COTTON LOSES $5 PER BALE IN SELLING MOVEMENT

ALL GAIN MADE SINCE FEDERAL REPORT LOST

REACTION ATTRIBUTED TO HEAVY PROFIT TAKING SALES

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 12.—The selling movement in the New Orleans exchange swept cotton to new lows for the day at noon today with prices from 101 to 104 points below the previous close, losses of $5 a bale from Saturday's prices. While December rallied within seven points of the level at which they stood when the government report was made public, last Thursday, some of this recovery was lost in later trading.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The price of cotton dropped $4 a bale in the New York cotton exchange today, increasing to $15 per bale net decline from the high level reached last Thursday upon publication of the government report.

The reaction was attributed to heavy liquidation prompted by a marked improvement in the weather which may help the crop to that of a year ago. The selling movement disclosed a weak technical position resulting from the recent heavy buying and the decline seemed to undermine confidence. December contract, which was at 147.2 cents a pound after the government estimate of a 12,892,000 crop was received Thursday at 22.90 cents a pound when the market closed Saturday, declined 22.65 cents.

Corn Prices Drop Six Cents Bushel

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—Waves of selling orders overwhelmed the corn market today and smashed prices down in some cases nearly a cent a bushel. Reports of delayed improvement of the corn crop outlook of late brought about general unloading on the part of traders who have been counting on chances of crop failures. Corn closed unsettled, a cent to a cent and a half lower, at 1.14 to 1.14 1/2; oats 1-8 off to a shade higher; and provisions varying from 12 cents setback to a rise of 15 cents.

TWO WOMEN INCLUDED IN LIST PLANNING TO SPAN OCEAN

(By Associated Press) NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Notwithstanding failure of the search for the monoplane 'Old Glory,' and the withdrawal of four other projected flights, three planes today remained in the trans-Atlantic air adventure.

Miss Frances W. Grayson, Long Island student aviator, said she intended to fly to Europe with a pilot and navigator in a Sikosky Amphibian plane, while Miss Ruth Elder at Tampa and Captain Robert MacIntosh, at Dublin, reiterated their determination not to be dissuaded from attempting their over-seas hops.

Levine and Courtney Out. Captain Anthony Wreford withdrew as co-pilot for McIntosh, and from Paris came word of the cancellation by Lieutenant Paul Tarasov of his plan to fly to America. To these were added the decision withdrawal of Charles A. Levine and Captain Frank T. Courtney from the trans-Atlantic lists.

The Westminister Gazette, backer of Courtney's flight, announced abandonment of the project until next year after notifying the airmen at Corunna, Spain, that he was released from any obligation to carry on. At London, Levine withdrew from the adventure, and made plans for a round the world flight in 1928. Captain Hinchcliffe, Levine's pilot, said he had decided to start eastward on an endurance flight: Wednesday or Thursday, with Karachi, India, as his probable destination.

Royal Wrecker Recalled

The monoplane Royal Windsor in which Phil Wood and A. C. (Duke) Schiller had planned a trans-Atlantic flight, is at Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, awaiting favorable weather for a return flight to Old Orchard, Maine. They have decided not to fly the Atlantic.

Captain Rene Focke, French ace, whose trans-Atlantic plans received a severe setback when the navy department cancelled leaves of absence to two of his crew, Lieutenant Lawrence Curtin and Ensign Stephen Edwards, from New York, called the French government in order to learn its attitude on his flight before announcing definite abandonment of his expedition.

While the projected flights were being abandoned the search for the 'Old Glory' was carried on in the North Atlantic by the steamer Kyle chartered by the New York Mirror in which Phil Payne, passenger on the plane, was managing editor.

BOY ESCAPES FROM BREATH TAKING RIDE

(By Associated Press) NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Sept. 12.—Hanging on to the tail of an airplane 3,000 feet above ground held no terrors for Vincent Taylor, 17, of Hackensack, until a shooting star narrowly missed connections with the plane and himself, the youth said today in describing his unorthodox flight.

Taylor was last night an involuntary passenger on the air mail plane piloted by L. Ponton D'Arce from Teterboro Airport to Huddlefield, a distance of 30 miles. While attempting to help shove the plane into the wind as it was taking off he became entangled in the struts of the tail skid, and was unable to free himself or to attract the attention of the pilot. He stayed at "high altitude," he said. He stayed at "high altitude," he said. He stayed at "high altitude," he said.

APPEAL FILED IN COOK CASE

SUPREME COURT ASKED TO DECIDE MUDDLE ON JURISDICTION

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the Arctic explorer, today petitioned the supreme court to decide whether federal district court for northern Texas, in which he was convicted of using the mails to defraud, had authority to place him on probation.

Sentenced on November 21, 1923, to 14 years and nine months at Leavenworth, Dr. Cook asked the district court to modify the sentence on probation under a law providing for such clemency but which was enacted after he commenced serving his sentence. The district court granted his request over the objection of the government, which contended that the act was unconstitutional and that the court had lost control in the matter because he had commenced serving his sentence. The circuit court of appeals reversed the district court.

Views Different. In asking the supreme court to review the case, Dr. Cook asserted that the circuit courts of the sixth and ninth circuits had taken a different view, holding that federal courts could place on probation prisoners who had commenced serving their terms, and that similar rulings had been made by numerous district courts. He also said the eighth circuit court of appeals in the case of Glenn Murray from Nebraska had asked the supreme court for instructions on the subject.

(By Associated Press) OLNEY, Texas, Sept. 12.—H. H. Butler, 55, of Spur, is dead and W. B. "Buck" Bryant, pioneer resident of the Olney territory is out on $5,000 bond as the result of a shooting affray in front of the Bryant home, five miles east of Olney Sunday night.

The shooting is said to have been the culmination of a grudge of long standing. Butler was formerly a resident of Montague county and until about two years ago lived on a farm near the Bryant homestead.

At the time of his death he still owned his farm there and made frequent trips here on business.

One Is Questioned. Paul Haygood, 35, who lives in the same community was held for questioning. According to the story told officers Butler and Haygood were in a car passing the Bryant home. Laley, 62 was shot to death in his downtown drug store, were still held today and were subjected to further questioning, while officers pursued various clues in their efforts to solve the mystery. Mrs. Laley, an eye witness to the shooting, was still so shaken by her experience that she was able to be of little aid to the officers.

Grapples With Assailant

Laley waited on two men who entered his store, five blocks from the heart of the business district, selling one of them a cigar. As he rang up the sale on the cash register, one of the men grabbed at the money, and Laley, a rather powerful built man for his age, grappled with his assailant, whose right arm he seized. The man drew a pistol with his left hand and fired, the bullet entering Laley's lungs at close range. The two men then fled. Revised Rate On Coast Shipping Is To Be Asked I.C.C.

(By Associated Press)
HOUSTON, Sept. 12.—C. E. Holloman, transportation manager of the Houston Chamber of Commerce, brings the news back from New York that steamship companies operating between Houston and Atlantic ports likely will ask the Interstate Commerce commission to revise its recently consolidated southern rate case in order to permit the unrestricted movement of commodities from the Atlantic seaboard to Gulf ports.

He found, he said, on his New York visit in connection with the matter, that some steamship companies were not satisfied with the new scales, even though the former rate on certain commodities would be increased. Those companies, he said, have found that competition with railroad rates probably will demand action to protect commodity movement through the ports.

The railroads themselves, Mr. Holloman said, have discovered wide discrepancies. If the rates are published strictly according to the order, which is due to go into effect December 3, some rates from California to the east will be cheaper than from Texas to the east. In some other cases rates from points east of the Mississippi river to points west of that stream will be lower than from same points east of the river to points in the river itself.

After slashing Morris' throat the negro ran into the station apparently bent on robbing the place. He met Mrs. Morris and stabbed her in the shoulder and then ran out a side door.

LOCAL CITY LEAGUE CHAMPS BEAT SLATON IN DOUBLE BILL HERE

THIRD INNING OF EACH GAME BRING VICTORY

TERRY AND SHEPARD VICTORS IN FIRST OF BIG SERIES

The Wholesalers, city league champions of Lubbock, defeated the North Side club, Slaton city league champions, in the initial two games of the five game, inter-city series here yesterday afternoon in a bargain day bill by taking a double header with the scores of 1-0 and 2-1. In both games it was a pretty exhibition of pitching. "Terrible" Terry, manager and pitcher of the Wholesalers, battled with Vandorf, ace moundsman of the North Side nine, in the initial game and Chester Shepard, stellar infielder of the locals took the box in a duel against Cummings of the visiting aggregation in the nightcap.

Score in Third
The initial game was won in the third session when Vandorf walked "Buddy" Brothers, centerfielder of the Wholesalers and with a single the fleet homing outfielder scored from second. In the last game the locals scored their three runs in the third frame when R. Karr drew a walk and advanced to second on a fielder's choice; then with a two-base clout from the bat of Raymond Ater scored; Ater scored with Marshall's single and when the play was made for Ater at the plate Marshall took second and scored on Terry's rap to left field. The Slaton champs scored their first run of the bargain day bill in the fifth frame of the night-cap when Shepard allowed Youctas a base on balls and Henry singled sharply to left field that was misjudged by Marshall to allow Youctas to score. The visitors again tallied in the sixth session with Mitchell's single followed by a three base rap from the bat of Buck Johnson.

Eight Entries In Big Balloon Race Land In Safety

(By Associated Press)
DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 12.—With the landing of the Belgica, Belgian entry in the Gordon Bennett international balloon race near Syracuse, S. C., today, the total number of balloons officially reported landed rested at eight. Two others were reported sighted and five still are unheard from, out of a total of 15 entrants in the race, which started here Saturday.
Of the bags reported landed, the Belgica has made the best distance, according to Ray Cooper, general manager of the race, who is compiling the records of the various pilots.
Reports that a white balloon unidentified, had been sighted over Sandersville, Ga., headed in a southerly direction, led the committee here to believe that E. J. Hill, piloting the Detroit, United States entry, was leading the race, with the best chances for victory. If it has been sighted in Georgia, according to Cooper, the chances of victory for the American entrant are good, as the wind currents are favorable in that part of the country.
The entries which have not been reported are the Lafayette, France; the Rex, Italy; the Munster, Germany, and the Barmen, Germany. There has been no definite report from the Detroit, Hill's entry.

MATTY'S CONTROL BEST

MAJOR LEAGUE RACE TIGHTENS AS CARDS WIN

GIANTS AND CARDS TO OPEN CRUCIAL PLAY AT MOUND CITY

(By Associated Press)
Further changes had been effected today in the bunched race among four clubs for the National league pennant. Once again the fourth place club is only two and one half games away from the leader.
Cards Tie For Second
Hopes of the world's champion Cardinals flamed anew as the club whipped Brooklyn again and climbed into a tie for second place with the New York Giants. Only two games separates St. Louis from first place, and the Giants, matching that pace, will invade the Mound City tomorrow which may be considered an elimination series. The Cards and Giants will try to crowd in seven games in four days, and one of the contenders if not both, may fall by the wayside.
Fred Frankhouse, a rookie hurler from Houston, pitched St. Louis to a 5 to 0 win over Brooklyn yesterday. He let the Robins down with four hits. It was his second successive victory in the majors.
Cubs Beat Giants
Hack Wilson's 26th home run of the season started Chicago off toward a 7-5 defeat of the Giants. Virgil Barnes blew up in the sixth and the Bruins put over a half dozen runs. Hal Carlson was in trouble in the fifth but the Cub infield stopped a rally after the Giants had put across three runs. Cincinnati captured both ends of a double header from Boston, 8 to 4, 16 to 5. Donohue and May each went the full route. McQuillan was batted hard in the second game and Dick Rudolph, star pitcher with the Boston Braves of 1914, took his place. The Boston coach gave two runs and cut lose with a wild pitch. Pittenger led the Cincinnati attack in the second game with four hits out of five attempts. Purdy, Coast league outfielder with the Reds, collected six hits out of the double header.
The Yankees were two games removed from the American league pennant today. After having beaten the St. Louis Browns 21 times in succession the Huguen fell before Milt Gaston's tight pitching, 6 to 2. Gaston granted only five hits one being Babe Ruth's 50th home run of the year. The Babe is now five up on Lou Gehrig and 66 game homers away from his record of the 1921 season.
New York added another record in yesterday's game, nevertheless, Ruth's homer brought the team total to 141, one better than the season mark made by the Chicago White Sox of 1924.
Blue's double and Hayes' single in twelfth frame gave Washington a 6 to 5 win over the Chicago White Sox. Judge opened the twelfth with a triple but Stewart, who ran for him, was declared out after crossing the plate on a sacrifice, for leaving third before the catch. The Senators worked four pitchers, Lisenbee working the last three innings. Lyons was charged with the defeat. The Sox were outlit, 16 to 11.

TEXAS LEAGUE SUNDAY RESULTS
Fort Worth 2, Wichita Falls 1.
Dallas 6, Shreveport 2.
Houston 2, San Antonio 8.
Beaumont 7, Waco 6.

It is a matter of record that pitchers, after leading the majors, usually follow up with a poor season. George (White) of Cleveland is certainly living up to that precedent.

SCRAPPERS GO INTO SECRECY FOR BIG BOUT

DEMPEY AND TUNNEY CLOSELY GUARDED IN CLOSING DAYS

(By Associated Press)
LINDOLN FIELDS, CRETE, Ill., Sept. 12.—Amid secrecy so strict that not even newspaper men will be allowed to watch workouts, Jack Dempsey will complete training for his battle to win back the heavyweight crown from Gene Tunney at night and under the glare of ring lamps similar to those that will light Soldier field September 22. This radical deviation from ring custom, rivaled in heavyweight fight history only by the absolute seclusion of Georges Carpentier in training at Manhasset, N. Y., for his fight with Dempsey in 1921, went into effect last night when the former champion worked four vigorous rounds after all but one newspaperman had left the camp.

Pledged to Secrecy
Fledging the scheme to secrecy for the day, Dempsey outlined the plan he believes will lead to regaining of the laurels lost to Tunney on the night of the big rain in Philadelphia last fall. Early in the day Jack yoked lightly at the punching bags for four rounds and met the correspondents in a half hour "fanning" without revealing the new departure worked out by Manager Leo P. Flynn.

Then shortly before 9 p. m., when all of the newspaper men but a lone guest for the day had departed, lights suddenly blazed up over the auxiliary ring pitched on the track lawn. With all but camp attaches excluded, a half dozen sparring partners warmed up about the ring and Dempsey appeared in full fighting regalia.

Speed is noted
Fighting with a speed of ferocity that exceeded anything the former title holder has displayed at any previous point in the comeback training campaign for either Jack Sharkey or Tunney, Dempsey disposed of the training partners in rapid succession.

With the workout over, Flynn then announced that Dempsey had boxed before the newspaper men for the last time before entering the ring against Tunney. Jack will work nightly next week and finish heavy training Sunday. The scribe will be admitted only for the exercise work scheduled now for every afternoon until Dempsey hangs up training gloves for the fight that probably will prove the last of the former heavyweight king's career—win or lose.

Tunney May Bar Even His Manager
LAKE VILLA, Ill., Sept. 12 (AP)—Secret training, hidden even from Manager Billy Gibson and newspaper men, is Gene Tunney's program from today on for the remaining ten days preparation to defend his heavyweight championship.
"I have my own ideas of training," said Tunney. "There are certain punches I want to perfect and there is no use letting the entire world know the style of attack I am going to use in the Dempsey fight. I made a study of Dempsey when he defeated Jack Sharkey and I intend to fight him according to the deductions I have made after seeing that fight."
Then there are other things I want to do in private, aside from boxing. I have less than two weeks before the fight, and I intend to put in a strenuous week and take things easy for the last few days before the contest.

Goes at Dizzy Pace
In mid-summer heat, Gene traveled at a dizzy pace through five rounds yesterday in what may be his last public ring appearance before September 22. More than 4,000 fans, men, women and children, the largest crowd to see the champion in action since he arrived at the Cedar Crest club, watched Tunney speed through two snappy sessions with Jackie Williams, and then punch Billy Vidabeck around as usual for three more.

Before the boxing he did four full rounds with the light and heavy bags to warm up, but he went to church instead of doing his daily five miles on the road in the morning.

Gentlemen:—
A word of appreciation for your Lucky Strike cigarettes.
On May 29th last, I was operated upon for gastric ulcer and appendicitis. The day after I wanted a smoke real badly and asked my doctor. He advised strongly against it stating that even a slight cough would "rip me open" and cause additional pain, and if you've had the experience you know that to be so. However, I had a package of "Luckies" in my coat pocket and persuaded my nurse to get them. She did and I smoked eight that day. To make it short I smoked all the two weeks at the hospital with nary a cough or throat irritation or the least discomfort, and by the way, smoking was prohibited at the hospital but nurse kept my door closed and window open so I enjoyed my smokes to the full extent.
I am just a school teacher in a small town and not setting a good example to my pupils because I smoke, I suppose, but there is certainly "pep" in Lucky Strikes.
Sincerely yours,
J. A. McPherson

Thought For Today

It is better to go to the house of mourning than to the house of feasting.—Ecclesiastes vii 2.

They truly mourn who mourn without a witness.—Baron.

Father — Daughter

"If my children are of age I won't stop them from doing something I would have done myself when I was their age."

That was the answer Mildred Doran received when the 22-year-old Michigan school teacher told her father, William Doran, Sr., that she "wanted to be the first woman to fly across the Pacific."

It has been a long time since the senior Doran was Mildred's age. But perhaps when the Flint farmer gave his permission he remembered some daring dream of his youth that his own parents or his neighbors thought just a bit foolhardy.

In his young days, of course, women were different, or so we are led to believe. Unemancipated, shrinking, over-dressed, more or less servants of man to do his bidding without question—that is the picture handed down to us by our own elders.

Girls these days for the most part know what they want to do and do it. There is more opportunity for them to exert their ambitions than there was when Mr. Doran was a youth.

Mr. Doran is to be congratulated for having progressed with the times. We know many parents who have not gone ahead like that, who are living in the past and who would have refused permission or threatened. Mr. Doran seems to us the best kind of a father in spite of the tragic ending of the flight.

Conservative

VERITABLY P. T. Barnum was leasing way back when he made that statement about there being a sucker born every minute. There was not a man noted for conservative statements, but here he must have felt that he should watch his step and not overstate the thing.

By which we mean that, rather than there being one born every minute, there must be minutes when as many as ten or twenty are brought into the world. Sophisticated New York furnishes the finest modern classic in skepticism that we've run across.

Down in New York a man demonstrated to a customer a machine that would change $1 bills into $50 bills and you couldn't tell the difference. Just to show him it was real he placed a $1 bill into the machine and sure enough, a fifty came out the little slot on the other side.

The customer had run a successful restaurant business, but this had the restaurant business, even in New York, beaten to a frazzle. So he dug into his jeans and paid $4999 for the machine. The salesman wrapped it up and the patron took it home. Somehow, it wouldn't work at home, though. It never did work after that demonstration.

The moral of this has something to do with greed.

The Shorter Day

A SHORTENED working day might not work for every industry. For industries are different, and hours must be suited to meet the needs. But in notably one great industry, America's leader, steel, the eight-hour day has proved a benefit.

THE PLAINSMAN

Says:
School began today and leaders of the several educational organizations in Lubbock county estimated that the total scholastic population would be close to the $600 mark when the figures are finally tabulated. That speaks well for the people of Lubbock county.

The South Plains of Texas may not have as many miles of paved roads as some other sections of the nation but it DOES have plenty of fine schools. Look back ten years and contrast the schools of Lubbock county with those of today. You find a handful of rural schools over the county, most of them, if not all of them, frame construction. In the city of Lubbock—then a straggling village—the central ward school was the only one in operation, although the George M. Hunt was erected that year. Today there are nine buildings, all of them good and six of them as efficient and as modern as can be found almost anywhere.

Thousands of dollars are spent every year for public education in Lubbock county and its trade territory, not to take into consideration Texas Technological college, but that money will be returned with interest, when the fruits of knowledge are harvested.

That Man on Avenue Q says he's still wearing his straw hat because he had to use the money for his hat but to some honest debts and that some of the fellows who have been kidding him about clinging on to his summer derby might have been done the same thing had they not sacrificed principle for style.

Wayne E. Wheeler is dead and buried, and regardless of whether you admitted him personally or shared his opinions on the liquor question, you must admit that he stood firmly by his convictions. The Plainsman has never seen a personal follower of Wayne E. Wheeler, yet he sees in the life and works of the man those qualities of consistency which are so needed in the make-up of the average individual of today.

That Girl on Broadway says school started today and ended her little brother's vacation, which meant the beginning of a vacation for her and her mother.

There are more than 2,000,000 volumes in the United States Library of Congress and The Plainsman believes some of the volumes might commit them all to memory and still not take any prizes in an intelligence contest.

Paris fashion dictators say that the "five omeur dress" will be the most popular for fall. This seems to be undeniable proof that the ladies are going to wear more clothes in the cooler seasons.

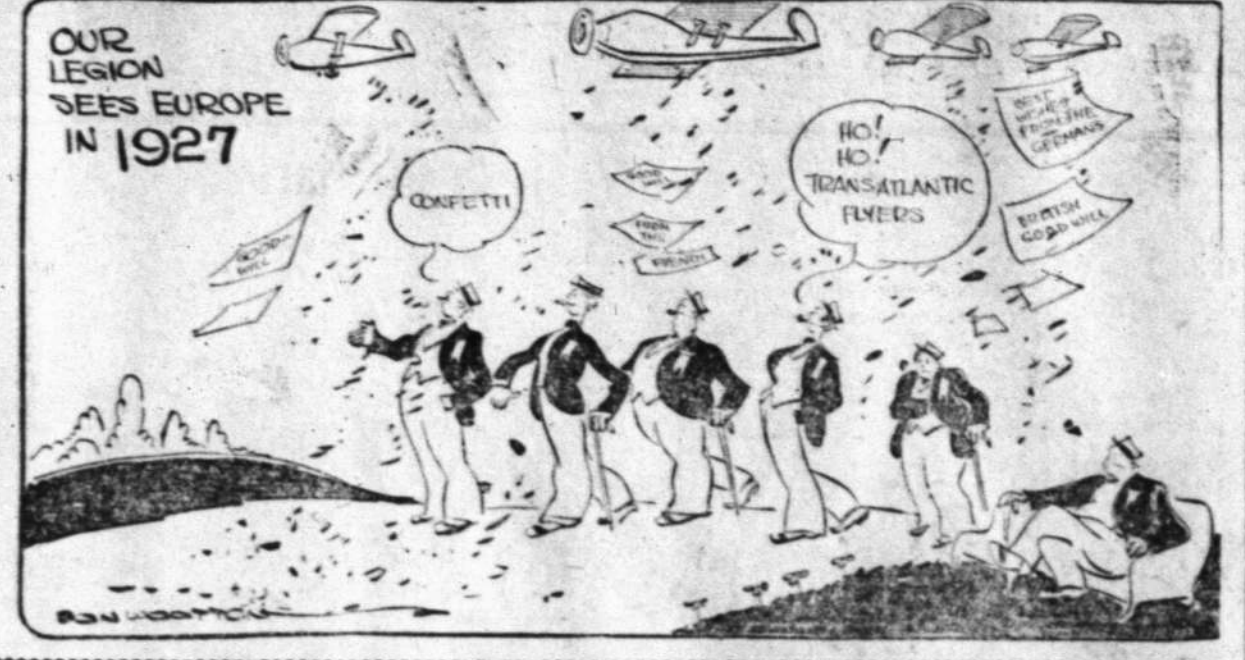

The average American husband spends more for clothes each year than his wife does, according to statistics compiled by the United States Department of Labor. He ought to look how much more clothes he wears.

MUCH BUILDING ACTIVITY

Lumber dealers in Cleburne tell us that at the present time there is about as much building going on as has ever been experienced in the history of the city, which the Times believes is correct, although the activity may not be so noticeable as in former years as the town has now spread to such proportions that there are many sections into which the work is divided.

The present outlook from all indications is that this forward move will be steady throughout the days to come.—Cleburne Times.

PICCOLOS TO PICK

From piccolos to picks and from saxophones to sacks of cement might be considered either a degradation or an elevation according to the ability of the musician of the musical possibilities of the one who makes the comparison. The latter instruments are, of course, more adaptable to producing pecuniary benefits to the wielder, however, and the coin of the realm is certainly essential when one plans to enter a university, although musical instruments are as surely an asset after one gets there.

COTTON GOOD IN EAST TEXAS

LABOR SITUATION WELL CARED FOR BY EAST TEXAS C. OF C.

The Associated Press, LONOVIS, Sept. 12.—With cotton picking in full swing through East Texas, calls for more than 100,000 field hands have been met by the labor bureau of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce Agricultural Department working in conjunction with the Federal Labor Bureau at Dallas. Certain sections of labor to headquarters here in most cases these extra pickers have been shifted to other districts which were reported short.

Equalization of the farm labor situation has been accomplished satisfactorily thus far, and all reports have been met with a resort to outside calls for pickers. Demands are coming in every day and, as picking prices are good, this section no loss of labor to other sections is expected.

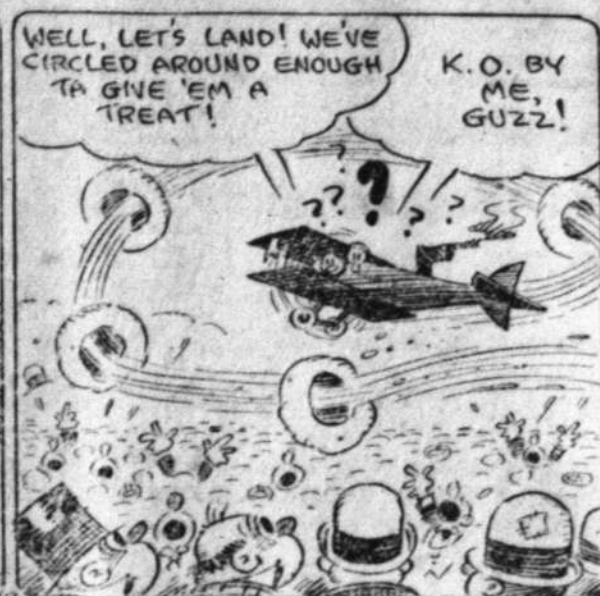

Texas is encouraging. R. M. Kelly, president of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, reports, Mr. Kelly, who has just returned from a trip over this section of the state says that while weevil infestation has cut production to some extent, a very good crop is being harvested and the excellent prices received has imbued the farmers with a spirit of optimism which is reflected in business conditions.

Prosperous Year
The East Texas cotton crop, Mr. Kelly points out, is but a fitting climax to a prosperous agricultural year. East Texas farmers this year made the heaviest food and feed crop they have harvested in several years. In many instances counts report enough food to carry them without outside buying. Such crops as were placed on the market, fruit and truck brought reasonable prices.

Mr. Kelly declares that East Texas today is in good shape and predicts an active fall business. The crops in East Texas, he points out, were made cheaply this year, due to the cramped conditions which were brought about by the 1924 cotton failure, and as a result the farmers are in better shape financially than they have been for some time. Extensive planting of fall feed crops and cover crops is in progress already over East Texas, Mr. Kelly said.

Jack Lockwill, the Lion Tamer

(Creator of Frank Merriwell)

By Gilbert Patten

But, instead of springing, the lion stretched itself submissively on the ground, upon its stomach. The creature's manner was that of a big dog that has met and recognized his master. Jack, quick to perceive the animal's compliance, walked deliberately forward and stood almost over the beast. "Get up slowly, Saunders," he said, "and walk away. Don't run."

Saunders, shaken by terror, lifted himself to his hands and knees and crawled away a short distance. Then he scrambled back and ran again, as hard as he could.

Then Jack Lockwill did a thing that astounded the watching men still more. He bent, and gently scratched the lion's ears! The animal began to purr like a cat.

Jack couldn't restrain his laughter. When he had seized the whip and dashed out to face the lion, the thought had been in his mind that perhaps the animal was the tame one that Raoul Delano had told him about. Still he had known he might be mistaken, and he had faced the risk daringly. Now he spoke quietly but commandingly. "Come on, Leo," he said. "Get up."

NEWS AND VIEWS OF OIL OPERATIONS ON THE SOUTH PLAINS

EDITED BY EARL THOMPSON, PHONES 13 OR 14

CABING NOT YET SET IN BOLES TEST HERE

Tolbat and Simms are still setting casing in their No. 1 Boles well in the northwest of the southwest of section 21, block 8, G. & S. P. 1, survey, five miles southeast of Lubbock in Lubbock county. Tolbat said this morning that they discovered that they had made a mistake in the thickness of the strata above the sand and consequently they can lower the casing several feet without danger of cutting off the sand. Mr. Tolbat was of the opinion that this work would be completed today. He also stated that every time the bottom of the hole was reached considerable gas and oil would show. The operators are of the opinion that the Tolbat and Simms No. 1 Boles will make a well when the water flow is shut off.

RICHTER NO. 1 SETTING CASING AT 500 FEET

The A. S. Simms No. 1 Richter, located in the southwest quarter of section 17, block X, of the John Glyn survey, Hale county, is under-running and setting 10 inch casing at 500 feet today. All necessary equipment is on the ground for the completion of this test to the contract depth. Mr. Simms says the log of his well is running about 20 feet higher than the Bledsoe well, which was drilled 600 feet east of the Simms test in 1920. Mr. Simms expects to get production from either the 925 foot sand or the 1,300 foot, which were found by the Bledsoe well according to the log of the Bledsoe well.

CLOVIS TEST RESUMED

Drilling has been resumed on the Clovis Oil and Gas company test 12 miles northeast of Clovis, in Curry county, New Mexico, according to Mr. Steinberger who is an official of the company and also the drilling contractor on the job. The hole at present is bottomed around 1,000 feet, the contract depth is 2,500 feet.

QUEER RELICS OF OLD EMPIRE ARE LOCATED

TOMB OF LIVING DEATH FOUND IN CISTERN IN TURKEY

(By Associated Press) CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 12.—Treasures of the Byzantine empire and a tomb of living death have been discovered in an ancient cistern by Professor Elmud Tiley, an American attached to Robert College.

For two years this young American has been exploring the maze of ancient cisterns and mysterious passages beneath the city of Constantinople. His work has always regarded merely as wells he has proved to be Byzantine cisterns, many of them rich in relics and art of the period of the Greek emperors.

This test is contracted to go 4,000 feet unless oil or gas is found in commercial quantities at a lesser depth.

Coolidge Meets Special Session Adherents Today

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Returning to his desk in the White House, after his summer vacation in South Dakota, President Coolidge today was greeted with the opposition of the republican leadership of the senate and house to a special session of congress or of the senate alone.

Senator Curtis of Kansas and Representative Tilson of Connecticut were among the first on the president's calling list. Both were emphatic in their declarations that there was no necessity for a special session. The leaders conferred separately with Mr. Coolidge who went over briefly with them the prospective legislative program.

The president, they said, warned them of the prospective demand for increased appropriations by government departments and emphasized his relation to prospective tax reduction, which Mr. Tilson believed might be $200,000,000.

A special session of congress for food control legislation has been urged on Mr. Coolidge. Others have advocated a special session of the senate alone to dispose of the Vard-Smith election contests.

Birth Place Of Sam Houston For Sale

AUSTIN, Sept. 12 (AP).—General Sam Houston's birth place at Lexington, Virginia, is for sale, the local chamber of commerce was informed today in a communication from Edwin Thompson, present owner.

December contracts which sold the people of Texas might be interested in preserving the place as a shrine to the memory of one of the state's most courageous "pioneer fathers."

The old Houston home consists of a 75 acre plot and a 12 room colonial brick house, located seven miles from Lexington on the Lee highway.

There are 1,304,200 persons in the United States whose names are Smith.

Injunction Over Dempsey-Tunney Fight Is Denied

(By Associated Press) CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—Judge Otto Kerner in circuit court today refused to stop the Dempsey-Tunney fight here September 22, when he denied an injunction to restrain Jack Dempsey from boxing until he carried out an alleged contract with the Coliseum club of Chicago to fight Harry Wills, negro heavyweight.

While Dempsey was getting out of court proceedings, Tunney was becoming embroiled in legal matters. Thomas M. McHale of New York, who said he was Tunney's social secretary last year at a salary of $15,000, filed suit against the world's heavyweight champion for $15,000, alleging breach of contract.

McHale asserted that he acted as business secretary and confidential adviser to the champion until Tunney decided to engage Eddie Fagan, former Yale athlete, in the fight.

(Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 12 (AP).—The Grand Army of the Republic will not disband as long as two of its members are left, if Frank A. Walsh of Milwaukee, commander in chief of the organization has his way.

He voiced his insistence in commenting on talk heard at the annual encampment opened today, that next year's gathering might be the last one held by the Grand Army. No invitation should be received for next year's encampment and there was a feeling that Grand Rapids might be made permanent headquarters for the meeting.

Grain Market

CHICAGO TRADING CHICAGO, Sept. 12 (AP)—All grain went down in price early today with corn taking the lead. Fine weather and big receipts broke the corn market. Opening 1-8 to 3 cents lower, corn continued to descend, wheat started 3-8 off to 1-8 cent up, scoring additional gains and then underwent a general sale. Oats were weaker. Provisions displayed relative strength.

MEETING AT BIG SPRING CALLED TO DISCUSS HIGHWAYS, R. ROADS HARRY HILL, TAKEN TO SITE OF MOTHER'S DEATH, ADAMANT

Jed A. Rix and Charles Nurdyke, county judge, who were elected directors of a new highway association organized August 11 in Tahoka for the purpose of boosting the hard surfacing of highway number nine from San Angelo to Amarillo, have been notified that a meeting of county judges, directors and secretaries of chambers of commerce along the route will be held in Big Spring Wednesday.

To Discuss Railroad In addition to discussion pertaining to highway number nine, citizens of West Texas will also talk over the proposed project of the Plains to Gulf railroad. The association backing this proposed outlet to the Gulf was formed at the Tahoka meeting last month. Plans of the association are to connect Sterling City and Lamesa with a railroad which will be a connecting link between the plains and a proposed road from San Angelo through San Antonio to Corpus Christi.

Admits Firing Shots The Light said that McKenzie, when arrested five hours after the shooting, admitted that he had fired the shots but maintained that he fired in self defense. He was suffering from two bullet wounds when detectives found him. Street was shot when he stepped up to a suspicious character with the words "what are you doing here boy?" A volley of shots rang out and Street collapsed, firing twice as he fell to the pavement. The gun man dived into some shrubbery and escaped through a hall of bullets from the Convicted in El Paso McKenzie was convicted of killing a night watchman named Moser in El Paso three years ago and sentenced to from five to 99 years. He escaped from the Eastham prison farm last July. Street was working overtime at the time of the tragedy in an effort to check a series of one man hold-ups.

School Days, Rule Days, Depopulate City's Sand Lots

Sand lots were unpopulated for a few hours today. At 9 o'clock the bells of school-dome announced the opening of the season of learning.

Huckleberry Pinnix and Becky Thacker laid aside marbles and dolls and walked with dejected spirits to books and crowded rooms. The "old swimming hole" lies placid and clear awaiting the plunge of youth at 4 o'clock. Vacant lots are lonely with miniature evidences of those who "play house."

The registration this morning, although not yet complete, indicates a substantial increase over that of last year. Enrollment in High School has already reached over 1200, and there's a possibility that 1,500 students will be in Lubbock High School this year. With a registration of more than 225, already, the largest class in the history of the school will be graduated in 1928.

Underpriced Selling Of Fall Merchandise EFFECTIVE NOW!

We believe that this store is inaugurating today, the most far-reaching STORE POLICY ever introduced in Lubbock!

A VOLUME BUILDING CAMPAIGN!

We offer no apologies. The fact is, we are very proud of the growth of our business, but our every thought and act is an expression of a very determined desire to UNDERSELL any store in West Texas. Underselling---in our mind means only one thing: whatever the article may be and whatever quality that article may possess, it MUST be priced LOWER.

To us--VOLUME--ENORMOUS VOLUME--must come--to make it possible to follow out such a store policy.

To impress every one on the South Plains that such a policy is our greatest desire---we are DELIBERATELY---UNDEPRICING for the rest of the month of September---our entire stock.

Why so early? Because WHEN WOULD LOWER PRICING BE MORE APPRECIATED---MORE UNEXPECTED THAN AT THE VERY BEGINNING OF A NEW AND THE MOST IMPORTANT SEASON?

In a nutshell---we think our UNDERPRICING for September will be more effective in our plans for creating the largest STORE VOLUME on the Plains---than if done later.

From day to day now---we are going to tell you of our big, Fall stocks; of the different departments---and what we mean when we say---UNDERPRICED!
