

On The BEAM
By J. W. King, Sr.

Last week The Mitchell County News celebrated its 21st birthday and started on its 22nd year of service to this community.

This week the publisher is offering a subscription to the paper at a special price of $1.50. And if you will notice the fine print in our ad on another page you will notice that at a certain hour Saturday you can get the paper at the 1931 price of $1.00. Some of our merchants are also offering their merchandise at 1931 prices. Read their ads, then shop their stores.

During the past 21 years The News has tried to give the community a paper it could be proud of. We haven't always succeeded. I am sure but if you will compare it with other papers published in towns the size of Loraine or even larger, I believe you will find that we publish more local news, more local pictures and try as hard as anyone to promote the welfare of the entire community than any newspaper published in a town of our size. We believe the paper merits the support of the community in subscriptions and advertising.

There is a trend now to concentrate everything in the larger communities. If the trend continues for a period of years the small communities will be gone. A newspaper in a community does more for the local community than any other agency to keep the community intact. It merits the support of all.

PICNIC

The second and third grades, taught by Mrs. Della Butler, and Mrs. Wilmon Tarrt enjoyed a train ride on a streamliner to Sweetwater for a picnic at the park Wednesday. The group caught the train here at 10:30 and was met in Sweetwater by Mr. Alsbrook in one of Loraine's school buses who drove the picnickers to the park where much swimming, sliding, seesawing and frolicking were enjoyed. At the noon hour a picnic lunch was spread.

MENU MAGIC

CORN WAFFLES WITH CREAMED HAM

If you're looking for a simple main course for an informal supper party, waffles are the answer. Waffles make hosting an easy job, for you will have time to sit down and enjoy your own party when you serve them. Waffles can be varied in many ways, but they are especially good when served with creamed ham and mushrooms.

Waffles
2 cups flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
3 eggs
1 1/4-1 1/2 cups milk
1 cup whole grain canned corn
1/2 cup margarine
Sift the flour. Measure it. Add baking powder, salt, and sugar. Sift again. Melt the margarine. Measure. Separate the eggs and beat the yolks. Add milk, melted margarine, and well drained corn. Stir just long enough to moisten the flour mixture. Beat the egg whites until they are thick and stiff but not dry. Fold into the batter. Bake in a hot waffle iron.

Creamed Ham
2 tablespoons margarine
1 tablespoon flour
1 cup hot milk
1 slice onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
dash white pepper
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 cup cubed baked or boiled ham
Melt margarine. Add flour and cook until lightly browned. Add hot milk, onion, salt, and pepper; cook until mixture thickens, stirring constantly. Continue cooking either over very low heat or in the top part of a double boiler about 20 minutes. Remove onion slice. Add mustard and ham. Mix well. Add mushrooms and pimiento if desired. Serve the mixture over the waffles.

For other excellent kitchen-tested recipes, write the National Cotton Council, Box 78, Memphis, Tenn., for your free copy of "Menu Magic With Margarine," an attractive 24-page recipe booklet in two colors.

What Was News
21 Years Ago?

We scanned the pages of a years publication of The Mitchell County News from its beginning May 16, 1931, through a years publication to find out. This issue marks the beginning of the 22nd year of the publication of the News.

On May 16, 1931, the first issue of The Mitchell County News was published under the ownership of W. E. Edmiston. The people had been asked to suggest a name for the new paper and a representative from each business firm in town composed the committee to select a name from those submitted. After carefully considering each name, they selected as the most appropriate, The Mitchell County News, hence the birth of the Mitchell County News.

What is news now, was news then and the papers were made up of both local and community news. A chief diversion then was county, community, and local singings, which were held often with big crowds attending. Church news was sent in regularly from reporters of the churches. A. R. Lawrence was the minister of the Church of Christ

Rev. A. C. Hardin, pastor of the Baptist church and Rev. J. M. Cochran pastor of the Methodist church until November when Rev. J. E. Harrell was sent here.

Lorraine held its first community fair October 18, with the biggest crowd the editor had ever seen in Lorraine. Old friends met for a reunion at this time and everybody had a good time. The Colorado Band gave a concert Friday night after which all who could crowd into the Methodist church gathered there for a contest singing between Westalla and Pleasant Valley. The Fair exhibits were on display in the Phillips building north of the Bank. Exhibits included textile, antiques, canned goods, agricultural products, livestock, poultry, and rabbits.

On November 4, 1931 the Post-office was moved to the Masonic building from the old location South of the T&P depot.

The News was published on November 6, 1931 by its new owners, J. W. King and A. Callahan. Shortly after the new owners took over they began printing the paper on Thursday. It had been printed on Friday by Mr. Edmiston.

The first of March 1932, H. Ohlenbush who had purchased the W. L. Edmiston building started work to remodel it, making three complete business buildings facing the highway. Mr. Ohlenbush paid day laborers 50 cents a day on this work.

This 50 cents a day for a days work caused us to look up prices listed in the ads to see just what could be bought with 50 cents. At the Askins Dry Goods and Lorraine Mercantile company one could purchase a yard of cotton print at the special price of 5c; 18 by 36 turkish towels, 10c; Ladies house dresses each 49c; mens dress shoes 1.98 and mens dress shirts, 49c. At the City Grocery, Corner Grocery, W. J. Coon B. W. Barrett and Fairbairn Grocery one could buy 25 lbs. of sugar for 1.05; dry salt, 10c; 10c; flour from 75c to 1.00 for 25 lbs. 8 pounds of compound 98c. The Star Telegram daily and Sunday and the home town paper could be bought a year for $6.10 and the Abilene Reporter News a year for 3.95.

Walter Lehmann, 12 years old was pictured on the front page of the News after having won second prize in the Qualla More Cotton Per Acre Club in 1931. He raised 1300 pounds of cotton on a single acre of land and did the work himself. Miss Hilda Ohlenbush, 4-H club member girl, was awarded $300 for her outstanding work in the 4-H club for four years. Travis Hallmark, Lorraine 4-H Club member won third place in the West Texas Division of cotton growing contest sponsored by a San Marcos cotton breeder and received a watch as prize.

In the school news column Ernest Griffith was listed as Valedictorian and Blanche Richburg Salutatorian of the 1931 graduating class. Other members of the class were Frances Howell, Auts Mae Land, Ruthell Marshall, Neil Whirey, Marie Reeder, Hallie Meek, Alva Hall, Florence Bedford, Lois Kinnison, Harold Bennett, Robinson Green, Owtin Nelson, E. T. Britton Jr. Kenneth Richburg and Stanton Hutchins.

And then in the Christmas issue letters to Santa were written by Lolla Martin, Herbert Mearse, John D. Bennett, Mildred and Emma Jean Walker, Mildred and Myrl Carpenter, Iona Callahan, Rae Furlow, J. W. Jr. and Melvin King, Jimmy Ferguson, Harold Jones, Wonnola Martin, Edith and Mary Ellen Coon, J. D. Boyd, Ruth Britton, Dorothy Honea, Nina Pearl Groom, Delma and Lada Piguet.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q I am a disabled World War II veteran. If I get VA's approval may I still start vocational training under Public Law 16, or did the cut-off date of last July end my chances for taking the training?

A If you meet all requirements you still may begin training under Public Law 16. Under the law you may start at any time so long as you can finish by the program's wind-up on July 25, 1956. The July 25, 1951 cut off date applied only to training under the GI Bill, and not under Public Law 16.

Q A close friend, a World War I veteran, died recently and I paid the burial expenses, since he has no family. May I be reimbursed by VA for the expenses?

A Yes. VA may pay up to $150 for burial expenses of an eligible veteran. You can get necessary application forms at any VA office. You must file your claim for reimbursement within 2 yrs. after the veteran's burial.

Q My wife and I are both World War II veterans. We want to open a dress shop with the help of a GI business loan. May we both use our loan guarantee privileges together?

A Yes. However, your total combined guarantee may not exceed 50 per cent of the loan.

Q I understand the VA will stop mailing premium receipts on GI insurance this summer. Does this mean we won't be getting those premium notice envelopes, as well?

No. The premium notice envelopes will continue to be sent to veteran policy holders. Only the mailing of receipts will be discontinued.

Q I am going to school under the GI Bill, and my entitlement will run out a couple of weeks before the end of my course. Will I have to pay for the rest of the course myself?

A No. So long as your GI entitlement carries you past the midway point of your term or semester, you will be permitted to finish that term or semester under the GI Bill, even though you haven't any more entitlement.

Q May I join with a non-veteran in starting a business, and get a GI loan to finance my share?

A Yes. However, the guarantee cannot extend to any portion of the loan which may constitute all or part of the non-veteran's contribution to the business.

Q I'm a totally disabled veteran of Korea and my disabilities are service-connected. May I apply for the new insurance for disabled veterans who served since Korea? If so, may I have my premiums waived because of my total disability?

A You may apply for the new insurance and, at the same time, you may apply for a waiver of premiums. But be sure you include the required premium receipts with your application, and continue to pay premiums until VA notifies you whether the waiver has been granted. Then if the waiver is granted, premiums paid under that waiver will be refunded.

Q Does the new insurance for veterans who served since Korea pay dividends?

A No; it earns no dividends. But its premiums are lower than other forms of Government life insurance which do pay dividends.

For The Fifteenth Year . . .

Richard Parma, 4, a patient at Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children, Dallas, gets a visit from former Congressman Ed Goetz, who will be principal speaker at the hospital's fifteenth annual memorial services Sunday, May 25. Little Richard is one of nine children in the Parma family in Ennis. Memorial services are held in honor of men and women who have remembered the hospital and patients like Richard in their last wills and testaments. Masons from every section of Texas will attend the services.

SMITH-DOXEY COTTON SERVICE OPEN TO FARMERS

Mitchell County cotton farmers can sign up now to get the benefits of Smith-Doxey.

This announcement was made today by H. J. Matejowski, who is in charge of the Abilene cotton classing office, U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration.

Application forms may be obtained from the county PMA office, county agent or local ginners.

One application covers all farmers in the group.

Under the Smith-Doxey Act, farmers who organize into cotton improvement groups and file an application get their cotton classed by USDA without cost. Also, they receive a market price quotation sheet from which they can figure out what their cotton is worth locally according to its grade and staple.

Last year about 650 farmers in the county took advantage of these services.

LONE STAR

Agriculture

Released by The Texas Department of Agriculture
By John C. White, Commissioner

THE TEXAS ROSE INDUSTRY

California may have the Rose Parade, the Rose Bowl and all the fame. But Texas is the leading rose-producing state in the nation.

Texas producers are shipping up to 20,000,000 rose plants a year—or two-thirds of all roses used for outdoor planting in America.

The rose is a field crop and growers set out ten acres of roses like other farmers plant corn or cotton. In fact, some rose growers also plant other crops and one of the leading East Texas growers takes pride in his 30-acre per-acre cotton yield.

During the blooming season one can see some 15,000,000 rose plants flowering 2,000,000,000-odd roses—which go to waste as they fade and die and drop off the bush, for it is the plant, not the bloom, that is marketed.

Shipments average 200 to 300 cars annually to big cities in the east and midwest. Up to 14,000,000 plants move in refrigerated cars; the remainder go by parcel post and truck.

Texas producers take as much pride in the development of fine rose stock as our cattle breeders take in their Hereford Whitefaces. Growers are known to have paid as much as $10.00 for a single parent plant.

They grow many varieties developed by cross pollination by breeders in other parts of the country and Europe. But they also develop their own varieties from "sports" which occur when a plant suddenly develops characteristics unlike those of its parent. One sport may never develop into anything worthwhile. Another may become a valuable new patented variety from which a grower can collect thousands of dollars annually in royalties.

Until recent years, Texas growers shipped their plants to distributors out of the state, but they are beginning to do some of their own distributing, going in for fancy root packing for department stores. The plant is displayed in colorful moisture-proof packages, and the roots are packed in sphagnum moss—which conserves moisture up to six weeks and allows the plant to continue growing and even to bloom on the sales counter.

Growers now store large quantities of bushels for late shipment to retail trade, old storage facilities can handle 2,000,000 bushels. In marketing rose plants, much depends on the pull of the name. A few of the most popular varieties grown in Texas are Radiance, Peace, Talisman, Briarcliff, Gay Lady, Big Daddy, Festival, Summer Snow, Texas Centennial and General McArthur—an old variety named for Douglas' father. (Para) One of the best-sellers is an old variety which has no place among the newer and finer plants. The secret of its popularity is in the name: "American Beauty".

Mrs. R. W. Hall accompanied her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hall of Aspermont, to Worland, Wyoming, this week, where they will visit relatives.

MITCHELL COUNTIANS RECEIVE S. S. PAYMENTS

Checks for insurance payments under Federal social security went to 157 aged persons, children and their widowed mothers in Mitchell County for December, 1951. These payments amounted to $4,392 in the county for that month.

In releasing these figures today, Ralph T. Fisher, Manager of the Abilene social security office, also said that these monthly payments under the old age and survivors insurance system amounted to $130,831 for the 16-county area served by the Abilene office, and went to 4,670 persons. "Without these payments earned by workers under this contributory system, the ability of many people to pay for necessities would have been drastically curtailed or entirely ended," he said.

More than one-third of all people over 65 in the United States who could not count on income from work for support, were getting social security insurance benefits.

Fisher pointed out that this Federal program is affording substantial survivors insurance protection. Three out of every four mothers and young children in the Nation are now assured of monthly payments if the insured breadwinner of the family dies.

In this connection, he cited monthly payments totaling $39,659 to 1277 children and 268 widowed mothers in the Abilene area. These monthly payments are going to families deprived of earned income by the death of the working member of the family. They are making it possible to keep families together, and keep children in school. They are, at the same time, lessening the drain on both public and private welfare funds.

Identify All of These Pictures And Win Year's Subscription To The News

Identify all six of the men pictured above and win a year's subscription to The Mitchell County News. The first person who turns in a correct identification to our office will win the prize. No telephone call identification will be accepted. You must clip this portion of the paper, write the name of each man under his picture and bring or mail it to our office. If you win the prize you will not be eligible to compete again. See if you know these men. All of the men pictured here served in the Armed Forces of the United States during World War 2 and lived here at that time.

Letter to the Editor:

The Mitchell County News is glad to publish letters to the editor so long as they are not libelous or licentious.

Dear Editor: I want to be the first person in town to say Amen with a capital letter to everything Rev. Wayland Boyd said in his letter to the editor. I also want to thank Mr. King for printing it.

I think our preachers and the local newspaper should be our leaders in what is best for our community. I thank God that we have at least one preacher in town who isn't afraid to "stick his neck out" so to speak.

If the citizens of our town don't wake up pretty soon, they may be jarred out of their indifferent attitude by a tragedy that strikes much closer to home than any of the disgraceful incidents so far.

I have noticed for a long time that we have an evil situation existing in our city that smacks of evil desire and covetousness. A desire for money making, at the expense of the souls of men.

The Bible says, judge not, but I am also reminded that it says, by their fruits we shall know them. We cannot help noticing the evil fruits being produced; especially the beer cans that desecrate every street in this town, and I wonder if not a lot of our refrigerators also. Oh! Yes! this is a dry town—really.

I fear as long as this evil situation is allowed to exist we will have a tough time curbing anything however evil it may be. Money is the root of all evil. God keeps all of His promises; for punishment as well as reward.

I'd like to see other opinions expressed by other of our citizens. Public opinion is our strongest weapon. Are we going to use it? Or will we sit silently, giving out consent to a situation that stinks to high heaven? A situation that blots the fair name of our town as always had. To him that knoweth to do good and doeth it not to him it is sin.

Again I want to thank Bro. Boyd for opening the way for public discussion of this evil situation. We the people can do anything we choose. What will be our choice? It remains to be seen, whether we or the few men in the city runs this town for good or bad. Yours respectfully, Mrs. T. C. Wilson.

Your Questions—God's Answers

SOME IMPORTANT FACTS ABOUT LORD'S SUPPER
1. We are commanded to observe the Lord's Supper. "This do in remembrance of me" makes it a positive institution. (1 Cor. 11:24, 25.)
2. It should be observed on the first day of the week. Acts 20:7 indicates that this was the purpose of the coming together of the disciples.
3. The Lord's Supper is the weekly judgment-seat of the individual Christian. "Let a man prove himself." (1 Cor. 11:28.) This calls for a rigid self-investigation. The wisdom of looking on the observance of this feast as a time for self-examination is obvious. Whoever takes the Lord's supper seriously will have difficulty in standing before his own conscience if his week has been full of evil thoughts and deeds. It is not a time when we may judge the life of another.
4. It is a personal memorial. "This do in remembrance of me." This makes the matter directly personal. Of course, it is a memorial of Christ's death, but we must not lose sight of the fact that he has said, "Remember me."
5. The obligation to observe it is limited to the Church.
6. The obligation to observe it is limited by his advent. "Till he come." (1 Cor. 11:26.) Thus it becomes a part of the Christian life to be continued until the Lord's final coming. "Be thou faithful unto death" applies here as in other Christian duties and privileges.

RED CROSS AID TO VICTIMS OF MARCH 21 TORNADOES NEARS MILLION DOLLAR MARK

Now

ABOVE—The refrigerator and washing machine are all that remain in the splintered ruins of G. R. Nelson's newly remodeled home near Lonoke, Arkansas, after tornadoes struck in this and six other southern states March 21. The twisters destroyed 1,044 homes, caused other losses to 4,510 families, killed 214 persons, injured 2,000 others of whom 630 needed hospitalization. The Nelsons' young daughter was one of hundreds for whom Red Cross paid medical bills.

BELOW—Made possible by a $4,023 Red Cross building award, the Nelson's new four-room home now is almost ready for the $500 of essential furniture also bought for the family by the Red Cross. Meeting actual needs, not losses, Red Cross is aiding 775 families in rebuilding homes and additional hundreds are receiving awards—outright grants and loans—to pay for household goods, medical bills, and other needs.

Barney Frank is the name given the son born to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Guley of Vernon May 15. Mrs. Guley is the former Gypsy Ted McCollum.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hull of Big Spring were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Rogers Wednesday afternoon.

Guests of Mrs. J. E. Gummels and family over the weekend were her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Perkins of San Antonio. Her mother, Mrs. C. M. Perkins, returned with them after spending two weeks in her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Martin and Stevie of Houston came in Saturday for a two weeks visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hallmark.

Mrs. Jim Johnson accompanied Mrs. W. O. Miller of Sweetwater to a WSCS officers training meeting at Big Spring Tuesday morning and at Forsan in the afternoon. Mrs. Johnson gave the devotional for both meetings.

Mrs. E. P. Kuck visited her sisters, Mrs. M. L. Rice in Sweetwater, and Mrs. C. W. Forbus in Abilene over the week end.
