BACK TO SCHOOL: It will be back to school Monday for the students of the Aransas Independent School District, and five-year-old Dawna Rae Worthey is no exception. Dawna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Worthey, will be among the first year students attending kindergarten classes at Rockport Elementary School. As she prepares for the first day with arms full of supplies, Dawna urges motorists to drive with extreme care as youngsters head for the classrooms.

School Bells Ring Monday

All schools in the Aransas County Independent School District will open on Monday, August 23.

All citizens are urged to drive with extreme caution and watch for school children.

School buses will run the same routes as last year and the cafeterias will serve lunches beginning with the opening of school.

Classes will begin at 8:10 a.m. and dismiss at 3:30 p.m. with the exception of first and second graders being dismissed at 2:30. All Kindergarten classes will meet on a half-day schedule. The morning Kindergarten session will begin at 8:15 and will dismiss at 11 a.m. The afternoon session will begin at 12:45 p.m. and will be dismissed at 3:30 o'clock.

All students new in the district and who have not preregistered must bring a copy of their report cards from their previous school along with a copy of their immunization records, according to school officials.

Officials pointed out that according to state law students are not eligible to attend class unless these records are available. First grade and kindergarten students must also bring a copy of their birth certificate. The cost of meals in the school cafeterias will be 45 cents for students in grades 1 through 5 and 50 cents for students in grades 6 through 12. The snack bar will be open for students at the junior and senior high schools.

Mobile Home Pool Offered

Area insurance agents expect it to be 10 days before windstorm insurance policies are available to Aransas County owners of mobile homes.

The door was opened for such coverage this week when the State Board of Insurance voted to make risk pool insurance available at rates lower than the catastrophe pool recommended.

Policies bought through the risk-sharing pool will cost 3.5 per cent of the value insured for the mobile homes located inland of the Intracoastal Canal and seven per cent if located seaward.

It was pointed out that each policy will automatically cover household goods up to 40 per cent of the value of the mobile home, with a maximum of $15,000.

The maximum a mobile home can be insured for through the risk pool is $15,000.

In the event of a loss, the mobile homeowner will be required to bear 1 per cent of the cost if his property is inland of the Intracoastal Waterway and 2 per cent if seaward.

For example, the premium on a mobile home valued at

Clean Up HQ's Set For Rockport

Rockport is expected to be named as one of two towns that will serve as base of operations for an oil-spill control co-operative along the Texas coast.

Willard Bauman of New Orleans, newly-elected chairman of Clean Gulf Associates, told the Rockport Pilot in a telephone interview that Texas members of the organization are meeting this week in the Crescent City. One of the items on the agenda is the creation of two base stations along the Texas coast.

Galveston will be the other Texas port of call for the organization that is composed of some 47 oil companies that have joined together on a non-profit basis to combat and clean-up any spills that might come from offshore drilling.

The bases are maintained on a 24-hour basis with Halliburton Services, a division of Halliburton Co., maintaining the clean-up and containment equipment under contract with Clean Gulf.

Bauman said similar stations have been established along the Louisiana coast and to some extent south along the Florida Gulf Coast.

Bauman would not speculate on the investment that would be made on equipment for the Texas stations.

"The type of equipment that will be bought depends on what the oil companies along the Texas coast now have available," he said.

Figures in excess of $1.25 million were discussed, however.

He did note that offshore drilling activity along the Texas coast stimulated action to create the base stations.

In discussing personnel, the Gulf Oil executive said Halliburton would take care of that under its contract. He did say, that little personnel would be needed because Manpower would come from the participating members of the co-operative should a spill take place.

HEB Center Plans Major Expansion

HEB Family Center, 301 N. Austin St., has plans for a major expansion, it was learned today.

Manager Gary James said specific details of the expansion are not yet ready for release. "However, they should be completed by next week," he added.

Work is tentatively slated to get underway the day after Labor Day, James noted.

HEB recently acquired additional land north of its store to provide more parking facilities in anticipation of the expansion, it was pointed out.

Council Sets Aug. 23 Hearing

The Rockport City Council will meet next Monday at 7:30 p.m. and hold a public hearing on the request of Houston Oil and Mineral Corp. for a permit to drill an 11,000 foot directional well in Little Bay.

While the drilling site is about 250 feet outside the corporate limits, the bottom of the proposed well will be about 2,000 feet inside the city limits.

Following the hearing on the well, the 1976-77 budget hearing is slated for 8 p.m. Both hearings are open to the public.

Another item expected to be on the council's agenda will be a hearing on a request by Norman Scott for the city to annex properties of the Little Bay Club located next to Harbor Oaks subdivision.

Copano SCS Elects One New Director

Edgar Rathkamp of Tivoli was elected to the board of the Copano Bay Soil and Water Conservation District Saturday in an election held in the Tivoli Community Center.

Rathkamp was elected without opposition to a five-year term from Zone 3. This zone includes a portion of Aransas County north of Copano Bay.

This zone was formerly represented by John Tatton of Refugio, who did not seek reelection.

A total of five persons voted.

Key Allegro Woman At GOP Convention

As the curtain comes down on the 1976 Republican National Convention in Kansas City, an Aransas County woman has been a center stage performer in the spectacular.

Mrs. Ed Berry, a Key Allegro housewife, had the distinct pleasure of serving as a delegate to the GOP confab. She was one of four delegates from the 14th Congressional district who went to the convention pledged to former California Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Mrs. Berry, a resident here for some five years, departed bright and early Sunday morning from Aransas County Airport with her husband piloting their private aircraft. (Ed has had considerable experience since he serves as a pilot for Braniff).

She was bid farewell by Harold Shirey, Aransas County GOP chairman, and Mrs. Peggy Bloch, president of the including quantities of heroin, that was apprehended in arrests made here last week.

Heroin Charges Filed Here

What started out to be an arrest for aggravated robbery on a warrant out of Corpus Christi ended up with the arrest for aggravated robbery and two arrests for possession of heroin at a residence here last week.

Led by Sheriff Bob Hewes, a team consisted of Chief Deputy Sheriff E.A. Stautzenberger, Deputy Sheriff Jim Pridgen and three officers of the Corpus Christi Police Department, went to a residence at 1318 Redbird in West Terrace with an arrest warrant for aggravated robbery for Ricardo Rodriguez, 25, of Corpus Christi.

Upon entry into the residence, a large variety of narcotics paraphernalia was observed and during a search of the residence a quantity of heroin was found, according to Sheriff Hewes.

Some of the heroin was in tinfoil packets and some was in syringes as if it was ready to be used, Hewes noted.

Rodriguez was arrested for aggravated robbery and also possession of heroin and Eva Gaitan, 29, of Rockport, was arrested for possession of heroin.

Gaitan is in the county jail under a $5,000 bond set by Justice of the Peace Lawrence years

Rodriguez was released to the Corpus Christi Police Dept. officers for the robbery charge.

The Rodriguez and Gaitan case will be presented to the September term of the grand jury.

Parent Effectiveness Course To Be Taught

The Aransas County Ministers Assn. is planning to provide a new program for local parents in the Rockport area. The new program, Parent Effectiveness Training, is being planned by the minister group so that parents can attend an eight-week course to better understand their position with children.

The course has been set to begin on Sept. 21 and will be taught each Tuesday evening from 6:30 p.m. until 9:30 p.m. The Rev. Floyd R. Whatley, minister of the First Presbyterian Church of Alice, will be the instructor. The course will be taught at the Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church of Rockport, according to Mrs. Carita Gould, adult coordinator of that church group.

The cost for the course is $50 per person, Mrs. Gould added, however, if the person is a member of any of the churches represented in the Aransas County Minister Assn., the cost will be lowered to $37.50.

"No more than 25 people will be in the class", Mrs. Gould added.

Beans Are a "Winner" In Vegetable Garden

D.P. Pawlik
County Extension Agent
San Patricio & Aransas Co.
Snap beans are a "winner" in fall vegetable gardens. They're easy to grow and produce a high yielding and high quality crop in the fall, says D.P. Pawlik, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

In Aransas County beans can be planted around the last of July or early August to produce a good fall crop.

There are many different types of beans for home gardens, but the most common are green snap beans, lima beans and horticultural beans. Green snap beans are usually two types—bush and pole.

Bush beans generally require about 60 days of good growing conditions to produce a crop. For a steady supply coming to the kitchen, Pawlik suggests small plantings every 10 days to two weeks, keeping in mind the number of days remaining before the average date of the first frost.

Some of the most popular bush bean varieties are Topcrop, Tendercrop and Bush Blue Lake. The varieties Green-crop and Romano are bush forms of the popular pole bean.

If space permits, Pawlik suggests a planting of pole beans rather than bush beans as pole beans usually produce over a longer period of time. Kentucky Wonder, Blue Lake, Romano and Dade are excellent varieties of pole beans.

Lima beans need warmer soils to germinate properly plus higher temperatures and a longer season to produce a crop. However, often they fail to set in extremely hot weather. Bush lima beans which do well are Ford Hook 242, Henderson Bush and Jackson Wonder. Jackson Wonder is more heat and drought resistant than the other varieties. If you have a place for pole limas, plant Carolina Sieva and Florida Butter Speckled.

Many home gardeners like to raise horticultural beans. These are large-seeded beans used in the green shell stage. The fiber of the bean pod is too tough for these beans to be cooked as snap beans. They can usually be recognized by their colorful striped or mottled pods. Some of the more popular varieties are Dwarf Horticultural, Bush Horticultural and the pole variety, King Horticultural.

Many problems associated with garden beans begin at planting time. Many home gardeners plant too early and at the same time plant too deep. Bean seed will not germinate in cold soils, so don't try to rush the season. When planting in the spring, plant approximately one inch deep. For later plantings increase the planting depth to two inches. After planting, never allow the soil to crust as this will result in poor germination and slow plant growth. A light mulch over the seed row will help prevent crusting. If a crust does form at emergence time, water the soil lightly.

As the crop grows, be on constant lookout for insects and diseases, advised Pawlik. Applications of recommended insecticides and fungicides will greatly increase yields.

For top yields, pick the beans before large seeds develop. A few old pods left on the plant will greatly reduce the set of new ones. Pick snap beans in the young succulent stage.

To keep beans producing, sidedress the plants after the first picking at the rate of four to five teaspoons of ammonium sulfate or two or three teaspoons of ammonium nitrate for each ten feet of garden row. Scratch the fertilizer into the soil but avoid placing it too close to the plants or damaging the plant roots.

Watering green beans is extremely important. Never allow the soil to dry out, especially during the fruiting period.

Do clouds form by the same weather process as does fog? Why is fog seen more often in fall than in spring?

Clouds and fog both occur because of a cooling process. Both are the result of cooled air, and the lesser moisture capacity caused by the cooling, producing saturation of the air and visible moisture particles.

Spring produces less fog than fall because in fall the earth is losing its stored-up heat, and the heat (warm air) on the surface is cooled by cooler air and turned into fog. In spring the opposite is more often true.

The earth is colder than the warming spring air, because of winter's effect, and, instead of being cooled, the surface of the earth is warmed--which does not produce fog.

Local Homemaking Teachers Attend State Convention

Miss Mary Strange and Miss Frances Mutscher, local vocational homemaking teachers, participated in the state in-service conference for homemaking teachers in Dallas. The theme of the conference was "Homemaking Education Sets the Pace".

Dr. William F. Pierce, deputy commissioner for Occupational and Adult Education, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare in Washington, D.C. was keynote speaker of the conference.

Others addressing the conference included, Dr. Margaret Bubolz, Professor of Family and Child Science, College of Human Ecology, Michigan State University; Dr. Eva Schindler Rainman, Los Angeles, a nationally recognized management consultant; and the Honorable Wilhelmina Delco, member of the Texas House of Representatives.

Thirteen concurrent interest group sessions were conducted, providing teachers with the opportunity of learning new teaching techniques and insights into effectiveness in today's society. The sessions included such topics as child abuse, perinatal care, community involvement, nutrition, discipline, and creative methods for helping people learn.

Rock And Roll Club Meets

Mrs. Myrtle De Forest of Little Bay was hostess to the Rockport Rock and Roll Canasta Club in her home Friday afternoon. Refreshments of finger sandwiches, punch, coffee, cookies, chips and dips were served.

First prize went to Louise Zeisler for her score. Low score went to Kay Snapp.

Mrs. Charles Crusier

Victoria Food Fair Expects Large Turnout

The Eighth Annual International Food Fair in Victoria kicks off at 5 p.m. Aug. 20, and before its 10 p.m. closing time, sponsors expect over 15,000 people to have consumed and purchased foods representing the menus of almost every nation.

Whether your fancy includes English, Syrian, Creole, Mexican, Israeli, or South American delights, the Food Fair furnishes the feast and the soft drinks, coffee, beer, and wine to wash them all down.

Musical entertainment, dancers, a magician and a clown will provide the background as over 5,000 pieces of fudge, 2,500 cookies, 50 freezers of homemade ice cream, 4,000 tacos, and much, much more literally disappear.

All proceeds go to the HEAR Foundation of Texas, Inc., which has done so much in providing deaf children a chance to learn to speak in normal tones and integrate into regular school programs.

The fair is being held at the Victoria Community Center and ticket prices will be $1.00 for adults, children 50 cents, and under 12 free. Items will be sold at each booth for modest prices and packaging for take home will be available upon request.

Jennifer Hartman, vice chairman of the fair, encourages all Texans to come to Victoria and "relish in the delight of international home cooking."

Senior Citizens Enjoy Dance

About fifty people enjoyed the Senior Citizens Dance last Thursday. Gene Rickles provided the music.

The refreshments were provided by Karl and Rose Smith and Carolyn and John Beehee. They served coffee, punch and delicious cakes and cookies. There will be another dance next month on Sept. 9 from 7 to 10:30 p.m.

PRESBYTERIAN CIRCLE MEETING IS REPORTED

The Circle No. 1 group of the Women of the First Presbyterian Church met recently in the Memorial Room, Mrs. J.H. Schleider was hostess and served refreshments to the 14 members present.

Mrs. Schleider called the meeting to order prior to Mrs. Harry Mills reading the devotional. Prayer was said by Jaroj Debnath.

Mrs. Kathryn Cavitt moderated the Bible study.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

Hostess for the September meeting will be Mrs. Nell Brant. Moderator will be Mrs. Mary Whitcomb.

Visitors Arrive Via Airplane

Calvin Grimes and Isaac Walls, son-in-law and son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Walls, Sr., spent the past two weeks vacationing with friends and relatives here.

Calvin, whose wife is the former Shirley Walls of Rockport, recently obtained his pilot's license and flew from Hayward, California on his first cross-country flight.

Calvin and Isaac were accompanied by Calvin's two daughters, Pamela and Michelle.

Calvin started his flight training under John Laird at Aransas County Airport and completed it in Hayward where he and his family now reside.

Miss Reese To Teach

Frances Lee Deason Reese graduated Aug. 15 with a Bachelor of Science degree from the Pan American University, Brownsville.

She will be teaching in the Brownsville school system in the fall. Frances is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edric Deason.

It's a Girl

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Tedder of Rockport are the proud parents of a 7 lb. 6 1/2 oz. girl born Aug. 9 in Spohn Hospital. Her name is Terra Rene.

Maternal grandparents are Mrs. Jeanette Alloway of Aransas Pass and James O. Young of Corpus Christi. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Pete Tedder of Rockport.

Cruser-Wells Wedding Told

On Saturday, August 7 at 7:30 in the evening at the Grace Presbyterian Church in Lubbock, Salty Wells became the bride of Charles Crusier. Rev. John Otey performed the double-ring ceremony before an altar flanked by candelabra and floor baskets of gladiolas, daisies and greenery.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wills of Lubbock, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Crusier of Rockport.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length organdy gown which featured a full tiered skirt, short capelet sleeves, and a square neckline. She wore a large-brimmed hat trimmed with lace and baby's breath, and carried a bouquet of white miniature carnations, daisies and baby's breath with a lace cascade.

Cricket Kleine of San Antonio was maid of honor, and Susan Peterson of Dallas was bridesmaid. They wore blue and white dotted swiss dressed made in an A-line style with keyhole halter necklines and short capes. They also wore large-brimmed hats similar to the bride's, and carried arm bouquets of blue carnations and baby's breath with ribbon cascades. Wendi Whitsett, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore an ecru floor-length dress trimmed with lace, and carried a basket of blue carnations.

Richey Roe of Rockport served as best man, and Jimmy Crusier, brother of the groom, was groomsman. Clay Gillis of Yoakum, Glyn Landrum of San Marcos, and John Wills, brother of the bride, ushered.

Following the ceremony a reception was given in the church. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth with a blue underlay. A silver urn held an arrangement of blue and white carnations and daisies.

After a wedding trip in central Texas, the couple will be at home in College Station where the groom will be a student of veterinary medicine at Texas A&M University.

If you dine by candlelight, it's a sign that you're a romanticist or that the light company is displeased with your bill-paying habits.

The plant timekeeper has called our attention to the remarkable coincidence that overtime is rarely turned in on bowling league night.

MRS. SMITH RECEIVES NATIONAL HONOR WITH VFW AUXILIARY

Mrs. Rosemary Smith, who has a summer home in Rockport, has received a national appointment as Aide to National President Glenn Grossman of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars. She was awarded a gold charm bracelet and a hospital pin containing six pearls.

Mrs. Smith will attend the national convention in New York, N.Y. in August to receive another honor as outstanding VAVS and Hospital Director.

Mrs. Smith is a 35-year member of the auxiliary and has held many state and national offices since 1949. She is a past state president, a past national council member for Texas, Oklahoma and Missouri and holds a membership in Davis-Seamon Auxiliary in El Paso, Tex.

She dedicated the new banner and American flag of the Stewart-Wendell Auxiliary No. 3904, Rockport, at the San Patricio County Council meeting on Aug. 2.

Time is a relative matter, and always passes slowest when they're visiting.

The Rockport Pilot Women's News

Volunteers At Center Cited

Neva Sorenson, who is in charge of the volunteers who operate the Community Concern Center at 206 N. Magnolia, reports that the following people gave of their time during the month of July to operate this organization: Ruth and Paul Hoover, Flora Davis, Kay Snapp, Lucille Romans, Lucille Barber, Marguerite Burton, George and Bernice Parker, Erma Beard, Anna Meerscheidt, Mary Sauerberg, Lennie Cowan, Myrtle McLester, Lena Evans, Frank Lenoir, Vennette Stone, Lonnie Rhineland, Evelyn Townsend, Kay Ragot, Neil Gage and Neva Sorenson.

They donated 154 1/2 hours of their time at the Center, answering the phone and making the daily contacts of the large number of elderly people in Rockport who are now on the Dial-A-Care program.

George Parker is chairman of the Concern Center Committee which operates under the supervision of the local chapter of the A.A.R.P. Mrs. Bernice Parker is office manager and supplies the local newspapers with the Calendar of Events.

Mrs. Evelyn Horton, vice president of A.A.R.P., is the contact person and liaison officer with A.A.R.P.

As the motto of the Concern Center says, "If you have a need, or a problem call 729-7722 between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. and one of the courteous members of the staff will try to help you."

Circle II Has August Gathering

Circle II of First Presbyterian Church met on Aug. 12. Virginia von Pein, hostess, served delicious lemon tarts to nine members.

Margaret Hight opened the meeting with a prayer. Each member answered roll call with a Bible verse. The secretary's report was approved as read. In the absence of the treasurer there was no report.

There was a discussion about gifts for the residents of the nearby nursing homes. There is a need for bedroom slippers made of double knit material. Shawls, sweaters and ponchos were mentioned as gifts to be made in addition to lap robes.

A visit will be made to the Aransas Pass Nursing Home on Tuesday, Sept. 14. Those wishing to go should meet at the church at 2:30 p.m.

The meeting for Sept. 9 will be hosted by Lorraine Winkler and the moderator will be Van Morgan.

The lesson "Jesus' Prayer for the Church" was moderated by Lorraine Winkler. Mildred LeMaire gave the Least Coin Prayer, the emphasis, "The Shakerstown Pledge", was given by Margaret Hight.

The meeting was closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

Circle No. 3 Has Gathering

Circle No. 3 of the First Presbyterian Church held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. John Kinsey on Aug. 9.

Roll call was answered with a Bible verse by seven members. The meeting opened with prayer by the chairman, Mrs. H.H. Dick.

The minutes of June 14 and July 12 were read and approved.

Following the business meeting, the lesson was moderated by Mrs. Queenie Camehl with members leading the discussion. The study was based on the 17th chapter of John. Dorothy Leslie gave the emphasis. The meeting adjourned with the Mizpah benediction.

The next meeting will be held on Sept. 13 at the home of Mrs. Paul Morrison. Katherine McLester will moderate the lesson.

Winners Named

Mrs. Fred Bracht entertained the Wednesday bridge club at her home. Members playing were Miss Mabel Bracht, Miss Genevieve Bracht, Mrs. Fred Christilles, Mrs. Charles Cleveland and three guests, Mrs. Marie Woods, Mrs. Gladys Gibson and Mrs. Grover Traylor.

High score was won by Mrs. Cleveland; second high Mrs. Gibson and the bingo prize went to the hostess, Mrs. Fred Bracht.

Card Party

The A.A.R.P. sponsored card party was held recently at the Rockport-Fulton Tourist Recreation Building on Airport Road. Hostesses were Lorene Collins, Ellen Vernon and Kay Snapp.

Construction Permits Sought From Engineers

Several projects in the Rockport area have been received in the U.S. Corps of Engineers office for review and certification.

Robert L. Booker of San Antonio has filed an application to construct a new bulkhead around his property in Lake-side Subdivision in Copano Cove approximately five miles northwest of Rockport.

M.L. Shaver of Route 1, Rockport, has filed an application for permission to construct a T-head wharf with two finger piers that would extend 450 feet into Copano Bay. The site of construction would be Copano Bay Subdivision some five miles northwest of Rockport.

Hamilton H. Howry of Dallas has filed an application for construction of two docks and one ramp adjacent to his home in Key Allegro about two miles northeast of Rockport.

Perry R. Bass of Fort Worth has filed for an application to maintain an existing roadway and eight concrete drainage culverts. The structure is used to provide access to a large portion of San Jose Island during periods of high water. It is located near Aransas Bay and Vinson Slough on San Jose Island about 13 miles northeast of Rockport.

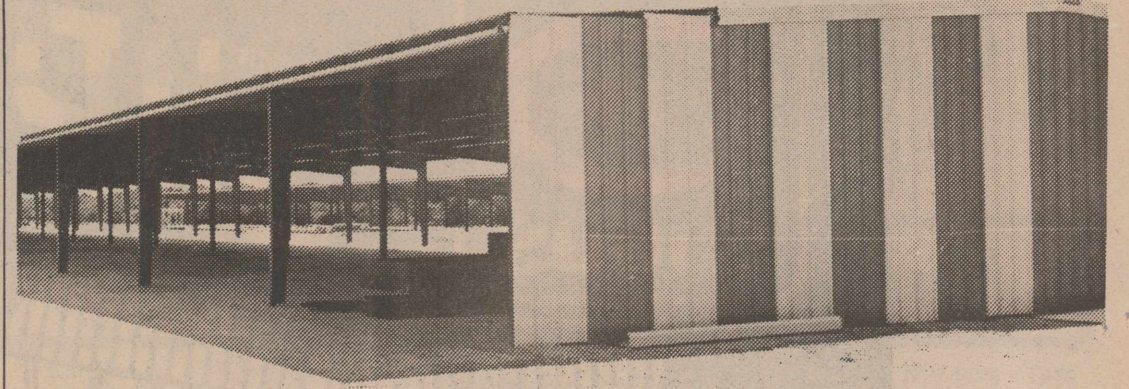

Medicine is like advice: Easy to prescribe, hard to take.

High School Schedules Are Ready

Student schedules are ready for distribution to all Rockport-Fulton High School students, according to C.R. Barre, high school principal. The schedules will show the students which room to report to the opening day of school, as well as outlining the daily schedule of classes for students.

The schedules may be picked up in the high school principal's office between the hours of 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

All new students should be enrolled on or before Aug. 20, as school will begin on Aug. 23, and students should be prepared to meet all of their classes the first day of school.

LARGE BOAT STORAGE FACILITY: Boat Otel, a 116 unit boat storage facility, is presently under construction by Vermillion Construction Co. just off State Highway 35 in Fulton. It will have enclosed, lighted stalls with a high pressure wash rack and testing pit for motor repairs. Owner Chuck Vermillion said the project should be completed next month.

Registration Underway For ABC Kindergarten

Registration was underway this week for the recently organized ABC Learning Center in the Sacred Heart Convent building on N. Church St.

Starting Monday, prospective pupils were being signed up for the program which will start Sept. 7. Registration hours are from 10 a.m. until noon through Friday of this week.

The pre-school program is sponsored by Aransas County Ministerial Association for three and four-year olds not yet eligible for public school kindergarten. Originally it was planned to have two-day-a-week sessions for three-year-olds and three-day sessions for four-year-olds. Now a five-day program also is planned and parents will state their preference at the time of registration.

Selection and hiring of two teachers is underway by a committee of which the Rev. Paul Bohot is chairman, assisted by Sharon Shellenberger, Sandra Wolf and Janis Spears. A third volunteer teacher will serve on the Center's staff, according to the committee.

A preliminary inspection of the Center already has been completed by a representative of the State Department of Public Welfare which is responsible for licensing kindergarten and nursery schools. The Learning Center will comply with all operational standards of the state's Advisory Committee on Child Care Facilities.

In addition to use of classroom and fenced outdoor playground facilities contributed by Sacred Heart Catholic Church, a number of gifts of money and supplies have been received by the Learning Center.

St. Peter's Episcopal Church has taken a special collection for the school. Mr. and Mrs. Emory Spencer have made a personal contribution as have Dr. and Mrs. J. Martin Shaw in memory of Tommy Webb and Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Clement. Several anonymous contributions also have been received.

Other gifts include a set of Child Craft books by Ruby Rasco and a silver dolphin award for designing the school's emblem was provided by Rev. John Bradshaw and Rita Sydow.

The committee also expressed appreciation for efforts of volunteers who assisted with cleaning and painting the school facilities. The committee also is seeking additional gifts, books, records and play equipment as well as additional money contributions from churches, civic organizations and individuals to help meet teachers' salaries and other operating expenses as well as money for a scholarship fund. Fee for children attending the school has been tentatively set at $1.50 per day.

Mrs. Joe Corpus fills out forms for her daughter, Patricia.

Weather Expert Discusses Hurricanes With Rotarians

Apathy and lack of knowledge are the two factors most responsible for deaths in tropical hurricanes, according to Larry Mooney, meteorologist in charge of Corpus Christi Office of Weather Service, who talked at a luncheon meeting of Rotary Club Aug. 11 at Sandollar Restaurant.

Mooney asserted that science of predicting direction and strength of hurricanes has been developed in recent years to such an extent that almost all loss of life could be avoided if warnings are heeded. The bureau uses computers to develop this information.

He pointed out that the so-called storm surge or wall of water which develops in the center of most hurricanes does far more damage than the wind itself. The area usually is not more than 50 miles in diameter although severe wind effect of a hurricane may extend as much as 100 miles beyond this 50-mile area, he explained.

"Too many people who have experienced storm conditions in border areas of a hurricane are convinced they have gone through a hurricane, not realizing that only those in the actual zone of the storm surge really have experienced the full fury of a hurricane," he explained.

"As a result, they are inclined to be complacent about hurricane warnings even though they may be in the predicted path of the eye of the storm," he added.

He claimed that no man-made structure, including bulkheads, can survive the storm surge of a major hurricane.

Mooney explained that relative strength of hurricanes have been classified by the Weather Bureau in five categories depending on the height of the wall of water driven inland at the eye of the storm.

Most destructive are Category 5 storms, those with a storm surge in excess of 18 feet. He added that there have been only two such storms in this century, including Camille which hit the Mississippi-Gulf coast in 1969, and an earlier hurricane in 1935.

He said the 1919 hurricane which struck the Rockport area has been rated in Category 4 with a storm surge of less than 18 feet. He added that Celia was a Category 3 hurricane.

He said the barrier islands off the coast provide excellent protection from hurricanes in a lower category, but more intense storms could be expected to cut channels through these islands. Also, he explained that deep water relatively close to our coast is helpful in moderating the destructive force of hurricanes because stronger storm surges are more likely to develop in shallower water such as off the coast of Louisiana and Mississippi. He asserted that any hurricane which develops a storm surge of 15 or more feet must be regarded as deadly.

When a storm surge moves inland it can be expected to lose two feet in height for every mile it travels over land, Mooney said.

He asserted that one of the reasons why ignorance of hurricanes is so widespread in the coastal areas is that so many people have moved to these areas in recent years, people who have no personal knowledge of these storms and often accept inaccurate information from those who have lived here but never actually experienced the full force of a hurricane.

While evacuation of this area would be no great problem if residents heeded weather bureau warnings, there are some coastal areas where complete evacuation would be virtually impossible, such as the Florida keys between Miami and Key West. He explained it would not be possible to safely evacuate the more than 60,000 who live along this island chain because it is served by a single two-lane highway which includes some 60 bridges, which could be destroyed or blocked by a hurricane.

Mooney said the Gulf Coast area is about as safe so far as hurricanes are concerned as the Atlantic Coast and the coasts of Florida. Weather Bureau records show that in the 1940's hurricanes appeared to concentrate in the Florida area. In the 1950's the Atlantic coast was hardest hit, and in the 1960's and 1970's the Gulf Coast bore the brunt. No sound reasons for these trends have been developed, he said.

Mooney illustrated his discussion with slidefilm charts, maps and pictures, some of the latter showing "before" and "after" situations relative to the 1969 Mississippi hurricane. Among them were pictures of a modern three-story apartment building in which 28 persons took refuge and staged a hurricane party. The building was completely demolished and there was only one survivor. There was adequate warning but the victims were sure the structure was hurricane proof. In the same neighborhood, a 100-year-old church which had experienced many hurricanes in the past was swept away, as was a nearby substantial residence in which all but one of those foolishly enough to remain were drowned.

Nursing Home News

The Aransas Pass Nursing and Convalescent Center had many activities during the past week with plans to take residents to the Shrine Circus on Aug. 21.

Monday, Rev. Alton Pruitt, along with his family, provided music for the group. Mrs. McCormack also provided some music.

"The Caring Ones" came by Tuesday to entertain with a game day.

A paint class was held Wednesday with Bonnie and Jean instructing.

The Pentecostal Church of God of Aransas Pass members presented a program Thursday.

The Aransas Pass Rebekahs

provided entertainment with a game day Friday.

Rev. Al Bankert presented a church service Sunday with Johnny Dunbar providing music during the service.

Marilyn McCord led a group of youths from the First United Methodist Church of Aransas Pass to bring a program to the residents.

Auxiliary Has Monthly Meet

The Rockport Fireman's Auxiliary met Aug. 10 at the Rockport Fire Station for their monthly meeting. The meeting was called to order by President Gwyne Howland. Roll was called with ten members present plus a guest, Jonathan Howland, and two prospective members, Carolyn Cox and Beverly Aery.

Correspondences were read and the bills were read and approved to be paid.

The committee chairmen were called on to give their reports.

New and old business was discussed.

As there was no further business, the meeting was turned over to the program chairman, Lois Gurley. Refreshments were furnished by Lois Gurley and Gwyne Howland. The treasure chest was furnished by Joan Truelove and won by Lois Gurley.

Members present for the meeting were: Kathy Borey, Gloria Davis, Lois Gurley, Gwyne Howland, Teresa Howland, Mona McNutt, Evalon Redden, Frances Redden, Sarah Belle Smith, and Cleo Truelove.

Heart Group Hears Report

The Aransas County Division of the Heart Association met on Tuesday, Aug. 10 at the Court-house. Dave Elder presided, since the president, Mrs. Gene Garcia, was unable to be present until later.

Ms. Melissa Eikner, from the Corpus Christi Council of the Association, spoke on "Purposes and Programs". A question and discussion period followed.

pressed in plans for the training of people of our Rockport community in the basic life support techniques of cardiopulmonary respiration. Many lives are being saved by these community "life guards" where heart attack strikes.

Ms. Eikner reported that 1,500 laymen in Nueces County alone had been trained in this effective first aid skill.

This number, however, is exceeded in the state of Washington, where one citizen in every seven is a qualified CPR, a splendid safeguard against sudden death from the cardiovascular disease which is the leading cause of death in Texas.

"The main function of the Heart Association is public awareness", said Ms. Eikner. Films, pamphlets, and books are available for schools, clubs, organizations, and speakers may be booked for meetings of representative groups. Calls to any member of the local board for further information are invited.

The local division of the Heart Association thanks Mr. Falk, Rockport's mayor for his interest and his attendance

Lions Say Thanks

The Fulton Lions are expressing their thanks for the fine turnout they received during the annual fish fry held recently.

The Lions reported that they served more than 225 lbs. of fish filets.

Another dinner to raise money for different Lion projects is scheduled for February, according to Secretary Martin T. Moss.

Pirates To Scrimmage Ingleside Friday

Gridders Working Hard

Rockport-Fulton fans will get the first look at their Pirates this Friday when they entertain Ingleside beginning at 6:30 p.m. with scrimmage sessions set for both the varsity and junior varsity.

Coach Vellie Williams, in his second year at the helm of the Rockport-Fulton grid program, said the scrimmage will be "work sessions."

"We plan to use as many players as possible in the varsity and junior varsity workouts. This will give a youngster every opportunity to show us what he can do," said the 18-year veteran of Texas coaching wars.

Each team will probably alternate 20 plays on offense and 20 plays on defense.

Williams would not cite any individuals as standouts thus far in workouts since the Pirates put on the full uniforms only last Friday.

"We've had little time to make any determinations of the players in full gear, but I will say that our defense showed real promise last Friday during the brief time we worked on that phase," he added.

Williams went on to say that he expected this week and next to be devoted strictly to fundamentals.

Coming off a 2-8 year and relying on a significant number of sophomores and juniors, the Pirate staff believes it is important to spend a considerable amount of time teaching the basic fundamentals of the game.

"But, our youngsters are learning fast, and with a few breaks we'll improve on the record we had last year," said the determined head coach.

Williams will use a Pro-I offense, utilizing two wide receivers while the quarterback, fullback and tailback are set in an I formation.

On defense, it will be a basic, "and hopefully tough" 5-2 alignment, Williams points out.

The Pirates will scrimmage Bloomington next week and then play Aransas Pass in the season opener on Sept. 3.

Workouts this week have been reduced to only one a day since teachers are involved in school activities.

Season Ducat Deadline Near

Patrons who purchased season reserved football seat tickets last year are asked to claim these seats by Friday, Aug. 20, if they desire these seats for the 1976 football season, according to C.R. Barre, high school principal.

Season tickets may be claimed by paying $10 per season ticket for five home games in the high school principal's office on or before Aug. 20.

Season tickets that are unclaimed on Aug. 23, will be sold on a first come, first serve basis. All reserved seat tickets will go on sale on Aug. 23. These reserved seat tickets will be $2 each.

General admission for this season will be $1.75 for adults and student admission will be $1.

All-Weather Track Being Constructed

Construction is now under way on a new eight-lane, all-weather outdoor physical education running track at Texas A&I University and the facility, located in Javelina Stadium, will replace the six-lane, cinder track that has been used since the construction of the stadium in 1950.

The new track will have a Chevron 440 synthetic surface. The track will be blue with white stripes and the stagger stripes will be yellow, carrying out the school colors.

The straightaway will be moved to the east side of the field. It has been on the west side, or the opposite side of the finish line for the lap races.

Each lane will be three feet, four inches in width and two-inch stripes will separate each lane.

The facility will be used for physical education classes at Texas A&I and also will be the site of the men's and women's track and field meets, the 1977 Lone Star Conference track and field meet, the Region IV-AA boys and girls track and field meets, the A&I invitational high school events and the A&I intramural events.

It is being constructed by the same company that has built tracks at Baylor University, Brigham Young University and the University of Tennessee.

The new facility is expected to be ready for use before the end of the fall semester.

Shrimp Season Now Open

Sport and commercial fall season on shrimp in major Texas bays opened Aug. 15 and runs through Dec. 15, 1976.

"Major" bays include Sabine Lake, Trinity, Galveston, East and West Galveston, Matagorda including Keller and East Matagorda, Tres Palacios, Espiritu Santo, Lavaca from the causeway seaward, San Antonio, Ayres, Aransas, Mesquite and Corpus Christi Bays, all inclusive of tributary bays and inlets.

During fall open bay season, sport and commercial shrimping is allowed only during daylight hours from 30 minutes before sunrise to 30 minutes after sunset.

Legal shrimp count is not more than 65 headless or 39 heads-on per pound.

Catch limit of shrimp for personal use is not more than 100 pounds of legal sized heads-on shrimp.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department coastal fisheries biologist Roy Johnson at Seabrook said most catches in the major bays will be white shrimp since brown shrimp for the most part have moved into the Gulf of Mexico.

"Bay conditions are right for good white shrimp production," said Johnson. "Salinities are moderate and our net samples show best populations to be in the Matagorda Bay system. However, I don't expect significant catches of white shrimp until mid-September."

Coastal Bend Responds On Shrimp Economy Impact

The economy of the Coastal Bend reacts dramatically to the outcome of its harvests every season. We are all conscious after the rains of the damage to the milo harvest. Less obvious but important is the forecast for the shrimp harvest. The shrimp harvest last year is estimated to have injected $72 million into the economy.

This is a critical year for the shrimp industry. Russell Miget, fisheries specialist at the Texas A&M University Research and Extension Center, said that 1972 was the last profitable year for the fishermen. Many invested in new boats. A new boat means a cost of $180,000 to $200,000 and that means big annual payments.

Since then, the boat owners have stayed afloat and made those payments despite three bad years in a row with poor harvests, high fuel costs and other inflationary pressures. This year, predictions of a good run of shrimp were encouraging. And this is the year which could make or break many of those who own the boats. A new uncertainty is haunting them.

This is the 200 mile limit. Both the United States and Mexico have extended their jurisdiction 200 miles off shore. Negotiations have been underway to reach agreement that would allow boats from one country to fish in the waters of the other. Cost of permits and other factors have to be decided.

The shorelines of the United States are divided into eight regions. The Coastal Bend is in the Gulf Coast Region which extends from the west coast of Florida to the southern tip of Texas. Councils in each region will establish permitting and other procedures. The federal government handles this in Mexico.

Traditionally, most of our boats have fished off the coasts of Texas and Louisiana. Brownsville and Port Isabel boats fished off Mexico in the Tampico area. Florida boats leaned toward Campeche. Unless satisfactory agreements are reached, all these boats may have no place to fish but the waters where our boats are accustomed to dragging their nets. These waters would then be overcrowded, overfished and the profits from the harvest drop as dismally as those from the milo harvest.

There are a number of other results of the 200-mile limit. It is giving impetus to new research. One project is that of learning more about migration of shrimp. Do shrimp which breed in estuaries here migrate to Mexican waters, and have shrimp off our coast migrated from Mexico? Thousands of shrimp have been tagged. Miget is working with the National Marine Fisheries Service at Port Aransas and the Parks and Wildlife Service urging sports fishermen to be alert for shrimp marked with a green tag on a stainless steel pin. If you find one in your bait bucket, take note. Researchers want to know the number on the tag and where and when you came in contact with the shrimp. They'd like to have the shrimp itself to see how much it has grown. Miget says you can put it in a plastic bag and mail it to any of the three cooperating services. He adds with a shrewd gleam in his eye, mail it to one of the services other than his own if the shrimp is several weeks old.

Another approach to helping the economy is being made by Miget in work to boost the tourist industry. One of our main tourist attractions is fishing, in salt water, lake and stream. Miget's aim is to improve the tourist trade in summer, when it is already good, and coax it up to substantial proportions in winter. He's starting off with questionnaires to learn what trends are and how they are influenced. He thinks there may be some elementary ways to begin. As an example, instead of depending on the long-range five-day weather forecast in San Antonio, rapidly updated weather reports along with fishing reports to give the fisherman some immediate reason for packing up his gear and coming.

In all of our counties, coastal, and next door, we are seeing evidence of the growing fisheries program, whether it's in the economy, at the county fair with demonstrations of cleaning and preparing seafoods, or in the 4-H Clubs.

Corpus Christi Squadron To Rendezvous

On Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 21 and 22, the Corpus Christi Power Squadron will hold a power boat and sailboat rendezvous in Lydia Ann Channel across from the old light house on Harbor Island. On Saturday, Aug. 21 there will be a power boat Predicted Log Contest.

A skipper's meeting giving the contest course and rules will be held on Friday, Aug. 20 at 7:30 p.m. at 3822 Kingston. In addition to the predicted log contest, there will be cooperative charting, Gulf fishing and water skiing.

Horse Show Set Aug. 21

An open horse show is slated for Lone Star Arena in Corpus Christi on Saturday, Aug. 21.

There will be four halter classes and 23 performance classes. There are four age groups.

Registration begins at 9 a.m. and the show starts at 10 a.m.

VA Reminds Disabled Of NSLI Premium Payments

Ted W. Myatt, Veterans Administration Regional Director, has reminded veterans that some of them may be making unnecessary premium payments on their National Service Life Insurance policies.

"All NSLI policies beginning with World War II provide a waiver of premium payments if you become totally disabled," Myatt said.

"A veteran owning this insurance may not be required to pay premiums if he or she becomes totally disabled before reaching age 65 and the disability has existed for at least six consecutive months," he added.

But Myatt pointed out that, under the law, waiver of premium payments for disability is not automatic.

"The veteran must apply for the waiver and refunds of premiums already paid after the onset of disability are usually limited to one year prior to the filing of the claim," he explained.

Myatt said "total disability" for insurance purposes means that the veteran is prevented from working because of the disability.

For additional information and application form, veterans should contact the nearest VA office or write to the VA center which handles their insurance.

Grid Sale

Texas A&I football fans who currently hold options on season tickets have through Friday to renew these options before the tickets go on sale on a first-come, first-served basis.

Season tickets with or without options will be on sale Monday morning and these sales will continue through Sept. 11.

Single-game tickets, for any of the five A&I home contests, will be on sale beginning Aug. 30.

The price of the season tickets is $17.50 and single-game tickets are $4 each. There is a $3 option fee for those who purchase options.

A&I will be hosting five opponents this fall: Slippery Rock (Pa.) Sept. 11, Abilene Christian Sept. 25, Western New Mexico Oct. 16, Sam Houston State Nov. 6 and Howard Payne Nov. 13.

Muzzle-Loaders Being Offered Deer Hunts

If you are a muzzle-loading gun buff you just might get to hunt deer this year on a specially reserved area. Half the permits issued by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department (TP&WD) for deer hunting on the Chaparral Wildlife Management Area, in South Texas near Cotulla, will be set aside for muzzle-loaders.

This plan is NOT an attempt to grant special favors to a special interest group, it is strictly an experimental hunt designed to find out how many people are interested in muzzle-loaders, how effective these rifles are and how they compare with modern weapons.

There will be four week-end hunts during November and December on the Chaparral with 50 permits to be issued for each hunt. The lucky hunters to receive these permits will be determined by a drawing at the TP&WD's Austin office. Half the permits (25 for each week-end) will go to muzzle-loaders.

Half the Chaparral will be set aside for muzzle-loaders and half for modern weapons, and each week they'll swap sides. In this way the area will be hunted equally by modern and muzzle-loading rifles.

Robert West, regional director for wildlife in South Texas, pointed out that there has been some agitation for a special season for muzzle-loaders in Texas. The time will come, he said, when the Department will be asked to comment on such legislation. When that time comes, the biologists must have some data upon which to base recommendations. This hunt on the Chaparral is designed to provide that data.

Details on how and when to apply for permits will be announced later.

Workers Needed For Upcoming MD Telethon

Volunteers are needed in the Coastal Bend area to help with the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon.

The call was issued today by Kaye McCauley, President of the Coastal Bend Chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Association (MDA).

"We need men and women of all ages—who can answer phones, add columns of figures, or help in many other ways during this year's marathon show," Kaye McCauley said. The telethon will be broadcast in the Corpus Christi area by KRDT, Channel 16, on Sept. 5-6.

Jerry Lewis, MDA National Chairman, will host the star-studded show which originates from Del Webb's Hotel Sahara, Las Vegas. The spectacular will be seen on a network of nearly 200 stations.

Last year the telethon raised over $18.8-million for the fight against muscular dystrophy and related disorders. Jerry believes that "this, year, we can muster up still more love and support for kids and adults disabled by muscular dystrophy and related disorders. That's why I stand up on stage every year—so they'll be able to stand someday, too."

Mrs. McCauley said that volunteers are needed to answer phones, take pledges, type, tabulate, and deliver messages and supplies. Those wishing to volunteer should call (512) 854-4505.

KEDT will "cut away" from the network show for approximately 15 minutes every hour to present eyewitness reports of MDA activities in the Coastal Bend area supported by proceeds from the telethon and the annual March Against Muscular Dystrophy.

The health agency maintains a clinic at Ada Wilson Hospital, operates a summer camp for children with muscular dystrophy and related diseases at Kerrville, and supports research on muscular dystrophy and related disorders at the Jerry Lewis Neuromuscular Research Center at the Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

Hearing Set On Dredging

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials will hear an application Aug. 25 from Parker Brothers and Company of Houston for a special permit to dredge some 400,000 cubic yards of shell in San Antonio Bay.

A public hearing will be held at 2 p.m. in Room 510 of the Sam Houston State Office Building in Austin.

Under the permit application, Parker Bros. has agreed to replace any exposed shell as directed by the P&WD.

Insurance

$10,000 will be $350 if inland of the waterway and $700 if seaward. It will include $4,000 worth of coverage on contents at no extra cost. If a hurricane strikes and causes $10,000 worth of damage, the owner will pay $100 out of his own pocket if landward, and $200 if seaward.

The catastrophe pool requested premiums amounting to 5 per cent of value on homes inland of the waterway and 10 per cent of those on the seaward side, with no automatic coverage of contents. It proposed deductibles of 5 per cent on the landward side and 10 per cent on the seaward side.

Board attorney Hector De-

Leon contended at a hearing Friday that the pool had not proven statistically that its rates were justified. He recommended rates that would have generated a premium of $96.52 on the inland side and $289.56 on the seaward side for a $10,000 mobile home with $6,000 in contents.

Virtually all mobile home owners on the coast were left without coverage when Mobile County Mutual Insurance Co. folded more than a year ago.

Atty. Gen. John Hill opened the door for coverage this summer when he issued an opinion saying mobile homes could be covered by the pool if equipped with proper tie-downs.

Free Phone Service Is Available To Vets

Veterans or their dependents seeking information on benefits were reminded today that the Veterans Administration maintains 960 toll free telephone lines across the country for that purpose.

Regional Director Ted W. Myatt said the toll-free question-answering service is available to an estimated 90 per cent of the nation's veteran population.

The telephone numbers can usually be found in the "U.S. Government" section of local telephone books under "Veterans Administration-Benefits Information and Assistance."

In cases where a "U.S. Government" listing is not included in the local directory, telephone operators can supply the toll free number, Myatt said.

The service is aimed primarily at veterans who live away from a VA office and find it difficult to visit the office.

The toll-free service has proven popular, Mr. Myatt said. For example, VA counselors answered 17.6 million telephone calls during the first eleven months of fiscal year 1976, compared with 16.9 million in the same period a year ago.

"Because the service is so popular," Myatt said, "veterans should have at hand as much VA-related information about themselves as possible when making a call. If you can give the counselor your VA claim number, or your military serial number, or your Social Security number, for example, you will get faster service—which is what we are striving for."

Chamber Plans Office Expansion

The Chamber of Commerce building in downtown Rockport will be enlarged and remodeled, it was decided at a meeting of the board of directors Aug. 10 at the Sandollar Restaurant.

Directors decided to pay for the project through a fund-raising campaign rather than borrowing the money. It was pointed out that contributions to the Chamber's building fund would be tax deductible.

The building will be enlarged with a 20 ft. by 26 ft. addition at the rear of the present building. This space will be used as a conference room and also for much needed storage according to Mick Ladner, president of the Chamber of Commerce. Also, the front of the present building will be remodeled and the grounds landscaped to improve the appearance of this center of civic activity of the Aransas County area, he added.

Work on the addition is expected to start as soon as contributed funds are available. In addition to money gifts from individuals and business firms some contributions of labor and material are anticipated.

Dr. Jerry Shaw, chairman of the building committee, presented sketches of projected changes in the front of the building and improved landscaping to directors at the Tuesday meeting.

He reported he already had received offers of labor and material from a number of contractors.

It was pointed out that the Chamber of Commerce building usually is the first stop made by visitors seeking information about the community, both from recreational and commercial standpoints.

Three different offices are operated from the building at present, including the Chamber of Commerce itself, a Western Union agency and SeaFair headquarters. From time to time its facilities are used for a wide variety of local projects, according to Ladner, who pointed out that as city and county grow, so must facilities of the chamber.

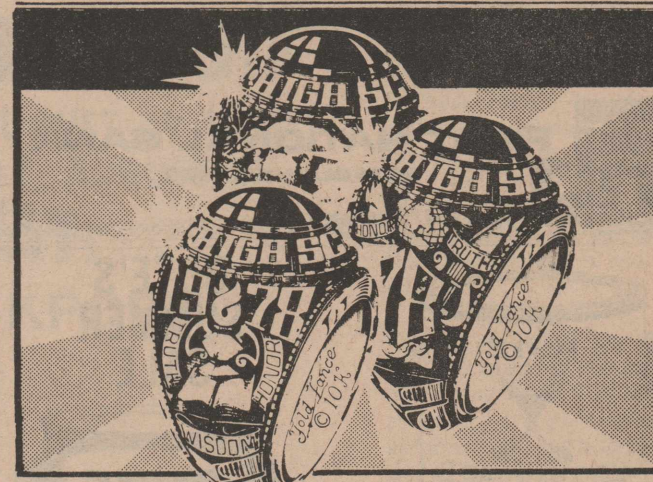

Contributions to the building fund already have been received from Mr. and Mrs. R.F. Borden and Mr. and Mrs. Clay Cooke.

Attending the meeting were chamber directors Bill Christian, Nancy Cooke, Curtis Goodman, Ladner, Steve Mahnke, John McDavid Jr., Joe Randow, Eddie Ratliff and Shaw. Also present were Bill Wilson, W.W. Muecke, Mayor Walter Falk and Loyce Landrum.

Outdoors 'n Things

BY L. D. NUCKLES

Have you ever been out in Texas bays looking for a particular Reef? Not easy to find and very difficult to identify would describe the situation pretty well.

Coastal fishery biologists of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department (TP&WD) are embarked on a program of marking and identifying major reefs along the entire coast. When the marking is completed a chart will be prepared and coastal TP&WD officers to guide the sport fisherman to the reef he is looking for. These charts will probably not be available until late 1976 or early 1977.

The reefs are being marked with Styrofoam buoys and, in a few instances, with flexible PVC pipes jettied into the bottom as piling. The buoys are being anchored with stainless steel cable fastened to concrete anchors. The anchors are pyramid shaped and weigh between 150 to 200 pounds. The buoys are painted orange and white.

In the past (1958-62) Styrofoam buoys were placed on the reefs, but no effort was made to identify the reefs by name. A great deal of maintenance was required because the anchors were too light and the anchor chains were soon eaten through by electrolysis. The lighter anchors were easily moved, which they often were.

This program was finally abandoned because of the difficulties encountered. If the buoys were not a half mile from the reef they were supposed to mark they were broken loose and had floated up on shore.

Now, with more fishermen from inland areas all the time, the need for the new program has become increasingly apparent.

The placement of the buoys is in full swing and biologists are optimistic about the success of the efforts. They hope that by the time winter fishing is in full swing, and not later than next spring, they will be able to give a fisherman a chart on which they can point out the reefs where the fishing should be good. With the buoys in place and the chart in his hand the fisherman should be able to locate the designated areas.

First County Agent Began Work In 1906

D.P. Pawlik
County Extension Agent
San Patricio & Aransas Co.
Agricultural production has come a long way since 1906, when the first county agent in the world was hired in Smith County, and headquartered at Tyler, Texas.

He was W.C. Stallings, who was employed by far-sighted leaders enthused over the success of William Porter's farm demonstrations in cotton insect work and other new farm practices, begun only three years earlier.

Congress passed the Smith-Lever Act in 1914, establishing official Extension Services in each state of the nation. The agency was to disseminate research findings from Land-Grant Colleges and State Experiment Stations to the People. Since that date, Texas A&M University and the Extension Service have been closely allied, for Extension continues to be a vital part of the Texas A&M University System.

A big challenge for Extension came during World War 1, when county agents were called upon to help with an all-out agricultural production effort to feed and clothe needy people throughout the world. During the Great Depression, agents worked with farm and rural people to help them produce and conserve most of their family food needs. Extension, through its county network of agents, was deeply involved in assisting with many national emergency programs.

Today, interest in home gardening and food preservation has reached a new high for urban and rural residents. Home butchering and processing of meat on farms has surfaced again as it did during the Depression period as a result of high retail meat costs and depressed prices at the farm level.

Many new agricultural frontiers have emerged in recent years. Extension county marine agents now serve a number of the Texas Coastal counties and assist commercial fishermen and shrimpers. Integrated pest management programs are moving ahead, along with livestock programs designed to improve the per cent of calf crops, and improving crop varieties. Agriculture today represents a whole new ball game!

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service joins Texas A&M University in observing the Land-Grant University's 100th year of service to Texans. Many activities of a historic nature are planned to call attention to some of the highlights of the agency and the university.

Miss Presley Named As A&I Honor Graduate

Thirty-five honor graduates were among the students receiving degrees from Texas A&I University in Kingsville Friday, Aug. 13.

Of this total, eight are graduating summa cum laude, with highest honors; 13, magna cum laude, with high honors; and 14, with honors. Respective standards are, respectively, grade averages (4.0 scale) of 3.65, 3.5 and 3.35.

Dr. Mario A. Benitez, vice president for academic affairs, announced the list.

Miss Kayelyn Lauer Presley of Rockport was listed among the Cum Laude graduates.

Local Shrimpers Oppose New 200-Mile Limit Idea

Coastal Bend shrimpers still are awaiting the outcome of negotiations between the United States and Mexico regarding a reciprocal agreement on fishing within the new 200-mile limit.

Though the 200-mile limit for U.S. waters does not take effect until next March, the Mexican government already is enforcing its version of the new regulation. And unless there is some drastic change in Mexican policy, detrimental effects will be felt locally.

"If they enforce it and don't allow our boats to continue to fish down there, it'll have some effect on us," said Sydney Herndon of Gulf King Shrimp Company.

"About 60 percent of the Brownsville - Port Isabel shrimpers fish in Mexican waters. If they come up here, it could get pretty crowded."

Herndon noted that the Gulf shrimping industry had opposed the United States enacting the 200-mile limit.

"Some other fisheries were very much in favor of it, but we in the shrimp business opposed it all along. It really penalizes the shrimpers."

When the U.S. enacted the 200-mile limit, Mexico countered with similar regulations. And when negotiations first began for a reciprocal agreement, Mexico at first stated they would close the Mexican coast to all foreign shrimping.

Faced with the prospect of a U.S. embargo on Mexican shrimp, their government softened its position. However, their latest stand has little appeal for U.S. shrimpers.

According to Mexico's statistics, some 530 boats had, in the past, fished off their coast. They offered to allow the catch to be up to 60 percent of what had previously been caught.

They would license approximately 60 percent of the 530, or about 318 boats, to continue shrimping in Mexican waters except for the Bay of Campeche which would be closed altogether to U.S. boats.

Cost of the license would be $2,086 for the first year of a 3 1/2-year phase-out program which would gradually reduce U.S. shrimping in Mexican waters until eventually it would be eliminated.

"License costs would be about 12 cents a pound," Herndon explained. "Mexican boats will have a 12 cents per pound advantage on the market."

A possible solution to the prospect of imported shrimp coming in at lower prices would be to either limit their importation or to enact a protective tariff which would equalize the 12 cents per pound advantage.

Any estimate of how many shrimpers will purchase the Mexican licenses at $2,086 is subject to question, especially since Mexico insists on closing the Campeche area to U.S. boats.

"Campeche was one of the first fishing grounds U.S. boats developed along the Mexican coast," Herndon explained. It has been one of the most productive areas for winter shrimping, but Mexican officials now feel it has been overfished and must be closed to U.S. boats.

However, Cuban shrimpers still will be allowed to fish the Bay of Campeche.

While Mexico pursues a conciliatory policy toward Cuban fishing interests, Cuba stands to lose lots of shrimping territory when the U.S. 200-mile limit takes effect next March 1st.

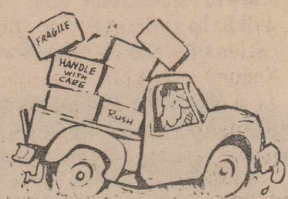

"There are lots of Cuban boats fishing off here right now," Herndon commented. "Probably 85 to 90 boats are here now, and they've been coming here for the last two or three years."

Though the U.S. 200-mile limit will send Cuban boats in search of other shrimping waters, it will have little effect on Mexican boats because Mexico's fleet has never fished off the U.S. coast to any great extent.

"Mexico doesn't have the boats to fish its own waters, at least not on the east coast," Herndon noted. "They say they could fish it with boats from the west coast, but the trend has been the other way (boats going from the east coast to the west)."

...your door to energy savings

CPL's Energy Efficiency Award Program

Planning to build or buy a new all-electric home? Planning to remodel your present home?

If so, you should drop by your CPL office and pick up a free copy of "Your Door to Energy Savings." This free book tells you how a home built to CPL's Energy Efficiency Award standards can help you stretch the dollars you spend for your electric service.

An all-electric home that qualifies for the Energy Efficiency Award is a home that has been checked and certified for energy efficiency features by a qualified representative from CPL. An EEA home is well-insulated, is completely weatherstripped, is equipped with efficient electric heating and cooling systems and many other features.

People who live in an EEA home and follow CPL's suggestions for using electricity wisely will be getting the maximum benefit of their electric service.

To see why the Energy Efficiency Award should become part of your building plans, drop by your CPL office and pick up your free copy of "Your Door to Energy Savings."

Clock-Hour Programs Revealed For The Fall

Bee County College clock-hour programs in Air Conditioning and Refrigeration, Auto Body Repair, Auto Mechanics, Office Assistant, Radio and Television Servicing, and Welding begin Aug. 25 for the next quarter.

Clock-hour programs are designed to grant college credit for the number of actual hours spent working with tools and techniques of the trade, rather than the traditional semester hour basis for college credit.

Clock-hour programs lead to Certificates of Achievement for completion of a specified number of quarters of training. Four quarters of training are provided each calendar year with classes meeting six hours per day, five days per week for twelve weeks.

Tuition for most clock-hour programs is $72 per quarter, excluding tools needed for certain programs. A student may begin any of the clock-hour programs at the beginning of any quarter. Quarters also begin Nov. 28, March 2 and June 1 this school year.

The air conditioning and refrigeration program shifted to clock-hour status for the first time this fall. The program includes instruction and laboratory practice on installation and repair of air conditioning and refrigeration as well as heating equipment.

Clock-hour programs, along with technical/vocational training in a number of other specialized fields, are directed by Dr. Neal McBryde, Dean of Occupational Education. The Occupational Education office is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. to answer questions, counsel, or aid students with fall semester schedules.

Registration for the fall semester began Aug. 2 for returning and part-time students. Full-time-new students may

Letter to the Editor

For several years, the United States Postal Service has been under virtually continuous attack by the media for inefficiency, carelessness, and failure to discharge its assigned function.

My own experience with the U.S.P.S. has been quite to the contrary. I am a professional photographer. For the past four years my wife and I have summered here on the St. Laurence and wintered on the Gulf Coast of Texas. In the course of my work I conduct a fairly large volume of correspondence and also have occasion to receive and to mail many packages containing film slides, color prints and photographic equipment. Invariably this material has been received or has arrived at its destination on schedule, and in top condition.

I have found the U.S.P.S. personnel in the Post Offices in Clayton, and in Fulton, Rockport and Corpus Christi, Tex. to be consistently efficient, cheerful and helpful in handling my requirements which are frequently complex. My hat is off to them.

South Texas Arabian Group Sets Trailride

Newly-formed STAR of Texas Arabian Horse Club will elect officers following a supper trailride, Aug. 21, Saturday at Chango Arabians, Corpus Christi.

Guest panelists discussing sanctioning, by-laws and club procedures will be Mr. and Mrs. Pete Johns and Mr. Bob Cowling, Houston. Johns, a former Houston Oilers football player and past-Master of Fox Hounds, New Orleans Hunt Club, is now a professional Arabian Trainer in Houston. Mrs. Johns is editor of The Arabian Advocate. Cowling is past-president of Gulf Coast Arabian Horse Club and show-manager of many of their "A" rated shows.

The STAR of Texas Arabian Horse Club is open to all owners, breeders and admirers of Arabian and Half-Arabian Horses. One need not own a horse to join. The group plans tours of Arabian farms, riding clinics, seminars, parade unit, promotional booth for fairs and many other activities.

For further information and directions to Chango Arabian Farm, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Celso Gonzalez, call Mrs. Bob George, Bayside, 528-2490.

register beginning Aug. 17 for clock-hour programs beginning Aug. 25.

Live Oak School to Open Aug. 23

Students attending Live Oak Elementary for the 1976-77 school year are scheduled to report to school Monday, Aug. 23 by 8 a.m.

Classes will be held on a full day basis with the first and second grade students being dismissed at 2:30 p.m. and the third and fourth grades dismissed at 3:30 p.m.

Lunch will be served in the cafeteria and buses will run on a regular schedule.

Students who have not attended Live Oak prior to this year are to come to the principal's office to register and for room assignments, according to school officials.

Bentsen Introduces Laws Tightening Sentencing

Senator Lloyd Bentsen has introduced legislation which reduces the discretion of both judges and parole boards by setting a firm, middle range prison term for violent Federal crimes.

Under the Bentsen Presumptive Sentence bill a bank robber for example, would be sentenced to four years in prison for a first offense. In virtually every case the robber would not be eligible for parole, although his sentence would be reduced, by an amount of time strictly established by law, for good behavior in prison.

"The current system, indiscriminate sentencing, is neither fair nor effective," Bentsen said in remarks prepared for the Senate.

"By whatever standard we use, our sentencing policies in criminal cases are failing. Judges are left adrift in a sea of discretion. There are few guidelines and little direction."

Current law, for example, allows the judge to set the prison sentence for bank robbery at anything from zero years to 20 years.

Under the Bentsen bill a 20 year maximum and a four year middle range or "presumptive" sentence is set. If the judge goes above or below the presumptive sentence he would have to present his reasons for doing so in writing, subject to appellate review.

The Bentsen bill increases the presumptive sentence by 50-percent -- to six years in the case of bank robbery -- for the second conviction, by 100-percent for the third conviction and by 200-percent for the fourth conviction. Senator Bentsen noted that the sentences established in his legislation are tentative and might well be changed following testimony at congressional hearings on the measure.

"Certainty of punishment can provide a deterrent to many forms of violent criminal behavior. The sad state of events today leads many to believe that the probability of punishment is low, that the law need not be feared, that criminal conduct will be tolerated with little or no cost to the criminal," Bentsen said.

"The legislation I introduce today should increase the deterrent by increasing the certainty that some punishment will be imposed."

Swine Flu Slides Are Shown AARP

A presentation of a set of slides on the upcoming mass immunization against the swine flu was shown by John L. Leslie, president of the AARP, at one of the best attended monthly meetings of the summer season recently. These slides were prepared by the Texas Dept. of Public Health and are being shown in Aransas County by Mr. Leslie, who is Publicity Chairman for this mass immunization program.

Following the usual routine business meeting, and the presentation of these slides, a series of fun events were held.

Mrs. Pat Works and Evelyn Horton served as hostesses for this meeting.

A called meeting of the executive board met Friday morning at the home of the president and discussed matters relating to the plans for the operation of this organization for the balance of 1976. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Leslie.

The Rockport Home and Garden Club met on the patio of Mrs. Bob Evers' home Aug. 12, and coffee and orange juice were served to the members as they discussed plans for the district garden club convention slated for Rockport.

The president, Mrs. Lewis Caton, introduced her guest, Mrs. Boyd Harris.

Mrs. Caton announced that committees were working on preparations for the district convention here in November. She announced the Sinton Garden Club is making favors and that the West Sinton Garden Club is making tote bags for the convention.

Mrs. Gene Garcia, convention chairman, read a list of desirable items for the Country Store and demonstrated covering small clay pots with cheese cloth and shells.

NCAA Rules May Make Schoolboy Football Safer

New NCAA rules may make schoolboy football safer this year. However, some coaches in their enthusiasm may accidentally overlook regulations that could decrease serious or fatal neck injuries, according to one prominent team physician. A UIL official has said the rules are hard to enforce.

Training begins August 11 for Class 4A and August 3 for other classes. Class 4A contact drills begin August 16; others start August 13.

Improperly using the head can result in cervical vertebrae (upper neck) injuries such as hyperflexion (vertebrae compression with possible spinal cord damage), hyperextension (slipped dislocated vertebrae with possible spinal cord damage) or cervical plexus damage (injury of the nerves going from the neck to the upper part of the body), according to the Texas Medical Association. These conditions can result in paralysis or death. Other injuries such as pinched nerves can be very painful.

Ball carriers rammed with the top of the head can suffer bruised heart muscles, broken ribs and possible collapsed lung from the rib fracture, hip tendon injuries and liver, spleen, bladder or kidney damage, depending on where he was hit.

New NCAA rules permit using the hands and arms more in blocking. Hopefully players will use their heads less in the line and they will be less prone to use their heads in open field play where most serious injuries occur, said Bailey Marshall, Ph.D., who is UIL athletics director. He said secondary backs in high-speed open field play most often get serious neck injuries, sometimes as a result of catching a knee in the head.

Ed Etier, M.D., TCU team physician and past president of the Texas Society of Athletic Team Physicians, says many serious neck injuries do occur in open field play but that most illegal use of the head occurs in the line. He said that the new rules on hand and arm use may cut down on head and neck injuries if coaches will follow them. Some coaches in their urge to win have been known to change a position slightly so legally it isn't spear tackling but it is still dangerous. They don't mean to endanger players. They sometimes just get overly enthusiastic, Dr. Etier said in an interview.

Even the widespread, legal "forehead hits the numbers" tactic is dangerous. "It's just less dangerous than hitting with the crown of the head," Dr. Etier said.

NCAA rules say a player cannot deliberately use his head to butt or ram an opponent. More specifically, it is illegal to strike a runner if the player uses the crown of the head. Spear tackling, which also is illegal, is defined as deliberately using the helmet in an attempt to punish an opponent. These acts carry a 15 yard unsportsmanlike conduct penalty. A player also could be expelled from a game, depending on the official's judgement.

The American Football Coaches' Association ethics code prohibits teaching use of the helmet as a weapon or as the primary point of contact. A coach found guilty of the practice by the association could be put on probation or expelled from the association.

However, it seems these rules are difficult to enforce in a game, said Dr. Marshall. An official must determine that a player intentionally used his head illegally.

Players tend to use their heads often and unintentionally. "If a player leads with his head, he's more likely to get part of a runner. If he leads with his head to the side, he may miss entirely if the runner dodges," Dr. Marshall said in an interview.

Dr. Etier says youngsters feel fairly secure about hitting with their heads since helmets are so sturdy. "What players don't realize is that the neck is virtually unprotected and can be severely injured when they use their heads unwisely," Dr. Etier said.

Dr. Marshall said tackling below the waist may become illegal in certain situations in

Junior High Classes To Begin Monday, Aug. 23

Classes will begin Aug. 23 for students that will attend Rockport-Fulton Junior High School this year. The school day will begin at 8:05 a.m. and end at 3:30 p.m. The cafeteria will be open and buses will make both the morning and afternoon runs.

Students that have not come to the school to pick up their schedules to find out which room they should report to the opening day of school will find this information posted the morning of the 23rd. Lists showing students which room to report to when the bell rings will be posted in the following places: Eighth grade - east end of the north wing; Seventh grade - east end of the south wing; Sixth grade - east end of the annex building.

On the opening day of school each student will report to a homeroom and the homeroom teacher will give the student his daily schedule of classes. The homeroom teacher will also give each student two items: a census card and a noon permission slip. These must be taken home, signed by the parent and returned to the homeroom teacher as soon as possible.

During the remainder of the first week, the homeroom teacher will go over the student handbook with students. This book contains school policies concerning student activity at school. Students will be able to bring these books home at the end of the first week. Parents are encouraged to read this book in order that they, too, will be familiar with school policies

New Courses Offered At Bee This Fall

A classroom equipped with big floor pillows instead of desks; field trips to see high fashion shows; a history class without lectures; new courses offered at Bee County College this fall emphasize teaching with the personal touch.

When classes begin Aug. 30, students will see some additions to the former class curriculum. These additions are geared to individualize instruction while keeping a high level of educational quality.

Ben Price, speech instructor, describes the new course in Interpersonal Communications as training students to operate more effectively in society. Utilizing training techniques in transactional analysis, the course will include exercises and activities geared to improve effective communication with other people. Sensory awareness training in the class is designed to help the individual analyze his or her personal communication habits, gestures and postures. By feeling the student from the traditional desk, he or she can begin to recognize communications problems and correct had habits.

Bee County College has traditionally offered quality education for the South Texas area providing training in all phases of Academic Education and in more than 24 specialized Occupational programs.

Registration for returning and part-time students began Aug. 2. New full-time students may register beginning Aug. 17. Clock-hour programs begin Aug. 25 and all other classes meet Aug. 30 for the first time.

Cattlemen Urged To Fight Screwworms

The Independent Cattlemen's Association is asking ranchers throughout Texas to cooperate fully with new federal guidelines aimed at controlling a screwworm outbreak now gripping the state.

The new guidelines, applied to all counties in Texas by the U.S. Department of Agriculture this week, require spraying of all cattle within 72 hours of any planned movement to Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi or Tennessee.

Those seven southeastern states have climates in which screwworm flies can "over-winter" and set up a disastrous situation for next year. Movement of cattle to states other than those seven is not affected.

ICA President T.A. Cunningham of Goliad pointed out that the spraying requirements now being applied to all Texas counties have previously been in force in 39 South Texas counties in the screwworm belt.

"With more than 7,100 cases in the first seven months of this year, and with confirmed cases as far north as the Panhandle, we have an epidemic situation," Cunningham said. "The spraying requirement will remain in effect until Nov. 30."

Cunningham also called on ranchers to remember these basic steps which are critical to screwworm control: prompt submission of samples from all infested wounds, prompt treatment of all wounds with preventative smear, spraying or dipping regularly to prevent infestation, and use of control programs for ticks, horn flies and other pests which make wounds available for screwworms.

"The sterile fly program is great, but it cannot do the job without the help of the rancher," Cunningham said.

UH At Victoria Offers History

The history curriculum at the University of Houston Victoria Campus has been expanded for the fall term, according to Dean Sam Johnson of the School of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences.

Dr. Harold Smith, recently appointed visiting assistant professor of history, will teach four new courses in European history. Two day classes will include the History of England in the 19th Century, from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. on Monday, Wednesday, Friday, and Modern European Intellectual History, from 12:45 to 2 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday.

An evening class in 20th Century European History will meet from 6 to 9 p.m. Tuesdays. A directed studies course in general modern European history will be offered by arrangement.

Students may register for the new courses during the regular registration periods Aug. 13 and 16 and during late registration on Aug. 27 and 30.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

An article appeared in a paper dateline Rockport July 1, 1976 stating that "city and county study will be made of a proposal to provide ambulance service that would receive private and public funds." Two members of the Aransas County Commissioners Court and two Councilmen of the City of Rockport are to make the study.

democracy such as we have, "private enterprise" is its very foundation, and as such it is not entitled to any subsidies (hand-outs) from public funds, regardless of the nature of such enterprise.

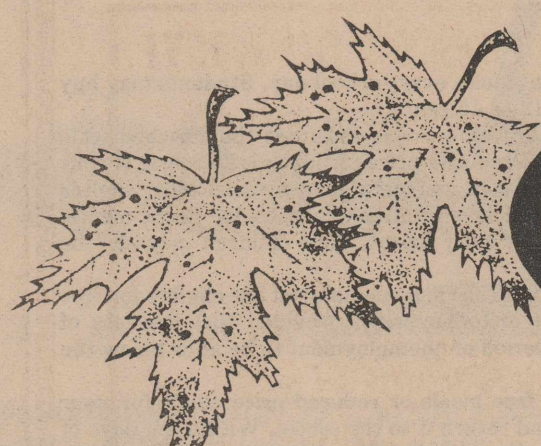

Private enterprise is a risk to be sure, but it should not be guaranteed by any subsidies of public funds. These subsidies have a tendency to make enterprises lazy or not care how or when they get reimbursed for such service.

I realize that ambulance service is a necessary service but it should be exclusively operated by the city and county; or a private enterprise without a subsidy. Now, I also realize that indigent persons need ambulances and the city and/or county should pay for those indigents, if they are on the welfare rolls! All other users subject to paying a fee.

If these subsidies are not stopped now, it can lead to other enterprises requesting hand-outs of public money, pleading they can't collect due bills.

This is pure "socialism". If it is not nipped in the bud, it will spread.

About October 1

Reynolds To Reopen San Patricio Plant

Reynolds Metals will reopen the San Patricio Reduction Plant near Ingleside on or about October 1 according to an announcement by company officials in Richmond, Va. recently.

Reynolds will end the "temporary" shutdown of the plant which began more than 16 months ago. Some 500 workers were laid off when production at the plant halted on March 24, 1975. Three months earlier, 275 workers had been idled in a production cutback.

After the complete shutdown, remaining workers stayed on to help install pollution control equipment. "Probably in another month or six weeks we will be calling some people back in," said a company spokesman. "There will be some preparatory work to do to get the plant started again."

Asked how many workers will be in the initial callback, the spokesman said: "I don't know just what it will be on opening day. As the construction work is completed and the plant is made ready and demand continues, we will have the plant in full operation as soon as possible."

"No schedule has been worked out yet. The word has just come down today," he continued.

Until the shutdown 16 months ago, Reynolds employed 1,800 persons with an annual payroll of $21.7 million at the San Patricio Reduction Plant and the adjacent Sherwin Alumina Plant.

The Sherwin plant, employing about 900 people, produces aluminum oxide from bauxite brought in aboard ships. The San Patricio Plant removed the oxide and produced aluminum ingots.

Reopening the San Patricio Plant will have no immediate effect on the Sherwin facility which recently has been operating at capacity.

Attributed to slack demand for aluminum and the high price of natural gas, the shutdown was part of a company-wide cutback which also idled workers at two plants in Arkansas. The Arkansas plants, at Arkadelphia and nearby Jones Mills, were reopened last January.

When the three facilities were closed, company officials said layoffs would be temporary and that the plants would be reactivated when "economic conditions restore demand for aluminum."

The announcement of the San Patricio Plant reopening came in conjunction with price increases, and both were attributed to "continuing strong improvement in demand for aluminum."

'Reynolds' tonnage shipments of aluminum increased 40 per cent in the first six months of this year over those of a year ago," said the spokesman.

"The company has been meeting the demand for reducing inventories and bringing its primary facilities back into full production as rapidly as possible."

Of the plants affected by last year's cutback, San Patricio is the last to be reactivated.

Schools Announce Policies Of Free And Reduced-Price Lunch Program

Again this year the Aransas County Independent School District announces its policy for free or reduced-price means for children unable to pay the price of meals served by the school under the National School Lunch Program.

The following letter, family income chart, and application form will be sent home to the parents by each student on the first day of school. Any parent wishing to apply for free or reduced-price meals should complete the form and return it as soon as possible. When the forms have been processed the parents will be notified by mail of the action taken.

Dear Parent or Guardian:

The Aransas County Schools serve nutritious meals every school day. Students may buy lunch for 45 or 50 cents, and extra milk for 12 or 15 cents.

Children from families whose income is at or below levels shown on the attached scale are eligible for free or reduced-price meals. The reduced price for lunch is 20 cents. If your income is greater than those shown, but you have unusually high medical bills, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of your income, special education expenses due to the mental physical condition of a child, or disaster or casualty losses, your children may still be eligible.

The school children of parents or guardians who become unemployed are eligible for free or reduced-price meals during the period of unemployment, provided that the loss of income causes the family income during the period of unemployment to be at or below the levels shown on the scale.

To apply at any time during the year for free meals or reduced-price meals for your children, complete the attached application and return it to the school. Within ten days of receiving your application, the school will let you know whether or not your children are eligible. If you do not agree with the school's decision, you have a right to a fair hearing. This can be done by calling or writing to Mr. E.J. Randow, Superintendent, Box 907, Rockport, Texas 78382, Telephone No. 729-2276.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If you have foster children living with you and wish to apply for such meals for them, please notify us or indicate it on the application.

All children are treated the same regardless of ability to pay. In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color, or national origin.

If we can be of any further assistance or if your family size or income changes during the year, please contact us.

Sincerely,

Edith Crusier
Dietitian and Luncheon Supervisor
