

The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

DUNCAN, Okla. — We've figured out what's wrong with the Texas cattle market and the trouble with the prices for Texas farm products generally. The folks up in this country have had a lot of rain and their pastures are full of fat cows with their heads deep in lush grass.

While the quality of the beef cows and the farm products in the Oklahoma country may not quite measure up to that in Texas, the Oklahoma cows flood the markets and lessen the demand for high quality Texas stuff.

THIS AREA enjoyed a four day rain this week and it has left the weather cool. In fact, we've enjoyed cool weather since leaving Cisco.

As we left Cisco, we began running into rain showers. We drove on to McKinney to see a mother-in-law who underwent major surgery the other day. It was cool enough for a light jacket here. It was also surprisingly cool in Fort Worth, which is usually noted for its heat. We came to Duncan from Fort Worth to visit our mother-in-law.

IT WAS THE first time we'd been east out of Cisco in several weeks, and we were surprised to find a lot of the new Highway 75 in use between Eastland and Ranger. You now go south of Glen and don't even see the town. The road work is progressing nicely.

At Thurber, we noted that along the highway east a lot of oak and pine trees and new homes are going up. We kind of wanted to stop and inquire who was doing the work and what for, but such stops weren't on the schedule. And we're operating on vacation on a schedule this year.

IT WAS THE first time we'd seen the McKinney Veterans Hospital. It's about the biggest hospital we've ever seen. You enter it at the midway point, and you can hardly see the end in either direction. The hospital is full of sick folks.

WE LEARNED some interesting things at the hospital. For instance, certain foods that you eat contain drugs in small amounts. Lettuce has a trace of opium in it. The man told us that you'd have to eat three or four hundred pounds of a meal to feel any effects from the opium.

Another new deal in medicine we learned about is that they're now taking out tonsils with the X-ray machine. They shoot you with an X-ray two or three times and the tonsils disappear. The only after-effect seems to be a peckish sort of feeling, and they treat this as they would a sea-sick patient. Sounds like a good deal, huh?

THE FOLKS HERE in Duncan are still talking about a weird sight they had recently. A terrific thunderstorm broke loose and knocked out the electricity and set fire to the cow auction barn. At the same time an Army pilot flew in — lost — in his jet plane.

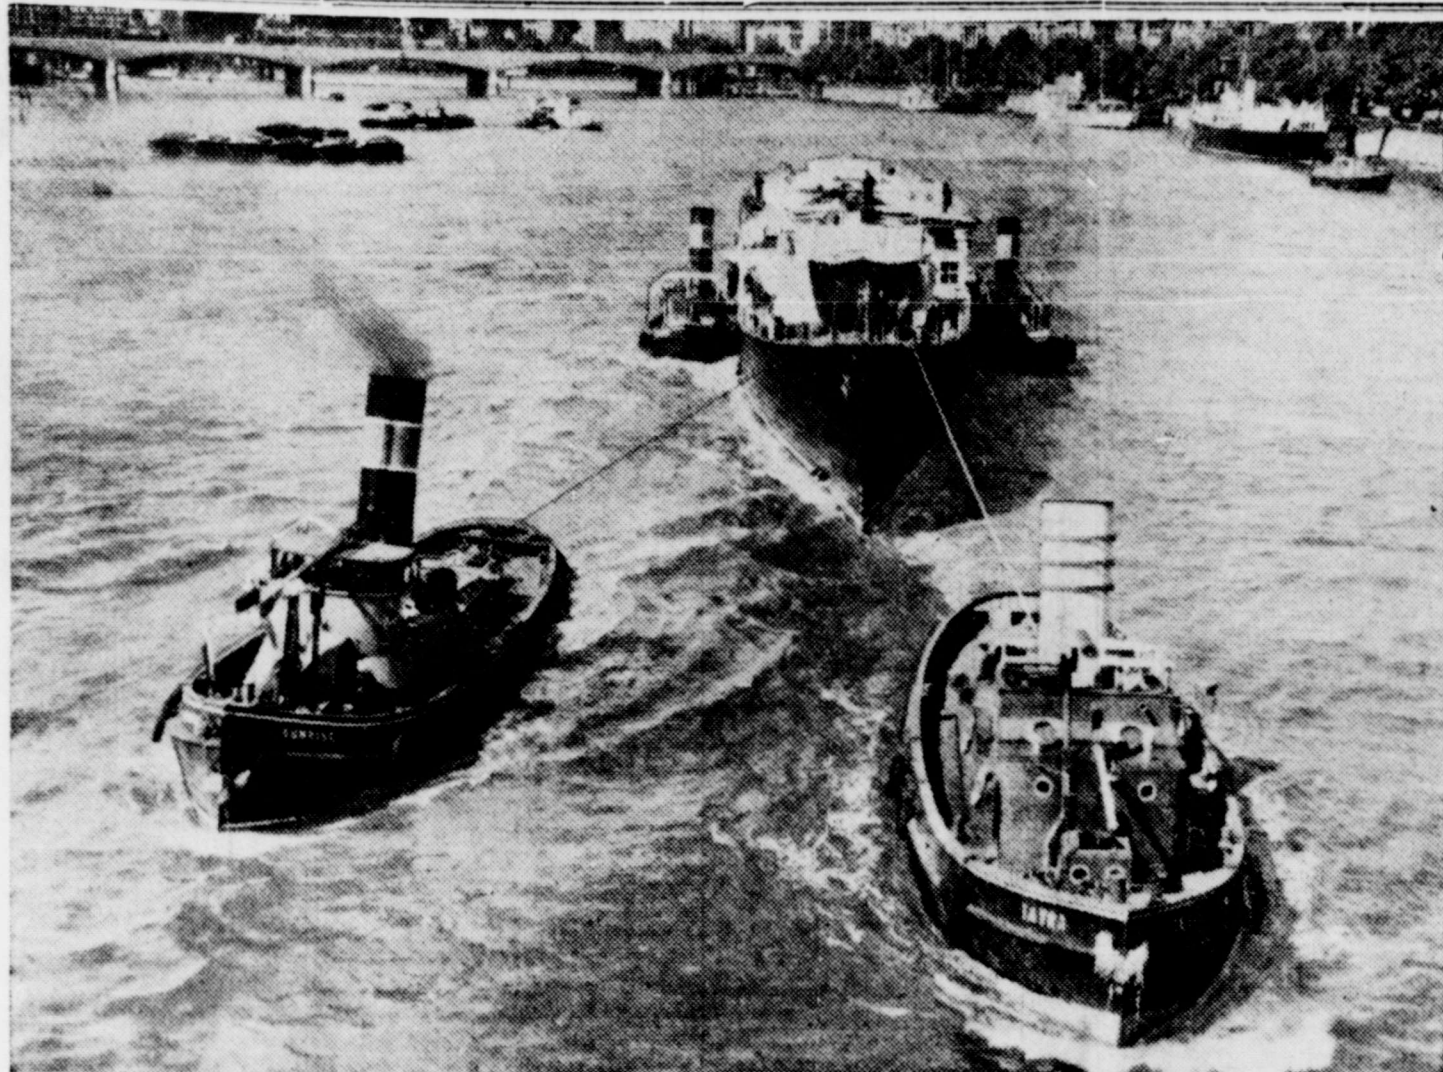

Since the lights were out, the airport couldn't show him the runway. So the pilot circled down for a half hour or more in the dark while a bunch of cars went to the airport and marked the runway for him to land safely.

It was about three days before the ground was dry enough for the jet to take off again. The plane was a late model of a new type, and the Army put a 24-hour guard around it and wouldn't let anybody get a close look at the airplane.

WE'RE GLAD to report that the Oklahoma Highway Department is beginning to get on the ball. They're building and repairing roads. Although they won't compare with those in Texas, they're definitely better than when we last saw them.

The Texas Highway Department is really doing fine these days. Their roadside parks even have stacks of real firewood for the barbecues and the cook-outs. The Texas highways are a very definite credit to our state.

Picnic Honors Little League Braves Thursday

The Little League Braves and their families enjoyed a picnic supper at the Lake Cisco park Thursday evening. Twenty six Braves were present with their families to enjoy a fried chicken dinner with all the trimmings.

M. W. Cotton, manager of the Braves during the season, presented Smitty Huestis with a gift certificate in expression of appreciation for his contribution to the local little league.

D. N. Morrison, president of the ABC Club, presented Mr. Cotton with a gift certificate from the parents and boys of the Braves and commended Mr. Cotton for the manner in which he handled his team and for winning the first city championship of the Little League.

J. D. White presented Mr. and Mrs. Cotton, on behalf of the parents and boys, a mahogany table, and expressed the sentiments of the parents for the manner in which they worked so faithfully with the boys, and for making a great contribution to the little league of Cisco.

S. H. Nance of Nance Motor Company, sponsor of the Braves, spoke with high praise of the Braves and their leaders. Mr. Nance said that he and Charlie Graham considered it an honor to have the privilege of sponsoring a little league team. Mr. Nance reminded the Braves that "You will be leaders of tomorrow and the way you play the game today will depend on what kind of leaders you will be tomorrow."

Approximately one hundred people attended the affair.

Lutherans To Hold Annual Mission Festival At Grace Church Sunday

The annual Mission Festival of Grace Lutheran Church and Christ Lutheran Church will be held Sunday, August 23, at Grace Lutheran Church in Cisco. It has been announced.

The Rev. Birnbaum of Vernon will speak at the morning services which will be held at 9:45 a. m. and 11 a. m. There will be no Bible classes held that day.

At 3 p. m. the Rev. F. A. Drevlow of Brownwood will be the speaker. Mission Sunday is set aside by Lutheran Churches to rededicate members to the task of taking the teachings of the Bible to others. All money contributed during the day are sent to the

First Christian Church Youths To Hold Convention At Texas Christian

FORT WORTH, Aug. 21.—Some 1,000 young people from all over Texas will swarm the campus of Texas Christian University Aug. 26-28 for the tenth annual Texas Youth Convention of the Christian church. They will occupy dormitories and hold their sessions in Ed Landreth Auditorium and nearby University Christian Church.

William Harrison of Dallas, president of the State Christian Youth Fellowship, will preside. He will give the president's address during the first general session, Wednesday night, Aug. 26.

Others on the program that night include Art Wenger, TCU presidential assistant; Melvin Dearthoff, CYF vice-president from Lubbock; James Farrar, pastor of First Christian Church, Grand Prairie; Donna Cottrell of Irving, CYF secretary; and Mrs.

Tennessee Dairies Head Plans Work Of Manufacturers

DALLAS, August 21.—Lindsey Waters, Jr., president of Tennessee Dairies, Inc., has accepted an appointment on the state-wide program planning committee for the Texas Manufacturers Association 31st annual Conference of Texas Industry scheduled for October 28-30 in Houston.

Mr. Waters has been an active worker in the Texas Manufacturers Association since the close of World War II and has been a member of the Board of Directors the last three years. Many manufacturing companies from the areas served by Tennessee Dairies in North, Central, and West Texas will send representatives to this Conference of Texas Industry to plan for the continued industrial growth of their respective communities.

That evening, Dr. Bill Reed of TCU will present an illustrated lecture about Palestine and Tommie Bouchard, Youth Director for the Texas Christian Board of Religious Education, will speak.

The convention will end Friday, Aug. 26, with a morning session. Speakers will include Dick Dulin of Dallas, Jewel Rains of San Benito, Pat Toler of San Antonio and Donna Flinn, Greenville. Kenneth Henry of Athens will speak on India. Officers will be elected for the new year.

BOOSTERS CLUB TO MEET

President Bob Latson of the Cisco Boosters Club has called a meeting of club members for 7:30 p. m. tonight at the high school. It will be the first meeting of the club since the close of basketball season in the Spring.

President Latson urged all members of the club to attend the meeting as important plans for the coming football season will be made.

All old members and those desiring membership were asked to the meeting.

Mrs. W. W. Shirley and Mrs. W. L. Darr accompanied their brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Murphy, of El Centro, California, to Fort Worth to meet their son, James Murphy, who has received his discharge from the services.

Tennis was purely an amateur sport until 1926.

New Army Reserve School Enrollment Plans Announced

New enrollment procedures and eligibility requirements for the eight Army Reserve Schools in Texas have been released by the Office of the Chief of Army Field Forces, it was announced this week by Colonel Karl E. Henion, Chief of the Texas Military District.

The retreat is planned for the young people of Ranger, Olden, Morton Valley and Mangum as well as Eastland.

Registration will begin at 5 p. m. Tuesday, Sept. 1st and will continue through 11 a. m. Wednesday. Recreation will be provided for those who wish to remain through the day.

Outstanding speakers and leaders of this area have been chosen to lead the various services and activities. Complete details of the program will be released at a later date.

Members of the First Baptist Church have been invited to join the young people in the retreat for their Wednesday evening prayer service.

Members of the committee formulating the plans were Ben Green, Doug King, Joy Lynn Robinson, Margie Poe, Joe Muirhead, Bob Womack, Betty Jo Westfall, Henry Sims, and Guyrene Robinson.

1. No officer will be enrolled in the Command and General Staff Course after reaching his 48th birthday.

2. No officers will be enrolled in the Advanced Course of any branch after reaching his 45th birthday.

3. No officer will be enrolled in any course for which he has received actual or constructive credit.

4. Enrollment in the Basic Course will continue to be limited to company grade officers except for a few majors who by reason of transfer from one branch to another must qualify in a new military specialty.

Eligible for assignment to Army Reserve Schools are officer reinforcements of the Ready Reserve and officer reservists of the Standby Reserves not on the inactive status list. Eligible for attachment to the schools for training are certain reserve officers assigned to a troop program unit, enlisted personnel of the Ready Reserve, National Guard officers and reserve officers of other armed services.

Schools in Texas affected by the new directive are located at Dallas, Austin, Houston, San Antonio, Beaumont, Amarillo, Waco and Fort Worth.

Next Cisco Jamboree Set For Sept. 12

The next Cisco Jamboree will be held on the night of September 12, it was announced Friday by members of the Cisco Volunteer Fire Department, sponsors of the show.

They pointed out that there would be no program Saturday night, August 22, as originally planned.

Plans were progressing for one of the best programs ever held on the night of September 12, a spokesman said.

Hobby Club Notes

There will be two more regular meetings of the Hobby Club, Wednesday morning at the high school and Thursday morning at the grammar school. If there are those workers who cannot finish articles they are making, it may be necessary to schedule an extra meeting.

Arrangements are being made to have an exhibit in a downtown building to show the work that has been done in the club this summer. This column will carry full particulars on the time and place of the exhibit next week. — Mrs. Arlin Birt.

Youth Retreat To Be Held At Lake Cisco Encampment

Plans were completed for a Youth Retreat for Baptist Young People to be held at the Presbyterian Encampment at Lake Cisco when a committee met Monday at the First Baptist Church in Eastland.

Theme for the retreat, which is sponsored by the First Baptist Church in Eastland is "My Desire" to be like him. Time was set for September 1st and 2nd, and place named was the Presbyterian encampment at Lake Cisco.

The program will be centered around the topics, "Learning to be like Jesus, in service, in vocation, in play, and in meditation," the committee members said.

The retreat is planned for the young people of Ranger, Olden, Morton Valley and Mangum as well as Eastland.

Registration will begin at 5 p. m. Tuesday, Sept. 1st and will continue through 11 a. m. Wednesday. Recreation will be provided for those who wish to remain through the day.

Hardin-Simmons Announces Change In Schedule Time

A new class schedule, designed to utilize more fully the facilities of Hardin-Simmons University, has been announced by Dean of the University Robert A. Collins.

Eliminating afternoon classes, with the exception of physical education, laboratory sessions and military drills, the schedule calls for first classes to meet at 7:45 a. m. and the final day-time period to end at 12:15 noon.

All night classes will probably be held on the campus this year instead of downtown Abilene, Collins said.

"To carry out the new arrangement as planned, it will be necessary to distribute classes evenly throughout the morning hours. A committee will have charge of registration of freshmen and sophomores to see that all classes are filled," he stated.

The expansion of RTC activities, requiring more classroom space, to meet the increased enrollment in military science necessitates a rearrangement of class schedules in the other departments.

Regular classroom sessions are scheduled for 7:45, 8:45, 10:15, and 11:15, with chapel scheduled for 9:45.

Lutherans To Hold Children's Camp

Some 40 Lutheran children between the ages of eight and 12 years old are expected to enroll at the Children's Encampment which begins Sunday at the Presbyterian Encampment. The camp will continue through Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Betty Bartsch, experienced camp director, will be in charge of the encampment. Mrs. Balas of San Angelo will be the camp nurse.

The Rev. Harold Klowitz of Pecos will be camp dean and Elizabeth Miller will be in charge of handicraft work. Marilyn Doering of Houston will be in charge of recreation and Dennis Carlson and Virginia Weiser of Houston will serve as counselors.

The children enrolled at the camp will be from churches in West Texas.

Mrs. A. J. Baggett of Abilene is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cooper this week.

Air Base Head Also Makes Talk

Two Allied National students, one from Saudi Arabia, spoke in Cisco Thursday at the regular weekly meeting of the Rotary Club at the Hotel Victor. They were accompanied by Cisco by Maj. Gen. Old, commander of Sheppard Air Force Base in Wichita Falls where they are enrolled, and other base officials.

The program was in line with the club's International Service Program and was arranged by Rotarian C. W. Henry.

General Old explained in the Mutual Defense Program where-by Allied National students are in America receiving training in various phases of military life, and American students are in other countries studying. He explained how the program was helping to further better relations between peoples of the world in an effort to bring about World understanding and World peace.

Capt. Engles, also of the Wichita Falls base, made a short talk explaining the program and told of the students enrolled in the various camps. He said that the Wichita Falls base had students from 19 countries, all members of the Mutual Defense Pact, now enrolled. He said that there were 40 member nations.

Capt. Engles introduced the two student speakers, Padasang Kanjanapojak of Thailand, and Hassan Habis of Saudi Arabia. Kanjanapojak told of the life, the customs and the geographical nature of his country.

Farming, he said, was the principal profession of his country because of the terrain, and that rice was the big crop. The tin industry is the countries largest and tin and rice are the main export products.

He told of the educational life of the country and the political setting. He said that the government of his country was much the same as that of England. He said that Thailand students went to school when they were six years old and had four years primary schooling, six years in secondary schools and two years in high school. After finishing high school they go to college where courses require four, five and eight years to complete.

Buddhism, he said, was the principal religion and said that 99 percent of the people were followers of Buddha. The five main parts of the religion were given as: 1. — Do not destroy life; 2. — Do not steal; 3. — Do not commit adultery; 4. — Do not deceive

Little Leaguers Asked To Fort Worth Jamboree

The Cisco Little League was invited to participate in a Little League Jamboree to be held at LaGrave Field, Fort Worth, at 6:45 p. m. Thursday, August 27. The Jamboree is being sponsored by the Fort Worth Cats and the Fort Worth Little League.

The activities begin at 6:45 with the Weatherford All-Stars playing a three inning exhibition game. At 7:20 p. m. a race will be held to determine Little League's fastest player, and at 7:30 p. m. all Little Leaguers will go on the field for a giant group picture. At 7:45 p. m. there will be a watermelon eating contest with the champion eater of each league competing for the prize of an autographed baseball.

The highlight of the evening will be the Texas League game between the Fort Worth Cats and the San Antonio Missions.

The Little Leaguers and their managers will be the guests of the Fort Worth Cats and will sit in special reserved sections.

The four local Little League managers were asked to contact D. N. Morrison if they wish to participate in the Jamboree. Managers and parents will be required to furnish transportation to Fort Worth for the affair.

The head of a family is entitled to claim as exempt any property which is exempt under Texas homestead laws, which in the ordinary case will be his home, household furniture, wearing apparel, the family automobile and tools of his trade or profession. However, if any of this property is covered by a mortgage or conditional sales contract he must pay any balance due thereon, or the owner of such mortgage or contract may repossess.

Bankruptcy has a lasting effect upon a person's future credit and in the usual case causes the creditors to lose their entire debt. Many bankruptcies could be avoided if the "overloaded" debtor would make a timely effort to sit down with his creditors and work out plans for reduced payments over extended periods.

School Named For Former Cisco Teacher

FORT WORTH, Aug. 21.—The sons of J. A. Clark, pioneer East Texas educator, are still being honored in the State's school circles. Recently, a new elementary school at Portland, Texas, was named for Thomas M. Clark, one of three sons who made early history in Southwest education.

Two other sons, Addison and Randolph Clark, founded Addison College in 1873. The school is now Texas Christian University.

Thomas Clark was born in 1856 and taught at Addison for 20 years before going to Portland where he founded Bay View College which did well until 1917. Later he taught in colleges at Cisco and Canyon. He died in 1943.

Father J. A. Clark and his wife, the former Hettie DeSpain, taught school in Madison County, East Texas, where their educator sons were born.

and 5. — Do not drink intoxicants. Those five reasons, he said, are why the country is known as the land of freedom, independence and peace.

Hassan Habis, dressed in the native independence of his country, told of the geographical significance of his country and explained its politics, religion, education and advancement.

He said that Mohammedism was the principal religion and told the benefits and acts of worship of the followers of the Prophet Mohammed.

The government is the royalist type with the King and Queen as heads of the governing council. He said that laws were based on the "eye for an eye and hand for a hand" idea.

He said that America had contributed much to the advancement of the country and that the people looked to America as a friend and a benefactor. At the conclusion of his talk he thanked the people of the United States for their contribution to the welfare of the country.

Contract Awarded On Area Road Work

Ernest Lloyd of Fort Worth was awarded a contract by the State Highway Department for hard surfacing a 3.9 mile stretch of State Highway 36 in Eastland and Callahan Counties.

The bid on the project was $217,180, it was reported by the highway department.

Work was expected to begin in the near future, engineers reported.

So called "closet dramas" are those to be read, but not acted.

SMART GIRL—French starlet Simone Bach is apparently staying out of the controversy over the length of women's skirts. While vacationing at Juan Les Pins, she was satisfied with her bikini bathing suit. Whether or not she was going to have to shorten her dresses didn't seem at all important.

Goodwill Rebekahs Hold Weekly Meet

The weekly meeting of the Goodwill Rebekah Lodge was held Thursday evening at the lodge hall with Mrs. Effie Mayhew, noble grand, in charge of the meeting.

Routine business matters were transacted and Mrs. Lydia Krauskopf finished her report on the Secretary Convention held recently in Mineral Wells. The meeting closed in regular form.

Those attending were Mesdames Lydia Krauskopf, Ethel Moore, Laura Jensen, Leah Bates, May Kleiner, Winnie Linebarger, Meda Strawn, Pauline Taylor, Connie Hyatt, Edith Rainbolt, and Effie Mayhew.

IT'S DONE—In most cheesecake shots, the photographer unseen, but when press photographer Bernie Aumuller took the shots of starlet Eileen Coghlan, he got into a photo, too. She was sailing from New York to Italy, and Aumuller was on hand to capture her charms on film for posterity.

GOLDEN FAMILY—Taffy Pat was one of five Pekingese who gave birth in the same week in Mrs. Bessie Reinhart's kennel at Hutchinson, Kans. When Taffy Pat's litter died, she unhappily watched her dog mothers feeding theirs. Then she proceeded to steal a pup from three of her kennel mates, and two from the fourth, and now she has this adopted family of her own.

BBQ DAY—Entries in the annual Baby Crawling Derby at Shades Park, N. J., got strength for the big event from this milk bottle. Specially equipped for pint-sized consumption, the straws with nipple-ends piped liquid refreshment to the contestants before the start of the big event.

HEALTH TALKS

Prepared by the Texas Medical Association

In the treatment of deep burns, skin grafting performed early has proved invaluable for many patients. It has resulted in greater comfort, earlier and more complete restoration of function, and a minimum of scarring. When a person receives a severe burn, the doctor's first responsibility is to save life. This he usually can do by replacing — either by mouth or by vein — the large amount of fluid and body salt lost by the patient immediately after receiving the burn, and by giving blood transfusions, a carefully planned diet, pain-relieving drugs, and other general treatment. His second consideration is the local treatment of the burn.

CARRYING AMMUNITION and supplies to the battlefield is the wartime mission of Army messenger dogs. These dogs are trained at Camp Carson, Colo., to carry loads up to 30 pounds.

Today doctors differ in their opinion on the local treatment of deep burns; one of several courses may be taken. One is to apply so-called "pressure," or absorptive, bandages over the burned areas, except for regions such as the face and genital area. Another is to use medicines like gentian violet, a dye, which soon seal off the burn. A third is to place the patient on clean or sterile sheets but to leave him exposed to room atmosphere. In about forty-eight hours a crust forms over the burns, acting as a protection against germs entering the wound and preventing any more body fluids from leaving it.

Each method of local treatment has its advantages and disadvantages, and in certain cases only one may be applicable. Regardless of which is used, eventually the deeply burned tissue must be cut away and replaced by new skin (from the patient himself or someone else) if best results are to be hoped for. The time at which skin grafting is done will depend upon several factors, among them the patient's general condition and the surgeon's opinion of the time at which he is able consistently to obtain good results. It is three weeks or less after the burn is received in most cases, however.

Skin grafting has reached a high degree of perfection. Now known to doctors are techniques for taking and applying many different kinds of skin grafts. The surgeon will use the type proved best for the particular loss of skin the patient has suffered.

Mrs. A. B. Cooper and grandson, Mike Cooper, plan to leave Monday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. George Fleming in Dallas.

Keep fruit and vegetable salads fresh and crisp with ice.
