JUNIOR COLLEGE OPENS TODAY

Baptist Bible Class Convention Begins Here Today

SPECIAL TRAINS BRING THRONGS FROM ALL PARTS

1,500 Visitors To Be In City For 3 Days Meet; Opens At 9:30

MANY DRIVE THROUGH

Local Committees Say Everything Ready For Sessions

The second state-wide invasion of convention delegates to strike Wichita Falls in less than a week hit with full force Monday night when, at the conclusion of busy day of preparation, visitors by the hundreds poured into the city for the opening sessions this morning of the Baptist Organized Bible Class convention of Texas. The first of the three day meeting will be held this morning at the First Baptist church.

Wichita Falls found itself confronted last night with the task of entertaining and housing over 1,500 out-of-town Texans. At 11 o'clock when the registration desk closed for the night 500 visitors had signed up and conducted to their homes. Those in charge of registration, were confident that early estimates of 1,500 visitors were not overdrawn; trainloads and carloads from all parts of the state pulled in during the late afternoon and early evening hours and these, with the other hundreds due in on trains arriving before daylight Tuesday will swell the number to or above the 1,500 mark. This will easily be the largest number ever brought to the city for a single convention.

A special train carrying 200 or more delegates from Tyler and other East Texas points is due in early Tuesday morning; a 20-piece band and an orchestra will be included in the delegation, the arrival of which is being awaited with interest. A special car carrying Fort Worth delegates came in on the northbound Denver at 8 o'clock this morning and other special cars, one from Dallas and one from Fort Worth, are due in on the night Katy train from Dallas, arriving here at 6:35 this morning.

Convention officials also reported last night that automobile parties were coming in overland from as far south as Waco and from as far north as Hamlin and Paducah. Many cars have already arrived from Dallas, Fort Worth, Paris, Sherman, Greenville, Tyler, Garland and other points. The Wichita Falls trade territory points will disgorge their automobile contingents this morning.

Local Baptists put in a busy day Tuesday in clearing up details incident to the convention and making final preparations for the big affair. Plans have been in the process of formulation for many months but the eve of such a gathering always brings a mass of last minute labor that can

Dr. J. W. Cantwell Gives Jr. College Discussion

School Head Predicts Great Future for School System.

By DR. J. W. CANTWELL
Superintendent City Schools.

The Wichita Falls Junior college will open its doors on next Monday to the boys and girls of this section under most favorable conditions. The building is one of the best school houses in the south and the equipment from basement to attic is of the most approved design and quality. A strong faculty of college men and women are organized and ready to be transferred to this new building along with some eight hundred students. This school is designed to take the last two years of high school and the first two years of college, and the completion of the work as outlined will admit students to the junior year of standard colleges and universities. The courses are planned to meet the needs of those who expect to complete a college education or who may desire to enter professional schools. Also, a course for teachers is offered which, when completed, will entitle graduates to a certificate to teach in any of our public schools.

The laboratory and library facilities will compare favorably with the better colleges of our state, and the general scope of the courses should prove very attractive.

Probably no new school in Texas has been launched under such favorable auspices.

The people of the city have expressed unusual pride in the school and a deep interest in what it means to our people is everywhere manifest.

While this school will depend largely upon taxation for support it is clear that it will not lack in private financial aid in so far as it may appear to need it. Already large donations and numerous small contributions have been made to complete the equipment in detail before the school opens.

No school that I have seen excels the Wichita Falls Junior college in beauty, grandeur or completeness. It is substantial and commodious as well as beautiful. It should be a glorious monument to the people who have built it even in the tenth succeeding generation. The generation that has builded this great structure for the purpose of educating and training their children will live when others shall have been forgotten.

This school is more than a local factor in education. It is already set up by other cities as a study in the solution of the problem of higher educational opportunity. It is the desire of the American people that children everywhere have the opportunity for as complete education and development as they will use. The Junior college idea will bring closer home college education for the next generation just as high schools brought home secondary

Postal Inspector In Alleged Land Fraud Hearing

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Investigation of alleged land frauds in the lower Rio Grande valley of Texas by the special senate committee centered today in an effort by the prosecution to show from the testimony of Russ D. Simmons, federal postoffice inspector, that the postoffice department failed to send an inspector into Texas to get first-hand information from complainants.

Simmons countered with the explanation that large part of their investigations were conducted through the mails. He added that he was ill in a hospital during the Texas land inquiry and although he did not order an inspector to go into Texas, he could not say positively whether a personal investigation was made.

PLEAS ENTERED IN OIL FRAUDS

Houston Cases Are Attracting Great Interest

By The Associated Press.

HOUSTON, April 7.—The Old Dominion Oil case went to trial in federal court here today.

Of the 11 defendants in the case, seven entered pleas of guilty through their counsel. Four pleas of not guilty were entered. Those entering pleas of not guilty are Oscar L. Pardue, John L. Debrueys, J. F. Lewis, and J. J. Edwards. The task of selecting jurymen for the first trial began just before noon.

Defendants entering pleas of guilty were Jack Adair, J. M. Graff, E. V. O'Dowd, N. H. Saeng; M. H. Hirsch, W. L. Marks and L. J. Wertheimer.

The indictments charge frauds in the stock selling of the Old Dominion Oil company and using the mails to defraud in the present selling of such stock.

Several other pleas were entered with Judge Hutcheson when court opened. Notable among these was Phil J. Hopkins, one time husband of Peggy Hopkins Joyce.

Hopkins entered a plea of not guilty, through his counsel, to charges of using the mails to defraud.

Four pleas of not guilty were heard in the case of W. M. Blake and the Mogul Oil company. Those entering pleas of not guilty are W. M. Blake, J. M. Blake, Hunter Blake and John C. Gibson. Two other defendants in the same case, H. Truyens and J. S. Gordon, were not in court. Their pleas will be heard later. The case was passed by the court until April 28, at which time it will be called for setting.

OKLA. INDIAN LAND CASES ARE AIRED AT PROBE

Senator Harreld Admits "Seed For Scandal"

PECK QUESTIONED

Miller Bros. Ranch Is Also Brought Into Hearing

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Prohibition enforcement conditions in Chicago and Indian land fraud prosecutions in Oklahoma occupied the attention of the senate Daugherty investigating committee today.

Bryce F. Armstrong, a Chicago prohibition agent, testified the eight breweries were allowed to run in the lake city "under protection" in the manufacture of "high power beer." Delving into this charge the committee also sought the reasons for a two-year halt in the institution of legal proceedings to recover from Miller Brothers of Oklahoma some 10,000 acres in the "101 Ranch" which were involved in transactions where fraud against Indians was charged.

Senator Harreld, republican, Oklahoma, opened the day's testimony with a voluntary statement that he had seen "seed for scandal" in the removal from office of H. N. Peck, federal district attorney for the western district of Oklahoma, by the incoming republican administration in 1921. He intervened to have Mr. Peck, who had been appointed by the Wilson administration, retained in service to prosecute the Miller brothers and their associates, which was done, and also "stirred things up a bit" recently to see that civil suits were brought by the government to recover the lands when he found the delay in this matter.

COOLIDGE IS 2 TO 1 AHEAD IN MICHIGAN RACE

A Third Of Returns Show Hiram Johnson Downed

DEMOCRATS VOTE

Ferris and Ford Get Some Few Votes Aside From Leaders

By The Associated Press.

DETROIT, Mich., April 7.—With one-third of the state represented in scattering returns tabulated at 9:30 o'clock tonight, Calvin Coolidge had more than a two to one led over Hiram W. Johnson in today's state-wide presidential primary election. The tabulation did not include returns from Wayne county (Detroit) which gave Johnson a majority over a field of six candidates in the 1920 primary, which he won.

The vote, with 345 of the state's 2,890 precincts reported, showed:

Coolidge, 24,648; Johnson 11,218. William G. Simpson, Detroit civil engineer received 1,014 votes.

Although the democratic vote was exceptionally small throughout the state, the contest for the presidential nomination loomed as a see-saw affair. The advantage moved first to Henry Ford then to Senator Woodbridge N. Ferris. Returns from 342 precincts gave Ford a lead of 639 votes, the vote being: Ford, 4,072; Ferris, 3,433.

Ask Habeas Writ For 24 Men Held In Klan Case

By The Associated Press.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., April 7.—Habeas corpus proceedings were instituted late today at Ebensburg on behalf of the 24 men said to be members of the ku klux klan, who are charged with murder and riot, in connection with the fatal disorders Saturday night at Lilly when two men were killed and a score injured, several seriously, in rioting between the townspeople and visiting klansmen.

The application for a writ of habeas corpus was made after counsel for the accused men had waived preliminary hearing here. They were held without bail for the June term of criminal court upon the charges preferred earlier in the day by District Attorney D. P. Weimer. A hearing upon the habeas corpus application was set for Wednesday afternoon.

DOCTOR KILLED IN FORT WORTH FIGHT

By The Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, April 7.—After a pistol duel in a pharmacy here this afternoon in which Dr. Ira E. Holcomb was shot to death and Herbert C. Green was probably fatally wounded, charges of assault to murder were filed against Mrs. Myrtle Dees Hooks, sister-in-law of the physician, who witnessed the shooting. She furnished bond of $2,500.

Mrs. Hooks refused to make a statement to the district attorney. A statement alleged to have been made by Green to the district attorney said he went to the drug store where the shooting occurred to meet Mrs. Hooks at her request, to talk to her about some trouble between him and Dr. Holcomb. Green declared he did not know Holcomb was also to be present at the drug store, and said he drew his revolver and opened fire only after Holcomb had commenced shooting. He said he had refused to sign a statement which the physician had requested.

SOLON LANGLEY IS INDICTED AT HOME

By The Associated Press.

COVINGTON, Ky., April 7.—Congressman John W. Langley of Kentucky, was indicted by a federal grand jury here late today on three counts, charging conspiracy to withdraw, sell and transport whiskey.

The conspiracy charges are based on the alleged withdrawal of 1,400 cases of whisky from a distillery at Lawrenceburg, Ky.

Frank Kell In Rail Testimony

Wichita Capitalist Gives Snappy Repartee Before Rail Commission.

Austin Bureau
Record-News

AUSTIN, April 7.—Frank Kell of Wichita Falls who stated he was 48 per cent owner of the S. A. U & G. railroad in the hearing here today before the Texas railway commission regarding the proposed merger of the Gulf Coast Lines and the I. & G. N. declared that consolidation of the roads would be the only preventative to take up many lines from being junked.

He was questioned whether the merger would permit export tonnage to move past Houston to New Orleans, and he emphatically denied that. Port facilities and ocean rates control that, he said. He declared if Houston built oil terminals, it would excel New Orleans.

Mr. Kell engaged in a lively tilt with Claude Birkhead of San Antonio, who asked him his age. "Over 50" he replied. "You don't look it, but we want your exact age," Claude Birkhead persisted. "Over 50,—that's enough" was again in his retort.

"Over 60 isn't it?" Birkhead queried. "I am 64 years old and I have lived every day of it in Texas," he declared.

Mr. Kell tied up again with Birkhead a moment later. He testified he had seven flour mills and 100 elevators. Birkhead went back to his question of Kell interest in appearing before the commission to favor this merger. "You said you owned 48 per cent of the S. A. U. & G. by contract. What do you mean 'by contract?'" he was asked. "That's a matter of private business, of no concern here," he answered. "You decline then, after giving that as a reason of your interest in this case, to state what it is?" asked Birkhead.

"I don't object to stating what it means. I simply say it's nobody's business," was the answer.

"You can issue a subpoena dueces tecum and get the contract before you. I just used the word lest somebody finds, perhaps, I hadn't paid the entire purchase price, and would claim here I didn't own the interest. I will say I paid sufficient cash money so that the contract will ride."

Pleads Guilty.

By The Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, April 7.—The trial of Halton P. Siddall, 26, Equality, Ills., dental student, ended abruptly today in criminal court when he entered a plea of guilty to second degree murder in connection with the death of Juan Mazzola of Panama. He was sentenced to life imprisonment.

The Day In Washington

The senate confirmed Harlan Fiske Stone of New York to be attorney general.

The senate passed a bill to prevent monopoly of radio communications.

Investigations of the shipping board by the house reached the stage of examination of witnesses.

The senate finance committee worked on final details of the tax bill prior to reporting it to the senate.

A joint resolution proposing a world peace conference was introduced by Senator Pepper, republican, Pennsylvania.

Russ D. Simmons, chief postal inspector, continued his testimony in the senate investigation of alleged Texas land frauds.

President Coolidge commuted to one month the sentences of Edward A. Rumely of New York and others convicted under war laws.

The mixed claims commission decided Germany was not obligated to compensate for ships destroyed during the war when used for war purposes.

The supreme court held the federal court of Washington state must determine whether state or federal courts have jurisdiction in the Cronkhite case.

Shippers are entitled only to collect such damages as they are able to show when higher railroad rates are charged on short than on long hauls, the supreme court held.

A decision by the supreme court held that states cannot compel interstate railroads to join in construction of union stations and cannot compel them to abolish grade crossings.

Prohibition enforcement in Chicago occupied the Daugherty committee with Brice F. Armstrong, Chicago prohibition agent, asserting his efforts were handicapped by local and federal officials.

Big Gas Surplus Is Now On Hand, Says

Petroleum Head Says Over-Supply Keeping Price Low As It Is.

By The Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, April 7.—A surplus of gasoline as large as that last November when the price was greatly reduced, exists in the United States at present, L. V. Nicholas of Chicago, president of the National Petroleum Marketers association, said today at the opening of the association's four-day convention here.

"If it were not for this surplus," Mr. Nicholas said, "the price of gasoline would be more than two cents a gallon higher than the current price, in view of the fact that the gasoline price is regulated in conformity to the current crude oil prices."

A late wet spring, muddy roads and other conditions unfavorable to automobile traffic were given by Mr. Nicholas as the principal causes for surpluses of gasoline. He said he did not expect gasoline prices to ever rise higher than 30 cents a gallon.

Mr. Nicholas was emphatic in his denial that the gasoline price was controlled by one company, but was affected by keen competition. He pointed out in this connection that the so-called independent gasoline companies controlled about 65 per cent of the oil business.

Claim Henry Ford Gave Money To Russian Revolt

By The Associated Press.

MOSCOW, April 7.—The name of Henry Ford has brought into the trial at Kiev of 18 persons charged with counter-revolutionary activity and espionage, the prosecution charging that the American automobile manufacturer several days ago supplied the "acting center," counter revolutionary organization in Paris, with which the defendants were alleged to have been connected, with a large sum of money. This money, it is charged, enabled the organization to continue its activities in soviet Russia.

Nicholas Tschikovsky, former president of the government of north Russia, has also been mentioned in connection with the "acting center."

BRUSSELS, April 7.—A severe attack of the grippe with which it was announced King Albert was suffering today caused some anxiety in the royal household. Cardinal Mercier sent word expressing his sympathy.

FROM LOG HOUSE TO STONE BLDG. IS ITS HISTORY

40 Years of School History Reaches Climax Today

PROGRAM TONIGHT

New Structure Has All Conveniences Old Ones Missed

Today marks the opening of the new Wichita Falls junior college the establishment of which is culmination of a period of forty years in which the public school system of this city has developed from a one-room log school house into one of the finest colleges of its kind in the United States. The new college is a monument to crown the efforts of public spirited citizens who have worked in the interest of the schools for the years past.

The Junior college was erected by the city of Wichita Falls in order that the public schools might have greater advantages here, and that in addition to the high school work done in the city schools, two years of college work might be done before entering a senior college. Tuesday night marks the opening of the college, although one year of work has already been carried on here, finishing in 1923. The high school building served for the college until its permanent home could be erected.

The first school of Wichita Falls was a bed-room school taught in 1879 by Miss Hattie Seelty, according to an early history of the city at the chamber of commerce. The first school building under the direction of a school board was a log school house known as the central school. It was 10 years later, in 1890 that the first permanent building was constructed, that which is now used by the junior high school. The Alamo school was erected in 1909 and in the same year, the San Jacinto and Washington schools were also established. Other interest was shown in school building and the old central school was changed to the Washington school site, and served until the present building was erected in 1902.

Other schools were built to take care of the children who were old enough to attend the public schools. Austin school was built in 1911; Travis, 1912; Sam Houston, 1915; Fannin and Bowie, 1920; Barwise and Carrigan, 1922. The Mexican school was also founded in 1922.

The teaching staff which increased to four teachers in 1882, now numbers more than 200.

In 1890 the first independent school district was organized, but the city cancelled the charter and took the school under its management in 1894, because of the illegality of a certain school tax. Because of lack of funds in the school district, the city erected the first high school building in 1890, the site of the present junior high school. Another independent school district was founded and was given a charter in 1890 because of prevailing indebtedness, not enough money was raised by the bonds issued, because the city was trying to install a system of waterworks. The new

MOVIE CENSOR BOARD LOOMS UP FOR CITY

City Council Asked To Establish Body To Watch Theatres

ACTION NEXT WEEK

Variety of Matters Are Taken Up Monday By City Council

That Wichita Falls will once more have its board of movie censorship seems probable from the sentiment expressed by Mayor Collier and various of the commissioners at last night's council meeting. Mayor Collier stated that he had been requested by one of the ministers of the city to revive the board authorized by the city council during Walter Cline's administration as mayor. This request follows the presentation of recent shows in Wichita Falls theatres which have not met with the approval of the churches of the town.

The problem was discussed by the council, but action was deferred until the meeting next week, at which time Mayor Collier stated he hoped to have a number of satisfactory persons willing to accept appointment on such a board.

The oath of office was administered to Mayor Collier and Public Utilities Commissioner Curd following the official tabulation of the returns of last Tuesday's election. Street Commissioner Clifford, was unable to take his oath of office last night, being absent due to illness.

An expenditure of $5,395.25 was authorized to construct a sanitary sewer into the Sunset Heights district. This when completed will serve about 800 houses and relieve the present unsanitary condition of the sewer serving the Boy Scout camp near Sunset Heights.

Several paving matters were taken up, among which was a discussion of the Burnett street proposition. Only 304 feet of frontage was found to be represented by objections to the contemplated paving, so the improvement work was authorized, brick paving to be laid from 8th street to the bridge.

A petition of residents of 14th street between Lamar and Austin streets was read and approved and instructions given to the city clerk to issue cards for voting to determine the kind of paving to be used.

It was voted to carry on the paving on the Seymour road as originally planned, objections there proving negligible. An objection against widening Ninth street between Grace and Broad was heard and action on the matter deferred pending investigation by the street commissioner.

A letter from the local Katy officers requesting that they be allowed to increase the speed limits of their trains within city limits to the limit prescribed for automobiles instead of the eight miles now in effect was read action in the matter being deferred until the next meeting to allow time for investigation of the merits of their request.

The building code, with minor amendments was passed on its third and final reading.

Commissioner Young was not present due to absence from the city, while Street Commissioner Clifford was unable to be at the meeting because of illness.

"The Coyote" Is Official Year Book Of Junior College

"The Coyote", the official year book of the Junior college and the high school is published each year by the graduating class. As the school grows, as a matter of course, the year book improves and grows larger, but this year, the staff, under the direction of Miss Jennie Splawn, hopes to produce a volume which will win state honors.

The volume this year has recently been completed by the staff and is being printed. It contains 276 pages with the usual complete and detailed account of campus activities and school life, pictures of all class members, kodak snaps, portraits in the beauty and popularity sections, history of classes, the faculty, athletics and "beacoup humor" as one member of the staff puts it.

Leather bound and beautifully engraved, the book is the very finest that the local staff could produce and stands high chance of winning over other year books of Texas high schools.

The staff is composed of Leo Baldwin, editor-in-chief; Leota Tucker, assistant to the editor; Vernon McGee, assistant to the editor; Chas. Weeth, business manager; Steve West, athletics; Herbert Franklin, advertising manager; Frances Ann Saunders, photograph; Electra D. Reasor, school life; Mary Evans, society; Margaret Bray, organization; Edna Prechel, art; and Sam Basbara, Junior class representative.

Varicose Veins Are Quickly Reduced

No sensible person will continue to suffer from dangerous swollen veins or bunches when the new powerful, yet harmless germicide called Emerald Oil can readily be obtained at any well stocked drug store.

Ask for a two-ounce original bottle of Emerald Oil (full strength) and refuse substitutes. Use as directed and in a few days improvement will be noticed, then continue until the swollen veins are reduced to normal. It is guaranteed and is so powerful that it also reduces enlarged glands, goitres and wens.—Adv.

Officers of High Senior Class Are Popular

Charles Weeth presides over affairs of state in the 1924 graduating class of the high school which will step almost in its entirety into the first year class of the Junior college in its new quarters.

Kenneth Barker is vice president, Mary Evans, secretary, and Leota Tucker, treasurer. All four students are singularly prominent in the high school world of activities and form one of the most powerful senior administrations in the history of the school.

Under their successful management, with the aid of Misses Juanita Kinsey, director of public speaking and dramatics, Winifred Alvis, director of music, and Jennie Splawn senior class sponsor, "Niobe, All Smiles," a three-act play was presented by the class at the Palace theatre Dec. 13 and 14. "Kathleen," a musical comedy was presented to enthusiastic audiences March 13 and 14, for the benefit of the "Coyote" the high school year book which is published by the senior class. Several interesting social events have been given by the class during the fall term, and many more are planned for the spring term before graduation on May 15.

Announcements of graduation which were chosen by a committee composed of Mary Evans, Leota Tucker and Miss Splawn hav been ordered and will soon arrive.

Class rings and pins were selected for the class by Mary Evans and are perhaps the most attractive in many years. They are of black onyx on which is mounted a heavy oval seal of gold on which is raised the figure of a coyote and the name of the school while the date appears on either side of the seal. The pin has the tiny figures "24" worked in gold as a separate pin, the two attached by a fine gold chain.

BUILDING CODE FINALLY PASSED

Now Ordinance After Long Delays; Make Minor Changes

After having been side-tracked at least three times when it was ready for final passage, the city's building code was finally adopted by the city council Monday night and now is in full force and effect. The ordinance in which the provisions of the code are incorporated was approved on its third and final reading after several minor alterations were made in certain paragraphs.

As the situation now stands, a building inspector will be named in the near future and all buildings erected hereafter must comply with all provisions of the code. The document is such as will, it is thought, result in the construction of substantial structures that will incorporate more approved features than are now necessary.

The code has been drafted for over a month and was passed on its second reading several weeks ago. Complaints of one kind and another, however, have come up and delayed its final adoption.

N. B. Singletary was elected county trustee from commissioners precinct No. 1 and J. F. Holder from precinct No. 2.

Considerable interest was shown in the election in the rural districts, it was reported to Mr. Bryant, this being in direct contrast to the situation in Wichita Falls where a negligible number of votes were cast for school board candidates.

9 Oil Fraud Cases Begin At Fort Worth

By The Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 7.—Nine mail fraud cases were called today in federal district court.

Four of the defendants entered pleas of guilty. Three cases were passed for pleas of guilty, one for a plea of not guilty, and one on a motion to dismiss.

James M. Pope, instrumental in the promotion of the J. E. Pope Oil Trust, was sentenced to 60 days in the county jail and fined $500 in connection with his oil activities. His jail sentence will start April 14.

Pleas of guilty also were entered by Fred Asner, Harry Asner and Jack Wise, all of Chicago, indicted in the George R. Kelly Oil company case.

Louis L. White, another defendant in the Kelly case, filed motion for dismissal, through his attorney who told the court White had plead guilty and paid $7,000 fine on two previous mail fraud charges and had made, at that time these cases were disposed an agreement with the United States district attorney's office by which White was to get a "clean slate" on his oil operation activities prior to that time.

District Attorney Zweifel told the court he would not oppose White's motion and Judge James C. Wilson directed the defense attorney to file written motion to be acted upon.

By request of defendants counsel, the case of George R. Kelly was passed until Thursday, no plea being entered.

World War Vet, Mind Unbalanced As Result of Gas, Taken to Wyoming To Undergo Treatment in U. S. Hospital

Thomas Farrar, a veteran of the world war, who saw heavy service in France and who, as a result of a gassing received in the Argonne has been in precarious mental and physical condition since, was taken to Sheridan, Wyo., Monday morning by Deputy Sheriff W. P. Belcher where he will enter a government sanitarium for treatment.

The man has been held in the county jail here for some time while the sheriff's department has been making efforts to obtain proper care for him. Wholly rational at times, he was at other periods completely unbalanced mentally. Several days ago he startled the officers by breaking out a window pane in his cell, pounding the glass into dust and swallowing it.

The man had no relatives here, it was learned, and when it was found that he had served with distinction during the war and had arrived at his present condition because of this service, Sheriff Murphy immediately took his case up with government officials. Commitment papers to the Wyoming sanitarium were received Sunday and Deputy Belcher left Monday to deliver him to the institution.

It is thought that with proper treatment he can be restored to health.

2,898 Cases Handled in Corporation Court in Fiscal Year, Report Shows

A total of 2,898 cases handled and $15,203.50 collected in fines and bonds forfeited constituted the work of the corporation court of the city during the fiscal year ending March 31, 1924, according to a report made to the city council Monday night by C. B. McConnell, deputy city clerk and ex-officio clerk of the corporation court. Mr. McConnell's detailed report was presented to and accepted by the council.

The report showed that a total of $18,603.10 in fines had been assessed and that $15,293.50 was either collected or the bonds forfeited. Jail sentences were served in lieu of $1,350 and $1,060 in fines were suspended.

September was the banner month in collections with $1,927 collected. October followed close behind with $1,906 and March was third with $1,583. May was the lightest month of the year with only $782 collected. November was second in this respect with $854.

More cases were handled in October than in any other month, 359 being docketed. February was second in line with 337 and September third with 332. One thousand, nine hundred and fifty-one convictions were obtained during the year and 760 not guilty verdicts returned. Thirty-two prisoners were transferred to county officials and 22 to the federal authorities.

CARS TO PARK ON M-R LOT

Ninth and Indiana Space To Be Used to Assist Traffic Problem

In order to facilitate parking problems of the city during the Baptist convention here, arrangements have been made for the use of the Moore and Richolt lot at Ninth and Indiana as a parking site for the automobiles of visitors and delegates to the convention.

Plans announced Monday contemplate the turning over of the lot to the visitors, where their cars may be parked free of charge for such time as is deemed necessary. This, it is thought, will aid in avoiding a conflict with the police department over the two-hour parking law and will also serve to aid in relieving traffic congestion that would otherwise appear.

It is expected that a large number of cars will bring delegates and visitors to the convention sessions from nearby communities.

HIGH PRINCIPAL EXPECTS GROWTH

Rider Says Junior College Means Success

By S. H. RIDER

Principal of Junior College and High School

The school year of 1923-24 has been a most successful one for the high school and the Junior college. Contributing factors to this success and the fine school spirit which exists are the efforts of a faithful corps of teachers and the anticipation of both the faculty and the student body of enjoying the facilities of the new building.

These anticipations will be realized to the fullest in 1924-25, for the Wichita Falls Junior college will afford the greatest opportunity in both regular class work and extra curricular activities.

The enlarged equipment and furniture will increase interest in every phase of work; the library, furnishing as it will, a supplement to the work of all departments; the equipment for manual training, home economics, domestic science, typewriting, bookkeeping, make possible greater efficiency and special rooms for music, public speaking and art, with suitable equipment and furniture, inspire students along these special lines of culture.

The new school provides for a change from 45 minutes to hour periods with 20 minutes of supervised study following the 40 minute recitation period. This arrangement will urge the prompt preparing of lessons under the supervision of the class teacher, eliminate much lost time and break in thought, and will give more dignity to college classes.

The large auditorium will make it possible for regular assemblies when the entire student body of both Junior college and high school will meet, a feature vitally important to school life and school spirit which never before has been possible.

There will be provision for physical training for girls and boys and an opportunity for a greater number of students to take part in athletics, thereby giving them the benefit of individual physical development. Heretofore, the majority of students have been merely spectators and only those especially fitted along athletic lines and capable of hodling a place on a school team could have the advantage of athletic training, a big factor in the lives of modern boys and girls.

The opening of the third year of the Junior college will find larger classes, more definitely established principals of junior college standards, a recognized institution of the highest rank, and an institution for which the high school students will prepare with pride to enter.

All of these factors point to the ushering in of 1924-25 and an era of greater success than has yet been achieved in high school and junior college in this city.

People who have endured tortures from itching eczema will be happy to learn that a means of relief has been perfected and is already enoying unheard of popularity on account of the quick way it gets rid of the awful disease of the skin which nobody seemed able to figure out before.

Most all dealers have been forced to get a supply of this Black and White Ointment on account of the tremendous demand which has already reached the mammoth rate of nearly two million packages a year in its sales.

HIGH GRAVITY OIL FORCED IN STORAGE TANKS

The Strike Opens Up Vast Territory for Exploration In New Area

The Green and Flowers Brothers' Abercrombie-Taylor No. 1, block 45 Harris sub-division Club ranch, 10 miles west of Archer City was swabbed for an hour and a half Monday afternoon and approximately 50 barrels of oil was put into storage.

Four 500-barrel tanks and one 1,000-barrel tank has been erected near the well.

Much activity is going on in the vicinity of the new discovery well and several large deals are reported pending. Archer City is reported filled with oil operators from other fields and acreage near the Greene and Flowers Brothers' strike is in demand.

PACIFIC CRUDE DISTRICTS GAIN

Slight Increase Is Shown After Weeks of Steady Decline

Special to The Record News.

LOS ANGELES, April 7.—Oil production in the Los Angeles basin for the week ended March 29 averaged 389,000 barrels a day, against 388,000 barrels daily in preceding week and 405,000 barrels in week ended March 15.

Long Beach production was 200,000 barrels daily, a decrease of 7,000; Santa Fe Springs 86,000, an increase of 1,000 barrels; Huntington Beach 55,000, a decrease of 1,000, and Torrence field 48,000, against 40,000 in the week ended March 22.

The Standard Oil of California has re-opened its wells on the Emery and Murphy leases in the Coyote hills east of Santa Fe Springs, adding 18,000 barrels daily to its Southern California outut. The present production in Coyote hills, which field is practically all owned by the Standard of California, is 2,000 barrels daily. The wells were shut down during overproduction.

Dominguez Feld Scores.

Bringing in a 5,000-barrel well in No. 1 Carson in the new Dominguez field in southern California is the outstanding event of California operators, and the most noteworthy for this field thus far, adding fresh laurels to those already won by the Union Oil company, discoverer of the field last September. The well was drilled to 4,231 feet and was completed in four and a half months.

The trusty core-barrel uncovered a 16-foot sand at the comparatively shallow depth of 1,016 feet in the test well being drilled by the Standard Oil company on its Los Angeles Investment company lease in Baldwin hills, according to reliable information, indicating the possibility of a shallow field where it was believed oil did not exist.

Rigging Up

By SUMMERS

Members of the National Petroleum Marketers' association opened a convention at the Statler hotel, St. Louis, Monday will continue in session over April 8.

The recently organized St. Louis Petroleum club is behind the meeting and that club will give a dinner and provide entertainment for the visitors from various cities of the nation.

Weather in the northeastern states has moderated and shipments of petroleum products is expected to be resumed on a larger scale.

The Transcontinental Oil company's refinery at Bristow is undergoing enlargement. Approximately $250,00 is to be spent for stills and other equipment for the plant.

Daily production of the Panhandle area is approximately 2,200 barrels daily.

The domestic oil burner is denounced by leaders in the coal industry as "expensive and dangerous." The oil burner is rapidly gaining in favor in homes throughout the New England states.

The railroad comission will consider a revision of the regulations covering the transportation of gasoline for blending purposes and casinghead gasoline to petroleum refiners, casinghead or absorbtion plants for blending purposes, at Austin today.

Texhoma Makes Three Locations

The Texhoma Oil and Refining company made three locations Monday. The L. F. Wilson B-10 will be drilled 340 feet east of B-5; the B-11 will be 340 feet east of B-8 and 400 feet south of north line. Both tests will be in lot 11, section 27, American Tribune New Colony Lands survey, Archer county.

The company's S. B. Burnett et al's D-1 will be 150 feet north and west of southeast corner of 140 acre lease in the north half of section 5, S. A. & M. G. R. R. company survey, abstract 271, Wichita county.

EMPIRE COMPANY TO REBUILD RIG ELECTRA LEASE

The Empire Gas and Fuel company is rebuilding rig destroyed by fire on the Pierce-Fordyce lease, two miles east of Electra. The rig was burned Sunday morning when well started flowing at depth of 1,467 feet. The well is estimated as 225 barrel pumper.

ARCHER LOCATION BY CROSSLIN ET AL.

Crosslin et al have made location for deep test in northeast corner of block 74, L. L. Hudson lands, northeast of Greene and Flowers discovery well. Derrick timbers are being hauled to location.

SMACKOVER OIL FIELD LEADING ARKANSAS AREA

District Responds to Recent Crude Advances And Wildcats Spudded

Special to The Record News.

SHREVEPORT, April 7.—Completion reports for the week ending April 4 so far as Smackover is concerned, reads like a summary of some week during the height of the 1923 drilling boom, with 40 completions, of which 35 were producers. All pools in the Shreveport district registered 50 completions of which eight were in Louisiana; 38 producers of which but two were in Louisiana, seven gassers, four of which were in Smackover, and five failures, one in Smackover and four in Louisiana.

Effects of the "million dollar storm" of March 29, which swept through the heart of Smackover, El Dorado and Haynesville, were apparent in a drop of 10,224 barrels in daily average pipe line runs for the Shreveport district of which 10,000 barrels can be attributed to wreckage of derricks and pumping rigs in the three pools hit. Just how much production was cut off until reconstruction is completed has not been estimated, but as replacement was begun the morning after the "day of the big wind" pipe line runs will be back to normal when the next weekly recapitulation is made.

Price Advances Reflected.

Completion record for the week reflects the full force of the price advances of February and March, while completion of a 4,000-barrel well by the Unity Oil company in their No. 1 Alphinnin, 24-16-16, Union county, Arkansas, at 2,060 feet, besides being one of the largest wells of recent completion in the Smackover group is also either an extension southward from the center of Smackover production or a linking up of the horns of the crescent. Location is midway between nearest production in the Griffin sector of Smackover on the west and the Norphlet area on the east and about a mile south of nearest production on the north. Outline of the Smackover district shows the shape of an inverted crescent with this well midway between the tips on a line running northwest from Norphlet to Griffin. The completion proves up several thousand acres of intervening territory and will probably be the cause of another revival in Smackover which, except for the Louann sector, particularly its western edge, had begun slipping.

Cranfill-Penn Estimated 150 Barrel Pumper

Granfill Brothers and Penn's W. B. Mills No. 1, block 2413 Texas Emigration and Land company survey, southeastern Baylor county, is being put on the pump and is expected to make approximately 150 barrels daily. Two 500 barrel-tanks have been erected on the lease. Additional storage will be erected as needed.

FASTNOW-SMITH TEST SHUT DOWN

The Fastnow-Smith et al's Crawford and Bowman No. 1, Herschel Corzine survey, Archer county, is shut down in the lime at depth of 1,800 feet.

COTTON VALLEY GETS NEW WELL

Shreveport District Has Few Completions During Week

SHREVEPORT, April 7.—Official completion of another oil well in the Cotton Valley district, Webster Parish, Louisiana; indictment of nine persons for alleged violation of the laws of the state conservation department relative to the amount of gas to be taken from the Monroe gas field; increased activity in Smackover and the smashing of all former high water marks for daily yield in Smackover, were the features of the last week in the Shreveport oil territory, embracing north Louisiana and south Arkansas.

During the week 39 new wells added 4,765 barrels initial yield as compared to 30 producers, making 4,880 barrels the week before. The week just closed also recorded six failures and two gassers. Smackover, Ark., had 34 new wells during the last week as compared to 24 the preceding week. Daily average production for the week just closed average 173,876 as compared to 167,497 barrels the week before, a gain of 6,074 barrels. Smackover smashed all former high water marks for daily yield with 109,256 barrels as compared to 103,043 barrels the week before. Increases in output of wells in the light district are responsible, the daily yield in the light area there being over 30,000 barrels for the week just closed.

Smackover is believed to be in for another season of big activity, the spring increase being reflected this week. This field is far from fully developed. One major company operating in that field alone has 55 offset wells to be drilled and another can keep 15 rigs running throughout the year. The average size of the completions is only moderate, however.

In returning the indictments at Monroe, charging uses of "bypasses and other unscrupulous methods" in the gas field, the Ouachita Parish grand jury recommended that the conservation department take action to curb this; if necessary to provide additional inspectors to see that carbon manufacturers do not violate the law relative to conservation of this commodity.

During the week just closed three oil wells were completed in north Louisiana, one in Bellevue, Bossier Parish, for 100 barrels, and another in the chalk rock of Caddo Parish making 30 barrels, besides the Fortuna well in Webster Parish. Two failures in Bellevue were edge wells, that of the Louisiana Oil Refining corporation tee 2-14, in 15-19-11, being an edge well to the east, and that of R. O. Roy on the Scanland, being an edge well to the south.

A wildcat in LaSalle Parish on the Urania Lumber company lease tested salt water and was abandoned at 1,626 feet. Morehouse Parish recorded a gasser and a failure and Rossier, Wistar, a failure.

One well was completed in Stephens and one in El Dorado, the rest of the activity being confined to Smackover.

CALLING THE ROLL OF STATES.

Missouri democrats spoke in thunder tones when they declared against the presidential ambition of Senator James A. Reed, refused to instruct delegates to the state convention for William Gibbs McAdoo and on April 15 are expected to send an uninstructed delegation of Wilson democrats to the Madison Square Garden convention.

Arizona democrats, speaking through their state executive committee refused to declare for instructions for William Gibbs McAdoo and declared for an uninstructed delegation to the Madison Square Garden convention. All this dispite the influence as well as an eloquent protest against the action of the committee entered by Governor G. W. P. Hunt, leader of the radical democrats and labor organizations of the Copper state.

Kansas, democrats, who voted for McAdoo every ballot at San Francisco instructed for Governor Jonathan M. Davis as the choice for president of the Kansas democracy and the favorite son of the Sunflower state. The delegates were instructed to vote for the dirt farmer governor until a majority decides it is no longer advisable. National Committeeman J. P. Amidon, the McAdoo leader, was reelected and Jouet Shouse, an assistant secretary of the treasury under McAdoo is one of the delegates.

Governor Davis wept as the endorsement was voted without dissent and declared "democracy is marching toward its greatest triumph." Harmony came to the Sunflower democrats when Governor Davis declared that unless he was given the endorsement he would retire from politics and the democrats of Kansas could look elsewhere for a leader who would lead them to victory as he led them in the campaign two years ago.

The leaders know Davis hasn't a chance but friends of Davis expect to line up delegates from other midwestern states before the Madison Square Garden convention and friends of McAdoo expect the delegation will go to the Californian if the dirt-farmer governor grows footsore and weary while the dead lock is on in June.

Iowa democrats ditched W. W. Marsh, for many years national committeeman from that state, and elected Clyde L. Herring, a millionaire progressive and the McAdoo leader as the hawkeye representative on the national committee. There was a battle royal betwen the factions, the delegates go uninstructed, the McAdoo leaders claim a majority of the delegation while it is admitted that a powerful and aggressive minority of the delegation favor Governor Al Smith or Senator Oscar W. Underwood.

Wisconsin democrats furnished the surprise of the past week. Governor Smith of New York was entered as an eleventh hour contender for the delegates to the Madison Square Garden convention and the McAdoo men and the Smith men went to the mat for the prize. Smith captured the delegation.

Arizona is a democratic state. Kansas, Iowa and Wisconsin are republican strongholds in presidential years. Like the two Dakotas, they always land in the lap of the Elephant. This year it may be different if Senator Robert M. LaFollette, who is the absolute political boss of seventy-five per cent of the voters of Wisconsin, runs an independent candidate.

WHERE THE WABASH ROLLS.

Senator Samuel M. Ralston of Indiana is sixty-eight. Democrats of Indiana are for him for president and the delegates will go uninstructed but for their senator. This Hoosier statesman who looks like Grover Cleveland, appears to have a mind of his own. He was interviewed the other day and made this very cheerful statement: "I would rather be a live senator than a dead president."

Perhaps he was thinking of poor Warren G. Harding who was elevated from a seat in the senate to the presidential chair and who died broken hearted when he discovered that men he had trusted had betrayed his confidence and that the stories of their wrong doings were about to appear in print. About the easiest job at Washington is that of vice-president and there are democrats who are close to the Indiana senator who insist that if he had the naming of the ticket he would place Mr. Royal S. Copeland of New York at its head and nominate one Samuel M. Ralston for second place. There is plenty of work cut out for the Madison Square Garden convention and the Hoosier democrats are certain to be there when the cutting is done.

PANTOMIME -:- By J. H. Striebel

NOW FOR PITY'S SAKE, TIMOTHY, KEEP YOUR EYES ON THE ROAD AHEAD

The Persistent Lovers

"Ivo's a miserable little worm, and if he dares come near this house again while I'm in it, I'll—I'll punch his head! I loathe him, and I wouldn't marry him for anything in the world. If father thinks he can force me to marry anybody I don't want to marry, he's badly mistaken! I'm not a child to be treated like this, and I'm not going to have Ivo thrown at my head any longer. I love a man, and I'm going to marry him just as soon as I can, and if—"

The duchess was gasping for breath.

"Audrey!"

Audrey swept on.

"And if father doesn't like it, I don't care. I'm 22, and I've got my own income and if he's going to do things like this I'll clear out and live by myself till Dick can marry me."

The dear, gentle old lady remembered other outbursts like this one, violent, like a summer storm. Once Audrey had caught one of the servants drowning a superfluity of kittens.

She had struck him in the face with her small fist, kicked his shins, upset the bucket, grasped the wet and shrieking morsels to her pinafore, and burst into the drawing-room before an amused collection of women to demand that the man should be dismissed then and there.

And this was the same Audrey.

The duchess waited until her daughter's fury was spent. Then, as in the old days, she put her motherly arms round the girl, held her very gently, kissed her, and stroked her beautiful hair until she felt the young body relax.

"Hush, darling!" she whispered. "Hush, my baby. Don't! Try and tell your silly old mother all about it."

The copper hair and the snow-white hair were mixed together. The duchess would have to tidy hers before going down to breakfast. The strong young arms held the old woman tight.

"Oh, mother, it isn't fair!"

It was the anguished cry of a little child. The duchess's eyes were strangely dim. The baby bird had flown back to the nest.

The tragedy of motherhood is that children ever grow up.

Then Audrey telegraphed Dick, and her wire found him, in the depths of discouragement, packing his things and preparing to leave his lodgings.

"Telephone me at once," was her message, and Dick dashed out for a telephone.

"Is this Harborough House?" he asked the servant who answered. "I want to speak to Lady Audrey."

"What name, sir?"

"Oh—ah—say a gentleman speaking for Miss—Miss Gresham."

Dick held the line and waited. Audrey was in her room. She came downstairs on the run and snatched up the receiver.

"Is it you?" she began. "Have you seen the papers?"

"I've seen the Sketch—that's more than enough! There's a picture of you and the man you're engaged to."

"Hideous little beast! I wouldn't touch him with the end of a barge-pole. I'm most frightfully sorry for what I said yesterday. I ought to have been smacked."

"Let's forget all about it," said Dick, "and go on as before. What about this man Jocelyn? Where does he live? I want to go and smash him up."

"Oh, no! You might be dragged off to prison by a policeman. He had nothing to do with it. It was all father. He refused to contradict it, and Ivo's been invited here for Christmas.

"Well, if I smash Ivo up he won't be able to come."

"Everybody has begun to send in congratulations already. Christmas will be impossible. I can't stay here. I won't do it!" Dick gave a sort of laugh. It was more like an oath. "You can help me, Dick."

"How?"

Audrey's voice was a whisper again.

"There's only one thing to do. We must take things into our own hands. You must run away with me. I've packed some things, and I've been waiting for you to ring up. Will you do it, Dick? I can't stay here and have a series of terrible rows. I couldn't bear it. You've no idea how awful it is!"

Run away with her? How could he—without marrying her? There was a long moment's silence.

"Hello!" said Audrey anxiously.

"Hello!" said Dick, his voice suddenly tense with excitement. "Audrey, you're the pluckiest thing that ever happened! We'll do it! We'll show 'em! Where can I meet you. I'm all ready now, this minute."

"Oh, Dick!"

"Look here," said Dick. "Get into a taxi with your bag and drive round to Little James street. I'll be there waiting. Can you do that?"

CHAPTER XIV.

Late that same day a youth rode up to Whiteleaf vicarage and handed Joyce a telegram. She opened it with a feeling of nervousness.

"There's no answer, Jimmy."

The boy touched his forelock, wheeled his machine round, and went off, whistling. Joyce looked at her wrist-watch.

"I must fly!" she said. "I've only just got time to meet them."

Dick was coming home—hurrah!—and Audrey. How perfectly splendid! Joyce dashed into the house wild with excitement.

What would Audrey be like? To be good enough for Dick, she would have to be simply wonderful. Joyce remembered the evening on the top of the hill, when Dick had opened his heart. She must be wonderful to have made him—like that.

How would the two girls get on? That was more difficult. Did a man's fiance like his sister, as a rule? Perhaps, before marriage; but sisters-in-law always quarreled. Well, it took two to make a quarrel, and Joyce wasn't going to start one. If Audrey made Dick happy, she must be a darling.

"I hope to goodness she'll like me!" Joyce said to herself, with two hatpins in her mouth.

* * * * * *

Audrey was a darling—that much was decided five minutes after the two girls met.

The Christmas present she brought to the vicarage was laughter, the greatest of all gifts.

The young people roasted chestnuts, sitting in the flickering firelights. They told horrible ghost stories, and shuddered deliciously when the old clock struck. They played cards and dominoes.

They argued. They formed theories. They righted the world's wrongs and solved its problems, toasting their toes upon the wide hearthstone.

Then while they let the world romp by for a space, and played on the highway, fate was preparing to help two of them to the next mile-stone.

Five letters were written and sent. Audrey's started the ball rolling. It reached Mrs. Wrinkles, mother of the Oxford lad, at whose home Dick had met Audrey. She was in Switzerland.

By return of post two letters crossed the channel. One found its way to the vicarage and was read in the dead of night by two delighted girls in the secrecy of their bedroom.

The other went down to Devonshire and was opened by a silent man, dark and lean of face. For 48 hours it lived with him in his side pocket; then he took it out once more, and, referring to it, addressed a letter to Richard Ardley-Manners, Esq., Whiteleaf.

The fifth letter was sent by Audrey to her mother. All five were like stones flung into pools. The ripples began to spread and widen until at last they reached the bank where stood the thrower.

The first ripple that washed up at Audrey's feet was the reply from Mrs. Wrinkles telling of the existence of the dark, lean man in Devonshire. The second touched the shore on the following morning, when there was a letter on Dick's tray as Joyce took in his early tea.

Shortly afterward a tousled young man in a dressing-room tore along the passage, calling:

"Audrey! Joy! Frightful excitement! Are you respectable?"

"Nothing like it!" cried Audrey. "Don't you dare come near my door!"

"Well, hurry!" said Dick. "The house is on fire and the end of the world is at hand!"

"Respectability is an essential in either of those events," said Joyce. "Save it till breakfast, Dick. We shall be down in 10 minutes."

CHAPTER XV.

Enter Anthony Waring.

When the girls appeared at breakfast Dick read them this astonishing note:

The Old Mill,
Daw's Coombe, Devonshire.

Dear Mr. Ardley-Manners:

Dear Mr. ArdleyETAOINDETAON I.....

Mrs. Winkley Smith has been kind enough to give your address. I have been looking for a man to help me with this fruit and daily farm and she tells me you are looking for such a job. I can pay you a salary of 100 a year, and later discuss a profit-sharing arrangement. If you care to come, telegraph and I will meet you.

Yours sincerely,
ANTHONY WARING

"Profit-sharing arrangements, too! Dear Mrs. Winkles!" exclaimed Audrey. "Think of it, Dick! Devonshire and the sea and that perfect country. No office, no cheap lunches, no horrible landladies—"

So Goes It

By BURNS HEGLER

The fellow who takes life as a joke usually finds that the laugh is on him.

Among those who dislike to see summer come are those who have no summer clothes.

Some men get a lot of satisfaction out of boasting of their weaknesses.

Just what has happened to Magnus Johnson and his candidacy? Has he lost another milking contest?

This is the open season for candidates. It is also the time when many a man who might otherwise be a sane, sensible, sort of a person gets the great urge to get out and sacrifice himself on the altar of politics; to lead his people to victory, and all that sort of bunk.

The rule is that the average candidate talks himself into the thing. After talking it over with the family and a few friends, he can see where mistakes are being made by others and why he is the man of the hour. A little unintentional kidding from a few leaders, who don't care how many there are in the race at the start, and he is on his way.

For example after Governor Davis, of Kansas, had insisted that he receive the endorsement of the democrats of that state, and under pressure, they had endorsed him he wept and said: "Democracy is marching toward its greatest triumph."

As a matter of fact, and we are now dealing in facts without regard to partisan politics, the men who endorsed Davis know that he has no more chance to be president, or to get the nomination than has the proverbial tallow dog in his pursuit of the asbestos cat through the infernal regions.

So why make a monkey out of him? Davis is a good, substantial, God-fearing citizen, but he hasn't brains enough to be president of the United States and his best friends know it.

But this is the way of politics. The same thing is happening in both parties. It's just "the nature of the brute."

A PUZZLE

The drug store man just down the street,
Don't get our trade no more,
Although he's always clean an' neat
An' has a fine new store.
He's always gettin' nice things in,
And it is kinda sad
That he don't keep the medicine
That cures what ails my dad.

When dad an' me was there last year,
He met us with a smile;
And dad he whispered in his ear
For quite a little while.
He grabbed me by the collar then,
An' says: "Come on, let's go,"
For he got awful angry when
The drug store man said "No."

The drug store man a mile away,
Ain't nice or neat or clean;
I seen the gentleman one day,
An' he looked awful mean.
But he keeps medicine in stock
That's good fer folks, I guess,
For when my dad says: "Fix me, doc?"
The drug store man says "Yes!"

You'd think a drug store would prefer
To keep the medicine
That pleased a reg-lar customer,
Like my ole man has been.
I tell you it has got me beat,
To try to figure why
That drug store man just down the street,
Should let good trade go by!

Work

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Miss Margaret Bondfield, the recently appointed parliamentary secretary to the British labor ministry, said the other day:

"I believe every woman should know what it means to have to work for a living. I believe that girls who are workers before their marriage are better qualified as authorities on cost of living details and as household managers than the average girl of the sheltered life. Work lends a woman poise, one of the greatest gifts in the world; one that is essential to the gaining of any disputed right."

Miss Bondfield herein has sung a song that ought to be on every talking machine record in the world.

She has preached a sermon that ought to be amplified and emphasized in every pulpit of the world.

She has set in vibration a message that ought to be sent out by radio through the earth daily.

It is an old gospel, but it seems rather difficult to find anything that is both new and true. All parents should teach it to their children, all teachers should impress it upon their pupils and every grown soul that is looking for salvation should lay it to heart, for in it lies the redemption of the individual, the secret of happiness, the way to health and about every other good and wholesome thing that one can think of.

It is—WORK.

Work means performing some kind of service for our fellows which they are willing to pay for. Anything else that may be called work is ornamental.

And, as Miss Bondfield intimates, regular and responsible work is as necessary for women as it is for men.

The best cure for flappers is work. As a rule those who work do not flap.

The best remedy against vamps is work. For, while it can be done, it is rather difficult to work and vamp at the same time.

The best medicine for dissatisfied wives is work. Probably as many women drift into one corner of the eternal triangle because of having no regular occupation as for any other reason.

That so many women past 50 become restless, soured and dissatisfied is because they have never learned any trade or profession.

And better than having any sort of life insurance money would it be, on the death of her husband, for a woman to have mastered some useful calling.

Of course there are times; there are circumstances; and there are exceptions; but the general rule remains that nature has so constituted all human beings that, unless they are mainly engrossed in some kind of labor and service for their fellowmen, and that service of such a nature that their fellowmen are willing to pay them for it, the chances are strongly against their being healthy, decent and normal.

Faith is good and hope is better and love is best of all; but no one or two of them or all of three of them are of much avail to the man or woman who has not learned the joy of work.

SOILS AND SOIL PHYSICS.

Some Natural Soil Ventilators.

Some time ago we told how burrowing animals and earth worms were of great use in bringing a fresh supply of soils from the depths of the surface, and how earth worms by their work made the soil more pliable and easier to till.

Both burrowing animals and earth worms serve another highly useful purpose through their activities. The holes they make serve as ventilators and allow a freer passage of air from the surface into the soil.

This does not mean of course that a prairie dog town is a desired addition to every irrigated farm—far from it—but it does serve to illustrate the fact that free passage of air into the soil is beneficial regardless of how it is secured.

Another way that nature provides passage ways for air into the soil is through the medium of plant roots. Not live plant roots but the decayed roots of dead plants. Each year the soil on every cultivated farm is full of roots decaying from the crops that have been harvested before. These plant roots decay and leave opening that penetrate far into the earth.

Clay lands and other heavy soils will often crack deeply during a drouth. Often these cracks are many feet deep. On account of the size and depth of such cracks they are often most efficient soil ventilators. They are of course not desirable from the standpoint of retaining the moisture in the soil and are a great nuisance in many ways, but the air taken into the soil through such cracks often results in a decided increase in the amount of plant food available for the next season's crop.

If it was not for these natural means of ventilation many soils would be incapable of sustaining more than a limited amount of plant life.

WHAT TODAY MEANS TO YOU

By MARY BLAKE.
AIRES.

The influences today sharpen the intellect and intuition, make one inventive, creative and original; desirous of change and improvement; fond of romance and adventure. Today is a good day for developing new ideas and methods for business or health.

A child born today will be fairly successful in life, but will always spurn success, if it has to be acquired the price of happiness.

If today is your birthday, you are ambitious but not extraordinarily so, and are not prepared to travel the whole way to reach the goal which you often mark out for yourself. You seem to realize that, ordinarily, success is achieved only at the expense of others, who are less ambitious or less intellectual.

You hate to hurt anybody, either physically or spiritually, and this causes you to halt. You find contentment in the happiness of others, and though endowed with sufficient ability and force of character to achieve great results and to acquire unlimited success, you cannot go "the whole route."

In business, you are moderately successful, but heed too much the feelings and conditions of those by whom you are surrounded, and with whom you are associated.

In your home life, you enjoy ideal happiness, as you are broadminded, and believe absolutely in the "give and take" of life, although you are more disposed to give than take.

You are not, in your reading, a student, and delight in light literature of a sentimental variety.

You are very enthusiastic in sports, not for the sake of winning but for the pleasurable companionship they afford. You are very often more pleased to see your opponent win than you are to win yourself.

"To do no hurt to anyone," is a code of life that, if strictly followed, may not bring worldly fortune, but it will most surely earn the approval of your own conscience, and of the community in general.

Successful people born on this date, are:

David Rittenhouse, astronomer; George W. Greene, author; Walter Harriman, soldier and governor; Howell E. Jackson, jurist; Irving Wiles, artist; Mary Pickford, actress.

How to build up your Weight

TO be under weight often proves low fighting-power in the body. It often means you are minus nerve-power, minus red-cells in your blood, minus health, minus vitality. It is serious to be minus, but the moment you increase the number of your red-blood-cells, you begin to become plus. That's why S. S. S., since 1826, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women, a plus in their strength. Your body fills to the point of power, your flesh becomes firmer, the age lines that come from thinness disappear. You look younger, firmer, happier, and you feel it, too, all over your body. More red-blood-cells! S. S. S. will build them.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Today's Poem

BE TRUE

Thou must be true thyself,
If thou the truth wouldst teach;
The soul must overflow, if thou
Another's soul wouldst reach!
It needs the overflow of heart
To give the lip full speech.

Think truly, and thy thought
Shall the world's famine feed:
Speak truly, and word of thine
Shall be a fruitful seed:
Live truly, and thy life shall be
A great and noble creed.

MANY NOVELTIES IN SUMMER MILLINERY

Very smart little ornaments are being placed at the base of the crown on the front or side of ribbon hats. They are often of rhinestones or marcasite. But a very novel one was of red sealing wax which was monogrammed on the inch-wide moire ribbon band.

Parasols are even opening up with new caprices. The latest one are huge imitations of flowers, formed of crepe de chine or georgette The sunflower of many yellow crepe petals with brown crepe for the center makes a lovely one for wear with the modish yellow frocks or white ones trimmed with yellow.

Another beautiful parasol incorporating the smart yellow touch was in the form of a huge white daisy with yellow crepe for a center.

Veils are popular but not for wear over the face. They are exceedingly decorative in their patterns and trail off the sides of the plain small hats over which they are draped.

When flowers are used for trimming they are usually close to the crown or brim, and either one single or double flower or many small ones massed to form a flat ornament.

One of the smartest of small cloches was formed of black taffeta, with poppies made of the same, posed over each ear. White gros de londres faced the tiny brim.

The smart hat is so simple it becomes a frame with an accent.

One flower, one pin, a stiffened bow or a single spray becomes the only and partial bit of elaboration on tiny cloches, unless they be of draped or pleated silk or are all over embroidered when they are sufficient in themselves.

Little colored leather hats are smart for sport wear. They are pinked along the edge of their rolled brims, and have plain sectional crowns.

RUN-DOWN WEAK, NERVOUS

Benefited by First Bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lancaster, Pa.—"After I was married I became terribly run-down and was weak and nervous. My sister-in-law told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My husband got me a bottle at once, and it did me so much good that I kept on taking it. I began to feel well and strong again and was able to do my housework up to the time my baby was born—a nice fat little girl in the best of health. I surely am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends when they have troubles like mine, and I am perfectly willing for you to use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. FRANK H. GRIMM, 533 Locust Street, Lancaster, Pa.

Women should heed such symptoms as pains, backache, nervousness, a run-down condition and irregularity, as they indicate some form of female trouble. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine for all these troubles. For sale by druggists everywhere.

COLOR CUT-OUT.

Billy Changes His Mind.

"I won't be a dandy and dress up for that old fashion thing," grumbled Billy Cut-out, kicking a rock. "Oh, say," he yelled at Fred and Burt, "where are you going?"

"Down to try on our clothes for the big Style Show," his friends replied. "Too bad you weren't asked."

"Aw, say, don't fool yourself," scoffed Billy. "I was just on my way down there myself. I was asked a long time ago."

Billy decided there was nothing undignified about being in the style show if Fred, who was the school's champion sprinter, and Burt, who could do trapeze stunts, would be there. The outfits which they first tried on were sport togs. Billy's had tan linen trousers with brown stripes, a tan and brown sweater, hose and striped silk cap, fine for keeping his hair slicked down.

"WELL, STRONG- JUST DID FINE"

What a Missouri Lady Who Suffered from Weakness And Nervousness Says About Taking Cardui.

MATTHEWS, Mo.—"Before the birth of my little girl," Mrs. Lena Stancil, of this place, recently stated, "I was so weak in my back and sides I couldn't go about. was too weak to stand up or do any work.

"I felt like my back was coming in two. I lost weight. didn't eat anything much and was so restless I couldn't sleep nights.

"My mother used to take Cardui, so I sent to get it. I was improving after my first bottle. Cardui is certainly a great help for nervousness and weak back. I took six bottles of Cardui and by then I was well and strong, just did fine from then on. Cardui helped me so much."

Many thousands of women have been saved from needless suffering and ill health because they have learned the value of Cardui, either from their mothers, as in the case of Mrs. Stancil, or from experienced women friends and relatives.

Other women, who have had no one to advise them, can find out for themselves what a great help it can be to them in building up and strengthening run-down systems, by simply giving Cardui a fair trial.

At all druggists.

Home-Wrecking Is Always An Inside Job | Dorothy Dix | Lays Blame For Stolen Affections on Lack of Effort

The Efficient Mother Whose Friends and Family Belittle Her Achievements—How to Henpeck a Husband — The Worried Young Wife Whose Husband Is a Loafer.

Dear Miss Dix—I am thirty-eight years old, have perfect health, a good husband and three lovely daughters, one eighteen, one twelve, one six. I do all the sewing for the family, all the washing, cooking and cleaning for them, besides doing an extra wash for an outside party, and I give one day's work a week to the church. Thanks to my husband, I have a liberal allowance, and by being saving I have all the spending money I want. I usually attend two shows a week.

Now, what gets me is that everybody talks about what an easy time I have. My daughter will say, "Mother, if I just have an easy time like you when I am married I will be glad." The church people will say, "Oh, you have such an easy time," and then my husband will chime in about what an easy time I have.

Now, Miss Dix, do you think I am having an easy time, or that I am doing my share of the work or not?

MRS. C. C.

Answer: I think, Mrs. C. C., that you are one of the 100 per cent efficient women, who are an example to all the female sex, and I hope you are not going to ruin it all by self-pity.

You are strong, and healthy, and capable. You have the vigor of body and the intelligence that enables you to do easily and swiftly the work that other women muddle over and wear themselves out trying to do, and you should go about rejoicing in your superiority Don't imagine that your family and friends belittle your achievements when they say that you have an easy time. They are paying you the greatest compliment they can offer you.

A great many women feel that they are persecuted when they have to work, and that we should shed tears of sympathy over their unhappy lot. I do not feel that way about it. I do not feel that a woman has any more right to lead an idle life than a man has. I think none of us has any right to exist unless we do some honest-to-goodness constructive labor, unless we do something that builds up and makes the world a happier and a better place in which to live.

No one does that more than the woman who makes a comfortable home for her family, who cooks them good food, who gives them a clean and orderly place to live in and who makes nice clothes for them. It is the husband and children from the homes that are held together by the work of just such a woman as you, Mrs. C., who are the backbone of civilization.

Don't think that I consider such work easy. It isn't. It is the hardest, the most never-ending in the world, but it is the most important work, and the women who are called to that labor perform the greatest service in the world.

You go about your duties with the brains that make the head wait on the hands. You have learned to systematize your work, and that makes it seem easy to the bunglers. It is a pity that you can't become an efficiency expert and teach some of the women who think that they are having a hard time, muddling through the same tasks that you do, how to make their work easy.

But you are making one mistake, Mrs. C. Any woman who has an 18-year-old daughter should not have to sew for her or work for her. She should have taught the daughter to be her helper.

DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—I have been married six years and have two beautiful children. I would be perfectly happy if my husband would only listen to me. How can I make him do my way?

A. B. C.

Answer: The time-honored way of a wife making her husband listen to her is by nagging. Eve started it in the Garden of Eden when she talked Adam into eating the apple. But consider where it got her, and where it gets every other woman who practices it. The divorce court and pool rooms are full of men who have been nagged into them.

But why do you want to force your husband to do your way? Are you sure that you are so much wiser than he is? Are you certain your way is the best way? Have you made a much greater success of life than he has? Are you sure you could manage the family affairs better than he does?

It is a curious thing that the ones in a family who are determined to rule it never take into consideration their own qualifications as dictator.

Indeed, as a general thing, the one who is the most set on bossing everything and having his or her way is the one with the least sense and judgment. For it is only narrow, stupid, bigoted people who can see only one side of a thing who are determined to force their opinions on every one else.

Believe me, A. B. C., you will not make a happy home by trying to force your husband to do your way, and nagging him because he won't. There is no quicker way to kill love. And before you know it your husband will take up a sullen, resentful attitude toward you. He will come to hate his home because it will mean to him a place of perpetual friction and arguments.

If you want your husband to continue to love you, give him the right to his own opinion and the chance to settle his own problems in his way. There is no other one thing that so endears us to those about us as to grant them personal liberty.

Furthermore, you will be far more able to influence your husband if he knows that you are liberal and reasonable, and are not trying to interfere with him, than you will be if he realizes that you are determined to boss him. That makes him put his back up and determine that he won't be henpecked. DOROTHY DIX.

NEW YORK, April 7.—The big advances of last week were followed by sharp reactions in the cotton market today. May broke to 29.32, a decline of 107 points from the closing quotations of Saturday and 143 points from the high level of Saturday morning. That delivery closed at 29.45 with the general market closing steady at net declines of 126 points on August and 66 to 94 points on other positions.

The opening was easy at a decline of 36 to 44 points in response to relatively easy Liverpool cables and a favorable weather map. After selling about 60 to 80 points net lower the market rallied 20 or 25 points from the lowest on bullish southern spot advices and covering.

Demand failed to broaden, however, and there was renewal of heavy general liquidation during the afternoon when houses with Wall Street and New Orleans connections were particularly active sellers.

July broke to 28.20 and October to 24.75.

The close was within 8 to 12 points on the lowest.

Exports today 13,770, making 4,741,968 so far this season. Port receipts 11,137. U. S. port stocks 598,361.

JUNIOR COLLEGE

school district purchased the high school building, paying a sum of $18,500 for it. With this money, the city was able to secure an adequate water supply and the school district obtained control over the school buildings.

It was found, later, that this charter was not legal. In 1908 a special charter was granted by the legislature of Texas, creating the Independent school district of Wichita Falls. The school district lying just outside the city limits was kept intact by three men, Brown, Sutter and Hickley. The district was known as Shoestring District No. 2.

In 1894 school records were destroyed in a fire, and none of the records before that time were preserved. It is said that the earliest trustees were not interested in the schools, and a novel idea was found whereby the patrons were induced to visit the schools. Announcements were made in the newspapers that on certain days the visitors would be at the schools. The story goes that several of those who were interested in the system, included R. E. Huff, Dr. O. Eastland, W. E. Brothers, Humphries and Kees.

The first bond issue of the independent school district was made August 4, 1890, as a result of an election held for the issuance of $22,500. The vote carried with 121 for and none against, the bonds being issued for the erection of the high school building between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets on Bluff.

Bonds were voted for $6,500 in July 1906 in order that repairs might be made on the high school building, but in September this issue was raised to $8,000, the change becoming necessary through the remodeling of the building.

In 1909, April it was decided to buy one-half block of land on Broad between Eleventh and Twelfth as a site for a new high school, and at the same time the sale of the lot on Tenth and Scott was authorized at a price of not less than $9,000.

In May, 1909, the election for voting $60,000 worth of bonds for a new high school building was held. In April of 1910 an election was held for the voting bonds amounting to $40,000 to erect the San Jacinto and the Alamo school buildings. This was followed in 1913 by an election for the issuance of $50,000 worth of bonds, voted for the purpose of building an addition to the high school and for the construction of the Travis school, and in April 1919, $100,000 worth of bonds were voted for the purchase of sites and erection of buildings. The first addition was made to the Austin school buildings at this time. In May 1920 an election was ordered for the issuance of $300,000 the bonds to be used to additions to the San Jacinto school building and for the erection of other school buildings. The Barwise and the new Washington school buildings, additions to the Sam Houston school, besides the purchase of the site for the junior college were the results of this election.

Records show that bonds for $85,000 carried by a large majority in June, 1921, the money to be used for the Carrigan, Fannin, and addition to the Sam Houston school.

Scholastic enrollment records prior to 1912 when W. W. Brown became secretary of the board are incomplete and the information of the early days begins in 1884 when Mrs. A. H. Carrigan began teaching. There were at that time in Wichita Falls four teachers, and Mrs. Carrigan had 85 of the pupils in her room. She taught for four years, and had 125 pupils in her department.

In 1896 Mr. Jourdan opened school with 319 students; in 1907 there were 906; 1908, 1,132; 1909, 1,110; 1912, 1,883; 1916, 2,962; 1917, 3,437; 1920, 4,312; 1922, 6,504; 1923, more than 7,000.

The evolution of the schools of Wichita Falls are as follows. Miss Seeley married in 1880, and the first public school was organized to teach those children who had been Miss Seely's pupils at her home. A log house was erected, the first Wichita Falls school house, where the Masonic temple now stands. The first teacher in the organized school was Jack Humphries. This young man had run away from home at 15, and had come to Judge Barwise who was one of the early settlers of this section. Later he went to seek his fortunes in the western portions of the state, becoming a rancher.

Second Term.

The second term of public school was taught by a man named McNeese an old man, who kept a tent hotel in addition to his teaching profession. This school boasted 15 pupils and at this time the log school had 12 benches running the entire length of the room. The furnishings of the school room were completed with a blackboard and a stove. This house was used as the public auditorium. Sunday school and other public meetings being held there.

In 1882 a two-room house was constructed at the side of the log house and a man named Kennedy and Miss Nellie O'Donald had charge of the two schools. The following year, a graduate of the Arkansas university, Mr. Cherry, was principal.

In 1884 Mr. Hickey became teacher of the school. It is said that his ability to secure memory work from the pupils was extraordinary. Exhibitions were held at the school in which dozens of theorems and pages of Latin were repeated along with much information concerning history. He is considered one of the most brilliant men who had a part in the early history of the school system.

The conditions of the growing schools were such that it was necessary to have an addition to the house. Because of the crowded conditions, the two-room court house was moved to the site of the school.

The log hut had been removed, and two other rooms were built onto the court house. Of the four rooms, one was used by the fire department. Strange to say, the same bell that called the children into school was the announcer of the fires. It was necessary at this time to have more space, and school was held in the Presbyterian church.

The next principal was Mr. Burks, who beginning in 1886 taught two years. Miss Kate Haynes of this city, began her career as a teacher, substituting under Mr. Burks in the school. Judge Yeager had the school in 1888 and 1889. He was assisted by Misses Philips, Joe Duff, Lois Jenkins and Lulu Barwise.

In 1889 Mr. Gladden and Miss Haynes began to teach regularly. During this administration, the junior high school building was constructed. Mr. Powell was the next principal, and he was followed by Mr. Seigler who went to the Fort Worth Methodist college in 1895. The next principal was G. J. Clark.

In 1896 W. F. Jourdan began his tenth year administration of the Wichita Falls schools in the capacity of principal. The school opened in September, the third Monday, the beginning of the work having been delayed because of the drouth. Cisterns were empty because of the drouth that had existed two years. Water works at this time consisted of an old tub set up in the middle of Eighth street between Ohio and Indiana. The tub did not furnish sufficient water supply and the opening of the schools was held up until rains came. Six teachers started the work, but because of the students enrolled, it was necessary to have two more. There has been a gradual increase in the numbers of students enrolled since that time, according to statistics.

It was under the administrations of Mr. Jourdan that the schools of the city gained affiliation. He began the task of securing recognition from the university, and in 1897 at the request of Mr. Jourdan, Dr. George Taylor Winston, president of the University of Texas, made the first visit of any state official to the Wichita Falls public schools. At the close of the ten years in which Mr. Jourdan was principal here, 18 units of work were recognized by the state university.

From 1906 to 1909 Mr. McNew was superintendent of schools. He increased the salary of the teachers from $40 to $50, to $65, to $85. From 1909 to 1912 Mr. Toland was in charge of the schools. He brought the first supervisors of music and drawing to the Wichita Falls schools. Succeeding him was Mr. Carpenter who remained here until 1915 when Lee Clark became superintendent, serving until 1923. Mr. Clark's administrations were highly successful, and much of the credit of the present system of the schools here belongs to him. The present superintendent of schools is Dr. J. W. Cantwell.

In addition to the ward and high schools, there is in the city a Mexican school and teachers are assisting the Mexican children in learning the English language. Teachers are being trained in certain supervised studies and self-government is one of the features.

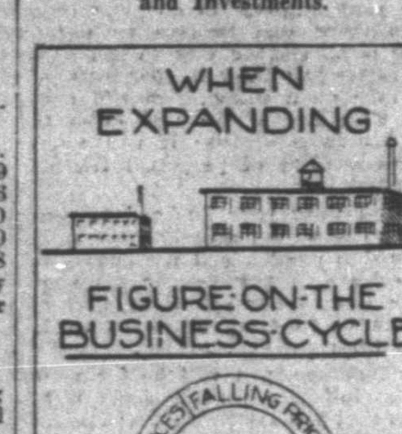

Summer schools and night schools have also been featured in the school system of Wichita Falls.

The school system of Wichita Falls began slightly more than 40 years ago, braving all the difficulties that the pioneers and early establishments must necessarily undergo.

It has survived, grown, developed, until now it is one of the leading cities in Texas in its public school system. The completion of the municipal Junior college which will be formally opened tonight, is a climax which has been reached by those who have labored so long to bring the schools to the rating they now hold. They have seen the struggle and the development of a school system, and with the Junior college, one of the finest in the land, marks a culmination of the years of its growth.

MONEY At Work

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments.

In most cases the profitable time to expand a business is during a depression. Why?

When boom time comes along a business usually has more orders than it can fill. Sometimes that business will start expanding.

Probably by the time it gets its capacity enlarged the beginning of a depression is at hand, and there is no use for the extra space.

Since the expansion was carried on during a period of high prices it was expensive. A loss was incurred by not having the capacity when it was needed, a further loss by having to pay upkeep on the addition after it was too late to be of service.

On the other hand a business which expands wisely during times of depression turns all of these disadvantages into advantages. Labor and material are relatively cheap. The company will have the capacity to fill the increased orders which will come with good times. This means a profit instead of a loss on the investment.

BEAR SALES ARE RENEWED

Baldwin a Principal Target For Attacks

Market Features

Total stock sales 812,200 shares.

Twenty industrials averaged 93.85; net loss .09. High 1924, 101.24; low 92.08. Twenty railroads averaged 85.65; net loss .48. High 1924, 86.32; low 82.74.

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 7.—Renewal of bear selling apparently due to speculative disappointment over delay in publication of the Dawes report, imparted a reactionary trend to today's stock market, net losses in the active issues ranging from one to 3 points. Selling pressure was most effective in the steels, equipments, motors and rubbers, many of which sold at their lowest prices of the year.

Baldwin was one of the principal targets for bear attacks, being hammered down to 114 3-4, a new 1924 low, but rallying later to 115 7-8 where it was off 1 1-8 on the day. Additional new low records were established by Chandler Motors at 45 7-8, Gulf States Steel at 70 3-4, Crucible Steel at 53 1-8, Kelly-Springfield at 14 3-4, U. S. Rubber at 28 and American Agricultural preferred at 18 3-4, but all close above their low prices of the day.

Rails offered stubborn resistance to selling pressure with pronounced strength developing in Norfolk and Western, which touched 131 3-4 and closed slightly below that figure for a net gain of nearly two points.

Selling of the steel shares apparently was influenced by reports of a lessening of activity in the industry. U. S. Steel common closed a point lower at 98 7-8 and losses of one to 2 were recorded by Bethlehem, Republic and Gulf States Steel.

There was nothing in the day's news to account for the renewed selling of the motor shares. Studebaker was hammered down nearly two points to 92 1-4 and losses of a point or more were recorded by Sewart Warner, Mack Truck, Hayes Wheel and Maxwell Motors "A."

Du Pont broke nearly three points on the publication of an unfavorable United States supreme court decision against the company. Other outstanding weak spots were Corn Products, American Radiation, United Fruit, and Tobacco Products, off 1 to nearly 2 points.

Call money opened at 4 1-4 per cent and advanced successively to 4 1-2 five and 5 1-2, where it closed. A firmer undertone was noted in the time money market, but the ruling rates was unchanged at 4 1-2 per cent. Prime and commercial paper was steady at 4 1-2 per cent.

Foreign exchange turned reactionary after a firm opening. Demand sterling advanced about a cent to $4.34 and then fell back to $4.32 3-8. French francs held fairly steady just above 5 3-4 cents. South American exchanges were higher.

COTTONSEED OIL

By The Associated Press.

New York, April 7.—Cottonseed oil was easy, closing prices being within a few points of the bottom and 20 and 30 points for the day. Selling by foreign brokers and liquidation and the slump in cotton and other markets was the main reason for the break.

Sales 16,800 barrels; prime crude 8.75 sales; prime summer yellow spot 10.00; May closed 10.08; July 10.48; September 10.70; October 10.20, all bid.

Factory Growth in Australia.

By The Associated Press.

ADELAIDE, April 7. — During 1923, 176 new factories were built and operated in the province of South Australia. The factories employed 3,524 additional hands, the value of the manufactured products being $15,000,000.

WHEAT PRICE DECLINE SHARP

Saturday Strength Does Not Tide Over

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 7.—Wheat prices underwent a sharp decline today largely as the result of a decline at Liverpool this morning despite strength here on Saturday. Chicago closing quotations were weak, 3-8 to 1 cent net lower. May 1.02 3-8 to 1.02 3-8@1-2, and July 1.03 7-8 to 1.04. Corn finish 1-4 to 1-2 cent down, oats a shade to 1-4 cents off, and provisions varying from unchanged figures to ten cents decline.

Corn and oats sympathized with wheat weakness, but steadied after announcement of a larger visible supply decrease in corn than had been looked for. On the other hand, today's receipts of corn here showed some increase, eastern demand was still slow and field work was said to be making rapid progress.

Provisions had a downward slant, influenced by the course of hogs, grain and cottonseed oil.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK.

CHICAGO, April 7.—Cattle 19,000; 10 to 15 cents higher; top matured steers 12.00; fed steers 8.50@11.00; yearlings 8.25@10.00; most sausage bulls around 5.00; weighty kind upward to 5.25 and above; vealers 10.00@10.75; stockers and feeders 9.00 and above.

If the Wichita Falls Junior college succeeds the torch it bears will be a light for those who believe that equal opportunity for education is the inalienable right of every American boy and girl. No dream of Utopia is more pleasing than that public education should secure full development for all and thus assure leadership and co-operation in our ever unfolding drama of liberty and fraternity for the world.

SPECIAL TRAINS

not be attended to until delegates are actually on the ground.

Private homes of the city have been opened generously for the accommodation of the visitors while the hotels, of course, will be filled to capacity. Assignment of visitors to their stopping places was one of the herculean task of the entire conference but this work went ahead smoothly and steadily yesterday.

A last minute hitch in program plans occured Monday night when it was learned that the opening address, scheduled to have been given by Dr. F. S. Groner of Dallas, would have to be taken over by some other. Dr. Groner sent word that he would be unable to reach the convention in time for the opening session. His successor had not been decided on last night.

The convention session will be opened formally with a song service led by Prof. I. E. Reynolds of Fort Worth. The prayer devotional service led by Dr. T. L. Holcomb of Sherman will follow immediately after Finance Commissioner R. E. Shepherd will welcome the delegates to the city on behalf of the city council and Dr. O. L. Powers pastor of the First Baptist church here will extend the official welcome on behalf of the Wichita Falls Baptists. The program, a full account of which will be found elsewhere in this edition, will then start.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

By The Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, April 7.—The cotton market opened lower and continued weak and reactionary throughout the session, the few rallies developing from time to time being inconsequential. May, after trading at 30.31 near the start, or 33 points down from Saturday's close, traded off rapidly and during the afternoon sold as low as 29.45, or 119 points under the previous close and 169 points down from the highest level reached on the recent advance. July declined from 28.69, reached around the start, to 27.98, or 110 points lower than the previous close. October ranged from 24.60 at the start down to 24.09, or 84 points down from Saturday's close. The close was a little above the lows of the day, showing net losses of 105 to 112 points on old crop months and 72 to 83 points on the new crops.

Reactionary sentiment prevailed in the market from start to finish although there were no sensational developments in the way of general market news. The decline was largely due to the prevailing belief that a sizeable reaction was due after the recent considerable advance amounting to more than 425 points.

The only bullish developments were the continued favorable reports from Manchester where trade is said to be brisk and a reported urgent demand for spots in the south with desirable grades hard to obtain.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

By The Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, April 7.—Cattle trading today was more active and prices were fully steady and in some cases higher, than at last week's close. Receipts were 3,000 head of cattle and 1,500 calves.

Beef steers were steady to 10 cents higher. Other classes of cattle sold freely at rates that were called steady. Quality made a very good average.

South Texas shippers supplied practically all of the beef steers. Most of the good cleared within a range of 6.00 to 6.50, but better steers at 7.00 to 7.65. The calf top was 9.00, the bulk selling at 6.00 to 7.00.

Hardly enough hogs were here to make a test of the market. Prices were called steady, however. Receipts were estimated at 2,500 head, but around 1,100 of these came direct to packers. Order buyers secured most of the run; the best sales ranging around 7.50. Most of the run cleared at a range of 7.25 to 7.50.

Pigs cleared at unchanged rates, the toppy butcher grades making 5.75 to 6.00.

Underwood Rally At Byers Saturday

A big rally which "Underwood for President" supporters are sponsoring is to be held at Byers Saturday afternoon, April 12, according to an announcement made here Saturday. R. E. Taylor, local attorney, is to be the principal speaker of the afternoon.

Other events boosting the candidacy of Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama for the democratic presidential nomination will be included on the program.

A NEW DISCOVERY
Overcomes the biggest difficulties in chick raising.
The medical profession prescribed cod liver oil to cure and prevent rickets which in chicks is leg weakness. The poultry husbandry departments of some of the agricultural colleges including Wisconsin and Illinois have demonstrated that the use of cod liver oil is a preventative of leg weakness in chicks. By including it in Ful-O-Pep Chick Starter by a process which keeps the feed sweet, dry and granular we are placing a complete feed at the service of every poultryman. Leg weakness which so frequently causes disaster to early hatched chicks is practically eliminated where Ful-O-Pep Chick Strater is fed and the birds are properly housed and cared for. Ful-O-Pep Chick Starter solves the greatest problem which the poultryman has. It will grow his chicks more rapidly, with greater safety and economy, bringing out the best that is in them. Tanner's Spudders Welcome Spring Day

REGULARS WALLOP HOOTS AND HODGES FOR TWENTY TALLIES IN TORRID PRACTICE MELEE

Monday was the first real baseball day in weeks.

And Manager Tanner's regulars inaugurated the occasion with a 20 to 2 defeat on the yannigans.

Everybody was working. The skipper saw that no such good time be overlooked, and piled the work on his men. Morning and afternoon saw the hopefuls bending to their toil.

They all looked good. Such hitting and fielding as well has not been seen before at Athletic park this year.

The story is soon told. In the third inning, already two runs to the good, the regular gang hopped on the offerings of Clarence Hoots for a dozen hits. These safe blows ranged all the way from bingles to home runs. Starting with Pete Turgeon, lead-off man, the fun continued clear around and over. Everybody that did not hit was walked. And when it got to Mr. Turgeon again, that new addition to the infield drove out a three-base swat. There were no out. The shortfielder scored for the second time before the side was retired.

Jonnard Big

Bubber Jonnard placed two triples in the same spot out in right center field, and came near running a good catcher down. Other heroes of the apple murder included Martin Calaghan, new outfielder, Cecil Coombs, and others too numerous to name here.

Skipper Gets Lion's Share

In all the mad scramble for extra bases, Buddy Tanner handled the mightiest club of all. With the bases drunk, the doughty Spudder pilot lofted one over left field fence, the only four-ply smack of the fracas.

Hippo Touched

Pitcher Hoots was not the only moundsman suffering in the sudden panic. Hippo Hodges, hitherto big boy of the slinging staff, was reached for the remaining eight runs chalked up. The boy who turned back the Cubs in his innings Saturday, like Hoots, let the Tanner crew get away with overwork at the willow. Hits and runs after the big third were only eclipsed by that long drawn out clubbing bee.

Book Faulconer, working the first part for the regulars, got off without damage from the yannigans. Bob Osborne, another recent addition to this year's roster, followed, and went strong all but one frame.

New First Sacker

A new first baseman of parts appeared in action. It was none other than Howard Fitzgerald, mighty center fielder. The southpaw guardian of the first sack to the right turned in a flawless exhibition the entire contest. He must certainly have gained some knowledge of playing first at school, or somewhere, for his technique was of the best order. Tanner states he is trying out the outfielder at first with a view to finding out how he can play it. If he continues, stated the manager, there will be a job for him there.

Manager Proud

Whether or not Tanner was more proud of the favorable weather or his men is a question. They were a grand combination, Monday. Just a little more of this and the pilot will be able to see where he stands he says.

Turgeon and Callaghan looked winners in the field as well as at the bat. Coombs is still in his stride of the week past, and handled his center field to perfection. White, who was suffering with a wrenched hip during the Cubs series, was once more doing his bit well at second base.

The line-ups are as follows:

Rookies: Doman, shortstop; Locker, first base; Wobido, second base; Freeman, third base; Williams, center field; Cheeves, left field; Fussell, right field; Smith, catcher; Hoots and Hodges, pitchers.

Zeke Smith got off to a good start his first appearance behind the plate. Buck Freeman had two or three chances at third base, and as an infielder looked good as a pitcher. He swung a large bat for his team, however. Cheeves was fair at left field, while Fussell won himself more money in the right garden.

SPUDDERS GIVEN KIWANIS PLEDGE

Opening Day And Full Season Support Promised By Kiwanians

The Spudders were invited out Monday.

And pitcher, catcher, infielder, outfielder, utility and all were found gathered round the festive board with the Kiwanis club at the Kemp.

Welcoming the men, one and all, to Wichita Falls and assuring them more than once and in more ways than one that they were behind them for their best season in the Texas league, was chief program of the luncheon.

President Frank Quiesser told how opening day will be the sign for Kiwanians to turn out, en masse, and stated that a special portion of the grandstand will be ready with seats for at least 250 members of the club.

To the finish, win, lose, or draw, the Kiwanis club will be with Buddy Tanner's baseball club, they said. The special preparations for the first day of the season will only be in the way of a starter, and not to be considered in any sense the whole coming efforts of the club, according to speakers.

Judge H. F. Weldon let it be known in his principle address that the Spudders mean much to Wichita Falls. The speaker, a fan of no mean ability, complimented highly the work of the Wichitans, and gave Skipper Tanner the mighty send-off. In speaking of the doughty pilot, Judge Weldon expressed the belief that he will put across the best entertainment ever seen here on the diamond, because as an entertainer and manager, there is not his peer in the Texas circuit. Judge Weldon urged all Kiwanians to not be backward about letting Manager Tanner and his men know the club is behind the Spudders.

Assurance was given by Secretary J. Will Gray of the Spudders that a section for the accommodations of all Kiwanians will be reserved for the big day, and thanked them for their interest.

For the directors of the Wichita Falls club, Lloyd Weaver thanked the Kiwanians.

Dave Paul did not forget his custom of offering prizes of jewelry to the best batter and the best pitcher on the team at the close of the season. The batter with highest percentage will be given a silver bat, pitcher with most games won a silver ball.

Little Miss Ina Jo Ogle gave two clever readings. Misses Jeanette Prentiss and Bessie Day presented a midget stunt, in costume. Miss Pearl Smith read, by special request, "Betty At the Baseball Game," which received long and loud applause from the Spudder hopefuls. Bob McCulloch was in charge of the program.

Every player batted exactly 1.000 per cet their first road trip here in the knife-and-fork league.

Maywood Arrives To Meet Trammel

Ray Maywood comes here with a job all set and waiting for him. He is from Detroit, and may weather the storm.

The Michigan pugilist arrived yesterday to prepare for his bout with Duke Trammel of Fort Worth here Wednesday night. The two are scheduled for the last of a pair of ten-round finals, on the American Legion boxing card.

As far as actual contact goes, Maywood has had little to do with fighting in this section. A list of his fights show them to have been staged all the way from New York to New Orleans, but none so far in the southwest.

Following are some of Maywood's best fights:

Frankie "Kid" Dugan, lost 8 rounds; Johnny Drummie, Jersey City, draw eight rounds; Jimmy Smith, Memphis, won eight rounds; Billy Brown, Memphis, won eight rounds, at Helner, draw ten rounds, at Arkansas City, draw ten rounds; Billy McCann, Cincinnati, won ten rounds; Eddie Corbet, k-o five rounds; Arasonia Kid, k-o three rounds; Sailor Hennesy, New Orleans, k-o two rounds; Chick Brown, Boston, k-o six rounds; Freddie Brower, New Orleans, k-o three rounds; Sailor Blanque, New Orleans, k-o three rounds; Happy Corbet, New Orleans, k-o five rounds.

According to above, Maywood is himself not so bad in dealing out the sleep punches. He has evidently not had quite the k-o record of Trammel, but has fought over wider territory and probably some good men.

Promotors announced last night some good preliminaries will be added, with a battle royal.

Jack Dalton and Dick Bowers will fight teh first ten-rounder.

German-Polish Visas Now $50

BERLIN, April 7.—Two hundred gold marks, or about $50, is the price Poland charges German citizens for a visa to ented Poland. Now Germany has made a similar charge for Poles desiring to enter Germany.

REYNOLDS TAKEN TO START TERM

Bennie Reynolds, under sentence of two years each on two separate counts charging burglary, was turned over to an agent of the state penitentiary Monday and was taken to Huntsville to begin serving his terms. He has been held in the county jail here since his arrest two weeks ago on the last burglary charge.

He entered a plea of guilty to charges of having burglarized a residence in Burkburnett and was sentenced on this count. He was also under a two-year suspended sentence for burglary of a house in Wichita Falls and this was revived and held against him.

CALL FOR BIDS FOR ELECTION SUPPLIES

Bids for a contract for the erection of voting booths and supplying of ballot boxes for the July primaries were ordered advertised for Monday by the county commissioners court. County Auditor E. P. Walsh will make the advertisements and accept the bids in time to properly arrange for the election.

Inasmuch as the supplies will entail a cost of more than $500 it is necessary that the bids be advertised.

JUNIOR COLLEGE ATHLETICS OPEN

Basket Ball Five First Club Produced; Nine In Making

Wichita Junior College has put out one good team in the big four athletic relm and the second is now in the making.

Due to the many problems arising, and lack of room and equipment, the college did not have any athletics the first year.

The second year is now well towards completion, and although the magnificent new building with best of athletic and gymnasium equipment is ready for the formal opening, basket ball and baseball teams have been formed outside the walls of the institution.

Moore.

Coach "Bootjack" Moore, former Howard Payne four-letter man, has this scholastic year taken charge of the college hopefuls. And although they are not yet in the Texas Junior College association, this is their aim for the near future. From their start, the Wichita athletes will make themselves felt in this circle, before very much time passes.

Last fall there was talk of a football team. Some 14 men were listed and declared to be good material for the first gridiron club. But with the few men, lack of equipment, and because Coach Moore was building the Coyote high school first defense with Coach McCallum, the two gave up the idea.

Came winter, and the close of football season. The Coyotes, under McCallum, started off on a big cage season, while Coach Moore called for basket ball candidates. Between 12 and 15 men answered first roll call, and the Wichita Junior college "Indians" were off on their first trip in athleticdom.

Petrblia, Iowa Park, Landon-Hill (city league), Decatur Baptist college were counted among the victims of the cage Indians. Then, long toward the last of the season, Perrin, Jack county champion eliminated in the district meet drubbed Moore's men severely in an exhibition game at Iowa Park, 30 to 8. Outside of that time, when the Indians allowed themselves to be slipped upon by a smart but not powerful quintet, there were no defeats in their record. Decatur was badly beaten both here and there, the season ending when games with Grubbs and Denton Normal were cancelled. The first and only road trip was, though shortened, a complete success. Then first cage team was of the first water.

First Lettermen.

Those nine men receiving letters on the first team ever put out by Wichita college are: Rawls, (captain), forward; Beck, forward: Ferguson, forward; Haney, center; Parod, guard; Bolin, guard; Kevil, guard; Caskey, center and guard; Friley, guard.

Baseball.

Togged out in the first new uniforms, 14 baseball candidates for the Indians' first nine are in training now. Their first exhibition game to date, a practice affair with the Coyotes, was lop-sided for the latter. Moore has found little time in the past few weeks to work his men into shape, and is finding some difficulty in getting together a good working nucleus. Pitchers look favorable, but the other works are yet in a state of uncertainty.

These men are out for positions as indicated:

Rawls, third base; Caskey, (captain), shortstop; Bailey, second: McLaren, first; Jones, catcher; Keevil, left field; Haney, center; Ellis, right; Daniels, Morris, Naylor, outfield; Dosch, third; Nichols, Friley, pitchers.

Ellis may be used some at second, Nichols in the gardens, McLaren and Haney in the box. Friley, Haney, Jones, McLaren are among those out working hard and showing up for their elected positions.

Games.

Games with Decatur, Grubs, and T. C. U. Pollywogs are tentative, states Moore, and others will probably be arranged.

MATCH PLAY ON IN NORTH, SOUTH GOLF

By The Associated Press.

PINEHURST, N. C., April 7.—Sixteen golfers who today turned in cards of 166 or better for the 36 hole qualifying round, tomorrow will tee off in the match play of the annual north and south amateur golf tournament. Both the first and second rounds will be played tomorrow.

SPORTS OF 1924

The young hero of the 1921 world series is probably the only right-handed pitcher in the major leagues who has shot 8 holes of golf in 32 strokes. Waite Hoyt did this at the New Orleans Country Club in 1922 ,nd even though he took an 8 on the 9th, he scored an 84 for the 18 holes. Hoyt can also boast of playing a shot over a small woods which required a 225-yard carry and only left a 75-yard mashie shot, on a 400-yard dog-leg hole. This was the best shot he ever made and happened at the Bonnie Briar Country club at Larchmont, N. Y. The worst shot Hoyt ever made was executed at Shreveport in 1921. He sliced his drive into a tree ten feet to the right and was forced to play his second shot from a point over 50 yards behind the tree!

Once, playing with Joe Bush in Honolulu where it rains on one fairway and the sun shines on the adjoining one, Waite had finally arrived at the far edge of a green which was on top of a mountain. The well-known Hawaiian wind took his ball before he could putt it, rolled it across the green and 25 yards down the mountain side and into a Ukelele tree. At which his friend Joe, who had scored 1 under par, laughed so hard that he fell into a volcano, thus originating the saying: "A birdie in the hand is worth two in the Bush." COLLECTION SUIT ON IN 89TH COURT

The case of James Brothers vs. Stephen E. Smith, a suit for the collection of approximately $1,000 on notes, is on trial before Judge P. A. Martin of the 89th district court. This is the third time the action has been before the courts, a judgement by default being set aside the first time and a hung jury resulting in the second.

The defendant in combatting the suit recites that an automobile sold him by the plaintiffs and for which the note swere given was not as represented and that hence he was not obligated to make the payments.

One witness was heard in the case Monday afternoon and the trial will be continued Tuesday.

Spudders' War Clubs Bloom, Old and New

There are clubs and clubs, but for downright interest and honest appeal, no other can touch that of a war club.

Chieftains and famed warriors had their war clubs, and some are left on tap for the curious and admiring eyes of the common slow motioned man of today.

But to Wichita Falls baseball fans, take the windows at Landon-Hill Sporting Goods store.

There, row on row, may be seen for the price of gazing, the bludgeon of many famous members and former members of the Spudder tribe.

Powhatan had nothing in heft on some of these sluggers, judging by the size of the bats.

Furthermore, headgear and war paint is included, all the trappings of the Spudder on the warpath, for the new uniforms are ranged alongside. Natural gray, bordered red the neck and down the shirt front, a narrow blue down the pants leg—that's the way they will be dressed when abroad. The headdress is gray, black bill. All around, it is a commendable departure from the war togs of other years.

Those Spudders, ex-Spudders, and hopeful-Spudders to have bats ranged in the windows, with names attached, are: Tanner, Coombs, Fitzgerald, Elliott, Bescher, Summa, Grigsby, Weiss, Jonnard, Adams, Bischoff, White, Kitchens, and Cotter.

The bats were selected and ordered by the Wichita Falls players from the Landon-Hill company, many of them being of quite recent purchase.

Public School System of Wichita Best In Texas

AFFILIATION IS AMONG HIGHEST

Buildings, Teaching Staff, Curricula Are Unexcelled

The public school system of Wichita Falls is considered one of the finest in the state. The city is equipped with twelve modern brick ward buildings, one junior high and one senior high school controlled by a staff of 187 teachers with a monthly payroll of more than $30,000.

The High School.

Dr. J. W. Cantrell, superintendent of schools, is assisted by S. H. Rider, principal of the high school, in the management of that institution. Besides a full course of subjects which prepare the student for college entrance, there is an interesting array of side courses for specialization along the lines of art, music, speaking, cooking, sewing and manual arts. Care is taken in planning the program of a beginner, that he may easily cover his regular work to complete his course, before he is advised to take up the side lines.

Accredited Subjects.

The state department of education accredits the Wichita Falls high school with the following subjects and units:

English	4
Algebra	2
Plane Geometry	1
Solid Geometry	½
Advanced Arithmetic	½
Ancient History	1
Modern History	1
American History	1
English History	1
Civics	½
Economics	½
Latin	4
Spanish	3
French	2
General Science	1
Physiology	½
Botany	1
Physiography	½
Zoology	1
Chemistry	1
Physics	1
Public Speaking	1
Music	2
Bookkeeping	1
Manual Training	1
Mechanical Drawing	½
Domestic Art	2
Domestic Science	1

Students shall bear in mind the distinction between an "accredited" subject and an "acceptable" subject for a particular college.

A report of the students class standing is made at the end of each of the six-week grades and the final examination is given at the end of each of the two terms that comprise the school year. Sixteen units are required for graduation, a unit being a subject requiring a forty-five minute period daily for 36 weeks.

In the freshman year, English, algebra and early European civilization Spanish, French, general science, manual training, mechanical drawing, domestic science, domestic art, public speaking, music and art are elective courses.

English, algebra and modern European civilization are the subjects required of a sophomore, while he may choose from physiography, physiology and the other subjects listed as electives for freshmen except general science.

Juniors are required to take English, plane geometry and American history with the following electives: botany, bookkeeping, chemistry, zoology and the electives in the sophomore list except physiography and physiology.

Seniors are required to take English and three other subjects, including science, if this was not taken in the third year. Electives for the final year are advanced arithmetic, civics, economics, English history, physics, solid geometry and any junior subjects.

The music department of the school under the direction of Miss Winifred Alvis besides a four year course teaching musical appreciation, harmony, theory and history with practical application, sponsors a splendid orchestra and a girls and boys' glee club which besides providing means for ensemble training and experience, gives talented members an opportunity for solo performance.

Miss Valois Compere, head of the art department, has done noteworthy work in building her department. The display of the work done by art students of the high school which was put on exhibition at the Texas-Oklahoma fair aroused much favorable comment from state educators, as well as admiration from Wichita Falls citizens who were unaware of the training being given high school students along artistic lines. The course, as given, develops in all pupils some degree of artistic appreciation, and discovers, encourages and develops through selective and intensive study, those pupils who have enough talent and ability to warrant additional training.

The public speaking department, under the direction of Miss Juanita Kinsey, is perhaps the most active in the special departments of the school. The classes are unusually large, and in the spring, a special class of debaters is formed who receive intensive training for the interscholastic contests. Speaker's club, with an active and enthusiastic membership of over 100 students meets every Wednesday morning with special programs featuring short talks and debates by the members.

Summer School.

A summer course is offered of 18 weeks which begins the week following the close of the school year. The course gives work in the grammar grades from the sixth up, and in the high school, all subjects except languages and sciences.

The arrangement enables students with irregular courses because of extra work or a failure to pass examinations, to make up their work during the summer months and enter a regular classification at the opening of the fall term.

Classes are held only in the morn-

Head of Political Science Department

MISS MAMIE RABORN

Political Science as a course, may soon be established in the curriculum of the Junior college, with the splendid equipment and facilities it offers, if the dream of Miss Mamie Raborn, head of the economics and civics departments of the high school is realized.

The present splendid department in high school which is training 120 of the 140 members of the senior class who are eligible for the course, boasts of an extremely high percentage of students enrolled in this line of study. Ranked as one of the strongest and most successful departments in the high school curriculum, something its history and development is told entertainingly by Kenneth Barker, one of Miss Raborn's students:

"Great oaks from little acorns grow," so spake some long haired poet a long time ago. But according to the present day producers, much depends on who plants the small acorns and who tends the mighty oaks during the time that elapses between the acorn and oak periods.

"Five years ago in Wichita Falls high school, social sciences played a very small part in the curriculum. Of the entire enrollment there were only 33 students who took advantage of a course in United States history and civics combined. The curriculum showed that age old conditions held sway over those of modern times. The situation at that time represented the small acorn from which has evolved the mighty system of social sciences taught in Wichita Falls high school, and which forms a foundation for a similar department in the new Junior college.

"A moving power behind the tiny department of 33 students was Miss Mamie Raborn, a quiet demure little lady, elected by the school board to take charge of this small acorn and to teach European history. She being more interested in the possibilities of the present than the problems of the past took steps to establish a course in United States history in the school. In her mind it was much more important that her high school youngsters know the history of their own nation than that he devot all his time on that of foreign countries. As a result of this view and the characteristic action on her part, one unit of American history was the next year required for graduation.

"This victory inspired her to push economics and civics forward for recognition, until classes were established for students of senior standing only, civics in the fall semester and economics in the spring, each course offering one-half unit credit.

"The courses were very successful and are growing stronger every year. At present over 20 per cent of the seniors are taking economics and nearly as many took civics in the fall.

"The civics course teaches citizenship duties; governmental, federal, state, and local; the work of governmental bodies, workings of elections, duties of public officials, work of the court systems of the country and a general study of municipal charters.

"Papers are given by the students on the various phases of civic work and a visit is made to the court house where the students are able to observe the organs of government and law in action. The jail is studied from the inside as well as the outside. All during the course, good citizenship is stressed, and the practical value derived therefrom by the graduating students is of inestimable value to them.

"The economics course gives the students an insight into business production, consumption, exchange and distribution are each taught in detail. The student learns to understand commercial and industrial organizations and the duties and limitations of competition in business. The elementary fundamentals of banking and the workings of various other social institutions are taught. Visits are made to various Wichita Falls business and industrial concerns to give the students a practical working knowledge of the economic world.

"The acorn has already grown to a sizeable oak, but according to Miss Raborn, its guardian, it must continue to grow. Out at the new building where the finest equipment and advantages for progress and advancement are to be had, the department will grow until it will represent one of the finest mediums for citizenship training for young people in this section of the country.

"With the course of political science which Miss Raborn hopes to establish in the Junior college, the department will be complete, and will grow, we hope, into a giant oak of civic strength and power."

Girls Reserve Club at High School Has Big Unit

As a Girl Reserve I will strive to be:

Gracious in manner,
Impartial in judgment,
Ready for service,
Loyal to friends,
Reaching towards the best,
Earnest in purpose,
Seeing the beautiful,
Eager for knowledge,
Reverent toward God,
Victorious over self,
Ever dependable,
Sincere at all times.

Slogan: "To face life squarely."

Purpose: "To find and give the best."

The Girls' club of the high school under the direction of Miss Juanita Kinseys is a part of the Girl Reserve movement of the Y. W. C. A., and one of the largest and most popular organizations in student life.

Miss Leota Tucker is president, Miss Mary Evans, vice president; Miss Electra D. Reaser, secretary, and Miss Frances Ann Saunders treasurer.

The work of the organization, in its various branches is carried out through the efforts of four smoothly functioning committees who have adopted working slogans, thus: Membership, Donna Mitchum, chairman; Gladys Fay Johnson, vice chairman; slogan, "To retain old members and obtain new;" social, Mary Tancred, chairman; Leah Ford, vice chairman; "To afford the right kind of entertainment at the right time;" service, Evelyn Hardeman, chairman; Dorothy Newman, vice chairman; "To serve every girl in Wichita Falls high school," and program, Nimon Yeager, chairman; Mary Beth Martin, vice chairman; "To instruct as well as entertain."

Attractive and interesting programs are planned by the girls and presented weekly, on Friday afternoon after school. The membership of the club is large, and affords a fine field of talent. Plays, stunts, and talks are features of the after school meetings, while cleverly planned parties and picnics form the most enjoyable of school social affairs during the year.

The Girls' club is a moving factor in the lives of students for the development of an all-around American girl, along the lines of the "blue triangle," mental, moral, and social.

As the school grows and broadens in the new surroundings, Girls' club officials are confident that the club will grow as well, and keep pace with the demands of an active girls' organization in a big modern Junior college building.

ARMY ENLISTMENTS TAKEN FOR YEAR

The local army recruiting station had received instructions from district headquarters at Dallas authorizing enlistments for a period of one year for men who have had no previous military service. There is in accordance with a recent ruling handed down from the attorney general's office to the secretary of war and is effective from the first of April.

All men desiring to enlist for the one year period will be sent to organizations at the nearest army post, Fort Sill, Oklahoma. When all organizations at Fort Sill have been recruited up to strength these one year applicants will then be sent to organizations at Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

For men with previous military service and those who enlist for the three year period many new stations have been opened including the following:

Infantry at Fort Washington, Md., Ft. Logan, Colo., Ft. George Wright, Wash., Ft. Missoula, Mont., Vancouver Barracks, Wash., Ft. Lawton, Wash., Ft. Douglas, Utah.

Field artillery at Ft. Meyer, Vt., Camp Lewis, Wash., Monterey, Calif., Ft. D. A. Russell, Wy.

Men desiring foreign service have a choice of 8 different branches of service in the Philippine department, 4 branches in the Hawaiian department and 4 branches of service in the Panama Canal Zone.

Due to the widespread recruiting campaign being carried on throughout the United States by the war department the strength of the regular army is now 116,000, and there is every indication that the strength authorized by congress of 125,000 men will have been reached by the end of the fiscal year, June 30th.

Appropriate Dress For High School Girls Is Discussed

Mrs. Luther Hoffman Discusses Interesting Subject Before School Girls Recently

"Appropriate Dress for School Girls," was the topic of a splendid talk by Mrs. Luther Hoffman, expert on costume design to the girls of the Junior High school. The talk contained much valuable material for girls who choose their wardrobes, as well as mothers who plan clothes for their school girl daughters. So many requests have been made for the talk by "Memory Book" fans, that at the request of The Record News, Mrs. Hoffman wrote it for publication as follows:

"It gives me great pleasure to talk to you because I love girls—all of them—I have never seen one your age who hadn't something about her to love. You are all beautiful—you ought to be, there in no excuse for your not being, for all youth is beautiful—If you are not beautiful it is your own fault.

"Beauty and style come from within, not from clothes hangers of department stores or shelves of drug stores. The girl who stands well, walks well, takes vigorous outdoor exercises and breathes deeply of pure fresh air will surely be beautiful and stylish in neat, well made clothing of any kind.

"For the last 10 years I have studied, taught and done costume designing. The more I think about clothes the more I realize that clothes are only a means of an end. The right clothes have a great deal to do with efficiency. If your dress is appropriate and becoming, you can do what you are trying to do better.

"If you are to know how to dress, the first thing you must learn is that in order to dress well you must dress inconspicuously. If you have any personality at all, don't drown it in a sea of color and ornament. Have you ever seen Ethel Barrymore? You scarcely remember what she has on you are only conscious that it is what she should have on to show off her personality best.

"The greatest designer in the world is Jean North of Paris. He says one client of his is the best dressed woman in the world and she buys only three gowns each year. She wears each one several years. A beautiful dress is like a great masterpiece of painting. If it is fine and lovely in the beginning, it is as long as it lasts. A conspicuous dress is never lovely after the first few wearings. You tire of a dress like that and so do your friends.

"Then you must learn a few art principles. You will probably learn those in your drawing and design classes here in school. One thing I would like to tell you about costuming is that you must have a center of interest. The face needs the most interesting parts of the dress near it. If you wear flesh colored hose and do not have some decidedly interesting and attractive thing near the face you are likely to have your center of interest at your ankles and become very inartistic.

"Girls who are taught a few art principles will easily see that it is possible to express beauty and good taste whether the pocketbook be very full or nearly empty. You must learn that simplicity is not plainness, stupidity nor poverty, but the very foundation of beauty and refinement. Mrs. Henderson of Perkins-Timberlake says that in the great New York style show this year, all the best looking frocks were extremely simple. So if your dresses are simple this year you will not only be in good taste, but in style. It is not money, but mind which produces good taste. Intelligent selection and discriminating choice are the expression of qualities of the mind. Without these qualities no amount of money will make a costume beautiful.

"A girl should create for herself a standard which is distinctive and characteristic When she has done this the girl of fine taste will avoid all ludicrous expression because her choice is based upon her silent obedience to art principles.

"One of the first and chief things you learn studying costume design is appropriateness. You learn what things to wear at certain ages; you learn what things to put on for certain occasions; you learn how to clothe certain figures. We will talk about the thing high school girls should wear:

"As for color for school—Paul Poiret says the best dressed women he has ever seen are the business women in Wall street.

"We went down to watch them come out of their offices about 5 p. m. They were perfectly groomed—hair, complexion, gloves and shoes immaculate, dark suits with a great deal of style, but very plain, hats of the same type. They were dressed for business. A high school girl has a business—it is going to school, she should dress for it—school girls should wear navy blue, brown, gray and white for winter and good colors of linen and gingham for warmer seasons. If you want loud colors save them for your party dress—but be sure you have the right color for your hair, eyes and complexion. The only way to be sure is to hold the piece of material up next to your face and look into a mirror before you buy it.

"As for church dresses—It is exceedingly bad taste to dress up in gaudy things for church. A person behind you can never get into the spirit of a great sermon if your clothes are clamoring for his attention.

"Frilly elaborate and expensive looking clothes are not for young girls like you, but for debutantes. You will not make your debuts until you are out of college. Beaded dresses are too old for you also.

"Girls figures must be considered in selecting designs. I know a mother of a charming, plump girl who boasts of making a dress for her daughter in an hour. Last winter the poor little round thing spent a miserable three months in a light tan plaid cape which made her look like a barrel, because she is overweight, she needs her clothes fitted carefully, not tightly, and she surely needs inconspicuous colors.

"Help your mother plan your clothes. But do it very tactfully or she may turn the sewing over to you to do for yourself. It would be a fine thing if she did. Now is a splendid time for you to begin doing all your own sewing. Knowing how to sew is the very best aid to being well dressed.

"I do not advocate a strict uniform for high school or college girls, though I taught in a college where it was used very successfully. It does seem to take away the chance for you to develope personality in dress. Then, too, you can't use made-over things.

"Speaking of made-overs, I want you to have more respect for made-overs from now on. Lady Duff Gordon spoke to our class in a black satin gown, which she said was four years old and had been made over twice. Made over things are often very lovely.

"I do advocate for high schools and colleges a general use of less conspicuous colors of better materials and fewer costumes.

"Let's plan together your clothes for one school year.

"You will need five dresses, two winter ones, a wool dress in one piece, a middy suit with an extra blouse. If these are well made of good material, you will not need another change from December 1st until March 1st.

"Then for warmer seasons you will need three wash dresses of linen or gingham. Shrink them before making and be sure you have a fast color. You will not need another dress the entire school year.

"For wraps, one sweater, tan, navy, gray or white; 1 coat, tan or gray with no fur, good fur is too expensive for public school girls and cheap fur is worse than none. One Tam O'Shanter or soft hat to match sweater or coat Simple durable underwear, no silk One exclusive girls' school in New York makes a point of sending girls home if they appear in the morning in transparent blouses, flesh hose, paint or powder too conspicuous or jewelry in too great quantities.

"Some distinguished educator says the bad habit of overdressing for school is far worse in the south than in the east. He said when he attempted to deliver a lecture to a group of high school girls in a southern city he could not get his ideas across for thinking he was talking to a chorus from a musical comedy, they were so painted and bejeweled and gowned.

"Jewelry is decidedly out of place for business or school, except for wrist watches, bar pins, engagement rings, fraternity or school pins. High heels are certainly out of style and I'm glad they are not used for business or school any more.

"Powder and paint are not good taste or good sense for girls of your age. Cleanliness, deep breathing, out of door exercise will make rosleaf skin, shining eyes and lustrous hair.

"Study to make your charm come from within as well as from without.

"I want you girls as an organization and as individuals, to resolve to use better taste and more sense in dressing. Besides the good it will do you, you may be making some splendid sensitive deserving little girl very miserable by flaunting your fine clothes in her face. She may not be able to do her school work for thinking how she'd love to have clothes like yours. Because it will make you finer and because it will give every girl an equal chance. Let's leave off every expensive looking things at school.

"Summing it all up, the best thing and the most important thing to learn about dress is to use better materials, inconspicuous colors, simple designs and fewer clothes. That will give you more time to think of other things."

Workers to Have Stadium.

ELBERFELD, Westphalia, April 7.—A sports stadium for the exclusive use of the ribbon makers and workers in the textile factories of Elberfeld and Barmen is to be erected here. It will be one of the largest in Germany and will accommodate 40,000 spectators.

Other cities in which sports stadiums have been started or are contemplated include Frankfort on the Main, Hamburg, Leipsig, Munich and Stuttgart.

Gathenburg Fair Lost Money.

GOTHENBURG, Sweden, April 7. The Jubilee Exposition, held here last summer to commemorate the three hundredth anniversary of the founding of the city of Gothenburg, which was visited by nearly 4,000,000 persons from all parts of the world, has incurred a deficit of $670,000. The officials of the exposition have petitioned the government for permission to hold a lottery for the purpose of recovering this loss.

FINE ARTS CLUB BIG AT HIGH

Organized in 1921 And Has Grown Steadily

The Fine Arts club of the Wichita Falls high school is a junior auxiliary of the Musicians' club of the city and was organized in 1921, by Miss Genevieve Goff, now Mrs. O. B. Kiel, who was at that time head of the music department of the high school.

The club, which meets every other Wednesday afternoon, is sponsored by Miss Winifred Alvis, present musical director at the high school. Meetings are devoted to programs by the students in music, expression, public speaking, short dramas and work in parliamentary drill, forming an opportunity for the expression and development of the very finest in art, drama, music, and literature for high school students.

As an auxiliary of the Musicians' club, the Fine Arts club is doing its part toward presenting the St. Louis Symphony concert this evening, and giving the concert grand piano to the new Junior college.

Officers of the club are: Shumake Baber, president; Elizabeth Couper, vice-president; Herbert Franklin secretary; Vivian Ross, treasurer.

High Latin Club Meets Are Interesting

The W. F. H. S. "Gens Romana" celebrates its fourth birthday this spring. Organized four years ago it has progressed most rapidly and at present is one of the largest organizations in school. Living up to its motto "Mortuus sed Vivus" (Dead but alive) the Latin club offers some unique and entertaining as well as instructive programs.

In the fall of 1920 a group of Latin students met and organized, Marguerite Fisher being elected president. Among notable things done by the club was the establishment of the custom of an annual Roman banquet at which everyone wears Roman costumes and all the ceremonies of the ancients are repeated according to custom. The next year 1921-22 Joe Bashara presided over club affairs. In 1922 Ray Bland was chosen president for the fall term, and Miss Vaugn Buchanan succeeded him in the spring 1923. For 1923-24 Miss Frances Ann Saunders serves as president. The other officers at present are: Vice-president, Sam Bashara; secretary, Fred Couper, treasurer, Miss Elizabeth Couper; press reporter, Miss Electra D. Reasor, and sponsor, Miss Hilda Masters.

The first year junior and senior high school clubs were together but as the interest grew the next year they were separated and at present the senior high club rolls show about 100 members while the junior high has about 75. The senior high club meets every other Wednesday with always a good program. Pantomines, Roman plays, lectures, slides, orations, debates, Roman songs and Roman games constitute the majority of programs. These are in charge of a committee, which is appointed every six weeks. The club colors are red and green, the flower, red rose and the motto "Mortuus sed Vivus."

Communist Agitation in Egypt Incites Natives to Violence.

By The Associated Press.

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, April 7.—Reports from industrial centers of Egypt indicate that several hundred communist leaders are busy organizing the workers and inciting them to violence. The communists are believed to have entered the country when the British control was withdrawn, and evidently have made considerable headway in spreading propaganda.

The workmen employed at a large cotton oil factory near here forcibly took possession of the premises and held them until Zaghlul Pasha, prime minister, sent a large force to evict them. The factory and others in the neighborhood are under police guard but have not been reopened.

The police seized huge quantities of documents while raiding the premises occupied by the communists following the factory disturbance.

Austria's Wealthy Sought By State Tax Collector.

By The Associated Press.

VIENNA, April 7.—Tax hungry authorities have decided that in some directions they have been to lenient in the past, and that henceforward the man who can afford domestic servants must contribute more generously to the state.

It has, therefore, been ruled that the tax on the employment of more than three domestic servants in the same household be raised tenfold And the wealthy who have in their service more than ten domestics—there are only 60 such households in Austria—will be assessed at even a higher rate of increase. Baron Rothschild employs a total of 47 servants, and for this privilege pays a tax of $14,000.

LET'S BOOST WICHITA FALLS

A GREAT vision inspires the intelligent, forward-looking people of Wichita Falls. It is a vision of the City of tomorrow; a City that will outgrow its present limits, a cleaner, happier city—the pride of every man, woman and child within its hospitable walls.

"Great Oaks From Little Acorns Grow!" Can we not see the greater City that has already risen from humble beginnings? And as it keeps developing, it makes for contentment, prosperity, good citizenship; it affords better education of our children, better home life.

The uppermost thought in the minds of the progressive citizen is a desire to serve.

A realization that as our forefathers handed down to us added development, so should we endeavor to hand down to the future generation, added development.

That as citizens, we owe at least a part of our time to the upbuilding of our city.

That through service, the world may be better off by our having lived in it, and that the advancement of our city is to the benefit of all.

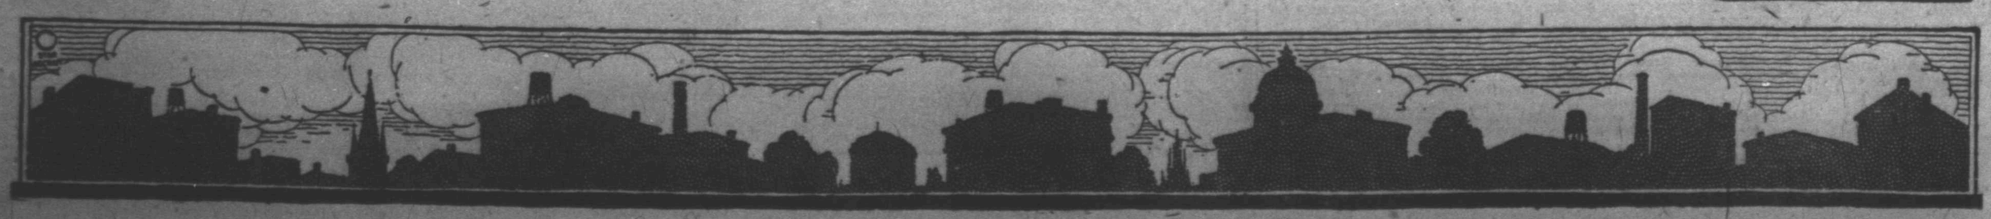

The progressive spirit is not confined to any man or set of men, but is a universal privilege.

Be one of those who are growing up with Wichita Falls; buy real estate; build your own home, furnish it tastefully, make it snug and cheerful. That's the way to become a Wichita Falls booster.

The $1,000,000 Junior College is synonomous of the growth of Wichita Falls, and it shows the true American spirit in the advancement of our educational facilities.

We join those, in all walks of life, who are contributing to the spirit of progress in "The City That Faith Built."

ART DEPARTMENT AND EQUIPMENT ADDED AT JR. COLLEGE TO GROW

Many Phases of Instructive Work of Artcraft Are Taught

By THELMA SCOTT
High School Art Student.

Those who appreciate industrial art in its various forms will be interested to know of the splendid work being done by the art students of the Wichita Falls High school under the tutelage of Miss Valois Compere, through the direction of Miss Jennie Roberson, who is at the head of the department. Work will undoubtedly advance in the new building with the splendid art rooms and equipment it affords.

The art classes lost no time at the beginning of the fall term and began immediately on the problem of lettering. After this was accomplished a step further along this line was taken and motto and bordering was added to the problem. Much of the letter and motto work was used with favorable results at the exhibit of the Texas-Oklahoma fair, which was held here in October.

Construction work was the next point of interest, and this included basketry, engraving and hand decorating of pottery in wax and relief-o. Second prize of $20 which was one of a series of four prizes offered by the Donner School Supply Co. of Fort Worth and other dealers in school supplies, was won by a display of the pottery which was sent to the State Teacher's association in Oklahoma in February.

A bit of excitement was created over the bazaar, which was held by the art department. Numerous pieces of art, such as basketry, enamel work pottery and many other novelties made by the students were on exhibition and were sold for a good price. To help advertise the bazaar, posters in black and white show-card colors were made. This proved a good plan for advertising as well as work and experience for the pupils.

The first semester's work was completed with the Christmas cards printed from linoleum blocks, cut by the pupils.

The second semester was begun with the study of color theory. This proved to be a very interesting study and much was derived from it. To carry out the idea more fully, color charts and color schemes were made. Along with this work design was taken up and the two were studied together.

This led to a step farther and, so the next point of consideration was color posters. These posters were used to advertise local institutions, summer resorts and various business houses, etc.

With the completion of these posters the delightful study of charcoal was begun. The students enjoyed this work immensely and through faithful efforts accomplished a very high grade of work. A series of these charcoal drawings including different forms and types of shading were produced and drew many favorable comments.

Only a short time has passed since word was received from American Medical association in Chicago to the effect that some interesting cash prizes would be offered for the best and succeeding best health advertising posters. These are yet in the making and high hopes are held for the students who have put forth their efforts to bring the prizes to this school. The posters to be sent from here are first to be judged here and then by judges there.

As this work is now going on it will be at a later date that the concluding program will be brought into effect. This will consist of basketry and pottery and probably many other novelties.

All of the splendid work which has been done this year and preceding years, since the initial appearance of Miss Valois Compere has been largely due to her ability to teach art and also her wonderful ability to get the best out of all of her pupils.

WOMEN'S GYM AT JUNIOR COLLEGE

Offers Opportunity For Every Phase Of Athletics

the new Junior college building, perhaps one of the greatest features of all is the gymnasium with the new department it opens up, and the splendid field for girls athletics which will include every girl in school if she cares to study physical training, and receive the benefits of a well equipped gym.

This long-felt need has been relieved to a certain extent by gynasium classes which were started under the auspices of the Business and Professional club of the Y. W. C. A., and to which the high school and junior colleges girls eagerly flocked. The interest they have shown in these classes is a small but accurate index to the interest which will be manifest in the new gymnasium department at the new Junior college.

The gym classes of the Business and Professional Women's club were organized and began work on January 14 this year, under the direction of Frank Creighton, Boy Scout executive. The gym work began at the American Legion hall. It soon became necessary for them to find another meeting place and through the courtesy of Mr. Marvin Smith, they now have headquarters in the big hall over McClurkan's store.

Misses Frances Brooks and Grace Sanderford are responsible for the beginning and organization of the classes.

The five o'clock class of high school girls is instructed in folk dancing by Miss Glenore Fisk, sponsored by Mrs. Iva Austin and Miss Judith Mann, Mr. Creighton teaching calesthenics and floor work.

The matron's class of 28 members meets at 10 o'clock every Monday, sponsored by Mrs. J. M. Bright. Mrs. W. R. Brewer plays for this class.

There is a big class of about 95 business girls which meets at six o'clock followed by games of volley ball at seven. Miss Lucy Huggins furnishes the music for the evening classes.

All members of the classes are enthusiastic over the work and the results already prove that it is very worthwhile. They have plans for tennis and outdoor sports this summer and dreams for a summer camp where they can work and play and grow.

ST. LOUIS SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA PROGRAM TO BE HEARD TONIGHT

The St. Louis Symphony Orchestra which plays here tonight at the Junior college auditorium coming under the local direction of the Wichita Falls Musician's club is one of the oldest symphonic organizations in the country. A most valued treasure in the archives of the society is a well-preserved program of a symphony concert given by forty musicians, known as the St. Louis Philharmonic Society, on October 18, 1860.

Its direct descendant, the present St. Louis Symphony Society, was organized in 1881. The conductor of the organization from 1881 to 1884 was Joseph Otten. From 1895 to 1906 Alfred Ernst was the director. It was in November, 1907, that Max Zach, assistant conductor of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, was engaged as conductor. He remained until his sudden death in February, 1921.

When, in the spring of 1921, the officials of the St. Louis Symphony Society invited Rudolph Ganz to accept the conductorship of the orchestra, Ganz came to St. Louis and found an almost perfect instrument for him to play upon.

Like all other symphony orchestras the St. Louis organization operates at a deficit, amounting to nearly $100,000.00 each year. This deficit is met by popular subscription, the donations ranging in amount from $5.00 to $5,000.

The regular home season of the orchestra comprises sixty-five concerts each winter.

It develops that the St. Louis Symphony 1923-24 season, which closes on March 16—the day before the orchestra leaves for the Spring Festival Tour—has been the greatest in its history. Its expansion and growth under the baton and general direction of Rudolph Ganz, according to the most enlightened critics, has been nothing short of marvelous.

Many new players of marked ability have been taken into the orchestra and its personnel improved in every way. The program arranged by Mr. Ganz, carrying as they do many works new to St. Louis and in some instances new to America, have met with unanimous approval.

Mr. Ganz, himself, has more than justified the judgment of the executive committee of the orchestra in appointing him to the post of conductor—he has developed into a constructive, powerful and magnetic leader.

"Every Community Is Known By Its Utilities and Its Schools"

When a stranger comes to town, all he has to do is to use his eyes and his intelligence to know what kind of a town it is. If he finds modern electric lights, abundant electric power, fine school buildings with a modern school system, he knows that there is a wide-awake, prosperous, progressive community. If he doesn't find these things, no amount of verbal "boosting" is going to convince him that this town is a desirable place in which to live and work and invest his money, for he realizes that a prosperous, growing electric light and power system, and a progressive up-to-date school system means a prosperous, growing community made up of broad minded, progressive citizens.

American public services and American public school systems are the envy of the world, because it is here that the greatest progress has been made in their development. Electric light and power, electric transportation, the telephone and telegraph, in fact, all of the utility services except gas, originated in the minds of inventive Americans trained in the public schools of America. As general public servants, they have become everyday necessities of modern life. They brighten and accelerate all social, commercial and industrial activity.

Your Electric Lighting system and your new Junior College are invaluable assets to your community, and should be regarded as such by every thoughtful citizen. Keep them prosperous and expanding as you would any other business in which you have an interest.

HOYT SPEAKS ON MARTYR'S BLOOD

Catholic Pastor Gives Interesting Dissertation

"The blood of martyrs is the seed of new Christians."—St. Cyprian.

Brethren, behold our beloved Savior today in the midst of His bitterest enemies and persecuters. These fiendish men accuse Him of all the wicked things they can think of. They call Him a Samaritan and they tell Him that He has a devil. Their percersity went so far that they resolve to kill Him. So that in order to escape a premature death it became necessary for him to do what we are told he did in the last lines of today's gospel, "He hid himself and went out of the temple." This explains to you, my friends, why you behold the Cross with Christ veiled today in our churches and with Him on the cross veiled, all the statues of the saints and their pictures are also veiled because when Christ is gone, the source of all sanctity, the saints also disappear.

The treatment Jesus received at the hands of His enemies is a warning for us what we also have to be ready for, and His example teaches us what we must do and how we must act when we too become the targets of the haters of Christ and his kingdom, the church.

There is but one thing for His true and genuine followers to expect and that is that we will have to suffer the same injustice and persecution that He suffered, as He plainly predicted: "If they have persecuted Me, they will also persecute you."—John 15, 21.

Pesecution is one of the marks by which the true church of Christ can be known and there is no other church that stands a near rival of the Catholic church on this score. It is her proud boast that she of all the Christian churches bears the greatest resemblance in this respect to her Divine Founder.

History gives testimony to this and the vile and venom of the present day anti-Catholic lecturers and propagandists is proof that the world has not changed and the words of the Divine Master are still true.

Not to speak of the "bloody persecutions of the early Christians" which were in a way noble in comparison to the later persecutions, because they were open and above board, there have been at all times in her history ex-priests and ex-nuns, who in the pay of enemies of Christ and His church, have vomited their vile and venemous hatred upon their spiritual mother, the church, for filthy lucre's sake.

The first ex-priest who persecuted the church in her very fountain head, was Judas, and he was a gentleman beside his many followers. His greed for the filthy lucre caused him to betray his Lord and Master for 30 pieces of silver, and while this was mean enough it merely hastened the life-giving death of Jesus, and when he saw what the wages of his sin were, the poor fellow despaired and hung himself.

The fall of Judas, like the fall of every ex-priest and ex-nun was engendered in sin, born in sin, lived in sin and ended in sin. Ther never was an ex-priest or an ex-nun who followed the ignoble example of Judas, who fell from the priesthood or sisterhood for noble reasons. The cause of Judas' fall was greed and the fall of every ex-priest and ex-nun of the Judas type, was either greed or immorality or some other sin.

Had there been at the time of Judas an organization that could have made it interesting for Judas instead of giving him the measly sum of 30 silverlings, he might have followed the trade longer and waited a little with his handing, but Judas was not as fortunate as later adventures.

God has no creature that is more contemptible that a Judas-like ex-priest or ex-nun. Like the fall of the angels so is the fall of a priest and of a sister. The higher one stands the deeper he falls.

Now if in the eyes of the enemies of the Catholic church the Catcholic priest is most contemptible, even as long as he leads a clean and moral life, how much more contemptible should the same priest appear to them when that priest has through sin lost his morality and nobility and has become a traitor to his vows and the Master? And yet how inconsistent is the world, as long as they can use this fallen priest or fallen nun to harm the Catholics, they are welcome.

I will ask every fair-minded non-Catholic just one question. What is the source of your information about the Catholics and their church's. Is it from friend or foe? Is the word of an ex-priest or ex-nun whose lungs are full of poison, whose tongue drips with gall; whose lips are bathed in slime and whose heart exults in hatred and revenge, is the word, I say, of such an one dearer and more sacred to you than that of thousands upon thousands of God fearing, unfallen, virtuous priests and sisters and of millions of neighbor-loving, plain, common people?

Do you believe in jury trials? If so give the Catholics a fair trial and hear both sides. With those that are not fair-minded there is no need to argue, for "there is none so blind as he who WILL NOT SEE."

We are going to give a mission or revival here in the fal, possibly by Jesuits, to counteract the campaign of villification, and we invite you now already, every one who is not afraid to enter a Catholic church, to come and see if we also try to build up by tearing down. Come and hear our evangelists and see what type of men they are, if they are the type of Judas or of St. John. I guarantee you that you will not hear one word of abuse or slime.

But let us not lose our heads over this matter. There are two sides to all questions, and it is hard to say if such Judases do us more harm than good. One thing is certain they will not reach their aim any more than Judas did.

God used the sin of Judas to bring about the redemption a little quicker and God now uses these Judases as he always did to serve His own wise purposes, such as to make Catholics better and more careful and to strengthen the faith and fervor of the faithful, to open the eyes of the fair-minded, to give His children a chance to suffer for His sake and to separate the chaff from the wheat.

If men who think themselves Christians could learn to realize that if Christ is worth following, His words must come true. And if so how can they expect to destroy the church which He says will last to the end of time? They can harm the Catholics and make life bitter and hard for them but their church they cannot destroy, for it is of God.

For God's sake, people, let us have peace and let us try to understand each other better. God is love and the followers of Jesus will be known by this "that they love one another."

Methodists to Meet in May.

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 7.—The General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church is to be held at Springfield, Mass., throughout the month of May. Approximately 850 delegates from all parts of the United States and from 44 nations and territories abroad will attend. The gathering will be representative of the 4,774,520 members of the Methodist Episcopal church around the world, and is the law making body of the denomination.

Among the important matters to be discussed is the question of unification with the Methodist Episcopal church, south; the status of the episcopacy of the denomination, and the reorganization of all existing benevolent boards.

Official Executioner Suicide Left Comfortable Fortune.

By The Associated Press.

BRESLAU, April 7—Paul Spaethe, the executioner who recently shot himself in this city, left a considerable estate and attracted attention to the excellent pay which executioners get. Before the war 500 marks, or $125, and traveling expenses was the fee paid for each execution, and it has now returned to about the same amount.

Spaethe had guillotined 45 persons. That was emphasized by his lighting 45 candles, one to each of his victims, before he shot himself. He invested his earnings in a restaurant and in real estate which enhanced in value, so his heirs are well provided for.

A century ago the executioners in Europe were a much higher class of men than at present. They were required to be educated in surgery, and practiced medicine. They were state officials and received a fixed salary.

Hoboes Now Avoid New York.

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 7.—The hobo is becoming extinct along the sidewalks of New York. A check-up by welfare societies of the "flop houses" on the Bowery and other favorite haunts of the genus bears out the statement.

The Hobo College, famed as an East Side hostelry for those of the roving nature, is still open to the public, but its registry cannot boast the records it used to.

Reasons advanced for the growing scarcity of the tramp are that he can no longer successfully meet both the demands of his conscience and those of New York employers.

Music Teachers of Country to Forgather at Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, April 7.—Three thousand music teachers in the public schools of the nation will themselves go to music school here during the annual meeting of the Music Supervisors National Conference, April 7-11. Leading authorities on vocal and instrumental music are on the program.

Among the features will be a chorus composed of 500 singing teachers and a symphony orchestra of 70 pieces, each member of which is a musical director.

As two-thirds of the teachers are young persons, a dance has been arranged for their especial benefit. They will dance the fox trot, but there will be no jazz on the program. They say they are not opposed to syncopated time, but do object to the "unearthly din," produced under the name of "jazz." Every state will be represented by the visitors.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS

ings from 8:30 to 12 o'clock, and no student is allowed to take over three subjects.

Night School.

Night classes under the direction of A. K. Presson, principal, meet three times a week at the high school offering courses in shorthand, typewriting, bookkeeping, Spanish, Americanization and English.

A fee of $2.50 is collected the first night a student attends and this is refunded at the end of the terms if the student has attended his classes at least nine-tenths of the time.

The attendance is made up mostly of working people who were forced to stop their education from necessity and are desirous of taking advantage of the opportunity of improving their general knowledge, or taking special training along business lines. No one attending day school is allowed to attend the night classes.

The salaries of the teachers for the night school are kept up by various clubs of the city, including the Masonic lodge, the Wichita club, Kiwanis club, University club, the Lions club and the Federated Teachers' associations of the city schools.

Elementary Grades.

Work in the elementary grades is very ably handled by a splendidly organized corps of teachers who, through monthly "grade meetings" are able to keep the work of the various grades over the city very closely correlated and evenly distributed throughout the term.

The principals of the schools meet periodically with Superintendent J. W. Cantwell, and thus keep school methods running smoothly and progressively.

Reading is taught through all grades, the studies being selected from a wide list of carefully prepared material including some of the finest of literature and poetry.

Spelling is taught according to state standards with supplementary work in preparation for intrescholastic and interstate contests.

No books are used by pupils below the third grade in the study of the English language, but the little pupils are taught to talk easily and naturally about common things, to think constructively about what they say and how they say it, to eliminate common errors and to write their thoughts in good form.

Oral and written English and composition work are taught students in the higher grades.

Local geography is taught tiny children in the first two grades, as school officials state that the child's ability to understand and draw on his imagination in the later studies of geography of foreign countries will be strengthened if he gains an intelligent grasp of his local environment. The children study physical features, climate, soil, crops, food, clothing, transportation, manufacture, schools, churches, municipal buildings, city and county officials, with a free use of practical illustrative material. Pupils in the higher grades study the geography of the world.

Text books are used for the study of arithmetic after the second grade, but until the child reaches the second grade, he is taught his numbers by means of stories, pictures and games.

Physiology and hygiene are taught in the fourth and fifth grades, though stress on good health, proper posture, good food and correct clothing is given in all grades. Physical training is given periodically by the teachers of the various rooms. Plays and games are promoted and encouraged by the teachers of the playground.

History is begun in the low fifth with "Beginners History of our Country." High fifth classes study "A School History of Texas," while high sixth, low sixth and low seventh pupils study United States history. A special course in civics is given pupils in the high seventh grade.

Nature study is given first and second grade pupils, with weekly excursions when the weather permits. Trees, shrubs, flowers, grasses, domestic animals, birds, insects, rocks, water, clouds and wind are used as lesson material.

Art, music and writing are very important phases of grammar school training and are directed by special supervisors who control the work in all the schools of the city.

Miss Henrietta Pyle, supervisor of music, besides directing a course of fundamental music in the grades, devotes the greater part of her time to the managing of the music memory contest which has proven one of the greatest factors in artistic development in the whole school system. Selections are taught the children so that they may identify them perfectly upon hearing them. They are taught the composers and origin of the selection and must be able to spell and punctuate perfectly upon written examination. A series of contests are held until the most perfect pupil in the city schools is found. The winner, with substitutes, goes to Iowa Park to try for district championship, and if successful, goes to Austin with expenses paid to try for state honors. This contest receives more interest and attention from the students, their parents, the artists of the city and the townspeople, than any other scholastic contest, and because of the rigidity of the regulations and the splendid standard of the work achieved by the pupils, receives high praise from musical authorities.

Miss Dixie Crabtree, supervisor of writing, after a thorough course of study as to proper form, ease in writing and naturalness of individual style, according to regulation, gives tests periodically for speed, form and accuracy, awarding certificates of merit to pupils whose work comes up to standard.

Miss Jennie Robertson, art supervisor, directs the teaching of drawing, painting, various types of handicraft and art appreciation in the schools. A display of the work done by the children is exhibiting annually at the Texas-Oklahoma fair, in competition with work done by other schools of the county. Holidays and various seasons of the year are taken into account in the making of art work, and many lovely Christmas gifts and greetings are made by the children.

Boards of Trustees.

The board of trustees of the public schools is headed by W. B. Chauncey, president, and includes E. S. Goodner, vice-president, W. R. Ferguson, Mrs. M. M. Adickes, C. H. Clark, Mrs. L. R. Buchanan, W. Daniels; J. W. Cantwell, superintendent of schools; W. W. Brown, secretary and business manager.

SPEAKERS CLUB SHOWS GROWTH

One of Oldest School Organizations One Of Best

The Speaker's club, one of the lighest and most active organizations in the old high school promises to be the most progressive and successful in the new institution, where the splendid advantages of a lecture room with a stage, provided especially for the public speaking department and the huge auditorium with its magnificent stage and seating capacity could not help but inspire interest and untiring effort in such a club.

The club which is the official organization of the public speaking department has grown from a small group of twelve, organized by Miss Juanita Kinsey in 1919, to a club of more than one hundred members. The purpose of the organization is to foster in the school a better knowledge of the best methods of speaking in public and to offer training and opportunities for all students who wish to improve in all phases of oral English.

Under the five presidents the club has had it has prospered greatly. They are Abe Bashara, Ebon Keith, Edward Kadane, Joe Bashara and Kenneth Barker. The present officers are president, Kenneth Barker; vice president, Sam Bashara; secretary, Donna Mitcham; treasurer, Shumake Baber; Miss Juanita Kinsey, sponsor.

It is worthy of note that almost all members of the Speakers club are prominent in all school activities.

In almost every instance winners in public speaking contests have been Speakers' club members. In 1920 Ella Merle Mathis and Pierce Langford were winners in senior declamation contest. Miss Mathis winning first place in the district meet and representing Wichita Falls High school at the state contests. Dorothy Reed won the district contest in junior girls declamation and took second honors at state. Mortimer Clopton won through local and district contests in extempore speaking and caried off third place in the final contest at Austin. Temple Shell and Frank Patton, and Sam Bashara, junior boy declaimer, won in district debate and declamation and spoke at Austin. In 1921 the high school was represented in the district by Marguerite Fisher, senior, and Mortimer Clopton, debaters. ers, Dorothy Reed and Sam Bashara, junior declaimers, and Gwendolyn Walters, Etta Maddrey, Joe Bashara and Mortimer Clopton, debaters, Misses Fisher, Maddrey and Walters and Sam Bashara all reaching the state contest at Austin where Wichita Falls High school won first place in girls' debate and third in senior girls' declamation.

In 1922, the representatives to the district were Louise Scott, senior declaimer, Ray Blond and Fred Couper, junior and senior declaimers; and debaters, Stella Winters, Frances Jones, Joe Bashara and Mortimer Clopton At the state meet Louise Scott won third place, Fred Couper, first place, and Stella Winters and Frances Jones, second place.

Last year the representatives were: senior declamation, Louise Scott, who won first in local, district and state: Marjorie Woolsey and Stella Winters, debaters, first place, local, district and state and Roy Blond, who won in local and district meets.

This year's speakers who have won local interscholastic league contests and will speak in the district contests at Iowa Park April 18 are;

Senior declamation: Janette Scott and Lindel Stone; debaters, Dorothy Reed and Katherine Martin, Lemuel Peters and Edward Smith, with the junior ward school) speakers, Merle Trigg and Harrold Simmons.

The next contest to be fostered by the public speaking department is the J. Wilke Talbot extempore speaking contest.

Four years ago Mr. Talbot set aside a certain sum of money and made it a permanent fund for such contracts. The first one was held in 1921 and won by Mortimer Clopton who is now a very prominent student in California university. The contest in 1922 was won by Joe Bashara, who has made an enviable record in State university this year. The medal of 1923 was won by Donald Hallman, who also is now a student in Texas university and has recently won an essay prize. The contest for this year will be held soon after the move into the new building.

Take Federal Prisoners To U. S. Prisons

Six federal prisoners now held in the Wichita county jail with various penitentiary sentences hanging over them are to be taken tonight to the United States prisons. Orders to this effect were received Monday by Deputy United States Marshal John Saye who, with W. E. McKee and Mrs. Saye will leave tonight with the prisoners in custody.

Two women are to be taken to the federal penitentiary for women at Caldwell, N. J., while the others are to go to Leavenworth, Kan.

Start Equalization Of Taxes on May 13

Equalizing of all county taxes will be started May 13, it was announced Monday by County Tax Assessor Irvan Deaton who stated that the county commissioners court would convene as a board of equalization on that date.

The task of reviewing all assessments as presented by the assessor, listening to complaints from property owners who are dissatisfied with the renditions and making adjustments where they seem necessary is one that confronts the commissioners each year.

Mr. Deaton stated that he would be ready for the board on the above named date.

MILADY'S CLOTHES RIVAL THE FLOWERS OF SPRING

By MME. LISBETH.

That "youth will be served" is bountifully illustrated in the clothes shown in today's picture. And, with the exception of the hat, they rival the bright spring blossoms in their gay colors. The hat, shown in the insert at the left, is a welcome relief from the all-prevailing cloche and would undoubtedly be very becoming to the young girl or matron.

It is made of crimped black moire ribbon and I am not sure which it more closely resembles—an Indian's headdress of feathers or a crown. You may make your own choice, but you must admit that it is attractive. A long bar pin of cut steel and rhinestones makes a sparkling splash against the black.

Taking into consideration the approaching junior prom at college, the numerous dances that will be the order of the day when the Lenten season is over, etc. etc., it seems a highly propitious time to show this very dainty evening frock with posies scattered over it from neck to hem. It is made of white chiffon over a flesh tint, and the flowers are in pastel shades of white, blues, pinks and greens.

Another little suit that fairly shouts "'tis spring," is shown on the right. It also employs white as a groundwork and it has interwoven bands of green placed horizontally in the blouse and jacket and vertically in the skirt. The material is a silk and wool crepe. Bandings and buttons, also of green, edge sleeves, jacket and sash and make the collar. Of course a white and green sports hat is worn with this youthful suit.

JR. COLLEGE BOARD MEMBERS ARE OPTIMISTIC AS TO FUTURE OF WICHITA'S NEW INSTITUTION

The following comments from chairmen and some of the members of the junior college board of education were made for The Record News Monday regarding the opening today of the junior college:

W. B. Chauncey, chairman of the board of trustees of the junior college.

"That which makes the Junior college such a valuable institution to Wichita Falls is that it makes it possible for poor boys and girls of the district to obtain two years of college courses free. If it were not for this many would not get college work at all. Not only that, I think, but girls and boys just passing out of high school need home influence in their freshmen and sophomore years.

"Dr. Nutt of the Chicago university who was in this city about two years ago stated that the boys and girls who go away to college do not come into contact with the best teachers until their junior year. We have secured for Wichita Falls Junior college the very best teachers over the country, coming from various colleges and universities.

"In a very short time, I believe, the universities over the country will not be doing first and second year work. Junior colleges and church colleges, with municipal colleges such as we have here will take care of the first two years of college traning.

"I believe that state aid will be given to the junior colleges, because they are taking much of the expense from the state.

"We are proud of the Junior college here, and doubly proud because every one has had a part in building this wonderful structure."

E. S. Goodner, vice chairman of the board.

"The greatest thing in Wichita Falls among the other great things is the municipal Junior college. The people of the city are proud of this, but they have not yet realized that we have an institution here with equipment that surpasses other colleges in the state.

"The laboratories are especially good, equipped with the most modern furniture, adequate supplies, all sorts and kinds of instruments, making it able to meet the requirements of the junior college standard.

"Wichita Falls is given a distinction never had before because of the junior college. The city is not one for commercial purposes alone, but the citizens are builders, looking forward to the needs of the children.

"Encouragement and inspiration have been furnished the school board because of the co-operation of Wichita Falls citizens and their interest in the public schools. They have shown their interest in many ways, especially on the wonderful gifts they have made voluntarily to the junior college."

Mrs. L. R. Buchanan, member of the board.

"By the establishment of a junior college, Wichita Falls enoys the distinction of being a pioneer in this forward looking educational movement. In the not distant future I believe the junior college plan will be adopted by our leading schools not only in this state but other states as well. Our junior college will mean that at least 50 per cent more of our boys and girls of the surrounding counties will be able to secure a college education.

"In Massachusetts the junior colleges receive state aid to the extent that 90 per cent of the expense incurred is met by the state. The state also pays 50 per cent of all building programs of the junior colleges.

"We feel sure that state aid will be coming our own way ere long.

"Our junior college has passed the experimental stage. The interest of our citizenship in this institution justifies us in expressing this opinion. We feel that Wichita Falls Junior college is our city's greatest monument."

AYNESWORTH TO ADDRESS CLUB

"Interesting Early History of Northeast Texas," will be the subject of an address to be given by J. H. Aynesworth at the regular weekly meeting of the University club which will hold luncheon at the Kemp botel today at 12 o'clock.

Special features of the meeting will be music furnished by Miss Josephine Fisk and a reading by Miss Ella Merle Mathis. The club will be led in singing by the Rev. Leslie Miller. All members are urged to attend the luncheon.

Camp Fire Girls Play Important Part In Life of New Junior College Here

The organization of the Camp Fire Girls, though not sponsored officially by the high school and junior college, claims many of their members and forms a big interest in school life of the city. Over 200 school girls in Wichita Falls are Camp Fire girls and are very active in the work of the movement which is headed locally by Miss Glenore Fisk, city executive.

Members who are in the high school or junior college are mostly girls of the second rank, that of Fire Maker, though some who have newly joined are Woodgatherers, the first rank, and are working for the requirements for advancement.

Wichita Falls has 12 Torchbearers, irls who have been awarded the ceptional merit along lines of leadership or talent. This rank, which only two out of one hundred girls ever attain, may be taken only by girls over fifteen, and the standard is kept very high. With exception, every Torchbearer in this city is in active leadership, either as a Blue Bird leader or Assistant Guardian. The majority qualified by their service as councillors at summer camp, 1923.

The most unusual and outstanding qualification was made by Margaret Akin, Shuinala Torchbearer, who was given her rank last fall for keeping the Camp Fire health chart for twelve consecutive months. Very few girls in the United States have done this, and such a distinction gives Wichita Falls national significance in larger Camp Fire circles. The symbol that Margaret now wears on her ceremonial dress means that she did not burden her stomach with candy, chewing gum or ice cream sodas between regular meals, that she took cold baths and slept with her windows open and walked two and three miles a day. en other words, she did the things that healthy girls should do and don't. She is a living example of the Camp Fire ideal of health as a result. She is the leader of Cida Nest of Blue Birds.

Ruth Frank, who graduated from high school at mid-year with very high honors, was recently made chairman of the Blue Bird committee of the Guardians' association, which places all Blue Bird activity in this district under her direction. A new and satisfactory system of ceremonial dress and honor has been worked out for the tiny tots under her supervision, and will be sent to national headquarters for approval. There are 75 Blue Birds working for the little rose-colored honors she is making for them. Miss Frank took her rank at camp, 1923, as councillor, and is now the leader of Kupapon Nest, being ably assisted by Edna Skaggs, a Wendat Torchbearer, who has also made a record for herself in leadership.

A Camp Fire Family

The J. R. Bachman family is unusual in that every member belongs to Camp Fire and has each attained the highest possible rank. Mrs. Bachman, is guardian of Wagito, her older daughter, Zona, is her assistant, and the younger, Juanita, is leader of Nuwalax Nest. All three are leadership Torchbearers. The fourth member of the family, Mr. Bachman, has received an honor accorded to only three men in the city—honorary membership, with Camp Fire name. It is Nnuda and means "the father who loves us even as we love him." He is known as "dad" to every Camp Fire girl. E. C. Huckabee and L. M. Cregor are the other two honorary members. Mr. Huckabee originally promoted the Camp Fire program as the week day activity of the Sunday school work of the First M. E. church, of which he is religious educational director, and has been the chief sponsor of the movement in this city ever since. Mr. Cregor was the president of the first local council.

Miss Bulah Gardiner of Shuinala, after taking her leadership rank as councillor, is continuing her work as assistant guardian of Idaka.

Therressa Kauffman of Wendat, leader of Litahni Nest, and Nell Warman of Shuinala, leader of Neisatami Nest, are both leadership Torchbearers and have made for themselves records of steadiness nd responsibility.

Ruth Downing, guardian of Akiyuha, was one of the first group of Sunday school teachers who trained for guardianship two years ago. Her never-failing cheerfulness and willingness has won for her the name "Delight-to-the-eye" at summer camp. She became a Torchbearer in the spring of 1923.

The two remaining Torchbearers are Miss Josephine Fisk, guardian of Idaka, president of the guardians' association, and Miss Glenore Fisk, guardian of Shuinala and Camp Fire executive. Miss Josephine has her rank as a leader and musician, and Miss Glenore as leader, musician and housekeeper. These sisters are unusually talented, and the success of the organization in the city as well as the summer camps is due in a large extent to their ability and thorough knowledge of the work. Miss Glenore, after starting organization in Wichita Falls and directing the first summer camp, went to southern Methodist university for a year where she taught a training course for Camp Fire guardians in connection with the physical education department. Upon her return, she assumed active work, and became executive of the city in November. Her wide experience before coming to Wichita Falls and her successful work here have made her a valuable community asset. She is known as one of the best directors of girls camps in the southwest.

The training course conducted during the month of February was an important step in the local history of Camp Fire. Thirty-six women and girls received instruction, of which twenty-nine earned certificates. 20 hours of work, with valuable extra-curricular activities including an overnight hike comprised the course. Five new Camp Fire and two Blue Bird groups were organized in the city as a result.

Field work is an important item in the work of the executive office. The Wichita Falls office has to its credit the fostering of the work in Iowa Park and Newtown, near Burkburnett. Iowa Park has applied for admission to the Wichita Falls guardians' association and will probably become a member before summer. After two trips to Newtown, the first by the executive alone, the second assisted by a demonstration team of Torchbearers, word has been received that two Camp Fires are being organized, with urgent need for another group. Newtown has asked for a week end training course in April.

All possible assistance is given by the local organization to communities wishing to start Camp Fire work.

INGROWN TOE NAIL TURNS OUT ITSELF

A noted authority says that a few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender,sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.

"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.—Adv.

WAGGONER CASE IN U. S. COURT

Suit Against Baylor Count Is Opened By Judge Atwell

First evidence in the case of the W. T. Waggoner estate and others against the county judge and commissioners court of Baylor county was heard Tuesday afternoon by Judge William H. Atwell in federal court here. Tax valuation alleged to have been discriminatory and which were assessed by the commissioners on Waggoner land in Baylor county is the basis of the suit.

The court overruled a motion Monday morning asking that the suit be dismissed on grounds that no constitutional rights were infringed on. It is expected that trial of the case will require at least three days.

The entire case hinges around tax valuations on land to be affected by the Wichita irrigation project.

Migration of Butterflies

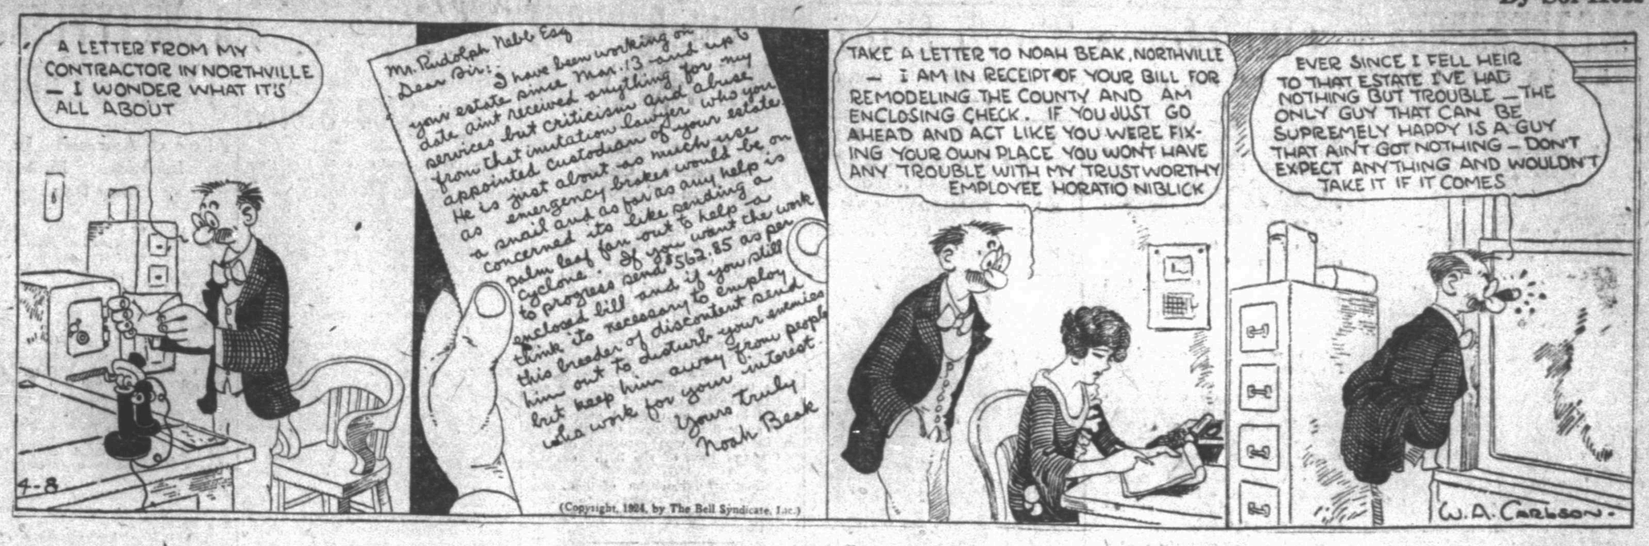

LOS ANGELES, April 7.—Huge swarms of butterflies, commonly known as "Painted Ladies," have been migrating from Lower California, Mexico to southern California. The movement lasted about two weeks and reached as far north as Los Angeles, 175 miles from the border. The butterflies traveled in dense clouds, and the radiators of many automobiles were plastered with the vari-colored wings.

In 1901 there was a similar northward migration.

ART TREASURES AT JR. COLLEGE

Many Gifts Have Been Awarded By Citizens

Exhibition of masterpieces of art in Art hall on the third floor of the Junior college will be one of the features of the formal opening of the college this afternoon and evening. Through the efforts of the art committee of which Mrs. W. W. Silk is chairman, many beautiful pictures by famous painters have been secured for the exhibit. Among them are three or four oil paintings, among them works by Bogart and Weigand; water color paintings by A. Vincent, S. R. Wright, George Gay, Van Vreeland, and others; fascimiles of oil paintings are exhibited without glass with a remarkably realistic effect; hand colored prints by a Boston firm, and excellent reproduction by a western firm.

While the new college was in the process of building, the question of interior and exterior decorations was brought up. A committee was appointed to see about gifts of statuary, paintings and other decorations for the building.

The citizens of Wichita Falls have met the requests with unusual donations, giving statuary, paintings and many other articles of beauty which will add to the decorative scheme of the college.

Among those who have contributed largely to the decorations of the interior of the Junior college are;

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Priddy, contributed $2,500 for paintings and statuary to be selected.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Curlee gave Rockwood fountain for the inner court of the college.

The Players' club has given a statue of Urania, the muse of astronomy, and plans to match the statue with a companion piece on the other side of the stage.

Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Johnson will furnish the decorations for the proscenium, the decision of the selection to be made later.

Mr. and Mrs. Saul Lebenson will attend the decorations between the lower and upper double windows on each side of the stage.

Nathaline and Helen Sylvia Lebenson, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Lebenson, have given a painting of Abraham Lincoln.

Mrs. S. H. Burnside, loan gift of Indian relics for museum and a Remington print.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Bullington, loan gift of Barati's Franklin at the Court of Louis XVI.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Killingsworth, loan gift of Rockwood pottery exhibit for art hall.

University club, mural decorations for library.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Davidson, "The Parthenon," painting.

Judge and Mrs. B. D. Sartin, bust of Shakespeare.

Board of educations, urns.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richardson, bust of Woodrow Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bland, "The First Lesson," painting.

Judge and Mrs. M. N. Bouner, bust of Judge Marshall.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wilson, Peyton copy, "Drifting Petals."

Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Simpson, Inness print, "Home of Heron."

Mr. and Mrs. John Marrs, painting, to be selected.

Mr. and Mrs. Harwood Stagg, loan gift of autographed letters of Charles Dickens and Thomas Hood.

New Century club, copy of Vincent's "October Days."

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McCutchen, "Spring Morning," Wegand copy.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Brown, bas relief, "Washington Crossing the Delaware."

Art department of schools, Topping copy, "The Enchanting Pool."

Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor, bust, to be selected.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Whitham, statue, $150, to be selected.

Hoffman and Company, a bust, to be selected.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Walker, a bas relief, to be selected.

Stehlik and Baber, "Paul Revere's Ride," in relief.

Rose Marian and Pauline Jane Art, "The Spirit of '76," copy.

Judge Edgar Scurry, bust of Robert E. Lee.

For the library of the Junior college, the University club has assumed the financial responsibility of securing the mural decorations, placing them as they are contributed.

In the art hall, several handsome pieces of statuary, including a statue of Hebe, the goddess of youth, donated by Mr. and Mrs. Silk.

These gifts to the college have been selected that they might suggest in one of the many ways the traditions and ancient lore connected with history, literature, science and athletics.

Optometry Law Violation Is Cause of Fine

A fine of $50 was imposed Monday in the county court at law in the case of a man arrested recently on charges of fitting eye glasses and engaging in other optometry work without a state license. He was arrested at the instigation of the county attorney's office which had received a number of complaints regarding his work.

In pleading guilty the man asserted he did not know it was a violation of the law to practice without a license.

County Commissioners Hear Jubilee Singers

Members of the Wichita county commissioners court laid aside the cares of office for a time Monday, forgot about bills, assessments and even road squabbles while they listened to an impromptu concert by the Dickson jubilee singers from the Dickson colored orphanage at Gilmer.

The concert was given for the benefit of the commissioners and was held at the Salvation Army citadel. The court has donated $300 annually for the past several years to help defray expenses of the orphanage.

Old time numbers, plantation melodies and secular songs were given by the singers while the commissioners listened attentively.

It is expected that the paving of the Ninth street intersection of Indiana avenue will be completed today, weather permitting. The old wood block paving was practically torn out and cleaned up Monday and work will start today on laying the new brick. The entire street will be finished before the end of the week, it is thought.

An unusually large number of drunks, vags and traffic violators were called up for trial Monday morning in city police court. Sunday proved to be a busy day for the police department.

Dogs to Take to Tall Timbers Again; Dog Catchers to Start Out Wednesday

Woe and plenty of it is in store for the canine population of the city again.

The annual spring proclamation was issued Monday by Chief of Police Hodgins against numberless homeless and friendless stray dogs, with an ominous threat that two hard boiled dog catchers were to start their rounds again next Wednesday.

The stray dog question, the chief explained, is one that blooms with the flowers each spring. Keeping the four-footed rovers at a minimum in numbers is one of the annual problems that the police departments wishes wasn't. However, it is and must be made the best of.

A violent search and seizure act all dogs not properly tagged with the city license is contemplated, after which the luckless pups will be granted one bone a day for a short time and the city dog pound.

A squad of cops with Winchesters and the city incinerator crew will complete the story if the dogs are not claimed and their licenses paid.

SHERIFF FINDS STOLEN AUTOS

Two Machines Located In Laredo By Bebout And Murphy

Two automobiles stolen here several months ago were located last week in Laredo and disposition made to the owners, according to Sheriff W. W. Murphy who has returned from a short trip into south Texas. The thief was arrested but furnished bond in the border city and was not returned here.

One of the cars had been wrecked and this was sold, while the other was driven to Wichita Falls by Sheriff Murphy and Special Agent Debout. It has been turned over to the owner.

The two officers left here last week on the trail of the thief and found their man at Laredo.

GREENE BROUGHT BACK FOR TRIAL

Man Wanted Here For Travelers Check Fraud Found

Howard G. Greene, under indictment in Wichita Falls and Fort Worth on charges of forgery and passing a forged instrument was brought to this city Monday by Chief Deputy Sheriff Jack Miller. His case is expected to be disposed of in district court here some time this week, with the probability of a plea of guilty being entered.

It is charged that Greene obtained a number of American Railway Express travelers checks some time ago and that he had obtained approximately $47 in cash on them. A search has been made for him since that time and an indictment was returned by the last grand jury of the 30th district court.

Following disposition of his case here, he will be returned to Fort Worth to answer charges held against him there.

Boaz Speaks At Noon Service In Palace, Monday

Taking as his text, "Seek Ye the Kingdom of God and His Righteousness and All Those Things Shall be Added Unto You," Bishop H. A. Boaz spoke Monday noon to a fair sized crowd at the Southern Methodist church nooday revival meetings being conducted in the Palace theatre. About 200 were on hand for the session, which will be a daily feature of the revivals being conducted here by Bishop Boaz and Dr. C. C. Selecman.

Dr. Selecman is to speak at the noon meeting today, with Bishop Boaz in the pulpit again Wednesday. The services will continue for a period of two weeks, during which time evening meetings will be held at both the First and Floral Heights Methodist churches. Dr. Selecman is to speak at the latter place each evening and Bishop Boaz at the First church.

HORSESHOE ADDED TO CLUB SPORTS

Another diversion has been added to those at the Wichita Falls Municipal Golf club, it was learned Monday after a donation of a set of horseshoes had been made to the club by the Noble-Little Hardware company. The full set has been taken to the club and will be available for all and sundry who find golf, tennis, swimming or any of the other club diversions too strenuous.

The club is being liberally patronized of late and large crowds have been on hand at the golf grounds during the warm weather of the last few days.

Mothers AND THEIR CHILDREN

For Little Finger Marks

One Mother Says:

I have found that the easiest way to remove little finger prints from my white painted woodwork is to keep on hand some kerosene and a soft piece of cotton cloth. With this the marks may be rubbed off, and to remove the odor it is necessary to go over the spot with a cloth wrung out of hot water.

Gas Station Robbed Again; $100 Stolen

For the fourth time in less than two years, the Woody Hines filling station at Eighth and Burnett, known as the Hillside station, was broken open and robbed Sunday night. A total of $100 in cash was taken from the office safe which was forced open with a sledge and punch.

City officers who investigated the robbery declared it to be the work of professionals who thoroughly understood their task.

Nothing else of value in the office was molested, the thieves apparently wanting nothing but cash.

At one time the safe at the station was loaded into an automobile and carried into the country where it was opened at leisure, while the other invasions have resulted in the looting of the strong boxes in the office.

Officers believe that the robbers who opened the Woody Hines safe are the same who also entered the American Refining company filling station on Tenth street Sunday night. Nothing of value was taken here, however.

COPS GET KICKS AS GARDENS ARE RUINED BY CHICKS

The sanctity of more Wichita Falls onion orchards has been invaded, it seems, and without meaning any disrespect to the gardners of the city, the originators of the aforementioned o o's are hostile, irate, rebellious and, to put it forcefully, decidedly put out.

Chief of Police Hodgins, as a result, has issued an edict against the cause of the commotion, namely chickens and pigeons which have played havoc with spring gardens. A warning to owners of the fowls was given some time ago but in view of the large number of complaints being received it was deemed advisable to issue another.

"Arrests and prosecutions are to come in a very short time if chickens and pigeons are not kept penned up and out of neighboring truck patches," the chief declared Monday.

NO PAVING ON SEVENTH UNTIL ROAD JOURNEY

Paving operations on Seventh street from the railway tracks to the ball park will not be started until the Spudders leave on their first road trip, it was announced Monday. It had been hoped to get the paving in before the baseball season opened but it was found that this would be impossible.

Consequently, Seventh street will not be torn up until the team leaves town April 21. An absence of sufficient length will then allow the paving to be completed before the ball park is to be used again.

6 GUILTY PLEAS TAKEN BY COURT

Fines Assessed In All Instances; Makes Busy Day

Six pleas of guilty were accepted in the county court at law Monday from defendant against whom various charges had been made by the county attorney's office. Fines were imposed in each of the instances.

Clarence Bowman was fined $25 on charges of disturbing the peace, the complaint arising out of a rumpus at an oil field dance hall recently. Alvin Ireland and Lewis Tillman, both drew fines of $15 and costs, amounting to over $40, on disturbing the peace charges filed after a fight in a down town cafe a few nights ago.

A carrying a pistol charge against Homer Mathews drew a $100 fine for him, while Mrs. W. H. Anchor was fined $1 and costs as a result of an altercation with another woman in a local hotel.

A $50 fine for violation of the state optometry laws was the sixth imposed.

Elect High-Y Officers For Another Year

Officers for next year were elected at a meeting of the Hi-Y club Monday night, and a class of four initiated into the organization. The club met at the First Methodist church, south.

The following officers-elect will heal the Hi-Y the coming year: Sam Bashara, president; Clifton Clay, vice president; Tobert Catter, secretary-treasurer.

Furrier Says New Spring Models To Be Simple

H. C. Lyons, expert furrier from Rosenthal's in Oklahoma City, who was at Perkins-Timberlake Monday and will be there through today stated that fur models for the coming season would be simple, carrying out the tailleur idea of this spring.

"Coats are likely to be shorter," Mr. Lyons asserted. "I'm recommending the seven-eighth length model in longer effects and thirty-six inch in jacquette types.

"Capes as usual, will continue to be good for the more formal needs. Hudson seal will be the favored fur for this part of the country. It is durable for its light weight. It is correct and lends itself to remodeling easily.

"Summer ermine and the splendid imitations of it in squirrel will be used extensively in jacquettes and as trimming on seal or brown dyed furs," Mr. Lyons said.

He also stated that leopard skin would be used against darker solid color furs. "A simple way to make one's old fur coat look entirely new and different is to add these lighter furs for trimming. Surprising things can be done with old-fashioned furs, like rebuilt jewelry."

Mr. Lyons will be glad to answer any questions regarding furs or fur work in your city. He will be in Wichita Falls through today.
