Liner Saves Airman Forced In Atlantic On Flight To Paris

'Lanky' Lou Reichers Injured When Plane Drops Into Waters Off Ireland

By CAPT. GEORGE FRIED
Commander of the Liner President Roosevelt
(Copyright, 1932, by The Associated Press)

S. S. PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, May 13. (AP)—Lou Reichers, the transatlantic flier, was rescued from the turbulent Atlantic off the southern tip of Ireland tonight by a lifeboat crew from the President Roosevelt.

The New Jersey speed flier was forced to drop his wind-buffeted monoplane into the ocean near the liner because of a cracked wing, damaged fuselage and fuel shortage. He suffered a broken nose and lacerated face in alighting.

The lookout on the bridge sighted the plane fluttering to the surface at 9:10 p. m. Greenwich mean time (3:10 p. m. central standard time), and Chief Officer Harry Manning immediately prepared to take aboard the occupant of the ship despite high seas and a dangerous southwest wind.

Manning Directs Rescue

The liner was maneuvered as near to the monoplane as possible and lifeboat No. 10, with Chief Officer Manning in command, was lowered.

The lifeboat made for the monoplane and after dangerous circling made fast long enough to lift out the exhausted Reichers from the pilot seat.

The Roosevelt meanwhile was lowering her ship's ladder and maneuvering as near as possible to the lifeboat.

Captain Manning and his crew caught the ladder and the flier was carried aboard. The sea was running too high to salvage either the lifeboat or the plane.

Reichers was placed immediately under the care of Surgeon Mulligan.

FRIED AND MANNING VETERAN RESCUERS

Captain George Fried and Harry Manning have been often involved in Atlantic rescue operations, and probably their most noteworthy effort was the rescue of the entire crew of the steamship Florida 700 miles off the Virginia capes Jan. 24, 1929. At that time Captain Fried was in command of the liner America. Notified by wireless, she sped to the side of the helpless Italian freighter.

With Chief Officer Manning in charge of the lifeboats 32 men were taken off within an hour's time, and the Florida sank almost immediately.

Saved Antinoe Crew

On Jan. 28, 1926, when Captain Fried was previously skipper of the President Roosevelt, he rescued 25 men from the British tramp steamer Antinoe, which sank during a storm in the north Atlantic. His heroism in that rescue, when it was necessary not only to locate the sinking ship from gramentary messages but to stand by her during several days of grueling weather, won him unstinted praise.

His account to the Associated Press made him an honorary reporter for that organization.

OFFICER KILLS FLETCHER MAN IN SHOOTING

Lawton Youth Kills Young Sweetheart and Makes Try for Own Life

Special to The Record News.

LAWTON, Okla., May 13—Ernest Stephens was shot and killed on the streets of Fletcher, 24 miles northwest of here, this afternoon by Deputy Sheriff F. G. Thomas.

Stephens, a resident of Fletcher, died 10 minutes after five bullets had been pumped rapidly into his body.

Thomas was attempting to arrest the man on a liquor charge, it was claimed, when the shooting took place. As Thomas placed Stephens under arrest, Stephens, according to witnesses, pulled an automatic pistol and threatened the officer's life.

Bystanders said that Stephen's inability to release the safety lock on the gun saved the gun from being fired.

With lightning speed Thomas' gun roared five times. Each shot took effect before Stephen's body struck the ground.

The officer surrendered following the shooting, and he was placed under formal arrest.

Stephens is survived by his widow and several children.

YOUTH KILLS SWEETHEART AND SHOOTS SELF

Special to The Record News.

LAWTON, Okla., May 13.—A 16-year-old girl was dead and her 22-year-old sweetheart was in a critical condition at a hospital here today, following a double shooting shortly after midnight this morning as the climax to a fishing party near here.

Olive Cyrus of Cyril, was almost instantly killed when Richard Couch, Lawton, turned a 22 caliber rifle on her and fired. An instant later the youth turned the gun on himself.

Majorie Reiss of Apache and Warner Weiss of Cyril, companions of the couple on the fishing trip, fled after witnessing the shooting. Speeding to Lawton they reported to officers, who, on returning to the scene of the tragedy, found the girl already dead and Couch lying wounded in a pool of blood.

Motive for the shooting was said to be in the estrangement of the young couple, who were unable to breach a misunderstanding.

Funeral services for the girl will be held at Cyril at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Exiled King Alfonso Beats Off Attacker

MARSEILLES, France, May 13. (UP)—A Spanish laborer attacked exiled King Alfonso of Spain, at the Marseilles dock today, and attempted to push the former ruler into the ocean.

When the attempt failed, the laborer struck Alfonso in the face, cutting his cheek, and tried to choke him.

"Alfonso needs a lesson," the attacker, Gonzales Massanares, 38, shouted when he rushed at the former monarch.

Alfonso was startled, but quickly regained his composure and with the aid of his son, Juan, fought off the Spaniard, who was arrested.

Col. Zach Miller Pleads Not Guilty to Assault

NEWKIRK, Okla., May 13. (UP)—Col. Zach Miller, wild West showman who rose from a sickbed, fired a shotgun charge into the floor, and chased attorneys off his 101 ranch when they sought to serve receivership papers on him, pleaded not guilty to assault charges today.

Miller is free on bond pending trial.

The rancher-showman fired his shotgun at the feet of Neil Sullivan and R. O. Wilson. His shots effectively halted the receivership sale of ranch property, which was already under way.

High Australian Official Dismissed

SYDNEY, Australia, May 13.—The greatest political sensation in Australia's history gripped the country today with the dismissal from office of Premier J. T. Lang by Air Vice Marshal Sir Philip Game, governor of the state of New South Wales.

The governor ordered Lang out of office when the premier refused to withdraw a letter he had written to all state department heads demanding that they withhold all payments due to the federal government of Australia. Lang handed over the symbols of power and the keys of his office, and departed for a week-end in the country.

Sir Philip asked Leader Stevens of the Nationalist party to take over the formation of a new government, which is certain to be defeated at the first meeting of the New South Wales parliament, in which Lang's Labor party holds an overwhelming majority.

With the defeat of the Nationalist administration, the country will be called upon immediately to elect a new parliament. The dispute arose over the New South Wales government's refusal to pay interest on loans from Britain.

Huge Traffic Increase Reported by Airline

CHICAGO, May 13. (US)—An 88.2 per cent increase in passenger traffic for the first four months of 1932 over the same period of last year was reported today by Lamotte T. Cohu, president of the American Airways, Inc., operating company of the Aviation corporation.

PRINCIPALS IN HONOR SLAYING ARRIVE IN U. S.

Lieutenant Massie and His Wife to Visit Mother In Kentucky

HAPPY AT RETURN

Young Victim of Assault Declares Honolulu Still Unsafe

By JAMES ADAM

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13. (US)—Principals in Honolulu's famous "honor slaying" trial returned here today on the steamer Malolo ready to take up life anew.

In the party were Mrs. Granville Fortescue; her son-in-law, Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, U. S. N.; her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Thalia Massie; relatives; Clarence Darrow, their chief counsel, and associated attorneys.

There was no concealing the happiness of Mrs. Fortescue and Lieutenant Massie at the sudden outcome of the case which brought freedom to them and two navy enlisted men last week by means of commutations after they had been convicted of manslaughter for killing Joseph Kahahawai, native Hawaiian, and alleged attacker of Mrs. Massie.

Darrow Seasick

Darrow, too, shaken by seasickness, also expressed his pleasure at the manner in which the case terminated.

So anxious was Mrs. Fortescue to land and be on her way home to New York that she and her sister, Mrs. Julian Ripley, were taken off the ship in the bay at the launch of Rear Admiral W. C. Cole, commandant of the 12th naval district.

They had hoped to depart immediately by airplane for the East, but missed connections and arranged to leave by train tonight.

Lieutenant Massie obtained a month's leave of absence late today to visit his mother in Winchester, Ky. He plans to leave tomorrow with his wife.

Has No Regrets

Mrs. Fortescue expressed her gratitude at the kindness and sympathy shown them all by the American people.

"I am very happy, indeed, that our troubles have ended," said Mrs. Fortescue. "We have been through so terribly much in the last few months, but I have no regrets for what has happened.

"All I want to do now is to get home to my husband, mother and youngest daughter in New York to pick up my life where I left it off eight months ago."

Lieutenant Massie and his wife, who was the victim of an attack by five natives last September that precipitated the killing of Kahahawai, were reluctant to discuss any phases of the case.

Want Privacy

"We'd like to be left alone so we can live like human beings," declared Massie. "There is no looking back for us. Honolulu and what happened there is dead. We want it to be out of the picture. Get it?"

Mrs. Massie, a rather plump blonde with large blue eyes and curly, heavy lashes, said she was glad to be away from Hawaii.

"While the public prosecutor wanted to subpoena me to testify at a retrial of the assault case," she said, "I think I did the proper thing in leaving Honolulu.

Honolulu Not Safe

"Honolulu, as far as I am concerned, is still unsafe for white women. But I believe my own experience in the first trial of the men who attacked me shows that it would do no good to prosecute further. My opinion of the city would take too long to tell."

Darrow gave the American press the principal credit for bringing about the release of the defendants in the killing after their convictions.

A delegation of city officials and clubwomen welcomed the party to San Francisco. They presented Mrs. Fortescue and Mrs. Massie with large floral bouquets.

'Baering' Down On The News

BY ARTHUR (BUGS) BAER

NEW YORK, May 13.—Big beerade tomorrow. All we hope is that the boys don't have to keep marching until they get some.

Many military organizations will be in line. They won't look military. But they'll be there.

There's only one rule. Walk, don't run. And don't try to beat your neighbor up the street.

The beerade is a protest against taxation without the free lunch.

As an old barroom bouncer we will have to start training to be in shape for the repeal.

They tell us that a hundred thousand beeraders will march elbow to elbow. In order to get the right old barroom slant they should lean on one another.

There will be one genuine anti-Volstead bartender in line. Its going to be a scramble when the hundred thousand customers start kissing him goodnight.

CITIES SEEK WICHITA'S HELP

C-C Delegation Active At Sweetwater

By GREGORY EWING

SWEETWATER, Texas, Bay 13.—More than 150 representatives of Wichita Falls thronged the streets of Sweetwater Friday and took an active part in the 14th annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Asking for no-election of officers nor for nomination as the 1933 convention city, Wichita Falls' officials were beseiged by representatives from Big Spring, Amarillo, Mineral Wells and San Angelo who asked the cooperation of Wichita Falls in naming the 1933 convention site.

Wichitans Parade

Delegates paraded the business district of Sweetwater on arrival at 8 o'clock Friday morning and again at 2 p. m. The delegation was led by Miss Pat Ward, Wichita Falls Gypsy girl, and Paul Seeds' Los Caballeros band.

Walter D. Cline, head of the Wichita Falls' 50th birthday anniversary celebration and unofficial leader of the "Golden Jubilee Special," spoke before luncheon meetings of visiting newspaper men and West Texas chamber officials, tendering an invitation to attend the birthday party Sept. 26-28.

Miss Ward Favored

Grapevine reports indicated that Miss Ward would be named the outstanding beauty among the Gypsy girls. Without a doubt Miss Ward attracted more attention and favorable comments than any other part of the Wichita Falls' group. The "Golden Jubilee Special" will leave Sweetwater at about noon Saturday and will stop at several cities en route to Wichita Falls to offer invitations to attend the birthday observance.

Panhandle Farmer Killed When Struck by Train

AMARILLO, Texas, May 13. (AP)—Struck by a fast Santa Fe freight train as he drove his truck onto a crossing a mile south of the city, Dave H. Hamblen, 47, pioneer Panhandle farmer, was instantly killed tonight.

According to a coroner's report, the man had stopped on the south side of the double tracks apparently waiting for a west-bound passenger train to pass. Then, evidently not seeing the freight speeding toward him on the north tracks, drove into the path of the onrushing train. His mangled body was dragged 200 yards and hurled between the two tracks. The demolished chassis was carried a quarter mile.

Government Schools To Hear Gibbons on War

NEW YORK, May 13. (US)—The naval and military lessons of the Sino-Japanese struggle at Mukden and Shanghai will be discussed by Floyd Gibbons, correspondent of Universal Service and International News Service, at the United States military academy at West Point tomorrow and at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Sunday.

Both appearances are being made by the "headline hunter" at the invitation of the commandants of the institutions.

Akron Ties Up to Sunnyvale Mast After Four Unsuccessful Attempts

SUNNYVALE, Calif., May 13. (US)—The giant airship Akron lanted at 7:05 p. m., pacific standard time, terminating a transcontinental voyage fraught with peril and tragedy, by submitting to captivity at the air field's 70-foot mooring mast. This followed a day of foiled efforts of the dirigible to tie up because of atmospheric conditions.

Fascinated by her sheer bulk, thrilled by her aura of power, and awed by her suggestion of war time possibilities, San Francisco became a city of astounded sky-gazers as the world's biggest airship wove a silver pattern above the jagged sky line.

Revealing her presence through the vibrant roar of her eight motors, the Akron came in from the sea shortly after midnight, carefully feeling her way through fog that swathed the golden gate. She hung above the bay until dawn. Led by The Examiner's tri-motored plane she dropped through the Sunnyvale curtain of mist at 7 a. m.

A throng of 50,000 persons, many of whom had kept an all-night vigilance at the air base watched as she made four futile attempts to tie up to the 77-foot mooring mast.

Lieutenant Commander Clarke, mooring officer, stood in the "crow's head" atop the mast, megaphoning orders to his landing crew. For almost two hours, the gigantic Akron maneuvered—swinging into the wind, depressing her bow, deliberately inching toward the mooring mast, and then floating upward and away to circle the field and try again.

Four futile attempts to hook on to the mooring mast were made. It was then decided to wait until after sunset.

GOVERNMENTAL REFORM URGED AT WTCC MEET

Authorities on Political Science Suggest Means Of Simplification

ELECTION TODAY

Consolidation of Offices Advanced to Modernize Antiquated System

SWEETWATER, Texas, May 13. (AP)—Suggestions for cutting public expenditures and simplifying government were offered the West Texas Chamber of Commerce here today by two lawmakers and a university president and authority on political science.

Speakers concentrated their attention on the county government, which they described as "the dark continent of American politics," but they also offered remedies which they applied to state and municipal governments.

High in Inefficiency

"Our county government ranks highest in inefficiency of them all," said Dr. Herman G. James, president of the University of South Dakota and former professor of political science at the University of Texas. "The system was antiquated and recognized as obsolete by England, from whom it was copied, at the time it was written into the constitution of the United States.

"Some of the county offices date back a thousand years. They served a purpose then, and we are still trying to make them fit into our plan. Every county large or small has the same government. They hold elections every two years for at least 15 officers, most of whom should not be elected at all. They are bound by constructional provisions no one knows anything about.

Cog in Machine

"The only thing the county can do efficiently is to serve as a fundamental cog in the political machine.

He praised home rule as the greatest plan for municipalities.

Representative Walter Beck of Fort Worth said any 20 taxpayers in any county in Texas "could write a county charter that would come nearer serving your purpose than all the laws the legislature can pass.

"It is time to ask the state to admit its inability to govern the counties and leave the matter to the people," he declared.

Manager Suggested

He suggested consolidating offices of county and district clerks, tax assessors and collectors, eliminating duplications between the sheriff and constable departments and empowering the county commissioners to "boss" the officials and even elect a manager to supervise all the offices. He said it would be necessary to amend the constitution to improve the county system greatly.

State Senator Carl C. Hardin of Stephenville recommended a conservative reorganizaiton of the judiciary, the abolishment of 12 administrative departments at a saving of almost $2,000,000 annually, a reduction of salaries, and conversion to the general fund of half the gasoline tax.

Fee System Wrong

"The fee system is all wrong and must be changed," he said. "Under investigation of the fee committee, ex-officials have returned between $50,000 and $70,000 they dishonestly acquired. "We members of that committee have been shadowed and threatened even with death, but we expect to continue as long as we can do good."

A new and more beautiful Texas is emerging from the state-wide beautification programs, of which the West Texas five-year plan is a unit, said Mrs. Henry B. Trigg of Fort Worth, president of the Federated Garden clubs of Texas, speaking to the group conference on beautification.

Other speakers were Mayor Ernest O. Thompson of Amarillo, R. C. Morrison, city forester of Fort Worth, and E. O. Sieke, director of Texas forest service.

Election Today

The group passed resolutions recommending that the chamber reaffirm its endorsement of the state park program, including a campaign for funds, and that an intercity beautification contest be conducted each year to stimulate interest. The resolutions will go before the convention tomorrow.

The election of officers and the selection of a convention city will be the main business of the closing day. Wilbur C. Hawk of Amarillo, first vice president, probably will be offered the presidency. Mineral Wells, big Spring, San Angelo and Amarillo are bidding strong for the convention.

Winners in tonight's eliminations in the my home town speaking contest were Hugh Fincher of Amarillo and J. H. Kelly of Quanah. They will compete in the finals tomorrow with four others selected in eliminations Wednesday and Thursday nights. Twenty-nine contestants were entered.

Speakers eliminated tonight were from Big Lake, Brownwood, Electra, Graham, Pecos, Ranger, Tulia, and Wichita Falls.

Costly Ransom Hoax Main Pillar In Law's Search For Murderers

Sleeping Garment Sent as 'Token' Convince Officials 'Jafsie' Dealt With Actual Kidnapers; Lindbergh Views Body at Mortuary

By FRANCIS A. JAMIESON
Associated Press Staff Writer
(Copyright, 1932, by The Associated Press)

HOPEWELL, N. J., May 13.—The picture of a father standing alone before the body of his slain son, a mother secluded in grief and a president calling for action inspired the mightiest law enforcement agencies of the nation tonight to catch the murderers of Baby Lindbergh.

Meantime the wide-flung man hunters were gripped with the growing belief that the criminals who stole the infant March 1 sought ransom after they had killed him.

Pajamas Main Clue

The focal point of this school of thought was the little white coverall sleeping suit the child wore on the night of the kidnaping. This was missing when the battered body, wasted to a skeleton, was stumbled upon in the woods by a negro truckman yesterday less than five miles from the Lindbergh home.

And—a garment purporting to be this same sleeping suit was the "token" by which Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and his 72-year-old agent, Dr. John F. Condon, were brought to pay $50,000 ransom in the murky darkness of a New York City cemetery.

These were the salient facts scrutinized by New Jersey's crack detectives gathered at a distance from the bare Trenton morgue where the famous flier looked at his first-born for the last time.

Anne Stays Home

Mrs. Lindbergh, who is expecting a child within the next several months, stayed close beside her mother here, preferring to remember her curly haired boy as she knew him alive.

ANNE COLLAPSES

HOPEWELL, N. J., May 13. (AP) Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, who has maintained a calm and composed demeanor throughout the search and finding of her kidnaped and slain son, was ordered to bed late tonight and placed under a physician's care.

Haggard and worn, Colonel Lindbergh called upon his most intimate friend, Col. Henry Breckenridge, to drive him by motorcar to Trenton.

When he entered the room where the body lay, the coroner, Walter H. Swayze, inquired:

"Colonel Lindbergh, do you positively identify this baby?"

A covering obscured all but the face of the child.

"Take that off," requested the colonel in a low, tense tone.

An attendant complied and all except the colonel retired from the room.

"It is positively the baby," said Colonel Lindbergh after a minute inspection.

Hearse Arrives

He was inside the morgue for half an hour. Just before he left a hearse drew up and the body was placed inside for transportation to a crematory.

When the colonel arrived at the morgue a crowd of several hundred persons gathered in the street, with a special police detail on hand to keep order.

His expression was sober and he seemed weary as he came from the building and sank back into a corner of his automobile.

When the car swung out of the alley, the crowd, now so large that it tied up traffic for a considerable distance, broke police lines and followed.

Hundreds of children and many adults ran several blocks to see which way the automobile was going. The car, driven by Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, state police head, was preceded to a crematory in Linden by a hearse bearing the little oak casket.

Fifty or more outsiders who had gathered around the place were requested to leave.

Trio Follows Casket

When the grounds had been cleared the casket was taken from the hearse into the building, followed by Colonel Lindbergh, Colonel Schwarzkopf and Colonel Breckenridge.

The three silently witnessed the cremation. They saw the body lowered into the retorts by three engineers and assistants.

Without visible emotion, they peered for a moment through the

Police Official Claims Kidnapers Have Three Days

LONDON, May 13. (US)—Lieut. Walter Coughlin of the New Jersey state police, interviewed by transatlantic telephone today by the London Evening News, is quoted as saying:

"The kidnapers are going to get it hot. Maybe it will be 48 hours before we get them; maybe three days—but I don't think it will be much longer. We are on the track of the gang which we are almost certain is the one involved."

JERSEY POLICE ARE CRITICISED

Princeton President Cites Incomplete Search

HOPEWELL, N. J., May 13. (US)—Criticism of the New Jersey state police in charge of the search for the kidnaped baby son of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, was expressed this afternoon by Dr. John Greer Hibben, close friend of the Lindbergh family and president of Princeton university, who said:

"It seems strange that no thorough search of the immediate vicinity of the home was made. A systematic search would have revealed the baby's body perhaps a few hours after his disappearance."

Dr. Hibben, who was the first friend to call at the Lindbergh home after the finding of the body, said, however, that Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh were comforted at least by the knowledge that, since the baby was dead, its body had been found. He continued:

"I was talking the other day with a friend of the family of Charlie Ross, the little boy whose kidnaping a quarter of a century ago was never solved.

"Through all the years that have passed since his disappearance, claimant after claimant to his name have appeared, and the family always has been tormented by uncertainty, forced to investigate every claim, on the bare possibility that one of the impostors might turn out to be the real Charlie Ross.

"If there was no hope of the baby being returned alive it is better that the case should be closed.

"The parents will at least be spared a lifetime of uncertainty and doubt, their grief kept alive by the countless rumors that always develop in such a mystery."

INVESTIGATORS "LACK EXPERIENCE"

TRENTON, N. J., May 13. (US)—The methods used throughout the investigation were denounced indignantly as those of "bungling amateurs" by Ellis H. Parker, Burlington county detective, who has solved many noted criminal cases. He said in an interview today:

"Failure to make a thorough search of the entire community within a wide radius of the Lindbergh home immediately after the kidnaping is inexcusable and shameful.

"It is very strange that the baby could have been any length of time where it was found this morning without having been discovered.

"The trouble is that this investigation was turned over to inexperienced men—men lacking experience in criminal investigation.

"It is impossible to view this thing calmly; it's a disgrace to the state of New Jersey and to the United States."

Sympathy Of European Nations For Lindberghs Expressed In Messages

LONDON, May 13. (UP)—The sympathy of European nations for Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh was expressed today by high governmental officials and the press, which urged America to find and punish the murderers of the famous flier's infant son.

In London the press displayed the story of the finding of the body in banner lines and it was the main subject of conversation in the streets, in street cars, subways and offices. Frequently, the position of the child in the eyes of the public was compared to that of a member of the Reigning family.

Virtually all London newspapers made transatlantic telephone calls to New Jersey to get special information from police.

"Brave Mrs. Lindbergh," said the Evening Standard headline.

"A heavy price stresses the world's horror," said the Star, adding: "Nothing can compensate the unhappy parents for the tragic anxiety through which they have passed, but one good thing would be that America should realize by this growning example of infamy the need there is for dealing with this almost every day occurrence.

"A crime so wanton and cruel can hardly exist except in a community where different sections feel

Government Men Ordered To Assist in Drive To Catch Murderers

CONGRESS STIRRED

28,000 Federal Agents To Enter Hunt to Bring Fiends to Justice

By HARRY FERGUSON

WASHINGTON, May 13. (UP)—All the might of the federal government was marshaled today by President Hoover for a campaign that will endure until the murderers of Charles A. Lindberg Jr., "are implacably brought to justice."

From virtually every official source in the capital came expressions of sympathy for Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh, and indignation at the brazen and ruthless crime that claimed the life of their child. The kidnaping and murder of the baby was discussed informally at a cabinet meeting, and Mr. Hoover made this statement:

"I have directed the law enforcement agencies and the several secret services of the federal government to make the kidnaping and murder of the Lindbergh baby a live and never-to-be-forgotten case, never to be relaxed until these criminals are implacably brought to justice.

Agents to Be Active

"The federal government does not have police authority in such crimes, but its agencies will be unceasingly alert to assist the New Jersey police in every way until this end has been accomplished."

Atty. Gen. William D. Mitchell said he had promptly relayed the president's orders to department of justice agents.

Mr. Hoover's action sent at least 28,000 men on the trail of the kidnapers. More than 8,000 coast guardsmen and 3,500 men in the immigration service had been placed at the disposal of Lindbergh. The bureau of investigation, department of justice, will contribute 761 trained investigators, among them some of the world's most able detectives; the treasury department secret service with hundreds of members will work on the case; the internal revenue bureau and the postoffice department will contribute thousands more. There is hardly a federal department that does not have at least 100 to 1,000 men engaged in law enforcement activities.

Congress Aroused

The reaction in congress was equally vigorous. Chairman George W. Norris of the senate judiciary committee predicted speedy passage of legislation pending in committee and providing that kidnaping be subject to federal legislation. Representative John J. Cochran, Democrat, author of a bill making it a capital offense to transport kidnaped persons across state lines, said he thought his measure would receive quick approval.

Action on the two bills was suspended some time ago because it was feared passage of them might interfere in any negotiations Lindbergh was conducting with the kidnapers.

Chaplain Prays

In the house today the chaplain, the Rev. James Shera Montgomery, prayed:

"O, Thou eternal God: Our words falter as the shadows of the nation's sorrow fall and deepen. Yonder home today is a world shrine at whose footstool we tarry . . . may the parents be fed no longer with the bread of affliction; do Tou give them rest which the world can

Grain Convention Hears Crop Reports Saturday

AMARILLO, Texas, May 13. (AP)—The first authentic survey of grain crop conditions in the Texas Panhandle and estimates on the probable yield will be reported at the Saturday morning conference of the Panhandle Grain Dealers association's convention in session here today and tomorrow.

Frank Theis, president of the Kansas City board of trade, will talk Saturday morning on "Legislation Affecting the Grain Business."

Three committees named today and which will report Saturday were: Resolutions, J. N. Beasley, Amarillo, chairman; K. K. Smith, Fort Worth, and Martin Gieseke, San Antonio; auditing, L. J. Halbert, Plainview, chairman; W. C. Cowan, Tulia, and F. A. Render, Panhandle; nominations, Blake Hankins, Tulia, chairman; L. V. Nelson, Claude, and Harry J. Heaton, Channing.

Economist Testifies Farmers Bankrupt

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 13. (UP)—The American farmer is in a "bankrupt" state, Dr. L. H. Bean, economist for the department of agriculture, told two Interstate Commerce commissioners here today.

Bean was testifying at the grain rate hearing in which midwestern farmers are seeking rate relief.

transparent opening provided for special witnesses.

Then the bereaved father turned to the superintendent of the crematory, shook his hand, and said: "I thank you."

The party left in the same automobile in which they had arrived.

Interment Unannounced

It was understood the ashes of the baby would be left there overnight. A Trenton undertaking establishment was instructed to call for them tomorrow. Where they will be taken was not revealed.

Thus was written the last chapter in the tragic story of the baby Charles Augustus Lindbergh Jr., whose life was snuffed out before he was 2 years old.

But officialdom—backed by outraged public opinion and spurred by President Hoover himself into making this the most intensive man hunt the world has ever known—displayed a desire to write a sequel to the story.

The call from the White House for a search "never to be relaxed until those criminals are implacably brought to justice" was their campaign cry.

Brutal Hoax Seen

As the search spread far and wide, some evidence of a diabolical hoax on the part of the killer-kidnapers was seen in a statement by Dr. Condon.

He told officials he was convinced the sleeping suit turned over to him was the same one the famous flier's son wore the night he was snatched from the crib.

He received the garment nearly a month after the abduction.

Medical authorities have agreed the kidnapers killed their victim almost immediately after making off with him—probably the same night.

Police finally said the suit furnished to Dr. Condon was "the same kind" as that the Lindbergh child wore.

Although they added it still was uncertain whether the garment the intermediary received was the one the Lindberghs had purchased for their son, an ugly aspect was cast on the case which would not be quickly dispelled.

This theory is that the kidnapers, who many officials believed to have been maniacs, almost immediately after stealing the baby from the crib where he had lain ill, stripped off his sleeping suit, murdered their helpless victim, cast the body into the woods, and then set out to obtain the ransom for the child they knew could never be returned alive.

Curtis Also Quizzed

Dr. Condon and John Hughes Curtis of Norfolk, Va., who also figured in the case as an intermediary with the supposed kidnapers, were questioned throughout most of the night by police on the Lindbergh estate, in an attempt to get an official picture of their activities in the flier's behalf.

Dr. Condon returned to his home in New York after Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, state police head, issued a news bulletin dealing largely with the examination of the two men.

"Dr. Condon's entire statement was taken," he said, "and nothing resulted which would in any way implicate him as being connected with the kidnapers. He tried to act in the best interests of Colonel Lindbergh.

"Mr. Curtis has been taken by two investigators to check up on certain elements as reported in connection with an alleged group of kidnapers . . ."

Swiftly the New Jersey investigators were piecing together the full story of the events that followed the sensational abduction 73 days ago—much of which information had been withheld from them because of private investigations and negotiations.

Colonel Lindbergh himself aided them in mapping their manhunting campaign.

It was hours after the discovery of his son's body that the grim news came to him. He had been on a yacht off Cape May, N. J., seeking to establish a contact with men he had been led to believe were the kidnapers.

A radio code had been arranged so that while away from home working on his own investigation he could keep in touch with police and his family.

But something went wrong with the radio on the yacht at the crucial moment.

While the flier's wife waited in their hilltop home, striving to keep from breaking down, a radio operator tapped out the tragic message over and over again.

It was late in the night before it was finally picked up by the yacht, which then raced for a landing place near Atlantic City.

After a wild drive up the state, the colonel arrived at the side of his distracted wife.

Until 3 a. m. he came and went from the garage on his estate where the police investigation has been centered and where now plans for the intensified search are being formulated.

The fast moving events of the day included:

President Hoover's orders to federal police authorities to "make the kidnaping and murder of the Lindbergh baby a live and never-to-be-forgotten case"—a statement which he read to newspaper men in emphatic tones and later repeated to members of his cabinet.

A reiteration that ransom notes received by Colonel Lindbergh offered positive identification of the kidnapers of his son was made tonight in a formal police statement by Colonel Schwarzkopf.

"In previous bulletins it has been stated that the ransom notes received offered positive identification," said Colonel Schwarzkopf. "There is no change in this statement."

Rosner Questioned

The police head also announced that Morris Rosner, one of the intermediaries, was at the headquarters established at the Lindbergh home and was being questioned at the instruction of the prosecuting authority.

Colonel Schwarzkopf, who said last night that a gang was under suspicion in the kidnaping, stated that the inquiry in that direction was being continued but further information at this time would hinder the progress of police.

The investigation in regard to John Hughes Curtis, another intermediary, also was described as being continued and "all information is being checked as developments justify."

Disclosure that identification of the baby's body was made positive when the Lindbergh nursemaid produced a spool of thread with which she had done some sewing on one of the undershirts found on the body, and when she exhibited a piece of cloth she had cut from the other undershirt.

Search of the Atlantic coast from Boston to Cape May by 25 coast guard boats on the lookout for a vessel reported to have connected with the kidnaping case.

A statement of District Attorney Erwin E. Marshall, who will have jurisdiction because the body was found in his county, that an arrest might be expected, although, it might not be for several days and although he said no one was under suspicion at that time.

Investigation in Detroit of a possible connection between the Lindbergh case and the attempted kidnaping there in 1931 of the children of a Detroit business man, who received notes reported to be similar to those the colonel got.

Means in Clear

A statement by Schwarzkopf that no information had come to him linking Gaston B. Means, former department of justice agent, with the kidnaping and death of the child. (Means is under indictment for obtaining more than $100,000 on the statement he could effect return of the Lindbergh baby.)

Announcement of District Attorney Charles B. McLaughlin of the Bronx that "the question of any crime committed in Bronx county in connection with the payment of money" for the return of the Lindbergh baby, "will be disposed of," now that the body has been found." (The $50,000 ransom payment was made in the Bronx.)

Advancement of a theory by John J. Sullivan, head of the New York City detective force, that the kidnaping and killing were the work of a maniac.

A statement by District Attorney Marshall that he was ready to seek murder indictments in connection with the death of the baby, when the evidence warrants, but that there was no justification for such action yet.

Interest also centered in three men known to the underworld, who at one time or another since March 1, figured as intermediaries in the case.

Morris Rosner, who was seen frequently at the Lindbergh estate during the long investigation, arrived there with two state troopers late in the afternoon.

No plans for examining him had been announced, but it was said he was to be questioned, as were other intermediaries.

Salvatore Spitale and Irving Bitz, who early in the case were named by Lindbergh himself to act for him, were also scheduled to appear for questioning.

Anne Lindbergh Bears Up Despite Tragic Event That Dispelled Hope

Mother of Murdered Baby Busies Self to Avert Approaching Collapse; Begs Last View of Child

By KATHERINE BEEBE
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOPEWELL, N. J., May 13.—For Anne Lindbergh today there was no more uncertainty.

No reason any more to start up eagerly at the ringing of the telephone.

No more of the agony of wondering whether her baby was alive and how he was being treated by the strongers who took him away.

Nor any hope.

Gone even the slight comfort to be derived from things that kept her busy yesterday afternoon and last night—running upstairs to the nursery for a little shirt that helped to identify the dead child as her son, calling again and again on the telephone to try to reach his father.

Friends Call Her Brave

Her friends said today she was being very brave, wandering about the long, bright living room, quiet and forlorn.

She could not even see little Charles.

It was said that last night, when some member of the household had to go to the morgue in Trenton to make the identification, she begged to be allowed to go.

They told her it would be better if she did not, and the nurse, Betty Gow, was sent. It was better that Mrs. Lindbergh should remember him as he was alive, with his yellow curls and his winning ways.

Neared Collapse

For a few moments last night, it was learned, Mrs. Lindbergh was nearer to collapse than she had ever been. Then she became very busy.

It was she who brought down from the nursery the articles of clothing to be taken to that shallow grave in the woods across the valley and compared with the bits of flannel that clung to the baby's body.

Colonel Lindbergh was away trying to meet the kidnapers—hoping to bring the baby back with him. She did not know just where he was. Hours later a radio message in code reached him on the yacht Marcon off the New Jersey coast. But she had a list of telephone numbers which might locate him. She called them all—over and over again.

Fingerprints Sought

After Colonel Lindbergh arrived, she retired upstairs. At 4 a. m. she still was pacing up and down her room.

A physician called during the evening, but stayed only a few minutes. Friends of the family say her second baby is not expected until late August or early September.

Last week, it was said, Mrs. Lindbergh's hopes mounted as research concerning fingerprints was carried on in the house.

One little fingerprint was found on the stairs—left, perhaps, by the baby as he toddled up with his nurse that last night.

Perhaps it was still there. And upstairs in the nursery were a wooly toy dog, a funny wooden horse, and a regiment of tin soldiers.

One of these days—somebody will have to put them all away.

Drops Million

Once millionaire magnate of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Works, Robert Clairmont, seen above, is in Los Angeles striving to carve a career for himself as a writer. Orphaned at 14, young Clairmont later became a life guard and saved Sellers McKee Chandler, millionaire, from drowning. When Chandler died he left Clairmont $300,000. After graduating from Columbia university Clairmont went in for serious study of finances and made a fortune. "But the morning after the market crash," said Clairmont, "I had but $700 and of course that's gone now."

Europe Cables Grief Messages

they have nothing in common. It is a part of the price America has to pay for her cheap foreign labor, her worship of enterprise and the praise she too often has given to get-rich-quick ideas."

CITY OF PARIS SENDS CABLE

PARIS, May 13. (UP)—The sympathy of the city of Paris was cabled to the Lindberghs today by Francois Latour, president of the municipal council.

"Officials and the people of Paris from the bottom of their hearts share your deep sorrow," the message said.

The Lindbergh story shared headlines with the funeral of President Paul Doumer, killed by an assassin. The city recalled the flight of Colonel Lindbergh to Paris, which made French people among his greatest admirers.

GRANDI DISPATCHES ITALIAN SYMPATHY

ROME, May 13. (UP)—Foreign Minister Dino Grandi sent a cable of sympathy to Colonel Lindbergh today, saying, "I am deeply grieved by the tragic news. I beg you to accept from Mrs. Grandi and myself our deepest sympathy and solidarity."

Grandi also cabled sympathy to Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow.

The Osservatore Romano, semi-official vatican newspaper, said, "This dastardly crime demands immediate measures, which the American authorities, spurred by public opinion throughout the world, certainly will not fail to adopt."

"Colonel Lindbergh has contributed so much to advancement that he rightly expects progress to do something for him," the newspaper said. "Colonel Lindbergh will find some solace if his sacrifice helps find a remedy for this scourge."

St. Edward's Track Men Off for Abilene Meet

AUSTIN, May 13. (AP)—St. Edward's university track athletes left today for Abilene to participate in the Texas conference track meet.

Coach Dan Hannan took with him Pat McLaughlin, Frank Herron, John Rodgers, Ed Coleman, and John Dibrell. The first four are veterans and point winners in last year's meet. Dibrell is a new man slated for the dashes and the relays. McLaughlin and Rodgers are dash men and Coleman a distance man. Herron will enter the jumps and pole vault.

LINDY LAST TO HEAR NEWS

Nine Hours Elapse Before Flier Hears of Son

HOPEWELL, N. J., May 13. (AP)—The world knew the tragedy of Charles A. Lindbergh Jr. nine hours before Colonel Lindbergh himself was advised aboard a yacht off Cape May, N. J., that the search was at an end.

The news found him still carrying on his desperate effort to get the baby back alive, no matter what the cost.

In those nine dark hours Anne Lindbergh came closer to nervous collapse than she had in the 73 days that had elapsed since the night the baby was snatched from his crib near Hopewell.

Hurried Back

But with the arrival of her husband after a speedy dash by automobile from Atlantic City, Mrs. Lindbergh was reported to have improved, and today Dr. John Grier Hibben declared the little mother was bearing up as bravely as she did all the while. Mrs. Lindbergh is expecting another child within a few months.

It was not clear just why Colonel Lindbergh had not been reached immediately by radio aboard his unnamed yacht because secret radio call signals had been arranged so that he could be summoned instantly.

When finally the radio room caught the news, the craft was put about and raced at full speed for the nearest port, Atlantic City.

Progress Impeded

A fast car, summoned by radio, met the colonel at the dock and set off for Hopewell. Progress was impeded because hundreds of cars carrying newspaper men, officers, telegraphers and others to and from Hopewell were jamming the highways.

In the early hours of this morning the colonel drove up before his Sourland estate and rushed to his wife, pale and almost exhausted. His presence buoyed her spirits.

In these last few weeks the whereabouts of Colonel Lindbergh has been a mystery. He considered it of first importance that he prosecute the search for his child in the utmost secrecy, in the bearest chance that he might be able to regain him alive.

With John Curtis

It was believed he was with John H. Curtis, of Norfolk, Va., trying futilely to make a contact with the kidnapers of his child when the news came.

The colonel had made arrangements with an unnamed land station to contact his yacht and it was supposed the radio facilities were off range either on land or on sea, because the colonel's yacht did not pick up the urgent signal for him until after midnight.

The craft was proceeding slowly up the coast off Atlantic City when the first of the messages came through, and the skipper who knew the coastline perfectly put in immediately at Atlantic City.

Colonel Lindbergh, alone, leaped from the yacht as it swung in and in an instant was off, presumably in a police car summoned to the pier for his Hopewell estate.

Psychiatrists Give Diagnosis of Type In Lindbergh Case

(Copy't. 1932, by The Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, May 13.—A probably brilliant, diseased mentality against which society can be protected, summarizes a diagnosis of the Lindbergh kidnaping made today by two leading authorities attending the American Medical association convention.

One comment was by Franklin G. Ebaugh, M. D., chairman of the section on nervous and mental diseases, professor of psychiatry at the University of Denver and director of the Colorado State Psychopathic hospital.

The other was by Michael Osnato, M. D., New York, professor of nervous diseases in the post-graduate department of Columbia university.

Both said the kidnaper is probably a "psychopathic personality," a type of social menace not yet well recognized by law.

Mental brilliance and moral imbecility were cited as outstanding characteristics of this personality.

Spragins to Speak At First Methodist

Dr. Chas. A. Spragins, presiding elder of the Wichita Falls district, will speak at the First Methodist church Sunday morning at 10:50 o'clock, using as the subject of his sermon, "Christianity's Crowning Evidence." Dr. Spragins is an interesting speaker with a fund of dry humor that is always pleasing to his congregations.

At the same hour, the pastor of this church, Dr. S. S. McKenney, will deliver the commencement sermon to the graduating class of the Nocona High school, but will return in time to fill his own pulpit at the evening service, which begins at 8 o'clock. At this hour he will give the fifth in a special series of sermons to young women, speaking on "Woman and Religion." This whole series has proven very popular with the evening congregation, and this sermon will be one of the most vital in the group, it was said. Special music has been planned for both hours.

Membership List Of Civic Music Association To Close Saturday

Wichitans Have Last Opportunity to Secure Cards for Concert Program Next Fall; Only Members Admitted

Wichita Falls music lovers will have their last opportunity to join the North Texas Civic Music association Saturday, and the last opportunity to secure admission to the series of concerts by nationally known artists which are being arranged for next season.

Harry Hines, director of the campaign, told The Record News Friday night that a shortage of solicitors will prevent an individual invitation being issued to every prospective member, and urged that those interested in hearing the concerts communicate with him at 2-0711 or with the headquarters of the music association at 8181.

The Civic Music association will bring at least three, and perhaps more, nationally known artists here for concerts next fall and winter. These programs will be open only to holders of membership tickets. No memberships will be issued after 10 o'clock Saturday night and no tickets to the concerts will be sold during the season.

The cost is $5 for adults and $2.50 for junior membership up to 21 years of age. The membership entitles the holder to attend all of the concerts and entertainments given by the association in Wichita Falls, as well as concerts of the association in Dallas, Fort Worth and other cities in the 257 enrolled in the group.

According to Mr. Hines, the memberships are transferrable and others may use a member's card. The campaign for the next year will close at 10 o'clock tonight and memberships cannot be purchased after that time.

"Bringin some of the nation's finest talent to Wichita Falls will be a real treat for our people, in addition to attracting many visitors from the Wichita territory," Mr. Hines said. The leader of the association asked that those who desire membership or further information about the association call one of the two numbers mentioned above.

BRONX SCENE OF MAN HUNT

Murderers of Lindbergh Baby Knew Area Well

NEW YORK, May 13. (US)—The world-wide man hunt for the men that kidnaped and murdered the Lindbergh baby and then swindled his father of $50,000 was focussed on the Bronx tonight when District Attorney Charles B. McLaughlin announced that he had begun an investigation of the "Jafsie" negotiations.

The importance of this phase of the man hunt lies in two developments:

1. Col. Charles A. Lindbergh himself, and Prosecutor Erwin S. Marshall, of Mercer county, N. J., who has charge of the murder investigation and prosecution, are convinced that the men to whom "Jafsie," Dr. John F. Condon, Fordham university professor, paid $50,000 were the actual kidnapers or their agents.

Familiar With Bronx

2. District Attorney McLaughlin has evidence indicating that these men were very familiar with the Bronx—so familiar that they may very likely be residents of that county.

The conviction that the men Dr. Condon was dealing with were the actual kidnapers of the baby, or their representatives was based on positive identification of a sleeping garment they gave Dr. Condon as indication of the genuineness of their claims.

This garment, Mr. McLaughlin was informed, was identified by Colonel Lindbergh, and by Betty Gow, the baby's nurse, as being the one the baby wore on the night of the kidnaping. It was further understood that information had been put in Mr. McLaughlin's possession indicating that this idenification was made more positive by checking up on an identifying label.

It was significant that when the body was found, the sleeping garment which the baby had been wearing was missing, only the two little shirts being still on the body.

FEDERAL MEN JOIN SEARCH

Mighty Campaign Launched For Baby's Murderers

nevermore defile . . . arouse the public conscience that a slight atonement may be made by smiting murderers and outlaws into the dust . . . "

Representative Sharles Eaton, Republican, New Jersey, said:

"The good people of this nation should be aroused to stem this tide of crime. Do we mean to say that there is a moronic criminal in this nation who can flout the whole American people?"

$100,000 Spent

On leaving the cabinet meeting Vice President Curtis expressed "deepest regret and profound sympathy" to the Lindbergh family.

The United Press learned at the treasury department today that the federal government already has spent about $100,000 on the Lindbergh case. That includes telegraph tolls, expenses of the coast guard and the printing of posters, one of which was a description of the baby. Expenses now, of course, probably will run considerably higher.

Coinage Committee Asks Hoover to Call Meeting

WASHINGTON, May 13. (US)—President Hoover is requested to call an international conference to adjust dislocation in the world's monetary systems, as a result of nations going off the gold standard and the slump in the value of silver, in a resolution approved by the house coinage committee today.

Objectives of the proposed conference would be to adjust national currencies to the gold standard, correct dislocation of international exchanges, re-value silver wherever used as money and as a monetary reserve and raise the commodity price levels to a point sufficiently high to restore the normal basis of economic relations between private debtors and creditors.

Rayburn Bill Would Prevent Violations By Rail Companies

WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP)—A positive prediction that it would keep railroad holding companies from "violating the spirit of the law" today pushed the Rayburn Recapture-Holding company bill near the top of the list of things congress may enact into law before adjourning.

The chairman of the house interstate and foreign commerce committee—Representative Rayburn of Texas—expressed that belief before the rules committee. He asked the committee to give the measure a preferred status on the legislative program. A move is under way to bring it to a house vote next week.

If the house should endorse the measure, its sponsors believe it will pass the senate before adjournment. The senate commerce committe already has approved part of it—that which would put holding companies under jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce committee.

Grand Jury Report On Oil Theft Delayed

LONGVIEW, Texas, May 13. (UP)—The Gregg county grand jury's expected report on investigation of alleged oil thefts in East Texas was postponed today until next week. The report was expected today but new evidence has been obtained, necessitating further deliberation.

"B.C." Relieves Periodical Pains In Three Minutes

It is so unnecessary to suffer month after month from inorganic pains, because "B. C." will bring soothing relief in three minutes. "B. C." is prepared by a registered pharmacist, compounded on a different principle from most relief-giving agencies in that it contains several ingredients, used by many physicians, so blended and proportioned as to accomplish in a few minutes what we believe no one drug formula can do in so short a time. "B. C." should also be used for the relief of common colds, headaches and neuralgia, muscular aches and pains, reducing fever and for quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs. Get "B. C." in 10c and 25c packages, wherever drugs are sold.—Adv.

Tillman County Cuts Taxes $118,376 for Year

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., May 13.—Every unit in Tillman county will pay lower taxes for 1931 than for 1930, excepting four school districts, according to Mrs. Nellie Thompson, county assessor. Reductions in taxes for the entire county is the substantial sum of $118,376.70.

Brokers Fought Bill With Funds, Is Charge

WASHINGTON, May 13. (UP)—Charges that New York cotton brokers had a $100,000 "slush fund" for a campaign to defeat the agricultural marketing act, were made in the house today by Representative LaGuardia, Republican, New York.

MANY FEATURES FOR NEW SHREDDED BISCUIT

Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit Set New Standard for This Type of Cereal

Local grocers are featuring a new shredded biscuit developed by the Kellogg Company of Battle Creek, Michigan, which is a decided improvement in many ways. The improved Kellogg biscuit is "pressure-cooked" by a special process that retains the complete food value of the whole wheat. At the same time, delightful flavor is baked in.

Other improvements are a biscuit of more convenient, economical size. Two of these new biscuits just fit the cereal bowl. You get 15 to the package instead of the usual dozen. And every biscuit is toasted a rich golden brown on both top and bottom—not just one side. This makes them exceptionally crisp.

These new biscuits have been analyzed by the Medical Arts Laboratory of Philadelphia and found to be so rich in food value that every package is certified. Any mother can now be certain her family is getting a well-balanced food with these new Kellogg biscuits.

Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuits are tasty for breakfast, lunch, children's suppers. Extra good with fruits or sweetened with honey—in addition to the milk or cream.

You can identify these new biscuits by the name, Kellogg's, and the familiar red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

DEATH CLAIMS RAYMOND L. NIX

Army Veteran Succumbs Friday Night

Raymond L. Nix, of Wichita Falls died at 8:30 o'clock Friday night at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. M. Thompson, 102 Seymour, after an illness of several months. Funeral services will be held at 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon from the Hines mortuary chapel with the Rev. Harold Diggs, North Side Baptist church pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Riverside.

Mr. Nix enrolled in the U. S. army in 1921 and served for two years at San Antonio, when he returned to Wichita Falls. He was stationed at Fort Sam Houston during his enlistment.

Survivors are a sister, Mrs. Jewell Stone of this city; his grandmother; and five uncles, J. T. and O. L. Thompson of Wichita Falls, C. L. Thompson of Hamlin, Texas, W. C. Thompson of Shreveport, La., and O. T. Nix of this city.

Rail Board Refuses Loan to W. F. & S.

WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP)—The Interstate Commerce commission today refused to approve a loan of $800,000 to the Wichita Falls and Southern Railroad company whien the concern had asked of the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

The money was desired to meet $800,000 of notes, $250,000 of which is held by the First National bank of Dallas, Texas, and $550,0000 by Frank Kell.

The company operates approximately 204 miles of track in Texas, operating from Wichita Falls to Dublin.

The commission held that to grant a loan to the company would be in effect to loan the money to an officer of the line. Frank Kell, who is president of the company, owns approximately $1,043,200 of stock of the line.

The company has never issued its capital stock and under the conditions the commission held there would be bonds available as security for the loan and that no other security has been offered.

Gaston Means Called To Testify for McLean

WASHINGTON, May 13 (AP)—Gaston B. Means, arraigned today on charges of embezzling $104,000 from Mrs. Edward B. McLean, was called almost simultaneously to testify for Mr. McLean in a suit to oust him as co-trustee of his father's estate.

The action was brought against McLean last October by his three children through their mother. It goes to trial on Monday.

In formal pleadings the plaintiffs contended that McLean, through inattention, has allowed the Washington Post, of which he is the publisher, to deteriorate, and that, through alleged derilections, he has brought disrepute to the newspaper.

The domestic troubles of the McLeans have long been in the courts of several countries.

Court Awards Damages To Former Klan Head

CINCINNATI, May 13. (US)—The United States circuit court of appeals today decided that L. M. Ketchem, former Ku Klux Klan official, was entitled to receive $5,000 damages from State Circuit Court Judge A. T. Manning.

Judge Manning sentenced Ketchem to jail for contempt for refusing to disclose the identity of his associates in the Ku Klux Klan during a court investigation of klan activities near London, Ky.

Ketchem served 17 days and then brought suit against the judge for $50,000. United States District Judge A. M. J. Cochran, sitting at London, awarded a $5,000 verdict, which was upheld by today's decision of the higher court.

Rail Brotherhoods Give Plan to Cancel War Debts

WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP)—Declaring they would "demand a dole" unless economic conditions are improved, the leaders of seven railway labor brotherhoods today urged upon President Hoover a 25-year moratorium on war debts as a relief measure.

The seven labor presidents—coming en masse to the White House—proposed that during the quarter-century suspension of payments, the war debts gradually would be cancelled in proportion to the exports from the United States to the countries concerned.

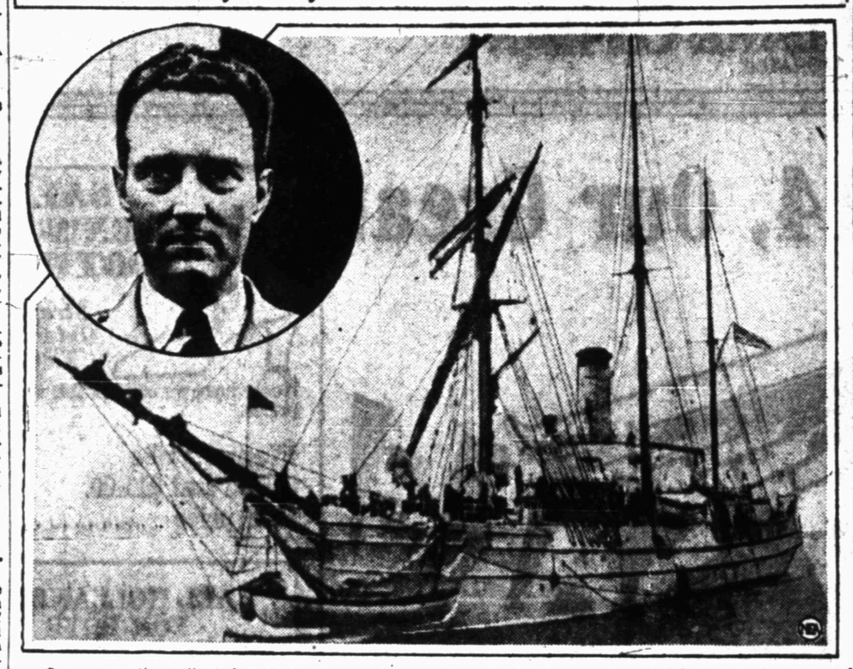
The plan resembled that advanced by Alfred E. Smith, Democratic presidential candidate, at a recent Democratic meeting here.

Washington Officials Pay Tribute to Doumer

WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP)—Led by the President and Mrs. Hoover, official Washington paid a memorial tribute today to Paul Doumer, the late French president shot down by an assassin, at a high requiem mass in St. Matthews here.

Diplomats from around the world joined with Ambassador Claudel of France and the staff of his embassy in tribute of Doumer, who

Byrd Buys Bear For Polar Cruise



Once more the valiant former coast guard cutter Bear, noted for many arctic adventures, is to spread her sails and nose her way through polar ice floes. The historic craft, pictured above, has been bought by Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, inset, who plans to sail in her next autumn to the antarctic. The city of Oakland, Calif., was preserving the vessel for a marine museum, but decided to give it to Byrd. The law prevented the gift, so an auction was held and the Bear passed to the explorer on his $1,000 bid. A shipwrecker who made a higher bid was prevailed upon to withdraw his offer.

AGREEMENT ON RELIEF NEAR

Democratic Committee To Draft New Program

WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP)—Confidence prevailed today at the capitol that an agreement would be reached on the $1,500,000,000 unemployment relief program, although modifications still were demanded by some senate Democrats.

Democratic leaders set up a special committee to draft a new program, with a general understanding it would provide for an expanded federal construction program to which President Hoover is opposed.

Confidence Maintained

Republican leaders maintained their confidence an agreement would be forthcoming in time for legislation at this session, but took no steps to frame a program of their own or introduce a bill embodying the plan to which the president has given his approval.

It appeared the president and the Democrats were agreed upon the phase of the program that would lend $250,000,000 or $300,000,000 through the Reconstruction Finance corporation to states for direct relief to the jobless.

There also was some unanimity of opinion although a disagreement over details, about lending through the corporation for private and public construction projects of a self-liquidating nature.

Public Works Proposed

The proposal for a large public works program developed as the chief issue in dispute at a joint meeting today of the senate Democratic steering and policy committees.

The view was forcefully presented there that a tremendous public construction program was the only thing that could offer hope of a large number of new jobs for the unemployed.

A sub-committee was appointed and directed to draft a bill. Senator Wagner of New York, author of a bill to relieve unemployment was named chairman.

Wagner said the program would include at least $1,000,000,000 for a federal construction program.

Death Of Brother Calls Mrs. Bashara

Mrs. M. J. Bashara, 1000 Van Buren, and son, Sam Bashara, left Friday afternoon for Houston when word was received that her brother, Charles Eunice of Houston, had died in a Dallas hotel after a heart attack. He was in Dallas on business. The body is expected to be forwarded to Houston for burial. A widow and three children survive at Houston.

Black Cat on Speedway Causes Racer to Crash

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 13. (UP)—A black cat on Friday the 13th nearly killed a superstitious race driver on the Indianapolis motor speedway today.

Chester Miller, Detroit, driving his Hudson special 105 miles an hour down the straightaway during a practice grind for the Memorial day 500-mile race, saw the cat cross his path on the bricks.

Miller whip-lashed his car into a dizzy spin, which ended when the back of his car crashed into a concrete retaining wall.

Neither Miller nor the cat was hurt.

Death Asked For Kidnap Suspects

The death penalty is demanded for former Assistant State's Attorney Ward C. Swalwell and three others now on trial in Chicago, charged with the kidnaping for ransom of Mrs. Georgia Gecht, wife of Dr. Max Gecht, a Chicago physician. Top photo shows the four defendants, left to right, William Thomas, John Pingera, Edward Finnan, Swalwell and their attorney, John Alden Ryan. Below are Dr. Gecht and his wife watching selection of the jury. Mrs. Gecht was kidnaped with her husband last Dec. 11 and held while the doctor was released to secure ransom. One of her captors fell in love with her and after she was released sought to make a date. She kept the appointment and led the man into a police trap.

Senate Plunges Into Work on Revenue Bill

WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP)—The senate plunged headlong into the billion dollar revenue bill today, going right to work on the vital income tax schedule after dispensing with the usual preliminary debate in a few minutes.

After a plea by the veteran Chairman Smoot of the finance committee for speed and nonpartisan action, Senator Cousens, Republican Michigan, offered an amendment and an argument for the high wartime income schedules.

Skirmishes over the beer tax proposed by Senator Bingham, Republican, Connecticut, and over the impending wrangle on the bills four tariff items also developed.

AFTER SEA DRAGONS

WASHINGTON.—Dr. William Beebe, noted deep-sea explorer of New York, is to head a scientific expedition to explore the Atlantic off the coast of Bermuda in search of sea monsters of "dragon" size. In his experiments of last summer, Dr. Beebe reports that he saw huge, slimy "shapes" that floated in the depths. He hopes to capture one of these "shapes" and make its features known to civilization.

Taxi Injunction Plea Set for Hearing May 30

Arguments upon the application of local 10-cent taxi operators for an injunction restraining the city from interfering with their operation at that rate will be heard by Judge P. A. Martin of the 89th district court on May 30, it was announced Friday.

The petition filed Wednesday by Jack Ballard, attorney for the taxi operators, charges that the city's recently adopted 25-cent minimum taxi fare ordinance amendment amounts to class legislation, and is unconstitutional.

The measure was passed by the city council after four weeks of study and public hearings.

Greer County Students Rewarded for High Grades

Special to The Record News.

MANGUM, Okla., May 13.—Lee I. Seward, district commander of the American Legion, has awarded medals to Amy Alice Bouher and Louise McBride of the Grenite schools for making the highest average grades during the term of school just closing.

Geraldine Jenkins of the White Flat High school is winner of highest honors in her class and has been awarded a free scholarship by the Chillicothe Business college of Chillicothe, Mo.

STILL EIGHT LEFT

DENVER.—A cat was struck by an automobile on Fourteenth and Broadway. Police received a call to go and shoot the feline and put it out of its misery. Policemen McCasland and Thomson arrived on the scene of the accident to find the cat gone. Having lost one of its nine lives, it apparently took possession of another and went calmly about its business of serenading on backyard fences.

Minority Report Defends Bonus

WASHINGTON, May 13. (UP)—The minority report of the house ways and means committee on soldiers bonus legislation was filed today. It denied that "fiat money" would be the result of passage of such legislation.

The report was signed by 10 members of the committee, all Democrats, including Representative Ragon, Arkansas, who had voted in favor of the adverse report on the bonus bills.

The Patman $2,000,000,000 new currency bonus plan, as amended to provide for a government bond issue, would afford "controlled currency" at a time when such expansion is needed, the report said.

"The bill does not call for a single dollar to be appropriated out of the treasury, and no levying of additional taxes," it read, attacking the majority claim that the "new currency" proposals would be dangerous to the nation's credit confidence.

Farm Loan Figures Given for Collingsworth

Special to The Record News.

WELLINGTON, Texas, May 13.—Collingsworth county led the surrounding counties in the amount of crop productions loans with a total figure of $22,994.50, according to the announcement of John C. Stovall, district agent, who said Thursday that each farmer in the county would undergo a rigid crop and home inspection with the idea of enforcing strict "live at home policies" among all borrowers.

Childress county was next to Collingsworth in the extent of loans with $22,023; Foard, $5,444.50; Hall, $5,267.50; Motley, $6,171.50; Hardeman, $4,600.

"The county is not essentially in worse shape than any of the rest," Mr. Stovall said, "but probably borrowed more because greater volumes of products are raised here. Several of the other counties also have intermediate banking systems, which hardly functions in Childress and Collingsworth counties.

Russo-Japanese War Talk Gains as Troops Move

SHANGHAI, May 13. (INS)—Talk of a war in Manchuria between Russia and Japan increased considerably today with reports from Harbin revealing the progress of the now greatly reinforced regular Japanese army there.

The regular Manchurian force of the Japanese augmented by the 14th division, fresh from the Shanghai conflict, was pushing down the Sungari river as quickly as possible, concentrating many thousands of troops in the Harbin-Hailar area.

M. H. WOLFE OUT FOR GOVERNOR

'Do Right' Is Platform Of Dallas Man

DALLAS, May 13. (AP)—On a platform consisting of two words, "do right," M. H. Wolfe, Dallas cotton man, today announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor.

In a statement several weeks ago Wolfe had declared that "doing right" would reduce taxes and governmental costs by half; give farmers "simple, economic organizations for the purpose of limiting protection, controlling sales and other effective measures so that the price of farm products can be fixed by the farmers themselves; reconstruct the oil industry to abolish special privileges, use drastic measures with public utilities now charging war time rates; and otherwise save all we can out of the wreck."

IT'S STRAWBERRY JAM TIME

STOP ... BOILING AWAY COSTLY FRUIT JUICES!

Mrs. George W. Lamm, winner of 9 prize awards at the 1930 Minnesota State Fair, carried off the "Sweepstakes," most coveted of all prizes, with her Certo-made jams and jellies. She says, "Certo saved me money too!"

Make your strawberry jam this week. Use the money saving short-boil way now followed by 4,000,000 jam and jelly makers. Saves 2½¢ on every glass. Saves ⅔ of your time. Eliminates expensive failures. No other method like it.

JELLY MAKERS: No longer need you boil away costly fruit juices! Now you can turn every last bit into luscious strawberry jam or clear, sparkling jelly!

When you follow the Certo short-boil way, only 1 minute's boiling is required, and hence no fruit juice boils away in steam. You usually get 50% more glasses. Including the cost of fruit, sugar and Certo, you often save 2½ cents per glass. More than that, if you follow directions, you take no chance of failure. Your jam will come out full flavored, colorful and with a daintier texture than you've ever known before.

Now please remember! Only through the use of Certo and the Certo recipes can you follow this short-boil method of jam-making. So order a bottle today. 4,000,000 women, among them many State Fair jelly champions, swear by it.

Put up strawberry jam . . . and lots of it. Put up strawberry jelly, too. With Certo it is easy.

Certo is a pure fruit product—a concentrated fruit pectin. And pectin, you know, is the substance which makes jelly "jell." Certo is a product of General Foods Corporation. It is sold by your grocer.

• • •

Under the Certo label you will find 93 recipes. Each has been carefully worked out for use with Certo. Please remember that in making jam and jelly every fruit is different. No one recipe can be made to fit them all. That is why we developed definite scientific recipes for each fruit. These recipes are your guarantee of perfect jams and jellies with any fruit you use.

STIRMAN AND LANE CELEBRATE SEVENTH ANNIVERSARY TODAY

FIRM LEADS IN TIRE SALES

Steady Growth Shown Since Establishment Here

Marking another milestone in the progress of business development, the Stirman & Lane garage and service station at Tenth and Lamar will observe its seventh anniversary Saturday. E. C. Stirman has conducted a service station at the location since 1919 and C. F. Lane became associated with the business in 1925 when the present business house was constructed.

Stirman & Lane are agents for Fisk tires and tubes in Wichita, Archer, Clay, Montague and Tillman (Okla.) counties. Last year they won six prizes during the three-month contest staged by Fisk in Texas.

This concern has won many prizes for leading in the sale of Fisk tires in Texas for percentage over quota. Included in these prizes are four beautiful silver plaques given in Texas to the four best sale awards for each three-month period.

They have Fisk mileage contracts with the Wichita Falls Bus company, Rainbow coaches, the Southern Bus company, and the Wichita-Burkburnett Bus company. Some of their tires on the Amarillo to Wichita Falls line have already exceeded 75,000 miles.

Native Wichitan

Mr. Stirman was born in Wichita county in 1883. He enlisted in the U. S. navy during the great war and was sent to the Great Lakes Training school. Later he served on the cruiser U. S. S. Seattle on convoy duty and made two trips across the Atlantic.

Mr. Lane was born in Denton county and came to Wichita Falls in 1919 after his discharge from the army. He served in the headquarters company at Camp Bowie.

In discussing their tires, Mr. Lane said that Fisk tires were standard equipment on Chrysler, Dodge, De Soto, Plymouth, Whippet and Willys-Knight automobiles.

The company has storage room for 150 automobiles and is the official storage garage for the Marchman hotel, located across Lamar avenue. When the firm opened for business, it had one regular customer. Since then the business has shown a surprising increase in volume every year, according to the partners.

This station also does a large washing and greasing business and has four gasoline pumps, selling Conoco Ethyl and Falls Export gasoline. They handle Quaker State, Mobiloil and Havoline Motor oils.

Six Employes

There are six reguar employes of this station. R. E. Holt, night manager, has been in the company during the last four years. Dossie Tillman, one of their negro tire changers and wash boys, has been in their service since the plant opened for business seven years ago.

Located on the highway to Fort Worth and Dallas, this service station has a large tourist trade and maintains free guide serivce for motorists, including free copies of Bardy's highway maps.

Stirman & Lane have held four special anniversary sales in the past and all proved highly successful.

Details Of Jafsie's Fruitless Deal With Kidnapers Told In Bronx Paper

Symbols Used in Negotiations Same as Those on Original Ransom Note; Identification Tokens Certain

NEW YORK, May 13. (UP)—The Bronx Home News, in which newspaper a number of the "Jafsie" notes appeared and which also revealed many details of Dr. John F. Condon's negotiations, today printed another copyright story revealing Condon's efforts to reclaim the Lindbergh baby.

The newspaper said:

"The child's sleeping garment was used as the identification token. Descriptions purporting to be that of the sleeping garment were published the day following the kidnaping. These were incorrect. The fact the kidnapers did not have a garment conforming to those descriptions convinced Dr. Condon of the authenticity of his negotiators.

Had $70,000

"Dr. Condon had $70,000 with him when he went into the cemetery to pay the ransom. He sparred with the negotiators pointing out that the delay had been caused by the fact that Lindbergh was not so wealthy as many persons represented and that he had difficulty in raising $70,000 in cash. The agents said $50,000 would be sufficient and Condon—when he went to his machine to get the ransom money—took only $50,000."

The newspaper also printed facsimiles of the notes which Condon received with the peculiar symbols used to identify them as the kidnapers. These symbols were the same as the ones left on the ransom note in the baby's nursery.

Symbols in Colors

The symbol signature used in the letter to Condon—according to the newspaper's copyrighted story—was three circles, two overlapping each other and a third in the overlapped space. The third was in red. There were holes in the center of each circle. These signatures corresponded, the newspaper said, to the signature on the ransom note.

After Condon had conferred first with his man—presenting two safety pins of peculiar design which the man identified as safety pins used to pin the baby's blanket to the crib mattress—he received a note outlining a program which in part said:

"We will not allow ouer man to confer in a way like befor. Circumstances will note allow us to make transfare like you wish. It is impossibly for us. Why chuld we move the baby and face danger to take another person to plase is entirely out of question. . . .

"Baby Is Well"

"Now we will send you the sleeping suit from the baby besides its means extra expense because we have to pay another one. Please tell Mrs. Lindberg note to worry the baby is well we only have to give him more food as the diet sais.

"You are willing to pay the 70000 note 50000$ without seeing the baby first or note. Let us know about that. We don't want another way. Because we don't like to give up. If you are willing to accept this deal put those in the paper.

"'I accept money is ready.'"

The note said that within eight hours after the money was paid Condon would be advised where to find the baby.

The advertisement was placed in the paper with the added notation "they won't let me deliver without getting the package." To this the writer answered that Condon knew the kidnapers program, that the sleeping suit had been sent and that no further communications would be made.

Mankins PTA Ends Year With Ceremony

Special to The Record News.

MANKINS, Texas, May 13.—The Mankins Parent-Teacher association closed its year Thursday afternoon, devoting its meeting to the observance of music week, and the installation of officers.

The program included songs by mothers, a reading by Endora Lavender, musical numbers by Emma Jee Rayborn and Doris Marie Mankins. Mrs. J. R. Barton offered the devotional.

Officers as follows were installed: Mrs. E. M. McBride, president; Mrs. Dewey Orms, first vice president; Mrs. H. P. McGuire, second vice president; Mrs. W. J. Price, third vice president; Miss Ollie Killian, secretary; Mrs. B. P. Clark, treasurer, and Mrs. Cecil Mankins, historian. Mrs. Virgil Seay, past president of the Archer county council, conducted the ceremony.

Mrs. J. J. Thomas, retiring president, was presented with a gift in recognition of her services. Mrs. Seay was given a year's subscription to the Child Welfare magazine.

Dynamiting of Bridge Renews Miners' Violence

CLINTON, Ind., May 13. (INS)—The C. & E. I. railroad bridge over Brullettes creek, south of here, was dynamited early today in what is believed to be a resumption of violence in the Indiana coal fields.

The dynamiting was believed an attempt by union miners to hinder the Vermilion coal mine from operating.

HOOVER PAINTS CRISIS PICTURE

'War Measures' Available, President Says

WASHINGTON, May 13. (US)—In a new statement to the public today President Hoover declared that emergency measures to balance the budget are as necessary to end the depression as they were to win the war and that he would stick to the job until it is accomplished.

His statement follows:

"Our job in the government is unity of action to do our part in an increasing campaign to re-establish public confidence. That is fundamental to recovery. The imperative and immediate step is to balance the budget, and I am sure the government will stay at this job until it is accomplished.

"When our people recover from frozen confidence, then our credit machinery will begin to function once more on a normal basis and there will be no need to exercise the emergency powers already vested in any of our governmental agencies or the further extensions we are proposing for the reconstruction corporation. If by unity of action these extensions of power are kept within the limits I have proposed they do not affect the budget. They do not constitute a drain on the taxpayer. They constitute temporary mobilization of timid capital for positive and definite purpose of speeding the recovery of business, agriculture and employment.

"I have, however, no taste for any such emergency powers in the government. But we are fighting the economic consequences of over liquidation and unjustified fear as to the future of the United States. The battle to set our economic machine in motion in this emergency takes new forms and requires new tactics from time to time. We used such emergency powers to win the war; we can use them to fight the depression, the misery and suffering from which are equally great."

Houston Channel Work Recommended

WASHINGTON, May 13. (INS)—Improvements in the Houston ship channel at Houston, Texas, to cost $2,543,000 with an annual maintenance cost of $150,000 were recommended today by Maj. Gen. Lytle Brown, chief of army engineers.

Brown recommended deepening the channel to a depth of 32 feet from deep water in Galveston bay to and including the Houston turning basin; with a width of 400 feet through Galveston bay, 300 feet in the cut through Morgan point, 200 feet thence to a point 4,000 feet above Baytown and 150 feet from that point to the turning basin.

He also today recommended improvements in the Worlf river at Memphis, Texas, to cost $738,000 with an annual maintenance cost of $64,000.

Pioneer Round-Up Slated At Plainview May 21

Special to The Record News.

PLAINVIEW, Texas, May 13.—A museum and style show are new features that are to be a part of the Pioneers round-up, which will be held in Plainview May 21. The round-up, which has grown steadily in interest and attendance, is being sponsored for the fourth year by the Business and Professional Women.

The photo gallery and parade, which have attracted so much attention and aroused so much enthusiasm in the past, will vie with the newly added museum and style show in interest. Supper will be served from the chuck wagon, after which will be a short program and square dance.

Miss Jewel Eiland is chairman of arrangements of the parade; Mrs. Jo Wayland and Mrs. R. W. O'Keefe are in charge of the style show; Mrs. Tom Carter will have charge of the museum, and Mrs. J. T. Lattimore and Mrs. E. M. Ballengee, the program.

Dry Leader Criticizes Candidates in Olney Talk

Special to The Record News.

OLNEY, Texas, May 13.—"The saloon is on its way back unless right thinking men demand that our political leaders offer something in their platforms besides beer; furthermore we will never regain our economic stability until more thought be given to feeding hungry mouths and the subsequent return of fathers to their former jobs," said Dr. James A. Crain of Minneapolis, secretary National Board of Temperance and Social Welfare, to a large audience here today.

A Washington Bystander

By KIRKE SIMPSON

WASHINGTON, May 13.—In the death of Maj. Gen. Enoch H. Crowder, retired, another of the men to whom destiny committed striking roles in the world war has passed on.

MAJ. GEN. CROWDER.

As judge advocate general, Crowder played a leading part in devising the selective draft plan under which millions of Americans were called for army service. As war time provost marshal he personally supervised the setting up of the draft machinery and administered it in operation.

In the home sector the name of Crowder, attached to a telegram, was just about as potent as was that of Pershing in France.

Draft Idea Reversed

Had General Crowder had his way, his name would perhaps have been even more potent during demobilization after the armistice ended hostilities.

He had ready for that moment a plan for reversing the draft machinery to put the army back into civilian life.

Secretary Baker saw possibilities of the creation of a political mechanism of incalculable effect in the Crowder demobilization plan, however, so it never saw the light of day.

Crowder throughout his active service was a foe of the general staff idea.

Despite the fact that he served as army legal officer in Cuba under Gen. Leonard Wood, military governor, and then wrote virtually single-handed the code of election laws for the Cuban republic, he never agreed with Wood, outstanding champion of the general staff method.

An echo of that long-standing feud confronted Secretary Baker very soon after he became war secretary.

In the national defense act of 1916 a provision was inserted by congress designed to sweep away authority of the general staff. As legal adviser to the secretary Crowder so construed the law.

Mr. Baker viewed it from a legal standpoint in the same way. Yet he made an elaborate study of the military aspects of the question, then calmly swept aside his own and Crowder's legal judgment to declare as secretary that the law sustained the general staff.

A Significant Opinion

That Baker opinion is among the most remarkable documents in war department files. When the United States entered the war it afforded the sole legal authority for much of the organization of the army at home and in France.

It did more than that. It gave the high command of feeling of confidence in Baker which was an important element in the war organization.

Son of Manufacturer Acquitted in Murder

ANNISTON, Ala., May 13. (INS)—Charles A. Hamilton Jr., son of a wealthy pipe manufacturer, was found not guilty here today on a charge of murder in connection with the fatal shooting last New Year's eve of Mrs. Paul G. Cornelius.

Mrs. Cornelius was struck by a bullet fired from a pistol in the hands of a New Year celebrant.

Record News' Program for Wichita Falls

1. OIL—Place the Wichita Falls district on a parity with other centers in the marketing of both crude oil and refined products.
2. THE VALLEY—Systematic, vigorous development of the irrigated valley in keeping with its possibilities as Wichita Falls' greatest physical asset.
3. WATER—An ample, assured supply of soft water.
4. EDUCATION—Maintenance of a junior college in Wichita Falls to give opportunity for higher education to our youth—the highest standards in elementary schools.
5. THE LAKES—Full development of the recreational opportunities offered by the three lakes.
6. HIGHWAYS—Early consummation of a highway program covering all the main routes radiating from this city and all the local roads that serve its agricultural community.
7. DRAINAGE—Solution of the drainage problem in all three phases; first, in the irrigated valley; second, with regard to Holliday creek; third, in those portions of the city now inadequately drained.
8. GOVERNMENTAL ECONOMY—The adoption of such means as may be found most feasible to reduce the cost of local government by elimination of unnecessary offices and consolidation of others.

Congress is certainly looking out for the little fellow. Persons buying stocks must pay four cents tax for each $100 worth, while the little fellow has to pay only 50 per cent more to mail a letter.

Hitler: Soap-Boxer

BY HIS victories recently in Prussia, Bavaria, Wuerttemburg and other German states, Adolf Hitler has now taken a place as one of the three greatest soap-boxers in modern world history, the other two being Benito Mussolini and Leon Trotsky.

These three men all started from humble positions in life and all were originally Socialists. Trotsky swung to the left and became a Bolshevik. Mussolini swung to the right and organized the Fascist party in Italy. Hitler followed Mussolini's example, rather than Trotsky's, and his Nazi party is modeled closely after the Italian Fascist organization.

Before the world war, Hitler led an obscure life as a house painter in Austrian Tyrol. When war broke out, he joined the German, not the Austrian army, and served as a private soldier.

In the black days after the revolution in Germany and the armistice, Hitler was a Socialist. Then he turned on his old comrades and with six other men in Munich he helped to form the National Socialist party, now commonly termed the Nazi party.

Eight years ago, in company with Gen. Erich von Ludendorff, he started a "putsch" on Berlin, which ended ingloriously on the outskirts of Munich, where it was suppressed by a single round of fire from Bavarian soldiers.

The outlook for Hitler was dark, indeed. He was sentenced to five years imprisonment for his part in the "putsch" and it looked as though his days as a leader were over.

On the contrary, he was soon released and he began immediately to build up a military organization of his followers and to make the unbelievers pop-eyed with his brilliant soap-boxing.

No one ever drew such crowds as he. No one ever whipped his audience into such a frenzy. And he not only got the crowds, he got their votes.

In the reichstag election of 1930, the Socialists dropped from 153 members to 143 and the Nazis jumped from a paltry 12 to 107, thus becoming the second party in the nation.

When Hitler ran for president, he was beaten by the aging Hindenburg, but he got the amazing total of 13,000,000 votes in the run-off election. And the strange paradox of the election was that Lutheran Hindenburg got a mighty Catholic vote and that Catholic Hitler got a mighty Lutheran vote.

Then, in the Prussian diet elections, came Hitler's greatest victory. The Nazi vote in the diet jumped from an insignificant nine to 162, becoming the strongest party in Germany's great state.

Sooner or later, if he maintains his present rate of successes, Hitler will be the master of Germany. Hard times and France are making his task easy.

Hitler has not yet been tested fully. As an organizer and soap-boxer he has shown himself supreme in Germany.

When and if he comes into full power, whether he can prove himself another Mussolini is still to be seen. But the soap-boxer has gone farther in eight years than any other man in Germany.

What a Prodigy Misses

CHILD prodigies, generally speaking, are more to be pitied than admired. Joanna Xenos, 7, who went from the first to the eighth grade of school in the one year that she has attended the Chicago public schools undoubtedly has a superb intelligence quota. But just the same, she is decidedly out of her class. Having such a swift mental development it would be even more cruel to keep her confined in a primary room than it is to let her take the place with those her age as far as her mind is concerned.

The pity rests in the fact that now and then a child, by some strange mental freak, gets cheated out of childhood because he is too bright. In after years, when his normal contemporaries have caught up with him no one will care that he was a very bright boy or girl as a child. He won't, either.

He will just remember that he missed out on hide-and-go-seek and jumping ropes and marbles because his mind kept thinking about the law of diminishing returns and calculus or something else that children have no business being bothered with, anyway.

German Immigrants

A RECENT United Press dispatch from Berlin points out that Brazil and Argentina have installed stringent immigration restrictions, and that now there is hardly a country anywhere willing to receive settlers from Germany.

A few years ago great streams of people passed through Hamburg annually, bound for lands of promise beyond the seas. For a long time the United States was their goal; the pre-war German colonies took many of them, too, and since the war the two great South American countries mentioned above absorbed thousands of them.

But now they have no place to go; and it is just possible that some one is making a mistake. These German immigrants are about as fine a type of settler as any country could wish; law-abiding, intelligent, industrious and thrifty, they make excellent citizens. Is there no country on earth that could use people of that kind?

SO THEY SAY!

Russia and Japan are like two locomotives racing toward each other on a single track without a siding. A collision is inescapable.—Kinosuke Adachi, Japanese writer and expert on international affairs.

Walter Winchell On Broadway

(Copyright, 1932, Daily Mirror, Inc.)

(During illness of Mr. Winchell this column is being conducted by Paul Yawitz)

A Columnist Who Still Can't Afford a Sec'y. Jots a Few Notes to Himself, the Raving Madman.

Dear P. Y.: A man called who said he heard you complain about not getting enough sleep. . . . Wants to know if you'd like to hire him as a ghost-sleeper. . . . He says he sleeps very fast and can get 2 nights of it for you in an aftanoon. . . . He also commented on the fact that you talk in your sleep and offers to write you some A.1 dialog.

Call Sidney Lenz. . . . He says he'll give you the solution to that 10-spade hand. . . . Despite the mad hullabaloo, Col. Wm. J. Donovan was never invited to head the Beer Parade next Satiddy. . . . There's a wire from Jimmy (Cyranose) Durante. . . . He says that you can't keep a fellow with "social aspirins down, and after all my setbacks I have finally been admitted to the Book of the Month Club" . . . His biggest complaint, however, is that the club has no golf course. . . . Mildred Schroeder is in an extremely dangerous condition as a result of that appen. op. last night. . . . Does Will Rogers take delight in mispronouncing the Glorifier's name Zigfield, with the emphasis on the last syliable? . . . Or haven't they been properly introduced?

Russel Crouse was in. . . . He said that F. P. A., John Peter Toohey and Howard Benedict were enjoying non-stop losing streaks and, therefore, it would be safe for you to rejoin the Wed. night poker sessions at the Algonquin. . . . I think it's all a come-on, because as he walked out of the office an ace of hearts dropped from his trouser cuff. . . . I tried to trace that crank who has been annoying you on the telephone, but the operator says you can't trace a call from a dial. . . . Your laundryman is puzzled. . . . He says there was only one shirt last wk. . . . He wants to impress on you that your shirts can't stand the rubbing they've required of late. . . . Doris ("Whoopee") Robbins and Bob Barker, the crooner, have Turned On the Heat . . . The Chas. ("Lord Byron of Bway") Kaley-Nelle Nelson carousel has slowed up in favor of one of Chi.'s Big Shots. . . .

Belle Baker called to thank you. . . . Bessie Mack says Belle cancelled a whole wk's engagement in Boston to spend Mother's Day in NY with Herbie. . . . Leo Carrillo's leaving for Hollywood shortly. . . . He is building a 210-seat theater in Los Angeles on the site where his parents were born and will open it with Zoe Atkins' "Royal Fandango" . . . He wants you to promise to spend your vacation on his ranch in Santa Monica Canyon. . . . I thanked him, and said I'd come along, too. . . . Al Schwartz defines Broadway as the place "where the early bird catches the worm . . . with his wife!". . . . And Max Kelly offers "where you call him your best friend because he always bests you". . . . I was thinking (if you don't mind!) that Broadway is where three and three make sex. . . . Perhaps you mind tho?. . . . It was very strange to see Joe Frisco in a tail coat and high-hat on the Met Op. stage at the Friar's Frolic Sundee night. . . . They still talk about the time in Denver he entered a "Frisco Imitation Contest" under a phoney name and came out with sixth prize. . . . Buddy Rogers wants you to come down to the Penn Grill.

I wonder if that girl they picked out of the Hudson was the one who wrote you that unsigned letter Fri. . . . The one that read: "I've often thought about people who killed themselves . . . what they were thinking about, their motives, and if they were sorry when it was too late. . . . Now I'm finding out and it isn't a bit funny. . . . My reactions aren't at all as I expected; in fact, I haven't any. . . . I hope I'll be able to compose my features so that the 'Mirror' will write "beautiful blonde leaps to death, etc.' . . . It's strange how one is always blonde and beautiful after death. . . . Tomorrow evening I'm going to walk up Riverside Drive and stare at the Palisades until I lose all sense of ethics. . . . I shall allow my imagination to run riot and see myself as I want to be, not as I really am. . . . I shall no longer be chained to a body that is hungry and shabbily clothed. . . . I won't see all the things I can't have as my own. . . . I shall no longer be this physical Thing that I am now. . . . I shall be free, ethereal and unreal. . . . Like Cinderella, my garments shall be of silk and the food I eat shall be the food of kings. . . . That's reaching the heights with a vengeance, isn't it, Mr. Yawitz. . . . It isn't funny at all to be hungry. . . . The real reason for this letter is to tell you that the last thing I shall think about is an excerpt from one of your columns, 'Broadway—where bad women get good treatment' . . . It has haunted me, but try as I have, I can't be bad". . . . There's somtehing definite about a letter of this sort when it bears no identification. . . . It's not a plea for help!

. . . Somebody wanted to send Morrie Ryskind, the Pulitzer Prize winner, a letter, so they addressed it to Frank Adams. . . . Frank, didn't know where Morrie lived, so he forwarded it to Henry Souvaine. . . . Henry gagged it on to Gilbert Gabriel, and he sent it in care of Morris Ernst, the lawyer. . . . The missive finally got to Morrie through the Pulitzer Com., who weren't exactly certain of his address either. . . . When it was finally opened, it proved to be a solicitation from one of those firms who advertise in the cheaper mags that "for 25 cents a month, we will increase your daily mail and make you the envy of your whole neighborhood."

Funny about Jean Malin, the "Folies Bergere" mc. . . . For three yrs. he's been the undisputed night-club king, but in all that time none of his large family in B'klyn has ever seen him perform. . . . So, Satee night his brother and three sisters congregated at the club to watch him regale the dawn-fighters with his effeminate flipperies. . . . But Jean was stage frightened for the 1st time since his swift rise to distinction. . . . Incidentally, Jean's mother lived across the East River all her life, but never got to Manhattan to see her son's name in mazdas. . . . Sonny (Hollywood Rest.) Kest is feeling tonsilly and will have them yanked tomorrow. . . . That Lester Allen-Jay Flippen feud Sat. aft. nearly caused a riot. . . . That ghost-sleeper called again. . . . He wanted to P. S. that he'd ghost-write your col. anytime on 10 min. notice. . . . I told him to go out and ghost-suicide for you!

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

A JONAH OF A KEY TAG—W. S. Black, a resident of Ravenna, Neb., accidentally lost his key ring while visiting in Lincoln, Neb., in 1922. Failing to recover it, he dismissed the incident from his mind. On Nov. 10, 1930, he was informed by mail that Clyde Critchfield of Woodward, Okla., had just found the address tag of the key ring in the stomach of a 10-pound catfish caught at Dunlap, Kan. In view of the fact that the loser had never been in that part of Kansas, the route the tag must have taken to the stomach of the catfish is extremely bewildering. There is excellent authority for this strange fish story.

The Story of an Unemployed Girl

By Ethelda-Bedford, Author of "Broadway Bride"

CHAPTER LIII

With battle foremost in her mind—a battle to hold her job since she had been unable to hold her heart—Lillian did her best to play bridge.

Barry was little assistance. And certainly the plain girl—oh, yes, Barry called her Maude and at first Lillian thought he was being funny and asked: "Really, is that your name or is Barry being rude?" which just goes to show how well the two girls got on—was no help toward concentration.

Barry ran her spade bid to four and with blazing eyes and flushed cheeks Lillian made it by the skin of her teeth.

Mrs. Carlton looked in on their table several times when she was "dummy" and Lillian, perhaps, imagined that the shrewd old eyes held a gleam when Lillian was Barry's partner. Being partner to the man who likes you is always dangerous. You might trump his ace and according to all rules he is certain not to like you any longer after that.

She was feeling far from comfortable or assured of her job. But certainly her excitement did nothing but enhance her looks.

There was nothing about her expression or her manner to indicate the uneasiness she felt.

Mrs. Carlton had somehow managed to "Miss Blane" Lillian. And her "my-dears" were confined to Maude.

Maude said, when she was "dummy" and the fellow with the wispy, fragile mustache apparently was giving his alleged brain a working out which it had not had in years:

"Oh, I say, Miss—er—Blane, I believe that's your name? Miss Blane, you're from New England—not England?" An unpleasant tone.

"Yes—New, not Old," answered Lillian, managing to make a small trump good to the surprise of her mustached opponent.

There was superiority in Maude's tone and manner when she spoke to Lillian.

"Where, may I ask?"

"Oh—er—" she almost said Salem! "Boston, I presume . . . where, oh, where Percy and I heard the amusing chap in the show the other night say: 'Boston, where the Cabots only speak to the Lowells and the Lowells speak to no one.'"

"Yes," answered Lillian, her eyes brightening under Barry's amusement, "I should imagine the Lowells at least have a fair chance in bridge—not being expected, you know, to reply."

Turning to their opponent Lillian smiled: "We set you three, I believe." And then to Maude, a little flushed, but who puffed on a cigaret feigning boredom: "You've had considerable bridge experience, I take it. I mean, being dummy?"

Ignoring Lillian's question she said: "Barry you're bringing your mother to dinner at my new shack on Sutton place on Tuesday."

"Tuesday!" replied Barry. "Tuesday. Not really."

"Yes—you'll love the crowd. I'm having quite a collection of Broadwayites up for stunts. Amusing, aren't they?"

"Well, I don't know, Maude, whether I can make it—"

"You should know, Barry, how frightfully amusing the Broadway darlings are—the stepping sisters, that is. Especially one certain sister . . ." She was referring to the columnist's comment about Barry.

Maude drew on her cigaret and her lips became a little cynical with their affected smile.

"You must have Lina Donald in mind?" put in Barry, brightly.

"My!" interrupted Lillian, unable to contain herself," Barry, you really see things very quickly, don't you? I mean, you catch on without having a diagram or chart! I had an idea you were one of those people one speaks of as having a good mind, you know?"

"No—I'm afraid I don't," said Barry. 'I wasn't thinking of just what you were saying." A glint of amusement in his eyes. "But—I was hoping that whenever you finished I might be granted the extreme privilege of kissing your hand, your majesty."

"Oh, sir," replied Lillian, in the same vein, "do you think it will be quite safe—alone like this?"

"I'm afraid not—come to think of it."

"Well, now that you've come to think of it," put in Maude," we might hear your bid. If you could think of any but her majesty's hand—"

Barry smiled and winked at Lillian.

Lillian had been "snooted." That was clear. Maude, highly approved by Mrs. Carlton, had deliberately invited Barry and his mother to her house and ignored Lillian. From the beginning Lillian had sensed the girl's feeling of disapproval. She had not been fooled that Lillian's attitude was sisterly toward Barry!

There was no question in Lillian's mind but what Maude was the girl from the right family, of whom Barry's mother had spoken. The "little wife of the great blue-print" Lillian decided, bitterly.

Finally guests began to leave.

Lillian's nervousness increased. Barry's ardor, too.

Mrs. Carlton's eyes had grown unmistakably cold when she overheard a bit of Lillian's and Maude's repartee.

There was nothing to do about it, Lillian decided, her heart beating furiously. Maude was the girl had been hired to pilot Barry toward, but she couldn't. She had failed miserably! And even 15 minutes after they met it had been too late to do anything about it, because the dislike of the two had been too powerful.

They were both after the same man. That primitive thing which women have battled with since Mother Eve, or perhaps even Mother Eve was not an exception.

Lillian's hands fluttered and were cold. Barry came up behind her and caught one and held it firmly in his warm, strong hand. It was as if he understood—when he couldn't have.

A few of the older women said kind "goodbyes" to Lillian, and added: "You must bring her to tea with you, Margaret sometime," turning to Mrs. Carlton.

Lillian knew it was too late to retrace her steps. She had failed. She had failed to appear sisterly. She blamed Barry, some. But she knew, too, that Barry did not know he was supposed to accept her as a brother would a sister.

But, while Mrs. Carlton all but glared at Lillian, Barry's eyes met hers with genuine pleasure. They caught her eyes and told her comforting things.

"All this is over for me," Lillian's inner self kept saying. "All over—after tonight . . . tonight is the end. I've failed."

Then the last guest had held Mrs. Carlton's hand in farewell and the butler had turned the key in the front door.

Lillian tried to ward off the feeling of impending tragedy. It couldn't be as bad as that—tragedy! She said in a pleasant voice to Mrs. Carlton: "It was lovely. I enjoyed it all immensely."

"Jolly party, mater," Barry said. "Yes—Maude looked lovely, didn't you think?" directing her attention to Barry.

"Now, mater!" he said.

"She said you didn't accept her invitation for Tuesday. You'll go, though, won't you?"

"I've other plans, mater," he said. I've invited Lillian out."

"Oh—have you?" asked his mother, raising her brows.

"Yes. We're taking in a show, aren't we?" turning to Lillian for assistance.

Lillian hesitated, her eyes seeking Mrs. Carlton's.

"Why—er—I rather wanted you to accompany me, Barry. Perhaps—er—" her cool eyes scanning Lillian.

"Of course," said Lillian, uncertainly, "I understand—"

"Apparently not," put in Mrs. Carlton, meaningly.

Lillian caught her meaning, but it was lost to Barry. "Maude won't mind my not showing up, mater—"

"Miss Blaine will excuse you, I'm sure."

Lillian turned from the drawing room and started toward the library. They could fight it out between them better alone, she thought. And her leaving would give Mrs. Carlton a chance to send Barry on his way and she could then come in and fire Lillian.

"I'll get a book to read—like to read until I fall asleep. Old habit, you know." She had hired her in the library—and she could fire her there, too.

A.—Dachshunds were originally used in Germany to hunt badgers and sometimes foxes. Though slow in movement, they are possessed of a keen scent and great power of endurance, makng them valuable as hunting dogs when suitably trained.

Q.—Ho wmany bills have been introduced in the present session of congress?—R. M. M.

A.—In the house of representatives, over 11,360; in the senate, over 4,390.

Q.—Do blind people hear better than people who can see?—J. K.

A.—The Etude says that it has been demonstrated many times that blind people have no better ears than people who see. It is quite true that they acquire better use of their ears, and that in music particularly they pass tests with higher averages.

Q.—If an American citizen brings his son, who was born in Europe, to the United States when he is 7 months old, is this boy an American citizen?—H. N.

A.—He is.

Q.—Is there a Gutenberg Bible on exhibition in Washington?—C. G. H.

A.—One of the Gutenberg Bibles is on permanent exhibition in the Library of Congress. It is on the second floor in the gallery overlooking Staircase hall.

Q.—What animal runs the fastest?—I. D.

A.—The cheetah or hunting leopard of India is credited with being the swiftest four-footed animal. This applies especially to short distance runs since the cheetah has not a great deal of endurance for continued speed. For short distances, however, it can run down any antelope or deer after which it starts.

Q.—What were the lowest steamship passenger rates we have ever had in transatlantic travel?—J. H.

A.—A price war in 1904 was carried to a point where a third-class passage cost only $10. This is believed to have been the low record.

Q.—What is the name of the Washington descendant who was official hostess at the Mount Vernon reproduced in Paris?—T. C.

A.—It was Miss Ann Madison Washington, a collateral descendent of George Washington and daughter of Mrs. Lawrence Washington.

Q.—Did the army air corps officers wear spurs during the world war?—J. P. M.

A.—During the world war as at the present time the proper uniform for air corps officers as well as of army officers when wearing dress boots is to wear spurs. Spurs are not worn on actual flying duty.

Q.—When was the first copyright act passed in the United States?—H. E. M.

A.—The first federal copyright act was passed by the first congress on May 31, 1790.

Q.—Is the membership in the Church of God which broadcasts over WJSV confined to Washington, D. C.?—L. N.

A.—Elder L. Michaux, pastor of Radio Church of God, says that it has a membership spreading over an area as far north as Canada, as far south as Florida, and through out various parts of America. Its membership is made up of both white and colored Americans, Italians, Indians, Koreans, Cubans, Welsh, Dutch, Jews and Africans. Its door is open to all nationalities.

Q.—When was the first electric-driven automobiles produced?—L. K.

A.—The first electric automobile made its appearance in 1892. William Morrison of Des Moines, Iowa, was the maker.

The Record News Offers A Booklet on Removal Of Stains

This valuable booklet tells how to remove more than 100 different kinds of stains from clothing, household linen, and similar fabrics. The methods are all explained in detail, and are all perfectly safe, provided the directions are followed carefully. There are some stain removers such as gasoline and ether that are highly inflammable and the experts warn that they should not be used in the home in large quantities.

But send 10 cents for a copy of this booklet and get all the information there is on the subject. Use the coupon.

SPUDDERS WIN 2-1 DECISION FROM TRIBE IN SERIES OPENER

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED THOMPSON

The Fort Worth Tournament

The big woman's golf tournament at Fort Worth so far has come out exactly according to the predictions of J. R. Jarboe of this city.

Early this week Mr. Jarboe, just returned from Fort Worth after watching the stars go through practice rounds Sunday, declared Miss Anelia Gorczyca of Fort Worth represented the big barrier that would have to be hurdled by any contestant having the faintest hopes of winning the title.

"She can hit a ball farther with a mashie than most golfers can with a driver," declared Mr. Jarboe, "and her drives are mighty wallops. She has plenty of power, and delivers her shots with perfect poise. Her only fault is a susceptibility to wildness."

The Wichitan had summed up completely the case of Miss Gorczyca, who recently won the Fort Worth city championship. She gave Mrs. R. R. Fisk a noble battle through the first half of their match yesterday, but went haywire coming in and Mrs. Fisk, becoming more steady and accurate as the match went on, took full advantage of her opponent's wildness to win, 3 and 2.

The victory makes Mrs. Fisk a favorite to again win the championship, although her battle with Mrs. Dan Chandler in the finals may be expected to be a warmly contested one.

From Tiger Town

A review of last Sunday's games in the Red River Valley league, together with the league standings, all prepared by the Rambler's private sleuth at Vernon, appeared on this page Tuesday morning.

Something must have gone haywire somewhere for the following, signed "Pooey" arrived in Tuesday morning's mail from Electra:

The baseball fans of Electra would like to know what the sports writer at Vernon has against Electra, and where he got his dope about the team standings in the Red River Valley league. So far Electra has won two and lost two. The final score at Quanah May 8 was Electra 13, Quanah 2.

Up and Pushin'

Vernon, in the silence of the night,
She causes the turmoil of the day;
By the league standings, to her delight,
And to our very sorrow and dismay;
Yes, when our voices are filled with laughter,
The league standings were wrote in vain;
You will note in the game hereafter,
The Electra Oilers will be on top again. —POOEY.

The poetry, though voicing quite laudable sentiments, is horrible, and we hasten to pass over it. We can assure our Electra fans, however, that the Vernon scribe didn't commit the error with malice aforethought. Errors in league standings are very easy to commit.

We appreciate the correction of the Electra-Quanah game score. We had published it as 10 to 5 in favor of Electra. In giving the wrong score, though, we are again sure the Vernon author was not trying to "pour it on" the Electrans.

Since Electra has won two and lost two, their percentage is .500 instead of .250, and this places the Oilers in a tie with Frederick, Crowell, Tipton and Chillicothe for third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh places, with Quanah on the bottom and Vernon and Oklaunion tied for the top.

Now if the Electrans' brand of baseball in the future is better than their poetry, they ought to go somewhere.

The Oilers' poetising band
Is more, alas, than we can stand;
Quite right, that he who penned this hooey
Should add thereto the name of Pooey.

Concerning Horses

From Estelline a fan writes:

"Dear Rambler:

"Has Liberty Limited ever run in any race before a Kentucky Derby crowd on the Louisville track? If so state what year, class, and whether won or lost.

"I surely will thank you for your answer and sincerely hope it is favorable."

Liberty Limited made his first appearance in a Derby last week, when he finished next to last.

Move to Restrict Voting Power in League Started

AUSTIN, May 13. (AP)—A movement has been started by the Texas High School Football Coaches association to allow only members of the Texas Interscholastic league who participate in league football to vote on proposed changes in rules governing the football program.

A letter asking the opinion of the coaches on the proposal has been sent out by Bennie Strickland, coach of Austin High school, secretary-treasurer of the association.

Strickland stated there were 1,400 schools that were members of the league and that all were privileged to vote on football regulations although only 412 of the schools actually participated in interscholastic league football. The balance of the schools participate only in basket ball, track and other sports and Strickland believes their voting power should be restricted to these sports.

The Austin coach asserted it was an unfair advantage to allow schools that did not sponsor football teams to vote regulations on the schools that did have teams taking part in Interscholastic league football.

"Why should 1,000 schools that do not even participate in football be permitted to make the rules for the other 412?" Strickland asked, pointing out they had more than a 2 to 1 vote over football members.

Strickland said he believed it would be better for the league to permit only those schools which had football teams playing regularly scheduled league games to participate in voting on questions concerning football.

Coaches were asked to give their opinions on the proposal so it could be presented to the executive committee of the Interscholastic league.

WHITE'S SINGLE STARTS RALLY

Hurler Scores on Garms' Triple in Third

SAN ANTONIO, May 13. (AP)—Brilliant fielding behind good pitching by Roland Flinn failed to stop the Wichita Falls Spudders, who won the opening game of the series from San Antonio, 2 to 1, here today.

The Spudders scored both of their runs in the third inning when Lester White started a rally with a single to left and came home on Garms' triple to the scoreboard and Garms crossed the plate on the next play as Schofield threw out Bejma on a hard chance.

White kept the Indians under control until the eighth inning when Fiaskamper beat out a bunt to Euller, advanced on Gooch's grounder to Scharein by dint of clever base running and scored on Zaepfel's double to center.

Derby Winner In Preakness Today

BALTIMORE, May 13. (AP)—Burgoo King, winner of the Kentucky derby, today was named to carry his newly won three-year-old championship title into competition against 11 crack eastern colts in the 42nd running of the $50,000 Preakness at Pimlico tomorrow.

Burgoo King is expected to face the barrier the favorite at 2 to 1.

Only two other derby starters, Mrs. Louis G. Kaufmann's Tick On and J. J. Robinson's Lucky Tom, were chosen to oppose the king. The remainder of the field, all eastern horses, earned whatever honors they have won in races over the Maryland and New York turf.

Lavender and Watts in College Golf Finals

AUSTIN, May 13. (AP)—Dennis Lavender and O'Hara Watts, both of Southern Methodist university, will meet in a 36-hole match tomorrow for the individual golf championship of the Southwest conference. Lavender won his way to the finals today by a one-up victory over Jack Tinnin of Texas in 18 holes of sensational golf, and Watts, 1931 champion, defeated his teammate, Louis Becker, 1 up.

Lavender shot sub-par golf to win from Tinnin. The Longhorn turned in an even par card but Lavender went one under par for clean 69. He is favored to wrest the title from Watts tomorrow.

Results of the quarterfinal rounds were:

Becker, S. M. U., defeated Cole, Rice, 3-2.

Watts, S. M. U., defeated Dougherty, Texas, 1 up.

Tinnin, Texas, defeated Barton, Rice, 7-6.

Lavender, S. M. U., defeated Albaugh, Rice, 5-3.

Rhineland-Munday Tilt Headliner for Sunday

Special to The Record News.

MUNDAY, Texas, May 13.—Rhineland's invasion of Munday will headline next Sunday's games in the Brazos Valley league after the pennant scrap had been made free for all by the results of last Sunday's contests.

Other games scheduled for Sunday are Weinert at Rochester, Goree at Bomarton, and Sunset at Knox City.

Weinert, the early season league football, turned in the upset of the season last Sunday by plastering an earned 5 to 3 victory on the highly touted Munday machine. Rhineland sprung another upset by jolting Rochester's pennant hopes with a 7 to 2 victory. Goree downed Knox City, 9 to 1, in the remaining game.

The standings:

Clubs—	Won	Lost	Pct.
Rochester	3	1	.750
Rhineland	2	1	.667
Sunset	2	1	.667
Goree	2	1	.667
Munday	2	2	.500

Tyler Gets Shreveport Franchise; New Park to Be Ready Next Week

TYLER, Texas, May 13. (AP)—J. Walter Morris, business manager of the Shreveport baseball club, today made official announcement that the remainder of the team's home games this year would be played here. The Texas league must approve the franchise transfer but no opposition was expected.

Construction of a park for the new Tyler team was started today at the fair grounds by 50 workmen. It will be completed by the time the aggregation returns from a road trip a week from tomorrow. It is to be of average size. Lighting equipment will be moved from Shreveport. The team will be called the Tyler Trojans.

The change was necessitated by the burning of the Shreveport park several days ago. Morris and Capt. B. A. Hardey, president of the club, have been here since Wednesday conferring with a committee regarding the transfer.

Morris predicted the Wichita Falls franchise would be moved to Longview by the time the Sports returned to Tyler, and said the opening game here in that event would be between Longview and Tyler.

Gribble's Triple Climaxes Ninth Inning Rally As Cats Beat Buffs

HOUSTON, May 13. (AP)—A ninth inning rally climaxed by Paul Gribble's triple with two on base gave the Fort Worth Cats three runs and a 5-3 victory over the Houston Buffs in the series opener here tonight before a ladies night crowd of 10,000 fans. Until that time Ed Heusser, Buff rookie right-hander, was twirling great ball. He fanned 10 men.

Lil Stoner started for the Cats, and retired for a pinch hitter in the seventh. Pickerel twirled the seventh and eighth frames, with Dick Whitworth pitching the ninth and receiving credit for the victory.

Engle's single, Krauss' sacrifice, Pinch Hitter Steinecke's single, a pass to Moore and Gribble's triple did the damage in the ninth. Score:

SPORTS 4, BUCS 3

GALVESTON, May 13. (AP)—George Sisler's Shreveport veterans took a thrilling ball game from the Galveston Buccaneers, 4-3 here tonight to take a step toward swapping places with the Bucs for cellar honors. The Sports enlivened their victory with a two-run rally in the fourth when Sisler tripled and Harper and Best Doubled behind him.

Hollerson held the Bucs to seven hits and kept them widely scattered until the late innings, when a walk, an error and Ballew's triple scored two runs in the seventh and Bell's single came with Faussett's double to score another in the eighth. Score:

Rice Star Hurls Second No-Hit, No-Run Game

HOUSTON, May 13. (AP)—Smokey Klaerner today pitched his second no-hit, no-run game of the 1932 season to beat the Southern Methodist university Mustangs, 4 to 0.

Klaerner's hurling masterpiece gave Rice second place in the Southwest conference standing, and a mathematical tie for the title if the University of Texas should lose all of its three remaining games.

It was just another afternoon for the impassive Rice right-hander, who pitched his first no-hit, no-run game here a month ago at the expense of the Baylor Bears, 4 to 0. With 1,500 fans cheering him on from the sidelines, he held the Mustangs in the hollow of his hand, struckout nine men and would have had a letter perfect ball game had he not walked two men and three got on by errors on the part of the Rice infield.

Buffs Get Hard-Hitting Outfielder From Cards

HOUSTON, May 13. (AP)—Bob Parham, hard hitting outfielder, has been obtained from Rochester on option and will report here Sunday, President Fred Ankenman of the Houston Buffs announced today.

The St. Louis Cardinals obtained Parham from Brooklyn on the deal that sent "Hack" Wilson to the Dodgers, and then farmed him out to Rochester.

Parham, a left-hand hitter, played last season with Hartford and led the Eastern league in runs scored, 105; tripies 18; and stolen bases, 30. He hit .327.

SHIPPERS BEAT STEERS IN 10TH

Long Battle Featured By Clashes With Umps

BEAUMONT, Texas, May 13. (AP)—Friday the 13th was unlucky for the Dallas Steers and the umpires today, the Beaumont Exporters drawing out a 10-inning game which they finally won, 6 to 5. The last stanza was stormy all around with Manager Happ Morse being chased from the park and the entire Dallas club twice swarming around Umpires Kober and Brooks. The first outburst involved a force play at second which was called safe and the second a force play at the plate which also was called safe. The latter was the deciding run.

Although six pitchers were used, each team made only six hits. Minogue's wildness in the sixth coupled with a pair of singles by Pasek and Reiber with the bases full enabled the Baker boys to tie after Dallas had taken a four-run lead. Then Beaumont went ahead in the eighth to be tied by Dallas in the ninth. Score:

Dude Chick Wins Over Abe Morris

Dude Chick, Toledo light heavyweight, captured the first and third falls of the main event last night at Govro arena, and took the match from Abe Morris. Kid Murdock at last found a referee who would give him an even break on the fouls and with the aid of foul verdict on the second fall earned a draw over Fred Kuffer, of Portland. Kuffer won the first fall of the match and the final 12 minutes was without a fall. Alva Anderson and Wild Bill Knight wrestled to a speedy draw on the 15-minute preliminary.

36-HOLE TILT DECIDES TITLE

Wichitan Bests Fort Worth Champ in Semifinals

By BILL PARKER

FORT WORTH, May 13. (AP)—Mrs. R. R. Fisk of the Wichita Falls Country club and Mrs. Dan Chandler of the Dallas Brook Hollow Country club will battle 36 holes here tomorrow for the 1932 Texas Woman's Golf association state championship.

The critics have made them even favorites, realizing that Mrs. Fisk's steady golf plus her championship experience will balance with the long game of Mrs. Chandler.

In today's semifinals, Mrs. Fisk eliminated Miss Aniela Gorczyca, Fort Worth champion, 3 and 2. Miss Gorczyca had a medal score of 41 and Mrs. Fisk a 42 on the front nine.

Anelia Misses Putt

On the back nine Mrs. Fisk closed her opponent out at the 16 with one putt for a five when Miss Corczyca missed a short putt, taking a six.

The match between Mrs. Chandler and Mrs. Scott Hill of Waco started as though it would afford easy victory for Mrs. Chandler but it wound up at the 18th green with an estimated gallery of 2,000 holding their breath while Mrs. Hill tried unsuccessfully to win. The one up victory was a close call for the Dallas star, but she was never down.

They faced the 446-yard par nine 18th hole with Mrs. Chandler one up. Mrs. Hill's third found a trap. Mrs. Chandler had to play from behind a tree with her third, pitching out into the fairway. Her fourth rolled over the green and she was barely on with her fifth shot. Mrs. Hill hit her trap shot too hard and it rolled across the green to make her four. Her fifth was on the green but left her a fairly long putt. Mrs. Chandler dropped her long putt for a six, giving her a halved hole and the match.

Rally Falls

It was a stout comeback by the Waco star that barely missed getting her an extra hole match after being four down on the back nine.

Results in other flights concluded today included:

Mrs. O. R. Armstrong, El Paso, beat Mrs. Will Looney, Dallas, 4 and 2.

Mrs. W. C. Stroube, Corsicana, beat Mrs. L. L. Stephenson, San Antonio, 3 and 2.

Mrs. Floyd Boone, Corsicana, beat Mrs. James McKanna, Wichita Falls, 6 and 5.

Mrs. H. L. Edwards, Houston, beat Mrs. Olin Blanks, Austin, one up.

Nine holes:

G. Wooten, Austin, beat Mrs. M. Beasley, Fort Worth, 2 up.

Longhorns Divide Track Honors With Aggies In Prelims

HOUSTON, May 13 (AP)—The Texas university Longhorns and their ancient rivals, the Texas Aggies, split honors today in preliminaries to the annual Southwest conference track meet, each qualifying eight men.

Tomorrow's meet is expected to be the closest in years.

Preliminaries were held today in the 100 and 220-yard dashes, the high and low hurdles and the 440-yard dash.

The failure of Wendel Ley to qualify in the low hurdles and the failure of Dick Jamerson to qualify for the 440-yard dash finals were disappointing to Rice supporters. The Institute's chances to retain its conference title were enhanced by the failure of Capt. Dick Houser of T. C. U. to qualify in either short dash, and the failure of "Red" Oliver to qualify in the 220-yard dash. Houser and Oliver have been lame.

The qualifiers:

100-yard dash, first heat: Kohler, A. & M.; Belcher, S. M. U.; T. Driscoll, Rice. 10.2; second heat: Holloway, Rice; Meyer, Texas; Oliver, T. C. U., 10.2.

120-yard high hurdles: Casper, T. C. U.; Holmes, Texas; Billimek, A. & M., 16.1; second heat: Ley, Rice; Prince, S. M. U., dead heat for first; McVey, A. & M. third; 16.3.

220-yard dash: Holloway, Rice; Tomlin, S. M. U., 22.3; second heat: T. Driscoll, Rice; Meyer, Texas, 22.4; third heat, Kohler, A. & M.; Blitch, Texas, 22.6.

220-yard low hurdles: Casper, T. C. U.; Walstead, S. M. U.; McVey, A. & M., 25.2; second heat, Stafford, Texas; Oliver, T. C. U.; Morris, A. & M., 24.7.

440-yard dash — Blitch, Texas; Akins, A. & M.; Earle, Texas, 50.4; second heat: Cox, Texas; Chambers, Rice; Addicks, A. & M., 51.

Player Deals Help Chisox, Says Pilot

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, May 13. (AP)—Whatever the rest of the baseball world thinks, Lew Fonseca is convinced his wholesale player deals have made a stronger club of the Chicago White Sox.

The man who has upset the staid American league with his unprecedented juggling of talent looked at it this way today:

"We had everything to gain and very little to lose. I figured that no matter what trades I made the team couldn't be much worse, and there was a chance it would be better. I think its much better, and a lot of others will think the same before the season is over.

With only one regular, outside the pitching staff, remaining from last year, it would be the logical assumption that Fonseca has completed his job of house cleaning. But he still isn't completely satisfied. Any manager who has a surplus pitcher, preferably a southpaw, can do business with the Sox pilot.

"That's about all I need now," he said. "Of course, I could use another hitting outfielder, but the point has been reached where I can't very well do any more trading without giving up a player I need."

Heath and Diet Advice

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"
By DR. FRANK McCOY

Questions in regard to health and diet will be answered by Dr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this paper.

(Copyright, 1932, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

More Food and More Exercise

The processes of elimination should now be well established for all of those who started this spring tonic diet course. We had at first two days of acid fruit diet and you are now on the third day of the non-starchy vegetable diet which should be continued for two days more, making the eliminative period last seven days.

Many of you have undoubtedly noticed an improvement in your health by this time. This is because your diet is simple and you have not been interfering with the digestive processes by using the usual bad combinations. You have also been increasing the elimination of toxins through the eliminative organs. A few of you may feel a little bit weak and out of sorts but this is simply because your organs have not yet eliminated a sufficient amount of impurities. Have the courage to stick to the diet for a few days longer so that the elimination may proceed. After two more days of the non-starchy vegetables, also using the enemas, sponge baths, deep breathing, etc., you should start using the diet outlined in the menu appearing yesterday.

It is well to remember that a cure is but a temporary change and that it cannot be permanent, whether it is brought about by a special diet or any other means, unless you are constantly on the alert to correct your every-day habits of eating, exercising and thinking. Now is a good time to build into your mind these health habits. Once you begin to return to a general diet it is advisable for you to begin taking some kind of vigorous physical culture exercise. I would suggest that you use the exercises morning and evening and take at least one long walk sometime during the day, possibly late in the afternoon or before retiring. The walks should be gradually increased until you are able to walk four or five miles without fatigue. Walking is necessary for building endurance and you should use it unless you are actually doing such a task as carrying mail when you have to walk a long distance at your work. Such games as basket ball, baseball, boxing, wrestling, etc., which produce heavy breathing tend to develop the diaphragm and the vitality because of the exertion they require. As only a few people take up such sports which require deep breathing, others should practice deep breathing exercises. One of the simplest ways to do this is to inhale and exhale slowly and deeply while you are taking your daily walk. Inhale slowly and swell up the waist and lower ribs while you are taking four steps and while taking the next four steps force the air out of the lungs until the waist measures the smallest possible circumference. The last breath should be forced out with a sort of grunt. Every few days you can increase the time of inhaling and exhaling so that you can take five steps while inhaling and five while exhaling. Then increase these to six and so on until 14 steps can be taken while you are inhaling and the same number while exhaling.

Follow these instructions carefully and I am sure that you will feel greatly improved—every bite of food will taste delicious and at the same time you will feel stronger day by day. I believe that the benefit which surprises many patients the most is the gain in strength. Patients often have an idea that to keep up their strength they must eat heavy foods and they find this idea totally wrong, for as the body is purified, they actually feel stronger in every way while using a lighter diet. I have seen this satisfying gain in strength through fasting, dieting and exercising in thousands of cases and know that it really occurs.

Remember, if there is any point you do not understand, write to me and I will be glad to answer your letters. I will also be pleased to know of all the good results you gain from following this spring tonic diet course.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Unable to Rid Self of Pest

Question—G. J. M. writes: "Last Thanksgiving I stopped off in a restroom and since then have been tormented nearly to death by a small insect of which I am sending you a sample. They crawl all over me and bite. They are too small to be seen well but I always find them where I itch. I have tried everything I can think of. The doctor told me to use sulphur ointment for three days, but this gave me only temporary relief. Please advice me what to do to rid myself of these pests."

Answer—It is not advisable to send specimens of this nature through the mail. However, I have examined the insect you sent under the microscope and find that it is of a blood-sucking type and probably inhabits your clothes, perhaps the seams. This may be the reason you have been unable to get rid of it. You can probably rid yourself of the insect by using sulphur ointment on the skin as your doctor suggested and then putting on a complete outfit of clothes that have been thoroughly cleaned either by boiling the clothes or by using a cleansing fluid. This process should be sufficient to kill the parasite.

Dried Beans

Question—Mrs. Dora Y. asks: "Is there any way in which dried beans can be used for food. What is the best way to cook them so that they will have a good flavor and yet retain their vitamins?"

Answer—Any small dried beans may be used by those in good health who are not troubled with flatulence. Lima beans are one of the best of the dried beans to use because they are so alkaline forming. All dried beans should be cooked for a very long time by simmering or baking so as to break down the cellulose. It is not necessary to use a great deal of heat. Beans do not contain much of any vitamin except vatmin B, which is only partially destroyed by heat.

Childress Club Women Make Cheese Record

Special to The Record News

CHILDRESS, Texas, May 13.—Miss Helen Cowan, county demonstration agent for Childress county, reports 167 club women made 3,195 pounds of cheese during the past three months. Also these same women gave assistance to 210 other women in making 3,819 pounds. The total weight was 7,014 pounds, valued at $1,053.50. This is believed to be a record for Northwest Texas.

Effort to Cut Officers Reduction Lost in House

WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP)—An effort to eliminate the proposed reduction of 2,000 officers from the army appropriation bill on a point of parliamentary law was lost today in the house.

TWO HELD IN KIDNAP PLOT

Conspirators Jailed After Getting 'Cold Feet'

ST. PETERSBURGH, Fla., May 13. (AP)—A plot to kidnap the 6-year-old daughter of Dr. David M. Gardner, general chairman of the Southern Baptist convention, in session here, failed because the conspirators "got cold feet" after learning the Lindbergh baby had been murdered.

Police disclosed today that two men had been imprisoned and three other were sought for the conspiracy to abduct the girl, Edith Marie Gardner, and demand $30,000 ransom from delegates to the convention.

They said one of the prisoners, Edgar (Shine) Mote, 25-year-old news vendor of St. Petersburg, had confessed he "got cold feet" as he read of the Lindbergh baby in the papers he sold last night and frustrated the plot.

"Go-Between" Tells

The other prisoner gave his name as Jerry Metz, 35, and claimed he was once a policeman in West Virginia. He did not designate the place he served as an officer.

Police said they were advised of the plot by an unidentified person who had been asked to serve as a "go-between" for the kidnapers.

They blamed Metz with originating the conspiracy several weeks ago and said he joined the First Baptist church of St. Petersburg, of which Dr. Gardner is pastor, in order to learn the habits of the preacher's family.

The child had been under police guard since the informer revealed the plot several days ago.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, May 13. (AP)—Cotton turned reactionary today following a slightly higher opening, but fluctuations continued small.

There was some liquidation and local selling, probably influenced by the weakness of the stock market and continued favorable weather in the South. July closed at 5.60, with the general market closing steady at net declines of 1@2 points.

Closing quotations showed rallies of 9@4 points from the lowest on most positions.

Advices from the Southwest said that state-wide rains in Texas while beneficial to the whole, had delayed planting in most areas and checked field work, while continued cool weather slowed germination and growth.

Exports today 15,236, making 7,664,206 so far this season.

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, May 13. (AP)—Only moderate demand was reported for the light offerings on the Fort Worth cash grain market Friday.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis carlonds, freight paid, delivered Texas gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: Wheat, No. 1 ordinary hard milling 39@40c; No. 1 hard 13 per cent protein 60½@60½c; 14 per cent 61½@62½c; 15 per cent 63½@64½c; 16 per cent 64½@65½c. Delivered Texas common points: Oats, No. 2 red 25½@26½c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, May 13. (AP)—Despite crumbling of stock market quotations grain values averaged higher today, helped by active chartering of vessels to carry North American export wheat.

Advices indicated that the acreage of United States spring wheat would be somewhat smaller than in 1931, with a larger acreage of feed grains.

Wheat closed firm at the same as yesterday's finish to ¼c up, corn ¼@⅝c advanced, oats unchanged to ⅛c higher, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 15 cents.

Some complaints from the Southwest were received that domestic winter wheat was not making the progress expected, although excellent weather prevailed. Bulls asserted, too, that crop conditions the world over were not equal to the promise of last year. Another sizable decrease of the United States wheat visible total Monday next was predicted. Primary arrivals of wheat were not half what they were a year ago, and Minneapolis reports for the week showed a reduction of 850,000 bushels.

Corn and oats swayed to and fro with wheat, keeping inside of narrow limits.

Closing indications: Wheat, May 43¼@44c; July 35⅝@35¾c; 36⅛@36¼c; Sept. 37⅛@37⅝c, 36c; Dec. 40¼c, 42½c. Corn—July 32c, 32¾@32¾c; Sept. 34½c, 35c; Dec. 34¾c, 35¼c.

JAIL BREAKERS NABBED HERE

Pair Arrested by Police Sought in Oklahoma

Two men, arrested by city officers on May 3, and who are now serving sentences in the county jail, are wanted at Madill, Okla., to face charges of burglary and for escaping jail in March. Filing of identification records by the police department with the national bureau at Washington, D. C., revealed the information the men were wanted at Madill.

The men, Pete Carroll and Tony Isabell, were arrested here on charges of petty theft and for carrying a concealed weapon. They were arrested by George Garrett and F. M. Dowdy. They will be released to Madill officers June 1, Sheriff Perry Browning said.

Two automobiles taken Thursday were recovered Friday when county officers located a sedan reported stolen by A. H. Cannon, 1402 Taylor; and police located a coupe owned by Walter Robbins, Waggoner building, in the 900 block on Fourteenth early Friday morning.

A purse reported missing from the home of Mrs. John W. Kinsey, 1645 Lucile, Thursday night was recovered before police investigated Friday morning.

With the recovery of seven purses, valued at $25.25, charges were filed in county court by police late Friday against Truman Daniels and Joe Berry. Charges of petty theft were filed in connection with the loss of the purses from the Elwyn shop Wednesday. The two men and two women were arrested in a rooming house Thursday. Police are holding the women for further investigation.

One Wichita Falls negro got the jump on police Friday and met officers as he went to the city hall with a suit of clothes, which had been reported stolen. The negro heard officers were looking for the suit and had planned to turn it in before he was questioned. He was not held. The suit was one of two reported taken from a car in the 900 block on Indiana Thursday. Bert Woods of Crockett, Texas, reported the loss.

Three File Application For Bar Examinations

Three young men, two of this city and one from Archer City, filed notice with the Wichita County Bar association Friday of their intent to take examinations for admission to the bar, and will be given written preliminary examinations in literary subjects here sometime next week.

Under new rules promulgated in the state recently, candidates for license to practice law in state courts will not be given examinations at Austin until they first have passed tests given by the various local bar associations.

Glenn Cragin and Edwin Leucke of Wichita Falls, and Sherman Walker of Archer City, are the three who filed notice Friday for the examinations. They will be given the written quiz next week by Luther Hoffman in English literature; Tarleton Morrow in medieval and modern history; and W. E. Fitzgerald in ancient history.

If successful in passing the tests here, the applicants will receive certificates to the state supreme court permitting them to take final examinattions at Austin.

Three Alarms Answered By Fire Department

Units of the fire department answered three alarms Friday with only one call resulting in a loss. A garage used for storing furniture at the home of L. K. Peters, 1406 Grant, was wrecked at 2 a. m. with the damage estimated at $500. A renovating machine at the Patton Mattress factory, 402 Indiana, was only slightly damaged at 10:45 o'clock Friday morning. A blaze at 1813 Huff was extinguished before trucks arrived at 12:30 p. m.

MRS. ALMA ADAMS

Mrs. Alma Adams, 27, Poolville, Texas, died at a Wichita Falls hospital Friday morning. Her mother Mrs. J. I. Adams of Postoak, Texas, is expected to arrive and complete funeral arrangements with the Hines mortuary Saturday morning.

New Cartoon To Make Bow On Comic Page Monday

Gluyas Williams, nationally known cartoonist, will make his bow to readers of The Record News beginning Monday. Williams' cartoons are famous not only in America, but in many foreign countries, and his is a distinguished record as an artist and cartoonist.

Gluyas Williams, first saw the light of day in San Francisco in 1888. He was educated at Harvard university, graduating in 1911. This ancient and dignified institution of learning did not dim his appreciation of the lighter side of life, however. Mr. Williams then served for a period of years as art editor of Youth's Companion. He also contributed cartoons to Life, Collier's, Century and various other magazines. The unique and irresistible appeal of his drawings has won him rapid fame, and he is known at present as one of the foremost American humorists wielding the pen.

Mr. Williams formed his connection with the Bell Syndicate some years ago and has been working steadily on his daily cartoons, supplying the highest grade of amusement to an ever growing public. His is not the crude slap-stick humor of most comic artists, but a more subtle and penetrating thing that finds an echo in the lives of all who chuckle over his drawings. The doings of Suburban Heights, the trials and tribulations of the suburbanite and his family, symbolical of millions of real people throughout the country, have won fame by reason of their universal appeal. Mr. Williams is especially noted for his panels of baby drawings which are inimitable.

Look for Gluyas Williams' first cartoon on The Record News comic page Monday.

WILDCAT TEST HAS OIL SAND

Archer County Well May Open New Pool

The Bridwell Oil company No. 1 Bridwell farm (formerly Annie P. Jackson), located 990 feet from the south line and 990 feet from the west line of W. B. Aldredge survey, abstract 2, in Archer county, has set 6⅝ pipe on a good looking sand at 1456 and will test. The sand, which is showing oil, was cored into a depth of nine feet. The well is a rank wildcat being about two and a half miles northwest of Chalk Hill, and one and three-quarters of a mile east of the old Barkley-Meadows pool in block 88, L. F. Wilson land, and the outcome of its test will be watched with interest.

Auction Service Opens At Valley Market

The Wichita Valley Public Market auction service was launched Friday at the market building, Sixteenth and Lamar, with farmers obtaining good prices for radios and similar household articles. The market is in charge of J. E. Miller and will be formally opened Thursday, May 19, with Wichita valley farmers given the opportunity to offer seasonable produce to both retail and wholesale buyers.

The auction Friday was conducted by M. Blank as auctioneer and Hugh Shaw as clerk. Farmers did not offer livestock at the sale and it is believed that with favorable weather conditions the majority of farmers will continue to be busy through the week in the fields. Auction days will probably be changed to Saturday of each week.

JUST WOULDN'T DO

SACRAMENTO, Calif.—Not that she's superstitious or anything—oh, no! But a woman motorist caused Russell Bevans, registrar of the department of motor vehicles, some trouble when she registered a complaint against the license plate she received. The numerals on it, she pointed out, were 4G720, and the numbers added to 13. She requested another set of plates.

OLD TIME PICNIC

First Presbyterians To Meet at Weeks Park Saturday

Church-wide participation is scheduled Saturday afternoon for the annual basket picnic of the first Presbyterian church at the Boy Scout grounds in Weeks park. The affair will be opened with a parade starting from the church at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The parade has been arranged to advertise the outing and the first car will carry a poster announcing the occasion. Church members are to take basket lunches and to fall in line with the parade. Every division from primary to adult departments will take part.

Prisoners Express Regret For Injury Of Wichita Jailet

Regard which inmates of the Wichita county jail have for Sid Johnson, night jailer who was seriously injured in an attempted jailbreak Tuesday night, is manifested in a letter dispatched to Mrs. Johnson Friday by prisoners in one of the jail compartments.

On behalf of the inmates of tank No. 1, Otto Medlin and Joe Edmonds wrote the following letter and mailed it to the injured officer's wife.

"Mrs. Sid Johnson and family:

"We wisk to extend our sympathy to Mr. Johnson and his family and we regret very much that Mr. Johnson was hurt, as he was our friend, and always was ready to give advice and to lend a helping hand to us who were unfortunate enough to be in jail. We sincerely hope that he will soon get well, and be able to return to his work, for we all miss him. Please give him our best regards when you visit him."

Mr. Johnson was reported Friday as considerably improved over his condition Thursday night, when he became unconscious at home and was taken to the Wichita General hospital. He was hit upon the head Tuesday night with a section of cell bar as R. W. Canada and H. W. Bybee initiated a break for freedom which ended a moment later when Bybee was disarmed by Deputy Sheriff Pat Allen.

American Civic Leader Near Death in Paris

PARIS, May 13. (US)—Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, American society leader whose life was spent in civic reforms and opposition to the League of Nations' court, suffered a paralytic stroke today and is not expected to recover. Mrs. Belmont is 55.

Dr. Edmund Gros, her physician, tonight said:

"There is no hope for Mrs. Belmont. It is but a question of time. She may live a few days."

Colonel and Mrs. Jacques Balsan are at the bedside. Mrs. Balsan, the former Consuelo Vanderbilt, is Mrs. Belmont's daughter by her first marriage to William K. Vanderbilt.

Supreme Court Asked To Rule on Congress Race

AUSTIN, May 13. (UP)—The state supreme court today received a certified question from the court of civil appeals at San Antonio together with a request for an early ruling on whether candidates for congressmen at large must run for three specified places as directed by the state Democratic executive committee. The order has been contested by Mrs. Ida Darden of Fort Worth who wants a general race, the highest three to win. There are more than 40 candidates.

Pipe Line Managers Ask Meters in East Texas

AUSTIN, May 13. (UP)—A resolution asking installation and operation of meters on East Texas oil pipe lines within 30 days was passed here today by a committee of pipe line managers in conference with R. D. Parker, chief of the oil and gas division of the state railroad commission.

Specifications for the meters are yet to be adopted. They will be installed at expense of the oil companies. Periodical checks will be made to keep errors to a minimum.

Cost of installing the meters will not be over $1,200, Carl Estes of Tyler, who attended the conference, said.

Texas Company Documents Presented in Ouster Suit

AUSTIN, May 13. (UP)—With 128 documents identified as coming from files of the Texas company, Atty. Gen. James V. Allred rested tonight in taking preliminary testimony for his $17,850,000 trust penalty suit against major oil organizations here.

President R. C. Holmes of the Texas company was the only witness questioned. Most of the time he merely sat in the witness chair while attorneys agreed that papers came from company files. When hearings will be resumed was not settled.

FRIEZE RITES TODAY AT 3

Wichita to Pay Last Honors To Pioneer

Funeral services for William Elihu Frieze, 83, pioneer resident of this city, will be held at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon from the family home, 1620 Eighth. Dr. George P. Horst, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will officiate and burial will be in Riverside under direction of the Hines mortuary.

Mr. Frieze died Thursday night at a local hospital. He had been ill a short time.

Coming to Wichita Falls in 1890, Mr. Frieze engaged in real estate business until 1893 when he served as postmaster during the second administration of Grover Cleveland, until 1897. Since that time he continued in the real estate business until 1919 when he retired. Before serving as postmaster Mr. Frieze was associated with Arch Anderson and in later years he was in partnership with W. E. Brothers and Thomas H. Peery.

A native of Coffeyville, county, Tennessee, Mr. Frieze moved to Arkansas as a child with his family, where he resided until 21 years old, having taught school for a short time. Moving to Texas, Mr. Frieze opened a mercantile business at Sugar Land, but later took up telegraphy and served at Rice, Neches, Georgetown and Belton. He married Miss Emma L. Wellhausen in 1882 at Belton where he resided until moving to this city. He was associated with the Santa Fe railway at Belton.

Pallbearers will be T. H. Peery, O. F. Marchman, John T. Young, C. W. Nelms, Will E. Brothers, Joe H. Jones, A. M. Miller, Myron A. Ellis, C. F. Clough and C. T. Beckman Sr.

Survivors are his widow; three daughters, Mrs. J. P. Glough of Dallas, Mrs. Chester Morgan of this city and Mrs. W. M. Graves Jr. of St. Louis; one son, John S. Frieze of St. Louis; and a brother, S. H. Frieze of New Braunfels, Texas.

School Children Visit Plants Here

Forty-seven school children were guests of Wichita Falls Friday and were conducted on business and industrial tours of the city by Mrs. Wilson Reedy of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce. A group of 30 pupils of the elementary grades of the Pleasant View school, near Temple, Okla., and 17 seniors of the Byers High school were escorted about the city by Mrs. Reedy. The group visited various industrial business houses, radio station KGKO, city parks, hospitals and The Record News and Daily Times building.

Average Refinery Price Of Gasoline 5.65 Cents

NEW YORK, May 13. (UP)—The average f. o. b. price of U. S. motor gasoline at nine refinery districts on May 7 was 5.653 cents per gallon, a decrease of 1.3 per cent from the previous week, but 44.8 per cent higher than the like 1931 week, the research department of J. Edward Jones reported today.

The average service station price in 162 cities on the same date was 13.912 cents per gallon, an increase of 1.4 per cent from the previous week and 11.7 per cent from the corresponding week of 1931. The weighted average price of crude oil in 12 production districts was $0.855 per barrel, compared with $0.858 in the preceding week and $0.519 on May 9 last year.

Andrews County Well Sprays Oil and Gas

SAN ANGELO, Texas, May 13. (AP)—Fuhrman Petroleum corporation's No. 1 F. Boner and others, in section 24, block A-43, public school land, in Andrews county, was credited today with spraying oil at the rate of 10 to 15 barrels hourly with an estimated 5,000,000 to 6,000,000 cubic feet of gas, following a 390-quart shot from 4220 to 4430 feet.

Having obtained no increase in drilling to 4541 feet since a showing of oil from 4310 to 4315 feet, good for less than one barrel hourly, No. 1 Boner appeared on the verge of failure. It is three-quarters of a mile southeast of Fuhrman No. 1 Ford, largest of five Andrews county producers, and is near University of Texas land.

Race Driver Wins Lap Prize

Cupid did some fast flying to overtake Billy Arnold, youthful Chicago automobile racer, who won the 1930 500-mile Memorial day race at Indianapolis and was in a fair way of repeating his victory in 1931 when disaster cheated him. Here you see Billy and his bride, formerly Dorothy Canfield of Detroit, who will spend their honeymoon at Indianapolis where Arnold will prepare for this year's race. He is confident of a comeback.

Perkins-Timberlake Company To Observe 35th Anniversary Here

The 35th anniversary of Perkins-Timberlake company with headquarters in Wichita Falls will be celebrated with a sales event featuring quality merchandise at new 1932 prices. An added feature of the observance will be continued emphasis on the satisfactory service which has characterized the institution during its long period of operation in North Texas. The sale will open Saturday morning.

The prices of high quality merchandise are lower now than they have been in more than a third of a century, as is demonstrated in the sale that marks the 35th anniversary of Perkins-Timberlake company, according to executives of this store, whose headquarters are in Wichita Falls.

This merchandising institution had its origin in Decatur, Texas, when J. J. Perkins opened a small store in May, 1897. Since that time it has grown to be one of the largest mechandising institutions in Texas and Oklahoma, with stores at Wichita Falls, Vernon, Electra, Bowie, Decatur and Frederick, Okla. Wichita Falls is headquarters for this group of stores and merchandise in extremely large quantities is purchased for the vast army of customers of these various stores.

Preparation is being made to take care of the extremely large crowds that are expected Saturday at their stores.

300 ATTEND SCOUT MEET

Court Awards Merit Badges To 34 Boys

More than 300 persons attended the quarterly jamboree of Boy Scouts in the Wichita Falls area at the Memorial auditorium Friday night when 46 scouts qualified for first and second class ranking and for merit badge awards.

Thirty-four boys were designated by the court of honor, over which Rev. Finis Crutchfield presided, to receive merit badges for work done in first aid, crafts, and nature lore. Nine troop members qualified for advancement to second-class rank, and three from second to first-class standing. Scoutmasters of the city formed the court of honor, along with Rev. Mr. Crutchfield.

Spirited competition between troops in a series of regulation scout contests entertained the audience present for the event. They were conducted by Scout Executive Frank B. Creighton, assisted by Bryant Creighton. Eight-man pushball, six-man pyramid building, four-man compass relay, five-man signaling relay; fire building by friction, and with flint and steel; and tumbling constituted the contest program.

Scoutmaster Don Ross supervised the flying of airplanes made by himself and scouts in troop No. 12.

Members of troop No. 8 conducted a tenderfoot investiture service.

A group of Iowa Park scouts were present, but did not participate in the contests.

Boys qualified as first-class scouts were Philip Curd, E. B. Reed, and Herbert Tarver; for second-class ranking, Gwan Riley, Samuel Gibbs, Oliver Burrows, Donald Beekman, Raymond Heusel, Clifton Clark, Jack Nehr and Don Moon; for merit badges, Jarrell Davis, Billy Shropshire, J. B. Cissell, Paul Osteen, Charles Greer, William Bryan, Fred Taylor, Nathaniel Gibbs, James Peery, Jack Allen, John Dale, Leon Moon, James Barnett, Newton Rudy, Albert Owen, Delmont Chism, Virgil Stengel, Herndon Chism, Guy Beard, Jack Hancock, Cooper Waters, Zeno Steinkoenig, Billy McBroom, Leo Thomas, William Berry, Herbert Tarver, Leslie Smith, Roger Brown, John C.
