Council hears audit report

Colorado City Council members, determined to keep a close eye on a recurring problem, have asked for a monthly report on purchases made by city departments. The request to the city's financial manager, Connie Ponko, came after the city's auditor presented the annual audit report during last week's city council meeting. Certified Public Accountant Guy White said that overall, the city was in good financial shape and if he was grading them, would give the city an "A". In the cover letter accompanying the audit, White said that the general purpose financial statements presented fairly the financial position of the city. However, he pointed out the problems, some of which he noted as problems in last year's annual report and also the year before that. He especially "red flagged" the city's failure to effectively utilize the purchase order system. After examining the records, White found that some, but not all, department heads made purchases and then filled out and submitted a purchase order to the financial manager.

That's backwards from the way it should be done, said White. The purchase order system ensures that there is sufficient money in the department's budget before a purchase is made. The City's Annual Audit for 1996 showed that expenditures exceeded budget in the General Fund, the Data Processing Fund, the Equipment Fund and the Enterprise Fund that includes the Utility Fund, the Water Capital Project and the Sewer Capital Project. There was sufficient

THE WALLACE UNIT CEMETERY HONOR SQUAD removes a dead stump at the Colorado City Cemetery. Last week the specialized crew of trustees joined about 50 line squad inmates in doing an overall cleanup of the cemetery. Correctional Officer Rodney Hallmark oversees the cemetery work crew. Panel discusses study of Col-Tex site

A study to determine how much, if any, ecological damage has occurred at the old Col-Tex Refinery site was discussed Monday night in a meeting between the Citizens Advisory Panel and representatives of the Natural Resource Trustees and Fina. The Natural Resource Trustees, made up of state and federal agencies designated to protect the natural resources of the state, are in the process of conducting a natural resource damage assessment at the site. Fina will be fined for any damage that has occurred to plants or wildlife on the site and is paying for the costs of the assessment such as hiring a technical person to do the field work, explained Diane Perkins, senior staff environmental specialist with Fina. Texas Parks and Wildlife representative Don Pitts explained that the trustee agencies would be overseeing the study which will consist of a biological inventory and evaluation. The entire former Col-Tex site is included in the assessment. Lisa Roberts, from the Texas General Land Office, said that vegetation, fish, birds, frogs, reptiles, mammals and small

Work crew finds more headstones damaged

Many of the inmates on the Wallace Unit cemetery crew were disgusted by the disrespect of the recent vandalism at the Colorado City cemetery, the correctional officer who oversaw the repairs said. The work on the overturned and broken tombstones was done Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 9 and 10, by a specialized work crew from the prison unit. The cemetery crew, which was formed in February 1995, devotes the majority of their time to caring for the 14 cemeteries in this area.

From seven to twelve Honor Squad trustees work on the cemetery crew, headed by Correctional Officer Rodney Hallmark. Sgt. Rocky Moore oversees, coordinates and schedules the work for the ten Honor Squads, including Hallmark's squad. Lt. James Bass is in charge of the field crews that includes the line squads, large squads from the general inmate population that do cleanup work under armed supervision and the Honor Squads, more specialized crews

Dylan gets wish from foundation

Dylan Slater wished for a computer. Saturday morning a Make A Wish volunteer delivered an entire Minutower desktop computer system to him at his home south of Colorado City.

Dylan, the 13-year-old local boy who was diagnosed with cancer last April, was surrounded by family when Bertha Rendon from Make A Wish brought the computer. Along with the computer were numerous accessories—a printer, scanner, fax machine and a stack of games.

Dylan and his grandfather, Doc Slater, were the technical experts on setting up the computer system in Dylan's bedroom. But other family members were on hand, joining Dylan in the excitement of the day—his parents, J.D. and Rhonda Slater; his older brother Colby and younger brother Nathan; his grandmother Evelyn Slater and maternal grandfather Dewey McAnear.

Dylan's energetic enthusiasm last weekend supported his mother's statement that he has been in good spirits since coming home from the hospital last week. He spent seven weeks at Children's Medical Center in Dallas where he underwent radiation treatment for a rare type of cancer, nasopharyngeal carcinoma. The doctors at the Dallas hospital told his mother that Dylan was only the third child they had treated with that type of cancer.

The radiation wasn't as difficult as the four courses of chemotherapy he had from April through June, his mother said.

But Dylan doesn't dwell on the times during chemotherapy when he was nauseated and had mouth sores from the treatment.

Instead he focuses on the places he's been, the people he's met and the number of kind people he's encountered in the last few months.

Since he felt good during the radiation treatment, except for being tired, the social worker at Children's Hospital planned one activity a week for him. He spent time in the hospital's teen room which was set up with comput-

Spade hosts Trail Ride for Rehab

The Trail Ride for Rehab will be held Saturday and Sunday, September 21 and 22, on the Renderbrook Spade Ranch.

The Trail Ride camp will be set up at the River Bridge (take Hwy. 208 South to CR 349 and follow signs).

One hundred sixty people have already registered for the event, which is in its sixth year. Registration will begin Friday, September 20 at 3 p.m. and continue Saturday, starting at 8 a.m.

Volunteer chairmen are Kelly Gill, Mac Sayles and Thomas Hicks.

Lawrence Hall Chevrolet has underwritten the expenses and participants' free will donations will go directly to West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene and San Angelo. The trail ride will feature a day-long ride on Saturday with a shorter ride on Sunday morning. Three meals will be served.

On Saturday evening, entertainment will be provided by Texas Sand, a band from

COOK'S CORNER

Sara Petty

Sara Petty's mother and grandmother made learning to cook fun for the nine children in their family. Each of the six girls and three boys took turns preparing dinner for the whole family. They each had a night in which they were responsible for planning, cooking and cleaning up.

Sara fondly recalls her mother's wood stove. Wednesday was baking day at their house. Their mother would make enough bread to feed her family for the week. According to Sara, there was a man who came over every Wednesday to buy fresh bread. He brought his own butter and paid her mother $2.00 for a loaf of piping hot bread—which he usually finished eating before leaving.

Known throughout Mitchell County as an exceptional cook, Sara loves to share her creations with others. When the field work crew from the "80 John" Wallace Unit comes to Westbrook to work, both officers and inmates look forward to tasting some of the delightful dishes Sara prepares for them. She has her own ideas on this subject, "I feel that a little bit of kindness goes a long way toward turning someone's life around. It doesn't hurt any of us to show some kindness."

Mrs. Petty was quite willing to share a cooking flop with us. She said that since her mother loved cherry pie, at the age of 12 she decided to make one for her. Instead of measuring, she used a whole handful of baking powder in the crust and used no sugar in the filling. The pie exploded all over the oven, and though her mother made a polite attempt, the pie was completely inedible.

Sara moved to Westbrook from Salmon, Idaho in 1978. She is the wife of Roy Petty and mother of nine children. She has gotten used to life in West Texas, but says she still misses the fresh fruits and vegetables from the northwest. She remembers that one year her mother canned 1200 quarts of vegetables.

Since experimenting is one of Sara's favorite things to do in the kitchen, she sent us a few of her own original recipes. Have fun experimenting with these yourself.

Morris is hostess to Baptist women

The Global Focus Women on Mission First Baptist Church met at 7 p.m. September 9 in the home of Katherine Morris.

A new slate of officers was named, including Earline Sellier, group leader; Margaret Bodine and Virginia Dearen, mission study; Anna Staats, mission support; Jean Edwards, mission action; Mae Dunn, week of prayer; Betsy Aycock, historian; Billy Margaret Harrison, ministries; and Frances Cooper, reporter.

A film was shown on the state of grace and programs were given on criminal justice, hospitality house, urban development, and youth and river ministries.

Present were Margaret Bodine, Earline Sellier, Betsy Aycock, Anna Staats, Frances Cooper, Mae Dunn, Jean Edwards, Katherine Morris and Jean Hardee.

NO CHOLESTEROL ROLLS

3 cups potato water
2 cups mashed potatoes
1/2 cup sugar or honey
2 tablespoons yeast
2 teaspoons salt
8-9 cups flour (enough to make a moderately stiff dough)
2 tablespoons cottonseed oil or other vegetable oil
Mix potato water and mashed potatoes, salt and yeast thoroughly. Add four cups flour, mix well, add rest of flour one cup at a time and mix well. Knead dough until well mixed and smooth. Use cottonseed oil to oil sides and bottom of bowl. Set in warm place to rise until double in size. Punch down, pinch into rolls and put in pans sprayed with non-stick spray. Spray tops of rolls. Let rise, then bake in 350° oven until golden brown. Also makes good cinnamon rolls. Makes 36-1 roll servings.

Per serving: 132 Calories; 1g Fat (8% calories from fat); 3g Protein; 26g Carbohydrate; 0mg Cholesterol; 150mg Sodium

SARA'S BAKED HAMBURGERS

1 pound lean ground beef
salt and pepper, to taste
1 onion, chopped
1/2 cup cheddar cheese, shredded pastry dough (enough for double 9 inch pie crust)
1 tablespoon worcestershire sauce
Mix ground beef, seasonings, 1/2 cup chopped onion and worcestershire sauce together. Roll out pastry dough into 6 inch circle, about 1/4 inch thick. Put 4 ounces of meat mixture 3/8" to 1/2" thick in half of circle, sprinkle chopped onions and cheese over mixture. Fold other half of pastry over and seal edges. Make three vent holes on top. Continue until all are made. Bake in 350° oven until golden brown (about 45 minutes). Serve with catsup or any other spread. These freeze well and can be taken out one at a time or make several for a quick dinner. Makes 4 servings.

Per serving: 367 Calories; 28g Fat (71% calories from fat); 24g Protein; 2g Carbohydrate; 100mg Cholesterol; 345mg Sodium

QUICK BROWNIES

1 box fudge cake mix
3 eggs
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 cup chocolate chips
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 cup pecans, chopped

ICING:

1 cup chocolate chips
1/4 cup butter or margarine
4 cups powdered sugar
chopped nuts

Brownies: Beat eggs well. Melt butter and chocolate chips together. Set aside. Blend cake mix, sugar and nuts together. Add eggs, butter and chocolate chips to cake mix and sugar. Mixture will be thick. Spread in 9 x 13" pan sprayed with non-stick spray. Bake 25 minutes in 350° oven. Icing: Melt chocolate chips and butter. Add enough powdered sugar to make slightly stiff frosting. If too stiff, add a little milk. Frosting will look like fudge. Frost brownies while still hot. Spread chopped nuts on top, let cool, then cut into squares. Makes 24 brownies.

Per serving: 231 Calories; 12g Fat (44% calories from fat); 2g Protein; 32g Carbohydrate; 38mg Cholesterol; 68mg Sodium

Retired Teachers met Sept. 10 at Wallace Center

The Mitchell County Retired Teachers met at 11:45 a.m. September 10 in the Wallace Center for a dutch treat luncheon.

Earline Sellier presided over the program, during which members spoke about their summer activities.

Betsy Aycock read the minutes and gave a report on health and Alma Smith presented the treasurer's report. The fall convention will be held at the Radisson Hotel in Odessa October 29.

Attending were Frances Cooper, Betsy Aycock, Minnie Lee Moore, Lucy Thomas, Mary Rose Bowen, Mamie Lou New, Elaine McMichael, Lonie Pruitt, Ann Brown, Fanny Fay Feaster, Frances Godwin, Dorothy Fowler, Earline Sellier and Alma Smith.

Crafters workshop set

By MARY McMULLEN
CEA-FCS

A workshop entitled, "The Business of Art: Creating Success: will be held on Thursday, October 10 at South Plains College. Libby Platus, an internationally recognized sculptress and a consultant for individuals concerning business plans, will conduct the workshop. Ms. Platus has given over 550 presentations in all 50 states and nine countries on the "Business of Art." She will share her expertise with working artists, craftspersons and small business owners.

Participants will learn how to market their work and how to get maximum publicity from a small budget with a little imagination and effort. Topics to be covered include goals, attitudes, marketing tools, image, pricing, identifying customers, locating sales outlets, promotional materials, marketing strategies, publicity and marketing action plans.

There will also be networking opportunities at the business information exchange table. Participants are encouraged to bring samples of their work for pricing, business cards and promotional literature.

Registration will begin at 8 a.m. The workshop starts at 8:30 a.m. and will end at 4:30 p.m. It will be held in the Sundown Room of the Student Center of South Plains College.

Early registration is $30 per person, and must be postmarked on or before October 1. Registration postmarked after that date is $40 per person. This fee will cover lunch, breaks, workshop printed materials and the speaker's fees. This workshop is limited to 100 participants.

The workshop is being sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service—Castro, Cochran, Hockley, Lamb and Parmer counties. For more information or to receive a registration brochure, call Mary McMullen, Extension Agent-FCS at 728-3111.

THIS 'n THAT

By Sheila Plagens
Greetings to everyone!

Elizabeth Swindle, former Heart of West Texas Museum director, left last Monday to accept another job. Apparently, she interviewed for the job Thursday, the 5th and was hired on the 6th of September, the day she quit the museum.

Over 300 people were served the other night at the annual Kiwanis Club barbecue. This is an annual fundraising event for the club, held on the night of the first home football game. Don't miss it next year!

What a garden! The Wallace Unit garden has done very well this year, despite the hot, dry weather. They have been able to supply enough vegetables to feed the inmates at the Wallace Unit, the Snyder Unit, and the Big Spring work camp. There have been plenty of squash, watermelon, cantaloupe, jalapenos, tomatoes, onions and okra.

Now the gardeners have started on the fall garden, where carrots have already been planted.

Have you ever wanted to have your picture made with George Strait, John Wayne, Marilyn Monroe or the Red Power Ranger? If so, now's your chance! The B&PW Club will take your picture with these folks at the Mitchell County Fair. The cost is only $2.50—or bring your own camera and take the picture for 50¢.

The George Strait photo is courtesy of Jan Lemons. She happens to have a life-size poster of her favorite country-western singer and has agreed to let the B&PW Club use it during the fair—only if they take very good care of it.

Foy Forehand will be back in town September 22-25 for a gospel meeting at 22nd and Austin Street Church of Christ. He was the preacher there from 1986 to 1990. He is now living in Center, Texas. Welcome back!

The Kiwanis Club Kids' Day Parade will be held September 28th this year. See page 1 of today's Record for more information. Kids fifth grade and younger are invited to participate.

Emmabeth Thompson enjoyed a visit from some her family over the weekend. I saw her at CC Certified Quality Meats Saturday.

Dorothy Battye and Dorothy Smith of Pontefract, Yorkshire, England spoke to the Noon Lions Club last week. They had visited here last year in March and have returned to visit Bob and Charlene Reilly. They are amazed at the great distances we have to travel to do things.

The B&PW Club is holding a "Know Your Candidates" reception on Tuesday, Oct. 8 at 7:15 p.m. The event will be held at the Civic Center after their regular monthly meeting.

The club chose to hold this reception because of the low percentage of women in the country who voted in last year's election. Just 45 percent of all women eligible to vote cast ballots in that election.

The reception is not limited to women, the public is invited to hear the politicians share their views as well as answer questions in the informal meeting.

Some of you may remember our former sports editor, Brent Graham. His grandmother called to tell us he had enlisted in the Navy and gave us his address to pass along to anyone who may want to wish him well. It is: S.R. Graham, Brent D., #7595 Div. 446, Shipberth #14, Recruit Training Comm., 2404 Sheridan Rd., Great Lakes, IL, 60088-5300.

Visiting in the home of Addie Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Wes Smith were David and Cathey Ann Baker. They arrived in Eastland on Aug. 25. The Spurlen and Smith families all gathered for a barbecue on Saturday night in the home of Polly Smith. Sunday they left on a tour of the Texas Hill Country, Big Bend and El Paso, then on to New Mexico. They visited here two nights. They arrived back home in Fairfax Station, Virginia on Sept. 14th.

From the pages of the Record, 30 years ago...

"The Campers" visit Colorado City.

"The Campers" meet in C-City

Henry and Cherrie Hoyle recently hosted "The Campers", a group of retired people from all over the state of Texas and a couple from Arizona, to enjoy camping, hunting, fishing, dominoes, cards and visiting.

Attending were the hosts, Henry and Cherrie Hoyle and Vera Kruse, all of Colorado City; John and Virginia Williams of Azle; Bo Kruse from Midland; Doug and Frances Crockran of Tucson, Ariz.; Joe and Maxine Tunal of Fort Worth; Red Plummer of Comanche; Hady and Lewis Blackburn of Iraan; Jay Williams From Azle; Jerry and Shane Brotherton of Springtown; George Plummer of Boerne; Marshall Plummer of New Braunfels; Ernestine Tiller of Hewitt; Jerry and Linda Kruse of Odessa; and Daryl and Bailey Kruse of Lubbock.

Others who joined the group sometime during their stay were Bonnie Denton, Lodena Blassingame, Selena and Amy Farmer, Billy Marie and Jack Long, Nathan, Cheryl, Stephanie and Brett Hoyle, all of Colorado City; Robert and Anita Erwin, Jan and Corky Kruse, all of Ira; and three baseball players from Howard College in Big Spring hunted and visited with the group, Michael Hoyle of Colorado City, Josh Jones of Crane and Keith Kubiak of Giddings.

Carnival tickets on sale now

Advance tickets for the 1996 Mitchell County Fair carnival are now on sale at the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce for $1 each.

The best deal for carnival goers, according to Pride of Texas Carnival owner Ed Burlingame, is to buy advance tickets, as they are discounted by more than 33 percent. Each ticket bought at the fair will cost $1.50.

"All ticket prices are set by the Pride of Texas Carnival," said Windi Fuller, manager of the Chamber of Commerce. She added that tickets are good for all rides, including the Gravatron, the Giant Slide, the Kentucky Swinger, the Bouncing Donkey and the Side Winder.

The fair will begin Thursday, September 26 and will run through Saturday, September 28.

For more information contact the Chamber of Commerce at 728-3403.

Kids' Day Parade set for September 28 this year

The popular annual Kiwanis Club Kids' Day Parade is scheduled for Saturday, September 28 at 11 a.m. Kids are encouraged to wear costumes as they will be competing for first, second and third place prizes in three categories: 1. pets, 2. wheels and 3. costumes. Parade participants are to meet at the courthouse at 10 a.m. The parade will start at 11 a.m. and end at Kiwanis Park in downtown Colorado City where free watermelon will be served, courtesy of Ray Ritchey.

Cancer group is not associated with ACS

An organization requesting volunteers and donations for the 1996 Mitchell County Area Cancer Drive is not associated with the American Cancer Society, local members warned.

Artwork sought for county fair exhibit

The Colorado City Brush & Palette Club will host the art exhibit at the Mitchell County Fair September 26-28 and the public is invited to bring their paintings and photography to the fair building.

There will be professional and non-professional categories for each medium.

All exhibits must have wire hangers (no sawtooth brackets) and be received Thursday, Sept. 26 before 10 a.m. Three paintings in each medium or three photographs may be entered.

Entries may be picked up Sunday, September 29 at 2 p.m.

BPW Club hears talk on depression

Colorado City's Business and Professional Women's Club met September 10 at 7 p.m. in the Civic Center with Molly Bruce, world affairs committee chair, and Margaret Ann Conaway hosting.

Attendees viewed a film provided by the BPW national office about clinical depression, after which David Coe of the Texas Department of Mental Health gave an informative talk on the subject.

After a meal and a short break, the business meeting was called to order by Anna Staats, president.

Pauline Light reported on the club's plans for a concession stand serving hamburgers, drinks, cookies and brownies at the Mitchell County Fair. A time was set to work on the stand.

Mildred Free presented Anna Staats with a birthday gift.

Virginia Dearen spoke about the Minnie L. Moffatt Scholarship, which assists women studying in the medical profession.

District conference chair

this week.

Some residents have received a letter recently concerning a cancer fund drive, a project of the Pacific West Cancer Fund. The letter appears similar to the American Cancer Society drives.

Donations are asked be sent to Topeka, Kansas and lists another address in Seattle, Washington.

Mitchell County Judge Ray Mayo, president of the local chapter of the American Cancer Society, contacted the Better Business Bureau in Kansas and Washington and the Attorney General's Office in Washington. He found that the organization was listed as legitimate but 61 percent of its funds are used for conducting the drive and little goes for cancer treatment.

In contrast, the American Cancer Society funds are distributed as follows: 36% for research; 29% for prevention, detection and treatment; 18% for patient services; 15% for fundraising and 2% for management.

Shirley DeLaney reported on the joint conference of Districts 7 and 8 to be held at the Heart of West Texas Museum October 4-5. Doris McGlellan will be the guest speaker.

National Business Women's Week is October 21-25 this year.

The club selected Anna Staats to run for the state nominating committee next year.

The club will hold a community coat project for needy children at local schools. Molly Bruce is chair of the project and Sue Womack and Mildred Free are on the committee.

The meeting adjourned with Earline Sellier, chaplain, leading the club benediction.

Attending were two visitors, David Coe and Jan Brown, and members Anna Staats, Shirley DeLaney, Christine Cooley, Dee Hearn, Donna Laurens, Nancy Crow Lovess Curlee, Molly Bruce, Margaret Ann Conaway, Earline Sellier, Pauline Light, Mildred Free, Faye Spivey, Sue Womack, Gwen Wistrand, Virginia Dearen, and Louise Logsdon.

Couple to wed next weekend in Rotan

Shanna Nicole Haggerton and Michael Kayne plan to marry Saturday, September 28 at 6:30 in the home of Marie and C.J. Thornton of Rotan.

The bride-elect is the daughter Terry and Cheryl Haggerton of Colorado City and of Jerry and Lorna Thompson of Snyder. Her grandparents are Irma Jean Haggerton of Colorado City and Laurin and Audean Bautisto of Amarillo.

The prospective groom is the son of Terry Porter of Munday and Cindy Porter of Rotan and the grandson of Mike and Pat Porter and B.F. Clausen, all of Rotan.

Hospital group discusses the upcoming fair

Members of the Mitchell County Hospital Auxiliary held their business meeting at 9:30 a.m. September 10 in the Wallace Center.

The Mitchell County Fair was the topic of discussion and Maxene Pierson and Billie Dannheim were appointed as booth chairmen. The auxiliary will sell handmade items and baked goods.

Those present were Sibyl Walding, Thelma Howell, Estelle Rivera, Bertha Faye Snyder, Betty O'Neil, Angie Harris, Maxene Pierson, Faye Spivey, Bess Cooper, Gloria Erwin and Frances Cooper.

Lake Colorado City State Park swim beach could close

Lake Colorado City State Park officials would like feedback from the public regarding possible plans to close the swimming beach, adjacent to the boat ramp, to swimmers.

The move to close the 75-100 yard strip of beach to swimmers is being considered for safety reasons, said Park Director Mark Fambro.

Park officials are concerned that a major injury could occur to a swimmer because of the launching and returning of boats and jet skis close to the swimmers.

Numerous boaters have expressed concern about the situation to park officials.

If the proposal goes into effect, swimming would be allowed in the area designated for swimming only, at the eastern-most section of the beach.

If you have an opinion on the proposal, call the state park at 728-3931.

OBITUARIES

Marjorie Nell Nunn

Marjorie Nell Nunn, 73, of Fort Worth, died September 12 in Fort Worth. Memorial services were scheduled for 11 a.m. Monday at Greenwood Chapel with burial at 2 p.m. in the Garden of Memories, Stephenville. Arrangements were under the direction of Greenwood Funeral Home.

A Republican party election judge, Mrs. Nunn had begun her career as a teacher and public administrator in Erath County and as administrative assistant to a state congressman. Over the years she had taken an active role in the Fort Worth Republican Women's Club, including serving as president of the organization. She was a Scout den mother and served as the first woman president of Stephenville Country Club Lake, a non-profit organization serving Erath County. She was a past president of Chi Omega Mom's Club, a member of three bridge clubs, and was an active member of Westside Church of Christ in Fort Worth, where she was a teacher, and in the establishment of Woodmont Church of Christ.

Survivors include her husband, John W. Nunn; children and spouses Mark Nunn, Nancy and Steve Fougla, Pam and David Carter and John Nunn, Jr.; grandchildren Amber Carter, Jarrod and Casey Nunn and Madison Fougla; and brothers and sisters Rita Bridges, Fenella Jarratt, Don Walker, Stormy Walker, Harold Walker and Charles Walker.

Eula Mae Gross Heath

Eula Mae Gross Heath, 86, of Stephenville and formerly of Colorado City, died Thursday in a Stephenville hospital. Funeral services were scheduled for 10 a.m. Saturday in the Lacy Funeral Home Chapel in Stephenville with Dr. Morgan Garrett officiating. Burial was at 3 p.m. Saturday in Colorado City Cemetery with the Rev. Howard Quitt officiating. Local arrangements were under the direction of Kiker-Seale Funeral Home.

Mrs. Heath was born September 13, 1909 in Dunn and had lived in Stephenville for the past 35 years. She married W.D. McClure on February 25, 1932. He preceded her in death on January 11, 1956. She was remarried on April 5, 1964 to Jesse Heath, who preceded her in death on August 1, 1981. Mrs. Heath was a retired high school secretary and a Methodist.

Survivors include one sister, Liela Bassham of Ft. Worth; two stepdaughters, Hady Blackburn of Iraan, Texas and Sallie McEntire of San Angelo and many nieces and nephews.

Edna Harben

Edna Harben, 62, of Levelland died Sunday in Methodist Hospital, Levelland after a lengthy illness. Her body was donated to Texas Tech Medical School.

Mrs. Harben was born June 26, 1934 in Mesquite, Texas, moved with her parents to Brownfield in 1950 and graduated from Brownfield High School in 1951. She had been the medical records director at hospitals in Brownfield, Colorado City and Odessa for the past 20 years. She was the 19th district president of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Survivors include four daughters, Kathleen Deming of Odessa, Mona Doss of Houston, Elizabeth Ribble of Grapevine and Carla Miller of Levelland; one son, Dana Harben of Irving; one sister, Clea Shankles of Louisville, Texas; one brother, Woody Harbin of Keithville, La.; her father, A.C. Harbin of Brownfield; her stepfather, Tom Harred of Brownfield; 13 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

The family suggests memorials to Girlstown USA, Whiteface, Texas 79379.

David Joe Schulze

David Joe Schulze, 50, of Snyder died Monday at Mitchell County Hospital after a lengthy illness. A memorial service was scheduled for 10 a.m. Wednesday at St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church with Father Reynaldo Reyes officiating. Mr. Schulze was cremated and a private interment service will be held later. Arrangements are under the direction of Bell-Cypert-Seale Funeral Home, Snyder.

Mr. Schulze was born February 14, 1946 in Roscoe. He was reared in the Hermleigh area, where he attended school. He graduated from Snyder High School and earned a bachelor of arts degree from Texas Tech University. He did graduate work at UCLA.

A certified public accountant, Mr. Schulze worked in Los Angeles for Moran Wurlitzer Co., a mirror manufacturing company. After living in Los Angeles for 20 years, he moved to Phoenix, where he lived two years before moving to Snyder about a year ago. He was preceded in death by his father, Frank J. Schulze, on August 9, 1985.

Survivors include his mother, Frances Jo Schulze; three sisters, Emily Luna, Karen Bollinger and Theresa Johnson; two brothers, Jerry Schulze and Richard Schulze, all of Snyder; 13 nephews and nieces and three great nieces.

Sales tax rebates increase

Colorado City's sales tax rebates increased significantly this month, according to a report from State Comptroller John Sharp's office.

A rebate of $33,732.31 was reported for the city this month, an 11.96 percent increase from $30,126.28 received in September 1995.

Year to date payments are $289,185.55, an increase of 4.74 percent over $276,085.29 paid this time last year.

Payments made this month include taxes collected on July sales and reported to the comptroller in August by businesses filing monthly tax returns.

Most other area cities and counties reported increases in sales tax rebates from last year.

Street repairs slated for 1997 & '98

City work crews have begun to turn their attention to street repairs, now that the water and sewer systems are close to completion.

Recently City Manager Steve Shutt explained the step by step plan to update the city's infrastructure. After having started on the hidden but basic areas of the infrastructure, the water and sewer system, the city can now turn its attention to the more visible, cosmetic areas of the infrastructure like the streets and code enforcement on houses that have become eyesores.

"The years 1997 to 1998 will be the years for these things," said Shutt.

Equipment and vehicles have had to be replaced and added to do the necessary work.

"We've also had to get the budget where it's at, with reserves available to do the projects like the water and sewer.

"Obviously we have streets that are in pathetic condition that have not had attention for years," said Shutt. "The streets have been made worse by the sewer and water projects. We've known it and are moving to correct it, but it's been a question of money."

Shutt said he has made a commitment to cover all the dirt streets scattered throughout the city.

After experimenting last year with ways to do the work inexpensively, he believes he's found a solution. City crews will be using millings from highways to turn dirt, gravel and sand roads throughout the city into hard surface roads.

The plans are to concentrate on one area at a time, starting with the east and southeast part of town and then moving to the south section of the city.

The street work started about a month ago. Crews have been focusing on the Waco Street area—one block on Ninth Street between Waco and Rusk, four blocks on Rusk from Ninth to Sixth Street; on Waco from Eighth Street to Fifth Street and on Seventh Street with two blocks from Shepherd to Waco.

"We have a window of warm weather now," said Shutt two weeks ago. "The material doesn't work as well when it's not hot."

Before the end of the year, they hope to work on Colorado, Hemphill, 22nd Street and 23rd Streets.

Shutt explained that, basically, there are three phases to the job:

- 1) lay down some caliche to give the sand and dirt some base to the road and crown it;
- 2) Use the millings to make a 2-1/2 inch thick surface;
- 3) After a year, use a single course of chip seal on top. This phase of work has to be done in warm weather.

Caliche is currently being hauled in for the upcoming project.

These materials are much cheaper than others used on streets and provide a thicker surface, Shutt said.

During the street repairs phase, there will still be work on isolated problems with the water and sewer. In the next couple of years there will also continue to be downtown and park improvements.

Mitchell County furnished the bus and all the equipment needed for the cemetery work, such as lawn mowers and hand tools.

Hallmark's crew knows cemeteries and have come to appreciate the history they contain and the diversity found in the cemeteries in this area. Everyday for the last year and a half they have rotated their work among the cemeteries: Colorado City, Mitchell County, Handley, Cuthbert, Iatan, Whitechurch, Zion's Rest, McKensieville, Spade, Westbrook, Union Chapel, Hyman and the Dorn Cemetery.

Repairing the recent destruction at the Colorado City Cemetery was one of the hardest jobs they say they've had to do.

Much of the work involved placing the 600 to 2,500 pound headstones back on their bases.

"Even the small stones are very heavy," said Hallmark.

While equipment from a wrecker service was vital to the project, physical labor was used as much as possible because of the age of many of the stones, many of which were over a hundred years old.

"But the mental part was what was the toughest of all—that someone could do something like that," said Hallmark. "The inmates even commented on that. They couldn't understand why someone would do it. They thought it was gross disrespect."

After the crew got into the repair job, they found that there were more stones vandalized than had been originally reported. Initially it was believed that 40 stones had been damaged in the most recent incident. However, the crew found there were more lying among the weeds. That brought the total number to 54.

It took nearly an hour and a half to repair R.C. "Dick" Ware's grave. The early Texas Ranger, who was involved in the capture and shooting of the outlaw Sam Bass, was the first sheriff of Mitchell County. The new state jail beside the Wallace Unit will be named the Ware Unit in honor of the esteemed law man.

On Ware's headstone, they used a truck to set the heavy stone back on the base and did the rest of the work by hand, Hallmark said.

However, some stones were impossible to repair. One in the north section of the cemetery was broken beyond repair. About four of the older stones had spires or nobules that could not be glued back with the special granite seal because the pieces had been cut into the stone instead of set on top.

With the major emergency repairs finished at the Colorado City Cemetery, the crew will return to general upkeep of the cemeteries. Hallmark said they have gotten behind because of the recent rains. They plan to return later to the Colorado City Cemetery to work on tombstones that are leaning because of age.

revenue available to pay for the excess.

In the general government expenditures, the audit indicated that in the "all departments" category, gas and oil purchases exceeded the budget by $10,519. The line item for street department supplies exceeded the budget by $6,222.

The auditor's notes to the financial statements included other problems:

- During the year, the City failed to comply with certain requirements of the Texas Water Development Board to obtain approval of work change orders prior to the start of the work.

In connection with the loans from the TWDB, the city is required to comply with specific terms and agreements as well as applicable laws and regulations. Compliance is subject to review and audit by TWDB personnel.

- The city failed to comply with statutory requirements to obtain competitive bids.

White noted five areas where the city failed to obtain competitive bids: concrete construction work on 18th Street; water line construction on 7th and Cedar Street; water line installation to prison; street seal coating and insurance coverage.

In 1995, the state legislature increased the dollar amount limitation which requires competitive bidding from $5,000 to $15,000. However, the city charter still reads $5,000. White recommended that the council change and update this section of the charter.

- personal telephone calls on the city's Cellular One phones.
- The Civic Center Fund had a deficit fund balance of $94,560.

In conclusion, White emphasized that it was the responsibility of the city council members to make sure that the city was following purchase order procedures.

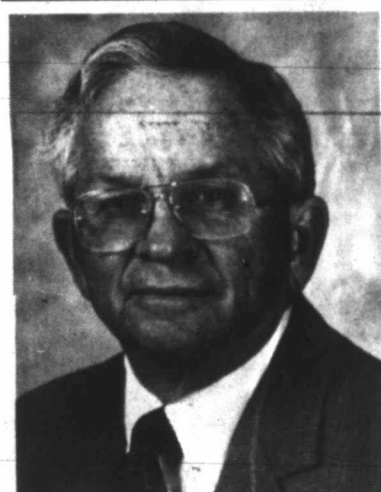

City Councilman Bob Reilly thanked the auditor for pointing out the deficiencies, saying that White had "held the council's feet to the fire."

REUNION HISTORY

Shortly after the turn of the century, settlers of the growing ranch and farm community of Colorado, Texas began the tradition of a reunion time when Mrs. E.A. Barcroft invited pioneer ladies to her hotel for an afternoon gathering.

Husbands soon joined in the popular gatherings, which included parades, rodeos, barbecues, band concerts, fiddlers' contests, square dances and sing-alongs.

As the gatherings grew in attendance, the old Union Tabernacle and the Herrington Building were the sites used for the festivities, and today the Civic Center is filled to capacity with 300-plus in attendance.

The names of Wulfjen, Arnett, Powell, DeLaney, Winn, Majors, Merritt, Jones, and Smith are associated with the first reunions. Years have changed the Old Timers Reunion, also known as Old Settlers, to the present Mitchell County Reunion.

In the approximately 70 years since the Barcroft invitations, pioneers have settled in Loraine and Westbrook and small communities in Mitchell County. Reorganizations occurred as the reunions were cancelled during the two world wars.

Dylan said his favorite outing was visiting the science museum. However, another highlight was meeting Troy Aikman, quarterback for the Dallas Cowboys. He had pictures taken with Aikman and received two autographed caps from the football star. He went to two Dallas Cowboys football games but was too tired to stay through the entire games. He also went to the South Fork Ranch for the Cattleman's Ball.

"He got to do a lot of things that were enjoyable," said his grandfather, Doc Slater. "Lots of people have helped make it a lot easier."

Dylan said he really appreciated all the cards he received while he was in the hospital. He received cards from Garland, Odessa, Louisiana—all over, his mother said.

He's been unable to thank one special person who, every couple of weeks, anonymously sends him a card with a five dollar bill tucked inside.

When the doctors at Children's Hospital would tell him about his illness, he would say, "well, you don't know how many people are praying for me."

Dylan, who's now an eighth grader, was a homebound student after his diagnosis last spring. Now that he's home from the hospital he has started attending regular classes as he's able. He attended one class last Thursday and three classes Friday.

While he's looking forward to eventually going to school all day, his mother said he doesn't want attention drawn to him because of his illness.

"He just wants to be treated like a normal 13-year-old instead of a child with cancer," said Rhonda Slater.

In fact, since he's been home, he's been "all boy," his mother said. He immediately wanted to roller blade and she warned him not to break a leg. Instead, he had a run-in with barbed wire that required stitches.

He wanted his local doctor, Dr. Dee Roach, to sew him up. As his mother was telling Dr. Roach what had happened, Dylan interjected, "You told me not to break a leg and I didn't."

Dylan is scheduled to have a cat scan Oct. 11.

"We'll know how effective the treatments were from that and are hoping for a good report," said his mother.

invertebrates like snails and mussels will be identified and counted at the site. The report on the first survey will be available October 30. Another field survey will be conducted in the spring.

An additional survey will be done on a comparison site that has not been impacted by a refinery.

Charles Brigrance, of the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission, explained the differences between the Superfund and the Natural Resource Damage Assessment (NRDA). The primary purpose of the Superfund remedial investigation site studies is to determine how best to clean up a site while NRDA concentrates on the impact on the natural resources. The Natural Resource Trustee Program at TNRCC is separate from the TNRCC investigation department.

Richard Seiler of TNRCC said that if Fina is fined, the fine is not punitive but will cover the costs of restoring the site to the same state it would have been in if there had not been a refinery.

Walt Staats, president of the Colorado City Advisory Panel, questioned the representatives of the state agencies on whether the biological tests would further delay clean-up at the site.

Perkins said that the remedial investigation has been held up for three years because Fina and the TNRCC have been unable to agree on the number of soil samples needed, based on future land use. The biological tests can be done in the meantime since they do not require soil samples.

The next meeting is scheduled for Jan. 27. The panel agreed that they would like to have a speaker from TNRCC to discuss the land use decision.

CISD SCHOOL BOARD

Called board meeting held at 6:30 p.m. on Sept. 16.

ROLL CALL: CISD Superintendent Russell Merket; Board President Larry Blasingame, and Trustees Roxie Strain, Jesse Munoz, Tony Turner, Rosanne Jameson and Lisa Hernandez. Absent: Diana Garza.

EXECUTIVE SESSION-regarding an appeal from a parent regarding discipline measures taken against a student.

ACTION ITEMS:

-The board upheld the principal and superintendent's decision with one exception: to defer the 10 day alternative education placement until such time as determined by the criminal justice system that the student has committed the felony offense for which the student has been charged.

(The action is in accordance with the new Texas Education Code 37.006, Section A, which states, "if a student engages in conduct punishable as a felony, that student shall be removed from class and placed in an alternative education program.")

CHIEF LONE WOLF

BY JIM BAUM

It was early June, 1955. High up in the sky, near Colorado City, the bright sun reflected on a silver jet, which banked, then began its slow descent to the field below. The pilot was Colonel C.M. Young, base commander at Webb Air Force Base, Big Spring.

As the jet's wheels touched the landing strip some eight miles north of Colorado City, applause and cheering broke out from the 300 spectators at Peckerwood, which was the call sign for the 8,100 foot long landing strip.

Moments after the jet landed, dedication ceremonies were held for the new field. Dignitaries from the City of Colorado City, the chamber of commerce and the Air Force were on hand. The city had bought land for the jet strip, then leased the $840,000 facility to the Air Force.

Over the next 22 years, from 1955 until August of 1977, countless thousands of jet trainers would practice 'touch and go' landings at the auxiliary field.

Seven Air Force men were assigned to the landing strip. Their primary job was Fire and Crash Rescue. Robert Sayger, now a longtime resident of Colorado City, was stationed at the jet strip about a year after it opened.

"We stood by the runway all day. Every time an airplane landed or took off, we were there," he told us.

Another local resident who spent some time at "Peckerwood" (later known as Stirrup and Honey Bug) was A.R. Straub. He was the Non-Commissioned Officer in Charge and replaced Sayger, who was reassigned overseas.

Straub remembers spectators used to go out to the field to watch airplanes. (The jets were trainers, T-28s, T-33s and later, T-37s and T-38s.)

During the year Straub was stationed at the field, there were no major accidents. "We would have them come in with one engine out, or landing gear trouble, something like that," he recalled.

But Sayger recalls a couple of incidents during his three tenures of duty at the field. The worst tragedy occurred in 1976. An aircraft with its student pilot and instructor approached the field for a touch and go landing. What followed resulted in the only two deaths at the landing strip.

"He [the pilot] went off the south end," Sayger recalled. "He just failed to pull out. One of them ejected, but he was too low. Both men were killed."

Sayger's Fire and Crash Rescue team took the two pilots to Root Hospital, but both aviators were dead on arrival.

Another accident, in 1958, resulted in Sayger and his rescue team being commended for their prompt action. A T-33A made a 'gear-up' landing and as the plane screeched to a halt on the runway, the underside of the fuselage caught on fire.

"Your expeditious action," the letter of commendation stated, "in responding to the crash and extinguishing the fire made it possible to keep the fire damage at an absolute minimum, thus saving another aircraft."

Not all actions at the jet strip were so dramatic. Sayger remembers the time a pilot flying from Amarillo to Midland became lost and landed dangerously in front of jet traffic! The errant civilian pilot was seized by Air Force personnel.

"We called the base and asked them what they wanted us to do with him. (Several penalties were possible.) They said just let him take off when the jets clear out."

It's safe to assume the pilot never strayed back over Colorado City air space again.

Then there was the time another civilian plane landed at the jet strip. "We had a lot of stray aircraft and it was dangerous at times," Sayger noted. This time, Air Force personnel were right behind the unwelcome plane as it came to a halt.

"There's supposed to be someone here to pick me up," one of the passengers declared as he stepped out of the craft. "I'm supposed to give a speech at the Baker Hotel."

"Well, who are you," he was asked.

"Senator John Tower," was the reply. He had landed at the wrong airfield.

Sayger says he took Tower into town in his own car, but when the speaking engagement was over, a long convoy of automobiles brought the senator back to the airfield.

"But he rode into town in my old beat up Buick," Sayger laughed.

A.R. Straub says usually there wasn't much going on at the airfield. "I remember in 1968 they dispatched a civilian engineer out there and they were going to build a putting green for us. Out there in that ol' mesquite!"

He says someone was sent to Houston to check out the possibility of getting artificial turf for the project. However, nothing ever materialized on the project.

Straub stayed at the Colorado City field only one year, then he transferred to Webb at Big Spring.

"I lived in Colorado City and drove back and forth. In 1972 I retired."

He still has a letter written in 1968 by Chamber of Commerce Manager Sefton Pickens which told the Webb Fire Chief that Colorado City was "happy to have men from Webb Air Force Base living in Colorado City."

"We assisted these families," the letter continued, "in getting settled here and will continue to assist them in any way possible. We sincerely hope these people find living in Colorado City enjoyable."

Straub's family had enjoyed living here. "I had three daughters and they wanted to go to school in Colorado City so they could finish here. So, here I am."

Sayger was the last man to work at the jet strip. After his military career ended, he worked as a civil service employee until the strip closed in 1977. He says there was no fanfare the final day on the job.

"Just a normal day. Trucks came over from Webb to pick up the extra equipment which was being transferred back to Webb. We put a lock on the gate and everything else went to the city," Sayger said.

Like Straub, Sayger and his wife, Betty, elected to stay in Colorado City. "We liked the people and the area," he stated.

So, that was it. A 22-year relationship between the city and the Air Force quietly ended. (The end came when there was less demand for pilots.)

When Peckerwood was first opened, a Webb officer had told the chamber of commerce that the Air Force was here to cooperate. "If noise from the jets bothers anyone, we want to know it," he had declared.

Well, there was a complaint. "Dell Barber," Sayger recalled, "said the jets bothered his cows. I think he ended up getting something out of it: Some kind of payment."

Ironically, it was Barber who had sold the land to the city for the jet strip in the first place.

MCHD names employee of the month

Cindy Andrews, director of medical records was voted Mitchell County Hospital District's outstanding employee of the past month.

Cindy has worked for the hospital district for two years. Before that, she worked in medical records in Pensacola, Fla., at Rolling Plains Memorial Hospital in Sweetwater and at Hendrick Medical Center in Abilene.

"Medical records is becoming more and more important as a financial factor in the field of medicine," Cindy said. "Before a patient or insurance carrier is billed for a procedure, the medical records office must 'code' the diagnosis. Providers are reimbursed according to this code."

Wendell Alford, hospital administrator, cited Cindy as being "very competent and an integral part of the health care delivery system at Mitchell County Hospital. Her conscientious efforts contribute greatly to the success of the MCHD."

Cindy is the daughter of longtime Colorado City residents James and Carolyn Bobo. Her daughter, Ashley, is a sixth grader at Colorado Middle School. Both are members of First Baptist Church.

Pain may be eliminated for millions

(SPECIAL) -- A drug that is exciting researchers in the treatment of pain has been formulated into a new product known as "Arthur Itis," and is being called a "Medical Miracle" by some, in the treatment of debilitating conditions such as arthritis, bursitis, rheumatism, painful muscle aches, joint aches, simple backache, bruises, and more. Although the mechanism of action is unclear, experiments indicate that Arthur Itis, relieves pain by first selectively attracting, and then destroying the messenger chemical which carries pain sensations to the brain, thus eliminating pain in the affected area. Arthur Itis, is an odorless, greaseless, non-staining cream and is available immediately without a prescription and is guaranteed to work. Use only as directed.

Credit by examination approved at CISD

Credit by examination was approved by Colorado Independent School Board members during the September board meeting.

Credit by examination allows students to earn credit in a class by "testing-out", even if they haven't attended class instruction. It was one of the many provisions in Senate Bill One, said CISD Curriculum Director Kitten Arthur.

State law mandates that CISD offer three dates prior to December 31 and then three additional dates prior to June 30 each year, for a total of six per year.

Arthur told trustees that principals felt that, after this semester, summer testing dates would provide timely opportunities to place students appropriately who qualify for acceleration. Testing will be held at the individual campuses.

The dates this year are December 17, 18, and 19 at 4 p.m. In 1997, test dates are June 24, 25, 26 at 10 a.m. and August 5, 6, 7, at 10 a.m.

COURSE CREDIT

Students in grades six through twelve will be given credit for an academic subject, even if they've had no prior instruction, if they score 90 percent on a criterion-referenced test for the applicable course.

Credit will be given and the examination score entered on each student's transcript.

EARLY GRADES

The board also approved the school's current policy on acceleration in the early grades.

Kindergarten through fifth grade students may be accelerated if the following requirements are met:

- *student scores 90% on a criterion-referenced test for the grade level he or she wants to skip in each of the following areas: language arts, mathematics, science, and social studies;
- *a school district representative recommends that the student be accelerated;
- *the student's parent or guardian gives written approval for the acceleration.

Sullivan is invited to compete in China

Wendy Sullivan has been offered the opportunity of a lifetime. She has been invited to compete with other top American high school cross country runners on a trip to China in the "Great Wall 5-K", sponsored by the International Sports Exchange.

The I.S.E. has taken more than 12,000 athletes and 1,100 coaches in the last 20 years to many different foreign countries to compete against other athletes, and has organized a competition against young Chinese athletes to be held in December. Sullivan was invited due to her first place showing in her region in last year's final state meet.

Wendy and her mom Nancy jumped at the chance. "I've already put the deposit down," said Nancy. "I'm so excited for Wendy." Wendy herself sees a chance in a lifetime opportunity. "I want to expand my horizons," Wendy said. "It will be a new experience for me."

The trip is expensive, and the Sullivans must raise a total of $1,995 in order to take part.

The group is scheduled to leave from Los Angeles on December 27 and return on January 3.

During the stay in China, the athletes will spend time in both Beijing, the capital city, and Shanghai, and will visit such historic sites such as the Great Wall of China, the Emperor's Palace, the Forbidden City and Tiananmen Square, site of the student revolt of 1989.

Nancy and Wendy have only until November 20 to raise the necessary money. They have organized a fundraiser-lunch October 28. Bob Reilly will act as chairman for the fundraising activities and Nancy hopes to set up a garage sale-fundraiser sometime in October.

Although a lot of money needs to be raised, Nancy and Wendy have their minds made up. "She's going!" Nancy said. "Wendy is really excited."

Anyone interested in making a donation or anyone just wanting to help Wendy is encouraged to call Nancy Sullivan at 573-2015.

JV Wolves lose again

The Colorado City Wolves JV team lost its second straight game of the season Thursday night, falling to Stamford 22-8.

The Wolves committed three turnovers of which Stamford took advantage. "We didn't make any improvements. The kids were disappointed in their effort," said Wolves Coach Phillip Ritchey. "We didn't play our best game."

The Wolves' Armando Rocha connected with Phillip Castro on a 25-yard touchdown pass for the Wolves' only touchdown. The Wolves' defense got another good game out of Rashad Walthall.

Next up for the JV Wolves is Ballinger Thursday at 7 p.m. in Ballinger. Despite being 0-2, Coach Ritchey is adamant about his team's chances. "If we play the kind of game we're capable of playing, I have no doubt we can beat them."

Wolves hang on for win

By CASEY EAGAN

The Colorado City Wolves scored 21 points in the first quarter, but were forced to make a defensive stand in the fourth quarter for the second straight week, to edge a determined Stamford Bulldogs team 27-21 at Wolf Stadium Friday night.

Both teams were plagued by penalties and turnovers in a game in which the Wolves did not play their best football.

"We played well at times and at other times didn't play at all," said Wolves Head Coach Bill Grissom. "The thing we're lacking right now is an overall team effort."

Wolves kick returner Terry Green brought the crowd to its feet on the opening kickoff, bringing it back 60 yards to the Stamford nine yard line. Lance Dockrey hit Adam Wood three plays later for a six-yard touchdown pass with 10:18 to play in the first quarter to make it 7-0 Wolves.

On the ensuing kickoff, Stamford kick returner John Sanchez brought it right back, going 90 yards for the touchdown to even the score at seven with 10:06 to play in the quarter.

On Stamford's next possession, Wolves linebacker Chris Fambro recovered a Bulldog fumble and returned it 40 yards for a touchdown to make it 14-7 Wolves with 3:55 left in the first quarter.

With 3:45 left in the quarter, Stamford coughed up the ball again, this time recovered by Wolves linebacker John Erwin. On the next play, Dockrey hit Junior Molina with a 20-yard touchdown pass to make it 21-7. Stamford scored late in the second quarter, but missed the two-point conversion to make it 21-13 Wolves at the half.

Both teams made mistakes early in the second half. Junior Molina made his second big play of the game by intercepting a Stamford pass. On the Wolves' possession, running back Arian Emerson coughed up the ball on the first play, with Stamford recovering.

Emerson was held to under 40 yards, rushing in the first half before exploding past the Bulldog defense for a 36-yard touchdown run with 39 seconds left in the third quarter. Chris Ramirez missed the extra point, his first miss of the year, leaving the Wolves with a 27-13 lead going into the fourth quarter.

Both defenses played well in the final period until Stamford scored on a 48-yard run with 4:01 to play in the game. The Bulldogs converted the two-point play to pull within six.

On the kickoff, Stamford attempted an on-side kick and recovered with 3:59 to play, leaving the crowd stunned and the Bulldogs with a final chance. On third and 13 at the Wolves' 40 yard line, Bulldog quarterback Eric Alvarez threw downfield, right into the hands of Chris Fambro for the interception with 1:29 left in the game to seal the victory.

Aside from Fambro, who made many big defensive plays, Blake Oden and Zack Love had fine games for the Wolves defense. On Offense, Arian Emerson ran for 137 yards behind the blocking of Love and Marcus Sanchez, and Lance Dockrey threw two touchdown passes.

"When the defense needed to make plays we did, but we didn't play with any emotion," said Wolves Defensive Coach Gerald James. "We didn't play well on defense until we had to."

The 2-0 Wolves face their biggest test so far this year against rival Ballinger Friday night at Wolf Stadium at 8 p.m. Ballinger defeated the Wolves 36-13 in the playoffs last year.

CMS Lady Wolves compete in Big Spring

The Lady Wolves junior high volleyball team competed in the Big Spring tournament Saturday with the seventh grade team making a terrific showing.

After defeating Water Valley 15-2, 15-3 and losing to Goliad 2-15, 3-15, the Lady Wolves made an unbelievable comeback against Sweetwater.

Trailing 10-0 in the final game, Colorado City somehow came back to win 15-13, 12-15, 16-14 to place third in the tournament.

The eighth grade team lost both of its matches, 4-15, 2-15 to Snyder and 2-15, 2-15 to Greenwood, but coaches Linda Mathis and Anita Graham had good things to say about the tournament, especially the improbable comeback by the seventh graders.

"The girls played great and showed lots of determination," said Coach Linda Mathis. "They never gave up."

The Lady Wolves next face Tahoka on Saturday in Colorado City and Big Spring Monday in Big Spring.

Bearcats, Wolves to battle Friday

Colorado City's rivalry with Ballinger will be renewed this Friday night at Wolf Stadium as the high-powered, state-ranked Ballinger Bearcats come to town to battle the Wolves.

Ballinger, 1-1, is ranked ninth in the state by the AP. The Bearcats' loss came at the hands of 4A Big Spring.

The Bearcat-Wolf rivalry dates back many years. The last time Colorado City beat Ballinger was in 1988.

Ballinger has dominated the series in recent years, winning eight of the last 10 games the two schools have played.

The last loss should be fresh on the Wolves' minds, as Ballinger eliminated Colorado City from the playoffs last year, 36 to 13, at Shotwell Stadium in Abilene.

"If we're going to beat Ballinger we have to take our game to the next level," Coach Bill-Grissom said Monday.

"I'm happy with our team's 2-0 record," Grissom said, "but I think we're a lot better team than we've showed."

"We need a supreme effort out of every one of our players," Grissom said.

Ballinger is a sound team both offensively and defensively. In last year's playoff game, the Bearcats' talented running backs rushed for 367 yards.

It will be the same backfield the Wolves saw in last year's playoff game, Defensive Coach Gerald James said.

"We're the healthiest we've been all year," Bearcat coach Glen Jones said Tuesday.

"Our quarterback will take his first snap of the year Friday night and our leading rusher will practice for the first time this week," Jones said. "We had our feelings hurt last week, so I think our kids will be ready to play," he said.

Kickoff is at 8 p.m. for the homecoming game and a full house is expected.

Booster Club to unveil sign at Homecoming

The Wolves Booster Club held its weekly meeting last Thursday at Collum's Restaurant, and President Randy Erwin had a full menu of topics to discuss.

Booster Club Treasurer Joe Morren gave a treasurer's report, stating that the club has raised $11,962.

Lady Wolves Volleyball Head Coach Jessica Lacy gave a team progress report. The Lady Wolves varsity team has a 4-1 record and recently placed third in the Lone Wolf Tournament here in Colorado City.

Wolves Head Football Coach Bill Grissom gave a report on his 2-0 team and members watched a videotape of the Wolves' opening game won against Stanton.

The club is pleased to announce its unveiling of the new Wolves football sign at Wolf Stadium, with the achievements of past Wolves teams, at Friday's homecoming game against Ballinger.

A ceremony featuring former Wolves players and coaches will be held prior to the game. Wolves shirts, caps and seat cushions will be sold at the game.

For more information call Randy Erwin at 728-3468.

SPORTS NOTES

Defensive Player of the Week

Defensive back Chris Fambro was named Defensive Player of the Week for his performance against Stamford.

Fambro returned a fumble for a touchdown and made a possible game-saving interception late in the fourth quarter.

"Chris Fambro had the best game, by far, of anybody we've had since we've been here, defensively," praised Wolves Head Coach Bill Grissom.

Offensive Player of the Week

Quarterback Lance Dockrey was named Offensive Player of the Week.

Dockrey completed four of 12 passes for 53 yards and two touchdowns in the Wolves' win over Stamford last Friday night. Dockrey is a senior captain and is the starting quarterback this year.

"Lance threw the ball very well at times," said Coach Grissom.

Class 3A state ranking (By Associated Press)

The Colorado City Wolves received votes in the weekly AP Top 20 Class 3A State Ranking this week for the first time in many years.

The Wolves have started the season 2-0 and could move into the top 10 with a win over ninth ranked Ballinger.

Pee Wee season opens

The Jaguars edged the Cougars 12-8 and the Panthers defeated the Tigers 27-6 to open up the 1996 Pee Wee football season.

This week's games will pit the Panthers against the Cougars at 1 p.m., followed by the Tigers against the Jaguars at 3:30 p.m. Both games will be played at Wolf Stadium. In the event of rain, games will be played on the practice field.

Spectators must use the northwest gate because it will be the only one open.

For more information, call Mike Ratliff at 728-5371.

Lady Wolves place 3rd

The Colorado City Lady Wolves had another solid week, starting with a match against Albany, followed by a tournament here in Colorado City.

On September 10, the Lady Wolves varsity team picked up their fourth win versus one defeat with a 15-13, 15-9 win over Albany. The JV team lost a heartbreaker 15-11, 8-15, 14-16 but the ninth grade team impressed with a 15-4, 3-15, 15-4 win.

In the Lone Wolf Tournament on September 14, the varsity team placed third in a competition against some of the best teams in the state.

"The girls played their hearts out," said Lady Wolves Head Coach Jessica Lacy. "It was one of those games where I just wanted to give 'em all a hug."

The Lady Wolves were to face Water Valley Tuesday night and Miles on Saturday, with both matches in Colorado City.

"We need to move quicker; we're a little slow coming off the net," said Coach Lacy, "but the effort is there."

Cross Country runners are still improving

The Lady Wolves cross country team once again were not able to compete as a team due to lack of runners, but had some fine individual results.

Wendy Sullivan has turned into one of the premier runners in the state, finishing third in a race that went down to the wire. It was a personal best time of 12 minutes 23 seconds for Sullivan, who has been invited to compete on a U.S.A. national team in China later this year.

Shanti Ross and Amber Courtney each improve their times in the meet, and Coach Darrin Levertton believes it should get even better for the Lady Wolves.

"It was a good competition. Wendy was unbelievable," said Coach Levertton. He hopes to have a full team in their next meet in Mertzon this Saturday.

W'brook destroys Union Friday, 62-6

The Westbrook Wildcats were unstoppable Friday night as they cruised to a 62-6 halftime lead over Union before the game was called due to the 45-point rule.

The Wildcats had a field day, scoring at will on offense and stifling Union with its powerful defense.

Brothers Justin and Casey Hill led the way for Westbrook. Justin threw three touchdown passes, ran for another, and returned a kick for a touchdown, while Casey scored four touchdowns of his own.

Rincones and Richard White combined for 20 tackles to lead the Wildcats defense. The Hill brothers were honorable mentions for player of the week honors.

"We played well on both sides of the ball," said Westbrook Head Coach Jim Hill. "We're playing better at this point of the year than last year."

Westbrook's JV and junior high teams also fared well, with the JV team edging Borden County 19-18 and the junior high team blowing out Jayton 54-20.

Westbrook next faces Jayton Friday night at 7:30 p.m. in Jayton.

Williams wins jackpot game

Judy Williams, an employee at The City National Bank, was this week's winner of Jackpot Football.

Williams correctly picked 20 out of 24 winners and won the deciding tie-breaker game to claim her prize of $50 worth of football bucks. The bucks are redeemable with participating merchants.

The football contest appears each Thursday in the Record during football season.

CMS Wolves win two

The Colorado City Wolves seventh and eighth grade teams each opened their 1996 season with impressive wins last Thursday night.

The seventh grade Wolves rolled to a 22-point halftime lead en route to a 28-8 victory over Stamford.

Wolves running back Adan Leanos had over 100 yards in the first half alone, with scoring runs of 48 and 27 yards. Quarterback Tony Rivera added two touchdown runs and the Wolves' defense held the Stamford Bulldogs scoreless until late in the game.

The eighth grade Wolves won 48-14 in a romp over the Bulldogs. Wolves running back Tony Leanos broke open an 8-8 tie with a 42-yard touchdown run, to end the first quarter.

Chase Pharris added three touchdowns and Lee Ybarra and Landon Hammon each added a score as the Wolves scored 40 unanswered points to blow the game open. Leanos finished the game with 166 yards rushing and Mick Rodriguez added 86.

"Both [seventh and eighth grade] teams looked real good running the ball and stopping the run," said Wolves Coach Jerold Epperson. The seventh and eighth grade Wolves take on Ballinger Thursday night at Wolf Stadium.

9th grade picks up first win

The Colorado City Wolves ninth grade team picked up its first win of the season with a 28-18 victory over Stamford.

Running back John McSpaddin had his second straight fine game, rushing for over 200 yards and three touchdowns. Jamarr Smith added 30 yards and a touchdown. The Wolves defense received good efforts from McSpaddin, Drew Potter and Lee Williamson.

"We learned something important," said Wolves Coach Doug Boone. "We learned not to beat ourselves."

The ninth grade Wolves next take on rival Ballinger Thursday night at 5:30 in Ballinger. "They are a well-coached ball club," said Boone. "If we go in there and play hard and not be intimidated, we can win."

The homecoming bonfire will be held Thursday in a field one mile east of Gas 'n' Grub. A car caravan will leave the school at 7 p.m. for the bonfire.

The bonfire program will include the crowning of King Flame, the band, cheers and end with the school song.

After a week of activities, spirits should be high for the pep rally Friday, to be held at the High School Gym from 2:10 p.m. until 2:40 p.m.

The traditional homecoming parade will be held downtown Friday beginning at 4:30 p.m. The parade will start at the First Baptist Church. Participants are asked to arrive early to receive a number.

The homecoming queen will be crowned during halftime ceremonies at the game.

The homecoming dance will be held Saturday night from 8 p.m. until 11 p.m. at Kelley Elementary School.

Snyder. Charlie Reynolds will lead a worship service on Sunday morning. A number of auction items will also be featured. First aid and restroom facilities will be available.

To sign up for the trail ride or for additional information, contact John Thomas (915) 691-7290 or Mac Sayles (915) 554-7884 after 7 p.m.

Roping event changed to Friday, Sept. 27

The team roping event at the Mitchell County Fair will take place Friday, September 27 at 7 p.m., not Saturday, as previously scheduled. All entries must be registered at the Chamber of Commerce by Thursday, September 26 at 5 p.m.

"We changed the roping from Saturday to Friday night in order to accommodate the schedules of the ropers," said committee member Richard Munoz. "We usually have between 30 and 40 contestants and we expect that many again this year," he said.

The team roping, which will be a round robin-style event, is open to Mitchell County residents only. The entry fee is $75 per contestant.

For more information, contact the Chamber of Commerce at (915) 728-3403.

Hunter Safety Course set

A hunter safety course has been scheduled for September 28 in the C.C. Thompson Room. The course will run from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on the 28th and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. on the 29th.

For more information and to register, contact Randy Bullard at 728-2365.

Loraine News

By BESSIE ANN VAUGHN

Greetings from Loraine, a wet, beautiful, lush, green community.

I feel sure my careless weeds are taller than yours—almost as high as an elephant's eye—almost!

Those of you who are still praying for rain might consider easing up just a tad.

Now that we know that the prayers do work, we can always do it again. (Of course, it would be with a sincere and thankful heart when and if we ask for more rain.)

Rain, rain go away, I say. But please come again on a dry, parched day.

Christene Britton had three of her sisters visiting this past week, Doris Harmon from Prince George, Va., Mary Shearer from Lubbock and Betty Bacon from Alexandria, La.

They visited their mother, Edna Fowler, who lives at the Loraine Manor.

Also visiting last Sunday were Christene's daughter Carla and husband Dwight and son Mitch from Abilene.

Ruth Ellen Hill of Phoenix, Ariz. was a recent visitor in the home of Effie Wheeler and Jimmie Jacks.

Dr. J.D. Sheffield and wife

Gina were in town this past weekend visiting with parents Atwood and Billie Sheffield.

We send our condolences to Dorothy Jean Phillips (nee Hallmark) and family. Her husband, Aubrey Phillips, passed away this past week. His burial was in the Loraine Cemetery.

Coming to Loraine for the Phillips burial rites were Jack and Mary Love Allbright of Odessa. While here the Allbrights visited with Syble Walker, then took both Syble and her sister Juanice Butler out to lunch.

Executive Director of the Loraine Housing Authority Joan Long reports that at the last board meeting two members were sworn in for two-year terms. Joel Ray Atkins was re-elected vice chair and Millie Rose is beginning her term.

Serving on this board are J.O. Sanderson, chairperson; Joel R. Atkins, vice chair; Millie Rose, Billie Schroeder and Louis Davila.

Attending the F.C.E. State Convention in Tyler this past week for three days were Mary McMullen, Wanza Graham and Louella Hall.

The Silver Leaf Maple Club met at Darlene Rankin's home in Colorado City last Tuesday night.

Millie Rose reported that during the business session of the meeting members voted to give a designated sum to the rehab center during the year.

Ms. Rankin's dining table was very attractive, with fruits interspersed among place settings. The fruit was not only pretty but was part of the evening meal.

Pam Butler recently went to a nurse/pediatrics practitioners meeting in Abilene.

Nurses from surrounding areas have a monthly meeting to stay abreast of current and new medical news.

Following the meeting, breakfast was enjoyed.

Eva Wells accompanied her granddaughter J'Lyn back to Abilene over the weekend, where they visited the Cecil Robinsons, went shopping, fished and had fun.

Pat and Shug Bowlin from Midland and Fred and Barbara Bowlin from Del Rio spent Sunday with their mother, Lela Bowlin.

Elba Evans recently returned from Abilene, where she attended a baby shower. Her son Maylan's daughter, Patti Blue, is waiting to welcome a baby boy into the home and family soon.

Barbara and Charles Cook from Ft. Worth visited with her parents, Royce and Margaret Mahan recently.

They all enjoyed visiting and dining at the Sportsman Club.

Mr. and Mrs. W.O. Stewart from Post spent the day Tuesday the 17th with Elba Evans.

Senior Center News
Region II
West Central Council of Governments, representing four counties, attended a business session plus luncheon at the Loraine Senior Center this past Thursday.

Mayors and city councilmen and women were present for this meeting and a catered meal at the center with W.C.O.G. responsible for the lunch. Proceeds go toward the nutritional program.

We have a lovely jacket that Nina Meadows hand-fashioned down at the center. It will be up for auction and donations are $1.

This donation is most appreciated, as proceeds will go to the center's nutritional program.

It was reported that 10 very pretty placemats were sewn together to make the jacket. You will have to see for yourself. Thank you much, Nina.

A business meeting, food and fellowship were combined on a recent Sunday evening at First Baptist Church.

After the business session and dinner, Heather Lucas sang "School Days" as school had just started.

Since election day is drawing near, the director urged everyone to do their civic duty and make an effort to go vote.

A quintet made up of singers Danny Butler, Rick Lucas, Roland Graham, plus Mr. and Mrs. Kirbo Lucas sang several patriotic songs.

The evening closed with everyone singing "God Bless America."

I called the Loraine Manor to get news from social director Joetta Hollis but she had gone with several residents on their outing. I feel sure they enjoyed getting out, as they had to stay indoors during all the wet time.

"Our Celebrity"
We Lorainians feel very fortunate to live in the same community with a celebrity of such great magnitude as Rosie Wright.

A superb story about her recently came out in the Abilene Reporter-News by Ken Ellsworth. The following items about Rosie can't compare with Mr. Ellsworth's, but I feel sure other stories about her will surface as well.

I, for one, didn't know our star was so civic-minded. She is a member of the local volunteer fire department and can frequently be seen inspecting the fire truck, all the equipment and in general, hanging with the firefighters.

She also has been known to scan the post office grounds looking for fugitives ever since she saw the "Most Wanted" posters inside.

If Rosie sees a stranger in greater downtown Loraine who appears lost, she will direct them to her shop, where they can get their "bearings" and also check out the handsome weaponry. If guns don't interest them, Rosie lets them pick out a good book and rest.

Rosie seems to have had a secret desire to be a mason. She followed ex-master Price into the lodge without his knowledge and stayed until the next meeting. She was dreaming of her installation when several masons filed in.

Rosie stayed very quiet until she saw the chief of police hitting on a podium with a gavel, making a lot of noise. It frightened her so that she bolted for the door and some surprised masons let her out.

She really didn't care much after she found out that all masons were male. Now she is considering getting to know some ladies in the Eastern Star lodge.

If you think this is just foolishness, remember that this cat has her own shop in Loraine, where credit cards are accepted—MasterCard, Visa and Discover. Her phone number is 737-2912.

Take good care and see you about town.

LISD is first in area with Border School program

During this month's school board meeting, Loraine Independent School District Trustees learned about a new program and some exciting things going on in integrating learning.

LISD is the first school district in the area to participate in the Border School Program, trustees were informed during the Sept. 9 meeting.

The program, funded by the Region 14 service center, is aimed at districts with a large Hispanic population. Sixty percent of LISD's student body is Hispanic.

Administrators and teachers will visit the McAllen School District Sept. 30-Oct. 2, where they will see schools with 100 percent Hispanic populations with high TAAS scores. They will also make two trips to South Padre Island for a Migrant Convention in November.

"We are very interested in this program and think it will help all our students, but especially our Hispanic students," said Principal Scott Patterson.

Patterson also told the school board about the popularity of the new Spanish classes in the elementary grades. Parents have noticed that their young students are coming home and singing them songs in Spanish, thanks to the new coach/Spanish teacher, Victor Garcia. They're also learning dances such as the Mexican hat dance.

Music, taught by Sheila Sorrells, is being used in elementary school as a vehicle for learning other subjects while the young students are getting a firm foundation in music.

Kindergartners learn how to count rhythms and third graders learn sight reading.

Sorrells teaches both music and Title I. While she's in the classrooms teaching Title I, she hears what's being taught in the language arts subjects. She then goes back and picks out songs that will reinforce what they're learning, thus integrating one subject with another.

For instance, she noticed that first and second graders were being read a story about frogs. So, she taught them a song about frogs. They learn math while they're learning musical beats and measures.

For the first two grading periods this year, classroom learning is tied with learning about water and students are singing songs about water. During the other grading periods, they will be tied with air and land.

Pre-kindergarten and kindergarten classes learn colors, counting, alphabet and telling time songs.

Last year's first and second graders learned all 50 states and in order of statehood. How? They can sing the 50 states song. This year's classes are now learning the song too, learning three new states at a time until eventually they'll know all 50.

Although Sorrells doesn't teach fourth grade music, she has taught the students a song to help them remember the TAAS skills steps.

She said she loves this kind of teaching. "It takes what they're learning and takes it a little further," she said.

Bulldogs lose to Jayton, 34-14

The Loraine Bulldogs suffered their second straight defeat this season, losing to Jayton 34-14 Friday night in Jayton.

The Bulldogs trailed 14-6 going into the third quarter, but Jayton responded with two touchdowns to put the game out of reach.

"We had four penetrations, but we just couldn't punch it over," said Loraine Head Coach Rick Cooper. "The game was closer than the score indicated."

The Bulldogs ran the ball well, with Raymond Limones leading the way with 99 yards. However, the Bulldogs were unable to stop Jayton's rushing game and were unable to pass the ball, managing just 34 yards in the air.

The JV and junior high teams also suffered defeats, but Coach Cooper was pleased with the all-around effort in all three games. "The kids kept their heads up," said Cooper. Loraine next faces New Home Friday at 7:30 p.m. in Loraine.
