Amarillo Sandies Luck Out Golden Tornadoes In Exciting Grid Battle

Score Of 20-7 Is Not Indicative Of Game

In one of the most thrilling and exciting grid games in the history of the Golden Tornadoes, Amarillo lucked out on the local squad Saturday afternoon at Amarillo. Although the final score was 20-7, in favor of the Sandstormers, the score is certainly not indicative of the closeness of the contest.

Amarillo score 6 points in the first quarter, after which, for two quarters the teams battled more or less evenly with neither one able to put over a score. In the third period the Tornadoes opened up with an aerial attack that had the lads from the Panhandle completely bewildered. The Tornadoes never relinquished the ball until they had pushed it over for a touchdown and six points, and immediately proceeded to add the extra point making the count 7-6 in favor of Lamesa. They were content to try and hold this lead and played more or less conservative football during the remainder of the third period and the first part of the fourth. Amarillo was striving with every trick and rule of the game to overcome the lead of the stubborn Tornadoes. They elected to put Blazer Thompson, who is considered one of Amarillo's best into the game. Although local fans have no desire to detract from the glory of the

REMODELING OF SHROD BLDG. IS UNDER WAY

Contract was awarded and work begun on the remodeling of the Adams building, occupied by Sherrod Bros. first door east of the Courier Building, this week.

The interior has been completely refinished. A partition will be set just back of the skylight, which is a little more than half way back in the building. The front will be devoted to show room and sales department of Sherrod Bros., while the back will take care of storage and mechanical work necessary in the operation of their business. The entire front has been torn out and will be remodeled. Two large show windows will be placed on each side of a double door and the awning, as well as the entire front will be refinished.

REMODELING OF SANITARIUM IS PLANNED HERE

Announcement is made this week by Dr. W. H. Dunn, owner of the Lamesa Sanitarium of this city, that workmen will begin this week the complete remodeling and refitting of the interior of the hospital.

Among other improvements will be the installation of new tile floors throughout the entire building. All walls and ceiling will be refinished and new furniture placed in the building. When completed it will be the same as a new building inside, according to Dr. Dunn.

This building, with its beautiful grounds, is one of the show places of Lamesa, and with the inside improvement, the building will be in a class with the best hospitals in the state.

Cactus Inn Is New Eating Place Here

Announcement is made this week by Mrs. H. A. Alexander, that the Cactus Inn will be open for business Saturday night of this week.

Located on Highways Nine and Fifteen, a new building has just been completed.

The will feature a plate lunch as well as all kinds of sandwiches and cold drinks.

Says Tornadoes Should Have Won Game

The following letter was received by Collins Dry Goods Company, of this city, from C. R. Stoddard, who makes this territory for the Friedman-Shelby Shoe Company. He attended the Golden Tornado-Amarillo Sandstorm game in Amarillo last Saturday and had this to say:

"Dear Mr. Collins: I went out to the game and really enjoyed it. Your boys put on one of the best passing exhibitions I've ever looked at. The game was much closer than the score indicated, as Lamesa missed two chances to score. They played a very fine game. Very truly yours, C. R. STODDARD."

Farmers Of County Warned By Agent On Cotton Program

All Cotton Farmers Should Heed Warning

The following warning issued by County Agent Joe Williams is self explanatory. It has been reported to the agent's office that some cotton growers of the county have been guilty of the things set out in this article, and as the agent clearly points out, they will be penalized by the government for their violation. The article follows:

It has been reported that some cotton is being harvested off of the excess cotton acres that have been plowed up.

The following regulations will be invoked in such cases: White cards that have been issued permitting the cotton to be sold will be cancelled and red cards will be issued instead of the white cards. The producer who gets red cards will, of course, forfeit all cotton that has been put in the government loans. Two cent penalty will be collected per pound on all cotton produced over the allotment at the time the cotton is sold. This also cancels all subsidy checks that the

TORNADOES TO PLAY LUBBOCK HERE NOV. 4th

The Golden Tornadoes returned from the Amarillo game in fair physical trim and got under way on Monday with their preparations for the Lubbock High Westerners who come to McCollum Field on Friday, November 4th.

The Westerners are now hailed as the prospective District Champions and that is based on an excellent record made against Fort Worth, Oklahoma City, Abilene, Vernon and Borger. The Westerners have a back—a huge fellow named Webster—who is being named as "all state" material. He has brought victory to the Westerners in their games to date.

Lamesa fans will have the opportunity of seeing the Golden Tornadoes in action against one of Texas best teams when the Westerners come to town.

ENROLLMENT IN SCHOOL AT ALL-TIME HIGH

The Lamesa school enrollment is steadily climbing. The elementary grade pupils now number 1002. High school pupils number 524 for a total of 1526, as of last Monday. A few absences are reported for work and others because of illness.

OWEN C. TAYLOR

Mr. Taylor was born in Comanche county. When he was only three weeks old the family moved to Mitchell county, where they lived for several years. Here Mr. Taylor attended the Salt Branch school.

He later moved with the family to Mitchell county and the Taylors settled in Loraine, where Mr. Taylor attended high school. Following his public school education, he entered a business college in Abilene. Upon the completion of his business education, he came to Lamesa and accepted a position with H. E. Williams Hardware, later resigning to accept a book-keeping position with the E. R. Yates Hardware. Following this he served as deputy county clerk, under Miss Viola Thurston for two years, following which he was elected county clerk and served in this capacity for four years.

Following his retirement from this office he purchased an interest in the Morris-McCall Drug Company, later purchasing the entire interest of Mr. Morris and the store today is the Taylor McCall Drug Company. He was active in the operation of the store for quite a while. On February 1, 1936, he was appointed acting Postmaster in Lamesa, later receiving the permanent appointment.

Mr. Taylor has been most active in religious as well as civic affairs of the city ever since he came here. He is at present, and has been for a number of years, choir director of the First Baptist church. He is director of the B. T. U. of the Baptist church, chairman of the Tornado club, a director in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, secretary-treasurer of district eight of the State Baptist Convention, comprising the counties of Dawson, Howard, Midland, Ector, Mitchell, Scurry, Borden, Gaines, and Andrews.

Mr. Taylor owns a beautiful home on North Fourth Street, where he and Mrs. Taylor and three sons live.

He is a firm believer in and booster for Lamesa and Dawson county and is always ready and willing to assist in any way possible to better the city and county.

WORK BEGUN ON NEW STADIUM TO BE BUILT HERE

Concrete footings for the foundation of the new high school football stadium are being set this week.

Forms are being built for concrete piers and foundations and construction is going forward as rapidly as possible.

The seats on the south side of the field have been moved into the west end zone, to accommodate the crowd which is expected to see the Golden Tornadoes in their last home conference game against the Lubbock Westerners here Friday afternoon, November 4th.

The fence on the south side of the field has been torn away to make room for the new stadium. When finished McCollum Field will have seating accommodations for approximately 3500 to 4000 people. The new stadium will seat about 2500, while the tier of seats on the north and those on the west will take care of something like 1000 to 1500 more.

The present seating capacity has proven entirely inadequate during the past few games played in Lamesa. More especially was this true when the Pampa Harvesters and the Tornadoes played a few weeks ago.

Former Local Girl Victim Of Tragic Death In California

Man Is Charged With Murder By Police

A dispatch by the Associated Press, appearing in The Lubbock Avalanche Tuesday morning, stated that Miss Claudia Huebler, formerly of Lamesa and a granddaughter of Mrs. D. W. Adams, was the victim of gunshot wounds. The article follows:

"Los Angeles, Oct. 24.—Friends of pretty Claudia Huebler, 22-year-old stenographer shot to death last night, were quoted today by detectives saying she recently indicated she might end her life. C. E. Weber, 38, credit manager of a department store, is held on suspicion of murder after admitting, to Det.-Lieuts. Ralph Davis and Cliff Gillen, reported, that he was in her apartment when she died. Weber, the officers said, told them she seized his revolver, which he had placed on a table while he did card tricks, and shot herself after an ace of spades had flipped from the deck, which he was shuffling.

The detectives said friends of the girl, who lost her job Saturday, told them Miss Huebler recently declared: "My mother and father both committed suicide. I'll probably go the same way."

Weber, married, was quoted by the officers, as declaring that he was upset after leaving Miss Huebler's apartment and went home and then to a pool hall and played four games before he called an attorney and informed him of the tragedy.

"Miss Huebler, who formerly resided in Lamesa, Texas, studied at Texas Tech before coming to California, the detectives said they were informed."

Miss Huebler is well known in Lamesa, by many who have lived here any length of time. She practically grew up here before moving with her parents to Lubbock.

Her grandmother, Mrs. D. W. Adams and Uncle Clyde Adams, are among the pioneer citizens of Dawson county.

HIWAY PATROL WILL VISIT CITY ONE DAY WEEK

The Texas Department of Public Safety, through the Highway Patrol, is making every effort to reduce highway accidents in this section of the state, and word has been received that several members of the patrol will be in Lamesa one day each week to check defective cars. Last week over 2200 cars passed through the safety lane here, and many of them were found defective in some manner, and the owners were advised to have such repairs and adjustments as were necessary to place the car in safe condition done as soon as possible.

Capt. W. W. Legge of Lubbock announces that charges will be filed against the owner of any car that is unsafe to operate on the streets or highways, and is issuing a warning to all people to have such repairs as are needed done as soon as possible.

This enforcement campaign is a follow-up on the safety lane which was held here last week, and in fairness, all motorists are being warned to put their cars in safe operating condition or else be subject to fine.

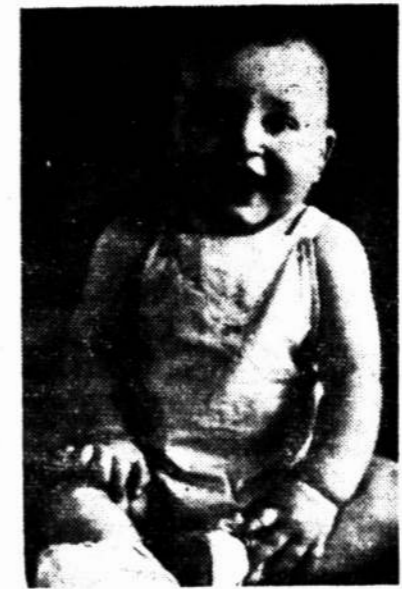

LOCAL GROCER CONSTRUCTING NEW BUILDING

The foundation has been completed and construction of walls started on a building being constructed by O. A. Roberts, at the corner of South Third and Dallas Streets.

The building, 40x50 feet, will be used by Mr. Roberts to house his grocery business. It will be finished in white ornamental stucco. It has been set back from both streets to allow for plenty of parking space on the east as well as the south sides of the building.

Three New Homes Started In Lamesa During Past Week

Forrest, Campbell And York Start Houses

This week saw another spurt in the building activity in Lamesa, when three new homes were started in the Hart Addition in North Lamesa.

Thelbert York is having a modern home constructed. Material was placed on the ground and actual construction was begun this week.

In the same vicinity, Truman Campbell, has placed materials and work was started this week on a modern home.

Nearby Forrest Lumber Company placed the material and started construction of a mod-l home. It is understood that this home will be built to demonstrate the type of construction which the FHA approves. When completed, it is understood it will be offered for sale.

There has been quite a bit of remodeling and repairing going on, not only in Lamesa, but over the county, as well.

MOVIES OF BIG TORNADO-SANDIE GAME TO SHOW

Announcement is made this week that the pictures taken of the Golden Tornado-Amarillo Sandstorms game last Saturday, will be shown at the Palace theatre Thursday and Friday night of this week. These pictures were taken by Harold Williams, local movie photographer, and their showing will be under the auspices of the senior class of the Lamesa high school.

These movies show the complete action of the game and the most interesting plays are shown in slow motion so that every bit of the action may be easily seen.

This is the first time a complete movie has ever been attempted of a local contest and should prove most interesting to football fans of this section.

The film, after being shown at the theatre, will be used by the local squad, for study and analysis. What ever weakness the club might have shown in the game Saturday will be clearly discernable and may be corrected in future games.

John Edmonson spent the weekend at Austin visiting with friends.

Meeting Is Held Here Wednesday To Perfect Setup

Name Will Be Chosen At A Later Date

At a called meeting in the District Court Room Wednesday morning, a large group of Lamesa business men, as well as representative ladies, plans were discussed for the organization of a mutual aid association, or community chest for Lamesa.

It was brought out in the meeting that Lamesa is besieged by beggars of all types, some worthy and some not. The purpose of the organization would be to ferret the good from the bad. Under plans set forth business and professional men and women, as well as others who so desire, would make their contributions to the organization and it in turn would investigate the claims of needy people and make all disbursements. Such a plan worked in Lamesa for a number of years under the title of the Lamesa Mutual Aid association.

A motion was made by Carl Rountree and seconded by M. C. Lindsey, that the president of the Chamber of Commerce, Matt A. McCall, appoint a committee of seven to draft plans, a suitable name and set up the organization with the selection of officers and directors. The motion carried unanimously.

It was freely expressed by several speakers, that there is no desire on the part of Lamesa business men to shirk the responsibility of helping to care for the needy of the city and county, but on the other hand, the business people have no desire to contribute their money to those who are not deserving, and it is hoped through such a plan as agreed upon that the worthy may receive the help, while others may be left out.

The discussion also came up in the meeting relative to different forms of so-called advertising, which has been offered to the business people of Lamesa. It was pointed out that many of these were worthless from the standpoint of advertising, yet pre-sure of one sort or another had been placed on the merchant to the extent that he felt he had to buy it in self defense. It was agreed at the meeting that something should be done about it and several suggestions to remedy the situation were offered. Further details will be given later when plans are more complete and ready for announcement.

LOCAL GROCERY GUTTED BY FIRE SUNDAY NIGHT

Fire of undetermined origin broke out in White's Food Store Sunday night and inflicted practically a total loss to stock and fixtures. The building suffered quite a bit of damage, and except for some excellent work on the part of the Lamesa Volunteer Fire Department, it would have been a total loss.

The fire broke out near the meat counter. The compressor, meat scales, refrigerator, as well as all tools were practically a total loss. Excessive heat did lots of damage to other stock and fixtures, although the fire itself was confined to a comparatively small area. The building and stock were only partially covered by insurance, according to Mr. White. Plans Monday were to refurnish, restock and rebuild at the earliest possible date, he said. It is expected that insurance claims will be adjusted by this weekend and construction will be started immediately.

fect (preventing packing) as well as of binding the tiny pieces of meat together.

Measured proportions and thorough mixing of the white sauce with the other ingredients help make the perfect slicing meat loaf. Good proportions are 4 tablespoons of flour and 1-2 cups of milk and a cup of bread crumbs to 2 pounds of ground meat.

As in all meat cookery, it is moderate heat in the oven that keeps meat from losing its juice too rapidly, browns without burning, and cooks it evenly from center to outer edge.

For the meat loaf, mold it into a smooth mound on a piece of tough white paper. Lift paper and all onto a rack in an open pan. Don't add water and don't cover the pan. Have the oven moderate (350 to 375 degrees Fahrenheit) at least most of the time. A very hot oven will cause the meat loaf to give up its juice and shrink and harden. For a two-pound beef loaf, total oven time should be about an hour to an hour and a quarter.

For hamburger patties at their very best, bind with a combination of flour and egg. For a pound and a half of hamburger steak, use two tablespoons of flour, an egg and 3-4 of a cup of milk. Sprinkle the flour over the meat and mix thoroughly kneading a little with the hands. Then stir in the egg and milk. Mix thoroughly a second time. The meat batter should be moist enough to be dropped by spoonful into a hot frying pan. Use plenty of fat to prevent sticking, and give the patties, brown, coat. The drippings may be made into a brown gravy, with or without mushrooms.

Serve at once, is the closing word of instruction on many recipes. This very good rule should be underlined when serving hamburger, for as it cools it tends to stiffen.

Meat patties with tomato gravy, are another delicious variation. Drain the juice from a can of tomatoes. Combine the pulp with the meat mixture, saving the juice to be thickened as tomato gravy and served with the meat.

And for a luncheon dish that's delight of the children, try broiled beef of toast. Used this way, one pound of ground beef will make as many as eight servings. Season the ground meat and moisten with a little top-milk or evaporated milk (2 or 3 tablespoons per pound). Toast slices of bread on one side and butter the other side.

lightly and season. Then spread with ground meat. Spread evenly and to the slice. If not spread to the edge, the meat tends to shrink toward the center, leaving unsightly burned crusts. Boil for 5 to 10 minutes under a hot flame and serve at once.

In such dishes as chili con carne the richness of the meat flavor is extended to more bland foods. For a chili con carne that calls for many repeat orders, soak chili beans or red kidney beans overnight in about twice their volume of water. Cook in salted water until almost tender. For every half-pound of beans, use about a pound of ground lean beef and 1-4 pound of suet. Fry onion and a clove or two of garlic in the suet and cook the meat in this for a short time. Add this mixture to the beans and season to taste with chili powder, paprika and salt. Some like it hot, some like it not. Then cook slowly about an hour until the mixture thickens.

PAVING GOES FORWARD ON CITY STREETS

Large crews of men continue their work in the paving program launched between Dallas and Main is being graded by the city last week. South Second and shaped for topping as rapidly as possible and forms for drainage and curbing are being set this week.

Although actual work has not been started on Main Street from South Second to South Third, this will be started as quickly as crews may be spared from the project mentioned above.

Just where the next paving in the city will be has not been ascertained but there are many rumors afloat that this is only the beginning of a paving program which should last well into the winter.

FEMINE FANCIES

Kathleen Eiland
The utility black dress every woman would own was seen in a new and appealing version just the other day. Black Alpaca was fashioned into a "look of princess style." From the clever tabs which mimicked pockets on either side of the blouse front, a row of wee black buttons marched jauntily down to the hem of the dress. Pippings of white at the short sleeves and an inner collar of white within the up-standing small black collar, plus the neat bow of white at the throat, gave an added note of chic to the dress. A delightful little dress to look at and one that should be equally delightful to wear. Practically all the new fall dresses, even the heavier ones, have short sleeves this year. We foresee a demand for sweaters, jackets and short coats of every description when the first blue northern of the season shrieks down from the Panhandle.

For something new and tasteful, we recommend fig sweet pickles. A nice accompaniment for meats as well as for hot biscuits and butter.

The aids for assisting in selection of the right kind of dresses, hats, etc., continue to multiply as the sands of the desert (or is it the sea shore?)

'Now appears Miss Dorothy Sara who looks at your handwriting and forthwith tells you much about yourself, including what kind of clothes you should wear.

If you handwriting shows you are dramatic, then you should wear vivid clothes as a background for your personality. If you are repressed or lack initiative, you should wear dashing, colorful clothes to give you social courage, so to speak. If you are the type of person who is "balanced" so far as mind and emotions go, then you may be safe in choosing tailored clothes.

We wonder just what Miss Sara would prescribe for us after one glance at our harum-scarum hen-track writing? Probably she would say we might just as well wear a gypsy assortment—any kind that comes to hand—since no amount of clothes could ever give us a super-rating on beauty or glamor.

CENTRAL H. D. CLUB REPORT

One important factor in the homes is a selection of good magazines. They are not only educational but are essential and very helpful in training the children for the country's future use. They also provide past time and wholesome amusement for each member of the home. When you go into a home naturally you will judge the home by the reading materials you see on the tables or shelves, magazine racks or in the bookcase. So wise parents are very careful in selecting the kind of magazines that provide for their homes. Mrs. W. S. Ray, program leader discussed with the help of other members some very helpful ideas on magazine. In the home of Mrs. Anna Davis Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 6.

The American magazine is read by more people and ranks first of any other magazine. The Literary Digest is noted politically. If you are desiring the latest styles, the Vogue is better. The Home Demonstration club members find the Forecast very helpful in preparing food, clothing, hygiene, home equipment and solving problems of the children. Other topics too numerous to mention.

Twenty members were present and two visitors.

Golden Tornadoes Lose To Amarillo 20-7

Game Packed With Thrills As Se-saw Battle Is Waged

Plenty of Action in Tornado-Sandstorm Game Last Saturday

Bill (The Blazer) Thompson Turns Tide For Amarillo to Win Conference Grid Drama

By Jerry Malin
(Sports Writer, Amarillo-News Globe)
In a thrilling gridiron battle which packed more suspense and drama than even the master minds of Hollywood might conceive in their wildest dreams the Golden Sandstorm of Amarillo defeated Lamesa's Golden Tornado, 20 to 7, here yesterday afternoon.

Enacted on the tradition-soaked greensward at Butler Field, the victory sent the Sandies off to a glorious start in defense of their District One school-boy football title and turned the spotlight of praise and publicity on the chunky figure of Blazing Bill Thompson, a counterpart of the most fictionized hero imaginable. Thompson shed his street clothes and got into the game in the third period just in the nick of time, and that hackneyed phrase never has been more appropriately used.

While Blazing Bill sat fumbling on the bench, held out of the game because of a recent bout with the flu, the Tornado swirled through the skyways to grab the lead 7 to 6, early in the third period. With Crawley passing and Anderson catching, the Tornado whipped out the Sandies' 10-quarter margin. When Anderson added extra point, Coach Howard Lynch looked at his ailing star and the Blazer looked at him.

The Sandie score had come in the first period with Boynton climaxing a 27-yard journey with a jerky lunge from the two-yard line. The failure to add extra point did not seem important at the time and nine Sandie subs went on the field.

Then came the third quarter, the Tornado's successful conversion and the Sandie bench trembled with the jitters.

Following the kickoff, the Sandies swished to Lamesa's 47-yard line, and when the attack bogged down Coach Lynch told the Blazer to suit up. Thompson raced to the clubhouse, and got back to the bench just as the Tornado was making a first down on the Sandies' 48-yard line. Sandie fans broke out with a great cheer as The Blazer squatted down in front of his coach.

Blazer Intercepts Pass
The hard-fighting Lamesa eleven fumbled and when the Sandies recovered on their own 25. The Blazer went racing to the field. He relieved Clyde Clark, a youngster who had done himself proud in a nip and tuck struggle.

Followed then a punt exchange, The Blazer intercepted a Tornado pass just as the third quarter ended.

On the first play of the fourth period, the Blazer went nine yards but it just wasn't time yet for him to deliver. He fumbled. A groan went up on the west side, for Lamesa had possession on the Sandie.

Corbell, Sandie left halfback, and a star in his own right, intercepted a Tornado pass behind his goal line and ran it out to his right. Again a groan and a cheer rent the air, but this time the east side fans hopes were dampened.

Blazer Sets Stage
Although there is no clock on the scoreboard at Butler Field, it seemed that one could hear the seconds rapidly ticking away as the big hand moved steadily to indicate the passing of time.

Battered back by a vicious pair of line-backers, The Blazer set the stage for the momentous occasion which was to come, when he spiraled a quick punt 82 yards down the field to Lamesa's one-yard line, where Anderson, twin sparkling with Vaughn in the Tornado's attack, scooped up the ball and brought it out to his 13.

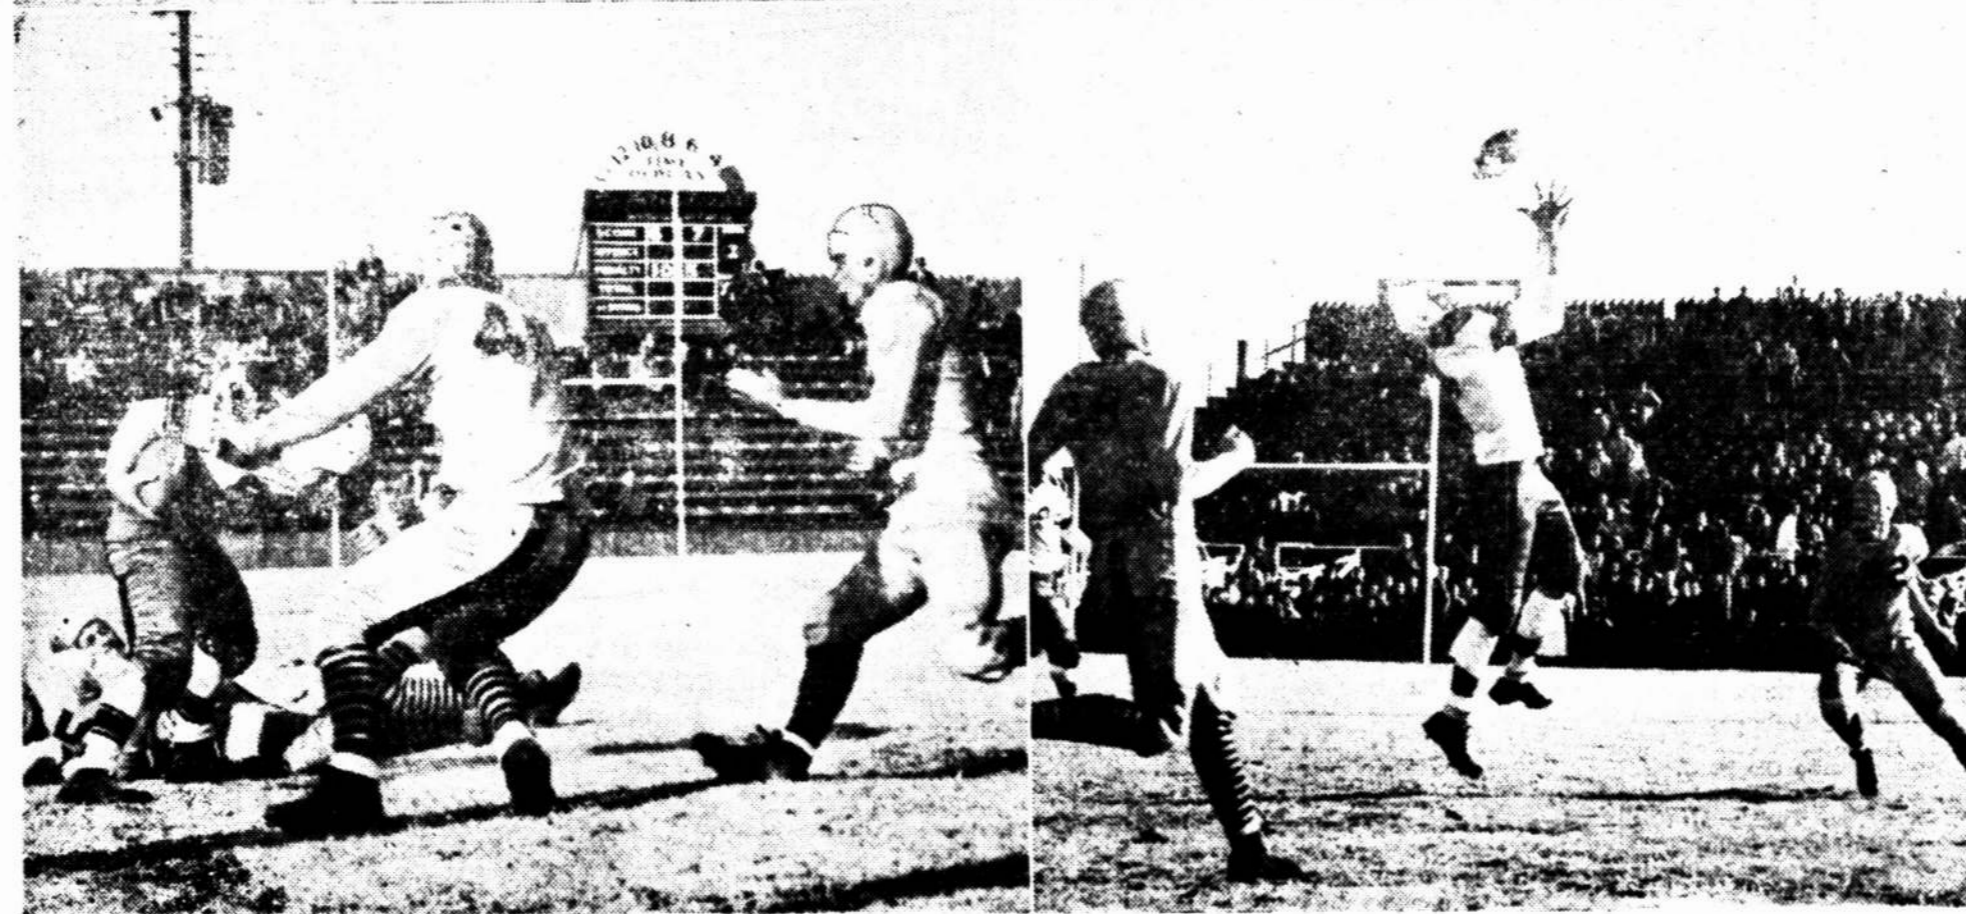

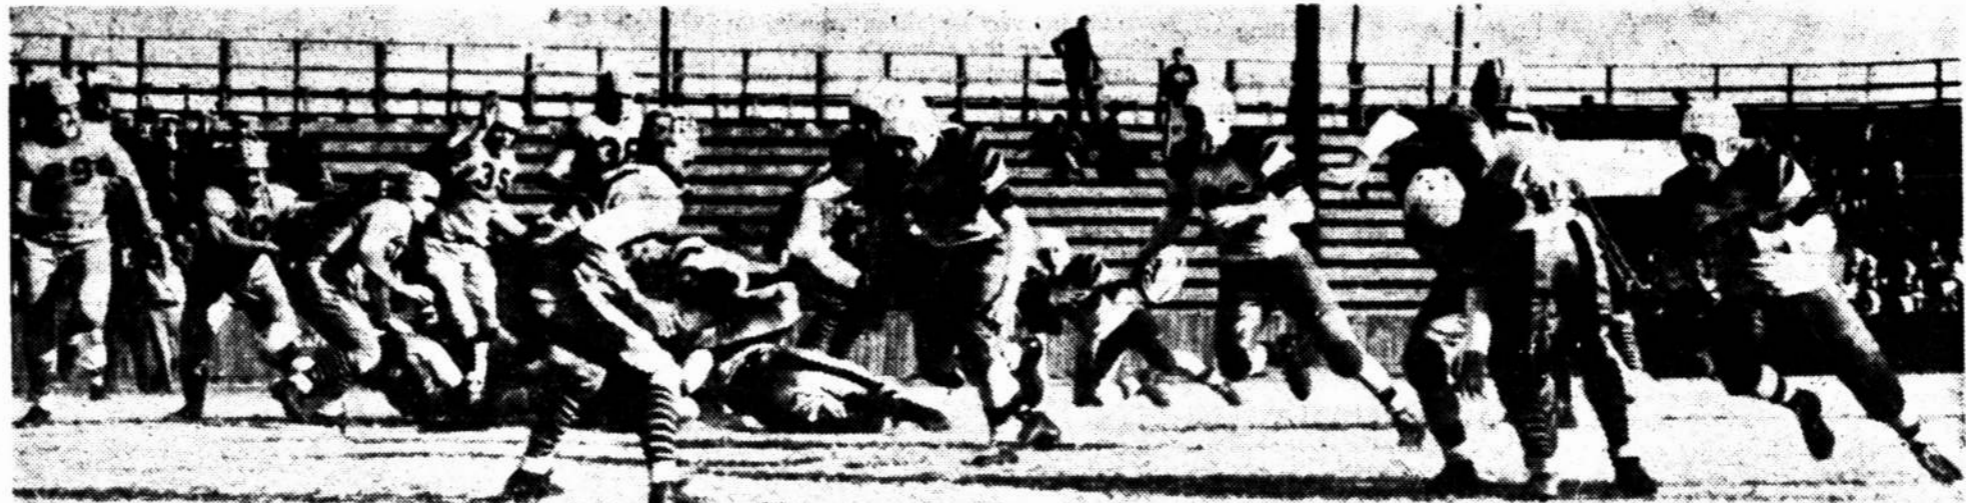

In spite of a five yard setback, the Sandie line held of the Tornado and Vaughn punted, while the Blazer, just itching to get his hands on the ball back there in the safety position, was forced to watch on as the ball was killed on Lamesa's 46. Before the penalty, The Blazer had made a 20-yard return of the punt which was called back.

One More Disappointment
One more big disappointment was to come for Sandie fans and The Blazer. Fate must have giggled gleefully as she arranged for the Blazer's long pass to Humphreys to lack but inches of being completed in bounds. As it was, Humphreys, tall end, caught the ball, but as he did so, he went over the boundary line.

The big hand had moved over into the five-minute-to-play square and the suspense was tearing at nerve tips as an emotion-aturated audience could scarcely get its breath.

The Blazer took no chances. He punted, Lamesa joyfully taking possession on her 16-yard line.

Trying to play safe and hang onto the ball to protect that one-point lead the Tornado took two punches at the Sandies line. The net result was a two-yard loss and Vaughn had to punt. Once again the kick was short and The Blazer had no opportunity to get it.

Goose Pimples Break Out
But the ball was resting on the Tornado's 43, and Sandieland was breaking out with goose pimples as the big hand slipped down another notch. Rutledge, plucky little right half, clipped off seven yards on a reverse.

Bull-necked linemen glared and dug in. The Blazer stepped back to the tailback position, Mauldin ace Sandie center, flicked the ball directly to the Blazer.

The Sandie line charged. It split a gap in the Tornado's left side. Swiftly the Blazer went into that breach toward his right. Beyond the line and in the secondary, the Blazer hook off a linebacker. He shifted quickly, turned to his left and made a bee-line for the sideline. About five yards from the boundary stripe, The Blazer turned sharply to his right and two tacklers missed when he changed his mind.

Six Points Blossom
Now in the clear, The Blazer ran straight forward. Anderson came from across the field to try to catch the chunky fellow as his feet dug divots and pounded goalward.

He was standing up when he reached the end zone, so The Blazer carefully planted the football and six large points blossomed on the Sandies' rosebush. The Blazer was happy, but tired, so he called time out and rested. Then he coolly place-kicked extra point.

As the big hand moved again, the scoreboard read—Amarillo 13, Lamesa 7.

The Blazer, like a fiction hero conceived by an imaginative mind had come his chore, and Harold Harlow began warming up.

Back to the Airways
No use for cautious football now, the Tornado went back to the airways following the kickoff. One pass fell incomplete. Seventy-four yards from pay dirt, Anderson, the Tornado's plucky quarterback, didn't hesitate.

He called for a pass, Crawley, the chunker faded back. He spotted a receiver just behind the Sandie line and to the left.

But, Roberts, sub Sandie end, was alert. He stepped back to paces and jumped. Into his hands went Crawley's heave. Nothing ahead of him but the goal-line and four teammates.

Roberts went on unmolested to the third touchdown. Again the Blazer added extra point.

The hand moved again and the scoreboard read, Amarillo 20, Lamesa 7. Harlow raced in to relieve The Blazer and as the boy who had come through when the pressure was on trotted off the field, the roar of 4,000 voices shook the big bowl. The Blazer tarried at the bench long enough only to be patted on the back by his happy mates and coaches. Then he jogged once again toward the clubhouse—this tin to change into his street clothes, out of his amazing story-book role, into his everyday existence, a boy with a bad cold to fight off before another Saturday brings another football game.

There was plenty of action in the game at Amarillo last Saturday when the Golden Tornadoes of Lamesa and the Golden Sandstorms clashed in one of the most thrilling and exciting football games played in West Texas. The top panel shows a bit of the rapid-fire action that marked the game when Clyde Clark, Amarillo, followed beautiful interference for a first down. In the lower left shows a swarm of Tornado tacklers stopping Blazer Thompson, Amarillo ace. Two unknown Lamesa lads are shown with their arms around the Blazer's ankles. Jackie Vaughn joins his teammates, while another Tornado approaches from the right to see that the job is well done. In the lower right, a Tornado pass has just been intercepted, with Bob Smith, No. 38 and Crawley No. 22 closing in on the receiver. This interception stopped the Tornado drive in the fourth period.

Frustrated and dazed by The Blazer's wounds, the Tornado nevertheless fought back viciously and courageously. Anderson passed to Crawley for a first on their 42, after getting the ball on their 21 following the kickoff after Robert's touchdown. Crawley, struggling, twisting, went charging around end and stumbled. Mitchell punted over the goal-line.

Gun Halts Tornado
The big hand moved on, but unnoticed, for nothing could happen now to further endanger a wide-spread nervous breakdown, among the fans. The crisis had past. The climax had come and relaxation was sought as fans glanced toward the exits.

The Sandies sought safety and smacked the line, Rutledge and Harlow galloping to a first down. Jeters, sub-guard, recovered a Sandie fumble and Harp, a reserve back, was sent into the game for Lamesa.

Everything might have been over for the rest of folks there, but Harp had sand in his shoes and wanted to go places. A minute to play meant just so much time for him to get going.

He passed to Anderson for a first down on the Sandies' 22-yard line. He passed to Anderson for a first on the seven. Again he flicked on to Anderson, this time gaining two yards. Harp then cracked the line and as he did, the gun barked the end of the game with Lamesa just four yards from the Sandie goal-line.

Field of Bright Stars
The echo of the final shot must have penetrated into the clubhouse where the Blazer was easing a weary body under a steaming shower, probably thinking how lucky he was to have been in the game at all, while outside, thousands milled to ward automobiles, thinking how lucky it was that he had.

It would be like trying to tint the jilly to pick outstanding players from the welter of brilliant stars in the game, for at one time or other every player who graced the gridiron added his own particular lustre to the Milky Way of greatness. Every boy on the field played his heart out, but only one could be hand-picked by the gods of chance to play the individual hero role, so just say that The Blazer is the living dream of each one of those players' desires.

METHODIST NOTES
(Welch Charge)
Sunday school and preaching services were both well attended Sunday morning. Called off the night services to give people a chance to attend the dedication service held by Bishop Holt at O'Donnell at 8 p. m. It was well attended and Bishop Holt added to his already large number of friends. His message was an admonition to keep straight ahead though it be well known that the enemy has many snares along the straight and narrow way. He pointed out that it should be the purpose and business of a church to encourage and strengthen weary pilgrims to keep straight ahead.

it interesting for all. Come and help us.

Winterproof Your Car Now!

These brisk mornings should remind you

Its time to give your car a complete check-up and put it in shape for quick starts and efficient operation during colder days ahead.

Sooner or later its going to come—that first freezing cold morning—when weak batteries fail—when heavy oil turns to hard jelly—when it takes both hands to shift gears.

Don't wait until trouble catches up with you! Drive in today . . . let us drain your oil and put in the proper weight of

GERM PROCESSED MOTOR OIL

A wash and grease job, clean radiator and fill with Prestone, check your battery and you'll be ready for all cold weather.

WARNING! WEATHER REPORT

For October, November and December: Cool, cooler, cold, colder and continued cold!

CONOCO SERVICE STATION

ALL YOUR CURIOSITY satisfied by Your Mileage Merchant... Ask him exactly how you're sure of fast winter starting and extreme oil economy by changing now to WINTER OIL-PLATING

Is OIL-PLATING just a different name? ...No. OIL-PLATING is what Conoco Germ Processed oil does! The out-and-out difference is this: OIL-PLATING will stay firmly attached—plated—clear to the topmost point in your engine, while any plain mineral oil drains clear down the crankcase at every stop.

Exactly where is your gain? Well, in starting up again—next day or next month—the coldest OIL-PLATED engine is always oiled in advance...pre-lubricated before any oil down in the crankcase could ever stir. OIL-PLATING thus keeps every engine part constantly slippery. The starter speeds...the battery lives and so does the engine, free of fierce starting friction.

But is there any oil saving? Why?... Because less engine wear puts more miles between quarts. And OIL-PLATING itself never passes out during the use of Germ Processed oil. Only the Germ Process, patented, creates OIL-PLATING, the sensible reason for you to switch to Your Mileage Merchant today.

CONOCO GERM PROCESSED OIL
OIL-PLATING GUARANTEED to lubricate before any oil can circulate

AMARILLO LUCKS OUT---

Buzzer's effort, nevertheless, they state that it was no more than a streak of luck, coupled with some ability, that enabled him to make the long run which enabled Amarillo to score their second touchdown and take the lead 11-7. They converted for the extra point and with less than five minutes left to play the tide of battle had suddenly swung in favor of Amarillo.

With barely seconds left to play the Tornado again opened up with a passing attack which was clicking beautifully, when a pass from Vaughn intercepted by Roberts, Sandie end, who galloped over for the third Amarillo score.

With only a minute left to play, Harp was sent in for Lamesa. He passed to Anderson for a first down on the Sandie's 22, another pass to Anderson gained the ball on the seven. Harp then cracked the line, and as he did the gun barked the end of the game, with the ball resting on the Amarillo four-yard line.

Thus the first meeting between these two teams is history. But the many fans who journeyed with the team and the band and pep squad to Amarillo will vouch for the fact that Amarillo will never have a more jittery or exciting time of winning a football game.

The Tornadoes are resting this week and are preparing for their tilt with the Lubbock Westerners which will be played in Lamesa Friday, November 4th.

COUNTY AGENT WARNS---

producer may have received on the 1937 program as well as any money that he is due to receive under the 1937 or 1938 program. The endorser of the subsidy check states that he has complied with the regulations of the 1938 program. This statement is written on the back of all subsidy checks that have been delivered or will be delivered. All this money will be called for by the government and, of course, if the money is not paid back, the producer violates his obligation in every respect and will be subject to the United States Penal Code, of obtaining government funds under false pretense.

The county committee is now sending out checking crews to make the inspection necessary to determine if such practices are being carried out as reported. This is no reflection on the man who has not harvested any cotton on the acres destroyed. Figure it out for yourself, whether or not it is a reflection on the man who violates his agreement and the 1938 program in which he certifies that he has fulfilled all the requirements of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program. The committee regrets that it is necessary to make re-checks on those who plowed up the cotton, but when such reports come to the attention of the committee there is nothing else that the committee can do but have the farms re-checked. Those who have not harvested the cotton have nothing to fear. Those who have harvested or permitted to be harvested the cotton on the excess acres that have supposedly been destroyed can only suffer the consequences according to the regulations.

Some have made inquiry in regard to threshing enough seed from the sudan acres on leased or retired land. This must not be done as the practice will immediately put the sudan or cane so threshed in the class of feed crops harvested and the penalty will run something near seven and one half dollars per acre on such acres headed or harvested.

Game Warden Harris Locates Bear Here

It has been reliably reported that T. A. Harris, game warden for this district, discovered a bear on a farm about four miles south of Lamesa on Sulphur Draw.

Just whether there is a closed season on bear in Dawson county is not known, but to say the least, Mr. Harris did not kill the bear, although it is reported that he took a "shot" at it. However, further reports state that the warden used a kodak instead of a gun.

It was further reported that when Mr. Harris received the warning that a bear was loose, that he left Lamesa, armed with many and sundry guns. These reports have not been verified, however. But it is a fact that he found a bear.

FEDERAL BUILDING LOAN ASS'N. SHOWING CONTINUOUS GAIN

Homes built five to fifteen years ago and longer are proving attractive in many cases to the prospective homeowner in Texas, when he considers whether to buy or to build, according to a survey just completed by the Federal Home Loan Bank of Little Rock. Loans totaling $4,369,000 have been made by the insured savings and loan associations in Texas to 2,033 borrowers since January 1, 1938, to assist them in the financing of homes not of new construction. The loans averaged about $2,000 each and are payable in small monthly installments similar to rent. In the same period the associations loaned $5,749,000 to 2,371 other borrowers on homes of entirely new construction, the funds being advanced to them as the construction work on the homes progressed. According to the report the assets of the Texas associations continued to increase in September, they having received $4,497,000 in new funds from investors since the first of the year. Included in the compilation prepared by the Bank are the figures of the Lamesa Federal Savings and Loan Association, whose shares are insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

FAIRVIEW H. D. CLUB REPORT

"Five qualities desirable in American citizens are responsibility, able to make intelligent choices, initiative, courage and a strong sense of justice," said Miss Mattie Phenix to members of the Fairview Home Demonstration club, when they met in the home of Mrs. J. R. Tipton, October 18.

Modern facilities have lessened opportunities for the growing child to have responsibility in family activities. Children could help plan the family budget, thus giving them a better understanding why something can be bought and others can not. At the same time this would give him a chance to develop the mentioned qualities for American citizens who will keep ours a Democratic country.

After the program members of the Welch club were entertained. Those attending were Mesdames Hoyt Sires, King Preston, Charlie Sullivan, Preston, Joe Jayroe, King, W. T. Meeks, Nolan Jayroe, Clifton Martin and twelve Fairview club members, two visitors, Mrs. Lloyd Payne, Sug Kelly and Miss Phenix.

Mr. and Mrs. Eizie Burleson and Amarillo football game Saturday at family attended the Lamesa and Amarillo.
