Farmers Smiling Again As Rains Blanket County

Loraine Records 1 1/4-Inch

Mitchell County farmers are smiling again. Slow, soaking rains of up to 1 1/4 inches, much needed in the County, fell over almost its entire area Wednesday, Wednesday night and early Thursday morning.

County farms and ranches gained the benefit of the welcome moisture. It was especially welcomed by the small number of wheat farmers in the county, wheat is now well advanced with rapid growth the last few weeks.

The rainfall couldn't have been more timely — just as any farmer-rancher. The slow, steady downfall came on top of a Mar. 14 8-inch snowfall that delivered about 2 inches in moisture and a Mar. 20 rainfall that approached an inch in most parts of the county.

The rain comes at a good time for ground broken for row crop planting. Spring pastures are expected to "soak up" with the additional moisture — it means more "gold" in the pockets of county farmers.

Loraine recorded the county's heaviest fall — about 1 1/4 inch in the downtown area and approximately the same in the area. "Especially good for our cultivated land," said one area farmer.

Colorado City had a total of 81 of an inch with 69 of it falling Wednesday.

Reports from other areas of the county:

Buford — 1 inch

Seven Wells — 1 1/4-inch of "desperately needed" rain.

A great benefit to stock and grass, reports a resident.

Shepherd — 1 1/4 inch also. A boost for young grain in the area.

Landers — 1 inch.

Silver — 1 inch, benefit to pasture land of area.

China Grove — 1 inch.

Loraine Community Gives "Helping Hand" to Farmer

By MRS. ROY WELLS

LORLAINE The people of LORLAINE are noted for helping a neighbor in a time of need and they once again lived up to their name recently during the illness of Victor Galvan.

People of the Loraine community have flat-broke and bedded Galvan's entire farm since a cotton gin accident that cost him his right leg. Galvan was injured Jan. 20 while working in Co-op Gin No. 1 key. He, a lint cleaner, was in the top of the gin making ing repairs when he fell and broke his leg.

The leg was amputated 9 days later in Abilene.

While Galvan was convalescing in Abilene, Loraine citizens gathered at the Galvan farm 6 miles northeast of town and flat-broke all of the crop land. A total of 42 tractors from the local area were used in the operation.

A barbecue dinner, furnished by the gin and its manager, E. J. Schroeder, was served along with pies and cakes brought by local women.

But Loraine didn't stop there.

Monday, Mar. 26, they returned to bed the land — with 12 tractors. A covered dish dinner was served.

Galvan, 44, and his family moved here 9 years ago from Brownfield. He has farmed R. L. Brame's 240-acre farm for 8 years and been employed at the gin 7 years.

Galvan, the father of 11 children, was hospitalized when the latest addition to his family arrived.

Hoback Tops Field In Council Election

A political newcomer and 2 incumbents were named to the City Council here Tuesday in the 1962 City Election.

Newcomer R. J. Hoback, partner in Colorado Feed and Seed, 1st and Pine Sts., easily gathered the most votes, as predicted and a seat on the Council.

Re-elected to second terms were present Councilmen Dan John H. Chinn and H. I. Berman.

Dan Pritchett and Winston W. Smith finished fourth and fifth, respectively, in the balloting.

A total of 566 votes were cast with Hoback, 38, amassing 449. Chinn ran second, 73 behind Hoback, with 374. Berman's total was 312.

The 566 vote total was the lowest in 3 years in a City Election. In 1961, 762 votes elected 4 Councilmen — a newcomer to the City's governing body. In 1959, a surprise total of 716 cast votes in the election in a sweeping election of newcomers.

Chinn, 37, associated with Rhode-Cowan Clinic here, returns for his second 2-year term as does Berman, 63, retired business man.

Pritchett, real estate dealer, received 278 votes, trailing all other candidates was Smith, roofer, with 179. Smith ran on a reform 15-point platform.

The 3 will be sworn in Monday night at the Council's regular monthly meeting in City Hall which begins at 7:30 p. m. Final approval on the City's 1962 budget is expected at that time also.

Councilmen will elect a new Mayor Monday night, also. Present Mayor Glenn R. (Bob) Robinson, holder of the City's highest office both years of the only 2-year term he served on the Council, was not a candidate for re-election.

Incumbent J. W. King and Troy Jones were elected to Loraine's City Council in Tuesday balloting.

King, publisher of the Mitchell County News, received 90.

Others seeking election were T. J. Riden, H. L. Leach and Claude Neely. Riden received 81 votes, Leach 71 and Neely 41.

Westbrook elected a Mayor 2 Councilmen and approved a plan to sell delinquent tax property in its Tuesday City Election.

Free Color Use Enhances Mrs. Mae Fuller's Home

The exterior of Mrs. Mae Fuller's home is designed along the same lines as an old Southern mansion and the colors of both the exterior and the interior are blended so as to be beautiful, colorful and subtle. It is constructed of dark-faced brick in a rose beige tone.

The brick is a sharp contrast to the five slender white columns that support the wide porch. Three huge full-length windows face onto the porch. The wide door is flanked on either side by white shutters that match those that close the windows.

This home is one of 4 that will be shown April 5 (today) in the semi-annual Pilgrimage of Homes sponsored by the 1962 Study Club.

The wide front door leads into an entrance hallway. The hallway floor is covered with square tile in a beige tone. Walls throughout the house that are not paneled are done in a champagne color.

From the entrance hallway, a double open doorway leads into the living room, a door leads into the den and the hallway arches to connect with the bedroom hallway. A huge gilt mirror stands over a table in the hall. A white cupid candle-holder from England accents the table.

The last bedroom is located at the end of the hallway and a door from this bedroom opens into its own bathroom done identical to the others in a color scheme of pink and beige. Color scheme for the last bedroom is white and beige. Rose beige shantung curtains hang at the windows. A brown and gold chair high light the room. A door opens from this bedroom onto the back patio. A double sliding-door closet is on one wall.

Several accents in Mrs. Fuller's home came from Carlton House in Houston. The gift house was founded by her late son, Carlton Fuller, who owned and operated it for several years before his death.

The huge house is designed not only for the convenience of Mrs. Fuller, but the house is located only one block from the residence of her son, Raymond Fuller, with whom she owns and operates Fuller Foods.

The spacious front and back lawns are beginning to show the first sign of color, which will only enhance the design of the house with the beauty of many colors blended together.

Study Sessions Are Begun by WSCS Group

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church met in Fellowship Hall Wednesday, Mar. 28, and Wednesday Apr. 4, for the first 2 sessions of a series on the topic, "The Meaning of Suffering."

Group singing was led by Mrs. Darris Egger. Mrs. Lee Strain accompanied at the piano.

Mrs. W. E. Welter, study leader, called the meeting to order and introduced Mrs. Charles C. Thompson, local society president, who extended a welcome to the group.

Mrs. Welter presented the devotional and the opening prayer.

She led an open discussion on "The Causes of Suffering" in the Mar. 28 meeting. This discussion brought out the idea that Christ is an example that everyone must suffer that suffering is being cut off from God; that we must forget ourselves and bear each other's burdens; that suffering produces endurance, endurance produces character and character produces hope; Eternity is now.

The Apr. 4 meeting was based on the topic "God's Will." It was divided into 2 parts "Sources of Suffering We Can Understand," and "Sources of Suffering We Can Not Understand."

Others attending the meeting were Mmes. Ed Richardson, B. J. Riley, A. G. Dibble, J. T. Pritchett, Tom rant, G. W. Rhode and Tie Yowell.

Two more morning sessions will complete this study. They will be conducted Wednesday, Apr. 11 and 18. Meetings begin at 9:30 a. m. and dismiss at 11 a. m. A nursery is provided for children and every woman in the community is invited to attend.

Senior Citizens Meet At Community Center

Zetagathian Club Members Hear Report On Finland

Mrs. James Trammell and Mrs. Sam L. Majors, Jr. presented the program to the members of the Zetagathian Study Club in its recent meeting in the home of Mrs. Larry Kinard at the Texas Electric Village.

The program was titled "Neighbors Abroad." The program was based on the European country of Finland.

Mrs. Trammell told of Finland's culture and ideals and Mrs. Majors told of its current status.

The program was begun by the introduction of Mrs. O. B. Trulock who played Jean Sibelius' "Finlandia" on the piano.

Mrs. Trammell began her talk of Finland's culture and ideals by saying, "The national character of the Finnish people can be summed up in one short word. That word is sisu. It is a Finnish word, meaning a solid, rock-like obstinacy. And from this quality derives the patient endurance and dogged courage on which the Finns pride themselves. This quality of sisu has preserved the Finns as a race through thousands of years of primitive life; it has preserved them through hundreds of years of occupation of their country, first by Sweden, then again and again by Russia, where a more ornate gallantry would have surely given way to despair. And it has at last borne them through their long struggle into independence and nationhood.

"Up to the nineteenth century, no Finnish literature had appeared. In 1548 Michael Agricola, a Finn who had a pupil of Martin Luther, had preached in Finnish—instead of the accepted Latin, and had translated the New Testament into that language. In 1776 a Finnish dictionary was compiled by a professor at Turku University.

"Even at this time they were aware of their lack of literature; thus the long struggle from "Chanted Runes" to "Enchanting Blueprint." The Finns have never allowed things just to grow, to develop, to happen; for Nature, as it were, to take its course. The Finn, as a human, is master of his universe. Their purpose is to give the new political shamans control over bricks and stones and mortar, forests, trade, economics and even over the private life of other Finns.

"Finland's survival seems almost a superhuman feat, continued Mrs. Trammell. "Enough no doubt to convince the Finn that he is the true master of his fate and that clear planning and indomitable will accomplish miracles.

"Turko, until quite recently bore the simple name of Abo; she is Finland's oldest city, the cradle of her civilization and culture. In Abo, the Mother Church was erected and thus began the autocratic domination of the Catholic Bishops, who ruled the Finnish church for nearly four hundred years. It was under the reign of Bishop Hemming, in 1354, that the world-renowned library of Abo was begun. A library is always a sign of prosperity, for books are costly and readers require the luxury of leisure.

"Finland was the first European country to grant women the right to vote and it may be significant that the oldest Finnish document, proudly preserved in her archives, deals with the protection of women.

"There are four great names, like human trademarks, that carry Finland's fame throughout the world. The first is Paavo Nurmi, proving with rhythmic stride and stopwatch on his wrist his country's unflagging sisu and self-discipline. By 1930 he held 37 world records for distance running. Then there is the great Sibelius, through whose music Finland's soul sings to the world.

"The architecture of the Saarinens, Eliel and Eero, father and son, leaps bravely into the future, inspiring all to follow them. Eliel, the father, is most famous for his design of the Helsinki railroad station but perhaps is better known in America for having won 2nd prize in the Chicago Tribune's great international building competition. It is claimed that his innovations revolutionized skyscraper architecture in the states.

"His talented son Eero Saarinens seems destined to become even more famous. He was born in Finland and now lives, a naturalized citizen, in Michigan. His most outstanding creation to date is the newly completed TWA terminal at New York's Idlewild Airport.

"Field Marshall Mannerheim, in his way, is the greatest of them all. But for him there would be no Finnish athletes, Finnish music or Finnish architecture. In fact, but for him there would be no Finland.

"The life of Baron Gustav Mannerheim cannot easily be separated from the contemporary history of the country itself, so closely were the two intertwined. Far-seeing diplomat, titled patriot, ablest of professional soldiers, self-sacrificing servant of his people, Mannerheim must be measured by higher standards than the ones we apply to those other great Finns, the athlete, the composer, the architect, the Nurmi, Sibelius, the Saarinens exemplify attainable goals. Mannerheim is less, or more, than a popular idol. He is a remote ideal."

Mrs. Trammell closed her program by saying, "Finland is a small country but its ideals are big. Striving always to conform to a standard of perfection."

"The Current Status of Finland" was the part of the program presented by Mrs. Majors. She said, "Most Americans, it seems, know at least two things about Finland: it pays its debts and fights for its independence. The surest way to rouse a Finn to anger is to speak of 'poor little Finland.' The 4,500,000 citizens of this lake-studded forest shaded north land do not feel sorry for themselves. Squeezed in between the Russians and the cold gray sea, and well beyond the range of Western help, the Finns count only on themselves for their survival as an independent nation.

"As European nations go, Finland is a young country, having declared its independence from Russia in 1917. Helsinki, the capital, has been spruced up under the czar's indulgent rule to become a small replica of proud Saint Petersburg. It's elegant waterfront still looks out over the dark sea with the self-confidence of a provincial nobleman dressed in his Sunday best. It is hard to resist the charm of Helsinki."

"Warm friendship has long linked the Finns and Americans. Who does not remember the punctilio with which Finland repaid her debt to the United States when almost everyone else was in default? This $8,500,000 loan, extended after World War I for purchases of food and medicine, is still being paid off at the annual rate of $400,000 and will be liquidated by 1984. In every Finnish town today people show an eager interest in all the aspects of American life. English is gradually taking equal place with German as the Finn's second language.

"While today the peace treaty with Russia limits the standing army to 40,000," Mrs. Majors continued, "all young men must take military training for a year, and the forest operation is a part of it.

"These are a tough people, a stubborn people, and the oncoming of the nuclear age seems to have altered their outlook little, if at all.

Mrs. Majors concluded her program by saying, "The day may come when Moscow, tired of playing cat and mouse with Finland, decides to liquidate her as an independent nation. And the United States, all her sympathy for Finland

They attended First Baptist Church there Sunday morning and visited the Iran Oil notwithstanding, would be incapable of doing anything had by then extended to 'poor little Finland' the cover of the Big Deterrent.

"Even though in its current status, Finland's survival has a hairbreadth quality; it is a valiant little nation, stubbornly clinging to independence."

Mrs. Bob Robinson presented the County Federation report which urged the club to contribute to the support of the museum and also asked for volunteers to serve as hostesses on the days the museum is open.

Committees for the closing dinner of the club were appointed. They are: Decorations and menus, Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Kinard; and Entertainment, Mrs. John Brand and Mrs. Bob Reilly.

Next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Bob Robinson, 898 E. 8th St. Apr. 12.

By PEGGY BELVIN

THIS WRITER JUMPED off the deep end this week in one of the female species' most intriguing pastimes... changing the color of her hair.

Since I have always been envious of the more lucky members of my sex who were blessed with golden tresses, my female ego would not be satisfied until I, too, had experimented with the wonders that pour from the tiny bottles of goop that can change the color of the hair completely... after a long and most tortuous procedure.

So... with the help of a friend, MISS NANCY HARDIN... I jumped off... and right into a blonde head-full of misery. Pictures on the bottle depicted end results of a light silvery blonde shade, but not so, on my unpredictable growth.

Instead of the light silvery blonde, my hair emerged the bright yellow color of buttercups. On buttercups the color is beautiful, but one me... even the buttercups would not claim the color!

SO... TO TRY TO REMEDY this situation, I purchased some of the silver-grey pellets used by women to blend in graying hair. This procedure was to tone the brassy yellow into a silver beige.

But again... not so on my ostentatious head. The gray over the buttercup yellow produced a beautiful color... but only in places. In other places the buttercup yellow continues to shine through like the vari-colored hues produced by the Northern Lights shining through an ice cap.

So... back to the ol' color bottle. It seems that the only way to escape from this never-ending seizure of the color-up program is to shave my head and start again.

This... my friends... is the fate of one who dares to trespass in the domain of "Old Mother Nature."

DOUBLES GOAL OF $1,000

Mothers' March Nets Over $2692

The total collection of the Mother's March of Dimes for 1961 is $2692.77. This amount is $1,692.77 over the goal of $1,000.

The announcement of the collection was made this week by A. L. McSpadden, county chairman, and Mrs. Frances Wood, chairman of the Mother's March.

For the first time Colorado City Jayceettes this year staged the Mother's March of Dimes. They recruited help from county mothers in a door-to-door drive plus mail soliciting.

Up until this year, Mitchell County was the second county in Texas to stage a county-wide drive.

Mrs. Wood expressed her appreciation of the county mothers and others who had helped with the drive.

The Mother's March door-to-door campaign netted $1,589.12 of the total. Schools which contributed to the drive were Westbrook, Colorado City Junior High School, Hutchinson School, Wallace School, Primary School, Colorado City High School, Loraine and the Dorn Day School. These contributions totaled $159.15.

The Veterans of Foreign War contributed $100 to the fund and Mrs. Dee Bassham contributed $100. The remaining $744.50 was collected from personal contributions and mail soliciting.

Mrs. Wood announced that the Jayceettes have voted to conduct the drive again next year and are looking forward to help from individuals to make it an even bigger year.

BY BILL EVERETT, HISTORY TEACHER

Events Leading to Civil War Are Related to Study Club

Bill Everett, history teacher in Colorado City schools, was guest speaker at the Saturday meeting of the Hesperian Daughters Study Club in the home of Mrs. Willis A. Jones.

The meeting was opened with the club collect. Minutes for previous meetings were read and approved. A financial report was presented. The club president, Mrs. Donald Albright, presented a short report on the district convention and reported on the award won by the club.

The meeting was in charge of Mrs. Brooks Teague, who introduced Everett. His topic was "Events Leading to the Civil War."

"The Civil War was not something that just happened on the spur of the moment," Everett began. "Conflict grew for many years gaining in significance until it became an inextinguishable force."

"With the completion of acquisition of new territory in this country, making the United States and its territories extend from one ocean to another, we found that we had a coast line of approximately 1,000 miles of Pacific and thus made China and Japan our next-door neighbors."

"After the completion of the land, David Wilmot of Pennsylvania offered an amendment stating that: 'neither slavery nor involuntary servitude shall ever exist in any part of territory acquired from Mexico. The House was anti-slavery, due to the increase in Northern population. It passed the amendment at once. The Senate, thanks to the new slave states of Florida and Texas, had a pro-slavery majority, and defeated it."

"The Oregon territory had been acquired two years before New Mexico and California, and its organization was taken up by the government first. This was northern territory, not suitable for cotton, rice or tobacco, or indeed for Negro slavery at all. But the Southern radicals were unwilling to leave slavery out of anything; and Jefferson Davis of Mississippi who with William Yancey of Alabama became the chief spokesman of the slave states in the last of Calhoun's power; and afterwards, introduced an amendment which stated: 'Nothing shall authorize the prohibition of slavery in Oregon, so long as it is a part of the territory of the U. S.'"

"The amendment was voted down. But it was clear that both North and South were dissatisfied with the Missouri Compromise (1820). This compromise had been made between the North and South. For some years there had been a struggle in the State between the free states and the slave states. Since each state had two Senators, these two groups were exactly balanced as long as the number of free states and slave states remained equal. Neither group was willing to see the other have the larger number of Senators. Before Missouri asked to be admitted to the Union, the 2 groups were equal. If Missouri was admitted as a slave state, the slave states would then have the advantage of a larger number of Senators."

"As might be expected, the free state men in Congress objected to admitting Missouri as a slave state."

"The matter was not settled until Maine asked to enter the Union as a free state. A compromise was then proposed and put into effect by which both states were accepted. The Missouri Compromise was passed in 1820. Maine entered the Union the same year. In 1821 Missouri became a state. Under the terms of the Compromise, in all the remainder of Louisiana Territory north of the parallel 36 degrees and 30 minutes (Southern boundary of Missouri) there was never to be any slavery."

"A new doctrine was introduced. Brown as 'Squatter Sovereignty' reported by Lewis Cass, a Democratic Senator from Michigan. This doctrine would make new territory thrown open to free and slave state settlers alike, and the majority of one or the other would settle whether the application for statehood would include slavery or a prohibition of it. He felt like the suitability of the lands for slaves would determine whether they came in or not; he overlooked the bitter efforts of north and south to win the disputed western lands. Once again, the doctrine was overruled.

"In 1848, gold was discovered in the territory of California and overnight, thousands of people made a rush for the land, hoping against hope to strike it rich. In one year, the population of California rose from 6,000 in 1849 to 85,000 in 1850. These people were called the 49ers and in September of 1849, they drew up a constitution prohibiting slavery without any opposition. In December of 1849, when the U. S. Congress met, California stood at the door, constitution in hand, asked statehood as a free state. And it was clear that New Mexico would knock at the same door within a year or 2, for its citizens were already organizing. The question of slavery could be ignored no longer."

"The season opened like a madhouse. Senator Toombs of Georgia, a prominent pro-slavery representative, in the tense fight for the speaker ship, declared that if the slaveowners were driven from California and New Mexico, he was ready for disunion."

Then Henry Clay came forward with his final effort to pour the oil of compromise on the turbulent waters of sectional feeling. The South was demanding California slave; and New Mexico slave, at least below the Missouri Compromise line; Texas with its 1829 boundaries; slavery in the District of Columbia; a strict-fugitive slave law, excluding the right of trial by jury by alleged run away slaves. The north demanded free California and New Mexico, a reduced Texas without compensation, abolition of slavery in the DC, and full jury trial for every alleged fugitive slave. How could all of these disagreements be welded into a single bill which could secure a majority from all of the various sections of the country?

"A great debate arose concerning the bill called the Omnibus Bill because it provided for so many things at once and had left out practically nothing of importance. Finally the bill was accepted being called the Compromise of 1850."

"Most Americans thought that Clay's bill had settled forever the disputes over slavery. The few wise men of the government knew better."

"The North slowly turned against their bargain of the fugitive slave act. They argued that many free negroes of the north could be trapped and brought into slavery or worse. The newspapers, the preachers, the politicians joined in condemning it. There were hundreds of meetings that were held in opposition to it. The north had been proud of their system of underground railroads, helping negro to escape, now the new law was making it a criminal offense to continue it."

"By 1852, the south seemed on their way to increased riches. By this time cotton was bringing in a hundred million dollars annually, the south-erners believing that they were ahead of the north economically. However, this was to prove to be very wrong. In the next few years, prices in-creased, manufacturing in-creased, immigration brought thousands to this country, most of them settling in the east, giving them a huge advantage in population and better control of the government. The big problems between north and south were still there and getting bigger each year."

"In 1854, Stephen Douglas introduced in Congress a bill which stirred up all the old bitterness over slavery. The Kansas-Nebraska Act, as his bill was called, would create Kansas and Nebraska Territories, both open to slavery. When each territory became ready to apply for admission to the Union, its settlers would decide whether it should apply as a free or a slave state."

"The bill passed and the north was furious. The Missouri Compromise was thus annulled. Abolitionists poured into Kansas to make settlements. They would show the South that it couldn't get territory in which to spread slavery. Southerners also came to Kansas. For three years there was violence and bloodshed. Men from Missouri rushed in on election day and stuffed the ballot boxes. For a while, Kansas had 2 governments, one abolitionist and one wanting slavery."

"James Buchanan, a weak democrat, was inaugurated as president of the U. S. on March 4, 1857. A timid soul, he found himself able to do very little concerning the strife and unrest that was coming between the sections of the country."

"First important thing concerning his administration was with the Dred Scott Case in Supreme Court. Dred Scott was a slave whose master had taken him into forbidden land by the Missouri Compromise. Scott had sued for his freedom, through the influence of abolitionists. The Court voted against Scott."

"The Southerners were delighted; the North was dumbfounded."

"The next thing of importance leading up to the Civil War concerned the same Stephen Douglas who in 1850, found himself confronted by an opponent for the election of president.

The opponent's name of course was Abraham Lincoln. He found many people, including Lincoln, that were blaming him for the Kansas mess. Lincoln was a member of the newly organized Republican Party. Therefore, Lincoln and Douglas engaged in a series of seven debates, all of them taking place in the state of Illinois."

"The comparison of the 2 men was almost a thing of comedy. Douglas was always immaculately dressed. He was only 5'2" in height but had a massive control of the English language. Lincoln wore a rusty frock coat with sleeves that stopped several inches short of his wrists, well worn trousers that had a reluctance to approach a pair of enormous feet. Besides all that, he had a habit of bending his knees and then rising to his enormous 6'4" height, plus tiptoes and jerking in order to enforce a point."

"To add to the miseries of the South, we have the appearance of a long, gray-bearded elderly gentleman by the name of John Brown. He was a mentally unsound abolitionist that believed that the only thing that would end slavery was the flow of blood. In 1858, he raided plantations in Missouri and carried off the slaves to Canada."

Brown planned to seize the U. S. armory and arsenal at Harper's Ferry, Virginia. Everett continued. "He planned on the slaves coming to his aid which they never did. Brown and his men attacked on Oct. 16, 1859. They captured the arsenal and waited for the slaves to join them. Instead, the U. S. Army arrived and after a battle in which most of the Brown gang was wounded or surrendered, Brown, personally wounded, was forced to surrender. The officer in charge of the northern troops was Colonel Robert E. Lee."

"Brown was hanged for his atrocities."

"Only because of a split in the Democratic Party, Abraham Lincoln was elected President of the United States. Immediately upon the election of Lincoln, South Carolina government called for a state convention. At this convention, it was declared that the Union and South Carolina was hereby dissolved. Following South Carolina, the states of Mississippi, Florida, Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana and Texas also seceded."

The seven hostile states took steps immediately to organize themselves into some kind of kab government."

They organized the Confederate States of America on Feb. 8, 1862. The next day Jefferson Davis was elected President."

"Lincoln on April 6, ordered an expeditionary force to sail to Fort Sumter in Charleston, South Carolina for the purpose of removal of Federal troops and supplies. Steward however, deceived Lincoln and had the ships sent to Fort Pickens, higher up the coast. Meanwhile, the Southern forces were spoiling for a fight. "The commander of Fort Sumter was Major Robert Anderson, a Kentuckian who loathed the idea of Civil War. Anderson requested to General Beauregard, commander of the Southern forces, that he be allowed 2 days to surrender; but the eager Beauregard refused his request."

"Instead, at 4:30 a. m. the morning of April 12, 1861, the first gun of the Civil War was fired against Fort Sumter. The man that fired that first shot was named Edmond Events Ruffin."

"After 33 hours of constant bombardment, the Northern forces were out of food and ammunition and were forced to surrender. The amazing thing concerning the entire bombardment was the fact that not a single life had been lost. The only man to lose his life in all the activity was killed accidentally while firing a final salute to the Union as the flag was lowered for the last time. Fifty rounds were to be fired. The very last one exploded and killed Private Daniel Hough. Therefore Private Hough had the unfortunate privilege of being the first man killed in the Civil War."

In conclusion, Everett said "It was a gigantic gamble for the old South. The South that is forever dead. Everything was against her except desire. The desire to fight to the last man for a way of life, something that their character told them was necessary, though hopeless."

"Yet, who are we to say what was right or wrong? How could we possibly understand the hearts and lives of the men before us? Let us say that it is something we dare not forget as Lincoln put it from his famous Gettysburg Address:

"It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us; that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they here gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that the nation shall, under God, have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people

TO THIRD IN DISTRICT MEET

Northcutt, Cupp and Fox Pace Wolf Track Team

Colorado City's Wolves, paced by the record-breaking and record-breaking runs of Kenneth Northcutt and Randolph Cupp and surprise finishes by sophomore Freddie Fox, placed third in the 1962 District 3-AAA track and field meet Saturday.

The meet was conducted on Snyder Tigers' track in Snyder.

The Tigers continued to dominate the championships in the district by walking off with the 82 title with a total of 165 points. Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes placed second in the 5-team competition with 126 points.

The Wolves of Coach Bill Everett amassed 103 points, thanks mostly to the production of Northcutt, Cupp and Fox, to place third.

Lake View's Chiefs from San Angelo finished fourth with 84 points. Trailing the pack was Sweetwater's Mustangs — with only 19 points.

Speedy Northcutt showed the field with dust in the 440-yard dash and broke his own district record to race home to a new record in the event. Northcutt's time of 49.6 broke the old record of 52.2 — set by Northcutt himself in 1960.

Cupp tied a district mark in the 220-yard dash with a 21.5 time. The feat tied the mark set by Snyder's John Weaver in 1961. He also topped the field in the 100-yard dash with a 10 flat time.

But while the 2 headline Wolf stars were making their mark, sophomore Fox bested them both in one way — he brought home 2 first places for the Wolves.

Fox won the high jump with a 5-9 performance and came back to lead the field in the broad jump with a 20-1½ leap.

Other highlights of the meet included Lamesa's Gene Westmoreland setting a new half-mile record of 1:58.4 — breaking his own record of 2:04.5 set in 1960.

Lamesa set a new standard in the mile relay with a 3:27.2 time. The old record of 3:32.4 was set by Snyder in 1958.

The first 2 places in each event qualified for the Regional Meet in Odessa Friday and Saturday, Apr. 13 and 14. Northcutt, Cupp and Fox will be there.

Wolf Charles Houston tied for second in the high jump with a 5-8 leap.

Northcutt was third in the shot put with a 47.5 and second to Cupp in the 220-yard dash.

The Wolves' 440-yard relay team finished fourth in the field.

BOWLER of the Week

FRED MCKAY
Colorado City bowler Fred McKay is in his first year of league competition at Crown Bowl here, but he is fast making his mark as one of the best of the "rookies" in this season's play.

McKay, manager of Safeway Food Store, 400 block of Oak St., has only been bowling since the local lanes opened in 1960 and in league competition since September.

But he's been bowling long enough to have a high sanctioned game of 223 and a high sanctioned series of 574 — excellent scores for a rookie.

McKay carries a 152 average for Colorado Sand and Gravel team in the Monday night Classic League. He rolled a 513 series to help the team place first in the 1962 City Tournament here that was sponsored by Colorado City Bowling Association. He is the proud owner of a trophy for his part in his team's victory.

Biggers on Jarvis Team

Former Wallace High School basketball star Archie Joe Biggers is a member of the baseball squad at Jarvis Christian College in Hawkins.

Biggers is pitching and playing in the infield for the team — which lost its opening game to Gambelling College of Gambelling, La., recently.

The local athlete, on an athletic scholarship at Jarvis also was a member of the school's 1962 basketball squad which had a 11-7 record. He played forward.

Another ex-Wildcat is also enrolled in Jarvis — Curtis Alexander, who stars for Jarvis' track team in the 100-yard dash.

Responsibility in Crusade

The American Cancer Society and the National Cancer Institute have designated 1962 as Cancer Progress Year in an effort to point up the advances made against cancer in the last 25 years. And the Mitchell County Unit is lending emphasis to this progress, during its Cancer Week observance.

While these advances cannot offer anything as spectacular as the man in space science has given us, they can show, in human terms, dramatic and remarkable results. Twenty-five years ago about 160,000 persons were alive cured of cancer. Today there are more than 1,100,000. The number is increasing each day.

The cure rate for cancer climbed from one out of seven in the late 1930's to one out of three in the late 1950's. Today, according to the society, it could be one out of two if all cancers were diagnosed early and treated promptly. While the final conquest of cancer is not in sight, the society and the institute can take great satisfaction in the uphill struggle. In 1962 some 42,000 men, women and children will be saved from cancer who would have died had they developed the disease

10 years ago. This is indeed compelling reason for all to join in observing Cancer Progress Year.

Progress against cancer is attributed to two major factors. First, developments in research which have resulted in new diagnostic techniques and improved methods of treatment. Second, response to public and professional education which has resulted in earlier detection, prompt treatment and better, more available facilities.

Among the goals of Cancer Progress Year, "To intensify the efforts being made to persuade the public to act for its own protection, to improve the care of cancer patient, and to step up all programs to speed the final victory over cancer." Final victory will come from the laboratory, and while today we are in the midst of the most massive research attack ever launched against a disease, there is still great need for expanding the cancer research effort.

These are worthy goals. The best way to observe Cancer Progress Year is to have a health checkup and to make contribution to the American Cancer Society April Crusade.

TAYLOR - MADE

By RICK TAYLOR
Record News Editor

TAYLOR-MADE will pass from the Record scene next Thursday... the final of its kind in The Record and, possibly, the final Taylor-Made of all time.

Whether or not it ever appears in (or escapes to) print again is dependent upon circumstances... Taylor-Made hopes he can control enough to, once again, somewhere, sometime, revive this corner.

Only time will tell...

WHAT WILL appear here in this same spot on Thursdays in the future no one knows.

Perhaps it'll be a column on "How I Made A Million Dollars Selling Black Paint to the Reds."

Or "What to Read Until Something Intelligent Comes Along."

Maybe it will be "The Care and Feeding of Democrats."

Or perhaps a cultural masterpiece entitled "How to Shell Pecans in 4/4 Time" — for you music lovers.

Or "How to Drink Coffee 24 Hours-A-Day at the Baker and Still Keep Your Job" — there are several hundred here qualified to write that. (Even Taylor-

Made is qualified to author that one)

THIS NONSENSE began in Waco in 1957 when Taylor-Made was managing editor of Baylor University's "Lariat." It has been continuous since September of 1959 when it was revived on the sport pages of the Southwest Reporter.

Next Thursday it dies, or at least retreats. Read the rites here then.

TO COLORADO CITY and all the individuals who have been so kind as to have their names taken in vain (in humor, it was intended.) Taylor-Made says a big THANKS!!!

The pleasure has been all his.

And the Taylor-Mades all appreciate the opportunity to have been Colorado Citizens and a part of the life of this grand spot in West Texas... and it's been the people, the individuals, who made it so grand.

COLORADO CITY will little note nor long remember Rick, Peggy, Randy and Kim Taylor, but the Taylor-Mades will never forget you, Colorado City, or what you have done for them...

Behind the Billboards

It may be that some newspapers oppose the use of billboard advertising by businessmen of their communities. It may be that some publishers glory in the Washington effort to crack down on outdoor advertising along the 14,000 miles of interstate system highways. We hope not.

We freely admit we would rather have a businessman buy an ad in this newspaper than on a billboard. But we view the increasing assumption of Federal and/or state authority over advertising with distinct alarm. If an official in Washington or in the State Capital can outlaw outdoor advertising, who is to say that he cannot, in time, ban newspaper advertising and magazine advertising and any other kind of advertising?

When Washington can tell a taxpayer-jandowner whose land happens to skirt a Federal highway that he may not do with it, the issue becomes more than highway beauty.

But the elimination of billboards, we are piously told, is in the public interest

What public, we would like to inquire. Is it to the advantage of the people of this community to prohibit the use of roadside advertising to those businessmen who serve the travelling public? Does it help the town, county, state or nation if they are forced out of business, cease to pay wages and buy goods and services?

Does it add to the pleasure, comfort or safety of travellers on the highway to deny them information on where they can eat or buy gas or stop for the night or find needed service for their cars? Does it help to promote business by banning advertising?

We don't think so. "Public interest" is the some, tired old excuse that so often has been employed in seizing power. In this case, Uncle Sam is passing out candy, too, to those who will go along with him. States that fall in line will get an extra one-half of one percent of Federal Aid highway money as a reward.

This is not regulation. This is not public service.

STATE CAPITOL NEWS

Legislation for Good Traffic Safety Lacking, Says Daniel

BY VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

At a joint meeting of the Governor's Highway Safety conference and the Texas Safety Association, Gov. Price Daniel said that good traffic safety legislation still is lacking because citizens "have never taken enough time and trouble to tell their legislators exactly what they want."

He said that 5 bills which have failed to pass will be introduced in the January session, "regardless of the identity of your next governor." These concern:

1. State financing to pay the salaries of driver-education teachers in public schools.
2. Complete revision of the driver-licensing law.
3. A chemical test law for use in cases of driving while intoxicated — designed to free the innocent and provide medical evidence against the guilty.

4. Adequate city and county traffic courts of record to handle traffic cases with efficiency and justice.

5. Authorization for additional highway patrolmen and additional pay for Department of Public Safety personnel.

Although the Legislature lately approved 51 additional highway patrolmen, a $300 increase in pay and set a floor of $4,947 annual salary, the governor reported the patrol still is 150 men short of its authorized strength of 804. He feels the pay hike was insufficient.

VOTERS LIST — Comptroller Bob Calvert added up the poll taxes and exemptions sent in by the counties and found 2,355,159 Texans qualified to vote.

This is an increase of 300,000 from 1958, the last non-presidential election year. But it is virtually the same as the number of qualified voters in 1952.

Still holding the record is 1960 with 2,599,924 Texans qualified to vote.

TEACHERS QUIZZED — Texas school teachers are pretty good at answering their examinations.

Texas Education Agency sent out questionnaires to about 95,000 school people. They expected a 30 per cent return but 92,000 answered. Questions were part of a Texas Legislative Council study of teacher training.

Results will be fed through computers to give lawmakers an idea of what people think about the way public schools are run and how teachers are trained.

LOANS HIT — The state will borrow another $15,000,000 on Apr. 19 to help local water districts, river authorities and cities on their water projects.

Texas Water Development Board has the authority to borrow up to $100,000,000 for this purpose. Its first bond issue of $10,000,000 is nearly used up in 4 loans. So another $15,000,000 loan over the next 4 years.

PADRE STUDY — Herb Petty, chairman of a special committee after differences developed as to whether Padre Island should be turned into a recreation area by the federal or state government.

A bill in Congress has authorized federal purchase of a large part of the island as a national seashore area. But the bill has not passed the House of Representatives because South Texas Congressmen favor a smaller area, if any at all.

SHINNERY PHILOSOPHER

Let the Cities Try Running of Things

Editor's note: The Shinnery Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Boho Hollow Creek tries to interpret a Supreme Court decision, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

This thing is a little complicated, but as I understand it, Congressional districts are supposed to shift when the population does, so one district with a few thousand voters won't have the same voice in Congress a district with a million votes has, or something like that, and the Supreme Court has ruled if a state won't re-district when its population shifts, the people can sue and the Federal government has a right to make it re-district.

I don't think I've made this very clear, which is understandable since it's not clear to me. It's sort of like a psychologist with an I. Q. of 99 trying to measure the I. Q. of somebody who possibly has 140, but what it boils down to is that the experts are now saying that the Supreme Court ruling will mean that the balance of power in this country will shift from the rural areas to the metropolitan areas.

A lot of people regret this but I would like to say, as a man from a rural area — and it's harder to get much more rural than this Johnson grass farm — that the decision suits me fine.

The shape of the world's today, I don't want anybody pinning the blame on us country folks.

I say, let's get all the states re-districted as soon as possible and let the city people try running things for a while. I don't say they can do it any better, not judging from the way the average city operates with one headache after another, but when it's impossible to run something successfully, my policy is to let somebody else get the blame for the failure.

Agriculture for example might be in the same shape, with or without a Washington farm program, but it's a lot handier to have Washington to point your finger at, than to have to point at yourself.

When a problem gets too big for anybody to handle, then's the time to duck out and let another man take over. As far as I'm concerned, I yield to you town folks. Yours faithfully, J. A.

LOCAL BUSINESS

Papers' "Stake" In Local Trade

BY MADGE BELL
Record Staff Writer

Community newspapers are usually leading advocates of various "shop at home" drives.

As a local business, the newspaper certainly has a stake in any stimulation of local trade and the building of a better trading center.

However, as businessmen and as realistic observers, most publishers know very well that general publicity given to "shop at home" drives can not succeed unless the advertising of individual retailers offer consumers some specific benefit for keeping their business at home.

For stimulating trade activity, it could be said that in this country there is a crying need for babysitters.

Seen on a police bulletin board: "The only pen with a lifetime guarantee is Alca-traz."

It takes a lot of digging to make life a bed of roses.

ty in a community an organized effort can never substitute for the advertising effort of the individual merchant who offers at a good price, a dress, an automobile, a power tool or a ham.

People everywhere shop with an eye to personal benefit. They are not impressed by appeals to community loyalty when local merchants fail to make it known that they are competitive with distant shops.

No one just shops for the sake of shopping. They go to a certain store to buy certain items. They go to Chicago to buy a coat at Marshall Fields, to Atlanta to buy a suit at Rich's or to New York to buy a dress at Macy's.

Great retail centers became great because the persistent advertising of particular stores made them attractive centers of trade.

And always in smaller centers, specific promotion by the individual store is the most powerful "trade at cities where retail activity attains unusual vigor, the retail cause is local merchant appeal.

Bond Sales At $31,356 In February

Savings Bonds sales in Mitchell County totaled $31,356 during the month of February, according to Wayne Shawn Chairman of the Mitchell County Savings Bonds Committee.

"Total sales in the county for the first 2 months of 1962 were $58,308," Shawn reported.

"In Texas, bond sales were $13,560,394 in February, and sales for the first two months of the year were $28,871,026. This figure represents 17.5 per cent of the state's sales goal for 1962."

"At a recent meeting in Washington, Secretary of Treasury, Douglas Dillon, pointed out . . . Our ability to meet aggression in the world . . . will depend to a large extent upon the power of our economy. Buying bonds is a way in which every American can contribute directly to his nation's economic strength. For those who ask what they can do to help their country, here is a beginning step—an important step . . . The person who buys a bond is both thrifty and patriotic."

"These words spoken by the Secretary of Treasury re-emphasize the need for the purchase of Savings Bonds by all American's," Shawn pointed out.

WITH A CLEAN FLAMELESS ELECTRIC RANGE

Some may think electric cooking is expensive. Actually it costs an average of only 3¢ a meal for electricity to cook for a family of four. Considering how much cooler and cleaner your kitchen will be, this small per meal cost looks even smaller... and there also is the joy of having a beautiful kitchen that is truly modern. See your electric range dealer soon. You get so much more for so little when you cook the modern, flameless electric way.

CONVERSATION CORNER

By RUTH COFFEY

WHEN THE TV screen flashed "No More To Come" after the final "Tonight" show for Jack Paar, we, personally, felt like spilling tears into the hot chocolate and having a refined runnin' fit.

THREE YEARS AGO, during long months of stubborn recovery from third degree burns, we used to watch Paar's show. First saw it on that portable TV purchased and presented at Shannon Hospital by anonymous C. City friends. (God bless you every one!)

SADDLED WITH insomnia, some suffering, traction, graft sites, crutches, and a highly un-cooperative attitude toward "taps-at-ten," our nights were just darker days—until TV and Paar came to shorten the longest hours by introducing people like Alexander King—original, if occasionally vulgar, writer whose books we read enroute to Michigan for a visit with son Bill, April '61.

WITH PAAR'S version of "Tonight" ends an era of vicarious nearness to the pulse of the great big beautiful wonderful world outside—show biz, national and international politics, best-sellers, night clubs, the matchless, melodious music of Jose Melis . . . the laughter of Billy Graham . . . Morris West, that brilliant Australian writer . . . the glamorous Gabors . . . Charles Laughton . . . Arlene Francis . . . Joey Bishop, Red Skelton, and so on . . . and on . . . up to and including Richard Nixon playing "Missouri Waltz" on the piano.

PAAR'S DEPARTURE may mean a more respectable go-to-bed hour for many of us. It sure as shootin' will mean an empty spot, somehow, no matter who follows him on "Tonight" or how good his different show proves, come September.

COME APRIL 9 there will be in Texas a C. Clitian now living in Los Angeles where he is a Shell Oil engineer, Roy Davis Coles Jr., Texas U. petroleum engineer grad, his wife (New York girl who went to Hunter College) and their daughters Roy and Alice Coles. After reading a paper at a Houston meeting April 9-12, Roy Jr. will rejoin his family here for a vacation visit.

JOE BOB SPALDING, another C. C. H. S. grad, is working in Borneo! He's on loan to Dutch Shell from Wheeler Station at Kermit. (Don Bolon, husband of C. City's Dimple Sue Hart, by the way, is substituting in Spalding's place in Kermit.)

Joe Bob's present job is that of operating a station, part of the pipeline recently built in Indonesia by Shell of Holland. He's to be there for two years teaching natives to operate the station. He's nephew of the Bennett Scotts.

ACTUALLY working deep in the Borneo jungle, Spalding will be visited in Balikpapan, Kalimantan, Indonesia, by his wife Milly and son Phil, 13, who will travel via Hawaii, Guam, Wake, Manila, Singapore, and Java. Current crises between Holland and the new Republic of Indonesia changed plans for his family to stay a year. Barring further international complications, Milly and Phil hope to return, after vacation, by way of India, Iran, Pakistan, Germany and England.

Great big wonderful world? After all.

Sometimes it sounds so troubled now. And so very small.

SPIED DON DELANEY for the first time in many moons, even so . . . Ditto Bill and Gloria Erwin . . . "His Honor" T. E. Arnold, precinct one justice of the peace, looking spry . . . And Trevlyn Kelley, of City National, saying that his mother is to go back to the hospital in Houston.

BRIEF ENCOUNTERS since last time included meeting three pretty young wives of business men here. First, saw Penny Ridley, wife of J. R., enroute to see "Tender Is The Night," that picture made from F. Scott Fitzgerald's best novel. Dark-eyed, dark-haired Penny, pretty as a picture, herself.

Saw petite Mrs. Henry Lewis of the teen-age "figga" with her youngest-of-five little Lewises, a beautiful baby called "Gina."

And met Jean Linder (nee Harrison) little lass who's wed to the Record's Orbie Ray Linder. Jean is office nurse at Rudd Clinic, brown-haired with lovely dark eyes, and a smile like a starched angel.

WHICH BRINGS UP that smile belonging to Susie Smith (Mrs. Mike) of the Dr. H. Jene Steakley office. Have a notion Susie's smile is the kind to glow in the dark. It's that radiant.

JENE STEAKLEY'S got a nice smile, himself, come to mention it. 'Course he gets mighty serious every time he thinks about "As The World Turns" and the awful predicament facing poor Dr. Douglas Cassin. Our dentist and his patient may just hire the Prestons of "Defenders," or Perry Mason, to help Chris Hughes win the case. Just waiting for Joe Simpson to get back from California to head the general committee.

DOLLAR DAY-ING saw Mrs. Kelly Treadaway, pleasant saleslady at Landau's . . . Mrs. Oscar Majors . . . Mrs. Dee Bassham . . . Ada Womack, mother of George . . . Bonnie Moore Brown (Mrs. Jimmie) . . . Mrs. Ruel Brown Sr. (Rena) . . . Mrs. Claude Cogswell . . . and Mrs. J. Ed Richardson saying how much she likes preparing breakfast for regular meetings of our Ministerial Alliance. And, lucky they are to have her! She may be—and likely is—the town's best cook.

DOWN ECHO LANE these days comes the sound of things political. With the warming of weather comes the warming of election talk. Two favorite attorneys, Joe Earnest and John M. Worrell, were indulging in a friendly—but right-to-disagree—tete-tete . . . And Kenneth Hardegree, with two coffee cup pals, was doing some speculating unchallenged.

GEORGE (THE GYPSY) WOMACK leaves Sunday for New York and will fly to Paris, Nice, Florence, Rome, Switzerland, and Germany. He'll be seeing Jerome Buxkemper in Frankfurt and our Martha Jo Post will show him beauties of Italy. He'll be gone a month. Forgot to ask if he'll try to see Liz Taylor.

Cleopatra had nothin' on Liz. At playing romance she's really a whiz. At real love for keeps she's always a fiz—She steals scenes—and husbands—wherever she iz.
