Chrysler Loan Guarantees Receive Final Okay Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chrysler Corp. won final federal backing today for $400 million in new loans to stave off bankruptcy. The approval came as the company reported the largest annual loss in American corporate history, $1.71 billion for last year.

Treasury Secretary Donald T. Regan, chairman of the three-man Chrysler Loan Guarantee Board, said the panel agreed today that Chrysler has met conditions set out in an agreement tentatively approved by the board last month, when it was headed by former Secretary G. William Miller.

Chrysler lost $235 million in the fourth quarter, to top the 8-day-old record loss of $1.54 billion reported by Ford Motor Co.

Chrysler, the No. 3 automaker, said its loss for the year included "unusual charges" of $250 million, mainly the writing-off of obsolete plant and equipment. Those write-offs totaled $78 million in the fourth quarter.

Sales for the year fell 23 percent from $12 billion to $9.23 billion. Sales of cars and trucks worldwide fell 32 percent, from 1.8 million to 1.23 million last year.

Congress has authorized another $300 million in guarantees, but Regan said the Reagan administration would look at any Chrysler request for that money "a lot more closely" than it had the current agreement.

Calling Chrysler's prospects for survival "reasonably good," Regan said it is now "clearly the sole responsibility of Chrysler's senior management" to put the company back on its feet. He also renewed the government's urging that it find a merger partner.

Final approval follows six weeks of tough negotiations in which the struggling No. 3 automaker gained financial concessions from the company's workers, suppliers and creditors. The bankers, who held out the longest, agreed only this week to write off millions of dollars in loans.

Company officials have said the last major problem in winning the guarantees was overcome when board members unofficially approved a revised agreement between Chrysler and more than 100 creditors to which the company owes more than $1.1 billion.

Published reports indicated a key part of the agreement called for payment of about $68 million of that debt within 30 days. Several New York banks reportedly demanded quick payment of at least that much out of fear the company would soon go under — even with the new cash infusion — and the banks would end up with nothing.

Meanwhile, Chrysler officials were expected to announce later today that the company lost $1.77 billion last year, a record for any U.S. corporation. Losses totaled $299 million in the fourth quarter, but company officials said the loan guarantees and improving sales will make 1981 a much better year.

Soviets Ready To Trade Again

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union is ready to resume mutually profitable trade with the United States, Premier Nikolai A. Tikhonov said today.

Meanwhile, another Soviet official said President Reagan would look "stupid" if he let the El Salvador issue block a superpower summit.

Tikhonov, in a major economic policy address to the 26th Communist Party congress, said Moscow wants to develop its trade first with those capitalist countries with a "constructive approach" to economic cooperation. This appeared to be a criticism of the United States, which has linked its trade policy to Soviet political behavior.

Thatcher Encourages Reagan

WASHINGTON (AP) — British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher, declaring that "now is the time to stay on course," is encouraging President Reagan to stick to his economic program even when the going gets tough.

The conservative British leader has put into practice the same basic economic program proposed by Reagan for the United States, blending tax and spending cuts in an effort to increase productivity and reduce inflation.

Saudis To Get Jetfighter Gear

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Reagan administration is notifying Congress it intends to go ahead with a controversial sale of F-15 jetfighter gear to Saudi Arabia, despite opponents' fears of increasing the Arab threat to Israel.

To offset those fears, Israel is to get $600 million in credits to buy an additional 10 F-15 jets, House and Senate committees were told in closed briefings Thursday.

High Cotton Yields Needed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government experts say it appears "exceptionally high" cotton yields will be needed this year to rebuild the U.S. stockpile to normal levels.

The Agriculture Department said the U.S. cotton supply-and-demand situation "will remain tight through the remainder of 1980-81 and well into next season."

That is a result of diminished reserves last Aug. 1 — the beginning of the current cotton marketing year — and the drought-reduced 1980 harvest, officials said Thursday. The harvest was 11.1 million bales, down from 14.6 million in 1979.

Iran Charges Napalm Use

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Iran accused Iraq today of dropping napalm bombs on a Kurdish town.

Iran's official Pars news agency claimed Iraqi jet fighters dropped five of the bombs during an air raid on Marivan in northwestern Iran Monday.

Madam Gets Probation

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Theresa Brown, the convicted brothel madam who kept a list of 3,000 customers beneath her bed, has been sentenced to five years probation and her attorney promises an appeal will be filed.

District Judge James Barlow pronounced sentence Thursday after Ms. Brown's attorney, Pat Maloney Sr., called 12 character witnesses — including a Catholic priest and several people who live near the alleged brothel — who described the 46-year-old woman as an ideal mother and good citizen.

Attendance Policy Revised...

School Rejects Plans For Appraisal Office

Snyder School Trustees last night declined to endorse a proposal by the Scurry County Appraisal District to puchase a building on the Snyder square, and revised attendance policies for secondary schools.

Supt. Bill J. Hood told the board that the appraisal district, which has been seeking new offices, had proposed the purchase of a building at College Ave. and 26th St. now occupied by First federal Savings and Loan. Jerry Rice made a motion that no action be taken on a change of office sites for the appraisal district. Following a second by Bill Eiland, Rice, Eiland and Lillie Sullivan voted for the motion and G. A. Parks Jr., Bill Seale and Mike Reed voted against it. Ted Crenwelge, board president, voted off the tie, favoring the motion.

Attendance policies for secondary schools were revised to permit appeals by students who exceed the limit on absences but are able to make up their work. Also, notes from parents will be accepted for absences due to illness, and makeup work will be recommended for the first 10 absences in any semester. After 10 absences in a semester, a letter will be sent to parents explaining the position of the school concerning absences. After 11 absences in any semester, a student will be failed for the course, unless extenuating circumstances exist. Cases of prolonged illness, extended or lengthy recovery of

Foundation For Hospital Near

Cogdell Memorial Hospital moved a step closer to having a hospital foundation established and last night was presented a gift to go with it. On another note, however, the hospital's board of managers heard complaints from former employees of the hospital's radiology department.

The move to have a hospital foundation established was started approximately two years ago, and last night at the board's regular meeting Rex Robinson, the board president, read the articles of incorporation that have been drawn up for it. Final approval for the foundation, however, is up to the state.

When the foundation is approved there will be a gift ready to go in it. The gift, 73 shares of Houston Natural Gas common stock, has been presented to the hospital by Evelyn Knox. The stock is worth $3,960.

Also at the meeting, board members heard complaints from Tanya Blythe and Tracy Gill, both former employees of the hospital's radiology department. The two women claimed they were treated unfairly by their department supervisor and that the supervisor had unnecessarily exposed them to radiation. The matter, however, had already been reported to the medical staff and

Ask Us

Q.—What is the difference between a burglary, a robbery and a theft?

A.—A burglary is breaking into something, like a house, store or car. A robbery is when something is taken from a person. A theft is when something is taken from a location where it has been left by the owner.

Siren Test Successful

Snyder's new emergency warning sirens went through successful tests Thursday afternoon, and a regular schedule for testing has been announced.

City Manager John Gayle said the seven emergency sirens will be tested at 7 p. m. on the second Thursday of each month. This time and date corresponds to regular drills conducted by the fire department.

Otherwise, the sirens will sound only in the event of danger from a storm or other tragedy such as derailment of a train transporting dangerous materials, etc. They will not be used as fire alarms.

DISCUSSING HOUSING—On hand for a discussion of rental housing yesterday at the Snyder Chamber of Commerce were, from left, Phil Guerry, executive vice president of First National Bank; Lewis Bunch of First Southwest Co., Fort Worth, and Mike Graves, local developer. Representatives of financial firms and developers were briefed on the revenue bond plan for financing construction of rental housing. However, several problems were foreseen for any effort to put such a plan into operation here. It was indicated that guaranteed occupancy probably would be needed to make the a project feasible at this time. Also, the local groups expressed concern over a requirement that at least 20 percent of the units be set aside for low-income occupants. (SDN Staff Photo)

Keeping tab on our neighbors:

Walter Buckel of the Lamesa Press-Reporter says a rising water table in that area has drawn attention of late. And he noted on a recent plane trip to Central Texas that the water situation is much better in this area than down south.

"The rising water table has posed problems in Midland where their normally dry 'draw' is running again," Buckel observed. "The water table in Dawson County is up over a few years ago. In other areas, dry creekbeds have started to run again as the water tables give a 'spring' effect in some draws."

Buckel attributes it to winter snows and some heavy rains after the snows, but most of all to the fact that in many parts of West Texas, irrigation systems have been shut down. He says one operator in Dawson County has cut off more than 40 wells and many others have shut down 12 to 20 wells.

Why?

Rising energy costs made it unprofitable to operate them.

Here in Snyder, Deep Creek has kept "running" for several months. However, since there is little irrigation around here, we are inclined to credit this to last September's prolonged rains and the November snowfall.

Fourth Candidate In School Race

Charlie Freeman has filed as a candidate for Place 6 on the Snyder Independent School District Board of Trustees.

Freeman, 54, is a pumper-gauger for Chevron U. S. A.

He is the fourth candidate to file for a place on the ballot and the second to seek Place 6. He and Roy McQueen are candidates for Place 6, the post which will be vacated by Bill Eiland, whose term expires.

Candidates for Place 7 are Joseph D. Hinton and Dr. Paul A. Thompson. They are seeking the post now held by Ted Crenwelge, whose term also expires.

Neither Eiland nor Crenwelge is seeking re-election.

The school election is set for April 4, and Places 6 and 7 are the only posts to be filled this year.

The deadline for candidates to file with the board secretary in the school administration building is March 4.

uncle sam takes rap

It doesn't take a genius to figure out who is taking the rap in Russia for the unrest of the Polish working masses? Who else but the Americans?

No matter where the Russians run into problems — be it in Afghanistan, Africa or Europe — the Americans take the blame. Judged from the number of such claims made against us, our undercover army may outnumber our uniformed troops by several hundred thousand.

Of course, the Soviets use such allegations as reasons to become involved in the internal affairs of nations like Poland. As strife in Poland worsens, the Russians point the accusing finger at the United States and step up their war maneuvers just outside the country.

According to the Soviet press, American labor and espionage elements have been funneling money to the Polish dissidents while trying to keep the burr under the saddle, so to speak.

There are other nations a lot closer to Poland than the United States, each of which has reason to be afraid if Russian troops move into the country to restore the Soviet idea of tranquility, but America is the nation which absorbs the blame for the Poles' restlessness. If we didn't invent the word "interference," we certainly have it down to a fine art, so say the Muscovites.

Countries the world over may or may not believe the Russian tales of American intrigue but one thing is for sure — other nations know where to turn in times of national disaster, whether it be an earthquake in Equador, a flood in India or famine in Africa. Invariably, they look in the direction of the United States because that is where help invariably comes from.

The Russians grasp such opportunities to make propaganda hay. It is quite a responsibility to be regarded by the world's people as the one country which can bring order out of chaos but, whether we like it or not, we have inherited that role. May we always deserve the reputation as a people who care enough about what happens to the rest of mankind to lend a helping hand. We don't always measure up to our aims as a super power but, on occasions, we succeed gloriously.

It would be nice, though, if the Soviet Union and other nations gave us a little credit if we rescue a stricken nation.

my turn

by john dunnam

Three cheers for What's My Line. For once, one of the Real People clones exposed one of the so-called psychics instead of providing him a national showcase to perpetuate his career of deceit.

On Tuesday night, some young jerk demonstrated his psychic powers by turning the page of a telephone directory without touching the pages. Very impressive.

At least it was until a magician charged he was a cheat and a liar and proved it. The magician, The Amazing Randy, has offered $10,000 to anyone who can demonstrate real psychic powers. After 17 years, he is still carrying the check in his pocket.

The telephone page turning trick was accomplished by blowing on the page. When bits of styrofoam were placed around the page to prevent such deception, it refused to move for the "psychic". Finally, the magician showed that he too could turn the page without touching it, by surreptitiously blowing on it.

What really warmed my soul was when the host mentioned that the "psychic" had performed the same stunt on That's Incredible. It would be the best thing that's happened to television since they announced Charlie's Angels is being canceled if these shows could start feuding among themselves by explaining each others "unexplainable."

Have you ever noticed how often the ghosts on That's Incredible reside in places of business, especially those that cater to tourists or the curious Perhaps we should trade our white buffalo for a courthouse ghost. And why is it that among all the experts that they manage to produce to testify to feats of ESP, evidence of the supernatural, or maybe a UFO or two, that they never even offer the explanation of one skeptic?

I'll tell you why, it would burst the bubble of mystique and when there is no mystery, there is no entertainment.

In college, there was a guy in the dorm who could do card tricks. One trick after another, he amazed us until late in the evening. Everytime we thought we figured out how it did one, he would do it again and shatter our hypothesis. We gave up and he left us pondering the seemingly impossible.

Finally, I was voted a delegation of one and dispatched to his room to find how he did some of those tricks so we could quit arguing and get some sleep. After much browbeating, he showed me how he did a few of them. I felt geniunely silly at having been taken-in by such incredibly basic sleigh-of-hand maneuvers and common mathematical certainties. The tricks were all so simple and so obvious.

"Its 90 percent showmanship," he said. "And once you know how they're done, the thrill is gone."

With a heavy heart, I returned to my friends with the solutions. "Well, how did he do them," they demanded.

As I looked into their anxious faces, I knew I couldn't hurt them with the truth. After all, these were my friends.

"Magic," I said. "That person is an alien being, and when I went into his room I caught him changing into his true identity (he looked just like Fran Tarkenton) and saw him fly out the window."

rain forests disappearing

NAIROBI (AP) — Warning of the dangers to the world's environment, Mostafa Tolba, executive director of the U. N. Environment Program points out that about half the world's rain forests have been destroyed.

As many as 1,000 animal and 25,000 plant species are threatened with extinction, according to UNEP estimates.

Further, more than twothirds of the world's fisheries and breeding grounds are being degraded or destroyed, Tolba says.

at wit's end

Some people have the weirdest ideas for relieving stress. The newest one is called a flotation tank. For $25, you climb into a wooden box with eight inches of 93-degree water to which 800 pounds of salt has been added and for the next hour float in complete darkness and get in touch with your feelings.

Doesn't that sound like fun?

Sorta like being sucked up in your sweeper bag to get your mind off your split ends.

Frankly, the flotation tank sounds like another way to get the phone to ring.

It's nothing new. Back in the '40s every slick magazine on the newsstand was pushing for the mid-afternoon hot tub soak. It was to be the housewife's answer to boredom, depression, neurosis, unfulfillment, lower back pains, a short pay week and unrequited love.

It always showed the woman immersing herself into three feet of suds, leaning back with her eyes closed and a sensuous smile on her lips...lost in space.

It never worked for me. Even with my eyes closed. I smelled the mildew on the shower curtain and realized if I cut off any more on the bottom, I'd end up with only the rings.

I'd pretend my legs were only as big as what surfaced on the water and became very depressed when the rest floated to the top.

And I would strain to hear the muted voices outside the bathroom door. "I'm telling." "What kind of animal is it?" "You got that all over Mom's fur collar." "You're bleeding all over the bedspread." "A lot of people live without a car."

Sometimes, a note would come under the door and as I struggled to beach myself, shivering from the cold, yet consumed with curiosity, I would open it to read, "Can we split a Pepsi?"

The worst part of the hot bubble bath was the dreaming. How do you get spaghetti stains out of a plastic tablecloth? What does it mean when the lawn around the septic turns to quicksand? If a kid's toes turn in and you don't do anyting about it, will she still be invited to the prom?

After awhile, I stopped trying to relax by artificial means. I made up my mind a hot bath couldn't solve all my problems. I just stopped sweating the small stuff.

Some say I'm too practical. I oversimplyfy things. Like when my friend said her dog was getting too fat and she paid 57 cents a can for dietary dog food, I said, "Why don't you just feed him less?"

She looked at me like I should have known the answer, but I honestly didn't.

I don't have stress, but I think I'm a carrier.

john cunniff

WASHINGTON (AP) — Because of inflation and the law of the land, some wealthy charitable foundations set up in the names of Rockefeller, Ford and 24,000 others are in danger of bleeding to death.

If the law isn't changed, and if high inflation persists, such institutions "will be required to spend themselves out of existence," says Eugene Struckhoff, president of the Council on Foundations.

They might not succumb immediately, but unless one or both factors change, he says, their decline as a factor in health, education, the arts and other philanthropic areas is almost inevitable.

With rare exceptions, nobody seeks this liquidation. No matter, the law exists, and it must be recognized. It is as real as inflation.

The foundations can do little about the latter, but they feel they can change the law. Bills seeking a change have been introduced.

The foundations' plight arises from a provision that requires tax-free foundations to distribute each year the larger of (1) 5 percent of investment assets or (2) actual, realized, current income.

Foundation executives don't quibble with the first provision. They concede they exist to distribute money, and that they must do so to earn their tax-free status.

Until recent years they weren't uneasy either about the second part — that requiring distribution of actual, realized, current income if it exceeded 5 percent of assets. Then came double-digit inflation.

Because of inflation and accompanying high interest rates, the entire philosophy of investing has changed. Assets invested in stocks have yielded little. Investments in high-yield debt securities have.

Thus, seeking to to defend itself against inflation — to preserve its endowment and grant-making ability against shrinking buying power — a foundation might be inclined to invest in debt securities at 15 percent rather than in stocks. Common sense dictates such a move.

To do so, however, would bring a flood of "actually realized current income," all of which would have to be distributed.

The alternative is to remain in a well-diversified stock portfolio and hope to build assets via capital gains (non-realized income). But blue chip stocks are about where they were 15 years ago.

Why don't foundations forgo blue chips and hitch a ride on high flyers? Because that may be deemed a violation of the prudent man principle that requires guardians of trusts to invest cautiously.

Why should the public worry?

"Because we are an alternative to government," Struckhoff says. "We are the research and development money of the private sector."

The Charles Stewart Mott Foundation adds historical reasons: "It was foundations that funded the development of both an effective yellow fever vaccine and polio vaccine."

thoughts

When a marriage was planned, gifts might be given to the girl; Abraham's servant gave jewels and raiment to Rebekah when he was arranging her marriage. A dowry was given to the girl's father. Saul said he wanted no dowry from David's father but a hundred foreskins of the Philistines. David gave him two hundred.

"And Saul said (to his servants), Thus shall ye say to David, The king desireth not any dowry, but an hundred foreskins of the Philistines, to be avenged of the king's enemies..." — I Sam. 18:25

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The Heritage Foundation, the Washington think tank with the closest link to the Reagan administration, recently completed an analysis of the federal budget and how it could be cut. Many of the suggestions contained in that report are likely to find their way into President Reagan's budget for fiscal 1982 or 1983.

The foundation assembled a group of 18 experts, each of whom studied a particular area of the budget. Their findings were compiled into "Agenda For Progress: Examining Federal Spending," a volume whose theme of cutting the overall budget while increasing defense spending is compatible with the conservative, pro-military orientation of the foundation and of many in the new administration.

The experts offer a blueprint for increasing Pentagon allocations by $34 billion in fiscal 1982 while reducing total federal spending by $25 billion. Here is where most of the nearly $60 billion in cuts would be made:

The report contends that $4.9 billion could be saved annually by ending U.S. participation in international development programs such as the Export-Import Bank and by eliminating Food for Peace. They argue that ample funds are available to developing nations in the private sector.

The analysts call for a $2.1 billion reduction in federal spending on science and technology. That includes pulling out of the Space Shuttle program.

The biggest savings might be achieved in the areas of energy and natural resources, say the Heritage experts. They contend that $12 billion could be saved each year by abolishing the Energy Department, the Energy Regulatory Administration and the strategic petroleum reserve.

Another $10 billion could be saved annually in environmental programs say the experts, because "the bulk of expenditures now being made for natural resources and environmental protection are unnecessary." Instead, they recommend tax credits and penalties to discourage pollution.

The study speculates that $3.3 billion could be saved annually by slashing the Agriculture Department's non-agricultural functions — such as food and housing programs — as well as dairy and other support payments.

Some $6.2 billion could be saved annually in the transportation field, say the experts, by eliminating the Interstate Commerce Commission, federal financing of mass transportation, the Amtrak subsidy, the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration and the Federal Maritime Commission.

The foundation says that another $5 billion could be saved by slashing various development grants for cities, communities, businesses and rural areas. And $2.2 billion could be saved by doing away with the Education Department and by substituting tax credits for federal tuition loan and grant programs.

Some of the report's most controversial proposals deal with employment, health and social services. The analysts say that $3.8 billion could be saved annually by amending the CETA program, pegging social-service payments to each state's percapita income, introducing a sliding scale of patient payments in the Medicare and Medicaid programs, consolidating all federal income-support efforts into a single program and turning all welfare payments back to the states through block grants.

Finally, the Heritage experts say that the Veterans Administration could save a whopping $8.2 billion annually by simply restricting compensation and benefits to former servicemen with disabilities directly related to their job performance in the military, by dismantling the VA hospital system and by paying for the care of disabled veterans at private facilities.

Opposition both inside and outside government would make a number of these budget cuts difficult if not impossible to achieve. But many of the proposals are likely to find their way in some form into one or another of the budget-cutting plans that emerge from the Reagan administration over the next several years. The Heritage study may well serve to define the issues in the coming budget debates.

says taped encounters making people nervous

NEW YORK (AP) — Rita Jenrette, the estranged wife of a congressman convicted of Abscam charges, says there are some frightened people in Washington because a female lobbyist videotaped sexual encounters with congressmen.

Mrs. Jenrette, in New York on Monday to publicize her article and semi-nude photo spread in Playboy magazine, said the lobbyist had been made pregnant by a Republican senator.

She declined to identify the senator, but added, "This is brewing and soon to come out, I think, in the next couple of months."

"There are a lot of very frightened Republican congressmen and senators, because this woman supposedly has all of this...their intimacies, on videotape," she said.

John Jenrette, a South Carolina Democrat, was defeated for re-election last year after being convicted of taking a bribe in exchange for promising undercover FBI agents to introduce an immigration bill for fictitious Arab sheiks. He is appealing.

Mrs. Jenrette served her husband with divorce papers two weeks ago.

Your Birthday

February 28, 1981

Your possibilities for fulfilling a secret goal you've had for some time are very good this coming year. Dream on, but also take practical steps to make it a reality.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) One of the reasons you'll win the respect and admiration of your peers today is that your behavior will be free of guile and pretense. Romance, travel, luck, resources, possible pitfalls and career for the coming months are all discussed in your Astro-Graph which begins with your birthday. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) A difficult situation may arise today which could stymie your friends, but not you. The practical, efficient manner with which you resolve it wins their respect.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) The concerns of those you love will be very important to you today. You'll unselfishly put their needs above your own in matters where you have to make a choice.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You're a good listener today. This asset could prove very beneficial when involved in discussions with persons whose judgment you respect.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Take advantage of any opportunities today to help persons who have been of assistance to you. Your good deeds may have a surprise bonus.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You don't need a lot of people around you today in order to feel happy. Just you and your special someone will be a large-enough crowd.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Working on creative projects today will give you a sense of fulfillment. It could be your favorite hobby, or something you do around home to add beauty and warmth.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) In order to soothe your restless spirit today, make social arrangements with friends whose company you truly enjoy. Don't invite business types.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) If you're involved in a situation that could add to your income or resources, it's best to follow through on it today, rather than postpone action.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You have the ability today to bring the sunshine with you. Friends will recognize this when they notice how dull the gathering was before you made the scene.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Persons fond of you are likely to make an extra effort today to show you how much they care. You could receive kind words, and material favors as well.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Romantically, this should be a lucky day for unattached Aquarians. Look your best for the party this evening. You could meet someone new and exciting.

Cook Named By DAR As 1981 Good Citizen

Mrs. G.B. Clark Jr., has announced that Randy Cook is the 1981 recipient of the Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizen Medal. Randy was chosen because of his scholarship, leadership, honesty, community and school activities and patriotism.

This prestigious award is given annually by the local chapter as a way of encouraging such qualities in young people and recognizing the student from Snyder High School who serves as an example of these qualities in American youth.

The Martin Preuitt Jr. Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met in the home of Mrs. David Strelecki for lunch Saturday, for their annual George Washington's Birthday Celebration. Mrs. Henry F. Clark, president, presided at the meeting.

Dr. Franklin Pruitt was guest speaker and was introduced by Mrs. Strelecki. Dr. Pruitt's topic was "American Heritage," and he spoke on the life of George Washington. In addition to biographical facts about the first president of our country, Dr. Pruitt stressed the political legacy he left to future generations of Americans.

Guests, in addition to Dr. Pruitt, were Mrs. Georgia Jones, mother of Randy Cook, and Mrs. Irene Hester of Loraine.

Members attending the luncheon included Mmes. Joe Alexander, Henry F. Clark, Hugh Birdwell, Gene Dulaney, G.B. Clark Jr., Clyde Hall Jr., Leland Herod, Douglas Hill, Bill Line, David Strelecki, Harry Ward, Bernhard Bartels, J.D. Hinton, Ophelia Blackard and Glenn Coon.

Stamps Saved For Charity By Extension Homemakers

The Extension Homemakers in Scurry County join with over 20,000 ladies across the state of Texas in one project that costs them nothing but helps feed the hungry and destitute.

That particular project is saving cancelled postage stamps. These stamps are given to the Salvation Army, who in turn sell them and use the money for their charitable projects.

Mrs. Pearl Wheeler, Scurry County Chairman for the Texas Extension Homemakers Association, invites everyone in the county to help them with this project.

Before you throw away any envelope or package wrapping with a cancelled stamp on it, cut out the stamp, leaving ¼ inch of paper around it.

Your collection of stamps can be left in the office of the County Agent at 2603 Ave. M, located in the same building as the Senior Center.

Hepburn Likes Tough Directors

NEW YORK (AP) — Katharine Hepburn, confirming her reputation in some circles as an actress difficult to work with, says she always looks for a director "who can push harder than you can."

"I discovered early on — get a tough director," Miss Hepburn wrote in the March issue of Panorama, a television magazine.

Bridge players should be familiar with the defensive principle which states: "When a defender signals with an honor he denies the honor directly above."

South had no satisfactory response over North's opening one diamond bid. He tried to muddy the waters with a psychic one heart response. He was paving the way for an eventual no trump contract and wanted to avoid a heart lead.

West led a club and East signaled violently with the ten. Although it is of no consequence here, East's play of the ten denies holding the jack.

South, with eight sure tricks, had to take a finesse in the suit he didn't want led, hearts, for his ninth trick. So he crossed to his hand with a diamond to his ace and led a heart to the queen and king.

East cashed the king of clubs and West played the jack, denying the queen. When East saw the jack of clubs, he knew that continuing clubs could only help declarer scoop up a quick nine tricks. East cleverly shifted to the jack of spades. Now the defenders were able to rattle off four spades and defeat the contract two tricks.

The key play for the defense was the jack of clubs, denying the queen. Without that bit of help, East would have no way of knowing that a club continuation was not the best.

Jenn-Air Demonstration
Watch the Jenn-Air Grill-Range in action. See what good taste is all about.
The amazing Grill-Range that does so many things so well is being demonstrated at your Jenn-Air dealer. See steaks sizzle up plump and juicy on the Char-Flavor grill. Watch chickens and roasts turning golden brown on the rotisserie, while eggs and pancakes cook to perfection on the non-stick griddle. The Jenn-Air demonstration will show you how to roast meats faster, juicier, and at lower temperatures. And you can see how easily Jenn-Air's convertible cooktops slip in and out—great for clean ups as well as cooking! What you won't see, though, is all the smoke, grease and odors that are whisked away by an exclusive built-in surface ventilation system.

Rodeo Teams Of WTC Competing

The Western Texas College women's and men's rodeo teams are competing at the Sul Ross NIRA Rodeo in Fort Stockton. The only two girls for WTC are Mandy Tubb and Nannette Fine.

The boys' team, which is in a close race for second place with Tarleton State, will be at full strength. James Garlick, who had a knee injury last fall, is back in the saddle again and is entered in bareback riding, bull riding and team roping. Other members of the team who are entering more than one event are Troy Reynolds, calf roping and steer wrestling; Dave Appleton, bareback, saddlebronc and bull riding; Britt Cox, bareback and saddlebronc.

"This is a very important rodeo as individuals can win more points in their events as it has one full go-round and then the top ten in each event go into the finals on Sunday afternoon. So those making the finals have a chance for more points," said rodeo coach, Bob Doty.

He said that this gives people a better chance to excel because they have a better chance to draw a good animal to compete on. Western Texas College and Howard College will be set up on this basis, he said.

The next outing for the teams will be March 5-8 at New Mexico State University in Las Cruces.

Sniper Hits Two Newspaper Hands

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Two employees of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal were wounded when a sniper opened fire on a home where a party was being held in this West Texas city late Thursday, police said.

Wounded were Bryce Cockerham Jr., 23, and Shannon Kennedy, 19, both employees of the newspaper's advertising department. Cockerham was shot twice in the back and Miss Kennedy was shot in the throat.

Cockerham was listed in serious condition at a Lubbock hospital early today and no condition report was immediately available on Miss Kennedy.

Officers said the two were among 16 persons attending a party at the home of Carl Cannon, the newspaper's advertising director when someone apparently fired two or more shots from a high-powered rifle through a picture window of the home. Officers said they believed the shots were fired from a passing car.

Police said Cockerham was seated on a couch with his back to the window and Miss Kennedy was seated across from him on a love seat at the time the sniper opened fire.

Officers were searching today for a late model luxury automobile sighted in the area of the Cannon home at the time of the shooting, but no arrests had been made by early today.

A police spokesman said no motive has been determined for the shooting, but said it apparently was not connected with earlier sniping incidents at Lubbock. Teddy Glyn Floyd, 36, was arrested and jailed in connection with four earlier sniping incidents at Lubbock.

Cockerham's father, Bryce Cockerham Sr., is advertising director at the Amarillo Globe-News.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1981 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I can't remember names! When introducing friends, I panic and draw a total blank, and just want to crawl into a hole.

Could this be inherited? For years, whenever my closest friend visited me, my father would come to my room and say, "That girl is here." (He couldn't remember her name.)

Don't suggest the technique of association. My neighbor, Mrs. Glassey, whose name I associated with "glass-eye," I once called "Mrs. False Teeth."

I've even tried making up little rhymes to help me remember, like: "Maggie, Maggie, her pants are baggy." Or, "Mary, Mary, her lip is hairy."

Help! It's embarrassing!

GRACE IN FLORIDA

DEAR GRACE: Try this: When you are introduced to someone, if you didn't hear the name, ask immediately. Then address the new acquaintance by name immediately after you've met. And keep using his name every time you speak to him. When you depart, use it again.

When you see him again, if you have forgotten the name, don't agonize over it, simply say, "I'm sorry, what is your name?"

This failing is not hereditary, it's universal. And the reason one "forgets" a name is usually because he didn't hear it in the first place.

DEAR ABBY: I've been happily married for three years to a man who was married before. That marriage lasted for 14 years. The problem concerns his mother, who insists on calling me by his first wife's name. Afterward, she is embarrassed and apologizes. I can understand how this could happen early in our marriage, but, Abby, we've been married for three years, and she's still doing it!

This gives me the feeling that she doesn't really recognize me as her son's wife, or perhaps she wishes he was still married to his first wife. I was told she was very close to Wife No. 1, but hasn't seen her since the divorce.

I'm sure other second wives have had this problem, too. What's a good solution?

NO. 2 AND HANGING IN THERE

DEAR NO. 2: Accept it as a 14-year habit that is hard to break, and try not to read anything negative or unkind into it.

DEAR ABBY: I am practically a hermit at the age of 32 because of underarm wetness. (Perspiration.) I have tried every anti-perspirant advertised, but nothing has helped. I'm not complaining about odor; it's the wetness that drives me crazy.

Please, Dear Abby, can you give me some hope? I am so embarrassed. I'll do anything!

BRITISH COLUMBIAN

DEAR B.C'N: See an endocrinologist about your overactive sweat glands. And inquire about the new surgical procedure that prevents excessive underarm sweating. Don't give up. Not all can be helped, but many can.

Love Notes Seen In License Plates

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — A sniper who opened fire on Lubbock motorists apparently picked his targets because of messages from a lost love he saw in the license plates of his victims' cars, police said.

A woman and her son were wounded in one of the four separate sniping incidents and an unemployed Vietnam veteran has been charged with four counts of attempted murder.

Teddy Glyn Floyd, 36, was arrested in a restaurant parking lot after a district attorney's investigator spotted a pickup police said they believed had been used in the sniper attacks.

He was arraigned on the attempted murder charges, a charge of aggravated assuault and a count of carrying a concealed weapon.

Peace Justice L.J. Blalack set bond at $100,000 on each attempted murder charge, $25,000 on the aggravated assault charge and $5,000 on the concealed weapon charge.

Police said Thursday they believe the sniper attacks, which occurred over a two-week period, may have been triggered by Floyd's rejection by a woman he met at Tarrant County Junior College four years ago.

And investigators speculated that the targets may have been chosen because of the messages Floyd perceived in the license plates.

"I saw a face staring at me and the license plate was unbearable," one investigator quoted Floyd as saying.

Floyd, with a history of mental problems, told officers he began to suspect in the fall of 1976 that he was being followed — often for months at a time, police said.

Police speculated it was that fear that prompted Floyd to purchase a .223 caliber rifle earlier this month in Lubbock.

Police spokesman Bill Morgan said arresting officers found a .223 "mini-14" rifle and a .22-caliber pistol in Floyd's pickup.

Morgan said tests had shown that bullets fired from the rifle were used in at least one of the shooting incidents.

The sniping incidents began Feb. 12 when 4-year-old Cory Menton and his mother, Vanessa, were injured by a bullet that struck their car as they were traveling through Lubbock.

Morgan said Mrs. Menton was struck in the back of the neck and the boy was hit in the head.

Both have been discharged from the hospital, but Morgan said doctors believe the boy could lose the sight in one eye.

Senate OKs Crackdown On Pill Pushing Doctors

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The Senate has approved a "war on drugs" bill calling for swift punishment of doctors and other medical professionals who push pills illegally.

The bill would automatically suspend a health professional's license upon conviction of a drug-related felony and would automatically revoke the professional's license when all appeals have been exhausted.

"This strikes at the heart of the illegal dispensing of drugs in Texas," said Sen. Bill Meier, the bill sponsor.

Currently, a professional licensing board must act to suspend or revoke a license, and these proceedings may be delayed for long periods, which gives the professional continued access to drugs.

Senators sent the bill to the House on voice vote after rejecting an amendment that would have eliminated automatic suspension when a drug-related conviction arose from a social situation outside the scope of the professional's employment.

Sen. Chet Brooks, D-Pasadena, said the amendment would protect a doctor who is charged with possessing drugs if drugs were found in a car in which he was riding, even if the drugs did not belong to the doctor.

"He would have to suffer not only possible prosecution but a higher degree of sanction of having his license automatically revoked," said Brooks.

Sen. Bob Glasgow, a former district attorney, and Sen. Tati Santiesteban, a defense lawyer, disagreed over whether the amendment was needed.

Glasgow, D-Stephenville, said a person must "knowingly and intentionally possess" drugs to be convicted, and the hypothetical doctor in Brooks' example would not be in danger of conviction.

Santiesteban, D-El Paso, said Glasgow's arguments reminded him of the story of someone visiting a friend in jail, asking him why he was serving time and exclaiming, "They can't put you in jail for that."

Glasgow said the amendment would permit a medical professional "to fill the street up with drugs" while appealing a conviction, which often takes five years in Texas.

Meier said the amendment "flies right at the heart of the intent of the bill," and the Senate defeated it 22-8.

Meier described the proposal "as one of the most important of five" proposed by the Texans' War on Drugs Committee, which was appointed by Gov. Bill Clements.

Committee members watched from the balcony as senators debated the proposal.

Aiming for energy

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm 18 years old and play a lot of tournament tennis. I just love it. Tennis is my whole life. I want to do everything I can to improve my game. I know a really tough match takes a lot of energy. So what should I eat before competition? What foods will give me the most energy when I need it? Should I eat a high-protein meal to increase my energy? How long before playing should I eat?

DEAR READER — There are lots of different opinions about food and athletics but there are some basic facts that you can follow. First, remember that if your food is not digested it cannot get into your bloodstream. And if it is not absorbed into your circulation, it will NOT provide any energy for you.

Food is not absorbed from your stomach. Alcohol is, but that is because it passes directly into cells, and it is not what you need for energy or ability in athletic competition — particularly competition that requires skill.

To get any energy from food eaten before you play, it must be emptied from the stomach. That means a fatty meal of steak or other high-fat protein foods won't help. They may still be in your stomach after your match is over.

Solids are not absorbed either but must first be liquified in your stomach before they can be emptied. The bottom line is that any solids you eat a couple of hours before a game may not help much. Stay on a good balanced diet as a regular habit. Sweet liquids are most likely to be emptied by your stomach and absorbed quickly. A glass of orange juice is a good example. Fats slow the stomach's emptying.

There are many misconceptions about digestion. Most people do not realize that what they swallow is broken down before it is absorbed by the digestive process. To give you a better idea of the process, I am sending you The Health Letter number 12-4, Your Digestion: Processing Your Food. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am concerned about our 15-year-old son. His chest has a sunken look. There appears to be a large gap between the ribs which tends to make his chest suck in. I can't describe it any better. He has always been rather shy about appearing without a shirt.

Is this anything to be concerned about? Can anything be done for him at this late date? The pediatrician who examines him never said anything about this.

DEAR READER — You are probably describing what we call pectus excavatum or funnel chest. There are several variations of this, but the breastbone (sternum) appears pushed in. This may be most pronounced at the lower end of the sternum.

In most cases there is no known reason for this variation and it seldom causes any problem physiologically. It can be disturbing psychologically.

In extreme cases it can restrict the movement of the rib cage and affect breathing or compress the heart. When there is such an extreme variation the deformity can be relieved by surgery. And when psychological reactions warrant it, surgery may improve the cosmetic problems.

Your doctor probably thought it was not affecting your son's health and chose not to make you or him unduly conscious about the variation.

23 Ex-Hostages Among Flock For Mardi Gras

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Thousands of people have been flocking into New Orleans for days to join pre-Mardi Gras festivities, but 23 arriving today are special guests — they were once held hostage in Iran.

The guests include Marine Staff Sgt. John D. McKeel Jr. and the eight other Marines who spent 444 days as hostages in Iran. McKeel will reign as Bacchus, king of one of the most lavish Carnival krewes.

Another 14 former hostages accepted invitations from radio station WWL after talk show host Ken Sasso drummed up public contributions to welcome them home from Iran.

Mayor Ernest Morial has declared Sunday, the day the Krewe of Bacchus' parades, as "Freedom Day," with emphasis on the yellow ribbons that came to symbolize hope for the hostages' freedom.

As Bacchus, McKeel will be in the limelight during the big Sunday parade, riding in the king's float that in the past honored such show biz figures as Bob Hope.

Bacchus' is one of the most popular of the dozens of parades put on each year by Carnival clubs, known here as krewes.

As Bacchus' honored royalty, each Marine will be given enough parade ammunition to leave him with a sore arm — sacks of 20,000 aluminum doubloons bearing the Marine Corps insignia.

Doubloons are silver-dollar sized collectors' items, prized by parade crowds. Krewemen on the floats fling them into crowds along the route.

The Marines' only formal appearances in public will be in the Sunday parade but they get the treatment from the moment they arrive: dinners at some of the city's finest restaurants, a trip down the Mississippi River on a paddle wheel excursion boat, a tour of the Superdome — and private balconies overlooking the activities on Bourbon and Royal streets on Fat Tuesday itself.

Although the radio station's guests will not be the center of attention in parades or other festivities, they will have front-row seats — particularly for the Bacchus parade.

Then there are the other special events: dinners at fancy restaurants; free trips to the Fair Grounds horse race track, Audubon Zoo, and Longue Vue Gardens; a river boat cruise, and seats at the lavish ball thrown by the Krewe of Argus.

In addition to McKeel, the Marines are Staff Sgt. Michael E. Moeller of Loup City, Neb.; Sgt. James M. Lopez of Globe, Ariz; Sgt. William Gallegos of Pueblo, Colo; Sgt. Rodney V. Sickmann of Washington, Mo.; Sgt. Kevin Hemening of Oak Creek, Wis.; Sgt. Steven W. Kirtley of Little Rock, Ark.; Sgt. Paul E. Lewis of Danville, Ill.; and Sgt. Gregory A. Persinger of Seaford, Del.

The radio station's guests are Cort Barnes, Falls Church, Va.; Malcolm Kalp, Fairfax, Va.; Joseph Subic Jr., Reford, Mich.; Robert Blucker, Little Rock, Ark.; Robert Ode, Sun City West, Ariz.; Paul Needham, Belevue, Neb.; Donald J. Cooke, Memphis, Tenn.; Donald Holeman, Sacramento, Calif.; Col. Charles Scott, Stone Mountain, Ga.; Charles Jones, Alexandria, Va.; Allen Golacinski, Silver Springs, Md.; Kathryn Koob, Jessup, Iowa; Thomas Ahern, McLean, Va.; and Frederick Kupke, Francisville, Ind.

Theft Reported

Topping the list of police activities for Thursday was the investigation of a theft reported at Grimmett Brothers.

Ray Max Grimmett told officer Kerry Fritz someone stole a 16-foot long cattleguard made of four-inch pipe. The cattleguard is valued at $1,700, and missing along with it is a $25 radio microphone.

Buddy Powell reported the disappearance of a 12-piece service set of silver from the 3798 Dalton home of Herbert Feather. No estimate of the loss was available. Working that case is Fritz.

Two juveniles were arrested yesterday by Robert Harbin in connection with the burglary earlier this week of the 400 17th St. residence of Dennis Clinkinbeard. Although nothing was stolen in the break-in, a mirror and window were broken.

A minor traffic accident was also investigated. The accident occurred along Highway 180 about 6 p.m. Involved in it were a 1979 Autocar truck and trailer operated by Junior R. Garrett of Oklahoma and a 1979 Chevrolet driven by Samuel W. Stephens.

Golf Cart Repair Course Slated

Maintenance and repairs for golf carts will be the subject of a course starting Monday night at Western Texas College.

Rudy Norwood will be the instructor for the 12-hour course, with classes meeting from 6:30 p. m. to 10:30 p. m. on Mondays through March 16. Fees are $25 per person.

Those wishing to reserve space in the class are to call 573-8511, extension 240.

Ira Baptist Sets Revival

The Ira Baptist Church will be conducting revival services Sunday through Friday. The Sunday services will be at 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. Monday through Friday services will be at 10 a.m. and at 7:30 p.m.

The evangelistic team for the revival will be Rev. and Mrs. Robert Edwards, according to Mike Brown, pastor.

Rev. Robert Edwards is the associate pastor of the First Baptist Church in Sundown. Rev. Edwards is a graduate of West Texas State University in Canyon and has served on the staff of several churches.

"He presents a message that is gospel in every sense," says Rev. Brown.

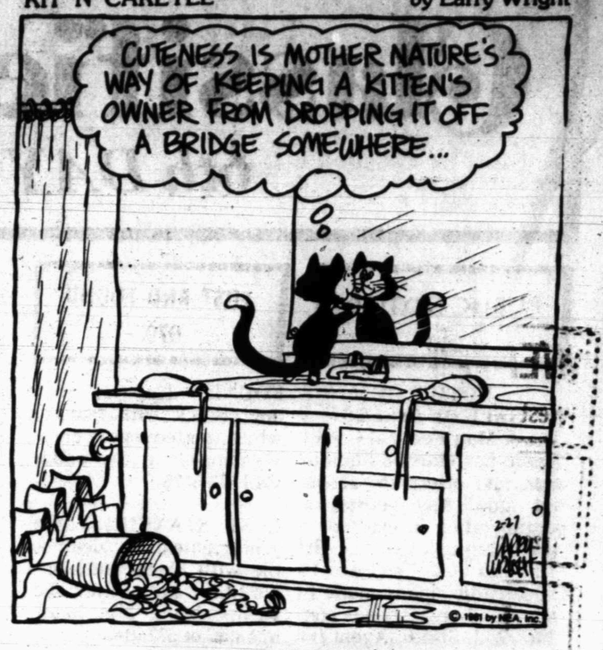

Donna Edwards will be working with the choir each night and will be doing solo music also. She is also a WTSU graduate.

"Her presentation of Christ in song will touch every heart," said Rev. Edwards.

"This team will be a blessing to all who attend," he said.

Lennon Leaves $5.5 Million

LONDON (AP) — John Lennon, the ex-Beatle shot dead outside his New York apartment Dec. 8, left an estate in England and Wales valued at $5.5 million, according to his will published today.

In the will, dated Nov.12, 1979, Lennon left half his estate to his wife, Yoko Ono, and the remainder to be held in a trust fund. Details of the trust fund were not disclosed, but Lennon's 18-year-old son Julian by his first wife, Cynthia, was believed to be the main beneficiary of the rock star's British estate.

Probate has been granted to Yoko Ono, 47, who still lives in Lennon's home in Manhattan.

The will stipulated that if any beneficiary petitioned to increase their portions of the estate they "shall receive nothing whatsoever."

Lennon's British estate is only a small fraction of the fortune. Estimates have put it at $275 million, most of it abroad.

However, Lennon's U.S. will, published last December, valued his American estate at $30 million.

The Lennon fortune is believed to swell by $220,000 a day from record royalties amid a boom in Lennon's solo records and old Beatles' albums following his murder.

These sales were expected to mushroom when Lennon's last album, which he was recording at the time he was slain, is released in the spring.

Conviction Is Upheld

The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals has upheld the conviction of Henry Delton Chastain.

Chastain, a Lubbock man, was tried in Snyder last July and sentenced to serve 18 months in the Texas Department of Corrections. He had been charged with drunken driving.

School Board

students are exempt from the 10-day rule, with the possibility of an incomplete grade being used in these cases.

If a student accumulates more than 10 absences during a semester because of what administrators consider extenuating circumtances, a student may appeal for credit, provided that: He or she has completed all assignments, has exhibited a cooperative attitude, has attended classes regularly for an extended period of time, files a student request for attendance review with the teacher of the course. Forms for filing an appeal will be provided, and appeals will be heard by a committee composed of the assistant principal, a counselor, teachers of courses involved and other staff members. Appeals must be filed prior to semester examinations.

However, if there is an absence due to truancy and suspension, and-or nine tardies, an appeal will not be considered.

The revision was adopted without dissent. However, Bill Seale abstained in the voting, noting that he felt that the revision should be delayed until the beginning of the next semester.

The board voted unanimously to issue a deed to two acres of land to Jimmie Joe Key. The land involved is included in Key's property northwest of Snyder. He said a search of records reveals that it was given to the Mooar School District, which has been defunct for some 40 to 50 years. Records are unclear as to what happened to the property back in the 20s, but Key said it had been included in land owned by his family for more than 30 years and that he has owned the surrounding property more than 20 years.

A proposal to revise high school graduation requirements was approved. Ray Courtney, high school principal, said a full year was needed for civics, which now is a one-semester course. The civics course also will include instruction on the free enterprise system. Another revision will require seniors to take a minimum of four academic courses. This means that a senior student could fail one course and still be eligible to compete in UIL events, Courtney said.

Pancake Feed Here Tonight

Snyder Kiwanis Club members will hold their annual pancake supper this evening in the Snyder High School Cafeteria.

Serving is scheduled to begin at 5 p. m. and continue until 8 p. m.

Members have been selling advance tickets at $2.25 each and tickets will be available at the door for $2.50 each.

A ticket entitles the purchaser to all the pancakes and sausage he or she can eat.

The pancake supper is a traditional fund-raising event for Kiwanis Clubs. Proceeds are used by the clubs for various civic projects.

Wild Game Is On Menu

Do you have a taste for wild game? Or, have you wondered what pheasant, venison, quail, etc., taste like?

You have an opportunity to find out Saturday night at Trinity United Methodist church. The Gold Band Sunday School class is sponsoring a wild game dinner to be served at 7 p. m.

Included on the menu will be pheasant, quail, dove, deer, elk, fish and even rattlesnake meat. These entrees will be served with wild rice, beans, tossed salad and dessert.

In addition, those attending may remain and see a film on "Hunting Kodiak Bear in Alaska."

Tickets are priced at $3.50 each for adults and $2 each for children under 12. Tickets may be puchased at Dryden's Shoes, Medical Arts Lab, Von Roeder Seed Farm and Ezell-Key Grain Co.

County Court Sentences 3

Three persons were sentenced Thursday in county court.

Michael Ray Morris, Rt. 3, Box 138A, received three days in jail and a $200 fine on a guilty plea to a drunken driving charge.

Roy Canon Burditt, 3406 Ave. E, received a $200 fine and three-day jail sentence on a drunken driving charge, and a $200 fine to a charge of resisting arrest. He pleaded guilty to both offenses.

Charles Wayne Cobb, 3207 Ave. K, received a three-day jail sentence and a $200 fine to his guilty plea of a drunken driving case.

Hospital

board members declined to take any action, deciding instead to wait for a response from the medical staff.

In other action last night, board members approved a financial report listing the hospital's total liabilities and net worth at $3,295,761 as of Jan. 31.

Following the meeting, members of the board were taken for a brief tour of the new wing of the hospital.

Band Exes In Reunion

A Snyder band exes' reunion will be held Saturday night at Snyder High School auditorium.

Two bands, the SHS concert band and the SHS symphonic band, will perform several songs. Guest conductor for the symphonic band will be Dean Killion, director for 21 years of the Texas Tech band. Clifford Franklin will lead the concert band.

The program begins at 7:30 p.m. Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students. A reception will follow in the student center.

OBITUARIES

F. Torres

Faustino Torres Sr., 87, who lived at 1812 Ave. J, died at 1:20 a. m. today in Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Funeral arrangements were pending this morning at Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

Survivors include his wife, Mary; seven daughters and a son, Faustino Torres Jr. of Snyder.

Westerners End Season With Fine Effort Here

By BILL MCCLELLAN

For Western Texas College's Westerners last night's game was not the conclusion of a season, but rather the beginning of another one.

"This is an omen for the future", confirmed Coach Larry Dunaway, whose troops were down by as much as 20 points but gave a standout performance to come within three before falling to the superior strength of No. 8 ranked Midland College here last night, 97-87.

"They were at their best and we were at our weakest. That tells you we're going to be a force to reckon with next year," added the coach, who hits the recruiting trail in earnest now, looking for some big men to go with a possible seven returning players. "These kids gave it everything they had tonight. They played with a lot of heart. I'm proud of them."

Western Texas got stellar performances from sophomore Chuck North and freshman Cesar Scott to blitz the WJCAC champions late in the first half and deep into the second.

Midland, led by Charles Johnson's 26 points, had gunned out to a 15-5 lead against the turnover-plagued Westerners. Puntus Wilson and Kevin Willingham added to the damage as the Chaparrals increased the margin to 27-16, 33-18 and finally 47-27.

Scott and freshman Darren Lee kept WTC in the game, however, and they and another first-year player, Charles Gholson, bought the final six points of the half to cut Midland's lead to 14, 49-35.

A Scott-led attack stunned the visitors in the opening moments of the second half. Getting help from North and Clarence Cephas, Western outscored the Chaps 10-4 in the early going of the period to rip the advantage to eight, 53-45.

Midland's lead remained in the 10-to-8 point range until Scott banged in five straight points.

With 7:22 left North crashed the middle for two points. Referees called the California native for charging however, giving the major college prospect his fifth foul - a crucial loss for the Westerners. Willingham went to the charity stripe in an effort to give Midland some breathing room, but his effort bounded from the rim and Cephas made use of the gift. The 5-10 athlete raced the distance and slipped in an easy basket that cut the Chaps lead to only three, 72-69, with 7:05 remaining in the contest.

Midland's bench depth and the absence of North began to form a different story, however. Johnson snared a freethrow and Wilson converted on a three-point play that knocked the advantage back out to 76-69. It moved to nine points when Johnson was awarded a bucket on a goal-tending call.

Still, Western refused to fold. Dwayne Dickey exploded off the bench for a series of 22-footers that kept the totals close, and back-to-back hoops from Scott made it 82-77.

The clincher came with 2:11 on the clock when Scott was whistled for his fifth infraction.

Scott's 25 points were high for the Westerners, who concluded the 1980-81 season at 15-14 and 6-12. Lee basketed 20 points, including 15 in the first half, and Troy Stevenson and North put up 11 apiece. Dickey got 9, Cephas 7 and Gholson and Brett Smith, 2 each.

Behind Johnson's game-high 26 were 18 from Wilson, 14 from Raleigh Freeman, 12 from Willingham and 10 from McCain. Midland College, 16-2 in conference play, is 28-2 for the season.

Midland College (97)-- Wilson 8 2 4 18; McCain 2 6 2 10; Tutwiler 3 0 2 6; Slay 2 2 2 6; Freeman 7 0 1 14; Johnson 10 6 4 26; Willingham 5 2 5 12; Tate 1 0 4 2; Totals 38 21 24 97.

Western Texas (87)-- Dickey 4 1 2 9; Lee 7 6 3 20; Gholson 0 2 1 2; Stevenson 3 5 4 11; Cephas 3 1 2 7; Scott 11 3 5 25; North 5 1 5 11; Smith 1 0 4 2; Totals 34 19 26 87.

Halftime: Midland 49, WTC 35.

Dusters Try Cisco In Regional Tourney

BROWNWOOD -- Coach Joe Cushing's Dusters have landed in the No. 2 spot in the conferece and will play Cisco Junior College at 4 p.m. Monday in the Region V Women's Junior College Tournament here at Brownwood Coliseum.

The annual tournament pits the top five teams from the Western JC Athletic Conference and the Northern JC Athletic Conference. Tournament champion will advance to the NJCAA National Tournament in Overland, Kan.

Amarillo won the Western Conference by nipping Howard County College last night, 59-58. Western Texas took second place when Clarendon College shocked Odessa 85-63.

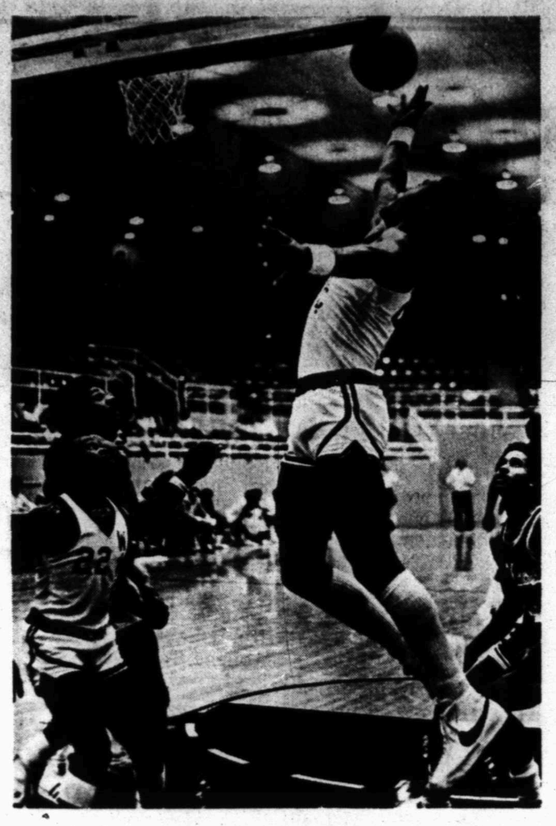

Those outcomes leave Amarillo at 10-2 in the conference and 26-6 for the season. WTC is 9-3 and 24-6, followed by Odessa, 8-4 and 19-10, and Howard, 8-4 and 26-7. Odessa will get the tournament's third seed over Howard by virtue of the power-point system. Clarendon takes the fifth qualifying spot with 5-7 and 10-12 records.

Weatherford claimed the Northern Conference title and the other No. 1 seeding, followed by McLennan Community College, Cisco JC, Cooke County College and Ranger JC.

Sunday's elimination rounds open at 2 p.m. with Cooke County pitted against Clarendon. Ranger and Howard meet at 4.

First-round action begins Monday at 2 as Odessa challenges McLennan, followed by the WTC-Cisco matchup at 4. At 6, Amarillo takes on Sunday's Cooke County or Clarendon victor. Weatherford meets either Ranger or Howard at 8.

Tickets are $15 for the nine-game tournament or $3 per session for adults and $2 per session for students.

Board Will Take Applications For Coaching Position

Snyder School Trustees last night accepted with regret the resignation of Mike Jenkins as head football coach and later, following an executive session, announced that applications will be accepted to fill the vacancy.

Jenkins submitted his resignation last week. He has accepted the position of head football coach at Pearce High School in Richardson. He has served as head football coach here for the past five years.

The board directed the administration to accept applications for the head football coach's position here until noon March 16.

Applications should be addressed to John Gary, athletic director. Prospective applicants who wish to contact Gary by telephone may call him at his office at 573-8528.

Supt. Bill J. Hood and Gary, who met with the board, said that a number of inquiries already had been received.

Cats Stage Final Trial

SAN ANGELO -- Coach Albert Lewis' Snyder Tigers were to stage their final pre-season scrimmage here Saturday, facing San Angelo Central High School at 1.

The Tigers, defending district champions, open the 1981 season Monday in Midland at 4, then return to Snyder for their first regular home game of the year Tuesday against Levelland, also at 4.

Next week will be a busy one for the diamond-men, who also entertain Brownfield at 4 on Thursday, and challenge Lubbock High in double header action Saturday in Lubbock.

Dribblers To Register Now

Scurry County Girls Little Dribblers will continue registration today and Saturday at the Scurry County Boy's Club. All area girls who will be ages 9-12 as of Aug. 31, 1981 are elibible to participate.

Signups will be held from 4 to 7 p.m. today and 10 to 6 on Saturday. Girls must be accompanied by a parent or guardian, have a valid birth certificate, and bring a $5 registration fee.

The program is open to Scurry County girls within the age limits, including residents of Hermleigh and Ira.

Netters Slam Lake View, 17-1

SAN ANGELO -- Snyder High School tennis squad ripped San Angelo Lake View as expected here yesterday, 17-1.

The netters were to participate in the Regional Team Tournament today and Saturday in Sweetwater. Snyder is actually slated to play Andrews in Big Spring today, due to a lack of courts available in Sweetwater. The top four finishers in the tournament will advance to the State Team Tournament, to be held in Abilene.

Snyder boys ripped the Chiefs 9-0 and the girls downed the Maidens 8-1 to make up yesterday's composite score.

WT Judoists Compete At College Tomorrow

Western Texas College will host the Texas State Collegiate Judo championships Saturday, with individuals or teams from 12 colleges and universities competing.

Following the championships will be the West Texas AAU meet; a qualifying tournament for junior and senior West Texas competitors.

Western Texas, under the direction of Dr. Shelby Hillis, will be trying to take a fourth consecutive team title in the morning championships, which are slated to begin at 9:30 in the WTC Gym.

Representatives will be from the University of Texas, Texas A&M University, Baylor University, Texas Christian University, Texas Tech University, Lubbock Christian University, Odessa College, Hill County Junior College, North Texas State University, Texas A&I and other institutions.

The tournament aids in proceeds and serves as a warmup to the National Collegiate Judo championships which will be held April 3-4 in Ohio.

Later in the day, junior and senior competitors will attempt to qualify for the Senior Nationals and the District Junior Olympics, respectively. Top finishers in the senior bracket will qualify for the Senior Nationals to be held in Little Rock, Ark. Winners in the junior bracket will advance to the Regional Junior Olympics.

Unlike those competing in the Texas State Collegiate championships, the young men and women vying in the West Texas AAU tournament do not require ties with any college or university. Anyone age 6-15 (juniors), or 17 and above (seniors), with amateur status, is eligible to compete.

Regional Playoff Set Here Saturday At 7

Some of West Texas' best hoop talent invades Scurry County Coliseum on Saturday when Mineral Wells' Ramettes and the Eaglettes of Canyon clash in a class 4A region I cage playoff.

Tipoff for the state tournament qualifying game will be 7 p.m. Tickets are $3 for adults and $1 for students.

Mineral Wells reached the regional shootout by defeating Stephenville 48-38 earlier this week, while Canyon thrashed Monahans 52-27 in the other bi-district encounter. Many coaches feel Saturday's winner will be the next 4A champion.

The Ramettes, defending bi-district champions, are paced by two-time all-state selection Regina Kimbrough, a 6-0 senior who averages 22 points an outing. Another college prospect on the squad is 5-9 senior forward Te Ce Holliman, who averages 12 points.

The Ramettes are 26-6 on the season under first year coach Don Spieker.

Canyon has its share of talent too, playing the traditional type press and fastbreak ball that has made the Eaglettes a common name at the state tournament in Austin. Experience-strong with eight seniors, Canyon is led by 6-0 Teri Mayfield, who averages 16 points a game. Also playing up front are 5-11 Theresa Stone and 5-8 junior Denise Tennison.

Another top player for the Eaglettes is 5-6 junior guard Penny Christopher, who usually scores in double figures from the outside. The other guard is 5-5 guard Carla Schmidt.

Bench strength is a plus for Canyon this year, and both 5-10 Cindy Beck and 5-6 Terri Baughman, seniors, can expect to see action as well.

CORRECTION

An article in Tuesday's edition of The Snyder Daily News incorrectly identified Michael Hernandez as winner of the 75-pound weight class in the West Texas Golden Gloves Regionals. Actual winner of the class was Snyder's Michael Ramirez.

Gal Golfers Vie In Area Tourney

BIG SPRING -- Snyder High School's first-year girls golf team carded a 418 to rest in 11th place after 18 holes of the two-day Big Spring Invitational Tournament here yesterday. Today's final 18 holes were to begin at at 9:20 a.m.

Theresa Hildreth paced the Tiger effort with nine-hole rounds of 46 and 49 for a 95 total at Comanche Trails Municipal Course. Tracy O'Day came in with a 49-51 for a 100, and Lisa Franklin had a 54 and a 53 for a 107. Both Laurie Donelson and Karla Gist stroked 116s; Donelson scoring 59-57 and Gist 60-56. The four low scores comprise a school's team total.

Today's rounds were to be held at Big Spring Country Club. Thirty-three teams are entered in the tournament. Midland High leads with a 344.

Other District 2-AAAA scores were Sweetwater, 386 (eighth); Andrews, 436; Pecos, 445; and Monahans, 482.

Coach of the squad is George Byerly, still involved with boys basketball playoffs. Trainer Rick Howard is accompaning the girls on the trip.

Thinclads To Open '81 Track Season

FORT STOCKTON -- Snyder High School boys track team was to begin competition in the 37th annual Comanche Relays here today, along with 11 other class 3A and 4A squads.

The two-day tournament is made up of three divisions: I, which includes teams from class 2A and below; II, including class 3A and 4A schools; and III, schools from class 5A.

Field events in division II were to start at 2:30 today with the shot put and high jump. Running prelims were to begin at 3:30.

Saturday's agenda opens at 9 a.m. with the discus and long jump. Running finals open at 12:15 with the 3,200 meter run, instituted this year in class AAAA. The 400 meter relay starts the regular running finals at 1.

Competing against Snyder will be host Fort Stockton, defending champion Monahans, San Angelo Lake View and Pecos, all from District 2-AAAA. Others include Seminole, Denver City, Fabens, Brownfield, Crane, Kermit and Alpine.
