Superintendent To Be Named At Meeting

School Budget Rises, Tax Rate Decreases

Although the 1978-79 Colorado Independent School District proposed budget is about $250,000 higher than last year's budget, the proposed tax rate is lower than last year's.

Tonight (Thursday) at 7 p.m., the school board will meet for a public hearing on the proposed 1978-79 fiscal year budget and will adopt the tax rate.

Also at tonight's meeting, the school board is to name a new superintendent to succeed Lloyd McKee who resigned recently to become deputy superintendent of schools in Odessa.

The board also is to name a new principal for Kelley Elementary school at the meeting. During recent weeks, the board has conducted numerous interviews with applicants for both positions and this week was spent on the road as the school board narrowed down the field of applicants.

As of Wednesday, there appeared to be three applicants that the board is considering.

Lloyd McKee, superintendent of schools, noted that the tax rate this year was set at $1.76 per $100 property valuation.

The proposed tax rate is $1.73 per $100 property valuation, he noted.

Explaining that the tax rate would be lower because of increased state funding, McKee said that more taxable property was also a factor.

"This is the third year in a row that we've been able to lower taxes," said McKee.

And, with the lowering of taxes, it might be expected that the school operational budget would also be lower, but it is not.

The proposed budget for the 1978-79 school year is $2,640,624.22. Last year, the budget was $2,375,236.43.

McKee explained that the reasons for the increase in the proposed budget was mainly because of rate hikes in utilities and increase in personnel salaries.

Cost of plant maintenance has increased $82,000 over last year's operation, McKee said.

Under the state compensation pay plan, professional personnel automatically receive raises annually. Thus, the increase in salaries is between $75,000 and $80,000 over last year.

Last year, $1,060,000 was allocated in the budget for instructional purposed--teacher salaries, materials and supplies--and this year the proposal is for $1,108,000.

Regarding plant management, last year $373,000 was specified in the budget. This year, the proposal is for $455,000. McKee noted that figure includes salaries and maintenance.

In the proposed budget, $94,000 has been allocated for transportation, which includes bus maintenance, drivers' salaries and supplies. Last year, $82,000 was spent on transportation.

McKee noted that one reason the budget is higher this year is because the school district has some unusual expend[illegible]es.

A music teacher will be added to the staff at Hutchinson Elementary School, McKee said, which will add to professional salaries.

In addition, the school board has voted to purchase new band uniforms which will cost about $20,000.

Between $25,000 and $50,000 will be spent on renovating Lone Wolf stadium, McKee said. Renovation has already begun on the track and stadium and should be completed by September.

Construction of agriculture barns--located on five acres of land behind Wallace Center--was approved by the school board and work has begun. Between $10,000 and $12,000 will be spent on that project, McKee said.

McKee noted that the fence has already been erected around the ag barns. Coach Mike Farda, Frank Brownfield, Tony Truelove and Gene Carter constructed the fence.

"Under Coach Farda's leadership, they did an excellent job," said McKee.

Another item the board is considering for next year's budget is installation of air conditioning in the cafeterias at Kelley and Hutchinson Elementary Schools.

Also, the board is contemplating the purchase of two new school buses.

Of the $2,640,624.22 proposed in the school budget, $1,059,000 of the revenue comes from state sources. The balance comes from local sources, meaning taxes.

McKee noted that additional taxable property and increased state revenues were reasons why the tax rate would be lower this year.

But, he added, there are other factors, too.

According to McKee, the staff employed by the school system plays a big part in the lowered tax rates.

"Mrs. Geneva Finley does an excellent job handling the journals and Jay Craddock handles the taxes efficiently," said McKee. In addition, he noted that Coy Adams, the bus supervisor, runs the transportation division effectively and that A. G. Furlow--in charge of plant operations--is "aware of what things cost."

McKee said that the principals and teachers work well within the budget and that the school board oversees expenditures.

"For every dollar we spend on education, we get a dollar's worth of education," said McKee.

"People want quality education, but a low tax rate," he explained. "I hope we're achieving that."

McKee noted that the school system always receives good audit reports and that the school board "works long and hard on the accounts and bills."

Loraine Receives Letter

The Loraine Senior Citizens' Center this past week received a letter commending them for the job being done in the service of meals and provision of a gathering place for fellowship and information for senior citizens.

A letter addressed to Willie A. Taylor, president of the Loraine Senior Citizens Club, commended him, his wife, Corene, and Lola Fay Bennett and the rest of the staff at the Senior Center.

"The success of your program is certainly related to the leadership and time you have given to it," states the letter, signed by Dorothy Vanderslice, program developer for the area agency on aging for the West Central Texas Council of Governments.

The Loraine Center serves about 350 meals a week, with meals being served on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Mrs. Jones Rolls Up Newspaper Career

By KATHY HAMMOND

Besides your postman, there is another person in all of our subscriber's lives who "neither rain, nor sleet, nor snow, nor wind, or sand, nor late hours, nor early hours, nor beer bottles in the street" could deter for over 20 years, and she is Mrs. Loyce Jones, retired circulation manager of the Colorado City Record.

Most everyone who has taken the paper for very long has at one time or another seen one of the three cars she has worn out on its twice weekly route through Colorado City delivering local news to our local subscribers. Most of the time, that car was driven by Mrs. Jones. First there was a brand new Falcon, a brand new Duster, and the red Nova...two of them laid to rest, the other still in use.

Loyce Jones

But the cars are almost incidental, never quite as faithful as the lady herself. There was the time she was throwing the papers alone on a snowy night and walked home at 2 a.m. from Colorado Street after plowing into a snowdrift. And then there was the time the whole wheel fell off the car and she and her son thought the pavement had caved in as the car hit with a dull thud.

Those 20 years of delivering to the hometown fans began as a family affair in 1956 when then editor and owner Roy Fox hired H. L. Jones, the oldest son of Loyce and Harvey Jones. Mrs. Jones recalled that the paper came out on Saturday then and H. L. peddled papers on the street corners as a sophomore in high school, eventually enlisting the help of his younger sister, Linda, who continued for four years, even after her brother graduated from Colorado High School in 1958.

When Linda took on the route, Mrs. Jones stepped in to lend a hand.

"I had the priviledge of helping my children have a job which taught them responsibility," she recalled, adding, "I always knew where they were on Saturday nights because they were helping me throw papers." She laughed at that because that was one of the only things the children did not like about their paper route and that was the fact that 4 a.m. comes too early in the morning.

It was good for the children to learn responsibility on a paper route because you could do lots of things but people still expect their papers every Sunday and Thursday, she added.

When Linda graduated from CHS and got married, Mrs. Jones was assisted for a short time by the late Mrs. Vic (Allie) Alsobrook, and then for the next nine years by her son Robert.

In 1967 Mrs. Jones took on the mailing circulation as well as the throwing. Actually keeping up with moving families was the hardest part of the job, according to Mrs. Jones. "I used to know just about everyone on my route, but it's hard to keep up with everyone when the route changes from week to week."

Dessie Lynch started helping Mrs. Jones throw in 1971 and along with their husbands who, in spite of their own jobs, helped with rolling and sacking papers, continued the family concern long after Robert graduated from CHS and eventually left to attend school.

"It took a broken arm to make me quit," Mrs. Jones said. "All in all, I enjoyed it."

Mrs. Jones fell and broke her arm May 15 and decided to take an early retirement since it will be some months before full use of her arm is regained.

During her 20 years of service, Mrs. Jones has worked for Roy Fox, Joe Bell and Mac McKinnon and with many reporters, advertising employees and photographers to keep residents informed of local issues, events and neighborhood notes.

There has been, at times, an anti-newspaper conspiracy led by the dogs in Mitchell County, to prevent the spreading of the news.

"I once found a place on 10th Street where the dogs had piled all the papers from the entire neighborhood in one pile in the street. It wasn't funny then," she added, "but it is now."

Another hazard which didn't necessarily affect the thrower but startled the recipient was the fact that after awhile the subscribers would know just where she would throw and would sometimes go out a little early and Mrs. Jones would come along and throw it smack on target.

"You had to be careful when throwing after dark, looking out for both bicyclists and also subscribers out looking for their paper. I've hit a few with their paper, but not seriously," she admitted.

Driving on the icy, snowy streets was much less hazardous than coming onto a six-pack of empty beer bottles neatly stacked

Reception To Honor McKees

Sunday a community-wide reception will be held in honor of Lloyd and Jo Ann McKee.

McKee, superintendent of schools in Colorado City for 10 years, has accepted the position of deputy superintendent of the Ector County Independent School District in Odessa.

The "come and go reception" will be held from 2-4 p.m. Sunday at the Colorado High School Cafeteria.

Everyone in the community is invited to attend.

Third Drowning At County Lakes

The third drowning in Mitchell County for 1978 occurred Sunday.

Efrain Serrano, 17, of Sweetwater, was pronounced dead by accidental drowning at 10 p.m. Sunday by Justice of the Peace Mary Lee Moore.

According to witnesses, Serrano was swimming by the second markers at Lake Colorado City State Park Sunday.

Witnesses said the victim was swimming 20 feet between three companions and he was "a poor swimmer."

The companions said they started looking for Serrano "but he wasn't anywhere to be seen."

One witness said he did not see the victim go under the water or hear him call for help.

At the scene of the drowning were Wendall Bryant and Donnie Phillips of the sheriff's department and Ted Petty, a reserve deputy. Marvin Keenan of the Department of Public Safety and Rue Gambol, a Snyder game warden, were also on hand.

Serrano's body was taken to Kiker-Seale Funeral Home and then transferred to a Sweetwater funeral home.

This marks the second drowning at the state park this year and the third drowning in the county. June 25 a Snyder man drowned at Lake Colorado City State Park and April 16 a Lubbock man drowned at Lake Champion.

Jury Indicts Man

Aubrey Gene Williams, 37, of Snyder, Monday was indicted by a Mitchell County Grand Jury for murder in connection with the stabbing death of his ex-wife last week.

Williams was arrested in Snyder Friday afternoon and later that day was released on $15,000 bond.

Williams was divorced from Girlie Ann Williams, 31, earlier this year.

Her body was found last Wednesday, July 12, in tall weeds at the northeastern corner of the Buford Co-Op Gin. She had been stabbed once in the back and apparently had been dead about 32-33 hours when her body was found.

Williams is a longtime resident of this area and has been associated with various ice cream-fast food type businesses in Colorado City and Snyder.

He reportedly has been working recently in the oil fields.

☆☆☆☆☆☆☆ Sports Action ☆☆☆☆☆☆☆

Play during the first two nights of the Church League Softball Tournament turned out a little different than a lot of people might have expected.

Monday night, there were a number of upsets in some very close contests while Tuesday, everything went about as expected with none of the games really very close.

To start the action off, the underdog Loraine Baptist A, behind the pitching of James Clifton, won over St. Ann's A 12-8. In the second game, the defending church league champions lost to St.Ann's A 8-7 behind the pitching of Santos Reyes.

The upset trend continued in the third game as First Baptist B, with Jeff Trulock pitching, won 15-10 over the favored Oak Street Baptist team in a contest that lasted 10 innings.

The final two games of the night were exciting contests with Sam Contrerras pitching Baptist Mission to a 15-11 win over Loraine Baptist B. Monday's final contest saw First Baptist A coming from behind time after time to win over Calvary A 19-16 with Joe Kirschbaum winning pitcher.

Tuesday night, Calvary A, with Eldon Harris pitching, won over Loraine Catholic A 15-2 and then regular season champions Church of Christ, with Raymond Watlington pitching, won over Loraine Baptist A 15-2.

St. Ann's B continued winning with Santos Reyes pitching as they downed First Baptist B 17-8. In the fourth game of the night, Baptist Mission trounced First Baptist A 20-1 with Sam Contrerras the winning pitcher.

In the final game Tuesday, Loraine Catholic B, second place team in the regular season, won over Calvary A 17-6 with Bobby Martinez the winning pitcher.

Tonight's game will feature First Baptist A vs. Loraine Catholic A at 6:30 p.m. Then at 7:30 p.m. Calvary A will play Loraine Baptist A. The third game at 8:30 will see Church of Christ playing St. Ann's B. Fourth game of the night could easily be one of the better contests with Loraine Catholic B playing Baptist Mission. Opponents for the final game Thursday will depend on results of last night's games in the loser's bracket.

Tonight (Thursday) and tomorrow night, the United Girls Softball Association Division II all stars will be playing in a tournament.

Game time is 6 p.m. each evening at the softball field in Merkel.

Four To Attend Congress

More than 40 businesses of the Fort Worth area will open their doors to tours and visits of some 500 4-H members and 50 adult sponsors during the sixth annual Texas 4-H Congress, July 18-21 in Fort Worth.

Representing Mitchell County at the state-wide youth educational event are 4-H members Brad Fincher, Kirk Stubblefield, Bruce Gale and Tony Turner.

Theme for the 1978 4-H Congress is "Our Western Heritage and Horizons." The conference is headquartered in the Fort Worth-Sheraton Hotel.

Tours of the Fort Worth area businesses should enable 4-H members to better understand the heritage of our western culture, and also afford them new opportunities and horizons for future careers and employment.

This year's 4-H Congress features a variety of cultural events including a Fort Hood cavalry unit giving a display of 19th Century drills and movements; the stage play, Paint Your Wagon, and visits to art, science and history museums.

Final major events include a banquet and the Congress Ball, both to be held in the Fort Worth Convention Center.

Among special benefits of 4-H Congress include the opportunity to visit important centers of business and culture and to study new opportunities in career fields.

Delegates Give Convention Report

The Loraine B&PW Club met in the agricultural building Monday night for the first meeting of the new year. Doris Henderson and Billie Ruth Tartt gave highlights of their trip to Galveston to attend the state convention. Accompanied by Wanza Graham, they attended the meetings in the Moody Convention Center and the Galvez Hotel. They toured the Bishop's Palace and NASA.

The theme for this year for Texas is "New Thresholds to New Horizons." The Loraine club is going to approach this idea with a program on physical fitness on August 21 at 7:30 p.m. with April Moore, Loraine High School physical education teacher in charge. She asked that all members bring a mat to expercise on and come in their old clothes.

Billie Schroeder collected results of the survey of the city of Loraine. She called for a meeting of all members on July 29 at 8:30 a.m. in her home to work on the survey. She will have the map of Loraine and all the materials.

The club members voted to help the Loraine fireboys with their Labor Day rest stop.

Higher Electric Bills Predicted

"This summer's temperatures are a lot higher than normal, and that means air conditioners are working harder and using more electricity than normal," said Hardee.

"Also, bills are higher this summer because of our last rate increase. Most of the increase is reflected in summer rates," Hardee said.

"But there are several things people can do to cut their use of electricity and keep the increase in their bills as low as possible," Hardee said.

One of the best ways is to turn the air conditioner thermostat up to 78 degrees or higher. For each degree above 75 an air conditioner uses about 5 per cent less energy.

People with window air conditioning units should rely on a room thermometer to set the temperature control rather than on what "feels right," Hardee said.

"Room fans will help a lot in making the higher thermostat settings more comfortable," Hardee said.

If the house will be empty all day, the thermostat should be raised five degrees or the unit turned off. It costs less to turn the unit back on than to leave it running all day.

"Another good way to save energy is to tighten up your home," said Hardee. "Insulation is a good idea, but you'd be surprised what a little weatherstripping and caulking will do."

"There are a couple of things people can do that won't cost them anything, like pulling the drapes and keeping the doors closed, said Hardee.

Pulling the drapes and closing blinds keeps the sunshine from heating up the air inside the house, which reduces the load on the air conditioner.

"The cost of electricity is going up just like the cost of everything else. We're doing our best to keep the increase as low as possible, increase as low as possible," Hardee said.

"Try 78° this summer. You'll save on your electric bill."

"For saving money on energy bills this summer, Texas Electric recommends a temperature setting of no lower than 78°. This may be higher than you're used to. But when it's 90° or more outside, you'll find that 78° is pretty comfortable after all.

There are a lot of other ways you can help cut down on the amount of electricity you use this summer. For our free tips booklet on ways to lower your bill, call Texas Electric, or request the booklet on the comment section of your electric bill.

And give 78° a try. We think you'll find it comfortable, and you'll sure notice the difference on your electric bill."

in the middle of the road. In fact, slipping and sliding on the streets was one of the fun things about throwing the paper at 2 a.m. when no one was on the streets, Mrs. Jones recalled.

Then there are other things that Mrs. Jones won't tell you about, the many good deeds she has done over the years to help people. One cold night, she and Mrs.Lynch came upon an elderly woman wandering across the street, clothed only in a nightgown. They helped get the woman to where she lived.

On numerous occasions, they notified the police of dangerous situations including once when a large tree was blown over in a storm and was a hazard to traffic.

"I can understand why some people are anxious to get their papers now," she said. "I go out several times to see if my paper is there and I really look forward to reading it." Maybe that's easier than being out till all hours delivering them.

Driving down every street and down some alleys twice a week has given Mrs. Jones a bird's eye view of 20 years worth of changes in Colorado City.

"It has grown and changed so much, mainly spreading out over an expanded area," Mrs. Jones said of the town. "After each band subscription drive, our route got a little longer, first to east hill, and then southside, and now to Westbrook and Loraine. I'll always feel like an alley cat," she quipped.

Her favorite part of her job as circulation manager was getting to meet the public, which is probably the same thing she likes about her job as bus driver for Colorado City schools, which she plans to continue if her hand permits by the time school begins again in August. And, again, no 9 a.m.-5 p.m. hours for Mrs. Jones.

"I really didn't mind getting up early to drive the bus, unless we were late getting the papers out," she said. "I always had nice children on my school bus."

Also, she and her husband of 41 years work on their farm near Silver where they raise a few head of cattle. Harvey is employed at Cosden Refinery at Big Spring, where he has worked for 36 years this October. Their children are all grown. H. L. lives in San Angelo, Linda (Mrs. Charles) Carter now lives in Midland and Robert is in Houston. They have three grandchildren, Andy and Charla Carter and Michelle Jones.

Life doesn't stand still, even though you break your arm at 62. Mrs. Jones just returned from California by plane, her first flight, and visited Knott's Berry Farm and Disneyland.

After spending all of those 62 years on the ground, the main thing she thought about the flight was that she would have enjoyed it more if it could have traveled all the way to California without leaving the runway.

Maybe she would have felt more at home if the plane had looked like our red Nova.

Mixed Doubles Tourney Is Set

Friday and Saturday, the men and women of Mitchell County will team together for a mixed doubles tennis tournament.

Entry deadline for the tournament is today (Thursday). Interested persons should call Tournament Director Dave Redwine at 728-3978.

To enter, you must have a partner, reside in Mitchell County and pay $4 entry fee per player, said Redwine. Participants will also need a can of new tennis balls, which can be purchased at the tournament.

Redwine said that because the tournament will be mixed doubles, special rules will be followed.

"We will use the no-add system of scoring," he said, "which means the first team to win four points takes the game. On the last point the woman must serve to the woman or the man must serve to the man."

The reason for this method of scoring, Redwine explained, is to shorten the time of the matches. This is necessary when there is a shortage of tennis courts.

There will be only one division in the tournament but a consolation bracket will be formed by the first round losers.

Trophies will be presented to first, second and consolation winners.

Play will begin at the Middle School courts Friday evening and will continue Saturday morning.

Optimists Host Carp Contest

Saturday at 8 a.m., fishing will begin at Lake Champion (Fisher Park) for the carp contest hosted by the Optimist club.

Persons ages 7-18 are invited to enter the contest. There is no charge for registration.

Broken down into two age brackets, the 7-14 year olds will be competing and the 15-18 year olds will compete.

In each of the two divisions, first and second place will be awarded.

Boats will be permitted in the contest but no trot lines or nets will be allowed. Only one prize can be won by each contestant and participants must have a fishing license and lake permit.

Persons ages 7-12 entered in the contest must be accompanied by an adult.
