REVIVAL SERVICES CONTINUE TO DRAW CROWDS AS PREACHER EXPOUNDS BIBLE

The best service I have ever attended was held on last night as the great congregation left the tabernacle after hearing the wonderful message of Dr. Hoag to the young people of the city. It was a soul stirring sermon and it reached the hearts of his hearers in a peculiar way, that brought them to the front when a call was made for those who wanted to be remembered in prayer. A number of professions of faith were made and a large group signified their intention of joining with the church of their choice at the first opportunity. This was young people's night and the middle section of the tabernacle was reserved for them, and it was almost full at an early period of the service.

DOLE FLIGHT

(Continued From Page 1) into the wings of three planes zooming over the field. Air King Tested One was the Air King, formerly the City of Peoria, which was refused qualification late today by the starting committee because it lacked sufficient gasoline carrying capacity to bring it to Oahu, principal island in the Hawaiian group, the finish of the race. First word of the expected disqualification of the Air King came from the pilot, William Parkhurst, after army aviation experts had discussed the gasoline consumption of the machine, the smallest in the race. It was estimated that the plane would be forced down with empty tanks, 300 miles from Honolulu. The purpose of the test at sundown was to determine by an eleven hour performance whether it was capable of making the 2,400 mile air cruise on 370 gallons of gasoline, the tank capacity.

This roof carries a Surety Bond

Making the "Inspection cut" a test that is required by the Bonding Company before issuing the 20-year bond. Question: Why have roofs of the Barrett Specification type been chosen for the majority of America's permanent buildings? Answer: Because service records show that many roofs of this type laid 35 and more years ago are still 100% weathertight. And because with a Barrett Specification Roof, the owner receives a Surety Bond (issued by a nationally-known surety company) which guarantees him against repair and maintenance expense for 20 years. That's why we lay Barrett Specification Roofs. Put your roofing problem up to us.
