Senate Secretary quits $37,500 job

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Senate Secretary Charles Schnabel, recently convicted of a misdemeanor charge of official misconduct, announced today he is quitting the $37,500-a-year job he has held for 20 years.

Schnabel and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, who wanted to replace him as chief administrator of the Senate, met jointly with reporters in Hobby's office to announce the decision.

"Charles Schnabel has served the Texas Senate well and faithfully for 24 years. He has now decided to seek other opportunities to serve, either in the private sector or elsewhere in state government. I wish him every success in whatever he undertakes," Hobby said in a statement read to reporters with Schnabel standing at his side.

Schnabel, 44, said he would serve until he gets another job or until the Senate convenes in January, whichever comes first. The Senate elects its chief officers, and Schnabel said he would not seek re-election.

"I'd like to get involved in some kind of work where my basic disposition can be manifest," Schnabel said, adding that he prefers work that involves "doing for others."

The secretary of the Senate is in charge of virtually all phases of Senate administration, from payroll to personnel to overseeing the sergeant-at-arms.

Schnabel was convicted of official misconduct Sept. 16 after pleading guilty to assigning Senate secretaries to do typing chores for the Texas Relays in 1975.

Dist. Atty. Bob Smith then dropped five felony indictments against Schnabel, who was fined $2,000 and given a one-year probated sentence.

Schnabel maintained that "I didn't receive a penny" from any of his alleged misdeeds, including the use of Senate employees on his ranch and salary kickbacks that he claims he spent on curtains and a stereo phonograph for Senate offices.

Hobby said he had no candidate in mind for the new Senate secretary and declared he did not know whether Schnabel had enough votes to keep the job if he wanted it.

"To occupy the position of secretary of the Senate . . . requires a broad consensus," Hobby said, meaning more than a simple majority.

Schnabel said when he was convicted that he wanted to stay on the job. "I don't know," he replied when asked what changed his mind. He said resignation had been on his mind for three or four months.

Husband's death makes two widows

SIOUX FALLS, S.D. (AP) — When South Dakota's director of economic development died three weeks ago, he left a wife and four children in Pierre. He also left a wife and five children less than 200 miles away in Sioux Falls.

Bob Martin's double home life surfaced because attorneys for both families inquired about his estate after he died of a heart attack on Oct. 16 at the age of 52.

State Atty. Gen. William Janklow confirmed the arrangement Sunday and said an investigation was under way, although he said he had "mixed feelings" about it. "All it's going to do is wreck the innocent kids. And on top of it, their father's dead," he said.

Patricia Martin, the Sioux Falls wife, said Sunday that she did not know there were two families. Someday, she said, she would like to talk to the wife in Pierre.

"I feel very sorry for her also," she said. "It was just as much a shock to her."

Mary Lou Martin, the wife in Pierre, was asked Sunday about the situation, and said: "This is not fact." She declined further comment, and her attorney, Gary Colwill, said he planned to file for the estate on Monday. He said he had been unable to find a will.

Jack Allmon, who as South Dakota's secretary of economic and tourism development was Martin's boss, described him as a reserved and quiet man who didn't socialize much. But Allmon added that he knew the family in Pierre, and he described it as "very close."

It's not known when Martin married the Pierre woman, but the youngest of their children was said to be about 12 years old.

Allmon said a son in the Pierre family had worked in the state tourism department the last two summers.

Martin traveled frequently between Pierre — the state capital — and Sioux Falls, where his division was headquartered. He maintained an office in Pierre.

Attorney Steven Jorgensen, who represents the Sioux Falls wife, said she married Martin in 1968. He said he had not been able to find the marriage license. The youngest child of that marriage reportedly is 14 months old.

The wife in Sioux Falls said Martin spent Christmas and other holidays with her. Martin's last salary checks and his personnel file have been impounded by the state pending a legal determination of how to administer the estate, Atty. Gen. Janklow said.

He said the Minnehaha County grand jury would be convened, and would take testimony from several people, including the wife in Sioux Falls.

Two days before Martin's death, Janklow said, he received an anonymous letter about Martin's double life. He said Martin died before he could ask him about it.

Roger Brown to succeed Nelson as chamber prexy

The Chamber of Commerce board of directors met at noon today and elected Roger Dale Brown to serve as president for the year 1977. Brown will succeed J. D. Nelson whose term expires in December of this year.

Brown is a local attorney in the firm Brown, Bancroft & Miller and is a native of Big Spring. He graduated from the University of Texas in 1958 with A.B.B.A. and received his LL.B. in 1969. He served as state representative of the 78th District in 1965 and 1966.

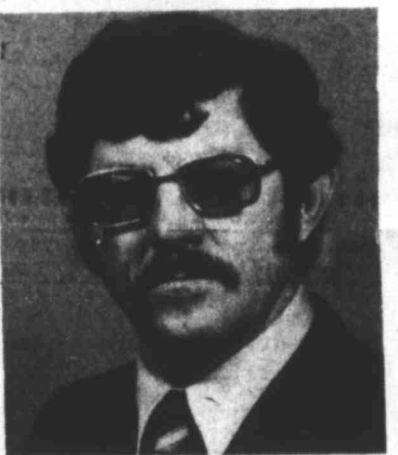

At the present time, Brown is a director on the Chamber of Commerce board, a director of the Big Spring Industrial Foundation for the past two years and is now serving as chairman of the chamber's industrial team.

He is a charter member of the Ambassador Club of the Chamber of Commerce and has worked as a director of United Way and formerly a Jaycee and ABC vice-president.

Brown and his wife, Anna Mae, reside in Silver Heels and have one son, Dale.

New chamber directors who will serve three years are Bob Moore, Mrs. Johnnie Lou Avery, Jack Redding, Walter Wheat, and Daryl Hohertz.

These five will replace outgoing directors Ted Hatfield, Dr. Clarence Peters, Aureil LaFond, Bob Brock and Ralph Brooks.

Their terms also expire in December.

Holdover directors on the chamber include Ray Don Williams, Al Stephens, John Arrick, Dr. Emmett McKenzie, Andy Swartz, Charles Bell, Clyde McMahon Sr., Dr. Henry Butler, Winston Wrinkle and Temple Kern.

Newly-elected credits GOP 'establishment'

DALLAS (AP) — Carl Thomas Jr., elected last week as the first ever Republican Dallas County sheriff, ousted incumbent Democrat Clarence Jones with belated help from the GOP "establishment."

Thomas, a 32-year-old ex-deputy and ex-Marine, will be sworn in Jan. 1 as the new sheriff, having beaten Jones 218,389 votes to 196,269.

But just six months ago he had passed a GOP primary test by less than 1,000 votes.

Then local Republicans, believing that Jones was vulnerable because of alleged bail bond irregularities and the highly-publicized slaying of an inmate during his term, took Thomas under their wing.

Most of his campaign funds came through $20-$50 contributions generated by GOP women's clubs.

Mrs. Natalie Kern, one of the women who boosted Thomas, summed up the victory: "I feel like I've been through war," she said.

Joe Graham, vice president of IDS Mortgage Co., took up the financial cudgel for Thomas in the latter stages of the campaign and put a little more money into the coffers.

However, television advertising was out because the funds wouldn't stretch that far.

'You people do good work'

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the early morning hours on the day after the elections, with the presidential race still undecided, Jimmy Carter was on the phone with George Meany telling the head of the 14-million-member AFL-CIO: "You people do good work."

Organized labor turned out its troops in what has been described as the biggest, most expensive, best organized and most sophisticated campaign in behalf of a presidential candidate.

MIDLAND — Two of three persons killed late Sunday in a head-on car-truck collision in Martin County still remained unidentified this morning, according to the Midland office of the Department of Public Safety.

The accident occurred 27.2 miles north of Midland on US 349 in Martin County.

Driver of the car has been identified as Antonio Rodriguez Salava, 35 of Midland. The two unidentified persons who were passengers in the car are a man and woman and approximately middle-aged, according to the DPS office.

All three were pronounced dead at the scene by Stanton Justice of the Peace M. L. Gibson.

Driver of the truck was Willis Brooks, 50 of Odessa. He is not injured.

According to DPS officials, the truck was carrying caustic soda and caught fire after the collision, hampering investigation of the accident.

A spokesman from the DPS also said that the Salava car was passing another when the collision occurred.

The bodies of the three dead persons were taken to Thomas Funeral Home in Midland where services are pending for Salava.

One other three-fatality wreck and two plane crashes swelled the Texas weekend violent death toll into double figures Sunday.

A Brownwood man, his wife and small child died late Saturday when the automobile they were riding was struck by another vehicle that was being pursued at more than 100 miles per hour by police units. The victims were identified as Curtis Eldon Nicks, 24; his wife Betty May, 23, and their two-year-old son Curtis Jr. Police said Gilbert Saldana of Odessa, who was hospitalized with injuries after the wreck, was charged with murder

Three persons perish in Martin County crash

Sunday. Two Houston youths died Friday night when a private plane crashed into a field in Northwest Harris County. They were identified as Peter Carl Baechle and Mitchell Drew Kaye, both 17.

Anita Mae Wright, 43, of Dallas, died Saturday when two private planes collided over the Denton Airport. Witnesses said Mrs. Wright was making her first solo flight at the time of the accident.

Robert Lujan, 30, of Corpus Christi was killed Sunday when he was struck by a car while sitting on his motorcycle in a parking lot. Officers said the driver of the car was arrested.

Officers said JoAnn Allen, 36, was shot to death Sunday in Marshall and her husband, James Edward Allen, 42, was charged with murder. Officers said Allen was in the Harrison County jail in lieu of bond Sunday night.

Jack Bauske, 55, of Longview, died in a fire Saturday while attempting to save the life of his wife and a visiting couple from Garland. Firemen said the victim's wife, Bonnie, suffered second degree burns and Mr. and Mrs. Cooper Goodson of Garland were not injured.

The body of an unidentified headless man was pulled from the Sabine River near Tatum Saturday. Officers later found the head in the same river. Officers said the man was shot three times in the head.

Ronald L. Gandie, 18, died Saturday when he was struck by a car at Houston.

TURNED AWAY — Rev. Clennon King, pastor of a nondenomination church in Albany, Ga., talks with the press Sunday after finding the doors to the Plains Baptist Church locked for the second straight week. King said he would be back next Sunday and try again to attend church services. President-elect Jimmy Carter is a member of the church but is on vacation at St. Simons Island, Ga.

Focalpoint

Action/reaction: Racial woes

Q. Is there someone anywhere who is a professional in straightening out racial problems in public schools?

A. If there is, no one appears to know who it is. Locally, racial problems in public schools have been handled by counselors who are qualified to handle problems of all races. If the questioner means problems concerning racial balance, rather than racial problems; these of course are handled by the Department of Housing, Education and Welfare in Washington D.C. Big Spring has been very lucky in having few serious racial problems within their schools. They have one of the first high schools to have been integrated in all of Texas. Through the years, minority racial students have won many of the top honors at the school by their own merit and popularity.

Offbeat: Not in season

Deer season apparently started early for a motorist inside the city limits of Big Spring in the early morning hours today.

A small buck deer, which had been hit by a vehicle, was found on US 87 near the Town and Country Shopping Center by Boyce Hale, along about daylight.

The deer apparently lived on either South Mountain or Scenic Mountain and had come down for a drink of water at Comanche Lake. This was probably the first deer run down inside the Big Spring limits in many years.

Mayors prepare urban strategy

CHICAGO (AP) — Mayors of the nation's largest cities today formulated a new urban battle plan calling for immediate emergency aid for jobs and creation of an Urban Development Bank. The mayors' urban strategy will be presented to Congress and President-elect Jimmy Carter with a stern warning that federal urban programs "are almost a nightmare of confusion." Newark, N.J., Mayor Kenneth Gibson, president of the U.S. Conference of Mayors, told 100 city officials here that "the Carter Administration must set a national tone of concern for urban America." Gibson said mayors should have access to Carter, suggesting it could be "through a vice president as an urban ombudsman or a domestic council in the White House with real urban clout. "The issue is to make the federal bureaucracy responsive," Gibson said. In an address that ended a two-day conference session to outline urban priorities, Gibson called on Carter to develop "a coherent national urban policy that includes consolidation and cohesion" of federal grant programs, which he said number 1,800. "Federal urban programs are now almost a nightmare of confusion," Gibson said. The cornerstone of what the conference is calling a "new national urban investment policy" is creation of the Urban Development Bank, which would provide low-cost loans to businesses for expansion and location in the cities and to city governments for economic projects. The mayors also will seek an emergency countercyclical jobs program "to shore up hard-pressed cities in deep fiscal trouble." Gibson also said Congress and the Carter Administration would have to provide "additional federal money" to aid troubled cities. Gibson did not say how much money the plan would cost. Mayor Coleman Young of Detroit in a television interview criticized Carter's representative here, Howard Samuels of New York, who was an undersecretary of commerce under Lyndon Johnson. Young said the cities would be in trouble "if they have to depend on Mr. Samuels."

SUNDAY DRIVER — Ronnie Sharp of 205 E. 23rd, was driver of this vehicle which went out of control and struck a parked vehicle belonging to Emma Adcock, 1203 Runnels, then veered across the street, went up into the yard and hit the front of the Farrar Kindergarten. The accident occurred at 3:57 p.m. Sunday. Sharp has been jailed here for a DWI, felony charge. He was out on bond of $3,000 from a DWI charge the previous night. Sgt. Claude Morris, at the left, was one of the investigating officers.

Bull terriers fight thwarted by raiders

CLARENDON, Tex. (AP) — Eight dogfights reportedly planned for 16 bull terriers were thwarted during a weekend armed raid in a Texas Panhandle thicket, federal and local authorities said.

After the site was spotted from a plane, FBI agents and sheriff's deputies armed with shotguns and automatic weapons raided the dogfights near Hedley Saturday and rounded up 200 persons, officials said.

Twelve of those arrested were charged with cruelty to animals. Three pleaded not guilty and the rest entered guilty pleas and paid fines ranging from $25 to $200.

It is a federal violation to transport animals across state lines to participate in activities such as dogfights, FBI agents said. They said those arrested were from as far away as California, Mississippi and Canada.

Donley County Sheriff Frank Lindsey said a 25-foot carpeted pit square had been built in the thicket along with a hospital clean-up area, concession stand and bleachers.

Eight fights were reportedly scheduled between 16 bull terriers, said Lindsey.

He said one of the organizers told him that the gathering would have ended within two hours if law enforcement officers had not raided them.

FBI agents said they received information late Friday that the dogfights

Military Troops snuff out duels

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Syrian troops, acting in their new role as the vanguard of an Arab peacekeeping force, moved through Palestinian-held territory toward Beirut today to snuff out continuing duels between Christian and Moslem artillery.

The Syrians moved out of their hilltop positions Sunday night as President Elias Sarkis pleaded with the Lebanese people to accept the temporary occupation in order to end their bloody 19-month-old war.

In the wake of the Christian president's broadcast plea, fighting decreased along the front line between the Christian and Moslem sections of Beirut. Hospitals and militia sources reported about 10 killed and 20 wounded during the night.

With an estimated death toll of more than 37,000 and billions of dollars in damage to property and the economy, Sarkis said there had been "enough bloodshed, enough destruction."

Items missing

According to Sheriff's Department reports, thieves entered the home of B. M. Newton, northwest of town, Sunday while the family was at church and left with several items, including a clock-radio, a .22 caliber rifle, a family ring, a pocket watch and an eight-place setting of silver.

The theft was reported when the family returned at 2:30.

Sears, Roebuck vital to economy in Texas

While Sears, Roebuck and Co. generally is thought of in terms of a retailer that sells merchandise, Richard Lowstetter, manager of the company's catalog store here, disclosed today the expansive impact of the company on the economy of Texas and Big Spring.

Lowstetter said that Sears, the nation's largest retailer: Buys merchandise from 418 suppliers in Texas. In 1975 alone, purchases from these suppliers totaled $484,614,000.

Paid more than $45,882,000 in state and local taxes, excluding social security and federal corporation taxes. Employs nearly 400,000 nationally, including 25,000 in Texas.

Operated 120 retail stores and 102 other sales and service facilities in Texas, including one store in the Big Spring area.

Has more than 30,291 shareholders in Texas, who own 5,335,044 shares of Sears stock. This includes some 19,562 employees who are members of the company's profit sharing fund and who own 1,877,750 shares of Sears stock in their individual accounts.

Nationally, Sears has more than 12,000 domestic suppliers, said Lowstetter. These suppliers are located in every state and supply the company with 93 per cent of the merchandise it sells.

"Buying goods from communities in which our sales units are located has been a long-standing company policy," he continued. "We feel this policy directly benefits the company and our shareholders, as well as the local communities and their residents."

"While the number employed by Sears suppliers has not been compiled, it is obvious that hundreds of thousands are employed producing the merchandise we sell," he said. "For residents of Texas, this means continued employment, maintained purchasing power and ad-

Farm Ag policy changes due

HOUSTON (AP) — Agriculture Commissioner John White predicted today there will be some significant and welcome changes in U.S. agricultural policy under Jimmy Carter.

"In the new Carter administration, farm policy decisions are expected to be more 'producer-oriented' than in the past," White told the Texas Watermelon Growers and Distributors Association. "In recent years, the farmer and his producer organizations were rarely considered and almost never consulted on decisions which had heavy impact on markets and prices."

White, who has been mentioned as a possible cabinet appointment for Secretary of Agriculture, also predicted that the policy of all-out production would be continued for some time. "However, I feel the new administration will be more sensitive to the risks this policy imposes on the producer," he said. "I don't think the farmers will be subjected to the sink or swim' federal attitudes of the past."

"U.S. agriculture, in general, will get more attention from the new federal regime than perhaps the past several administrations. The U.S. farmers' capacity to produce, and its importance in world affairs, will be more fully recognized."

Prices paid for cotton ranged from 70 to 75 cents per pound, reports B. B. Manly Jr. of the USDA Cotton Classing Office, Abilene. The higher prices reflect the high quality (grades 21 and 31) of the Martin County crop. Grade 31 and higher, staple 32 and longer was bringing around 75 cents. In the other markets, grades 41, 42 and 32, staple 31 and longer brought 69 to 71.50 cents per around 15,000 samples were processed during the week ending November 5. Most of the samples were from bales ginned before the heavy rains, but heavy backlogs of unginned cotton kept several gins running until producers were back in the fields, especially in Martin and Howard Counties. Cotton qualities cover a wide range.

Great Puzzle Contest

Identify this photograph and WIN $100

Below is a puzzle piece from a picture of a Big Spring area object or place. To the first person or persons who can specifically identify the object, the Herald will pay $50 — plus another $50 bonus if the winner is a home delivery or mail subscriber of the Herald, or a grand total prize of $100.

HERE ARE THE RULES: Each day, a different puzzle piece will be run in the Herald. Save them, and try to piece together the identification of the place. Your answer must be specific in form. Opinions of the judges are final. At 5 p.m. each day, the judges will review guesses which arrive at the Herald on that day. Entries arriving after that time will go in the following day's judging. Winners will be announced only at this spot in the newspaper on the next day. If there is more than one winner on any day, the $100 prize will be divided evenly among them.

Accidents do happen; phone cables are cut

Earthworms and telephone cables have two things in common: Both are safer underground, but both get dug up once in a while.

A real difference, though, is the intent of the person doing the digging.

"Few people, if any, would knowingly dig up a telephone cable," said Royce Brookmole, district manager for Southwestern Bell. "But cable breaks do happen here — primarily because of construction going on."

Brookmole cited Seminole's growth rate as the reason for the fast-paced building activity. He said 90 per cent of telephone cable installed to meet growth is placed underground, "both for protection from the elements and for a more attractive environment."

"By going underground, the cable isn't as susceptible to bad weather," the district manager said. "Moisture in the wires can disrupt service, and burying the cable usually solves the problem."

But when underground cable is cut, the result is always the same — phones stop working. At best, that means real inconvenience for telephone users. At worst, it means a customer facing an emergency might not get help in time.

Brookmole explained if a cable that carries long distance calls were to be severed, entire communities could be isolated from the rest of the world.

Brookmole also said a severed telephone cable can mean extra expense for those responsible. For example, when a contractor fails to notify the telephone company of excavation plans and cuts a cable clearly indicated by a Southwestern Bell marker, the firm often is held financially responsible for the damage.

"A call to the telephone company's toll-free Enterprise 9800 number — before digging — can prevent service interruptions," Brookmole said.

After dailing the operator and asking for Enterprise 9800, a contractor or customer is connected with a telephone company employee.

The calling party is either told where cable is buried in the area or a cable locator is dispatched to the site to map out cable routes.

Brookmole added that the contractor or customer should call the company's toll-free number at least 24 hours before digging operations start if they notice any underground phone cable warning signs around the construction site. There is no charge for this service.

Quakes hit Iran, Greece

By the Associated Press

Earthquakes hit Iran, the Philippines, Greece and Japan and one was reported in China during the weekend and today. A volcano erupted in Indonesia. Casualties reported were 16 dead and 32 injuries in northeast Iran.

A duty officer at the National Earthquake Information Center in Golden, Colo., said he believed there was no connection among the weekend quakes.

The Iranian quake occurred Sunday morning (11:01 p.m. EST Saturday) and registered 6.2 on the Richter scale. Most of the casualties were reported in the mountain village of Vandik, 400 miles northeast of Tehran, where all of the 150 mudbrick houses collapsed.

The Hong Kong observatory reported a quake in southwest China early Sunday morning (1:07 p.m. EST) measuring 6.3 on the Richter scale. The observatory said the epicenter was about 970 mile west-northwest of Hong Kong and about 205 miles northwest of Kuming. There was no confirmation from the Chinese and no report of casualties or damage.

A quake measuring 6.3 on the Richter Scale shook the eastern half of Midanao island in the southern Philippines early today (11:11 p.m. EST Sunday).

Industry at the crossroads — Quite an impact

by Tom E. Roy

Industrial Manager, BS Ch. of Commerce

A lot of people have asked what impact Highwood Products will have on our economy, so here are some figures prepared by the Texas Industrial Commission and the Governor's Office, and are considered by many to be fairly conservative calculations.

These figures are based on what products will be made and with an employment figure of 150 people.

New Employment	150
Total Employment Generated	303
Annual New Taxes Generated:
Federal	$50,054
State	27,436
Local	35,186
Direct Annual Output of Firm	$3,105,787
Total Annual Economic Impact on our Local Economy	$8,445,132

When asked what prompted their decision to locate in Big Spring, several factors were given that proved interesting. They included: Availability of a building (reasonably priced), location of the town (access to I-20 and U.S. 87), availability of rail spur, and the attitude they perceived of the town wanting industry. That last item may not seem important to you, but it is surprising how many towns across the country do not promote and encourage industrial growth, rather they often discourage it. Unfortunately, these towns usually have so much going for them in the way of labor, transportation, location, etc., that they manage to get their share of new companies moving in.

It may be early to tell, but the outcome of last Tuesday's Presidential election could have an impact on our local economy. For one thing, the billion dollar Uranium Enrichment Facility proposed for the West Texas area is in serious jeopardy. It is doubtful that enough votes could be mustered to override a threatened veto by President-elect Carter.

The Humphrey-Hawkins bill and Mr. Carter's implied support of the repeal of the Right-to-Work law have companies very nervous. This could lead to a slow down of expansion plans for many firms. One thing is for certain; the present boom we are seeing in expansions is predicted to last for only 12-18 months. We will do our best to get our share at the Crossroads of West Texas before the boom is curtailed.

Seeks to liquidate Nowlin's property

LUBBOCK — Bill Brister, creditor trustee, has begun negotiations with prospective buyers of the remainder of Vaughan B. Nowlin's property.

Nowlin, a cotton broker, declared bankruptcy recently. One of the properties up for sale is a 3,600-acre ranch in Childress County.

Federal bankruptcy referee Frank Murray announced Friday he would wait at least 15 days before ruling on exemption requests made by Nowlin.

Other properties which Brister will seek to liquidate include a Vernon motel, several pieces of Childress rental property and an airplane.

Disabled vets to get increase in payments

Some 2.2 million veterans receiving compensation for service connected disabilities from the Veterans Administration will receive an 8 per cent increase in their monthly payments as a result of legislation signed into law September 30, by President Ford, according to Jack Coker, VA Regional Director.

The 8 per cent increase in monthly rates also was extended to nearly 320,000 surviving spouses and children receiving dependency and indemnity compensation from the VA. These payments to "eligible survivors" of veterans who died on active duty or from service-connected causes. Rates range from $260 to $664, based on the veteran's military grade at the time of his death.

The increases are effective October 1, and will be reflected for the first time in checks received November 1, Coker said.

The President's action also expanded a number of other VA benefits for disabled veterans.

An annual clothing allowance paid to disabled veterans was increased $15 to $190 under the new law. Almost 52,000 service-disabled veterans, requiring use of prosthetic or orthopedic appliances, qualify for the allowance to offset expenses incurred in wear and tear of clothing. The increase will be reflected for the first time allowances paid September 1, 1977.

Eligibility for the one-time allowance of not more than $3,300 toward purchase of an automobile was extended to certain disabled veterans with military service after September 15, 1940. Previously, eligibility was limited only to those who served after December 6, 1941.

The new law also increased the maximum limit on mortgage protection life insurance from $30,000 to $40,000 for disabled veterans who receive grants for Christmas Seals fight lung disease and are still doing so after 70 years. In 1907 a volunteer worker named Emily Bissell designed and sold the first Christmas seals in the United States to raise $300 to keep open a TB hospital in Delaware. Selling the seals in the post office lobby, Miss Bissell exceeded her goal and raised $3,000 that first year.

In 1976, volunteers continue to work to raise needed funds. Howard County volunteer advisors are Mrs. E. P. Driver, R.N. and Mrs. Harry Jordan, R.N.

The lung association has responded to the need to work with other lung diseases such as emphysema, asthma and bronchitis. This year's seals picture scenes of rural America spanning the years of the lung association's existence.

In the 32-county Big Country area of the American Lung Association of Texas, Christmas seal money is used to initiate programs teaching better breathing to children with asthma; to conduct training workshops for medical professionals that improve lung care services; to provide informational programs on tuberculosis, emphysema, asthma, and other crippling lung diseases; to furnish educational materials on the respiratory system and on lung disease to teachers, students and the public.

Nationally, Christmas seals fund medical education and research programs to find new ways to treat these diseases. Ideas generated by Christmas seal research come back to the local community to help the lung disease patient.

Limit on local tax base Catch line in plan

Gov. Dolph Briscoe has recommended that the State increase its share of the Foundation School Program to 90 per cent, with the remaining 10 per cent assigned to the districts on the basis of estimates of taxable value.

Dr. Emmett McKenzie, superintendent of schools in Big Spring, attended the conference. He and Don Crockett, assistant superintendent of business, reviewed the results of the meeting this week. "On the surface, it looks great, but there's a catch line," the administrators said here this week.

"One of the things the governor has promised to do is to put a limit on the local tax base and the amount has not yet been announced," Dr. McKenzie stated at the meeting said that a figure of $1 on the maintenance tax per $100 evaluation has been mentioned. At the present time, Big Spring has a $1.46 per $100 valuation rate," Dr. McKenzie added.

Crockett said that "if the cap is put on at $1 per $100, the local district would be short approximately $689,000 unless property was re-evaluated."

The governor's office, education resources, has just completed a 14-month market value study of all school districts and estimated the State's total taxable wealth as $238 billion.

In recommending the $640 million increase of state support, Briscoe said, "As education costs have risen, State support has not kept pace. Even with the increase in funding provided by H. B. 1126 (passed by the last session of the Legislature), state support only covered 75 per cent of the total cost."

The net effect of this recommendation will be a 60 per cent reduction in the amount the districts will contribute. The level of the local share will require approximately 9 cents per $100 in effective tax effort, compared to the existing 35 cents rate. Thus, with the State picking up more of the cost, there should be some relief for the local taxpayers. In fact, to insure that his recommendations will bring about taxpayer relief, the LAMESA — Lamesa Housing Inc. received support from the city council for its plan to construct a modern middle-income housing project in the southwestern part of town.

The city council last week agreed the housing could be built on two plots of land where streets had been previously designated. In effect, the city approved closing the nonexistent streets in the Hillcrest Addition to allow the construction.

The project for 48 units of one-and-two-bedroom duplexes will be financed through the Farmer's Home Administration, city secretary Ben Allen said.

How one paperboy sees his job

An advertisement appearing in magazines and on television tells of a paperboy, adding that he makes more money than half the people in the world.

The punch line is: The free enterprise system. Sometimes we forget how well it works.

Being a paperboy is a good job for a young man. It can be a tough job at times.

ONE OF THE Herald's paperboys wrote a theme for English 2nd at Big Spring High School on the subject. He is Scott Vick, 15, a sophomore. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Vick of 2305 Lynn. Scott holds the position of second chair french horn in the band. Here, from a portion of his theme, is how he views his job:

By SCOTT VICK, Paperboy

One of the best jobs in this town is running a paper route. Most paperboys do their route six days a week, spending about one to two hours daily depending on where your route is.

The papers come in what is called a bundle. Usually the bundles are dropped at the paperboy's house between 3:00 and 5:00 in the afternoon on weekdays. Sunday mornings are different, though. The bundles are dropped at the houses between 4:00 and 6:00 a.m. The papers are supposed to be at the subscriber's house by 7:00.

To receive your salary depends on how bad you want it. You (the paperboy) must collect ($3.00) from each monthly paying customer. The usual pay (for myself) is about $150. This is before I pay my bill which usually runs close to $90. My actual salary is about $60 per month making an annual income of about $720.

That is not bad for one hour per day. Like I mentioned before, your pay depends on how bad you want it.

AN INSURANCE policy is included in the contract. This fully covers hospitalization, disability and other benefits. The disability plan is put to good use when one is injured or sick. If you are unable to do your route, you receive $10 a week so you can pay your substitute that is doing the route for you.

Most substitutes receive $12 a week, so you have to pay $2 out of your own pocket. If you are not fortunate enough to have a substitute, the Herald Circulation Dept. will run your route for a steep $4 a day.

Some of my actual experiences as a paperboy bring back memories not to be forgotten. I have had my route for approximately four years, and of all my experiences, one stands out alone. Have you ever been on ice 1/2-inch thick? If you haven't, don't try it. I not only had to get out in it, but also rode my motorcycle (in the snow). . . . Luckily, I did not fall once.

The only rough times I have had is watching out for good old dogs (man's best friend, ha!).

Some advantages of having a paper route are being able to have $50 spending money per month and still have free nights. You also get all day off on Saturday.

Buckley down

William F. Buckley, Jr.

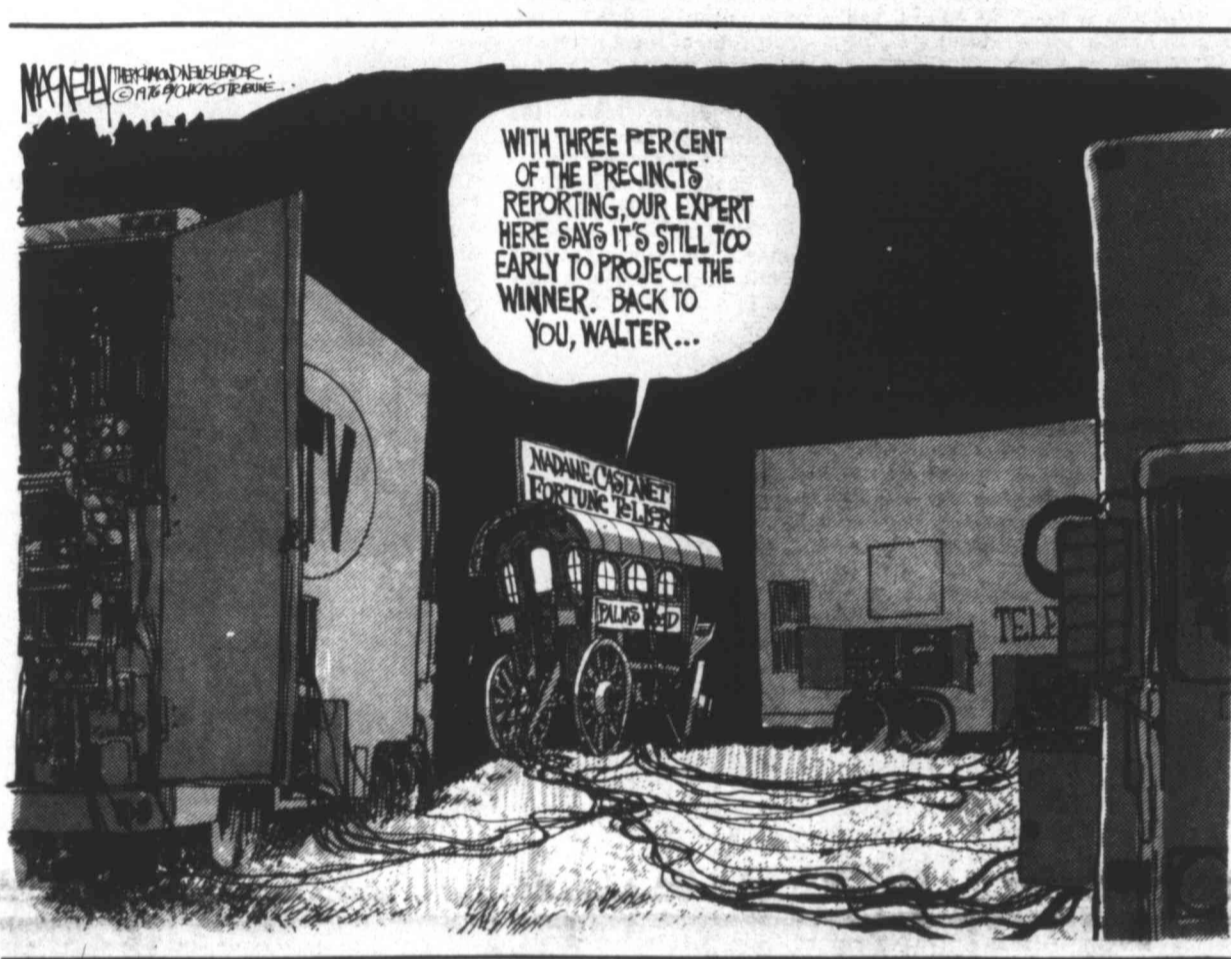

The loss by Senator Buckley (he is my brother) of New York might very well have happened in any event, up against Daniel Patrick Moynihan. For one thing, New York is the most liberal state in the country, and New York City is the nerve center of left-ideology. Patrick Moynihan, although he is an eloquent man, was not so eloquent as to persuade New Yorkers that he is as hare-brained as Bella Abzug in domestic politics, so he got the Moderate Democrats.

Still, it is widely acknowledged that Senator Buckley lost principally because of his positions a year ago on federal aid to New York City.

WHAT WAS THAT position? It began by recognizing that New York City could not redeem its bonds, thanks to a record of fiscal profligacy going back over the years, but hitting lunatic highs in the administration of John Lindsay (who, let us note in passing, was more invisible in the last campaign than Typhoid Mary). Senator Buckley joined Secretary Simon and President Ford in insisting that New York City needed to clean its own house. In due course, New York having agreed to a measure of self-discipline, Senator Buckley endorsed the help proffered by Congress, and backed by President Ford.

It was during the tensest period that the New York Daily News ran its famous headline, "Ford to City: Drop Dead." The New York Daily News has, over the years, had a most exemplary editorial policy, backing sensible proposals, and scolding ideological fanatics. Alas, the News beams its lectures to its readers, rather than to its managers. Economy, self-help, fiscal responsibility, are qualities you and I should practice, and maybe also Chicago, and Los Angeles. The News' enthusiasm for fiscal responsibility tends to be co-extensive with Lockheed's enthusiasm for capitalism. When their own turf is troubled, the rules are suspended. The News accordingly endorsed Moynihan, who in the course of the campaign offhandedly endorsed every inflationary proposal of the Democratic Party, but promised to do everything he could to milk other communities for the benefit of the Daily News' constituents. It requires subtler intelligences than my own to explain the News' simultaneous endorsement of Gerald Ford over Carter. In any event, that endorsement of Moynihan was critical.

THE NEW YORK TIMES, one reports happily, is scheduled very soon to do something about the awful embarrassment of its editorial page, which manages to combine in its more strident editorials an aridity of thought and a sibilance of tone. Thus the day after Buckley's defeat, it found itself nibbling away contentedly on the corpse, to wit: "The only occasion when . . . Senator James Buckley allowed events to draw on his store of energy and attention was the desperate moment when this city was about to plunge into bankruptcy. He then bestirred himself to wave the city on to its apparent doom."

Frozen shoulder stubborn to treat

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have had a lot of pain and shoulder discomfort the past four months. I don't know how it came on. It just started as a slight discomfort once in a while, then increased to daily sharp pains. Now it has progressed to the point where my doctor says I have a frozen shoulder joint. X-rays show no bursitis or other problems.

I'm told the only thing for it is stretching exercises for the joint. I try to do these, but the pain is great. I am in my 40s. What can you tell me about this situation? — C.C.

Frozen shoulder is the gradual result of inflammation of the membrane (the capsule) that lines the inside of a joint cavity where the two bones meet. Adhesions (scar-like formations) can occur inside the capsule and cause atrophy (shrinkage) of the tendons. With this the pain and stiffness comes on gradually, as in your case. Pain is felt when the joint is moved in any direction. This differs from a pulled muscle or torn ligament, where pain is experienced with movement in only certain directions.

Heat, rest and hydrocortisone injections will give much relief. As the pain subsides, special exercises such as rotating the arm while holding a light weight (Codman exercise) help loosen the joint. Another exercise is "crawling" the fingers up a wall. In doing such exercises you have to go a little beyond the point of pain. Moist heat, as from a wet compress, before and after exercise will relax the muscles.

If such measures don't help, then manipulation by one trained in the art, can be tried. This is usually done after injection of a local anesthetic. Sometimes a general anesthetic is necessary.

Shoulder pain, as you know, can be mighty stubborn to treat. A frozen shoulder usually results from lack of use of the joint.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can you advise what to do for heavy feminine odor? I have had a hysterectomy and had a checkup lately. Why the odor? — Mrs. V.E.

Strong body odor usually results from a combination of perspiration and bacteria on the skin. Since you apparently have no vaginal discharge I suspect this is your problem. The answer is thorough, frequent washing, possible with a medicated soap. Your physician can recommend one. Use of feminine hygiene sprays is a matter of trial and error.

It's possible that you may be exaggerating the intensity of the odor in your own mind — not unusual.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I work in a hospital and wear shoes which have the type of sole that makes your heels lower than the balls of your feet. Are these good for my feet? I have heard they are bad for the spine. Sometimes my calves ache slightly while wearing them. — M.S.

They are not good for your feet. Any change in the way we stand or walk is bound to have some effect on the spine, which may or may not adjust to such changes.

The only sensible rule is almost too obvious to note: if shoes don't feel comfortable, change them. Some people eventually adjust to this type of shoe. Others just can't tolerate them.

If changing your footwear has no effect, then you probably have basic foot problems. Knowing firsthand all the running around hospital employees must do, I suggest you begin treating your feet with the respect due them.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have read that arteriosclerosis and varicose veins can be reversed by proper diet and vitamin supplements. I have yet to meet a medical doctor or surgeon who agrees with this. Can you comment? — Mrs. H.C.

It doesn't make sense to me, either, because it does not occur.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: What can be done to produce strong leaders in America, or anywhere? We need strong, trustworthy Christians in positions of leadership, but where can they be found? — E.H.

DEAR E.H.: The kind of strength to which you refer, which involves a man's character, moral standing, principles and indeed his whole life, can be derived only from the Lord. God supplies a spiritual armor, and when covered with this protective garb, men can stand against all the temptations that the world puts in their way. "Be strong in the Lord, and in the power of His might. Put on the whole armor of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil" (Ephesians 6:10, 11). The armor is listed in verses 14 through 17 of that chapter.

These are the kind of leaders that the world needs, but such men must be brought up on the Word of God from their youth. Our task must be to teach the Scriptures at every available opportunity and to encourage the young to get a firm grasp of all that the Bible exhorts us to do — "I have written unto you, young men, because ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye have overcome the wicked one" (I John 2:14).

Everyone can do something to encourage the young to begin reading the Bible. Only in this way will the kind of leaders that the world needs so badly be produced.

Another important factor is the need for strong homes. It's been said, "The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world."

Other flubs

Around the rim

Danny Reagan

Last week's rim about flubbed-up headlines was such a rousing success, (probably because most of it wasn't from my head), that I have decided to follow it up with a similar rim about actual textual errors found in various newspapers.

I think the popularity of a rim of this sort stems from the fact that people enjoy other people's mistakes and would really rather be in a soap opera anyway. So, without further delay:

"Will the American working man be better off with a maximum of 30 hours per week? The American Federation of labor says 'yes.'" — Hertsch, Tex. paper.

"THE FEATURE of the day's program was a paper by Jim Corcoran, on 'Banking, Its Origin and Development Through from the Time of the Roman Empire to the Present Day.' Two minutes were given Jim to handle his task and he handled it splendidly." — Michigan weekly.

"A Jolly cab driver was convicted Saturday of putting oil of mustard on the seat of a Yellow Cab in City Court." — Memphis Press-Scimitar.

"Grant Dalton lay back in his chair, apparently at ease; Philip standing with one foot on the fender and the other on the mantel looked anything but happy." — Charlotte Observer.

"Which planet is larger, Juniper or Saturn?" — Clarksburg Telegram.

"The wedding of Miss . . . and Frederick . . . will take place next Monday, the mother of the bride to be announced late today." — Manhattan paper.

"The murder of the man and the finding of the body was followed by a series of tragedies, including the suicide of the murdered man." — Idaho Falls Time-Register.

"Anyone not able to pay and stating so, will be buried free of charge." — Sherbrooke Daily Record.

"THE REYNOLDSBURG Band will assist as usual in the Memorial Day program and will add snap to the occasion. Nothing adds dignity to a Memorial band." — Reynoldsburg paper.

"According to the complaint, Mrs. O'D. . . says her husband started amusing her three days before the marriage." — Huntington paper.

"Some of the boy's methods are quite ingenious, the professors at the Institute have found. For instance, when asked to multiply 20 by 24 mentally, he gave the answer — 600 — in a few seconds." — Pittsburgh paper.

"The annual Christmas party at the Ashley street school was held yesterday afternoon." — Springfield paper.

"If you happen to sit on the floor to put on shoes and stockings, do a flop, lift eggs in air, wriggle the toes." — San Francisco Call Bulletin.

"The beautiful deb was attired in an imported creation of jade-green crepe trimmed with ecru lace around the punchbowl." — Beacon paper.

"Columbia, Tenn., which calls itself the largest outdoor mule market in the world, recently held a mule parade, headed by the governor." — New York paper.

"Mrs. J. M. sued her husband for a divorce and separate maintenance, alleging that on the morning of May 4, he subjected her to the ignominy of being continued at the top of column 8." — Petersburg paper.

Reagan's last hurrah

Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — Ronald Reagan's great moment, as he came close to displacing an incumbent president before a wildly cheering Republican convention last August won't be his last hurrah. The darling of the conservatives is quietly planning a political comeback.

The plan took form as Reagan dutifully campaigned for the man who had defeated him for the presidential nomination. At first, he flirted with the idea of forming a third party if President Ford lost the election. But he rejected this idea as impractical.

Instead, he persuaded himself that he could use the GOP framework to restructure the party into a conservative bastion. He has decided to try, therefore, to reorganize the Republican Party.

REAGAN HAS confided his plans to a few intimates, who are rarin' to begin the new crusade. "We came out of Kansas City with 3,000 trained workers," one associate told us. "Our lists are intact. We've got tentative meetings in mind for December and January."

One meeting would be held in the West, perhaps Phoenix, the other in the South. "Count on it, Ronald Reagan will be an activist," promised the associate.

Another top aide from the Reagan campaign pointed out that the charismatic former California governor unquestionably is the spiritual leader of the conservatives. Two other national conservative leaders, Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., lost a lot of their credibility with conservatives by supporting President Ford at the Republican convention, the aide said.

A third Reagan lieutenant, while not ruling out a final shot at the White House by the 65-year-old Reagan, suggested that they might merely build a base for a younger candidate to pick up the conservative banner. Indeed, our source indicated that a search has already begun for a bright, tough, young conservative whom Reagan might groom for the GOP nomination in 1980.

Reagan's friends told us that his decision to forego a placid private life and return to the political turmoil was reached in the middle of the Ford-Carter campaign.

Reagan made more than 25 campaign appearances ostensibly to help Ford but more pointedly to push conservative Republicans who had risked their political necks to support him against an incumbent.

REAGAN SENSED that the hysteria of past conservative revivals had been replaced by a more stable affection and trust for their spiritual leader. At the same time, he felt that the president was blurring some of the issues in an appeal to the amorphous middle-of-the-road voters. So Reagan decided to try to give the electorate a cold, clean choice in 1980.

PARTY GIRLS — This is a postscript to the sex-in-Washington scandals. The Republicans used the issue against the Democrats during the campaign. For most of the congressmen who had been caught dallying had been Democrats.

At the Election Night gala for Gerald Ford and Bob Dole, the Republican hordes listened to speeches in the mail ballroom of Washington's Sheraton-Park Hotel about the moral decay of the Democratic Congress. But in the hospitality suites upstairs, visiting Republican bigwigs freely partook of the same moral decay. We sent our reporter Howard Rosenberg to check out the reports of partying in the Republican bedroom suites.

Posting as a campaign celebrant from the Midwest, he followed the joyous sounds to a lush suite where a party was hosted by a Ford Committee contractor.

The happy host led guests to various party girls, urging each girl, in turn, to "take care of my friend." The women then headed with the guests to hotel bedrooms. Inside the suite, meanwhile, the liquor supply seemed inexhaustible.

One of the party girls confided to Rosenberg that she and her friends were paid a flat fee for their night's work. She also offered another confession. Although they were prettily adorned with Ford-Dole campaign buttons, she whispered, most of the girls had voted for Jimmy Carter.

Footnote: A campaign spokesman assured us that the Ford officials were unaware that anyone associated with the committee was providing feminine companionship for the visitors.

PRIVILEGED ARABS — The State Department has quietly cut off special privileges that had been granted to Arab students in this country. For more than 20 years, students from Saudi Arabia and Kuwait were admitted on A-2 visas, which are normally reserved for foreign officials and heads of state. No other foreign students received this special status.

The Saudi and Kuwaiti students were singled out for preferential treatment because at first, they were all members of royal families. But this is no longer true. Therefore, Rep. Joshua Eilberg, D-Pa., complained to Secretary of State Henry Kissinger about the favoritism.

As a result, the State Department ordered the A-2 visas revoked by October 31, but an official told us that the search for A-2 carrying students probably will go on past the deadline. They have to be located first, he said.

Record price paid for Ackerly cotton

ACKERLY — Probably an all-time high price of cotton was paid for a bale at the Ackerly Paymaster Gin on Wednesday when C.W. Mahoney Cotton Co. of Big Spring paid a flat 80 cents a pound for a 457-pound bale belonging to Marvie Shortes, who has farmed in that area all of his life.

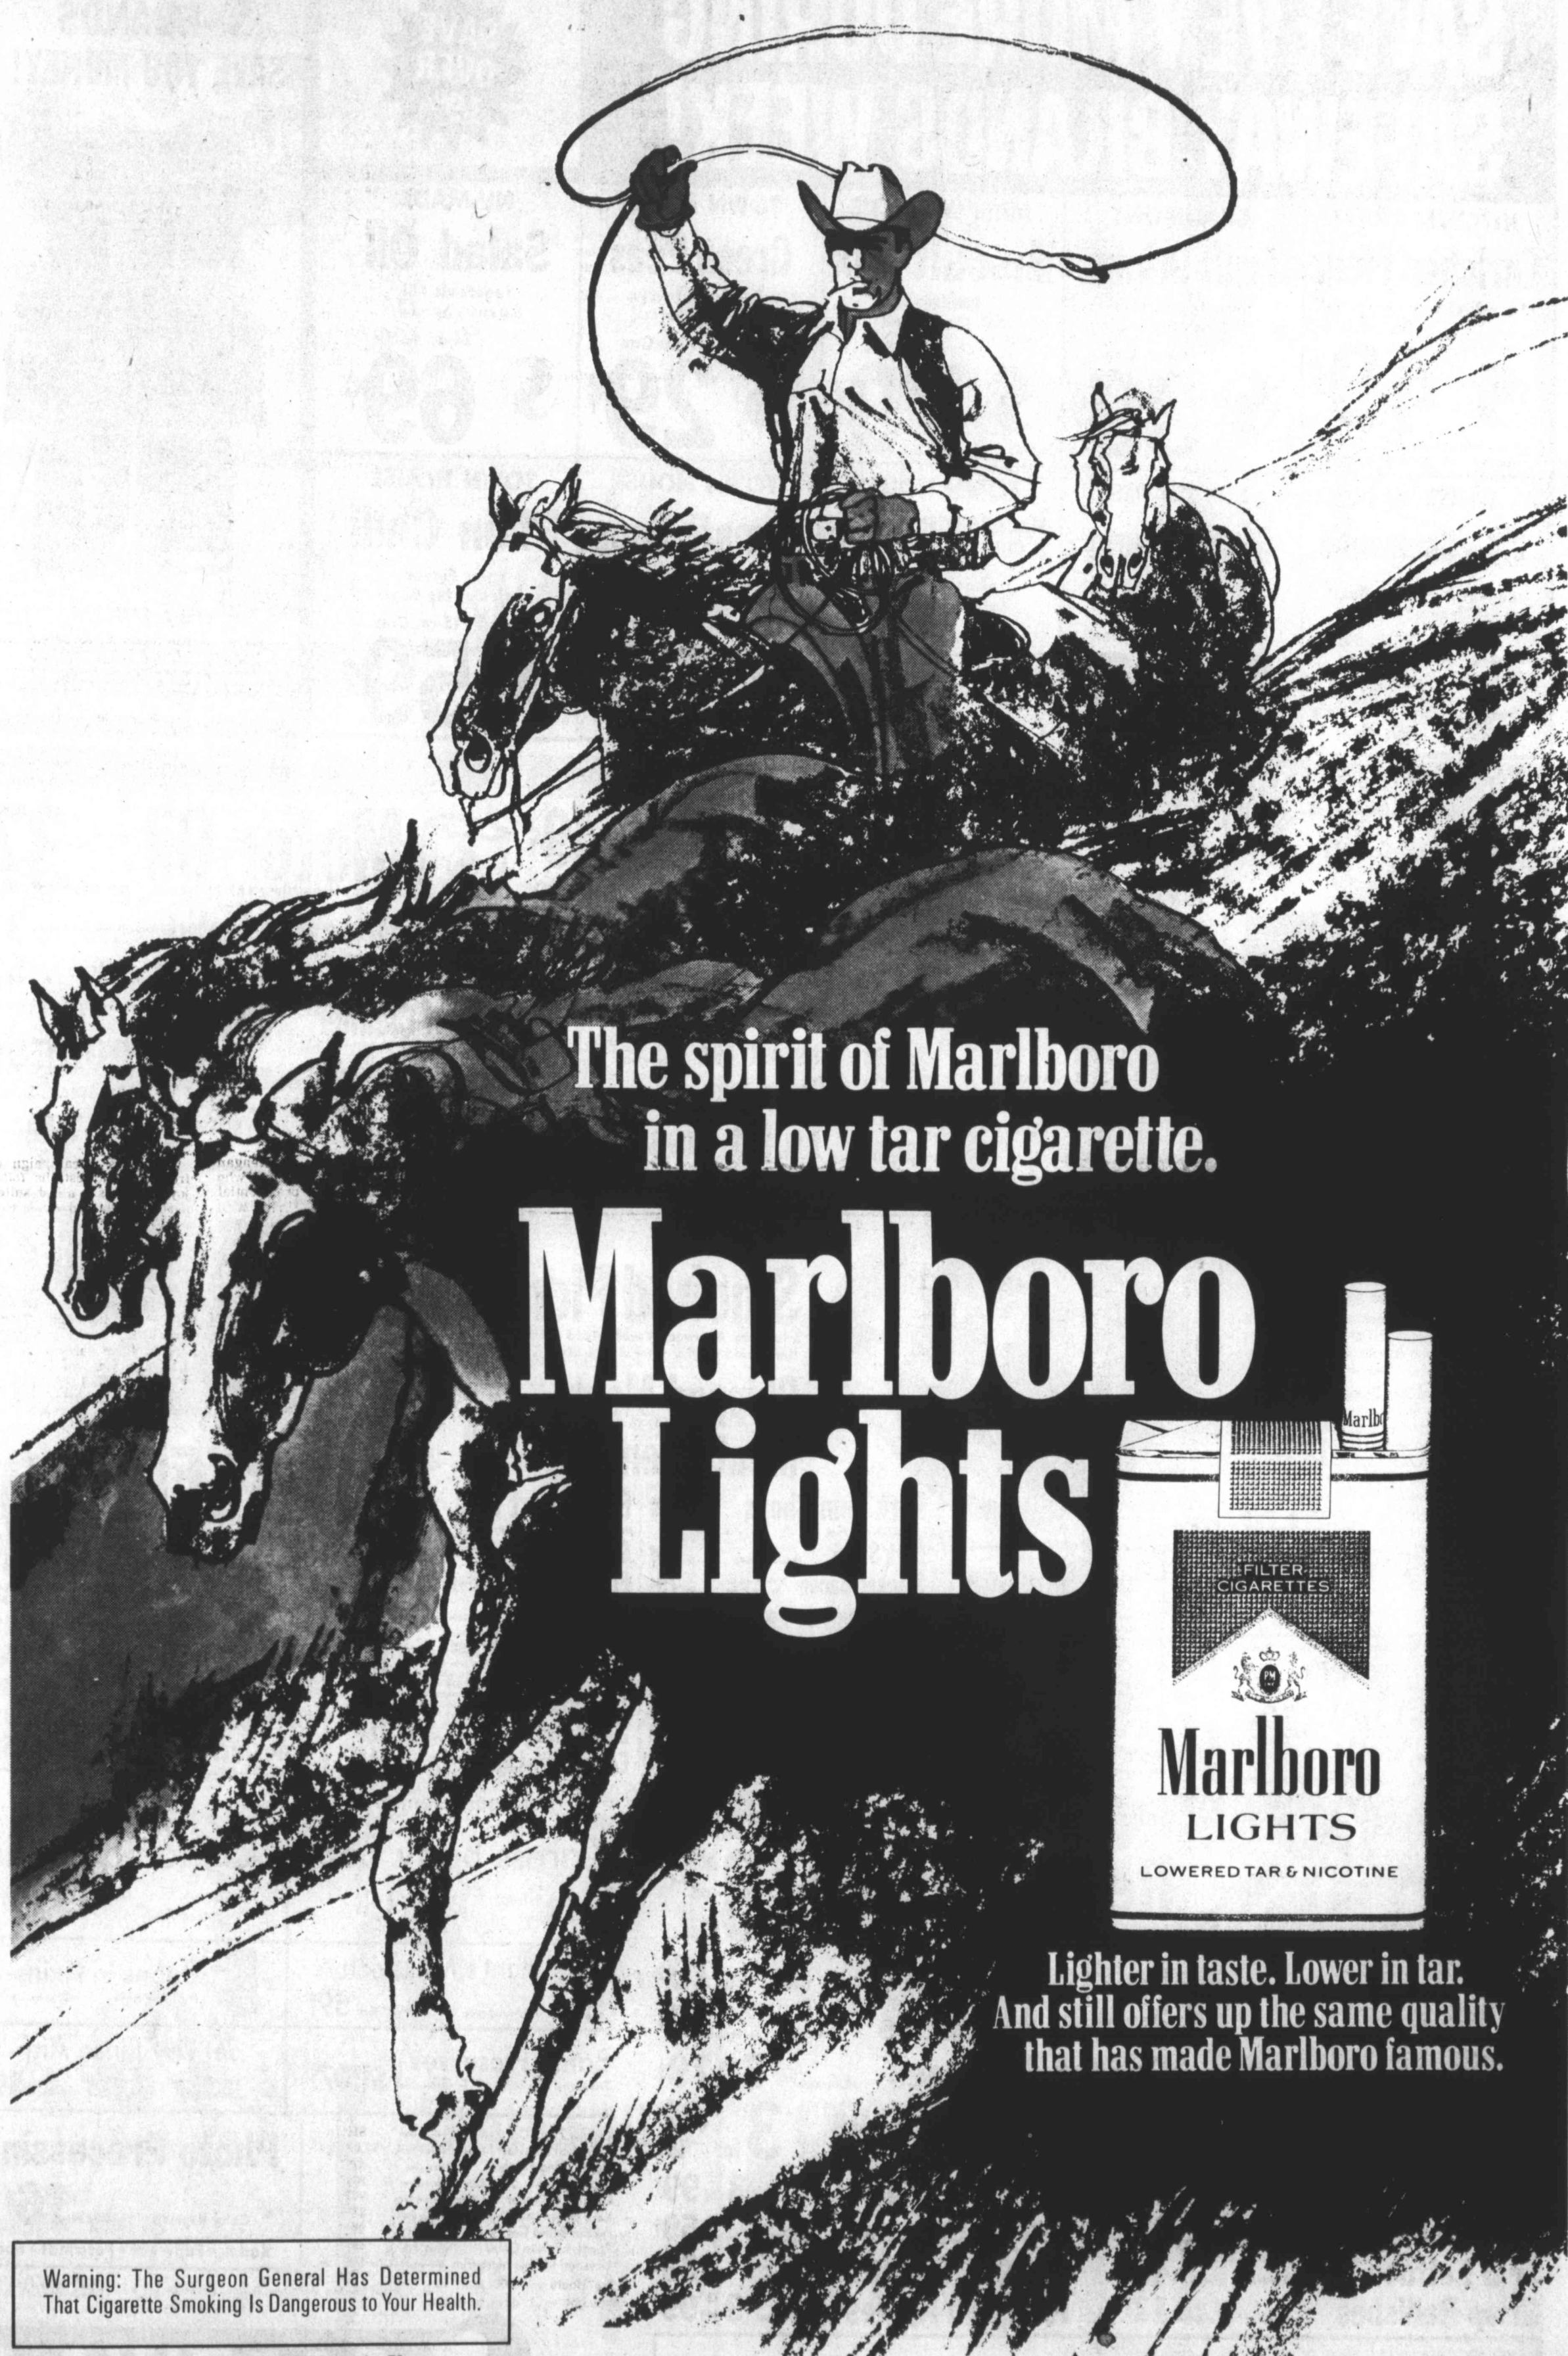

On the previous day, two other record prices were paid. First Keaton and McCrary paid .7610 for a bale belonging to Buford Fitts. Traylor Buyers from Fort Worth topped that with .7710 for a bale belonging to Olan Haddock. Then Mahoney topped both previous prices with the 80 cent purchase.

KNOW YOUR FOOD

WHAT OPEN DATING DOES FOR YOU!

This aid provides you with a guide to product freshness. An example is milk! Look at the date imprinted in the top of the carton. This specifies the last date this item can be sold and still allow you reasonable time to store and use the product at home. You'll find this same kind of dating on many other products. Cottage cheese has the date stamped on the bottom. Egg cartons have the date imprinted on the end. The places for the date may vary but their purpose does not.

Store clerks know these products are not to be sold beyond the stamped date. The quality and freshness of the food also depends on the efficiency of storage and handling it receives in-store.

While this care and Open Dating is your assurance of freshness and quality, your handling of the product is also important. Never buy milk, eggs, butter, sandwich meat or other fresh products and then let them remain in your car for a couple of hours while you do other shopping. Their freshness will deteriorate out of refrigeration. Arrange your shopping so that you buy perishables on the last stop before going home. Refrigerate perishables as soon as you get home. Then, Open Dating will truly pay big dividends in freshness and top quality for you!

Dear Abby

Ignore gossip and take in sitter

DEAR ABBY: I am a widower, age 41, with two small boys, ages 6 and 11. My wife was killed three years ago in an auto accident and because I was driving, I needed professional help to get over the feeling of guilt.

I have recently hired a young babysitter to look after the house and boys. Her name is Maria and she is a very sensible, intelligent and mature 15-year-old.

Maria's mother, who has never been married, plans to marry next month. She came to see me and begged me to let Maria live in my home because her future husband refuses to have Maria live with them after they're married. She said Maria is willing to live with me. I said I would have to think it over.

Maria is a lovely girl, but she looks like a 20-year-old woman, if you know what I mean. I fear that if I let her live here, my reputation and hers might be ruined by evil-minded people. My parish priest advised me to take her in, and not to worry about evil-minded people. My mother-in-law, who is too old and sick to look after the boys, agreed with the priest.

The boys love Maria, and I must confess that I adore her in a fatherly way. Would I be inviting trouble to take Maria in? I have more than enough money to send her to college when the time comes. She wants to be a doctor.

MUST KNOW

DEAR MUST KNOW: Maria sounds like a serious-minded, ambitious, intelligent girl. If you're certain that your attitude toward her is fatherly, don't worry about what evil-minded people think.

DEAR ABBY: Seems to me I've read a lot lately about people "dying" for a few minutes, coming back to life and living for years. I've begun wondering how many people have been buried alive, which has developed a fear in me that I might be buried alive one day. It's giving me nightmares!

Abby, who is supposed to make absolutely sure a person is dead before he's buried? The doctor or the mortician?

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Most state laws require that a death certificate be signed by either a medical doctor or the county coroner, and the latter are being replaced in some states by "medical investigators," who must be licensed physicians. Relax. Your chances for being buried alive are zilch.

DEAR ABIGAIL VAN BUREN: Again it's come up in your column! I refer to the confusing business of the proper use of "Ms."

Why not just drop the Ms., Miss or Mrs., and simply address the person by name as I have done in addressing you? In this day of liberated womanhood and personal rights for everybody, why can't we be who we are without the gobbledygook of Mr., Ms., Miss or Mrs.?

The Mr. before a man's name is useless since it applies to both married men and single men. And to label a woman by her marital status is an invasion of her privacy. Whose business is it whether she's married, single or using the "Ms." to disguise one or the other?

FRANKLY FRANK

DEAR FRANK: Thanks for a sensible suggestion.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (24¢) envelope.

Webb sets health week for women on the base

Next week is Women's Health Week at Webb, as designated by Col. Harry A. Spannaus, wing commander. It begins Sunday and runs through Nov. 13.

"A once a year checkup is very important," said Mary Spannaus, wife of the commander and a registered nurse, "especially for a Pap smear. Women owe it to themselves and to their families to have regular checkups."

During this week, the GYN (gynecology) Clinic will be dedicated solely to the purpose of comprehensive health screening. Appointments may be obtained by calling the appointment desk (ext. 2880) and specifying that an appointment is needed for Women's Health Week.

"Women who have not had a Pap smear during 1976 should call for an appointment," said Maj. Edward C. Morton Jr., director of medical services.

During each appointment, a pelvic and breast exam and Pap smear will be done, as well as a check of blood pressure and weight, dental and eye exams, and tests for anemia and urinary tract infections. A chest X-ray, electrocardiogram or a test for immunity against rubella will be recommended for some women. If the patient wishes to be tested for venereal disease, such tests may be requested.

"On the day of the appointment, women who desire this comprehensive health screen should come in 15 minutes before the appointment to fill out a health questionnaire," Major Morton said.

A baby sitting service will be provided by volunteers at the hospital during this week only, for the convenience of those being examined.

Mrs. Spannaus noted that she has heard some women say they hadn't had checkups since their last child was born. In some instances that child could be several years old.

"Early detection is the secret," she said, "for catching any trouble before it becomes a major problem." She also pointed out that if the tests indicate more specialized gynecology treatment is needed, then women are referred to a physician downtown.

EDUCATIONAL FUN — Ana Henriquez plays with five-year-old Christopher Hage in Coral Gables, Fla., as part of a class in photography. The students are part of a class taught at Miami Dale Junior College's North campus and take field trips where they learn by trial and error as well as instruction.

Women in legislature increase rank

WASHINGTON (AP) — Women increased their ranks in state legislatures from 8 per cent to 9.1 per cent in last Tuesday's election, for a new total of 685 seats.

"It's progress — but not very fast progress," said Betsy Wright, director of the National Women's Education Fund, which has been compiling statistics on women at state and local levels since 1974.

"We've got to discover some way we can go from 9 per cent all the way up to 25 per cent in one election period," said Ms. Wright, who prefers that designation. Only then, she said, will women have enough of a base to make significant inroads on statewide and national offices.

The number of women in the U.S. Congress declined by one as a result of Tuesday's elections, from 19 to 18 out of 435 House members. There are no women in the 100-member Senate.

Ann Zill, director of the Women's Campaign Fund, said one breakthrough in 1976 was that for the first time women have begun to contribute money for women's campaigns.

The campaign fund collected almost $63,700 for women candidates, and the National Women's Political Caucus raised another $30,000.

"The sum of $100,000 for women candidates is indeed paltry," said Ms. Zill, who also prefers the feminist designation, compared to the total of $400 million which analysts estimate is spent for all levels of campaigns in a year such as this.

The National Women's Education Fund has given intensive campaign-skills seminars in various regions of the country since 1974 to more than 500 women who want to manage campaigns or run for office.

In the elections, the number of women rose in 22 state legislatures, held even in 10 and lost strength in 11. Seven states did not hold legislative elections.

Alaska lost the most women, from 9 to 4 state legislators.

California made the biggest increase in percentages: from 3 to 6, including the first woman elected to the state senate. Other sizable increases were Florida, from 12 to 18; Illinois, 14 to 21; Minnesota, 8 to 12, and Texas, 7 to 11.

The two states with the lowest percentages of women legislators did not hold elections this year: Alabama with .71 per cent and Louisiana with 1.4 per cent. States with the next-lowest numbers of women are Arkansas, Tennessee, Oklahoma and Nebraska.

States with the largest percentages of women legislators are New Hampshire, with 27.1 per cent; Connecticut, 20.3 per cent; Arizona, 16.7 per cent; Washington, 15.6 per cent, and Maine, 15.2 per cent.

Clubhouse Girl Scouts honor 'Daisy'

The Brownie Girl Scout Troup No. 49 met in the Community Center, Forsan, Texas, Wednesday, November 3, 1976, to contribute a penny per year of age of each Scout from dues to the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund and to celebrate her birthday.

Kristi Evans shared a reading of facts, "Juliette Gordon Low (Daisy)," the founder of the Girl Scouts in the United States of America was born on October 31. "Daisy" Low said she was glad she had been born on Halloween for it meant she would always have fun with girls. Mrs. Shirley Summers, leaders, read a story of "Daisy" as a little girl making friends with children who did not speak English.

Kimberly Evans was responsible for bringing the punch and birthday cupcakes. Kristi Evans decorated the cupcakes in candies representing different nationalities. Mrs. Peggy Evans, asst. leader, directed the group in the "Happy Birthday, Daisy" song.

Star Violets set party

Members of the Texas Star African Violet club met in the home of Mrs. H. V. Crocker at 7 p.m. Thursday.

Assisting Mrs. Crocker as hostess was Mrs. C.B. Sullivan. Mrs. Cass Hill, president, called the meeting to order. Plans were made for the Christmas Party to be held Dec. 2 at the Pioneer Gas Building.

STOPPED — New York Giants running back Larry Csonka (39) is piled up at the goal line in first period of game Sunday with the Dallas Cowboys in Texas Stadium. Cowboys' linebacker Lee Roy Jordan makes the stop. Giants had failed to score from the two yard line and went away with a field goal. Cowboys won, 9-3.

Jolly (ho-ho-ho) Giants make Cowboys nervous

DALLAS (AP) — For Dallas Coach Tom Landry, it was like taking a walk down death row toward the electric chair only to be stopped by a call from the governor.

"I feel like a man who has been reprieved," said Landry, horrified at the thought of losing to the worst team the New York Giants have fielded in 52 years.

Dallas (8-1) kept its one game lead in the National Conference Eastern Division Sunday with a 9-3 victory over the Giants in a game that was a flashback to the days of leather helmets and flying wedges.

"It's a mark of a good team to win on an off day and we had one today," said Landry.

The Giants are not a good team. Their record is 0-9.

New York did break a string of 10 consecutive scoreless quarters with Joe Danelo's 19-yard field goal in the first period. The Giants still haven't had a touchdown pass from Craig Morton since Oct. 10.

The offensive highlights for Dallas were E'ren Herrera's field goals of 22, 30 and 20 yards.

Herrera broke a 3-3 tie with two field goals in the fourth quarter after Danny White hoodwinked the Giants with a fake punt and Charlie Waters intercepted a Morton pass.

"It was a 'don't get caught' type of play," said White of his fake punt and run in the fourth quarter that set up Herrera's go-ahead field goal. "It's something that kinda happens. I saw them coming in for the block, so I double checked their line and ran."

"I was thinking about running along all along although it wasn't a punt play. You kinda run for it and hope you get the first down."

White's run was a blow to new Giant Coach John McVay, who coached the Cowboy backup quarterback when both were at Memphis in the now defunct World Football League.

"That was crucial," said McVay. "We felt he was going to punt because we've seen him on film several times. When he started to move, they thought he (White) was going through with his kicking motion, so they peeled back."

McVay, who unleashed fullback Larry Csonka for 27 carries and 89 yards, said, "We're knocking on the door. We played well enough to win against a good football team, but just didn't do it. We had our chances."

New York drove to the Cowboy five-yard line late in the game but defensive end Harvey Martin caused Morton to fumble while trying to pass to kill the threat.

"We knew they had to score a touchdown to win and I knew Craig wasn't going to use his backs for blocking," said Martin. "So, I just took off and ran. It was a hard game to get up for but I think we're back down on earth now. I think everybody was sky high after we beat Washington 20-7."

Dallas linebacker Thomas Henderson said, "The Giants didn't impress me that much. They hit like an 0-8 team. We just weren't up for them. We've got to quit taking teams like the Giants lightly. That's the kind of team that will beat you."

Waters added "I stunk it up just as bad as anybody. It's a shame to have a game like this. We felt it (the letdown) coming all week. I've been here seven years and some of the other players have been here 10, but we all felt it...from the coaches on down."

"There wasn't anything we could do about it...it just happened."

Csonka was asked if Dallas was on par with the team that beat him and Miami at Super Bowl VI.

"They may not be, but they're awful close," said Csonka. "I'm glad I don't have to play them when they are feeling good."

New York tight end Bob Tucker claimed Cowboy free safety Cliff Harris was holding on the last Giant play of the game.

Weekend football action; surprises and mistakes

By The Associated Press

There were almost as many surprises as there were mistakes in National Football League action Sunday.

It started with O.J. Simpson getting thrown out of a game for fighting. It continued when a referee apparently cost the Chicago Bears a victory, and went further with a premature touchdown celebration by a Minnesota receiver. Then it was capped with Seattle's 30-13 victory over Atlanta, the first by an expansion team over one of the NFL establishments.

Simpson, in his eighth season as Buffalo's premier running back, traded swings with New England defensive end Mel Lunsford in the first quarter of the Patriots' 20-10 victory over the Bills.

"The whistle had blown and the play was definitely over when that guy slung me down on my head," Simpson said after the first ejection of his career. "I don't mind taking legal shots, but I'm going to let the man know when it's not a legal shot."

The Bears remained in their game throughout, but lost 28-27 to Oakland because an "inadvertent whistle" by referee Chuck Heberling cost them a touchdown.

Raiders quarterback Ken Stabler had gone back to pass but was hit by Chicago's Wally Chambers. The ball popped loose, was scooped up by Roger Stilwell and returned 50 yards for what appeared to be a Bears touchdown.

The Cincinnati Bengals host the Los Angeles Rams in tonight's game.

Fortunately for the Vikings, they recovered from a fumble by receiver Sammy White, who began celebrating a touchdown before he reached the end zone. After hauling in a Fran Tarkenton pass and breaking behind the defense, White hoisted the ball above his head — only to fumble it when hit by Detroit's Lem Barney on the Lions' three-yard line.

The ball bounced into the end zone, where Detroit recovered for a touchdown.

Redskins 24, 49ers 21

The 49ers got into the mistake act, too, giving up a first down to the Redskins on a fake field goal play.

"Everybody in ball park knew that fake field goal was coming," moaned San Francisco Coach Monte Clark. "We talked about it all week. I don't know how we let it happen."

Joe Theismann, who passed for 302 yards including three touchdowns to Jean Fugett, ran for the first down to set up Mark Moseley's game-winning field goal with 1:57 left.

Both teams are 6-3.

Raiders 28, Bears 27

Though Ken Stabler threw three touchdown passes, including two to Cliff Branch for Oakland, 8-1 — and despite the referee's mistake — the Bears, 4-5, still had a chance to win with 15 seconds left when Bob Thomas attempted a 31-yard field goal. The kick hit the upright and bounced back onto the field.

Broncos 48, Buccaneers 13

Tampa Bay Coach John McKay smoldered after

Denver, 5-4, exploded for 38 second-half points against his 0-9 Buccaneers. He refused to shake hands with Broncos Coach John Ralston when the game ended, accusing Denver of running up statistics against his injured expansionists.

Packers 32, Saints 27

Will Harrell swept over from the seven with 4:47 remaining to give Green Bay, 4-5, its triumph over New Orleans, 2-7.

Colts 37, Chargers 21

Bert Jones hit on 18 of 25 passes, three of them for touchdowns, to lead Baltimore, 8-1, over San Diego, 4-5. Running back Lydell Mitchell added 91 yards on 17 rushes and 125 yards on eight pass receptions.

Cardinals 17, Eagles 14

Jim Bakken missed his first three field goal attempts, two because of bad snaps and one that was deflected. But then his 20-yard field goal with 8:22 left lifted the Cardinals, 7-2, over the Eagles, 3-6.

Dolphins 27, Jets 7

Two touchdown passes by Bob Griese and a second straight strong performance by Miami's defense under Coach Bill Arnsparger helped the Dolphins, 5-4, beat the Jets, 2-7.

Steelers 45, Chiefs 0

"We don't start playing for a shutout until the two-minute warning," insisted Pittsburgh defensive tackle Joe Green. The Steelers, 5-4 and charging after a 1-4 start, recorded their third shutout in a row by whacking the Chiefs, 3-6.

Hawks prepared for home opener

The Howard College Hawks will entertain McMurry College Junior Varsity in Hawk Gym Tuesday night at 7:30 in their home-opener.

The Hawks are coming off a 16-point victory over Laredo Jr. College last Thursday night, and are physically and mentally ready to perform before the jam-packed home crowds that shake the rafters with support.

Head Coach Harold Wilder indicates that the game will be very predictable. "In a junior varsity game," Wilder said, "you never know who they're going to send over. They might send the substitutes over from the varsity and we'll have a tough game, or they might send over the freshmen... we just never know."

The starting line-up has changed from last week. Paul Cathey, 6'6" sophomore, who dazzled the border-town school with his 24 rebounds last week, will be starting at center.

Starting at guard will be Marc Meyers, 5'10" freshman, who had seven assists in the Laredo game, and Mike Little, 6'3" freshman, who had seven assists, seven rebounds and 21 big points in that same game.

Hitting the hardwoods as forwards will be Reggie Leffall, 6'4" sophomore, who had 24 points, and hit three consecutive three-point plays against the Palominos, and Lowell Walker, 6'6 1/2" sophomore, who had eight rebounds and hit eight out of 11 shots from the field.

Aggressive Joe Cooper, 6'9" freshman, and Eugene Williams, a 6'6" freshman recuperating from a hurt knee, and Johnny James, the 6'7" freshman who proved his shooting skills in Laredo will also see early action, according to Wilder.

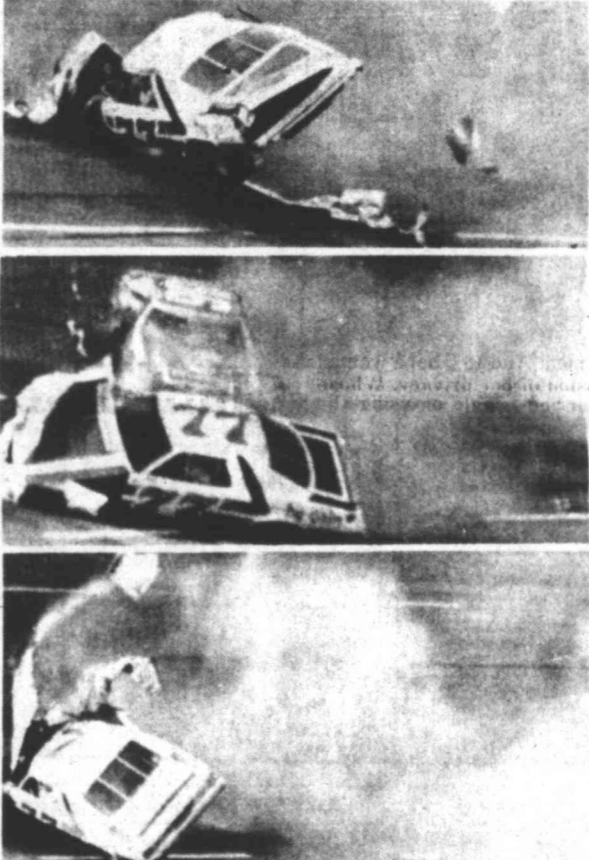

Wilder and his assistant Leroy McClendon are looking forward to a good turn-out, and they emphasize that the Hawks are ready to show the home-folks just what they can do.

The bird found the tree Oilers lose another

HOUSTON (AP) — Cleveland running back Greg Pruitt slowly is developing into the most accurate passer in the National Football League—he's currently hitting at a .750 clip.

Pruitt has thrown four passes in his pro career and three have gone for touchdowns including a 10-yard shot to rookie Brian Duncan Sunday that allowed the Browns to pull away to a 21-7 victory over the crumbling Houston Oilers.

"It looked like a wounded bird trying to find a tree," Pruitt said of his fourth quarter pass that opened a 14-7 Browns lead.

The bird found the tree and when it settled firmly in Duncan's grasp it sealed the Oilers into the American Football Conference's Central Division cellar and kept the Browns in second place with a shot at the playoffs.

The Browns, with quarterback Mike Phipps at the controls until the Browns' fourth quarter surge, clung to an 8-7 halftime lead on field goals of 30 and 40 yards by Don Cockroft and a safety, obtained when Oiler quarterback Dan Pastorini fumbled into the end zone on the third play of the game.

Pastorini received fractured ribs on the play and was lost for the game. Backup John Hadl played the rest of the game and hit Ronnie Coleman with a seven-yard TD pass 32 seconds before the half for Houston's only touchdown.

"It was good enough," said Duncan, a rookie from Southern Methodist, referring to Pruitt's wobbling touchdown pass. "It (the play) was sent in from above and they weren't expecting it."

from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, NOV. 9, 1976

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The daytime is good for the acquisition of knowledge and information pertinent to your line of endeavor. If you need to convince anyone of your capabilities you will easily be able to do so.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Talk over with allies how best to handle obligations you have assumed. Know what is expected of you by your mate and try to please.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Study the monetary side of your affairs and then confer with business experts. Avoid the social as much as you can tonight.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Take whatever treatments are needed to improve your health and appearance. Discuss your aims with higher-ups.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You can be creatively inspired at this time if you go to the right source. Show others you have wisdom.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Contact close allies who can assist you in a project you have in mind. You can easily make a fine impression on others now.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Study advanced methods that can be helpful in career affairs. Sidestep one who has an eye on your assets. Relax at home tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) A new interest that is appealing should be looked into carefully before taking part in this activity. Use care in motion.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Consult a financial expert for advice your need. Use more practical methods in dealing with the social side of life.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Don't trust your hunches now, but study facts and figures and be sure. Sidestep one who wants to waste your time.

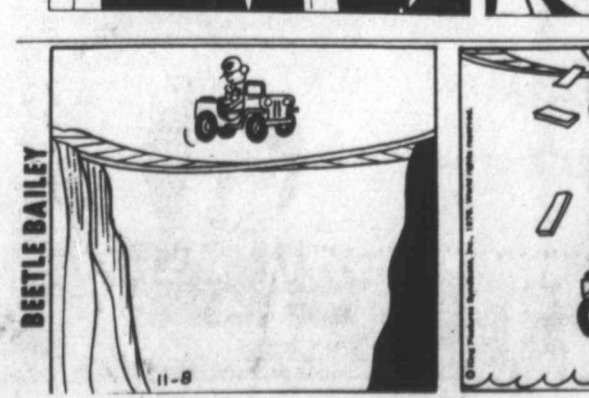

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Study problems that are connected with current projects and talk over with associates how to solve them properly.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Take the time to make long-range plans for the future. Go to the right sources for the information you need.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Study a problem you have from a different angle and then you can solve it wisely and well. Strive for harmony with family.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will have an air of frivolity that could be misunderstood by others. Give ethical training early in life and the finest education you can afford. The ability to plan intelligently is great in this chart.

Purdue whips Michigan, paves way for Pitt

By The Associated Press
 Top-rated Michigan's Bo Schembechler and also-ran Purdue's Alex Agase sounded like hundreds of other coaches before Saturday's game. As things turned out, they really sounded like prophets.

Schembechler: "Of all the teams in the Big Ten capable of pulling an upset, I think Purdue is the one."

Agase: "Sometimes things happen when someone is going somewhere."

Well, a funny thing happened to Michigan en route to college football's national championship. The nation's highest scoring team, averaging 44 points a game, managed only two touchdowns against a Purdue club which had yielded 199 points in eight games and hadn't held anyone under 16. The final score — Purdue 16, Michigan 14 and Pitt probably No. 1.

Perhaps Purdue got its opponents mixed up. A week ago the Boilermakers were routed by Michigan State 45-13, then they come back and beat Michigan.

It was supposed to be the other way around, but Scott Dierking galloped for 162 yards and two touchdowns and Rock Supan booted a decisive 23-yard field goal with just over four minutes remaining in addition to making 11 tackles from his secondary post. Meanwhile, Michigan's Bob Wood misfired on a 37-yard attempt with nine seconds left. As ex-Michigan center Jerry Ford knows, close isn't good enough.

"It hurts a lot," Schembechler said. "We don't accept it...we shouldn't accept it...because we should have won. No defeat is good. We got down there at the end and we should have scored. But when you depend on winning on a forward pass or a field goal, you're in trouble."

"I'm not going to turn down the honor of being No. 1 if it comes our way. We have as much right to it as anyone else," Pitt Coach Johnny Majors said after the second-ranked Panthers whipped Army 37-7 behind Tony Dorsett's 212 yards and three touchdowns.

"You won't get me to answer that one," UCLA Coach Terry Donahue said after the third-ranked Bruins routed Oregon 46-0 with Wendell Tyler and James Brown each scoring twice.

"But I will say that with Michigan getting beat, I would expect us to move up."

Fourth-ranked Southern Cal, minus injured Ricky Bell, the nation's leading rusher, walloped Stanford 48-24 as Vince Evans tied a school record with four touchdown passes, three to Shelton Diggs. The Trojans remained tied with UCLA for the Pacific-8 Conference lead.

Fifth-ranked Texas Tech opened a quick 14-0 lead over winless Texas Christian on an 88-yard pass play from Rodney Allison to Brian Nelson and Allison's three-yard run but then had to hang on to beat the upset-bent Horned Frogs 14-10. A late TCU threat stalled when Tech's Eric Felton intercepted a pass deep in his own territory.

However, Tech not only remained unbeaten but took over undisputed possession of the Southwest Conference lead when 12th-ranked Arkansas was held to a 7-7 standoff by Baylor.

Sixth-ranked Maryland held Cincinnati to four first downs in the first three periods and cruised to a 21-0 triumph behind Mark

Manges' two touchdown passes.

The bowl picture cleared up a bit when seventh-ranked Georgia came from behind with four second-half touchdowns to beat No. 10 Florida 41-27 and tie the Gators for the Southeastern Conference lead. A victory over Auburn next week sends Georgia to the Sugar Bowl.

Ray Goff scored three touchdowns, two of them in the final period after Georgia rallied from a 27-13 halftime deficit to a 27-27 tie. It was another frustration for Florida, which could have clinched its first-ever SEC crown.

The momentum swung Georgia's way when Florida failed on a fourth-and-one gamble at its own 29 midway through the third quarter. Georgia tied the score six plays later.

"We were not outplayed, we were outcoached," said Florida's Doug Dickey. "I made some of the dumbest calls I ever made. I gambled on fourth down because I thought we needed a mental lift to get started."

Folklore weather forecasting

Aw shucks, it ain't nothing

By the Associated Press
 "What do gopher holes, corn shucks, acorns, mimosa beans and cattle hair have in common?"
 According to folklore weather forecasters, they all will tell you what kind of winter to expect.
 Truitt Bailey, a livestock man from Cleburne, sees a harsh winter ahead for Texas because "the corn shucks are thicker, the hair on the cattle is very heavy, and the acorns fell about three weeks early."
 "My prediction is that it's definitely going to be one of the worst winters we've had in quite a long time," L.M. "Goob" Newton said outside his Sabine River bank home.

 "... One sure sign is that the gophers, if we're going to have a light winter, burrow very small holes. But I've noticed tremendous mounds of earth by their holes this fall. It proves they're going far into the ground to protect themselves."
 Newton, 78, has a lot of confidence in animal weather predictions, as evidenced by the firewood piled high around his house.
 He claims to have used the creatures around him to forecast Texas' unpredictable weather "with pretty good accuracy" for most of his life.
 Newton also points to the "good old pineywoods roosters," wood hogs to you city folks, jaybirds, crows and wolves as living indicators of what he believes will surely come.

 West Texas county agent Ollie Limer of Plainview said he has noticed there are more beans on the mimosa trees this fall than usual. But Limer, in his official capacity anyway, points out that—more beans equals more winter—is only a legend. Still...
 "I've noticed that the 4-H calves are growing hair earlier than usual this year too," he added. "That means winter is coming earlier and will probably be a harder one."

 Professional weather forecasters have never given much credence to the likes of gophers and wolves. They apparently aren't about to start with the winter of 1976.
 "There are a lot of things we don't know about nature and the environment," said Climatologist Clarence Sakamoto of the U.S. Center for Climatic and Environmental Assessment in Columbia, Mo. "But if we really believed those superstitions, we'd use them. I just don't think they're very reliable."
 Superstition?
 Goob Newton doesn't think so. And if he is wrong, well, he can always use his big supply of firewood next year if the gophers are digging deep again.

WARNING: SMOKE MAY GET IN YOUR EYES — Competitors in the World Pipe Smoking Championship send up clouds of smoke at a Tokyo hotel Sunday. Japan's Shogo Suzuki won the title by puffing away nonstop on about one-third ounce of tobacco for a record two hours, 13 minutes and 29 seconds. A total of 218 pipe smokers, including some from France, Switzerland, Britain and West Germany, participated in the contest using pipes of the same size in the finals.

SOUTHERN PRESIDENTS - Jimmy Carter is generally called the first president elected from the Deep South since Zachary Taylor who was elected in 1848. Taylor, left, a Virginian, served 18 months before dying in office.

Carter, Demos plan Modest inauguration

WASHINGTON (AP) - The planners of Jimmy Carter's presidential inauguration say they will put on a more modest celebration than the $4 million extravaganza that installed Richard M. Nixon in 1973.

Washington attorney Bardyl R. Tirana says Carter will use nothing like the $900,000 imitation marble reviewing stands that held and sheltered Nixon and 22,000 others four years ago.

That was "too extravagant" for Carter, Tirana said. "The inauguration will be modest. It will not be extravagant, that much I know."

Tirana and South Carolinian Vicki Rogers, both longtime Carter supporters, have been named by the president-elect as chairmen of the committees planning the festivities for the Jan. 20 inauguration.

The $4 million total tab for the 1973 inauguration included the swearing-in ceremonies at the Capitol, several concerts, five inaugural balls, and a reception for ex-Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

No overall budget for the 1977 ceremony has been established.

Much of the inaugural schedule is determined by custom and protocol and won't be changed by the Carters, Tirana said. The president-elect will primarily influence specific details, such as the type of hats the men will wear, if any.

Later this week, Tirana will meet with Mrs. Rosalynn Carter, who will indicate some of the general ideas she and the president-elect would like included in the schedule. Detailed planning will begin from there, Tirana said.

Contractors authorized by Congress have begun work on the wooden platform in front of the east portico of the Capitol. Nearly all presidents since Thomas Jefferson have taken the oath of office near there.

One variable the committee can do little about is the weather, which has disrupted more than one inaugural in the past. William H. Taft moved his ceremony indoors to the Senate chamber in 1909 because of a snowstorm.

In 1961, on the night before John F. Kennedy's inauguration, about eight inches of snow fell and the military had to be called out to clear the thoroughfares with shovels.

Billy Priebe earns award

Sixty-four college students and 27 engineering schools throughout the United States have received awards recognizing student achievement in the solution of design, engineering or fabricating problems involving the knowledge or application of arc welding. The James F. Lincoln Arc Welding Foundation of Cleveland, Ohio has made the awards in an annual engineering and design competition for college engineering and technology degree students since 1946.

Graduate students receiving First Awards of $1,250 were:

John Grant, Newton Square, Pa., Joseph Engels, Flushing, N.Y., and Francisco deValdenbro, Ithaca, N.Y. - for their "Design of Large Capacity Liquid Natural Gas Storage Tanks" made as students at Cornell University; and Thomas Keenan, Berlin, Md., for his study on "The Effects of Fissuring on the Fatigue Strength of Austenitic Stainless Steel Weldments" as a student at Worcester Polytechnic Institute.

Undergraduate students receiving First Awards of $1,000 were:

Bruce Peterson, Ambler, Pa., George Wozny, Johnston, Pa., and Richard Sheets, New Brighton, Pa. - for their "Design of an Early American-Styled Covered Bridge" as students at The Pennsylvania State University; and Randy Fix, Fullerton, Ca. Robert Setbacken, Danville, Ca., and Gary Wilson, Sacramento, Ca. - for their design of "A Child's Orthotic Device to Aid Upper Limb Movement" as students at the University of California, Santa Barbara.

The Lincoln Arc Welding Foundation made a total of 34 student awards. The departments of the schools in which the award students were enrolled also received cash awards and engraved plaques in recognition of their students' achievement.

Among those receiving fourth place awards of $250 was Billy Priebe, Big Spring, a student at Texas A&M University, whose entry was "The Freedom Machine - A New Concept in Transportation for the Severely Handicapped."

U.S. offering tests for jobs in summer

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Cong. Omar Burleson (D-Tex.) has announced that the Civil Service Commission is now receiving applications for the 1977 competitive examination for summer employment with the United States Government. The examination, which includes a written test, applies to most Federal summer jobs in clerical and administrative positions, as well as in engineering and the physical and biological sciences, GS-1 through GS-4.

The Congressman urges applicants to file early to receive maximum consideration for employment because opportunities for summer employment are extremely limited.

Tests are scheduled locally by CSC area offices. Applicants who file with an area office by December 9 will be tested in January. Those who file by January 13 will be tested in February. Any applications post-marked after January 13 will not be accepted.

Notification of when and where to report for the written test will be given about two weeks in advance. Those candidates who took the test and qualified for summer employment in 1976 may renew their eligibility without taking the written test again by submitting and updating form by January.

Complete instructions for filing for the written test and for renewing eligibility, along with all necessary forms, are included in the CSC announcement No. 414, Summer Jobs in Federal Agencies, which may be obtained upon request through Congressman Burleson's Washington office, 2369 Rayburn House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515, or from Federal Job Information Centers, most college placement offices, or from the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D.C. 20415. The nearest Job Information Center is listed in most local telephone directories under "U.S. Government," or the toll-free distance telephone number in Texas can be obtained by calling, 800-535-1212.

The U.S. Postal Service is not participating in the 1977 summer employment program. Inquiries regarding summer employment in the Postal Service should be directed to the post office where employment is desired.

Pot smuggling 'family affair'

RIO GRANDE CITY, Tex. (AP) - "We wouldn't mind the smuggling, if they'd just pay taxes on it," joked a Starr County resident.

It would be a hefty sum, indeed.

The smuggling involves 20,000 to 40,000 pounds of marijuana a week sneaked from Mexico across the willow-lined Rio Grande into the brush of this South Texas county for distribution in northern cities.

It is the work of the "mafiosos," and a thriving "family" business in this county of 17,000 people according to state and county investigators working with a grand jury currently probing the smuggling activity.

The "mafiosos" a word used in northern Mexico to describe those involved in marijuana or heroin smuggling—are known to many residents of the area on both sides of the border.

Fear of involvement and physical harm, plus a distrust of law-enforcement agencies have made investigation difficult, according to law-enforcement officers.

"I'd say there are at least ten major families involved and when I say major families, I mean big dealers," said Herman Railey, a Border Patrol officer and foreman of the grand jury which began investigating drug trafficking seven months ago in this predominantly Mexican-American county.

"These family operations have blood ties on both sides of the border," continued Railey. "One part of the family lives on this side taking care of the business and the other part—and possibly the family's roots—are in Mexico."

Arnulfo Guerra, district attorney for this county located about 130 miles up the river from Brownsville on the Gulf of Mexico, says about 2,000 persons are involved in the smuggling operation.

The investigation was sparked by a series of gang-like killings apparently drug-related. Three bodies were found stuffed in automobile trunks during a two-day period and that "focused everyone's attention," Guerra said. "Everybody turns the other way until they find a body in their backyard."

"Most of the citizens here have developed an attitude of 'if you don't bother me, I won't bother you,' Railey said. "It is common knowledge among the people here that several persons have been killed or murdered over the dope dealings. This was nothing new."

Similar types of gang-like killings have occurred just across the border in towns from Camargo to Reynosa where officials and the general population often shrug them off as internal struggles among the "mafiosos."

Railey, Guerra and several investigators agree on one point: Many Starr County smugglers are flaunting their new-found wealth.

"Some of these people were working as farmhands two years ago for ten dollars a day," Guerra said. "Now they are driving Cadillacs, living in big houses and spending money like it's going out of style."

Similar displays of wealth are now common in the farming communities across the border. Residents smile knowingly when asked where the money comes from.

"It's got to the point where they are influencing school children," Railey noted. "There are cases of hero worship by younger adults and also the younger school children. They are almost like Robin Hoods to the younger people."

Investigators said high school boys are getting a dollar a pound for unloading the marijuana off rafts in the Rio Grande and loading them into trucks.

While the grand jury was proceeding with the investigation, Customs patrolmen about six miles away confiscated a trailer loaded with more than 700 pounds of marijuana this week.

"That may seem like a lot to some people," an officer said. "But it is just another little load around here."

Railey says the grand jury has the time and desire to begin attacking the drug trafficking which stems from the country's long smuggling tradition.

"Some families in Starr County have always smuggled to make a living," said one officer. "It's tradition. The marijuana and hard drugs are just recent. They found out how to really make money with marijuana and they are going after it."

The Rio Grande meanders 59 miles along the border separating Starr County from Mexico with easy access on both sides.

"If you have ten families and each family moves 5,000 pounds a week on an average, then you could see the kind of tonnage that would mount up real quick."

The family aspect of the county's leading "industry" provides protection to the smugglers, says Railey.

Ridin' fence

One of my favorite people in Big Spring is a real pioneer, but she doesn't always act like one. And she's probably going to peel my head after I write this column.

I'm talking about Louise Wheelodon Middleton, or Mrs. Robert V. Middleton. The picture was made when she was unaware at the Exes Association Coffee held in her home this year for the classes of 1911 through 1925.

"I'll tell you about Louise. She can recall some of the earliest days in Big Spring on nearly any subject. She can tell you about the Mount Olive Cemetery Association and how her mother and many others sold cakes and pies for years to get funds to improve that cemetery. It was later turned over to the city.

A couple of years ago, the Hyperion Club of which she is president, asked her to recall early Christmases in Big Spring.

She practiced that speech on me and she could make you see everybody going up Blue Mountain (now called Scenic Mountain) to get their Christmas trees and bring them down to town.

She lived up in the area on W. 3rd now occupied by a car lot and she would tell the story of walking with her grandmother down Lancaster Street to church on Christmas Eve. As she told it you could see the candles on the tree through the eyes of a child.

Talking about early Big Spring always brings a special warmth to Louise's voice. And so does talking about her family.

Her husband, the late Robert V. Middleton and his days of banking, from the beginning to the final reception when he retired, is remembered with both good humor and patience by Louise Middleton.

Today, you might go by to see her, but you sure aren't going to catch her in the rocking chair. She might be out back picking up pecans with her great grandson, Bobby, or she might be out cleaning out the garage because she started hunting one item and decided to clean up the whole mess.

She is an excellent hostess and when she gives a party, everything is perfect down to the last detail. Everything matches and looks beautiful and everything tastes great.

Consequently, when she gives a party, there's a constant flow into the home of old and new friends who love to go and visit Louise.

Noted for her geraniums along the front walk, she takes them up every winter and puts them out in the spring.

Because Louise likes those bright happy-looking flowers along her walk.

Her own life is a lot like those geraniums. She's a bright and happy spot among her own peer group. If she has an ailment, nobody may know about it until they pick her up off the floor.

But if there's something she can do to brighten somebody's day, she'll be there. Sometimes I think she rides almost as many fences as I do.
