Rail Commission Ousted As Oil Agency

New Body For Regulation Is Being Sought

Natural Resources Commission Would Be Set Up Under Bill Passed By House; Would Be In Charge Of Proration

Oil Prices Drop

Head Of Texas Company Said To Be Trying To Bull-Doze Legislature; Cheers Greet Passage Of Bill

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 24.—The house of the Texas legislature today passed finally a bill to oust the Texas railroad commission as the state's oil and gas conservation agency. The vote was 71 ayes to 65 noes.

The bill would establish a natural resources commission to take over administration of the oil and gas conservation and proration statutes. It was passed after one of the most bitter fights of the current session.

Cheers, Shouts Heard

Cheers and shouts were heard from the gallery as Speaker Coke Stevenson announced that the bill had passed.

Sponsors of the new commission plan indicated they would seek prompt disposal of the bill in the senate in the remaining days of the session.

The bill did not receive enough votes in the house to become effective immediately even if passed by the senate and approved by the governor. It would have required 100 votes to make it operative at once. Unless the action is reconsidered, it will not be effective until ninety days from the end of the session.

Action Made Final

The action was made final when a motion to reconsider and table the vote prevailed.

Today's cut in the posted price for East Texas crude, which followed close on an order of the railroad commission increasing the production allowable for the field and a week-end tour of the oil reserve by a group of members of the legislature was brought out prominently in the brief, but spirited debate on the bill.

The railroad commission's order increasing the allowable was issued yesterday and the cut was announced today by one of the major companies. The legislative group's tour of the oil field was reportedly

Reproduction Of Akron Shattered

(By The Associated Press)

AKRON, Ohio, April 24. — An odd coincidence relating to the U. S. S. Akron disaster was reported to Mayor C. Nelson Sparks, of Akron, by a resident of Painesville, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Orvis, of Painesville, were among the crowds that viewed the Akron when it was not quite finished at her dock here, and they purchased a plaster plaque of the dirigible and its hangar. For months the plaque stood on their piano.

Then on the night of the Akron crash, while they were talking with friends, the plaque suddenly fell to the floor. The reproduced hangar was undamaged, but the ship was shattered into many pieces. The plaque fell from its place about 12:30 in the morning.

Tydings Bolts Demo Party To Rap Inflation

Democratic Row Over Program Set Up By Roosevelt Causes Vast Enjoyment In Ranks Of GOP Opponents

Isolation Policy

MacDonald, Herriot, Bennett, Are In Washington; Accord Seen In Conversation With British Leader

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 24. — A Democratic row over the Roosevelt inflationary program brought vast enjoyment to Republican opponents of the legislation today but left unshaken the general confidence of senate passage by Wednesday night.

Senator Tydings, Maryland, Democrat, bolted his party leaders to take a determined stand against the inflation proposal, pending in the senate as a rider to the farm relief bill. It meant, he said, a policy of isolation for America.

Payment Suggested

Meanwhile, Senator Borah (R., Ida.), an inflationist, suggested informally to a group of Democrats that the new money that could be issued under the legislation be used to pay off sixty per cent of the deposits of closed banks.

Ushered in by an encouraging statement of progress from the Anglo-American discussions, the heralded meeting between President Roosevelt and Edouard Herriot of France was looked to tonight to reenforce world cooperation toward trade revival.

Statement Issued

With M. Herriot and Prime Minister Bennett of Canada just welcomed at the White House by the president, he and Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain joined in a statement revealing they had considered "the world price level, central bank policies, monetary standards, exchange restrictions, improvement of the status of silver" and other means of restoring world trade. Reciprocal tariff reductions had

Boost In Prices And Lowering Of Money Value Is Said To Be Keynote Of Inflation Program

Prices Are Low And The Dollar Of 1933 Is Dear; Back In The Days Of 1929 The Dollar Was Cheap And Prices Were Higher; This Is Goal Set By FDR In Program

By J. R. BRACKETT
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 24.—What is inflation?

Advocates define it as:

1. A means of raising prices, particularly those prices which have fallen most.

2. A plan to raise these prices by reducing the value of the dollar through regulation of money system.

All of the many plans now being proposed in congress are based on these two points, whether by use of silver, more currency, lessening of gold content of the dollar, or more credit.

The keynote is to cheapen money in order to raise prices. Money is, in a sense, a commodity, and the price of it is determined in part by supply and demand.

Cheapening the dollar is the reverse way of saying raising prices. The dollar today is dear, prices are low. In 1929 the dollar was cheap, prices were high.

Suppose it were possible to combine a sample of all the

Help Toward The Resumption Of Regular Paydays Asked; Arm Bands Show That They Are Months Behind

Dawes Gets Angry

"To Hell With Troublemakers" Is Shout Of General When Hecklers Interrupt Speech; Governor Appears

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, April 24.—Five thousand militant teachers, getting near the boiling point over this business of working without pay, laid siege to the big loop banks today.

Wearing arm bands to show they were ten months behind in salaries due from the Chicago school board, they stormed the doors of the banks demanding help toward the resumption of regular paydays.

Storms Mayor's Office

After leaving the banks, several hundred of the marchers shoved into the reception room at the offices of Mayor Edward J. Kelly where Gov. Henry Horner, city and county officials were in conference over the tax situation.

In response to a chant of "we want Horner!" the governor appeared.

"I can give you pretty nothings, or the truth," he said, "which do you want "

"The truth!" shouted the teachers.

Everyone Is Alarmed

"Well, then, the truth is that everyone who knows the situation is extremely concerned," the governor said, "not only concerned, but alarmed. The only way we can get money is through taxes—and payments are far overdue."

At the City National bank a delegation of 500 swarmed in the street shouting, "We want Dawes; we want Dawes!"

After a half hour the doors to the lobby suddenly swung open. Through the entrance the teachers jammed, and down the lobby came Gen. Charles G. Dawes, chairman of the board, to meet them. A corps of uniformed guards was behind him, blocking the teachers from penetrating beyond the lobby.

Dawes Gets Hot

"Well, here I am," said General Dawes as the crowd surrounded him.

"You want to get something done. That's what you're here for. Well, so do I want to get something done. I know the tax warrant situation as well as you do."

As he advised them to give the new mayor a chance, hecklers started interrupting. Dawes frowned, tried to continue, and as the interruptions persisted he turned with a flash of Dawesian brusqueness and

Regulation Of Beer Sales In Texas Offered

Texas Senate Clears The Way For Floor Consideration Of Proposals; Rules Outlined If Brew Is Legalized

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 24. — The Texas senate today had cleared the way for floor consideration of proposals to legalize the manufacture and sale of 3.2 per cent beer in this state. The house already had acted to submit a proposed constitutional amendment and passed a bill that would regulate the sale and license dealers, should the voters authorize the change in Texas' dry status.

The senate state affairs committee reported the regulatory bill with a unanimous recommendation that it pass after a sub-group had rewritten the house version. The committee on constitutional amendments several days ago reported the resolution proposing to submit the question in a special election on August 26.

Early Action Seen

It was believed the beer proposals would be brought to the floor for final disposition on tomorrow or next day.

The regulatory bill would make it unlawful for persons engaged in the beer business to contribute to any political campaign and would levy a sales tax of $1.50 a barrel on beer and forbid the sale of beer to persons under 18 years of age.

In addition to the sales tax a license of $500 annually would be exacted of manufacturers, $200 from general distributors, $50 from local distributors, $100 from retailers who permit consumption on the premises.

Provides Local Option

Under the proposed constitutional amendment, political sub-divisions that were dry when Texas adopted constitutional prohibition would retain that status until the voters in a local option election directed otherwise.

The county commissioners court would be forced to call a local option election whenever ten per cent of the qualified voters demand it, except that elections could not be held more often than once every

Unique Gift To School Planned

(Special to the Avalanche)

ABERNATHY, April 24.— One of the most unique gifts ever left by a Senior class as a remembrance is being discussed by the 1933 graduates of Abernathy high school. Financing the gift is one question to be solved before the parting gift can be assured, one student stated. The seniors hope to install a telephone in the superintendent's office, paying for installation charges and nine months' service in advance. Although the class has not decided definitely on this plan, it is believed they will carry it out. It will be the first time a telephone has been used in the local school, and it will be one of considerable benefit, Mayor W. H. Brown said last week. School trustees, teachers and parents are all in favor of the idea, they state.

Testimony In Bond Case At Lamesa Starts Today

Conditions Are Barely Changed

(By The Associated Press)

AMARILLO, April 24. — J. D. Gamble, deputy United States marshal, opined today: "Conditions don't change an awful lot over a period of 50 years."

The reason for his musings was the opening of a safety deposit box from which he drew:

A "trade dollar" coined in 1878. The United States was off the gold standard then and is now.

A "Columbian Exposition" half dollar, commemorating the world's fair in Chicago in 1893. Chicago is getting ready for another.

An ancient paper which showed Gamble to be the youngest sheriff in Tennessee at the age of 22. That was in 1894. Gamble still is an officer.

Brownfield Slaying Case Is Recalled; Jury Selected

(Special to The Avalanche)

LAMESA, April 24. — Testimony will begin in 106th district court Tuesday in the murder trial of J. A. Bond, charged with killing J. C. White in 1931 at Brownfield. Gordon B. McGuire is presiding judge.

Jurors, named today, were: G. C. Futrell, drayman; W. H. Green, Geo. Hardesty, Ernest Jones, J. A. Hudson, C. Gillispie, all farmers; Gus Ragsdale, filling station operator; W. Jack, Fritz Volger, C. F. Middleton, R. E. Echols, and J. B. Britt, all farmers.

Drew 50 Years

In a trial at Brownfield last year, Bond drew 50 years, but the court of criminal appeals reversed the verdict on the grounds that a change of venue should have been granted.

District Attorney G. H. Nelson and County Attorney Dyrel Kirk are conducting the prosecution. Defense attorneys are J. D. Brookerson of Benjamin and Vance Swain, Foard county judge. The defense indicated, during questioning of lawyers, that self-defense would be pleaded, and that a suspended sentence would be sought.

Standley, now commander of cruisers of the scouting force, as the new chief of naval operations to succeed Admiral William V. At the navy department it was stated that President Roosevelt himself desired Admiral Pratt to remain in his present command and Secretary Swanson said today he would be retained until the outcome of the present Geneva arms conference and other international negotiations is clear. Pratt reached retirement age on March 1.

In the meanwhile, Admiral Standley will be assigned as commander of the battle force.

Stocks Continue In Upward Trend

NEW YORK, April 24. (AP)—Staples and shares began the new week still boiling with the heat of prospective inflation today.

Shares in the New York stock exchange pushed up $1 to $3 in heavy trading during the morning, then slid off to lose about half their gains during the middle of the day. The list backed and filled erratically during the afternoon, but closed with many advances of $1 to $2 a share. Transfers approximated 4,805,340 shares.

Commodities also fluctuated somewhat uncertainly. Cotton in New York was up more than a dollar a bale at the best, but closed with net gains of only 5 to 40 cents.

Wheat in the Chicago market likewise lost much of an early advance, but rebounded swiftly in the late dealings, to close up 1 to 2 cents a bushel. Both wheat and cotton reached new highs for the recovery.

Applicants For Work In Government Program Visit Recruiting Post Here

YOUNG men who wish to enlist for six months' employment in the federal works program already are visiting the office in the federal building here of Sgt. J. G. McDermitt, army recruiting officer. The sergeant, however, said he was awaiting instructions from Lt. Col. Lawrence Westbrook of Austin before accepting applications.

Sergeant McDermitt said that he would accept applications for eligible unmarried American citizens between the ages of 18 and 25, inclusive, give them physical examinations, and forward the applications to Westbrook. The director of Texas relief commission will choose the applicants.

Men recruited here will be sent to Fort Sill, Okla. They will serve the full six months, unless discharged.

Applicants who wish to send home the greater part of their $30 monthly cash allotment for the support of a dependent will receive preference. The youths must pay their expenses to the stations of enlistment, but none of them will leave their homes until further instructions are received.

Applicants from this area will receive preliminary training and necessary equipment at Fort Sill, at Lawton, Okla., before being sent to work camps. From the time the applicant passes the physical examination the government will bear all his expenses.

Sound-Proof Doors Of Insane Hospital Close Monday With Ruth Judd Inside; Quarrels With Her Mother

(By The Associated Press)

PHOENIX, Ariz., April 24.—Winnie Ruth Judd started her life anew today—as an inmate of Arizona's hospital for the insane.

The closing behind her of the sound-proof doors of "ward D," the observation section in which she was assigned a cubicle to herself, marked the end, for the time being at least, of her year and a half fight to avoid giving up her life on the gallows for the slaying of Agnes Anne Leroi.

Hanging Set For Friday

The slender blonde young woman would have been hanged at the state prison next Friday, had not a sanity jury in Florence on Saturday decreed the asylum. For the slaying of Hedvig Samuelson, shot to death with Mrs. Leroi on the night of October 16, 1931, she has not been tried.

After her arrival in Phoenix from the state prison, Mrs. Judd's official entry into the hospital was delayed only long enough to allow Warden A. G. Walker of the prison to deliver her commitment papers to Dr. J. R. Judd, superintendent of the asylum. The commitment had been signed by Superior Court Judge E. L. Green in Florence two hours before. Mrs. Judd again threatened today to kill herself.

Mother Pays Visit

The outbreak was during a visit of her mother, Mrs. H. J. McKinnell, to the state prison quarters before Mrs. Judd was transferred here.

Mrs. Ella Heath, head matron at the prison, had left Mrs. McKinnell alone with her daughter, after exacting, she said, a promise from Mrs. Judd to "behave herself."

The argument, prison attendants and Mrs. McKinnell said, developed over family affairs, Mrs. Judd demanding to know why her broth-

Informal Reception Follows First Presbyterian Auxiliary Program

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE SEAN WILSON
Avalanche Woman's Editor

AT the semi-annual meeting of the County Federation of Women's clubs next Saturday, a county-wide beautification campaign is to be discussed and plans for carrying out this program will be adopted for presentation, if present plans are carried out.

Invitations have been sent to a number of county clubs, besides the 14 holding membership in the Federation, to have delegates at the meeting to hear, among other things, these beautification plans. Some of these clubs, it is hoped, will pay the dollar-a-year membership fee and become a part of the union.

If the beautification campaign is launched and carried out, it will be a great thing for the county.

The Lubbock Garden club has challenged other organizations and individuals in planting thousands of trees along the leading highways into the city. The City Federation of Women's clubs has had a part in city beautification and individual clubs have been promoting rose gardens, parks and other projects that help to make Lubbock attractive.

If this beautification program is made more comprehensive and the various communities and towns have more parks, more trees, more lawns and flower beds as a result, the results will be something of which every citizen can be proud.

It isn't the easiest thing in the world to have a flower garden or a beautiful grove of trees in this section but the soil is rich and care and cultivation will bring results.

The pioneers in this section set the pace for later residents in beautification. With but one or two exceptions, every rancher who settled on the plains planted trees and shrubs. Those who first started Lubbock, Plainview and the other settlements followed their example and had roses, flags, honeysuckle, lilacs, cotton woods, locusts and fruit trees in their yards. Until the ranches were cut up into farms and the renters came to the country every place was a spot of beauty and settlements over the plains area were marked by clumps or rows of trees.

That is the heritage that has come down to the thousands of people now living over the county. The beautification program, if carried out by the County Federation of Women's clubs, will be in sympathy with the program started fifty years ago by the first families that ventured above the caprock and invaded the prairie plateau.

CRIME HEROES

ODD as it may seem, when you stop to analyze it, the public has a tendency to make a hero of anyone who is in the lime-light whether this person is a murderer or a savior.

The case of Winnie Ruth Judd is no exception. A self-confessed murderer and a woman who has been tried and convicted of an unbelievably heinous act, she nevertheless became a heroine to many who crowded the court rooms to hear her trials. And, Saturday, when a jury returned a verdict of insanity that places her in the care of the state, at the expense of the state, there were many women in the crowd who "sought to grip her hand, to pat her on the shoulder" and many others who received the verdict with cheers.

Sane or insane, Winnie Ruth Judd may have our pity—and not because the forces of law and order seek to make her justly pay for the crime she committed—but she certainly has no right to become a heroine. Her friends are as dead as they can be. They were murdered and Mrs. Judd has said that she was the one who did it. Nothing can bring them back to life again and, as far as society is concerned, she has joined that throng we may describe as enemies of the people.

Yet, by some quirk of human reasoning that it is hard to understand, she has in the year and a half that have elapsed since Agnes Ann LeRoi and Hedvig Samuelson were murdered, become a heroine to many of these same people.

Regional-Wide Mass Meeting Of Road Boosters To Be Held On Friday

Enlarged Road Program Asked

Delegations From All Parts Of South Plains To Gather In Lubbock; To Seek Funds From Federal Outlay

A regional-wide mass meeting here Friday will undertake to secure immediate enlargement of the highway construction program on the South Plains.

Attendants at the conference will be asked to endorse and support an attempt to obtain funds from the $500,000,000 emergency federal public works appropriation for use in road building, according to P. B. (Percy) Ralls, of Ralls, president of the South Plains Good Roads association.

Ely May Attend

W. R. Ely, Abilene, chairman of the Texas highway commission has indicated that he will be here and speak, giving information on the status of the state road program. Civic leaders in all towns and counties in the territory east through King county, west to the New Mexico line, south through Howard county and north through Hale county have been invited by Mr. Ralls to attend.

In announcing the session, to begin at 2:30 p. m. in the ballroom of the Hilton hotel, Mr. Ralls declared that citizens of the area should rally at once to the effort which his organization plans to initiate if the benefits that would result are obtained.

An attendance of at least 150 business leaders, representing all sections of the territory surrounding Lubbock, is expected, Mr. Ralls said. People in West Texas outside the South Plains interested in speeding up the highway building activity are urged to come, he stated.

Quick Action Urged

"If we actually want to help business, create jobs for the men out of work and get our needed roads built anytime soon," the road association executive asserted, "we have an opportunity to get action, if we will get busy in a united, definite way right now.

"President Roosevelt is committed to a big public works program for relieving unemployment. Appropriation of $500,000,000 for such work has been reported favorably in the house of representatives. We feel sure this will be officially approved within the next 30 days. However, for us to benefit from it out here we must act," Mr. Ralls said.

"Most of the talk concerning projects on which this money will be used is in connection with reforestration, flood control or other such things. None of them would do this section any direct good. Getting our important roads paved would help all of us. This would give work to hundreds of our unemployed men, get work done that is needed and would directly benefit all citizens, and put new money into our business channels.

Plans Are Ready

"Plans are ready for starting work on hard-surfacing over 250 miles of state highways on the South Plains, as soon as our state highway department gets the money to let contracts. This work would employ over 5,000 men and could be done for around $2,500,000. Work could be started in 15 days, if the money was available. We have been told that unless we get emergency funds, it will be fall before any more contracts can be let.

"Texas is due to get about $20,000,000 from the public works fund, if it is passed. If we could get half of that made available for highway construction we could build 1,000 miles of new paved roads in the state and the South Plains will get its proportionate part if we will show that we want it.

"To do this we must form a plan of action and then get behind it, make some noise and back it up with some pressure. We want every county on the South Plains well represented at the meeting in Lubbock Friday, so that we can decide on the best plan to adopt in going after this government aid, that is going to be spent and which will do us direct and permanent good if we can get it put on our roads.

Long Hunt For Bodies Closed

Trail That Led Officers Over Half Dozen States On Long Search Ends Under A Live Oak Tree

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., April 24 (AP)—A trail that led officers through a half dozen states on a 14-month manhunt ended yesterday under a big live oak tree in the rugged timbered country of Catron county, New Mexico.

"That's the place, dig right there and you'll find the bodies of old man Stotts and his son."

With those words, Albert Butler, 38-year-old confessed slayer of Ray Stotts, the son, pointed out the grave where Victor Stotts, 67, and his 36-year-old son were buried on Feb. 26, 1932.

Butler Is Nervous

And thus the bodies were found while Butler handcuffed to Deputy Marshal Dan Padilla a couple of hundred feet away cast nervous sidelong glances as the bodies were exhumed.

Mrs. Butler, who was arrested at Houston, Texas, is being held in the county jail here under the automobile thefe indictment. Her husband was brought back from Catron county last night and taken to the state penitentiary at Santa Fe for safekeeping.

South Plains League Definitely Organized; Sox Threaten Yank Lead

Season Starts Sunday With 8 Clubs In Loop

Abernathy, Morton, Levelland Added To League, Wolfforth Membership Terminated At Last Night's Meeting

Definite organization of the South Plains Independent Baseball league was perfected last night when managers and delegates of eight towns attended the league meeting and adopted a constitution, set of rules, a schedule and an official baseball.

Three towns represented last night who were not represented at the initial league meeting April 17 were accepted as members of the league, rounding out an eight-club circuit. Wolfforth's membership in the league was terminated last night upon vote of other league members. No Wolfforth representative was present.

Opening Games Announced

The three clubs voted membership last night to complete the league were Morton, Levelland and Abernathy. The league season starts Sunday, April 30, with games between the following clubs:

Tahoka at Lubbock; Levelland at Morton; Enochs at Amherst and Slaton at Abernathy.

Complete schedule for the season, calling for one game each week during the first half and two games each week during the second half, will be announced soon.

Five clubs posted guarantee money last night and the other three were given until Friday of this week to make payments. Enochs, Morton, Levelland, Amherst and Abernathy posted money last night.

J. and J. Ball Adopted

The J. and J. baseball, made for and distributed by the J. and J. Sporting Goods comany of Lubbock, was adopted as the official league ball. Lee Jones of the J. and J. company was the only bidder present last night.

"Skip" Taylor, elected president of the league at the first meeting, presided last night.

Season Splits July 3

According to rules as adopted last night, the season will begin next Sunday and end on September 3. The season will be split after games of July 2, and the second half will begin on July 4.

Managers representing their clubs last night were:

G. P. Howell of Enochs; Dell Morgan of Lubbock; Otis Neill of Slaton; I. L. Dorman of Levelland; A. C. Ward of Morton; B. W. Dansfield of Abernathy; John Bradley of Amherst and Frank Larkin of Tahoka.

Gabby Shakes Up Infield; Starts Hornsby At Second

ST. LOUIS, April 24. (AP)—In an effort to add punch to a "hitless" infield, Gabby Street, manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, today announced another shakeup featured by the appearance of Rogers Hornsby at second base for the first time this year.

The start of the season saw a "natural" infield cavorting for the Cards. Collins was at first, Frisch at second, Slade at short and Adams at third.

Last week the "Old Sergeant" installed "Pepper" Martin, an outfielder, at third, and sent Adams to short. Today Hornsby, again in the St. Louis fold after a long trip to other scenes, expressed himself as believing an ailing heel was cured.

Street then voiced his belief in the Rajah's ability to stage a come-back and announced he would start at his second base station against Pittsburgh here tomorrow.

ACC LOSES TO A. AND M.

The Sports HORN

By BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer.

TOTAL ATTENDANCE

A TOTAL attendance of 30,788 saw the eight opening Texas League games. It was thousands short of the combined opening day attendance of last season.

Houston won the league trophy for the largest crowd with 5,396 paid admissions. It was 4,319 short of the 1932 opening day crowd that won Dallas the trophy. Dallas saw 9,717 turn out for the inaugural last year but only 4,186 this season.

Galveston was the only city that did not show a great decline in attendance. In 1932 the Buccaneers opened before a crowd of 5,778 and this year it was 4,891, or 897 people short of the number last year.

It isn't hard to realize baseball's difficult problems when it is recalled that in 1929 Dallas won the league trophy with a crowd of 15,533, and that in 1930, Fort Worth jammed 16,018 into LaGrave field to win it.

Houston won the 1931 attendance award with 10,504, a drop of 5,106 in two years.

No one seems to know exactly why people are not attending the games as in past years, but many critics believe a drastic reduction of admission prices would aid in filling vacant seats.

NO LOOSE DOLLARS

THERE are not many loose dollars afloat to buy baseball tickets, and Texas League moguls realize it may be difficult to keep fans coming now that the entertainment that goes with opening days has passed.

Many fans have not taken kindly to the club owners' failure to cut prices. A rather weak effort was made last year but the lower priced seats were in sections of the parks not suited to seeing the game to best advantage.

Texas League owners refused to discuss price reductions, but their baseball stadiums and players must be supported, and it is the belief of many followers of the teams that sooner or later the prices will have to come down.

One man who has a large knowledge of the game's problems offered the suggestion that a solution would be to charge fifty cents throughout the grandstand, twenty-five cents for the bleachers and seventy-five cents for boxes.

"Of course they'll laugh at such a suggestion," commented this man, "but I have been in the game thirty years and made most of my money when the suggested prices prevailed. They've cut the players' salaries and lowered their operating expenses. All the clubs are probably in debt, but they are not going to rid themselves of their burdens without lowering the admission prices and giving the fans the best seats in their parks for fifty and seventy-five cents."

SMILES in SPORTS

LITTLE EDDIE BENNETT, Yankee mascot, looked at the huge George Herman Ruth with surprise when the Babe asked him to buy a head of cabbage one day.

The Babe took the cabbage, peeled off a few leaves and started to chew them. "Much better than tobacco," he explained to his wondering mates in the dugout. Then he put a few leaves in his cap, telling the boys that they helped to keep his head cool.

The Babe played several games with the cabbage leaves in his cap —until one day, going after a fly ball, he was seen to stop, hold up his hands in defense, hunch his shoulders, and let the ball fall safe.

In the dugout after the game he pulled off his cap and threw cabbage leaves in all directions. "Doggone cabbage slipped down over my eyes and I lost that fly ball," he shouted. "Give me a chew of tobacco!"

Matadors Preparing For Grid Game Friday Night Here With Canyon Buffs

Cawthon Pushing Men In Effort To Find "11"

An indication of what the Texas Tech Matadors will do on the gridiron next fall may be gained Friday night when Coach Pete Cawthon sends his gridsters against the West Texas State Teachers Buffaloes in a regular game at Matador Field.

The game, an official 60-minute ordeal, will climax five weeks of spring football training which has occupied the late afternoons of about 70 athletes since March 27.

Easy Start, Fast Finish

Starting with basketball work and general outdoor warming up exercises in March, the spring training season has been accelerated daily and athletes have shown marked improvement as the season blasts down the home stretch. Workouts this week and the last part of last week have been only slightly less intensive than the game Friday night. A scrimmage last Saturday indicated that the Matadors were just about ready for full time service.

Friday night's game, which should draw a banner crowd, will see the Matador machines in action as they will be presented next fall. Graduates from last fall's freshman ranks will be eligible to play this week, and, judging from their work during the strenuous training season, there will be several to offer good reasons why they should replace veterans of last year.

Large Crowd Expected

Due to the novelty of football game at this time of year and to the low admission prices which shall prevail, a mid-October crowd is expected to jam the stadium Friday night. Never before has a spring football game been played here. The Matadors played two last year, going to El Paso to scrimmage the Texas School of Mines eleven and then to Canyon where they defeated the Buffs, 6 to 0.

Coach Cawthon, who has been assisted in the spring training work by Dutchey Smith and Dell Morgan, has not definitely settled on a starting lineup, but, according to his established system, he probably will send in the "shock troops" to start the game, inserting his "regulars" in the second quarter or as the circumstances demand.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Here is the first of a new series, "Hero!" It will deal with sports figures who star from time to time and will be carried on the sports page frequently.

Carl Hubbell Gives Up 4 Hits In Second Straight Shutout As Dodgers Fall; H. Peel Is Standout Hitter

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 24.—With Carl Hubbell turning in a four-hit pitching performance for his second successive shut-out, the New York Giants defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers, 4-0, today.

Timely hitting in the second inning by Homer Peel, Texas League recruit batting in the clean up position, Vergez and Mancusco sent the Giants away to a two-run lead and after that it was clear sailing for the Giants' southpaw, who has allowed only one run in the last 30 innings he has pitched.

GOLF

By ART KRENZ

JUST as idle machinery needs attention before being put into use, the golf swing must stand inspection before play starts this spring.

The wrists are main cogs in the swing and they depend on the grip for smooth action. Therefore, though the grip should be firm, hand tension never should be allowed to enter the wrists which immediately would lock like two rusty hinges.

Try throwing a stone or a baseball with locked wrists. The effect is that of putting the shot. Power is absent and only limited distance can be attained.

Golfers have asked, "Where should the wrists be cocked in the backswing?" This movement is gradual but the main action takes place around the top of the swing. Jones says cocking the wrists near the top of the swing gives him the feeling of an even flow from the backswing into the downswing. There is no jerk or break such as is common in the swing of the average player.

Proper wrist action will be accomplished easily if the golfer makes a correct pivot as the club goes back.

Shadow Of Economic Talks To Fall Across England As Budget Is Read

No Provision On War Debts

ville Chamberlain To Make Budget Speech In House Of Commons Today; MacDonald Will Not Be There

LONDON, April 24 (AP)—The shadow of President Roosevelt's economic talks in Washington will be across the house of commons tomorrow when Chancellor of the Exchequer Neville Chamberlain will make the budget speech without the prime minister in his accustomed place on the front bench.

It will be one of the few occasions in parliamentary history with the head of the cabinet absent from Westminister on budget day.

Announcement Expected

War debts may be relegated to the background in Washington as Prime Minister MacDonald continues his conversations with the president, but political quarters here expect a pronouncement from the chancellor in regard specifically to the payment due the United States in June and on the debt problem in general.

Responsible opinion grew today that Mr. Chamberlain will make no sensational budget announcements but will handle the nation's finances in a sound orthodox manner, with some shifting of taxation but with little relief.

Penny Off Beer Tax

A penny off a pint in the beer tax is heralded as one of the few popular features of the Chamberlain program. Some relief in the income tax rates for families may be accorded, but the standard rate of 25 per cent is expected to be maintained.

A new topic of speculation today was whether imported lubricating oils would be taxed at the rate of a shilling (about 19 cents) a gallon. This tax, it is estimated, would add 4,000,000 pounds ($15,840,000) annually to the revenue of the exchequer.

Baldwin Presides

Stanley Baldwin, acting prime minister in the absence of Mr. MacDonald, presided over a cabinet session today at which the budget proposals were finally approved. The budget will disclose how $2,695,000,000 will be raised and expended.

Although Mr. Chamberlain is expected to make a pronouncement on the war debts, no provision has been made for the June installment. This follows precedent as no provision was made in the budget for the installment which was paid to the United States last December.

Ishbel MacDonald Reveals Bubbling Over Enthusiasm For American Ways

WASHINGTON, April 24. (AP)—Beginning this busy day with a breakfast at Senator Borah's, Ishbell MacDonald—daughter of Britain's prime minister—revealed her "bubbling over" side.

"I had met her twice before, both times in a crowd, and thought her serious and a little shy," said Mrs. Borah.

"But meeting her in my own home, I found her just bubbling over with enthusiasm about everything.

"It was just a cosy little family breakfast—no guests. So we had a chance for a comfortable visit. She told me about her interest in her home and her sister.

"She told me how much she loves Washington, and how thoroughly she and her father are enjoying their visit here, though they have scarcely a minute to themselves! Lunch today at the Canadian legation, tea at the Stimson's, and dinner at the British embassy!"

Daniels Hopes To Gain Unity

New Ambassador To Mexico Is Received Monday And Presents His Credentials For His New Post

MEXICO CITY, April 24. (AP) — Ambassador Josephus Daniels said today, in presenting his credentials to President Abelardo Rodriguez that it was his "sincere desire to promote the strongest ties of understanding and amity."

JOSEPHUS DANIELS

Pres. Roosevelt charged me to bear to your excellency and to your countrymen the assurance that the people of the United States entertain the most kindly sentiment of neighborliness founded upon common interest and common destiny," the ambassador declared.

The presentation occurred in the ambassador hall of the palace before numerous cabinet officials, the presidential staff and the American embassy staff. Cavalry troops preceded and followed the ambassador's automobile to and from the palace.

Changes Are Faced

"In this period when mankind everywhere is moving towards a better social system, it is gratifying that as never before the United States of America and the United States of Mexico are facing the necessary changes with no slavish adherence to precedent of tradition," Mr. Daniels said. "They have rather embarked upon new and well-considered experiments with optimism born of courage.

"Your nearest neighbors to the north have deep admiration for your marked advance in social reform, in public education, in agriculture, in transportation, in communication, and in all measures which promote the well-being of your nationals. The people and officials of my country feel that each republic has much to learn from the other. It is in this spirit that I have come to Mexico."

Tax Violation Will Be Ended

Texas State Treasury Adopts New Stamps For Cigarets In Effort To Halt Bootlegging By Old Method

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS

AUSTIN, April 24. (AP)—The Texas state treasury has outmaneuvered cigaret stamp bootleggers by adopting a cigaret stamp that can be used only once.

It has been estimated the state was losing several thousand dollars annually by bootleggers taking the stamp off one package of cigarets after it had been sold and attaching it to another. The old stamp could be removed without defacement and easily placed on another pack.

It was virtually impossible for the small number of state inspectors to apprehend violators of the cigaret tax law. There was no way to determine whether the stamps had been used more than once.

The new stamp, however, can be used only once and persons attempting to remove it intact are doomed to disappointment. It merely chips off in flakes. By the time the stamp is removed, all that is left are numerous small pieces.

It is composed of a combination of paper and wax and was adopted after several efforts had been made to obtain a stamp that could not be removed and used again.

The Judd Case Problem

NOW that Winnie Ruth Judd has terminated a long and successful effort to elude the hangman's noose, the question very naturally arises:

"Is society thoroughly protected against further outrages by the blonde butcher and will the punishment allotted her serve as a deterrent to others who might decide to kill a couple of friends and then cut them into pieces?"

In her murder trial Mrs. Judd conducted herself in a sane manner, indicating that she at least knew right from wrong and what she was doing when she committed the crime.

Was, then, the insanity feigned in the recent trial at Florence and has society received an assurance that her sanity will never return?

Isn't there always a chance that Winnie Ruth Judd, sane or insane, might slay an asylum attendant or two, or break away from the asylum and vent her wrath against someone on the outside?

The Judd case is bigger and of vastly more import as a social problem than it is as an ordinary murder case.

Whether the woman should or should not have been hung, is a minor question when one considers the influence the case may have no others ho seek to kill and escape serious punishment.

Our slant on the whole business is that Agnes Anne LeRoi and Hedvig Samuelson are just as dead today as they would have been had they been slain and chopped up by a sane person or that our queer system of passing out justice has again been found wanting.

TIME JUST WON'T WAIT

If we accept the adage that 'time waits for no man' we must agree that neither does it wait for a newspaper.

That is the reason down-state 'bulldogs' (a 'bull-dog' is an early or pre-dated edition) cannot serve the South Plains with last-minute news.

An example of the 'spot news' supremacy of Avalanche-Journal papers was seen in Sunday's Avalanche-Journal when compared with editions of Dallas and Ft. Worth papers circulating in this area

The Dallas paper had not a line on the interesting Judd case verdict: the Ft. Worth paper caught just a half-dozen lines—a bare verdict.

Neither paper had the results of the special Congressional election in the Valley to determine the successor to John N. Garner. Neither had a comprehensive report on numerous events which happened hours after Ft. Worth and Dallas papers were printed and started on their long train and bus rides to their destinations.

It had the Valley Congressional yarn, complete, together with the late news—news that happened between the hours of 8:30 p. m. and 1 a. m.—that happened after the down-state 'bulldogs', in the newspaper venacular, 'went to bed.'

The down-state papers that come into this territory are cracking good newspapers. Because they are larger, older and have revenue hundreds of times greater than Lubbock papers can possibly have, they are more complete: they are big city newspapers.

But time doesn't wait for even the biggest and most complete of the metropolitan publications and that is why Avalanche-Journal papers can and do publish and circulate all the important news a day or more ahead of the down-staters.

OBSCURE HEROES

The monuments which nearly all nations that took part in the World war have erected to their "unknown heroes" —symbolize the sense of national obligation and gratitude to those whose sacrifices cannot be acknowledged in any other way. Pathetically futile as to those thus honored, these expressions of a public regret which comes too late are worth while, and suggestive in other spheres than that of armed conflict.

Peace also has its great multitude of unknown heroes and heroines quite as noble, and sometimes nobler than those of war. Many of them, most of them, perhaps pass away without public recognition, and, indeed, without feeling that they have in any way deserved it. But it is a comfort to know that such people are recognized by those around them at their true worth, and that when they pass away generous praise makes them fully known at least in the communities they have served.

The noblest deed doesn't always receive the greatest acclaim. The greatest sacrifice may go without reward. Many a true hero has gone undiscovered and unsung, and, by the same token, many a renegade has been made the undeserving object of the hero worship. But it is a source of some satisfaction that every man's true worth is known to his intimate associates, who are not to be censured if they are lacking in Boswellian traits.

Today's One-Minute Sermon

Rescue Labor With Jobs

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 24.—As an emergency champion of the workingman, perhaps his manifest lack of interest in the academic fine points of economics is an outright asset to Chairman William P. Connery, Jr., of the house of representatives' labor committee.

The Massachusetts congressman (he hails from Lynn, Boston's shoemaking suburb) takes the position that a worker, who is out of employment, will benefit more, by immediately being given a job, than by any amount of scientific explanation why it will be better for him, in the long run, to wait until industry revives naturally and re-absorbs him.

William P. Connery, Jr.

Connery can be defeated in an economic argument, and is, very frequently. He cheerfully admits it, when he is beaten thus. At least, he seems cheerful (he formerly was an actor and his facial control is perfect). Probably, however, he really does not feel it deeply to be debated down, for it does not make a particle of difference to him, as to his line of procedure. He wants (as the song used to express it) what he wants when he wants it, and if he gets it, logic can go hang, for all he appears to care.

Control By Boards

Just at present the Bay State representative is especially concerned in obtaining the establishment of capital-and-labor boards to give flexibility to legal curtailment of the working day and week, with a minimum wage schedule, to prevent pay from shrinking in proportion to the shortening of hours.

The original proposal was to reduce the week to a 30-hour total and trust to public opinion to maintain today's wage level.

The highly practical Representative Connery has no faith in the average employer's sensitiveness to so vague an influence. "We must have a minimum wage," he insists, "or, although we shall increase the number of hands employed, we shall lower the standard of living.

"Many is the plant that can afford to cut hours without slashing wages.

"Why, I know of factories in my district", said the congressman, flushing angrily, "that are paying $4 a week—and making good money.

"Still, allowances will have to be made where circumstances require. It would be extremely injudicious, as well as unfair, to put anyone out of business. Margins of profit vary, too, with industries. This is why a hard-and-fast rule scarcely can be made, to apply indiscriminately, either as to pay or hours.

"Capital-and-labor boards should meet the situation—a board to each major industry."

SOUNDING OUT OPINION

The Washington Post has experienced so many vicissitudes in recent years that it no longer is very seriously regarded journalistically. Nevertheless, inasmuch as it appears in the capital, where politicians are sure to see or hear what it has to offer, it occasionally is made the medium of circulation of some peculiar political story or other, presumably handed to it to discover how the suggestion it embodies will "take" with folk in public life.

Such it is taken for granted in Washington, was its account a few days ago that President Roosevelt is considering the choice of Secretary of State Hull, ex-Secretary Stimson, Senator Reed of Pennsylvania and Bernard M. Baruch as America's delegates at the World Economic conference in London in June.

Supposing that this line-up really was put forward experimentally, its author unquestionably obtained the desired information. Democratic comment on Capitol Hill was free enough, anyway, and practically unanimous, thus:

Secretary Hull, okeh, of course.

Mr. Baruch, no doubt a "smart man", but conspicuously Wall Street's spokesman, at a moment when the country has least patience with Wall Street, and additionally objectionable because of a seeming disposition to "horn" into administration counsels.

Ex-Secretary Stimson, impossible, as representing the worst beaten regime in American history.

Senator Reed, the most reactionary member of either house of congress.

EXPLANATION OF LAST SATURDAY'S CARTOON

A MIRACULOUS ESCAPE:

Officer Dolney, accompanied by a colleague, stepped into a dark room on March 24, 1929 for the purpose of seizing the occupant, an escaped convict. In the dark, the latter opened fire upon the policemen at the close range of 4 1-2 feet. Four bullets ploughed through the overcoat of the patrolman, leaving ten holes in their wake. While the missiles played havoc with the patrolman's coat, they left him bodily unharmed. Officer Dolney owns a bulletproof vest, but he had left it home that morning.

Letters To The Editor From The People

Lipscomb Woman Sees Legal Beer As Disappointment As Revenue Producer

Editor, The Avalanche: I believe that legal beer will prove as great a disappointment as a revenue producer, as has the three cent stamp.

Bootleggers have operated on a tax free basis for so long and have learned to evade the law so successfully, in these dry years (?) they will be disposed to continue as before. These jake-makers will be exasperating competition for the men who go in for license, bars and imported steins.

Another phase is that in the good old saloon days men held sway at the bar. The feet which rested on the famous brass rail were man-size. Today is another day and there exists the haunting fear that too many ornate pumps of the high heel variety will mix and mingle with those of the heavier makes.

Will society become reconciled to promiscuous drinking just because the law is not offended?

What difference after the damage is done whether one was intoxicated with legalized liquor or simply drunk on bootleg booze? The cost to the offender will be just as dear.

At whose door shall we lay the blame? Every papa's son and daughter is responsible. To be sure the eighteenth amendment could not function alone, automatically as it were, any more than can the old commandments. "thou shalt not kill," "thou shalt not steal" and all the other "thou shalt nots." They are all broken over and over again but it remains an offense punishable by law.

Let us not sit idly by and see the legal destruction of our boys and girls. It was not youth that brought about this condition of affairs but their booze-conscious elders who taught them that they were being denied a great pleasure by having been born a decade or so too late.

Carrie Lem Roberts,
Lipscomb, Texas.

Fewer Births And More Deaths Are Reported During 1932 Than In 1931

THERE were 39 fewer births and 45 more deaths recorded in Lubbock county during 1932 than in 1931, latest report from the bureau of vital statistics at Austin, show.

During the past year 764 births and 419 deaths were reported through the county vital statistics records. These compare with 803 births and 374 deaths the previous year. For 1930 there were 874 births and 410 deaths.

Lubbock's population at the last census was 39,804. It is pointed out, however, that the presence of two hospitals here which serve a large territory including several New Mexico counties, force the death toll up considerably above the normal ratio. Many of the deaths reported as being in Lubbock should be credited to other counties instead, because the persons are residents there and not of this county.

Records On Sheep Tests Announced

Shearing of the 120 sheep on test feed at Texas Technological college was finished last week and W. L. Stangel, head of the department of animal husbandry, decided to hold off shipping to market of his sheep until about May 3.

Records of the average weight of fleece from each lot show the following: lot 1, 7.64 pounds; lot 2, 7.63 pounds; lot 3, 7.68 pounds; lot 4, 7.73 pounds; lot 5, 7.67 pounds and lot 6, 8.6 pounds.

Lambs have made good gains during the feeding period. The actual test period closed last week before the shearing took place.

Weights of the six lots at the end of the 84 feeding day period were: lot 1, 97.42 pounds; lot 2, 89.24 pounds; lot 3, 95.83 pounds; lot 4, 88.5 pounds; lot 5, 93.03 pounds, lot 6, 91.3 pounds.

These weights included the fleece, Mr. Stangel said.

Loses In Gamble Over Husband

The Rev. Sharon Inman and Mrs. Inman

After losing a desperate gamble for her husband's affections, Mrs. Gladys Inman, 32, of Springfield, Mo., wife of a minister and mother of two small children, is facing life without bitterness. In the hope of winning back her husband's love, Mrs. Inman invited her rival Ezie Holdridge, 20 year-old blonde, into her home. The experiment ended when she saw her husband, the Rev. Sharon Inman and the girl trudging down the highway toward Joplin, Mo., after bidding her goodby. "I told her when she came into our home that I would play fair, and I kept my promise," the deserted wife declared. The Reverend Inman and Mrs. Inman are above.

Beauty Salons See Vast Changes

Permanent Waving Makes Greatest Change; Hair Brushes On Increase; Bandeau Being Shown In Variety Of Styles

VAST changes in the old time beauty parlor, then called a "hair dressing parlor" and the modern beauty salon, were described by R. C. Dunlap, vice-president and general manager of Weischel Co., Dallas, one of the largest wholesale dealers in cosmetics and kindred lines, in an interview Monday.

"Take the hair dressing parlor of 1907, it was no more like our beauty parlors of today than night is like day," he pointed out. "Now, 90 per cent of our work is service work.

Waves Greatest Change

"The advent of permanent waving as a beauty parlor service, seven or eight years ago, made the greatest change in the business. Now 75 per cent of the work is with permanent wave work.

"Women stopped brushing their hair seven or eight years ago. The idea was that brushing would take the wave out of the hair. That was a false impression; it does not, but on the contrary it builds up the hair.

Sell Hair Brushes

"The past few months we have sold more hair brushes than we have done before in several years. Women are coming back to brushing the hair. They find that it does more good than anything else, in keeping the hair in first class shape. A woman's hair is really her crown of glory."

Mr. Dunlap has only recently returned from a trip to New York where he attended the International Beauty show. He also attended the Mid-West show in Chicago, two of the largest in the country. While there, he said, he observed the bandeau was coming back into popularity, as well as a small comb, set with brilliants for formal head dress.

In Several Styles

The bandeau comes in several styles, one for sports, another for evening and formal wear and others for other occasions. These items were fast sellers, Mr. Dunlap said, with newspaper advertisements showing different types. The small comb have usually two small brilliants and there is a breast piece with several brilliants.

Women are turning to the new type of bob, a sort of "short, long bob," with the hair coming down about the neck or just above the shoulders. In the winter a longer type is worn, the hair coming farther down.

Business Growing

"The beauty business, with all of its side lines, is said to be the third largest industry in the nation today," said Mr. Dunlap. "It has grown by leaps and bounds in the past few years."

Mr. Dunlap's concern holds a school similar to the one held in Lubbock. There are only two schools in Texas and both draw from all sections of the Southwest.

Day Of Artificiality H... Great Job Of Expe...

PARADOXICALLY enough, the beauty operator strives to have her customers look as though they were not using cosmetics; the hair tinter seeks to keep hair from looking as though any change had been made.

The day of artificiality has ... ed for the cosmetic industr... y. The tendency now is to make ... people look natural.

This is th... e opinion of Miss Molly Clark ... who is demonstrating Inecto products at the beauty school now in progress at the Hilton hotel.

Dyeing Is Lost Art

Hair isn't dyed any more, it is tinted, Miss Clark explained, saying that there are many shades of dye on the market today and that the expert beauty operator knows how to apply the color so that it can't be detected.

"If you can tell that the tinting has been done, it is not a successful job," she added.

Nature is the criterion in beauty culture, she stated. Operators consider that a woman of forty who has no wrinkles is a woman whose face does not reflect any character ... r experience. They think that an elderly woman is most likely to have grey in her hair. They do not attempt to make radical changes in the appearance of people.

Eliminate Bad Features

"Our business consists in making blemishes and bad features appear as insignificant as possible and in enchancing the best features," Miss Clark explained. She said that "pretty" women are no longer the standard but that women strive to be attractive, distinguished or stunning, according to the features they possess.

There are artists in the beauty culture trades and these men and women advise people upon the method of wearing their hair, on waves and cuts, on the lines for eyebrows and the shades of powder and rouge to use. They make women good looking but they do not strive to create women who are simply "pretty."

Value Of Grooming

There is little general objection to the use of cosmetics today, she finds, because people, generally, know the value of grooming. Business women have found that they must be attractive if they keep their jobs, she pointed out, saying that the depression has not been as hard on this business as many others. "People go to beauty parlors when they are looking for a job, because they know how much appearance counts. When they have jobs they go to beauty parlors to maintain their appearance," she said.

There was a time when women used white powder and a later time when there was a choice between white and pink shades. Now there are shades for every complexion and it is a part of the beauty culture business to help women find the shades they need, according to Miss Clark. The same plan is followed with rouge, hair tints and other products.

People now strive to look natural she believes; and the beauty parlor operator tries to send her customers away looking as though they were not using these aids to beauty but came by their looks quite naturally—a paradoxical business.

MARKET REPORTS

Stocks

WALL STREET REPORT

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, April 24. (AP)—The turn into a new week found financial markets strong and active today.

Profit-taking tended to keep stocks on a see-saw after a 1 to 3 point rise at the opening, but "inflation bulls" kept their ranks well recruited and closing prices were mainly higher, though under the best. Commodities rolled along on their chosen upward path and bonds, including gilt-edgers, were strong.

Dollar exchange weakened, though last week's highs of European currencies were not duplicated. Presumably, however, there was a close connection between the decline of dollars and the advance of equities and staples, since the latter could be expected to rise as the unit of currency depreciated in international markets. Strength in gilt-edged bonds, however, seemed to indicate that some persons thought inflation prospects were being exaggerated.

Buying in stocks swung from group to group. Oils, motors, aircraft, utilities and rails had their turns at market-leading and new highs for the year were numerous. Steels were inclined to rest a little, nor did fresh buoyancy in silver offer much attraction for shares related to that metal. Net gains for a number of favorites were fractional, though others closed 1 to 2 higher. Sales 4,805,340 shares.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, April 24. (AP)—The cotton market, active again today, moved into new high ground for the movement and the year in early trading, good cables, firmer stocks and good trade buying, but the greater part of the gain was lost during the afternoon on long liquidation and hedge selling. The close was called steady at the decline with prices up 3 to 7 points net.

The opening was firm owing to better Liverpool cables than due. Private cables said that market was steadier owing to reported deficiency of moisture in Texas. First trades here showed gains of 14 points and prices continued to advance after the start on good trade buying and price fixing, helped by higher stocks and grain, until July advanced to 7.78, and October to 8.01, up 24 to 25 points from Saturday's close to new highs for the present movement as well as for the year.

This advance attracted liberal profit taking as well as considerable hedge selling and there was also some liquidation of May in advance of the first notice day tomorrow, and prices fluctuated erratically.

The market was reactionary in the afternoon in sympathy with easier stocks and due to long liquidation and hedge selling. Prices gradually eased, making lows for the day right at the end with July at 7.60 and October at 7.81 or 18 to 20 points down from the highs of the morning. The close was at the bottom July showing a net gain of 3 points and October 7 points.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow 3 to 4 penny points down.

Port receipts 12,509, for week 22,081, for season 7,753,512, last season 9,491,109. Exports 8,796, for week 10,471, for season 6,383,7561 last season 7,223,876. NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 24. (AP)—An early advance of about $1 a bale in cotton today was followed by reactions under southern selling and rather active realizing.

July contracts after selling up to 7.82 or 23 points net higher, eased to 7.65 and closed at that level with the general market closing barely steady at net advances of 1 to 8 points.

The opening was 13 to 24 points higher on relatively steady Liverpool cables and the early strength in grain and stock market.

There was a good deal of realizing from the start and some southern selling thought to be partly against sellers call cotton. At 7.65 for May and 8.04 for October, or about 17 to 24 points net higher, the market met increased offerings and sentiment was more in evidence during the afternoon.

May sold off to 7.47 and October to 7.87 or about 16 to 18 points from the best and closing quotations were the lowest for the day.

Houses with Liverpool and continental connections were among the buyers here again in the early trading. Liverpool reported a steady market. Only scattered sales of cotton cloths were reported in Manchester, with a good trade there awaiting economic developments.

KANSAS CITY REPORT

KANSAS CITY, April 24. (AP)—As compared with last Friday, trading at eastern dressed centers was listed as mostly steady to strong with some sales 50 higher. In sympathy with this trend, the live market on fed steers and yearlings reacted on a steady to 15 higher basis under moderate receipts, arrivals at eleven markets numbering around 8,000 less than last Monday. Various loads of good to choice lighter weights at the different markets cleared at 5.50@6.75 with a consignment of 1020 lb. yearlings in Chicago selling up to 7.00. Majority of steers with weight brought around 4.25@5.85. Kansas City reported a four-car string of good around 1050 lb. Oklahoma hull and meal fed steers at 5.00. Demand for the rather limited supply of stockers and feeders was sufficient to maintain steady to strong prices, most of them selling around 4.00@5.50 with a few loads of choice light weights at 5.75@5.90.

Hogs met an active outlet at steady to 15 higher prices as compared with Friday's average business, with some sales 15 to 25 up. A late top of 4.15 was secured in Chicago.

Fed clipped lambs now make up a large percentage of receipts at various centers and price quotations excepting on spring lambs have been computed on a shorn basis at most of the larger markets. Advances of 25 to 50 prevailed on fed lambs in today's trade with the majority of offerings selling in a spread of 5.00@6.00 with a few up to 6.10. A few sales of spring lambs came in at 5.65@6.60.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, April 24. (AP) — Wheat was in especially good demand on the Fort Worth cash grain market as the week started, with prices following the full advance in contract values and at a new high for many months. CHICAGO REPORTS

CHICAGO, April 24. (AP)—Like zigzag lightning, grain markets flashed irregularly upward today and pierced all obstacles including huge speculative offerings, and immense sales to realize profits.

Wheat, corn, oats and rye overtopped season high price records, and closed at or near the day's peak. News of inflation developments at Washington dominated the trading pits, and virtually excluded every other factor.

A sensational fresh outburst of buying swept over the wheat market in the final moments, and prices closed buoyant, 1 1-2 to 2 cents above Saturday's finish, corn 3-4 to 1 3-8 up, oats 1-4 to 3-4 advanced, and provisions showing 13 to 32 cents gain.

These prices are furnished by the following Lubbock firms: Poultry—Lubbock Poultry and Egg company, delivered Lubbock; Grain—S. E. Cone Grain and Seed company, following prices being bid by Lubbock grain dealers: Cotton—Blocker Cotton company. All prices subject to change during day.

Reforestation Of Parks In Texas Sought By Connally

WASHINGTON, April 24. (AP) — Senator Connally (D., Tex.), said in a statement today he had taken up with the forestry service the question of embarking upon a program of reforestation of state parks in Texas.

An amendment added to the forest conservation bill at Connally's instigation permits the president to purchase lands for reforesting purposes.

Plans For A Muscle Shoals Vote Monday Are Abandoned

WASHINGTON, April 24. (AP) — Abandoning plans for a vote before house adjournment tonight on the Hill Muscle Shoals bill, representatives today indulged instead in acrimonious but indecisive debate as to whether President Roosevelt preferred the house or senate measure for developing the Tennessee valley.

Plans for a final vote—with adoption literally assured—were thrown into the discard when it was found many members had been enticed from the chamber by the spring weather and that a quorum was lacking.

Beer Sales

six months.

The act would become effective September 15, if the voters approve beer. It was estimated that twenty days would be required to obtain the official returns of the August 26 election.

Election Day Sale Bound

Sale of beer on election days would be prohibited. Cities or counties might forbid persons whose principal business is the sale of beer from selling it within 300 feet of any church or school.

One clause of the bill would provide that persons who engage in the sale of beer for consumption on the premises as a principal business would have to close their businesses at midnight and on Sundays.

Dealers licenses could be revoked where disorderly practices were permitted or where the word "saloon" was advertised on the licensee's premises.

Only persons who have resided for more than two years in the county where they desire to do business and persons who have not been convicted of a felony in more than two years would be eligible to obtain licenses. These facts would be determined in hearings before the county judges.

Boost In Prices And Lowering Value Of Money Is Big Goal Of Inflation

commodities bought and sold in the United States. Suppose this sample was worth $1.00 in 1926. Today such a sample would be worth about 60 cents. Commodities include everything from food to cement.

On the other hand, suppose it were possible to combine a sample of all the interest charges paid on debts, railroad rates, public utility rates, long leases and other items which change but little in cost. Such a sample would be about as expensive today as it was several years ago.

Commodities Pay Costs

To get money to pay these fixed costs, the merchants, manufacturers and farmers must sell commodities. They must sell nearly twice as many commodities today to meet those fixed costs as in 1929.

The purpose of the inflationist is to raise the price of the commodities so the costs may be easily met. The difficulty in meeting them in the depression has meant bankruptcy, foreclosure and default—in a word, deflation.

Would Make Money Cheap

Inflationists would meet this difficulty by raising prices with cheapened money.

Suppose dollars were for sale in the stores and could be purchased with the sample of all commodities described above. In 1929 the merchant asked one sample for one dollar; today he asks two samples for one dollar.

It costs about twice as much to buy a dollar. Money is expensive to buy. Inflationists would make it cheap.

Increasing The Amount

In general they would bring this about either by actually increasing the amount of all money in the country, or by devaluating the dollar by reducing its gold content.

The first plan makes money cheap by increasing the amount of it.

If the merchant above had a large supply of dollars he would sell them cheaper. If the whole nation had more dollars it would willingly pay more of them for the sample of commodities.

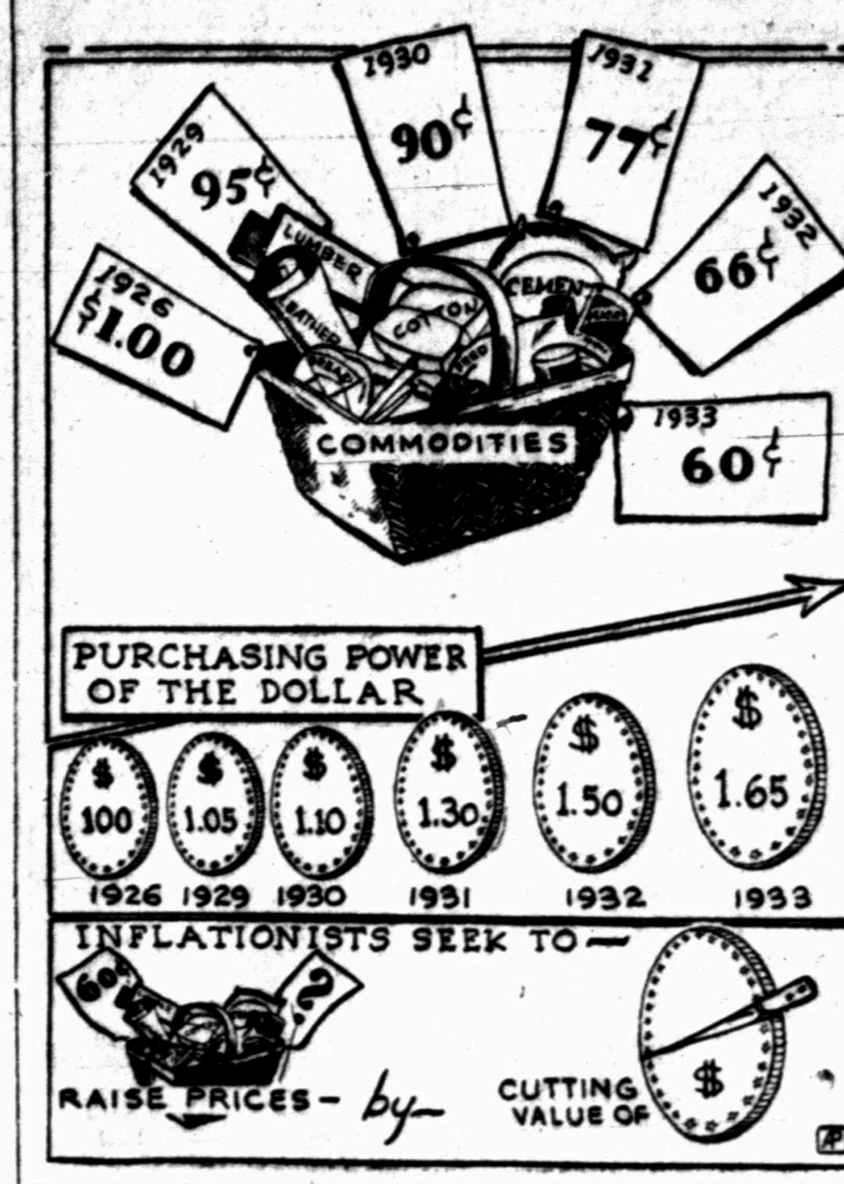

Reducing The Gold

The second plan would reduce the gold content of the dollar. If the gold content were cut in half, the gold would go twice as far in backing the currency, and would, the plan's proponents hold, have a lifting effect on commodity prices.

Many economists and financial observers believe a process of inflation started some time ago when the government attempted to hasten the reopening of banks, and planned the easing of mortgages, among other things.

These plans, they say, would bring money in closed banks back into use, and would increase the liquidity of frozen funds in mortgages. Such an inflationary process is viewed as temperate and possible of control.

Goal Of Inflation At A Glance

Here, at a glance, is what inflationists seek to do. Commodity prices have fallen sharply since 1929 and the purchasing power of the dollar has risen. They hope to boost commodity prices by reducing the value of the dollar.

Tydings Bolts

their place. War debts were not mentioned in the statement.

"Agreement with reference to any of these subjects has been reserved for the world monetary and economic conference itself," the communication to the press said.

Purpose Is Served

"It was never the purpose of these present discussions to conclude definite agreements. They were designed to explore and to map out the territory to be covered. This purpose has been admirably served."

Senator Tydings of Maryland, was the Democrat who in the senate aligned himself with the grim-lipped Republican objectors to the inflation bill.

The Democratic leadership evinced no concern. Passage of the bill by tomorrow or Wednesday appeared likely, after which it is taken for granted the house will speed it to the chief executive.

Money Claims Interest

With the presence of former Premier Herriot, world monetary complexities more than ever engaged the deepest study.

Upholding of the gold standard by France and fresh assertions ... Paris on the need of stabi... ratio between the Amer... and the British pound, assumed an importance that only an outcropping of war debts discussion might threaten to pale.

It remained to be divulged to what extent the French leader was prepared to join in any conclusions reached between the president and Mr. MacDonald on stabilizing currencies on lower gold bases, reciprocal tariff reductions, war debt adjustments, inflation of international credits to help the trade of less wealthy nations and armaments slashes and limitations.

Topics Are Widened

Arrivals of Prime Minister R. B. Bennett of Canada late in the day, preparatory to entering the discussions tomorrow, widened the manifold topics being considered to embrace control of wheat production. Pending exchanges of views, officials were reluctant to discuss the question.

As a matter of fact, specific information as to the tenor of all the international conversations was being held to a minimum until countries concerned could be acquainted with the viewpoints offered.

While the president was devoting his main energies to almost day long discussions to make the most of the international talks, the bill empowering him to inflate the currency was subjected to renewed Republican assaults in the senate. A vote may be had tomorrow or Wednesday.

Quick note was taken at the state department of the action in London of the foreign secretary, Sir John Simon, in calling a meeting there Saturday of the organizing committee for the world economic parley. There was no denial that this was an upshot already of the MacDonald talks at the White House.

New $8,000,000 Bank To Be Opened In Tulsa On Tuesday

WASHINGTON, April 24. (AP) — A new $8,000,000 bank, to be known as the National Bank of Tulsa, will open tomorrow at Tulsa.

Jesse H. Jones, director of the Reconstruction corporation, announced tonight the corporation had subscribed $4,000,000 of preferred stock in the new bank, matching dollar for dollar subscriptions of stockholders. The subscription of this stock Jones said was authorized today by Secretary Woodin.

The new bank was chartered today by the comptroller of the currency and begins functioning tomorrow morning, taking over the business of the Exchange National bank of Tulsa, acquiring all of its assets and assuming 100 per cent of its deposits and other liabilities.

Watch each day for a new UNIT, and when the entire series has appeared, and you have completed your puzzle, bring it to the Avalanche-Journal. The 5 persons who submit the best complete "King Kong" Puzzle will each receive one pair of guest tickets to see "King Kong" at the Lindsey Theater, Preview Saturday night, April 29th, 11:30, April 30th, May 1st, 2nd and 3rd.

rio Released On Bonds Here

o Bonds Set At $500 While Third Is Placed At $300 By Commissioner; Beer Plants Are Uncovered

Three Lubbock persons, one a man, charged with possession of r as a result of two police and eriff's department raids Sunday ere released on bonds Monday.

The accused are Maurice T. Monna, 50, and h's wife, Ada Monna, 44, of the 1500-block of Twenty-second street; and J. R. Sechrist, of the Colonial hotel. U. S. Commissioner Victor H. Lindsey set nds of the Montanas at $500 each, ter they were charged Sunday. d of Sechrist at $300. Sechrist was arged yesterday.

Complete Plant Uncovered

As a result of the arrests, police id they uncovered probably the atest and most complete beer ant in Lubbock county in the 00-block of Twenty-second street. The raiders, George Eubank, astant chief of police; Randolph ampy, police sergeant; H. B. rown, police patrolman; Cap oore, chief deputy sheriff, and B. Carpenter, deputy sheriff, reorted they found 516 bottles of eer, about a pint of whisky, 210 mpty beer bottles, 96 empty pint asks, 10 gross of bottle caps, three ocks, and a siphon.

The other raid, by Sergeant ampy, and Brown, Bill Mabry, nd Don Reeder, patrolmen, was at e Colonial hotel at 5:30 o'clock unday afternoon. They reported nding 64 bottles of beer, a pint of hisky, seven empty beer bottles, nd 14 empty pint bottles.

Chief of Police Wiley L. Metcalfe nd Sergeant Rampy said the plant the residential section was conructed by an expert craftsman. A eal contractor was said to have mmented upon the expertness ith which a three-room basement neath the house, trap-doors, and her parts were built and fitted.

Two trap doors, one in a clothes anet and tapped by a ladder, and e other opening from a groundoor room to reveal a staircase, rmitted entrance to the concretealled basement. The traps were vered with linoleum and rubber ots and were perfectly fitted, po- ed and. Two sides of the basefrom end to end and from or to ceiling, were covered by elves, apparently built in. The initive raiders learned, however, at shelves were on rollers and uld be moved when loosed from concealed hooks, which held them ecurely.

Trap doors behind the mock cabnets led to rooms, for storage and r brewing. Most of the beer was und there. In the larger room, ould be entered by deending the ladder beneath the r-door in the closet, were a ve, lights, gas and water conections. The crocks were there. In e bathroom was a trap, over a h which several hundred bot- of beer could be iced simultane-

One Dead, Ten Injured As Gunmen Riot In New York

No Depression For Noel Coward; He May Be Able To Pay Off British Debt With U. S. With Taxes As Plays Profit

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Writer

NEW YORK. — One young man, aged 33, is not worried about the depression. He is earning more than $7,500 a week. And he has a great sum put away. He is Noel Coward, playwright, lyricist, actor, the English-speaking world's most unusual man about the theater.

People literally have stormed the theater to see his latest play in Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Washington, New York. One man pleaded for opening night seats at $30 a pair. The management scorns ordinary publicity and tries to think up means of soothing those who can't get tickets until three months hence.

The Conspirators

Lynn Fontanne, Alfred Lunt and Coward himself are in the play. Nobody seems to know exactly what it is all about except that it's funny in the modern manner, skating on thin ice cleverly. Noel Coward is very clever. He thinks about plays for years, then dashes them off in a few days.

Twelve years ago he was penniless. He was an English actor trying his best to get connected in New York. Lynn Fontanne, star of "Dulcy" then, and Alfred Lunt, another fortunate couple of the theater, sheltered him. It was then he conceived the idea of "Design for Living", to be written when he gained fame.

It wasn't long before he was beginning to show his hand in the tired English theater. First there was "The Vortex" at 24. Then he literally left it breathless with his "Bitter Sweet", "Hay Fever", "Private Lives", "Cavalcade", etc. America hasn't been left so breathless—till now.

His "Cavalcade", as a movie, is his greatest "opposition" in New York to his "Design for Living". Both are sell-outs at what the outlander considers exhorbitant prices.

Costing a Pretty Penny

The movie company which produced "Cavalcade" sent a whole crew over to London, together with scenarists, to photograph "Cavalcade", a massive stage production of England through the years, in its entirety, so that Hollywood would miss none of the details.

Coward, except when acting, seldom is in one spot long. He has traveled all over the world, and has a relish for jungles.

All the time, however, he maintains a business staff in London—and as long as he can jog off a play anywhere, the business staff is expected to have business to do. The income tax from his profits may enable the British government to pay off the American war debt!

Panic Reigns Through Area

Fifteen Persons Invade Union Building; Screams Of Victims Heard Above Shots And Shouts Of Invaders

NEW YORK, April 24 (AP)—One man was killed and about ten others were injured today when a group of about fifteen persons armed with revolvers, pieces of gas pipe and sawed-off billiard cues raided the Needle Trades Workers Industrial union at 131 West 28th street.

The second floor of the building was crowded when the gunmen burst in and opened fire without warning.

Panic Spreads

Panic spread through the district as the screams of the victims rose high above the shots and shouts of the invaders. Within a few minutes the street was crowded with police, and the street was blocked at Sixth and Seventh avenues. No one was permitted to leave or enter while the police searched the neighborhood.

Four ambulances were ordered to the scene.

A policeman on special duty in the district heard the first shots and dashed for the entrance to the building. On the way upstairs a man fired two shots at him. The bullets missed and the policeman swung his club, knocking the man unconscious.
