School Board Election On Sat., April 3

On Saturday, April 3, three men will be candidates for the two positions open on the Aransas County Independent School Board.

Roberts Johnson, incumbent from Lamar, is running unopposed for that position.

Incumbent Tom Rogers, from Rockport, is running for his first full term, having served the unexpired portion of the one left open when Charles Roe Jr. resigned last year.

He is opposed by Hillis Dominguez, who ran against School Board President Dr. H. F. Elliot two years ago, only to be defeated.

This is a county-wide election and everyone can vote for any candidate or all candidates.

For instance, people in Fulton or Lamar can vote for or against either of the Rockport candidates, and vica versa, people in Rockpore can vote for or against the candidate from Lamar, although as he is unopposed, such votes would make little difference.

The point to be emphasized here, according to school officials, is that any one in the county can vote on any candidate, and the vote will count, provided the voter is properly qualified.

Another point to be emphasized, is the fact that voters over 60 years of age can obtain the necessary affidavits to vote at the polls, and do not have to go to the courthouse to obtain them.

The polls are at the administration building of the school system, on the high school campus, and are open from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m.

Election officials are Mrs. Alvin Brundrett, judge; Mrs. Albert Wofford, Mrs. E. G. Cooke, Mrs. Fred Diederich, Mrs. Elbert Mundine, Mrs. Vicente Corpus, and Mrs. Allen Johnson.

Also up for election on April 3 are three incumbents on the county school board, Richard Fox, Precinct 2; Arthur Bracht, Precinct 3; and Roscoe Johnson, at large.

HELP AT A PREMIUM. March is the crucial month for fruit farmers in the southwestern states, and many orchard owners found themselves with a ripe harvest, but no one to pick the fruit. Formerly, Bracero laborers crossed the border from Mexico to help at harvest time, but since this has been prohibited, some farmers find themselves with a labor shortage. Commissioners Settle Location Of 9-Mile Point Controversy over the exact location of Nine Mile Point was stilled Wednesday morning at the regular meeting of the commissioners' court when County Surveyor T. E. Griffith produced two maps, one made in 1851 and the other in 1857, that pinpointed the location.

Live Oak Point is definitely shown on the oldest to be that portion on Live Oak Peninsula lying about where the south end of the causeway now comes ashore.

Nine Mile Point is shown on the second map as being the southermost point of Frandolig Island. Various reasons were given by the commissioners for the naming, but the one most commonly believed in this area is that the location was nine miles from the Port Aransas Light.

False Live Oak Point, where LaFitte and his men are supposed to have buried his treasure, is on Lamar Peninsula.

In a letter from Attorney Hobart Huson, he told the court that he hoped to try the Nueces County boundary dispute case this year. The case as already cost Nueces County in the neighborhood of $100,000 in attorney's fees, while those of Aransas County have yet to be computed.

James Hunt, county service officer, reported that during the past year he had filled out 295 forms, taking from 15 minutes to 1½ hours each; had written 401 letters; made 132 long distance calls and had been contacted by 1,147 people on problems of various ex-service men.

Judge John D. Wendell then asked Mrs. Thelma Barber, his secretary, to read a letter from Veterans' Service official in San Antonio, which spoke in highly complimentary terms of the service Hunt had performed, and naming him one of the outstanding service officers in the state.

The letter closed with the statement: "This letter has not been written at anyone's solicitation."

The commissioners' complimented Hunt on the outstanding job he has done.

In other business, they approved a plat of Block 1, Indian Cove addition, presented by County Surveyor T. E. Griffith on behalf of Frederic and Travis Johnson, and discussed a new location for the county barns.

A request for mosquito control plane in April was taken under consideration but ruled against because of the cost.

Tax Suit Ruling Favors School

Fifteen months after the case was first heard before Judge Joe Wade in the 36th District Court, the Thirteenth Court of Civil Appeals has upheld Judge Wade's findings in the case against Perry R. Bass, Howell E. Smith and John B. Connally, executors of the Sid Richardson Estate in a suit involving delinquent school and county taxes on St Joseph's Island.

As originally filed, the suit asked for delinquent school taxes in the amount of $7,779.08 and $5,230.29 for the years 1960 and 1961 respectively, and then, after Aransas County joined as an intervenor in the suit, for county taxes for the same years, in the amounts of $7025.66 and $4725.61 for the same years.

Since then, taxes have gone unpaid in 1962, 1963 and 1964, until the combined delinquent taxes, plus penalty and interest, owed the Aransas County Independent School District amount to $35,335.41.

Delinquent taxes, penalty and interest owed the county amount to $20,158.12. Add to this $5020.95 in current county taxes still unpaid, and the total is $25,179.07. If this year's taxes are unpaid by July 1, another $150.63 will be added, plus some undetermined costs, making, in all, a grand total of $25,329 for the county.

School and county taxes, plus penalties and interest for the five years in question will then amount to $60,665.11, which the Richardson Estate will owe.

Originally, executors for the estate alleged that the Boards of Equalization of the School and County had been discriminatory in assessment of the island property, and used this as grounds to refuse tax payments.

In the trial before Judge Wade, the jury was asked to rule on seven special issues. The jury was composed of Mrs. Alma Ratliff, foreman, Mrs. Jack Oualline, Mrs. Charles Ward, Edward Pena, Arthur Miller, Mrs. Harry Mills, Claude Prophet, Jr., Johnny C. Dunham, Jerome Wallace, Charles LeBlanc, Leopoldo Huerta, and James H. Johnson.

After listening to the arguments of lawyers on both sides of the case for four days, the

Senator Yarborough Tells of Conservation Efforts In The Area

Sen. Ralph Yarborough outlined his congressional role of a conservationist for the annual meeting of the Rockport Chamber of Commerce here Saturday night at the Sea-Gun Sports Inn.

Delmar Hiller was cited as the "Outstanding Citizen of the Year" for his work in the public library and other civic activities.

Ed Harper, a director of the Rockport chamber, served as master of ceremonies and introduced Yarborough. Miss Lola L. Bonner, president of the chamber, gave a short report of the year's activities.

Yarborough made an attempt to quiet local opposition to the addition of approximately 35,000 acres of Aransas County land to the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge. He countered criticism that the land would be removed from county tax rolls by noting that the county would receive at least $13,000 a year in payments in lieu of taxes. This compared with $8,431 paid to the county by the federal government in 1963. Furthermore, Yarborough said, the payments would go up through the years as the value of the land increases.

A proposed enlargement of the Aransas refuge, which now composes 47,500 acres, was one of the efforts in the field of conservation Yarborough listed. Others he has worked on are:

Creation of the Padre Island National Seashore in 1962. He praised the Corpus Christi Caller-Times, the Austin Texas Observer and the Houston press for providing newspaper editorial leadership in that fight, and personal praise for Cameron County Judge Oscar Dancy.

"What does the Padre Island Seashore mean to you?" Yarborough asked. " It means a vast influx of tourists — which will be a great boom to you."

Support for a marine research center in Corpus Christi, one that will study ways to increase the harvest of foods from the seas.

Support for insurance against loss from rising water. In this field Yarborough predicted private companies will eventually become active, just as they moved into hail insurance for crops after fed-

CONGRESSMAN QUESTIONS WHOOPER COST

Saving the great white whooping cranes from extinction is an expensive proposition, and in a recent Associated Press dispatch at least on congressman is quoted as questioning whether the birds were worth it. This dispatch said, in part:

This was evident from comments made by Interior Department at a recent closed hearing of a House Appropriations subcommittee. The officials discussed plans to purchase additional acres along the Texas coast to provide sanctuary and nesting lands for the rare birds.

The testimony of the officials was made public Saturday by the subcommittee as the House received a bill to provide funds for the department in the year starting July 1.

Rep. Winfield K. Denton, D-Ind., chairman of the subcommittee, observed that the department's Sport Fisheries and Wildlife Bureau was asking for $1 million to buy 5,000 acres on which to accommodate the cranes.

"This is an average of $200 per acre," he said. "According to your (the bureau's) records there were only 32 whooping cranes in the spring of 1964, so the acquisition of this land would be at the cost of about $35,000 per bird.

"Do you think that the expenditure of funds on this basis could be considered as wise use of the taxpayer's money?"

John S. Gottschalk, director of the bureau, reported:

"Mr. Chairman, we recognize if one attempts to evaluate this program solely on the basis of individual numbers of birds in existence, it will lead to some rather staggering per bird figures.

"But we don't believe this is the basis on which this can be done. What, in effect, the inclusion of the authorization for the protection and preservation of rare species on the Land and Water Conservation Fund Act did, was to recognize the interest of the American citizens in preserving stocks by birds or other animals before they become extict.

"So actually what we are talking about is not the preservation of, say 32 birds, but the prevention of one entire species . . . from dissappearing from the face of the earth."

MARCH OF DIMES CHAIRMAN SAYS CALL ON CANS

March of Dimes Chairman Ed Harper says will those people having collection cans please call him at SO 4-2772, and he will pick them up.

"We don't have the list where cans were placed," Ed said, "and would like to close out on the drive. This seems to be the only way to do it, and I will appreciate cooperation on this matter very much indeed."

Local Students Take Three Firsts In UIL Meet at Bishop

Two local high school students took first place in extemporaneous speaking at the UIL meet held in Bishop, another was first in typewriting, while six others piled up enough points for Aransas County to be ranked third out of seven schools scheduled to take part in the meet.

Phil Howard was first in boys' extemporaneous speaking; Pat Falk was first in the girls' division.

Darrel Lichte was second in poetry interpretation; Raulie Irwin was second in the boys' division in prose reading; Lola Lewis was second in ready writing.

First in type writing was Darlene Rouquette, while other members of the local team, Priscilla Carleton and Dave Waggoner came in third and fourth respectively, to take first place as a team in the competition.

Diane Davis was fourth in shorthand competition, and she and her team mate, Lola Lewis, were second in team competition in this division.

Rankings of the seven schools were Bishop, first; Gregory - Portland, second; Rockport, third; Tuloso-Midway, fourth; Aransas Pass, fifth; and Flour Bluff, sixth. The seventh school in District 30AA, West Oso, had no one entered for any of the competition.

LITTLE LEAGUE MEETING FRIDAY, APRIL 2,

There will be a meeting of Little League managers, officials and others interested in baseball this summer, at Rockport Elementary School on Friday, April 2, at 7 p.m.

A good attendance is urged in order to get this worthwhile activity under way.

Local Students Do Well At Science Fair

Local junior and senior high school students did well at the El Campo Science Fair this past weekend.

Mark Lang, eighth grade, won a first place medal and a division first place with his digital computer. This is the second medal he has taken in two years, and he is planning on continuing his work with the computer, as there are several phases yet to be considered and solved, he says. He is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Cecil Lang, Jr.

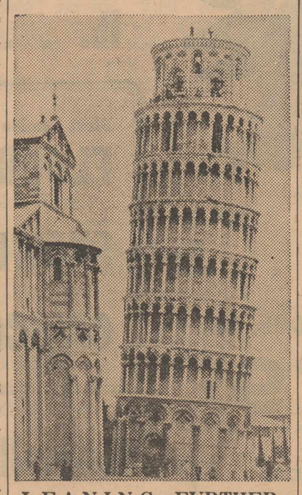

Michael Rothrock, another eighth grader, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rothrock, took a first division blue ribbon with his anemometer, with which direction and speed is measured. Next year, he thinks he will switch fields for the fair, and is planning a biological project.

Martin Moss, also in the eighth grade, took a third division ribbon with his bimetallic thermometer, and is planning now for next year's competition.

James Baugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Baugh, and a ninth grader, took a fourth division ribbon with his entry of a seismograph. His next project is an engine using a unique fuel.

Andrew Huffmeyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Huffmeyer, is also a ninth grader who took part in the fair, winning a fourth place with his entry, the entropic wheel. He is at present undecided on his next year's project.

Rocky Rouquette, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd A. Rouquette, another ninth grader, took a fourth place ribbon with the gravitational balance which he entered.

Local Shrimper Hits Jetties, Goes Aground

A 68 foot fishing vessel went aground about 10:15 p.m. Saturday night when it apparently hit the jetties at the entrance to the channel at Port Aransas, James Liker, of the Coast Guard said Sunday.

He said the vessel, the Luka, belonged to J. B. Jackson of the Jackson Seafood Co. in Rockport. The master of the ship, Rex L. Chancey and another man, were rescued by the Coast Guard cutter.

Efforts to refloat the Luka were unsuccessful and late Sunday the ship remained aground with water "nearly up to the cabin level" Liker said.

It was expected that attempts will be made to salvage the vessel but Liker said "the water's coming up—and I just don't how successful such efforts will prove to be."

ROE'S NO. 2 STORE SOLD

Marvin Treptow, after 25 years with Boysen's Super Markets, has bought Roe's No. 2 in Fulton, and renamed it "Trep's Food Store," taking over operation on April 1.

He and Mrs. Treptow come here after 11 years in Port Lavaca, where he was manager of the Boysen Store. Before that he managed the one in Cuero for nine and one-half years, and that was preceded by one and one-half years as manager in Boysen's at Yorktown. He began his career with the company in Halletsville.

Roe's No. 2 was founded by Arthur Bracht, who operated Bracht's Food Store for many years in Fulton, and who built the building the store now occupies about ten years ago.

When Bracht retired, Mrs. Charles Roe, Sr., and her late husband purchased the store from Bracht.

Mr. and Mrs. Treptow expect to move to Rockport as soon as they have time to find a place to live.

RYSCO TV PROGRAM RECEIVES WIDESPREAD RECOGNITION IN AREA

The KRIS TV program on Rockport Yacht and Supply last Friday was viewed by many people in this area, a number of whom have expressed their appreciation of the recognition accorded Rockport's industry.

THEFT OF RUG IS REPORTED

A 9x12 red carpet was reported stolen on Tuesday night to Chief of Police Bob Hewes by Frank Lozano, 1009 N. Live Oak Street.

Mr. Lozano reported that he had the rug on a tree at the front side of the house and that he was gone for a few minutes and the rug was taken.

Councilman Election To Be Tuesday, Apri. 6

In the second of two elections to be held within a week of one another, four Rockport men are seeking two council positions as the terms of Norvell Jackson in Precinct 2 and Charles Garrett in Precinct 1 expire.

Jackson is seeking re-election to a third term. A seafood dealer and shipyard operator, he is opposed by V. A. Dullye, Jr., who owns the Tropics Motel, and who has also been on the council, losing his bid for re-election four years ago to Jackson.

Prior to this time, Jackson has served other terms on the city council, while Dullye has been there only for one term.

In Precinct 1, a political newcomer, Marcelino Ramirez, an employee of Vernon's Food Store at Fulton, is seeking the post now held by Garrett, who has served a number of terms on the council at various times in the past, and who is running for re-election. Garrett operates his own butane gas business, and is commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Stewart-Wendell Post 3904.

Ramirez is a member of the Rockport Seaman's Lions Club.

Polls open at 8 a.m., Tuesday, April 6, and close at 7 p.m. the same day.

Polling place is the city hall.

Coast Guard And Construction Save Cayenne Debutante

An underwriters' investigation just completed at Isla de Mujeres showed that only prompt action by a U. S. Coast Guard plane and the rugged construction of a Rockport-built shrimp boat saved the Cayenne Debutante when she ran into trouble at sea, off the coast of Yucatan.

The Debutante, along with two other vessels belonging to Henderson's Portion Pak, of Coral Gables, Fla., left Rockport recently, to join the Henderson fleet at Cayenne, French Quiana, and to take part in the great new shrimp fishery off South America.

In the straits of Yucatan, the Debutante began taking on water in her engine room, unknown to her crew, who only discovered it when the engine stopped, choked down by water in the air intake.

The Debutante, power gone, lay rolling helplessly in the rough swell from the Caribbean Sea, dependent for rescue on her radio with which she contacted her two consorts —the Cayenne Countess and the Cayenne Dutchess, built at the same time and also en route to the shrimping grounds.

The radio summons was also heard heard by the United States Coast Guard, and it wasn't long before a USCG

Copano Bay Hearing Held

Austin — Conservationists made a big push Wednesday night to stop the use of oyster shell for state highway construction and to close Copano Bay to shell dredgers by declaring it a recreation area.

The two proposals by Reps. Paul Haring of Goliad and Leroy Wieting of Portland were resisted by W. N. Woolsey of Corpus Christi, attorney for Heldenfels Bros. and the Haliburton Portland Cement Co. and by James R. Heldenfels of the construction firm which is dredging shell in Copano Bay. Wieting and Haring told the House Game and Fisheries Committee that Copano Bay is a special place that should be preserved.

The opponents of the bills maintained stoutly that dredging will not hurt the live oyster reefs, and Heldenfels said he feels sure that if the anti-dredging bill is not passed there will be more dredging in the future in Copano Bay.

He said his firm has taken out about 40,000 of the 100,000 yards authorized under its present permit.

The bills were backed up by a long list of conservationists including spokesmen for the South Texas Chamber of Commerce Wildlife Committee, the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, a Texas Ornithological Society and the Travis County Alderman's Society.

Wieting pleaded with mem-

IMPORTANT POINTS TO REMEMBER IN FILING INCOME TAX RETURN

"Here are three important points to remember when you fill out your Federal income tax return," says Asa L. Crow, administrative officer of the Corpus Christi office of Internal Revenue.

1. Be sure all lines applicable to you are filled out accurately and completely. Summary data from attached schedules should be carried forward to the face of the returns.

"2. Your identifying tax account number is required on returns again this year. Failure to enter it may delay any refund due you. For an individual this is his social security number or similar number assigned for tax account purposes. If you do not already have a social security number, apply now through your local Internal Revenue office or Social Security office. On joint returns, social security numbers are required if both husband and wife have income; otherwise, only the number of the one having income is required.

"3. If you receive dividend or interest income, the paying organizations will need your account number for reports to Internal Revenue. When such a payer asks for your account number, supply it promptly. For business taxpayers, the account identifying number is the firm's employer identification number. Be sure this number and the firm name are given correctly.

"Only a short time remains to the deadline of April 15," he continued. "By beginning now to prepare their returns, taxpayers will be able to give themselves a time margin in which to double check their returns. For many, it may be a worthwhile saving; for IRS, it will make for more efficient processing, thereby saving tax dollars."

JOHN CABANISS APPEARS IN TEXAS LAW REVIEW

Appearing in the March issue of the "Texas Law Review" is a comment concerning nonresident testamentary guardians by John Trigg Cabaniss. Cabaniss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon B. Cabaniss, now a midlaw student at the University of Texas School of Law.

The comment is concerned with the problem which may arise in some states when a testator wants to appoint a nonresident of the state as testamentary guardian for his minor children. This situation is becoming increasingly common in our modern mobile society.

While some states have statutes expressly allowing the appointment of a nonresident and a few states have statutes prohibiting it, in a great number of states the status of such an appointee is unclear. Although placing Texas in latter category, Cabaniss concludes that the Texas courts would not hesitate to confirm the appointment of a nonresident selected by a testator.

He suggests, however, the need for corrective legislation to clarify the position taken by Texas and other states whose statutes are unclear, and to remove all doubt from this area of the law which bears so heavily on the welfare of minors.

Mrs. Eddie Beene and son Wesley, of Baytown, and Mrs. Clark Jones and son Bruce, of Houston, spent the weekend with Mrs. G. C. Mullinax and Mrs. Lillian Gray.

Former Teacher Receives Scholarship

Mrs. Geraldine Stevens, former teacher of Aransas County Junior High School, Rockport, and now teaching at May Allen Junior High School, Aransas Pass, has accepted a scholarship to go to the University of Houston, in Houston, June 8.

The National Science Foundation has arranged special courses in the field of science for teachers teaching Earth Science and other related fields. This is a course in Geology and will include lectures, discussion sessions, and lab work.

A field trip of 850 miles is planned during the six weeks course.

REALTOR'S WEEK TO BE CELEBRATED IN MONTH OF MAY

Aransas and San Patricio Board of Realtors will again participate this year in the nationwide observance of Realtor Week, May 25-29, Bud Wise, president, has announced.

Chairman of the committee for local arrangements is Mrs. Mary M. Everett, and other committee members are Mrs. Una Kennedy, Robert H. Austin, and Mrs. Doris Masiran.

The National Association of Real Estate Boards has individual membership of almost 80,000 and is comprised of more than 1,500 boards, such as the local group. A week is designated each year to point up realtors activities and to explain to the public why it is wise to handle all real estate transactions through a realtor, Mr. Wise said.

Real estate clinics are sponsored throughout the nation by realtors, and many members serve as instructors in real estate courses.

Founded in 1908, the National Association maintains offices in Chicago and Washington, D. C. Publications of the Association's professional staff keep realtors up-to-date on changes in laws affecting real estate, mortgage rates, buying trends, and other business factors.

"Pick a Right Home — Through a Realtor" has been selected as the slogan this year for Realtor Week. With more and more families in a position to buy a home because of rising incomes and a plentiful supply of mortgage money, it is reasoned by NAREB that these purchasers will want to avail themselves of the professional services of a realtor in making this important decision, President Wise said.

Special activities planned during Realtor Week by the local board will be announced at a later date. Some of the activities will be tied in with plans of the National Association.

Zing into spring! in a new Chevrolet

'65 Chevelle Malibu 4-Door Station Wagon
'65 Chevy II Nova Sport Coupe
'65 Corvair Corsa Sport Coupe
If you've been sitting tight waiting for just your kind of car, with just your kind of power, at just your kind of price—wait no longer!
Chevrolet. It's a bigger, more beautiful car this year. Which is why that handsome silhouette could be mistaken for cars costing a thousand—even two thousand—dollars more.
Chevelle. This one's got lively looks, spirited power, a softer ride—and remarkable room atop a highly maneuverable wheelbase. No wonder it's today's favorite mid-size car.
Chevy II. No car so trim has a right to be so thrifty. But thrifty it is, with money-savers like brakes that adjust themselves and a long-lived exhaust system.
Corvair. Ask any '65 Corvair owner how it feels to drive a car with such easy steering, tenacious traction and responsive rear-engine power. And be ready to do lots of listening.

TAX SUIT RULING—

jurors found that there were 10,200 acres of useable pasture land on the island, as of Jan. 1, 1960 and Jan. 1 1961, basing this estimate of the acreage on testimony given by experts put on the stand by Bass et al, and that the reasonable cash value of this land was $70 per acre.

The juriors then put the reasonable cash value of the less valuable land, some 22,-550 acres, at $21 per acre. They also agreed that evidence showed that the defendants had written notice of the dates of hearings of the Boards of Equalization had not followed a plan to value all pasture land in the county at $100 per acre.

At this trial, Judge Wade found in favor of the school board and county, but attorneys for Bass et al, filed a notice of appeal, listing a large number of exceptions on which they asked a reversal of Judge Wade's ruling.

The case was heard before the Thirteenth Court of Civil Appeals in December, 1964, and in their March 25, 1965, ruling, the justices of that court said, in essence:

We have held that the appellants (Bass et al) failed to produce evidence to bolster their defense that valuations on which assessments were based were made pursuant to an invalid, arbitrary and fundamentally erroneous method of valuation used by the boards of equalization which resulted in unusual and discriminatory taxation.

This means, in plain language, that the Richardson estate owes the school and county around $60,000.

Of course, attorneys for the estate may decide to carry the matter to a higher court, and they have until April 4 to file notice of appeal.

HEARING HELD—

bers of the committee to help him and Haring save Copano Bay until the Park and Wildlife Commission can make a survey of shell resources in Texas bays and of silt control devices.

Then Woolsey as attorney for Heldenfels Bros. and Halliburton opened the opposition. He said the Parks and Wildlife commission granted the dredging permit after getting a great deal of information including a study made by Dr. C. E. Wilson on Copano Bay itself. He said the study concluded that dredging would not kill a live oyster reef 300 feet from the dredge and that two other scientific studies reached the same conclusion.

Woolsey said these were scientific studies and not "a one man survey with a fishing rod." He said any appeal from the commission's decision should be made to a court rather than to the Legislature.

Heldenfels expressed his opposition to both proposals. He said he believes the Parks and Wildlife Department has adequate policing and that it is the right agency to supervise dredging.

He disputed cost figures given by Joe Laughlin, engineer for Texas Crushed Stone Co. of Austin. Laughlin had said limestone base material could be delivered to Houston at a price competitive with shell. The Corpus Christi contractor said those figures would not stand up in the Corpus Christi area.

That concluded the opposition.

Rep. Haring closed for the proponents saying that when Heldenfels Bros. appeared before the Parks and Wildlife Commission they were just interested in getting 100,000 cubic yards and "now they say they will want more."

He pointed out that the Wilson study on Copano Bay was made in 1952 when dredges were producing only 200 yards an hour where they now produce 500 and where operations average of less than three hours a day where they now operate 24 hours a day.

He said the old Game and Fish Commission considered the Wilson study when it was new and adopted the rule that dredges must stay 1,500 feet from a live reef.

That wound up the hearing and Chairman James Slider of Naples will name a subcommittee later. — Caller-Times.

Former Rockport Resident Named Oceanographer

A former Rockport resident, Alfred W. Anderson, has been appointed assistant to the assistant director in charge of oceanography by the Coast and Geodetic Survey, of the U. S. Department of Commerce.

Anderson joined the staff of the Assistant Director for the Office of Oceanography, on Feb. 15, 1965. As a technical assistant to the Assistant Director, he will participate in planning the Bureau's expanding oceanographic program.

A native of Tulsa, Okla., Anderson received his master's degree in zoologe from the Universiyt of Texas in 1949. Shortly thereafter he began working as a marine biologist for the Texas Game and Fish Laboratory in Rockport, Tex.

From October 1950 until his appointment in this Bureau he held several progressively responsible positions with the Naval Oceanographic Office. His last position with that office was as Scientific Staff Assistant responsible for the management of the Mine Warfare, National Intelligence Survey, and Undersea Warfare Programs.

WHAT NEXT? FISH SPORT GAY BALLOON

If you anglers did a double take at seeing orange balloons mystically moving near the waters' surface, in the upper Laguna Madre, how about the salt water fishes providing the propulsion?

They doubtless would appreciate your cooperating with the scientists who caught the fish, attached the numbered balloons to the fish with tiny monofilament line and then released them.

Otherwise the involuntary sacrifice by the marine fishes will have all been in vain.

If and when fishermen or boaters report having seen the strange baloons zooming over the water, then the technicians will be aided in chartering hour-by-hour movements of the aquatic guinea pigs. All of which will aid fish management studies.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department marine biologists urged persons noting the balloons not to attempt to catch the balloons or the fish because the monofilament line is so delicate that it would not hold either.

The technicians request that word of the observations, with the number of the balloon and location of the incident, be forwarded to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, Box 1117 Rockport, Texas.

TWO WEEKS REMAIN TO SECURE 1965 AUTO INSPECTION

Austin — "Only two weeks remain for some 1,500,000 vehicles registered in Texas to secure the 1965 safety inspection sticker," Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said today.

"The period set by law for securing the 1965 sticker ends at midnight, April 15, and there can be no extension of that deadline," Garrison pointed out. "Any Texas motorist whose vehicle does not display a new sticker after April 15 is subject to arrest by any sheriff or his deputy, and city policeman, or by officers of the Department of Public Safety."

Garrison said that there is sufficient time for the 5,300 official inspection stations to inspect the remaining vehicles without undue inconvenience to the motorists, provided the vehicle owners act promptly.

"From now until the deadline, every minute of the inspection station's time will be at a premium," Garrison warned, "and waiting lines will become general throughout the state."

Garrison suggested that congestion at inspection stations would be lessened if known defects in a vehicle were repaired prior to presenting the vehicle to the station for inspection.

LAGGING DRAFT REGISTRATIONS CALL FOR PENALTY

Lagging registration under the draft law in Aransas, Bee and San Patricio Counties this week prompted Mr. W. T. West chairman of the Tri-County area to warn every 18-year-old male that the law requires him to register within five days after his 18th birthday.

Failure to register, like failure to comply with other provisions of the law, may subject men to prosecution, or induction into the Army out of turn and ahead of other men, Mr. West said.

Maximum penalty for failure to comply with any provision of the law, upon prosecution and conviction, is five years in prison, fine of $10,000 or both.

Young men may register at the board office in the Surety Title Bldg., in Sinton, or with the following officially-appointed board registrars:

Mr. Weldon Cabaniss, Rockport, Texas; Mr. Warren Howery, and Miss Marie Britton, Post Office, Aransas Pass, Texas; Mr. R. E. Phelps, Post Office, Ingleside, Texas; Mr. Percy Hartman, Room 214, Courthouse, Sinton; Mr. C. V. Nelson, Mathis, Texas and Mr. Robert C. Bell, 505 Gramman, Beeville, Texas.

After a young man registers, he is required to keep the local board informed of any change in his address or personal situation which might affect his ability or requirement for military service.

Social Security Annual Report Due

Social Security beneficiaries who earned over $1200 in 1964 are reminded that they have until April 15, 1965 to file an annual report.

This reminder comes from L. L. Sharpless, field representative of the Corpus Christi Social Security office, who added that this report should not be confused with the federal income tax return due the same date.

The beneficiary's annual report, which must be filed directly with the Social Security Administration, is used to determine entitlement to benefits already received or due for 1964 as well as to determine eligibility to benefits for 1965. Failure to file a report may mean a penalty loss of some benefits, Sharpless warned.

The requirement to file an annual report does not apply to persons age 72 or over in all months of 1964. However, if a beneficiary's earnings in 1964 were higher than in prior years, he may be eligible for an increase in benefits.

Persons needing assistance in filing an annual report or information regarding an increase in benefits should get in touch with the district office at 1802 South Staples in Corpus Christi, or with the field representative who will be at the courthouse in Rockport on March 24.

CAYENNE DEBUTANTE—

amphibian, using techniques developed at the Coast Guard Air Station in Corpus Christi, dropped an auxiliary pump by parachute to the Debutante's crew, who promptly pumped her dry with this, as with power off her own pumps were not working.

Her two sister ships then took the Debutante in tow, setting their course for the harbor of Isla de Majares, between Yucatan and Cuba.

There Albert Silchenstedt, of Rockport Yacht and Supply Co., which built the Debutante, and W. Jackson, of JASCO Engine Service, found her tied to the dock, when they arrived by plane, along with E. Enus underwriter's agent of Transatlantic Marine Insurance Co., to investigate the cause of the trouble.

Rigid tests under supervision of the three men desclosed no defect in either hull or seacocks, which were both as sound as the day the boat had been launched, despite the difficulties to which it had been subjected.

No structural or design failure could be discovered, and the final conclusion reached by the trio was that the flooding probably had been caused by human failure when the crew, not thoroughly familiar with their new boat, failed to operate the bilge pumping system for removal of melted ice water in the proper manner.

John P. Mitchell, executive manager of RYSCO, said that Enos assigned this as the cause of failure in his report to the underwriters. The Cayenne Debutante, Mitchell said, will be towed to Key West, where her engine and auxiliaries will be rebuilt.

POINTERS ON FILING INCOME TAX RETURN

Austin.— With the start of the final rush period for filing Federal tax returns, many of the questions being asked have to do with the deductibility of State taxes, according to R. L. Phinney, district director of Internal Revenue in Austin.

Phinney explained that taxpayers who itemize their deductions can deduct personal property taxes and real estate taxes. State gasoline taxes, too, are deductible at the rate of five cents a gallon. Also deductible, at the rate of two percent, is the special State tax on motor vehicle retail sales.

The Texas State general sales tax of two percent is deductible, and an average State Sales Tax Table has been developed by IRS to assist taxpayers to calculate this tax at a glance. This Table, shown below, may be used when deducting sales tax Form 1040. If the Table is not used, sales tax deductions must be itemized and substantiated.

Under the Revenue Act of 1964, the following State taxes are not deductible: cigarette, tobacco and liquor taxes; license plates; driver's licenses and poll taxes.

More information on this and other subjects may be obtained by telephoning your IRS office.
