CHICAGO MAYOR DEMANDS FOR BE DRAFTED

'STREAMLINER' WON 1939 RACE

Every boy entered in the Pampa News-Lions Club Soap Box derby to be held Thursday and Friday nights on the old Miami road has a view toward his car.

rating just as high as the one pictured above, the 1939 winner of the All-American Soap Box derby finals, Akron, Ohio. The car was built and driven by Clifford Hardesty of White Plains, N. Y., and is a sample of what the winner of the local derby will have to compete against in Akron on August 11. Trial spins in the local derby will be held this afternoon.

100 Boys Expected To Have Cars In Soap Box Parade Here Today

Pupils desiring to transfer from one school district to another in Gray county have only 16 more days in which to make application, W. B. Weathered, Gray county superintendent, said today. Applications are taken at the office of the county superintendent, July 31 is the deadline.

The transfer applies to pupils living in one district who wish to attend school in another. In case of a change of residence, the moving from one place to another, makes the transfer automatic, and no application for a transfer is necessary. Within the scope of the transfer rules are all children living in state aid districts and all high school students who wish to attend school in other districts.

In case of a change of residence, say from Borger to Pampa, no application for transfer is necessary, but such students should call on the superintendent of the school district into which they are moving.

City Police Arrest

16 Saturday, Sunday

City police officers had one of their busiest week-ends of the year on Saturday and Sunday nights when they made 16 arrests on charges of intoxication, vagrancy and disorderly conduct. Those arrested were arraigned before Acting Judge W. M. Craven yesterday morning and this morning and fines were assessed in each case. Six fines were paid, three persons made arrangements to pay fines and were released, while six started to work out their fines this morning. The other man decided to lay his fine out.

Painting of the police station and office of the assistant health officer were duties assigned those unable to pay their fines.

Hubert Will Report At Townsend Meet

Members of Pampa Townsend club 4 will hear a report on the national convention, given by C. T. Hubert, local delegate, at the court house tonight, but the Tuesday meeting has been postponed until Friday.

The change was occasioned to provide members an opportunity to hear J. F. Kirkland, state representative, and R. V. Converse, congressional candidate. It had previously been announced that Kirkland would appear here tomorrow night. Converse and Kirkland will speak here Friday night in the block between the city hall and the court house.

I Heard ...

B. S. Via, Pampa attorney, and L. A. Woods of Cheyenne, Wyo., having a big get-together this morning. The two met for the first time in 41 years when Mr. and Mrs. Woods and son, L. A., Jr., came to Pampa for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Via. The last time the two met was on San Juan Hill in Cuba during the Spanish-American war. "We were both going down hill on the dead run the last time we saw each other," Mr. Woods remarked.

Champions will parade in Pampa this afternoon when at 3 o'clock boys in the Pampa News Soap Box derby to be held here Thursday and Friday nights, will show their cars in a march from the high school gymnasium.

Nearly a hundred boys are expected to be in the parade, which will be followed by trial spins at Derby Downs, located three miles north of Pampa on the old Miami road.

The boys' model automobiles will be taken on trucks to Derby Downs, then after the trials brought back to the gymnasium, where they will be inspected by the inspection committee.

Under guard but available for the public to see, the model racers will be kept at the gymnasium, where the automobiles may be seen by Pampans on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons.

Numbers are to be assigned today to each boy entered in the derby. Winner of the local derby will be given an expense trip to Akron, there to compete against 125 other home town champions in the All-American and International Soap Box derby, to be held August 11.

Helmets and Pampa News T-shirts are to be awarded each boy entered in the races here. In addition, the M. E. Coyle trophy will be awarded the city champion and six medals, three in each division, will be among other prizes.

Frank Culberson, member of the general committee, expects the major part of this week to be devoted to the derby. This year's races, the second annual Soap Box derby to be held here, is attracting attention all over the Panhandle and in other parts of the nation. More interest is being shown by the boys entered, better cars are being built, more boys have entered the competition, including eight from McLean.

Memphis Delegation Will Visit Here

Memphis' Golden Anniversary celebration will be observed July 24, 25, and 26 this year, according to a letter received at Chamber of Commerce headquarters here today. To publicize the celebration, a 50-car delegation of Memphis citizens will visit Pampa Wednesday afternoon, time of arrival to be announced later.

Besides the Golden Anniversary observance, Memphis will stage the Hall County Old Settlers and Redco, Inc., celebration on the same dates. The trippers will visit Claude, Amarillo, Panhandle and Borger before arriving in Pampa. The program here will be broadcast over station KPDM.

Red Cross To Resume Sewing Work Tomorrow

Pampa women working in the Red Cross sewing program for the benefit of European war refugees are to meet at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the city club rooms at the city hall.

The women are to receive new yarn and new instructions, as work begins on the new quota of 30 dresses to be made by the chapter. Mrs. Robert Sowder will be in charge of the work tomorrow.

On June 15, the women completed work on the last of 30 dresses under the first quota.

Dresses were cut last Friday under the direction of Mrs. Paul Hawthorne.

92 Cars Of Wheat Shipped From Pampa

Ninety-two car loads or approximately 138,000 bushels of wheat have been shipped from Pampa grain elevators up to today. The number is seven less than for the past year, harvest to be great, when 99 car loads were sent from Pampa.

Few if any cars have been sent from Laketon and Heaton this year because of drought in that area early in the growing season. Last year the two places were large shipping points. Many cars have been sent from Kingsmill, White Deer, Groom and Boydston.

Yield of wheat in this area is believed to be larger than in 1939, even though growing areas were spotted because of drought. The areas north, south and west of Pampa were most prolific.

Yields per acre, according to farmers and elevator men, have been twice as great as last year but the acreage was not much more than half what it was in 1939.

Last year Gray county produced nearly 600,000 bushels of wheat. No figures are available for this year's crop and it is almost impossible to make an estimate. However, it is the opinion of County Agent Ralph Thomas, farmers and elevator men which is the principal reason for farmers holding their crop.

"We'll have the complete figure for the county after farmers have complied with government requests for data on yield," Mr. Thomas said today.

Price paid for wheat this season has ranged from 55 to 59 cents which is the principal reason for farmers holding their crop.

Gray County Gets $114 After Audit

Gray county was $114.27 richer today by virtue of an audit by the state comptroller of public accounts, showing that this sum should be credited to Gray county.

The credit followed an audit of the report of F. E. Leech, county tax assessor collector, showing that the state had not allowed sufficient credit to this county.

Information on the amount was contained in a letter from George H. Sheppard, state comptroller, dated Austin, July 11, received here by Mr. Leech. The state department's work covered an audit of Mr. Leech's report from July 1, 1938, to June 30, 1939.

Congratulations—

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bond are the parents of a son, weighing 8 pounds 5 1/4 ounces, born this morning at Worley hospital. The baby has been named Cecil La-noel.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Gibbon are the parents of a son, weighing nearly eight pounds, born in a local hospital. He has been named Daniel Richard.

'Surrender Or Be Destroyed,' Axis Threatens Great Britain

Lake Ideal For Boating, Says Pampan

"The Ochiltree County park and lake on Wolf creek, near Perryton, is an ideal spot for boat racing," Earl McConnell, commodore, and Bob Craig, secretary, of the McCrellan Boat club, stated today after visiting the park yesterday.

Arrangements were made at the park yesterday with W. H. Lance, chairman of the official opening committee, R. M. Connister, concessionaire, and Harry Caylor, secretary of the Perryton Chamber of Commerce, for the boat races.

Prizes totalling $72 will be awarded by the Perryton Chamber of Commerce. Prizes will be $6, $4, and $2 for the races. Three races, with two heats each, will be run, one for 12 horse power motors, one for 22 horse power motors, and a free-for-all race.

Boating, picnicking, and swimming for the general public will be on the program for the morning of July 21 when the lake is open.

Boat races will be run from 1:30 to 2:30 and from 3:30 to 4:30 in the afternoon.

At 2:30 W. H. Lance will have charge of the official dedication program, at which time officials of the Panhandle water conservation authority, soil conservation service, WPA and others will be recognized.

At 5:30 an old timers' baseball game will be played by the Fryer Wolves and Anti-Cigarette teams, these teams being composed of old time citizens of Ochiltree county, who were members of baseball teams a number of years ago, organized and managed by J. Fryer, the original owner of the Ochiltree county park site and for whom the lake is being named.

At 7:30 in the evening a bathing beauty contest will be staged. Prizes of $15 will be awarded for the best pictures taken July 21 at the lake or in the park. The prizes of $7.50, $5 and $2.50 are being offered by the Perryton Chamber of Commerce, with reservation that the negatives will be retained by the Perryton Chamber of Commerce.

Band And Speakers To Boost Worley At Miami, Canadian

Helen Dudley, Jack Johnson and Billy Mounts, all of whom will make speeches for Rep. Eugene Worley, candidate for congress, at Miami tonight at 7:15 o'clock and at Canadian at 8:30 o'clock, today issued a statement claiming that "2,000 parents of Pampa who are voters, are supporting the Mr. Worley Goes to Washington club."

Miss Dudley, regional champion high school debater, announced that the club's band and Bill Kenyon, accordionist, will provide music at the Miami and Canadian rallies tonight, and at the Wheeler rally tomorrow night at 8:30. The Miami rally will be held in front of a drug store and the Canadian rally in front of the Moody hotel. The Wheeler rally will be held from the west steps of the court house.

Kent McDonald and Bobby Addington, in charge of transportation arrangements for the club's band, said that parents and adults would accompany the band and club members.

White House Has Wire To Chicago

WASHINGTON, July 15 (AP)—The white house is connected with Chicago now by a direct telephone wire, but presidential secretary Stephen Early asserted today it "has not been used" so far.

Early disclosed the telephone connection in talking with reporters at the start of a history-making week in which political leaders believed President Roosevelt would accept renomination by the Democratic party and thus challenge the traditions against any one serving three terms in the white house.

The Democratic national committee is paying for the wire, Early declared, adding that if the President or anyone in the white house used it, he would get an operator in the convention city, as the wire was not connected directly with anyone's room.

Secretary of State Hull had a luncheon appointment with the chief executive and smilingly Early told reporters that probably no one would believe him when he said the two were going to discuss only the Pan American conference starting in Havana July 20.

Hull has been mentioned frequently as a vice-presidential prospect under Mr. Roosevelt.

A virtual ultimatum to Britain to surrender or be destroyed by the Rome-Berlin axis powers was forecast today by Virginia Gayda, Italian editor, sometimes known as Mussolini's mouthpiece.

Gayda said "preparations" would be completed in a few days—presumably meaning both the ultimatum and the strategy for a full-blown assault on the British Islands.

The Fascist editor said if Britain refused, the axis powers would unleash "extremely grim, violent war in which inexorable destruction, a fatal, precipitous step toward final overthrow will be measured x x x by days or hours."

This apparently indicates a huge-scale aerial bombing of Britain preceding an attempt at invasion.

Gayda's assertions followed closely on Prime Minister Winston Churchill's ringing declaration in a broadcast last night that Britain would scorn any peace parleys and that the empire was girding for a long war.

Britain's plan of campaign, Churchill disclosed, calls for a two-year defensive war to guard the British Isles against Nazi conquest, and then, in 1942, a counter-offensive.

"We would rather see London laid in ruins and ashes than enslaved," he declared.

Nazi raiders, keeping up the relentless schedule of bombing attacks that have peppered the island kingdom almost daily since June 18, dropped high explosives on a south coast English town this morning.

"Some houses were damaged and a small number of casualties were caused, of which some were fatal," the ministry of home security reported.

Britain is ready, Churchill said, if Germany tries an actual invasion.

"Bombs fell in the Holy Land in its first raid of the war today when 'enemy' planes—presumably Italian—dropped explosives at Haifa, a seaport of British-mandated Palestine. Several casualties resulted."

In the sharpening conflict in Africa, the British garrison at Moyale, Kenya colony, besieged by Italian troops since last Wednesday, was reported still holding out despite heavy bombardment day after day.

The German high command reported bombing attacks on British port facilities, airports and armament industries.

Fires and explosions were observed, the communique said, particularly at Faversham, which served as a secret base for British "Q-boats"—anti-submarine craft, often disguised as fishing boats—in the World war.

The plane slashed at British convoys in the English channel, the high command reported, and sank three merchantmen totalling 17,000 tons. A British destroyer, an auxiliary cruiser and four other merchant ships were also reported damaged by bombs, while commenting on the prospect of a Nazi invasion, Prime Minister Churchill said the island fortress now has 2,500,000 men on the alert to repel any attack—1,500,000 regulars and 1,000,000 home guardsmen.

Such an attempt may come at any time.

Wadlow, World's Tallest Man, Dies

MANISTEE, Mich., July 15 (AP)—Robert Wadlow, 22, whose 8 feet 9 1/2 inches made him the tallest person in American medical history and perhaps in the world, died today of complications following a foot infection.

An infection in his left ankle started the trouble. Physicians resorted to a blood transfusion and a minor operation on the foot but the 491-pound giant failed to respond.

Until young Wadlow began traveling for a shoe company, with his father Harold P. Wadlow as manager, his daily life was like that of any other boy his age.

He took part in boyhood games, he was a soccer pop stand in his front yard, he swam, he liked ice cream.

In his studies he was above average. After graduation from the Alton, Ill., high school, he attended Shurtleiff college.

Wadlow weighed 491 pounds while making his last public appearance. Medical men said his great height resulted from over-activity of the pituitary gland.

Wadlow suffered his injury July 4. A brace worn on his ankle chafed, and infection set in. Father, mother, two sisters and two brothers all were of normal stature. Robert weighed eight and a half pounds at birth, Dec. 22, 1918. By the time Robert reached young manhood the elder Wadlow's shoulders came only to his son's hips.

British Move 8,500 Kiddies From Coast

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, July 15—Britain ready for a long war and waiting for the day when she can seize the offensive, ordered today the removal of 8,500 more children from southeastern coastal areas in anticipation of the German invasion which Prime Minister Churchill told the nation to expect any time.

Even as plans were rushed to get the children to inland havens, German bombers continued their feeling-out process.

Bombs rained on a south coast town. A brief communique said the raiders destroyed some houses and caused a small number of casualties, "some of which were fatal."

A German attacker dropped four bombs over Wales, three of the missiles falling in the water and the fourth without damage on open ground.

The Thames conservancy board discussed defense of the vital river gateway to London at a secret session. The board chairman disclosed it was aiding the war office in damming "certain rivers."

Britain, "a great nation with a will power" the equal of Germany's, is ready for a long war and waiting for the day, even if it should not come until 1942, when she can take the offensive herself.

So Prime Minister Churchill informed the world last night in a "fight talk" picturing Britain as armed more powerfully on land, at sea and in the air than at any time in her history.

Churchill spoke of the strength of the British army, "a million and a half men under arms," of a home guard, "more than a million" volunteers ready to destroy "paratroopers, airborne invaders and any traitors that may be found in our midst," of the royal air force and fighter command, which have "shot down more than five to one" of German planes attacking convoys and Britain herself, and finally of the royal navy, ready to protect any part of the empire "with over a thousand armed ships under the white ensign patrolling the seas."

Then, looking beyond the "imminent assault which we await undismayed," he asked, "why do I dwell on all this?"

"Not, surely, to induce any slackening of effort or vigilance," he said.

"On the contrary, these must be redoubled and we must prepare not only for the summer but for the winter, not only for 1941 but for 1942, when the war will, I trust, be over."

Miami Youth Wins Farmer's Degree

MIAMI, July 15—Wallace Locke, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Locke of Miami, has been awarded the Lone Star Farmer's degree for outstanding work in the F. F. A. This is the highest degree the state committee confers, and less than two per cent of the thousands of boys belonging to the F. F. A. in Texas receive it.

Locke will be presented a gold key at the state F. F. A. convention which is meeting in Houston this week.

The local chapter of F. F. A. has done outstanding work this year under the direction of Mr. Willis. The judging teams have won honors at all the meets as well as individual honors for a number of the members.

The chapter has a candidate for a national farmer's degree to be passed on, when the committee meets.

Fulgencio Batista

Dr. Ramon Grau San Martin

Batista Elected Cuban President

HAVANA, July 15 (AP)—Fulgencio Batista, who once gained a narrow fame as the best stenographer in the Cuban army, appeared today to have won election as president of his country.

In voting yesterday, marked by scattered violence in which four persons were killed, Batista was credited unofficially with gaining a three to two, or better, margin of victory over former president Dr. Ramon Grau San Martin.

The president-elect is scheduled to take office next Oct. 1 for a four-year term. He cannot succeed himself.

Cubans acknowledged that actually the 39-year-old peasant-born Batista could have taken over the presidency at any time since he led the Cuban classic "revolt of the six sergeants" Sept. 4, 1933.

Instead, he chose for more than five years to remain the head of Cuba's armed forces.

Only last December, Batista resigned from the army and dropped his title of colonel to become a candidate for the presidency—to find out how he stood with Cuba's 2,000,000 voters.

Britain Trying To End War In China

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, July 15—The British government, faced with a full-time job in its battle with Germany and Italy, now is seeking to end the three-year-old war between China and Japan.

That results of this peace attempt would be known soon as reported in a broadcast at Singapore by S. W. Jones, acting governor of Malaya, who declared "his majesty's government will go to the greatest lengths to avoid seconding and prolonging the war in the east and will put forward every effort it can afford to end it."

However, this statement by an official virtually unknown in the diplomatic world was described in London as not intended to portend a new policy toward Japan. Rather, it was believed Britain intended to offer some basis on which peace discussions could be built. Authoritative quarters suggested this might include concessions to Japan in Hongkong and over the Burma road, China's last important link with the outside world.

(A possible new source of friction arose today, however, when the Japanese navy, claiming "military necessity," issued a proclamation barring all shipping along sections of the Chinese coast south of Shanghai.

Farley Cuts Short Cheers For Kelly

Many Empty Seats As Convention Of Democrats Opens

CHICAGO, July 15 (AP)—A demand that Franklin D. Roosevelt be drafted for a third term because he is "the kind of man that mankind needs" was sounded during the first hour of the Democratic National convention today by Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago.

The Mayor turned his scheduled "welcoming speech" into a "draft Roosevelt" demand as delegates listened through nearly an hour of speeches and formalities which started the convention toward a presidential nomination.

"The salvation of this nation rests in one man because of his great experience and sincere humanitarian thinking," Kelly said.

"That is why I am praying that this great Democratic convention with the eyes of an unhappy world upon it, will stand with all unity."

Only a few minutes before the President had talked with Chairman James A. Farley by telephone from the white house to wish him a successful convention and ask "how things are going."

Farley's response was "Okay."

A burst of applause greeted Kelly's "draft" speech but Farley cut the demonstration short with his gavel.

Fifteen minutes before time for the session, James A. Farley appeared on the platform, but across from empty red backed seats were spread out before him on the floor and high in the triple tiered galleries. Delegates moved in slowly for the first brief session of opening formalities.

The organ, which in 1932 had much to do with taking the slogan song of the campaign, "Happy Days Are Here Again," piped away. Then a band high up in the second gallery took up a rousing march.

But, as Farley set the convention going, the man about whom all the attention centered was in Washington. President Roosevelt and Secretary Hull were lurching together. There was a private telephone line to Chicago but both the White House and Farley in Chicago said it had not been used.

A burst of applause ran over the hall when Farley came to the speaker's stand and rapped with his gavel. From high in the gallery rang a single shout: "We want Roosevelt!"

Farley's grin spread as the big organ began playing "Take Me Out to the Ball Game." "One, two, three strikes, you're out. That's the old ball game." The song recalled recent reports that Farley might soon take a position with the New York Yankees.

The convention was declared in order at five minutes after 11 o'clock (CST) and Farley presented Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch of Chicago who prayed for a rededication to the tasks of upholding under all circumstances "our free institutions."

Phil Regan, Irish tenor, sang the Star Spangled Banner and received a big cheer when he had finished.

L. O. Robert, Jr., secretary of the national committee, then read the formal "call for the convention."

Few were listening. A loud buzz of conversation arose from the floor, and the aisles were a confusion of late arriving delegates trying to get in and early arrivals trying to get out.

When Johnny Won't Eat ...

A doctor points out that parents who can't get their children to eat may do so by exposing them to a well-stocked dinner-table five times a day, get sweets off the menu, refrain from persuasive tactics, let nature take its course. There's another well-known prescription: "This is for results! If you have something to sell, rent, or want to trade or buy, if you'll put your wares in the classified columns and let the little nature ads go to its source, you, there is no reason at all why you can't get the desired results. Hundreds are doing just this every day. Why don't you start today?"

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By ALICIA HART

New York's top ranking models are considered the best-looking girls in the world. They win out over Hollywood stars because all they need is beauty (no acting ability required) and because as a rule their carriage is superior.

But in spite of the models' beauty it would not be a disheartening experience for Mrs. Average Woman to find herself face to face with Miss Glamor Model.

At first Mrs. Average Woman would think, "Isn't she lucky to have a face and figure like that?" But, looking closer and thinking the matter through, she would see that luck was only partly responsible.

For instance, she might notice that the model's features actually were no better than her own. The model would probably confess as much. For no woman in the world is better acquainted with her face, its good points and its bad, than a successful model.

But where Mrs. Average Woman had done nothing to dramatize her own clear-cut profile, the model had arranged her hair to set her profile off. And she had experimented with eye makeup until her far-from-beautiful eyes gave the impression of being large and luminous.

SHE MAKES MOST OF HER FIGURE, TOO
The model's figure, too, is certainly something for Mrs. Average Woman to envy. But its perfection isn't due entirely to luck, either. Correct diet and exercise had a part in it. And good posture and carriage set it off to the best advantage.

Another thing the model's dress was bought with but one idea in mind—to flatter. In line, in color, and in fit, her dress does all that a dress can for a woman. That means, of course, that she spent a great deal more time shopping for it than Mrs. Average Woman did for her becoming-enough dress. But the result is worth the time spent.

Looking the glamor model over as one woman sizes up another, Mrs. Average Woman would be far from discouraged about her own looks. Her sensible reaction would be: "She made the most of herself. I haven't. But I will take more pains after this."

INSPIRED BY PAN-AMERICAN MODE

A dashing, sweeping fall hat of black velvet has a harlequin mask of veiling. This is typical of the off-the-face trend, designed to dramatize the popular waved pompadours. This afternoon hat was one of the many dramatic bonnets shown during a special preview of fall fashions in New York. Forecasting important "way-back-off-the-beat" fall styles, they are the nih degree in sophistication.

Corner-Caucus On Mrs. Brown More Fun Than Politics

By RUTH MILLETT

Even in a day when women are active politically, and when they spend as much or more time than men "keeping up" on what is going on in the world, men believe that women don't know anything about politics.

In any mixed group, the minute politics comes up for discussion, the men ease over toward a corner where they can get away from the women and their "immature" ideas.

WOMEN MIGHT GET EVEN
If they can't get off in a corner they manage to laugh off or impatiently glare down the ideas any woman who is bold enough to admit she has a political idea hands out.

It doesn't do any good for a woman to get upset when her husband is more impressed with the taxi driver's political ideas than with her own.

He doesn't know that his lack of attention to her opinion about candidates and questions is insulting. As a man, he doesn't think a woman's predictions on politics, the weather, and baseball are worth taking seriously.

There is one way women could get even—if they wanted to take the trouble. Every time they get to a party they could beat the men to it by getting off in a huddle discussing politics.

Instead of starting on social chatter as they do instinctively, Mrs. Jones could say to Mrs. Smith, (ignoring both Mr. Jones and Mr. Smith): "What do you think about Roosevelt's latest scheme?"

And every time the men ventured to interrupt, Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Smith could hear them out patiently, but without enthusiasm. They need not even try the common masculine trick of interrupting to put them straight.

But maybe it's not worth it—not when there is the infinitely more exciting matter of holding a corner-caucus on Mrs. Brown's goings-on.

MODERN MENUS

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

Release from hot weather kitchen sizzles comes packed in cans. When the sun beats down your ambition, study the ever-increasing assortment of standard ingredients now offered in cans.

However, with canned meat, vegetables, or fruits, it is a wise policy to serve some raw fruits or vegetables. Lettuce and other greens, carrots, radishes, green peppers, and celery belong in every summer salad picture. Raw cabbage is an excellent and easy to prepare accompaniment to any canned food salad. Bowls of fresh fruit or berries are no bother to prepare and should be included in almost every summer menu.

Here are three salads largely based on canned ingredients.

Salmon Luncheon Salad
(Serves 6)

One number one can of salmon, 1 cup canned peas, drained; 1/2 cucumber, sliced; 1/2 cup salad dressing, 1 tablespoon lemon juice or vinegar, lettuce, 6 deviled eggs.

Flake the salmon and add peas, sliced cucumber and green pepper. Mix salad dressing and lemon juice or vinegar and add to salmon mixture. Mix all together lightly with a fork. Arrange on crisp lettuce cups. Garnish with watercress or parsley and deviled eggs.

Asparagus Salad With Dressing
(Serves 6)

One number one can white asparagus tips, 4 tablespoons salad oil, 4 tablespoons pickle juice, 4 tablespoons vinegar, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1-3 cup thinly sliced sour pickles, 2 tablespoons chopped celery, few grains cayenne, 1 canned pimiento, 1 head lettuce.

Drain chilled asparagus. Mix together the oil, pickle juice, vinegar, paprika, salt, sliced pickles, celery, and cayenne. Arrange 3 or 4 asparagus tips on crisp lettuce. Garnish with strips of pimiento and pour on the dressing.

Sauerkraut Carrot Salad
(Serves 10 to 12)

One No. 2 1/2 can sauerkraut, 6 medium-sized carrots, shredded; 2 small onions chopped; 4 teaspoons horseradish, 1 head lettuce, French dressing.

Chill sauerkraut and drain. Shred carrots to measure 2 cups. Chop onions and mix together. Cover and chill at least one hour. Serve with French dressing on crisp lettuce.

Shower Honors Borger Couple

Swimming Party Held By C. Y. A.

Members of the Catholic Youth association will hold their regular weekly meeting at 8 o'clock tomorrow night at Holy Souls school, with Johnny Schwind and Jim Brown as hosts.

A swimming party at the Pampa Municipal Swimming pool followed last week's meeting when Irene Poulos and Ellen Keough were hostesses.

Roosevelt Forces Win First Fight Among Texas Delegates

CHICAGO, July 15 (AP)—The first major scrap among Texas delegates to the national Democratic convention ended yesterday in a J. Wirtz of Austin, under-secretary of the interior, being chosen as the state's representative on the platform committee.

Wirtz, who favors a third term for President Roosevelt, was opposed by numerous Garner adherents, including Mrs. Clara Driscoll of Corpus Christi, Democratic national committeewoman.

Mrs. Driscoll, speaking in behalf of R. W. Norton of San Antonio for the place on the platform body, threatened to resign as committeewoman unless he was chosen.

"If you go against me now," she told the delegates, "I'll eliminate myself as your national committeewoman."

Later she reiterated to newsmen that she intended to resign.

In Washington, Maury Hughes of Dallas and Dick Tullis of San Antonio.

Chosen for other convention positions were:

Rules committee, Norton; credentials committee, Mrs. M. L. Gill of Houston; permanent organization committee, R. L. Bobbitt of San Antonio; honorary vice president of convention, Mayor Toin Miller of Austin; committee to notify the presidential nominee, Mrs. F. R. Carlon of Dallas; vice presidential notification committee, Paul Wakefield of Austin.

Italy Claims Two British Submarines Sunk In Operations

(By The Associated Press)

ROME, July 15.—Destruction of two British submarines and a destroyer in week-end naval operations in the Mediterranean were claimed by Italy today.

An Italian submarine, the high command said, sank a British submarine and a destroyer in the western Mediterranean. It had reported yesterday that an Italian destroyer also sank a British submarine.

(Loss of a destroyer and one submarine is acknowledged by the British.)

Damage of undisclosed extent was said to have been heaped on British warships in the Mediterranean, pictured by Italy as struggling home to Alexandria under aerial pounding after a hapless foray in the open sea. Battleships and cruisers were reported struck "repeatedly" with heavy bombs.

A total of 10 British planes destroyed was counted for the week end both over the Mediterranean and in Africa where, the communiqué said today, Italian scouting planes also machine-gunned British troops near Buna, East Africa.

On the debit side the Italians acknowledged one of their submarines was missing and one of their planes had failed to return to its base.

Cardenas To Inspect Irrigation Projects

MEXICO CITY, July 15 (AP)—Sources in the office of President Cardenas reported today that the chief executive shortly would leave on a trip through north central Mexico to inspect irrigation projects and other public works undertaken by his administration.

It was said he would visit the states of San Luis Potosi, Aguascalientes, Michoacan and Tamaulipas.

State's Rebuttal Witnesses Heard In Meador Trial

State witnesses in rebuttal were put on the stand today in 31st district court, as the trial of State vs. P. M. Meador, charged with failure to stop and render aid, entered its second week.

Dr. R. M. Bellamy, Dr. W. B. Wild, and Herman Whitley were witnesses who testified this forenoon.

The petit jurors reporting this morning, as the eighth week of the current court term opened, were excused by District Judge W. R. Ewing until 9 a. m. Wednesday.

'Watch Willkie Will' Slogan At Convention

CHICAGO, July 15 (AP)—One Roosevelt already is at the Democratic national convention in an official capacity. He is Elliott Roosevelt, of Fort Worth, second son of the President.

Elliott is a Texas delegate, but he expressed no opinion as to whether his father would be renominated. The state's delegation is instructed to vote as a unit for Vice President Garner for the presidential nomination.

"I haven't got a thing to say," Elliott told reporters, "except that the man who is nominated here will win the election."

Mississippi will cast only 18 votes in the convention, but it will take 99 delegates to do the job. Each person in the large group will have a fraction of a vote. One congressional district, with two votes, has 49 delegates.

Mrs. Sarah Bard Hanly of Monmouth, Ill., is wearing a Cleveland-Thurman badge which she saved from 1888.

"Watch Willkie Will" is the slogan on buttons which members of the Oklahoma delegation are sporting.

Harry H. Woodring, who resigned as secretary of war last month so that the President could appoint Henry L. Stimson, is a delegate from Kansas. He wants the Democratic platform to say that the United States "should have a policy of non-intervention in the political, as well as military, affairs of the old world."

Helen Gahagan, the actress, is California's new Democratic national committeewoman. She was elected by the state delegation yesterday.

Miss Gahagan is the wife of Melvyn Douglas, Hollywood actor-director.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson of Washington is the only former first lady at the convention. The Republicans had two former president's wives at Philadelphia—Mrs. William Howard Taft and Mrs. Benjamin Harrison.

French Celebrate Independence Day In Tears, Sorrow

VICHY, July 15 (AP)—France plunged anew into the task of reconstruction today after observing in tears the 15th anniversary of the freedom her people tasted when they stormed the Bastille fortress, symbol of tyranny and oppression.

Cardenas Rail And Oil Plans Opposed By Labor Unions

MEXICO CITY, July 15 (AP)—President Cardenas today confronted strong rank-and-file opposition to his efforts to straighten out the deficit-encumbered operations of the workers-managed national railways and the government-administered petroleum industry.

The chief executive's plans for reorganizing two of his administration's most important public-ownership ventures appeared to be threatened with substantial labor objections.

WHAT IS MALT?..

and how is it used in making beer and ale?

BARLEY

Answer: Brewers' malt is barley that has had its starches modified. The barley is first permitted to "sprout" by the addition of moisture. At the right instant, the growth is checked by heat and the sprouts are removed.

What remains is malt... the essential base of all good beer and ale.

Every step in the brewing of good beer and ale has been taught by centuries of experience. Today, amazingly expert brewers—using only the purest ingredients—make beer and ale the mild, tasty, wholesome beverages that they are.

Now the brewing industry is taking action to keep the retailing of beer as wholesome as beer itself. A plan to eliminate abuses is already in effect in a number of states. It is being extended. Ask us for an interesting free booklet.

What Have We Learned? Have the American republics learned the lesson of Europe?

Has the spectacle of Europe's small countries, jealous and fearful, unwilling to unite, and then falling one after another into the hands of conquerors, brought home anything to the Americas?

We are going to find out. The Havana conferences will tell, by the end of July, to what extent the American republics have learned the lesson of co-operation.

The United States has taken the lead, patiently and painstakingly, for 10 years in fomenting a united western hemisphere—in creating a new Pan Americanism in which the Monroe Doctrine should be not a mere policy of the United States, but a joint policy of all the Americas.

What fruit this has borne will be apparent in the Havana meeting. On the record, it is conclusively clear that United States policy in regard to the Americas has nothing to do with continental hegemony—in simpler language, we do not want to run the two Americas as a set of "branch offices" controlled from Washington.

Japanese and German action in Asia and Europe have no similarity to the Monroe Doctrine of 1823 or of today. Did the Japanese hold conferences with China, Siberia, Manchuria, Indo-China, Australia, and the Dutch East Indies in an effort by joint and equal action to avert infiltration from abroad and to devise better means of trading and living together? To ask the question answers it.

Did Germany hold similar conferences in Europe for the same reasons? We heard of none. Pan Americanism of today is something duplicated nowhere else in the world.

The specific questions to be discussed at Havana include activities of alien groups endangering common American democratic ideals, joint defense measures, and united action to meet a foreign trade situation which may bring with it a threat of foreign political domination.

The American nations are all free. They can unite freely on these matters or not. If they do not wish this, they are within their rights, and the United States will not question them. It has for 10 years been offering and urging co-operation on equal terms, and living up to that ideal in its own foreign relations.

Specifically, it believes that all the American nations should act jointly to prevent European possessions in this hemisphere from changing hands as the result of mere military conquest. But if other American nations do not care to assume their end of this responsibility, let no one say that it is "imperialism" for the United States to protect its own safety and interests by whatever means remain available.

Behind The News CHICAGO, July 15—Some of the sharpest differences of opinion inside the New Deal administration are being carefully smoothed over in the fabrication of the Democratic platform.

Two specific instances are the planks dealing with defense and new world relations and with agriculture. In each case, the platform-makers' job was to work out some formula that would bypass the still unresolved conflicts within the administration. For no matter how confidently the platform may speak of these two matters, the plain fact is that the administration is far from united on either one.

The much-talked-of cartel plan for disposing of new world export surpluses is the first example. Authorship of this plan is generally credited to Assistant Secretary of State A. A. Berle. In any case, the President went for it enthusiastically at first, and a section of the New Deal began trumpeting it as the one and only way to prevent Nazi domination of Latin America.

Common Ground By R. C. HOILES

This column contends there can be no satisfactory progress until we measure the shares of each man by the common yardstick of the God-given equal right to create and enjoy anything anyone else has a right to create and enjoy.

CAN COLLECTIVE BARGAINING BE CONSISTENT AND RATIONAL?

Here are a few questions that lead every advocate of collective bargaining into cruelty or absurdity: Could limiting apprentices by a union mean limiting those who dare join a union? Of course the only rational answer to this is yes.

If one group of workers has a right to set minimum wages and to limit those who dare join their organization and participate in the work is fair, would it not be fair for all group to have the same right?

To answer anything but yes would be to advocate special privileges for one group, which is certainly contrary to the principles on which this government was formed.

If all groups establish minimum wages and limit the number who dare work, would there not tend to be people excluded from the right to work at any line of work if all work were done by organized groups?

The only rational answer of course would be yes. Then how would the advocates of collective bargaining care for those who were excluded from work?

Starve or Assist Them. If their answer is, let them starve or shift for themselves, it would be the worst kind of tyranny and cruelty. If their answer is that they would support them by charity or useless work, their answer then is absurd; because to prevent these men from working and producing useful things and to take it from those who are permitted to work to support those barred from work is to lower the standard of those who are permitted to work and, thus, defeats the very aim of collective bargaining.

Most people err in their conclusions as to how those excluded can be fed other than from labor. Most people believe that taking the substance from the rich to feed those who are unemployed will not hurt those who are at present engaged in physical, creative work.

Why Labor Pays Where they err is that it prevents those who do the physical and creative work at present from having better tools so that they pay for the support of the idle by being unable to produce as much and, consequently, by receiving less reward for their production.

And, yet, we the people of the United States, through our laws—the Wagner Law and the Yellow Dog Contract—practically force workers to join labor groups that limit the number of workers who dare work in each group and establish minimum wages.

Each Man Has Rights If we believe, as the greatest Teacher taught us to believe, that the hairs of each man's head are numbered, that is, that each man has certain inalienable rights that no one has a right to take away from him, then certainly we would have to concede that those people who are excluded would have to be taken care of. And if this taking care of other people reduces the total production and, thus, the real wages that each worker can receive, then collective bargaining, instead of helping the workers as a whole, by any logical method that may be used, is not humane, not just, and not Christian and lowers the average wage of all workers.

The columns of this paper are open to any advocate of collective bargaining who will answer questions along these lines, to refute the above conclusion that collective bargaining is not beneficial to the working class of people, when it is used to limit apprentices or to set arbitrary wages that results in reducing the amount of products that can be exchanged for given amount of other products.

Unless these conclusions can be refuted, to continue to advocate collective bargaining is to pay no attention to reason, humanitarianism and justice but is to advocate special privileges, or a form of dictatorship and tyranny. Collective bargainists do not want to discuss these questions. They always want to change the subject and talk about something else. But we cannot solve the problem of unemployment by evading it and changing the subject.

Sir William Wiseman, chief of British intelligence and "undercover" man during the first World War, is a partner of Kuhn, Loeb Company, New York banking house with labyrinthian connections in London, France and other international finance quarters.

Sir William returned to the United States several months ago. Henry L. Stimson is counsel to Kuhn, Loeb Company. Stimson's law firm also is known to have extensive British-French business attachments.

Henry Stimson is now Secretary of War in the Cabinet of President Roosevelt, who heads the war party of the nation. Recently a considerable block of stock was opened to public sale by the Chicago Daily News. Among the largest buyers was Kuhn, Loeb Company.

Colonel Ryan Knox, News publisher, is now Secretary of the Navy in the same Cabinet. I wonder how United States Navy men will feel about being bossed by an ex-army colonel. Instead of creating national harmony and unity, Mr. Roosevelt's appointments of Knox and Stimson has created more disunity than ever—among Republicans here, among Democrats, New Dealers and—in his own War Department.

'HELLO THERE, LITTLE MAN'

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

HOLLYWOOD, July 15—Orson Welles' only son, Richard, after a year here, is that he has all Hollywood wondering what sort of pictures he'd turn out.

Among the numerous and derisive critics of the 25-year-old radio and stage genius are some who still declare, as if reading the mint leaves in the bottom of a julep cup, that Little Orson Annie never will complete a film. The newest gag about him is that the ambitious Welles has doubled his schedule—instead of not making three pictures, he will not make six.

But the fact is that any day, now, the camera will begin to turn on "Citizen Kane." Welles thought up the story and he is completing the screen play. He also will be the producer, director and star. Other faces in the cast will be virtually unknown to movie audiences: some of the players are from his Mercury Theater; one, Gus Schilling, is a burlesque comic who graduated from Minsky to Shakespeare with Welles' help.

Leading woman is Linda Winters. She is not exactly a stranger to Hollywood, having served Columbia as a leg-art cutie under the name of Dorothy Comenore. She now is the wife of Richard Collins, a writer, and before taking her screen test she confided that she would not be able to work very long. Hollywood will collapse in hysterics when it learns that Welles, whose experiences here have been a series of postponements, has hired an actress who is expecting a baby. But Welles is confident of being able to finish "Citizen Kane" within a couple of months.

He will not confide anything about the plot of his picture, but I do know that it will carry its main character through a lifetime of some 70 years, and that Welles has been busy for weeks on make-up and tests for himself and other principals.

The main reason that Hollywood has resented Orson Welles is that he not only was able to get, but also dared to assume, more authority and duties than anybody else here ever had except Charlie Chaplin. Every studio approached him with an offer to write or direct or act. Casually, though, he refused, explaining that he expected to do all three and to be a producer besides.

That sounded pretty nervy, and Hollywood seemed to take personal offense when George Schaefer of RKO finally made such an agreement with him. Welles is so completely his own boss that he can order RKO executives off his sets and can keep them out of his cutting room.

ALREADY TWO DISAPPOINTMENTS His first picture was to have been Joseph Conrad's "Heart of Darkness." But Welles couldn't control the European situation or the financial panic that struck Hollywood. The production would have cost more than a million dollars, and he wouldn't have the budget.

So that was postponed, and he worked furiously at scripting "The Smiler With a Knife." It would have been the first flicker about Fifth Column activities and should have made a lot of money for that reason alone. Only trouble was that Welles wrote it for Carole Lombard, and she wasn't available, and he wouldn't consider anyone else.

So now, finally, he's going to do "Citizen Kane."

Married Men In Guard May Resign

WASHINGTON, July 15. (AP)—Married men in the lowest ranks of the national guard—private, corporal and sergeant—will be permitted to resign in an effort to prevent unnecessary hardships resulting from the prospective mobilization of 50,000 guardsmen.

This was disclosed today by war department officials, who said state adjutant general had been asked to permit the married men to quit if they were not willing to respond to an order for extended active duty.

President Roosevelt intends to call up 50,000 of the guardsmen for a year's intensive training in case congress grants him requested authority to do so.

The policy of permitting married men to resign does not apply to the higher enlisted ranks of master, staff and technical sergeant. These ranks, many pay considered sufficient to provide for dependents.

The base pay for privates on active duty in the guard is $21 a month, the same as for regular army troopers.

Cowgirl Beauties To Ride At Dalhart

DALHART, July 15—Cowgirl beauties of the Southwest will ride before the crowds at the Fifth Annual XIT Reunion in Dalhart, Aug. 5-6.

The General XIT Committee has just perfected plans for a Cowgirl Sponsor contest—the first that has ever been held by the XIT Reunion. Lubbock, Dallas, Stratford and Texline have pledged sponsors, and Canadian will send its Miss Sylvia Yokley, who took Madison Square Garden by storm with her calf roping act, and who was widely publicized by Life magazine as "The Sweetheart of the Cow Country."

First prize is a beautiful saddle horse, second prize is a specially-made saddle, lettered "XIT Sponsor Contest—Dalhart 1940," and third prize is a pair of shop-made boots.

In recent years the necessary surgery has been lacking. Instead, we have substituted the physician with a superb bedside manner. Dope has been administered. The pain has been dulled temporarily, but the basic difficulties have in too large a degree remained untouched.

Texas Waits To Hear O'Daniel's Bus Explanation

(By The Associated Press) Several thousand Texas office-seekers start their stretch skirts this week in efforts to finish ahead in the first Democratic primary only 12 days away.

Topping interest is the scheduled return to the stump of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel and his famed hill-billy band. The governor, who has five opponents, will speak every night this week, opening at Greenville tonight.

What the governor will have to say about his new campaign bus is awaited with eagerness. His political enemies claim the bus must have cost approximately $15,000 and have criticized O'Daniel for assertedly accepting it as a gift from friends.

While the gubernatorial jousting holds the spotlight, there is mounting interest in the contest for the railroad commission post to be relinquished by the veteran Lon A. Smith. That race drew nearly a score of entrants.

Tom Connally, United States senator from Texas for 12 years, has opposition for renomination. The race has attracted little attention, however, and Connally's friends assert that he is assured of a victory in the first primary.

Gubernatorial candidate Arlon B. "Cyclone" Davis of Dallas said he would speak at Greenville tonight an hour ahead of O'Daniel's rally. He also announced talks at Austin Tuesday and Granger Wednesday.

Aging James E. Ferguson, who is making infrequent platform appearances, thus far had scheduled only one address for this week—at Houston Friday night. He is doing most of the campaigning for his wife, former Governor Miriam A. Ferguson.

Candidate Ernest O. Thompson was in Houston today and intended to go to Beaumont for an appearance there tonight. Candidate Jerry Sadler's itinerary today included Georgetown, Belton, Temple, Camerton and Waco.

Highway Commissioner Harry Hines, the sixth gubernatorial aspirant, said he would confine his campaigning today to the radio. He will address a gathering at Tyler tomorrow night.

AAA Recommends Greater Stress On Saving Soil

WASHINGTON, July 15 (AP)—State AAA committee members recommend that greater stress be placed on saving the soil in the 1941 farm program.

Their proposals, which agriculture department officials said today would form the basis for drafting a specific program, would not change the general outlines of the present agriculture adjustment program.

Major suggestions, made at the close of a four-day conference which ended Saturday, included: Adding new soil-building practices to the program. Extending government advances of lime, superphosphate and other materials to farmers, as credits against later federal payments earned under the program.

Increased opportunity for county committees to adapt the AAA program to local needs. Enlarging the struggle against soil erosion to cover a larger area of the southern states.

Extension of crop insurance to additional commodities, such as corn, cotton and tobacco, as soon as practicable. R. M. Evans, AAA administrator, commented that the soil conserving and crop insurance proposals "are an important contribution to national defense."

Mr. Willie has demonstrated, through his writings and addresses, that he understands what makes the wheels of our economic system go round. He has shown an insight into the economics of current issues that conforms to the most widely-accepted and time-tested principles of economics subscribed to by our most reputable economists. His experience, quite apart from his extensive reading, has been sufficiently wide to make these principles clear to him. This knowledge, combined with his practice of stating issues directly and simply, should make him a valuable instructor in the coming political campaign.

All signs point to a thorough-going course in diagnosis, fact finding, fact stating, and prescription which the public apparently is ready to receive, if not enjoy. It seems quite clear that at last deep politics will be put to rest and that the best politics in the world is no politics, and it seems clear that Mr. Willie will give them a good dose of just that.

It will be a great experience to economists to hear economic questions discussed as economic questions and not as matters of temporary political expediency, and such procedure should at last be a welcome and profitable change for the American people.

ECONOMICS FOR PINK PILLS By WALTER E. SPAHR Professor of Economics, New York University

Economics and politics have often been far apart. A large proportion of policies have been based on expediency. Economics is at times like surgery: proper application of its principles often hurts temporarily and requires that we screw up our courage.

When the principles of economics are understood and are used as a means of bringing the greatest good to the greatest number, good politics requires that the long-range consequences be taken into account.

In recent years the necessary surgery has been lacking. Instead, we have substituted the physician with a superb bedside manner. Dope has been administered. The pain has been dulled temporarily, but the basic difficulties have in too large a degree remained untouched.

Every person who has had any extensive experience with physicians knows the victim of the physician who dopes his patient may grow weary of winning ways, promises, and making bills, and send for the man who speaks the bitter truth and proceeds to do the proper things about it. He may say, "Old boy, it is going to hurt for awhile, but after the cutting has been done you will, after a few days of discomfort, soon be on the road to recovery."

That is a common experience of people, and, in general, they are rational enough about it. But where economic issues are involved the general public show less rational tendencies. They are a big and unwieldy body, and not only seek dope for temporary discomfort but

Pampa Oilers Win Doubleheader At Odessa

Amarillo And Lubbock Also Win Two Each

Pampa's lefthanders, Rex Dilbeck and John McPartland, pitched the Pampa Oilers to wins over the Odessa Oilers yesterday afternoon in Odessa. Amarillo, Lubbock and Midland also won doubleheaders, leaving the Oilers still 4½ games out in front of Amarillo.

The Oilers won the first game 4 to 1 behind Dilbeck's seven-hit pitching. They won the nightcap 6 to 1 although McPartland gave up 10 hits and the Oilers collected only eight.

Errors were costly to the Odessa cause, the home club booting five in each game. The Oilers mopped up four plays behind Dilbeck but only one behind McPartland as they played great ball to cut down base runners.

Up to a late hour this morning all efforts to secure box scores from Odessa had failed.

The Oilers moved over to Midland for two games before coming back to the Panhandle for three games in Borger. The All-Star game will be played in Amarillo Saturday night and then the Oilers will return home for a doubleheader with Odessa Sunday afternoon.

Mags Beat Skelly 13 To 3 For 8th Straight Win

Magnolia's Flying Red Horses won their eighth straight game by beating the Skellytown Independents, 13 to 3. The Red Horses will go to Pith next Sunday to play Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line.

A. C. Miller started on the mound for the Oilers but was relieved in the fifth by Manager Bob Bailey who finished the game. Miller allowed four runs, five hits, one a double by Norton, whiffed four and walked two. Bailey limited the visitors to two runs and two hits, finishing two and walking three.

R. Stephens and Donelson hit home runs for the Red Horses. Stephens blasted the ball so far over the centerfielder's head that he didn't even chase it. Fred McGahey and A. C. Miller bagged trips for the Red Horses.

Doc Howard started on the hill for the Skellytown Independents and allowed seven runs and seven hits in six innings. He fanned six and walked four. Page relieved in the seventh and was clipped for six runs and six hits, including the two long home runs.

Fitzsimmons Pitches His 200th Victory Of Career

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Freddy Fitzsimmons, old and fat but still doing tricks with his knuckleball, lined up behind the great pitchers of baseball today with the 200th victory of his 16-year major league career.

The annals of the game show only 45 hurlers, fellows like Cy Young, Walter Johnson, Grover Alexander, Christy Mathewson and similar all-time heroes, who have won 200 or more contests. Only four besides Fitzsimmons are now active in the game—Lefty Grove, Red Ruffing, Ted Lyons and Carl Hubbell.

Fitz made a lightning entrance into this select group by pitching Brooklyn to a four-hit 2-0 shutout over the Pittsburgh Pirates after the Dodgers had dropped the first game of a doubleheader 6-2 and were in danger of falling farther behind the pace of the Cincinnati Reds.

Buffing kept Fitz company in the "200" by shutting out the Chicago White Sox 4-0 on four hits. The New York Yankees got 11 hits off Lefty Thornton Lee. This was Rufus Lee's 222nd victory and eighth of the season.

It was a rough day for the leaders in the American league. The Cleveland Indians lost one game, the Detroit Tigers two and the Boston Red Sox lost Jimmie Fox.

Double X was bumped by John Berardino of the St. Louis Browns in the first inning of the first game and even though the Red Sox swept the doubleheader 5-4 and 7-3 they could ill afford the wrenched knee that FOX received. He will be out of the lineup for several days.

Cleveland was a 6-5 eleven-inning victim of the Washington Senators. Detroit wasn't able to take advantage of the chance to regain the lead. The combination of Sam Chapman's two home runs and rookie Porter Vaughan's effective southpaw pitching won the first game for the Philadelphia Athletics 8-2 and Chapman hit another homer in the second game to pave the way for a 5-2 decision.

The St. Louis Cardinals swept their doubleheader with the Boston Bees 8-7 and 3-1.

Bill Nicholson hit a homer in the 13th inning to give the Chicago Cubs a 6-5 decision over the New York Giants, but Bill Lohman of the Giants came back with seven-hit shutout pitching to take the afterpiece 2-0.

Pampa Tennis Players Beat Borgans 8-1

Pampa tennis players got sweet revenge on the Borgans team here yesterday when they won eight out of nine matches. The Pampans lost in Borgers two weeks ago.

Only Hugh Stennis, high school star, lost yesterday when he tangled with Jimmy Hill. He later combined with Duward Mitchell for a doubles win.

City Champion Leo Recknagel had to go three matches to beat H. Rudolph, Borgers' seeded number one player. Two singles games also went the three-match distance but all doubles were won in straight matches.

The Pampa team is open for invitations to any tournament in this section. Most of the players plan to enter the TAAF tournament to be held here in August and from which winners will be entitled to attend the state TAAF meet in Tyler.

Results of yesterday's matches:
Singles matches:
Russ Weston defeated Jack Mann, 6-2, 7-5.
Cletus Mitchell beat Paul Richardson, 7-9, 6-2, 6-2.
Kimble Neel won from Dr. Stephens, 6-4, 6-3.
Leo Recknagel defeated H. Rudolph, 6-2, 7-9, 6-3.
Duward Mitchell won from Pete Brown, 6-3, 6-2.
Hugh Stennis lost to Jimmy Hill, 5-7, 0-6.
Duward Mitchell beat Hal Woodward, 6-1, 2-6, 6-1.

5,000 Seats Available For 'Dream Game' Fans

Five thousand seats will be available for fans attending the West Texas-New Mexico league "dream game" in Amarillo Saturday night at 8:30 o'clock. Only reserved seats will be boxes not resold to holders for the season. Box seats may be reserved by telephoning 7941. Amarillo, unlike in general admission, price will be made for the All-Star game.

Clem Hausman, Borgers' great curve ball artist, will replace Jake Christie of Clovis on the North Docton second. Christie has been suspended and will not be available. Hausman has a record of eight wins against six losses, while Christie has won nine and lost the same number.

Addition of Hausman to the North Docton staff will give Manager Bubber Jonnard Dilbeck and Hall-bour of Pampa, Crider of Amarillo and Hausman of Borgers ready for mound duty. It is believed here that only one Pampa pitcher will see duty in the game. The Oilers will play a doubleheader with Odessa here the following day and it is doubtful if Manager Grover Seitz will agree to let both of his ace mounders take a turn on the hill even for three innings.

Crider, Hausman and one of the Oilers pitchers should be able to handle the South with Potocari and Ratliff, catchers, Prather on first, Docton on second, Adkins on short, Altner on third, Neel in left, Seitz in center, Stone in right and Malvica, utility, behind them.

Poet To Fight Mule Skinner Before 40,000

By BILL WHITE
NEW YORK, July 15 (AP)—A negro poet fights a former army mule skinner.

The prize ring's prize offering for the month—and there's no title in sight for either of the fighters!

Seldom has fistiana pitted two such extremes as Henry Armstrong, the cultured colored man who is the welterweight king, and Lew Jenkins, the Texas thin man who rules the lightweight division.

But for all their apparent differences, they have one thing in common—the pound for pound ability to fight better than anybody else their size, and so it is pronounced that their 12-round Wednesday night meeting will lure some 40,000 fans to the Polo Grounds.

Armstrong, who once held the featherweight, lightweight and welterweight titles at one time, has an autobiography almost ready for the publishers, but the most interesting chapter may have to be written after the fight—if Henry can still write by then.

Because of his greater experience and durability, he'll be favored to win, even though he hasn't set any one aflame with his training camp swinging.

It may take all the cleverness he has stored up in the years of ring warfare to keep away from the thunderous punches of the Sweetwater socker, for Jenkins jolts just like one of his army mules and is a fairly competent boxer. But the experts think he'll have to land one of his high, hard ones fast, or the bobbing, weaving Armstrong will cut him down to size with a vicious body attack.

Noted Coaches To Demonstrate Plays With Grid Stars

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS, July 15 (AP)—The eighth annual coaching clinic of the Texas High School-Football Coaches association, opened for Austin a month from today, will be the greatest demonstration school ever attempted by the organization, says J. T. Nelson of Athens, association president.

"We are going to show the coaches every phase of the game with star football players brought from colleges over the state," declared Nelson, who was in Dallas over the week-end.

"For instance, R. T. (Dutchy) Smith, line coach of Texas Tech, will have these boys on hand to demonstrate how the various positions should be played:

"Primo McCurry, next season's captain, on guard play; Rex Williams, now with the New York Giants in pro football, on center play; Robert Duncan, junior end, on end play, and Bill Davis, 1939 line captain, now with the Chicago Cardinals, on tackle play.

"Then there's Dell Morgan, line coach at Rice, who will illustrate the proper line defensive tactics by use of players, and so on until all positions are covered."

Nelson forecast an attendance of more than 450 for the school which will be held from Aug. 5 to 10, ending with the annual all-star game between players who last season finished their eligibility in high school football.

Homer Norton, coach of Texas A. and M., the nation's No. 1 team last fall, and Leo Meyer, coach of Texas Christian university which held the same distinction in 1938, are head instructors.

Dutch Prather Boosts His Batting Average Up To .369

Lloyd Summers, Dutch Prather and Phil Potter hiked their batting averages during their home stay last week while most of the other members of the Pampa Oilers held steady or dropped a few points. Prather showed the largest gain in batting power when he hiked his average from .342 to .369. Summers continued to lead the pack with an average of .380 through Friday night's game.

Rex Dilbeck and Gus Hallbour continued to lead not only the Oilers but the league pitching department with 15 wins against four losses each.

Sam Malvica has been at bat the most times, 383. Seitz has scored the most runs, 108, while Malvica has made the most hits, 128. In the extra base department, Prather leads in doubles with 22 and in home runs with 13, while Summers leads in triples with seven. Prather has batted in 88 runs to lead the team.

SERIAL STORY FLYING CO-ED

BY MARY KINNAVEY MOORE

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

CHAPTER I

ANNE NORRIS pulled her leather flying helmet down over her long bobbed, golden-red hair. Above the roar of the "revving up" motor and the whirling prop, she raised her voice to call to a dark-eyed girl standing near the hangar door.

"Tony said he'd drive out to watch me take my first flying lesson. Keep an eye out for him, won't you?"

The dark-eyed girl, Georgette Parker, frowned and walked over to join Anne. "I thought you weren't going to see Tony again? After all, your uncle insisted you weren't to have anything more to do with him."

"I'm old enough to know my own mind," Anne told her crisply. "Uncle Arnold's my guardian, but I don't have to do everything he says."

"I can't understand what you see in Tony," Georgette went on, a little anxiously. "His father's practically a gangster."

A dangerous light flickered in Anne's green eyes. "I've heard all that so many times I know it by heart." She mimicked Georgette's concerned tones. "Tony's father this. Tony's father that. Well, what of it? Tony is exciting, and he's been as nice to me as any man I know."

"Men like Tony are not nice to anyone unless they have a good reason to be," Georgette said stubbornly.

"Anyway," Anne replied coldly, "he isn't one of the men who wants to marry me because I'm the Norris heiress." She set her lovely mouth in a firm determined line.

"Perhaps not because you're an heiress, but because you're a Norris," Georgette reminded her. "But at least, put him out of your mind while you're going to fly." "Anne made a face at her. "I don't know why on earth I let you talk me into this. Why should I take up my time on a student flying course—when I don't care two whoops about it?"

"Oh Anne," Georgette was obviously exasperated. "To hear you talk, you'd think there wasn't anything thrilling about learning to fly."

"Is there?" "Of course," Georgette said enthusiastically. "Just the adventure of it is something—and the sense of power and of achievement—!" She broke off at the expression of mischievous amusement on Anne's face. "You know I wanted you to go into it because I did, and I didn't want to do it alone."

"That's nonsense," Anne told her with a short laugh. "You talked me into taking a student flying course because you thought it would take my mind off Tony Scott. You can't fool me!" She laughed again and linked her arm affectionately through the other girl's.

The two girls made a striking pair as they stood in the sun, dressed almost alike in smartly colorful sport clothes. Georgette's cool, brunet beauty a charming contrast to Anne's more radiant appearance. Two men coming out of the door of the administration building were immediately conscious of this, although deep in conversation.

"Of our 50 Civil Aeronautics Authority flying students here, five of them, or 10 per cent, are girls," the tall, broad-shouldered blond man was saying. "They'll be given the same courses of training as the men, and the same physical and mental requirements are necessary for enrollment."

"And if those girls are samples,

Watching Tony's roadster, Anne walked across the field, forgetting flying, her uncle's ultimatum, and the whirling propeller. The first warning of her danger came with Georgette's scream: "Anne!!! The prop!!!"

we should have a gorgeous flying reserve." The other man nodded toward Anne and Georgette. "But it seems you have all the luck, Dick. The red-haired girl is THE Anne Norris. With thousands of student pilots in the country, you would draw the number, one glamor girl."

Capt. Dick Douglas scowled. "You can call it luck if you want to, Bob. I don't." "Bob Davis grinned. "Beautiful debutante learns to fly," he said, as if quoting newspaper headlines. "What's more, beautiful debutante is the niece of Arnold Dwight, head of Dwight Aircraft. And you say it isn't luck."

"Arnold Dwight is a swell guy," Dick said tersely. "I'd give my left arm to work for him. But as far as I'm concerned, that niece is just another spoiled darling looking for a new thrill—or more likely, for a new way to make the headlines."

His eyes were like blue ice. "Talk about movie stars craving publicity. They aren't in it with these society deb. Well, I'll show her there's more to flying than having your picture taken in a helmet."

"Her black-haired girl friend isn't so bad."

Georgette Parker? Dick's blue eyes softened. "She's entirely different. I used to room with her brother at Randolph Field. He's one of the best friends I have. And his sister's cut from the same cloth."

For a few minutes, the two men stood discussing details of the CAA program of flight training and its part in the life of Midland University.

"The University authorities here are giving us every help possible," Dick said. "Professors in many departments are giving hours and hours outside of regular class work to student instruction. It's all pretty encouraging."

"These preliminary familiarization flights should help you to dispel a lot of bad flying lore," Davis suggested.

"Yes, it does," Douglas agreed. "A good many of these students have flown on passenger air lines and developed their own theories of flight..."

ANNE NORRIS and Georgette Parker were still in earnest conversation. Level-headed, seriresting and, possibly, conferring with leaders of the Republican party. Wilkie flew back here after a brief talk at a fish fry in Almont.
