Wall Streeter
First Target
In Tax Drive

By FRANK CORMIER
WASHINGTON (AP)—A prominent Wall Street figure closely associated with the New York Stock Exchange is expected to be the first target of a federal drive against alleged tax evaders in the securities field.

Informal sources said Sunday the case involves allegations of criminal tax fraud and would produce a sensation in financial and business circles.

If the government adheres to its tentative timetable, it was learned, evidence will be presented to a federal grand jury in New York City later this week. A final decision was being delayed pending a special meeting of federal prosecutors later today.

Informants said at least a dozen tax fraud cases, including this one, were being developed against brokers, underwriters, stock manipulators, "boiler room operators" and Wall Street lawyers.

They said the intensive work in the securities area was similar to past income tax crackdowns which have involved physicians, headwaiters, morticians, lawyers, small businessmen and even tag boat captains.

Some of the investigations have been under way for as long as three years. A large proportion involved Wall Street operators, but several centers in other cities. A number of the pending cases resulted from recent investigations of the American Stock Exchange and its members by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Some sources said that if the case of the New York Stock Exchange figure reaches the courts, it might well be the most sensational one to involve a Wall Streeter since Richard Whitney, the former president of the "Big Board," was sent to Sing Sing for grand larceny in 1938.

It was understood that the Justice Department and the Internal Revenue Service have developed allegations that the individual involved understated his income and inflated claimed deductions for contributions to charities and philanthropies.

The original evidence in many of the pending cases was uncovered by the Securities and Exchange Commission. The widely varied inquiries involve allegations that two Wall Street lawyers failed to file tax returns, that a broker did not report his full business and personal income, that an underwriter wrote off large expenses he did not incur, and that several brokers claimed fictitious travel and entertainment expense deductions.

Tense France, Algeria Wait
For Report From DeGaulle

By DAVID MASON
PARIS (AP)—Bristling with military forces, France and Algeria waited tensely for President Charles de Gaulle's report tonight on radio and television on his progress toward ending the seven-year rebellion in the North African territory.

Thousands of riot police, 32 tanks, 100 squad cars and light armored vehicles waited on the alert on the outskirts of Paris. Troops took strategic positions in key Algerian cities to counter the threat of an uprising by the underground Secret Army Organization of Europeans fighting to keep Algeria French.

For days high sources have leaked the word that secret negotiations between De Gaulle and the Algerian rebels toward a cease-fire are well advanced. Few observers, however, believed that the time had arrived when the French president, who has dedicated himself to settling the rebellion, could announce a peace settlement.

De Gaulle is a leader who keeps his own counsel. But there was growing speculation that he would express guarded optimism about the prospects for an Algerian settlement.

He is also expected to denounce the rightist Secret Army and make another rallying call for support by declaring his Fifth Republic, which grew out of the Algerian crisis, has brought the country stability and prosperity.

One of the Secret Army's favorite tactics is to sabotage radio and TV transmitters during important government broadcasts, then run in Secret Army broadcasts on the same wavelength.

Winter To Return With Icy Blast

By The Associated Press
Winter was ready to put Texas' spell of spring weather to rout Monday.

Icy air thrusting southward from Canada sent a cold front pushing into the state, but brought no sharp temperature drops immediately.

By early morning the leading edge of the new front extended from near Paris to Dallas and on west to Big Spring. Weather Bureau observers reported, however, that the severe cold lay nearly 100 miles behind.

Forecasts promised the thermometer would rise to 10 degrees above zero in the Texas Panhandle by Tuesday morning, and into the middle to lower 20s in other sections of the state.

Temperatures during the night ranged from 21 at Dalhart to 67 at Corpus Christi ahead of the front.

Amarillo had 24, Lubbock 36, Laredo 50, Brownsville 65, Houston 60, Austin 57, Dallas 51, Abilene 46 and Texarkana 55.

Clouds overhung East and South Texas. It was clear everywhere else in the state.

Signaling the approach of a new norther, gusty winds tugged at West and North Texas while clouds built up along the coast Sunday. The wind hit 35 m.p.h. at Lubbock. It knocked down a covered walkway at a downtown construction site in Dallas, injuring a pedestrian.

Headed by President David J. McDonald, the union's 34-man Executive Board went into session behind closed doors at a midtown hotel.

Recommendations of the board will be turned over to the union's International Wage Policy Committee, which convenes in Pittsburgh on Wednesday.

Statements by officials at the close of the conference may provide some hint to what the union will demand—and how tough it intends to get to back its demands.

Prior to the 1959 negotiations, the wage committee said the union would seek "substantial" improvements in wages and fringe benefits. A record 116-day strike followed.

Molotov Is Back Home

MOSCOW (AP)—Former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov returned to his Moscow apartment today after spending more than a week in a local hospital with the flu. A hospital attendant said he is now in good condition.

There has been no official word as to his future. Premier Khrushchev denounced him as a member of a so-called anti-party group last October. Subsequently, Molotov returned to Moscow from Vienna, where he was Soviet delegate to the International Atomic Energy Agency, presumably to put up a fight.

Last month the Soviet Foreign Office said Molotov was returning to Vienna but later changed its story and said he was still in Moscow. Reports followed that he had suffered a heart attack but last week reporters located him in a suburban hospital, at which informants said he had the flu.

Orlich Increases
Lead In Costa Rica

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—Francisco J. Orlich, a supporter of the U.S. Alliance for Progress program, steadily increased his lead today in returns from Costa Rica's presidential election.

The National Liberation party candidate, Orlich is backed by former President Jose Figueres, was comfortably in front of his rival political foe, Republican Rafael Calderon Guardia, and ex-President Otello Ulate of the National Union party.

As the crowd gathered for Castro's speech, Soviet Premier Khrushchev messaged a reiteration of Russian support for the Cuban revolution.

"The people of the Soviet Union are always with you, dear Cuban brothers," Khrushchev said. "A growing militant movement of solidarity in all parts of the globe will help the Cuban people frustrate the evil plans of the U.S. imperialists and their hirelings."

Castro followed a similar line. "Revolution is inevitable," he said. "It is determined by the conditions of misery in which man lives in Latin America."

"Cuba votes for culture, the United States for ignorance," he declared. "Cuba for industrialization, the United States for underdevelopment. Cuba for truth, the United States for the lie. Cuba for liberation, the United States for oppression. Cuba for socialism, the United States for capitalism."

The United States, he said, took a major beating at the Punta del Este conference of Inter-American foreign ministers which ended last Saturday. He said only the U.S.

To counter this tactic a heavy guard was posted at the base of the Eiffel Tower, which has an important TV relay installation atop it. Guards were doubled around radio and television installations in Algeria.

An estimated 100 European diehards were arrested in the Algerian capital in an effort to stall off some of the expected trouble.

Leaders of the Algerian rebel government were meeting in Tunis to study reports of its emissaries who have been holding secret sessions with the French on a cease-fire and steps toward independence after 131 years of French rule.

Should the rebel hierarchy approve the broad lines of a settlement reportedly reached by negotiators, final approval must still be given by the National Revolutionary Council which serves as a rebel parliament.

NARROW ESCAPE—No injuries were reported in the one-car accident involving this 1954 Oldsmobile driven by Pedro Chaidze, 23, of Box 1312, Snyder. The accident occurred at 7:30 p.m. on the farm-to-market road one mile east of the Snyder Cemetery. Royce Stowe, Texas Highway Patrolman, investigated the roll-over.

Fidel Brushes Off
Cuba's Explusion

By GEORGE ARFELD
HAVANA (AP)—Cheered by a vast throng of Cubans and bolstered by a message from the Kremlin, Fidel Castro brushed off Cuba's impending expulsion from the Inter-American system Sunday night and predicted his kind of revolution would sweep Latin America "like a march of giants."

A throng of Cubans jamming Jose Marti Plaza roared approval as the bearded prime minister assailed President Kennedy as hypocritical and impudent for banning imports from Cuba. U.S. officials in Washington said the ban, chiefly affecting tobacco, will deprive Castro's regime of $35 million a year.

Castro shouted his defiance of the Organization of American States for its 14-1 vote at Punta del Este, Uruguay, last week to oust Cuba from the hemisphere family of nations until it breaks its ties with the Communist bloc. Six nations abstained.

The monster crowd cheered each time the prime minister denounced the United States and the conditions of misery in which man lives in Latin America.

Castro's 2-hour, 40-minute speech came on the eve of a debate in the U.N. political committee on a Communist-sponsored resolution charging the United States is planning aggression against Cuba and meddling in her affairs.

Protest Led
By Pro-Reds

By K. R. RAMANATH
JAKARATA, Indonesia (AP)—A student mob stoned the U.S. Embassy and ripped down the American flag today, injuring one employee. The action brought a vigorous American protest.

The students, believed to be pro-Communist, were protesting because a Dutch plane carrying troops to disputed West New Guinea was allowed to refuel on U.S. soil.

The mob action came before reports reached here that the United States had withdrawn permission for Dutch charter planes carrying troops to use U.S. airfields at Anchorage, Alaska; Honolulu and Wake Island.

At the Hague, a communiqué said Premier Jan de Quay of the Netherlands had expressed his deep disappointment and added that he could not understand the U.S. decision.

The Indonesian news agency Pina said Foreign Minister Subandrio expressed regret about the attack on the embassy although he added he could "well understand the anger and irritation of the Indonesian people caused by the permission granted to Dutch troops-carrying planes to land on American soil."

The agency said several persons had been arrested on suspicion of leading the demonstration.

U.S. Ambassador Howard P. Jones protested the mob attack to the Indonesian Foreign Ministry.

One embassy official, Miss Mary Manchester, a personnel officer, was injured. Several others in the embassy were hit by flying glass.

Shouting and singing, about 100 students believed to be from the student organization dominated by the Communists, hurled stones and sticks at the embassy and smashed windows of automobiles in the compound.

Clear U.S. decision to close its airfields to the Dutch troop planes was communicated to the Dutch Foreign Ministry by the American ambassador to The Hague, John Rice, a diplomatic source said. He reported that Rice told State Secretary Hans van Houten the U.S. permission was granted only for a flight last Friday and that landing rights would not be extended for a second chartered flight that had been scheduled for today.

A Dutch commercial airliner believed to be carrying 25 Dutch soldiers in civilian clothes landed in Tokyo Sunday and was searched for weapons. None was found. The plane was en route to West New Guinea.

Last week the Japanese government refused to let a chartered airliner carrying Dutch soldiers land in Japan.

Roberts On Hand To Take His Oath

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ray Roberts of McKinney, Tex., arrived Sunday to take the seat in the House of Representatives that the late Sam Rayburn held for nearly half a century.

Roberts was to take the oath of office in House ceremonies at noon today.

He is the second Texan in a week to be sworn as a new Democratic congressman. Last Monday Rep. Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls succeeded Frank Icard, who resigned.

Rayburn died Nov. 16, he had represented the 4th Texas Congressional District since March 4, 1933.

On hand to meet Roberts and his wife as they flew in from Texas were Vice President and Mrs. Lyndon Johnson and more than a score of other well-wishers. They included Rep. Wright Patman of Texas, dean of the Texas congressional delegation, Purcell and Reps. George Mahon of Lubbock and Homer Thornberry of Austin.

Twenty minutes of handshaking and picture taking took place before the Roberts left with the Johnsons in the vice presidential limousine.

Roberts worked here for Rayburn for a time before going into the Navy during World War II. The McKinney merchant and erstwhile president pro tem of the Texas Senate, who waged his special election campaign largely from Austin, has been a frequent Washington visitor in the intervening years.

Familiar with living conditions in the capital area, Roberts obtained an apartment at a fashionable new development just across the Potomac River in Virginia, not far from the Robert E. Lee mansion in Arlington National Cemetery.

Committee assignments of Roberts and Purcell will be determined soon at a meeting of Democratic members of the House Ways and Means Committee, acting as the committee on committees for members of their party.

Present indications are Roberts will fill a vacancy on the House Veterans Affairs Committee, headed by Rep. Olin Teague, D-Tex. Purcell may get a position on the House Agriculture Committee.

Patman arranged a coffee and rolls reception for the Roberts in the Rayburn named "Board of Education" room in the Capitol which was Rayburn's retreat for many years. Another reception was scheduled in the Capitol in late afternoon, with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Roberts, parents of the new congressman, host.

The reception group at the airport Sunday included friends who had known Roberts when he worked on Rayburn's staff here before World War II. Other friends came from Texas to lunch the outgoing and incoming members of the cabinet.

Roberts already had a congressional office open and operating. Mrs. Calvin Kimbrough, who worked for Rayburn for years, closed both the files in Rayburn's Capitol building suite and set up business for Roberts in a suite on the third floor of the old House Office Building.

With seniority, even though just a week, Purcell would have the first chance over Roberts' selection of such committee position as might be available.

2 Scientists, Wives Die In Plane Crash

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Two U.S. scientists and their wives, returning from an Amazon expedition, perished Sunday in the crash of a Peruvian airliner in the mountains of central Peru. All 18 persons aboard the plane were killed.

A twin-engine DC3 of the Faucett Airlines came down in a heavy rainstorm shortly after taking off from Tingo Maria, 135 miles from Lima, on the Huallaga River. Authorities said the plane had been forced to land by the bad weather.

The American victims were identified as Dr. and Mrs. Jerome A. Uram of Newton, Mass., and Mrs. Richard Block. Block and his wife, Margaret, both 50, were protein chemists who co-authored a book on proteins.

Dr. Block was attached to the Boyce-Thompson Institute of the New York City and was a consultant for the Borden Co.

Uram, 35, was an assistant professor of food toxicology at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He and his wife, Anne, 38, moved to Newton last July from Bethesda, Md., where Uram had been a member of the nutrition studies section of the National Institutes of Health. He was a native of Philadelphia. The Urams leave two children, Eric, 8, and Ellen, 5, who were with Mrs. Uram's mother in Boston.

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics Administration said the plane was on a routine flight. The DC3, a military version of the DC3, left its home base, Hurlburt Field in Florida, last Friday.

It left McGuire Air Force Base, N.J., Sunday, stopped at Philadelphia and flew to Greensboro. The Federal Aviation Flight Service station at Knoxville, Tenn., said the plane was en route to Knoxville.

At Greensboro, the plane paused briefly, stopping but one of the two engines.

Fire swept through the plane, and bodies of the victims lay scattered about the wreckage. Several weeks had been in Peru for research and were due back in a week.

Farmers living near the crash scene said they heard two explosions at the time. Some farmers said the plane may have been struck by lightning.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. helicopter company airdropped Vietnamese troops on a raid Sunday to wipe out a strong Viet Cong Communist force based at Hung My, a village near the southern tip of South Viet Nam. Most of the quarry escaped.

Three rebels were captured. A large supply of weapons, 10 pounds of documents and some homemade arms were seized.

But the great majority of the village guerrillas—about 100 guerrilla troops—fled from freshly dug trenches into the nearby bamboo groves as the fleet of U.S. copters roared down on them.

Of the 15 helicopters involved, one was downed and another was hit by parting fire. None of the helicopters was damaged.

The airborne assault force, moved into the attack in three successive waves, totaled one battalion of Vietnamese infantry and a company of rangers—perhaps 500 men.

Only women, children and two old men occupied the village by the time the copter fleet last touched down and three Vietnamese army units, each with American military advisers, closed in.

Col. Robert B. Olson of Dallas, Tex., one of the advisers, commented that "Limited as we were in men, machines and communications, we just could not close that ring tight enough."

Women who emerged from the grass huts, some with naked babies in their arms, gave questions little information about the guerrillas, and much of what they did say was conflicting.

"You don't really blame them," said Maj. David Gallier of Washington, D.C. "If these women talk today, they'll probably die tomorrow."

Seven Airmen Die In Crash Of Transport

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — A C47 transport plane crashed and burned Sunday, killing seven Air Force men.

An Air Force board of inquiry today begins the task of examining the charred remains of the plane at the Greensboro-High Point Airport in search of clues to the cause of the crash.

The board was flown here from Pope Air Force Base near Fayetteville, N.C., only hours after the plane smashed into the turf 100 feet from the airport.

There were no survivors.

Pope AFB identified the dead as:

Capt. R. J. Rice, 27, the pilot, Fort Walton Beach, Fla.

Capt. David L. Murphy, 30, co-pilot, Bloomfield, Neb.

Capt. Thomas D. Carter, 27, navigator, Helena, Ark.

Sgt. Bernard P. Terrien, 32, engineer, Gillette, Wis.

LT. D. J. Hughes, 28, a passenger, Fort Walton Beach, Fla.

Capt. Robert H. Sanford, 34, a passenger, Greensboro, N.C.

Sgt. Preston Presley, age unavailable, service address APO 126, en route on emergency leave to Alcoa, Tenn.

Applications were to have been taken today but a hearing in Washington over the fixing of the payment rate caused a delay. Therefore the applications cannot be taken until the forms are received which will probably be Wednesday or Thursday of this week.

All those farmers wishing to participate in the 1962 program will make application at the ASC office on the Big Spring Highway after they receive their notice of the payment rate and base.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. helicopter company airdropped Vietnamese troops on a raid Sunday to wipe out a strong Viet Cong Communist force based at Hung My, a village near the southern tip of South Viet Nam. Most of the quarry escaped.

Three rebels were captured. A large supply of weapons, 10 pounds of documents and some homemade arms were seized.

But the great majority of the village guerrillas—about 100 guerrilla troops—fled from freshly dug trenches into the nearby bamboo groves as the fleet of U.S. copters roared down on them.

Of the 15 helicopters involved, one was downed and another was hit by parting fire. None of the helicopters was damaged.

The airborne assault force, moved into the attack in three successive waves, totaled one battalion of Vietnamese infantry and a company of rangers—perhaps 500 men.

Only women, children and two old men occupied the village by the time the copter fleet last touched down and three Vietnamese army units, each with American military advisers, closed in.

Col. Robert B. Olson of Dallas, Tex., one of the advisers, commented that "Limited as we were in men, machines and communications, we just could not close that ring tight enough."

Women who emerged from the grass huts, some with naked babies in their arms, gave questions little information about the guerrillas, and much of what they did say was conflicting.

"You don't really blame them," said Maj. David Gallier of Washington, D.C. "If these women talk today, they'll probably die tomorrow."

New Fashions Revive Hope, Except That 'Medusa Look'

By INEZ ROBB

Any American woman who tries to parse the semi-annual fashion news out of Paris, after the winter and summer couture shows, has to be braced to take the bitter with the better.

Now that the January shows of spring and summer fashions have ended, breathes there a female with soul so dead she is not grateful to have back her waist and her bosom, courtesy of Paris?

The French designers, initially at least, seemed to decree that girls shall be once more. They accentuated the positive with due deference to the balcony, which they have spent several past seasons in flattening, a la real scallopi.

Next, belts found favor in their eyes, and, voila, the waist was properly cinched.

All this, as far as one woman is concerned, was news for rejoicing. And there was also something for the boys: legs. As I read the cabled tea leaves from Paris, skirts are still at the knee, with no real incentive for masculine gatherings at any street corner in a high wind.

The word from Paris seemed on the upswing, in view of its past performances with the sack and the sark's logical outgrowth, the beak-like look.

So it appeared to me that nobody could lose in the spring and summer of 1962 until I read that the Medusa look is the favorite hair and hat development of one prominent French couturier. And that the Cleopatra look in hair, hats and make-up is big, too.

All right, I bear approximately the same relationship to Cleopatra, the Serpent of the Nile, as, say, Snow White to the late Thea Bara. But if an infusion of henna on the hair, some heavy eye make-up and a couple of pounds of beads would help, I was game.

But it does seem a bit of a fashion penalty to ask a woman whose looks stem predominantly from the Irish branch of the family to turn herself into an unreasonable facsimile of Cleopatra.

However, the point is that I was still willing. Then, I read about the Medusa look and I tossed in my make-up kit.

Cleopatra is one thing, as Julius Caesar, Mark Antony, Shakespeare and G. B. Shaw were all willing to testify. But Medusa is a snake pit of another color. And, at this point, women are surely entitled to ask what in the world Paris's boy-designers are trying to do to the opposite-in-every-way—sex.

Medusa, the most famous of the trio of Gorgon monsters of Greek mythology, was of so hideous a mien that all who looked upon her face were turned to stone. For centuries she was the goddess of wisdom. Medusa was transformed into a horrendous creature whose hair became a mass of writhing serpents.

Finally Perseus, the son of Zeus (the Don Juan of the gods), delivered the world from Medusa by striking off her head, thanks to Athena who started it. All she lent her polished shield to Perseus. Thus he was able to see Medusa reflected in its surface and get about his bloody task. And since he only saw Medusa's reflection, he was saved from a stony fate.

So now, by some reasoning that escapes me, Medusa is the new fashion standard and glamor girl. Hats, resembling wigs, made of writhing coils of black horsehair reproduce Medusa's opidion coiffure. Or, if the customer wishes, any of the first-rate hairdressers of Paris can create the same effect with Madam's own hair.

It's a cinch that this whimsy will set women and fashion back a hundred years, no less than revitalize the Keely cure and double membership in A.A. (Copyright, 1962, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

U. S. Plane Shot Down

VIETNAME, Laos (AP) — An American-piloted transport plane was shot down by hostile forces Sunday while flying over the Plain de Jarres on an air drop to government forces in the area, it was learned today.

The American pilot and copilot and four Lao unloaders were killed in the crash in the hill country east of the Plain de Jarres.

The C46 was operated by Air American, a civilian firm set up by the American government to provide the Laotian army with air transport.

Air American said it was on a normal mission dropping rice and other commodities to refugees and army units.

It was not immediately known whether it has been shot down by Prince Souvanna Phouma's neutralist troops, pro-Communist Pathet Lao or anti-aircraft artillery manned by North Vietnamese soldiers.

Several other American-manned planes have been shot down or crashed in Laos civil war since last year.

Junior Editors Quiz on FISH

QUESTION: How do fish breathe under water?

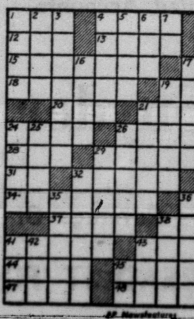

ANSWER: Fish and other creatures that live in the water need oxygen, just as men and animals do. They get their oxygen, however, from the water. Land animals take air in through the mouth or nose and into the lungs, keep the oxygen and send carbon dioxide back out the same way. Fish take in water through the mouth, where they send it through their gills. The oxygen is picked out of the water by the gills. Gills can be seen at the sides of a fish's head, between the mouth and the first fins. If a fish is taken out of the water for very long he will die, because a fish cannot get oxygen from the air, just as a man cannot get oxygen from water.

FOR YOU TO DO: If you will look at the fish in an aquarium, you will see the gills in action, moving open and shut. Can you locate the gills in the drawing above?

Chief Stars Choose West Texas State

MIAMI, ANGLO-Lake View's Mike Sanders, a 190-pound all-state fullback, and teammate James Brasher, a 240-pound tackle, have signed letters of pre-enrollment to attend West Texas State College in Canyon.

They represent the first two San Angelo gridders to announce their college destination intentions.

Both boys were instrumental in leading their team undefeated through the District 2-AAA state the past season. It was the first district football championship ever copied by a Lake View team.

Palmer Victor In Palm Springs Golf

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer
PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—The recent off-repeated query, "What's wrong with Arnold Palmer's golf game?" seems pretty well squelched.

Palmer, playing like the Palmer of National Open and Masters fame in 1960, put on a dazzling birdie hunt to win the $50,000 Palm Springs Classic Sunday. He clinched the 5-round, 56-hole marathon with a 3-under par 69 for a total score of 342, 17 blows under par for the long haul at the plush par 72 Bermuda Dunes Country Club and four other courses used in the tournament.

Palmer started the round three strokes behind the leader, Gene Littler. He ran off a string of five successive birdies starting on the fifth hole, caught Littler on the eighth and went two ahead of Gene on the ninth.

Did he think he had it sewed up at that point?

"You never have anything sewed up in this game," said Palmer. "I learned that lesson in the Masters."

Arnold referred to his double-bogey six in the 1961 Masters on the 18th when he lost to Gary Player.

This was Palmer's second win in the three $50,000 desert classics and his first victory since the British Open last July.

Palmer leads the tournament apogees to the $35,000 Phoenix, Ariz., Open. Then he will vacation until the Baton Rouge, La., Open, which he won last year.

Player left Sunday night for Johannesburg, South Africa, home where he'll rest about five weeks. Player's 71 for 352 netted $325.

Littler wound up with a 75 and a second-place tie at 345 with Jay Hebert. Each collected $2,800. At 346 were Tommy Aaron, Gardner Dickinson and Al Geiberger.

Happiest man was former U.S. Open champion Dick Mayer. He got to keep the entire $50,000 bonus he earned with a hole-in-one Saturday. There were no more aces so Mayer didn't have to split the money.

Fiberglass Furor Burns

BOSTON (AP) — Marine Lance Cpl. John Uelses owns the first 20-foot pole vaults in track history.

The 24-year-old German-born Marine, stationed at Quantico, Va., vaulted 16 feet 4 inches in the Millrose Games at New York Friday night. A shadow was cast on the performance because the bar was knocked down before the height could be remeasured after his vault.

So Uelses went out Saturday night and vaulted 16 feet 4 inches in Boston on his first try at the height.

"I almost stopped on the take-off pit," Uelses confided afterward. "I felt something in my right leg at just about my check mark."

Though Uelses now has the only two recorded 16-foot vaults, the mark is not recognized as a world record. The International Amateur Athletic Federation does not consider indoor records. The pending outdoor world vault standard is 15-10 1/2, set by George Davis last year and equaled by Uelses only nine days ago in Washington.

"He'll do 17 feet some day," said his coach, Aubrey Dooley, a pretty fair vaulter himself, doing 15-3 while at Oklahoma State.

What has been responsible for turning Uelses, born in Berlin, into a champion after being only a mediocre vaulter a year ago? Uelses himself doesn't have the answer. But he acknowledged that it's been just one year that he's been using a fiberglass pole.

"I don't want to take anything away from John," says veteran trainer Jack Semple. "He's a wonderful athlete. But the fiberglass pole makes its appearance and all of a sudden there's a flock of 15-foot pole vaulters around."

"It's like a whip. I used to train (Cornelius) Warmerdam when he used a bamboo pole. I wouldn't be surprised if he could have done 17 feet with one of these new poles."

Retired pole vaulter Don (Tarzan) Bragg is another disbeliever. "Vaulting," he says, "used to be 60 to 70 per cent the athlete and 30 to 40 per cent the pole. Now it has been completely reversed. The fiberglass pole should be declared illegal."

Arizona State Dominating BC Basketball

By The Associated Press
There's just no catching Arizona State in the Border Conference basketball race.

The Sun Devils whipped Texas Western 68-42 in the lone conference game last week for a fifth triumph in five starts.

Second place West Texas State trails at 2-1. Texas Western stands 1-2. New Mexico State 0-2 and Hardin-Simmons 0-3.

In nonconference games, Arizona State beat Los Angeles State 114-66. Texas Western downed Eastern New Mexico 55-50. West Texas State was trounced 100-75 by Oklahoma City University and lost to McMurry 94-47. New Mexico State dropped a 68-47 thriller to Arizona.

Hardin-Simmons beat Eastern New Mexico State 75-68 and Trinity 83-77, but bowed to the University of Corpus Christi 79-59.

Monday night Arizona State is host New Mexico State. West Texas is guest of Oklahoma City University and Texas Western meets Arizona at Tucson.

Arizona State travels to Canyon Saturday to take on West Texas. Texas Western is host to New Mexico Highlands and Hardin-Simmons has Arizona as its guest.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Two Texans placed in the grand prix of United States motorcycle racing. Jesse Thomas of Fort Worth won the 125-kilometer race for machines up to 250 cc. Sunday, averaging 64.958 m.p.h. Bill Powers of Longview, Tex., was second.

Travis Home For Lamesa; Lamar Away

Snyder's Travis 9th Blue Devils, 15-1 for the season and averaging a cool 36 points, in their last two outings, tackle the strong Lamesa 9th grade outfit here in Travis Gym this evening at 8 o'clock.

It will be the first meeting of the year for the two schools, as their previously slated clashes of January 22 were frozen out. The Lamesa-Travis 9th grade dual has been rescheduled for February 13 in Lamesa, with the 8th and 9th grade games still "hanging fire."

The Blue Devils foes of tonight have already been cast in the role of "spoiler" in an earlier contest against Lamar of Snyder. After winning their first eight games of the season, the Texans were tripped up by the Lamesans by a 43-40 tab.

The only loss this year absorbed by the Blue Devils was a 40-39 clipping dealt them by Lamar, a loss they avenged in the Snyder Tournament with a 62-46 reversal.

Leslie Brown is leading the team in scoring for the season, averaging well over 20 points per game. He has tallied a total of 101 points in the two most recent Blue Devil frays against Big Spring Runnels and Colorado City.

At 6:30 Travis 8th (1-11) will meet the Lamesans, and at 5 o'clock the evening's action will be kicked off when Travis 7th (1-8) and Lamesa 7th get together. But of those games will also be reeled off in Blue Devil Gym.

Lamar's Texans will be in Colorado City this evening for three games, with the starting times being comparable to those involving Travis and Lamesa.

Lamar 9th (12-4) has already whipped Colorado City once, by 51-36 in the Snyder Tournament. Neither Lamar 8th (5-8) nor the Texas 7th (7-4) have met Colorado City as yet, their first meeting having been called off due to icy road conditions.

Keeping Texas Tech on top were a 69-63 victory over the SMU Mustangs and a 66-64 decision over the Arkansas Razorbacks last week. Arkansas then walloped the Rice Owls 104-54, and Rice shook off its losing ways to down Southern Methodist 61-53.

Snyder vaulted into third place ahead of Arkansas and SMU by defeating Baylor 76-71. In other conference games, the Texas Aggies downed Texas Christian 78-72 and the TCU Horned Frogs handed the winless Baylor Bears a 69-53 setback.

Against outside foes, the Texas Longhorns bested Trinity 95-89 but Texas A&M bowed to the University of Houston 73-69.

On the basis of comparative records, Texas Tech should have little trouble staying on top this week. The Red Raiders will be hosts Tuesday night to TCU at Lubbock and then meet Baylor Saturday at Waco.

In other games Tuesday, it's Arkansas at Baylor, Rice at Texas A&M and Texas at SMU.

Rounding out Saturday's schedule, Texas A&M is at Southern Methodist, Rice at Texas and TCU at Arkansas.

Heavies Down In Back

By The Associated Press
Back trouble last week forced Ingemar Johansson to delay his comeback fight with Jamaican Joe Bygraves. And now a back injury has postponed the interesting fight.

Johansson apparently has recovered from his aches and pains and is scheduled to meet Bygraves, the former British Empire heavyweight king, at Goteborg, Sweden, Friday night.

Caffey To Aggield

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Ken Caffey, 180-pound Thorndale fullback, has decided to follow a brother to Texas A&M. His brother, Leetoy Caffey, will be a senior fullback next fall.

Caffey and Bill McBryde, 210-pound fullback from Shamrock, signed pre-enrollment agreements Sunday. They brought the number of Aggie signers to 11.

A DAILY VIEW

Rev. R. Charles Spivey

"Honor the Lord with your substance and with the first fruits of all your produce; Then your barns will be filled with plenty, and your vats will be bursting with wine." Proverbs 3:9-10 (Read chapter 3)

Perhaps you've heard someone use the old expression "You'd better pay the preacher." The idea is that if you are having a lot of bad luck, the reason is, that you haven't been giving to the church, and some sort of unlucky curse has come upon you. All you have to do to have this curse lifted is give an offering to the church.

Frankly, someone has gotten way off base if they really believe in this old saying. Stewardship, and giving to the church, are not a divine insurance plan. And one can not bribe God with one's material possessions.

The scripture quoted above simply means that when you honor the Lord with your substance—out of your heartfelt gratitude to him—and with love toward him—you give; then you will live your life in such a way that your honesty and industry will be rewarded with blessings. We should never give in order to be blessed. Only give that the Lord might be blessed through us.

Detroit Should Be Pennant Contender

(Fifth in a series of major league team appraisals written under the managers' byline)
By BOB SCHEFFING
SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP)—There were two reasons why our team didn't give the Yankees a league pennant last season. As it turned out, we won 101 games and were in the thick of the race until the final month.

One of our troubles was the lack of depth in the bullpen. The ease with which the Yankees were working 30 innings or more, but he was out of action for quite a while because of a sore arm.

Terry Fox did a fine job as a relief pitcher last season. His earned run average of 1.42 was the lowest in the league for pitchers working 30 innings or more. But he was out of action for quite a while because of a sore arm.

Sam Jones, whom we got from the new Houston team, is going to help our pitching staff a lot. He thrives on work and I intend to use him both as a starter and reliever.

Jake Wood and Dick McIniff formed our double combination for the last half of the 1961 season. Both were more than adequate at the plate and I'm sure we've already got one of the finest outfielders in baseball with Al Kaline, Rocky Colavito and Billy Bruton. I'm hoping, though, that Bruton can improve on his .257 batting average of last year.

I'm also looking for improvement from Dick Brown, our first string catcher. He hit .266 and he's a better hitter than that. He's one of the best receivers defensively.

We've got the best starting trio in the business in Frank Lary, Jim Bunning and Don Mossi. They ought to get some help from Ronnie Kline, Paul Foytack and Phil Regan.

Howard Koplitz, the minor league pitcher of the year, was called up by the military. We could have used him.

Right now, I figure we have a good shot at the pennant. The Yankees will be tough as usual and Baltimore, Cleveland, Chicago and Boston all seem strong.

Sledding Not So Tough For Raiders

By The Associated Press
Texas Tech should have easier going this week after downing two dangerous foes to maintain its Southwest Conference basketball lead.

Tech's Red Raiders boast a 5-1 league record, and Rice and Texas A&M are deadlocked at 4-2 for second in the standings. Texas stands 3-2, Arkansas and SMU 2-3, Texas Christian 1-4 and Baylor 0-4.

Party Divisions Are Glossed Over

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — American political parties are like popular fronts that let factions gang up under one tent and one label and, in public, gloss over their differences.

This doesn't solve the problem of how to achieve unity on the issues—so the public can know what to expect when they proclaim a party program—but it keeps them in business.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower had his hands full with his own divided Republicans when he was in office. President is having the same trouble with his Democrats.

Kennedy ignored the desertion from his ranks when the House Rules Committee — where Democrats outnumbered Republicans — was voted to kill his idea for a new department of urban affairs and housing.

It was wrecked because four Southern Democrats joined the five Republicans to vote against it.

Urban Plan Defeat Seen By Goldwater

By JACK RELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., predicted today that what he described as "cheap politics" by President Kennedy will backfire and defeat his urban affairs department plan.

Goldwater, a conservative and a possible candidate for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination, expressed confidence Congress will vote a pending reorganization plan. The measure would set up a department Kennedy said would be headed by Housing Administrator Robert C. Weaver as the first Negro Cabinet member.

"I don't think he can beat the President in the Senate, although the vote will be close, but we can beat him in the House," Goldwater said in an interview. Either branch can kill the plan by majority vote.

Goldwater said Republicans resent what he called Kennedy's attempts to case them as being anti-Negro if they oppose establishment of the new department. He said this was "cheap politics and not the kind I'd expect from a president."

"If the President wanted to appoint a Negro to the Cabinet he has passed up a lot of chances to do so. Weaver would have been a good Cabinet selection—perhaps better than some of the men the President did select," Goldwater said.

"The issue is not whether Weaver will lead the proposed new department but the plain fact that we've got enough brains now and don't need any more."

Goldwater previously had applauded an attack on the urban affairs proposal by a potential competitor for the 1964 nomination, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

In the weekend bombardment over the issue, Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., accused Rockefeller of "abandoning his own principles" in the political battle.

Celler said that when Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower was president, Rockefeller had recommended creation of a department of urban affairs such as Kennedy now is proposing.

Icy Air Ends Mild Spell In Midwest

By The Associated Press
Strong northerly winds blew cold air and snow from the Rockies into the north central region today but fairly mild midwinter weather prevailed in most other parts of the nation.

The icy air from Canada ended a weekend of spring-like weather in the Midwest where in some sections temperatures soared to record highs.

Cold wave warnings were posted from Montana southward into Kansas and Iowa and eastward into the upper Mississippi Valley and Wisconsin. Cold wave conditions, the Weather Bureau said, will extend across Missouri, Illinois, Indiana and western Kentucky today and tonight.

Temperatures dropped a little below zero in sections of Minnesota, Minnesota and North Dakota. Up to four inches of snow and sleet hit areas in northern Minnesota Sunday. Winds up to 65 m.p.h. swept the Grand Forks, N.D., area. Freezing rain slicked highways and streets in Upper Michigan.

Dense fog shrouded many sections of the country, including the California coast, western valleys, the Gulf coast and along the Atlantic seaboard from Philadelphia to Boston.

The warm air which spread from Texas northeastward sent the mercury into the 70s in Oklahoma, Missouri and Indiana Sunday. The 77 in Evansville, Ind., was a record for Feb. 4.

Bids Asked On Helium Pipeline

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interior Department said today that bids will be opened Feb. 26 at Amarillo, Tex., for construction of a 400-mile pipeline to transport crude helium.

The line will run from near Bushton, Kan., to the government's Cliffside Gas Field near Amarillo. It is a key part of the department's program for conserving about 52 billion cubic feet of helium over the next 22 years.

Helium-bearing natural gas now going directly to fuel markets will be processed by industrial plants, which will extract the helium and deliver it to the pipeline for movement to the Cliffside Field for storage underground until needed.

The government will furnish the pipe, coating materials, wrapping, valves and other items for construction of the main pipeline and laterals.

The line will connect with helium plants of the Bureau of Mines at Exell, Tex., Keyes, Okla., and Oils, Kan. This bid permit plants to draw off crude helium and purify it for direct shipment to consumers if necessary, instead of moving it all the way to the Cliffside Field.

To get the pipeline built as quickly as possible, bids are being asked on two separate construction schedules. One covers construction from Sattanta, Kan., a midway point, south to the Cliffside Field. The other covers construction from Sattanta north to Bushton.
