Wellington Teams Win Three Games In Single Night

Boys Teams Grab Two Victories and Girls Win Another

Boys To Tourney

Two Boys Teams Will Attend Pampa's Invitation Meet This Week

Basketball teams of Wellington high schiol scored three consecutive victories Friday night when the Skyrockets defeated Dozier 28-17 and Fresno 27-26 while the Yellowjackets girls team defeated Dozier 35-12.

The first game played at this time was the girls match which was quite interesting and proved beyond any doubt that Miss Mildred Hulsey, coach, has developed the best girls team that has worked toward a Wellington goal in many a year. Vernice Braboy, captain and forward, who scored 25 points in this game, is one of the most valuable players on the team and is showing far better ability this season than before. Line-ups in this game were: Wellington—Vernice Braboy and Willie Lee McInnis, forwards, Nellie Wright and Helen Cook, centers; Lucile Duke and Belle McInnis, guards. Dozier—Goldie McCracken and Clara Neese, forwards; Zonelle Barnett and Lorene Biggers, centers; Lenora Phillips and Lillie Voyles, guards.

The second game was played between the Skyrockets quintet and Dozier which was an easy win for Wellington 28-17. Ross Gladney, Skyrocket center was high man with 16 points to his credit while Urban Brown was high for the losers with 10 points. Line-ups were: Wellington—Warrick and Curry, forwards; Gladney, center; Lindsey and Henard, guards. Dozier—Cherry and Brown, forwards; C. Roland, center; Carzine and J. Roland, guards. Substitutions were: Horton for Lindsey; Voyles for J. Roland.

The third game was more than exciting and it alone was worth twice the price of admission. In this tilt the Skyrockets had a tough time nosing out the Fresno quintet 27-26. A basket by Hugh Hale just as the final whistle blew was all that placed the locals on the safe side of the margin by a single point. Hale played a good game at forward, scoring eight points, although Powell, guard, was high with nine points. Cayton at center played a neat game all through the game scoring six points and showing up well at defense. Nunnelley, Fresno forward, is one of the most promising hoopsters in the country and will make it hard for any team in this county to eliminate Fresno from the county championship race. In this game he scored 19 points, seldom missing a basket, and handles the ball on the floor like a veteran. There is probably no individual player in the county who can outshine this boy and if he gets loose in the county tournament he is going to make it tough on the Skyrockets or any other team that has a fond eye on the championship. Line-ups were: Wellington—Hale and White, forwards; Cayton, center; King and Powell, guards. Fresno—Nunnelley and Wood, forwards; Uselton, center; Graham and Scott, forwards.

Coach Bedford Harrison will enter two teams in Pampa's Invitation Meet which will be held there Friday and Saturday, February 1 and 2. According to an announcement made Tuesday night by Coach Harrison the following will make the Pampa trip: Velman, Warrick, Donald Curry, Merle Cayton, Raymond Powell, Clinton King, Seth Lindsey, Dan Henard, Leon White, J. T. Horton and Ross Gladney. Wellington is getting in splendid form and is due to win the county championship and perhaps go far in the district.

Both boys and girls teams have been handicapped this year due to the fact that the new building was not completed until the basketball season was well underway

Leader's Second Free Cooking School Will Be Conducted During Week of February 18

Of particular interest to the women of Wellington and surrounding communities is the announcement that The Wellington Leader's Second Annual Free Cooking School will be held in Wellington from February 18 to 22, inclusive. The Leader's Cooking School last year was so successful that many housewives have requested this newspaper to bring the Cooking School to them this year, and now that arrangements for the school are being completed, every indication points to an even better school this year.

Mrs. Myra Oliver Dougan, who conducted the Cooking School for The Leader last year, is no longer engaged in this work, but a woman equally as capable and possibly even better known has been secured. She is Mrs. Leona Rusk Ihrig—one of America's most noted culinary experts.

The forthcoming Wellington Leader Annual Cooking School will be most successful if the laudatory comments received from the women are to be taken as a criterion. Complimentary messages by the score have been voiced by the women who have heard Mrs. Leona Rusk Ihrig and testify to her unusual success in teaching the values of food and their preparations.

Mrs. Ihrig is being brought to Wellington with the thought that her unique teachings on the art of home-making and the concoction of dishes out of the ordinary will be a boon to her listeners. She will teach how to make the art of cooking as intriguing as other arts become to those who master them. The musician would not think of starting his career without instruction under the masters. The art of maintaining the home is just as important, which is attested to by the stress laid on home economics in our schools and colleges. Many women have not had these opportunities in their youth and now they can have this knowledge imparted in a clear, concise manner by a woman who has devoted her life to this particular phase of the arts.

Mrs. Ihrig, beginning Monday afternoon, February 18, will give lectures and demonstrations each afternoon for five afternoons between 2:30 and 4:30. She will doubtless amaze the women of this vicinity with the contributions she is able to make in one short week to that greatest of all institutions—the home. The problems discussed will be those that are daily encountered in the home.

Her solutions are practical and based on economy and utility. The saving that the housewife will be able to accomplish by attendance at the school with its scientific and modern ideas, will more than repay her for the time spent there. How to use left-overs and how to purchase in a scientific manner will be shown by Mrs. Ihrig.

New suggestions, new recipes, new dishes and many new ideas on the kitchen and home will be presented. Here the young housewife will be taught many valuable things and the experienced housewife will also find a veritable storehouse of knowledge for her use. No longer need she complain of cooking "the same old thing."

A model kitchen will be installed in the basement of the First Christian church for the use of Mrs. Ihrg, where the preparation of meals will be demonstrated. She will preside over the kitchen, presenting her subjects to the women most graphically and in a maner that will be readily understood.

The housewives of Wellington and Collingsworth county should remember the dates of this different cooking school and make plans so as not to miss a single lesson.

Club House To Be Built Here By Club Women

Trustees For Building Fund Will Be Elected At Meeting Friday

Site Is Offered

Mrs. Lee C. O'Neil Offers Suitable Cite For New Club House

Members of the city federation of women's clubs plan to build a club house in Wellington, according to Mrs. J. B. Stevenson, president of the city federation.

Organized work along this endeavor has aready been started, and Mrs. Stevenson states that a site has already been offered by Mrs. Lee O'Neil and if this site is accepted, the club house will be located across the street from the O'Neil home.

Trustees for the building fund will be elected at the regular meeting of the executive council of the city federation which will be held Friday morning at 9:30 at Mrs. Stevenson's home. At this meeting there will be representatives from each of the clubs which are at present allied with the federation and complete plans for the building program will be worked out at this time. Clubs which are at present members of the city federation are the Domestic Science club, the Mothers' Culture club, the 1924 Study club, the Bridge Luncheon club, the Excelsior club and the Wednesday club. There is a possbility that other organizations will align with the federation in the near future.

Mrs. Stevenson states that the entire building program will be systematically arranged, and that no construction work on the club house will be started until the federation has raised at least $1,000 in cash. The Domestic Science club has already contributed $100 to the fund and Mrs. Stevenson says that all other clubs will assume their quotas as soon as meetings can be held.

Eighty Teachers of Rural Schools Attend Institute

Only Six Teachers of Collingsworth's Rural Schools Absent

Program Is Held

Unusually Interesting Program for Rural Teachers Offered

Eighty teachers of Collingsworth county's rural schools were in attendance at the half-day institute held in Wellington Saturday at the high school auditorium, with only six teachers of the entire rural system absent, according to J. D. Wilson, county superintendent.

A program of unusual interest to rural teachers was presented at this time, Mr. Wilson states.

Following the devotional by I. A. Smith, pastor of the First Methodist church, announcements were made by J. D. Wilson, Clyde C. Brown discussed the objects of the interscholastic league and J. B. Nicewarner made announcements concerning the county meet.

Three sectional meetings were held at 10 o'clock. B. W. Beaird was chairman of the high school meeting. W. A. Thompson spoke on the teaching of algebra and E. E. Amburn discussed teaching composition in the high school. Methods of teaching history were discussed by Enos Harper while school discipline and child conduct was interestingly handled by R. H. Cagle.

The intermediate meeting was held with Gordon Gatewood presiding. Miss Irene Tarter discussed the question of whether or not elementary schools received their share of attention and Mrs. Guy Beasley spoke on the teaching of history in the elementary grades. Mrs. B. F. Hardy's subject was on the teaching of reading in these grades while Mrs. B. W. Beaird directed her subject to school discipline in the grades.

Mrs. Jessie Gregg was chairman of the primary sectional meeting. Miss Gertrude Carter discussed equipment and supplies, and Mrs. W. F. Roberts discussed the best methods to be used in starting beginners. Arithmetic games were explained by Miss Inez Mason. The teaching of reading in the primary grades was discussed by Mrs. Mayme Somerville and Miss Alleen Gilmore led a discussion on how to keep pupils properly employed.

The institute was highly beneficial to teachers of the rural school. Collingsworth county is making advancement in directing rural education and institutes of this nature are among the factors which contribute to its progress.

MEXIA—Business College will be establisred here soon under the direction of the American Business Colleges, Inc.

Cotton to Show Slight Increase In Acreage Here

Hegari Will Also Show Increase Over Collingsworth County

According to C. C. Stinson, county agent, cotton acreage over Collingsworth county will probably increase 5 per cent this year. The price farmers received for cotton during the past season made the crop profitable and this will have a tendency for more acreage planted to cotton this year. Rental propositions which exist in Collingsworth county also demand a high ratio for cotton acreage.

Hegari acreage will increase at least 10 per cent this year, Mr. Stinson declares, because of the increased number of feed grinders now found in this county and be-

Court Will Be Asked to Raise Agents Salaries

Petitions Ask Salaries be Restored to Former Amounts

Is False Economy

Chamber of Commerce Declares Salary Cuts Are False Economy

A movement has been started to get the people of Collingsworth County to appear before the Commissioner's court on February 11 and have the salaries of the home demonstration agent and the county agent raised back to their former amounts. The motive of the court in seeking to run the county on as economical basis as possible has not been criticized, but the action in reducing the salaries of the home demonstration agent and the county agent is not considered to be for the best interest of the county.

Petitions asking that the reduction be rescinded and the salaries raised are being circulated by club women and club boys in a number of communities, and these will be presented to the court for their consideration at the next meeting.

It is pointed out that the work of the county agent in this county cannot be compared with that done in counties where the salary paid by the county is $1,000, and it is also pointed out that Hall County pays the home demonstration agent a salary of $1,500 a year.

The Wellington chamber of commerce has also sent out the following letter:

The Wellington Chamber of Commerce has always stood for any proposition which would assist in any manner the work of our county agents. We wish, at this time, to go on record as opposing the reduction in salaries of

Receives Letter of Thanks From Officials of Railroad Company

Special to The Leader

ABILENE, Texas, Jan. 30.—How J. Price Dukeminier of Childress, formerly of Wellington and an employe of the West Texas Utilities company, probably averted a railroad wreck, saved property of the Fort Worth & Denver railroad from fire and a few days later extinguished flames which were threatening to destroy the Fresno school house near Wellington, became known when he modestly exhibited a letter of thanks from an official of the railroad.

Judge Templeton Explains Cause For Salary Cuts

Reductions Would Put Salaries in Line With Other Counties

Economy Measure

Court Had No Idea Of Hampering Extension Work, He States

"No further action can be taken on the cut in salaries of county officers until the next regular meeting of the court Feb. 11, and I am unable to say what the court will do at that time," declared Judge R. H. Templeton when interviewed Tuesday, "but I am glad to give the complete reasons for the reductions being made by the court."

"The county has not been going in debt," he stated, "but the court did face a deficit in working funds due to the unusual expenses brought on by the small pox and the floods which destroyed several bridges last year. The court faced the problem of either cutting ex-officio salaries or of raising the taxes, and they decided to practice economy by cutting the budget.

"These reductions were made because the court believed they were in line with salaries received by the same officials in other counties. The court believes in the home demonstration agent, and work of the county agent and the the reduction was not made with the idea of hampering this work, but as an economy measure only.

"The county agent draws $1,600 from the State and with the $1,000 that the county would pay his salary would still be $2,600 a year, Judge Templeton continued, "and both Childress and Hall counties pay their agents $1,000 a year. The home demonstration agent gets $1,200 from the State and $1,200 from the county making a total of $2,400 a year. There are many people who are signing petitions who do not realize this.

"I have been criticized," Judge Templeton stated, "because my own salary was not cut. At the same time I am drawing $1,500 a year as county judge, while the county judge of Childress gets $2,250 a year, of Hall $2,500 a year, Donley $2,250, and Wheeler over $2,000.

"The reduction in salaries was not made as a reflection on the work of the officials affected, but was made simply to reduce the budget in what seemed to the court to be a fair manner."

ELECTION TO BE HELD

A city election for one alderman to fill the unexpired term of Andy F. McDonald, deceased, will be held at the city hall in Wellington February 11, according to Jack Knight, city secretary.

W. R. Brickley has been named presiding officer and the clerks selected are E. W. Cocke, W. H. Goforth and Rolla Fisher.

Chesty Smith to Wrestle Mantell

Chesty Smith will meet Dutch Mantell at the American Legion Hall in Wellington Thursday night at 8 o'clock in what promises to be the best match of the season. Dutch claims that he will have an easy time matting Chesty the best two out of three falls, but Smith is going to do his best to reverse the situation and this is what promises lots of action to make the night interesting.

Both contestants are well known in Panhandle wrestling circles. Mantell is going to meet Joe Kopecky in Amarillo Friday night—after wrestling here Thursday. Kopecky beat Cal Farley in Amarillo last Friday. Mantell is considered good enough to draw good crowds in Amarillo and local fans are assured of more than their dollar's worth.

Charlie Sullivan will meet Alvin Horton in a three round fight for one of the preliminaries, and Fred Wood agrees to mat Strangler Lee Bynum 2 falls in 20 minutes for another of the attractions.

Mrs. Louise Frances Byrd, wife of H. F. Byrd, died at her home Friday at the age of 78 years.

Mrs. Byrd was born August 9, 1850, and had resided in Wellington for more than 20 years. She is survived by her husband, H. F. Byrd of Wellington; a daughter, Mrs. Mary Tate of Aberdeen; a brother, John Shaddy of Wellington and a sister, Mrs. Sarah Johnson of Dickens county.

Funeral services were held Saturday aftersoon by Rev. Squyres with interment in the Wellington cemetery. Pall bearers were T. B. Starkey, J. W. Payne, W. H. McClellan, D. L. Rymer, E. B. Haralson and Jess Young.

Raises Bale and Half to Acre

F. O. Masten has raised a bale and a half of cotton per acre from his farm this year and this is not an ususual record for Mr. Masten as his farm has produced better than an average of one bale per acre over a period of the past six years. The 1928 crop totaled a bale and a half per acre on the Masten farm in spite of the fact that the entire crop had to be planted over in June following the hard rains and was later damaged by hard wind and sand.

Mr. Masten, who is one of the 1928 Master Farmers of Texas, has wrought unusual success from his farm in Collingsworth county.

1909—just twenty years ago—Mr. Masten was working as a "hired hand" on a farm in Hardeman county for a salary of $20 a month. At the present time, at 38 years of age, Mr. Masten is conservatively worth $80,000 all of which he has made himself and on a farm in Collingsworth county.

When Mr. Masten moved to Collingsworth county in 1917 he bought the 213 acres which he now owns, and immediately began practicing improved farm methods which he believed would make his land pay more per acre. He began and has always adhered to a program of more cotton on fewer acres. He has practiced crop rotation and has built up the quality of his soil by the sane and consistent use of minerals and other fertilizers. He never plants more than half his acreage in cotton, and raises feed and garden products on the remainder.

Whether or not Mr. Masten has succeeeded as a farmer is evident. It is true that he owns unusually good farm land, but he has not only conserved this land but has actually built up the soil until it is better now than it was when he first bought the land.

Mr. Masten has refused $200 per acre for the 213 acres he owns. He has a bank account to his credit which runs high up into five figures. On his farm, which is two miles east of Wellington, he has built a $10,000 home which is one of the best and most modern residences in the county.

A close examination of Mr. Masten's record for 1928 shows that he made a clear net profit of $12,000 from his farm this year, after all expenses were itimized and deducted and even after a large sum for depreciation of his property was deducted.

Whether or not farming in Collingsworth county can be made profitable is apparent from a study of Mr. Masten's record.

The Undefined American

Figaro of Paris, the New York World notes editorially, is circularizing its readers in an effort to find a satisfactory name for the inhabitants of thse United States. Not a nickname. We can struggle along nicely as Yankees, since the smoke of Sixty-Five has cleared away. What Figaro wants is a descriptive name to which we can prove a definite claim, since Canadians and Mexicans are as clearly North Americans and any resident between Baffin's Bay and Terra del Fuesgo as conclusively an American.

Like the baffling question of national anthems, national nomenclature can not be legislated or even wished into existence. Certainly the closest literal translation of the names hopefully suggested by Figaro's readers present no auditory appeal.

In the meantime we might cogitate on the question ourselves. Actually we are Americans of the United States, or, to avoid any possibile confusion with Brazil, United States Americans. This seems the only logical appellation that is at once correct and explanatory. But it is awkward and, what is worse, it is unfamiliar.

Quarrel as the purist may with the term American, it is still ours by squatter right. The Canadian, the Mexican, the Argentinean, the Brazilian, the Cuban, have no desire to relinquish the individuality of their nationalism in favor of the generality we arrogate to ourselves because it is part of the name of the Republic as well as the family monicker of two continents and the neck between. And Figaro's happy guessing readers know who is meant by Americans. The question is purely academic.

But of course the purist may have his inning. "We, sir," boomed Daniel Webster, "are Americans." To which the Canuck, guiding his rum-laden craft across the waters of Ontario, is entitled to retort, "Yeah?"—Dallas Morning News.

Live Today

"Finish the day and be done with it. You have done what you could. Some blunders and absurdities, no doubt, crept in. Forget them as you can. Tomorrow is a new day, being it well and serenely and with too high a spirit to be encumbered with your old nonsense. This day is all that is good and fair. It is too dear with its hopes and aspirations, to waste a moment upon the yesterdays." We do not know the author of the above, but it is well worth a place on this page. Too often we fail to appreciate today. Too often we look forward to tomorrow and do not see the joys we may have today. Taking the day and its troubles and its worries to bed with us spoils our tomorrows, because we begin a new day with the old one still hanging over us like a dark shadow that obscures the sun. Give the new day the right of way. Do your best. Live your best. Hope for the best. Then with eyes to the front, march along the way with the minutes, the hours and the years, leaving the outcome with the maker of all things. And thus living, pack up the joys and enjoy them, forgetting the blunders, the sorrows and the ill with the setting of the sun.—Higgins News.

Chicago, Georgia and Crime

The legal quirks and psycho-medical theories that once proved so impressive to a Chicago jury don't seem to mean quite so much in Georgia.

After Leopold and Loeb killed little Bobby Franks —"just for a thrill"—they escaped hanging because of a bewildering assortment of tales about abnormality, subnormality, congenital mental disabilities and what-not.

In Georgia a young collegian named George R. Harsh—like the Chicago pair, rich and clever—took to committing holdups "just for a thrill." In the course of one holdup he and a companion shot a man to death.

The crime was much less atrocious than that of Leopold and Loeb. The same sort of defense was put up. Alienists told of all sorts of crossed wires in the young collegian's brain.

But it took a Georgia jury only a short time to vote the death penalty. Harsh is sentenced to electrocution March 15.

Chicago might send someone down to Georgia to see how it's done.—Amarillo News.

Prosperity and Schools

The amazing growth of secondary education in recent years is emphasized in a current bulletin from the Department of the Interior.

At the present time more than one-half of the population of high school age is in actual attendance at high school. In the cities this rate is even higher; in rural areas it is somewhat lower.

But what is noteworthy is the fact that 30 years ago not more than one seventh of the young people of high school age went to high school. High school enrollments, indeed, have doubled since so late a date as 1920.

TEXAS & TEXANS

By Will H. Mayes

Texas Mineral Production

Texas is hardly classed among the mineral producing states because so little attention has been given to mining. In recent years its mines have been attracting more attention, and according to the United States Department of Commerce mineral production is now increasing at a rapid rate. The principal productions are gold, silver, lead and copper, and the increase in these from year 1927 to the year 1928 ranged from 30 per cent in silver to more than 1,000 per cent in copper. Geologists say that the surface has hardly been touched in the geological development of Texas. Richer mines will be uncovered in West Texas than have yet been in men's richest dreams.

Texas Pink Granite

There is no better or prettier building material anywhere than the pink granite that comes from Granite Mountain in Burnet county. A company operating there has just completed the delivery of the granite to be used in the Waxahachie courthouse. The same company has orders ahead to keep its present equipment and force busy for several months working on full time. Burnet and Llano counties have enough granite to supply all the needs of Texas for years to come, yet there are some builders who pass up the Texas product for something not so good, and far more expensive, that comes from other sections. Texas pride should cause Texas products to be put into Texas buildings.

What is Antimony?

Few people know what is meant when antimony is mentioned and some may confuse it with a tax for desertion. It is a metal or chemical used extensively in alloys with lead and tin to give them hardness. It is sometimes used in the arts. Congress is being asked to increase the duty on antimony from 2 to 4 cents a pound, in which event it is announced that an antimony smelter to cost $500,000 and to employ 200 men will be operated at either Laredo, Brownsville or Eagle Pass. The mineral to be smelted will come largely from Mexico.

Regulating Ice Plants

If a bill introduced by Representative Webb of Ector county becomes a law, the regulation of ice plants will be placed with the Railroad Commission. It is claimed that the varying charges for ice in different parts of Texas make it difficult for those paying highest prices to compete with others in shipment of fruit and produce that require icing. It is hoped to overcome this through regulation of prices.

Railroad Gets Bus Lines

The granting by the Railroad Commission of authority to the Missouri Pacific Transportation Company, a subsidiary of the Missouri Pacific Rail Lines, to purchase and operate bus lines in south Texas is regarded by many as the opening wedge to the absorbtion of bus and truck lines by the railroads and the elimination of the strong competition that has arisen in passenger and freight transportation in Texas. If so, the people who build and maintain the highways will fail to profit further to any large extent from an active competition that has been to their advantage.

Value of Pecan Crop

Many Texas papers are taking notice of the value of the native pecan crop to their sections. Large parts of the State are well adapted to pecan culture which is everywhere increasing. Texas is now producing about 40 per cent of all the pecans grown in the United States, and they are much richer in meat contents than the pecans of any other part of the country. Pecan growers need above all else a cooperative and protective marketing system that prices may be uniform and satisfactory. Pecan growers associations are working along these lines, but as the crop is now rushed to market in a few months, interest in marketing appears to wane with the sale of each crop. The Texas pecan crop can be made more valuable to Texas than the grape crop is to California, but there will have to be organization first.

Doubtful Book Deals

Almost from the adoption of the free text book law in Texas there have been scandals and rumors of crookedness in connection with the purchase of textbooks. The book lobby that almost perpetually hovers over Austin and permeates the whole State is one of the strongest and most assiduous of all the lobbies. It is likely to be investigated by the present legislature. Lobbying has become a high-priced and dangerous occupation in Texas—dangerous to the tax money of the people. Many lawyers and ex-members of the legislative bodies receive the largest part of their incomes from lobbying. Something of the hard-fist methods of former Gov. Tom Campbell is needed in thinning out Texas lobbists.

Autoplate Making

Another effort will be made to have the Texas penitentiary make the auto license plates and the road signs needed by the State. No good reason can be given why the penitentiary should not manufacture many of the supplies needed by the State, unless it be that in doing so the State is in competition with labor. Unless the prisoners remain absolutely idle they are in competition with some form of labor, and there is no good reason why the prison system should restrict its operations to competition with farm labor.

Frisco Plans Extension

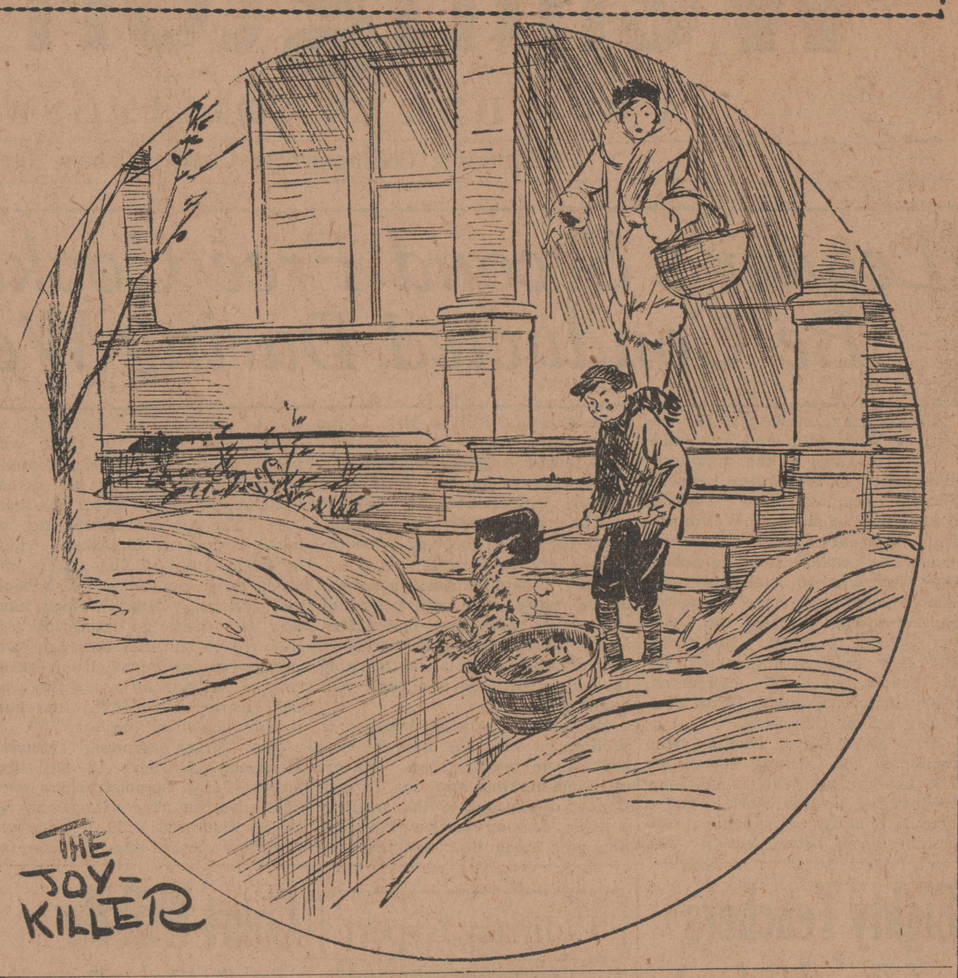

The Frisco road has applied for authority to build a line from Paducah in Cottle County to Groom in Carson County. The Frisco would acquire the Gulf, Texas & Western line, thus giving the Rock-Island-Frisco system some 315 miles of additional lines in the prosperous South Plains section.

Milk Products Plant

Cameron has completed a milk products plant with capacity of 22,000 pounds, which will pay 53 cents for butterfat. The plant will handle the milk from 700 cows and will produce cheese, Bulgarian buttermilk, pasturized milk and butter. Georgetown and Elgin are other Central Texas towns that are now considering the building of cheese factories.

Great American Home

The Silver Anniversary

By Phebe K. Warner

Chairman National Committee on Rural Co-operation

Again a national celebration comes to Texas. And Houston is to be the hostess city. Twenty-five years ago, when Dr. Seaman A. Knapp was seeking a few big, open minds and some good rich soil in which to plant and test a new idea he came to Texas. And over in East Texas, in Kaufman County, near the city of Terrell he found what he was seeking. And it was there in 1903 that he put into practice one of the greatest educational programs in the history of our country.

Dr. Knapp was a man of vision, not for himself alone, but for his fellowman. And he believed in adult education. Thank God for that. Perhaps the greatest thought he planted and the greatest test he made in 1903 was that men and women can and will learn new things after their natural school days are past. And farm men and farm women at that. Dr. Knapp's vision was for the men and women on the farms of our whole nation and for their homes and their communities.

In his vision he saw millions of happy homes, beautiful homes, convenient, comfortable homes on our farms because he belived by practical agricultural education our farms could be made more profitable. But little did he dream that in one short quarter of a century his vision of farm life would be caught up by every state in the union, become a part of our government's business and grow into the most useful adult education the world has yet ever known. But that is just what happened.

As a result of that one demonstration farm in Kaufman county in 1903 Texas alone has more than 150 county farm agents busy every day, working not for the farm men and boys, but working side by side with them. And since the home is a part of the farm Texas has more than a hundred trained women, county demonstrators working every day with the women and girls in more than a hundred of our counties

And throughout our nation over 1200 counties are employing these specially trained adult teachers to take to the farm homes and the farm people the very best educational course that it is possible for the 20th century to create.

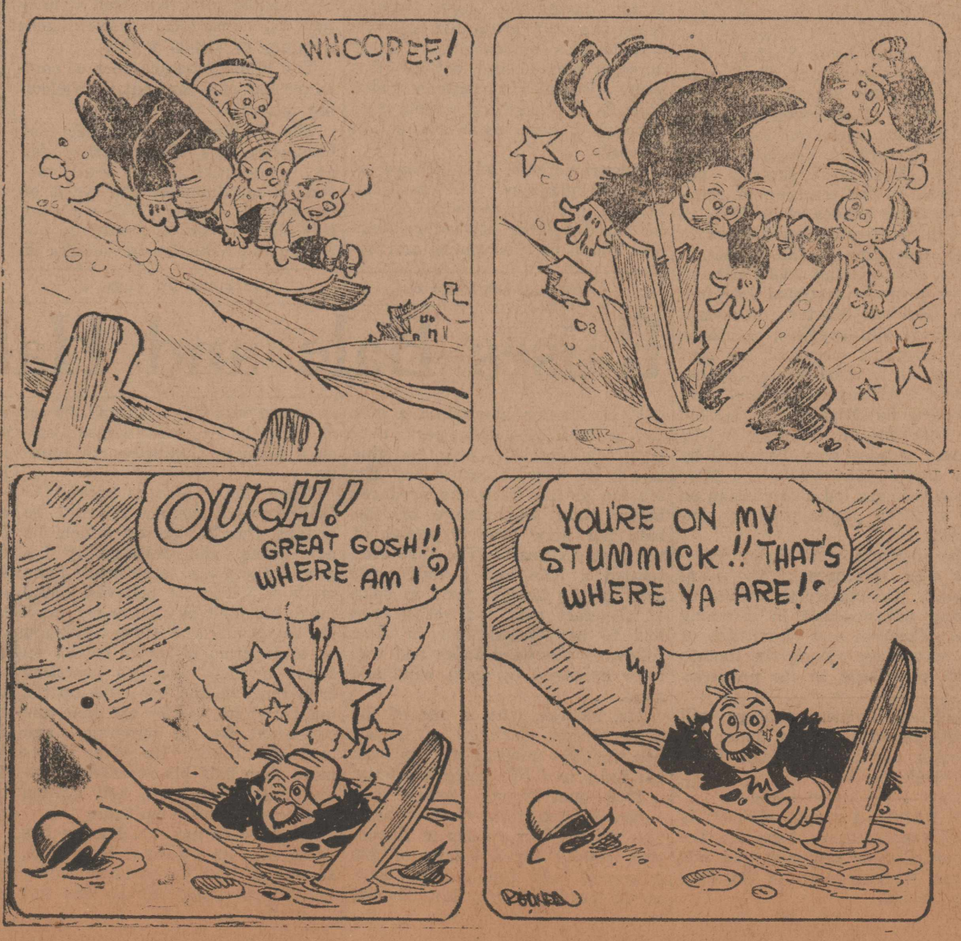

If you were asked what has been, thus far, the greatest acievemen of the 20th century what would you say? Some of us might say the air ship. Others would say the radio. Some might be cruel enought to say the World War. Still others would say prohibition and universal sufferage and the good roads movement. But as a plain country woman, I am going to say the greatest achievement of the 20th century thus far has been the establishment of Cooperative Farm Demonstration Work.

It is the greatest (in my judgement) because it has the greatest possibilities in it for, not only our nation, but for the whole agricultural world. Already other nations are sending representatives to the United States to learn how it has all happened. The eyes of the world are on this great agricultural experiment that Dr. Seaman A. Knapp first tried in Kaufman county, Texas, twenty-five years ago. Why has it grown so? Because it touched a great human need. Because it has not only developed the physical resources of our soil but it has done far more. It is developing our human resources. It is discovering and training our rural leaders as no other work has ever done. It has touched the hearts of our rural home makers and put new hope and new inspiration into their neglected lives. It is bringing the people of every county where the work is being carried on into a closer relation. And it is also bringing our rural life and our urban life into a more harmonious working unit for the entire county and country. It is teaching our boys and girls to love their farm homes because it is teaching them how to be happy and contented and independent on the farm. It is starting our boys and girls out in life with more practical agricultural knowledge at 18 and 21 years of age than their parents ever knew until the Farm Demonstration work was introduced into their lives.

It is developing better farm products for our city consumers. It is conserving the soil for future generations. It is building faith back into the farmer's life. It is helping the farm mother to realize her dreams of a home by helping her to make a way or find a way to provide those things her heart has longed for, for so many years. It is restoring self confidence in a race of people that had all but lost faith in themselves and their power to conquer their difficulties.

It is to celebrate this great achievement of the past twenty-five years that the people of this nation will meet in Houston, Texas, February 5, 6, 7. You are invited to attend that meeting and get the thrill of your life.

Enlarged Plant Will Build 1929 Pontiac Bodies

Many style innovations in the new Pontiac Six, to be introduced around the first of the year, as well as expanded body plant facilities to meet the demand of the 1929 line, were announced here today by Copeland and Hunsaker, local Pontiac and Oakland dealers.

Looking toward record sales of the new car, the Fisher Body Corporation plant here has been enlarged by a several-million dollar development now virtually completed and ready for production on the new Pontiac Six body types.

Expansion projects include a new stamping plant to turn out metal parts used in the composite steel and wood construction of Fisher bodies, enlargement of the power plant and construction of a storage building to make way for more extended body assembly operations. In view of these changes, Fisher officials estimate that next year the plant will have a capacity of 1,500 bodies a day.

Stepping up of the Fisher body plant capacity parallels expansion projects also under way at the modern Oakland-Pontiac plant, which in 1929 will have a peak volume of more than 350,000 cars as against an estimated output this year of 265,000 units.

Location for the new stamping plant adjacent to the Fisher factory in which all Pontiac Six bodies are built also follows the centralization plan inaugrated by President A. R. Glacy, of the Oakland company, in 1926, when he started construction of a complete manufacturing unit on the edge of town.

Early in 1929, when the new Oakland-Pontiac foundry now under construction begins turning out castings, all major parts used in manufacturing Oakland and Pontiac Sixes will be built in factories owned by the Oakland company and the Fisher corporation, with all units conveniently grouped to cut down transportation costs.

The Fisher and Oakland-Pontiac factory sites adjoin, the two manufacturing units being linked by a quarter-mile long conveyor through which compressed air propels Pontiac Six bodies direct from the Fisher body assembly line to the Pontiac car assembly building.

The first of the new Pontiac Six bodies was expected to be shot through this conveyor early in the week, when production on the 1929 line will touch volume so that dealers may be amply stocked when the new car goes on display early next year.

Officials of both the Fisher and the Oakland organizations declared that the 1929 Pontiac six bodies offer style features unique in the low price field, an Oakland statement asserting that, "while duplicating in several specifications the latest Oakland All-American bodies, the new Pontiac line also will reveal pleasing points of variance from conventional design.

"Side louvres on the new Pontiac hood represent an entirely new advancement in hood design, embodying a simple but effective arrangement which greatly improves the long, low lines of the car. Other details new in the Pontiac field are in window design, in belt line body molding and pillar line effects, and in extravagant use of chromium plate on exposed bright parts.

"The interior of the 1929 Pontiac presents an equally rich appearance. Controls, fittings and upholstery all offer a new degree of convenience and luxury fully justifying the advance claim that the new Pontiac would bring big car features within the price range of the small six."

CANADIAN—A $35,000 bond issue has been voted here for the erection a city hall and municipal auditorium.

ALICE—The new city hall here will be opened soon.

Fordor Sedan Is Distinctive From Other Ford Cars

The Fordor Sedan is the de luxe car of the new Ford passenger car line and has many features that are new and exclusive in low priced cars, according to E. W. Alley, of the Pigg-Alley Motor company.

It is distinctive from the other Ford passenger cars in exterior appearance. The cowl sweeps down in a graceful curve from a raised panel at the windshield to a narrow belt moulding which runs from the front of the hood on a straight line back and around the car. This gives the body a long, low effect.

Another feature that adds much to the exterior appearance is the roll belt effect below the windows which rolls down to the narrow moulding. The top and rear quarter have rounded corners and are covered with a pyroxlin covered material of a tan shade, in pleasing contrast with the body colors. There is a ventilator in the lower panel of the cowl on the left side, for greater driving comfort.

The interior of the car has a strikingly rich and inviting appearance. The trimming is of light brown effect with deeply cushioned seats upholstered in soft brown hairline cloth, a highly effective combination. The cushions are of the lounge stfle with overstuffed plain panels. Arm rests in the rear compartment are another convenience. Seats in both compartments are deeply cushioned, wide and most comfortable. The attractiveness of the interior is further enhanced by the use of embossed panelling on the doors and around the ends of the seat in the front compartment. This is a decidedly distinctive touch, such as might be expected only in custom built bodies. An oval light bowl in the rear compartment and a flexible robe rail are other pleasing and serviceable features. The hardware is all nickeled in a conservative style of scroll effect and is all of uniform design in harmony with other interior trimming.

Safety, silence and simplicity are features of the new Ford six-brake system

ONE of the first things you will notice when you drive the new Ford is the quick, effective, silent action of its six-brake system.

This system gives you the highest degree of safety and reliability because the four-wheel service brakes and the separate emergency or parking brakes are all of the mechanical, internal expanding type, with braking surfaces fully enclosed for protection against mud, water, sand, etc.

The many advantages of this type of braking system have long been recognized. They are brought to you in the new Ford through a series of mechanical improvements embodying much that is new in design and manufacture. A particularly unique feature is the simple way by which a special drum has been constructed to permit the use of two sets of internal brakes on the rear wheels.

A further improvement in braking performance is effected by the self-centering feature of the four-wheel brakes — an exclusive Ford development. Through this construction, the entire surface of the shoe is brought in steady, uniform contact with the drum the instant you press your foot on the brake pedal. This prevents screeching and howling and makes the Ford brakes unusually silent in operation.

Another feature of the Ford brakes is the ease of adjustment.

The four-wheel brakes are adjusted by turning a screw conveniently located on the outside of each brake plate. This screw is so notched that all four brakes can be set alike simply by listening to the "clicks."

The emergency or parking brakes on the new Ford require little attention. However, should they need adjustment at any time, consult your Ford dealer for prompt, courteous, and economical service. He works under close factory supervision and he has been specially trained and equipped to help you get the greatest possible use from your car over the longest period of time at a minimum of trouble and expense.

MAJESTIC

Electric Radio

"Mighty Monarch of the Air"

HERE IN A FEW WORDS IS THE STORY OF THE LATEST MAJESTIC ACHIEVEMENT:

To build a product better, finer and for less money than has been asked for the highest quality merchandise before, is no easy task. All this, and more, was accomplished by MAJESTIC Electric Radio in 1928—an achievement that set the world talking, thinking and buying MAJESTIC. Since last June, when the first MAJESTIC receiver left the factory, over 600,000 MAJESTICS have been produced, and are giving such consistently good performance that this, too, has amazed the world. To make a product better than those that have gone before was a real achievement—but how to make the best product that could be made for the money still better, was a task that might appear impossible.

Yet MAJESTIC has done it. Under the guiding hand of William C. Grunow, a genius of production, whase foresight, imagination, and ability to weave the final technical achievements into mass production of radio receivers, has brought him international fame—a new and finer MAJESTIC has been created.

Its performance is astonishing, its beauty outstanding, its price amazing.

When you see and hear these new MAJESTIC receivers, you forget all but quality—quality of performance, quality of appearance that you can really feel. You only know you want to own one of these new models—to have it for your very own—to add breathless beauty to your home and give you matchless performance which puts a new song of happiness in your heart.

Forget all but quality, yet receive your greatest thrill when you learn the price. For MAJESTIC'S newest achievement, the radio with quality you can feel, is within reach of every purse.

Mason Suffered For 15 Years, Then He Found Sargon

New Treatment Did Him More Good Than Trip To Hot Springs Says Texas Man

"For fifteen years I suffered from a complication of troubles that I believe started with an inactive liver. I was weak, nervous and generally rundown. I frequently had sharp, shooting pains in my side. My sleep was poor and I lost weight, strength and energy. Nearly everything I ate caused indigestion. I took a trip to Hot Springs, but got no relief there, and then I visited several health resorts in the North seeming to do without benefit.

"A friend told me about the fine results he had gotten from Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills, so I bought a bottle and could see a difference for the better from the first few days. I began to sleep better and to eat anything I wanted.

"I now feel like a new man. My appetite is fine. The pains in my side have disappeared. I am not the least bit servous, and am full of new energy. I have gained weight and my friends are all commenting upon my wonderful improvement.

"Sargon Soft Mass Pills are wonderful. They ended my constipation and biliousness without griping in the least.

"I wouldn't be without Sargon if it cost twenty dollars a bottle."

The above remarkable statement was made by A. J. Mason, residing at the Colonial Hotel, Fort Worth and owner of considerable property in that city.

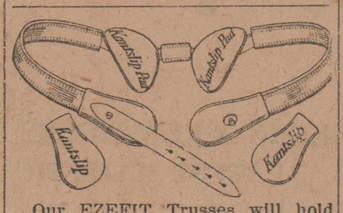

Sargon may be obtained in Wellington from Joe Hardy Drug Co. and in Quail from Dr. F. V. Walker.

Government of County Held By Capable Hands

Public Officials Are Serving Collingsworth County Well

New and old officials of Collingsworth county who took their oaths of office January 1 have been handling their duties in a most commendable manner and as the new administration is well under way it is quite apparent to citizens of Collingsworth that the county government remains in competent hands.

Judge R. H. Templeton is still at the helm of the county's government, serving his fifth term at this time. The number of years which Judge Templeton has held this office testify to his ability and to the manner in which he conducts the business of the county. When he first took the oath of office, many years ago, Judge Templeton inaugurated a policy of economy that would be consistent with good government. He has pursued a policy which would enable the county to keep uncovered from debt and consequently keep down taxes. Nevertheless, Judge Templeton is in accord with a program for paved highways, better lateral roads, a new courthouse, and many other things which have a tendancy to keep Collingsworth in line with surrounding counties.

Claude McKinney is serving his third term in the office of sheriff and tax collector. As a peace officer, Sheriff McKinney is unsurpassed and has made a record as such which is entirely to his credit. He is known to be one of the most competent and fearless officials in the entire state and has rendered Collingsworth county a service which is the envy of many sections in Texas and Oklahoma. During his tenure of office crime has been reduced to a minimum.

John Jones, commissioner for Precinct 1 who took his first oath of office January 1, is the only new commissioner now serving Collingsworth county. Mr. Jones has the interest of the entire citizenship of his county at heart and the courage to stay with his convictions.

J. D. Wilson is beginning his second term in the office of county superintendent. At the time J. D. took his first oath of office he was the youngest county superintendent in Texas, but his youth proved to be an asset rather than a handicap and the rural schools of Collingsworth county have made a notable progress under his guidance. His official slogan is "Make Collingsworth Schools the Best in the State," and he is putting forth every effort to derive the maximum service from his splendid corps of teachers.

Miss Lenore Sherwood for the fourth time qualified for the office of district clerk January 1. Miss Sherwood has rendered her county and its citizens an efficient service in this responsble office, and has been reelected three times without opposition. She is recognized as one of the most ficient clerks in the district.

H. I. Cagle is again serving as commissioner for Precinct 3, having been re-elected to office without opposition. He joins the other members of the court in a pursuit of the sound business principles which have formerly characterized the commisioners court.

Mrs. Marguerite Bartlett who is now in charge of the office of county clerk is one of the best qualified officials now serving the county. Having served the county as deputy clerk for seven years before seeking the office herself, Mrs. Bartlett is familiar with every detail incident to the office and is rendering the taxpayers a service which cannot be surpassed.

P. W. Myers is beginning another term as justice of the peace. Judge Myers is known for his squareness and honesty in dealing with the public and is a worthy public official.

Miss Annie Bird, Collingsworth county's first woman tax assessor, is one of the four new officials to be sworn in office this year. She was elected to this office last July with four other candidates in the race. Mrs. Bird is handling the duties of the office with energetic ability and is making a success of her public responsibilities.

Luther Gribble who is discharging the duties of the county attorney with unusual efficiency was reelected to this office last July without opposition. He has a splendid legal ability and the record he has maintained in office has been entirely satisfactory.

Miss Callie Curtner, county treasurer, is another of the county's new officials, having qualified for her first public office January 1. Miss Curtner was born and reared in Collingsworth county and is known to practically every citizen of the county. Miss Curtner has the ability as well as the inclination to serve the people well. The pictures of two of the county's officials do not appear on this page, due to the fact The Leader was unable to secure photographs of them. They are H. K. Willingham, commissioner of Precinct 2 and J. A. Coleman commissioner of Precinct 4. They are important members of the commissioners court and and the Leader regrets their photographs could not be obtained. Mr. Coleman and Mr. Willingham were both re-elected to their offices last July and have given this county a number of years of honest service.

Only four officials retired from office this year. They are Mrs. Laura Campbell, B. F. Ford, H. B. Duke and Mrs. Frances E. Winn.

Mrs. Campbell who retired from the office of treasurer after three terms, left the office with the esteem and good will of the entire citizenship having fulfilled the duties of the office to the minutest detail, with credit to herself and the county.

Mr. Ford served several terms as commissioner for Precinct 1 and filled his office in a manner which was always entirely above reproach.

Mr. Duke retired as tax assessor after two terms during which time he established a splendid record which will be hard to surpass.

Mrs. Winn served two terms as county clerk and although she made this county an unusually good official, she did not seek her office again at the last election.

An unusual feature of the county's government this year is the fact four of the county's elective offices are now being held by women. There are few counties which have as many as four women officials and those in Collingsworth are proving that women are quite competent to handle the duties of public office.

this, and it will be difficult for them to continue their work here with this understanding of the facts. Howere, we have every reason to believe that our agents will continue their work with us until such time as may be required to determine whether this reduction in salaries ordered by our court will continue indefinitely. If, after all has been done and said by the friends of county agent work in this county the Commissioners' Court should persist in the reduction then, we could not expect to hold these agents.

(2) In our opinion, we have efficient and experienced agents who have been doing their best to develop the farm and home life of the citizens of this county. That they have succeeded in a remarkable way may be attested by every right thinking citizen. They have completed many projects which today are revitalizing the home life of our people. Again, they have set in motion many projects, the fulfillment of which will require many months of careful and painstaking effort on their part. Now, to say to these agents who have so faithfully performed their duties, "We are no longer able to pay you for the service which you have performed; we know that you can't afford to continue your work with us for the salary we offer; we know further that the many good projects which you have so carefully planned and are carrying into execution for the farmer, the housewife, the club boys and the club girls of this county will suffer by your going; also, we know that in your going, we shall lose much of the work you have done, but, it is our idea of economy." Friends, any economic program based upon such fallacious and delusive ideas does nothing but deceive and warp the very life of our modern institutions. Any economic program which takes away from the people of this county the opportunity to secure valuable information in their pursuit of industry and which affects very vitally the home life of the community can be nothing but FALSE ECONOMY.

(3) Finally, if the work of the county agents is to continue in this county, there must be something definitely determined concerning their salary and tenure of office. A good agent cannot be retained on a meager salary. If you agree with the thought herein contained and wish to retain efficient county agent work in this county, then by all means let your commisisoner know how you stand on this matter. The next regular meeting of the Commissioners' Court will be Monday, February 11th. His actions are governed by your desires in most cases. Join the committee from your community and attend this meeting. They expect you.

Yours very truly,
WELLINGTON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

ESSENTIAL TO FARM HOME

Plenty of lights and lights where they are needed—in the kitchen over the sink and stove and work table; in the living room at the places where people want to read; in the closets and at the head of the beds.

A dumb waiter from the kitchen to the basement; the dumb waiter to be inclosed in screen and lowered with its load of food to save many trips up and down the basement steps. Stairs that are wide and with low rises; also wide stairways.

Running water—hard and soft; hot and cold.

Houses mouse and rat proof.

Good chimneys for fire protection.

Plenty of reading matter.

Good pictures and music.

Plenty of closets, rods for hangers, shelves for hats and shoes. Window seats with drawers. Chests or cupboards beneath for toys, magozines, sewing materials.

Good fences, in good condition, for "good fences make good neighbors." Buildings well painted and the painting kept up, for both appearance and economy.

Electricity, from power lines or individual farm plants, built in ironing board, in good light.

Power for washing machine, separator, vacuum cleaner, iron and such. Clothes chute, lift to attic for taking up seed corn, etc.

Place in doors to dry clothes in bad weather.

Closets for brooms, dust mops, etc., on both floors.

Cross ventilation in bed rooms.

THE FIRST LAW OF MOTORING—
be sure of your OIL

IF motorists could only be thoroughly impressed with the paramount importance of proper lubrication, cars would last longer, depreciation would decrease and operating costs would tumble to a fraction of their present staggering figure.

When you allow an unknown, unbranded, "mystery" oil to go into your crankcase you are violating the first law of economical and efficient motoring.

By demanding the tried and tested brands marketed by the Continental Oil Company you are sure of your oil. Back of each of these brands stands the experience of almost 50 years—and a reputation which stands for nothing but the best. Ask for these brands at service stations and the better garages.

Conoco Motor Oil insures protection. It seals compression—saves gasoline—fights friction. Flows freely at low temperatures. Stands up under most intense cylinder heat. In short, does a complete lubricating job in all kinds of weather. Ask for the grade made especially for your car.

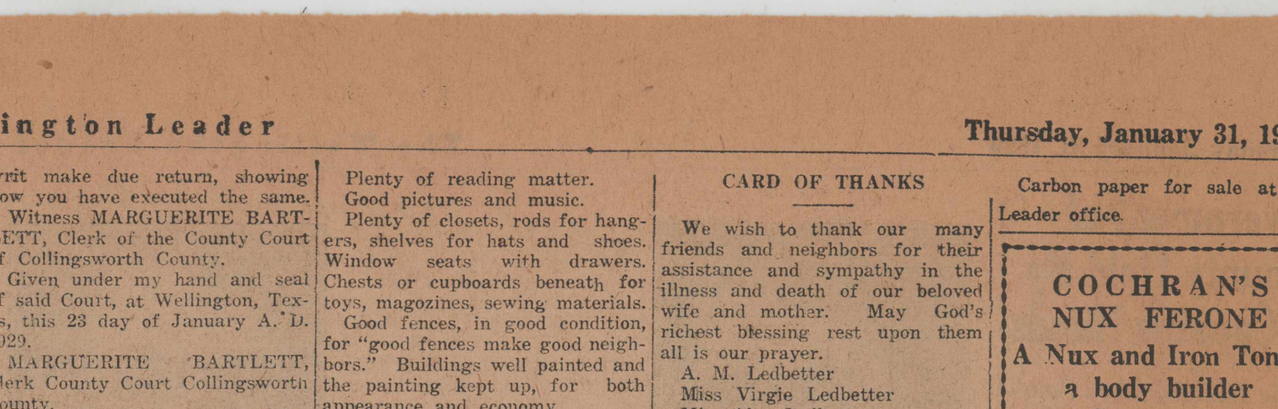

Conoco Amalie is 100% Pennsylvania Oil—refined from premium crudes by a special process. Universally recommended by automotive engineers and lubrication experts. Through exhaustive laboratory and road tests it has demonstrated its ability to lubricate properly under the most trying conditions of motor operation.

Veteran of Dodge Plant Finishing 38 Years Service

"The Daddy of the Plant"!

That's what they call him out in the shops of mammoth Dodge Brothers factory in Detroit— the gray-haired, slightly stooped engineer on duty at one of the big compressed air machines for operating the huge steel presses, according to Jim Richards of the Allen-Figh Motor Company.

He is William Wohlfeil and he is 60 years old, the last active member of a small machine shop with 20 employes to its outstanding position in the automotive industry, ranking with the greatest industrial concerns of the country and the world.

But, in spite of his three score years, "Bill", as he is known familiarly to thousands of his fellow employes, has kept pace with the times. His ideas of how the modern automobile should be made are the ideas of today. They came to him in the evolution of the industry and the part he has played in it—first the bicycle, then the four and now the popular six-cylinder car.

Wohlfeil was a young man, barely 22 when he crossed over the Detroit River to the Canadian border town of Windsor 38 years ago to work for the Dodge Brothers in the manufacture of bicycles. Employed there until 1901, he returned to Detroit with the founders of the company to open their first machine shop, one of a bare handful of employes. Later, when Dodge Brothers were turning out parts for the pioneer automobile companies, he was the blacksmith and in 1914, with the advent of the first Dodge motor car, his engineer's papers came. Today he takes a keen interest in his job as engineer on the big air compressor.

In nearly four decades with Dodge Brothers, Wohlfield has gained for himself the reputation of being the most reliable employe in the plant.

"For more than 20 years his time card has not varied more than a couple of minutes," a Dodge official said. "He is always here five minutes ahead of time and has seldom missed a day or even an hour from his job."

His greatest compensation, Wohlfield declares, has come through a feeling that he has been close to a phenomenal achievement—a sense of pride in the growth of the Dodge organization and the development of the automobile industry.

Titled Beauty

One of the sensations of the London winter social season is the Midnight Sun Ball at which society members take part in a pageant, dressed as bits of the Arrora Borealis. Here is the beautiful Lady Weymouth in her costume as one of the northern lights.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEM

Nature's Cosmetics the Best

Declaring that cosmetics are essential to health and beauty but that nature's brand is the best on the market and that the vanity case should be kept on the dining table rather than the dressing table, home demonstration authorities of the A. and M. College Extension Service are emphasizing gardens as the magic gateway to beauty. "Garden cosmetics should be applied internally for the most part," they say. "Rouge your face with carrots, spinach and turnip greens. Let your mirror be a dish of delicious vegetable soup and note the effect in a bevelled edge mirror. For sparkle in your eyes try boiled onions or spinach for they contain phosphorous which concentrates in the beacon like beam, one from each eye.

"Vegetables, both raw and cooked, fruits, fresh air and milk are the health givers that will aid woman in her eternal quest for beauty. The best face cream is cow's vanishing cream used daily. For a clear skin apply fruit juice and plenty of vegetables down inside of the neck. Make a morning meal of oatmeal or other cereals, and take plenty of water, both internally and externally, drinking at least one quart daily. Drill yourself to clean your teeth after each meal or the dentist will drill them for you."

This is the advice 34,000 rural club women and girls are getting from their county home demonstration agents who are showing how it is done by conducting demonstrations in gardening and dairying and in the healthful use of vegetables and dairy products.

The daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Serug Webb of Lenoir, N. C., could form a complete baseball team to play their nine brothers. And there would be a complete nine of grandchildren to act as substitutes. This unusual family of eighteen children, divided equally between the sexes, is Mr. and Mrs. Webb's contribution toward keeping North Carolina in her place as the state with the highest birth rate. Despite the nine grandchildren, Mr. Webb is only 49 and his wife 47. They were married when Mr. Webb was 15. His bride was not quite 14. The children shown above range in age from 33 to 4 years. Mr. and Mrs. Webb are in the center.

TERRIBLE TB

Tuberculosis in livestock is a deceptive disease. Unlike most other livestock diseases, which cause visible symptoms and arouse immediate alarm among livestock owners, tuberculosis is generally slow in developing and its symptoms are not easily recognized from the appearance of the animals, so many people mistakenly believe that it does compartively little harm. Early eradication is the most economical way to combat the disease. Have the herd tested and then keep the disease out. Means by which tuberculosis is introduced into a healthy herd are by adding animals affected with the disease; by feeding calves with unpasteurized milk or other dairy products from tuberculous cows; by showing cattle at fairs and exhibitions; by shipping animals in cars which have recently carried diseased cattle and which have not been properly disinfected; and by using community pastures.

Dairying in Collingsworth coun-ty will probably increase more in 1929 than last year, although 1928 was one of the best years for dairying this county has ever experienced. Better feeding me-thods are becoming prevalent in this county which consequently make dairying more profitable to the farmers, and because the pro-ducers received ... factory price for butter and cream during the past year this will tend to increase dairying this year.

Not more than 5 per cent of the farmers have started their spring plowing, but the ground will probably be in better condi-tion for plowing when this work does start than it was last year, as a better season is in the ground that at this time in 1928.

and the players were able to get but very little practice until re-cently. Coach Harrison has whip-ped his men into shape in record time, however, and every time the Skyrockets go on the court the spectators are assured a clean, fast game.

The girls team has not met a single defeat during the year and should have little competition in winning county honors as well as taking wins from all neigboring cities. The Yellowjackets are in far better trim this season than in many years, despite the fact that many experienced players were lost last year. Miss Hulsey has a great deal of favorable ex-perience as a coach and the man-ner in which she is developing a team for Wellington is very creditable. She has perfected a sextet which is ... superior in every way to those which have been developed in Wellington dur-ing the past years. The Yellow-jackets will meet the Memphis team on the Wellington court Friday night, and if they are able to continue their present stride they will trounce the Memphis sextet which has handed Welling-ton teams defeats in girls basket-ball for several seasons.
