ALLRED APPEALS HIGHWAY CASE

LATE NEWS BULLETINS

HIGHWAY EMPLOYE SHOT TO DEATH

LUFKIN, Nov. 29. (AP)—Henry Massingill, employe of the state highway department, was shot and killed today near his home as he went to work. Archie Pophin, a former oil field worker, was charged with murder. Massingill was shot from an automobile carrying two men. He was struck in the head, side and hips.

QUINN'S DEATH SENTENCE REVERSED

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 29 (AP)—Earl Quinn, the ex-convict accused of the highway murders of Jessie and Zexia Griffith, Blackwell school teachers, won a new trial and reversal of his death sentence in the Oklahoma criminal court of appeals today. The court ruled that Quinn, held for a year in death row at state's prison, McAlester, did not receive a fair and impartial trial. It reversed the sentence of the Kay county district court and directed that the former Missouri convict be retried in another county.

CLUE FOUND IN DOUBLE AX-MURDER

McALESTER, Okla., Nov. 29 (AP) — Shoe prints found today at the scene of the ax-slaying of Joe House and his wife furnished investigators with a new clue. House, former police chief here, and his wife, were found dead in their small home, their heads hacked with an ax, early yesterday. The shoe prints were traced from the home for a distance of several hundred feet, in the general direction of the state penitentiary. Officers said shoes issued to certain convicts make a similar track.

TESTIMONY STARTED IN TUDOR TRIAL

FOUR TESTIFY IN SLAYING CASE HERE

SUSPENDED SENTENCE MOTION FILED BY DEFENSE COUNSEL

A. L. Tudor, Slaton grain and coal dealer, charged with murder for the slaying October 13, of Dr. S. H. Adams, pioneer Slaton physician, acted queerly and brooded much over the death of a son, Woody Tudor, who died on an operating table in the doctor's office, August 25, a witness for the state testified in Tudor's trial in 99th district court this morning.

The witness, J. W. Nesbit declared he was a close friend of both Tudor and the dead physician and testified to having been present at two conversations between the two men concerning the boy's death. The shooting which took place in Dr. Adams' office is said to have been an aftermath of the younger Tudor's death who had been carried to the physician's office after an automobile accident.

Mr. Nesbit was the first witness to give testimony for the state.

Pleads Not Guilty

Prior to opening of testimony, Mr. Tudor who has been under $10,000 bond since the shooting, was arraigned before the court and plead not guilty to the murder indictment.

A motion for suspended sentence was filed by defense attorneys as the case opened for trial this morning.

Tudor, gray-haired defendant, sat near his attorneys throughout the morning session, his eyes to the floor. After several minutes, his wife joined him.

Mrs. Adams, widow of the slain man, her two daughters, Mrs. Achilles Corcanges of Fort Worth and Miss Josephine Adams of Slaton were in the courtroom. Mrs. J. F. Frye of Lubbock, sister of the slain physician, and W. B. Price, Mrs. Adams' brother were also in the courtroom.

Four witnesses had been heard this morning before the court recessed for the noon hour.

Uncertainty On Pro Vote Looms

PREDICT MORE THAN HUNDRED REPUBLICANS TO VOTE FOR REPEAL IF BROUGHT UP MONDAY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29—Some uncertainty over whether the house of representatives will have its promised vote Monday on prohibition repeal emerged today at the capitol, in the wake of a prediction that—if taken—the vote would show a hundred or more Republican members favoring the Garner resolution.

It was the Republican whip—Bachmann of West Virginia—who made the forecast, as he dispatched summons to his party members to be sure to be on hand. Such a showing of Republican strength for repeal would about assure adoption by the two-thirds vote required, if the Democrats remained unified.

But a number of southern Democrats already have served notice privately that they will not vote for repeal, moves which have given rise to hints that caucus might be resorted to so the party members would be held in line.

Aware of the situation, Speaker John N. Garner told newspapermen this afternoon that, although he is convnced the house should vote Monday on outright repeal, he intends to canvess the situation and make known Saturday whether he will go ahead with his plans for a showdown then.

"It is our duty to keep good faith," Garner said. "The Democratic party elected a president and more than 300 members of congress on an immediate repeal platform.

"I'm not afraid to back up my plans. If the opposition desire to delay the action, we'll have to turn the question over to the judiciary committee."

NOTE TELLING OF SHORTAGE WAS LEFT

CONFESSION IS MADE TO EMBEZZLEMENT IN FINAL NOTE

(By The Associated Press)

ELIZABETH, N. J. Nov. 29.—Archibald MacCullam, a cashier for the Lorillard Tobacco company, shot his wife and small son to death today, and then took his own life.

Police said he left a note detailing a shortage in his accounts.

The apparent motive for the tragedy was revealed after County Physician C. A. Brokaw, who examined the bodies, said there was no doubt that the 48-year-old cashier had slain his wife, Elizabeth, 42 and their son, William, 8.

Admits Embezzlement

MacCallum, who had worked in the New York office of the tobacco company for thirty years, left a sealed envelope addressed to Sidney Keily, auditor of the Lorillard firm, which revealed, police announced, the shortages in MacCallum's accounts. The brief note confessed the embezzlement.

CONTEST MADE ON FERGUSON INJUNCTION

HEARING IS SET FOR NEXT SATURDAY BY APPEALS COURT

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 29. —The third court of civil appeals today set for hearing on next Saturday at 9 a. m., an appeal filed by James V. Allred, state attorney general, from a district court order restraining the Texas highway commission from awarding further construction contracts.

The court granted a motion of Allred that the case be advanced for early consideration and speedy determination. An early setting was agreed to by attorneys on both sides of the litigation, in a conference with members of the court. Allred, James E. Ferguson, husband of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, governor-elect, who instigated the suit, and Ocie Speer, Ferguson's attorney, and others were present.

Obtained By Ferguson

The original restraining order was obtained last Friday, on the eve of an advertised letting of a heavy construction program, by Ferguson, joined by John M. Chamberlain and Bailey W. Hardy.

It enjoined the highway commission from awarding contracts or receiving bids for highway construction or from "in any wise creating or attempting to create any liability against the state of Texas or the state highway fund for the fiscal year ending August 31, 1933."

George H. Sheppard, state comptroller was enjoined from "issuing any warrant or voucher whatsoever against said state highway fund on account of any contract liability whatsoever of defendant commission, made after the date of said restraining order."

Order Modified

Allred obtained a modification of the original order to permit the commission to receive and tabulate bids on $4,000,000 worth of projects, advertised to be let yesterday and today.

Plaintiffs complained that the highway commission, whose members are appointees of Governor R. S. Sterling, was attempting to create liabilities in excess of the highway fund's ability to pay as a part of a system to embarrass the administration of Mrs. Ferguson.

Should the injunction be dissolved, the commission will be in a position to award contracts without the necessity of readvertising for bids.

Low bids received yesterday aggregated $1,940,501 and called for fifty-eight miles of concrete paving; forty-three miles of base work; eleven miles of triple asphalt; seventy-six miles of grading and drainage; 12 bridges, six division office buildings and four division warehouses.

Building Here Included

Bids were received for office buildings at Paris, Amarillo, Lubbock, Houston, Pharr, and Waco and for warehouses at Paris, Abilene, Pharr and El Paso.

Counties due to share in work represented by bids of yesterday were Freestone, Bowie, Hall, McLennan, Leon, Wilson, Cherokee, Crockett, Pecos, Robertson, Coleman, Garza, Montgomery, Wharton, Collingsworth, Reeves, Irion, Moore, Terry, Hockley, Dimmit.

War Debt Issue Holds Spotlight

Garner's Famous Percolator Gone

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Mrs. Garner's famous percolator, the handsome one given her by Representative Kleberg, which bubbled in her capitol office all last season, has disappeared.

For several days after arriving from Texas, Mrs. Garner was too busy to make her customary coffee.

And when today's brisk weather brought tantalizing thoughts of hot coffee—Mrs. Garner hunted high and low, but no percolator could she find.

Gone, too, was the pendulum on the clock, and the electric cord from the pressing iron.

Mrs. Garner suspects souvenir hunters were at work during the summer.

ROOSEVELT TO GIVE VIEWS

PRESIDENT - ELECT IN FAVOR OF ALLOTMENT RELIEF PLAN

(By The Associated Press)

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 29—With material he has gleaned from several days of conferences at hand, Franklin D. Roosevelt came today to the task of putting his views of what is necessary to help the farmer before the house agriculture committee that will act upon them.

In the opinion of some of those who are familiar with the series of conferences he has held, the president-elect is leaning toward some form of domestic allotment plan to be used in dealing with agricultural surpluses.

Calls In Advisers

The outline he gave in his Topeka speech on farm relief methods was contrued as an indication that some such plan might be contemplated and the advisers that he called in to counsel with him are men who have made a long study of the plan.

One of those summoned, but unable to come, was M. L. Wilson, of the Montana State Agricultural college, who played large part in working out the so-called domestic allotment plan.

Under this method, a board would work out an estimate of the amount of agricultural products needed for domestic consumption. For this portion of his crop, the farmer would be assured the cost of production.

Alleged Oil Thefts In Oklahoma Probed

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 29 (AP)—The Oklahoma corporation commission focused its attention today upon allegations of irregularities and thefts of crude in the prorated Oklahoma City oil field as H. F. Wilcox of Tulsa served notice he would move his company to Texas "because of unfair political interference with the oil business."

Continuing the daily allowable production for the field of 73,510 barrels through December, the commission yesterday began hearing the application of the Anderson-Prichard Oil corporation for a new basic proration order, enforcement of the ratable taking law and adjusting of potential production estimates.

Man Who Cut Grid Coach Pays Fine

CANYON, Nov. 29 (AP)—L. T. Barksdale, high school football coach, continued to improve today, while Dutch Oberst, who Saturday night slashed Barksdale with a razor was free after paying a $15 fine for fighting.

In pleading guilty to a charge of fighting, Oberst said Barksdale was the aggressor, and denied that he called the coach from his home prior to the fight. He said Barksdale blamed him because three members of the high school football team broke training rules. The violations led Barksdale to suspend the players on the eve of a district championship game with McLean.

Evidence In Sharp Trial Given Jury

DEL RIO, Nov. 29 (AP)—Evidence in the trial of Mrs. Bessie Sharp, charged with murder for the poison death of her husband, Telefus Sharp, was in the hands of a jury today. The case was given to the jurors late yesterday. Mrs. Sharp pleaded insanity as her defense.

MINING ENGINEER DIES

SWEETWATER, Nov. 29 (AP) — Colonel J. R. Gordon, 78, mining engineer of Toronto, Ontario, and brother of Charles W. Gordon, writer widely known under the pen name, "Ralph Connor" died here yesterday after an illness of ten days.

MACDONALD PREPARES SECOND NOTE TO U. S. ASKING DELAY

(By The Associated Press)

Europe's debt to America still occupies the statesmen of every country concerned to the exclusion of other issues.

Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain is giving his entire attention to the preparation of a second note by which he hopes to convince the United States that postponement of the $95,550,000 payment due Dec. 15 is essential to the economic well-being of the world.

Herriot Given Time

The French chamber of deputies engaged in some acrimonious debate, but agreed to give Premier Herriot more time to determine the policy of France. This government also is preparing another note for Washington asking postponement of the $20,000,000 due next month.

Austria, although it is not directly concerned in the negotiations with America, is deeply interested, for if France and England have to pay, it may be impossible to obtain ratification by those two countries of a $43,000,000 conditional loan which the league of nations was to extend.

ALLOWABLE IS FIXED TODAY

325,000 BARRELS SET AS DAILY TOP FOR EAST TEXAS AREA

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 29 —A top allowable of 325,000 barrels daily for the East Texas oil field was fixed by the Texas railroad commission today.

The commission decided to adopt a combination per well, bottom hole pressure and acreage plan of proration. Two-thirds of the top allowable will be allocated to the wells an done-third to pressure and acreage.

The new order will be made effective at 7 a. m., on December 1, but until the per well acreage and pressure formula can be worked out, the commission fixed the per well allowable at 37 barrels daily in the field. The existing per well limit is 40 barrels daily.

The last order issued by the commission fixed the top allowable for East Texas at 335,000 barrels daily, each well to contribute an equal amount of oil to that production. The per well adjustment was to be made each fifteen day period to include new wells.

DEFENSE PLEA IS INSANITY

GOVERNMENT RESTS IN TRIAL OF GREGG IN HUGE BANK FRAUD

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Nov. 29—The government rested at 10 a. m., today in the trial of John Gregg, former president of the defunct Merchants National bank of Brownsville accused of having conspired to misapply more than $250,000 in bank funds. Attorneys for Gregg were granted a short recess to marshal their case. The defense plea is insanity.

The final direct prosecution witnesses were called in an effort to show Gregg had borrowed heavily from other banks, obtaining such loans partly through depositing Merchants National bank funds with his creditors. Two former directors of the Merchants National also swore they never had approved a $55,000 loan to Gregg in October of 1931. Assistant U. S. District Attorney Albert Thomas read from what he described as minutes of the board in which it was stated the loan had been approved by the directors.

"Did you approve that note?" he asked Miguel Fernandez, one of the ex-directors.

"No," said Fernandez.

A similar question brought a like answer from C. H. Tandy, another former director.

Applications For 346 Loans Okehed

FORT WORTH, Nov. 29 (AP)—Applications for 346 loans totaling $?,368,578 have been approved and this money will be put into the livestock and feeder industries in Texas as soon as inspections are complete, A. E. Thomas, executive vice president and general manager of the Texas agricultural unit of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, has announced.

Thomas said feeder loans totaling $466,210 already had been made to 54 ranchmen by the regional agricultural credit corporation of Fort Worth and its branches at San Angelo and Houston.

MILLER FREED ON MURRAY'S ORDERS

MARLAND, Okla., Nov. 29 (AP)—His cell unlocked by a threat of military force, Col. Zack Miller waved a plainsman's thanks today to "a governor who's got guts" and took time out to "enjoy the open spaces" of his one time empire of the range, the 101 ranch.

He marched jubilantly from the Kay county jail at Newkirk yesterday at dusk, pardoned by Governor William Henry Murray from a contempt of court conviction and imprisonment which followed his failure to pay temporary alimony to his estranged wife. And more than more than that, he said he thought the sweeping clemency order "may eliminate me" from the effect of other orders of the court, some of which have concerned the receivership under which the vast ranch is operated.

TEXAS POET DIES

GALVESTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Mrs. Mary Hunt Affleck, 85, Poet Laureate of Texas, died here late yesterday at the home of her son, T. D Affleck.

TWO SLAIN IN PISTOL DUEL

WELL KNOWN SURGEON AND BUSINESS MAN SHOT TO DEATH

(By The Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Miss., Nov. 29—An unexplained pistol duel in the middle of a street cost the lives of a surgeon and a business man of prominent family connection here last night.

Dr. W. C. Brewer, owner of the Columbus hospital and one of Mississippi's foremost surgeons, died almost instantly, his body punctured by several bullets. Charles H. Jacob, the business man, was struck only once but died on the way to the hospital.

No witnesses came forward immediately to tell just what had happened but officers said they understood the two encountered one another in the street as Dr. Brewer left his hospital.

There was a fusillade of bullets and both men dropped where they stood. An investigation was launched to determine the cause of the shooting.

Bulletin Reports Henry Ford Better

DETROIT, Nov. 29 (AP)—Physicians attending Henry Ford, operated upon for herrifa and appendicitis, announced this morning that the 69-year-old industrialist had spent a restful night.

A bulletin issued this morning indicated to physicians that the motor magnate successfully had passed the period during which post-operative infection is possible, and only rest and quiet for at least 10 days more was necessary to complete his recovery.

INSURANCE UP AT LABOR CONCLAVE

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 29 (AP)—Encouraged by the roar of approval with which their convention accepted one phase of their program for unemployment relief, leaders of the American Federation of Labor looked forward today to speedy action on others.

The body yesterday committed itself to a nation wide application of the five-day work week and six-hour day without reduction of wages.

Today, the convention awaited the resolution committee's report on compulsory employment insurance, recommended by the federation's executive council—along with shorter work schedules—as "of prime importance if unemployment relief is to be obtained."

Hammer Slayer To Know Fate Saturday

CHICAGO, Nov. 29 (AP)—Sixteen year old Bert Arnold, hammer slayer of his step-grandmother, probably will know his fate Saturday.

He stood in a crowded courtroom yesterday and answered "guilty" when Judge John Prystalski asked him if he killed his relative, Mrs. Ellen Saxe, 60. The state said it would not ask the death penalty and would content itself merely with presentation of facts, leaving to the judge the matter of punishment.

NIGHT WATCHMAN SHOT

LUFKIN, Nov. 29 (AP)—Cal Jones, night watchman at Huntington 12 miles east of Lufkin, was shot in the left arm last night. Two men were seen running from the scene a short time later.

Buckley Trial For Robbery Set Today

TYLER, Nov. 29 (AP)—The trial of T. J. "Spec" Buckley on charges of robbing the Winona State bank at Winona, last May, was set to begin today in district court here. Two men held up officials of the bank and took $800.

Buckley, alias Bucklan, already is under sentences totaling 59 years, for robbery with firearms in Van Zandt and Rusk counties, and for murder in Gregg county.

Half Tax Payments Total $11,000 Here

Half payments of 1932 taxes at the county tax collector's office this month thus far totaled $11,760.53, the office reported this morning. Several persons paid half their taxes last month.

With November 30 the last day to pay half taxes, W. H. Carpenter, deputy tax collector, said the payments were being made in satisfactory numbers. If half the taxes are not paid by Wednesday, all will be due January 31, and a penalty will be attached thereafter.

Michigan Solon Is Claimed By Death

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Representative James C. McLaughlin of Michigan is dead at Marion, Va.

Word of the sudden death today reached his colleague, Representative Ketcham.

McLaughlin was dean of his state's delegation in the house, here he had served 26 years as a Republican representative from the ninth district.

INFLUENZA BECOMING INCREASINGLY PREVALENT HERE, DOCTORS REPORT

Influenza is becoming increasingly prevalent in Lubbock and diphtheria recently has gained additional footholds in one or more Lubbock county communities, reports of doctors, nurses, pharmacists, and hospitals indicate.

Dr. J. W. Rollo, City health officer, this morning said influenza was not widespread enough here to constitute an epidemic. He advised precautions similar to those taken to avoid colds. Preventive serum helps some persons to ward off influenza, Doctor Rollo said.

Several doctors and nurses recently have been ill of influenza. Some doctors indicated it was widespread in Lubbock. A local sanitarium this morning said it had no cases of influenza, although several members of its staff recently had suffered from it. A Lubbock hospital this morning said it had about 15 cases of influenza, in addition to those at homes to which doctors of the staff were called.

Reports of one to five members of a single family being ill of influenza were not uncommon here today. Rooming houses also, in some instances, had several cases.

Diphtheria, it was indicated, has not increased appreciably here. Orders for serum this morning for outlying communities, however, could not always be filled immediately. Two diphtheria deaths have occurred in the county this week.

COMMUNITY MEDICAL CENTER URGED BY COMMITTEE AFTER LONG RESEARCH

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The community medical center emerged today as the "keystone" recommendation of the committee on the cost of medical care.

The committee delivered its report, the result of five years of research, before the national conference on the costs of medical care at the New York Academy of Medicine.

Five basic recommendations were made. They were, in brief:

That medical care be furnished largely by organized groups of physicians, dentists, nurses, pharmacists, and other associated personnel, centered around a hospital, and rendering home, office and hospital care.

That all basic public health services be extended until they are available to the entire population, according to its needs.

That the cost of medical care be placed on a group payment basis through the use of insurance, taxation or both methods, without precluding the continuation of the individual fee basis for those who prefer it.

That a specific organization be formed in every community or state for the study, evaluation, and coordination of medical service.

That the professional education of physicians, dentists, pharmacists, and nurses be reoriented to accord more closely with present needs, and

PAMPA, Nov. 29 (Special)—Three Lubbock college students figured prominently in a dance given in Pampa Saturday evening for a large group of young people who returned to the North Plains city to spend the Thanksgiving holidays.

Guests of honor at the dance were Miss Cecile Barnett of Kilgore and Miss Ruth Brady of Mart. They were complimented by their classmate, Miss Mary Snead, and her sister, Miss Martha Snead, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Snead.

Punch was served throughout the evening.

IN DEPTHS OF DESPAIR

MRS. MARY JONES lives in New England. Every month was a nightmare to her. Her letter says, "I suffered periodical pains through my head, backache and female weakness."

She tried everything. Visited clinics. Nothing helped her. Finally she gave Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial . . . scarcely hoping it would succeed where more expensive things had failed.

But she was surprised. Through its tonic action, it built up her health and lessened her pain. She says, "My backache is completely relieved."

NEGRO BANKER IS BURIED

OFFICERS AT FUNERAL TO PREVENT ACTION BY FLOYD GANG

BOLEY Okla., Nov. 29 (AP)—Defying possible attempts at vengeance by Charles Floyd, Oklahoma outlaw, this negro village buried its leading citizen Monday while more than fifty officers from Tulsa and Okemah guarded the services.

More than 3,000 negroes and a handful of white persons attended the rites for D. J. Turner, president of the Farmers and Merchants bank, who was slain by George Birdwell, Floyd's lieutenant, in an attempted robbery last Wednesday. Birdwell in turn was slain by H. C. McCormick, assistant cashier of the bank. One of Birdwell's companions was killed and the other wounded.

Turner, a civic leader in this section, is survived by his widow, three sons and two daughters.

Boley, said to be the nation's largest exclusively negro municipality, had often "rehearsed" for the fatal day that robbed the village of its civic leader.

County officers today told how, when a suspicious car passed along the highway leading through the village, business men of the town often have been seen to disappear momentarily, darting into hidden retreats.

It was recalled that last spring the Floyd-Birdwell band were believed to have visited the bank but when they discovered a "well-manned arsenal" covering them from all sections of the town and from the bank, they drove away.

When H. C. McCormick darted into the bank vault, officers said, to level his rifle upon Birdwell, he was carrying out plans he often had rehearsed.

EXPECT MORE BALES

LOCKNEY, (Special)—Ginnings here for the year are approximately 2,500 bales, compared to 1,800 for all of last season. Ginners expect the total for the year will be around 3,600 bales.

OFFICER STARTS WELL

LEVELLAND, (Special)—W. H. Ford, newly elected constable of the local precinct, is starting off well. He raided a crap game in progress at a cotton yard and arrested five men, all transients. The quintet was assessed $14.50 each in fines and only one paid, so the rest went to jail.

NEW BAKERY OWNERS

TAHOKA, (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Willoughby of San Angelo have taken over the bakery operated in the Knight building. Clarence Poston has been operating it for the past year. Mr. Willoughby is a brother of Mrs. K. F. Knight.

HERE'S WHAT YOU'LL SEE IN "SCANDALS OF 1932"

Here are 13 reasons why Lubbock people are expected to enjoy "Scandals of 1932," the musical comedy-minstrel which will be presented December 9 here under the auspices of the Crippled Children's council. Shown here are 13 members of the Blue Bonnet chorus. In addition, there will be five other members of the chorus who will offer snappy dance routines and songs in the "Scandals." Lubbock persons will be starred.

MEXICAN POTTERY WILL BE SOLD AT CHRISTMAS SALE

The home economics school of Texas Technological college hopes to net about $100 at an annual Christmas sale at which Mexican hand-blown pottery will be a feature sales article. The sale, in room 102 and the halls of the home economics building, will begin Thursday and last a week. Net receipts will be applied on a departmental scholarship fund, Miss Margaret W. Weeks, dean of the school, said.

Each year a new type of pottery or glassware is introduced at the sale. Last year, Miss Weeks said, Rookwood pottery was the main feature. There will be about fifty articles sold for less than twenty-five cents. There will be very little on sale for more than a dollar.

During the six year history of the annual sales a demand has been built up for brass ware. The school buys candleabra, tea kettles, trays and various types of bowls. These are inexpensive and according to Miss Harriet Tilden, instructor of applied arts, they are popular among the patrons.

Indian prints, Russian toys and Jugtown pottery will also be displayed.

GATHER LEGION COTTON

POST, (Special)—About 20 bales of cotton have been gathered from the 100 acre farm which members of the American Legion planted in cotton last summer. Members of the local post expect to gather 40 bales more.

TEN "FORGOTTEN" STATES WILL FACE ROOSEVELT IN SELECTION OF CABINET

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (AP)—President-Elect Roosevelt will be confronted by a list of ten "forgotten" states when he sets about determining the personnel of his cabinet.

A perusal of political pages of the past disclosed today that these states never have been represented in the official family of any president, and that one of them—Rhode Island—is one of the original thirteen states.

The others are Florida, Nevada, Arizona, Idaho, Montana, North and South Dakota, Utah and Wyoming. Arizona, the youngest of the group, was admitted to the union in 1912.

New York Leads

New York has contributed the largest number of cabinet members of past administrations, 47 sons of the Empire state having held 53 cabinet portfolios.

Next in line is Pennsylvania with 44 portfolios distributed among 34 men. Massachusetts has had 40 portfolios among 33 residents.

Five states have been represented but once. They are Arkansas, the residence of Augustus H. Garland, who served as attorney general under Cleveland; Alabama, home of Hillary H. Herbert, secretary of the navy under Cleveland; Washington, home state of Richard A. Ballinger, secretary of the interior under Taft; New Mexico, youngest state to have had a cabinet member and which furnished Albert B. Fall as secretary of the interior in Harding's cabinet, and Kansas, residence of William M. Jardine, secretary of agriculture in Coolidge's cabinet.

No state has the distinction of having been represented in the cabinet of every president, nor has any state held a portfolio of every department. New York, with all of its cabinet positions has never had secretaries of either labor or agriculture.

Maryland, with only little more than twice Rhode Island's population has had 19 cabinet members, and Deleware, also a small state six. North Carolina also has had six, but whereas cabinet members from other states were distributed among the various departments, all from North Carolina served as secretary of the navy.

Theodore Roosevelt made the most cabinet appointments. He named 29 men, there were six secretaries of the navy alone during his regime. Grant, with five secretaries of war, made 25 appointments.

Served 3 Terms

Seven men have served in the same cabinet office under three presidents. The longest term was that of James Wilson who was secretary of agriculture under Presidents McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft. He was appointed in 1897 and relinquished the office to David F. Houston, a Wilson appointee, in 1913. Other cabinet holdovers were James J. Davis, secretary of labor under Harding, Coolidge and Hoover; Andrew W. Mellon, who served under the same presidents, and Joseph Habersham, of Georgia, postmaster general under Washington, Adams and Jefferson.

The other three men who served under three presidents did not serve consecutive terms. Daniel Webster, of Massachusetts, served as secretary of state, and John J. Crittenden as attorney general under Presidents Harrison, Tyler and Fillmore and William Windom, was secretary of the treasury under Garfield, Arthur and Benjamin Harrison.

Nine men who later became president served as members of predecessors' cabinets. One of them, Monroe, was both secretary of state and secretary of war in Madison's cabinet. The others were Jefferson, Madison, J. Q. Adams, Van Buren and Buchanan, secretaries of state; Grant and Taft, secretaries of war, and Hoover, secretary of commerce. No president ever served in a cabinet after retiring from the higher office.

CROSLIN RESIGNS JOB

POST, (Special)—Loyd Croslin, instructor in the high school here for the past three years, has resigned to accept a place in the Colorado High school. Miss Violet Mae Pickett will take over his work and Miss Vada Cole will handle the work Miss Pickett has been doing. Superintendent I. R. Witt will also handle several classes.

As Brought Over Associated Press Wires Today

(By The Associated Press)

Scorns Comeback

NEW YORK—The name David Warfield will nevermore gleam in electric lights, says the famous actor, who is 66 today.

"Why should I come back to the theater," he said, in his comfortable, eight-room apartment. "I have enough to live on, though they took away some of my peanuts in 1929. I have worked hard and I deserve a rest. Then I owe something to my public in not coming back. I have seen Bernhardt and Ellen Terry try it. It was heartbreaking. I prefer to be remembered at my best."

The star of "The Music Master" and "The Auctioneer" believes there wouldn't be so much trouble filling the theaters today if they would give the public sentiment instead of cynicism and their so called realism."

Girl Is Envied

ADELAIDE, Australia—A fairy tale journey across the heart of Australia has made Gwendoline Sauerbier, 22-year-old rancher's daughter, the envy of her chums. With a camel and an Aboriginal black boy, she undertook a 4,000-mile trek which would have made a hardy old-timer quail. The natives liked her so much they did not try to harm her, but gave her presents. She came back loaded with nuggets of gold, and specimens of jasper, rubies and opals.

Can Talk, Anyway

JACKSON, Mich.—Although three Michigan state prison inmates couldn't convince various circuit judges of the innocence they are pretty good talkers after all. They won a 2 to 1 verdict in a debate with a Detroit debating team. The inmates argued for immediate payment of the soldier bonus.

Fixers Fixed

PITTSBURGH—Something new in "tags" for traffic violations—a ticket which authorities say "can't be fixed"—was introduced in Pittsburgh today.

The new tag is issued in triplicate, one copy going to the offender; another to the traffic court and a third to the controller who will be obliged to check back on every ticket issued.

"Now," said one traffic officer, "we'll see if the fixers and their politician friends can get around this one."

Shanghai, China, will continue its rebuilding program.

FOUR SCHOOLS SHARE HONOR ON MYTHICAL ALL-EASTERN TEAM

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

There comes a letter to this desk from Jack Bonner, president of the Corpus Christi college academy athletic council. Here are the first two paragraphs:

* * *

"The Corpus Christi College Academy, a small Catholic school of sixty students, with an exceptional football team, hereby issues a challenge to any first class, Class A football team in the state for a game any time between now and New Years day.

"The Corpus Christi College Academy Calaliers, coached by Thomas E. Quigley, in the last 22 games have lost only two, namely to Port Arthur High school in an early season game by a score of 31-0, and to Cisco High school in the last game of the present season by a score of 15 to 13. The Academy has defeated all teams in South Texas."

* * *

Weldon Bailey Chapman, just after seeing his Lubbock Westerners lose a championship game to Amarillo and just before starting on a deserved duck-hunt, (brought back a fat duck to grace this department's family table, too) said the Westerners might be interested in playing a game with some good Class A team this winter. The high school hasn't made as much money as it did last year and a post-season game that would bring in some extra shekels would not be frowned upon by school authorities.

* * *

We do not believe a post-season football game in Lubbock would cause the turnstiles to click with enough frequency to assure cash to pay for a second hand football. Lubbock fans have seen about all the football they want for this season. We doubt if they'd turn out in great numbers if Southern California and Notre Dame were to play this Saturday. But the reputation of the Westerners might pull a crowd in some other town, provided that town had not seen its share of football games.

* * *

We would not blame Coach Chapman if he flatly refused to play his Westerners in a post-season game, even if the prospects of making money were great. As a result of his fine coaching, the high school made a big pile of money last year. Coach Chapman took a great salary cut and had to work harder than ever. He is a teacher, you know, as well as a coach, having to teach four classes a day, same as any other class room professor, in addition to working with the ball club. We do not know of any other coach in a school so pretentious as Lubbock High who teaches as many classes as does Coach Chapman.

* * *

We forgot to acknowledge a letter received last week from Ralph C. Glover, of Muleshoe, Texas Tech graduate of 1931, who called our attention to the Tech-Simmons football record and our error in stating that Tech had won one instead of two games from Simmons up to 1932's season. Texas Tech still has won only two games, the record holding good up to the 1933 season, at least. Thanks for the letter, anyhow, Mr. Glover, but pardon us if we try to forget the Tech-Simmons record for about a year.

* * *

To keep the records straight, Coach Pete Cawthon did NOT pull out of Lubbock following last Thursday's contest because he was disgusted and outdone, and he did NOT go to El Paso for the reason that a lot of folks go to El Paso. He went there to officiate in a football game yesterday between the Texas College of Mines and the Oklahoma Aggies.

* * *

And another thing: The coaching gentry and the athletes of Lubbock have no call to grovel over the idea that Lubbock fans and business men are "down" on them because they didn't finish the season in a blaze of glory, or whatever way it is football teams like to finish the season. We doubt if you can find one true fan who is weeping and threatening because Tech and Lubbock High lost their final games. The season was a success before Thanksgiving rolled around, and it goes down in the books as a successful season. We're not trying to smooth anything over and make excuses for the losses, but we do know that every smart and right-thinking fan knows better than to criticize the team and its coaches.

* * *

Oh, oh! Here's another reminder. It bane coome by the mail yoost now.

Collar Perish,
Sportz editors,

Dear Mr. Perish:

If i could giss scores not better than you i would be imbarrassed.

Day before yesterday cotton pigging fallow said to me: "Ban fudball game in town between Simonz Cowpoys snd Teck. Fif dollar said Simonz dunt gid bit by more than 20 points." "O. K.," i answered, "yoost a moments till i git my burse." I haff seen Teck bit this Auzdin Collitch team an i tenk here is dam cinch manner to make ezy moneys. To das cotton pigging fallow also i said: "If the depressions it were not for and gash dom so hard to git, more i would bed you on Teck by golly." So in spide of the depressions i bed fif dllar n Teck.

Thenk Gawd i don not bed no more!

Very true,

COLGATE PUTS ONE PLAYER ON SQUAD

PITT, CORNELL, ARMY AND PENNSYLVANIA CONTRIBUTE TWO

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (AP)—Pittsburgh, Cornell, Army and Pennsylvania share top honors, each contributing two men to the mythical All-Eastern football team picked annually for the Associated Press today by sports writers.

One representative each from Columbia, Fordham and Colgate the latter the sole undefeated, unscored upon team in the section, round out the first team.

Choices Scattered

Group honors for the second team went to Brown, with three nominees, but as a whole the choices for the reserve eleven were more widely scattered. Columbia placed two men on the second team. Army, Cornell, Pittsburgh, Fordham, Yale and Villanova one each.

Apparently the severe injury of Dick King, Army's great end who suffered a broken leg in the Harvard game, alone kept the Cadets from placing three men on the first team.

As it was King, rated almost unanimously by the experts as the greatest end in the country up to the time of his injury, trailed just far enough behind Joe Skaldany, Pitt's burly wingman, and Jose Martinez-Zorilla, the Mexican jumping jack of Cornell, to slip to the second team along with Tony Matal, fiery, red-headed Columbia end.

"Real Backfield"

The ballots of fifty sports writers chose a backfield that would delight the eyes of any coach in the nation.

At quarterback the scribes placed Cliff Montgomery, the limber-hipped Columbia ball carrier, a splendid passer, kicker, field general, along with his ability as a broken field runner. Montgomery was the general first string choice over Bob Chase, Brown quarterback, and received more votes than any other back named.

To run with Montgomery from the halfback positions, the experts chose Warren Heller, mainstay of the Pittsburgh offense, and volatile little "Pick" Vidal, of Army, who ran wild all season until stopped short by Notre Dame Saturday. There was little opposition to the choice of Captain Bart Viviano, of Cornell for fullback, a powerhouse back whose line plunging and tackling have been features of the Ithacans' play for three years.

Penn Center Chosen

"Howie" Colehower, a big, fast tackle, and Roy Engle, freak defensive center, both Pennsylvania stalwarts, were far in front in the votes for the line posts. Milton Summerfelt, Army guard and captain, also overshadowed his opposition.

Walter Uzdavinis, Fordham tackle who was in every minute of all his team's games this season was paired with Colehower at tackle. Bob "Kewpie" Smith, Colgate captain and brilliant running guard, was picked to team with Summerfelt.

For the first time since the naming of All-Easterns began, two brothers, Captain Bill Gilbane, at fullback, and Tom Gilbane at center, both of Brown, made the second team, along with Bob Chase the Bruin quarterback.

Yale Star Picked

In the second team backfield, Bob Lassiter, Yale's outstanding ball carrier, and George "Whitey" Randour, of Villanova, won the halfback nominations over such stars as "Whitey" Ask, of Colgate; Don Kellett, Penn; Mike Sebastain, Pittsburgh; Jack Crickard, of Harvard; Chung Hoon, Navy; and Ken Fields, of Army.

Ralph Wolfendale, of Fordham and Steve Grenda, Columbia captain were awarded the second team guard posts with "Abe" George, of Cornell, and Frank Walton, of Pittsburgh, two massive linemen, at the tackles.

Selections for the Associated Press All-Eastern elevens follow:

FIRST TEAM—

Ends: Joseph Skaldany, Pittsburgh; Jose Martinez-Zorilla, Cornell.

Tackles: Howard Colehowet Pennsylvania; Walter Uzdavinis Fordham.

Guards: Milton Summerfelt Army; Robert Smith, Colgate.

Center: Roy Engle, Pennsylvania.

Quarterback: Clifford Montgomery, Columbia.

Halfbacks: Warren Heller, Pittsburgh; Felix Vidal, Army.

Fullback: Bart Viviano, Cornell.

SECOND TEAM—

Ends: Richard King, Army; Anthony Matal, Columbia.

Tackles: Abraham George, Cornell; Frank Walton, Pittsburgh.

Guards: Ralph Wolfendale, Fordham; Stephen Grenda, Columbia.

Center: Thomas Gilbane, Brown

Quarterback: Robert Chase, Brown.

Halfbacks: Robert Lassiter, Yale; George Randour, Villanova.

Fullback: William Gilbane Brown.

REVOLTA SETS GOLF PACE

JOHNNY FARRELL AND AL ESPINOSA TIED FOR SECOND PLACE

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Nov. 29. (AP) — A slender, bashful lad led the heavy artillery of golfdom into the last 36 hole play of the $10,000 Miami Biltmore open golf tournament today with a score of 144 to take the lead at the halfway mark yesterday.

The leader was John Revolta, born in Missouri but more recently of Menominee, Mich.

To Tie For Second

Aided by a first day 73, Revolta posted 36-35--71 for h's yesterday's play as scoreboard watchers were preparing to divide second day honors between Johnny Farrell, New Yrok, and Al Espinosa, Akron, who were tied at 145 each for 36 holes.

Revolta, Farrell and Espinosa were followed by 29 golfers who had scores within eight strokes of the leader.

Roland Hancock, Stoneham, Mass., was third with 146.

Six professionals started the day's play with 147's. They were Cattell, Joe Kirkwood, Chicago, Paul Runyan, Westchester, N. Y., Ed Dudley, Wilmington, Del., Walter Hagen, Detroit, and Tommy Armour, Boca Raton, Fla.

Denny Shute, Cleveland, Mike and Joe Turnesa, Elmsford, N. Y., and Al Watrous, Detroit, were bunched at 148.

Gene Sarazen, defending the title he won at the $10,000 Miami Biltmore open tournament in March of this year, was within the first twenty finishers with a 150.

Horton Smith, Oak Uark Ill., and a pre-tournament favorite, was well down the list of 62 professional qualifiers with 154.

MANY GIVEN WORK

POST, (Special) — Sixty-six unemployed men here were given work through the local relief committee on beautification work. The work is restricted to Garza county residents and pay is at the rate of 20 cents an hour for an eight-hour day, five days a week. Phil Bouchier, city secretary, and Walter Duckworth, president of the chamber of commerce, are handling the work.

WHO WANTS TO BUY A GOOD NINE-FOOT BED?

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 29. (AP)—University of Kentucky basketball coaches were extremely interested this fall when Brad Lair, former Monticello, Ky., high school star, enrolled at the university.

Reason: Lair was six feet, eleven inches tall, and used his height to no small advantage on the court.

Adolph Rupp, head cage coach, considered the prospect so highly that he had constructed especially for the mountaineer a nine-foot bed so Lair could sleep in comfort in his room at the dormitory.

Came Thanksgiving. Lair by then had decided college life wasn't so hot, and had returned to his beloved hills near Monticello.

Now Coach Rupp either wants to sell the lengthy bed or find a basketball player to fit it. He much prefers the latter.

CAGE PRACTICE BEGUN AT TEXAS

AUSTIN, Nov. 29 (AP)—Basketball practice has started in earnest at the University of Texas.

Olle, former Longhorn athlete, will begin his second year as head basketball coach at the university with five lettermen available along with three or four prize sophomores. The lettermen, all present Monday, are Captain Ed Price, guard, Corsicana; Bennie Rundell, guard, Austin; Bill Kubricht, center, Wallis; Glenn Thompson, forward, Alief, and Ed Maxey, forward, Rush Springs, Oklahoma.

Most promising of the newcomers are Jack Gray, last year's frosh captain, a forward from Wills Point; Jean Francis, center, who played under Olle at El Paso; Chick Gannon, forward, Dallas; Claude Harris, guard, Houston.

Fifty freshmen cagers reported to Frosh Coach Marty Karow Monday and took a short workout at the gym.

THREE BOXERS ARE SHELVED

FIGHT PROMOTER AND MANAGER SUSPENDED IN BOUT MIX-UP

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 29 (AP)—Three Cincinnati boxers, a manager and a fight promoter were under temporary suspension today pending a hearing next Monday when they will be given an opportunity to present their side of the Piqua program mix-up to the Kentucky State Boxing commission.

The boxers suspended by the Kentucky board yesterday were Al Hamilton, Billy Jingles and Smoky Maggard, all of Cincinnati. Danny Davis, Cincinnati, manager of Hamilton and Maggard, and Pat Wright, Cincinnati and Indianapolis promoter, also were temporarily shelved.

It was charged Hamilton fought at Piqua, Ohio, last Wednesday under the name of Joe Paglina, Louisville; that Jingles used the name of Mickey Breen, Louisville, and that an unnamed boxer appeared under the name of Haward Jones, Louisville. Maggard appeared on the same card but used his own name.

W. Frazier Dunlap, chairman of the Kentucky commission, said testimony was heard which convinced the commissioners Maggard Davis and Wright had knowledge of the use of the assumed names. The suspension of the Kentucky board, a member of the National Boxing association, are expected to be recognized in all other N. B. A states until lifted.

FOOTBALL'S DEATH TOLL REACHES 37 FOR 1932 SEASON; FEW IN COLLEGE

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (AP)—Football's death toll for 1932 had reached 37 today, the second highest total since national records on gridiron fatalities first were compiled.

The drastic changes made in the football code after last year's record number of 50 fatalities apparently have cut appreciably into deaths and serious injuries where they have been strictly enforced. This year's list of football dead shows only five from college ranks and of these only one was fatally injured in actual competition. He was Ralph McClure of Colorado college, whose neck was broken in a game against the University of Colorado.

Most On Sandlots

Most of the fatalities of the season now drawing to a close occurred in high school or sandlot contests where strict supervision often is not possible.

In addition to the five college players fatally injured, there were 17 high school and 15 sandlot, semi-pro or club team player fatalities.

Eight of the 37 victims died of broken necks; six from head injuries other than fractured skulls, which took five more lives. Five others died of infections following injury. Internal injuries and cerebral hemorrhage each were charged with three deaths. The remaining fatalities were due to scattering causes, spinal injuries, heart ailments, etc.

STAR GOLFERS COMPETE AT TEXARKANA

PLAYERS ENTER MEET FROM SIX STATES; PAR IS BESTED

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

TEXARKANA, Nov. 29 (AP)—A crack regiment of Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, New Jersey, Louisiana, and Colorado amateur and professional golfers started a sharp-shooting barrage today against general par and his outstanding army of 18 holes in the first annual Texarkana Country club $500 open tournament.

Ben Hogan, long hitter from the Fort Worth professional ranks; Edwin McClure, four consecutive times Louisiana amateur champion, and Oren Williams, of Longview started the field today on the first 36 holes of the 72 holes of medal play that will be concluded tomorrow. At the end of the golf rainbow the winning professional along with the second, third and fourth place winers will harvest the $500 in gold. To the low amateur will go a set of matched irons, and to the second low simon-pure a set of matched woods. The Texarkana Country club course, ranked by the United States Golf association as a severe test of shot making, was in grand condition today for the start of the 72 holes parade.

Par Badly Bruised

Old man par, after a bruising and losing battle yesterday in the amateur-pro sweepstakes, was patched up, feeling fit and ready for the invasion. It was the consensus at the starting tee today that a total of 295 would win the tournament. Par on the course is 36-37—73. Subpar golf featured yesterday in the amateur-pro event when Ben Hogan and E. C. Brown, Texarkana amateur, blistered the layout in 68 strokes. However, it only tied the best ball of Ray Garrett, Tyler professional, and J. D. Lambeth Shreveport amateur, who barraged the course with a 34-34—68. Francis McGonagill, Dallas professional and David "Spec" Goldman, Dallas amateur, shot a 69 to tie for second place with Ted Longworth and J. K. Wadley, Texarkana professional and amateur. Other scores range from 70 to 80.

Shoots An Ace

Floyd Boone, Corsicana professional who is noted for always being down the middle and always dead to the cup, really made old man par blush when he sank his tee shot at the 130-yard, par 3, 11th for a hole-in-one.

Proud of their noted golf course, possessing a keen knowledge of what this game of golf should be, Texarkana spectators were out today to see the brilliant field of shot makers. The "gallery match" was the threesome composed of Ky Lafoon of Denver, Colo., Tommy Cochran of Tyler and Francis Scheider of Dallas. Lafoon holds the Rocky Mountain and Colorado open championships. Tommy Cochran formerly held the Texas amateur championship and has been a big tournament winner this season. Francis Scheider is recognized as one of the best golfers in the southland, and recently led the National Open sectional qualifying round with a pair of 68's. All three are heavy tournament favorites along with Ted Longworth, Dick Metz, Tony Butler, Byron Nelson, David Goldman and Ben Hogan.

The local course record is 66, held jointly by Ted Longworth and Robert Mair. Both are entries and striving to shatter or tie their record, but in front of their shots is old man par, laughing and confident that in the end he will bent the entire field even though there will be a winner in the mere matter of strokes.

In China, if a man cannot pay his debts, the door is taken from his house.

Oklahoma Aggie Team Is Victor

WINS OVER SCHOOL OF MINES, 20 TO 7, AT EL PASO MONDAY

EL PASO, Nov. 29. (AP)—After battling a bruising Oklahoma Aggie football team to a standstill throughout the first half, College of Mines and Arts gridders weakened under the constant hammering of Hall, Erwin and Barham, Aggie backs, here last night and the Muckers went down to a 20 to 7 defeat to close the 1932 season for both teams.

It was a valiant fight the Miners staged in that last half that netted the Aggies two touchdowns after the first half ended with the score tied at 7-7, but superior reserves told the story of the Aggie victory.

Aggies Score Early

The Oklahomans had chalked up their first touchdown before the game was five minutes old when a Miner punt went out of bounds on the Mines 33-yard line. With Erwin and Hall alternating at smacking the line, the Aggies marched down the field and across in a series of off tackles plays and Edwin converted from placement.

Not to be denied, the Miners took the second Aggie kickoff and launched a bewildering attack of running and lateral plays that saw the Muckers march down the field to the Aggie four-yard stripe as the first quarter ended. With Andrews on the flipping end of the passes and Milner and Weaver gaining ground consistently behind the perfect interference of a smoothly functioning and fast charging forward wall, the Aggies could not halt the drive.

Drive Halted

With the ball on the four-yard line and first and goal, the Mines drive was halted after three tries at the line advanced the ball to the 1-yard line an end run attempt resulted in a five yard loss for the Muckers as the ball went over. Taking the punt after the Aggies had lashed off a first and ten, the Miners launched another drive mixing laterals with running plays that took them to the 10-yard stripe. Andrews, scintillating Mucker quarter, lashed off left end on a delayed buck for the touchdown and Page converted from placement.

Two additional Aggie counters came in the third and fourth quarters. First downs were 16 for the Muckers and 14 for the Aggies.

The Lineup:

Mines	Pos.	Aggies
Boykin	LE	Rigney
Williams	LT	Porter
Hawley	LG	Clore
Duffel	C	Turner
Mayhew	RG	Dupree
Daross	RT	Tichenor
Coldwell	RE	Butts
Andrews	QB	Allen
Milner	LH	Erwin
Krutilek	RH	Barham
Weaver	FB	Hall

Score by quarters:

Mines	0	7	0	0	—7
Aggies	7	0	7	6	—20

Touchdowns—Mines: Andrews. Aggies: Hall, Harhan 2. Points after touchdown—Mines: Page. Aggies: Erwin, Highfill.

OLNEY FACING BROWNFIELD

CLASS B BI-DISTRICT TUSSLE SCHEDULED FRIDAY AFTERNOON

BROWNFIELD, Nov. 29.—(Special)—Coach Marlin Hayhurst's Brownfield High school Cubs, champions of Class B teams in District 3 after defeating Floydada in the Thanksgiving game, will meet Olney High school's gridders Friday afternoon in the bi-district tussle.

The game probably will be played at Olney, although no definite decision had been made this morning. Coaches and school authorities were to decide today upon the site of the game.

Brownfield's 19 to 0 victory over the Whirlwinds last week ran the victory streak to 9 straight wins against no defeats for the season. Scores of 1932 games follow:

Brownfield 45; Amherst 0.
Brownfield 20; Seminole 0.
Brownfield 10; Lubbock Cowhands 0.
Brownfield 20; Post 18.
Brownfield 7; Lamesa 4.
Brownfield 6; Slaton 0.
Brownfield 38; Tahoka 2.
Brownfield 25; Post 0.
Brownfield 19; Floydada 0.

Total points: Brownfield 198; opponents 24.

ABERNATHY TO HOLD SHOW

POULTRY EVENT WILL BE HELD FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

ABERNATHY, Nov. 29.—(Special)—Three hundred entrants and at least 18 classes are anticipated for Abernathy's fourth annual poultry show, which will be conducted Friday and Saturday, according to V. S. Payne, vocational agriculture teacher and director of the show. The third annual show attracted 240 entrants and 17 varieties, he said.

"Besides chickens, we also had on exhibit rabbits, turkeys, bantams and ducks last year," Mr. Payne said.

To Award Ribbons

The show will be held in the Elbert Overton building adjoining the First State bank here. Blue, red and white ribbons will be awarded winners in the different classes. Sweepstake awards will also be made.

Competition between poultry judging teams from vocational agriculture classes in neighboring cities will be held on Saturday. The bird awards will be made Friday.

Payne states an American Poultry association judge is being sought for the event. In case one is not secured, professors at Texas Technological college in Lubbock will be used.

The aggie students are working with Payne in arranging for the show. The local chamber of commerce is sponsoring the event.

Hearst Cattle To Leave This Week

The Santa Fe railway has been advised that two trainloads of cattle from the William Randolph Hearst ranch near Chihuahua, Mexico, will leave this week for Brownfield, according to E. Kancher, division freight agent here.

Movement will be via El Paso and Clovis. It is probable a special train will be operated for both movements. About 25 to 30 car loads, with 1,000 head of cattle, will be in each train.

The cattle are not expected to reach Lubbock before the last of the week.

CROSBYTON INSTITUTE

CROSBYTON, (Special)—A two day teachers' institute for Crosby county is tentatively scheduled for December 9-10, B. F. Hicks, county superintendent, announced. There is some talk of only one day's program, Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological college, is to be asked to speak.

Justice of the Peace

Pretty Mildred Vanacek, 21-year-old law office clerk of Council Bluff, Ia., is now the justice of the peace of Garner township in Pottawattamie county. She won the office when her name was witten in on the ballot and becomes the first woman justice in that part of Iowa.

DEPRESSION IS OVER NOW, SAYS NEGRO BELL HOP

A former negro bellhop, who had quit cotton farming near Levelland to return to his earlier vocation, expressed the opinion here that the depression is over.

Riding south on one of the buses passing through Lubbock, the dusky cotton raiser stated he was going home to get his job back. Up until 1929 he had been a bell hop in a Dallas hotel.

"When they elected Sterling and Hoover, they dropped the bottom out of things," the negro said. "The big boys whut used to give me one dollar bills for tips started handing me nickels and pennies. I wasn't getting any salary, but was allowed all tips on the job. It finally got to where I couldn't live on the tips.

"I came to Levelland to farm until the depression was over, and now that they have elected Roosevelt and Mother Ferguson, I'm going back. If you ever need any service, just call on No. 11," he said just before the bus pulled out.

JUSTICE IS SIOW

FOSTORIA, O.—When the mills of justice finish with the case of Mrs. Henrietta Kirby, it ought to be ground exceedingly fine. She has sued for compensation for the death of her husband three times, and has been awarded damages by three juries hearing the case—but she now has to have the case tried again before the court of appeals.

It has been estimated that 50 per cent of feed obtained by grazing cattle in North Dakota is furnished by grasses too short to be reached by the mower.

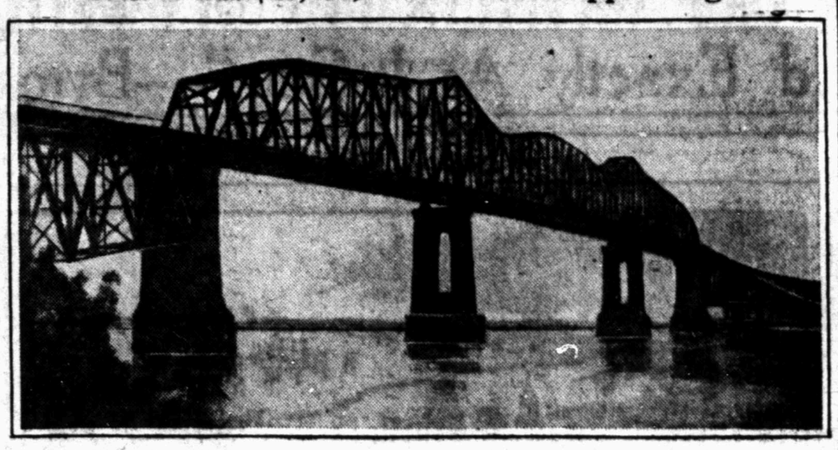
"GREEK GODS" COME BACK TO DEFEAT CO-EDS

SWARTHMORE, Pa., Nov. (AP)—The "Greek Gods" are back on the Olympian heights today after a quick descent upon the Swarthmore college campus to demonstrate their superiority over co-ed hockey stars at their own game.

Making good on a challenge, a group of Swarthmore football and soccer players, calling themselves "Greek Gods" and attired in bathrobes and other variations of "Grecian" costumes, yesterday defeated the women's varsity field hockey team, 1 to 0.

It was "Venus" Sipler, full back on the varsity gridiron team, who paved the way to victory with a prodigious smash down the center of the field to give the men's squad revenge for the defeat they suffered at the hands of the co-eds last year.

U. S. Lends $13,000,000 for Mississippi Bridge



A $13,000,000 loan from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation has made it possible for work on the new Mississippi river highway and railroad bridge near New Orleans to be started next month. More than 4000 men will be employed on it for two years. The bridge will be built at Harahan, only nine miles above the business section of New Orleans, and will serve as a main railroad artery between cities on both sides of the river. Two railroad tracks and two roads will be carried by it. The huge masonry piers shown in the architect's sketch, above, will tower 315 feet above the river and extend 170 feet under the low-water level. Louisiana gasoline tax receipts will be used to help pay off the loan.

LUBBOCK USES MORE THAN A MILLION GALLONS OF WATER DAILY ON AVERAGE

Drawn through 72.34 miles of water mains varying in size from 12 to less than two inches, 1,138,000 gallons of water is used in Lubbock each day M. R. Smith, city engineer, said. Six-inch mains cover more territory than does any other size, the engineer said.

Last month's report showed that 35,280,000 gallons of water were pumped in and out of the standpipe which is kept full all of the time. It holds 1,200,000 gallons.

Precautions Taken

If a water main should break, the damage could not be serious. If the break is in a large main the drop in pressure would be detected immediately on a chart at the pump. The mains are so constructed that a valve on either side of the break can be cut off while repairing is done.

Should the six wells employed for pumping the water out of the ground quit pumping, a thing which is most improbable according to Smith, there is enough water stored in the standpipe, the four underground tanks and four reservoirs to last the city three days at this time of the year. In the summer time the supply would hardly last more than one day.

Wells 140 Feet Deep

The wells are, on the average, about 140 feet deep and the supply of water is unlimited. Daily reports describing the amount of water pumped shows whether or not the supply is decreasing. Even in seasons of drought there is seldom any cause for worry over the supply, although the amount of water pumped each day is decreased slightly under such circumstances.

Four booster pumping stations are employed to pump water from the reservoirs to the city standpipe. These pumps can take care of about 3000 gallons of water per minute.

The local water supply is absolutely pure from a bacteriological point of view. Tests are made 10 or 12 times during the month and two or three samples are sent each month to the state department of health at Austin. Contaminating substances have never been found.

Residents living in the 3100 block on 21st street are fartherest away from the plant which is located practically in the center of the town.

IT WAS—AIN'T NOW

BROWNSVILLE, Tenn. — That $100 bill Henry Owen, negro, found didn't last very long. When Henry first found it he thought it was $1. But when the butcher gave him $99 in change his eyes opened and he immediately began to splurge. Bye and bye his creditors got wind of Henry's find, and it wasn't long until Henry's find was reduced to 80 cents.

City Government

City government always has been the weakest point of our American democracy.

The federal government is antiquated, cumbersome and inflexible, but it has worked amazingly well. State governments, while far from perfect, have on the whole been pretty satisfactory. But municipal governments have blended inefficiency, favoritism, graft and expense into a mixture which has been the despair of good citizenship.

When Joseph V. McKee, acting mayor of New York, declared recently that people are "sick and tired" of these abuses and are not going to allow them to continue, he pointed to what many believe is going to be a turning of the tide—the beginning of the end for politics-ridden city government of the traditional type.

McKee's case is uncommonly interesting, since it typifies the trend all over the country, and since New York has illustrated the defects of American city government in their most glaring form.

* * *

We find, in New York, a public demand for McKee arising; a demand so widespread and determined that politicians are already seeing a city-wide repudiation of Tammany at the polls next fall.

This comes, not because the man is a "reformer" or a spell-binding uplifter, but simply because he has shown that it is perfectly possible for the city to have an efficient and economical city government.

And the whole point is that until very recently none of us really cared in the least whether our city governemnts were efficient and economical or not. Money was plentiful and politics was a bore; we were willing to take the easiest course, let the political rings have their own way, and put up with waste and corruption in and about our city halls.

We don't feel that way any more. Out of the depression has risen a new realization of the value of decent government. That Acting Mayor McKee should be emerging as a national figure because of that fact is one of the most encouraging signs that has come upon the horizon in a long time.

LATE NEWS FLASH!

LUBBOCK, Texas, Nov. 28 (By The Assassinated Mess)—At exactly 1:59 p. m. today it was definitely established that The Plainsman is the only citizen left in Lubbock who is not actively seeking to become Mr. Roosevelt's new postmaster here.

The Plainsman admitted, however, that like everyone else he'd like to have the job!

* * *

SERIOUSLY, if this concerted drive for the postmastership goes on, this department is going to have add a Postoffice Department with several stenographers and clerks.

We'll have to have a mimeograph machine and one of these trick stamp signature devices which are supposed to fool the guy who gets the letter into thinking it was personally signed—but which never fool anybody much.

Further than that, The Plainsman is going to have to have a picture made with the notation underneath:

* * *

Somehow or another, the word got nosed around that The Plainsman saw Mr. Roosevelt, from a vantage point of a block or two away, and shook hands with Mr. Farley during the Democratic convention at Chicago.

Since the election we've put a 'standing room only' sign in the office to make room for the folks who want to push John Vaughan out of his chair and take it themselves!

* * *

BUT here's a little secret for one and all: if your humble servant knew how to get the postmaster's job he'd get it for himself. There's no secret down here at The Journal that The Plainsman is really only working part time, anyway, and it is generally agreed by the board of directors, the galley boy and the janitor that this column could be written with the left hand while The Plainsman were busily selling stamps with his right.

It isn't that the writer is getting too lazy or too high hat to entertain his friends when they drop around for a chat.

Heavens no!

You just come in any time because entertaining friends is a lot easier than thumping a worn out typewriter.

But since honest confession is prescribed for the benefit of the soul, here 'tis:

The Plainsman doesn't know any more about getting a Federal job than a hog knows about Sunday school!

* * *

A Lubbock man dropped into the office of a florist the other day.

"How much will it cost me to get a bunch of roses for my wife?" he asked.

"I dunno," the florist replied. "I can tell you better if you'll explain to me the nature of the quarrel."

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says the hardest thing to understand about religion is why it makes some people so mad at each other.

* * *

AFTER supper last night (we always have supper at our house at night and dinner at noon) The Plainsman was picking away at some particularly fine pecans, sent him from the pecan country by an old newspaper friend.

These were unusually fine pecans—big as your thumb and twice as thick, with paper shells—and each half was almost a mouthful.

* * *

Never in your life have you had finer pecans; they came from a special orchard which produces these wonderful Texas nuts to be shipped east to the big advertising agencies.

But like all pecans, they have a bitter layer of half-shell between the halves and, the way The Plainsman was digging them out with a hammer and his thumbnails, a piece of this bitter layer occasionally found its way to the bridgework.

* * *

IT didn't ruin the nuts, of course. But it did detract, every once in awhile from the sweet pecan flavor which is found nowhere save in prime Texas pecans.

And that fact gave rise to a thought. It isn't a new thought—but it is as true as any you ever heard:

You've got to take a little of the bitter along with the sweet—and the sweeter the sweet is the more you notice the bitter.

* * *

That's true in pecans, in love, in business, in all forms of human endeavor.

And it isn't the fault of the product at all—whether the product be prime pecans or an income of a million dollars a year.

Isn't that right?

Tendency Of Negro Vote To Draw Away From Republican Banner Causes Deep Concern For Chieftains Of Party

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Amid the unprecedented Democratic election landslide, there was no upset more revolutionary than the tendency of the negro vote to draw away from its old place under the Republican banner.

Dutcher

States went Democratic that had been Republican for decades, but the negro vote had been overwhelmingly Republi since the Civil War. Now it has been split for the first time and politicians do not see how the old tradition of loyalty to Mr. Lincoln's party is going to be restored.

This happens to be a factor of considerable political importance. There are several border states and large northern states where the Republicans always previously were able to start campaigns with a substantial nest egg because they had the negro vote so securely in hand.

There are some states in which the negro vote is large enough to cause negro leaders to claim a theoretical balance of power, including New York, Illinois, Massachusetts, Oklahoma, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Kentucky, Maryland, Missouri, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia Indiana and Ohio.

In some of the larger states the negro vote is estimated into the hundreds of thousands. And there are many congressmen and quite a few senators who have to worry about it.

* * *

If the election gave no other indication as to the future political complexion of the larger northern states, the apparent elimination of that Republican "edge" would seem to promise a significantly larger proportion of doubtful states among those heretofore regarded as normally Republican.

As it is, with the negro vote divided, the Republican task of winning back such of those states as voted for Roosevelt will be just so much harder than if the colored folks had remained loyal to the G. O. P.

Negro leaders were predicting the defection many mouths before the campaign began, rejoicing in the negro's "political emancipation."

The negro vote cannot be counted separately, but reports to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, to which are added:

"'Lily-white' policy of the Hoover administration and especially the nomination of Judge John J. Parker to the U. S. supreme court; Jim-Crowing of colored gold star mothers on the pilgrimage to graves in France; distribution of the negro regiments in the army to service detachments; failure to appoint negroes to public office; general indifference of the Hoover administration to the negro."

ment of Colored People indicate that Roosevelt received something approaching an even break. Republican leaders managed to hold the negroes in line in some districts, but failed conspicuously in others.

Samples of the reports include the following: Estimates that negroes of Indianapolis and Indiana voted approximately on a 50-50 basis. . . . Desertion to the Democrats of an estimated 25 per cent of the hitherto negro Republican vote in Philadelphia. . . . Three largely negro precincts in a Kansas City ward gave Roosevelt 1050 votes and Hoover 388. . . . Estimate that 40 per cent of 6000 negroes voting in Virginia went for Roosevelt. . . . Almost a 50-50 vote in the chief negro ward of Pittsburgh. . . . Large increase in Democratic negro vote in Ohio. . . . Negro vote held in line by Republicans in some border states.

* * *

General economic conditions are given as the chief reason for the negro's new tendency toward political independence in a consensus compiled by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, to which are added:

BY C. E. BUTTERFIELD

(Time Is Central Standard)

New York, Nov. 29. (AP)—Eddie Cantor, back on the air after a nine-months' absence, is determined to regain the old place of top-notcher granted him by his listeners. He expects to do so by the first of the year.

He does not think right now that he stands in that position, for since he left for Hollywood last January he feels competition in his line—humor—has become somewhat keen. That leaves nothing for him to do, he feels, except to put on better programs than he did before.

In addition to his Friday night broadcasts, Morton Downey is to have Monday and Saturday night period on WABC-CBS.—Jones and Hare retire from their present WEAF-NBC series after this week.

Net-works are to concentrate on the Army-Navy classic this football week-end, with both WEAF-NBC and WABC-CBS giving the pre-game ceremonies as well as the play-by-play.—Leaders of the Chinese and Japanese delegation to the league of nations are to give their sides of the Sino-Japanese question in two Sunday broadcasts on WABC-CBS. Dr. W. W. Yen will speak for China at 11:30, a. m., and Yosuki Matsuka for Japan at 12:15 p. m.

Try These Tonight:

WEAF-NBS: 6:30—Carson Robinson's Hill Billy musicians; 8—Ben Bernie; 8:30—Ed Wynn; 10—Lanny Ross.

WABC-CBS: 6:45—Georgie Price; 8—Street Singer; 8:30—Organ and quartet; 9:30—John Charles Thomas.

WJZ-NBC: 7:45—Irving Langmuir talk; 8:30—Organ reveries; 9:15—Tune detective; 10:15—Grand opera, "La Traviata."

Governor Roosevelt, say the experts, will have a more important role than President Hoover in the next short session of Congress. Maybe that's the reason photographers caught Hoover smiling.

KNAPP SPEAKS TO AGENTS

JOINT MEETING WITH BANKERS SCHEDULED TODAY AT SPUR

SPUR, Nov. 29.—(Special)—The son of the founder of the extension service addressed county agricultural and home demonstration agents of West Texas at an annual dinner meeting here last night.

The speaker was Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological college and son of the late Dr. Seaman A. Knapp. The son also is a former extension worker. He discussed the farm problems facing Texas, and the cooperation given colleges and universities by extension workers.

Meet With Bankers

Today's session was to be a joint assembly with key bankers of districts one and two. Dan Otis, director of the agricultural committee of the American Bankers association, of Madison, Wis., was to deliver the principal address at noon today. The meetings are in the Methodist Episcopal church.

More Than 125 Attend

More than 125 county and home agents and others interested in farm improvement in districts one and two are here. Principal speakers at the day session Monday were O. B. Martin, director of extension service, of College Station; Mr. Otis, and T. G. Walton, Washington, D. C.

Mr. Otis, also spoke at the banquet. C. B. Jones, president of Texas Technological college board of directors, introduced speakers, and Sterling C. Evans, district agent, presided.

NO ARREST MADE IN THEATER CASE

Investigation of discharge of a sulphur and gun powder flare about 9:10 o'clock Monday night in the Lindsey theater was without an arrest at noon today, police said.

The fire was extinguished quickly with sand, and few theater patrons left their seats, it was said.

Geo. Eubank, identification officer and assistant chief of police, was seated near the spot on which the flare went off. He obtained a sandbucket and put it on the burning powder.

A similar mixture was set off in the building Oct. 29, resulting in a scattering of theater patrons.

The flare last night was in an aisle about one-third of the distance from the front of the show house. The explosives were believed to have been ignited by phosphorus.

It made 26 fact-finding studies and was supported financially by eight foundations and two other organizations. Supplementary studies were made for it by the American Medical association, the American Dental association and several other institutions with research facilities.

Burglary And Theft Charges Filed Here

A burglary and a theft charge were filed in justice court here this morning. A Mexican was charged with seduction in justice court Monday. No arrests had been made early this afternoon in connection with the three complaints, authorities said.

A Mexican woman signed the seduction complaint. It alleged the accused man had promised marriage.

G. C. Hansard, charged with motor law violation, was free today on bail of $750, posted Monday.

A young man arrested with his mother, here in a liquor raid by the sheriff's department was released from county jail Monday. His mother still was in jail without charge this morning. They were arrested Saturday night.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 29 (AP)—The cotton market opened rather easy today. Although Liverpool was a shade better than due, sterling was very weak making a new low price level for all times at $3.15 3-4. First trades here were unchanged to 3 points down. The market continued to ease off mainly on the weakness in sterling but there also was some hedge selling and very little buying support. January dropped to 5.65, March to 5.75 and May to 5.84, or 3 to 6 points down from yesterday's close. Near the end of the first hour the market was very quiet and at the lows.

The market although continuing quiet all morning, ruled much steadier. There was some trade buying, also buying by large spot interests and moderate coverings by ring shorts. January advanced to 5.73, March to 5.82 and May to 5.91, or 7 to 8 points up from the early lows to levels 2 to 3 points above yesterday's close. Near noon the market was steady although quiet with prices at the highs.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 29. (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, 2-5 lower under liquidation due to lower sterling and moderate southern selling. Dec. 5.54; Jan. 5.69; Mch 5.79; May 5.88; July 5.96; Oct 6.12.

Offerings were light and the market steadied after the call on trade buying and covering. December sold up from 5.64 to 5.68 and May from 5.87 to 5.92, and the list showed net gains of a point or two at the end of the first half hour. Little southern selling was in evidence after the early offerings had been absorbed.

Liverpool cables reported scattered continental and Egyptian buying and noted a limited cloth inquiry in Manchester with business in yarns restricted and the market rather irregular. Egyptian cotton futures in Alexandria were 9 to 18 points lower for achimouni but 1 to 7 points higher for sakellaridis.

Trading continued quiet later in the morning. The market seem inclined to await the further action of sterling exchange and developments in the foreign debt situation. At midday December was holding around 5.69 and May 5.92 or about 2 to 3 points net higher.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (AP)—Prices tilted moderately upward in another dull, listless trading session on the stock exchange today.

The market pursued a zig zag course early in the day, but later firmed appreciably and entered the afternoon with most leading shares showing gains ranging from fractions to about a point. Rails were again in fair demand. After selling down about a point at the opening Union Pacific and Santa Fe erased their losses and moved a point higher on the day. Southern Pacific, New York Central and Pennsylvania were slightly improved.

U. S. Steel held steady in a narrow range, most of the time a silver fraction above Monday's close. Small gains were also made by Westinghouse, General Electric, General Motors and Standard of New Jersey. United Aircraft, American Telephone, Case, National Biscuit and Coca Cola gained as much as a point. International Business Machines was a soft spot, declining about 4 points at one time, but later recovering half of its loss. The company's directors declared a regular quarterly dividend of $1.50 a share, but made no distribution in the form of stock dividend. Last year at this time a dividend of 5 per cent in stock was declared.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 29 (AP)—Reflecting a new record breaking smash of the British pound sterling, wheat today quickly went to within 1-8 cent of the all time bottom record. Wheat prices, however, rallied almost at once.

Opening irregularly 5-8 off to 1-4 up, wheat later steadied at about the same as yesterday's finish. Corn started unchanged to 5-8 lower and afterward recovered somewhat.

A new non-capsizable lifeboat, invented by Captain M. Foy, was demonstrated recently in Dublin, Irish Free State.

SECRECY SHROUDS INVESTIGATION OF DR. GRANBERY'S DETACHMENT AT TECH

Secrecy this morning still held firm about the inquiry begun here Monday by three members of the American Association of University Professors into detachment of Dr. John C. Granbery from the faculty of Texas Technological college, where he had been head of the history department seven years.

At least two members of the investigating committee early this afternoon still were in Lubbock. The committee is composed of Dr. H. O. Eaton of the department of philosophy at the University of Oklahoma at Norman; Dr. D. Y. Thomas, head of the department of history at the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville, and Prof. William R. Arthur of the school of law at the University of Colorado at Boulder. Probably 40 persons, Technological college faculty members and business and professional men of the downtown district, were questioned by the committee Monday afternoon and night in the Hilton hotel.

Few Facts Given Out

The professors, while declining to make public any of their findings as well as the list of persons they called into conference, said they were here investigating a request made by Doctor Granbery.

Considerable public interest attended the Granbery case throughout last winter and later, upon announcement of the board of directors that the doctor's contract would not be renewed for the current year, last spring. Doctor Granbery at present is visiting a sister in South America.

Seek All Information

The investigating committee made it plain that its members are seeking information concerning the case from the side of the college as well as from the standpoint of Doctor Granbery. The latter is a member of the association which is a protective as well as an educational organization composed of professors in all the leading universities and colleges of the country. It has numerous members at Texas Tech.

Case Called "Closed"

Just what bearing the investigation will have upon Doctor Granbery's case last night appeared to be somewhat hazy. Members of Tech's directorate publicly stated at the conclusion of the Doctor's tenure of service that "the incident is completely closed" as far as the college is concerned.

Doctor Eaton is the chairman of the committee.

SHORTER WEEK IS FAVORED

UNANIMOUS APPROVAL GIVEN PROPOSAL AT LABOR CONCLAVE

(By The Associated Press)

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 29—Under the impassioned leadership of President William Green, delegates to the national convention of the American Federation of Labor late Monday thundered their approval of a 30-hour work week. The proposal met unanimous approval on roll call.

"We must let the world know we demand action in response to our appeal to reason or we will secure it through force if necessary," Green declared, in recommending adoption of the resolution for a six-hour-day, five-day-week work schedule.

Life Threatened

The convention's action provided a climax to a stirring day in which delegates heard Secretary of Labor William N. Doak fire vigorous broadsides at racketeering and assert his own life already had been threatened by labor racketeers.

"We have already sent up 200 of these racketeers," said Doak, "and we will continue our fight, despite opposition and threats—even threats of death."

President Green, urging universal adoption of the shorter working week, asserted the federation would call upon major political parties to make good their promise for shorter work week legislation at the coming session of congress.

No Pay Reduction

He declared the federation would request the federal government — "the greatest employer"—to make the 30-hour week effective among federal employes.

The committee report, unanimously approved by the convention, calls for universal adoption of the short week as "the only means whereby prosperity can be restored." It emphasized that "such reduction in labor hours should carry with it no reduction in pay."

Secretary Doak, speaking at a noon session, rallied the federation against the "evils of racketeering" and departed from his prepared address to reveal he himself had been the recipient of sanguinary threats.

No more than a month ago, he said later, in an interview, "a man called my wife the day I was to make a speech at Brooklyn and told her if I went there I'd be assassinated.

"I went ahead, anyway, and although a heckler had to be ejected from the hall, there was no further show of violence."

TUDOR TRIAL

Mr. Nesbit said he was standing near the First State bank building on the day of the shooting and that he heard some noises like firecrackers and then he saw Mr. Tudor on the sidewalk near Dr. Adams' office and later saw a gun in his hand as he came toward him.

"And I Shot Him"

"I said, 'My God, Lee, what did you do?'", Mr. Nesbit said. "And he says, 'He killed my boy and I shot him.'"

Mr. Nesbit testified he then went to the doctor's office and found the physician sitting on a settee and that he looked pale and "there was blood on both arms".

Mr. Nesbit told of Mr. Tudor coming to him and asking him to go with him to Dr. Adams to talk over the boy's death.

"We got to the office and Dr. Adams was busy, but told us to sit down," Mr. Nesbit testified. "Later, he said, 'Well, what do you want'. Lee says, 'Doc, I want to talk to you about Woody's death. I blame you for his death'! Then Dr. Adams said, 'Well, what do you want, Lee, blood or money?' And Lee says, 'Money, I want you to take care of those children an deducate them.'

"'I don't see why you bold me responsible any more than you do Dr. Loveless, he was there too.'" Mr. Nesbit said the physician told Mr. Tudor.

"Then Lee says, 'Doc., he was your patient, wasn't he? I think if that boy had gotten the right attention he would have been alive today. . . . You give that ether and killed him.'"

Mr. Nesbit said the physician told Mr. Tudor he had given ether to man yme nand that Woody appeared strong and able to stand it.

Tudor then told the physician he expected to sue him and Dr. Adams replied, "That's all right, that's your privilege," Mr. Nesbit said.

Counter Suit Threatened

He then told o fa later conversation between the two men when he (Nesbit) was present. He said Dr. Adams asked for the meeting and when they were together told Tudor that if he sued and failed to beat him, that he (Dr. Adams) would have a counter suit against Tudor for damaging his character as a physician and a man.

"Lee said, 'That's all right, Doc. I'm not afraid of you beating me'", Mr. Nesbit said.

On cross examination, Mr. Nesbit testified there were some children nea rthe physician's office when he first heard the shots but that he couldn't detect whether they weer boys or girls.

"In Good Health"

He said he saw Woody Tudor the day of his death and declared the boy appeared to be in good health. He said the defendant and his son were "great old pals".

In answer to defense questioning, Mr. Nesbit said he had noticed a great change in Mr. Tudor since the boy's death and testified "he seemed like he was downcast, downhearted and it was bearing down on him all the time."

"It told him he ought to forget it," Mr. Nesbit said and Mr. Tudor told him he "just couldn't".

"'I can't do it,'" Mr. Nesbit said the defendant would tell him, "'every time I lay down and close my eyes, I see him.' He even told me that Woody came to his bed one night and told him he was all right."

"Acted Peculiar"

The defendant brooded almost constantly after that, Mr. Nesbit said and "acted peculiar and queer like".

He testified that Dr. Adams had told him that Woody had told him time and time again not to give him ether and that the physician had said Woody was "afraid of ether".

Too Bad! She'd Like To Be Good!

She's one of moviedom's best bad girls, but she'd rather be good. So Wynne Gibson is demanding that her studio give her a chance to prove she can be a nice girl, too. She's been a menace to men, as pictured here, in all but one of her films. And she's getting notorious, not famous, she complains.

TWO BROTHERS DIE IN FIRE

VICTIMS ARE BURNED TO DEATH MONDAY AS HOME RAZED

WACO, Nov. 29.—Alva M. Blackshear, 42, was overcome by smoke and flames when he went to rescue his brother, Charles Blackshear, 39, in their burning home near Satin, 14 miles south of Waco, yesterday and both men lost their lives.

Mrs. Alva Blackshear, who was burned seriously, said she heard Charles calling and awoke to find the house in flames. With her husband, she ran outside, but, upon missing his brother, Alva Blackshear rushed back to find him. His body was found in one room and Charles' in another.

When Alva failed to return soon, Mrs. Blackshear ran for help to the nearest house, 200 yards away, and was met by a man coming to her aid. Farmers and residents of Satin gathered quickly but were unable to extinguish the flames, and the four-room house was destroyed. Origin of the fire was unknown.

The Blackshears had lived near Satin all their lives and were tenants on the Charles Simenk land.

HAWK'S FUNERAL SET WEDNESDAY

EFFINGHAM, Kansas, Nov. 29—(Special)—Funeral services for LaFayette T. Hawk, 83-year-old pioneer farmer and banker of this area and father of Wilbur C. Hawk, West Texas Chamber of Commerce president, will be conducted here Wednesday afternoon. The elder Hawk died at his home here Sunday night.

A critical illness of three weeks preceded the pioneer's death, but he had been in failing health for a much longer period of time.

Wilbur C. Hawk, Amarillo newspaper publisher, and his wife, came to Effingham Monday.

In addition to the West Texas newspaper executive, the late Mr. Hawk is survived by three sons and three daughters. He has been engaged in farming and banking for many years and has been vice-president of the Farmers State bank of Effingham.

Norman T. Whitaker Released On Bond

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP) — Norman T. Whitaker, accused of posing as "The Fox" and "Chief Kidnaper" of the Lindbergh baby during the fake ransom negotiations which Gaston B. Means conducted with Mrs. Evelyn Walsh McLean, was released Monday on $10,000 bond.

Whitaker was immediately rearrested in connection with a request of Virginia authorities for his return to that state on a charge of passing a worthless check in Richmond last June. He is also facing charges in Florida in connection with an automobile theft.

RAILWAY HEAD IS SELECTED

HENRY TAYLOR NAMED TO SETTLE FUSSES OF RAILROADS

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—A man of 20 years experience in transportation was selected Monday to iron out the disputes and attempt to increase the profits of the more than 30 railroads in the western half of the nation.

He is Harry Guy Taylor, 52, a small town boy from Nebraska whose career includes that of newspaper publisher and legislator, as well as railroad expert. His present position is manager of public relations for the car service department of the American Railway association.

Taylor's power in the financially distressed railroad world will be large, all of the western lines having agreed to accept his rulings as final.

Chiefly, his job will be to rule in matters of rates and train schedules. Railway officials predicted the new commissioner would do much to remove harmful competition from the industry.

"I have no doubt but that the new arrangement will work to the benefit of all the railroad and to the public," said C. R. Gray, president of the Union Pacific railroad and chairman of a Western Railway association committee which selected Taylor.

Taylor's appointment becomes effective December 15, and before that time he is expected to move here from Washington to assume the new duties.

Case Transferred To Federal Court

The case of Tom Gilliam, alias Alfred Gilliam, indicted for violation of the national motor vehicle theft act and conspiracy, has been transferred to United States district court here from Wichita Falls. The true bill was returned November 23 at Wichita Falls.

There are six counts in the indictment and five overt acts are alleged. It was alleged that Gilliam conspired to transport "stolen motor vehicles" from "divers and sundry cities in the state of Oklahoma, to wit, among others being Seminole, Anadarko, Oklahoma City, El Reno, and Guthrie, to Lubbock, Texas." Transportation of stolen automobiles from Ada, Anadarko, Calumet, and El Reno, Okla., was alleged in four counts, and transportation of a stolen car from Seminole, Okla., to Littlefield in another count.

Overt acts alleged were receiving, concealing, and selling in Lubbock cars stolen in Seminole, Oklahoma City, El Reno, and Guthrie, Okla., and receiving, concealing, and storing a car stolen in Anadarko, Okla., in Slaton.

Bolt By Groups In Both Parties Seen

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—A threatened bolt by groups in both parties may put the potency of house wet strength of a rigorous test next Monday in the vote planned then on the Democratic outright prohibition repeal proposal.

Grumblings were heard in various quarters today on Capitol Hill over the form of the resolution made public by its sponsor, Speaker Garner, calling for flat repeal and ratification throughout state conventions.

The bachelor's button, domestic flower, is a native of India. It was introduced into England as early as 1714.

BUISCH TO ARRIVE EARLY WEDNESDAY FOR SPEECH HERE

"To take advantage of these improving conditions, merchants must have what customers want, when they want it, at prices they wish to pay."

That is some of the advice of L. H. Buisch, of the merchants service bureau of a cash register company at Dayton Ohio, who will arrive here from Amarillo on a late morning train Wednesday, and Wednesday night will address the Lubbock Retail Merchants association at a dinner meeting. Mr. Buisch will speak before a college class Wednesday and a group of grocery employes Thursday.

Mr. Buisch has expressed a belief that more carefully trained salespeople will enable retailers to better please their customers. This training, he contended, should not only be to explain uses and values of different kinds of merchandise, but also to show customers why good merchandise is worth the price.

Members of the Retail Merchants association attendance committee for the membership meeting and dinner Wednesday night in Hotel Hilton began selling tickets Monday following a meeting at 10 o'clock in the chamber of commerce offices.

Each committeeman will be responsible for attendance from his block. The members are: A. T. Cocanougher, D. G. Hobson, J. C. Sanders, L. W. Erwin, Bert Pinson, E. A. Miller, Overton Ribble, Clifford Williams, Paul Hardwick, W. R. Fickas, D. E. Sellers and Altus Sansom.

R. C. Smith will be toastmaster. Miss Ethel McKinley will read, and several musical numbers will be given by the Texas Tech ocarina quartet composed of Roger Knapp, Lynn G. Gordon, Fred Fairly, and Culver Hill. The dinner program will begin at 7 o'clock. Admission is 50 cents.

LAMESA, Nov. 29 (Special)—Case of J. A. Bond, charged with the slaying of J. C. White of Brownfield, April 5, 1931, was continued by Judge Gordon B. McGuire of district court here Monday on application of the defense.

Attorneys for Bond based their continuance motion on the absence of witnesses. The case, transferred here from Terry county, will be called Monday of the third week of the April, 1933, term of court.

To Charge Mexican In Stabbing Fray

A charge of aggravated assault probably would be filed today against a 34-year-old Mexican who Monday night stabbed a younger Mexican in the arm with an ice pick and beat the latter's mother with fists, Police Chief Wiley L. Metcalfe said.

The stabbing and beating occurred in the house occupied by the woman and her son. The alleged assailant was arrested by police in another house in Little Juarez, local Mexican quarter.

Scouts To Meet—First class Boy Scouts wishing to form a class in textiles will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the textile building at Texas Technological college. Carl D. Brandt, head of the textile engineering department, and M. E. Heard, an instructor, have been made Boy Scout councilors in textile merit badge training, and classes will be conducted for scouts.

She Is On Her Feet The Whole Day Long

. . . Yet Fresh and Alert When Evening Comes

A hundred household chores to do! . . . Scurrying here. Hurrying there . . . Yet at 6 P. M. she's as fresh as a daisy. Ready and eager for the evening's fun!

Today, hundreds of women are finding a comfort and happiness they never thought possible, by changing to FOOT-SAVER SHOES. These slender, style-to-the-minute light-weight shoes boast a patented inbuilt construction which gives firm unending support to the arch . . . perfect balance to the entire body. Their wearers are never troubled with foot fatigue. Try them yourself.

FOOT SAVER'S new, exclusive "Free-Walking" last fit the foot in motion! . . . No "breaking-in" is necessary . . . utter ease is afforded from the moment you put them on.

"KASE" as sketched at the right is an all brown kid 5-eyelet Tie oxford with suntan foxings, 15-8 box heel; sizes 4 to 10, widths AAAAA to B, priced ------- $10

"CELIA" as sketched at the left is shown in black or brown kid. A 4-eyelet Tie oxford with stitched toe and quarter; 15-8 Cuban heel; sizes 4 to 10, widths AAAAA to B. Built over J. & K's "Free-Walking" last and priced ---------- $10

"LORAINE" as sketched at the left is a light-weight Foot Saver shoe of chocolate brown kid, a T-strap model with 16-8 dress heel . . . quality you'll instinctively recognize. Sizes run from 4 to 10 in widths from AAAAA to B, priced ---------- $10

"ALMA" as sketched at the right is shown in black and brown kid. A one-strap with 15-8 Cuban heel, sizes 4 to 10, widths AAAAA to B. A Foot Saver Shoe, priced now ---------- $8.50

THOUSANDS OF LETTERS TO GOVERNOR ROOSEVELT ARE PILING UP AT ALBANY

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov,. 29 (AP)—Thousands of letters are piling up at the executive mansion while President-Elect Roosevelt is in Georgia, some of them suggesting how to run the government, others pointing out the accomplishments of the writer during the recent campaign and still others seeking jobs.

Many of the letter writers want the governor's signature, or his photograph; information on his favorite books; the music he likes; the food he prefers, even the poems he reads.

Letters Classified

Many of the letters are sorted and classified and forwarded to Mr. Roosevelt at Warm Springs. Some are answered by the secretaries, under the direction of Guernsey T. Cross, and James Mahoney at the capitol and Miss Grace Tulley at the mansion.

The president-elect, himself, a prolific letter writer, is also an eager letter reader. He has tried to read as many of the letters as possible and to answer as many as is humanly possible. Until the requests became too numerous he always granted a request for an autograph.

Follows Suggestions

Off times, running through a batch of letters, he will pause to read a missive written in pencil on lined paper and not infrequently incorrectly phrased and containing bad spelling. Several of his themes for speeches have come from letter suggestions.

He once said that the pulse of the people was recorded in the letters he received. It is certain that some of the information he has used effectively in statecraft and politics has come from letter writers, most of them unknown to him.

All Dolled Out

Just too tired and sad for words is Lyda Roberti, stage and screen star, pictured on her arrival in New York for rehearsals of a show in which she will appear. And her "baby," bless its heart, just won't be rocked to sleep!

SLATON PEOPLE ILL

SLATON, (Special)—With 70 cases of the flu and at least 15 cases of pneumonia reported, business here has been crippled for the past several weeks by lack of enough men to carry on the business with a full staff. Many men lost from one to three or four days work because of the illness.

The County of London, in which is the City of London, now has 748,930 dwellings, an increase of nearly 30,000 in 10 years.

DIPHTHERIA TAKES TWO LIVES HERE

A second diphtheria death occurred in Lubbock county Monday.

After a two-year-old Anton girl died in a hospital here, O. F. Lawson, jr., 19 months old, died at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. T. M. Lawson, 10 miles northeast of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs L. O. Wright were parents of the first victim, Jessie Nell Wright.

The Wright child, survived by the parents, one brother, Olen, and two sisters, Pauline and Examae, was to be buried by Bynum-Stahler funeral home at Littlefield at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Funeral rites for the Lawson boy were to be at the grandmother's home at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Burial will be directed by Bynum-Stahler in Lubbock cemetery. Besides the parents and the grandmother, one sister, Betty Jo, and a sisters, Pauline and Examae, will be brother, Billie Tom, survive.

A drop of more than 30 per cent in registration of new passenger cars was reported by 46 states and the District of Columbia for the first six months of 1932.

STEAM-POWERED PLANE GOAL OF INVENTORS NOW TESTING SUPER-EFFICIENT ENGINES; WOULD LOWER COST OF FUEL

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 29 (AP)—Two experiments are being watched here by enthusiasts who believe that steam is about to take wings in airplane flight.

Not since Langley's first planes were powered by steam has this motive power received so much attention. The demand for cheaper fuel and lower maintenance costs to make aviation attractive to the man of ordinary means is the motive power back of the projects.

Two Engines Under Way

At Akron, H. C. Johnston, welding shop proprietor, has completed a steam airplane engine capable of 1,500 revolutions per minute.

In Cleveland plans are advancing for construction of a steam airplane at the Great Lakes Aircraft corporation shops. Capt. H. C. Richardson, who was a pilot on the United States Navy's first trans-Atlantic flight back in 1919, is a technical adviser.

Captain Richardson is turning his attention to a turbine engine, while Johnston, the Akron inventor, has constructed a reciprocating uniflow engine with two cylinders opposed.

Single Unit Advantage Cited

Designs at the great lakes shops appear directed toward building of a large craft. The advantage in the greater ease of maneuvering a large plane powered by a single large steam plant is stressed.

Johnston, however, has built a small 62 horsepower engine weighing only 168 pounds and proposes to install it in a tiny plane once driven by a 60 horsepower motor.

Using these alloys to obviate the former disadvantage in weight, Johnston has built an engine producing one horsepower from less than three pounds of weight.

Runs At Low Speeds

Connected with a propeller without intermediary gears, the engine will pull its light plane through the air while turning at the comparatively low speed of 1,150 revolutions per minute, Johnston claims.

A chemical solution may be substituted for water in the boiler. This solution also contains the lubricant for the cylinders. Altogether there are only 11 moving parts in the entire plant.

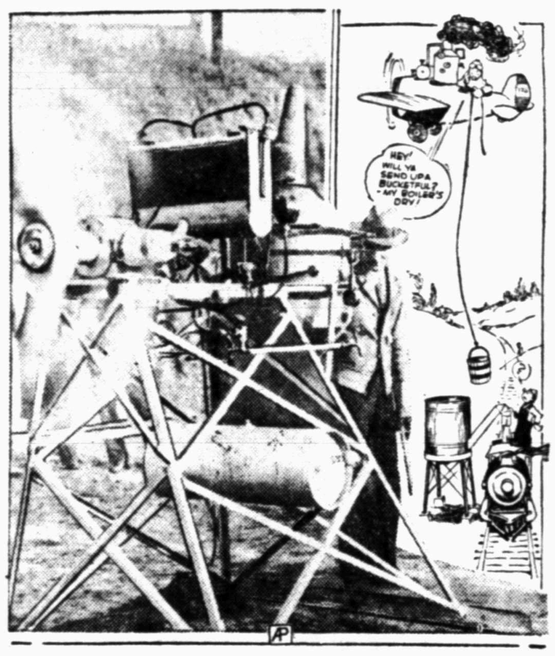
Only eight quarts of water, or chemical solution, are required in the closed circuit in which the liquid is converted to vapor and back again. This quantity is declared sufficient for even a 250 horsepower engine.

Fuel Consumption low

Cosumptinon of fuel—ordinary furnace oil—is estimated at .386 pounds per horsepower hour.

Only about two minutes is required to generate a 1,600-pound head of steam, more than sufficient for flight.

The steam airplane may be of interest to military men. The present-day radio finder which readily picks up the airplane motor at a distance is unable to locate the steam engine because it has no ignition.



The demand for lower operating costs to make aviation attractive to the man of ordinary means has inspired two experimental projects with the steam airplane engine at Akron and Cleveland, Ohio. Above is H. C. Johnston, of Akron, demonstrating his tiny steam generator and engine declared highly efficient after tests.

ABEL COMING TO LUBBOCK

SLATON, (Special) — Sheriff-elect Tom Abel is planning on moving his family to Lubbock early in December. He takes office as sheriff of Lubbock county January 1 succeeding Wade Hardy. Mr. Abel has been chief of police here for a number of years.

MOVING PHONE CABLE

LOCKNEY, (Special)—Employes of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company are here from Lubbock to move telephone cables from downtown streets to the alleys. A month will be required for the work, F. J. Jeckers, foreman, estimates. There will be extensions of the lines also.
