$10,000,000 IN GOLD ARRIVES IN NEW YORK CITY

PIRATES HOPED TO LOOT SHIP BEFORE ARRIVAL

WAS THE LARGEST PRIVATE SHIPMENT OF GOLD EVER ON RECORD

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—One of the greatest pirate prizes in history has been safely landed without interference by buccaners, storms or New York gunmen. The steamship Teno, steamed into port Wednesday with a cargo of $10,000,000 in gold ingots—the largest private shipment of gold on record, and exceeded in all history only by the $17,000,000 in gold which the Leviathan once brought across the Atlantic.

Guarded by a strong cordon and encased in a huge cement safe especially built for it, the gold was brought from Valparaiso in 18 days, and the threat of pirates, it was averred, was not an idle threat, for piracy still exists along the South American coast and in parts of the Caribbean through which the Teno traveled. But no pirates appeared, and the prize was transferred safely from the Banco Central De Chile de Santiago to the National Bank of Commerce in New York.

The bullion was swung over the side of the Teno in strong steel nets as men heavily armed, prayed that one of the nets would not break and hurl $700,000 or $800,000 into the murky waters of the bay. The shipment was guarded by a strong cordon and encased in a huge cement safe especially built for it.

NEGRO IS GUARDED BY STATE TROOPS

COUSHATTA, La., Feb. 3.—National guardsmen were guarding Willie Wilson, negro, Wednesday night after Wilson had charged that he was tortured by electricity in an effort to have him change testimony he had given in the trial of Joe Hardy, also a negro, on trial for the murder of John S. Glover, wealthy land owner.

Wilson was seized by a band of men, taken out of the city and chained between an automobile and a telephone pole, according to his story. Is the first trial of Hardy, Wilson had testified in the accused man's behalf. When he promised to change his testimony his tormentors turned him loose, he said. The men who attacked Wilson are the same ones who tried to take Hardy from the jail at Alexandria Tuesday, police believe.

The city will be open to visitors on Sunday and adequate hotel facilities to accommodate all who wish to arrive at the day before the convention will be arranged. At least six West Texas bands will participate in the program at Littlefield, and a banquet where 1000 plates will be arranged is to be a big feature of the days program. The chamber of commerce is being given the hearty cooperation of

DEVELOPMENTS AROUND WHITE HOUSE ARE NOT PLEASING TO COOLIDGE, WHO NOTES THAT CRITICISM IS GROWING MORE RIFE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Critics of the administration put in their full 12 hour day Wednesday, claiming and making suggestions regarding the coal strike, abolition of the tariff commission, investigation of the new bread and food mergers, and other sordid matters. They appeared discouraged by the attempt of President Coolidge through his official spokesman to brand current criticism of the administration as political in purpose.

"Bootleg Coal" A Valuable Product

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Feb. 3.—"Bootleg coal" is keeping many persons in the anthracite region warm while the strike of 158,000 miners holds all the mines in idleness and hard coal users elsewhere experiment with substitutes. Many ex-miners are making their living peddling anthracite. Some of this comes from the old colliery dumps, most of which are open to the public and fairly rich with good coal. But sorting coal from slate, rocks and dirt comes under the head of hard work. Lately clean, fresh coal has appeared in most of the hard coal cities, not as regular in size as standard colliery product, but just as full of heat units. It is peddled from door to door in burlap bags and usually is bought without question as to its origin. The householders call it "bootleg coal." Quotations at little more than the usual winter prices are available here on coal reputed to be from nearly any one of the better known veins of either red ash or white ash anthracite.

WORST STORM IN YEARS NOW PASSING DOWN ATLANTIC COAST, HEAVY SNOW IMPEDING TRAFFIC IN MANY CITIES

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Gales were churning up the sea along the north Atlantic coast tonight, bringing danger to shipping and the heaviest snow storm of winter to New York and its vicinity. Coast guardsmen described the disturbance as one of the most severe onslaught of snow and wind in years and the Asbury Park station reported the possibility that eight men might have lost their lives off Seabright when two barges broke away from a tug four miles from shore. One of the barges is said to have sunk and each is reported to have been manned by a crew of four men.

In the face of the tremendous seas that were running, Captain Elwood A. Butler and six men from the Sandy Hook station put out in a power boat to try to locate the men on the barges. Four other tugs towing eight barges had been lost to view from shore because of the heavy snow and the various coast guard stations were asked to look out for them.

New York traffic was impeded and threatened with serious obstruction as the gale driven snow swept the city.

BABY IS KILLED AND SCORES OF PEOPLE INJURED

LAKEWORTH, Fla., Feb. 3.—The village of Greenacres near here was in ruins Wednesday night following a cyclone which struck with terrific force shortly after daybreak, leaving behind it one child dead, scores of persons injured—some perhaps fatally, and dozens of cottages and other buildings demolished. Property loss will amount to not less than $100,000, it is estimated.

Playing weird pranks with buildings, the twister loosed its fury on the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Dirskell, injuring both of the parents and two of their children and killing an eleven months old infant. The other four members of the family are in a hospital, where their injuries are said to be serious.

Roofs were lifted from houses, pieces of furniture picked up and hurled through the air for long distances. Personal belongings were scattered everywhere. Automobiles were lifted like paper, carried for some distance, and set back down. Some of them were wrecked and others barely damaged. Residents of the village who escaped uninjured rushed to Lakeworth for assistance.

Scores of relief workers were organized and began caring for the injured. For hours the debris of wrecked buildings was searched for dead and injured. The damage caused by the twister was confined to this village.

20 MINERS BURIED IN BURNING MINE

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 3.—Twenty men are imprisoned in a burning coal mine belonging to the Pittsburgh Terminal Company, 15 miles south of here following a series of explosions late Wednesday night. There were 23 men in the mine when the blasts came, but three of them were rescued. Five in the workings exploded a series of gas pockets and the force of the explosions caused a slide which apparently cut the 20 miners off from safe exits. Efforts to rescue the entombed men merely have established the presence of fire in the drift which makes hope for their removal alive very slight.

LA FOLLETTE ASKS FOR INVESTIGATION OF DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE—IS DUTY OF SENATE TO FACE ACTION, HE SAYS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Senator Robert M. La Follette, following in the footsteps of his father, has prepared a resolution calling for an immediate senate investigation of the huge, Ward Baking merger and the more recent grocery combination, the National Food Products Corporation. It was the elder La Follette who anticipated the present bread combination and presented a resolution seeking inquiry by the federal trade commission two years ago when the present organization was in its infancy. The senate ordered the investigation but the federal trade commission refused to make the inquiry insisting it was not under orders of the senate. "It seems to me that it is up to the senate to take action in this matter," La Follette told the United News. "These combinations are Irish Stew—Wipe and cut in pieces three pounds lamb from the fore-quarter. Put in kettle, cover with boiling water, and cook slowly two hours or until tender. After cooking one hour add one-half cup each carrots and turnips cut in one-half inch cubes, and one onion cut in slices. Fifteen minutes before serving add four cups potatoes cut in one-fourth inch slices, previously parboiled five minutes in boiling water. Thicken with one-fourth cup flour, diluted with enough cold water to form a thin smooth paste. Season with salt and pepper, serve with dumplings.

Recipe for Dumplings—2 cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, three-quarter cup milk, one-half teaspoon salt, two teaspoons butter. Mix and sift dry ingredients. Work in butter with tips of fingers, and add milk gradually, using a knife for mixing. Toss on a floured board, pat, and roll out to one-half inch in thickness. Shape with biscuit-cutter, first dipped in flour. Place closely together in a buttered steamer, put over kettle of boiling water, cover closely, and steam twelve minutes. A perforated tin-plate may be used in place of steamer. A little more milk may be used in the mixture, when it may be taken up by spoonfuls, dropped and cooked on top of the stew. In this case some of the liquid must be removed, that dumplings may rest on meat and potato, and not settle into liquid.

Egg Timbales—1 tablespoon butter, 1 tablespoon flour, two-thirds cup milk, three eggs, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, one-half teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, few grains celery salt, few grains cayenne. Make a sauce of the butter, flour and milk; add yolks beaten until thick and lemon-colored, then add seasoning. Beat whites of eggs until stiff and dry, and cut and folded into first mixture. Turn into buttered moulds, set in pan of hot water, and bake in a slow oven until firm. Serve with creamed peas.

Prune Whip—One-third pound of prunes, whites five eggs, one-half cup sugar, one-half tablespoon lemon juice. Pick over and wash prunes, then soak several hours in cold water to cover; cook in same water until soft; remove stones and rub prunes through a strainer, add sugar, and cook five minutes; the mixture should be of the consistency of marmalade. Beat whites of eggs until stiff, add prune mixture gradually when cold, and lemon juice. Pile lightly on buttered pudding dish, bake twenty minutes in slow oven. Serve with boiled custard or whipped cream.

All measurements are level.

LA FOLLETTE ASKS FOR INVESTIGATION OF DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

Under the La Follette resolution, which may be acted upon within a few days, the senate manufacturers committee would inquire into both food combination to determine whether anti-trust laws have been violated and report back to the senate.

Young La Follette is member of the manufacturers committee, of which Senator McKinley, Illinois republican, is chairman. The two food trusts mergers, especially the $2,000,000,000 Ward Baking combine with its super-imposed philanthropic aspects, have aroused general interest in the trust issue again. Unless the administration shows signs of energetic vigilance, the question will become important in the congressional campaign.

TECH-NICAL TOPICS

"A Beautiful Sunset" Scores Hit With Dramatic Club.

The members of Miss Flora McGee's English class made a great hit in the presentation of their play, "A Beautiful Sunset." The play was written by the class and presented under the direction of Miss McGee. The story is of a co-ed in the Tech who is very popular with the young men, but she determines to pick one out from the collection. Just at this time she receives a letter from her uncle stating that he knows of an ideal young man that he wants her to meet. He states that he is always admiring the beautiful sunsets on the South Plains. Many comical situations follow. Finally she gives up the idea and finds that her ideal is an old friend of hers who has a liking for beautiful sunsets, and everything turns out happily.

The play showed that there is talent of this kind in the Tech, as it was full of action and had a clever setting. The stage technique was good and the characters were well played. Members of the English class took the parts. At the next meeting of the club, February 9, the play, "What They Think," will be presented.

State "Y" Workers to Be Here Monday.

Arrangements have been completed for a series of meetings, open forums, discussion groups and personal interviews under the joint auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. of Tech for next Monday.

Tuesday and Wednesday. These will be conducted by Mr. Harry Bone, Y. M. C. A. secretary for student work in the southwest, and Rev. Henry P. Van Dusen, a convocation of the student body at 10 o'clock Monday will be the first public appearance of the visiting speakers.

Meetings will be held in the afternoons and the evenings of the three days. In these the forum or discussion procedure will be largely followed. In these meetings such topics will be dealt with as these: Campus Problems.

Question of Faith or Religious Perplexities.

Christianity and World Issues.

The Technique of the Spiritual Life.

On Monday evening at the Cafeteria there will be a dinner given by the members of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. in honor of the visitors.

Mr. Bone is known as a most able and efficient Y. M. C. A. secretary and the organization and direction of the meetings will be largely in his hands.

Mr. Van Dusen is to be one of the leading speakers at the State Y. M. C. A. Conference at Austin, February 12-14. In regard to him, Mr. A. R. Elliott, another Y. M. C. A. secretary for student work in the southwest, who assisted in organizing the Tech Y. M. C. A., writes: "I could think of no two men in the country who could help you in a more practical way in launching your Y. M. C. A. organization along the right lines than can Van Dusen and Bone. They are young men of a very virile stamp with the highest type of academic training. They would appeal to every member of the student body and the faculty. Their work would be of the very most constructive sort. In spite of clamorous requests for these very dates by older and larger institutions, I have insisted that they include Texas Technological College simply because of the wonderful opportunity to your organization there to get the right start. I want to take the responsibility personally in assuring you that you can go the limit in arranging either public addresses, class-room presentation, or informal discussions for these men. They will deliver in a most satisfactory way."

Mr. Van Dusen is a graduate of Princeton, and while an undergraduate there was a leader in student affairs. He was president of the Y. M. C. A. for one year, was an editor of the Princetonian, and took a most active part in the campaign which resulted in the abolition of the exclusive eating clubs of the university and the consequent increase in the democratic tendencies of the institution. He is a graduate of Union Theological Seminary, has done graduate work in Edinburg, and was for some time assistant pastor under Rev. Henry Sloane Coffin of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church of New York City. Mr. Van Dusen has visited a number of universities and colleges in the southwest, and his work and his influence have been remarkable.

Mr. Bone is expected in Lubbock on Friday, and will make final arrangements for the meetings. Students are especially urged to attend as many of these meetings as possible, and particularly to take the opportunity of having a personal interview with Mr. Van Dusen during his stay. Further announcements will be made on the bulletin boards and at the convocation next Monday.

Interesting, and all that sort of thing. Especially good was the quartette. Harmony, well, we might smile! and pepper-rather. Those boys know their stuff, to be sure, and their singing was certainly enjoyed.

No, Aggie, two aren't pint-sized just because four are a quart-et.

And the new song-books! A fine outfit, don't you think? And a place for everything and everything in its place—even down to the place for the name and address on the back of it. (One fellow remarked that that was rather convenient for the girls; it seems that in olden times, or not so very long ago, and girl who was nice, she might drop her handkerchief for a gallant young fellow to retrieve.

And that didn't always bring the desired results—the fellow might have been too bashful to ask the name—and now, if the young lady drops her book, with the name on it, there's no excuse, absolutely none, for such a thing happening.

FROM EL TORO

Rather a unique situation that local color play they put on at the Sock and Buskin club last evening. Entirely modern, if anyone should ask you, and quite full of pep. "As our English teacher says, "subtle humor." And yet it was all clean—no soot!

And the funny part of it was that the audience was made "the goat" in parts of it. For instances, the hero was evidently a dual personality. Don't ask us how we know, but ask someone who knows.

Press Club meet this evening. That's one club that must have a good engineer. At any rate, it runs quietly and without any conspicuous squeaks in the whole business. And doing some excellent work, too! Gonna develop a gang of journalists yet.

Convocation yesterday morning was rather excellent, we should say.

will be the purpose of this unit organization to enter into and become a co-operative part in the application of this program and we are calling upon every man and woman, boy and girl to be present on next Thursday night, February 4 and join in and become a member of this home and community program. After every community has been organized into sub units of this program then it will be the purpose of the officers of each unit to meet in Slaton in conjunction with both the commercial and fair executives to formulate and complete all necessary plans for the awarding of the various cash prizes on cotton, feed, chickens, hogs and such other perishable diversified farm products as go in the up-keep and maintenance of home. The following resolution was adopted:

We, the officers and board of directors as well as the present membership of this agricultural unit do believe that such a program as is now being outlined and recommended will add to both home and community life not only in the sense of bringing out that great lesson and spirit of home but will add thousands and thousands of dollars toward the financing the commercial interest of both home and community life.

Officers of the organization are: Charles Griffin, President, John Lamb, Secretary. Board of Directors: E. E. Denny, E. A. Deering, J. V. Bearer, Ardon Russell and Vic Cade. (Signed) JOHN LAMB.

RE-STOCKING THE WEST

The matter of restocking the west with cattle, sheep and hogs is receiving the attention of the people of this country at this time, and it has been discovered that most of this vast territory has almost been depopulated so far as the animals are concerned.

The ranches—that is most of the most any size have been stripped of the cattle, and the lands are being offered for sale to farmers, and this brings about an entirely new condition so far as the livestock industry is concerned, and it has left this section of the country with very few cattle, and sheep, and also the supply of hogs have diminished till there is a very small number of these animals left.

With the coming back of these industries it will be under an entirely different plan, but we are sure that it will be under a system that will mean a permanency that will mean much more for the people of this section. It will mean that in place of the thousands of head of these animals being owned by one company or some individual that they will be owned by several different men, and each will have only a small number, but of a very greatly improved breed, and of the kind that will produce more than the thousands did under the old plan.

In speaking of the hog situation recently a representative of one of the big packing houses made some very startling statements along the line of re-stocking the west. It will take 200,000 brood sows to re-stock the big hog farms of West Texas was the belief expressed by C. C. French, industrial agent for the Fort Worth Stock Yards Company and the Fort Worth Belt Railway Company, before the meeting of the North Texas Agricultural and Livestock Conference which closed its two-day meet at the stockyards last Saturday afternoon. The conference opened its ceremonies at the North Texas Agricultural College at Arlington Friday afternoon.

Saturday morning the visiting farmers and stockmen shifted their scene of activity to the Fort Worth Stockyards where they inspected the receiving, feeding and grading pens. Later they were the guests at a luncheon provided by Swift and Company.

J. P. Edler, superintendent of Swift and Company, told the farmers that there was a hog shortage in Texas and that this condition afforded the farmer a wonderful opportunity to stock his farm with a brood sow or two and realize returns that would prove profitable. He stated that 60 per cent of the pork consumed in Texas was shipped in from other states.

Colonel French declared that 383,000 hogs came into Texas last year at a cost of between $75,000,000 and $100,000,000 to the consumer.

He also declared that the banker who used to fight against the farmer raising anything but cotton was now ready and willing to financially back the farmer who wished to add a hog or two to his farm.

Other speakers praised the pig club work conducted by the extension department of A. & M. College. Much credit will be due the men handling this work, one speaker declared.

One farmer declared that the time has come in Texas when the old-fashioned farmer, who has always opposed scientific methods, has laid aside his prejudices and was eager to follow the teaching of men who have been studying better methods of production.

It will not be a wise thing for the farmer to go too heavy on any one product, if they are to make a success of it, but we are sure that there can be great wealth brought to this section of the country, if there is cooperative production of the products of this country.

There is no sense, or need for the farmers to go “Hog Wild” for them to go “Feed Crazy” or “Cotton Eyed.” They should use good judgement, and cooperate with the business men and the bankers in growing their crops, and marketing them orderly, so that there need be no glutting of the market, which will paralyze the markets every time. It is but natural that this will be the result if the crop is rushed on the market whether there is a demand for it or not. No man is going to pay a big price for maize or cotton, or any other thing that he does not have a use for or a demand for, and therefore it is but natural that when the market is crowded the price is going to drop, and in order that this not be the case farmers might help themselves by regulating the amount of the stuff they produce, and this can be done by diversification of crops and the raising of hogs, sheep, cows, baby beef, poultry, etc.,

on the farms instead of planting everything in cotton.

THE STATE HEALTH DEPARTMENT

We are of the opinion that the state Health Department of Texas is doing a very fine work and as a result there seems to be quite an improvement in the general health of the people of Texas. The health rules that have been brought about by the department, and the propaganda that has been put out has had good effect and the results are very gratifying. County Health Nurses are adding much to the betterment of the conditions in many counties, and while many people fail to grasp the importance of such a department and look upon it as a useless expenditure of people's money at the same time we are of the opinion that as a general thing it is money well spent and very beneficial to many hundreds and possibly thousands of people in the county or state.

The Brownwood Bulletin in a recent issue in discussing the work of the state and county health departments in that county says that the past year has been a very busy one for Brown county Health nurse according to her report recently submitted.

It requires considerable hardihood for one to travel more than four thousand miles on Brown county roads in a single year, but the health nurse did it. It requires considerable patience to give physical examinations to 2,272 children but the health nurse did it. It requires a great deal of patience to call on the parents in 1,200 homes and explain to them the physical defects of their children, but the health nurse did it. In addition to these activities, the health nurse conducted nutrition classes, dental clinics and baby clinics at various points in the county, and delivered scores of health lectures.

Difficult as the work has been, however, there were compensation. It is worth a great deal to feel that one has been instrumental in bringing about conditions which give little children better health, and to know that one has been of real service to parents in pointing out to them conditions surrounding the lives of their children of which they were not informed. These compensations the health nurse has, and they are worth more to her than is the salary she has received for her labors. It is a great work, and as the people become more familiar with it, it is becoming greater. The attitude of the public has changed toward it, from one of antagonism and suspicion to one of co-operation and gratitude, and we may hope that the time is to come when the public health service may be extended in such manner as to bring about the prevention of almost all of the ills to which childhood is heir. Already the general effect of the public health movement throughout the country is reflected in the lengthening of the span of life as the heretofore fearfully heavy mortality rate among children is gradually lowered, and there is reason to believe that some day the average child may be a normal, healthy creature with a prospect of living to a ripe old age. At the present time the average child is suffering from physical defects requiring correction, this fact having been brought out here and elsewhere throughout the country through the scientific inspections made by intelligent public health nurses.

COMRADES

There is a comradeship of courage. It was illustrated the other day when Roald Amundsen paid a visit to Dr. Frederick A. Cook, convict No. 231,110, in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth.

Amundsen, discoverer of the South Pole, hero of a half dozen daring expeditions into the frozen North and South, acclaimed one of the most intrepid explorers of all time, greeted his friend Cook, discredited, disgraced, convicted of fraud, serving a sentence of fourteen years.

One at the pinnacle of earthly fame, the other in the depths of degradation. Yet they met and chatted for an hour on the common level of comradeship. For they had been companions and friends in an elemental struggle such as tries men's souls, and they are comrades still.

Amundsen as mate and Cook as surgeon of the Belgica expedition in 1897-99 braved the rigors of the Antarctic together for two years and were both decorated by the king of Belgium upon their return. That association developed a friendship that only death can sever.

Although Cook made false claims to having climbed Mt. McKinley, in spite of his untrue story of having discovered the North Pole, regardless of his conviction as a swindler—he had shared with Amundsen the hardships and privations of polar exploration and his courage can not be discounted, even by his moral obliquity.

And true to the comradeship of courage, Amundsen is still his friend.

The preliminary agreement to settle the debt of Italy to England involves the payment of 62 annuities of an average of about $22,000,000 each. While this represents twice as much as Italy will pay to the United States, it is still a bargain made possible to some extent because of certain unfulfilled promises as to division of territory as a condition of Italy supporting the Allies during the World War.

The only thing about a pig that packers cannot market is his squeal. Its no good in any business.

If you would know success you must first know yourself, your job and human nature.

Senator Blease declared that he would stand “without a bite, without a drink, and without a wink, and talk until March 4, 1931,” if it would prevent the World Court. Now, who says we have no dyed-in-the-wool patriots in Congress?

In 1852, in discussing the possibilities of the telegraph, a Congressman said in a speech: “The time will come when all the proceedings in Congress will be transmitted in extenso, to all parts of the Union daily.” Unfortunately this dire prediction came true.

Pride Goeth Before A Fall

SO THINK WE

We think the the rouge and powder will wear off, but we doubt if the habit of wearing them will ever wear off.

We think the report that next summer will be a very cold one, was possibly hatched up by some fur dealer, in order that more warm clothes might be sold.

We think the stork evidently uses poor judgement as to where he leaves the little ones sometimes from the way some of the kiddies are not appreciated.

We think that Harvard student who has just received his degrees at Harvard, will probably settle down to business now, in his chosen profession.

We think the illuminated auto license plate, which is said to have been invented, will add a little more to the troubles of the traffic department. It is hard enough to keep the car lights burning, to say nothing of the license lights too.

We think that when you see a crowd gathered in the intersection of some of the prominent streets that you can guess that they are gathered there to hear which one was to blame for the wreck.

We think that when we come to the point we think that everybody is wrong about everything and we are right about everything, we are just simply wrong about that, to say the least of it.

We think when a fellow gets pulled for violations of the laws that he knows is a violation he should not kick at the officers for doing their duty. Most officers are reasonable if the other fellow wants to be.

We think that Lubbock health conditions are extra good, compared with many other places, but Lubbock can be made a more healthy town if the people will cooperate with the health officers in making it such.

We think the people of Lubbock should begin now to clean up and not wait to spring. Clean places look as well in winter as they do in the spring. Lets keep clean up!

We think the people of Lubbock should assist the officers of this city in locating the mother of the child that was found on the porch of one of the homes of this city a few days ago. It is nice that the little one found favor among many of the people of Lubbock, and offered a home, but that is not the point. The mother of this child should be found and required to take care of it, or suffer for the crime, together with the father of the founding, who should be handled according to the crime committed.

IT IS REPORTED

That the governors have sued Atticus Webb for libel, in connection with an alleged interview that certain State papers published.

That the contractors of the Cochran County court house will soon deliver the building to the commissioners. It is one of the best in the west, and Cochran county is justly proud of it.

That a few people still have the gall to drive automobiles without lights.

That the first man that ever lived was the one who invented fried chicken. The old boy certainly had a taste for real eats to say the least of it.

That several large business concerns are preparing to open for business in Lubbock in the near future. Lubbock is situated in such a rich section of the state that she just simply looks good to people who have money to invest.

That people are supposed to know—not us—to say that the chances of Lubbock getting a fine gas field is just simply “awfully good.”

That people are still paying auto licenses, and are paying a premium of twenty-five per cent now.

That the base ball fans of Lubbock are beginning to warm up.

That now some modern scientist say there is no missing link. For goodness sake, we seem to be getting closer and closer connected with the ape every day. If these scientists do not stop their foolishness we will be the ape itself pretty soon.

That the city of Lubbock may purchase five hundred or a thousand cupids for the convenience of their Battle Axe visitors. We are for most any means of escape from the showers of amber that are turned loose on the sidewalks of Lubbock most every day in the week

TIMELY WORLD VIEWS ON TOPICS

See Danger In Diminishing Forests

By CHARLES LATHROP PACK
President of American Tree Association

Paper and pencils, houses and hoops, desks and doors, soap and shoes, airplanes and automobiles, baseball bats and boats—all these things and hundreds more, depend partly or entirely upon the forests.

Without the trees we could not have them. They are all a part of our lives, our happiness and our comfort. We could not do without them.

But if we must have these things of everyday life we must have the forests to supply them. We must feed the goose that lays the golden egg of forest products.

When the Indian roamed this country there were some 822,000,000 acres of forested land. Much of this has been cut for farm and pasture, for cities and suburbs, as our population has grown.

It is estimated that we now have 138,000,000 acres of untouched forest, and 250,000,000 acres of what is called second growth timber of commercial value. About 81,000,000 acres of land fit for nothing but growing trees are now idle. These acres must be put to work so that we may have a continued timber crop every year.

We would be greatly alarmed if we were told that there was no wheat crop this year, and that there would be no bread after a certain date. No one can picture such a situation. Bread is the “staff of life,” it is said.

The products of the forest are equally a “staff” to industry and to us. We need a timber crop every year, just as we need a wheat or corn crop.

We find that our forests are going about four times as fast as they are being replenished. This is due to cutting for our needs and to destruction by forest fires, insect pests and diseases.

Owing to our constant increase in population we have growing demands for what the forest yields us.

Some of our leading thinkers predict a population in our country of 300,000,000 within a comparatively short time. That is almost three times what it is now. With the population going up hill and the forests going down hill, simple arithmetic shows a result that may well mean an economic disaster for this country. Today our greatest forest resources are long distances from the points of greatest need. Our centers of largest manufacture and densest population, and, therefore, of most intense use, are in the eastern half of the country. Tremendous tracts of forest land in this section have been cleared in the past to provide food-producing areas for this ever-increasing population. As a result there are no extensive forest areas near at hand.

DINNER STORIES

A clerk showed 40 patterns of gingham to a man whose wife had sent him to buy some for her, and at every pattern the man said: “My wife said she didn't want anything like that.” The clerk put the last piece back on the shelf. “Sir,” he said, “you don't want gingham. What you want is a divorce.”

A stranger entered the church in the middle of the sermon and seated himself in the back row. After a while he began to fidget. Leaning over to the white-haired man at his side, evidently an old member of the congregation, he whispered: “How long has he been preaching?” “Thirty or forty years, I think,” the old man answered. “I'll stay then,” decided the stranger. “He must be nearly done.”

A young woman who thought she was losing her husband's affection went to a seventh daughter of a seventh daughter for a love powder. The mystery woman told her: “Get a raw piece of beef, cut flat, about an inch thick. Slice an onion in two, and rub the meat on both sides with it. Put on pepper and salt, and toast it on each side over a red coal fire. Drop on it three lumps of butter and two sprigs of parsley, and get him to eat it.” The young wife did so, and her husband loved her ever after. The kindergarten had been studying the wind all week—its power, effects, etc.—until the subject had been pretty well exhausted. To stimulate interest, the kindergarten said, in her most enthusiastic manner: “Children, as I came to school today in the trolley car, the door opened and something came softly in and kissed me on the cheek. What do you think it was?” And the children joyfully answered, “The conductor!”

Enrollment in 4 summer high schools and 13 summer elementary schools of Philadelphia, Pa., increased in three years from 8,000 to 18,000.

WHO'S WHO IN THE NEWS

THOMAS O. MARVIN

The reappointment by President Coolidge of Thomas O. Marvin of Boston as chairman of the U. S. Tariff Commission is regarded as a rebuke to all those members of congress who favor a low tariff. Marvin is a high tariff man. It was in 1921 that Marvin was first named a member of the commission by President Harding. He had been editing The Protectionist for ten years. His present term of office expires in 1934.

Marvin was born in Portsmouth, N. H., in 1867. After graduating from Tufts College he entered the ministry, filling Universalist pulpits at Albany, N. Y., and Spencer, Mass., until 1894. In the latter year he left the ministry to become literary editor of the Boston Journal. He remained in newspaper work in Boston until 1921, when he became editor of The Protectionist. He is married.

LOBOES DOWN MATADORS 41 TO 24, ERRATIC PLAYS IN GOAL SHOOTING

Showing a superiority in goal shooting, the Sul Ross Loboes annexed the first game with the Matadors last night, 41-24. The game was faster than those of last week, as both teams played at a rapid gait all the time. The Matadors were very erratic in goal shooting, missing many shots. They have not yet reached good team work and were outclassed in the contest last night. But they kept fighting and did not give up until the final whistle. At the end of the first half the score stood, 18-15 in favor of Sul Ross. Getting a jump on the Loboes, the Matadors came within two points of tying them, but the Sul Ross team began to work together again and soon had a good lead.

Coch Higgins in both halves used several substitutes last night. Pace was sent in for the first time this season and gave a good account of himself. Gilbert White played a bang up game, depriving the Loboes of many shots. Alford was not in form last night, but came close to the basket on all his shots. Hunter was high point man for the Matadors with seven points. Captain Walker played with an injured leg, and was a rock on the defense.

Ford, center for the Loboes, was the main cause of the downfall of the Matadors. He was high point man in the game, registering a total of eighteen points. Cavet was next with ten. Both of these men are from Tulsa and have played together for several seasons. They worked well last night. The team work of the Loboes was good, but the Matadors broke through several times on the defense, only to miss crisp shots.

The same teams will play tonight at the Stock Judging Pavilion at 8 o'clock. Following is the summary of the game:

Matadors:	P.	F.	FG.	FP.	Points

FINALS IN RURAL BALL CONTEST START TODAY

The teams have been eliminated until only four teams are left in the contest.

Bledsoe defeated Monroe yesterday 48 to 2. The game was played on Monroe court. Canyon defeated New Hope 34 to 6. Liberty defeated Calisal 39 to 11.

The teams that still remain in the contest are Canyon, Liberty, Becton, and Shallowater.

MC MURRY INDIANS DEFEATED BY BUFFALOES

CANYON, Texas, Feb. 3.—The West Texas State Teachers' College Buffaloes stamped here tonight, defeating the McMurry Indians 42 to 14. The Indians were hopelessly outclassed, never proving to a scoring threat. The Buffaloes exhibited a marvelously fast passing game that baffled the efforts of the visitors.

Crump, the human tornado and Buffalo scoring ace, was in every play, winning high point honors, accounting for sixteen points. Hale, Buffalo captain, played his usual brand of flashy basketball. Lowes, Hill and Herm, playing center and guards, respectively, featured in the Buffalo defense with effective thoroughness, time after time feeding the ball to Hale and Crump. Coach Burton started his second string in the second half, and his visitors proved to be the equal of this squad, and an otherwise monotonous game proved interesting to the enthusiastically interested crowd that packed the Buffalo gym.

West of the Indian quintet was their flashiest player, accounting for most of the visitors' scores. This game was the first of a two-game series.

Coach Burton has been making earnest efforts to secure a game with the Sul Ross Loboes of Alpine. Thus far his efforts have been unavailable.

An initial fund of $5,000 has been donated for research into the cause of baldness, which it is hoped will result in scientific means of preventing same. In the meantime we shall keep on buying hair restorer from bald-headed barbers.

FANNING WITH FARRELL

By HENRY L. FARRELL
NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—"If hitting can do anything in the 1926 American League pennant race, we ought to be way up there," Ed Barrow, business manager of the New York Yankees said a few days ago.

"Our club is being rebuilt, almost entirely and we have made special efforts to grab young players who can hit. If the players we now have live up to past performance we will have eight men in the lineup who can hit .200 or better."

rise in the league race that the White Sox will furnish it. Collins is a hustler and he had the club going great last year.

The pennant races in both leagues ought to be corkers. The Pirates, the Giants and the Cincinnati Reds are possibilities in the National League, but the Pirates will be strong favorites to repeat as the team looks good for several years to come.

Art instruction has been undertaken by 10 rural school districts in Westmoreland County, Pa., under a special supervisor.

Piggly Wiggly

I've got mine, Boys!

YOU'LL say so when you discover what a perfect peach of a home-rolled cigarette P. A. makes. Pull up a chair and pull down your vest and get an earful of this sweet music about a better cigarette tobacco. We're talking about Prince Albert, you bet.

First off, P. A. rolls easier. It's crimp-cut and stays put. All of it goes into the papers . . . every fragrant, nut-brown grain . . . not into your lap or all over the floor. It burns better for the same reason. Doesn't go out as soon as you lay it down.

And you won't lay it down often when you discover that wonderful taste of real tobacco. Cool. Fragrant. Friendly. The Prince Albert process cuts out bite and parch pos-i-tive-ly. Get a tidy red tin or a toppy red bag today and you've got the best there is for cigarettes.

This goes for pipes too. If you've envied the fellows who have found pipe-contentment, just see what a wonderful difference P. A. makes in the bowl of a jimmy-pipe. Pipe or cigarette, your tobacco troubles are over when you sign up with Prince Albert.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins and toppy red bags. And always with every tin of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

PRINCE ALBERT

—no other tobacco is like it!

TEXAS DEMOCRATS TO DEMAND COMPLETE STATE SOVEREIGNTY AND RESIST FEDERAL ENCROACHMENT

DALLAS, Feb. 3.—Restoration to the state of complete sovereignty in the field of its own fiscal and legislative affairs is the goal of a movement that is to culminate in a mass meeting of Texas Democrats next Friday, February 12th in the Baker Hotel here. Decision to hold such an assembly of Texas Democrats was reached at a conference of legislators in Fort Worth last week and since that time a terribly worded call to arms has been broadcast all over the state over the signatures of Senator John Davis, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee; Senator Eugene Blount, Chairman House Appropriations Committee; A. J. Wirtz, Seignior chairman of the state affairs committee; Senator R. A. Stuart, Fort Worth, and Representative George C. Kemble, Fort Worth. They are members of the committee selected last November at an unofficial session of the legislature to go to Washington and petition the Texas delegation in congress to strive for the repeal of the federal inheritance tax.

Smoldering embers of resentment at what has been regarded as federal dictation of fiscal policies broke into full flame after the Texas legislators returned home with a report that they had been rebuffed and told to come back home and attend to their own business. Since that time Texas congressmen have been shouting further rebuffed in the halls of congress and the legislators back home on their own soil have been arming for battle with the hope of driving congress out of the field of state taxing and state spending.

Three definite purposes of the state meeting are set out in the call and all are contained within the matter of federal aggression. The first proposes "to permanently organize a movement within the democratic party to restore to the party and maintain the principles of local self government."

The others concerned more particularly with the present campaign are:

First, to protect against State Governments surrendering their taxing power to Congress as contemplated in the House provision of inheritance tax in the revenue measure now pending in Congress.

Second, to observe and resist the encroachment of the Federal Government upon the rights of states and to call a halt upon centralization of power in Washington through joint tax levies and disbursement of money by Congress and by transferring limited legislative and quasi-judicial powers to boards, bureaus and commissions.

An outline of plans for the mass meeting were announced today by Senator Davis who will preside as chairman and make the keynote address. As representative, senator and in the latter office chairman of the finance committee, Senator Davis has been a crusader against so-called fifty-fifty appropriations by which the state has been compelled to follow congressional lead in expenditures and against bureaucratic interference with the functions of state government.

The list of speakers will include men from every section of Texas who join in the belief that the time has come when state sovereignty must be won again through the voice of the electorate of the nation. Among them are: J. C. Adams, Dallas, Democratic National Committeeman from Texas; former Chief Justice Nelson Phillips, Dallas; W. W. Turney, former state senator, El Paso; Oscar Strubling, Waco; O. H. Cross, Waco; Judge Charles A. Pinner, Dallas; C. C. McDonald, Wichita Falls; L. H. Hart, San Antonio; John H. Kirby, Houston.

The meeting will be organized in the fashion of a state democratic convention with unofficial delegates seated according to congressional districts and district spokesmen will be chosen.

Preparation are being made for a large attendance, Senator Davis said, and the enthusiasm with which the call has been acclaimed leads to the belief that the effects will be far reaching.

"Already we are being advised of delegations forming in remote parts of the state," Senator Davis said, "and they are enthusiastic for such a campaign as we propose. We are not gathering in a spirit of peevishness at Texas congressmen nor out of malice for any individual. We are launching this campaign because great issues and perhaps even the fate of this nation is at stake and we believe the minds of the people are now in rebellion against the ever lengthening arm of the Federal government. When the people of this nation confer further powers on congress by constitutional amendment then it is proper for congress to exercise those powers but the time has come to call a definite halt to the centralization and bureaucratization of the affairs of this nation by tax bills and appropriations that are unwarranted under the constitution and every proper control over state affairs can only be won back through the votes of congressmen in their respective national houses and our scheme of government still entrusts the business of selecting congressmen to the folks in the street. This rebellion of thought against federal domination is nation wide and with its power we intend to declare a new that the states shall be supreme in their own sphere."

City Employee Hurt While At Work Yesterday

J. L. Lee, an employe of the water service department of the city of Lubbock, suffered painful injuries to his right leg and knee in a fall while at work with a crew of plumbers yesterday.

The injuries are not considered serious, and Mr. Lee will be able to resume work after a few days.

109 Reserve Plates For Banquet Retail Merchants Tuesday

One hundred and nine plates were reserved by members of the Retail Merchants Association as a result of four committee's work Wednesday morning when they visited members of the association making reservations for the banquet which will be held in connection with the annual meeting, February 9. About twenty per cent of the membership have not been visited yet and it is expected that one hundred and fifty Lubbock merchants will be in attendance at the meeting in addition to a large number of visiting officials of Retail Merchants Associations in other South Plains towns.

Invitations have been mailed to the presidents and secretaries of the merchants associations at Amherst, Crosbyton, Floydada, Idalou, Lamesa, Levelland, Littlefield, Lockney, Lorenzo, O'Donnell, Plainview, Ralls, Tulla, Slaton, and Brownfield.

Everything points to one of the most enthusiastic meetings the retailers have ever had in Lubbock according to reports from the four committees that made reservations for the banquet yesterday. Members of the committees that served in that capacity are: Fred Owens, chairman, O. B. Brothers and J. W. Aucutt; J. D. Hassell, chairman, and R. Etter; L. A. Howard, chairman and H. J. McClellan; and P. L. Sherrod, chairman; R. Martin, and J. C. Anderson.

A snappy program is being prepared for the annual meeting which will be featured by an address from Edgar H. Kemp, of San Antonio, representative of the Retail Merchants Association of Texas. A review of the accomplishments of the past year of the Retail Merchants Association and a look into the coming year in regard to a program of work will be touched by a member of the association in addition to the regular annual election of directors which comes at this time.

DRIVE TO RAISE TECH ATHLETIC DEFICIT WILL START AT 9 TODAY

Approximately seventy-five Lubbock citizens, members of the new Matador Club army, will assemble and stand at attention this morning at 9 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce offices when Colonel Walter A. Myrick, Jr., will give the command to comb the business firms of Lubbock soliciting funds to erase the $3,700 Tech athletic deficit.

The deficit, which was the natural thing to expect for the first season of Tech gridironers, is not the result of poor judgment or bad management of the athletic department, but comes as a result of natural things, according to Colonel Myrick. Uniforms for one hundred and thirty-five players had to be purchased for the first year, the gate receipts for the first year did not figure what they should as the team was not established as will be the case in a few years, and many other things which cannot be avoided, added together, left the athletic department with a $3,700 deficit while a much larger amount could have been expected.

Starting the house cleaning at home, the students and faculty of the Tech College came to the aid of the athletic department with all the funds they could spare, subscribing some $1,700 which they have applied on the deficit and cut it down to the present figure. It is now up to Lubbock merchants and business men to do their part, according to Hon. H. T. Kimbro, member of the board of directors who appeared before the Matador Club some time ago and requested that the drive be made at this time in order that he may be able to report to the board, which is in session at Fort Worth today, that Lubbock is maintaining the reputation which she has established in the past of backing the Tech College one hundred per cent in every legitimate manner.

When Colonel Myrick gives the command this morning at 9 o'clock, four majors, twelve captains and about sixty lieutenants will go out to erase the deficit in the same plucky manner and spirit which dominated the Texas Tech Matadors last fall when they held Austin College Kanpans to a 3-1 tie, defeated Clarendon College, Abilene Christian College, West Texas Teachers, Montezuma College, Wayland College, and Sul Ross Teachers and played a bang up game with the Howard Payne Yellow Jackets, one of the best teams in the T. I. A. A., and the only one on the nine-game schedule which were able to beat them.

When Colonel Myrick gives the command this morning he will have the following ranking officers in addition to some sixty lieutenants to see that his orders are carried out and that the books of the Tech athletic department can be balanced:

Major Owen McWhorter, Captains Pink L. Parrish, E. T. Adair, and W. T. Ray; Major Garland Woodward, Captains Ed Hall, Ed Inman, and F. A. Norman; Major E. C. Patterson, Captains Ross McWhorter, C. E. Anderson, and W. E. Davis; Major J. W. Raley, Jr., Captains Floyd Bowen, G. P. Kuykendall, and E. L. Robertson.

Important Cases Are Decided In Higher Courts

Court decisions were made yesterday having important bearing on cases that had been sent up to the higher courts after trial in the county and district courts of Lubbock, several Lubbock county people being affected by these decisions.

The case of A. L. Turner vs. W. M. Charbonneau, which was tried here a year ago, was affirmed by the Court of Civil Appeals at Amarillo.

The case of A. E. Whitehead et al. vs. Henry J. Reiger, and the case of the Western Union Telegraph Company vs. W. V. Cates, of Lubbock, were submitted in the Court of Civil Appeals at Amarillo yesterday.

The case of Mrs. Lizzie W. Wayland vs. G. W. Brunson, of Lubbock, was set for submission in the Court of Criminal Appeals at Amarillo on February 24th.

Ashcraft-Liquor Case is Reversed.

The case of the State of Texas vs. Red Ashcraft was reversed and remanded. The defendant was found guilty upon a charge of violating the prohibition laws and was sentenced to serve two years in the state penitentiary by the trial court here.

The Ashcraft case was tried during the April, 1925 term of the 72nd Judicial District Court, at which time Jack Kynock, a Californian, was also tried and found guilty of violating the prohibition laws and was sentenced to serve four years in the penitentiary. The Kynock sentence was affirmed.

One Sears has returned to his home here after a business trip to Dallas.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

Washington crossed the Delaware a century and a half or so ago, making it tough for the British and eventually leading to a glorious victory at Yorktown (another kind) crossed the Rubicon of baseball last Fall and Caesar Harris was forced to send a different kind of message to the Senate from what old Julius sent.

Which brings us to the question of the day among diamond fans and what is what kind of a crossing will it be a successful one or will there be a forced retreat?

Can the veterans of the Senators' roster, which staggered through to make the ripple this year?

One authority on the subject says: "Not is several other teams in the league play the kind of baseball they are capable of playing. I figure the Senators lucky to finish second and third place seems most likely their destination."

Griffith hadn't done much as yet in the way of rebuilding the team and his little unpleasantness with Harris over the latter's 1925 financial arrangements is not helping matters any. It may be that the faltering in the last world's series was the beginning of the end for Washington.

After all is said and done, the biggest problem Griff has to wrestle with is his pitching staff. Can Johnson, Coveleskie, Ruether and Ferguson duplicate their 1925 performances? Many critics think not. Ruether, you know, is dissatisfied because of the deal he received in connection with the series last fall.

Lefty Thomas, Harry Kelly and Win Ballou look the best of the newcomers on the hurling staff with Marberry and Zachary in the relief roles.

Taken from any angle the Washington situation is an interesting one.

the alleged charity bout put on by Fred Fulton and George Godfrey, wherein charity profited to the sum of $97.05. We don't know why the "generous" promoters turned over the extra five cents to charity but they did. As we said previously, some people in the sport world better take a look at the handwriting on the wall—that is if the year read English.

ACTIVITY TO BE RESUMED IN DISTRICT COURT TODAY WHEN COBB LIQUOR CASE WILL BE CALLED JURY IS SUMMONED

The abrupt close of the Whitfield liquor case in 72nd Judicial District Court here Tuesday disrupted the court machinery and very little business was transacted through Wednesday. When court convenes this morning the case of the State of Texas vs. Fred Cobb charging violation of the prohibition laws, will be called. Cobb was arrested early in 1925 by Sheriff Vernice Ford, following which he was held in the Lubbock county jail for a number of weeks and was finally released after making bond.

ADDITIONAL HELP IS EMPLOYED IN LOCAL ABSTRACT OFFICE

Miss Essie Brown, formerly of Fort Worth, has been employed in the office of the Wilson Abstract Company.

Ira Wilson, manager of the company, stated yesterday that the employment of additional help has been necessary to take care of the rapidly increasing business, occasioned on the most part by an increase in real estate activity in Lubbock since the latter part of January.

There is a great demand for property in Lubbock at this time, Wilson claims, with homes that are substantially built much in demand.

STEP-LIGHTLY PROVES HIS RIGHT TO HIS NAME

"Z-z-z-z-z-z!" The sound was so sudden and so shrill that Peter jumped. Then the boy laughed at himself for his fears. "A locust!" cried he. "I would know that sharp whirr anywhere. There is one that can make a noise like Mr. Cicada, is there, Step-Lightly?" Peter turned to his new friend and found the fellow had risen to his feet, standing as still as if he had been carved of stone. The young Lion Cub shook his head. "No," growled Step-Lightly, but under his breath and so low that Peter could scarcely hear him.

"With many insects as loud-mouthed as Cicada at large the world would be a bedlam. Thank goodness there are easy to silence, too, if one knew how to go about it."

"Z-z-z-z-z!" Again the rasping call that cut the silence into sharp jagged pieces.

"G-r-r-r!" I can't stand that racket any longer!" growled the Lion Cub. "Locust has made enough disturbance for one day. S-s-s-s-s! Don't speak! Don't make a move! I am going to find him!"

Peter had learned one thing—that in Animal-Land it always paid to do as you were told if you wanted to keep the Four-Foots in good humor. So, standing right where he was, and without asking questions, he watched Step-Lightly make for the cactus bush. Now, Step-Lightly's paws were big, and Step-Lightly was fat and round, and Step-Lightly looked clumsy. But he wasn't. Step-Lightly put one foot before the other, slowly, carefully, and for all the noise he made he might have been a bit of thistle blowing over the ground. The big Cat Cub was as dainty as the tiniest kitten.

Step-Lightly walked quickly, too. He disappeared behind the bush before Peter, fascinated, realized he had gone so far. And in a minute out he came again and trotted toward the boy.

"I know how you got your name, friend!" cried Peter. "Step-Lightly! You do, all right! Well, did you find Cicada, the Locust?"

"I did," growled the Lion Cub and patted his roly-poly tummy. "And he will never shrill again. He is safe in here."

BLEDSE COMMERCE BODY ORGANIZED

SLATON, Feb. 3.—W. H. McKirahan, vice president of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce met with the citizenship and accompanied the organization, a Chamber of Commerce for the new city of Bledsoe, that is located at the end of the Santa Fe branch line which was recently been constructed from the Slaton division. A. B. Davis, manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce had been invited to be present, but he failed to make his appearance.

A creditable representation was present at the initial meeting of the new body, the following were elected as officers: A. B. Thacker, president; W. M. Forgey, vice president; and R. E. McCoy, secretary. Nine directors were elected, and they met in a four hour session directly following the civic body's organization, to work out plans for the completion of some greatly needed highways into Bledsoe.

Aggie Students Of W. T. S. T. C. Make Experiments

Special to Avalanche.
CANYON, Feb. 3.—Fourteen boys studying vocational agriculture under the leadership of Professor T. M. Moore of the West Texas State Teachers College have recently made an experiment which is of the utmost importance to the poultry raisers of the Panhandle.

About Christmas time the white leghorn hens dropped off alarmingly in egg production. The students knew that the hens needed sprouted oats or some other food equivalent to them. There was no money on hand and sprouted oats would cost at least two cents a pound. It was then that Professor T. M. Moore suggested that corn silage be fed the hens. The silage cost less than one fourth cent per pound and in less than two weeks the white leghorns had increased their egg production more than two hundred per cent, and despite changes in weather have kept up to the high figure in appearance constantly improved in appearance.

Ensilage has been used successfully for several years for the dairy cows of the West Texas State Teachers College herd, but the idea of using it for poultry is a new one. Professor Moore considers this experiment to provide for flocks with the needed winter food even when drought or unseasonable freezes cause the crops to be below normal. Feed that is very dry or that has been frozen may be kept in a silo and while its quality will not be as good as in more favorable years it will still be entirely usable.

Archibald Laug, a sophomore student of the college, is in charge of the flock of leghorns and is making the poultry project pay its own way.

BOND FORFEITED IN NICKEL CASE

When P. E. Nickel, charged with violating the Prohibition laws, failed to appear in court Monday morning, Judge Mullican ordered forfeiture of the $1,000 bond under which he was held.

F. H. Lanham and J. M. Simmons signed the bond that secured Nickel's release from the Lubbock county jail following his arrest, however, they have until the opening of the next regular term of the court to have the defendant haled into court.

ROGERS CASES HAVE BEEN CONTINUED

The two cases against John and R. E. Rogers were continued when called for trial. They will probably be heard during the next term of the court.

U. S. EARTHQUAKE SURVEY TERMED A WASTED EFFORT BY ITALIAN QUAKE EXPERT

By RAFFAELE BENDANDI
(Written for the United Press)
FAENZA, Italy, (United Press)—
The ghastly list of casualties resulting from the instability of the earth's crust, has reached appalling figures in the first 20 years of the 20th Century. This is more than sufficient to give a right idea of the vast, important and complex problem of the seismic forecasting, and the absolute necessity and usefulness of solving it, as well.

America has taken the initiative by starting a vast work of preparation, consequences that would result from an earthquake in populated areas.

Carnegie Institute at Washington is carrying on the most minute researches concerning earthquakes, and appropriating large sums toward establishing a chain of geographical observatories in southern California.

The United States Coast and Geodetic Survey was empowered by Congress to start an accurate investigation of the causes and the effects of the telluric movements.
The Engineering Economic Foundation is making preparations in case of a disaster in any of the large American cities. Special classes on seismology have been instituted in many universities of the New World.

All these plans, however, though carried out with the abundance of means of which America alone is capable, cannot be productive of a precise forecasting of earthquakes.

Telluric movements, which still constitute a puzzle to science, persist in being as impenetrable a mystery as before. As the most powerful of modern telescopes is of no use in the forecasting of an eclipse or any other celestial phenomenon, likewise the most sensitive recording machinery is of no avail to the seismologist in predicting earthquakes.

The earth has a precise history which dates back for centuries.
Grandiose events followed each other in succession in prehistoric ages, and their traces can be found everywhere. The earth has its laws and habits but they cannot be traced with mechanical apparatus, even though special ones, as so many erroneously believe.

The earthquake is not an outbreak of blind forces, but an unavoidable and forecastable movement of the earth, regulated by very precise laws. The forecasting of earthquakes, as I have often and abundantly demonstrated, is today a possible fact, but it is necessary in advance to start from a new theoretical conception as to the origin of these phenomena. The researches being carried on in the seismological field nowadays are following the wrong track.

The forecasting of earthquakes is possible but it is indispensable to admit in advance that the telluric activity, wherever it occurs, is closely connected by an inter-continental link, and that volcanoes and earthquakes have a common origin, even though the forces endangering the centers wherefrom such phenomena originate, are of different and manifold character.

Think of the wonder that will be seismogenic theory, finally announced and duly expounded, will in a most clear and unmistakable way, grouse the day in which my new prove that the most tremendous disasters, such as those of Charleston in 1886, Martinique 1902,
San Francisco 1906, Messina 1908, Yokohama 1923, and the recent one at Santa Barbara, could have been predicted a considerable time in advance, as I publicly proved in connection with the earthquake at Barbara, for they all came from the same origin and cause.

To this great conception, whereby it is possible to explain and predict earthshaking of the poles, a fact that has aroused such tremendous interest in the scientific world.

This cause, unique and profound, which makes the unexplored underground ferment and threaten, is positive the same one from which the orogenetical corrugation of the earth's crust originates, a corruga-tion that shaped the mountains throughout the centuries by means of earthquakes, bradisism, eruptions and similar outbursts, whereof those which now terrify us are but mere episodes.

The forecasting of earthquakes is possible only by treading along this path. But as long as the American offensive against earthquakes, the involving the expenditure of huge sums, is confined to founding obs-servatories, installing apparatus, studying the effects rather than the causes, it will not cause the saving of a dollar or a human life, nor will help in forecasting the repetition of the frightful phenomenon.

Billy Cullum, of the William D.
Cullum Company, Studebaker agency, left yesterday for Chicago to attend the Chicago or National Automobile Show. He will likely visit the factory of Studebaker at South Bend before returning.

EN ROUTE Washington, D. C., Aug. 7, 1925.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Contradicting the general belief and several persistent rumors, we do not use any special or high test gasoline in our equipment; neither do we use castor oil for lubrication.

We do, however, use straight TEXACO gasoline, the same grade as sold in the TEXACO service stations and regular TEXACO Super Heavy Motor oil in all our flying ships.

We have found it the best fuel and oil available, far superior to any other product on the market and have found straight TEXACO gasoline superior to high test gas of some of the manufacturers. We have been using TEXACO exclusively for four years.
