Kelley Injured In Ranch Mishap

Robert Kelley, Jr., young Sutton County ranchman, was seriously injured Tuesday morning when his horse either threw him or fell with him near Fort McKavett. He was rushed to a San Angelo hospital where an examination revealed five fractured ribs and a severe blow on the head. He also suffered lacerations and bruises.

Kelley has not been able to tell exactly what happened and there were no witnesses to the accident. As near as can be determined, however, he was dragging a dead calf on a leased place near McKavett about 10:30 Tuesday morning when his horse either threw him or fell with him among some stumps. He walked in to the house and called for help. He was brought to town and taken by ambulance to San Angelo.

Doctors at the Clinic Hospital reported him out of danger but stated he will be in the hospital three or four weeks.

VETERAN HOME BUILDERS OFFERED NEW GUIDE

"To the Home-Buying Veterans," a 32 page guide for veterans planning to buy or build homes with GI loans, is now available at all Veterans Administration offices.

VA said the pamphlet is designed to help World War II and post-Korea veterans get started on the right foot under the GI home loan program.

The pamphlet discusses what a veteran should look for in selecting the neighborhood, the lot and the house itself.

It also covers the costs of home ownership, the contract of purchase, final settlement or closing the loan, and what to expect before and after moving into a new home. The responsibilities of the veteran home owner and what the VA can and cannot do to assist the veteran are also discussed.

A copy of the pamphlet will be sent to each veteran applying for a certificate of eligibility for a GI loan. Veterans also may obtain a copy by writing the nearest VA regional office. There is no charge for the pamphlet.

That's Your Job
By W. H. Marshall

There are mighty few people who have really learned to handle life. Many of us can handle most anything but life. Knowing how to live your own life is a job that will keep you busy every day. You don't live life in a done-up style. If you live life successfully, you must stay on the job, keep after yourself. If you do that you don't have time to meddle in your neighbor's affairs and his life. Let you look after yourself and you won't have time to engage in that cheap game of brick-throwing.

1. If you want to be your own boss, keep busy at doing something constructive.
2. If you want the honor of not being a fault finder, keep up with your own faults that will keep you so busy you won't have time to see your neighbor's faults.
3. Try doing a good turn every day for some one just for the fun of getting out of it with no thought of being repaid in any way. Try it and see what happens.

Directors Of TS&GRA To Meet In Marfa

The third quarterly meeting of the directors of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association will be held in Marfa, Saturday, June 6, Penrose B. Metcalfe, association president has announced.

The TS & GRA has long followed the policy of holding its directors' meetings in different towns over the sheep and goat area of the state.

"We are mighty glad to be meeting in the Highland country of West Texas," Metcalfe said. "This country has been noted for its good cattle for many years and in recent years it has become a very important sheep area. Our highest percentage of membership is in this area."

Directors and other members will be brought up to date on efforts being made in Washington to give the wool producers a better break with foreign produced wool, he said.

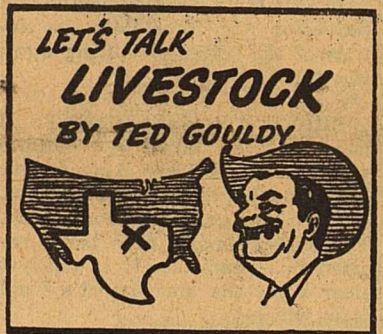

The Marfa and Presidio County people plan a dance for the visitors Friday night and barbecue Saturday noon.

SONORAN'S RELATIVE DIES IN CANYON, TEXAS

Funeral services for Mrs. George Cox, 59 grandmother of Mrs. Pat Stephenson of Sonora, were held from the Church of Christ in Canyon Monday, May 25. Mrs. Cox died May 23. Services were conducted by Earl Craig, Church of Christ minister.

Survivors include the husband, two daughter, Mrs. Jewell Burgess of Amarillo and Mrs. Jim Cane of Canyon, and one son, Wesley Cox of Dawn.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephenson attended the funeral.

Fort Worth—Swine growers could enjoy a rueful smile Monday as hogs hit the highest peak since November 1948 at Fort Worth. Choice butcher hogs sold at $25.25 to $25.75. The joy was tempered by the fact that several years of low prices for hogs had thinned down the hog population to where while the price was good, the numbers were few.

Most hog breeders are frantically trying to re-stock since a short time ago it was announced that the hog population was smaller than the numbers of cattle on the nation's farms. The ideal relationship is generally conceded to be 20 percent more hogs than cattle in the country.

Sows and pigs were steady, sows mostly $20 to $22 and feeder pigs from $21 down.

Cattle buyers were highly selective. The fed beefs were scarce and good and choice drylot fed cattle ruled strong. Grassers were weak to lower. Cows ruled steady to 50 cents lower. Bulls held steady.

Good and choice fat calves were steady but the common, plain and medium inbetween sorts sold weak to lower. High quality stockers were steady, but others draggy and plain stockers sold mainly for low grade killers. Demand for stocker cows was very narrow.

Good and choice fed steers and yearlings $18 to $22.50. I. S. Scott, Castro County, had a load weighing 758 pounds at $22.50. B. T. Woodard, Hunt County, had a load of Cross-bred Brahms at $21 that averaged 810 pounds. Common, plain and medium steers and yearlings $10.00 to $16.00, some rannies.

Fat cows mostly $9 to $12, just a few higher. Sealing V. Ranch, Clay County, had 17 cows at 1,047 pounds at $13.75, and 20 cows at 1,108 pounds at $12.50. Odds reached $14. Cammers and cutters $6 to $9. Bulls $8 to $14. Larkin Renick, Llano County, had two top bulls at 1,530 pounds at $14.

Good and choice fat calves drew $17 to $20, with common and medium butchers at $10 to $15. Culls $8 to $10. Good and choice stocker steers calves $16 to $20; good and choice stocker steer yearlings $15 to $19; heifer calves and yearlings $2 under comparable steers. Few stocker cows $10 to $14.

Good and choice fat Spring lambs $24 to $26; medium to good $18 to $24; cull and common $12

Rehearing Denied In Rosamond Case

The state Supreme Court has upheld a lower court judgment clearing Ben L. Keys, Christoval contractor, of negligence in a dynamite blast near here March 28, 1950.

The judgment was appealed by J. R. Rosamond a drilling company employee who was asking $92,000 damages for injuries he said he suffered in the blast.

Rosamond, then an employee of the Delta Drilling Co. of Tyler, was injured when Keys was preparing the site for an oil well test northwest of Sonora.

In March 1952 a 112th District Court jury here returned a verdict declaring Keys was in no way negligent in the incident.

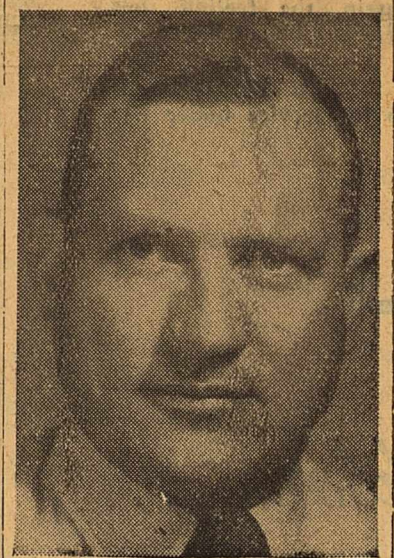

The Supreme Court, in effect, affirmed the finding Wednesday when it overruled Rosamond's motion for a rehearing of an application for writ of error.

Neely Appointed Local Lone Star Manager

Appointment of Leon Preston Neely as manager of the Lone Star Gas Company's distribution properties in Sonora has been announced by E. L. Buelow of San Angelo, division superintendent. Neely will be in charge of natural gas service and maintenance operations for the company's Sonora distribution system now under construction, Buelow said.

The division superintendent said Neely was given an early assignment in Sonora so he may be fully familiar with the local gas plant when it is placed in service. Buelow stated that applications for gas and other business with Lone Star in Sonora should be handled with Neely.

Construction of the distribution system is approximately 10 percent complete, Buelow pointed out.

and plans call for turning gas into the first section during the second week of June. Special ceremonies are scheduled for the introduction of natural gas service in Sonora, Buelow said. The gas supply will come from fields in Sutton County through a 3-inch tap line which connects with Lone Star's transmission main seven miles east of Sonora.

Largest consumer will be the power plant of the Sonora Light Company. Converting from oil, the plant has purchased new gas engines to generate electric power, Buelow stated. More than 400 customers have subscribed for gas service in Sonora which has been set up as part of Lone Star's San Angelo division.

Neely comes to Sonora from San Angelo where he had been employed by Lone Star since April 28, 1948, in the customer service department. Prior to serving 37 months with the United States Air Force during World War II, he was employed in the gas company's Ballinger pipe line district for more than two years. He was born in Bonham.

Mrs. Neely is the former Miss Frances Irene Wood of Ballinger. The children are Joe Preston Neely, age 9, and Franklin Leon Neely, age 6 years. At San Angelo the Neelys were affiliated with the Baptist Temple. They have taken up residence in Sonora.

Mrs. Mildred Zimmerman of Menard is the guest this weekend of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Nance.

to $16. Stocker and feeder Spring lambs, shorn lambs and yearlings $12 to $18. Cull old crop lambs $8 to $12. Two-year-olds $10 to $14. Old wethers $8 to $10.50. Fat shorn old crop lambs and yearlings $17 to $22. Ewes $4 to $6. Old bucks around $4.

Mayfield's Joker Named Grand Champion At San Angelo Show

TV Transmitter Shipped To San Angelo Station

Shipment of a 5 KW VHF television transmitter and associated telecasting equipment to KTXL-TV (Westex Television Company), San Angelo, Texas, was announced yesterday by James B. Tharpe, national sales manager, television transmitter division, Allen B. Du Mont Laboratories, Inc.

KTXL-TV, which will operate on Channel 8, is expected to be San Angelo's first television station. The San Angelo area, one of Texas' wealthiest retail markets, is rated as having an effective buying income in excess of $150,000,000.

A. D. Rust, president of the San Angelo telecasting organization, has announced that he expects KTXL-TV to be on the air with test patterns by July 7.

KTXL-TV received its construction permit in November of 1952.

Oil Accounts For 54% Of West Texas Land Income

Oil accounts for about $1.3 billion or about 54 percent of the total value of production of the oil wells, farms and ranches of west Texas, R. F. Windfohr, president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association writes in the current issue of West Texas Today, magazine of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The production of the oil industry, livestock and farming industries generate about $2.4 billion a year in sales to form the bedrock of the region's economy, Windfohr writes.

The regional chamber of commerce reported that West Texas production put nearly $60 million into the state treasury in 1952 and paid $162,500,000 to royalty owners.

Production of the entire 132-county area totaled 520,220,214 barrels. Gross market value was $1.3 billion, computed at average price of $2.50 per barrel. The state production tax is 4.6 percent.

Because it produces such a large part of the region's wealth all West Texas businessmen, whatever their line, have a direct relationship with activities of the petroleum industry, Windfohr declared. In the past 25 years petroleum reserves, production and service facilities have been built up in West Texas to sustain for many years to come a large part of the gains which have been made in

The Joker, 5-year-old quarter horse stallion owned by Stanley Mayfield, cleaned up at the Tom Green County Sheriff's Posse Horse Show Saturday and Sunday in San Angelo when he was named grand champion quarter horse of the halter class, won the open reining class and won the quarter horse reining class. The Joker, who only last week won the grand championship at the Ozona Horse Show, was ridden by John Ed Rogers, foreman at the Mayfield ranch. The stallion was sired by Lauro and is out of a King Ranch mare, Clyde Siss.

Champion Quarter mare was Fritz M, the grey 6-year-old which was champion mare at Ozona a week ago. Owned by Austin Moore of Webb City, Okla., she was exhibited by Mrs. Rebecca Price of Addington, Okla.

Champion Palomino stallion came from the remuda of one of West Texas' old-time breeders, W. R. Davis of San Angelo. Davis, who raised horses about 50 years at Sterling City, won championship with Golden Don W. D., 7-year-old stallion by Golden Don and out of a Waggoner mare. The double-registered stud was shown once previously, at El Paso, where he was champion. Davis will feature the stallion in a dispersal sale of his Palominos June 27.

A Palomino mare, Mc's Blondy, owned by Pete Gooch, Abilene packer, was champion in her division. Six years old, she was of Hancock breeding on the sire side and Silverstone on the dam side. Double registered, she has won championships at other shows both as a Palomino and as a Quarter Horse.

A special feature Saturday morning was a matched show between three colts exhibited by three of West Texas' most noted horse breeders. Charlie Black, Jr., of Ozona, Jess Koy of Eldorado, and Percy Turney of Water Valley each put up $50 on their own horses.

Black's Crockett King won out over Turner's Hard Times and Koy's Red Light.

Reserve Quarter stallion was an old-time favorite, Hobo, owned by B. L. Smith, Jr., of Junction. Reserve Quarter mare was Hissy T, colt owned by Percy Turner. Reserve Palomino stallion was Shoe Stamp, shown by Gordon Arnold of Fort Worth. Reserve Palomino mare was Georgia Buck, shown by Mrs. Arnold.

Jimmy Morrow, accompanied by his room-mate, Allen Stetley of Freeport, spent several days last week here with his mother, Mrs. Carl Morrow. Morrow returned Saturday for the summer vacation.

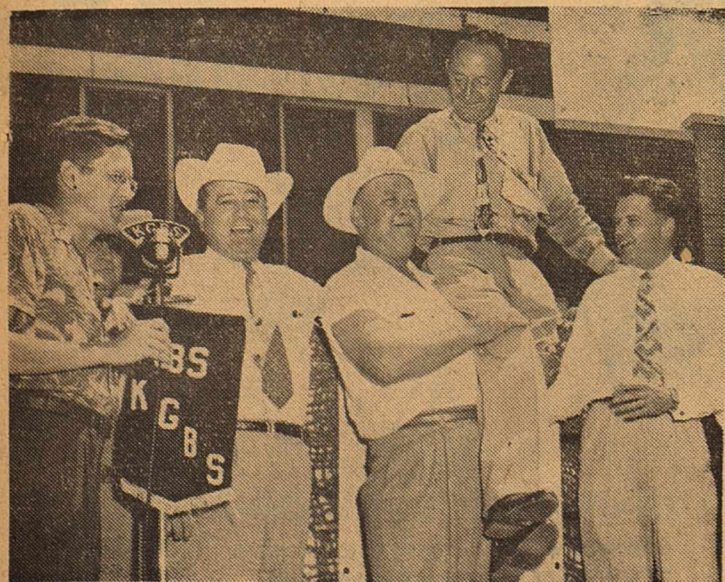

West Texas production and business activity, he said.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman O. C. FISHER

TWO MILLION DOLLARS isn't a lot of money when you compare it with the mammoth Federal budget. But twenty hundred thousand dollars is sizeable when you think of it in terms of the taxpayers who meet the March 15 deadline and pay it in or get sent to jail for evasion. It would take 2,000 taxpayers, paying a thousand dollars each, to total that amount.

Well, the investigating committee, of which I am a member, has been searching for leaks and losses, regardless of the amounts. We have explored perhaps a hundred instances of possible waste dealing with military operations. And in doing this we usually get good cooperation from the military. When we can nail down a case, properly documented, showing an inefficient practice or a proven waste, we report it and then ask the agency involved to take note of our finding. Where proper, we ask Congress to cut off the funds to support the activity found to be wasteful and unjustified.

There are 7 of us on this committee and it keeps us plenty busy checking on military contracts, pro-urement methods, duplicated efforts and things of that kind. Last year, for example, we found an inexcusable lack of standardization of simple procurement items purchased by the various services. And there was need for a streamlined, unified catalogue system which would avoid duplication of the millions of items, and enable each service to know how many articles of a certain description the others had in stock. To help correct this chaotic condition, we got a law enacted, designed to simplify and standardize indexing and purchasing. It was estimated by the Hoover Commission this would, when fully operative, save up to $3 billion annually. That figure is largely a guess, but the saving will undoubtedly be substantial.

Now, to get back to that two million dollars. Last December I was told by a friend that a tire test operation financed by the government at Camp Bullis, near San Antonio, was wholly unjustified. I promptly called on the Secretary of the Army for a report. It attempted to show justification but was not convincing.

So I had it put on the committee's agenda. Two investigators were put on the case. They visited the tire test operations of three leading commercial tire manufacturers and also the government's tire test at Camp Bullis. Last week the committee studied the findings and voted unanimously to call for the closing of the testing station. The report shows the government's operation is "completely duplicated by industry" and is no longer warranted.

Mr. and Mrs. William Surago left Tuesday for a visit with his mother, Mrs. Annie Fillipchuk, in Chelsea, Mass.

VA CUTS: Many Texas ex-servicemen are writing me to protest the proposed cut in appropriations for the Veterans Administration. The President's budget calls for a reduction of over $275,000,000 in VA appropriations.

Veterans hospitals even now are having to let beds stand unused because of lack of funds. Congressman Olin Teague of College Station has compiled figures showing that the 38 VA hospitals in the country are financially unable to use 2,393 of their beds. And 24,831 veterans approved for admission to VA hospitals can't get in because no beds are available. The hospital at Houston has 252 unused beds, that at McKinney 26. I do not see how anybody can justify neglect of our ex-servicemen.

DEFENSE: Can we get more defense for less money? Will 120 air wings give us more defense than 123 wings? Secretary of Defense Wilson says so, in defending the proposed cut of over five billion dollars in Air Force appropriations. Some of us are going to examine the reductions very carefully.

WHAT AHEAD? Proposals have been made to increase interest rates charged REA co-operatives on Government loans.

Chances of extending excess profits tax beyond June 30, as requested by the President, look slimmer every day.

Some of Texas' surplus wheat will be shipped to Pakistan if Congress approves the President's proposal to lend the country a million bushels, payment to be made later.

Expect the doctors' draft law to be extended, with some easing up on those who have had as much as 12 months of military service.

Majors Field near Greenville and Galveston Air Force Base are victims of the policy of cutting down the Air Force.

BRICKER AMENDMENT: I have as yet taken no definite stand on the Bricker Amendment. I support its aims and principles, as they are generally understood. The amendment is now being revised in Committee. It is not yet clear what the amendment's final form will be.

WATERWAYS PROJECTS: The new budget cut appropriations for Dalls Floodway from $2,900,000 to $750,000. House Appropriations Committee cut out the $750,000, leaving nothing at all for this flood control project.

The committee cut money for the Texarkana Reservoir to $5,000,000 from $7,265,000 in revised budget, $8,565,000 in original budget. Garza-Little Elm was cut to $3,250,000 from $3,635,000 in revised budget, $4,935,000 in original. Belton Reservoir was cut to $750,000 from $900,000 in revised budget, $1,100,000 in original.

New Hotel To Be Like U.N. Building

In Hartford, Conn., a new kind of hotel Statler now is being built with walls of glass, aluminum and porcelain-enamel. First hotel in the world of this ultra-modern design, the Hartford Statler's exterior will resemble the United Nations Building in New York. According to Arthur F. Douglas, Statler president, the structure may be a model for other Statler hotels to be built elsewhere in the nation.

This hotel is of advanced design in numerous respects. It will have a windowless ballroom area said to be the most flexible ever designed. The ballroom can take care of 1300 guests at one sitting; or it can be subdivided, by use of sliding, soundproof wooden partitions, into several rooms of varying size capable of accommodating groups of 20 to 400 persons. Use of these newly designed partitions will assure more efficient usage of the ballroom area than would be the case if there were one large ballroom, used occasionally, and several smaller rooms.

Ventilation in this windowless area, on the hotel's second floor to eliminate the need for convention guests to use elevators, will be taken care of by air conditioning.

Every guest room in this 455-room building will be air conditioned. All the rooms, most of which will be of the studio type—specially designed and furnished to be a living room by day and a bedroom by night—will be outside rooms. Each will have a combination television-radio set in addition to all the Statler services.

In spite of the fact that this 455-room hotel will be only half the size of most of the other Statler hotels, it will have all the features found in the larger hotels, including a full-scale night club with top-flight entertainment. Elevators in the hotel will be of the fast, self-leveling variety and will be equipped with radio to provide music for the guests and operators.

Construction of the hotel, according to Mr. Douglas, is proceeding according to schedule and it will be ready for the first guests in the summer of 1954.

rules of procedure are of real significance to all of us.

The law is composed of two parts—the substantive and the adjective law. The substantive law defines rights, duties and remedies; it enforces contracts and rights wrongs; it describes crimes and sets up penalties. Adjective law deals with legal procedure and describes the steps of person must take to invoke the substantive law.

Some of our most important rights are to be found in the body of procedural law. For example, as a people who want justice to prevail, we like to think that every man, rich or poor, shall have his day in court. This is an important right, for a day in court implies more than merely the right to have your say before a judge and jury.

Your day in court implies that you shall have the right to be properly represented, to have your case presented before an impartial jury and an unbiased judge, and to have a reasonable time to prepare for the trial. It holds that you shall have proper notice of the action against you; that the complaint or indictment shall state a clear cause of action. It means that you shall be confronted by your accusers; that you shall have the right to cross-examine them; that you shall be able to present evidence in your own behalf.

Finally, the law governing procedure tells you how you may appeal your case to higher courts when your feel that you have not had a fair trial or that a prejudicial error has been committed in the trial court.

Much of our procedural law comes down from centuries of experience in the courts of other lands. It was inevitable that through the centuries some of the procedure would become cumbersome, obsolete and difficult. For this reason the history of procedure has been characterized by great periods of reform. In America we have experienced many advantageous changes in our laws governing the procedure of courts and administrative agencies. There is a growing custom in the United States of giving the courts the power to revise their rules in certain fields.

Our Texas rules of civil procedure are made by our state Supreme Court, while the rules of criminal procedure are under the direct control of the Legislature. Both the court and the Legislature are constantly striving, with the recommendations of the practicing lawyer, to improve these rules. Their aim is to provide uniform and relatively simple rules for the dispensing of justice with a minimum of delay.

(This column based on Texas law, is written to inform—not advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

HEARD RESIGNS—Attorney General John Ben Shepperd has announced the resignation of Dow Heard, head of the department's submerged lands division.

Heard was a leading figure in the state's successful fight for recovery of its tidelands. He has been in Washington since January representing the state in connection with tidelands legislation.

In comment on Heard's resignation Shepperd said "Texas owes Heard a great debt of gratitude for an outstanding and conscientious job in securing the return of our tidelands."

Heard has been an assistant attorney general since 1949. He assisted in several other major lawsuits, including the injunction against telegraph and telephone companies to stop race-track and bookie joint service.

Loeffler - Renfroe Nuptials Read Saturday Night

In the First Methodist Church here, Miss Martha Lu Renfroe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Renfroe of Sonora, became the bride of Norris Dean Loeffler, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Loeffler, also of Sonora.

The Rev. Aubrey L. Loeffler, pastor of the Dallas Maple Lawn Methodist Church and brother of the bridegroom, read the double-ring vows at 8 o'clock Saturday evening before an archway of candelabras and baskets of white gladioli and daisies.

Mrs. James Wilson played traditional wedding marches and accompanied Mrs. Aubrey Loeffler of Dallas, who sang "Because," "O Perfect Love," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a ballerina-length gown of white net over satin. The elongated bodice featured a lace yoke with long pointed sleeves and self-covered buttons. Her fingertip-length veil fell from a white lace bonnet of white carnations and ivy leaves.

Miss Rita Renfroe, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Miss Blanche Lavon Taylor was bridesmaid. They wore ballerina-length dresses of Nile green net over white satin and carried Colonial bouquets of white Ester Reed daisies encircled with emerald green net and ribbon.

Carlos Loeffler, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Groomsman was Ernest Carroll Stephen. Ushers were Joe Renfroe of Sonora, brother of the bride, Kenneth Wilks of Columbia, Miss., and Royce Regeon of Sonora.

A reception was held in the Woman's Club House. Miss Mary Lee Merck of Sheffield, cousin of the bride, registered guests. At the tea table were E. B. Pool of Lindsay, Okla., aunt of the bride, and Mrs. J. T. Neffendorf, aunt of the bridegroom.

The table was laid with a cut-work cloth. The wedding cake was three-tiered and was surrounded with arrangements of garden flowers.

When the couple left for a wedding trip, the bride was wearing a black and white sheer print dress with a black bolero.

Mrs. Loeffler is a junior student at the University of Texas. She is a member of the Alpha Lambda Delta Sorority and the Home Economics Club.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

WHEN THE 20th CENTURY OPENED, A CHILD BORN IN AMERICA COULD LOOK FORWARD TO AN AVERAGE OF 49 YEARS OF LIFE.

A CHILD BORN TODAY CAN EXPECT TO LIVE TO BE 69—OR WELL INTO THE MYSTERIES OF THE NEXT CENTURY.

THIS GAIN IN LIFE EXPECTANCY IS ONE OF THE MOST SIGNIFICANT ACHIEVEMENTS OF OUR DEMOCRACY. STEMMING FROM THE GREAT IMPROVEMENT IN HEALTH SERVICES AND FROM THE GOOD FOOD AND BETTER HOUSING THAT ARE PART OF OUR STANDARD OF LIVING, THE GAIN HOLDS TREMENDOUS PROMISE FOR THE FUTURE OF OUR COUNTRY—AND FOR A LONGER, FULLER LIFE FOR MILLIONS OF AMERICAN FAMILIES.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS FROM VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

Q -- What points does VA check on, in approving a "wheelchair housing" grant for a paralyzed veteran who meets all basic requirements of the law?

A -- VA has to determine (1) whether it's medically feasible for the veteran to live in the proposed house and in the proposed locality; (2) whether he can afford the particular house; and (3) whether the home is suitable to his needs for dwelling purposes.

Q -- Through an oversight, I said my GI insurance premium right at the end of the grace period. What does VA consider as the date the payment is made—the date I mail my check or the date it's

A -- The postmark date on the envelope contain your remittance is accepted by VA as the date payment is made.

Q -- I am a disabled World War II veteran, and I applied for training under Public Law 16. Shortly after I filed my application, VA notified me that I was being dropped from the compensation rolls, and my disability rating was at zero percent. This was a result of a physical exam I took. Even though I'm no longer entitled to compensation, would I still be allowed to go ahead with my Public Law 16 training, since I filed for it before my zero rating went in effect?

A -- No. Since you were taken off the compensation rolls before you actually started training, you would not be permitted to enroll under Public Law 16.

Q -- Does the term insurance available to veterans who served since Korea pay dividends?

A -- No. The new forms of insurance for post-Korea veterans are non-participating; they do not pay dividends. However, the premium rates are lower than for any other form of Government insurance.

RECORD-BREAKING GAS MILEAGE

for the driving YOU do!

This year's Chevrolet brings you the most important gain in economy in Chevrolet history. And it's the kind of everyday economy that saves you money wherever and however you drive!

Inch along through heavy traffic. Roll up the miles in steady highway cruising. Long trips or short errands, byroads or boulevards, you get far more miles per gallon in this great new Chevrolet.

New high-compression power is the reason. Both the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine in Powerglide* models—and the advanced 108-h.p. "Thrift-King" engine in gearshift models—deliver more power on less gasoline. Acceleration and hill-climbing ability are greater, fuel consumption is lower!

This is the kind of economy that counts the most—important gasoline savings for the driving you do, together with lower over-all costs of upkeep. And along with it, you enjoy all the other advantages that only the new Chevrolet offers you. Come in, and see for yourself!

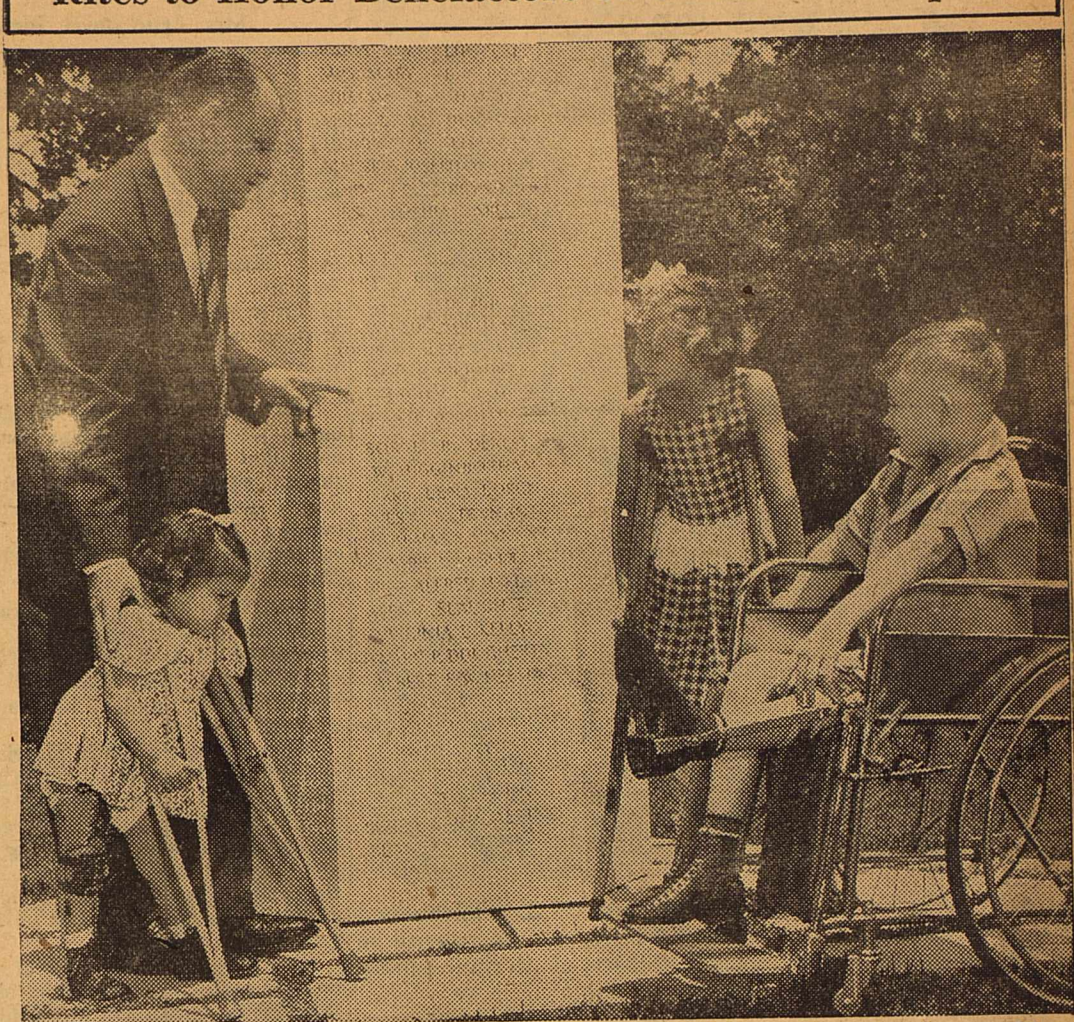

*Combination of 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine and Powerglide automatic transmission available on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models only.

Of all the wonderful incidents Solomon, conscious of his own set down in the Old Testament youth and inexperience and feeling none is more interesting than the deeply heavy responsibility of Solomon's wise choice. lity of kingship, replied, "Give God appeared unto the young king therefore Thy servant an under-in a dream saying, "Ask what I standing heart to judge Thy shall give thee" (1 Kings 3:5). people, that I may discern beween good and bad" (1 Kings 3:9). The Lord, pleased that he had not asked for riches or long life or the death of his enemies, gave him "a wise and understanding heart." It is well enough to be wise of head, to be able to think through problems and find their solutions, and to make accurate decisions; but there is a wisdom deeper than the purely intellectual—that is, wisdom of the heart. The man who is wise of heart will usually find himself wise of head also, but many intellectual giants know nothing of the more important kind of wisdom. Wisdom which is purely of the intellect is cold. That which is of the heart is warm.

Those who need help with the problems of life will not be drawn to the man who is coldly clever but rather to the warm and understanding heart. The man who possesses such a heart is able to enter into the joys and sorrows of others. He is able to feel with them. He is able to understand their difficulties and see life from their point of view. When the heart is not only understanding but also wise, its possessor is richly endowed.

That Solomon received the gift for which he asked is very evident. Two women living in the same house had infants about the same age. One child died in the night and each woman claimed the live child. The kind of the wise heart ordered the live child to be cut asunder with a sword and divided between them. One woman consented to this procedure. The other protested against the death of the child, preferring to see it given to the other claimant. The understanding heart of the king recognized in the attitude of the second woman a mother's love and ordered the child given to her.

The world is cursed today by a lack of wise and understanding hearts. We are attempting to solve the problems of the world without an understanding of the heart of the world and with a wisdom of the intellect alone. The decisions of the mind are based all too often on outward appearance. The understanding heart perceives the hidden truth beneath the surface.

YOUR HEALTH

Don't put too much stock in advertised claims for the bug-killing properties of so-called "vaporizers," State Health Officer George W. Cox cautioned Texans today. He said "indiscriminate use" of the gadgets in homes or sleeping quarters could make the fumes more toxic to humans than to insects.

Vaporizers are familiar as small glass or metal instruments with a conical-shaped insecticide container in the top and a light bulb wired into the bottom. The insecticide is placed in the cone and vaporized by the heat generated by the bulb underneath.

Widely advertised and sold for "killing bugs the easy way," one brand comes complete with an 8-month supply of chemicals, and makes claims of being "non-toxic, odorless, guaranteed positive extermination of flies, roaches, mosquitoes, all insects. . . . Meets all state and federal requirements."

Dr. Cox called these claims "completely misleading," and pointed to a March 27 statement released by the federal Interdepartmental Committee on Pest Control to back him up. The statement said:

"Because of the health hazards inherent in the misuse of insecticide vaporizers used as fumigators, (the committee) recommends against their use in living quarters."

The committee is composed of representatives of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare; Departments of Agriculture and Interior; and the army, navy, and air force.

The health officer conceded the gadgets might have some beneficial application in commercial or industrial establishments where human exposure will not be continuous and food contamination will not occur.

But he emphasized that it is "dangerous and foolhardy to install them in homes, and advertising them for such use is indefensible."

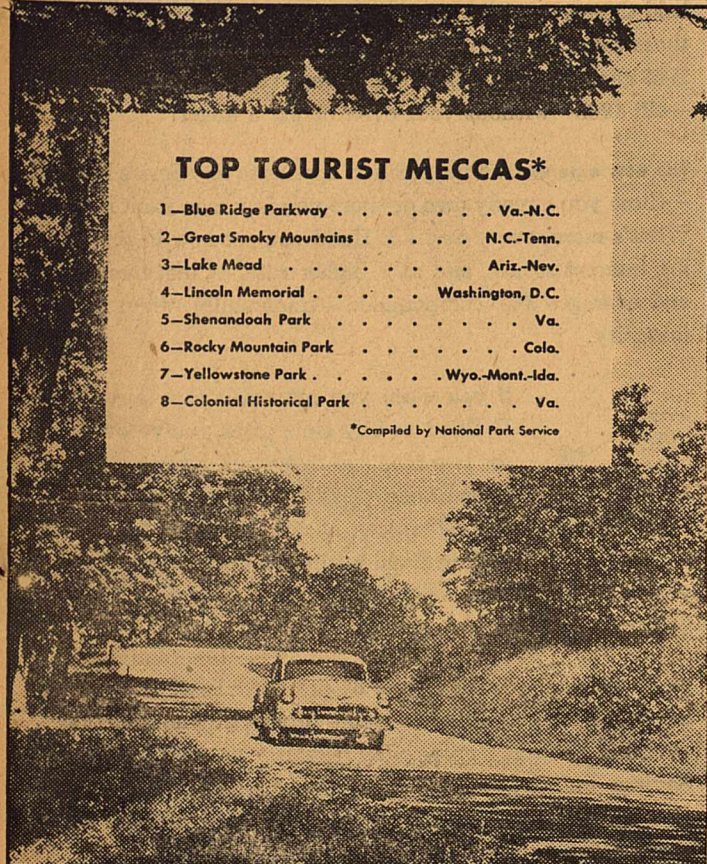

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Lovelace left Monday on a week's vacation trip to San Antonio.

More than 40,000,000 people visited national parks last year and the figure is expected to go higher in 1953 as America prepares to spend a whopping nine billion dollars on motoring vacations. As another indication of the tremendous popularity of mobile vacations, 28 states now rank tourist receipts among their three top industries. New Mexico and New Jersey place it first.

Pontiac's Parisienne—A Show Stopper

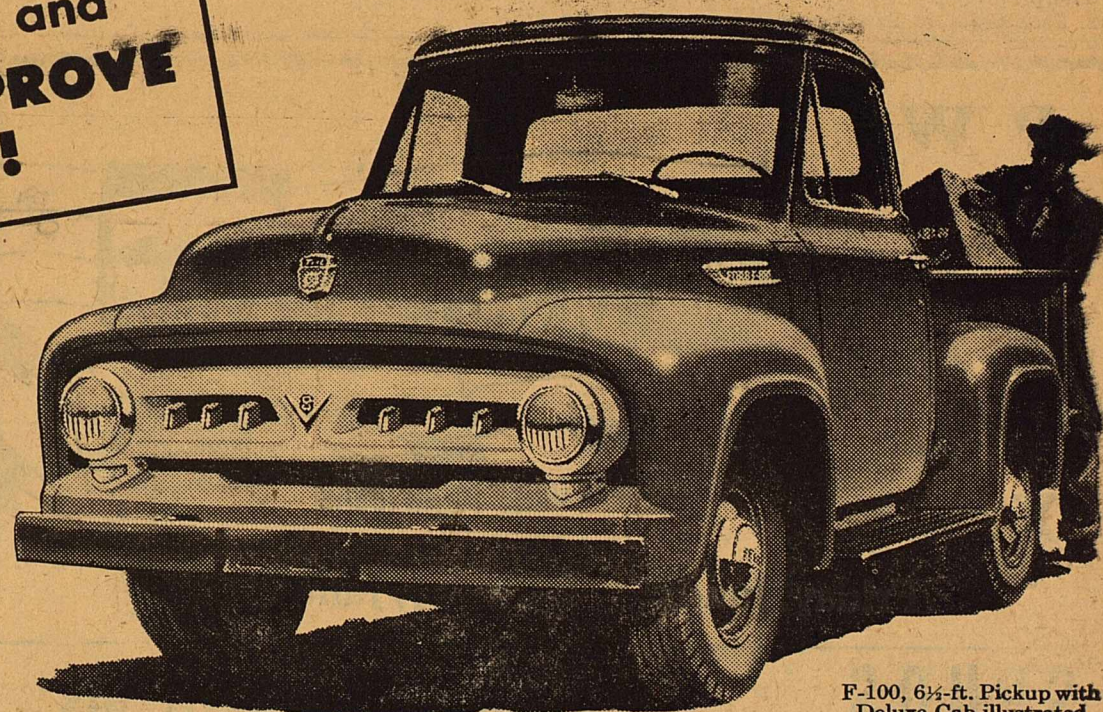

One of the most popular of the special cars being shown May 16-24 at the General Motors Motorama for 1953 in the Fairgrounds Auto Building at Dallas is the chic Pontiac Parisienne. A custom show car and not a production model, the Parisienne represents the translation of a designer's dream into the three-dimensional reality of steel, glass, leather and rubber. Finished in a "black-black" exterior, the interior features satin nylon frieze upholstery, candleglow lighting at each side and a black broadtail carpet. The front compartment seats are finished in pink leather. It is powered by a standard Pontiac straight-eight engine.

Now you get more for your Bond money!

New law says -

U.S. Series E Bonds can earn interest 10 years longer-at 3%

If you invested in U. S. Series E Bonds ten years ago and have held them ever since you'll profit by this new law NOW! For those same Bonds, which you expected to mature finally in 1953 can now earn 3% interest every year for ten more years—till 1963—without your even lifting a finger!

The new extended earning period applies to any Series E Bond—those you already own or those you invest in from now on. What's more, every Series E Bond you get now begins earning interest sooner, and at a higher rate. It matures earlier and averages 3%, compounded semiannually, when held to maturity.

If you wish, you may still cash any Series E Bond at any time after you've owned it for two months. But you'll be wiser to hold your Bonds. Cash in the pocket melts away, too often with nothing to show for it. But cash in Bond savings is always there. And if your Bonds should be accidentally lost or destroyed they will be replaced, at full value, with no cost to you.

So if you are not already one of the millions of wise Americans who are investing in a secure future, why not start now? Invest in Savings Bonds today regularly through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Thousands say it's the one sure way to save—because it saves something out of every check before you have a chance to spend it.

If you want to be paid your interest as current income—
invest in 3% Series H

If you want a good, sound investment which pays you your interest by check every six months, ask at your bank about United States Government Series H Bonds. Series H is a new current income Bond available in denominations of $500 to $10,000. Redeemable at par after 6 months and on 30 days' notice. Matures in 9 years and 8 months and pays an average 3% interest per annum if held to maturity. Interest paid semi-annually by Treasury check. Series H may be purchased at any bank, annual limit $20,000.

Now even better! Invest more in Savings Bonds!

The U. S. Government does not pay for this advertising. The Treasury Department thanks, for their patriotic donation, the Advertising Council and
