Garigliano Is Crossed Under Intense Fire

Three Footholds Secured Despite Heavy Resistance

BY WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Algiers, Jan. 19 — British troops of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's Fifth army, advancing under intense mortar and machinegun fire, have crossed the lower Garigliano river at three points converging on the ancient Appian way, for centuries the main coastal highway to Rome.

The attack was launched at 9 p. m. Monday, Allied headquarters announced today, and all three bridgeheads were secured despite violent enemy resistance which included a rain of fire on the river itself, 80 miles southeast of Rome.

The first crossing was made near Suio, a village seven miles inland from the Tyrrhenian coast and located on a hill 500 yards beyond the river. Headquarters said heavy fighting still is in progress there.

Bridgehead Along Railroad

The second bridgehead was established along the railroad running from Capua to Rome, four miles from the coast.

The third was at Argento, almost on the coast itself, where the Germans countered with a tank attack in a desperate but futile effort to drive the British back across the river.

The announcement said Canadians on the Eighth army front were engaged in "fierce fighting."

Patrol activity was carried out by British and American units of the Fifth army front which are driving for Cassino, Nazi fortress on the road to Rome.

Naval Action Continues

Naval action continued in the Adriatic during the past week, the communique said, destroyers shelling Rovigno on the Istrian peninsula, Durazzo in Albania and Drevenik, Vala and Korcula on the Dalmatian coast.

An American coastal force attacked lighters off Spezia, without damage to themselves, while British units torpedoed a small ship in Sumartin harbor of Brac island.

Foundry Strike Is Continuing

SEATTLE, Jan. 19 (AP)—Idleness of 10,000 Washington and Oregon war workers in a strike of foundrymen today drew the concern of shipbuilding officials who expressed fear that the construction of tank-landing ships and other vitally-needed sea craft may soon be curtailed.

Some 6,000 members of the AFL molders' and foundry workers' union struck yesterday morning in protest against what their leaders termed an unfair wage award by the Regional War Labor board, and by their action about 4,000 additional workers remained off their jobs rather than pass picket lines. Seventy-nine foundries were affected.

Charges Dismissed Due To Confusion

HOUSTON, Jan. 19 (UP) — A district court jury hearing theft charges against John P. Perdew was not only deadlocked but also confused when Judge Frank Williford discharged it last night.

Acting as his own counsel, Perdew defended himself against the accusation that he stole a $125 set of tools by pleading he was under a "hypnotic influence" at the time. The influence, he said, was medicine his doctor had given him to ease suffering from several broken ribs.

Anti-Subsidy Bill Approved

Senate Group Changes Stand

Explosive Issue On Senate Floor

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 — The Senate banking committee today rejected the administration's request for use of $1,500,000,000 on food subsidies in 1944, acted favorably on the Bankhead bill to terminate all such subsidies by June 30 of this year, and sent the whole explosive issue to the Senate floor for debate.

The committee reversed itself in taking these actions against the subsidy system which administration officials have described as the cornerstone of their program for controlling retail food prices. President Roosevelt has made vigorous representations to Congress on behalf of the system.

Vote Is 10 to 9

The favorable report on the bill by Senator Bankhead (D-Ala) to end food subsidies on June 30, 1944, was voted 10 to 9, although such a report had been rejected a month ago. The bill is substantially similar to the anti-subsidy legislation passed by the House in November, when that chamber acted on extension of the life of the Commodity Credit corporation to June 30, 1945.

Two Republican senators, Taft of Ohio, and Tobey of New Hampshire, swung to support of the bill in today's executive session after having previously opposed it.

The administration's proposal to authorize the expenditure of $1,500,000,000 for subsidies in 1944, was rejected also on a 9-10 division.

Bitter Fight Looms

A bitter and perhaps lengthy fight on the Senate floor loomed.

Senator Maloney (D-Conn) said he would introduce on the floor the $1,500,000,000 amendment which the committee turned down.

Senator Wagner (D-NY) banking committee chairman, foresaw an opening of the floor battle by next week.

Wagner declared that the Senate — apparently divided closely on the question — should start floor debate without delay since a temporary extension of the CCC runs out Feb. 17. He said farmers must know soon what the government policy is to be so they can plan their spring crop programs.

Ruins Of Quake-Torn City May Be Burned

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 19 (UP)—Dispatches from earthquake-levelled San Juan reported today that government authorities, fearing epidemic, were considering setting fire to the ruins of the city, where 500 bodies were believed still buried under the debris.

Authorities were reported traveling through the city with loudspeakers urging the population to leave immediately to escape a growing threat of plague and typhoid.

To step up the rate of evacuation, the Argentine government dispatched trains from all over the country to the area rocked by Saturday night's temblors. Evacuation of San Juan, a city of 50,000, was expected to be completed by the end of the week.

New temblors alarmed the city's remaining inhabitants yesterday but the quakes were light and shortlived and calm soon was reestablished.

Gov. Stevenson Does Not Plan Special Legislative Session

DALLAS, Jan. 19 (AP)—Governor Coke R. Stevenson doesn't plan to call a special session of the Texas legislature.

The pipe-smoking governor made that plain here yesterday—and he reiterated it last night when he commented:

"The loss of lives of loved ones is one of the prices parents of the boys must pay. And by supplying the weapons of war we will do more than anything to save lives."

There's a great deal of agitation for giving the soldiers the right to vote, Governor Stevenson admitted at a dinner given in his honor by the Dallas citizens council and attended by 566 persons.

Speaks At Luncheon

Speaking back to his critics, he told the Democratic women of Dallas county at a noonday luncheon: "As long as you trust my honesty and integrity, you must accord me the right to run your government by the constitution. And unless you amend it, I'll run it by the same old constitution we have now."

There was no doubt in his voice when he told the women Democrats that the constitution prescribes limits beyond which the legislature may not go. He did not mention the voting agitation that continued to grow among legislators in Austin and throughout

Texan, Ace Of RAF, Is Killed

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Algiers, Jan. 19 (AP) — Wing Commander Lance C. Wade, of Texas, American ace of the RAF, who had the highest score of any fighter pilot in the Mediterranean theater—25 enemy planes destroyed—crashed to his death Jan. 12 in Italy, it was announced today.

The 2-year-old veteran of three years of combat flying met death when a small communications plane he was flying spun to the ground many miles behind the front. The cause of the accident was not known.

He was regarded by many as this war's greatest fighter pilot.

He was a native of Broadus, San Augustine county, Texas. In 1921 his family moved to Reklaw, Cherokee county, Texas, where he was reared. Before going to England in May, 1941, he studied aviation at Tucson, Ariz.

Was Recently Promoted

Hillbilly Held On Kidnaping Charge

DALLAS, Jan. 19 (UP)—Sullenfaced Dearl Quentin Harris, 21-year-old Arkansas hillbilly, was held in jail in lieu of $5,000 bond today to await a grand jury investigation of charges he kidnaped two DeQueen, Ark., men and forced them to accompany him to Grand Prairie, Tex.

Harris had admitted forcing Charlie Chenoweth and Paul Turner of DeQueen to drive him from DeQueen to Grand Prairie, where he was captured Monday by a Grand Prairie resident who disarmed him as Harris demanded the man's automobile.

CAUSE OF TRAIN WRECK

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP) — The Interstate Commerce commission reported today that "failure to provide adequate protection for derailed cars" caused the December 16, 1943, wreck on the Atlantic Coast line railroad near Rennert, N. C., in which 72 persons were killed and 187 injured.

Col. L. A. Kurtz New Commander At Hood

CAMP HOOD, Jan. 19. (AP)—Col. Lawrence A. Kurtz, formerly commanding officer of Camp Swift, has been named commanding officer of Camp Hood to succeed Col. C. M. Thirlkeld, who has been transferred to Fort Clark after 18 months as head of one of the Army's largest and most completely equipped military installations.

A native Texan and a graduate of Texas A. & M. college, Col. Kurtz is expected to assume his new duties Thursday. Col. Thirlkeld will become commanding officer of Fort Clark, a cavalry camp at Brackettville, Tex.

Small Texas County Oversubscribes Quota

DALLAS, Jan. 19 (UP)—The 7,951 people of Mills county were justly proud of themselves today.

The county was the first of Texas' 254 divisions to exceed its Fourth War Loan bond quota on opening day of the campaign. County Chairman Earl T. Fairman reported to state headquarters that the $180,000 goal had been oversubscribed by $800 at 2 p. m.

Sedate Metropolitan Opera House Is Invaded By Jazz

NEW YORK, Jan. 19 (AP)—The sedate Metropolitan Opera house blew its top, from cellar to chandelier, it rocked to the red hot rhythms of barrelhouse, boogie-woogie and the blues.

Jazz invaded the Met's hallowed portals last night for the first time.

The lowdown music was beat out by Trumpeter Louis Armstrong, sax-playing Coleman Hawkins, Jack Teagarden and his slip horn, and a dozen more jive-minded musicians selected in an Esquire magazine poll as the top jazz artists of 1944.

Some 3,500 hep-cats paid $650,000 in war bonds to witness the precedent-shattering event, a part of the Fourth War Loan drive. Admission was by war bond only.

The audience whistled, squealed, stamped and clapped in syncopation. The plush diamond horseshoe quacked and staid ushers lifted their eyebrows.

Jive-educated toes tapped in unison as Mildred Bailey sang "Squeeze Me," Red Norvo swung out "I Got Rhythm" on his xylophone, and Lionel Hampton and Sidney Catlett thumped a torrid

Mustering-Out Pay Of $1,120 Defeated

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (AP) — A $1,120 mustering-out pay bill offered by Rep. Ploeser (R-Mo) today was defeated by the House as it moved toward enactment of legislation to provide payments to honorably discharged members of the armed forces.

Ploeser's proposal, offered as a substitute for the military committee's $300-top bill, went down under a standing vote of 113 to 19 after Rep. Costello (D-Calif) told the House the Missourian's measure might cost as much as $10,000,000,000.

Earlier, the House voted down a proposal to make merchant seamen eligible for the mustering out payments.

Notwithstanding strong bi-partisan backing for more liberal payments, indications were the committee measure would win approval before the end of the day and be sent to the Senate which last month passed a bill with a $500 top.

The committee measure would give the $300 to men and women under the rank of major who are discharged honorably and not at their own request after having served 60 or more days. Those with less than 60 days of service would receive $100.

Milk Rationing Here Foreseen

Citing the numerous problems facing the dairying industry in this area, Prof. K. M. Renner, head of the department of dairy manufactures at Texas Technological college, pointed to rationing as the only solution and said that it in all probability will be instituted here this fall in a talk before members of the Lubbock Rotary club today noon at the Hilton hotel.

"We're not going to meet the demand for milk," Renner said, "and rationing is the only solution to that problem." He said the increased demand for milk, and the fact that so many producers are quitting business are factors in the milk shortage.

Price ceilings which they say do not permit profitable operations are blamed by producers quitting the business. Feed is not under ceilings and the labor shortage and high prices of labor and shortage of concentrates are other factors causing sales of

Collapse Of Giant Bridge Is Reported

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 19. (UP) —Dispatches from Porto Alegre said today that the giant bridge across the Rio Das Antas in Rio Grande Do Sul province had collapsed, killing and injuring a number of persons.

The bridge is one of the largest in South America, and early reports indicated a heavy loss of life. There were no immediate details.

The huge structure, still under construction, was virtually completed when it collapsed.

Soviets Driving For Baltic On 25-Mile Front

Stalin Announces Gains Of From Seven To 12 Miles In Bloody Fight; Fortress Of Krasnoyselo Falls Near Leningrad

(By The United Press)

LONDON, Jan. 19.—Powerful Russian armies drove toward the Baltic sea along a 25 mile front west of Leningrad today and Soviet Premier Josef Stalin announced that seven Nazi divisions—possibly 105,000 men—have been thrown back 7 to 12 miles in five days of bloody fighting.

Blasting through German fortifications paralyzed by the massed guns of the Red army, Soviet infantrymen stormed and captured the fortress town of Krasnoyselo, 15 miles southwest of Leningrad on the Leningrad-Pskov railroad line.

German field guns that had been pounding Leningrad throughout the 29-month siege of the former Czarist capital fell to the Soviet troops as they swept through Krasnoyselo and drove on down the rail line toward the Estonian frontier, 65 miles southwest.

Another Strong Point Taken

Ropsha, seven miles west of Krasnoyselo and another strong point in the Germans' hedgehog defenses facing Leningrad, also fell to the attacking Russian armies.

Stalin's order of the day, broadcast by Radio Moscow, indicated that Russian armored spearheads were striking into the Nazi lines at several points along the 25-mile battle front in a series of lightning encircling moves that chopped the German front into scores of isolated pockets.

Devastating Barrage

Moscow dispatches said the offensive was preceded by an artillery barrage so devastating that German troops were dazed literally speechless.

Swarms of Russian assault planes bombed and machinegunned the Nazis as they rose from the trenches to meet the Soviets.

The pulverizing Russian push south of the Baltic town of Oranienbaum, coordinated with another strong drive that penetrated the Nazi right flank south of Leningrad, opened the long-awaited Soviet offensive designed to roll back the besiegers of Leningrad to the Baltic.

Front dispatches said the northern column was advancing steadily through the world's most for-

Stimson Urges Service Draft

Asserts Soldiers Resent Injustice

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19—Secretary of War Stimson asked Congress for national service legislation today with the assertion that industrial unrest and a "lack of a sense of patriotic responsibility" on the home front has "aroused a strong feeling of resentment and injustice among the men of the armed forces."

"It will be tragic indeed if the discontent and resentment felt by our gallant soldiers on the fighting fronts burns deeply and festers in their hearts," he told the Senate military committee. "Unless we set forth boldly to stamp it out, the hot flame will destroy some of the great love of country which, alone, can make a man endure the hardship, the pain and the death which service above self has offered them.

Hear Soldiers' Voices

"The voices of these soldiers speak out very clearly today in demanding that all Americans accept the same liability which a soldier must accept for service to country. They are far away now, but some day they will return."

Reviewing recent labor troubles in the railroad, coal and steel industries, the secretary declared "it does not require great imagination to realize the effect of these occurrences upon our troops," and added:

"I believe it is hazardous to belittle the effect which such a situation will have upon the ultimate welfare of our democracy.

"If it continues, it will surely affect the morale of the Army. It is likely to prolong the war and endanger our ultimate success, and when those troops come back to us . . . it may have an effect upon the future unity of our nation which is disturbing to contemplate."

"The men in the Army see this country divided into two entirely

Market Survey Urged On West Texas Oil

AUSTIN, Jan. 19 (AP)—The Railroad commission at its monthly statewide oil proration hearing today was asked to make a survey to determine actual demand for West Texas crude and fix an overall allowable for West Texas fields on a yardstick basis.

The request came from Nelson Jones, representing Humble Oil company, who said his company was reducing its February nominations for West Texas crude by 10,500 barrels daily because of lessened demand from the War Emergency Pipeline corporation.

Total nominations of purchasers for February were 2,096,972 barrels daily, a net increase of 6,789 daily over January. The certification of demand from the petroleum administrator for war calls for Texas production of 2,018,000 barrels daily of all petroleum liquids next month.

Humble company also announced it was reducing February nominations for Hawkins field 7,000 barrels daily and for Talco field 2,500 daily because of transportation shortages.

Railroads Face Labor Problem

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19—The nation's rail transportation system was back in the hands of private operators today but Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) warned that it still faces a critical manpower problem.

President Roosevelt announced settlement of the wage dispute, with raises all around, late yesterday, and War Secretary Stimson thereupon ordered the seized railroads returned to their owners, effective at midnight.

The roads, once threatened by labor disputes of the 350,000 members of five operating unions and of 1,100,000 non-operating workers, including shopmen, clerks and others, were taken over by the government on Dec. 27, three days before a strike-call deadline.

Raises Are Granted

The settlement and some earlier agreements, which labor and management sources estimated would cost the roads more than $350,000,000 annually, plus retroactive pay awards, provide generally for increases of nine cents an hour to the operating workers

More Combat Planes Will Be Produced

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP) — The nation's 1944 aircraft production program calls for a 50 per cent increase in manufacture of combat planes on top of the record-smashing 1943 output, Charles E. Wilson, chairman of the aircraft production board, disclosed today.

The combat craft the Germans and Japanese will see this year will be "very substantially larger than the models they supplant," Wilson reported.

Wilson said that more than 100,000 planes are scheduled for production this year, each with an average airframe weight of more than 10,000 pounds. The aircraft industry completed 85,946 planes last year, averaging 8,630 pounds in airframe weight.

Wilson reiterated that 1944 scheduling calls for increased production of heavy aircraft—Fortresses, Liberators and super-Fortresses—and a reduction in the number of training craft and non-combat models.

Colorful U. S. "Bushmaster" Troops Tighten Grip On Arawe; Rabaul, Kavieng Face Doom

(By The Associated Press)

American "Bushmaster" troops, pioneers in deadly jungle warfare, have tightened the invasion grip on the Arawe peninsula of New Britain as a part of the general Allied offensive to knock out, in one way or another, the Rabaul-Kavieng keystones of the enemy's southwest Pacific defense system.

Allied planes engaged the Japanese in other sectors, pounding at their installations along the northeast coast of New Guinea in support of ground forces headed toward the Nipponese air-shipping center at Madang.

Aided by planes, tanks and artillery, the 158th (Bushmaster) infantry of the U. S. Sixth army sprang a sudden, fierce attack and won 1000 yards of Japanese territory close to the American defense perimeter above the neck of the Arawe peninsula.

The Bushmasters, sent in to reinforce midwestern elements who landed on the southwest coast of New Britain Dec. 15 and now hold the Arawe beach positions, killed 139 Japanese at a light loss to themselves. Their personnel, made up largely of men from Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado and Oklahoma, includes Indians from 20 American tribes.

The Arawe attack and the U. S. Marines' success on invaded Cape Gloucester, northwest across the island, fitted in with the gradual building up of the campaign against Rabaul, prime Japanese base on the northeast corner of New Britain, and Kavieng, much-bombed harbor at adjacent New Ireland. As Rear Admiral Robert B. Carney put it, "they are next on the list."

New Pattern Promised

Carney, chief of staff at South Pacific headquarters, declared "we plan to put them out of busi-

Braniff Pre-Hearing Conference Feb. 8

Braniff Airways application to place Lubbock on its Dallas-Denver line has been set for a pre-hearing conference Feb. 8 by the Civil Aeronautics board in Washington, according to a telegram from Congressman George Mahon Tuesday to the chamber of commerce.

Under the pending application, Braniff proposes to make this city an intermediate stop between Amarillo and Wichita Falls on the regular services it operates between Dallas and Denver.

Such a line, it was explained, would provide fast connections in Dallas, Fort Worth, Amarillo and Denver to any point anywhere in the nation that the passenger from Lubbock might wish to reach.

The message from Congressman Mahon said that the opposition, if any, to the Braniff proposal can be discovered at the hearing. Just what opposition may appear to the application is not known, but the hopes are that it will not be serious.

If the usual procedure is followed in such matters, the pre-hearing conference will result in the setting of a final hearing on the Braniff application. If serious opposition does not materialize, an early setting is regarded as probable. In such case and if CAB should approve the application, Braniff officials have given assurance that they will be ready to inaugurate the new service at once. In this particular case, it would not be necessary to wait until after victory for the start of service.

The pre-hearing is one of two set for early February before CAB in which Lubbock has a vital stake.

On Feb. 1, a final hearing is set on the application of American Airlines to operate transcontinental service through this city.

Present expectations are that the city and the chamber of commerce will be represented at that hearing. Officials of American Airlines have requested urgently that this be done.

In such case, the probabilities are that the Lubbock representatives will remain in Washington for the pre-hearing conference on the Braniff proposal.

BUTTERED ROMANCE

McKEESPORT, Pa. — Cupid doesn't always get his man with bow and arrow; this time he used a pound of butter.

And now they are married.

CHOOSY

The WAC shook her head.

The two other girls rushed to accept — but the motorist shook his head, slammed the door and drove on.

EXPENSIVE RELEASE

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. — Sheriff Harry Mackey officially released a prisoner recently—and it cost him $131, he reported glumly.

For that amount, kept in the sheriff's desk at the jail for another prisoner, also vanished.

LETTER PERFECT

WICHITA, Kas. — Capt. W. D. Butler, Wichitan in North Africa, took his silver identification bracelet to an Arabic silversmith to have it shined.

Neither spoke the other's language so Butler wrote out, please remove tarnish," thinking the silversmith would have a friend translate it.

Several days later the Arab, smiling and nodding, handed over the still dingy bracelet with these words neatly engraved on the back:

"Please remove tarnish."

HOME, SWEET HOME

NEWARK, N. J. — A pajama-clad figure walked into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Cash and announced;

"Hey, ma, I'm home."

It was their 10-year-old son, Miler, who had been under treatment at city hospital for a head injury suffered in a fall from a tree.

Recovery seemed long and tedious. Then homesickness struck.

He slipped out of bed, he related, walked out of the hospital and one-half mile to his home.

THE WINNAH!

CHICAGO — Clifford Overley's refusal to cooperate with three bandits saved him $120.

Overley, a Glencoe, Minn., truck driver, fell to the ground when the men attacked him, and fought off their attempts to pick him up by kicking at them.

One of the trio held Overley's arm long enough to remove his wrist watch. But Overley's wallet with $120 was not disturbed.

Sensational, New Mustang Fighter Can Outdo Any Known German Interceptor In Combat

A U. S. MUSTANG BASE IN ENGLAND, Jan. 19 (AP) — In their first 15 missions the sensational new, long-range Mustang (P-51B) fighters, which can outdo any known German interceptor in combat, have destroyed or damaged 87 Nazi planes against a loss of six and given the United States Air force assurance of protection for heavy bombers almost anywhere over Germany.

Although their presence in the European theater was announced only last week, the Mustangs have been operating incognito since Dec. 1 and have scored 41 confirmed victories over enemy planes, 13 probables and 33 damaged.

The first detailed account of their accomplishments was given correspondents yesterday at an official "unveiling" of one fighter group headed by Col. Kenneth R. Martin, Kansas City, Mo.

Radius Of 450 Miles

The Mustang has a combat radius of 450 miles with a speed of more than 400 mph (actual speed not disclosed) and is capable of operating with precision at an altitude of 35,000 feet. It has four 50-cal. machineguns.

The way these new fighters have been roughing up the Germans has stirred much enthusiasm among the Fortress and Liberator airmen.

In the most violent battles fought 300 miles or more from home the little Mustangs have maintained a better than 6 to 1 superiority over anything the luftwaffe has sent up.

Spent Hours Over Target

On at least two big raids they have spent close to an hour over the target — sweeping the area of the enemy while the hevay bombers unloaded.

The Mustang pilots of Col. Martin's group who have been credited with victories include: Lt. Jack T. Bradley, Brownwood, Texas, two and one-third planes; and Lt. Robert L. Shoup, Port Arthur, Texas.

Partisans Trap Nazi Division

LONDON, Jan. 19 (AP)—Yugoslav partisans have trapped a German motorized division of 400 vehicles near Lipovac in western Bosnia and wild fighting now is progressing through rugged hill country against the encircled Nazis and a second division rushed to its assistance, Marshal Josip Broz (Tito) announced today.

The Nazi relief expedition, Tito's broadcast communique said, broke through partisan lines toward Jajce, Tito's former headquarters, 30 miles south of Banja Luka on the Vrbas river. Bitter fighting ensued and the issue apparently was still in doubt at the time the bulletin was issued.

Slavs Take Offensive

Meanwhile units of the 3rd Yugoslav corps, suddenly taking the offensive, were reported pushing the Germans back in the vicinity of Magiaj, Tuzla and Zvornik in eastern Bosnia. The heaviest fighting was in the Tuzla area, where the partisans were attacking in force, said Tito's bulletin.

Continued fighting against Germans and Chetniks in the Gacko-Nevesinja area in southern Hercegovinia was reported by the Yugoslav communique. In Lika province in Croatia the Germans were still attacking in an attempt to breach Yugoslav lines guarding liberated territory. Minor fighting was reported from other scattered sectors of the front.

War Secretary Sir James Grigg yesterday told the House of Commons that the Yugoslav Partisans have tied down at least 125,000 German troops ,and said the German drive which began in Croatia late in December was "a failure." All possible aid was being supplied to the Partisans, he added.

Eight Die As Plane Crashes Into House

OAKLAND, Calif., Jan. 19 (AP)—Eight persons were killed and three homes were wrecked as an Army transport plane, flying on one engine at housetop altitude, crashed and exploded in the East Oakland residential district Tuesday.

Five of the dead were identified by Army officials as Lt. Col. A. L. Zimmerman of Alameda, Calif., the pilot; Lt. R. H. Breshears of Eugene, Ore., co-pilot; Staff Sgt. B. D. Edwards, Monroe, La.; Sgt H. J. Manasee, Chicago, and Sgt. Vincent Virga of Sacramento, Calif.

The two-engine plane abruptly dived with a thundering crash into the roof of a dwelling occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Jacobsen. They narrowly escaped death. They were eating breakfast in the only room that left even reasonably intact.

Armed Service Ban For Solons Has Political Aspect In House

By JAMES MARLOW and GEORGE ZIELKE
Associated Press Staff Writers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—President Roosevelt told congress to let firearms alone but he put no ban on boxing gloves.

His announcement that congressmen may not serve in "active components of the armed services" advised the warlike ones to keep their seats. It was like saying "Boys, you can slug it out right here because I'm closing the door."

The President spoke out just as two Democratic House members were ready to abandon Congress for the Army.

Keeps Party Lines Intact

His announcement will help keep party lines intact at a time when the Democrats' margin over the Republicans in the House is, to a Democrat, disturbingly thin—thinner than any time since 1930.

From now on every seat in the House is one to be fought for and every favorable Democratic vote will be important to the measures which the President and his Democratic administration want passed.

For a majority, any party needs 218 of the 435 seats in the House. The Democrats now have only 217, the first time in 14 years they have lacked a majority.

The other seats are divided this way: Republicans, 207; Farmer-Laborite, 1; American-Laborite, 1; Progressives, 2; and seven vacancies from deaths or resignations.

(Democrats have a clear majority in the Senate—58 seats to 37 for the Republicans and 1 Progressive—but since the House can block the Senate by disagreeing with it the Democrats now worry about the House.)

In special elections between now and the general elections for an entirely new House membership next November, the Republicans hope to fill four of the vacancies. The Democrats seem certain of filling two; one in Alabama and the other in New York's Harlem.

Would Give Demos Majority

That would give the Democrats 219 seats, and a majority again, to 212 for the Republicans with the independents free of the major parties' claims.

But a clear majority still wouldn't mean clear sailing for a Roosevelt program. The House has been well scrambled for a year now with some of the most important Roosevelt measures still left hanging.

A majority party has this kind of control—besides voting strength—in the House it elects a party member speaker. He appoints party members to the important committee chairmanships. That's the way the Democrats are set up now.

But if through deaths or resignations the Democratic party were cut down until the Republicans had the majority, would the latter want to take control by electing a Republican speaker and appointing Republican committee heads?

Maybe, for prestige reasons and the psychological effect on the voters in next fall's election. That would be the first time Republicans gained the House saddle since Mr. Roosevelt's election 12 years ago.

Texas To File Brief On Federal Tax Law

AUSTIN, Jan. 19 (AP) — Texas, along with California, Washington, Oklahoma and Arizona, is filing a brief in the U. S. Supreme court in support of a Louisiana Supreme court ruling that a federal tax law ignoring the community property system is unconstitutional, Attorney General Grover Sellers announced.

Sellers said the Louisiana case grew out of a provision of the 1942 federal revenue act making the entire community estate of a man and wife taxable if either died.

The effect on Texas will be widespread if the Louisiana decision is reversed by the Supreme court where the case is now on appeal, Sellers asserted.

In states with community property laws, husband and wife each owns one-half interest in property acquired after marriage and a federal estate tax previously has been levied only on the interest of the person who died, the attorney general explained.

Bulgaria Calls Up Officers Under 60

ISTANBUL, Jan. 17 (Delayed) (AP)—All Bulgarian reserve officers under 60 who are not already serving have been ordered to report for army duty, an official Sofia announcement declared today.

A dispatch from Sofia dated Sunday said fires still were burning in Sofia and time bombs still were exploding after the double day and night Allied attacks six days before, on Jan. 10.

A Hungarian broadcast, quoting German correspondents in Sofia, said today that only 10,000 to 15,000 of Sofia's 450,000 population now remained in the city, and they soon would leave. U. S. government monitors recorded the broadcast.

Dressings Are At Red Cross

A delayed shipment of gauze for surgical dressings has arrived at the Lubbock County Red Cross and the rooms at 1605 Avenue J will be open, beginning Monday and volunteer workers are asked to call any time Monday through Friday from 9:30 a. m. until 4:30 p. m. and Monday evenings from 7 until 10 o'clock to fold the bandages.

The shipment includes the quota for December and January and includes material for folding 2x2, 4x4 and 4x8 dressings.

The Slaton rooms will be open Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons between 1 and 5 o'clock and the Idalou room is to be opened at a later date.

Mesdames I. C. Enochs and Richard L. Douglas, co-chairmen of the surgical dressing project, are reminding Lubbock county women the surgical dressings rooms have been closed since the middle of November and are urging them to come back early next week, since they are behind on the quota due to the lack of gauze.

Dozens of Lubbock club women as well as wives of officers and men stationed at the air bases near town came to the rooms last fall and it is expected they will return. The only requisites for folding the dressings are clean nails, a headdress, and a cotton dress.

RAF Drops More Bombs Than Nazis

LONDON, Jan. 19 (AP) — The Royal Air force has dropped 400 times more bombs on Germany so far this year than the German Air force has dropped on Britain, Air Minister Sir Archibald Sinclair told Commons today.

From Jan. 1 through the night of Jan. 17-18, the British bomber command dumped some 6,000 (long) tons of explosives on German targets while only about 15 tons were unloaded by the enemy on Britain.

The biggest Royal Air force raids in 1944 have been: Berlin, 1,000 tons on Jan. 1; Berlin on Jan. 2; Stettin, Jan. 6, and Brunswick, 2,000 tons, on Jan. 14. No official figures have been released on the second Berlin raid or on the bombing of Stettin, but it was estimated roughly that they were of 1,000 tons each.

High Prices Cause Less Feeder Stock

AUSTIN, Jan. 19 (U.P.) — High prices of feed and difficulty in obtaining some feeds were reported by the U. S. Agriculture department here today as contributing to the decrease in number of cattle, sheep and lambs on feed for market in Texas on Jan. 1.

Number of cattle was estimated at 140,000 head, approximately 28 per cent less than the 194,000 estimate on Jan. 1, 1943, and the smallest number on feed for market on Jan. 1 since 1937.

Sheep and lambs were estimated at 116,000 head, about 40 per cent of the 290,000 head as of Jan. 1, 1943 and the least number in the state on feed for market as of Jan. 1 since 1935.

MORE MEN NEEDED

NEW YORK, Jan. 19 (AP) — Marshall E. Dimock of the War Shipping administration said today 30,000 experienced men must be recruited back into the maritime industry this year to meet current shipping needs.

Grenade-Tossing Marine Dies Directing Aid To Companion

BOUGAINVILLE, (Delayed) (AP) —"Pineapple" Pucket died today, cut down by a hidden Jap machine gunner.

He was fatally wounded while directing aid to a fallen companion.

"Pineapple" Puckett was Marine Platoon Sergeant Clarence D. Puckett, 23, of Detroit, a great, confident lad, six feet, three inches tall, with arms like young oak trees. He wore two .45 pistols, carried any shoulder weapon he could find, and as many grenades as he could pack.

He won his nickname nearly a month ago when his grenade tossing was credited largely by officers and men of his platoon with decimating a strong Jap force attempting a dangerous flanking movement against Marine forces in newly-won positions.

Hurled 33 Grenades

That day "Pineapple" hurled 33 grenades in human mortar fashion and when the battle was over, they counted 75 Jap dead.

"Pineapple" was with a squad inching forward against strong Jap positions when he got it today.

John Carter Peters, pharmacist's mate, second class, U. S. N. R., of Caryville, Florida, Navy hospital corpsman told the story.

Corpsman Peters said a Jap machine gun "opened up a little to the left, where 'Puck' was, and got the Marine nearest to him. He just stood up and bellowed, using his big body as a marker to show litter bearers where the wounded Marine was. He must have known he was exposing himself. I yelled at him to get down, but he was still bellowing for a litter bearer when another burst cut him down."

Hit Badly In Chest

"When I reached 'Puck,'" Corpsman Peters continued, "I saw he was hit badly in the chest —but there wasn't a chance of getting litter bearers to him. The other Marine was dead. I asked 'Puck' could he make it back 75 yards himself to where there were bearers and he just gasped, 'sure, kid.' He forced himself into a crouch and actually ran that 75 yards."

Then, with a tired sigh, the big fellow lapsed into unconsciousness. He died a few hours later.

Fire Hose Becomes "Secret Weapon" In Routing Japs

AN ADVANCED SOUTH PACIFIC BASE, Jan. 10 (Delayed) — Cmdr. Vilhelm K. Busck, 40, Washington, D. C., trapped on the galley-top of a blazing landing ship, turned a fire hose on three Japanese bombers as they swooped toward him.

"Two of them thought it was a new secret weapon, I guess, Busck said. "Anyway they turned away."

The third kept coming and dropped his bomb 15 feet from Busck. It penetrated the flaming deck and exploded below.

Busck previewed his "secret weapon" during Allied landings on Vella Lavella last October. He commanded a group of LST's carrying supplies and equipment. While they were unloading, they were attacked and one of the ships loaded with aviation gasoline and bombs was a roaring mass of flames.

Busck, graduated from the Naval Academy in 1926, ordered Lt. Clinton E. Stover, Dallas, to pull his vessal alongside the LST.

"Ammunition was going off and oil drums were letting go, but Stover put his LST right where she belonged. If he'd put her 20 feet farther forward she'd have caught fire, and if she'd have been farther aft, we couldn't have reached the fire with the hoses."

Six Youths Sworn In As Reserve Cadets

Oaths were administered at West Texas Recruiting and Induction station here Tuesday to six youths, each now 17 years of age, who may be called into active service as Army aviation cadets after reaching their 18th birthday.

Five of the youths are from Levelland. They are: Harold Lee Whitener, son of L. L. Whitener; Gordon M. McDonald, son of Mrs. Mattie Pearl McDonald; Thomas Neal Humphries, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Humphries; James Farmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest B. Farmer; and Charles W. Ballew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Ballew.

Thomas W. Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Taylor, 801 College avenue, was the sixth youth sworn in.

Honduras' national monetary unit is the limpira, with a current exchange value of about 50 cents.

Yanks In European Theater Want Vote

LONDON, Jan. 19 (AP) — The average American soldier in the European theater wants to vote in the presidential election next fall "and would like it well understood at home that he wants no political manipulations to prevent the vote," Stars and Stripes said today.

"Perhaps the best expression of the general feeling on this subject," said the Army newspaper, "was by Capt. Carl P. Geis, Salem, Ore., fighter pilot who was decorated with the DSC for action against the Japanese in the Philippines."

Geis was quoted: "I can't see any difference between being a citizen at home or over here. If anything, I feel I have more right to vote now than ever before."

"To the average soldier the question of whether the state or federal government controlled the voting was unimportant," the paper said.

The story was given a big play on page one under this heading: "Lest they forget, back home."

Louisiana Vote Favoring Davis

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 19 (AP)—Slowly mounting returns in Louisiana's Democratic primary election—in which nomination by the party is tantamount to election—indicated today that the faction of the late "Kingfish" Huey P. Long, if not in the saddle, has a good chance to be in the saddlebags on one side of the steed of state henceforth. A ground swell of returns from the bayous, rice fields, cotton plantations and upstate industrial cities would tell the story.

The "ins" of Governor Sam Houston Jones, who was not averse to dealing out some tart words of criticism to the Democratic party nationally, seemed likely to have, in Jimmie H. Davis, the leading candidate for governor if the country vote followed its early and expected trend. But it seemed likely the "outs" of the faction headed by the New Orleans mayor, Robert Maestri, Earl K. Long (brother of the "Kingfish") and the party's national committeeman, James A. Noe, would have some better seats in the 1944-48 show.

Davis Encouraged

Davis, public service commissioner and singing movie actor in his spare time, despite the early lead given the veteran Lewis L. Morgan, the Maestri-Long-Noe candidate for governor, was encouraged by the small advantage Morgan gained in the metropolitan area of New Orleans. His headquarters felt certain the trend in the country in Davis' favor would make him top man.

But Earl Long himself seemed well on his way to be top man for lieutenant governor and the "old regular"—Long choice for attorney general, Joe T. Cawthorn, held an early lead in both city and country.

There is a law in Louisiana which provides there shall be no runoff primary for other state offices if there is none for governor. If one gubernatorial candidate has a clear majority or if the second man in the race for the governor's seat should withdraw, the men who have simple pluralities down the state ticket win the nomination (and election) automatically.

targets in Tuscany province yesterday.

Rail Yards Blasted

Targets included rail yards at Pisa, Pistoia, Poggibonsi, Pontedera and Certaldo. The airfield at Pistoia also was hit. American Mitchells and Spitfires scored 15 bombhits on a 3,000-ton merchant vessel off Leghorn, leaving it sinking.

The air communique, describing Monday night's heavy bomber attack against Pisa, said the rail yards were well covered with bomb hits.

The Germans met the thrusts across the Garigliano with fierce opposition, but the British maintained their bridgeheads.

Lighter aircraft kept pounding the Nazis in the battle area, and also carried out numerous attacks against communications in northern Italy and damaged shipping off the Dalmatian coast.

Seven enemy planes were destroyed for a loss of three Allied ships.

ness" but added cryptically that it won't be accomplished "in accordance with any familiar pattern." He said, too, that it's not logical to expect the Allies to permit continued Japanese occupation of little Aauru island, their only base between the Americans' Solomons-Gilbert island offensive arc.

For the present, Allied bombers gave Rabaul and Kavieng a reweather—and concentrated instead on northern New Guinea. They dropped 120 tons of explosives on the enemy's supply dumps at Hansa bay between Madang and Wewak. Other attacks hit Bogadjim, south of Madang.

Naval units bombarded the Japanese barge center at Gali, southeast of Madang, while enemy shipping suffered further crippling blows in attacks which destroyed barges and small craft along the coasts of the Admiralty islands and New Britain.

Foundrymen Strike

"must be ended immediately" would be disregarded.

"Unless concessions are made by somebody," said H. W. Sprague, chairman of the Pacific Northwest negotiating committee for the union, "the strike will proceed."

The national WLB also appealed to AFL President William Green and the AFL executive council, now in session at Miami, to intercede in support of labor's "no strike" pledge. The board said the back-to-work order had the support of Henry Stevenson of Cincinnati, the union's international president.

Plane Work Continue

A threat to the production of Boeing bombers was dispelled by the union's agreement to permit aeronautical workers pass picket lines at the foundry which turns out wing spars.

The principal union grievance was the regional WLB's refusal to grant an 8-cent hourly wage increase to the journeymen $1.20 scale, although increases of 2½ to 7 cents were allowed in lower brackets.

and increases of from nine to 11 cents for the non-ops

The 15 non-op unions originally had asked for 20 cents an hour more and the operating brotherhoods a 30 per cent hike, or $3 a day, whichever might be greater.

In his announcement, Secretary Stimson said the agreements, which were approved by Wage Stabilization Director Vinson, "provide assurance that there will be no stoppage of rail service and that the employes of the roads will continue to discharge their responsibilities faithfully and conscientiously so that there may be no diminution in the rising tide of our military might."

Personnel Ranks Thinned

Senator Wheeler, however, who is chairman of the Senate Interstate Commerce committee, said the military draft and the lure of higher wages in war industry are thinning personnel ranks to dangerous levels.

"If something isn't done to relieve this situation," the Montanan said, "we are in for serious trouble."

Meanwhile, Wheeler and Senator Reed (R-Kans) are awaiting War Food administration (WFA) action on their request for rescission of an order diverting 200 box cars daily to Canada for moving Canadian wheat into this country.

Reed said WFA Administrator Marvin Jones "has indicated that the order will be vacated and the railroads left to work out themselves."

If this isn't done, Reed said, he and Wheeler will introduce a resolution "to require that the order be vacated"

GOP Wins Two Seats In House

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 19 (AP)—Republicans held two additional seats in the House of Representatives today after scoring victories in special elections in Pennsylvania's 2nd and 17th Congressional districts.

Joseph M. Pratt (R), who led his opponent William A. Barrett (D) by 5581 votes in last night's late returns from 163 of 164 divisions in the 2nd district, will fill the vacancy created by the resignation of James P. McGranery (D), now assistant to Attorney General Biddle. The 2nd district gave:

Joseph M. Pratt (R) 24,910.
William A. Barrett (D) 19,329.

Chairman Jubilant

Jubilant over the results, Republican City Chairman David W. Harris said the voters "have elected a congressman equipped by background and experience to represent the interests," and hailed election results as "prophetic of the Republican trend that will carry Philadelphia next year."

In the 17th district, in Montgomery County, yesterday Samuel K. McConnell (R) decisively defeated Marvin B. Brunner (D). Complete returns from 191 districts give McConnell a plurality of 16,774 votes. The 17th district gave:

Samuel K. McConnell (R) 20,173.
Marvin B. Brunner (D) 3,919.

McConnell will succeed J. William Ditter (R), who was killed in an airplane crash near Columbia, Pa., last November 21.

The election of Pratt and McConnell gives the Republicans a total of 209 seats in the House, with five vacancies remaining to be filled. The Democrats, however, still hold numerical superiority with 217 seats. Four seats are held by minor party representatives.

Legion Urges Called Session

HOUSTON, Jan. 19 (AP) — State commander Sam D. Forman disclosed today that the American Legion of Texas has requested Gov. Coke Stevenson to call a special legislative session to repeal the poll tax as applied to servicemen.

Congressional, district and division representatives of the state's 40,000 legionnaires have forwarded a letter to Stevenson asking him to "exercise your privilege of office and call the special session that these great fighting men may be permitted to vote without payment of a poll tax."

Forman, estimating that over 500,000 Texas men and women are in uniform, asserted that legionnaires "are solid behind this action."

"Some Pretty Hot"

"Some are pretty hot about it and they demand an end to all this talking," he added.

The letter asked that "permission be given soldiers, including women, to exercise their rights as American citizens and residents of the state of Texas" and that "we cannot consistently refuse them the right of a ballot."

Forman said he believed Stevenson would call a special session but "should he not, the boys individually will take the fight to the legislators in a statewide campaign."

HEALTH QUIZ

	Yes	No
Do you have poor digestion?	☐	☐
Do you feel headachy after eating?	☐	☐
Do you get sour or upset easily?	☐	☐
Do you feel tired—listless?	☐	☐

Now everyone knows that to get the good out of the food you eat—you must digest it properly. But what most people don't know is that Nature must produce about two pints of the digestive juice—liver bile—each day to help digest your food. If Nature fails—your food may remain undigested—lie sour and heavy in your digestive tract.

Thus, it is simple to see that one way to aid digestion is to increase the flow of liver bile. Now, Carter's Little Liver Pills start to increase this flow quickly for thousands—often in as little as thirty minutes. When bile flow increases, your digestion may improve. And, soon you're on the road to feeling better—which is what you're after.

Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's aid digestion after Nature's own order, when taken as directed. Get Carter's Little Liver Pills today—at any druggists—only 25¢. You will be glad you did.

Westerners Sweep Pair With Lamesa

Lubbock A Team Wins 46 To 32

LAMESA, Jan. 19 (Special)—The Lubbock Westerners repeated it's twin win over the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes here last night, the B team winning 32-31 in the curtain raiser while the A team romped to a 46 to 32 victory in the nightcap.

The Westerners were playing without the services of Marion Manderson, the team's top scorer, who was left at home because of illness.

Again the Lubbock B team nosed out a one point victory over Lamesa B team, winning 32 to 31 in a real thriller. The Westerners started pulling away late in the first half and won in the nightcap by a more comfortable margin of 46 to 32.

The outstanding star of the night was Bill Cope, forward for the Westerners, who fired in six field goals and seven donation tosses for a night's total of 19 points to finish far out in the front of anyone else in scoring honors.

The locals were led by Rhodes, who accounted for 10 points, to finish just ahead of Hawkins who accounted for nine points. George Brewer was the runnerup for Lubbock, getting eight points.

It was a real battle throughout the first half and at the end of the first quarter the score was knotted 9 to 9, but late in the second period, Lubbock pulled ahead and held a 22 to 17 margin at the half.

The Westerners began hitting on all cylinders in the last half, and by the end of the third quarter had boosted the advantage to 34 to 24 and coasted in with the victory over the locals through the fourth period.

The opening game was another nip and tuck battle with the outcome in doubt until the final by Lamesa cut the lead to one point, but Father Time killed the rally more effectively than the Lubbock defense.

Lamesa cagers carried off the scoring honors for the game in a merry battle between O. Roberts and Horton, each getting five field goals, but the latter adding an extra point for honors.

The Lubbock scoring was well divided between five lads with Charles Pressley nosing out for top honors with nine points, one better than Price. Dean, Lindsey and Grimes divided the rest of the scoring.

There was very little scoring done in the first period, but Lubbock got away to a 6 to 3 lead. Lamesa came back in the second quarter and the tempo was stepped up, the period ending with the teams in a deadlock, 17-17.

Lamesa came back strong in the third period, and pulled into the lead to hold a 25 to 22 advantage at the close of the third period. But Lubbock again staged a rally and regained the lead, going into the final seconds of the game with what looked as a safe lead, only to have Lamesa whittle down the advantage to one point just before the gun.

A crowd of about 350 turned out for the games.

Idalou Sweeps Double Bill With Abernathy

IDALOU, Jan. 19 (Special)—The Idalou High school cagers won a doubleheader over the Abernathy boys and girls here last night with the girls winning the opener in a close 19 to 18 battle while the boys worked smoothly to win the nightcap, 39 to 18.

Scoring honors were close in the curtain raiser with Sage and Countess of Idalou copping honors with seven points. Robertson and Halfred of Abernathy crowded them with six points each.

The Idalou boys were paced to the victory in the second game by Sneed, who accounted for 16 points. Smith led the visitors with six points.

Budge-Kramer Bout Is Sanctioned By Tennis Association

NEW YORK, Jan. 19 (U.P.)—The U. S. Lawn Tennis association relaxed its rules today to permit a match here Jan. 28 between amateur runner-up Coast Guard Cadet John A. Kramer of New London, Conn., and Lt. Donald Budge of Lubbock, Tex., world professional champion, for war bond buyers.

Alice Marble of San Francisco, top ranking women's pro star also will appear against Mary Hardwick, who was foremost British woman star until the war ended international tennis in 1939.

$2,500,000 Bond Goal

Officials of the association said they were sanctioning the competition between pros and amateurs because of the $2,500,000 war bond goal for the event and because both Budge and Kramer were in the service.

In other matches, Pauline Betz of Los Angeles, the national amateur women's champion, plays Katherine Winthrop of Boston and Miss Marble and Kramer oppose Budge and Mrs. Dorothy Round Little of Great Britain in mixed doubles.

A fifth match may be staged if Ensign Ted Schroeder, Lt. Don McNeill, or Lt. Gardner Mulloy are available. Schroeder and McNeill are former national champions.

Boxers In Service To Receive Award

NEW YORK, Jan. 19 (U.P.)—Professional boxing bestows its highest award tonight on the 4,100 former boxers who are in the armed forces.

For the first time in history of the Edward J. Neil plaque, this most coveted of pugilism's awards will be given to a group instead of to an individual, during the annual dinner of the New York Boxing Writers' association at Ruppert's brewery.

In the past the award has gone to the individual who did the most for the game during the year. It went to Jack Dempsey, Billy Conn, Henry Armstrong, Joe Louis and Barney Ross.

Three other awards will be given at the dinner.

The Ring magazine will present its award for the boxer who contributed most to the sport during 1943 to a representative of Fred Apostoli, former middleweight champion who distinguished himself as a gun captain on a warship in the southwest Pacific. The Ring's award for the outstanding civilian boxer of 1943 will be given to a representative of Manuel Ortiz, of California, world bantamweight champion.

The Box Writers association will confer a secondary award upon Net Fleischer, editor of The Ring magazine, for his 40 years of service to boxing and for his appearances, with movies, at service camps and his contributions of boxing equipment to various camps.

Cooper Cagers Win Pair From Slaton

The Cooper High school cage fives took both halves of a cage double bill from the Slaton clubs Tuesday night at the Cooper court with the girls winning 40 to 14 and the boys copping a 21 to 19 thriller.

The boys' win was hair-thin, winding up with the count 21 to 19 in a game during which the lead, never more than five points, was held most of the time by the home five. Conversely, the Cooper girls were never extended to take a 40 to 14 tilt from the female visitors.

Hanna of Slaton was principal net swisher in the males' game, lobbing in 10 points. Cooper's scoring was passed around, with Johnson and Watson getting six each, Henderson five and Price four.

Mary Frances Wilkie, with 26 points, was high-scorer for Cooper girls, while Greer compiled eight to lead for Slaton.

Return games will be played Feb. 1 at Slaton.

Cooper takes on New Deal at Cooper Friday night.

SPAAF Downs Tech Engineers

Commandos In Tie For League Lead

Taking an early lead, and holding it the rest of the way, the high scoring South Plains Army Air field cage five moved into a tie with LAAF for the leadership in the Lubbock basketball league by winning 54 to 48 over the Texas Tech Engineers last night at the Tech gym.

It was the opened for the Winged Commandos and tied them with the cross town rivals, Lubbock Army Air field, both with victories over the Engineers. The two teams meet Thursday night at the South Plains court for the undisputed league leadership.

The Air Field lads gain control of the lead in the games Tuesday night shortly after the opening tipoff, and were never headed off, but could never get enough margin on which to coast as the Engineers kept close on their heels until the final gun.

Leason "Stormy" McCloud, former All-American from Colorado, set the scoring pace for the night, but at least three men crowded him all the way to finish in a deadlock for the runnerup honors, each with 14 points.

Kline, Ohio star with the winners, and the Engineer pair of Bailey and Kaiser were consistent with their scoring efforts and it was a real battle all the way with the Engineers pulling within four points twice in the hectic last half.

Bailey's seven field goals for the Engineers during the game brought him the scoring leadership for the league with 24 points in two games to replace his teammate Booth, who was held scoreless Tuesday night by the SPAAF five.

The game also produced a new threat in Stumpy Kaiser, a product of Purdue, and even with two losses, the Engineers are far from out of the running in the cage league.

Mentor Hopes His Retirement Sticks—

Pete Cawthon Is Liberal With Praise For Packer Ace Hutson

PETE CAWTHON

BY HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

FORT WORTH, Jan. 19—Pete Cawthon doubt that Don Hutson's retirement is an active player for the Green Bay Packers will stick.

But the coach of the Brooklyn Dodger football team surely hopes it does.

"That fellow is uncanny," says the drawling Texan who spent last season in the gridiron's big-time. "I thought I had seen some good pass receivers until I saw Hutson. Now I know there is only ONE pass receiver and that's Hutson—he's all by himself.

Looking For Material

Pete made his observations while visiting Fort Worth looking for Brooklyn material next season.

Cawthon declares Hutson is one of those fellows you can't appreciate or even believe without seeing him. "And the other you see him—on the other fellow's team—the more you know how great a football player he is."

In spite of his eight years of pro play, Hutson still is one of the fastest men in the National league, say Cawthon.

"His hands are so big and strong and skilled, that Hutson can, and often does, catch a pass with one hand while warding off a would-be coverer with the other. I saw him do that against such a fine player as Pug Manders—and then apologize to Manders. It burned Pug up—but Hutson made the touchdown."

Eludes Defenders

The secret of Hutson's great success is NOT, however, his rare skill in catching the ball, but his magic in getting away from defenders, Cawthon adds.

No one knows exactly how he does it, but football has yet to produce the player who can cover Hutson with any degree of success over any extended period of time, Pete declares.

"The longer they try the worse they get at the job. It is only the young and the cocky who'll try. The old heads just give up and frankly say they can't cover Hutson."

Aggies Say Farewell Today To Reveille

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 19 (AP)—Aggieland says goodbye today to Reveille—the dog that wormed her way into the hearts of thousands to become a symbol of fighting spirit.

The little black and white mascot of Texas A. and M., termed "more than an animal; she is a tradition" by President F. C. Bolton, died of old age yesterday in the veterinary hospital.

The Aggie band will play "The Spirit of Aggieland" and "Silver Taps" this afternoon when they bury Rev in the center of Kyle Field, where the dog loved to cavort during half-time drills at football games.

Reveille's collar will be placed in a case and a plaque will be affixed to the entrance of the stadium.

Arizona Champ Enters 'Gloves'

Welterweight Is Latest Entrant

The annual District Golden Glove boxing tournament, slated for the Texas Tech gym Feb. 3, 4 and 5 received an entry yesterday from Clifford J. Smith, welterweight champion from Arizona, who now lives in Lubbock, Bill Parker, tournament official announces.

Parker, who has been receiving entries for the big mid-winter sports feature, revealed that Smith now resides in Lubbock at 2101 30th. street and will enter the welterweight division. He weighs 141 pounds.

Smith last year was the welterweight champion of the Arizona Golden Gloves tournament and finalist in the California Golden Gloves tournament in Los Angeles. His entry will add much strength to the welterweight division. He is 18 years old.

Parker did not reveal how many entries had been received at tournament headquarters at Texas Tech, but said that enough had already been received there to assure Lubbock a top ranking tournament.

The entry of the South Plains Army Air Field gives the tournament a military flavor, and along with Smith will bring in colorful assortment of former champions and make the title in every division a wide open battle.

The eight winners from the Lubbock District Golden Gloves tournament will be sent to the Tournament of Champions in Fort Worth Feb. 16-21 with all expenses paid, and present indications are that the Lubbock team will be a strong contingent.

What Readers Of The Evening Journal Say—
The Plainsman Gets Some Mail

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Letters from readers are welcomed at all times and on all subjects. However, no letter of more than 500 words will be considered for publication, and all letters belittling, or impugning the motive of any individual, firm or corporation must include for publication, the true name of the author. The Editor shall be the sole judge of whether or not letters may be published and cannot engage in correspondence concerning them).

WALNUT TREES

Dear Plainsman: I wish to say through the columns of your valuable paper, which several weeks ago carried my offer to furnish free a walnut to any parent who wished to grow a beautiful tree in honor of a son, relative or friend in the armed services, that the wide publicity given the offer has resulted in many hundreds of choice black walnuts being mailed to parents over the entire South Plains. I am still sending them out that way in most every mail. Your paper has a wonder coverage and is a dynamic force in West Texas.

I have endeavored to give instructions as to planting to each parent ordering them but will repeat here that they may be planted on the South Plains area up to February 15th and should be planted to a depth of three or four inches in the very best soil and the ground kept moist if planted late.

The work has gained wide attention among the people in all parts of the state where civic organizations are taking it up as the most beautiful way of honoring our sons and daughters in the armed forces. My idea is that the home is the best place to grow trees for the good of the state and the refining influence trees have in forming character among the young and surely when the boys and girls come home to see a tree growing as a memorial to their patriotism will give each of them a pride that could not come from any thing else.

I have a fine lot of nuts on hand yet and will be mailing them until time for planting has past.

R. E. Sparkman,
Italy, Texas.

WANTS LESS CAMOUFLAGE

Let's remove camouflage from political statements of would be Caesars referring to interest in war shown by the home front. Man's interest is where his treasures lie. Few are the people of any community without some son, brother, father, or perhaps daughter or sister serving faithfully in our armed forces. Most of us have them in foreign service. Our unselfish thought is their best interest. Our disagreement with those in executive positions could be the feeling their best interests are not always considered, not lack of patriotism or interest in this war.

What is there to this much advertised manpower shortage? True better wages are paid for less choice of employees. With jobs more plentiful workers are more likely to quit. But here at least no such widely advertised shortage is found. Investigation probably would show unfilled positions to be sub-standard. Then as seen in cotton harvesting these shortages are over emphasized. Seasonable work is always difficult. These old catch phrases such as "scraping the bottom of the barrel" affects me personally like someone scratching a slate.

"All out" war is another mythical example. One hundred forty million people residing in over fifty thousand separate communities, each composed of varieties of business institutions for the most part necessary to produce, manufacture and distribute their own necessities of life, and operate their own civil government, pay taxes required to maintain their country and pay super-extravagant war costs. Our armed forces will use some eleven million of these, of which probably three million will actually fight in the war with the remainder in non-combatant work supporting the fighting men on the front. To say the remaining one hundred thirty million will go "all out" to maintain this force would be like the tail wagging the dog.

That sounds like political emergency talk, not without a precedent. Such a condition could not exist no matter what amount of money was appropriated or emergency powers delegated. Stop every thing except war effort and people would leave their homes and congregate in a few hundred localities. Farms would be deserted for farmers require processing, manufacturing and distribution of raw products. Should such a condition even partly exist property would depreciate, business houses fall down, roads and street grow up with weeds and grass, coyotes roam unmolested in non-war industry towns like Lubbock, and a ruin and desolation be left that no war front could match, and to which no soldier would desire to return or fight to maintain.

In my opinion all this double talk, these trial balloons, these outworn catch words and phrases meaning nothing, these doleful prophesies by "political strategists," these efforts to make men noble by preaching of horrors to come should be junked not only for the duration but forever. Our soldiers are ready to fight, our home people are ready for any required sacrifice except those of political expediency, so why not cut out these camouflaged statements, fight the war, cross bridges as we come to them, and quit devoting so much time, money and effort trying to propagandize our home front, the soldiers and our enemies.

AS regular readers of this stint well know, The Plainsman stays away from poetry, except in unusual cases where a rhyme puts over a thought.

The other day there was brought to us such a poem. Bill Pettyjohn, who works over at Dickinson Motor Co., ran across it in his old home paper, the Bemidji (Mich.) Daily Pioneer, and thought South Plains people should have a chance to read and to ponder it.

According to the Bemidji paper, the poem was written by Lt. Dean Shatlain an American tank commander, on an African battlefield. Wounded, Shatlain amputated his own foot with a jack-knife; despaired of his life when he wrote the following lines. However, he was rescued and now is convalescing in England.

Here is the poem, which embraces a question all of us might well ask ourselves every day between now and Victory. Its title is, "What Did You Do Today, My Friend?"

What did you do today, my friend,
From morning until night?
How many times did you complain
That rationing is too tight?
When are you going to start to do
All of the things you say?
A soldier would like to know, my friend,
WHAT DID YOU DO TODAY?

We met the enemy today
And took the town by storm.
Happy reading it will make
For you, tomorrow morn.
You'll read with satisfaction
The brief communique.
We fought. But are you fighting?
WHAT DID YOU DO TODAY?

My gunner died in my arms today.
I feel his warm blood yet.
Your neighbors dying boy gave out
A scream I can't forget.
Cos my right, a tank was hit;
A flash, and then a fire!
The stench of burning human flesh.
Still rises from the pyre.

WHAT DID YOU DO TODAY, MY FRIEND,
To help us with the task?
Did you work harder, and longer, for less,
Or is that too much to ask?
What right have I to ask you this?
You probably will say.
Maybe now you'll understand.
You see, I DIED TODAY!

It seems to The Plainsman that Lt. Shatlain poses a question embarrassing to about 99.99 per cent of us.

AT a New York meeting of the American Prison association the other day, Col. Edward Shattuck, general counsel of the Selective Service system, went on record as favoring the release of numerous jail and prison inmates to fight in the current war.

He said there are about 90,000 men of military age now incarcerated in cells throughout the country; that about 5,000 of them are both single and in tip-top physical shape — therefore ready for immediate induction.

"There never was a time in the history of this country," he said, "when this manpower was needed more. If we can take these 5,000 men from prison, we'll have 5,000 honorable, self-respecting men when the war is over and—more important—we can keep here at home 5,000 dependable married men with families."

Is Colonel Shattuck right in his insistence that men be freed from jail to fight?

If he is, shall the men be scattered through the armed forces, there to live and fight—and, perhaps, influence—men without criminal backgrounds?

Or should they make up their own fighting force and thereby be indelibly stamped for life as "jailbird soldiers?"

There will be quite a division of opinion on the subject among civilians, as, indeed, there is in our armed forces.

The Army, for instance, will take an ex-convict now; the Navy will not. As a matter of fact, the Navy will not accept a man with as many as three misdemeanor convictions against him—much less one or more for felonies.

That Man on Avenue Q says all told, most men have spent more time trying to blow one smoke ring through another than in trying to make this a better world to live in.

A Dallasite, married 50 years, says he has never quarreled with his wife.

We must make a note to ask him sometime if it's true that the first 25 years of saying "Yes, dear," are the hardest!

NOT long ago, The Plainsman, a mere layman with no medical knowledge, boldly commented upon the use of "sulfa" drugs, especially urging people not to take them except under the supervision of a doctor.

Yesterday, we ran across an item in the New York Times which adds weight to our homespun advice.

The second annual report of the Public Health Research Institute of the City of New York includes this information, vouched for by Drs. L. A. Julianelle and Morris Siegel:

"After several weeks of continuous administration of sulfadiazine (one of a half dozen drugs with a 'sulfa' base) some bacteria found in the throat became so used to the drug that they were no longer affected by it. This raises the possibility that should these bacteria cause a disease, the 'sulfa' drugs would no longer be effective."

In short, if people choke down "sulfa" tablets every time they think they might be taking cold, they may immunize their systems against action of the drug when it really is needed in a serious respiratory attack.

Them pills ain't no confection. Be sure you're right before you take 'em.

There'll never be any reason for rationing hats as long as there are so many lying around in political rings!

ONE of the busiest places in wartime Washington is the "lost and mislaid" department of the bustling Union Station.

Before the hostilities broke out in Europe, only about 1,000 articles per year were lost or mislaid in the capital city's depot. In fact, one attendant, working only several hours a day, was able to handle the bureau.

But during 1943, a total of 15,000 articles was left behind in the station and a staff of seven recovery men, staggered on a 24-hour basis, are kept hard at work trying to get all lost and mislaid items into the right hands.

The strain of nerves attendant to war, plus the fact that many people going to and from Washington now are inexperienced travelers, make up the answer to the "how come?" of the situation.

TWO VICTORIES FOR MRS. EDGAR

CHAPTER XXVI

Emily's head ached, her heart went on hammering, the palms of her hands were wet. She wasn't in love, she thought, not in the crazy sense of wanting to make love. Who can make love, who can create it? She merely loved this man sitting here beside her with every breath she drew.

He said: "If I thought she were really the way she tries to make people think—"

Emily drew a deep breath. She said steadily:

"She's not. She is, as you say, unhappy, and I think, frightened. She's acquired a certain veneer, a protective coloring. Underneath, she's sound and sweet. The right man would find her so."

"Thanks," he said, after a while, and rose. "I'm overdue at the office," he told her. He put his hand on her shoulder hard. "You're swell," he said gratefully.

Long after he had left her she sat there and felt the tears spill down her face. Then she wiped them away and went back into the house. She hadn't let Nancy down, and she hadn't let herself down. Because she believed all she had said. She knew Nancy, none better. What she didn't believe was that Jim was the man for Nancy, the man to call out all her latent tenderness and gentleness, to bring her happiness, to be made happy in his turn.

She spoke to some unseen monitor as she went slowly upstairs. But what else could I have said? she asked helplessly.

Autumn blazed past, and Mrs. Edgar launched her campaign beginning the night that Emily, with extreme reluctance, dined at the Edgar house, with a friendly, even affectionate hostess. After dinner she sent Frank up to the attic in order to find an old snapshot book. During his absence, much prolonged as the book was reposing in a bottom drawer of Mrs. Edgar's own desk, she offered Emily a cigaret and some advice.

She said gently, "Frank's asked you to marry him, hasn't he?"

Emily nodded, and waited.

"Of course, I would be delighted," Elsie Edgar assured her, and murmured something about her affection for the entire Hall family, "and yet—you will permit me to be honest?"

"Of course," said Emily, suppressing a desire to laugh.

"For both your sakes," said Mrs. Edgar smoothly, "it might not be wise — much as I would like to see it."

Emily said, rather shortly:

"I've refused him, Mrs. Edgar."

"You used to call me Aunt Elsie," said the older woman. She added, "He doesn't believe that you'll go on refusing forever. Frank's very persistent."

She added idly that, persistent or not, he was susceptible. "That pretty girl in New York—I disapproved of her, my dear. I hoped he'd get over it, and he did. And then I thought perhaps that he and Nancy—" she smiled and shrugged.

Emily waited again.

Mrs. Edgar said with an entirely spurious air of helplessness and appeal:

"If I knew what to do . . . It's appalling to see him so indecisive, but you could help me, Emily, if—if you weren't in Cranberry . . ."

Emily's eyes were quiet and cautious. She braced herself. She thought, here it comes, and she's quite capable . . . Mrs. Edgar hurried on. She said, "After all, you're wasted here. You have a remarkable talent . . . of sympathy and understanding. A larger field than Cranberry, perhaps Boston, for instance . . . I have considerable influence, and things might be arranged—"

She paused, expectantly, and Emily said gently:

"I understand perfectly. But I like my job here, and the reason I came home was to be near my mother and father."

"Of course. And yet—"

Emily thought, it might be a solution. Away from Cranberry—from Jim. If she didn't see him every day, if she didn't have to watch him with Nancy, and feel the slow twist of the knife each time . . .? She said, on a deep breath:

"I—I will think it over."

"Good," said Mrs. Edgar. She added after a minute, "By the way, I haven't told anyone yet, not even Frank, but I am expecting a house guest. When I was in England years ago I met such a charming woman, Lady Eleanor Dawson. The younger daughter of the Duke of Molrey," she explained gently. "Her husband, Captain Dawson, died during the last war. She — Lady Eleanor — has a very attractive daughter, Muriel. Lady Eleanor sent her over here to school when the blitz started. She's spent most of her vacations with relatives in Canada . . . but I thought it would be nice if she could spend Christmas here . . ."

Mrs. Edgar went on smoothly, "So I invited her a few days ago. There's a letter in today's mail saying she'll be delighted to come." She added that it would be great fun to have a young girl in the house. Muriel was nineteen, a typical English blonde.

Emily repressed a desire to inquire about her teeth and the size of her feet.

Frank arrived, disgusted. He hadn't found the damned book. He didn't believe it existed. His mother apologized, amiably. "I'm so sorry, but it doesn't matter, really, Frank, I haven't told you, I was saving it as a sort of after dinner—savory . . . but I learned today that the government has decided upon the Elderberry property as the proper site for the defense housing."

Chalk up two victories for Mrs. Edgar.

Marine Ace Racks Up Five Zeros In Fight

MUNDA, New Georgia in the Solomons, Jan. 14 (Delayed) (AP)—Already an ace, Marine Lt. Robert Hanson of Newtonville, Mass., shot down five Japanese zeros today before, during and after a raid on Rabaul.

He's the third flier to do that in a single combat in the south Pacific. The other two, Lt. Col. Harold W. Bauer and Major Gregory Boyington, are now listed as missing in action.

Lieutenant Hanson, who flew one of the Corsairs which escorted the dive bombers and torpedo bombers to Rabaul, is a native of Lucknow, India, and the son of Methodist missionaries.

His biggest day prior to today was last Nov. 1 while covering the landing of Marines at Empress Augusta bay on Bougainville. That day he shot down two enemy Zeros and a dive bomber.

This Curious World

BY WILLIAM FERGUSON

Today's Journal Editorial

OUR WAY IS THE BETTER

On occasions most of us have heard the remark: "Lubbock ought to have an elected police chief." Most city officials of the past 15 or 20 years have heard it now and then. They know that certain politicians have tried to steam up sentiment for such a scheme. Fortunately, the schemers have failed.

Wisdom of the appointive plan of naming the Lubbock chief was demonstrated last week in our splendid neighboring city, Abilene. The chief there is elected. Such an election was held last week to fill a vacancy caused by the death of the former police chief.

Nine candidates announcced. Seven were members—mostly key members—of the police department. The campaign developed more than a little bitterness, as political fights invariably do. Some of the defeated candidates have returned to duty as policemen. Comment is unnecessary concerning the friction and disorganization that would be inescapable under such conditions.

We much prefer the Lubbock plan of letting the City commission name the chief. If we get a bad chief, we aren't "stuck" with him until his term ends. And we do not have a department filled with politically ambitious men who constantly are campaigning for the next election.

We have a chief—a very fine chief in the person of Don Reeder—who holds his job because he is a competent officer, not because he happens to be a better vote-getter than someone else.

Hold Everything

"Aw, quit worrying about that new international police force!"

Sweden Clamps Down On Visas For Nazis

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 19 (AP) — Sweden in effect broke off cultural and scientific relations today with Germany.

Because of Swedish indignation over Nazi deportations of Norwegian university students Sweden will now curtail visas to German scientists and cultural experts who have been some of the Reich's best propagandists. Announcing this, Foreign Minister Christian E. Guenther told the Riksdag:

"They are no longer welcome. The deportation of Norwegian students showed that Germany really is trying to cripple Norwegian cultural life and Germany can no longer expect the former generous treatment on visas for German scientists and cultural representatives."

Over 195,000 Farmers Get Soil Payments

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 19 (AP)—B. F. Vance, state AAA administrator, announced today that payments covering 138,804 AAA applications have been made to over 195,000 farmers for building soil fertility and increasing food production.

Under the 1943 AAA agricultural conservation program payments totaling $38,644,000 will be made to Texas farmers who cooperated in the program, the administration said.

Special dairy feed payments totaling $480,280 have been made to 34,745 dairy farmers in Texas through December, Vance said. Similar payments for November and December will be made this month."

TOO MUCH SUNSHINE

HOUSTON, Jan. 19 (U.P.)—Motorists here set a record yesterday for bad driving. There were 302 arrests, the most in any one day since the police traffic bureau was established Sept. 1, 1942. Officers blamed the abundance of traffic violations to the balmy weather. "Too much sunshine," they guessed.

THEY tell you that long before he was elevated to the position he now occupies, Jim Byrnes was always successful in getting FDR to read his memos to the White House. Because his notes were never longer than four lines. Byrnes learned his lesson the first time—when he submitted a windy report to the President.

"Did you read it?" he inquired.

"Read it?" said FDR, "I couldn't even lift it!"

The society lady said he was most interesting and then asked him: "What business are you in?"

"Listen, lady," he replied, "did I ask you your business?"

Another at the table asked the "Killer" why he didn't cash in on his publicity and go into the movies like his pal Raft.

"I don't wanna be like Raft," he said, "I only wanna live like him!"

NIFTY REPORTING: J. H. Wechsler to his editor: "There could be a happy ending to the war of nerves. FDR might just call us all in and tell us, off the record, his plans for 1944. There'd not be more than 200 of us in the room. Each of us would feel our dignity had been respected; each of us could just mention it to our intimates and relatives with a reminder that it was not to be spread around. This would win the President back a lot of old friends, and it would be treated as a military secret.

"Not more than 200 cab drivers would be telling it to their passengers by nightfall."

TO read his life story you'd never suspect Gen. George Marshall had a sensayuma, which he has. A few days after the gov't took over the railroads, the General had a birthday. Sec'y of War Stimson summoned nearly all high ranking army officers in Washington to the Pentagon, and then he sent for the Chief of Staff. As Marshall entered, they raised their glasses and shouted "Happy Birthday!"

"Sorry I was tardy," he clowned—and then he sang the first few bars of: "I've Been Workin' on the Railroad!"

Passenger Traffic Stopped In Croatia

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 19 (AP) — The Scandinavian telegraph bureau (German dominated) said today that officials of Zagreb, capital of Croatia, had announced that passenger traffic on Croation railways would be stopped for a month beginning Friday.

No reason for the action was given. It might mean the Germans are moving heavy troop and supply transports into the Balkans. Or the suspension might be caused by extensive sabotage on the Yugoslav railway system.

POPULAR STUDENTS

CHICAGO, Jan. 19 (U.P.)—Hubbard Long and Loyal Wood, both 14, returned to school today, very popular with their classmates. The boys played hookey yesterday, found a bakery truck with its motor running, decided to play "refugee relief," and distributed free pies and cakes to their classmates at recess. They were en route to a second school when police overtook them.

The Way It Will Probably Work Out

Sgt. Bill Mauldin Makes A Name For Himself As Cartoonist

Front-Line Artist Depicts War For Buddies

BY ERNIE PYLE

Journal War Correspondent

IN ITALY, Jan. 19—(By Wireless)—Sergt. Bill Mauldin appears to us over here to be the finest cartoonist the war has produced. And that's not merely because his cartoons are funny, but because they are also terribly grim and real.

Mauldin's cartoons aren't about training-camp life, which you at home are best acquainted with. They are about the men in the line—the tiny percentage of our vast army who are actually up there in that other world doing the dying. His cartoons are about the war.

ERNIE PYLE

Mauldin's central cartoon character is a soldier, unshaven, unwashed, unsmiling. He looks more like a hobo than like your son. He looks, in fact, exactly like a doughfoot who has been in the lines for two months. And that isn't pretty.

Mauldin's cartoons in a way are bitter. His work is so mature that I had pictured him as a man approaching middle age. Yet he is only 22, and he looks even younger. He himself could never have raised the heavy black beard of his cartoon dogface. His whiskers are soft and scant, his nose is upturned good-naturedly, and his eyes have a twinkle.

His maturity comes simply from a native understanding of things, and from being a soldier himself for a long time. He has been in the Army three and a half years.

Calls Phoenix Home

Bill Mauldin was born in Mountain Park, N. M. He now calls Phoenix home base, but we of New Mexico could claim him without much resistance on his part.

Bill has drawn ever since he was a child. He always drew pictures of the things he wanted to grow up to be, such as cowboys and soldiers, not realizing that what he really wanted to become was a man who draws pictures.

He graduated from high school in Phoenix at 17, took a year at the Academy of Fine Arts in Chicago, and at 18 was in the Army. He did 64 days on KP duty in his first four months. That fairly cured him of a lifelong worship of uniforms.

MAULDIN belongs to the 45th Division. Their record has been a fine one, and their losses have been heavy. Mauldin's typical grim cartoon soldier is really a 45th Division infantryman, and he is one who has truly been through the mill.

Mauldin was detached from straight soldier duty after a year in the infantry, and put to work on the division's weekly paper. His true war cartoons started in Sicily and have continued on through Italy, gradually gaining recognition.

Capt. Bob Neville, Stars and Stripes editor, shakes his head with a veteran's admiration and says of Mauldin:

"He's got it. Already he's the outstanding cartoonist of the war."

Spends Time At Front

Mauldin works in a cold, dark little studio in the back of Stars & Stripes' Naples office. He wears silver-rimmed glasses when he works. His eyes used to be good, but he damaged them in his early Army days by drawing for too many hours at night with poor light.

He averages about three days out of 10 at the front, then comes back and draws up a large batch of cartoons. If the weather is good he sketches a few details at the front. But the weather is usually lousy.

"You don't need to sketch details anyhow," he says. "You come back with a picture of misery and cold and danger in your mind and you don't need any more details than that."

HIS cartoon in Stars & Stripes is headed "Up Front . . . By Mauldin." The other day some soldier wrote in a nasty letter asking what the hell did Mauldin know about the front.

Stars & Stripes printed the letter. Beneath it in italics they printed a short editor's note: "Sergt. Bill Mauldin received the Purple Heart for wounds received while serving in Italy with Private Blank's own regiment."

That's known as telling 'em.

Married In Texas

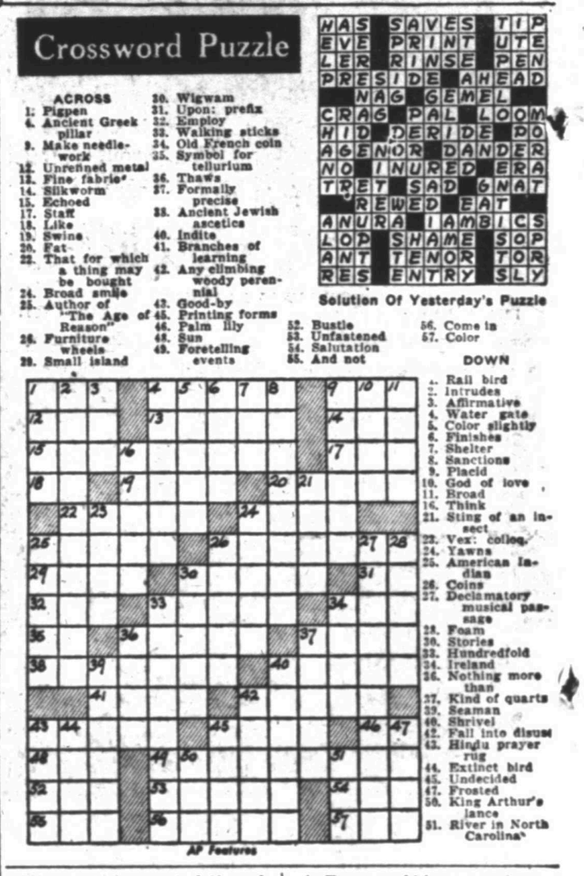

Bill Mauldin is a rather quiet fellow, a little above medium size. He smokes and swears a little and talks frankly and pleasantly. He is not eccentric in any way.

Even though he's just a kid he's a husband and father. He married in 1942 while in camp in Texas, and his son was born last Aug. 20 while Bill was in Sicily. His wife and child are living in Phoenix now. Bill carries pictures of them in his pocketbook.

Unfortunately for you and Mauldin both, the American public has no opportunity to see his daily drawings. But that isn't worrying him. He realizes this is his big chance.

After the war he wants to settle again in the Southwest, which he and I love. He wants to go on doing cartoons of these same guys who are now fighting in the Italian hills, except that by then they'll be in civilian clothes and living as they should be.

The sea is our richest source of animal proteins, vitamins and minerals which livestock must have to be healthy, productive and fast-growing.
STANTON'S 19% LAYING MASH
brings these vital elements straight from the sea and puts them to work in your poultry yard. This fine feed, milled right here in Lubbock, contains ManAmar and B-G Plus, blended with our local-grown grains into a feed especially adapted to the needs of West Texas feeders.
B-G PLUS
is a patented vacuum concentrated extract from fish. This new and potent product, resulting from ten years of ceaseless research and experiment, supplies extra trace minerals and vitamins in Stanton's 18% Laying Mash.
MANAMAR
in Stanton's 18% Laying Mash supplies the hard-to-get feeding essentials — fish proteins, food minerals and vitamins, including the important Vitamin B "Complex."
ManAmar and B-G Plus have been developed and are produced in the laboratories of Philip R. Park, famed livestock nutrition authority. These laboratories have approved the formula for Stanton's 18% Laying Mash. Let the records of users tell the rest of the story. Get all the facts today.

RAF Ace Killed

tained that name even in Italy.

In addition to his 25 confirmed kills, Wade had credit for many probables and damaged enemy aircraft.

When the American Air force entered the desert war Wade was offered the opportunity to switch to it with higher rank and more pay.

"Thanks," he replied, "but I'd rather string along with the guys I've been with so long now."

Received Decorations

Wade had been decorated with the British Distinguished Flying cross and two bars. He fought with the RAF all through the Middle East campaign and had many an adventure in the desert. Once he was rescued after a 27-mile walk after his plane had been shot down in combat.

He narrowly escaped death many times. Perhaps his closest call occurred last Nov. 4 in Italy.

With a fellow Spitfire pilot, Basil Thornton of London, Wade was patrolling forward positions for the Eighth army. They sighted an enemy formation and discovered themselves pitted against 20 Focke Wulfe 190s and Messerschmitt 109s. Wade damaged three and Thornton destroyed one.

Suddenly Wade found himself being chased by seven foes. He dropped into a valley and streaked along for miles before the enemy planes gave up the chase, presumably because they had run out of ammunition.

distinct classes," Stimson said. "On the one hand are the men who are fighting in the armed forces . . . They have been told not only that they must serve, but the time, the place and the method of their service has been chosen for them . . . They are facing a duty which they cannot escape and which involves the possibility of death or mutilation.

"On the other side they see that the government imposes no corresponding duty upon the remaining men of the nation and even permits them to leave the most important war jobs without regard to the needs of the country."

The armed forces, he stated, are "beginning to feel that they are being discriminated against."

Stimson branded as wishful thinking all talk that the war is almost over.

"In fact the war is not almost over," he declared.

Duty Of Congress

"To me it appears to be the plain duty of the Congress to give our troops this all-out necessary backing."

Stimson said national service would hasten victory, and asserted:

"Every month the war is prolonged will be measured in the lives of thousands of young men, in billions of dollars."

Stimson, who will be followed later by Navy Secretary Knox, was accorded a hearing by the Senate military committee, which is sitting on the Austin-Wadsworth national service bill and showing no inclination to get up.

Set Aside Indefinitely

A House committee pigeonholed the legislation indefinitely yesterday and several members of the Senate committee were outspokenly critical of it, despite President Roosevelt's assertion that it was needed to insure full war production.

One of the critics, Senator Johnson (D-Colo) declared last night that Stimson and Knox were trying to "Prussianize" the people.

"Why must the President listen to these military reactionaries in the conduct of civilian affairs?" Johnson demanded in a radio speech.

"When will Secretary Stimson and Secretary Knox start fighting the war and stop trying to 'Prussianize' the American people? They say the boys in the foxholes demand labor conscription. Be not deceived. No boy in the slime and mud of the jungle wants his father, his mother or his sister kicked around like dogs by bungling Washington bureaucrats."

Rail Dispute Settled

Settlement of the railroad wage dispute and restoration of the lines to private operation did national service no good in the House. Two influential representatives said that only a major strike disrupting war production at a time when battle casualties were mounting could change sentiment there.

Stimson advocated national service long before Mr. Roosevelt made it a keystone of his new legislative program.

The plan would require registration of civilian men and women for possible assignment to war jobs, at prevailing rates of pay, in places where volunteer labor forces proved insufficient.

herds.

Better Practices Urged

Renner said culling of herds, better breeding practices and better feeding practices would do a lot toward improving the milk situation in this area.

He cited the growth of the industry in this area from its start in 1920 and from three creameries in 1927 to the 20 creameries in the area today.

"Lubbock is the center of the butter manufacturing in Texas," Renner said, "more butter being made in the four plants here than in any other city in the state. In the area around Lubbock 41 per cent of all the butter in Texas is manufactured."

He also pointed out that the dairy show held each year at Plainview is the largest Jersey show, except the National Dairy show, in the U. S.

Renner was introduced by Guy McAfee, program chairman. Rollin McCord and W. T. Hanes of Tahoka, Chas. F. Lanter of Fort Worth, Louis A. Hartung of San Antonio, Fred Wemple of Midland and Lt. Dee Pratas of Tonopah, Nev., were out-of-town guests at the luncheon.

New Mexico's Gran Quivira National Monument had 2494 visitors during 1940.

SUPPORT STEADIES LIST
NEW YORK, Jan. 19 (AP) — Stocks lost a little ground today but improved support steadied the list near the finish.
There was a generous sprinkling of fractional declines among steels, rails and rubbers, while in other departments prices were mixed and generally above the day's lows. Transfers totaled about 700,000 shares.
Stocks in slightly lower territory in the final hour included U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Goodrich, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, Western Union "A", Johns-Manville and U. S. Gypsum.
Army relinquishment of control of the railroads failed to generate any special interest in the carriers, but it was figured that recent strength in the shares had fully discounted the Washington action.

Olson Starts Fourth Term Draft Move

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP) — An unofficial fourth term "draft" movement was started here today by Culbert L. Olson, former governor of California, with a prediction that his state's convention delegates will vote solidly on the first ballot for renomination of President Roosevelt.

Olson, here to attend a meeting of the Democratic national committee, told a reporter there is "no doubt" that California Democrats will unite behind a slate of delegates pledged to support President Roosevelt and Vice President Wallace.

"We feel it is essential," he said, "that President Roosevelt's leadership be continued in the war and during the period of transition to the peace."

While asserting the Republicans are gaining strength in California, Olson said polls indicate that "Roosevelt can carry it again."

EXEMPTION REFUSED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (AP) — The Senate refused, 44 to 26, to exempt farm cooperatives from a provision of the new tax bill which would require labor unions and other organizations to submit annual financial returns to the Treasury.

Eden Is Hopeful On Polish-Soviet Rift

LONDON, Jan. 19 (AP) — Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the House of Commons today that the Soviet-Polish border problem is "extremely difficult and delicate" but said the British government is keeping in closest touch with both Moscow and the Polish government-in-exile in London in an attempt to effect a settlement.

Replying to a remark by Laborite Morgan Philips Price that the differences the Russians and Poles are fraught with "extreme danger," Eden declared:

"We are not without the hope that a favorable solution may be attained. I am sure the House will feel the utmost reserve should be practiced at this particular moment."

Eden also told Commons in response to a question that Britain would not ask the United States to bar an investigation of Japanese internment camps in the United States in retaliation for Japan's refusal to permit a similar probe of conditions affecting Allied prisoners in Japanese hands.

Stevenson Speaks

the state. He did say:

Judges Respect Authority

"Our judges like to respect legislative authority. They don't like to say the legislature exceeded its authority. But it is their duty to say with courage and vigor when the situation demands: 'Thus far shall thou go and no further.' And it is our duty as citizens to accept such decisions."

In the meantime, pressure was being exerted to change the governor's mind about calling an extraordinary session of the legislature. Twenty legislators agreed in Austin to "put the heat" on the governor for a special session. They wired other members and all answers were favorable.

Sellers Is Criticized

It was Rep. Joe Ed Winfree, Houston, who declared that governor Stevenson had allowed "this man downstairs, there temporarily or accidentally, as attorney general to give him the bum steer." He referred to Attorney General Grover Sellers' opinion that the legislation would be unconstitutional

The legislators signing the petition in Austin asked for the extraordinary session to exempt soldiers from paying poll tax and extend the time for absentee voting. Meridian's Senator Karl Lovelady, chairman of the caucus, will be in charge of a telegraphic poll of his colleagues on the question.

Soldier Guilty In Attack On Girl, 13

HOUSTON, Jan. 19 (AP)—Pvt. First Class Lonnie E. Cortez, of Houston, lone serviceman among the 13 youths accused of attacking a 13-year-old Houston girl, has been found guilty of statutory rape by an Army general court martial, the Camp Wallace public relations officer announced today.

On furlough from Camp Gruber, Okla., at the time of the offense last Oct. 17, the soldier was tried by a military court at Camp Wallace on Dec. 6 because of its proximity to Houston.

The sentence reviewed and approved by Army authorities provides for dishonorable discharge, forfeiture of all pay and allowances and confinement at hard labor for five years.

Amarillo Case Denied Reopening By Court

AUSTIN, Jan. 19 (U.P.) — The Texas Supreme court today declined to reopen a suit attacking validity of an order of the Amarillo school board refusing to admit to school pupils who would not salute the flag.

A court of civil appeals had dismissed the suit on the ground that it had become moot as the school term for which the pupils were excluded had expired.

The supreme court today refused to grant a writ of error on a plea that a final decision never will be possible in Texas because a case cannot reach the supreme court within nine months, which is the maximum school term in the state.

"Buy A War Bond TODAY"

Fancy Toilet Paper Holder Is Dressed Down By Court

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (U.P.) — Music may have charms, but to the dignified U. S. court of customs and patent appeals, a toilet paper holder is just a toilet paper holder even if it contains a music box that plays "Whistle While You Work."

This nice piece of judicial interpretation was occasioned by the plaint of Thorens, Inc., New York City, which imported the "device" from Switzerland.

Thorens wanted the contraption —which plays a tune when the paper unwinds—taxed as a music box at 20 per cent ad valorem or a machine at 27½ per cent, not as a toilet paper holder at 33 1/3 per cent.

The court, brushing aside possible esthetic considerations, ruled sternly that "the article at bar" was designed for the bathroom, was useful only there and, indeed, "only when there is occasion to operate the roll." The duty was set at 33 1/3 per cent.

Dallas May Be Site Of GOP Convention

DALLAS, Jan. 19 (U.P.) — State Republican Chairman Hugh Exum of Amarillo revealed today that site of the state party convention on May 23 would be decided by the GOP executive committee when it meets in Dallas Feb. 22.

It was understood Dallas likely was to be chosen the convention city.

The meeting will be held in conjunction with a Lincoln day dinner at which Clarence Buddington Kelland, national committeeman from Arizona as well as prominent author, will be the main speaker.

Texas Dealer Is Sure $2 Bills Are Unlucky

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 19 (AP) — He didn't believe in the superstition before but Ernest Colwell, Pecos, Tex., used car dealer, is firmly convinced today that $2 bills are unlucky.

He reported to police that a brief case containing $4,500 in $2 bills was stolen from his automobile while he was attending a used car auction.

NEW PENNIES OUT

NEW YORK, Jan. 19 (AP)—New one cent coins, made of copper and zinc, which resemble the prewar copper pennies, have been put in circulation by the Federal Reserve bank of New York but bank officials said that because of shortages the "steel plug" pennies would remain in circulation.

CORNELL GETS PHEASANT

ITHACA, N. Y., Jan. 19 (U.P.)—A rare albino cock pheasant has been given to the Ornithology Department of Cornell University. The donor was Franklin Cornell, descendant of the founder of the institution, on whose farm the bird was shot. The bird has a light copper-colored breast with some red on the head.

midable defense zone, taking one concrete block house and one fortified village after another while mobile guns blasted enemy gun emplacements and firing points.

Nazi Infantry Strafed

Swarms of Soviet fighters and Stormovik assault planes strafed and cannoned German infantry as they emerged from trenches and forts for futile counter-attacks.

Dispatches reported that the initial Soviet artillery barrage, loosed by hundreds of massed cannon, was the most destructive ever laid down on a battlefield. German prisoners brought into one Russian command post had been numbed speechless by the shelling.

Nearly 700 miles to the south, the Soviet 1st Ukrainian army cut the Rovno-Shepetovka link of the double-trunk Warsaw - Kazatin railway, forcing the Germans to fall back 130 miles southwest to Lwow for their next major feeder railway into southern Russia.

Double-Edged Thrust

The double-edged thrust at either end of a 110-mile sector west and south of Leningrad put the Russians on the offensive all along a winding 2,000-mile front from Leningrad to the Black sea, and observers confidently predicted that by spring the Germans will have been driven back into the Baltic states, Poland and Rumania.

The Soviet high command announced its twin penetrations of an area which the Germans have been fortifying steadily for more than two years in a communique last night on the first anniversary of the lifting of the 315-day German siege of Leningrad with the clearing of a nine-mile corridor to the east.

Slow Progress Expected

The communique did not claim that any villages had been captured, however, and military observers warned that slow progress must be expected because of the labryinth of vast underground shelters, trenches and gun batteries which the enemy has prepared.

Should the twin drives penetrate deeply enough into the Leningrad siege belt, which may extend up to 100 miles in depth, the Germans probably will begin a withdrawal toward Latvia and Estonia to escape encirclement.

Railway Cut

On the 1st Ukrainian front, Gen. Nikolai F. Vatutin's army cut the Rovno-Shepetovka railway with the capture of Slavuta, 11 miles west of the Polish border.

There were no new reports of the German counter-attacks east of Vinnitsa on the approaches to Rumania, at last reports approaching the decisive stage.

On the central front, the Russians drove to within five miles northeast of Novosokolniki, on the Moscow-Riga railway 70 miles east of the Latvian border, with the capture of Shubino and 40 other localities.

It is exceptional to find birds one mile above the earth, and only a few are found at 3000 feet, according to aviators.

Fate Of Finland Hangs In Balance

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The information bulletin of the Soviet embassy in Washington makes the blunt and grim assertion that "having staked all on the fate of Hitlerite Germany, Finland now stands on the brink of catastrophe."

When you look at your maps and today's news of the new Russian offensive in the Leningrad area, you turn away with the feeling that the above quotation is the epitaph of Finland's hope to achieve victory by linking her fortunes with those of Hitlerdom. That catastrophe is certain, there is no doubt; that it may be near, is quite possible.

Sixth Day Of Offensive

This is the sixth day of the Red offensive on the Leningrad front, and from the Germans' own admissions their line in this strategic sector has been cut in at least two places and is rocking like a ship in a hurricane. This great assault extends along a front of some 250 miles, from the neighborhood of Leningrad southward to the Nevel sector. Berlin claims that the Russians are employing a quarter million men, and that the attack is growing in intensity.

The Russians are shooting for the stars. Their objective is to force a general German withdrawal from this northern sector. This would mean the complete raising of the siege of Leningrad —the famous old St. Petersburg of Czarist days, which became the birthplace of Bolshevism and is one of the cherished spots of Communism. It would mean Hitler's evacuation of the Baltic states, with the consequent threat to the entire Nazi line in Russia.

And achievement of these objectives would automatically knock Finland out of the war, compelling her to accept Moscow's terms. That's the wage of picking the wrong horse.

The relief of Leningrad must rank first in the hearts of the Russian troops. This historic city of some 3,000,000 population — the second largest in Russia — has undergone tortures which few, if any others, have endured in the long history of war.

Navy Trainee Gives Frogs Morale Boost

FORT WORTH, Jan. 19—Jack Helm, naval aviation trainee at Texas Christian university who reported to Coach Hub McQuillan's basketball squad only a week ago, appears to be the chief reason why the Horned Frogs might be able to make a fairly close game of it with the Longhorns in Austin next Saturday night.

Helm, starting his first game for the Frogs against Baylor here last Saturday night, scored 11 points. But, more important, he enabled TCU to get possession of the ball off the backboards, a point at which the Christians had been particularly weak.

The Frogs do not rate to stop the league pacing Longhorns, particularly on the floor of Gregory gym, but they appear to have improved enough to make a good battle of the contest.

The Texas game is the only one on TCU's schedule this week. Next week, however, they take on a double tough assignment—meeting the Rice Owls and the Longhorns on successive nights (Jan. 28 and 29) in Fort Worth.

Fans Boo At Strange Basketball Game

ELKHART, Ind., Jan. 19 (AP)—Fans booed, players fraternized and officials spent most of their time clearing debris off the floor in a strange high school basketball game last night between Elkhart and Riley High of South Bend.

Elkhart, which had averaged 45 points in four previous league games, won 5 to 4 — but had help from one of the Riley plyaers. Elkhart scored a field goal, a free throw and got the other two points when Ernie Kovatch of Riley became confused and tipped the ball into the wrong basket.

Mexico Brings Back Legal Executions

PAHUAC, Mexico, Jan. 19 (AP) Two convicted hold-up men met death before a firing squad at dawn, Tuesday, the first legal executions in Mexico since 1929.

The two brothers, Encarnacion and Felipe Hernandez, were executed under a war-time law providing death for highway robberies. They were also convicted of criminal assault committed on two of the four women and two men held-up last October. The regular Mexican criminal law does not provide for the death penalty except in a few states.

The pair were shot to death by a squad of 10 regulars at the military barracks. Both refused to have their eyes bandaged and faced the firing squad.

Probe Set In Death Of Soldier's Wife

LONGVIEW, Tex., Jan. 19 (U.P.) The department of public safety in Austin was asked to assist in an investigation into the death of Mrs. Lou Satterwhite, wife of a soldier now serving overseas.

The woman died just before last midnight. A companion said she killed herself with a .38 caliber pistol. Mrs. Satterwhite was shot once through the heart.

Local and military authorities requested aid of the department of public safety.

Boxer Free On Bond In Hit-Run Death

ST. JOHN'S Que., Jan. 19 (U.P.) —Johnny Greco, Canadian army private and former top flight lightweight boxer, was free on $1,000 bail today after his arraignment on charges of manslaughter in connection with the hit and run automobile death of Romeo Dagenais, also a soldier.

Greco, former Montreal boxer, was arraigned yesterday and his preliminary hearing set for Jan. 24. He allegedly drove the car which struck Dagenais on a road near here Sunday morning.

A 5 per cent increase in the number of criminal cases filed in federal court in the past year was attributed largely to prosecutions of draft violators.

Lt. Rodgers To Be Buried Here

The body of Second Lt. J. T. Rodgers, 23, who was killed in the crash of a B-26 bomber near Shreveport Tuesday morning, is expected to arrive Thursday for funeral services and burial which will be in charge of Sanders Funeral home. Others killed in the crash were Sgt. James L. Lentes, 20, armory gunner, Detroit, Mich.; 2nd Lt. Richard H. Clendenin, 21, pilot, Springfield, Ill.

Injured was Staff Sgt. Willard A. Frederick, 24, engineer gunner, Bellevue, Ohio. He suffered a fractured arm.

The crash occurred on the Oil City road when the plane struck treetops trying to make its way to a cleared field for a forced landing. The plane was demolished but did not catch on fire.

Although shaken and suffering from his injured arm, Sgt. Frederick was said to have reported that the plane, on a routine flight began losing altitude in an attempt to make the landing. It lost altitude rapidly. The pilot headed for the cleared field, but the bomber sheared off the tops of trees as it crashed into the woods. Because of the lack of altitude the crew did not have time to bail out, it was said.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rodgers here, were advised Tuesday by telegram of the death of their son in the crash. The message was signed by Col. W. B. Wright, commanding officer at Barksdale Field, where young Rodgers was stationed.

W. H. Rodgers, superintendent of the Texas Technological college farm, and his wife reside on the Tech farm, west of Texas Tech's campus.

Lt. Rodgers is a graduate of Texas Technological college.

Survivors besides the parents; a brother, Pvt. William G. Rodgers, stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., and a sister, Mrs. W. O. Keenney of Tucson, Ariz.

Lt. Col. Norman E. Borden, jr., of Houston, who has been director of aircraft maintenance, has been transferred to another post. Lt. Col. Borden was stationed at Lubbock Army Air field from January, 1942 until September, 1943, when he assumed duties at SPAAF.

Capt. Leon H. Fish of San Diego has been named aircraft engineering officer. He has been an assistant in that division. Capt. Fish is a graduate of San Diego High school and was a student at San Diego State Teachers college.

Educational Fund For U. S. POW Started

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 19 (AP)—Americans in German prison camps will be able to continue their education through contributions from colleges of the nation.

Texas A. and M. is one of the institutions raising funds to purchase textbooks and provide recreational facilities in these camps.

At a conference of representatives of the cadet corps and various training units on the campus, it was decided to join a national movement toward this end as instigated by the YMCA.

Ten cents a man is all that is being asked but some of the students and trainees want to contribute more.

Germany has agreed to permit this work in the prison camps and will receive the materials through the Red Cross.

The highest altitude at which it is believed a bird can fly is four miles.
