Tax Relief To Face 42nd Texas Legislature Today

Extra Session Is To Convene Early Tuesday

Governor Sterling Engaged In Preparing Message Monday; Confident That Work Can Be Finished In Week

'Lame Duck' Affair

Right To Submit Other Matters Is Reserved; Members Think Session Will Continue For Thirty-Day Limit

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 29.—The 42nd Texas legislature, summoned by Gov. R. S. Sterling, to enact tax relief laws, was ready tonight to go to work.

The governor's proclamation ordering the lawmakers to assemble in extraordinary session had set the hour for the two houses to assemble at 10 a. m. tomorrow. Lieut. Gov. Edgar Witt of Waco and Fred Minor of Denton, speaker of the house, said they expected quorums.

Prepares Message

Governor Sterling, just out of the closest gubernatorial campaign the Lone Star state has ever experienced, spent the day preparing his message. He said he felt the legislature could dispose of the matters he would submit to it within one week.

"I certainly hope the legislature transacts its business in the shortest time possible, and I believe it can finish up in a week," he said.

Thirty-Day Limit

Under the constitution a special session of the legislature cannot hold longer than thirty days but it can adjourn before the time limit expires. Prevalent opinion among legislators was that the full constitutional period would be consumed.

Governor Sterling issued his call for the special session while he was in the midst of his campaign for renomination. The principal subject of legislation submitted was a proposal that the state assume outstanding issues of road bonds authorized by counties and road districts for the purpose of aiding in construction of roads which now are state highways.

The proposed law would provide that taxes levied upon property in

Eyes Of Texas To Be Focused Upon Lubbock

Hottest Democratic Session In Years Is Expected When State Leaders Gather Here On September 13

To Canvass Votes

Contest Of Balloting Being Rumored; Requirements For Such Action Are Outlined By Local Officials

THE hottest Democratic state convention in years is scheduled to be held in Lubbock Tuesday, September 13, when the official canvass of the state executive committee on the results of the governor's race will be given the convention.

Closeness of the race between Governor Ross S. Sterling and former Governor Miriam Ferguson with the lead swinging from one to the other has aroused more than ordinary interest among local leaders in the convention.

Canvass Sept. 12

The state executive committee meets in Lubbock the day before the convention proper, to canvass certified returns. Contests are predicted in close counties, as a result of the heated primary battle. Both sides are expected to be in Lubbock in large numbers, prepared to fight hard for their respective leaders.

"The executive committee will canvass the reports of county chairmen the day before the convention opens, which in this case is September 12," James H. Goodman, delegate to the recent state convention in Houston, explained.

"Under the law the committee is to meet to canvass returns the third Monday after the fourth Monday in August. Because of five Mondays in August the meeting comes the second Monday in September.

"If there is no contest, well and good. If there is, then there will doubtless be some fireworks during the convention."

W. O. Huggins of Houston is chairman of the state executive committee and Albert Sidney Johnston, Dallas, secretary. Both men are expected to be here several days before the convention to handle business coming up before the sche-

Cotton Drops After Advance

Bull Onslaughts Continued In Financial Circles Monday; Some Commodities Show A Gain In Day's Trading

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Bull onslaughts in the financial markets were vigorous today.

Sharp advances in stocks and cotton prompted many traders to take profits, and selling in the late trading erased most of the advance.

Some of the commodities ended the day substantially higher, however, particularly wheat, rubber, cocoa and hides.

Cotton surged up about $1.50 a bale, the July delivery reaching the 10-cent-a-pound level for the first time in about 13 months, but this market lost virtually all of its advance in late selling. Crude rubber had its most sweeping advance of the year in the New York market, advancing about 1-2 cent a pound.

Wheat shot up more than a cent in Chicago, and was strong in Liverpool. Futures in the Chicago board of trade ended the day with net gains of 1 1-8 to 1 5-8 cents a bushel, the best prices since Aug. 10. Corn was another staple in active demand, scoring net gains of 7-8 of one cent to 2 cents a bushel in the Chicago market.

Haizlip Breaks Records In Transcontinental Hop

Speed Of 245 Miles Per Hour Is Set In Long Flight

(By The Associated Press)

CLEVELAND AIRPORT, Aug. 29. A Missouri comet blazed over the national air race horizon today with two new records tacked on its speed blistering tail.

James G. Haizlip, 36, former war pilot from Ferguson, Mo., snatched the twin-cross-country crown worn for a year by his flying comrade, Major James H. Doolittle, by averaging 245 miles an hour between Los Angeles and Cleveland and about 250 miles an hour for the entire transcontinental dash to New York.

Prizes Are Won

He roared over the finish line here eight hours, 19 minutes, and 45.79 seconds after his Pacific take off to win $6,750 in the feature long distance high speed derby of the 1932 classic and shot on into a cloud filled sky for an extra $2,500 for breaking the trans-nation record.

Major Doolittle's 1931 mark to Cleveland was lowered by 50 minutes and 36 seconds and the transcontinental record by 56 minutes. Haizlip's record being made even more impressive because he landed at Bennett Field which is farther from Los Angeles than Doolittle's stopping point, Newark.

Strike Threatened

The speed demon's feat overshadowed a threatened strike of racing pilots who reached an agreement with air race officials to continue in the meet after they had demanded a doubling of prize money in the closed course events.

Sixty pilots, who last night signed a petition demanding an increase of the stakes, were represented by E. M. (Matty) Laird, Chicago, non-contestant, and agreed to stay with the meet under condition they form an organization

Pioneer Texan Is Claimed By Death Monday

C. W. Jones, 74, Dies In City After Illness; Was Active As An Indian Fighter During Geronimo's Reign

C. W. (Charlie) Jones, 74, native Texan, who ranched in three Southwestern states, Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, during the past 52 years, went on his last "long drive" at the Lubbock County Old Peoples' home Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Death came after an illness of six months, following an injury received when he was 70 years of age. He had been in a serious condition for five days.

Jones probably knew more early day sheriffs than any other man living in this section at this time. He was also an Indian scout, a former member of the Arizona militia in territorial days and a deputy sheriff in two if not three states.

Born In 1852

Born in Brown county in 1852, he came to West Texas in 1880, two years after Colonel Charles C. Goodnight opened up a ranch in the Palo Duro canyon and bought the famous Turkey track ranch along the north banks of the Canadian, near the battlefield of Adobe Walls where Billy Dixon made his famous shot. Four years later he sold out and went west.

In New Mexico, according to Louie Moore, night policeman, who

Thompson Expresses Thanks To Voters Of This Section

Col. Ernest O. Thompson, Amarillo, successful candidate for the four-year term for railroad commissioner in Saturday's runoff primary, yesterday sent a message of appreciation to South Plains voters for the splendid support accorded him in this district.

"Colonel Thompson said the 30th senatorial district had given him a larger majority than any other senatorial district in the state," James H. Goodman, his campaign manager, said here yesterday.

"He asked me to express his appreciation for the large vote given him in this district."

BAROMETER RISES

Spectacular Fight Sways Back And Forth As Bare Returns Of Saturday's Voting Trickle In

Closest Election In Texas History Sees Incumbent Trailing By Tiny Margin; Figures Of 220 Counties Are Complete; Both Candidates Express Confidence Of The Outcome

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Aug. 29.—The barest trickle of new returns from Saturday's Democratic run-off primary raised the lead of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson to 404 votes shortly after 10 p. m. tonight. The Texas Election Bureau reported the vote as Mrs. Ferguson 473,090; Governor R. S. Sterling 472,688. Two hundred and twenty counties of the state's 254 had made complete returns.

The election bureau closed for the night after announcing these figures.

The bureau reported that 68,219 votes had been counted in the 34 counties still marked incomplete. In the July primary their total vote was 68,205 votes, the bureau's figures showed.

No Estimate On Remaining Vote

No estimate was available of the vote remaining to be tabulated.

The changes which swung the pendulum in favor of Mrs. Ferguson after Sterling had led all day were accounted for in two corrections which netted the woman candidate 921 votes and in returns which continued to seep in slowly.

The unofficial election bureau maintained a skeleton force to tabulate any other returns available tonight but it was pointed out that all precincts in the state excepting those extremely remote and inaccessible had reported.

Veers And Sways

The vote had veered and swayed from the incumbent to Mrs. Ferguson in such dramatic manner that A. F. Henning, head of the Texas Election Bureau, declined to forecast anything as concerned the possible outcome of the race or as to the probable total vote when all returns were at hand.

In the latest tabulation Mrs. Ferguson gained 280 votes and Sterling lost 241 by corrections from San Augustine county, a net gain for the former woman governor of 521. Sterling lost 400 in a Sabine county change.

967,928 In July

The total vote in the first primary a month ago was 967,928.

When the bureau stopped work last night Mrs. Ferguson was in the lead by 493 votes. On its first tabulation today the governor led by 3,007. He kept in front throughout the day but his majority had fallen to 855 by 4 p. m. Then it rose to 1,427 on the 5:30 tabulation which showed the following totals:

Totals Are Shown

Sterling 472,949; Mrs. Ferguson 471,522.

For the six-year railroad commission term: Lee Satterwhite of Odessa, 341,498; Chairman C. V. Terrell, the incumbent, 512,151.

For the four-year term: W. Gregory Hatcher of Dallas 403,365; Ernest O. Thompson of Amarillo, incumbent by appointment 443,879.

For the supreme court: Justice William Pierson 423,650; E. J. Hickman 413,890.

For congressman-at-large, place 1: George B. Terrell of Alto 455,804; Pink Parrish of Lubbock 375,256.

For place 2: Joseph Weldon Bailey, jr., of Dallas 500,004; J. H. Cyclone Davis of Sulphur Springs 347,161.

For place 3: Sterling P. Strong of Dallas 447,975; Joe Burkett of San Antonio 379,772.

Returns from the primary will be canvassed by the county committees Saturday and by the state committee September 12.

Both In Austin

Governor Sterling and James E. Ferguson, his opponent's husband and chief campaigner, were both in Austin. Both seemed cheerful. Sterling had to lock himself in an office to write his message to the special session of the state legislature meeting tomorrow to consider tax relief.

Neither would say anything about a possible contest of the election

Four Persons Are Drowned When Rain Floods A Creek

BOVINA, Aug. 29. (AP)—Four persons were drowned today when a six-inch rain flooded a small creek near Bovina.

Mrs. C. B. Waddell and her two small daughters, Vivian and Virginia, were drowned when the rush of water swept their automobile down stream. Her husband escaped with a baby daughter. The family lived at Friona.

Richard Caldwell, 21, was drowned later while searching for the bodies. He either fell or was thrown from his horse into the creek. Caldwell's body was the only one recovered.

New Mexico Areas Drenched By Rains In Last 48 Hours

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Aug. 30. Clear weather returned to most sections of New Mexico tonight after 48 hours of rains that reached torrential proportions in some parts.

Walker Loses Encounter In Higher Court

New York Mayor Turned Down In Effort To Halt Action On Ouster Case; Governor Ruled Within Rights

(By The Associated Press)

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 29. — A state supreme court justice today turned down James J. Walker's plea for a court order to stop Governor Rooseevlt from acting on the demands for the ouster of the New York mayor.

The justice, Ellis J. Staley, ruled that "the governor of the state is immune from interference by judicial process and free from judicial control in his performance of executive duties."

The governor, said the opinion of the jurist, also acted within his legal rights in giving a hearing to the charges against the mayor.

"The conclusion is obvious," said Justice Staley, "that the authority conferred upon the governor under the New York City charter (providing for removal of a mayor by a governor) is a valid enactment and that such enactment exists in full force and effect and gives the governor jurisdiction of the subject matter."

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

THIS isn't the best day in the world in which to write a column on The Woman's Angle when politics is a subject that has been excluded. For this angler is considerably agitated over politics.

Since this column frequently lauds women and their accomplishments, several reflections have been cast in this direction recently about "what a mess women have made of politics." It doesn't help my agitation that I can't prove them wrong, although I am positive that any muddle of politics is not due to the women.

However, I am of the opinion that too many women depend upon their menfolk for political opinions or allow the masculine members of their family to simply cast two voted instead of one—as in the pre-suffrage days for women. But this lethargy is not confined to feminine voters for men and women, too, are apt to base their voting on the words of some silver-tongued orator, who can distort facts to make them sound convincing. Too many people are prejudiced by selfish motives and fail to investigate records before scratching names on the ballot sheet.

The attitude of women is the attitude of men as well and is due largely to misinformation or to an unfortunate lack of information.

Too often these people who are so ready to find a cause for all political distress in the entrance of women into politics reason like one man with whom I was arguing over a race last week. To my statement that I would not cast a vote for one party, he laughed and exclaimed, "Isn't that just like a woman! Why you don't believe all these things that are told on him?" Then when I suggested that there are records as proof, he continued his scoffing about people who make such statements "because they know women are gullible enough to believe them."

Women are frequently duped by politicians, but so are the men. It is easy for me to think that somebody got things in chaos but it is hard for me to believe that women are responsible for the entire muddle.

It is easy to dismiss the responsibility of voting by conceding that one candidate for an office is corrupt "but the other man is probably just as bad" or to vote for the person who lives near us, who is affiliated with the same lodge or church or has some other interest in common.

But women are not the only ones who are guilty of this sort of lethargy. Men do it too.

Politics may not be to our liking and conditions may be worse now than before women were granted suffrage but women are not influential enough yet to make any radical change in the trend. Actually, the men who charge that women "got us into this mess" are conceding a victory to women that they are usually loathe to make: that is, that woman has a great influence in the political field.

BECAUSE rains at this time and usually cool weather are likely to popularize fall clothing here, this is a reminder of how much longer the heat continues down below the cap rock.

Although show windows in Fort Worth and Dallas begin to be filled with fall clothing now and people do buy their wardrobes, they do not salt their summer clothing away for many more weeks because the heat hangs around in those parts.

One young woman from Lubbock who has recently been to Dallas on her vacation gave me an illustration of that. She and some others from up in here were to attend a department store style show and have lunch down town one day. At the suggestion of a Dallasite that "everyone dressed up," they wore their fall rigs so they would not be conspicuous. But when the show started, they found they were the only ones wearing their new clothes.

O'Donnell School Session Is To Be Only 4½ Months

O'DONNELL, Aug. 29. (Special) Plans for a four and a half month school for O'Donnell Independent school district were announced following a meeting of the board when the financial situation was discussed. The nine month plan was abandoned.

It was pointed out that only a little over 50 per cent of the taxes for the past three years have been paid and that there are many vouchers issued that have not been paid. State aid, announced for the year as $16 per scholastic, will be enough to meet salaries of teachers for half a year only. As delinquent taxes are paid in, vouchers already issued, will be taken up.

The board is of the opinion that scholastic credits with the state board of education will not be lost even though a full term is not completed.

The board indicated that a drastic change for the better in the payment of school taxes would permit the full term to be taught.

"A young fellow who came out to the automobile to take our orders attracted me as being an unusually bright young fellow," the lieutenant governor said.

"When I started to drive away, I asked 'Son, what is your name?' He told me. I decided to let him know what a personage he had waited on, so I said: 'My name's Edgar Witt.' 'Oh,' that bright youngster replied, 'I know who you are; you are attorney general or something down at Austin.'"

Flag-Bound Yankees Trounce White Sox In Double Bill

Gomez Pitches Yanks To Win In First Tilt

Castilian Wins 22nd Victory Of Season For Yankees; A's Split Twin Bill With Detroit Tigers; Senators Win

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 29—Lefty Gomez and Charlie Ruffing rang up their 22nd and 16th victories, respectively, today as the flag-bound Yankees took a double fall out of the Chicago White Sox, 10-3 and 4-3.

It was a cinch for the glamorous Gomez in the first game, his mates staking him to 14 hits off Jones and Gallivan and sewing up the decision with a six run outburst in the sixth inning.

But Ruffing, the league's strikeout artist, had a close brush before he subdued the scrapping Hose in the nightcap. The big redhead was pounded for 13 hits, as against seven the Yanks managed off young Bill Chamberlin and Urban Faber, and would have gone down but for the hard and timely hitting of Ben Chapman, whose three hits brought in half the Yankee runs.

Slaton Golfers Beat Team From Lubbock Sunday

Meadowbrook golfers fared badly at the hands of the Slaton Santa Fe club Sunday and lost a 12 to 4 decision in an eight-man team contest. The scoring was based on the system used in the South Plains league, both teams being members of the loop.

Larry Hines of Meadowbrook shot low score, a 76, to take medal honors and defeat J. A. Reynolds. Robert Bryant defeated Claude Anderson, 3 to 0, in the only victories won by Lubbock players.

Bays Bryant lost to Ferrell of Slaton, 3 to 0; Sid Thrash of Meadowbrook was beaten by Ted Lewis of Slaton, 2 to 0; Nicholson of Slaton defeated Neil Vanzant of Lubbock, 2 to 1; Jess Lockhart of Meadowbrook was beaten by Cobb, 2 to 0; N. R. Carter of Slaton downed Bob Harvey, 2 to 0, and D. A. Dowell of Meadowbrook divided with Butler, 1 and 1.

Guests of the Santa Fe club at Slaton in an unofficial match, the Meadowbrook club probably will invite the Slaton aggregation here some time soon.

High winds prevented low scoring at Slaton Sunday.

Exporters Win Final Go With Cannibals, 8-1

Cats Wake Up Long Enough To Beat Santone In Double Header; Bakermen Increase Lead Over Dallas

(By The Associated Press)

BEAUMONT, Aug. 29.—Del Baker's Exporters bade the Longview Cannibals goodbye until 1933 this afternoon by trouncing the Savages 8-1 behind the splendid seven hit pitching of Izzy Goldstein. It was the Exporters' ninth straight victory and their fourth in three days over the Cannibals. Hank Greenberg found time to smack out his number 36th and 37th home runs of the season off Tot Presnell, who was no puzzle for the pennant-bound Bakermen.

Football Ticket Tax Law Translated As Applicable To Texas Tech Games; Fans Must Pay 10 Per Cent Plus Cost

A translation of the new federal and state sales tax law as applied to football ticket sales, was received from government headquarters by W. L. Stangel, chairman of the Athletic council at Texas Tech, recently.

The new tax law requires the colection of ten per cent of the face value of the ticket as government tax. The detailed instructions received by Mr. Stangel is as follows.

First: At all football games between conference schools, the home team is responsible for the collection and payment of all tax.

Second: The students of the home institution can enter the game on their student activity book and are therefore tax free.

Third: The complimentary tickets given to the ex-letter men are not tax free. It was agreed by all institutions that they would require said letter men to pay the tax upon such tickets.

Fourth: The complimentary tickets given to members of the team are not tax free. It was agreed that each institution would pay the tax upon such tickets.

Fifth: All complimentary tickets given to the members of the press will be construed as being used by members of the working press and that the newspapers themselves, upon receipt of said tickets, will sign a receipt to this effect. Under these conditions press tickets will be tax free.

Sixth: Complimentary tickets given to scouts of the several institutions are to be considered tax free due to the fact that the scouts are actually working and their functions are part of the game.

Seventh: In the institutions where season tickets are sold, these shall be separate tickets for each game, bound together in book form and the tax applicable thereon is ten per cent of the said price of the season ticket, therefore, the cover for this season ticket should carry said price plus tax ten per cent and total price.

Black Hubbers Beat Rainbows In Sunday Tilt

In a baseball contest that bordered on the spectacular at times, the Lubbock Black Hubbers, local negro team, defeated the Lubbock Rainbow baseball club, an amateur and semi-pro outfit, 2 to 0 Sunday afternoon at Merrill Park.

An almost errorless contest pleased nearly a grandstand full of rabid fans, many of whom were negroes. The victory was the thirty-third of the season for the Black Hubbers, who have played some of the best negro and Mexican teams of West Texas this season.

Blackie Hoyle of Wolfforth was drafted to pitch for the Rainbows Sunday and the black boys found his offerings hard to hit. They bunched bingles in the second and seventh to do the scoring.

The same teams play again at Merrill Park next Sunday afternoon.

New Orleans Fair Grounds Race Track Is Purchased By Syndicate Of 30 Men

CHICAGO, Aug. 29. (AP)—Control of the fair grounds race track at New Orleans, one of the most famous of the winter race courses, today passed into the hands of the syndicate of 30 leading sportsmen, headed by Joseph A. Murphy, general manager of the Hawthorne race track.

The syndicate, Murphy announced, purchased 2,778 shares of the stock in the Louisiana Jockey club, which operates the track, from E. R. Bradley, the principal owner. The purchase price was reported to be in the neighborhood of $700,000.

Members of the syndicate are from all sections of the country, Murphy said, and were chosen to make it nation wide. The meeting in New Orleans, opening in January, will be conducted as a strictly sporting venture with no promotion of any character.

In relinquishing control of the famous race course Bradley declared he did so because he could not give his personal attention to it any longer.

West Texas Teachers College Lowers Grid Ticket Prices

CANYON, Aug. 29. (AP)—Football games will be cheaper at West Texas State Teachers' college this fall.

The athletic council has approved a price of 75 cents for each game. Prices in past seasons varied from $1 to $1.50, depending upon the drawing power of the game.

The Buffaloes will play Simmons, Panhandle A. and M., McMurry, Abilene Christian and Sul Ross Teachers on the local field this season.

The base station for the value of gravity for the whole world is located in Potsdam, Germany.

Walter Hagen Rules Slight Pro Favorite

Gene Sarazen And Leo Diegal Not To Enter P. G. A. Joust Which Gets Under Way At St. Paul This Morning

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 29. (AP)—The big push for the professional golf championship of America opens over the trapped reinforced Keller Fee course tomorrow with every important pro of the nation, except Gene Sarazen and Leo Diegel, in the big drive.

Sarazen and Diegel long since announced they would not accept a berth among the 104 qualifiers.

After their final practice swings today, the general consensus was it would take between 149 and 152 shots to land in the qualifying bracket of 32 after tomorrow's 36-hole qualifying test. And if there was one outstanding championship player in the field, it was Harry Cooper of Chicago, a great shot maker, who won the $10,000 St. Paul open over the same course in 1930 and finished a good second last year despite a bad epidemic of missed putts. Cooper played a few holes and his game looked better than ever.

Walter Hagen, five times winner of the crown, astounded tournament officials by showing up for a practice round. He shot a 67 at the Interlachen course.

Others included Johnny Farrell, New York, Olin Dutra, Los Angeles, Tommy Armour, Detroit, Billy Burke, Greenwich, Conn., John Golden, Noroton, Conn., Horton Smith, Chicago, and Denny Shute, Cleveland, runner up last year to Tom Creavy, Albany, N. Y., defending champion.

R. K. "Dad" Fennel, blind preacher from Athens, Tenn., claims to have converted 29,018 persons.

Meadowbrook Golfers To Qualify This Week For Club Championship Tourney

To determine the champion golfer of the Meadowbrook Golf club of Lubbock, a club tournament will be held throughout the next ten days or two weeks in which all members of the club are requested to play.

The qualifying play begins today, and consists of eighteen holes of medal play. Members may shoot qualifying scores any day this week until Saturday. Match play begins on Saturday and continues through Sunday and as many days of next week as necessary, Bill McMillan, owner-manager of the club announced yesterday.

McMillan said between forty and sixty golfers were expected to shoot a qualifying score this week. A small entry fee will be charged to take care of the purchase of a loving cup for the champion and for prizes for winners in each of four flights.

In connection with the men's tournament, a special bracket composed of women members will be conducted. Women golfers are asked to qualify this week and start match play on Saturday.

The tournament is limited to bona fide members of the club, and is barred to caddies, McMillan said, "in order to give the paying members a fair break."

In Switzerland, cellophane is being used as a hat braid.

We Are Awaiting 'Der Tag'!

IN CASE you failed to notice it, West Texas took another theoretical kick in the pants from our down state friends during Saturday's run-off balloting. With the lone exception of Col. Ernest O. Thompson, every West Texan who offered for state-wide office got the "thumbs down" signal from North, South, East and Central Texas in a great, big way.

Outstanding example of what went on is mirrored in the three Congressional races—two of the three made possible by West Texas' unusual growth during the past decade and the third by a similar increase in population in the Valley section. The three victorious candidates all come from East Texas—two from Dallas and the other from Cherokee county, which, as we have pointed out in these columns before, is over near the Louisiana line.

The thirteen Central and East Texas senators who successfully blocked all efforts at Congressional re-districting during the legislative session just passed, "got by" with their nefarious plot. All we West Texans can do now is to wait until the law runs its course and we get the additional Congressional representation that is coming to us.

We can't help matters now.

But we can look forward to another day—and we can jot down this latest discrimination against us on our mental cuffs.

We can, if you please, "Remember the Alamo"; we can await the day in the not too distant future when we'll have enough votes to spank some of those down-staters—and when we know how to use the votes which we have.

It's a long lane that has no turning, you can bet on that; and it's an ill wind that blows nobody good.

Some of these days we'll get it back—and The Morning Avalanche is all prepared to enjoy that promising era.

SEEING DUTY PLAINER

What is probably the most unusual of all Texas Democratic gubernatorial primaries has been held and tabulation is just now nearing completion. To use the venacular of the day, it has been a "ring-tail tooter" from start to finish—and probably the last of the close contest has not yet been heard.

Interesting feature of both primaries this year is the unprecedented vote attracted during a time when poll tax payments are admittedly low. Although 86,000 fewer Texans paid poll taxes this year than did in 1930, thousands more voted this year than last—showing at least an increase in interest and in the duties of citizenship.

With more than 6,000,000 citizens within its borders, Texas has never been noted for its voting consciousness. Even yet not as many Texans are voting as should vote.

But the recent primary indicates that we are becoming more and more cognizant of the fact that to vote is a duty, as well as a privilage.

May the trend increase.

WOMEN IN BUSINESS

The objection most often raised against the elevation of women to important positions is an alleged feminine tendency to magnify the importance of trifling matters to the exclusion of the more important. While women often show an ability to handle large matters, it is said, they inevitably lose themselves in a welter of inconsequential and picayune matters.

This may or may not be true. But even if it is, there is no cause for alarm in the recent appointment of two women to important positions in the state department and consular service. It is impossible to conceive of any woman creating a greater tangle of red tape and inconsequential annoyances than men have succeeded in throwing about the issuing of passports and the conduct of consular business.

Apparently the modern woman has some qualities that command the respect and attention of her chiefs for each day brings news of more conquests for her. She is gaining prominence not only in public affairs but in the professions, business and industry. Of late there have been several instances where large corporations have recognized her worth by placing her in positions of great responsibility.

Perhaps it is because the minor details assume an importance in her mind that wholly escapes the male executive that government and business are finding a place for the trained woman. Collectively, the trifling things sometimes prove of considerable moment. If there is this difference between the man and woman worker, then they make a perfect combination.

Today's One-Minute Sermon

For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil.—Ecclesiastes, xii, 14.

Rail Workers Stand United

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

Lincoln Memorial

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. — Railroad workers show signs of going to the mat with the theory that business can be improved by wage reductions down to the supposedly greatly lowered level of living costs in the last year or so.

For one thing, living costs are not as much lower as employers contend, the railroad men's leaders say.

Besides, they argue, the railroaders were not getting what they were entitled to at the peak. If they are receiving the equivalent of a small advance now, their spokesmen insist that they have long been entitled to it.

They did take a 10 per cent cut, beginning last February.

Railroad presidents assured them then that the economy would enable the companies to increase their staffs somewhat. Instead, Interstate Commerce Commission reports show that Class 1 roads had 19.12 per cent fewer men on their payrolls in mid-May this year than at the same time in 1931.

NEVERTHELESS, heads of several of the big lines are urging still another slash.

They certainly discussed the idea, at a meeting held by them in New York recently, to consider a suggestion that they seek a loan from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for rehabilitation of their various systems' unquestionably badly neglected equipment, trackage and roadbeds—which would be quite an industrial stimulant, advocates of the plan pointed out.

Not all the transportation presidents were favorable to it, however.

Why (the dissenters asked) pile up additional obligations for repairs that can wait until times are better?

Why not, rather (it was proposed), seek the I. C. C.'s permission to trim wages again? Twenty per cent is said to have been the figure initially mentioned, though it is understood to have been agreed subsequently that, for the present, 15 would do.

TO BE SURE, the session ended without any "definite decision", as President L. F. Loree of the Delaware & Hudson expressed it, having been reached, but the impression prevails in labor circles that the transportation chiefs only postponed action, because they did not think it would be tactful to demand a cut virtually just as President Hoover was delivering his renomination acceptance speech in Washington.

It scarcely was to have been expected that the rail workers would like such an account of the employing group's attitude, but Wall Street did; transportation shares advanced sharply on the strength even of a fair prospect of another cut in the employes' pay.

Perhaps not unnaturally, the employes betray considerable resentment at this manifestation of good cheer on 'change at their prospective expense.

A REMARK dropped by Mr. Hoover in the course of his acceptance address has noticeably perturbed them yet farther.

"In the first stage of the depression," said the president, "I called the leaders of business . . . to meet with me and induced them, by their own initiative, to . . . uphold wages until the cost of living was adjusted."

Labor spokesmen insist that they can recall no earlier utterance from the present White House tenant limiting the upholding of wages to a period preceding readjustment in the cost of living. It is clear that they imagined him insistent upon a continuation of the high post-war scale even in the face of a decline in living costs—and exceedingly evident that they are deeply disappointed to find themselves mistaken.

IT MAY BE THAT these hopes were uneconomic, but there is no doubt that labor, all along, has considered itself entitled to a larger share of the fruits of industry, counted on getting it through a stationary wage, with a declining index, and is bitterly discontented over its discovery that no such intention exists among the vast majority of large employers.

The transportation workers, being momentarily right "under the gun", show it distinctly.

"Leaders of the standard railroad organizations," says their organ, "Labor", "are unanimous in opposition to further wage reductions."

"Railroad workers," declares Chairman David D. Robertson of the same organizations' executives' association, "must not be asked to make additional sacrifices. Instead the leaders of the transportation industry should address themselves to the task of finding employment for the hundreds of thousands of them who are tramping the streets."

"The entire policy of the American Federation of Labor," adds President William Green of the A. F. of L., pledging the whole labor movement's solid backing to the railroaders, in resisting another cut, "has been against the reduction of wages during the depression."

THE TRUTH IS that the transportation men's leaders are virtually a unit in the belief that, sooner or later, governmentalization of the railroads is inevitable.

They regard them as so chronically hard up already that they are skeptical of satisfactory conditions for their employes while they remain in private hands. Consequently many of them are favorable to forcing the issue without further loss of time, and getting the fight over.

EXPLANATION OF SUNDAY'S CARTOON

THE DESERTED VILLAGE:

Deep in the heart of England, practically midway between the Island's east and west coasts, is the little village of New Hampstead. This village for all its attractive brick houses built along neatly paved streets, is like a bivouac of the dead. Not a human being has ever lived in any of its 110 dwellings since they were completed some years ago, and no one has inhabited the town except a watchman and the engineers who are still trying to solve the problem that makes the place uninhabitable.

This problem is one of sewage disposal. Modern sewers were laid through all the streets, and all the houses were connected with ample-sized pipes, but it was found that the sanitary laws of adjacent towns prevented them from disposing of sewage according to plans. An ultra-modern chemical sewage plant may save the village eventually, but as yet it has not been constructed.

Former Engagement Prevented Smith From Attending Roosevelt Luncheon

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 29 (AP)—Commenting on the absence of former Governor Alfred E. Smith, 1928 Democratic presidential candidate, from a luncheon in Governor Roosevelt's honor yesterday at Westhampton Beach, L. I., Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt said today that a previous engagement prevented Mr. Smith's attending.

The luncheon was given by Basil O'Connor, former law partner of the New York governor and Democratic presidential candidate. The invitation to Mr. Smith, who opposed Mr. Roosevelt at the Democratic national convention in Chicago, was regarded by some political observers as a move to pave the way for a closer union between Mr. Roosevelt and his predecessor both as governor and as Democratic presidential standard bearer.

Since the Chicago convention former Governor Smith has announced his support of the Democratic national ticket. Yesterday, during the Roosevelt luncheon, he went to far Rockaway to visit his son, Arthur.

"The truth of the matter," Gov. Roosevelt told newspaper men today, "is that Mr. O'Connor called up Al on the phone more than a week ago to ask him to be at the luncheon. Their conversation was extremely friendly but Al actually had a prior engagement and could not be there."

Lamb County Fair Elects Officers

AMHERST, Aug. 29. (Special)—New officers for the Lamb County Fair association were elected recently. C. A. Messamore was named president, W. E. Man Is Held In Kidnaping

Oscar Brandon, Said To Be A Fugitive From Reformatory, Captured; Officers Search For A Second

TISHOMINGO, Okla., Aug. 29 (AP)—Oscar Brandon, who officers said was a fugitive from state's reformatory, was captured near Ravia today by officers searching for two men who robbed a Fort Worth, Tex., family and kidnaped an 18-year-old girl.

Brandon was alleged to have admitted to Deputy Sheriff Robert Donaldson of Johnston county that he and his brother-in-law, Aussie Elliott, held up John Webber of Fort Worth and his family last night while the Webers were returning home from a trip to Sulphur and abducted Weber's 18-year-old daughter, Joanna.

Posses from Johnston, Carter and Marshall counties continued the search for Elliott, also said to have been among 23 convicts who fled recently from the reformatory. The fugitive was believed to be armed.

Brandon, 45, was arrested while walking down railroad tracks. He was taken to Tishomingo.

The Weber girl, bound and gagged, was found several hours after the robbery last night at Lone Cedar cemetery. Later the desperadoes abandoned the motor car and loot they had taken from the family.

Mrs. George Waters, warden of the Granite reformatory, said Elliott, one of seven convicts still at large, was sentenced for 20 years for robbery with firearms in Muskogee county. She said she knew nothing of Brandon, although possemen said they understood he was a Granite fugitive.

Three Minute Relief From Periodical Pains

It is so unnecessary to suffer month after month from inorganic pains, because "B. C." will bring soothing relief in three minutes. "B.C." is prepared by a registered pharmacist, compounded off a different principle from most relief-giving agencies in that it contains several ingredients, used by many physicians, so blended and proportioned as to accomplish in a few minutes what we believe no one drug formula can do in so short a time. "B.C." should also be used for the relief of common colds, headaches and neralgia, muscular aches and pains, reducing fever and for quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs. Get "B.C." in 10c and 25c packages, wherever drugs are sold. (adv.)

knew the old man well, he was acquainted with Sheriff Pat Garrett, of Lincoln county, who shot and killed "Billy the Kid." Jones ranched there and also in Arizona.

Was Indian Fighter

While in Arizona young Jones became a member of the militia that warred with Chief Geronimo Through this military service Mr Jones had hopes of obtaining a pension. Mr. Moore said. "The place where the records of the militia were kept was burned," the officer added. "Mr. Jones wrote and gave his record. They started an investigation and as he told it to me, found six men who had been with him in the service. These six were all that were left of that company. His enlistment record was found and I think he was about to get his pension. It would have amounted to $10.000. Congressman Marvin Jones, no relation, helped him with his case."

Some 30 or 35 years or so ago Mr. Jones ranched in the San Angelo country and was well known there. He came to Lubbock about 1915.

Had Been Injured

About a year and a half ago Mr. Jones went to the old people's home. He had been injured two and a half years before that by a fall from a horse and had broken an ankle. Six months ago he came ill and two weeks ago very ill. Becoming critically ill Thursday, he never rallied.

Charlie Jones had never married. He leaves three brothers, Buck of Tiaban, N. M.; Keat of Hagerman N. M., and A. G. "Albert" Jones of San Angelo. The dead man was said to be a first cousin of W. W. "Bill" Jones, capitalist of Corpus Christi.

Funeral arrangements were not complete last night. The body is at the Bynum-Stahler funeral home and about 8 o'clock a message was received from A. G. Jones in San Angelo saying he would be here Tuesday.

Expects New Mark

Major Doolittle from here telegraphed congratulations to Haizlip, his comrade in work, and then said: "Though he's the best buddy I have in the world, I look to see the record taken away from him next year, if not before."

Haizlip led a field of four derbyists in his weather-ignoring dash, James R. Weddell, Patterson, La., averaging 232 miles an hour to take the $3,750 second prize.

Turner Is Third

Colonel Roscoe Turner, Los Angeles, averaged 226 miles an hour for third place money of $2,250. He also continued on to New York finishing the transcontinental journey in 1 hours and 3 minutes, which also was faster than Doolittle's former record.

Lee Gehlbach, Mount Clemens, Mich., won $1,500 fourth place money. The only starter who failed to reach Cleveland was X. K. Vance, west coast pilot, who turned back with a broken gasoline line soon after taking off.

counties or road districts to support such bonds shall not be collected for the year 1932 or succeeding years but that the principal and interest on the bonds be paid out of the state highway fund. The principle source of revenue to the highway fund is the four cent gasoline tax.

Two other subjects were opened by the governor's proclamation: remission of interest and penalties accrued upon all delinquent taxes provided they are paid on or before January 31, 1933, and amendments to laws governing investments of life insurance companies and of building and loan associations so as to allow them to make the necessary investments in the stock of the federal home loan banks.

Right Is Reserved

The right to submit other subjects "of public imperative importance," was reserved.

P. L. Anderson, member of the house from San Antonio, said he was inclined to an opinion the governor's proclamation in opening consideration of changes in laws governing investments of life insurance companies did not make it possible for the legislature to take up proposed modification or repeal of the Robertson insurance law. Anderson sponsored the bill proposing modification of the Robertson law in the last legislature.

Some legislators had said they believed the governor's proclamation language with reference to life insurance changes was broad enough to make it possible for the Robertson law to come within the "call."

Modification Agitation

There has been considerable agitation for several legislative sessions to modify the provision which directs life insurance companies doing business in the state to invest 75 per cent of their legal premium reserve in Texas real estate or securities. A number of companies withdrew from the state after passage of the law.

Many of the legislators congregating for the special session, the third since Governor Sterling took office in 1931, were defeated in the July and August primaries. By reason of the many defeats the special session had become known as the "lame duck" meeting. Those defeated will not relinquish their seats until next January. It was estimated that a majority of the 150 house members had failed of renomination and nine of the sixteen members of the senate whose terms are expiring will not return to the 43rd legislature. There were fifteen holdover members of the senate, the terms in the upper house being for four years.

Millions Are Advanced For Holding Of Cotton Surplus

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. (AP) — Jesse H. Jones, a director of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, said tonight in a radio address as released by the National Broadcasting Company that "we have authorized $50,000,000 for cotton cooperative and cotton stabilization corporations to enable them to hold their cotton until 1933."

Jones did not elaborate on the sentence which was added to the advance text of his address just before he began to speak.

Carl Williams, vice-chairman of the farm board, when asked by newspapermen whether Jones' announcement meant the cotton controlled by farm board affiliates would be held from the markets for another year, said: "I cannot comment on that at this time."

Rain And Fog Fail To Stop Flier On Return To London

SYDNEY, N. S., Aug. 29. (AP) — Captain James A. Mollison, homeward bound to Great Britain on a return crossing of the Atlantic, triumphed over rain and fog today and brought his tiny plane to rest in a field near here.

The Scottish pilot landed on the Stewart farm three miles from the city at 2:30 p. m. (CST) after a four and a half hour flight from St. John, N. B. Tomorrow, he will proceed to Harbor Grace if flying conditions are propitious and refuel for the final take-off toward London.

Two Are Held For Cruelty To Child

GALLIPOLIS, O., Aug. 29. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Hoctor, who are alleged to have held an unwanted child in an upstairs room of their home, naked, half starved, unwashed and speechless, were formally arrested today. Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Fred Millisor, they were held for action of the Gallia county grand jury and then released without bond.

At the county children's home, meanwhile, three-year-old Loren Hoctor, frolicked at intervals in sun-light he had almost forgotten. The matron said the boy was "practically a skeleton" from starvation, but belief was expressed that with care he would recover full health.

Mrs. Hoctor said the boy was confined "to keep him out of trouble". She and her husband are 32. They have four children now. Another died some time ago.

War For Label Of 'Roosevelt' Grips Parties

BY KIRKE SIMPSON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—If anyone doubted that mere possession of the name Roosevelt is a political asset in this country, what happened in connection with the Hoover notification ceremonies should have set that doubt at rest.

MRS. T. R. ROOSEVELT, SR.

The prominence of Mrs. Edith Kermit Roosevelt, widow of the former President, in those activities was not by chance. That it was designed to off-set in the public mind the fact that a democratic Roosevelt is running for President could not be doubted.

And there are so many Roosevelts mixed up with the campaign on both sides this year that it has somewhat the look of a political family row.

Roosevelts—And Roosevelts

Aside from "Cousin" Governor Frank Roosevelt at Albany, democratic presidential candidate, the most completely Roosevelt Roosevelt of them all is also on the democratic side. She is Mrs. Anna Eleanor Roosevelt Roosevelt, wife of the New York governor, a member of the clan both by birth and marriage. And she also was favorite niece of the original republican Roosevelt, the colonel himself.

Then there is that third generation bidder for political prominence, young Jimmy Roosevelt, son of the governor and Mrs. Roosevelt. That tall, slender young scion of the great American political family seems fully bent on carrying on the political traditions of his clan.

On The Other Side

On the republican side are mustered all the direct descendants of Theodore the First. His widow is showing at over 70 greater political activity than ever before in her life. Theodore Second—with his son, Theodore Third—is held in the far islands by present duties; but if there is any evidence of public confusion as to which Roosevelt is running for President, it's a safe bet young Teddy will be back to take the stump for Hoover.

It may not become necessary. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, whom some regard the most politically minded Roosevelt of them all, is aiding the effort to conserve the fame of the late colonel for exclusive republican campaign use.

And what, one wonders, would the colonel himself have thought about it, the Roosevelt of 1912, say, had he lived until 1932?

Ecuador Rebels Dislodged From Capital City Of Quito

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, Aug. 29. (AP)—President-Elect Neptali Bonifaz' rebels were dislodged from the capital city of Quito today after a brisk engagement, the government announced, and federal troops regained control for the first time since Saturday.

The insurgents were said to be streaming out of the city toward the north with federals in close pursuit.

duled time.

George R. Bean, another leader, explained the method by which such things are handled.

To Tabulate Report

County executive committee chairmen make up a tabulation of the vote in their county and report and certify it to the state committee. The committee will tabulate the report and announce the result to the convention.

In case of a contest in a county, the same is certified to the state committee. A state contest must be filed with the state committee within 20 days after the results are announced.

There is another way to handle a contest prior to the meeting. That is to secure a district court order blocking the counting of ballots. It is not expected that this action will be taken.

It was reported last night that Governor Sterling had ordered all election boxes to be sealed and placed in the custody of the county clerk, to be opened only in case of a contest.

Locally, election boxes yesterday were being delivered to Amos Howard, county clerk.

It is estimated that there are about 500 known deposits of gold in Japan proper.

Suits Against Movie Star Are Withdrawn In Courts

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (AP)—Two suits for an aggregate of $600,000 filed against Marlene Dietrich, motion picture actress, by Mrs. Riza Von Sternberg, wife of Josef Von Sternberg, motion picture director, were discontinued today.

Stipulations were filed by counsel for both parties to the suits, announcing the settlement but not disclosing the terms. Lawyers for both Mrs. Von Sternberg and Miss Dietrich said out of court, however, that no money was involved in the settlements.

Mrs. Von Sternberg had sued Miss Dietrich for $500,000 for alienation of the affections of Von Sternberg and for $100,000 for alleged libel.

Election

Nevertheless, that possibility was widely discussed.

At Marshall, Myron G. Blalock, assistant campaign manager for Sterling, said:

"I am convinced Ferguson got thousands of illegal votes and I am not in the least afraid of any contest he might bring."

When the vote at the first primary in numerous counties exceeded poll tax payments there were charges that there had been widespread illegal voting. Three persons were indicted in Gregg county.

Jim Is Talkative; Sterling Is Busy

AUSTIN, Aug. 29. (AP)—James E. Ferguson and Governor R. S. Sterling cupped their ears for news from Saturday's run-off gubernatorial primary in dissimilar surroundings today.

Ferguson, husband of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, Governor Sterling's opponent, fretted over closeness of the race in his office downtown where he was surrounded by scores of partisans all anxious to be bearers of good news.

Sterling Locked In

Governor Sterling had to lock himself in one of his executive offices and concentrate on writing a message to a special session of the legislature, already in town, seeking admittance at his door were well-wishers, who wanted to encourage the executive during tense hours.

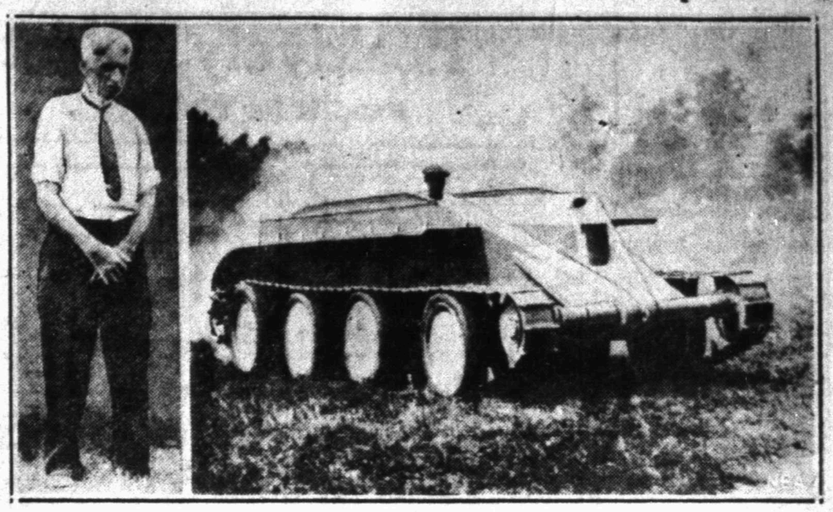

The governor was in the capitol early, ready to wrestle with the legislative message. He said he was not worried about the outcome of the primary. He said he had put the strenuous campaign and its possible outcome behind him for the time being. He expressed confidence a final tabulation of the vote would favor him, even if by a slight margin.

In Fine Shape

"Never was in better health," he laughed. "Feel like running a foot race this very minute. I certainly did enjoy that campaign. Regretted there wasn't a week or two more to devote to calling at some communities we did not get time to make. It did me lots of good seeing the people."

Ferguson was in good spirits too. He chatted with everycne. He told all that "while the race is too close to be comfortable. Mrs. Ferguson has an even chance to win."

Inventor Shows War Machine That Jumps!

If the claims of Inventor J. Walter Christie, left, are borne out, tanks like the one shown here would become the terrors of another war. For this machine, he says, not only can travel over rough country at the rate of a mile a minute, but can leap over obstacles eight feet high or ditches 30 feet wide. And it also is light enough to be carried by a bombing plane. The tank here is pictured during a demonstration for U. S. Army officers at Linden, N. J. Tested on a highway, using its wheels instead of caterpillar treads, it attained a speed of 110 miles an hour. Its jumping ability, not yet demonstrated, is said to be due to a powerful spring device under the machine.

Miss McNamara underwent an operation in Rochester, Minn., early in the summer and later went to the home of relatives in Tipton to recuperate.

Before joining the Associated Press, Miss McNamara had worked on newspapers in Des Moines and Omaha.

She covered the vacation of Calvin Coolidge in the Black Hills.

BROWNSVILLE, Aug. 29. (AP) — For the first time in his thirty years as representative in congress from the fifteenth Texas district, John N. Garner, speaker of the house faces determined opposition for reelection as representative, for which he also is running as well as for the vice-presidency.

Carlos C. Watson, young Republican nominee, chosen in Saturday's convention to oppose Garner for the second time, has announced he will wage an active campaign, planning to visit each county in the vast district.

Scowling Strikers Hurling Taunts At Workers In Mills

MANCHESTER, Eng., Aug. 29. (AP) —Scowling Lancashire mill lassies stood outside the gates of the midlands great textile factories today and hurled vitriolic taunts at those who, in defiance of orders to strike, went to work.

It was impossible to determine exactly how many workers obeyed the strike call, but estimates were that the movement was about two-thirds effective. Andrew Naesmith, leader of the weavers union, said 140.000 had walked and by Wednesday 170.000 would be on strike.

Third Week Of Revival At Nazarene Church Underway

With the pastor himself doing the preaching, the third week of the summer revival at the Church of the Nazarene, Avenue Q and Fourteenth street, was begun Monday night. There was a good attendance and much interest is being shown.

Today's meetings were announced for 10 a. m. with "Waiting on the Lord," the sermon subject and 8 p. m., when the topic will be "Walking with God or the Devil."

—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies . . . the mildest cigarette you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"If a man write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mouse-trap than his neighbor, tho he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."—RALPH WALDO EMERSON.

Does not this explain the world-wide acceptance and approval of Lucky Strike?

Babe Wants To Be Own Boss; Court Willing

DALLAS, Aug. 29. (AP)—Mildred (Babe) Didrikson, the world's most versatile woman athlete was granted a court order today giving her the legal right to transact her own business affairs, although she is but 19 years old.

The Olympic champion cited several instances where opportunities had been offered her, through which she could benefit financially, and said she desired to have her disabilities of minority removed in order that she could sign contracts or handle other legal matters if she chose.

Her father, Ole Didrikson of Beaumont, told District Judge Royall R. Watkins he was willing for the court to issue such an order. Col. A. J. McCombs, her coach, said he believed she was thoroughly capable of managing her own business affairs.

Good Crowds Are Greeting Christian Church Services

A splendid crowd greeted Rev. John C. Welch, pastor-evangelist, at the First Christian church last night. It was the first week night service.

Music is under the direction of the local choir director, H. W. Moore, with Mrs. Paul Morgan at the piano.

After a brief song service last night the speaker launched into a discussion of the subject, "Why I am a Christian." The minister declared that "every man ought to be a Christian if there is a hereafter, or a life beyond the grave."

God has invited every one "to become a Christian or a disciple of Christ," the speaker said. It is the sane, sensible thing to do, he added.

The trouble with many, Reverend Welch pointed out, is that they become "mere church members and not real Christians."

This morning Rev. Welch will speak on "Jesus Serving Christians" at the 10 o'clock service.

In the statement, Cooper said he had bought liquor from Watkins and that he still owed $1 for the liquor, Evans said.

Cotton — Cotton Market Active Monday; Livestock — Steady To Lower Price Is Quoted; Grain — Buying Power Seen In Grain

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 29. (AP) — The cotton market was very active today and prices developed extremely wide fluctuations owing to alternate heavy waves of buying and selling. Prices made new highs for the season at 9.48 for October, a gain of 435 points of $21.75 a bale but nearly two dollars a bale of this gain was lost in the final trading.

After an advance of 28 to 37 points in the early trading prices declined 21 to 23 points on profit-taking, but rallied again 29 to 31 points to the day and season's high points, only to drop 36 to 37 points at the end on a bearish crop estimate by a private authority. The close was barely steady at or near the lows showing net losses of 1 to 9 points.

The market turned reactionary after the first hour on heavy profit-taking both by local and foreign interests and before the offerings were absorbed October dropped to 8.15 and December to 9.35 down 21 to 23 points from the earlier highs. Later a storm warning for the extreme South Florida coast with possibility of it moving into the Gulf of Mexico caused prices to rally again and advance 22 to 23 points from the lows.

After reacting about 8 points soon after mid-session the market encountered fresh waves of buying and prices were advanced to new highs for the day and season at 9.48 for October and 9.66 for December or 33 to 35 points above the previous close. Later in the afternoon prices weakened sharply owing to heavy profit-taking and selling on the estimate of 11,900,000 bales of a private authority whose estimate a month ago was 12,536,000 bales. October declines to 9.13 and December to 9.29, new lows for the day and 36 to 37 points under the highs. The close was at or near the bottom with October 3 points net lower for the day and December 1 point net lower.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (AP)—A further advance of about $1.50 a bale in cotton here today, which carried the prices of July contracts up to the ten cent level and December to 9.66 or 35 points above the closing quotation of last week, was followed by reactions under realizing and selling for a reaction.

December sold off to 9.30, or 36 points from the best and closed at 9.3 with the general market closing barely steady, net 2 points higher to 8 points lower.

Apprehensions that the tropical storm approaching the Florida coast from the Brahamas, might cause some damage, and continued bullish crop advices from the south were contributing factors on the advance which carried active months about 31 to 35 points above the previous finals.

The market broke rapidly in the late trading on general realizing. A private crop report placing the condition at 57.9 and the indicated yield at 11,900,000 bales compared with an indication of 12,575,000 bales by the same authority a month ago, may have contributed to the reaction which carried prices back to about the previous finals.

December selling at 9.66 on today's advance was $21.80 per bale above the low level reached by that delivery early last June. Liverpool cables reported general speculative buying, supplied by Manchester and Bombay realizing in that market and while houses with Liverpool connections bought here at the opening, they were credited with selling later on the differences. Exports today 26,397, making 401,698 so far this season. U. S. port stocks 3,319,616.

Bull Campaign Pursued Vigorously But Stiff Opposition Seen Monday

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (AP)—The bull campaign in financial markets was pursued with vigor, but it met considerable opposition from profit taking sales today.

Stocks pushed up vigorously at times, with coppers and a sprinkling of utilities and industrials advancing briskly, obtained considerable support from advancing commodities.

The share market slid back in the late trading, however, and closed irregularly, along with the cotton market. The fact that bonds at no time participated in an important degree in the strength elsewhere evidently made stock traders somewhat skeptical.

Industrial and corporation news remained more favorable than otherwise, including report of some quickening of steel production in the Youngstown area. Announcement of a receivership for United Cigar Stores of America was probably not an important factor, as it was not wholly unanticipated. The Frisco railroad announced that it had obtained funds to meet obligations falling due Sept. 1.

The movement in the coppers followed strength of that metal in the London market during the past week, and was accompanied by unconfirmed rumors that domestic producers were planning a sharp increase in the metal price here, to take advantage of the 4-cent-a-pound tariff. The metal showed a firm tone at 5 1-2 cents a pound, which is said to be substantially under average production costs in the United States.

TEXAN IS DEAD

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 29. (AP)—Steady to 25 lower figures were tabulated on most beef steers and yearlings as compared with the close of last week. Chicago equalled the 10.00 top of last week when nine loads of weighty steers cleared at this price. Several loads of better grade steers around the circuit, most of them averaging around 1200 lbs. or above, brought 9.00@9.90, while the general run of native steers were included at 7.00@8.50.

Most common to medium western steers made 3.75@6.50 with a few loads of fed grassers at 7.00@8.15.

Most replacement steers cleared at 3.75@6.00 with a few loads of fleshy feeders at 6.50@7.35. Estimated receipts at eleven markets numbered 93,900 as compared with 95,038 last Monday and 96,519 the same day a year ago.

Hogs sold unevenly 10 to 25 lower with a top in Chicago at 4.70, while other points ranged downward to 4.15.

Most lambs turned at 5.00@6.00 with a few loads of closely sorted natives at 6.35@6.50. Medium to choice feeding lambs bulked at 3.75@5.00.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Aug. 29. (AP)—Splendid demand was reported for wheat on the Fort Worth cash grain market as the week opened. Other light offerings were fairly well absorbed, except corn which was slow.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis car loads on track Fort Worth, freight paid, delivered Texas Gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: Wheat No. 1 hard, according to protein and billing, 59 3-4@61 3-4. Barley, No. 2 nominally 31@31 1-2. Sorghums, No. 2 milo per 100 pounds 68@70; No. 2 kaffir 67@68.

Delivered Texas group three or Texas common points: Corn, No. 2 mixed 40 1-2@41 1-2; No. 2 white 44 1-2@45 1-2; No. 2 yellow 67@68.

Delivered Texas common points: Oats, No. 2 red 20@20 1-2.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 29. (AP)—Buying power was evident in all grain pits today, but the coarse grains, corn and oats, almost took the play away from wheat. Traders again disregarded routine news and followed stock market firmness and sensational advances in cotton.

Wheat closed strong at almost the day's top level and 1 1-8 to 1 5-8 above Saturday's finish. Corn was also strong and 1 to 1 7-8 higher, oats 5-8 to 1 up, with provisions 2 cents lower to 5 cents advanced.

Roper Withdraws From "Dry" Group

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. (AP) — Daniel C. Roper, President Wilson's commissioner of internal revenue, has withdrawn from membership in the allied forces for prohibition because, he said, Dr. Daniel A. Poling, head of the organization, had made the dry issue a "football between the two major political parties" by coming out for President Hoover.

"Because I have from its beginning been a supporter of the educational work of the allied forces for prohibition," Roper wrote Dr. Poling, "I feel that I have the right to protest against your recent partisan political action, to which I seriously object.

"When you commit the allied forces, as an organization, to a presidential candidate in this campaign, you thereby work an irreparable damage to the temperance cause. Nothing can be more destructive to it, in congress and out of congress, than to make it a football between the two major political parties. This you deliberately have done."
