans in regard to family status.
3. Be willing to cooperate with representatives of the FSA in developing and carrying out a sound farm and home plan and maintaining such records and accounts as may be required until the debt is paid.
4. Be morally, physically, and mentally acceptable.
5. Preference will be given to applicants who are married and have children.
6. Applicant must not now own a family size farm unit.
7. Must be unable to obtain from private and other government sources a satisfactory loan for this purpose.

Applications should be made in person to the Farm Security administration at its offices in the city hall in Littlefield.

Seventeen farms have been purchased in Lamb county since the beginning of the program. Two of these have already been paid out and all are making satisfactory progress, Russell said.

S/Sgt David G. Sims Of Post Is Awarded Silver Star Medal

WITH SIXTH INFANTRY DIVISION ON LUZON. — S/Sgt. David C. Sims, son of Mrs. Alma Sims, of Route 1, Post, Tex., has been awarded the Silver Star by the commanding general of the 6th Infantry division for gallantry in action against the Japanese at Mount Baytangan, Luzon, P. I., on March 28.

With enemy machine guns and rifles in full command of an open field, Sims went in front of his company's lines twice and rescued two seriously wounded comrades.

Sims is a squad leader in a front-line rifle company of the 20th Infantry Regiment of the 6th Division, holder of the continuous combat record for the Pacific. The 6th participated in the Sansapor and Maffin Bay campaigns in New Guinea before coming to Luzon.

Manpower Controls Soon To Be Lifted

DALLAS, July 5. (AP) — The Times Herald said it learned today that government controls which have held war workers to their jobs in this area may be lifted this month.

The newspaper quoted Orville W. Erringer, area director of the War Manpower commission, as saying elimination of the manpower controls depends on results of a survey now being made of manpower needs in the construction industry.

The order would have no effect on wage stabilization regulations, Erringer said, but would mean the end to statesments of availability which workers in essential war industries must secure before seeking non-essential work.

Take Othman's Word, Washington No Spot To Be Comfortable

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 5. — This was my day to fry an egg on Pennsylvania avenue; only, no egg.

No eggs anyplace. (You hear that, Mr. Food Czar Anderson? Your egg shortage is interfering with science.) That's why, friends, you must take my word for how hot it is in the D. of C. I'm blistering both typewriter fingers, telling you.

Your back trickles from the sweat dripping off your shoulder blades. Take a bath and you can't rub yourself dry; the WACs and the WAVEs, under orders to wear stockings, claim it's day's job to pull same up their wet legs.

Down To Cases

Hot? I know a lady who says her apartment is like a coffin with the lid nailed on. So much for generalities; we will now consider some specific sweaters and I'm not talking about feminine styles.

President Truman has an ice machine in his cellar, which keeps his house cool and dry and I wish I lived there, myself. Across the street from him are the sufferers. The diplomats inhabit the State department, which is at hot at it was when built in the last century. A diplomat worth his salt would as soon appear in public minus his pants as without his coat. The result is too painful to describe. Ex-Secretary of State Edward Stettinius had his own private air cooler in his office; whether he leaves it for the new man remains to be seen.

The Treasury department is air conditioned throughout. The other day the help was let off early anyway, account of the heat. The Commerce department is as clammy as it is hot and nobody's comfortable there except the fish in the basement aquarium.

Oratory Heats Senate

So it goes throughout the government; about half the buildings are air cooled; the other half hotter than the hinges of you-know-where. There also is the Senate of the U. S., which is wonderfully air conditioned when empty.

As soon as the 96 speech-makers come in and start spouting, the temperatures go up and stay that way until the Senate recesses. When the oratory ceases, it gets cool again.

Occasionally, at it did late yesterday, it rains. The first drops sizzle into steam, then water pours down as in Sadie Thompson's hideaway, and after a few minutes the sun comes out again. It's as hot as ever.

I had a chat with the weatherman, who said nothing about it being the humidity instead of the heat. He said it was the heat and the humidity. He said it doesn't make much difference whether the temperature is 90, or 98. You still feel like a fat man in a hot box.

One Explanation

That brings us to the fact that Washington's climate is the worst (yes, it is, too, chamber of commerce) in the U.S.A. I have read that this is the fault of G. Washington.

The debunging historians claim that he owned a swamp; that he sold it at a neat profit to the government for use as the capital. This is hard to believe of the man who couldn't tell a lie. He was the father of his country and he wouldn't do a thing like that to us.

Whoever did decide to locate the government here, and I say it without fear of contradiction, was a dope. I can prove it, as soon as I find myself an egg.

Post Officer Dubious About Jap Driving His Jeep; Offer Declined

AN ADVANCE BASE IN THE MARIANAS (Delayed)—Lt. Stephen B. Luce, 34, civil engineer corps officer, USNR, of Post, Tex., is no cinic but when it comes to allowing a captured Jap soldier to chauffeur his jeep, he's dubious.

Lt. Luce, member of a Navy Seabee battalion based here, was driving along a new road with Donald V. Confer, 35, carpenter's mate, first class, USNR, of Akron, Colo., when four Jap soldiers marched out of the jungle bearing a white flag and making surrender noises. The rest was easy.

After loading the captives aboard the jeep, one of the Japs gleefully went through the motions of driving to convey the idea that he not only could, but would be too glad to chauffeur the party to the nearest prisoner stockade.

Lt. Luce declined the offer, with the explanation that the Jap might not drive in the right direction. In that case, he said, "I couldn't even surrender because I don't have a white handkerchief."

Reports Say Chaos Reigns In Shanghai

CHUNGKING, July 5. (AP)—Chinese press reports said today that Japanese authorities had closed all 110 German firms in Shanghai and interned more than 1,700 German nationals in a camp on the western outskirts of the city.

Another dispatch said that a Japanese plane, shot down in an air battle over Shanghai, had crashed in a crowded district in the former French concession, causing an explosion and fires which resulted in the deaths of some 2,000 persons.

A third report said the prohibitive prices of food, combined with the fear of Allied air raids, had caused some 1,700,000 of Shanghai's 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 population to leave the city in the past few months.

Congressional Surveys

The President Welcomes Them

ALTHOUGH President Truman sees eye-to-eye with the late President Roosevelt in many matters—chiefly international in their scope—the passing days show that the present President differs greatly with many viewpoints held by his predeecssor.

An example of divergent philosophies is the Truman attitude, as compared with the Roosevelt attitude, in inspection trips overseas by members of the Congress. Whether Mr. Truman's view comes from his own association with the Congress, or whether his viewpoint differs with that of Mr. Roosevelt because the latter disliked others taking a dish in matters of governmental policy, is a question. But the fact remains that Mr. Roosevelt didn't like for congressmen to have firsthand acquaintance with overseas affairs and Mr. Truman believes such firsthand acquaintance will be helpful to the nation.

At any rate, more congressmen than ever before have been visiting far-flung corners of the world and even more such trips are scheduled for later in the summer, when Congress likely will be in recess. In Europe, Africa, on the far-flung islands of the Pacific, congressmen are going to see and hear for themselves just what has gone on and what is being planned.

Our own viewpoint parallels that of Mr. Truman.

The Congress is the "Grass Roots" governmental arm. Members of the House of Representatives, in particular, are closer to the people than any other federal officeholders can be. They have to be closer to the people, because they must come before the people with an accounting of their stewardship every two years. Hence, when they view plans and events in foreign fields, they must keep the best interests of the people uppermost in mind.

Unlike Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Truman does not regard surveys by congressmen as prima facie condemnation of and aspersions on his management of the Executive branch of the government. Instead, he believes such surveys may bring to the White House information it could glean no other way.

So congressmen are looking around the world—and why shouldn't they?

Aren't we being told on every hand these days that the world is just one big neighborhood, and that what effects Afghanistan also effects the South Plains?

It's Good Reading, Anyway

SPEAKING of optimism over the war with Japan, the British are as cheerful as anybody. The British capital does not anticipate a long war with the Nipponese. London newspapers generally agree that Japan is groggy and that the Japanese warlords are showing increasing nervousness about the concentration of Allied shipping and air power to the southwest of Japan.

A London Dispatch correspondent says Japan has not made adequate home guard preparations to resist invasion and predicts that D-Day for Japan will come sooner than either the Allies or the Japanese anticipate. He gives three reasons for this conclusion:

The Jap navy has reached a new low in strength.

The Jap army has adhered to an outmoded strategy by allowing its crack pontoon army to stay in Manchuria.

The Jap air force has existed on reserves, and these now are dwindling rapidly.

Perhaps the London viewpoint is diluted with wishful thinking, but it certainly makes good reading in this country which is as eager to bring an end to it as any nation.

After all, the Pacific war is largely our war—and it means more to us to get it over with triumphantly than it does to any other nation on the face of the globe.

The Salesman's Paradise

THE era of the salesman was thought to have reached its all-time high in the lush, easy-money days of the late 1920's. But unless all signs fail, the fruits of salesmanship will be greater than ever before in the immediate postwar period. Then billions of dollars now lying idle will be available for tapping in exchange for various products which will return to the public market after years of absence during wartime.

For the man who can sell anything from bobby pins to the newest models of expensive automobiles, the immediate postwar period will offer great reward. Manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers will plunge into an unprecedented period of competition, and the economic firing line will be manned by individuals whose logic and persuasiveness can overwhelm customer resistance.

In the U. S. today there are 4,000,000 salesmen against an immediate pre-war number of 6,000,000. But when reconversion is general, 10,000,000 salesmen will be needed and for over a considerable period of time. This means that there will be, for several years at least, sales openings for at least 6,500,000 salesmen, because at least a half million of the present crop are not good enough to maintain their connections in the face of competition from younger, smarter and more energetic individuals.

Young men, and some young women, with ability to sell will spring from the services right into steady, renumerative employment and if an economic lull comes a few years later should be ready for it with a backlog in the form of a good bank account.

EXPLANATION OF CARTOON

THE REAL JOE MILLER

The real Joe Miller was an actor who played the gravedigger in Hamlet but never told any jokes. He could neither read nor write and married a literate wife to read his parts to him. Joe died in 1738. In 1739 John Mottley published the famous Joe Miller's joke book. Originally, the collection contained 247 jokes. Each time the book was republished the number of jokes grew, until it now contains 1286 jests, none of which was ever known to Joe Miller.

Cousin Victoria developed a real interest in Mr. Tapley, who avoided her as if she had been the plague. It was some time before she had caught on to his drinking. Then her interest doubled, for she was above all things a crusader.

"What a pity a fine man like that should be the victim of such a scourge," she said. She took to putting Temperance pamphlets under his door. (Ada used to find them in his slop jar.) As a result he brought his whiskey right into the dining room.

This only heightened Cousin Victoria's zeal. She sent away for a bottle of White Star Liquor Cure, and one morning, very secretly, put a dose of it into his coffee. But he wasn't fooled for a minute.

"Damn you," he shouted, glaring across the room at her. Then he went out, banging the door.

We hoped this would start her packing, for Cousin Victoria abhorred profanity. But she was magnanimous. "Poor thing," she said. "He's not responsible." We had all but despaired of her ever going when she had her run-in with Mrs. Guptill.

Cousin Victoria was, as I have mentioned, much given to change. For years she had been going on new and outlandish diets. On one visit she would require meat three times daily; on another she would be strictly a vegetarian. We couldn't keep up with her. A few days after her experience with Mr. Tapley she turned against eggs. A pamphlet called Receipts for the Refined had easily persuaded her that they were vulgar. This pamphlet she sent by me to Mrs. Guptill. (Being so aristocratic, Cousin Victoria had naturally kept aloof from the kitchen.) "Every receipt here can be made successfully without eggs," the flyleaf read. Under this Cousin Victoria had written. "My diet from now on."

When I handed it to Mrs. Guptill, she took one quick look and threw it in the wood box. "Stuff and nonsense," she said.

I rushed back and knocked on Cousin Victoria's door. She did not answer. This did not surprise me, for she never allowed herself to be interrupted when she was writing in her Journal or even in the midst of a reflection. I waited impatiently. It was a good five minutes before she let me in.

I reported the incident with considerable zest.

Cousin Victoria drew a deep breath and raised her bosom high. "Show me to the kitchen," she said.

I had a hard time keeping ahead of her.

Mrs. Guptill was laying out some salt fish to serve with pork scraps for dinner when we came down the kitchen stairs.

"I should like a word with you," Cousin Victoria began loftily.

"I'm ready," Mrs. Guptill answered without looking up.

"It concerns the pamphlet I sent you," Cousin Victoria paused for an acknowledgement.

Mrs. Guptill kept right on working.

This only added to Cousin Victoria's annoyance. "This child tells me that you had the audacity to throw it in the wood box."

Mrs. Guptill tasted her fish and added a shake of pepper. "In with the other trash," she said calmly.

"Trash," Cousin Victoria shouted, now thoroughly incensed. "You will find it immediately and follow it. Do not forget that I will never eat anything cooked with an egg again."

Mrs. Guptill's neck reddened. She pushed the fish aside and reached up in the cupboard for a basket of eggs. Then, very deliberately, she counted out a dozen and began to break them in a bowl, hitting each one against the side with a sound crack. "People in this house eat what's set before 'em," she said, "or else they go hungry."

Cousin Victoria was speechless. The last egg had been broken before she began to recover. "Such impertinence," she choked. "Such insubordination. I shall speak to the doctor." The rest of her words were lost in the racket the egg beater was making.

When my father came home at noon, she was waiting for him. "That cook of yours," she began. Even then she wasn't able to speak fluently. "She won't take orders."

"That's right. She won't," he agreed readily.

Cousin Victoria looked dumfounded. "Do you mean that I must stand for that?" she demanded.

"We do," he told her.

She drew her bosom up again. "I don take impertinence from subordinates," she announced. "I will go back to Balmoral."

He was polite, but he didn't attempt to dissuade her, though her going meant the loss of seven dollars a week.

"I'm sorry things are like this," my mother said, coming in while she was packing, "but we aren't at home, you know. When we get there, we want you to come for a nice long visit."

Julia and I tried to help her pack, valiantly suppressing our enthusiasm. But she wouldn't let us. "I can look out for myself," she told us, dragging out her heavy bags.

My father did not wait to see her off, but he arranged that Benjamin should drive her to the Junction with Lady. It was an awkward parting. My mother kept talking pleasantly about the roads, the air, the sunshine, while Benjamin put in the bags. Cousin Victoria said nothing at all until Benjamin raised the reins over Lady's back. Then she spoke coldly.

"I shall put all this in my Journal," she said.

Looking At Life ------ By Erich Brandeis

I HAVE just read an article by an American war correspondent which he wrote from press headquarters in one of Germany's lovely mountain villages.

He described the beauty of the place. From his terrace at the hotel he looked out upon a silvery lake, surrounded by green mountains and picturesque little houses and farms that had been left untouched by allied bombs.

BRANDEIS

There was peace and stillness everywhere. There was a blue sky overhead and little children were playing in the meadows while busy farmers were tending to their herds and fields.

One could hardly believe that those simple people living amid such beauty could have committed all those sins of cruelty and barbarism that the Germans had committed.

One felt almost tempted to forgive them.

* * *

And then this thought came to the correspondent:

After all, what did the Germans have to do with all this beauty?

Did they build the mountains? Did they make the trees and the flowers that grew in the fields?

Did they create the sky and the lake and the sun that shone upon it?

After all, weren't these people doubly guilty?

With so many things to enjoy they wanted more.

With so much happiness to be had by just reaching out for it they brought unhappiness to the world.

No, said the correspondent, we must hold those people twice responsible for their failure to appreciate what was right within their grasp!

And, by the same token, all of us are doubly responsible for failing to make the best of the many blessings that are ours.

"Yes, it is great to commune with God right in His own territory," writes A. M. Hummel, one of my readers who lives on a farm near Lebanon, Pa. "How wonderful to see the works of His hand and the miracles that are performed right before our eyes."

* * *

THERE are miracles performed before your eyes every day this spring and every spring and summer.

There are the beautiful flowers that spring from seed and the fruit that ripens on the trees and the corn that grows on the stalk —and the new life in the fields and the warmth and sunshine overhead.

Why cry and fight for unattainable things when so much glory and so much happiness and so many miracles are right before your eyes?

Why be unhappy for more when you already have so much?

"Tomorrow will be another day!" says the optimist brightly. Yes, "responds the pessimist glumly, "just another day."

The average woman is unprincipled enough to deceive a man by pretending to believe him when he lies to her.

Don't Count On Borneo's Oil!

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE AMERICAN people have been oversold on the possibility of getting more gasoline on their A, B and C coupons because of the recapture of the Borneo oil fields. That conquest has tremendous military value, but it will not supply the juice that makes flivvers move in the United States.

It is true that the Borneo wells are shallow, but they are not surface fields by a long shot. Petroleum experts say that they are 3,500 feet deep, which is not far below the ground level in view of today's technique for obtaining the fuel. Best part is that the crude is so pure that it needs hardly any refining. It can be poured into ships' bunkers with almost no conditioning.

TUCKER

But here is why this new Pacific advance by the Australians will not advantage domestic drivers. The liberated area will provide only 60,000 barrels a day at maximum production, whereas private Army-Navy estimates put our consumption in the last-hour drive against Japan at about two million barrels a day. The only saving will be that tankers can load up at Borneo instead of on the California coast.

Military experts believe that the fields recovered by the Aussie can be in operation within three months. The Japs, presumably, destroyed all surface property and filled the holes with cement. Allied invaders will have to drill at new points.

But attacking United Nations warships in this theater carried all the equipment necessary to reopen the wells as soon as they fell into our hands. The machinery came from the U. S. under lend-lease financing, which Administrator Leo T. Crowley considers one of his best investments.

PROBERS: The new "Dies" Committee to Investigate Un-American Activities has got itself into a tangle even before the reorganized group of probers has defined its field of jurisdiction. Members are fighting among themselves over what is an American or an un-American plot, conspiracy or what-have-you.

The chairman, Rep. Edward J. Hart of New Jersey, wanted to do a sound, sensible job. He and his colleagues drew up definitions of the people and movements which, in their opinion, should be watched. Hart also set up safeguards against the sort of sabotage and blackmail to which many honest folks were subjected when Martin Dies of Texas headed the committee.

There was to be no publicity until the supposed offenders had first been heard in private sessions. In short, the Committee to Investigate Un-American Activities planned to behave in an American manner.

But this legal and logical program did not satisfy that fire-eater from Mississippi — the tousle-haired John E. Rankin, who ranks next to Chairman Hart.

He seeks publicity, and he wants the committee to proceed as it did in the old unhappy days. The majority favor the Hart method, but they know that Rankin has a wicked tongue and can hurt them with righteous constituents back home if he turns loose on them on the floor.

Hart has resigned because of alleged "ill health" although his sturdy New Jersey colleagues say he is in the pink. Rankin was in line for the chairmanship, but he would not relinquish his prized place — head of the Committee on Veterans' Legislation. For the sake of the boys shifting from khaki to mufti, it would have been a godsend if "silent (?) John," as he once characterized himself, had moved over.

Incidentally, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt's admission that she had been "deceived" by American Communists figured in a recent committee discussion. An anti-Roosevelt tian read her concession to his colleagues and then sighed, "Well, it took her long enough to find out what kind of people those babies are!"

ENLIGHTENMENT: Homer Dodge, the official but unpublicized humorist of the National Press club, believes that Washington correspondents should be kept informed of postwar world events and negotiations even during their lighter and luncheon hours.

As an old newspaperman, he has a slight prejudice against the mike's hurried and unanlytical accounts of great happenings. However, in a formal petition to the Board of Governors, which has been signed by about 100 members, he asks for more news-giving facilities.

"The radio," pleads Homer in his formidable document, "has, I am afraid, apparently come to stay. So we beg that the Board of Governors establish a radio that really works somewhere in the club precincts.

"We want to hear and to be moved by the voices of Bing Crosby, Sinatra, Bob Hope, President Truman, Prime Minister Churchill, Premier Stalin and, if we can find time to listen, by the tunes of Joe Ball of Minnesota and John Rankin of Mississippi, believe it or not!"

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

REVISED casualty lists for the entire Ryukyu campaign are the subject of heated discussions in Army and Navy circles. The question uppermost is: How correctly do they forecast losses in the invasion of Japan?

Admiral Nimitz announced that between March 18 and June 20 our entire expedition lost 46,000 in killed, missing and wounded; the Japanese, 118,851—all killed but 9,500 prisoners.

Certain Army officials think his enemy figures are too high. By using the traditional War college measurement — three wounded to one killed — his statistics indicate more Nip troops than are accounted for in all previous estimates of original garrisons and reinforcements.

Navy experts stand pat on the Admiral's arithmetic. They contend that the old ratio applied to European wars and that the Pacific circumstances are different. Under conditions that prevailed on Okinawa, with the enemy steadily withdrawing, Japanese wounded soon were dead from fresh injuries, suicides and extermination by their own officers.

LEMAN

That the Japs do not encumber themselves with the disabled or leave them behind alive is evidence of their cold-bloodedness. We are dealing with a psychology diametrically opposed to our own.

"We teach at West Point and Annapolis that the lives of men must be risked to gain an objective," a celebrated admiral informed the writer. "Even a single unnecessary death is not warfare but murder and cannot be excused by any commanding officer as anything but that.

"Our enemy has no such scruples. Suicide squads smashed the Bunker Hill. Tokyo radios boast that ground weapon crews will use the same tactics if we land on the home islands.

"The nearest thing to Japanese contempt for human life found in our military history is that of the Indians in colonial times. To locate fighters comparable to the Japs we must go back to the savage days of Ashurbanipal, Nebuchadnezzar and Rameses."

Colonel Edward S. Johnston, writing in the official Military Review, warns, "Once the Jap goes to earth he is as difficult to find as a woods animal and infinitely more dangerous."

In rolling country (such as Nippon) the Japanese rarely leave sizable combat posts to delay an opponent. They rely on snipers with smokeless powder, and concentrate their mortars and artillery on ravines which the attacker must enter.

* * *

THIS depends somewhat, too, on the type of constituency which they represent, whether predominantly industrial or agricultural.

It is easy enough, if your state is largely farming, to shout about controls. Farmers never did like regimentation. It's not so easy if you have a large city and industrial constituency, with a large labor and white collar populations on fixed wages and constantly live in dread of inflation.

It is simple enough, too, if your state is preponderantly agricultural, to demand less control of labor from Washington, but not so simple if your state is chockful of big industries which would quickly over tax state agencies and create chaos in event of a series of labor difficulties.

* * *

Realists Are Puzzled

Governor Maw of Utah, an old fashioned Democrat, who is chairman of the conference, can call loudly for "the restoration of the old freedoms" and a return to something approaching original Jeffersonian democracy. But some others who listen to him are not quite so sure. Among these are Governor Kelly of Michigan, with Detroit in his area, who emphasizes the necessity of a national plan for reconversion, or governor Warren of California, who sees all about him the hordes of workers in airplane plants and shipyards which will not be needed in peacetime, and stresses that this is all part of a national problem; or Governor Baldwin of Connecticut, who views as a national problem the providing of 60 million jobs, which he speaks of as a goal with the certainty of Henry Wallace.

These three men are Republicans. They do insist that the states must have a share and do a part, positively exercising their responsibility in fields where the state can act effectively. But they are not isolationists at the state level. They are realists.

* * *

IN THE formal speeches here, if not altogether in private analysis, two conflicts have arisen with administration policy as enunciated by President Truman. States still insist upon preservation of unemployment benefit systems within the states, even though the President in urging Congress to set up a compromise federal-state system to provide higher benefits, pointed out that some state benefits still are hardly adequate.

Insistence upon early dropping of wartime controls runs counter to administration policy, also indicated by President Truman when he signed the OPA extension bill, and suggested that some controls must run into the postwar period.

* * *

Fight Is Healthy One

States are well-heeled for their new fight against too great extension of federal control. They have unemployment compensation reserves of over six billion dollars; surpluses of over four billions invested in War bonds, and have reduced over-all indebtedness more than 25 per cent since 1940.

Also, in urging more state control, they point to the success of the Selective Service system and rationing administered by local boards.

John Howard Payne, author of "Home, Sweet Home," was probably the first American actor to appear on the British stage.

State Executives Facing Difficult Period

Governors Ponder "Job Of Work"

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich — Being governor of a state is again becoming a job of work.

This sticks out at the formal sessions and in-between conversation of the more than 40 governors gathered here for their annual conference in this isolated vacation retreat. The beautics of the island cannot blot out, but rather they emphasize, the local worries that most governors brought here. These include the early signs in war industrial areas of unemployment incident to reconverting to peacetime production; the big plants once whirring with the sounds of war being emptied of workers and standing as a challenge to provide peace-time jobs, strikes here and there, some of the annoying jurisdictional variety.

STOKES

An interesting psychological situation exists among the governors comparable to the era when the country emerged from the depression.

During the depression, they were saddled with a problem too big for their handling. Their treasuries were depleted and unable to stand the load of giving jobless citizens even meager necessities. They had to rely on Washington and its federal treasury. They got the Washington habit, which was unavoidable. It was conducive to a spirit of dependence.

* * *

Hard To Draw Line

As the nation began to emerge from the depression, they stood up at such sessions as this and reasserted the necessity of shaking off the Washington habit. But the trend was only in its infancy when the war came on, and Washington again became supreme.

Now, as the country begins to look toward the end of war and the postwar period, the governors are rising again and demanding that the states and localities shake off Washington controls. But they find themselves in a perplexing state of mind as to where the line can be drawn.

Price Hike Granted On White Potatoes

WASHINGTON, July 5. (AP) — The OPA today authorized an increase of 30 cents a hundred pounds in the ceiling price for white potatoes grown in Missouri and Kansas. It granted a boost of 35 cents a hundred for those produced in Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

Effective tomorrow and through July 21, the higher prices were allowed to compensate for poor crops resulting from adverse growing conditions, OPA said.

Retail ceilings for potatoes grown in these states will be increased about a half cent a pound.

The new FOB shipping point ceiling for U. S. number one potatoes grown in Missouri and Kansas will be $2.80 a hundred pounds while the ceiling in the other three states will be $3.05 a hundred pounds.

City Feared Facing One Of Worst Shortages Of Milk In History

With a 1,000 gallon-a-day shortage in Lubbock at present, when milk is usually at a surplus, the city and West Texas are facing one of the most acute milk shortages in many years, and one due to increase during the coming weeks.

This was revealed by a report of the Grade A Dairy Producers association after a Tuesday afternoon meeting here and was credited to lack of rainfall, war-time shortages, and high prices of labor and feed.

An appeal is to be made to the Office of Price administration and the War Food administration for a hike in the ceiling price for consumer milk, amounting to a cent and a half per quart at retail stores, to combat the increase in cost of labor and feed, and the scarcity of both. It is understood by OPA that the hike in price will go to the dairyman, directly.

42 Dairies Operating

In 1942 the city issued 70 permits to dairies here and only 42 are still in business. Over 2,200 dairy cows were inspected for tuberculosis in 1944, and in 1945 the number had fallen sharply to 1,427. These statistics compare to an increase in Lubbock's population of 4,000 in the three years, according to the issuance of rationing books.

Shortage of protein feed is one of the main causes of the milk shortage, plus the increase in cost that may occur. Local oil mill heads say that the supply of this feed on hand will last but from 60-80 days and that no relief is due before October of 1946 due to the severe damage to cotton crops caused by dry weather.

Feed Shortage Critical

Oil mills report they face "the most critical shortage of protein feed in history" and that at present they are able to supply less than one third of their calls.

Local dairy producers must compete for this short supply against cattlemen from eastern New Mexico and throughout this section of Texas as the pastures are in poor condition and the stockmen have cattle dying daily. These animals are too weak to ship to market or pasture.

Producers will be forced to buy their feed, meal and cake, at some market outside the country and mill officials say this will hike their prices from $7 to $10 per ton for feed.

Rainfall reports for the past 38 years show the mean to be 8.62 inches. For the period from January 1 to July 1, 1945 ranks as the lowest with a fall of but 2.46 inches. In 1917, recalled by pioneers of this section as one of the worst drouth years in this area, the rainfall for the same period was 2.97 inches. Rainfall in 1927 was 4.47 inches, third lowest. Lack of rainfall is intensifying the feed shortage.

Walter Breelow, a four-county dairy supervisor of this section, said that his surveys and inspections showed that many persons in cities and towns were forced to go to the rural sections and buy milk where they found it. In a nearby town alone this practice resulted in 35 cases of undulant fever.

Labor, Feed Prices Up

The association report said that the price of milk, originally set in 1942 by OPA at 14 and one-half cents per quart, retail, was based on the large growth of feed and pasture in this section. The producers are asking the price hike to combat the rapid rise in cost of labor and feed.

Letters are being mailed to all parties who will be able to aid the drive for more milk, through higher prices, and another meeting, open to the public, has been called for Monday, July 9 at 3 p.m. The meeting will be in the district court room on the second floor of the county courthouse.

WFA officials from Dallas, Cy Evans and D. B. Short, were present at the last meeting.

G. G. Gilliland is president of the directors of the association and Frank Gray is secretary. Other directors are E. W. Brown, Glenn Hackney, Clayson Fuller, L. A. Howard and D. R. Hopkins.
