Ochiltree County Goes Strong For Martin Dies In Election

Ochiltree county went solidly for Martin Dies in the special U. S. Senator election Tuesday, lining up with Roberts county as the only Panhandle counties to give Dies a margin.

In Ochiltree county, Dies received 331 votes, compared with 168 for Republican Thad Hutcheson and 161 for Loyalist Democrat Ralph Yarborough, the state winner in the race.

Muddy roads, a rarity in this area until the past month, kept a lot of voters away from the polls and moved the voting place in one precinct. The polls were moved from the Black schoolhouse to the W. R. Greever home, on pavement. At that, only five votes were cast at Black.

As of Wednesday, all returns were in except McMillen.

The other Senatorial candidates drew scattered support in Ochiltree county, with John White receiving 11 votes and Searcy Bracewell 7.

Other candidates receiving votes were Banks, 1, Bergolofsky, 1, Burns 2, Hammonds, 1, Hart, 4.

A total of 687 votes were cast in the precincts reporting, which is considered a good turnout in view of the weather conditions. There are an estimated 2,000 eligible voters in Ochiltree county.

Golf Officers Are Elected

Sidney Jines was elected president of the Perryton Country Club at the annual banquet Monday night, succeeding Herman Hargrove, who had served the unexpired term of Clinton Hearn.

Harold Malone was elected secretary of the organization.

Joe Schollenbarger and Bob Drake were elected to serve on the board of directors, along with Buster Brown, Frank Gipson and Herman Hargrove, holdover directors.

Approximately 46 members attended the banquet and viewed three films, two instructional pictures and one film made of the local tournament.

Car Registrations Show Big Increase

Automobile registration fees in Ochiltree county registered a tremendous increase during the current year, rising nearly 25 per cent from the previous record set in 1956. Total registration receipts this year were $84,611.98 as of March 31, compared with $68,548.73 a year ago. No tabulation has been made as to the number of passenger cars, commercial vehicles, farm trucks and other types of vehicles, but it is certain that an increase is shown in all categories.

Dog Vaccination, License Drive Opens April 11

The annual dog vaccination and licensing drive will be held on April 11-12, city secretary Frank Shaffer has announced, and the services of Dr. Martin Duke, veterinarian, have been secured.

Cost for the vaccination against rabies will be $1.50 and the cost of the dog license is $1.00, good for one year.

Each dog tag will be stamped at the date of issue.

Dog owners are requested to take their dogs to the rear of the fire station where arrangements have been made for the vaccination and registration.

Following the two-day registration period, an intensive campaign will be launched to round up all stray dogs, Shaffer said.

Best March Moisture Boosts Crop Prospects In Ochiltree County

Snow Boosts Yearly Total Past 7 Inches

Crop prospects in the Perryton area look the brightest in years following a record breaking moisture month of March, and farmers are wearing smiles of anticipation as the grain sorghum planting season approaches with moisture in the ground.

Judge Jack Allen, who with his father, the late S. N. Allen, has kept the official Ochiltree county rain records since 1906, says this is by far the wettest March in the record books.

The moisture has been general, not only over the Plains, but throughout the Southwest where drought has gripped the land for seven long years.

March, 1957, went into the records with a total of 6.08 inches of moisture in Perryton. During the 31 days in March, there was moisture, in the form of rain, snow or sleet, on 13 of these days, or nearly half.

January was a normal moisture month, with .53 inch recorded, and a total of .42 inch fell in February.

Total for the year, including the .25 inch of rain which fell on April 2, is 7.28 inches which is considerably above normal.

Wheat which was "dusted in" last August and September, and which managed to hang on during the dry fall, has come to life and is growing rapidly now. Although much of Ochiltree county's wheat acreage went into the Soil Bank last fall, there appears to be a good chance for a wheat harvest this year on all of the seeded acreage.

The moisture during the record breaking March is as follows:

March 2	.68
March 4	.21
March 5	.32
(3½ inch snow)
March 6	.24
(2½ inch snow)
March 13	T
March 16	T
March 19	.15
March 20	1.03
March 22	.34
March 23	1.25
March 24	.60
March 25	.11
March 30	1.15
Total	6.08

Annual Cancer Crusade Slated In Ochiltree County April 9

The annual Cancer Crusade for Ochiltree county will get under way on Tuesday, April 9, and officers of the county organization have planned a one-day drive for the fund-raising event.

Mrs. Nellie Bryan, county chairman, said that all efforts will be directed toward completing the drive on the one day, Tuesday, April 9, and that all workers in this drive are asked to complete their calls on that day in order that it may be completed.

Ochiltree county has a quota of $1,725 for 1957, Mrs. Bryan said. This quota is based on several factors, principally the population and effective buying power of the county.

Street captains have been named and the Perryton Business and Professional Women's Club has taken over the Cancer Crusade for this year under the direction of Mrs. Marie Wade, president.

Arrangements have been made for a program at KEYE, with workers stationed there to go to homes of those desiring to call the station and ask that their contribution be picked up.

A canvass of both business houses and residences is planned during the campaign, Mrs. Wade said.

Cities Pad Hunt Cases

AUSTIN—Big city folks' memories suffered by comparison with Texans from the state at large on the basis of the latest Game and Fish Commission monthly arrest report showing that many prosecutions came when Texans forgot to remember that the hunting seasons had closed.

Major items involved taking waterfowl, deer, quail and other species during closed seasons. And almost one half of the total cases filed were from the big cities of Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio and Austin.

Filings totaled two hundred eighteen for the period and one hundred five of these came from the five cities listed. Their combined population aggregates slightly more than one fourth of the state's entire population.

The Director of Law Enforcement for the Game and Fish Commission said the statistics had no particular significance. "The monthly reports just happened to include proportionately more from the larger areas," he said. "I have seen the time when the smaller places dominated the report."

He went on to say that operational techniques could have thrown the totals out of balance, such as a concentration of wardens in certain areas.

Another major cause for prosecutions was night hunting under which was listed thirty-two cases.

A small town man—from Columbus—shared the ignominy of paying the highest fine of $200 plus costs for the month. He was caught with illegal deer meat. The co-holder of this questionable distinction was a San Antonio man who was arrested at Fredericksburg with an untagged deer.

Miscount

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—It may be the end of a slogan, but Minnesota, the land of 10,000 lakes, may have as many as 16,000.

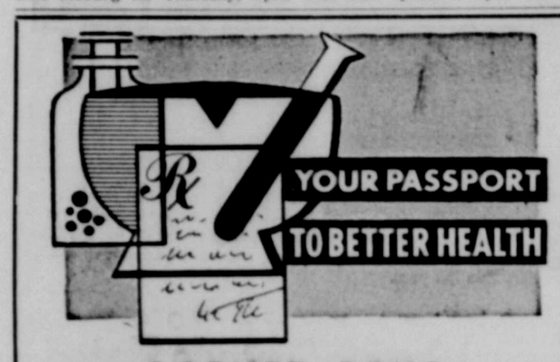

The state division of waters has a new aerial survey underway to count the lakes and it is using a slightly different system.

Now all bodies of water 10 acres or more are being counted as lakes, whereas prior surveys counted only those of 25 acres or more.

Cadillac

Old Friends in a New Light!

Let's assume you've known them for some time.

And now—in the moment of a glance—you first behold them in the company of a Cadillac car.

There's just no question about it . . . something wonderful happens!

For the presence of a Cadillac car underscores—and most dramatically so—many of the things that enable you to think well of them.

It goes almost without saying that their Cadillac lends form and substance to whatever measure of achievement life may have brought them.

Certainly, it reveals their interest in the safety and well-being of their fellow passengers.

And, most assuredly, it evidences the wisdom with which they select their personal possessions.

Incidentally, you may have noticed, of late, that the Cadillac car has cast its revealing light on an ever-growing number of your own friends.

There is every reason why this should be so.

Its original cost is remarkably modest—and several models are, in fact, priced competitively with those of lesser makes.

Its operating economy is extraordinary—with a record of dependability and longevity that is without equal in the industry.

And its resale value stands at the very summit in used-car markets all across the land.

Certainly, this triumvirate of Cadillac economies deserves your personal investigation—and your dealer will be delighted to tell you the whole wonderful story at any time.

Stop in soon—for a ride and a revelation!

Matter of Opinion

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The city of Milwaukee has lowered the boom on a "float" exhibited by students at a local engineering school.

The "float" is a huge construction crane, with a 120 foot high boom, set up between the two lanes of busy Kilbourn Avenue near downtown Milwaukee.

At first, nobody at City Hall knew what the crane was doing there or who authorized it. Then a public works official discovered a common council resolution passed last October, in which the school was authorized to erect a float at the site during National Engineering Week.

"A float, I would say is something about 10 feet high," the official said. "In the future, we'll ask the school what kind of float it expects to build."

Ochiltree Soil CONSERVATION District News

The old saying "you can't have your cake and eat it, too," applies to most things which we do. Harvesting perennial grasses is one of the rare exceptions to the rule. Some of our ranchers fail to recognize the possibilities in modifying this rule to their benefit. Many of them seem to believe that they must either keep their cake (grass in this case) to beautify the countryside, or they must let their stock harvest it and since they are not interetsed primarily in landscape art, they choose instead to harvest the grass.

Fortunately, such a difficult choice is not necessary. Let's modify the rule and say, "keep part of it and eat part of it," which brings us to the choice that is necessary. How much of each shall it be? Most researchers and ranchers who have really studied the problem say, "eat about half of it and keep about half." There are some very good reasons for the figures coming out that way. The answer lies in the way grasses grow. Nature installed in the green leaves of grass an ingenious little device that takes carbon dioxide gas out of the air and, with sunlight supplying the energy, builds more grass leaves and stems. Water and other materials coming into the plant through the roots are also used in these new tissues. Part of the food thus manufactured in the leaves is sent down into the roots where it is stored for future use. The first leaves of spring are made from this food that was stored up last year. As soon as the new shoots come out they begin to manufacture their own food and to build other shoots and leaves. The first thing you know grass is growing all over the place.

What happens when a cow nips off a leaf? That part of the factory shuts down until repairs are made and the leaf is growing again. What happens when all the leaves are nipped off? Why, the whole plant shuts down for repairs. Then some of the reserve food from the roots must be used to help get it into production again. When all the foliage is removed and kept off all year by livestock, the plant is not able to replace the eaten portion and drains the food reserve trying to stay alive. The following year the grass is slow getting started because the storehouse in the roots is empty. If this treatment is kept up indefinitely, the grass plant has no choice but to close up shop for good. Now in this case you have eaten yourself out of house and home.

Let's say, though, that you keep an eye on things and let your stock remove only half of the grass. Operating at half capacity the plant works vigorously to replace the eaten portion. Little or no reserve food is needed. The plant stays healthy and growing, and it actually expands. The half that you can harvest grows larger and larger. The root system goes deeper to better water and mineral supplies. Grass comes out early and more rainfall gets into the ground. Next thing you know you are in business.

Of course, good and proper use of grazing land is not that simple. A great deal of thought and planning must go into a sound management program. Weather and other factors come into the picture. But the principle is constant. You can't have your cake and eat all of it, but you can dine royally and still keep plenty, for a drouthy day. The beauty of it is, in the long run you will come out with more than you started with. We here at the Soil Conservation office can help you with a range improvement program by making a range survey and determined the kinds adn amounts of grass that you actually have on the ground.

PRETTY PERPLEXING PROBLEM—Rosemarie Bebe of Port Isabel finds a wicked-looking machete no help as she considers the problem of how to get the spring bloom from a Yucca plant without getting stuck by the shart needles. The plant, sometimes called the "spanish needle" plant, abounds in Mexico and also grows in some sections of the United States near the Mexican border. (AP Wirephoto)

Miss Hurnard is to embark via plane from England this week, making Perryton her first speaking engagement in America. Rev. Holdeman, is personally acquainted with Miss Hurnard and recommends her highly as a "World Christian," bringing a message of interest to all.

No Extra Work

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—The Wyoming Legislature has kept intact its boast of having the shortest sessions of any state.

The Senate killed a proposed constitutional amendment to lengthen the biennial session from 40 to 55 days and the House beat another proposed amendment calling for annual sessions of the Legislature.

ROADMASTER 75

Custom Built by Buick

NOW ON DISPLAY

A NEW CONCEPT in motorcar excellence awaits your inspection in the ROADMASTER 75 just introduced.

You will see what we mean the first time you glimpse the interior.

The impeccable tailoring and taste of the rich appointments are as obvious as the comfort is opulent.

The seats, for example.

They are meticulously fashioned in glove-finished fabrics of broadcloth or Nylon, with backs topped in supple, hand-buffed leather. They are thickly layered with contoured foam rubber. They are wide, deep, superbly soft.

The doors present a new standard of luxury and restfulness—fully upholstered and softly cushioned from floor line to window.

The instrument panel, below the safety cushion, is chromed from end to end. The deep-pile carpeting is backed by foam. The integral armrests are fully in keeping with the spacious grace of the car.

The complete interior is matched by the mechanical excellence that is ROADMASTER tradition.

Indeed, nowhere else among the world's fine cars can you enjoy superb performance quite like that of a ROADMASTER 75—from the instant response of its brilliant new Dynaflow, to the smooth obedience of its all-new air-cooled aluminum front brakes — newest and the finest in the fine-car field.

Possible Tax Cut?

Much of the talk on Capitol Hill is centering around the possibility of a tax cut. This talk has been generated to a great extent by the grass root remands for a cut in the budget. Many of the letters being received by Members of Congress concerning reduction of the budget—and the mails are full of them—also point out the urgent need for a tax reduction. This brings about discussion of two different philosophies of tax reduction. One group wants the budget cut before taxes are reduced and argues that this is the only responsible way to do it. This sounds good, but it seems every Administration wants to increase the budget, which means that the possibility of tax reduction slips further away. I have no objection to permitting a tax reduction that depends upon a cut in the budget, provided we have some assurance that the budget would be cut to the extent that a tax reduction could be possible. However, I think experience will show that the effective way to cut down on governmental expenditures is to cut down on the income and require that expenditures not exceed the income. This procedure might appear too drastic to many; however, effectiveness sometimes requires extra drastic measures.

The big fuss about tax reduction will center around the time element. The Administration has already begun to advertise the possibility for a tax reduction next year. Next year is , of course, another election year. Those who are not sympathetic to or friendly with the fiscal operations of the Administration take the position that a tax cut should be forthcoming this year. I might point out that I have again introduced a bill which I have introduced every year I have been in Congress. This bill would increase the allowance for dependents from six-hundred dollars to one-thousand dollars for the taxpayer and six-hundred for the spouse. It would increase the dependents allowance for children from six-hundred dollars to seven-hundred and fifty dollars. Several have asked me why I did not provide an allowance of one-thousand dollars for children. Let me say that I would have no objection to an amendment to my bill allowing one-thousand dollars for children. The reason I placed the exemption at seven-hundred and fifty dollars was because of the number of children I have. One Member suggested that I had better not go too high on children's exemptions or someone might think it was a private bill for the primary benefit of the Rogers family. I assure you such was not the case, but if anyone needs evidence that six-hundred dollars is insufficient and unrealistic as an exemption with which to raise a child, let them come by the house sometime and I will be glad to entertain them for two or three days. I have one boy who tore the claws off a hammer. Don't ask me how he did it, I don't know, nor does he, according to his report.

Many tax experts say that my bill is not the proper approach, because it would permit many people who have sizeable families to be wholly exempt from taxation. They argue that everyone should be required to pay taxes so they will understand the obligations incident to the democratic form of government. My answer to these experts is that if anyone in this country who buys a loaf of bread, a pair of sox or anything else in the way of necessities, has the idea they are not paying several kinds of taxes, they should not be molested in their dreamland.

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Nine-year-old Robin Richter suffered a broken ankle the afternoon before she was to wear her Brownie Scout uniform and pin the first time. She was in tears.

Her parents put her in the car and took her to the meeting. Two chairs were put together to form a couch and she read the troop history, and took the pledge. Then all troop members autographed the cast on her ankle.

Owners Fight Unending War Against Pests

COLLEGE STATION — Seldom can one observe a home and its surroundings without finding some form of insect life. That's the text of a new leaflet compiled by extension entomologists offering today's best control measures for household pests.

Certain pests may be found outside and controlled before they enter the home, say the specialists. Some pests live entirely within the home, however, and must be controlled by applying insecticidal sprays or dusts inside the dwelling.

Entomologists say insect activity changes from season to season. While some feed on fabrics, contaminate food, or attack dwellings, others bite humans, carry diseases, or cause infections. Sanitation and good housekeeping are usually effective in controlling or preventing most of these nuisances. But even the best kept homes sometimes become infested, point out the entomologists, and require more direct action. Many types of sprayers and dusters designed for use in controlling household pests are now on the market.

This new bulletin classfies all major pests except the termite into specific categories relating to type of damage. Illustrations, descriptions and summaries of common habits supplement clear, concise control measures listed for each insect.

Some cautions listed by the specialists concerning application of oil solutions include: never spray near pilot lights or other open flames; don't apply directly to the skin of humans or pets and always allow sprayed surfaces to dry before touching them to prevent smears. Read the manufacturers' labels on all insecticides and follow directions to the letter. Store out of children's reach and label home mixtures.

The "Texas Guide for Controlling Household Insects" is availables from your county extension agent or the Agricultural Information Office at College Station. Ask for Bulletin L-311.

Dallas was stricken by a tornado Tuesday afternoon and several hundred homes were damaged and persons injured.

The Ochiltree Red Cross drive is lagging, with about $2500 contributed toward the 1957 quota of $3,600.00. Several workers and team captains in the local drive have not reported their collections.

The telegram received Wednesday stated: "Hundreds of families stricken by yesterday's tornadoes that swept Dallas and neighboring areas need immediate Red Cross help to restore their lives. You are asked to call an emergency meeting of your campaign leaders to launch an appeal to oversubscribe your present campaign goal. Every citizen should be invited to contribute to the funds which are urgently needed to enable Red Cross to assist your neighbors in distress."

Dallas Builder Finally Has Something for the Very Rich

DALLAS (AP)—Rich people looking for a place to live have found friends in the Dicker and Frank firm. The company's president says the rich have been neglected for 30 years.

They're building a 23-floor apartment house which they say "will beat anything in New York or the West Coast."

Rents in the apartment house range from $350 a month for a one bedroom layout on the lower floors to $1,500 a month for the two penthouses—both penthouses rented although only the bottom 12 floors have been built so far.

But no matter how simple the apartment, no matter how long the rent, all residents of 3525 Turtle Creek can use the swimming pool located near the putting greens, the greenhouse for those who like to putter, or the night clubs and restaurant to be located on the first floor.

Residents will be allotted two parking places per apartment in the garage adjacent to the main building, and Edward T. Dicker, president of the firm says cars will be kept clean at all times. The attendants will park the cars for tenants and guests.

The 34-year-old Dicker said he looked at apartment houses all over the nation before deciding on the plans for what he calls "a dream of mine for 20 years."

"The rich man has been neglected in the past 30 years. I made a survey of the nation and found that the only first rate things being built for the rich were hotels. The rich want to get out of the big mansions after their children have married but they can't. There's no place for them to move. They can't get the help they need to take care of those big places," Dicker said.

Dicker said he has taken care of all the housing needs of older persons in planning the apartment. No apartment is more than 30 feet from the elevator to eliminate long walks; each apartment has a shower stall, because Dicker says older folks don't like stepping over a bath tub rim; each apartment has two ovens so the cook can roast a turkey and bake a pie at the same time; and each apartment has three exposures.

"These are the things that make this apartment house more expensive than others. Also the size of the apartments are important as far as cost is concerned," he explained.

The penthouses have 5,000 square feet of space. The one bedroom apartment has 1,253 square feet of space—more space than many low-cost three-bedroom homes, Dicker said.

The second floor will contain a recreation room with showers and a television set for servants. The maids will have a powder room on each floor for their own use.

The three-bedroom apartments, which rent for up to $700, have 2,627 square feet of space, and Dicker says that some persons have leased two of these apartments and are having their own architects draw plans for combining the two apartments into one huge place.

"We have people from Fort Worth, Tex., California and New York moving here. We are getting architects from Austin, Texas, Cleveland, Ohio, and other cities who are going to design apartment interiors for certain people," Dicker said.

The structure will be completed in September or October.

The house is being built across the street from Turtle creek in one of the old distinguished sections of Dallas. Dicker said several mansions were torn down to make space for the apartment house.

"No," Dicker said, "I'm not moving into my house. I'm staying on the farm with my three sons."

Safety Sticker Deadline Near

An estimated 50-75 per cent of the motorists in the Perryton area have complied with the law in securing their safety inspection sticker, but the deadline is rapidly approaching, reminds state highway patrolman Bob Loving.

Strict enforcement of the law requiring the safety inspection sticker on each automobile will be made following the April 15 deadline, Loving said.

New residents from Oklahoma are reminded that they must have the safety stickers by April 15, Loving said.

There are six official inspection stations in Perryton.

Boys Arrested In Nebraska

Freddy Engberg, 18, and his brother, Roy, 20, were arrested in Sidney, Nebraska last week and have been charged with forging checks on N. P. Dear of Perryton.

Sheriff Ray Phagan said the two boys were arrested as they attempted to dig their car out of a snowbank. They are being held on forgery charges in four states.

Both Engberg boys worked for Dear last year at his Colorado farm and ranch.

VICTIM OF TEXAS BLIZZARD—The body of Chester Simpson, 16, was found slumped across this fence of the Old Circle Ranch 16 miles northwest of Amarillo five days after he disappeared during a blinding snowstorm that swept the Texas Panhandle area. The youth was a resident of nearby Boy's Ranch, a home for neglected boys. He apparently died after becoming exhausted by the cold, the high winds, and heavy snow. (AP) Wirephoto)

The little city of Jerez de la Frontera, Spain is a free loader's paradise on fiesta days. On such occasions casks of free sherry are on street corners for the public to help themselves.

A Change Needed

FARMER CITY, Ill. (AP)—Horse and buggy traffic laws still prevail in this country town and patrolman O. W. Reinke wants 'em changed.

The 1915 traffic ordinance set fines at not less than $3 and not more than $50 with collections going to the county treasury. He asks the city council to fix it so traffic fines would be from $1 to $100 and held in the city treasury.

The old law set the speed limit when rounding a corner at six miles an hour, and vehicles moving slowly must keep close to the curb to allow free passage for faster moving vehicles.

CARD OF THANKS

We, the employees of the Texas Highway Department in Ochiltree County, wish to express our deep appreciation to those who so diligently assisted in removing snow and helping those who were stranded in snow drifts during our recent blizzard. It was just additional proof to us that in time of need we can depend on each other for aid. We hope to maintain the highways in such a manner that you will feel your help was worthwhile.

Cattle Losses Are Lighter

Cattle losses in the Perryton area are lighter than at first believed following the March 22-23 blizzard, county agent Delbert Timmons has reported.

An estimated 500-1000 cattle perished during and after the two-day storm, Timmons said. An accurate count will be long in coming, he added.

Among those who lost several head were Horace Glasgow, 18, Gene Replogle, Keith McLain, Lawrence Ellzey, David Stollings, and Don Archer, Timmons said. Lester Schwalk, lost 10 ewes and 10 lambs.

Due to the drought condition of the range land, only about one-half the normal cattle population was in the area at the time of the storm. There was no wheat pasture last fall and practically no cattle were shipped in. The losses would have been much heavier had there been anything like normal pasture conditions, Timmons said.

Bob McCutcheon Wins County Spelling Bee

Bob McCutcheon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean McCutcheon, won the County Spelling Bee at the school auditorium Thursday afternoon, taking top honors a day after he had won the Junior Bee title.

He is in grade 5-B and Mrs. Norman Crum is his teacher.

Bob will represent Ochiltree county in Amarillo in the regional Spelling Bee in Amarillo.

The other winners in the Junior Bee were Cheryl Puls, second, Cecelia Leicht, third, and Karen Montgomery, fourth.

There were 144 entries in the Spelling Bee events this year in the Perryton schools. Contests were held in the first eight grades of school, with room winners, then grade winners, being determined.

'The King and Four Queens' Western With Sex Appeal

A western with sex appeal gallops into the Ellis Theatre April 9-10-11. It is a delightful piece of screen entertainment called "The King and Four Queens." "The King," aptly enough is none other than Clark Gable. And his four "Queens" are: the lovely Eleanor Parker; sloe eyed, blonde Barbara Nichols; gentle, sweet Sara Shane; and Jean Willes, an exotic, dark-haired beauty. Ruling the roost over these four Queens, is the hard-bitten whip-handed Ma McDade, played by Jo Van Fleet, who will be best remembered for her Academy Award winning performance in "East of Eden."

Margaret Fitts' story tells how three out of four of a gang of desperadoes are killed—and no one knows who the survivor is. The four widows await their man—and their fate when Clark Gable arrives with the facts.

He is beseiged and beguiled by the four young ladies and is not averse to their attention. He loves them all and responds to them all, but the one who wins him (or thinks she does) is the sweet-talking, hot-temepered Sabina (Eleanor Parker).

"Let's promise to name a street for every senator who votes for statehood for Hawaii.

ed—if the increase persists—may cause the walls of blood vessels to toughen, exactly as callouses are formed on hands by regular use of an axe or hoe.

In the most common type of high blood pressure, called "essential hypertension," the tiny branches of arteries which carry blood to all body tissues (called arterioles) begin to tighten up. Blood passageways become smaller and smaller, and the heart has to work harder to push the blood through. After a time the blood vessels lose their elasticity and the heart muscles thicken with the extra work load. Result: high blood pressure, and ultimately heart damage.

What causes the arterioles to tighten and contrict? No one knows.

High blood pressure sometimes goes up for a period of days or weeks—or even longer—and then drops back to normal. Sometimes it may jump from pure nervousness while your physician is examining you. Perhaps there is a connection between hypertension and the strain of modern life. People who work under constant stress, who worry too much, are often susceptible. Heredity is a probable factor, and the condition occurs most often in persons between 30 and 50.

Low blood pressure seldom causes trouble. Afflicting relatively few people to a serious extent, the condition is usually a symptom of a specific disease which can frequently be treated successfully.

The thing which will count most in adding years to the life of hypertension sufferers is the willingness to change their living habits, following the rules of moderation in everything. By getting under a doctor's care and following a few simple rules for moderate living, they can probably work and enjoy life as long or longer than their next-door neighbors without high blood pressure.

Eating Habits Change and So Do Markets

COLLEGE STATION—American families are continually changing their tastes and habits in eating, and these changes affect markets for various types of farm products. A. B. Wooten, extension economist, said this week that these changes reflect a number of influences such as a general rise in family incomes and new methods of marketing which make new foods and more foods generally available. A long term influence, Wooten said, is the movement of people from farms to urban communities and the gradual reduction in purely farm population.

A food survey by the USDA covering more than 6,000 families in all parts of the nation shows a distinct difference between farm and city eating habits. As the population shift continues, this movement is bound to affect future farm markets, explained Wooten.

For one thing, city families showed a general preference for processed goods. Farm families used larger amounts of fresh vegetables while processed vegetables —frozen, canned or dried—appeared in larger quantities on city tables. City families also consumed larger quantities of bakery products and smaller amounts of such commodities as flour and cereals.

In general farm families were using more grain products than city dwellers. This is undoubtedly one of the reasons for a long-term downward trend in consumption of grain. Farm families used over twice as much flour and cereals as city families in the North Central region and nearly three times as much in the South.

Wooten pointed out that these regional difference in eating habits also play a part in determining how much of various types of food a family will eat.

A Lot of Factors

Perryton has an opportunity to land some industrial plants in the not-so-distant future, these to be connected, of course, with the growing oil and gas industry in the area. The Chamber of Commerce industrial contact committee is making calls and preparing information requested by companies who may locate here.

Members of the committee are discovering that plans of oil companies are rather sensitive in the planning stage, depending to a large extent upon markets, which depend upon state and national political and economic factors and even foreign events shape the decisions in this area.

So any kind of a processing plant for oil and gas in the Perryton area depends first upon the availability of the raw materials; next on the market for the finished product; in between lie the areas of suitable sites, labor supply, transportation and tax structures.

Providing ths information and wooing the companies requires time and some money. That's why the industrial committee of the Chamber had the biggest boost in the annual budget this year. We can't think of a better place to put it right now.

A 70 Mile Speed Limit?

There is a movement in the Texas Legislature to change the state speed limit from 60 miles per hour, daytime, to what is called a more realistic 70 miles an hour.

Those in favor of the change point out that 70 is considered a standard speed nowadays—that is, almost everyone on good Texas highways drives 70 miles an hour—and that it is folly to expect a handful of highway patrolmen to attempt to keep everyone below 70.

The present 60 mile limit was established some 23 years ago when automobiles were considerably different and most of the roads were. The 60 mile limit has been exceeded just as regularly as highways and automobiles improved.

Where is a safe speed limit, if 60 is too slow? We will leave that to the safety engineers.

However, it does appear that Texas should have a speed law which its citizens will respect and which can be enforced. If this limit is 30 miles an hour, let's have it. If its is 70, let's have it.

The thing to keep in mind is that we need the safest, common sense speed limit on Texas highways that will safeguard the lives and property of those on these highways.

Hurn's

From the SIDELINE
with HAROLD HUDSON

It certainly goes from one extreme to another—first a seven year drought then a three week flood. So far, however, we haven't heard any serious complaints about the rain that has fallen in this area since the big snowstorm and blizzard. This has been the wettest March since 1915, unless it was in 1923, one of the wet years of all time. The official records are not available for March 1923.

Lakes that have been dry since 1951 have filled with water again, and this country is beginning to take on the greenish appearance that we used to think was normal at this time of year.

It rained so hard in town Saturday night that it was hard to believe. Bert Neelley said he had a barrel on its side in his back yard and that the rain poured into the bunghole faster than it could run out at both ends.

The March 28 issue of the Herald was probably the most sought-after issue we have printed. An extra press run was made but the Heralds were gone by noon Thursday. Since then, there have been literally hundreds of requests and we feel sure that another 1,000 copies could have been sold easily if we had them. The big attraction, of course, was the snow pictures following the big spring blizzard.

This department roamed several miles early that Monday morning making these pictures, and it got to be hard work, tramping through the snow. We had several callers who were disappointed that we didn't get pictures of their snowdrifts, but we couldn't help it. We know there were several drifts higher than the ones we made pictures of, including some montrous drifts on Indiana street, and several whoppers on the Uncle Sam highway east of town.

Most newspapers in the Panhandle printed pictures of the snowstorm, but of course Amarillo with wirephoto facilities and a larger staff, made all the downstate dailies and achieved nation-wide coverage with pictures of their snow, which actually wasn't as much as it was here and Booker and Spearman and Liberal. But there wasn't any chance for those of us in isolated communities to send out any pictures of our storm.

In checking several hundred newspapers this week, we found that the one picture used most often was not actually a bona-fide blizzard picture. It was a picture of a Miss Shirley Dickson of Amarillo, dressed in a bathing suit, kneeling in a snowdrift, caressing a flower which had bloomed too soon. This one made all the Associated Press newspapers, proving the old adage that a pretty knee is hard to overlook.

The Herald missed a number of incidents in attempting to cover the snowstorm, but it couldn't be helped. There were a group of about 18 people, stranded on the highway near the drive-in theatre who made their way inside, took refuge into the concession stand during the storm. Roads along Wolf Creek were not opened for days later. Nearly everyone has an experience to relate concerning the storm. We kinda feel sorry for those who were caught out of town and didn't get to experience this March blizzard, one that will go down in history.

Some families can trace their ancestry back 300 years but can't tell you where their children were last night.

There is a lot of talk about cutting the budget—federal budget, that is, and the mystery to us is that why isn't it cut? All of the candidates in the special Senate race were for cutting the budget. Walter Rogers, our Congressman, wants to cut it. Lyndon Johnson, our Senator, wants to cut it. Everyone seems to be agreed that it is too high. It is when you get down to specifics that the trouble starts. We are convinced that the way to cut the budget is to cut the income. Our budget works that way. No one, individual or government agency, is going to reduce spending as long as he or it has the money to spend. We are approaching this thing from the wrong angle. Let's cut taxes and let the government worry about where to get the money for its expenditures.

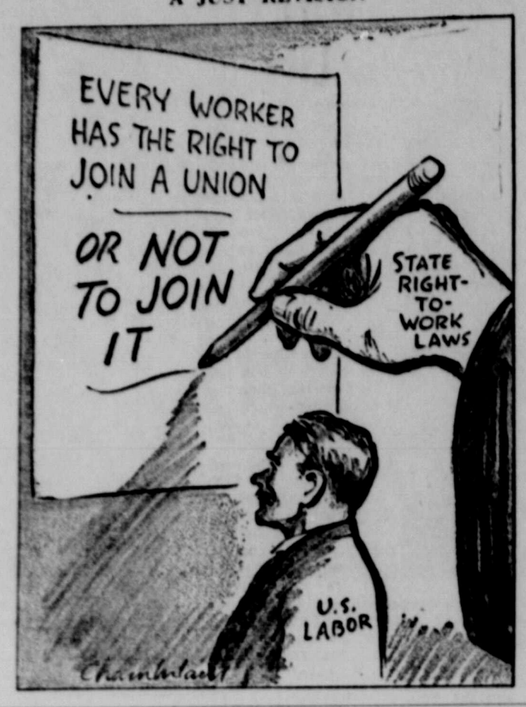

We in Perryton don't take our politics as seriously as do some of our neighbors in other areas. For example, the current issue of the County-Wide News at Littlefield has a number of pages and half page ads supporting candidates for mayor and city commissioner. We spoke to Bert Neelley about this and he agreed that it was a good idea but we couldn't advance any suggestions as to how the Herald could capture some of this civic minded enthusiasm.

The Science Fair Friday night was a dandy. We took sons Jimmy and Johnny along while we made a few pictures and they were quite impressed. In fact, they spent the next day in the bathroom, performing various "experiments," all of which required a large amount of water and a lot of bottles.

But the exhibits these high school youngsters had Friday night were truly remarkable. If they can produce things like that, perhaps all is not lost. The younger generation may be getting an education, after all. And probably a better one than the older generations have.

Heavily-salted water is an economical method of de-icing windshields.

Wolf Creek Philosopher

Financial Worry Causes Wrecks

(Ed. note: The Wolf Creek Philosopher probably is misinterpreting an article he read, his letter this week indicates.)

Dear editar:

I'll admit I don't have any advice to give on what to do about the traffic problem and the growing number of highway accidents, when a man looks up and sees a car coming toward him with the wavering accuracy of a guided missile, the only advice for him is he should have stayed at home, which is a little late in the day, but I was interested in what a group of experts had to say about the problem.

According to an article I read in a newspaper last night which I found on top of the stack of papers my wife was saving to spread around in the brooder house, the American Automobile Association has come out with a set of rules for safer driving, and one of them is: if you have financial worries, let somebody else drive the car.

I believe they have hit on the right answer. You eliminate as drivers everybody who has financial worries, and the traffic problem is solved and they can turn the highways back to grazing land, and city streets will be safe for bicycles and jay-walking.

If only the man who is free from financial worries, who has his farm paid for, his tractor paid for, his children's education paid for, or, if it's a town man, his home paid for, his business paid for, his family provided for, his car paid for, his job guaranteed for life, and plenty of money in the bank, is going to do the driving, the traffic problem is over. Won't be anything but a few Cadillacs cruising up and down the lonesome highway, and I have an idea some of them will be eliminated too, as you might be surprised to find out how many highpriced cars are bought on time the same as the lower-priced ones.

And also, I think this outfit ought to go one step further and advise any farmer who has financial worries not to drive a tractor, or swing a hoe, or do anything else that his financial worries might distract him from doing safely.

And if they'll include worry over the hydrogen bomb, they can eliminate the automobile altogether. This probably is the only real solution, anyway. There weren't any car accdients in George Washington's day.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

PANHANDLE Outdoor Life

S. V. Whitehorn

Did the game birds and animals in the Panhandle come thru the blizzard with flying colors or did many of them perish? At THE time this is being written it is difficult to answer the question. Probably the deer, turkey, and pheasant were not much affected but the quail plight is more difficult to guess. Last year during the one and one-half foot snow around Buffalo lake there were scores of quail buried in the snow, many of these birds froze to death. Due to the unique manner in which bob-white quail have in roosting their number might have been more reduced.

During a blizzard pheasants prefer to stay in the open with their heads to the wind. With the wind blowing at fifty miles or more per hour any feathered creature would soon become a ball of snow and ice if it had its back to the wind, and the storm reversed the natural pattern of feathers. Bob-white quail have an odd way of roosting. The birds form a very tight circle with their tails in the center and their heads pointing out ready for flight if the sleeping cover is disturbed.

There is a good possibility that there were a large number of quail lost but my guess is that the storm was far more beneficial than harmful to the game birds and animals in the fact that there was more moisture added to the already wet earth. With a few more warm days the Panhandle will be blanketed with tall waving wheat plus tall green grass and weeds. With conditions such, the turkey and quail will get busy at reproduction. As it has been the last few springs the terrain was drab instead of the natural green. Even thought there was some game lost to the blizzard the general game situation will be improved as a result of the storm.

Bill Bratton, one of Spearman's most authoritative pointer breeders lost his entire kennel full of dogs last summer from a dangerous dog disease, hepatitis. This disease affects the liver of dogs and is a deadly killer. Dogs can be vaccinated for this disease for five dollars each, provided the animals are over four months of age. Distemper and hepatitis is a must on the list of vaccinations.

Charles F. Hass, vice president of SCOT (Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas), recently stated that, "in the year 1955 Texas sportsmen spent over $165,000,000 on hunting and fishing, while contributing only $1,500,000 in license fees for seed. It, therefore, must appear bad business on our part to spend one hundred times the cost of the seed to reap the harvest."

Pending legislative measures, none considered in a favorable position, would increase both hunting and fishing fees as a means of financing proposed wildlife management projects.

Clark Mathers, Miami rancher, stated a few years back that from a small tank on the Mathers ranch there were enough catfish, up to three pounds, taken to feed a crew of men for several days. These fish were taken via the trotline method. One reason why the fish were so plentiful, in pan size, was the fact that the lake was in proper balance, and that the fish grew to large size. If there had been thousands of fish in the small lake probably none of the fish would have been large enough to eat. Native bull head catfish, while frowned upon by some, thrive in the waters of this area and are delicious for a meal. Most smaller tanks are very much overstocker with this specie. With a little management along with seining out most of the fish, the lakes in this area will produce three pound catfish in a short while.

REVIVAL SERVICES—Rev. and Mrs. A. B. Stanberry of Katy, Texas, will conduct an Easter revival at the Full Gospel church in Perryton April 7-21. Rev. Stanberry has had a radio ministry for 8 years as director of the "Haven of Rest," broadcast each Sunday morning from Monterrey, Mexico. He has spent practically all his life in religious work, traveling for years as a religious singer, and he has composed many sacred songs. The public is invited to the services.

Christian Science

Services 11 a. m. each Sunday
Public Cordially Invited

The supremacy and allness of God, Spirit, will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural selections to be read in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Unreality" include the following from Exodus (20:2,3): "I am the Lord thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage. Thou shalt have no other gods before me."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following passage will be read (200:4): "Moses advanced a nation to the worship of God in Spirit instead of matter, and illustrated the grand human capacities of being bestowed by immortal Mind."

The Golden Text is from Ecclesiastes (5:7): "In the multitude of dreams and many words there are also divers vanities: but fear thou God."

Mr. and Mrs. Art Sweetland, Amarillo, guests of her mother, Mrs. Stewart Wooten were snowbound in Perryton over the week end. They returned to Amarillo by way of Borger Tuesday afternoon.

OLDSMOBILE
GEARED TO SOUTHWESTERN LIVING

"That proves it to me... the J-2 Rocket is like two engines in one!"

GOLDEN ROCKET 88 HOLIDAY COUPE

HE: Right! This J-2 Rocket* is really a new driving experience!

FRIEND: Well, I've handled a Rocket Engine before, but nothing like this. They've always had pep, but this one's got that extra pep when you need it!

HE: Don't forget economy.

FRIEND: Yes, but you can't feel economy.

HE: Feels pretty good to the pocketbook.

FRIEND: Right! But it beats me how you get economy with a big car like Olds.

HE: Easy. For cruising around, you just use one dual-barrel carburetor.

FRIEND: Bet that waters down your performance some.

HE: Not a bit. I've got regular Rocket performance right through the economy range. And believe me, that's plenty. But if you need more power . . .

FRIEND: Then what?

HE: Go to Stage Two. You just saw what that does: Give it three-quarters throttle and you've got three dual carburetors dishing up more power and torque.

FRIEND: Tell you the truth, I've always liked an Olds. Thought we might get one ourselves some day.

HE: Checked the price lately? You'd be surprised how easy it is to own.

*277 h.p. Rocket T-400 Engine standard on all models. J-2 Rocket Engine, with 300 h.p., and special Rocket Engine, with up to 312 h.p., available at extra cost.

Wrong Term

LUMBERTON, N. C. (AP)—Superior Court Judge Raymond B. Mallard of Tabor City showed up here as scheduled to preside over a term of court—and ran into an order committing him to prison for two years for manufacturing whiskey illegally.

Mrs. Dixie Adams, assistant clerk of court, was typing a committment order for another man when the telephone rang. The caller asked who was conducting court. And Mrs. Adams typed in Judge Mallard's name as she replied.

She signed the order, too. But the judge beat the rap.

REV. CARROLL B. RAY
Pastor, First Baptist Church
Perryton, Texas

Rev. Carrol Ray, newly-called pastor of the First Baptist Church in Perryton, is introduced this week via news story elsewhere in this paper. The Herald is happy to have him bring the following message of the week as the latest in the series of meditations prepared by ministers of the area. Rev. Ray's commentary follows:

YOU CAN COUNT ON THIS

"This is a faithful saying and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief"—1 Timothy 1:15.

The above statement, found in one of Paul's letters to the young preacher, Timothy, is one of Paul's "faithful sayings", of which there are several in his letters. He is telling Timothy of a fact which he has proved and which is worthy of the attention of Timothy—and of everyone else.

This statement contains THE SUBSTANCE OF THE GOSPEL. "Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners". This is the gospel condensed. It was not to declare a new system of truth, nor to show man a new way to live, nor to give man a new example in unselfishness, but to SAVE SINNERS, that Jesus came into the world. The pre-existence of Jesus is here declared: "Jesus CAME". Bethlehem was not the beginning of Jesus. He was "in the beginning". It was at Bethlehem that He came into the world.

The universal condition of man was such as to demand a Savior. We differ in many respects: in culture, in wealth, in social rank, in family background. But in one respect we are all alike: All are sinners. Thus all need a Savior. Christ's coming into the world was in response to a universal need.

This statement also declares THE RELIABILITY OF THE GOSPEL. "This is a faithful saying." Not everything we hear is true; not all reports can be trusted. Much of the confusion of our world today can be traced to the circulation of untruths. Men and nations get lost and wind up in a blind alley because they have followed false directions. But here is a reliable word; it is a "faithful saying." When men, lost and undone in sin, are told that there is salvation in Christ, they can believe that. This gospel is reliable.

And it is worthy of "all acceptation". It is worthy of acceptation by the great and the small, the rich and the poor, the learned and the ignorant, the good and the bad. It is worth of ALL acceptation. It is worthy of YOUR acceptation.

Highlights and Sidelights From Your State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN, Tex.—After five weeks of headline making, three Legislative investigating committees still are busy.

House committee looking into ICT's failure was to run until April 1; Senate committee to April 10.

Recent additions to the committee's massive records:

1. Several former ICT directors denied having signed a document wiping out a $900,000 debt owed ICT by Jack Cage and Co. Shown photostat of such a document, they said it was not the instrument they signed.

2. Leaders in the Texas Federation of Labor called Ben Jack Cage, former manager of ICT, a "scoundrel." Union members had invested millions in the company.

3. A number of union members and officials told how they were paid by Cage to help advance the cause of ICT among labor members. One said he thought he was paid to keep to himself his belief that Cage was a "crook."

4. Max Wayne Rychlik, son-in-law of former Insurance Commission Chairman Garland Smith, remembered an additional $9,800 he had received from a Ben Jack Cage affiliate. It made a total of $18,200 paid Rychlik for his "job" without work.

5. House members investigating bribery charges questioned the former executive secretary of the Texas Naturopathic Association. But Albert D. Brown, who was with the organization back in 1955, could give only estimates and guesses on how TNA had spent some $20,000 raised during the last session for "legislative education."

6. John McCully, labor union employee, had a difficult time accounting for his expenditures of union funds. In his operation of the union's publicity office, the Action Agency in Austin, he "accidentally" dropped a few political advertising bills into ICT files.

BIG PUSH—Legislators face a killing pace for the next few weeks if they are to finish session in 120 days.

After that point, their pay ceases. Time is almost two-thirds gone. Multiple investigations have diverted a lot of time and energy. Important bills are stacked up.

But a major milestone—passage of the general appropriations bill—is in sight. Senate committee approved it for floor action this week. House already has passed it.

Senate committee's version differs slightly. It includes a 10 per cent raise for lower-bracket state employees, 15 per cent for college teachers.

BORDER MYSTERY CLUE—Laredo, Texas detectives examine a pair of trousers found near a skeleton on the Big O Ranch near the city limits and Larero Air Force base. Found near the skeleton was a $2,000 bank draft on the Willamsburg Savings Bank, Brooklyn, N. Y., payable to Abel Lefevre, former Air Force man missing since April 1955. The officers are, left to right: Police Capt. Dave Gallagher, Chief of Detectives A. H. Jimenez and detective Manuel Vasquez, Ignacio Sepulveda and J. M. Puente.

Wrapping up the big money bill will put the session over the hump in the minds of most members. Meanwhile, both houses are hacking at the small stuff. Special sessions have turned out local and uncontested bills at the rate of one a minute.

DEPOSITORS DENIED PREFERENCE—US Trust and Guaranty Co. creditors will have to "share and share alike."

At least that is the decision of Austin Dist. Judge Charles O. Betts. Depositors had brought suit asking for first claim. Several contended the company's advertising, by Drew Pearson, led them to believe their funds were being held "in trust."

US Trust went bankrupt more than a year ago. Assets salvaged by the liquidator total a little more than $2,000,000. Claims against it add up to nearly $7,000,000.

Distribution of these assets may be held up further if depositors decide to appeal.

UTILITIES CONTEST— Private and cooperative utilities have moved the arena of their chronic combat from courts to Legislature.

A recent Supreme Court decision held that a co-op could continue to serve customers in an area annexed by a city but could not add customers in that area.

Co-ops are working for passage of a bill that would give them this right of expansion. It provoked hot debate before a Senate committee.

Private power company spokesmen said the co-ops were trying to go far beyond the original concept of the rural electrification program. Co-op attorney contended present restrictions would mean "slow death" to REA.

Bill was sent to subcommittee to work out compromise.

WATER BILLS MOVE -- Piece by piece, the mammoth water conservation program is moving forward.

Key feature, the $200,000,000 bond program to help finance local conservation projects, went to joint conference for final adjustments.

Senate committee gave approval to the next big item, another $200,000,000 bond issue. This would be used to buy water storage space in federal dams. Committee also approved a bill which would allow use of public storm and flood waters to recharge underground reservoirs.

Hessians for History

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP) — The Fort Frederick Bicentennial Committee has sought Hessian soldiers who fought the colonists as British hirelings in the Revolutionary War in connection with the bicentennial celebration to be held at Fort Frederick.

Several hundred of the Hessians captured in the Battle of Saratoga were imprisioned at Fort Frederick. Instead of returning to Germany after the war, many remained in the United States and become progenitors of generations of American citizens.

Fort Frederick, about 15 miles west of here, was erected in 1756 to provide settlers with protection against Indian raids in the French War.

Eating Records

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — Crabs, starfish and snails are big eaters, Gunnar Thorson of the University of Copenhagen's zoological museum told an international meeting of marine scientists.

They eat 20 to 30 per cent of their own weight in food daily during their growing period, he said. A 90-pound boy would have to eat 18 to 27 pounds a day to match that.

Mrs. Vera Keller visited her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Angus Morgan of Arlington last week.

Beaver County Crop Prospects Looking Good

The recent rains and snows received over the entire area of Beaver County has given farmers new courage and a desire to go forward in planting their crops for 1957, according to the Beaver county, SCS office.

The drought for the past five years has reduced the crop yield to almost nothing and farmers and ranchers had begun to wonder just how long it would be before a good rain would fall on the thirsty soils of the whole Panhandle area. During March approximately three inches of moisture fell and it fell slow enough for the soil to absorb it as it struck the ground.

The subsoil is wet and the prospects for a large acreage of grain sorghum planting is quite favorable.

Native grasses that are being planted by ranchers and farmers should get a good growing start this spring as the soil is well settled around the seeds and a high germination of the seeds should take place as soon as the ground gets warm.

Farmers and ranchers who have lands in the soil bank conservation reserve should make every effort to grow a good thick cover on the idle acreages so they can have sufficient cover for grass planting in 1958. Grain sorghums should be a good cash crop in 1957 and there is plenty of acres of good land in Beaver County to produce a high yield of grain for market purposes.

Land that has vegetative cover on them caught more snow than land without cover. The furrows of listed lands caught a considerable amount of snow moisture especially where the listed rows were crossways of the prevailing winds.

The recently planted Barley and Oats will receive a boost from the rain and snow.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Richardson were in Dallas last week end to see their daughter, Marilyn, perform in a TV play.
