Brownfield School Project Gets District Approval

Tuesday of this week was the regular meeting date of the County Project Board, under WPA, but no projects were ready for submission. It was thought that the Commissioners of Precinct No. 1 and No. 2, might have their applications ready for submission. The school district project was approved at the last meeting and has since received the approval of the District office and is either at San Antonio or Washington for final action.

State Highways to Be Beautified For Centennial

In connection with the beautification campaign that is being sponsored by the State Highway Department, upon wayside parks. A request has been made that people gather all of their flower seeds and whatever they do not have use for, is to send them to the nearest office of the highway department. All of this is being attempted to impress visitors to the Centennial next year. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is also sponsoring a beautification campaign for the same purpose.

Brownfield Chances For P. O. Building Advanced

In reply to a recent letter that was written to him, Senator Connolly, has furnished us with a letter that he received from the Treasury Department, advising that Brownfield was included in the list of Federal Post Office Buildings that would receive consideration in the event that the Second Deficiency Appropriation was passed by Congress. The Second Deficiency Appropriation passed the Congress on the same day that Mr. Connolly's letter was received and has been approved by the President. So we can look forward to some developments in the Federal Building line, in fact our Postmaster has received a request for a number of people who are directly served by the Brownfield Office and her reply has been mailed to Washington.

Recreational Project Here Declared Eligible

While we are not able to report anything absolutely definite concerning our Recreational Project, except to say that it has advanced considerably, we are of the opinion that within the next few days that we will be able to arrange for plans and specifications and get our application ready for submission to the Works Progress Administration, being already assured by the District office that it came within the list of eligible projects.

Terry Third in State Hog-Corn Payments

Terry county ranks 3rd in a list of 5 counties in Texas upon money that will be received on Corn-hog reduction payments.

Still Wrestling With Powers Over No. 84

Every day we receive inquiries from some of our citizens concerning what is being done toward securing agreement from the Highway Department upon the construction of Highway No. 84, and we have advised all of them that we are at work upon it and are going to continue our efforts until action is had but very little encouragement has been had to this date. We do appreciate the inquiries and want people to continue asking and some of these days, we hope right soon, we will be able to give a different answer.

WTCC Districts 2 and 6 Meet. Much Politics

Districts No. 2 and 6 of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, held a joint meeting in Lubbock last week for the purpose of discussing a number of activities, in which was included the official stand that had been taken by the organization as it concerned TWO of the proposed constitutional amendments that are to

Good Rains Fall Here On Tuesday Morning

A nice rain fell here early Tuesday morning, which direction it came from, we know not, nor does that make a sight of difference, for most of us were too sleepy to get up and pull down the windows. But that act didn't make a sight of difference, for there was very little wind in the cloud, and it came straight down.

Here in Brownfield the fall amounted to 81-100th we understand, and put things in nice shape for growing again. The fall was light in the north half of the county, but some of them had a good rain about ten days ago. Some hail was reported in the Union community that played havoc with a few crops. The rain was lighter for a few miles west of Gomez, but got heavy in the Tokio section.

It was cloudy all day Tuesday, and much cooler, and the even nice way the rain fell, every drop sank into the earth where it fell, and it is believed that a big crop of old corn and feed is now assured. Another rain late this month will assure one of the best crops ever made in Terry county.

We heard of no great complaints of insect infestation, and with sunny weather now for a few days, little is feared.

Commissioners Get a Car of Worm Poison

Com. Lee Lyon phoned us Wed. morning that the county had just received a car load of worm poison, which is now ready for farmers. He said that some of the farmers would start poisoning right away.

We suppose that this poison, like in the past, will be sold to farmers at cost.

be voted upon August 24th. One of the amendments deals with the present Text Book Law and the organization is strongly for the amendment. However they came very nearly starting some fireworks as it appeared that the majority of those present were not in favor of any change or rather not in favor of the amendment as it is worded. The discussion though heated, was friendly, and everything settled down without any vote being taken, but it is a cinch that most of those present will be against the change. The writer, listened and did not take part in the discussion. The writer is of the personal opinion that a chamber of commerce should stay out of politics and has consistently pursued that policy, so far as the local organization is concerned, but may have departed from it so far as his personal convictions are concerned.

No. 51 Not to Be Finished This Year

Information has been received from the District Office of the Highway Department, that the 10 miles, immediately south of Brownfield on Highway 51 will not be paved until next year. This is caused by the fact that the second coat of caelech has not been laid and it will be several weeks, even under the most favorable conditions, before this is done and by that time the weather will be too cold for the spreading of Asphalt. We had hoped to get the entire project completed during this year, but conditions were such that it could not be done.

Center Parking on Main Bad For Designation

Several weeks ago the City passed an ordinance prohibiting the CENTER parking of cars on Main Street. It is not being observed and unless it is observed, you can bet your socks that Highway 84 will not be routed down this street but will go two blocks north. It is just up to those who desire to see the highway routed thru Main, to see that cars and trucks are parked properly.

51 Not a Speedway. Shelton a Good Dodge

The speed limit in the City of Brownfield is 20 miles per hour, but most people seem to have the idea that Highway 51, north of Main, is a speedway and that any car that is not making 80 miles an hour is not doing its duty. While 20 miles an hour may not be quite fast enough 80 is too fast on a highway that has a side road on every block. The writer and a number of others who live up that way, has had to do some tall dodging in order to keep from getting run over. In fact a person has to keep his eye skinned every second in order to save life and limb.

Dist. Relief Offices Supplant Co. Set-ups

AUSTIN, August 13.—Location of the 38 district headquarters to administer relief in Texas, supplanting the county administrative officials, and the names of the district administrators were announced last week by the Texas Relief Commission at the conclusion of a three-day training period here for district staff members.

While the county administration of relief will be completely eliminated until they have been replaced by the district offices, it was emphasized. Moreover, case workers will be maintained in the counties after district administration is set up and clients will not have to go outside their own county to obtain relief.

Abolishment of the county administration of relief in Texas was announced last week by State Relief Director Adam R. Johnson, who explained that curtailment of administrative costs in line with the reduced program of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration, which is being partly supplanted by the Works Progress Administration, necessitated the business end of the 253 county administrators offices being taken over by district administrators, whose staffs will administer relief over a much wider area.

Under the new set-up, allocations will continue to be made to counties, but funds will be disbursed from the district offices. County relief boards will be continued as advisory bodies. The 38 districts are outlined according to the pattern of the Works Progress Administration districts in the state, which each WPA district, with a few exceptions, divided into two FERA districts. One of these two FERA district administrator offices in each WPA district has been located where possible in the town where the latter office is now located. The other office was located in a town in the district adjudged the most convenient from all considerations. The towns must furnish office and commodity storage space and pay the utility bills of the office.

The district office for Terry County is located in Big Spring. The district administrator is C. W. Pegues.

Methodist Revival Now Well Under Way

Large crowds are attending the revival at the city tabernacle led by Rev. L. N. Lipscomb pastor of the First Methodist church of Lubbock, and under the auspices of the local Methodist congregation. The song services are being led by Clyde Lewis, a local man. Rev Lipscomb is way above the average speaker, and his messages are highly appreciated by audience.

The Baptist meeting came to a close last Thursday night with a number of additions from all sources. We understand that Rev. Hale is taking a needed vacation in the lower Rio Grande Valley, exchanging pulpits with the minister at Kennedy.

New Officers Elected For A. Legion Post

An election of officers for the local Post, American Legion, recently, for the ensuing year. We understand that Cris Quante and Homer Winston are holdovers. The following was the result of the election: Chris Quante, Post Commander; Glen Akers, 1st Vice-Pres.; Tobe Howze, 2nd Vice-Pres.; Homer Winston, Adjutant; Ches Gore, Mess Serg.; Mon Telford, Serg.-at-Arms; Abe Lincoln, Service Officer; Jim Miller, Treasurer; Albert Hansen, Historian. Our Mess Sergeant Ches Gore served a splendid supper and all present had a good time.

Stanford Expects An Oil Boom in Yoakum

P. G. Stanford was over one day last week from Plains, and called on the Herald. Mr. Stanford was very optimistic about crop prospects this year in old Yoakum, as well as some oil developments.

An oil test is being drilled a few miles south of Plains, and Mr. Stanford has reason to believe the bit will finally touch an oil bearing sand. In the meantime, Mr. Stanford stands ready to sell some town lots in Plains.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lewis left this week on their vacation.

Traditions to Be Smashed, Says Baze

In line with recent curriculum trends tradition will be smashed in the new school set-up for the coming year. Regardless of how long certain subjects have been given in the public schools of Texas, and regardless of how sacred they might have been considered, they must justify themselves to remain in the curriculum in the Brownfield schools. The time has come when the schools must take the lead in matters educational. The schools have been running from twenty to forty years behind the society in which they move and for which they attempt to train the young folk. In general, the curriculum will become more practical. The tendency will be to get away from "subjects". Only a moment's reflection will convince even the casual observer that we do not live English one hour, mathematics another hour, history another hour, etc. Our whole school set-up has been artificial. Life is not made of "subjects". The farther a school program is removed from life as is, the less it accomplishes in fitting one into the world in which he is to work and live. The more nearly we approach life as it is the more nearly we fit to pupil to appreciate it in its completeness.

Be not surprised, then, if your boy or girl brings home a report card from the junior high school with "subjects" like the following: "Language Activities," "Mathematics Activities," "Health and Happiness Activities," "Science Activities," "Hobbies," "Physical Activities." Be not surprised if your child has his "subjects" reduced from eight to four or five and these so changed that the "subject" has almost disappeared and in its place a supervised activity has been instituted.

The high school curriculum will embrace many practical phase of education. The two history courses will be replaced by a general history survey study. Integration will obtain as much as possible. Such studies as "Business Training," "Occupations," "Commercial Law," "Commercial Arithmetic," etc., will be made. Among the vocational work offered will training in the Industrial Arts. A laboratory of Industries will have its beginning, replacing the old type of "Manual Training" formerly offered. This work will embrace auto mechanics, drawing, electrical work, farm mechanics, metal work, woodwork, and the specific course in trades and industries, including apprentice training.

Let's we be misunderstood, let it be known that all those things that have contributed to a well-rounded education will not be left out. Literature, music, mathematics, history, etc., will be given sufficient emphasis. The spiritual side will not be neglected. The moral development of every child will be guarded carefully. In general, the program will attempt to strike a happy medium between that which prepares one "to live" and "to make a living." You will understand what is meant when you ponder these questions: Which contributes more to life and happiness, the understanding of an intricate problem in algebra or the ability to appreciate in its completeness the song "Rock of Ages"? What is more practical and useful, to know when the Roman Empire fell or to know how to read an abstract intelligently? Which is more useful, to know where a window shade is made or to know how to hang one and adjust the tension on one? Which contributes more to the happiness of the individual, to listen to music or make it himself? What is the ultimate aim in secondary education, the gathering of facts and the acquiring of "credits" or the training in ability to attack problems of life as they arise? Which is better, a head stuffed with many isolated facts or a mind trained to think and act for itself and a body that has become a "bundle" of good habits?

The program will call for a physical education for every child. It makes plans for a "hobby" period, at which time a child will be encouraged to pursue that which he is interested in—whether it be music, mechanics, electricity, carving, or a study of the Bible. This self-centered activity will be watched and guided most carefully. Get the full import of the statement: "Some children will get an education in spite of all our teaching and conventionality." Edison was sent home because he was said to be too dumb to learn. In general, the whole plan calls for directed study. Hour periods will enable teachers and pupils to set-up activities that can be carried on for a period

State Game Warden Was Here Monday

State Game Warden, T. A. Harris, and sons, of Lamesa, were in our city Monday of this week, looking after business connected with the office, and while here called on the Herald. We have found Mr. Harris to be a very reasonable official, doing unto others as he would have them do unto him if positions were reversed. While very courteous, he aims to see that the game law is not violated. Mr. Harris informed us that the hardest law he had to contend with was fish dealers. He stated that maybe one time when he called, a dealer would state that he did not aim to handle them, and the next time he would find him dispensing fish and oysters, and would state that he was just waiting till the Warden came around. The retail dealer's tax is $3.00 per year.

The dove season opens Sept. 1, to run two months, but is closed in Terry and Yoakum counties until 1938, so is the quail season. The prairie chicken season opens Sept. 14th, both days inclusive. Bag limit 10 a day and not more for that for full season.

Mr. Harris stated that some of these state laws, especially in regards to duck, geese and brant conflicted with the federal law published elsewhere, and hunters will have to watch out about the violation of either.

Curbing the "Fly-By-Night" Merchant

With good crops over this section again, we may reasonably expect an abundance of fly-by-night merchants to blow in this fall, but they are going to find sailing a great deal harder than formerly. Heretofore these merchants (?) have moved old shelf worn stocks into the community, rented a building for two or three months just as cheaply as possible, and leave before the first of the year came to catch their taxes.

But at the last session of the legislature our Sen. Arthur P. Duggan succeeded in getting a bill passed and signed by the governor whereby state, county, school taxes may be collected from these birds as soon as they land in town for that part of the year, and can either pay it or move some where else.

Then we may expect every class of advertising grafter from the church and gin calendars to worthless page ads to be inserted in the papers and paid for by the local merchants. In this, they will use as many home folks as possible, to do the work, in order to make it look like local promotion. In the end, the schemer gets out of town with about 75 per cent of the money.

The Herald will co-operate with the local chamber of commerce or any other organization to curb these parasites, and we believe the other print shop will join in with us.

Brownfield's school grant was raised a few hundred dollars by the district office at Big Spring, and approved, making a total sum of a little more than $5,000. Guess they thought we had figured some things too low.

long enough to accomplish some objective.

People are tired of an education that does not educate. Who cares for credits, diplomas, degrees, etc., if after obtaining them one is not fitted to live and make a living? Just how much better off is the boy who has a degree if he knows no more about how to do a thing, knows no trade, has no more sympathy for his fellow-man, appreciates things spiritual no more, and at the same time has developed an apathy toward everybody and all things that do not contribute to his personal welfare? The school is not so much interested in how many credits a child makes or how high his grade is. It is tremendously interested in how he has grown inwardly and outwardly—what ideals, attitudes, skills, habits, etc., he or she has developed; what strength of character and body it has acquired.

The program as outlined in general may not appeal to you. It is the hope of the administration that you will study it carefully and line up in a sympathetic way to make it a success. There are many phases that are not here explained. Many details are known to those responsible for its inception that will be explained later. In the meantime, get acquainted with the teachers and the officials. They might be fine folk and have a big heart.

M. L. H. Baze, Supt.

PWA Projects Well Under Way Here

From what the Herald can gather from those interested, the city-county park proposition is now up to the city for the next move. At a meeting held Tuesday night, the city council asked for some other time in which to figure up costs of running a high line from the feed pens for nearly a mile on to where the proposed park swimming pool and lake will be situated. While the outlay will be considerable, including motor and pumps, it is an almost assured fact that this will all be handed back to the city by a PWA grant, and the big item for the city then would be electric lights and power.

We understand that the county has already decided to buy the land, some 120 acres, that has been offered them by Arthur Sawyer at a reasonable figure. This includes considerable level land and a portion of the draw or canyon, in which the swimming pool, lake and foot ball grounds would be situated. The level portions would be taken up by the County Fair grounds and pavilion, and other things useful to the whole community. The lake would be formed, we understand from overflow from the swimming pool. Trees are to be put out all over the whole grounds, where not in the way of play grounds of any nature.

It is the belief of the writer that a real effort should be made to cinch this proposition for several reasons. First, there is no kind of recreational center anywhere near here except the "sand hills," and who wants any more sand on them than we get without much effort? Second, people who go to Lubbock and other towns on Sunday where they have parks, say that they see many every time they go from Brownfield, and in the course of a day spend much money in these towns. But you can't blame people for wanting a decent place for a picnic.

Third, and by no means least, from a financial standpoint, we must provide jobs for some people for some time yet, either with loans and grants from the federal government, or foot the bill ourselves. We can't let people starve, so we will either tax ourselves and feed them with nothing to show for it, or we will provide this and other projects and have a lot of help in feeding the needy, and at the conclusion, have a nice park where our people can go and have some fun and recreation without having to go 40 to 100 miles or more.

Brownfield is destined to be a good city, with a great and growing trade territory, but we can't expect people this day and time to come here and spend money, and spread their lunch out on a sand dun.

A Number Have Renewed For Herald

While a great many of our readers have renewed for their Heralds of late, there has not been anything like as great response as there should have been to our invitation to get on the dotted line. Some are getting a year or more behind, and a great many are several months in arrears. If you will just stop and count up what a few hundred of these dollars will mean to us right now, we believe you too will let us have your renewal.

Since our last report, the following readers have responded to the call of the needy: M. C. Ammons, Mrs. D. Elliott, Lee Shultz, A. L. Turner, W. C. Smith, Jesse D. Cox, J. W. Beauchamp, Wm. T. Perkins, J. Barret, M. B. Sawyer, city and routes; Mrs. J. A. Taylor, J. T. Jones, Tokio; Clifford Pray, J. A. Maddux, W. E. Patton, Meadow. Besides some 14 from out of the county, and in other states have renewed.

Let us have a real shower of renewals over the this week end. We thank you.

Terry 3rd in State In Hog-Corn Money

By J. Sam Lewis
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

Nearly a million and a half dollars were poured into the hands of farmers in 21 counties in the South Plains area for the first four months of 1935, compilation of figures of the Agricultural Adjustment administration work up to May 1, show.

Payments were made for cotton, wheat and corn-hog contracts. Total was $1,443,932.58. They were divided as follows: Cotton, $796,350.12; wheat, $270,596.59; corn-hog, $376,985.80.

Yoakum Gets Least
Four counties, Lamb, Hale, Hockley and Terry, received over $100,000 each; ten other counties received over $50,000 each and the remainder below that figure. Yoakum received the least $22,221.02. Twenty counties in the state had received over $100,000 each up to the first of May. Neuces led the state with $36,667.01; Navarro was second with $201,020.05. In this area Lamb ranked 10th; Hale, 12th; Hockley, 19th and Terry, 18th.

Commodity payments for the four months included: cotton, $7,166,379.27; wheat, $1,091,789.65; corn-hog, $2,165,486.66; a total of over $10,000,000. South Plains area payments approximate 15 per cent of the state's total.

Total is $90,765,307.66
Total AAA benefit payments amount to $90,765,307.66. Of this amount $13,345,578.66, or a fraction over 14.6 per cent, came to this area.

Lamb county leads the state, with $1,946,474.42 total payments. Neuces, Ellis, Navarro and Lubbock rank next, this county receiving $1,554,881.38. Following are: McLennan, Williamson, Hill, Collin, Limestone, Bell, Falls, Hunt, Fannin, Kaufman, Hale, Milam, Jones and San Patricio.

Five highest cotton payment counties this year are: Neuces, Navarro, Williamson, Hill and Haskell; five highest wheat, Hansford, Deaf Smith, Ochiltree, Armstrong and Lipscomb; five highest corn-hog, Llano, Hartley, Terry, Hale and Robertson.

Payments in the three commodities are not complete. In fact much of the wheat and corn-hog money is for 1934 crops; some of the cotton money is likewise for the 1934 crop; only a small amount for first rental payment checks for 1935 having been issued prior to May 1. Since then approximately a million dollars more, in first 1935 payments, have come to the area and a large amount of 1934 cotton pool payments. —Lubbock Avalanche.

Some Mighty Hot Weather Here of Late

Several days last week, including Sunday, were some of the hottest seen here in some time, probably including the driest part of last year. Most of the days there was a little breeze, until Sunday. Saturday night was pronounced one of the hottest ever featured on the Plains. Thermometer reading registered a top of 109 during the day, and remained around 90 until midnight.

Many people moved their beds out on the lawns and porches Saturday night. A breeze sprang up about midnight, however, that soon cooled the atmosphere, and forced outdoor sleepers to move inside. A good breeze was featured most of the day Sunday, but it did not hinder a high mercury record in the afternoon.

The good shower Monday night of nearly an inch certainly was a blessing, and being cloudy all day Tuesday, most of us kinder cooled off again. On account of extreme hot weather, old corn and feed was suffering pretty badly, and the showers and cooler weather will help wonderfully. Not much talk of insect bothering now. There appears to be some corn borers.

HOLT—BRADFORD

On Monday, Aug. 12, at 1:30 P. M., at the Court House in the office of F. M. Burnett, Justice of Peace, the words were said that bound together Mr. R. C. Bradford and Miss Marcille Holt in happy wedlock. May God's richest blessings rest upon this fine young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Green and family of the Union community left Wednesday for a vacation trip to California. They said neighbor Brock will be looking after their place.

Mrs. J. T. Auburg sends us word that we do not have to go out of Terry county to see hollow tile sub-irrigation at work, that she is using it at her home right here in town. However, she says that she has not had to use it much this year as it has rained more than usual.

Brownfield has some good stores that stay here all the time and help us keep the schools, churches and every other good thing going by paying their taxes and by donations. Swat the fly-by-night chisler that would come in and reap where he has not sown.

Well, how didja enjoy these cool breezes Tuesday following the rain soon that morning? We people of the Plains usually boast of our cool nights, and generally they pan out that way. But this year seems to be a "precedent breaking year," both politically and weatherly speaking.
Personally, we have quit repeating that old gag about our cool nights to strangers this year.

We have just about reached the conclusion that the weather has little to do with worms, unless the gentlemen are knocked off the stalks in the hot dirt during the heat of the day.
Apparently they fast through the day and feast at night when it is cool, and about the only effective means of satisfying their ravenous appetite is to feed them a dog's bane of poison.
When one thinks he has no worms it is just about the time they pop up in hords.

We hope every reader of the Herald will closely peruse the article by Supt. Martin Baze in this issue. We have always thought we were teaching our children some unnecessary things in our public schools, and failed to stress things they really needed in life. It now seems that our educational system is beginning to find out that it is more essential to learn the student to grow two blades of grass where one formerly grew, or judge a pig or calf than it is for them to believe that Columbus discovered geography by standing an egg on end, or whether or not Cleopatra really let the snake bite her.

Sometimes the dropping of one little word will altogether change the meaning of what one is trying to say. This happened in one of our editorials made by the linotype operator and overlooked by the proof reader. What we said was, that "we did not believe in revivals" speaking of religious revivals. What we really intended to say was that we were not especially keen for the "union" variety, but the word "union" was left out of the sentence. Anyone who personally knows us, know we have always stood for religious revivals in the town and community adjoining.
But for those who may not know us so well, we write this explanation.

It seems that every good thing has a catch somewhere. One of the amendments to be voted on August 24th would in a way mean much to west Texas, owing to the fact that our population is made up of native white people, and our school enrollments nearly reach our listed scholastic population. In some schools the enrollment is greater than the number of scholastics that draw state money. Whereas, in south and some sections of east Texas, the scholastic population is 50 per cent greater than the enrollment, making it possible for them to get enough state money to run their schools without local aid.

This is especially true in heavily populated Mexican and negro counties, where the compulsory attendance law is not enforced. But this fine constitutional amendment was ruined when it was allowed to have a joker attached, wherein, the state must furnish free text books to private and religious schools. There are two or three religious denominations in Texas that think our free school system is all wrong, and create their own schools whose teachers are not accountable to the state in either curriculum or qualifications. So, with this rider attached, the Herald will vote against this amendment. We are not against the education of any person whatsoever, but free public schools are open to all, and if any religious sect think they are a hot bed of immorality, let them provide schools to suit them, and pay their teachers and for text books. Our public free schools are what has made this nation great. What these selfish religious sects really hate is the fact that they are not allowed to instill their peculiar tenet into the minds of young people of all other religious beliefs, and they are afraid that their own beliefs will be tampered with if their students are put in a school where they have some freedom of thought. Swat that amendment, and maybe the next session of the legislature will submit one without this joker being attached.

ing man attempted to whisper that President Roosevelt is insane. Of course human nature has it that every man is crazy who does not agree with you. Whispering campaigns have been started against every president in recent years. Wilson felt it.
Harding, Coolidge and Hoover did not escape. Words fail to express our honest opinion of men who attempt to undermine the reputation of our public officials in such a manner. Public servants are continually under the fire of the most unscrupulous men of the nation.—Canyon News.

Joseph B. Eastman, railroad transportations co-ordinator, has told railroads of the country to do more advertising, and cited the fact that only $266,000 was spent in 1933 for advertising, and that if they would step up their advertising budget that they would do a better business. The railroads have always been slow to buy advertising space in newspapers and magazines. In the first place they do not know much about the value of advertising. In the years past when they had a monopoly on the hauling of freight and passengers, they figured they did not have to advertise for business because they were going to get it anyway as there was no other means of transportation.
But now it is a different story. We have private automobiles and trucks all over the land and railroads are going to have to hustle for business.
It is not going to be tossed into their laps any more. They can regain a lot of their lost business if they will acquaint the people with their service through advertising.—Lockney Beacon.

WELLMAN CHURCH HOLDS GOOD MEETING

The Wellman church of Christ held an eleven day gospel meeting, Wednesday night of this week, with unusual attendance and interest, and six baptisms up to Monday night.
O. M. Reynolds, of Abilene did the preaching. The song services were conducted by Robert Trigg and Homer Wimberley.

There was an all day service with basket lunch, last Sunday. A number of visitors were present from Meadow, Lubbock, Brownfield, Seagraves and Union. The afternoon was given over to singing and short sermons by Joe Chisholm, E. H.
Jones, and Evangelist D. Lee Hukel, who is conducting a meeting at Gomez.

Little Charlie came rushing into the house all excited. "Oh mamma," he exclaimed, "weren't those little chickens out in the yard hatched in the incubator?"

"Certainly," replied his mother.
"Why do you ask?"
"Well, that old hen thinks they are hers."

Inspiring Opportunities

LUBBOCK, Texas, Aug. 13, 1935.
—Many young people are now finding opportunities in banks wholesale houses, with various government recovery agencies, and other big employers as a result of a few pleasant months spent in Draughon's Business College of this city, according to the Employment Report just released. In one PWA office alone a number of graduates have accepted excellent positions, with attractive beginning salaries, during the past few days;
and hundreds of other office workers will be needed by this and other government agencies as projects develop.
With business and crop conditions
the most promising in many years, young people with foresight to prepare will find the opportunities of a life-time awaiting them through the far-reaching Draughon placement facilities.
Those who are interested in business careers are invited to write for Catalog C showing training and time required, low cost, methods of placing graduates, a long list of recent placements, and starting date classes.
A post card will do. 2c

W P A LABORERS TO HAVE MEDICAL EXAMS.

AUSTIN, August 13.—In what physical shape unemployed Texans weathered the depression will be revealed from medical examinations to be given them as they are transferred from Federal Emergency Relief Administration rolls to the Works Progress Administration rolls, Mrs. Val M. Keating, social service director, has announced.

Examinations will be made under direction of the advisory committee of various county medical societies throughout the State.

Only persons immediately in line for work on a W P A project will be examined first, with examinations for others to follow as the W P A increases its activities.

There are approximately 140,000 employed persons in the state to be transferred to W P A rolls.

WATCH YOUR MILK

AUSTIN, Texas, August 13.—In view of the fact that Governor Allred has proclaimed the week beginning August 12 as Dairy Week, Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, urges with this more extensive use of milk, that both producer and consumer be concerned as to its quality. The use of clean safe milk in a health measure.

Local interest in improved methods of producing wholesome milk has increased greatly in the past two decades and the striking advance in milk control has been responsible for the enormous saving in infant life.

Milk is perishable and especially during hot weather. To insure milk of good quality requires cleanliness, sterile utensils, protection against flies careful bottling and maintenance at low temperature. The presence in fresh milk of large numbers of bacteria, due to insanitary methods of production, is a health hazard.

Among the diseases which may be transmitted through milk are tuberculosis, typhoid fever, scarlet fever, diphtheria, septic sore throat, and undulant fever. Numerous milk-borne outbreaks of disease occur every year in this country from the use of milk that might have been safe with proper care.

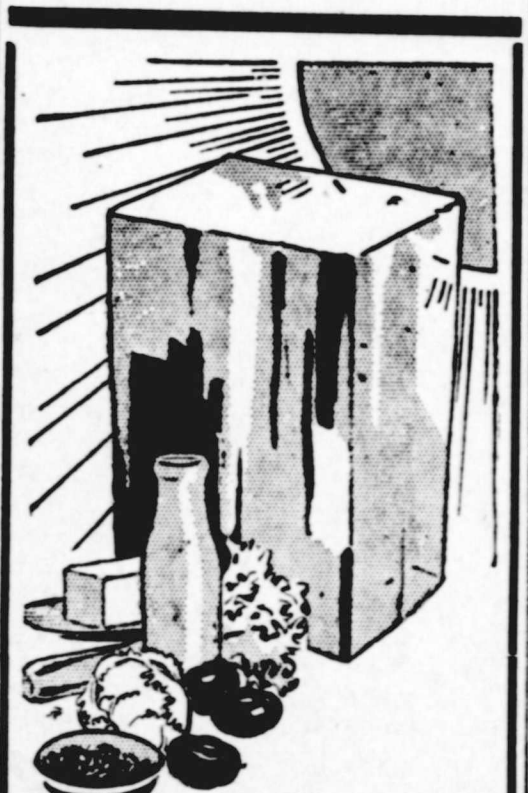

We should firmly insist that the milk we drink be carefully produced, so that we will have the maximum practicable protection along the line from the cow to the consumer.

Return of Prosperity Seen By Ford Sales

Figures announced July 16 by officials of the Ford Motor Company show that during the first six months of the year 634,961 units were sold in the United States. This is nearly two-thirds of the 1,000,000 cars and trucks. This figure does not include foreign sales.

In June alone 100,882 units were sold. This is the best sales record for June which Ford has experienced since 1930—and the fourth consecutive month this year that Ford sales have topped 100,000. During the first six months this year, Ford paid out $88,727,588 in wages and spent $374,368,873 for raw materials, a great part of which was for wages in other industries, officials said.

TELLS HOW BANKS AIDED PROGRESS

Economist Describes the Ways Banking Institutions Have Contributed to Development of United States

OMAHA, Nebr.—Privately owned banking, despite its faults, has served America well, William A. Irwin, Professor of Economics, Washburn College, Topeka, Kansas, declared in a recent address here on "Banking in a Changing World."

"Under the leadership of individuals banking has helped to bring this country to a foremost place in economic development among the nations of the world," he said. "The small community has been developed by the individual bank. The frontiers of America have been pushed forward by the help and counsel of the individual banker. The shocks of wars and depressions in a century and a half have been withstood with the assistance of the individual banker."

Change May Be Necessary

"It may be that we have reached a tide in the affairs of America when new methods are needed. It may be that we have come to a point where the individual should be submerged for the greatest good of the greatest number." "It may even be that complete centralization of the banking system has become an economic necessity in our complicated social life. But the banker ought to be satisfied that these things are so before he should give up his fight for the system we have known. We cannot afford to lose the kind of banking; we should not give it up without unmistakable proof of the absolute necessity of such a change."

The American Pattern

Professor Irwin said that the proposal which has been advanced for coordinating banking operations in the national interest under "a Supreme Court" for banking is typically American and ought to have the most serious consideration of those elements which are clamoring for political control, which is typically un-American. It is not wise, he said, to oppose changes as such, but that bankers should "see to it that change, if and when it does come, shall preserve all that is good in the past and stick as closely as possible to the American pattern of things."

Banking is properly a conservative profession, he pointed out, and should cling to practices and principles of banking that are, and always have been, fundamentally sound.

"It is to its credit that so large a group of its members never faltered, even in boom times, in their allegiance to those sound principles," he declared. "We should owe our salvation from chaos to that fact."

BANKS AND COLLEGE LAUNCH NEW SCHOOL

Aims to Offer Studies in Advanced Banking Subjects to Bank Executives—Public Duties of Banks Stressed

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. — The Graduate School of Banking, an unprecedented educational project, operated under the joint auspices of the American Institute of Banking Section of the American Bankers Association and Rutgers University, with 220 enrolled students from 35 states and the District of Columbia, inaugurated here in June its first resident session.

The states represented and the number of registrants from each were as follows: Alabama, 2; Arkansas, 2; California, 2; Connecticut, 3; Delaware, 2; District of Columbia, 6; Florida, 2; Georgia, 3; Idaho, 1; Illinois, 8; Indiana, 2; Iowa, 1; Kansas, 1; Kentucky, 2; Louisiana, 3; Maryland, 1; Massachusetts, 9; Michigan, 5; Minnesota, 1; Missouri, 5; Nebraska, 1; New Jersey, 31; New York, 50; North Carolina, 8; North Dakota, 1; Ohio, 7; Oklahoma, 1; Oregon, 2; Pennsylvania, 32; Rhode Island, 1; Texas, 5; Virginia, 6; Washington, 1; West Virginia, 1; Wisconsin, 4; Wyoming, 1.

The annual resident sessions of the graduate school will be supplemented between periods by continued extension work for the students at their homes. The purpose of the school is described as being to offer in a three year course a comprehensive approach to an advanced study of the various administrative problems in banking and trust institutions. The teaching procedure is a combination of the case system and the lecture discussion method.

The Curriculum

The curriculum embraces banking administrative problems and policies, bank investment problems, legal and managerial aspects of trust business, legal phases of bank administration and economic problems in the field of money and credit. The public relations and responsibilities of banks and methods for meeting these obligations are emphasized in the courses.

It is planned to set up similar schools in cooperation with other universities in various parts of the country. The school will add 200 registrants each year for two years until 600 are enrolled.

The trustees of the Educational Foundation of the American Bankers Association have set aside funds from the foundation to grant 100 loan scholarships of $150 each to qualified applicants for attendance at the school.

The shooting season, applying to geese, brant, jacksnipe and coot, as well as to ducks, will open in northern states October 21 and will close November 19. In southern states the season will run from November 20 to Dec. 19.

Announcing the regulations with President Roosevelt's approval, J. N. "Ding" Darling, director of the biological survey, said the restrictions were the only alternative to a closed season because "we've killed more ducks than we've hatched every year for the past 35 years."

No Live Decoys

Darling estimated 24,000,000 will fly south this fall and 12,000,000 will be killed by hunting or natural causes.

But Darling's program was assailed by John H. Baker, executive director of the National Association of Audubon societies.

Baker said a closed season was vitally necessary.

Chief points of the new regulations:

Elimination of sinkboxes, snare-boats and open-water shooting.

Prohibition of shooting over baited water or land.

Prohibition of live decoys.

Eliminating of zoning by states and the substitution of two zones, northern and southern.

Restriction of shooting to the hours between 7 a. m. and 4 p. m.

The three-shell limit placed on auto-loading and repeating shot guns takes effect this fall and regulations provides that hunters may use a shotgun only, not larger than No. 10 gauge.

No open season will be allowed on wood ducks, buffhead duck, Ross's geese or swans.

Blinds, Boats Out

The daily bag limit on ducks will be 10 in the aggregate of all kinds and the possession limit also will be 10 Bag limit on geese and brant will be four.

The regulations limit the use of a blind, boat or any type floating craft to locations not more than 100 feet from the shoreline.

New seasons on mourning doves provide for shooting in northern states from September 1 to Dec. 15 and in southern states from Oct. 1 to Jan. 15.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO "BREAK IN"
THE FORD V-8

You can drive it 50 miles an hour the day you buy it

THE FORD V-8 is ready for normal driving when you buy it. There is no tedious period of breaking-in for 500 or 1000 miles. You can drive it up to 50 miles an hour the first day. And after the first hundred miles you can drive it as fast as you desire.

That means greater motoring enjoyment for every motorist. It is especially important to motorists who are thinking about a new car for a vacation trip—to physicians, salesmen and all those who use a car for business. Instead of dragging along at slow speeds for days, you can make good time from the start.

The reason for this is as important as the result. The Ford V-8 needs no breaking-in because of unusual accuracy in the manufacture of moving parts and the smoothness of bearing surfaces. Clearances are correct when you buy the car. It is not necessary to depend on a long wearing-in period to eliminate tightness and insure smooth running. Longer life, greater economy and better performance are bound to result from such precision methods. The Ford V-8 gives you fine-car construction, along with fine-car performance, comfort, safety and beauty.

Quarter Million Expected at S. P. Fair

LUBBOCK, Aug. 12.—A quarter of a million people are expected to trek through the turnstiles at the 22nd annual Panhandle South Plains Fair here September 23 to 28 inclusive, officials of the fair estimate.

They figure it this way. Last year a total of 143,265 men, women and children were checked in at the various gates during the six days. It will be remembered that the weather was dry and the crops were short last year and few cotton pickers came in to help gather the crops. This year crops are showing promise of a bumper yield. Thousands of cotton pickers will be required to help in the harvest, and fair officials estimate that the attendance at the fair will swell in proportion.

A number of new departments and new features will be added the fair this year. Parker F. Prouty, president, and A. B. Davis, manager, have announced, same being direct result of the fact that no State Fair will be held in Texas this year.

The officials of the Texas Extension Service, ordinarily extremely busy with the State Fair, will be free to concentrate all efforts in their respective districts on district fairs. County educational exhibits, portraying the work of the home demonstration clubs under supervision of county home demonstration agents will be set up in the Woman's Building.

OLD AGE PENSION AND TAXATION

If, as generally believed, the Texas old age pension amendment is voted, it will be meaningless until and unless the Legislatures find an additional tax source. At the moment, taxes even for relief and to wipe out the deficit are not in sight.

The pension, made applicable to the poor and rich alike who have attained the age of 65 years, could amount to as much as $15 per month. This would entail an annual expense of about $40,000,000. This total approximates a 50 per cent increase in taxes. With property owners rightly campaigning for a reduction in their load of the modern tax structure one can see only one possible substantial new tax source likely to be voted—the sales tax.

It is argued with some truth, that the sale tax is a tax on poverty. It is that, on the wealthy and the middle employed class as well. But it is no more a tax on poverty than are the processing taxes which are rehabilitating the farmers. Who suffers most when a tax is placed on wheat or bacon—the rich man or the poor one? The answer is obvious.

Taxation was simple when governmental functions were few. To pay taxes was to pay for the protection of property. Today, a big part of taxes was to pay for the protection of property. Today, a big part of taxes goes to various forms of relief. The cost of government has become so huge and has so many ramifications that almost everyone benefits as well as pays. Indeed, no person living in this country, unless disabled can well escape the responsibility for helping to support the government which helps him.

Suppose a couple 65 years of age is nearly penniless and in want. Without a sales tax, or some similar tax, the State may not be able to help them to the extent of more than $5 a month, if any at all. But with a 2 per cent sales tax, suppose the couple could be paid $15 each or $30 a month. The sales tax on their purchases could be little more than 60 cents a month under any of the state plans now in use. Here, then is a sales tax "on poverty" which would be very acceptable to the aged. True, indigents not yet 65 would not be so fortunately situated, but 60 cents per month for them is not too much to contribute to the support of the aged.

We state this argument academically, and without endorsing the sales tax. We doubt that a 2 per cent tax would be adequate, especially without reducing the list of aged beneficiaries to those who need the pension. Sale taxes are undesirable on a number of grounds. Yet with many states adopting them with much apparent success, it is obvious that many of the objections heard are mere guesses or prejudices.

If governments—state and national—are to embark on permanent social security programs, the sales tax plan of support seems inevitable. And if all the people benefit, it is not illogical that all should contribute in some degree to the public treasuries. No division of liquid wealth, through legal or illegal means, can be sufficient. Those who demand more and more services must be held in check lest tax-eaters wreck the government. This is not an idle and unreasonable statement. It has come to the point where two persons are trying to get on the public to help one really needy citizen. And too many of these tax-eaters are paying little or no taxes. —Pampa News.

THE EDITOR MADE A MISTAKE

"We made a mistake in last week's issue," says the editor of a Connecticut paper.

"A good subscriber told us about it. The same day there was a letter in our post office box that didn't belong to us. We called for 98 and we got 198 over the telephone. We asked for a spool of No. 50 thread and when we got home it was No. 60. The train was reported 30 minutes late. We arrived at the depot 20 minutes after train time and the train had gone. We got our milk bill and was a mistake of 10 cents in our favor. We felt sick and the doctor said we were eating too much meat. We hadn't tasted any meat in two months. The garage man said the jitney was missing because it needed a new timer. We cleaned a spark plug and it's run ever since. Yes, we made a mistake in last week's issue of the paper."

JARDINE DECLARES A A "ABSOLUTELY NECESSARY"

An Associated Press dispatch from Denver quotes William M. Jardine, Republican leader and former Secretary of Agriculture and American Minister to Egypt, as declaring that "fears agricultural conditions will be chaotic if the Supreme Court were to invalidate the AAA."

"Sudden abandonment of the AAA would be disastrous to farmers," the late President Coolidge's close friend and adviser announced in a public statement.

"I know farmers. In fact, I am somewhat of a farmer myself. And I would say that 90 per cent of them are strongly in favor of the AAA."

"I don't believe the act is entirely sound. But some such measure was absolutely necessary. And it is too late to go back to conditions before the AAA. We must hold on to the progress that has been made."

Lee Shults introduced us to his brother, John, Saturday. The later will teach in the Gomez school. Another tragedy visited the Shults family of late, when one of Clydes children fell in a pool near Tatum, N. M. It seems that his head hit a rock near the edge of the water and the child drowned in very shallow water as a result.

Rattlesnake Warns Before He Strikes

There's this much you can say for a rattlesnake—At least he warns before he strikes!

As much cannot be said for the stock promoter and seller of the blue sky boundless sea. By subtle means, fair or foul, he gains the confidence of his victim, fleeces him or her of every available dollar and is gone again. That's the method of operation of the Securities racketeer, according to Secretary of State Gerald C. Mann, administrator of Texas' new Securities Act, designed to drive out of Texas the sellers of spurious securities. Stocks, bonds, certificates of interest in oil and gas properties, and many other forms of commercial interests are defined as securities under the law.

The new law became effective May 23rd of this year. Today a few of the tangible results may be summed up as follows:

Two sets of operators are under indictment awaiting trial for violation of the law. Other cases are pending. The operations of one of these parties extended from coast to coast and Canada to Mexico, with headquarters in San Antonio. He is known to have received as high as $5,000 daily from the investing public, most of whom were not able to afford the loss. The promoter and his associates lived in royal luxury and ease.

In El Paso a gang that has mulcted some $300,000 or more from credulous investors in the past four years, folded their tents and departed shortly after the arrival in the city of an investigator from the Department of State. It is impossible to compute the saving thus afforded. In another Texas city a stock salesman returned $4,000 to one of his victims when apprised that the State Department was investigating the matter.

"But the job has only begun," Secretary Mann declares. "Our objective is to rid this State of these racketeers, so far as is humanly possible. It can be done only with the assistance of the people of Texas. No purchaser should buy any form of security without first determining if the seller is registered and licensed by the Department of State. We should likewise be apprised of case of fraud. The time has come in Texas when the securities racketeer must take his rightful place alongside the convicted murderer, hijacker and common thief—behind prison bars."

PROPOSED AMENDMENT No. 6 ABOLISHING FEE SYSTEM FOR PAYING OFFICIALS

Two years ago a Senate investigating committee discovered a number of flagrant abuses of the fee system as practised in Texas for recompensing certain public officials. The fee system was established and written into the Texas Constitution at a time when it was impossible to pay salaries and the theory was that an official was entitled to "all he could make." Since the Senate committee discovered and revealed the malpractices existing under the system there has been a demand for a Constitutional change on this source, according to Secretary of State Gerald C. Mann.

Proposed Amendment No. 6 on the ballot provides that the fee system as a method of paying certain precinct, county and district officials shall be abolished in counties having 20,000 or more population according to the last Federal census. The Legislature will, if the amendment is adopted, set the salaries for officials now receiving fees in such counties. In counties of under 20,000 population the Commissioners Courts may put their county and precinct officials on a salary basis if they so desire. The Amendment does not specifically state who shall set the salaries of such officials in this case. If this amendment is adopted all district officers must be compensated on a salary basis.

The amendment provides that fees shall continue to be collected as at present but they will go to the county instead of the officer. The evident purpose of this amendment is to place as many public officials on straight salaries as is possible and thus abolish, insofar as is possible the payment of officials through the present fee system.

A GREAT JOURNALIST PASSES

The death last week of Missouri's "beloved dean" is certain to bring forth innumerable tributes to his memory. But it is doubtful if any of them can add much to what has already been said.

For in his lifetime Dr. Walter Williams unlike the prophet of Biblical adage, was honored not only in his own country but throughout the world as well. He was not Missouri's "beloved dean" alone; he belonged to the journalism of all nations.

To him was given the unique experience of hearing expressed, not once but many times, the high esteem in which he was held by all who knew him, and the sincerity of those expressions could not be doubted. Now that he is gone we shall hear them again—and more. But to those who shall try to evaluate the full measure of his contribution must come the realization of how inadequate their words must be. For the full story of his part in making journalism a more respected and self-respecting profession, a more vital and worthwhile element in American community life and a greater force in international understanding and good will cannot be written yet. It will become more and more apparent in the years and generations that are to be.

We cannot help thinking that Walter Williams wrote his own best epitaph when, several years ago, he penned the lines of his oft-repeated and oft-reprinted

THE JOURNALIST'S CREED

I believe in the profession of journalism.

I believe that the public journal is a public trust; that all connected with it are, to the full measure of their responsibility, trustees for the public; that acceptance of lesser service than the public service is betrayed of this trust.

I believe that clear thinking and clear statement, accuracy and fairness, are fundamental to good journalism.

I believe that a journalist should write only what he holds in his heart to be true.

I believe that suppression of the news, for any consideration other than the welfare of society, is indefensible.

I believe that no one should write as a journalist what he would say as a gentleman; that bribery by one's own pocketbook is as much to be avoided as bribery by the pocketbook of another; that individual responsibility may not be escaped by pleading another's instructions or another's dividends.

I believe that advertising, news and editorial columns should alike serve the best interests of readers; that a single standard of helpful truth and clearness should prevail for all; that the supreme test of good journalism is the measure of its public service.

I believe that the journalism which succeeds best—and best deserves success—fears God and honors man; is stoutly independent, unmoved by pride of opinion or greed of power, constructive, tolerant but never careless, self-controlled, patient, always respectful of its readers but always unafraid; is quickly indignant at injustice; is unwayed by the appeal of privilege or the clamor of the mob; seeks to give every man a chance and, as far as law and honest wage and recognition of human brotherhood can make it so, an equal chance; is profoundly patriotic while sincerely promoting international good will and cementing world-comradeship; is a journalism of humanity, of and for today's world.

CONTROL OF CREDIT A BASIC QUESTION

Economist Describes Conflict Between Opposing Social View-points on Government Bank.

Agitation for government banking is a phase of the conflict between our present "personal competitive enterprise system" in America and the "compulsory state collective security system" of several European States, Virgil Jordan, President National Industrial Conference Board, says in an article in a recent issue of "Banking" published by the American Bankers Association.

"They involve irreconcilable principles of human conduct and philosophy of life and the conflict between them is the key to the economic, social and political struggles of today," Mr. Jordan says.

The enterprise system of which "the development of the United States has been the unparalleled example, depends for its motive power of progress upon the inexhaustible reservoir of energy in individual desire for personal advancement in prosperity, but it guarantees nothing to the individual save freedom of opportunity," the article says in part.

The collectivist security system, he says, "places all emphasis upon the maintenance of a minimum standard of living for the mass without regard to the creative power of the individual, quite simply the security system involves the modern form of the philosophy of the slave society." He continues:

A sign of the times
The many-sided movement toward governmental banking, deposit insurance and currency management is the most direct and decisive expression of the universal instinctive search for security which is the sign of the times. In America our so-called social security legislation is an important indication of the drift away from the enterprise system toward a collectivist security system with concentration of authority in a central Federal government.

"The nationalization of credit is crucial and indispensable for complete state control of the complex industrial and business structure of this country. The drive toward government banking and monetary control is most determined because the relation of the state to credit goes to the root of the enterprise system. A collective security system is inconceivable without nationalization of credit. An enterprise system is inconceivable with it."

Under a collective security system, based on government banking the controls "lie solely in the hands of a few persons and depend upon their judgment, will or caprice," Mr. Jordan says, adding that it is they who must determine "upon the basis of some predetermined plan or upon pure political expediency of the moment, what lines of industry and even what individual enterprises shall have access to the credit reservoir." The state, he says, has the power of life and death over all enterprise that utilizes credit.

"Every government is an organ of party power and must respond to the will of the party that put it in power," the Jordan article says. "Under unchecked government operation it is an inescapable tendency of every currency to depreciate and for credit to expand. However much it may be in the interest of the nation, deflation is too dangerous politically for any government to undertake it deliberately."

"In the end government banking and currency management resolve themselves simply into the use of credit as a political instrument of power, and this instrument tends to be used in the long run for expropriation of the savings of the community."

THE FARM BUDGET

By DAN H. OTIS,
Agricultural Director, American Bankers Association

Inventories aid in the formation of a farm budget. Some banks, as well as the Farm Credit Administration, recommend outlining in advance the method of using production loans. Under this plan provision is made for monthly expenditures and funds are granted to the borrower in accordance with the budget plan. The budget helps to show how loans can be repaid.

With the accumulated data from previous inventories and budgets, budget making becomes easier and more accurate and valuable. As one branch of the farming plant requires more expenditure, such as for new machinery, fencing, livestock, etc., it may be necessary to limit other branches in order to meet these pressing requirements.

The budget helps to formulate a financial program. It is of special importance in arranging to meet special or large expenditures. If the income and expenditures are carefully budgeted it prevents the spending of money needed for interest and taxes before the time of their payment arrives. It helps to provide a reserve.

The Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association feels that this type of work is so important that special emphasis has been placed upon the field of farm inventories, budgets and credit statements as one of its national projects for farm aid.

Old Friend's Picture In the Star-Telegram

Sunday's Star-Telegram showed the picture of an aged woman wearing a sunbonnet, and grasping the hand of a 14 year old youngster, the lad being one of the entertainers at the Johnson County Pioneer reunion, an annual affair held at Alvarado. Many the day and night too, have we spent under the hospitable roof of this 77 year old pioneer settler of Texas.

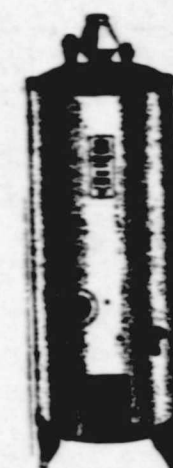

But the paper stated that the lady, Mrs. J. Y. Benton, had come to Texas from Kentucky 45 years ago. This is an error. The writer landed in Texas 35 years ago, and the Bentons were considered old settlers then. Mrs. Benton has resided in Texas more nearly 60 years than 45. Her mother Mrs. Johnston, taught some of the earliest schools in Johnson county.

Mrs. Benton lives in a big old double log house on her farm as the central portion, with huge fire places, andrioms (dogirons) and all. These two rooms have been added to by a number of other rooms, and the log portion has been sided, sealed and papered so that you would not know they were log houses unless told. But the thick wall makes a very cool house in summer, and warm in winter, with the two roaring fire places.

How we used to like to go there when a young man fresh from old Tennessee, and after a sumptuous repast, sit by those blazing fires and hear Mr. and Mrs. Benton tell of the trials of making a new home, which at that time was far removed from rail facilities. Indeed, they obtained their salt, and had their shoes made at Grand Saline, where the Benton family came from.

We might add too, that we received much good counsel and advice from this old pioneer couple, and would probably be better off than we are today, if we had taken it. Mr. Benton has been dead several years. We believe they raised their whole family in this old home near Grandview, the oldest daughter of which married a brother of the writer. Annie being a few years older than we, they must have lived there near 60 years.

a 3 week test MAKES YOU LIFELONG FRIENDS!

Meet Good Gulf!

If you haven't had Gulf gas in your tank lately, try it just 3 weeks and discover what it can do.

Then see if you don't agree with an army of amateur "testers"...

750 said "Put 'er there"

750 car owners agreed to fill their tanks with Gulf for 3 weeks—to check it against their regular brands for (1) mileage, (2) starting, (3) pick-up, (4) power, (5) all-around performance.

Result: Pats for Life

At the end of 3 weeks, 7 out of 10 owners found Gulf better in one or more of the 5 points—many on all five.

Why? That's easy! Gulf is 5 good gasolines in one. Controlled refining gives it not only 2 or 3, but all five ideal gasoline qualities.

Try That Good Gulf Gasoline—and you'll stick to it for good!

How One Woman Lost 14 Lbs. in 3 Weeks

Husband Lost 12 Lbs.

Mrs. J. H. Valentine of Freeport, N. Y., writes "lost 14 lbs. with Kruschen and my husband took off 12 lbs. in 3 weeks and intends keeping up the good work. I think Kruschen is simply wonderful."

To take off fat easily, SAFELY and HARMLESSLY—take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—cut down on fatty meats, butter, cream, and rich pastries—it is the safe way to lose unsightly fat and one bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle. Get at at Corner Drug or any drugstore in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the safest way to lose fat—money back. But be sure and get Kruschen Salts—imitations are numerous and you must safeguard your health.

LIVING AMONG PLENTY SAYS OLD TIMER

Below is how an old West Virginian views past and present times:

"Don't talk to me about hard times. I was born ten miles from a railroad, eight miles from school, nine miles from church, 885 miles from New York, 200 yards from a wash hole, 15 feet from a corn field, and 8,863 miles from Hong Kong.

"Our nearest neighbor lived two miles away, and they couldn't read nor write. I never saw a suit of underwear until I was 17 years old, and that revelation didn't belong to anybody in our family. The only book in the house during my early childhood was a Bible and a catalogue someone had sent us.

Had Plenty of Room

"There were 12 members in our family, but you see we had three rooms to live in, including a dining room which was also the kitchen. Everybody worked at our house. We thought everybody else in the world had gravy and bread for breakfast, liver and cracklin hoe cake for dinner, buttermilk and corn pone for supper, because that's what we had and liked it.

"Some of us wore brogan shoes occasionally in the winter time. We had nice white shirts for summer-time use. We slept on straw ticks, and pillows were not thought of nor required. I didn't know that money would rattle until I was nearly grown.

Father got hold of two half dollars at the same time and let us hear them rattle. Taxes were not higher but harder to pay then than now.

"We owned two kerosene lamps (neither of which had a chimney). Our house wasn't ceiled, two of our rooms had lofts in them. We had a glass window in our company room.

Our nicest piece of furniture was a homemade rocking chair. Our beds were of the salt air tight rope variety. The trundle bed took care of all the young ones under five years of age and it stayed full all the time.

How "We" Did It

"We went to school two or three months in the year (but not in a bus). We attended church once a month (but not in a car), we used a two-mule wagon. We dressed up on Sunday's (but not in silks and satins). We neither wrote letters nor received any. We made our own lye hominy, distilled our own lye from ashopper. We drank sassafras tea and never had a yearning for coffee.

"We sopped our own molasses, we ate our own meat, we considered rice a delicacy only for the preachers to eat, we had heard of cheese but never saw any, we got a stick of candy and three raisins for Christmas and were happy. We loved Pa and Ma and were never hungry enjoyed going naked, didn't want much, expected nothing. And that's why our so-called hard times are not hard on me."

L. L. Medford and family of Avery, Red River county, arrived in our city last week, and he has taken a position in the Help Your Self Gro. Store. He is a brother of Mrs. Lawrence Davis and Jeff Medford, owners of the store. Welcome to Brownfield.

Miss Betty Jo Savage who has been visiting her aunt Mrs. Jessie May, in Clovis, returned home Friday. She brought Miss Jeanne Roane of Lubbock home with her to visit a few days.
