Summit Conference Prospect Still Dim

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the Geneva foreign ministers talks seem to have reached an impasse, and prospects for a summit conference are no brighter.

The President told a news conference, however, that he still would be willing to go to a heads-of-government meeting if any kind of reasonable progress can be made at Geneva.

And, Eisenhower said in response to a question, that he doesn't necessarily mean there must be progress specifically on the Berlin situation.

He said he has in mind any kind of reasonable progress on East-West problems generally.

The President was asked whether he believes that prospects for a summit conference have grown dimmer in the last couple of weeks.

He replied that prospects certainly have not brightened. He said the Geneva talks seem to have reached an impasse—or at least an unreadiness for fruitful discussion.

A bit later the President was asked whether his idea of progress at Geneva is that there must be some advance toward resolving differences over Berlin.

Eisenhower said he never had meant to tie prospects for a summit conference to the Berlin situation exclusively.

He added that if the foreign ministers talks can make such progress as to result in a profitable summit conference, he would be glad to attend a heads-of-goverment session.

Eisenhower spoke out against any idea that the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and Russia lack sufficient authority to achieve progress.

Any acceptance of such a thesis, he said, would make traditional diplomacy useless.

The news conference drew 228 reporters for Eisenhower's discussion of the Geneva talks and these other matters:

STEEL — Eisenhower rejected the idea of calling steel management and union representatives to a White House conference in a move to smash the deadlock in contract talks.

That course has been advocated by Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo).

The President said that for the government to get into that picture — for it to apply political or other kinds of pressure — would do more to hurt the situation than help it.

Eisenhower said once again that both management and the steel workers union must recognize the great danger of touching off any new inflationary spiral.

He praised a suggestion by Raymond Brandt of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch that the government gather and make public impartial figures on wages and productivity in the steel industry.

The President said it had not occurred to him, but that he would have someone look into the possibility of having the government make available such information.

NAVY PLANE — This government still does not know the nationality of the Communist jet fighter which attacked a U.S. Navy patrol plane over the Sea of Japan Monday.

One member of the crew was seriously wounded in the encounter.

Eisenhower was asked for comment on reports the U.S. crewmen were unable to fire back because of missing gun parts.

He replied that the whole episode is being studied carefully.

The President added he has no new information on the incident at this point but that it is a matter which causes him great concern as a former military man.

As for whether the episode was timed deliberately to increase East-West tensions, Eisenhower said it did seem to be a strange coincidence that the attack occured at a time when the Geneva talks are going on.

But, he added, he did not care to speculate regarding motive.

OLYMPIC GAMES — The International Olympic Games Committee seems to be getting into politics, rather than dealing exclusively with international athletics, Eisenhower said.

He made that remark when asked for comment on the committee's refusal to recognize Nationalist China, as such, as one of the nations which will participate in the 1960 games.

FIRE VICTIM—Two persons were injured by fire about 11:45 o'clock this morning at the Redwood Courts, 2206 Avenue S. Mrs. Velma Rinehart, owner of the courts, is shown being placed in a Bell ambulance after she was burned on the legs and arms fighting the blaze which broke out in an air conditioner and utility room of the courts. A tenant in the courts, Tommy Lapaz, was also taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital with minor burns he suffered when pulling Mrs. Rinehart from the room. The utility room was gutted, but the rest of the court was not heavily damaged. (Lee Watson photograph)

Beck, Chiefs Of Trucking Firms Cited

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Teamster Union President Dave Beck was indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of accepting $200,000 from presidents of two trucking firms. There was no immediate explanation as to the purpose of the alleged action.

The two company presidents, prominent in the trucking industry, also were indicted in the charges made today.

They are Roy Fruehauf, of Birmingham, Mich., president of the Fruehauf Trailer Co., of Detroit, and Burge Seymour, 55, of Litchfield County, Conn., president of the Associated Transport, Inc., of New York.

The executives were alleged to have passed the money to Beck on June 21, 1954.

The indictment itself did not specify the reason and U.S. Atty. S. Hazard Gillespie declined to elaborate.

The companies also were named as defendants, along with the Brown Equipment and Manufacturing Co., a subsidiary of Associated Transport.

The defendants are scheduled to enter their pleas to the charges on June 24.

If convicted, the individuals could receive a maximum sentence of a year in prison and a $10,000 fine each. Each of the companies could be fined $10,000.

Personal Income Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government announced today that the personal income of all Americans rose in May to a record annual rate of $376,200,000,000. The increase for the month was three billion on an annual basis.

Secretary of Commerce Lewis L. Strauss issued a special statement which said:

"This high level of purchasing power is a basis for the business confidence so generally evident, and for the strong hope for further increases in employment."

The Commerce Department report was the second this week to point up the transition of the economy.

Friday Last Day To Apply For ARC Aid

Friday will be the last day victims of the violent windstorm of several days ago can apply to the American Red Cross for aid.

The Red Cross last week set up a disaster office at Friendly Flower Shop, East Highway, and asked those who were victims of the storm and who could not handle their plight from their own resources to apply for aid.

Mrs. Ruth Ann Miller is disaster chairman for the Red Cross. She came here from Wichita, Kan. to operate the disaster office.

About nine persons have asked for aid. After closing of the disaster office here, the local Red Cross advisory board will consider the cases.

Guilty Pleas By Two Here On Felonies

Pleas of guilty to felony charges were heard by District Judge Sterling Williams on indictments returned Monday by the Scurry County grand jury against two persons.

Douglas James of Snyder pleaded guilty to a felony theft charge and received a two-year probated sentence yesterday afternoon. The charge was in connection with disappearance of money from the office of Industrial Supply Co., Lubbock highway, where James was employed.

Maxine Fain pleaded guilty to two indictments on forgery and passing of checks and received sentences of three years in the penitentiary, with the sentences to run concurrently.

She had been indicted Monday in connection with forgery and passing one check for $5 to the Fair Store, and on one for $4.75 passed at Franklin's.

2nd Session Finds Legislators Bitter

By DAVE CHEAVENS

AUSTIN (AP) — A Legislature powerless to balance the budget in 150 days bitterly starts a new effort today to stabilize state finances.

Gov. Price Daniel at midnight called a new 30-day special session to begin at 11 a.m. in an atmosphere of biting contention.

Speaker Waggoner Carr blamed the session's failure on Daniel. He said the governor deserted his own tax program and supporters in a manner "disgusting and reprehensible."

The Senate passed the 204-million-dollar tax bill 19-12. Then the House overwhelmingly rejected it at 117-23 a few minutes short of the midnight closing hour of the session.

The appropriations bill died in conference committee. House and Senate conferees—like the majority of each House—could not agree on how much and where to spend, or how to find the money.

The legislators who tried for 120 days in the regular session and 30 days in the first called session to solve the state's fiscal riddle must now start from scratch. Adjournment swept into the wastebasket both appropriations and tax bills which the Legislature could not or would not reconcile.

The session's major accomplishment was passage of a bookkeeping bill that is expected to cut the general fund deficit by 28 million dollars.

Gov. Daniel's call for the special session gave it four major assignments: retirement of the deficit, passage of appropriations for 1960-61 and taxes to finance them, passage of a dormant property seizure bill, and a measure to protect the public's right to beaches.

Carr, who has been at political odds with Daniel since the Legislature convened last January, accused the governor of using "every type" of pressure tactics on the House for his fiscal plan. The House, he said, passed it substantially. Then, Carr continued, the governor left his supporters "high and dry" by agreeing to accept anything the Senate would approve.

"By such tactics the governor has forced us into another special session. His fancy footwork has prevented the passage of a tax bill this session. If he had stuck by his promises, our work would now have been completed and we would have been able to save the taxpayers the cost of another session . . .

"It appears that the governor has failed to recommend a program which is acceptable to both houses and one which he himself has failed to support when it was considered by the separate houses of the Legislature."

As midnight approached, it appeared that the House was ready to talk the Senate-approved tax bill to death without a vote. It refused to cut off debate. Then, with dramatic suddenness, Rep. Bill Hollowell, Grand Saline, interrupted a speech by Rep. Jerry Sadler.

GOVERNOR STILL CONFINED—Earl K. Long, governor of Louisiana, shouts "still in jail" to newsmen as he sits in a car about to return him to John Sealy Hospital in Galveston after a judge postponed for a week a hearing on Long's effort to gain release. (AP Wirephoto)

Long To Fly Back To Louisiana Today

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Earl K. Long arrived in a Louisiana Air National Guard plane today to take her husband, the Louisiana governor, back home.

Mrs. Long was accompanied by three doctors, Maj. Gen. Raymond Hufft, and Mrs. William Lockhart, the governor's executive secretary. Hufft is adjutant general of Louisiana.

Mrs. Long told newsmen that "as soon as things can be gotten ready, they would leave."

Long shouted to newsmen from his second floor room in the psychiatric clinic of John Sealy Hospital earlier today that the group would leave for Oschsner Foundation Hospital in New Orleans at 11 a.m.

The New Orleans States-Item quoted an unidentified source as saying Long would be taken to Ochsner's for a deteriorating heart condition.

But Long's attending physician, who asked not to be identified, denied any report of Long's having a heart attack while in Galveston.

"He has had no heart attack here at all," the doctor said. "His illness has been somewhat of a strain on his heart. But his heart is not in any serious condition."

The light in Long's second-story room was the only one on during most of the night. The governor slept from midnight to 4 a.m.

At 6 a.m. he waved to newsmen who kept an all-night vigil outside the hospital because of reports he might leave during the night.

Long, resisting treatment in John Sealy Hospital in Galveston, said he would consent to treatment in Louisiana if released. His agreement apparently started the move to have him released.

Bedford Fine, one of the governor's three court-appointed lawyers, said he thought if the family withdrew its commital petition "the court would go along."

Blanche Long, the governor's wife, was expected to leave Baton Rouge, La., on a National Guard plane today.

She is expected to be accompanied by Louisiana Adjutant General Raymond Hufft and Dr. Martin O. Miller, who will fly the governor back to New Orleans.

The freedom move, although avoiding a family court squabble, left unanswered the question of Long's status as governor.

Louisiana Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion said Long could return to Louisiana without actually taking over as governor. Gremillion said the law says Lt. Gov. Lether Frazar may act as governor "in the case of inability of the governor to act for any cause."

But Gremillion wouldn't answer what would happen if Long suddenly decided to use his office authority on returning.

Acting Gov. Frazar was not in full agreement.

Furor Rages Over Perry Mason Talk

BLOWING ROCK, N.C. (AP)—Actor Raymond Burr — who plays Perry Mason, the lawyer who never loses a case—is going to address the convention of the North Carolina Bar Assn. which opens today. The invitation has set off some legal fireworks.

Superior Court Judge Frank Armstrong won't be in the audience. The judge protested the bid to Burr to speak Friday.

"I see about as much of Perry Mason on television as I care to because my children watch it at home," Armstrong said.

"Perry Mason's program bears no semblance of the correct and proper means of administering justice, or the proper conduct of the lawyer in trial of a criminal case."

Armstrong said the fact that Burr will speak at the convention is indicative of what he calls the irresponsibility and lack of knowledge of the administration of justice shown by some bar leaders.

The bar association president, Beverly C. Moore of Greensboro, said in rebuttal that Burr had been invited to the convention in the role of a guest entertainer, not as a lawyer.

Burr, who will speak on "Lawyers In the Public View," was not available for comment.

Steel Strike Called Inevitable By Official

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Secretary-Treasurer William Schnitzler of the AFL-CIO says a costly steel strike is inevitable next month.

Schnitzler is here to address the American Federation of Musicians convention.

Country Club Will Get New Clubhouse

Stockholders of the Snyder Country Club voted in a special meeting last night to build a new $100,000 clubhouse.

A total of 95 members voted on the proposal, either in person or by proxy.

Plans for the building are still in a preliminary stage, but present plans call for a brick building of about 6,000 square feet, according to Hugh Boren, Jr., Country Club president.

A committee headed by D. D. Shelburne has been working on preliminary plans, with the aid of J. D. Hinton, Snyder architect.

The new building will replace the present clubhouse, but plans are not definite on whether it will be built on the same site and on what use will be made of the present building.

In the new building will be three dining rooms, a ballroom, kitchen, men's and women's locker rooms and other facilities.

With approval of the membership for the new building the board will begin making more definite plans. Next meeting of the board will be next Tuesday night.

Members of the board are Boren, Harry Reed, vice president, Max Dyer, Ed Free, E. A. Brooks, Bill Brown, and Ken Haught. Tommy Deffebach is secretary.

Liberace Wins Suit

LONDON (AP) — A high court jury awarded American entertainer Liberace 8,000 pounds ($22,400) damages today in a libel suit against the London Daily Mirror.

The jurors—10 men and 2 women—decided after 3½ hours of deliberation that a story in 1956 by Mirror columnist William N. Connor implied that the pianist was a homosexual.

The implication was untrue, the jury held, and the phraseology used by Connor in the column was not fair comment, as claimed by the Mirror.

Liberace insisted the column said plainly that he was something less than a man.

He swore on the witness stand that he was not a homosexual.

Beulah Winds Near Hurricane Velocity

By The Associated Press

Winds of tropical storm Beulah reached 70 m.p.h., almost hurricane force, as she slowly drifted toward the Texas-Mexican coast Wednesday.

A weather plane that flew through the Gulf of Mexico storm area reported at 10 a.m. the 70 m.p.h. winds near the storms centers. At that time Beulah was about 200 miles south of Brownsville and moving west northwestward at 4 to 8 m.p.h.

Winds up to 50 m.p.h. extended about 60 miles out from the center. Scattered squalls and winds of about 35 m.p.h. extended east and northeast in the middle Gulf of Mexico.

The Weather Bureau expected the storm's center to strike the Mexican coast midway between Brownsville and Tampico late Wednesday.

A hurricane watch remained in force from Corpus Christi southward. Small craft from Brownsville to Panama City, Fla., were advised to remain in port.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms spread ahead of the storm into southern Texas.

The Coast Guard reported tides of one to two feet above normal on Padre Island and some beaches there and at Boca Chica near Brownsville awash.

Tides at Corpus Christi were only slightly above normal.

The Weather Bureau forecast tides three to six feet above normal late in the day.

Residents of Padre Island had been warned of the approaching storm Tuesday night. However, there was no indication of any great movement of persons from the island.

At Brownsville and across the border at Matamoros, Mexico, police and other agencies were placed on a standby basis. Several schools and other buildings were designated as public shelters and meeting places.

At Harlingen the Air Force began moving 74 planes inland to Laughlin Air Force Base, Del Rio, as a precautionary measure.

Except for scattered showers on the South Texas coast and in the eastern Panhandle, Texas had generally fair and warm weather Wednesday.

Brownsville had 1.10 inches of rain in the 24 hours ending at 6 a.m. Wednesday and Corpus Christi .90, Mercedes .94, Rio Grande City .60 and Dalhart .55.

State Troopers Capture Cop-Slayer Suspects

MIDDLEBORO, Mass. (AP)—The Coyle brothers, sought in deep woods since Monday for the slaying of a Philadelphia policeman, were captured today by a squad of state troopers.

First reports said William Coyle, 22, was wounded. His brother, John, 24, was reported unharmed.

A telephone call from a house just off Route 28, where the search has been concentrated, led to the climax of the biggest manhunt in Massachusetts history.

Walter Schmidt of Union City, N.J., tipped police. He and his wife were visiting at the home of Mrs. Schmidt's mother, Victoria Canova, in South Middleboro, when he saw two men prowling around outside.

He said one man was crawling on his hands and knees near a garage. Schmidt called police.

Half a dozen squad cars were at the Canova home in seconds. The troopers burst into the woods and opened fire.

One brother was carried out of the woods on a stretcher.

The brothers apparently had broken into a house trailer in the hunt and obtained food and fresh clothing.

They drove here from Philadelphia with a hostage, William Sedgwick, 49, whom they kidnaped in his own car. Sedgwick escaped after the brothers held up a highway liquor store Monday. The brothers fled into the woods.

Bruce Hiekkila returned to inspect his home on the perimeter of the woods and found his bed had been slept in, food had been cooked and some of his clothing stolen.

More than 350 state and local police, FBI agents and conservation officers had sought the Coyles. An Air Force helicopter and two county-owned planes assisted from the air.

The Coyle brothers escaped into the woods after exchanging shots Monday with two policemen who traced them to their woodland hideout after a liquor store robbery.

As the pair fled, Sedgwick stumbled from his automobile and related a tale of 10 days as a captive of the brothers.

He said he was kidnaped in his own car on June 6 near his place of employment, tied and thrown on the back seat and driven to Massachusetts.

Bank Deposits In Texas On Increase

By The Associated Press

Big increases in bank deposits were shown Wednesday by Texas banks except in the heavily populated Beaumont, Fort Worth and Houston areas.

But even in Houston a banker said the decline there, $104,000,000 down from June, 1958, was because most of the correspondent banks had withdrawn funds to handle a large demand for crop loans.

Dallas banks, their tills bulging with $2,290,987,832 in deposits, showed a gain of more than $80,000,000—the largest in the state.

Fort Worth, with $708,605,213 on deposit, showed a drop in deposits of $4,536,860. Beaumont's deposits were $141,779,134, down $2,706,239.

El Paso, Lubbock and Abilene showed big deposit increases.

Bankers at Abilene reported bright prospects for the next 6 months. Banks there reported $96,871,031 in deposits, a record high and more than $10,000,000 above figures for June 23, 1958.

Deposits as reported by cities:

Nixon Visit Is Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet government has agreed to allow Vice President Richard M. Nixon to tour some Siberian cities during his good will visit to the Soviet Union next month.

Such a trip would make Nixon the highest-ranking U.S. official ever to visit this highly restricted region in peacetime. Vice President Henry A. Wallace toured Siberia briefly during World War II.

The State Department and the Soviet Embassy are now working out final arrangements for Nixon's Siberian travels as well as half a dozen other stops he wants to make in the Soviet Union.

Nixon's trip, mainly to open the American national exhibit in Moscow July 25, is being set up as a virtual tit-for-tat exchange for a visit by Deputy Soviet Premier Frol Kozlov.

A protege of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, Kozlov is tentatively due to arrive in New York June 29, ostensibly to open the Soviet trade and cultural exhibit in New York's Coliseum beginning June 30.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market staged a mild recovery early this afternoon under the leadership of steels and assorted issues.

Gains of pivotal stocks ran from fractions to about a point. Selected stocks were up 2 points or better. A variety of issues kept small losses. The market was irregular at the start. Turnover continued at a slow rate but picked up a bit as prices improved.

Lukens Steel rose a couple of points and Youngstown Sheet did slightly better. U.S. Steel advanced about a point. Bethlehem and Jones & Laughlin made smaller gains.

American Telephone stemmed its recent retreat and was up a point or better. Consolidated Edison made a fractional gain.

American Tobacco was about a point to the good.

General Motors showed scant change. Chrysler, Ford and American Motors went ahead about a point each.

Electronics issues were led by Zenith and Raytheon, both up beyond a point. Motorola, Radio Corp. and Sperry Rand were fractional gainers.

International Harvester was more than a point higher. Goodyear eased fractionally from recent gains.

U.S. government bonds were steady.

MIGs Shot Off Man's New Navy Rating

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP) — "I didn't mind being shot up half as much as I did having my second class rating shot off my arm," Donald E. Corder told fellow crew members of the U.S. Navy patrol plane attacked by Communist MIGs Tuesday.

Corder, 20, from Jacksonville and Farmer City, Ill., was the only member of the 14-man crew injured in the attack.

County Sets Fee On Tax Collections

Rural school districts for which the county collects taxes will be charged one per cent of collections according to a vote of the commissioners court this week.

The county tax office collects school taxes for Scurry County portions of the Ira, Fluvanna, Hermleigh and Hobbs school districts.

Previously county tax assessor-collectors acted as private tax collector-assessor for those districts on a fee basis. This year, Geral G. Greene, county tax assessor-collector, turned funds over to the county because of a recent attorney general's opinion on county collectors acting for other agencies.

The court also voted to pay the electric bill for street lights at Hermleigh. Several citizens have been paying the bill in the past.

DFC Awarded To Pilot Of Plane Attacked By MIGs

By JOHN RODERICK

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP) — A U.S. Navy plane crew told today how Communist MIG fighters raked their patrol plane with 15 to 20 bursts of machinegun fire and sent it limping home with two of its four engines out and one of the 14 crewmen wounded.

The airmen told a news conference two "or possibly three" Red-starred jets—their nationality still a mystery—had swooped down suddenly on the turbo-prop P4M Mercator while it was over international waters, 45 miles off the east coast of North Korea Tuesday.

The tail gun was knocked out and the gunner wounded on the second of six Communist runs before he could open fire. The plane's two other 20mm. machineguns were unable to fire because of missing parts.

The attack was broken off as the plane started to limp back to Japan. It was met by two Air Force Sabre Jet fighters that answered its call for help, but the MIGs had vanished long before.

The injured tail gunner, Aviation Electronic Mate 2.C. Donald E. Corder, 20, of Jacksonville and Farmer City, Ill., suffered more than 40 painful but not critical wounds from shrapnel and flying plexiglass. He was hit in the neck, arms and hands, and suffered a fracture of the kneecap and a head wound.

Rear Adm. Frederic S. Withington, commander of U.S. naval forces in Japan, said emphatically U.S. patrols would continue in the area.

"We are not going to admit that the sea of Japan is a Russian lake," he declared.

But the admiral said he did not plan to send fighter escorts for the patrol planes, explaining "that would be more provocative than useful."

Withington said it was the first time a Navy aircraft had been so badly damaged and still returned to base. In 11 previous brushes between Communist and American planes in the Far East, some Air Force crews have made it home, but previous Navy planes have been lost.

The admiral interrupted the news conference to read a telegram from Washington awarding the Distinguished Flying Cross to the plane's 35-year-old commander, Lt. Cmdr. Donald E. Mayer of Litchfield, Conn., for his feat in bringing his aircraft and crew back.

Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, U.S. chief of naval operations, also sent a commendation message to the entire crew, Withington said. Corder, the wounded man, will get the Purple Heart and appropriate decorations or commendations will go to the rest of the crew.

The plane was starting home to its base at Iwakuni, 500 miles west of Tokyo, from a routine radio mission when the jets attacked.

Junior Editors Quiz on CARROTS

QUESTION: Why do they say carrots are good for the eyes?

• • •

ANSWER: The people of the ancient world did not think of carrots as a food. They used the long, reddish-yellow vegetables as a medicine. And, in a way, they were right.

Carrots contain large quantities of Vitamin A and Vitamin B1, plus some Vitamin B2 and C. Vitamins, of course, are necessary to a person's health and growth.

The Vitamin A in carrots is particularly essential for good eyesight. People who do not get enough Vitamin A often develop eye diseases or night blindness.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: See if you can find out the foods – milk and green vegetables are two – that are rich in vitamins. Try to eat all of those foods that you can so you can be sure to get all your vitamins.

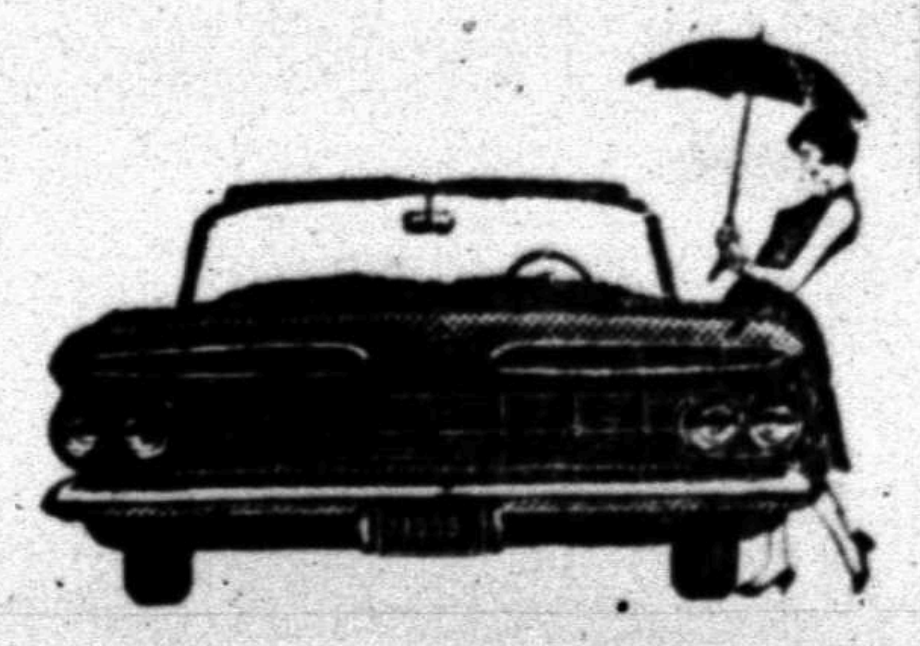
OTHER LOW-PRICED CARS WOULDN'T BE LOW PRICED IF THEY HAD WHAT CHEVY HAS!

Anyone who's shopped around knows the leading low-priced three are only a few dollars apart on cost. But when you start figuring what you get for your money Chevy widens the gap in a hurry. Look over the accompanying list of Chevrolet exclusives, then make a conservative estimate of how much they're worth to you. We'll leave it to your own arithmetic. How long would the other two be in the low-price field if they gave you what Chevy does?

CHEVROLET

NO WONDER MORE PEOPLE ARE BUYING CHEVROLETS IN 1959 THAN ANY OTHER CAR!



Impala Convertible—unmistakably modern.

Plate

SAFETY PLATE GLASS IN EVERY WINDOW

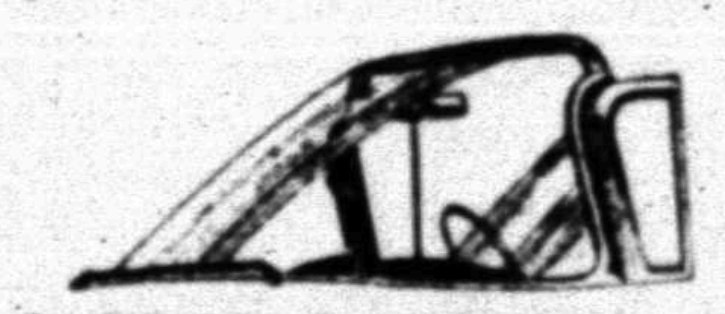
How much is this eye-comfort worth to you? Chevrolet's the only low-priced car that gives you Safety Plate Glass—not just Safety Glass—all around. And you get more visibility area in a Chevy, too, whether you pick a sedan, hardtop or convertible.

$________

UNMISTAKABLY MODERN DESIGN

Chevy's got the only really fresh style in its field. We'll leave it to your own good taste to put a price tag on this (plus the extra allowance you can expect at trade-in time).

$________



OVERHEAD-CURVING WINDSHIELD This one's a real neck-saver, as you'll find the first time you pull up to one of those elusive overhead traffic lights.

$________

HYDRAULIC VALVE LIFTERS No other low-priced car gives you this oil-hushed assurance of smoother, quieter performance on all standard engines.

$________

CRANK-OPERATED VENTIPANES

A pair of real fingernail-savers, as you know if you've ever tried to open a ventipane without that handy little crank.

$________

GREATER ROOMINESS

Chevrolet seating space is up to a full 5.9 inches wider than other leading low-priced cars. And Chevy even outdoes most of the higher priced sedans in front seat head room.

$________

BIGGEST BRAKES IN THE FIELD

Chevy's new Safety-Master brakes are built for up to two-thirds longer lining life. And you actually get more lining area than on many heavier, higher priced cars. How much is this extra margin of safety worth to you?

$________

FULL COIL SUSPENSION

A few minutes behind the wheel will leave no doubt what this is worth. Chevy's the only leading low-priced car that coddles you with coil springs at all four wheels.

$________

LINED LUGGAGE COMPARTMENT

You'll find this luggage-saver on all Chevrolets. But it's only offered on a few of the most expensive models of other makes in Chevy's field.

$________

HIGHER RESALE VALUE

Your Chevy's worth more now—and it'll be worth more when you trade it. A look at last year's used car prices* shows Chevrolet averaged up to $128 more than comparable models of the "other two."

*Based on official Guide Book figures of the National Automobile Dealers Association, industry-wide source of used car prices.

Housewives Lead New Stock Buyers

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Those women you see in stockbrokers' boardrooms in increasing numbers are not just resting their feet.

They're buying stocks in ever greater volume. In the list of Amercans who have bought their first share of stock in the last three years, housewives lead all the rest. Women shareowners have outnumbered men for some time. But they have increased their lead snce 1956.

Some four million women classifying themselves as housewives now own stock, the biggest single group in the New York Stock Exchange's 1959 census of shareowners.

This shows that women now are 52.5 per cent of all adult shareowners, compared with 51.4 per cent in 1956 when the last census was taken. Altogether there are 12,490,000 men and women who have at least one share.

Among the newcomers to corporate stockholders lists since 1956 women outnumber men by 56.3 per cent to 43.7 per cent.

Altogether there are 6,347,000. While the career girls and the other women employed in business are taking to the stock market, too, it's the housewife who is the shining light in the boardrooms these days. They now total one third of all the shareowners in the land. Their numbers have increased by 1,170,000 since 1956.

Next largest groups of shareowners are proprietors, managers and officials; professional and semiprofessional; and clerical and sales. There are many women among each of these three occupational groups.

Many employed women got their stocks through employe stock purchasing plans. Some 1,340,000 of both sexes are now investing regularly under these plans, and an estimated 2,500,000 shareowners got their first shares in this fashion.

Even those who don't work for corporations tell the stock exchange says 9 out of 10 of all shareowners feel that way.

Many women own shares in more than one company. Corporation books list a total of 14,429,000 female owners, along with 7,289,000 joint accounts. The total of stock shares held by women comes to 2,013,000,000.

No Longhairs For Space Age

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—"Long hair is just not suited to the American way of living," says Miss Helen Ryan, a member of the official hair fashion committee of the National Assn. of Hairdressers and Cosmetologists.

Unlike their father, the present generation of youngsters will carry a picture of their ideal girl with short hair because their mothers are wearing the new trends.

Miss Ryan, a vehement advocate of short hair, says:

"It should be only a half-inch at the nape of the neck, three or four inches at the crown and one to two inches at the hairline.

"The new trends are healthier, too. The days of blunt, heavy, bulky styling are over. Hair and scalp have never been healthier since softness, light and airiness have come into vogue."

Miss Ryan describes hairstyling today as "being in the romance era." The object is to make women look as feminine as possible.

How important is hair styling? Miss Ryan believes a woman is a silhouette of fashion from tip to toe and her hairdo is "the icing on the cake."

Gerald Crawford's Host Sunday School Class Social Friday

Mrs. Ray Herring and Mrs. Ford Spikes registered guests.

Young People Instructed In Mental Ills

TODAY'S TEEN-AGERS often display surprising insight into psychological problems, says Edward Linzer, educational director for the National Assn. for Mental Health.

Recently high school boys and girls tried out for parts in a one-act play, "Which Way Out?", designed to explain the problems of mental illness to young people. Says Linzer:

"The youngsters met the subject head-on. There was little real embarrassment and they seemed eager to learn the facts. frankly surprised, at the teenagers' attitudes. They showed a degree of sympathy that was really quite touching and at the same time they were very positive in condemning the shame and ridicule that adults frequently show toward this disorder."

The association hopes to use the play as an instructional tool in classrooms and before young people's groups all over the country.

Better Set Limits For 2-Year-Old

By Dorothy V. Whipple, M.D.
AO Newsfeatures

A CHILD OF 2 is into everything. If you are going to live through it until he is 3 you'd better set some limits.

But think about it ahead of time and plan what you are going to do.

If you don't plan, you are likely to become a screaming shrew, constantly dashing to your child with yells of "No!" "Stop!" "Don't!"

What are the child's needs and what are yours?

A 2-year-old leanrs by doing—the more he does the more he learns, and you really do want him to learn. The limits you set should direct the child to use his boundless engery and curiosity to find out as much as possible about the world, and at the same time preserve a few of your material possessions for later years. He cannot be allowed to tear up your books, but he can have a pile of old magazines that he can do with as he likes, look at, pile up, tear freely.

If you possibley can, arrange a place where the child is free to do anything he wants to do where you do not have to say "No." See to it that that place is well equipped with interesting things to do— interesting if you are 2 years old. Ideally there might be both an indoor play place and a well fenced backyard or outdoor place.

Reasonable Rules

In the rest of the house, protect what you can. Put away your precious and expensive bric-a-brac, reduce the off-limits areas to a reasonable number and then be firm and consistent about what he cannot touch. He cannot play with the spegots on the gas stove, he cannot jump on the living room couch, he cannot pull the books off the shelves.

Don't try to give a 2-year-old reasons for the restrictions. At this age you are the absolute authority. It is "No" because you say "No" but try to be a benevolent despot, not a tyrant. You must know why you say "No" even if you don't try to tell your reason to your young child.

And above all, be consistent. Your "No" must always be the same. Lack of consistency is one of the greatest causes of failure of discipline, and the consistency must be real to the child. If he mustn't touch the coffee pot because it may be hot, he had better never be allowed to touch it even when it's not hot.

If your child has ample opportunity to explore his world he will be able to take reasonable limitations without undue frustration on his part.

Divert Him

A 2-year-old is seldom interested in anything for very long at a time. You can often divert his interest from a forbidden to a permitted object before a tantrum develops.

A 2-year-old often needs protection against himself. He cannot control his own impulses and desires and he needs you to step in and stop him from hurting some person or some pet.

A young child who feels and understands that there are limits to what he is allowed to do feels much more secure and much safer than if he lives in a world without restrictions. He likes the knowledge that you protect him.

Try to make a reasonable world for your 2-year-old to explore. Be calm, consistent and always friendly. These are difficult things to do, but they are not impossible.

CHESTNUTS

Preheat the oven to 450 degrees. Slit each chestnut on one side with a sharp knife. Wrap the slit chestnuts in heavy aluminum foil or put them into a casserole with a tight fitting cover. Roast in the oven for 35 to 40 minutes. Remove the shells and sprinkle salt and pepper. Serve with crisp fresh apples.

It's important to have extremely fresh eggs when poaching them.

ENROUTE TO EUROPE—The group of Snyderites above left at 11 o'clock this morning en route to Europe where they will take a 33-day tour. They will leave Fort Worth tomorrow and will arrive in Scotland Saturday. From left, above are Keith McCormick, Jimmy Joe Key, Roland Key, Tim Williamson, Claude McCormick, E. H. Williamson, and Marvin Key. They will return to Snyder July 21. (Lee Watson photograph)

Snyderites Leave On European Tour

Nine European countries will be visited by a group of seven Snyder residents who will leave Fort Worth tomorrow on a 30-day tour of Europe.

The group left here this morning for Fort Worth and will spend the night there before flying to New York, where the group will visit the Jack Paar television show, before flying to Europe.

Making the trip are Marvin Key, Westridge Drive, and two sons, Jimmy Joe Key and Roland Key; Claude McCormick, 3101 Avenue A, and a son, Keith McCormick; and E. H. (Ab) Williamson, 2701 Thirty-fifth Street, and a son, Tim Williamson.

The planned tour is one mapped out by a travel agency under sponsorship of the Texas Farm & Ranch News, and while in the European countries the group will visit farms and ranches and attend some agricultural shows.

Flying first to Scotland, the group will then go to England, the Netherlands, Germany, Switzerland, Austria, Liechtenstein, Italy and France, then go back to England before returning to the U. S. The entire tour will be by air.

Prisoners Demanding Amnesty

HAVANA (AP) — Inmates in crowded old Principe Prison rioted for four hours Tuesday demanding an amnesty they said Prime Minister Fidel Castro had promised common criminals.

Police reinforcements ringed the prison walls and held the prisoners at bay with gunfire. Police and guards inside finally got the rioters under control.

Interior Minister Jose Navarro promised to consider an amnesty as well as demands that prisoners be removed from old dungeons.

He also ordered the arrest of a police lieutenant who the prisoners claimed had fired at them.

There are nearly 2,000 prisoners in the prison.

Flying Object Seen

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—An unidentified flying object—visible to the naked eye but not to radar—streaked across Nevada skies Tuesday night.

It was the third mysterious sighting in three weeks. The Air Force said none of the objects sighted could have been planes.

Search On For Boy Believed Drowned

KANAB, Utah (AP)—A 15-year-old Boy Scout apparently fell from a dirt bluff into the Colorado River and drowned, officials said today.

Sheriff Le Nard Johnson called off the land search for Jesse M. Drury III of Holladay, Utah, a Salt Lake City suburb. Drury failed to return Monday from an excursion down the Colorado River.

Johnson planned dredging operations in the river below a point where search parties found a dirt trail caved in. He said the youth apparently fell from the trail, hit two ledges and then tumbled into the river.

Only Two Missing German POW Escapees Remaining

By JACK ADAMS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Out of the grand total of 2,803 men who escaped from prisoner-of-war camps in this country during World War II, only two one-time German soldiers are still missing.

Until very recently, there were three in this exclusive club. But on May 10, Kurt Rossmeisl, now 52, once an officer in the Panzer Division of Adolf Hitler's North Afrika Corps, walked voluntarily into the FBI field office at Cincinnati, Ohio. Suffering from arthritis, he said he wanted to give himself up.

An accomplished linguist, Rossmeisl escaped from a North Carolina camp in 1945, adopted the name Frank Ellis, got a social security card and made a fairly comfortable life for himself for 14 years in the Chicago area, working as a punch-press operator, elevator man, bartender and waiter.

Once, about five years ago, a national magazine ran his picture. A fellow worker thought it looked an awful lot like Frank Ellis. But Frank's boss laughed off the idea, and nothing came of the incident — except that Frank shortly afterward changed jobs and associates.

For him, the tap on the shoulder never came. But he apparently got tired of waiting for it.

At an immigration service hearing at Cincinnati June 4, Rossmeisl was ruled deportable. However, he requested, and got, permission to leave the country voluntarily so that he might re-enter as a regular immigrant and apply for American citizenship.

With Rossmeisl's surrender, the unaccounted for dropped off to:

1. Georg Gaertner, who if living would now be 38.

2. A man who always insisted on calling himself Charly King, but who according to the FBI is really named Curt Richard Westphal. He would be 37.

Pictures of both these men still appear on FBI wanted fliers on the walls of some federal buildings, but no active search is being made for them. So far as is known, they have broken no laws in this country.

If caught, the Immigration Service probably would institute proceedings, but in the case of Gaertner at least the stateless person problem would arise. Gaertner was born in Silesia, which was absorbed into Poland and subsequently came under Soviet domination. Before he escaped the prisoner-of-war camp at Deming Army Airbase, N.M., on the night of Sept. 21, 1945, he had told fellow-prisoners he had no intention of returning home.

Liability Plan Draws Opposition

AUSTIN (AP)—An auto liability insurance rating plan to be heard Thursday is already drawing opposition.

Sen. Jarrard Secrest of Temple said yesterday the plan to be aired publicly by the Insurance Board is "totally unworkable."

Secrest sponsored a flexible rate system that has been rejected twice by the Legislature.

"Careful drivers are demanding, and are entitled to, lower car insurance rates, but only a complete flexible rating system, including merit rating features, can bring this about. The merit rating plan alone cannot do it," Secrest said.

Board Chairman Penn Jackson said he hopes the final plan is in effect about Aug. 1.

Under the pending plan, drivers will be rated on a 3-year experience period. Those who have driven without accident during this period will receive the lowest rates. Rates will increase by classification for those with one accident or more.

The driver's age and the automobile's use also will be factors, Jackson said.

Weather Is Right For Cotton

AUSTIN (AP)—Cotton growing weather was reported from all over Texas last week.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture said the hot, humid days and nights advanced plant growth. About 96 per cent of the state's cotton and 80 per cent of the important sorghums have been planted.

The report was on conditions through Monday.

Cattle were growing fat on lush grass and calves are heavier than a year ago. There was a good volume movement of lambs to market.

Good progress was reported for commercial vegetables. An adverse report came from the Panhandle where heavy rains and hail damaged the potato crop.

North Texas onions moved to market in good volume. Tomatoes started to move in light volume from East and South Central Texas. Harvest of sweet corn, squash, cucumbers and peas was under way.

Clifton Webb Told To Take Long Rest

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Doctor's orders have forced Clifton Webb to step out of a movie role.

The 62-year-old actor was ordered to take an extended rest at home after he was hospitalized over the weekend. The nature of his ailment was not announced.

Webb will be replaced by James Mason in the 20th Century-Fox science fiction film "Journey to the Center of the World."

Red Influence Still Strong In Iraq But Old Zeal Is Fading

Editor's note — William L. Ryan has revisited Iraq, a country he last saw just before the 1958 revolution which killed the king. In this dispatch, written free of censorship, he describes the current atmosphere.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — For the past few weeks nobody in Baghdad, as far as can be learned, has spat on an American.

Perhaps the atmosphere of carnival is wearing off in Iraq. The confused young men charging about the streets of Iraqi cities, intoxicated by nose-thumbing slogans, went off a monumental binge after the revolution last July.

Now the ardor is fading a bit. Even the uniformed youngsters of the "popular resistance forces" seem bored. They still stop cars and search some, but the old zeal is gone.

Iraqi soldiers still live in tents on the U.S. Embassy grounds. A soldier with fixed bayonet looks at the credentials of those who go in. Iraqi intelligence men haunt the place. But it's not so annoying as it once was.

Evidently the situation for employers is easing a bit, though the syndicates — unions hastily formed and dominated by Communists — still make it possible for a worker to defy his boss on the flimsiest of pretexts.

Red banners with violent slogans hang on buildings or flutter over the streets, more in evidence than the traditional green of Islam.

Women with black veils covering their heads and faces, black abbas billowing about them, squat unceremoniously in the dust-covered streets to gossip and attend to the needs of squalling children.

Kurdish porters with incredible loads on their backs stagger doggedly through the streets, oblivious to propaganda. Stolid farmers belabor slow-moving, heavily burdened donkeys weaving their way along the crowded sidewalks.

Their landlords, once entitled to the deferential respect due feudal lords, mutter glumly to one another in the coffee houses about the confiscation of lands under the revolutionary regime.

Workers at key city squares in Baghdad, sweltering in the cruel sunshine, labor against time to erect expensive triumphal arches for the revolution anniversary July 14. The job keeps a corps of workers busy.

Bookstores display the latest pamphlets published in Communist countries. The shopkeepers have little choice about this. The newspapers with dreary unanimity follow the lead of the Communist press in spreading the cliches of Communist propaganda.

All refer to Iraq's future as one of popular democracy. All pay tribute to the Soviet Union.

Everywhere, on pillars, in shop windows, on buildings, there are pictures. There are pictures of renowned revolutionary poets, pictures of Communist heroes like Lenin, Stalin and Khrushchev. But the picture which dominates all the others in the hot, dusty, dirty and overcrowded streets is that of the premier, Maj. Gen. Abdel Karim Kassem.

At one stage the Communists were ready to grab, at the least, a large share of governmental authority. Suddenly they pulled back.

It was a bitter pill to swallow for those who believed the party ready to move. Relatively small in number, the disciplined hard core commanded the only well-organized political party. It had control of virtually all mass organizations. Street mobs were its playthings. It was ready to use the new-born popular resistance as a civilian striking arm.

Soviet and Communistic bloc penetration had been swift and heavy. Many hundreds of foreign Communists poured in: technical teams, cultural teams, propaganda training teams, engineering, economic and military missions, experts in swarms.

Kassem apparently still had army support, but the eager ones among the Communists seemed confident they could handle the problem.

Then the Communists backtracked, called off an "education campaign" for participation in the government, proclaimed their loyalty to Kassem.

What caused this reversal?

First, Kassem's resistance to the Communists seemed to have stiffened.

Then, despite a great deal of noise hitting at President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic, it was plain Nasser still had considerable personal following in Iraq. And Nasser had turned violently on communism.

For Moscow it became a choice: take power in a country which still could blow up or retain whatever gains Soviet policy had made in the Middle East toward long-range goals. Moscow risked provoking a solid Middle East anti-Communist front under Nasser leadership. Iraq, lacking a frontier with a Communist power, might not long be held firmly in the Red grip.

The Communists' Iraqi party secretary general, Salam Adil, attended international Communist meetings in Moscow. He came home and proclaimed: no party alone could "shoulder the responsibility of liberating the country." There would be no showdown with Kassem at this time, no attempt to grabbing power.

Moscow, alert to the complexities of the Arab East, seems in no hurry to take rash chances. Attractive as oil-rich Iraq might seem in the role of Communist satellite, the risk are great. Nasser defeated the Communists once before in Syria, when they were almost strong enough to grab for power. They have reason to respect him, even now.

Passenger Tells About Hijacking

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—"I was in the front, near the pilot's station, when I heard someone talking rough in Spanish," said Gabriel Hajian.

"I turned to look and I saw this dark man with dark glasses and a shiny gun."

Hajian was describing the flight of 30 terrified passengers, including several Americans, on a hijacked Cubana Airlines plane Tuesday night.

"He talked like a crazy man—fast, fast. He kept mentioning Miami to the pilot. At first the pilot shook his head, but the man put the gun close to the pilot's head. Then the pilot turned and banked the plane and the man with the gun smiled."

Women sat terrified, their hands over their eyes, during most of the 75-minute flight from Havana with the six soldiers from former Cuban President Fulgencio Batista's army in command, Hajian said.

Hajian, 26, an engineer from New Haven, Conn., said the leader, identified as Lt. Maurillo Francisco Marques-Lopez, 20, from Camaguey, kept waving the gun and looking around as if he expected someone to shoot him.

"But the closer we got to Miami —or I guess it was the farther away we got from Cuba — the calmer he got," Hajian added.

Names of other Americans aboard were unavailable.

Atlanta Ordered To Submit Plans For Desegregation

ATLANTA (AP) — A federal judge has ordered the Atlanta Board of Education to submit a desegregation plan for the city's public schools within a reasonable time.

The ruling did not set any deadline. U.S. Dist. Judge Frank A. Hooper said he would allow sufficient time for the Georgia Legislature to act upon the plan if necessary.

The next regular session of the Legislature will be in January 1960.

Mayor William B. Hartsfield of Atlanta said the ruling "allows time for both the city and the state to save the public schools."

In Washington, however, Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga) said he hoped the Atlanta school board would "use every means at their command to resist this effort . . . to enforce an abhorrent alien doctrine on a people who are proud of their belief in the right of the several states to control their local affairs."

In a written decision Tuesday, Hooper confirmed a ruling he made on June 5 and said he was compelled to enoin racial discrimination in the Atlanta public schools.

"This court fully realizes the difficult position in which the defendants are herein placed," the court order said. "If they integrate the schools, all state money under existing laws will be cut off and it may be that such funds are necessary for the operation.

"The continued operation, however, with discrimination as in the past will not be tolerated."

Hooper's order interpreted the U.S. Supreme Court's call for integration with all deliberate speed as meaning speed "consistent with the welfare of all our people, with the maintenance of law and order, and with the preservation if possible of our common school system."

The jurist assumed that any plan would call for a gradual desegregation process with careful screening of applicants to determine their fitness to enter the school to which they apply.

This was a repetition of Hooper's earlier broad hint that the way to go about handling the problem is to adopt a pupil placement law.

Hooper directed attorneys for the 10 Negro parents who brought the suit to draw up a decree carrying out his order and to notify defense counsel. The school board then will have 10 days to notify him of any objections to it, the jurist said.

Employment Picture Bright

Employment figures for the nation during the month of May, which were announced several days ago, substantiate forecasts that the economy may expect a continued upturn during the remainder of the year.

Moreover, there is evidence that Texas is among the leaders in employment gains for the spring months, particularly during the month of May.

Only a few hours before the figures for the nation were announced, the Texas Employment Commission reported that it had placed 51,447 workers on nonfarm jobs during May. That is the highest figure the TEC has recorded for a corresponding month since 1951, when the nation was involved in the Korean War.

The May record's influence on the general picture, or vice versa, may be detected in a statement by Maurice Acers, TEC commission, who commented on the sharp increase in employment.

"Trends in our job placements have always been a reliable belwether of the Texas economy," said Acers. "When employers step up demands for workers unseasonally, the hiring spurt is usually accompanied by an upswing in general business activity.

"This swift upswing in hiring makes our state one of the brightest economic spots in the nation, and employers are to be congratulated on moving confidently ahead with expansion plans to place Texas in this enviable position," Acers concluded.

The business future of Texas appears to be brightening continually.

LaBelle France Is Rising Up Again

By HAL BOYLE

PARIS (AP) — Leaves from a touring notebook:

Those who have been weeping for La Belle France can dry their tears and throw away the crying towel.

She is again the belle of Europe.

Those who remember a France prostrate from World War II would hardly recognize her now.

The air of suspicion has disappeared. A fresh air of self-confidence is evident everywhere. The sound of the builder's hammer echoes from on end of the country to the other. Industry is rapidly being modernized. Tall apartment dwellings are rising to house the new generation of a more hopeful France.

"The standard of living here has been rising faster for the last six years than it has in America," said a veteran U.S. business leader.

"The French standard of living is now higher than that of Britain or West Germany," said a spokesman for the U.S. Embassy. "It is the highest in Europe."

Most observers seem to feel that a developing financial stability under the leadership of President Charles de Gaulle has accelerated France's economic betterment. This view also seems shared by most Frenchmen, even by those who disagree with De Gaulle politically.

If there is any strong anti-Americanism among the French today, it isn't visible to the average U.S. tourist. His welcome may not be effusive—the French rarely throw their hats in the air at the sight of strangers—but it will be cordial and polite.

"Recent polls show Germans now are the most popular foreign visitors among the French," said U.S. Minister Cecil Lyon. "Americans are second, British third, Italiens fourth. Russians are the least popular."

Why should the French so willingly extend the glad hand to the Germans less than 15 years after the close of the last great war?

Lyon feels it is a result of two things: Closer economic ties, and De Gaulle's open admiration for Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of Germany.

The tourist gets about 17 per cent more for his money now than he did before the devaluation of the franc. But France is still no Mecca for the retired man seeking a place to live cheaply.

"The necessities of life here are still relatively high," said one resident. "A meal that costs a dollar in Washington or New York would cost 2 to 3 in Paris.

"But luxury is relatively cheap. An evening in a Parisian night club costs about a fourth as much as an evening in a Manhattan night spot."

New Drug For Mental Treatments

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—A new drug has scored a major breakthrough in the treatment of depressed mental patients, says a psychiatrist.

Dr. Nathan Thal, senior psychiatrist at Western State Hospital, Steilacoom, Wash., said Tuesday 144 of 180 patients treated with the drug recovered so rapidly they were discharged within six weeks. None has suffered a relapse.

Dr. Thal said the remaining 36 patients improved so much that electric shock—conventional treatment for depression — was not needed.

The drug—beta phenylethylhydrazine sulphate—is described as a psychic energizer with effects opposite to those of tranquilizers.

"I'm excited about the possibilities of the drug," Dr. Thal said. "prior to this we haven't had any safe, effective drug for the depressed patient."

He will report on his experiments at the New York Academy of Science conference Thursday.

No Provision For Replacing Mentally Ailing President

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The mental problems of Gov. Earl K. Long of Louisiana—and his insistence he doesn't belong in an asylum—turn a chilling spotlight on a far bigger but still unanswered question affecting the whole country.

How could a vice president of the United States take over from a president who became too physically or mentally disabled to carry out his duties but could not or would not admit it?

The Constitution isn't clear. The question has never been answered. In fact, Congress throughout American history has begged the question. President Eisenhower has asked Congress to provide an answer. So far it has ducked.

Long's family had him flown out of Louisiana by plane to a mental hospital in Galveston, Tex.—he says he was drugged and kidnaped—and the lieutenant governor took over, signing bills and otherwise acting as governor.

Now Long is fighting to get back inside Louisiana. If he does—even to enter a hospital—and then asserts himself as governor, who is governor: Long or the lieutenant governor? Under Louisiana law the lieutenant governor can act only when the governor is outside the state.

But suppose a president became deranged—perhaps only slightly—but could not or would not admit it. How then could the vice president take over? Even when the president is out of the country he still is the president, and no one is authorized to step into his place.

No legal, fool-proof way has been produced yet to shove a president aside, no matter what the circumstances.

This is all the Constitution says:

"In case of the removal of the president from office, or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the vice president (but the Constitution doesn't say how or who decides on presidential disability) and the Congress may by law provide for the removal, death, resignation or inability, both of the president and vice president, declaring what officer shall then act as president, and such officer shall act accordingly, until the disability be removed (the Constitution doesn't say who decides this), or a president shall be elected."

So, although the Constitution clearly says Congress can lay down the method for getting a disabled president out of the White House, Congress has never done so.

The idea that Congress by a simple law could give the answer has been challenged, and on pretty good grounds: that if a vice president succeeded the president by simple act of Congress, it could be protested as unconstitutional and taken to the courts where it might face a long fight.

One way out of the dilemma would be for Congress to propose a constitutional amendment — requiring approval of two-thirds of House and Senate and three-fourths of the states — which would be far more binding than a law passed by Congress.

A Senate subcommittee has unanimously approved such an amendment — which has backing from both Eisenhower and some Democrats and Republicans. Whether it will get action in Congress this year is very uncertain.

Meanwhile, Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon made an agreement between themselves on what to do in case of Eisenhower disability. But it was based on mutual trust between these two men and has no binding effect on any future president or vice president.

For just that reason it is only a stop-gap device. Its legality has been questioned and would probably be challenged in court if it ever went into effect.

Under the agreement Nixon will decide whether Eisenhower — if unable to speak for himself — is to disabled to act as president. Then Nixon will act for him. The word act in this is important.

Nixon won't take the oath of office as president. He will not become president. He will turn the job back to Eisenhower if the latter recovers. Eisenhower, not Nixon, will decide whether the president's disability has ended.

But suppose, when Eisenhower thought his disability was over, Nixon didn't. What then? No answer.

When this agreement was announced March 3, 1958, Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, leader of the House Democrats, became critical at once. He argued that a vice president who attempted to carry out the president's duties must take the oath of office as president and, once he has done so, the elected but ailing president is out of office.

The then Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell insisted the Eisenhower-Nixon agreement was constitutional. But the immediate dispute over its legality was a clear warning of trouble ahead if Nixon ever did take over under this agreement.

The Senate subcommittee's proposed constitutional amendment would bring the president's cabinet into the act in deciding whether he was too disabled to carry out his duties — if he couldn't or wouldn't do it himself — and then Congress would have a hand in deciding whether his disability was over, if he thought it was but the vice president disagreed.

Snores Way Out Of Jail

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Sleep Travis Zellis, 28, literally snored his way out of the county jail Tuesday.

Zellis had been given a 90-day sentence May 1 for stealing an amplifier from a night club.

But soon after Zellis was jailed, Judge Simon L. Leis and probation officials began receiving calls from Charles Junker, the jail warden; Joseph Hesselbrock, his assistant, and Sheriff Dan Tehan.

It seemed that Zellis snored day and night. He couldn't stay awake on any job. He snored so much during the day that other prisoners couldn't work and made so much noise at night they couldn't sleep.

Judge Leis and the Hamilton County Probation Department decided he had to be released—on three months' probation.

Reeves' Superman Role Brought Ruin

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — George Reeves was Superman to millions of television fans—but not to himself.

The husky 45-year-old actor committed suicide Tuesday moments after his fiancee predicted in jest: "He's going to shoot himself."

Reeves, a jut-jawed natural for the role of Superman, was selected to portray the cape-flying marvel nine years ago.

Television filming of the Superman series stopped a year and a half ago with 105 episodes completed — enough, a friend said, to last the producers "for the rest of their lives."

Friends said the series brought Reeves financial security (he was paid for each TV showing) and some fame—but not fulfillment as an actor.

Reeves felt doomed to play Superman. He once explained why he couldn't get other roles: "It's like Hopalong Cassidy trying to get an acting job in white tie and tails."

Why did he shoot himself?

Lenore Lemmon, his fiancee, said: "Because he was known as Superman. He couldn't get a job.

"That combined with the fact that a woman, a former girl friend, never got off his back.

"I think everything just kind of swooped down on a very sensitive man."

Film Writer Rip Van Ronkel said: "For weeks he had been preparing a wrestling act — lifting weights, doing workouts and roadwork. And yesterday he got the report that only one booking had been made.

"It was a lousy thing, a carnival act, and it wrecked his dignity."

Carol Van Ronkel, the writer's wife, said: "George was not a man, but he was soft and sensitive and this jungle we live in out here killed him.

"They couldn't make a buck off him any more, so they discarded him."

Police Sgt. V. A. Peterson related the tragic end of Reeves' 27-year dramatic career.

Reeves and his house guests — Miss Lemmon, 35, an erstwhile New York cafe society figure, and writer Robert Condon, 45—retired to their respective bedrooms late Monday night. They were awakened about 2:30 a.m. by two friends, William Bliss and Mrs. Van Ronkel. Reeves argued with Bliss over the lateness of the hour, then went upstairs.

Miss Lemmon blurted: "He's going to shoot himself." A noise was heard upstairs. She continued, inexplicably: "He's opening a drawer to get the gun." A shot was heard. "See there — I told you!" she exclaimed.

They found Reeves' nude body on his bed, a bullet in his temple.

Baroid Has District Store Here

Six cities with Baroid stores or warehouses are included in the district headed by R. P. Nichols of Snyder, who recently became district store manager for the firm.

Baroid formerly had distributors who handled warehouse sales, but the firm has taken over sales as well as furnishing service with its drilling fluid.

Nichols manages the Snyder store and stores and warehouses at Post, Dickens, Jayton, Aspermont and Hamlin. The Snyder office became headquarters for this district when Baroid converted its operation to do its own distribution. The area office is in Abilene.

Nichols has been with Baroid eight years, and he came to Snyder from Andrews. He had previously been in New Mexico and Wyoming with the firm, coming back to Texas in 1953.

Peggy Lee Awarded Divorce From Martin

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Peggy Lee won a divorce from her third husband after singing the marital blues in court Tuesday.

The blonde 39-year-old singer said her husband, actor Dewey Martin, 35, was jealous, used vile language and tried to upset her before singing engagements. She didn't ask for alimony. She and her husband were permitted to keep their personal property. Miss Lee will retain title to her Coldwater Canyon home.

The couple married in 1956 and separated two years later. She previously was married to composer Dave Barbour and actor Dexter.

Puritan Bed May Be On Its Way Back

CHICAGO (AP)—An Oshkosh, Wis., bed manufacturer says he has the answer to the old single bed vs. double bed controversy.

What is needed, he says, is a revival of the bundling bed of New England Puritan days with its center board separating bedmates.

History has it that early American courting couples seeking warmth slipped into the bed fully dressed on opposite sides of the center board.

The manufacturer, showing a pilot model at the Chicago furniture show, says: "The bundling bed may very well add up to a happy medium in the battle between twin and double beds."

Another Thor Missile Strays From Path

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE Base, Calif. (AP)—A Thor missile went astray and had to be exploded in flight Tuesday.

The single-stage intermediate range ballistic missile was launched by a British Royal Air Force crew learning to operate Thor bases in England.

An Air Force spokesman said only five of 48 Thor shots have failed since the program began. The British crew recently launched the Thor successfully.

Boll Weevils Are Multiplying In South

WESLACO (AP) — Boll weevils continued to increase in the Lower Rio Grande Valley during the past week but only along the river and the coast are infestations considered heavy.

James Deer, associate Hidalgo were still present in some fields but have not increased. He said there had been increased infestation of red spiders, fleahoppers, bollworms and boll weevils in Mexico.

LA Clamps Down On Gas To Reduce Smog

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In an attempt to reduce smog, Los Angeles County is cracking down on gasoline sold to its motorists.

The Board of Supervisors ordered Tuesday that after June 30, 1960, all gasoline sold must contain less than 18 per cent olefins.

Some scientists contend the eye-irritating hydrocarbons are a major contributor to smog. The air pollution control district asked the restriction.

Oil industry spokesmen took no stand on the restriction. They say the effects of olefins as smog ingredients still are undetermined.

Funeral Today For Seay, Oil Operator

HOUSTON (AP) — Funeral services were to be held today for Bryant Pearce Seay, 64, an attorney and independent oil operator.

Seay, who died yesterday, was a native of Baird and practiced law in Mexia and Brownwood before moving to Houston in 1925.

Survivors include his wife and two children.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

YOU DON'T HAVE TO LOOK far to find some close races in the many baseball leagues around the country.

We have some of the tightest races as you would want to see right here in our own midst.

Three of the four kid Leagues here are hooked up in a heated battle for the championships of their respective leagues.

The American Little League is the closest of the three races. At the moment two teams are tied for the League lead with 6-3 records, the White Sox and Athletics. And the Indians are just a game back with a 5-4 record.

The Graduate Pony League has been a heated race from the start. All of the four teams in the GPL have, at one time another have held or shared the league lead.

Right now the Cats have taken a two-game lead, the widest margin to date for the League leader. The Cats are 5-2 for the season with the other three teams, the Yankees, Buffs and Braves all tied for the runnerup spot with 3-4 marks.

The Pony League also has a two - game spread with the Dodgers, 6-1 leading the second place Tigers, 4-3 by two.

Biggest Spread In National LL

Only in the National Little League does a runaway appear to be in the making. The Cubs, however, who won their first seven games, finally were defeated last night and this race still might not yet be decided.

Despite last night's loss, the Cubs still own a three-game bulge over the runnerup Cardinals.

The Little League races hit the half-way mark this week and it will be interesting to watch the kiddoes battle for honors in the final half.

Began In Gay 90's

One of the biggest fads to ever hit this nation of ours is the bubble gum baseball picture cards.

Many moms and dsds here know what we're talking about. The cards come in a bubble gum package and it has won the fantasy of youngsters throughout the land.

Pictures of most of today's major leaguers may be found in these bubble gum packages and the kids, of course, are more interested in the bubble gum.

Most of the kiddoes set as their goal of getting a picture of all major league players.

According to AP news features, these baseball players receive $125 per season for their picture and autograph on these cards.

Years ago though players received nothing for their signature. They just felt proud to be recognized.

The cards not only contain the pictures of the players but their lifetime recored in professional baseball.

The picture card, however, is't just a recent thing. It actually started way back in 1890 but it was 1909 before colored cards were printed.

Today's picture cards are much larger than those printed yesteryear.

Only in recent years, though, has the picture card fad swept the nation.

Cats, Tigers Win In Pony Contests

The Optimist Club Cats pounded out 13 hits enroute to a 13-3 victory over the Furr Yankees in the Graduate Pony League last night while the Courthouse Tigers finished strong for an 11-6 victory over the A.B.C. Phillies in the Pony League.

Last night's win boosted the Cats into a two-game lead in the heated GPL race. The Tigers stayed in contention for the Pony title in beating the Phillies. The Bengals now trail the league leading Dodgers by two games.

The Cats opened up their attack early with a 6-run uprising in the first inning. The Felines rapped out seven hits in the hello frame.

The Cats then added two more in the second; two in the fourth and three in the fifth. The game was called in the fifth on the 10-run lead rule.

Five Cats shared hitting honors with two hits apiece. They were Darrell Rains, Ronnie Wylie, Mike Moffett, Joshua John and Joe Fowler.

Jerry Franks got two hits for the losers which represented one-half of the total Yankee hits.

Joshua John and Bennie Greenfield shared pitching duties for the Cats. John, who started, picked up the win. John left in fourth inning when hit on his pitching hand by a line drive off the bat of Jerry Gutherie.

The Tiger-Phillie game was deadlocked at 4-4 after three innings but the Tigers finished with a rush, scoring six runs in the fourth to take a lead that was never endangered.

The Phils had taken a 4-1 lead after two innings before the Tigers tied it with three in the third and their big six-run uprising in the fourth.

Gerald Bullard, William Robinson, Roy Rice and Bob Hart led a 10-hit Tiger attack with two hits apiece. Dean Howard led the Phillies with a pair of safeties.

Relief pitcher Gerald Bullard picked up the win for the Tigers.

Braves Hand Cubs 1st Loss Of Year

"All good things must come to an end."

That was the case of the Lions Club Cubs last night when they suffered their first defeat of the season in the National Little League race with the Kiwanis Braves being the spoilers, 7-4.

The Cubs were the last of the unbeaten teams in Snyder Little League ball this season.

In the American League, the West Texas State Bank Athletics moved into a two-way tie for the league lead with a 4-3 victory over the Von Roeder Indians. The A's are now tied for the lead with the Trinity Methodist White Sox, each with 6-3 records.

A pair of two-run homers in the fourth inning were the big blows for the Braves in their surprise win over the Cubs.

The two homers wiped out a 3-0 Cub lead and after the Cubs tied it at 4-4 in the top of the fourth, the Braves came right back in the lowerhalf of the inning for three runs and the ball game.

Tommy Snclair blasted the first Braves homer with Loyd Edelman who walked, on base. Then, with two away, John Flynn walked and J.N. Wall homered to put the Braves in the lead, 4-3.

Sinclair came back to drive in what proved to be the winning marker in the bottom of the fourth with a double that scored Darrel Haney, who had also doubled.

Jay Williamson went the distance for the Braves, giving up six hits, striking out five and walking only one.

Drew Bullard and Tom Kincaid of the Cubs and Sinclair and Mike Williamson of the Braves each got two hits to share hitting honors.

Lewis Jones got the Athletics off and running to victory over the Indians with a two-run homer in the third inning that opened the night's scoring. The Indians tied it at 2-2 in the fourth with the Athletics coming back in the fifth for two runs and a 4-2 margin.

Ritchie Smedley narrowed the gap to 4-3 with a homerun for the Indians in the bottom of the fifth. But Jimmie Featherston, who stopped the Indians on three hits, didn't allow another Indian to get aboard the rest of the way.

Featherston struckout nine and walked one.

No player on either team got more than one hit with Jones' third-inning homer being the big blow.

Indians On Warpath: Win 7th Straight

AMERICAN LEAGUE SPORTS
By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland's Indians are riding their hottest streak of the season and Cal McLish is back in stride—a-winner for the first time in more than a month, but still trying to shake a shutout jinx.

The big right-hander, whose lone whitewash job in the majors came eight years ago, pitched the Injuns to their seventh straight success and a full-game lead in the American League race with a 4-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox Tuesday night.

It was the fifth time this season McLish has come close to nailing that long-pursued second shutout. He missed by inches when Marty Keough's seventh-inning drive ticked outfielder Rocky Colavito's glove and got away for a home run.

The New York Yankees helped Cleveland along by defeating Chicago's second place White Sox 5-1. Detroit at Baltimore and Kansas City at Washington were rained out.

McLish, now 6-3, picked on his favorite pigeons. He beat the Red Sox for the fifth time in a row since last June 26, giving up six hits, walking but two and striking out six for his first complete game since May 8. He is 7-1 life against Boston.

The Indians plunked the Red Sox back into a last-place tie with Washington on a two-run homer by Dick Brown in the fifth inning against loser Ted Wills (2-2). It was Brown's first of the year, but Cleveland's 18th in the streak—one shy of the AL record for seven games held by the 1936 Yankees and 1940 Red Sox.

The Yankees moved within a single game of fourth place Baltimore behind the four-hit pitching of Art Ditmar (5-4), who won his fourth in a row. The Sox scored in the first inning on a double by Nellie Fox and Sherm Lollar's single, then managed only a pair of singles by Norm Cash the rest of the way.

Billy Pierce (7-7) was the loser, checking the Yanks on three hits until they broke a 1-1 tie with two runs in the sixth on Mickey Mantle's triple, a hit batter, Hec Lopez' double and Bobby Ricardson's sacrifice fly.

Sox, Tribe Farm Victors

The White Sox and Indians won American Little League Farm game last night.

In the first game, the White Sox broke a 15-15 tie in the sixth inning with a three-run rally and then staved off the Athletics in the bottom half of the inning for an 18-17 triumph.

The Indians then pounded out a 19-9 win over the Yankees in the second game.

Jerry Lee Jones of the Athletics was the batting star of the first game with five-for-five.

Danny Smith and Dick Watson of the White Sox and Dennis Browning and Fayne McDowell of the Athletics got three hits apiece.

The Indians scored 10 runs in the fifth for their margin of victory over the Yankees. Martin led the Indians with four hits followed by Clayton Wilson and Paul Kimzey with three each.

Andrew Ramirez and David Fulk with two hits apiece led the Yankees.

George Pickett, North Carolina State freshman basketball coach, still holds the school's high jump record set in 1950. He jumped 6-feet-4¼ inches against Davidson.

Big Newk Not Washed Up Yet: Wins 6th Straight For Reds

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

There were snickers last spring when Manager Mayo Smith figured the big guy on his pitching staff might be Don Newcombe. Sure, Newk had won 27 in 1956, but he was washed up, hadn't been able to win 20 over two seasons since.

So who's the ace of the Reds staff? Big Newk, winner of six straight, all complete games, with a 3.00 earned run average and 4-0 against the slugging San Francisco Giants after he chopped them down again Tuesday night 2-1.

It was Newcombe's seventh victory of the season, matching his total for last year when he lost 13. This one slipped the Giants two games behind the National League leading Milwaukee Braves who came off with a 5-4 victory at Los Angeles.

Pittsburgh tightened its hold on third, just a game behind the Giants, by beating the Chicago Cubs 5-2. St. Louis swept a twi-night pair from Philadelphia, 8-1 and 5-2.

Newk, who hasn't lost since he dropped his fourth May 10, stretched the Giants slump to three games with a six-hitter, walking none and striking out three. The sixth-place Reds didn't give him a lead until they roughed up Mike McCormick for both runs in the eighth inning on Vada Pinson's 11th homer, a single by Frank Robinson and a double by Frank Thomas.

The Giants scored in the third on Hobie Landrith's double, a sacrifice and Jim Davenport's sacrifice fly. It's the only run Newk has allowed in 18 innings. The big right-hander put it away when Daryl Spencer tapped into a game-ending doubleplay with the tying run on third and the winning run on first after two singles.

Lew Burdette won his 10th for the Braves, but failed to go the distance for the fifth time in a row when the Dodgers, shut out for seven frames, scored twice in the ninth. John Roseboro's double and a walk brought on reliever Don McMahon, who gave up a two-run single by Charlie Neal before getting Wally Moon on a pop up that ended it. Moon, who was 4-for-5, had tripled home a run and scored himself in a two-run eighth.

The Braves, shut out for 22 innings before a bases-loaded walk gave them a two-out run in the first, wrapped it up with four runs in the seventh after two were out, ending Johnny Podres' winning string at five. Singles by Casey Wise, Hank Aaron, who slipped below .400 for the first time, and Frank Torre, and Del Crandall's two-run double did it.

Bob Friend (3-8) won it for the Pirates, who broke a 1-1 tie with four runs after two were out in the ninth. Don Hoak's two-run double and Friend's two-run single beat Dave Hillman (3-5) as the Bucs won their fifth decision in the last six.

The Cards made it 8 out of 10 as Wilmer Mizell (8-3) beat the Phils in the opener and Ernie Broglio, who had lost five, won his first in the majors with Lindy McDaniel's perfect two-inning mopup. Hal Smith homered in the opener for the Cards and Gino Cimoli hit a two-run homer in the first inning of the nightcap, clinched on Stan Musial's triple in the fourth.

Dave Philley homered and singled for both second game runs by the Phils, who managed only three runs despite 21 hits in the doubleheader. Ruben Gomez (1-4) and Jim Owens (4-4) were the losers.

Texas A&M Lands Grid, Baseball Star

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Edgar Feldman, a star football quarterback and baseball pitcher at the A&M Consolidated High School, yesterday signed a letter of intent with Texas A&M.

He will play both football and basketball at A&M, baseball coach Tom Chandler said.

Eight major leaguers have batted .400 or better since 1900.
