Memorial Day Services Held

Memorial Day services at the cemetery by two service organizations and the flying of Old Glory served primarily as the observance of the holiday here Tuesday.

Both the VFW Post 6721 and its Auxiliary participated in special memorial services at Englewood Cemetery at 10 a.m. Tuesday, and the VFW members put out flags around town and down Division Street -- a usual custom on any flag day.

Luther Powers Post 438, American Legion, also held memorial services at the cemetery and put out 150 American flags on veterans' graves at Slaton, Wilson and Southland. The memorial service here was at 11 a.m.

The day was observed as a holiday by at least half -- maybe more, of the businesses in Slaton.

Nine Slaton VFW and Auxiliary members, and four of their children, went to Lubbock Tuesday afternoon to participate in the huge "loyalty" parade. Slaton GI Forum was also represented in the parade, which was reported to include some 6,000 persons. An estimated 35,000 people looked on at the declaration of support for U. S. servicemen.

Water Importation Topic for Rotary

"West Texas' Future Water Supply" was the topic for the Slaton Rotary Club program last Thursday when Tom McFarland, executive director, High Plains Underground Water District, was guest speaker.

The plans and need of moving water to West Texas were outlined by McFarland, and he showed slides of how a similar project was accomplished in California.

McFarland made it clear that importation of water is both engineeringly and economically feasible, and will be accomplished. The only question apparently is, how long will it take?

The speaker pointed out that persons in the state and nation are beginning to realize the great agricultural economy of the area. When the Texas Water Development Board was first formed, West Texas was almost entirely left out of the plans.

After heavy and loud protests, and further study, McFarland pointed out, 70 percent of the effort of the board is in moving water west. McFarland sees importation of water from East Texas first, then possible out-

Slaton Earns Recertification

Congressman George Mahon informed The Slatonite this week that the Department of Housing and Urban Development has approved the recertification of the workable program for community improvement for Slaton.

In his telegram, Mahon pointed out that "recertification means the community is eligible for the several types of Federal aid which became available to it when it received its original workable program certificate."

Sidewalk Sale Slated Friday

Slaton's annual Sidewalk Sale, a promotion of the retail trades committee of Slaton Chamber of Commerce, is scheduled Friday, June 2, with merchants around the square offering big values in and out of their stores.

A sample of the money-saving specials can be found in Section II of today's Slatonite. Look over the special section, then visit the stores for big bargains on this once-a-year sales day!

And, if the weather keeps the merchandise off the sidewalks, be sure to go inside the stores for the same one - day - only specials. Shop and save with merchants you know and trust!

C of C Program Is Vital, Says Wallace

Tommy Wallace, Slaton Chamber of Commerce president, reviewed the program of work outlined by the C of C and stressed the importance of community unity in a talk to Slaton Lions Tuesday.

"These objectives represent collective community thinking, and they are things we must accomplish if we are to grow, maybe even survive," the banker pointed out.

"This is not a job for 15 directors on your Chamber...it is a job for all citizens interested in the welfare of their community."

Asking for ideas and cooperation, Wallace said a number of committees were active in persuing the goals which were set up following a "community clinic" last year.

Speaking on the economy of the town, Wallace recognized the importance of agriculture -- pointing out that two committees were working in this area, but added there was a great need to diversify. He indicated the C of C industrial development committee has set up a foundation which it hopes to activate in the near future, and asked citizens to give serious consideration to its plans.

Proclamation

WHEREAS, the Beautification Committee of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce is actively engaged in promoting a clean-up, fix-up program in our community during the month of June, and

WHEREAS, the City of Slaton is both willing and anxious to cooperate with all its citizens in making our town a better place in which to live, work and play, and since the committee is placing an emphasis on the city square in launching the campaign,

THEREFORE, I, Jonas Cain, Mayor of the City of Slaton, do hereby proclaim the month of June as "BEAUTIFICATION MONTH" in Slaton, and do further invite and encourage all citizens to join in this worthwhile project to make our city more attractive.

Signed this 29th day of June, 1967.

REV. BINKLEY TO ABILENE, NEW PASTOR IS APPOINTED

The Rev. David A. Binkley ended three years service as pastor of The First Methodist Church here Sunday.

Following his final sermon, Rev. Binkley and his family enjoyed a church luncheon in fellowship hall as members of the church took noon meals to the church.

The Rev. C. A. Holcomb, Andrews, will be the new pastor here. He was appointed by Bishop O. Eugene Slater Friday in the closing session of Northwest Texas Conference annual meeting in Abilene.

The Binkley family was planning to move to Abilene this week, where Rev. Binkley will be on sabatical leave. Methodist ministers are allowed a "sabatical year" -- taking leave one year out of seven, if they desire. Rev. Binkley had not taken leave in 27 years.

Rev. Binkley announced that he will be associated with Goodwill Publishers, Inc., in Abilene, serving as a divisional manager. He will present a program of Christian character development for families.

Prior to his pastorate in Slaton, Rev. Binkley was in Seymour. He has also served churches in Memphis, Abilene (Fairmont), Anson, Baird and Roby. He was a chaplain for two years during World War II.

He and his wife, Lila Belle, had two sons -- both married. John has farming interests at Memphis, and David is a cashier in the First State Bank at Rankin.

Beautification Month Designated for City

June has been proclaimed as "Beautification Month" in Slaton with the Chamber of Commerce and the City of Slaton spearheading the drive to clean up, fix up and paint up.

M. G. Davis, chairman of the beautification committee, announced that plans call for the drive to start around the city square. "We want to clean up our own 'back yards' before we ask others to do the same," he pointed out.

In cooperation with the city, the drive will include repair of sidewalks around the square, planting of flowers on the city lawn, repair and changes in sidewalks and drives around the municipal building.

Mayor Jonas Cain this week proclaimed the "Beautification Month", urging all citizens to join in the campaign to make Slaton a more attractive community.

All residents and businessmen are urged to clean up their premises; owners of vacant lots are asked to burn off dead weeds and grass; all junk that should be hauled off should be taken to the alleys where it will be collected by city crews.

Davis pointed out that several areas are being prepared for flower planting, and invited any citizen or organization to volunteer services in maintaining the beds. Besides preparing the corners of the city square for flower beds, an area in front of the Whitehead building and another east of United Supermarket have been prepared. An old sign was also removed from the front of the Whitehead building.

"We want ideas on how to do a better job," said Davis. Suggestions are needed for beautifying the area where the old bandstand formerly stood and around the monument on the northwest corner of the square.

To provide for an easier flow of traffic around the Municipal

Youth Booked On Obscene Call

A check on Slaton Police activities this week showed investigation of a break-in and arrest of a youth for using obscene language on the telephone.

A break-in was reported at Slaton Lumber last Thursday night, and $25 worth of merchandise was taken.

Police Chief Robert Breedlove reported that a 15-year-old boy was arrested for making an obscene phone call. The arrest came after a week's investigation.

Girls' Summer Program Begins

Registration for the girls' summer recreation program will be held Monday at the junior high gym, according to M. W. Kerr, high school principal, who will again direct the program this year.

Mrs. Joe Holland, president of the association, announced that programs have been planned for girls who will be 8 years old by June 1 and for those through 15. Activities begin Monday and continue through June 30.

Registration fee is $3 per girl. Families with more than one eligible girl may register them for $2 each. The first week's program will be from 1-3:30 p.m., and activities for the last three weeks will be from 9 a.m. until noon.

The program will include swimming, basketball, volleyball, soft - ball, free - throw, darts, ping pong, ring toss and bongo board.

Summer School Program Slated

The Slaton school will begin its summer school program June 5 at 9 a.m. in the Evans school building. This program will provide children who will enroll in the first grade in September of 1967 with a school background that will enable them to do more effective work in the regular school term.

This program is divided into two distinct parts, the first of which is for students who may have difficulty with the English language. Any student entering the first grade in the Slaton schools for the first time is eligible to be enrolled in this program if he has a language barrier.

The second part of the program is for children who will enter the Slaton schools for the first time in the first grade and come from relatively low-income areas. The families of these childrer must meet guidelines of economic ability as set out by the Office of Economic Opportunity. This is the Head Start Program conducted each year.

The program will extend for a period of eight weeks, thus ending on the 28th day of July. Slaton schools have participated in some type of summer program for the past several years, and the experience derived from these programs has shown that students participating in this summer work do a more satisfactory type work in the regular term than those who have

S-Fe's Bagby To Be Honored

John W. Bagby of Slaton, chief clerk to the superintendent of the Santa Fe Railway's Slaton division, has announced he will retire July 1, after nearly 41 years of service.

Friends and associates will honor the veteran railroader at a reception in the Committee Room over the freight station at Slaton, at 2 p.m. Friday, June 2.

Born at Roanoke, Tex., in 1902, Bagby entered service at Slaton as a track payroll clerk in 1926, and has been continuously employed in the division office at Slaton ever since. He has worked as timekeeper, senior clerk and accountant, and in 1948, he was promoted to chief clerk to the superintendent.

Bagby, a widower, will continue to make his home at 755 South 9th street, Slaton. He is the father of Mrs. B. D. Sorrels, whose husband is roadmaster for the Santa Fe at Slaton, and Ronald R. Bagby, who is a Santa Fe yard clerk at Lubbock. He has five grandchildren.

Area Still Looks For Good Rain

The Slaton area was still looking for a good rain Wednesday, after watching heavy showers and thunderstorms hit all around the area.

A general rain fell Saturday night, leaving from about .20 of an inch to .40. However, only light sprinkles followed Sunday. Cool weather prevailed Tuesday as promises of rain hovered around the area, but the moisture fell to the north in the Petersburg-Floyd la areas.

The weatherman still gave some hope for rain this week. Temperatures climbed only to the 80's through the week, and the low Tuesday night was 56.

RAIN SOUGHT IN BANK AD

Never let it be said that Citizens State Bank doesn't exhaust every avenue to help its farmer friends.

Inside today's issue of The Slatonite is a full-page "want ad" calling for a two-inch rain. Publisher Speedy Nieman has been telling the bank (and everyone else) that it pays to advertise in the newspaper.

Bank president Tommy Wallace challenged him to prove it this week. He bought a page advertising for rain, on the condition that Nieman pay for the ad if it didn't show results in two weeks. The contest started Wednesday night and the deadline on two inches of rain comes June 13.

CITY SETS EXAMPLE---With June designated as "Beautification Month" in Slaton, the City has launched improvements around the Municipal Building. Plans call for repairing sidewalks and curbs around the square, and planting flowers in certain areas. Curbs have been cut so that traffic can go through the parking lot on the south side of City Hall.

Outdoor Cooking Takes Sau Turn With New Barbecue Re

For many folks in Texas, the first breath of spring is a faint whiff of charcoal smoke. Outdoor cooks leap to action on warm weekends, and new cook-out recipes sprout like spring buds.

The people who bake buns make it their business to know all the ins of the cook-out. So, from Mrs. Baird's Bakeries comes several burger suggestions for the epicures of the grill.

First, when selecting meat, be sure the color is bright red. A little fat adds flavor. If you have beef ground to order, have two or three ounces of suet ground with each pound of lean meat.

The less you handle the patties, the juicier and more tender the burger will be. Pat the meat loosely into shape. While broiling, turn the burgers only once. Do not turn the burgers back and forth.

Burgers are at their best when served on buns that are warm or grilled. If you like garlic, brush the insides of sliced buns with garlic butter before warming them. Or, buns may be wrapped in foil and heated on the back of the grill while the burgers cook.

Some of the best cook-out ideas come from the deepSouth where the barbecue is an institution. The secret of success is in the sauce. Here, brought up-to-date for modern ingredients, is a tangy sauce used for many years throughout the South. It's yours for the cooking from Mrs. Baird's.

BIG INTEREST--Though he is not old enough to join an organized team, Kenny Taylor can be batboy and dream of how he'll hit a homer and win a game in a few years. He landed the batboy's job on his father's team. Kenny, 6, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Taylor. Experiences at this time of life are very important, points out Miss Rucker in the accompanying article on child development.

to begin regular use of the library, since it will increase the variety of books available. (It wouldn't hurt the parent to pick out a book or two for himself. One has to keep prepared for all the questions that the preschooler has in mind.)

Exploration, observation, and utilization are keys to a child's activities. Everyday processess of life are fascinating to the preschooler. He wants to observe water turning into ice, a compass turning to North, a magnet picking up a nail. Magnifying glasses are almost a miracle to the four - year -old. Has your child ever made butter by shaking whipping cream in a jar? Let him try it -- he'll be exuberant at his discovery.

One of the failures of many parents is overlooking the opportunities available. A parent should never neglect the opportunity to expose a child to the things about him. The museums, libraries, and special displays are numerous. The fire station, police station, railroad depot, airport, and even the animal shelter provide a child with endless learning experiences.

Any child of four or five should have been taken to Prairie Dog Town by now. Parents don't have to "search" for things to do -- they simply have to learn to recognize the things to do.

Children also need creative opportunities. A hammer, wood scraps, and a few nails can keep the preschooler entranced for many days of fun and learning. Clay is also a good learning experience and encourages self - expression. Children love to paint -- give them the chance.

Summer is really a good time for this. Post them in the backyard, with plenty of paper, lots of sunshine, and let them "paint away." Then after they have completed their masterpiece, spray them down with the garden hose. They will love it!! If you just can't see your way clear to have to have paint in your house, it won't change the child's whole future, of course, but be sure you don't tend to keep him from other outlets for his feelings.

Painting with water, out of doors, satisfies children, too, while it pleases their mothers because it is clean. Remember: Childhood is a messy business, but it won't last forever. In fact, it will be over before you realize it, and once it is past, there's no going back!

The preschool child is also entranced in a world of make-believe. Dr. Robert M. Goldenson, co-author of "Understanding Children's Play," states that in taking different "pretend" roles the child becomes better prepared for real events, such as a visit to the doctor, or dentist. Make - believe play also allows children to "play out feelings of anger, jealousy, and fear."

The stages between four and six are the most active periods of pretend play, and therefore, should be encouraged. The development of imaginary playmates is common at this and parents should become overly concerned. These unseen playmates will be discarded if they are treated as a game and if enouch other activities and companions are provided.

The materials for dramatic play do not have to be elaborate to be effective. Mother's old dresses, shoes, hats, jewelry, and discarded make-up is all the little girl's desire. Discarded kitchen utensils such as measuring cups, tea strainers, and etc. are excellent play items and should be added to a simple nurses' kit, a few pieces of furniture, and a baby doll with a change of clothes.

Boys, on the other hand, could use a discarded safety razor (minus the blades of course), an old hat, ties, and boots from father's outdated wardrobe. Little boys need a basic gun- so he can be a sheriff, cowboy, Indian, soldier, robber, or, policeman, which ever he desires.

This is where too many parents fail -- a child who is "pretending" does not need the real thing -- or what is the value of an imagination. Children of this age will use most everything in their play. A yard of cotton material is a tablecloth, a queen's robe, or a baby's blanket.

The perfect cowboy outfit, complete from hat to spurs, may not be half as grand as what a child could imagine from a coil of rope and wooden gun. The rope may next become a deep sea diver's tube or the tether cord of a guided missle.

Don't you be a parent who robs his child from the chance to imagine things much grander than that in real life.

Last but not least, the parent of a preschooler should provide activities which will encourage large muscle development and provide a means of energy release. Swing set, climbing bars, rope ladders, and gym sets are ideal if the family can afford such luxuries.

But these expensive items are not the only means of encouraging physical development. Ladders, barrels, saw horses, smooth boards, or a wheelbarrow can provide the same results. A wagon, tricycle, and hoop are also good physical outlets. And who ever thought of letting a child grow up without a tire to roll!

The number of toys a child has is not nearly as important as a balanced selection of toys. A child should have access to toys that help him achieve PHYSICAL DEVELOPMENT--his muscles, reflexes, sense of balance, agility, and strength. MENTAL DEVELOPMENT is encouraged by giving a child experiences that will intrigue his sense of curiosity, satisfying his desire for learning about his environment, and developing a keen sense of judgment.

Creative activities which provide an opportunity for self-expression such as music, painting, molding, and pounding will encourage his EMOTIONAL DEVELOPMENT. Materials which stimulate the dramatization of adult activities and encourage conversation will satisfy a child's need for SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT. And a child's toys must be balanced if the child himself is to be balanced, physically, mentally, emotionally, and socially.

Dr. Goldenson observes: "Play is much more than a way to kill time or keep youngsters out of mischief. It is a prime instrument for growth during every phase of a child's life. It stretches his imagination; develops resourcefulness and good work habits; teaches collaboration with others and how to use skill and ingenuity in solving problems. At the same time, different kinds of play can help a child discover interests and abilities, and encourage him to explore his feelings in healthful activities."

The responsibility of selecting toys and activities lies solely upon the parent. So as you choose play materials, keep your child's growth in mind. Measure him only by himself --not his brother or sister, his playmates, or yourself. Remember that each child is an individual in himself and has characteristics, traits, skills, and feelings like no other one child in the world!

He may be ahead in one respect, slower in others. Notice his budding interests and skills --then provide materials to lead him gradually into more advanced activities. At any moment, a child is a "composite picture" of what went before, his present absorption in a new phase, and hints of what will come. And -- YOU the parent are the photographer.

Legion Baseball Team To Open Here Saturday

Slaton's American Legion baseball team, sponsored by Luther Powers Post 438, opens its district play here Saturday night against Post 808 of Lubbock (Dunbar).

Game time is 8 p.m. at Babe Ruth Park. Slaton has won two practice games against Cotton Center and Post, while another last Saturday against Anton was rained out.

Legion Cmdr. Ray Dickie invited sports fans of the area to attend the opening game Saturday night.

Probable starters for Slaton include Claude Stricklin, p; Doyle Ethridge, c; Kenneth Winchester, 1b; Dennis Verkamp, 2b; Carlton Bradshaw, 3b; Dixon, ss; Jerry Burrell, lf; Richard Washington, cf; Roy King, rf.

Hook Simmons is manager of the team, and C. E. McCoy is the coach.

Cmdr. Dickie pointed out that, in addition to providing for the development of stronger bodies, a sense of good sportsmanship, and an awareness of citizenship responsibilities, American Legion Baseball has also been a stepping stone to major league stardom for more than 2,000 youngsters.

LITTLE LEAGUE GAMES

The Tigers remained undefeated, and the Indians claimed their first scalp of the season to highlight action in Slaton Little League the past week.

The Cardinals and Giants split during the week, leaving the Cards just one-half game back of the Tigers prior to Wednesday night's game. The Tigers met the Yankees last night, starting the second round of play in the league.

INDIANS 13, DODGERS 12

The Indians took a 10-5 lead early in the game Tuesday but had to hold off the Dodgers to claim the first win for the Tribe. Greg Lester socked a grand-slam homer to spark the Indians. Eddie Jones had two hits, including a solo homer, for the Dodgers.

CARDS 5, GIANTS 0

A real pitching duel was seen in the Monday game with Clyde Kitten winning a shutout for the Cards on a two-hitter. The Cards were held to two runs on one hit by Al Lewis for four innings, but Kitten rapped a homer in the fifth and Mike Busby gave up one more hit--a total of only three hits for the Cards. Mike Lewis had a double for the Giants.

TIGERS 16, DODGERS 8

The Tigers rolled to their fifth win in a row last Friday. The Dodgers had only three hits for three Tiger hurlers but used walks, four errors and a hit to tally seven runs in one inning. Pinkert, Whaley and Gil Escobar had three hits each for the Tigers, while Moore had a double for the Dodgers.

CARDINALS 8, YANKEES 3

The Yanks outhit the Cards by 8-7, but the Cards took advantage of eight Yank errors for an 8-3 win last Thursday. Jackie Edwards went all the way for the Cards and collected three hits. Jerry Hopper had three hits for the Yanks, including a home run.

GIANTS 20, INDIANS 7

The Giants erupted for 12 runs in one frame and counted 17 hits in rolling past the Indians May 24. Mike Lewis socked two home runs and Jerry Winterrowd had four straight hits for the Giants. Al Lewis and Mike Busby gave up six hits to the Tribe. Raymon Gonzales and David Gossett each had two hits for the losers.

SOUTHLAND NEWS

MRS. TOMMIE WILKE

Hello, to all of you out there in newspaper land. Wish you would call me your news. The telephones down this way have been on the "blink" again, so perhaps you did try to reach me, and failed. I am sorry you didn't get me, try again, will you?

8TH GRADE PARTY

The eighth grade graduating class, or at least part of it, went out on the town one night recently. First they went to the "Town Crier" in Lubbock, where they partook of a most delicious meal. Then they went to see the movie, "The Sound of Music." Those students attending were Joan Gindorf, Darrell Hill, Breonne Winterrowd and Douglas Smallwood. One of the mothers of this class, Mrs. Paul Winterrowd, and one of the teachers, Mrs. Betty Hall and her daughter, Tommie, of Lubbock, also attended. This group enjoyed this outing very much.

Herbert Hoover once had this to say about the Bible: (Quote) "Whether it be of the law, business, morals, or that vision which leads the imagination in the creation of constructive enterprises for the happiness of mankind, he who looks for guidance in any of these things may look inside its covers and find illumination."

Mrs. L. L. Lightfoot, mother of Mrs. Paul Winterrowd, arrived in Southland Saturday by bus for a visit with the Winterrowds. Mrs. Lightfoot is from Ft. Worth.

DRIVER'S ED

The following students from Southland are taking Driver's Education over at Wilson: Breonne Winterrowd, Joan Gindorf, Gary Lester and Tommie Jean Wilson. Good luck, kids!

AT WEDDING

Mrs. Selma Klesel and Yours Truly attended the wedding of Miss Marilyn Edwards and Terry Melugin at Grace Lutheran Church in Slaton Saturday afternoon. May God bless this young couple and their marriage.

The Seniors and their sponsors returned from their trip Sunday afternoon. As usual, they had a wonderful time. We were sorry to hear that one of the senior girls, Carmen Martinez, became sick the very first day and didn't get to finish the trip. Thanks be to God that this class returned to their homes safe and sound.

CHURCH DEDICATION

Edmund and Yours Truly, along with Mr. and Mrs. James Riney and Cathy and Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Zieschang, attended the dedication of a new church, Our Savior Lutheran Church, in Lubbock Sunday afternoon. This church is located at 220, North Quirt. Later, we were supper guests of Mrs. Libby Schneider.

Darrell Wilke will be attending a District Round-Up for Luther League District officers which will be held at Camp Chrysalis, Kerrville, June 4-6.

Daniel M. Siewert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Siewert, is currently seeing action in Da Nang, South Vietnam and his new address is: H.N./U.S.N.R. 796540 H. & S. Co. 1st. Bn. 1st. Mar. Div. F. P. O. San Francisco, Calif. 96602. Why not drop him a letter?

TO COLLEGE

Here are some of the people who will attend college this summer: Patsy Dunn, Judy Klesel, and Mrs. James Mason will be going to Texas Tech, and Mickey Mason will be going to LCC.

Please call me your news during the coming week!

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

During the summer thousands of students find jobs and become taxpayers through our income tax withholding system. The Internal Revenue Service reminds these students that they should be sure to file an income tax return next Jan. 1, even though they may make less than $600.

Students who work only during the summer are usually entitled to a refund. Unless they file an income tax return, the Government has no method of giving them a refund of the taxes they do not owe.

Scotch Foursome Set For Sunday

The Slaton Women's Golf Association will sponsor a Scotch Foursome Sunday, June 4, at 4 p.m.

Prizes will be awarded and a hot dog supper will follow.

Everyone is invited.

EDITORIAL

A town is only as progressive as its efforts to maintain what has been built.

This is a good point to remember in connection with the Slaton Chamber of Commerce's Beautification Committee plan for a "Beautification Month" in our community.

Spring or the start of summer is traditionally the time to fix that sagging fence, clean trash and debris from in and around homes, paint the trim, or refurbish the whole house.

Downtown Slaton and homeowners have a continuing job if our town is to stay bright and fresh. A number of downtown merchants have "painted up and fixed up" recently; many others work to keep their firms in top notch condition.

The Slatonite joins the Chamber and the City in urging residents to join the "Beautification" spirit in June, to clean up and fix up, to help free the city of eyesores, to give our town a better image to visitors.

OPEN LETTER TO TEENS

Plan for Worthwhile Summer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article appeared in an El Paso newspaper and was written by Dale Tate, parks and recreation director there. He is the son of Mrs. N. P. Tate of Slaton, who celebrated her 72nd birthday Monday. She is also the mother of Mrs. Claude Cravens, Mrs. Wayne Kenney and Hazel Branscum of Slaton. Another son, Arthur, lives in Borger.)

Dear Teenagers:

Last week, while driving through Ft. Bliss, I observed several hundred young men who were actively training to serve our country. I advise anyone, with apprehensions about the new generation, to observe you teenagers in action.

It is true that your opportunities for a full and rewarding life are greater than at any other time in history, but it is also true that you have the capability, willingness and vim to accept any challenge. You have my admiration.

The summer season is here and most of you have changed school activities to other uses of time. You are indeed fortunate if this can be leisure time activities. A large segment of our population have leisure time, but not all have the vitality and courage of youth.

Leisure time is not for idleness and loafing; but it is time you can choose your activities. Many parents and teenagers feel that they must have employment with financial remuneration to feel worthy. Sometimes it is necessary for you to supplement the family income and by so doing you gain valuable experience in the art of finding and holding a job. However, there are many gainful activities that can be just as worthy as holding a job.

A civilization of leisure is a civilization of culture. There is time for music, art, flowers, literature and other interesting things to accomplish. Should you desire to spend your leisure in the pursuit of one of these, our world will be the better for it. This is the one period of time in your life that an entire summer can be devoted to something you really want to do.

One rewarding use of leisure time is that of service to others. Most of you are quite capable of earning money. You do not have to prove this and it is not necessarily of the most importance, but earning the respect and gratitude of your fellowman is. This is done by giving of one's self. Have you ever considered working in the church yard; being a little league coach, being a candy striper at one of our local hospitals; or a recreation aid at one of the City's 17 recreation programmed areas? Volunteers are needed at each location. To work as a volunteer you must make contacts to secure the appointment and hold it. Thereby you can prove to yourself your own worthiness, become better acquainted with your own talents, and gain a personal satisfaction of accomplishment. It will also help when you do desire a paying job. There is always the question of - "What have you done?" or "What can you do?"

Dear Sir:

I am seeking information on a branch of the Terry family, which apparently lived in your community in the 1920s.

On June 10, 1926, Mrs. W. W. (Bill) Terry died in confinement near Spring Valley, Ark., and buried in the Spring Valley cemetery. According to the Arkansas obituary, Mr. Terry and six children left almost immediately "to stay with relatives in Texas."

Since, in the death certificate, Slaton was listed as the residence of this family, I am in hopes that your newspaper might carry a more complete obituary than the Arkansas one.

I would very much like to find out what happened to Mr. Terry and his children, especially whether or not any of them are still living in your city, and how to get in touch with them. Any help that you can give me would be very much appreciated.

Most Sincerely,
John R. C. Sanderson
711 Sumner
Topeka, Kansas 66616

P. S.--Mrs. Terry's maiden name was Adell Wright, born in Caldwell Couty, Tex.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Many of the Slatonite's back papers were claimed in a fire several years ago. If any reader can be of help to the writer, it would be appreciated.)

Dear Mr. Nieman,

Please add my name to your list of subscribers to the Slatonite. Having been born and raised there we still have many friends and relatives there, so always enjoy reading the Slatonite.

Respectfully,
Mr. and Mrs. E. H. (Buddy) Hoffman

Building, the City is opening drives to the parking area south of the city hall. City crews have already been at work on this project. Plans call for planting flowers alongside of sidewalks leading to the Municipal Building, also. Repairs are also set around the drive-in mail box near the post office.

Members of the beautification committee include Davis, Mrs. O. B. Allen, Ray Dickie, Mayor Cain, and Mildred Page. Davis invited anyone to contact members of the committee if they have suggestions or wish to help with the drive.

Cain said that owners of junked autos or other items too heavy to be moved to alleys are invited to call City Hall to pick up the junk.

Parents of these children are requested to visit throughout the school program, and they will be asked to donate time to the fulfillment of the program.

A snack will be served in the morning at about 10-10:30, and lunch will be served without cost to these students. Each student will be given a physical and dental examination. Any physical defects found will be further checked and corrected if at all possible. It is essential that all children be there on time the first day.

A bus will operate for those children living outside the city limits. If you have students to ride the bus, please contact the school office, Mr. T. C. Martin, or Mr. O. B. Allen.

Six Flags Sets Daily Schedule

ARLINGTON - Starting May 27, Six Flags Over Texas is now on its summer schedule of operating seven days a week from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. through Labor Day, Sept. 4.

The popular historical - theme entertainment center located midway between Dallas and Fort Worth had been operating on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays only.

Angus G. Wynne, Jr., founder of Six Flags and president of Great Southwest Corporation, owner/operator of the Park, called the 1967 Spring operations "the best ever. In 1966 we opened on April 16 and drew 162,468 visitors through May 22. This year we opened on April 29 and, despite six days of rain and six less operating days, we still drew 158,315 visitors through May 21."

"We also broke the all-time, single-day attendance record, with 28,822 visitors on May 8, topping the previous high of 27,850 set June 2, 1964," Wynne added.

Big problems still to be answered are those of terminal storage and distribution. Money, too, is a problem in the tremendous undertaking with billions of dollars needed.

McFarland mentioned that recharging the Ogalla formation had been under close study in connection with the project, expecially if water was contracted for and the area could not handle all of it during non-peak periods.

McFarland was introduced by Dr. David Hughes.

STORM MISSES CITY, SOME HAIL REPORTED

Rain Soaks Slaton Area

Slaton and the area finally received much - needed rainfall the past week, measurements ranging from 1.5 to 3.5 inches, after thunderstorms had flirted with the area for several weeks.

And, while some sections had damaging weather, Slaton and the immediate area escaped the hail and flash - flooding which was prevalent in nearby cities.

Slaton received about .50 of an inch Thursday night amid tornado reports and downpours which struck around Lubbock. Hurricane - force winds and a small twister rapped the edge of Lubbock and 5.7 inches of rain was reported Thursday night.

After Slaton had another gentle rainfall Saturday night, the storms did an encore around the area Sunday. Hardest hit were communities near Brownfield and around Plainview with several tornado sightings also reported.

Slaton recorded about .50 of an inch Saturday and near an inch Sunday night, with the latter rain being accompanied by stronger winds. Hail damage was reported in some sections around Slaton over the weekend.

Golf - ball sizehail and larger was reported in the Union community west of Slaton and around the Gordon community south of Slaton. Some farmers reported their cotton was hailed outin the storms. Minor damage was also reported to some farm buildings by the big hailstones.

Some areas around Slaton recorded 1.5 inches or more Sunday, while the readings in Slaton varied from .6 to about 1 inch.

The rainfall proved mostly beneficial in the Slaton area, although some farmers will have to replant crops. It was the first good, general rain in the area since last fall.

Considerable damage resulted in the Thursday night storm at Lubbock, with heavy damage reported at Lubbock Municipal Airport where 92 mph winds struck just before forecasters at the weather bureau sighted a twister. Damage was also reported at Reese AFB, west of Lubbock.

Brownfield, Littlefield and other points reported flash flood situations in their cities Thursday night. As much as 10 inches of rainfall in short periods were logged in some spots over the South Plains.

Runoff water from the Lubbock area moved down the canyon north of Slaton over the weekend, with water covering the dam road at Lake Ransom Canyon. The road at the bottom of Horseshoe Bend north of Slaton was washed out, also.

Many roads were closed over the South Plains area over the weekend as a result of the heavy rains.

BANK PAYS OFF ON AD

Although the moisture reports were less than 2 inches in some cases, Citizens State Bank expressed complete satisfaction this week in their "want ad" for rain in last week's Slatonite.

The bank ran a full-page ad, advertising for a general 2-inch rainfall in the Slaton area. President Tommy Wallace conceded Wednesday morning that the "ad brought results."

Wallace and Slatonite Publisher Speedy Nieman made a deal on the ad--if it didn't rain two inches by June 13, the bank got the ad free.

Rain reports were close to the 2-inch mark in Slaton this week, with many areas around logging 3 inches or more since the paper came out last Thursday.

After the paper came out Thursday morning, Slaton was drenched with about one-half inch that night. Additional rain fell Saturday and Sunday -- adding fuel to the fire on the motto that "The Slatonite gets results with its ads."

Wet-Dry Election Suit Set Aug. 21

A trial date of Aug. 21 has been set on a suit contesting the local option "wet - dry" election held in January in Justice Precinct 2.

Judge James A. Ellis Monday morning set the date for 10 a.m. on Aug. 21 in 137th District Court. The trial, which will be conducted before the court without a jury, will be held in 72nd District Courtroom to provide sufficient space.

In the Jan. 14 election, the vote was 1,567 to 1,009 for retaining the sale of alocholic beverages for off-premise consumption. The contestants claim that a "true result" of the election could not be determined because of various alleged irregularities.

Contestants are James F. Davis Jr., Earl Hammett, both of Acuff, and the Rev. W. O. Donley, pastor of Roosevelt Baptist Church. They brought the suit against the contestees, County Judge Rodrick L. Shaw and County Commissioners Arch Lamb, Max Arrants, Les Derrick and Alton Brazell.

At the hearing Monday, Judge Ellis reaffirmed his ruling made at the first hearing on the pleadings March 31 that the question was not material whether the absentee box election judge was properly named by the Commissioners Court and whether the court properly designated an absentee box location since the Texas Election Code makes these actions discretionary rather than mandatory.

He also renewed his earlier ruling that questions involving the participation of voters in the City of Slaton, since Slaton would not be affected by the outcome of the election, were not proper in an election contest suit.

At the hearing, attorneys for the contestants contended that, in addition to the allegations of irregularities previously presented, many of the voters in

Classifieds DO Get Results!

It DOES pay to run a classified ad in the Slatonite, or, as Bob Kern said, even if it doesn't really pay, neither does it cost very much!

According to Bob, he got 42 per cent positive results from an ad he ran last week wanting to give away (quick) seven puppies. He figures if he runs it another time this week and gets another 42 per cent, that'll make 84 per cent and he'll have only 1 1/2 dogs left.

However, he says they are $25 dogs and getting more expensive all the time, so a 50¢ classified ad is money well spent. By the way, at this writing, Bob had four puppies left, and it'll be first come...first served!

Rotary District Meeting Here

Slaton Rotarians will host a District 573 Assembly June 15, it was announced this week by B. B. (Doc) Castleberry, club president.

Registration starts at 8:30 a.m. next Thursday for the district meeting. The opening session is scheduled at the First Methodist Church at 9:30 a.m., and the meeting will end about 4:30 p.m.

Lunch will be served at the Community Clubhouse, with about 100 Rotarians expected to visit the city. Castleberry said several committees were busy preparing for arrangements.

Industrial Drive Looms

The drive to develop Slaton through industrial growth and a more diversified economy is one of the top goals on the list of work projects for Slaton Chamber of Commerce.

This activity is channeled through the industrial development committee, with Carroll McDonald as chairman. The committee has been real active recently, and the state has approved a charter for the establishment of the Slaton Industrial & Development Foundation, Inc.

The initial program of work for the foundation is being planned, and the Chamber hopes to activate the foundation in the near future. This will be done through pledges for charter membership in the organization.

The committee has formed a plan of financing, which would include a tie-in with a special Small Business Administration loan. The local foundation would put up 20 percent of the required capital and obtain a loan for the remainder.

"A part of the project facing us at this point," McDonald said, "is making people aware of the importance of industrial development in Slaton." The committee maintains the belief that great advancements can be made, but only with a united and progressive community.

Here are some questions and answers provided by the committee:

What is the Slaton Industrial & Development Foundation, Inc.?

PROMOTERS OF COTTON---Mrs. O. F. Kitten, newly elected president of the Slaton Cotton Promotion Club, is shown serving refreshments to Mrs. Dub Dunagan, president of the county club; Mrs. Tony Steffens, secretary; Mrs. Glen Payne, vice - president; and Mrs. A. A. Kahlich, treasurer, all new officers of the local club. Cookies and bread on the table were made of cotton seed flour. (SLATONITE PHOTO)

Cotton Promotion Club Formed

BY LAVON NIEMAN

A group of Slaton women interested in promoting cotton met Monday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. in the clubhouse. Speaker for the meeting was the president of the Lubbock County Cotton Promotion Club, Mrs. Dub Dunagan of Rt. 1, Lorenzo.

The 16 women at the meeting were told, "when you can't find cotton products, insist upon them; and when you do find the, buy them". Mrs. Dunagan said that 85% of all products made of fabric is bought by a woman, and this puts a certain responsibility on the women of this area whose livelihood depends on cotton.

Mrs. Dunagan said the Lubbock County club has one specific purpose; "promoting cotton". The main aims of the club are to encourage more items made of cotton to be stocked in retail stores and to make the public more aware of cotton and its problems.

Dues for the club are $1 and the club meets four times a year to keep members aware of trends, research and new information. A newsletter will be mailed out periodically to members.

Mrs. Dunagan asked the women, "What have you done to educate yourself on cotton? Do you notice what materials are made of when you are shopping?"

Two warning tips were given on a new type bed sheet to go on the market made of a synthetic and cotton; and a new type of cosmetic puff that appears to be a cotton puff, but is actually made of rayon.

She said synthetic producers spend $17 to cotton's $1 for promotion. She stressed that "West Texas shoppers can make some of those synthetic promotion dollars ineffective by refusing to buy these products, but we must watch tags very carefully."

"When synthetic producers spend $5 for research, cotton producers spend $1. So," Mrs. Dunagan said, "It is up to us to promote cotton--right here in our area. Merchants will stock what we will buy", she added.

After some discussion, the group of women decided to form a Cotton Promotion Club in Slaton to work jointly with the Lubbock County Club. Mrs. Dunagan suggested the president and vice - president of the local club serve as a representatives on the executive board of the Lubbock County club.

Officers elected were Mrs. O. F. Kitten, president; Mrs. Glen Payne, vice - president; Mrs. Tony Steffens, secretary; and Mrs. A. A. Kahlich, treasurer and member of the membership committee of the Lubbock County club.

At the close of the meeting, those present were urged to tell their friends about the meeting and encourage them to also promote cotton.

It was announced that later in the year there will be a "Sew It With Cotton" contest and a "Cotton Queen" contest to be sponsored by the county club.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served from a table laid with a lace cloth and centered with a miniature bale of cotton, cotton boles and samples of cotton material. Slices of bread made of cotton flour and baked by Mrs. Leo Kitten and chocolate chip cookies made of cotton seed oil and cotton seed flour were served with punch.

For those interested in how Mrs. Kitten made the bread, the recipe is as follows:

COTTON FLOUR BREAD

Measure
1 c. Cottonseed flour
1 c. whole wheat flour
4 c. white flour
Scald
1 c. milk
Add
1 c. cold water, 2 Tbsp. sugar, 2 Tbsp. Cottonseed oil, fresh bacon fat, or margerine, 2 tsp. salt. Dissolve 1 package yeast in 1/4 c. warm water. Add to milk mixture and stir. Add 3 c. flour and beat well. Add remainder of flour and knead until smooth (about 5 min) Let rise in well-greased bowl, in warm place about 1 1/2 hours. Shape into 2 loaves and let rise in loaf pans greased with margarine - about 1 hour. When finger dents remain, it is ready to bake in pre-heated 375 degree oven 45 minutes. Remove from pans and cool.

Slaton High graduates, Jerry Burrell, David Tucker, Pat Wheeler and Rodney Farrell were guests of Dubbin Englund in his aunt and uncle's cabin at Ruidoso, N.M. last week. The group left Slaton Tuesday and returned home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Bunger of Durant, Okla., and Mrs. Pat Schoemer of Houston were weekend guests in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Evans. Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Evans of Lubbock.

Mrs. and Mrs. W. A. Lyman and daughter, Leslie, of Dallas spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. M. E. Morris. Sunday guests in her home were a son-in-law and daughter, Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Gary and Robert L. Cash, a nephew, of Lubbock.

Senior Citizens Hear Eastman

Thirty Senior Citizens met in the Slaton Clubhouse Friday morning to play dominoes, hear a message and eat lunch.

After the opening prayer was given by F. B. Sexton, the Rev. Clinton Eastman, pastor of Westview Baptist Church, led the group in singing with Mrs. Anna Bell Tucker, accompanying on the piano.

Rev. Eastman brought a message on "Treasures That Last" from the 12th chapter of Luke 29-33. After giving thanks for the meal, he joined the group for lunch.

At the meeting, Mrs. W. I. Scudder, who has passed her 90th birthday, reported to the club that her sister - in - law, Mrs. John Scudder, who was living in Wesleyan Home in Georgetown, had passed away. She also was over 90 years old.

BIG RAINDROPS--Tommie Wicker holds two large hailstones which fell in the Gordon area Thursday night. Her mother, Fern Bournes brought them into the bank where Tommie works. The largest hailstone was about 7 to 8 inches in circumference. Mrs. Bournes lives three miles north of Gordon, and the hail was fairly general in that area.

It's a woman's WHIRL

BY LAVON NIEMAN

Are you interested in promoting cotton? If so, members of the Lubbock County Promotion Club ask you to buy cotton products when doing your shopping.

A group of Slaton women interested in promoting cotton visited Slaton merchants Tuesday and asked them to stock cotton items for sale in their stores. Yes, they found a lot of fibers in the stores that weren't 100 per cent cotton.

But, is this the merchant's fault? I say it is not all his fault. After all, he will stock what the consumer will purchase. If we ask for cotton products, that's what he will stock. After all, he must make a living, too, just like a cotton farmer.

Officials of the cotton promotion club make it clear that their purpose is not to ban synthetics but to stress the utility of cotton and its importance to this community.

The ladies shouldn't dwell too heavily on the 100 percent factor. After all, the farmer sells his cotton to mills that produce blends...he doesn't demand that it be used only in 100 percent products.

After one merchant was visited, he asked the question.... "I wonder if I stocked all cotton products in my store here in Slaton if it would keep the farmers and their wives from going to Lubbock to do their shopping?"

It's a two-way street, the merchants need the farmers' business and the farmers need the merchants' cooperation. So what do we do? Might the solution be....Shop in Slaton and ask for cotton products? Slaton cannot grow without the economy that comes from the farming industry and just as the farmers plead with them to promote cotton....merchants plead with the farmers to SHOP IN SLATON.

economic development in the Slaton area, and especially by encouraging industrial expansion and soliciting new industry. This will be done through continuous effort to contact leaders in industry, agri-business and civic development and various other ways clearly stated in the by-laws of the corporation.

Who are members of the corporation?

People who have an investment or interest in the Slaton area and are concerned about the future of both their investment and Slaton. These people will pledge the financial support to launch an initial program of work. Because the objectives of the corporation have to be considered long range, it must be a continuing organization.

Who runs the organization?

A board of directors to be elected by the voting membership of the foundation.

Are the directors allowed to run the foundation as they please?

No. Guidelines have been established in the charter and by-laws of the foundation as to what generally can be done. These guides are not restrictive, but do establish boundaries for the directors to operate within.

What is the status of the foundation now?

It has received approval of its charter from the state and will soon start taking pledges to establish its charter membership. A kickoff meeting is planned soon to explain the program and invite pledges for charter memberships.

Gavel Used At Installation Has History

The gavel presented to Hazel and Ray Ricker Sr. at Tuesday night's Order of Eastern Star installation has quite a history. In fact, it has a 54-year history dating back to 1913 when Hazel's grandmother first used it in the Rebekah Lodge.

Mrs. Ricker's sister, June Jarvis of Dearborn, Mich., used the same gavel in 1938 when she was installed as Worthy Advisor of the Dearborn Chapter of the Order of the Rainbow. Then, in 1959, one of Hazel's nieces used it in Rainbows; her brother used the gavel in 1963 in OES; and her twin nephews each used it in 1964 in DeMolays.

Another niece was installed as Worthy Advisor in Rainbows in 1965 and used the gavel, as well as her daughter, Liz Holt of Petersburg, who used it in OES in 1965.

Hazel and Ray will now use it in their work in OES, and it will be returned in October to Mrs. Jarvis who will use the gavel in the Dearborn Chapter of OES.

Beckers Get Three In Row

When Belva Becker won the honor of being this year's valedictorian of Slaton High School with a 94-plus average, she upheld a family tradition which began in 1931 when her mother was valedictorian at Wilson High School.

Another sister, Belinda, is a 1965 graduate of Slaton High School, and was also salutatorian with a 94-plus average. She, too, received the A. C. Strickland scholarship and is a junior student at Texas Lutheran College.

Belva, the third in her family to receive the A. C. Strickland scholarship, plans to enroll in Texas Lutheran College this fall.

the absentee box did not sign a special affidavit required of absentee voters.

They renewed their objections that many voters were not qualified by reason of insufficient length of residence.

Attorneys asked for a statement of exceptions, Fred West, attorney for the contestees, said that questions of residence or of signing the affidavit were not proper subjects for exceptions and that they could be proved or disproved only by testimony.

West also said a possible course as an alternative to trial would be for him to submit a motion for summary judgment, which he claimed he could support by a sufficient number of affidavits of voters who would swear they are qualified residents and voters.

Judge Ellis, however, answered that this course would leave too many fact questions unanswered.

Attorneys for Davis and others presented lists of 688 persons as an exhibit attached to their amended petition whom they allege were not qualified residents of the precinct or did not sign the affidavits. Of these, 511 were listed as voting in the absentee box without being qualified or without signing the affidavit, and 177 were listed as voting without being qualified residents.

Judge Ellis Monday offered attorneys in the suit a choice of two dates -- June 19 and Aug. 21. He explained that these were the only dates the court could clear to allow time for the trial.

Attorneys for the contestants, Madison Sowder and Dan M. Hurley, asked for the later date. West agreed to the date.

Brotherhood

"Love one another with brotherly affection; outdo one another in showing honor."
— Romans 12:10

To many, brotherhood is a word, an idea. It is not a day-to-day approach to living. It is something one can believe in from the safety of a turtle shell.

Many of us can feel kindly toward our fellow man so long as his efforts to achieve do not interfere with our own or inconvenience us in any way.

We practice brotherhood only if we give something to our fellow man — a smile, a helping hand, patience and understanding.

How much trouble would it be for any one of us to practice brotherhood for a single, full day?

The young husband wrote home from his new job, saying: "Made foreman - feather in my cap." A few weeks later he wrote again, saying: "Made manager - another feather in my cap." After some weeks, he wrote again, saying: "Fired - send money for train fare."

His wife unfeelingly telegraphed back: "Use feathers and fly home."

The girl was sore at her date, who had taken her to a buffet dinner, because he returned to the serving table for five helpings of dessert. "Doesn't it embarrass you at all?" she snapped. "Not at all," he replied. "I just tell them it's for you!"

Before he enrolls in a special art course in September, Tunnell and his wife plan a trip to LaMesa, Calif., to visit their daughter and family.

Born July 27, 1900, in Comanche, Tunnell came to Slaton in 1918 and has lived here since that time. He farmed and did concrete and mortar work on several early Slaton buildings before entering service with Santa Fe on Sept. 7, 1921.

"I wanted to go to art school," said Tunnell, "and I was going to work long enough to save some money." The temporary job lasted almost 46 years, but Tunnell still plans to go to art school.

He served as a car clerk until 1932, then transferred to roundhouse clerk. He has been general clerk in the supervisor's office since 1945. He was recently awarded a "Mr. Axy Dent" pin for having completed all his years of service without a personal injury.

Tunnell recalls Slaton of the 1920's as being mostly located on the north side of the square and down Texas Avenue. He also remembers a watering trough on the square for horses. Old timers may recall seeing Tunnell on a bike as he made the rounds to call crews to work before the telephone was a general household item.

"The railroad has progressed much over the years," said Tunnell, but he added that he missed "seeing the smoke from the old steam engines.

Tunnell was married to the former Johnnie E. Russell in 1933. Their daughter, Mrs. Leonita Dally, has two boys and a girl.

"I'm not much of a fisherman. . . I plan to do lots of shop work and oil painting," says Tunnell.

Bagby Honored By S-Fe Friends

Friends and associates of John W. Bagby held a reception Friday afternoon to honor the veteran railroader who retires July 1 after 41 years of service.

J. P. Spears, superintendent of the Slaton division, served as master of ceremonies and presented gifts to Bagby, who has been serving as chief clerk to the superintendent.

Among the gifts were a set of golf clubs and a surprise presentation -- a monkey. Associates gave the monkey as a joke, saying it was time "someone put the monkey on your back."

About 50 friends and associates attended the reception at 2 p.m. Friday in the committee room over the depot. His son and daughter and their families were at the reception.

Born at Roanoke, Tex., in 1902, Bagby entered service at Slaton as a track payroll clerk in 1926, and has been continuously employed in the division office at Slaton ever since. He has worked as timekeeper, senior clerk and accountant, and in 1948, he was promoted to chief clerk to the superintendent.

Bagby, a widower, will continue to make his home at 755 South 9th street, Slaton. He is the father of Mrs. B. D. Sorrels, whose husband is roadmaster for the Santa Fe at Slaton, and Ronald R. Bagby, who is a Santa Fe yard clerk at Lubbock. He has five grandchildren.

Santa Fe Gives Red Cross $100

The Santa Fe Foundation, Inc. has donated $100 to the Slaton chapter of the American Red Cross, it was announced this week by Mrs. Vera Drewry, home service chairman.

Since there is no local drive, the chapter is supported entirely by gifts from individuals, the bank, utility companies and business organizations, Mrs. Drewry said.

POSEY NEWS

MRS. P.C. KITCHENS

Hi, there. We Posey folks are rejoicing over the rain we've received lately. You who thought the Posey News wasn't reported last week and still have your paper...you'll find it listed under "Roosevelt News" ...an error at the news office.

Mrs. Mamie Burleson's daughter, Mrs. Oleta Tanner, underwent major surgery in Methodist Hospital Thursday, but is reported doing well at this time.

A meeting was held concerning Bactelise Fertilizer for the farmers of this area at the Alton Sumrall home Thursday evening. John G. King, local distributor from Lubbock, was present to explain about the fertilizer and to answer questions concerning this product. The farmers present found it very interesting and a good prospect for this area.

Joe Loke and son, Alvis Joe and A. A. Denzer went to Colorado City on a fishing trip Saturday.

The late Bill Kitchens daughter, Barbara Anderson and family, visited the Paul and Floyd Kitchens Friday.

Visitors in the Floyd Kitchens home Thursday evening were Rev. and Mrs. H.C. Lonis of Lubbock, and Pastors Nola Stout and Norma Elliott of Slaton.

Fabian Stahl and Heddie Kelly had a host of relatives visit them Sunday afternoon. Included were their sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jaynes Cloninger of Topeka, Kans., who were here attending the Cloninger reunion at Roosevelt. With them were their daughters, Sister Edwina, of Windthorst, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Wright and infant daughter of Amarillo. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Maeker, Roland Schuette and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Moeller joined them at Fabian and Heddie's home.

The P. C. Kitchens enjoyed their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Morton and son, Eddie Lynn, the past week. Dorothy taught Vacation Bible School at the Assembly of God Church in Slaton last week. She will be teaching VBS in Plainview's First Assembly in July.

Mrs. Mert Gentry, Mrs. Calvin Willis and Rhonda visited Mr. and Mrs. Lydell Willis of Lubbock Thursday.

There are two kinds of friends ...those you bought with your money, and those you still have.

Trust to see you next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Merritt and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Plaster of Gibsland, La. are here visiting Mrs. Lula Caldwell and her children.
