Students Storm Red Square

WILL PRESIDE OVER RUBY TRIAL—Judge Joe B. Brown of the Criminal District Court in Dallas, Tex., looks up a point of law in the library of his chamber in Dallas County Court. Judge Brown will preside over the biggest murder case in the world when the trial of Jack Ruby, accused of killing Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused assassin of President Kennedy, opens in his court. Ruby's Lawyers Ask For Report

DALLAS (AP)—Defense lawyers are preparing to demand a copy of a report from the psychiatrist who examined Jack Ruby after he shot Lee Harvey Oswald to death.

Ruby's lawyers claim court rulings give them the right to examine the psychiatric report and other evidence in Dist. Atty. Henry Wade's files.

They plan to ask Judge Joe B. Brown at a bond hearing Monday to order Wade to let them see the evidence.

The psychiatrist examined Ruby in his county jail cell at Wade's request.

Assistant Dist. Atty. William F. Alexander said prosecutors couldn't let Ruby's lawyers have a copy of the report "for the very simple reason that there has never been a written report."

Alexander commented:

"How could we give the defense a copy of something which doesn't exist? The psychiatrist has never given us a written report."

Permits Go Fast In West Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—Thousands of West Berliners, braving heavy snow and bitter temperatures, queued up today to apply for permits to pass through the Red wall and see their relatives in the Soviet sector for Christmas.

"It's the best Christmas present I've ever received," said one elderly woman, who at 3 a.m. was one of the first in line.

"I am going to see my daughter, who will need me especially this Christmas because her husband died just a month ago," the woman said.

McNamara Plane Narrowly Misses Collision In Fog

By PATRICK MCNULTY

PARIS (AP)—A plane carrying U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and members of his staff narrowly missed collision with a civilian airliner in a fog at Paris' Orly Airport today.

McNamara's U.S. Air Force pilot, Capt. Meredith Sutton, abandoned his attempt to take off for South Viet Nam and braked his big K135 jet transport when the passenger plane came in for a landing in front of him.

The tires on the American plane blew out and the big jet

Mrs. Romero Dies 2 Days After Father

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Thursday for Mrs. Matilda Romero, 42, whose home was on the Clairemont Road.

Mrs. Romero was the daughter of Frank Perez who died here Sunday at the age of 94. Mrs. Romero suffered an apparent heart attack Sunday, and died at 1:45 p.m. Tuesday, just an hour and 15 minutes before her father's funeral.

Born March 14, 1921 in Rotan, she had been a resident of Security County for 33 years.

The funeral services will be held at the Templo Espiritista with the Rev. E. P. Gonzales and the Rev. Moses Padilla, pastor of the church, officiating. Burial will be in Snyder Cemetery under the direction of Bell Funeral Home.

School Choirs Slate Program

Choral groups from Snyder Public Schools will present their annual program of Christmas music Thursday night in the Snyder High School Auditorium.

The program will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Although participation will be as great, or greater, than ever, the program is not expected to consume as much time this year as it has in the past, said Tom Adams, director of choral music at the high school. Sixth grade choirs from all elementary schools in the city will be combined into one large choir for the event. In addition, there will be three choirs from Travis Junior High, two choirs from Lamar Junior High and two choirs from the senior high school.

The program by the school choral groups has been one of the community's most popular Christmas activities each year for some time.

United Fund Has Three Days To Go

The United Fund campaign office reported this morning that although only 40 per cent of the prospect cards had been reported to the office, the fund had achieved 60 per cent of its goal of $38,000.

Over 1,600 prospect cards had been issued to United Fund volunteer workers. Nine hundred cards are still unreported, the office said.

Wayland Holt, general campaign chairman, urged all those who have worked their cards to report those cards to the campaign office. Those who have yet to make their solicitations are urged to do so in time to report the cards in to the office before noon Saturday.

"We can meet our goal if workers will contact their prospects," Holt said. "The longer one waits the closer we get to Christmas, and it will be more difficult to find time to make the solicitations," Holt said in urging workers to contact their prospects as soon as possible.

Killing Ires Africans

MOSCOW (AP)—Several hundred students from Ghana and other African nations stormed into Red Square today right into Premier Khrushchev's office and tried to break into the Kremlin.

The students said they were protesting the fatal stabbing of a student from Ghana by a Russian last Friday.

The Africans broke past barricades into Red Square, where Russians march on May Day and on the anniversary of the October Revolution. But the scene was more reminiscent of the wild days of the revolution in 1917.

The students bore a sign showing a knife plunged into the head of an African. Another sign declared: "Friend today, the devil tomorrow."

"Moscow is a second Alabama," shouted one student.

The students fought police all the way to Red Square from the Ghanaian Embassy a mile away, where they first gathered.

They stormed over a barricade of Soviet trucks at the entrance to Red Square, fighting police on top of the trucks and underneath.

The big gates of Spassky Tower, the main entrance from the Kremlin to Red Square, banged shut as students rolled over police opposition and tried to get into the Kremlin.

They stormed past the office of Khrushchev. They were separated from his office by the big red brick wall of the Kremlin. Whether he was inside his office was not known.

Inside the Kremlin, the Soviet Parliament was meeting, discussing the new budget.

Police apparently at no time used their guns to control the students. Instead they wheeled out loud speakers appealing for them to go home.

"Red Square is closed," one of the sound trucks blared out. But the students paid no attention.

Shortly after 2 p.m., crowds of shoppers who had swarmed into the square were driven out along with foreign correspondents.

People continued to pile into adjoining streets, never having seen an angry demonstration of foreigners against Russians.

The students remained in the square for a time and were reinforced later by some 200 more who came, apparently carrying a message of protest. They made their way up to Spassky Gate, where a Kremlin official came out and said a delegation of 10 would be received by the Ministry of Higher Education. A group of the demonstrators then headed for the ministry against their petition complaint.

By 3 p.m., Red Square had been cleared. The barricades had been cleared. The demonstrators were withdrawn and the demonstration was over.

It was the first such demonstration by foreign students here directed at the Russians. Ghanaian students demonstrated last February in Communist Bulgaria, claiming racial persecution.

18th Session Of Assembly Ended

By TOM HOGE

Associated Press Staff Writer

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. General Assembly ended its 18th session Tuesday night, a three-month session marked by a new hall in the cold war and a new peak in African attacks on segregation and colonialism.

The session opened with delegates hearkened by the atmosphere of East-West harmony and ended with many apprehensive over what effect President John F. Kennedy's assassination might have on the world.

This anxiety was eased somewhat by President Johnson's assurance to the assembly Tuesday that he would carry on Kennedy's international policies.

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko hailed Johnson's speech as "a positive approach to world problems."

The "spirit of Moscow," which set the harmonious tone of debate on disarmament, outer space and other East-West issues, resulted in a number of unanimous votes. However, none of the decisions could be described as far-reaching.

On the broad question of general disarmament no advances were made, but the ticklish problem was turned over to the Geneva negotiators with the blessings of East and West.

Some strides were made toward cooperation in outer space between the Soviet Union and the West, and the two sides moved a step closer to a total ban on nuclear weapon tests.

There were some discordant notes. The Soviet Union and the Western powers clashed over West Germany. The West lost on a number of colonial and racial issues marked by an all-out African assault against both South Africa and Portugal.

The assembly voted overwhelmingly for a worldwide oil embargo against South Africa, despite opposition by the United States, Britain and France.

GOODFELLOWS

Today was the last day that applications for Goodfellow aid were to be accepted at the Goodfellow office. Other needy families, if brought to the attention of the Goodfellows, would, however, be given what help it would be possible to give on short notice.

Before the application office closed some 250 families had been registered as needing help. A donation to the Goodfellows has to go a long way. Even though the application office is closed, donations are still being accepted at both banks or may be mailed to Box 661.

Shoppers' Warning Issued

The Snyder police department issued a warning to Christmas shoppers this morning to be sure to lock their cars while shopping.

Captain Alfred Kohl of the police department said that a number of thefts from cars had been reported in the past few days, and that some arrests had been made. But he noted that it would be better for all concerned if the thefts had been prevented in the first place.

Christmas - wrapped packages, or any packages, left in unlocked cars are tempting to thieves as well as professional thieves, Kohl said. The fact that the car is locked is usually protection enough from the thieves, he added.

Foreign Aid Bill Headed Into New Senate Battle

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The foreign aid program headed into a new Senate fight today. The stage for a new round of debate was set when the Senate Appropriations Committee Tuesday approved a measure carrying $3,280,500,000 in new appropriations for overseas assistance — as compared with the $2,801,700,000 the House voted Monday.

The Senate group also dropped a House amendment that would prohibit the government from guaranteeing private financing of any sales of U.S. grain to Communist bloc countries.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield planned to bring up the bill late today under a unanimous consent agreement in the hope of getting final congressional action before this week's Christmas holiday adjournment.

But other proponents of the program concurred there was a possibility of further cuts before the Senate sends the measure to a conference with the House for ironing out differences between Senate and House versions.

Red Germans Expected To Intensify Their Campaign

By JOHN O. KOEHLER
Associated Press Writer
BERLIN (AP) — The East German Communists probably will not wait long before intensifying their drive to whittle away the Western Allies' rights in West Berlin and win international recognition for the Red regime.

A few hours after signing an agreement with the West Berlin city government Tuesday allowing West Berliners to visit relatives in East Berlin during Christmas, Communist Deputy Premier Alexander Abusch told a news conference this step will "be followed by further steps to normalize relations."

In Communist jargon, to "normalize relations" means to remove Western troops from West Berlin, a goal first announced by Premier Khrushchev in 1958.

Johnson, Farm Leaders Confer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, moving from one national problem to another, sits down today with agricultural leaders in an effort to find agreement on ways to avert a sharp election-year drop in farm income.

Johnson, a rancher himself, summoned leaders of six national farm organizations to the White House to discuss a new government wheat program.

One is needed, says Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, if wheat farmers' incomes are not to tumble $600 million next year.

So far, the major farm organizations have been unable to agree on a plan.

The American Farm Bureau Federation has been holding out against government controls, while most of the others have endorsed production restrictions.

The organizations invited to send officials include the Farm Bureau Federation, National Grange, National Farmers Union, National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, National Farmers Organization and the Cooperative League of the U.S.A.

Source Of Baker Cash Is Sought

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators said today they are trying to ferret out where Robert G. Baker got the thousands of dollars in cash a witness testified he kept in his Senate office.

To help them, President Johnson signed an executive order permitting the Rules Committee, which is carrying on the inquiry, to examine the tax files of Baker, Johnson's protégé when the President was Senate Democratic leader.

Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., said he regarded the testimony about the money as "the big point" at the committee's first public hearings Tuesday in its investigation of Baker's business dealings and allegations of conflict of interest.

Dear Abby... Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a respectable woman of 59. While being interviewed for a job as live-in cook and housekeeper for a well-to-do elderly gentleman who lives alone in a 12-room house, he asked me if I snored! He said he does not wish to be disturbed while he is sleeping. What does this have to do with my qualifications as a cook and housekeeper?

LAND PARK PARENTS: If you can't keep up with your teenagers, at least get behind them!

DEAR ABBY: We are three sisters, 19, 22 and 24, and we aren't exactly children. Our problem is our mother. She is a wonderful person, and attractive. She has been a widow for eight years, and has been going with the same man for six years. He is married and claims he has been trying to get a divorce all this time, but can't. (Is this possible?) Meanwhile, he is living with his wife, and Mother can't even be seen in public with him. We doubt if this man will ever be free to marry her. Mother says she "loves" him and one day she will marry her. Two of us girls are married, and when the last one goes we don't want Mother to be left alone. What can we do?

JOB HUNTING: DEAR ABBY: My sleeping quarters are within hearing distance of yours. And if YOU do not wish to be disturbed while YOU are sleeping, I suggest you work days and go home nights.

Rep. Barnes Is Honored

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP) — Gov. John Connally and President Johnson sent messages of praise as state Rep. Ben Barnes of De Leon was honored at an appreciation dinner Tuesday night.

Rep. Barnes Is Honored

Connally, still recovering from a bullet wound inflicted by President Kennedy's assassin, telephoned congratulations from the governor's mansion in Austin. He called Barnes, 25, a "fine young statesman."

President Johnson said in a telegram: "I salute Ben Barnes, one of the outstanding young legislators in this hour of Texas history."

About 1,000 persons attended the dinner, which some had criticized as the start of a campaign backing Barnes for speaker of the house.

Asked whether he would be interested in the speaker's post, Barnes said: "I think it would be premature to think of another race at this time. Right at the moment, I'm only interested in one race, the one in this four-county district."

Barnes represents Coleman, Brown, Runnels and Comanche counties.

DEAR DISCONTENTED: After consulting clergymen of several faiths, I may report that one may RE-baptize, but one may NOT DE-baptize. In other words, a baptism cannot be annulled.

Broadway Memoirs Written Between Shows

By WILLIAM GLOVER
AP Drama Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 18 — George Abbott, Broadway's undisputed senior celebrity, is pondering the perils of candor now that he's a book author.

"When I read the proof-sheets, I panicked," says the man who has faced unfathomably 102 Main Stem opening nights.

The volume, "Mister Abbott" is a brisk docket of memoir and opinion, done in the swift, pithy manner that marks his in-person behavior and on-stage productivity. Its publication date, Nov. 25, was the 50th anniversary of the start of his White Way career — as an actor in "The Misleading Lady."

"I felt that if I didn't have the courage for ruthless self-characterization, the book would have no function," he writes of his determination to avoid penning another name-dropping album.

"Writing it took a couple of years — I'd do another section between shows. I rewrote it once and then went over it with an editor. I did take out a few things — not because they were too frank, but because of redundancy."

Among the personal reminiscences including an episode that stirred sisterly reproach—Abbott sprinkles comment on such diverse matters as the creative process, Christian Science and homosexuality.

"Time after time people told me I should write an autobiography," he says, "but it wasn't until one night at a dinner party when a friend said, 'Your ideas of life are so interesting' that I really gave it a thought. The flattery got me."

During a career of theatrical versatility, Abbott has been involved with shows in five capacities that have frequently overlapped: an actor 15 times; playwright or coauthor, 20; producer or coproducer, 42; director, 75; "doctor," a catchall category of assorted functions, on 8 occasions.

"About one-quarter of them were gratifying," he says in post-authorship conversation, "but nearly always you come away with some reason for gratification — a new talent helped, experience gained."

Among the biggest triumphs were "Broadway," "Coquette," "Three Men on a Horse," "Boy Meets Girl," "Brother Rat" and, currently, "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" and "Never Too Late."

"You like the hits," he asserts, "but of the flops, none was unjustified."

Sometimes, he's passed up association with a venture that turned out to be highly successful.

GEORGE ABBOTT

ful, but with only rare twinges of regret. "In the last five years there have been more calls than ever before," Abbott reports, "but I'm unwilling to spend as much time in the theater."

The reason is golf. He became enamored of that pastime four years ago, and 12 months back determined to limit stage work to spring and autumn.

The demand for his services effectively disposes of any thought that in his 76th year Abbott might consider retirement. Besides he's too full of energy.

Comparing his freshman trials with those of newcomers today, he feels "it's a lot easier now to get into the theater — now if you don't have a job you get unemployment pay."

Broadly, however, he finds things are today as in 1913 — "Taste and style change, but not people."

Getting back to the book,

Abbott concedes that a couple of showmanship instincts were at work during the polishing process.

The volume is cryptically dedicated "to my best friend." The author's eye twinkles, at the discussions that may cause at the same time is sure the actual person will know. His book also has no index — a deliberate omission.

"A lot of people might like to find out in a hurry if I mention them," he smiles. "But this is no reference book. If they want to find out, they've got to read the whole thing."

Acacia Club Hear Snyder Students

The Acacia Study Club was delighted with a program about the Monroe Doctrine at their December meeting, held at Martha Ann Woman's Club.

Mrs. J. D. Hinton introduced Mr. Bob Taylor, the Forensic Director at Snyder High School. Mr. Taylor presented three of his students, who gave three enlightening talks concerning the Monroe Doctrine. Having been given the program topic only the day before, the students gathered information, past and present.

In 1823, the Monroe Doctrine was just two paragraphs on paper, and was stated by the students to be no stronger than the people who back it up. The first speaker, Aleta January, a junior, gave an extemporaneous talk about the doctrine. Millie Smyth, a junior also, spoke in both types of speech, extemporaneous and persuasive. The third speaker was Diana Afor, a senior, whose talk was persuasive.

Mr. Taylor explained that this is the third year for the program in Snyder High School and it was designed to supplement a students studies as a self improvement. It is intended to provide a new type of communication in a crowded, intellectual society and to replace the static, long prepared speeches with a dynamic approach equal to our changing ideas and ideas.

At the November meeting of Acacia Study Club, members heard an interesting program on the Jeffersonian Era, given by Mrs. Gordon Dyart.

Mrs. Dyart brought out Jefferson's far sightedness in his political views about the government for it's people. Parchment copies of the original constitution and the Declaration of Independence were shown to the members.

Mrs. James Mathis, president, welcomed two new members to the club, Mrs. Jim Graham and Miss Carol Payne.

The Snyder B team defeated the Stamford B team, 54-41, in the preliminary game.

Snyder's A team held a 27-12 lead at the end of the first quarter, but cooled off in the second period when Stamford pulled up within five points, at 32-27, by half-time. The Bulldogs took the lead, 51-46, at the end of the third period.

Snyder managed to tie the count near the end of the game, but couldn't get the winning basket. The Tiger scoring was evenly distributed, with all five starters registering in double figures. Leslie Anderson was tops with 15 points.

Southern Methodist walloped Georgia Tech 97-75 and Texas Tech kept Oklahoma winless against Southwest Conference teams with a strapping 95-66 decision.

The conference now stands 19-22 in intercollegiate basketball.

Texas Christian plays Vanderbilt at Nashville in the only game on the schedule Wednesday.

New names appeared in the SMU lineup as the Mustangs won their second game of the season and first on the home court.

Sophomore Carroll Hooser came of age as he plunked in 27 points and grabbed 11 rebounds. Another sophomore, John Ramsey, saw his first game duty and made the most of it. He scored 12 points and rebounded impressively.

Oklahoma had a cold first half and fell so far behind Texas Tech it never had a chance to catch up although tallying 40 points in the last half.

Tech hit on 47 per cent of its field goal tries with Tom Patty leading the way. Patty poured in 21 points and sophomore Duane Malsine got 16.

Associated Press Sports Writer SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Ara Parseghian, a 40-year-old Armenian now has been officially stamped as the 24th head football coach at Notre Dame.

The certification ended 36 hours of mystery which started Monday when the former Northwestern mentor balked at signing a four-year Notre Dame contract and left everyone agog.

It still is not signed, but the Rev. Edmund P. Joyce, executive vice president of Notre Dame, says it will come when Ara has time to drop in on the university.

Ara said the reason for his walkout on negotiations was a personal matter. He would not elaborate.

Parseghian telephoned Father Joyce Tuesday and apologized for any embarrassment his abrupt departure at Monday's press conference might have caused. He asked that a Notre Dame jacket be sent to him so he could wear it as a coach of the East-West Shrine game at Notre Dame held the door open for Parseghian's return. Not Catholic, not alumnus, Ara Parseghian, a 40-year-old Armenian now has been officially stamped as the 24th head football coach at Notre Dame.

This came after Parseghian, No. 1 assistant at Northwestern, Alex Agase, was named head coach there Tuesday. A statement issued by both Parseghian and Father Joyce said the "slight difficulty" which arose Monday morning had been dissolved.

Exactly what this is has been sealed by the only four persons who know—Father Joyce, Parseghian, Stu Holcomb, Northwestern's athletic director, and the Rev. Theodore Hesburgh, Notre Dame president.

College bowl teams in Texas are hard at work, with two aiming practice efforts primarily at their opponents.

Texas drilled for its Cotton Bowl date with Navy, scrimmaging for two hours Tuesday and doing a lot of running to get back in shape and to improve faltering timing. Coach Darrell Royal was pleased with the progress.

All hands were in top condition except end Knox Nunnally, who is favoring a pulled muscle. He should rejoin the contact work in a few days.

Baylor continued to work on punt and kickoff coverage as it sought means to contain Louisiana State's breakout threat in the Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston Saturday.

The Bears also gave passing close attention since this is their main threat.

Coach Hayden Fry of Southern Methodist watched Oregon's Bob Berry throw the ball in films of the Indiana and Washington State games. Then he ordered his team to drill hard on pass defense.

SMU and Oregon will clash in the Sun Bowl at El Paso.

Flower Grove—The Ira girls basketball teams swept two games from Flower Grove here Tuesday night. The Ira girls defeated the host girls team, 47-35, while the Ira boys edged the Flower Grove boys, 42-38.

'BIGGEST CATCH I EVER MADE'—Frank Gifford (16), New York Giants flanker back, hauls in "the biggest catch I ever made," (top left), from Y. A. Tittle in third period of game against the Pittsburgh Steelers at Yankee Stadium in New York. Defending is Glenn Glass (43) of the Steelers, who makes contact, top right, and finally brings Gifford down. It was one of three catches by Gifford in the period. Steel coach Buddy Parker remarked play was turning point in game and that if Gifford hadn't caught ball, the Steelers would have taken over and "I think we would have won." Giants won game, 33-17, and eastern conference NFL title. (AP Wirephoto)

Players For Shrine Game Reporting

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—East-West Shrine football players arrive today to begin workouts for the Dec. 28 game and apparently they'll all be told they're underdogs.

Some of the coaches checked in Tuesday and effusively praised the opposition's team in good-natured jockeying for psychological advantage.

West Coach Jim Sutherland of Washington State praised the East's "tremendous front line and great running backs. We only hope that our men can stand up to that East running attack."

The West "surely outshines us in quarterbacks," said Jack Mollenkopf of Purdue, the East's head man. "And they're a lot bigger than us."

Sutherland said his initial plans are for his offensive backfield: quarterback Don Trull, left half Tony Lork, Arizona State; flanker half Willie Brown, Southern Cal; fullback Dalton Hoffman, Baylor.

Trull and Hoffman, along with West assistant coach John Bragg, of Baylor, won't be here until after Saturday's Bluebonnet Bowl.

Lincoln In 2 Victories

Little Manny Is Out To Set Mark

By MIKE RATHET Associated Press Sports Writer Attention Nick Werkman and Barry Kramer.

Manny Newsome, a 5-foot-9 sparkplug from Western Michigan may be out to steal the major college scoring crown while returning the title to a 30-point plus scorer.

Werkman averaged 29.5 points a game for Seton Hall last year to 29.3 for NYU's Kramer and became the first scoring champion in 11 years to win the crown without averaging 30 points a game.

Both are back in the battle this season, but the big surprise has been the point production of Newsome, two-time scoring champion in the Mid-American Conference, who wound up 18th on the list in 1962 with a 23.1 average.

Newsome has been scoring at such a prolific rate his average dropped to 31.8 Tuesday night when he scored 31 in Western Michigan's 92-49 victory over Notre Dame. It was only the second victory in six games for the Broncos.

But Newsome and Western Michigan have been playing some of the top teams in the country—Northwestern, Michigan State, Marquette, Loyola, Michigan and now Notre Dame. And Newsome has scored heavily against all.

Outstanding one-man shows also were turned in by Rick Barry, who made all 17 of his foul shots and collected 35 points in Miami of Florida's 95-63 victory over San Francisco, and by Marvin Mitchell, who hit 13 of 18 from the floor and scored 20 points as West Texas edged Western Kent 84-83.

Chuck Richards scored 35 points and hit for the winning basket with three seconds left as Syracuse edged Cornell 86-84. Clemens also won, edging Virginia 53-52 on a final shot by Mike Bohonak.

In other games, Carroll Hooser clicked for 27 points in SMU's 97-75 triumph over Georgia Tech. Virginia Tech rode Hoosier and Purdue's 20-point effort to a 61-53 victory over Georgia. Wisconsin crushed Gonzaga 115-71. Oklahoma State walloped Long Beach State 91-66. Texas Tech edged Oklahoma 95-66. Princeton defeated Rutgers 79-50, Ohio

Garland edged Tascosa 7-6. This game, at Austin, is one of four to decide state championships Saturday.

Corpus Christi and Pharr-San Juan-Alamo play at Victoria for the Class AAA title. Rockwall and John Foster Dullies battle at Waco for the Class AA crown and Petersburg meets George West at Lubbock for the Class A championship.

Pickle, Friend Of LBJ, Elected

By GARTH JONES
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Democrat J. J. (Jake) Pickle, personal friend of President Lyndon Johnson, won election as U.S. representative Tuesday in a campaign that many called the new President's first popularity test at the polls.

For Pickle, 49, it is his first elective job in more than two decades of political life. He succeeds Rep. Homer Thornberry, D-Tex., who has been appointed a federal judge.

With all but a few rural votes tabulated in the 10-county central Texas district Johnson once represented, Pickle had 27,506 votes to 16,039 for Republican Jim Dobbs. Party affiliations did not appear on the ballot.

The outcome leaves the House balance of 257 Democrats and 178 Republicans unchanged. Texas, at one time considered solidly Democratic, now has a Republican senator and two of its 23 representatives are Republicans.

"The result of this election are much more than a personal victory to me," Pickle said. "This vote is one for unity—a vote of confidence by the people of this district in the Democratic party and in President Johnson's administration."

Pickle, who helped Johnson and two Texas governors in several statewide campaigns, cited his friendship with the new President in the campaign. He claimed Dobbs would be a do-nothing congressman, critical of the Democratic administration and majority in Congress.

President Johnson did not directly endorse Pickle but White House announcement said he cast an absentee vote for his Democratic friend, Texas Gov. Connally, recuperating from bullet wounds received as President John F. Kennedy was assassinated, also gave Pickle an absentee vote.

"We had a race and there is a winner," was the post-election

Plenty Of Room For Children

By KELLY SMITH
Associated Press Staff Writer
PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The $400,000 oceanfront mansion where Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her children will spend the holidays has eight bedrooms, nine servants rooms, an inside garden, and a 75-foot heated swimming pool. But no Christmas tree.

It's secluded behind a 10-foot-high stone wall and a thick hedge of palms. A guard stands at the gate. This Christmas, as on two past, there will be Secret Service men on the grounds.

The Kennedys leased the home in 1961. The late President could not cram his Secret Service men, aides and equipment into the nearby home of his father, Joseph P. Kennedy. The Kennedys returned in 1962. The mansion was designed in 1939 for the late financier Charles Urich Bay. The current owner is millionaire Col. C. Michael Paul, longtime friend of the Kennedy family.

Col. Paul referred modestly to his home as "one okay for a generously sized family. Rooms? Oh, I have more than I should have. I've really lost count, but I have lots."

"There's lots of room for children's play, 400 feet of private beach, and a spacious lawn. Why no Christmas tree?" "Maybe," said a yard man, "they're waiting for some children."

New Theory Is Being Presented

DALLAS (AP)—A number of the world's top scientists started summarizing Tuesday their findings on a new theory that the tremendous energy created by "quasi-stellar" objects, in distant space is the result of the shrinking or gravitational collapse of super-stars.

The theory—a revolutionary scientific circles as was the existing theories involving the explosion or collision of stars—could not explain the tremendous amounts of energy emitted by objects in deep space. The two scientists contend that gravity can exert a force 100 times greater than the most powerful nuclear reaction.

During the symposium there have been papers on radio and optical telescopic findings to give weight to the Hoyle-Fowler theory but there are also many questions raised to which scientists do not yet have the answers.

One of the big questions concerns the concept of "indefinite" contraction—whether the gravitational collapse theory leads to indefinite contraction, whether a shrinking star could reduce itself to zero volume, and presumably infinite density, with no limit to the amount of energy produced in the process.

$30 Million For Brazos

WASHINGTON (AP)—A compromise $316 million water projects authorization bill passed Wednesday by the House provides $30 million for the Brazos River basin in Texas.

House members turned down a move to add a Montana hydroelectric project—the Knowles Dam, to the bill.

Majority leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., said the Senate probably would take up the measure Wednesday or Thursday.

The Senate and House have wrangled over the appropriations measure most of the year. The House has sought to limit the bill to increases on river basin authorizations and the Senate has insisted on adding various individual projects, several of them controversial.

Jubilant Winner Shares Applause With His Family

By JACK KEEVER
AUSTIN (AP)—J. J. (Jake) Pickle was a happy winner and he wanted his family and friends to share the applause for his election as congressman from President Johnson's old district.

"Come up here, Dad, come up here, Joe," he shouted to his 87-year old father, J. B. Pickle of Big Spring, and to a brother.

"Where's Beryl and Peggy?" he asked, looking for his wife and daughter in a crowd of about 200 noisy supporters at his campaign headquarters Tuesday night.

They joined him as did a son, Dick, 20. Another son, Graham, 16, was playing in a basketball game, his mother said.

For Pickle it was a victory in his first race after 15 years as a political adviser in Texas' Democratic party.

He beat Republican Jim Dobbs in a runoff and will replace Rep. Homer Thornberry, D-Tex., whose resignation is effective Friday.

WILL PRESIDE OVER RUBY TRIAL—Judge Joe B. Brown of the Criminal District Court in Dallas, Tex., looks up a point of law in the library of his chamber in Dallas County Court. Judge Brown will preside over the biggest murder case in the world when the trial of Jack Ruby, accused of killing Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused assassin of President Kennedy, opens in his court. Ruby's Lawyers Ask For Report

DALLAS (AP)—Defense lawyers are preparing to demand a copy of a report from the psychiatrist who examined Jack Ruby after he shot Lee Harvey Oswald to death.

Ruby's lawyers claim court rulings give them the right to examine the psychiatric report and other evidence in Dist. Atty. Henry Wade's files.

They plan to ask Judge Joe B. Brown at a bond hearing Monday to order Wade to let them see the evidence.

The psychiatrist examined Ruby in his county jail cell at Wade's request.

Assistant Dist. Atty. William F. Alexander said prosecutors couldn't let Ruby's lawyers have a copy of the report "for the very simple reason that there has never been a written report."

Alexander commented: "How could we give the defense a copy of something which doesn't exist? The psychiatrist has never given us a written report."

Permits Go Fast In West Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—Thousands of West Berliners, braving heavy snow and freezing temperatures, queued up today to apply for permits to pass through the Red wall and see their relatives in the Soviet sector for Christmas.

"It's the best Christmas present I've ever received," said one elderly woman, who at 3 a.m. was one of the first in line.

"I am going to see my daughter, who will need me especially this Christmas because her husband died just a month ago," the woman said.

McNamara Plane Narrowly Misses Collision In Fog

By PATRICK MCNULTY
PARIS (AP)—A plane carrying U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and members of his staff narrowly missed a collision with a civilian airliner in a fog at Paris' Orly Airport today.

McNamara's U.S. Air Force pilot, Capt. Meredith Sutton, abandoned his attempt to take off for South Vietnam and broke his big K135 jet transport when the passenger plane came in for a landing in front of him.

The tires on the American runway near the point of no return when Capt. Sutton suddenly aborted the flight. His quick reaction saved our lives, I'm sure. Another moment and it would have been too late.

There was no immediate explanation of the mixup from the civilian controlled airport tower.

The defense secretary had attended the annual winter meeting of the NATO Ministerial Council, which ended Tuesday. He is going to Saigon for his second on-the-spot assessment in three months of the Viet Nam situation and American fight against Communist Guerillas.

The funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Thursday for Mrs. Matilda Romero, 42, whose home was on the Cleburne Road.

Mrs. Romero was the daughter of Frank Perez who died Sunday at the age of 94. Mrs. Romero suffered an apparent heart attack Sunday, and died at 1:45 p.m. Tuesday, just an hour and 15 minutes before her father's funeral.

Born March 14, 1921 in Rotan, she had been a resident of Scurry County for 33 years.

The funeral services will be held at the Temple Baptist Church with the Rev. E. P. Gonzales and the Rev. Moses Padilla pastor of the church, officiating. Burial will be in Snyder Cemetery under the direction of Bell Funeral Home.

"Mrs. Romero is survived by her husband, A. C. Romero; her mother, Mrs. Frank Perez of Snyder; four daughters, Mrs. Paul Villanueva, Gloria, Emma and Mary Lou, all of the home; two sons, Paul of Snyder and Isabell of Lake Tahoe, Calif.; four sisters, and two brothers."

Many Roads Hazardous

AUSTIN (AP)—Road conditions reported by the Texas Highway Department today, by districts:

Lubbock: Light freezing mist over almost entire district creating hazardous driving conditions. With temperatures of 20 to 30 degrees, forecast is continued freezing mist or light snow through today.

Childress: Light freezing mist in most of district is causing ice to form on bridges and some sections of pavement. Conditions are expected to continue until noon Thursday. All bridges sanled.

Amarillo: Light snow and freezing mist. Roads are expected to be slick by nightfall. Temperatures range from 16 to 36 degrees.

Odessa: Slight icing condition in Martin County with driving hazardous due to fog. Rest of district free of ice.

New State Bank Sought At Lubbock

AUSTIN (AP)—State Banking Commissioner J. M. Falkner said today that an application has been made for a new state bank in Lubbock.

The proposed Guaranty Bank (Town-and-Country-Shoping Center) would have capital of $200,000, surplus of $125,000 and reserves of $75,000.

Wallace B. Blankenship is projected as chairman of the board and J. G. Thornhill as president. Other directors, all from Lubbock, include Jim S. Moore, Ira G. Dunlap Jr., Joe Arrington Jr., W. G. McMillan Jr. and Walter W. McNatt.

No date has been set for a hearing.

Choral groups from Snyder Public Schools will present their annual program of Christmas music Thursday night in the Snyder High School Auditorium.

The program will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Although participation will be as great, or greater, than ever, the program is not expected to consume as much time this year as it has in the past, said Tom Adams, director of choral music at the high school. Sixth grade choirs from all elementary schools in the city will be combined into one large choir for the event. In addition, there will be three choirs from Travis Junior High, two choirs from Lamar Junior High and two choirs from the senior high school.

The program by the school choral groups has been one of the community's most popular Christmas activities each year for some time.

18th Session Of Assembly Ended

By TOM HOGE
Associated Press Staff Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. General Assembly ended its 18th session Tuesday night, a three-month meeting marked by a new lull in the cold war and a new peak in African attacks on segregation and colonialism.

The session opened with delegates heartened by the atmosphere of East-West harmony and ended with many apprehensive over what effect President John F. Kennedy's assassination might have on the world.

This anxiety was eased somewhat by President Johnson's assurance to the assembly Tuesday that he would carry on Kennedy's international policies.

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko hailed Johnson's speech as "a positive approach to world problems."

GOODFELLOWS

Today was the last day that applications for Goodfellow and were to be accepted at the Goodfellow office. Other needy families, if brought to the attention of the Goodfellows, would, however, be given what help would be possible to give on short notice.

Before the application office closed some 250 families had been registered as needing help.

A donation to the Goodfellows has to go a long way. Even though the application office is closed, donations are still being accepted at both banks and may be mailed to Box 661.

The United Fund campaign office reported this morning that although only 40 per cent of the prospect cards had been reported to the office, the fund had achieved 60 per cent of its goal of $38,000.

Over 1,600 prospect cards had been issued to United Fund volunteer workers. Nine hundred cards are still unreported, the office said.

Wayland Holt, general campaign chairman, urged all those who have worked their cards to report those cards to the campaign office. Those who have yet to make their solicitations are urged to do so in time to report the cards in to the office before noon Saturday.

"We can meet our goal if workers will contact their prospects," Holt said. "The longer one waits the closer we get to Christmas, and it will be more difficult to find time to make the solicitations." Holt said in urging workers to contact "their prospects as soon as possible."

The students said they were protesting the fatal stabbing of a student from Ghana by a Russian last Friday.

The Africans broke past barricades into Red Square, where Russians march on May Day and on the anniversary of the October Revolution, but the scene was more reminiscent of the wild days of the revolution in 1917.

The students bore a sign showing a knife plunged into the head of an African. Another sign declared: "Friend today the devil tomorrow."

"Moscow is a second Albania," shouted one student.

The students fought police all the way to Red Square from the Ghanaian Embassy a mile away where they first gathered.

They stormed over a barricade of Soviet trucks at the entrance to Red Square, fighting police on top of the trucks and underneath.

The big gates of Spassky Tower, the main entrance from the Kremlin into Red Square, banged shut as students fought over police position and tried to get into the Kremlin.

They stormed past the office of Khrushchev. They were separated from his office by the big red brick wall of the Kremlin. Whether he was inside his office was not known.

Icy Highway Is Blamed In Crash

An icy road 18 miles north of Snyder was blamed for a fatal crash today in which a Volkswagen driven by the wife of a Dyess Air Force Base airman skidded and overturned.

Mrs. Martha Rodgers was taken to a hospital in Post where she was treated and released. The mishap was investigated by Texas Highway Patrolmen stationed in Snyder.

The patrolmen reported late this morning that while most of the road from Snyder north to Lubbock was clear, there were enough icy spots to make driving hazardous.

A freezing mixture of drizzle and fog glazed Texas from the upper Panhandle southward to around Midland and Abilene early Wednesday. All areas of the state were promised a sharp chill by Thursday.

Temperatures dipped as low as 13 above zero before dawn at Dalhart behind the latest cold where in the south.

Foreign Aid Bill Headed Into New Senate Battle

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The foreign aid program headed into a new Senate fight today.

The stage for a new round of debate was set when the Senate Appropriations Committee Tuesday approved a measure carrying $3,299,500,000 in new appropriations for overseas assistance — as compared with the $2,801,700,000 the House voted Monday.

The Senate group also dropped a House amendment that would prohibit the government from guaranteeing private financing of any kind of U.S. grain to Communist bloc countries.

Senate Democratic Leader

Mike Mansfield planned to bring up the bill late today under a unanimous consent agreement in the hope of getting final action before the Christmas holiday adjournment.

But other proponents of the program conceded there was a possibility of further cuts before the Senate sends the measure to a conference with the House for ironing out differences between Senate and House versions.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said the final compromise probably would be in the neighborhood of $3 billion in new money and $209 million in carryover funds, compared with the late President

John F. Kennedy's request for $4.5 billion.

In addition to efforts to trim money from the committee bill, a major fight may center on an effort by Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., appealing the committee's action deleting the House amendment prohibiting the Export-Import Bank from guaranteeing repayment of credits to Communist purchasers of U.S. grains and other surplus farm commodities.

Mundt said he would ask for a separate roll-call vote on the issue. He was defeated when he offered a similar proposal as a separate bill Nov. 28. The measure was tabled, thus killed, by a 57-35 vote.

UAL Dispute Reportedly Is Settled

WASHINGTON (AP) — A dispute between the AFL-CIO Machinists and United Air Lines was reportedly today to have been settled. The union had threatened to strike early Thursday.

Spokesmen for both the airline and the union declined to discuss the report.

It was learned that management and worker representatives were in a joint session at midmorning, but neither side would say what was under discussion.

An informed source said the controversy, involving wages and other issues, had been resolved but that he lacked details. There was no immediate confirmation from the National Mediation Service which had been taking part in negotiations between the union and the airline.

Red Germans Expected To Intensify Their Campaign

By JOHN O. KOEHLER
Associated Press Writer
BERLIN (AP) — The East German Communists probably will not wait long before intensifying their drive to whittle away the Western Allies' rights in West Berlin and win international recognition for the Red regime.

A few hours after signing an agreement with the West Berlin city government Tuesday allowing West Berliners to visit relatives in East Berlin during Christmas, Communist Deputy Premier Alexander Abusch told a news conference this morning that the East German government would take further steps to normalize relations.

In Communist jargon, to "normalize relations" means to remove Western troops from West Berlin, a goal first announced by Premier Khrushchev in 1958.

The East Germans gloated as if the agreement meant that the West Berlin government — and with it the Allies — recognized the Red regime as a legal German government. They also acted as if the West Berlin government, by signing the agreement, showed itself to be a separate entity isolated from the West, a claim the Reds have voiced many times.

Because West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt has said repeatedly he would not negotiate with the East German government, it seemed at first glance that the Communists had scored an important victory.

But the joint protocol on the agreement says neither side could agree on "terminology" of places, authorities and officials.

In other words, East Berlin still is East Berlin and West Berlin still is just that, and both sides acknowledged this.

It thus appears that neither side won a political victory. But both went further in the negotiations than they were or less Congress acts.

Several bills are now pending in Congress, all of which provide for voluntary controls.

Freeman told a news conference Tuesday that Johnson's major purpose in summoning the farm leaders to the White House was to impress on them the need of common front in attacking farm problems.

Johnson, Farm Leaders Confer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, moving from one national problem to another, sits down today with agricultural leaders in an effort to find agreement on ways to avert a sharp election-year drop in farm income.

Johnson, a rancher himself, summoned leaders of six national farm organizations to the White House to discuss a new government wheat program.

One is needed, says Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, if wheat farmers' incomes are not to tumble $600 million next year.

So far, the major farm organizations have been unable to agree on a plan.

The American Farm Bureau Federation has been holding out against government controls, while most of the others have endorsed production restrictions.

The organizations invited to send officials include the Farm Bureau Federation, National Grange, National Farmers Union, National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, National Farmers Organization and the Cooperative League of the U.S.A.

Powell To Be Promoted

COLLEGE STATION, TEX. (AP) — Ed E. Powell, Texas peace officer before he joined the Texas A&M police training school, will become director of the University's campus security office Jan. 1, President Earle B. Caddell of Texas A&M said today.

Powell served as a Texas highway patrolman for 15 years in Abilene and was elected to two terms as sheriff of Taylor County before joining the A&M staff. The Plainview native has 26 years of law enforcement experience.

Rep. Barnes Is Honored

BROWNWOOD, TEX. (AP) — Gov. John Connally and President Johnson sent messages of praise as state Rep. Ben Barnes of De Leon was honored at an appreciation dinner Tuesday night.

Connally, still recovering from a bullet wound inflicted by President Kennedy's assassin, telephoned congratulations from the governor's mansion in Austin. He called Barnes, 25, a "fine young statesman."

President Johnson said in a telegram: "I salute Ben Barnes, one of the outstanding young legislators in this hour of Texas history."

About 1,000 persons attended the dinner, which some had criticized as the start of a campaign backing Barnes for speaker of the house.

Asked whether he would be interested in the speaker's post, Barnes said:

"I think it would be premature to think of another race at this time. Right at the moment, I'm only interested in one race, the one in this four-county district."

Barnes represents Coleman, Brown, Runnels and Comanche counties.

Source Of Baker Cash Is Sought

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators said today they are trying to ferret out where Robert G. Baker got the thousands of dollars in cash a witness testified he kept in his Senate office.

To help them, President Johnson signed an executive order permitting the Rules Committee, which is carrying on the inquiry, to examine the tax files of Baker, Johnson's protégé when the President was Senate Democratic leader.

Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., said he regarded the testimony about the money as "the big point" at the committee's first public hearings Tuesday in its investigation of Baker's business dealings and allegations of conflict of interest.

CHRISTMAS BREADS — The Homemaking girls of Snyder High School were busy the past week or so making delicious goodies such as those above. This group of holiday breads were brought by students Monday morning for their teacher, Miss Vera Periman

China Grove News

By MRS. N. F. HALL

The Dunn Eastern Star Chapter No. 358 held its regular meeting Thursday night. Fretta Billingsley, Worthy Matron, and Hugh Billingsley, Worthy Patron, after the closing of the chapter, presented a Christmas program.

Being the birthday of a favorite member, the "Happy Birthday" song was sang to Bro. Roy Havens.

Mrs. T. E. Arnold accompanied by her daughter, Laurie on the piano, sang "Christmas Chop Sticks"; Mary Lou Crawford, accompanied by Vernice Laster sang "Silent Night"; Bro. Roy Havens told the story about the "Birth of Christ"; Mrs. Arnold sang "Brahm's Lullaby"; and Nora Jo Denison led the closing prayer.

Following the program the group went to the dining room which was decorated with Christmas scenes, and were served refreshments of coffee and doughnuts.

Visitors were from Hermleigh and Snyder.

Mrs. Lizie Webb and Mrs. Mae Webb of Snyder visited Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Webb this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Brown visited their great-granddaughter in Colorado City Saturday. She was born Dec. 10 and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Pylant.

Sunday guests in the N. F. Hall home were Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hall and Weldon of Happy and Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Webb of China Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Mize Sr. and family visited Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Clark and children of Colorado City Saturday night.

Mrs. Hollis Mize Sr. recently visited Mrs. Jim Barkley of Big Spring.

Mrs. Smythe Hostess To Christmas Party

Mrs. Lee Smythe was hostess Monday night for the annual Christmas dinner of the Rebecca Sunday School Class of First Baptist Church. Following the lovely meal, Mrs. Katharine Shelburn gave an interesting talk on "Happiness".

Those attending were: Mrs. Opal Sullivan, Mary Bess McCravy, Floy Eades, Martha Moore, Evelyn Duff, Eva Moore, Cleo Caperton, Mollie Rains, Gladys Shaw, Gwen Nordyke, Viola Payne, Hazel Buswell and Johnny McKinnon.

Broadway Memoirs Written Between Shows

By WILLIAM GLOVER
AP Drama Writer

NEW YORK, (U-P) — George Abbott, Broadway's undisputed senior celebrity, is pondering the perils of candor now that he's a book author.

"When I read the proof-sheets, I panicked," says the man who has faced unflinchingly 102 Main Stem opening nights.

The volume, "Mister Abbott" is a brisk docket of memoir and opinion, done in the swift, pithy manner that marks his in-person behavior and on-stage productivity. Its publication date, Nov. 25, was the 50th anniversary of the start of his White Way career — as an actor in "The Redhead Lady."

"I felt that if I didn't have the courage for ruthless self-characterization, the book would have no function," he notes of his determination to avoid penning another name-dropping album.

"Writing it took a couple of years — I'd do another section between shows. I rewrote it once and then went over it with an editor. I did take out some things — not because they were too frank, but because of redundancy."

Among the personal reminiscences including an episode that stirred sisterly reproval—Abbott sprinkles comment on such diverse matters as the creative process, Christian Science and homosexuality.

"Time after time people told me I should write an autobiography," he says, "but it wasn't until one night at a dinner party when a friend said, 'Your ideas of life are so interesting' that I really gave it a thought. The flattery got me."

During a career of theatrical versatility, Abbott has been involved with shows in five capacities that have frequently overlapped: an actor 15 times; playwright or coauthor, 26; producer or coproducer 42; director 75, "doctor," a catchall category of assorted functions, on 8 occasions.

"About one-quarter of them were gratifying," he says in post-authorship conversation, "but nearly always you come away with some reason for gratification — a new talent helped, experience gained."

Among the biggest triumphs were "Broadway," "Cocolette," "Three Men on a Horse," "Boy Meets Girl," "Brother Rat" and, currently, "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" and "Never Too Late."

"You like the hits," he asserts, "but of the flops, none was unjustified."

Sometimes, he's passed up association with a venture that turned out to be highly successful.

to grade. They are then allowed to give them for gifts, sell them or treat their families to the homemade goodies. Pictured above from left are: Connie Robinson, Patricia Jeffries, Kay Sullenger, Betty Buchanan, Frankie Steel, Linda Horn and Betty Knott.

ful — but with only rare twinges of regret.

"In the last five years there have been more calls than ever before," Abbott reports, "but I'm unwilling to spend as much time in the theater." The reason is golf. He became enamored of that pastime four years ago, and 12 months back determined to limit stage work to spring and autumn.

The demand for his services effectively disposes of any thought that in his 76th year Abbott might consider retirement. Besides he's too full of energy.

Comparing his freshman trials with those of newcomers today, he feels "it's a lot easier now to get into the theater — now if you don't have a job you get unemployment pay."

Broadly, however, he finds things are today as in 1913 — "Taste and style change, but not people."

Getting back to the book,

Abbott concedes that a couple of showmanship instincts were at work during the polishing process.

The volume is cryptically dedicated "to my best friend." The author's eye twinkles, at the discussions that may cause at the same time is sure the actual person will know. His book also has no index — a deliberate omission.

"A lot of people might like to find out in a hurry if I mention them," he smiles. "But this is no reference book. If they want to find out, they've got to read the whole thing."

Acacia Club Hear Snyder Students

The Acacia Study Club was delighted with a program about the Monroe Doctrine at their December meeting, held at Martha Ann Woman's Club.

Mrs. J. D. Hinton introduced Mr. Bob Taylor, the Forensic Director at Snyder High School. Mr. Taylor presented three of his students, who gave three enlightening talks concerning the Monroe Doctrine. Having been given the program topic only the day before, the students gathered information, past and present.

In 1823, the Monroe Doctrine was just two paragraphs on paper, and was stated by the students to be no stronger than the people who back it up. The first speaker, Aleta January, a junior, gave an extemporaneous talk about the doctrine. Millie Smith, a junior also, spoke in both types of speech, extemporaneous and persuasive. The third speaker was Diana Afor, a senior, whose talk was persuasive.

Mr. Taylor explained that this is the third year for the program in Snyder High School and it was designed to supplement a students studies as a self improvement. It is intended to provide a new type of communication in a crowded, intellectual society and to replace the static, long prepared speeches with a dynamic approach equal to our changing ideas and ideas.

At the November meeting of Acacia Study Club, members heard an interesting program by Mrs. Gordon Dysart.

Mrs. Dysart brought out Jefferson's far sightedness in his political views about the government for it's people. Parchment copies of the original constitution and the Declaration of Independence were shown to the members.

Mrs. James Mathis, president, welcomed two new members to the club, Mrs. Jim Graham and Miss Carol Payne.

A brief business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Betty Atkinson, president. The club voted to give $5 to the Goodwillies, and the January 6 meeting will be at the home of Mrs. G. A. Parks Jr.

Each member brought a salad for the supper. Secret pairs were revealed and new names drawn as gifts were presented. Assisting Mrs. Sims were Mrs. Bobbie Kizer, Mrs. Edna Newman and Mrs. Velda White. Others present were Mrs. Beth Hicks, Cathrine Abbrion, Pat Stephens, Pat Burnett, Alzada Middleton, Joyce Landon, Peggy Hardin, Aline Parks and Miss Forre.

Long Wait Still Ahead For Dealing With Red Chinese

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's administration, like President John F. Kennedy's, is reconciled to a long wait before there can be hope of dealing with Red China in a reasonable and peaceful way. The hope, such as it is, apparently is based on the idea that when the present leaders of China die out the men who take over — younger men just below the top now — will be more realistic about the world they live in.

This was the essence of a talk made a few days ago by Roger Hilsman, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs.

It is not a new idea in history that the pioneers in a political movement are often impelled by fanaticism to convert and dominate and that the zeal remains undiminished in their lifetime. The result is extremism.

The early revolutionaries have nothing to lose but his life, which he is willing to lose, along with that of everyone else. If death doesn't stop him he may create a new order. This is what his successors inherit.

Now they have more to lose than their lives in any romantic or reckless adventure, certainly in a nuclear time like this, The realization has a sobering and conservative effect.

The Red Chinese leader, Mao Tse-tung, and the other men still around him, all aging now, were the pioneers, the fanatics, who began the Chinese revolution back in the 1920s and never stopped until they won in 1949.

Breakage Peril Of Housewife

By JOY STILLEY
NEW YORK (AP) — Modern science has done wonders, but it still hasn't figured out how to make a dish or glass that I can't break.

Some people leave happiness in their wake as they sail through life. I strew shattered pottery behind me.

Glasses, china, ashtrays, vases slip through my hands like money through a compulsive gambler's. It's not just fragile things I manage to fracture — the toughest jelly glass has a short life in my kitchen.

I buy glasses a dozen at a time, hoping I can set a matching table for at least a little while. I manage to go through the first 11 in short order, but the final glass in each set proves almost indestructible. Consequently there are usually seven or eight glasses of completely different design in my cabinet.

As for china, I have the remnants of five different sets on my shelves. If a cup matches its saucer it's a coincidence. If the cup still has a handle it's a miracle.

With the advent of plastic, the turnover hasn't been quite as rapid, but somehow I manage to break even the unbreakable.

My husband came to my rescue on my last birthday. He presented me with a beautiful set of milk-white glasses covered with a colored rubbery plastic coating. In the box was a certificate announcing in bold letters "Guaranteed a full year." Carefully I put the guarantee away — but not too far away.

Sure enough, within a few weeks one of my new glasses went the way of its predecessors.

Smugly I took the guarantee slip out. There it was, "guaranteed a full year."

Inside the folder in letters not quite so big were the words "Guaranteed for one year from purchase date against chipping, discoloring or peeling of plastic coating."

And underneath this in still smaller type: "Glasses not guaranteed against breakage."

Chamizal Treaty Delights Mexicans

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexicans were jubilant at word Wednesday that the U.S. Senate had approved the Chamizal treaty, returning to this country a long-disputed strip of land in El Paso, Tex.

News commentators hailed this formal approval of the agreement as an example of the good will in relations between the two countries since the late President Kennedy took office.

Prompt ratification of the treaty by the Senate, one commentator said, shows that President Johnson is following closely in Kennedy's steps.

Pay Is Sought For Tapes Of Bullfights

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexican matadors are asking pay for taped showings of the bullfights on television.

A union delegation headed by Enrique Esparza said boxers receive pay when films of their fights are televised later but matadors do not. Videotapes of bullfights are shown throughout Mexico and even in Los Angeles and San Antonio.

Junior Editors Quiz on READING

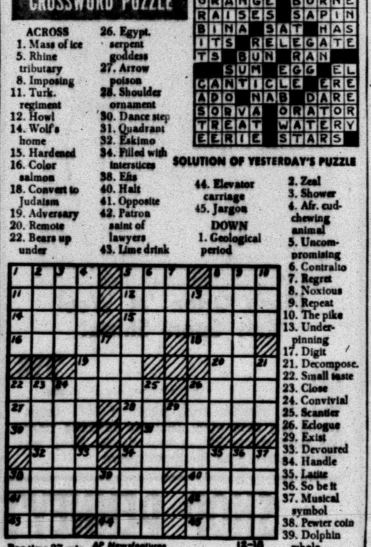

QUESTION: We see a whole page—so why do our eyes move when we read?

ANSWER: You may see a whole page, but it is only a blur; even if you get some idea of what is there, you don't comprehend the words. To get the full meaning, you must concentrate on one line at a time and will only be able to see a few words sharply (1), (2) and (3). This is because the eyes can only take in a small area; having sent the message of what is there to the brain, they move to another area and send another message. This movement is so smooth and fast that the meaning comes through as clearly as if someone was speaking. Experts say that if, at each pause of the eyes' movement, you can train yourself to get the meaning of more words, you will be able to read faster and enjoy it more. They also say, that in reading for information, it is a good idea to skim rapidly over a page first. Many recommend "SQ3R" which means skim, form questions in your mind about the subject, read, reread and review.

FOR YOU TO DO: Check the different degrees of meaning you get from (1), (2) and (3). Certainly (1) doesn't give you much, but with (2) you begin to get a picture in your mind; with (3), a picture with sound effects. If you could have read further, you would have found the boy was yelling with joy—summer vacation had just begun.

Doubt First Bullet Fatal

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy may have survived the first bullet to strike him in the Dallas assassination, a source familiar with autopsy findings reports; it was the second bullet which proved fatal.

This source said Tuesday night the first bullet fired by Kennedy's assassin struck the President in the back and did not damage any vital organs. He said it was not likely to have caused death.

This account of Kennedy's wounds differed sharply from earlier reports provided by physicians who ministered to the President shortly after he was shot Nov. 22.

Doctors who attended Kennedy in the emergency room at Parkland Hospital in Dallas found two wounds, one in the throat and one in the head. They expressed some uncertainty whether both were caused by the same bullet. But they said that if two bullets were involved, either wound could have been fatal.

Here is the new account of the wounds, as reported by a source fully acquainted with results of a post-mortem examination conducted at the Bethesda, Md., Naval Hospital.

The first shot struck Kennedy in the back, made what was described as a small, neat hole and penetrated two or three inches without damaging vital organs.

The bullet may even have entered Kennedy's back after first glancing off some part of the presidential limousine, since its penetration was not deep when compared with the damage done by the other shots fired by the assassin. This first bullet was said to have been the one that was recovered from the stretcher on which Kennedy was carried into the hospital.

The second bullet to strike Kennedy — the third bullet fired — left a large hole in the back of the President's head, destroyed considerable brain tissue and severely damaged the forehead. This wound caused instant death, although a faint spark of life may have remained for a few minutes in the heart and lungs.

This bullet, the source said, was recovered from the limousine.

The second shot fired by the assassin hit Gov. John B. Connally of Texas in the chest as he turned toward Kennedy after the first bullet hit the President. He was seated in front of Kennedy on a jump seat.

Since there was an interval of five or six seconds between Kennedy's first and second wounds, the new account leaves the implication that Kennedy might have survived — perhaps escaped serious injury — had he quickly thrown himself to the floor of his limousine after the first bullet struck.

It seems apparent, however, that the first wound was so small and starting that Kennedy was unable to react immediately enough to throw his hands in front of him. Assuming the first wound was not fatal, Kennedy's life might also have been saved had someone shielded him or knocked him to the floor of the car in the interval before he was struck in the head.

Secret Service agents are trained to react in such a fashion, but none was close enough to the President to intervene.

India Visit Is Added To Pope's Slate

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW
Associated Press Staff Writer
NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Pope Paul VI has accepted an invitation to visit India for his second break with the tradition against papal travel abroad, officials said Tuesday night.

The Pope will make a pilgrimage to the Holy Land Jan. 4-6, ending a period of 150 years in which papal travel has been restricted to Italy.

Officials at the Vatican declined to confirm the report, but Vatican circles said there was a good chance Pope Paul might attend the International Eucharistic Congress in Bombay next November.

Indian sources said the invitation was extended by President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan through India's envoy at the Vatican.

Predominantly Hindu India has seven million Roman Catholics, including many in Bombay.

In recent years popes have sent personal messages to ex-patriate Christians. Pope John XXIII addressed the last congress, in Munich, Germany, by a telephone hookup.

It has been traditional for the Pope to delegate a cardinal to represent him at the congresses.

With the unwritten restriction on foreign travel broken by the Holy Land pilgrimage, there would be no reason for Pope Paul not to attend the Bombay congress.

Former Texan Is Charged In Slaying

MIGUEL ALEMAN, Mexico (AP) — A former resident of Houston and Robstown, Tex., has been charged with murder in the pistol slaying of Jose Quintanilla.

Quintanilla, a young bartender, was riddled with six slugs as he lay on a bed behind the Texas Bar in the local vice zone.

Epigenio Reyes Berdin, 40, was arraigned Wednesday. He told the judge he shot the younger man in self defense.

Police said the killing stemmed from an underworld quarrel over the drug traffic.

46 Per Cent Of Funds Go To Colleges

AUSTIN (AP)—Of the more than $3.1 billion the state government will spend during the current and fiscal years, 46 per cent or $1.4 billion will go for public and higher education.

These figures are given in a mid-term report distributed Tuesday by Gov. John Connally to state legislators on how money appropriated during the last legislative session is being spent. The current biennium began Sept. 1.

For each $1 spent, the report said, 35 cents will go to public education, 11 cents to higher education, 28 cents to highways and roads, 15 cents for public welfare, 4 cents for health and hospitals, 2 cents for law enforcement and corrections and 5 cents for other government functions, including the legislature.

Sales taxes will bring in 37 cents of every tax dollar to the state; federal aid will provide 24 cents; severance and production 12 cents; franchise and gross receipts and occupational taxes 8 cents; licenses and permits 10 cents and other income 9 cents.

Rising costs of state programs, the report stated, are the result of the population expansion. It adds:

"More children require more teachers and professors, more citizens mean more hospitals and larger prison facilities, more on public welfare roles."

The 45-page report prepared by Connally's budget director, Bill Cobb, said the cost of the state's six major programs increased 156 per cent during 1950-62.

New Theory Is Being Presented

By KELLY SMITH
Associated Press Staff Writer
PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) —

The $400,000 oceanfront mansion where Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her children will spend the holidays has eight bedrooms, nine servants rooms, an inside garden, and a 75-foot heated swimming pool. But no Christmas tree.

It's secluded behind a 10-foot-high stone wall and a thicket of palms. A guard stands at the gate. This Christmas, as on two past, there will be Secret Service men on the grounds.

The Kennedys leased the home in 1961. The late President could not cram his Secret Service, aides and equipment into the nearby home of his father, Joseph P. Kennedy.

The Kennedys returned in 1962. The mansion was designed in 1939 for the late financier Charles Ulrich Bay. The current owner is millionaire Col. C. Michael Paul. Longtime friend of the Kennedy family.

Col. Paul referred modestly to his home as "one okay for a generously sized family."

Rooms? Oh, I have more than I should have. I've really lost count, but I have lots.

"There's lots of room for children's play, 400 feet of private beach, and a spacious lawn. Why no Christmas tree?"

"Maybe," said a yard man, "they're waiting for some children."

DALLAS (AP)—A number of the world's top scientists started summarizing Tuesday their findings on a new theory that the tremendous energy created by "quasi-stellar" objects in distant space is the result of the shrinking or gravitational collapse of super-stars.

The theory—as revolutionary in scientific circles as was the theory of relativity when first offered—has been the center of a three-day symposium attended by more than 300 persons, including many outstanding astronomers, physicists, mathematicians, and authorities on nuclear power, radiation and relativity.

The symposium is not expected to return either an eye or a verdict on the theory, rather.

$30 Million For Brazos

WASHINGTON (AP)—A compromise $816 million water projects authorization bill passed Wednesday by the House provides $30 million for the Brazos river basin in Texas.

House members turned down a move to add a Montana hydroelectric project—the Knowles Dam, to the bill.

Majority leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., said the Senate probably would take up the measure Wednesday or Thursday.

The Senate and House have wrangled over the appropriations measure most of the year. The House has sought to limit the bill to increases on river basin authorizations and the Senate has insisted on adding various individual projects, several of them controversial.

Dr. Fred Hoyle of Cambridge University, and Dr. William A. Fowler of the California Institute of Technology earlier this year advanced the theory after existing theories involving the explosion or collision of stars could not explain the tremendous amounts of energy emitted by objects in deep distant space. The two scientists contend that gravity can exert a force 100 times greater than the most powerful nuclear reaction.

During the symposium there have been papers on radio and optical telescopic findings to give weight to the Hoyle-Fowler theory but there are also many questions raised to which scientists do not yet have the answers.

One of the big questions concerns the concept of "infinite" contraction—whether the gravitational collapse theory leads to infinite contraction, whether a shrinking star could reduce itself to zero volume, and presumably infinite density, with no limit to the amount of energy produced in the process.

Jubilant Winner Shares Applause With His Family

By JACK KEEVER
AUSTIN (AP)—J. J. (Jake) Pickle was a happy winner and he wanted his family and friends to share the applause for his election as congressman from President Johnson's old district.

"Come up here, Dad, come up here, Joe," he shouted to his 87-year-old father, J. B. Pickle of Big Spring, and to a brother.

"Where's Beryl and Peggy?" he asked, looking for his wife and daughter in a crowd of about 200 noisy supporters at his campaign headquarters Tuesday night.

They joined him as did a son, Dick, 20. Another son, Graham, 16, was playing in a basketball game, his mother said.

For Pickle it was a victory in his first race after 15 years as a political adviser in Texas Democratic party.

He beat Republican Jim Dobbs in a runoff and will replace Rep. Homer Thornberry, D-Tex., whose resignation is effective Friday.

Waving and laughing, Pickle stood on a folding chair to make himself heard above the chanting of the crowd—"All the way, all the way."

"Do I have time to visit?" he asked an aide.

His daughter and wife each kissed him on the cheek. Then

Dobbs claimed Pickle would be a rubber stamp congressman's tool of what he called "the power machine" in Washington. He was backed by Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., and state GOP leaders.

"I feel we are closer to unity in the Democratic party now than we have been in the last 25 years," Pickle told cheering supporters.

In the first vote Nov. 9, Pickle, generally was classified as a conservative Democrat while a third candidate, Jack Ritter, was labeled a liberal Democrat.

Ritter was squeezed out of the runoff by about 600 votes. Just before Tuesday voting he endorsed Pickle.

Pickle led Dobbs by 648 votes in the 41,000 cast Nov. 9 but Dobbs managed to swing Austin and Travis County, the most populous area of the district, in his favor.

This time Pickle not only reversed the situation in Travis County but got three other counties to switch their decision also. The other three are Blanco, where Johnson votes; and Burnet and Lee.

More than 43,000 voted Wednesday. The vote by counties, unofficial but complete except where noted:

Bastrop (one precinct out): Pickle 1,614, Dobbs 745; Blanco, Pickle 346, Dobbs 241; Burnet (one precinct out): Pickle 726, Dobbs 214; Burnet, Pickle 913, Dobbs 551; Caldwell, Pickle 1,094, Dobbs 525; Hays, Pickle 1,243, Dobbs 638; Lee, Pickle 724, Dobbs 564; Travis, Pickle 16,534, Dobbs 10,385; Washington, Pickle 1,235, Dobbs 1,064; Williamson, Pickle 2,787, Dobbs 1,112.

Pickle also was prominent in a liberal-conservative party clash while a state party leader in 1956-60. "Dollars for Democrats but not a nickel for Pickle," was a liberal battle cry in the feud over financing of state and national party groups.

A native of West Texas, Pickle came to Austin with $60 to enter the University of Texas. He worked to pay his college bills but still had time for campus activities, including a successful race for student body president.

Graduated in 1938 with a degree in government, he took a job as area supervisor of the National Youth Administration. In 1961, Gov. Daniel appointed him a member of the three-man Texas Employment Commission, where he served until he resigned in October.
