US Inflation Rate Slowing

Retail Food Prices Fall

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumer prices increased four-tenths of a per cent in January as the first decline in retail food prices in five months helped slow the rate of inflation, the government said today.

The Labor Department said the January consumer prices were reported on a seasonally adjusted basis. In December, consumer prices increased five-tenths of a per cent.

For the 12-month period ending in January, consumer prices increased 6.8 per cent, the lowest 12-month increase since July 1973 when prices had risen 5.7 per cent.

Wholesale prices have not increased at all during the past three-month period.

The Ford administration is forecasting an inflation rate of just under 6 per cent for 1976, and the January increase in prices was well within the target period. If continued for 12 months, the January inflation rate would lead to an over-all hike in consumer prices of only about 4.8 per cent in the year.

The Labor Department said a decline in grocery store food prices of four-tenths of a per cent during January partially offset a big increase of prices of services of 1.1 per cent. Services prices were pushed upward by a postal rate increase and higher medical costs and auto insurance rates.

Gasoline and motor oil prices fell 1.6 per cent in January, also contributing to the slower inflation rate.

Among foods, there were lower prices in January for pork, poultry, beef and fresh vegetables. The decline in pork and poultry prices were especially sharp, the department said.

Prices of commodities other than foods increased two-tenths of a per cent in January, the smallest gain in the commodities index since a similar increase in September of 1973.

The Labor Department said its consumer price index in January was 166.7, meaning that consumers had to pay $166.70 for goods that cost only $100 in 1967.

The Labor Department also said that spendable earnings of workers increased two-tenths of a per cent in January and were up 4.3 per cent for the 12-month period ending in January.

The steady increase in the amount of money workers have to spend in recent months has been a major factor in the nation's recovery from recession.

Consumer prices increased five-tenths of 1 per cent during December, and the administration has indicated it would be satisifed with a similar increase for January.

Wholesale prices have not increased at all during the past three-month period.

Consumer prices rose during the final three-months of 1975 at an annual rate of 7.6 per cent, down from an 11 per cent rate a year earlier, and the administration is hopeful that the over-all price rise during 1976 will be less than 6 per cent.

The Agriculture Department said Thursday that food prices should remain virtually stable until mid-year, at least. It said the retail price of foodstuffs should increase no more than 1 per cent during each of the first two quarters of the year.

Walter Buckel of the Lamesa Press-Reporter rates last Tuesday's blow at about '6' on the "Sandscale."

He said a newcomer to the community inquired how it would rate.

"It was our opinion that Tuesday's duster would rate about a '6'—and that hopefully we would not have opportunity to experience any 7's and up before the 'season ends'."

Farmland News reports that the lowly gourd may be on the verge of attaining some prestige in the agricultural world.

Dr. Charles W. Deyoe of Kansas State University was quoted as saying that seeds from gourds run about one-third protein content and that they yield more edible fat than soybeans. It could be a valuable additive to bread to boost protein content, it was noted.

These were not fancy gourds, either. Dr. Deyoe said they were "just common buffalo gourds that grow about anywhere under the worst of conditions."

One little record can turn an entertainer's career around. Tommy Hart of the Big Spring Herald, noting that the rodeo people over here still had not signed a celebrity to appear at their 1976 show, said several were under consideration, but they were not likely to sign Freddie Fender. A year ago, Hart says, they could have had Fender for $500 a week. Since then, Fender recorded a song titled "When the Next Teardrop Falls" and it changed his situation considerably. He now asks $7,500 a night.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, Feb. 20th the 51st day of 1976. There are 315 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1962, John Glenn became the first American to orbit the earth. After being launched from Cape Canaveral, he circled the earth three times and made a safe landing in the Atlantic.

On this date:

In 1437, King James I of Scotland was murdered in the Scottish city of Perth.

In 1792, President George Washington signed an act creating the U.S. Post Office.

In 1809, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that the power of the federal government is greater than that of any individual state.

In 1938, Anthony Eden resigned as British foreign secretary, charging Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain with appeasement of Nazi Germany.

In 1967, President Sukarno of Indonesia surrendered all executive power to General Suharto, keeping only the title of president.

In 1972, President Richard Nixon arrived in Peking for a historic meeting with officials of Communist China.

Ten years ago: Communist China accused U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk of threatening a major war and declared that China was ready to take up the challenge.

Five years ago: North Vietnamese troops defending the Ho Chi Minh trail overran a South Vietnamese outpost and besieged two others in sharp fighting along the border of Laos.

One year ago: President Ford signed a bill raising the U.S. debt limit.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, the revolutionary Committee of Safety in Virginia rejected an offer by British Governor Lord Dunmore to go to England to try to bring about reconciliation with the American Colonies.

Nixons Leave For China

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former President Richard M. Nixon leaves today for the People's Republic of China, where four years ago he carried out the most spectacular diplomatic mission of his White House years.

The Boeing 707 jetliner sent by his Chinese hosts to take Nixon, his wife and a group of aides to Peking touched down at Los Angeles International Airport about 6:30 a.m.

After arriving from Vancouver, B.C., the jetliner went to an out-of-the-way hangar where the Nixon party was expected to board. Take off was expected about noon.

The former president is to arrive in Peking on Saturday after a flight by way of Anchorage, Alaska, and Tokyo. His arrival is scheduled exactly four years to the day after he arrived in 1972 to re-open relations that had been shut off for more than two decades between the two countries.

In Washington, meanwhile, the White House said President Ford "is considering various options" to deal with the possibility that some businessman will go to court to sieze the Chinese plane when it lands in Los Angeles.

A White House spokesman said Ford knows of no such plans but that a claim against the airplane is a possibility.

Such a suit would seek confiscation of the plane as reparations for property in China owned by U.S. interests and seized by the Communists when they came to power in 1949.

Justice Department spokesman John Russell said the Chinese government might respond by asking the State Department for immunity from U.S. court actions, though the United States and China do not have formal diplomatic relations.

Kissinger And Geisel Talk Trade

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger discussed trade with Brasilian President Ernesto Geisel today after announcing an agreement to be signed Saturday recognizing Brazil as a world power and the United States' closest Latin-American ally.

Kissinger spent nearly an hour with Geisel. U.S. officials described the discussion as pleasant, with the Brazilian leader expressing satisfaction over Kissinger's assurance that he would work to improve the trade relationship.

The secretary was spending most of the day in meetings with Brazilian leaders, including a lengthy lunch with Foreign Minister Antonio Francisco Azeredo da Silveira.

Brazil has been concerned about so-called countervailing duties that can be placed on Brazilian goods sold to the United States. Such duties are imposed to make up for subsidies paid producers in Brazil.

In a dinner toast Thursday night at the start of his three-day visit Kissinger indicated the Ford administration would try to convince Congress to ease the duties.

Kissinger announced the new agreement with Brazil in the same toast and said it provides for American consultation with Brazil on "all events of international significance."

Free Fined, On Probation

Gary Lee Free was sentenced to a 7-year probated term and fined $200 after a jury in 132nd District Court found him guilty of involuntary manslaughter.

The penalty was levied by District Judge Wayland G. Holt after Free waived assessment by the jury. He was charged in the death of Norma Kay Fraley who was killed in a traffic crash here last Oct. 19. She was a passenger in a car driven by Free which was in collision with a truck on the northwest corner of the Snyder square.

Mysterious Foreigner Best Paid

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators say a mysterious foreign official is emerging as one of the best-paid of Lockheed Aircraft Corp.'s foreign consultants.

Lockheed documents show that the aircraft firm paid $8.3 million to the official in 1973 and 1974 and that $4.5 million is still owed him. However, Treasury Secretary William E. Simon, chairman of the panel that oversees the government's loan guarantee to Lockheed, said he has been assured the additional sum won't be paid.

Investigators under Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, said they don't know what country the official is from but that he apparently also is an officer of a government-owned airline.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, chairman of the Senate panel on multinational corporations, said today he has no knowledge of the unidentified official.

Church said his subcommittee is trying to find out the names of foreign government officials who received Lockheed funds. Officials of the company have said they don't know the names of the recipients.

Responding to questions in a meeting with reporters, Church also labeled as baseless any suggestion that his panel and the U.S. government are helping the governments of Japan and other foreign countries to cover-up the identities of officials involved in Lockheed payoffs.

Church, who has formed a committee to explore the possibility he might enter the race for the Democratic presidential nomination, also described as "laughable" accusations that the recent payoff disclosures were triggered by considerations of American politics.

Stunned Demos Work On Substitute Job Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stunned by their failure to override President Ford's veto of a $6.1-billion public-works jobs bill, congressional Democrats are trying to figure out what kind of substitute measure they can offer.

There were plans in Congress to seek a compromise jobs measure, including talk of giving quick consideration to other pending job-creating legislation.

Two Republican-sponsored bills offered as alternatives to the vetoed measure would provide aid when the unemployment rate nationwide topped 7 per cent and the aid would go to localities where the rate was above 8 per cent. The national rate in January was 7.8 per cent.

The cost of one bill was estimated at $780 million in the first year and would provide funds for community development in those areas of high unemployment.

"This is really a bitter disappointment," said House Majority Leader Thomas P. O'Neill Jr., D-Mass., when told the Senate had fallen three votes short of overriding Ford's veto, 63 to 35.

A few hours earlier Thursday, the House voted to override by 319 to 98, a margin of 41 votes.

Ford got the news on board Air Force One, flying to a campaign swing through New Hampshire. He was described as "elated" and claimed a political victory over the Democrats.

He called the jobs bill "election-year politicking. It was pork barreling of the worst kind."

Democratic leaders were shocked by the defeat of the measure, which they had said would generate up to 600,000 jobs.

Robert Strauss, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, had termed the struggle over the bill "a political issue" during a meeting with several big city mayors and Democratic Senators on Wednesday and had warned that "If we can't beat him (Ford) on this, we are in big trouble."

Hans G. Tanzler, mayor of Jacksonville, Fla., and president of the National League of Cities, which had lobbied hard for the bill, said his organization was "profoundly disappointed the President saw fit to deny this emergency aid and that some senators succumbed to the administration's campaign to frustrate the expressed intent of Congress and the hopes of state and local government."

Dinner Theatre Tonight Saturday

Performances of the Western Texas College dinner theatre are scheduled tonight and tomorrow night in the Student Center on campus.

Tickets are to be purchased in advance and are available at both banks downtown, at Snyder Drug and at the Fine Arts division office.

"Play It Again, Sam," written by Woody Allen, has been selected for this year's production. Dinner will be served at 7 p.m., with the play to follow.

The dinner theatre is to continue Feb. 26-28.

Ford Escalates His Campaign

DOVER, N.H. (AP) — Escalating his new bare-knuckles campaign, President Ford is accusing challenger Ronald Reagan of advocating "backdoor socialism" and ducking fights he may not win.

As Ford flew to the Dover-Portsmouth area to wind up his second campaign swing through New Hampshire, political adviser Rogers C.B. Morton told reporters he thought Ford's sharpened language is paying dividends.

"I think we're going to win handily," Morton said, speaking of the New Hampshire primary next Tuesday, the nation's first presidential primary this year. "The pendulum is swinging."

Morton suggested that Reagan, who has campaigned here much more actively than the President, "has overworked this state."

Buoyed by today's Labor Department report that consumer prices increased only four-tenths of one per cent in January, at least partly because of the first decline in food prices in five months, Ford contended his administration is besting inflation.

"What we've done is really get a handle on one of the most insidious, adverse economic factors," the President told a breakfast meeting of businessmen in Dover.

In remarks prepared for the breakfast, Ford had repeated his plans for overhauling the nation's intelligence agencies.

But the businessmen who faced him did not come up with the kind of challenging, politically-tinged inquiries that prompted Ford to lash out at Reagan with new vigor at his first stop of the New Hampshire trip Thursday.

In Keene, Ford said Reagan had proposed investing part of the Social Security trust fund in the stock market. Fielding questions at a "public forum" in a steamy high school gymnasium, Ford declared:

"That's the best blueprint for backdoor socialism I've ever seen."

But Reagan aides say the former California governor does not advocate investing Social Security funds. They say Reagan merely noted that some economists, whom he did not identify, have suggested the funds could be "invested in the industrial might of America."

Ford told the gym crowd that Reagan is trying to capitalize on ideas that are "easy to say" but more difficult to translate into action.

For example, Ford declared, "It's easy to say we ought to cut $90 billion from the federal budget and toss a lot of worthwhile programs to the states." But he said it wouldn't work the way Reagan says.

Rich Man, Joe Pope Found Dead

DALLAS (AP) — In 1971 Joe Bradley Pope, at the age of 28, became the beneficiary of a trust fund set up by his great-aunt that gave him $70,000 a year for the rest of his life.

He only enjoyed it five years. His body was found Tuesday in a lonely field 100 yards away from his abandoned car. He had been shot twice through the chest. A .357 Magnum revolver was found next to the body.

A medical examiner said the wounds were self-inflicted.

It was the end of a life that apparently went sour in the last few years and changed a man who was described by friends as a "Joe College type" into a troubled personality in conflict with the law.

Arrest for driving while intoxicated in 1972 and 1973 were followed by an indictment for murder in the death of George W. Picazo, 35, who had served six prison terms. The shooting, described as a blazing gangland-style rubout, never reached trial because of what officials said was lack of evidence. In August 1973 Pope's residence was raided and police officers said they found heroin and cocaine.

Less than two weeks ago, Pope was convicted of possession of heroin and he was to be sentenced March 1.

Provisions of a 1971 trust set up by his late great-aunt, Ruby Kiest, who was the wife of Will Kiest, brother of E. J. Kiest, founder of the Dallas Times Herald, provided interest payments of about $70,000 a year to Pope as long as he lived.

Charles Tesmer, Pope's attorney, said of his client: "He certainly wasn't suicidal; he had been in a voluntary program to recover from his narcotics problem and his chances for probation were good."

'Trailhand' Vote Is On

Nominees for the titles are John Carin, Michele Graves, Randy Jackson, Grant "Hippo" Knipe, Tracy Moore, Stacy Payne, Darryl Smith, JoAnn Whitehead, Ronnie Wilcox and Debbie Young.

Presentation of the nominees and announcement of the winners is planned during halftime of the double header basketball game with Howard College Monday night in the coliseum.

Panel Is Stalled On Stamp Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Agriculture Committee has put over until next week its deliberations on the major issue before it of how much family income should be enough to get by without food stamps.

But before concluding its third day of drafting Thursday, it voted 8-5 to reverse an earlier action that would have eliminated many elderly couples from the controversial program's rolls.

President Ford, meanwhile, whose proposal for wide-ranging overhaul of the $5.4-billion-a-year program is one of five the panel has been weaving together, was reported to have put the "finishing touches" on a plan to bypass Congress.

If the Senate committee's product is unacceptable to him, he would put into effect by regulation next month most of his proposals, House Minority Whip Robert H. Michel said.

Ford wants to trim $1.2 billion off the program's budget.

Administration budget specialists say that those savings have to start by May 1 or the Agriculture Department may need to seek a potentially politically embarrassing $500 million in extra funds to meet September payments.

Congressional leaders do not foresee passage of a final bill before June.

3 Mishaps Are Reported

Three minor accidents were investigated by the Snyder Police Department yesterday. The first occurred at 1:51 p.m. at 3000 Ave. X. The parked 1973 Pontiac owned by Mary Beth Jacob was hit by an unidentified vehicle.

At 4:54 p.m., a two-vehicle accident occurred on the Parking lot of Roe's Furniture. Involved were a 1969 Buick LaSabre driven by Faye Joyce Polk, Hermleigh, and a 1975 Chevrolet Monte Carlo owned by Irene Jones Durham, 3797, Ave. Y.

The third mishap occurred at 7:38 p.m. at 1806 College Ave. Involved were a 1967 Pontiac Grand Prix driven by Antonius Garcia, Rt. 2, Box 55-A, and a parked 1969 Pontiac Grand Prix owned by Weldon Buchanan, 1811 Nineteenth St.

Jack Expects Dad To Win

Flu Similar To Swine Virus

ATLANTA (AP) — The National Center for Disease Control has reported an outbreak of influenza in humans similar to a virus found in swine — and recalling the flu of a half-century ago that killed 500,000 Americans and 20 million persons worldwide.

A CDC spokesman said Thursday there is no immediate cause for alarm and that any major outbreaks of the disease could be controlled by modern vaccines. But, he said, precautionary steps are being taken, including consultation with the World Health Organization.

An Army recruit died Feb. 4 in an outbreak of the new Influenza A strain which affected five persons at Ft. Dix, N.J., said Dr. H. Bruce Dull, assistant director for programs for the CDC.

A spokesman at Ft. Dix said the recruit was David Lewis, 19, of Ashley Falls, Mass. He said four other soldiers had been hospitalized with the flu.

Dul said isolated cases of the virus in humans have been confirmed in the past but that the CDC has never before recorded an outbreak, which the center defines as several cases in one location.

Another CDC spokesman, Don Berreth, said scientists were unable to segregate flu viruses until the 1930s, so scientists do not know what virus was involved in the 1918 pandemic.

But he said many persons born in the period 1918-1930 have antibodies in their blood similar to the flu virus found in swine, leading some scientists to believe that a swine-type flu was involved in 1918.

"There is no way to be sure whether the swine-type virus was associated with that," Dull said.

Added Berreth, "The virus is similar to the swine-type. Whether that is simply a curiosity or significant we don't know."

The agency has asked state and military officials in New Jersey and elsewhere to evaluate all flu outbreaks in light of the developments at Ft. Dix.

Other outbreaks of influenza have been reported to the CDC this winter, but of a different strain.

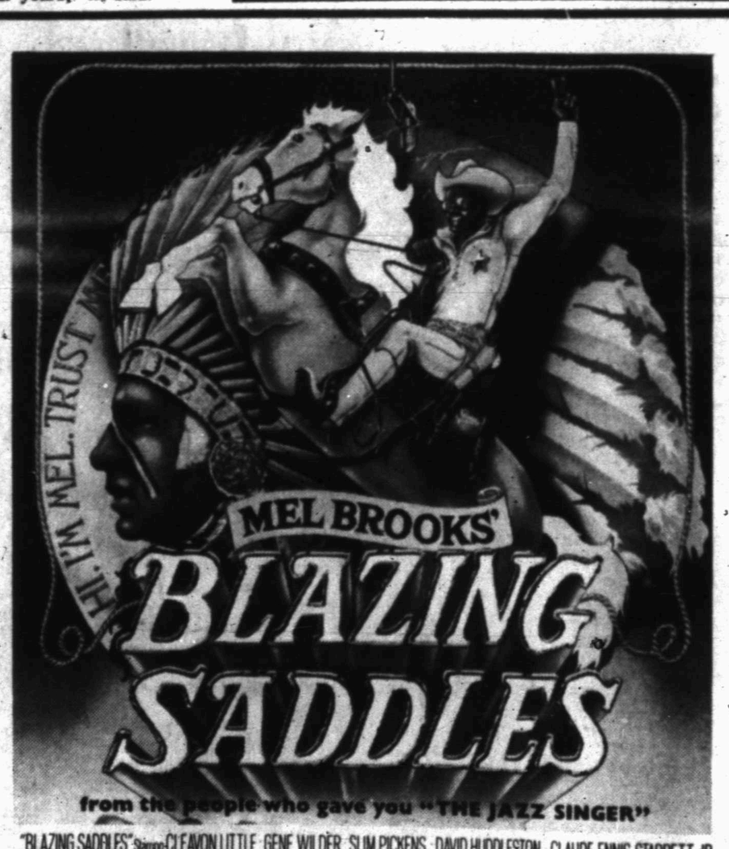

Scottish and Irish families made the first settlement at Pembina, North Dakota, in 1812.

Wife's Insults Douse His Flame

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1976 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have been married for over 30 years and have reached an age where we need separate bedrooms to get a good night's sleep.

When a little fire of passion burns within me, I go to the wife's room and tactfully suggest that a little physical togetherness would be pleasant for both of us.

Does she say she has a "headache"? No. She merely starts a monologue with something like, "If you hadn't bought that stupid oil stock, we could have gone on a vacation this year." (I think you get the idea, Abby.)

Naturally, this line of chatter turns me off like a $1.98 alarm clock, and I go back to my room, feeling rejected and saying to myself, "I'm going to leave that woman." But I never do, and then I get to thinking maybe next time she'll forget these things and put out the fire in the proper manner.

Too rarely she does. Mine is a sad case for which I'm afraid there is no solution.

NEEDS LOVE

DEAR NEEDS: You're right. Yours IS a sad case for which there is no solution. But I'll print it anyway because misery loves company, and it may comfort the miserable to know they are not alone.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are getting a divorce. We have a 2-month-old baby. When our baby was 3 weeks old, I caught my husband with another woman.

To teach him a lesson I filed for a divorce, thinking it would make him regret what he had done and he would beg me to take him back. Well, it didn't work, so now I am getting a divorce from a husband I am still in love with and don't want to lose.

Maybe if you print this it will make people think twice before they file for a divorce they don't want. Sign me...

FOOLISH IN FLORIDA

DEAR FOOLISH: You are even more foolish if you don't get in touch with your husband immediately and tell him exactly how you feel. It may not be too late to pick up the pieces. It's worth a try.

DEAR ABBY: I am a wife and homemaker who enjoys entertaining, and I am told I do it well. We recently entertained another couple in our home for dinner, and I prepared a delicious gourmet meal. (The man works with my husband.)

Before they left, the wife said, "I don't knock myself out cooking for company anymore, but I'd be glad to drive you uptown for lunch some day."

Abby, is that kind of invitation proper reciprocation for a dinner such as mine? My husband and I are interested in these people as a couple. It was not my intention to socialize at lunch with this lady alone.

How should this be handled tactfully if she invites me to lunch "uptown sometime"?

IN A BIND

DEAR IN: There's no way to tell her tactfully that you have no interest in seeing her without her husband. However, since that's the case, consistently and politely decline her luncheon offer and hope she catches on. (But don't hold your breath.)

Red hearts trimmed in net and tall tapers decorated the tables. Name cards and programs of red hearts trimmed in white stitching and suckers complete the decorations.

Master of ceremonies was Fred Kesner. Invocation was given by Joe Hall and the benediction by Myron Calley.

Entertainment was presented by Jerry Neil and youth of Snyder.

Consumer Food News

COLLEGE STATION—Canned produce may be one "best buy" at Texas grocery stores currently.

Canned fruits and vegetables as "specials" are more numerous now, and "they're excellent alternates for the more expensive fresh stocks," Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt says.

At fresh vegetable counters, "good" prices appear on cabbage, carrots, broccoli, rutabagas and turnips—along with acorn and butternut squash, she added.

Mrs. Clyatt is a consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricutural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

She described prices on tomatoes, radishes and green peppers as "reasonable."

Potatoes, however, are showing price increases due to a smaller crop this year, and the specialist recommends comparing prices on fresh, frozen, canned and dehydrated potatoes to determine the best buy.

"Grapefruit and oranges reflect both pleasing quality and cost—but the Temple orange and tangerine seasons are almost over."

At meat counters, frver chickens have "reasonable prices," but consumers in the market for beef or pork should compare prices on cuts of meat as well as among various grocery stores, Mrs. Clyatt said.

"In buying beef, first compare prices of chuck cuts, steaks, rib roasts and ground beef among markets.

South looked over dummy and thought to himself, "Why does everything happen to me? Why couldn't I be allowed to play a safe and sure six spades?"

South won the diamond lead and rattled off four rounds of trumps while West chucked two hearts and East two hearts and a club. Then South cashed dummy's other high diamond, ruffed a diamond, cashed the ace and king of hearts and dummy's last trump. He discarded a club. East chucked his last heart and West the jack of diamonds.

The moment of decision had arrived. East and West were known to hold five clubs between them. The sixth card was the eight of diamonds.

Both East and West had discarded in a manner to make it impossible for South to know where the eight of diamonds was. They also had given no clues as to the location of the really important club queen.

You readers can all see that queen of clubs in the East hand. As for poor South, he went wrong and played West for the queen of clubs.

Ask the Jacobys

A Toronto reader asks us what we think of the law of symmetry.

This law has no basis in play. It was invented by Ely Culbertson some 45 years ago when he needed something to write about. There is nothing to it. If your side holds nine spades the other four will divide 2-2 exactly 40.7 per cent of the time irrespective of how your hearts, diamonds and clubs are divided.

Bob Cummings' Trial Postponed

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP) — Actor Bob Cummings, charged with telephone fraud, has won a postponement of his trial while a panel of state Supreme Court justices hears additional arguments.

Cummings, 65, was scheduled to go on trial in King County Superior Court March 1 on criminal charges of unlawfully possessing a telephone "blue box" and using it to commit telephone fraud.

The television and theater personality was arrested last Dec. 16 in Seattle, where he allegedly made $4,500 worth of illegal long distance telephone calls from his hotel room.

Broncos Do It 3rd Time

ROSWELL, N.M.—The Western Texas College Westerners had their chance to cinch a conference title, but blew it here Thursday night. It was NMMI's third victory over WTC this season, and WTC has lost only five.

New Mexico Military Institute wouldn't allow it as the Broncos defeated the Westerners, 76-70. WTC still has a good chance to win it outright, but now must defeat Howard College and Odessa both to make certain. Howard comes to the Scurry County Coliseum on Monday night to challenge WTC.

At the start Thursday night it appeared NMMI would blow WTC away with ease. The Broncos had 11 points before Lawrence Butler hit two for WTC at 16:44. Butler then added four more to close it to 11-6, but the only other time the first half the Westerners were within five was at 11:30 when the score read 17-12. NMMI had pulled out to a 34-19 advantage with 5:24 remaining in the period and WTC could get no closer than 42-29 at intermission.

Things looked up early in the second half as WTC got eight quick points before NMMI scored. Then baskets were exchanged with NMMI keeping the edge from six to 10 points. Then with only 3:50 remaining the hosts led by 11 and WTC seemed doomed to slaughter. Larry Orton fouled out with 6:25 remaining and Butch Person exited via fouls with 3:50 showing on the clock. Then as the clock hit 2:22, Darryl Smith hit a free throw that ignited a heart-stopping, last-minute thrust. Stanley Covington got 2 and Butler 8. Meanwhile they held NMMI to two free throws the final 2½ minutes, but WTC couldn't catch up.

Dave McConico hit 31 points for NMMI to lead all scorers. Butler had 26 for WTC, while Smith had 16 and Person 14.

"We didn't play a very good first half," said WTC Coach Mike Mitchell. "We knew we had to be emotionally up for this game. We just weren't. We lost our poise when we came within six. Instead of working the ball in, we took long shots and missed. They played a semi-stall and we chased the ball all night."

Mitchell expects a tough game out of Howard College in Snyder on Monday night.

"This will be especially tough after beating Frank Phillips 116-115 last night," he reasoned. The Hawks on in overtime.

Elsewhere, Amarillo kept pace by downing Odessa, 75-65, Clarendon defeated New Mexico Junior College, 80-69, and Midland College edged South Plains, 73-72.

Ali Is Overwhelming Favorite Over Coopman

SAN JUAN (AP) — The heavyweight championship comes to Puerto Rico for the first time tonight, pitting Muhammad Ali, a man who has made millions of dollars from the title, against Jean-Pierre Coopman, whose purse will top his previous total earnings.

Ali is an overwhelming favorite to beat the unranked Belgian despite a bothersome cold and less than top condition.

The scheduled 15-rounder is set for the 12,000-seat Roberto Clemente Coliseum and will be televised live to the United States by CBS from 9 to 11 p.m. EST. The fight is scheduled to start at 9:45 p.m.

Ali, who is getting $1.1 million for his 17th appearance in a championship fight, worked out Thursday, then went to the Coliseum where he weighed in at 226 pounds, only 1½ pounds more than he scaled for his classic victory over Joe Frazier last Oct.1.

Coopman, a sculptor of religious statues, weighed 206 for his big chance. He will get about $100,000 for tonight's fight. His previous biggest purse was $12,400.

The weigh-in lacked any of the flair that has marked previous Ali weigh-ins where the champion often gestured and screamed at such opponents as Frazier, George Foreman and Sonny Liston.

It does Ali little good to shout at Coopman because the 29-year-old Belgian speaks only Flemish and doesn't understand a word Ali says.

Coopman goes into the title bout with a record of 24-3-0 with 16 knockouts. Most of his opponents are unknown outside of Europe and he has fought only once before outside of Belgium, losing a decision to Harald Skog in Norway.

For Ali, who spent much of the time in the days leading up to the fight talking about future matches rather than about Coopman, the fight will be his 52nd in a career which began in 1960 and was interrupted for 3½ years because of his refusal to enter U.S. Military Service.

Ali's record is 49-2-0, with 35 knockouts. His only losses were to Frazier and Ken Norton, both of which he avenged.

Ismael Quinones Falu of Puerto Rico will be the referee, and the Puerto Rico Boxing Commission will select the two judges before the fight. Scoring for the bout will be under the 10-point must system with 10 points to the winner of each round and nine or less to the loser.

There also will be another championship fight on the card, featuring Alfredo Escalera of Puerto Rico, the World Boxing Council junior lightweight champion. He will meet Jose Fernandez of New York.

Escalera will be making the third defense of the title he won from Kuniaki Shibata of Japan last year. It will be his first appearance as champion in Puerto Rico. This fight will not be televised.

Discipline Vital, Declares Bellard

Self-discipline, a sense of responsibility and a sense of values will never go out of style, declared Emory Bellard, athletic director and head football coach at Texas A&M University at the Snyder Booster Club's All-Sports Banquet last night.

Times change and interests may vary, but there is one thing that is "the same today that it was 100 years ago, and it will continue to be the same 100 years from now," said Bellard. That is, the world will be looking for young men and women who are capable of self-discipline."

Comparing life itself to athletic contests, Bellard said that some fundamentals are essential and they always will be.

"I would be wasting my time if I tried to get a football player to control another one on an opposing team if he is not in control of himself," the A&M coach said.

"Wouldn't it be wonderful if we could control our emotions instead of our emotions controlling us?" he asked.

Responsibility and a sense of values are basics that must be cultivated if there is to be success in any endeavor, whether on the athletic field or in other pursuits, Bellard said.

Bellard spoke to a packed audience in the Snyder High School Cafeteria, which included members of all athletic teams in Snyder High School, Booster Club members and other guests.

Prior to Bellard's address, Maurice Hodges, athletic director and head football coach at Snyder High School, presented the 1975 "Fighting Heart Award" to Pat Dryden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dryden. Dryden distinguished himself as an athlete on both offensive and defensive units and on specialty teams during the 1975 football season.

"He made an unbelievable catch, he was a top performer on our defensive team and a key man on our kicking team," declared Hodges. Dryden's name goes on a permanent plaque in the SHS trophy case.

Hodges also introduced coaches and players of the various teams in all men's women's sports at Snyder High School.

The Rev. Miller F. Robinson, pastor of Colonial Hill Baptist Church, was master of ceremonies for the banquet. Dane Witherspoon, president of the Snyder High School Student Council and a member of the varsity football and basketball teams, gave the invocation.

The program concluded as the audience was led in singing the Snyder High Alma Mater by the varsity cheerleaders, Margie Simpson, Debra Davis, Kathy Jones, Mitzi Ayers, Tammy Lee and Sheila Tate.

Bellard flew here by private plane, arriving shortly before the banquet began and he left immediately following the banquet to return to College Station.

Old Sam Snead Has Amazing 67

By JACK STEVENSON
AP Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — His straw hat covers the bald pate and his wide West Virginia smile shows satisfaction as the 63-year-old Sam Snead continues to show the youngsters that the oldsters have something left.

"It's great, no, in fact, it's fantastic that a man Sam's age can play as well as he does," declared British Open champion Tom Watson, 26, who like Snead fired a four-under-par 67 in Thursday's opening round of the Glen Campbell-Los Angeles Open.

Both Snead and Watson were one stroke behind the leader, Tom Jenkins, 28, of Houston, but the old man still commanded the attention. Except for a double bogey on the fifth hole when he hit a tree with his tee shot and banged a limb with his second.

"Other than that I played pretty well from tee to green," said Snead whose 34-year-old nephew, J.C. Snead, won the $180,000 Andy Williams-San Diego Open just last Sunday.

J.C. had said he thought Sam might win another big tournament but personally kind of doubted it.

"I think that's about right," the slammer of yesteryear admitted. "I've been weighing between 190 and 195 the past 10 years. If I could get in better physical shape, I'd have a good chance."

But his club duties interfere with any further all-out tournament play. As an ex-champion, Snead came to Los Angeles for the Golden Anniversary celebration of the Los Angeles Open on Tuesday. He played par golf, better than the others of his era.

Jenkins, the leader, won the Philadelphia Classic last year for his only PGA victory since joining the tour in 1972.

The Texan carded five birdies without going over par on a hole. His putts for birdies ranged from two to 15 feet but generally it was his iron game that put him in subpar position.

Maravich Hurt During Practice

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — High-scoring guard Pete Maravich of the New Orleans Jazz was listed as questionable for tonight's National Basketball Association game against Phoenix due to an eight-stitch cut over his right eye.

Jazz General Manager Bill Bertka said Maravich was accidently struck by an elbow during practice Thursday.

Also injured in practice and listed as questionable tonight was the other starting guard, Louie Nelson, who sprained his ankle.

Jr. High Tennis Team Nips Forsan

The Snyder Junior High Tennis team got off to a slow start Thursday against a good Class B varsity team at Forsan, losing five of the first six matches they played. However, Neal Paige and Randy Hodges finally broke the ice in doubles by winning their match over Greg Ward and Gary Burgess, 8-4, and the Snyder Junior High went on to win a 11-7 team victory.

Girls Singles

Connie Weber has yet to regain her winning form, losing her second match this week to Marcia Nichols 0-8. Donna McGee defeated Elena DeLos Reyes 8-3. Martha Womack defeated, the other sister, Luisa DeLosReyes by the same score 8-3. Kim Harlin defeated Lisa Day 8-2. Belinda Scott won over Deidra Fuller 8-2 and Shelley Grosshans made it five to one in favor of her team by defeating Kim Daniels 8-3.

Girls Doubles

Weber and McGee were defeated by Nichols and E. DeLos Reyes 8-3. Harlin and Womack followed suit by losing to L. DeLosReyes and Daniels 8-3. Scott and Grosshans almost won their match over Day and Franks but their effort fell just a little short and they were defeated 8-5.

Boys Singles

Darrell Calvert defeated Steve Calley 8-4. Mark Scott won a close one over Gary Martin 8-6. Scott Marler played a good strong high school athletic named Allen Hollingsworth and lost by the score of 9-7. Rodney Babcock won, a good battle of left handers, over Ricky Davis 8-6. Randy Hodges went in doors and defeated Greg Ward 8-3. Neal Paige won over Gary Burgess 8-2.

Boys Doubles

Calvert and Marlar were defeated by Richardson and Decker 8-3. Scott and Babcock lost a close one to Calley and Walker 8-6. Paige and Hodges started the team on their way to victory by winning over Ward and Burgess 8-4.

Next action for the local junior netters will be Saturday morning when they entertain two teams from out of town, Lubbock Mackenzie and Big Spring Goliad. The local team is now 3-0 in dual matches.

Dr. Lamb

Hypoglycemia is controversial

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have low blood sugar (hypoglycemia). The first doctor I went to says I'll never be completely cured, but my symptoms would become less severe. I've just gone to another doctor who says it can be cured. Who am I to believe?

The first 5-hour test showed blood sugar levels at 60 and the second test at 75 which I was told was in the normal range.

Am I cured or just under control? I also suffered from numbness first starting in my upper lip and spreading to my hands and feet until my whole body was numb, but I never fainted. Was this hyperventilation or was it caused by the insulin level being too high at that time? My big attacks only happened when I was driving. The first doctor said I should see a psychiatrist. Will this help?

Also, I have heard that hypoglycemia is not a diagnosis, but a condition. There are three different types of low blood-sugar and I have the functional type. Why didn't my doctors find the cause? I would appreciate any literature on the subject you might advise me to read.

DEAR READER — First things first. I'm not at all sure you ever had hypoglycemia. A report in the New England Journal of Medicine in 1974, pointed out that 23 per cent of a normal population had blood glucose levels below 50 and had no symptoms at all. Other studies note that 42 per cent of normal people have such levels and values as low as 34 and 37 have been noted by several different investigators in perfectly normal people with no symptoms whatsoever of low blood sugar.

Your value of 60 doesn't impress me. No diagnosis of low blood sugar or hypoglycemia should be made unless the low blood sugar can be demonstrated at the time symptoms are observed and the symptoms can be corrected by raising the blood sugar. Anxiety and hyperventilation (which may be caused by anxiety) cause symptoms similar to those noted in hypoglycemia. That is probably why the first doctor suggested that you see a psychiatrist. If you have anxiety that would not be a bad idea, not to cure low blood sugar problems but for the proper treatment of anxiety.

For more information on low blood sugar send 50 cents for The Health Letter, Number 3-9 Low Blood Sugar: Hypoglycemia. Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing. Address your letter in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551 Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Whether or not you cure low blood sugar depends on if you have it in the first place and what causes it. If it is caused by a tumor of the pancreas producing too much insulin, removal of the tumor cures it. If low blood sugar is a response to diet and rapid emptying of the stomach a proper diet may control it.

The problem with blood glucose values is that they do not give information on the levels of glucose inside the body cells, particularly the vital brain cells. The blood sugar may be high and the level inside the cells low, causing symptoms. This can happen to a diabetic. Insulin helps transport glucose into the cells. Without enough insulin the blood sugar may go up and the amount inside the cells go down. On the other hand if the sugar is so low that not much is getting into the cells you will have the same problem. This is why diabetics and people with significant low blood glucose often have the same symptoms, such as fatigue. Energy comes from the breakdown of glucose inside the cells not in the blood stream. If the cell level is low from any cause the person will be tired.

Fierce Winds Hit West Texas

By The Associated Press

Fierce winds raked West Texas today as a fresh batch of nasty weather headed into the state from New Mexico.

At the same time humid air pouring inland from the Gulf of Mexico spread low clouds over Central and East Texas, helping to set up a threat of possibly severe thunderstorms by evening. It was mostly clear in West and part of North Texas.

Forecasters posted wind warnings for the Panhandle-Plains sector and far West Texas as a new Pacific front approached with a load of much colder air. Travelers were cautioned to expect wind gusts of 60 miles per hour or more in West Texas mountain passes and up to 50 m.p.h. or more in the rest of the affected areas.

A special advisory also warned motorists about blowing sand and dust, noting that visibility was apt to drop to only a few hundred feet downwind from open and unplowed fields.

Early morning temperatures were unusually mild in most sections, ranging from 70 degrees at Corpus Christi on the coast down to 34 at Dalhart in the Panhandle. Thursday afternoon's top marks reached as high as 86 at Dallas and Junction and 87 at Corpus Christi.

Forecasts promised increasing thunderstorms tonight in the north central and northeast parts of the state.

HOW TO SELECT THE RIGHT NURSING HOME

We Americans are not just living longer, we're living more useful, productive lives.

But an increasing number of the chronically ill, the old, the convalescent, need some place other than the hospital and their home where they can receive personal health care, round-the-clock attention and the opportunity to continue to live their lives with meaning.

As your community extended health care facility we want to help you make the right decision. Here are some guidelines: See your family physician to determine the kind of care needed; feel free to visit our facility; ask us for our costs in writing and financial advice about Medicare and Medicaid; examine all of our facilities; check our food quality; verify our safety features; and finally, observe how our residents spend their time.

There's a lot more to selecting the right nursing home. We want to help. If you have any questions, please call or visit us.

PICTURES OF SILVER

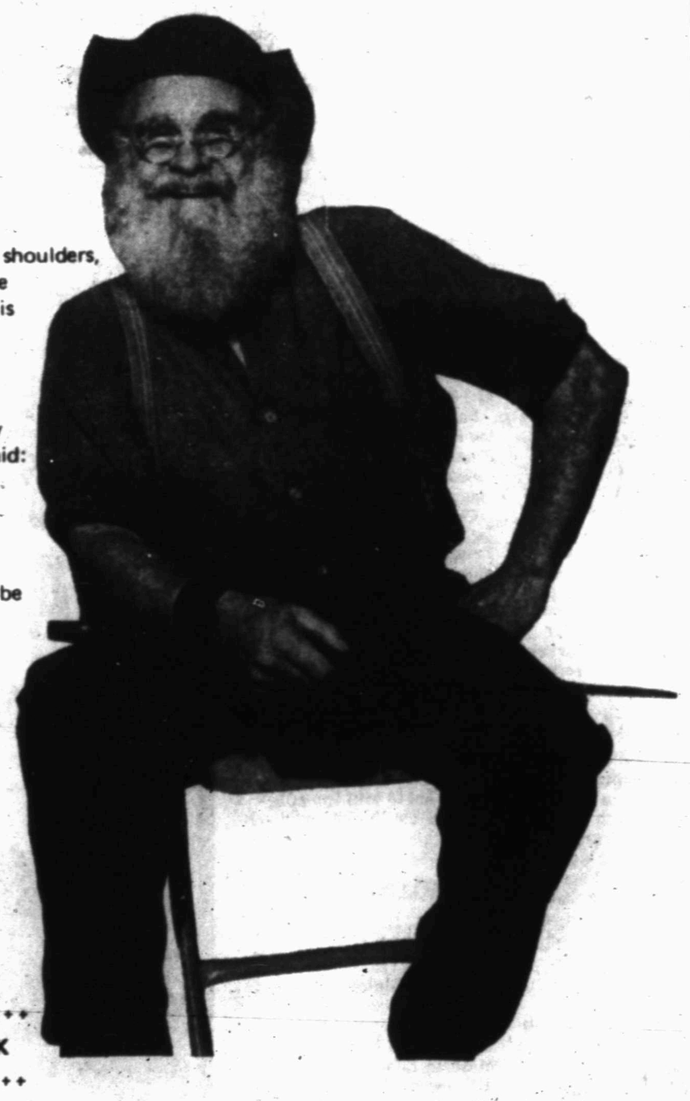

It is mighty easy to shrug your shoulders, after you have committed some wrong and say, "Well, nobody is perfect," as if that excused all our sins.

One old timer, whose theology was superior to his grammar said:

"I ain't what I oughter be;
I know that.
But I ain't what I uster be,
neither; and, praise God, I ain't yet what I'm a gonner be either, by His Grace."

Some poet put it more beautifully: "The satisfied flower is one whose petals are about to fall."

No man, no church, can expect to grow if fed on the husks of yesterday's achievements. In God's house one will find a necklace of beautiful tomorrows!
