

CISCO DAILY NEWS

CISCO, TEXAS, MONDAY, JULY 6, 1931.

FOUR PAGES TODAY

NUMBER 124

25 TEXANS KILLED OVER WEEK-END

Lone Star and W. T. U. Picnics Scheduled for Lake Sat.

HUNDREDS OF VISITORS TO BE BROUGHT

Saturday, July 11, is due to be another big day at Lake Cisco with separate company picnics scheduled to be held in the parks just off the swimming pool. The first of these, announced two weeks ago, is the Lone Star Gas company annual employee's picnic which preparations are being made to take care of between 700 and 1,000 people. Site of this picnic is in the Lake park, just improved, where a big barbecue augmented by baskets of lunch to be brought by the visitors, will be had. Lone Star officials in charge of the arrangements were due in today to make final preparations. A full program is planned.

The second picnic will be an old-fashioned "Chuck Wagon Dinner" for officials and employees of District B and four other districts of West Texas Utilities. Present plans are to locate this picnic in the Lions and Rotary club park where accommodations similar to those in the Lake Cisco park are being made. The picnic was awarded District B for having made the best time selling campaign. The districts to be invited by the company are "D", "H", "A" and "C". Preparations contemplate 75 people.

"Chuck Wagon Dinner" will be a real old-fashioned ranch chuck wagon will be secured from the company for this event. H. H. Lamb, in charge of arrangements for the picnic, said this wagon will be taken to the park and the dinner served from it. Festivities will start at 10 in the afternoon.

Contests in swimming with the chuck wagon theme will take place during the afternoon. These include cowboy songs, buck and wing dancing, story-telling, biggest buzz, busting, and calf-roping. Prizes will be awarded in each contest.

Popularity of the improved picnic grounds was attested by the number of people who used their facilities for outings over the week-end. The Fourth of July picnics and the capacity of the two parks and Sunday's crowd was said to have been fully as large. Chamber of commerce and city officials were delighted with the response to the improvements and are laying plans to make the resort even more attractive to visitors. The work that has so far been done in improving the grounds has resulted in such an expected increase in the popularity of the lake that those who had led in providing the accommodations are more than ever convinced of the value of their program. Completion of the Lions and Rotary club park will be pushed as a high priority.

The two company picnics Saturday added to the individual activities should send one of the best crowds of vacationists to the lake and the necessity of providing facilities at the club park has been emphasized.

SAFE-BLOWERS GET $12,000 IN PARIS STORE

PARIS, Texas, July 6.—With 10 officers in hot pursuit, two safe-blowers early today escaped with $12,000 taken from the safe of a Paris grocery store here.

The officers, who were in the store when the safe was blown, returned to the store and found the drawer had been blown from the safe with a powerful nitroglycerin charge.

PLANE REPLACES CABOOSE. ELSON, Neb., July 6.—Fred I. Elson, rancher near here, used to market with his cattle on the car and a freight train. Now he uses his airplane. When Kelly has a load of cattle to Omaha, he flies in his plane, hops to market, and returns home in time for lunch.

When Crippled Nautilus Finally Reached Irish Coast

CLEVER LIQUOR CACHE FOUND IN HOUSTON

HOUSTON, July 6.—Liquor raiders today had uncovered one of the best hidden caches for contraband ever discovered in this city and had seized 288 pints of whisky bearing such famous brands as "Old Colonial," "Early Times," "Log Cabin" and "Black and White."

A secret door in a residential garage opened by hydraulic pressure led to an underground room in which the liquor was stored.

A man arrested with a liquor-laden coupe was forced to reveal the hidden store room.

Men-of-the-Church in Meeting Tonight

The Men-of-the-Church of the First Presbyterian church are holding their monthly meeting at the church at 8 o'clock this evening.

FLIERS GUESTS OF PRESIDENT AT LUNCHEON

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Lunch with President Hoover at the White House headed the capitol's honors today for Wiley Post and Harold Gatty, earth-circling speed fliers.

Other events scheduled for the fliers were a reception by the National Press club and a banquet sponsored by the Board of Trade.

League Elects New President

John Peter Huey was elected president of the Presbyterian Young People's league for the ensuing term of office at the business meeting Sunday evening. Laura Rupe was elected vice-president; and Betty Fee Spears, secretary-treasurer. The outgoing officers were president, W. J. Murray, Jr.; vice-president, George Irvine, Jr.; and secretary, Ida May Garrett. The league has adopted "The Highways of Life" as its theme for the year.

The league is a progressive young group throughout the Presbyterian General Assembly and Helen Crawford, Harriet Angus, and Helen Crawford, have been appointed highway leaders for the ensuing period. The objective of the league is a fourfold development for each member: mental, physical, social and spiritual.

TIMES CHANGE PRICE. GRAND ISLAND, Neb., July 6.—When a farmer hauls a load of corn to town here today he receives less than 50 cents per bushel. But, in December, 1929, when he hauled a load to old Fort Kearney, government frontier post on the Platte river, he received $4.36 per bushel from the government.

It was a crippled but apparently not a discouraged Nautilus that limped into Queenstown, Ireland, harbor after her adventurous journey across the Atlantic. For Sir Hubert Wilkes and the crew were still en route to the north pole when this picture was taken of the battered submarine in tow of an Irish tug. With her starboard engine damaged, and her periscope and superstructure swept away by heavy seas the Nautilus had been towed almost to the Irish coast by the U. S. S. Wyoming. The submarine was taken to Cork for the recharging of her batteries.

SOX SWEEP SERIES WITH NIGHT HAWKS

The Cisco Red Sox made it two straight over the Fort Worth Night Hawks when they captured a twelve inning battle 2-1. The eleventh inning came up with the score 0-0 when Fort Worth started the fire works in their half with a pair of doubles to left field that scored one run. The Red Sox came back strong in their half and Punk Thornton took the second ball pitched for a ride over the right field fence to tie the score, the next three men went out in order. Cotton Phippen got Fort Worth out in the twelfth without any trouble striking out two men and the other rolled out to first base. In Cisco's half Robinson who relieved Hill in right field singled and went to second on Van Horn's single through the infield. Alford advanced both men with a sacrifice down the first base line. Thornton hit to second and Ayres threw home to catch the runner and Robinson was safe when the catcher dropped the ball after tagging him out.

BIG CROWDS ATTEND 12TH ST. REVIVAL

"The reckless givers of the Bible are those who have become immortal," Rev. H. D. Tucker declared last night in the revival meeting in East Cisco.

A crowd that filled every available seat heard the message. The revival will continue throughout this week with services daily at 10 a. m. and 8:15 p. m. Prayer groups are held at 7:45 each evening.

The Rev. Mr. Tucker spoke last night from the subject, "The sin in Cisco that is never mentioned" and the text was Judges 11:35. "I have opened my mouth unto the Lord and I cannot go back."

Continuing his message Mr. Tucker said in part: "A lot of church members today are in danger of dying with self control when it comes to giving to the church. They never get reckless with their giving," he said.

Doomed Man Would Do Three Things

In his sermon "Were Today the Last Day" at the First Presbyterian church Sunday evening the Rev. B. C. Boney said in substance, "If any one of us knew that today should be the last day he would spend on earth there are at least three things he would try to do; get right with the world around him; get right with his own self; and more important than all, get right with the God who created him, and to whom he goes to give an account of his stewardship. How different the world would be if we lived in the thought that today only is ours, and we are not to 'boost ourselves of tomorrow.'"

JOHN'S HOSPITAL HERE. Howard Brown, who has recently graduated from the Texas Chiropractic college at San Antonio, last week, will be permanently associated with Dr. N. A. Brown at the Brown sanatorium here. It was announced today.

TRAFFIC SIGNS TO BE PUT ON CISCO STREETS

Rubber traffic signs will be placed at points of entry to D and E avenues by the city street department in an effort to curb traffic violations. It was announced today. About 35 of the signs have been ordered and will be put in place when they arrive. Location of the signs has not yet been definitely determined but they will be placed on all streets leading into the two avenues in the business district and the police department will rigidly enforce observance of the rules by motorists.

Steps to curb racing up and down D and E avenues during the night hours by motorists will be taken, Police Chief Miller said today. This has become a serious menace, the chief said.

HASTENING OF WORK ON P. O. BLDG. ASSURED

Hope for early construction on the federal building allotted Cisco is stimulated by letters recently received by J. E. Spencer, secretary of the chamber of commerce, from both the U. S. treasury department and the president's Emergency Committee for Employment.

The letters were in response to an appeal from Mr. Spencer that construction be started up in the Cisco project immediately in the interest of the alleviation of the unemployment situation here.

"Definite action looking toward the selection of the site may be expected during the month of July," the chamber of commerce is assured in the letter from the treasury department. "As soon as contract is made for the site, it is expected that plans will be started for the building within thirty days thereafter."

"You may be assured that every effort will be made by the department in Washington to expedite federal construction. At the present time and during the succeeding three or four months from twenty to twenty-five construction contracts will be let each month. This output is practically at the rate of one construction contract every working day. The Cisco project will be taken up in order and unless site complications arise, the plans for the new building should be started within the next couple of months."

A communication from the secretary of the president's Emergency Committee for Employment, E. J. Joseph, says that "We have taken the matter up with the office of the assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of the supervising architect's office. The site report was received by the treasury department July last Saturday, June 25. We have, therefore, asked the treasury department to put a red flag on this project for the purpose of seeing that everything possible is done to expedite it."

Mr. Spencer said today that these assurances have materially brightened the outlook for early beginning of the federal project. Meanwhile a committee from the chamber of commerce left Saturday for Washington to further urge upon the authorities the importance of expediting the local construction. This committee consists of F. A. Blankenbecker, Guy Dabney and W. J. Leach. They will be expected to confer this week with officials of the post office department.

FORMER BRECK MAN DROWNS NEAR KILGORE

TYLER, July 6.—The body of H. C. Lafleur, 45-year-old Kilgore cafe operator, who drowned in Lake Everett when his fishing boat capsized, was sent to Breckenridge for burial today.

Lafleur, member of a holiday fishing party was pulling in a fish line when the small boat became unbalanced. He was unable to swim.

Lafleur moved to Kilgore from Breckenridge five months ago. He is survived by his wife, a 12-year-old daughter and a sister, Mrs. Della Sanders.

HASTENING OF WORK ON P. O. BLDG. ASSURED

Hope for early construction on the federal building allotted Cisco is stimulated by letters recently received by J. E. Spencer, secretary of the chamber of commerce, from both the U. S. treasury department and the president's Emergency Committee for Employment.

The letters were in response to an appeal from Mr. Spencer that construction be started up in the Cisco project immediately in the interest of the alleviation of the unemployment situation here.

"Definite action looking toward the selection of the site may be expected during the month of July," the chamber of commerce is assured in the letter from the treasury department. "As soon as contract is made for the site, it is expected that plans will be started for the building within thirty days thereafter."

"You may be assured that every effort will be made by the department in Washington to expedite federal construction. At the present time and during the succeeding three or four months from twenty to twenty-five construction contracts will be let each month. This output is practically at the rate of one construction contract every working day. The Cisco project will be taken up in order and unless site complications arise, the plans for the new building should be started within the next couple of months."

A communication from the secretary of the president's Emergency Committee for Employment, E. J. Joseph, says that "We have taken the matter up with the office of the assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of the supervising architect's office. The site report was received by the treasury department July last Saturday, June 25. We have, therefore, asked the treasury department to put a red flag on this project for the purpose of seeing that everything possible is done to expedite it."

Mr. Spencer said today that these assurances have materially brightened the outlook for early beginning of the federal project. Meanwhile a committee from the chamber of commerce left Saturday for Washington to further urge upon the authorities the importance of expediting the local construction. This committee consists of F. A. Blankenbecker, Guy Dabney and W. J. Leach. They will be expected to confer this week with officials of the post office department.

Varnells Expected Home This Week

E. H. Varnell, Cisco vocational agriculturist who, with his family, is in Colorado taking a summer course in vocational work at the Colorado A. and M. college, is due back in Cisco some time this week. He has been away about three weeks.

Chapman and Hill Back From Coast

Coaches W. B. Chapman and Leonard Hill returned Saturday afternoon from California where they attended a coaching school conducted by "Pop" Warner.

They reported a delightful trip. The coast was cool and the Pacific in which they went swimming between sessions of the school, almost too cold for comfort. Chapman did not say when he intends leaving for Lubbock to take up his work as head coach of the Lubbock high school next fall.

Visit Parents Here During Week-End

W. H. Kittrell, Jr., and family, of Dallas, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kittrell. They left for their home Sunday afternoon.

Miss Laura Kittrell, of Winters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kittrell, Sr., was also here for the weekend. A second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kittrell, Lucy, who is a teacher in the Cisco public schools, is expected back from Silver City, N. M., where she is taking a summer course, within the next two or three weeks.

Malone Woman Dead in Auto Accident

MEMPHIS, Tex., July 6.—Mrs. S. J. Erskine, 24, of Malone, was killed and three other persons injured today when the car in which they were riding overturned on the highway a few miles north of here.

Mrs. Erskine was pinned beneath the car. Her husband and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Smith, of Hubbard, parents of Mrs. Erskine, suffered painful cuts and body bruises.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The federal farm board today rejected renewed suggestions that the board and the grain stabilization corporation withhold government wheat from the market until it reaches 85 cents or $1 per bushel.

The proposals were made in person by Vice-President Curtis and Sen. Capper, of Kansas.

They're Heroes Now

They were disheveled and red-eyed with weariness; their faces drawn, their clothing spattered with the mud of Germany, Siberia and Canada. But Wiley Post, left, and Harold Gatty, right, were heroes of the world they had endured when this picture was taken at Roosevelt Field, Long Island, from which they had hopped off 8 days and 16 hours previously. A surging crowd of some 10,000 persons cheered the two airmen who are shown in front of their plane, the Winnie Mae in a hangar at Roosevelt Field.

Witnesses Say They Attended Liquor Parties at Home of Miss Roberts

ABILENE, July 6.—Testimony by friends of J. Louis Keel alleged heart-breaker from the ranges of New Mexico, that they attended many a liquor party at the home of Miss Margaret Roberts featured today's proceedings in the Roberts-Keel $50,000 heart balm suit.

Pete Wiggins and Ed Hayes, pals of the defendant, told the court that on several occasions they had drunk liquor at the Roberts' home — once from a half gallon fruit jar.

Mrs. T. E. Roberts, the plaintiff's mother, attended several of the parties, it was testified.

Wiggins testified Miss Roberts told him that she and Bob Horner, her former employer, planned to marry soon as Horner got a divorce. Wiggins said the girl's mother and younger sister were present when the statement was made.

He asserted that T. E. Roberts, Margaret's father, warned him that if he took the stand and "reflected on the character" of his daughter "it will be between you and me."

Hayes told the court that on the many trips he made with Keel and Miss Roberts he never heard either mention marriage or engagement.

Several times, he testified, he took Keel to the Roberts home waiting out front.

When Keel would emerge, Hayes said, there would be a strong smell of beer about him.

Freemont Burgess, bell boy at the hotel where Miss Roberts formerly worked at the cigar counter, testified he saw Miss Roberts in Horner's room during an illness of her employer.

"Miss Roberts was sitting on the bed when I answered a call for service," Burgess said. "Horner was wearing a pajama coat."

50 OTHERS INJURED IN ACCIDENTS

DALLAS, July 6.—Twenty-five persons died violent deaths and more than 50 persons were injured in Texas over the holiday week-end. Ten persons died in automobile accidents. Six were drowned and two died from alcoholic poisoning. Murder, suicide and accidental gunshot wounds accounted for the other victims.

Three persons were killed and a fourth was injured seriously when a Missouri-Pacific freight train struck a truck at Val Verde in the Rio Grande valley.

Bill Lewis, 30, died in a Pampa hospital of burns when his automobile overturned near Lefors. John P. Bell, 61, was killed instantly in another accident near Lefors.

NOTED TENN. FINANCIER IS FOUND GUILTY

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 6.—Rogers Caldwell, who as head of Caldwell and company, investment bankers, became one of the south's leading financiers, was found guilty today of a charge of fraudulent breach of trust and larceny in connection with a $200,000 road bond deal.

His attorneys immediately after the verdict was read filed a motion for a new trial. Under the sentence he faces not less than 1 year in prison, nor more than three. The jury had been out since Saturday.

Caldwell was found guilty on the specific charge that he substituted unauthorized bonds for municipal bonds which he had placed in the Bank of Tennessee, a Caldwell and company subsidiary, as security for $200,000 in road bonds purchased from Hardeman county, Tenn.

His attorneys immediately after the verdict was read filed a motion for a new trial. Under the sentence he faces not less than 1 year in prison, nor more than three. The jury had been out since Saturday.

Caldwell was found guilty on the specific charge that he substituted unauthorized bonds for municipal bonds which he had placed in the Bank of Tennessee, a Caldwell and company subsidiary, as security for $200,000 in road bonds purchased from Hardeman county, Tenn.

Fliers Hope to Take Off Early This Week

SEATTLE, July 6.—Delayed by the failure of their refueling plane to reach Alaska, Reg Robbins and H. S. Jones expected to get started early this week on their proposed non-stop flight to Tokyo.

The tri-motored refueling plane piloted by Nick Greener and Jim Mattiari, was to continue to Fairbanks today after landing at Stewart, British Columbia, late Saturday when Greener lost his bearings and ran low on fuel.

Family Disputes Cause Shootings

HUGO, Okla., July 6.—Family disputes were blamed today for shooting affrays in Choctaw county over the weekend in which one man was killed and a youth critically wounded.

H. T. Crabb was instantly killed with a shot gun at his home south-east of Hugo. Mrs. Nellie Crabb, his wife, was charged with murder. Preliminary hearing has been set for Tuesday.

Walter Ivey was shot in the face at Boswell. His step-father was held in connection with the shooting.

Two Men Held in Dallas Murder

DALLAS, July 6.—Two men, one of whom was found washing blood spots from his car, were in the custody of police here today in connection with the slaying of R. L. Roark, 35, federal reserve bank guard, found shot to death on a highway near here Sunday.

Freemont Burgess, bell boy at the hotel where Miss Roberts formerly worked at the cigar counter, testified he saw Miss Roberts in Horner's room during an illness of her employer.

"Miss Roberts was sitting on the bed when I answered a call for service," Burgess said. "Horner was wearing a pajama coat."

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The federal farm board today rejected renewed suggestions that the board and the grain stabilization corporation withhold government wheat from the market until it reaches 85 cents or $1 per bushel.

The proposals were made in person by Vice-President Curtis and Sen. Capper, of Kansas.

WEATHER

West Texas — Generally fair to night. Tuesday partly cloudy. Cooler in Panhandle.

East Texas — Partly cloudy and somewhat unsettled tonight and Tuesday.

THE CISCO DAILY NEWS

Phones 80 and 81.

Published By
THE CISCO PRINTING & PUBLISHING COMPANY.
304-306 D Avenue, Cisco, Texas.

MEMBER UNITED PRESS.
MEMBER ADVERTISING BUREAU.
TEXAS DAILY PRESS LEAGUE.

W. H. La ROQUE, Manager
H. A. BUTLER, Editor
Entered at the Postoffice in Cisco, Texas, as Second Class Mail matter.

Publication Days: Afternoons (except Saturday) and Sunday mornings.
Subscription Rates: Per month (delivered in Cisco), 75c. If paid in advance: Three months, $2.00; six months, $4.00; twelve months, $7.50.
Obituaries and Cards of Thanks, 10c per line; Classified, 2c per word.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of this paper will be gladly corrected upon being brought to the attention of the editor.

Any error made in advertisements will be gladly corrected upon being brought to attention of the publishers and the liability of this paper is limited to the amount of the space consumed by the error in the advertisement.

DAILY BIBLE THOUGHT

THE ONLY CREATOR.—In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the word was God. All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made. — John 1: 1, 3.

PROBLEMS OF AMERICAN EDUCATION.

William John Cooper of Washington is United States commissioner of education. He was on the program of the National Education association convention at Los Angeles. He asserted that a half a million children in elementary schools were mentally retarded and required special individual instruction; that another half million had defective hearing to the extent they should be taught lip reading and 400,000 crippled children need educational treatment. Another eminent educator declared the new age in education must give the child a greater social vision and teach that man is greater "than anything he has made—that he is master of the machine." Is man master of the machine? Go ask the 6,000,000 unemployed and their 20,000,000 dependents.

PUBLISHER McLEAN CALLS OFF POST SALE.

Publisher Edward B. McLean has declared himself. William Randolph Hearst will not get the Washington Post. David Lawrence will not take down the coveted prize. Publisher McLean has thrown all offers in the waste basket. He has called off the sale. He is going to keep the Post for his three boys. John R. McLean, father of Edward B., was the founder of the family fortune. He indicated in his will that the Cincinnati Enquirer and the Washington Post should be passed on to his grandchildren. Now the 300 employees of the Post will not have to hunt jobs. In other words they will not be cast out and listed as units of the American army of unemployed. Publisher Edward B. McLean has a heart. He found it in the nick of time.

ARE THE BIG MONEY CHESTS EMPTY?

A Washington correspondent lets it be known that the republicans are facing one of the problems of their democratic foe—"the money barrel is running low." Furthermore Joseph R. Nutt of Cleveland, the treasurer of the republican national committee, has been in conference with republican leaders in the east. He admitted his strong box was getting to be lean as a starved rat in captivity. National Chairman John J. Raskob is founding his committee until the presidential tide comes in. For the first time in its history since the close of the war between the states the democrats have a real Angel at the head of their organization. As for the republicans when the fat-fryers of their organization go out with their baskets next year the harvest will be golden. This is the record of 60 years. It will be the record in 1932.

ANOTHER MINNESOTA COURT DECISION.

The Minnesota state supreme court has upheld the right of a clergyman to refuse to divulge information given him in confidence. In other words the court upheld a law passed in 1923, relating to confessions to ministers and which was amended by the 1931 legislature to make it clear that it applied to clergymen of all denominations. This is as it should be—one law for all.

BILLIONS ADDED TO THE WEALTH OF THE NATION.

Massed confidence has been substituted for massed production and the substitution has been marvelous as a creator or booster of values. Col. Roger Babson tells his fellow countrymen how it was done. President Hoover's moratorium offer to forego one year's payment on the debt which Europe owes the United States turned the Midas trick. Indeed Col. Babson says that the proposal in less time than it takes to tell the story, increased the values of our farm products, mineral products, and securities, over $6,000,000,000. Now if suspension of foreign debt payments for a single year adds $6,000,000,000 to the wealth of the nation in two weeks, why not a five years moratorium or suspension and add $30,000,000,000 to the wealth of the nation—before the coming of the "dog days"? There is nothing like confidence. All a powerful personage has to do is to use his magic wand to ignite his words and lo and behold billions are added to the national wealth and the car of prosperity is whizzing down the track at a rate or gait of 200 miles per hour.

LOVING AN ORGANIZED COUNTY.

Loving county has been organized. It was the last unorganized county in Texas. Mentone is the lone town of the new county and apparently destined as county seat. Loving county has been attached to Reeves county for administrative purposes. Oil developments of the past 18 months resulted in the creation of Mentone and agitation for organization of a county. An election was held. Approximately 150 votes were cast. Officers were elected. Rangers stood on guard at the polls. No excitement. No gun plays. No funerals.

But an injunction seeking to restrain organization of the county is pending in district court and powder burning may come later.

TEXAS DRUGGISTS AND THE CIGARET TAX.

Texas druggists held their 1931 convention in the city of Dallas. There are more than 5000 druggists in Texas. In the final session the druggists adopted a resolution reported by their committee on resolutions calling for the outright repeal of the three cents per packet tax on cigarettes. Paul Finn of Sunset, member of the 42nd legislature, assured the druggists that he would introduce a bill to repeal the measure during the next session of the legislature. It is significant that the druggists failed to approve or disapprove a plan to establish government dispensaries of liquor to relieve the trade of the work of retailing liquor for medicinal purposes. It is said the druggists the state over will battle for the repeal of the cigarette tax law and will throw whatever influence they have against the nomination of anti-repeal candidates for legislative place. "The ballot is the thing," and those who know how to use it are to get busy in the campaign that is approaching. They ask, "Why a nuisance tax?"

MITCHELL AND THE RACKETEERS.

Attorney General William D. Mitchell believes the government's success in its campaign against Al Capone "shows that gang leaders can be eliminated if you have honest men on the job and a real purpose." He has made known that the justice department will hit out at the gangster problem, wherever it becomes particularly obnoxious but that his branch of the government was not now planning any nationwide drive throughout the larger cities. How about the princely racketeers who grab the natural resources of America and make billions and not millions by shrewd planning and cunning methods? Are they to be smashed by the department of justice?

OTHER OPINIONS

PROFITING BY EXAMPLE

Every man has some power over others that is exercised without conscious effort on his part. It is his responsibility he can no longer dodge. If he is a strong man, others will strive to emulate his strength. If he is a weak man others, in passing, will shudder at the thought of being like him. Both serve the noble cause of uplift.

In almost every group, organization or community there is one man who walks his chosen way without thought for the preferences, opinions and will of others. He is a strong man, original, cocksure. If he has looked the world over and decided against it if it is his custom to attribute the worst possible motives to all men; if he is, in short, a cynic, those who come within his influence are almost certain to find themselves sinking at mankind and ending the worse a failure.

But if this strong man is a co-operative with a well-lined nest and a conviction that all who advocate change or a disturbing of old ways are dangerous stinks who should be jailed or deported those who associate with him soon learn to use his pot parmesan in denunciation of dreamers and to feel a certain awe of money in large piles.

Therefore, since it is a certainty that the average man, who lacks a dominating personality, will be remade after the image of the strong man, within whose orbit he moves, why shouldn't he exercise what little discretion he has in the matter and attach himself to men who show are what he would like to be?

It may seem a craven business, but since the man is so awed and warped to fit any pattern there's nothing particularly ignoble about selecting the pattern after which he would like to be revamped. — Paris News.

In the Political Arena

By HUGH NUGENT FITZGERALD

Judge David W. Wilcox of Georgetown has been one of the pillars of the state democratic movement for years. He was state chairman for four years of the Moody administration. He is an ardent and life-long prohibitionist. He is close to the national leaders of the party. He has the confidence of the members of the party. He is Franklin D. Roosevelt as the democratic presidential nominee. He has declared to his friends that Roosevelt "is the logical choice of the party," and that if nominated he would make a strong race among the American people and if elected in November 1932, he would give the nation an able and experienced executive. He admitted to press correspondents that certain elements in Texas might oppose Gov. Roosevelt's nomination on the prohibition issue but made the prediction that Texas would never again go "publican," as its last experience has taught it a lesson which will not be forgotten soon. All the political medicine makers are busy these days over readiness of petroleum problems or the final decision of France as to the acceptance of the American moratorium plan.

Champions of the federal farm board are bubbling up everywhere. Former Cong. Franklin W. Fort of New Jersey is a multi-millionaire and a republican leader. He spoke before the National Association of Retail Credit Men and praised the work of the board. He stressed the advantages of co-operative marketing and said the $500,000,000 appropriation given the farm board to furnish it with working capital was "no more socialist than our plans to pull the railroad out of prospective bankruptcy." And now the railroad are asking for an additional loan in the shape of a 15 per cent increase in freight rates. They are backed by huge life insurance and investment companies who hold rail securities of the value of 12 billions.

Did You Ever Stop to Think?

By EDSON R. WAITE
Shawnee, Oklahoma.

W. R. Orin, editor of the Council Bluffs, Iowa Nonpareil, writes:

That the enormous value of advertising is not recognized and appreciated by the people generally. It is the great central driving motor which moves the wheels of progress forward. All people have hopes, ambitions, desires. They crave those things which make life more worth living. They are in search constantly of better food, better clothing, better homes, better environment. In the advertisements written by people highly educated in this important art they find the answers to their longings.

An old farmer and his wife concluded to sell their farm and move elsewhere. They were tired of the humdrum of farming. They consulted a live real estate dealer. This man gladly listed their farm and wrote an advertisement setting forth the facts regarding its fertile acres, its shady grove, its fine old house, its springs of ice cold water, its pastures, its shady lanes, its leaping cattle and the good neighborhood in which it was located. The old farmer and his wife read this fine description of their property and concluded that they would keep it. Advertising written by a skilled hand made them appreciate the value of their property. They saw it in a new light.

Railroads employ skilled writers to paint word pictures of the beautiful scenery which may be reached on their lines. They appeal in this manner to human desires and get business. It is the money of travelers which furnishes employment to millions of people who provide them with their traveling needs.

Advertising induces people to buy. It causes our dollars to move rapidly. A dollar which changes hands ten times in a day and repeats the cycle after day for a year is worth 3,650 times more than another dollar held in the strong box of a miser who hoards his money and denies himself the improved living conditions he should buy.

Our standards of living and our wages per capita are the highest and best in the world. We have grown so rich by buying and selling among ourselves. There are no saturation points in this country for useful commodities and foods. The wants of people are insatiable. Keep these wants alive by advertising and volume of business will increase as surely as tides rise and fall.

There is no denying the fact the railroads have been hard hit since the crash came in Wall street and republican prosperity made its nose dive into the ditch or the sewer. Rail revenues have been diminishing just as the revenues of union of Americans have been diminishing since the crash came two years ago—this after all the former presidents and high financiers and American economists and writers, including Col. Arthur Brisbane, had issued voluminous statements from time to time declaring that those who sold short on America were pessimists or nitwits who had not been taught to realize that the republican party was the party of prosperity and that all that was necessary to contribute prosperity forever was to keep the republican party in power in the republic forever and a day. They told it from Washington to San Francisco and from Fargo to Laredo. It has been interesting to read their alibis ever since the deluge hit the earth on that fated day in 1929.

State Gathers Hunting Tales

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 6.—The Pennsylvania Game Commission has set itself up as a clearing house for "true hunting stories" and already has received some weird stories out of the state woods.

There's the one about Ben McCullough, Kittanning, a 260-pound railroader, who on approaching a buck he had shot, greeted it by the horns when the deer arose. The wrestling match covered half an acre and cost McCullough all his clothing before he plunged a hunting knife into the back to kill it.

A yarn about a deaf bear was contributed by Charles Ernst, of Mehoopany. This hunter said he saw a bear about a grove of beech trees contentedly munching nuts. He fired and the animal ducked to continue his feast. Despite the shot, the bear continued eating undisturbed. Ernst didn't waste his next shot.

PRESERVE PLANNED.
HELENA, Ark., July 6.—A wild game preserve under government supervision will be established on Peter's Island in the middle of the Mississippi river 36 miles north of here. It was announced recently.

FREEDOM FATAL TO COW.
ONEIDA, N. Y., July 6.—Florence Charles Putnam's placid cow, was so delighted to be turned to pasture she kicked up her heels, raced about the field, and broke her neck against a log.

FAMOUS FLIERS ENTER ANNUAL NAT'L TOUR

DETROIT, July 6.—Many nationally and internationally famous fliers will compete in the 1931 National Air Tour, starting here July 4 and ending July 25.

Eddie Schneider, 19-year-old boy pilot, former holder of the Junior Transcontinental flight record; Mrs. Mae Hazlip, and Lowell R. Bayles, who placed second in the All-America Flying Derby last summer, are among recent entries. Mrs. Hazlip holds the distinction of being the first woman entered in the 1931 Tour. She will pilot her Buick Bull Pup around the 6,500-mile course.

Women Pilots
Although women pilots have been vying for the Edsel B. Ford reliability trophy ever since 1928, Mrs. Hazlip, tour manager, "Mrs. Hazlip, who competed for it originally in 1929, is the first to tackle the job for a second time. Her pluck deserves reward and we sincerely hope she makes a good showing."

Besides Bayles, two other All-American Derby contestants have entered. They are Lieut. Lee Gehlbach, former Scripps Field airplane, and Harvey Munro, veteran pilot for the Mercury Aircraft Corporation, Hammonport, L. I.

Gehlbach, with Lieut. Leonard Fie, ex-army flier, and Capt. William Lancaster, noted Australian pilot, will comprise the team entered by the Bird Aircraft Corporation of Brooklyn.

Doolittle Referee
Major Jimmie Doolittle, former army ace; Capt. Frank M. Hawks, America's aerial speed demon; Walter Lee, co-holder of the recent non-refueling endurance flight record, set with a Packard Diesel equipped plane, and E. W. Cleveland, one of the industries pioneers, are also listed in the tour personnel.

Doolittle is the tour's referee; Lee, the chief timer; and Cleveland, the chief starter. Leaving Detroit, the tour, numbering approximately 30 planes, will journey through Canada to New York state, thence southeastward, visiting the states of Oklahoma, West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana to Texas. From Texas the contestants will fly northward, visiting a states of Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Iowa, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan.

MATRIMONIAL RUMORS IRE MISS SWANSON

PARIS, July 6.—"This is my first real holiday in 14 years," Gloria Swanson, movie star, said when she arrived here from America. "I shall take a house here, with my children, and probably will run over to London for a few days to see my new picture, 'Indiscreet.' Then I shall return to Paris to study until I go back to America."

With reference to her matrimonial intentions, Miss Swanson neither denied nor confirmed rumors of an approaching wedding. "People are always engaging or marrying me to someone. Isn't it dreadful not to be able to lead just a simple, peaceful, quiet life? I have stopped trying to argue about it one way or the other. You can do as you please about it. Just put down a M. X. and let it stand like that," she concluded.

She was dressed in the tailored outfit in which she is often seen in the movies, and in which she says she always felt best. She barely measures five feet by the yardstick and possesses the smallest feet in Hollywood.

Miss Swanson was born in Chicago 37 years ago. Her children are Gloria Somborn, a former marriage, and Joseph, an adopted son. James Henri la Balle de la Faisaise, Marquis de la Courdey, of Vendee, France, was a third matrimonial partner. Her career began when she enlisted as an extra in the Es-

Kidney Acids Break Sleep

If Getting Up Night, Backache, frequent day calls, Leg Pains, Nervousness, or Burning, due to functional Bladder Irritation, in acid conditions, makes you feel tired, depressed and discouraged, try the Cystex Test. Works fast, starts circulating through the system in 15 minutes. Praised by thousands for rapid and positive action. Don't give up. Try Cystex (pronounced Sies-tex) today, under the Iron-Clad Guarantees. Must quickly allay these conditions, improve restful sleep and energy, or money back. Only 50c a bottle.

CITY DRUG COMPANY

A. S. NABORS
New and Used Furniture
bought, sold and exchanged
Phone 43—Cisco.

RELIABLE PRINTING
no order too small
CISCO DAILY NEWS
CISCO AMERICAN and ROUNDUP

SMALL FEE PLANNED FOR JOB BUREAU

By GENE GILLETTE
United Press Staff Correspondent
DES MOINES, July 6.—It is in the interest of sound economic conditions in America that employment bureau service should be provided at nominal charges, according to Hans C. Pfund, secretary of the Des Moines community employment bureau.

Such service would be possible under a system of community-operated employment bureaus similar to the Des Moines organization and extending throughout the nation, the expert said.

Every city of 100,000 or more should have a community employment bureau, Pfund said. Experience in Des Moines has shown that support for organization of such a service can be obtained from business leaders, Pfund related, and in time he envisioned a bureau that would be supported by the revenue from bequests.

Many business men, when they have seen the type of work accomplished by the community bureau, will bequeath a portion of their estate toward its support, Pfund said. Such bequests constantly will reduce the rates required of laborers with a minimum of cost to the community. In addition to supplying vocational guidance, a record of jobs held by workers, and low cost service, the community employment bureau is strictly neutral.

In the nation-wide system of community bureaus that he envisions, Pfund said religious, or fraternal affiliations, will be neither a detriment nor an advantage to the man without a job.

Only in cases where employers specifically designate that the employee be of a certain religious faith or lodge affiliation will such matters be given consideration. Pfund expects the system he proposes will be years in development, but the agency that has been obtained here leads him to predict its eventual completion.

7. It would keep Texas in good strategic position to make itself felt in the national selection and the national victory.

8. It would save playing into the hands of scheming politicians; since Governor Sterling has never been accused of being a politician, and hasn't been studying the politician's handbook.

This is the trend of discussion now, whether it bears fruit or not.

BOY GOLF EXPERT.

MEXIA, July 6.—Wallace Fitzgerald, 10-year-old Ennis lad, drew a crown when he shot a 49 in nine holes of golf. Wallace made a birdie on the second hole.

Daily News and American and Roundup want ads are a good investment—Phone 80.

QUICK WEDDINGS Cause Divorces

PITTSBURGH, July 6.—Quick courtships and runaway marriages were blamed by a judge and a minister for the increase in the divorce rate in Pittsburgh in 1930 and the first six months of 1931, as compared with 1929.

In 1929 there were 1,383 divorces. In 1930 there were 1,438, and 710 in the first half of 1931. This was at the rate of 1,420 for the year, according to Department of Commerce statistics.

"Quick courtships and runaway

YIELDED $1,400.

BALD KNOB, Ark., July 6.—George O'Neal, 65, who raised three acres of strawberries this year, made $1,400 on the crop, which was enough to buy his 40-acre farm out right.

GETS HERBARIUM.
DURHAM, N. C., July 6.—Duke University has acquired the famous herbarium of Dr. P. O. Schaller, Winston-Salem, which comprises an exceptionally complete collection of 15,000 plant specimens gathered from many sections of the world.

DECREASE IN MARRIAGES.
In the same period, generally was attributed to business conditions.

hear! hear! hear!

Just the sound of Rice Krispies crackling in milk or cream makes you hungry. And how good these toasted rice bubbles taste!

Delicious with fruits or honey—for breakfast, lunch or supper. Use in recipes in place of nutsmeats. Order from your grocer in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Quick Weddings Cause Divorces

19% LOWER IN PRICE

QUALITY PRINTING With Quick Service

CISCO DAILY NEWS CISCO AMERICAN and ROUNDUP

Letter Heads Bill Heads Envelopes Circulars Statements Legal Blanks Shipping Tags Cards Funeral Notices

---in fact we furnish you with any kind of PRINTING you may need.

CISCO DAILY NEWS

Telephone 80 or 81. Expert Copy Layout

Heart of Liane

by MABEL McELLIOTT

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Now they were packing. Cass' big old trunk, the one which had traveled with her to all four corners of the continent, stood yawningly open. It spilled tarnished evening dresses, faded scarves, shoes run down at the heel. "All this junk!" moaned Cass, surveying it in disgust. "I must throw some of it away."

She leaned over and fished out a pile of old letters, a battered scrap book with an imitation leather cover. Liane, sorting stockings, looked up. "Anything interesting there?" she asked.

Cass swept the pile aside with a rather pettish gesture. "Nothing you'd care about," she said.

"Tele-phone!" Mrs. Smithers shrieked at the foot of the stairs. "For Mrs. Barrett."

Cass caught her printed dressing gown about her and ran. Liane sat there in the hopeless confusion of the room windigo ribbons and smoothing out wrinkles. Her glance strayed to the pile of papers. Out of the heap she selected the book. She sniffed fastidiously at it. The odor of shabbiness and disuse flavored its pages. She flipped them back, reading a clipping here, pausing to stare there at the faded photographs. She was deep in an old newspaper paragraph when Cass returned.

The older woman glanced sharply at what Liane was reading, said in a rather nettled tone, "Do give me that old thing. I told you there was nothing to interest you."

"But there is—scads of stuff," protested Liane. "Why didn't you ever let me see it before? I'm fascinated."

"Do give it to me, Liane. I'm serious. I want to put it away. It should have been burned ages ago," cried Cass, strangely impatient at the delay.

Liane glanced up, dimpling impulsively. "I'm crazy about it," she cried. "All about what a riot you were in Syracuse stock in 1908."

Cass stamped her foot in its frayed satin mule. Almost there were tears in her fine eyes.

"Give it to me this minute, do you hear?"

Liane arose with exaggerated dignity and handed her the book. As she relinquished it a photograph fell to the floor. "You can at least let me see what you looked like as Juliet," grumbled the girl, stooping to retrieve it. She gazed curiously at the inscription on the back of the small card-board.

"Luisa Emerson, May, 1909."

"Why, she looks astonishingly like you, Mother," marveled Liane, turning it over and regarding the smiling features. The pose of the pictured girl was consciously dramatic. She wore a swirling pompadour, a rose in the curve of her neck.

"She's lovely," said Liane. "But Mother, you never told me you had a sister."

Cass, ominously silent, received the picture from her hands. "Now that you're quite through examining my belongings," she said in a voice furiously low. All this was so unlike her even tempered self that Liane glanced at her, amazed. "I'm sorry," she said. "I didn't mean to tease."

Cass went on. "I never have spoken of Luisa because her death was such a shock to me. To all of us. It's all too painful."

Liane said pityingly. "Don't tell me about it, Mother. I'm sorry, honestly I am. I didn't mean to snoot."

"No, no. There's no reason you shouldn't know," Cass continued. "She was beautiful and talented. She died of brain fever when she was 21."

"Oh, mother, I am sorry," mourned Liane. Cass' eyes were filmed. "I didn't get over it for months—years, really. I never want to talk about it."

"Is that why you never go back home?"

"Partly. Besides, there's no one back there I want to see." Now Cass was putting the picture away. She was self-possessed once more. "That was Mrs. Cleopatra calling," he said. "She will send the call for you tomorrow morning. It's all settled and she's delighted you are coming."

"Whatever made you decide so suddenly?" Liane asked.

Cass was tossing papers and clippings into the trunk. She looked up and smiled. "Didn't you want me to say you'd come?"

Liane drew her brows together thoughtfully.

"I don't know how I'll fit in in that grand house."

Cass said. "Don't be silly. You have been properly brought up. You know which fork to use."

"I didn't mean that. Perhaps I'll feel like a pensioner." Rebellion swept over her soul. Why need they be so poor, to accept such favors at the hands of strangers?

"I'd rather take bits, walk-ons, anything, and stay with you," Liane grumbled. "I don't want to be anybody's man Friday."

Cass came over and shook her gently by the shoulder.

"You're a naughty girl to talk like that. This is a business arrangement, not charity. You know trouping always ruins your digestion and you catch such terrible colds. I won't have to worry about you this way."

She watched Liane anxiously. The girl bitterly. "I hate all of it, cast-off clothes and patronage and the rest. What wouldn't I do to be independent!" It was more a challenge than a question.

Cass paused in the act of sorting shoes. She echoed Liane's words with a sigh. "What wouldn't I do to be independent? Anything short of murder." She sat down. She looked weary and old. The girl's heart smote her. "I'm a beast," she cried, contritely. "Of course I'll go. That'll be one worry off your mind, anyhow."

(To Be Continued)

Now they were packing. Cass' big old trunk, the one which had traveled with her to all four corners of the continent, stood yawningly open. It spilled tarnished evening dresses, faded scarves, shoes run down at the heel. "All this junk!" moaned Cass, surveying it in disgust. "I must throw some of it away."

She leaned over and fished out a pile of old letters, a battered scrap book with an imitation leather cover. Liane, sorting stockings, looked up. "Anything interesting there?" she asked.

Cass swept the pile aside with a rather pettish gesture. "Nothing you'd care about," she said.

"Tele-phone!" Mrs. Smithers shrieked at the foot of the stairs. "For Mrs. Barrett."

Cass caught her printed dressing gown about her and ran. Liane sat there in the hopeless confusion of the room windigo ribbons and smoothing out wrinkles. Her glance strayed to the pile of papers. Out of the heap she selected the book. She sniffed fastidiously at it. The odor of shabbiness and disuse flavored its pages. She flipped them back, reading a clipping here, pausing to stare there at the faded photographs. She was deep in an old newspaper paragraph when Cass returned.

The older woman glanced sharply at what Liane was reading, said in a rather nettled tone, "Do give me that old thing. I told you there was nothing to interest you."

"But there is—scads of stuff," protested Liane. "Why didn't you ever let me see it before? I'm fascinated."

"Do give it to me, Liane. I'm serious. I want to put it away. It should have been burned ages ago," cried Cass, strangely impatient at the delay.

Liane glanced up, dimpling impulsively. "I'm crazy about it," she cried. "All about what a riot you were in Syracuse stock in 1908."

Cass stamped her foot in its frayed satin mule. Almost there were tears in her fine eyes.

"Give it to me this minute, do you hear?"

Liane arose with exaggerated dignity and handed her the book. As she relinquished it a photograph fell to the floor. "You can at least let me see what you looked like as Juliet," grumbled the girl, stooping to retrieve it. She gazed curiously at the inscription on the back of the small card-board.

"Luisa Emerson, May, 1909."

"Why, she looks astonishingly like you, Mother," marveled Liane, turning it over and regarding the smiling features. The pose of the pictured girl was consciously dramatic. She wore a swirling pompadour, a rose in the curve of her neck.

"She's lovely," said Liane. "But Mother, you never told me you had a sister."

Cass, ominously silent, received the picture from her hands. "Now that you're quite through examining my belongings," she said in a voice furiously low. All this was so unlike her even tempered self that Liane glanced at her, amazed. "I'm sorry," she said. "I didn't mean to tease."

Cass went on. "I never have spoken of Luisa because her death was such a shock to me. To all of us. It's all too painful."

Liane said pityingly. "Don't tell me about it, Mother. I'm sorry, honestly I am. I didn't mean to snoot."

"No, no. There's no reason you shouldn't know," Cass continued. "She was beautiful and talented. She died of brain fever when she was 21."

"Oh, mother, I am sorry," mourned Liane. Cass' eyes were filmed. "I didn't get over it for months—years, really. I never want to talk about it."

"Is that why you never go back home?"

"Partly. Besides, there's no one back there I want to see." Now Cass was putting the picture away. She was self-possessed once more. "That was Mrs. Cleopatra calling," he said. "She will send the call for you tomorrow morning. It's all settled and she's delighted you are coming."

"Whatever made you decide so suddenly?" Liane asked.

Cass was tossing papers and clippings into the trunk. She looked up and smiled. "Didn't you want me to say you'd come?"

Liane drew her brows together thoughtfully.

"I don't know how I'll fit in in that grand house."

Cass said. "Don't be silly. You have been properly brought up. You know which fork to use."

"I didn't mean that. Perhaps I'll feel like a pensioner." Rebellion swept over her soul. Why need they be so poor, to accept such favors at the hands of strangers?

"I'd rather take bits, walk-ons, anything, and stay with you," Liane grumbled. "I don't want to be anybody's man Friday."

Cass came over and shook her gently by the shoulder.

"You're a naughty girl to talk like that. This is a business arrangement, not charity. You know trouping always ruins your digestion and you catch such terrible colds. I won't have to worry about you this way."

She watched Liane anxiously. The girl bitterly. "I hate all of it, cast-off clothes and patronage and the rest. What wouldn't I do to be independent!" It was more a challenge than a question.

Cass paused in the act of sorting shoes. She echoed Liane's words with a sigh. "What wouldn't I do to be independent? Anything short of murder." She sat down. She looked weary and old. The girl's heart smote her. "I'm a beast," she cried, contritely. "Of course I'll go. That'll be one worry off your mind, anyhow."

(To Be Continued)

We Will Fight It Out on This Line if It Takes All Summer!

OUT OUR WAY

MOM'N POP.

.....CLASSIFIED ADS.....

Quick Reference, Inexpensive Ads That Are a "Clearing House" for Your Needs.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING RATES AND REGULATIONS

All CLASSIFIED advertising is payable in advance, but copy MAY be telephoned to the Cisco Daily News office and paid for as soon as collector calls.

RATES: Two cents per word for one time; four cents per word for three times; eight cents per word for six times.

CLOSING HOUR: Copy received up to 10:00 a. m. will be published the same day.

TELEPHONE 80 and place your copy with understanding that payment will be made at once, collector will call the same day or day following. Copy is received any hour from 8:00 a. m. until 5:00 p. m.

Train Schedule

RAILROAD TIME TABLE

New train time tables effective 12:01 a. m. June 7.

T. & P.
West Bound.
No. 7	1:45 a.m.
No. 3	12:20 p.m.
No. 1 "Sunshine Special"	4:57 p.m.
East Bound
No. 6	4:09 a.m.
No. 16 "The Texan"	9:20 a.m.
No. 4	4:57 p.m.
C. & N. E.
Leaves Cisco	4:15 a.m.
Arrive Breckenridge	6:00 a.m.
Arrives Throckmorton	9:20 a.m.
Leaves Throckmorton	10:00 a.m.
Arrives Breckenridge	11:50 a.m.
Leaves Breckenridge	12:20 p.m.
Arrive Cisco	2:30 p.m.
M. K. & T.
No. 35 Ar. 12:20 p. m. Lv. 1:05 p. m.
South Bound.
No. 36	8:40 a.m.

Spofford—Large wool and mohair warehouse being built in this town.

News want ads brings results.

Get Results

A Daily News Want Ad will secure the field in a few hours for what it would take you days to locate.

Phone the Classified

80 or 81

Wanted to Buy

WANTED TO BUY — For cash good used Ford or Chevrolet sedan; must be bargain. W. F. Walker, Phone 152.

Miscellaneous for Sale

FOR SALE — Orthophonic portable Victrola; practically unused. Call at Daily News.

Il Duce's Life Work Compiled

ROME, July 6. — Future students of Benito Mussolini's life work, as traced through the entire history of Fascism, will have a comparatively easy task.

The National Syndicate of Fascist Artists and Professional Men has undertaken the task of compiling a complete bibliography upon Mussolini and Fascism, including books and magazines printed in all languages.

Scenes of Italian scholars are busy preparing the bibliography which will be a lasting record of everything that has been written about Mussolini and Fascism. It will be divided into three categories: first, works in foreign languages; second, publications in Italian; and last, a selection of the best magazine and newspaper articles in Italian and foreign languages.

Each of the three divisions is divided into nine subdivisions as follows: One, Mussolini; Two, Origin, formation and doctrines of Fascism; Three, Cooperative sys-

RENTALS

Apartments for Rent 27

HAVE you energy for rent? Come see me, 306 West Eighth.

Housekeeping Rooms 31

FOR RENT — Light house keeping rooms, 207 I avenue.

Houses for Rent 32

FOR RENT — Five room cottage, Phone 152.

For Sale or Trade 38

SMALL stock groceries and fixtures, trade for cows and chickens, or light car or truck at Banger's, Tex. Write Box J Care this paper.

AUTOMOBILE LOANS

AUTOMOBILE LOANS. Cars refinanced, bring your license receipt. O. D. McCOY, Texas State Bank Bldg., Eastland.

AUTOMOBILE LOANS. Notes refinanced, payments reduced. Motor Investment company, Local office, 417 Avenue D, Cisco Texas J. C. McAfee, Representative.

Item: Four General policies; Five Foreign and colonial policy; Six Defense; Seven Public Instruction, education and assistance; Eight, Economics and finance; and Nine, Literature, art and journalism. The publication of the first part, dealing with Mussolini in the three categories, is imminent.

Closing Selected New York Stocks

American Can	112 1/2
Am. P. & L.	40
Am. Steel	18 1/2
Am. T. & T.	182
Anaconda	29 1/2
Auburn Auto	188
Aviation Corp. Del.	5 1/2
Beth Steel	52 1/2
Byers A. M.	36 1/2
Canada Dry	41 1/2
Casa J. I.	88 1/2
Chrysler	24 1/2
Curtiss Wright	3 1/2
Elect. Au. L.	44 1/2
Foster Wheel	30
Fox Films	20 1/2
Gen. Elec.	44 1/2
Gen. Motors	39 1/2
Gillette S. R.	23 1/2
Goodyear	41 1/2
Houston Oil	46
Int. Cement	35 1/2
Int. Harvester	47
Johns Manville	58
Kruger G. & B.	29
Lig. Carb.	31 1/2
Monte Ward	21 1/2
Nat. Dairy	36 1/2
Para Public	27 1/2
Phillips P.	8 1/2
Prairie O. & G.	10 1/2
Pure Oil	8
Purity Bak.	32
Radio	20 1/2
Radio Reobuck	56 1/2
Shell Union Oil	7 1/2
Southern Pacific	85
Stan. Oil N. J.	39 1/2
Stan. Oil N. Y.	17 1/2
Studebaker	19 1/2
Texas Corp.	23 1/2
Texas Gulf Sul.	32 1/2
U. S. Ind. Alc.	32 1/2
U. S. Steel	103 1/2
Vanadium	35 1/2
Westing Elec.	71 1/2
Worthington	54 1/2

Curb Stocks.

Cities Service	12 1/2
Ford M. Ltd.	13 1/2
Niag. Hud. Pwr.	21 1/2
Stan. Oil Ind.	27 1/2

GREAT FALLS, Mont., July 6.—An airplane is the latest aid to bear hunters. M. C. Hollenback, a pilot, William Getman and C. E. Berkner flew from here to a meadow in the Dry Creek canyon, organized a brief hunting expedition, bagged a black bear and flew home again.

Business Directory

Insurance
J. M. WILLIAMSON & CO.	General Insurance Huey Bldg.
Annonouncements
The Rotary club meets every Thursday at Laguna Hotel Private Dining Room at 12:15. Visiting Rotarians always welcome. President, H. S. DRUMWRIGHT; Secretary, J. E. SPENCER.
Cisco Lodge No. 568, A. P. & A. U. M. meets fourth Thursday, 8 p. m. FRED A. STEFFEY, W. M.; L. D. WILSON, Secretary.
Cisco Commandery, K. T. meets every third Thursday of each month at Masonic Hall. GEORGE BOYD, commander; L. D. WILSON, acting recorder.
Cisco Chapter No. 190, R. A. M. meets on first Thursday evening of each month at 7 p. m. Visiting Companions are cordially invited. JACK BOMAN, H. P.; L. D. WILSON, Secretary.
Lions club meets every Wednesday at Laguna Hotel roof garden at 12:15. E. O. ELLIOTT, president; O. J. TUNNELL, secretary.

WALES PLANS CHICAGO FAIR TRIP IN 1933

By VIRGIL PINGLEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
(Copyright 1931 by United Press)
LONDON, July 6.—The Prince of Wales is expected to visit the United States and the Chicago Exposition in 1933, the United Press has learned. The visit probably will come as a short break in a lengthy Canadian sojourn.

This is the view of people in authoritative positions. They believe that the Prince's next trip will be to Canada, where he owns large cattle holdings. It has been six years since he visited the United States and his last visit to Canada was made in 1927 when he was accompanied by Prince George and Stanley Baldwin and his wife.

Non-Official Report
While there was no official confirmation of the Prince's proposed trip, official quarters intimated that such a trip was not improbable and that he certainly will visit Canada soon.

It is understood that Wales will receive an official invitation to attend the Chicago Exposition and that Ambassador Davies and the Prince of Wales are close friends.

During the past year the Prince of Wales has said on several occasions that he would like to visit the United States again.

Canadian Trip
A trip to Canada would, no doubt, result in increased British Empire good will and a visit to the United States would strengthen the ever-growing closeness between Britain and the United States on great world problems. The Prince of Wales has now completed his world tour and the geographical closeness of Canada makes it an ideal part of the overseas empire to visit.

Since the Prince's return from his Latin-American tour there has been no press comment or official talk about the Prince of Wales having taken his last trip abroad. Edward P. likes to travel and he has no binding ties at the moment.

CHICKEN FOR NEBRASKA
LINCOLN, Neb., July 6.—Nebraska will eat more fried chicken this summer than ever before. During the first four months of the year, hatchings in this state were eight per cent larger than last year, while for the country as a whole there was a 21 per cent decrease. These reports were compiled by the state and federal division of agricultural statistics.

Daily News and American and Roundup want ads are a good investment.—Phone 33 or 81.

SCIENTIFICALLY COOLED
Popular Prices and Polar Comfort Here

NOW PLAYING
"TRADER HORN"

Ask those who saw it yesterday what a great picture it is.

Also
"BE BIG"

LAUREL & HARDY
TALKING COMEDY

Time of Show
1:00, 3:30, 6:00, 8:30

PALACE

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

About Cisco Today

SOCIETY EDITOR, MISS MARJORIE NOELL—PHONE 80 OR 81

CALENDAR
Tuesday
All circles of the W. M. S. of the First Baptist church will meet Tuesday afternoon at the church at 4 o'clock in a business meeting.
The Cisco Chapter O. E. S. will meet Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Masonic Hall. Members are urged to be present. Visiting members are invited.
All circles of the Presbyterian Auxiliary will meet at the church Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.
Miss Wanda Weathers of Sweetwater visited relatives and friends in Cisco over the weekend.
J. C. Hanrahan has returned to Longview after a short visit here.
Miss Ted Prior of Andrews spent the weekend with friends here.
Mr. and Mrs. Virgil McCorkle and son have returned from a trip to West Texas.
Mr. and Mrs. Everett Davis and children spent the weekend in Abilene.
Mr. and Mrs. Reagan Bolinger of Big Spring spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Lawrence.
Mr. and Mrs. V. E. McChaspen spent the weekend in DeLeon.
Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Henson and son spent yesterday in Stephenville.
Harold Hartness spent the weekend in Longview.
Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Locke and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Locke have returned from a two-week visit in Alabama.
Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Miller spent the weekend in Fort Worth.
Paul Huestis and Arlin Agnew have returned from a short visit in Rule.
Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hooks and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer have returned to their homes after a weekend visit with Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Johnson.

Mrs. J. H. Cagle and children have returned to their home in Austin after a visit with relatives here.
Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Watson left yesterday for Wichita Falls.
Mr. and Mrs. George Kennedy and daughter of Dallas spent the weekend with relatives in Cisco.
Miss Mildred Blair has returned from a weekend visit in Lubbock.
Mrs. Chas. Gray of Dallas is visiting in the city.
Mr. and Mrs. L. Guthrie and family and Miss Catherine Farquhar of Abilene spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Farquhar.
Mrs. Ida Lee Bell of Dallas visited in Cisco during the weekend.
Mr. and Mrs. Aston Walters of Mineral Wells left yesterday for Palacios after a short visit with relatives and friends here.
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Carrington of Breckenridge were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Hennington of Humbletown during the weekend.
Mr. and Mrs. Burnel Osborne have returned from a ten days vacation spent in San Antonio, Uvalde, and Rung.
Miss Fay Horn of Ilex spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Lewis.
Miss Mabel Burke of Baird visited in the city yesterday.
Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Sander and son have returned from a short visit in Fort Worth.
Miss Mary Fee of Breckenridge was a visitor in Cisco yesterday.
Miss Bessie Lee Lawrence is spending a few days in Sweetwater.
Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Curtin of Midland spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Lewis.
MISS HAYWARD IS WED TO MR. COMER.
The marriage of Miss Juanita Hayward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hayward of Moran, and Clifford Comer took place yesterday morning at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Comer, on West Seventeenth street.
The ceremony was read by Rev. C. H. Bryant before a group of relatives and intimate friends. Greenery, roses, and shaggy shasta daisies created a lovely setting for the service.
The bride was attractively attired in a suit of white and blue crepe with white accessories. She carried a lovely bouquet of lilacs of the valley.
A wedding feast was served after the ceremony. Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hayward, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Comer, Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Kinsey, Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Foy, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bryant, Miss Lorraine and Lionel Hayward, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Sazama, Misses Maurine Bailey, LaVerne Comer, and Frances Comer.
S. S. CLASS HAS MEETING.
The Daughters of Ruth Bible class of the East Cisco Baptist church Sunday school met at the home of Rev. and Mrs. James L. Smart on West 12th street in a business and social meeting Friday afternoon. The entertaining rooms of the home were beautifully decorated with bouquets of nasturtiums, shasta daisies, and petunias. The meeting was opened with a song, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," which was followed by a prayer led by Mrs. Smart. Mrs. L. Hagaman led in prayer at the close of the business session.
During the social hour, refreshments of chocolate, pineapple, and angel food cake and punch were served to: Mesdames Alma Hall, R. L. Poe, R. E. McCord, Effie Schaefer, Lena Hagaman, Alice Henson, Jack Denerson, W. E. Lowery, Charley Langston, H. N. Balderre, G. A. Eppel, Stella McCright, J. E. Culbert, and J. L. Smart.

PARTY HONORS
M. AND MRS. HANRAHAN.
On Saturday evening, a chicken barbecue was given at the Country club in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hanrahan who are leaving soon to make their home in Longview.

After the feast, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. McMahon and Mr. and Mrs. L. McGannon entertained the guests with a bridge party. The tables were attractively arranged on the porch of the clubhouse. The prize packages were wrapped in red, white, and blue, and the same colors were suggested in other party appointments. Mrs. Rex Carothers won high score for women. Chas. Meroney received high for men, and Mrs. F. W. Murphy was presented the cup prize.

At the close of the games, refreshments were served to: Messrs. and Mesdames Bill Herr, J. R. Slaughter, Rex Carothers, Pete Booth, C. C. Meroney, W. K. Egan, Johnnie Bricker, O. W. Shepherd, W. W. Wallace, J. R. Almond, W. J. Armstrong, F. W. Murphy, Ted Mullinix, A. E. Jamison, I. J. Henson, George Bell, G. M. Simpson, W. C. McDonald, S. D. Johnson, J. C. Hanrahan, Mrs. E. L. Graham, and Gerald Murphy.

Demand for iron and steel from principal consuming sources did not change much during the past week. Automobile demand is slowly dwindling, and the railroads, though they have made sporadic purchases here and there of rails and equipment, are not doing much. Construction work still holds the lead as a sustaining influence, but pipe line work is not as much in the foreground as several weeks ago. The price situation has not changed much since a week ago, but the Dow Jones steel average has advanced for the first time since last January due to recognition of the new classification basis for sheets adopted for third quarter.

This week's range of the Dow Jones average follows:

	High	Low	Close
30 Industrials	$156.93	$150.18	$155.26
20 R. R.	88.31	84.36	86.13
20 Utilities	62.58	60.37	62.24
40 Bonds	93.46	93.31	93.78

MORATORIUM UNCERTAINTY LOWERS STOCKS

In its weekly review of business and financial conditions The Wall Street Journal says:

Uncertainty over moratorium negotiations and profit-taking brought about lower quotations in the New York Stock Exchange during the past week. The momentum of the advance occasioned by announcement of the debt suspension plan had about spent itself by the week's opening session, and with France offering new objections to an early agreement, traders took the opportunity of answering themselves of profits on the advance.

Professional selling was also evident at times during the week, but there was no liquidation of any importance, as sales declined successively from day to day, reaching a low point of only 1,300,000 shares Thursday.

Toward the end of the week improved prospects of early settlement of the moratorium plan difficulties with France caused better feeling, but market interests were largely on the sidelines waiting definite developments. Evidence of support in leading stocks appeared from time to time during the week, but the lower level of prices was not unexpected in view of the sharpness of the preceding week's advance.

Other influences also had their effect during the week. The application of the railroads for a 15 per cent freight rate increase may take somewhat longer to settle than had been at first anticipated. It now does not seem that the Interstate Commerce Commission will rush through any ruling, and with this very important situation unsettled, interests looking for better rail earnings in the near future have become slightly less optimistic.

On the other hand, trunk line consolidation negotiations are making some progress in the east, and car loadings are slightly better, though not enough to assure any definite improvement.

Copper stocks were in demand early in the week on the rise in copper price to nine cents a pound, but sold off later as the new metal declined. Oil securities responded to better sentiment in the outlook for the industry. Recent advances in both crude and gasoline quotations in the California district were reflected in improved markets there.

Seasonal factors influenced the iron and steel industry. The current rate of operations has declined to below 34 per cent, the rate reached at the lowest week of last December, excepting the Christmas shutdown. With current business improving little, it seems likely that a further dip will occur. However, sentiment in this industry also is definitely better. Steel makers are looking for a slow improvement to set in, making it appear probable that the low point of operations will be reached in two or three weeks.

A point little stressed by iron and steel commentators during the week was the improvement in scrap markets, principally at Pittsburgh. Following a steady decline in heavy melting steel scrap for several months, the market has at last taken a brace, and a price about 25 cents a ton higher has been established there.

Wild animals fight to the death; one sees a zebra worst a lion in a death struggle; leopards routed by a pack of hyenas; the deadly character of the ferocious rhinoceros; hair-breath escapes from gigantic crocodiles. And through it all runs the love of a boy and a girl. W. S. Van Dyke gave us "White Shad-ows in the South Seas" and "The Pagan," but never before thrills, such entertainment, as this great chronicle of his mile trip that took him and company into dark places before trod by white men.

CONCEALED BOTTLE
HUMBOLDT, Neb., July 6.—Stable Bill Schneider thought El's son was too young to drink of a bottle that didn't have a label, so he investigated. Schneider found the bottle hidden in a crib contained alcohol, so he arrested El's, who pleaded guilty.

AMAZING FIGHTS
Wild animals fight to the death; one sees a zebra worst a lion in a death struggle; leopards routed by a pack of hyenas; the deadly character of the ferocious rhinoceros; hair-breath escapes from gigantic crocodiles. And through it all runs the love of a boy and a girl. W. S. Van Dyke gave us "White Shad-ows in the South Seas" and "The Pagan," but never before thrills, such entertainment, as this great chronicle of his mile trip that took him and company into dark places before trod by white men.

OFFERS VIEW
WOBBURN, Mass., July 6.—John A. Cummings, 16-year-old high school boy, has built himself a house in the trees. The well-constructed shanty, where he can hold picnics and even spend the night in comfort, is located high in twin oak trees near his home. The lofty house offers a view of the countryside for 15 miles around.

Range — McDougal's remodeled store formally opened.

"Trader Horn" Shows Thrills of Jungle

Mighty drama of a primeval world; of atavism rampant in almost unknown spots of the globe; of a savage people in the jungles—these are the background for an everlasting story of devotion, love and romance, in "Trader Horn."

Metro-Goldwyn — Meyer's gigantic filmization of the famous book, now playing at the Palace theatre.

To describe "Trader Horn" staggers the imagination.

There is drama that grips the heart in the play — and drama equally as gripping in the savage death dance of the wild Isogai — a ceremony thousands of years old in the pathless jungle that the pic-

32-PIECE DINNER SET

This beautiful and serviceable set, with the new Ivory color and republic shape, large floral decoration, which is glazed over so that it will not wash off.

The set consists of 6 each of Plates, Saucers, 9-inch Plates, 7-inch Plates, Fruits, 1 Platter and 1 Ker.

ONLY $4.90

COLLINS HARDWARE

"It's better to have it and not need it than to need it and not have it."

X=Danger Point

At such points, proceed with caution and INSURE your car before the DANGER POINT is reached.

J. M. WILLIAMSON & CO.

GENERAL INSURANCE

Huey Building. Cor. Ave. D and 5th Street

"Pleasant Dealings—a Feature We Like to Advertise"

You'll Really Enjoy Housecleaning The Modern Electrical Way

HOUSECLEANING—in this modern and enlightened age—has advanced a long way from the tiresome, dusty and drudgerous task of the olden days, when the broom and dust-pan method held sway. Today's homemaker merely plugs in her efficient Electric Vacuum Sweeper, goes over the entire house in just a few minutes... and has hours left for the enjoyment of things a great deal more interesting than grubbing for dirt.

And with all this ease and speed of operation, the modern Electric Vacuum Sweeper does much finer work than was possible with old-fashioned methods... and cleans your entire house for just a few pennies a day!

You need this modern Electrical Servant in your home now! Why continue that back-breaking work when there is a new model FEDELCO priced to suit your individual requirements and available on unusually modest terms. Ask for a demonstration today... in your own home. No obligation, of course.

Compliments of The Leach Stores Featuring 5,10-25c Merchandise QUALITY — PRICE — SERVICE CISCO, TEXAS Ticket Good Only on Wed. and Thurs. Exchange This at Box Office for Ticket Good With One Paid Adult Ticket	Compliments of CASH-N-CARRY CLEANING PLANT Phone 123-416 Main St. W. A. McCALL, BERTHA REIMER CISCO, TEXAS Ticket Good Only on Wed. and Thurs. Exchange This at Box Office for Ticket Good With One Paid Adult Ticket	Compliments of Cisco Furniture Co., Inc. "THE HOME OF GOOD FURNITURE" Telephone 143 CISCO, TEXAS Ticket Good Only on Wed. and Thurs. Exchange This at Box Office for Ticket Good With One Paid Adult Ticket	Compliments of Southwestern Motor Co. "Cisco's Most Complete Garage" Phone 487—Cor. Ave. D and 4th St. CISCO, TEXAS Ticket Good Only on Wed. and Thurs. Exchange This at Box Office for Ticket Good With One Paid Adult Ticket
FREE! FREE! Get Free Movie Tickets from these Merchants with Every Purchase TICKETS GOOD AT THE PALACE THEATRE EVERY WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY MATINEE AND NIGHT Family Night, Friday Night A Family of 6 for 40c
Compliments of Maner's Pharmacy Daniel's Hotel Bldg. DRUGS, SUNDRIES, KODAKS, FILMS CISCO, TEXAS Ticket Good Only on Wed. and Thurs. Exchange This at Box Office for Ticket Good With One Paid Adult Ticket	Compliments of Miller-Lauderdale "THE MAN'S STORE" Phone 456 CISCO, TEXAS Ticket Good Only on Wed. and Thurs. Exchange This at Box Office for Ticket Good With One Paid Adult Ticket	Compliments of Jno. H. Garner's "THE DEPENDABLE STORE" Cisco's Big Department Store CISCO, TEXAS Ticket Good Only on Wed. and Thurs. Exchange This at Box Office for Ticket Good With One Paid Adult Ticket	Compliments of Collins Hardware Co. Hardware, Sporting Goods, Queensware, Glassware, Leather Goods, Implements CISCO, TEXAS Ticket Good Only on Wed. and Thurs. Exchange This at Box Office for Ticket Good With One Paid Adult Ticket

WestTexas Utilities Company