3 Mustangs Named To District

Three Mustangs have been named to the 3-AA All District dream team, Jimmy McCurry, Monte Chitwood and Joe Alcorta.

OHS senior and tri-captain, McCurry was selected unanimously as defensive and offensive lineman. Chitwood, a senior who also shares captain honors, was selected offensive end.

Sophomore Joe Alcorta received unanimous election as offensive back. He is one of only two sophomores named to the coveted team.

Littlefield Wildcats named to the All District offensive team were backs Terry Bryson, Randy Cook and Pat Henderson; center Ricky Richards and lineman Skip Smith. Chosen for the defense team from Littlefield were backs Craig Ratliff, Kenny Owens, Cook and Lineman Rick Hopping.

Dimmitt placed two Bobcats on the offensive team-Robert Mayberry and Kyle Broderson, both two-way choices. Joining them on the defense team are Lance Louder and Jeff Lantz.

Dale Parsons, former Mustang footballer, was named to both teams for Friona. Terry Thompson joined him on the offense team with Teddy King and Dale Cleveland joining the defense squad.

Morton place two on the dream team; Pete Soliz on the offense squad and Larry Thompson, defense.

Christmas Trees Arrive

Christmas trees have arrived for the Cub Scout tree sale and may be purchased at the corner of the square in downtown Olton. Only 100 trees were received and persons who paid one dollar deposits are asked to pick up their trees as soon as possible.

Evergreen trees sell for $5.50 for those five to six feet tall and $7.50 for those seven to eight feet. Scotch pines are $7.50 for trees four to five feet and $9 for five and a half to six and a half feet.

Harlan Carsons Hospitalized

An Olton family narrowly escaped death from asphyxiation Thursday night as the result of a faulty heating system. Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Carson and their children, Kody and Kamber, were reported "doing fine" in Central Plains Hospital in Plainview at press time Friday.

Mrs. Carson was awakened in the night by the crying of her tiny daughter. She quieted the child, tucked her back into bed and returned to bed herself. When the child cried out again, Carson went to her bedside and collapsed. Mrs. Carson wakened her son for his help with her husband and he, too, passed out.

Realizing something must be wrong, Mrs. Carson called to her neighbor, Robert Lacy. By the time Lacy could reach the Carson home, Mrs. Carson was also unconscious. Lacy called a Parsons ambulance and the four were rushed to the Plainview hospital.

Joe Johnson Services Held At First Baptist Church

Funeral services were conducted at 2:30 p.m. Monday in First Baptist Church for Joseph Andrew Johnson, longtime resident and retired farmer.

Officiating were the Rev. John E. Lewis, pastor, and The Rev. M. O. Evans, assistant pastor of First Baptist Church, Plainview. Interment was in Plainview Memorial Park under the direction of Parsons Funeral Home.

Johnson died late Friday of an apparent heart attack. He was born Aug. 27, 1902 in Denton and was married to the former Annie Wesley Oct. 15, 1922, in Stephens County.

An employee of Texas Oil Company prior to coming to the Plains, Johnson moved to the Circle Community in 1931 and to his present farm home in the Westside Community in 1934. He had been a member of the Baptist Church since Childhood.

Survivors include his wife; one daughter, Mrs. Melvin Schwab of Plainview; four sons, Lenrel Johnson, Ershel Johnson Bobby Joe Johnson of Prineville, Ore. and Gary Lynn Johnson of Amaillo; 16 grandchildren; five great-grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Fannie Roberts of Erick, Okla. and two brothers, Marion Johnson of Olney and Ted Johnson of Hobbs, N.M.

Grandsons were pallbearers.

Honorary pallbearers were C. D. Tanner, Gary Lawson, John Norfleet, Delbert Howell, L. V. Howell, Dan Cure, Owen Norfleet, Duard Price, J. W. Lee, Henry Cowart, Tom Smith, C. E. Bley, A. C. Light Jr., Lauis Hair, Tracy Critchfield and Rush Turner.

JOE JOHNSON

Local Blacksmith Got Early Start Helping His Dad With Odd Jobs

Only six years old when he began helping his dad with blacksmith tasks at the family farm, veteran "Smithy" Henry Cowart admits he never believed that "blacksmithing would go."

"But I never thought the buggy would go, either," he adds with a shy grin.

Henry's father, the late John Cowart, came to Olton from Lockney in 1901. In those days, Lockney was the "end of the line" for folks moving out west and John Cowart was one of the early pionners moving way out west in what was to become Lamb County.

Although it was 1933 when the elder Cowart bought out a blacksmith shop in town, he and his sons had done much of their own blacksmith work at home.

Henry remembers his first tasks were to blow the forge with a pump lever for his dad. He recalls, too, answering "No," when his father asked him, when he was 12 years old, if he'd like to be a blacksmith someday.

Blacksmith tasks in those early farming days meant all sorts of wagon work and tool repair. In the era when farming was done by team drawn plows, travel was by horseback or in buggies. Henry explained he didn't foresee the death of the buggy because it could go anywhere in the pre-highwaydays when the country's only roads were mere cow trails.

The blacksmith shop purchased by the Cowarts was owned by a Mr. Killough and was located just east of the fire station. The present location was built in 1934 by J. V. Allen and Son. Allen had been operating a shop across the street at the site of Olton Butane. Earlier blacksmith shops had been located in other locations, too.

Henry has the vise which was used in Olton's first blacksmith shop. He believes the first blacksmith shop was probably opened about 1909.

"I didn't have a cutting torch when I started," he recalls and explains he'd have to use a sledge hammer against the side of his anvil.

"When I started blacksmithing, I'd never had a torch in my hand," he says, confessing that he really knew nothing about running a blacksmith shop. Customers helped him learn.

"I'd take a job when I didn't know how in the world to do it and then someone would come along and help me figure it out."

"Guys who didn't know anything about blacksmithing would help me. They didn't know how to do it but they'd have idea how it could be done and so I learned.

"They (customers) stayed with me though."

Henry remembers, too, "lean times" in those early years. "It (the shop) fed me day by day. Always there'd be some job come in when I needed something."

In the shop's yesteryears, about two-thirds of the business was in blacksmith-

Li'l Abner Set Monday

Delightful entertainment is in store for play-goers when the curtain rises Monday night on the OHS drama and music departments second performance of "Li'l Abner."

Presented Saturday evening in the high school auditorium, the laugh-filled play is being performed the second time for benefit of those who were unable to see the "opening nighter" and for those who wish to enjoy the delightful play a second time.

J. C. Roberson Rites Conducted

Last rites were conducted Tuesday afternoon in Hopewell Church for Jones Collins Roberson.

The Rev. Ronnie Travis, pastor, officiated. Burial was in Olton Cemetery under the direction of Parsons Funeral Home.

Born Feb. 14, 1896, in Buena Vista, Ark., Roberson died about 11:30 p.m. Sunday in a Plainview Convalescent home. He had been a resident of Olton nine years.

Roberson, a retired farmer, was married Dec. 10, 1921 in Canadian to the former Loula Brewer.

Survivors include his wife; one son, Richard Roberson; one grandchild, Mark Roberson; and one brother, Rex Roberson of Springdale, Ark.

Pallbearers were Tom Smith, J. L. Small, Travis, Dunn, Gilbert Roberson, Marvin Chruchwell and C. T. Lokey.

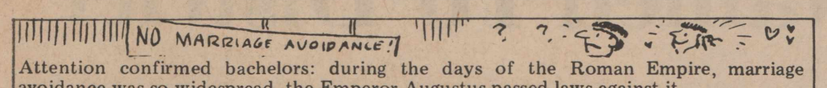
Several centuries ago people believed that long sharp teeth betrayed a jealous, treacherous nature, that broad front teeth indicated an orderly mind and teeth with spaces between them were considered a sure sign of a lecherous nature.



Attention confirmed bachelors: during the days of the Roman Empire, marriage avoidance was so widespread, the Emperor Augustus passed laws against it.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

"Oil companies say that vehicle driven no faster than 50 miles an hour requires 11 percent less fuel than when driven 60 miles per hour. It would be an ironic twist of fat if highways should become safer places not because drivers are endeavoring to make them safe but are trying to save gasoline."

GRASSROOT OPINION

"Poor old Rover! Things just aren't the same as in the good old days. When he brings a bone home today and buries it, his master digs it up and makes soup."

ing work. From a time when several thousand plows were sharpened per year, the number has dwindled to less than 300 a year.

"It's been a good business," he says with gratitude while acknowledging the near death that "progress" has brought.

Cowart lived in Plainview and Hereford for about eight years during the World War II era. He returned to Olton in 1945. While he was away, in 1938, he learned electric welding. Recalling how electric welding took over forge welding, he remembers he still did lots of forge work after his return here.

For a while during his absence from Olton, Henry worked with ornamental ironwork welding and has done a bit of that here. Using antique wrenches, Model T wrenches, hub caps, radiator caps, spurs, stirrups and other old items which were "collector's items" of Les Kennedy, Henry designed them a personalized gate. At its center, the gate bears the names "Fannie and Les."

Henry has a wealth of Olton History in his memories. He also has pride it her acheivements. And he glows with pride when he speaks of his family.

Father of grown children, Henry has nine grandchildren. His son lives in Plainview. One daughter lives in Plainview and the other in Clovis. Gladys, Henry's wife, is a homemaker and bookkeeper.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Contract for Lifetime Care

"You get everything I own. In return, I get complete care for the rest of my life."

In effect, this was the agreement that an elderly widower made with a retirement home. And when he died a few years later, the management put in a claim for his remaining assets.

However, the man's relatives went to court with an objection.

"This was gambling, pure and simple," they argued. "No one knew how many years he would live. No one knew how much property he would have when he died. And gambling contracts are illegal."

But the court saw nothing illegal about the contract. Finding it no more of a gamble than an insurance policy, the court said the law had no objection so long as both parties understood what they were doing.

In most cases, contracts for lifetime care have been upheld as lawful and reasonable. Courts say they serve a useful purpose for those who want the security of a safe haven in their declining years.

Nor does the contract become invalid just because it happens to work out better for one side than the other.

In one case, a retirement home got a financial windfall because a relatively young resident, after paying a large membership fee, died within a few months.

In another case, a retirement home tried to back out of its contract after paying hospital expenses for an ailing resident for more than four years.

But in both cases, despite complaints, the courts ruled that a deal was a deal and had to be carried out.

Still, a contract might be invalidated by deception. One retirement home carefully avoided telling an incoming resident that he was signing over all of his property.

In this case, after the man died, his property was held to belong to his children, not to the home. The court said it could not fairly enforce an agreement on which there was no "meeting of the minds."

MRS. CRAIG VERNON SMITH

Craig Smith - Denise Myers Pledge Double Ring Vows

Miss Paula Denise Myers and Craig Vernon Smith pledged double ring wedding vows Sunday afternoon in the sanctuary of First Baptist Church.

Officiating the twin ring ceremony before an altar set with a memory candle and candelabras with pink candles flanked by baskets of pink gladioli was Dean Harris of Lubbock.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Parley Myers and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Smith.

Wedding music was presented by Cynthia Johnson, organist, who also accompanied Cindy Caswell of Levelland, cousin of the bride, as she sang, "If," "Wedding Prayer" and "Walk Hand In Hand."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of silk organza and lace fashioned with fitted bodice featuring long petal point sleeves and high wedding ring collar. Softly gathered, her skirt was styled with wide bands of scalloped lace adorning the front and deep lace ruffles edging the cathedral train.

Her pearl and lace encrusted Juliet headpiece held her waist length veil of illusion, edged with scalloped lace. She carried a bouquet of white roses atop a white Bible. For "something old" she carried a handkerchief which was a gift from her great-grandmother. Her gown was "new" and she "borrowed" a cameo necklace from her sister, Lana. She wore a traditional blue garter and carried, in her shoe, pennies coined in the year of her own and the bridegroom's birth.

Lana Myers was her sister's maid of honor. Bridemaids were Carla Moses and Connie Thomas. Stacy McKinzie of Plainview was flower girl. They wore formal length gowns of pink crepe fashioned with hi-rise waistlines, Bishop sleevs, high stand-up collars and softly gathered skirts. Tiny white pearl buttons accented the bodice. They carried long stemmed pink roses and wore white picture hats.

The bridegroom was attended by his brothers. Stephen Smith was best man; groomsmen were Greg and Mark Smith. Candles were lighted and guests seated by Tim Givens, Robert Ahrens of Lubbock and Jerry Lynn Barden of Springlake.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Myers chose a dress of pink double knit. Mrs. Smith wore a dress of gold knit.

A reception in fellowship hall of the church honored the newlyweds. The bride's table was laid with white satin and centered with the bridal bouquet. The traditional three-tiered wedding cake was accented with pink flowers and topped with a white dove. Pink fruit punch, cake, nuts and mints were served by Sandra York of Levelland, Jimmie Kay Graham, Donna Muller and Chesna Dickenson.

For a wedding trip to Lubbock, the bride chose a travel ensemble of pink knit with corsage of pink roses.

The couple will be at home in Hereford.

Out of town guests included the bride's grandmother and aunt, Mrs. L. M. Caswell and Ozell, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Caswell and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. York Jr., Randy and Sandra, all of Levelland; Mr. and Mrs. John Rayland, Glyn and Bryan Ragland, Elena Jerman, Mrs. Gene Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dennis, all of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Stone, Mrs. Edith Boatright and Mrs. Sharon McKenzie and Stacy, all of Plainview and Melvin Aven of Hart.

NEW RESIDENTS

Mr. and Mrs. David Britton and Melissa have moved to Olton from Austin. Britton will be farming.

'Winter Wonderland' Theme Of Fashion Show

"Winter Wonderland" was carried out in decorations of snowy greenery and flocked Christmas trees Friday night at the Parent-Teacher Association sponsored style show.

Young Homemakers listened to tips for making candy by Mrs. H. B. Maxey Jr. and then put the tips to test, making various candies. Finished candy was boxed with each member receiving a sample of each candy.

Mrs. Charlie Burrus gave a demonstration of bread dough Christmas decorations for the tree or other decor.

Yearbooks and state newsletters were distributed to each member. The State Young Homemakers of Texas Convention was announced for Jan. 11-12, 1974 in San Antonio.

Members also voted to sell cards for a fund raising project. Mrs. Gary Turner presided over the business session.

Approximately 25 attended.

RECENT GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Harwood of Lubbock had as recent guests their daughters and families, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Davis, Gary, Jennie, Gregg, Gerald and Glenn and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Creek, Tammy and Lonnie.

BANKAMERICARD

1. The jolly gent we know as St. Nick is based on the real-life St. Nicholas, Bishop of Myra in Asia Minor in the fourth century. A legend in his own time for his generosity and love of children, he is said to have gone on many a mysterious journey carrying secret gifts to the poor. Once, so the story goes, he dropped a bag of gold down a chimney. It fell by accident into a stocking hung up to dry by the fire -- and prompted generations of hopeful children to hang up their hosiery, too.

2. Giving to the poor remains a vital part of Christmas celebrations. In England, on the day after Christmas, clergymen used to open the church almsboxes and distribute the money to the needy. Later, it became customary to give boxes of money on that day to people who had served you during the year. December 26 is still known as Boxing Day in Britain.

3. According to GiftAmerica, a leading gift-giving authority, giving at this time of year goes back just about as far as the ancient Roman midwinter celebrations. Even then, December was a time for merriment and opening presents. And, this year, Christmas gift-giving is made even more convenient for millions of Americans who will be using GiftAmerica's nationwide network of telephone service to dial a gift anytime, 24 hours a day, from any place in the 48 contiguous states. It may be the only way for the last-minute shopper to get a gift delivered. GiftAmerica accepts most major credit cards when you dial its toll-free number 800-325-5000 (in Missouri only call 800-342-5777).

4. Some countries enjoy Christmas giving so much that they do it twice: the French exchange gifts on New Year's Day, but the children are visited by Pere Noel on Christmas Eve. And Icelanders must hurry if they want to unwrap their presents Christmas morning. Almost the entire holiday must be spent in church services--for in Iceland there are only four hours of light on Christmas Day!

MRS. T. C. KENNEDY

Cook Of The Week

Genealogy has been a source of interest for a long while for our Cook of the Week, Norma Kennedy, but she only got seriously into the hobby in the last three years. Currently working on her family's lineage, Norma hopes to begin work on the Kennedy side, too, someday.

Norma and T. C. Kennedy have lived at Olton ever since their marriage in 1954. Graduates of Olton High School, Norma has called Olton home since 1949; T. C. has lived here since he was eight years old.

Daughter of Mrs. Nell Wood and the late C. T. Wood, Norma was born in Quemado, N.M. where her parents were "homesteading."

The Kennedys are parents of three children. Karin, is a senior and Chuck, a sophomore at OHS. Connie, the youngest, is an eighth grader.

In addition to the busy life of a farmer's wife and mother of three teenagers, Norma finds some time to be an Am Way distributor.

Norma enjoys antiques, an interest she shares with her family and T. C.'s parents.

The family attends Main Street Church of Christ.

SCALLOPED SQUASH
2 c. yellow squash (cooked, salted, and drained)
3 T. butter
½ c. mushroom soup
1 T. minced onion
2 boiled eggs, chopped
½ c. cracker crumbs
¼ c. (or less) milk
Add chopped green chili to taste. Place in baking dish; top with grated cheese, and bake in moderate oven.

FRESH APPLE CAKE
1¼ c. oil or 2 cubes oleo
2 c. sugar
4 eggs
1 t. vanilla
1 t. cinnamon
1 t. soda
1 t. salt
3 c. flour
3 c. diced apples
1 c. pecans
Mix ingredients in order given. Bake at 350 degrees an hour or until done. (Grease and flour pan)

SMOTHERED CHICKEN
1 fryer (cut into serving pieces)
1 c. or more flour
2 t. salt
¼ t. pepper
½ t. garlic salt
Put in plastic bag and shake chicken, a few pieces at a time. Place in well greased baking dish and sprinkle any flour left in sack over chicken. Pour water into baking dish at one corner, gently so the flour will stay on the chicken, pour enough water to cover chicken. Dot with butter and place in 350 degree oven and let bake 2 hours uncovered.

Study Club Meeting Held In H. B. Carson Home

A meeting of Olton Study Club was held Monday, Dec. 3, in the home of Mrs. H. B. Carson. Mrs. J. C. Brown, president presided at a short business session. Twelve members were in attendance.

Mrs. E. R. Spain presented the new educational philosophy as described in "Fox Fire", books one and two, by Elliott Wigginton.

She described the work of Wigginton who, as a teacher of English and geography in the Appalachian hill country became hisheartened with the lack of interest of his pupils. He fell upon the plan of reestablishing the culture of the area by having the students publish a magazine relating folklore which would otherwise have been lost. The magazine was so successful that it is now being read in 50 states and some foreign countries.

Next meeting of the club will be a Christmas party held at Women's Club house Dec. 17.

Olton Boxers Win Trophies

Three young lads, members of Olton's Golden Gloves team, copped a runner-up trophy in a Friday and Saturday night tournament held in Plainview. Team members are Alfred Fuentez, Lance Phares and Greg Smith.

Team trophies are presented to the team which compiles the most points and is not determined by the number of boys participating as a team.

Amarillo won the champion trophy for the tourney with 30 boys competing and compiling 12 points. Olton's three lads earned six points

Boys interested in Golden Gloves are invited to join the program. Boys meet each weekday night in the building formerly occupied by Leon's Grocery. Frank Cornelius, owner of the building, has made the space available for the program.

The local team will participate this weekend in a tournament in Canyon.

Results of the Plainview tournament were champion runner-up trophies being won by young Phares and Fuentez. Smith won two fights, and was defeated in his semi-final fight.

Hypertension Strikes 23 Million Americans

Jim had always heard the old saying--"A stitch in time saves nine"-- but he never thought it would relate to his health.

On the urging of his wife, Jim went to his family physician for a long overdue physical examination and discovered what he had suspected all along: he was in good physical condition for a man of his age EXCEPT for one thing--high blood pressure, or hypertension.

The doctor felt certain the condition could be improved by a prescription drug, and he advised Jim how lucky he was that the condition had been found early--while there was time to head off serious difficulties.

He told Jim there are more than 23 million Americans walking around with hypertension, which one national authority likened to a time bomb ticking away inside the body...waiting to go off with a killing or crippling effect.

Jim remembered reading that the Texas State Department of Health estimated more than 1.75 million Texans suffer from high blood pressure, and now he was to findout more about this problem.

This is what he learned.

Blood pressure is simply the pressure put on the walls of the arteries as the heart pumps blood through the body. Our blood pressure varies from minute to minute, going up when we are excited, and down when we rest. These changes are perfectly normal.

But when blood pressure goes up too high, and stays that way, a state of hypertension results.

When your blood pressure goes up too high, and stays that way, a state of hypertension results.

When your blood pressure is taken, your physician uses a device known as a sphygmomanometer to determine the force of blood as it comes from the heart and hits the artery walls. The highest reading, known as "systolic" pressure, records the pressure exerted on the artery by each thrust of blood from the pumpling action of the heart. The other, lower reading, is the "diastolic" pressure remaining in the artery while the heart is relaxing.

The average systolic blood pressure for a young adult male is about 120 millimeters. The diastolic pressure is about 80 millimeters. Pressures in this range are usually able to provide the body with an adequately circulating supply of blood without placing any undue strain on the walls of the blood vessels.

But a man whose systolic blood pressure remains above 150 more than doubles his risk of heart attack and has nearly four times the risk of stroke than a man with systolic blood pressure under 120.

When a person has high blood pressure, the arterioles, or the small peripheral arteries, clamp down to restrict the flow of blood. The exact cause of the constriction of these vessels is unknown. Nervous strain plays a role, and hereditary factors are probably involved to some extent.

Whatevaer the cause, the heart tries to oversome this resistance by pumping harder to push blood through the system. As a result of this increased work load, the heart muscle may grow larger and weaker from the demands put on it, and begin to lose its efficiency.

High blood pressure itself produces few symptoms, and most case are discovered by accident or through complications which it may produce. The only typical change is the increase in the blood pressure itself. Changes in the smaller blood vessels may cause a number of symptoms, and palpitations of the heart, headaches, dizziness, flushing of the face, and fatigue are often noted.

There are several degrees of hypertension, varying from a sustained but usually modest elevation of blood pressure, to blood pressure which is severely and persistently elevated. In general, the higher and more persistently elevated the pressure, the more likelihood of damage to the blood vessels and the heart, brain, and other organs.

While the exact cause of primary or essential hypertension is unknown, certain factors contribute to it. For instance, research indicates that the kidneys can release a substance into the bloodstream which triggers a chain of chemical events leading to high blood pressure. Hypertension may also be caused by long-standing kidney disease, or certain abnormalities of the adrenal or other endocrine glands.

Current public health knowledge of hypertension makes it clear that everyone over 35 years of age should have regular checkups if this deadly condition is to be controlled.

DECORATION OF DOUGH-students of Mrs. Gayle Allcorn have been busy this week preparing tree decorations of dough. Shaped in many viaried designs, the dough decorations are baked and then painted with acrylic paints. Shown helping with the project are Elsa Gonzales, Elvia Cortez and Jeannettia Hackler. Castleberry Services Held

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon in Cactus Church of Christ in Levelland for Harvey Castleberry, 72, former resident and police officer.

Bob Reynolds, minister, and Bill Hughes, director of the Bible Choir of South Plains College, officiated.

Castleberry died Sunday in a Levelland hospital following a lengthy illness. A native of Alabama, he had worked with the police department in O'Donnell and served part time as police dispatcher at the Levelland Police Department.

Survivors include his wife, Lena Kay; a daughter, Mrs. Billy Morris; two grandchildren; one great-grandchild; two sisters and two brothers.

FROM KANSAS

Visiting during the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Victor Burrus were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burrus, their daughter Vanessa and their sons, Vince and Vernon. The Thomas Burrus family resides in Liberal, Kans.

Lodge, Star Meets Dec. 15

Olton Masonic Lodge and Order of Eastern Star and their spouses will meet at 7 p.m. Saturday in the Lodge Hall for a Christmas party.

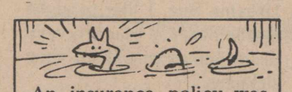
Each couple is asked to bring a small gift which will be given to a shut-in.

IS HOSPITALIZED

Stephanie Miller, 5, was hospitalized in Plainview Saturday of last week. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elza Miller.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

"The history of the American people cannot be separated from the history of American journalism. In establishing independence, the pen and the press had equal merit to that of the sword."



An insurance policy was taken out against the live capture and delivery in London of the Loch Ness monster.

Holiday Rush Called Big Traffic Hazard

Texas Safety Association reminds drivers that rushing is one of the greatest pitfalls of brief holiday travel.

The safety group offers these basic suggestions for a safe trip.

1) Plan the holiday trip, and get plenty of rest the night before.

2) Get an early start, especially if there is only one day for travel.

3) Drive at moderate speeds. High speed is a major factor in traffic crashes.

4) Take rest stops to ward off fatigue.

5) If you topped off the holiday feast with a few drinks, wait to start the trip home.

"A slight delay," says the TSA warning, "can do more to insure holiday fun than an extra 20 minutes with the family or 'making it home before dark'."

TUESDAY CALLER

Mrs. Joe Chester had as a caller Tuesday afternoon her sister, Mrs. E. C. Hudson of Earth.

FAMILY VISITS

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Schaefer were their daughter, Miss Margaret Schaefer of Topeka, Kans., and daughters and families, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Stephan, Wanda, Clinton, Janette and Linda of Lockney and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mull, Jason and John David of Lubbock. Fifth Grade Students Send Greetings To Fatally Ill Eight-Year-Old Girl

Students in Mrs. Esther Graham's fifth grade room compiled a cheer packet this week to send to Dreama Sue Hager of Cleveland, Ohio, an eight-year-old suffering from Dawson's encephalitis. The class mailed the incurably ill little girl a packet of letters just before Thanksgiving and received a thank you letter from her mother Wednesday.

The messages mailed this week included letters, poems and drawings with each student "doing their own thing." The notes include greetings such as Melba Lockett's "Dear Dreama Sue, I like to right to you because you are very ill and I am sorry about your sickness."

Original sketches in a wide variety include Christmas trees, houses decorated for the holidays, a colorful calendar for December and a creative fireside drawing.

Poems selected for the little girl are inspiring ones such as "Christmas is so nice and all, I just don't know what to think at all. Christmas is to open gifts but that's not all, Christmas is to go somewhere but that's not all, Christmas is Christ's birthday."

Particularly interesting letter has it's message written in the outline of a basketball and tells how "we were playing basketball and we were losing twenty-four to zero. Then when it was the second quarter we got mad and starting playing better. When it was the third quarter we were ahead thirty-eight to twenty-six. When the game was nearly over we won."

Dreama Sue's address for other boys and girls who'd like to write or send cards is: Dreama Sue Hager, 2980 Nursery Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio 44127.

HOLIDAY SWEETS FOR FAMILY AND FRIENDS

Don't let the price of good candies deter you from your usual holiday gift package including sweets. Make your own. A batch of fondant flavored and colored to suit your fancy and used to stuff dates, apricots or prunes make an extraordinary addition to a package. A peanut sponge or brittle gives a nostalgic touch and a mixture of caramel sweet nuts and popcorn will delight all. Here are the directions.

Fondant Stuffed Dates

1/3 cup margarine
1/3 cup Karo light corn syrup
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 pound confectioners' sugar, sifted
Pitted dates

Blend margarine, corn syrup, vanilla and salt in large mixing bowl. Add confectioners' sugar all at once and mix in, first with spoon, then kneading with hands. Turn out onto board and continue kneading until mixture is well blended and smooth. Store in cool place. Makes 1-1/3 pounds.

To make stuffed dates, shape fondant into small finger shaped rolls and stuff into pitted dates. Roll in granulated sugar. Makes enough fondant to stuff 1-3/4 pounds of dates.

Peanut Sponge

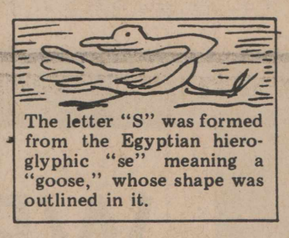
3 cups sugar
1 cup Karo light or dark corn syrup
1/2 cup water
3 cups salted peanuts
2 teaspoons baking soda

Stir together in heavy 4-quart saucepan sugar, corn syrup and water. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until sugar is dissolved and mixture comes to boil. Continue cooking, without stirring, until temperature reaches 280°F. or until a small amount of mixture dropped into very cold water separates into threads which are hard but not brittle (soft crack stage). Gradually stir in peanuts so mixture continues to boil. Cook, stirring frequently, until temperature reaches 300°F. or until a small amount of mixture dropped into very cold water separates into threads which are hard and brittle (hard crack stage). Remove from heat. Stir in baking soda quickly, but gently. Immediately pour onto 3 greased cookie sheets. Cool. Break into pieces. Makes 2-1/2 pounds.

Crispy Caramel Popcorn And Nuts

1 cup sugar
1/2 cup margarine
1/2 cup Karo dark corn syrup
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
4 quarts popped corn
1 cup nuts

Stir together sugar, margarine, corn syrup, salt and vanilla in 1-1/2 quart saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to boil and boils 5 minutes. Remove from heat; pour syrup mixture over popped corn and nuts in large shallow baking pan. Stir to coat well. Bake in 250°F. oven for one hour, stirring every 15 minutes. Remove from oven and stir mixture occasionally to prevent from sticking together while cooling. Store in tightly covered container. Makes 1 pound.



The letter "S" was formed from the Egyptian hieroglyphic "se" meaning a "goose," whose shape was outlined in it.

ABILENE GAS TEST!

Thank You To--

Tut Tawwater of KVOP Radio and Mancil Gilmer of the Hale County sheriff's department for volunteering one day of their time for a public interest gas comsumption test. These fellows drove a full size 1974 Pontiac Catalina sedan and a 1974 Cadillac Deville sedan belonging to Bill Cookston. They left Plainview at 8:30 a.m., drove to Abilene, Texas and arrived back in Plainview at 6:20 p.m. They observed all highway rules and cruised at 50 m.p.h. the entire trip. The gas mileage was 15.97 miles per gallon on the 1974 Cadillac and 21.79 miles per gallon on the 1974 Pontiac. These cars are standard cars in every respect and had not been checked previously for gas mileage.

After cleaning up, Cubs played race games.

Farmers Union President Speaks Out Against Plan

Texas Farmers Union President Jay Naman of Waco released the following statement regarding Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz's is coming to Temple Texas to announce a 'streamlining plan' for various USDA offices.

"Let me tell you, this Administration reminds me of ancient Rome. These guys are like Nero--fiddling while Rome burns.

"While the USDA is occupying itself shuffling desks around, cotton farmers all over Texas are facing a fuel crisis. It's a crisis that may mean losing some of our cotton harvest. And that's going to hurt the American consumer.

"This is not a fuel crisis caused by the lack of availability of diesel fuel. This is a crisis caused by more Administration fiddling.

"The Administration has given the farmers a lot of tough rhetoric and 'jawboning' about how agriculture is a top priority, but apparently everybody was listening but the oil companies.

"I've heard the Secretary say how he fights like a wounded steer for American agriculture. If he would just fight a little more like a Texas bull than a steer, he might be down her getting the farmers some fuel instead of some new addresses for ASCS offices.

"I don't want to quibble about the merits of his streamlining program. I am saying that this is not the time to be worrying about who sits where when there is an immediate and serious problem. The fact is that the fuel to fly the 270 state agency administrators into Temple and that fancy Jetstar that the Secretary flies down here to tell us about it can sure be put to better use.

"If all Butz has to worry about is the desk shuffling, a simple telegram would have been all the agencies would have needed."

FACT AND OPINION

Ice cream has tantalized the taste buds of the likes of George Washington, Dolly Madison and King Charles I of England. Many are the guises and nicknames of ice cream, but Americans--as diversified a people as the dessert they love--are agreed upon this: ice cream is here to stay. Americans aren't alone in theri love of ice cream; the whole world gulps down 10 billion ice cream cones a year. And to think that the ice cream cone was created only 69 years ago at the World's Fair in St. Louis.

"When the cry is raised," writes the Arizona Farm Bureau Federation, "that we cannot afford to buy food today, what is really meant is 'I'm having some difficulty making payments on a second car!' Nowhere else but in America does the average wage earner have two cars, an air conditioned home and two TV sets. This is possible because in this country we spend a relatively small percentage of our income on food--15.7 percent this year."

"The Interstate Commerce Commission believes a six percent rate of return is necessary for the railroads. Our own industry economists say it shoud be 10 percent. Last year the American railroads again failed to average even three percent. Clearly these low earnings--deficits on some railroads--are a deplorable drain on the ability of carriers to give adequate transportation service. Thus the public loses."
